Former Premier Tshombe Waits In Algiers Jail

ALGIERS (UPI) — Former Congo Premier Moise Tshombe sat in an Algiers jail today while the Congo government maneuvered to get him to Kinshasa where a sentence of death awaits him.

A special envoy from the Congo was expected in Algiers today to discuss extradition of Tshombe, who was pirated to Algiers in a hijacked airplane Friday night.

Tshombe was sentenced to death in absentia earlier this year by the government of strongman President Lt. Gen. Joseph D. Mobutu.

Informed sources said there was little doubt Tshombe would be executed if returned to the Congo.

The Algerian government said Sunday night it had not yet received a request for Tshombe's extradition. But the informed sources said Algeria would likely comply with such a request when it is made.

Tshombe, 48, and a group of about 10 companions were flying from the Mediterranean island of Ibiza to Palma Majorca Friday night in a twin-engine Hawker Siddeley 125 executive jet.

The two British pilots of the jet were forced at gunpoint to fly to Algiers and the entire party and crew were promptly arrested and placed in jail, the sources said.

Diplomatic observers said that probably one or more of the persons aboard the plane had betrayed Tshombe.

Tshombe has been a prominent figure in sometimes mysterious and violent chapters of the Congo's brief history.

After its independence from Belgium in 1960, the Congo's first Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba was assassinated. Tshombe then led the important Patanga State in secession and became Katanga's president.

Following three years of internal struggle, which involved United Nations troops, Katanga was reunited with the rest of the Congo. In 1964 Tshombe was asked to return to the government and was named prime minister. Tshombe's government was dismissed the following year, however, and internal jockeying among rival politicians led to the coup by Mobutu in 1966.

Holiday Deaths Mount Quickly

By United Press International

The work-a-day world trapped millions of Americans today but the Fourth of July holiday, which many began celebrating two days ago, was just hours away and with it, death — in mounting numbers — on the roads.

The holiday weekend began officially Friday night and Americans everywhere took advantage of the long weekend to travel near and far in pursuit of fun and relaxation. Today, being a work day in most industries, was an interruption only barely tolerated.

Those stuck in the job were expected to form the biggest highway crush of the weekend when they piled into their cars this afternoon for trips to favorite fun-in-the-sun spots.

Predicted Death Rate
The July 4th holiday traffic death toll passed the 400 mark today at the start of the long weekend's most dangerous hours.

A grinding crash on U.S. 66 near Flagstaff, Ariz., sent the fatality count shooting to 400. Police said five persons and possibly six were killed.

The breakdown:

Traffic	400
Drownings	88
Planes	37
Miscellaneous	4
Total	529

Texas led the states with 41 traffic deaths. California had 36, New York 27, Illinois 24, Ohio 18.

The Safety Council estimated before the start of the weekend that 700 to 800 persons would die in traffic accidents, basing the estimate on the increase in vehicles, miles traveled and the fact holiday traffic usually claims 20 to 25 per cent more lives than a similar non-holiday period.

Non-Holiday Rate Lower
The council said that in a similar non-holiday period this time of year 600 persons would be killed in traffic accidents.

Patriotic organizations, cities and towns tout the final touches on observances scheduled for the Fourth itself.

The American Bell Association urged a departure from traditional July 4th celebrations, which annually featured fireworks displays and individuals popping off firecrackers, although they are illegal in many states.

The association wants every bell in the nation rung at 1 p.m. CDT and proportionately earlier in time zones, on the fourth.

Restless Youths Go On Rampage In Small Resort

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (UPI) — Police facing thousands of beer-brave youths out for a good time clamped an undeclared state of martial law on this small resort town today.

Hundreds of youths stoned the police station before a National Guard company was called in and police gave everyone one hour to get off the streets and out of town.

Scores of windows, in buildings and in cars, were broken by the youths who rebelled at having police prod them into moving.

Residents of the town of 5,000 said it was the worst destruction experienced in the more than a decade college and high school-age youths have gathered here each Fourth of July weekend. This lakeside town is about halfway between Chicago and Milwaukee.

Police Chief Robert Clapper said more than 100 youths were arrested Sunday night and today. Before the streets were cleared and road blocks set up to prevent youths from returning to town, more than 5,000 out of town youths had milled through the streets, Clapper said.

