McNamara Wants To See Better Troop Use

Border Battle Rages In Vietnam's Jungled Hills

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. infantrymen today caught up with Communist forces in Central Highland jungles where two American units suffered bitter losses in previous encounters. Military spokesmen reported heavy fighting.

They said one U.S. Army 4th Infantry Division unit was under fire from three directions in the fighting near the Cambodian border.

American generals poured in reinforcements by helicopters and pounded the Communist positions in the rolling, heavily jungled hills 225 miles northeast of Saigon with artillery and air strikes.

On a sweep through the jungles the American soldiers locked in combat with the Communists near the spot where 90 U.S. troops were killed in a fight June 22, and 26 more perished in a battle Monday.

Two elite North Vietnamese divisions were reported operating in the area, sending bands of raiders out of Cambodian sanctuaries on hit and run strikes.

The fight today opened at 8:30 a.m. As darkness approached the battle raged on.

In more ground action Vietnamese government troops reported killing 54 Viet Cong in a series of Mekong Delta fights. In the same area U.S. Army artillerymen, tipped off by Vietnamese intelligence, shelled a guerrilla stronghold and killed 50 Viet Cong.

On the North-South Vietnam border U.S. Marine jets Tuesday night pounced on the big guns the Communists recently moved up to pound Leatherneck frontier posts.

The new Communist artillery can hurl shells 17 miles and has been taking an increasing toll of Marines.

Near Saigon today the Viet Cong, frustrated in attempts to win a propaganda victory during U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's Vietnam visit, mortared civilian houses in the provincial capital of An Loc. They wounded six Vietnamese.

An Loc lies just five miles from the government fort where 200 Vietnamese troops led by four Americans Tuesday fought off human wave assaults by 1,000 North Vietnamese elite troops, killing 140 and capturing 9. The government troops suffered 18 dead and 46 wounded.

Just south of Saigon U.S. Army 9th Infantry Division troops killed 20 Viet Cong in a series of fights in the Delta. They suffered one man killed and 24 wounded.

U.S. pilots raiding North Vietnam Tuesday reported swarms of Communist MIG interceptors buzzed near. Not a single Communist pilot offered battle.

The American bombers sped on, for the third day in a row pounding North Vietnam's precious oil reserves. Spokesmen said U.S. jets from Navy carriers blasted the Tram Bang oil depot 60 miles southwest of Vinh in the North Vietnamese panhandle.

Navy pilots also hit anti-aircraft sites near Haiphong and struck railroads, bridges and roads.

RFK Blasts Progress Of Poverty Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Accusing President Johnson of conducting a platoon-size war on poverty, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today proposed enlisting the "great armies" of U.S. private enterprise in the battle.

In a major speech to the Senate, the New York Democrat urged that U.S. business be offered tax breaks to build job-creating industries in decaying urban areas.

He termed the current administration assault on hard-core ghetto problems "ineffective, inefficient and degrading." "More dangerously, we have created for the poor a separate economy, almost a separate nation; a second-rate system of welfare handouts, a screen of government agencies keeping the poor apart from the rest of us."

Cut Welfare Outlay
In its place, Kennedy offered a "new partnership," a solution that he said would cost the government nothing, but would instead provide additional tax revenues and a reduction in welfare costs, now close to $500 million a year in only five major U.S. cities.

Johnson Receives Viet Report Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara today gave President Johnson a battlefield report on the Viet Nam War, and how many more troops, bombs and missiles are needed to win it.

McNamara made clear on his return from Saigon Tuesday night that he wanted to see better combat use made of the 466,000 Americans already there.

But he would not say whether he would recommend granting any part of the 100,000 to 200,000 men U.S. Commanders are asking in reinforcements.

Informed circles in Saigon, however, indicated the defense chief would ask Johnson to raise the current 47,000 authorized U.S. troop ceiling by 70,000 men.

He said in Saigon that "our policy was, is today and I'm sure will be for the future — to provide the troops our commanders think are necessary."

McNamara was lunching with Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Presidential Assistant Walt W. Rostow and Press Secretary George Christian at noon.

McNamara reiterated on returning from his ninth Vietnam inspection that there were "large opportunities for increasing the effectiveness of existing forces" in Vietnam.

As he did earlier in Saigon, McNamara explained to newsmen that this could be achieved by "reducing the ratio of support to combat troops" in the war zone. Only 60,000 men of the vast U.S. Vietnam contingent are directly fighting the Communists.

No let up in the bombing of North Vietnam was expected to be recommended to the President by McNamara, who declared in Saigon "the bombing operations over North Vietnam are achieving their objective."

Reuther Presents UAW Demands To Chrysler Corp.

DETROIT (UPI)—Profit sharing looked more and more like a priority demand today as the United Auto Workers union presented its contract proposals to Chrysler Corp.

Although UAW President Walter P. Reuther declined to specify any order of priority in several of the top demands, including a big pay raise and a guaranteed annual income, profit sharing dominated discussion of the contract bargaining outside, if not inside, the conference rooms.

Today, Reuther and the UAW Vice President of the Chrysler Department, Douglas Fraser, met with Chrysler's negotiators, headed by John D. Leary, vice president - administration, and William M. O'Brien, vice president-personnel, to outline the longest and most expensive — more than $1 billion — list of union proposals in auto industry history.

Expands On Goal
Reuther first advanced profit sharing as a goal in this year's bargaining for a three-year contract when he went to General Motors Monday. He expanded on it at his meeting with Ford officials Tuesday. He had mentioned it earlier during the April special bargaining convention of his union. But, at that time, he indicated it was "down the road."

He has now laid it on the negotiating table as a principle objective.

At Ford Tuesday, Reuther said the company had increased its net worth by five times in less than 20 years, growing from a $700 million corporation in 1949 to one of $5 billion in 1966. This, he said, had been accomplished with 99.3 per cent of the financing out of profits and only 0.7 per cent from new capital.

Israel, Egypt Duel in Sea

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
Egyptian and Israeli tanks, mortars and artillery duelled across the Suez Canal today in a series of major truce violations. Tuesday night Israeli fleet units sank two Egyptian motor torpedo boats in the Mediterranean off the Sinai coast.

The naval engagement occurred 75 miles from Port Said where eight Soviet ships including guided missile carriers are paying a goodwill visit to the United Arab Republic. A Russian admiral has pledged they will be used to repel "aggression" but they were not involved Tuesday night.

The first shelling across the canal was reported by Cairo Radio which said Israeli troops opened mortar fire from the east side of the canal on Egyptian positions south of Ismailia, a city midway down the 103-mile-long canal. A communique said the Egyptians returned the fire and destroyed 10 enemy vehicles.

The Israeli version of the incident given by a government spokesman in Jerusalem said Egyptian artillery opened fire on two Israel jeeps on the east bank, wounding one Israeli. It

Russians Replace Egyptian Losses
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Russians have replaced about half the planes and one-quarter of the tanks lost by Egypt in its recent war with Israel, U.S. officials said today.

The State Department, viewing the Soviet shipments "with increasing concern," appealed anew for Moscow's cooperation in halting another Mideastern Arms race.

The Johnson administration was silent on what it would do about resuming its own arms shipments to the Mideast. But it was clear that it would not—as urged Tuesday by Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md.—supply Israel with enough new armaments to match Soviet arms being airlifted to the Arab states.

