Deaths, Injuries Heavy In Major Turkey Quake

70 Are Known Dead As Flash Floods Hit

ISTANBUL (UPI) — A series of earthquakes smashed a 70 village area in central eastern Turkey during the night, apparently causing a heavy death toll and extensive damage. It was the second major quake to hit Turkey in five days.

The semi-official Turkish news agency said today the death toll by noon had climbed to 70 and that each fresh report from the devastated area south of Erzincan brought word of more dead. In addition nine persons were reported killed in floods 150 miles north of the quake area.

Brown Released By Police on $10,000 Bond

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — Black Power militant H. Rap Brown, wanted by Maryland authorities on a charge of inciting a riot, was released from jail on $10,000 bail today pending arraignment next month on a fugitive charge.

The 23-year-old leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, accused of igniting racial violence Monday night in Cambridge, Md., left Alexandria for a middle-of-the-night meeting with supporters in Washington.

Brown was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday at National Airport on a federal fugitive warrant. After several hours of legal maneuvering, he was freed by federal agents and rearrested by Alexandria police, who hustled him off to jail on a Virginia fugitive warrant.

In the short interval between the time he was turned loose by the FBI and his subsequent rearrest, Brown stood on the steps of the U.S. District Court building and bitterly denounced the "racist hunky cops" waiting on the street to arrest him as soon as he left federal property.

Brown told newsmen that while he was still in the courthouse, "two big animal-like, blue-eyed, pale devils come up and grabbed me on the arm and tell me I'm under arrest."

"However, I know more of their law than they do and I was in a federal building," Brown said. "They tried to arrest me and I punched one of 'em right in his eye."

Then Brown announced his intention to camp out on the courthouse steps indefinitely.

Detroit Guard Stops Rioting

DETROIT (UPI) — National Guard tanks and machineguns, plus perhaps exhaustion of five days of violence, today stilled the snipers of Detroit, whose littered streets have seen the bloodiest and most costly Negro turmoil in modern U.S. history.

Commuters jammed arteries into the downtown area. Thousands of autos crunched over debris and glass from shattered store fronts and shot-out street lights along streets in the riot zones.

The toll of dead stood at 36, one more than the six-day racial bloodbath in the Watts district of Los Angeles in August of 1965. Victims included 26 Negroes, seven whites and three persons listed as "race unknown."

Along 12th Street on the West Side—where the riots began Sunday—Negro women carried trays of coffee and soft drinks to National Guardsmen patrolling a 200-square-block area—vast sections of which resemble Berlin of 1945.

On the equally devastated East Side, Army paratroopers from the 82nd and 101st Airborne Divisions kept the peace.

Gas jets, never turned off, glowed from the charred ruins of firebombed buildings. Heavy fumes hung over some neighborhoods. But many businesses opened for the first time since the trouble began and the streets were filled with mini-skirted secretaries, an eye-filling change of pace for the weary riot troopers watching the area.

These were some of the grim statistics at noon today.

—Damage unofficially estimated at $500 million with the long-range loss to the economy of the nation's fifth largest city ranging to $1-billion.

—More than 2,000 injured, including 58 policemen, 19 guardsmen and 29 city firemen. At least 1,304 fires set in five days; more than 3,000 persons arrested, most of them for arson or looting.

The number of homeless—entire neighborhoods lay in ruin—were, in the thousands. A conservative estimate from city officials was that 5,000 persons need shelter.

Gen. Joan Throckmorton, commander of the 4,800 battle-trained paratroopers flown into Detroit Monday at the request of Gov. George Romney, said the major problem remaining was "a few organized snipers."

"It just takes times to root them out and we'll root them out," he said.

Throckmorton made his statement after a tense night of sniper flushing—a night during which three shaggy-haired white youths were collared in a suspect sniper's haven.

Wednesday night was one of calm compared to the nights of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday which made Detroit—a city which boasted of its racial peace—the victim of the worst outbreak of racial violence in modern U.S. history.

Cost of Living Rises for Third Month in Row

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living jumped three-tenths of 1 per cent in June—for the third straight month—lending support to President Johnson's arguments for a tax increase.

The Labor Department reported Wednesday that the consumer price index rose to 116 per cent of its 1957-59 average from 115.6 per cent in May. Looking at it another way, a housewife in June had to pay $11.60 for the same market basket of goods and services that cost her $10.99 nine years ago.

Higher prices for fruits, vegetables, meats and other food caused a large part of last month's rise in living costs. Leaving out food prices, which tend to fluctuate sharply from season to season, the cost of living advanced two-tenths of 1 per cent.

Whole prices, meantime, rose five-tenths of 1 per cent, matching May's increase and foreshadowing further advances in retail prices later on this year.

Johnson can be expected to cite this spring's jump in living costs as additional evidence that higher taxes are needed to fight inflation. The President is believed ready to send Congress a tax message any day now.

Gross National Product GNP, a dollar measure of the nation's total output of goods and services are only $4 billion the first quarter of 1967.

The President's council of economic advisers figures that the economy's productive capacity is growing enough to absorb GNP increases averaging about $2 billion a quarter without inflation.

But in the absence of a tax increase, Johnson's economic advisers figure that GNP would surge ahead by $15 billion in the last quarter of 1967 and on into 1968. And since the economy can produce only $12 billion worth of goods each quarter, $3 billion of that $15 billion would be in the form of higher prices, they argue.

Their prescription: Raise taxes to take that $3 billion out of the hands of consumers and businessmen; then there'll be no inflation.

But, of course, it would be ridiculous to accuse us of fomenting the rebellion and the armed struggle of the American Negro," he said.

Castro read detailed news dispatches of the U.S. racial violence and then—defending the Negro rioters—said they had been "defamed and vilified" in news agency stories.

The July 26 celebration commemorates Castro's abortive 1953 raid on the Moncada Army Barracks in Santiago. It is now revered in Communist Cuba on Castro's orders—as marking the start of the revolution.

He said the date stands as "a symbol of the same ideas" which he asserted are shared "in common" by American Negroes, the Latin American masses and the Vietnamese and Cuban Communists.

MIAMI (UPI)—Negroes rioting in American cities had Fidel Castro's blessing today, but the Cuban communist leader said any suggestion he was connected with the disorders "would be ridiculous."

U.S. Black Power leader Stokely Carmichael sat in a place of honor—with Reds from Latin America and Vietnam—as Castro spoke for two and one-half hours Wednesday night in Santiago, Cuba.

The occasion was Castro's annual "July 26th" celebration which this year is a prelude for the parley of hemispheres observation slated next year.

Castro gave Carmichael special attention Wednesday night, calling him "the representative of the Negro people of the United States."

"American Negroes are rebelling and are fighting because they have been criminally exploited and oppressed," Castro said.

The man who is working to trigger revolutions in every Latin American nation said "the hands of revolution" now grip the United States.

Denouncing "Yankee imperialists" for violence around the world as well as within the United States, Castro left no doubt about satisfaction over the U.S. disorders.

"But, of course, it would be ridiculous to accuse us of fomenting the rebellion and the armed struggle of the American Negro," he said.

