Chaos Engulfs Shanghai In Latest Mao Purge Violence

Peking Frees Soviet Freighter and Crew

HONG KONG (UPI) — Foes of Chinese Communist party leader Mao Tse-tung have seized two shiploads of arms bound for North Vietnam, Hong Kong newspapers said today. They also quoted travelers from Communist China as saying that more than seven million residents of Shanghai the nation's largest city, are embroiled in a whirlwind of slaughter and chaos.

The travelers, witnesses to Communist China's power struggle, also reported that fighting Sunday between Mao's foes and backers in Canton left a pile of dead "as large as a hill."

The rightwing newspaper Tin Tin said persons coming from Canton reported rampaging anti-Mao mobs attacked and seized the two arms freighters at Whampoa, the city's deep water port. The anti-Mao forces carried away "huge" amounts of arms and ammunition that had been destined for North Vietnam's port of Haiphong.

In Moscow, the Soviets reported their freighter Svirsk limping toward home from the Red Chinese port of Dairen where Red Guards ransacked the vessel, battled the crew, beat up its skipper and—in a rare Peking backdown in the Sino-Soviet struggle for world Communism's leadership—set it free following a protest by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

The travelers reported seeing the hill of corpses at Canton's main railway station after a four-hour battle between anti-Mao Railway workers and fanatic Red Guard supporters of the aging Peking leader.

The dead were counted in the hundreds, the travelers said. The arrivals reported the violence as Mao's massive propaganda machine broadcast that all was well with his forces in his "cultural revolution" purge of foes in the party, government and Red Chinese army.

Peking Radio, the voice of Mao, said a pro-Mao government has been set up in western Shanghai province, the fifth province claimed by Mao's forces to have had such an organ set up. "Great victory," said Peking radio. "Great victory," said Peking's newspaper.

Observers of Communist China here said the Peking proclamation of the Chinghai "power organ" appeared to be Mao's way of giving his followers a badly needed victory in his power struggle. It was the first provincial "victory" since February. There still remain 18 provinces without such a pro-Mao regime.

One veteran China watcher said, "most of Mao's opponents probably will recognize the ballyhoo about Chinghai for what it apparently is—an almost desperate attempt by the Maoists to have a victory. They are not likely to give up the struggle. They have too much to lose."

Bears Maul Two Girls To Death In Glacier Park

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK (UPI)—The grizzly normally belies his ferocious scientific name—ursus horribilis, the horrible bear.

But two of the usually pacifist grizzlies turned killer Saturday night. They savagely chewed and clawed to death two 19-year-old girls and mauled a teen-aged boy.

Authorities today hoped to question four distraught witnesses and the youth, to determine what happened in the two widely separated incidents, the first killings by bears in the 57-year history of the park.

The victims were two summer employes on weekend outings 35 miles apart. Julie Helegson of Albert Lea, Minn., and Michelle Koons of San Diego, Calif., were killed.

Park superintendent Keith Nielson immediately ordered all tourists out of the areas and sent armed park rangers in with orders to shoot the suspected killer bears.

Roy Ducat, 18, of Perrysburg, Ohio, a companion of Miss Helegson, was clawed and bitten by the bear that killed her.

His doctor said the youth may be able to disclose today details of the tragedy.

Miss Koons and four friends went on an overnight trip. They had just bedded down in sleeping bags when the killer bear came sniffing into their camp.

Four of the campers, Ray T. Noseck, his brother Ronald, Paul Dunn and Denise E. Huckle, all employed in summer jobs at the park, jumped from their sleeping bags and climbed trees.

The Koons girl couldn't get out of her sleeping bag. Her friends told authorities Michelle seemed to be trapped. . . the zipper looked like it stuck. The bear dragged her out of the area and partially devoured her.

The witnesses were so upset they were given sedation and put to bed without being questioned further.

Dave Cutler, deputy Flathead County coroner who examined the victims, said the Helegson girl died "from loss of blood and puncture wounds around her chest. She was covered with claw marks and bites—many of them heavy."

Cutter said the Koons girl was "partially devoured. . . she had large, gaping wounds over all of her body."

Ducat suffered both claw and bite wounds. He was taken from the area by helicopter after he ran for help.

U.S. Pilots Ordered To Strike All Viet Off-Limit Targets

WASHINGTON (UPI)—New targets in Communist North Vietnam, previously off-limits to American pilots, have been authorized for U.S. air strikes by President Johnson.

Official sources disclosed the chief executive's action Sunday, though administration spokesmen refused comment on the development for the record.

The change of policy seemed borne out, however, by reports from Saigon that U.S. fighter-bombers struck North Vietnam Sunday at points closer to the Red Chinese border than ever before.

Two raids hit inside a 25-mile-wide zone on the North Vietnamese side of the frontier that up until now had been immune from U.S. raids. Presumably the restrictions had been intended to prevent any possibility that American supersonic jets might inadvertently violate Chinese airspace.

Phil G. Goulding, assistant defense secretary for public affairs, said there had never been a public announcement of the existence of a buffer zone along the border.

"We never characterize anything as a policy change or a tactical change or an escalation," he said. "Everybody is going to have to make that determination themselves. The raids have to speak for themselves."

According to reliable sources, Johnson authorized the expanded target list last Tuesday, one day before the Senate preparedness subcommittee began hearings on U.S. bombing policies and the same day that House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford protested that American U.S. spokesmen reported no American planes downed in hitting the bridges of Lang Son. Fifty-five of the rail cars smashed today were caught at the Lang Dang siding 27 miles from the North Vietnam-Communist Chinese frontier.

American officials here said the raids close to Communist China were not an "expansion" of the air war.

The strikes within a record 10 miles of the forbidden frontier came immediately after the Air Force told UPI it had been striking targets in neighboring, neutral Laos for the past three years and three months.

