WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department Wednesday announced another record monthly draft call for this year—19,900 men to be inducted in July, all into the Army.

The announcement of a figure for July made monthly draft totals for this year as follows: 10,900; March, 11,900; April, 11,400; May, 18,000; June, 19,800; and July, 19,900.

The figures still were well below draft levels of a year ago. For example, in July, 1966, 28,500 men were inducted.

The draft reached a peak of 40,200 during October, 1966, and subsequently was whittled down to between 10,000 and 15,000 a month.

OLD BAGS

TOKYO (UPI) — Bags that once contained American relief goods have been converted into eye-catching mini-dresses in a Tokyo department store. Salesmen said they were selling well.

The bags, some of which still bear the words "donated by the people of the United States of America," were once filled with fertilizer, flour or chemicals.

SWEET TOOTH BARNESLEY, England (UPI)
—When one little girl in a hospital ward got a bag of candy and saw that five playmates had none, she did the charitable thing and handed out the sweets.

She shouldn't have. The other girls were waiting to undergo tonsillectomies. The candy upset the operating schedule since patients must not have anything on their stomachs.

The hospital said operations were delayed for 48 hours.

World War II Vets Don't Have Long for Loans

"Hurry!" is the advice of Hugh Peoples, president of the Pampa Board of Realtors, to veterans of World War II who have not used their eligibility to buy a home under the VA program.

Peoples pointed out that July 25, 1967, is the deadline for World War II veterans. They will not be able to take advantage of the no-down-payment, VA-guaranteed type of financing after that date.

The Realtor noted that, in order to use the GI bill provisions for home loan guarantees, veterans must have a certificate of eligibility, which requires some time to obtain. Since the deadline is drawing near for World War II veterans, he urged those contemplating using the GI bill to get their certificates and make a decision on a home as soon as possible.

Peoples said the expiration date for Korean War veterans is 1975, and for veterans who served after 1954, the deadline is 10 years after discharge, plus one year for each three months active duty, but not in excess of 20 years from date of last discharge.

First Test Faces New Abortion Law

DENVER (UPI) — A couple has requested that an abortion be performed on their 12-year-old daughter said to have been raped two months ago after a party.

The request was the first for a legalized abortion since Colorado enacted its new abortion law, the nation's most liberal. Rape is sufficient cause for abortion under the law.

The girl was undergoing hospital examination Thursday.

Denver General Hospital described the girl as "borderline retarded."

Gov. John A. Love signed the bill two weeks ago after it had been maneuvered through strong opposition in both houses of the Colorado legislature.

He said before any action could be taken, the district attorney would have to state that reasonable evidence exists to prove the girl was the victim of a rape. Dist. Atty. Bert Keating said he did not doubt that a rape had occurred.

A three-doctor board at the hospital would have to agree unanimously to the operation before it could be performed.

Cowan said that as soon as the district attorney's report is received, the hospital's abortion evaluation board would meet to determine whether she could receive an abortion.

Astrological Forecast

By CAROL L. RIGTER

FOR SATURDAY, MAY 13

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when your mind and reason are likely to conflict with your feelings and emotions bringing feeling of resentment and a desire to have a battle royal which is the worst thing that you could do, since precisely the only result would be an estrangement with those with whom you wish even closer association.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — There is a possibility that some argument could turn into a battle royal if you do not act with great diplomacy, kindness. Don't forget to buy some gift that is pleasing. Show that you are a most devoted person.

Taurus: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Extreme care must be used if you are to avoid that argument or automobile accident that could occur. Make sure that your purse is well protected. There are some unfavorable influences in the air that could be most destructive. Use caution.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Instead of going out and spending far beyond your purse, get busy and make improvements around your home. Add to its value and comfort. Get advice from an authority as to your setting up a better budget.

MIDWINTER CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — Others are willing to help you get ahead socially but you seem to be in a belligerent mood that should be changed to a grateful one. Make yourself more attractive physically. Then you make progress.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — You have several disturbances that could keep you very nervous if you don't calm down and consider all in a most objective manner. Steer clear of that person who is ever trying to give you bargains that are just the opposite. Be sensible.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — One who is emotional does not comprehend your ideas and could deter your progress. Keep at whatever is of a practical nature. The social could be fraught with annoyance.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wright Investors' Service advises investors to purchase only high quality common stocks which have a proven record of steady profit and growth and whose chances for earnings growth for this year are good. The company feels profits should be taken consistently whenever issues become "fully priced in relation to fundamental values."

