Most of Nation's Train Service Returns to Normal

Santa Fe Expects To Start Running Soon

By United Press International

The nation's passenger and freight trains — with a few exceptions — began rolling on normal schedules today, carrying commuters to work and cargo, including that vital the Vietnam war effort, to its destination.

A few wildcat holdouts marred the otherwise smooth transition in the pre-dawn hours from supervisory personnel readying of the trains to the takeover by union crews belonging to the six shopcraft unions that ended the first general rail strike since 1946.

Most of the picket lines began coming down after Congress rushed anti-strike legislation to President Johnson for his signature Monday night.

Frank J. Balistreri, chairman of the Milwaukee Road branch of the International Association of Machinists (IAM), appealed to members of his union staging a wildcat strike in Milwaukee to pull down their picket lines and return to work. Passenger and freight trains were stalled in Milwaukee's Union Station when other crewmembers refused to cross the lines.

In Pampa business still had not returned to normal late this morning at the local Santa Fe Railway Co., but it was expected to do so sometime today.

"We're expecting things to return to normal pretty soon," Efram Lopez, ticket agent, said. "They still have the picket line (in Amarillo) in operation, but we're expecting it to be lifted at any moment."

Trains still were not running and little business was being transacted this morning, Lopez said, and probably will not until word is heard from Amarillo.

"We haven't heard anything (since 12:30 p.m. today) from Amarillo," Lopez said, "so we don't know anything here."

Giant Convict Recaptured by Oklahoma Police

ADA, Okla. (UPI) — A giant convict who terrorized 16 persons during an escape last May broke jail late Monday night but was recaptured early today after allegedly kidnapping a man during seven hours of freedom. Authorities said Emmett Ray McCarthy, 34, who stands 6-feet-10 inches and weighs 245 pounds, had kidnapped a man shortly after he pulled a knife on a jailer and escaped from the county jail.

McCarthy was nabbed at Roff, Okla., about 16 miles southwest of Ada.

