

WARM WEATHER ON WAY

Winter Arrives Early

Winter arrived, officially, at 7:17 a.m. this morning, but Panhandle residents might argue about that.

Most folks thought that winter sneaked in Thursday night when Pampa recorded an overnight low of 17 degrees.

This was still seven degrees higher than the predicted 10 degrees the Weather Bureau said we'd have last night.

Things are looking up for the weekend, however, with the forecast calling for fair and warmer with temperatures to be in the middle 40s Saturday and the overnight low near 30.

Skies in Texas on this first day of winter were clearing over the northern and western sections of the state in the cant. No snow fell in Texas.

Cold waves, tornadoes, heavy rains, snow and sharply contrasting temperatures prevailed during the past three months and they prevail—or threaten to do so—once again today.

Huntsville, Ala., reported tornadoes Thursday night, while hail and heavy rain fell in the vicinity of Birmingham.

The western half of the nation shivered in frigid arctic air as Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio braced for its share of the same today. Other cold wave warnings were up on parts of Nebraska, Kansas and New Mexico.

Quick Temperature Drop
Chicago provided an example on the last day of fall of the quick-changing weather. Windy City residents awakened Thursday to find springlike weather with intermittent rains. At 1 a.m. CST today, the temperatures had dropped from a high of 62 Thursday to 19, and the precipitation had changed to snow flurries.

In Missouri and adjoining parts of Illinois, residents cleaned up from the havoc caused by tornadoes, late Wednesday and early Thursday which killed at least three and injured 35 at Potosi, Mo. Twisters also struck Fort Smith and Edgemont, Ark., injuring eight.

Quillayute, Wash., on the nation's northwest coast, was deluged Thursday by 2 1/2 inches of rain as the precipitation refused to end its hold on the wet northwest.

Rain, Snow Hit
Rain was widespread as fall ended. More than an inch fell in parts of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee, which got the brunt of a system of rain and snow stretching from the Mississippi to the Appalachians and along the East Coast from North Carolina to New England. While the West half of the nation was chilled, the East reigned in Indian summer weather. Buffalo, N.Y., had a midnight reading of 65 for a new record.

In sharp contrast, the nation's low at 2 a.m. at Miles City, Mont., was 23 below.

Next Stop for Johnson May Possibly be Vietnam

DARWIN, Australia (UPI)—President Johnson today stopped here briefly on a journey to a secret destination that appeared to be Southeast Asia and possibly Vietnam.

His silver and blue Air Force One jet paused for a scheduled hour's refueling at this northern coastal town, called Australia's "Gateway to Southeast Asia."

The President had flown from Melbourne, in southeastern Australia, on a course that could take him to U.S. bases in South Vietnam or to American air fields in Thailand.

The President was leaving behind an Australia touched by the respect he showed their lost leader, Harold Holt. In Darwin, his staff still kept his destination a secret.

Thus far, he had flown nearly 2,000 miles from Melbourne, on virtually a straight course to the war zone.

Air Force One had left Melbourne with enough fuel for 5,000 miles. But presidential planes are never allowed to run low on fuel.

The ultimate destination was Washington. The President has promised to be home in the White House for Christmas.

Johnson's flight also could take him to the Philippines. In any case, the White House staff was "not overjoyed" with what they found here.

They had hoped the stopover to go unnoticed. But when Air Force One and two other Boeing 707 jets—one a spare plane for Johnson and the other for the press—landed, several hundred persons had mustered in hopes of seeing the President.

But Johnson remained on Air Force One throughout the stopover. Unused were the string of automobiles that Darwin officials had lined up along the runway for presidential use.

Official silence blanketed his travel plans. But the President was reported anxious to pay a Yuletide visit to his fighting men. And in the Vatican, Roman Catholic Church sources said Pope Paul VI would more than welcome a Johnson visit for talks on their search for peace.

