

CLASS OF 1967 - Pampa High School principal Cameron Marsh explains to this year's seniors how to go through the graduation exercises tonight. Graduation will take place in the high school fieldhouse at 8 p.m.

Seniors Hear Vesper Address 360 Due to Graduate Tonight

The Rev. J. W. Duke, speaker at Pampa High School vesper services yesterday, told a capacity audience of parents and graduates, "You youngsters are facing an uncertain future, but if you possibly can, you should face the future with the Bible, prayer and Christian service."

The Rev. Mr. Duke, pastor of First Christian Church here, spoke to about 2,500 Pampans, including 360 graduating seniors in the high school fieldhouse.

The Rev. Mr. Duke remarked today, "everything went like clockwork; just as it was supposed to."

In his address, entitled, "Into the Unknown," he said, "You are facing an uncertain future without the slightest idea of what it will bring. If you remember, Joshua once said, 'We have not passed this way before, play it safe and make it count for Christ.'"

He suggested the seniors of 1967, Pampa High School's Golden Anniversary seniors, should "turn over a new leaf, write a new story on a clean page, not just on the Lord's day, but 365 days of the year."

"He proposed they not limit their 'new leaf' but to include it in every walk of life, home, college, careers, business, whatever they undertake after leaving Pampa High School."

Pampa High School band, performing for the traditional procession of graduates to "Pomp and Circumstance," started the evening program.

After the invocation by the Rev. Sam B. Hulsey, rector of St. Matthews Episcopal Church, the A Capella Choir, directed by Hugh Sanders, presented a musical version of "The Road Not Taken." Jerry Stephens, a Pampa High School senior, was piano accompanist for the choir.

The Rev. Dan B. Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church, read scriptures from two New Testament chapters, Matthew 6:25-34, and Philippians 3:12-15.

The A Capella Choir, directed by Sanders, and Pampa High School band, directed by Harris Brinson, performed an arrangement of "Battle Hymn of the Republic," by Willowsky-Nelson.

After the benediction by the Rev. Olin Wright, pastor of the Church of God, and the band's presentation of "Tanhauser

Arab Forces Fire On Israeli Army Patrol

Exchange of Shots Increases Tension

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
Egyptian and Israeli troops exchanged fire along the Gaza Strip border for 50 minutes today after the Arabs fired machineguns and mortars at Israeli soldiers and civilians, the Israeli high command announced in Jerusalem.

One Israeli soldier was reported slightly wounded in the incident. Israeli sources called the worst excitement since the 1956 Suez war. The statement indicated the Israelis thought the Egyptians were trying to provoke a major clash.

60th Legislature Winds Up With No Major Action

AUSTIN (UPI) — The 60th Legislature was to end its regular session today with no major action scheduled.

House Speaker Ben Barnes said he might ask the House to rescind a hike in legislative retirement benefits that was written into a little-noticed bill on state employees' pensions.

The bill raises retirement benefits for legislators by 50 per cent and would make some veteran legislators eligible for more than $500 a month in pensions. They get only $400 while they are in the legislature.

Mostly a formality

The final day is largely a formality, needed to clean up housekeeping details and give the printers time to prepare the final versions of bills already passed.

The last major problems were resolved Saturday when final approval was given to the 1968 budget, a $48 million teacher pay raise and legislative redistricting.

The teacher pay raise had barely passed when the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) announced it "will ask the special session of the Texas Legislature in 1968 that it provide further substantial increases in teachers' salaries."

Heavily displeased

That, together with the TSTA's praise of Lt. Gov. Preston Smith for his "indispensable assistance" in getting this year's raise, incensed Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

"There was more than one member of the House and Senate that had something to do with that bill," said Healy.

Reds Shell S. Viet Post

SAIGON (UPI)—A band of Communist terrorists sneaked into the ancient capital of the Hue today and slammed mortar barrages into U.S. and South Vietnamese posts and bombed a hotel.

The attack followed a sweep Sunday by South Vietnamese troops on the outskirts of the old imperial capital of Vietnam that killed 124 Communists.

The guerrilla raid in the middle of the night sent Americans and South Vietnamese diving for cover and shattered the Houng Giang Hotel where many Americans and International Control Commission (ICC) members stay.

Officials say two Vietnamese officers and a policeman were killed in the mortar attack and 16 civilians were wounded. No Americans were hurt.

Three Killed

The guerrilla attack also hit a South Vietnamese officers club, a residential area and a logistics company position.

Within minutes after the mortar fire hammered the allied post's U.S. Air Force C47 Allied artillery opened up on the attackers and South Vietnamese ground forces searched for Communist gunnery sites.

Fighting raged throughout the northern provinces of South Vietnam as Communists threw waves of men into battles along and south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) dividing the Vietnam.

Marine Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt said Sunday the North Vietnamese had become "desperate" for a morale-building victory in the northern half of South Vietnam. Walt departs Thursday after two years of commanding the Marines battling six North Vietnamese divisions in South Vietnam's northern provinces.

Four Americans Among Slate Of New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today named 27 new Cardinals including four Americans to create the largest number of Roman Catholic Church princes in history.

The Americans named to the Sacred College of Cardinals included Msgr. Francis Brennan of Shenandoah, Pa., who serves as dean of the church's Tribunal of the Sacred Rota, and Archbishops Patrick Aloysius O'Boyle of Washington, D.C., John J. Kroll of Philadelphia, and John P. Cody of Chicago.

It raised to nine the number of American cardinals in the sacred college which now numbers a record 120.

Those already holding office in the United States include Francis J. Cardinal Spellman of New York, James F. Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, Richard J. Cardinal Cushing of Boston, Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis and Lawrence J. Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore.

Holiday Death Toll May Reach Record

The Safety Council estimated before the weekend began that from 650 to 750 persons would die in traffic accidents during hours between the 6 p.m. start of the holiday period Friday and the end, midnight Tuesday, local time.

The war dead of the United States were honored across the land Sunday in many observances scheduled two days before Memorial Day itself because government and many business offices would be open today.

As the dead from the nation's wars were honored, traffic accidents added to a years-long death toll longer than any caused by an enemy's bombs and bullets.

A United Press International count at 8:00 a.m. CDT showed at least 389 persons dead in traffic accidents during the holiday period.

The breakdown:

Traffic	389
Drownings	69
Planes	9
Total	468

California recorded the most traffic deaths among the states with at least 33 victims, followed by Michigan and New York, each with 27, and Texas with 24.

