MOVE TO END STRIKE FAILS IN NEW YORK

MAYOR PLACES BLAME ON BUILDING OPERATORS

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Shortly after Mayor LaGuardia appealed to realty interests to arbitrate the Building Service Employees strike, James J. Bambrick, strike leader, today declared that he would "carry the fight to a finish."

Bambrick said he was prepared to issue strike calls for sections of the city as yet unaffected by the walk-out which began last Sunday.

The statement of the strike leader, who is president of the local unit of the Building Service Employees Union, came after peace negotiations at city hall ended in sharp disagreement.

Real estate owners, through representatives, declined to arbitrate on the closed shop issue, one of three demands the union is making.

To the realty interest, Mayor LaGuardia, who has strenuously sought a settlement of the strike, said:

"I want to appeal to the real estate interests to consider this offer."

"The minute the arbitration offer is accepted the union will call off the strike and go back to work. I can not see how any reasonable persons can reject any such offer."

Mayor LaGuardia, who for three days has sought to arbitrate the strike, said that he felt his efforts were finished and laid the onus of the breakdown in negotiations squarely up to the building operators.

Bambrick local president of the Building Service Employees union, previously had said that if an agreement was not reached by the conference he would give the order to "tear up the town."

"There seems to be no possibility of agreement despite the fact that the union has offered to arbitrate any question and return to work this morning," the mayor said.

"The union's offer to arbitrate every question has been rejected." The mayor's announcement came at the end of an all night conference at which city and federal officials had tried to end the strike which started with dramatic suddenness last Sunday and in evening waves spread over the city.

While the strike continued in full force, District Attorney William C. Dodge sought a question Bambrick and George Sealine, international vice-president, subpoenas were issued for them last night.

Dodge wanted the union leaders to answer questions concerning the violent march on a fashionable avenue that followed Bambrick's remarks and charges made by the newly organized Tenant's Defense league that Bambrick had conspired to "incite to riot."

Pampans Fined For Violating Traffic Rules

It is still a violation to drive an automobile more than 20 miles an hour within the city limits of Pampa; to run stop signs and red lights; to make right hand turns on a red light without stopping; to pass lane and bringing the car to a dead stop. Pampa motorists are learning the facts as they receive tickets for traffic violations.

Since the drive against speeders and other traffic violators began Tuesday, William C. LaSalle, one-legged veteran, today recovered a wooden leg held by his former landlady as security for an unpaid bill of $25. Another hearing March 25 on the landlady's claim was ordered, however, by the magistrate who considered the case at nearby Mount Rainier, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fenberg were to leave today for Dallas.

It was the first hotel in Panhandle, and the first in this section of the Plains. Many an old timer now living in Pampa has stayed in that hotel. It used to be called the Callaghan hotel.

'Remember The Alamo!'

Centennial Date Of Alamo Battle Comes Tomorrow

Martyrdom Described In Newspaper in March, 1836

AUSTIN, March 5.—Had modern news coverage facilities prevailed in those days, one hundred years ago tomorrow Texans would have been reading in their daily newspapers the following or a similar account of one of the world's most famous battles, fought on the soil of their own country. For on March 6, 1836, the siege of the Alamo, shrine of Texas liberty, was ended, and the 180 Texans incarcerated in the old fort died to make Texas free.

But telegraphic facilities were limited one hundred years ago, and no alert newspaper reporter "covered" the fall of the Alamo. Instead, it was weeks, rather than days, before particulars of the battle were known to the people of Texas. It was nearly three weeks after the battle, that the following account appeared in the Telegraph and Register, published at San Felipe de Austin, on Thursday, March 24. One of the few copies of early issues of this old newspaper is now in the University of Texas library.

The newspaper account is entitled "More Particulars Respecting the Fall of the Alamo," and reads:

"That event, so lamentable, and yet so glorious to Texas, is of such deep interest and excites so much our feelings that we shall never cease to celebrate it, and regret that we are not acquainted with the names of all those who fell in that fort that we might publish them, and thus consecrate to future ages the memory of our heroes who perished at the Thermopylae of Texas. Such examples are bright ones, and should be held up as mirrors, that by reflection, we may catch the spirit and learn to fashion our own behavior. To Mr. Jno. W. Smith, who has rendered good service to Texas, and to Judge Ponton are we indebted for the particulars, as communicated to them by Mrs. Dickinson, who was in the Alamo during the siege and assault.

Enemy Repulsed Twice.—At daybreak of the 6 inst, the enemy surrounded the fort with their infantry, with the cavalry forming a circle outside to prevent escape on the part of the garrison; the number consisted of at least 4,000 against 140 General Santa Anna commanded in person, assisted by four generals and a formidable train of artillery. Our men had been previously much fatigued and harassed by night-watching and incessant toils, having experienced Another WPA project—improvement of the road from the end of the south Pampa paving to Phillips camp—has been approved for this county. C. E. Geary has been informed by E. W. Willis, district supervisor of projects.

Work is to start within 15 days with men assigned from relief rolls. Probably a transfer of men from some other project will be made.

The sponsor of the new project is Commissioner John Haggard of this precinct.

Postal Receipts Show Gain Here

Despite bad weather during the most of the month, postal receipts for February showed a gain of $252.77, or 5 per cent over the same period last year. Receipts for February, 1936, were $5,608.86 compared with $5,356.09 for February last year.

Money orders received for payment from the local office during February of this year amounted to $2,937 more than for the same month in 1935. Money orders issued showed only a slight increase. Paid money orders for last month were $12,715 compared with $9,778 for the same month last year.

Turntime, of Long Beach, Calif., was the first witness taken before the federal grand jury yesterday.

Turntime was arrested in Sweetwater, Tex., a warrant for his return here being issued after reports were received that he assertedly said he was willing to "tell what he knew."

Naval intelligence agents have joined with other federal authorities, it was said, in tracing the theft of what were reported to be secret orders for the 1934 fleet maneuvers, giving naval movements 95 days in advance. A search was made, it was said, for a foreigner supposed to have purchased the information; but agents found he had sailed across the Pacific some time ago.

PROGRAM WILL AFFECT THIRTY MILLION ACRES

SOIL BUILDING CROPS TO BE PLANTED ON LAND

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—Removal from production of approximately 30,000,000 acres of soil depleting crops and an increase of that amount in soil building crops was disclosed today by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace as the 1936 goal of the administration's soil conservation program.

A broad outline of the program was submitted by the secretary in a statement read simultaneously before regional conferences of agricultural leaders here and at Memphis, Tenn.

The removal, Wallace said, would reduce the soil depleting acreage from a yearly average of 300,000,000 acres to 270,000,000 acres in 1936. This, he said, would be ample at average yields to provide the nation a supply of food and fiber equal to domestic consumption in the 1920-1929 period.

Farm leaders here said the 270,000,000-acre limit in the production of major crops would be approximately the same amount farmed last year under the AAA crop reduction program. Similarly, the 30,000,000 acres to be devoted to legumes and similar crops approximates the number of acres retired last year.

A classification of crops into two divisions—soil building and soil exhausting—has been worked out and will be submitted to the two meetings, Wallace said.

A two-year system of conservation payments was proposed, the secretary said.

First, a moderate payment would be made for each acre, up to a maximum, planted to soil conserving crops.

The actual amounts which could be paid farmers per acre would vary according to the productivity of the soil, said Wallace. In the South it would vary according to the soil depleting crop from which diversion was made.

Farmers renting for cash would receive the entire payment. In the case of farms occupied by share tenants or share croppers, the payment was for the division of payments between landlords and those actually occupying the land.

Announcements Will Be Made Tonight At Dinner

Announcements of wide public interest will be made this evening at the dinner session of the new Pampa chamber of commerce in the First Baptist church dining room at 7:30 o'clock.

About 200 persons are to attend. Present will be those who accepted invitation by making reservations at the B. C. D. office up to noon today. No admission will be charged at this banquet.

Gilmore Nunn, president of the B. C. D., will preside. A "strictly business" program has been arranged. Organization of the chamber will be completed by a statement from workers in the recent finance drive will be heard. Five members of an advisory board which will interlock with the B. C. D. will be named. Names of several large donors to the drive will be made public for the first time.

It is the purpose of the chamber to give business men and women, as individuals, a voice in movements for building Pampa. Wide approval of the plan has been heard in recent weeks.

18 Fire Alarms Set New Record

The Pampa fire department answered 18 alarms last month for a new record by comparison with the last year. All of the alarms were within the city but one, which was to the Southern club.

Despite the large number of alarms the insured loss was only $185 according to Fire Chief Clyde Gold. Firemen were absent from the station a total of 5 hours and 20 minutes on calls.

The largest loss was at Harvester Drug where damage to building and contents was estimated at $125. Two other losses were for $25 each and the other for $10.

Flags of 7 Countries And 11 States To Be Presented At San Antonio.

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Heroic fighters for Texas independence will be commemorated tomorrow at San Antonio as flags of seven countries and 11 states will be presented on the 100th anniversary of the Fall of the Alamo.

Governor James V. Allred said today that Governor Hill McAlister of Tennessee would attend with his adjutant general, J. H. Ballow, a native Texan, to personally present Tennessee's flag.

Governor George Earle of Pennsylvania dispatched by plane two members of his staff, Lt.-Com. Joseph A. Cunningham and Major Wilson H. Stephens, to present that state's flag.

Other flags presented to the Daughters of the Republic, custodians of the shrine, will be from Alabama, Connecticut, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Missouri, New Hampshire, New York, and Virginia.

All foreign countries represented by the hardy band of more than 180 men who died in the state's war for independence will present flags.