The President visited the giant American coastal base of Cam Ranh Bay in October 1966. Any war zone visit now was expected to take him to a similarly secure South Vietnam base or to the even more safe American Air Force bases in Thailand, from which raids against North Vietnam are launched.

Late Shoppers Hit Homestretch

Pampans today entered the homestretch and last-minute shopping spree before Christmas.

Most Coronado Center and downtown stores will be open until late tonight—some as late as 11 p.m.

Coronado Center merchants will remain open Saturday until 9 p.m. Some downtown stores will close at 6 p.m. Saturday, others will stay open later.

Said one merchant: "The weather last Friday and Saturday hurt us a lot, so we feel we've got to stay open tonight and Saturday night to make up for it."

Gray County courthouse offices closed at noon today and will remain closed until Tuesday morning. City Hall offices shut down at 5 p.m. today for the Christmas holidays and will re-open Tuesday morning. State offices also will close down.

The post office will close at 12 noon Saturday until 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. A skeleton crew will be on duty Saturday, Sunday and Monday to handle box mail.

Acting Postmaster Raymond McPhillips said there will be no residential mail delivery Monday, Christmas Day, but all special Christmas packages will be delivered.

Police and sheriff's departments and the State Highway Patrol will operate through the holidays as usual.

SLIGHT OBSTACLE to the orderly process of government presented itself at a White House bill-signing ceremony in the form of the latest top dog in the presidential kennel, Yuki, who jumped up on the desk just as the President was preparing to sign the meat inspection bill.

18 Hour Ordeal Is Over

GORMAN, Calif. — (UPI) — Seventeen miners entombed deep in a mountain when the roof of a tunnel collapsed, crawled to safety early today from their mile-long prison 125 feet underground.

Rescue workers using shovels, their hands and small drills dug through 80 feet of rubble blocking the south entrance of the tunnel to reach the trapped men late Thursday night.

At 12:25 a.m. today, a diesel engine normally used to haul mining equipment tumbled from the south portal of the Carley V. Porter tunnel into the subterranean air.

In a gondola car behind the miniature engine rode seventeen grimy men who had spent nearly 18 hours trapped underground. The rescued workers seemed relatively untroubled over their long ordeal.

The men had reported for work shortly after midnight Thursday. Their job was to operate a giant digging machine which gouges through the mountain 30 feet a day, leaving a 23 1/2 foot bore behind it.

The tunnel will become part of the state's $2.2 billion water project to bring water from northern California to the southern part of the state.

At 5:30 a.m., the men were nearing the end of their graveyard shift. Suddenly, tons of decomposed granite, rock and muck fell into the tunnel behind them, filling nearly 100 feet of the bore between them and the south entrance.

Ahead of the trapped men lay 10,000 feet of mountain which remained to be dug out to meet

Washkansky's Fight for Life Was More Than Battle to Save One Man

By United Press International

The fight for the life of Louis Washkansky, first person to be given a new heart, was more than a dramatic medical battle to save one man.

All over the world thousands of men and women are dying now, and will continue to die prematurely, unless science perfects the transplantation of human hearts to replace them.

For this army of the doomed the events at Groote Schuur Hospital in Cape Town provided for 18 days a thin ray of hope dimmed early Thursday when the 53-year-old grocer died of what was announced as massive pneumonia.

The last organ that failed was the heart taken from Denise Darvall, 25, an automobile accident victim, and placed in Washkansky's chest after his own ailing heart had been removed in a pioneer operation by Dr. Christian Barnard Dec. 3.

In an international television and radio hookup of surgeons in the United States, Britain, France and South Africa Thursday night, Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz of Maimonides Hospital in New York said the U.S. Public Health Service figures estimated more than 100,000 people a year in the United States alone need new hearts.

This is apparently a conservative figure. Dr. Kantrowitz said the Public Health Service speculated there might be as many as 400,000 new cases a year.

