U.S. Plane, Crew Are Missing After Raid

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Navy jets dive-bombed North Vietnamese army barracks on the outskirts of the port city of Haiphong, American spokesmen said today. Pilots from the 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Constellation reported destroying four of the barracks plus two ammunition dumps and a motor pool.

Mideast Tension Dips As Arab Strike Ends

By United Press International — An Arab business strike in the Israeli-held city of Jerusalem was generally over today. Arab buses and taxis remained off the streets to maintain the protest against Israeli annexation of the once-Jordanian sector.

An Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo said reports from unidentified sources indicated Israel still was holding at least 5,000 Egyptian prisoners of war, 10 times the number Israel has reported to the Red Cross.

Heikal, considered Egypt's most influential journalist, was accused by two well-known political commentators of being "bourgeois" and "defeatist" for a while.

Political Warfare Continues In China

HONG KONG (UPI) — A Red Chinese Radio broadcast today said supporters of Communist party chairman Mao Tse-tung were "wounded by gunshots" in Chekiang Province and declared anti-Maoists were being incited "to storm into the cities."

The broadcast by Chekiang Radio reported "serious political incidents in which proletarian revolutionaries (pro-Maoists) are atrociously suppressed."

Quoting an editorial in the Chekiang Daily, published in the provincial capital of Hangchow, the broadcast said persons loyal to Mao "were attacked and wounded by gunshots."

It said "bad leaders" of some organizations were "inciting some misled masses to storm into the cities" to suppress Mao's supporters.

The organizations were not identified but rebel army elements in China have previously been accused by Peking of urging "misled masses" to storm into the cities and defy Peking's authority.

Texas has the largest percentage of Negro pupils going to school with whites, the report said. Tennessee and Virginia were ranked as the closest competitors.

Texas has 34.6 per cent of its Negro students attending schools where they make up less than 95 per cent of the enrollment, the report said.

Washington (UPI) — Texas got a higher score Monday than any of 17 southern and border states on school desegregation efforts in a report released by the United States Commission on Civil Rights.

The commission emphasized in a 262-page "Southern School Desegregation Report" that southern school desegregation "continues to be slow" in spite of laws.

Racial Calm Follows 'Rat' Demonstration

By United Press International — Police fought about 75 Negro demonstrators in the House of Representatives in Washington Monday but elsewhere the racial scene was quiet.

The Capitol demonstrators, chanting "rats cause riots," shoved their way into a House gallery Monday and engaged in a wild struggle with police who tried to oust them.

The Negroes, who arrived in Washington aboard two buses from Brooklyn and Harlem, N.Y., were protesting the House's failure to pass a $40 million rat control bill.

In Wichita, Kan., hit by weekend racial violence, 14 Negro youths patrolled the troubled northeast Negro section discouraging residents from congregating in large groups.

The youths, wearing blue hats and calling themselves "observers," included several boys who pitched rocks and bottles at police during the weekend trouble.

Two white Detroit policemen, Ronald August and Robert Paille, were charged with murder Monday in the shotgun deaths of two Negro youths during the motor city's rioting.

Washington — Sens. Charles Percy, R-Ill., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., unveiled plan to set up immediately a $1.1 billion emergency fund to help ease ghetto tensions.

The legislation would permit the President to transfer up to two per cent of the non defense budget into neighborhood emergency fund.

Explosions Jar Gulf Coast Area

LAKE CHARLES, La. (UPI) — One great explosion and a series of smaller explosions today shook the Cities Service refinery five miles southwest of Lake Charles and set off a raging fire.

A spokesman for Cities Service said six or seven men were working in the area and he presumed they were dead.

Other plants in the complex are a Firestone Rubber Co. plant and a Hercules Powder Co. plant. Underground pipelines connect all the plants but those to Firestone and Hercules were cut off, Ragusa said.

Police and sheriff's deputies blocked off streets and highways around the plant because of fear of additional explosions.

Police were assigned to broken windows in downtown Lake Charles business to prevent looting.

Police Plan Tests For Promotions — Six veteran Pampa police officers will be given tests at 3 p.m. Thursday in the City Commission room in city hall to help determine who Pampa's two new police sergeants will be.

Orphanage Buries One of Its Own, Hero of Vietnam

DAVENPORT, Iowa (UPI) — They said goodbye Monday to Carl Olson in the small chapel at the Annie Wittenmyer Home. But they won't forget a Marine and a hero.

Lance Cpl. Carl J. Olson, 20, killed in a Viet Cong mortar attack near Quant Tri in South Vietnam, was not the kind to stand out in any crowd. He was quiet and shy — a "loner" who often liked to go off by himself to think.

But he had other attributes that came to the surface after knowing him for a while. He wrote poetry, painted and drew sketches. And had a strong sense of patriotism. He was interested in helping other, and while at the Annie Wittenmyer home for "deprived" children, he volunteered to work with slower children.

Carl Olson was 15 when he came to the state-run home here with a younger brother and two younger sisters. Their father died in an auto accident a few years before, and their mother was unable to provide for them. His mother died shortly after.

Carl was helpful. "It seemed like he was with the smaller group of boys all the time, helping the slower boys get adjusted," said house father Ed Hall.

When competing on the various teams at home, Carl "played for keeps all the time. He never let up. He always played for keeps," Hall said.

Council Releases Final 35 Blocks Of Street Paving

The final 16 units comprising 37 city blocks of paving in Pampa's overall street improvement program were released to the contractor today by the Pampa City Commission.

At the same time the commission passed on first reading an ordinance accepting work and authorizing payment for 35 blocks of paving already completed. The amount to be paid in today's acceptance ordinance was fixed at $167,409.

City Manager Jim White said today's authorization amounts to approximately one-fourth of the 140 city blocks set up in the current summer paving program.

The council gave final reading today to two ordinances authorizing the mayor to enter into contract with the Texas Highway Department for right of way purchases needed for improvements on US 60 inside the city limits and SH 273 south from Brown St. to the Barnes St. railway underpass.

Sims Electric Co. was awarded a contract for installation of traffic control equipment at Duncan and Harvester Sts. The low bid was $3,318.15. Authorization also was given for re-

Congo Rebels Combat Troops Near Border

KINSHASA (UPI) — Congo army troops and white rebel mercenaries were locked in heavy combat today on the Rwanda republic border government sources said.

The fighting started on the outskirts of the Congo border town of Bukavu after the Belgian and French mercenaries arrived Monday night near the end of a 375-mile jungle trek to the brink of escape into Rwanda.

Using artillery transported by U.S. Air Force planes, the central government forces said they had the 120 to 150 mercenary plus about 500 rebel Katangese troops cornered on the Rwanda border.

