Kosygin Ends Talks in Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin ended four days of talks with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro today and flew off to Paris for one more summit conference en route home.

Kosygin's flight plan called for a stop at Gander, Newfoundland, en route to Paris and a meeting Saturday with French President Charles de Gaulle.

As his plane took off, dispatches from Moscow said Soviet President Nikolai A. Podgorny was leaving for conferences with Syrian officials in Damascus. Podgorny already has visited Cairo in the wake of the Arab Israeli war.

Havana Radio clocked Kosygin's takeoff in an Ilyushin-18 turboprop airliner at 7:45 a.m. CDT. The Federal Aviation Agency in Miami reported the takeoff at 8:31 a.m.

Although there were reports Kosygin might make a fueling stop in New York, his flight plan called for a direct trip to Paris with a Gander refueling stop.

Kosygin has been on the road since June 17, when he arrived in New York to address the United Nations General Assembly on the Mideast crisis and later held two meetings with President Johnson at Glassboro, N.J.

Cuba's government controlled newspapers and radio stations gave no information on the talks beyond bare announcements.

Queen's Visit Highlights Centennial

OTTAWA (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II, whose royal visit highlights Canada's centennial, today was acting out her role as the nation's sovereign at a wreath-laying ceremony at the National War Memorial unveiled by her father, King George VI, in 1939.

The queen and her husband, Prince Philip, were welcomed enthusiastically here Thursday night to begin a week-long stay honoring the 100th anniversary of Canada's confederation.

The wreath was being laid at the memorial honoring Canadians killed in Europe in both world wars.

The ceremony was to begin at 1 p.m. CDT.

The mood turns from solemnity shortly thereafter as the royal party moves from Confederation Square to the rambling lawns in front of Canada's gothic stone parliament buildings.

Today is the eve of Canada's Centennial and a group of folk singers was entertaining on the lawn with an hour-long pageant celebrating the dominion's French, Anglo-Saxon, Ukrainian, Jewish and Chinese communities.

The 41-year-old monarch and Prince Philip end their official day with a gala state dinner.

Ky Withdraws From Viet Race

SAIGON (UPI)—Premier Nguyen Cao Ky agreed today to withdraw from South Vietnam's presidential race and run for vice president on a ticket of his main rival, Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, government officials announced.

They said the young premier bowed to the wishes of his colleagues on the Armed Forces Council, the South Vietnamese generals and admirals who have ruled the country the past two years.

Ky had been considered the leading candidate in the September presidential election.

But today's announcement appeared to end the Ky-Thieu rivalry for the presidency and indicated a clear victory for Thieu in a contest for support among the military leaders.

They said Kosygin probably warned Castro that Russia would not bale him out of trouble if his plans to revolutionize Latin America go awry.

(Castro, these sources said, was annoyed at what he believes is Russian timidity in supporting revolutionary movements. He reportedly asked also for more aid, including military assistance.)

FTC REVEALS Advertising Campaigns Costing America at Gas Pump

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Costly advertising campaigns have deprived U.S. gasoline buyers of savings at the gas pump, according to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

This was one of the forces the commission described Thursday in a report on how major oil companies use "recurring industries"

Jets Resume Bombing Over Haiphong Area

Soviets Claim Raid Damaged USSR Ship

SAIGON (UPI)—American warplanes raiding North Vietnam bombed the outskirts of the port city of Haiphong twice and ripped the Hoa Lac MIG fighter base for the 10th time, U.S. spokesmen said today.

The Soviet Union promptly claimed the Haiphong raiding Thursday damaged a Russian ship.

U.S. spokesmen said Navy A4 Skyhawks from 7th Fleet aircraft carriers in the Tonkin Gulf hit the Loi Dong oil depot 4 miles from Haiphong's heart and the Cong My shipping point 4.5 miles from the great port's center.

In other of the day's 152 missions, U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs raked Hoa Lac field 20 miles west of Hanoi, catching two MIGs on the ground.

In Moscow, the Russians claimed in a protest note that U.S. planes dumped anti-personnel bombs on the ship Mikhail Frdnze in Haiphong's port. They listed no casualties.

Earlier this month, the Soviets claimed U.S. jets strafed the Russian ship Turkistan June 2 in North Vietnamese waters, killed one sailor and wounded two with 20mm cannon fire.

In Washington, U.S. officials said they had no information on Thursday's raiding of Haiphong.

U.S. high command spokesmen here reported the Navy raiding against the port city targets and the Air Force bombing of the MIG base produced fires, smoke and secondary explosions.

The Haiphong targets formed one of the key petroleum and weapons supply points for the North Vietnamese. The MIG base once guarded the huge industrial complex around Hanoi.

Reds Killed

In South Vietnam, allied troops counted casualties after two especially hard-fought battles near Saigon. On the central coast American troops killed at least 73 guerrillas.

In tragic accidents of war, U.S. rocket and artillery fire hit American forces, killing two and injuring nine, spokesmen said.

North of Saigon today U.S. troops found bodies of Communists and government soldiers piled up and mingled in the jungles of war zone D. It marked the site of an allied battle plan that did not work out.

Tipped off by a deserter who even provided a Communist battle map, Vietnamese troops had stormed into the jungle in search of 600 Viet Cong. The (See JETS, Page 3)

There was another element. Latin American nations continued their own efforts to come up with a proposal that would gain wide approval in the 12-nation General Assembly.

Diplomats said the Latin American proposal included demands for Israeli troop withdrawal, disengagement of armies, assurances of non-belligerency and guarantees of free passage of Israeli ships through the Aqaba Gulf.

The behind-the-scenes maneuvering overshadowed the general debate in the assembly, which was scheduled to wind up today.

The Assembly would then turn to Yugoslavia's request for a priority vote on its resolution. The draft calls only for the Israeli withdrawal from all occupied Arab lands, leaving discussion of other matters stalling for the six-day war for later consideration by the Security Council.

Third Night Of Violence Shakes Buffalo Police

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Outbreaks of sniper fire, rock-throwing and looting flared into the pre-dawn hours today in Buffalo's third successive night of racial violence. At least seven persons were wounded.

Editor Mohamed Hassanein Heikal of the newspaper Al Ahram, a confidant of U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, said, "nearly 5,000 fell while courageously fighting."

Heikal said Egyptian soldiers may be asked "to make more sacrifices for their homeland in hope of victory."

His report was the first published word in Egypt on war casualties. It brought to 20,000 the reported death toll of the four main adversaries in the war.

Israel said it suffered 679 killed. Syria reported 145 killed. Jordan said June 9 as it accepted the cease-fire that 15,000 of its citizens and soldiers perished.

Egyptian Editor Says Arabs Will Still Fight

CAIRO (UPI)—Egypt's most influential editor today said his nation suffered almost 5,000 men killed in the Arab-Israeli war and warned there may be more bloodshed.

Editor Mohamed Hassanein Heikal of the newspaper Al Ahram, a confidant of U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, said, "nearly 5,000 fell while courageously fighting."

He said the Arabs are willing to resume fighting the June 5-10 war rather than negotiate peace with Israel. He said Arabs will surrender no land to Israel no matter how little. Israeli troops occupy great stretches in Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

County Officials To Meet

Gray County commissioners discuss a retirement plan for county and state employees.

County Judge S.R. Lenning Jr., will attend a meeting in Austin July 17-18 to discuss a retirement plan with other county and state officials.

The state legislators passed and Gov. John Connally signed House Bill 85 which provides for a state retirement system for county and state employees who are not already included in a retirement program.

Tariff Cuts to Drop Costs Of Champagne and Cheese

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It's going to take a while, but eventually the Kennedy Round tariff cuts will show up in the American shopper's market basket in such ways as a six-cent drop in the cost of French champagne and 15 cents off on a pound of imported roquefort cheese.

And food is only one category of goods among thousands that will be affected by the recently negotiated reductions, U.S. officials said Thursday in announcing some details of the agreements.

Under the big trade deal, the countries agreed to tariff reductions averaging 35 per cent on industrial goods and substantially smaller percentages on farm products.

In all, duties will be slashed on $40 billion of the world's imports ranging from steel ingots to grapefruit.

The participants also agreed to set a higher floor under the world price of wheat, give 4.5 million tons of grain a year to hungry nations, and streamline procedures for controlling the "dumping" of goods in foreign markets.

U.S. officials called the Kennedy Round accords, named for the late President John F. Kennedy who was a principal force in initiating the negotiations, "the most comprehensive assault on barriers to international trade that has ever taken place."

Most tariffs will be cut in five equal annual stages, probably beginning next Jan. 1.

The full six-cent cut in the price of a bottle of French champagne and 15-cent cut in a pound of roquefort will not be reached until 1972, for example.

Israel Speeds Up Jerusalem Annex Pending US Call

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Israel tightened her hold on the former Jordanian sector of Jerusalem today. Israeli officials sought to make their annexation an accomplished fact before the U.N. General Assembly can pass any resolution calling on them to withdraw.

According to official sources, Israeli officials expect further world criticism of the annexation.

The Israeli government in any event has stated firmly it will not in any circumstance abandon the old sector of Jerusalem regardless of world pressure to do so.

In an exclusive interview with UPI, Mayor Teddy Kollek, who now governs the whole city of 250,000, said, "I am perfectly convinced this reunification of the city will work."

"Now the decision has been taken, I shall carry it out enthusiastically," he said. "It is the first major confrontation of Arabs and Jews in one city since Jerusalem was divided 19 years ago."

Kollek said the city council he heads already has succeeded in unifying all municipal services and utilities in the three weeks since the Israeli army conquered the old city.

He said Jerusalem now has only single systems for water, gas, electricity, sewage, garbage-collecting, slaughterhouse, postal, telephone, police and schools.

