Viet Cong Start Heavy Mortar Push On Border

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist forces today shelled U.S. Marines in what looked like a major offensive designed to spoil South Vietnam's presidential elections. Over North Vietnam American bombers lost their 13th plane of the week, military spokesmen said.

the North-South Vietnam border rained 112 or more mortar shells on Leatherneck fortresses. They then sent troops in to attack the Marine positions blocking invasion threats by an estimated 35,000 Communist troops, spokesmen said.

massive raids against the Communists in the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

In the air war, U.S. fighter bombers Thursday for the fifth straight day hammered key North Vietnamese targets above Hanoi, hitting a naval base 30 miles below the Communist Chinese frontier. The spokesmen said an Air Force F105 Thunderchief was shot down and the pilot listed as missing.

ONE YEAR EXTENSION

Foreign Aid Bill Is Approved By House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House members early today narrowly approved a one year extension of the foreign aid program but only after lopping off $563 million from the $3.4 billion requested by President Johnson.

House, it fared better than it did in the Senate which last week passed a $2.6 billion measure. Negotiators must now reconcile the differences between the $2.8 billion House bill and the $2.6 billion Senate measure.

Massive Soviet Supplies Aiding Cong In Assault

LONDON (UPI)—Fresh, massive Soviet arms supplies to Hanoi and improved training of North Vietnamese by Russian experts account for the mounting American air losses in the past few weeks, diplomatic sources said today.

The familiar coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats called almost all the shots as the House voted on nearly 50 amendments to the aid bill which had been debated on the floor since the beginning of the week. Every GOP attempt but one was successful to cut money.

Lawmakers were not content to slash dollars from the bill. They also insisted on policy restrictions. Among them were amendments that would:

—Bar arms deals between the United States and any country which permits its ships to carry cargoes to North Vietnam. If accepted by the Senate, the restriction could wreck a multi-billion dollar reciprocal arms deal with Great Britain involving the new F111 aircraft.

—Withdraw Poland's status as a "most-favored nation," entitling her to special trade considerations, until she stops sending military aid to North Vietnam.

—Immediately end the training in the United States of military personnel from countries which have broken relations with the United States, specifically Iraq and the Sudan.

—Reject Committee Proposals Both in policy and money, the House members rejected the advice of its Foreign Affairs Committee, which had already trimmed about $280 million from the bill. Another $283 million was cut on the floor.

New Driving Regulations Will Go Into Effect Monday

New rules for obtaining driver's license will go into effect Aug. 28 and other new rules will become effective Jan. 1.

As of Monday anyone applying for a driver's license must bring with them a birth certificate and all applicants will be thumb printed.

The new Texas law (House Bill 354) raises from 14 to 16 the minimum licensing age of youths who have passed an approved course of driver education and raises the age of licensing youths who have not had such a course from 16 to 18.

A 16-year-old can be licensed before June 1 without having taken driver education if he presents a certificate from his local school superintendent stating that the course is not offered at his school, however.

The Russians were reported to have sent North Vietnam large consignments of the latest surface-to-air (SAM) missiles. The flow of these supplies, which until recently had been hampered by Chinese interference, has been stepped up, partly by sea and partly by improved overland passage through Chinese territory.

The Russians also have apparently sent "advisers" and training personnel to North Vietnam in addition to providing vastly expanded training facilities in Russia, according to the informants.

Select training courses were understood to have been stepped up by Russia for North Vietnamese in the Soviet Union, to improve their operation of SAM rockets, radar and other intricate weapons systems.

Among the latest Soviet supplies, SAM rockets were said to figure prominently, as well as radar equipment and anti-aircraft guns.

More MIG21s also have been sent to North Vietnam, in undisclosed numbers. But the chief emphasis was understood to be on the rockets, rather than fighters. The Chinese also have been supplying Chinese-built MIG fighters.

Henry J. Kaiser, Empire Builder, Dies in Hawaii

HONOLULU (UPI)—Henry J. Kaiser, builder of dams, ships, hospitals and a $2.5 billion worldwide industrial empire, died Thursday at his Honolulu home. He was 85.

He had fallen ill on a trip to the mainland and was flown to Honolulu and a waiting ambulance June 25. Doctors said he died of circulatory problems.

His son, Edgar, and his second wife, Alyce, were at his side when death came at 11:42 a.m. Burial plans were not immediately announced.

Kaiser's story was a classic rags-to-riches career. He quit school in New York at 13 to take his first job as a $1.50 a week cash boy in a dry goods house.

He died the founder of an industrial complex of 60 separate firms with 180 plants in 35 states and 50 foreign countries. Their 90,000 employees turn out everything from construction steel to kitchen foil. More than 130,000 persons own shares in the publicly-held companies.

The bald, bulky tycoon left as monuments many of the world's greatest building projects. He also built the Pacific Coast's first completely integrated iron and steel plant at Fontana, Calif., started the West's largest supplier of building materials in Kaiser Cement & Gypsum Corp., and helped establish Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp., which produces one-fourth the entire U.S. output of primary aluminum.

He also helped revolutionize medical care by establishing the Kaiser Foundation and Kaiser Foundation Health Plan.

Kaiser attributed his success to "faith."

"The simple word 'faith' sums up what I am convinced makes the difference between attaining or not attaining the greatest values in life," he said. "Faith in yourself, your fellow man and your God."

Robbery Suspects Remain in Jail In Lieu of Bond

Anthony Thomas Fiorello, 23, and James Lee Herring, 19, were in Gray County Jail today in lieu of $25,000 bond each. They are charged with robbery with firearms. The two, both of New York City, N.Y., were arrested by Amarillo policemen yesterday after they allegedly tied and robbed a McLean service station attendant.

According to Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan, the suspects stopped for gasoline in McLean yesterday morning, but before leaving the station, allegedly tied Jerry Hilburn and took $107.75 from the station's cash register. Walter Comstock of McLean, Hilburn's father-in-law, is over of the station.

Justice of the Peace G. L. (Nat) Lunsford set the bonds. Both suspects were carrying .22 caliber pistols when they were apprehended in Amarillo, Sheriff Jordan said.

GOVERNOR SEEKS HELP New Fires Erupt In Western Timberlands

By United Press International A massive battle between weary men—and constantly spreading fire raged throughout the West today with the relentless flames claiming new victories in California and Washington state.

An almost uncountable series of conflagrations has swept across more than 100,000 acres of the Pacific Northwest in the past two weeks. Several fires of gigantic proportions still raged out of control in Idaho, Oregon, Montana and British Columbia.

The largest California fire erupted near Sequoia National Park and spread over more than 2,000 acres in the first day. The foothill town of Three Rivers was threatened for a time and 90 persons, including 63 teen-age campers, were evacuated from the path of the flames.