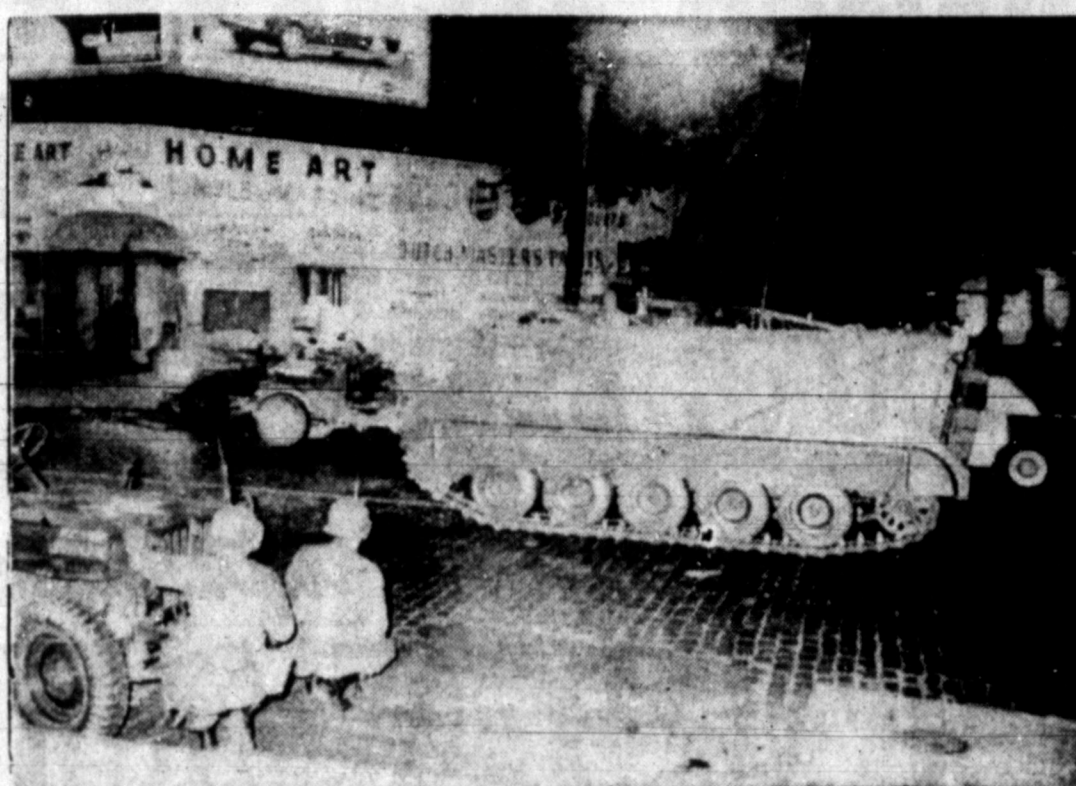

Jailer Don Kaiser, 32, said he had let McCarthy out of his cell about 10:30 p.m. to take a shower.

Kaiser said as he opened the cell door, McCarthy pointed a knife at him, forced Kaiser to lie on a bed in the office, and tied his hands.

"This was the one night when I didn't have somebody up here to help me," Kaiser said. "I knew better than to let him out, but I just did."

Kaiser said they went to a men's rest room on the first floor, where McCarthy tied Kaiser to a pipe and escaped through a window.

City Receives Bids On $1,900,000 Tax Bonds

The Pampa City Commission met in special session at 1:30 p.m. today to sell $1,900,000 worth of general obligation bonds to cover additional street and highway improvements totaling $1,150,000 and $750,000 for a water filtration plant.

Today's bond sale increased the city's bonded indebtedness to $4,731,000. Pampa has $65,972.34 in cash deposits, U.S. Securities worth $160,521.24, and self-supporting waterworks and sewer system tax bonds totaling $2,061,028.

According to a revised financial statement prepared as of April 30 this year, by R. A. Underwood and Co. of Dallas, the city's fiscal agent, this leaves Pampa with a net debt of $2,443,478.42. The statement does not include $1,680,000 waterworks and sewer revenue bonds payable solely from utility revenues and never to be paid from taxation.

Today's $1,900,000 bond sale is the final installment of the $2,900,000 bond issue approved by Pampa voters March 8 last year. The first $1,000,000 of the bonds were sold in June of 1966 to cover the city's share of the cost of the current street paving program.

Bonds sold today will pay the cost of additional street improvements as follows:

Alcock St. from Faulkner west to the city limits, $236,000.
Wilks, Brown and E. Frederick Sts., $595,000.
S. Cuyler and S. Barnes Sts. from US Hwy. 60 south to the city limits, $369,000.

The bonds also cover: Construction of a water filtration plant to receive water from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, $750,000.

The grand total of these improvements is $1,900,000, the amount of today's bond sale.

Morse To Head Rail Study Board

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today named a blue-ribbon panel headed by Sen. Wayne Morse to seek settlement of the long-standing railway labor dispute. He said he was "very hopeful we can get agreement between the parties."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today was expected to name a new mediation board in the rails dispute, but the bitter legacy of the nation's first general railroad strike in 22 years dimmed the panel's chances for success.

Declaring that "the public interest must prevail," the Chief Executive signed into law Monday night a hastily passed bill ordering an end to the two-day walkout and imposing what amounts to a compulsory settlement on both sides.

The measure was rushed through Congress in one day after being stalemated in a Senate-House conference committee for a month. It meant that the six striking shopcraft unions faced Justice Department injunctions if they did not order their members back to work.

The President's action brought cries of outrage from railroad union leaders. Joseph W. Ramsey, a vice president of the International Association of Machinists (IAM), the union that led the walkout, labeled the bill "the strike-breaking act of 1967." Others charged that Johnson and Congress had been stamped into "discriminatory

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Jack R. Howard, president and general editorial manager of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, said today that joint operating arrangements are "essential to the survival of many newspapers in this country."

He made the statement in testimony prepared for the Senate antitrust subcommittee, which is holding hearings on legislation to authorize arrangements under which two competing newspapers share printing facilities and business departments, while maintaining separate news and editorial staffs.