The countries are Denmark, Germany, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, and England.

Mourning regulations incident to the death of King George prevented a British official from participating in the ceremony. A Union Jack flag was sent with an appropriate message, however.

Dr. E. Wendler, German consul for 10 southern states, will represent his country while Anker G. Jensen, president of the Danish American Society of Houston, was designated by the minister of Denmark, Hon. Otto Wadsted, as the Danish representative.

Representatives designated by various states included: New York—Mrs. Oreta Culp Hobbs of Houston; Connecticut—Capt. George O. Riggs of San Antonio; Maryland—Brigadier General James E. Chaney, commander of air corps, Randolph field, and New Hampshire—Eben Gordon Lawrence of El Paso.

Governor Allred said Governor McAlister would be honored with a dinner tonight to which former Tennesseeans living in Austin were invited.

The Texas governor also planned motor tours of Austin for his guest. Tonight he will sleep in the "Sam Houston" bed at the mansion, Gen. Houston, first and third president of the republic, was a governor of Tennessee, the state in which he resided after removal at an earlier age from his native state of Virginia.

Governors McAlister and Allred will motor to San Antonio early tomorrow.

FDR Loses Studs; Late for Banquet

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The reason President Roosevelt was late last night to a cabinet dinner has leaked out at the White House. The president could not find the studs for his waistcoat. The whole upstairs of the White House was searched and finally he had to wear a set of dinner jacket buttons in his full dress vest.

It was said a further search for the lost studs was being made today.

APPLICATIONS FOR PENSIONS TO BE STUDIED

HESSEY TO START HIS INVESTIGATIONS IMMEDIATELY

Old age assistance is the title. Pensions will not be mentioned under the state plan now taking form.

Investigations of applications from this county will begin almost immediately and will be expedited as much as possible, according to John B. Hessey, district investigator. The investigator for this county has not yet been designated.

Applicants for old age assistance are asked to assemble proof of their ages. For this purpose, school, lodge, insurance, marriage, passport, church and employment records are of value in establishing proof that applicants are 65 years of age or older.

Applicants also must list assets and equities. Single applicants must not have property worth more than $5,000 or income of more than $360 annually, and married couples are not allowed property worth more than $7,500 or income of more than $720 a year. Disposal of property to establish eligibility is forbidden.

This district includes the 20 northern counties of the Panhandle. J. S. Fischer of Amarillo is district supervisor. Investigators work out of the Amarillo office.

Applications continue to arrive at the Amarillo branch at the rate of 200 a day.

Alleged Negro Slayer of Aged Couple Arrested

DALLAS, March 5. (AP)—The brutal slaying of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. German, both past 70, at their home near Athens Sept. 25, 1934 was believed solved today with the arrest of Elmer Pruitt, 23-year-old negro officer, had trailed over a half dozen states.

The negro was arrested 30 minutes after he arrived here last night and signed a statement admitting that he beat the aged couple to death.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. German, their heads crushed with what officers said was an axe, were found at their home. Their safe which contained $300 had been torn from the wall and rifled.

Sheriff Jess Sweeten of Henderson county had sought the negro since the day after the slaying. He M. L. Miller and E. C. McGuire of the Dallas district attorney's office and a railroad detective arrested Pruitt at the home of an uncle.

Sweeten said he trailed the negro to Chicago, over Illinois, Virginia and Oklahoma and from Kansas City to Tulsa and Dallas.

The day after the slaying a negro registered at a Dallas hotel and kept $115 with the clerk for safekeeping. He left Dallas in an automobile he purchased but later abandoned it. German's purse, other articles and personal papers belonging to the aged couple were found in the abandoned car.

WORDS O.E.H.

Twinkles
Evidently this is a bachelors' look-before-you-leave year.

But, in many cases, bachelors who pause to look will be lost.

And will the Leap year babies have to live four times 65 to get their pensions?

A Lubbock paper advises towns round about to be cautious about going on premature oil booms. Another waste of ink and paper—every West Texas town expects to be an oil center some day.

There are 201 taxes on the oil industry. We've forgotten what the "one" is about, but it will probably be two by the time this is written.

Musing of the moment: What, no "pet peeves"? The B&PW club received not a single reply in its contest for letters on the Pampa traffic situation. . . There's no doubt that there are plenty of peeves—you hear them frequently. But maybe they haven't been reduced to the status of "pets."

Brevitaries

COME TO THINK OF IT, however, there is little evidence that West Texans like to write letters. Free to talk, they are hesitant about writing. Except to report lost dogs or ask for employment, they largely avoid letter composing. This is true of most new countries. . . But not of the old, where contributing to newspaper "open" columns is a favorite sport of thousands. . . Most papers in the Panhandle accept letters which are not libelous, but receive few. . . Why all papers ignore unsigned letters.

All this talk about the necessity of obtaining driver's licenses is not "idle." Both licenses and license plates must be obtained by April 1. Can 17,000 licenses and 8,500 plates be issued in a few days? Obviously not. Some folks who fail to get their free licenses now (to drive) will be forced to walk several days early next month or stand in line for hours.

WHEN I AM DEAD. . . I notice when a fellow dies, no matter what he's been. Some saintly chap or one perhaps, whose life is stained with sin. His friends forget the bitter words they spoke but yesterday. And now think up a multitude of pretty things to say.

Perchance when I am laid to rest, someone will bring to light. Some noble deed or kindly act, long buried out of sight. But if it's all the same to you, my friends, just give me no instead. The bouquets while I'm living, the knocking when I'm dead. —Anonymous.

Big doings is being planned for the Groom Fat Stock show Friday and Saturday, according to J. K. Knorr, president. Entries are being received from several counties. Much entertainment is planned. Prizes for exhibitors are larger than usual. Pampans are invited to attend.

Not much is known about the Indian flag, or flags, of Texas. But from 1519 to 1821 the Spanish flag flew over this land. Here is some data about that flag:

I Heard . . .

That a certain local minister received a letter from a friend addressed to him at his residence or "in care of the county jail." He wrote back reporting that he hadn't been in the battle since coming to Pampa because the environment here was so uplifting that he had completely changed.

That a local man visited Pampa's eight lumber yards yesterday afternoon and that he failed to contact a single manager. They were either out of the city or in the field. Who says managers don't work?

Carey And Dallas Tech To Play Tomorrow Afternoon

STATE TOURNAMENT WILL BEGIN AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Eight teams, representing an original field of 1,500 entries, will enter tournament play tomorrow for the state basketball championship of the University of Texas Interscholastic League.

Only one of the eight teams, Taft of San Patricio county, participated in last year's tournament while three of the teams were virtually unknown and were in the championship flight for the first time. They were Carey of Childress county, Crews of Rains county and Cushing of Nacogdoches county.

The other four teams, Dallas Tech, Jeff Davis of Houston, El Paso and Austin each have participated in several tournaments.

A new champion was inevitable. Denton, 1935 titleholders, was eliminated in the regional tournament by Waco, 13 to 11. Waco fell in the finals before Dallas Tech, 19 to 10.

Carey, Crews and Cushing scored impressive victories to win the regional titles. Carey defeated Pampa, 32 to 26; Crews defeated Forsan, 43 to 24; and Cushing triumphed over Guber, 30 to 23.

Austin went into the championship round by virtue of its easy victory over Del Rio, 49 to 20. Jeff Davis defeated Comal, 35 to 22. Taft trimmed Leferia, 37 to 33, and El Paso nosed out Fort Stockton, 29 to 27, in other regional championship games.

The tournament will get under way at 2 p. m. with Cushing playing Taft. Carey will play Dallas Tech at 3:15 p. m. Crews will match goals with Jeff Davis at 7 p. m. and Austin will tackle El Paso at 8:15 p. m.

Berg Is Headed For Finals of Florida Meet

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 5. (AP)—Patty Berg is annoyed by what she calls "erratic golf" but the Minneapolis star is still blasting away toward the finals of the Florida East Coast women's tournament.

Patty and Mrs. Maureen Orcutt Crews, last year's champion, are favored as opponents in the finals. Each has a victory at the other's expense in earlier tournaments.

In today's round Miss Berg was matched against Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., who downed Marion Turpie Lake of New York yesterday, while Mrs. Crews met Sylvia Annenberg of Flushing, L. I., winner over Mrs. L. G. Riley of Pittsburgh.

Patty eliminated Mrs. C. R. Harbaugh of Cleveland yesterday, 6 and 4. Mrs. Crews conquered her young opponent, Agnes Garvey of London, Ontario, 8 and 6.

PHILLIPS IS VICTOR OVER GULF OILERS

McCollum Loops 21 Points As 66 Team Beats Berger Basketballers 52 to 44

LePors basketball fans were made dizzy last night when balls swished through hoops from all angles as the Phillips 66 Oilers took a free-scoring 52 to 44 game from the Gulf Oilers of Berger.

Phillips fielded the team that will enter the Estelline tournament tomorrow, after playing the Red and White Grocers at Amarillo tonight. McCollum of White Deer was the only addition to the team, and last night he looped 21 points for high scoring honors. Tip Windom assisted in the scoring but with 13 points. Slim Windom and Bacca made five each and Christian looped one point more. Weston added the extra field goal. Laycock also was used.

Stone Berger forward led his team with 12 points, followed by White with nine and Darden with eight. Other Berger scorers went to West 6, Corley 5, Gibson 2, Shaw 2.

Junior College Cage Tourney to Begin Tomorrow

Saturday morning Wayland and Victoria play the first game and Westmoreland and Jacksonville meet in the second. In the final round Saturday night Jacksonville plays Victoria in the first contest and Westmoreland challenges Wayland.