The television and radio hookup Thursday night was arranged by the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) under the title "The Living and the Dead" to examine the medical, moral, legal, religious and emotional aspects of taking an organ from a corpse and using it to prolong life in the living.

Dr. Barnard spoke from Cape Town; Dr. Michael DeBakey and Dr. Kantrowitz from New York; Dr. J. Hamburger, a pioneer in kidney transplantation from Paris and legal experts; clergymen and sociologists from London.

The worldwide praise for Dr. Barnard's skill has all but

Communist Terrorist Attacks Kill 154 Civilians

SOMETHING FOR THE BOYS in Vietnam in Bob Hope's Christmas package is actress Raquel Welch, getting help from local talent during a performance at Da Nang. The movie beauty is the star attraction this year with the comedian's annual troop entertainment tour.

SAIGON (UPI)—A fresh flurry of Communist terrorist attacks killed 154 civilians and damaged a train and a U.S. cargo ship near Saigon, U.S. officials said today.

Retaliating, U.S. troops moved into War Zone D, a Viet Cong stronghold north of the South Vietnamese capital, and occupied portions of it for the first time, military sources reported.

U.S. spokesmen said the 154 civilian deaths resulted from 218 incidents of terrorism throughout the country the past few days. Another 285 civilians were wounded and 625 were kidnapped.

American Freighter Hit
Today guerrilla explosive charges blew a gaping hole in the side of an American freighter and damaged a train outside Saigon, officials said. A lone terrorist tossed a hand grenade inside the city and wounded five GIs in another incident.

In the air, big B52 Stratofortresses returned to the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) today and bombed artillery positions and supply areas along the dividing line between North and South Vietnam, spokesmen reported.

Just south of the DMZ-U.S. Marines launched a new assault by air and landing boats against suspected North Vietnamese positions, they said.

Grenade Strikes GIs
In the 14th terrorist incident in Saigon this week, a man on a bicycle tossed a hand grenade into a group of American GIs waiting for a bus to take them to work from a nearby enlisted men's barracks. Five were wounded, officials reported, bringing to 12 the total number of Americans hurt in terrorist incidents this week.

Five South Vietnamese civilians have been reported killed in the attacks in Saigon, and 25 wounded.

SA Distributes Yule Baskets

The Pampa Salvation Army this forenoon began distribution of Christmas baskets to between 75 and 100 needy families in order that they may enjoy Christmas dinner.

Capt. Jess Duncan, head of the Army unit here, said each basket contained a 5-pound beef roast, pound of coffee, flour, sugar, cereal, cake mix, potatoes, jelly, apples, oranges, miscellaneous canned food, candy, bread and a half-gallon of milk.

At 2 p.m. Saturday in the basement of First Methodist Church, the Army will stage its annual Christmas party for approximately 200 needy children.

Santa Claus will be there and distribute toys, candy and other Christmas goodies.

Captain Duncan said a special entertainment program will be presented. It will include the First Methodist Church bell

Gene Steele Is Transferred to Bay City Plant

Gene Steele, industrial relations manager at the Pampa plant of Celanese Chemical Co., will be transferred Jan. 15 to the Celanese plant at Bay City, Texas, it was learned today.

Steele will be succeeded by Ted Cahill who will come to Pampa from the Celanese Clear Lake plant at Houston. Cahill spent ten months at the Pampa plant—prior to last April when he went to Houston.

Steele's transfer also will bring a vacancy on the Pampa School Board where he has been serving after being appointed last Feb. 10 to fill an unexpired term following the resignation of Joe Reid. Steele's term is scheduled to expire next April. The school board has the option to appoint a successor or leave the post vacant until the April 1968 re-election.

Steele will take over industrial relations manager at the Bay City plant.

There Were Plenty of Offbeat Stories in '67

DALLAS (UPI)—Things like green beer, topless filling station attendants, and talking appliances provided the off-beat news in Texas during 1967.