Algerian Chief Favors Soviet Help in Mideast

United Press International Algerian President Houari Boumediene favors direct Soviet military intervention in any renewed Middle East conflict even at risk of a world war, diplomatic sources said today in Belgrade. The Russians refused, the sources said.

Boumediene, pictured in some reports as acting as a spokesman in Moscow for the Arab nations, was reported to have outlined his position to Yugoslav President Tito in a Belgrade meeting on a stopover from a Kremlin conference.

The reports said Boumediene urged Russia to abandon its policy of peaceful co-existence with the West but that the Russians refused and counseled the Arabs to try to avoid further conflict with Israel, at least for the time being.

Boumediene is one of the more militant Arab leaders. Wednesday he ordered a general mobilization of Algerians to battle Israel with whom Algeria is still officially at war. He also is reported to have urged President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt to wage guerrilla warfare against Israel.

Observers outside Algeria said the rallying of old "free Algeria" fighters and other army elements could be linked with Nasser's recent speech calling for such guerrilla warfare if necessary.

However a top Israeli general warned today that no Arab force, even one shored up with "volunteers" could beat the Israelis.

Nasser indicated in his Sunday speech on the 15th anniversary of the Egyptian Revolution that he might try the method. He noted reports were heard each day how the Viet Cong were waging war against the allies with small weapons. He declared Egyptians were not inferior to the Viet Cong.

Algerian President Houari Boumediene Wednesday ordered a general mobilization of Algerians to battle Israel. Algeria is still officially at war with the Jewish state.

OPENING NIGHT SUCCESSFUL Rodeo in Second Stanza

By RON CROSS and LARRY HOLLIS
Cowboys end first go-round action tonight as the 23rd Annual Top O' Texas Rodeo opens its second night of activity, beginning at 8 p.m. in the rodeo arena.

(See RODEO RESULTS story Page 11)
Pampa's annual rodeo parade kicked things off Wednesday afternoon and the first night performance of the rodeo followed under perfect weather conditions.

The cowboys and specialty acts kept the large crowd well entertained during the two hour performance.

Highlighting the acts between the event sessions was the Judy Lynn Show. Miss Lynn and her band of seven musicians presented a 25-minute show of songs varying from the rock 'n' roll hit, "These Boots Are Made For Walking" to country favorites, including "It's Such A Pretty World," to "Beer Barrel Polka."

After their performance, Miss Lynn and her band played for a rodeo dance in the National Guard Armory. They will play nightly during the rodeo and for the dances.

Ken Boen presented a novelty act with his "New Gray Mare." Displaying some of the acts he has put on in Madison Square Garden, Boen paced his mare through a series of acts, including a number of dances.

Rodeo clown Larry McKinney presented a "bloodless" bull fight with a Mexican bull. Provided by Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., the Mexican bull breed is considered one of the fastest and roughest bulls used in bullfighting.

"Texas Tommy" provided excitement for several youngsters as he let them attempt to ride his bucking horse. Not too much danger was present, though, since the horse was of the same size as most Shetland ponies.

Leading the grand entry was the Comanche Junior Riding Club of Plainview, chosen as first in the riding club entries in yesterday's parade.

Chosen for second place in the riding club division was Gray County 4-H Club. Third was Leather and Lace Riding Club of Pampa.

C. T. Rascoe, driving a covered wagon with a team of Bay mules, won first as the most typical ranch entry. Second went to Jim Harper of White Deer, with an uncovered wagon and a small pony with chain harness. The Maul brothers placed third with an open wag.

'Mystery Man' Escorts Lynda Bird in London

LONDON (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson chirped and bugaled the wee hours away today with other "birds" at a Hollywood-type crawl through a workingmen's pub that almost floored the fat lady piano player.

Michael and Shirley and Richard were there. So was a handsome young man whom nobody but President Johnson's elder daughter seemed to know. He was her escort.

"Friend of George Hamilton's," ventured the host.

"Name's Augusto Manolini or something like that," confided a guest. "Think he's from South America but don't really know who he is."

Michael Caine, Shirley MacLaine and Richard Harris were among the movie stars who mingled with micro-skirted starlets, long-haired pop singers and a grab bag of assorted hippies in the "duke of Kent."

London's newest "in" director, 28-year-old Peter Collinson, rented the pub for the night to throw a party for the cast of his picture "Up the Junction" and friends.

Downstairs, a fat lady pianist was nearly knocked off her stool in the crush to obtain a "pint of bitters" at the bar.

Upstairs, a psychedelic pop band slammed out a throbbing rhythm while whirling lights flashed across the ceiling.

Lynda had an easier time circulating around the bash than most of the other "birds," the British slang term for girls. Her Secret Service guards cleared a path wherever she sought to go.

Lynda wore a long culotte suit of red, black and white checked silk crepe and a ruffled white crepe blouse. She temporarily stuck her suit jacket in the hot upstairs dance room where a prancing hippie was fanning his partner with a handkerchief.

The lavender-shirted band momentarily collapsed into an anarchy of mopping brows but braced for a new onslaught against the senses when Lynda and "Augusto" wanted to dance.

Lynda spent most of her time in the downstairs Public Bar, the lowest section of an English pub, socially speaking. Secret Servicemen could best regulate traffic there. And it was much cooler.

HARD TO THROW — This saddle bronc by the name of Nameless found George A. Mills too hard to throw Wednesday night during the opening performance of the 23rd annual Top O' Texas Rodeo.

High Court Won't Rule On Estes Finance Case

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Supreme Court closed out its 1966-67 term by refusing to get involved in the tangled finances of Billie Sol Estes' fallen empire.

Without written opinion, the court upheld an El Paso civil appeals court ruling that awarded $81,299 to Estes' bankrupt estate.

The case grew out of fertilizer tank deals for which Estes is serving time in federal prison.

The El Paso appeals court said Estes arranged for mortgages on non-existent tanks, then used the mortgages to get financing for his own operations.

Four in Group — The suit was filed by a group which the court said had been involved in the transactions with Estes. The group consisted of J. C. Barnes Jr., J. C. Barnes Sr., Russell J. Ramsland and W. F. Wynn, and was known as "the Barnes group."

The group sought to cancel its obligations arising out of the Estes deals.

The primary defendant was Walter F. Heller & Co., one of the finance companies that ended up with the mortgages.

At the beginning of the suit, the Barnes group turned over to Pecos Dist Judge J.H. Starley $81,299 it said it had received from Estes in 10 per cent "bonus payments" for signing mortgages.

The Heller Company filed a cross-action seeking to get some of its money back.

In 1919, 38 persons were killed when a race riot broke out on a Chicago beach after a Negro boy had been attacked.

Burglaries, Stabbing Keep City Police Busy

Pampa police spent an active 24 hours yesterday investigating two burglaries, a knife fight between two women, a motorcycle-automobile accident, and a "threat on a Pampa man's life."

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller were both treated and released last night, hospital officials said.

Officer Scott said police were still investigating the case and questioning Mr. and Mrs. Fuller before noon today, but had not yet filed charges against anyone.

An unknown amount of money was taken either late yesterday or early this morning from a service station and a body shop. In both cases, window glass was broken for entry and cigarette machines were pried open and rifled for money.

