Johnson Confers With Jordan's King Hussein

Rusk Reports Progress In Nuclear Ban Treaty

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk reported today that he anticipated progress in negotiating an international agreement to ban the spread of nuclear weapons. Rusk told newsmen following a 3 hour, 20 minute meeting Tuesday night with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko that he was hopeful steps could be taken shortly at the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference toward concluding an accord.

LBJ Lays Down Line for 1968 Demo Campaign

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, displaying all the stonewalling of a former mid-campaign, has laid down the Democratic party line for the 1968 elections—"Count your blessings."

In an arm-waving half-hour speech before 7,000 cheering Jaycees at Baltimore Tuesday, the Chief Executive gave a ringing defense of his policies at home and abroad and the back of his hand to "protesters and peaceniks."

He told the 47th annual convention of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce that the "time had come to talk about some of the things that are right with America."

The United States is unmatched in wealth, health, education, transportation, housing and standards of living, he said. World problems abound, but "our aim is to do our dearest duty to bring peace to every human being in the world."

Johnson said his two days of talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at Glassboro, N. J., had resulted in a better understanding of their mutual "motives and commitments." Nevertheless, he warned that a "hard pull lies ahead" and that Americans must be prepared for "tension, rough air and a bumpy road."

The President's allusion to the Glassboro summit came toward the end of a speech principally devoted to praise of U.S. achievements and his strongest attack to date on dissenters.

He heaped scorn on a dozen demonstrators who "walked over the tulip beds . . . sat on the steps . . . slept in the hall" at the Pentagon in May. "In that same week, there were 10,000 young Americans who voluntarily walked into enlistment centers and volunteered their lives for America," he said.

Education Agency Auditors Check Average Daily School Attendance

Four representatives of the division of school audits of the Texas Education Agency in Austin are here this week checking average daily attendance (ADA) and faculty personnel records of Pampa Independent School District.

Austin representatives are Bill Caskey, Jerry DeKing, Charles Rowland and Bob Fahrentheld.

The TEA representatives periodically visit Texas school districts and have also audited records in Groom and Clarendon.

About 30 staff members are in the division of school audits of TEA.

Caskey said the district reported an average daily attendance last year of 5,653.65, with about 5,797 enrolled in the district.

"Due to absences, sickness, or students dropping out of school, average daily attendance is not the same as enrollment here, or in any other school either," Caskey said.

"I don't expect any variations in the reported figure and the audit, which we will finish by Thursday," he said.

The ADA is used by the agency to determine the amount of money a school district receives from the agency under the Minimum Foundation Program.

TEA funds are used to hire teachers. A school district may hire more teachers than it is allocated on the basis of its ADA, but the salary would come from local funds, Caskey said.

Last year the district was allocated 221 classroom teachers, based on its 1966 ADA. This figure does not include other professional personnel - principals, supervisors, superintendents, counselors, or vocational and special education teachers.

The district has about 320 faculty members, including all professional personnel.

Two Leaders Hold 'Working Luncheon'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson was to confer today with King Hussein of Jordan, the first Middle East ruler to meet with the Chief Executive since the Arab-Israeli crisis erupted six weeks ago.

The two leaders held a "working luncheon" at the White House at 12:30 p.m. CDT, shortly after Johnson briefed his cabinet on his weekend summit talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Non-Aligned UN Nations to Offer Compromise Plan

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The non-aligned nations will present a compromise resolution to the U.N. General Assembly this week to try to solve the deadlocked debate on the Middle East war, diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said India and Yugoslavia are leading a group of nations which would present a resolution simply calling for the immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab soil.

The compromise would be between the stands taken by Soviet Union and United States proposals and would not identify either side as the "aggressor" or demand direct negotiations between Israel and the Arabs.

The Soviet Union asked in its resolution that Israel be condemned for "aggression" in the war and the United States draft called for direct negotiations between Israel and the Arab countries.

Debate in the assembly moved toward its final stages with 12 countries listed to speak today. Assembly President Abdul Rahman Pazhwak of Afghanistan predicted an end to the debate by Friday.

Johnson took steps Tuesday to ease the relief situation in the Middle East, the problem that looms as the key to political stabilization.

He ordered a $5 million contingency fund made available for emergency relief to victims of the war and offered $100,000 for immediate use by the International Red Cross. As the International Red Cross.

Marines, Bombers Smash Red Force

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Marines and bombers smashed a Communist force that sneaked back onto the Vietnam war's bloodiest battlefield, American military spokesmen said today.

A company of Leathernecks jumped on North Vietnamese troops spotted near Hill 881, the strategic mountain just below the North-South Vietnam border. Seven weeks ago Marines suffered a record 138 men killed and 397 wounded in the same area during a week-long battle that killed more than 900 Communists.

The spokesman said that in the new fight, the Marine company reinforced by 200 or more Leathernecks killed at least 28 of the North Vietnamese trying to regain the offensive. The Marines suffered 10 men killed and 27 injured.

In other action, Allied forces cornered and battled about 600 Communists just 20 miles north of Saigon today. American forces killed 80 other Communists in scattered combat and U.S. jets flew 126 missions against North Vietnam Tuesday.

The planes for the fourth time in six days pounded the key North Vietnamese Nam Dinh power plant 46 miles southeast of Hanoi.

In the battle near Saigon South Vietnamese rangers cornered a Viet Cong battalion against a river bank, U.S. military spokesmen said.

American artillery boomed at the Viet Cong which frantically tried to break out during the dark pre-dawn hours from their riverside corner. But the Vietnamese rangers kept them pinned down for the U.S. artillery and American jet strike planes.

U.S. armor rumbled into the fight before dawn.

Military spokesmen identified the Communists as a unit of the Viet Cong 9th Division which has been raiding major American and allied war bases around Saigon for months. Repeatedly the Communists staged sneak attacks at the great troop camps and supply dumps just north of Saigon.

Major Offensive

The action reflected a major allied drive the past month to break the back of the Viet Cong 9th Division. Earlier battles north and south of Saigon have killed hundreds of the Communists.

The riverside fight broke out shortly after a Communist terror mine blew up a civilian bus 30 miles north-northwest of Saigon. The blast killed 23 Vietnamese civilians and wounded 10 more.

In action Tuesday, a final casualty count showed nine U.S. Marines were killed and 125 wounded in a massive North Vietnamese artillery, mortar and rocket barrage against Leatherneck positions just below the North-South Vietnam border.

"All your life's work," said Mrs. Leflore, pointing to the wreckage. "There is sits."

It was the second recent bombing in Alabama. Several months ago an explosion rocked the home of the mother of federal Judge Frank Johnson in Montgomery. She was unhurt. Johnson has handed down many segregation rulings in Alabama. Detective Wiley Foster said the blast today "definitely" was a bomb.

