Selling Below Cost Bill Given House Axe

AUSTIN (UPI) — Legislation to prohibit selling below cost and one section of Gov. John Connally's vast traffic safety program were placed on the chopping block in the House Tuesday.

The below-cost bill was killed, but the traffic safety legislation — revising the vehicle inspection law to comply with federal safety standards — survived, passing after the House removed a provision to double the $1 motor vehicle inspection fee.

LBJ's Integration 'Guidelines' Will Remain the Same

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite heavy congressional pressure, the Johnson administration is planning to continue its controversial school integration "guidelines" unchanged for the 1967-68 academic year.

Rep. Elmer Tarbox of Lubbock carried the ill-fated cost bill, a measure attacked on the floor as a "price-fixing bill" that would "incense every housewife in Texas."

The House voted 59-79 to eliminate a section of the inspection bill to double the fees, then passed the measure on voice vote.

U.S. Education Commissioner Harold Howe II made that plain when he told a House appropriations subcommittee that he and his boss, Secretary John W. Gardner of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, "have agreed that they (the guidelines) ought to continue."

It was sent to the Senate, where it will have to wait in line with other portions of the program. The Senate has yet to pass any of the proposals, which are designed to conform with federal regulations. Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainville, cosponsor of the safety legislation with Rep. David Crews of Conroe, said the state must meet the federal requirements or face loss of $22 million per year in federal highway funds.

He estimated that about $25 million of the total of $3 billion authorized for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools during fiscal 1967 was being held up because of non-compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Wayne said the department of public safety wanted the increased funds from the inspection fees to hire more inspectors to keep watch on the inspection stations.

"It seemed to me and to my associates that it would be a service to the school districts to have a consistent two-year arrangement under which they could operate, rather than having still another change," Howe said.

"The state is already getting about $1.5 million off this (the inspection fee)," Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine said. "How many inspectors does it take to inspect the inspectors?"

Six Manned Flights Are Possible in '68 Apollo Plan

Revised Schedule Sees Moon in '69

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — America's revised Apollo timetable calls for up to six manned launchings next year, eight in 1969 and leaves open the possibility of achieving the initial manned lunar landing a year ahead of schedule.

As outlined to Congress Tuesday, the new "main-line" moon program calls for four or five manned launchings in 1968 and six in 1969.

Romney Calls For Peace Talks With Viet Cong

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — The heat is building in Gov. George Romney's "red-hot courtship" with the presidency.

The Michigan Republican, in a busy day involving a whirlwind visit to Chicago, Tuesday added fuel to the fire by calling for peace negotiations with the political arm of the Viet Cong in Vietnam.

In addition, Dr. Robert C. Seamans, deputy administrator of the federal space agency, said the first manned follow-up Apollo applications launch—a two-week scientific mission in earth orbit—could come last next year with two more, longer duration flights in 1969.

Dr. Wernher Von Braun, head of the Marshall Space Flight Center that developed the Saturn 5 moon rocket, said last week the first manned Apollo landing on the moon could be made with the sixth or seventh launch of a Saturn 5—"if we have absolutely no more setbacks."

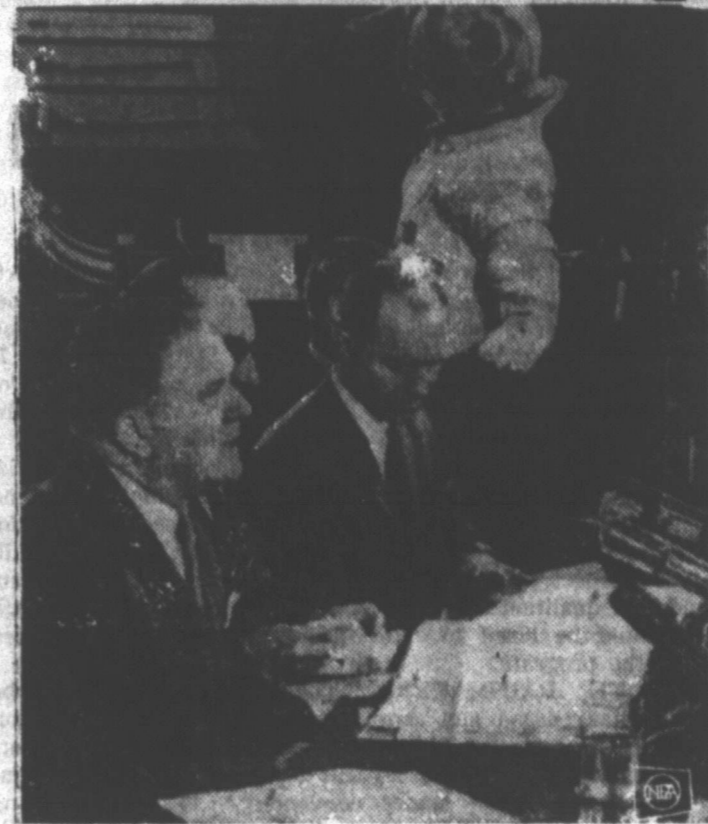

According to the revised Project Apollo schedules, two unmanned launches of the Saturn 5 are still set for this year and three or four are scheduled for 1968. That would put the sixth launch into late next year or early 1969—a year ahead of the 1970 deadline.

If the project encounters further difficulties, and most officials expect some in an undertaking as complex as Apollo, the first lunar landing mission would fall to one of the six Saturn 5 rockets set for launch in 1969.

As it stands now, the next Project Apollo launch will be the initial flight of the Saturn 5 carrying an unmanned Apollo spacecraft on a far-reaching, sub-orbital flight. Seamans said the shot was expected this fall.

The first manned Apollo flight, to be made by astronauts Walter Schirra, Donn Eisele and Walter Cunningham, is scheduled for next February or March. A Saturn rocket will loft the craft into earth orbit for NASA ADMINISTRATOR James Webb, left, disclosed for the first time before the Senate Space Committee, the new schedule for the Apollo program. It calls for a mission early in 1968.

AT RED CROSS DINNER

Newsman Says 'Formula Found' That Works in Viet Nam War

BY WANDA HUFF
News Staff Writer

The 120 Pampans hearing a talk on the Vietnam War here last night could almost hear Viet Cong warhoops as they imagined a warplane splattered VC running through the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall door.

Bob Izzard, KVII-TV news director in Amarillo, spent six weeks covering the Vietnam War and returned to Amarillo in February. He spoke here last night at the church during a banquet celebrating the Gray County Red Cross Chapter's 50th anniversary.

Izzard believes in five years the Vietnam war will end, in favor of America, because, after 18 months of being mauled badly, we have found a formula that works," he said.

"The enemy is like the Indians of covered wagon days. He cannot stand and fight and win unless he outnumbers us 10 to 1," Izzard said.

Izzard described the VC method of fighting as "an ambush and ruse tactic, much like the Indians of frontier days who jumped the wagon trains and then melted away into the hills when the cavalry came. In Vietnam the Indians melt away into the jungle and rice paddies."

"But," Izzard said, "a smart general, and some of his mobile, armed fighting men figured out a formula that works."

Instead of setting up for an ambush by loading all the weapons, ammunition, medical supplies and fighting men into armored convoys and sending them down the Vietnam highways, the formula says to send out about 400 men in helicopters to land and locate the enemy on his own terms.

"Helicopters carrying 400 armed American men can challenge and take anything they can find. The difficulty is in finding the VC among his network of fortified, completely supplied, tunnels, or underground cities," he said.

Izzard stressed America is fighting not one war, but three: the Saigon war, the air war and in-country fighting, and is winning all three.

Routine Items Face Trustees

Discussion concerning the proposed building program for the Pampa Independent School District and approval of a called board meeting for 9:30 a.m. May 25 are listed agenda items for the school trustees' meeting at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Other discussion items include current employment, reassignment and resignation of personnel including secondary summer school teachers; a report on Tax Sheltered Annuities Program for the employees of the Pampa Schools; consideration of the re-employment of the tax consulting firm of Pritchard and Abbott for the 1968-69 school year.

Trustees will be asked to approve continued participation with the State Department Public Welfare for the receipt of USDA Commodities and to consider the call for Bank Depository Bids for the 1967-68 biennium.

Stated for consideration of the board are school bus routes for the 1967-68 school year and an appointment of a school auditor for this year.