Although the United States has no firm figure on the size of the Soviet commitment, it has received some authoritative reports on shipments so far.

These have included 30 new MIG21 delta-wing fighters, 10 directly from the Soviet Union and 20 from Algeria. Egypt lost 100 of its 163 MIG21s in the war.

Replacements for at least 52 MIGs of earlier models also are reported to have been received by Egypt.

There were indications that President Johnson would press his bid for getting the United Nations to make an early report on arms shipments to the area.

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said Tuesday, "It seems clear to us that the great powers should be working for limitation of arms in the Near East and not a resumption of the old race."

Hostages In Congo Must Make Choice

KINSHASA, The Congo (UPI)—A band of rebel-held white hostages including women and children today faced a reported choice of fighting for their captors or being killed.

The government's Radio Kinshasa said Tuesday rebel mercenaries forced arms on a group of hostages they are holding at Kisangani airfield. The broadcast said some were refused were killed.

According to the radio, the hostages were being forced to bear arms today as government forces continued to close in on the rebels.

Concern for the hostages prompted Congo President Joseph D. Mobutu to hold up an attack on the airfield by the Congo army. The airfield was the last stronghold of mercenaries who staged uprisings in the eastern Congo towns of Kisangani, Bukavu and Kindu a week ago.

But Mobutu warned he could not hold up an attack indefinitely.

The International Red Cross today studied a plan to fly a plane into Kisangani to rescue the hostages. The Belgian government asked the Red Cross to fly a mercy mission into the airfield Tuesday after a similar plan involving a U.S. Air Force plane was called off.

Mobutu asked U.S. Ambassador Robert H. McBride for permission to send in one of the three C-130s that Washington lent Mobutu. But McBride denied the request because the mercenaries refused to guarantee the safety of the plane and its American crew.

British Slap Curfew On Shaky Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI)—An explosion ripped apart a rural administrative office in an outlying area of mainland Hong Kong tonight shortly before the government imposed another curfew on the island in an effort to end five days of Communist violence.

The explosion did extensive damage to the Tai Po headquarters but the building was empty at the time and no injuries were reported. Tai Po is in the new territories near the border of Red China. The new territories are leased from China.

Further south in Kowloon where no curfew was in effect demonstrators burned three buses and a taxi and set fire to piles of trash in the street. The Communist-led transportation workers who have been trying to cripple the colony's transportation carried banners declaring "it is legal to demonstrate."

A curfew was clamped on Hong Kong Island at 8 p.m. for the second night after armed police fired tear gas and broke up a mob of hundreds.

Riot police moved in with drawn guns after the mob threatened a police team yanking down Communist banners from a trolley terminal in the colony's troubled north point district. The mob fled when police opened up with tear gas.

Authorities moved to head off further violence by imposing a curfew on half of Hong Kong island for the second night in a row. The auxiliary police force was also mobilized.

Shipbuilding Strikers Stage Morning Riot

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (UPI)—A howling crowd of nearly 3,000 persons rioted early today at the strike-bound Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., hurling rocks, burning automobiles and injuring at least 15 persons.

Gunshots rang out, private automobiles carrying non-strikers were stoned and one policeman, trapped by an angry mob, drew his pistol and fired over his head to escape to safety.

Another policeman reported his patrol car was hit by sniper fire.

The violence erupted along a three-and-a-half block area near an entrance to the shipyard, the world's largest private shipbuilding company, at the midnight change of shifts. The violence apparently was touched off by reports that plant supervisors were sneaking strike breakers into the yards by automobiles.

"Dirty scabs," a crowd gathered near the yard gates yelled as private automobiles went inside the yard and suddenly the riot was sparked.

"Turn it over, turn it over," the crowd chanted after trapping a police patrol car.

The car was flipped and some one set it afire.

Six of the 15 persons treated at Riverside Hospital were policemen, one admitted with a fractured elbow. Two others were non-strikers caught as they attempted to enter the yard.

FRIENDLY START to auto industry contract negotiations matches Walter Reuther, left, United Auto Workers president, and Louis G. Seaton, General Motors personnel vice president, at the bargaining table in Detroit. Contracts expire in September.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is an older woman in our town who is a real weird character. She lives alone on some sort of pension. (They say her husband ran off and left her years ago.) She loves to get all dressed up and go where people are.

Well, she must think her church membership entitles her to attend all the social functions that take place in the social hall of her church, because she never misses one. The fact that she's not invited doesn't seem to bother her.

She goes to all the teas, receptions, and parties where refreshments are served, mingles with the guests, helps herself to everything, and has a very good time.

Isn't it the minister's place to tell her she should stay away? He sees her at all the gatherings and surely knows she has not been invited.

Why do young mothers think that since we have raised our family and now have some leisure time that we have NOTHING to do — so they give us the grandchildren to raise while they go out and work to keep up with the Joneses, or to get away from the children.

Please tell them that we did OUR job — now it's time for them to do theirs.

GRANDMA W. DEAR GRANDMA: A general "statement" won't accomplish anything. If YOU know of such a "young mother," I suggest that YOU tell her.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell the man who had plastic surgery on his nose to be sure to tell his fiancée about it before he marries her. And for sure before they have a child.

The reason: When I came home from World War II and saw my baby for the first time, I nearly fainted. What a nose! Then Korea, another baby, and another nose like you wouldn't believe. (I had been home the proper length of time both times.)

DEAR ABBY: I've always been a big fan of yours, but now I'm a bigger fan than ever, and here's why:

While out at Arlington race track the other day I came across a horse named GABBY ABBY, so I had a hunch and bet a bunch. The horse came in and paid over $55.

I hope you won't take offense. CHAS. FROM ELMHURST DEAR CHAS.: I've been told that I have "horse sense" (that is the kind one finds in a STABLE mind). And horse sense is what keeps horses from betting on people.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to speak for grandmothers who

Short Skirts Taboo

By BETTY CANARY Newspaper Enterprise Assn. The straight-backed chair posture went out when the mini came in and I think a brand new medical problem is coming up as a direct result of this.

I wonder if the medical profession is aware of it. The thing is, I am afraid women are going to get premature dowager's humps caused by bending over constantly to grab their hems when they are seated.

I want to say right here that I am not anti-mini. I think a few of the teen-agers I have seen wearing them look darling. The key word is "few". American women used to be considered the gals with the gorgeous gams and just look at our girls. Very few contenders for the Miss Prettylegs title.

I don't know why this is, but if you take a look around at the swimming pool you will find the pretty legs belong to the mothers. The daughters all seem to either have stems a la Twiggy or great, fat, round, elephant legs. The word "limb" belongs to the mothers. Twig or trunk fits the young ones.

I think they should take a tip from the songmakers. After all, the message is watching the girls go BY. Nobody seems to want to go after them.

I don't know where all the funny legs are coming from but I do know the new fashions in shoes and stockings don't help things. White stockings, like white anything, makes one look bigger. And, the sagging knees and ankles of tight (necessary if wearing minis) add nothing to the contour of the calf. Then, there is fishnet hosiery. Fishnet is very big this year. I am convinced this is the result of a designer's dilemma. There he was, see, with nothing left in the loft except an old mesh onion bag and voila!