Gold Medals To Be Given Cagers

ESTELLINE, March 5.—The Estelline Bear Cubs are sponsoring a gold medal basketball tournament, the funds to go for high school football sweaters. The tourney dates are Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The tournament should be one of the best independent tourneys in this part of Texas, with such teams as Phillips 66 of Pampa, Thalia, Kirklund, Goree, Wichita Falls, Hollis and Altus, Okla., entered. Several other strong Texas and Oklahoma teams are expected to compete. There will be 60 medals given to the winning teams. The initial game will be Thursday night.

Sports Roundup

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5. (AP)—There is a small revolt brewing among the hundreds of ball players in Florida. . . Some of them don't like the idea of the umpires getting $300 plus expenses for working the spring games. . . The athletes, you know, don't get a dime from the time they report until April 14. . . Something may be done about it next spring. . . The players are talking about going to Judge Landis. . . Incidentally, the Judge is getting well fast at Bell-air, near here.

Grapefruit league notes: Dizzy Dean's house at Bradenton is up for sale. . . President Warren Giles of the Rochester Internationals is vacationing at Winter Haven. . . Just as the Cards left Bradenton for Havana, Sam Navarro, rookie catcher, came up with an attack of appendicitis. . . Had to be rushed to a hospital. . . What Sam hated most about it was missing the trip. . . The Cards are counting on Coach Mike Gonzales to tell them how to order ham and eggs from the Havana menus.

Odds and ends: Jacksonville wants a big league club to train there next year. . . Lots of folks thought Peety Sarron of Birmingham gave Freddie Miller a licking at Miami the other night. . . Patty Berg has started speaking to knife and fork clubs. . . The Wilmington (N.C.) star says Nathan Underes, former U. of North Carolina pitching ace, has left to join the Cardinals at Bartow, Fla. . . We hope he finds the club.

GARMISCH HAD SUPER 'BREAK' FOR OLYMPICS

WINTER GAME SITE IS NOW BARREN OF SNOW

(Note on his way back from Innsbruck and the international championships, Gayle Talbot, Associated Press sports writer, stopped off at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, scene of the winter Olympics. The following story gives his observations on some conspicuous contrasts in the Bavarian winter resort.)

BY GAYLE TALBOT, Associated Press Sports Writer. GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, March 5. (AP)—Like walking through a deserted circus lot and seeking, amidst an expanse of empty peanut shells, for the main ring where the elephants performed, is a post-visit to sun-baked Garmisch, scene of the recent winter Olympics.

Gone are the crowds that for ten days transformed a sleepy village into a squirrel-cage by day and a madhouse by night. Where on the main street, it was difficult to force one's way through holiday crowds, today you could drop an aerial bomb without more damage than a few broken windows.

The great "chicken house", where 80 pullets once simmered continually on revolving spits to satisfy Olympic appetites, had disappeared, and the mammoth bear hall that accommodated 10,000 athletes at a sitting was coming down. The Olympic press office, where several hundred newspaper men steamed and fretted, and where American reporters tried to learn to use typewriters equipped with Syrian keyboards, was boarded and shored.

Even the snow was gone, renewed proof that never a town got such a break as Garmisch. Not a flake had fallen since midway of the games. The ski-jump was barren, its steep runway looking something like a deserted airplane-tying area, and the elaborate bob-run, where America won its only gold medal, had melted into complete disrepair. The dreaded Bavarian curve, where so many sleds came to grief, just wasn't there. Only the curiers braved the thawing snow on Hahnenkamm, where the speed skaters held forth.

It was possible to walk the length of the town, poking an inquisitive nose into all sorts of corners, without once getting shoved by a husky in uniform, studiously arrogant. It was a grand feeling—that part of it. Among the more material things that had disappeared into the limbo was the special Olympic provender.

VAN RYN SAYS HE WILL PLAY DOUBLES WITH ALLISON AGAIN

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—It may be a case of the wish fathering the thought. But Johnny Van Ryn expects to play doubles in tennis with Wilmer Allison again this year.

"And that goes for the Davis cup, too," said the Philadelphia veteran. The U. S. Lawn Tennis association's cup committee will have the final say insofar as the international team is concerned. There is a feeling in some quarters that Allison should not be taxed again with the duties of playing both singles and doubles.

"The theory that it's too much physically to expect of Wilmer is wrong," said Johnny. "He thrives on competition and after all there is a day of rest between his first singles match and the doubles match."

"Whatever happens Wilmer and I will play together next summer even if we aren't chosen for the Davis cup doubles assignment. I hate no thought of teaming up with anyone else."

Van Ryn is playing in the current National Indoor championship at the Seventh Regiment armory here with Gregory Mangin and there has been some gossip the pair may make a bid for the cup berth.

The men's and women's doubles competition which held forth yesterday, will be at a standstill today to make room for the singles quarter finals in both divisions.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

(By The Associated Press) PENSACOLA, Fla.—Dick Coffman, the American league castoff, may prove a valuable addition to the Giants' pitching staff. When Bill Terry signed him up he admitted it was merely that he was willing to take a chance but this spring Coffman has been working hard, is in fine condition and has shown enough that the Giants' coaches believe he will stick.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Frank Crossetti, one of the Yankees' dollar-a-year men, probably will be offered a regular contract before he has spent much time in camp. In his first drill Crossetti stepped around in lively pace and gave every indication that he had fully recovered from the leg injury that put him out of action last season.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Casey Stengel hasn't had much trouble getting his pitchers into condition but he is expected to have some heavy thinking to do when the infielders report today. Advance information is that Vince Sherlock may give Jimmy Jordan some real competition for the second base job and Ben Czerwik may be a serious rival for Lonnie Frey at short.

AVALON, Calif.—With Walter Stephenson showing exceptional improvement, Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs is almost glowing over his catching staff. Gabby Hartnett, the National league's most valuable player last year, heads the list with Ken O'Dea and Stephenson, who temper almost cost him his job last season, fighting for the other job.

PASADENA, Calif.—If and when Zeke Bonura, the holdout White Sox first baseman, comes to terms, he is likely to have plenty of competition for his job. Mule Haas and Rip Radcliff, outfielders, and Manager Jimmy Dykes have been drilling at the position and all have shown they can handle it if necessary.

SAN ANTONIO—Although the

CAGE RACE IN SOUTHWEST TO CLOSE TONIGHT

LONGHORNS, AGGIES TO PLAY AT A. M. GYMNASIUM

COLLEGE STATION, March 5. (AP)—The Southwest conference basketball chase will end here tonight when the University of Texas, seeking a tie for second place, meets the Texas Aggies.

The Longhorn cagers, in the penultimate race until cuffed about by Arkansas in a pair of games last week, need the victory to end the season in a tie with Rice Institute for second place—three full games behind the Steers.

An Aggie win would give them only four victories in 12 starts. The freshmen teams will battle in the curtain-raiser. The Steer yearlings recently kicked the Aggie fish, 53-19.

In the conference's semi-windup last night at Dallas, Texas Christian surprised all with a 32 to 28 victory over Southern Methodist. Byron Saam, erstwhile radio announcer, refused to sign off and bothered the Mustang forwards all evening from his guard post.

The Froggies opened the season with a win over the Mustangs and ended it the same way. Cowan and Walls, fed by Saam, accounted for 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Line-ups for the Texas-Aggie game: Texas—Joe Roach and Bill Baxter forwards; Capt. Jack Collins center; Don White and Jerry Clift, guards.

Texas Aggies—Ed Lee and Walt Robert, forwards; Clyde Jones, center; Capt. Monte Carmichael and Johnny Morrow, guards.

It was possible during the games, if one had sufficient marks, to satisfy any degree of appetite. There were eggs and ham in large quantities, and butter was tossed about in quarter-pound bags. Visitors were duly impressed and the American bob-sledders, who are fond of their victuals, chortled: "Who said there was a food shortage in Germany?"

Had they returned a week after the games ended their moans would have been heard in Lake Placid. There was one of Garmisch's leading hotels, a choice of one dish—Irish stew. And there was no butter to go with it. Orders of the government.

"But there was nothing like this during the games," complained the disillusioned visitor.

"No," agreed the proprietor, "I guess they didn't want to scare people."

Youth And Inexperience To Feature Beaumont's Club

Stars of Last Year Graduated to Majors

By VIN BURKE, Sports Editor, The Beaumont Enterprise

BEAUMONT, March 5. (AP)—The Beaumont Exporters, who reached the final round in the Texas league race last year only to be defeated by Oklahoma City for the title, will present an almost brand new entry in the forthcoming campaign, with the 1935 standbys having been graduated either to the majors, which is to say Detroit, or the American association.

In a few random spots some of last season's lesser lights will appear but on the whole Rube Stuart's current color bearers will be strangers to Alvin Gardner's circuit. Indeed, the Beaumont club promises now to include more youth and inexperience than perhaps any team ever to represent this city, and during a year too when the Centennial furore would seem to have stepped up the general excellence of Texas league baseball to an almost unprecedented degree.

But going into the race against higher-sounding competition has become a fixed rule locally, and a rule, incidentally, that frequently has worked to Beaumont's advantage.

Manager Dutch Lorbeer will have first baseman George Archie, second baseman Benny McCoy, outfielders Roy Cullenbine and Morris Jones, catcher George Tebbetts and pitchers George Gill, Frank Cook, Guy Fletcher and Herman Ware, all of the 1935 club but most of them preserves, to rely upon.