Led by Belgian Maj. Jean (Black Jack) Schramme, the mercenaries have been pushing towards Bukavu on the border since they tried and failed to oust the regime of President Joseph D. Mobutu.

After at least three bloody jungle battles with Congo army troops, the mercenaries Monday night reached the outskirts of Bukavu.

Burglars Brave; Move Downtown, Hit Two Firms

Burglars, apparently getting braver by the week, moved into downtown Pampa early Monday evening and struck two business firms and Ballard Floor and Supply Co., 409 W. Brown.

James Powell, owner of Masters Cleaners, 218 N. Cuyler, told police Monday night he went to his shop about 10:15 p.m. and discovered his place of business had been entered.

According to a police report, burglars apparently entered the building by prying open the back door after failing to break through a window.

A safe in the south part of the building was pushed to the rear. The front knob was knocked off, pin driven out and the handle removed.

But the burglars managed to reach only a small cash box with $10 in fifty-cent pieces in it and took $5 in nickels, dimes and pennies from the cash register.

CoC Cancels Fireworks Display; Backs Mail-Box Re-Installation

Pampa Chamber of Commerce members have decided to cancel this year's fireworks display, which was rained out, and enlarge on next year's show.

The board decided to sponsor a contestant in the Wheatheart of the Nation contest, slated for Aug. 19 in Perryton. Roy Sparkman and D. W. Pond were appointed to a committee to secure a contestant and arrange her trip to Perryton.

Trade Stamps To Supply Air Trip To Viet Wife

PERRYTON (SPL) —A Perryton woman, Mrs. Donna Lile, soon will be making a trip to see her soldier husband, PFC Larry Lile, through the courtesy of Gunn Brothers Trading Stamps and stamp savers in the Texas panhandle area.

The unusual story began when husband Larry, stationed near Saigon, learned that he will be having a leave in Hawaii sometime in August. He wanted Donna to come and share the leave with him.

"I just had to find a way to see Larry during his leave," Donna said. "We've been married 13 months and he's been in Viet Nam for seven of them." She found the way by writing Gunn Brothers in Amarillo to learn if stamps could be traded for air fare to Honolulu. They could. And the word started to spread that Donna and Larry needed trading stamps.

From throughout the Texas Panhandle, friends and relatives began to send stamps and books of stamps to Donna. Now, the trip is assured. Donna leaves August 14.

Larry is a graduate of Booker High School, where he was a member of the state champion relay team. Before his induction into the army in July, 1966, he was a student at Oklahoma Christian College in Oklahoma City.

Donna is a graduate of Perryton High School. Later she attended Amarillo College of Hair Dressing and now works as a beauty operator in Perryton.

Why? LONDON (UPI) — Returned Australian Labor party leader Arthur Calwell was quoted by The Times Saturday as asking, "If Australians are in Vietnam to fight the threat of Communism, why didn't we send troops to defend India when the Chinese attacked?" Calwell failure to recognize Peking as "absolute folly. We don't accept their credentials but we have accepted their letter of credit for $850 million worth of wheat they have bought from us in the last six years."

Wedgeworth, Lyons Attend WTCC Directors Meeting

E. O. Wedgeworth, Pampa Chamber of Commerce manager, and Gordon Lyons of Pampa, both members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will attend a WTCC board of directors meeting in Hereford Thursday and Friday.

Directors will consider 10 proposed constitutional amendments. He is also expected to order his committee's recommendations for the board's consideration.

Alvie Cole, Sterling City, agriculture and ranching committee chairman, will discuss prospective legislation as it affects agriculture and ranching business. His committee will also investigate items for consideration of special subcommittees on imports, subsidies, research and brush control.

Progress of plans for bringing additional water to West Texas will be the primary subject of the water committee, headed by K. B. Watson of Amarillo. Watson will also report on recent developments and actions by WATER, Inc., a separate organization formed to obtain water for West Texas.

Other plans include an executive committee meeting Thursday afternoon, a reception and dinner that evening and a meeting of the entire board of directors Friday morning.

The regular Quota Busters breakfast is scheduled for Friday morning to honor directors who have equaled or exceeded membership quotas in their cities.

Don Wooten, president of WTCC, will preside at the board meeting and the executive committee meeting. Other discussion items include membership, finance and recommendations of other committees in the organization.

The board is also expected to adopt the program of work which outlines in detail goals and objectives for fiscal year 1967-68. This program has been developed through a series of meetings in the 11 WTCC districts and will be printed and distributed following approval of directors.

Local School Men

McHenry Lane, Pampa schools' elementary coordinator, and Bob Parks, Woodrow Wilson Elementary School principal, are attending a meeting today in Amarillo to study science programs for next year.

The meeting of American Association for Advancement of Science, is sponsored by Panhandle Educational Services Organization, an agency of West Texas State University.

The meeting is also part of the Texas Cooperative Dissemination Project of Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

Raid

Cong campaign to harass Saigon, a campaign American commanders have said is the top Communist military aim in the war.

Allied spokesmen reported more Viet Cong troops, 1,500 strong, swarmed Monday at a U.S. South Vietnamese Special Forces camp 54 miles northwest of Saigon. The Communist hordes first lobbed in artillery shells and then charged in waves.