Leflore, a retired postal employe and 25-year veteran of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), suffered a small cut above his left eye. His wife was not hurt.

"Nothing to Report" On Kosygin Visit

HAVANA (UPI)—There was almost nothing to show today that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, leader of the nation that has given more aid to Communist Cuba than any other, was in Havana.

The official radio reported only Kosygin's arrival. The official press gave only barebones accounts of his activities. The read carpet treatment that normally surrounds a visiting celebrity in this effusive nation was absent. Government officials would say nothing about the visit beyond "There's nothing to report."

HOW DO YOU EAT A CLOUD? — Libby Seals, 2, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Qualls, 2145 Aspen, tackled the problem of eating her first cotton candy at the Jaycees' Community Fair last night. The fair and exhibits in the National Guard Armory will be open through Saturday.

Earning Money To Pay Tax Bill Takes Big Part of Working Day

How much did Pampa and Gray County residents pay, on the average, in Federal, state and local taxes in the past year?

What did they get back for these payments in the form of roads, schools, protection, health care and other public works and services?

This relationship, between tax burden and benefits, is the subject of a special national study just completed by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that serves as a watchdog on government finances.

Its figures show that the taxes paid and the benefits received do not balance each other, except for families with net incomes of about $6,000.

Below that level, the benefits derived are greater than the costs. Above it, taxes far exceed the benefits.

Residents of Gray County, whose incomes averaged $7,685 per family in the past year, after deduction for personal taxes, had tax bills of approximately $2,200 per family, according to the Tax Foundation's figures.

This takes into account all taxes, direct and hidden, collected by all levels of government.

In return for this outlay they received benefits estimated at $1,940 per family.

For local families with net incomes of $10,000, taxes amounted to $2,830 in the year and the benefits received came to $2,190.

Those with incomes of $3,000, on the other hand, had taxes of $780 and benefits of approximately $1,560.

In the Tax Foundation study, the benefits are divided into the broad groups—specific and general.

In the specific category are education, highways, public welfare, veteran benefits, labor and manpower, agriculture and social insurance.

The general benefits are the ones that result from government spending for health and sanitation, national defense, commerce and finance, civilian safety, international affairs and general government administration.

For most people in the United States earning the money to pay their taxes takes the biggest part of their working day, the

Rains Drench West Texas

Thunderstorms left drenching rains and hail across the Texas Panhandle today and water up to five feet deep gushed across roads in parts of the Big Bend Country of Southwest Texas from three days of heavy rain.

Wheeler reported one inch of rain last night bringing their total to 2.70 inches since Saturday night.

Torrents of rain broke a levee in West Texas.

The Rio Grande rose as much as nine feet in places in the Big Bend National Park.

Prospects were for thunderstorms in much of the western third of Texas today with another day of 100-degree-plus temperatures in South Texas.

A new Canadian cold front was expected to bring a drop in temperatures in the Panhandle by Thursday.

Rain fell for more than three hours on Dalhart and hail pelted an area 10 miles northwest of Dalhart and northeast of Stratford.

Cars May Be Electric by 1975

NEW YORK - The electric car is not far around the corner, a study by Fortune has concluded. The magazine published its findings today in an article entitled "The Revolt Against the Internal Combustion Engine." After surveying public disquiet about air pollution and technical advances made by the space industry in production and storage of electric power, Fortune foresees the greatest revolution Detroit has ever faced.

By 1975 there can probably be a small, short-range battery car of reasonably good performance in production. It would be chiefly a second car. Delivery vans, buses, and taxis may be among the first vehicles converted to electric propulsion.

The earliest motive power is likely to be improved batteries. But the fuel cell is perhaps the ultimate solution to powering a clean, high-performance automobile if the cell's development is vigorously pursued. It was

Scouts' Endeavors Noted With Awards

Four years of concentrated work and study culminated in the awarding of Eagle Scout honors to two Pampa Boys Scouts of Troop 14 in ceremonies held Monday evening in the First Christian Church.

Chuck Lanehart, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanehart, 2222 Chestnut and Gene Thompson, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, 1912 Dogwood, were conferred the Eagle honor by Steve Odum, executive scout director of the Adobe Walls Council.

Odum said the Eagle Scout Award is conferred by the National Boy Scout Council after the scout's records have been carefully screened. He said the first steps in attaining the rank are to pass all previous ranks from Tenderfoot to Life Scout.

"A scout must earn a total of 21 merit badges," he said. "The required ones are camping, cooking, citizenship in community and nation; nature; conservation; personal fitness; first aid; swimming; life saving and safety. The other badges may include any alternate the Scout chooses ranging from agriculture to zoology."

A scout must have served as a leader in his troop for a period of not less than six months, the scout executive said. "They must also plan and carry out a service project in their church, school and community," he said. "In addition," he said, "they have to give examples to show how they have done their best to live up to the ideals of scouting in duty to God, duty to country, duty to others and duty to themselves."

A Board of Review passes on the scout's records before it is President Lyndon B. Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin saw their Glasboro meeting as useful.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai saw in it a furtherance of a "dirty bargain" between the United States and the Soviet Union.

And among millions of Americans who watched on their television sets the marathon Kosygin news conference issuing from the basement conference room of the United Nations there was a feeling of disappointment, an emotional

Program Set July 4 at Lake Fryer

PERRYTON - Perryton Lions Club has scheduled a number of events for a day-long program at Lake Fryer on Tuesday, July 4.

One of the highlights will be a fish rodeo, with $125 in prizes to be awarded for ten tagged fish. Top prize will be $50, with a $25 prize, two $10 fish, and six $5 tagged fish.

Other events on the program will be a water ski show, free boat rides for the kids, games for small children and the climactic event, the fireworks show.

Not definitely scheduled, with a tentative promise, is a repeat performance of the sky divers, a feature which has been popular at previous shows.

Lions will man the entrances to the lake area, collecting a charge from each person entering in order to meet the expenses of the program.

He will be a sophomore in high school this fall and is a member of First Methodist Church and Methodist Youth Fellowship.

let-down when it became clear the two leaders remained far apart on major issues.

The feeling of let-down was natural but not wholly justified. Neither leader expected nor could have expected agreement even in some 10 hours to talk on issues which have divided them for years.

Nonetheless, it was important that the two should meet.

Johnson summed it up by saying that a small world had become smaller still—but also "a little less dangerous."

Chance To Meet

For the first time since the late President John F. Kennedy's meeting with former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in Vienna in 1961, leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union had had a chance to meet and size each other up in frank discussion.

And the impression that Kosygin takes home with him may take many months to show its effects.

Noteworthy, was the apparent lack of threats, ultimatums or the bombast as practiced by Khrushchev at Vienna.

It was there, as it developed later, that he delivered a six-months ultimatum to Kennedy to get out of Berlin.