Gone are Rudy York, Al Vincent, Roy Pfeiffer and Don Ross, last year's infield; and Buddy Bates and Hugh Shelly, of the outfield. Steve Laykin, Red Phillips and Joe Hane, the big three of the pitching staff, also will be missing.

There are lots of possibilities among the replacements. Cecil (Dynamite) Dunn, leading slugger of the Evangeline league, will be moved in from the outfield to compete with Archie at first base. McCoy and Frank Croucher, the latter a graduate of the Springfield Three-Eye club, will battle for second base while Sigmund Gryksa of Davenport and Lindsay (Red) Brown of Springfield loom as leading candidates for shortstop.

Don Ross' shoes at third will be up to Mark Christian of the West Dixie, or Colard Filppin, an Evangeline league star.

Jones and Cullenbine should give the outfield more than ordinary batting power and the other outfield candidates, Emilio Dejonghe (pronounced Deyoung) and Dan Pavlovic are the most promising on paper.

Of the pitching candidates, in addition to Gill, Cook, Ware and Fletcher, a trio from Charleston—Lloyd Dietz, George Coffman and Leo Twardy—may have Texas league possibilities, as well as Dot Pitman, William Subry, John Johnson, in Batton and Joe Roxbury, all from loops of lower classification.

Probably Manager Lorbeer will again do part of the backstopping, with most of the work falling to aggressive little George Tebbetts. Morris Hansen from Alexandria and Fred Necker from Alexandria are other candidates.

Marriage Plans Of Fairbanks in Paris Are Balked

PARIS, March 5. (AP)—Friends of the dashing Douglas Fairbanks Sr. American actor, and Lady Ashley, former English musical comedy actress, said today the couple was determined on a speedy marriage.

Blocked by French law yesterday in his plans for an early ceremony. Persons close to Fairbanks said, the actor intended to try in some other European country if he failed again today in France.

Fairbanks interviewed one French authority after another yesterday, his friends said, but the officials unanimously turned down his request that they waive provisions of the law to hasten a wedding.

The French law demands three weeks residence and posting of bonds one week in advance before the marriage ceremony.

Rather than wait three weeks more the actor was quoted as saying, he and Lady Ashley would "go to the nearest European country where we can be married right away."

In 1899 Mark A. Cooper erected a monument at Cartersville, Ga., in honor of 38 friends who had endorsed notes for him.

CERTAIN ROOKIE OUTFIELDERS SHOWING UP UNUSUALLY WELL

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. (AP)—Rookie outfielders have caught the eyes of ivory fanciers to an unusual extent at this year's major league baseball roundup in the south and far west. Allowing a percentage off for early enthusiasm or first impressions, the fact remains that more newcomers have a chance to scale the ramparts this spring than in many a silvery moon.

Joe Di Maggio, the sensational Yankee recruit from the West Coast, seems destined to start the coming American league campaign as a regular. The young Italian-American will have a big burden of ballyhoo to carry around but he seems to have unusual poise as well as all-around ability.

Di Maggio's coast league batting record of .388, along with a number of other juicy league marks compiled by rookie stars, carry no guarantees but they can be discounted and still look good. Oscar Eckhardt, who hit .399 in the same league as Di Maggio may land a job with Brooklyn while George Puccinelli, top batsman of the International league at .369 last season, is already a fixture in the cleanup spot for the Athletics.

Wilson (Dee) Miles, speedy slugger from Chattanooga is slated for regular duty in the Washington outfield. There's a wide open race for outfield jobs on the Chicago White Sox, with Mike Kreevich, a 345 hitter last year in the American association, showing considerable "early foot" for the benefit of railbirds.

Mickey Cochrane, boss of the world champion Tigers, has decided to convert two rookie infielders into

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

War On Dogs
He is not a noisy individual, but he is getting the dogs. The dog-catcher is at work in the city, impounding canines who wander about without license tags attached. And since hundreds of dogs have not been licensed and vaccinated this year, there is a fertile field for the "catcher." Pampanos who wish to avoid having to go to the pound to get their animals are advised to license them at once. Dogs not called for are killed. More than 100 dogs have been killed lately.

No School Friday
Pampa schools will close Friday while teachers go to Canyon to attend the Northwest Texas Conference for Education. Teachers also will attend the sessions Saturday. Similarly, Gray county schools and institutions all over the Panhandle are closing for the day.

Fisher to Teach
Supt. R. B. Fisher has been appointed instructor in education courses at West Texas Teachers college at Canyon for the summer term, it was announced today. Last summer Mr. Fisher and a group of educators traveled extensively in Europe.

Relief Staff Changed
In the reduction of the relief office staffs in the Panhandle, the Pampa office has only two workers remaining. Mrs. Ruby Fullen is case worker for Gray, Donley, and Roberts counties. Miss Jean Daly is intake secretary. Mrs. W. H. Davis, no longer connected with relief work for the State, retains her office in the city hall as executive secretary on the Red Cross chapter, a part-time position, and is doing some work for the old Welfare board, which has a small bank balance. Relief is extended now only to unemployables, and will likely be discontinued altogether soon.

To Select Jurymen
A jury commission of three appointed by the court will meet Monday to select petit jurymen and members of the grand jury panel for the term of 31st district court opening June 1. That term will last 10 weeks, seven of which will be jury weeks.

Platt to Leave
H. A. Platt, WPA engineer in this area, has received an appointment as PWA resident engineer and will report soon to the Ohio state office. He will continue, however, to call Pampa his home and will build a residence here. He hopes to be re-assigned to the Panhandle. His successor with WPA has not yet been announced.

Car and Truck Meet
A car and a truck met at the intersection of North Somerville street and West Kingsmill avenue early this morning with the car being badly damaged. The truck received only a bent fender. No one was injured.

heard evidence and arguments in the contest of the McLean-Alanreed election to ban sale of "all liquors." The hearing was sought by Judge Newton P. Willis on behalf of a McLean client. He argued that the election was illegal because the precinct boundary was never properly outlined and because the election was held in less than a year from the date of the countywide local option election. Sherman White, defending the election, argued that an injunction might be legal but that an election contest may not concern itself with boundary questions. Judge Ewing made a list of authorities and decisions cited by the attorneys and took the matter under advisement while studying the laws involved. His decision is expected within a few days. No improvement reported. No change was reported this morning in the condition of Charles V. Timmons and Chas. V. Fee, critically injured in an airplane crash here on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hazel Batchelor, the third victim, was slightly improved. She was least seriously injured. Read the classified ads today.

Dental Needs of Children Stressed During Health Week

Facts about children's teeth are given in the following excerpts from a bulletin issued for observance of dental health week.

The first permanent molars erupt at about six years of age. They are called the six-year molars. They come in just back of the baby teeth, before any of the baby teeth are lost. Begin with the center tooth, either above or below, and count toward the back of the mouth; the sixth tooth will be the six-year molar. The early loss of these teeth causes impaired mastication and irregularities of the permanent set of teeth.

It is important that the baby teeth be preserved in order to have a healthy, straight set of permanent teeth. These baby teeth need just as careful consideration and attention as the permanent teeth.

Everyone should have its own tooth brush. The teeth should be brushed before retiring and after each meal. It is proper to brush the upper teeth down and the lower teeth up, inside as well as outside, always away from the gums. The grinding surfaces may be scrubbed vigorously.

Those sending gifts were Mmes. O. E. Hutchins, Roy West, Frank Hard, Jack Johnson, O. K. Gayton, Emory Crockett, Jewell Howell, C. I. Stoney, Alene Brown, Maudra Miller.

NATION CONCENTRATES IN BUILDING UP ARMAMENTS

(Editor's Note: The progress of Nazi Germany's rearmament, the reich's present situation at home and abroad, and prospects for the future are described and analyzed authoritatively in a series of three dispatches by members of the Associated Press Berlin bureau.

The first, by Melvin K. Whiteleather, reports today the status of German rearmament in armaments to fortify its world bargaining power. The second, by Wade Werner, will answer tomorrow the question: Is Germany winning the Ruhr-Rhineland war? The third, by Chief of Bureau Louis P. Lochner, will tell Saturday of the rough path ahead of the reich.)

BY MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER, BERLIN, March 5 (AP)—Week by week Germany's energy is increasingly concentrated on preparing the nation's forces to fight for the Fatherland.

With each new gun, airplane, and warship, Nazi leaders believe they increase their world bargaining power, so that colonies, revision of certain frontiers and other demands cannot long be denied them.

Successful laying of the ground work for rebuilding the military machine is considered by experts to have been accomplished in the year that has passed since the Nazi dictator, Adolf Hitler, unshackled the reich from the Versailles treaty clauses which destroyed the old army. He suddenly declared on March 16, 1935, that he would no longer respect those clauses.

Alongside the speedy manufacture of guns and airplanes and the building of warships, the Nazi government through decrees is putting economics and finance at the service of rearmament. Simultaneously, the nation's man, woman, and child power is being instructed in what to do in case of war. All phases of life, officials said, are being bound together to uphold the army.

Land armaments are further along than either the air or naval, but military men predict that coming months will see a spurt in aviation which they say will "probably startle a good many nations."

Combat squadrons, they believe, will begin to show themselves at various parts of Germany in rapid succession for plants have been equipped and plans laid through the last year which now ought to begin bearing fruit.

Air armaments, experts said, lagged behind the building of guns and rifles because Germany was completely disarmed in the air and Gen. Hermann Goering the "father" of the new air force, had to begin almost from scratch. Now that period is over and the machine is beginning to work so smoothly that the general is turning over the direction to subordinates.

How many squadrons Goering intends to build is unknown as is the greater part of the whole rearmament program. Open lips are "verboten" and that means indiscretions may be treated as treason.