Alaska, Colorado, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, Rhode Island and Vermont were alone in listing no traffic deaths.

The highway death toll threatened to set a new record for the weekend and possibly could top all holiday records. The worst summer holiday toll in history was last Labor Day when 636 persons were killed.

The worst holiday ever was Christmas of 1965 when 720 died in road accidents.

"Since this Memorial Day represents a four-day weekend as opposed to a three day weekend last year traffic deaths, barring a complete trend reversal, will hit a new Memorial Day high," said Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council.

Pyle said traffic fatalities were running about 8 per cent less than last year's record high.

Nigeria Faces Break-Up, Civil War

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Acting to prevent "a bloody, wasteful and chaotic civil war," Niger's military chief, Col. Yakubu Gowon, today marshaled forces to keep the oil-rich eastern region from seceding.

Gowon declared a state of emergency and assumed dictatorial powers Sunday. He said he would use force to keep the eastern region in the Nigerian Federation, Africa's largest nation.

Informed sources said the military governor of the eastern region, Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, would declare the area's independence today.

At the heart of the feud that threatens to erupt into civil war is bitter tribal and religious and northern region Nigerians. Gowon is a native of the northern region.

The eastern region radio reported Sunday that the region's assembly passed a resolution asking Ojukwu's military regime to declare the region and northern regional Nigerians, aocratic republic of Biafra.

Gowon, 32, immediately assumed full control of the army announced he had split Nigeria into 12 states to replace the four regions which were the former political divisions within the country.

The eastern region has fended with the federal government for the past six months. It is in this region where Nigeria's vast oil resources are located in the swampy Niger River delta. U.S., British and French oil companies have large investments in the area.

State Death Total Mounts

With little more than half the Memorial Day weekend gone, Texas' violent death toll was rapidly climbing.

In the worst accident of the weekend, three persons were killed and four others injured in a two-car head-on collision near Artesia Wells early Sunday.

Killed were Thomas F. Jurgenson, 22, Dallas; Michael McKinley Holden, 27, Austin; and Caesar Charles Castro, 22, San Antonio. Jurgenson and Holden were students at the University of Texas.

Two Mineral Wells women were killed in a head-on collision just east of Palo Pinto Saturday night. The dead were Elizabeth Crowder, 18, and Helena Exton, about 40.

Two persons drowned Sunday in separate incidents. Billy Joe Melton, 5, drowned in Lubbock and Howard Wayne Mason, 18, died while swimming with his brother-in-law in a lake 10 miles north of Cleburne.

World Trip Sailor Greeted by Thousands

PLYMOUTH, England (UPI) — No more nightmares, fear, loneliness and meals of watercress and mustard greens for Britain's "glorious bloody fool." After sailing alone in a 53-foot ketch around the world, Sir Francis Chichester, 65, was home from the sea today.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson, trying to speak for a nation that for a moment recaptured the glory of ruling the waves, hailed the hero: "Your epic voyage will long be remembered as a triumph of human skill and courage."

About 300,000 Britons cheered as Chichester steered Gypsy Moth IV Sunday night into this harbor of history—where the Pilgrims set sail 347 years ago and the first Sir Francis of the sea, Drake, sailed back with his first load of Spanish main plunder in 1573.

"Glorious Bloody Fool"

"Welcome home," said a message from Queen Elizabeth II, who bestowed knighthood on Chichester when his 28,500-mile voyage was only half done. At the time Chichester was in Sydney where an old sailing ship captain, Charles Jago, possibly summed it up:

"Any professional sailor knows that only a fool would attempt what you have done. What a glorious bloody fool you must be."

At journey's end Chichester told newsmen why he did it: "It intensifies life to be living life to the full."

Few lives have been so full even without the solo journey. Three months after learning to fly, at 28 he made history's second solo flight from England to Australia. He refused a doctors' ultimatum seven years ago of surgery or death by cancer and survived. Turning to sailing at 51, he made six Atlantic crossings alone. He set a 33-day record in 1962.

But then when most men retire, when Chichester himself was as old as Charles A. Lindbergh 40 years after the "lone eagle" made his solo trip into history, the Englishman put to sea from Plymouth. It was Aug. 27, 1966.

MARKET STUDY SHOWS

$14-Million Spent For Food In County During Past Year

For most residents of Gray County, the past year was a good one, financially. They earned more money and they spent more.

As a result, local retail merchants had a banner year. Nearly all of them chalked up sizeable gains over 1966, despite inflation, which cut into the purchasing power of consumers.

Just how much local residents spent in the year for food, clothing, automobiles, furniture, drugs and other commodities is reported by the Standard Rate and Data Service in its annual market study. Comparable figures are given for communities in every part of the country.

In Gray County, it is shown, food was in the number one spot. Local residents spent more of their money in this direction than in any other. Price increases played a part.

Their outlay in meat markets, bakeries, grocery stores, delicatessens and other stores selling food for home consumption added up to $14,411,000, as compared with the previous total of $12,357,000.

This was exclusive of the amount spent in restaurants and in other places where food and drink are consumed on the premises.

The figures show that 26 cents out of every dollar spent in local retail stores went for such take-home food. It was a greater proportion than in many areas.

Elsewhere in the United States, food averaged 23 cents of the retail dollar, and in the State of Texas, 22 cents.

What the local food bill came to in terms of the individual family, apportioning the total amount equally among the population, was $1,242 per family. The SRDS report also shows how much was spent by local consumers for various other types of commodities.

Their expenditures for automotive equipment, including cars, boats, motorcycles and the like, amounted to $12,691,000, as against the prior year's $11,979,000.

In stores selling general merchandise, their outlay reached $4,927,000. The former total was $4,361,000.

Purchases of wearing apparel, such as clothing, shoes and hats, hit $3,655,000, compared with the 1966 figure of $3,195,000.

In stores selling furniture and other home furnishings, they spent $3,556,000. The previous total was $3,238,000.

WEATHER

PAMPA AND VICINITY: Partly cloudy with little change in temperature through tomorrow. Scattered evening thunderstorm. Low tonight near 60. High tomorrow middle. 89. Southerly winds, 10-20 mph except stronger near thunderstorms. Thirty per cent chance rain today and tomorrow. Outlook for Wednesday: Little change.