A new outbreak in Washington was reported 17 miles from Mount Vernon. The 250-acre blaze spread from a bay area into Larabee State Park.

Gov. Donald Samuelson of Idaho appealed to the federal government for assistance. He said the state's fire control budget of $348,000 would be exhausted today and expenses were running $68,000 a day.

The 8,000-acre Trapper Peak fire in northern Idaho advanced toward the Canadian border, forcing smoke-eaters to back off and establish a new base camp on the international boundary.

Five major conflagrations exploded over fire lines Wednesday night in Idaho, where 12,000 acres of brush and trees have been destroyed despite the efforts of 5,000 firefighters.

Still uncontrolled in Montana were two major fires at Clacier National Park involving more than 6,500 acres.

CUT TO $92,060 $280,000 Airport Aid Requests Are Slashed

Gray County's request for $280,000 in matching funds for Perry Lefors Airfield in Pampa has been slashed to $92,060 by the Federal Aviation Administration, it was announced today from Congressman Bob Price's office in Washington.

The $92,060 grant to the county will necessitate a revision of plans for the Pampa airport County Judge Sherman Lenning said when notified of the FAA action this forenoon.

"I guess we'll have to settle for a smaller terminal building, cut out the needed taxi-ways and make some other revisions," Judge Lenning said.

The federal aid grant was cut to include only a 700-foot extension to the current 4,500-ft. north-south runway and reconstruction of the existing north-south runway.

The FAA eliminated requests for a terminal building, addition to the parking apron, clear zone land acquisition, lighting and other requests for a total reduction of $189,940 on the county's original request for matching funds.

Viet Corruption Charge Is Made

SAIGON (UPI)—Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, South Vietnam's chief of state and leading presidential candidate, today announced 50 military officers including "some generals" will be tried on charges of inefficiency and corruption.

The action was unprecedented.

It followed years long charges of multi-million dollar corruption and waste in top military offices in South Vietnam.

The announcement came as the presidential election campaign headed down the home stretch. Civilian candidates have repeatedly hammered at the theme of corruption in high places, military and government.

The elections are scheduled for Sept. 3.

Thieu did not identify the accused officers.

He said they would be called before a "disciplinary council" and will be given a chance to plead their cases.

The general told newsmen that if convicted on the charges, officers would receive penalties from demotion to being kicked out of the army.

Details of neither project have yet to be worked out in meetings of the current hospital board, headed by Fred Neslage and the County Airport board headed by C. S. Youngblood.

Judge Lenning said Capt. Ralph Prock, commander of the Pampa Civil Air squadron and Cabot Corp. pilot, plans to show a film on the advantages of a local airport at a meeting of county commissioners with airport board members and Chamber of Commerce aviation committee members Monday, Sept. 11.

Rockwell Slain By Sniper

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI)—American Nazi party leader George Lincoln Rockwell was shot and killed today at a shopping center here in Arlington police said.

Police said a sniper fired from atop a building on Wilson Boulevard, one of the main streets in Arlington leading from Washington, D.C. The shooting took place shortly after noon, police said.

Rivers Out of Banks, Earthen Dam Breaks

HEFLIN, Ala. (UPI)—Floodwaters crashed through an earthen dam and swept a Greyhound bus off a highway Thursday, temporarily marooning 27 persons in seven feet of water. National Guardsmen shored up another dam overlooking the residential section of this town.

One youth was missing in the flood, caused by as much as 16 inches of rain in 48 hours that has sent rivers swirling out of their banks in five southern states.

Northern Mexico Towns Flooded By Heavy Rains

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI)—Floodwaters raced shoulder deep through two northeastern Mexican towns Thursday, cut highways and railroad lines, and were blamed for the death of a two-year-old girl.

Two other persons were missing and feared dead. For five days, rain has been pounding down on the Texas border states of Tamaulipas, Coahuila, and Nuevo Leon, which only a few weeks ago were blistered by a serious drought.

Federal highway police in Monterrey said hundreds of cars, trucks and buses were trapped on two highways, stuck behind sections flooded or washed away by the heavy rains.

The road to Monterrey from Matamoros, across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, Tex., was cut by the waters, along with the Gulf Coast road from Camargo to Tampico, highway (See MEXICO, Page 3)

The youth, Harold M. Waites Jr., 14, last was seen helping rescue workers remove the 27 occupants of the stranded bus.

Elsewhere in Dixie, high waters forced more than 50 families from their homes in north Georgia, a high school band was evacuated from a flood-threatened camp near Greenville, S.C., a youth drowned in the swift waters under a culvert near Charlotte, N.C., and more than 30 highways were blocked by water in Virginia.

National Guardsmen were called into this northeast Alabama town when the heavy rains of the past six days threatened to burst the dam holding Lake Hefflin.

The guardsmen, ordered in by Gov. Lurleen Wallace, quickly sandbagged the base of the earthen dam, overlooking the residential section of Hefflin. They also moved in a bulldozer to cut a culvert if necessary to let some of the water drain.

Officials later said the dam was out of danger. The only possible danger would come from unforeseeable fissures underneath the dam wall, they said.

Barrier Removed On Border of Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI)—The British colonial government today ordered barricades removed at the Man Kam To border crossing only hours after a Communist Chinese mob surged across the frontier and tried to tear down the barbwire barriers.

Machegun fire was heard on the Chinese side and Communist Chinese army troops were seen holding back demonstrators at the frontier. But government authorities refused to say whether the decision to reopen the border resulted from an agreement with China. It was not known where the machinegun fire was directed.

Britain's tough Gurkha troops fired tear gas and smoke grenades to drive a mob back across the border bridge at Man Kam To before the barriers were ordered down. The incident marked the second straight day of attacks on Hong Kong border outposts.

Barricades at Man Kam To were the last on the 17-mile border and their removal ended a two-week blockade of the frontier.

In another development, a popular anti-Communist radio personality died today of burns he suffered Thursday when he and his brother were doused with gasoline and set on fire by Communist terrorists.

Communist newspapers said a new "liquidation" squad staffed by terrorists operating in the colony carried out the attack on Lam Bun, 37, and his brother, who was in critical condition.

The first border incident today came shortly after daybreak. A mob of 16 Chinese charged across the border bridge at Man Kam To station in an attempt to tear down barbwire barricades, a British army spokesman said.

A Gurkha unit moved in firing tear gas and smoke grenades. The Chinese scurried back to Communist territory.

Hess Addresses Cattle Breeders

The Hereford is No. 1 in the Panhandle cattle country and will stay No. 1 as long as the Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Association has the kind of men who now make up its membership.

That's what Jake Hess, McLean cattle breeder and rancher who is president of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders, told members of the Top O' Texas group at their annual summer banquet last night in Coronado Inn.