The frontier area strikes followed a pattern of American bombers hitting fresh, prime targets. Friday U.S. jets hit the mile long Paul Doumer bridge, 17 miles from the center of Hanoi.

Never before hit, the Paul Doumer was judged the most important span in North Vietnam.

In South Vietnam, American soldiers today battled Communist forces in the deep jungle valleys of northern Quang Tin province. In two engagements, 35 Communists and two Americans were reported killed. Another 19 GI's were wounded, spokesmen said.

Taylor, who appeared with Clifford on a television interview (Face The Nation—CBS), said that all the evidence he and Clifford had seen "indicates that the (Saigon) government is insistent on an honest election. They are making every effort, under the conditions of war, to obtain conditions where campaigning is possible, and where the elections will be carried out with the maximum participation of the voters. Now this is tough doing . . . under the conditions in South Vietnam."

Clifford said the President's message to Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky, south Vietnam's premier, and Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state, "said as bluntly as it can be said that if there was any one act on their part which would be calculated to alienate the American people, it would be to have a rigged election. . ."

"I personally believe that they understood that very well," Clifford added.

airmen were being hamstrung by target restrictions.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and former ambassador to South Vietnam said Sunday he would not term the latest raids an "escalation."

He noted there still were a number of untouched military targets in the North, although he said none of them were vital.

The general said he was certain the administration was continuing to evaluate the risks of provoking intervention by the Red Chinese. He made the statement during a broadcast appearance (Face The Nation—CBS).

Washington sources said the approval included a number of transport and military industrial facilities, both at Hanoi and Haiphong, as well as the railroad running between Hanoi and the Chinese border.

U.S. BOMBERS STRIKE AGAIN NEAR RED CHINA
SAIGON (UPI) — For the consecutive second day U.S. bombers today struck in North Vietnam within sight of Communist China and hit a vital bridge less than 10 miles from the frontier, American spokesmen said.

Never before had U.S. warplanes struck within 30 miles of Communist China.

Only a few seconds flying time from Red China, the jets smashed the Lang Son railroad bridge, crumpling the southern span of the 360-foot four-span structure, they said.

On Sunday American dive bombers smashed another Lang Son key bridge, three fifths of a mile away.

Farmers Searched Before Entering Hong Kong Fields

HONG KONG (UPI) — British authorities began permitting Communist Chinese farmers back into Hong Kong today to till their land. Tough Gurkha troops searched the Chinese for weapons as they crossed the border.

Police found five homemade bombs scattered around Hong Kong today, including one in front of a U.S. Bank (Bank of America) branch. Military ballistics experts safely detonated all the bombs.

One of the bombs was found inside a small foot-long black wooden coffin placed in front of the American bank's Kowloon branch. A skull had been painted on the coffin's lid and a Red flag with the word "guerrillas" was lying next to it.

A government official said the border was still closed between China and Hong Kong but Chinese farmers could now come from the other side to engage in farming.

The changes have been due to amendments to the social security laws which have increased the benefits — and the taxes as well — and have brought more workers under coverage.

Further increases in both benefits and taxes are in prospect. The Administration's proposal, now pending in Congress, would boost the cash payments by an average of 20 percent.

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (UPI)—Michigan Gov. George W. Romney, looking more and more like a presidential candidate, plans a three-week tour of Europe next month which may include stops in Russia.

Romney made the announcement Sunday after a tennis match with Rhode Island Gov. John Chafee that concluded Romney's weekend of relaxation at his summer mansion.

Romney met with Chafee, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton reportedly to discuss his presidential chances.

The European swing, expected to include Romney's first visit to Russia and possibly stops in the Middle East, is being tailored to bolster Romney's foreign policy credentials — an area of some political weakness.

Observers said the trip would also allow Romney to bask in the spotlight of international news at a time when President Johnson's popularity, according to polls, is going downhill.

Still unannounced as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968, Romney seems to be increasing the tempo of his "long, hard look" at seeking the nomination.

Rockefeller, Scranton and Chafee told reporters after the gathering that they were "devoted" to securing the nomination for Romney.

AVERAGE $888 PER YEAR

3,231 Gray Countians Receive $2,870,000 in Pension Checks

How do the Federal pension checks that are going to residents of Gray County compare, on the average, with those to people in other areas?

How much of a change has there been in the number and size of these checks in the last few years?

According to the latest official figures released by the Social Security Administration, there has been a marked increase in both directions.

At the present time, the number of local people receiving benefits each month is 26.2 percent greater than four years ago.

The current report shows, also, that payments to beneficiaries in Gray County are at the rate of $888 per year, which is more than is going to recipients in most other places.

Throughout the United States, the average is $663 a year and, in the State of Texas, $765.

This money, which is paid to retired or disabled workers and their dependents, comes out of the trust funds of the old-age, survivors and disability insurance systems, to which the great majority of working people contribute.

Just how much each retired person or his family receives each month depends upon how much he paid in social security taxes during his active years.

The larger pension checks to local residents signifies that, over the years, their incomes have been better than average and therefore, their contributions to the pension funds have been larger.

Overall, the report shows, some 3,231 residents of Gray County were receiving benefits as of January, 1967. During the past year they collected a total of $2,870,000.

Some idea of the expansion in benefits in the local area may be gleaned from a look at the comparable figures released four years ago.

At that time, the number of recipients was only 2,561 and the amount they received, $1,999,000.

The changes have been due to amendments to the social security laws which have increased the benefits — and the taxes as well — and have brought more workers under coverage.

Further increases in both benefits and taxes are in prospect. The Administration's proposal, now pending in Congress, would boost the cash payments by an average of 20 percent.

King called for a national program of "social justice and progress" to fight conditions that lead to riots. He said the only way to reach Negro slum dwellers was "to give them a new sense of hope, new sense of dignity, a new sense of self respect" with jobs and better homes and schools.