Kosygin reiterated the Soviet stand on the Middle East, on Vietnam and on U.S.-Soviet relations—with withdrawal of Israel forces behind 1949 armistice lines, cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam and withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam, and future of relations dependent upon both actions.

On Vietnam, Johnson undoubtedly reminded the Soviet visitor of repeated U.S. assertions that he bombing would cease the instant the U. S. became convinced the other side also was ready to make concessions.

In Direct Contact

It thus also was important that both agreed they would remain in direct contact on world problems.

Kosygin came to the United Nations with his main mission to restore the Soviet Union's damaged image among the Arabs and he steadfastly maintained his stand.

But his freedom of movement was limited, both by disarray within his own camp and among the Arabs.

Despite reports of heavy new shipments of Soviet arms to the United Arab Republic to replace

DPS Still Needs Applicants For Texas Vacancies

The Texas Department of Public Safety still has a need for young men interested in the field of law enforcement as a career, Maj. Luther C. Moore of Lubbock, regional commander of the DPS, said today.

Employment practices have been drastically changed to allow qualified applicants to take the examination immediately, in contrast to previous policy of not holding examinations until time for a patrol training school to begin, Moore stated.

"We realize," he said, "that a person looking for career employment often needs to know immediately if he is acceptable for the job. For this reason we have made the changes necessary in our procedure to tell an applicant within ten days if he has been accepted for employment."

Training schools will be held at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin in July and August and periodically thereafter. This training is designed to equip the cadet to handle any of the various situations he may encounter as a patrolman, and will start him off on the right foot toward a rewarding career in law enforcement. Pay will be $571 per month upon completion of training.

Moore encouraged all interested high school graduates from the ages of 20 through 35 to contact their nearest Department of Public Safety patrolman for details on becoming a commissioned officer with the DPS.

Water, Inc. Appoints Information Director

The board of directors of WATER, Inc. named J. W. Buchanan of Dumas Tuesday as the temporary director of organization and information for WATER, Inc.

The board, with Fred Vandenburg of Pampa and Felix Ryals of White Deer attending, met in Amarillo to discuss its membership dues, district boundaries and hear progress reports on the status of the long-range plan to bring water to West Texas, Eastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle.

Vandenburg is director of district four, which includes Gray, Carson, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Roberts and Donley counties. Ryals is manager of Panhandle Water Conservation District.

New advisory directors added to the original six directors were Judge Ohio Dent of Austin, member of the Texas Water Commission; Dr. Gerald Thomas, dean of agriculture at Texas Technological College, Lubbock; businessmen Palmer Norton of Hereford; L. Dean Rae of Plainview and Frank Pharris of Amarillo.

Buchanan will be on leave of absence from the North Plains Water Conservation District, where he is general manager.

WATER, Inc. directors also voted to send John Kendrick, WATER, Inc. president, to the Southern Water Resources Conference in Biloxi, Miss., July 11 through 14 to represent the district.

Directors adopted boundary lines for new districts not previously included in WATER, Inc. Districts approved include Abilene, Midland-Odessa, San Angelo, El Paso-Pecos, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and sections as far east as Waco.

Membership forms for WATER, Inc. are available in Pampa at the Chamber of Commerce office, the two banks, The Pampa News, and from Vandenburg, or Mayor Jim Nation, director at large.

Ryals also has forms at his water conservation office in White Deer.

The organization has received $1,450 in membership dues and a $10,000 membership pledge from the city of Lubbock.

Individual membership dues recommended earlier by the executive committee include 10 cents per acre of irrigated land, five cents, dryland, and two cents for range land.

Dues recommended for commercial interests were 50 cents per $1,000 of capitalization and surplus, up to $250 for $500,000 capitalization.

Other memberships would be classified as sustaining, for those paying dues between $250, and $1,000; sponsoring, for $1,000 to $5,000, and leadership, above $5,000 annually.

Duncan St. Ready For Final Step

Duncan St. from Harvester south to the Central Park bridge has been stabilized for the final step of pouring a hot mix topping, City Manager Jim White said today. The soil base was completed yesterday.

There was a possibility, the city manager stated, the pouring of the hot mix would start late today. If so, it could be completed by Saturday.

If the start could not be made today it probably would be another week before the street could be finished, White said. The only hot mix plant in the area will be closed for a one-week vacation period starting Monday.

Work of stabilizing other streets in the city's paving program is under way as rapidly as weather will permit, White said. There has been some delay because of the recent rains, he added.

Ford Rejects Pleas For Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford warned today that "serious inflation" is imminent. But he rejected administration pleas for a tax hike to combat it in absence of spending cuts.

"They want to have guns and butter at the same time," Ford told a news conference. "There isn't a scintilla of evidence that they have done anything to cut back expenditures in an effort to head off the horrible spectre of inflation which most economists say is right around the corner."

Earlier, Ford told UPI Johnson will have a hard time persuading Congress to increase taxes before quitting this year. Pickup 3rd pgh: "The administration

Weight of Parcel Post Packages To Increase July 1

Mailers will be able to send 25 pound parcels between first class post offices which are 50 miles or more apart starting July 1, Postmaster Carl English announced today. The present weight limit is 20 pounds, he said.

This is the first of five increases scheduled to take effect annually until 1971, when a 30-pound, 84 inch maximum size will be authorized between all first class post offices. Size limitations are now 72 inches in combined girth and length.

The next increase on July 1, 1968, will raise the weight limit to 30 pounds. On July 1, 1969, the weight limit will be increased to 40 pounds; on July 1, 1970, the size will be increased to 78 inches, and on July 1, 1971, the size is scheduled to be increased to 84 inches.

Postmaster English reminded mailers that parcels weighing up to 40 pounds can be mailed between first class post offices less than 150 miles apart. Packages addressed to and from 2nd, 3rd, and 4th class post offices, Alaska and Hawaii are not affected by the increase in size and weight provisions of Public Law 89-573, which became effective last Jan. 15, he said. Parcel post mailings to and from these offices remain at 20 pounds and 100 inches.

Kiddies, Romans Responsible For That Daily Bath Ritual

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International...
NEW YORK (UPI)—Little boys and girls protesting that great American ritual—the daily bath—have a point. Their trouble: Born about 3,000 years too late. Their mothers color them "dirty" when such youngsters scream and kick enough to avoid the daily dunking. But the tots and toddlers, if only their moms would understand, apparently are thrown-backs to ancestors—circa 1,000 B.C. We have it on no less authority than the Cleanliness Bureau that soap first came into use about that time, quite by accident.