CoC to Finish Roundup Friday

Team No. 16, with Mack Hiatt as chairman, was leading today in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce membership roundup campaign, which will end with a final check-in at 10 a.m. Friday at the CoC office.

Team members leading with Hiatt were Gene Imel, Wynn Veale and Tom Snow, with 275 points.

Second place team was E. E. Shelhamer's group of Floyd Watson, Bill Newlin and Howard Buckingham.

In third place today were H. R. Thompson and workers, Herman Whately, Gordon Lyons and J. B. Massa.

The next check-in of the 26 teams working will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the CoC office.

Haiphong Again Target of Jets

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Navy jets today returned to the key North Vietnam port of Haiphong and bombed two power plants within the city limits and Kien An, the huge MIG interceptor base on the outskirts, spokesman said.

The bombers streaked through heavy anti-aircraft fire that knocked down a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk, the 536th American plane lost over North Vietnam. Its pilot has listed as "missing in action."

The U.S. raiders had hit the big power plants in Haiphong before. But the strike at Kien An's 5,900-foot long all-weather jet strip was the first. Informed sources said other Communist MIG jet bases also previously

"off-limits" are expected to become the targets of U.S. attacks before long.

U.S. jets earlier had hit only two MIG bases near Hanoi, Hoa Lac, which is now reported knocked out of action, and Kep. U.S. spokesmen said 17 to 20 MIGs have been destroyed at the two fields.

Kien An formed the core of the defenses around Haiphong that pilots described as North Vietnam's most heavily defended target zone.

The strike left only three of North Vietnam's six key MIG bases untouched by American shells and bombs.

Pilots from the U.S. Navy 7th Fleet aircraft carrier USS Hancock in Tankin Gulf carried out the raid on Kien An, five and a half miles from Haiphong's center, spokesman said.

They said they had no immediate word whether the Navy fliers caught MIGs parked on the field.

The plants hit today pump power for the port and the great industrial complex stretching from Haiphong to Hanoi. Navy raiders, assigned Haiphong as something of their private preserve, first hit the plants April 20.

The blow at Haiphong followed a six-hour battle in which U.S. Marines fought Communist troops who crept back to the scene of one of their worst defeats.

The fighting Tuesday came just below the North South Vietnamese border in the hilly jungles where an estimated 1,100 North Vietnamese troops perished in combat last week. Today Marines counted 31 Communist bodies.

The Marines, who met the North Vietnamese on the jungle ridgelines near the great Leatherneck bastion of Khe Sanh, suffered 24 men killed and 49 wounded, spokesman said. U.S. Air Force B52 statefortresses roared in late Tuesday night and today and pounded the fleeing Communist forces.

Lawyer Vows to 'Finish Job' And Throw Out Tennessee 'Monkey Law'

NEW YORK (UPI) — A leading civil liberties lawyer vowed today to finish the 42-year-old legal battle to strike down Tennessee's law forbidding the teaching of evolution.

In a case strikingly similar to the famous Scopes "Monkey" trial of 1925, Gary Scott, a 24-year-old Jacksboro, Tenn., high school teacher, was recently fired for conducting a class discussion on the theory of man's evolution from lower animals.

Scott's attorney, William M. Kunstler, of New York, a member of the board of the American Civil Liberties Union, said he planned to file suit this week in U.S. District Court, probably in Nashville.

In an interview, Kunstler said he would ask the federal court to strike down the law as unconstitutional, enjoin Tennessee officials from enforcing it, reinstate Scott to his teaching position, and enjoin the school board from dismissing him for reasons of discussing evolution.

The law in question makes it "unlawful for any teacher to teach any theory that denies the story of the divine creation of man as taught in the Bible, and to teach instead that man has descended from a lower order of animals."

Kunstler said he would base his case "almost entirely" on the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution involving freedom of speech and religion.

"We contend that this law violates the First Amendment, particularly as affecting academic freedom, freedom of thought and belief," he said.

Perhaps ironically, Kunstler also maintains that the statute is in violation of the freedom of religion principle of the amendment; that is, "freedom from doctrine."

Kunstler, who has represented such personages as Jack Ruby, Adam Clayton Powell, and Dr. Martin Luther King, considers himself an expert on the Espes trial. "I have always been kind of fascinated by the case," he said.

Highlights and Sidelights From Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Redistricting bills are ready for test votes in the House.

A court reapportionment measure which would add 16 courts, eliminate two and provide for district realignment, was reported favorably by the House Committee on Judicial Districts.

Bill would provide two new courts each for Dallas, Harris, Bexar and Tarrant Counties. Single courts would go to these districts: Hidalgo County, 200th District; Comal and Guadalupe Counties, 201st District; Duval, Jim Hogg, Zapata and Starr Counties, 202nd District; Randall County, 203rd District; Collin County, 204th District; Gregg County, 205th District; Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Sutton, Kimble, Edwards, Real, Kerr and Bandera Counties, 206th District; and Wharton, Fort Bend, Matagorda and Brazoria Counties, 68th District.

It would combine district courts serving Hill and Freestone Counties with other counties. It provides for abolishing the 88th District Court, effective January 1, 1970, and the 82nd District Court, effective January 1, 1971.

Candidates for the new judge-ships would run for office next year, taking over on January 1, 1969.

A congressional redistricting bill, required by an order of the federal court, is complete. But it has been held back due to controversies.

Congressional redistricting as drawn by the House Committee would require no incumbent congressmen to run against another incumbent. Committee Chairman Gus Mutscher of Brenham said the bill would carve 23 new districts which vary no more than five per cent in population.

Mutscher indicated that the redistricting measure for House seats is virtually complete and will follow congressional reapportionment by about 10 days.

HORSES GALLOP AGAIN — In less time than it takes a fast stepping thoroughbred to romp a mile, the House Committee on Counties approved, on a local-option basis, a bill to legalize pari-mutuel horse race betting in Texas.

House sponsors said they are not sure when they will ask for a floor vote.

Here's what the House bill proposes: Racing would be permitted in counties where voters want it, with 85 per cent of the betting pools going to betters, two per cent to counties where tracks are operated and 13 per cent to be split between the state and the track operators.

State would, in turn, divide half of its share (on a population basis) among the counties having no tracks. Bookmaking and off-track betting with bookies would be made a felony.

Senate bill has been out of committee since February but, so far, the sponsors haven't brought it to a floor test.

"OPEN MEETINGS" — A bill to outlaw closed-door meetings of government agencies passed the Senate unanimously.

However, an amendment would exempt departments, agencies and political subdivisions not supported by or spending tax funds.

Misdemeanor fines are provided for violations, and "any interested person" may launch court action for mandamus or injunction against closed meetings.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena handled the measure in the Senate. It now goes to the House where Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville is sponsor.

REVISION PLANS ADVANCED — House overwhelmingly passed a resolution proposing a method of state constitutional revision. A 20-member commission assisted by a 20-member citizens advisory committee would report recommendations to the next Legislature for submission to voters.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria is author of the House resolution. Senate State Affairs Committee approved a bill to establish a 45-member constitutional revision commission. Under this bill by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, the commission would be limited mainly to recommendations. It would offer suggestions to the Legislature for eliminating obsolete and repetitive sections.

POLLUTION MEASURES CLEARED — House passed the Senate bill to strengthen water pollution control and establish a new Texas Water Quality Board as a separate agency. Amendments will send the bill back to the Senate.

Meanwhile, the Senate has approved a bill to provide the mechanism for enforcing air pollution control measures. An amendment would allow the Air Control Board to set different standards for agricultural processors (including cotton gins) than are set for industries.

GRANT APPROVED — U. S. Public Health Service has approved a $315,659 grant to Texas for a statewide immunization program.

Funds will be used for immunization campaigns in cooperation with local health agencies and medical societies against measles, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Project will continue through April 30, 1968. An additional year has been tentatively provided for with a $325,000 grant. Supplemental budget of $35,775 for polio vaccine has been requested.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY — House and Senate both have passed the compromise occupational safety bill. It now awaits Gov. John Connally's signature.

As finally passed, the bill is a compromise among labor, management and the governor. It would create a Division of Occupational Safety as a part of the State Department of Health.

DOS would have the power to make and enforce rules and regulations on safety, plus authority to inspect places of employment. A qualified safety engineer would be hired to administer the program.