Kollek said large quantities of basic foodstuffs have been shipped into the old city and that it now has plenty of everything.

This was evident to visitors who toured the old city Thursday immediately after all barriers between the two halves of Jerusalem were removed. Arab stores appeared to be loaded with foodstuffs, including meat, fruit and fresh vegetables. Arab storekeepers were trying hard to sell them to the thousands of Jews who poured in from the new city.

All barriers separating the two halves of the city were removed before noon Thursday and complete freedom of movement was established. The curfew that had existed in the old city since its occupation also was abolished.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
Principal exports of Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba are sugar and guerrillas.

The Soviet Union buys about half the sugar crop and other Latin American nations are the unwilling recipients of the guerrillas whose Cuban-supplied arms are of Soviet or allied manufacture.

Thus, although Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and Castro do not always see eye to eye, they do have common interests.

In the United Nations, Kosygin's
Cuban stop-over after his Glassboro meetings with President Johnson generally is regarded as a fence-mending mission which Soviet representatives now will be undertaking to offset Red Chinese charges that they so'd out the Arabs.

Since this is also close to Castro's view, it provides ready understanding for the chill which pervaded the tropic air
when Kosygin's turbo-prop
Llyushin 18 settled down at Havana's airport.

Both men undoubtedly felt they had long-standing cause for compliment.

Long Standoff

Castro's initial complaint goes back to 1962 when the then Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev pulled his rockets out of Cuba in his confrontation with President John F. Kennedy. The full worm of Soviet Cuba relations nemver have been restored.

Ideologically, Castro's own views are much closer to the Red Chinese theory of violent revolution than to Russian coexistence, although his relations with the Chinese are in the deep freeze as result of China's renegeing on its Cuban trade pact.

More recently, he complained that while some Communist countries had been condemned for establishing relations with West Germany, at the same time there had been a rush to re-establish ties with such Latin American "oligarchies" (despots) as that of Venezuelan Presi ent Raul Leoni.

In this class he also includes President Eduardo Frey of Chile, with whom the Russians have concluded a trade agreement.

The Soviet agreement to a Middle East cease-fire without prior withdrawal of Israeli forces behind old armistice lines
he regarded as "capitulation" to the United States.

Small, Brown Spider Bigger Threat Than Black Widow

NEW YORK (UPI)—A small brown spider that bites only in self-defense presents "a greater potential hazard than the Black Widow spider," the Health Insurance Institute said today.

The spider which currently inhabits Texas and other southern states is moving north this summer, the institute said.

A recent article in the Journal of the American Medical Association noted that many of those who become ill from the bites of the "Brown Recluse" do not even know they were bitten.

The timid little spider, officially known as the Loxosceles reclusa, will go to almost any extreme to avoid humans.

Unlike the Black Widow, an outdoor species, the Recluse likes the indoors. It hides in socks, shoes, bedclothes and bites only in self-defense, the institute said.

The effect is rarely fatal, although deaths are sometimes attributed to the bite. The Recluse is only a half-inch long and one-quarter inch wide and has six eyes instead of the eight most spiders have. He can be identified by the almost perfect markings of a violin on the

Coin Club Will Host Ex-Pampan

Perry Davis, former charter member of the Top o' Texas Coin Club, will attend the regular club meeting July 6 at 7:30 p.m. in Citizens Bank and Trust Co. Hospitality Room, according to Bill Ragsdale, president.

Davis, now associated with the Midas Coin Center at Longview, Tex., will be selling coins at auction by rolls or lots, as well as a stock of coin supplies. He's closing his business in Longview.

Anyone interested in buying coins may attend the meeting, Ragsdale said.

The ToT Coin Club holds regular meetings on the first and third Thursdays of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Hospitality Room. Auctions and programs are held and door prizes given at various meetings. Ragsdale said. A library and "friendship with fellow collectors" are also provided.

WAYWARD YACHT
MARINA DEL REY, Calif.
(UPI)—Actor George Peppard's 55-foot motor yacht, "True Love," was stolen Thursday by two men and a woman and run aground at a launching ramp, sheriff's deputies said.

A harbor patrol boat spotted the $200,000 craft headed for shore. The woman jumped on to the beach and began running while her companions jumped overboard and waded ashore. Sheriff's deputies captured the trio moments later.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

The summer is here and parents generally have a full time job with their children. What should they do? This is a period of time which should be devoted to another part of yo child's education than you normally consider.

Children are normally exposed to a strenuous academic program throughout the school year. In many cases they have only limited time to pursue special interests, social activities, and recreation.

During the school year, the child has a highly structured schedule. E en his recreation is usually at a scheduled time.

Suppose we approach the summer with one basic idea. Your child needs a change of pace. He needs to relax and participate in the many activities which are not available during the school year.

Outdoor Activity
There are many things from which a child can profit during the summer. This is a time he can be outdoors playing with his friends. The young child needs to learn how to play without constant supervision and adult organization. Let him learn to organize his own games and take responsibility for such things as coming home on time.

Plan a few major activities such as a trip to the zoo, museum, movie, etc. It is always a good idea to spread these kinds of activities throughout the summer. Try ad work into your plans trips to the beach, lake or other swimming facilities.

Children usually enjoy camping, fishing, sightseeing or other similar activities. If possible children get a big thrill out of going to work with their fathers.

Depending on the age of your child, talk over your plans with him. Try and find out what he would like to do. Look in your local newspaper. There are usually many free and inexpensive activities for children of all ages.

Schools and local park authorities often run recreation programs at no cost or very small fees.

Family Togetherness
A very important area is family time. The summer usually provides many opportunities for the family to do things together. The school year often causes families to do things separately because of their varied responsibilities. A family trip, outings, or other similar activities are ideal for family fun.

Surely some children will find it necessary to pursue academic studies. If this is necessary make sure that there is some time for vacation activities. Perhaps the best school type activity for all children is reading. This can be most enjoyable and beneficial. Possibly a short reading period before bedtime would be ideal. Just remember that your child needs all kinds of activities to help him develop. He spends the school year with the major portion of his time devoted to academics. Let him spend the summer developing his social and physical skills.

The fastest track stars could not begin to match the speed of some ocean fish. The swordfish, for example, has been clocked at 60 miles an hour, says The World Almanac. The tuna can swim at a remarkable 44 miles an hour, the dolphin at 37 and the salmon at 25. Flying fish often emerge from the water at 35 miles per hour and have been observed to glide in the air for over 40 seconds.

Community Fair to Close Saturday; Autos, Parachutes, Talent Featured

"Thrillarama," an act involving automobiles, motorcycles and clowns, will be one of three featured events tonight at the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Community Fair, held at Recreation Park. Other events are a talent show and a parachuting exhibition.

Today and tomorrow are the last two days of the fair. Gates will open at 6:30 both nights, according to Everett Blackwell, general fair director.

Thrillarama, performed by Auto and Motorcycle Stuntmen from Houston, will have 20 different acts with motorcycles, autos and clowns. Featured will be Stros, with illusion mysteries from all parts of the world, and world champion crash daredevil.

Cars will be rolled end over end, crasht together head-on at high rates of speed and dive-bomb crashed from ramps. Performances will begin at 6 and 8 p.m. Admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Three parachutists will make an exhibition drop at 7:30 tonight, with another drop scheduled for the same time tomorrow night. Participating in the drops are Ben Gutierrez and Dee Goodman of Pampa and Douglas Gordon of Amarillo.

One man is expected to jump from the plane at 8,000 feet, and the other two will jump from 12,000 and attempt to criss-cross on the way down toward the large, Gutierrez said.

The second round of the talent contest open to all amateur talent, will be held at 9 o'clock tonight. Finals will be held at 9 p.m. tomorrow as contestants compete for a $25 prize.

Midway entertainment is offered by Sonny Stafford Shows.

Mrs. Clauder Wins Civil Case Here

A 12-man jury deliberating the civil case of Texas Employers Insurance Association vs. Mildred L. Clauder here yesterday, awarded Mrs. Clauder $2,221.10 for medical, hospital and surgeon's fees.

The case, being tried in 31st Judicial District Court under the Workmen's Compensation Act, was a suit on a death injury, resulting when J. L. Clauder died after a car wreck when he was returning from work.

The court awarded Mrs. Clauder $490 for physician's and surgeon's fees, $836.10 for hospital expenses for Mr. Clauder and $895 for funeral expenses.

Obituaries

E. E. Farmer

Funeral services for Elvis Edwin Farmer, 59, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church, Wheeler, conducted by the Rev. M. B. Smith of Pampa and the Rev. Dale Cain of Wheeler.

Mr. Farmer died Thursday in the Parkview Hospital, Wheeler, where he had been a patient for the past six weeks.

Born in Forestburg Sept. 21, 1907, he was married to Ida Caddell on Jan. 9, 1932, in Wheeler. He had resided here since 1927. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Wheeler Masonic Lodge.

Survivors are his wife, Ida; one son, Glen of Lubbock; three sisters, Mrs. Ina Satterfield of Pampa, Mrs. Lois Johnson, Mrs. Oneta Murray of New Orleans, La.; six brothers, Percy of Wheeler, Foy of Mobeetie, Bill, Paul, Clifford, all of Borger, Fred of Fritch and four grandsons.

Arrangements are under the direction of Wright-Denson Funeral Home in Wheeler.

R. J. Tyson

Funeral services are pending for R. J. Tyson, postmaster in Mobeetie for the past 20 years. Mr. Tyson died at 12:45 a.m. today in the Wheeler hospital.

He was born in Mullin and was a veteran of World War I; and a member of the Church of Christ in Briscoe.

