Carrier Disaster Toll May Top 150

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (UPI)—The supercarrier USS Forrestal, knocked out of action for six months or more by the worst naval disaster of the Vietnam war, arrived in the Philippines today. It appeared the death toll from the fire and explosions that crippled the ship would climb to at least 146.

Overcast skies and intermittent showers provided a somber setting as the 75,900-ton ship arrived shortly before dusk at this U.S. Naval Station.

The fires that raged through the ship had been extinguished, but rescue crews wearing oxygen masks because of chlorine gas, were still using cutting torches to clear away debris and hunt for the bodies of missing shipmates.

There were 77 known dead and 69 others missing and presumed dead. The Navy said that 78 sailors were injured.

At Da Nang, the northern port city in South Vietnam, the U.S. hospital ship Repose arrived late today from the scene of the disaster some 150 miles away and unloaded dead and wounded from the Forrestal. The Repose carried 77 bodies. They were lowered from the deck of the hospital ship in plastic bags and carried to waiting trucks.

Officials doubted any of the missing men would be found alive.

Some of them were still in compartments below the bomb-punctured, fire-buckled flight decks, suffocated by smoke or killed by the heat so intense it turned steel bulkheads into rivulets of molten metal.

Witnesses saw others jump into the sea, their clothing a mass of flames.

The Forrestal is expected to stay at Subic Bay, 70 miles north of Manila, only a few days, just long enough for emergency repairs. She will then head for another shipyard, either at Pearl Harbor or in the United States, for permanent repairs.

Officials estimated that the fire and explosions caused at least $135 million damage. Included were 57 planes damaged or destroyed.

The chlorine gas hampering them was caused by water that flooded below-deck compartments and mixed with battery acid during the 18-hour fight against fire.

The ship's skipper, Capt. John K. Beling of Zephyr Hills, Fla., said the disaster was an accident of war.

"It is my personal strong conviction that no human error whatsoever was involved," he said.

Fuel Starts Blaze

A preliminary theory is that too much fuel was put into a jet's tongue of flame from the jet's tailpipe licked out and detonated a guided missile on another plane. The missile streaked out and exploded in a 400-gallon fuel tank of a third plane, sending flaming fuel across the flight deck and causing bullets, bombs and rockets to explode.

Guardsmen Ordered To Milwaukee Riots

At Least Two Die In Early Violence

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The National Guard was ordered into Milwaukee and the city was sealed off today to put a Negro rioting, arson, looting and sniper fire.

The first fatalities of this, the third racial riot in as many northern cities, were reported discovered in the slaying of an arson-torched building at First and Center streets. The body was that of a police officer, the other that of a woman.

China Press Says Rebellion Ought to End

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist party Chairman Mao's press organs claimed the Wuhan rebellion has been crushed but warned a serious situation was developing in Shanghai, the nation's largest city.

At Canton, the largest city in South China, armed clashes between Red Guards, army and transportation workers during the past week have killed and wounded thousands of people, Mao's press organs said.

Mayor of Canton was reported missing and believed killed by pro-Maoist Red Guards.

Flag magazine, the most authoritative publication in the central city of Wuhan had been shut down. But it is the Wuhan incident was so means an isolated and isolated incident and admitted the power struggle in the area periodically since the year culminated in July 21 and 22 between army forces and pro-Mao roopers and naval units.

Japanese correspondent in Peking for the mass circulation Tokyo newspaper said today that Chen, the commander of the Wuhan military district, has been brought to Beijing and quoted reliable sources as saying no further action is planned.

Plans For Sales Tax Vote Here

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—With the 10th sales tax law becoming effective Aug. 28, scores of cities from El Paso to Kansas, and from the Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle 16 levy the tax, a surcharge today.

Paso and perhaps Wichita and one or two other plan to submit the issue to voters on the earliest election date, Sept. 27. The 60th Legislature passed a law giving cities the right to levy a 1 per cent city tax to bolster sagging municipal revenues.

Millions of church-going Americans today met the new week with prayer for peace and racial harmony in the United States ringing in their ears.

In churches throughout the country, clergymen Sunday responded to President Johnson's appeal to make the day one of prayer for an end to U.S. racial strife.

"Let each of us ask himself: am I mostly white? Or am I mostly black? Or am I mostly human and as such united to all my brothers..." said the Rev. Darrell Walton of the Matthews Street Episcopal Church in Providence, R.I.

"Let us not be deceived," he said. "We are all responsible for what has happened."

Other members of the clergy simply prayed for racial peace. Some attempted to lay blame for the riots. Others suggested remedies.

Climate for Violence

FIRES RAGED ON during the fourth day of rioting, arson, murder and looting in Detroit. This blaze, in the west side Negro area that was the seedbed of the violence, was one of more than 1,000 blamed on arsonists. Damage to property is estimated at about $200 million and officials figure the race riot will be the worst in the nation's history.

Detroit Faces Rebuilding Task

DETROIT (UPI)—Authorities today went to work on the enormous task of rebuilding what a week of racial violence had torn down.

Gov. George Romney, speaking for 20 minutes over a statewide television hookup Sunday night, declared that he believed Michigan was "again ready for normal activity and that violence has been contained for now."

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh urged the government to form a special 1,000-man federal police force in each major U.S. city to prevent and fight riots such as the one that blackened Detroit.

The mayor also criticized a "reactionary" and "sometimes Pa." said, "Negroes have been said repeatedly expressed its 'indifference' to urban problems.

Eight long days ago the worst racial upheaval in modern U.S. history erupted on the streets of the nation's fifth largest city. The violence left 40 persons known dead, more than 1,500 injured, about 5,000 homeless, at least that many under arrest or free on bond, and property damage estimated as high as $500 million.

Paratroopers Out

All of the 4,700 U.S. Army Paratroopers sent in last Monday by President Johnson were moved out of riot neighborhoods, but 7,000 National Guardsmen and police were still on duty.

The weekend passed quietly although a 19-year-old Negro, Ernest Roquemore, was shot and killed by a Paratrooper as a group of young Negroes fled from an east side building Saturday night.

Three other persons, two of them teen-aged girls, were wounded. A quantity of stolen goods was removed from the house from which they were flushed by police and paratroopers.

In his television address, Romney declared the turmoil in Detroit was triggered by nationwide conditions that could bring "civil-guerrilla warfare" to the United States.

Suspension Of Meters To Begin

Workers were busy this afternoon removing the heads of some 650 parking meters in downtown Pampa.

Public Works Director R. B. Cooke said they expected to have all of them removed by 5 p.m. today.

A new city ordinance becomes effective tomorrow which suspends operation of parking meters until Jan. 1, 1968, on a trial basis.

Chalk marks on tires will replace the meters as timing devices. Motorists will be permitted two-hour free parking between 3 a.m. and 5 p.m. in spaces now marked by meter poles. Parking at the post office is limited to 15 minutes.