Observers said the trip would also allow Romney to bask in the spotlight of international news at a time when President Johnson's popularity, according to polls, is going downhill.

Price Sees No Farm Help From Trade Agreement

WASHINGTON (Sp) — "No victory for the American farmer" is what the House Republican Task Force on Agriculture has labeled the Geneva Kennedy Round Trade Agreements.

"Despite the Administration's rosy predictions that agriculture would benefit, I have seen rosy predictions that agriculture would benefit, I have seen no evidence to substantiate them," said Congressman Bob Price, a member of the committee. "In fact, the reluctance of the Office of the Special Representative for Trade Negotiations to release the facts relative to the concessions made by other nations is a clear indication that the American farmer can expect nothing from the new agreements."

Price also noted that the U.S. agreed to cut tariffs on cotton. "These tariffs were cut on imported items worth over $300 million in 1965," he said. "Cotton clothing alone amounted to almost $200 million, and the volume will surely increase under the lower tariff schedules . . . frightening news for cotton producers as well as the American textile industry."

The Task Force questioned the wisdom of using tariffs as the sole basis for negotiation.

Congressman Price said the office of the Special Representative for Trade Negotiation supplied him with a list of concessions made by foreign nations that would be of interest to the congressman's home State of Texas. "It was a list of inconsequential items such as tallow and 'edible offals' . . . with no mention of commodities that really constitute agricultural production in our

Martin Luther King Seeks SCLC Non-Violent Program

ATLANTA (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) opens its 10th convention today ready to turn its attention from the South to the North.

On the eve of the convention, King said the civil rights movement had made "significant progress" in the South and now must become "real and powerful and dynamic in the Northern ghettos."

King's opposition to the war in Vietnam will be reflected in the convention. He said he expected the 2,000 delegates to "take an even stronger stand against the war" than in the past two conventions, but he said he did not want SCLC to become a peace organization.

He said there was enough to be done in the civil rights movement.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I recently read something in your column which in my judgment was one of the best pieces of advice I have ever seen anywhere. But why was it buried in small print at the bottom of your column? It should have been featured right at the top, and bill-boarded with 12 point bold type. It was: "CONFIDENTIAL TO THE WIFE OF AN UNFAITHFUL HUSBAND: DO NOT ASK YOURSELF. WHAT HAS SHE GIVEN THAT I DO NOT HAVE? THE ANSWER IS NOTHING. BETTER ASK YOURSELF. WHAT HAS SHE GIVEN THAT I HAVEN'T GIVEN?"

The husband of an unfaithful wife may substitute "she" for "he" and the same advice applies to him. Sign this ONE OF YOUR EDITORS

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of people who refuse to play cards for fun? They always suggest playing for a little something, just to make it "interesting."

I enjoy playing gin rummy, and I play the same game whether I'm playing for money or for fun. My sister and her husband will never play unless there's money involved to make it "interesting."

Last night we gave them an "interesting" evening - which cost us a ten-dollar bill. One night last week they had another interesting evening here - for $6.50.

Don't you think that people who HAVE to play for money in order to make the game "interesting" are interested only in the money?

DEAR ABBY: I am in a social snafu. I am 21 and my husband is 26 and we have been married for 5 whole months!

Say Goodbye to Bifocals

Fashion in eyeglasses, up to recently, meant stylish and attractive frames. Now, for style-conscious gals (and guys) past forty, fashions in spectacles refers to lenses, too.

It's bye, bye bifocals for those who have presbyopia - that is the name of the condition when the eyes become less able to focus on objects near at hand. It brings about the old complaint, "They're printing things in smaller type these days" or "My arms are getting too short." Presbyopia requires wearing bifocals, trifocals, two pairs of glasses - one for distance seeing and one for near - or just reading glasses for that matter.

Ever since Ben Franklin invented bifocals 200 years ago, there has been that ugly dividing line. Whether it is straight or curved, it's there for all to see. ... and, worse still, it seems to be always in the wearer's way.

Now, through ingenious technology, a new spectacle lens, called Varilux, has been developed. It performs like a skillfully made multifocal that is, it has many, many more points of focus than a bifocal permitting vision to pass from distance to near at hand gradually and smoothly.

The top half of Varilux contains the wearer's distance prescription. At the pupil level of the eye the power begins to change progressively until the full close-work correction is reached. The amount of correction available at every level of the lens is exactly what the wearer needs as he looks ages, which are actually more through that part of the glass. The developer, who well recognizes the cosmetic significance of Varilux, is quick to point out its functional advantages, which are actually more progressive between distance viewing and near-viewing. "Invisible" bifocals have long been available in the USA. However, Varilux is much more than an invisible or banded bifocal (which is a two-powered lens in which the sharp line of demarcation has been banded so as to be indistinguishable). Varilux characteristics differ since its power changes as needed for different distances. There is no other lens made like Varilux.

That stigma of middle age, the bifocal, may eventually be displaced by Varilux, Nationwide distribution of the new lens is a reality and it is now available from optometrists, ophthalmologists and opticians by prescription.

HD Agent Reports Bacon Prices Down

Remember the days when bacon prices were so high? The economic law of supply and demand has brought the price of our favorite breakfast meat down considerably since then.

In 1964 the supply of pork decreased because producers, discouraged by low prices, cut down on pig production. This reduction added up to millions of pounds across the country. Since the supply was very short the price went up. As hog prices forged ahead, farmers were encouraged to increase their production. Therefore, our supply of pork increased sharply this fall and winter with a resulting drop in prices. Pork should continue in good supply for the next few months, although prices will probably not be lower than they are now.

Pork is no longer a fat meat. Today's family is diet conscious and the hog's fat has been adjusted accordingly. Helped by research, modern farmers are producing a "meat type" hog with more lean and less fat.