Hess urged housewives, when they go to market, to insist on choice beef.

"We must not be talked into lowering the quality of beef," he said. A choice piece of meat off a 1,050-pound steer is the finest beef you can get.

"The housewives determine what kind of beef we have to raise and it has reached a point where the great majority of people want choice beef — and that's what we are giving them."

The speaker said a "choice beef" animal is 200 pounds larger and the kind of animal that is big enough to make a profit.

"The Hereford cow put a lot of Panhandle families through hard times," Hess said.

He added that Americans consume 110 pounds of beef per capita and ranks third only to Australia and Argentina.

"It is a fact," he said, "that countries in which the least meat is consumed also have the shortest life expectancy."

The association presented a special plaque of appreciation to Augustus Carruth as its champion ticket seller and also honored Mrs. Inez Carter with a birthday corsage.

A dozen or more door prizes were given away at the banquet which was attended by some 100 persons. Top prize was a choice steak from a Hereford steer.

TWO STUDENTS from Brazil have been staying in Pampa under the program of Experiment in International Living. Above, Marcio Cardoso of Rio de Janeiro, left, and Leorcio Francisco Botiel of Sao Paulo visit with Johnny Grady and Stephanie Hills. Mr. Cardoso is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hills, Route 1, and Mr. Botiel is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Grady, 1124 Terrace.

Foreign Students Visiting in Pampa

By LARRY HOLLIS
News Staff Writer

Two foreign students who have been staying in Pampa as part of the Experiment in International Living program, to get adjusted to American life before attending school in the United States, seem to be very impressed with American life.

Leorcio Francisco Botiel, 26, of Sao Paulo, Brazil, has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Grady, 1124 Terrace. He plans to attend Tulane University at New Orleans, La. Marcio Cardoso, 23, of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, has visited with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest N. Hills, Route 1, and plans to enter the University of Houston.

Both students think the Experiment is a valuable program in which they have the opportunity to learn in an informal situation, about American life and to practice speaking English.

The use of natural resources in America to attract tourists greatly impressed both of the Brazilians. Natural resources, such as national parks, are not developed in Brazil for the use of the people, they said.

The wide open spaces of the area, coupled with the industrial development, also impressed the students, as did the very dry and large front lawns of American homes.

One of the greatest impressions they received, they said, was the friendship and kindness extended to them by Pampans.

Mr. Cardoso saw the production of "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon and said it was one of the best shows he has ever seen. He received the triangle presented at each performance for the one coming the greatest distance to see the show.

Mr. Botiel has not yet seen the production, but he says he is looking forward to doing so. During their stay they have had a chance to visit the meetings of various organizations in Pampa and to tour some of the industries. Both were taken on a tour of the Celanese plant Tuesday. Mr. Cardoso was a guest recently at a Rotary Club luncheon. They also plan to visit the city and county commissions to see how local government operates.

Both expressed interest in the high educational standard of the American public and the respect of the people for their community.

A graduate of Rio University, Mr. Cardoso received a degree in chemical engineering. He will enter graduate school at U of H to work on a master's degree in chemical engineering. He said that his visits in the oil fields with Mr. Hills has taught him much about his chosen profession.

Mr. Botiel attended the University of Sao Paulo and spent two and a half years at the University of Lisbon in Portugal. He has received a degree in social sciences. Having completed a book, "International Economic Integration and Political Union," to be published in September in Portugal, he will study economic interests in Latin America at the Tulane Law School. After completing his education, Mr. Botiel hopes to work with the Brazilian government on treaties.

Senior Citizens Are Entertained At Lefors Party

LEFORS (Sp) — Lefors senior citizens were honored at a monthly party recently by friends.

They were served cake, ice cream and punch, with gum and mints as favors after a period of playing dominoes and visiting.

Mrs. Emily Smith won a fruit bowl, which was decorated, as the door prize for women; and John Prichard won the door prize for men—a wrench set that can be carried in the pocket.

The senior citizens are provided a party each month by different groups.

Living program is headed locally by Mrs. J. E. Clark, 2136 Aspen Drive. The program, founded in 1932 as an independent, non-profit educational organization, is financed by foundations, grants, gifts and government contracts.

The Experiment arranges the placement of foreign students enrolled in U.S. colleges and universities in individual homes for one month upon their arrival in this county. This homestay gives them a chance to adjust to American life before attending the campuses.

Other students who have stayed in Pampa this summer under the program are Miss Tomomatsu of Hiroshima, Japan, who is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Laycock, and Gerardo de la Garza Evia of Monterrey, Mexico, who stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Beale, 2131 N. Faulkner. Miss Matsumoto will attend the University of Texas at El Paso. Mr. Evia attended St. Edward's University in Austin this summer.

Flower Show For Judges Is Held In Amarillo Home

The National Flower Show judges of the northern division of District 1 recently held a flower show for judges only in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick McGuire of 6016 Dreyfuss St. in Amarillo.

The artistic division of the show was exclusively abstract. Judges from Pampa winning awards in the show were Mrs. Myron Dorman and Mrs. V. N. Osborn. Mrs. Dorman won a blue ribbon in the "mobiles" class, and a white ribbon in the "Stump gardens", driftwood planted with succulents, class of the horticulture division. Mrs. Osborn won a blue ribbon in the "Imagination unlimited" class and a red ribbon in the "mobiles" class.

School Work Is Unending Struggle To Keep Up for the Slow-Learner

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Often the parents say, "He'll outgrow it." To the child affected, school work is a never-ceasing struggle to keep up with his classmates.

To educators, he is the slow learner, the "underachiever" who unless helped both by parents and teachers may join the long and tragic lines of school dropouts.

But there must be careful distinction between the truly slow learner, the slow learner who just gives the impression of lagging, and the mentally retarded.

The experts categorize the slow learner as the 15 to 18 per cent of children in the school population whose general intelligence is about 75 to 90 per cent that of the average child's.

His progress and achievement level lags further and further behind that of the average child.

The "pseudo" slow learner usually is overly dependent and lacks self-confidence, educators say. He is the one though who with proper guidance, becomes the "late bloomer."

Mental retardation, however, shows in varying degrees. Some children in the severely retarded group will always be the "custodians," with intelligence from almost zero to about 25 per cent of the average child.

Others, called "trainable," have about 25 to 50 per cent the intelligence of the average child. And the retarded ones rated as "educable" have 50 to 75 per cent of normal intelligence.

It is the slow learner—that 15 to 18 per cent of the school population—that is examined in a new publication from the Public Affairs Committee, a non-profit educational organization. Its author is Millard Etienne, a psychiatric social worker and assistant professor of special education at the University of Southern Louisiana.

