

Bombers Hit Hanoi Bridge

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. planes today bombed Hanoi's giant Doumer Bridge for the first time, military spokesmen said. The bridge is a one-mile span leading across the Red River. The bridge is a rail and road bridge leading from the heart of the North Vietnamese capital northeastward toward Communist China and is a major route of supplies for the Hanoi regime.

American planes have bombed targets nearby but not the actual bridge which crosses a small island in the Red River. U.S. attacks on the North usually are announced the day after they are carried out but Communist broadcasts already had reported raids on Hanoi today. The broadcasts made no immediate claims of planes shot down.

The American Air Force and Navy planes hit the "steel triangle" area around Hanoi and Haiphong Thursday and shot down two MIG21 jets in a series of raids announced previously.

Viet Free Elections Asked If Military Support Given

EXAM TIME — Shown here are three of the five Pampa policemen as they took their exams for sergeant Thursday afternoon in city hall. From left, Jesse Goad, John Thomas and Joe Brewer ponder over the test questions. Two of the five will be appointed to the posts after exam papers are graded and personal interviews are held with candidate for the jobs.

Leaders Are Taking New Look at Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Jacob K. Javits today urged President Johnson to warn South Vietnam that the United States will reconsider its military support unless truly free elections are held in September.

The two New York Senators, in prepared Senate speeches, joined 57 House Democrats who told the President Thursday that the United States should take a new look at its Vietnam policy if the elections become a mockery.

New Rebel Congo Exile Government 'Black Jack' Job

BUKAVU, The Congo (UPI)—White mercenary troops commanded by Belgian-born Jean "Black Jack" Schramme today hammered together a Congo government in exile.

Schramme's Congolese chief of staff Col. Leonard Monga was forming a "Save The Nation" rebel government and gave Congo President Joseph D. Mobutu 10 days to resign.

The mercenary force disclosed their plans to a UPI television production team in Bukavu. Schramme and his band of white mercenaries and dissident Katangese soldiers occupied the Kivu province capital on Wednesday.

The Congo government already had rejected a suggestion to negotiate with Schramme. Kinshasa radio said Thursday that Mobutu "will not stoop to talk with gangsters."

Schramme escorted a group of white civilians to Bukavu and saw them safely across the Congo frontier into Rwanda. The mercenary leader was resting and resupplying his troops in Bukavu.

Javits bluntly declared the South Vietnamese leaders and candidates must be placed on notice that free elections represent "the last clear chance" for fulfilling the conditions underlying American support.

Kennedy said he was "increasingly dismayed" by evidence South Vietnam's military government is interfering with free elections and threatening America's only interest in the Vietnam war—the right of self-determination.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., voiced similar concern in another prepared Senate speech.

The 57 Democratic congressmen signed a statement urging the President "to make the strongest representations—that steps be taken promptly to prevent a further eroding of confidence in the elections."

"If the governmental authorities of South Vietnam continue to refuse to assure free and fair elections, they should be informed the United States may very well take a serious reappraisal of its policies in Vietnam."

"With a freely chosen leadership as the starting point, it is possible a government might then be formed in which all South Vietnamese can participate," Kennedy said. Even though it may no longer be a Vietnamese war, it is still possible to help attain a Vietnamese peace.

Javits warned "against a plunge into the establishment of a U.S. colonial protectorate in Vietnam, towards which the momentum of the military situation is carrying us."

The New York Republican said it is time to "mark the beginning of an end of our commitment there."

Tito Takes Role As New Peace Maker

United Press International President Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia offered his Middle East peace plan to United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser today.

The two leaders met at Nasser's Koubbeh presidential palace. But editor Hasanain Heikal of the Cairo newspaper, Al Ahram, often Nasser's press voice, said that only a "miracle" could prevent Egypt from returning to war with Israel.

And elsewhere in the crisis area only warnings and threats were heard.

In Amman, Jordanian King Hussein said Thursday night the 75-year-old Tito would have humbled her Arab neighbors was not the last battle. He pledged to die rather than accept Israeli occupation of part of his land and the little king appealed to the Arab world to bury their differences and unite against the Jewish state.

In Jerusalem, the Israel government was reported angered at the Jordanian government's "virulent incitement" of Arabs under Israeli occupation.

In Cairo there was little sign the 75-year-old Tito would have much success in winning the militantly anti-Israel Nasser to his plan.

According to sources, Tito's plan would have Israeli forces withdraw from the portions of Egypt, Syria and Jordan they occupied in the June 5-10 war. In return Israel's security would be guaranteed by the great powers or the United Nations.

The militant climate in Arab capitals and reports from Jerusalem appeared to dim Tito's plan.

In Amman, Hussein pledged his people would choose an honorable death on the battlefield rather than live with Israeli occupation.

Asks Congress To Veto President's Banking Power

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen proposed today that Congress give itself a veto over the President's discretionary power to approve certain Export-Import Bank credits for Communist trade.

The Illinois lawmaker sought Senate approval for an amendment to the pending Export-Import Bank Bill. It would give either House of Congress 60 days to approve loans proposed under a presidential determination that the financing was in the national interest.

The Export-Import Bank Bill would extend the life of the bank five years and increase its lending authority from $9 billion to $13.5 billion.

That authority was reduced somewhat Thursday when the Senate approved an amendment which would prohibit bank loans to nations supplying North Vietnam or any other nation involved with the United States in armed conflict. The vote was 56 to 26.

The amendment was proposed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who led a successful drive last year to bar foreign aid to nations whose ships traded with the North Vietnamese.

Earlier the Senate voted down a Dirksen amendment which would have forbidden Ex-Im Bank credit for sales or rentals where the products involved were to be used in Communist nations. The vote against Dirksen was 51 to 35.

Dirksen's proposal was aimed at a financing arrangement under which $50 million worth of machine tools would be sold to the Italian automaker Fiat for a plant to be built in Moscow.

Under the bill's terms, Export-Import Bank credit for trade with Communist nations could be granted only when the President certified to Congress that the arrangements were in the national interest.

Workers in Canada make about 40 cents an hour less than their American counterparts. GM contends the pay of Canadian workers is not properly a subject of U.S. bargaining. But the UAW has made wage parity for Canadian workers a major part of its demands for new contracts with GM, Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

The UAW contends lower Canadian pay scales are a threat to U.S. jobs now that the tariff barrier dividing the auto industries of the two countries has been lifted.

Labor Relations Will Investigate UAW Union Beef

DETROIT (UPI)—The National Labor Relations Board today promised quick action on a United Auto Workers Union charge that General Motors is bargaining in "bad faith" in this year's negotiations.

Jerome H. Brooks, the NLRB regional director at Detroit, said he would begin an immediate investigation on a UAW complaint charging the nation's largest automaker with "bad faith" bargaining by refusing to negotiate on equal pay for Canadian workers.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said the filing followed GM's written threat to file similar charges if the union insisted on raising the Canadian pay issue in U.S. bargaining.

Canton Clamped In Martial Law

HONG KONG (UPI)—Hong Kong newspapers today said Communist Chinese authorities clamped martial law on Canton to quiet tens of thousands of Red Guards and workers who used molten steel as a weapon and ambushed ambulances to kill the wounded during a dusk-to-dawn battle.

Peking Radio said Defense Minister Lin Biao, Chairman Mao Tse-tung's apparent heir, again appealed to the nation's armed forces to stand firmly behind Mao.

Travelers from Canton said workers splashed molten steel on the Red Guards in the Canton battle that raged for 11 hours and killed or wounded some 500 persons.

They said both sides, each apparently believing the other to be anti-Maoists, set up "murder squads" to ambush ambulances carrying casualties to hospitals.

