Truteens Honor Pampa Family, Businessman and PHS Teacher

By DORIS E. WILSON

At its Community Appreciation Banquet last night, Truteen Service League paid special tribute to Pampans who have set exemplary patterns of citizenship in their personal and civic lives by presenting them with special awards.

Singled out for honor were the E. L. Hendersons, who were named the Family of the Year for 1967; Ed Myatt as the Outstanding Citizen; and Miss Elizabeth Hurley, Pampa High School Journalism teacher, for the Service To Girls Award.

The Henderson family, E. L. (Smiley), Betty, George, Harriett, Frank, Anne and Mrs. Henderson's father George Yoe, were named Family of the Year for contributions to the spheres of activity. E. L., as past president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club; currently teacher of a seventh grade Sunday school class and an elder in the First Presbyterian Church;

Mrs. Henderson, also an elder in the church and member of the Christian Education Committee; past president of Pampa Pansellenic and currently secretary of the Community Concert Ass'n.;

Son George, an honor student at Texas Christian University;

Daughter Harriett, a 1967 Pampa High School graduate, member of the National Honor Society, finalist in the American Field Service program and recipient of a commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Committee;

Son Frank, a Little League Baseball player and first-chair cornetist;

Daughter Anne, second grade student at Woodrow Wilson School and member of a Brownie Troop; and grandfather George Yoe, who is described as "the best gardener in town."

The high school girls' service league named Ed Myatt as the Outstanding Citizen for his work with Girl Scouts. The Pampa United Fund; past president of Pampa Chamber of Commerce; city commissioner and former mayor of Pampa; a director on the Pampa Youth and Community Center board; member of the Industrial Foundation of Pampa; drive worker for Community Hotel, Inc., and member of the First Baptist Church.

Truteens singled out Miss Elizabeth Hurley, Pampa High School journalism teacher, for the Service To Girls Award for endeavors during the past 15 years in stressing "good citizenship, scholarship, responsibility and open-mindedness." She has helped almost every student who has passed through Pampa High School.

Vicki Martin, Truteen junior director, as mistress of ceremonies, introduced Mrs. Bill Dunn, incoming president of the Altrusa Club of Pampa and Truteen sponsors, who gave the invocation.

Police Lieutenant 'Let Go' Ahead of Resignation Date

Pampa Police Lt. Bill Robinson, who had in his resignation Wednesday, effective June 15, was asked to leave Thursday by Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner.

Conner said he wanted to make it clear Robinson was not "fired."

"Actually," the chief said, "he would have worked only about three days more before his vacation time came up, so I decided to let him go yesterday."

Chief Conner added that "I really don't think with his attitude he would have been of much value to the city."

Conner was asked by Robinson, who stated in his letter of resignation that Conner had ignored his suggestions to remedy deficiencies in the department, was not let go the day he turned in his resignation.

"I wanted time to think it out and just decided to let him quit now," Conner replied.

The chief was asked if the decision was his alone and said that mainly it was.

"Of course you have to discuss it with someone, but the final decision was mine," he said.

"This is done quite often in other departments," Conner said. "Say, a man messed up and resigned. He would be let go at that time to avoid any complications."

Conner said Robinson would receive full pay despite the (Adv.)

SAIGON (UPI) — American Marines today stormed a heavily defended Communist hilltop fortress overlooking two U.S. bases just south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) dividing the Vietnams.

Military spokesmen said the North Vietnamese defenders rained mortar, machinegun and rifle fire on the advancing Marines in their second attempt in two days to capture the vital hill.

The spokesmen said the fighting was so fierce Thursday that the Marines pulled back to let artillery and aircraft pound the hill for a whole day before resuming their assault.

Casualty figures on both sides were not available. The fighting raged on today.

Officials said the hill is honeycombed with a network of tunnels and fortifications. It overlooks the Marine camps of Con Thien and Camp Carroll, just south of the DMZ.

The camps are part of a chain that snakes all the way across the northern provinces where Marines are holding back an estimated three North Vietnamese divisions.

The North Vietnamese have been trying for a week to overrun one of the bases. Cohort mortar and rocket fire from the Thien has been hit daily by surrounding hilltops.

Heavy fighting three weeks ago around Hill 681 frustrated an apparent Communist plan to surround and flatten the U.S. base at Khe Sanh, to the west of today's fighting.

Two U.S. drives into the neutral DMZ itself were aimed at crippling the North Vietnamese bases from which many of the attacks originated.

Today's battle was part of a multi-company sweep around Con Thien to eliminate mortar and rocket sites. The hill was stormed by men of the 9th Marine Regiment.

Nearby, other Communists hit a unit of the 4th Marine Regiment wounding 18 leathernecks, officials said.

Hazlewood Is Bitter Over Lt. Governor

AUSTIN (UPI) — The 60th Legislature is over, but the bitterness lingers on in the words of Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, saying the lieutenant governor ignores the needs of Texans.

Hazlewood said he would re- analyze the 60th Legislature Thursday and accused Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of "attempting to advance his position for governor of Texas by the use of every political maneuver during this entire session."

Hazlewood said he would resign his senatorship if Smith is returned to the lieutenant governorship a reasonable safe bet in view of the fact Smith is considered a sure candidate for governor and has said he will not run for reelection.

"Not during my 27 years in the Senate have I ever seen such total lack of cooperation on the part of our presiding officer," Hazlewood said. "Nor have I ever seen a public official exhibit such an utter disregard for the welfare of our people."

Huffs' Robbery Trial to Begin Monday in Miami

After a postponement, May 8, the robbery trial of Ernest (Rusty) Huff, 32, and Mrs. Wanda Ruth (Carver) Huff, 27, both of Pampa, is scheduled again Miami at 10 a.m. Monday.

The two were charged by a Roberts County grand jury with the $19,014 March 3 robbery of First State Bank of Miami.

Both are also charged with car theft from Preston Poole, a Haliburton Co. employe.

The grand jury indicted Huff alone with assault to murder Hemphill County Sheriff Jim Cloyd, who with other law officers, arrested the pair at a West Texas ranch, east of Pampa shortly after the robbery.

Huff, wounded in a gunfight with officers, was hospitalized in Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo and has also been treated at Worley Hospital here after he was jailed in Gray County.

In May, at the beginning of Huff's trial, Defense Attorney John Warner, said he planned to try the case on the basis of Huff's sanity at the time of offense and now.

After that inquest, District attorney Bill Waters' motion for a continuance was granted for at orneys to select a psychiatrist to administer a sanity examination.

The examination was made by Dr. Hugh A. Pannel of Amarillo May 28, district Judge Grainger McIlhenny said, but results of the test will not be announced unless the attorneys do so during Huff's trial.

J. M. Martindale is the court-appointed defense attorney for Mrs. Huff.

Judge McIlhenny has granted a defense motion for severance of the two cases. Mrs. Huff's trial will start after her husband's. She has also been placed in Gray County jail.

Tornado, Hail Lashes Lubbock

By United Press International

A massive, six-hour storm that included a small tornado, 92-mile an hour winds, hail and 5.70 inches of rain, Thursday night and early today turned Lubbock into a vast lake dotted with hundreds of abandoned automobiles.

Two persons were injured.

All told, 15 tornadoes were reported in the area. Damage was comparatively light from the tornadoes, but water, hail and wind damage over the whole storm area was expected to total several million dollars.

Another tornado extensively damaged Rankin, a town of 1,200 residents in Upton County, 200 miles south of Lubbock.

In the immediate Lubbock area, wind, rain and hail also hit Brownfield, Smyer—which was without electrical power most of the night—Littlefield, New Deal, Tahoka and O'Donel.

Smyer, Littlefield and Tahoka in particular reported heavy rain and hail damage. A tornado in the New Deal-Abernathy area heavily damaged farm outbuildings.

More Rain Falls

The storm started at 6:30 p.m. Thursday and lasted until 12:30 a.m. today. Toward daylight, heavy clouds piled up again and light rain fell.

Floods up to 18 feet rolled into some underpasses. At dawn, rescue workers still were making isolated rescues of stranded motorists.

More than 800 off-duty policemen, firemen and other city employes worked through the night, barricading streets, sand-

Senator Says Commander Needs Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., just back from a trip to Vietnam, says Gen. William C. Westmoreland sees a need for 600,000 U.S. troops in the embattled country by the end of the year.

