

Lost Continent of Atlantis Believed Found

By GUY DARST
BOSTON (UPI)—The continent of Atlantis, its civilization far ahead of its time, was in legend the model of the world to come. But for the land fabled in the writings of Plato the future never came.

Plato told of the mysterious continent "sinking beneath the waves." For all the world knew, Atlantis and its treasures—if they ever existed—were lost forever. Even its location was lost.

But Tuesday two scientists reported finding on a Greek island ruins of a city buried by a volcanic eruption 3,400 years ago. They believe it could be part of Atlantis and it could be the greatest archeological discovery since Pompeii was unearthed in the 17th Century. The archaeologists said they found on the crescent shaped island of Thira in the Aegean Sea the remains of a whole Minoan city buried 1,500 years before the birth of Christ. "Plato described a flourishing metropolis," said James Mavor, one of the discoverers. "And now we've found one."

Mavor, an engineer at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution in Massachusetts, and Mrs. Emily Vermeule, professor of art and Greek at Wellesley College and a fellow in research for the classics department of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, announced their discovery at a news conference in the museum.

The ruins of a city, believed to be part of the Minoan civilization which flourished before the Greek civilization, has been partially unearthed on Thira, they said. The city, about one-half mile square and with a population of about 30,000, was engulfed by volcanic ash about 1,500 B.C.

The discovery was made under one of the vineyards which support the 4,000 people of Thira, an 11-square mile island about 60 miles north of Crete.

In chipping away the ash "to a shallow depth," the research team—working in coordination with Greek officials—found three-story houses, multi-colored frescoes, skeletons of domestic animals, a loom and many beautifully-colored earthenware jars still filled with what appeared to be olive oil and wine.

"It was something so astonishing, we were not equipped to deal with it," Mrs. Vermeule said.

"It's certainly one of the most important archeological finds of this generation—perhaps, the most important archeological discovery since Pompeii in the 17th Century. It may be a little better than Pompeii because of its size, importance to its culture and preservation."

$1,900,000 FINAL INSTALMENT

Dallas Firm Buys Bonds

By TEX DEWEESE
The Pampa City Commission yesterday afternoon sold $1,900,000 worth of general obligation bonds to Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith of Dallas and the city's total bonded indebtedness was increased to $4,731,000. The increase will necessitate a boost in the city's current tax rate of $1.60 per $100 property valuation. The new tax rate will be included in the 1967-68 budget now in the process of being put together by City Manager Jim White and City Hall department heads. It is estimated the city tax rate increase will be somewhere around 12 to 13 cents. In 1963 the city rate was raised from $1.45 to $1.47. Last year it was increased 13 cents to $1.60.

In addition to the $1.60 city tax rate, Pampa taxpayers currently are assessed $1.65 school tax, $1.28 county tax and 0.47 cents state tax for a total of $5.00 per $100 property valuation.

The Dallas bond buying firm was low yesterday among five bidders including First National Bank of Dallas, John Nueen & Co., Columbia Securities Corp. of Texas, and Underwood-Nehaus Co.

The low bid on the bonds for $1,150,000 in additional street and highway purposes and a $750,000 water filtration plant, was taken at a 4.0646 effective interest rate and a net interest cost of $1,250,271.50 through the final maturity date of July 1, 1991.

The effective interest rate was 0.9277 per cent higher than the 3.8166 per cent rate on the last bond issue of $1,000,000 sold in June of 1966 for the city's current street improvement program.

The $1,900,000 bond sale constituted the final instalment of the $2,900,000 a five-year bond issue approved by Pampa voters in March of last year.

The first million dollars went to pay the city's share of the cost of the current program for paving and other construction in a long-range street improvement project now under way.

Yesterday's bond sale will take care of the following improvements:
Alcock St. from Faulkner west to the city limits, $238,000.

Racial Unrest Hits More Jersey Cities

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—Racial unrest fading out of Newark hop-scotched to other New Jersey communities in a widening frontier of violence. A fragile truce in Plainfield faced a showdown at noon.

Civil rights leaders, predicting continuing trouble until white officials change their attitudes toward Negro problems, called for a meeting with Gov. Richard J. Hughes as a first step toward a stable peace.

"City officials won't listen to us," a Negro minister said in Elizabeth.

Trouble Widens
The tension points dotted a 50-mile area of north and central sections of the state—Paterson, Elizabeth, Asbury Park, New Brunswick, Jersey City, Plainfield, Montclair, Rahway and Franklin Township.

The drama mounted in Plainfield where officials threatened to break a truce worked out with Negro leaders in the sealed-off west end unless rioters surrender their weapons by noon.

The weapons included 50 rifles and carbines stolen from an arms manufacturer, police said. National Guard troops and state police, stationed on the perimeter of the west end for two days under the truce agreement, will be ordered in to retrieve them in a house-to-house hunt if the noon deadline is ignored.

Milt Campbell, a Negro 1966 Olympic decathlon champion, walked through the littered streets of the west end where he was born on a voluntary mission of peace. He returned with a carbine and some ammunition.

"I think it's over now," he said. "The outsiders have gone home now."

Shooting Again
Sporadic shooting, however, erupted late Tuesday night. In New Brunswick, a petit lady mayor for the second straight night cooled off an angry mob of 150 Negroes marching on the police headquarters. The Negroes demanded the withdrawal of shotgun-carrying police from the downtown area where looting, burning and window-smashing led to 35 arrests the previous night.

Mounting the steps of the one-story building, Mayor Patricia Sheehan, 33, listened to their requests for more recreation facilities, jobs and higher wages, and she shouted back, "Give me time."

New Phone Books Due

Telephone customers in Pampa, Skellytown and Lefors will receive new telephone directories this week. The three towns are combined in a single book.

George Newberry, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., said today the directories will be delivered by the Post office beginning Friday.

The new books contain 148 pages, which include both alphabetical and Yellow Page listings. Newberry said more than 22,000 directories have been printed.

"Most of these will be distributed immediately," he said, but some will be kept on hand for new customers and for replacement purposes.

Newberry said customers should destroy their old directories when the new ones arrive to make sure they are using up-to-date telephone numbers.

The phone company manager stated 287 new telephones had been installed since Jan. 1 this year. The new directories will contain 600 additional listings, he added.

Guardsmen Called To Quell Riots in Illinois

10 Blocks Sealed off In Cairo

CAIRO, ILL. (UPI)—Fifty Illinois National Guardsmen sealed off 10 blocks of Cairo's predominantly Negro "Pyramid Court" section today after youths in the area went on a spree of shooting and fire bombing.

No one was allowed past the guardsmen without special passes.

Police Chief Carl Clutts asked Gov. Otto Kerner for the guard shortly after the first gunshots rang out early today. The shooting started about three hours after a fire bomb exploded at a lumber company at 10 p.m., officials said.

Police said molotov cocktails were hurled into the night by small bands of teenagers ranging through Pyramid Courts on foot and in cars.

Police made no arrests. There was one injury reported, a white woman who was stabbed in the arm by a teen-aged Negro girl.