The Boston butt, the cut from the top part of the shoulder, is one of the less demanded and most economical cuts. It's sold fresh, cured, sliced, whole, with a small bone or without a bone. When fresh, it is used either as a roast or cut into steaks. The Boston butt leads the list of pork cuts in the percentage of lean meat it yields as it contains 84 per cent lean, while a regular ham is 67 per cent lean meat. Loins are 63 per cent.

Beef supplies are ample, and this might be a good time to stock the freezer with some extra steaks. During outdoor cooking season, steak prices usually go up.

es progressively between distance viewing and near-viewing. "Invisible" bifocals have long been available in the USA. However, Varilux is much more than an invisible or banded bifocal (which is a two-powered lens in which the sharp line of demarcation has been banded so as to be indistinguishable). Varilux characteristics differ since its power changes as needed for different distances. There is no other lens made like Varilux.

That stigma of middle age, the bifocal, may eventually be displaced by Varilux, Nationwide distribution of the new lens is a reality and it is now available from optometrists, ophthalmologists and opticians by prescription.

By Mrs. G. J. Boyd The first two years in Girl Scouts find Brownies having fun making tours in the community. Visiting the library, fire station, bottling plant, radio station, pet store, greenhouse and many other interesting places. Small hands learn to master crafts... making sit-upons for outdoor activities, decorating a box or can to be proudly presented to parents or collecting leaves to be pressed between layers of waxed paper and displayed in the window at home.

Summer will find Brownies attending Day Camp, riding to the camp site in buses filled with older Girl Scouts sharing their Scout songs with the younger members. They take their lunches, all but one day, and a few

You should have your eyes checked at least once a year. Remove eye make-up thoroughly each night with a light cream or moisturizing cleanser, then smooth on your favorite eye cream for further pampering.

Delbert Bullard has worked with Southwestern Bell for 39 years

He's seen a lot of changes in telephone service

"They've definitely been for the better," says Mr. Bullard, chief deskman at Longview, Texas. "It hasn't been too many years ago that we were out setting poles with ropes and mules. Then we'd get one of those wet, heavy snows and we'd have to set them all over again. Now our equipment is as good as you'll find anywhere. And snowstorms don't bother buried cable and microwave towers."

"Customers get better service now—it's more reliable and costs less, too. When I started work, it was difficult to even recognize a voice on a Long Distance call. Now it's like talking across the room."

What about the changes coming in the next 39 years? "I'm not sure," Mr. Bullard says. "We've got Picturephone and the laser coming in a few years. Where do you go from there? I guess the sky's the limit."

Whatever comes along will come because of people like Mr. Bullard. He and 26,000 other Southwestern Bell people in Texas have one thing in common. They're working to make your telephone service better than ever.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Miss America Pageant spends a year searching the nation for a talented girl with a beautiful figure and then what does it do? It sends her on a tour that includes the great eating cities and the poor girl is tempted to ruin the shape that won her the title in the first place.

In New York for an appearance on the NBC-TV "Today" show the reigning Miss America, Jane Anne Jayroe, 20, of Laverne, Okla., looked back over a year of countless official lunches and dinners and claimed she still was close to the 36-24-35 proportions admired by the judges at Atlantic City last year.

"But it wasn't easy," she said. "You travel so fast and so far you don't get a chance to exercise. And you're always being offered delicious-looking food—like rice dishes in Barcelona or spaghetti in Rome or pastry in Paris not to mention all the places you visit in the United States and Canada."

Modestly she said she would not be satisfied with herself until after she completes a forthcoming two-week entertainment tour of Vietnam with a troupe of beauties who have competed in the Miss America Pageant.

"The dancing I'll be doing and the climate in Vietnam plus the traveling ought to have me just right for the Miss America Pageant on Sept. 9 (NBC-TV) when I pass the crown to the new winner," she said.

What has been the effect of a year of celebrity on Miss Jayroe, a small-town girl who had never flown before the contest and has since covered more than 200,000 miles, met thousands of more or less important people—and earned some $75,000?

Vets Advise Vaccinations At 3 Months

COLLEGE STATION (SpI)—The minimum age for calf vaccination against brucellosis has been lowered from four months to three months, according to a United States Department of Agriculture announcement.

Research has indicated that acceptable resistance is induced with the strain 19 vaccine on three-month old calves. This early age vaccination also reduces the possibility of calves producing reactors that can confuse the brucellosis test.

The early age vaccination is also expected to help the cattle producer because it will often fit better with his regular management practices.

The amended regulation defines "an official vaccine as a female bovine animal vaccinated against brucellosis at the age of three through eight months." If the heifer calf is a beef breed on a range or semi-range area, she may be vaccinated from three to 11 months.

The vaccination of heifer calves past the age of eight months is discouraged by the USDA because of the possibility of persistent reactors.

"Producers in Texas counties yet to enter the brucellosis eradication program should continue on this vaccination program," Dr. C. M. Patterson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service veterinarian advises. "Eliminating as much infection as possible will speed up certification when the county enters the eradication program."

Massengale Wins 2-State Golf

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Rick Massengale of Jacksboro, Tex., whose older brother Don lost a playoff for the PGA title last month, fired a 69 Sunday to win the 17th annual Texas-Oklahoma Golf Tournament.

'Aged' Rookie Helping Cardinals

By United Press International When Bob Gibson gave the St. Louis Cardinals only one good leg to stand on, an "aged" rookie named Dick Hughes provided a crutch that may make his famous.

Gibson, the Cardinals' ace righthander, suffered a broken leg when hit by a batted ball on July 15 and in his absence Hughes moved in as the Cardinals' No. 1 pitcher and has been instrumental in the club's surge toward the National League pennant.

Hughes, who toiled nine years in the minors before making the big leagues, has pitched with such distinction that he's a major candidate for "rookie of the year" honors. If he should win this award, he would become the oldest rookie ever to receive the honor.

