New Law Ups Age for Driving

AUSTIN (UPI)— Gov. John Connally Tuesday signed into law six new traffic safety acts which he praised as "the finest effort in modern times" designed to improve and enforce highway safety in Texas.

Some of the new laws become effective Sept. 1, and others Jan. 1, 1968.

The biggest change is the new law governing who can get a drivers license. Minimum age was raised from 14 to 16 years with driver education and 18 years without driver education.

All drivers under 21 will have a "provisional license" which will be a different color from the regular operator's license. All licenses will have a color photograph of the holder.

Another new act adds the inspection of steering, wheels, rims and seatbelts to the auto inspection law, and increases the inspection fee from $1 to $1.75.

Another act sets up the basic framework for a state traffic safety program and makes the governor the overall traffic safety director.

Other new laws include a requirement for wearing helmets by motorcycle riders licensing of commercial driver training schools and medical recommendations by the State Health Department in traffic safety programs.

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, said he felt the new laws would be "very beneficial in reducing deaths and property damage on our highways." He said the new acts

Levy Case Raises Legal Question

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (UPI)—A military judge today weighed an unprecedented legal question: Should Army doctors follow medical ethics or orders when they appear to be in conflict?

Col. Carl V. Brown, the law officer in the court martial of Capt. Howard Levy on disloyalty charges, said he would rule on the issue before the 10-officer board begins its deliberations later this week.

The defense rested Tuesday without calling Levy to testify about the Army's charge that he promoted disloyalty among troops and refused to teach medicine to U.S. Special Forces medics bound for Vietnam.

Five doctors, including famed baby specialist Benjamin Spock, testified that serious problems in medical ethics would be raised by an order to teach medicine to men whose primary mission is to kill.

Spock said he didn't get his view as a result of his opposition to the U.S. military effort in Vietnam. He said he got it because he is a doctor.

Capt. Peter Bourne, an Army psychiatrist who spent a year in Vietnam, said Army doctors traditionally have been permitted to choose ethics over regulations when they conflict.

"I would never suggest that a physician 'disobey' an order involving purely a military matter," Bourne said. "But where there is an order involving his medical ethics he should be permitted to make the decision."

Otherwise, Bourne said, "the quality of medical care in the Army will be considerably downgraded."

Chamber Agriculture Committee to Meet

Pampa Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee will meet at noon tomorrow in Jackson's Cafeteria to discuss the annual Top O' Texas Junior Livestock Show.

Rex McAnnelly, committee chairman, will conduct the luncheon meeting. Members will discuss the 1968 show and decide if any changes need to be made in the 1967 show and sale here.

were part of a long-range program of greater traffic safety in Texas.

Connally praised the new laws, which were part of his 1967 legislative program, as "the finest effort in modern times to provide tools our state and local governments need to try to cut the loss of lives and property damage on our streets and highways."

"Because of the high number of deaths last year, I think you will agree that these bills were needed to provide means and methods of enforcing highway safety in our state," he said.

The new driver license act and the helmets for motorcycle riders will go into effect next Jan. 1. The other acts are effective Sept. 1.

Pilots Blast Oil Storage Areas

SAIGON (UPI)— American warplanes today hit two oil storage areas on the fringe of the big North Vietnamese port of Haiphong, one of them for the first time in the war.

Military spokesmen said Navy pilots dodged through barrages of surface-to-air missiles (SAMs) and curtains of anti-aircraft fire to hit the Loi Dong base four miles northwest of Haiphong and Cong My, 3.5 miles from the city's center.

It was the first reported attack on Cong My and the fourth on Loi Dong.

The raids marked an end to a five-day lull in attacks on Haiphong and Hanoi, North Vietnam's major cities.

Some Washington reports had said pilots had been ordered to stay 10 miles clear of the cities. Local military spokesmen refused to make any comment on this.

U.S. spokesmen said two planes were shot down over North Vietnam Tuesday, making a total of 564 lost over the north.

In ground fighting, embattled North Vietnamese troops unleashed a blistering mortar barrage at pursuing Leathernecks today in an attempt to halt American onslaught just

Russia Sends 10 Warships Toward Mediterranean

Soviet Force Nears U.S. Navy 6th Fleet

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

Turkish authorities said the Soviet Union today sent the first of 10 warships through the Dardanelles toward the Mediterranean where the U.S. 6th Fleet is standing by in case of a war in the Middle East.

The Turkish foreign ministry identified the Soviet vessel as the 4,750-ton Magomet Gadzhiev and said it was escorted through the fog-shrouded strait by four unidentified escort vessels believed to be Turkish.

The ships of the Russian Black Sea fleet must traverse the Turkish-controlled Strait of Bosphorus, the Sea of Marmara, the Dardanelle Strait and the Aegean Sea to reach Mediterranean waters. The straits are used under the same international laws Israel says is denied it by the Egyptian blockade of the Strait of Tiran.

Turkish sources said the first Soviet ship to pass through the Dardanelles was the Magomet Gadzhiev, a 4,750-ton escort ship along with four 3.9 inch guns and eight 45 mm anti-aircraft guns. It is believed to carry a crew of about 300 men and to be designed for general support duties.

Following close behind on the passage through the Dardanelles were four vessels listed as the P111, P112, P113 and P114, believed to be motor torpedo boats.

Their appearance in the strategically important Dardanelles suddenly brought home to Turks the nearness of the Middle East crisis.

Istanbul newspapers today said the Soviets, in line with the Montreux Convention of 1936 requiring 24 hours notice to transit the Dardanelles in ships of war, had requested Turkish Government permission for passage of 10 warships.

Other sources in Ankara said the Soviets planned to send as many as 20 ships through in the next few days.

The fighting near the DMZ centered on bunkers the Communists have been using to harass the American outpost at Con Thien with mortar attacks.

In some of the war's most vicious fighting, the Leathernecks were trying to block at least three divisions of North Vietnamese troops from controlling the border. Two companies of the 4th Marine Regiment took Hill 174 Monday and the Memorial Day sweeps pushed against Communist bunkers surrounding the hill.

Turkey Nixes U.S. Aid To Israel There

America's defense partner Turkey has vowed not to allow U.S. military bases on her soil to be used against the Arabs in the current Middle East crisis, a semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today.

The reported siding of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) member against Israel came after reliable sources in Istanbul said 10 Soviet warships shortly will sail through the Turkish Dardanelles into the troubled eastern Mediterranean.

Turkey's Ambassador Semih Gunver also told Egyptian officials in Cairo there will be no Turkish military buildup on her border with Syria, Al-Ahram said. It said the envoy explained Turkey "fully understands the reasons which drove the United Arab Republic to take its recent political and strategic decisions."

There was no official confirmation of the Al-Ahram report. But in the Middle East, where Israelis and Arabs girded for war and the U.S. Navy's 6th Fleet ships in the Mediterranean had Soviet vessels shadowing them, Arabs celebrated.

Throngs of Jordanians cheered their King Hussein Tuesday upon his return from a dramatic four-hour Cairo visit in which he and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser buried the hatchet and formed a common front against Israel. They had been bitter opponents in Arab politics.

U.S. Pushing Navy As Key to Mideast

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An international naval force composed of warships of the major maritime powers is one of the ideas being considered by others as a means to insure freedom of passage in the Gulf of Aqaba.

This was disclosed today by authoritative sources who said the United States is quietly working behind the scenes to muster support among principal shipping nations for a cooperative effort of some sort to force Egypt to withdraw its announced blockade of the southern sea route to Israel.

Such a United Nations naval force of sorts, even though operating without specific sanction of the world organization, would relieve any single power of the necessity of breaking the blockade on its own.

The United States has been permitted since 1957 to enforce its right of free passage through the Strait of Tiran, but would want to take unilateral action only as a final recourse.

The multi-national force of warships is the most extreme of the cooperative efforts under consideration at present.

It would be hoped that even if the United Nations does not act in the Mideast crisis, cooperative pressure on Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser by a number of big sea powers would bring him to lift the blockade without the necessity for more direct action by warships.

Maritime countries likely to be canvassed in the enlistment effort would be Japan, the Netherlands, Scandinavian nations and other European sea powers.

There also are financial and economical levers which could be used against Nasser, whose economy is in bad shape with its treasury depleted by the cost of maintaining some 50,000 troops in Yemen in addition to supporting the forces with which he threatens Israel.

DeGaulle Freezes British Bid For Common Market

ROME (UPI)—French President Charles de Gaulle has effectively frozen a British bid for membership in the European Common Market at least until Christmas, informed sources said today.