Newspaper reports quoting the arrivals said the wounded were dragged from the ambulances and killed on the spot. Many had their noses, ears and hands chopped off. Some had their lips sliced away.

Liu's latest appeal was considered indicative of Peking's increasing concern about

Senator Takes Hoffa Money, Is In Trouble

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch said Thursday that Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., under political fire for accepting fees from Morris Shenker, attorney for jailed teamster boss James Hoffa, "has decided to give the Senate Ethics Committee detailed information."

The paper said the entire legal business Long referred to Shenker and for which the St. Louis attorney paid him more than $48,000, consists of only five clients.

Long, who faces a Democratic primary fight for his seat, told the Post Dispatch he would give the Senate committee necessary information about his controversial fee-sharing arrangement with Shenker.

"I have been in an embarrassing position," he said.

Black Muslim is held in charge. Reading, England (UPI) — Michael De Freitas who leads Britain's Black Muslim movement as "Michael X" was arrested today on charges of inciting racial hatred and ordered held for trial.

De Freitas, 33, was freed on $140 bail until his next court appearance Sept. 8.

Police arrested him at his London home and drove him to Reading where he was reported to have made a speech July 24 in which he spoke of "white monkeys" and urged Negroes to kill any white man seen molesting a Negro woman.

De Freitas appeared in court wearing a thigh-length purple smock with a stand up military style collar and cuffs embroidered in gold and silver.

LONG RUN MONTREAL (UPI) — Six tired, tanned and happy students from White Pigeon, Mich., loped into Expo 67 having run all the way from home.

The boys ran an average of 20 miles each day, taking about a week for the trip. One of the boys was asked if they planned to run back. "Are you kidding?" he said. "My feet are killing me."

Politics Are Warming Up In Mississippi Campaign

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—State Rep. Roy Black defeated Gov. Paul B. Johnson today in his bid for a runoff spot for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Black will meet attorney Charles Sullivan in the Aug. 29 runoff, and since the Republicans are not contesting the post, the winner of the runoff will be automatically elected this fall.

Johnson, prevented by law from succeeding himself as governor, broke with precedent and became the first man in the state's history to try for the No. 2 post while serving as chief executive. He admitted he was putting his political future on the line in doing so.

Big Gem Heist Pampa Youth Finds Remains Made By Two Of Flier Missing 14 Months In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Two men in their 30s, dressed in gray suits and carrying attache cases, walked into a downtown jewelry store Thursday, looking like businessmen shoppers.

A few minutes later, they walked out with $75,000-$100,000 worth of gems in attache cases, leaving the store owner and clerk handcuffed and gagged in the store.

Jack James, owner of James Diamond and Jewelry Co., said he and David Dworz, his clerk, had their mouths taped and were tied to pieces of furniture. It was 30 minutes before James could chew through the tape and call police.

The two men entered the store, James said, and as soon as the other customers left they pulled a gun.

After tying up James and Dworz, the men cleaned out four display cases and one open safe, emptying pearls and diamonds into the attache cases. They carefully avoided parts of the store connected to an alarm system.

JAMES KEAGY By LARRY HOLLIS News Staff Writer James Keagy, 15, of 1807 Evergreen, was one of two teenagers who found the remains of a Cortez, Colo., man who vanished on a flight May 31, 1966, from Pratt, Kan., to Cortez. Keagy, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Keagy, was hiking in the Lost Lake area west of Trinidad, Colo., last Monday with James Turner, 14, of Richardson, when they came upon the plane wreckage and remains of the pilot.

William F. Durrail, 50, had been missing for 14 months when he had failed to land at Cortez on his flight. He had taken off from the Trinidad airfield at noon that day and had been scheduled to land at Cortez late that evening.

A Trinidad sheriff's deputy said the plane had hit one of the highest peaks in the area and was torn to pieces. Deputy John Perea reported the Piper Tri-Pacer aircraft slid downhill about 1,000 feet. The craft had not burned.

The pilot's body had been cut in half, Keagy said. Many of the remains had been scattered about the area, some being found 50 feet from the largest section of the plane.

An extensive search for the plane, centered in the Wolf Creek Pass area, had failed to turn up leads as to the whereabouts of the wreckage.

Keagy and Turner discovered the remains while hiking on foot about one mile west of Lost Lake. The wreckage was 40 miles from the Trinidad airfield.

DEAR ABBY: My 16-year-old daughter does nothing but sit and plunk on her guitar, watch TV, and listen to rock 'n' roll records. She's even too lazy to empty the waste basket in her room.

She's overweight, but the doctors say there's nothing wrong with her. She gets no exercise whatsoever and eats junk all day — candy bars, potato chips, and soft drinks.

She still has childish tantrums, yelling, slamming doors, and throwing things when she doesn't get her own way. She has no respect for her mother or me, talks back and won't take criticism.

Right now she's throwing a fit because I won't let her drive my car. A kid who still has tantrums isn't driving my car. If she doesn't respect her parents, she certainly won't respect pedestrians or other drivers. Am I right or wrong? What do you say about an irresponsible kid like this driving a car?

DEAR DADDY: If you're asking whether or not an irresponsible kid should be permitted to drive a car, the answer is no. But be honest. Isn't this your way of punishing your daughter for being disrespectful, uncooperative, and generally obnoxious?

Your problem child needs desperately to tell her troubles to someone who understands her. Her unlovely, lazy, rebellious attitude is a cry for help. There are many fine therapists in your area. Ask your family doctor to recommend one who specializes in helping adolescents establish communication with their parents.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-month-old nephew whose feet turn outward when he walks. So severely in fact that the child walks sideways. My sister knows it and keeps talking about asking her pediatrician to put the child in corrective shoes. Shouldn't this have been done months before the child started to walk? I've mentioned this to my sister several times, and I don't want to bring it up again for fear she'll think I'm putting my nose where it doesn't belong.

Please don't say that if my sister wants her child to grow up with out-turned feet, it's her business, because it isn't my sister who will have to stumble through 70 years of life on deformed feet. I see her pediatrician socially quite often. Would it be unethical of me to say something to him about it?

DEAR WORRIED: It's inconceivable that an aunt would be more concerned about the health of a child than the child's mother, but it's not impossible. You may not have all the facts, but on the chance that your sister is procrastinating needlessly, and the doctor is unaware, by all means, mention it to him.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that "in addition to teaching daughters how to cook, iron and keep house, mothers should teach them to cuddle a man, listen to him, entertain him, laugh with him, forgive him, and make his home a happy one to come home to, if they want a happy marriage."

I have always felt that way, but you put it so directly and simply.

I have three daughters and three sons. Have you similar advice for sons to follow if they are to have happy marriages? MOTHER OF SIX

DEAR MOTHER: If a man kisses his wife good-bye when he goes to work, returns sober and kisses her hello, doesn't ask her what she's been doing all day, and keeps reminding her that she is loved and appreciated, no matter what he lacks, she won't even notice it.

Florals At Home In Any Room

By AILEEN SNOODY
NEW YORK (NEA)—Flowers that bloom in the spring, trail a, add a year-round freshness to many homes. The man-made variety, especially, adds a special touch to any room. For any number of purist decorators this is not always true. These shiver as though a worm crawled down their spines when they see a plastic or paper variety of plants decorating a home. Each to his own taste.

However, few decorators are down on using floral designs. Most react enthusiastically to new interpretations that pop up each year in fabrics and rugs.

Floral designs take to the starting color combinations of pink and red, purple and green, blue and green, orange and hot pink that once caused head-shaking among conservatives.