Such arrangements are now in force in 22 cities. The Justice Department has brought a test case against the one in Tucson, Ariz., charging violation of the antitrust laws.

Howard said Scripps-Howard Newspapers are involved in seven joint arrangements: in Albuquerque, N.M.; El Paso, Tex.; Evansville, Ind.; Birmingham, Ala.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Columbus, Ohio; and Pittsburgh, Pa.

"In each of these seven cities, a joint arrangement has made possible the preservation of two independent newspapers," Howard said. "This proposed legislation will help to dispel the present antitrust cloud which hovers over such joint arrangements and will serve to strengthen and preserve a vigorous free press. I appreciate that that phrase may be self-serving but I make no apology for it because I believe it."

He said the basic economic fact is that "there are certain cities or markets which can no longer support more than one metropolitan daily newspaper operating separately and independently in both commercial and editorial departments."

This is true, he said, because "costs have risen far more rapidly than revenues."

When the alternatives are (1) suspension of a failing paper, (2) outright merger of two competing papers, or (3) a joint operating arrangement which preserves two editorial voices in the community, he said, "We believe that it is in the public interest to preserve two separate, independent newspapers."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—United Nations observers stood watch on both sides of the Suez Canal today and reported both the Israelis and Egyptians were honoring the Middle East ceasefire.

In Cairo the authoritative newspaper Al-Ahram said the presidents of Algeria and Iraq flew to Moscow for "political talks of major importance" following their week-long conferences with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The newspaper said the Moscow talks would deal with "an analysis of the general Middle East situation from the viewpoint of the Arab states which participated in the Cairo meeting and these states' assessment of all possibilities."

In New York, the U.N. General Assembly had 48 hours to reach agreement on any further Middle East resolutions. The assembly president said he would definitely terminate the month-old emergency session Thursday.

Four-man U.N. truce teams took up their posts at 6 p.m. Monday night and said all was quiet on both sides of the waterway across which Israel and Egypt traded heavy fire last week in the most serious battle.

Britain Plans To Move Troops From Middle East

LONDON (UPI)—Britain announced today it would withdraw most of its soldiers from the Far East and abandon its aircraft carriers by the mid-1970s despite strong American objections.

The Labor government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson, fighting to save the nation's economy, today released a white paper on British defense for the next 10 years and outlined plans to pull out all of its troops from Singapore and Malaysia and most of its forces elsewhere in the Far East.

The United States had issued strong appeals to Wilson to keep British military presence east of Suez for a while longer.

But the white paper said Britain would cut its armed forces by 75,000 and abolish its entire aircraft carrier force by the middle of the 1970s.

In Washington U.S. officials said they were concerned about the psychological impact such an announcement by Britain would have among friendly nations in Asia.

Informed sources said the setback reflected both Britain's concern over the economy and its emphasis on future cooperation with European countries.

The U.S. officials said that such a long-range projection of force levels would be somewhat unrealistic since Britain had no way of knowing what might happen in Asia in the intervening years to alter its strategy.

The white paper said half of the British troops now in Singapore and Malaysia would be cut by 1971. The government said it expects to save about $800 million annually from its cuts in the armed forces.

The paper also touched on Britain's previously announced plan to pull out 5,000 of its present 50,000-man army of the Rhine in West Germany.

It said that "since a Soviet attack in Europe is unlikely in present circumstances," some of the British forces now in Germany could be held elsewhere provided they could be returned promptly in a crisis.

Elsewhere was taken to mean back in Britain.

71-Boat Communist Arms Convoy Sunk by US 'Copters

South Vietnamese Leaders Reopen $50 Million Industrial Showplace

SAIGON (UPI)—Three American rocket-firing helicopters sank a 71-boat Communist arms convoy, U.S. officials said today. Delighted South Vietnamese leaders promptly reopened a $50 million industrial showplace they had closed in the battle area for fear of guerrilla attack.

"We hit them with all we had and ripped them up pretty good," said Maj. William Arink of Springfield, Md., who commanded the three "firefly" choppers that destroyed the 40-foot junks and sampans with rockets and machinegun fire.