Fine for over-parking will be $1 minimum. The minimum under the parking meter system was 25 cents if paid within 24 hours and $1 after that.

The trial period for parking meter removal was decided upon by the Pampa City Commission after an appeal from the Downtown Business Association.

CONDEMN DISCRIMINATION

AMSTERDAM (UPI)—The eighth Mennonite World Congress issued a closing message Sunday condemning racial discrimination in the United States and South Africa, the war in Vietnam and religious intolerance in the Soviet Union.

1,000 Marines Fight Way Out of Ambush

SAIGON (UPI)—More than 1,000 U.S. Marines smashed their way out of a North Vietnamese border ambush in fighting so close Leatherneck tanks could not fire and so bitter that one Communist attacked waving an ax. American spokesmen said today.

"All we could see was black smoke from Chicom (Chinese Communist made) grenades," said Marine Cpl. Charles Study, 20, of St. Louis after his battalion emerged Sunday from the 24-hour battle in the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

The fight on the dusty road in the DMZ left 23 Americans dead and 119 wounded. Marines counted 40 Communist dead. Lt. Col. William Kent, who led his 1,200 to 1,500-man battalion in the battle, said they killed at least 175 to 200 North Vietnamese troops. U.S. strafing pilots killed 10 more after the Marines crossed back into South Vietnam after a 48-hour DMZ sweep.

In other action, Viet Cong terrorists invaded two villages just below the DMZ and slaughtered 21 civilians and wounded two children. Further south, U.S. troops killed 14 Communists in a Central Highlands fight in which no American was scratched.

In the air, U.S. Air Force B52 Stratofortresses today smashed Communist troop positions in the northern and central provinces. U.S. jets raided North Vietnam Sunday, hitting truck convoys, supply dumps and roads.

Out to sea, the U.S. 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Forrestal steamed toward a Subic Bay, Philippines, repair dock after a bomb-fueled fire shocked it out of the war. U.S. spokesmen reported 76 men killed, 69 missing and feared dead and 78 wounded in the disaster at sea that damaged or destroyed 57 planes used to strike North Vietnam.

On the diplomatic front, U.S. presidential envoy Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told newsmen at Canberra, Australia, today that the war "could be ended by negotiation as quickly as the Korean war" but he said it is impossible to predict when the end will come.

State's Violent Death Rate Over Weekend Lowest Total in Weeks

By United Press International

Highway accidents rose steadily and so did drownings but Texas' weekend violent death toll was the lowest in weeks, due perhaps in part to a lack of multiple-fatality road accidents.

A United Press International survey for the period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday showed at least 33 violent deaths, including 17 automobile fatalities. Homicides took six lives, fire killed one person. Five persons were drowned and four persons met death in other ways.

The worst accident killed Freddie Lee Fryman, 22, and Donnie Lee Hogan, 19, both of Henderson. The two-car smash up occurred on U.S. 64, 6 miles west of Henderson, Saturday.

Edwin Earl Smith, 9, of Houston, drowned Saturday after climbing over a fence and swimming in a closed swimming pool.

Dud Copeland drowned in Lake Quitman near Tyler Saturday and Mrs. Myrtle Coaltray, 49, of Westfield, drowned in Shady Tree pond near Houston Saturday.

Patricia Amerson, 22, of Mt. Pleasant, was killed Sunday in a two-car smashup a mile south of Daingerfield on U.S. 250 and Aline Dodson, 24, of Houston, died when her car plunged off U.S. 75 six miles north of Madisonville Sunday night.

Castro Reds Plot More 'Vietnams' For America

MIAMI (UPI)—A gathering of Castro Communists begin plans today for making more "Vietnams" in the Americas. For the first time, they will be talking seriously about revolution in the United States.

Sitting alongside Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and Communist leaders from almost every nation in Latin America will be Stokely Carmichael, the militant U.S. Negro leader whose name has become synonymous with black power.

The meeting is under the sponsorship of Castro's "Latin American Solidarity Organization" (OLAS), the vehicle through which he intends to take from Moscow the leadership of communism in the Western Hemisphere. OLAS was born in Havana's tricontinental congress last January, a meeting of African, Asian and Latin Reds.

The current parley is scheduled to last nine days, probably starting tonight with a speech by Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos and continuing behind closed doors in the Havana Libre Hotel—formerly the Havana Hilton.

Carmichael's presence which violates relatively toothless travel bans, brings to the conference the recent racial violence that has struck in several American cities.

The delegates were to consider "support of the Negro people of the United States in their struggle against racial segregation and the defense of their rights to equality and freedom."

Clergy Responds to Johnson's Racial Peace Prayers Appeal

By United Press International

Hayes, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church at Bellefonte, Pa., said "Negroes have been bottled up in a climate where anything can trigger violence." He called on Christians to rid themselves of "latent hostility" against Negroes.

In the heart of the Detroit riot area, the Rev. Marshall Hunt of Grace Episcopal Church, said, "Maybe now some of the ills, the infections, have been washed from us. Many of the good things we have sprung from bad things."

Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle, archbishop of Washington, said in his message read to all Roman Catholic congregations in the nation's capital:

"I see at least a glimmer of hope in the fact that so many Americans, instead of pinning the blame on someone else as a kind of sacrificial scapegoat, are now willing, perhaps for the first time, to examine their own conscience and assume their own share of responsibility..."

Pittsburgh's Roman Catholic archbishop, John J. Wright, warned priests to "avoid any word that inflames bad feeling, that incriminates others or that otherwise sparks hatred, suspicion or violence. Our prayers must be unqualified in their openness to God's judgment..."

The Rev. Edwin Edmonds told a predominantly Negro congregation at the Dixwell Avenue Congregational Church in New Haven, Conn., "Whether out of frustration or out of just plain anger and desire to destroy, people are the products of their culture. We have neglected the denied at our peril."

In Harlem's Abyssinian Baptist Church, where Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., is minister, the Rev. David N. Licorish said, "We will pray for peace but peace is not a solve to put on an already festering sore."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My wife's mother raised her with the following advice about housework: "The less you know, the less you will have to do." When our kids were young, I was the one who bathed them and put them to bed every night. When they wanted a drink of water in the middle of the night, they never called for "mama." It was always "daddy." We've been married 41 years, and when I retired 4 years ago, my wife announced that she was retiring, too. "Retiring from what?" I asked her. I soon found out.

I have to get the breakfast for both of us, make the beds, run the errands, and do all the shopping and driving. I do most of the housework, mix the drinks, and give her service de luxe. My question, Dear Abby: Should I trade my old lady in on a newer model? Or should I head for the orient and take a closer look at the geisha girls?

OLD ED

DEAR ED: You may look at the geisha girls if you wish, but that's about as close as you will get. They aren't "domestics." They're accomplished, cultured young women who from early girlhood have been trained to entertain graciously with song, dance, and conversation. Period. And you aren't allowed to take them home either. So you had better take a closer look at your "old lady."

