Westmoreland Given 'Mind-Winning' Task

Ambassador Assigns Major Policy Change

SAIGON (UPI) — In a major American policy change, Gen. William C. Westmoreland today took up the fight to win the hearts and minds of South Vietnam's farmers and villagers as well as defeat Communist troops.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker gave the American military commander in Vietnam Wednesday the additional task of commanding the pacification program — the "other war" as it is called.

Previously various State Department agencies ran the program aimed at turning the loyalty of South Vietnam's millions to the Saigon government.

Most observers said the program so vital to the anti-Communist cause had made little headway.

President Johnson said as much in his last State of the Union message.

"I have two basic reasons for giving this responsibility to Gen. Westmoreland," Bunker told a news conference with Westmoreland at his side. "In the first place, the indispensable first stage of pacification is providing continuous local security, a function primarily of the Republic of Vietnam Armed Forces, in which the U.S. Military Assistance Command in Vietnam (MACV) performs a supporting advisory role."

MACV is the name of Westmoreland's 442,000-man military force. "In the second place, the greater part of the U.S. advisory and logistic assets in support of revolutionary development (another name for pacification) belongs to MACV, the envoy said.

Westmoreland told newsmen he thought the new plan "would facilitate use of our total resources."

It was a policy switch long reporter coming. Former U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was reported to have strongly opposed the switch to military control. Earlier reports said the generals themselves showed no joy at the task of supervising a heavily civilian program abounding with problems.

Bunker said Westmoreland will report to him.

Robert Komer, the former White House aide sent here to run pacification last month, becomes the general's deputy with the rank of ambassador. Bunker said.

Both House and Senate space committees now have concluded public hearings on the dry-run accident. Their reports may be weeks in the drafting.

NASA officials testified that fire proof materials have been substituted; wiring safeguarded; escape facilitated; and other changes made in followup Apollo capsules.

FOR SANITY TEST

Judge Appoints Amarillo Doctor To Examine Huff

District Judge Grainger McIlhany, with agreement of the two attorneys in Ernest (Rusty) Huff's trial for robbery, yesterday appointed an Amarillo psychiatrist to administer a psychiatric examination to Huff.

Dr. Hugh A. Pennal, one of six doctors suggested, was selected to give the examination. His report will be submitted to both attorneys in the case; District Attorney Bill Waters and Defense Attorney John Warner.

The examination is tentatively set for May 26.

Huff and his wife, Mrs. Wanda Ruth (Carver) Huff, both of Pampa, have been indicted by the Roberts County grand jury for the March 3 $19,014 robbery of First State Bank, Miami.

Huff's trial, originally set for last Monday, has been continued until the week of June 6, at Waters' request.

During the beginning of the trial Monday, Warner said he would try the case on the basis of Huff's sanity and at the time of the robbery.

After that motion, Waters submitted a motion to continue the case until later, so a psychiatric examination could be made.

Judge McIlhany overruled the defense objection to Waters' motion and trial is set for the week of June 6 in Miami.

Judge McIlhany granted a defense request for severance, for the two defendants to be tried separately.

Huff is charged with the bank robbery, car theft and assault to murder Hemphill County Sheriff Jim Cloyd.

Mrs. Huff is charged only with the robbery and car theft. Her court-appointed attorney is J. M. Martindale.

Both were brought back to the Gray County jail here Monday.

A jury has not yet been selected in the case because it was continued.

Ship's Side Hit Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. destroyer and a Soviet warship "brushed together" in the Japan Sea today — the second such incident in two days, the Pentagon announced.

The USS Walker, the same U.S. destroyer which scraped sides with a Soviet ship Wednesday, was also involved in today's incident.

But this time a different Russian destroyer was involved. The Pentagon said the second incident happened 300 nautical miles west southwest of Hokkaido Island, Japan.

"There were no casualties and only light damage was reported," the Pentagon said. It said "the incident occurred when the Soviet destroyer turned into the Walker, despite the latter's warnings."

After the Wednesday incident, which apparently occurred when the Russian vessel was trying to watch U.S. maneuvers, the United States officially protested to Soviet diplomats in Washington.

The Soviet ship in today's incident was identified only as a Krupny class destroyer, 025.

There was only minor damage in the earlier incident.

U.S. Assistant Secretary of State John M. Leddy summoned Soviet Charge d'Affairs Yuri N. Tcherniakov to make an official protest, and charged that the Russian ship had violated the rules of the road.

U.S. officials said the bumping incident occurred as the Beuslednyi attempted to overtake the Walker despite "repeated warnings" to keep its distance.