The destruction of the smuggler convoy on the Truong Giang River on South Vietnam's northern coast followed the U.S. Navy-Coast Guard destruction Friday of a 120-ton North Vietnamese arms trawler nearby and coincided with the killing of 16 Communists by Marines in the same area today.

Resume Construction
South Vietnamese Economics Minister Nguyen Huu Hanh, who had closed the prestige project due to "poor security," ordered construction resumed on the power plant, fertilizer factory and coal mine center that was designed to prove this nation could progress despite Communist terror.

In other action, U.S. jets flew 134 missions against North Vietnam's war machine Monday, spokesmen said. They returned to the Don Son oil depot 13 miles from the major port of Haiphong and left it churning smoke up to 2,000 feet. They also smashed key train yards and lines around the capital of Hanoi.

U.S. spokesmen said an Air Force F105 Thunderchief was downed and the pilot reported downed. (See CONVOY, Page 3)

CONG ROCKETS DAMAGE DA NANG BASE — In one of the Vietnam war's most damaging attacks Communist troops mauled the giant U.S. airbase at Da Nang with an audacious rocket barrage from a distance of 6 miles away. Here some of the aircraft are still burning on the flight line.

60TH YEAR
the Mann Act, the prohibition against the interstate transportation of strike breakers, the federal kidnapping statute and the Anti-Racketeering Act.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

Anti-riot legislation which I and other Republicans have sponsored, is scheduled for action by the House of Representatives tomorrow. This bill, H. R. 421, when enacted, will impose criminal penalties upon persons traveling in or using the facilities of interstate commerce with the intent to incite a riot.

Last year in response to a growing public demand for assistance in maintaining law and order in the streets and urban centers of our land, Republican anti-riot legislation was adopted in the House of Representatives, as an amendment to the proposed Civil Rights Act of 1966, by a vote of 309 to 25. That legislation was permitted to die in the Senate. Now, as a result of continuing pressure and leadership by Republican members, this vital legislation is being brought to the House Floor as an independent measure.

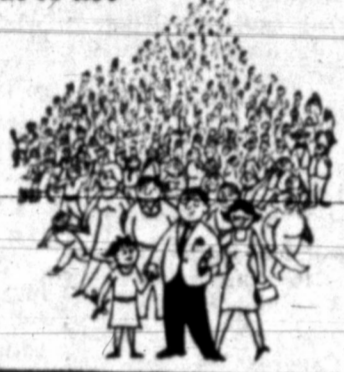

The proposed legislation represents the legitimate exercise of federal criminal power under authority based on the commerce clause of the Constitution. Historically, certain types of conduct have been prohibited by federal statute when the facilities of interstate commerce are used. For example, there is

Law enforcement agencies have reported that familiar faces crop up in riots as far apart as Cleveland and Los Angeles and have concluded that an organized group of agitators either moves into an area as soon as violence occurs or moves into problem areas and encourages riots and violence. This was forcefully proven early this summer when the same crowd of agitators toured several southern states, leaving a path of dead and wounded rioters and police officers. On college campuses they encouraged students to burn their draft cards, attack police and take over the colleges. In some of these colleges where racial troubles existed, the rabble-rousers found supporters and violence erupted, including sniper fire at interceding police officers. This is the type of activity this legislation is meant to stop.

This bill is not intended to and does not limit the right of dissent and peaceful demonstration. Legitimate activities by those who travel in interstate commerce to participate in public gatherings or other lawful demonstrations are not affected. I agree with Representative Richard H. Poff, second ranking minority member of the House Judiciary Committee and Chairman of the Republican Task Force on Crime of which I am a member, when he said, "We are not so much interested in punishing someone for an offense already committed as in preventing it from occurring." However, those persons who use facilities in interstate commerce, or who travel from one State to another or from a foreign country to a State, in order to incite or attempt to incite riots, violence, looting, vandalism, arson, bombing, and physical assaults would be subject to prosecution.