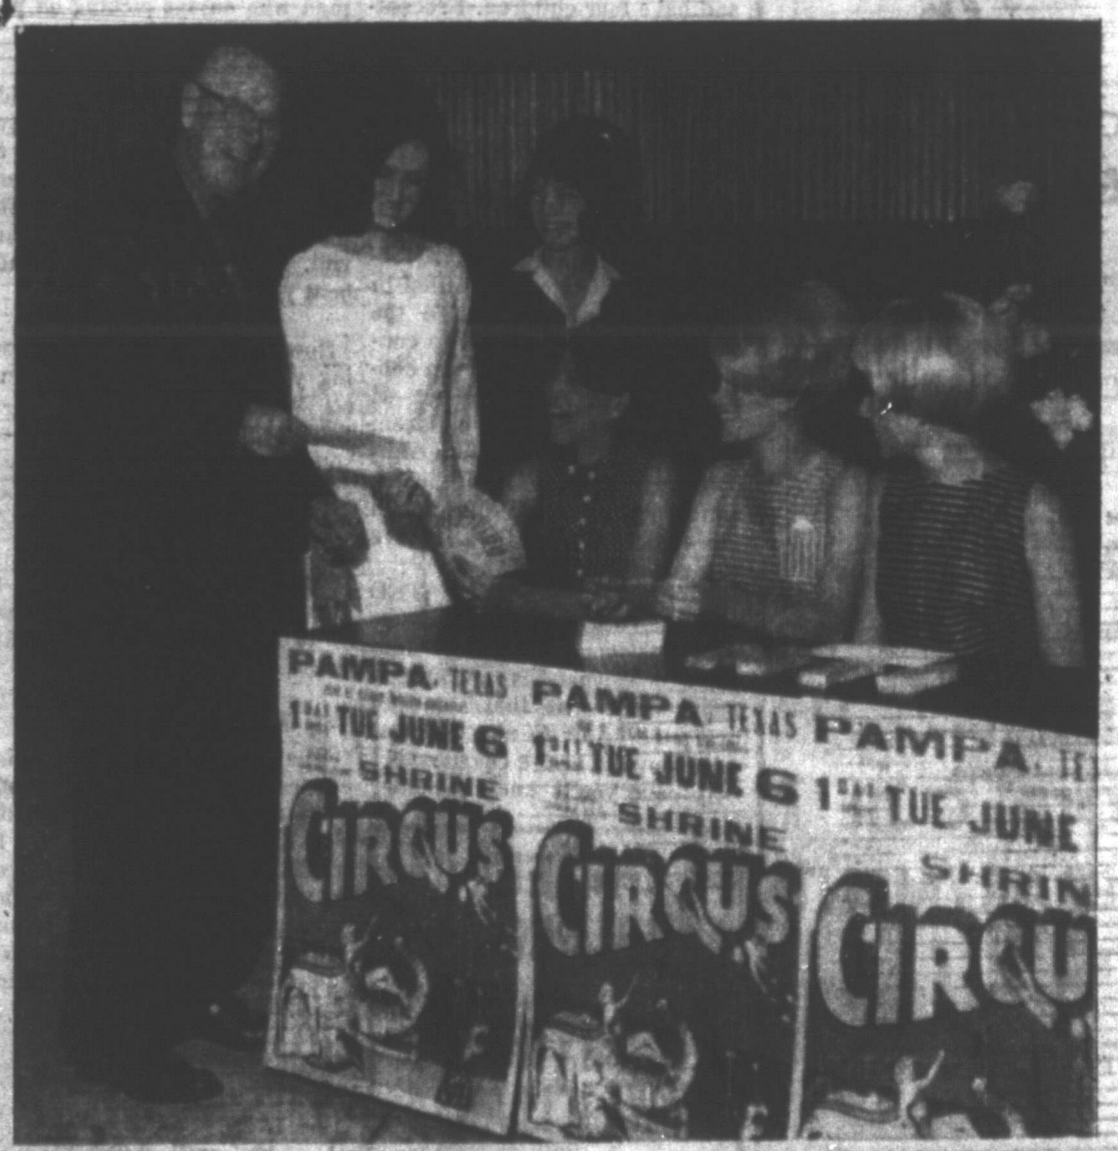

There are now 453,000 U. S. servicemen in Vietnam, and the administration's working plan calls for this to increase to 480,000 by Dec. 31.

Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, discussed reinforcements with President Johnson during the general's recent visit to Washington, but there was no indication the working plan would be changed.

Dominick, discussing his trip with reporters Thursday, declined to state his own opinion on reinforcing U.S. troops, but he called for a stiffened offensive in other ways.

He said he favored resuming U.S. bombing of Hanoi, except for residential areas, and the quarantining of Haiphong, North Vietnam's major port.

Dominick also called for the recommissioning of a battleship to be used in shelling North Vietnam. He said that country had a "higher degree of air defenses" than U. S. forces encountered in Germany's Ruhr Valley during World War II. (Adv.)

Six Soldiers Electrocuted By Flag Pole

United Press International

SPRINGFIELD, Va. (UPI)—Six soldiers were electrocuted Thursday when the 50-foot flagpole they were erecting on a Little League baseball field toppled onto a high tension wire.

Bob Ramey, 16, who was walking past the field, said the soldiers were struggling to steady the swaying pole in a "Then he heard one of the soldiers yell: 'There it goes. It's going.'"

"And with a final wild swing, the meal flagpole toppled onto a high tension line."

"There was this big flash, and the six GIs were just lying there in the mud with their clothes on fire," Ramey said.

The six soldiers died instantly. They were members of the 77th Engineer Port Construction Company and with four other soldiers, had been working all week on the ball field as part of Ft. B Ivor's community assistance program.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Shifts Outgrown Skirts To Shifts For Youngster

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR POLLY — I have found a good way to use my older girl's outgrown skirts. I take a size 12 or 14 skirt, remove the zipper and then hold it up to my six-year-old's neck line. Next I cut out armholes. I leave the belt sewed on the skirt and it makes a boat - type neck line. The result is a cute A-line shift. I have five children. I sometimes find it quite a challenge to work out ways to utilize good outgrown clothing.

crocheted pieces that I wash in my washer along with the other laundry. I have no dryer, so I hang them outdoors. Sometimes I add bleach when they are washed and they come out white and clean. Cotton crochet thread is so sturdy that it needs no special treatment.

DEAR POLLY — I have recently had my hair restyled and now have a small fringe of bangs. I have already found out that the best way to brush them and keep them in order is to use a nail brush.

DEAR POLLY — I certainly agree with Mrs. A. H. K. I would not use the "white dye" in my washing machine. She should get one of those old-type copper boilers once used for boiling clothes to make them whiter. Use it out - of - doors instead of on the kitchen range. If she does not have an outdoor fireplace, her husband could build a makeshift one that would hold the wash boiler. Some living in older homes have basement laundry stoves where this could be done.

DEAR POLLY — When I am ready to clean the upstairs I take a large bag from the supermarket along with my regular cleaning equipment. As I clean each room I empty the wastebaskets into this bag. This saves carrying all the waste cans down and then back upstairs to the right rooms. When I finish cleaning I just bring down the one bag and throw the whole thing away.

Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY — Will someone please tell me how to keep a box mattress from sliding off a box spring? Every day, before making my bed, I have to shift the mattress back on the springs.

DEAR POLLY — I would like to offer a simple suggestion for Mrs. A. H. K. I have several

TENNIS FASHIONS for Summer '67 will be match-stoppers. Dress (left) has V-neck and double frill trimmed with red stitching. It's Love-All When Shifts Court Attention At Tennis

By HELEN HENNESSY Women's Editor Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — Teddy Tinting, who many years ago himself competed several times at Wimbledon, is a designer of tennis clothes that have become more and more a major fashion talking point of the summer season.

Inspired by the versatility of fabrics made from Dacron and Dacron and cotton blends, Tinting has used them to add the final touch to the most successful tennis fashion — the shift. His newest tennis shifts retain the classic simplicity — loose front and figure-following back — but now, a more fluid look is achieved with side - seaming and pointed yoke. In his new collection there are frilled knickers built to show beneath a red - scalloped shift. Other highlights are the mini dress with nude nylon yoke and hem; the chalk stripe pants suit and the shift culotte. Last year Tinting used a delicate touch of pastel color in trimming and accessories. This year he uses red. His accessories include red tights (for British weather), red scalloped vinyl eye - shades for brighter climates, and for all climates there are red-toed shoes by Mr. Bruno. Even party frills feature tiny red edges. Dacron is used in all these fashions because of its resilience and crisp neatness even under trying conditions. But from it five new fabrics have been pulled out of the Tinting hat — king - crepon, bonded blister fabric, whipcord, a linen type-weave and printed chalk-striped sailcloth. All told, this summer should bring out the smartest fashions seen on the tennis courts.

Your Child And School

By SUSAN LIGHT Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I am a girl in grade 10. I have not been doing very well in school this year. Last year my averages were around 82, and this year they are 55.

My problem is that my father plans to take away all my enjoyment. He wants me to study all the time. He's taking away my radio, record player, tape recorder and the television set.

The trouble is, I study as much as I always did before, but he can't see this. I wish you could help me and tell me if he should take away these things.

ANSWER: At the risk of putting myself in the middle of a family hassle, I'd like to say a few words to your father.

Dad, I know how you feel and I sympathize. You've probably lost a good many nights sleep wrestling with this problem. You've pleaded, encouraged, threatened, bribed. The result? Your daughter's grades have gone from bad to worse. Now, as a last resort, you are taking away "all (her) enjoyment."

Perhaps withdrawing privileges will be effective in this case but I doubt it. Before another day passes, I urge you to make an appointment with the school guidance counselor. Find out, if possible, the basic cause of your daughter's trouble. Does she have the ability to do average work? Does she need tutoring? Does she know how to study efficiently? Does she have any physical, psychological or neurological difficulties that hamper learning?

Ask the counselor for specific suggestions on how you can help. You may be referred to outside professional sources. If so, for your daughter's sake, please follow through.

These should be happy years for your little girl — years she can look back on nostalgically. Don't spoil them for her.

And now, "Lost," show your father that you are REALLY trying. Your letter, I noticed, was well-written — no misspelled words, no grammatical errors. Any student who can write like that should be able to make passing grades. Are you sure you don't fritter your time away? Have you talked with your teachers about your problems? I hope you find yourself soon. So does your father, I'm sure.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a wonderful man who is dying to marry me, but he has one horrible fault. He smokes cigars.

your marriage is worth salvaging. But don't run up the white flag or act on a divorce until the record is laid on the line.

I have asked him to please refrain from smoking those stinking cigars when he is with me, and so far he has, but—I'm still not satisfied because he smokes cigars when he is not with me, consequently his hair, hands, and clothing smell of cigar smoke.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who is never satisfied when he eats out? No matter what he is served, he sends it back with the complaint that it's either under-cooked, cold, or "smells funny"—or not what he ordered. When he sends something back and reorders it holds up everybody else's dinner.

Abby, he is a handsome, courteous, considerate, sober, well-to-do gentleman who would make an ideal husband if it weren't for this one fault. What do you suggest?