Dick Tracy got in trouble with the law in West Texas when police arrested him in Monahans on a charge of stealing a portable TV set.

Dallas police got a report on the bandit who fled in an automobile with the bumper sticker "Support Your Local Police."

A young woman named Sandy Sparks won a "Miss Light Bulb" contest in El Paso. A Memphis, a serviceman complained that a UFO chased him. Shamrock held its usual seamy busting St. Patrick's Day observance when everything and everybody turned green for a day. A tavern operator at Falfurrias sold green beer.

Walkie-talkie burglars in Henderson were doing all right until their conversation turned up on a Citizens' Band radio and the owner notified police. In Beaumont, a bandit made a mistake by trying to rob a bank after closing hours.

When he turned to escape, he found the door locked. Then someone sounded the bank alarm, and the employees started closing in on him. He finally got out, then had to cross the city's busiest intersection. Police nailed him three blocks away.

A detective agency watchman ran into bad luck while hunting a prowler in an apartment house attic in Dallas. He fell through the ceiling into an apartment where the startled owner shot him in the leg.

Workmen in Fort Worth had plenty of time on their hands when Texas moved over to Daylight Savings Time. It took them five minutes to change the time on a 77-ton revolving clock on a downtown building.

There also was the Fort Worth man whose air conditioner can opener and clock began talking. Research showed the appliances were picking up radio signals because of freak atmospheric conditions.

It may have been the year of the robbery wisecrack. A food store manager in Dallas told a customer who wanted to buy some cigarettes: "Cool it baby, we are getting robbed."

Dallas liquor store, the owner stuck his hands in the air for a bandit who told him: "Put your hands down, Buddy. You are not on television."

There was the sophisticated burglary from Monahans. He replica of a safe and put it in a store window while they worked on the real thing in the back.

He even flew to some of the cities where he worked.

Then there was the burglar Corpus Christi filling station operator drew a big crowd when he advertised that two topless attendants would wait on his trade. But those who turned Burglars in Sherman left a job out found two three-year-old girls in topless costumes.

Dallas police got a call about a big fight near an expressway, and officers who hurried to the scene reported back that it was

Then there was the Lions Club member who hadn't missed a meeting for 28 years in Dallas. He failed to show up at a meeting when members planned to give him a perfect attendance pin.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a man to love two women at the same time? My husband started driving an unmarried girl to work and back every day because she lives near here and they work at the same place. She is 23 and my husband is 44. He admitted that he has been seeing her other times, and he says now he can't give her up because he is in love with her. This has been going on for about a year.

I told him if he wanted her, I would give him a divorce, but he says he loves me and the children (we have four) and he can't give me up either. I am just heartsick over this and do not know what to do. Should I tell him he's got to make a choice? Or should I just throw him out? I still love him.

HEARTSICK: If this cheap affair with a co-worker can be called "love" then it is possible for a man to "love" as many women as he can find time for. He's having his cake and eating it, too.

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago you had a letter in your column from a married woman who hid her wedding ring under her fingers when she went to work because she felt that wives should not work, and she was ashamed.

You should have told her to take off her gloves and stop living in the dark ages. Statistics show that 67 per cent of all married women work.

I have babysat, cooked and done the marketing, in addition to running my own business.

Also Irked: Being a Methodist minister, your column on what to call the in-laws interested me. In preparing young couples for marriage, I suggest that instead of addressing the mother of one's mate as "mother-in-law," which name has become the butt of so many jokes, they use, "Mother-in-love."

How many young couples before marriage consider carefully that their "in-loves" really give them a bit of a preview of what their mates will be like after 25 years? Sincerely, P. D. S. Empo.