DEAR ABBY: My father, because of his job, was transferred to another city and some friends gave me a nice going-away party with presents. My father's transfer was suddenly canceled. My question is, should I give the presents back or not? My mother has already told me she thinks I should give them back, but I want your opinion. Please put your answer in the paper because if a letter came to the house my mother might open it and I wouldn't want to hurt her feelings. Thank you.

PUZZLED TEEN

DEAR PUZZLED: The presents were intended as "going-away" presents, and since you aren't going away, the gesture is inappropriate now. I know it is embarrassing and somewhat awkward, but return them anyway. Your mother is right.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I preferred to be married in an intimate wedding 3 years ago, so we were. Our parents are quite prominent and we have a large family, so after our wedding, they sent out announcements. Several people complained that they had received an "invitation" to our wedding after it had occurred, so they couldn't have attended had they wanted to.

Apparently they didn't realize that what they received was not an invitation, but an announcement, which is not the same thing. (We sent no invitations; we telephoned the friends and relatives to invite them).

I wonder how many people make the same mistake? It has been 3 years, and I am—

Coed Fashions for Fall Are Mind-Blowing

CAMPUS FASHIONS included in Mademoiselle's Back-to-College Show included (left to right) side-buckled wool fleece cape with matching Bermuda shorts cut extrawide and a fisherman knit turtle-neck sweater, all from Charlie's Girls. Pantsuit for evening in velvet. The tailored Edwardian jacket highlighted by a ruffled blouse. This is an Elite design. Wool shirt sweater packs two foulards—one at the neck, one in the tiny pocket. This is by Crazy Horse. Dorm druds for fall go mini, too, as shown by this cotton romper from M.C. Schrank.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Except for psychedelic lights, the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria was so dark that the audience was given pens that lit up with which to take notes.

Twelve projectors flashed slides on six huge screens, depicting campus life today. We were all given a taste of McLuhanized campus environment. This was Mademoiselle's 32nd Annual Back-to-College Fashion Show, called "Campus Close-up '67."

A dozen things seemed to be going on at once while live models showed the latest campus fashions, accompanied by taped audio effects and the swinging Bill Halface Group. It could have been bedlam. But it was so well done that it wasn't. You could even see the fashions.

The typical campus slogans flashed on the screens as background certainly brought home to this doddering graduate of many moons ago the sophistication and free-thinking of today's kids—and their wonderful sense of humor, too.

The only one of today's slogans that might possibly have seen the light of a blackboard when I was fooling around with higher education was "College is your roommate's brother." We might have been that precocious. But—"Pot is fun," "Snow White plays around," no dice in my time. Anyway, the funniest of all was "Feed Twiggy."

But back to the fashions for the coming campus season. They are bright, young and wonderfully attractive. And they make you wish you could knock off 20 years and 20 pounds just for a chance to wear them.

The kilt showed up in plaid, wool knit and leather wool. Shirts were shown in mini- and maxi-length, many teamed with short dirndl skirts in flannel.

Sweaters were mini-length (to the waist) or they were long and belted. Some had epaulets on the shoulders and others high front pockets. And capes were big, too.

Miniclotures, minidresses, minishirts still hold their own over the maxiskirts. But these were shown, too. And pantsuits in all lengths are musts for the '67 co-

Another thing was made clear—chunky hardware and big, big zippers will be the means of getting in and out of most outerwear.

Most charming were the evening and date clothes, shown only in black. In this group sophistication was so beautifully teamed with a young softness that every fashion was a treat.

The whole show had the spirit of a "Be-In"—the young phenomenon that's sweeping the country. There were buttons embossed with "Make Love, Not Markdowns," and Edie Raymond Locke, Mademoiselle's executive editor for fashion and beauty, urged each retail executive to kiss the person on his left "even if he is your merchandise manager."

In a flashing finale, Liza Minnelli sang "Life Is A Cabaret," to set the mood for the date and evening designs.

Today's college students live in a barrage of sights, sounds and vibrations. And the audience at this show was treated to a large helping of all three—even to bursting balloons filled with Chanel No. 5.

A fashion show, it seems, isn't easy to do any more. No more models sedately parading the runway. Without music and various electronic media, you have got a flop on your hands. This one wasn't.

Chain Gang Takes Over at Yves St. Laurent Collection in Paris Fashions

PARIS (UPI)—The chain gang took over at the Yves St. Laurent collection today.

It may be because the 31-year-old bespectacled designer is an avowed fan of Coco Chanel, but St. Laurent for both day and evening draped his girls in chain belts, chain necklaces and chain handle handbags as Chanel used to do.

He even went in for "the total look" a la Chanel, keeping his girls in the same hair-do, short page boys with Chanelish black bows on head bands. One also had the feeling of Chanel in the white camellias pinned to his setoogirl dresses with accordion pleated skirts.

Whatever the inspiration, the St. Laurent show appeared to be the only smash hit in the Paris winter collections so far, and the only one that drew spirited applause from the press throughout and loud "bravos" at the end when spindly Yves shyly strode into the salon.

Even the medieval bride at the end of the show had chains as well as lilies wound into her waist-length looped braid.

In addition to chains, the St. Laurent theme for winter includes knickers, leather fringed tunics, lots of leather suits, crocheted capes, accordion pleated dresses both short and floor-length for evening, and ostrich feathers.

Skirts were a good two to three inches above the knee, and the only mid-calf coats he created were to wear over trouser suits or knickers.

Paris is determined to get girls in'o knickers this fall. Yves St. Laurent's are the prettiest in town. The show opened with brown leather knickers with a chain belt, long trout fishermen's boots, high waisted leather top, knitted hood and floor-length brown leather coat with racoon collar.

St. Laurent's suits either had short belted jackets with flared skirts or long belted jackets with gold or silver buttons and narrow skirts.

More applause came for his trouser suits. Black velvet knickers were worn with a white blouse, chains dangling from the scarf neckline and a chain belt at the waist.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I was disturbed recently by the news that the state university my daughter attends has relaxed its student "apartment rules." As of next fall, any woman student may enter a man's apartment or a fraternity house without the presence of a chaperone or two other couples as previously required. Parties no longer must be registered, and the campus security police will not check on the use of alcoholic beverages. Don't you think that the university is shirking its responsibility in this regard?

DISTURBED MOM

ANSWER: Quoting my daughter, a typical coed, "If parents have properly guided and disciplined their child for his first 18 years, it should be unnecessary for the university to assume this parental role. The college experience is one of exploration—academically, socially and spiritually—and the role of the university is merely to provide an atmosphere which will stimulate it.

"As for the rules you mentioned, it is doubtful that the university's enforcement of them was very effective, anyway. For this, it would be necessary for every apartment to be checked every night, and it is obvious that such a method would be a blatant invasion of privacy. On most campuses, the security check for alcoholic beverages is nothing but a farce; the drinks are just kept out of sight when the inspector comes.