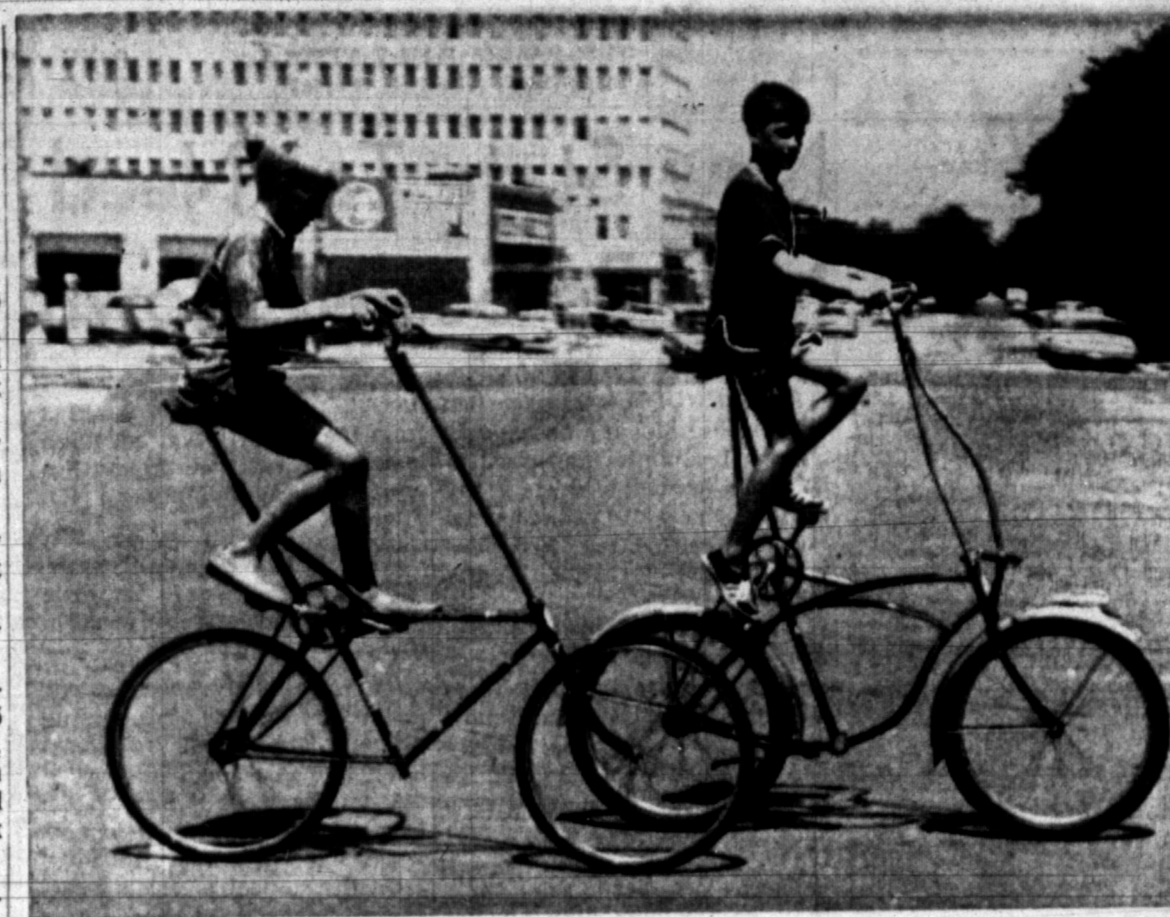

The Vietnamese troops led by American Green Berets fought them off, killing 116 Communists and capturing one, spokesmen said.

The Berets seized three 50-caliber machine guns and 35 rifles from the Communists. Said a military spokesman in understatement: "The Special Forces troops fought back hard."

The American advisers suffered one man wounded. Their Vietnamese troopers suffered "moderate" casualties, indicating a brutal fight before the Communist regiment turned and ran.

In another Saigon area clash, 12 miles north of the capital, South Vietnamese Rangers—perhaps the toughest of government troops—killed seven guerrillas and captured a mortar without losing a man, military spokesmen said.

The Allies in all reported killing 214 Communists in South Vietnam Monday. They killed 91 in the Central Highlands in a sunrise battle. South Vietnamese troops reported suffering "light" losses in the fight.

RIDING IN HIGH STYLE—Rick Wardlow, 12, and Mark Dunham, 12, left, are on top of the world when they are atop their special built 5-foot-high bikes. The boys, with the help of their dads, converted their conventional two-wheelers by welding on the extension bars. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wardlow of 2114 N. Banks and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dunham of 2100 N. Faulkner.

Obituaries

Mrs. Virginia Ann Smith
Mrs. Virginia Ann Smith of Texarkana, former Pampian, was killed Sunday near Texarkana in a car-truck accident.

Mrs. Smith was born June 19, 1930, in Pampa.

Survivors include her husband, Fred Smith; three sons, Harold, Michael and David Smith and two daughters Patricia and Dorothy Smith, all of the home; her mother, Mrs. Lillie Surratt of Pampa; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys McDowell of Pampa and Mrs. Lynett Hudson of Fort Worth, and three brothers, Elmo and J. W. Helbert, both of Pampa and Charlie Helbert of Skellytown.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Duenkel Funeral Home.

Lewis Jones
Lewis J. Jones, 76, of 1108 E. Browning, died at 10:55 a.m. today in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. An oil field construction contractor, he had lived here since 1929.

Funeral services are pending with Carmichael-Whitely Funeral Home here.

He is survived by one son, Jack L. Jones of Pope John XXIII, National Seminary, Weston, Mass.; two daughters, Mrs. Marguerite Akst of Pampa and Mrs. Ersula Kennedy of Houston; 12 grandchildren and two nieces.

He was a member of St. Vincent De Paul Catholic Church and American Legion and was a World War I veteran.

D. L. Day reported today that a new crane at the Cabot Shopp, west of city, had been stripped of motor parts sometime within the past two weeks.

The new crane was parked in the parking lot and hadn't been started in two weeks. Approximately $222.15 in parts was taken.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 1021-K-1, 36 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do. ADV.

Selective Service Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado St., Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — What must I do to qualify for II-S classification as an undergraduate college student?
A — You must file a written request with your draft board after June 30, 1967. At the end of each school year you must furnish the board with convincing evidence that you are continuing to pursue satisfactorily a fulltime course of instruction.

Q — How is the phrase "satisfactorily pursuing a full time course of instruction" defined?
A — An undergraduate student taking a four-year course must earn 25 percent of the credits toward his bachelor's degree at the end of his first academic year, 50 percent at the end of his second, and 75 percent at the end of his third. If five years of study are prescribed by the school for a bachelor's degree in some field, a student must earn 20 percent of the total credits toward the degree each year.

Q — What is meant by a "student's academic year"?
A — In determining a student's eligibility for classification in Class II-S (college student), his academic year shall include the 12-month period following the beginning of his course of study.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Strength in some of the economic indicators, including the recent advance in machine tool orders, improvement in construction, carloadings and auto economy, says Alexander Hamilton Institute.

The investment advisory firm said it believes this uptrend bolsters its views that "cautious optimism" is currently the wisest attitude for investors.

Reynolds & Co. finds "near term things are going a little too fast for comfort and suggests "it would be healthy if some of the newly converted bulls were forced to—live through a good shakeout."

Although the industrial average is likely to test its all time high this year, for the first time in the current cycle a word of warning seems necessary the brokerage firm said.

Shearson Hamill & Co. finds "few signs that the institutional and public thirst for stocks has been quenched." S&H said there may be a temporary shift from glamor stocks to more conventional issues, but notes "the factor that stands out the most is the receptivity among all types of investors to stocks with real stories, whether they are blue chips, average quality stocks, or issues in the junk category."

NEW ARRIVALS
NAIROBI (UPI)—Old show business friends Bing Crosby and Phil Harris arrived Monday to film a television sports show, paused at the airport while Crosby told newsmen he came "to spend a few hazy, lazy, sunny days in east Africa," and hurried to the local race track where Der Bingo picked the winning horses.

POOR WELCOME
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—A moving van sliced a city bus in two Sunday, smashing into the side of the vehicle beside a sign reading "welcome aboard." There were no passengers on the bus.