Roman Bath
Yes, there is a Cleanliness Bureau. From nice clean offices in New York City, it wages its campaign against dirt. According to the bureau which is supported by the Soap and Detergent Association, this is how soap started: In the early days of Rome, animals were sacrificed to the gods of Sapo Hill. As the dripping animal fat mixed with the alkaline ashes, the basic ingredients of soap were combined. Rain eventually washed the mixture into the Tiber River. There Roman women discovered that when the river was yellow with altar drippings, their clothes became cleaner with half the effort. Eventually a lot of big thinkers figured out what was happening. From the name of that hill—Sapo—came the contemporary word: Soap.

Changing Habits
Other historical facts about that slippery subject, according to cleanliness sleuths who helped to make a new movie dubbed "The Pursuit of Cleanliness": —At first the idea of bathing body and clean clothes meant an religious rites. Later, the ancient Greeks considered cleanliness a means of enhancing beauty. —Bathing reached its first peak at the height of the Roman Empire in the great public baths of Rome. However, it wasn't until the Second Century A.D. that soap was used for personal cleanliness. —In medieval times, there were those who felt that a clean body and clean clothes meant an unclean soul. —All your children who need help from protesting against the bath tell your mothers that no less than Queen Isabella of Spain, about in the 15th Century, boasted that she had only two baths in her lifetime. The first, when she was born; the second, when she married.

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend is a brilliant college graduate with a Master's degree, and she went past high school, and I earn $5,000 per year. We go out three times a week and she likes to go to all the most expensive places, and she being sort of the leader, that is where we invariably go. I could have just as good a time at a less expensive place, but I don't want to look cheap by making an issue of it, so we always end up going to the expensive places. Naturally, I pay the tab. I am supporting my aged mother and a child by a previous marriage, and these dates are more than I can afford. My girl friend supports no one but herself and apparently doesn't realize my situation. I'm afraid if I tell her she will either have to go to less expensive places or help pay the tab, I will lose her. What is your advice in this case?

POOR MALE
DEAR MALE: Tell her that you enjoy her company, but you can't afford her tastes, and that if she wants to continue to enjoy your company, she will either have to adjust to your standards, or help foot the bill. And if you lose her before you go broke, it'll be a break for you.
DEAR ABBY: Is it true that an OPAL will place a curse on the person who buys it if it's not that person's birthstone?
LOVES OPALS
DEAR LOVES: Only if that person can't meet the payments.
DEAR ABBY: I am a normal 17-year-old girl with very strict parents. The only time I get away from home is to spend the week-end with my girlfriend, and then I run with a pretty wild crowd. I've never been thrown in jail or anything like that, but most of my friends have, and I know a person is judged by the company she keeps. I finally got a date with a decent boy for a change and I acted as nice as I knew how. All he got from me was a good-night kiss. After two dates he stopped calling me. He must have heard about my reputation and it scared him off. Abby, how can I let him know I'm really not that bad, and have a bad reputation only because of my friends? I like him very much and wonder if you can help me get him back?
BAD NAME
DEAR BAD NAME: Unfortunately a reputation can be damaged overnight, but it can't be repaired that fast. You earned it, so now you had better set about living it down and building up a "new one." Only by consistent good behavior, and staying strictly away from "bad" company, can you prove to people that you aren't the kind of girl they thought you were.

Sparkling Formals Brighten Night Beat

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — When candlelight flickers in the fall evening hours, formal wear will sparkle, too. In past seasons either gold was the big glitter color or gold was out and silver was in. But in the New York fashion showing for Fall '67 both have been combined for extra flash and accented with a luxurious border of fur at the hemline. There's more shaping in evening clothes than there has been in many a season. You'll even find the natural waist and full skirt are back. The short gown is still a favorite for all but very formal occasions. The divided gown or evening culotte is shown in all the collections in every fabric from chiffon to crepe. Many are pleated. New on the evening scene is the shirt dress, either belted high in black satin or done in black crepe with rhinestone closings and ending in shirtdetails. The portrait dress is shown, too, in the soft, feminine feeling of the season. There are two versions — the mid-calf and ankle length — in black with lace at the neck, cuffs and a soft bow at the waist. Black is definitely in again for after five. And lace and velvet hold top billing for evening fabrics. But many daytime fabrics are moving into the evening hours. Wool chinchilla is rimmed in rhinestones and bright wool plaid are made gala by such styling as side slits nearly up to the hipbone. Satin makes a strong comeback, especially in black, white and navy. One of the most chic short gowns shown is in white satin with a halter neck and belted natural waist.

More Youth Jobs Are Found Here By Commission

The local Texas Employment has been finding more jobs for youths under 22 years old in recent years, according to figures released by Bill Ragsdale, manager.

The figures apply to the month of June for 1965, 1966, and 1967: June is usually one of the busiest months for filling jobs, Ragsdale said.

Although the total number of June applicants have decreased since 1965, the number of non-farm jobs filled have increased. In June, 1965, there were 342 new applications, 120 of which were female. Of these, the TEC found 68 jobs, 17 of them for females.

In 1966, the number of applications only reached 281, Ragsdale said, 87 of them female. However, 93 found jobs through the office, including 18 females. During this month, 306 applications have been received, including 113 female applicants. The TEC has found jobs for 160 youths, 57 of them females.

The TEC spends a lot of effort in finding jobs for youth, Ragsdale explained, and has been pleased at the number of jobs the office has been able to find for youth.

However, there has been a scarcity of jobs for females under 22. Many of the jobs that are filled by these are temporary only, Ragsdale said, and may last only a few days. But there was a large increase in the number of jobs available to females this month over the past two June.

SAND BUGGY—Jim Johnson, local building contractor, left, and Wilburn Thornton, load up a remodeled 1948 Mercury before heading to Price Ranch, Johnson rebuilt the body of the car with a wooden frame to haul building materials, camping equipment and so on. The "sand buggy," equipped with three gas tanks having a 50-gallon capacity, was designed to be used on hunting and fishing trips, particularly near rivers, Johnson said. Johnson also uses the buggy, which he says is "better than a jeep," in his business.

They will also prepare special newspaper and yearbook to be distributed to more than 2,000 students in all divisions of the camp program.

Dr. Calder M. Pickett, professor of journalism, heads the instructional staff which includes members of the K. U. faculty and various high school journalism teachers.

High School, will be editor of High School, will be editor of the Harvester yearbook during the coming school year. Letitia, who graduated this year, served on the staff of the Little Harvester school paper. They will finish their session July 8.

Helen Keller Marks Birthday

EASTON, Conn. (UPI)—Helen Keller, whose handicaps became her greatness, Tuesday observed her 87th birthday.

Miss Keller, deaf and blind since infancy, conquered her afflictions and won the hearts of millions. But now she faces a more subtle handicap she cannot conquer—the passing years.

"You get a little tired at 87," Miss Keller's companion of 10 years, Mrs. Winifred Corbally, said. "Age is the only obstacle Miss Helen hasn't been able to overcome."

Miss Keller hasn't been able to fight against blindness and deafness made her one of the world's most respected citizens — no longer writes, speaks or tours the world to encourage the handicapped.