Bienvenu points out that "slow learners are the workers of life—the backbone of services that keep the gigantic American economy in operation."

But before pigeonholing the child, he warns, "when decisions are to be based on psychological test results, parents and teachers should settle for nothing less than a thorough and reliable case study of the child." Here teacher, guidance counselor, psychologist and social worker all must come in.

School systems provide help in different ways, Bienvenu adds. Some use the special class method where the curriculum is designed for the slow learners' level of functioning.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and overweight. Everyone tells me I have a pretty face, but very few boys bother to look any further. I've had only two dates in my life and was so self-conscious I was miserable. You just can't imagine how much I'd like to be popular and have dates.

One night at a party one of the most popular boys in school took an interest in me. I was in heaven. He took me home and we parked on the way and kissed. It was my first kiss. It was wonderful. We kissed a lot and finally I got scared and called a halt.

He said he wanted to see me often, but next time he wasn't stopping at a kiss. He told me to get wise, that any fat girl can be popular if she will just give in a little. I was shocked and demanded that he take me home at once.

He told me to think it over and call him when I changed my mind. That was two lonely months ago, and I've been thinking, O Abby, what shall I do? I don't want to be a bad girl, but I want to be one of the crowd. Shall I pay the price?

FAT AND LONELY
DEAR FAT: The "price" might be more than you're prepared to pay. The boy is clearly thinking only of himself and his selfish gratification. "Fat girls can be popular," he says, "if they will just give in a little." Be patient! So can THIN girls with the kind of boys who use girls for all they can get and then go on to fresher game.

He is not for you. And neither is any boy who hands you that kind of line. Don't be surprised if HE thinks it over and calls you to tell you that he has changed his mind. Some boys use this technique to "test" as girl, when he's looking for one he can respect as well as love.

DEAR ABBY: My mother bought an old beat-up upholstered davenport from an antique dealer. She paid $45 for it and sent a truck to haul it to her home. It sat in her basement for nearly a year. She started pulling it apart in order to reupholster it herself and she found $1,600 in bills in a yellowed envelope in one of the cushions. She hasn't told anyone but me about this. Does she have to return the money to the antique dealer or does it belong to her?

NAMELESS IN NEW ORLEANS
DEAR NAMELESS: The money belongs to your mother, unless and until someone turns up and proves that the money is his and that he had hidden it in that davenport. In the meantime, your mother has a pretty soft cushion.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEE: Generalizations are unfair and unjust, so I will not say that ALL 14-year-old girls are too young and immature to date 18-year-old boys. I shall be more specific: ALL 14-year-old girls whose parents think they are too young and immature to date 18-year-old boys ARE!

VISITOR HONORED — Miss Linda White of Girlstown, U.S.A., Whiteface, left, was honored at an informal party Tuesday evening by members of Xi Beta Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. Miss White is being sponsored by the chapter and is currently a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vaughn in whose home the event was held. Shown with the honoree are, left to right, Mrs. Vaughn, Mrs. Robert O. Adams and Miss Jan Cauton. Refreshments were served to members and guests as they came to meet and welcome their new "adopted niece."

LIBRA: (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — Show others that you are more than willing to discharge your obligations. In p.m. you are then free for fun with congenials. Some government matter can amuse you during day, but by evening all is O.K. Be calm.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — That plan that can reduce you of obligations cannot be put into effect until later in p.m. Do not waste time in the interim though, since you can busy yourself at other tasks. These also are important.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Stop that fretting during the day, since the evening brings right opportunities for advancement as your job. Don't expect too much help from kin, since they are busy during day hours. Evening O.K.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young persons who will be most capable at digging up errors in monetary affairs, whatever is of a practical nature, so be sure you start the education along business lines. The greatest success comes early in life and then the twilight years are spent happily, philanthropically.

The Weekly Message

Of Inspiration

Charles M. Spicer
 Church of the Nazarene

The ability to "forgive those who trespass against us" is one of the outstanding characteristics of the grace of God. Much of our relationship with God depends on our relationship with our fellowman. The Apostle Paul wrote, "Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord." — Hebrews 12:14. We fear that much has been preached and taught about "holiness" without relating it to "peace with all men."

Calamities may come and destroy one's house and property. By hard-work, money, and materials, we can reconstruct that which has been destroyed. Financial reserve or sickness may come, and cause one to lose his money or health or both. But again, time, hard-work, good business judgment, and the aid of medical science can help us to reconstruct our business and regain our health.

But when personal problems arise which breaks our "peace with men," no amount of work, money, medical aid, or mental ability is able to reconstruct that bond of peace which has been broken. This can only come about by a forgiving heart, and that only by the grace of God given in answer to our full heart's desire to mend the broken fellowship with our brother.

Thus Jesus taught us to pray "forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us." For if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses." Math. 6:12,15. A forgiving heart is altogether necessary to keep the bond of peace, "peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord."

Atlanta, Cleveland Footballers Play Tonight

By United Press International
Hard-nosed Terry Nofsinger, a journeyman quarterback looking for a steady job in pro football, will be out to impress his new owners tonight when he directs Atlanta in a pre-season clash against the winless Cleveland Browns.

Football League for eight seasons before being picked up by the Falcons.
Nofsinger, who played a reserve role last week but rallied Atlanta to a 27-17 victory over Miami, will be out to win a starting berth with the Falcons in this contest. It is one of the two inter-league games scheduled tonight.

Buffalo, where the winless Bills host the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL. It will be the second straight inter-league outing for the Eagles, who beat the New York Jets 34-19 last week.
The NFL holds a 5-3 lead in this season's inter-league series. In the Philadelphia-Buffalo game, the Eagles will attempt to reclaim some lost NFL prestige. The AFL recorded its biggest coup of the campaign

Wednesday night with Kansas City's 66-24 rout of the Chicago Bears.
The Eagles will be without the services of five players who are completing summer training with the Pennsylvania National Guard. However, Joe Kuharich's charges had little trouble last week with the Jets while the same five players were in the first week of guard training.

Buffalo, a team which has failed to live up to early expectations, is seeking its first success in four exhibition games. In an earlier inter-league game, the Bills dropped a 19-17 decision to the Detroit Lions.
Cleveland, winless in three starts, will welcome the return of flanker Paul Warfield, who has been in National Guard training the past two weeks. Atlanta will take a 1-0-1 record into the game.

In other inter-league games this weekend, Washington (NFL) visits Boston (AFL) Saturday and Los Angeles (NFL) jorneys to San Diego (AFL) Sunday.
In games scheduled Saturday night, Baltimore is at Detroit, New Orleans meets San Francisco at Portland, Ore., Pittsburgh faces St. Louis and the New York Jets play Houston at Charlotte, N.C.