Whether the designs are perfect copies of a daisy, tulip or rose or so free-form it takes an artistic botanist to spot the periwinkles, your flowers more than hold their own with gaudy designs, stripes, plains or geometrics.

Tradition lists, like the French, would not let the petit fleur escape in their delicate designs for draperies and upholstery. English stylists during the mod infiltration clung doggedly to their chintzy prints. And for good reason.

A dash of flower adds something refreshing and peppy to a room. Women know this. One admitted she always has a vase or bowl of fresh flowers in her apartment when she wants to impress a date.

With such a theme, Roach points out, only a minimum of other decoration is needed. The print reflects today's sophisticated use of color with the wallpaper in celadon, bronze-olive touched with silver and gold on a textured white background. The white is continued on other walls in the room with the fringe of the Shanton rayon and Dacron polyester draperies in the deepest tone of the floral. The tone

MATCHING OR RELATED FLORALS find homes as far as a bedroom in Los Angeles (left) and a sitting room in Bermuda. In both instances the prints are used sparingly, with dominant tones picked up by room accessories. Scenic floral in bedroom lends its celadon and bronze-olive tones to lamp and furniture trims. Floral design for Green is tangerine gold and wheat or lemon yellow repeated on the walls. Co-ordination of designs for wallcoverings, fabrics and rugs makes decorating much easier.

Aside from this canny move for entrapment, flowers serve a decorating purpose. To illustrate this, designer L. Jarmin Roach, A. I. D., reworked a small room into a charming bedroom through use of the single-pattern theme. To do this Roach chose a scenic floral wallpaper by Stockwell and substituted it for a headboard. This saved space and cost. The same pattern, reduced in size is repeated in the bedspread and draperies. With such a theme, Roach points out, only a minimum of other decoration is needed. The print reflects today's sophisticated use of color with the wallpaper in celadon, bronze-olive touched with silver and gold on a textured white background. The white is continued on other walls in the room with the fringe of the Shanton rayon and Dacron polyester draperies in the deepest tone of the floral. The tone is repeated in the carpet. Nightstands are painted white with drawers framed in celadon and lamps are white with circles of bronze-olive. Roach's approach to decorating with flowers is simple to adapt. Avoid conflicting patterns, repeat a dominant color sparingly in room accessories. Since a floral has a number of colorways it is easy to change a room with a new bedspread or draperies in one of the dominant tones.

The Mature Parent's Day of the Human Robot Is Upon Us

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Up at Yale's Medical School a scientist has succeeded in destroying a female monkey's maternal feeling for her baby. He achieved this advance in scientific progress by directing radio commands to electrodes implanted in her head. Reading this news item, a New York Times writer was moved to write an editorial on that probable day in the future when push-buttons will turn us into robots, too, turning our feelings off according to the whims of the button-pusher. Future day? My goodness, it is already here. For example, many of us already have been detached from material feeling for war's burned and mutilated babies. Just like that monkey. Exactly like her. We're getting more and more disconnected from our natural feelings every day of our lives. Our newspaper reports that some drifter with a rifle has leaned out of his rooming house window to shoot dead some innocent stranger in the street below and we tune out on feelings about that, too. We've got to. For we are sane rats. And when we find ourselves spinning helplessly in a whirligig of an uncontrollable world, we adopt the sane rat's solution to his laboratory's whirligig. We go to sleep. We go robot. It has to be like that. For the button-pushers are directing so many horrors at us these days that we may have to choose to go dead to feeling about them. It's called "apathy" in us. I don't know what it's called in monkeys. No, we don't need scientists to turn us into robots. The world's news has already accomplished it most effectively. So, in a way, I'm grateful for the people I've infuriated by my recent columns on abortion. I

Astrological Forecast

By CAROL R. RIGTER

FOR SATURDAY, AUG. 12
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A Saturday in which if you try to strut or impress anyone in power of authority you can become a real coooper and get quickly put into your place. But if you make a point to carefully drive into and study whatever may be of special concern, and find new and update ways to solve you can gain much good will from others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Be very careful with present security by paying all bills, especially those that deal with the government, home, business. Don't forget debts of honor, either. Evening is best for recreation.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — One at home would try to ruin some business opportunity for you through jealousy. Keep silent and you win out. Don't permit associates and family to get together hardly at all for best results.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Though not a work day, whatever you still have to do should be handled carefully, astrologically. Listen to what co-workers have to suggest, and clear up some problem. Fun time tonight with those close by.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Some improvements to whatever you own are necessary in a.m. then off to school to the social affairs you like. You have a better idea how to advance. Put it in operation as soon as possible.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Don't feel that kin are imposing on you in the enthusiasm of getting home straightened out and beautified. Pitch-in and do your share of work. Clear up any misunderstandings, also. Simple things fine in a.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) — Stop fretting about some sad and small matter that is of little consequence and out to whatever big opportunities are around you. Be more alert in whatever you can accomplish easily. Be more dynamic. Interested in what you are doing.

SARAS (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Don't confide your personal, monetary affairs to acquaintances, since they do not know all the facts and could get you into further trouble. Use your own judgment and improve present position. Relax at 8. Move tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Follow laws and regulations that apply to you. Let your conduct be edifying and then all works out just fine for you and you know what your goals are and then go after them in a positive, precise fashion. Fine evening out socially.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Instead of dishing around here and there, do some investigating of puzzling matters. Be of assistance to one who has done you favors in the past, also. Much happiness is possible in P.M.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Plan early for social matters that bring you good will of others and help you to repay obligations. Stop asking for so much advice from others who feel they are experts. Rely more upon your own abilities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Cut early into the world of activity and make a good impression on those connected with your career, especially where civic matters are concerned. See that you obey all laws. An associate may feel otherwise. Let it be his business.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — A fine opportunity presents itself for advancement, so seize it quickly and put aside that new temptation that a soothing you. Early evening is fine for dining out at new place with some charming person. Have a wonderful time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she, will be one of those interesting young ones who has much investigative ability and can penetrate right through the thoughts and ideas of others. The desire for fame is great here and the ability to work for it also, but teach not to brag and not to expect applause every turn. Inculcate dignity.

Rebel

Military Academy graduate and chief of staff under former Prime Minister Moise Tshombe, promised to liberate all Congolese provinces.

If Schramme fails to get his way with Mobutu, he might drive for Katanga province where sources said he would certainly find some popular support for his demands to save Tshombe's life. Such a move could trigger a massive blood-bath in the Congo, the sources said.

Tshombe, a Katangese who has been rebel, premier and twice exiled in the Congo's seven-year history, is in an Algiers jail awaiting a decision by Algerian President Houari Boumediene whether to extradite him.

He was kidnaped and taken to Algiers and the Congo has asked for his extradition to face a death sentence for treason.

Schramme demanded Mobutu's government release Tshombe and allow him to re-enter the Congo government. The Congolese Press Agency Thursday rejected the demand.

Clergyman Pilots Jets, Fills Pulpit

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Lester J. Maitland has been a sky pilot most of his life — either in the cockpit of a plane or the pulpit of a church.

Maitland today is an Episcopal priest at Cave Creek, Ariz. He was also pointing the way to heaven 40 years ago when, as a young Army pilot, he took off from here for Hawaii in the first non-stop flight to the islands.

Maitland, 68, along with his navigator, Alfred F. Hegenberger, completed the epic 2,400-mile flight in 25 hours and 30 minutes.

Maitland was honored here recently at a luncheon commemorating the June 28-29, 1927, trip by the two Army lieutenants.

He recalled how the Fokker monoplane battled hefty trade winds with its three engines, never going off course more than 10 miles. At one time Hegenberger gave Maitland a startling correction that was 17 degrees more than they had planned.