"Besides, if a student is really determined to engage in extreme forms of sexual activity or heavy drinking, there are places besides apartments or fraternity houses to do it. Should the campus security police comb all neighboring woods and fields with searchlights?"

"A student who comes from a nondrinking home is unlikely to become an alcoholic in four years of college. This does not mean he will not engage in a moderate degree of social drinking if he finds it enjoyable and it does not conflict with his own values.

"Most college students, with their emphasis on independence and self-control, look upon those who cannot control themselves with the same degree of disapproval as would their parents. The same informal taboos and restraints operate with the larger society. The only difference is a tolerance and respect for the exploration that every young person must conduct for himself."

'Fair and Hot' State Forecast

By United Press International The weatherman said it in three words for most of Texas today: "Fair and hot."

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts for all but a few sections of Texas said it would be fair and hot through Tuesday. For Northwestern and Northeastern Texas, there will be some clouds and the far western areas will get some isolated thundershowers for brief respite from the heat.

In the part of Texas between Austin and Waco, highs will hover several degrees above 100, perhaps to 104 in some places. Highs in nearly all areas of the state were forecast for around 100. Only in Southeastern Texas was there a forecast of highs below 100.

The northern edges of the Panhandle got a bit of cooling rain early today from a shower system moving slowly across the Panhandle and West Texas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the mid 80s in parts of South and Central Texas to the mid 70s in the Panhandle.

Road crews cleaned silt off some streets in El Paso's North Gate section following weekend flooding caused by heavy rains. Twenty-five homes had to be sandbagged after more than two inches of rain and hail.

Water ran a foot deep in parts of the city's downtown section.

A blazing sun forced the mercury past 100 degrees in 16 Weather Bureau reporting stations Sunday.

Alice, Cotulla and Waco all recorded 105 and it was 103 at Junction and Laredo. Austin, Fort Worth and San Angelo all had 102.

'Miss Texas' Title Goes To Tyler Girl

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Martha and I just sat there and looked at each other," said the new Miss Texas. "We did not know who had won."

But the new Miss Texas, Molly Grubb of Tyler, finally got it all straight. The confusion was because the mistress of ceremonies, Sharon Kay Ritchie, had dropped the word "west" when she announced that Martha Whiddon of Odessa was the first runner-up.

"First runner-up, Miss Texas, Martha Whiddon," Miss Ritchie announced.

Miss Grubb, a 5-6, green-eyed brunette, said she was shocked that the retiring Miss Texas, Susan Kay Logan of Lubbock, had to give her a shove down the runway.

"It's a dream world come true," said Miss Grubb, who represented Fort Worth.

She will represent Texas in the Miss America Pageant Sept. 4-11.

Miss Grubb, who measures 35-23-25, is an art education major at Texas Christian University.

Israel Ups Ante In Bid For Peace Negotiations

United Press International Israel, was reported today to have upped the ante in its demand for direct Arab-Israeli negotiations to write a permanent peace settlement in the Middle East. A highly placed source in Jerusalem said Israel would not be satisfied with a formal treaty but must have additional assurances it would be observed.

Israel considers a face-to-face confrontation with the Arabs as its minimum demand, but so far the defeated Arab nations have refused to recognize Israel or even to agree to peace talks.

Israel's tough stand was believed to be one reason Norwegian Maj. Gen. Odd Bull, head of the United Nations Truce Supervisory Group, was having difficulty getting Egypt to agree to accept his latest proposal on the Suez Canal. He asked Sunday that neither Israel nor Egypt sail small craft on the canal for a period of one month and that both sides provide him with information on their respective cease-fire lines.

Bull was touring the canal area today and planned new conferences with U.A.R. officials.

Police Restore Calm in Wichita After Violence

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Police moved quickly to restore calm in the pre-dawn hours today after scattered gangs of Negro youths spread a night of vandalism through a predominantly Negro section of northeast Wichita.

The death toll from the Venezuela quake stood at 104 including two Americans. Officials feared the toll would soar to as many as 300 or more once the debris is cleared. Four other Americans were among the 1,529 persons officially listed as missing.

The quake, one of two that rocked Latin America in a 14-hour period, hit this Venezuelan capital Saturday night.

The U.S. Embassy and the State Department in Washington identified the dead Americans as Emilio Cabrera, a naturalized citizen from Cuba, and Eduardo Parra Neff, who lived in Caracas.

The missing Americans were identified as Keith Allen Kaplan, 35, of Beloit, Wis.; Ronald Zediak, from Pennsylvania; Miss Bonnie Spiller, of Houston, and her mother who also was from Houston.

The U.S. Embassy said an American military plane would fly from Panama to Caracas this afternoon with a payload of food and medical supplies requested by the Red Cross.

Venezuelan President Raul Leoni appeared on national television Sunday night and praised Venezuelans for their courage during the earthquake.

Leoni said he would make $7 million available immediately for aid and relief and that he would shortly ask Congress for $90 million for reconstruction and compensation to victims.

A series of three tremors rocked Caracas and the coastal towns of La Guaira and Macuto during a 47-minute period Saturday night. The quakes leveled three apartment houses in the capital and police said none of the residents escaped from the buildings before they crumbled.

A similar incident occurred shortly before midnight at Maxwell's Market at 17th and Poplar but police put the blaze in a matter of minutes.

Off-duty officers were moved into the area to settle the unrest.

"We've experienced this bottle and rock throwing after football games," Bruff said. "But this is the worst disturbance we've had. It got a little wild up there shortly after midnight."

Death Toll From Quake Now at 104

By JACK BRANNAN CARACAS (UPI)—Rescue workers with giant earth-moving equipment clawed through tons of debris today hunting for bodies and possible survivors who could still be buried alive in the rubble of earthquake shattered buildings.

The death toll from the Venezuela quake stood at 104 including two Americans. Officials feared the toll would soar to as many as 300 or more once the debris is cleared. Four other Americans were among the 1,529 persons officially listed as missing.

Judge Anderson Sets $500 Bond on Man

Bond of $500 was set by Justice of the Peace Ed Anderson Sunday for Joseph D. Brock, 21, 910 S. Banks.

Brock was arrested early yesterday by Pampa police in the 500 block of N. Ward on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Riots

Police could not put their finger on what started the riot. Tension had built up during the month as a white Catholic priest, father James Groppi, directed young Negro pickets in demonstrations against the homes of aldermen who had voted against open housing.

It increased early Sunday when a fight between two Negro women in front of a rock 'n roll establishment resulted in window smashing and 10 arrests.

At 9:30 Sunday night, police reported gangs of Negro youths roaming the riot area.

Deadly Pattern By 2 a.m. today, the deadly pattern of Newark and Detroit was being retraced in Milwaukee.