REGULATE RAINMAKERS — Senate has passed and sent to the House a licensing bill to regulate weather modifiers — or would-be modifiers — under the Texas Water Development Board.

Apparently the bill is aimed more at encouraging research and development in the field of legitimate weather modifying than at bogus rainmakers.

Board would be given full control over the entire field of water modifying including annual licensing and permits.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally named Carlos Castillon of Laredo as 49th district attorney to replace Oscar M. Laurel who recently accepted a federal post in Washington.

Connally named to the Dallas Tarrant board of park commissioners W. T. Overton, Jack Evans, David Bruton Jr., G. B. English, George A. Nicoud Jr., Vernon S. Smith and T. W. Norworthy of Dallas. Also Ernest J. Wilmon of Arlington and Murray Kyger, David O. Belew Jr., John L. Lewis, James C. Fuller and Dick Lowe of Fort Worth.

Dr. Bevington A. Reed, formerly of Cisco and Alpine, now chancellor of the Board of Minnesota State College, was named assistant commissioner of Texas Higher Education for Senior Colleges and Universities.

Short Snorts
Senate passed the revised consumer credit code bill, which now returns to the House.

Wendell Bedichek, assistant to the executive director of the Texas Research League in Austin, has resigned to become executive director of the newly formed West Central Texas Council of Governments in Abilene.

Vernon McGee of Austin, former State Legislative Budget Board director, has been retained as research consultant for the Republican Party of Texas to work with GOP's eight "task forces" on major state problems.

Highway Dept. Announces Road Widening Project

The Texas Highway Department today announced the beginning of a new construction project on State Highway 70 beginning 9 1/2 miles south of Pampa and extending to the Lake McClellan Rd.

The construction will consist of completely rebuilding and widening that section of road. The contractor, Gilvin-Terrill, Inc., of Amarillo, stated construction will begin this week and is expected to be completed by next Oct. 1.

The section of road will be heavily traveled by construction equipment and every effort will be made to minimize inconvenience to the traveling public, according to Tom R. Kelley, Pampa resident highway engineer.

The project has been speeded for a maximum speed of 45 miles per hour and the cooperation of the motorists passing through the area is earnestly solicited in obeying all warning signs, Kelley stated.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General William H. Stewart believes that 1967 "may well go down in history as the year of measles eradication in the United States."

Dr. Stewart told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public Monday that the measles vaccine licensed four years ago is bringing the disease "to the vanishing point."

In addition, he said, U.S. Public Health Service researchers are working on an experimental vaccine aimed at conquering German measles.

WEST LANGTON, England (UPI)—Farmer John Walker couldn't believe his eyes. Almost as one, 10 cows on a milking machine in his barn toppled over dead. Later he discovered that a freak electrical storm had sent thousands of volts through the machine and the metal chain used to tether the animals. "The poor things just seemed to go to sleep," Walker said. "They felt no pain at all. It was a eerie."

Plan to Discuss
Old Right-of-Way

County Commissioners will meet at 10 a.m. Friday to discuss a new subdivision plan, and discuss a right-of-way problem near Le...

"We've come up with a problem in the Leiora area precisely an easement right of way with the State Highway Department," County Judge S. R. Lennin Jr. said.

"Apparently about 11 or 12 years ago we never paid one of the landowners for his easement on eight-one hundredth of an acre across a corner of his property," Lennin said.

Commissioners will discuss a satisfactory price for the land to compensate the landowner, who lives in Colorado now, according to Lennin.

Commissioners will also approve plans for the new Meadowlark Hills subdivision in northeastern Pampa.

Report

BOB PRICE

The war in Vietnam comes closer and closer to home as more and more Panhandle and U.S. citizen soldiers are involved and as the casualty reports mount.

As a participant in the Korean war, I can well understand the agony that comes from each of the "we regret to inform you" messages of the wounded or killed in action messages. I know what it was to lose a buddy to enemy action and can understand what the loss of a loved one means.

But I believe most of us understand the reasons and justifications for our involvement in this terrible war—a war neither of our making or asking.

After the Senate Policy Committee issued a staff report last week which made it appear that the Republican Party was split in its support of the President's policy in Vietnam, I joined Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen and House minority leader Gerald Ford in agreement with that report or its implications.

Our own Senator Tower was quick in assailing the report as a "misleading" document that could be misinterpreted, and he challenged as incorrect the major contentions that President Johnson has involved the United States in a unilateral, open-ended land war in Asia in contradiction of the policy followed by President Eisenhower and historically endorsed by the Republican Party.

My main objection to the President's policy is his failure to fully utilize our naval and air superiority in stopping the flow of war materials and supplies to North Vietnam.

In view of the reaction to General Westmoreland's visit from the noisy and misguided or misinformed dissenters, it seems to me that these "doves" and doubters should be again reminded of history, although they apparently choose to ignore the real story of Communism and its avowed goal of world conquest.

The infiltration and invasion of South Vietnam followed the usual Communist pattern of intimidation, murder, subversion, terrorism and coercion under their propagandist camouflage of "liberation from imperialism."

But there is no more imperialistic nation in the world today than the Soviet Union. Freedom or the right of self-determination for the countries Russia took over after WW II such as Estonia, Rumania, Poland and the others is a mockery of their so-called "People's Democracy."

And why the Berlin wall if these "liberated" people are so happy?

The Asian situation has been the same except for our intervention in Korea. Tibet, a once proud and independent nation, is an example. Anyone who doubts the intentions of the Communists even in the light of their recent deviations might read more closely the reports of events in Latin and South America. Here, in our own hemisphere, Communist Cuba is the base and training ground for more Vietnams in our backyard.

Castro has made a mockery of the Monroe Doctrine which said we would not tolerate the intervention of a foreign power in the internal affairs of any Latin American country. And had it not been for our timely intervention in the Dominican Republic, we would have had another Cuba to contend with.

Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev recently called for a world Communist conference for increased support of North Vietnam. He said Communist support for Vietnam is making itself "felt more and more strongly."

The Senate Policy Committee report does not, in my opinion, express or reflect the views or attitude of the Republican leadership or more than a handful of Republicans and I for one, refuse to become involved in a political controversy over the Vietnam war. In no previous major conflict has this country been seriously divided, except for our own war between the states, and we cannot afford dissension under the continued subtle, devious and deadly threats of International Communism.

We can properly understand the struggle in Vietnam only if we recognize it for what it is—part of a vast and continuing struggle in which we have been engaged since the so-called end of World War II but which was really a shift from a war of Nazism against the world to a war of Communism against the world—or for the world.

Former Under Secretary of State George Q. Ball concluded a speech last year with: "After all, it is not the American purpose simply to preserve the status quo. That was not our history and that is not our destiny. What we want to preserve is the freedom of choice for the peoples of the world. We will take our chances on that."

'Keep the Faith' Gigantic Flop Recorder Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—The publisher of Adam Clayton Powell's record "Keep the Faith, Baby" pronounced it a monumental flop today and said he was left holding the bag for the $32,460 he advanced Powell to pay a defamation judgment. "Adam left me high and dry," said former bandleader Jerry Blaine president of Jubilee Records. "I thought I was smart, but Adam was smarter."

Blaine estimated that he will lose more than $152,000 on the record that the Harlem congressman predicted would make him a millionaire. He said of 200,000 copies distributed to date, 103,000 are still unsold. Jubilee Records provided Powell with an advance of $32,460 last Jan. 31 to satisfy an original judgment won by Mrs. Esther James, a 70-year-old Harlem widow he had falsely described as a police graft collector. Powell still owes James $141,540 in penalties and interest.

Blaine boasted last January that his firm would issue and WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., claims that President Johnson has added 106,910 employees to the public payroll at an annual cost of $700 million since he ordered a payroll "freeze" last September.

"Furthermore, these increases cannot be attributed to the Vietnam war," Williams told the Senate Monday. "A large percentage . . . is in civilian agencies and represents an expansion of Great Society programs."