The 29-year-old Hughes has drawn some crucial assignments in the last three weeks but has responded with four victories against a single loss in that span, including Sunday's 2-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

"I think I got by lucky," Hoerner bailed him out in the had gone seven and two-thirds innings to notch his 11th triumph in 15 decisions. "I didn't have my good stuff all day. I had to spot the ball all day because my fast ball was not as good as it usually is."

Hughes' stuff was good enough, however, to hold the Giants to seven hits until Joe Hoerner bailed him out in the eighth inning to protect the victory. The triumph was the Cardinals' 15th in their last 19 games and enabled them to maintain their eight-and-one-half game lead in the pennant race.

Twins Scramble to Top; American Tightens Up

By United Press International Eddie Stanky has lost his cool and created the hottest American League pennant race in 19 years.

Stanky's gambles in his handling — or mishandling — of the Chicago pitching staff have backfired and the result is that the White Sox lost eight of their last 10 games and have fallen one-half game behind the Minnesota Twins in the American League pennant race.

Five teams are now separated by just 2 1/2 games and it looks like the best race since 1948 when Cleveland beat Boston in a playoff and New York finished just two games back.

The Twins, who've won eight of 10, knocked off the White Sox 3-2 Sunday before a delighted crowd of 42,418 that included vice president Hubert H. Humphrey to complete a three-game sweep and knock the White Sox out of first place for the first time since June 11.

Stanky switched his rotation. He pitched Bruce Howard and Wilbur Wood against the Orioles and saved his aces, Gary Peters and Joe Horlen, for the Tigers.

Horlen started Sunday against the Twins and went only six innings, allowing a two-run single to Rich Rollins in the first. Bob Locker then lost in relief when the Twins snapped a 2-2 tie in the eighth.

Ryan, the tall, thin Kansan, who likes to be pushed and wasn't, turned in a 3:56 performance in what was billed as "the mile of the century."

In the only other game Sunday, an inter-league clash, the Baltimore Colts ripped the Boston Patriots 33-3 as Bubba Smith, Michigan State All-American, made his defensive pro debut by stifling the Patriots' offense throughout the game.

Warrriors Owner Plans To File Suit Against Singer

San Francisco (UPI)—Franklin Mieuli, owner of the San Francisco Warriors, planned to file a $4.5 million damage suit in Superior Court today against Pat Boone and the Oakland Oaks of the rival American Basketball Association.

Warrriors Owner Plans To File Suit Against Singer

In his suit, Mieuli is seeking damages from Boone and the Oaks for their part in getting former San Francisco star Rick Barry to forego his contract with the Warriors and sign a three-year pact with Oakland.

Barry, though, was unable to make good on his jump since last week a Superior Court judge upheld the controversial National Basketball Association option clause and enjoined Barry from playing with any other team in 1967-68 except the Warriors.

Mieuli said he is seeking $1.5 million in actual damages from Boone, the popular recording star and television personality who owns the Oaks, and $3 million in punitive damages.

Palmer Eyeing $200,000 Year

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, already the richest player in the history of golf, set his sights on another goal today—the magic $200,000 mark in official money winnings this year.

With the ink still fresh on a $20,000 check for winning the first prize in the American Golf Classic Sunday, Palmer passed the $128,000 mark in 1967 winnings with a bunch of big purses still left on the tour.

Palmer's three-stroke victory and a final round 67 over the demanding 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club Course was an uphill fight, and the millionaire golfer from Latrobe, Pa., decided to rest. He will skip insurance City Open in Hartford, Conn., this week for a couple of exhibitions and a rare weekend at home with his family.

"It's been a long, dry summer," a smiling Palmer said after his victory. "When you go any length of time without winning, it makes it all the harder to win again."

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Road to Revolution

The average person reading about the riots in Detroit, Newark, Cincinnati, Milwaukee and other cities is likely to ask, "Why are these things happening?" The answer is to be found in a new paperback book, The Road to Revolution, which could not have come at a more appropriate time. Written by a man who was once part of the revolution we are now witnessing, it tells how the violence is planned and who is doing the planning. It is not a pleasant book but the time has come for Americans to take a long hard look at what we are up against.

The author, Phillip Abbott Luce, at 29, is a former leader of the "New Left." He defected in January, 1965, when he became disillusioned with the cynical way in which the communist were willing to sacrifice individuals and society itself to promote Communist designs. In his book Luce quotes one of the leaders of the Harlem riots of 1964, William Epton, as saying: "We will not be fully free until we smash this state completely and totally. We're going to have to kill a lot of these cops, a lot of these judges, and a lot of these Army." Which was a pretty good forecast of what has come to pass.

The Curse of Censorship

Freedom of expression is one of the most jealously guarded rights in the United States. It arouses the resentment of our people when some branch of the official hierarchy has the effrontery to assume the role of censor. It appears now that censorship of a serious nature is being imposed upon the medical press by the powerful Food and Drug Administration. Writing in Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Walter Modell, M.D., of the Department of Pharmacology, Cornell University Medical College, says: "Certain recent actions of the FDA... violate basic principles of science and education."

Strength of Freedom

Although there are no two individuals alike in all the world, the human animal does have some common characteristics, both good and bad. One of the better ones seems to be that the greater a person's education and awareness of current events, the more anxious he is to express his opinion on issues affecting his life or his nation.

Food for Thought

Before hailing the new depression-proof era of a finely-tuned, government-managed economy of perpetual abundance as a complete success, the following facts should be noted: 1. Since 1960 the population of the United States has grown by 10 per cent; 2. Since 1960, the personnel comprising the civilian bureaucracy of the federal government has grown by 25 per cent; 3. Since 1960, nondefense expenditures of the government familiar with various projects in which people were trained for the kind of guerrilla warfare that wrecked Watts, Newark, Detroit and other cities. "Not only did we store guns in New York," he states, "but target practice was held on Long Island" prior to the Harlem riots.