Fires blazed against the night sky despite a thunderstorm which broke over Wisconsin's largest city. Sniper fire, spitted from darkened homes, pinning down police officers in the streets and ripping the windows of the fifth district police station in the heart of the near North Side riot area. The looters moved in.

UPI reporter Tom Drolshagen was one of the first casualties of the riot. He was walking along 3rd street when a band of young Negroes closed in behind him and taunted him as "whitey."

Drolshagen was struck on the head and hospitalized. His condition was reported as satisfactory.

Pan-Am Sees Record Setting, Low Comedy

WINNIPEG, Canada (UPI)—A weekend of record-busting, high performance, and low comedy sent the United States into the Pan-American Games homestretch today with a good chance to reach its glittering goal of 100 gold medals.

Going into the last six full days of competition, the Yanks had 66 gold medals already in the bank and another haul likely in five swimming events on the Monday schedule.

U.S. swimmers and runners simply made a shambles of their competition during the weekend—winning 10 out of 12 swimming events and nine out of 10 track and field events.

Meanwhile, they went right on picking up such added gravy as two gold medals in weightlifting and one in skeet shooting on Sunday to open a fantastic gap over all other countries. The Yanks have copped exactly 75 per cent of all the gold medals awarded so far, Canada is a far distant second with five.

The all-time Pan-Am record of 120 gold medals set by the U.S. in 1959 seems out of reach, for the Yanks would have to win in the last six days almost as many as they won in the first eight.

Hits World Mark

The record-busting went on full blast Sunday with Lee Evans of San Jose, Calif., equalling the world mark of 44.2 seconds in winning the men's 400-meter dash and Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara, Calif., setting a mark of 2:26.06 in the women's 200-meter individual medley swimming.

Nearly every U.S. winner in swimming and track set at least a Pan-Am record.

Only two individuals stood between the Yanks and a clean sweep in both sports—a 17-year-old new swimming star from Brazil named Jose Fiolo and a much-frustrated veteran Canadian sprinter named Harry Jerome.

Fiolo, called by U.S. swim Coach Gus Stager the best young prospect in the world, stopped a Yank sweep Saturday by winning the 200-meter breaststroke and then did the same thing Sunday by taking the 100-meter breaststroke.

Jerome, of Vancouver, B.C., was the winner Sunday in a photo-finish with Willie Turner of Yakima, Wash., in the men's 100-meter dash.

The low comedy was supplied by the men's 20 kilometer walk, and it was real Laurel and Hardy stuff for a while.

Here was Ron Laird of Pomona, Calif., heel-and-toeing down the highway in the elbows-akimbo style that always draws laughs from the folks who don't realize what a gruelling event this is. He was nearing the stadium, preceded by a police man to show him the way, with a huge lead of 300 meters over Mexico's Jose Pedroza Zuniga.

Suddenly the cop spied one of the little red-and-white arrow signs that pointed out the turns in the course. He motioned to Laird to turn right, and Laird did.

Little did they know that another policeman had changed the sign's direction, thinking it was just a little old sign to direct spectators. They got the mistake straightened out before Pedroza showed up—but there went Laird stiff-legged down the wrong path to the stadium entrance.

When Laird was announced the winner in 1:33:05.2 for his slightly unorthodox trip, Mexico waited four hours and then protested. The top official, a Canadian, refused to listen because the appeal hadn't been made within the required 30 minutes.

ANDERSON TO GET TEST

Green Bay Best Again

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi would just as soon forget the past—including last season's victory in the first "Super Bowl" game—and live for the present.

To the stern taskmaster of football's most successful team, the only time is now.

Like the coach who plays his games "one at a time," Lombardi is taking his seasons the same way and is hinting that this might just be his last.

"We will not be making a defense of our championship," he said. "We will be fighting for a championship." And he's spared no horses in his training camp this year letting the veterans know that last year's money-making title is past.

Won't Disclose Plans

As for possible retirement, Lombardi recently admitted his dual job as coach and general manager of the Packers "is getting to be more than one man can handle." But he refuses to be pinned down, saying he'll make up his mind when the time comes.

Lombardi heads into his ninth season with Green Bay with perhaps more problems than he's ever had. But he had a promising rookie crop and has rebuilt a winning tradition that could make the Packers again the team to beat for the National Football League crown.

To begin, with NFL history is against another Green Bay title. No team has ever won three title games in a row and only Green Bay, in the pre-playoff years of 1929-31, can boast three league championships in a row.

Offense Hurting

Of more concern, however, is an aging offensive line and the problem of rebuilding a backfield that finds the stars of the past—Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor—missing. Also hampering Lombardi in his try to reshape the running attack is the U.S. Army, which claimed the million-dollar Donny Anderson-Jim Grabowski duo for the opening weeks of training camp, and behind in training, most of the attention turned to Elijah Pitts, who started while substituting for the injured Hornung last year, and Ben Wilson, obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in a trade. Wilson, some 25 pounds lighter than his rookie season with the Rams in 1963, impressed most observers in the training camp.

Tight end could be a problem — if Marv Fleming has any further problems with an Achilles tendon he injured playing basketball in the off-season. Unproven Allen Brown, injured in each of his first two years, is the only other veteran available there, but Boyd Dowler could be shifted to that spot from his usual flanker role.

The interior line could prove to be Green Bay's undoing. Despite advancing years—as football goes—Forrest Gregg, 34, Fred Thurston, 32, Bob Skoronski, 33, and Jerry Kramer, 31, performed superbly last year.

Rookie Replacements

Lombardi is looking to one of

Drysdale Takes Eastern Tennis

HAVERFORD, Pa. (UPI)—Rugged Cliff Drysdale of South Africa won men's title in the Pennsylvania law tennis championships with irreverence, guts and some of the greatest play ever seen at the Merion Cricket Club.

Somebody forgot to tell Drysdale that it's not nice to allow a championship to slip into an opponent's fingertips, and then snatch it away as he goes to grab it.

But that's what top seeded Drysdale did to defending champ Clark Graebner of Eastwood, Ohio, in front of 2,500 witnesses who sat through the two hour and 59 minute war of nerves.

Graebner needed only one more point to take a 5-4 lead in the third set after capturing the first two with ease. But Drysdale, playing brilliant tennis, scored five straight points to take the game, the set and the match, 3-6, 3-6, 11-9, 6-2, 7-5.

That was good enough. The 29-year-old Graham, who never had won a pro tournament before, captured the title in the $100,000 Minnesota Golf Classic Sunday with a final-round par 72 for a total two-under-par 286.

He had to fight off an exciting late charge by Bob Verwey, 26, brother-in-law of Gary Palyer, who blasted a course record 67 on the final round to finish at 287.

Double Earnings

It was a bonanza day for both men. Graham won $20,000, more than doubling his previous 1967 winnings—to $39,837. Verwey pocketed $12,000, which more than doubled his year's earnings — to $22,639.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Astros' Wynn Clobbers Mets

By United Press International

The "little toy cannon" was more explosive Sunday than the scoreboard and all of its gimmickry at the Houston Astrodome.