In Sunday games, the New York Giants meet Minnesota at New Haven, Conn., as ex-Viking Fran Tarkenton makes his first appearance against his former teammates, and Denver and Oakland of the AFL play at North Platte, Neb.

Boston, Chisox Begin Battle for First Place

By United Press International
Eddie Stanky doesn't think Jim Lonborg will be around long enough to get a good look at Francisco Carros.
Eddie Stanky must be kidding. In case you've never heard of Francisco Carros, and the Boston Red Sox hadn't until Thursday, he's a 26-year-old righthander whom Stanky has nominated as one of his starting pitchers in tonight's two-night doubleheader against Boston with first place in the American League on the line.

"He's gotta start against somebody," said Stanky when quizzed about his choice. "He just might go out and shut them out."
The Red Sox, of course, are the best hitting team in the AL with a .258 team average. Carros was one of the leading pitchers in the Pacific Coast League with a 10-6 record for Indianapolis before being elevated to the White Sox last Monday.

Lonborg needs no introduction. The 6-foot-5 righthander has won 16 games while losing six for the Red Sox, who begin the crucial five-game set one percentage point behind the White Sox. He will pitch one of tonight's games and probably will be matched against Carros.

"We'll probably wear him (Lonborg) out," needed Stanky after his team had absorbed a 5-0 loss to the New York Yankees Thursday and Boston whipped Washington 7-5. "He'll see so many line drives it won't be funny. He'll probably go out in the fourth." A crowd of better than 40,000 is expected at Comiskey Park to see which of the two teams embroiled in the skin-tight four-team pennant race cracks first—the weak-hitting White Sox or the fence-busting Red Sox.

"I don't care if we go 5-for-5 or 0-for-5 against the city of culture," said Stanky. "we'll be there when it's over. Those guys out there are in runs and hits but first in determination. They're fighting to get in the World Series and they're going to win it."

Bill Monbouquette set down the White Sox on five hits, four of them infield bloopers, and Charley Smith hit apair of two-run homers to pace the Yankees.
"Monbo should get a $5,000 raise for beating the White Sox," raved Stanky. "I could have put nine pitchers in the lineup and we'd hit better than first place. They're last in runs and hits but first in determination. They're fighting to get in the World Series and they're going to win it."

Classic Lead Shared by Pair

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI)—Gary Player is a confused and homesick young man with a fat bankbook.
He's getting more homesick every day but it looks like his bankbook is going to get fatter in the process, too.
Thursday Player felt homesick for his wife and five children half the world away in Johannesburg, South Africa, and he was thinking more of them than the $250,000 Westchester Classic, the world's richest medal play tourney, as he hacked away on the practice tees.

Sonics Lead Cut to Two

By United Press International
The surging Albuquerque Dodgers whipped the Amarillo Sonics twice Thursday night, cutting to two games the faltering Amarillo team's Texas League lead.

But Player still managed to shake off his depressed feelings long enough to fire an opening round 66 Thursday to share the first round lead with unknown Jim Colbert of Kansas City, Kan., and Mason Rudolph in the fight for the $50,000 first prize at the Westchester Country Club.

Nicklaus Second

The Sonics only last Saturday had held the loop lead by eight games.
In other action, the Austin Broncs beat the El Paso Sun Kings 2-1 and the Arkansas Travelers glanked Dallas-Fort Worth's Spurs 2-0.

As the second round of the tourney started today, Player had become a prime favorite although Jack Nicklaus was just one stroke behind at 67, tied with lefthander Bob Charles and unknown John Schlee of Sun City, Ariz. Arnold Palmer was one of 10 players at 69, three strikes back.

Doubts About Career

Thursday's loss was the eighth straight loss for the Sonics, who lost the first game 3-4 and the second 4-1.
Bill Larkin blasted a three-run homer in the third for the Dodgers in the first game to help win his own game. He was the winning pitcher.
In the second game, Mike Kelech went all the way on the mound for the victory.
The twin victories by Albuquerque left Amarillo two games ahead of second place El Paso and only three games ahead of the Dodgers.
Tonight's slate has Albuquerque at Amarillo for another doubleheader, El Paso at Austin, and Arkansas at Dallas-Fort Worth in single games.

But Player, who has been back from Johannesburg just 12 days since spending five weeks at home, wasn't a likely contender when he awoke Thursday.
"It was just one of those days. I was awfully homesick and I felt funny. I hit the ball badly on the practice tees," he said, "but then I just went out there and played like Superman."
He never had a putt of longer than seven feet as he breezed through a 32-34-66 round. But this still didn't quiet Player's doubts about his present way of life.

IT'S ARNIE AGAIN, blasting his way out of a sandtrap and to a 69 in the Westchester Classic in Harrison, N.Y. Palmer has been a millionaire for some time through his outside business interests.

Former Southern Cal Gridder Dies

MONTEBELLO, Calif. (UPI)—Mike McKeever, 27, former University of Southern California football star, died Thursday night at a convalescent hospital.
McKeever had been hospitalized with disabling brain injuries for more than a year and a half. He was injured in an auto accident on Dec. 3, 1965.
At his bedside in the Montebello Convalescent Hospital when the end came were his wife, Judy, and her father, Paul Primrose.
He never regained full use of his faculties after the accident and was in a coma for much of the time until his death.
His wife gave birth to their third child two weeks after the accident.
McKeever played guard on the USC football team but his career was cut short in 1960 by a brain injury suffered in a game against Stanford University.
He and his brother, Marlin, an end, were two of the brightest stars in Trojan football history.

Dodgers Edge Cincy

By United Press International
Baseball scouts seldom make passes at pitchers who wear glasses.
Fred Hawn, the St. Louis Cardinal scout, was an exception to that rule. Eleven years ago he had the foresight to steer Dick Hughes to a baseball career despite his 20 x 75 vision in one eye and 20 x 300 in the other.

Thursday, the 6-foot-3 hurler shut out the San Francisco Giants 2-0 for his 13th victory in candidate for Rookie of the Year honors.
In other National League action, Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 4-3 in 10 innings to boost the Cardinal lead to 11 1/2 games and Houston downed Atlanta 5-4 in 10 innings. Pittsburgh at Philadelphia game was postponed by rain. Hughes limited the Giants to four singles, struck out four and walked none.

The Cards scored their two runs in the ninth inning, pinch-hitter Bob Tolan's single scoring Tim McCarver, who led off with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice hit. Hughes drove in Julian Javier with the other run.
Gaylord Perry, who held the Cards to five hits, took his 15th loss of the season.
Bob Bailey's bases-loaded single drove in Gou Johnson with the run the Dodgers needed to send Cincinnati and pitcher Billy McCool down to defeat.