A LITTLE CONFUSION
SHREWSBURY, England (UPI)—A scorer named Bill Jones had a hard time keeping the scoring straight during a match Sunday. The Shrewsbury Cricket Club fielded a team with 11 members named Jones.

60TH

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Good to be home and back on the job. No bones broken in the fall, but the left hip is still pretty sore, but can walk a little without my prop, otherwise known as a cane. My daughter, Mrs. Henry Martin, came out from Ventura, Calif. and is chief cook and bottle washer, as old saying goes. Will soon be back on the job. My thanks to Mrs. Tidwell for getting the news in for me last week.

And thanks to the Center for the beautiful red carnation, they send to each member; and to the Altrusa Club for the beautiful bouquet of lilies that Mrs. Charlene Yeager brought to the hospital. There is nothing like flowers to brighten up a hospital room.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cullum spent a very enjoyable week with Mr. Cullum's sister, Mrs. R. G. Clemmins in Rye, Colo. the last of July.

Mrs. Anna Eckroat and her granddaughter Cindy McClelland were visiting in Holly, Colo. celebrating her daughter Anna's birthday July 23.

Mrs. Olson's daughter Mrs. Jewell Greenwood of Huntington Park, Calif., is spending a month visiting her mother.

Mrs. W. A. Price, Mrs. Cornelia, and Mrs. Bolynton were unable to attend the meeting this week. Mrs. Aryough of Mineral Wells is a guest of Mrs. C. L. Adams this week.

Mrs. Edith Mills returned from Calif. Saturday where she visited her daughter Mrs. Mildred Deitz.

My daughter took me down to the Center for a while Thursday and we surprised every one, and having overlooked that it was the monthly birthday celebration, was too late to get in the picture, as my birthday is Aug. 8.

In the hospital were reported Mr. Towe, Mr. Adair, and Mr. Sutton.

The Altrusa Club served as hostess group. Those present and serving refreshments were Mmes. Geneva Tidwell, Chairman; Charlene Yeager, Lillian Snow, Louise Sewell, Jay Flanagan. Assisting in serving during refreshment hour were Misses Polly Wagner, Pam Thomas, and Suzy Palmer; True teens. Each received a nice birthday gift.

Red Cross Volunteers serving with transportation, Mmes. Oliver Hills, May Hatcher, Augusta Yealey and Mina Benham.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8
GENERAL TENDENCIES: New arrangements of all kinds are needed. If you are going to get that cooperation from others that you really want—and need, be alert to the suggestions made by others that can bring such to pass and show you are the one who has it in your power to tune in on the hopes and wishes of your allies, mate.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Some discourse with associates reveal what is expected and you can state your own ideas, suggestions, etc. Cement fine relations. Know what they really desire to accomplish, and you can settle differences between you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) See what you can do to make your work with others far more pleasant, satisfying. Some time spent at improving your state of health would be wise. First, then delve into labors with enthusiasm.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — You can advance more quickly toward your personal aims if you contact charming people early who have influence. Your finest talents can come to fore. Higher-ups take a real interest in you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Instead of forcing others to do what you like try to please them in your ideal way and reach wonderful harmony between you. Only through cooperation do you get right results. Be of a happy far-seeing frame of mind.

LIBRA (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) — Make a home more comfortable, valuable through repairs, etc.; add brick-oven stove, hot tub, etc. Start making arrangements with ingenious ideas for adding to abundance. Listen to what others have to say.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Make your life more interesting, that is, either in business or social life. Plan to re-visit old friends. Start making arrangements now in a fastidious fashion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Some special favors to the one you love, can bring wonderful happiness to you right now. A business contact requires your attention. Give it quickly and fine benefits can come to you also later on.

CAPIRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Carry through with any ideas you have in the creative world and get together with the powerful. Assume one you think a great deal of. This can lead to something very interesting and delightful for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Persons of influence can now outline certain plans for you that can be most interesting and profitable. Be willing to get into interests that are quite alien to you now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Listen to that intuitive hunch pecking away at you and you come to a better meeting of minds with regular partners. You need to have a more positive attitude with one you love. Don't acquiesce so easily.

Shower Honors Mrs. D. Sargent

GROOM (SPL) — A bridal shower held recently in the Rudolph Tucker home honored Mrs. Don Sargent, formerly Miss Emma Kay Holland.

Guests were greeted by the bride, her mother, Mrs. Lucille West, and Mrs. W. C. Sargent, mother of the bridegroom.

Blue and avocado, the bride's chosen colors, were used in table decorations and the bride's three sisters, Mrs. Jimmy Liston, Mrs. Alvin Morrison and Mrs. Lawrence Knorrp, helped register and serve the guests.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. H. C. Swank, Allen Knorrpl, Dan Ashford, Walter Garmon, Earl Barker, Eldred James, Ermine Bray, Carl Homer, Bob Newton, Emalea London, Rudolph Tucker and Fred Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Sargent are at home in Oklahoma City where she will teach school this fall and he is associated with Geigy Chemical Company.

However, it can be nearly as objectionable to wear nomakeup or pasty white shades, especially on lips or Fu-Manchu-type nails.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Chicks turned on by kicky, mini, bare-are-you-dare costumes just don't look dressed without their body paint. It's as simple as that, baby.

It's the newest, most exciting thing in the cosmetic world and you'll go bananas over the water-proof, positively smear-proof, all-over body make-up.

Where do you need it? This fashion cosmetic for the mini-minded is to be worn anywhere the skin is exposed by the briefer and cut-out fashions.

The soft, silky, gleaming shades of flesh, sand No. 1 and sand No. 2 and copper are ideal to even out a tan or to create the sun struck illusion of one.

For the newest leg art, try the sensational color kit of body paint. You can match mauve, lime or soft blue to your favorite bikini, shorts or shift for a highly individual look.

This new artistic venture still fun for playtime but keep this style sun and surf, not while playing the junior executives Gal Friday.

Even if you look smashing in a super miniskirt, it's not the outfit for the office. Nobody expects you to look drab or dowdy but do stop short at startling.

COOL BIRDS will have a swinging summer with body paint, the latest, wildest fashion cosmetic idea in a long time. With a little imagination you can glide on stripes with a soft sponge roller to mix or match your mod outfits. Pearly lime, mauve or soft blue color summer's bare cut-outs or that long, showing limb. Or, if you crave a bronzing glow you can roll on a smear-proof water-proof tan in four warm skin tones.

even goes swimming and surfing. It rolls on smoothly with its own miniature paint roller of pretty pink and washed off in a minute with soap and water but never smears off on clothing. However, it's the smart girl that knows that surf and campus mod styles are not "in" for the office or the world of big business. The casual attitude toward grooming and fashion that has been so prevalent is

DEAR ABBY: I am with you all the way on your stand against marijuana and LSD. Don't let anyone tell you that the best colleges and universities are indifferent to its use by their students. I am inclosing a letter to the editor of the Keene, N. H., Evening Sentinel, which also runs your column. Readers always read Dear Abby, so I hope you feel this letter is worthy of publishing in your column.