The company also warns traders to stay away from the high speculative issues which, even though they are getting "play" in the present market, are outside the range of sound investment valuation.

Recital Place Changed

Due to an unforeseen circumstance the piano recitals of Bill Haley's students will be presented in the Tarpley Recital Hall, 115 N. Cuyler, instead of St. Matthew Episcopal Church as originally planned.

The recital times are 2:30 Sunday afternoon and 7 Sunday evening.

In announcing the change of locale for the recital, Haley said it was necessary in order to have a platform or stage available for the students' performances.

DEAR ABBY: It all started 6 months ago when Greg and I started running around with Dotty and Mac. Mac and I would sit in the front and Dotty and Greg would sit in back. It was all in fun. We'd hold hands and hug and kiss once in a while. I sort of liked it at first, then I noticed Greg was overdoing it with Dotty.

I said I thought the whole idea was silly and suggested we get back with our own mates, but Greg and Dotty didn't want to quit. What do I do now? I am sure Dotty and Greg haven't gone any further than hugging and kissing, but I'm worried about where it might lead. I love my husband and I know he loves me. There are 6 preschool children between the two families. What should I do?

GREG'S WIFE: I don't have to tell you how foolish you were to have started this dangerous game—now the fat is in the fire. Tell Greg that if you are going to continue the friendship with Dotty and Mac, there will be no more switches. Then gradually see less and less of them, and more and more of other couples who are content to stick with the mates they married.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is pushing 60, but he's no angel and I wouldn't put a thing past him. A very attractive divorcee who works in his office catches a ride home with him every evening. He doesn't accept any pay, but he stops at her apartment for a drink (he says). He is never any more than 20 minutes late getting home. Do you think he could be unfaithful to me in 20 minutes?

SUSPICIOUS: I don't know, could he?

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me what is wrong with my daughter? She is 14, pretty, has all the clothes she can wear, lunch money, everyone likes her, but she picks the bums to run with. She has been expelled from school twice, the last time for sniffing glue.

She has a good father, and we both love her with all our hearts, but she is wild and uncontrollable. Abby, we are average middle class people, but would do anything to straighten this girl out. We have five other children, and she is the only one we have ever had any trouble with. I lie awake nights worrying that one day she will get into serious trouble. How can we help her?

DEAR MOM: Girls (and boys, too) who choose to "run with bums," although they have all the advantages, feel a sense of unworthiness, and are comfortable only with companions whom they consider "as good as they." If psychiatric counseling is available through your daughter's school, she should take advantage of it. If not, ask your family doctor to recommend a specialist who deals in such behavior problems.

CONFIDENTIAL TO Judy in "the Valley": When a man tells you he can't ask you to marry him because you're "too good" for him—believe him. Don't try to change his mind. He knows himself better than you do.

All About Women

FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1967

doris a. wilson, women's editor 60th YEAR

To Name Mother Of Year

Woman's View
By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Their achievements are many in civic, religious, educational and family life. They're the 50 state mothers, from whose ranks on Friday will be named the 1967 American mother of the year.

The American Mothers Committee, Inc., a nonprofit, interfaith and interracial organization, planned to name the new national mother after balloting at a closed membership meeting. Her name was to be disclosed at a luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria hotel. Last year's national mother, Mrs. Harry (Bertha) Holt of Crestwell, Ore., was on hand to help honor her successor.

Already, governors and local and state organizations have honored the 50 state mothers.

Since 1935, the committee has selected the American mother, based on her assorted contributions to family and community.

But doing honor to a matriarch is not strictly American, nor is it twentieth century. Mother's Day, observed in the United States Sunday, May 14 this year, also is celebrated in Australia, Japan, England, Scotland, Ireland, Germany, Belgium, Denmark, Mexico, Canada, South America, and Africa, researchers for the National Committee on the Observance report.

This latter committee, also nonprofit, promotes a "dignified observance," and provides material to stores for a fee—the fee, turned over to child welfare project.

The Committee on the Observance found that through history mothers have been honored. The custom dates at least to the ancient Greeks, who worshipped Cybele, the mother of the gods, with special rites in woods and caves.

Rome held similar celebrations as early as 250 B.C., on the Ides of March, as a festival in honor of Cybele.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Know How To Antique Gold Picture Frame?