Stokely Carmichael, a recent visitor to Communist Czechoslovakia and an important delegate at the Communist conference on "liberation movements" in Cuba, is an important central character in the Luce book. The author tells of a 1966 fund raising dinner in Harlem at which the highly-publicized agitator reported that in Cleveland merchants were building stores without windows. "I don't know what they think they'll accomplish," he sneered. "It just means we have to move from Molotov cocktails to dynamite. They say we're stupid and don't do anybody any good and we deserve to be called that because if we had any sense we'd have bombed these ghettos long ago."

The Road to Revolution certainly makes more sense than much of the claptrap being mouthed by the politicians. In fact, we'd suggest that they read it too. The fires, the sabotage, the guerrilla warfare in our streets were planned. Phil Luce tells us when, where and how.

shattering. Absolute freedom of dialogue and communication has long been accepted as essential to all scientific progress and to medical progress as well. It has been established as essential to the safe and effective use of drugs. Differences in opinion and practice are aired publicly in order to gain knowledge and understanding from discrepant views and observations. Such symposia form the most stimulating educational instruments of the medical press. Now, the FDA has begun to discourage, hobble, to stifle, to castrate such publications."

Dr. Modell points out that it takes about five years before a definitive statement can be made about a new drug, and then it can be made only as a result of unrestricted expression of opinion, not by what he calls "...the group of nonexperts in the FDA who pass on the contents of drug package stuffers." Censorship has no place in the United States except where it has been accepted in the name of public decency or military security.

are up 97 per cent; 4. Since 1960, expenditures for national welfare and health programs are up 210 per cent. The deficits for the eight years since 1960 will total $50 billion and for the decade will probably be about $75 billion. The national debt will be up approximately the same amount. Forty-two million people now receive regular checks from the federal government—either directly, or from states under aid

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

When your kids have finished college the air will be filled with a new breed of passenger planes so fantastic that they will stagger your imagination. One will carry two or three hundred people twice as fast as a high-powered rifle bullet. Another will take 60 people from the top of an office building in one city and deliver them to another downtown rooftop in a city 100 miles away in less than 15 minutes. Still another will carry 800 passengers on three decks like an ocean liner. The latter was seen taking shape recently at the Lockheed-Georgia plant in a building that is bigger than our old farm back in Maryland. The roof covers 70 acres. Workers were putting together huge barrel sections of the fuselage of the first of these giants. The C-5A Galaxy, a 5 being build for the Air Force. It is almost as long as a football field and higher than a five-story building. The Galaxy will be ready to fly next June and when it goes over your house loaded with tanks, trucks and troops, it will weigh about one million pounds. That is a lot of airborne hardware to get used to!

Today's smile: Two drunks were recalling their cradle days and one said: When I was born I only weighed two pounds and a half. "No kiddin'," said the other. "Did you live?" "Did I live!" said the first. "You should see me now."

Talleyrand, the master French politician, once gave the best definition we have ever run across of good coffee. He said: "It must be pure as an angel, strong as love, black as the devil and hot as hell." Can you top that one?

Thoughts while shaving: The answer to the increasing need for a water supply in the U.S. is undoubtedly transforming salt water form the sea into fresh water for the household and industrial purposes, but that poses a problem because of prohibitive cost. However, dear Uncle Sam who takes care of everything sooner or later, is now sticking his nose into the matter in California and hopes to come up with a solution that will give everyone a sufficient water supply at a price they can afford. Let's hope so. A linguist tells us that the easiest of all foreign languages for an American to learn is French because there are only about 200,000 words in the whole vocabulary. He also adds that English is the hardest for foreigners because there are about 700,000 words in the English language. Remember Boris Karloff in those horror movies? He told us once in New York that he got a chuckle out of the fact that people believed that he was Russian. Actually he was born in London, England, and his family name was Pratt. That doesn't sound Russian, does it? "Surgery goes back to ancient Egypt, a physician friend told us recently. He says that carvings on a tomb near ancient Memphis depict a surgical operation that took place about 2500 B.C. Wonder if those ancient Egyptians had Medicare or its equivalent? The Rochester (N.Y.) DEMOCRAT & CHRONICLE reported in a story "An estimated 100 persons fled their homes in low-flying sections." And probably broke the sound barrier doing it.

Country Editor speaking: "Neighbors are the people who wish you would shut off your TV or radio and wonder when that noisy party next door will end."

Country Editor speaking:

Obtaining knowledge of reality, learning more about his world, gives man the experience of being in control. And because the successful pursuit of knowledge brought him this pleasurable experience, he is motivated toward seeking more knowledge and its concomitant experience of efficacy. A cycle of intellectual curiosity goes into effect: from curiosity to knowledge to edge to efficacy to curiosity and efficacy, to curiosity to knowledge. On the other hand, if a man's curiosity leads him to pursue knowledge and he is NOT efficacious, the result will be a "painful" psychological experience. He will have a feeling of not being in control. This might then operate to inhibit his curiosity. But until and unless this happens, as long as he experiences efficacy in the pursuit of knowledge, this efficacy will continue to "feed" his curiosity. Certainly one's ability to understand and be successful in the pursuit of knowledge depends upon one's degree of intelligence, one's potential for

Experimental OEO Program to Enlist Negro Gang Leaders in Directing Job Training

WASHINGTON — Unless Congress steps in and stops the bold experiment, militant Negro gang leaders soon will be on the federal payroll as "teachers and instructors" in the anti-poverty program.