At a Common Market summit held in Italy's foreign ministry, De Gaulle made it clear he was in no hurry to welcome Britain in the community.

Other market leaders headed home from the talks today. But De Gaulle extended his visit by a day for an official audience with Pope Paul VI and a trip to Venice.

The sole decision taken at the summit was an administrative agreement to merge the executive bodies of the three European communities — the Common Market, the coal-steel pool and Euratom, the European Atomic Energy Commission, into a single executive committee.

Rival Strongmen Of Nigeria Push Nation Near War

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI)— Nigerian ruler Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon today began applying pressure to break the secessionist move by eastern Nigeria without plunging the nation into civil war.

The eastern region's strongman Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu announced Tuesday the oil-rich section was seceding from Nigeria to become the "Republic of Biafra."

Gowon mobilized Nigeria's 10,000 federal troops, declared a state of emergency, began a sea blockade of the key eastern seaport of Port Harcourt and announced economic sanctions.

Easterners seemed untroubled by Gowon's stringent measures however. They danced far into the night in the eastern capital of Enugu, celebrating their independence and singing their new anthem of statehood.

Nigeria has been beset with bitter religious and tribal feuds and these rivalries produced a strong undercurrent of emotion in the secession move. Gowon comes from the north region which is predominantly Moslem, while the east section is mostly Christian.

Last July communal rioting in the northern region resulted in several thousand Christian tribesmen from the east being killed.

Ojukwu's independence proclamation was the first such move by an African nation since Katanga ruler Moise Tshombe pulled his province out of the bloody war that ended in Katanga's collapse.

An official statement by the federal government told Ojukwu that Gowon vowed to use force, if necessary, to break any secessionist move. The statement sparked fears that Gowon might send the federal army into the eastern region to put down the secession.

Such a move could start an all out civil war among Nigeria's 56 million population Africa's largest nation.

Stokely Says Police Trying To Kill Him

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)— Stokely Carmichael accused police Tuesday of trying to assassinate him by starting a racial riot in hopes of making him a street target for police guns.

Carmichael told a news conference that 100 policemen blocked streets in the area where he was staying during last month's rioting at Fisk University.

"One officer started shooting," he said, "in hopes that when we came outside, they could shoot us down in the street."

When no one left the apartment building, Carmichael said, police broke in and "placed bottles in there so they could accuse people of making Molotov cocktails."

Appearing with Carmichael at the conference was Ray Brown, who succeeded him as chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

Brown said that as a result of police action during the riots Nashville has been chosen as SNCC's prime project area.

Brown said SNCC's activities would be concerned with "field operations and would include an anti-draft project in high schools. He declined further elaboration.

Pampans Still Dry Despite Rainy Days

Rain reports from the Pampa area today indicated this area was sprinkled, showered and misted on last night, while other North Texas towns were hit by tornadoes, hail and heavy rains.

Within Pampa city limits only a trace fell last night. Rain reports from areas east, southwest, south and north ranged from "no measurable amount," to 1.0 of an inch.

Mrs. Emil Urbanczyk, south of city, said today farmers in her area had received no measurable amount last night, but measured .60 of an inch Friday night and a half inch Sunday.

"We need more rain bad, and need it to rain at least a week. The ground's so dry, it would have to rain for a week to make any creeks around here rise," Mrs. Urbanczyk said.

A shower sprinkled at H. H. Keahey's farm 13 miles south west of Pampa last night.

"We got about an inch since Friday, including the .60 of an inch Sunday night. This will do some good, but the ground's so dry it won't help much. It would help start the pastures up, but it won't be enough to plant any feed grain or do the wheat much good. Anyway, it's better than a dust storm," Keahey said.

North of Pampa about five miles, at the W. F. Taylor ranch, .10 of an inch fell last night, and a little over two inches since Friday, Mrs. Taylor said.

In the Laketon area, 19 miles east of Pampa, "a sprinkle, not enough to amount to anything," was reported by Mrs. Floyd McLaughlin.

Mrs. McLaughlin said Lakejon received .60 of an inch Friday night, .60 of an inch Sunday morning and a half inch Sunday night.

Amarillo weather bureau observers reported .34 of an inch from their office last night, and said .23 of an inch was reported from Borger.

Violent Death Rate Slows During Holiday

By United Press International

Americans, the most foot-loose people in the world, spent a relatively safe Memorial Day weekend although one motorist died on an average of every 10 minutes during the 102-hour holiday.

The National Safety Council, which had predicted before the start of the holiday that as many as 750 motorists might die in crashes, said the relatively low number of highway deaths indicated a reversal of pyramiding road fatalities.

The weekend ended at midnight Tuesday but delayed reports of deaths continued to push the holiday driving toll upward today.

At 8 a.m. CDT, the United Press International count showed 600 persons dead in traffic accidents during the holiday period.

The breakdown: Traffic 603, Drownings 138, Planes 32.

unlikely. In my opinion, motivation is in the child, not the teacher. A good teacher may help him develop it, but it won't come quickly through anything the teacher says or does.

Fashion Has Designs On Making Father A Swinger

By ROBERT COCHNAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Now, we all know that Father's Day is a clever commercial ploy designed to push us into retail stores to buy gifts for dad. Dads who happen to own department or clothing stores benefit most. They get gifts, of course, and profits.

Yet, why not pick a day to honor the old man? He probably needs socks anyway. And, boy, has Burlington a socko present for him! Seems that a smart lad in Burlington's sock division suggested, perhaps as a gimmick, packaging the full color line of socks and offering it as a present to end all presents.

The manufacturer, you see, has socks in 48 different colors. The price is $36. We're told that Mrs. William Scranton, wife of the former Pennsylvania governor, was among the first in line for the sock kit.

Combination gifts seem to be the thing this year. Perhaps the pop might be interested in Nine Flags' collection of cologne scents from nine different countries. There is, for example, "Manzanilla," a lightly spiced Spanish blend; "Patcham," an exotic scent from Hong Kong; and "Green Moss" from Ireland, a fresh aroma of lavender and violet leaves, moss extracts and incense.

The manufacturer also suggests that the extracts can be mixed to create a new distinctive scent. But be careful. We tried mixing a bunch of colognes once and wound up with the delightful aroma of old celery. If father is a fashion swinger, he'll know that white is very right this summer and would probably appreciate a white linen-blend sports jacket and-or jacket with traced waist and deep side vents would push him to the top of the fashion heap.

Or, consider a couple of bold business shirts. Deep blue, hot pink and bright yellow are popular colors and work well with light or white suits.

A summer hat is not only fashionable, but it is practical. Running around hatless with the hot sun baking your head is not recommended. If you need a medical reason as an excuse to try a new lid, fine. Take a look at the new straws. They're handsome and moderately priced. The man who's longing for the Roaring '20s look should certainly investigate a straw boater.

The current number of Men's Bazaar, a new fashion bi-annual edited by the almost impossibly fashionable J. Allen Murphy, is a handsome magazine stuffed with neat gift ideas for Father's Day.

At first, you may have a bit of trouble swallowing the gosh-gee faintly breathless prose, but once you get the meter, everything flows. There's an illustrated section on jungle prints. Here's what Murphy's men say:

"From the teeming jungles of Africa, the pangs of Mexico, the pampas of Brazil (we thought it was in Argentina—writer's comment) comes the inspiration for a brilliant plethora of jungle prints to brighten American casual wear with an explosion of color, vivid patterns.

"This summer's sportshirts, jackets and slacks trousers are stamped and printed with the widest (and subtlest) abstract,

U.S. Officer Leaves Things Unsaid Until After Death

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Capt. Gerald A. Brown knew about Vietnam. He knew he might die. He did, May 16.

But before he died — almost a year before his death — he wrote his mother, Mrs. L. F. Spaulding of (6312 Circle Trail), Fort Worth, a letter and mailed it to a friend to give her if he was shot.

Brown was buried Friday, and his mother was given the letter, it said: June 1, 1966

There are a few of the things that were always left unsaid for some reason or other. First, I loved you very much, and was always very grateful for the many blessings that you saw that I was provided with. Sometimes we didn't say "I love you," enough, so I just wanted to make sure I didn't take off without making sure you understood how much I cared for you.

Second, do not be bitter or have doubts over the cause of my death. If I go fighting for my country, or for the people in Vietnam, then I go by my own free will because it is right. It is right because:

(1) It is God's will that we love all our fellow men—regardless of race, creed or color. This I believe, and for this I willingly fought. There is good in every single human, and one needs to look until you find it.