The burglaries occurred at Ray's Gulf Service—210 E. Brown and Jims' Body Shop, 800 E. Francis.

Ray Forkner of 2226 N. Nelson called officers on the service station case and said a screw driver was also missing. Jim Seeding, 412 E. Browning, reported a soft drink machine and cash register at the body shop were also burglarized.

Mrs. Thelma Ford, 738 S. Gray, was hospitalized in Highland General Hospital last night and is listed in good condition today. She is being treated for stab wounds sustained at a Pampa lounge last night, according to hospital and police records.

Officer Roger C. Scott reported he "walked in on the remains of a fight between two women, and took one woman (Mrs. Ford) to the hospital."

He said he instructed the other woman, (Mrs. Janie Bess Fuller, 25) and her husband, (Jesse Fuller, 27) to report to the police station, because he "thought it unsafe to put her in jail."

According to officer Scott, Mrs. Ford "was stabbed in the left side, through the lung and in the abdomen and was taken to surgery."

Charles H. Brauchle Jr., 18, of 1206 N. Russell, was driver of the car involved.

No charges were filed, officers said.

James Curtis Matney 111 S. Hobart, told officers today he was playing dominoes last night with another man in a recreation hall 100 block, W. Foster, and when he "quit the game," the man threatened him with a knife.

Officers said they were investigating the case and attempting to locate the unidentified man.

Mrs. Clyde Bohannon of 117 S. Sumner told officers yesterday some children threw a rock at her car while she was driving east on Alcock St.

In 1942, President Roosevelt signed a bill creating the "Waves" of the U.S. Navy.

In 1945, the U.S. Senate ratified the United Nations Charter. The vote was 81-2.

Pampa Scouts Arrive in Camp

CIMARRON, N. M. — Nine Scouts from Pampa, members of Troop 4, Post 80 and Troop and Post 109, have arrived at Philmont Scout Ranch and Explorer Base in northeastern New Mexico. They are all from the Adobe Walls Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Scouts are now in training at the "university of the great outdoors" for their 12-day high adventure expedition under the guidance of Philmont's ranger staff. The group's ranger is instructing them in wilderness cookery, backpacking, hiking techniques and compass and map orientation.

After three days with their ranger, the expedition will continue following mountain trails on the 214-square mile ranch under their own adult leader, Thomas F. Gray of Pampa, who accompanied the boys.

Former PHS Grider Speaks to Rotary

A former Pampa High School football star, Charley Boyles, talked "rodeo" to members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Now a coach and teacher, he said that the life of a rodeo performer was not easy and noted that more than 3,200 members take part in R. C. A. sanctioned rodeos across the country.

Boyles is serving as rodeo judge at the Top of Texas Rodeo now in progress.

Commissioners To Meet Tuesday

Gray County Commissioners will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday to pay salaries, discuss the county budget and a county employee retirement plan and pay bills.

Bills included for payment are county annex remodeling, $9,893.88 and a right-of-way utility adjustment on Highway 60 to Cabot Corp., $648.13.

"This leaves on outstanding debt on Highway 60 improvements. We haven't received the bill yet for utility adjustments for Phillips Petroleum Co., but it is estimated at $12,000," County Judge S.R. Lenning said.

This $12,000 estimate includes an estimated $3,000 cost increase since the original contract in 1966 he said.

"We had to use more pipe than expected, the labor contract ran higher than expected, and two extra vents were needed in crossings under the highway," Judge Lenning explained.

Desk Derrick Club Hears Jeweler

The Pampa Desk and Derrick Club learned about "Diamonds At Hard Labor" in their July meeting when John C. Duncan, vice president and general manager of Wagner's Jewelers of Amarillo presented diamonds of a form that we do not ordinarily think of when we speak of "diamonds."

Duncan brought a sample display of jewels for the Club to admire and test their ability to tell what kind of precious jewel was in the center of the display and the total value of the display about $12,000.00 and the center stone was a coffee tan 2 1/2 carat diamond.

Ruth Campbell won the prize for guessing that the center stone was a diamond although not of the color you ordinarily think of when you speak of diamonds.

Fresh Cherries In A Lemon Pudding

A TREAT—cherry, lemon dessert.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
From June to early August, there are fresh cherries from the Northwest to add zest, sweetness and delightful color to our menus. They come in three varieties. Bings are showy big cherries famous for their dark red color, larger size and firm flesh with a "snap" in the skin. Lamberts closely resemble Bings, but have a somewhat brighter red color. They are plump and sweet and may be used interchangeably with Bings and Royal Annes are the light-colored cherries with a slight crimson blush. Fewer markets have this variety since most of the crop is commercially processed.

with pudding mix, marshmallows and nuts.
CHERRY LEMON DESSERT
1½ cups fresh sweet cherries
1 package lemon pudding mix
1 egg
1 cup miniature marshmallows
¼ cup slivered almonds
10 vanilla wafers, crushed fine.
Halve and pit cherries, reserving a few with stems for garnish. Make pudding according to package directions using whole egg. Cool. Fold in cherries, marshmallows and almonds. Spoon into sherbet glasses or spread in cake pan and top with vanilla wafer crumbs. Chill. Serve, garnished with whipped cream and stemmed cherries. Makes six servings.

Cook Vegetables This Butter Way

Summer is the season for fresh flavor in everything, the ideal time to try some new cooking ideas like butter baked vegetables. If you're used to ordinary frozen vegetables, try this new recipe which goes straight from freezer to oven.

Take frozen peas and carrots. They go right into the oven still frozen solid, and come out delectable. Put them into a covered baking dish along with half a stick of butter and just the right seasonings: sugar, a dash of salt, and an unusual flavor-maker, dried mint. They'll have a savory flavor guaranteed to delight your family.

Another vegetable recipe with new appeal is Parmesan Twice-Baked Potatoes. Both butter and cheese enhance this variation of the usual twice-baked potatoes. They're baked, scooped out, mashed with butter, seasonings, and a sprinkling of grated Parmesan for superb flavor.

This dynamic duo of vegetables is a great way to perk up any meal. Team them in a dinner that is all oven-baked.

PARMESAN TWICE-BAKED POTATOES
4 baking potatoes
¼ cup milk
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon white pepper
Grated Parmesan cheese.

Wash potatoes; prick skins. Bake potatoes in a preheated 350 degree oven 1½-1¾ hours. Cut in half lengthwise; scoop out insides with a spoon into a mixing bowl. Mash potatoes; add milk, butter, cheese, salt and pepper. Beat until fluffy. Spoon mixture back into potato shells sprinkle top with grated Parmesan cheese. Place on baking sheet and return to a preheated 350 degree oven 20-30 minutes or until top is lightly browned. If desired, place under broiler 2-3 minutes to brown top. Serve immediately. Makes 8 servings.

Chicken With Mushrooms Makes a Skillet Delicacy

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Here's a delightful chicken recipe for chafing dish or skillet. Slightly gourmet, yes, but not too much so for the average home cook to manage or the average family to enjoy. Here's something to take monotony out of the familiar menus, delicately flavored with mushrooms, basil, bay leaf, onion, white wine and light cream. Try it. We think you'll enjoy it.