For more than 90 minutes prior to the accident, the Russian destroyer had been dogging the antisubmarine task group to which the Walker is assigned, "apparently for the purpose of watching U.S. training maneuvers," officials said.

Navy officials said they did not believe the collision was intentional. They theorized the Soviet commander was showing off a bit and got closer than he had intended.

Senate Nears Decision On More Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate neared a decision on extending the draft today with the experts predicting defeat for freshman Sen. Mark O. Hatfield's plan to phase out conscription and substitute a volunteer Army.

The basic bill under consideration would extend the President's draft powers for four years beyond June 30, but the Senate at the same time will be recommending a series of draft reforms based on long debate. Hatfield's proposed amendment would add a policy statement the Oregon Republican believes would protect "the liberties of America's young men."

It would charge Congress with making "frequent and impartial reassessments of involuntary inductions," and call for "prompt termination" of the draft when such a study showed a volunteer Army to be possible "at an overall cost the nation can reasonably afford."

Forces Suffer Record Losses

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. forces suffered a record-tying 274 men killed and a near record 1,748 wounded in Vietnam combat last week, American spokesmen said today. Most of them fell near the North-South Vietnam border where Marines smashed elite Communist forces trying to push.

The Communists suffered even heavier losses — 1,903 men killed in the same week, spokesmen said.

Heavy ground fighting continued, American officials said U.S. Marines Wednesday and today caught and killed about 180 North Vietnamese 75 miles south of the border. U.S. casualties in the battle were 24 killed and 97 wounded.

But one U.S. strike plane's napalm bomb went awry in the fight and the jellied gasoline splashed into a Leatherneck position, killing 5 Marines and wounding 25, spokesmen said.

Fighting in the same area and on the Cambodian border the week ending March 25 resulted in the previous record seven-day toll of 274 American dead. The same campaigns in the week ending March 18 produced a record 1,874 U.S. wounded.

According to Allied figures, 3.8 Communists died in battle last week for each anti-Communist soldier slain.

A total of 212 South Vietnamese troops and 18 other Allied soldiers died during the week. The Vietnamese do not report their injury totals but other Allies reported 26 men wounded.

Most of the bloodletting came in the Leatherneck fights against the North Vietnamese 324th and 325th Divisions just south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) on the North-South Vietnam border.

The battle raged on. Marines pressing in from two directions stormed a key North Vietnamese hill fortress commanding infiltration routes and killed about 180 Communists in two days fighting ending late today, spokesmen said.

The Communists, who have five divisions in all in the northern border area, had hoped to use the fortresses to cut American ground communications between the big coastal Leatherneck bases at Da Nang and Chu Lai.

Approval was given to employment of secondary summer school teachers at a salary of $800 for two months' work on a full schedule or two-thirds of this amount for a partial schedule.

Trustees will call for bank depository bids to be opened at the next regular meeting of the board on June 8, and will at that time designate the bank to handle school funds based upon the bids.

Following a report by McHenry Lane, curriculum director, board members favorably approved continuation of the In Service Education program for 1967-68.

Consideration of participating in the Regional Media Center was tabled until the next meeting.

Due bills and invoices amounting to $100,062 were approved. As an information item, Dr. Damron announced the 1967 senior's gift to the high school will be a trophy case to house awards for display won by Pampa High School students.

Apollo Disaster Hearings End; 'All to Blame'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional hearings on January's Apollo disaster have ended on a note of soul-searching that sees "everybody and nobody" in the space program as blame-worthy in the fire that killed three astronauts.

This was the comment of Chairman Olin A. Teague of the House Space Investigating Subcommittee as it wound up its public hearings Wednesday on the deaths of astronauts Virgil (Gus) Grissom, Edward White and Roger Chaffee.

If the Texas Democrat has his way, the subcommittee will not seek a scapegoat or try to pin culpability in the fire on an individual or group.

"We were all to blame," Teague said after a last round of testimony by top space officials. "I think we all had been lulled into a false sense of security by a previous string of successes."

Teague said the tragedy during a pre-launch test at Cape Kennedy has shaken the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), space contractors, and everybody concerned with space exploration into a new and healthy respect for the perils involved in sending men to the moon.

"Maybe in the long run, the deaths of these three boys will have saved the lives of many, many others," Teague told reporters.

Both House and Senate space committees now have concluded public hearings on the dry-run accident. Their reports may be weeks in the drafting.

NASA officials testified that fire proof materials have been substituted; wiring safeguarded; escape facilitated; and other changes made in followup Apollo capsules.

FOR PAMPA SCHOOLS

Building Program Looms on Horizon

By DORIS E. WILSON

Pampa Independent School District trustees will meet in a called session at 9:30 a.m. May 25 for an in-depth discussion of a proposed building program for Pampa schools.