Astrological Forecast

By CARROL L. RIGTER

FOR THURSDAY, MAY 11
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until sundown you have a considerable amount of ability to energetically put into effect any partnership arrangements that require a considerable amount of both cooperation and ingenuity. You find that you also are able to combine your mind and hands in any sort of important manual work during the P.M. hours.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) —Contact associates so that you put through successfully some plan that is important. Stop fidgeting away your time. Keep very busy and get much done. Evening should be spent quietly, however.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) —Those who look favorably toward you where financial matters are concerned should be contacted and support given by your gentle prompting. Don't be extravagant later. Get real estate improved.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) —After you have improved your appearance, get out socially and show others how devoted you are. Have a happy time. Think over what your true ambitions are. Ask no favors of anyone in p.m. Await a better time.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) —Ideal day to get into private matters that need immediate handling and bring you greater happiness, but be sure you use tact tonight. Don't be fearful with anyone in p.m. They withdraw their favors.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) —Be with congenial you admire and who you know is very loyal to you. Avoid the social tonight. However, relaxing social obligations is fine during the day, when others are in a very jovial mood.

VERGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) —Contact higher-up who can easily assist you to advance in the days ahead, but be sure to do nothing to jeopardize good name in p.m. Show others that you are an A.C. citizen. Improve your credit for best results in business life.

LIBRA: (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) —You are inspired as to how to grow financially as well as spiritually and should focus through on such ideas. Get rid of mistakes. Some new contact can be very fascinating. Tonight, rest.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) —Handling obligations wisely is easy during day, but be sure you do not relax close tie in p.m. Use intuitive faculties to advantage during the day. Take it pretty easy tonight and restore energies.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) —A good discussion leads to greater success is possible during the day with an associate, but steer clear of public later on in the day. Improving relations with others is easy, also. Much breaks into the open to cause this.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) —Stick pretty much to what the accepted rule in the duties and work ahead of you, and be more friendly with co-workers. Improve efficiency, but with tact. Take health treatments used in p.m.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) —Be careful of the amenities when dealing with others you admire during day and tonight. Fine benefits accrue. Use that fine skill you possess. Take care you do not spend exorbitantly in p.m.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) —Show true devotion for those dwelling under your roof and you get ahead much faster, even in business, but do not argue tonight. Clear up any misunderstandings early. Then the evening can be very pleasurable.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: . . . he, or she, will have such a fine quick mind that the facts should be found early.

Foreign News Commentary

By K.C. THALER

United Press International
LONDON—(UPI)—The year 1970 may mark the formal end of the increasingly controversial "special Anglo-American relationship"—if Britain's bid to enter the European community succeeds.

This is the assessment of politicians from both Conservative and Labor ranks who feel that hard as Britain may try to hold on to the past, the so-called special relationship with the United States is fading fast.

Recent British studies have sadly concluded that what used to be a strong genuine alignment, based on mutual and reciprocal respect and interests, has become a one-sided affair, with Britain clinging to a reluctant, often embarrassed friend.

The change in British thinking has been slow and hesitant. To date the Anglo-American partnership remains a strong, if increasingly, merely sentimental tie.

Paradoxically, it has been Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government which sought to tighten once more the fading relationship when it came to power two years ago.

British approaches to Europe have consequently been strongly hampered by the government's desire to hold on to the Atlantic links. And, as a result, British thinking has undergone a marked change recently.

The current effort to get Britain into Europe is seen to reflect, possibly for the first time, a serious attempt to switch traditional affiliations.

When Britain applied first for Common Market membership in 1961 she did so stressing her intention to serve as a "link" between Europe and the United States as well as the British Commonwealth. There was talk of "interdependence" in the broader framework of the Atlantic alignment.

The emphasis now is on Britain as a "European nation intent on serving Europe, to help make the alignment a powerful independent factor in world politics alongside the United States. Britain now talks of a "European Europe". That is why qualified observers predict that the Anglo-American special relationship is on its way out.

Chief Justice Marshall's "Life of Washington" was the first American biography of any scope and dignity.

It took Leonardo da Vinci nearly two years to paint the "Last Supper."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who appears for all the world to be an ideal husband and father, is beginning to worry me. I don't know what's got into him lately, but he's become so anti-religious. He was brought up in the Catholic church. I became a convert for his sake. Now he has turned against religion like a madman. When I say grace at the table he shouts, "Thank me for the food—not God!" (And right in front of the children, too.) He refuses to go to church, and makes fun of me and the children when we go. I asked our priest to come over and speak to him, but he wouldn't let the priest in the house. What am I to do, Abby? He seems all right otherwise, he's just got this thing about religion. Do you think he'll get over it?

WORRED
DEAR WORRIED: This "thing" you husband has about religion is a symbol of mental illness. Talk to your family doctor and together perhaps you two can work out a way to have your husband examined physically and mentally. Don't wait for him to "get over" it. He needs treatment.

DEAR ABBY: A new couple moved to town. They didn't know a soul, so my husband and I took them under our wing and introduced them to all our friends.

Now that they are no longer lonely, they have been entering all the people we introduced them to, and they have not been including us. I think this is a lot of nerve. What do you think?

USED
DEAR USED: Good manners would dictate that they show their appreciation to you in some way. But they are under no obligation to "include" you when they entertain those whom they have met through you. Don't feel "used." Everyone has the privilege of choosing his own friends.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone else airs his gripe in your column, so I want to add mine. It's this blackmail business of "tipping." I'm a salesman, and nobody has ever tipped me for doing a good job. And why should he? I am just doing the job I'm getting paid to do. When I take a woman out to dinner if I don't hand out tips to doormen, waiters, captains, hat-check girls, and the man who parks my car, I look like a cheap skate.

We could sure take a lesson from our European cousins. There they add 15 per cent to the bill and there is no tipping.

SICK OF TIPPING
DEAR SICK: For good or ill (and I dislike tipping, too) many persons serving the public have been forced to rely on tips for a substantial part of their income. Their base pay is low and tips are supposed to provide a living wage. Adding a percentage to the bill is not always practical. So, annoying though the system is, a lot of people are trapped in it—including both the tippers and the tipped.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "In Love and in Trouble": Tell your parents at once. No matter what you think now, they are your best friends and they will do everything they can to help you.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MATURE PARENT

News per Enterprise Assn By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Over the Easter holidays, her college student-daughter came home to spend them with her family. Which, of course, she didn't do. She spent them with hordes of the classmates, male and female, she had just said goodby to. The rest of her time she spent in sleep, emerging from it only to yell at her mother, "But I've told you 10 times I don't know how many hamburgers they'll want!"

As a result, her exhausted mother felt such relief at her return to school that she wept. Then she called me to wait: "You'd think I was Meg's worst enemy! Do you know what she said to me yesterday morning? I had said, 'Meg, mother's just a poor little woman who is trying to make you happy.' Do you know what she said? She said, 'Oh, beat it, go away! Get out of my room! You make me sick at the stomach.'"

It wasn't the time to say what I wanted to say. So I say it now to all parents of college students. Never on any account describe yourselves as "poor" anything to them. Never.

It encourages delusions of grandeur, delusions with which they're already only too well-supplied. It virtually orders them to continue to imagine themselves so rich in knowledge and experience, compared with our lack of both, that their responsibility for superior wisdom scares them to death. Adn just as they had to accuse us of spilling their milk, they kick us in the teeth for burdening them with that responsibility.

I'm fed up with the young today and usually I'm rather fond of them. But I know so many parents of college-attending young who have to struggle back to their feet after the abuses of holidays that I'm the person who has been made sick at the stomach with impatience—and infinite boredom.

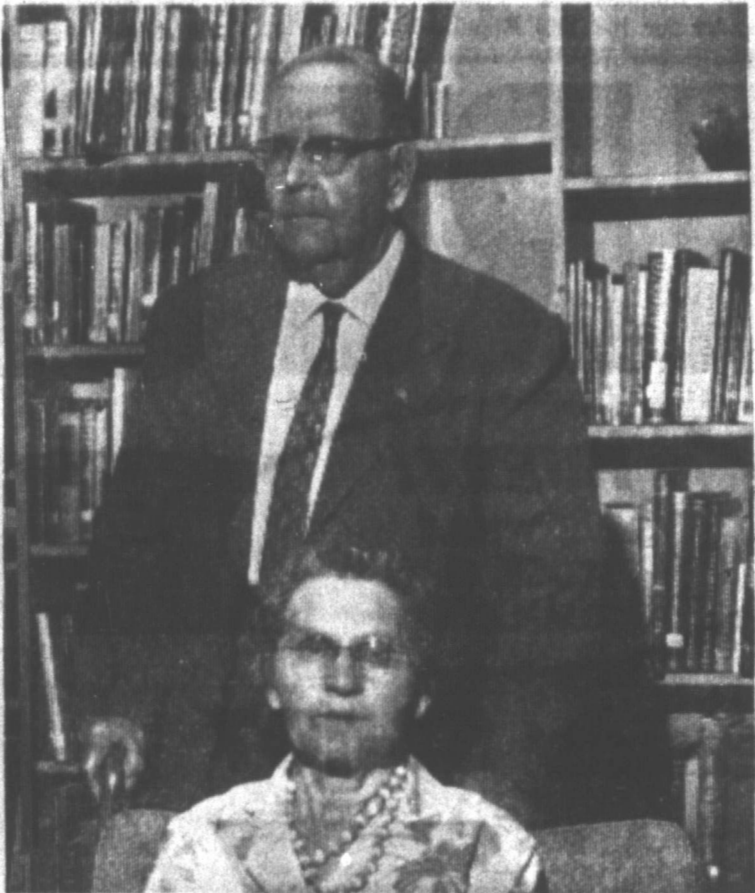

Oh, well, I suppose they can't help their bumptiousness. Between the "experts" who have so helpfully identified us parents as villains of the piece and an educational system which promotes their delusion of grandeur, bumptiousness toward us is bound to happen to them.