CHICKEN WITH MUSHROOMS
3 sprigs parsley
1 small stalk celery
1 fresh basil leaf or ¼ teaspoon dry basil flakes
1 bay leaf
¼ cup margarine
4 squab chickens or 3 small broilers
½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 small onion, finely chopped
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

CHICKEN, MUSHROOMS—a skillet delicacy.

¼ cup light cream or milk
cup white wine (or water with a few drops of lemon juice)
2 teaspoons cornstarch

Tie parsley and celery together with string. Melt margarine in large skillet. Truss chickens. Cook until golden brown on all sides; remove chickens and set aside. Add mushrooms, cook, shaking pan or stirring occasionally, 5 minutes. Stir in on-

Top One-Inch Ham Slice With Peanut Crunch Topping for Good Baked Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
A one-inch ham slice is a delicious piece of meat. It has high flavor and excellent food value. To guild the lily why not, for a change, give the ham a peanut crunch topping and then bake. It makes extra good eating.

And don't forget the whipped potatoes to go with it. Or the mustard.

HAM SLICE—PEANUT CRUNCH TOPPING
1 smoked ham slice, cut 1-inch thick
¼ cup peanut butter
1-3 cup crushed corn flakes

¼ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar

Spread peanut butter over the ham slice. Mix corn flakes, sugar and dry mustard. Add vinegar and mix thoroughly. Spread corn flake mixture evenly over peanut butter. Place ham slice on a rack in an open roasting pan. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) 1 to 1½ hrs. Four to 6 servings.

JIFFY HAM TREAT
4 slices cooked ham, cut ¼-inch thick
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cups milk

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup grated Cheddar cheese
¼ cup sliced cooked celery
¼ cup chopped ripe olives
¼ cup chopped pimento
2 English muffins, cut in half.

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Stir in flour. Add milk, Worcestershire sauce and dry mustard. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add grated cheese, celery, olives and pimento. Cook just until heated through and cheese is melted. In broiler, toast cut side of English muffin and heat ham slices. Place a ham slice on toasted muffin half. Spoon sauce over ham. Four servings.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Careful planning and watching-the-ads may help you make ends meet this week, as plentiful are limited. In your market's vegetable department, lettuce and head cabbage on the plentiful list, along with onions and in some places, beans and corn.

At fruit bins you may find watermelons and limes in abundance. Watch for specials in meats. This weekend meats in ample supply include beef roasts and steaks, bacon, broiler-fryers and turkeys.

If you have an eye on fish for your family this weekend, either to be cooked indoors or out, be on the lookout for fish fillets and steaks, abundant in fish marketing places nationwide.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have a next-door neighbor who is almost totally blind. He earns his living by etching out names and designs on wood and polished metal. He seems to be a very nice person.

Our problem is this: Whenever he uses his etching machine the power is drained out of our television set. This can get maddening at times when one wants to see something special and suddenly finds it impossible. What do you suggest?

GOOD NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: I suggest that you hot foot it right over to your neighbor and state your complaint. Don't assume that because he is "nearly totally blind" he expects charity, pity or special consideration. A handicapped person can be every bit as self-respecting and thoughtful of his neighbor as one who isn't. Give him a chance to solve the problem with you.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and engaged to a great guy who is 29. We are to be married in January. My fiance (I'll call him Jack) lives a great distance from me, so we get together only on week-ends. About a year ago I saved up enough to buy a small cabin on the beach. This summer Jack and I planned to take our vacations at the same time and would like to spend them together up at my cabin.

There would be nothing stopping us except that we don't want to do anything wrong. DO you think it would be okay? It has two bedrooms. I could invite my best friend and her boy friend to go with us if you think it wouldn't be right for Jack and me to go up there alone.

JACK'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I don't know what you consider "wrong," but if you are saving the most immediate relationship for marriage forget the cabin vacation until you and Jack can go up there as Mr. and Mrs. The presence of the other couple would not help much.

DEAR ABBY: When my grandchild had a birthday I send him a gift. His mother called me a few days later and asked, "Why didn't you come over for Joe's birthday?"

I said, "I wasn't invited." The mother said, "You don't need an invitation to go to a son's or daughter's house for your grandchild's birthday. Where are your old-fashioned manners?"

I said, "I wasn't invited." To tell the truth, ABBY, I would have felt silly rushing in to someone's house while a party was going on. Or maybe a party would be going on at a park and nobody would be home.

So what's a grandmother supposed to do, drop dead? She's damned if she does and damned if she doesn't. Who's right? Mother or grandmother?

NOBODY

DEAR NOBODY: Grandmother. Mother should have invited you. Where are HER "old-fashioned manners?"

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FRECKLEHEAD": You need more help than I can give you in one letter. Let me put it this way: A woman who is really in love doesn't cook up phony stories in order to make her man jealous. She is concerned only with making him happy.

Prints Explode Into Fashion

Checking In At Lovett Memorial Library

By BARBARA COCKRELL, Librarian

There are some questions relative to the public library in our community that keep arising and that are certainly worthy of know that? Because they come I. consideration. Some questions that only the people of Gray County can answer. First, what does your library mean to you? And what will it mean to your children in the future? Second, what can you do to help your library support and operation. Its odd, but the people who demand certain books, or information, on a moment's notice are the last to return books on time, and the first to complain bitterly when required to pay fines. "If I owe that much fine, why can't I keep the book," they want to know.

The answer to that is, of course, simple. Library books are public property. Librarians are merely custodians of that property and are not authorized to sell any part of that property. Consider, for example, what would happen if you "borrowed" a plant or a bench from the city park? Get the idea? But the library's worst enemy — the "Arch Enemy" that costs the taxpayer the most money — is the indifferent, irresponsible person who neglects to return the books he has borrowed. Today's count reveals a total of 200 books that are long overdue. Will they ever be returned? Maybe. We don't know. After this year's inventory, some

One expert, Louis Shores, predicts, "Within 20 years schools will become basically libraries with emphasis on individual study and research." If this is so, then the person who is unfamiliar with the library will be, to say the least, terribly hampered in his efforts to obtain an education.

Today, libraries of all types constitute a training ground for young people of the community. And still you contend our town can do without a library? Sure, you may not use the library — You think reading a waste of time — But what about your children?

Another fact people often ignore is so basic it hardly seems worth mentioning. The public library is an asset to the community. New people are moving into Pampa, many of them from other states. And how do we know that? Because they come first to the library.

One gentleman took the time to voice his opinion — The fact that we have a "fine library" strongly influenced his decision to move his family to Pampa. One lady, a newcomer, quoted the advice of her wise mother, "When you move to a strange place, put your letter in the church, go to the library, and you'll never be lonely."

Obviously, new people are judging us by the facilities we have to offer, and a good library is something the average person has come to expect and demand. Does this make the library important and worthy of your support? If you take pride in the town that is your home, it does.

Finally, we have another fact to consider. An unpleasant one, but true nevertheless. The public library in its struggle to grow and serve is beset by many problems. Not the least of these is the problem of inadequate funds for staff and book collection. But, ironically, the real enemies of the library are the people it strives to serve. An apathetic, indifferent attitude toward learning is the library's Public Enemy Number 1.