He is always complaining about the service, and argues with waiters and captains, insisting that something is "fried" when they assure him it has been broiled. Or he'll insist that something has garlic in it when they assure him it hasn't. What is wrong with a person like that?

HATES CIGARS DEAR HATES: I suggest you either develop a tolerance for cigar smoke or try to find yourself another handsome, courteous, considerate, sober, well-to-do gentleman who's "dying" to marry you.

UP TO HERE DEAR UP: He's either a malcontent whom no one could please, or an obnoxious little man who enjoys picking on people who can't fight back.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for 16 years and have four children. I recently learned that she has been having an affair with my supervisor. It has become common knowledge. He sends me out of town on business so he can take her out for dinner and spend time with her at a local motel. The number of my business trips had increased lately. I am not in an easy position to change jobs, nor am I sure the affair would end if I did. In considering divorcing her, I am concerned about what effect it would have on our children. And finally, I am unable to compete with this man. He is richer, better looking, and has much more going for him than I. Have you any suggestions?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "World's Biggest Fool": You say you made a fool of yourself. So what? Who hasn't—at least once in his life? Try to forget it. The sooner you do, the sooner others will. If they haven't already beat you to it.

DEFEATED DEAR DEFEATED: Tell your wife and your supervisor that you know what is "common knowledge." If that doesn't bring the affair to an end, your next move is to the courts. By then you'll know whether

Arson Is Suspected In Fire

Fire and police officials said today they expected arson in a early morning house fire at 405 Oklahoma St.

The fire, reported by a neighbor, Mrs. Albert Woods, at 12:40 a.m. today, heavily damaged a five-room frame house.

Fire officials said the fire started in a closet in middle bedroom and spread throughout the house, which was vacant, but owned by a Pampan, Tom Morgan.

Policemen are investigating the case today.

Fire station units were back in service at 1:20 a.m. and reported no other fires occurred today in Pampa or immediate areas.

County Officials Accept Tractor Bid, Pay Bill

Gray County Commissioners accepted the International Harvester bid of $2,425.50 for a wheel tractor yesterday and approved payment of more than $6,000 in highway rights-of-way on U.S. Hwy. 60.

The International Harvester bid was the only one submitted, Joe Clarke, presiding commissioner said. Clarke presided in the absence of County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr, who is on vacation.

Commissioners paid $5,962.10 to Pioneer Natural Gas Co. for right-of-way easement and damage to utility pipelines. Cities Service Oil Co., with headquarters in Tulsa, Okla., received $392.03 for right-of-way easement and damages.

Commissioners also transferred $50,000 from the general to salary fund, paid bills and approved a $300 payment to C. H. Bigham of Lefors for a right-of-way easement on a farm-to-market road west of Lefors.

They also approved the Soil Conservation Services' request for renewal of its office lease in the county annex building, which expires June 30.

With commissioners' approval, County Agent Foster Whaley will receive a $75 monthly travel allowance and agreed to furnish his own pickup, instead of using a county pickup.

Aging Group Calls Meet To Organize

The Gray County Governor's Committee on Aging has planned a meeting for persons of retirement age or 2 p.m. Sunday in the Pampa Hotel Banquet Room, according to Mrs. Lillian Snow, chairman of the Gray County Committee on Aging.

Mrs. Snow said the purpose of this meeting is to get the retirement group together to get acquainted and to discuss the possibility of organizing into interest groups such as gardening, games, arts and crafts, sewing, music, community service, lecture groups and visiting shut-ins. Anyone interested is invited, she said.

Registration will begin at 2 p.m. with the Gray County Home Demonstration Council serving coee.

Participating in the meeting will be Bob Alford as master of ceremonies; the Rev. Joe Hawn, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church and president of the Ministerial Alliance; E. Shelhamer, chamber of Commerce president, and the Rev. Charles Grod, assistant pastor of First Christian Church.

Committee members are Mrs. Helen Sprinkle, Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald, Mrs. H. C. Groninger, Mrs. O. Q. Wagner, Dr. R. M. Hampton, William Leonard, the Rev. J. W. Duke and Joe Tooley.

Pampa Altrusa Club will be hostess for the meeting.

Clean-Up Described As 'Success'

The 1967 Pampa cleanup drive collected less trash and junk for the city dump, but as a whole, Jiggs Cooke, director of public works, described the four-week campaign as a "success, with good cooperation."

The month-long project, which ended today, concentrated sanitation workers and trucks in each city ward for a week to collect all trash, junk, old car bodies and anything Pampan wanted to throw away to help cleanup their city, he said.

James Hart was chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce fire and safety prevention committee which directed the clean-up, fix-up and paint-up project.

Compared to last year's collections of 394 loads from all four wards, this year netted 72 loads in Ward 1; 70 in Ward 2; 109 in Ward 3 and 112 in Ward 4, for a total of 363, Cooke said.

"Officially the cleanup drive is over, but we still want people to call the city sanitation department and tell us where there are old, dilapidated buildings to tear down and trash to collect," he said.

This month, seven old buildings were torn down during the drive. Last year 31 were demolished all year.

Bonds Set On Three Pampan

Bonds of $2,000 each were set for three Pampan men Thursday by Justice of Peace Nat Lunsford, on charges of property destruction of another.

Lynn Mills reportedly threw a chair through a window of the home of J. C. Daniels. Mills was released on $2,000 bond.

Gerald Montgomery, 22, and Jim Powell, 18, were charged with the same offense after an altercation at the Black Gold Motel May 30.

Bonds of $2,000 each were set on both men.

Theologian Deplores Evils Of Candid, Vicious Tongues

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Dietrich Bonhoeffer was a German theologian whose opposition to Hitler led him to a martyr's death on a Nazi scaffold.

At the time of his arrest in 1943, he was working on a book about ethics. The last incomplete fragment of that book, interrupted by the arrival of the secret police, deals not with tyranny, war or any other grand question, but with a homely problem of everyday behavior.

The problem is knowing when to keep your mouth shut.

Bonhoeffer noted, with regret, that there are "people who feel themselves called upon to tell truth," as they put it to everyone who crosses their path.

He acknowledged that there are times when a parent, a teacher, a pastor, an employer or someone else in a position of responsibility may have a clear moral duty to speak painful truths to another person.

Few Have Rights

But he said this does not mean that all of us have the right to go around administering verbal slaps in the name of candor.

"The claim that one is entitled to say what one thinks is completely unfounded," Bonhoeffer said in the last paragraph he wrote as a free man.

If he had been able to complete his essay on the virtue of holding your tongue he doubtless would have followed his usual custom of buttressing his point with scriptural quotations. He would have had no difficulty finding pertinent Biblical passages to cite.

"I will guard my ways," says the author of the 39th Psalm, "that I may not sin with my tongue."

The biblical writer who feels most strongly on the subject is the author of the New Testament epistle of James.

He uses graphic metaphors to describe the power for mischief that resides in a wagging tongue.

"We put the bit into the mouths of horses to make them obey us, and we are able to make them go where we want. Or think of a ship: Big as it is, and driven by such strong winds, it can be steered by a very small rudder, and goes wherever the pilot wants it to go."

Beastly Tongue

"This is how it is with the tongue. Small as it is, it can boast about great things.

"Just think how large a forest can be set on fire by a tiny flame! And the tongue is like a fire. It is a world of wrong, occupying its place in our bodies and spreading evil through our whole being! It sets on fire the entire course of our existence with the fire that comes to it from hell itself.

"Man is able to tame, and has tamed, all other creatures—wild animals and birds, reptiles and fish. But no man has ever been able to tame the tongue. It is evil and uncontrollable, full of deadly poison.

"We use it to give thanks to our Lord and Father, and also to curse our fellow men, created in the likeness of God! 'My brothers, this should not happen...do not speak against one another...God is the only lawgiver and judge. Who do you think you are, to judge your fellow man?'"

Witnesses To Organize Convention

About 15 members of Pampa congregation of Jehovah Witnesses will meet with other witnesses in Amarillo Saturday to make pre-convention district meeting plans.

About 7,500 will attend the district assembly in Amarillo. Delegates will meet in the Tri-State Coliseum from a seven-state area.

Charles Regal, presiding minister of the Pampa group, said car pools will be formed here to transport the 50 Pampans expected to attend the four-day meeting June 29 to July 2.

More than 300 witnesses, including five Amarillo congregations, are expected to attend the planning meeting tomorrow to arrange housing for convention delegates.

About 1,000 volunteer workers are planning to assist in convention preparations for delegates from Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and other states.

Congregations from Berger, Dumas and Hereford will assist in convention plans tomorrow.

Religion in America

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

In every age since the dawn of history, young people and their elders have had difficulty understanding each other.

This normal and inevitable "generation gap" seems to have grown in recent years even wider than usual. Many parents today find it virtually impossible to communicate with their children—and vice-versa.

The Rev. Dr. Charles Price has good reason to know about the generation gap. He's chairman of Harvard University and pastor of the famous Memorial Church in Harvard Yard.

On a recent Sunday morning, Dr. Price looked out over a congregation that included worshippers of almost every age from 18-year-old freshmen to white-haired professors.

'Generation Gap' Stretches Wider In Youths, Adults of Nuclear Age

"Let us pray that the generation gap may be bridged," he said.

Here is the prayer that he delivered to suggest ways to mend the gap.

"Look upon us with mercy, O Lord, and heal the divisions among us caused by our years.

"Those who are young mistrust their elders, and the old can't understand the younger generation.

"Grant us enough imagination and sympathy to close the gap.

"If we're on the older side, help us to see what it's like to come of age in an attractive, dangerous, rapidly changing world.

"Help us to remember the pain of discovering identity and entering into sexuality.

"Help us to remember what it is like to learn what you can do and come to terms with disappointment over what you can't.

"Help us to understand the unwillingness of young people to accept their place in a world they weren't consulted about, how great the challenge is to do better, how near the impulse is to be critical.