Bob Price
Member of Congress

Peace Cautiously Moves Back to Riot Torn Newark

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—Racial peace, kept waiting in the wings for nearly a week, moved cautiously back into Newark's riot-rubbled streets today. In a final spatter of violence, police shot and killed a Negro looter. Disturbances continued to spread to other nearby communities including New Brunswick where a pretty lady mayor personally turned back a Negro mob marching on the police station.

There were a number of sniper shootings, looting and firebombings reported in Newark and the 25-mile trouble area but, for the most part, it was the first relatively calm night since last Wednesday.

There have been 27 persons killed, 25 of them in Newark, more than 2,000 persons arrested—about 1,300 in Newark alone.

Pampa Coeds Take Twirl Course

Misses Teresa Mercer and Cheri Beckham, Pampa High School twirlers, returned Saturday from the Topp In Twirling Camp in Kilgore. The twirlers learned new routines to be used in school activities and were presented certificates for fulfilling the course.

They attended classes for solo dance routines, fire twirling and charm.

Bill Allen was head co-ordinator for the camp with Colette Daute, 1966's Miss Teenage America, as one of the instructors.

The Pampa High coeds were the only representatives attending from the Panhandle area. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dwain D. Mercer, 2225 N. Sumner, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beckham, 1828 N. Zimmers.

Massive Communist Attack
Hanh's order last week had appeared justified to some last weekend as the Communists, in one-two-three order rained hundreds of shells down on the Marine air base bastion at Da Nang, smashed open a government prison at nearby Hoi An to free 1,200 inmates, and tried to bring in a huge amount of supplies on the trawler.

The Viet Cong, deprived of its propaganda victory at the project, kept up its terrorism. U.S. officials said a hand grenade explosion at the Pleiku Air Police Army in the Central Highlands early today killed one airman and wounded 10 others.

Dual Market for Silver; How Long Can It Survive?

By ROGER BABSON STAFF
In mid-May the Treasury Department finally took the bull by the horns by terminating sales of silver—except to domestic industrial users—at its pegged price of $1.29 per ounce. Thus, to the extent that domestic industrial silver consumers will continue to have silver available from the Treasury at $1.29 per ounce as long as there is a free supply holds out, there really exists a dual market for the "white metal." Just how long this dual market can survive is a matter of conjecture; but under present conditions it may be only a year, and it may be less. Now that Congress has invalidated the reserve requirement against silver certificates, so as to bring faster release than the recent Treasury policy of retiring the certificates as they return to banks, there naturally is an increased supply of free silver available for industry. But this only buys a little more time. Inevitably the world price will prevail. What will happen at that point? Perhaps the world price of silver will rise about its current level gradually; a wild runaway is not likely. Increased silver and new discoveries can narrow the gap. Moreover, Canada has now followed the U.S. policy of reducing silver coinage, and other countries may do the same. One thing is certain: Industry does not face a shortage of silver supplies. Moreover, speculators gambling on a wild rise in price may well find such activity yielding them something less than a windfall.

Patrol Checks 22 Accidents in County in June

The Texas Highway Patrol ral highways in Gray County during June, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor in the Pampa area.

The crashes resulted in one person killed, 13 injured, and an estimated property damage of $14,850.

The rural accident summary for Gray County during the first six months of 1967 shows a total of 90 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 60 injured and an estimated property damage of $72,525.

The number of traffic deaths in Texas continues to rise. For the first six months of 1967 there have been 1,476 traffic deaths compared to 1,396 traffic deaths for the first six months of 1966.

This alarming increase of accidents can be reduced by drivers knowing and obeying traffic laws, being a defensive driver and being a courteous driver, Sergeant Wilson said.

"Courtesy is contagious—try it," he added.

Foreign News Commentary

By Phil Newson

UPI Foreign News Analyst

On the platform behind the speaker, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, prime minister of India, reclined against a bolster pillow. Lounging in similar attitudes on the floor nearby were other important members of her government and of the All India Congress party.

Sitting on the floor is the traditional Indian manner and is customary among the leaders at important party gatherings.

From out in front an angry babel rose from the 300 delegates attending the session of the ruling party's highest policy making body, the All Indian Congress Committee.