As far as shoes go (and they have gone pretty far) I hate to complain about them. I have been so happy about having the opportunity to buy shoes I can wear without filing my feet to a point that I really hate to mention the new ones now in the stores bear a delicate look faintly reminiscent of Frankenstein's boots.

We can all wear sandals during the summer, though, and if you want to leave off stockings there are all sorts of new leg make-up in striking shades of bright green, purple and blue.

I don't think this is quite as effective with a simple little shift as it is if you go all the way. You have to wear a plastic mini and one of the new tops with electric lights flashing. A necessary accessory is a battery pack snugly hitched onto one hip by an adjustable chain belt. With this costume you need LSD? Baby, you're a walking freakout.

The Mature Parent

Minister's Counsel Needed To Reunite Father-Daughter

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My girl's baby boy was born five months after her marriage. Her father is foreign-born and very religious. Because she had relations with her husband before he married her, her father has forbidden me, her younger sister and brother to ever see her again or even mention her name. But her baby is innocent of her sin, isn't he? I love my daughter and want so much to see her baby. My sister says I should visit her secretly.

ANSWER: And if her father discovered that you were making these secret visits? The man is already struggling with the most painful feelings of humiliation and betrayal by his child. Were he to discover that you, too, had betrayed him by sneaking visits to this child, your hope of reconciling these two people you love would go down the drain.

What's happy about this situation is your husband's religiousness. Religious as he is, he knows a priest or minister whom he trusts. He's the person for you to go to. He's the religious authority who can not only mention your daughter's name to her father but also remind him that she has done all she possibly can to rectify her mistake and restore his pride in her. It's your husband's priest or minister who is needed to give power to this appeal for mercy. You can't do it.

This doesn't mean that I'm not sympathetic with your desire to see your child. I am. On the other hand, she has her husband and baby, hasn't she? But her father has only you. And though we both know how much she wants reunion with her family, the fact remains that she did make a sexual decision that risked rejection by her father. She must have known that. O. K. Now the consequences must be lived through in patience and some understanding of the hurt she has caused him. This is a truth which your sister might put to her instead of suggesting that you risk hurting him more.

I'm all for loyalty to children. But when they marry and acquire new priority loyalties of their own, I think we have to be careful about going off like skyrockets into undisciplined maternalism. If we don't remember we owe some loyalty to the man who helped us beget the children, we may find ourselves ending up with no family but the ones which belong to the children.

Miss Wainscott Explains Fabric

There is a growing interest in using tricot fabric for children's wear, according to Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County home demonstration agent.

Formerly used in sleepwear and underwear, the potential of tricot is now being more fully exploited in outerwear.

"There are many reasons why designers consider tricot a natural for children's clothes. The fabric is a warp knot made from fine filament and textured yarns — nylon, triacetate, polyester, or spandex. It has great affinity for colors and prints. Tricot has excellent wash-and-wear properties, controllable stability, is lightweight, runproof, and drapes well," she said. The relative looseness of fabric construction and yarn mobility, as well as fabric elasticity, results in wear resistance substantially better than a similar weight of woven fabric, Miss Wainscott said.

After shampooing hair, try a capful of fabric softener in a cup of water and use as a hair rinse. It makes hair softer and easier to comb.

Two Pampa students, Judy Stephens and Andy Wilks, are attending the Midwestern Music and Art Camp at the University of Kansas in Lawrence.

Nine guest conductors including Skitch Henderson former television musician, and Col. Vivian F. Dunn, director of the Royal Marines Band in England, will work with the students.

The camp offers six weeks of intensive professional training for high school students considered talented by camp directors.

Miss Wilks, who will be a junior at Pampa Senior High School, plays clarinet in the concert band at camp.

Wilks will be a freshman at Texas State University, and plays in the concert band and concert orchestra.

School Board To Discuss New Salaries

Pampa Independent School District board of trustees will meet at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow to discuss approval of the revised salary schedule for Pampa teachers. The revised schedule would incorporate the recently revised state minimum salary schedule.

The tentative budget, tentative tax rate and approval of a date for the official budget hearing will also be discussed during the regular meeting in the conference room at Pampa Junior High School.

Approval of school attendance zones for 1967-68 is included on the agenda. A regional media center to be set up as a program of Panhandle Educational Services Organization (PESO) will be considered.

Trustees also will plan a called board meeting to discuss the proposed building program with representatives of the architectural firm of Brasher, Goyette and Rapier.

Cooling Air Is Predicted

Cooler temperatures and scattered afternoon thundershowers were the prediction today from the Amarillo Weather Bureau.

Although there was no precipitation in Pampa Tuesday, Pampa police received a call from an unidentified motorist shortly before 11 p.m. Tuesday that a tornado had touched down three and one-half miles south of Pampa.

The report was never confirmed but dark clouds were visible to the south and west of Pampa about the time the report came in.

Thunderstorms left rain from Eastern New Mexico across a 50-mile-wide belt of the northern Texas Panhandle today. More rain and cooling Canadian air was expected before nightfall.

The showers kept the mercury in the low 60s in parts of the Panhandle, compared with early morning temperatures that were almost 25 degrees higher at the other end of the state along the Rio Grande and along the Gulf Coast.

A new mass of cool air was expected to ease the heat in the Panhandle by evening and over parts of North Central and Northeast Texas by Thursday.

Shortly after the incident, the Cairo newspaper Al Gomkouria said Egypt may invite the Soviet warships to extend their visit, originally scheduled to last one week.

Broken Oil Pipe Sprays Car, Trees

A broken oil well pipe at 324 Baer sprayed a fine mist of crude oil over a two block area this morning.

A spokesman for the Phillips Petroleum Co., which pumps the well, reported the line which connects several wells in the area had become blocked and this caused a build-up of pressure in the line. He said that other wells connected to the line also had leaks.

Walter E. Leith, 324 Baer, who owns the land on which the pipe broke it sprayed a 25-foot-high crude oil geyser.

Winds out of the north carried the oil for about two blocks. Grass and trees in the area and a white car owned by Emmett Teakell of 315 N. Baer, were covered with a light coat of the oil.

Sanford-Yake Boat Ramp To Be Closed During Ski Event

LAKE MEREDITH — The boat launching ramp at Sanford-Yake will be closed to the public Friday, Saturday and Sunday this weekend, according to Michael J. Becker, superintendent of the Sanford Recreation Area.

The action was necessitated by the "Rick Shaw Ski Tournament" to be held on those dates, sponsored by the Panhandle Boat and Ski Club and Berger Boat and Ski Club. The 3-day event is the official regional tournament of the American Water Ski Association.

The floating facilities at Fortress Cove Marina will be available for use and will not be affected by the closure.

The Sanford-Yake parking area will be available for parking, and the Vista Point will provide the best viewing of the events, Becker stated.

National Park Service officials suggested today that persons wishing to launch boats this weekend concentrate their efforts at Cedar Canyon, Fritch-Fortress and Blue West.

Death Becomes Personal To Westmoreland

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—Death is of necessity an impersonal factor to a combat leader. But it was a very personal thing today to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

He came home from a far-off war Tuesday to bid a last farewell to "Mom," gentle, 81-year-old Mrs. James R. Westmoreland, who was immensely proud of her son's military success but considered him as "still my little boy."