Following a series of meetings with the school architectural firm of Brasher, Goyett and Raper, it was the consensus the board now is in a position to begin formulation of plans for presentation of the building program to the taxpayers.

The board has also placed on the May 25 agenda a discussion of the Teacher Salary Schedule, which was tabled until legislation regarding the teacher's pay schedule was determined by the state legislature.

During today's monthly board meeting, approval was given for re-employment of the tax consulting firm of Pritchard and Abbott of Amarillo for the 1967-68 school year at a fee of $12,000 per year.

The firm services the school system by establishing tax values on all industrial plants, minerals and utilities in the district and meets with oil and industrial tax men to set up tax value schedules based on local values.

Trustees also approved continued participation with the State Department of Public Welfare for the receipt of USDA Commodities and continuation of the 16 bus routes to serve Pampa students during the 1967-68 school year subject to any changes deemed necessary by the school superintendent.

Budget Writers in Texas House Seek Teacher Pay Hike Money

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — House budget writers were reported today to be looking for more money to give public school teachers a bigger pay raise than the one sought by Gov. John Connally.

The teacher pay raise issue has developed into the big item of difference between budget writers in the Senate on one side, and the House and Connally on the other.

The governor proposed a $25 million pay raise for teachers, giving them an average hike of $278 a year, or a flat five percent. The Senate bill, authored by Sen. A. M. Alkin Jr. of Paris, sets aside $55.5 million for the teacher pay raise, with a greater emphasis on beginning teachers.

The House budget bill for one year would have nearly $35 million left over, but at least $5 million of this would be taken up by other demands. This would leave about $30 million over for a teacher pay hike under the House plans — not enough to satisfy many in the Senate.

One report indicated that the House might take $5 million out of its bill dedicated to the purchase of James Connally

Air Force Base at Waco for the technical school there and put it in the kitty for teachers.

Another report indicated a move still might be pushed to repeal the Colson-Briscoe Rural Highway Act and free still another $15 million for such needs as the teachers.

At any rate, it appeared the next move on the state budget bill likely will be put off until next week sometime.

Meantime, lawmakers began cleaning up remaining bills in both houses as the May 29 deadline drew nearer.

The Senate Wednesday passed and sent to the governor a bill to increase maximum unemployment checks in Texas from $37 to $45 a week. It passed the House last month.

There was no debate in the Senate, which approved it 29-0. In addition to the increase in benefits, the bill includes numerous changes in administrative procedure.

New House to Test Great Society Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Time-ly administration action shifting civil rights responsibility away from the Office of Education appeared successful today in lining up Southern support in the house for the embattled education bills.

It was learned the House Democratic leadership planned to announce the authorization bill for the $3.5 billion aid to elementary and secondary education program would be called up for floor debate May 22.

The decision to turn loose the bill was to be announced after a mid-morning meeting of Democratic leaders with Speaker John W. McCormack.

It would be the first major great society program to be tested in the new House, with its greatly strengthened Republican forces.

The administration fought down opposition on two fronts arriving at a position where it believed it had the votes to sew up the education bill.

Republicans have vigorously pushed an alternative, sponsored by Rep. Albert Que, R-Minn., which would abandon the present system of direct grants to programs for poverty-area pupils. It would substitute lump sum grants to each state.

Southern Democrats, embittered by the integration "guidelines" of the education office, threatened to throw in with the Republicans.

The administration countered the Republican thrust with a massive "information" program claiming parochial schools would lose out under the GOP plan, and the ghost of the church-state controversy would be revived.

Wednesday, it moved to placate the Southern Democrats by announcing reorganization of civil rights activity conducted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

His meeting in Pampa is at 8 p.m. Friday at the Tom Bossay Steak House.

In Littlefield, he will conduct a Town Hall meeting in the Security State Bank's XII Room and be a luncheon guest of the chamber of commerce.

Saturday he will conduct a town hall meeting and attend the chamber of commerce luncheon in Borger and return to Washington that afternoon.

Civil Liberties Union Says Flag Bill Is Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Civil Liberties Union says any law making it a federal crime to rip, burn, trample or spit on the U.S. flag would violate constitutional guarantees of free expression.

Lawrence Speiser, an official of the ACLU, told Congress Wednesday that offensive as these acts are, they come under the first amendment protection of "expression of opinion by a symbolic act."

In appearing before a House Judiciary Subcommittee, Speiser injected a note of caution into demands for legislation which would crack down on persons who desecrate the flag.