"Why they come here, we don't know," he said. "They've been coming here for the Fourth of July weekend for years now, and there's nothing we can do to stop them."

Lake Geneva was prepared for the usual influx of teenagers, most of them reportedly drawn by the promise of easily obtained beer. But the town did not expect the change of mood that took place late Sunday.

Police had been working their way up and down streets, forcing groups of youths to keep moving. Dogs were used at one point.

Suddenly the youths began pelting officers with stones and firecrackers. The attack centered on the police station which was, for a time, placed under a siege of sorts.

Clapper said most of the arrests since Friday night, numbering in the hundreds, involved disorderly conduct, drinking or possession of an intoxicant on the street by minors.

Egyptian and Israeli Forces Exchange Fire

By MURRAY BROWN
United Press International

Israel charged Egyptian troops today opened fire with mortars and machine guns at Israeli troops across the Suez Canal in a third consecutive day of Middle East war cease-fire violations.

An Israeli military communique said Israeli troops returned the fire and "silenced the Egyptian fire a few minutes later." It said the fight, just north of Qantana on the canal, lasted 20 minutes.

Egyptian and Israeli forces clashed Saturday and Sunday along the canal and blamed each other for starting the shooting. The most violent fighting came as United Nations delegates from 122 nations began voting on General Assembly resolutions aimed at settling the Arab-Israeli conflict.

At Cairo, Egyptians claimed their troops and tanks destroyed at least six Israeli tanks and nine armored cars in 36 hours of weekend fighting on the east bank of the canal. On the eve of the delicate U.N. maneuvering, the Egyptians said Sunday the Israelis committed the cease-fire violations and thus was "threatening the world's peace and security."

U.N. Resolution Meets Resistance From the West

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Western delegates today moved to defeat a Yugoslav resolution in the U.N. General Assembly that could open the door to Soviet intervention in the Middle East conflict.

The Yugoslav proposal, one of five being considered after two weeks of assembly debate on the Arab-Israeli war, would ask all 122 nations to "render every assistance" to Secretary Thant in carrying out provisions for peace-making.

Western delegates said it was just such a proviso in 1950 that allowed Western nations to join in the battle against the North Korean Communist invaders of South Korea. The Yugoslav proposal clause could give the Russians a similar chance in the Arab-Israeli war, they said.

The resolutions being considered by the assembly required a two-thirds approval by voting nations to pass. Well into the weekend, the Yugoslavs, various "non-aligned" nations and the Soviet Union appeared sure they had the votes.

But suddenly they apparently realized they did not. They asked for a postponement to gain hours to round up more votes.

Assembly President Abdul Radman Pazhwak of Afghanistan, an announcement said, okayed the postponement. Western delegates protested, saying the whole assembly had to approve such a postponement. The Westerners won.

Meredith Nears End of March

PICKENS, Miss. (UPI) — James Meredith will complete his "march against fear" 25 miles short of the Mississippi capital where his memorial march last year ended with a giant rally.

Meredith said Sunday he would end his walk at Canton, which has an 87 per cent Negro population. Tuesday with a possible July 4th celebration.

The slender, 34-year-old Negro was to strike out on the 22-mile hike from just outside Pickens to Canton this morning.

Meredith walked 12 miles Sunday in a steady rain, but he was jovial as he led around 30 followers down U.S. 51. The fact that he was about to end a 150-mile march seemed to bolster his spirits.

When he began his march 10 days ago, he intended to march to Jackson. But as he walked, he indicated he might not enter the Mississippi capital.

15,000 Expected to View Fireworks Display Tuesday

More than 15,000 Pampans and other area residents are expected to view the annual fireworks display at Recreation Park tomorrow night as part of the city's annual Independence Day program, sponsored by Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

The program is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. with presentation of colors by local unit of the Texas National Guard, pledge of allegiance by Pampa Girl Scouts and invocation by the Rev. J. W. Doke, pastor of First Christian Church.

E. E. Shelhamer, CoC president, will give the welcoming address after the singing of the national anthem.

One Pampa High School group "The Climbers", will perform at the program. Before the formal program and flag presentations, Dr. Scott Corbin of Miami and "The Miami Stormers" will perform.

The Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church, will deliver the patriotic address, followed by the singing of "God Bless America" by John Hanesard.

The 32-minute fireworks display, to be conducted after the variety program and addresses, will be presented by Burnett Fireworks Co. of Enid, Okla.