The Dodgers knocked out starter Gary Nolan, who had limited Los Angeles to three hits for the first eight innings, with a three-run ninth inning to tie the game.
Sonny Jackson's fourth hit of the game, a 10th inning single to score Ron Brand, provided the Astros with their extra-inning victory over Atlanta. Dave Eilers, the last of three Houston pitchers, won his third game in four decisions.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Back To Farm Coercion?

Tom Anderson, who writes the "Straight Talk" column which appears on this page each week, has some interesting points about the various governmental subsidies which are contributing to today's turmoil in the cities.

There is no question that the federal subsidy program is designed to control people, and that the city subsidies and various other programs contribute to the crowding of people into cities and make it easier for centralized controls over the people.

Yet we think Mr. Anderson is making a serious mistake when he lays in part:

"Twenty five years ago, the federal government should have subsidized the cost-plus war industries only on the basis that they would disperse their facilities into rural areas. From the standpoint of defense, crime, the national economy, transportation, and health that was the only sensible thing to do..."

But we wonder if Mr. Anderson would be satisfied with a government program which subsidized industries on condition that they locate in the place which Mr. Anderson believes is best. It still is political control of the people. This editor happens to believe it would be better if the people were dispersed as Mr. Anderson suggests. But we believe it should be on a voluntary basis.

We do not believe the government should subsidize anyone whether it be farmers, city dwellers, industrialists, merchants, railroads, aviation companies, or other governmental units. When government subsidizes, it does it with the people's money, and prohibits the people from making their own individual decisions and it contributes to today's turmoil in the cities.

When the politicians adopt the present programs, they are promoting departure from the land to the cities. Individuals will naturally seek the best opportunity, and the present program encourages them to choose the opportunity they think is available in the cities. But it will be only because the politicians have restricted opportunity in the rural areas and smaller communities and have promoted opportunity in the more densely populated cities.

But if the politicians had adopted the suggestion by Mr. Anderson, it would have been the reverse. It would have been using a type of coercive dispersal instead of the present coercive togetherness ganging up.

The only way is the voluntary way, with each individual free to make his own choice of what he believes is best for him.

Incidentally, we wonder if Mr. Anderson realizes that Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in 1848 had a somewhat similar proposal: The Ninth Plank of the Communist Manifesto called for:

"Combination of agriculture with manufacturing industries; gradual abolition of the distinction between town and country, by a more equitable distribution of the population over the country."

Intolerable Burden

The burden that uncontrolled political government, runaway spending, escalating taxes, and rising prices caused by deliberate inflation of the money supply are placing on those trying to live on moderate incomes is swiftly becoming intolerable.

Recently one of our associates had a letter from a Housewife and Mother who, although her husband draws a salary of over $6,000 a year, is finding it increasingly difficult to make ends meet. Both taxes and the cost of her family's daily bread and other expenses are steadily mounting, she says. And, on top of everything else, her children are reaching college age and the question of money for tuition has she and her husband at wit's end, she adds.

We think that this family's plight is representative of millions of other families throughout the country. Obviously self-responsible and intent on paying their own way, they are being bled white by their own governmental system to finance programs for the benefit of foreign governments and, domestically, to provide political gifts from the public tax trough. The closing words of this Mother's letter, straight from the heart and right to the point, are more meaningful than any thing we've either read or written lately. Here they are:

"Where does the government get its money? From the vacations we could never take, the movies we never saw, the restaurant dinners we never ate, the clothes we never bought, and the savings we haven't got."

In the same mail which brought this Mother's letter came an inch and a half thick, 701 page catalogue published by The Office of Economic Opportunity, Executive Office of The President of the United States, listing 1,919 different "Federal Assistance Programs," all of which are financed either wholly or in part, with funds looted from families and individuals such as described above.

It makes you feel the government of this nation is in the hand of uncaring, unthinking, unreasoning, immoral, power mad economic illiterates.

The Influence of Books

Tax-supported institutions (schools and libraries) for years have purchased or selected for purchase by students most of the books which have been published in the fields of government, history, economics and anything that touches on attitudes towards government or taxation.

Since tax-supported institutions have a near monopoly in deciding what books will be published in these fields, and since these books have a great influence on people's attitudes towards taxation and government, there is no reason to wonder when taxes keep increasing and political government becomes an ever greater coercive factor in our lives.

Why should people who believe one way be taxed propagate contrary ideas held by others? Is this not a form of slavery - involuntary servitude?

Thomas Jefferson went right to the heart of the problem when he wrote: "To compel a man to furnish contribution of money for the propagation of opinions which he disbelieves and abhors, is sinful and tyrannical. . . It is error alone which needs the support of the government. Truth can stand by itself."

Ah, Sweet Mystery

One of the minor mysteries of this scientific age is the growing popularity of the mystifying Ouija board.

The little board, with its heart-shaped indicator that spells out answers when lightly touched with the fingertips, has been around since 1892. But sales this year promise to triple 1966 figures and are running six times ahead of 1965.

Maybe it's the uncertainties of the world situation. Or maybe it's because the board is now in mass production, at the rate of two million a year. The makers of the game say the oracle will not tell them.

One reason suggested is that the board works best when

PINE TREE FEATURES

DO MEANS JUSTIFY END?

The technicians have taken us over. There is a new kind of managerial elite that is rising to the surface like air bubbles in a cauldron of boiling tar. This elite has been aimed by professors of political theory, who usually define politics as the "science of the possible." And it has been motivated by systems analysts who tell us that the only test of the validity of any system is, "can it be made to work?" In short, we have become so fascinated with HOW to do things that we have virtually ignored or shunted aside the more basic questions respecting the DESIRABILITY of doing certain things. The only test is survival. If the system can be made to stay alive, that proves all you have to know about it.

But I, for one, am not satisfied with pragmatism as the only guide. Certainly, in a sense, it is quite satisfactory. If all of us lived forever we could be quite content with pragmatism, for in the long run everything that was perfect enough to live as long as an immortal, would be perfect enough. Unfortunately, we don't live forever. And the cultures and civilizations we design, while intended to last longer than a single life span, invariably end in crashing ruin. The reason is that we don't use the computers built into our brains. There is a little warning system called morality that we can all detect, although many scholars have been at pains to erect intellectual circuits around this system. It is still there. And by using it, we can pin-point the flaws and the dysfunctional attributes that arise through these flaws. Therefore we can predict, without resorting to man-made computers, the ultimate downfall of any system that violates a moral principle.

There is only one moral principle I have been able to discern, although there may be more. The principle to which I refer is the conspicuous fact that every human being acts in an effort to increase his satisfactions. If the individual is molested he does not obtain satisfaction from that act of molestation. This is dysfunctional.