Police said the gunfire was sporadic and apparently aimless. Officials said there were three fires involving property, all started by molotov cocktails. Most of the molotov cocktails burned out harmlessly in the street.

The main target of the vandals appeared to be the White-Coleman lumber yard, in the heart of the Negro district. The yard was the first structure set on fire. After firemen brought the blaze under control it was bombed again.

Some Negroes in this town of 10,000 population have complained that business firms discriminate against them. Cairo is in the extreme southern part of Illinois, in a section known as Egypt. A few years ago Negroes picketed for the integration of a skating rink.

Preston Ewing, head of the Cairo chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the situation did not warrant calling out the guard.

"If you bring those armed men in here—that could be a bad situation," he said. Ewing said the trouble was not started by just a single incident Tuesday, but was a continuation of the trouble which began with the death Sunday of a Negro soldier being held in the jail for the Army on charges of being AWOL.

"We have reason to think that he did not hang himself," said Ewing, "but that he was a victim of police brutality. They had him out of there and (See CAIRO, Page 3)

HIGH WINDS, HAIL HIT AREA

More Rain in Pampa Forecast

More rain was forecast for Pampa and the Panhandle area this afternoon and tonight after the city received .55 inches of moisture by noon today.

Hail and high winds left considerable damage in their wake in Canyon and Amarillo last night.

Two wreckers from Ford Body Shop were sent 14½ miles south of Pampa on highway 70 to pull cars from mud where the highway is under construction.

There was no damage reported in Pampa as a steady shower began falling about 9 p.m. Tuesday and rain fell intermittently throughout the night and this morning.

The Amarillo Weather Bureau said that more rain could be expected this evening and tonight and possibly Thursday and Friday.

Pampa recorded a high of 82 Tuesday and the over night low was 61 degrees.

Rains of 3.8 inches flooded streets in Canyon while Amarillo received two inches that flooded underpasses and halted traffic.

Winds of 75 miles an hour tore the roof from an irrigation company, located two miles west of Canyon. Damage to the plant was heavy and several trees were uprooted. No injuries were reported.

Rain gauges at Amarillo Air Terminal recorded 1.30 inches and Texas 217 was closed by surging Tierra Blanca Creek south of the city limits. Two feet of water poured across Texas 136, 16 miles north of Amarillo. Motorists reported hail drifted a foot deep along the highway. Hail also fell in the Lake Meredith area near Fritch and golfballs sized hail pounded Borger along with .78 of an inch of rain.

Other rain reports included Lefors, .85; Spearman, .50; Dalhart, .20; Stafford, .29 and a trace at Canadian.

Hail pounded a 12-mile-by-six mile section of the South Plains around Idalou. The hail stacked up four inches in some places.

"It was just like raining icicles," one farmer said. "It's a shame what it did to the cotton."

Cotton plants had reached knee level and were loaded with bolls before the storm. Afterward naked stalks about three inches high was about all that was left.

Grain crops also were hard hit. Hailstones smashed windows and damaged roofs in the lalou area but no injuries were reported.

Agriculture spokesman said it was too late in the season to (See RAIN, Page 3)

Washington (UPI)—President Johnson's choice of Sen. Wayne Morse to head the special railroad mediation panel was seen in some labor circles today as a direct insult to the six unions involved in the dispute.

According to these labor officials, appointment of the Oregon Democrat was a political blunder that further narrowed the already slim chance of avoiding compulsory arbitration of the rail dispute.

Acting under a law he signed Monday night to end the two-day general rail walkout, the President Tuesday named Morse, AFL-CIO President George Meany, Frederick R. Kappel, former board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., veteran labor mediator Theodore W. Kheel of New York, and former Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., to the blue ribbon mediation panel. Morse's appointment to head

HENDERSONVILLE N.C. — UPI — A Jet with 78 persons aboard collided with a single-engine plane near this little town's airport today and crashed in flames, strewn bodies along an interstate highway.

Green Beret Troops Get 'Copter Rescue

SAIGON (UPI) — Fighting against oncoming darkness and a battalion of Communists, U.S. Army helicopters whirled into the jungle and rescued a surrounded Special Forces Green Beret force, American spokesmen said today.

Major Robert Bowles of Mineral Wells, Tex., said his helicopters "pulled out that last wounded man just as it turned dark. We couldn't possibly have made it in or out of the landing zone again until morning."

About 600 guerrillas caught the Green Berets near the Cambodian border Tuesday and trapped them in sheets of machinegun, mortar and small arms fire.

American guns first reached the scene 70 miles northwest of Saigon and raked the Communist positions with Gatling gun fire "keeping the enemy away."

Bring Reinforcements
They carried in 130 U.S. Army 1st Infantry Division troops as reinforcements. The GIs drove the guerrillas back far enough to allow heavier choppers to land and bring out the wounded.

In other action, American jets in 133 missions smashed North Vietnamese military targets including Surface to Air Missile launchers hidden inside an athletic stadium between Hanoi and Haiphong.

Giant Air Force Stratofortresses returned to the A Shau valley on the Laos border and bombed a massive Communist buildup threatening allied positions on the North-South Vietnam border.

Further north, about 325 miles above Saigon, U.S. task force Oregon troops on the coast reported killing at least 42 Communists in a series of fights that cost one American dead and seven wounded.

Hit Hidden Launchers
In North Vietnam, Navy pilots hit something of a jackpot in the stadium.

"We excavated the eastern end of their soccer field into an Olympic-sized swimming pool," said Lt. Ted Casimes, 25, of Gadsden, Ala., one of the pilots who struck the Hai Duong stadium in two waves, heavily damaging the three launchers inside.

The American raids also smashed the Thi Liet oil dump 10 miles northwest of Haiphong, sending black smoke billowing a mile and a half high.

The raids cost one plane, the 612th U.S. Airplane Squadron, over the Communist country. Spokesmen said a U.S. Air Force F4C Phantom jet hitting transport routes in North Vietnam's southern panhandle was downed by ground fire. Both crewmen were rescued by helicopter.

Abraham & Co. says optimists still predominate so far as predictions toward a general business improvement in 1967's second half are concerned. With this in mind, the firm adds that it continues to have a "constructive" attitude toward the market for the time being.

Investors Research Co. says it expects the stock market to stage a healthy advance running right through August and September. Harbingers of this rise, the investment firm says, include the decisive expansion in trading volume, the sustained strength of growth leaders and more aggressive buying to top grade issues.

Highlights and Sidelights From Capitol

By VERN SANFORD

Austin — Texas Railroad Commission has turned up the oil allowable to a record high 48 per cent of potential — retroactive to July 1 — to meet demands created by the Middle East shoot-out.

Commission's extraordinary mid-month emergency order was the third of the kind since the Arabian oil cutoff. It boosted the allowable to 3,830,560 barrels a day — higher than during latter part of the 1957 Suez oil crisis and probably the highest since wide-open production days of 1948 when producers were encouraged to build-up war-drained crude supplies.

New increase adds 131,000 barrels a day to July allowable, which was raised to 42.9 per cent on the first of the month. Major purchasers told the Commission added production was necessary.