Congressmen, angered by recent flag burnings and rippings by anti-war and anti-draft demonstrators, have urged penalties ranging up to a $10,000 fine and five years in federal crime.

prison for publicly defiling or defacing the flag "by word or act."

Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., asked Speiser whether he thought recent flag-burning incidents might have had a harmful effect on the morale of U.S. troops in Vietnam.

They might, Speiser conceded, but so might statements by members of Congress critical of the administration's policy in Vietnam. Both, he said, are part of the dialogue protected by the first amendment.

"I believe Congress' interest is not the fear that the government is in danger, but the tremendous offensiveness of the act of flag burning to the vast majority of American people," Speiser said.

He said he sympathized with the indignation, but felt the urged penalties ranging up to a $10,000 fine and five years in federal crime.

District Official To Attend College For Trial Judges

District Judge Grainger McIlhany of 31st Judicial District Court was one of 150 judges named to attend the 1967 session of the National College of State Trial Judges in July.

Judge McIlhany will take the four-week course at the University of Pennsylvania School of Law in Philadelphia, Pa. W. R. Kellogg Foundation sponsors the course. A similar session of the trial judges' college will be held in August at the University of Nevada in Reno, sponsored by the Max C. Fleischmann Foundation.

The college, now in its fourth year, is part of a continuing educational program of the American Bar Association. The course is designed to explain methods of effective judicial administration by trial judges of the nation exchanging ideas. Trial judges and law professors are the college faculty and teach courses in court administration, modern trends in evidence, sentencing and probation, criminal pre-trial procedures and other trial court administration fields.

The National College of State Trial Judges developed from the work the Joint Committee for Effective Administration of Justice. Tom C. Clark, associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was committee chairman and has been the college's governing board chairman since the college started in 1964.

Justice Clark said at the end of this session, 700 or 20 per cent of the nation's trial judges, will have graduated from the college.

Two Pampans Elected To PPROA Posts

Two Pampans were elected to office during the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association meeting in Amarillo, which ends today with an address by Rep. Bob Price of Pampa.

The PPROA board of directors elected Tim Dunigan of Pampa, Jim Richmond and W. J. Fellers, both of Amarillo to the executive committee.

W. L. Arrington of Pampa, was named treasurer. Other officers elected were R. F. Herrmann, president; W. W. Carter and Don Watson, all of Amarillo, vice presidents, and Vernon Watkins of Borger, secretary.

The PPROA board of directors meeting was the first official function of the 37th annual meeting.

After panels on ad valorem taxes and industry affairs, Rep. Price will speak at the final dinner at 7 p.m. today at Holiday Inn West in Amarillo.

The board adopted two resolutions, one on ad valorem taxes and another on oil prices. One resolution said "Further increases of crude oil prices are needed to give the necessary incentive for increased drilling operations."

The resolution adopted a policy for the association apposing any incentive plan which includes any federal regulation of the oil industry.

The board also adopted a resolution on ad valorem taxes requesting taxing agencies and equalization boards to "value all taxable properties within the respective taxing districts on the same basis as mineral and royalty interests and properties are valued."

Pampa Sanitation Workers Find Less Trash Than in 1966 Drive

Pampa Sanitation Department workers are finding less junk and trash to collect this year in the city's annual clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign.

In Ward 1, the first week of this campaign, sanitation trucks hauled out only 70 loads compared to more than a 100 last year, Olan Vickery, sanitation superintendent, said.

"So far in Ward 2, where we are this week, we've hauled 63 loads, as of yesterday," Vickery said.

Last year the department hauled more than 400 loads to the city dump, and averaged about a 100 loads a ward.

"Either people are just not calling us to come collect it, or have less trash to haul away," Vickery said.

Monday, the three flatbed trucks with nine sanitation workers will move into Ward 3 and work there a week collecting trash, hauling away junked cars, old rabbit and chicken hutches.

"We won't have time to take down any rabbit and chicken hutches, but if the people will knock them down and throw them in the alley we'll haul them off. If we took down all the hutches ourselves, we would not get through the wards in time," Vickery said.

Ward 4, bounded by South Cuyler, extending onto South Barnes to McCullough and to the railroad track, will be cleared May 22-26.

Boundaries of Ward 3 are Browning, to South Cuyler to Tyng, he said. Ward 2 area includes Mary Ellen to Browning and out to 27th St. Ward 7 in north Pampa, extends from the railroad track up to 27th St. and over to Mary Ellen Street, Vickery said.

After the three trucks go through a ward, Vickery follows behind in a pickup making sure the area cleared that day remains clean.

If anything is thrown out for collection after a unit leaves the ward, it will have to be collected after the campaign, Vickery said.