MUNSONVILLE READER DEAR READER: Thank you for your fine suggestion. I agree the letter is worth republishing. Here it is:

"The dear's office has been repeatedly pressed by members of the freshman class for a statement of the college's administrative position with respect to the use of drugs including marijuana and LSD. If it will help anyone, I am pleased to clarify our position. "As anyone bright enough to be at Harvard knows perfectly well, possession of, or distribution of marijuana and LSD are strictly against the law, and taking the drugs involves users in psychological dangers and contacts with the criminal underworld.

(The college is prepared to take serious disciplinary action up to and including dismissal, against any student found to be involved in the use or distribution of illegal and dangerous drugs.

"In sum, if a student is stupid enough to misuse his time here fooling around with illegal and dangerous drugs, our views are that he should leave college and make room for people prepared to take good advantage of a college opportunity.

"OFFICE OF THE DEAN HARVARD"

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Smokes Pot," who insists it is not dangerous. I recently did a science report on 'pot' and to drive home my point, I'll quote from the Encyclopedia Britannica: "Marijuana intoxication usually leads to mental moral degeneration. By releasing inhibitions, impairing judgement, and causing extensive distortion of time and space, it can make its victims entirely unaccountable for their actions and may cause them to commit violent crimes. Many emotionally unbalanced persons known to be associated with major crimes, prove to be marijuana users. Any existing character weaknesses can be magnified by its use."

McGinnis Eyes Tri-State Title

By RON CROSS
BORGER — The older fellows on the golfing trail started hammering away at Huber golf course as qualifying rounds got underway at 7 a.m. for the Tri-State 33rd annual Seniors golf championship.

David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas is expected to repeat as champion but is also expected to get all the competition he can handle from Pampa's C. F. Mc-Ginnis, last year's runner-up. McGinnis will be joined by at least 13 other Pampa golfers and more could enter today as entries were being taken up to 1 p.m. today.

Huber registration officials saw 170 swingers enter the tournament Monday and then set off for a practice round over the spacious layout. Officials are expecting 250 entries before registration ends.

All flights other than the championship flight will be composed of 16 players. Match play will begin Wednesday and continue Thursday and Friday.

In addition to the medalist qualifying, today's competition will be spiced by the annual Tri-State team matches and the age flight contests.

The age classifications are 60 and under; 61 through 65; 66 through 69 and 70 and over.

Prizes will be awarded to the first three finishers in each of the age divisions.

Golfers registered Monday from Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and California.

Pampa is well represented by Holt Barber, T. J. White, Mark Heath, Dr. Frank Kelley, Tom Price, R. A. Baker, Kyle Hall, A. A. Sturgeon, D. L. Parker,

T. Hines, F. E. Imel, R. M. Samples and Clarence Ward. Goldman, a 1-up winner over McGinnis in 1966, played a practice round Monday with Oklahoma City golfer Lew Lacey, Web Wilder of San Antonio and Frank Sparks of Pasadena. All are expected to qualify for the championship flight today.

Also expected to give Goldman a battle is first timer John Townsend of Houston.

Townsend is currently enroute to Colorado Springs for the Broadmoor, one of the nation's biggest amateur tournaments.

The 60-year-old Houston native carries a four-stroke handicap.

Lubbock's Lofton Burnette, who won the tournament in 1960, 1963 and 1964 and who reportedly is playing good golf was expected to be among today's entries.

Sens Reach .500 Mark

By United Press International
 Those Washington Senators have started agigantic filibuster that may delay the outcome of the American League pennant race for some time.

Under the leadership of the soft-spoken Senator from Brooklyn, Gil Hodges, the Senators have launched a successful campaign against AL pennant contenders since the All-Star break and are well on their way toward winning a popularity poll on Capitol Hill for the first time in many years.

Since July 13 the light-hitting Senators have won 20 of 28 games and have been especially unfriendly to the contending teams. They have beaten Detroit and California five times each during that stretch and whipped Minnesota twice in three games.

Their latest victory over the Twins came Monday night when Phil Ortega hurled a three-hit, 5-0 triumph, and the entire surge has manager Hodges singing sweeter songs than Everett Dirksen.

"I don't know if we can consider ourselves in on this race," the happy Hodges said following Ortega's brilliant performance, but it would be awfully nice to sit in on another meeting and cut up some series dough."

The victory moved the Senators to within seven games of first place and brought them to the .500 mark for the first time in many years, but Hodges is not too surprised at his team's progress.

"I thought in spring training that this club was capable of playing .500 ball, but I didn't think we would have to play this well to do it," the 45-year-old skipper said. "A lot of things had to fall in place, and I think we're capable of doing even better."

Ortega was in complete command of the Twins Monday night as he achieved a career milestone by besting them for the first time. He allowed only a double to Bob Allison in the fifth, a single to Ted Uhlaender in the eighth and a single to Cesar Tovar in the ninth while registering his ninth victory in 14 decisions.

The Senators, meanwhile, took advantage of three Minnesota errors to score four unearned runs and tag southpaw Jim Kaat with his 11th loss against eight victories.

Paul Casanova's two-run double following a costly error by Rich Rollins highlighted a three-run first inning and errors by Zolfo Versalles and Tovar led to another run in the sixth. Ken McMullen's 13th homer of the season in the sixth was the Senators' only earned run.

Lou Johnson Swinging for LA

By United Press International
 Lou Johnson is swinging too hard, running too late and throwing too slowly to suit the St. Louis Cardinals.

Sweet Lou, the self appointed Good Humor man of the not-so-comical Dodgers, didn't do a thing right Monday night as Los Angeles snapped the Cardinals' five-game winning streak with a 6-4 victory. At least, that's the way it sounded in the dressing room after the game.

"I'm swinging too hard," said the self critical Johnson, "and I'm trying to pull the ball."

Item: he failed so miserably that he hit three singles to right field.

"The only thing wrong with that double steal," said manager Walt Alston, "was that Lou left too late."

Item: he left in plenty of time to steal home for the first time in his major league career, scoring the go-ahead run in the sixth as the Dodgers took a 3-2 lead.

"I just stood there and said 'come on ball,'" commented catcher Jeff Torborg on Johnson's throw to the plate in the eighth inning.

Item: the ball arrived in plenty of time to nail Mike Shannon at home, thereby cutting down the lead run after the Cards had tied the score 3-3 on Shannon's double.

Altogether, Johnson staged quite a performance even though it wasn't greeted with much critical acclaim. He also drove in the Dodgers' first run in the third inning playing his first game since recovering from a fractured left ankle that sidelined him for two months.