"Help us to feel again that fine desire to enjoy the most of every good thing and to sense what it is like when the sky and the future are open.

"If we're on the younger side, help us to understand what it's like to be responsible, to invest yourself in a way of life which isn't perfect and hasn't turned out as you had hoped.

"Help us to know what it is like to live with bad mistakes and dirty hands, to live within limits, to settle for some evil in order to accomplish some good.

"Help us to know what it's like to have been surprised and betrayed; to hang one's life on a slender thread, to love a family and do a job, to seek—and find—fulfillments on a less-than-cosmic scale.

"Turn the hearts of parents to children, and children to parents, and let love flourish 'For Jesus' sake. Amen."

Two Bible Schools Slated for Summer

Two Pampa churches are planning Vacation Bible Schools to start Monday, for participants up to 16 years old.

Immanuel Temple Full Gospel Church, 801 E. Campbell, will start its two-week school at 9 a.m. and continue until noon during the week, the Rev. Bill W. Hobson, pastor, said.

Mrs. Clayton Stokes will direct activities for those two to 16 years old who participate in the theme "Soldiers of Christ."

Activities include Bible study, handicrafts, and lessons in Biblical characters.

The Church of God will start its VBS classes at 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday, beginning next Monday.

Final service for the week's program will start at 9 p.m. June 9, at the church located on the corner of Church and Summer Sts.

"Exploring God's Many Wonders" is this year's theme for classes of all ages up to and including 16 years old. A nursery will be provided for babies.

Mrs. William Morris and Mrs. Blake Laramore will direct handicraft and workshops, the Rev. O. E. Wright, pastor, said.

REV. RUSSELL WEST former pastor

Ex-Pampans To Preach

The Rev. Russell G. West will be guest speaker for the 11 a.m. service at the Church of the Brethren Sunday. He has chosen "The sermon on the Mount" as his topic.

The Rev. Mr. West was past-ored of the Pampa church 16 years, while his wife Mildred taught in Pampa school district. He is now pastor of Pueblo, Colo., Church of the Brethren.

After the morning service, a lunch is planned in the church basement, the Rev. Bryce Hubbard, pastor here, said.

Conference Delegates Stop Methodist Vietnam Debate

DALLAS (UPI)—Delegates to the North Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Church shut off a spirited debate on Vietnam Wednesday by voting to adjourn.

Thirty minutes before scheduled adjournment time, the Rev. John Brand, pastor of Munger Place Methodist Church in Dallas, read a statement to counter a statement from the General Board of Christian Social Concerns that advised withdrawal from Vietnam.

Brand's statement argued against a unilateral withdrawal and Brand said it was meant to register "vigorous disagreement with statements by the general board."

A third statement, adopted by the Bishops of the Methodist Church in November, 1966, was called to the floor. It opposed further escalation, praised U.N. Secretary General U Thant's efforts to get a cease fire and urged President Johnson to call for a truce.

Bishop Kenneth Pope, who was conducting the conference, stopped discussion three times to ask for "a spiritual spirit in this vital matter."

A majority of the delegates voted to adjourn without a vote ever being taken on any of the three statements.

Missouri Minister Will Preach Revival

A revival meeting will begin Sunday at Revival Center Church at 1101 South Wells St. with Harlan Gamber of Sedalia, Mo., as evangelist.

Services start each night at 7:30 p.m. daily. Ruby M. Burrow, pastor, said.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Friday, June 2, the 153rd day of 1967 with 212 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars, Jupiter and Venus.

American engineer George Henry Colless, designer of the steam engine, was born on this day in 1817.

On this day in history:
In 1862, Gen. Robert E. Lee took over the command of the Confederate armies of Eastern Virginia and North Carolina.
In 1924, Congress granted citizenship to all American Indians.
In 1953, Queen Elizabeth II was crowned in London's Westminster Abbey by the Archbishop of Canterbury.
In 1964, Lal Bahadur Shastri became prime minister of India.

A thought for the day—American author Ernest Hemingway said: "The world is a fine place and worth fighting for."

Pastor Plans To Preach On Satan

The Rev. Dan B. Cameron, First Baptist Church, pastor, will preach on the subject, "Satan's Counterfeit" at the 11 a.m. service Sunday. Hoyte Phillips will direct congregational singing and present Mrs. John May, soprano, of Odessa, as guest soloist.

Mrs. May is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McMinn and a former member of First Baptist Church. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Air in F" by Handel for the offertory.

Ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the 7 p.m. service. The pastor will direct the service, assisted by deacons. The Chancel Choir will sing the choral worship with Terry Scoggins as featured soloist. "Sweet Story" prelude by Graham will be the organ offertory.

Pastor Receives Scholarship Aid For Seminary

The Rev. Melvin G. Herring, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church has received an Aid Association for Lutherans Scholarship for a ten-year seminary graduate.

He will attend a summer school session at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., in June. In his absence, the Rev. Dan Matasovsky, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Shamrock, will conduct services.

Sunday worship service will start at 8:30 a.m. Sunday School and Bible classes will continue at the regular time, 9:45 a.m.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Rev. Bill W. Hobson
Pastor Immanuel Temple
Full Gospel Church

WITH MY WHOLE HEART

1. Praise ye the Lord. I will praise the Lord with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.
2. The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.
3. His work is honorable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth forever.
4. He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the Lord is gracious and full of compassion.

I would like to point out four words of the 1st verse With My Whole Heart! Would you be honest with yourself just now, and search your heart, today we have Christians that spend more time on the lakes on Sunday than in the assembly of the upright, it seems that today Satan has sowed tares in the Christians service to God, otherwords, they put every idle care above the things of God, otherwords man today is going against Gods word and going their own way and still thinking that they are serving the Lord, my friend you cannot serve two masters neither can you serve God with just half of your heart. The word of God speaks plain about this, and man deceiveth his own heart when he or she think they can play around with sin and still serve God; Sin separates from God, the Bible says in Hebrews 12:16.

Esau who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. People today are selling their birthright to Heaven cheap.

Hebrews 10:26 for if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins. So my friend let's do what God would have us to do and this means to be found in Church when the doors are open, be in the Lords house and be found faithful.

Hebrews Chapter 2:1 Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

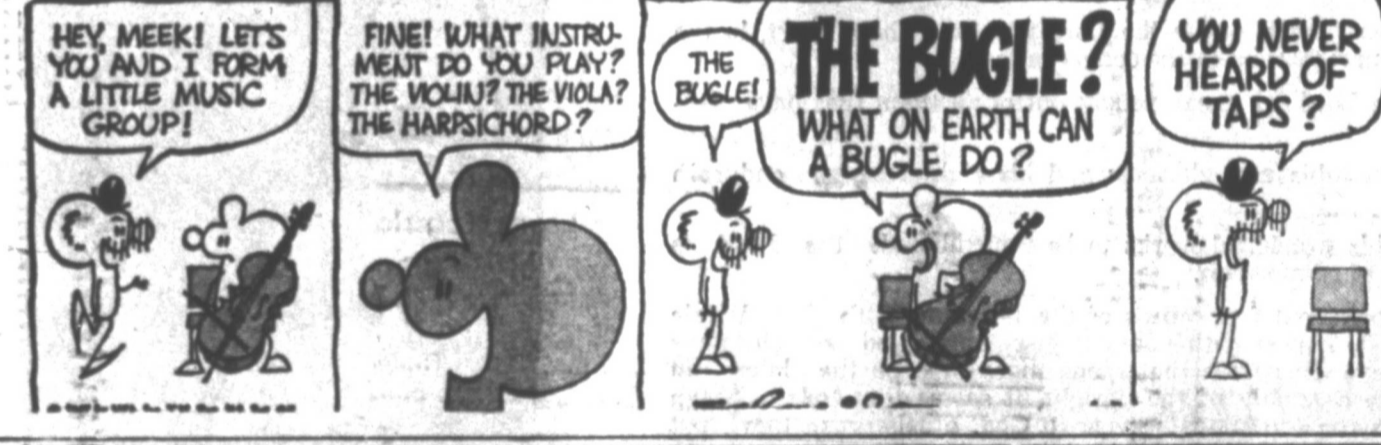

For if the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward.

How shall we escape, if we NEGLECT so great salvation? Friend we will not escape if we neglect to serve the Lord with all our heart.

Make sure you are serving God with your whole heart

Deadline Past For Overdue Reservists

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The deadline has passed for an estimated 34,000 reservists who had until midnight Wednesday to either get on the rolls of military reserve units or be called to active duty.

There was no immediate estimate of the number who have succeeded in joining units. However, the total to be called up may have been substantially reduced by a nationwide effort by the military to find places for them.

The purpose of the Defense Department order issued last Feb. 15 was to enforce attendance at weekly drill meetings, rather than to obtain additional manpower for the regular armed forces.

Nearly all of those affected have already completed six months of active duty and then, because of civilian obligations, were assigned to "control groups"—manpower pools—and were not required to attend weekly meetings.

The majority of reserve units have filled their manpower quotas, thus many reservists found it impossible to join a unit or be placed on its frozen waiting list. This problem was offset somewhat in recent weeks by an Army ruling that getting on a waiting list for a vacancy occurring any time before Jan. 1, 1968, constitutes "good standing."

The previous requirement was that the vacancy had to occur within 180 days after the reservist was enrolled. Except for about 4,500 in the Air Force and another 2,000 in the Marines, almost all of the reservists are to be called into the Army.

They are subject under the program to 24 months of service, less any active duty time they have already had.

GAME OF TAG

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Assemblyman Gerald Anderson Wednesday introduced a bill revising Wisconsin's law concerning legislative lobbying.

Among other things, the Anderson bill requires lobbyists to wear name tags bearing the word "lobbyist" when they are within 300 feet of the Senate or Assembly chambers.