Fee Is Reduced For Rabies Vaccination

The week starting Saturday, and running through Saturday, May 20, will be bargain week for dog owners wishing to have pets vaccinated against rabies.

City Manager Jim White said today arrangements had been made with all Pampa veterinarians to reduce their fee to $2 for a rabies vaccination during the week. Regular vaccination fee is $3.

"It is essential that dogs and cats be vaccinated to prevent a rabies outbreak," White said, "and it is hoped pet owners will take advantage of the reduced vaccination fee."

Salads Are Change Of Pace

May is Salad Month and a perfect time to try your hand at unusual salads.

Maybe your family doesn't even know that other greens besides iceberg lettuce make wonderful salads. Your produce counters (and soon your gardens) yield such a variety of fresh greens that it is a shame not to acquaint your family with their different flavors and textures.

Here is a salad that is becoming quite popular, not only as an accompaniment but also as a main dish. It is the King of Salads, a flavorful Caesar salad. American blue cheese is featured in this classic salad. The zesty blue-marbled cheese lends unusual flavor and texture contrast to the crisp romaine and tangy oil and vinegar dressing.

Serve Caesar Salad one of these warm evenings with hot rolls and iced tea. Your family will enjoy the change of pace meal.

- CAESAR SALAD
(6 mainish servings)
- 3 heads romaine lettuce, crisped and chilled
 - 1-3 cup garlic olive oil
 - 2 tablespoons wine vinegar
 - 1 lemon
 - 1 coddled egg
 - salt
 - pepper
 - Worcestershire sauce
 - 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 - 1/4 cup American blue cheese, (about 2 1/2 ounces, crumbled)
 - 1/2 cup croutons
 - 12 anchovy filets. . .

Break romaine into two-inch pieces. Drizzle with garlic oil and vinegar. Squeeze lemon juice over all. Break in eggs. Season with salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Sprinkle with parmesan and American blue cheese. Toss gently until

Food Buying Guide
The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This weekend's food shoppers will find that plentiful meats and a jewel-toned array of produce have sprouted in May and are in the markets.

Keep your eyes peeled for pluses in potatoes, carrots, corn and onions in good supply.

Look for an abundance of fruits which, this weekend, include cantaloups, grapefruit, oranges and watermelons.

Watch for economical buys in beef, pork and poultry; specifically, steaks, smoked picnics and broiler-fryers are in excellent supply.

Protein-plus fish are heavily tipping the scales in their abundant supply this week. Cans of salmon and tuna, fish sticks and portions are in best supply.

Pack some thumbtacks with the picnic fixings. Use to hold tablecloth, paper plates when there is a wind.

Bake potatoes in a muffin pan. They will not move around and will be easy to remove from the oven.

To discourage ants, put a small piece of blotting paper saturated with insect repellent under each leg of the picnic table.

Fat Meat Balls Appeal To Dieters

A few miniature meat balls, round and plump, on a dieter's plate is likely to have more appeal than one large, lone patty. They look more filling.

Bran flakes are the binding agent for seasoned ground beef in these little meat balls, helping them to hold their shape during cooking.

Oven baking the balls eliminates the need for extra fat for frying. Round out the dinner with low-calorie vegetables, such as green beans, cauliflower, tomato slices, and onion to achieve an appetizing balance of colors, shapes and textures.

TINY MEAT BALLS

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 2 cups bran flakes
- 1-3 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 egg
- 2-3 cup tomato juice
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon basil
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. . .

Combine ingredients; mix well. Shape into balls; using about a tablespoonful of mixture for each ball. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) until done, 12 to 15 minutes. (If desired, meat balls may be pan fried in a small amount of shortening over moderate heat until done and brown on all sides, about 10 minutes). Yield: About 5 dozen balls.

A mason jar of ice cubes, if packed with your picnic lunch, will keep foods cool. When ice cubes melt — presto. You have a jar of cool drinking water.

Cereal Balls Are Quickly Made

A few of these Cereal Cheese Balls nestled in the center of a fruit salad lend just the right degree of heartiness to a light luncheon plate. They are quickly made. Mold seasoned cream cheese into small balls, then roll them in puffy oven-toasted rice cereal. Breakfast cereals streamlined ease of preparation make them ideal convenience foods for such delicious tidbits. For further nourishment, pass tiny hot oat muffins.

CEREAL CHEESE BALLS
1 package (8 ounce) cream cheese, room temperature
1 teaspoon grated onion
1/4 teaspoon seasoned salt
3 to 4 drops Tabasco sauce

1 cup over-toasted rice cereal
Beat cream cheese, onion, seasoned salt, and Tabasco sauce until smooth. Shape mixture into balls, using a tablespoonful of mixture for each ball; roll in cereal and serve. Yield: 16 to 18 balls.