Survivors are his wife, Tommie L. of the home; two sons, E. W. Johnson of Rawlins, Wyo. W. T. Johnson, of Commerce, Calif.; two daughters, Miss Nannette Tyson of Dallas, Mrs. Dora Nelson of Portland, Ore.; two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Preston of Midland, Mrs. Inez Murray of Brownwood; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Arrangements will be announced by Duenkel Funeral Home.

South Vietnamese purposely withheld artillery and air strikes against the Communists in order to keep surprise on their side.

Tanks Stopped. They hoped to trap the Viet Cong battalion but the Communists apparently were ready. Wednesday and Thursday they fought. A U.S. tank column rushed in to help government rangers but Communist "baby rockets" and brush so thick it ripped off tracks turned the tanks back.

Today the allies counted 55 Communist bodies. Government casualty figures were not issued. Eleven Americans suffered injury. Most of the Communists got away.

JACKSON HOSPITALIZED

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Philadelphia Phillies righthander Larry Jackson was hospitalized Wednesday for swollen neck glands and a sore throat five hours before he was scheduled to pitch against the New York Mets at Shea Stadium.

Three Burglaries Investigated By Sheriff's Office

Gray County Sheriff's Officers investigated three burglaries Thursday, all of which occurred sometime Wednesday night.

Criminal Deputy D. L. Day said that two of the burglaries occurred to buildings on Price Rd. and the other at Leroy Thornburg's Farm and Home Supply Co. on Garland St.

Nothing was found missing at Oil Center Tool Co. and W. L. Sommer Co. of Texas Inc., both on Price Rd.

Approximately $10 in change was taken at the supply company.

Day said all three buildings were entered through windows and that footprints found at the scene indicated two persons were involved.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Jets announced Thursday they had acquired Solomon Branan, a defensive back and kickoff specialist from the Kansas City Chiefs in return for center Mike Hudock.

Four Pampans To Attend Conclave For Lions Clubs

Four Pampans will attend the 50th anniversary of Lions Clubs International July 5-7 in Chicago, Ill., and will leave Sunday for the annual meeting.

Local convention delegates will be Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tooley and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morris. Morris is president of Pampa Noon Lions Club.

About 50,000 delegates are expected. The convention is planned in Chicago because the organization was formed in Chicago. The program will include awards for the International Lions Club peace essay contest, forums for incoming presidents, tail twisters and lion tamers and addresses by international organization's Lions Care Friend - Ship, which will take a cargo of food and other aid materials to overseas ports, Tooley said.

"My big job this year will be formation of a Lions International Eye Bank forum, so the forum can go into effect for the 1968 international convention in Dallas," Tooley said.

Tooley is also slated to work on another 1968 convention committee getting delegates to agree to a program cut into a replica of the state of Texas.

285 Attend Last Session Of Patterson Sales Clinic

Frank Patterson of the Patterson Customer Relations and Sales Clinic, demonstrated to 285 Pampans last night how they could remember names, sales points, and things they must do.

He suggested ways of personal development and stressed in his final suggestions, "Nothing works unless you do." His three day clinic ended last night at Pampa High School auditorium.

Patterson's formula for remembering names is the key word CAR, which stands for concentration, association and repetition. With a dozen volunteers from the audience, and Mrs. George Cree Jr. volunteering to demonstrate his formula, Patterson suggested a person visualize names blazing in neon lights and associate that name with a similar sounding word.

His suggestion for remembering sales points is to "determine one key word from each point and formulate a sentence using these key words. Short sentences are recommended."

To remember things to do, Patterson suggests in his class booklet, to "associate objects to be remembered with 15 words. The better your imagination is, the better your association is."

Jet Plunges Into Bay at Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI)—A Thal International Airways Caravelle jet carrying 80 persons, 48 of them Americans, plunged into Kowloon Bay today while trying to land in a blinding rainstorm spawned by a typhoon. Most of those aboard were rescued.

Hong Kong authorities said that by 9 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT) a total of 62 persons had been plucked from the water just off the tip of Kai Tak International Airport. Of these, six were dead, 38 were hospitalized and 21 treated and dismissed. Eighteen persons were missing.

Jehoval's Witnesses Prepare For 4-Day District Assembly

Family unity is an essential quality to overcoming juvenile delinquency according to Jehovah's Witnesses who are preparing for a four-day district assembly in Amarillo.

"The resulting togetherness that comes about from family worship is a bulwark against delinquency," Charles Regal, Pampa presiding member, told members of the Pampa congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses as he reviewed the local plans being made to attend the assembly.

His report on the event, which is attracting delegates from 15 states, included a review of previous conventions Pampa Witnesses have attended.

About 50 Pampa Witnesses will attend the assembly, which is one of more than 85 planned this summer in the United States, Canada and the British Isles.

"The convention in Amarillo, stated yesterday through Sunday, is designed for all family members" Regal said. "This, in itself, is a defense mechanism against delinquency because it adds to family unity and is an aid to overcoming the problem plaguing all nations."

"Children get more out of deep and involved lectures, also discussions of the Bible than most people realize. That's why Jehovah's Witnesses do not gather their young people into special interest groups with planned programs for different age levels," he added.

"Children are encouraged to participate in the assembly," Regal said. "It is our belief a religion worth accepting is worth talking about and following. We encourage an active interest in our faith—not a passive one."

Assembly delegates are asked to bring their Bibles and notebooks to participate in Bible courses and classes in witnessing for the Christian faith.

One of the assembly features will be a mass baptism of more than 100 students who have taken the Witnesses' discipleship training. Convention officials expect the mass baptism to be the largest ever conducted by the Witnesses in the Amarillo area.

The special feature Sunday afternoon, final day of the assembly, will be a public address entitled, "Rescuing a Great Crowd of Mankind out of Armageddon." The address will be given in both English and Spanish.

Secret voting in national elections became federal law in 1873.

The birth frequency in the world is about 33 for every 1,000 persons, the death rate 18.

Jimmy Conner Will Assist Witnesses

Jimmy Garland Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Conner, 517 Powell, has been assigned to assist in the auditing department of the four-day district assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Amarillo.

The assembly started yesterday and will continue through Sunday. Conner, presiding minister of Amarillo South Congregation, spoke at the opening meeting yesterday on "Are You Ready for Life in a New Order?"

Conner said his assignment in Amarillo would be correlating records between food receiving and auditing. The program will contain information on the form of constructive discourses, demonstrations, and Biblical dramas vital to the work of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Conner, who has been a minister of Jehovah's Witnesses 12 years, is a former Berger resident and was presiding minister here four years.

World of Religion

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The World Council of Churches has asked its 200 member denominations to contribute $2 million to an emergency fund to aid victims of the Mideast war.

The council, which includes most of the world's major Protestant and orthodox bodies, said the money will be used in "compassionate work among distressed of all nationalities and religions in every country affected by the conflict."

The Roman Catholic relief agency, Caritas International, also is raising money to assist war victims.

The Rev. Dr. Marshal L. Scott, chairman of the United Presbyterian Church's commission on religion and race, believes that "the real test" of the churches' commitment to racial justice "is just now coming."

Many white church members, who once espoused desegregation in a vague spirit of good will, are now frightened by "black power" and urban rioting, he says.

"It was no distinction for a church to be involved in racial work four years ago, but it takes commitment to stay in it now."

The Protestant magazine "Christian Century" published this week an article which, the editors said, "is likely to become the subject of controversy."

The author, Dr. James P. Carve, asserts that the church should not only condone but "by every reasonable means encourage marriage between persons of different races."

Dr. Carve, a religion instructor at New York University, argues that interracial marriage can do more than any number of civil rights laws to break down barriers of mutual prejudice and hostility between whites and Negroes.

He supports this thesis with the observation that "the one area in America where interracial marriage has been frequent—Hawaii—is also the area in which racial prejudice is least in evidence."

He says the argument most frequently made against interracial marriage is that "the children of such unions will experience considerable hardships and disadvantages."

"The fact is, disadvantages visited upon such children arise not out of their 'mixed' parentage but out of their being 'Negro.' If the church is to be consistent, it cannot single out the children of interracial marriages as victims of cruelty. The church must be concerned for everyone who suffers any kind of injustice."

The new statement of doctrine of the United Presbyterian Church known as "the Confession of 1967," has attracted favorable comment from a prominent Catholic theologian.

Fr. John B. Shaerin, C.S.P., editor of the Catholic World, said he is "impressed by its close correspondence to Catholic belief."

"True, there are differences," he said, one of the biggest being that the Presbyterian document does not acknowledge the authority of the Pope.

"In general, however, we are surprised to find so many similarities rather than differences in Catholic and Presbyterian teachings."

Specifically, he said the Confession's statements about the Bible, which some Protestant fundamentalists protested as too weak "are not far from the Catholic teaching on the scriptures."

The Presbyterian statement says that the Bible, while given under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, is nevertheless written "in the words of men, conditioned by the language, thought forms and literary fashions of the places and times at which they were written."

First Baptist Church Names Music Director

Rev. Randall Purvis has accepted the position of minister of music and youth for First Baptist Church and will assume his duties here Monday.

A native of Tyler, he was formerly a worker in First Baptist Church, Dallas. He and his wife, Rosemary, have two sons, Randy, 8 years, and Richie, 4 years.

A graduate of Howard Payne College, with a bachelor of music degree, he also attended the Southwestern Seminary of Music. Mrs. Purvis graduated from Howard Payne College with a degree in elementary education.

He replaces Rev. Sam Allen who will resign tomorrow to do full-time music evangelistic work. For a while Rev. Allen and his family will remain in Pampa.

The Rev. Dan B. Cameron, First Baptist Church pastor here will preach for both services Sunday. At the 11 a.m. service he has chosen "What is Death?" for his sermon subject and has taken a text from I Corinthians 15:18-19. This is the first sermon in a series on "Death" the pastor will preach on Sunday mornings.