Philadelphia blanked San Francisco 8-0 behind Jim Bunning and Pittsburgh whipped Chicago 6-3 in the only other NL games played to a conclusion. A second game between the Pirates and Cubs was called because of darkness after 14 innings and will be replayed in its entirety on Wednesday.

The Cards had good reason to be self critical in the ninth inning when they handed Los Angeles three runs and a 6-3 lead. Ron Hunt stepped to the plate with two out in the ninth and runners on first and second and line a single to right center, driving in Wes Parker from second and touching off a slapstick performance by the St. Louis defense.

Curt Flood, the NL's premier defensive centerfielder, charged the ball but it took a bad hop off his glove and caromed over his head. As Dick Schofield buzzed home from first base and Hunt attempted to reach third, second baseman Phil Gagliano took the relay from Flood and heaved the ball somewhere allowing him to trot home with the third run.

The play proved extra costly when the Cards rallied for a run in the ninth.

"I've seen this kind of play before," said Hunt, who spent enough time with the New York Mets to see everything, "and it's good to see it the other way around. As I rounded first, I saw the ball go over Flood's head and I headed for second. As I rounded second, I saw the second man scoring and I headed for third. Then I looked over my shoulder and saw Gagliano throwing the ball away. That was just great."

Bunning set down the Giants on four hits as the Phillies extended their winning streak to seven games and snapped the Giant's streak at six. It marked his 36th lifetime shutout, the second best to Don Drysdale's 39 among active major league pitchers. He also drove in two runs with a bad bounce single during Philadelphia's five-run fourth. Rich Allen homered for the Phils.

Don Clendenon's two-run homer capped a four-run ninth which lifted the Pirates over the Cubs and saddled Chicago with its seventh straight defeat. Chuck Hartenstein had pitched 1-3 innings of scoreless relief until the Pirates erupted in the ninth, scoring one run on Roberto Clemente's single and another on Manny Mota's sacrifice fly.

Layne is High on Big 33 Players

HOUSTON (UPI) — Coach Bobby Layne, who was inducted into the National Football League Hall of Fame last Saturday, today prepared his Top Teams.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A five-game series with the Boston Celtics in Puerto Rico highlight the exhibition schedule of the world champion Philadelphia 76ers, it was announced Monday. Philadelphia will also play New York, St. Louis, Detroit and Cincinnati.

Graham Looking For Big Year With Redskins

By SAM FOGG
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Coach Otto Graham, who has never been with a loser as a pro, is determined to make a winner of the Washington Redskins for the first time since 1955.

In his freshman season as a National Football League coach, Graham nursed the "Skins to an even 7-7 record, their most respectable showing in years.

But breaking even was a drop for Graham.

Offensively, his second Redskins team will be strong, extremely strong. Defensively, there will be gaps to be filled and questions galore.

Quarterback, Graham has a passer of championship caliber—Sonny Jurgensen who ranks only behind Johnny Unitas and Bart Starr for lifetime performance in league play. The former Duke ace shed a potbelly at Graham's behest last season and led the NFL in passing yardage, attempts and completion.

This year, Jurgensen came to training camp as a married man rather than a swinging bachelor. He also had a three year $200,000 contract.

Arrayed with him on offense are three of the top NFL pass receivers of 1966—Charlie Taylor, fleet flanker Bobby Mitchell and Jerry Smith.

The Redskins lacked a consistent running game in the early stages a year ago but at season's end, A.D. Whitfield emerged as a sound ground gainer with the tempestuous Joe Don Loomy and Steve Thurlow alternating at the other spot.

This year, Washington's No. 1 draft choice, 240-pound Ray McDonald from Idaho, is expected to simplify matters by giving the Redskins the full-back-type back they've lacked for years.

Trades engineered last year by Graham have given him the foundation of a sound offensive line which will be anchored by veteran Vince Promuto, pro bowl selection Jim Hauss at center, Tom Goosby, Mitch Johnson, Jim Snowden and Ray Schoenke.

For kicks, the Redskins have their mini-sized place-kicker Charley Gogolak, who sent a new Washington scoring record with 105 points in his freshman year. The punting will be handled by Pat Richter or Looney.

THREE'S A CROWD says Mets third baseman Ed Charles as he tags out Astros Norm Miller on an attempted steal. The interloper is umpire Shag Crawford.

Namath is Fined, But Does Apologize

By United Press International
 Quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets was in the doghouse today, but the loudest bark came from Leroy Kelly's announcement he would play out his option with the Cleveland Browns.

Namath was docked an estimated $500 by coach Weeb Ewbank for going AWOL last Thursday to take in the New York night sights.

The apologetic Namath said he was concerned over the illness of his brother and decided to be by himself for a while.

Ewbank did not suspend his star quarterback, but at the same time said "appropriate action has been taken" over Namath's leaving camp without permission. "In line with general club policy, the nature of the action will not be disclosed and the incident is closed," Ewbank emphasized.

Kelly, one of five Cleveland players staging a collective bargaining holdout, agreed to report to the Browns training camp without resorting to signing a contract.

Cleveland owner Art Modell solved his dilemma with the striking phalanx of Brownies by trading two involved. Linebacker Sid Williams went to the New York Giants in exchange for a player to be named later or a future draft choice. John Brown, a tackle, was sent to the Pittsburgh Steelers for two draft choices.

Of the remaining two players, John Wooten, a guard, agreed to play out the second year of his contract and defensive back Mike Howell said he would report to the clubs Hiram, Ohio, camp upon completion of his two weeks national guard service commitment.

The Green Bay Packers, with little experience at tight end, was relieved that Mary Fleming would be ready for Saturday night's exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Steelers. Fleming missed the college All-Star game because of a shoulder bruise.

The Philadelphia Eagles' list of injuries after their 28-13 preseason victory over the Browns included tackles Frank Molden (bruised ankle) and Dave Graham (pulled hamstring muscle) halfback Harry Jones of Arkansas and guard John Brooks of Kent State joined the squad after their All-Star service.

We Confess Our Doubts

The President expressed the yearnings of great numbers of people when he voiced a hope that some day "the cussers and doubters will be relegated to the rear; the doers and the builders will take up the front lines."

We do not recall anything we have written that can be equated with "cussing." From time to time, we have disclosed doubts as to the course that the last several Administrations, both Democrat and Republican, are pursuing like the President, we look forward to the day when such doubts can be laid aside and comparable energy can be devoted to the construction of a society that is as free in fact as it is in name.

For the sake of hastening the day, we are going to confess what our doubts are. We cannot, of course, expect the president to read what we write or to be able to tell us how to cleanse our mind from doubts. But perhaps some reader has information that will answer questions that continue to nag us.