On land, 24 of the 36 contemplated divisions have been completed as far as the public knows. The great arms factories are turning out necessary equipment for conscripts who have been called to the colors under Hitler's decree of a year ago, to serve one year.

Officers Trained Slowly

Developing as a "backstop" to the army is an "ersatz reserve" about which little is known. It is composed of men too old to be conscripted into military service—men between 23 and 40. They are being given eight weeks of training in camps.

On the sea, more than half of the 23 U-boats provided for in the 1935 program are completed while work on two 26,000-ton ships, two cruisers of 10,000 tons and 16 destroyers is being pushed.

Military men say this new war machine is being speedily but not "hastily" built and that quality engineering is being used. Officers are being trained methodically in old style German manner instead of hurriedly being put through schools and placed in commands. Old officers, who will disappear when the new crop is ready, have been drafted and given temporary commissions to train the first classes of recruits.

The absence of haste in the training of officers, foreign military experts assert, is one indication that the army heads do not expect to be called upon to fight for some time to come.

Moses Store to Open on Friday

The M. E. Moses company will open a new store here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. This makes the fourteenth five, ten, twenty-five cents and one-dollar store owned and operated by Mr. Moses.

New fixtures have been installed throughout the store which is located on Cuyler street in the building formerly occupied by the C & C Grocery store. A complete stock will be ready for the opening tomorrow, according to Mr. Stubblefield, local manager.

The store room has been redecorated throughout.

A new department has been added to the Pampa store which will feature "doughnuts untouched by human hands." The doughnut machine is installed in one of the show windows and makes doughnuts of the size and variety one wishes, according to Mr. Moses.

Fourteen people will be employed by the store regularly, although extra salespeople will be on duty for the opening tomorrow.

Column

seen, in a smaller center field of white. The lion is red.

The reverse side pictures the Holy Virgin Mary with hands folded. (For Exposition purposes, the flag will not carry out this part of the description.)

To substantiate this selection, the following is an excerpt from Luis M. de Yrajo, Charge d'Affaires, Washington, dated November 18, 1935:

"The oldest flag pertaining to the New World and probably the oldest banner in existence, is the standard which Cortez carried in his conquest of Mexico, and which he afterward presented to his Tascalian allies in recognition of their loyalty. The Tascalans have again and again refused fabulous sums offered for it on behalf of Spain. It is a red damaska. On the front side is printed a most beautiful figure of the Most Holy Mary, her hands joined as if in praying to her Most Holy Son to protect and strengthen the Spaniards in conquering the idolatrous empire to the Catholic faith. On the reverse side are painted the royal arms of Castille and Leon."

In 1519, Cortez arrived on the shores of Mexico, destroyed his boats, made his way inland to the rich Aztec capital, now known as Mexico City, and spent two years in conquering the inhabitants.

All land from Mexico around the Gulf became vassal to New Spain, through the conquest of Cortez. In 1519, Alonso Alvarez de Pineda, Spaniard, mapped the Gulf of Mexico shores. Claimed all land for Spain. From Mexico City went out the northward expeditions of Fray Marcos, Coronado and others to Western Texas, and finally Father Massanet went out from there to build missions in East Texas.

Despite encroachments of the French, Spain was in power in Texas until the revolt of Mexico in 1821.

CENTENNIAL

for some days past, a heavy bombardment and several real and feigned attacks. But, American valor and American love of liberty displayed themselves to the last; they were never more conspicuous: twice did the enemy apply his shells to their scaling ladders, and twice did they receive a check; for our men were determined to verify the words of the immortal Travis, "to make the victory worse to the enemy than a defeat." A pause ensued after the second attack, which was renewed on the third time, owing to the exertions of Santa Anna and his officers; they then poured in over the walls, "like sheep;" the struggle however, did not even there cease—unable from the crowd and for want of time to load their guns and rifles, our men made use of the butt-ends of the latter and continued to fight and to resist, until life ebbed out through their numberless wounds and the enemy had conquered the fort, but not its brave, its matchless defenders; they perished, but they yielded not; only one (Warner) remained to ask for quarter, which was denied by the unrelenting enemy—total extermination succeeded, and the darkness of death occupied the memorable Alamo, but recently so teeming with gallant spirits and filled with deeds of never-fading remembrance. We envy not the feelings of the victors, for they must have been bitter and galling; not proud ones. Who would not be rather one of the Alamo heroes, than of the living on its merciless victims! Spirits of the mighty, though fallen! honors and rest are with ye; the spark of immortality which animated your forms, shall brighten into a flame; and Texas, the whole world, shall hail ye like demi-gods of old, as founders of new actions, and as patrons for imitation!

"From the commencement to its close, the storming lasted less than an hour. Major Evans, master of ordinance, was killed when in the act of setting fire to the powder magazine, agreeable to the previous orders from Travis. The end of David Crockett of Tennessee, the great hunter of the west, was as glorious as his career through life had been as his career. He and his companions were found surrounded by piles of assailants, whom they had implored on the altar of Texas liberties. The countenance of Crockett, was unchanged; he had in death that freshness of hue, which his exercise of pursuing the beasts of the forest and the prairie had imparted to him. Texas places him, exultingly, amongst the martyrs in her cause. Col. Travis stood on the walls cheering his men, exclaiming, 'Hurra, my boys!' till he received a second shot, and fell; it is stated that a Mexican general, (Mora) then rushed upon him, and lifted his sword to destroy his victim, who, collecting all his last expiring energies, directed a thrust at the former, which changed their relative positions; for the victim be-

HOWE SAYS MOTHER-IN-LAW DAY CUT DIVORCE RATE IN AMARILLO

(Today, by proclamation of Gov. James V. Allred, is "Mother-in-law day" in Texas. The first celebration honoring mothers-in-law was held in Amarillo two years ago after Gene Howe, newspaper editor, offended his mother-in-law, Mrs. W. F. Donald, by referring to her in his column as "the standing army." The event was repeated on a larger scale a year ago, and Governor Allred, a guest, was so impressed he decided to make the observance state-wide. Howe wrote the following story for the Associated Press.)

BY GENE HOWE

Originator of Mother-in-law Day

AMARILLO, March 5 (AP)—Out here on the plains of Texas we may still have dust instead of moisture in our clouds but our men have expanded their protecting sense of chivalry to include their mothers-in-law as well as their wives and children.

In Texas the family circle has been made complete and the result is that the divorce rate has slumped sharply in this city.

The man who was worst beaten up in a fist fight in Amarillo last year was a man who had made a coarse uncouth remark about his own mother-in-law. A neighbor took it up and sent him to the hospital.

It's as dangerous in Amarillo to make a remark about a mother-in-law as about a mother.

Amarillo will not have a celebration this year but mother-in-law day will be observed quietly and earnestly in nearly every home in this city. Scores of luncheons and dinners will be held throughout the city but there will be no parade or public gathering.

Will Rogers had planned to be here this year for a two-day instead of a one-day jollification, but upon his passing the mothers-in-law did not have the heart to carry on.

Besides, there is a feeling among the mothers-in-law that their purpose has been accomplished. No mother-in-law jokes are repeated and few are retold in this community, and there is less domestic discord in this city than in any place in the country.

The move to honor instead of ridicule the backbone of our American family life has brought about a most cruel custom that has survived the horrors of the medieval ages has been our willingness to over-eulogize our mothers and to belittle our mothers-in-law. An angel of a woman does not become a shrew and a busy-body, or a devil in skirts and a home wrecker simply because she has a daughter or son who marries.

Our mothers-in-law on an average are far more useful than the fathers-in-law. The greatest asset a young couple can have is a mother-in-law. The only thing better would be two mothers-in-law. Statistics will show that where there is one or more mothers-in-law on the job a young married couple has a far better chance of sticking it out.

For every mother-in-law who has broken up a home there are a hundred who have held homes together.

The reason for the drop in the divorce rate in Amarillo is that women, because respectable for mothers-in-law to be seen in the front room and to have some say in family affairs, their influence for good results in happier homes and better behaved children.

It is a positive fact that the divorce rate in Amarillo has dropped 20 per cent since the movement was inaugurated.

What the whole world needs are more mothers-in-law instead of less.

OTHER IDEAS FOR RAISING FUNDS ASKED

TREASURY EXPERTS TO SUBMIT PLANS TO LEGISLATORS

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON. WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Legislators studying President Roosevelt's plan to lay a drastic new tax on undistributed profits of corporations today called on treasury experts to submit other ideas for raising the needed revenue.

The call was issued by the house ways and means subcommittee on taxes. Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D., Wash.) said the treasury had several alternate proposals, but he did not disclose their nature. He said the committee was receiving them in order to "see the whole picture" and not because of dissatisfaction with the president's recommendation.

It was apparent today that members of the committee, like most members of congress, had not yet made up their minds about the sweeping change proposed by the chief executive in corporation taxes. Although a few were voicing praise or denunciation, the rank and file were reserving judgment.

A close advisor of the chief executive forecast that Mr. Roosevelt would not readily abandon his proposal, designed to induce corporations to distribute their profits. (By applying heavy taxes, averaging perhaps 33 1/3 per cent, on undistributed profits, and by collecting income taxes and surtaxes on such profits as are distributed in the form of dividends.)

Mr. Roosevelt hopes to raise $1,600,000,000 annually. The net gain to the treasury is estimated at $620,000,000, however, because certain existing corporate taxes would be repealed. The money would be used for soldiers' bonus and farm subsidy costs.

The house sub-committee had made little progress today. Hill said it would probably be at least a week before it was ready to report to the full committee.