Mack Hiatt, Jr. will direct congregational singing and present special numbers. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "God Himself Is With Us" by Neander for the offertory.

"Two Mule Loads of Dirt" is the topic the pastor will discuss in the 7 p.m. sermon. His text is from II Kings 5:15-19. "Where He Leads Me" by Landon will be the organ offertory.

REV. RANDALL PURVIS at First Baptist

Missionaries Set Bethel Assembly Program Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. David L. Tyree, newly appointed missionaries to Costa Rica, will be guest speakers at the Bethel Assembly of God in the Sunday morning service, the pastor William F. Blakley said.

They have just returned from the School of Missions in Springfield, Mo. The Tyree family, which includes Rev. and Mrs. Tyree and three children, Phil, Theresa and Mike, will leave for Costa Rica as soon as their itinerary is completed.

Rev. and Mrs. Tyree are alumni of Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahatchie. He has served as pastor of Assemblies of God churches in New Mexico before he received the missionary appointment.

Minister to Preach Here Sunday For First Christian Church Members

Rev. J. W. Duke will preach for the morning services Sunday, at First Christian Church. The Associate Minister, Rev. C. M. Grow, will preach in the Berger First Christian Church for the Rev. Kenneth Jones, who recently suffered a heart attack and is unable to be in the pulpit at this time.

The Adult Choir, directed by Miss Rosemary Lawlor and accompanied by Mrs. John Gill, will sing the anthem "Seek Ye the Lord" by Roberts with Miss Joanne Hill as soloist. Miss Hill will also present the offertory anthem "Hear Ye Israel from Elijah" by Mendelssohn.

Because of the Fourth of July holidays the church will not have any of its regularly scheduled evening meetings, but the Evening Youth Groups and Snack Supper will resume July 9.

REV. MARTIN HAGER preaches Sunday

Ex-Pampan To Address Council Meet

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. - The Rev. Louis Gene Nealey, 27, 1958 graduate of Pampa High School, and an Assemblies of God evangelist since 1959, has been named to address his denomination's 32nd biennial General Council business meeting in August.

Rev. Nealey is a native of Loveland, Colo., and a resident of El Paso. He will speak during the evening service Aug. 26, before an estimated 10,000 at the Long Beach, Calif., arena.

One of five evening speakers during the convention, Rev. Nealey has conducted evangelistic meetings in most of the continental United States. He also worked four months on evangelistic missions in Argentina, Brazil, Guyana, and Uruguay.

He attended Odessa College in Odessa before he started his ministry in 1949. He was ordained last year by the West Texas District Council of the Assemblies of God.

Rev. Nealey and his wife, the former Mari K. Stover, were married Dec. 21, 1962, in Farmington, N.M.

New Pastor To Preach Here Sunday

The First Presbyterian Church will hear its new pastor, the Rev. W. Martin Hager, at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday. His sermon topic will be "Vocation," using the second epistle of Peter as the textual basis.

Ruling Elder Boyd Taylor will assist with both services. At the 11 a.m. service, Mrs. George Budd will present the offertory "He Shall Feed His Flock" from Handel's "Messiah."

The church organist, Mrs. Fedilia Yeder, will accompany Mrs. Budd and will play "Mantosa" and "Invocation" and "Postlude in D Minor" for her postlude selections.

Rev. Hager and his family moved to Pampa this week from Stephenville, where he was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church two years. He is a graduate of Millikin University of Decatur, Ill. and Austin Seminary. He has worked at both the Presbytery and the Synod level, as well as in community activities while serving in the Stephenville Church.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Rev. L. B. Davis
Progressive Baptist Church
836 S. Gray

2 Cor. 12:9 "And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee, for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

Our subject brings before us to-day the cruel punishment of the cross inflicted first by the Romans upon their servants, who had perpetrated crimes, or robbers, assassins, and rebels, among whom Jesus, Christ, our Redeemer, was reckoned on the ground that he made himself king. It is said that the words in which the sentence was given were, "Thou shalt go to the cross." The person who was subjected to this punishment was deprived of his clothing, excepting something around the loins, and in this state of nudity he was beaten sometime with rods, but generally with whips. Many died under this flagellation, but Jesus was crowned with thorns and made the subject of mockery. Insults of this kind were not among them ordinarily. This was owing to a petulant spirit of the Romans. The criminal, having been beaten, was made to carry his cross to the place of punishment, which was commonly to the hill near the public way out of the city. The cross usually bore the crime for which the criminal was hanged, with the inscription written on the transverse beam. There seems to be no record in history to indicate what their feet rest upon, but it is recorded that the criminal was nailed to the cross, with one nail in each hand and foot, this being flayed by man. But in this christian warfare it is not a punishment of a transverse beam of wood, but a broken heart; not a suffering where the rebel makes remarks, but an agonizing suffering of the soul. But I hear the voice of the Lord saying, "My grace is sufficient for thee."

I. Sufficient Grace in the Time of Need.
Such grand encouragement for the truehearted is all that seems necessary in times like these. The writer is suffering from sickness and is now undergoing such a burden; but the Lord would have us to know that we must not seek to escape the cross. Even directly from Satan, something personal is following Paul, because he refers to the thorn in the flesh (sharp pain or shame), but he hurls the spark of fire from his truth, saying "My grace is sufficient for thee."

II. Perfect Strength To Over Come Weakness.
The apostle is now in a vision. "I knew a man some years ago—whether in the body or out—I do not know, God knoweth such an one—but any way, he was caught up into the third heaven and heard things too wonderful for me," so coacting about in his mind, he said, of myself, I will not glory, but in mine infirmities. His natural condition is here called in and shows patience, being made perfect, undergoing sore afflictions. It was three time on the mount of Oliver that Jesus prayed he might not be lifted too high in his own heart. The trial must endure, but grace must also endure and never fail.

III. The Reality Of His Glory Upon Me That The Power Of Christ May Rest Upon Me.

In this weakness this power has its most untold manifestation. This power move coincident with this grace. His is perfected in man. I charge you, today, that the Lord has more need for our weakness than of our strength. Our strength is against him, his servants drawing on his resources, and showing forth his glory. Man's extremity is God's opportunity. He always goes to far leaning upon himself. Then it is a loving Father that sends the Holy Spirit to lead him back again; and here is manifested the untold love of God. Man's Security is Satan's Opportunity. (a) God's way is not to take his children away from trials, but to give them strength to stand against them, and under an every day life the consolation comes to each one of his children here below, "My grace is sufficient for thee." (b) In no time is God's opportunity more pregnant than when the malady of sin approaches so heavily, that a smile from our Father's house says "I give you perfect strength to over come weakness." (c) The true Christian finds infirmities. "Therefore", said he, "I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, and in distresses, for Christ's sake: for when I am weak then am I strong."

Shades' Are Hip Gear Now Rating As 'In' Thing To Do,

By PATRICIA KING
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — If you haven't noticed that it's hip to wear glasses, you don't have a teen-aged daughter or son running to your dinner table.

The most common place to end sun or eyeglasses this season, after you rule out the most obvious, is perched on top of the head.

Sunglasses have become "shades," and are worn for more than keeping the sun from delicate retinas. They are just as important to today's young crowd as headbands.

Tailored frames, some spectacular in their simplicity, are what's really new. Gone are the fancy and ornately jeweled models.

Popular rock singing groups are responsible for influencing young people today in the world of fashion and beauty. This is what revived the Ben Franklin look — small, metal-rimmed, square or oblong glasses.

Stealing the spotlight at the moment are the huge goggles, wraparounds and a variety of squares, rectangles and ovals. Frames range from tortoise shell and nylon to plastic. Most mod are the Op Art bold geometric designs.

On the beauty scene it's cosmetically important to consider hair color and complexion when selecting your frames.

With a warm rosy complexion, brunettes look striking in stark white frames, blondes in blue - silver and platinum in dark tortoise.

With a cool beige complexion, brunettes look pretty in gold, medium tortoise and black, blondes in pastels and gray-haired gals in deep colors.

Black, the deep smoky colors, medium dark tortoise shell and green are recommended for red heads.

The most flattering shades for a light golden suntan are black, green and the pastels. For a deep tawny tan, try the dark amber of tortoise shell or white.

Surprising as it may sound, to add to your beauty a set of manners must be added to the new experience of wearing eyeglasses. Don't continually take off and put on glasses while talking to others. It can become an annoying habit.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: After 12 years of marriage and two children, I learned that my husband had a girl friend. She's a divorcee, and nothing special by anybody's standards. He admitted that it had been going on for two years. Abby, we had a good marriage and a good sex life, so that was not it.

I divorced him, loving him and hating him at the same time. Our divorce has been final for over a year, and he has not married the other woman. What is stopping him? He's free now.

My question: Why would a married man fool around and risk losing a wife who loved him and children who idolized him, and then not jump at the chance to marry the woman who caused it all?

Now comes a bill for $19.99 for my gown. Abby, I had nothing to do with selecting it. I'll never wear it again, and I really did Yetta a favor by wearing it. Should I pay it? I don't want a family fight, but I was under the impression that if the bride selects the gowns without consulting the bridesmaids, she should pay for them.

LOOKED LIKE A MONKEY
DEAR LOOKED: You should not be expected to pay for the gown, but in the interest of family harmony—pay it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO T. J.: Do not confuse knowledge with wisdom. Knowledge is an accumulation of facts. Wisdom is knowing what to do with those facts.

NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: Probably because he didn't ever really want her for a steady diet. Only an appetizer. Some married men are fascinated with "playing house." They enjoy dreaming, planning, and verbalizing with somebody else, secure in the knowledge that it will never materialize, since they're safely married. But when circumstances change, and the fantasies become a reality, the "dream" suddenly loses its appeal.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is going to marry a man who has some Negro blood in him. (One of his grandparents was a Negro.) I have seen him and his color is not very dark. My friend is very blonde, being of Swedish and German descent. She claims their children will be no darker than her husband. I say there is always a chance of a throwback to one of his darker ancestors and she could have a coal-black baby.