Mrs. Westmoreland died suddenly Sunday morning while her son was touring Vietnam combat areas with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

Westmoreland flew home aboard a four-engine jet, picking up his wife and two of their children in Hawaii. He also picked up in Hawaii a young soldier trying to reach his own mother's funeral at Mullins, S.C.

"We suffered the same fate," Westmoreland explained. Mrs. Westmoreland, South Carolina's honorary mother of the year for 1967, died quickly, apparently without pain.

Charges Dropped Against Famed Ballet Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—No charges will be filed against Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev, whose pas de deux through San Francisco's hippie district ended with their rooftop arrests at a wild party. The world-acclaimed stars of England's Royal Ballet spent four hours in custody Tuesday while being booked for disorderly conduct and being in a place where marijuana was kept.

But the district attorney's office finally announced that no complaints would be filed against them or the 16 others arrested at the swinging soiree. Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick J. Whisman said that there was not enough evidence to indicate who had possession of the illegal drug or who was contributing to the disturbance of the peace.

Lawyers Seeking Court Order To Prevent Garrison TV Appearance

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Lawyers for Clay L. Shaw planned today to seek a court order to prevent Dis. Atty. Jim Garrison from making a television presentation regarding his Kennedy assassination investigation Saturday night.

Garrison is scheduled to appear on the National Broadcasting Co. network to answer charges that NBC made about his investigation tactics.

Attorney F. Irving Dymond said the showing of the NBC Garrison program in this area could hurt Shaw's chances of getting a fair trial. The 54-year-old former director of the International Trade Mart is awaiting trial on a charge that he conspired with the late David W. Perry and Lee Harvey Oswald to assassinate President Kennedy.

Dymond said the Garrison television appearance could also violate the behavior guidelines laid down for participants by the trial judge. The guidelines forbid public discussion of Shaw's innocence or guilt.

NBC granted Garrison a half-hour of equal time after it indicated in a June TV special report that Garrison had used questionable tactics to obtain testimony against Shaw.

Garrison filed three charges Tuesday against WDSU newsman Richard Townley, a prominent contributor to the NBC report. The district attorney charged that Townley tried to bribe and intimidate Perry Raymond Russo, Garrison's chief witness, and also attempted to intimidate Miss Marlene Mancuso, the former wife of witness Gordon Novel.

Townley posted $2,500 bond on each of the three charges and said the Garrison accusations "are completely false."

A. Louis Read, president of WDSU, also denied Garrison's charge that the station was trying to obstruct his investigation. Read said the district attorney was trying to quash all criticism of Garrison and also was threatening freedom of press and speech.

"Our society has survived other attempts by politicians to silence criticism in the news media," Townley said. "I am confident that those who bear the heavy burden of reporting the truth—even if the truth hurts—will not be intimidated by this obvious attempt to silence criticism."

Garrison charged that Townley offered Russo a trip to California, legal aid, job security and protection from the district attorney's office.

Russo testified in a March preliminary hearing that Shaw met with Ferrie and Oswald in Ferrie's apartment and plotted the death of the President.

Mobeetie Bank Will Rise In Same Location

NEW MOBEETIE — Plans for building a new bank and having it operating within three months were announced yesterday by J. T. Johnston, vice-president of First State Bank of New Mobeetie.

The new building will be constructed on the same site as the old building, which was destroyed by a tornado July 3. The old foundation and vault will be used in the new construction.

An Amarillo architectural firm has been engaged to draw plans, Johnston said. Bids should be opened within the month.

Banking business will continue in temporary quarters at the W. H. Atkins Grocery, down the street from the old building, until the new bank is opened.

Damage to the 38-year-old building and fixtures was estimated at $35,000, Johnston said.

Theaters List Varied Bill Of Summer Plays

The Dallas Theater Center has announced a varied bill of plays for the summer, including the comedy, "Barefoot in the Park," by Neil Simon; the world premiere of a new play, "R. U. Hungry," by Randy Ford; and John Osborne's drama, "Look Back in Anger."

"Barefoot in the Park," which is still running on Broadway after four seasons of sell-out houses opened June 22 for an extended summer run in the 450-seat Kallita Humphreys Theater. This comedy, which is now at the 1,500 performance mark in New York, is one of the longest running plays in recent decades.

The world premiere of the new comedy, "R. U. Hungry" will take place the following evening on the intimate Down Center Stage, under the direction of Paul Baker, managing director of the Dallas Theater Center. Randy Ford is the author, and has had premieres of two one-act plays previously staged by the Center. The play takes place in the world's smallest diner, and concerns the colorful characters who frequent the establishment. A series of "Happenings" or improvisations, is called for in the script.

"Look Back in Anger," which established its author as the angry young man of contemporary theater, opened in the Down Center Stage Theater July 6. This intense drama of harsh realism was the dramatic success of its seasons in London and New York, and the film version with Richard Burton, was one of the outstanding movies of the year.

Ford's original play will be the twenty-third production of a full length play by the Dallas Theater Center, which makes it the leading producer of premiere plays of any major repertory theater in the nation. Six one-act plays have also received initial stagings at the Center.

"WE SERVICE WHAT WE SELL AT MONTGOMERY WARDS"

Pitchers Dream Goes Record

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—It couldn't have possibly worked out more perfectly for the National League, which now has padded its All-Star supremacy to five straight and proved to Hank Bauer that he can be beaten.

For Manager Walt Alton the 2-1 National League win Tuesday gave him one of his few cheerful moments since last fall when Bauer's Orioles beat his Dodgers four straight times in the World Series.

The 15th inning homer by Tony Perez of Cincinnati which won the game for the Nationals was another vindication for Alton's choice in picking Perez over the Cubs' Ron Santo as a supplemental choice for the All-Star squad.

The 38th All-Star game, expected to be a hitters' game, turned into a battle of three basemen and tight pitching. All the runs were driven in on homers by third basemen and the supposedly tired National League mound staff came up with just a little extra stuff to win the longest game in the history of the mid-summer classic.

Rest Doesn't Count

The talk before the game was that the American League had a pitching advantage with five rested hurlers. Alton had only one pitcher who had not worked last weekend, Houston's Mike Cuellar. He got into the game but it was a tired Don Drysdale of Alton's Dodgers who got the win as the NL's sixth pitcher.

One of Bauer's rested pitchers, Jim (Catfish) Hunter, was the victim of Perez' drive over the leftfield fence that broke up the lengthy contest before 46,309 fans in Anaheim Stadium.

"You have to be pleased with the kind of pitching we got," Alton said. "Every one of our pitchers did a fine job down to young Tom Seaver of the Mets who closed it all up in the last inning."

Bauer had gruffly stated before the game that he didn't come all the way to Anaheim to get beaten and his strategy would be built around the idea of winning more than showcasing his league's stars.

But after the game Bauer could only comment that the Nationals "just got one more home run than we did."

Hard To Defense

"The Home run is the toughest play in baseball to defense," he growled.

The men who man the "hot corner" at third base came through with flying colors.

Richie Allen of the Phillies, who started for the Nationals at third, got them off to a 1-0 lead in the second. And Brooks Robinson of the Orioles evened it up with his sixth inning homer, with Perez coming up with the clincher.

The game was a statistician's delight. It lasted three hours and 41 minutes to become the longest in All-Star history. And a record 30 strikeouts were posted by the 12 pitchers who shared the mound duty.