Kay Fancher will serve as master of ceremonies. Other program committee members are Mack Hiatt and Jim Morris, chairman.

The Pampa Key Club will decorate the stadium and grand stand, and the Jaycees will operate concession stands.

ON IT'S WAY — A check for $5,000 was posted this morning to the Texas Tuberculosis Association for research concerning all respiratory diseases. Mrs. Finis Jordan, president of the Gray County Tuberculosis Association, pictured here with B. R. Nuckols, association treasurer, said the check represents an accumulation of funds and interest over the past several years resulting from Gray County Christmas Seal Drives. At a quarterly meeting recently, Greeley Warner was appointed Seal Sale chairman with Jack Back to serve as bond chairman and Mrs. Ralph Sidwell as publicity chairman.

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Marines helped by tanks, planes, warships and their own bare fists today smashed a 2,500-man invasion of South Vietnam so hard that some Communists donned dead Leatherneck uniforms in a frantic effort to escape.

U.S. spokesmen said the Marines suffered "nasty losses" in blocking and crushing the greatest Communist effort in two months to drive into South Vietnam across the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

Leathernecks reported suffering 51 men killed, 170 wounded and 34 missing in the jungle hills around their border bastion of Con Thien. They had counted 65 Communist bodies, aerial spotters reported seeing 200 and the North Vietnamese toll was expected to rise sharply when the battlefield was cleared.

Prepared for Attack

About 1,200 Marines battled the elite units of Hanoi's 325B Division, often in hand-in-hand combat. Marines said they held the Communists until Lt. Gen. Robert C.ushman, the Leatherneck commander in Vietnam, brought into play a massive display of American firepower.

About 4,000 rounds boomed from his artillery. Marine tanks rumbled up and blasted the North Vietnamese strongpoints. Leatherneck planes sprayed the Communist positions with fiery napalm. U.S. Navy destroyers offshore pumped in more shells.

Leathernecks said the hand-to-hand fighting grew thickest when the Communists stripped dead Marines of their uniforms and tried to flee from the American firepower.

Desperate Escape Attempts
Maj. Gen. Bruno Hochuth, commander of the 3rd Marine Division, told UPI Correspondent Robert C. Miller at his command Dong Ha command center that he had three reports of North Vietnamese using Marine uniforms in efforts to penetrate Leatherneck lines.

On the Bong Son Plains about 280 miles up the coast from Saigon, about 600 men of the U.S. Army 1st Air Cavalry Division — caught about 300 "main force" Viet Cong near a fortified village.

also struck near the Cambodian border in War Zone C, the key Viet Cong stronghold in South Vietnam.

U.S. spokesmen said American jets Sunday streaked into North Vietnam and hit anti-aircraft sites, rail lines and other military targets. Pilots reported knocking out two surface to air missile (SAM) sites 16 miles south of the Communist capital of Hanoi.

Egypt's Canal Block Will Be Blow to India

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
WASHINGTON — Egypt's blocking of the Suez Canal is going to prove a costly blow to India — a strong supporter of Nasser.

The U.S. has notified the Indian government that it will have to bear the considerable additional shipping costs, due to the shutdown of the Suez route, on the large quantities of grain the U.S. has agreed to supply India to avert famine.

These extra charges will run into many millions of dollars.

The Indian government's backing of Nasser in the Middle East conflict, directly contrary to the neutral policy of the U.S., is the reason for this decision.

Secretary Rusk disclosed this unannounced action during his private briefing of the Senate and House foreign affairs committees on the Middle East crisis. He was very emphatic that the U.S. government strongly disapproved of India's un-called for meddling in the Middle East embroilment, and had determined that as Nasser was responsible for blocking Suez, it was up to India to pay the increased shipping costs.

Rusk also noted that the U.S. was fully aware that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi had sent effusively warm birthday greetings to Ho Chi Minh, and considered that an unfriendly manifestation toward this country.

"Does the Indian government think you really mean what you have told us?" one committee man asked.

"They had better believe it," replied the secretary of state dryly. "If they don't, they won't get any wheat. If they want our wheat, they will have to pay the additional shipping costs to get it. We didn't block the Suez. Their friend Nasser did."