New wastebaskets are colorful and decorative. One group features gay cotton print fabrics permanently bonded to metal baskets, then protected by a soil-resistant process. Like all waste containers, they need to be washed out often with hot soap or detergent suds to keep the inside sanitary.

Junior Rotarians Present Program

Pampa High School senior students, who served as Junior Rotarians during the current school year, presented the program at the local Rotary Club's luncheon meeting yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Each student thanked the club for honoring them and told of their future school plans. Junior Rotarians participating were Billy Hawkins, Larry Franklin, Mike Osborne, Jack Williamson, Doc Cornutt, Smisson Goodlett, Werauyt "Bill" Yothongnam, Steve Williams and John Braly.

Superintendent of schools Dr. John Damron presented each student a copy of Rotary's booklet, "Service is My Business." In other business, Travis Livey Sr. introduced a new member, Joe Rafford to the group. He is a corporation accounting employe of Cabot Corp.

POLITICAL SUICIDE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Legislation to outlaw "deceptive practices" in merchandising should also halt the sale of falsies and girdles, state Rep. Don Reed contended.

"I don't intend to make a mountain out of a molehill," Reed said as a preface to an attack also on the sale of feminine makeup, wigs, false eyelashes, and hair dye.

Another lawmaker protested that if he voted for Reed's amendment, "I couldn't go home tonight."

The lawmakers quit for the day without deciding the issue.

National Guard Overhaul Okayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A long-considered major overhaul of Army National Guard forces has won the important approval of the Pentagon's Reserve Forces Policy Committee, informed sources said Wednesday.

The plan reportedly would abolish 15 under-strength National Guard divisions, but would set a number of new, independent guard brigades.

The mainstay of Army National Guard forces now consists of a 150,000-man selected reserve force. It is composed of three divisions and six independent brigades, all at 100 per cent of manning and equipment.

In addition, there are 15 National Guard divisions in what is called the reinforcing reserve, all apparently under strength. Nine of them contributed a brigade to make up the selected reserve force.

The purpose of the proposed new reorganization would be to create a smaller but more nearly combat-ready over-all force, officials said.

The 15 divisions which reportedly would be involved are the 29th Infantry, located in Maryland and Virginia; 31st Infantry, Alabama and Mississippi; 32nd Infantry, Wisconsin; 33rd Infantry, Illinois; 36th Infantry, Texas; 37th Infantry, Ohio; 39th Infantry, Arkansas and Louisiana; 41st Infantry, Washington and Oregon; 45th Infantry, Oklahoma; 46th Infantry, Michigan; 49th Infantry, California; 27th Armored, New York; 40th Armored, California; 48th Armored, Georgia, and 49th Armored, Texas.

Business Gains Little in March

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Business inventories registered the smallest increase in March of any month since 1964, the Commerce Department reported Wednesday.

The $160 million rise was in line with previous, tentative assessments of a massive inventory adjustment in the first quarter of the year. The adjustment is at the heart of the administration's prediction that the economy would lag in the first half of the year but pick up enough in the second half to justify a tax increase as insurance against inflation.

The March inventory advance compared with gains of $200 million in February, $1 billion in January, and an average of more than $1 billion a month during the past year. The March increase was the smallest monthly one since October, 1964.

Inventory accumulation during the first quarter was $1.4 billion, about one third the total in the 1966 fourth quarter.

The 10,000 lakes of Saskatchewan, Canada, yield 19 million pounds of fish a year.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide, 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a promising young artist. I encouraged our marriage 2 years ago and have supported it ever since by teaching school.

My parents agreed at the time of our marriage to pay for all our doctor and hospital bills, but nothing more. They are in their 50s, and my brother and I know that when they die we will each come into several hundreds of thousands of dollars. I am not interested in an inheritance. I would rather have their financial help now when I need it. I am expecting a child and will have to quit teaching soon. I am afraid when I do, my marriage will fail because my husband gets depressed and falls apart when he attempts to do any work outside the field for which he is temperamentally suited.

How can I make my parents understand that it is better to help their children financially when they need it, than to die rich?