The Nationals had an edge in that department also, posting 17 strikeouts to 13 for their junior circuit rivals.

Increase Wining Streak

It was the fifth extra-inning victory in All-Star competition for the Nats who have yet to lose a game that went beyond the regulation length. It was the ninth win in the last 10 games to increase the National's record to 20 victories against 17 defeats and one tie.

There was little question that Perez would be awarded the trophy as the game's most valuable player after his homer and he accepted the tribute with a happy grin.

Some of the records were painful to the players who set them. Roberto Clemente of the Pirates struck out four times to break the mark of three in an All-Star game held by eight men. And Allen along with Tony Tliwa of the Twins tied the old mark by fanning three times.

Carl Yastrznski of the Red Sox was the game's most productive batter with three hits, a double and two singles while Tim McCarver, hero of last year's National League win at St. Louis, had two hits in two times at bat—a single and double as the third catcher for the Alton team.

UP GOES THE LEG down goes the arm and here comes to pitch as Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants gets set to breeze one toward an American League batter in the All-Star game Tuesday. Marichal worked three innings and gave up just one hit.

Sanders First Off in Open

HOYLAKE, England (UPI)—Doug Sanders, the Beau Brummel of golf from Ojai, Calif., was the first of the heavily favored American contingent off the tee today when the storied British Open golf tournament got underway over the demanding Royal Liverpool club course.

The dashing Sanders, whose golfing attire has brightened tournaments all over the world, was one of six American professionals from which the eventual winner is expected to emerge. There also were two U.S. amateurs entered in the 150-man field.

The U.S. group was led by defending champion Jack Nicklaus, the 11-4 favorite, and also included Masters champion Gay Brewer, Phil Rodgers, Deane Beman and Bert Yancey as well as amateurs Bob Falkenberg and Bob Sweeney.

Sanders, who was teamed with British Ryder Cupper Peter Alliss, was unawed by the prospect of battling Nicklaus and some of the world's finest golfers over the 6,195-yard, par-72 course alongside the Irish Sea.

Predicts High Scores

"If I can keep this going," said Sanders in reference to his par 72 practice round, "I can win. A few birdies will be enough to decide the winner here because a lot of men are going to get into trouble in places."

After single rounds today and Thursday, the field will be chopped to the low 55 for the final rounds on Friday and Saturday in the prestigious 72-hole event, which had been staged at this ancient course nine previous times—the last in 1966 when Peter Thomson won with a 286.

Brewer, the co-second choice with South Africa's Gary Player at odds of 6-1, was the second American to tee off. Brewer, who had only one full practice round over the course, was paired with Welsh Ryder Cup player Brian Huggert, who was nursing an injured shoulder.

Beman, a 25-1 longshot despite protests by Nicklaus, was scheduled to be the next American off. He was followed by Rodgers, Falkenberg, Yancey, Nicklaus and finally Sweeney.

Nicklaus was quietly confident after shooting a one-under 71 in practice Tuesday but continued to disclaim any talk of a "sure" victory.

Pampans to Race In Amarillo

Pampa will be well represented this weekend at the Amarillo Drag races with three Pampans to compete.

Gena Snider, 1112 Juniper will run in C gas competition and R. D. Thomas, 2234 Christine in B gas.

Fred Hughes, 922 E. Fisher will run in D stock. Hughes runs a 1960 Corvette and is sponsored by Culberson - Stowers.

Shadows Helped Pitchers in All-Star Tilt

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—The 1967 All-Star game between the National and the American leagues wasn't the most exciting but it was the longest in history—15 innings.

And it provided a satisfying springboard to fame for a substitute first baseman, Tony Perez of the Cincinnati Reds who hit the game-winning homer for the Nationals in the 15th inning to give them a 2-1 victory.

Perez replaced Richie Allen of Philadelphia late in the game and he filled his shoes admirably. Allen had homered in the second inning off Dean Chance to put the Nationals in front but Brooks Robinson of Baltimore tied it up in the sixth with a homer off Ferguson Jenkins. So all the runs were scored on homers.

As American League Manager Hank Bauer said, "The home run is the toughest play in baseball to defense. You can't prove anything like who's better about this ball game. They just got one more homer than we did."

Blame Shadows

There was a record total of 30 strikeouts in the game and Bauer and many players on both squads said lengthening shadows around home plate were a factor.

Roberto Clemente, the three-time National League batting champion, fanned four times. "It was hard to see the breaking stuff at this time of day," he said.

Walter Alton, victorious manager of the Nationals, personally picked Perez for the squad and he was happy about that.

"I was not hesitant about picking Perez," said Alton, "but some people felt that I should have chosen Ron Santo of the Cubs. Santo has been hot lately but Perez has been the more consistent player the whole season long and earned the shot."

Wins Award

Perez also was voted the Most Valuable Player Award by sports writer at the game.

The Cuban-born infielder, who now lives in Puerto Rico, got his winning clout off young Jim (Catfish) Hunter of the Kansas City Athletics.

"I have never faced Hunter before in my life," said Perez, "but I was definitely looking for the fast ball and I got it. I felt very fortunate to have been selected to play in this great game."

Hunter, just turned 21, got tagged for the loss and he was the saddest man in the sad American League dressing room.

"I was a little tired," he said. "I threw Perez a fast ball right down the middle."

Move Over Fish, Jim's Coming

By RON CROSS
While most Texas Panhandle athletes play either football, baseball or basketball a Pampa teen-ager decided to try to make his notch in another sport. And he's done quite well at it too.

Pampa High School junior Jim Cole is awfully close to being a fish and he can probably out swim a lot of 'em too.

Sixteen-year-old Jim started swimming with the Pampa Dolphin swim team in 1964 and just keeps getting better every year.

His only previous experience in the water was taking Red Cross swim lessons. But he learned his lessons well.

He won his first gold medal, that's for first place in his first summer of swimming, in the breast stroke at a Junior Olympics meet in Snyder.

Evidently Jim is partial to gold because since that time he has won 25 gold medals, 12 silver, for second place and seven bronze ones, third place. He has one silver medal, presented to him in Mexico City last summer at the Texas - Mexico meet. This gives Jim a total of 45 medals.

Since the first of the year Jim has won four high point trophies out of the six swim meets he's attended. He has a trophy from Lubbock, Odessa and Roswell and would have another but Fairview, Okla. didn't have one, where he won everything he entered.

Records are something that Jim sets with regularity also, especially at Big Spring and Roswell. He has five records at each town plus three at Lubbock and two at Amarillo.

Last week in Lubbock Cole picked off six medals, needless to say he also won the high point trophy.

He won first in the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:11.8 and set a new record. He won the 50-yard freestyle in a time of 2:44. He had a third in the 100-yard butterfly in 1:02.2.

Jim won the 100-yard backstroke in 1:03.2 and the 200-yard individual medley in 2:20.2 and finished second in the 100-yard freestyle in 55 seconds flat.

The competition was tough with teams from Abilene, Amarillo, Big Spring, El Paso, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Snyder and Wichita Falls.

Move over fish and let a real swimmer by.

Rains Boost Prospects For Area Crops

AUSTIN (UPI) — Beneficial rains over North and West Texas boosted crop prospects in those sections last week, the Texas Crop Reporting Service said Monday.