Then the long last leg home Chichester had donned his blue cap by the time hundreds of meek harbors craft bobbed out to welcome him Sunday night. One bumped his $32,000 Gypsy Moth IV but Chichester did not appear to notice.

Chichester vowed he would no think of more adventure, at least "not for a week."

It was fine that Britain was making an airmail stamp for him, a 25 cent stamp, the cost of a letter to Australia. It seemed finer to be home after 221 days at sea.

"One thing I'd like would be the best dinner from the best chef in the best surroundings in the best company. That would be one nice thing after four months of my own cooking."

RAIN LEAVES .17 INCH

$14-Million Spent For Food In County During Past Year

Pampa received 1.7 of rain yesterday to add to its pasture-dampening half inch of rain that fell during the Friday night hail storm.

Wheeler reported 1.20 of rain Saturday and another .20 Sunday.

Weather observers are predicting another 20 per cent chance of rain through Wednesday, with cloudy skies and low temperatures.

Winds direction will be southerly, 10-20 mph, but stronger near thunderstorms.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Haws. (Adv.)

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I just got the thrill of my life, and because you were indirectly responsible for it, I want to share it with you. You asked your readers to write to the lonely GIs in Thailand who never got any mail, so I wrote a rather long, chatty letter and sent it to the address you suggested. I closed with, "You'd probably have been happier to hear from a beautiful, young blonde. Sorry . . . I am a 52-year-old grandmother." Here is a part of the letter I received in return:

"No, I wouldn't have been happier to hear from a beautiful, young blonde. You see, my mother died when I was 2, so I never knew what it was to have a real mother, but your letter came about as close to one a mother would have written to her son. Even though I am only 19, I know that 'love' can be based on friendship, admiration and respect — as well as on romance. There is room in my heart for all kinds of love, so I hope you won't mind if I sign my letter with 'love' — the kind of love a son has for a mother he never knew. God bless you too.

(signed) A less Lonely GI"

Now, Abby, you know why I am a THRILLED GRANDMOTHER

The final meeting of this school year has taken place in most of the Girl Scout troops during the past week. Plans are being made for those attending Day Camp . . . June 5-9, first session; June 12-16, second session. The third session for Day Camp had been cancelled before registration. Established Camp . . . Session I, July 14-22; Session II, July 23-29.

Martha Foster, Troop 219, has the responsibility of raising and lowering the flag at the Girl Scout Little House on Memorial Day and Flag Day, June 14. Girl Scouts in all troops should remember to display their American flags on these dates.

Troop 219 recently held their Court of Award . . . presenting achievement badges and also receiving their Cadette cockades. This troop recently spent an outing at Lake McLellan . . . busy pitching tents, laying nature trails, and having campfire songs . . . plus those campfire meals. Hot dogs and toasted marshmallows; Cajun jambalaya, tossed salad, cake and pastiches, grilled hamburgers; French toast with maple syrup and hot chocolate Um-m-m-m, sounds delicious. Mrs. J. R. Brownie Troop 61 presented their leader, Mrs. J. D. Williams, with a cake baked and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Vinson Shaw. The troop was presented with their World Association pins during their final meeting. Their leader is now busy making plans of being unit leader during Day Camp.

The Pampa Roller Rink is to have special skating lessons during the summer, each Tuesday evening, enabling Scouts to earn their Skater Badge. Leaders may contact the manager of the rink for added information about the special rates for Scouts.

Cadette Troop 214 members is taking weekly swimming lessons with Connor Weeks, a Troop father, instructing the class. Another special service with individuals acting as troop consultants . . . and much appreciated by the girls.

The Brownie Holiday planned by Sunrise and Sunset Neighborhoods had to be cancelled because of the pesky Panhandle weather. Mrs. Orley Becker, director and Mrs. J. S. Silcott, business manager for the event, objected to disappointing over a hundred Brownies planning on the outing . . . but sloshing around in mud in the drizzle does not prove much fun. Much planning and work on the part of Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Silcott had already taken place also. Just can't predict the weather. . . even Scouters can't do that.

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is a suggestion for older people. My mother, 81, lives alone. When she is ready to take a bath she telephones one of my sisters and tells them. Then, when she is safely out of the tub she reports back again. In that way, they know she has not had a mishap. If the return call should not come in a reasonable length of time they would go to investigate. Often older people have accidents that are not discovered until far too late. If there are no nearby relatives to call, this person would surely have a neighbor who would gladly take these "bath calls." Of course, mother uses a nonskid bath mat but she could trip, become dizzy and fall. —MAISIE

Valuations Of Property Due In 3 Weeks

Pampa's real and personal property valuations for the city and school districts should be available within the next two or three weeks, City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones stated today.

The city and school tax boards of equalization held their final meeting in City Hall this forenoon to review protested assessments at the recent public hearing conducted jointly by the two boards.

The board members discussed a half dozen cases and placed their final valuation figures on the properties.

Notices will go to the taxpayers and the final total valuation figure will be arrived at for tax purposes in the 1967 tax year.

Pampa's 1966 property valuation was $46,963,300 and the city tax rate was $1.60 per $100 valuation, an increase of 13 cents over the previous year.

Attending today's meeting were R. M. Samples and L. L. Sone, representing the city, and Lee Fraser, Bill Tarpley and Elmer Fisher, members of the school tax equalization board.

City, County, Federal Offices To Close for Memorial Day

Memorial Day, the day Pampa and other American cities honor their war dead, will start here with dawn memorial services in Memory Gardens and Fairview Cemetery.

City, county and federal offices plan to close. Most Pampa businesses will close in agreement with the suggestion of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce's Retail Trade Committee.

Officials of two state offices, the State Welfare and the Railroad Commission, have said they would remain open, and other state offices are expected to remain open also.

The U. S. Post office will be closed, but will provide one collection time at 3 p.m. for collection boxes throughout the city. No mail will be delivered in the city, but mail will be distributed in post office boxes. Mail posted after 3 p.m. should be taken to the Post Office for out-of-town dispatch.

In the courthouse, Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford will close his office, but will be on duty, and Justice of the Peace Ed Anderson's office will remain open.

Courthouse annex offices in the offices east of Pampa will close.

Lovett Memorial Library will not be open, however, Pampa Municipal Pool and Marcus Sanders Memorial Pool will be open. Swimming pool hours are 1-9 p.m.