(2) I am an American. I believe in our country and in all of the ideals on which it was founded, and I prefer death rather than to be guilty of not defending it or its principles to the maximum. By the same token, if a man asks me or my country for help—then he should expect to be able to receive it. Not just money, but a personal, individual American to his problem. It was my turn to fulfill this individual commitment, and I could not ignore my duty.

(3) I believe in God, and it is only through personal commitment that his will is accomplished. At least I have tried. Read Hebrews 11, that was the source of my strength.

Those are my reasons, and whether you understand them or not, I don't know. But I did, and that is sufficient.

Do not be sad, and for Pete's sake don't play a lot of sad songs at my funeral. If you must play music by all means play "When The Saints Go Marching In" (and play a good jazzy version of it too). Also, the beautiful sound of taps played on a good bugle was always great—but end it with a rousing charge. You may rest assured that by the time you read this I will be hard at work in God's angel corps or swapping yarns with his heavenly garden (watermelons—what else?). So don't cry over me, I'll be just as happy as I always was.

Goodbye for a while. Until we meet again in Heaven, remember—

I love you,
Jerry

State Drivers Slowed Down, And Lived

By United Press International

Texas drivers on Memorial Day slowed down and lived. Compared to the large number of traffic fatalities at the beginning of the holiday weekend, there were very few violent deaths in the state on the holiday itself.

A United Press International count which began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Tuesday showed at least 59 persons died violently in the state.

Of this number, 31 persons died on the streets and highways. There were also 14 homicides, three drownings, seven miscellaneous violent deaths and one person died in a plane wreck.

The victim of the plane crash was Dr. William R. Thornton, an Amarillo physician. The four-seater Beechcraft Debonair was rented crashed Tuesday near Conway, shortly after takeoff from Amarillo's Trade Winds Airport.

Emric T. Sturm, 54, of Beville, was killed Memorial Day in a two-car head-on collision two miles east of Taft on U.S. 181.

There were two shooting deaths in the state Tuesday. Jubert Lankras, 43, of Houston was shot in the stomach in a Houston cafe, and J. F. Whitehurst, 62, of Corpus Christi died in his home of gunshot wounds.

Turkey

Jordan continued broadcasting attacks on Syria. Saudi Arabia, although sided with Cairo against Israel, had not at least not yet gone to the length of signing a defense treaty with its Egyptian political foe.

But the events that excited the crowds of Amman and Cairo did nothing to settle the crisis. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban grimly told newsmen Tuesday his nation would wait only "a short time" to give the world's diplomats time to lift the Arab blockade of the Israeli port of Elath and settle the Middle East crisis.

The diplomatic front showed little success. In Paris, the government received Moscow's rejection of President Charles de Gaulle's bid for a U.S.-Soviet-British-French conference to engineer peace in the Middle East.

America, Russia Debate

At the United Nations in New York the Security Council was continuing a round of bitter discussions that brought America and Russia to furious debate; but the crisis seemingly no nearer settlement.

The diplomats still had time. But no one appeared to know how much. Many said time was as short as Eban indicated when he told newsmen Israel would act alone if necessary to free Elath's shipping rights.

Rain

from the Weather Bureau indicated Childress, southeast of Pampa received .60 of an inch; Dalhart, northwest, .50; Perryton, north, a trace; and Bushland, west, .10 of an inch.

Oklahoma areas reporting rain were Hobart, .32 of an inch; Guymon, a trace and Gage, .01 of an inch.

New Mexico rain reports into the bureau office were Tucumcari, .11 of an inch; Clayton, .20 of an inch; and Navasoto, .03 of an inch. Roswell and Clovis, which usually report, if any measurable moisture fell, did not send in any amount.

More rain sloshed down today on North Texas areas that already had received 24 hour totals of more than seven inches. At least seven tornadoes were sighted Tuesday in North Central parts of the state.

A severe thunderstorm alert in North Central and Northeast Texas generally west of a line from Clarksville through Mount Pleasant and Tyler to Jacksonville was canceled earlier today.

Siddell, on the Denton County-Wise County line, reported 7.10 inches of rain in 24 hours. Other heavy rainfall reports included Decatur, 6.98 inches; Farmer'sville, 3.65; McKinney, 3; Muenster, 3.36; Pilot Point, 5.08; Sherman, 4.64; Trenton, 5.55; Valley View, 5.09, and Sherman, 4.22.

Little Damage

No injuries and little or no damage was reported in the tornadoes. Although most of the rain was in North Central and Northeast Texas, many points in the Panhandle reported up to half an inch of rainfall. Additional rain was reported in Southwest Texas.

Local flooding, hail and gusty winds hit Mineola in East Texas today. The total rainfall accumulation in Paris, in Northeast Texas, for the week was 6.5 inches, most of it Tuesday night and today.

More thunderstorms and rains were predicted for northern and eastern parts of the state though Thursday. South Texas also, was expected, to get rain.

Differences in the Selective Service Act of 1967 as passed by both the House and Senate will be ironed out by a conference committee this week. The Bill passed by the House extends the present Draft Act and related laws for four years and updates and improves the present Selective Service System in a number of ways:

1. A National Manpower Resources Board is established which, in conjunction with the National Security Council, will identify those professional, scientific and critical skill areas that justify a draft deferment.
2. Before any change in the existing method of determining the relative order of induction for registrants within the various age groups may be effected, the President is required to advise Congress that such change is in the national interest. The proposed change will become effective after the expiration of a 60-day period unless Congress adopts a resolution rejecting the change.
3. A method of maintaining the authorized strengths of the Reserve and the National Guard is provided.
4. Uniform criteria for future undergraduate college student deferments are established. Students receiving such deferments shall be placed in the prime age group liable for induction after they leave school, receive a degree or attain age 24, whichever occurs first.
5. The President is required to establish, whenever practicable, national criteria for the classification of persons subject to induction. Such criteria shall be administered uniformly by all local boards.
6. Those opposed to participation in war in any form by reason of religious training and belief shall be exempt from service in the Armed Forces. Conscientious objectors will be required, if selected for induction to perform noncombatant duty or two years of civilian service if they are conscientiously opposed to both combatant and noncombatant training and service.
7. Individuals are prohibited from serving on local or appeal boards after they have completed 25 years of service or attained age 75. Also, women may be appointed to serve on such boards. The order of call for eligible registrants will be revised so that those in the younger age group would be called to active duty first. Under the present system of priorities for induction, the oldest are selected first from the age group of 26 years and under. This system has resulted in considerable uncertainty. An individual classified as available at 18½ remains subject to possible induction until he reaches his 26th birthday date. Moreover, the degree of his exposure to induction increases directly with his age and reaches its maximum point on the day before he reaches age 26. The younger men, as a group, are more adaptable to the routines of military training and there are fewer dependents' problems at those ages. Also, the man who is out on bond and awaiting action of a Gray County grand jury.

awaiting a draft call has greater difficulty in finding and keeping suitable employment. I believe that a system of carefully controlled student deferments should be continued. As noted by the American Council on Education, "Students are deferred for the National, not individual interests." If student deferments were abolished, the future supply of doctors, lawyers, college professors, research scientists, graduate engineers and other specialists could be seriously threatened. Moreover, in order to insure a maximum degree of fairness, those receiving student deferments shall not be eligible for another deferment except in extreme hardship cases. And, on termination of the student deferment, the individual shall be immediately liable for induction as a registrant within the prime age group regardless of his actual age.

The proposed National Manpower Resources Board, in conjunction with the National Security Council, will identify those occupations, professions and areas of postgraduate study that are critically required in the national interest study that warrant a deferred status. Under this procedure, the number of deferments presently granted to students engaged in graduate study would be sharply reduced. The board also would identify skilled trade areas critical to the national interest which requires continuation of apprenticeship programs. Trainees in such programs would be provided a deferred status similar to that provided college undergraduate students.

In the past, diverse classification actions by local boards have created certain inequities. The changes in the law embodied in the proposed bill should materially reduce, if not eliminate, this problem. Certainly, the uniform standards for student deferments together with draft calls concentrate on the younger age group should improve the handling of future registrants. Also, the President is required to establish, wherever practicable, national criteria for the classification of persons subject to induction under the Draft Act.

Although there is an acknowledged need for certain improvements, I believe that the Selective Service System, has for the most part, operated successfully over the last 26 years. The soundness of the system has been proven through its demonstrated ability to meet rapidly fluctuating conditions. During this 26-year period, approximately 14 million men have been inducted into the Armed Services without any adverse effect on the economy of the nation. There has never been a scandal arising out of the administration of this law and there is today public confidence of the basic honesty of the system. The continued use of local boards and the appointment of individuals to such boards on the recommendation of the Governor insures that the control of the system shall remain at the local and state level.