"This took a little faith," he said. "I had to have faith in Hegenberger. Faith keeps the world going." The Fokker had only 200 gallons of fuel left out of the original 1,120 when it landed at Luke Field in Oahu.

"I was so happy, I eased her onto the runway and then said a little prayer for that gas," he recalled.

Maitland was a military pilot for 30 years, including a post as commander of the 396th bomb group in England during World War II.

He retired as a brigadier general in 1945 and was ordained a priest 10 years ago.

He still flies and five years ago piloted an F-101B Voodoo jet interceptor at one and one-half times the speed of sound.

He decided to join the clergy in 1954 when he saw an atom bomb test in Nevada. "I wanted to help change humanity, not just hope for it, but to get in and DO something," he said.

Lutheran Members

Slate Bible School

The closing program is set for 7:30 p.m. Aug. 18. A social hour will be held following the program, with handcraft projects on display. Community children are invited to attend the school's second week at the church, 1200 Duncan, the Rev. M. G. Herring, pastor and school director, said.

Bel Canto Singers

To Present Program
Bel Canto Singers of the Boies Home at Quinlan, will sing at 7:30 p.m. today at Mary Ellen and Harvester St. Church of Christ. They are presenting a program of gospel songs, hymns and spirituals on their 18th annual summer tour, which ends Aug. 20.

The group sings a cappella and have performed in 46 states, Canada and Mexico under Churches of Christ sponsorship. Their programs are open to the public.

Boies Home is a home for children cared for by Churches of Christ in the United States.

Couple To Attend Church Workshop

A program of workshops for Sunday school officers and teachers, special musical events, and addresses by religious leaders has been completed for the 1967 General Sunday School Convention of the Pentecostal Holiness Church which convenes in Greensboro, N.C., Aug. 16-18.

The three-day assembly, meeting in Greensboro's War Memorial Auditorium and Coliseum, will attract an attendance of more than 2,500 delegates from across the nation and overseas countries, according to Rev. Karl W. Bunkley who is president of the Sunday school department of Pentecostal Holiness Church, with headquarters in Franklin Springs, Ga.

Rev. and Mrs. Albert Maggard of Pampa will attend the convention, and will be committee members and workshop leaders.

Displays of materials from Advocate Press, the denomination's publishing house, and from educational institutions will be included in this Christian education assembly.

Church leaders, educators, a federal penitentiary chaplain, and an army chaplain will be some of the guest speakers. Also on the agenda is a 300-voice youth choir and a 200-voice children's choir. Convention emphasis will be on effective use of teaching materials and Christian outreach through Sunday school.

Witnesses Plan Speaker Sunday

"Your Faith—How Far Does It Reach?" is the question Clare J. Wright, minister, Amarillo, will answer at 3 p.m. Sunday when he speaks to Jehovah's Witnesses at their Kingdom Hall, 944 S. Dwight.

"We can cultivate far-reaching faith by following the example of Jesus Christ and early Christians," Wright said concerning his message, "and even today there are modern-day examples of faith we can imitate."

During his talk, which will last one hour, Wright will use the Bible to show how people can benefit from examples of faithful men.

The public is invited to attend and to stay for the weekly Watchtower Study that follows at 4 p.m.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

First Presbyterian Church
MARTIN HAGER, Pastor

There is a story told of a farmer who was becoming more and more conscious of the popular notion that the farmer's work lacks prestige and dignity; that in the popular mind, it involved day by day mundane, unexciting tasks. Particularly, the farmer became more aware of his pigs. He watched them as they rooted around in the muck, and finally decided that he was going to do something about their disgusting habits. In a highly creative moment, the farmer brought all the hogs into the house gave them a shower, brushed them down, put bows in their tails, clipped their hooves, and doused them from head to foot in Old Spice Aftershave Lotion. And, for at least a few hours the farmer did gain a certain satisfaction from the fact that he had transformed these ugly, slovenly beasts into dainty creatures. Of course, his satisfaction was shortlived. Soon, the hogs broke out of the house, ran the length of the barnyard, and sunk with a great grunt of relief into the muck and mud of the pigsty. It's certainly no fault of the pigs; after all, they are only pigs.

"I'm only human". This statement can be meaningful, or it can be an escape from responsible behavior. The fact is so perfectly obvious, that it runs the risk of being over-looked. Everyone admits his humanity. Yet few people admit their humanity, as Paul says, "in Christ".

There is a currently popular song that says: "I am a man and nothing more. In the face of love, I shut the door". And as we view God's dealings with His people in scripture, we can't help but draw a similar conclusion concerning the nature of man. In the face of love, he resists. And when he tries to give his love, he is hollow, wooden, and self-centered.

Surely, this is implied in the Gospel of Jesus Christ! It's sort of like a two pound box of chocolates: half of it we like the half that says we're redeemed and forgiven people. The other half: that condemns us and says that we are unable even to make the first move toward love of God and love of our brother man, this is the half that turns us away.

To be human "in Christ", means to be perfectly human. That is to say, to be human as God created humanity to be. It begins as just a glimpse. Those popular song writers who admitted that a man resists love have made a beginning. It's a beginning of a transformation that is initiated and sustained by God. A man begins to live the "new life in Christ." He begins to view his world in a much different light. He begins to see that God is active in it, give in the beauty and ugliness alike. A man begins to see his brother in a different light, as a person of supreme value, as a person for whom Christ died. Though the grace of God, he discovers the possibility of receiving and giving love.

A pig is a pig (apologies to my farmer friends). A man is a man. But he has an edge over the pig. He can become a man in Christ. All God expects from us is that we open our clenched fists and receive:

Chisox, Twins Open Critical Series

By United Press International
Has Eddie Stanky, the peppery Chicago manager who's often accused of overmanaging, finally made the move that will prove fatal to the White Sox pennant hopes?

That was the leading question in the American League today in the wake of the White Sox' crucial 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers Thursday night that boosted their league lead to two games as the club invades Minnesota tonight to begin a series with the Twins. Stanky hustled 20 players into the game but his controversial move was the use of ace lefthander Gary Peters in relief. The move worked brilliantly for the time being because Peters struck out Norm Cash with the bases loaded and two out to preserve the victory after veteran Ken Boyer hit a homer off Mike Marshall in the top of the eighth to snap a 1-1 tie. Bob Locker retired the Tigers in order in the ninth to end the game. But the use of starters in relief can often backfire—and Stanky admitted he didn't like to do it this early in the race. Last year Stanky gambled on using Peters in relief much earlier in the season. He did it for the first time on June 7—and Peters promptly lost his next three starts. But Stanky hopes things will be different this season. Although Peters worked 7 1-3 innings against the Tigers

Tuesday night, he said he will come right back with the lefthander as a starter on Saturday against the Twins. "I don't like to use my starting pitcher in relief," Stanky said, "I might have to do that in September but I don't like to do it this early." He added, "I was only going to use him to face one man. I told Peters before the game that I might need him in the eighth or ninth inning if the situation came up."

The situation came up in the eighth, Stanky felt, when Tiger manager Mayo Smith sent the lefthanded hitting Cash to pinch-hit against Hoyt Wilhelm with the bases loaded and two out. Wilhelm had just retired Mickey Stanley, but Stanky decided to go with the lefthanded pitcher Peters—and Peters struck out Cash to make the move look perfect. The victory enabled the White Sox to earn a split of the series with the Tigers and kept them in command of the tight race. But Stanky refused to call it a "must game" for the Sox. "I don't like that phrase 'must game.' My boys bounce back pretty good, just about when everybody in the country is ready to bury them, they draw a little oxygen and come out of the mortuary swinging pretty good." In the only other American League action, Cleveland edged Baltimore 2-1 in 13 innings and Minnesota blanked Washington 5-0.