The Red Cross office in City Hall will not be open to the public, but in case of an emergency, contact Mrs. Libby Shotwell, Gray County Red Cross Chapter executive secretary. Her emergency number is MO 4-3814.

City police and fire departments will be on duty.

Mrs. Sandra Kay Brown, Pampa. CONGRATULATIONS: To Mr. and Mrs. Edward Graddy, 1321 E. Kingsmill, on the birth of a girl at 10:29 p.m., weighing 7 lbs 8 1/2 ozs.

BLAST RECORDED

UPSALA, Sweden (UPI)—The Soviet Union exploded a "medium force" Sunday, the Scismological Institute said today.

During the brief dawn ceremony, Pampans will place miniature flags on graves of veterans and II veterans.

Star Ventilated Brakes Sold At Buckingham Auto Service

When brakes heat up, stopping power goes down. According to Howard Buckingham, that is why your car needs new Star Ventilated Brakes for safe, sure stops. Brakes that stay cooler give top efficiency. Friction is what stops your car, and friction generates heat. The danger is that too much trapped heat can cause your brakes to fade when you need them most. That's why Buckingham Auto Service Center now features new Star Ventilated Brakes. They are designed to allow free circulation of air through and around brake linings, thus making them cooler for top efficiency. You get smoother, safer stops. Buckingham reminds us that your car is only as safe as the brakes. Therefore he suggests that you have them checked soon at Buckingham's Auto Service Center, 1800 N. Hobart, headquarters for Star Ventilated Brakes.

Buckingham's Auto Service Center also features Sinclair products and Goodyear Tires. They do minor tune-ups. They invite you to stop in and get acquainted with them soon. They honor all credit cards and if a customer has any major company credit card they can qualify for instant credit. They also have convenient budget plans for any purchase. Their phone number is MO 5-2201.

Pampan Achieves $1-Million Round Table Honor

Joe D. Cree, Southland Life Representative in Pampa, has attained membership in the 1967 Million Dollar Round Table, the life insurance industry's international organization of top salesmen. It was announced today by MDRT's headquarters in Chicago.

This is the fourth consecutive year Cree has been a member of the exclusive group. Round Table membership, each year it is attained, is considered an important career milestone.

To be a member, a person must have written one million dollars of new life insurance, paid for in 1966 in accordance with the strict rules of the organization. Less than two per cent of all life insurance agents qualify for the Round Table in any given year.

Round Table President, Frank E. Sullivan, C.L.U., South Bend, Ind., reports that the 1967 Million Dollar Round Table totals 5,925 members, including more than 1,000 certified applicants who are on probationary status for one year. They reside in more than 20 nations.

Army Grants Concessions To Reservists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has granted several concessions to protesting reservists in a callup starting next week and expected to bring approximately 31,000 training-delinquents into the armed forces by the end of November. Although the concessions were either slight or destined to affect only a small percentage of the civilian soldiers, they set precedents which presumably will be observed in the future.

One eliminated a plan to discharge from the reserves and turn over to the Selective Service System delinquents who already have had nine months or more of active duty in the military services.

In response to an inquiry pointing out that this would make a man subject to draft for 24 months, whereas under the callup he would be subject to only 15 months or less of active duty, the Army said Saturday: "No decision has been made to discharge such reservists. Less than three hundred constitute the group with nine months or more of active duty. Of these the vast majority gained their service as a result of the mobilization during the Berlin crisis of 1961."

Instead of being exposed to the draft, they will be retained in the ready reserve pool until suitable assignments (with drill-paid units) can be found for them," the Army said.

Other concessions: —Men whose six-year obligation expires on or before next Jan. 1 will escape the callup. They also will be retained in the ready reserve pool pending assignments.

Certain officer specialists in training units, who hold meetings or make other arrangements to retain their skills, will not be called up even though they do not receive drill pay in civilian life.

Original estimates were that the callup would affect 15,000 to 25,000 Army reservists, 3,500 to 4,000 in the Air Force, 2,000 in the Marines and only 100 in the Navy. The Pentagon said Saturday these still were the best estimates.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

T. Davis, Torre Rip Met Pitchers

By United Press International
Tommy Davis and Joe Torre are no laughing matter to National League pitchers, even if they are from Brooklyn. Their names stir up memories of Murder, Inc.

The two hard-hitting Brooklynites demonstrated the animosity they have for rival pitchers at Shea Stadium Sunday when they each collected six hits and drove in 11 runs between them as the New York Mets and Atlanta Braves split a doubleheader.

The 26-year-old Davis, who toils in the outfield for the Mets, drove in five runs with a perfect four-for-four showing in the first game to lead the Mets to a 6-3 victory, and the 26-year-old Torre, a catcher for Atlanta, drove in three runs in the nightcap with a three-for-three performance as the Braves won 7-3.

Bill Denehy, a 21-year-old righthander, benefited from Davis' hot bat to notch his first major league victory in the opener. Clete Boyer hit his fifth home run of the season for the Braves while Torre had two doubles in addition to his homer.

Southern Denny Lemaster went the distance for the Braves in the nightcap to notch his fifth victory in six decisions. He held the Mets to only five hits and struck out nine.

In other NL action, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-2, St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 8-3 and San Francisco beat Los Angeles 4-1. Houston at Chicago was postponed because of rain.

New York blanked Cleveland 5-0, California shut out Chicago 6-0, Boston beat Baltimore 4-3, Detroit topped Washington 3-1 and Minnesota defeated Kansas City 4-3 before losing 7-2 in American League games.

Plates Down Reds
Don Clendenon's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning scored Willie Stargell with the winning run and enabled Pittsburgh to beat the league leaders, Roberto Clemente drove in two runs for the Pirates with a single and his 10th home run while Pete Rose of the Reds extended his hitting streak through 23 games with a pair of hits.

Lou Brock had three hits and Roger Maris drove in two runs with a single and a triple as the Cards moved to within 1 1/2 games of first place.

Gaylord Perry, a 21-game winner last year who has been having some rough going this season, tossed a six-hitter as the Giants beat the Dodgers for the fifth time in six games this season.

UNDER TWO FLAGS

Indy Drivers to Get Last Briefing Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Auto drivers who will challenge fortune and each other in Tuesday's annual Memorial Day 500-mile race get their final warning of constant danger today.