The loud pops which echoed through the stadium came off the booming bat of Jimmy Wynn, the mighty mite who leads the National League in homers and the major leagues in runs batted in. The Astro fans have tabbed him the "little toy cannon," because of his 168 pounds and tape-measure drives.

Before he headed for Houston Methodist Hospital, after complaining of dizzy spells, Wynn hit his 26th and 27th homers and drove in six runs to spark the Astros to a 9-1 nightcap victory over the New York Mets and run their winning streak to six games. In the opener, Houston edged the Mets 6-5.

Cards Top Atlanta

Elsewhere in the National League, league-leading St. Louis defeated Atlanta 7-5; Chicago split a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the opener 7-5 and losing the nightcap 3-2; Los Angeles blanked Philadelphia 1-0 and Pittsburgh edged San Francisco 4-3.

It was Wynn's second trip to the hospital in as many days. Saturday, he collided with teammate Rusty Staub in the sixth inning of the game with the Pittsburgh Pirates and was knocked unconscious.

"The collision is at least part of Jimmy's trouble," said Astro manager Grady Hatton. "But he's also tired and we haven't been able to rest him. He has played almost every game since the opening weeks of the season when he was out briefly with a sore wrist."

Roger Maris drove in three St. Louis runs, including two with a seventh inning single which sparked a Cardinal comeback. Ron Willis, the fourth of St. Louis' six pitchers, was the winner as Atlanta left eighth. Ted Abernathy, the 13 runners stranded. Fourth Red pitcher, cooled the Chicago collected 15 hits, Cubs.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Carew Top Rookie At Age Twenty-One

By United Press International

Rod Carew, a grade A second baseman in 1966, has become the pick of the American League rookie crop at the age of 21.

The slim Carew, whose dash and hitting ability has been a prime factor in the Minnesota Twins' pennant contention this year, has already gained one important laurel in his freshman campaign, namely being selected to the starting All-Star team, the only rookie so honored.

Now the obscure infielder, who rose from the Class A Carolina League to major league stardom in the span of one year, appears intent on grabbing the AL rookie title.

Carew, a native of Panama now living in Brooklyn, didn't hurt his chances one bit Sunday when he rapped out four consecutive hits, including a solo homer, in pacing the Twins to a 7-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox, moving the team to within four games of the front-running Chicago White Sox.

Chisox Pad Lead

The White Sox increased their lead over Boston to two games by splitting a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the opener 4-1 and losing the nightcap 7-1. New York swept a pair from Kansas White and Bill Robinson each City 7-5 and 5-2, Washington whipped California 11-1 before losing the second game 10-2 and Baltimore earned a split by beating Cleveland 4-2 after the Indians had captured the opener of 21.

The home run by Carew, who scored three runs, was his seventh of the season and followed by an inning a solo blast by Harmon Killebrew, who leads the majors with a total of 32. Despite a 14-hit assault, the White Sox won three hits in the nightcap, enabling the Tigers to hold third place.

Southpaws Al Downing and Steve Barber pitched complete game triumphs in the Yankees' sweep before a bat day crowd lead over Boston to two games of 50,013. Tom Tresh, Jake by splitting a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the opener 4-1 and losing the nightcap 7-1. New York swept a pair from Kansas White and Bill Robinson each City 7-5 and 5-2, Washington

EARLY BIRDS in the Detroit training camp include camp rookies Mel Farr (24), Paul Naumoff (58) and Nick Eddy (50), Farr is from UCLA, Naumoff from Tennessee and Eddie from Notre Dame.

Graham Wins Minnesota Golf

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Old pro Julius Boros, leader after two rounds with two-under-par 142, slid back to third with 289. His $7,500 check boosted his year's total to about $110,000.

The new Hazeltine National Golf Course in suburban Chaska obviously was a tough one. The course, chosen for the 1970 U.S. Open, has 7,200 yards of doglegs, sand traps, water holes, woods and huge, rolling greens.

Graham and Verwey were the only players to score par or better for the tournament. Graham's 286 was the highest winning score on the tour this year—two above the winning 284 in the Crosby Open.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Repudiate the Haters

Too many Americans, both black and white, have lost sight of what the civil rights movement—our Negro revolution or racial crisis, call it what you will—is all about, if ever they understood it.

It is not its aim, basically and ultimately, to create a society which affords all its members the fullest possible opportunity to work and live and learn and to realize their potential as human beings, insofar as they are able, regardless of what color skin they wear?

Too many Americans, both black and white, seem willing to wash that dream down the drain of history, if ever they believed in it.

In almost the same breath, the U.S. House of Representatives enthusiastically passed a dubious anti-riot bill to treat the symptoms of Newark and Detroit and a dozen other cities, but ridiculed a plan to exterminate the rats which outnumber teeming slums.

At a "black power" conference in Newark, hundreds of angry Negro activists talked of hate and boycotts and armed rebellion, of withdrawal and actual separation for White America—and in so doing warmed the hearts of fanatics of both colors who would like nothing better than the "final solution" of open civil war between white and black.

Long Distance Medicine

It's a small world... and getting smaller. Medical personnel and facilities in New York, Auckland and Honolulu recently joined forces across 10,000 miles to play midwife to a pregnant Maori woman.

In anticipation of possible complications, a sample of the woman's blood, of a type doctors in New Zealand had never seen before, was sent to the New York Blood Center.

The sample arrived in New York at 10 o'clock in the morning. By 4 p.m. the center had searched its library of 10,000 deep frozen reference bloods and had identified the type—so rare that only nine other persons in the world are known to have it.

A cable was sent to Auckland with names and addresses of potential donors, four of whom lived in Hawaii. Or consider this experiment carried out between France and the United States a couple of weeks ago.

Spittin' Image of a Champ

On the theory that any champion deserves a hand, let's hear it for George Craft, of Raleigh, Miss., who had won the national tobacco spitting title for the eleventh time.

Craft's victory this year was dulled a bit by the fact that he achieved a distance of only 21 feet, 3 inches made in earlier championship competition.

Craft sportingly refused to blame his relatively short carry on atmospheric conditions, wind drift, or to the fact that he is now 67 and possibly may have lost a little of his old spittin' polish.

U. S. Resuming Military Spare-Parts Supply To Israel and Jordan; Other Military Equipment to Follow

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Johnson Administration has resumed supplying military equipment to Israel and Jordan.

Deliveries of spare-parts to both nations began this week. Shipments of modern jet aircraft, tanks and trucks will follow within two months.

A joint announcement covering the spare-parts decision is being readied by State and Defense Department officials for the White House. It will be issued next week. Nothing will be released about the resumption of the sales and deliveries of the other military equipment until actual shipments begin.