I know I'm right, but she's the type you can't tell anything to, so please put your answer in the paper so I can show it to her.

HER FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: I hope you will show this to her even though you're wrong, because you are. When two individuals marry, only if there is Negro ancestry on BOTH sides, is the kind of "throwback" you describe possible. The rule is: A child will be no darker than his darkest parent.

DEAR ABBY: Last month my brother married a girl I'll call Yetta. I was one of six bridesmaids. Yetta picked out all the bridesmaids' gowns without asking any of the bridesmaids what I wore. I told her a 14, but my dress came in 12, and even with the seams let out it was so tight I couldn't sit down in it. Besides, it was green and I can't wear green.

The bridesmaids' hats were like baby bonnets, and I looked like a monkey with my short hair and that thing on my head.

That Oily Hair Problem
Long straight hairstyles are ideal for women with dry or normal hair but can be a problem for those with oily hair. Excess oil causes hair to separate, making it difficult to maintain the smooth look essential to the beauty of straight styles as that oily hair isn't too much of a problem, be sure to shampoo frequently using a mild shampoo. Wash hair twice, making certain it's squeaky clean after the second rinse. Try a thorough brushing before each shampoo, using a brush that is a thin piece of gauze wrapped around the bristles. This helps to eliminate excess oil.

MILDEST SHAMPOO
The process of straightening causes hair to become delicate, even more so than bleaching. For that reason it should be treated to the mildest shampoo possible. Be sure to rinse hair thoroughly and always use warm (never hot) water and set hair while it is still wet, using the largest rollers possible.

GILBERT'S

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Beef tip sirloin butt steak.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?
A. It comes from the hindquarter of beef, specifically the section known as the tip or knuckle. This is right next to the sirloin section, as well as below the round or leg. The steaks are boneless and the fat follows a pattern similar to that of round steak in that most of it is in the edging.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By broiling if the meat is of high quality. This means using a dry heat method as is used for steaks from the short loin or sirloin sections. This steak is also marinated and broiled. It is excellent to use for cutting into cubes to be used for kabobs, to be broiled out-of-doors on the grill. If it's cut thin, pan-broiling is the method to use.

Black 'N White Swings On Scene

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — For summer, pastels have gone bright and brown has come into its own. But the staccato beat of black and white still holds top place in new, swingy shapes.

The current black and white rage could be due to the influence on fashion of a recent New York art-gallery showing of the work of Aubrey Beardsley, pen-and-ink illustrator of the Victorian era. Or it may well be the enduring qualities of black and white that keep the combination coming back again and again as a great cool look. This summer's black and whites are turned out in a great variety of prints— wavy stripes, coin-size dots, abstract animal prints and Persian motifs.

TAKE CARE OF EYES

Eyes come just two to a customer, and since they bring up 80 per cent of all knowledge and our actions, tender care is es- guide more than 90 per cent of eyes checked at least once a year. Remove eye make-up thoroughly each night with a light cream or moisturizing cleanser, then smooth on your favorite eye cream for further pampering.

Award, has turned these prints into a group of young, with-it dresses for Pat Richards. They're versatile junior-size fashions that lend themselves to any vacation plans the summer may have in store. In textured Caprolan nylon jersey they are well-suited to travel.

There's a cool, off-the-shoulder smock, a perfect day-through - dancing dress in wavy stripes interspersed with dots, a slim, long-sleeved shift in a Persian stripe and an empire-shaped dress, wrapped snugly around the midriff that is done in a combination of three black and white prints. There are kite shapes and pantdresses, too, plus a swirlly tent or two.

Soak Those Split Ends

If hair splits are a problem, try soaking ends in baby oil and sitting under a dryer for 45 to 60 minutes. Wash hair until it's squeaky clean and follow with a mild cream rinse. Now your hair is ready for setting and drying and no split ends.

MINIDRESS with MINIPANTS

The minimoods of summer are combining the minidress thrown over matching minipants. The always-in-fashion shirt takes unruffled edges just touching the pants underneath. Have yours in high-belted coat-dress, crisp A-line with sleeves cut high, or modified tent with reaching side slits. Just don't forget those peeking pants underneath.

Soothe Eyes With Drops

The only beautiful eyes are healthy eyes. The cleverest makeup can't conceal irritated or overworked eyes. Treat yours to a beauty bath, morning and night, with soothing eye drops. Eye drops help relieve burning, itching and irritation. Contact lens wearers, too, find eye drops soothing to eyes between wearings.

Betty Canary Badgering Getaways

By BETTY CANARY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One morning last week I called the children into the living room and said, "Sit down, darlings, and let mother tell you a story. Once upon a time, a loooooong time ago; in fact, 16 years ago . . ."

"Look, mother," Stu interrupted, "why don't you just say it's your wedding anniversary and you and dad are going away for the weekend?"

"Leave mother alone; it's her story," Rick said, and then turned all of us out. (This power he acquired on his 15th birthday.)

"Stu has a big mouth," Cissy said.

Then Babs confided that if Mrs. O'Donnell came to stay with them she was going to run away, and Stu agreed. "If Mrs. O'Donnell comes, either you get somebody to cook for her or somebody to eat for us."

"You and daddy are going to go someplace and dance together!" Cissy said.

Determined to keep control of the discussion, I serenely nodded my head and said, "Mrs. Hill is going to stay with you." Tad rolled up in the rug in front of the fireplace and moaned in ecstasy. "Pancakes and fried chicken and chocolate pudding and maybe coconut. acke and . . ."

"We are going to Chicago for the weekend and I know you will have a lovely time with Mrs. Hill."

"There's going to be an orchestra! I know it!"

"At times I have nerves of steel. Remember? You are going to the Ozarks on vacation soon."

"You told us WE could go to Chicago someday and you'll see the Museum of Science and Industry and you told us WE could go down that coal mine they have!"

"I'll bet Mrs. Hill gets sick and Mrs. O'Donnell will come and I'll run off."

"And pancakes and fried chicken and chocolate pudding. . ."

"I'll bet I get stung by a bee the way I did last year and my whole leg will swell up and you and daddy will be dancing!"

"A loooooong time ago," I said weakly, "in fact, 16 years ago. . ."

THREE PRINTS are better than one when they're all black and white and related. Bare summer cooler (left) is designed with high-wrapped waistline. The easy mobile skirt is an abstract animal print, spotted leopards against wavy stripes. The stripes stand alone on the bodice. The midriff sash is a leopard-sport print. Ornate scroll-work stripes in black and white shape into an easy-mannered dress (right). Accents of solid black are at the high yoke, shirt-cuffed sleeves and slash pockets.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Extra Piece of Pie Reward For Finding Pit

By POLLY CRAMER

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — No matter how carefully one pits cherries for a pie a pit always seems to find its way into the finished product. Our rule now is that whoever finds a pit in his serving, gets an extra slice. Everyone is on the watch and instead of tears it's cheers when a pit is found. —MRS. L.J.C.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—I do cleaning for other people and one lady has two love seats covered with cocoa brown velvet. These are always covered with lint. The pillows are stuffed with goose feathers and seem to shed and collect lint from clothing. These sofas are beautiful but quite a nuisance as it takes a lot of my time trying to remove this lint. I hope someone can give me an idea of something I could do. —MRS. S.J.

DEAR POLLY — For years I have struggled switching mattresses around. They are real back-breakers and almost impossible to turn over alone. I finally solved this so simply it is amazing. I bought fitted vinyl mattress covers (made like fitted bottom sheets) and placed them on the box springs. Now I just slide a mattress around, head to foot, and turn it over. To turn one, I slide it off the bed to the side, flip it over and slide back on the bed again with the greatest of ease. Changing the top mattress cover is also easier because it slides on. —LORRY

DEAR POLLY — To keep the television antenna stay wires from making rusty streaks on the house take a two-or three-inch piece of garden hose, punch a hole through the center (the size of the wire or smaller) then cut a slot on the side to the center hole and slide in the wire. —RAYMOND

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Cubs Charging to Front

By United Press International
Bob Gibson and Don Drysdale needn't go to Anaheim to see the stars. They saw enough Thursday night to last a lifetime.

Their sudden interest in astronomy was fostered by the San Francisco Giants and the Cincinnati Reds, respectively, who lowered the boom on the big righthanders with such swiftness and force that Gibson and Drysdale lapsed into a state of shock.

The ill-timed drubbings took place on the eve of their selection to the National League pitching staff for the All Star game July 11 at Anaheim and left NL manager Walter Alston, the skipper of the Dodgers, with a slight trace of egg on his face.

Gibson, the ace of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals was raked for nine runs and seven hits in two-thirds of an inning while the Giants rolled an 11-run first inning en route to a 12-4 conquest. Drysdale lasted all of 1-1/3 innings, yielding seven hits and six runs as the Reds posted a 14-0 triumph.

Giants Gain

The loss sliced the Cards' first-place lead to 1-1/4 games over the surging Chicago Cubs, who edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in an afternoon contest. Philadelphia blanked New York 1-0 and the scheduled game between Atlanta and Houston was rained out.

Gibson, who entered the game with a 9-5 record, never got out of the first inning and was down seven runs before he ever retired a batter. Four consecutive singles, an intentional walk, another single, a triple by Hal Lanier and a sixth single produced seven runs before Gibson fanned pitcher Joe Gibbon and retired leadoff batter Jim Davenport.