Director Sargent Shriver of the Office of Economic Opportunity has flashed the green light for recruiting these teenage militants from the big city ghettos as part of the administration's new anti-riot plan. First of these revolutionary OEO programs is scheduled to get underway later this month in Chicago where Shriver has approved a $927,000 anti-poverty grant to employ leaders and members of the militant Blackstone Rangers and East-side Disciples, two of the Windy City's big South Side Negro gangs.

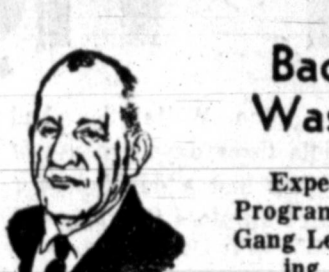

Under plans worked out with the help of the Woodlawn Organization (W.O.), a politically powerful South Side community group, more than 30 of the gang leaders will be hired at salaries ranging from $5,000 to $7,500 a year to handle job training for hundreds of other gang members and Negro youths.

Stated OEO purpose for this experimental recruitment program soon to be duplicated in Washington, D. C., Cleveland, and other large cities, is to determine if these gang leaders can do what others have been unable to accomplish — teach militant Negro youths how to get and keep jobs.

FEDERALIZED GANGS

The Negro gang leaders are being picked for the job, according to OEO officials, because they can control and influence the other militant Negro teenagers. Keeping these gangs together and occupied, OEO authorities believe, will keep them from getting involved in future racial riots.

Without hesitation, Secretary Weaver replied: "I can assure you categorically that no priority will be made on that basis. The present HUD guidelines are still in effect and will not be changed." After the hearing, Senator

WASHINGTON — Unless Congress steps in and stops the bold experiment, militant Negro gang leaders soon will be on the federal payroll as "teachers and instructors" in the anti-poverty program.

Director Sargent Shriver of the Office of Economic Opportunity has flashed the green light for recruiting these teenage militants from the big city ghettos as part of the administration's new anti-riot plan. First of these revolutionary OEO programs is scheduled to get underway later this month in Chicago where Shriver has approved a $927,000 anti-poverty grant to employ leaders and members of the militant Blackstone Rangers and East-side Disciples, two of the Windy City's big South Side Negro gangs.

Under plans worked out with the help of the Woodlawn Organization (W.O.), a politically powerful South Side community group, more than 30 of the gang leaders will be hired at salaries ranging from $5,000 to $7,500 a year to handle job training for hundreds of other gang members and Negro youths.

Stated OEO purpose for this experimental recruitment program soon to be duplicated in Washington, D. C., Cleveland, and other large cities, is to determine if these gang leaders can do what others have been unable to accomplish — teach militant Negro youths how to get and keep jobs.

FEDERALIZED GANGS

The Negro gang leaders are being picked for the job, according to OEO officials, because they can control and influence the other militant Negro teenagers. Keeping these gangs together and occupied, OEO authorities believe, will keep them from getting involved in future racial riots.

Without hesitation, Secretary Weaver replied: "I can assure you categorically that no priority will be made on that basis. The present HUD guidelines are still in effect and will not be changed." After the hearing, Senator

The Doctor Says:

Keep Your Baby Free Of Irritating Rashes

Good care of your baby's tender skin helps to prevent rashes. Mothers often contribute to their baby's skin troubles by putting too many clothes on him, especially in warm weather. In your desire to protect your baby from drafts, don't forget that he needs some circulation of air around his skin. Also a room that is a little cool is better for both his skin and his general metabolism than a room that is too warm.

Don't dress your baby in non-porous clothing with tight elastic bands. During his nap, put a knitted soaker over his diaper rather than rubber pants. This will take up excess moisture and still allow air to reach his skin. If you use a nonporous sheet or mattress cover, always place an absorbent quilted pad beneath this and the baby to soak up excessive moisture.

The chief means of preventing skin problems is to keep your baby's skin clean. If you enjoy giving him his bath he will sense your enjoyment and look forward to it, especially if he has certain toys he can play with only at that time.

Whether you sponge or tub your baby, get everything you will need within easy reach before you start the bath. If, after you have started, you find that you have forgotten something, take the baby with you. It is unsafe to leave him alone in the bath for even a few seconds. Use a cornstarch base bath powder in the folds of your baby's skin after you dry him. This will help to keep the skin dry. It is more absorbent than talcum powder and doesn't form beads in the skin folds. Don't shake the powder on him directly but pour or sprinkle it on your hand then apply it gently so he won't inhale the dust.

Proper laundering of your baby's clothes is important in the prevention of skin irritations. Diapers should be treated with an antiseptic rinse. Never use boric acid for this purpose. The rinse will prevent the formation of ammonia in diapers up to 15 hours after they become soiled. If you use a diaper service, choose one that offers this kind of added protection.

On warm bright days expose your baby to the sun but protect his face and limit the exposure to two minutes on the first day. After that you can increase the exposure but there is nothing to be gained by extending the sun bath to more than 10 or 12 minutes a day.

H. L. Hunt Writes

NEW TYPE OF ELECTORS

The Congressional District Plan for reform of the Electoral College would cause presidential electors to be chosen by people who know them best. They would be citizens of stature instead of nonentities or "straw men."

Under this plan the qualifications and attributes of the nominee for the two electors representing each state and the elector from the district would be well known to the voters of their state and district. Their prominence would enhance the prestige of the candidates for whom they are pledged to vote as well as that of all other candidates and officials of their political party.

Nominees to the electoral college could be expected to campaign for the candidate for whom they are pledged to vote. From their ranks, in the event of his election, would come presidential advisors, Cabinet members, Ambassadors, and other officials for high governmental positions. Former nominees could also be kept in service through the formation of an unofficial committee to study government problems and make recommendations for their solution.

The present electoral system needs to be reformed for many reasons, and one reason is that the Congressional District Plan would draw highly capable men and women as presidential electors. The proposal for direct voting for President would completely eliminate the Electoral College. This plan would weaken the Republic; the Congressional District Plan would strengthen it.