Allowable was 33.8 per cent when the Arab-Israeli shooting started in June. Commission raised it slightly — to 35.9 per cent — in mid-June, retroactive in June 1, and on July 1 announced the 42.9 per cent order.

August allowable is due to be set this week. Since the percentage factor was first used in 1963, the 37.5 per cent — of potential production was the highest adjustment used until the present Middle East crisis erupted.

In addition to the major effect on the state's general economy, a steadily climbing allowable appears likely to increase Texas' governmental tax income substantially. It has been estimated that the July 1 order would mean a $53,617 a day increase in state tax income — or a total of $1,600,000 through this month. Obviously, the increase now will be greater.

If the crisis continues for several months, the added income will be a major factor in shaping special session tax needs next year.

Meanwhile, Chairman Jim C. Langdon emphasized the Commission is determined to avoid repetition of the situation that followed the Suez emergency when oil industry suffered for two and a half years working off surplus stocks which piled up as a result of the big allowable boost a decade ago.

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of two wonderful sons. Until now I thought they were both very happy with their wives and adorable children.

Today one of my sons came to me with tears in his eyes as if I had not seen since he was a little boy. He confided that he had discovered that his wife had been meeting another man. I had no daughters and loved my son's wife very much. I feel that I cannot face her again, yet, it is hard for me to alienate myself from the grandchildren. Please help me.

BROKEN HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN HEARTED: Tell your son to keep cool and talk out with his wife the problem raised by her infidelity. If it is to be resolved short of a broken home, they must do it. If it cannot be, your relationship with the grandchildren will depend upon which parent has their custody. And if it is the wife, the challenge to your empathy and understanding will be great.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 25 years to a man who has never given me a penny!

I have worked in order to pay for our house, car, and all the furnishings. He buys some groceries and thinks he is a model husband because he doesn't smoke, drink, or chase women. (If you ask me, he would, but it's too expensive.) He works when he "feels like it" — and spends most of his time resting, watching TV, and reading. He is in perfect health and will probably live to be 100.

I am sick of the whole deal. This marriage has turned into an endurance contest. I've invited him to leave, but he ignores me. What do you suggest?

A FOOL: DEAR FOOL: What's holding YOU? Why don't YOU leave? Since you are supporting yourself anyway, you have nothing to lose but your reasons for complaining.

DEAR ABBY: I have just observed a group of "unselfish" church women preparing for a church rummage sale, the proceeds of which will go to charity. Almost every "good" item donated by someone from this group was snapped up by another member of the group. Of course they "paid" for these items, but typical conversation was, "Say, who marked this lamp five dollars? The shade is soiled!"

Then someone would reply, "I did, I paid $65 for it new — but mark it whatever you want and take it."

Then the other woman would mark it a dollar and promptly cart it off to her car.

Understand, Abby, these volunteers are not charity cases themselves. They are well-to-do club women. Do you think it is fair of them to skim the cream off the top that way? Hundreds of dollars could have been added to the proceeds if it weren't for this kind of thing. I welcome your remarks, and you may sign me.

JUST PLAIN IRKED

DEAR IRKED: The volunteers should have been told that such shenanigans are tantamount to taking money out of the cash register. Why didn't you speak up? Silence implies agreement.

CINCFIDENTIAL TO JOHNNY: Don't let it worry you. You are normal. Nobody likes to lose. There are really no "good losers." Only good actors.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Fall Ball Gowns Are Richly Endowed With Pretty Glitter

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fashion has been giving so much attention to legs it looked as if she'd forgotten the room at the top for a change.

The distractingly high hemlines and the fancy patterned stockings drew the eyes of the girl watchers downward. But now, the new evening clothes will haul them back up.

Bare shoulders come back for fall and winter. The evening coverup of the past few seasons is almost nothing at all. Squared and daintily scooped necklines are in. Backless-top dresses reappear. The one shoulder formal—one shoulder covered, one bare—is stronger than ever.

Some formals have absolutely no straps to interrupt the shoulder line. Others have mere strings. And the camisole top, with squared neckline and narrow straps, runs through most New York ready-to-wear collections.

Glitter continues strong. The grand gown for party belles replaces the "nightgown" or "baby dress" of past seasons. Stately satin dresses reappear with that flattering back fullness.

Many ball gowns are richly enough embroidered to have come from a museum. Women by the thousands will "float" into parties in layers of chiffon or tulle, marabou and ostrich feathers.

Among the exponents of the more "naked" look at the top are such specialists in evening wear as George Stagopoulos, who does many of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's grand occasion dresses; Ferdinando Sarmi, who really never gave up the glamour of the bare shouldered dresses; and Malcolm Starr, whose designer Elinor Simmons long has made the one-shoulder numbers.

Said Sarmi, "I have a strong feeling for the more naked look. I have 60 per cent more one-shoulder long dresses in my current collection than I did last year."

Miss Simmons said the bare top is "very gaia and now looks right." One of the handsomest gowns in the Starr-Simmons

POLLY'S POINTERS

Pastel-Headed Pins Make Doll Earrings

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Innocent of voodoo or vicarious pain, our 9-year-old Tammy has discovered that pastel-headed straight pins make attractive earrings for her Barbie doll. She pushes them into place and changes them to match different costumes. After all, if real people can have pierced ears, dolls can have pierced heads.

—PHIL, TAMMY'S DAD
DEAR PHIL — My 9-year-old granddaughter, Kit, had told me about doing this just a few days before your letter came. The same ideas seem to catch on in widely separated areas, and at about the same time.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I wish someone would tell me how to make jewelry boxes from milk cartons. I know it is being done, and we want to teach the 6-year-olds in Bible School how to make them.

—MRS. H.G.
DEAR POLLY — Barbecue time is here, so my tip is for the boys in the back yard. I find it quick and easy to make uniform hamburgers by using my wife's cupcake pans and paper cupcake liners. I put the liners in the pan, then, using the ice cream scoop, fill each cup with the meat and pat it down to make it firm. I can remove the filled cups or freeze them in the pan with the top covered with foil. The filled cups could be placed in any deep pan or freezer tray and hold their shape. I am always ready for any quick call for a cookout.

—WILLIAM
DEAR POLLY — and Mrs. S. A. M. — If you are inviting guests out to eat, then it should be understood that you are paying the bill without any discussion. However, when couples go out together Dutch treat, as we always do, it is better to ask the waiter to make separate checks. Then there is no discussion before or after the meal and each feels free to order what she really wants and can tip as she pleases. If I owned a cafe, I would tell my waitresses to always make separate slips unless the customers asked to have it otherwise.

Knees Are Still In

Woman to Woman
By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Sauer founded the American Society of Girl Watchers in 1964.

"For men who would rather look at a girl than a hedge sparrow."
At the moment, Sauer believes it may be necessary to form a subsidiary—a society for the prevention of longer-skirts. The mini skirt dominates fall and winter collections of pace-setting designers. It appears destined to become as much a fashion fixture as blue jeans.

"But some members knock knees, calling them ugly joints," Sauer said.
Those specializing in knee watching are expected to mix the newest fashion trend—all sorts of accessories for mini-skirted gams, come fall and winter.