Now, she lives a quiet life at her small estate, Arcan Ridge, in the rolling hills of southern Connecticut. She is rarely seen by local residents and she passes her days reading Braille on her terrace.

"At Easton she is able to live the quiet life in the country she so dearly desires," Mrs. Corbally said.

President Of 'Dropout U' Given Axe

FAIRFIELD, Iowa (UPI)—Parsons College was just another struggling, church-connected college when Dr. Millard G. Roberts took over as president.

Under Roberts's dynamic guidance, the school shook off its rags and grew from a sleepy school of less than 300 students to the academic home of 5,000 students and boasted some of the highest paid professors in the country.

The Parsons College Board of Trustees Executive Committee met Monday in Chicago, patted Roberts on the back and fired him.

William H. Miller, a member of the committee, said Roberts was dismissed "for the good of the college."

The action came after Parsons, which raised a storm of controversy by accepting students unacceptable elsewhere, lost its North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools accreditation and the faculty of the school demanded Roberts' ouster.

Roberts, who is to be succeeded temporarily by Dr. William B. Munson, 54, a member of the faculty, believed colleges could be run on a businesslike basis.

That is the way he ran Parsons—charging enough fees to finance a building program that resulted in a campus worth $16 million, streamlining the curriculum, stretching the school year over 12 months, and most controversially, taking students no one else wanted.

This practice resulted in Parsons being called a diploma mill. Some characterized it as "Dropout U" and a "college for dumb little rick kids."

Federal Government Faces Budgetary Deficit Dilemma

By ROGER BABSON STAFF
The mid-point of the calendar year marks the end of one fiscal year and the beginning of a new one for the Federal Government. This year, the Administration, the U.S. Treasury, and the Governors of the Federal Reserve System face a crucial question, —how best to handle what looms as a very weighty budgetary deficit.

A few short months ago it was hoped that the federal budget could be contained to a "manageable deficit". Unfortunately, the soaring cost of the Vietnam war and the "breathing spell" in the private sector of the economy have changed the complexion of things, and it is now the co-sensus that the new fiscal year could see a deficit as large as $30 billion.

Naturally, this is only a projection. Economy measures could cut the deficit, and so could a rise in tax revenues if the private sector; the economy can raise itself from its current lethargic state. But the size of the potential deficit suggests that these are not enough. Therefore the Treasury must obviously resort to deficit financing and a hike in taxes.

The method chosen for handling the deficit can have an impact upon economic prospects, public sentiment, and inflation psychology. A tax hike alone, or a heavy dependence thereon, could prove harmful to the private sector of the economy; so also could reliance upon long-term financing. On the other hand, if the deficit should be largely financed by short term borrowings, the danger of inflation would be magnified.

We can only wait and see. But it appears that some combination of the above-mentioned alternatives in the most logical answer, starting first with short term borrowing and progressing to long-term financing and a tax increase when the private sector of the economy regains its strength. Perhaps the greater burden of any tax hike would be placed upon business profits.

Summers Working Miracles With Rebs

By RON CROSS
You have to consider Lloyd Summers something of a miracle man. He took nine ball players and made them a first place team in the Panhandle Region American Legion baseball race. Summers started the season with nine players, one month ago and that total has now swelled to 13, although two, one a starting pitcher, are on vacation. But Lloyd isn't used to losing and he has more baseball knowledge, probably, than anybody in town. He was signed by the Yankees as an 18-year-old high school catcher and although he never made it to the big leagues, made a name for himself when he played for the Pampa Oilers. "I made more money playing for the Oilers than I did playing for the minor league teams," Summers said. Lloyd started his career with Hollywood, then a class AAA club in the Pacific Coast League, in 1933 and lasted one year before being shipped to Paris, Texas in the Texas league. Lloyd and Herman Franks, now a big league manager, were both released by Hollywood. There is a picture in a book in the Robert E. Lee Junior High and in Pampa's Public Library, showing Lloyd waiting for the ball as Joe DiMaggio slides into home plate. Summers, always a catcher, went to Muskogee, Okla. in 1936 where he spent two years and hit .330 in 1938 and led his club in rbi's with 80 in 1937 when they won the pennant. He played semi-pro ball at Borger in 1939 and moved to Pampa in 1940, where, on the opening day of the season, in 1940, he hit three home runs to beat Borger 4-3. Lloyd who played until 1942 hit .367 for the Oilers in 1940. His coaching career started the first year the Little Leagues opened in Pampa and in 1959-60 he coached the Legion team. His Rebels won the district in 1959 and were runners-up ter, two of the better hitters. But Lloyd has started some non-hitting Harvesters hitting and with the pitching help of Alan Woodard, Dickie Henley, Al Gomez, George alley, and Randy Harris, his Rebels are off to a 102 start and a one-game lead in the region race. Summers, who takes time to Stephens and his own son Steve. Achord, who was a .200 hitter in high school, is blasting along at a .308 clip, is second in hits, second in runs scored and leads in stolen bases. Alvin Joe has been to bat 10 more times than anybody else. Larry Stephens who missed the first two games, leads in runs scored with 16, hits with 16 and batting average with a .419 mark. Stephens trails rbi leaders Gary Molberg and Summers by only one. He has 10. Woodard, who is probably the best high school hurler in Texas, is playing regularly and hitting the same way. "The Oklahoma Flash" has .341 batting average and is with Molberg and Summers for the rbi leadership, each with 11. "Actually we are just now starting to hit, Summers says, adding, "and we run a lot." Run the Rebels do. In their 12 games they have stolen 25 bases, an average of almost four per contest. "The pitching has been near perfect. Woodard has a 5-1 record with three shutouts and two one-hitters. His lone loss is to Hereford, 43 and he went the distance despite a blister on his pitching hand. Alan has pitched 47 innings and given up just four earned runs, fanned 91 and walked only 8. Dickie Henley (2-1) has given up just three earned runs in 21 innings and fanned 15. Sophomore Bailey has pitched one and earned a shutout while Harris and Gomez have both picked up victories in their only starts. Oddly enough there have been no home runs by the Rebels and still they have won six of seven one-run games. "Most of 'em were going for the fences at the start but now they are just meeting the ball and the hits are starting to fall in," Summers says. Sluggers Molberg, Stephens and Larry Jones have failed to connect for the circuit but Molberg has been the clutch hitter, despite a .282 average. Gary, who usually hits around .350, has won two games with last inning hits. He drove in the only run Saturday night in the seventh in a 1-0 win over Dumas. As a team the Rebels are hitting .248. The Rebels have only six games left, only two at home, so, as it usually is, the schedule is against them. The next game is an 8 p.m. affair Saturday in Optimist Club Park when Perryton comes to town.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Taste of Victory Sour