All 33 pilots who will take off in the annual race against death for a major portion of the jackpot expected to reach $725,000 will get final instructions and cautions at the last prelude, the drivers' meeting.

This year's session will be merely repetition of what has gone before. All drivers attended a special session with race officials Friday at which they got a more morbid outlook on the dangers of the memorial Day chase.

Barber Wins First Title Since 1964

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (UPI)—Three feet for most people isn't very far, but for Texan Miller Barber a most important three feet was three years coming.

Barber, who hadn't won a major tour title since the Cajun Open in 1964, today was bubbling on top of the world as winner of the $68,000 Oklahoma City Open at Quail Creek Country Club.

Barber sank a three-foot putt on the third extra hole Sunday to defeat South African Gary Player in a sudden death playoff. Both had shot the 7,173 yard course in 10-under par 278s.

Senior Winner

AYR BELLEISLE, Scotland (UPI)—Ryder Cup player John Panton became the first Scot ever to win the Teacher Senior Golf Championship by firing a 73 Thursday to finish with a 262 five strokes ahead of Belgium's Florry Van Donck.

Panton, who shot a record 69 in Wednesday's third round, will now face United States senior champion Sam Snead for the World senior championship in Cheshire, England, July 9.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Mantle Only Four Homers Shy Of Reaching Mel Ott's Mark

DETROIT TIGERS — Mantle smashed his 11th homer of the year and his 507th career blast Sunday as New York defeated the Cleveland Indians 5-0. It was Mantle's fourth home run in the last week and his eighth since May 14.

Mantle, who is 35 years old and has been plagued by crippling leg injuries throughout his 16 seasons with the Yankees, is also in reach of Ted Williams, who belted 521 homers in his 22-year stay with the Boston Red Sox, and Jimmy Foxx, who had 534 during his 21 years in the majors.

Angels Score Shutout
In other American League action, California shut out Chicago 5-0, Detroit beat Washington 3-1, Boston edged Baltimore 4-3, and Minnesota and Kansas City split a doubleheader with the Twins taking the opener 4-3 and the A's winning the nightcap 7-2.

Mel Stottlemyre allowed just five hits while notching his third shutout of the year for the Yankees. He was given all the support he needed in the first when Horace Clarke singled, stole second, moved to third on Mantle's infield out and scored on a passed ball.

Mantle led off the sixth with his homer and Charley Smith added a two-run shot.
Fourth Win
Jim McGlothlin pitched his third shutout of the season and boosted his record to 4-1 with a brilliant six-hitter. The Angels scored their first run in the fourth when Don Mincher led off with a double, went to third on a wild pitch and came around on Al Weis' error.

The Tigers bunched four singles in the sixth inning for three runs and handed Washington starter Pete Richert his sixth defeat in nine decisions. Richert pitched perfect ball for 4 1/3 innings. Ray Oyler, Don Wert, Willie Horton and Jim Northrup combined for the winning hits.

Reggie Smith belted two doubles and a single, and Rico Petrocelli cracked his sixth home run of the season to enable Jim Lonborg to gain his sixth victory against one loss. Frank Robinson smashed his 13th homer of the year to give the Orioles a 2-1 lead in the first.

Bob Allison's two-run double in the seventh inning gave Dean Chance his eighth victory of the season in the first game of a came back to take the night cap doubleheader. Kansas City with a three-run explosion in the third and a four-run outburst in the eighth.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE
 The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Tax Spending For Publicity

Uncle Sam pays more to provide you with "public information," news, views and self-pleadings than he does for the combined expenses of his entire legislative and judicial branches.

On the surface, this appears to be good. It appears your government wants you to know what it is doing.

In another way, it can be equally as bad. For the natural proclivities of politicians and public relations men anywhere, any time, always is to present the favorable side.

But there's another, indirect result which must be guarded against at all costs. When a bureau employs a staff of public relations men to provide information to the voters, all staff members are under the direction of the bureau manager, who, himself, is under the thumb of a superior who receives orders from another superior who may or may not be directly subordinate to a member of the President's cabinet.

This echelon of command serves as a buffer between the citizen looking for information, and the man or agency from whom he must get it. It works two ways. First, to get to the source of news the citizen must surmount a mountain of bureaucratic delay and detail. Second, especially when the issue or question is one which doesn't reflect credit upon the bureau or the government, the echelon forms a mighty convenient fence to hide behind.

Just how extensive is this fence?

The federal government spends $425 million a year to employ a minimum of 6,858 employees engaged in this information effort. Recently one of the wire services issued an investigative report showing the military has the largest publicity network, with 3,000 employees and a budget of $32.3 million. This was followed by NASA, with 300 employees, $11.50 million; Congress, $9.9 million; Department of Agriculture, $8.9 million; Atomic Energy Commission, $6.1 million; and the Office of Economic Opportunity, $2.4 million.

Traceable spending by government agencies and Congress amounts to $98.4 million, and companies holding government contracts charge the government for public relations $200 million each year.

"Another huge, almost buried item," says the report "is the cost of governmental printing for informational or public relations purposes." Of the $500 million government printing bill the report said "it is estimated that one-fourth of this, or $125 million, fairly be charged to information and publicity."

When making inquiries pertinent to government plans for water programs affecting the San Joaquin Valley, or at a Federal experimental farm at Bethesda, Maryland, about its work on breeding turkeys, one of our sister papers ran into conditions which illustrate how the "fence" works.

First, at the Department of Agriculture, no matter what the question, the paper was handed a mimeographed statement. If that was not appropriate nor a direct answer, the response was: "We can't answer that." Any effort to get more than a mimeographed reply would require at least a full day's time and the assistance of a congressman or senator. As to the turkey experiments, questions were directed to a Dr. Olson who was conducting them. He refused to talk "until I have them published in a scientific magazine, and then you can get the information from that."

In other words, citizens seeking information are told what the public relations department wants them to know, insofar as the Department of Agriculture is concerned. This isn't true in all other departments. Nor is it always true with regularly assigned reporters who may be able to see government officials. But even then he doesn't know if he is being told the truth.

The fact is that Big Government voluntarily tells you only what it wants you to know. With a $425 million a year "buffer" between the voters and their federal officials there's still an inadequately informed citizenry.

'Super-Snoop' Questionnaire . . .

Apparently it's not just Big Brother government that is peering over your shoulder. Perhaps your doctor is unwittingly participating.