People are strange creatures, often acting in a contradictory fashion. For example, the same person who demands the best of everything (including library service) will object most loudly to spending tax money for li-

Shower Honors Mrs. D. Dunlap

LEFORS (SPL)— Mrs. D. Dunlap was honored Monday in Lefors Civic Center with a pink and blue shower. The honoree was presented a corsage of roses made from baby cocks and Mrs. Dunlap and mother, Mrs. Hubert Sims, opened the gifts before refreshments were served to guests.

Guests registered in a baby book and were seated in a semicircle around the gift table. Refreshments were served from a table centered with a miniature bassinet and cradle with doll, cake, favors made of paper napkins formed into diapers with mints and nuts. Punch was served from crystal service to 21 guests by hostesses Mmes. Laura Duckworth, Mrs. Rhondia Sirman; Mrs. Jim Helfer, Mrs. Ben White, Margie

Phythian Sisters Will Honor Grand Chief

Mrs. Juanita Rochelle of Paducah, Grand Chief of the Grand Jurisdiction of Texas, will make an official visit to Pampa Temple 41, Pythian Sisters, Monday evening.

A banquet honoring the Grand Chief and other dignitaries will be held at 6 p.m. in Jackson's Cafeteria.

A special meeting and formal initiation of new members will follow at 7:45 p.m. in Knights of Pythias Hall, 315 N. Nelson, according to Mrs. Bernice Keen, Most Excellent Chief of Pampa Temple 41.

400 books were listed as missing. Assuming the average cost of books is approximately $5, this represents a loss of $2,000, or half the annual book budget!

And how can this be, you ask? This is the result of indifference and apathy — Because there are many people who disregard the value of library service and books. The library is not important to them, and they could care less about you, your families and the taxpayer who pays the bill!

These are the facts. The facts and the problems that affect the library of your community. The question still remains — Is the library important to you? Important enough to warrant your support and your cooperation? Are you interested or indifferent? The success of your public library depends on you, and on you know the answer.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—In television, familiarity breeds new series. The fall network schedule offers illustrations.

The new ABC-TV series "Cowboy in Africa" is an offspring of the movie "Africa-Texas Style," a current release. "Peyton Place," of course, came from the book and movie of the same name.

"Family Affair" is just a switch on the old video program "Bachelor Father."

The new ABC-TV entry "Garrison's Gorillas" bears a striking similarity in format to the current motion picture "The Dirty Dozen," with both of them concerning convicts on wartime assignment.

One ABC-TV official in Hollywood says: "We don't consider it tactful to mention 'The Dirty Dozen' around here."

Science Twist
"The Invaders," meanwhile, is merely a science-fiction twist on the television series "The Fugitive."

"N.Y.P.D." (New York Police Department) follows on the heels of the successful revival of "Dragnet," which centers around the Los Angeles Police Department.

"Daktari" stemmed from the movie "Clarence the cross-eyed Lion."

Two new comedy series, "He and She" and "Good Morning, World," are reported aiming to fill the gap left by the departure of the Dick Van Dyke show.

"Green Acres" is "The Beverly Hillbillies" in reverse, with city people moving to a rural area.

"Run For Your Life" is yet another twist on "The Fugitive."

"Batman" was well known for years to all learned comic strip students.

Talk Series
"Good Company," in which attorney F. Lee Bailey will talk with celebrities and world figures at their homes, is frankly an updated version of the late Edward R. Murrow's "Person to Person."

"Cimarron Strip" is quite obviously CBS-TV's attempt to make it big with a 90-minute western the way that NBC-TV has with "The Virginian."

"Hondo" is a western taken from the movie of the same name.

"Tarzan" had an ample history to draw on.

"Accidental Family," a new comedy, also is in the mold of "Bachelor Father" and, more recently, "Family Affair."

The list could go on and on. In a nutshell, one appeal of many of these derivations, so far as television is concerned, is their "pre-sold" potential. It is part of the game's networks play.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shearson, Hammill & Co. Inc. says that even though the market has rung up an impressive advance since late June, "a fairly cautious approach to equities is appropriate." The company advises investors to exercise a fair degree of conservatism with especially careful selection of securities.

The Dines Letter says that the strength in the Dow Jones industrial last week undoubtedly massed "weakness" in the glamor issues. The investment firm says that for the first time in the current bull market the blue chip stocks are in a position to assume leadership.

Paine Webber Jackson & Curtis says that investors should "scrupulously resist" the urge to put their money on fast moving issues, those of smaller companies which have achieved levels which are unjustified in terms of any "realistic" appraisal. According to the company, investors should concentrate on issues which appear to offer sound value and are selling at reasonable price-earnings ratios.

PRODUCED BY MUSSOLINI ROME (UPI)—The jazz-playing son of late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini has turned producer of horror movies, sources at Milan's Rodia Cines company said Saturday. Mussolini, one of Italy's leading cool jazz pianists and composers, is married to a sister of actress Sophie Loren.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—When I was 8 years old, it was a very good year.

Which is rather surprising because the year was 1929. Think back to that year for a moment. Chances are the only thing you can remember about 1929 is the stock market crash.

If so, you do it a gross injustice. And in saying that, I'm not relying on my own memory. (I have enough trouble remembering things that happened in 1966.)

The reason I happen to be familiar with my 8th year is because I've just opened a 1929 "time capsule." This is a little book, being published next month by Time Magazine, which reviews the events of the year.

The capsule, a sort of mini-history, indicates that in most respects, contrary to widespread belief, 1929 was a humdrum year.

It was a very good year for memorable utterances by public figures. In 1929, Henry Ford coined the immortal line "Nobody wants to fly with a drunken aviator."

It was a very good year for golf. In 1919, a golfer in Waxahachie, Tex., hit a 158,400-yard drive. His ball landed in an airplane.

It was a very good year for fearless prognostications. In March of 1929, Herbert Hoover said, "I have no fears for the future of our country. It is

The Family Lawyer

"Shrapnel" From Tires
 Speeding along a gravel road, a motorist drove over a little pile of loose stones. One of the stones squirted sideways, crashed through the windshield of an oncoming car, and injured the other driver.

After litigation, the first motorist was held liable for the mishap. The court said that, in view of his speed and the condition of the road, he should have foreseen the likelihood of hurling "shrapnel" from his tires.

The case illustrates an important principle: a motorist must be alert not only to the general danger of collisions but also to the special dangers that arise from the speed, weight, make-up of the car.

Here is how legal liability resulted when a car became:

- 1) A Booby Trap—A man left his old jalopy, with gasoline still in the tank, on a vacant lot. One day a boy clasped two rocks together near the opening of the tank, causing a spark that set off an explosion. For the resulting injury to the boy, the car owner had to pay damages.
- 2) A Battering Ram—A man parked his automobile on a slope, pulling his brakes only half tight. In his absence the car began rolling downhill, and finally crashed through the plate glass window of a store. Here too the motorist was held responsible.
- 3) A Bone Crusher—Picking up a neighbor's small son, a motorist slammed the door shut without warning—and without giving the child enough time to get his hand out of the door's way. Result: broken bones, and legal liability imposed on the motorist.
- 4) A Heart Stopper—Rounding a corner, a man drove straight at a woman pedestrian crossing the street. Although he did manage to stop just in time, the woman fell down in sheer panic, suffering painful injuries. Again, liability for the motorist. As one judge warned in describing the rights of the pedestrian:

"His right-of-way is not to be measured in fractions of an inch nor tested by split seconds. He is entitled not to just as much space as his body, clothes and buttons require, but to as much as will afford him a safe passage. The pedestrian's heart as well as his body, should be free from attack."