Highlights and Sidelights From Capitol

60TH YEAR THE PANAMA DAILY NEWS WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1967

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — State Legislators wound up their 60th session here on schedule, despite a hectic flurry of last-minute assignments and left behind a far-reaching record of achievement in many areas.
No one can deny that there were some notable failures. But the accomplishments were impressive.
Here is a random look at some of the session's highlights:
—BUDGET—Lawmakers agreed on $2,400,000,000 in spending ($446,300,000 from general revenue) for 1968, without passing a tax bill. They will come back next year to budget for 1969. Funds provide for substantial increases in all areas of state government, including education, health, general administration and welfare.

—SCHOOL TEACHERS—After requesting a $68,000,000 salary increase program and being offered $55,500,000 by the Senate, teachers finally got $51,000,000.
—STATE EMPLOYEES—These workers came up with their most substantial salary benefits in history. Raises averaged about 14 per cent and ranged up to 30 per cent and more in some salaries.
—MEDICAID—Title 19 hospitalization and medical aid to the needy—most dramatic step in public welfare since launching of social security—was implemented for Texas by passage of a special act and appropriation of nearly $25,000,000.
—EDUCATION—Money was made available for 2,500,000 public school pupils and a 26 per cent increase in higher education spending. Junior college appropriations were increased from $13,800,000 to $24,400,000.

—CITY SALES TAX—Cities got the authority they sought to supplement their property tax income by levying one per cent sales taxes on vote of their citizens after next August.
—LABOR—Although defeated on minimum wage legislation and workmen's compensation law revision, labor came to terms with management on a compromise industrial safety act and an increase in unemployment compensation benefits from a maximum of $37 to $47 a week.
—CONSUMER CREDIT—State's first consumer credit code regulates lending at all levels. Rates of up to 240 per cent on very small loans stirred controversy, but the bill passed by big margins.
—TRAFFIC SAFETY—Major part of Gov. John Connally's recommended highway safety program was approved. It included a new drivers' license act, an auto inspection bill and establishment of a traffic program to be administered by the Governor.
—OPEN MEETINGS—Another Texas legislative first, an act to require open meetings of governmental agencies at all levels was signed into law by the Governor who termed it "a great step forward to provide a means whereby the public can be more informed on governmental and public affairs."

—REAPPORTIONMENT—Legislators agreed on both congressional and state House of Representatives redistricting. However, they could not get together on judicial reapportionment.
—WATER—Texas Water Development Board received $1,200,000 more for its operations and completion of a statewide master plan. Texas Water Rights Commission got a boost of $484,622 to aid in administering the new water rights adjudication act which also is a product of the 60th session.
—POLLUTION—Strengthened Water Pollution Control Board got $13,100,000 for its 1968 operations. Air pollution control measure also became law.
—SUNDAY CLOSING—Lawmakers tightened Sunday closing laws by repealing the "emergency purchase" provisions of the old law.
Key recommendations of Gov. Connally which failed to clear the Legislature were proposals for sweeping revision of the state constitution by a 450 member convention and legalized sale of liquor by the drink.
Bill to legalize paramutual wagering on horse races never came to a showdown vote, but a referendum on the issue was approved for inclusion on next May's Democratic and Republican primary election ballots.
CONNALLY VETOES—Most of the bills passed by the Legislature are signed into law. But once in a while the governor vetoes a measure. One he vetoed would have allowed cigarette distributors to make payment for cigarette stamps purchased from the state within 15 days after the purchase rather than when the purchase is made.
Connally said he vetoed the bill because, although it would have required the distributors buying on credit to put up a bond, "this surety bond does not change the constitutionality of pledging the state's credit."
In addition, the Governor said the state comptroller has informed him that "the general revenue fund in the treasury would lose approximately $5,500,000 during this current fiscal year because of the delay in payments for cigarette stamps."
LEGISLATORS' PAY—Both Houses approved — and the people will get a chance to vote on — the proposed constitutional amendment which would raise the salaries of legislators from the current $4,800 to a maximum of $8,400.
Measure, authored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, will be placed on the ballot in the next general election to let the voters decide whether they want to raise the salaries of their representatives and senators.
EDUCATION FUNDS DISTRIBUTED—Governor Connally has approved an expenditure of more than $1,000,000 requested by the Texas Education Agency under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act for educational planning in a variety of fields.
Some $67,500 will go to schools in Edinburg, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Orange, Kilgore, Mount Pleasant, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Waco, Abilene, San Angelo, Lubbock, Midland, El Paso and San Antonio. Bryan and

A&M school districts each will receive $22,500.
Money can go for salaries, consultant fees and travel. Grants soon will be transferred to the board of directors for the Education Service Center in each geographic region of the state.
COURTS SPEAK—Supreme Court will hear arguments on the right of cities to tax buses used in interstate traffic. Case arose from Fort Worth's taxing 277 Greyhound buses.
Third Court of Civil Appeals refused to subscribe to "doctrine of recent origin" which would increase by $100,000 damages awarded the heirs of four men killed in a Colorado plane crash. Heirs had sued Mustang Aviation, Inc. of Dallas.
ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—Galveston County Memorial Hospital employees and other public workers have the right to be represented by a labor union if the union does not claim the right to strike or bargain collectively. Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.
In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:
—Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners may use the test pool examination of the National League for Nursing as its licensure examination as long as it proves adequate to meet state statutory requirements.
—Water control and improvement districts do not have the authority to acquire and maintain fire-fighting facilities and equipment.
SHORT SNORTS
Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Sequin, for 16 years national Democratic committee-woman from Texas and also former vice chairman of the State Democratic Committee, was honored in ceremonies during the closing week of the legislative session and her portrait was placed in the state senate reception room.
House of Representatives recessed Friday to attend funeral services for Rep. Ira Kohler of Houston.

Texas retail sales dropped eight per cent in April, according to UT's Bureau of Business Research.
In its hurry to adjourn before the Legislature's 140 days were up, the Senate passed 200 bills in a single day — most of them local and uncontested.
Bobil Weevils
Recent U.S. Department of Agriculture report says that boll weevil survival in 1967 is higher than in 1966. In Central Texas, the average count this spring was 1,292 weevils per acre compared with 1,098 in 1966. In nearly all areas of the South where counts were made, the report said enough weevils will emerge to cause serious trouble if the weather is favorable.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Reds Tripple Up

By United Press International
It wound up with a perfect Bob Shaw started for the Mets. Dick Hughes was dreaming of Tuesday night.

Hughes pitched a perfect game through seven innings and was protecting a 1-0 lead for the St. Louis Cardinals when he was touched for two runs in the eighth.

The perfect ending was then supplied by Don Nottebart, who came out of the Cincinnati bullpen in the ninth with runners on first and third and none out and threw one pitch. The Reds turned it into a triple over the Cards and extend their National League lead to 2 1/2 games.

Nottebart, who'd never ever seen a triple play, laughed, I just stood there turning my head in a circle and everywhere I looked an umpire was throwing up his right hand."

Perfect Play
The triple play started when Phil Gagliano hit Nottebart's pitch at shortstop Leo Cardenas, who fired to Tommy Helms at second to force Tim McCarver. Helms pegged to first baseman Deron Johnson to retire Gagliano. Johnson then threw to catcher John Edwards to cut down Orlando Cepeda, who had hesitated before trying to score from third, to complete the triple play.

The Reds-Cards night game was the feature of the long day and night of holiday action although Jim Bunning homered in the ninth to snap Juan Marichal's eight-game winning streak and give the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants in another key contest. In the other single game, KOS Angeles topped New York 7-2 and in doubleheaders, Pittsburgh beat Houston 4-3 in the second game after losing the opener 3-2 and Atlanta topped Chicago 4-1 after losing the first game, 12-5.

There were five doubleheaders in the American league and Detroit, Boston and Washington all swept two games. Detroit topped Chicago 4-2 and 4-3. Boston beat California 5-4 and 6-1. Washington edged Kansas City 6-2 and 4-3 in 11 innings. Minnesota topped New York 3-0 after losing the opening game 4-3 and Cleveland edged Baltimore 3-2 after losing the first game 5-4.

End Winning Streak
Bunning's homer in the ninth snapped a 4-1 tie and broke Marichal's win streak. Marichal was also touched for a two-run homer in the first by John Briggs, solo homer, in the seventh by Clay Dalrymple and an unearned run in the eighth.