You realize, don't you, that at the age of 12, some social studies teacher has said to your hatchling, "What's your view of the United States Constitution? Dear fellow parents, a 12-year-old view of the American Constitution is not significant. It's limited by inexperience. And so are the 20-year-old opinions of us.

PEB Has Pledge Ritual

Six recently pledged members of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority's Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter attended a candlelight pledging ritual for seven new pledges recently in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service Co.

A blue candle flanking an arrangement of pink rosebuds, carrying out the Nu Phi Mu colors, formed the focal point for the pledging ceremony.

Mrs. Coyle Winborn, president, read the ritual as new members were pledged and presented with their pins.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jim Simpson and Mrs. Calvin McConnell.

Plans were discussed for attending the state convention and entertaining with an end-of-the-year party.

Members attending, in addition to the new pledges were Mmes. David Duffy, Randy Giesler, Ted Givens, Sonny Golden, Max Patton, Jim Brasherars, Bill Caswell, Gary Clark, Don Hufstedler, John Lyle and Jerry Rockwell.

Latest Status Symbol: Don't Look Like Tourist

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) —

The latest status symbol of tourism is to accomplish the ultimate of camouflage—travel and not look like the U.S. tourist.

After watching tourists in action, I've concluded the time has come for a new travel guide called "How to Look as if You've Been to All These Places Before, or if not, at Least Don't Have the Visitor's Label Figuratively Stamped All Over You."

There is, for instance, the matter of passport and assorted other paraphernalia having to do with international travel. Hang on to your passport for dear life, but don't be obvious about it. Be as nonchalant through customs as if you were just checking out in a supermarket line. Don't fumble through purse.

Avoid unnecessary hand luggage. The seasoned traveler, somehow, has figured how to pack everything into luggage for checking except the necessary documents.

Know Currency
Rehearse well on money changing. Nothing marks the tourist more than his standing in front of a change window carefully counting each note and coin. And don't be surprised if all that folding money in exchange for $10 looks as if you're never going to run out. The foreign notes go very fast.

Don't address postcards in public. You're obviously a U.S. tourist if you haul out a passel of them in hotel lobby or restaurant and start scribbling. For even further secrecy, don't buy them at a hotel desk. Sneak around the corner to a kiosk.

By the same procedure, don't read guide books in public. Save these for the inner sanctum of the hotel room. The genuine, A-1 U.S. tourist reads guidebooks even on sight-seeing tours while the sights go right on past.

Avoid the usual tourist attractions. After all, anyone can see the glory of Westminster Abbey (see one cathedral, avoid other Americans like the plague. Otherwise, you may end up with a dinner date with a couple insisting on finding a steak in Europe.

Avoid American-oriented hotels like the George Fifth, the Ritz, the Excelsior, the Hilton anywhere. You'll just meet more Americans. Seek out the family-owned residential hotels.

Club to Honor Harvester Band

The Pampa Band Boosters Club will sponsor the annual Pampa High School Harvester band banquet at 7 p.m. Thursday in the high school cafeteria. During the banquet, the John Phillips Sousa Award winner and winner of the club's $100 scholarship will be announced. The John Phillips Sousa award is the highest award a band member can receive during the year, Harris Brinson, band director, said.

Senior band members will receive their miniature bandsmen honors, which are small replicas of the Harvester band uniforms.

The Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of First Methodist Church and president of Band Boosters, will be master of ceremonies.

Delinquent Guardsmen Due for Duty estimated 31,000 civilian reservists who are delinquent in fulfilling weekend drill obligations are expected to be called to active duty before the end of November, the Defense Department said recently.

The reserve callup, first of the Vietnam war, is to involve about 25,000 Army reservists, 4,000 Air Force, 2,000 Marine and 100 Navy.

Other reservists now vulnerable, but able to find reserve units which will either enroll them or put them on waiting lists, have only until May 11 to complete the new arrangements exempting them from the callup.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced last Feb. 15 that the delinquents would be put in uniform as a punitive measure. But at that time he set no deadline for entering units and did not estimate when the call-up would be completed.

"Beginning on approximately July 1 orders will be issued," the department said. "The first group is expected to enter on active duty in August."

"The rate at which the reservists come on active duty will depend on the numbers involved and their skills. However, it is expected that all those to be called who were in the pool outside units as of March 30 will be on active duty by October or November."

If a man could prove that he tried to get into a unit and could not, would he still be called up? the department was asked.

"If a man is eligible and cannot find a unit to join he will be called up. Announced policies have stated that the responsibility for locating a suitable unit vacancy rests with the individual concerned. If he fails to accomplish this he will be ordered to active duty," a spokesman replied.

Those who were not in the pool March 30 but have entered it since or will enter it in the future will be given 60 days in which to find units before being called to duty.

Chinese Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — C. K. Yen, vice president and prime minister of Nationalist China (Taiwan), arrives today for two days of talks with President Johnson and other top U.S. officials.

During Yen's stay in Washington, the United States is expected to reaffirm publicly its intention to protect Taiwan against any attack from the Communist Chinese mainland and to stress its continued support for the government of President Chiang Kai-shek.

Blue Lustre Rug Shampoo Finest of All

A gallon of Blue Lustre cleans six 9x12 rugs for about 1¢ per sq. ft.—in every good shampooer or with brush.

It cleans wall-to-wall or removes traffic paths and spots. Raises beaten-down nap at doorways. Pile becomes open and fluffy. Colors sparkle again (in upholstery, too).

Contains no soap. So it leaves no residue to cause re-soiling. Dries to an invisible powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

Justice Department's Inquiry Of Powell to Go Beyond Public Issues

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Justice Department investigation of Adam Clayton Powell is going beyond the issues publicly raised by a special House committee that investigated him, Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., R-W. Va., said Tuesday.

Moore said the committee referred to the department "every innuendo, every rumor" of official misconduct unearthed during its inquiry into Powell's activities.

"My understanding is that the Justice Department is reviewing this complete file and all of its attachments in a most thorough manner Moore said in an interview.

The West Virginia Republican said he did not know whether the department had found any evidence that Powell had committed a crime.

Moore, who was the senior GOP member of the select nine-man committee that sat in judgment on Powell, said he was satisfied with the pace of the Justice Department's investigation.

His comments served to answer some House critics who

15 to Take Scholarship Test Here

Mrs. Gene Fatheree, Pampa High School counselor, and Jim Hulett, student council sponsor, will administer the Cabot Corporation scholarship test to 15 candidates Friday.

The students will take the test at Pampa High School at 8:50 a.m. To be eligible they must be sons or daughters of employees of Cabot Plants operating in the Western Region.

Each year six scholarships of $500 each are awarded on a competitive basis to applicants chosen by the scholarship committee.

The scholarship committee includes a representative from the University of Texas, University of Oklahoma, Texas Technological College and Louisiana State University.

The committee bases its final decision for awards on the applicants' high school or preparatory school scholastic records, character, leadership qualities, purpose and results of the aptitude test.

Students applying for the scholarship Friday are Phyllis Atwood, Garry Crafton, Jan Farley, Janice Henderson, Barbara Holt, Mary Beth Johnson, Patricia Meador, Thomas New and Loretta Jean Prock.