Coverups In
Thigh high boots, for example, go over fish-net stockings worn over tights.
"But generally," Sauer said, "the covered leg is acceptable to members who specialize in watching that part of the anatomy. Blue knees aren't especially beautiful."

Many mini-skirted misses suffered through last winter with same. The era of the decorated leg will change all that.

Sauer, father of four and graduate of St. Vincent College in Latrobe, Pa., recently rewrote his "The Girl Watcher's Guide."

"Some object to the book on the grounds that girl watching is too restricted," he said. "They'll take girl hunting or girl collecting any day."

"But our society was founded, not to limit a man's activities, but to broaden them. What happens when a girl watches goes beyond watching is his business, not ours."

Sauer figures girl watchers outnumber bird watchers by 23.7 to 1. "Bird watchers have the Audubon Society — why shouldn't we have ours?" he said.

Far Flung Activity
The society is active in England, West Germany, Holland, Sweden, Saunders said.

Some of its by-laws:
—Members are not required to wear funny hats, learn secret signs or listen to dull speeches.
—Conventions and parades may be held whenever and wherever two or more members agree to meet or march.

—Members are required to turn in their lapel pins when they decide, for any reason, that girl watching is dull—or that birds are more plentiful.

If you go to Expo '67, some of Sauer's girl scouts may have their oris on you. Beginning in August, they're expected to scout-looking for the most watchable girl. By September, she will be identified.

She even may be older than 26. According to the society's constitution, a girl doesn't have to be between 18 and 26 to be beautiful.

She doesn't have to tap dance or be single either.

Support for State Employees To Go Up

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texans already are paying more than $1.5 billion a year to support the army of state employees, and the bill will go up by $35-37 million a year on Sept. 1.

About 60,000 Texans work for the state, a ratio of 74 state employees for every 10,000 citizens. This does not include the thousands of employees at state colleges and universities, or the 100,000 public school teachers, most of whom draw 80 per cent of their salaries from the state.

The work force is the state's biggest expense and one of its biggest problems.

When the legislature met this year, Gov. John Connally estimated 49 per cent of state employees have less than five years' experience, and 71 per cent less than 10 years' service.

High Turnover Rate
He noted that the turnover rate in 1966 reached an all-time high of 31 per cent. In an attempt to reverse that trend, the legislature voted state employees raises ranging from 30 per cent in the lower brackets to 14 per cent at the top.

Survey Shows Businesses Favor Holiday Changing

A Chamber of Commerce sponsored survey of Pampa businesses shows to date the city is 97 to 31 in favor of switching to uniform Monday holidays, and creating additional long weekends during the year.

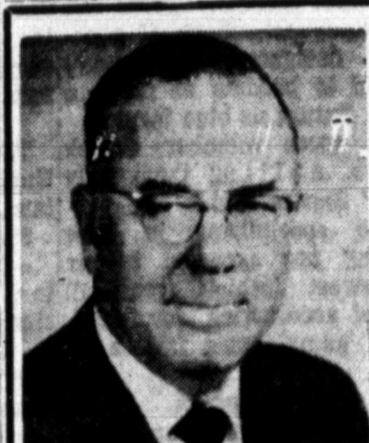

The proposal is to change the dates of certain nonreligious holidays so they will occur regularly and uniformly on Mondays. The objective is to create additional three-day weekends like Labor Day. The idea is not to establish new or added holidays, but to schedule several existing holidays on fixed Mondays. Christmas, New Year's Day and Easter are not included.

Days suggested by Senate bill 1217, sponsored by Sen. George Smathers, (D-Fla.) are Washington's Birthday (Feb. 22) to third Monday in February, and designated Presidents' Day in honor of all Presidents; Memorial Day, (May 30), to last Monday in May; Independence Day (July 4) to first Monday in July; Veterans Day (Nov. 11) to last Monday in October; and Thanksgiving Day, from fourth Thursday to fourth Monday in November.

E. O. Wedgeworth, CoC manager, said today any businesses that have survey cards out need to return them to the CoC office within 10 days for chamber officials to write a report to send to the United States Chamber of Commerce office. Pampa is one of several cities participating in the survey of business opinions on Monday holidays.

Thailand Slowly Going Over to Communist Side

By KIM WILLENSON
 SAKHOL NAKORN, Thailand (UPI)—This is a lovely town of 10,000, on the shore of a large and shallow lake, 10 miles from the foothills of the Phu Phan Mountains. It is peaceful and well-kept and the stranger does not quickly see the quiet anger which allows Communist insurgency to feed and grow.

Then he goes into the hills and the backward villages. He smells the odor of filth seeping up through the cracks between hand-hewn plank floors and sees the meagre possessions of the villagers.

He sees the children, thin, disabled, diseased, bloated from malnutrition.

If the spark of guerrilla warfare in Thailand is provided by Hanoi and Peking, it finds fuel in a social structure that has changed little since the days when the Normans were conquering England.

Thailand is a benevolent and relatively lenient dictatorship. The country is relatively well off economically and its prospects are not grim. But here in the northeast the soil is bad, the rainfall is insufficient and the topography does not favor rice growing. The farmers' income is one-third below the national average. Economic progress characteristic of the nation has not touched many northeastern communities.

The Communist insurgency may arise in part from outside agitation, but it succeeds because of local discontent.

A Backward People
 It has been traditional for those at the top of Thai society to profit at the expense of those at the bottom. This is particularly true in the northeast.

The people here are Laotian in origin. They speak a different language than the Thais of the Central Plains. They are shorter and darker, they even eat different foods and build their houses in a different manner.

They are barely out of the 16th century. The ox-cart is their principal transport. Their clothing is hand loomed from cotton that is picked, carded, beaten, spun and dyed by old women who live in shacks. Some have never seen money and would have no place to spend it if they had it.

They walk a mile or two each way for water and five miles to the nearest road. Electricity does not reach one village in 50.

The government, with American aid, is trying to remedy these flaws. It has the advantage of an early start and a more humane approach than at least aware of the role of Vietnam. Whether it is doing enough, soon enough, is the key question.

Compared to Vietnam, the central government has some advantages. Thailand, unlike the Vietnams, is unified, not divided. It is 95 per cent Buddhist, which prevents the religious antagonisms of Vietnam.

Never Colonized
 Above all, Thailand has never been the colony of a foreign power. Consequently the Communists cannot argue here as they do in Vietnam that the Americans are merely new French.

While villagers still know little of the government, the king, Bhumibol Adulyadej, providing focus for a national sentiment. The Communists have avoided attacking the king in their propaganda.

According to American officials in Washington, the villagers have shown little interest in having an elective national assembly. More important, these officials say, is effective village-level government.

Typical of the new bureaucracy seeking to bring useful government to the people is Wenyu Ankarak, the governor of Udorn Province. At 41, he is the youngest governor in Thailand. The well-educated Wenyu says frankly he does not believe military force is the answer to the northeast's problems. Although much of his time is spent on security matters, his main efforts are going into building roads and improving agriculture.