One of our readers has sent us a copy of a questionnaire his daughter received from an obstetrician.

"I am the mother of six children and five of them were delivered by the doctor who sent out this information form," she wrote us. "On this basis, I believe I am somewhat qualified to state that NEVER have such questions been asked of an expectant mother before! Some time during the past three years, this super-snoop form has come into being. . . ."

"Pray tell me just what connection there is in having a baby

AND THE PREVIOUS STATES YOU'VE LIVED IN, or PREVIOUS OCCUPATIONS? And never have I been asked information about my parents, or their health. Not to mention the other irrelevant questions."

Most of the questions dealt with personal health matters, which were quite relevant. However some of the family records may have little to do with the health of the prospective mother or baby. It would seem that the years the mother attended school, the list of ALL previous occupations and ALL states in which she has lived would not be of great importance.

Then the mother is asked to answer whether her sex is "entirely satisfactory," how many hours a day she watches television or reads, and how many weeks of vacation she takes each year.

Our reader comments: "This sheet states that the information given will NOT be released to any PERSON. It does not guarantee that the Health Department, World Health Organization, or any other group or research institution cannot have this information available to them.

"Big Brother is not 'watching.' He's getting downright nosy!"

She didn't tell us whether her daughter answered all of the questions. But we suspect if the questionnaire was filled out, it had some blanks in place of answers.

The last lesson a girl learns in growing into womanhood is that the only real way for her to please a man is by being as much herself as she can be, and not by trying to be what she thinks he expects of her.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Although we haven't seen a mention of it anywhere we're convinced this must be National Ladder Week. At any rate many New York merchants were doing their best to climb to new heights in sales promotion through the adroit use of ladders. One posh store window display posed mannequins on firemen's ladders to illustrate a slogan about setting the fashion world on fire. Another used unpainted stepladders in every window to display luggage. Still another smart shop used paint-spattered stepladders to hold men's neckties and men's toiletries. A swank women's apparel store used white ladders to display black and white fashions. A 5th Avenue store showed male mannequins on aluminum ladders holding carpentry tools and other do-it-yourself equipment. And, appropriately enough, a wallpaper store displayed a paperhanger's ladder and bucket of paste to show their wares. We hope the ladders made the sales climb.

Today's smile: A fellow who had just answered his draft call was being interviewed by an Army officer, who asked: "What were you in civilian life?" The draftee answered truthfully: "Happy."

Remember the classy Ford Phaetons of the early 1930's? Well, we saw something that resembles them the other day in a posh Madison Avenue sporting goods store. It's called "The Runabout and sells for about $5,000, which was enough to buy five or six Phaetons. Of course that was before the world changed and our money, too.

Thoughts while shaving: Does your wife save trading stamps? If not she's in the minority because a survey revealed 80 per cent of U.S. housewives do. The trading stamp industry has grown in recent years from a $10 million annual business into a colossal enterprise doing better than $1 billion a year. There were 300 trading stamp firms in 1963, but many have gone out of business and those remaining are dominated by the big four: S & H, Gold Bond, Blue Chip and Top Value. . . . A New York investment firm has come up with the startling fact that women's skirt lengths rise when the stock market is on the upswing and drop when stock prices tumble. Must be a lot of girl-watchers in that brokerage firm. . . . And someone else figured out through listening to recordings of song sparrows that this species uses 800 musical phrases in its songs. If some of today's Tin Pan Alley composers listened to those recordings they might swipe enough phrases to write something we could hear without being tempted to smash the hi-fi or radio. . . . Porterhouse steaks were first introduced in New York in the early 1800's when Martin Morrison, a restaurant owner, ordered a different cut one day. It became so popular his patrons demanded more of the same. Because his eating place was similar to London places that served porter and ale the patrons called it Porterhouse and the name stuck. . . . The San Francisco (Calif.) CHRONICLE reported in story: "She holds a Masher's degree from Cal." She probably earned it with all the mashes a co-ed must contend with.

Country Editor speaking: "The happy ending to most of the movies we've seen lately is the mere fact that they end."

Wit and Whimsy

An influential businessman lay dying. He summoned his best friend and asked him to promise to see that his mortal remains would be cremated. The friend agreed, but with cautious reverence asked:

Fred — What would you want me to do with the ashes?

Frank (the dying man) — Do with the ashes? Place them in an envelope and send them to the collector of internal revenue and tell him: "Now you have everything."

Romney-Reagan Ticket In '68 In Preparation With Nationwide State Network

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A Romney-Reagan ticket is actively in the making.

Close ties are in the process of being established between the Michigan and California governors and their political leaders. They confer frequently on strategy and plans, and exchange views and ideas.

Very much in the forefront of this significant budding backstage alliance is Leonard Hall, in charge of Romney's still-unannounced campaign for the 1968 presidential nomination. A veteran of such contests, Hall was Republican national chairman 1953-57, and managed Nixon's 1960 race.

From his headquarters in a suite of offices in downtown Washington, Hall is busily setting up a nationwide network of Romney state organizations. At present he is concentrating on the West and Middle West.

Considerable progress has been made in the latter. State managers have been designated in a number of Midwestern states, after carefully consulting GOP officials, state chairmen, national committeemen and other party leaders. The utmost caution is being exercised to avoid dissension.

Hall's master plan calls for vigorous Romney drives in key primaries throughout the country, starting with the first in New Hampshire on March 12.

The Michigan governor and Hall are fully aware this primary strategy involves serious risks. Illustrative is the New Hampshire situation, where Republicans are bitterly splintered in factions. As a consequence of this deep-seated intra-party feuding, no Romney state manager has yet been selected.

Romney and his campaign director are ready and willing to chance the primary gamble in the confident belief Romney has the surging physical energy, unshakable determination and burning zeal to win.

As evidence, they cite his successful electioneering in the past against heavy odds and under trying conditions. Also his victory last week in prevailing on the Michigan state senate, after repeating setbacks, to approve a personal and corporate income tax.

It is their contention that Romney is a winner; that he has the instinct and will to win against any odds.

Other crucial presidential primaries definitely on Romney's list are — Wisconsin, April 2; West Virginia and Nebraska, May 14; Oregon, May 28; District of Columbia, date still unannounced.

The decision to run in the D.C. primary is significant because its population is predominantly Negro. Romney is convinced his Mormon religion will not be a handicap.