In short, today's automobile can play many roles in inflicting harm. The car owner bears a responsibility that is not only heavy but diversified as well. It is the law's way of facing up to the less pleasant realities of the automobile age.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas.

SHE SINGS AND SINGS — The 23rd annual Top O' Texas Rodeo guest star, Judy Lynn entertained a large crowd at the rodeo Wednesday night and at the dance after the rodeo and will do the same thing tonight through Saturday night.

In 1956, President Nasser of Egypt issued a decree nationalizing the internationally owned Suez Canal.

In 1941, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was appointed commander of the U.S. Forces in the Philippines.

In 1909, Orville Wright set a world record by staying aloft in a plane one hour, 12 minutes and 40 seconds.

In 1954, Britain and Egypt agreed on terms ending the 72-year British occupation of the Suez Canal.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE.

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Comproments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Success Formula: Marry Right Girl

Want to know the formula for success in Washington without half trying? Ask Simon F. McHugh Jr., a 29-year-old Washington accountant. He knows from personal experience.

The gimmick, or formula, is as old as the hills and has been used throughout recorded history. It's to marry the right girl.

The "right" girl for McHugh was Victoria McCammon, a tall attractive former White House secretary, who happens to be in good with The Boss. The new Mrs. McHugh is now employed elsewhere in government, but remains a particular presidential favorite.

McHugh earned a bachelor's degree in business administration at Georgetown University in 1961 and since then has held four minor jobs. However, marriage to Miss McCammon in August of 1966 perceptibly perked up McHugh's prospects for a successful future.

All of a sudden like and sans any semblance of fanfare, McHugh got a five-year increase as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board at a salary of $26,000 a year in tax money. Which is not bad for doing nothing.

McHugh's nomination was confirmed by the Senate without debate and he will take the oath of office any day now unless some Senator asks for and obtains unanimous consent to reconsider.

"Washington sources say it is highly unlikely all members of the Senate would do an about-face on the matter and that means McHugh is in. Taxpayers will be out $130,000 in wages (plus office expenses) to keep McHugh in his cushy job. But why make a fuss about that? It's merely money.

The five-man SACB is the federal agency that determines, on application of the Justice Department, whether a suspected organization should be formally cited as subversive. Workload of the board has been declining since 1965 when the Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional a provision of law requiring registration by Communist Party members. Not one hearing has been held in 20 months, and not one case is pending.

The Wall Street Journal broke the McHugh story in its issue of Thursday, July 20. Jerry Landauer, the enterprising reporter who dug up the facts, said McHugh started work Mar. 8 for the Small Business Administration as special administrator to Howard Greenberg, associate administrator for investments.

McHugh quickly won a raise to $17,500 and stayed long enough to earn unstinting praise from Greenberg for being "bright, smart and aggressive." Greenberg, however, doesn't remember how he came to employ McHugh, the Journal story said.

Seasoned by 15 weeks of government service and intending to study law at night, McHugh told the Journal he was confident he would manage to switch stride from small business to subversion. But there's one thing that bugs him: he can't figure out how he attracted LBJ's eye.

"I really don't know who recommended me," McHugh told the Journal. "It was as much of a surprise to me as it was to everybody else."

"McHugh's social life has quickened, too," the story said. "Following a recent weekend visit by the McHughs to the LBJ ranch, the couple was added by a Washington society writer to the list of Great Society insiders... with whom President and Mrs. Johnson most comfortably spend their time."

Well, bully for the McHughs. We wish them a happy marriage and a gay life in Washington society.

Like we said in the beginning, the formula for success is old, but it usually pays off. Ask McHugh.

LBJ Ignores Cuba

What's new with Fidel Castro and Communist Cuba?

How long is the Johnson administration going to ignore the threat posed by the Russian missile base located 90 miles off the coast of Florida?

The answers to these and other questions about Castro and Cuba remain the big untold story of the year. The last "in-depth" report on Cuba we recall was written last year by Herbert Matthews, the New York Times man who helped Fidel set up shop on the island. The Matthews piece was notable for what it left unsaid, such things as the missile buildup and the exportation of subversion, and its high time for somebody to tell the full story.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., reported from Washington that over the last few weeks there has been increasing evidence that Cuba continued to serve as a launching point for campaigns of terror and subversion against nations of Latin America. In fact, a month or so ago Castro boasted that he could export "a dozen Vietnams in Latin America" and he probably can.

If and when Castro does ignite another "Vietnam" in Latin America, Moscow and Havana will pick the time and place. You can be sure of that. J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, recently observed that Latin America presents a highly vulnerable target for extensive Communist subversion which is being directed from Moscow Peking and Havana. Hoover also said that Castro's efforts to foment unrest throughout the Western Hemisphere and the continuing entry of Cuban refugees into the United States are placing heavy demands on American resources.

Most Cuban refugees in the country are anti Castro and are turning out to be useful citizens. However, Hoover reports, some of the refugees have been given intelligence assignments by the Castro government, and in addition, Cuba continues to recruit Cuban aliens in the country for spy duty.

The recent abortive invasion by Castro guerrillas of Venezuela was conclusive evidence that Fidel is exporting subversion, anarchy and chaos. Venezuelan authorities identified four of the guerrillas as Cuban nationals, two of them Cuban Army personnel.

Cuba denied Venezuelan charges of aggression, but in the same breath said that the Castro regime would aid "Revolutionary movements combating imperialism anywhere and anytime."

The 1963 Cuban missile crisis has turned out to be a black page in American history. Term of its settlement called for the Russians to dismantle offensive missile bases and for Castro to quit exporting subversion; the United States agreed not to invade or to permit an invasion of Cuba.

But agreements don't mean much to Communists. Reports from Cuba indicate Cuba is dotted with missile bases and Castro's exportation of subversion is a matter of record.

What bugs us is why does LBJ continue to play like Castro and Cuba don't exist? Isn't it about time for a full report on what's going on in Cuba? We think so.

A thought for the day—American journalist George Kennan once said: "Horrors, the Caucasian mountaineers say, is endurance for one moment more."

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Some uncompromising conservatives say Reagan is not a good conservative. Other uncompromising conservatives say George Wallace is not a good conservative. Neither is conservative enough to suit me. But what electable conservative is as good as either? Some people ask, "Reagan ought to wait until next time—he is too inexperienced." I say there might not be a next time, and we need more inexperience. Lyndon has experience.

Even Goldwater once said he would support Nelson Rockefeller as the Republican nominee and then work to convert Bishop Pike to Christianity.