Donn Clendenon doubled in an eighth inning run to give the Pirates their second game victory over Houston and the split. Eddie Matthews' two-run eighth inning homer—his third of the season and 496th of his career—had tied the game before Clendenon connected. In the first game, Don Wilson pitched his first complete game and Rusty Staub hit a sixth inning homer to hand Houston the triumph.

Mack Jones drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a triple to hand Atlanta its split with Chicago. Ken Johnson pitched a seven hitter to pick up the victory. In the opener, Ferguson Jenkins struck out 12 and scattered eight hits to win it for the Cubs. He also drove in three runs with a double and a sacrifice fly.

Willie Davis and Len Gabrielson each batted in a pair of runs as the Dodgers topped the Mets. Don Sutton pitched a five hitter to win the game while Bob Dickson of Muskogee, and lost.

Dickson Carries US Hopes in British Golf

FORMBY, England (UPI)—ending but it wasn't the kind of a today was the main American hope to win the British Amateur golf championship in the wake of Bill Campbell's stunning defeat Tuesday.

Dickson met English stockbroker Rodney James in the first round Tuesday by beating England's John Cook 4 and 2. Dickson had drawn a bye into the second round.

Nine Americans were victorious Tuesday, three of them in the opening stages of the second round. There are now 16 American survivors since seven had byes Tuesday.

Campbell Upset
But Campbell, the tourney favorite whose hot putter suddenly went awry, was upset in the second round by Englishman Tim Bull 4 and 3.

Campbell's defeat was the most surprising outcome of the tourney so far and left Dickson the new favorite.

"It was not a case of nerves, I just did not have it today," Campbell said, "and he sank some pretty good putts. I can't take that away from him."

Campbell, the 44-year-old insurance man from Huntington, W.Va., has been enjoying some of the finest golf of his career. He led the U.S. to its Walker Cup triumph earlier this month and had been turning in excellent rounds on Formby's 6,854-yard, par-72 layout.

"I'm bitterly disappointed," Campbell said. "I had my heart set on the British Amateur but I didn't have my mind on my worst round in the last six months."

Dickson shot five birdies while defeating his 17-year-old opponent.

Fleckman, Murphy Win
Walker Cup stars Marty Fleckman of Houston and Bob Murphy of Nichols, Fla., easily won first round matches and Jim Grant of Wethersfield, Conn., another Walker Cupper, topped Marine Cpl. Pat Baker of Santa Ana, Calif., 3 and 1 in a second round duel.

The most surprising American victory was turned in by Air Force Capt. John Konek of Buffalo, N.Y., who stunned British Walker Cup star Rodney Foster 2 and 1.

Konek clinched the victory on the 17th when Foster took a double bogey.

Other American winners included Larry Hinson of Johnson City, Tenn., a 4 and 3 winner over John Linacker; Hunter MacDonald of Detroit, a 2 and 1 victor over Dick De Ployd, and Dan Frederickson of Glendale, Calif., a 6 and 5 winner over Haynes Richardson of Athens, Ga.

'Mr. Chairman' Hangs 'Em Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—After 17 years as the New York Yankees' clutch pitching ace, Whitey Ford today tackled his toughest job—retirement.

"I didn't think this job of retiring would be as tough as it turned out to be," said Ford, who called it quits Tuesday after an illustrious career that catapulted him to the top of the all-time Yankee winning list.

The 38-year-old lefthander, plagued by arm trouble for the past few seasons, was forced into retirement by a painful bone spur in his left elbow. His last major league appearance came on Sunday, May 21, at Detroit, where he pitched one inning before leaving with an injured elbow.

He left the club and returned to New York for an examination by club physician Dr. Sidney Gaynor.

"I thought about it (retiring) when I walked off the mound last week," said Ford at a press conference preceding the Yankees' Memorial Day doubleheader with the Minnesota Twins. "I talked it over with my wife and Dr. Gaynor. I realized I'd be wasting my time if I continued."

Announces Retirement
Ford had planned to test his arm before the doubleheader but decided against it. He appeared at the field a few moments before game time, dressed in a blue suit. He waved to the fans who cheered him and then adjourned to the press conference to announce his retirement as a player.

Ford wiped his eyes as president Michael Burke of the Yankees announced the placing of Ford on the voluntary retired list. Burke also said that the veteran lefthander will be assigned as a special scout in the team's organization.

"His loss leaves us poorer than before," said Burke. "We obviously can never replace him in kind because he is one of a kind."

1st add 000; xxx a kind.
Ford, who learned to pitch after being turned down as a first baseman in a Yankee tryout camp, signed for an estimated $7,000 bonus in October, 1946. A native New Yorker from Astoria, Queens, Ford was called up from Kansas City, then in the American Association, midway through the 1950 season and reeled off nine victories against one loss and picked up a World Series triumph as the Yankees swept the Philadelphia Phillies.

High Percentage
After two years in the Army, Ford returned in 1953 to post an 18-6 mark and continued to win 236 games against 106 losses for a .690 percentage—highest of any pitcher in baseball history with 200 or more victories.

The little southpaw twice underwent operations to cure circulatory ailments and rather than undergo a third, made his decision to leave baseball.

"I think I've made the right decision—I know I've made the right decision," he said.

Asked if he'd accomplished everything he wanted to, he laughed and quipped: "I came up wearing $50 suits and I got out wearing $200 suits. I guess I accomplished everything I wanted to.

Ford leaves baseball holding the record for most World Series victories (10) and most consecutive shutouts (innings in World Series play (32 2-3).

INTERNATIONAL TISS
MUNICH (UPI)—Ken Mackler, commissioner of the National Professional Soccer League, was scheduled to arrive here today to discuss the matter of affiliation for his league with the Federation International Football Association (FIFA).

Mackler, who will meet with FIFA chairman Sir Stanley Raas if time permits, was accompanied by Peter Elser, chairman of the New York Generals.

REVOLUTIONARY DESIGNS of the Granatelli car are causing most of the noise at Indianapolis, even though its turbine-powered engine is practically silent. Features include motor at the side of the driver, four-wheel drive and kerosene fuel. Parnelli Jones drives the car in the annual 500-mile Memorial Day race which resumed today.

WEATHER STILL CLOUDY

Jones, Turbine Tops

By United Press International
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The drivers and many of the speedway buffs suspected it all along. Now, after seeing the 18-lap first installment of Tuesday's aborted 500-mile auto race, they know that Parnelli Jones and his turbine wonder are the pair to beat when the cars roar off again today. And Mario Andretti, auto racing's cover boy, will need a ton of luck to catch up.

Thirty-one racers were stacked up in single file behind Parnelli's revolutionary turbine-powered monster in the same order as when the rains came Tuesday, slicking the historic "brickyard" of Indy and forcing the first postponement of the traditional Memorial Day speed classic since 1915.

Andretti Drops Back
Andretti, the pole sitter and the fastest man ever to blaze around the speedway track, was in the 31st slot of the field of 32 awaiting the go-ahead signal at 10 a.m. CDT. His car was plagued with clutch trouble and he was lucky to be there.

Prospects were not bright for today's installment of this continuing "500." The weather bureau said there was a 40 per cent chance of rain. Race officials said all of the some 300,000 tickets sold for the race, carried rainchecks which would be honored whenever it is finally completed.

It was highly doubtful, however, whether all of the 300,000 who got soaked in Tuesday's chill may rain and then slogged through the Indiana mud to their cars would be around today.

Rains Halt Race
The race was only 18 minutes old, Andretti's rear-engine Ford was in the pits with clutch trouble, and Jones was blazing silently around the course with three lap speed records already under his belt when the rains and the red flag came down Tuesday. Jones, the 1953 "500" winner, was already beginning to lap the slow starters with 45 of the 500 miles covered.

Jones passed four cars streaking around the first turn. Tooling into the second turn, the "terrible turbine" showed its exhaust to Andretti.

Jones set records for one lap treatment special was to lead at 154.74 miles an hour, for two 154.477.

Jones' bright red 'STP' oil boat today. Behing him were the Indiana file starters to the post today. Behind him were Don Gurney, A.J. Foyt, Joe Leonard, Al Unser, Art Pollard, Bobby Unser, Gordon Johncock, Jim McElreath and Roger McCluskey.

PCC Club Partnership This Weekend

Tournament Chairman Elmer Wilson said today that deadline for entries in the annual Pampa Country Club Partnership Golf Tournament is Friday.

All club members who plan to enter the tournament must have their names in by Friday at 6 p.m.

Dr. Frank Kelley and Jim Tripplehorn will be back to defend the title they won last year in the 36-hole event.