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I would like to antique a gold picture frame. I believe white paint is used but do not know how to proportion the paint and the turpentine, if that is what is used as a thinner.

MRS. H. E. C.

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Ruby who has a photo stuck in the glass in a picture frame. This sounds like a color print that has not been coated with a protective lacquer. In damp, humid weather the gelatin in the emulsion actually becomes a pressure-sensitive adhesive. Take the photo and glass out of the frame, place both in a tray of cool water and leave for about 30 minutes. The photo should soak loose, but do not force it. After it slides off, gently blot the picture, let it dry naturally and then coat it with any of the following: clear acrylic plastic spray from a can, a good grade of varnish (the clearer the better) or white shellac that is a three-pound cut diluted one-half with denatured alcohol. Any of these coatings will seal the surface and prevent further trouble. Do not use around a flame or while smoking. The same advice holds good for black and white prints that stick.

DEAR READERS—A representative of a nationally known film company told us that the soaking process is certainly well-worth a try even though it does not ALWAYS do the job. There seems to be no other way.

When this does not work, it is necessary to have a new print made. He suggested a type "C" matte lacquer for spraying prints to be framed and that a mat always be used so as to keep the print from being pressed against the glass. Good luck, Ruby.

POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I am only 14 but have a Pointer for you. There are three of us children (ages 9, 7 and 14) and we each have our rooms. Mother works, so she devised a system that would encourage us to keep our rooms very, very clean. Each day, if a room is as clean as she likes, she puts a token in a little box on the dresser. If she does not like its looks or if one of us did not do our work, she takes out a token. On pay day, besides our regular allowance, she gives us a penny for each token in our boxes. This is very helpful for us and if one has not had a token taken away during the period she gives a bonus. This helps our mother, too.

Circle Mother Feted At Party

The Lavonna Duck Circle of Central Baptist Church honored their circle mother, Mrs. Mary Swaine on her 92nd birthday, May 9, with a combined birthday and Mothers' Day party in the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Harmon, 2322 N. Russell.

The honoree received many gifts.

Coffee and cak. was served to Mmes. Emmett Gee, Ola McAfee, Nell Tinnin, W. G. Gooding, J. H. McGuire, C. G. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Grider.

Mrs. Grider took pictures of her grandmother and friends. During the afternoon, Mrs. Swaine received visits from friends and neighbors.

Miss Mary Thomas, Frank Milledge Repeat Vows In Double-Ring Rites

CANADIAN—The wedding of Miss Mary Thomas and Frank Milledge was solemnized in the First Christian Church on Sunday, April 30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thomas of Canadian. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Myers of Yukon, Okla.

A street-length dress of white brocade chiffon over taffeta was worn by the bride. Her veil cascaded from a jeweled crown. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations and satin streamers. Carrying out bridal tradition, she wore a blue garter borrowed from her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. L. Thomas, Jr.

The bride's sister, Miss Sandie Thomas, as maid of honor wore a blue lace dress over taffeta with a blue lace hat and a corsage of white carnations.

Buddy Myers of Yukon served his brother as best man. Vickey Thomas, a niece of the bride, was flower girl. Ushers were H. L. Thomas, Jr., and John Thomas, brothers of the bride, and the candle lighters were Rocky Thomas and Elbert Myers, brothers of the bride and groom.

The double-ring ceremony was read by the pastor, Rev. William Turnage, before an altar decorated with candelabra flanked by tall baskets of white gladiolus.

Mrs. Arden played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Danny Urschel and Mrs. Sue Cecotti as they sang, "Because", "Indian Love Call," and "I Love You Truly."

The bride's parents were hosts at a reception following the ceremony.

The serving table was draped with a white lace cloth over blue carrying out the bride's chosen colors of blue and white. The table appointments were of white milk glass and silver. The centerpiece was a floral arrangement of blue and white flowers flanked by blue tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and wedding bells.

Guests were registered by Sue Myers, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. H. L. Thomas, Jr., served the cake and Miss Marie Hodges presided over the punch bowl.

The bride is a graduate of Canadian high school and has been employed here by F. H. McQuiddy. The bridegroom is a graduate of Waynoka high school and O. S. T. at Okmulgee Okla.