Recently, for instance, the President said his conversation with Premier Kosygin of the Soviet Union had left the world a "little less dangerous." Just at the moment the ink with this seeming good news had touched the paper, a friend in another city called to say that his 20-year-old grandson had been slain in Vietnam. Nothing brings home a war like the emotional wrench a person receives when someone he knows loses a loved one. Often the bereaved is too stunned to feel the pain immediately, but the observer—being more remote from the tragedy—retains all his faculties to perceive immediately all the an-quish that the next-of-kin receive gradually.

In the newspaper business we are daily witnesses to the Vietnam tragedy of which this instance is among many. For this reason the doubt tends to build in us more strongly than among others concerning the war in Vietnam. Specifically, we doubt the advisability of bloodshed when evidence at hand shows the administration is shipping foodstuff to Communist countries, and even to the enemy itself.

We doubt the advisability for any American in responsible position to embrace Premier Kosygin of the Soviet Union and then to send him on his way to receive a like embrace from Fidel Castro, the Cuban tyrant. We cannot speak for others, but as long as American boys are dying in a jungle, as others are being drafted from job and school to replace the slain, as young girls lose sweethearts, parents their sons—to see the political chiefs engage in indiscriminate courtesies rouses in our very soul a wrath that amounts to indignation.

Even though we retain these doubts, it is not necessary for the president to relegate us to the rear. We willingly take a seat on the back row. So humbled, if we do wrong by doubting, we await the world of clarification—from whatever source—that can put these mental reservations to rest.

American boys! They bleed in Vietnam while this country ships foodstuffs to the enemy! Why must this be? Forgive us, Mr. President, why must this be? Why?

In Honored Tradition

This item may hearten those who fear that old-fashioned Yankee ingenuity is a thing of the past and a new generation of listless, long-haired, pot-smoking navel contemplators is about to inherit the country.

Boys in a certain college dormitory came into possession of an old soft drink machine that was discarded when a new one was installed. They decided to put it to use as a beer dispenser.

They got it to working again but then were faced with a crucial problem—how to collect 30 cents per unit of the more expensive brew for a machine designed to dispense a bottle for each dime put into it?

The students came up with a simple solution: They loaded the machine with two empty bottles ahead of each full one.

He's Got To Be Kidding

A fellow came up with an interesting thought the other day. He had read, he said, that the public is sometimes confused by the similarity in names of big corporations.

So why, he wondered, didn't someone organize a LAST National Bank instead of another FIRST National Bank?

And what, he asked, would be wrong with naming a new company the PRIVATE FIRST CLASS Nut and Bolt Corp. Instead of the GENERAL etc. and etc.?

Or with calling it the FRAGMENTED Enterprises instead of CONSOLIDATED OR AMALGAMATED?

Or the DIVIDED Nations instead of the UNITED Nations? He seemed quite serious about the last one.

Wit and Whimsy

Husband (Testily, after losing badly at Bridge) — You might have guessed I had no heart, partner.

Wife (sweetly) — Quite, but I thought you had a brain, darling.

A visitor to Mark Twain's home commented upon the abundance of books, and the rather limited accommodations for them.

Mark Twain (a bit wistfully) — Yes, yes, but it's so difficult to get friends to loan you shelves.

Young Girl (to a friend) — She's the sweet, shy, quiet, type—the kind you can't trust a lone with your boyfriend.

PINE TREE FEATURES

KEYNES AND HIS SHIP OF SUCCESS

We were talking about the economics of John Maynard Keynes, and a friend suggested that most of his critics were wrong. I was surprised at this assertion because I knew my friend's point of view. He's a solid supporter of private capitalism.

Keynes was absolutely right, my friend insisted, if you take into account what he was trying to do. His critics simply attack him on the grounds of technical incompetency. But the anti-Keynesians are supposing that any economist would be striving for what they seek: a well-working laissez-faire market system. That isn't what Keynes wanted. He wanted the government to step in and take over. He wanted socialism to triumph and his entire general theory was aimed, in true Fabian fashion, at bringing about this take-over along gradual lines.

Viewed in this light, Keynes was correct. He simply introduced a series of ideas and technical arguments calculated to accomplish a complete socialization of the economy. And he was as right as rain. He got the job done.

Today, when you get into a discussion along this line, people even object to using the words capitalism and socialism. The reason they object to these words is because Keynes has the water so fouled up that no one can really tell what pure water and pure mud are anymore. All we've got in economic circles is more or less murk. So why talk about pure water (capitalism) when there isn't any? And why talk about mud (socialism) when all the existing mud has been stirred into the water?

My friend went on to point out that if a man set out to build an ark that would sink to the bottom of the sea, and if he accomplished his purpose, his critics could hardly attack him because the ark wouldn't float. He didn't want it to float. So why talk about pure water (capitalism) when there isn't any? And why talk about mud (socialism) when all the existing mud has been stirred into the water?

Senator Edward Long is sparring with the committee over revealing the identity of the client involved in the mysterious $48,000 Missouri Democrat has admitted receiving as a "referral fee." The committee is looking into this matter for a possible report to the Senate as in the Dodd censure case earlier this year.

At a two-hour closed-door committee meeting, Long balked at divulging the name of the client. He contended this fell in the category of "privileged lawyer-client relations."

That was flatly challenged by all six committeemen (three Democrats, three Republicans). While conceding lawyer-client relations are privileged, they maintained disclosure of the principles is not.

While the question was lengthily argued at this session, no direct effort was made to demand this key information from Long.

But privately, committee members are leaving no doubt of their determination to insist on it. It's being clearly indicated to the senator that if he resists, they will resort to forceful measures, if necessary.

This could include asking the Senate to hold Long in contempt for refusing to answer questions.

The Missourian has denied that James Hoffa, imprisoned Teamster boss, is implicated in the matter—although an attorney who has represented Hoffa is the reputed source of the $48,000 "referral fee." For several years Long has been probing alleged government wiretapping and bugging.

He is staking an increased appreciation to continue that. But it has been held up since the mysterious "referral fee" came to light.

CODE OF CONDUCT—Meanwhile, the bipartisan Ethics Committee is grappling with another thorny problem—drafting recommendations for a code of conduct for members of the Senate.

It's a toss-up whether such a report will reach the Senate this session.

Senators John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., author of the resolution creating the committee, are determined it will. But other committeemen, among them Senator Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, vice chairman, are considerably less insistent. They feel the matter can wait until next year.

Even if the committee should submit a code, the prospects of its being acted on this session are slim. Its consideration

Senate Ethics Committee Will Insist on Getting Name of Senator Edward Long's $48,000 Client, May Use Contempt Procedures

In January of this year, as he departed the congressional payroll, McVicker was put on the AID payroll as a $100-a-day consultant, with the title of director of the Bi-National Development Feasibility Study.