Golfers, male and female, will play 18 holes each on Saturday and Sunday with low ball the order of the day Saturday.

Sunday will be scotch play with selective drive taken. Wilson also announced that the annual guest-member tournament slated July 8-9 has been cancelled and would not be played this year.

Rickey Snaps Losing Streak in Davis

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Cliff Rickey of San Angelo, Tex., has snapped a personal losing streak in Davis Cup play to bolster the United States chances of gaining the Chal-lenge Round.
 Rickey completed a 4-1 victory for the U.S. over Mexico Tuesday when he outlasted Marcelo Lara, 8-5, 3-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4, in a match held over from Monday because of rain. The contest was resumed with Rickey leading 3-2 in the third set.
 The 30-year-old Rickey, ranked fifth in the U.S., had lost two singles matches against Brazil last year and he lost to Mexico's Rafael Osuna on the record and a 5.14 earned run average.

LOOKING BACK is supposed to be taboo in sports, but this jockey just wanted to make sure of the field as he neared the finish line. He still finished first at Aqueduct Race Track in New York.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Tigers Have a Bear

By United Press International
 scoreless string this season to 20 1-3 innings.
Winds Up Two
 Gladding struck out Tommy Agee to end the nightcap which he saved for reliever Dave Wickersham with one hitless inning. He hurled 2-1-3 innings of one hit ball in the first game, preserving Earl Wilson's seventh triumph.
 Boston and Washington also scored sweeps on the holiday schedule. The Red Sox defeated California 5-4 and 6-1, while the Senators took the measure of Kansas City 6-2 and 4-3 in a game which lasted 11 innings. Cleveland beat Baltimore 3-2 after the Orioles had won the opener 5-4 and New York topped Minnesota 4-3 before being blanked 3-0.
 Willie Horton provided the clutch hitting for the Tigers, singling home Al Kaline with saves Sunday as the Tigers moved into first place with a 4-2 and 4-3 doubleheader sweep over the Chicago White Sox. In the process, Gladding ran his the deciding run in the sixth inning of the first game and a solo homer in the eighth after Don Wert had hit two base-empty blasts.

Pinch Hit Wins
 Tony Horton's double, his sixth pinch hit in 13 attempts, Grove in Reggie Smith with the winning run for the Red Sox in the eighth inning of the opener and Rico Petrocelli produced a pair of runs with a single and squeeze bunt base hit in the second game before a crowd of 32,012, the largest at Fenway Park in nearly five years. Dan Osinski won the first game in relief and Dennis Bennett pitched a five-hitter in the nightcap.
 Frank Howard drove in all six Washington runs in the first game with two homers, the second a grand slam, and Cap Peterson won the second game with an 11th-inning blast over the left field fence after Fred Valentine had pulled the Senators even in the ninth with a solo homer.
 S.M. McDowell weathered Frank Robinson's two-run homer, his 14th, and went the distance for the first time this season, limiting the Orioles to three hits. Russ Snyder drove in the eventual winning run and scored a pair with three straight hits in boosting Baltimore to its first-game victory.
 Southpaw Jim Merritt threw a two-hitter and his second consecutive shutout at the Yankees, striking out 11. He coasted to his third victory in as many decisions after the Twins scored three runs in the first inning on four consecutive hits and two errors. Steve Whitaker drove in three runs with a homer and triple as the Yankees won the first game before a crowd of 41,136, the 11th-inning blast over the left field fence after Fred

Cerrudo Feels Like a Winner
 NEW YORK (NEA)—When Ron Cerrudo tees up in a two-some with Arnold Palmer or Jack Nicklaus or Sam Snead, he feels, in his own words, "like one of the family." Although, to the general public, he might just as well be Arnold Zenker.
 The difference between Ron and the others is that they might walk away from the round of golf with a pay-off of $20,000, while he has to settle for a silver trinket to prove his heart is pure and his spirit loyal to amateurism.
 He's not worried. His will come some day.
 Ron is a 22-year-old husky out of San Rafael, Calif., and it's freely acknowledged that he'll be the next glamor prospect to join the professional tour, maybe next October. Ron can't afford to think of the idea, even in psychedelic fancy, because it would transgress his commitment as an amateur.
 But let's look at the facts. His dad, a food broker in the Castro Valley, had to borrow $2,500 against Ron's life insurance policy to finance the youngster's meanderings to such places as the Pensacola Open (where he shot two 66s in a row) and the Masters Tournament. Ron theoretically works for an auto agency in northern California, but he can't actively sell cars on his travels because the amateur fathers would interpret that as using golf immorally.
 He has a healthy appetite, a semimod hair styling and likes to dress well.

DEAN CHANCE good enough

Old Pros Head Open Qualifying
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Three old pros, Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff and Tommy Bolt, and amateur Bill Campbell will be among the 536 golfers competing in the sectional qualifying championships for the $75,000 U.S. Open next week.
 The sectionals will be played over 36-holes of stroke play and will be held at seven sites on Monday, June 5, and seven different locations on June 6. The Open is to be played at the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N.J., June 15-18.
 Snead, who never has won an Open championship, will play at Detroit, with Kel Nagle, the second place finisher in the 1965 Open, Bob Rosburg, Walter Burkemo, Tom Weiskopf, Cobie LaGrange and Rex Baxter.
 Middlecoff and Bolt will be among those playing at Memphis. Others in the qualifying field are Lionel and Jay Hebert, Jack Burke, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Lou Graham, Randy Glover, Tommy Jacobs, Dan Sikes, Dave Ragan and Charles Coody.
 Campbell, who led the Americans to a Walker Cup victory over Britain earlier this month, will play with Ramon Sota of Spain and former amateur star Deane Beman at Washington qualifying site.
 Former PGA champions Doug Ford and Jim Turnesa, along with Tom Nieporte, Jerry Pittman, Paul Harney, Bill Fagrell and Walker Cup players Ron Cerrudo, Jim Grant and Marty Fleckman, will shoot in New York.
 Other sectional qualifying sites are at Denver, Chicago, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Portland, Ore., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington, Atlanta, Pittsburgh and Dallas.
 Of the 150 players who will be eligible for the Open, 123 will be decided through the sectional qualifying rounds. The remaining 27 drew exemptions from all qualifying.

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Freedom of Speech: Two-Way Street

President Johnson said recently:

"We must guard every man's right to speak, but we must defend every man's right to answer."

It is not a statement that will appeal to the dissenters at whom it was directed, says Don Oakley, writing for Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.

The first clause offends because it punctures the aura of martyrdom in which a few of the protesters against the war in Vietnam in particular and the government in general have wrapped themselves. It is difficult to be a martyr to a cause when authority defends your right to embrace that cause.

And since the President obviously includes himself and his administration in the second half of his sentence, this, too, will offend some of the dissenters.

To a small but loud-spoken minority of them, freedom of speech seems to mean the right to call the President of the United States a "buffoon," his secretary of defense a "racist" and his secretary of state a "murderer." It does not entail the right of these men to reply.

The President's statement should now make it clear that this is neither his way nor the traditional American way of doing things.

It is unfortunate that there have been some attempts, in and out of government, to equate dissent with disloyalty or to shift the responsibility for the war on those who oppose it.

Even if the President himself may occasionally default on his own words in defense of dissent, the fact remains that the war dissenters are and have been and will continue to be free to express themselves all they want.

That they have so far failed to sway either the government or any great numbers of the people is more an indictment of their ideas and tactics than would be any misguided official or unofficial attempts to suppress them.

History will determine whether the dissenters are right or wrong about Vietnam. But one thing can be said with certainty today: The President was never more right than when he said that freedom of speech will never harm America "as long as we remember it is a two-way street."

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

One of the most thrilling sights on a visit to Yellowstone National Park is the eruption of Old Faithful, the famous geyser, which spurts water and steam at regular intervals. Although it is the popular belief that you can set your watch by the eruptions, a National Park Ranger tells us you cannot because the intervals aren't regular. He says they range from a half hour to an hour and one-half. Incidentally, the word "geyser" comes from the Icelandic language and aptly means "gusher."

Today's smile: A college student took his date to dinner at a fancy restaurant, and after eyeing the prices on the menu, contemplated his short bankroll. Finally, he said to her: "Enjoy your dinner, but remember we've got to leave promptly at 8:50."

A doctor friend tells us that the old notion that sleep before midnight is more restful and valuable than the sleep you get in the wee hours of the morning is not true. He said it is probably based on the fact one sleeps more soundly for the first couple of hours after retiring. But he says it doesn't matter when you go to bed as far as restfulness is concerned. That's good to know. The world's largest trade union isn't bossed by Jimmy Hoffa or Walter Reuther or Dave Dubinsky. It's a West German metal worker's organization that boasts of nearly two million members.