Gibson Yanked

But he was mercifully yanked after walking Tom Haller and Willie Mays greeted reliever

Nelson Briles with his second run-scoring single of the stanza. Jim Hart, who had singled in a run earlier, then drove a three-run homer into the left field bleachers to complete the wild inning.

Drysdale, whose all-Star designation was his seventh, surrendered two runs in the first and five more during a six-run second in which the Reds sent 11 batters to the plate. His pitching managed to snap Cincinnati out of a four game losing streak as the Dodgers' win skein ended at five.

Tony Perez, Don Pavletich and Deron Johnson homered off relief pitchers and drove in three runs apiece as the Reds launched an 18-hit assault to back the five hit pitching of Milt Pappas, now 6-6. The loss was the eighth for Drysdale against seven wins.

Only Three Hits

Jim Bunning, a seven-time selection who failed to make the squad this time around, was an All-Star against the Mets, limiting them to three hits, including two infield safeties, in the Phillies' third straight victory. Bunning evened his mark at 8-8 when Bobby Wine broke in Clay Dalrymple from second in the fourth inning with a single off the shortstop's glove.

The streaking Cubs posted their 10th victory in the last 11 games and handed the Pirates their fifth straight loss with the aid of Ernie Banks' 15th homer a two-run shot in the sixth that enabled him to equal his entire 1966 output. Dick Radatz, Cal Koonce and Chuck Hartenstein all worked in relief of starter Joe Niekro, who won his third game in five decisions.

Mack Jones had driven in four runs with a double and three-run homer to give Atlanta a 5-1 lead in the fourth before rain washed out the Braves-Astros contest.

ALL-STAR hopes for the American League were jolted by injuries to Al Kaline (broken finger) of the Tigers, left, and Frank Robinson (concussion) of the Orioles, center. But the AL "dream squad" still has home run leader Harmon Killebrew of Twins, right, who will be making his seventh All-Star appearance at Anaheim, Calif., July 11.

Graebner Hoping For Berth in Quarter-Final

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, hoped to take his place among the spoilers today when he faced third-seeded John Newcombe of Australia with a berth in the quarter-finals at stake in the Wimbledon tennis championships.

One seeded player has been eliminated in the men's singles on each of the first four days of competition and Graebner was ripe to continue the string. The third-ranking player in the United States had yet to drop a set all week and on Thursday he routed Jose Edison Mandarino of Brazil, 6-3, 6-3, 11-9.

The only other American to gain the round of 16 was Charlie Pasarell of Saurter, P.R., who advanced Thursday with an easy 6-1, 6-3, 6-1 decision over Canada's Frank Tutvin.

Pasarell, who started the upset parade by ousting defending champion Manuel Santana of Spain on opening day, had a day off today before going against Brazilian Thomas Koch on Saturday.

The U.S. had a cinch reserve still in contention in the women's singles with seven girls safely past the third round. This contingent was led by top-seeded Billie Jean King of Alhambra, Calif., the No. 1 ranking player in the States, and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., ranked second.

Mrs. King was expected to have an easy round today against Elsie Ventjer-Spruyt of the Netherlands, who had yet to yield a racket following a bye and a forfeit, while Misa Richey, seeded fifth, was favored over Russia's Anna Dmitrieva.

American Girls

Other pairings involving U.S. girls today were Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis vs. Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco and Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., vs. Eda Buding of Germany.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco was off today prior to meeting second-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil on Saturday. Also idle was Stephanie DeFina of Hollywood, Calif., who was highly impressive in beating Australia's Karen Krantzcke, 6-0, 8-6, Thursday.

Three U.S. players, including two members of the Davis Cup team, were knocked out of men's singles play Thursday.

Alston Picks Hurlers

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Warren Giles, president of the National League, today announced the eight pitchers named by Manager Walter Alston to the National League All Star team for the 1967 classic at Anaheim, Calif., on July 11.

Alston selected five righthanders, Juan Marichal of San Francisco, Ferguson Jenkins of Chicago, Bob Gibson of St. Louis, Don Drysdale of Los Angeles and rookie Tom Sever of New York. He also chose lefthanders Denny Lemaster of Atlanta, Mike Cuellar of Houston and Claude Osteen of Los Angeles.

Drysdale, the senior pitcher on the staff, will be appearing in his seventh All Star game while Marichal will make his sixth appearance. Gibson has been chosen for the fourth time while the remaining five are making their All Star debuts.

Marichal, 10-6 for the season, is 2-0 in All Star competition, pitching 11 innings and allowing six hits while amassing a highly creditable 0.82 earned run average.

Drysdale, who is 7-8 this year, lost his only All Star decision. In 14 1-3 innings, he allowed eight hits, striking out 17 and walking only four while compiling a 1.38 earned run average.

Gibson, 9-6 this season with the first place Cardinals, has pitched four innings, allowing three hits for a 2.25 ERA.

Lemaster is the third Brave selected. Catcher Joe Torre and outfielder Hank Aaron were chosen to the first team in the players' voting. Gibson joins Cardinal teammates Orlando Cepeda and Lou Brock on the squad.

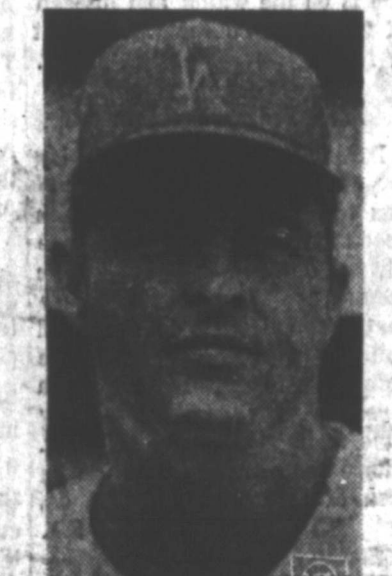

Alston will name the remainder of the 25-man staff on Monday.

Haynie Has Open Lead

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI)—Little Sandra Haynie went into today's second round of the $25,000 U.S. Women's Open golf tournament with a one-stroke lead following a sizzling one-under par 70 Thursday, the lowest opening round in the tournament's history.

One stroke off the pace were amateur Catherine Lacoste of Paris, the only foreigner in the tournament, Susie Maxwell of Oklahoma City and Sybil Griffin of Baton Rouge, La., all tied with par 61s.

For while it looked like Miss Haynie, a Dallas, Tex., pro, would come in several strokes under par, but she ran into trouble on the 124-yard 16th hole, which has a stream bordering the green.

She reached the tee two-under par but her third approach shot went into the stream and she ended up the hole with a double bogey.

By United Press International.
Despite the fact that the Baltimore Oriole pitching staff has come up with several sore wings this season, it has managed to hatch one of the brightest young stars in the American League.

Twenty-five-year-old Tom Phoebus, who has become the mainstay of the crippled Oriole staff, won his seventh game of the year Thursday night by limiting the league-leading Chicago White Sox to just three hits as Baltimore registered a 4-1 victory.

Phoebus, who was born and raised in Baltimore, has not been a complete surprise to the Orioles in 1967. The rookie righthander came up from the International League last September and, shut out the Angels and the A's in his first two major league starts.

With Steve Barber on the disabled list at the time, the Orioles requested permission to use Phoebus in the World Series. But the National League champions, the Los Angeles Dodgers, refused. As it turned out, Moe Drabowsky, Dave McNally, Mally Bunker and Jim Palmer handled the situation with the greatest of ease by knocking off the Dodgers in four straight.

But this season things aren't so rosy for the Birds. Barber has again run into arm trouble and has been erratic in most of his appearances. Bunker has seen little action because of his sore right shoulder. Palmer, who won the final game of the 1966 Series, has been sent to the minors to cure his arm problem and Dave McNally has recently been put on the disabled list.

Three in A Row
Phoebus already has racked up three shutouts, all coming in succession, and has allowed the opposition only one run in three of his other wins.

In the only other American League game Thursday night,

Cleveland downed Detroit 5-3, and not allowing a walk. After while chalking up 11 strikeouts Phoebus had brilliant control he gave up a second inning home run to Ken Berry, the seventh Oriole righthander retired 23 of the last 24 White Sox to fade run.

Luis Tiant picked up his seventh win against two losses while Denny McLain was tagged with his ninth defeat against eight victories.

out in the eighth inning to give the Indians a come-from-behind victory. Home runs by Mickey Stanley and Dick McAuffe gave the Tigers a 3-1 lead in the seventh after Chico Salmon had doubled home Cleveland's first run.

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (UPI)—Cosmo Iacovazzi, uncle of the former Princeton star, was elected president of the Atlantic Coast Football League, it was announced Thursday by the league's executive committee.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Road to Peace

It is very possible, despite the lives lost and property destroyed, that something beneficial will emerge from the conflict between the Arabs and Israel. That beneficial something, urgently required, would consist of the widespread recognition of the United Nations for the ridiculous, expensive and vicious force it actually is.

"Very possible," we say, because, as should now be more than evident, when the U.N. cut and ran on Nasser's orders, deserting its "buffer position" between the quarreling political entities and leaving Israel, its own political creation, to the tender mercies of combined Arab power, it demonstrated to the entire world its utter hypocrisy and disregard for the only conceivable reason advanced for its existence.

That the Jews, as it now appears, were more than a match for Nasser's bullyboys only adds to the ridiculous spectacle presented by the posturing U.N. and its swollen, parasitical, trouble-brewing staff.

The U.N., as with all political organizations, is utterly incapable of bringing about peace. In fact, as demonstrated by its fulminations with respect to Katanga, South Africa, Rhodesia, and elsewhere, the U.N., feeding upon plunder supplied by its member national governments—plunder which, in turn was taken by those member governments from defenseless individuals—is, itself, a troublemaking, political predator organization.