He stresses "the three K's" for "kai, kaofung and ko" or, in English, chickens, sorghum and cattle.

Most farmers already raise chickens and there is a ready market in Vientiane, Laos, 50 miles away. Sorghum pays 50 per cent more per acre than rice and Japan has agreed to buy Thailand's entire sorghum crop for five years. Cattle, which can be fed the sorghum stalks, are familiar beasts to the farmers.

More than a dozen chicken and cattle breeding stations have been opened and eight tons of sorghum seed have been distributed.

But the peasants are conservative. A farmer picked at random said he had heard of the new program through his village headman, but commented: "I have plenty to do in my rice paddies, so why should I grow sorghum?"

Former Brazil President Dies

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Former Brazilian President Humberto Castello Branco was killed Tuesday when the plane in which he was a passenger collided in flight with a Brazilian air force jet training plane over Fortaleza, in northeast Brazil.

The air force said three other persons died in the crash, all of them aboard the Ceara state-owned light plane which was taking Castello Branco to Fortaleza from a ranch on which he had been vacationing.

Rain Halts Nightcap, 3 Games Due Today

By RON CROSS
Rain halted Weatherford and Plainview in the bottom of the first inning Tuesday night and the two teams will take up right where they left off, in the bottom of the first with Plainview leading, 3-2, at 4 p.m. today.

The winner will meet at 9 p.m. tonight in the third round of the State Babe Ruth baseball tournament at Optimist Club Park.

The second game on tonight's agenda pits Lamesa against defending State Champion Southside San Antonio at approximately 6:30 p.m.

State Tournament Director, Newt Secrest said last night's rain checks would be good for the Plainview-Weatherford game only.

Should rain dampen things again tonight the games would be scheduled for Thursday, thus causing the tournament to be stretched to Saturday.

Pampa almost became the tournament favorite Tuesday night.

The All-Stars tallied two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to take an 8-7 lead over SAN Antonio.

But the defending state weren't having any and sent 17 batters to the plate in the seventh scoring 12 runs on 11 hits to throttle the Stars, 19-8.

A misjudged fly ball started the inning rolling as Leroy Thomas got credit for a triple. Then three straight base hits and two consecutive walks had San Antonio in front 12-5.

Young Sam Heasley had been touched for only one run through three innings before the roof caved in.

Ricky Harris took over for the nightcap.

LE Tourney In 3rd Night

Rain kept only one game from being official Tuesday night in the Pampa Little League Tournament and no makeup date has been set yet.

Coronado and Hoover Oil were rained out and will have to play the game over from the beginning.

If tonight's action scheduled games find McCathern and Moose meeting at 6 p.m. in American Park and Holmes and Harvester Barbecue on the National Park. The 5 p.m. games find VFW and Celanese at the American Park and Hunter and Dixie Parts on the National Park.

In Tuesday night action Bruce and Son exploded for nine runs on only six hits but downed Highland 9-6. The losers got five hits.

Jimmy Davis got the win while G. Nite took the loss. Watson went 2-3 and Thornton had a home run.

Cabot downed One Bull, 10-2, despite getting only seven hits. The losers managed only three hits off winning pitcher Author Rodriguez. D. Ferrell took the loss.

Rodriguez fanned 13 batters. In another tournament game Duncan downed Flint Rig, 3-1.

OUT AT THIRD — Scotty King slides into third and into Southside San Antonio's Johnny Johnson during Tuesday night action in the Babe Ruth State baseball tournament. King was out and Pampa was beaten, 19-8.

Palmer, Nicklaus Denver Favorite

DENVER (UPI)—Professional golf's elite made their final test run on the mile high Columbine course today in preparation for Thursday's opening of the $150,000 PGA championship.

It was still Arnold Palmer, who never has won this tournament, and 1963 champion Jack Nicklaus who commanded attention as the men to beat—as usual.

Palmer backed up that contention Tuesday by shooting his best round here—a 68 or 69, he said he wasn't sure which—over the par 72 Columbine Country Club course, which stretches out for 7,436 yards almost at the foot of the Rocky Mountains.

This was Palmer's third round of practice. He has been here since Sunday after passing up the British Open to get in some extra work toward the one major prize that has eluded him.

Nicklaus, meanwhile, got his first look at Columbine and got off to a miserable beginning—he topped his first tee shot a mere 60 yards. He had trouble throughout, bothered by narrow fairways, a multitude of bunkers and the altitude, which made him tired.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Cubs Making Bid For First Again

By United Press International

Nice guy Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs may be sorry he ever gave Dick Simpson of the Cincinnati Reds some batting tips.

Both the Cubs and the Reds picked up a full game on the first-place St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday and Chicago is now one game behind with the Reds just 2 1/2 games back.

It was Banks who noticed a few weeks ago that the lanky Simpson was unable to get his bat around and told the youngster to switch to a lighter piece of lumber. Simpson took the advice of the Cubs' star but has had a hard time finding out whether his problems were solved.

action Chicago downed Atlanta 9-3; Philadelphia split with Los Angeles, winning the opener 5-0 and dropping the nightcap 2-1; the Pirates beat the Giants in the first game of their twinbill 8-6 but lost the second game 3-2, and New York beat Houston 4-2.

Jim Maloney won his eighth game in 13 decisions for the Reds but needed relief help from Ted Abernathy in the eighth. Maloney was tagged for back-to-back homers by Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda in the sixth.

Kessinger Scores Five
Don Kessinger drove in five runs with two singles and a pair of doubles in pacing the Cubs to their fourth straight victory. Ferguson Jenkins worked the first 6 1-3 innings but gained credit for his 12th win against seven losses.

Rick Wise pitched a four-hitter and Bill White chipped in with his fourth homer of the year to pace the Phillies to their first game victory. In the nightcap, Phil Regan made his first National League start a successful one as he teamed with Ron Perranoski to stop Philadelphia on six hits.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Orioles Regret Losing Lonborg

By United Press International

The Baltimore Orioles get that sinking feeling every time they think about letting Jim Lonborg get away.

Lonborg, who considered signing with the Orioles in 1964 before finally deciding to go with Boston, became the biggest winner in the majors Tuesday night by pitching the Red Sox to a 6-2 victory over Baltimore.

The 24-year-old Lonborg struck out 11 and allowed only five hits while notching his 13th victory against three losses.

He accomplished the feat with only three days rest instead of his customary four because he must return to Boston from Baltimore for an Army reserve meeting. "When I'm a little tired my sinker works better," Lonborg explains. "I've pitched a lot with only three days rest and it doesn't seem to bother me."

Commutes To Games
On July 29, Lonborg begins a two-week stint with the reserves at summer camp, but he will hop airplanes to the games to keep the Red Sox pennant hopes flying while he's away.

The Orioles had assigned Frank Lane to try to arrange a trade for Lonborg in spring training this year, but Lane said, "Forget about getting him. The Red Sox won't trade him." In other games, the Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators 5-2, the Kansas City A's defeated the Minnesota Twins 5-2 and the California Angels whipped the league-leading Chicago White Sox 6-3. The New York Yankees game with the Indians at Cleveland was postponed by rain.