And Americans are not the world's greatest beer drinkers either. The Belgians claim that distinction since consumption of the foamy brew in that country runs to about 30 gallons per person a year.

Thoughts while shaving: Noticing the great number of young fellows with long hair recalled that when we were young if you needed a haircut your playmates would remind you, saying: "You owe the barber a quarter." One could get their locks trimmed or get a baldy in those days for 25 cents. Today most barbers turn up their noses if you offer them that for a tip. . . . Yale's "Cathedral of Muscle" is the world's largest gymnasium. The $16 million nine-story building has four basketball courts, three rowing tanks, 28 squash courts, 12 handball courts, a running track on the roof, and two big swimming pools. Sounds like enough facilities and equipment to get anyone in shape. . . . Although Uncle Sam probably minted thousands of $50 gold pieces in 1877 only two of them are known to exist. And Uncle has them in safe keeping at the Smithsonian Institution. They are valued at $100,000 each. . . . There are more than 8,500 shopping centers in the U.S. and 800 new ones will be added this year. We can remember about a quarter century ago when the only shopping center, like those of today, was the famous Farmer's Market in Los Angeles. . . . The Fort Worth (Texas) STAR-TELEGRAM reported in a story: "None were seriously injured when the crowd pelted them with bricks and socks." It's plain to see no one in the crowd was a good shot.

County Editor speaking: "Never understood why they call money 'dough' because dough sticks to your fingers."

Proposals for U.N. Peacekeeping Naval Force in Middle East Linked to Other Plans to Maneuver U.S.

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Keep your eyes glued on the proposal by the Kennedy brothers to have the United Nations set up an emergency naval force for use in the Middle East crisis. This trial balloon was lofted for U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg with the backstage support of Secretaries Rusk and McNamara, and of Presidential assistant Walt Rostow, although it has never been approved by President Johnson.

Senators Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., in separate but identical statements, called on the Security Council to authorize the U.N. naval force. Their proposal came immediately after United Arab Republic President Nasser announced mining of the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

Briefed in advance by Goldberg, the Soviet U.N. delegate, Dikolai Fedorenko is privately encouraging the project, although making it clear the Kremlin will not publicly support the U.N. naval force because of Nasser's opposition.

In proposing the U.N. naval patrol, its backers have a lot more in mind than just using it to keep peace in the Straits of Tiran and prevent interference with Israel's access to the Red Sea.

Administration insiders say the plan evolved as part of a longer-range Goldberg-Rusk-McNamara-Rostow program to create an international military force which could be used to establish U.N. authority over Southwest Africa, now controlled by South Africa.

Under this program, U.S. warships and a fleet of fast deployment logistics (FDL) vessels would be assigned to the U.N. COMING CRISIS — Since the South African government is prepared to fight to keep its League of Nations mandate over Southwest Africa, development and deployment of a U.N. naval force could lead to an African confrontation involving U.S. military units.

This alarming possibility caused Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Representative Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, to join in eliminating funds for the proposed FDL fleet from the administration's $21 billion military procurement bill.

In sharply worded attacks on the FDL fleet, Russell and Rivers made it clear in floor speeches that they oppose turning over any U.S. ships to the U.N. for so-called "peacekeeping operations."

If this Soviet maneuver succeeded, the Kremlin could then hamstring the U.N. naval force by use of its veto in the Security Council and continue to build up its own naval power in the Mediterranean.

Russian strength there is already presenting the U.S. with an ominous naval challenge, according to Vice Admiral William L. Martin, commander of the Sixth Fleet.

In a recent speech in Rome, Admiral Martin stressed that the Russians had doubled the number of their warships in the Mediterranean since they began operating earlier this year from Egyptian bases.

SETTING THE STAGE — The Kremlin's manipulation of the Middle East crisis was outlined to the House Foreign Affairs Committee in a closed door briefing by Central Intelligence authorities.

The lawmakers were told that Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko had arranged to have Nasser mine the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba when he visited Cairo in mid-April.

After the CIA briefing, Representative Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., chairman, warned: "The Russians are deliberately staging a diversionary crisis in the Middle East to try to tie our hands in Vietnam. There are signs that the Kremlin is planning to set off other crises."

"The Russians appear to be controlling events and forcing us to overextend militarily and economically at little cost to themselves. We are always reacting rather than acting. This policy could be very dangerous for the U.S. unless changed."

DARKER DAYS AHEAD — Senator Henry Jackson, D-Wash., who on May 3 predicted a Russian diversionary move in the Middle East, joined in warning of still more Soviet-inspired trouble.

In discussions with fellow members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Jackson reported growing evidence the Russians may touch off a new crisis in either West Berlin or Cuba.

Jackson noted that the new Soviet arms build-up in Cuba, which began in April, is continuing with daily arrivals of new shipments of Russian military equipment.

A Japanese businessman, returning via the U.S. from trade talks in Havana, supports Senator Jackson's concern about Cuba. In information passed to the CIA, this industrialist quoted a high Cuban official as saying the U.S. will be forced to give up the naval base at Guantanamo Bay before the end of 1967.

FOREIGN FLASHES — Ships for an enlarged Saudi Arabian navy will be purchased from Britain. At present, this U.S. nation's navy is confined mainly to patrol boats for coast-guard duties. But because of the changing Middle East situation, Saudi Arabia plans to buy several corvettes, minesweepers, and frigates. The French government, which has been looking for some time for new sources of uranium, is now negotiating for a concession in Nigeria. The deposits are reported to be 10 times bigger than those of Gabon, where France has obtained much of its supplies until now. France has small deposits of uranium on her own territory, but needs much more for her growing nuclear arms program.

Straight Talk

Comments on the News And So-Called News

President Johnson is sending 150 million dollars worth of grain to India for the rats. Indian rats eat an estimated 175 million dollars worth of grain each year. (That's even more than the Russian "rats" eat.) When an Indian rat is caught by an Indian person eating American grain, the Indian person turns the rat loose. Indian people do not believe in killing four-legged rats. Holy cow!

Inflation Note: What you could buy for $10 in 1959 now costs $11.47. Don't blame the manufacturer or the retailer. It was planned that way by the feds. It's part of the New Deal — New Frontier — Great Society. What you can buy now for $11.47 will cost you $20 in 1982. Did you know that the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that criminals can teach your children? The Court has said that a state may not fire or refuse to hire teachers — or any other civil servants — because they are Communists. All Communists are criminal atheists who are dedicated to the overthrow of our government by force, the confiscation of virtually all private property, and the murder of all opponents.

According to recently-released figures, the crime rate of the Negro is more than 10 times (in most categories) more than that of any class of whites. Economic opportunity and education have little to do with crime. Most thieves steal, not bread, but crepes souffles. You need to be educated to know how to commit many crimes. Some of the most honest, good and God-fearing people are illiterate and poor as Job's turkey.

Harold Howe, U.S. Commissioner of Education says: "If I have my way, schools will be built for the primary purpose of economic and social integration."

If he has his way, he will send his own children to exclusive private schools — which he does.

Did you know that 26 out of every 100 people employed now work directly or indirectly for government. That, of course, is using the word "work" rather loosely.

A Johnson-sponsored bill now being studied by the U.S. Senate would put a special tax on every TV set sold in order to make Educational TV the biggest thing in the field. In other words, educational Big Brother would confiscate your money to brainwash you daily on the dictator's boob tube. Next? A government take-over of all TV, before 1984? In addition to the tremendous tax take, the plan also envisages great money grants by the Foundations. And by corporations with large government contracts.

Headline: "Stalin's daughter seeks freedom." Yeah, and she also seeks to make a million dollars while whitewashing the greatest criminal conspiracy in history. The "Liberals" are upset by her coming here. So am I. For different reasons. The Libs are worried about offending the Russians. Then they might not accept any more grain, factories and strategic materials from us.

What offends me is that we are not offending the Russians. I think Svetlana Stalin stands to do Russia far more good than harm. Otherwise "our" State Department wouldn't have let her in. Other evidence against her is that the New York Times and Life magazine are syndicating her life story. There are those who argue, however, with some justification, that the New York Times and Life haven't dealt a blow to Communism yet and that therefore the odds are in our favor this time.

Dear, sweet Svetlana, when pressed about what religion is, replied something to the effect that it is peace and happiness. That's what the hippies and Bishop Pike say, so I suppose she's as valid as they are. Say, like a three-dollar bill.