Astrological Forecast
 By CARROLL RIGHTER
 GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until sun down you are certainly able to get a very great deal done that concerns you. It is difficult to do during the busy week. You can make some interesting calls and do some very difficult conditions occur that put some stress on the way you act and courtesy with everyone.
 ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can find no options of importance clearly today, but take care you do not argue with others in P.M. Be very diplomatic with some associates. Do not visit. Do not lose your temper.
 TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Day hours are hard. Do the type of pressure you like, but avoid taking any risks what ever in P.M. If you must visit, do it during the day. Do not visit.
 GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Do what ever will prove to you that you are a most loyal and valuable member of the club during A.M. Adhere to well established ideas. Write for more handsome relatives and friends. Do not visit.
 MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) During the day, do not visit. Evening reports, etc. Take some time for serious reading.
 LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) Financial affairs can be handled very satisfactorily during the day, and you can plan to improve properly also. Do whatever you want, but avoid extravagance in any sphere of your endeavor whatever.
 VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You need to confer with those who are expert in their fields if you want to get ahead faster in the future, whether in business or socially. Find the right outlets for yourself. Take no risks whatever, though.
 LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Ideal Saturday to get out and purchase the right gifts for the right people. Do not visit. Make plans that will help you get the New Year off to a good start. Be clever.
 SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Day you find you with fine friends who will assist you to gain your aims more directly, easily. Do not lose your temper or the evening can be an unhappy one. Be loyal to good friends and be charming with new acquaintances.
 SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to get out and be with powerful persons for whatever is on your mind, but take care you do not visit your good friends in P.M. Be very popular during the day. Avoid sarcastic persons in the evening.
 CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get yourself out of that dull routine and find some interesting new outlet for your fine talents and capabilities. You are able to advance very quickly. Evening could bring disappointments if you are not careful.
 AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Being with loved one or good friends can bring joy during day but tonight you have to be careful of vicious tongues. Use B. Judgement where certain clever situations are concerned. Don't permit some inferior person to make a monkey out of you as it were.
 PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Partners could agree with some plan you place before them during the day, but tonight handle own affairs quietly. Do not let others impose on you. Get into some fine hobby then. Relax.
 IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those charming young people who will, at an early age, want to become a specialist in some field and this is wonderful, since success can come early. Give the right courses of an academic nature, since the later part of life is more quiet and less apt to be productive. Fine religious training good.

drawn out the ethical reservations expressed by surgeons and laymen alike over the implications of the Washkansky case. But every advance in spare part surgery has been accompanied by some such criticism. From the grafting of the cornea in 1905 through transplanting of livers and kidneys, and the use of pig and calf valves for human hearts.

A British poll taken this week showed that while 80 per cent of Britons would donate their organs to be taken after death, little more than half thought the state ought to have the right to take them from corpses without permission. Sir Gerald Nabarro, a Conservative opposition member of the House of Commons, said he was considering a bill authorizing this.

Dying slowly of an incurable heart condition, Washkansky became the best known patient in the world shortly after he agreed to submit to a heart transplant if a donor could be found. Late on Dec. 3, Miss Darvall was fatally injured by a car as she walked in a Cape Town street. Dr. Barnard obtained her father's permission for the transplant and his team of 30 went into action.

Washkansky's heart was removed with the exception of small sections of artery and part of the upper wall. Miss Darvall's heart was placed in his chest and the long task of suturing began. Five hours later, Dr. Barnard looked up and said: "it's going to work."

Army to Redeploy NATO Troops In State by May

AUSTIN (UPI) — Several thousand men in 15 units now with NATO forces will be redeployed in Texas next spring and summer, the Army Department announced Thursday through Sen. Ralph Yarborough's Austin office.

Yarborough said the forces are now in Europe and will begin returning to the U.S. in April. The announcement said they would be kept in a high degree of readiness with much of the equipment remaining in Germany so they could return there and be in top readiness quickly.