This intriguing project, according to AID (which administers foreign aid), is to encourage the participation of democratic private and local government institutions in international development by establishing cooperative relationships between areas in the United States and areas in the developing countries.

Total allotted for this unique undertaking was $65,000. Headquarters was set up in Denver, Colo., McVicker's home state. Rental in what Representative E. Y. Berry, R-S.D., described as "the plush Denver Club Building" is $580 a month. McVicker has a 14-member staff, including two associate directors and five part-time research analysts.

In a letter to William Gaud, AID head, Thomson pointed out McVicker's lofty-sounding study is a duplication of effort; that it is undertaking to "determine the feasibility of what you are already doing."

How Gaud explains this $65,000 boondoggle remains to be seen.

At a Foreign Affairs Committee meeting, in reply to a series of probing questions by representative Berry, AID submitted the following:

Berry: "Are there other similar projects conducted by AID in other states?"

A: "No. The feasibility study is not being duplicated in any other state."

Berry: "Will the staff members of the Bi-National Development Feasibility Study be required to travel in Central America?"

A: "The director and two consultants left the United States on April 15 to conduct field research in five Central American countries and Panama."

Berry: "When was this plan established and how long is it to continue?"

A: "The study project was approved in January 1967 and is of approximately six months' duration."

Berry: "Is there any similarity between Colorado and Central America that would make Denver be selected on a demonstration basis?"

A: "Colorado and Central America were selected as test areas because of the director's familiarity with local groups and institutions in Colorado capable of making a significant contribution to development in Central America; and the history of Spanish culture in Colorado."

Berry: "Why was it established in Denver rather than in Washington?"

A: "The project office was established in Denver because the U.S. research is being carried out primarily in Colorado."

Berry: "What has been learned as a result of its establishment?"

A: "The study is intended to determine the feasibility of co-

The Doctor Says:

Overactive Gall Bladder Will Have No Ill Effects
Q—I have an overactive gall bladder. Can you advise me what to eat and what not to eat?
A—The only way in which a gall bladder can be overactive is for it to empty more rapidly than normal. This is not a disease and would have no adverse effect on your health. No special diet would be required.

Q—I am a woman, 40, and have had attacks of severe pain in my gall bladder area for 15 years. They are becoming more frequent. X ray do not show any stones. I weigh only 95 pounds and find it hard to gain weight on a fat-free diet. My doctor says my gall bladder is working properly and he has no explanation for my pain. What would you suggest?

A—All pains in the gall bladder region do not originate in the gall bladder. At this distance I can't make a positive diagnosis but I have seen many a woman who blamed abdominal pains on her gall bladder when the cause was an irritable colon. Unless you are allergic to milk and milk products you find margarine and butter easier to digest than the fat in meat, fish and fowl. Keep your stools firm by avoiding laxatives and an excess of vegetable and fruit. Try a little force feeding for a few weeks. When you start to gain weight you will feel better and your appetite will improve.

Q—Please explain the terms supraventricular tachycardia, cervical syndrome and dyspnea.

A—Tachycardia is an abnormally fast heart beat. When the trouble originates in the auricles, it is supraventricular (above the ventricles). Cervical syndrome is a condition caused by irritation of the roots of the cervical nerves—those that leave the spinal cord in the neck region. Dyspnea is difficult or labored breathing. It has many causes one of the most common being heart disease.

Q—An X-ray examination showed that I have a diverticulum of my esophagus. It does not bother me much except the last mouthful of food seems to stick in my throat. My doctor says it should be removed. What do you think? Will it become cancerous?

A—Small outpouchings in the esophagus are often an incidental finding when a person has an X-ray examination of the stomach. If they are small and cause no symptoms, no operation is necessary. They do not the people and know-how of a specific area of the United States with the aspirations and needs of a developing country or region.

Before McVicker's election to Congress, he was a Methodist minister and taught psychology at Colorado State College. AID credits him as being the author of the study he is directing.

PREDICTIONS—The Senate will overwhelmingly pass the resolution sponsored by Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, reaffirming Congress' constitutional role in determining "national commitments" abroad. The declaration, which has no binding power on the President, will win powerful bipartisan support. . . . President de Gaulle appears to be bent on creating more international dissension. The imperious 76-year-old French ruler, who is developing a noticeable tremor of his head and hands, is privately talking of going to Cairo. He dropped this hint at the cabinet meeting early this week, where he reaffirmed his provocative support of ultra-nationalistic French Canadians. . . . Meanwhile, the Gomulka regime in communist Poland has bluntly notified Paris it will tolerate no disruptive antics by De Gaulle during his scheduled visit in September. The Communists sent word that if De Gaulle acts up, he will be evicted. They won't wait for him to depart in a huff; they'll kick him out.

There isn't a chance the UN Security Council will do a more about the Middle East now than it did six weeks ago. In fact, there is little prospect the council will even meet this month. Its president for August is French Ambassador Roger Seydoux, and he has let it be known he has no intention of convening the council unless a new urgent crisis arises. . . . The Federal Reserve will continue to pump more credit into the economy. It has been doing that since April, and no let-up is contemplated as the increased funds have been quickly absorbed by Vietnam war demands and the strong business boom.

tend to become cancerous. If they are large enough to prevent the food swallowed from reaching the stomach they should be removed.

H. L. Hunt Writes

SUBVERSION ON OUR DOORSTEP
Last week the Latin American Solidarity Organization held a convention in Havana. This outfit is an offshoot of the 1966 subversive Tricontinental Congress, also held in Havana. The recent meeting drew an attendance of far-out leftists from all parts of the Western Hemisphere. Their objective was to conspire with Fidel Castro on ways and means of escalating the bearded dictator's openly proclaimed program of spreading sabotage, terrorism and violence throughout the Americas.

The announced goal is to create "little Vietnams" in South America. Recent riots in Detroit, Newark and other U. S. cities should give Americans a good idea of what Castro is trying to do in neighboring countries to the South. And his terrorists are making headway.

Castro said recently that the uprisings he has manipulated in Bolivia, for instance, "Proves that a regular army cannot defeat guerrillas." A guerrilla landing on the Venezuelan coast in May has been found to have been planned and executed under Castro direction and the landing force included Cuban military personnel. A branch of the Latin American Solidarity Organization has been established in Chile.

No doubt there was much gloating at the Havana meeting over such events as these. The U. S., incidentally, was "represented" at the convention by none other than Stokely Carmichael, who said in Havana: "In Newark, we applied war tactics of the guerrillas. We are preparing groups of urban guerrillas for our defense in the cities."

The Castro problem will not go away. It is literally on our doorstep, and is a constant threat to the hemisphere's freedom.

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures. He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul; His healthiness leadeth me: by the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies. Thou art my strength and my shield: Thy goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.