Rains fell over the High Plains region for the seventh consecutive week. Harvest of the remaining wheat on the Northern High Plains resumed, along with planting of the remaining acreage of cotton, sorghum and soybeans on the High and Low Plains.

Combining of sorghum and rice gained momentum in South Central Texas and the upper coast. The cotton harvest increased in the Rio Grande Valley and first bales were brought in from the Coastal Bend.

Most of the High Plains area was wet, with some fields still to be cultivated the first time since planting. Insect activity on the High Plains area has been light.

Corn prospects continued good in all areas but South Central Texas where tops are being cut and some corn is being cut for feed.

Rains on the High Plains delayed harvest of some vegetables. Most vegetables in that area made good progress and harvest in many fields should pick up late this week or early next week.

Onion harvest started this week in the Brackettville area, carrots, cucumbers and peppers are being harvested around San Antonio. Tomato harvest was active in East Texas.

Watermelons are being harvested in East and Central Texas. Peach prospects remain fair to good over most areas. Citrus continued to move in light supply from the Lower Valley.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Despite obvious setbacks for Soviet policy in the Middle East, the Soviets may be closer to winning their Mideast objectives than yet has appeared on the surface.

In response to a query from this correspondent regarding the possible future course of Soviet Mideast policy, the UPI bureau in Moscow replied: "Soviet leaders are still committed to aid the Arabs and will continue a gradual flow of arms as well as all possible diplomatic support."

"The Russians probably will insist on sending 'advisers' to Egypt and Syria to train Arab officers in the use of sophisticated weapons."

Seek Political Control
"They will also seek some kind of political control so as not to be faced with the accomplished facts such as Nasser did to them twice last month: Once, when he asked removal of U.N. peacekeeping forces and secondly when he blocked the Gulf of Aqaba."
The result of such a policy will depend upon the extent to which U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser is willing to sell his soul to the devil in his own desperate efforts to retain Arab leadership.

If he accedes to such a demand, then, to all intents and purposes, the name United Arab Republic might as well be changed to "United Arab Peoples' Republic" since its policies would be totally subservient to the Soviet Union.

The rewards for the Soviet Union would be obvious since they then would have leapfrogged Turkey and Iran and obtained control of the water passage way from the eastern Mediterranean to the Persian Gulf which Russia always has desired.

Important Events
The last 10 days have seen other important, although little noted events in the Mideast situation.

In an action heralded as another defeat for the Russians, the United Nations Security Council approved a suggestion from Secretary General Thant that U.N. observers be placed on both sides of the Suez Canal line separating Israeli and Egyptian troops.

Both sides had indicated they also would accept the suggestion.

Little noted in the action was the fact that by the U.N. accepted at least temporarily a status quo which no longer attempted to force the Israelis back to old truce lines.

It further suggested that the long, hot summer in the

He is shown here with Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall after being honored recently for more than half a century of work in forest conservation.

Mideast probably will extend into a long, hot winter. As for the Israelis, they continue about their business. Water mains, telephones and other utilities between old and new Jerusalem have been linked and the Arab police of old

It's the Law in Texas

Taxing the Wages of Sin

Have you swindled anyone lately? Collected any ransom? Taken any illegal kickbacks? Embezzled any cash? Then, in addition to whatever other problems you may have with the law, you also owe income tax to the federal government. It may seem strange for the government to levy an income tax on such ill-gotten gains. Indeed, wrongdoers have carried their objections into the courtroom, arguing — as did the proprietress of a bawdyhouse — that the wages of sin are not taxable.

But the government retorts that, if honest people have to pay a tax on their income, so should dishonest people. In the words of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes: "Congress may tax what it also forbids."

Of course, a lawbreaker may not report — or even keep records of — his income. Nevertheless, the government has various ways of establishing its case. For example:

one gambler's income was proven by his bank deposits; another gambler's income was proven by the commissions he paid to his confederates; and a third gambler's income was proven by evidence of the average "take" in similar gambling operations.

If a wrongdoer must pay a tax on his income, may he at least deduct his expenses? If they are "ordinary and necessary" costs of doing business, they may usually be deducted—even if the business is illegal. Thus, a court held that a bookmaker was entitled to deduct costs of rent, wages in figuring his net income.

But suppose the expense itself is illegal, like paying a bribe to a public official. That kind of an expense is not deductible.

The government takes the position that it would be bad public policy to let a person cut down his tax bill on the basis of his own unlawful act.

By the same token, a fine paid for violating a state or federal law is also not a deductible expense (although the attorney's fee is). True, paying the fine may be one of the costs of doing business. But, as the United States Supreme Court put it, allowing the fine to be deducted would take some of the "sting" out of the punishment.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

People Can Stop Spending

The rapid growth of the federal government in the past decade continues at an accelerating pace and represents a condition of deep importance to every person making the United States his home.

But, no one can predict what the reaction of some 200 million people will be to developments now taking shape. Up to this point, evidence suggests one of three things—either the people have not been paying too much attention, they are confused by events, or they approve of the trend.

Ten years ago, when President Eisenhower proposed his 1958 administrative budget of $71.8 billion the public reaction was definite. Irrate tax payers demanded reductions in the budget in a flood of letters to congressmen.

When Congress adjourned that year, it had succeeded in cutting the proposed budget by almost $5 billion. Since 1960, the population of the United States has grown by 10 per cent, but the civilian bureaucracy of the federal government has increased by 25 per cent and administration requests for $144 billion of new spending authority in fiscal 1968 have hardly caused a ripple of public concern.

Some of the facts of growth in the federal establishment speak for themselves. First of all, the national debt presently carries a $14 billion annual interest charge—10 cents out of every tax dollar.

A $300 billion budget is in prospect for 1969. New government welfare programs multiply, increasing from 239 in 1966 to about 450 in 1968. A great many of these

Senseless Competition

The events which have overtaken and overturned the Middle East in the past few weeks should at last make clear to even the most chauvinistic on either side of the Iron Curtain the pernicious foolishness of the "Cold War."

To borrow the words of Gamal Nasser, Russia has suffered a serious setback in Israel's defeat of the Arabs, whom the Kremlin had been courting and supporting for, lo, these many years.

But why did the Soviet Union become involved in the Middle East in the first place?

For oil? Russia is an oil-exporting country. For military and naval bases? For allies? But of what value would such bases and such allies be in a nuclear missile exchange with the United States—an eventuality, which, ironically, the Kremlin's very meddling in this area made quite possible and which hurriedly backed away from via the hot line to Washington.

It is the inflexible "logic" of the Cold War which makes a potential opening phase of World War III of every trouble spot on the globe.

Wherever instability or a power vacuum exists on the face of the earth, Cold War "realities" dictate that either the United States or Russia must move in with arms and aid, both reasoning that unless it does, the other will gain a bit more influence, a bit more leverage, a bit more political or military or ideological advantage.

It is this Cold War competition that enables a Nasser or a Castro to peddle his dubious allegiance to the highest bidder, that makes a world crisis of every petty squabble between

RUSSIA'S FREE MARKET

For some time those who favor free enterprise have been referring to the divided city of Berlin as a showcase for the private enterprise system.

What has always surprised me is the fact that little if anything is done in the way of setting up a similar display within the Soviet Union itself.