Having demonstrated repeatedly that it is utterly incapable of furthering peace, while, at the same time, showing an amazing penchant for troublemaking and spreading socialism on a worldwide scale, the time has come for the U.N. to be put out of its misery. The withdrawal of the United States from that organization, including all financial support, would bring about its demise in short order. And good riddance!

Nor should the people of the United States and Soviet Russia fail to realize the parts their own governments have played, both in and outside the U.N., in setting the Arabs and Jews at each other's throats. Both, needing foreign diversions to keep their peoples' attention off what their own governments have been doing to them at home, have been busy stirring up hatreds abroad.

Soviet Russia, itself saved time and again by American taxpayers' blood and money was, of course, egging the Arabs on with its own version of "foreign aid and military equipment. But our own government was no less guilty in this respect. And not content with "helping" one side with plundered tax money via "foreign aid," the U.S. government supplied both Fascist Nasser and socialist Israel liberally with modern arms and other "aid," thus almost guaranteeing an eventual confrontation.

What, at worst, could have amounted to no more than a series of border spats between two political and religious factions, neither of which were economically capable of building and maintaining modern military establishments, was transformed into a full-dress conflict complete with all the deadly paraphernalia of modern, "civilized" warfare by outside intervention.

When the people of this troubled old world, with everything to gain by eschewing war and trading with each other, are really ready for peace, they will forbid the formation of such political organizations as the United Nations; abandon military conscription; refuse to permit their governments to either extend or accept "foreign aid;" fire their plotting diplomatic corps; and, finally, in due course of time, begin the systematic dismantling of their own political establishments. . . . Local, state and national.

Politics and war—the latter being the extension of the former—are the health of the state and the poverty and undoing of the people.

New Thoughts On Billboards

It would appear that some congressmen are having second thoughts about the desirability of eliminating all billboards for the sake of "beauty."

Business Week magazine, which seems to favor the billboard legislation, says Congress is "about to either rewrite the billboard control legislation, or at least weaken enforcement."

The principal reason is that congressmen have been hearing from their constituents—a small businessmen who own motels, restaurants, resort lodges and other places which rely on tourist trade are pointing out that their livelihood is threatened. Others protesting are sign painters and farmers who add to their incomes from leasing a portion of their properties for billboards.

Congressmen also are aware that some of them are among the biggest users of billboards at election time. And even while administration officials are attempting to outlaw billboards, some of them are not opposed to demanding that the big billboard companies turn over use of their signs. Business Week said the Job Corps sent a representative to ask for free space in 30 major cities. We have often reminded our readers that state and federal highway officials use billboards to promote their programs with not very pretty signs about "Your Highway Taxes at Work."

The beauty boosters seem to have forgotten that billboards perform a service to motorists, who are looking for a good place to sleep or eat, or a specific brand of gasoline.

As we have said, we are not billboard boosters, in as much as they are competing for the same advertising dollars the newspaper is. We think in most instances advertising dollars are better spent in newspapers than in billboards or other media. But we do not believe legislation should be used to end competition for us or for any other business. Therefore, we oppose anti-billboard legislation on this ground.

We also oppose it on the basic ground of freedom. We favor freedom for the advertiser, for the billboard company, and for the man who owns the ground and leases it to the billboard company. If freedom is to be, it must be for all.

Your Food Dollar Buys Many Extras

There has been considerable static off and on of late about the farmer's declining share of the rising cost of foodstuffs.

Consumer marketing specialists at the University of Wisconsin have taken a statistical look at the situation and come up with figures and an evaluation.

The farmer, they find, is now getting less than 40 cents of every dollar the consumer spends for foods.

The rest is absorbed by various marketing services. A breakdown of the 60-cent marketing share shows 27 cents going for salaries—there are some five million employees in the food industry. Another 24 cents goes into packaging, advertising, depreciation and other costs. Transportation accounts for six cents. The remaining three cents is profit.

The total bill nationally for these services comes to some $82 billion a year.

Whenever the public blood pressure builds up over rising food prices, marketing costs

The Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

Editor:

I wish to state my views on some of the challenged subjects before the public today. I do not wish to criticize any issue unless I can offer something better to replace it.

I believe the national budget and the debt are too large. I do not believe it is necessary to raise income tax or establish a surtax. I dislike the idea of raising the debt limit every few months. I do not agree with the Great Society social benefit reforms. I do not believe we belong on the moon. If the Lord wanted us to be there, he would have created us there, especially if it is going to cost us taxpayers 40 billion dollars. Let the Russians have the moon. We want to learn to live on earth in peace. I do not believe in sacrificing airbases in the U.S., when we are in war with Vietnam, Russia and China. Could it be—the war surplus stores and junk dealers need some stock at five to ten cents on the dollar? Could it be this is the reason Washington is planning on a long war? I do not believe Uncle Sam should trade with his enemies, when we are at war. I do not believe we should allow Russian consulates in each state of our union. We have too many spies in our U.S. now. Why Vietnam, when Cuba is on our doorstep? I believe we should move the U.N. headquarters out of the U.S. Too many spies in it? If all the nations that are in debt to us would pay their notes, we might be able to pay ours. I wonder why? Bad collectors?

I offer a remedy, for some, if not all, of Uncle Sam's ills. First, I would squeeze the water out of the Federal Budget, plug up the leaks in the pork barrel, not on the scold and slip the hand that pilfers the cash in the barrel. It might be necessary to shorten their arms or even amputate them. I would discontinue the practice of the treasury, back door financing, issuing short time treasury bonds, tax free, in the latter part of the year, due in first three months of the next year. When our income tax comes in, the payment of same reduces cash balance, causing a demand to raise the debt limit twenty billion dollars this year. Is a "dooney business" don't you prove a setup target. Promotional activities in particular have even come in for a critical scolding by Congress.

But don't knock the cost with out considering the advantages, the Wisconsin researchers caution. Marketing processes cut the unit cost of many food products. Canned and frozen foods usually cost less than fresh equivalents and are easier to transport and store. Preparation time is less, in effect adding help to the housewife's kitchen. Waste and spoilage are reduced. And agricultural abundance is no longer seasonal but within reach all year long.

There is, after all, considerably more to marketing than plastic wrapping.

I do not believe that the Vietnam No War War should be a whiplash over the congress to raise the debt limit. For my part I would cut out the trip to the moon, slash the Great Society program tree down to a mere stump. Would sell to private enterprise, all the unnecessary government assets that are in competition to private enterprise. The cash so received would reduce the bond debt, and find its way into the banks, available for expansion of business in general. I do not believe in borrowing from Peter to pay Paul financing. It is said that Washington does not expect to reduce the national debt; just collect enough money off the taxpayers to pay the interest, 14 billion each year. Bad business, don't you think?

I would change the complexion of the congress. In the first place we have too many bureaus and bureaucrats; also too many lawyers and political economist college men to tell us how to plan our lives. Most of them wear pink underwear and don't mind showing them. What we need is good red-blooded American Business men, accountants, grass root common sense men with brains and guts to act, advise for freedom for all peoples.

I believe there are rats in the woodpile, bats in the belfry and termites in the basement in Washington. I would clean up the woodpile, of influence peddlers, payoff fiends, contract chiselers and contract cost plus peddlers and all gravy train riders. This is not new. Christ was sold out for thirty pieces of silver, and he was the treasurer of the disciples. Christ entered the temple and ran out the thieves, chiselers, and grafters. It is a fight to keep our government clean, and justice and liberty for all. It's every-citizen's job. Read, look and listen, then vote for less federal government control. Not all congressmen and government officials are shady. We have lots of fine men in public office. We should have more to get the job done. Too many men in Washington work on the idea of 'you scratch my back and I will scratch yours.' I have heard of seven year itch but some in Washington have had it for twenty years. It has been said to eliminate wars, take the profit out of war. It could be that the pressure applied by would-be war millionaires, in the war contract business might be the cause of our No-Win, 5 or 10 year war in Vietnam. Good business for someone? How can we change this? We need more men and women to register and vote for men who will put common sense and business in congress. Then it will be that Uncle Sam might balance his budget; pay off his debt, and bring back the value of the dollar. When shall we do this? The sooner the better. It is later than you think.

The greatest enemy of the United States is indifference.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not abuse anyone.)

QUESTION: While I quite agree with you that parents are the only ones that have academic freedom, this poses the question as to the fate of the children whose parents do not have the self-discipline, the literacy or the sense to properly exercise it? Should such children be penalized because of the sins of their fathers? Please illustrate.

ANSWER: The fate of children whose parents fail to encourage them in the process of education is not always disastrous. As a matter of fact, some of them rise to even greater heights in the business world than university graduates with whom they compete.

Education is a personal thing with an individual. Government schools don't educate children; they train or instruct them. But, in or out of school, if a boy (or girl) has an inquisitive mind and is intrigued by a problem, he will find the solution, and do the same thing with the next problem. This is the natural procedure of an active mind.

Parents are morally responsible for the care and education of their children until they (children) reach the age of responsibility and should try to stimulate a desire for learning in the home. Unfortunately, this is not always the case. Some children have to make it on their own from an early age. Still this would not deter the boy who wants to learn and has the innate capacity to develop reasoning power. He would find a way and, in many instances, come out on top in his chosen field.

The business world is full of successful men who had little formal schooling, or were drop-outs. Maybe they had to work a little harder, stay up a little later and study a little longer to get where they are because of the late start they got in learning, but they did it. Knowledge is something only an individual can acquire for himself. A man educates himself; nobody else can do it for him.

Probably the most successful man in government who had no formal schooling was President Andrew Johnson, who became chief executive after the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. Mrs. Johnson taught him to read and write.

There is a line on the ocean where you lose a day when you cross it. There's a line on most highways where you can do even better.