GOURMET-BOOTH — Bright yellows, blues, reds and oranges carrying out a Pennsylvania Dutch motif will attract customers to the Gourmet Food Booth, where attendants dressed in colorfully attractive aprons will offer gourmet foods prepared by some of Pampa's finest cooks. ### A PARABLE FOR MOTHERS

The young Mother set her foot on the path of life.
"Is the way long?" she asked.

And her Guide said: "Yes, And the way is hard. And you will be old before you reach the end of it. But the end will be better than the beginning."

But the young Mother was happy, and she would not believe that anything could be better than these years. So she played with her children, and gathered flowers for them along the way, and bathed them in the clear streams; and the sun shone on them and life was good, and the young Mother cried; "Nothing will ever be lovier than this."

The night came, and storm, and the path was dark, and the children shook with fear and cold, and the Mother drew them close and covered them with her mantle, and the children said, "Oh Mother, we are not afraid, for you are near and no harm can come," and the Mother said, "This is better than the brightness of day, for I have taught my children courage."

And the morning came, and there was a hill ahead, and the children climbed and grew weary, and the Mother was weary, but at all times she said to the children, "A little patience, and we are there." So the children climbed, and when they reached the top, they said, "We could not have done it without you, Mother." And the Mother, when she lay down that night looked up at the stars and said: "This is a better day than last, for my children have learned fortitude in the face of hardness. Yesterday I gave them courage. Today I have given them strength."

And the next day strange clouds which darkened the earth — clouds of war and hate and evil, and the children groped and stumbled, and the Mother said: "Look up, Lift your eyes to the light." And the children looked and saw above the clouds an Everlasting Glory, and it guided them and brought them beyond the darkness. And that night the Mother said, "This is the best day of all for I have shown my children God."

And the days went on, and the weeks and the months and the years, and the Mother grew old, and she was little and bent. But her children were tall and strong, and walked with courage. And when the way was hard, they helped their Mother; and when the way was rough, they lifted her, for she was as light as a feather; and at last they came to a hill, and beyond the hill they could see a shining road and golden gates flung wide.

And the Mother said, "I have reached the end of my journey. And now I know the end is better than the beginning, for my children can walk alone, and their children after them."

And the children said, "You will always walk with us, Mother, even when you have gone through the gates."

And they stood and watched her as she went on alone, and the gates closed after her. And they said: "We cannot see her, but she is with us still. A Mother like ours is more than a memory. She is a Living Presence."

Hey, Maw, Look, I'm Finally in the Top 10

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—Look who's in the top ten!

That's no misprint, that's my son; the ball player, Eddie Kranepool from the Bronx.

You'd hardly recognize Eddie any more. Got married to a nice girl and settled down. Grew up a lot, too. He's 22 but not the kid he used to be. He's a man now.

The once petulant and pampered first baseman for the Mets is the proud owner of a glowing .333 batting average which puts him right up there with all the National League batting leaders.

Cockiness Knocked Out

That in itself is something of an accomplishment. But even more noteworthy is the manner in which Mrs. Ethel Kranepool's boy, Eddie, picked himself up by the back of his spikes and became a real man. Now THAT really is an accomplishment.

"Going 0-for-34 and 0-for-20 a couple times like I did will knock some of the cockiness outta you," says the same young man who once told Duke Snider to mind his own business and not try to tell him how to hit.

"In the beginning, I guess I was a little rock-headed. But I think I've grown up. Just being around older fellows helped. I learned a lot from them."

Everybody on the Mets, including the clubhouse boy, was older than Kranepool when they paid him a $70,000 bonus and he joined them at 17 near the end of the 1962 season.

A Veteran At 22

Now that he's a ripe old 22, he's really the "veteran" of the club. He was talking about it Thursday after the game with the Reds was rained out.

"62," he said, looking around the spacious, green-carpeted clubhouse. "I enjoy playing for the Mets. We haven't improved as fast as we would've liked, but maybe I'm one of the reasons."

"This could be the year I put everything together... How does that song go... Maybe this is the start of something big."

During his first years with the Mets, Kranepool had the reputation of being hard-headed, hard-to-get-through to and just plain stubborn on occasion.

Mother Uses Needle

"Even my mother used to needle me about it," he grinned.

"She'd tell me to wake up and put a little harder to overcome my mistakes."

It was shortly after he reported to the Mets that the Snider episode took place.

"Whenever Duke is now, I'd like to apologize to him," Kranepool said. "I wouldn't do the same thing again. At the time though, the whole thing was blown out of proportion."