This, too, had become almost customary in Mrs. Gandhi's year and a half of rule since she took over after the death of Lal Bahadur Shastri who in turn had succeeded her illustrious father, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Reason For Difference

But there was a difference, for this time the angry babel had its basis in fright.

It was the first meeting of the committee since last February's disastrous elections in which the party lost eight states and much of its parliamentary majority.

As her father's political heir, the delegates accused Mrs. Gandhi of departing from the socialism which he espoused and thus, along with other leaders, of contributing to the party's defeat.

To Mrs. Gandhi this also was becoming an old story.

The trouble was she was caught in a vise from which she could not escape.

While preaching socialism, no one in the Congress party, including Nehru himself, ever has seemed quite sure of what they were talking about.

On the other hand, India's huge problems with food shortages and mounting inflation also made her susceptible to outside pressures for monetary reforms which the socialists resist.

Heaviest of these pressures came from the United States and the World Bank, and these within the last year had resulted in devaluation of the rupee, a relaxation in the attitude toward private investment, especially in the manufacture of desperately needed fertilizer and a sweeping liberalization of restrictions on imports.

See Ominous Signs

Especially in a plan to use rupees paid to the United States for wheat as an aid to Indian education, the opposition saw not only Mrs. Gandhi's surrender to imperialism but also the ominous hand of the America CIA.

In the end, the rebellious delegates pushed through a number of measures, none of which seemed likely to cure India's ills.

One demanded nationalization of the banks and Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai who also is finance minister, dutifully began his conversations with the bankers. Another would cut off some 8.5 million divided annually among 400 deposed Indian princes—less than a drop in the bucket as measured against India's financial ills.

Another demanded a speedup in land reform, and Mrs. Gandhi wrote letters to chief ministers of the states. The trouble here was that giving land to a peasant who had neither the knowledge nor fertilizer to work it, also seemed futile.

But that is Mrs. Gandhi's dilemma.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

McCarver Tastes Series

By United Press International
One taste of the World Series was all Tim McCarver needed. Now he's even willing to forsake the National League batting title for another crack.
McCarver lashed four singles in four appearances Monday night to help the league leading St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-4 victory over the New York Mets and moved into the league's batting leadership with a .356 average, four points better than Houston's Rusty Staub.
But McCarver's interests run beyond a batting championship. "For me to lead the league in hitting is out of reach," said McCarver. "I've been flirting with .300 since I've been in the majors but I've never made it. Anyway, I'd rather bat .240 and win the pennant than hit .340 and finish out of it."
Shooting For Series
"I got a taste of the World Series in 1964," explained the Cardinal catcher, "and now I can't get enough of it. It's everything it's built up to be and more."
With the score tied 1-1 in the fourth inning, Monday night, McCarver hit his second single and Mike Shannon, who drove in four runs, followed with a two-run homer. In the fifth, McCarver's third straight hit moved Roger Maris, who had singled, to third and Shannon brought him in with a sacrifice fly.
Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago edged San Francisco 4-3, Atlanta downed Pittsburgh 6-2 and Cincinnati trimmed Philadelphia 8-5 in the only games scheduled.
Billy Williams singled in starting pitcher Rich Nye with the eventual winning run in the top of the ninth inning and Chuck Hartenstein choked off a ninth inning rally with a runner on third to give the Cubs their third straight triumph over the Giants. Hartenstein came in in the ninth to retire pinchhitter Willie McCovey on an infield out to end the game and record his sixth save.
Vada Pinson's fourth straight hit, an eighth inning double, broke a 5-3 tie and Tony Perez followed with a two-run triple to power the Reds over the Phillies.
Felipe Alou's second career grand slammer in the sixth inning powered the Braves over the Pirates.