Beginning in 1917 with the October revolution, Lenin attempted to establish an economic system of pure Marxism. He provided a constitution wherein it was stated that the guiding principle would be: "From each according to his ability; to each according to his need."

The frightful debacle ended in 1921 when Lenin introduced what was called the "New Economic Policy." He appointed NEP men (initials taken from New Economic Policy) who were permitted to produce for profit and sell in the open market.

There is much to suggest that the American political system may be entering a decisive period when the ability of central government to handle an ever-increasing share of the peoples' affairs and responsibilities in a country as large and diverse as this is to be questioned.

When Lenin died in 1924, Stalin took over. He spent his first four years consolidating his political position by secret police methods and assassination.

Then, in 1928, Stalin introduced what he called "The Five Year Plan." Stalin knew so little about economics that he presumed a legal decree could increase productivity and confidently announced that he would surpass American production in five years.

Thoughts while shaving: The latest assault against cigarette smoking by the American Cancer Society is an appeal to medical and health institutions to stop selling cigarettes. Physicians and dentists have also been urged to discourage smoking by patients and their office personnel.

On the current political scene in Russia, continuing moves are being made to permit greater latitude for price flexibility, greater feed-back from customer preferences, so as to guide production, and more private property. Today in Russia many people own their own homes, have private bank accounts (in government banks), inherit property, and produce in a semi-free market.

Two countries and two countries alone control the destiny of the world. It is they alone who have it within their power to secure world peace for all time or turn the planet into a cinder.

It is this Cold War competition that enables a Nasser or a Castro to peddle his dubious allegiance to the highest bidder, that makes a world crisis of every petty squabble between

German Chancellor's Uneasiness Over Johnson-Kosygin Talks Intensifies; Meeting Delayed; Fears Johnson Softness on W. Berlin

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The Kosygin-Johnson talks had a lot more to do with Chancellor Kissing-er's decision to postpone his meeting with President Johnson than did West Germany's economic problems.

West German diplomats here say Kissing-er decided to delay his Washington visit until he could learn more about what transpired in the Johnson-Kosygin discussions on European security, a nonproliferation treaty, and the Middle East.

By conferring first with French President deGaulle this week, Kissing-er hopes to obtain a candid report on Soviet reaction to the talks as passed on by Premier Kosygin during his Paris stopover.

With this background information Kissing-er believes he will be in a better position to judge how closely the U.S. and Russia are now working together and what impact this will have on the future of Germany and West Berlin.

One development that disturbed the West German chancellor, according to his diplomats here, was President Johnson's failure to take a firm stand with Kosygin on Soviet arms shipments to the Middle East, Vietnam, and Cuba.

Instead of putting strong pressure on Kosygin to reduce or stop Soviet arms shipments to all three areas, President Johnson only sought the help of the Russian leader to control their use of further export.

The Germans claim that by this strategy with Kosygin the President is not only recognizing but even encouraging Soviet influence in the Middle East, Vietnam, and Cuba.

"What troubles Kissing-er," one German diplomat stated, "is that Johnson's policy of encouraging Soviet influence could easily be extended to other areas, including West Berlin. The chancellor believes this could be disastrous for both of our countries."

U.S.—West German relations have been on the skids since William Foster, director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, stated recently that the U.S. was ready to weaken ties with NATO and West Germany to obtain a Soviets accord on banning the spread of nuclear weapons. While President Johnson has sent Kissing-er private assurances that this is not his policy, the West German chancellor has remained deeply concerned over Foster's statement. In private conversations with visiting American, Kissing-er points out that President Johnson has never publicly rebuked Foster for his comments nor curbed his role in the present negotiations.

Country Editor speaking: "The only trouble with opportunity is that it knocks when we're distracted by TV, radio or other noises."

The Doctor Says:

'Numerous Heart Attack' Claims Sometimes Colitis. Q — What are the symptoms of colitis? Can it cause constipation?

A — The chief symptoms are loose stools often flecked with mucus, excessive gas in the intestines sometimes accompanied by rumbling noises and diffuse abdominal distress which may vary from a vague uneasiness to severe cramping pains. There may be pains in the chest. Many a neurotic woman who complains of frequent heart attacks has a healthy heart and a nervous irritable colon.

Colitis is at the opposite pole from constipation which is properly defined as having stools that are hard and dry and difficult to pass. Many a person with colitis, however, overempties the bowel, then skips a day. He may mistakenly refer to this as constipation.

Q — What is the difference between a spastic colon and ulcerative colitis? Could a spastic colon lead to ulcerative colitis?

A — Spastic or mucous colitis is the less serious of the two. It is caused by emotional upsets, by taking laxatives and other irritants or by overindulgence in fruit and vegetables, especially when eaten raw. The cause of ulcerative colitis is unknown. There is no relation between the two diseases.

Although a victim of spastic colitis may have several loose stools a day they are not as numerous as those of ulcerative colitis and do not contain blood. A person with spastic colitis can usually maintain a fairly good state of nutrition in spite of the food that passes through him undigested, but the person with ulcerative colitis has a progressive loss of weight unless the disease can be controlled.

Q — Is it harmful to take Azulfidine every day for spas-tic colitis? Will malt soup extract or injections of vitamin B-12 help?

A — Azulfidine, one of the sulfa drugs, is usually given for ulcerative rather than spastic colitis. It should be taken only under close medical supervision which should include periodic blood counts. Since malt soup extract is a laxative it should not be taken routinely by anyone and never by a person with a tendency to loose stools. Vitamin B-12 will cure pernicious anemia but not spastic colitis.

WASHINGTON: Student Poll On Drugs Is Bit Startling

By RAY CROMLEY, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A systematic pole of graduate and undergraduate student, at one of the top dozen American colleges indicates that the use of drugs on campuses may be more widespread than heretofore imagined.

The school has very high academic standards.

The poll showed that 20 per cent of the undergraduate student body had used marijuana at some time. Apparently, about half of these undergraduates were "current users," having used the drug within seven days before the poll.

The poll was accomplished by anonymous questionnaires. Ninety per cent of the undergraduates and graduate student body answered.

Approximately a fifth of the undergraduate students expect to use marijuana in the future at least once or twice.

Though only 9 per cent of the undergraduates say they have used LSD in the past (and only 1.1 per cent are using LSD at present), 12 per cent expect to use LSD some time or other in the future.

In their answers to the questionnaires, roughly four-fifths of the undergraduate students said they favored some legal way by which people could use marijuana. Some favored open sale. Some favored controls of various types.

Most students favored tight controls for LSD. About half thought it should only be available for genuine research.

On their questionnaires, some students told why they use dope. One blamed boredom "pot is sort of like the flicks—you ask yourself what to do tonight."

Some said their experiences were "pleasant, like alcohol." The majority—the nonusers—also commented.

Said one: "My moral code requires that I maintain the maximum possible control over my mind and senses. Taking drugs... has the effect of removing that control. It is therefore morally wrong for me to use these drugs."

Some called drug use a "crutch." Others called drug use "debas-ing."

One asked: "Can actual happiness be found in a pill...? Not by retreating into a mental shell but by active living and love for our fellow man will a person feel complete and satisfied?"

Remember that most of the users, though a minority in this college, were among the top students in their high school or they would not have been admitted to this particular school.