"I was in a slump and the old man (Casey Stengel) told me to try to hit the ball to left field," recalled the lanky, left-hitting Bronxite. "I was doing that in batting practice when Snider came out from the clubhouse and saw me doing it."

"Hit that inside pitch to right field, kid," he said, "stop hitting it to left field. I got upset because it was near cut-down time, I was worried about going back down to the minors and I was under a lot of pressure."

Tells Off Duke

"I said the first thing that came to my mind. I told Snider to mind his own business; I told him he wasn't doing so good himself."

"I was rude and I admit it.

I'd never say that to him today. I'm really sorry about it."

Eddie Kranepool has changed, all right, and it's a change for the better.

During the fall and winter, he works hard as a customer's man for the brokerage firm of Brand Grumet and Seigel and during the summer he also works hard for the baseball firm of the New York Metropolitan.

My son, the ball player, is doing a good job all around. He has become a man for all seasons.

Cold Dean Chance Really Warming Up

By United Press International

Cold Dean Chance is running a high temperature that threatens to spread to the entire Minnesota team.

A notoriously slow starter who normally warms up along with the weather, Chance has become the hottest thing in Minnesota since last July despite some of the frostiest May readings on the thermometer in years.

While the mercury dipped into the low 40s Thursday night at Metropolitan Stadium, Chance sizzled on the mound, limiting the Kansas City Athletics to a lone fourth-inning single and striking out eight.

Those figures enabled Chance, the Cy Young Award winner in 1964 who toiled for five years in the warmer climes of Southern for American League rivals, who have beaten the 25-year-old Ohio farm boy only once. Chance simply overpowered the A's, whose only hit by Danny Cater, was a ground ball to the opposite field.

In the only other American League action, Cleveland snapped a four-game losing streak with a 3-1 triumph over Washington, thereby dropping world champion Baltimore into the basement. The Orioles' game with Chicago was rained out as was a National League encounter between Cincinnati and New York. Atlanta whipped Pittsburgh 9-2 in the other NL game.

Good Backing

"I didn't think I had outstanding stuff although both my breaking pitches and my fast ball were doing pretty well," said Chance, who walked six: "They must have hit 15 ground balls off me and the team made some great plays behind me, particularly (short stop Zoilo) Versalles and (third baseman Ron) Clark."

"The club has been giving me a lot of runs and putting the pressure on the other team. That's very agreeable although I suppose I pitch better in a close game."

Clay Trials Set for June 5

HOUSTON (UPI)—Deposed heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, his appeals for temporary relief from the U.S. Army thrown out of court, will stand trial June 5 on federal charges of refusing induction into the armed forces.

In two separate actions Thursday, Clay's criminal trial date was set in Houston and two appeals for temporary injunctions to postpone the setting of a trial were dismissed by the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham set the date for the trial, at which he will preside.

Clay sought the injunctions which would restrain federal officials from reporting him for refusing induction on the grounds his 1A draft classification was unconstitutional.

He contends it is unconstitutional because he is a Black Muslim minister and because of what he contends is discrimination against Negroes by the Kentucky and Texas draft boards.

Dean Chance

California, to take over the American League lead in victories with five and strikeouts with 47. And the hard-throwing right-hander candidly admits he should get better as soon as summer sets in.

Will Get Better

"I was not pitching too fine," he complained after the game. "I just didn't throw it where I wanted. When the weather gets warmer, I expect to have better control and I expect to throw harder also."

That's a frightening thought

Pair Tied for Lead In New Orleans Open

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Big Jack Nicklaus whistled enviously when Frank Beard reappeared into the Lakewood Country Club with a 68 for the first round of the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open golf tournament.

"I had to do it, Jack," Beard said. "Your wife is taking my wife shopping today."

The young Beards are keeping fast company these days. The 33-35-68 turned in by the 26-year-old Beard Thursday gave him a first round tie with veteran Gardner Dickinson.

The four-under-par performance also justified his reputation as the hottest golfer on the professional circuit.

Beard won the New Orleans tournament last year, edging Dickinson by a stroke. It was his only victory of 1966. But this year things are different.

Beard won the Tournament of Champions last month and then last week he won the Houston Tournament. He now ranks fifth among the leading money winners of the year and if he captures the $20,000 first prize here he could jump all the way into second place, right behind Arnold Palmer.