POLITICALS — Nevada's Governor Paul Laxalt, who leans toward Nixon, is hinting he may become a favorite son candidate to block his state's delegation from Romney control. Nevada has a large Mormon population, strongly Republican inclined and overwhelmingly for the Michigan governor. . . . Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien is an original Kennedy man, but he and Vice President Humphrey have become close friends. They confer frequently on political and other matters.

Active leadership of the 1.8-million-member Teamsters union is quietly being taken over by a triumvirate of powerful regional chiefs — "Bobby" Holmes, Detroit; Harold Gibbons, St. Louis; Einar Mohr, San Francisco. Also taking a potent hand in this anti-Hoffa move are Murray (Dusty) Miller, southern leader, and Joe Trotola, N. Y. . . . William Vanden Heuvel, New York attorney and close partisan of Senator Robert Kennedy, is his principal liaison with militant civil rights activists. Vanden Heuvel has been a leading fund raiser for Dr. Martin Luther King. . . . Representative Albert Quie, Minn. sponsor of the GOP plan to revise the allocation of school aid funds, is of Norwegian descent and not Chinese. He laughingly explains that his name means "pregnant heifer" in Norwegian. Quie was born and raised on a Minnesota farm and still operates a 240-acre dairy farm. During World War II Quie, now 43, was a Navy fighter pilot.

EMBARRASSING SECRET — The Johnson Administration is still refusing to tell members of Congress how many hundreds of millions of dollars have been dished out to foreign countries in the guise of so-called development loans despite an express limitation on the number of such grants.

Representative Vernon Thomson, R-Wis., member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, after persistent inquiring has finally beneficiaries — 19 more than obtained a list of the 29 foreign countries in last year's foreign aid act.

But the amounts given these countries have been withheld as "classified information."

That's the device usually used by officials to prevent the disclosure of embarrassing facts. In this instance it runs into hundreds of millions of dollars, as the total for development lending in the current foreign aid act is some $618 million.

Section 201(b) of this law specifically states: "Funds made available. . . shall not be used to make loans in more than 10 countries. . . except that such loans may be made in additional countries after at least 30 days shall have elapsed following the submission by the President to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of a report stating that the making of loans in such additional countries is in the national interest and giving his reasons therefor."

The firm Congress learned that

19 additional countries had gotten millions in handouts was in January, when the President notified the lawmakers that this had already been done. Not only did he disregard the requirement 30-day advance notice, but he lumped all 19 additional grants in one declaration.

Representative Thomson, in an effort to get at the bottom of this extraordinary flouting of Congress, demanded a detailed accounting. After being stalled for months, the former Wisconsin governor finally obtained a list of the 19 additional beneficiary countries.

But the crucial information on how many millions each got is declared secret. Thomson said he could see the figures, but in no way publish or discuss them.

Reason given for this secrecy was that disclosure would "cause difficulties between the U. S. and the beneficiaries because some got more than others." Most of the countries are newly-independent African nations.

The full list is as follows: Afghanistan; Cameroon; Ceylon; Chad; Congo (Kinshasa); Dahomey; Ethiopia; Ghana; India; Israel; Jordan; Kenya; Korea; Liberia; Malagasy Republic; Mali; Morocco; Nigeria; Pakistan; Philippines; Rwanda; Sierra Leone; Somalia Republic; Sudan; Tanzania; Thailand; Tunisia; Turkey; Uganda.

President Johnson's new $3.1 billion foreign aid budget is now pending before the Foreign Affairs Committee. The outlook is for the authorization measure to be sharply cut.

PREDICTIONS — The Central Intelligence Agency will be extensively reorganized and given a new name. Plans for this are in process of being drafted. . . . Under a strong recommendation made by the Interior Department, Russia will be excluded from bidding on three giant electric generating units for Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia River. The Soviet put out feelers on that, but will be barred from trying for this contract. . . . John McNaughton, assistant defense secretary for international security affairs, will succeed Deputy Secretary Cyrus Vance when he quits because of poor health. . . . A conference of foreign ministers of the Western hemisphere will soon be held to consider measures to implement the economic and diplomatic boycott of Communist-ruled Cuba. There is strong likelihood that recourse to armed force will be approved to counter Castro's persistent subversive operations. . . . Despite the reluctance of several members of the Senate Ethics Committee, it will undertake an investigation of the charges that Senator Edward Long, D-Mo., received $48,000 in "legal fees" from an attorney representing convicted Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa. The committee will look into the case on the grounds of conflict of interest.

NO CHANGE

LANSING (UPI)—The state of Michigan will have to continue celebrating its holidays at the same time as the rest of the nation—for the time being, anyway.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Careful Spraying Can Rid House, Dog of Fleas
 Q—Fleas have gotten into my house. Our dog sleeps in the cellar and plays with the children but is never allowed in the rest of the house. Could the fleas come from the dog or would they more likely be from some other source? How can we get rid of them?
 A—The dog's fleas may be brought into the house by the children or they may migrate from the cellar. You should spray the baseboards and walls of your house to a height of 12 to 14 inches with an insecticide spray that contains DDT, and dust the dog with a 10 per cent DDT powder or other readily available flea-killer. For further protection, you might lightly dust the legs and lower third of the thighs of members of your household.

Q—Can a person be immunized against bee stings? Every time I'm stung I get a severe reaction.
 A—A combined insect antigen is available for desensitization to the venom of bees, wasps and hornets. Anyone who is in danger of being stung by these insects should take the desensitizing injections in the spring. Such persons should also carry a special first-aid kit when traveling outdoors in the summer.

Q—In a recent column you said a peptic ulcer should heal in three weeks. I have had an ulcer for two years and it has not healed. How do you explain this?
 A—For an ulcer to heal, it is essential to keep the stomach juices away from it. This means reducing the volume, acidity and pepsin content of the juice through the use of diet, antacids, sedatives and drugs that block certain parasympathetic nerves.

Because protein foods combine with the stomach acids, some doctors have their ulcer patients drink milk or take gelatin every two hours throughout the day. Highly spiced or fried foods, pork products and raw fruits and vegetables are avoided because they stimulate the flow of gastric juice. I must emphasize, however, that no treatment will succeed unless the underlying nervous or emotional factors that caused the ulcer in the first place are eliminated.