Houston Golfer Has Lead In Golf Classic in Ohio

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Rex Baxter Jr. of Houston was the surprise leader today in the second round of the $100,000 American Golf Classic, since turning professional in 1958. It's been two years since he even led a round but he did it with ease over the 7,180 yard Firestone course. "I don't know what to say," the shocked Baxter said. "I was surprised to shoot a 66 on this course." That 66 was three shots better than anybody else in the field of 118 could muster over the rugged Firestone Country Club course in Thursday's opening round, during which only seven players were able to break par on an unseasonably cold and windy day.

Baxter, despite a brilliant college career at the University of Houston, has won only one tournament, the 1963 Cajun American Golf Classic, since turning professional in 1958. It's been two years since he even led a round but he did it with ease over the 7,180 yard Firestone course. "It's been a while since I've led one. I got off to a little better start, kept making pars after I got a bogey, and started making birds on the back nine." Following Baxter were six players grouped at one-under par 69 — Billy Martindale, George Archer, Bill Collins, Randy Glover, Jack McGowan and Kermit Zarley.

McCormick Wins 15th; Is Finally Paying Off

By United Press International
A $65,000 investment, originally written off as a business loss, has finally begun paying off dividends for the San Francisco Giants after 11 years. That sum was the amount the Giants paid to sign an 18-year-old lefthanded pitcher named Mike McCormick in 1956, and while the original reports tabbed him as another Lefty Grove, the young southpaw never materialized into a consistent performer. That is until this year. After 11 long years that have included a bout with a sore arm, a demotion to the minor leagues and service with three major league teams, McCormick is finally showing the winning touch predicted for him when he arrived at the Polo Grounds out of Arcadia, Calif., high school. Soon to be 29 years old and no longer the possessor of a blazing fast ball, McCormick equalled his best previous season high for most victories Thursday night when he notched his 15th triumph while pitching the Giants to a 5-2 victory over the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals. McCormick, traded to the Giants last winter by the Washington Senators, previously won 15 games for the Giants in 1960 when he finished 15-12 and led the National League in earned run average with a 2.70 mark. But that was the only fine year he turned in for the Giants before developing a sore arm in 1961. The Giants gave up on him in 1962 and traded him to the Baltimore Orioles where he went through two more trying seasons that included a demotion to Rochester of the International League for most of the 1964 season. The Orioles sold him to Washington in 1965 and it was there that McCormick regained his confidence and began to pitch well again. Needing some punch in the lineup, the Senators let McCormick go to the Giants last winter for hard-hitting outfielder Cap Peterson and relief pitcher Bob Priddy, and it has proved to be one of the best trades the Giants have made in recent years. McCormick, who has lost only five games, stopped the Cardinals on six hits Thursday night as he tied Chicago's Ferguson Jenkins for the most victories in the league. Willie McCovey's three-run homer off loser Ray Washburn in the fifth inning proved to be the decisive blow for the Giants, who cut the Cardinals' lead over the second place Cubs to 7½ games. Jim Hart also homered for San Francisco. In other NL action, Atlanta defeated Houston 10-2, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 5-4, Pittsburgh blanked New York 3-0 and Chicago topped Philadelphia 3-2. Chicago edged Detroit 2-1,

Minnesota blanked Washington 5-0 and Cleveland nipped Baltimore 2-1 in 13 innings in an abbreviated American League schedule. Mack Jones drove in five runs with two home runs and a double as the Braves rapped Houston. Billy McCool came out of the bullpen with one out and two on in the ninth inning and stopped a Dodger rally to preserve the Reds' victory. McCool promptly loaded the bases on a walk to pinch-hitter Jim Campanis, but the big southpaw retired Bob Bailey on a foul popup to first and got Jim Lefebvre on a game-ending fly to left. Tommie Sisk tossed a three-hitter and Bill Mazeroski slammed his eighth home run of the year as the Pirates whipped the Mets. Sisk allowed only singles to Tommy Davis, losing pitcher Jack Fisher and pinch-hitter Gerry Buchek while evening his record at 9-9. Glenn Beckert's eighth-inning single scored Adolfo Phillips with an unearned run that enabled the Cubs to snap the Phillies winning streak at eight games.

US Track Squad Puzzles Coach

MONTREAL (UPI)—The coaching staff of the America's track and field team was asking itself today, "what happened?" Just like Bill Seagen, one of the world's best pole vaulters, couldn't explain why he failed to clear at least one bar for the America's coaching staff was at a loss of words over the European athletes strong second night finish Thursday for a 160-155 triumph. The America's went into the final night of the two-day meet leading 79-74 and with Seagen, Bill Crothers and Gerry Lindgren scheduled to compete, it figured to be a breeze. It wasn't. Seagen failed to score a point, Canada's Crothers ran a poor fourth and Lindgren didn't show even though plane tickets had been sent the Tacoma, Wash. distance star. The Europeans won six of the 10 men's events Thursday night and the women's split six events. "A month ago I was in the best shape I've ever been in," said Crothers after Franz-Josef Kemmer, a 22-year-old journalism student from West Germany, won the 800 meter run in 1:49.3. "But now I've lost it all. Just like in the Pan-Am Games when I finished second."

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Myth of Local Control

Man, the individual, is a strange and perverse creature; and, especially so, when it comes to ideas and evolving knowledge. One side of him hungers to know that which is objectively true. The other side fiercely resists new knowledge with a vigor akin to desperation even in the face of overwhelming evidence showing prior convictions to be irrational spooks of the mind in conflict with the world of reality.

Pet theories, possibly once valid but now impossible under changed conditions, at other times amounting to no more than ancient shibboleths, "the things we know that are not true" and never were, are given up, if at all, most reluctantly.

Such a pet theory, now lacking even a modicum of basis in fact, is the widely held conviction that control of public school remains at the local level, even in the hands of the parents and taxpayers concerned. Despite a U.S. Supreme Court ruling several years ago to the effect that the federal government would control that which it subsidizes, and the fact that public schools everywhere are accepting "federal aid" hand over fist, the illusion of local control persists. It is wishful thinking, no less.

In the early days, when schools were organized and financed directly at the local level when teachers and board members were likely to be one's next door neighbors; before the advent of county and state boards of education; prior to the formation of the National Education Association and Department of Health, Education and Welfare and nationally controlled Parent-Teacher Associations, the "local control" claim was valid, to some extent at least.

But after the advent and formation of the aforementioned, and when schools began accepting financial support from first the county, then the state and, finally, the federal government, the control of the school system moved, gradually but steadily, to ever higher echelons of government. And, when the U.S. Supreme Court began legislating school law by process of interpretation, that should have been the end of local control illusion.

However, if any residues of the local control spook remain, the latest federal court ruling in the public school training field should provide the final and conclusive disenchantment. The case is now subject to ultimate and unappealable nationwide effecting decision by the U.S. Supreme Court itself.

It seems that the federal court, Judge J. Skelly Wright presiding, didn't go along with the "local control" concept or the way Washington, D. C. public schools were being run, presumably, under that concept.

In a far reaching action, according to U.S. News and World Report, Wright ordered these changes:

Free busing for Negroes in overcrowded schools who want to attend under-populated schools in white areas and elimination of "optional zones" giving pupils a choice of schools. (That sounds like a contradiction to us, but never mind.)

Abolition of the "track system" of assigning pupils to certain courses of study on the basis of aptitude tests—which the judge called unconstitutional—giving pupils a choice of facilities as well as of student bodies.