Queen Will Get Glimpse Of Expo '67

MONTREAL (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip get a brief glimpse of Expo 67 today under guard of an extensive security contingent mindful of the separatist disorders which marred the monarch's 1964 visit to Quebec.

Police received reports that the militant, sometimes violent, separatists planned "a patriotic act" during the queen's visit today. Actually, the royal couple planned only to visit the Expo site on islands in the St. Lawrence River, avoiding the possibly hostile city of Montreal.

The 41-year-old petite British sovereign and her consort planned to enter the fair grounds at about 8:30 a.m.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), anxious about the royal couple's safety, were sealing off entirely one of the two islands, Ile Notre-Dame. The public was not allowed near the queen.

As the queen moved through the British exhibit — an unfinished tower to prove that England is not yet "finished" in world affairs — part of the island was to be reopened to fairgoers behind her entourage.

Weather To Cool Over Area Today

By United Press International

Tornadoes spun out of thunderstorms that carried hail, 70-mile-an-hour winds and heavy rains across the South Plains and Panhandle of West Texas Sunday night. Street flooding rained and hail swept North Central Texas and as much as four inches of rain soaked portions of East Texas.

Prospects were for a few showers and thunderstorms to every section of the state today with slightly cooler temperatures in the northern half of Texas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the low 60s along the Upper Rio Grand, Valley to the mid 60s in the South Plains.

Three tornadoes dipped from low-hanging clouds west of Happy, Tex., in the Panhandle. None touched the ground.

Probe Figure To Be Free After Inquiry

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Attorney Steve Plotkin said Sunday Gordon Novel who slipped away from Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's Kennedy assassination investigation, would be free today following a Columbus, Ohio extradition hearing.

Plotkin made the statement in an interview with WVUE-TV, a New Orleans television station.

"Louisiana has not forwarded the proper extradition papers to the state of Ohio and Novel will be, to all effects, free following the hearing," said Plotkin.

Garrison had contended Novel, 29, was a fugitive witness in his investigation and said Novel took part in a 1961 munitions burglary which allegedly occurred near Houma, La.

Novel in return labeled Garrison a "Cajun James Bond," who was politically motivated in his quest into the President's Nov.-22, 1963 assassination.

Ohio Gov. James Rhodes' office has returned Louisiana extradition papers on Novel more than once for corrections.

Plotkin also said he and Bill Dalzell, petroleum consultant, met Saturday with representatives of Garrison's office.

Garrison's office Friday withdrew a subpoena issued for Dalzell, indicating he could not be found to be served with it.

"We had a quite lengthy conference and I am sure the DA is satisfied with the cooperation Mr. Dalzell has given," said Plotkin.

The attorney said Novel, a former New Orleans night club owner, would return "in the next week or two" to "clear his name and file several lawsuits."

Scapogot-Needed:
Somebody in the Kremlin is going to be blamed for the disaster that overtook Russia's Mideast policy and dealt a heavy blow to Soviet prestige.

The collective leadership makes it difficult to put the blame on any one single member of the hierarchy, but friction among the top echelon is being rumored. To save their faces and jobs, the Kremlin bosses may end up blaming it all on Nikita Khrushchev who was the one who initiated the strong pro-Arab course.

Telling It To The Arabs:
Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny's visit to Danasucul' like his visit to Cairo, was partly intended to tell the Arabs that the Russians intend to retain some sort of control over the arms they are sending to replace those lost to Israel. One such measure would be to tell the Arabs how they are to be used.

Independent Romania:
European Communists expected Moscow to unleash a barrage of criticism against Romania when or if her Prime Minister Ion Gheorghe Maurer makes his scheduled visit to Peking early this month. But first the Russians will do what they can to prevent the visit which they regard as having no other aim than to dramatize Romania's growing independence of Moscow.

Bending The Truth:
Nationalist Chinese sources claim they have confirmed their agents have been successful in plastering slanted wall posters on Peking walls. The indications are that some Japanese correspondents in Peking filed stories based on these posters.

New Peace Effort?
Many highly placed Japanese government officials are convinced that the United States will once again cease bombing North Vietnam in a new effort for peace. Despite lack of reaction from Washington, the feeling in Japan persists. This seems to be one of the reasons behind Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's planned trip to Vietnam in the fall.

CASE AGAINST COPS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Mary G. Zamora, 27, of Dry Lake, Nev. had a run-in with the law.