Can you think of a single nominee for any major office who ran as a liberal and then turned conservative? Can you remember any nominee who ever lied his way into office and then turned honest? The pressures in office are even worse than the pressures getting there. What counts most is neither the party nor the platform, but principles. Charlatan Franklin D. Roosevelt ran on an ultraconservative platform in 1932 and violated every plank in it. What counts is the man. I have little respect for any informed persons who vote blindly for party. There is absolutely nothing sacred about the two-party system. It was not advocated by our founding fathers and is not mentioned in the Constitution.

Goldwater says it would be tragic for Wallace to run. Yeah. Tragic for the Republicans. Wallace is going to run, come hell or Goldwater. A Reagan-Thurmond ticket might conceivably head off Wallace, since Thurmond is extremely popular, not only in the South but with the nation's knowledgeable conservatives. Thurmond is the best man for all seasons. But the international socialist now running the Republican Party would rather lose.

Reagan is running—and seemingly selling out. He's following the Nixon line: talk conservative, but act liberal. He has surrounded himself with "liberals." He'll "support all Republican candidates." A man who puts party above principle can save neither. Reagan reportedly will support Kuchel if the Senator is re-nominated by California Republicans. Reports say Reagan has an understanding with Governor Rockefeller of New York. If these reports are true, Reagan is not a man who can be trusted to save our free Republic.

One thing which worries me about Reagan is that he is getting a pretty good press. But Life, Look, Post, Newsweek, Time, Huntley-Brinkley, Eric Sevareid, Howard K. Smith, Walter Cronkite, The New York Times, Ralph McGill, Leonid Brezhnev, Gus Hall, Mao Tse Tung, Bobby Kennedy, Stokely Carmichael, Fidel Castro, Thurgood Marshall and Drew Pearson are violently opposed to Wallace. Who has better enemies than that? Time recently reported: "All five of these states (Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina) went Republican in 1964, and might be expected to do so again in normal circumstances."

Hogwash! They didn't go Republican—they went conservative, states-rights, anti-Johnson. George Wallace would probably carry all those states on any ticket, plus more. Time describes Wallace as an anti-intellectual. A true intellectual is a person who doesn't believe in Time.

In case you wonder why I haven't mentioned Romney, it's only because he isn't worth mentioning. Romney attacks (for their racial views) both George Washington and George Wallace, in spite of the fact that neither ever did him a favor. But he doesn't attack Ho Chi Minh. Beating Romney would be less sweet than counting the Wallace vote in a Harlem precinct.

There'll be riots, killings, yes, many killings, lots of gunfire. Police will be maimed and killed! I can see it now. A gun law to stop the killings (this'll protect us TYRANTS from the guns of the people). A food shortage will be created. We can issue ration cards and withhold them from people who oppose us. A National Police Force to control riots. We can keep those Constitution lovers in line with these boys! But what if millions descend upon the Nation's Capitol with clubs and rocks? What to do? We'll keep 'em home. How? People can't drive to Washington without gas so we will ration gas. Conditions will be created.

But, isn't this a helluva way to treat Negroes? Just as they have won equal rights in many fields? Why, hundreds of thousands might be killed in the ensuing wrath. Don't argue with me or I will have you investigated by the Internal Revenue. Says that gives me a good idea.

PORTRAIT OF TYRANNY

Editor:

The face of the Vice President appears on the TV screen. Across our great nation millions watch. Those who are not watching will hear about it from a neighbor, or a Carmichael, or a Ruskin. The V. P. speaks and says: If I had to live like some of the colored people live, I think I'd riot too. Many who were watching missed the point. Some who got the point were envious. Sanction was being given to the breaking of windows, the setting of fires, the bashing in of the heads of cops. Oh, boy — free booze! The liquor stores are full of it and all for free. And other loot too. If you're a front runner, maybe a free radio, gun or television set. Whoopee! But I'm envious, the immunity doesn't apply to me. I'm white.

For years tyrants in Government have zealously worked at destroying my safeguard, the "Constitution." For years these tyrants have worked ambitiously to enslave me, and with success. You see, I've been too busy looking at that fat pay envelope that grows fatter and fatter. I could not be goaded into a rash act so long as my stomach was full and I had a new car to drive. But rash act there must be! Under what pretext but a national emergency can tyrants ensconce themselves permanently in our Nations Capitol? Yes, there must be a great crisis, and soon, lest the people vote us away from the public trough where we have fed these many long years. Something must be done. Oh, yes, use a minority group. Didn't Hitler do it with great success against the Jews? Won't we work here, not enough Jews. I've got it, I've got it, Hurrrah! The Negroes! We'll pose as their friends. We'll form agitation groups. What to call the program? How to make the public buy it? We'll call it the poverty program. Who in this rich country of America can find issue with a program to fight poverty? After all, haven't we fought poverty in other countries with the "people's vote" for 30 years and the voters have registered no protest.

There'll be riots, killings, yes, many killings, lots of gunfire. Police will be maimed and killed! I can see it now. A gun law to stop the killings (this'll protect us TYRANTS from the guns of the people). A food shortage will be created. We can issue ration cards and withhold them from people who oppose us. House Committee to Launch Probe of U. S. Defense and Preparedness; Hardy to Head Inquiry

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The House Armed Services Committee is going to launch a full-scale investigation of U. S. military preparedness and defense strategy.

Selection of representative Porter Hardy, D-Va., one of the most respected military experts in the House, to head the special congressional inquiry will be announced later this week.

Representative Hardy was picked for this controversial assignment by Chairman Mendel Rivers, D-S. C., of the House Armed Services Committee, after congressional leaders and other members of his group were consulted.

Agreeing with Rivers' deep concern over the effect Secretary McNamara's defense policies are having on over-all U. S. military capabilities, the House leaders not only gave the Hardy probe their blessing but promised subpoena power and all the money needed to carry it through.

The special inquiry was triggered by the alarming findings in a study conducted for the House Armed Services Committee by 17 defense experts, most of them retired officers who formerly held high commands.

Prepared under the direction of Retired General Bernard A. Schriever, former commander of the Air Force Systems Command, the study warned that the Soviet Union appears to be succeeding in its efforts to gain "strategic military superiority over America."

This highly critical report and the resulting backstage congressional discussions made it clear that the House leaders are determined to probe the situation.

Why not merge the Internal Revenue with the Federal Bureau of Investigation? We can sell it to the people in the name of economy! Shades of Caesar, things are going well. The people haven't even noticed that we've exported the best of their sons to a battlefield 8,000 miles away. Our public relations people have "sold" them on the idea of the war lasting five, ten or fifteen more years. It's good to have those boys over there out of harm's way. My harm.

What do I care about 15 years from now? I'll be waxed fat and rich by then. By that time, I want to be retired, anyway. Besides, the people may eventually arouse themselves from complacency and I don't want them to take it out on me even if they don't have guns. Gosh, even stones, and sticks could be fatal! What if the commanders in the field ignore you tyrants and go ahead and win that war in Vietnam? Simple! We'll create another... But where? Oh, that will be easy. How does Panama grab you? How will you create a conflict in Panama? That'll be easy. We'll give them the Canal, good them into closing it, then fight a war to get it opened up again... Say, that is good strategy, I gotta hand it to you tyrants. You sure know how to fool most of the people all the time.

This highly critical report and the resulting backstage congressional discussions made it clear that the House leaders are determined to probe the situation.