MONEY WORRIES: DEAR MONEY WORRIES: Ask your parents for a loan until your husband's talents can be developed and applied. If they refuse, your husband will have to find other means of support. Many artists have worked at jobs for which they were not "temperamentally" suited without falling apart. Perhaps if your husband knew he had to, he could, too. If he can't, the responsibility for working things out is yours — not your parents'.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone calls my three sons "the wrecking crew." They are 9, 11, and 13, and believe me they are "all boy." I hate to take them anywhere because they don't get along with each other. Wherever we happen to be, a fight breaks out. (In the dentist's office, a shoe store, or the barber shop.) I've had friends and relatives tell me that if I come over to please leave the boys home. Neighbors have chased them out of their yards, and there are several kids their age who are forbidden to play with them. My boys aren't monsters, Abby, they are just rough and tough and hard to handle. It hurts me to see them treated this way, although at times I could knock their heads together. They are too big for me to hit now. What should I do?

MOTHER OF THE WRECKING CREW: DEAR MOTHER: Your boys are paying the price for what you failed to teach them earlier. Now you must explain unless they control their temper and learn to get along with each other (and others) they will not be welcome anywhere. And keep them separated until they learn to get along with each other. And keep them home until they shape up.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Use Hem To Repair Hole In Dress

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — I burned a small hole in a dress and could not find thread to match it. I took out a portion of the hem, which had been blind-stitched by machine, and had plenty of thread to mend the hole. Then I sewed the hem back by hand. The dress was saved and the mend is scarcely visible.

DEAR POLLY — I have a good, economical way to make a maternity skirt out of a regular straight skirt. Tell Mary that inserts can be bought at notion counters. Remove the skirt band, take out the front darts if possible, then sew in the panel as directed on the package. I like it better if the ties are on the side instead of the center front.

I have also used the bottoms of men's T-shirts as such panels. If the skirt length permits, she could lower the side zipper, make a narrow hem around the top and run narrow elastic through, leaving it open at one side. If the skirt is not long enough to turn over this top for a casing, a new false hem could be sewed on at the top.

When letting out a hem I have found the best way to get out the resulting crease is to thoroughly wet one side of a portion of a brown paper grocery bag. Lay the DRY side on the crease, set the hot iron on the wet side and leave it a few seconds, raise the iron and set it down on another section and so on around the hemline. —LEAH

Pampa Winds Up Third' in District

By RON CROSS

Pampa and Allan Woodard ended the 1967 baseball season on a happy note Wednesday as the Harvesters wound up in third place in district 3-4A after being placed last and Woodard won his fourth game, against one loss and pitched his third shut-out of the season.

The Harvesters closed out the high school year with a 12-6 district park and 24-6 season record by downing Tascosa 3-0 at Optimist Club Park Wednesday afternoon.

The loss avenged a 9-6 defeat at the hands of the Rebels Tuesday and Tascosa ended up in second place with a 135 record and 21-4 season mark.

Woodard allowed only four hits in going the distance for the fifth time in six outings. The only time he didn't go the full seven innings was against Monterey and he wasn't involved in the decision.

The lefty fanned nine and retired with 56 wildflits in 39 innings in district play. He gave up just four earned runs. For the season Woodard fanned 63 batters in 42 and one-third innings and walked just five.

His only loss was a one-hit 10 job at Plainview last week.

Tascosa's Roger Case allowed Pampa just six hits and only one of the three Pampa runs were earned as Case's teammates made four errors behind him.

Pampa broke the scoring ice in the third on an unearned run when Ronnie Sanders led off with a walk, was wild pitched to second, Woodard walked and Sanders scored with two out when the Tascosa third baseman bobbled Rick Foster's ground ball.

The count went to 2-0 in the fourth when Matney led off with a single, and scored when Alvin Achord beat out a scratch hit but the ball was overthrown on the play. Achord tried to take third but was thrown out.

Larry Stephens followed with a walk, Sanders was hit by a pitch and Woodard was safe on an error to load 'em up. But Hyatt popped out as did Larry Jones to end the inning.

The final Pampa tally came in the fifth when, after two were out, Matney singled and Achord lashed a triple to score him.

Tascosa threatened in the first out Woodard when Sanders singled with one out and went to third on a two base error. But Allan fanned Wattenburger and Hoving to retire the side.

In the second, after one was out, Howard tripled but Clark fanned and Williams fied out to end things.

In the third case opened with a double, went to third on a fly to center but couldn't score.

Woodard retired the side in order in the fourth and fifth innings. In the sixth, when two were out, Wattenburger was hit by a pitch and Hoving singled but Howard fanned to end the threat.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Stanky Nice, Chisox Win

By United Press International
A few wins have gone to Eddie Stanky's head.

And if he isn't more careful, Stanky may blushing find himself in line for the 1967 Good Guy Award.

The hot-tempered, fast-talking manager of the Chicago White Sox, known not too affectionately in his playing days as "The Brat" and "Muggsy," actually apologized Wednesday night after his team had humiliated the world champion Orioles 13-1 at Baltimore.