She ran into the back of police car as it was being driven into a garage, bounced into a passing police motorcycle, knocked down a parking meter and ran into the building which houses the city's traffic bureau.

Booked on suspicion of drunken driving, she was later found to be wanted on a federal warrant in New Mexico.

HEAT WAVE
TURIN, ITALY (UPI)—When Antonio Bordonaro had trouble sleeping because of the intense heat in his apartment Sunday night, he decided he needed some cross ventilation and knocked a hole in the apartment wall. Instead of night air he got angry shouts from residents of the adjacent apartment. Unsympathetic police took him off to jail.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter will be christened in our church soon, and it is customary to have guests at home afterward for food and drinks. The problem is my mother-in-law. She has a drinking problem. No matter what the occasion, if there is liquor around, she uses it as an excuse to get very, very drunk. For that reason, the last christening we had, I served no alcoholic beverages, and several of my husband's relatives remarked that they felt "cheated." What should I do this time? I don't want anyone to feel "cheated" in my home, but I can't bear seeing my mother-in-law in that condition. Don't say, "Watch her." She just helps herself and it would take physical force to stop her.

PUZZLED HOSTESS

DEAR PUZZLED: Give a "dry party." It would be easier than giving a wet one and worrying about your mother-in-law. It's a kindness to keep temptation out of her way. As for your husband's relatives, they can surely forego their drinks following a religious ceremony in which a child has been officially named and identified with a church.

DEAR ABBY: I am a nice looking girl (so I've been told), and recently my boy friend bought me a "fall" (wig). When I wear it, it seems to attract a lot of attention. Here is my complaint. Almost every time I've got my fall on, some jealous girl will say in front of a lot of people, "Is that a wig you have on, or is that your own hair?" This makes me feel real bad, and I never know what to say. I hate to say it's not my own hair because that is why I wear it, so people will think it is. I hate to say it's my own hair because if they ask, they must know it isn't. So what should I say when I'm asked this question?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: If you have courage, say, "If you'll forgive me for not answering, I will forgive you for asking." Or "Yes, it's mine. Bought and paid for."

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago my husband and I took a vacation trip with another couple who live out of state. We had a fairly good time, but this other couple said they never had so much fun in all their lives. The next summer they wrote and asked us what our vacation plans were as they wanted very much to have a four-some - type vacation trip. We really weren't so keen on the idea, but not knowing how to get out of it, we went anyway. We did not have a good time at all, but they seemed to. This year we got another letter asking us where we should "all" go for our vacation. We don't want to get roped again, but we don't know how to get out of it without hurting their feelings. We own our own business, so they know we can get away any time we want to. Please help us. Sign this.

JOHN AND MARY

DEAR JOHN AND MARY: Write to your friends and tell them your vacation plans are indefinite, and to go ahead and make theirs without you. Don't invent any phony excuses, or they might "wait" for you. (P. S. You should feel gratified that you're such good company.)

It told how the UPI said you had applied for a trademark on the name MAFIA and how you want to sell mail order memberships for $3 each in a club you are forming. I tell you we almost laughed till you died. Are you a couple of crazies? Either that or you got a lot of moxie. Who do you think you are trying to muscle in on? The crocheted Colley racket? We read where you'd aid the initials of your tongue-in-cheek organization stand for Marimba and Fife Inspectors Association and we thought you ought to know the last joker who tried this ended up with his tongue in the other cheek. Now we are not cranks writing to tell you how your idea is vulgar or in bad taste. And we don't knock anybody who tries to send your kids to camp or something and we got to admit this idea is better than trying to sell homemade jelly and pickles. Probably you already got letters from the FBI (Flautist and Bastinado Independents and the CIA (Clarinet Inspectors Association). Probably you think that fife inspectors gag is pretty funny. But you don't know how hard them guys got it today. They are not too many fifes around now and the fact is they got to inspect piccolos half the time. One of our members is president of their union and we know whereof we speak. Therefore, we want you to know we don't think it's so damned funny. We also turned thumbs down on your remark about how you think this can be a wholesome family organization. The MAFIA has always been a family organization. But we never run no recruiting game. POLLY'S POINTERS Mother's Little Helper Gets Early Training

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR POLLY: To keep my four-year-old happy while I do the dishes, I let him wash his play dishes in a basin of luke-warm soapy water. In addition to keeping him busy it is teaching him the correct way to handle glass dishes, and to wash and rinse thoroughly. Now he does the cups, saucers, small bowls and other easy-to-handle dishes from the table. This is a big help to me. —SHIRLEY

Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY: I do hope some of the readers can tell me of a way to clean the mesh on a portable radio and phonograph without wetting the inside mechanism. I have tried a damp, soapy cloth which does not clean it. —MRS. J.R.B.