Others are Letitia Rutledge, Robert Schaub, Mary Thornton, Donald Turner and Jennifer Burnham.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

A survey of high school principals in some 100 American cities reveals a strong opinion that there is a relationship between far out attire and poor grooming on the one hand, and social and academic failure on the other.

It is difficult to determine which came first, the fad or the failure. Regardless, there is too much opinion relating the two for it to be overlooked.

In several legal appeals to higher authorities beyond the principal, it has been held that a student cannot be suspended just for wearing long hair or some other fad. This is purely a legal opinion. Parents must, along with their children, recognize the affect upon social and academic success.

There was an apparent unanimity among survey respondents that there is a correlation between grooming and the way young men perform socially and scholastically.

Not Study

It was thought that some school officials believed one way and some another, and the survey was designed to give expression to two viewpoints. Although this was merely a survey and not a scientific study, the results would argue very clearly that there is really just one point of view. It is nearly 100 percent—ill-groomed boys, those who go to extremes in faddish attire, just don't perform well.

Some principals added to the survey sheets, unsolicited statements.

Said the principal of a large Indianapolis, Indiana high school: "I asked the faculty to give me a list of boys whose hair they thought was too long. They listed 50 boys. I checked their grades and found that over 60 percent of their grades were D's and F's. This tells a story!"

A Glendale, California, principal agrees: "Most of our nonperformers and drop-outs

Score Is Gone But Not Forgotten By Cleveland Fans

CLEVELAND (NEA) — On May 7, 1957, the Cleveland Indians hosted the New York Yankees, and on the mound for the Indians was the "greatest pitcher in baseball."

At 23, he threw faster than anyone since Bob Feller and until Sandy Koufax. He had won 20 games for the Indians the previous year, and had fanned 508 batters in just two big-league seasons.

With Gil McDougald at bat for the Yanks in the first inning, young Herb Score let go with a fast one, and McDougald, a noted straight-away hitter socked a vicious liner through the box.

The sound was "crack-crack," followed by a collective gasp and shocked silence. The ball had hit Score directly in the eye and sent him to the ground, clawing and kicking, praying silently, "St. Jude, stick with me."

Here legend becomes myth—that one hard liner was the beginning of the end for Herb as a flame-thrower with limitless horizons in baseball.

Sure he came back, they say, but he was never the same—probably gun-shy out there. Score continued in baseball another six years and had some good moments.

In fact, not myth, a rather common baseball injury: torn elbow tendon; sent him looking for other employment.

Herb says, "I wasn't gunshy at all. Nobody likes to have balls hit through the box, but that's all part of the game. The ball in the eye had nothing to do with my becoming a worse pitcher."

Score missed the rest of the '57 season, but for the Indians' home opener of '58, he was the starter. Herb, weakened from a flu bout, lasted only three innings before manager Cobby Bragan yanked him (the choice of pitcher had been slightly sentimental, anyway).

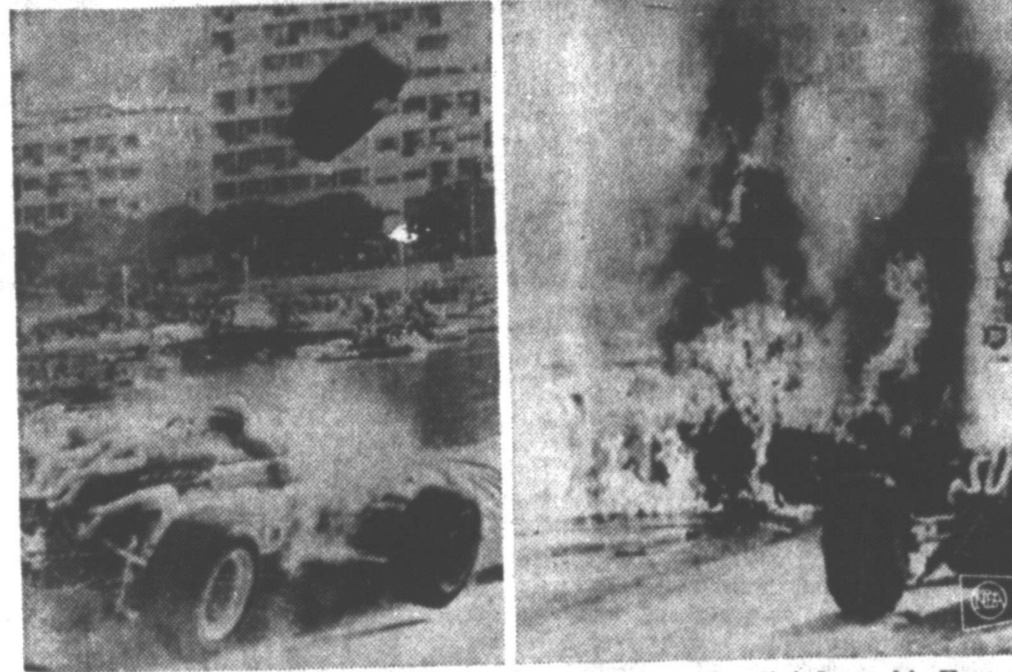

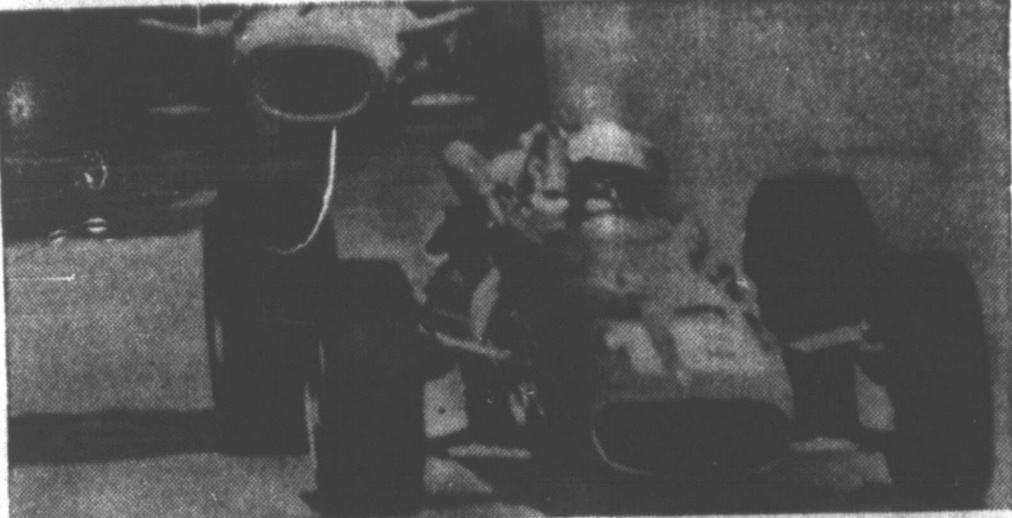

A few days later, Score went all the way to beat the Tigers and one week after that victory, he shut out the White Sox and fanned 13. Then came the arm trouble, and within six weeks, Herb recognized he's never be quite the same.

He had another good spurt in '59 (a 9-4 mark to the All-Star game) for Cleveland but finished the year with 9 and 11.

"By that time I wasn't throwing the same," Score says. "It wasn't intentional, but I guess it was a physical thing that forced it."

He pitched with the White Sox for a couple years and became something of a commuter between Chicago, San Diego and Indianapolis. Then it was fade-out, the rest of the way, "to biak" as they say in "Herb's new business — television...."

"After the '63 season at Indianapolis," Herb recalls, "the Indians told me they had an opening on the television broadcast and asked me to come down and try out." He's now established as half the Cleveland TV broadcast team. "Thankful to be able to stay close to baseball" and healthfully philosophical about his bad luck.

HEADING FOR DISASTER, Italian race driver Lorenzo Bandini drove his Ferrari into the lead, top, on the 25th lap of the Monaco Grand Prix. But on the 82nd lap, chasing eventual winner Denis Hulme of New Zealand, Bandini's machine lost a wheel, went out of control, smashed up and burst into flames — injuring him seriously.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Davis Can Cheer Again

By United Press International
After four years of injuries, frustrations and hidden doubts, Tommy Davis can now cheer again.

The two-time National League batting champion cracked a line drive home run with one out in the 11th inning Tuesday night to lift the New York Mets to a 3-2 victory over the league leading Cincinnati Reds.