And, finally, Washington school officials were ordered by Wright to "consider the advisability" of educational parks and other integration devices which would, in effect, eliminate many neighborhood schools.

So much for myths and shibboleths.

Tax Load Heavy? Wait for This One

If the prospect of a possible 16 per cent surtax on top of your regular income tax has given rise to vague thoughts of emigrating from the land of Big Government to some little country—like Denmark, perhaps—that is not obliged to defend half the world, think again.

If the Danes were not melancholy before, they have reason to be now. They have just saddled themselves with something called a "merværdiom - sætningssgift" which, being translated, signifies "added-value sales tax."

Nicknamed "Moms" (pronounced "mumps" and just as about as delightful), it was part of the biggest tax reform in modern Danish history, says Scandinavian Times news magazine, and is the first major consequence of the socialist victory in last November's elections.

The added-value tax differs from a sales tax in that it will be levied every time a product changes hands throughout the manufacturing process. It will also be clamped on all kinds of services, from window cleaning to furniture moving.

At the retail level, the tax works out to exactly 10 per cent and is expected to extract $700 million annually from the 4.7 million Danes, or about $149 a head, exclusive of income and other taxes.

France invented the added-value tax and has had it for 13 years. Other Scandinavian countries are considering a shift to Moms and all the Common Market countries will have uniform Moms systems by 1970.

The tax is attractive to finance ministers because it works quickly, is flexible and can be used not only to pay government bills but to control consumption as well.

Like Dutch elm disease, which slipped into this country in a load of logs from Europe despite efforts to keep it out, it is probably only a matter of time until America is hit with the Danish "mumps."

Nothing But The Truth

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
A ROUGH TOUGH OPPORTUNIST

Although Hitler and the Nazi power carried the target as our enemy in the Second War, the foe actually has been Communism all the way down the years since the Lenin - Trotsky revolution of 1917. Communism is still the enemy to this day, and we find Soviet Russia openly attacking Americans at sea, in the air and on the land of Asia. This is the battleground Douglas Mac Arthur, our own greatest soldier, warned us to shun.

When Mussolini invented Fascism he drew on his own experience as a cheap communist adventurer in Switzerland, where his teachers and associates had been reds. When Hitler determined to rescue Germany from Russian communism which had invaded his Fatherland, slaughtering many good, patriotic Germans, he adopted the essentials of Russian communism. He applied them to Germany.

When Roosevelt, Truman, John Kennedy, and then Lyndon Johnson undertook to captivate the American people, they all threw us bribes of money, either as social security in its many fraudulent forms or as salaries for parasitic "Administrators" of Federal "agencies."

Lyndon Johnson came among us first as a Jimmy-legs for his regimental sergeant - major who was appointed by Roosevelt to be "administrator" of an invention called the National Youth Administration. This was an unknown pro - communist named Aubrey Williams. Lyndon has told us that Roosevelt was his political daddy although he probably had never laid eyes on F.D.R. as early as the 1930's, except in the political news-reels. And when Roosevelt sent Williams out upon the country to "administer" the political development of gaping youth, Lyndon considered himself fortunate to land a job in this new thing. There was immediate money in it for him and it delivered those willing green horns into his immediate power as American "Black Shirts" or "Brown Shirts."

Roosevelt, like Mussolini and like Hitler a few years later, was spreading his political power across the country without immediate resort to billy club. But the National Youth Administration was breathing communism (or call it Fascism or Nazism if you prefer) into the young souls of American youth. Lyndon was a rough, tough opportunist with an alert capitalist instinct. Like most Americans, he wanted all the money he could get and without resort to crime. This method was legal.

John Garner was the most patriotic Texas American in national politics down to then. He didn't like this stuff, but he was willing to rock along with Roosevelt and look to the future and the luck and wisdom of the American people. Lyndon was just a barefoot boy from the furrows just a few strides to the westward of the black Belt of the South. He done real good without having to face the similarity of Trotskyism on the one hand, and Fascism and Nazism on the other. To this very day, Lyndon will sound off with a bullhorn, warning us against our communist enemy in our war in Asia. But he can't quite explain why the United Nations has handed us two wars to fight with predominately American forces and at awesome cost in American money, meaning the taxes of Americans. Where is the United Nations?

For better or for worse, the Russians made an awful fool of Roosevelt and of hundreds of American bureaucrats and West Point generals and drunken reporters. The Russians now play wrinkle-fender with American destroyers in those regional seas of ASIA with the same bloody duplicity that ketched us at Yalta. The Russians have no Stop-go signals at sea and when they hit us, well what are we doing in those water anyhow?

That is Asia. And Asia is lousy with Chinese. Are the Chinese friends of the United States? We gave them little reason to love us in the years a little before and after '49. California was rough, crude country then. They did not have enough town marshals to dump the dead in the harbors next morning. Rice was the staff of life and super-markets were unheard of.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

No President of the United States before or since, has devised a political gimmick as effective as Franklin D. Roosevelt's Fireside Chats. During his first year in office F.D.R. used radio talks to the people who were figuratively, supposed to be sitting by their firesides listening to him. Gradually the people conceived the idea that Roosevelt was addressing them while sitting by a fireplace in the White house. At any rate they were most effective in gaining public support for the New Deal measures. If Lyndon Johnson could come up with something like that he'd be a shoo-in in his quest for re-election next year.

Today's smile: A banker's wife on a downtown shopping trip dropped in to see her husband and said: "Darling, I've just discovered I'm short of money and need some badly." "Don't worry about it," said the banker, "you can have as much as you want. Just sign this note for anything from 60 days to a year."

Airlines criss-cross the world today, but the first one was started just 53 years ago, in 1914. It consisted of a single engine seaplane that flew on irregular schedule between Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla. Although it was an ambitious undertaking in those days, it quickly folded for lack of patronage. The people preferred the railroad, street cars, the horse and buggy and a few automobiles in that bygone era.

Thoughts while shaving: There will be no crime in the streets of Minneapolis, Minn., if the chamber of commerce can help it. That body offers four-inch hatpins to women who feel the need of having some protection when abroad after dark. Maybe Lindsay should start passing them out in FUN CITY. . . . We understand the housewife's chores are to be made easier. A national manufacturer is about ready to make a new type of washing machine that washes clothes electronically by means of high-frequency sound waves. It is so compact it can be used in an ordinary sink or bathtub.

One of the identifying characters of Napoleon Bonaparte was the fact that he adopted the bee as his trade mark. It appears on Napoleonic coins and other appurtenances of the Emperor of France. It was due in large measure to the Little Corporal's belief that he was a deity, something like Jupiter, the supreme god of ancient Rome, who in legend was nourished by honey bees-in infancy. Of course, it might also have had something to do with the fact, too, that Napoleon was something of a busy bee himself throughout his meteoric career. . . . A friend, just back from Las Vegas, told us they have "silent" slot machines there for those who dislike noise and the clank of coins when they happen to hit. He says some of the machines are noiseless when the lever is pulled and when the jackpot comes up they push

The Doctor Says:

Surgery Now Can Still Spasm-Affecting Eyelids

Q - About a year ago my husband started having what the doctor called blepharospasm. What is the cause? Is there any cure?

A - Blepharospasm is a persistent spasm causing firm closure of the eyelids. It may be caused by abnormal sensitivity to light, inflammatory diseases of the cornea or an emotional strain. It is sometimes associated with parkinsonism (shaking palsy), Tranz quillizers may help but if it is chronic an operation severing the nerve that supplies the muscles of the eyelids or removing the muscles themselves may be necessary.