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Mr and Mrs. R. J. R. Soak a clean terry face cloth in cold water, wring it out, hand it to baby and watch him chew. The had been sensitive for his 30-some years. "I think all plastic surgeons should have some training in psychiatry," she said. "In some people, even a small scar can cause emotional problems. Others, more balanced, carry a big one without worry. "I've done noses a couple of times that didn't suit me. But the patients liked them and if they're emotionally happy, that's what we as physicians are looking for."

School And

By SUSAN LEGARY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR MRS. LIGHT: Thank you very much for your courageous article on integration of schools. Many agree with you, but few have the guts to say so in the newspapers or other media. Your articles are a joy. Again, thanks. —TWO FANS

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: Have just completed reading your column, "Integration. CoULD Have Bad Effect," and it seems to be a masterpiece of understanding of the ever-present perils encountered in "enforced goodness." It has taken a great deal of courage on your part to write what you have written, and it would seem that your courage shall not have been in vain. —PHILADELPHIAN

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I often read your column, and I am especially interested in your article today concerning school integration. I am a Negro, a more fortunate one than many as I haven't run into many problems concerning my race in either education or social aspects. My parents taught me early in life that once I allowed myself to accept what I am and what I must do to achieve my purpose in life, I would be received as an individual, not as a race. Too many minority groups use race as an excuse to do no better but to wait for others to do for them. And so with education. Negro children are often cheated and left for uncaring teachers. I'm not sure busing is the best way to achieve a goal of integrated schools and simultaneously give adequate education to those bused.

DEAR POLLY: When we put an aluminum door grille on the outside of our storm door several years ago, the glass on the inside was broken two or three times as someone carried trash, etc. out the back door. We then placed the grille on the INSIDE of the door. There are no more pushed-out screens or broken glass. —MRS. V.L.

DEAR POLLY: When washing dishes recently I discovered quite by accident that one can clean tarnished silver with rubber gloves. I had on blue rubber gloves, and picked up a tarnished spoon, rubbed it between my thumb and forefinger and it was soon bright and shiny again. —MARTHA

DEAR GIRLS: It was not the color of the gloves for I tried this with tan rubber gloves on and found it did brighten a slightly tarnished piece of silver but do not think it is going to be a substitute regular silver cleaning. Constantly used and washed silver tends to need cleaning less often, anyway. —POLLY

Television In Review

By RICK DU BKROWN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The evolution of racial desegregation in network television entertainment is obvious to anyone who watches the home tube with regularity. CBS-TV's new summer variety series, "Our Place," which arrived Sunday night, is a case in point.

Not too many years back, it would have been virtually taboo for a network to present, say, a dance in which a girl and boy of the white and Negro races performed, even fleetingly, as a couple. It now happens relatively frequently, however, and the premier of "Our Place" was yet another example.

The new series, which replaces the Smothers Brothers variety hour for the vacation period, stars the Doodletown Pipers, an integrated singing group of 20 handsome youngsters who also do some cleverly choreographed steps. The other stars are the comedy partners Jack Burns and Avery Schreiber.

Lacks Focal Point

Except for a few engaging bits and the settings of Charles Lisianby, the opener was pretty much of the summer filler class. Like another TV summer variety series, "Away We Go," the debut of "Our Place" lacked a magnetic focal point because of the co-billed nature of the starring acts. On "Away We Go," the three stars are George Carlin, Buddy Greco and Buddy Rice, and the viewer doesn't know exactly which to turn to when things need a pickup.

At any rate, this lack of a focal point gave the premiere of "Our Place" a generally aimless quality. Burns and Schreiber did a reprise of their sketch of a long-suffering taxi driver and a nuisance passenger, and it was funny and had some political and social bite as well. And guest star Carol Burnett had a funny bit in which she illustrated how a nightclub singer in an old television movie sometimes sounds because of the patched-up film.