Golfers Eye PGA Victory

DENVER (UPI)—Lean Al Geiberger, who munched his way to the 1966 PGA championship on peanut butter sandwiches, thinks he has a good chance of being the first repeat winner of this treasured title since Denny Shute did it 30 years ago.
"I've been driving well lately, hitting the ball straight, and think my putting is better," the tall Californian said before he took to the rain-swept Columbine Country Club course Monday.
"I've been working on my game, and I just hope everything comes together at the same time," he said.
Geiberger, who added luster to his upset victory last year by eating peanut butter sandwiches for added stamina, won by four shots over Dudley Wysong with an even-par 280 at the Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio.
But Arnold Palmer, who never has won the PGA championship, and others who have shot practice rounds here, are predicting it will take better than that to win over the mile high Columbine, which stretches for 7,436 yards and plays to a 36-36-72 par.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Increased Political Spending

Will the United States government be spending $300 billion a year in just a few more years? Maurice H. Stans, who was bureau director during the Eisenhower administration, says the budget will be $300 billion by 1980. But with continuing rises in government expenditure and with inflation spiraling, indications are that it will be even sooner.

Open '68 Convention
New Strategy of Unauthorized Kennedy
Backers

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Those "wildcat" supporters of Senator Robert Kennedy are revising their political strategy in face of his continuing public stand not to seek the Democratic presidential nomination next year. In a move to broaden their political base while keeping the 1968 door ajar for their candidate, these well-financed Kennedy backers have launched an "open" Democratic presidential convention.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

A geologist friend just came back from what he described as "the greatest vacation ever digging for clams in Montana." Sounds screwy about land-locked Montana, but it turns out that what the natives call the fossils dug in the northeastern section of the aptly named Treasure State along the banks of the Missouri River. Our friend says it's the fossil collector's paradise abounding in all kinds of unusual specimens, including baculites, scaphites, triceratops, inoceramus and nautilus.

Stans in a recent speech, had some comparisons: between 1960 and the 1968 budgets: 1. Since 1960 the population of the United States has grown by 10 per cent.

Everything Is Oddly Normal

Do you ever have the feeling that this kooky old world is getting kookier? Do you find it's more and more unnatural to do anything naturally? That if you are inclined to let nature take its course, you are not only regarded as a coldball, but it may be illegal?

We take pills to keep us awake and to put us to sleep, to slow us down and to speed us up. We buy things we don't need with money we don't have to impress people we don't like. And when we can't meet it, we pay for it, we merely arrange for one friendly, gigantic, impossible loan to get rid of the friendly, little, impossible loans.

So He Likes Big Eaters

A Chicagoan who has studied the eating habits of businessmen is convinced it's true what they say about fat men. They are not only jollier than thin men, he says, but make better bosses.

He may be right. But perhaps his conclusions should be taken with a grain of salt. After all, he happens to run a restaurant.

Washington—The "wildcat" supporters of Senator Robert Kennedy are revising their political strategy in face of his continuing public stand not to seek the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

ABOLISH SLAVERY!

The draft — and the military — are the most obvious and blatant examples of slavery in American life today.

The draft — and the military — are the most obvious and blatant examples of slavery in American life today. But there are others — and these areas suffer a great deal more neglect. One all-pervasive example of slavery in present-day America is the enslavement of our children, known as compulsory attendance laws.

GLOBAL VIEW

Soviet Split By Mideast Policy Line

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — Red rulers seldom, if ever, consult or inform the people about matters of policy. Premier Kosygin's first meeting with President Johnson in Glassboro received worldwide publicity, but Moscow's newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, reported the event in 37 words.

The Doctor Says

Fungoid Infections Not Limited to Summer

Will this be a summer of fun or fungus for you? Fungus or ringworm infections of the skin are not limited to the summer months but, since the causative organisms thrive in a warm, moist environment, they are most likely to give you trouble in warm, moist weather.

Although fungi are classified as plants they are of a very low order because they have no root stems or leaves. Some of those found abundantly in the soil have given us such antibiotics as penicillin and streptomycin. Those that cause skin infections — the trichophyton, microsporum and epidermophyton — are of an entirely different family, however.

These are the molds that cause athlete's foot of similar lesions in the groin and on the palms. Since not all blisters and cracks between the toes, are caused by fungi, your doctor should make a microscopic examination of skin scrapings from the affected area. Only by identifying the cause can be sure he is prescribing the most effective treatment.