Q - I have conjunctival hemorrhages that keep recurring in both eyes. Can something be done for this condition?

A - These hemorrhages are often seen in persons with hardening of the arteries and may be precipitated by coughing, sneezing or straining at stool. In some persons they occur without any apparent cause. The condition is not serious and will clear up without treatment in about two weeks. It helps, however, to apply cold compresses for 15 to 20 minutes two or three times a day for the first two days, then hot compresses for three or four days.

Q - I am a woman, 61. My eyes have ceased to produce tears. My doctor says there is no cure and that I must use eye drops the rest of my life. What is the cause? Will this condition eventually lead to blindness?

A - Dryness of the eyes may be caused by trachoma, diphtheria, burns and drooping of the lower lids or any other condition that prevents complete closure of the lids. As long as you keep your eyes moistened with the drops you can prevent the formation of ulcers on the cornea which are the chief hazard to be avoided.

Q - I am a man, 66, with hardening of the arteries. I am taking digitalis and Coumadin. Recently my vision has been blurred. Could this be from the medicine?

A - There are many possible causes of blurred vision, including hardening of the arteries. The most obvious and easiest to treat is a film of mucus on the conjunctiva which can be washed out with ordinary soothing eye drops. For other causes an eye specialist should be consulted. Neither warfarin (Coumadin) nor digitalis would cause blurring of your vision.

It is true today as it has always been true in the past that self-help is the best and most enduring kind of help. Our disadvantaged should be encouraged to seek advantage for themselves through their own efforts.

WHO ARE YOUR FRIENDS

We do not live on a desert island, as did Robinson Crusoe. We are influenced by other human beings. And the greater our regard for another person the greater their influence will be. We all need friends with whom we may relate and through whom we may expand our horizons.

A friend, I once heard, is someone who cares for you. Friendship is important to all humans, but perhaps it is even more important to children than to adults. A child can be lonely, too, but a child may not have developed many mature interests nor learned that keeping occupied helps dispel loneliness. Friends should be selected with care. A child can be deeply hurt by a false friend who lets him down.

True friends are persons of character and reliability. Friendships are rooted in mutual respect and integrity. Where injustice, dishonesty, and disloyalty abound, there can be no real friendship.

Criminals may conspire and consequently feign friendship with their conspirators. However, a sense of fear and distrust usually exists between them. This is not true friendship, which can never be present between persons held together by fear. Children, too, may feign friendship to obtain help with homework, to swipe ideas, for social prestige, or to snare some other benefits from false "friendship."

A good way to judge a friend is whether you feel that the association had enriched you and brought out the best in you. Any of us can sense this in our association and should teach our children to use this as a guide. What can we as parents do to help our children select the right kind of friends? Individuals admire different traits in others and therefore they will choose their friends on an individual basis. We must increasingly permit our children to learn how to pick their friends. When they are young is the time to help them recognize the value of honesty and kindness as a two way exchange in friendship.

Also, the parents must select their friends with extreme care, as they will exert an influence on the children, as well as on the parents. We must be willing to have our children follow our pattern.

It is the same old story: your example speaks louder than your words.

It's Up To You

Choose God or . . . The equalitarians have made great progress in their campaign to give the man-with limitations and the man-who is stoutheaded and improvident, the same voice in the direction of public affairs as our more responsible citizens. It does not require much intelligence to see where that will lead us. The republican form of government set up by the Founding Fathers was intended to offer some safeguards against the equalitarian theory, but a long line of so-called reforms, such as direct election of senators, initiative, referendum and recall, election of judges, redistricting to obtain near equality in numbers of voters in our election districts, and paralyzing restrictions on the police in their efforts to control crime, have just about swept away the advantages of the republican form of government and are fast bringing upon us more and more democracy. A democracy of God-fearing people who follow devoutly and earnestly the moral law of God, would be ideal. But unfortunately we have just about eliminated God and His moral law.

In my youth the people had great confidence in rectitude. It was generally recognized that some things were right and other things were wrong. One who adhered resolutely to the standard of always doing right had no fear of getting into trouble and seldom lost hope and faith that he would eventually conquer his handicaps and problems and achieve success. His courage sprang from the fact

WASHINGTON:

Written In Sorrow But With Pride

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Thousands of children were born deaf or very hard of hearing as a result of the nationwide German measles epidemic a few years back.

The whole country was hit hard. It isn't even known how many deaf and extremely hard-of-hearing youngsters enter school and fail their subjects. Teachers think of them as retarded. No one realizes their handicap.

The recognized ones are the lucky ones. Our youngest son, Johnny, is one of these. His mother had German measles late in her third month of pregnancy. He has virtually no hearing in one ear and an extreme hearing loss in the other.

The thing that most worried my wife, Helen Sue, was that Johnny might not grow up to live a normal life—that he would be a "handicapped" person. She knew that this did not have to be—Johnny is sharp as a whip. He catches on quickly, solves problems readily. But at the age of almost three, his vocabulary despite seven months of special schooling, is around 40 to 50 words.

A child with normal hearing at that age has hundreds of words in his vocabulary and understands several times as many more.

Through Johnny, Helen Sue became dedicated to making certain that as many as possible of these boys and girls could grow up to live normal lives.

She was shy. But in this she had determination. The Children's Hospital Hearing and Speech Center in Washington, D.C., is doing some remarkable experimental work. In Arlington, Va., they have enthusiastically led supplemental programs for hard-of-hearing children in elementary schools. In Fairfax, Va., the Health Department and the school system are working with children ages 2 to 6 in an imaginative preschool program. There's work going on in Maryland.

But these programs are highly experimental. There are strong differences of opinion. No one is certain of the best way to teach children who are deaf or extremely hard-of-hearing so that they can hold their own with children of the same age and intelligence. It takes great skill and patience on the part of the teacher and hours of patient work every day by the mother.

The programs are limited. They lack enough teachers, equipment and classrooms. Because of the lack of funds and experience, the programs are incomplete. In some cases, they go ahead almost on a month - to-month basis. In one area, there are classes for elementary pupils, but little help for those reaching intermediate school. In an adjoining area there are preschool classes, but little aid for school children. There is limited training for the mothers and fathers on whom success fundamentally depends. But there is a great deal of sincerity and enthusiasm.

So shy Helen Sue became a gadfly, helping here and pushing there, to encourage an expansion of the programs. She would show up one day in Washington with Johnny in tow, volunteer to be a teacher's assistant. The next day she would be in Fairfax County.

At the time of her death, quite suddenly in July, Helen Sue was throwing her enthusiasm into encouraging Fairfax County to get a fall and winter program started.

It is remarkable what one woman with a smile can do when she is determined.

that he had always done right. That put him on God's side, and one with God is a majority. When people have that kind of faith and live up to such ideals, men become invincible, and society strides steadily forward.

There was respect for distinction and accomplishment in those days. We delighted to honor men who had excelled in achievement. They made clear the goal for the rest of us. Instead of pulling them down, we sought to imitate them. That kind of ideology tends to upgrade society. The ideal is to strive for equality by all stretching up to a higher level. In contrast, today the goal seems to be to strive toward equality by dragging down those who have achieved a higher level—down to the common denominator.

The conclusion of the whole matter then, is that we must choose God or perish.

When Adolf Hitler's conquering armies swept down the Hungarian plain, then moved westward along the Danube until they stood at the shores of the Black Sea, they furthered a hatred of Germany which Communist governments nurtured carefully for 20 years. This correspondent recalls the bitter remark of a Hungarian woman one day in Budapest. "Every time we have had trouble," she said, "the Germans have been at the bottom of it."

It wasn't quite true, for over the centuries the Russians and the Turks also had left their scars on Central Europe.