OPEN MEETINGS NOW MANDATORY—Gov. John Connally signs Senate Bill 94 in the presence of Garth Jones, Associated Press; Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena, sponsor of the bill; Stuart Long, Long News Service, Austin; and Don Scarborough, Williamson County Sun, Georgetown. All are members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, one of several groups that urged the bill's passage.

OPEN MEETINGS MANDATORY BY GOVERNMENTAL BODIES

Gov. John Connally, on May 22, signed into law an "Open Meetings" bill which he proclaimed as "a great step forward for the people of Texas." He was referring to Senate Bill 94 sponsored by Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena. Similar legislation was introduced in the House by Rep. Bill Rapp of Baytownville. The "Open Meetings" legislation at the 1967 session culminated a drive that began some 20 years ago. It was engineered by legislators and the press to insure a better flow of information to the public.

At the bill signing ceremony, Governor Connally made this statement regarding the importance of the legislation: "Senate Bill 94, commonly known as the open meetings bill, provides basically that all meetings of boards, agencies and commissions shall be open meetings, open to the press. This is something that the working press in the capitol and the press throughout the state have been interested in for a long, long time. I think it's an historic and significant bill and a significant day.

"So I want to applaud the efforts of the press itself to bring into the light and to the awareness of the Legislature the need for this type of legislation. I want to commend the members of the Legislature who supported it and congratulate the people of Texas that they now can be better informed on their own affairs."

Excepted in the bill, so far as open meetings are concerned, are grand juries and certain executive sessions supported by or expending public funds. The law also excepts meetings called to consider the appointment, employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such persons, unless the individual concerned requests a public hearing.

Similar legislation was introduced by the Texas Press Association some 20 years ago. This year it had the backing not only of TPA but also the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity, plus the support of radio and television media.

Co-sponsors of the new law, in addition to Senator Brooks, were the following Senators: Joe Christie of El Paso; Barbara Jordan of Houston; Criss Cole of Houston; Henry C. Grover of Houston; A. E. Schwartz of Galveston; and Durrey B. Hardeeman of San Angelo. Joining Representative Rapp in executing the bill through the House were Representatives Russell Cummings and Paul Floyd, both of Houston.

Three Pampa DeMolays Earn Honors

GEORGE POOL
RANDY STUBBLEFIELD
DENNIS MORTIMER
RD

Titles of Representative DeMolay (RD) have been bestowed on three members of the Top O' Texas Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

George Poole, Randy Stubblefield and Dennis Mortimer were presented with RD pins, ribbons and certificates which were awarded by the International Supreme Council, Kansas City, Mo.

The new RD's are sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Poole, 1432 Wiliston; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stubblefield, 616 Lefors, and Mr. and Mrs. George Morimer, 1116 Cinderella.

The RD Award is the highest award in the Order of DeMolay that a boy can apply for on his own. Higher awards and titles are initiated by the advisory board of a chapter, unbeknownst to the recipient.

In granting the RD Award, the review board in Kansas City is guided by two reports filled out by the DeMolay. One of four pages long and the other 26 pages long.

In the request reports, the DeMolay answers questions about his scholastic, social, physical, home and DeMolay activities. In addition, supplementary reports on five books read in recent months, eight current events and eight civic leaders state ad local levels.

Poole, Stubblefield and Mortimer were recently elected to fill the three key offices of the Pampa chapter and will serve during the summer term of office.

In other chapter activities Wednesday night, three boys were initiated into the order in a special class honoring Fred Van Shoubrouek.

Van Shoubrouek is president of the Pampa Shrine Association and the chapter's sponsoring body, the Top O' Texas Scottish Rite Masons' Association.

The new members are Danny Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Areta Jones, 2429 Navajo; Robert Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morris, 737 Sloan and Tommy Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Scott, 904 E. Frederic.

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—The West Motor branch of the Commercial Bank of Salem was robbed of about $14,000 Wednesday—by telephone.

Branch officials received a call from a man telling them he had them covered by a high-powered rifle with a scope.

The voice on the phone ordered them to put "some money" in a sack. Take it to a nearby telephone booth and leave it. He said they were to return and wait at the bank for 10 minutes before calling police.

Both men did just what the voice told them to do.

Police said that after they were informed they could find no one who saw anyone near the phone booth.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Anna Marie Iff, 28, a secretary for the Swiss National Tourist Office, quickly gave a gunman every cent in her purse—but drew the line when he requested the shirt off her back.

Miss Iff said the holdup man demanded her clothes so she wouldn't try to follow him and then grabbed for her blouse. She screamed and grabbed his gun ("a toy"), and he fled into Street.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the most cherished status symbols in Congress is a hideaway office in the Capitol.

Everyone, of course, has a suite in one of the congressional office buildings, which is the trouble. Everyone has one. Hence it lacks prestige.

But space in the capitol itself is at a premium. Any lawmaker who can wrangle a private nook in that building, in addition to his regular suite, is recognized everywhere as one of nature's noblemen.

Until a few years ago, this honor was reserved for House and Senate leaders, plus a few senior members who had distinguished themselves mainly by getting re-elected numerous times.

New Nooks
But with the extension of the building's east front, a score or more new hideaways became available on the Senate side.

Now there are plans afoot, or under foot, to extend a building's west front.

Capitol architect J. George Stewart and his staff recently appeared before a House appropriations subcommittee to defend the west front project, which has drawn heavy criticism.

In the course of their testimony it developed that the westward expansion would put more than 100 additional hideaways at the disposal of the congressional establishment.

Stewart claims the west front extension is necessary because the old sandstone walls have become unsafe. He used the same argument when the east front extension was being considered.

Od Walls
Stewart's critics, on the other hand, insist the wall should be repaired, rather than replaced to preserve its historical identity.

There are practical restrictions on eastward, westward and other outward extension. But upward, apparently, the sky would be the limit.

The Panma Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Panma News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Self-Dejuling Foreign Policy

It will be "useful for some time to come for American power to be able to control every wave of the Pacific, if necessary."

That's what Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in Look Magazine in an article pointing out that American military involvement in Asia might well continue into the next century.

While taken out of text of the full article, Rusk expresses more clearly than any other description we've ever seen the plain truth of America's foreign policy.

We talk in high-sounding phrases about democracy in action, and permitting the people of all nations to be free. Our own people are continually "sold" on the idea that we're the most generous people the world has ever known.

Then we wonder why our gifts of money and material things are welcomed everywhere, but the people themselves too often oppose us. Many times we even think the so-called underdeveloped nations are ungrateful—as if we were some kind of a God demanding subservience.

So let's let our hair down and be specific because first-hand experiences probably are the best way to illustrate the kind of, high-handed treatment the United States is accused of time and time again.

Last fall the editor of a Freedom Newspaper interviewed the editor of the Saigon Post. This South Vietnamese editor candidly declared that his people do not understand what we mean by either "freedom" or "democracy". He estimated it would take five years or more to educate the South Vietnamese to have enough comprehension of the meaning of free government even to understand the real purposes of an election. However, he declared that large percentages of his people could be induced to go to the polls and vote without understanding what they were doing.

In other words, to please Americans who are furnishing food and supplies and soldiers, the people would go to the polls and conform to the American idea of democracy—because we expect them to.

Another illustration points out the broad application of this same kind of acquiescence. In the spring of 1963 a representative of a Freedom paper attended a meeting at Ibadan, Nigeria, where the governor of the Western Division of the federation of Nigeria tried to get him to use his influence to obtain more "free money" from the United States. Before he could be made to understand the American newsmen had no authority to represent the U.S. and would not intercede, the governor promised to "hold election" to "conform to your ideas of democracy", or do anything else that would bring the needed gift.

Again, in the capital of Monrovia, Liberia, President Tubman observed that "The United States usually gets what it wants at the United Nations because the smaller countries, even though each has an equal vote with your big country, about have to go along." The same general thinking was noted in other African countries as well as in several South and Central American countries.

Obviously, small countries feel compelled to do what we want them to do in order to qualify for more gifts.

But because they hold elections and put on the clothes of democracy and freedom it does not mean that they even know what it means. We're only deluding ourselves. Most of the "underdeveloped" countries strive to obtain literacy to the fourth grade level. But fourth grade level in education teaches very little about freedom. It's a start, but not an understanding.

This self-delusion is what disturbs us, in two ways. First, our attempts to foist off upon other peoples our own ideas, and our insistence that they be adhered to or we won't give them any money, is not the picture of a generous America we like to believe. We preach, but we don't practice the idea of self-determination.

Second, our extensive use of military force in South Vietnam raises not only the question of self-delusion, but the thought of "controlling every wave of the Pacific" is a frightening extension of dictatorial power. True, we're meeting the challenge of Communist infiltration and its threat of world domination. The chips seem to be down.

But we cannot help wondering if, in our self-delusion, we're shutting out a more equitable and just way of dealing with the problems confronting us.

If, instead, we were to work toward free trade between free people everywhere, we would be on a far "sounder" basis. Trade would build mutual respect and understanding, which is lacking now.

Dream Becomes Nightmare

In effect, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler has announced a speedup of inflation.

Of course, he didn't call it by that nasty word. What he talked about was raising the "permanent" ceiling of the admitted national debt from $285 billion to $365 billion—an increase of $80 billion over the "permanent" present ceiling and $29 billion over the "temporary" ceiling of $336 billion.

Those figures are beyond most persons' comprehension, but the meaning isn't. What's happened is that President Johnson and his twisted arm followers in Congress have become confused between the nightmare in Vietnam and the Great Society dream. They escalate the war, and escalate spending for the dream, too.

So when there isn't money enough to cover expenses they merely raise the "ceiling" and incur more indebtedness.

What this means is that the President and Congress recognize no reins on spending. All they've got to do is mortgage your future a little more, and a little more, and still more.