The units and their Texas locations:

- Ft. Hood — 524th Engineering Co. (topographic), 36th Medical Battalion, headquarters and headquarters detachment, 664th Ordnance Co. (ammunition); Co. D, 1st Signal Battalion (combat area); Co. D, 16th Signal Battalion (combat area); Co. D, 26th Signal Battalion (combat area); Co. D, 93rd Signal Battalion (combat area); Co. D, 440th Signal Battalion (combat area); 96th Transportation Co. (heavy trucks); and 552nd Signal Co. (operations).
- Ft. Bliss — 6th Battalion (Hawk); 61st Artillery (AD); and 171st Ordnance Platoon (guided missile).
- Ft. Sam Houston — 485th Preventive Medicine Unit.
- Bergstrom Air Force Base — 341 ST Tactical Control Group.

The Army Department said the redeployments are for an indefinite period.

Shape of Future Is Discussed At Lions Club Meet

Larry Milner of Amarillo, industrial representative for Southwestern Public Service Co., spoke to the Downtown Lions Club yesterday on "The Shape of the Future."

Milner stressed the importance of competing with other communities for new industry in order to maintain rate of growth.

CONFISCATE WEAPONS HONG KONG (UPI)

Police said today they found an arms cache in a hillside hideout believed to be used by Communist terrorists in the New Territories District. Authorities confiscated three bombs, fuses, detonators and rifle ammunition.

Suppress Immune Reaction

Washkansky was given drugs to suppress the so-called immune reaction—this is an attempt by the lymphocytes or police cells of the body to reject alien material. But the lymphocytes are also the body's protection against infection and in trying to keep them inactive, Dr. Barnard was taking a calculated risk.

Miners

Their prison for 17 hours was a mile-long, 20-foot-wide shaft. While rescuers worked frantically outside to reach the victims, the men lived relatively comfortably inside the cavern.

The temperature was a constant 60 degrees compared to subfreezing temperatures outside. Food, cigarettes and fresh air were supplied through two pipelines.

Communications were maintained by shouting through the pipes.

"They're in great spirits," said one engineer. "All they can talk about is how much overtime they're going to get out of this venture."

"Lloyd Borud, walking boss, was one of those trapped. Asked what they did to keep their spirits up, he said, "We were mostly telling dirty jokes. I never heard so many in my life."

In Houston. In April 1966 Dr. DeBakey used an early form of mechanical heart in an operation on a miner. The patient lived nearly five days. Some scientists believe an effective mechanical heart might be developed in five years, given sufficient money and researchers.

Surgeon D. Dencer wrote in "The Times" that a considerable number of surgeons viewed the operation with suspicion.

Remember There is No Economical Substitute for Quality

Washkansky died for two reasons, according to Dr. Barnard's comments on the BBC program: first, he was a diabetic and thus more liable to infection than normal people. Second, the suppressive drugs removed the protection-against-infection—this pneumonia.

"We are disappointed but not discouraged," Dr. Barnard said. And then, slowly and emphatically, he put into eight words the historic result of his operation:

"We have learned the heart can be transplanted."

This is by far the most important lesson of the case. And on the program both Dr. Kantrowitz and Dr. DeBakey said they would try transplants as soon as they could find suitable donors. Other teams in the United States and England will also make the effort now that Dr. Barnard has shown the way.

Dr. Kantrowitz attempted the second heart transplant in history only three days after Washkansky's operation but his patient, a baby, died seven hours later.

Dr. DeBakey expressed the hope some way might be found of preserving hearts so a "heart bank"—similar to the long-established "eye banks"—could be set up.

Try Mechanical Heart "We can't keep up with the supply and demand," he said, "and I think a mechanical heart is the solution."

Circuit Minister Of Jehovah's Witnesses To Finish Visit Here

Gerald D. Grizzle, circuit minister of Jehovah's Witnesses and visitor with the Pampa congregation, will conclude his visit Sunday evening at Kingdom Hall, 944 S. Dwight.

Interested ones are invited to share with the congregation Saturday evening at 8 p.m., as Mr. Grizzle presents "New Things Learned" from Bible study, presiding minister Charles Regal said.