Some say we do not count, let George do it. The German people said the same thing and George turned out to be Hitler. You know the rest. Wake up! It is up to the people to restore liberty and justice to the nation through congress, not by bullets. Our forefathers fought and died for our liberty and our boys are dying in Vietnam. It takes lots of thinking, studying, and praying to win this battle of liberty. Don't fail the boys in Vietnam.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE
Ever have the experience of trying to figure out what would be a "fair" price to charge for your services? Did you ever complain to a merchant or repairman or professional man that his price was too high and thus not fair?

What was the standard that you used to determine whether or not the price was a "fair" one?

For most of us, an unfair price is one that hurts a little too much as we dig down to pay it. And yet, would a doctor who saved your life for $100 be charging an unfair price—just because that $100 was a little hard to come by at that time? I doubt that you would begrudge him his fee.

Some people try to determine a fair price by the amount of labor that went into the product or service being sold. That won't work, however—because we certainly don't want to discourage a man from finding better and faster ways of doing things. We don't want him to add extra hours to the job—just to make the "fair" price higher.

Obviously, a fair price has something to do with the value of the product or the service to the buyer. If the buyer doesn't consider the price to be fair, he won't buy. And the seller's wishes will go unheeded—until some buyer places a value upon the object that is compatible with what the seller is willing to sell for.

But let's examine the buying process for a moment. A man goes to a doctor because he believes his tonsils should be removed. The doctor quotes a fee that the man believes to be "too high." The doctor says, "I'm sorry but it just isn't worth it to me to perform the task for any less than that."

So the man goes to another doctor—who asks for an even higher fee. And, after checking several doctors, he finds that none will offer a lower price than the first doctor did. But the man still believes the price is "too high." But "too high" by what standard? Well, let us proceed further and see.

He examines the other alternatives available to him. He could learn how to perform the operation himself—but that's ridiculous. His wife could learn to perform it—and she could do it for less than the doctor's bid. But the cost of her medical education is also more than the man wishes to pay.

He could go without the operation. But he decides that the eventual cost of going that would be even higher. And so on— as every other alternative proves to be more expensive than the first doctor's bid.

He still feels the price is too high—that the doctor should do it for less than that—even though he has no standard by which to ask for a reduction in fee. For the doctor is not obligated to even perform the operation—at any price. His willingness to do it at the price he quoted makes the man's situation just that much better than it would have been if the doctor hadn't been willing to do it.

After all, the doctor could decide to go out of business today—or he could die tomorrow. So the man should really be thankful that the doctor is available to do the job at the price quoted—or else the man would have to spend even more money.

So here we can see what a "fair" price really is.

A fair price is one that represents the best alternative available to the person who will have to pay it.

If anyone can offer your buyer a better alternative than you have, you will lose the customer. If no one has a better alternative to offer, your price is a fair one.

It's as simple as that.

Wit and Whimsy

A businessman from Bombay, India, was called upon to say Grace at a banquet. Since it was a new experience, he drew upon the resources of his business training and said:

Businessman—Dear Lord, we thank thee for all thy favors of recent date. Permit us to express our heartfelt gratitude. We trust we may continue to merit your confidence, and that we shall receive more blessings from you in the future. We remain, yours very truly, Amen.

A son at college wrote his father—Dear dad, you haven't sent me a check in two weeks. What sort of kindness is that? His father replied—Dear Son, that is unremittent kindness.

The teacher asked the country boy to write down 5 different kinds of bugs. He wrote, "June, lady, tumble, bed and hum."

If you weave a web of deceit you will wake up some morning to find yourself ensnared in it.

Young Man—I know I'm not much to look at.

Bride—To-Be—Oh, well, you'll be at the office most of the time anyway.

The average life expectancy of new-born babies in Holland is 73 years, in India it is only 32.

BERRY'S WORLD

Country Editor speaking: "Many who graduated this month were college bred in a four-year loaf."

Dr. William Glasser, author of "Reality Therapy," puts great stress on the value of responsibility. In a recent article he said that people are not irresponsible because they are mentally ill, but are, instead, mentally ill because they are irresponsible. If that be true—and it seems plausible—it behooves us as parents to invest the time and patience to train our children to be self-responsible individuals.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Male and female fashion styles are created in diverse ways. For example: the narrow-brimmed hats for men are now the vogue and try and buy one with a broad brim anywhere. The style was started inadvertently by Rex Harrison when he appeared in "My Fair Lady," both on the stage and in the film. Hat manufacturers were quick to note male interest in that type of hat and now they're turning them out in suede, leather and cloth. Makes us wonder what ever happened to felt. We thought LBJ's 10-gallon hat might bring back the broad-brimmed headpieces, but it didn't. And Harrison also created a vogue in men's sweaters. As Professor Higgins in that show, he also wore what was once considered "an old man's cardigan." But, whoops, Perry Como also liked a low-cut three button sweater and started wearing them on TV. Now it's impossible to buy any other kind.

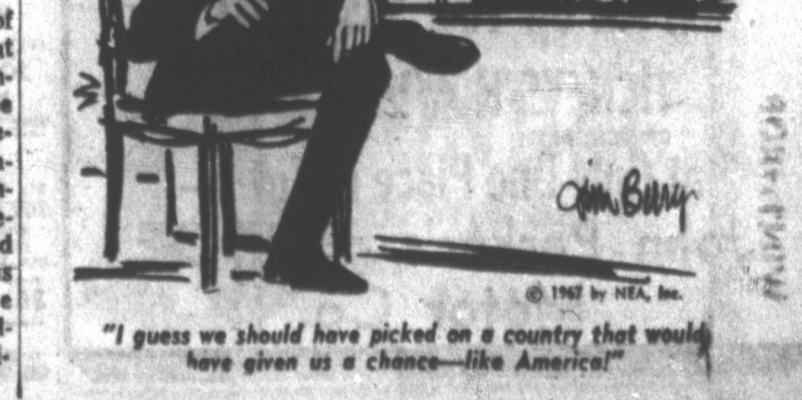

Today's smile: A long-haired teen-ager asked a barber to cut his curly locks and give him a short haircut. The barber was naturally curious about this sudden change in a customer who had always cautioned him about cutting off too much. The youngster explained: "Yesterday was my 16th birthday and my parents gave me a dress for a birthday present."

Omaha, Neb., is the largest livestock market in the world. Last year more than 6.5 head of livestock passed through the Union Stockyards there on their way to packing plants from which they emerged in the form of steaks and roasts that made darned good eating.

And speaking of eating, the largest single dish in the world is roast camel, the main entree at Bedouin wedding feasts. They prepare it by stuffing cooked eggs in fish, the fish are stuffed in chickens, the chickens are stuffed in a roast sheep and the sheep is stuffed into a whole camel. Anyone for Alka Seltzer?

Thoughts while shaving: One of the little-known services of the Library of Congress is the so-called national referral center for science and technology. The employees are required to find the answer to all sorts of involved scientific questions put to them by colleges, universities and research laboratories in addition to locating hard-to-find data and materials. Recently a university zoology department called to ask where they could find 500 live eels for a study project they were conducting. . . . Don't be surprised if you see a recruiting poster in your local post office one of these days with the slogan, "Join the Astronauts and See Outer Space!" At any rate Uncle Sam's National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council are seeking potential sky explorers. Successful applicants will eventually be assigned to manned orbiting satellites to observe the outerspace. . . . The Salt Lake City (Utah) TRIBUNE reported in a story: "After a record sized peach march, demonstrators quietly dispersed. . . . In a greater futz than before?"

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR SATURDAY, JULY 1

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A Saturday to make sure you get everything so organized that you can express yourself as you like the most and with the least amount of opposition from anyone else. Make a point also to get into the specifics of bringing some interest that is important to you more up to date so it can be greatly to your advantage.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — You can find more modern ways of handling material affairs so that you have greater success and are more satisfied. Contact that advisor you trust. Excellent ideas can be given you that you should follow quickly.

Taurus: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Your best bet is contacting that somewhat emotional friend and slating your most personal ideas, getting advice, support, etc. Get backing from other individuals as well. Be sure you are discreet, precise.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Paying attention to minute details will bring the right results now and the days ahead can become more successful. Don't confide in others so much otherwise they can pirate your ideas. Be sensitive.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — Good pals can now give you an indication to one who can be of great assistance to you in the days ahead. This can be of either a personal or business nature. Show that you are thinking very clearly.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Tasks of a civic nature are best means for advancing at this time, but be sure you are accurate and precise. Make the payments that bring your credit up to where it should be. Stop being so obstinate.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Some new plan you have in mind could open new avenues of expression and success to you for the future get into the study that is necessary for you to have greater understanding. Don't be lazy.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Others are in a dither to have fun and forget all about responsibilities, but it is best that you be stable and carry through valiantly now. Please your male thereby. A theater date would be fine in p.m. though theater date would be fine in p.m. though show that you can, and will, cooperate most intelligently. Any dissension now could result in severe severance of connections. Don't jeopardize what is ready by a fine tune.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) — Be more enthusiastic about finishing some work you started some time ago and that is really important to you. Then take the measures that improve your vitality, increase it. Stop sitting around so much.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Doing whatever will increase happiness in the future is fine, so get busy with that plan you have in mind. Get your friends to cooperate with you. Out tonight in amusements you like with congenial.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — You need to give basic matters more time, thought and energy if you want to operate more successfully from now on. Rid yourself of whatever is detrimental to your fundamental structure. Do so quietly.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Ideal Saturday to get that shopping done and run other errands for which you have had little time before. You can come to an understanding easily with persons in business or the professions. Keep busy.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... In the afternoon, will be one of those days, deliberating, young people who will get on your nerves. Be sure you teach early to come to decisions quickly, even if some mistakes must be made sometimes, and then there can be success here throughout the lifetime instead of failure. Teach to persevere as well.