These and other details of President Johnson's Middle East arms decision were revealed to congressional leaders by Undersecretary of State Eugene Rostow, brother of President Assistant Dr. Walt Rostow.

In briefing the Senate-House leaders on U. S. arms sales to Israel and Jordan, Undersecretary Rostow reported: "The U. S. has no alternative but to resume supplying arms to both Israel and Jordan. The level of Soviet arms sales and gifts has put the U. S. in an appalling dilemma. These Communist arms are in themselves an incitement to war. If they are not countered by U. S. arms, new aggression may occur."

"In order to be in a position to exert influence on both nations, the President intends to honor the contracts for arms sales made before the recent fighting. This will involve the immediate delivery of spare-parts to both Israel and Jordan and later shipments of aircraft, tanks, and other military equipment."

When questioned as to the number of the aircraft involved in these sales, Rostow reported that Israel has contracted for 20 A-4 Skyhawks and is seeking an additional 50 of these alienated and viable urban infrastructure. Any questions? If, perchance, you wish to know more about this fascinating subject, write to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development known to its intimates as plain old HUD.

Some bright young men in HUD—maybe the very one who knocked out this very message for HUD—will sady shake his action oriented head, mourn the low level of public intelligence, and wonder what a guy has to do to make himself understood these days.

At a White House legislative meeting, McCormack argued vigorously against taking up the administration's $40 million "rat-control" bill at this time because of the uncertainty of its passage.

However, when Housing and Urban Development Secretary Robert Weaver assured Democratic leaders, "Our polls show we have the votes to pass the bill," the Speaker reluctantly agreed to call it up.

At the showdown the administration lost by 176 to 207 — 31 votes. Weaver still hasn't explained why his polls were so far off.

The other example occurred during the debate on the "riot-control" bill, when a McCormack aide contacted Representative Charles Diggs, D-Mich., for information on the Detroit racial situation.

"We have nothing to worry about in Detroit," assured Representative Diggs. Mayor Cavanaugh is doing an outstanding job and is working closely with the Negro community. There should be no trouble in our city."

PEOPLE FARM

We live in a very advanced age. The technological and scientific achievements of the past quarter of a century would have staggered the imaginations of Jules Verne and Leonardo da Vinci. As a result of such vast strides, we must move our thinking into high gear and "get with it."

The space age demands a re-assessment of individual values and new philosophical standards. I am in my mid-forties and it appears I have a lot of catching up to do. Why, I remember yack when the word "consent" meant, according to Webster, "voluntary concurrence with or concurrence in what is done or proposed by another."

This is apparently archaic. Today, to get consent, all that has to be done is to pass a law, not even that. A bureaucrat can set up a temporary rule that is as effective as a law, until such time as the lawmakers get around to formalizing the action. To do this, the bureaucrat must be motivated by the purest of intentions, and must be acting to preserve the public safety.

The Colorado State Board of Health has just done this. They have arbitrarily set up a set of rules that enables them, by law, to enter a person's body to extract blood, urine, and breath specimens. They will be exercising this authority until October, when Senate Bill No. 32 is expected to be approved. The bill is called the "Implied Consent Law."

So get with it, people. Stop worrying about agreeing or disagreeing with anything from now on. We've finally perfected the institution of government to the point of omniscience as well as omnipotence. But take care; the indications are clear. If the government can take your blood, urine, and breath, then by the same principle they can le-mand and take your arms, legs, lungs, liver, and any other part of your (or is it "their") body. Now I understood the reason for the various food and drug laws, Medicare, and the like. If the intent is to operate a "People Farm," then the operators certainly want to maintain a healthy herd.

In former times Presidents had more consideration for the rights of the Senate. President Washington consulted with the Senate respecting treaties which he intended to negotiate.

Among these were a treaty with an Indian tribe and navigation and boundary settlements with Spain, which then held Florida and extended its claims to the Mississippi.

The practice of close consultation fell into disuse, so that when President Polk was entertaining a British proposal for settlement of the Oregon boundary controversy, he said that even though Washington's procedure was "rarely resorted to in later times," he felt that it "was in my judgment, eminently wise" and worthy of revival.

He said that by consulting the Senate in advance of his own action, the President "secures harmony of action between that

'Burn, Baby' Act Can't Win Negro Decent Way of Life

By BRUCE BLOSSAT Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)—Negro warfare on the streets of American cities, compounded now in its fourth straight summer, has plunged this country into its gravest internal crisis since the Civil War. U.S. society is endangered by at least partial breakdowns in many areas.

On one incredible night, the roster of this horror embraced Detroit, Grand Rapids, Flint, Pontiac, Toledo and Cambridge, Md. Still vivid in the recent background was the combat in Newark, Cincinnati, Minneapolis, Hartford and other cities.

When the reality is this raw and ugly, the comment needs to be no less brutal. The properly harsh thing to say about this crisis is that neither the most alert white leaders or the most militant Negro spokesmen are facing the American racial problem in the full scope of its staggering magnitude.

The answer the militant Negroes is the nearly total, instant remaking of U. S. society to provide, overnight, the jobs, schools, housing and other fundamentals the enlarging Negro community requires.

Even with almost unlimited amounts of money and energy, it is impossible in the short range. The gaps and the lags, the cruel results of past error and neglect, are too great. The sudden miracle is not going to happen—not with white power, black power or any other kind.

Nor is the white community going to have merely bearable, painless, uncostly, unembarrassing change as it deals with millions of frustrated, embittered poverty-ridden Negroes in a contest of rising affluence visible to all Americans.

Amid the good times in the neatly clipped world of white suburbia, the sharp sting of real urgency is going to have to be felt.

The white separatism of American suburbia is no more a practical response to our crushing dilemma than is the black separatism with violence preached insanely by some black power advocates in conference at Newark.

That conference yielded the wildest, most self-destructive distortions of reality heard in this country in decades. They represented a prescription for suicidal war and crippling isolation. If they were not so tragic when set against the gravity of the problem they could be dismissed as silly.

Even as the misguided militants tried to tell millions of unhappy Negroes that they should prepare for war and for living in a black "nation" within the Concerned Americans talk about the survival of freedom. But survival is not enough. Patriots must work always for freedom's victory, and keep clear and alive the resolution to win that victory.

VICTORY IS THE GOAL

This is a time when freedomists must have more courage than fear, more hope than despair, and a vision of victory so vivid that it overshadows the darkest picture of mankind's fate should liberty be lost to America.

The cause of freedom has one great and eternal advantage over those who advocate a slave ideology. The ideas of freedom are true, sound, and forever inspiring. They are based on universal natural right and the evident laws of God. In any fair, open debate, the concepts of freedom cannot but prevail.

We who favor freedom have much going for us. No people anywhere in the world deliberately choose slavery over liberty. A love for liberty is born into the hearts of men. Freedom has all the promise in the world to offer every individual and every group not trying to get dictatorial power to rule over their fellowmen. The freedom story has a magic appeal if it is well told in such a way that all can understand.