The administration's proposed budget is $135 billion! Here are a few simple statistics which show exactly what the spending rate will be under such a budget.

—$4.281 every second of every minute of every hour.

—$15.4 million every hour of every day.

—$70 million every day in the year.

These figures take on new significance when translated into how much it will cost you as a taxpayer. A man making $20,000 a year, who files a joint return with his wife, will pay just about $4,300. So the money he pays in taxes will run the government for about one second. One of the smaller items in the spending budget is $280,000. That is the cost of printing the details of the $135,000,000,000 budget.

WASHINGTON:

What About U Thant And The Reds?

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) —

While United Nations Secretary U Thant of Burma plays down the role of communism in the South Vietnam war and warns against stepped-up U.S. bombing in North Vietnam:

1. Mao Tse-tung's Red China gradually increases its military-political training of rebels in U Thant's own country, Burma.

2. The North Vietnamese build up local cadres, organize local underground units and stock arms in Burma's rural areas.

3. Rangoon's military dictatorship — in power since 1962 — shows no signs of relaxing its powers and makes certain that any elections will not disturb its control of the country.

Selected military officer members of the ruling clique have been integrated into key government political and economic offices up and down the ladder, so that regardless of who wins any elections held, the Ne Win men will rule all essential functions of the nation.

Officials grow more arrogant in dealing with townspeople and farmers.

4. Burma's students, officials, technicians, scientists and agricultural specialists now are ordered to Communist countries for study. Soviet instructors in Rangoon train Burmese technicians.

Western and neutral foreigners have been driven out. Foreign holdings have been confiscated, directly or indirectly.

5. The Burma government is openly out to destroy capitalism and all its vestiges and to institute state socialism. Publication of privately owned newspapers has been banned since 1965. All private schools have been nationalized. Almost all major industries have been taken over by the state. In wide spheres, the government has taken over from private business as buyer, distributor and shopkeeper.

6. There is growing unrest among the native tribesmen — the Shans, Kachins, Karns and others. Some observers think this unrest will grow enough in the years ahead to threaten Burma's stability.

7. Burma's economy is slowly sliding into chaos. Agricultural output is declining. The land under cultivation has steadily decreased since 1963 as the farmers grow more discouraged.

Though publicly money lenders have been abolished, the rule of landlords eliminated and "liberal" state lending agencies opened for the farmer nevertheless there has been a resurgence of dependence on money lenders. These men now charge higher rates and exert more control over the farmers they lend to than ever before. The availability of government loans is being steadily restricted.

Workers' wages have been fixed at low levels. But real prices are high and steadily going higher. The price farmers get for rice has been fixed, but farm living costs continue to go up. Many simply can no longer afford to stay in business.

Perhaps U Thant is not the authority on Asian government, aspirations and democratic movements he pretends to be. His chief role in his own country for the decade before coming into the United Nations, was as chief of Burma government information and propaganda in Rangoon.

'Small Tax Count' Gimmick

We see where Congressman Wendell Wyatt, an Oregon Republican, wants to establish a federal "Small Tax Court" which he seems to think would "assure the average taxpayer of fairness in any dealings with the Internal Revenue Service. Supposedly, it would be something like the small claims courts which are set up around the country, theoretically to give the "little fellow" his day in court when he gets into a minor financial dispute.

However, the difference would be that the Internal Revenue Service would always be one of the litigants.

Rep. Wyatt says: "Our court system should serve as an arbiter in disputes between the Internal Revenue Service and any taxpayer. It is not always fair that the executive agency serving as collector of taxes also serves as final judge as to what taxes are actually due."

It sounds good. But would it be much different? Would not the judge still be appointed by the President, of whose administration the IRS is a major part? What chance would the "little fellow" have when he goes before an impatient, politically-appointed judge and must face a smooth-talking representative of the agency that collects the money to pay the judge's salary?

It's sort of like the suggestions of Jesse Unruh and Colorado's own Lieutenant Governor who want to adopt the Scandinavian ombudsman idea in the United States. The ombudsman provides another layer of bureaucracy which is supposed to provide a hearing for individuals who are dissatisfied with their treatment by their government rulers.

If there were such a thing as an independent judiciary or an independent agency of government, perhaps the "Small Tax Court" and the office of ombudsman might have some justification. But there just isn't any such thing. Government will protect government. That is a fact of political life.

What we need, and soon, is a drastic reduction in taxes; not more tax paid functionaries to eat out our substance.

News Management As Usual

The new assistant secretary of defense for public information is no improvement over his former chief, Arthur Sylvester, who has resigned. The Senate armed services committee, nevertheless, has approved the nomination of Phil G. Goulding for the job, despite his admission that he adheres to the Sylvester concept that the government "sometimes has the right to withhold information in the interest of national security.

That is a convenient excuse for continuing the whole of Sylvester's allied body of doctrines. Sylvester announced that the government has "an inherent right to lie to save itself" and that "news is part of the arsenal of weaponry" available to the President. At a Saigon briefing of correspondents, he was quoted as telling his auditors that he regarded the press as "handmaidens of government," adding, "Look, if you think any American official is going to tell you the truth, then you're stupid. Did you hear that? — Stupid."

If there is a right to lie in dealing with the public, it is a right monopolized by the government and allowed to no one else. Try lying on your income tax return and the government will send you to jail. Try evading the detailed census inquiry and you will get in a jam. The government is the servant of the people, and it has no ordained right to delude them. Unfortunately, the people will have to content themselves in the understanding that government falsehood has become chronic and that they must take anything emanating from Washington with a peck of salt.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Continuing a tradition that began with Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson, thousands of volunteer weathermen daily report temperature and precipitation readings to the U.S. Weather Bureau, and The World Almanac. The volunteers, mostly amateur meteorologists throughout the country, help the bureau maintain accurate information on the climate of the nation.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

18 employees, both full and part time, are employed.

Our minimum wage is $1 per hour, compared to the $1.40 per hour in industry. You have to consider the difference in the fact that hospitals have just in the past few years set goals to improve wages to compete with industry," Robertson said.

Annually the hospital "charges off" about $65,000 a year as "bad debts," Hospital officials attempt collecting the debts, but the results are not too good, he said.

In reports released by the American Hospital Association, 2,072 hospitals annually have $75,700 or more in bad debts, Robertson said.

Outpatient and emergency room visits average about 12 cents a day at Highland General Hospital.

On the national average, in 1945, there were 27.2 million visits to hospital outpatient departments. By 1965 these visits had increased to 95.4 million, an increase of 249 per cent, he said.

The United States has almost two million employees working in its 7,000 registered hospitals. The total number of personnel employed by U. S. hospitals rose 57 per cent in the past 10 years. About one of every 50 employed persons in the U. S. works in a hospital, and there are more than two employees to every hospitalized patient. Payroll amounts to two-thirds of all hospital costs, Robertson said.

"At the close of World War II, industry wages were nearly double those paid in hospitals, and in most areas, hospitals were drawing from the bottom of the labor pool. "In 1946, the average annual wage of hospital employees lagged by 97 per cent when compared to industry. By 1961, this gap was narrowed to 31 per cent," he said.

One of the reasons wage costs are magnified for hospitals is the nature of hospital service, a person to person service, which permits little automation of hospital work, he said.

"Competitive wages and salaries are the key to attracting qualified technicians and professionals to a hospital and keeping them. Catching up to wages paid in industry will be reflected in future hospital costs, but I think few people would want to receive 1947 hospital care, even at 1947 prices," Robertson said.

Highland General Hospital Sets Modernization Program Plans

By WANDA HUFF
 News Staff Writer

Highland General Hospital, the 143-bed Gray County hospital, plans a modernization program for its future in spite of increasing hospital costs and money lost as "bad debts."

Within the next year, hospital officials plan to improve facilities for x-ray, laboratory work, emergency room and business office, Bill Robertson, administrator, said.

"Most of the changes in the last five years have been to update our preventive maintenance program, patient billing procedures and drug dispensing system," Robertson said.

Increasing hospital costs include an average increase of 15 per cent in drugs, supplies and equipment.

"With the escalation of minimum wages each year until 1971 facing us, our estimated cost per patient day will increase from eight to 10 per cent over the next five years, but this projected increase is only an estimate of the cost," he said.

Since 1962, when the hospital went on a 40-hour week, personnel increase has averaged about five per cent. Now about

AFRICANS HANGED
 PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI)—Nine Africans were hanged Tuesday at central prison for the 1962 murder of a white shopkeeper.

It was the second highest number of persons hanged at one time in South Africa for murder. In 1957, 22 Africans were hanged for murdering three policemen.