By United Press International
The taste of victory wasn't sweet for Eddie Stanky Tuesday night but the aftermath of defeat was never more bitter for Al Kaline and Frank Robinson. Kaline and Robinson, the top two vote-getters on the American League all-star team, were injured Tuesday night as their teams, the Detroit Tigers and Baltimore Orioles, suffered losses that dropped them farther back in the pennant race. Kaline suffered the more serious injury, breaking a little finger when he slammed his bat into the bat rack in disgust after striking out in the Tigers' 8-1 loss to Cleveland that dropped the second place club 5 1/2 games behind the Chicago White Sox. Kaline will be out three weeks and will miss the July 11 all-star game in Anaheim, Calif. Robinson suffered a mild concussion when he slid hard into Al Weis while breaking up a double play during Baltimore's 5-0 defeat at the hands of league-leading Chicago. Weis Requires Surgery Weis turned out to be the most seriously injured player suffering two torn ligaments in the left knee that will require surgery and will knock him out indefinitely. Stanky said, "the injury to Weis takes the taste out of the victory." But the loss of Kaline for even three weeks is a much more severe blow to the Tigers' pennant hopes—and Baltimore can only hope Robinson will bounce back right away like the Orioles are to be a factor. And Chicago has quite a cushion since the victory boosted its lead to 5 1/2 games over Detroit. Chico Salmon drove in four runs with his first homer and a pair of doubles to lead Cleveland to the easy victory behind the eight-hit pitching of McDowell, who is now 4-6. Earl Wilson, who was taken to the hospital after injuring his hip while covering the plate, went 1 1/3 innings and suffered the loss.

EITHER THE photographer or Jim Bunning of the Phillies is in a rut. Judging by Bunning's record, you'd have to say the photographers seem to be fascinated by Bunning's follow-through. These three pictures, taken within a year, show that familiar Bunning style, which is becoming even more familiar.

Buckpasser To Draw $4,800,000

By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—If money can be equated with ability, then Buckpasser is twice as good as any stallion put on the market in thoroughbred history. Buckpasser, the pride of the Ogdon Phipps stable, was stunning total of $4,800,000, almost twice the previous high price paid for a stallion. Phipps split ownership in the four-year-old son of Tom Fool into 32 shares and retained half of them. Sixteen of the nation's most prominent owners and breeders bought the other half interest in Buckpasser for a total of $2,000,000. The per-share price of $150,000 is twice what it took to buy an interest in Raise A Native, the Harbor View Farm horse who was syndicated in Florida Feb. 21 of this year, the 35 shares sold in Raise A Native went for a total of $2,625,000. Arthur Hancock's Claiborne Farm in Lexington, Ky., the center of Phipps' breeding operation, is where Buckpasser will stand in stud at the end of this season. The champion is presently being groomed for the $100,000 Suburban Handicap, the second leg of New York's handicap triple, to be run at Aqueduct July 4. Buckpasser took the first race in the series, the Metropolitan Handicap, and will probably shoot for the third leg, the Brooklyn Handicap, which will be run at Aqueduct on July 22. Buckpasser finished fourth in his first start as a two-year-old in 1965, but never has failed to reward his backers in any of 27 outings since. Buckpasser reached the million dollar mark in earnings as a three-year-old when he won the Travers at Sagatoga.

Joe Horien pitched a five-victory over Steve Barber and the Orioles. The White Sox scratched out three of their runs on just two singles in the fifth to decide it. Elsewhere in the American League, Boston topped Minnesota 3-2, Washington turned back California 9-4 and Kansas City split a doubleheader with New York, winning the opener 10-2 and losing the nightcap 2-1. Tony Conigliaro hit his ninth homer of the season with one on in the first inning to pace Minnesota. Rookie Gary Waslewski went six innings to gain the victory. Mike Epstein hit consecutive homers started a five-run rally in the Senators blasted California. His sixth inning homer started a five-run rally that featured a three-run homer by Ken McMullen. Danny Cater knocked in four runs with a triple and single and Jim (Catfish) Hunter pitched a three-hitter in pacing Kansas City to the opening game victory over the Yankees.

Pasarell Man to Beat In Wimbledon Tennis Matches

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Charlie Pasarell may start learning today that it is harder to live under the spotlight than it is to turn it on. The well-proportioned youngster from Santuoco, P.R., established himself as the man to beat in the Wimbledon championships when he upset defending champion Manuel Santana of Spain in Monday's opening round. Today, in his first action since he was pitted against Bob Hewitt, a fierce battler and well-tested international campaigner. Hewitt, like Pasarell, an unseeded and unheralded opportunist, is a mainstay of the South African Davis Cup team and he has been predicting a Wimbledon title for months. Pasarell, who is ranked No. 4 in the United States, led an eight-man American contingent into the third round. The other Yanks slated for action were Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., Frank Froehling of New York, Vic Seixas of Villanova, Pa., Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Texas. Richey and Riessen, both members of the U.S. Davis Cup team which lost to Ecuador earlier this month, faced rugged assignments today. Richey, winner of both his singles against Ecuador, went against fourth-seeded Tony Roche of Australia and Riessen was paired against seventh-seeded Jan Leschley of Denmark.

Veteran Australian Roy Emerson, the second seed and current favorite to capture his third Wimbledon crown, was expected to have an easy time against Peter Curtis of Britain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Aaron's Hot Bat is Loud

By United Press International
Hank Aaron, no longer an untouchable, still is empowered to lay down the law to National League pitchers. A super star with the Braves for the past 13 seasons, Aaron recently learned that his rank entitles him to no special privileges when Atlanta Vice President Paul Richards stated, "There are no untouchables on this club." Not wishing to be traded from the only club for which he has ever played, Aaron has been cleaning up the NL syndicate like Elliot Ness. The latest victims of Henry's lethal weapons are the Houston Astros and former teammate Wade Blasingame. Aaron slammed two home runs Tuesday night, including the 11th grand slam of his illustrious career, and drove in six runs as the Braves blitzed the Astros 13-5. The two circuits lifted his seasonal total to 20, tops in the NL, and the grand slam made him the top man in that category among all active major leaguers.

San Francisco blanked league-leading St. Louis 6-0, Los Angeles throttled runner-up Cincinnati 9-0, New York stunned Pittsburgh in a wild afternoon contest 5-2 and Philadelphia snapped Chicago's seven-game winning streak with a 4-2 victory in other NL contests. Aaron's bases-loaded blast in the second inning came off Blasingame, making his first since being traded last week, and followed consecutive walks to Tony Cloninger, Felipe Alou and Mack Jones. Don Sutton hurled the third shutout in the last four games by the Dodger staff when he stopped the slumping Reds on two hits—singles by Floyd Robinson in the first and Tommy Helms in the fifth. Sutton struck out 11 in raising his record to 8-9. Mike McCormick stopped the Cards on seven hits and Hal Lanier doubled home two runs as the Giants handed St. Louis during a three-run fifth inning its third loss in four games.

Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The Post Office Gets a Letter A man who gets his mail by rural delivery has written a letter to Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien and is hoping the Post Office Department knows how to reach O'Brien, since this rural mail patron, as the Post Office department has nicknamed him, is real anxious for O'Brien to get the letter, which goes as follows: Dear Mr. O'Brien: Knowing of your desire to improve the postal service and enhance the image of the U.S. Post Office Department, and confident therefore that you have your finger on major changes in the service, I am assuming you are aware that the post office in my town has changed my rural mailbox number from 306 to 558.

General Lane on McNamara "Never before in history has the United States waged war with so great cost and so little effect. What irony that this should be the crowning achievement of our cost-effectiveness." So begins the chapter entitled "Maximum Cost, Minimum Effect" in the booklet "Vietnam War" in the booklet "Vietnam Observations on American Policies" written by Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Lane, U.S. Army, Retired. Lane zeroes in on the hapless secretary: "Secretary McNamara inaugurated new cost effectiveness methods and standards in the Defense Department to end the legendary waste of military operations and assure the taxpayer value for his dollar. Now after six years of war by computer, we can assess the result. "We have suffered more than 40,000 casualties.

Nice, But Not Like Mother A sociologist at the University of Chicago suggests that men who ride airliners might be happier if stewardesses were symbols of motherhood instead of being... well, as they are. At you may have already guessed, this sociologist is not a man. She is Dr. Alice S. Rossi, a director of a newly formed group called the National Organization for Women. (It has called stewardesses "airborne bunnies.") Airlines, Dr. Rossi avers, assume that men prefer stewardesses who make it possible for them to "indulge their fantasies."

Backstage Washington Problems Too Rough Cited in Confidential FBI Report As Posting Riot Problems Too Tough for Local Police ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The urgent need for a federal riot-control law is clearly indicated by a confidential FBI report on the latest outbreaks of local racial disturbances. Prepared for the White House the well-documented FBI study warns that local police are no longer dealing with amateurs in riots and demonstrations in their cities. It bluntly points out that hardcore agitators and demonstrators, more skilled than some policemen, are beginning to show up over and over again in areas that explode with violence.

Following the Book — Equally disturbing to the federal investigators is the recent establishment of training schools for the agitators by the militant civil rights and Communist groups. The FBI study quotes Raymond M. Mombirose, attorney with the California Department of Justice: "There are at least four training schools for demonstrators in California, and they are effective. By the time one of these agitators hits the streets he is probably better trained than many of our police."

Looking Ahead — The President's Crime Commission planning to wind up its business by June 20, Executive Director James Vorenberg is returning to Harvard to teach, despite those rumors that President Johnson would appoint him to a high position in the Justice Department. The average wage settlement increase for 1967 is running at 5 per cent; 15 per cent above White House "guidelines," according to a study by the President's Council of Economic Advisors. The council also reports a 14-year high in strikes during the first four months of the year. U.S. intelligence sources are warning American shipping companies that the

Many Learn Their Strike Methods From Labor

By OSCAR W. COOLEY Assoc. Prof. of Economics, Ohio Northern Univ. Should teachers strike? What IS a strike? Is it something like a demonstration, a riot, a war? Could the Martin Luther Kings have learned from the Walter Reuthers? According to my Dictionary of Economics, a labor strike is "a cessation of work on the part of order to compel an employer to forcing certain demands..." Note that word, "enforcing." The American College Dictionary uses similar language, defining a strike as "a concerted stopping of work or withdrawal of workers' services in sume is not biased against laborers' demands..." Note the word, "compel."

Poaching On The Fourth Estate

(Chapel Hill (N.C.) Weekly) The Federal Government is lurking on the edge of the weekly newspaper field in Western North Carolina, to what must be the complete consternation of non-government weekly newspaper people all over the State. A Federal weekly has been proposed by a regional branch of the Office of Economic Opportunity. It would be distributed free to 8,000 residents of Watauga, Aver, Mitchell and Yancey Counties.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE You may have failed at something — but you are not a failure. No one can do everything well. To attempt to do that which you cannot do well is to put yourself in a position where you will probably fail. But this has nothing to do with your ability to do other things. The secret of life is to discover yourself. Who are you? What do you want to be? What are you capable of? What can you do? What is it you have that others want? When you can answer these questions, you can approach others in a realistic way. You will be offering what is wanted — giving what you're capable of giving. You will not be setting unrealistic goals that are doomed to failure.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY Children now dominate the American home in the matter of purchasing goods and services. Asurvey reveals that most purchases are made in the terms of the children's needs. Back in the good old days "the gang" meant the neighborhood youngsters you chummed around with. It was something in accord with the pleasant meaning of such songs as "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" and "That Old Gang of Mine." Today the word "gang" has a sinister connotation. How times have changed!

Thoughts while shaving: wonder if anyone ever orders a "Zombie" these days or nights? Just before World War II it was the popular mystery drink in most cocktail lounges and was said to be so potent the management would only serve two to a customer. They sold for $1 each and in our opinion were devastating as a couple of daiquiri. Ever hear of a fish getting seasick? Well, it seems when live fish are transported on ships for long distances they aren't fed for at least 24 hours before being taken aboard to prevent them from getting mal de mer.

Country Editor speaking. "They now sell insurance in vending machines at airports. They would sell more of it if they put vending machines at the entrances of the thruways and turnpikes." Legal Publication NOTICE OF BOARD OF EQUALIZATION MEETING In obedience to an order of the Board of Equalization, regularly convened and sitting, notice is hereby given that said Board of Equalization will be in session at its regular meeting place in the Courthouse in the town of Pampa, Gray County, Texas, at 10:00 a.m., beginning on Tuesday, the 15th day of July, 1967, and from day to day thereafter, for the purpose of determining, fixing and equalizing the value of any and all taxable property situated in Gray County, Texas, until such value has finally been determined for taxable purposes for the 1967, and any and all persons interested or having business with said Board are hereby notified to be present.

NO CASE

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI)—Benjamin Duffield was not breaking the law with his "spin dry" Scotch, an Edinburgh court ruled Tuesday.

Duffield used a spin drier—normally used to dry clothes—to squeeze Scotch out of filter pads thrown away by a whisky firm. The court ruled he was not defrauding the queen of taxes.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Exercising his veto power to cut appropriations, Gov. John Connally slices off $3,214,121 of the one-year general appropriation bill and killed 37 bills passed by the 60th Legislature.

Nine of the vetoed bills called for total annual expenditures of $12,819,760 beginning September 1, 1968.