A study of the answer of the drug users seems to indicate that we in society have given them no strong standards on which to base their lives.

We have moved sharply ahead in our schools in pushing the intellectual approach. We have not paralleled that advance in the schools with a strong spiritual base on our communities that gives these bright young people something to live for.

Germany Becomes Temporary Stanford Campus for One of Pampa's Students

By LARRY HOLLIS
News Staff Writer

When most students say that they attended Stanford University, they mean the campus in California. For many, though, including Carol Chase, 2328 Duncan, Stanford means the California campus and one of five overseas campuses.

For one six-month session, Stanford students may enroll at one of the university's overseas campuses in Germany, Italy, France, England or Austria.

Carol, a 1964 graduate of Pampa High School and a senior biology major at Stanford, selected to attend the Beutelsbach, Germany, campus.

"About half of the Stanford student body studies overseas," Carol said.

Credits earned overseas is applied to the records at the main campus, she explained. Only Stanford students may apply to attend the overseas schools under the university's program.

The only requirement, Carol said, is that the student be at least a sophomore. The costs, including tuition and so on, is the same as at the main campus.

Stanford pays the student's way over to Europe, but after that the student has to pay for his independent traveling and for the trip back home.

The class schedules were nearly the same, except that, at the German campus, classes were only held four days a week, with three-day weekends. The course was divided into two quarters, with three weeks between each session.

Seventy-four boys and girls attended the campus at Beutelsbach, a small German town of only 3,000 people, Carol said. The university had its classrooms in an old castle. Outside of that though, Carol said, "It's a small scale version of a residence campus, with dorms, library and so on."

Carol studied German, music, history, anthropology and German literature. Except for the German language courses, the professors taught in English.

Some knowledge of German was required, though, because each student had a German family that they visited during the week. Carol's family consisted of a father, mother and 15-year-old daughter, plus two married children whom Carol never met.

In addition, she visited with other families, including those of her Stanford friends, ex-Stanford students and professors. Other contacts with Germans were possible because of cooperative concerns given in connection with her music course, Carol said.

The Stanford students took three field trips during the six months, one each to Berlin, Bremen and Prague. During the three-day weekends, Carol visited other places. Although the most extensive travel was through Germany, Carol also visited Greece, Italy, France and Switzerland, "nearly everywhere except for Russia, Scandinavia and Spain."

"I can't really say which is my favorite," Carol explained. "They are all different."

In Germany, the weather is "cold and snowy in winter, beautiful in the spring," Carol said.

It is hard to describe the Germans themselves, Carol said. "They are not unfriendly," she explained, "just different from Americans. They were very polite and considerate and very generous with us.

"There's a great difference," Carol said, between German, American students. "Their schooling is much more formal, more conventional and conservative."

The education in German universities, Carol explained, is centered in the classroom. There are no residence universities like the one at Stanford, and there are only a comparatively few universities in Germany.

Since the Stanford program is offered only as a six-month course, students are not allowed to return to an overseas campus.

"I hope to go back to Germany and Europe," Carol said. She will return "strictly as a student," though not as a dependent.

Perryton Officer Files Suit For Duty Extension

Captain Stewart Johnson of Perryton is one of three Army captains at Ft. Campbell, Ky., who have filed suit in federal court asking that they be released from extended duty tours because the United States has not declared war against North Vietnam.

The action of the three captains aroused nationwide attention and gained newspaper headlines across the country.

The three, all ROTC graduates, charged that they are being held in involuntary servitude since their enlistments have been extended against their will.

They said their complaints will be "instantaneously withdrawn" when the President or Congress declares war or a state of national emergency.

This is a demand made repeatedly by some of the national veterans organizations for the U.S. to either declare a state of war and engage in an all-out victory struggle or withdraw from Vietnam.

Captain Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Johnson of Perryton and a graduate of West Texas State University.

VA Check For School Due Early

Checks for more than two hundred thousand veterans who will attend college next fall under the new GI Bill for Vietnam veterans will arrive about ten days earlier each month because of an improved system adopted by the Veterans Administration.

Future checks will normally arrive about the 10th of the month, according to Jack Coker, manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco.

The 10-day speed up results from dropping the requirements for monthly certification, Coker said. Now a veteran who is attending a regular course at an approved college or university certifies his attendance at the beginning of the school year.

Checks continue as long as he continues in regular attendance or until his eligibility expires, the VA manager said. The additional certifications are handled independently of the checks.

Finland Independence 1917-67

A TRADITION of friendship between the United States and Finland is observed in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of Finnish independence in a recent postage stamp to be issued Oct. 6 at Finland, Minn. The stamp reproduces the Finnish coat of arms which dates back to 1818 when the country became a grand duchy under Sweden. It is a crowned lion, rampant, holding a sword and standing on another sword. Nine roses on the shield are believed to represent the nine original provinces.

Red China Warns Britain, Burma

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Red Chinese note to Britain demanded apologies to the pro Mao Tse-tung "victims" of rioting in Hong Kong and warned British officials against "aggravating" their crimes.

The note to Burma demanded apologies and warned that attacks on Chinese in Burma constituted a "most serious crime" committed by the government of Gen. Ne Win.

They were only two examples of the extraordinary manner in which Red China, torn by internal conflict, is further isolating herself from the world outside.

Along her thousands of miles of border, Red China within recent weeks hurled her verbal thunderbolts at India, Burma, the Soviet Union, the British in Hong Kong, the Portuguese at Macao, and, naturally, Thailand which has firmly linked herself with the United States in the war in Vietnam.

In Peking, massive government-supported demonstrations have been staged against the embassies of the Soviet Union, India, Britain, France, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Burma, Mongolia and Indonesia.

Historical Marker Is Dedicated

GROOM—Thirteen children of the late Dr. C.L. Fields family were in Groom recently to attend the dedication program for the historical marker erected by the state in memory of Dr. Fields.

The program was held on the west lawn of Groom-Memorial Hospital in front of the historical marker embedded in the hospital wall.

Dr. Fields, a pioneer dentist and farmer settled at Canadian in 1903, later moving to Groom in 1916. The family of 14 children included James Fields, Mrs. Ida Drinnon, Lewis Fields, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Truett Fields, Mrs. Esther Tinsley, Madison Fields, Mrs. Margaret Thomas, Raymond Fields, Mrs. Frances Moyley, Charles Fields, Mrs. Martha Wagoner, Tom Fields, and Henry Fields. One member of the family Mrs. Ida Drinnon, is dead.

The Dr. Charles L. Fields historical marker was dedicated with County Judge Clarence C. Williams, principal speaker, assisted by Charles R. Woodburn of the Texas State Historical Committee and Mrs. Ralph Randel, Carson County Historical Committee chairman.

A picnic was held by the Fields family following the dedication program. Sixty-five members of the Fields family, attended the traditional plum hunt on Mahler Ranch at Canadian where they camped.

A Beautiful Selection
Sizes 4 to 6X and 7 to 12

Let's do a little apple polishing of our own... and send the girls back to school in party styled fashions made of fabrics that wouldn't know what an iron is... and of course they won't... because they'll never need one. Even the most fastidious of mom's will be amazed at the wash and wearability of these lovely fashions. Choose from so many styles we couldn't begin to show them to you. In glorious colors, solids and fall plaids.