Lonborg is one of the main reasons the Red Sox are in third place in the American League this year.

Adds Run
Lonborg also contributed a run scoring single in a five-run second inning Tuesday night when the Red Sox routed Baltimore starter Dave McNally.

Lonborg didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning when Dave Johnson singled. Baltimore's runs came in the eighth when rookie Curt Motton hit a two-run homer on a hanging curve ball.

In the first inning, the Angels scored four runs, including three that were unearned, to beat the White Sox. Bobby Knop's bases-loaded single drove in two runs. Rick Clark was credited with his sixth straight victory, boosting his record to 11-5, but he had to be relieved in the sixth inning by Bill Kelso.

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Freddie Little, Las Vegas, decided Harold Richardson, New York, (10).

Frazier Favorite to Take Chuvalo

NEW YORK (UPI) — Superbly confident Joe Frazier was an increasingly popular 2 1/2-to-1 favorite to take a giant step toward the vacant heavyweight title tonight by whipping trail horse George Chuvalo in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

By the time the two weigh-in at noon today at the Garden, Frazier could be favored by as much as 3 to 1 to permanently remove the Canadian from the heavyweight rankings.

Rebs Have no Power; But Pitching is Great

By RON CROSS

The Rebels two losses this season have been to Hereford, 4-3, the only loss Alan Woodard has been subjected to, and Palo Duro, 3-2. Pampa beat Palo Duro last week to even the score.

The Pampa success can be attributed to two things. Good defense and better pitching.

The Rebels have committed only 14 errors in their 17 games played, which must be some kind of record for any Pampa team.

The pitching has been par excellence.

Alan Woodard, a smooth throwing southpaw has compiled a 7-1 season record that includes four shutouts, two one-hitters and three two-hitters.

Woodard has given up only five earned runs in 67 innings pitched. He has fanned 122 batters and his control has been so good he has walked just 14 batters.

Friday night the two losers meet at 6 p.m. and the winners at 9 p.m. and the finals are slated Saturday night.

Dickie Henley, who didn't finish the season with the Pampa Harvesters, seems to have worked his arm back in shape and stands 4-0.

Henley has given up six earned runs in 30 innings, fanned 51 and he too has shown good control walking only 13 batters.

Another youngster, who has been given a chance by manager Lloyd Summers, Randy Harris, has posted a 2-0 record, working 14 innings. Harris was touched for three runs, two coming in his last outing.

Al Gomez, who has just rejoined the club after being gone out of the city and George Bailey, who'll be a junior next year, have won the other two games for the Rebels.

Bailey is the only other Rebel to post a shutout. He worked seven innings and gave up just four hits, fanned 15 and walked two.

He, too, has been gone but is now back in uniform.

The other Rebel loss was credited to Gary Molberg, a fate he did not deserve. Molberg gave up an unearned run in the Pampa loss to Palo Duro on a walk and error.

Speed has been a prime factor in the Rebel success as Summers has had Pampa running more and enjoying it more. Much more.

The Rebels have stolen 67 bases, an average of almost six per game. Alvin Achord leads the club in thefts, on the field, with 17 while Molberg, who isn't thought of as the fastest thing in uniform is second with 11 thefts.

Four players have done most of the hitting.

Woodard leads the club with 21 hits in 53 swings for a .398 average while Larry Stephens and Gary Molberg, who has come on strong the last two weeks, are tied for second with .364 averages.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Sentiment Favors Monday Holiday

Change Washington's birthday to Presidents' Day and move it from February 22 to the third Monday in February?

Observe Independence Day on the first Monday in July, regardless of when July 4th fell?

Hersey, you say? Not to a growing number of people who support the idea of uniform Monday holidays.

Last March a Sunday newspaper magazine supplement invited readers to return a ballot indicating their views about changing the dates of certain non-religious holidays so that they would occur regularly on Mondays. It reported a deluge of returns—180,061 in favor, only 10,094 opposed.

A few months before that, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce polled its members on the question and found an overwhelming 85 per cent approved. Most of the businessmen said the change would help their production and work schedules by avoiding the stop-start interruptions caused by midweek holidays.

The local Chamber is making a survey of the proposal in Pampa. The U.S. Chamber is now actively supporting legislation in Congress, where several bills have been introduced in both the House and Senate. Although a federal law on uniform Monday holidays would be applicable only in the District of Columbia the chamber believes it would encourage the states to follow suit.

Broadest of the bills is S. 1217, sponsored by Gen. George Smathers, D-FLA. In addition to changing Washington's Birthday to Presidents' Day in honor of all presidents and fixing Independence Day on a Monday, it would move Memorial Day (now May 30) to the last Monday in May, Veterans Day (November 11) to the last Monday in October and Thanksgiving Day from the fourth Thursday to the fourth Monday in November.

Neither this, nor any of the other bills would affect Christmas, New Year's Day or Easter.

Our present holidays observation dates are less traditional than most people assume, says the chamber in answer to one objection.

Washington's Birthday, for example, was really February 11 under the old Julian calendar in use at the time. The Continental Congress actually approved the resolution of independence on July 2, 1776. This was the date John Adams thought should be celebrated.

Another and perhaps stronger argument is that Monday holidays, by extending weekends to three days, would cause more traffic accidents than one-day, midweek holidays.

Various studies show that sometimes this is true, sometimes not. Traffic fatalities during nonholiday weekends often exceed those of holiday weekends.

The National Safety Council has stated "that from a traffic safety viewpoint... highway deaths provide no argument for or against Monday holidays."

The idea of uniform Monday holidays is not a new one, but the momentum behind it is building. It seems likely that in the not too distant future, Americans, speaking through their state and national representatives, will be given an opportunity to make a final decision about it.

There's a Lesson Here Somewhere

It's not surprising that kids are playing war games these days instead of cowboys and Indians.

They draw for sides. Losers have to be the Arabs.

Then the armies square off and go it on the back yard battlefield. Israel, of course, mops up on the Arabs.

Inevitably, some of the warriors forget at times that it's all in fun.

"YOU cheated," an Arab yells at an Israeli. "You played rough. I'll tell your pop, and you just wait!" "Go ahead and tell him," yelps the Israeli. "I'll tell my pop, too. Then see what happens!"

What happens is that the two pops run into each other at the drugstore, compare reports, have a laugh and hurry home to mow the grass.

"Let 'em handle it themselves," they agree. "Let 'em learn how to get along without fighting."

Which shows these dads haven't been paying attention. Anybody ought to know this isn't the way it's done in real warfare and national crises.

But it does seem to work with kids. Do you suppose.....?

So What Else is New?

The U.S. Air Force has disclosed that it has developed a "whispering gallery" through which messages can travel from one manned spacecraft to another at incredible speed over incredible distances.