The usually light-hitting White Sox cracked out four homers among their 15 hits in registering their sixth consecutive victory to remain a half-game behind first-place Detroit in the American League.

Baltimore suffered its sixth loss in a row, its ninth in 10 games, and fell into ninth place.

Stanky Remember's "I don't like pouring it on."

Eddie Stanky

Jim Northrup and Norm Cash had driven in the first two Tiger runs with singles. Mickey Lolich, touched for a third-inning homer by Larry Brown, struck out nine Indian batters before he gave way to Fred Gladding in the ninth.

Rookie Rick Monday drove in three runs with a homer and two singles and Dick Green singled home the eventual winning run in the seventh for Kansas City. Paul Lindblad pitched three hitless innings in relief to gain credit for his first triumph.

Detroit kept pace with the Sox by beating the Cleveland Indians 4-2, and in other games the Kansas City Athletics topped the Boston Red Sox 7-4 and the California Angels edged the New York Yankees 3-2.

Tommy McCraw, Pete Ward, Dick Kenworthy and Tommie Agee hit the Chicago homers, giving the White Sox six in two nights. Agee also contributed three hits, as did Don Buford and Duane Josephson, to enable Tommy John to coast to his second victory. Curt Blefary spoiled the shutout bid with a ninth-inning homer.

Willie Horton made his first home run of the season a 425-foot blast good for two runs in the sixth inning which provided Detroit with its winning margin.

Willie Stargell gave Veale all the runs he needed when he blasted a 450-foot home run into the upper right field tier in Forbes Field with a man aboard in the third inning.

Stargell's shot came off starter Dick Hughes, who suffered his first loss of the season.

Bob Veale pitches for pennies but if his luck holds out he might become the richest hurler in the majors.

The superstitious southpaw, who after each of his starts this year has bummed a penny off a sportswriter, rang up his fifth straight victory Wednesday night, a 4-1 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals, to become the winningest pitcher in the major leagues. The strange ritual of the pennies started after Veale's initial win of the season against the New York Mets and now his jacket pocket jingles with six shiny coins that could multiply into a bonanza.

In other National League action, Chicago edged San Francisco 5-4, Philadelphia took the first game of a two-night doubleheader from Atlanta 4-3 and the Braves bouncing back 4 and Los Angeles handed Houston 5-1.

Willie Stargell gave Veale all the runs he needed when he blasted a 450-foot home run into the upper right field tier in Forbes Field with a man aboard in the third inning.

Stargell's shot came off starter Dick Hughes, who suffered his first loss of the season.

Only Run

The Cardinals got their only run in the fourth when Julian Javier opened with a walk and scored on Mike Shannon's double down the right field line. Adolfo Phillips scored the winning run when he stole home in the seventh inning in the Cubs' triumph over the Giants. Ken Holtzman, who picked up his third straight victory without a loss, drove in two runs with a fourth-inning single and Billy Williams blasted a two-run homer to account for Chicago's other two runs. Gaylor Perry was charged with his third loss in four decisions.

Reliever Phil Niekro wild pitched the winning run home in the bottom of the ninth to enable the Phillies to capture the opener of their doubleheader. Niekro came on in the second game to save Wade Blasingame's first victory of the year. Joe Torre blasted two homers in the nightcap and had another in the opener. Hank Aaron also homered in each game.

First Hit

Floyd Robinson's first hit of the season, a two-run triple in the first inning, and Tony Perez' two-run homer in the fifth led the Reds to victory over the Mets. Milt Pappas went 6-1-3 innings to gain his third win of the year against two losses. He was touched for homers by Ed Kranepool and Al Luplow. Ken Boyer collected two hits for the Mets to become the ninth active player in the majors to reach the 2,000 hit mark.

The Dodgers exploded for four runs in the 10th inning with Ron Hunt delivering the key blow, a single off Bob Aspromonte's glove allowing Willie Davis to score the go-ahead run. An error by Joe Morgan set up the final three Dodger tallies. Aspromonte had tied the game with a two-out double in the bottom of the ninth.

Golfers Go In New Orleans Open

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Most of the nation's best professional golfers squared off today for a shot at the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open, a tournament that big names seldom win.

Two of the favorites were Frank Beard, the defending champion who is currently at his professional peak, and Jack Nicklaus, the big money winner who is having one of his toughest years so far.

Tradition being what it is here, Beard had his own success going against him at the Lakewood Country Club's 7,020 yard course on the west bank of the Mississippi River. Beard arrived in New Orleans last year virtually unnoticed and then put four sub par rounds together to win the $20,000 first prize.