What makes Beard win? So far it's been mostly his putter. Thursday he connected on a 30-footer, two 15-footers and a 10-footer. Last week he beat Palmer in a stretch drive with a big putt.

Pampa Firm Headquarters For Magazine Fish Contest

Sports Afield magazine has announced the appointment of Pampa Tent & Awning Company as an official state fishing awards station.

The Texas state fishing awards program is not a contest to see who can catch the biggest fish. Rather, it is a program to commemorate memorable moments in fishing by citing meritorious catches in two ways: 1) The immediate awarding of a parchment certificate to each angler catching a qualifying fish; 2) The awarding of a special certificate, and a sterling silver Sports Afield sportfish pin to the "Best in State" of each species.

The eligible species of fishes and their qualifying weights have been chosen by the Texas fish and game department. These will be posted in Pampa Tent & Awning Company on a large chart, showing the top catches in each species, qualifying weights and who caught them.

Fishermen can qualify for these awards by entering their catches within 30 days after catching. Fish must be caught on sporting tackle in this state's public waters. There is no charge for entering.

Recipients of the top awards will be listed each year in Sports Afield, and kept in a national register for record purposes in the years ahead."

Clarence Lee Horton of Pampa has turned in a six pound, eight-ounce bass, which is tops so far.

CARE WITH HANDLE

Six generations of care. Care in following Beam's famous 172-year-old formula. All here in the half gallon size. We put a handle on it. And just for good measure: a built-in pouring spout. The taste is distinctive. The pouring is easy. The Bourbon is Jim Beam. World's finest Bourbon since 1795.

(Opinion)
By LYLE WILSON
United Press International

It is a depressing sign of the times that the Democratic assistant leader of the U.S. Senate may suggest that half of his senatorial colleagues are crooked without arousing much if any dissent, public or private.

The assistant Democratic leader is Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, son of the preposterous Louisiana kingfish, the late Sen. Huey Pierce Long. The kingfish used to brag that he could buy Louisiana legislators like sacks of potatoes.

His son spoke some days ago in defense of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., whose censure by the Senate has been recommended by an ethics committee. The committee voted unanimously that Dodd's conduct was contrary to accepted morals and tended to bring the Senate into disrepute.

Long challenged this finding. He told newsmen that half the members of the investigating committee couldn't stand the kind of investigation to which they subjected Dodd. Later he upped this estimate to half the Senate. Long said he would vote against the censure motion, partly on grounds that the committee had sacrificed Dodd to public clamor.

Long is entitled to his opinion. The voters are entitled to know whether his estimate of the integrity of the U.S. Senate is accurate. The senator subsequently apologized for his wide swing at the investigating committee. His language, however, did not appear to absolve the Senate from the implications of his previous remarks.

There are not many newsmen around Washington now who were assigned to the Senate press gallery when the Louisiana kingfish came swashbuckling into Washington nearly 40 years ago. Your correspondent was "here." The Senate of the early 1930's would not have accepted from the kingfish any such adverse criticism as it now supinely takes from the son of the kingfish.

Sen. Huey Pierce Long was tolerated but not much applauded. Least of all did his Democratic colleagues tap him for any leadership or major chairmanship chores.

In the Senate of which the kingfish was a member, there were senators who might have run him right out of town if he had challenged their integrity. One such senator was the late Hiram W. Johnson of California, a quick tempered, bull-necked man with whom the kingfish would not have cared to tangle.

If half the membership of the U.S. Senate is guilty of the practices which have invited the censure of Thomas J. Dodd, the voters are entitled to know who they are and what they did. If Russell Long has any facts bearing on the matter, he is entitled to a forum in which to present them for public scrutiny. If the Senate membership consisted of more big guns and fewer pop guns, Russell Long would be under oath at this moment to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

The depressing aspects of this situation are that the people seem not to care at all that the Senate carries its honor so lightly as to be unaware when it is lost. What price a democracy so little interested in its own well being?

All is not well on Capitol Hill. The U.S. House of Representatives labors under the burden of the incredible Powell. The U.S. Senate labors under the burden of its own insensitivity. The patient people labor under the burden of an administration which does not come clean with the facts, small or large.

Chairman Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, of the Senate Republican Policy Committee labors under the shadow of doubt that he is the man for that job because he distributed without reading a party-shaking policy statement on the war in Southeast Asia.

In the Washington, D.C., of the second half of the 20th century there is not much that is inspirational. Not much? Not anything.