Comedy Lacks Punch

For the most part, however, the comedy material was sub-par, and Burns and Schreiber, unless they can make their own personal material stretch over the summer season, may have problems with the skits provided for the.

The Doodletown Pipers are amiable enough, although I frankly don't find them enormously entertaining, but merely pleasant when they sing a song I particularly like. They don't have the ability to sock home the ordinary with exceptional showmanship. But there are individuals among them who are standouts. One of them, a Negro girl whose name is not on my CBS-TV credit sheet, was easily the showstopper Sunday night in a song she did near the end, with a few dance steps thrown in. She has a fine and unique voice, a pleasant delivery, a wholesome appearance, and seems like star material.

China Brands U.S.-Soviet Talk Betrayal

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China today branded the talks between President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin last month as the "most dirty betrayal" yet of the Communist cause by the present Soviet leadership.

The Peking People's Daily said "the so-called spirit of Hollybush, to put it bluntly, is the spirit with which the Soviet revisionist clique pledges its faith in U.S. imperialism. It is a spirit of surrender to U.S. imperialism."

The article in the Chinese Communist party newspaper was signed "Observer," which Western sources regard as the signature used by high Communist party officials.

It said the summit talks between the two world leaders at Glassboro, N. J. on June 23 and 25 were simply another step in the "Soviet-American scheme to rule the world."

"This was the most naked collusion yet with U.S. imperialism since the traitorous clique headed by (Soviet Communist party Chairman Leonid I. Brezhnev and Kosygin came to power," the article said.

"This was yet its most dirty betrayal of the revolutionary people of the world," it added.

THE ECONOMIC COST OF ILLNESS

Illness is a multibillion item in the American budget. A Public Health Service study of direct expenditures for medical care and the indirect costs of illness, disability and death put the total for the year studied, 1963, at $58 billion.

DEFECTION

SNETTISHAM, ngpand (UPI)—Getting them to the church on time is no problem here, at least when local soccer players are involved.

In fact, Soccer League Chairman Norman Singer has appealed to the players to miss the service and "just go to the reception."

The problem arises because there are so many players of marriageable age that each club has at least two weddings per season and the players attend their friends' weddings rather than the games.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson feels the current lack of speculative activity among the blue chip issues may be an indication of a "broad based speculative spree in performance stocks" in time for the traditional summer rally. The analyst adds that there are signs of such a pattern already developing "in certain sections of the market."

Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co. believes the market may be moving out of its two-week declining phase, judging from such factors as the list's relative strength during last week's diplomatic negotiations. The analyst feels, however, that "the approaching week end will probably prevent any broad recovery from immediately taking place."

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — A day to have a wonderful time at whatever recreations appeal to you most. Get together with family or congenial and get going early. Don't just lounge around and fritter the day away. Get into the spirit of things.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The days of quaint, wooden fishing ships equipped only with nets are passing, says The World Almanac. Increasingly, modern fishing fleets are using aluminum ships equipped with sonar, electronic lures, underwater lights and bubble-curtain pipes. Some Pacific fleets even use helicopters which can spot schools of fish miles away.

The next time you start to go in your car, stop and look to see if it still looks as new and beautiful as it did when you bought it. If not, take it to Ford's Body Shop for a free estimate to have those dents taken out. Ford's also has a twenty-four hour wrecker service. If you are ever in need of their services call MO 4-4619 or MO 4-4610.

Remember for major body repairs or just small touch-ups, Ford's Body Shop has the men and equipment to do the job right.

DECORATED
BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI)—Jim Ford had an accident that turned his hair silver—as well as his face and arms. Jim didn't move fast enough when his truck skidded out of control Saturday, pouring part of its cargo—a large can of silver paint—all over him. Doctors who were called in to get the paint off Ford gave up in dismay and said he would have to wait until the silver when wears off.

World Book Lore
I'M A SINGER...

The tailorbird, a songbird of China, India, Malaya and the Philippines, gets its name from the way it builds its nest. It sews the edges of leaves together with strips of silk or wool thread, or vegetable fiber, using its bill as a needle.

MISS HORNSBY, I presume. Yes, yes, we'd know that... face anywhere. Soaking up the sun with a bikini clinging to her famous pin-up frame is British model Twiggy, whose slat-line shape has swept the fashion world and has a lar med some dieticians who fear malnutrition may occur among young ladies who try to copy her.