Marshall May Named Coach of Buffs' Line

AMARILLO, March 5. (AP)—Marshall May, former Centenary grid star and later high school line coach at Amarillo and Vernon, has been appointed line mentor of West Texas State Teachers college. President J. A. Hill announced yesterday.

Acquisition of May to the Canyon staff gives the Buffaloes three football coaches. Al Baggett, athletic director, is head of the staff and Bob Cox, former Duke university's ace fullback, is retained as backfield coach and coach of all freshmen sports.

The athletic field is being completely remodeled. An eight-foot rock wall fence around the field is nearly complete. Buffalo courts, a massive rock structure to house athletes will be completed by mid-summer.

THIS WRITER COLLECTS HIS SERIAL THRILLS FIRST HAND

When Deck Morgan, young American novelist, writes of coral reefs or snowy Alpine peaks, student life in Paris or big game hunting, readers may be sure the story is authentic. Morgan is the author of the serial, "Cruise to Nowhere."

He has lived through more adventures than most characters in fiction. Within 10 years Deck Morgan has been explorer, cameraman, Alpinist, syndicate writer, polo pony trainer, and roving reporter.

Like the hero of "Cruise to Nowhere," Morgan is an expert at winter sports. He is a licensed bobbed pilot and has raced the bobber in the country and abroad. He is one of the six Americans to do the "skeleton"—a hazardous sledding feat on a slide of glare ice.

Studied in Paris. Morgan prepared for foreign service at universities in New Orleans, Washington, Rome, and at the School of Chinese Studies in Paris. Then, in a dim Central American port—where his duties consisted of rescuing drunken sailors and counting bananas—he began writing fiction. Breakbone fever brought him north to get away from the mosquitoes and soon he was definitely launched on a writing career.

As a journalist he has covered the Olympic winter games at St. Moritz and Lake Placid. Among his biggest thrills, he says, were the times he was asked to pilot Admiral Byrd down the Olympic run at Lake Placid and, a few days later, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

One of his earliest recollections as a child was watching Theodore Roosevelt borrow his dogs for a hunting expedition in the swamps of Mississippi. The story of this black bear hunt was his first magazine article, published in a hunting magazine when he was only 16.

Likes Flying, Racing. At present he raises bird dogs in Mississippi where he was born, indulges his hobbies of photography and Chinese art, is active at hunting, flying, and speed racing.

DECK MORGAN.

In "Cruise to Nowhere" he writes of a young girl who has always been ambitious to see far-away places. Employed on a travel magazine that suspends publication, she is given, in place of the salary due her, a ticket for a three weeks' cruise to the Caribbean. On the boat also is a young ski jumper, injured in a fall and obliged to rest for some time.

These two, deeply attracted to each other, are soon in the midst of exciting adventures. The theft of a famous diamond, a blackmail plot involving a beautiful actress, the difficulties of a pair of estranged sweethearts, and a death, believed to be murder, make the cruise an eventful one for the passengers—and for readers.

FOR VICTOR IN FIRST GEORGIA VOTE SKIRMISH

TALMADGE LOSES FIVE TO ONE IN FIRST ELECTION

BY LEONARD B. SHUBERT, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A primary skirmish in which Roosevelt forces drew first blood from their Talmadge foes today shared interest with a sharpening politico-economic debate.

Administration leaders were delighted over the results of the nation's first presidential primary test, held in Seminole county, Ga. Incomplete returns showed voters calling, by a margin of more than 5 to 1, for the renomination of President Roosevelt over Talmadge.

Marion Allen, Roosevelt manager in Georgia, expressed "appreciation to the loyal democrats."

Talmadge declared "I doubt if the Talmadge folks had much chance to get out and vote."

As for the economic argument, critics of the new deal were pointing out increasing frequency to continuing large scale unemployment. Colonel Henry Breckinridge, an anti-administration democrat, said in a Baltimore speech yesterday that new deal "economic folly" probably is responsible "for a third and perhaps a half of existing unemployment."

On the other hand, administration leaders were stressing difference in business conditions now and in 1933. Senator Robinson (D., Ark.), debating with Senator Dickinson (R., Ia.) on the senate floor yesterday, asked if the Iowa senator preferred the "prosperity" of March 4, 1933, to present conditions.

Dickinson had declared "the entire nation is indignant and disillusioned." And that 15 billion dollars had been "squandered in three years of waste and reckless extravagance."

Robinson said that if the country preferred conditions in the days of the Hoover administration to those of today, it meant "the re-election of Hoover," and not some other republican.

Dickinson has announced aspirations for the presidency although he has not entered primaries. Other political developments included a statement by Harrison E. Spangler, republican committeeman from Iowa, saying "Jeffersonian democrats are swinging away from the Roosevelt regime." Spangler, who conferred with organizers here yesterday, said he had made a detailed survey.

The movement for Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, for the republican nomination, reached another climax in his home state when Dressmaking, plain and fancy, all work guaranteed. Singer Sewing Machine Co. Phone 689.

farm program before midwestern agricultural leaders. As three day meetings convened simultaneously here and in Memphis, Tenn., to hear the first detailed exposition of the project, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's representatives sought the speed necessary to put it into operation before the planting season.

Pending official disclosure, authoritative sources said the plan to be put forward under the new $500,000,000 soil conservation act adopted when the AAA was invalidated would take this form:

Approximately the same acreage of the major crops will be retired as the AAA specifications for 1936 called for, the retired land to be sown to such soil-building crops as alfalfa, sweet, red or mammoth clover, alsike, lespedeza, blue grass, and soy beans for hay, but not for seed. 660 WOMEN IN PANHANDLE EARN MONTHLY PAY IN SEWING ROOMS

AMARILLO, March 5.—As sewing machines whir in fifteen district sewing rooms, 660 women of the Texas Panhandle are earning combined monthly pay checks of $20,300. Mrs. Leah E. Kay, district supervisor of WPA women's projects, reported today.

"Vast improvement in the type of work being produced by these women is proving a source of satisfaction to the workers connected with the projects," Mrs. Kay said. "Many of the women now doing splendid work had never operated a sewing machine before being assigned to these tasks."

All employes work under the supervision of trained women who seek to equip each worker with skill, enabling her to attend to all family sewing needs and possibly to enhance her earning power as a private seamstress.

The purpose of the sewing room is three-fold, it was explained. In addition to permitting the women of all of them nominal family heads and many of whom are sole breadwinners for sizeable families, to earn their livelihood, and training them in sewing work, the project provides garments for distribution to needy persons in this area.

Sturdy school clothing for children, garments for men, and warm, comfortable clothing for women are produced by the busy hands of workers in the sewing rooms. During the last three weeks, school children of relief families in this district, have been provided with more than 5,000 garments from the sewing rooms, WPA officials estimated. Distrib-

tion to underprivileged persons incapacitated for work and to children of WPA employes is accomplished through Texas Relief commission facilities. Commodities used and garments processed in these sewing rooms has resulted in furnishing Texas Relief commission clothing at a cost price to the government comparable to established shelf prices of the goods produced and thus provided employment for the large number of women at a minimum cost to the Government, officials declared.

Sewing room locations, with the average number of women employed in each follow: Panhandle, Carson county, 17; Wellington, Collingsworth county, 41; Hereford, Deaf Smith county, 26; Pampa, Gray county, 31; McLean, Gray county, 10; Canadian, Hemphill county, 14; Higgins, Lipscomb county, 12; Perryton, Ochiltree county, 12; Canyon, Randall county, 10; Dalhart, Dallam county, 26; Shamrock, Wheeler county, 19; Wheeler, Wheeler county, 12; Spearman, Hansford county, 20; Borger, Hutchinson county, 26; Amarillo, Potter county, 389.

Projects other than sewing rooms occupy 142 other women on Amarillo district WPA payrolls. Mrs. Kay stated, Canning plants at Clarendon and Perryton employ 26 women, 29 are engaged in library work, 21 are teaching in emergency education centers and the remainder work on various survey and clerical projects.

EDITORIAL

HOW WE LIKE TO FALL FOR A GOOD SCARE!

Once upon a time, in the dark days of the Revolutionary War, a skinny little American army was advancing on a strong British outpost. The Americans were outnumbered and had no chance at all, unless they could put over a good scare.

So they sent an honest countryman on ahead. He reached the British camp at the double, rolling his eyes and panting heavily, and announced that limitless numbers of well-fed American soldiers were advancing to overwhelm the British.

The hirelings of King George took him at his word and decamped hastily, and the Americans walked in and took possession of a fort they never could have won if they had had to fight for it.

Just what happened to the honest countryman is not known, but his descendants seem to have clared nice jobs as radio announcers and news correspondents. They are the people who have to make a dramatic story out of everything.

If somebody's wood lot burns, they make a terrible forest fire out of it; if a rain strikes Hicksville, they turn it into a devastating cloudburst. They run a temperature at the drop of a hat.

All this is called to mind by some recent happenings in Evansville, Ind.

Evansville sits on the bank of the Ohio river, and a short time ago that river had a good deal of ice in it. And the first thing anybody knew, the nation was being told that this ice jam was wrapping up a fine flood for immediate delivery to Evansville.

A radio commentator spoke of a 40-foot wall of water that was about to break on the city. Another radioer got dramatic and breathless about an impending disaster. An excitable news correspondent raised the height of the wall of water to 48 feet.

Red Cross disaster experts rushed to the scene prepared to set up concentration camps for no fewer than 10,000 refugees.

Everyone, in fact, got all worked up except the people of Evansville. They have lived beside their river for a long time, and they know just about what it can and cannot do to them.