Every human being resents his own victimization. And it follows as a discernible guide for human action, that no person should molest another, for to do so creates frustrations which lead to reprisals of various sorts. The human engine backfires. Now it is possible to create a kind of reciprocal system that will attempt to compensate for the backfiring. Stated differently, a man who is taxed may be willing to continue paying a tax if he is also subsidized, and especially if his subsidy is larger than the tax he pays. But if one man receives more than he is taxed, it follows that another must be taxed more than he receives. You can't take more water out of a bucket than is in the bucket.

Thus for every minus factor (tax) a backfiring occurs. For every subsidy greater than a particular tax, a compensation occurs. But the number of minus factors increases proportionately as satisfactions in the form of compensating factors are enlarged. With the moral computations fed into the prediction area, it isn't difficult to see that, if for every plus factor (compensation) two minus factors (taxes) develop, the system is dysfunctional and will come to grief in time.

It also is not difficult to predict that it might not become entirely dysfunctional within a predictable span of years, for that would depend upon many other factors as well.

Thus, if we had life-spans of a thousand years apiece, I might be willing to subscribe to pragmatism. But since we haven't such life spans, I believe it is more scientific to make use of the moral circuits readily discernible in any brain that does not wish to be victimized. If those circuits are used we can anticipate the disintegration of any governmental system in time. Government (a taxing body) is invariably its own worst enemy, for even as it becomes adept in providing various types of compensation, it can only provide such com-played by two people of the opposite sex, seated so that their knees are touching. Even non-believers in fortune-telling are willing to spend a lot of time at that sort of thing.

penation through dysfunctional backfiring occurring in advance of the compensatory procedure.

Seeds Of Its Own Destruction

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Linda McGill, a 20-year-old Australian swimming champion, asked British authorities if she could try to swim the English Channel in a topless swimsuit. They said they didn't care what she wore, or if she wore any swimsuit at all. However, employees of a French swimsuit factory objected. They said if the idea of the topless swimsuit for women caught on, half of the jobs in the women's swimsuit industry would be eliminated. That may be good Gallic reasoning, but you can't stop progress. Back around the time of World War I another Australian swimmer, Annette Kellerman, popularized the one-piece bathing suit in this country and scandalized the do-gooders of that time. The one-piece suit led to the bikini and who knows what comes next?

Today's smile: A sweet young thing stopped by a motorcycle officer for speeding was asked for her driver's license. She rummaged through her handbag without finding it and said: "I don't seem to have it with me, and I can assure you it is just like any other old driver's license."

There's an old saying that nothing succeeds like success. That's true of "Mame," the wonderful Broadway musical comedy. At its world premiere in Boston we predicted it would be one of New York's all-time hits. Well, it recently passed its 500th performance. To date more than three-quarters of a million people have seen the show and paid almost $6 million for the privilege. "Mame" has enough zip to keep running for years, which only proves the public will patronize clean, funny shows with meddlesome songs. Other producers and songwriters could learn much from studying the secret of "Mame's" success.

Thoughts while shaving: Now that radio and telephonic devices give us almost instant communication, we wonder if anyone uses the Morse code anymore? Although it was named for Dr. Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, it was actually devised by his assistant, Alfred Vail. When we were young those dots and dashes coming in on the wire at the local railroad station always connoted adventure and excitement to us. . . Copper and nickel coins are not milled, but silver and gold coins have small grooves around the edges. This was done to prevent persons from paring the edges to get a small amount of the precious metal. If they did that with 100 half dollars they would get almost an ounce of silver, which could be melted, molded and sold for a good price. Uncle Sam devised milling the edges to combat such thievery. . . There are various stories about the origin of the expression "O.K.," meaning all right or

The Doctor Says:

Love, Patience Will Help

Poor Eater Gain Appetite
A mother writes that her six-year-old son is a poor eater and is underweight. His pediatrician says he is healthy and advises the mother not to worry but her husband is not satisfied with this and would like to insist that the child eat more. The boy refuses to try new dishes of any kind.

It is essential in such cases to make the mealtime pleasant and not a recurring struggle. Neither force nor vitamin supplements will induce a child to eat but a happy, well-adjusted child will eat ravenously when he is hungry. He must, however, learn to eat to nourish his body and not as a means of pleasing his parents or obtaining their love. Show him that you love him always but don't let your love be connected in any way with his eating habits.

A small portion of a new food should be offered without any persuasion other than to show by your example that you enjoy eating it. Avoid introducing two or more new dishes at any one meal.

Until he has developed sound habits of eating essential foods, don't make candy, cake, jellies or soft drinks available to him. If he gets hungry between meals there is no harm letting him eat one piece of fruit or drink one glass of milk. When the change in your attitude about his eating finally sinks in to his consciousness he will suddenly surprise you some day and begin to eat like a growing boy.

Q - Will the brightness of flash bulbs hurt the eyes of our new baby?

A - Since the duration of the exposure is only a fraction of a second it will do no harm if the flash is at least 10 feet from the baby's eyes. The danger is further reduced if the baby's attention can be focused on a point not in direct line with the flash bulb.

Q - An eye doctor says our daughter, 10, has progressive myopia. He has prescribed the nightly application of an at-kaloid. Is this treatment safe and effective?

A - Your eye doctor is probably not a physician. The only thing that will help your daughter besides corrective lenses is an operation to prevent further distortion of her eyeballs by reinforcing them with a tissue transplant.

VITAL ACTIVITIES FOR FREEDOM

In addition to the light duties of enlisting and processing Youth Freedom Speakers in their area, the Board of Counselors for a YFS Chapter, composed of gifted men and women deeply interested in public affairs, can use their formal organization to supplement a and perpetuate other freedom activities. It has been proved that working for freedom generates its own steam. Nearly all YFS Counselors will want to expand their pro-freedom activities.

A written or telephone petition of two-thirds of the members of the Board of Counselors can call an activity to the attention of the Executive Committee. This committee, upon finding that the activity is non-partisan, non-sectarian and vitally worthwhile, may decide that the YFS Chapter should participate.

The Counselors will be community-minded people, and if a project is locally non-controversial the Executive Committee may decide in its favor. National and state affairs are more critical. In participating in them, the Board may concern itself with highly important national affairs in the pattern of the Herbert Hoover Commission's work in planning a more efficient administration of governmental matters.

Participation in activities outside the normal YFS activities will actually enhance the goals and ideals of the YFS movement. Youth Freedom Speakers will become better known locally, and Freedom Speakers and what they speak for will gain in public esteem. The stature of Youth Freedom Speakers in the community and across the stage and nation will rise. The ideals for which they strive will become widely known, and the cause of freedom will be advanced.

Question Box

QUESTION: Are your convictions necessitated by your immediate circumstances? Would they be different if you were a Negro in a ghetto: Under your system, would only the strong survive?