Why not merge the Internal Revenue with the Federal Bureau of Investigation? We can sell it to the people in the name of economy! Shades of Caesar, things are going well. The people haven't even noticed that we've exported the best of their sons to a battlefield 8,000 miles away. Our public relations people have "sold" them on the idea of the war lasting five, ten or fifteen more years. It's good to have those boys over there out of harm's way. My harm.

What do I care about 15 years from now? I'll be waxed fat and rich by then. By that time, I want to be retired, anyway. Besides, the people may eventually arouse themselves from complacency and I don't want them to take it out on me even if they don't have guns. Gosh, even stones, and sticks could be fatal! What if the commanders in the field ignore you tyrants and go ahead and win that war in Vietnam? Simple! We'll create another... But where? Oh, that will be easy. How does Panama grab you? How will you create a conflict in Panama? That'll be easy. We'll give them the Canal, good them into closing it, then fight a war to get it opened up again... Say, that is good strategy, I gotta hand it to you tyrants. You sure know how to fool most of the people all the time.

Wit and Whimsy

The rush hour is that time of day when a motorist travels the shortest distance in the longest time.

Hunter—Just met a great big bear in the woods!
Second Hunter—Good! Did you give him both barrels?
First—Both barrels be blowed. I gave him the whole blooming gun.

Bobby—What roof covers the most noisy tenant?
Billy—The roof of the mouth.

The country's oldest resident was being interviewed on the occasion of his 102nd birthday anniversary.

Jones (the reporter)—To what do you attribute your great age?
Old Zeke—It's simple, sonny. I've been taking vitamin pills ever since I was 99.

Sara—Why is a fly taller than most men?
Susan—Because he stands over six feet without shoes or stockings.

Neighbor—You have a nice collection of books, but it seems to me you ought to have more shelves.

Second Neighbor—Yes, I know, but no one ever lends me any shelves.

Golfer (far off in the rough)—Say, caddy, why do you keep looking at your watch?
Caddy—It isn't a watch, sir; it's a compass.

(2) obtain several suppressed defense studies.

According to Rivers, these studies clearly show that McNamara is reducing U. S. strategic nuclear forces so the Soviet Union can obtain nuclear parity with this country.

One of the Hardy probes first assignments will be a study of how transfer of divisions to Vietnam from the "strategic reserve" has affected U.S. worldwide preparedness.

Among persons that will be called to testify in the investigation are: Secretary McNamara, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General William Westmoreland, General Curtis LeMay, retired, and General Thomas Powers, retired, former Air Force chief of staff, General Schriever, retired, and Dr. Edward Teller, the nuclear physicist.

Schooling for 5 and 6 Year Olds in Making

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Legislature may get an excellent opportunity in the next few years to do something about providing public schooling for children five years old and even younger.

For the first time in years, "we are headed toward a period of relative stability" in public school enrollments, Dr. L. D. Haskew said today. Haskew is vice chancellor of the University of Texas system and is a former dean of the UT college of education.

Since 1955, elementary school enrollments have been growing by 3 to 3 1/2 per cent a year, Haskew said. The legislature and taxpayers have been hard pressed to merely keep up with the increase, let alone add more students to the system.

But beginning next year, Haskew said first grade enrollment should decline 12 to 15 per cent and remain at that reduced level for the following four years.

Downward Trend

Some schools may have a very different experience, Haskew emphasizes, but the trend statewide will be down.

Haskew said population experts give various reasons for the decline in pre-school population, including the fact that girls are marrying later and having third and fourth children.

"And of course," he notes, "the pill has come along." High school enrollments during the next five years will "increase significantly, demanding new teachers and new high school buildings," Haskew said, and "there will be an unprecedented increase in college enrollments, beginning in two to three years."

But at the lower end of the system, there will be a comparative lull, and Haskew would like to see Texas use this opportunity to extend public education to five-year-olds, four-year-olds and even three-year-olds.

Fixed in Mind

"We are learning tumstakeably that by age six, so many things are fixed forever in a child's life that we can never overcome them," he said.

The Texas public school system begins at age six, and there is no statewide kindergarten program.

Haskew hopes the state will simply lower the school entrance age, rather than establish kindergartens, although he concedes the latter is more likely.

"The difficulty with kindergartens and nursery schools is that there are too many rigid ideas about what should and should not go on there," he said.

Haskew suggested that the state first drop the first-grade age to 5 1/2. The next year it could be lowered to five "at that point," he says, "you should go to a primary unit system of variable length," through which children would progress at their own pace to the third grade.

Grouped by Age
"They should be grouped within the unit by chronological age, to some degree, but also by proclivity for learning."

The next year, you move on to four-year-olds on a voluntary basis," Haskew suggests.

The tapering off of first grade enrollments, together with an expected increase in the output of new teachers, should make it possible to start such a program without aggravating the teacher shortage, Haskew believes.

The governor's committee on public school education, which is planning major revisions in the Texas school system, also is eyeing the enrollment projections, and Haskew said "I expect that they will be taking them very much into account."

Haskew hopes the elementary enrollment lull and that committee's report will "provide motive power for legislative action."

Trapped Reporter Learns a Lot

DETROIT (UPI)—Vivian was a 12th Street prostitute, $10 for 10 minutes. Daniel Thomas was a solid citizen, a working man. Cassius Clay was a boxing champion. Today they shared a dubious martyrdom they never sought.

No one can pin down the causes of anarchy. But the cases of Vivian, Thomas and Clay were on the snarling lips of the Negro youths who threw Detroit into a lawless bloodbath this week.

Vivian was shot to death by police four weeks ago, perhaps accidentally, in a scuffle. Thomas, 24, was shot to death and his wife raped three weeks ago by white youths at a city park where the young couple was picnicking.

Clay, a Black Muslim, was stripped of his heavyweight title for refusing induction into the Army, then convicted in federal court.

Copy Clay Poster
Sunday, when a white UPI reporter found himself surrounded by Negro youths in the midst of the West Side riot, they forced him to copy every word of a poster advertising a speech by Clay.

"You white (obscenities) took it away from him," one Negro said. "He was the champ. He's still the champ."

Prostitution is a major industry on 12th Street, an avenue of dingy shops with apartments on the second floor. The looting and arson started there at dawn Sunday after a police raid on a "blind pig"—an illegal drinking spot.

Vivian was picked up for soliciting. She fought the policemen. She was shot and killed. Residents of the area claimed police hushed it up. Resentment simmered.

Thomas was held in his car by the hoodlums. Some of them chased his wife. She tried to get into a locked park building. The custodian refused to unlock the door. When police, summoned by the custodian, finally arrived, Thomas' body was found. He was shot in the back.

TOO MANY HANDS — Duane Hennigh of Laverne, Okla., put one too many hands on his bareback bronc Wednesday night and didn't score in the event.

QUAKE TOLL
ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI)—The Turkish government announced Tuesday the final death toll in the earthquake at Adapazari last Saturday at 75. Another 199 persons were seriously injured in the tremor that destroyed 1,016, a government announcement said.

In 1945, the USS Indianapolis sailed for Saipan, carrying atom bombs to be used on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in Japan.