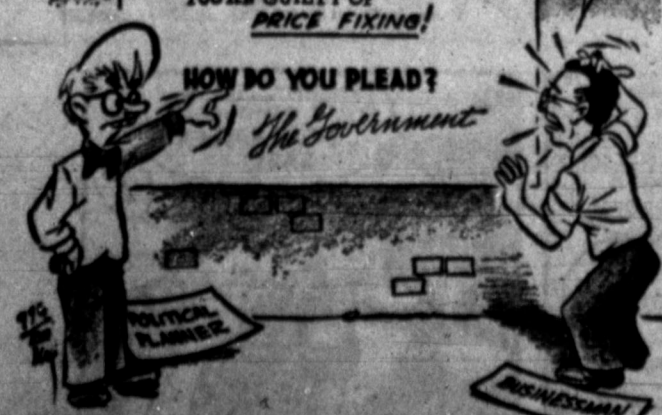

With all respect to the Air Force, this phenomenon is really nothing. Up to this time it has been called gossip.

Che' Guevara Believed Likely to Show Up in Havana At 'Solidarity' Conference; Reported Active in Bolivia

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The reappearance of Ernesto "Che" Guevara, the missing Red guerrilla expert, is now expected before the end of month in either Bolivia or Cuba.

A growing number of intelligence estimates, particularly those from Bolivia, affirms the presence of Guevara's guerrilla headquarters for Latin America in that strife-torn country.

Bolivian authorities have discovered notes of Jules Regis DeBray, the French Communist captured with one guerrilla gang, disclosing a meeting with the Argentine-born revolutionary since entering the country.

This report supports other accounts from captured guerrillas in Bolivia that Guevara is directing guerrilla operations there but has gone temporarily to Cuba for the first meeting of the Latin American Solidarity Organization on July 28.

The solidarity organization designed to give political direction to all overt and covert Communist operations in Latin America, was set up 17 months ago in Havana at the close of the so-called Tri-Continental Congress. This congress was attended by Communist representatives from 80 nations, including Russia and Communist China.

Since his disappearance from Cuba on April 19, 1965, Guevara reportedly has spent his time setting up the "guerrilla warfare" arm of this organization in Colombia, Venezuela, and Bolivia.

Bolivian authorities say their country was picked by Guevara for his headquarters because of its central location and the chain of mountains linking it with these other Latin American nations.

CAPTURED DOCUMENTS — Guevara's reappearance in Havana this month is indicated in one of the planning papers for the July 28 conference of Latin American Reds.

It lists Castro's former chief lieutenant as one of the participants, stating that Guevara will discuss and expand on the theme of his 6,000 word essay calling on all "progressive forces" in the world to unite against the U.S.

Published in Havana in April, Guevara's "call to arms" urged "more Vietnams (be) created immediately in Latin America." He argued that these militant guerrilla actions are the quickest and most effective way to destroy U.S. influence in the region.

Guevara's new role was also hinted in the notes captured on French writer DeBray. One of his penciled paragraphs read: "When Guevara reappears in July, he will be at the forefront of a Latin American guerrilla movement as indisputable political and military chief."

Swiss diplomats in Havana, who handle U.S. affairs there, have reported to the State Department that an unidentified man fitting Guevara's description — Age 39; height, 5 foot, 10 inches; eyes brown; hair black; build heavy; with light beard — has been seen with Castro twice since Soviet Premier Kosygin's visit.

MIDDLE EAST FRONT — Algerian President Kouari Boumedienne is offering his country as a guerrilla-war training base and supply center for all the Middle East and African countries opposing Israel.

In his recent conferences with Egyptian, Syrian, and Iraqi officials, the pro-Soviet Algerian leader made the proposal while urging a sustained guerrilla war against Israel like the one Algerians fought against France from 1954 to 1962.

Boumedienne's offer, drafted during his recent Moscow visit, provides for thousands of Soviet and Algerian instructors to train the guerrillas for infiltration behind Israel's extended military lines.

Under this battle plan, the guerrillas would attempt to link up with the hundreds of thousands of Palestine refugees living in the Gaza strip, in the Jordan West Bank region, and Jerusalem. Several thousand of these are Arab commandos, who during the recent fighting hid their weapons for later use.

Syrian officials, who welcomed the Algerian plan, were told by Boumedienne that Soviet leaders agreed not only to equip and train the guerrillas but to finance their travels to and from the training camps.

U.S. intelligence sources report that the Algerian plan fits into Russia's over-all strategy of perpetuating the Arab-Israeli conflict, since this makes it easier for them to penetrate the Middle East. Peace in that region, according to these sources, would tend to slow down expansion of Russian influence.

DEGAULLE'S ROLE — This Soviet strategy also explains why Premier Kosygin during his two recent Paris visits with President deGaulle did not object to France's continued arms sale to Israel.

DeGaulle, who has consistently supported to the Soviet position in the Middle East since the fighting broke out, raised the Israel arms issue with Kosygin, who reportedly encouraged him to continue the shipments.

Israel is currently negotiating the purchase of 50 French Mi-5s, which cost about $1.2 million each, have longer range and can carry more rockets than the Mirage III that Israel used so effectively in the recent fighting.

U.S. intelligence authorities also say an agreement has been reached for the French firm Turbomeca to set up a jointly-owned plant in Israel to produce jet engines.

Johnny — Daddy, my teacher wants me to prove that the white man is superior to the Indian. Can you help me? Mr. Jones (his father) — Don't think I can. When the white men took over the country, the Indians were running it. There were no taxes, and the women did all the work. How could they improve on a system like that?

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE

Last week, I tried to call attention in this column to the self-evident truth that each individual is living his own life, for his own happiness, with whatever knowledge he has accumulated being the guide to how he will seek happiness.

The significance of this, I believe, is in realizing that others are not acting from your understanding of the world. They act from whatever they know about efficient happiness-seeking.

One man may feel that the most efficient way to obtain happiness is to steal. If so, he will steal.

You may condemn him if you wish. You can say that he is "going against God's will." But what you mean to say is that "he is going against what I believe to be God's will and I believe it is inefficient to try to go against God."

For the thief doesn't believe the same things you do. You can say that he is "wrong" for not believing; but the truth of the matter is that if he were to have exactly the same background you have, he would then believe exactly the same things you do. But he doesn't have that background; he has his own — and his own knowledge provides him with an entirely different view of the world from the one that guides your actions.

Am I suggesting that it is "right" to steal? No. I am merely recognizing a fact of life: that if the thief believes it is right to steal (meaning that it will bring him happiness), he will steal. That's all there is to it.

You throw yourself a curve when you assert the knowledge and moral standards you have acquired and expect everyone else to act by them. You are better advised to keep your property out of reach of the thief.

In the same way, you are riding for a fall whenever you expect anyone to act in a way different from what his own knowledge tells him will bring him happiness.

Don't base your plans on the number of people will be honest, respectful, intelligent, moral, etc. You have no way of knowing this will be the case. To say, "Well, they ought to be!" is to bring in something that is totally irrelevant. They will be whatever they believe they ought to be.

If you go driving with the assumption that everyone on the road is as careful a driver as you are, you may not make it home alive. If you fail to lock your doors at night because you would not trespass on someone else's property, you may lose your worldly goods. If you base your plans on others having the same insight and understanding that you have, your plans will very likely fail.