They strolled down to watch the ice gorge go out, which it did quite peaceably; some of them went out into the surrounding lowlands on a vain hunt for flood victims, of which there were none; and then everybody went home, feeling as if someone had let them down rather badly.

In other words, it was all a false alarm, stirred up by excitable folk who never learned the first lesson of a reporter—to keep cool and find out exactly what is happening before leaping for the telephone. And in some way we seem to be letting ourselves in for a good deal of this sort of thing these days.

We have to make things exciting. We insist on having breathless drama served up to us, morning, noon, and night. The stratagem that licked the British seems to have us licked, too.—B. C.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Congress and the administration have repudiated the theory that scarcity of food is essential or desirable in a program to provide fair incomes for farmers.

That's the important meaning of the so-called "consumer protection" amendment to the new farm relief-soil conservation legislation.

Best available studies have shown that even in prosperous 1929 about 75 per cent of city families couldn't afford a diet adequate for health and that national consumption of food was about 40 per cent below the amount which would be required for a universal "moderate" diet.

The "consumer amendment" will not improve that state of affairs. But it guarantees that the farm administration, in the reduction of crop surpluses incident to its new soil program, will not reduce food supplies below the normal level of consumption. The original legislation carried no standards for such guarantee.

Two urban members of Congress, Senator Robert Wagner of New York and Representative John W. McCormack of Boston, led the fight for the amendment. Wagner introduced one into the Senate which was defeated by a 2 to 1 vote and it was evident that many senators didn't know what it was all about.

The McCormack amendment subsequently received endorsement of the administration and of Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agriculture Committee. It passed House and Senate conferees on the bill subsequently agreed to retain it.

The principle established by the amendment is no new one, but until now it has appeared that the leaders of farm organizations — including some who might be perfectly willing to create artificial and unprecedented scarcities to boost prices high—would be able to block attempts to enact it into legislation.

Dr. Calvin B. Hoover, as consumers' counsel for AAA, first espoused the principle and the fight for it was continued by his successor, Donald E. Montgomery.

Secretary Wallace himself came out for it last year and an attempt was made to get it into last session's AAA amendments—unsuccessfully, thanks to farm leaders.

President Ed O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation attacked the Wagner amendment on the eve of the Senate vote and farm-state senators supported him almost unanimously.

But the administration's desire for consumer protection was reinforced by growing realization that successive defeats of the Wagner and McCormack amendments might be bad political medicine and could be used as effective Republican propaganda in cities.

Thanks to AAA and the drought, retail food prices have advanced 25 per cent since 1933 and although farmers are better off, many city consumers have felt the pinch and reacted bitterly.

The McCormack amendment also contains a provision reminiscent of the old AAA parity price goal which was inserted to square things with the farmers.

This directs the secretary, as rapidly as he deems practicable and in the public interest, to reestablish at the 1910-14 level the ratio between the purchasing power of the average income per person on farms to the purchasing power of the average income per person in the non-farm population.

Robinson Warns Of Hooverism in Dickinson Set-to

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Senator Robinson (D., Ark.) told the senate that if the country preferred conditions of three years ago to those of today, it meant not the election of some new republican prospect, but "the re-election of Hoover."

His assertion was made during a heated exchange with Senator Dickinson (R., Iowa) over new deal policies.

Robinson asked Dickinson pointedly if he preferred the "prosperity" of March 4, 1933, to the present conditions, and when Dickinson replied that he considered the present condition "dangerous," the Arkansan added:

"That, I call to the attention of the senate, means that he prefers the conditions that prevailed under Hoover to the ones now. That is the issue I desired to make."

"If the country accepts the viewpoint of the senator from Iowa and believes that they would rather have Hooverism than Rooseveltism—if they believe the senator from Iowa is correct and that conditions now are less prosperous than they were on March 4, 1933—it logically means not the elevation to power of my good friend, my first choice for the republican nomination, the senator from Iowa, (he bowed low to Dickinson and the Iowan returned the bow), nor the elevation of my second choice, the senator from Michigan, Mr. Vandenberg, (he bowed toward that senator's seat, but Vandenberg was absent), but it means the re-election of Herbert Hoover."

DIETRICH WILL MAKE FILMS FOR BRITISH FIRM

Lubitsch Also Quits Paramount After Ouster

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 5 (AP)—Marlene Dietrich, Germany's glamorous girl to the American screen, is the latest recruit for English film-making.

The blonde star is going back across the Atlantic—within a month or six weeks, said her business agent, Harry Edington—leaving Paramount studio with a picture, but, at the moment, no actress.

She walked off the set of "I Loved A Soldier" nearly a fortnight ago, coincident with the deposition of Ernst Lubitsch as Paramount's production chief.

Lubitsch was working on the script with her, lending his sophisticated "touches" that are a screen byword to the shadowy romance.

Without the benefit of a completed scenario, she had even appeared in scene scenes. Then a "front-office" upheaval ousted Lubitsch. He packed his bags, set off

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day—and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

Dialing In On KPDN

By Your Radio Reporter

Everything else around the local studios is so much on the hum, we thought it might be well to drop in on the office across the hall from Bob Mack's and find out from the boys who do the selling of radio time how things were with them.

Joe Bryant, commercial manager of KPDN, was finally collared between contracts so to speak, and we popped the question—"How much radio time do you have left to sell?" Joe's quick rejoinder was, "Not a second." Further questioning developed the fact that his department has no radio time to sell, but has a merchandising service for sale, "and that's going along fine thank you."

"In fact," Joe explained, "we are landing merchandising contracts right and left, for example, we have no more time signals for sale. KPDN plans giving the correct time twelve times daily, and half of this service has been purchased by a prominent local jeweler, the remainder is under contract to a leading dealer in refrigeration and refrigerant supplies."

A very late type of news bulletin service is to be given five times daily in 15-minute periods, and as many times daily in 5-minute flashes spotted between the longer periods, assuring listeners a continual flow of news throughout the day.

"What about musical programs for merchants? Have you contracted for any of that type?" Again it was developed for us that programs of that class were in demand. "For instance," Joe went on, "a prominent local restaurant has contracted for New York, Europe and way points."

Other story-lines were suggested to La Dietrich. She retired to seclusion. The filmed sequences were shelved and Paramount considered putting Margaret Sullivan into the leading role.

Conjectures flourished among sideline observers in the film industry today on how the situation would resolve itself. Some suggested Dietrich and Lubitsch might eventually "do" a picture together for a British company.

Two daily 30-minute periods of orchestral music, using an 11-piece band. These broadcasts are to originate directly from his place of business, and handled as remote controlled features. It is planned to present one of these musical programs in the forenoon, just prior to the lunch hour, and the other in the late evening, just prior to the station's sign-off period.

"What do you mean by sign-off?" we asked. "Sign-off is a radio term which means the time a station leaves the air, concluding its broadcast activities; conversely, the term sign-on means the official opening time of broadcast activity. 'Are small merchants and shops buying as much advertising as the larger business houses?' 'Yes, the reception from the smaller type of business has been as gratifying as the results from the larger merchants, and in many instances members of that business group have approached us in order to assure themselves of premium broadcast spots. 'I see in this business we cannot reserve time in the manner of the newspaper man, since we can not add to our time, in the manner a daily adds to its page volume; once contracted for, a time period is gone, and it is not possible to shift around as you would a newspaper's advertisements, in order to make room for another piece of advertising.'"

"Do you think KPDN will open its broadcast activities with a large percentage of its commercial time sold?" "Yes, in fact a very large percentage of it," Joe added, "especially if it is possible to continue signing contracts at the rate they are being signed now." "Tell me something about your program set-up," was the next question. "You'll have to see Bob Mack about that portion of our activities; since all program schedules, and program production come under his personal supervision." So our interview ended, since that individual was not immediately available, however, we plan getting him pinned down in order to extract some program information.

IMPROMPTU GUARDIAN
JERSEY CITY.—Johnny, 5, was lost, and with him was a dog who assumed a belligerent guardianship. When a motorist wanted to take Johnny in his automobile to police headquarters, the dog tugged at Johnny's trousers and pulled him from the machine. The motorist took Johnny by the hand and led him to police headquarters, with the dog trotting, growling, behind. The lad soon was identified as Johnny Mastri, but the dog? He just took a fancy to Johnny and stuck with him during his wanderings.

CROWS FOR THE SISSIES
DUNCAN, Okla.—Roast crow, recent addition to Tulsa dining rooms, will be just a side dish at a Duncan civic dinner. For the meat course County Agent Nolan Young has a different idea. He is offering $2 apiece for live prairie dogs.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

by Deck Morgan

Chapter IV
Three times Jane and the blond young man circled the promenade deck of the S. S. Oceanic. They talked about trivial things like the current movies and dance tunes until they decided to explore the cruise ship.

They passed the Florentine room where people were already having gayly-colored drinks. They entered the lavish Pompeian room where people were splashing about in the bluish water of the pool. As they looked on, he said: "Your name is Jane Weston. You wouldn't tell me, but I saw it on the deckchair reserved for you. I'm Dirk Strom, and I'm going to have the steward reserve my chair next to yours for the voyage. Do you mind?"

Jane was secretly, because after a few moments of his awkward self-revelation she trusted him implicitly. No man with an eye as clear as his could mean any harm to her.

But she said, with reserve, shaking a finger at him: "You work too fast, Dirk Strom. But I guess it's all right." Then she laughed, for she couldn't bear to see the sudden hurt look in his eyes. "Now that we've met, let's go up to the lounge and see that gorgeous dancing salon I've looked forward to this cruise!"