For you it means that you work more hours per day to pay your taxes and have fewer hours left to earn your living. To illustrate: Since Jan. 1, 1967 you've been working 2 hours a day for taxes, and 5 1/2 hours for your other needs. What this means is that Uncle Sam is increasing his borrowings and his spendings, and you'll soon have to work three hours a day to pay taxes and have only five hours left to work for other necessities.

Another raise or two in the debt ceiling will have you working half your time to support Uncle Sam. One of the reasons you won't recognize what you pay for in your working hours is because tax "extractions" are made the "painless way" by withholdings from your pay check, and by indirect levies on everything from your purchase of imports to your purchase of a gallon of gasoline.

The politicians' dream is turning into a nightmare with frightful nightmarish consequences.

It's Up To You

"Prestige" of the Poor

The first fruits of the visit of King Hassan II of Morocco to our country was a grant of 170,000 tons of wheat, worth about $12 million. The King brought with him a retinue of 134 persons. The jaunt probably cost somewhere between one-quarter and one-half million dollars. It is difficult for a layman to justify such extravagance to satisfy the whims of a monarch who seems to measure his prestige in terms of the number of retainers who surround him, and the amount of money spent on the trip. Surely he was not foolish enough to think that the amount he could get from our country would be governed in some degree by the extravagance he displayed throughout his visit.

King Hassan II is not different in this respect from other national leaders, whether monarchs, presidents or prime ministers.

All are inclined to spend excessive amounts of money to uphold what they call "the prestige" of their governments. The poor people who contribute the taxes to pay for lush travel are not interested in this type of prestige, but are greatly interested in lower taxation which would permit them to have a better meal now and then.

In traveling about the world I have often been vexed and astounded at the elaborate luxuries enjoyed by political leaders, even when the people who were taxed to supply them, were suffering great deprivations. The poverty of the people does not go well with luxurious furnishings, deep piled carpets, expensive paintings, and four or five kinds of wine and liquors served with elaborate dinners. Such practices are merely succumbing to the temptations that assail us all to enjoy luxurious living. If one can afford it from his own earnings it may still be in bad taste, but it is far less objectionable than to carry on such practices at the expense of poor people who must pay high taxes to sustain them.

The fact is that a large part of the financial difficulties of nearly all countries, states and municipalities, arises from a lack of the sense of trusteeship on the part of their political leaders and bureaucratic officials. These people and their retainers, with their short hours of work, extensive pensions, early retirements and fringe benefits of infinite variety, are one of the principal causes of the financial difficulties that beset all nations.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE

To the surprise of no one who believes that the earth is round, the United States Government finally ran out of silver to sell. For years, the government has tried to hold the price of silver to $1.29 an ounce by being willing to sell it at that price. The government must have felt the all-wise bureaucrats could have kept this up forever—just as they claimed they could. But, sure enough, the day of reckoning came.

Finally, the government ran out of "free silver"—which is the silver that is not needed for coins, backing of the silver certificates, etc. And so it stopped selling.

The price on silver immediately headed upward. Within one week, it was over $1.60 per ounce and still pointed upward. No one can say how far up it will go; but the market price must be considerably higher than what the government wanted to hold it to.

This is a typical example of the omnipotence of nature's laws. There are natural laws in economics, just as in physics. Governments pass man-made laws in an attempt to overrule nature. But they never succeed. The inevitable always happens regardless.

During the period in which the government is trying to halt nature's inexorable progress, it is tempting to believe that the government might succeed at what it's doing. But all of history proves the fallacy in that. Governments are incapable of controlling prices, regulating living or working conditions, changing people's natures, the day of reckoning always comes. And sometimes that day is cloudy.

The price of silver has exploded. The price of gold will, too, and, one day, farm prices will drop to a point that will eliminate inefficient farmers but make a better profit for the efficient ones.

Individuals will continue to seek happiness—no matter what the government tries to do to stop them.

Nature will always have its way. The inevitable always happens.

Wisdom of Publishing Now the K-K Correspondence On Cuban Crisis Dated: Political Implications

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A headline-making controversy is shaping up here over whether President Johnson should make public the still - secret Kennedy-Khrushchev exchange of letters during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

This backstage debate, underway for weeks at the highest levels of the Johnson Administration, was triggered by the approaching deadline for implementing the Freedom of Information law.

Enacted by Congress last year and due to become effective July 4, this law requires the President to determine which of the still-classified documents involving the 1962 Cuban crisis should be published.

In preparing for his decision, the President asked Secretary of State Rusk to review the Kennedy-Khrushchev letters as well as the other "Working Papers" of the Cuban crisis and recommend which should be classified.

While Rusk has not yet forwarded his formal recommendations to the White House, aides say he is against publication of the correspondence at this time.

In recent intra-administration discussions concerning the letters, they point out, Rusk has argued against release on the grounds their content would "anger and excite anti-Castro Cuban groups in this country" and "cause embarrassment of officials that participated in drafting the correspondence."

BOBBY'S ROLE — One of the participants who conceivably could be hurt politically by release of the correspondence is Senator Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y.

As a key member of the small group of officials that advised his brother during the 1962 Cuban crisis, the former attorney general drafted the letter containing the controversial "no invasion pledge" that President Kennedy made to Khrushchev.

As transmitted to Moscow, this concession—a guarantee that Khrushchev never formally demanded—reads as follows:

"If you (Khrushchev) agree to remove these weapon systems (missiles) from Cuba, we on our part would agree (a) to remove promptly the quarantine measures now in effect and (b) to give assurances against an invasion of Cuba."

"I am confident that other nations of the Western Hemisphere would be prepared to do likewise."

LIFTING THE LID — Several White House and State Department advisers led by Presidential Assistant Marvin Watson have disagreed vigorously with Secretary Rusk's position.

and are urging publication of the Kennedy - Khrushchev exchange.

These officials have warned the President that continued suppression of the highly - controversial correspondence could eventually be an embarrassment to the present administration.

Castro is now privately boasting, they argue, that the Kremlin plans to let him release the letters "at an opportune time" to reveal the "no invasion" guarantee.

It is these advisers' contention that it would be far better for President Johnson to release the correspondence than to have the details first published in Havana or Moscow.

GOP PLANS MOVE — Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee are also squaring off to push for release of the Kennedy - Khrushchev correspondence.

The GOP lawmakers will ask President Johnson next week to submit for scrutiny by their committee the extended "K-K" exchange of letters on Cuba and "other foreign policy matters."

The legislators, headed by Representative H. R. Cross, R-Ia., will stress that "on-site" inspection of the "K-K" communications is necessary to reach a sound decision on the full implication they are having on present U. S.-Cuban relations.

In discussing their proposal with colleagues, the GOP lawmakers claimed the closely-guarded "K-K" letters should be released "so all members of Congress will know exactly what commitments were made to Russia and Cuba."

"Only by seeing what is in the 'K-K' correspondence," declared Cross, "will we know if the commitments made by Kennedy are still being carried out by the present administration and whether Castro is being protected by them."

As previously reported in this column, Kennedy and Khrushchev exchanged more than 30 letters on subjects ranging from Cuba to the setting up of an international crisis commission to control disputes like the one boiling up in the Middle East.

PICKING THE ISSUE — In calling for release of the "K-K" letters, Representative Cross and his GOP colleagues feel they have nothing to lose and a lot to gain.

If the President asserts "executive privilege" under the Freedom of Information Act, he must issue an executive order stating that the correspondence cannot be released for reasons of national security.

Republicans would challenge this as another administration attempt to "manage the news."

GLOBAL VIEW

H. L. Hunt Writes

DISTRICT PLANS SUPERIOR

The District Plan of choosing presidential electors is far better than any other proposal put forward to change the present antiquated system of naming those electors.

Many disadvantages are apparent in the direct vote plan advocated by some. Prominent among these disadvantages is the fact that this plan would deliver a new and severe blow to the doctrine of states' rights.

The direct vote for President and Vice President would necessarily result in the Federal Government conducting elections within the boundaries of the individual states. The direct vote plan would immediately nullify the systems for absentee voting which vary across the nation from state to state and are formulated for the convenience of the citizens of each state.

Under the direct election plan, the Federal Government would have to impose age limits to apply in all the 50 states and the District of Columbia. The Federal Government also would set residence requirements for voting.

We now have states which allow citizens to vote at the age of 18 and one state which allows citizens to vote at the age of 19. Four states allow citizens to vote at the age of 20. These age limits differ from the more customary limit of 21 are prescribed by the residents and voters of the states in accordance with their best opinion as to the proper age at which the state's citizens may be afforded the privilege of suffrage.

These are potent arguments against the direct vote, and there are others of equal force. The District Plan offers none of these disadvantages.

COMING OUBAN CRISIS — U.S. intelligence authorities are warning that Castro is planning a series of military probes against the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba. First attacks will be directed against U.S. helicopters which hover above the base and photograph the progress of Cuban military construction in the immediate area.

In recent weeks Castro has built installations for conventional and missile - type anti-aircraft weapons within two miles of the base. Cuba's latest charge that a U. S. military helicopter from Guantanamo landed in Cuban territory is believed to be a prelude to these attacks.

At a recent State Department briefing Secretary Rusk expressed his concern about the increased Soviet arms shipments to Cuba. However, aides report Rusk still hasn't made any recommendations to President Johnson on what should be done about this growing threat.

Question Box

QUESTION: Have we ever had a limited government in the United States? Is it possible to have a real limited government? If so, how?

ANSWER: We know of no real limited government that ever existed in the United States. The nearest we came to it was the confederation of states before the Constitution was adopted. Even then, the states had taxation, which is the opposite from a limited government.

Yet we believe it is possible to have a real limited government.