Many of the best informed people in the United States, who deplore the present electoral system, are convinced that a direct vote would take us still further along the road to government centralization.

Wit and Whimsy

One of the things that worries businessmen is the number of unemployed on the payroll.

A rooming house landlord received a phone call from the mother of a college freshman.

Mother — Please keep an eye on Albert for me. See that he gets plenty of sleep and doesn't drink or run around too much. Yoy see, this is the first time he's been away from home—except for two years in the Marines.

A woman driver was arrested for making an "O" turn. She began to make a "U" turn but changed her mind.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The earth contains tremendous reservoirs of heat, with certain "hot spots" occurring near areas of volcanic activity, says The World Almanac. Four countries—Italy, New Zealand, Iceland and the United States—use the earth's natural heat as an energy source to produce electricity.

Fugate Printers Install New Offset Press In Modern Plant

In keeping with their reputation as "Pampa's Progressive Printers", Fugate's this past week installed a large Royal Zenith offset press that will give Pampa business people all the advantages of the large, high-speed lithographing equipment usually found only in the larger cities. This outstanding piece of equipment will produce beautifully printed sheets at speeds up to 8500 sheets per hour—the fastest, newest, most modern printing press in the entire "Top O' Texas" area. Fugate's still additional new equipment which will further enable them to better handle their greatly increasing work load, and produce superior printed products at lower cost to their customer. Fugate Printing has built a reputation as "The Modern Printers" by supplying hundreds of Pampa business firms with carefully designed forms and stationery that do the job. Fugates, while specializing in the printing of business forms, also produce many other printed items: brochures, catalogs, booklets, cards, tags, checks, programs and tickets — almost anything printed on paper or cardboard. Each order is carefully produced to give the customer a crisp, clean, well-printed piece.

Bob Fugate, owner, has been known in Pampa for top quality printing and lithographing since 1951, and on this reputation, has expanded to the present large, modern printing plant at 210 N. Ward St. The highest quality steel die engraving is also available at Fugates. These beautifully engraved wedding invitations, in formal notes and business cards are available in many styles and prices. The more moderately priced "simulated engraving" is also available for these items. Fugates stock a complete line of office supplies which include all the popular brand names. Columnar sheets and pads, post and ring binders, filing folders and guides, expanding wallets, typewriter and pencil carbons, typewriter and adding machine ribbons, mimeograph stencils and ink, duplicator master units and fluid, all kinds of tapes, paper fasteners, stapler and staples, adding machine tape, pencils, ball point pens and refills, and hundreds of other items necessary for the efficient operation of any office.

You will also find in stock a good supply of cut and wrapped papers for mimeographing, duplicating and general typing. Many grades and colors are included, as well as legal ruled paper and second sheets. Fugates keep on hand one of the largest assortments of envelopes styles and sizes in the area. In addition to their printing and lithographing service and office supplies, Fugates offer the best copying service in the area. The "Xerox" method is

ONE OF THE LARGEST SELECTIONS in the Pampa area is often heard after visiting the wide array of campers and pick-up campers at Epperson Camper Sales, 1113 Alcock.

Red Dale Campers Are Leading Popular Lines In Panhandle

Back in the fifties campers were a rarity in the state of Texas, and really were not plentiful any place. Those few units that did filter into this part of our world never failed to arouse a considerable amount of interest. It appeared that both visitors and local residents seemed to sense the practicability of such outfits.

These units were observed by craftsmen, and contractors who were astute business men, and they could foresee a great future in the camper business. They were sure they could build a better camper than those they had first observed.

Then in February of 1958 the firm of Red Dale Coach Company came into being in the city of Longmont, Colorado. First production efforts were conducted in a barn and house located on a small tract of land at the western edge of town. Today there are four large, professional looking buildings.

In 1966 the demand for Red Dale products upped to 70 to 75 units a week. Ever since then, it has continued to soar. The experienced camper, fisherman, or outdoorsman has learned to appreciate the comfort and ease of living the modern day camper has brought to them. They appreciate the convenience of taking their family along to enjoy the great outdoors, visit the mountains, or spend some time on the trails of the majestic Rockies hunting their favorite game.

For us Texans, we find spending the weekend at the lake one easy way to get away from the daily routine, away from the ringing phones, the public, and get lost in the group at the water's edge. . . . But for real pleasure, try a Red Dale Camper. Look over their complete stock of fine craftsmanship. . . . You'll be impressed. See Epperson Camper Sales, 1113 Alcock, or give them a call for an appointment, MO 4-3842.

From 1700 to 1851, homeowners in England had to pay a tax based on the number of windows in their houses.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—William R. White of Hornblower & Weeks, Hemphill, Noyes says firm support of the blue chips in the latest consolidation phase indicates a possible test of the "overhead supply" in the 960-970 zone of the Dow Jones industrial average.

He says a growing number of analysts are predicting all time highs for the closely watched average and that many bears with heavy short positions seem to be "throwing in the sponge." He fees a switch to the cyclical stocks seems more likely than a "scramble to cash in profits."

The Value Line Investment Survey says profits for the chemical industry showed a substantial decline this quarter but it believes a low point may have been reached and that a modest recovery seems likely. The company believes third and fourth quarter income will compare much more favorably with last year's figures.

Hertz, Neumark & Warner recommends a more cautious investment policy to investors and warns against the complacency which is evident in the current market. The company believes there are signs of excesses in the list and points out the disparity between bond and common stock yields still is widening.

DEADLY FLOOD
VALENCE, France (UPI)—Flash floods and heavy rainstorms took a toll of at least five lives Thursday in the valleys of this southern France region. Hundreds of vacationers fled tent camps and trailers to higher ground before flood-swollen creeks and rivers engulfed the camp sites.