ANSWER: The convictions are the result of 20 years of experience. The writer did janitor work at the age of 8 at a one room school building for $1.00 a month, sweeping out the dirt and building the fire in the morning so it would be warm when the children came to school. The writer also worked at $2 a week, 56 hours, after he had graduated from college, so the convictions are not the result of immediate circumstances.

We do not know what a ghetto is, but when one works all week for $2, and one works for a month on a farm for $13 a month and board, one pretty well knows what it is to start at the bottom. We think it would be the same if we were starting over again.

In answer to the last part of the question, "would only the strong survive?" Only those who were moral and just and thus so lived that somebody wanted to help them when they had a misfortune, would be the ones that would have the best opportunity to survive.

That is a much better security than having the government step in and wreck the money system and then those younger people who have been contributing for years to "social security" will find that they've been robbed.

We've never contended that a truly free society would make everybody healthy and happy and prosperous. It would, however, best protect the right of every person to try to be so. The system of respecting private property and being individually responsible for one's own well being would improve the well being of mankind as a whole.

Nothing But The Truth

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

When Harry Truman was a freshman senator, he scratched gravel as an understudy to Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, who had a committee investigating railroads and connivance among malefactors of one stripe and another. But Wheeler had other fish to fry, so Truman bustled around looking for things to do. He was nose as a hummingbird but otherwise dissimilar. He harbored a hot bigotry against trusts and kindred monstrosities.

In the years of his Presidency, Truman sneaked into the White House one Eddie Jacobson (who had been a member of his battery in the First War, and his partner in a haberdashery in Kansas City which went broke), to confer with David Ben-Gurion, the titular prime minister of the predatory scheme known to the political world as the sovereign State of Israel. Jacobson shared certain sentiments with Ben Gurion and it may be that this store-front necktie merchant, with a financial failure conspicuous in his record, gave historic service to Israel by confidential cooperation of the President of the United States.

During his pestiferous toil Harry came under the eye of Max Lowenthal, also pestiferous, a genuine authority on railroad economics with a remarkable knowledge of mysterious Jewish connivings in the countries which lay between Soviet Russia and the areas known as Germandom.

Lowenthal was obscure until he wrote a book abusing the FBI and J. Edgar Hoover which sold for $4.50. But Hoover survived and even weathered the later disapproval of Beatle Bobby Kennedy as attorney-general in the reign of Jack. Lowenthal gave sparse testimony when asked, and might have been rousted around for contempt of Congress, except that Senator Wheeler horned in and kicked up confusion in his behalf. In this process, Lowenthal scrooched up to Truman after hours and took him by the elbow to the drawing room of Louis D. Brandeis, then a member of the Supreme Court. Brandeis was also an undercover agent of the grand design of world Jewry to establish a sovereign political state under the patronage of our own country and Great Britain.

With such a protectorate, the Jews would be the non-combatant but constantly troublesome proteges of the two greatest nations of western civilization. This has come to pass now, notwithstanding snarling rejoinders that this is nothing but a wicked smear of anti-semitism.

Brandeis was double oath-bound to the United States both as citizen and as Federal officer on the national payroll. Yet, he was conspiring in those days to make Israel the modern, if not perpetual, political and vaguely religious homeland of the Jews. Truman was a cocky sport of the Pendergast mob in Kansas City. He was only a high school boy at best and he modestly faltered that he wasn't equipped by intellect to associate with Brandeis in such a matter.

Yet Lowenthal perceived in Truman qualities which later satisfied not only F. D. Roosevelt but the great Democratic national party machine.

The price which the vast mysterious web has paid for their incipient empire is not as much as a shekel by comparison with the cash grants and other financial benefits which the working, earning taxpayers of the United States have lavished on Israel. Current events may send legions of American Christians marching and flying to war for Israel. That seems most probable, for the Democrats have no scruples and the Republicans are as wanton in their quest of the Jewish vote in our politics as Truman ever was. Or Roosevelt.

In time the world will go up for grabs again. God only knows what the lineup will be by that time.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Our Educational Lack

One of the things we believe is necessary if our civilization is to survive and go on to the fulfillment of its potential is economic knowledge. We must understand and we must teach our children what motivates and controls men in the actions which they carry on in seeking a livelihood and the satisfaction of their wants and desires. We have to know what causes men to produce abundantly, or we shall succumb to the false principles of socialism and lose our economic well-being. We have to know the reasons for sound, non-inflatable money, or we shall succumb to the disasters of inflation. Indeed this crisis is already upon us, because there is little understanding of monetary principles.

We have to know the cause and the cure of depressions, or they will continue to afflict us. We have to know why minimum wage laws cause unemployment and more poverty, or we shall continue to enact them to our own undoing. We have to know why something for nothing destroys initiative, creates more and more dependence, and will eventually destroy all freedom and bring totalitarian government upon us. We have to know the philosophy of the free market and how it operates or we shall not be able to maintain it. Indeed we have already lost it in very large degree. We have to know why collectivism fails and freedom succeeds or we shall not have the courage and the ability to remain free.

The average person in our world today knows almost nothing of economic theory or history. These subjects are not taught effectively in our schools; in fact not taught at all in most of them below college level. Many of our colleagues offer nothing of importance in the realm of economic knowledge. If we do not understand what motivates men to successful action, we shall not be able to set up and maintain the kind of economic system that will do it.

British Protest Chinese Assault

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's embattled man in Peking knew only one way to get the message through. Reports reaching London today said Donald C. Hopson who protested a Red Guard assault on his embassy by mailing a letter to Mao Tse-tung's regime.
The commando turned diplomat, a key pawn in the Sino-British crisis over Hong Kong, was reported to have typed out the protest Wednesday night in a private Peking home where he found refuge.
Then he ventured into the Peking streets, although the mob beat and kicked him and other British diplomats in Tuesday night's burning of the 30 room chancery office building and embassy automobiles. Hopson dropped the letter in a Peking mailbox, the reports said.
It typified the extent the London Peking dispute has gone beyond normal diplomatic conduct. Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government, clearly angered at what it called the Communist Chinese government-inspired assault on the embassy and diplomats, kept Peking diplomats here under extraordinary restrictions.
The Peking diplomats were barred from leaving the country. They must ask permission to go more than five miles from the marble arch, the Hyde Park monument that was the target of Germany's World War II V-bombs.
The foreign office issued the bans in its concern for its 25 diplomats and their wives and children being held virtual hostages in Peking.
Foreign office spokesmen said two diplomats, one wife and one baby were barred from leaving on holiday from Peking although they had the exit visas Peking's foreign office issues. Chinese officials in Peking waved their hands and smiled and said no planes were available. This was not believed true in London.