The way to have a limited government is to follow the Declaration of Independence which says that governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed. That means from the consent of each individual, because no one can give another man's consent without his being authorized to do so.

It seems that the way to have a real limited government is to have the government do nothing that each and every individual doesn't have a just and moral right to do. It would be a government that never initiates force to compel anybody to pay for anything he doesn't want.

In other words, a cafeteria sort of government where you pay for the things you want to use and don't have to pay for the things you do not want to use. It would be like every business which is trying to give service that people will willingly pay for.

This is not so of government when it is given the power to tax. And it is a power, not a right, because the government has no rights. Only individuals can have rights. The Constitution completely repudiated the Declaration of Independence by giving the government the power to tax and to borrow money.

It is because the government has the power to tax that all nations eventually crumble.

What does it mean when those who contend that they believe in a limited government say that the only function of the government is to protect life and property? Just what do they mean by "protect"? Would they "protect" a man from hiring the wrong doctor or one not specified? Would they "protect" the parent from sending his children to a school that he thought it was harmful? Do they mean that drafting soldiers is "protecting the nation"? Just what do these men mean by protection? And how is it limited? Do not some men want to do their own protecting? Or employ a voluntary organization like a voluntary fire department where you pay for what you want and don't have to join the organization unless you want its services?

The only way we can think of to keep the government from expanding and expanding is not to require anybody to pay for any government service he doesn't want to use. Nor should he get the service if he doesn't pay for it.

To the degree that it has been tried, the people prosper. The United States more nearly followed it for many, many years than any other country in the world and that was the reason we became "more prosperous than any other nation in the world."

What we need is a government with the consent of the governed.

The Nation's Press Esther Got Educated:

Lancaster (S.C. News After three years in office as the President's special assistant for consumer affairs, Mrs. Esther Peterson has reached the conclusion that the nation's buyers are now wiser to the ways of sellers than they were in 1964.

What she really means is that Mrs. Peterson has finally learned something about the American system of free enterprise after three years of flustering around the nation making futile noises about chain stores, marketing systems and rising prices.

She supported housewives in their abortive strikes against supermarkets for lower prices without ever understanding what she was up against. Even the housewives gave up when they realized they were bucking Washington, not their neighborhood merchants.

Mrs. Peterson is now turning the duties of her office over to Betty Furness, who, as we recall, gained her fame as a TV plunger for the folks on the other side of the street.

How she will do as the President's assistant for consumer affairs is not known. She should start out with some awareness that the government's economic policies are forcing prices up, not the harassed merchants who are caught even as consumers, in the meatgrinder of inflation.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Perry, SF Move to Third

By United Press International Being a 21-game winner the season before, Gaylor Perry of the San Francisco Giants certain privileges—to lose.

Manager Herman Franks failed to panic at his gangling righthander's poor start this year and it paid off. His Giants are on the move.

Back on May 19th, San Francisco floundered around the 500 mark with Juan Marichal the only consistent winner. Two weeks later, the Giants have moved into third place with a 23-18 record (winners of nine of their last 12 games) and Perry is 4-4.

Thursday night the 29-year-old Perry won his third straight by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-1 on a two-hitter.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Happy Birthday Dean

By United Press International Dean Chance who has paid his share of fines for excessive partying, celebrated his 33rd birthday in simple but outstanding fashion.

The tall Minnesota righthander, winner of the Cy Young Award in 1964 as baseball's best pitching before falling upon hard times, became the American League's leading winner Thursday when he blanked the Boston Red Sox on four hits as the Twins hammered out a 4-0 victory.

Chance was celebrated with gift poppers and a retiring shower, thought the victory on his birthday might be a special omen.

Best start ever, winning nine of 11 decisions four of them by shutouts. Chance who celebrated Thursday with only a handful of gift poppers and a retiring shower, thought the victory on his birthday might be a special omen.

Chance picked up a playboy reputation and lost a bit of his paycheck for his escapades with teammate Bo Belinsky as members of the Los Angeles Angels, but the Ohio farmboy is now settling for the simple life and it's showing in his pitching.

Elsewhere in the American League, Washington nipped California 1-0 and Cleveland drubbed Detroit 6-2 in the only other games scheduled.

Chicago 7-4, St. Louis topped Atlanta 5-4, Houston, dumped New York 2-1 and Philadelphia beat Los Angeles 6-1.

Raton Entries

Ten starting berths in the $45,000 Oklahoma Futurity will be at stake Saturday, June 3, at La Mesa Park as 122 freeman quarter horses compete in 13 trial races for the 18 fastest times to qualify for the rich event.

Post time of 1:00 p.m. (MDT) has not been changed for Saturday's thirteen-race card, but racing will begin promptly at that time.

Sunday's twelve-race program at the "Friendly Western Track" will feature "The City of Pueblo" for three-year-olds at six furlongs and "All Distance Series II" at one mile with an estimated purse of $5,000.

Belmont To Be Run Saturday

By United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 9th running of the Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct Saturday is billed as "The Test of Champions" and it shapes up just that way.

The entry list was swelled to 19 horses Thursday when Herbert Allen's Favorable Turn who didn't convoke in the Derby and finished ninth in the Preakness was named a starter because trainer Gene Jacobs said "Everyone wants to win the Belmont."

MIDEAST TINDERBOX

Classically the cradle and crossroads of civilization, the Middle East in modern times has also been a cockpit of crisis. Chronic unrest dates back to World War I and the beginning of the return of the Jews to their long-lost homeland in Palestine, then under British mandate from the old League of Nations. The Palestine war which followed British withdrawal after World War II established Israel as an independent state but spawned Arab-Jewish enmity which has kept the Mideast in a state of half-war and at times threatened the world's peace.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hornpower for any opportunities that blower & Weeks Hemphill Noyes says it believes selectively in the stock market could well be "the watchword" in the coming months. It suggests that investors place their emphasis on quality issues or those with superior earning prospects.

Loeb, Rhodes & Co. says it feels that some of the recent market ebullience anticipated too many favorable developments too soon. The investment firm says a "prudent" policy calls for the avoidance of over exposure to risk and maintenance of reserve buying power.

Newton Z. Zinder of E.F. Hutton — Co. Inc. says "bulls now have their work cut out for them" with the market apparently heading for a major test of Wednesday's lows. The analyst says this is the "more immediate problem" and suggests that investors defer any new buying until that test is resolved.

MOTORISTS BEWARE

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI)—Passengers disembarking at the Casper Airport get a little advice as they get into their cars and drive away.

A sign near the terminal road reads: "You are entering a danger zone, a public highway. Drive carefully. We want you to fly again."

HOME DELIVERY

DENVER (UPI) — It wasn't exactly raining cats-and-dogs Tuesday. Fish would be a more accurate description.

When Michael Pascoe looked into the water-filled street in front of his home, he rushed back into the house and grabbed a net. He scooped up 24 catfish and one bass before the water subsided.

Heavy rains had caused a nearby farm pond to overflow.

The U.S. Air Force Academy is located at the foot of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains near Colorado Springs, Colo.

Foreign Commentary

By LEON DANIEL
United Press International TOKYO (UPI)—Despite its exaggerated claims, the White House and the Pentagon would do well to examine carefully the most recent communique of the army of North Vietnam.

Buried deep in the communique is this sentence: "Recently the U.S. aggressors, trampling underfoot international law, made a new serious step in intensifying and expanding the war: They sent some 10,000 troops into the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) south of the Ben Hai river to massacre our countrymen and threaten North Vietnam."

Those "countrymen" of course, were wearing uniforms and packing rifles.

Tactical Insights
 The communique, broadcast by the North Vietnam News Agency, claimed the Communists killed 175,000 soldiers in a seven-month period from October, 1966, to April, 1967. Of these, 70,000 were Americans, the Communists claimed.

No one outside of North Vietnam can take these claims seriously. But the value of the communique does not lie in its exaggerated appraisal of the Communists' performance.

More important, the communique leans heavily on what the Communists see as their successes, thus giving some revealing insights into their military goals in the south.

It shows clearly that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong were shooting for what they termed "a victorious winter-spring."

That campaign, while considerably short of "victorious," was not without its successes. During the seven month period the Communists attacked

Tan Son Nhut air base on the outskirts of Saigon and even sent shells hurtling into the capital city.

They used big guns on the air base at Da Nang and battered U.S. Marines along the Demilitarized Zone with artillery for the first time in the war.

The Communists were able to mount continuous attacks in the northern provinces of South Vietnam and forced the allied command to reinforce the Leathernecks.

The communique claims, "our armed forces and people defeated the rural pacification program to which the U.S. aggressors and their puppets attach the greatest importance in 1967."

Hardly But it must be acknowledged that the rural development program is lagging badly in many provinces.

The communique claims that during the past seven months U.S. troops were unable to take advantage of the dry season "which offered very favorable conditions for their military activities" and have now been forced into a passive role.

Not true, of course, but it is interesting that the Reds continually tell their people that U.S. soldiers are not aggressive.

It could be they are whistling in the dark but some of their boasts are backed up by the record.

WATERED DOWN

The following message moved slowly over the newspaper's wire:

Orders Stiffen
On Ceremonial
'Drinking Bouts'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Orders clamping down on ceremonial drinking bouts went out to Army commanders around the world today after the death of a young officer at Fort Bragg, N.C., from his initiation into an unofficial paratroopers officers club.

First details of the death of Lt. Ronald R. Reeves, 24, Charleston, S.C., on April 14 were brought to light by the Washington Post.

The newspaper said the young officer, described by his family as a non-drinker, died from strangulation after becoming sick from drinking a large amount of vodka and champagne from an artillery shell casing.

Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, issued a directive to all senior Army commanders warning of the pitfalls of such functions.

He pointed out that having rituals, such as the "Prop Blast" at Fort Bragg, must never be allowed to degenerate into parties of "heavy handed practices and over-indulgence."