Language Link
But if the temporary conquerors left behind a heritage of hatred, they also had spread a knowledge of the German tongue which in successive years West German salesmen could exploit even over the barrage of anti-German propaganda booming from government radios.

As for the Germans they had learned the beauties of the Black Sea coast and had turned it into a vacation meeting ground for families split between the two Germanies.

Until the beginning of 1967, it largely was without the help of the West German government. Then the new West German coalition government, with Christian Democrat Kurt Georg Kiesinger as chancellor and Socialist Willy Brandt as foreign minister, took over and began pressing vigorously for its own opening to the East.

Americans Urge Carmichael Be Put Under Wraps

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice and State Departments are receiving thousands of letters from irate Americans urging that black power militant Stokely Carmichael be arrested and returned to the United States or prosecuted for sedition.

The letters, officials said, tend to blame the Johnson administration for allowing Carmichael to travel to Communist Cuba where he has called for organized guerrilla warfare in American cities.

Many letter writers have urged that if Carmichael does return to the United States from the Communist meeting, he be deprived of his American nationality and prosecuted for treason.

The Justice Department has clamped a tight lid on speculation about the possibility of sedition charges being filed against Carmichael. Sources said, however, that he has been under close scrutiny since the summer of 1966.

A department spokesman conceded Carmichael's Havana statements are under review, but said he has stayed until now within court-defined boundaries of allowable free speech and is still legally untouchable by federal prosecutors.

At this point, it would appear impossible either to prosecute Carmichael for treason or take away his citizenship, the spokesman said.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto, and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; and providing for a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which has been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General and Office of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finances. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on the Board shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature."

"The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of the Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board and powers that same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present."

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which heretofore have been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformity with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes provided in this section shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remaining in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund."

"When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, shall be set aside and remain a part of said Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, and shall be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party."

"The Veterans' Land Board shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation. All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund."

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by said Board in such quantities, on such terms, at such prices, at such rates of interest and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law to retire all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, not less than ninety (90) continuous days, unless sooner discharged by reason of a service-connected disability, on active duty in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard or Marine Corps of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, and who, upon the date of filing his or her application to purchase any such land is a citizen of the United States, is a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, and has not been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces above-named and who at the time of his or her application, induction, commissioning, or drafting was a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, or who has resided in Texas at least five (5) years prior to the date of filing his or her application. The foregoing notwithstanding, any lands in the Veterans' Land Fund which have been first offered for sale to veterans and which have not been sold may be sold or re-sold to such purchasers, in such quantities, and on such terms, at such prices and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, may be used by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recordation fees, advertising and other like costs necessary or incidental to the purchase and sale, or re-sale, of any lands purchased or hereafter purchased by said Board, such expenses to be added to the price of such lands when sold, or re-sold, by said Board; for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the interest or principal due to become due on any such additional bonds.

"All of the moneys attributable to any series of bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board (a series of bonds being all of the bonds issued and sold in a single transaction as a single installment of bonds) may be used for the purchase of lands as herein provided, to be sold as herein provided, for a period ending eight (8) years after the date of sale of such series of bonds; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on bonds heretofore issued and sold shall be set aside for that purpose in accordance with the resolution adopted by said Board authorizing the issuance and sale of such series of bonds. After such eight (8) year period, all of such moneys shall be set aside for the retirement of any bonds heretofore and hereafter issued and sold to pay interest thereon, together with any expenses incurred herein, in accordance with the resolution or resolutions authorizing the issuance and sale of such additional bonds, until there are sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold, at which time all such moneys remaining in the Veterans' Land Fund shall be governed as elsewhere provided herein.

"This Amendment being intended only to establish a basic framework and not to be a comprehensive treatment of the Veterans' Land Program, there is hereby reposed in the Legislature full power to implement and effectuate the design and objects of this Amendment, including the power to delegate such duties, responsibilities, functions, and authority to the Veterans' Land Board as it believes necessary."

"Should the Legislature enact any enabling laws in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature."

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:

"FOR the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

"AGAINST the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the resolution adopted by said election and this amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Pioneer Keeps Busy Making 'Knick-knacks' For Friends

By LARRY HOLLIS
News Staff Writer

When most people reach the age of 91, they are content to sit in a rocking chair. But others, like L. F. Noe, 91, still enjoy making use of their time in various pursuits.

Noe, who celebrates his 91st birthday today, has developed a hobby of making knick-knacks to keep himself busy. Using a workshop in his garage, Noe has made wishing wells, jewel boxes, pla cushion holders, plaques and lamps. Most are made basically of white pine and red wood, but they are decorated with walnut and pecan shells, marbles, paint father was a farmer. While young he traveled a lot and first entered Texas when he was 18 years of age.

In 1896 Noe was a member of the Missouri volunteers, third company, of the Army, when he was about 21. He served as a private during the Spanish-American War, but he never left the United States.

As far as he knows, he is the only Spanish-American War veteran living in Pampa.

During his life, Noe has worked as a farmer and rancher, insurance salesman, druggist and real estate salesman.

Before his marriage, Noe sold insurance in Waterloo, Iowa. He married Anna E. Murray, who was a teacher at a high school at Edmond, Okla., in 1909. She passed away in 1943.

Living in Oklahoma for several years, Noe and his family then traveled from Arnett, Okla., by covered wagon to Morristown, near Spearman, where they pioneered in 1916.

They built a hen-house and lived in it until the regular house was constructed. They had to walk a quarter-mile to get water.

After living on the ranch for 22 years, until 1938, Noe moved to Sunray, where he worked first in the real estate business and later in a drugstore. He was working as a druggist when he retired "about 25 years ago."

He moved to Pampa in 1951. For several years after his retirement, Noe went fishing in the Northwest.

"I still like to fish," Noe said, "and dance."

He still goes dancing in Pampa and Amarillo. Noe said he does not "care anything about square dancing." Instead, he goes "round dancing."

Noe and his wife had four children. One of their daughters, Mrs. Frances Perkins, 2000 Coffee, has taught third grade at Horace M. A. Elementary School in Pampa.

IRISH MAY COMPLAIN
ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The statue in front of the suburban Wellston City Hall was transformed, by paint, from a Negro stable boy to a leprechaun after civil rights leaders complained.

Police chief Jack Hetey said "I just hope we don't get any complaints from the Irish now."

COMMEMORATE MARX
LONDON (UPI)—A Greater London Council plaque will be unveiled Saturday on the building in London's Soho district where Karl Marx and his family lived in poverty for five years in the 1850s. The building is now a restaurant named Quo Vadis.

Christian Church Activities Planned

Rev. J. W. Duke will preach for the morning service of First Christian Church Sunday.
He has chosen as his sermon topic "Good Without God" with scripture Psalms 36: 5-12. Associate Minister, Rev. C. M. Grow, and Dr. T. J. Wright, will assist.
A quartet consisting of Mrs. Paul Reimer, Charles Vance and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lafon will sing. Miss Rosemary Lawlor will direct the adult choir.
The remainder of the Sunday schedule includes God and Country Classes at 5 p.m. conducted in the minister's study; Snack Supper at 5:30 p.m. and Evening Youth Groups meeting at 6 p.m.

SOME CURFEW!
BONO, Ark. (UPI)—The town council has imposed an 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew on the 339 residents of this rural community to check arising tide of vandalism.

The ordinance provides that anyone having a legitimate reason to stay out during curfew hours can arrange to do so by getting a pass from the town marshal. There's only one catch—Bono has no town marshal.

Police protection and correctional institutions in the United States during 1965 cost $3.8 billion.