ROGER MARIS ... first homer

"This is the first time I've had anything to cheer about since 1963," said Davis after giving the Mets their second straight victory with a last-inning home run. "I hit it good and I was just hoping it wouldn't hit the fence."

tagged Mel Queen, who relieved Cincinnati starter Gary Nolan in the eighth, with his first loss after four straight wins.

Loses Momentum
The road hasn't been exactly smooth for Davis after winning back-to-back batting crowns in Angeles Dodgers and driving in a league leading 153 runs in 1962 and 1963 with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

On May 1, 1965, while attempting to break up a double play against San Francisco, Davis had his spikes catch in the dirt, suffering as a result a badly broken ankle and completely dislocating the leg.

Davis managed a respectable .313 batting average last season but drove in only 27 runs in a part time role, prompting the Dodgers management to peddle him to the Mets for Ron Hunt and Jim Hickman.

Elsewhere in the National League, St. Louis beat Pittsburgh 6-3, Chicago routed San Francisco 10-2, Philadelphia edged Atlanta 3-1 and Houston stopped Los Angeles 5-2.

Davis' homer, a line shot over the 370-foot mark in left field.

Orlando Cepeda cracked four hits, including a pair of run producing doubles, to power the Cardinals over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Cepeda drove in Julian Javier with the first Cardinal run with a double in the third and doubled again to highlight a three-run seventh-inning outburst.

Roger Maris also hit his first homer of the season for the Cardinals as Steve Carlton, who struck out nine Pirates, picked up his second victory in three decisions.

Pitcher Ray Culp tripled and Ernie Banks and John Boccabella doubled to drive in two runs each and highlight a 14-hit Chicago attack that carried the Cubs over the San Francisco Giants.

Clay Dalrymple singled to score Johnny Callison from second with the lead run in the seventh inning to lift the Philadelphia Phillies over the Atlanta Braves.

Ron Davis drove in two runs with a homer and a single and young Larry Dierker scattered nine hits to give the Astros their first triumph over the Dodgers in 10 games. Dierker, who won his third game against two losses, also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Hawks Name 3 To Star Team

MONTREAL (UPI) — Chicago's high scoring trio of Stan Mikita, Bobby Hull and Ken Wharram were named today to the official 1965-67 National Hockey League All-Star team.

Pierre Pilote was selected to one of the defense posts in a poll of sportswriters and broadcasters from the six NHL cities, giving the champion Black Hawks four players on the first squad.

The New York Rangers, who set a surprise blistering pace at the start of the season, filled out the remaining two positions with Ed Giacomin as goalie and Harry Howell at the other defense post.

Chicago and New York each had one player on the second team when Hawk goalie Glen Hall received the nod and Don Marshall of the Rangers was named one of the forwards. The rest of the runner-up squad contained Tim Horton of Toronto and "rookie of the year" Bobby Orr of Boston at defense, Norm Ullman of Detroit at center and Gordie Howe of the Wings at the other forward slot.

Mikita, making his sixth appearance as an All-Star and fifth on the first team, was the lone unanimous choice, drawing a perfect 90 points in each half. The native of Sokolce, Czechoslovakia, who will be 27 years old next week, tied the record for most points with 97, including a record 62 assists.

While five of the six teams are represented, this is the first time in 24 years that a Montreal Canadian player has not been named to either team.

Director Named
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco State College announced today that Jerry Wyness would become the school's new athletic director. Wyness, an assistant football coach at San Fernando Valley State College, takes over the post left vacant November 1964.

Banquet Honors Bucks

By RON CROSS
WHITE DEER — Athletes, both boys and girls, in this city were feted Tuesday night with a banquet in their honor at the school cafeteria.

The White Deer-Skellytown Lions Club sponsored All-Sports banquet toasted 86 boys and girls on their athletic abilities and made them know they are appreciated.

Fred Taylor, head football coach at Texas Christian University spoke to the gathering and emphasized the need for a larger number of students to participate in athletics and what colleges are looking for in students.

Out of a total of 210 students in White Deer '86 participate in sports, one of the largest percentages in the state.

White Deer coaches introduced members of their teams.

The banquet was unique in one respect, it was strictly for the athletes, their coaches and members of the Lions Club.

No tickets were sold and no parents or teachers, who are not coaches attended. Patrons were served a salad steak, baked potato, and desert.

S. D. Grayson, White Deer School principal introduced

Taylor. The new TCU coach commended the school on their large percentage of athletes. "I keep hearing people say that there is too much emphasis put on athletics," Taylor said. "But I don't agree with this. I don't think there is enough."

Taylor told the group it was his opinion that not nearly as many youngsters who are athletes go bad as ones who are not.

"Besides this," Taylor said, "the physical care your body gets from athletics is tremendous. When an athlete is participating in sports his grades are higher than at any other time."

"Athletics builds character better than any other thing." "There is an organization called the Fellowship of Christian Athletes," Taylor said, and I sincerely believe if this organization spreads worldwide we'll all have a better place to live in."

Taylor then told the gathering the six basic things that colleges and universities and coaches were looking for in a student.

"First is grades, then desire, attitude, training, good citizenship and last, ability," the coach stated.

Frazier May Nix Tourney

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Frazier was expected to decide today whether he would complete the eight-man field for the elimination to fill the vacant world heavyweight title.

Cloverly, Inc., the firm that manages Frazier, called a board of directors meeting over whether to enter Frazier, but Yancey Durham, the undefeated young heavyweight's trainer, already has said he is opposed to having his protegee in the tournament.

Mike Malitz, the organizer of the tournament, said Frazier's defection would not be too serious. Malitz, formerly the president of Main Bout, Inc., the firm that handled ancillary rights for several of Cassius Clay's fights, is expected to name a substitute if Frazier doesn't enter.

The other seven contestants are expected to join the tournament, but no contracts have been signed yet.

Would Fight Chuvavo
The tentative pairings had Frazier against Canadian George Chuvavo with Sept. 2 as the probable date. Other matches included Floyd Patterson against Oscar Bonavena on July 15, at the Astrodome in Houston, Ernie Terrell against James Ellis on Aug. 4, and Karl Mildenberger against Thad Spencer on Sept. 16 in Frankfurt, Germany. The dates and sites are still tentative, however.

Durham, Frazier's braintrust, apparently doesn't want to see his undefeated heavyweight go against such experienced men as Patterson, Terrell and Mildenberger, and Cloverly has heeded his advice in the past.

"I don't want to risk his No. 2 ranking now," said Durham. "I don't want him to go into the tournament."

Meantime, one of those omitted from the tournament, former world champion Sonny Liston, said in Las Vegas he felt he was being snubbed.

"None of them want to fight me," said the 35-year-old Liston, who twice was knocked out by Clay. He added that all eight of the nominees refused "good offers to fight me in Europe or anywhere else."

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

No Trade Helps Tigers

By United Press International
 The Baltimore Orioles won the 1966 pennant because they made a trade and the Detroit Tigers may win the 1967 flag because they didn't make a trade.

The acquisition of Frank Robinson made the Orioles last year's world champions and the Tigers are now in first place because they didn't trade Al Kaline.

Although his lifetime average of .304 is second among active American Leaguers only to Mickey Mantle's .305, Kaline has been long plagued by injuries and has failed to hit .300 for the past three seasons. With the Tigers loaded with outfielders, general manager Jim Campbell was under pressure last winter to deal Kaline to strengthen some Tiger weak spots.

Campbell decided not to trade Kaline — mainly because he couldn't get what he considered fair market value return for him — and the Tiger rightfielder is off to the best start of his career.

Kaline, leading the league in batting and homers and tied for the lead in runs and RBIs, belted a two-run homer in the fifth inning Tuesday night to pace the Tigers to their seventh victory in their last eight games — 1-4-3 verdict over the Cleveland Indians.

The victory kept the Tigers in first place and Kaline likes to think he has a chance to play in his first World Series in his 15th major league season.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago beat Baltimore 5-4, Minnesota clobbered Washington 11-1, Boston beat Kansas City 5-2 in the second game of a doubleheader after losing the opener 4-3 and New York topped California, 2-1.

Kaline's two-run homer off Sam McDowell snapped a 1-1 tie in the fifth and Bill Frehan double, two singles and a walk as he raised his average to .342. Joe Coleman, the first of six Senator pitchers, suffered the loss.