The commander of Fort Bragg, Lt. Gen. John L. Throckmorton, followed up Johnson's order with a directive to unit commanders that henceforth, permission would have to be obtained prior to any "Prop Blast" parties such as the one Reeves attended.

Johnson and Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor joined in another statement expressing distress at Reeves' death. Their statement called the death accidental and made no mention of how he died.

Maj. Robert E. Jones an Army pathologist who performed an autopsy on Reeves' body, said he found "an unusually large content of alcohol" in his blood.

The coroner of Cumberland County, N.C., where the base is located, concluded that Reeves strangled on his own vomit after becoming ill following the ceremony. The coroner ruled there was "no probable cause for criminal charges."

Resor and Johnson said "certain traditional military functions serve a useful one in developing spirit and a sense of unity within military units."

But they added that the true purpose of these ceremonials must be kept in mind and that they should never be allowed to become the source of embarrassment to an individual "or endanger his well being." They said the need for "strict control" over such events was being reemphasized.

'Petticoat Rebellion'
Leader Attacks New Promotional Games

DENVER (UPI)—Mrs. Rose West, a leader of last fall's "petticoat rebellion" against high food prices, Wednesday criticized new promotional games being launched by two supermarket chains.

She said she and members of the United National Consumers Association which she heads would meet with officials of the supermarket operations to bring an end to the games.

The two firms she said were starting the games were Miller's Supermarkets, a subsidiary of National Tea Co., and King Soopers, a major chain in the Denver area.

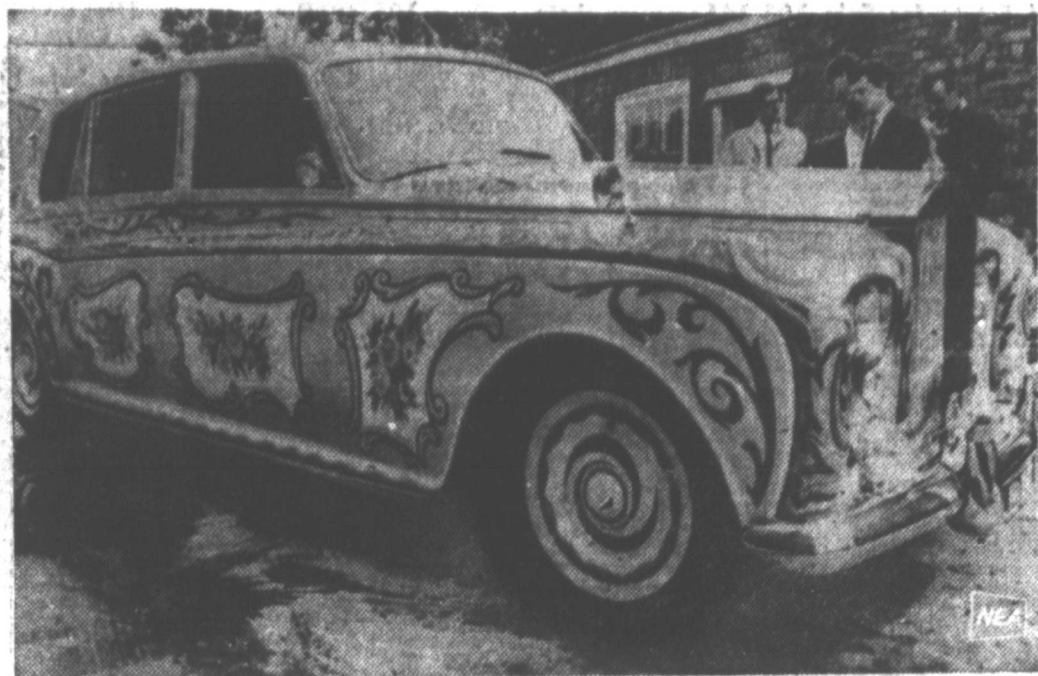

Mrs. West said another supermarket chain, Safeway, had started promotional games in Cheyenne, Wyo., Omaha, Neb., Little Rock, Ark., and communities in Oklahoma.

These are the first such promotions that have occurred since the boycott that I know of," Mrs. West said.

"We'll try to get cooperation. We want to try to get things done without the hysteria that occurred last fall."

Major Reno Finally Taken Off Military 'Black List'

By ROBERT J. TAYLOR
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Maj. Marcus A. Reno, an old trooper who faded away after the disastrous Custer Massacre, is finally going to an honored grave among the pony soldiers he commanded.

The U.S. Army's Board for Correction of Military Records reversed an 87-year-old decision Wednesday and granted Reno a posthumous honorable discharge.

The decision cleared the way for the major's body to be removed from a grave marked only by a number in Glenwood Cemetery here and reburied with honors among his comrades of long ago in the Custer Battlefield Cemetery in Montana.

Reno, a native of Illinois and a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, had built by the summer of 1876 an illustrious career of combat service in the Civil War and later actions.

Then, on June 25, came the debacle of Custer's last stand against the Sioux and Cheyenne Indians led by Chief Sitting Bull.

Reno, commanding three cavalry companies split off from Custer's main force, tried to come to their aid but the enemy's overwhelming numbers prevented it.

Though a military commission cleared Reno of misconduct, rumors of cowardice on his part spread, fanned by the vehement antagonism of Custer's widow and the desire in some quarters to find a scapegoat for the defeat.

In 1880, Reno was court-martialed and dishonorably discharged for drinking, barroom fighting, making improper advances to an officer's wife and peeping through a window at a lady. She was fully dressed, but she was the daughter of a colonel.

The disconsolate Reno spent the remaining years until his death in 1889 at the age of 54 in fighting vainly to have his name cleared.

Last fall, by an odd coincidence Ret. Army Col. George Walton, long interested in the Reno case, mentioned it while talking with a New York bartender who turned out to be Charles Reno, 52, a grand nephew of Marcus.

The two enlisted the aid of the American Legion and filed their case with the corrections board.

Wednesday's decision said that while no adverse action was taken against Reno until after Little Big Horn, suspicion that he might have been

W. Texas Rancher
Is Found Dead

LOGAN, N. M. (UPI)—John Howard Hampton, 69, a widely known New Mexico and West Texas rancher, was found dead in the bedroom of his ranch here today. He apparently died in his sleep Wednesday night.

He had served as director of information of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, director of the Texas Hereford Association, editor of East Texas Magazine and president of the West Texas Museum Association.

He had resided in Lubbock more than 20 years and had worked also on ranches near Slaton, Tex., and in Red River County, Tex.

He was a longtime member and supporter of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum on the campus of West Texas State University in Canyon.

UNIQUE PROTEST
CHICAGO (UPI)—A demonstration was planned for today by a group protesting conditions in 400 near North Side tenements. There were no pamphlets prepared for distribution.

The group planned instead to distribute roaches, dead rats, stagnant sewer water, broken plaster and shattered glass.

Sweeping Drivers License Revision
Will Begin Taking Effect Sept. 1

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally this week signed into law a sweeping revision of the Texas driver licensing law, but the changes will not begin to take effect until Sept. 1, and no one who holds a license will lose it because of the new law.

The minimum age for an operator's license will be 16 with driver education and 18 without it. If a child attends a school that does not offer driver training, a statement from his superintendent to that effect will enable him to get a license at 16.

The minimum age for motor-scooter operators (less than five brake horsepower) and hardship licenses will be raised from 14 to 15.

Fifteen-year-olds who have completed the classroom phase of driver education will be able to get instruction permits good only when the youngster is accompanied by a licensed driver over 21.

The minimum age for chauffeur and commercial licenses will be raised from 16 to 17 with driver education and 18 without.

Effective Sept. 1. All the new age requirements take effect Sept. 1. The department of Public Safety (DPS) said no one who obtains a license before Sept. 1 will lose it after Jan. 1, each driver requirements.

All licenses issued after Sept. 1 to drivers who are under 21, will be provisional, and can be revoked by the DPS, after a hearing, if the driver is convicted of two traffic offenses within a year. Provisional licenses will expire on the holder's 21st birthday.

On Jan. 1, a complete new licensing system will take effect. All licenses will bear color photos of the recipients and will expire on the driver's birthday. They will cost $6 and be good for four years, instead of the present $3 for two years.

Each category of licenses will be printed on paper of a different color—a move designed to make it impossible for minors to fool liquor dealers with forged birth dates.

Color Photos
Each driver whose license expires will have to go to a DPS licensing station, where a DPS clerk will take a color photo of the applicant. The photo will be attached to the license, probably through a plastic lamination process.

The DPS estimates it will cost slightly less than $3 million to buy the equipment and take the pictures for the first year. After that the cost is expected to be less. Photos will be made only as licenses expire, so it will be two years before all licenses expire, so it will be two years before all licenses expire.

RIOT INVESTIGATED

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Gov. John Connally said Wednesday he would not be a "Monday morning quarterback" and second guess officials' handling of the recent Texas Southern University riots.

Ousted Priest
Eyes Sales

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Rev. James Nelson, the Catholic priest who chose romance and lost his church post, today debated whether to become a salesman.

Father Nelson was pastor of St. Augustine's Church until last Friday when he was dismissed after it was disclosed he had been married for eight months.

He said he plans to take aptitude tests to see if he has selling ability.

"The companies think I do, but I'm not so sure," he said. Father Nelson said he and his bride had received between 20 and 30 letters, mostly sympathetic, from all over the country after announcing Saturday they had been married for eight months.

Father Nelson said he and his wife were pleasantly surprised at the reaction of the members of his former parish to the announcement.

"They offered understanding and kindness," he said. "They offered to help in any way they could and invited us over to visit with them."

Father Nelson has said he delayed in revealing the marriage to show that the priesthood and marriage are "not incompatible."