Army Reserve Is Drifting Into State of Impotency

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's reorganization plan for the Army reserve forces misses the point.

The chief value of a ready reserve is that there are in civilian life many men who have skills which the military establishment cannot afford to carry on its permanent roster in the numbers that are needed in time of war—or as a possible contingency for varying types of war.

A war with the Soviet Union would require different numbers of different types of skills than a war with Red China. That war in turn would have different requirements than a war with the Viet Cong or the North Koreans or Cuba. To have all the skills permanently in the military services in the quantities needed for any possible contingency would be prohibitive in cost and in the number of skilled men it would take from the civilian economy. In addition, men with unique skills are willing to serve when there is a war that requires their skills. They are not interested in permanent military careers.

Many men and women in their civilian life develop these needed skills in school, in their work and in their hobbies. Other skills, peculiar to the military, are developed by civilians during periods of military service. Civilians can also develop certain military skills by evening and vacation attendance at military technical and staff and command schools.

The most difficult task in expanding a military force for a war—limited or total—is the securing of specialists. A specialist can be an electronic expert, intelligence man, truck mechanic, psychological warfare officer, or simply a squad, platoon, company or battalion leader.

Men with these skills and abilities exist in civilian life. Many others are able to attain these skills with part-time training. The pity is that there are in the U. S. military reserve forces more than 400,000 officers and men who at the present time are not receiving adequate training or review to fit key slots that need filling. Many are not receiving any training at all. Others are receiving routine make-work training which does not keep them up-to-date. Many officers who have been in the reserves for 10 to 15 years are so out-of-date that they could not serve adequately in the rank they have attained.

Many more reservists have been put into the slots for which they would be best fitted in the specialty in which they served a decade ago. Meanwhile, their civilian specialty has made them much more valuable in some other military role.

Many reservists with the civilian skills needed by the military in an emergency are not receiving the "conversion" training—the training necessary for them to be able to convert these skills to military problems. Whether they're called for Vietnam or not, the whole purpose of a reservist is to serve or be capable of serving when he is needed.

Reservists know they have this obligation. Most reservists with an obligation despise being idle. Many have complained to this reporter that they are not being fitted for what they'd be expected to do in war. They want to do something. Sincere and able men, they resent this waste.

Consent, Yes; Advise, No

(Chicago Tribune)

Word in Washington is that President Johnson may send to the Senate treaties relinquishing the undivided right of the United States to exercise control over the Panama Canal in perpetuity as if this country were sovereign. The provisions of the draft treaties, have brought the sharp reaction from Congress that they are unwise and an unjustified render of American rights.

The Constitution gives the President the "power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-third of the senators present concur." In practice the Senate has done very little advising in recent years. The White House slaps down the treaty before it and the Senate is supposed to rubber-stamp it by consenting. It does so by approving a resolution authorizing ratification by the President.

In former times Presidents had more consideration for the rights of the Senate. President Washington consulted with the Senate respecting treaties which he intended to negotiate.

Among these were a treaty with an Indian tribe and navigation and boundary settlements with Spain, which then held Florida and extended its claims to the Mississippi.

The practice of close consultation fell into disuse, so that when President Polk was entertaining a British proposal for settlement of the Oregon boundary controversy, he said that even though Washington's procedure was "rarely resorted to in later times," he felt that it "was in my judgment, eminently wise" and worthy of revival.

Pampa College of Hairdressing Is One of Largest of Its Kind

The Pampa College of Hairdressing and Beauty Culture, located at 716 West Foster St., is one of the finest and largest schools of its kind in the United States. The school is owned and operated by Bob E. Parker, who opened it July 1, 1961. It has the largest enrollment of any beauty college in the State of Texas having an average attendance of more than one hundred students. The highest and foremost standards of instruction and management have won this school the recognition and stamp of approval from the Texas Education Agency, National Association of Cosmetology Schools, Texas Association of American Beauty Culture and State Board of Cosmetology.

Parker is an expert in the many phases of cosmetology and has received numerous trophies and awards for his accomplishments. Being a certified instructor and hair stylist, he teaches advanced hair styling techniques and wig classes for licensed cosmetologists all over the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle areas. Parker is also active in both the NHCA, and the THCA organizations and is currently participating as a member of the Lone Star Styles Committee and director of district 81. He is past president of affiliate 81 and a current officer on the state board of directors.

"If you want prestige," Parker stated, "a really big income and a chance to use your designing talent, you can find all these rewards in hairdressing. What's more, all these satisfactions aren't reserved just for the few. I know hundreds of hair stylists who are exceptionally successful, and some of them are only in their early twenties. Hairdressing is one of the few careers in which you can get ahead fast," he declared.

Six months is the time required to finish the beauty course at this college and students must have three months of intensified class room instruction and procedures before they are allowed to work on patrons. They learn to shape the hair (scissor and razor method), shampoo, curl, straighten, bleach (by the new machine method), color and create hairstyles by numerous methods and instruments. In addition, they give scalp and facial treatments, provide make-up analysis, remove superfluous hair, arch and tint eyebrows and give manicures and pedicures.

Olen Anderson Helps Your Car

Before you go on that long trip, come in and have Olen check your car's front end. It's estimated that 7 out of 10 cars have faulty front ends. Olen can check the front end on his Alemite Cross-Sight Wheel aligner and tell in minutes what might be needed to get your "limousine" back in true shape.

This one mechanical accessory is often overlooked if it doesn't hit the bottom when you take a dip in the road. But actually, shock absorbers stabilize the ride and control to insure a safer, more comfortable ride under all driving conditions.

By actual tests, one can stop in a shorter distance with good shocks. Good shocks can and do increase tire mileage over 15 per cent beside controlling bumping bumps and dips.

Eliminate all guess work as to the performance of your car by having Olen's Tune-Up and Brake test your car on the Dyna-Vision Analyzer. This electronic testing instrument will analyze your engine, and show the problems on a TV screen. Olen can find out in no time at all... and when he has made the final corrections mechanically, a perfect tune-up with be the results.

Stop in at Olen's Brake and Electric at 310 N. Ward and let Olen put your car back in first class running condition.

OLEN ANDERSON, owner and operator of Olen's Brake and Electric, 310 N. Ward, is shown with his Electronic Wheel Balancer which takes the guess work out of balancing your wheels. With this apparatus wheels can be checked up to speeds of 120 miles per hour. Olen also uses an Electronic Tune Up analyzer that shows the electrical condition of your engine.

REQUESTS ESCORT
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., wants the government to provide armed escort vessels for U.S. fishing fleets on the high seas off Ecuador and other Latin American countries.

Pelly said Ecuador and other Latin American countries have been seizing U.S. ships fishing outside the generally recognized 12-mile limit. This practice is on the increase, he said.