"Do you dance?" he said eagerly. "Dance!" "Dance!" he said eagerly. "Will you go to the dance with me tonight?"

A cautious little voice inside Jane pronounced solemnly: "Jane, you've met a strange man on board a ship. It seems harmless enough, but wait a minute. He'll think you're only a pickup!"

She gave Dirk her best smile, and though she would have liked to go to that ball with him more than anything else in the world just now, she replied: "No, I'm going to get some rest tonight. I'm a little tired. Please, I can't come on this cruise—just like that. Getting things ready has worn me out. But perhaps tomorrow night."

He looked genuinely hurt. "I'm sorry," he said. "I only thought, better, fine, out of those things one wants to know."

She smiled her best, for she couldn't see him hurt. "All right, ask me. What do you want to know?"

Dirk laughed, whole-heartedly. "Oh, what you do in a crazy place, the city. It gives me the jumps. I'm used to the wide, open spaces. Who you are, what things you like, what your ambition is—"

"But that takes time," she said gaily. "You can't pry out all the secrets of a girl's soul in a single sentence. For a starter I'll tell you just one thing. My ambition is to have a good time and enjoy life—on this cruise. After that, well—"

She smiled. "You haven't told me what you do, besides spend a lot of time sitting at Lake Inland. But I don't care. I'll be me. And you be you, for the present. For myself I'm interested in the stage—"

This audacity left Jane gasping. She wondered whether she should not have told him the truth, that she was a typist without a job. But a rich young man might not be interested in a mere typist.

She looked about her to see if anybody had heard her. Standing close to her was a youngish man with dazlingly sleek black hair which receded from a pale forehead. He had a fawning, motion-shifty glance. His ceaselessly roving eyes took her in, from the top of her head to her toes, as she talked. He seemed to be interested in her remark.

"Oh, you're an actress!" Dirk said, and he naively looked at her more closely again. (Jane thought—with a great deal more interest.) He grinned. "You have the looks for one. If your hair was redder you'd look like Myrna Loy. She's my favorite star. She could have me anytime," he added facetiously.

Jane saw the dark man watching her closely, and she took Dirk's arm to move away from the swimming pool. "I don't like that man," she said, low.

"There are a lot of strange types on board," a Dirk's soul in. "I've been watching them since we sailed. But I suppose a big cruise ship is like the city—you've got to take 'em—all kinds. But from this minute on, you've somebody to look after you. If any of them annoy you, just let me know."

Jane smiled, and let her glance rove covertly over his broad shoulders and arms. He was a powerful creature.

They walked on. Jane was still a little in awe before the luxuries afforded by this floating palace of the sea. It was just like the motion pictures she had seen, only not quite so barbaric and splendid. They were in the gilded elevator, packed with laughing people, when a voice boomed out behind them.

"Mr. Strom," he said, panting in the crush.

"Snowshoes!" Dirk exclaimed at the sight of him, and all the people laughed.

"Sh-h-h-h!" he cautioned, turning beet-red even on the top of his head, which was like a polished billiard ball. The mass swallowed him up again when the contents of the elevator were disgorged at Deck A. But once he had extricated himself from the crowd he pounced on Dirk again. They stood in the foyer of the great lounge.

"Say, you eagle that flies with skis for wings, what are you doing on the high seas?"

"Snowshoes! Defender of the right. The law himself," Dirk said, introducing him to Jane. "This is Snowshoes Blake, a house detective. Going to look after the loose morals on this ship?"

Snowshoes looked about him cautiously and put a finger to his lips. "I'm on my first vacation," he said. "In 20 years. The house dick in a hotel just goes on peeping. But it doesn't look as if I picked the right place for a vacation. In my 20 years of sending them to the pen I never saw a worse lot than is on board this ship."

Dirk laughed, and pounded him on the back. "Same old story, Snowshoes. You're the world's just a great big meat pie of crime." The detective's eyes roved over the great lounge where men sat smoking and talking. "I can feel the hair rising on the back of my neck," he said. "Like a dog when he smells powder in the night. Well, if there ain't Dutch Lens, the old bader artist. Everything from extortion to blackmail. Wonder what's his game now?"

He nodded his head toward the bar, where a heavy-set man with bristly cropped hair stood talking to the bartender.

Snowshoes clucked like a quarrelsome old hen. "It looks like a new gang war in New York has sent the rats all scuttling to this ship. Excuse me. I'm on my way to my stateroom to lock up my winter clothes and a can of sardines. There may be a break line on this ship before we get back to New York."

Dirk laughed. "You don't want to frighten Miss Weston?"

Snowshoes pulled a news clipping out of his pocket. "You see that." They looked, and saw the beautiful likeness of Nora Lane, the celebrated actress. "Nora Lane is on board, and it got out to the papers yesterday. She's been in the headlines for a week now. That second husband of hers ought to be horsewhipped. They say she had bruises on her arms and face before she escaped from that Hudson river castle he owns. She's come on this cruise to rest her nerves, and I bet one-third the people have come on board with Nora Lane in mind. There are just two things that attract mobs now—a Big Name and a collection of jewels. Miss Lane is both of them. She owns the Kokinor diamond, and takes it around with her in a necklace."

Shaking his head Snowshoes went down the passageway toward his stateroom. Dirk had turned to conduct Jane into the lounge when she squeezed his arm suddenly. "That sleek black-headed man has been following us. He's watching us now. Let's go out on deck."

Dirk said, "Snowshoes will have given you the jitters. Don't mind him."

It was growing dark outside on Deck A. They walked down the long polished boards until Dirk suddenly said: "There is my suite—AA."

She looked at the door of this outside suite, with its penthouse air, and said, wrinkling her nose at him: "You snob! I'll feel like a galley slave down on Deck C. You wouldn't be the Danish sardine prince by any chance? Or do they grow sardines in the west where you come from? No, only lumber and gold dust." She went on, laughing. "He said, 'My rooms are so large I feel lost in them. Come on in, and let me tell you about me. It's time for cocktails. We can have them sent up here.'"

She smiled at him. "It sounds terribly attractive, but not tonight," she said.

"Oh, there's a sitting room. I'm fixed up in great style! It's perfectly proper," he added quickly.

"No," she said firmly. "I'm going to my own stateroom, order a light supper, and get that rest I've promised myself."

He looked disappointed, but he said quickly: "I'll see you tomorrow in your deckchair. You can't get away from me, you know. Our chairs are tied together."

Quintet Reports First Conquest Of Sierra Peak

YOSEMITE, Cal., March 5 (AP)—The first winter conquest of the snow-capped Mount Lyell in the Yosemite National Park was reported today by five mountain climbers who failed in three previous attempts.

Aided by favorable weather, the quintet scaled the 13,000 foot peak in the high Sierras Monday, but word of their success was not received until they returned here last night.

Bestor Robinson, Oakland, Cal., attorney and leader of the expedition, said virtually the entire climb was made on skis. They established a base camp at a 12,000-foot elevation and from there made their final dash up the treacherous mountainside to the summit. It required five hours.

They encountered winds of gale force at the base camp Monday, but were forced to fall flat in the snow to avoid being swept off a precipice.

Members of the party, in addition to Robinson, were Lewis Clark, San Francisco; Einar Neilson, Oakland, Calif.; Boynton Kaiser, University of California graduate student and David Brower, Yosemite valley.

CAUGHT SHORT
PHILADELPHIA—It proved to be a real emergency for an unidentified customer in a tailor shop when fire broke out. He was in his underwear in a booth waiting for his trousers to be pressed. While he yelled for his pants the fire was extinguished.

In a neighboring shoe shop a woman caught without her shoes, which were being repaired, had similar, but not quite so embarrassing difficulties.

Statewide Oil Hearing Is Set For March 18

AUSTIN, March 5 (AP)—The railroad commission today called a statewide oil and gas proration hearing for March 18 to consider revisions in allowable schedules and other conservation matters.

The commission called for nominations by purchasers of gas and crude needs in April, a factor used in determining the market demand as a guide in setting allowable.

A special hearing also was scheduled March 18 on the method of allocating production of the Yates field in West Texas.

Texas production of crude was raised to a year's high in the order which became effective March 1 permitting a daily output of 1,110,480 barrels, which was 6,480 barrels more than the consumer demand as calculated by the United States bureau of mines. It was an increase of 43,488 barrels from the basic statewide order effective February 1.

CRUSTACEAN MIGRATION
BALTIMORE, Md.—"Slow as a crab" is a misnomer in the opinion of Dr. Reginald V. Tritt, professor of aquaculture at the University of Maryland. "Crab No. 600" of 5,000 released to test migratory habits, flapped flippers 90 miles in Chesapeake bay in three days. Dr. Tritt admitted, however, that "Crab No. 600" was an exception. Most of them preferred to play in their own back yard, or thereabouts.

22-YEAR ITCH

"I have been bothered with ITCHING TOES followed with small pimples arising from under the skin and in a day or so come to the surface. I pick and clear fluid comes out. Has been on my feet 22 years. I used one 50c bottle BROWN'S LOTION SOAP, one $1.00 bottle BROWN'S LOTION; the first bottle cleared up my feet and hands. I am sure getting relief."—M. G. Neatby, Fire Marshal, City of Vernon.

A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

All kinds of people choose Luckies, each for reasons of his own. But everyone agrees that Luckies are A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco. It is a rather surprising fact that the leaves of the same tobacco plant may vary far more than the leaves from plants of quite different types. Chemical analysis shows that the top leaves contain excess alkalies which tend to give a harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in nature the most palatable, acid-alkaline balance. In Lucky Strike Cigarettes, the center leaves are used.

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.