By way of explanation of his line, item vetoes in the appropriations bill, Connally said, "I endorse the actions taken by the Legislature to provide the funds needed to meet the state's increasing services to its people. However, there are several items of expenditures for which money was appropriated that I do not consider essential or justified."

Connally deleted a $600,000 appropriation which would have allowed the New Texas Research Institute of Mental Science at Houston to lease and operate hospital facilities.

"This item was not requested by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation in its budget request, nor was it included in my budget recommendations or those of the Budget Board," the Governor explained.

A $300,000 appropriation for additional Phase I construction to the Corpus Christi State School also was vetoed. Connally said it was not requested by the MHMR Department or in budget recommendations submitted by the Legislative Budget Board or by Connally. He pointed out that the 1965 Legislature appropriated $2,224,000 for the proposed school.

Connally slashed $800,000 off the appropriation for the University of Texas Medical School at San Antonio. "With construction of the medical school and teaching hospital and the recruitment of faculty and staff still in process, the number of students actually enrolled will be limited during the 1968 fiscal year," the Governor said.

"Even after vetoing this item," he continued, "the medical school's appropriation for the 1968 fiscal year will exceed my recommendation by $685,795 and will represent a 145 per cent increase over the amount appropriated for the current year."

Also vetoed was $325,000 earmarked to the State Department of Agriculture for expanding market outlets for Texas agricultural commodities. Connally explained that "The appropriation for marketing and market outlet research, quality research, statistical reporting and other programs relating to agriculture."

Other bills vetoed included those extending the curfew for alcoholic beverage drinking until 2 a.m. in the metropolitan counties, doubling retirement benefits for legislators and improvements in state employees' retirement benefits, prohibiting employment of youngsters under 21 in stores which sell beer and liquor, permitting broader powers for the State Soil & Water Conservation Board, allowing the State Comptroller to seize property for tax debts and sell it without court action, setting up special county boards to assess tax values on agricultural land near cities, and granting cities police powers on private property such as shopping center parking lots.

COSTLY OVERTIME—Extension of the federal minimum wage act to state hospital and school employees would cost state government in Texas at least $14,000,000 a year, according to Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

Martin says he intends to keep fighting inclusion of state institutions under the act all the way to the Supreme Court.

Three federal judges in issue but not a final order, down conflicting opinions on the minimum wage. But catch fire. Under the new appropriations bill, all State employees will get more than the required federal minimum wage. The federal act also requires time on a half payment for overtime — or an hour and a half compensatory time off for every hour of overtime worked during the same pay period. Texas employees get compensatory time off (no cash) on an hour-for-hour basis.

CAR INSURANCE — Careless Texas drivers will pay more for their car insurance on policies written after July 31. They will be charged more because of their accidents or traffic law violations during the nine months which ended May 31.

Penalties which range from 15 to 90 per cent, depending on the number and importance of the law violation — will add up to $6,439,362 during the year starting August 1.

These penalties, feeding that much more money into the auto insurance "kitty", will prevent rate increases for most drivers.

State Board of insurance held its annual auto insurance rate hearing and got a staff recommendation for a general rate reduction of one percent in insurance rate. It varies from area to area, and from classification of cars and drivers.

There would have been a general rate increase had it not been for the more than $6,000,000 in penalties which will be exchanged against the drivers who violate the law and have accidents.

Board also took under consideration a proposal that high school and college students whose grades average B or better be given a 25 percent insurance rate reduction. State Farm Insurance Co. started such a program in 1962. It found that students who make high grades drive less and have fewer accidents. Hence it is a valid basis for lower rates for those who make the honor roll or the dean's list.

COLLEGE TUITION — Instead of doubling tuition as requested by the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University system, the Legislature made it easier for poorer youngsters to get tuition and fee exemptions.

Exemptions would go only to students from families with gross incomes of $4800 a year or less. No student would be allowed to attend college more than six years under the exemption plan.

To be eligible, students must be graduated in the top 25 per cent of their high school classes. Or score in the top 20 per cent in a nationally standardized college admission examination.

DIPPING NO LONGER REQUIRED — Panhandle cattle no longer must be dipped before shipment to California.

Dr. S. B. Walker, director of Texas Animal Health Commission said the West Coast has removed the requirement since inspection of Panhandle herds during last winter showed no evidence of scabies. Herd owners in nine Texas counties and north and west of them need no permit and health inspection certificates for California shipment: Yoakum, Lyn, Garza, Kent, Terry, Stonewall, King Cottle and Childress.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — State agencies charged with providing services to the handicapped may spend money under contract for specific programs and projects conducted by non-profit groups, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In another opinion, Martin concluded that the value of an indebtedness secured by mortgages against real estate in Canada held by a resident decedent of Texas should be included in his estate when computing inheritance taxes due.

Repossession

"I have come to repossess your sewing machine," the burly visitor announced. "You are behind in your payments."

Undaunted, the housewife sat down firmly on top of the sewing machine. Equally undaunted the man tilted it sideways threw her to the floor, and stalked off with the machine.

The indignant woman lost no time in suing the sewing machine company for damages. And the court ruled in her favor. The judge said that even though the company had a legal right to the machine, it had no right to take possession by the use of force.

In the typical conditional sale, legal title remains in the seller until all the payments are completed. If the customer should default, the seller is entitled to repossess the merchandise.

But the law puts limits on the manner in which repossession may be accomplished. Violent means are not allowed. Even if a clause in the contract specifically authorizes a strong-arm retaking, the law will generally disapprove of it anyhow — as a matter of sound public policy.

Furthermore, the reposessor must not force his way onto the premises. Take this case:

A team of reposseors, going to recover a piano, found one at the debtor's home. They promptly gained access by breaking through a locked door, and decamped with the piano. But, because of this forcible trespass, the company was held liable to the debtor for damages.

On the other hand, the law has no objections to repossession when fairly carried out. Thus: A reposessor seeking a certain automobile found it parked on a public street. So he proceeded to tow it away. Here, too, the debtor later sued for damages.

But the court in this case upheld the repossession. For the retaking had been achieved by peaceful means, involving neither personal violence nor trespass.

In short, the reposessor had

NEW YORK (UPI)—E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc., sees abetter tone in the market over the near term with the end of the Glassboro summit talks even if they produced "no substantive agreements." The analyst notes that despite the heavy flow of international news last week traders seemed unworried since there was no great rush to dispose of securities.

Purcell, Graham and Co. says it still believes this is the "middle" stage of a bull market with near-term reactions developing more often than before. As a result, the analyst adds some securities are sure to develop broad tops and slip into downtrends while the market generally acts well.

Shearson, Hammill & Co. Inc. says the market's "technical underpinnings" are not what they were earlier in the year, with good quality stocks no longer the market leaders. While this condition doesn't necessarily mean "the ball game is over, it does seem to be in the late innings and some fans might do well to leave the game... and beat the crowd," the analyst concludes.