No one but you is living for your happiness. Neither is anyone else acting upon your understanding of the world. Don't expect them to. Treat each individual as a new and separate entity. Discover the truth about him — then expect him to be as he is, not as you are.

It does no good after the fact to prove that someone else shouldn't have acted as he did. He acted that way because his nature told him to. Why didn't you realize that before the disaster?

Thieves will steal. Stupid men will make mistakes. Disrespectful people will abuse you. What did you expect? Face that fact and avoid those people. Seek out the ones who will act in ways that are compatible with your intentions. Then you will have no time for moral indignation. You will be too busy being happy.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

The new Lyndon Johnson postage stamp has become a serious problem. After thousands of complaints that the stamps will not stick, the government has made exhaustive surveys which indicate that the problem lies not with the quantity or quality of the glue or paper. People are spitting on the wrong side!

In a poll just completed among the subscribers to our 10 state farm magazines, the question was asked: "If you had your choice of voting for one of the following men for President in 1968, who would you vote for? 1. Lyndon Johnson; 2. Bobby Kennedy; 3. Richard Nixon; 4. Ronald Reagan; 5. George Romney; 6. George Wallace."

Here are the results: Wallace — 44.6 per cent; Nixon — 27.2 per cent; Reagan — 10.8 per cent; Johnson — 8.1 per cent; Romney — 5.4 per cent; and Kennedy — 4.0 per cent.

Doubtless this is the only survey in history which has shown an incumbent Democrat President running fourth in the South or anywhere else, and with only 8.1 per cent of the total vote! And that was before Johnson nominated the extreme leftist Negro, Thurgood Marshall, to the Supreme Court.

International Socialist and sometime American Walter Reuther has reportedly "de-committed" himself from Lyndon Johnson and may back the proposed "Peace ticket" — Bobby Kennedy and Senator Fulbright. Reuther reportedly no longer believes in Lyndon. Reuther also does not believe in God. It's highly possible God does not believe in Reuther.

The main difference between Republicans and Democrats is that the Democrats are in and the Republicans are out. Ordinarily that would be enough reason to vote Republican, but unless the Republican Party offers a real choice with a moral and religious conservative unequivocally dedicated to constitutional government, then the Democrats should be reelected and the Republican corpse buried.

The Republicans cannot win without the South and without the conservative Democrat vote — North and South. If the Republicans would nominate a Reagan - Wallace ticket or a Thurmond - Reagan ticket, they would sweep the election — and sweep the Rockefeller, Javits, Percys and Hatfields into the Democrat Party where they belong.

Wallace might conceivably pull out if the Republican Party nominated a real conservative. If it doesn't, it is signing its death warrant. Wallace will beat any moderate Republican and Johnson will be reelected — unless nobody gets a majority in the electoral college. Then the election would be thrown in to the House of Representatives where each state would get one vote for its choice among the three leading candidates, and anything could happen.

Since we now have two parties controlled by the same international collectivists, we should have a third party, and a fourth or a fifth if it takes that to give the American people a real choice. The present Democrat and Republican Parties are twin prostitutes working for the same madam. The same Fabian Socialists, international bankers, capitalists and world government collectivists who now control both Republican and Democrat parties don't particularly care which nominee wins, as long as they name both nominees.

The mainstreamers who drowned Goldwater better put on their life belts for the 1968 swim-in. The "constructive alternatives" they advocate are named George and Lurleen.

NO PEACE IN PARADISE

After 50 years, the attempts to paint the Communist system as something less than a living hell still abound. When Americans see movies such as "Doctor Zhivago," there is always someone close by to remind us that the intolerable conditions painted therein have long since disappeared from Russia that more "liberal" leaders now administer a system with more freedom.

Welcome, then, is another book on the scene that reminds us that the Communist paradise is still what it was in 1918 — a society of poverty, brutality and hopelessness. The new book is a novel — "No Peace in Paradise" — by Stanley M. Clark (published by Exposition Press, 386 Park Ave., New York 16, N. Y., $2.00).

This 96-page story has as its hero (or anti-hero) Robert Jones, the typical progressive pseudo-intellectual who glories in the "one world" concept. He goes to East Germany to write a book about the Soviet system, hoping to be given free access to the Communist countries so that he may "open the eyes" of the people in the West who doubt the efficiency and peaceful intentions of the Communist Rulers.

He is immediately placed under arrest and the pressure is applied to get him to sign a statement that would identify him as a CIA agent. He refuses and is shipped off to prison. But he manages to escape and spends time recuperating in a Polish forest, learning the truth from the natives, falling in love and preparing to sneak back to the West.

After his eyes are opened, he makes an impressive speech to his new-found love: "Since my earliest years I have been meditating about the riddle of life, about the problems of politics and sociology. Some irresistible force was driving me toward a search for new solutions to the conflicts of our times. I wished I could make all mankind happy. Only here, in your environment, have I come to see and Tiffany's on New York's Fifth Avenue connotes elegance in jewelry, silverware and other fine bric-a-brac to almost every one, but who knows what the names means and if there ever was anyone named Tiffany?

Well there was, Charles Lewis Tiffany, a Connecticut native, started the firm in 1837 in partnership with John B. Young on a borrowed capital of $1,000. They dealt in stationery and fancy goods and shrewdly located their establishment next door to A. T. Stewart, then a big New York department store. Tiffany commenced experimenting with patterns of silverware, then dominated by the English and came out with some new designs that caught on. He began manufacturing jewelry and that phase of the business expanded rapidly. Young gradually faded from the scene and the firm became Tiffany & Co. By the time Charles Tiffany died in 1902 his name had become a by-word for the best in jewelry.

Today's smile: Art Moger, TV wit and author, tells about the fellow who went into business on a shoestring and tripled his investment. Now he's wondering what he can do with three shoestrings.

Fishermen are always pictured as being lazy. Cartoonists love to show them snoozing on the shore while a big one tugs at their line. Well, now they can afford to be pictured that way for an Indiana firm has commenced marketing a fishing rod holder that sounds a beep alarm and flashes a light to awaken a somnolent angler when there's a strike. What next?

Thoughts while shaving: It's a thrilling sight to see one of the big ocean liners come up the North River in New York and be nudged into its mooring by tiny tug boats. It takes six tugs to warp big ones like the Cunard Line Queens-Elizabeth and Mary — into their berths. But the captains of those liners have at times demonstrated their competence as seamen. Both Cunard ships have docked at New York without the aid of tugs during labor troubles there. . . . It's a paradox but the great McCall Glacier in Alaska grows faster in the summer than in the winter because the moist air at that season causes heavy snows. Also, contrary to popular belief only about 3 per cent of Alaska's 186,000 square-miles territory is covered by glaciers. . . . We read a news item the other day about a fellow who lifted a car without a jack to change a tire and considered it a prodigious feat of strength. Now we wonder how he would fare in competition with Leonard Zhabotinsky, the Russian weight lifter, who can pick up 479 pounds and hold it over his head with the greatest of ease. . . . THE NORFOLK (Va.) VIRGINIAN-PILOT reported in a story: "The single lane bridge is about 110 feet long." Really?