John Kennedy scored one run and drove in another to back up Mel Stottlemyre's six-hit pitching and give the Yanks their win over the Angels. Kennedy doubled and scored on an error in the third and knocked in their sacrifice fly.

Carl Yastrzemski's three-run double with two out in the ninth capped a five-run rally that gave the Red Sox their nightcap victory after Don McMahon walked in the winning run in the eighth inning of the opener. Jack Aker walked Joe Foy with the bases loaded in the nightcap to tie the score and Bob Duliba then came in and served up the three-run double to Yastrzemski. In the first game, Ed Charles singled in the eighth and then McMahon walked three straight batters.

Rifle Club To Hold Open House
 Members of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club will hold open house, beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday, at their new rifle range, located six miles west and two miles north of Pampa.

The public is invited to attend the open house and sighting in and rifle matches will be held.

There are actually two ranges on the course, one is 100-200 yards firing line and the other 200-300-600 yards 10 point firing line.

President of the club is Fred Carothers; vice president, David Holt, secretary, Ralph Day and range officer, Fred Brown. Rifle matches will be held each Sunday and the club will continue to hold their pistol matches each Monday night.

This past Monday Kenneth Williams and Pampa policeman Jesse Goad took point honors. Williams won the .22 caliber fire with a top score of 289. Carothers was second with 271 points while Holt was third at 269 then came Goad, 259; Day, 255; Albert Phillips, 243 and D. L. Smith, 231.

Goad won the .38 and .45 caliber shoot with 277 points with Williams second at 257 and Carothers third at 244. Ralph Day had a 211 score and D. L. Smith 227.

Harvesters, Rebs In Season Finale After 9-6 Slugfest

AMARILLO — Pampa and Tascosa were both gunning to close out the 1967 district 3-4A baseball season on a winning note today at Optimist Club park.

Tascosa clinched second place Tuesday by pounding four Pampa pitchers for 12 hits en route to a 9-6 victory over the Harvesters.

The Rebels closed out second place with 13 victories and a loss today would give them five while Pampa went into today's game with third place sewed up with a 11-6 district mark.

All district 3-4A teams closed out regular play Tuesday with league leading Monterey downing Plainview, 5-1; Palo Duro bombed Borger, 9-2; Amarillo edged Caprock, 2-1 in nine innings and Lubbock Coronado edged Lubbock High, 5-4. In a makeup game Monday, Caprock staggered Borger, 12-7.

Monterey ended district play with a 16-2 mark. Caprock finished fourth at 10-8 then came Plainview, 8-10; Borger and Coronado, each with 7-11 records and Lubbock and Amarillo each at 6-12 and Palo Duro, 5-13.

Season-wise Pampa is 23-6, Tascosa, 21-7; Monterey, 23-3 while Caprock closed out at 17-11; Plainview, 15-13; Coronado, 14-16; Amarillo, 13-16; Borger, 9-17; Palo Duro, 9-20 and Lubbock 8-22.

Tuesday the Rebels scored runs off starter Rick Foster, and relievers Gary Molberg, Jim Lang and Tommy Davis.

Lang took the loss, his second against four district wins and seven season victories.

Foster lasted only two innings and pitched to two batters in the third, giving up four runs and four hits. The four runs off Foster were the first earned runs he'd given up in 15 innings of district work.

Tascosa struck for two first inning runs after the first two batters had grounded out.

Steve Wattenburger singled, Durk Hooving was hit by a pitch and Rutsy Howard singled, sending Wattenburger home and Larry Ingram followed with a base rap to score Hoov-

ing. Pampa came back for a 3-2 lead in the top of the second when Gary Molberg led off with his fifth district home run and seventh of the season.

James Matney followed with a triple to score Achord. Tascosa made it 5-3 in the bottom of the third when they chased Foster, with Sanders leading off with a single. Wattenburger walked and Molberg came in to pitch.

Molberg got Hooving to fan but Howard blasted a 1-1 pitch for a home run.

Pampa tied it 5-5 in the fifth when Gary Hyatt led off with a single and went to second when the left fielder bobbled the ball.

After Larry Jones and Foster grounded out Molberg tripled home Hyatt and Matney followed with a single to score Molberg.

But Tascosa came back for two in the bottom of the inning when Molberg gave up a single to Sanders and Lang came on to pitch.

Wattenburger singled off Lang and Sanders was cut down at third.

With one out Hooving tripled to score Wattenburger and coach Bobby Stephens brought on Davis.

Howard greeted Davis with a

Texas League single to score Wattenburger and the sophomore bore down to get the next two men but the Rebs were out front, 7-5.

Tascosa added two more in the sixth when Bogan was safe on a fielder's choice, moved to second when Howell doubled and the bases loaded up on a walk to Sanders. Wattenburger doubled to score Gibbons and Howell.

Pampa's last tally came in the seventh when Foster hit an inside the park home run with two out. The homer was Foster's fourth in district play and sixth of the season.

Howard paced the Rebels with three hits and five runs batted in while Wattenburger had three hits and two runs batted in.

Molberg and Matney were Pampa's big sticks with Molberg driving in two runs with a single, triple and home run and Matney, two singles.

Football Drills In Second Week

As time draws near for the annual Green and Gold football game, slated at 8 p.m. May 20, coach Eural Ramsey announced some position changes on his squad.

Ramsey said that 155-pound sophomore Steve Heath had been moved from an end position to center while tackle, Frank McCampbell was now an end and center Davy Stewart moved from center to guard and right halfback Chris Kenney to left half.

"We've moved these boys around because we feel they'll be able to help us better," Ramsey said.

Ramsey also pointed out that sophomores Jay Johnson and Gary Parrish and senior Wayne Williams and Danny Winborn, a tackle, looked especially good in Saturday's scrimmage on offense.

"Sherwood Voss, Ted Williams, our two middle linebackers, guard John Stokes, guard Ted Knight, defensive halfback Wayne Caswell, turned in good jobs on defense," Ramsey said.

"We were really well pleased with the scrimmage, there were some surprises and our offense moved good during the scrimmage," the coach said.

Ramsey said that halfback turned quarter-back Dwight Rogers ran the team smoothly.

Filing for Medicare Hospital Insurance Possible Before 65

The few Panhandle residents who have not signed up for hospital insurance under Medicare fall into two general groups — those who do not understand that hospital insurance is available even to those who have never worked under social security and those who delay filing because they think they must wait until they retire.

Virgil J. Holloway, officer-in-charge of the Pampa Social Security Office, reported today that even though nearly everyone reaching 65 before 1968 can have hospital insurance, some people who have not worked long enough under social security to receive cash benefits, and others who are still working, have not applied because they do not realize that they are eligible.

Holloway emphasized that persons who may not even have a social security card and may never have worked under the program are eligible and should come in and sign up.

Starting in 1968 those reaching 65 who are not eligible for cash social security benefits will need some credit for work under the law to qualify for hospital insurance. However, Holloway stated, persons born in 1902 or earlier do not require any coverage under social security to qualify for hospital insurance.

Similarly, persons who are covered by social security, but not eligible for cash benefits because they are still working, can have hospital protection as soon as they reach 65.

Holloway explained that Panhandle residents who plan to continue working when they reach 65 should apply within the three months prior to the month in which they have their 65th birthday. By applying for social security, they will be covered by hospital insurance and can make their decision on voluntary medical insurance coverage. Later on, when they retire or have reduced earnings which will permit payment of benefits, monthly checks can be started without delay, he stated.

The Pampa social security office is at 400 W. Kingsmill in the Hughes Bldg. Hours are from 8:30 to 4:45, Monday through Friday. In addition, the office remains open Thursday evening until 7:45 p.m. The telephone number is MOhawk 4-3381.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Robert T. Allen of Shearson, Hammill & Co. says even if business and corporate earnings make good progress in the future much of the improvement already is built into present price levels on the stock market, which by many indicators are at all time highs. Thus if the improvement falls short of expectations or unexpected developments occur, the analyst feels the market could be quite vulnerable to correction.

The analyst feels it is necessary to concentrate on the "relatively underexploited" blue chip sector of the market. He believes this policy not only fits in with the objective of a conservative approach and also says many blue chips have much "catching up" to do with the rest of the market.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute says investors would be wise to avoid the dubious speculative stocks which are currently in vogue. The company also says there is cause for concern in the action of some of the highly regarded quality growth issues, which have been,