Q—I wear sunglasses the year around. My mother says this is bad for my eyes. What do you think?
 A—Sunglasses may be worn the year-round but should not be worn indoors or for reading. When driving a car, they should not be worn at dusk or when it is overcast because they reduce your ability to see details clearly.

THE ANATOMY OF A RIOT

When I was a young man the idea of a demonstration at an educational institution was unheard of in this country. Those of my generation used to look disdainfully abroad where demonstrations, strikes, riots and other unruly events not infrequently marked a campus. Smugly we said, "It can't happen here. Those foreigners are behind the times. They don't know how to solve their problems except by violent methods. If only they understood the benefits of our wonderful government."

Well, the complacency and self-assurance has been driven away. Today there is hardly a state in the union that has not had or isn't bracing for some kind of riot, insubordination, mass demonstration, property damage, strike, or some other instance of dissatisfaction with the times. And many of these will occur and have already occurred at colleges and universities.

What is the anatomy of a riot? At its core there must be a belief in freedom. Strange as it may seem, the people who man the demonstration lines, carry the signs, shout their protests, and otherwise attract attention to themselves are, in their own way, seeking to support the idea of human liberty. Every protestor is objecting to some incursion against his freedom, as he sees it. The worst of it is that he may be right. Of course, in some instances a demonstration is for the purpose of inflicting harm. Nonetheless, in the eyes of those conducting the affair, they are justified in harm-seeking because of prior incursions against them. They are in a retaliatory mood and vengeance is their aim.

But ask any of them and they will tell you they are for freedom. Communists are for freedom. Anti-Communists are for freedom. Democrats are for freedom. Republicans are for freedom. Conservatives are for freedom. The beats, the hippies, and the motorcycle-riding LSD-using juveniles are for freedom.

Apparently we have a love of freedom in common. It may be the only thing we have in common, but we do have that. Then why the massive disagreement when we really are in agreement as to what we want?

The single problem here seems to be that each of us and each of the groups protesting in support of freedom, wishes to obtain a particular branch of freedom and doesn't object to forcing something on others in order to get what each wants. It's an ancient fallacy that freedom for some must be built on the controls to be inflicted on others. It isn't the search for freedom that gets us into difficulties, it's the controls we seek to impose on those who disagree with us, so that we can be free.

The curious result of all this pro-freedom rioting and demonstrating is that there will be less freedom generally as a result of these efforts. You don't gain freedom by rioting. You may gain power. You may be able to impose controls on others who, as the pendulum swings, will in due course riot against you. But gaining power is to enslave yourself to the uses of power. And putting controls on others requires that you stay at the controls, as constrained as those on whom the controls are placed.

Wars, political procedures, and riots — all of the same genre — breed non-freedom. Almost always the justification for war and political procedures and rioting is freedom. Almost without exception, freedom is lost totally or partially by these methods.

It might be important before any further riots are staged, to take the time to analyze the nature of freedom, so that in the enthusiasm of support the whole area of liberty isn't curtailed.

PRESTIGE OF ELECTORS

Under the Congressional District Plan for reform of the Electoral College system, the prestige of men and women chosen as Electors would be greatly increased. Major political parties would necessarily nominate the best available candidates, who could give one or two days every four years to cast their votes for President of the United States.

Four-fifths of these Electors would serve the voters of districts averaging about 400,000 population. The qualifications and attributes of the candidate for Elector would be quite well known to the voters of his district. In the case of Electors from the state at large, they would be as well known as candidates for governor and other state offices.

The high caliber of candidates for Elector would make them useful in a number of capacities during the campaign. Certainly they would contribute to the reputation of their party and its precepts and principles. They also would add to the acceptability of every party candidate for offices from constable to President.

Their standing would lend added prestige to all members of their party serving in office or who had previously served. Conversely, party members in office would feel a responsibility to the candidates for presidential Elector chosen in a truly democratic way and in turn responsible for the continuation of our Republic as a form of government.

The present system makes mere straw men of Electors. Their names are omitted from the ballot in many states. But with the District Plan in effect they could make a continuing contribution of great value to the nation.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR MONDAY, MAY 29

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The Monday has a considerable amount of confusion and you would be wise to sidestep any kind of problem that means money or emotional matters that seem to be too and too heavy. However, the later afternoon and evening are splendid for business and general prosperity and popularity. Expand.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Try not to shift and any responsibilities you may have during the day and you will have excellent conditions arising for you. Find some new system that gives your friends a chance to co-operate with you more. Be busy.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — A partner does not comprehend your motives and kin are not very helpful until a higher-up does some tall evasions. A good friend comes to your defense without hesitation. Then all works to your advantage.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Forget those dull drudgeries and concentrate on values or interests bring you greater profit and pleasure. Use your cleverness to impress a new acquaintance. He, or she, can be of invaluable help to you in the future.

SCORPIO CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Buy some thoughtful gift for one you like instead of squandering your money in fish pleasure. Bring delight. Making sure that you handle all responsibilities wisely is important, also.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Those at home can give you a good deal of trouble, but acquiesce to their demands. In the evening associates make everything more pleasant for you. Understand better what partners aims are. Then you coordinate efforts more intelligently.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — You have pleasant work before you, so stop dashing out to pieces that are unimportant. Evening is then a fine time for accepting some fascinating social invitation. Dress in excellent fashion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — You can have an excellent time today but if it is necessary to be so extravagant find that ideal place where you can best express yourself and have happiness. Be a bit silly if you like, should you be a lady, it adds to the fun.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Listen to what kin has to suggest and follow lead, since you are not apt to be so good. Since it increases their happiness and security and don't be concerned about the social as this could be very disappointing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Stop fretting about the unavoidable and carry through with obligations in the business world if that is where your career lies. Don't start that long in the path of your own red skirt around it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You have some ideas you are very sure of but it is not feasible to use them at this time. Get into monetary matters instead for long benefits. Begin the week properly by better budgeting.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Dwell on personal matters and recreation most by today, since business matters could be very disappointing. Stop fretting so because you are not getting the public recognition you desire. This is not the right time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Find the ideal method that will gain you the favor of one you like, but later do not jump into some ill-considered plan that could be very hazardous. Be more satisfied with present arrangements.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... If he or she will be one of the truly generous people in the world, which is excellent. But you must teach early to be most careful in dealing with higher-ups, government officials, et al. and with friends in similar circles. Don't be afraid to give your progeny a chance to tackle hard problems. This is a challenge.