A public meeting on the subject "Science, The Bible And Your Faith" will be delivered by Mr. Grizzle at 9:30 a.m. Sunday. Following the regular Watchtower study, which begins at 10:30 a.m., a concluding 30 minutes will be used by Mrs. Grizzle to comment on the congregation's activity. A final afternoon of door-to-door missionary activity is slated Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Grizzle and his wife will be moving Monday to begin a week with the congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses in Borger.

Religion in America

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International
Recent achievements by Stanford University researchers indicate that science eventually may be able to create life in the laboratory.

What will this do to faith in God? Some may find their belief in God shaken by artificial synthesis of living molecules. If so, their basic difficulty is a totally inadequate concept of God. Without realizing it, perhaps, they have put their faith in what theologians call "the God of the gaps." God is the hypothesis called in to fill the gaps in man's knowledge—to explain what men otherwise cannot explain. But a mature concept of God finds no threat in any advance of scientific knowledge. For it views God—in perfect fidelity to principle at work in all operations of nature and in all human achievements.

In this view, God is not a celestial magician who pulls off certain mystifying feats (such as creation of life) which man can't quite manage.

He is the author and director of the whole show, the source of being whose creative will is no less present in a laboratory test-tube than in the everyday "miracle" of ordinary conception.

If God implements his creative will through natural agents in the first instance, why should it occasion any surprise for Him to do so in the second?

First Baptist Will Hear Pastor For Sunday Services

The First Baptist Church will hear the pastor, Rev. Dan E. Cameron, preach for both services of worship Sunday. At the 11 a.m. worship his topic is "And Glory Came Down" with a text taken from John 1-14.

Hoyle Phillips will direct the congregational singing and present the special music which will be a college quartet composed of Dianne Phillips, Donna Plynt, Terry Trice, and Terry Scoggin, and a solo "O Holy Night" sung by Terry Scoggin.

Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "The Westminster Carol" by Wilson for the offertory.

The evening worship will be at 8 p.m. under the direction of the pastor. The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed. Miss Dianne Phillips will be the organist for the service and will play appropriate music during the services.

First Presbyterian To Have Christmas Eve Special Services

The First Presbyterian Church will celebrate Christmas Eve with four services this Sunday. The Rev. Martin Hager, pastor, will preach on the topic "The Peace of God" with his text taken from the book of Philipians at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship hours.

Ruling Elder David Tucker will serve as the pulpit assistant at the morning services. At 11 a.m. hour the Chancel Choir will present the anthem, "Gesu Bambino" by Pietro A. Yon, with Mrs. George Budd as the Soloist. Miss Harriet Henderson, who is home from college, will accompany them at the organ.

At the 7:30 p.m. service, the Children's Choir will present a special program. At 11:30 p.m. the Church will have its annual Candlelight Service. Guest soloist Celeste Duncan will present the special music.

Rotarians Hear A Cappella Choir

Pampa High School's A Cappella Choir provided the program at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Under the direction of Bill Davis, the group sang a variety of selections including "pop" and negro spirituals as well as Christmas carols.

Prior to the program, choir members were luncheon guests of the Rotary Club.

STUDENTS RALLY PARIS (UPI)— Several hundred demonstrators, mostly students, held a rally in Paris Wednesday to celebrate the anniversary of the creation of South Vietnam's National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

In 1947, the Northeast was blanketed by a snowfall of almost 26 inches, the heaviest experienced in New York City since the blizzard of 1888.

CHRISTMAS: WHOSE BIRTHDAY?

In the hurry which comes with the season of Christmas, so many are forgetting the person whose birthday is to be celebrated, and the gifts which would please Him most on his birthday.

It is not wrong at Christmas to make your loved ones happy, nor is it evil to be with those dearest to you. But it is very wrong to leave Him out of consideration and give him only the left-overs of your life, which usually is not very much.

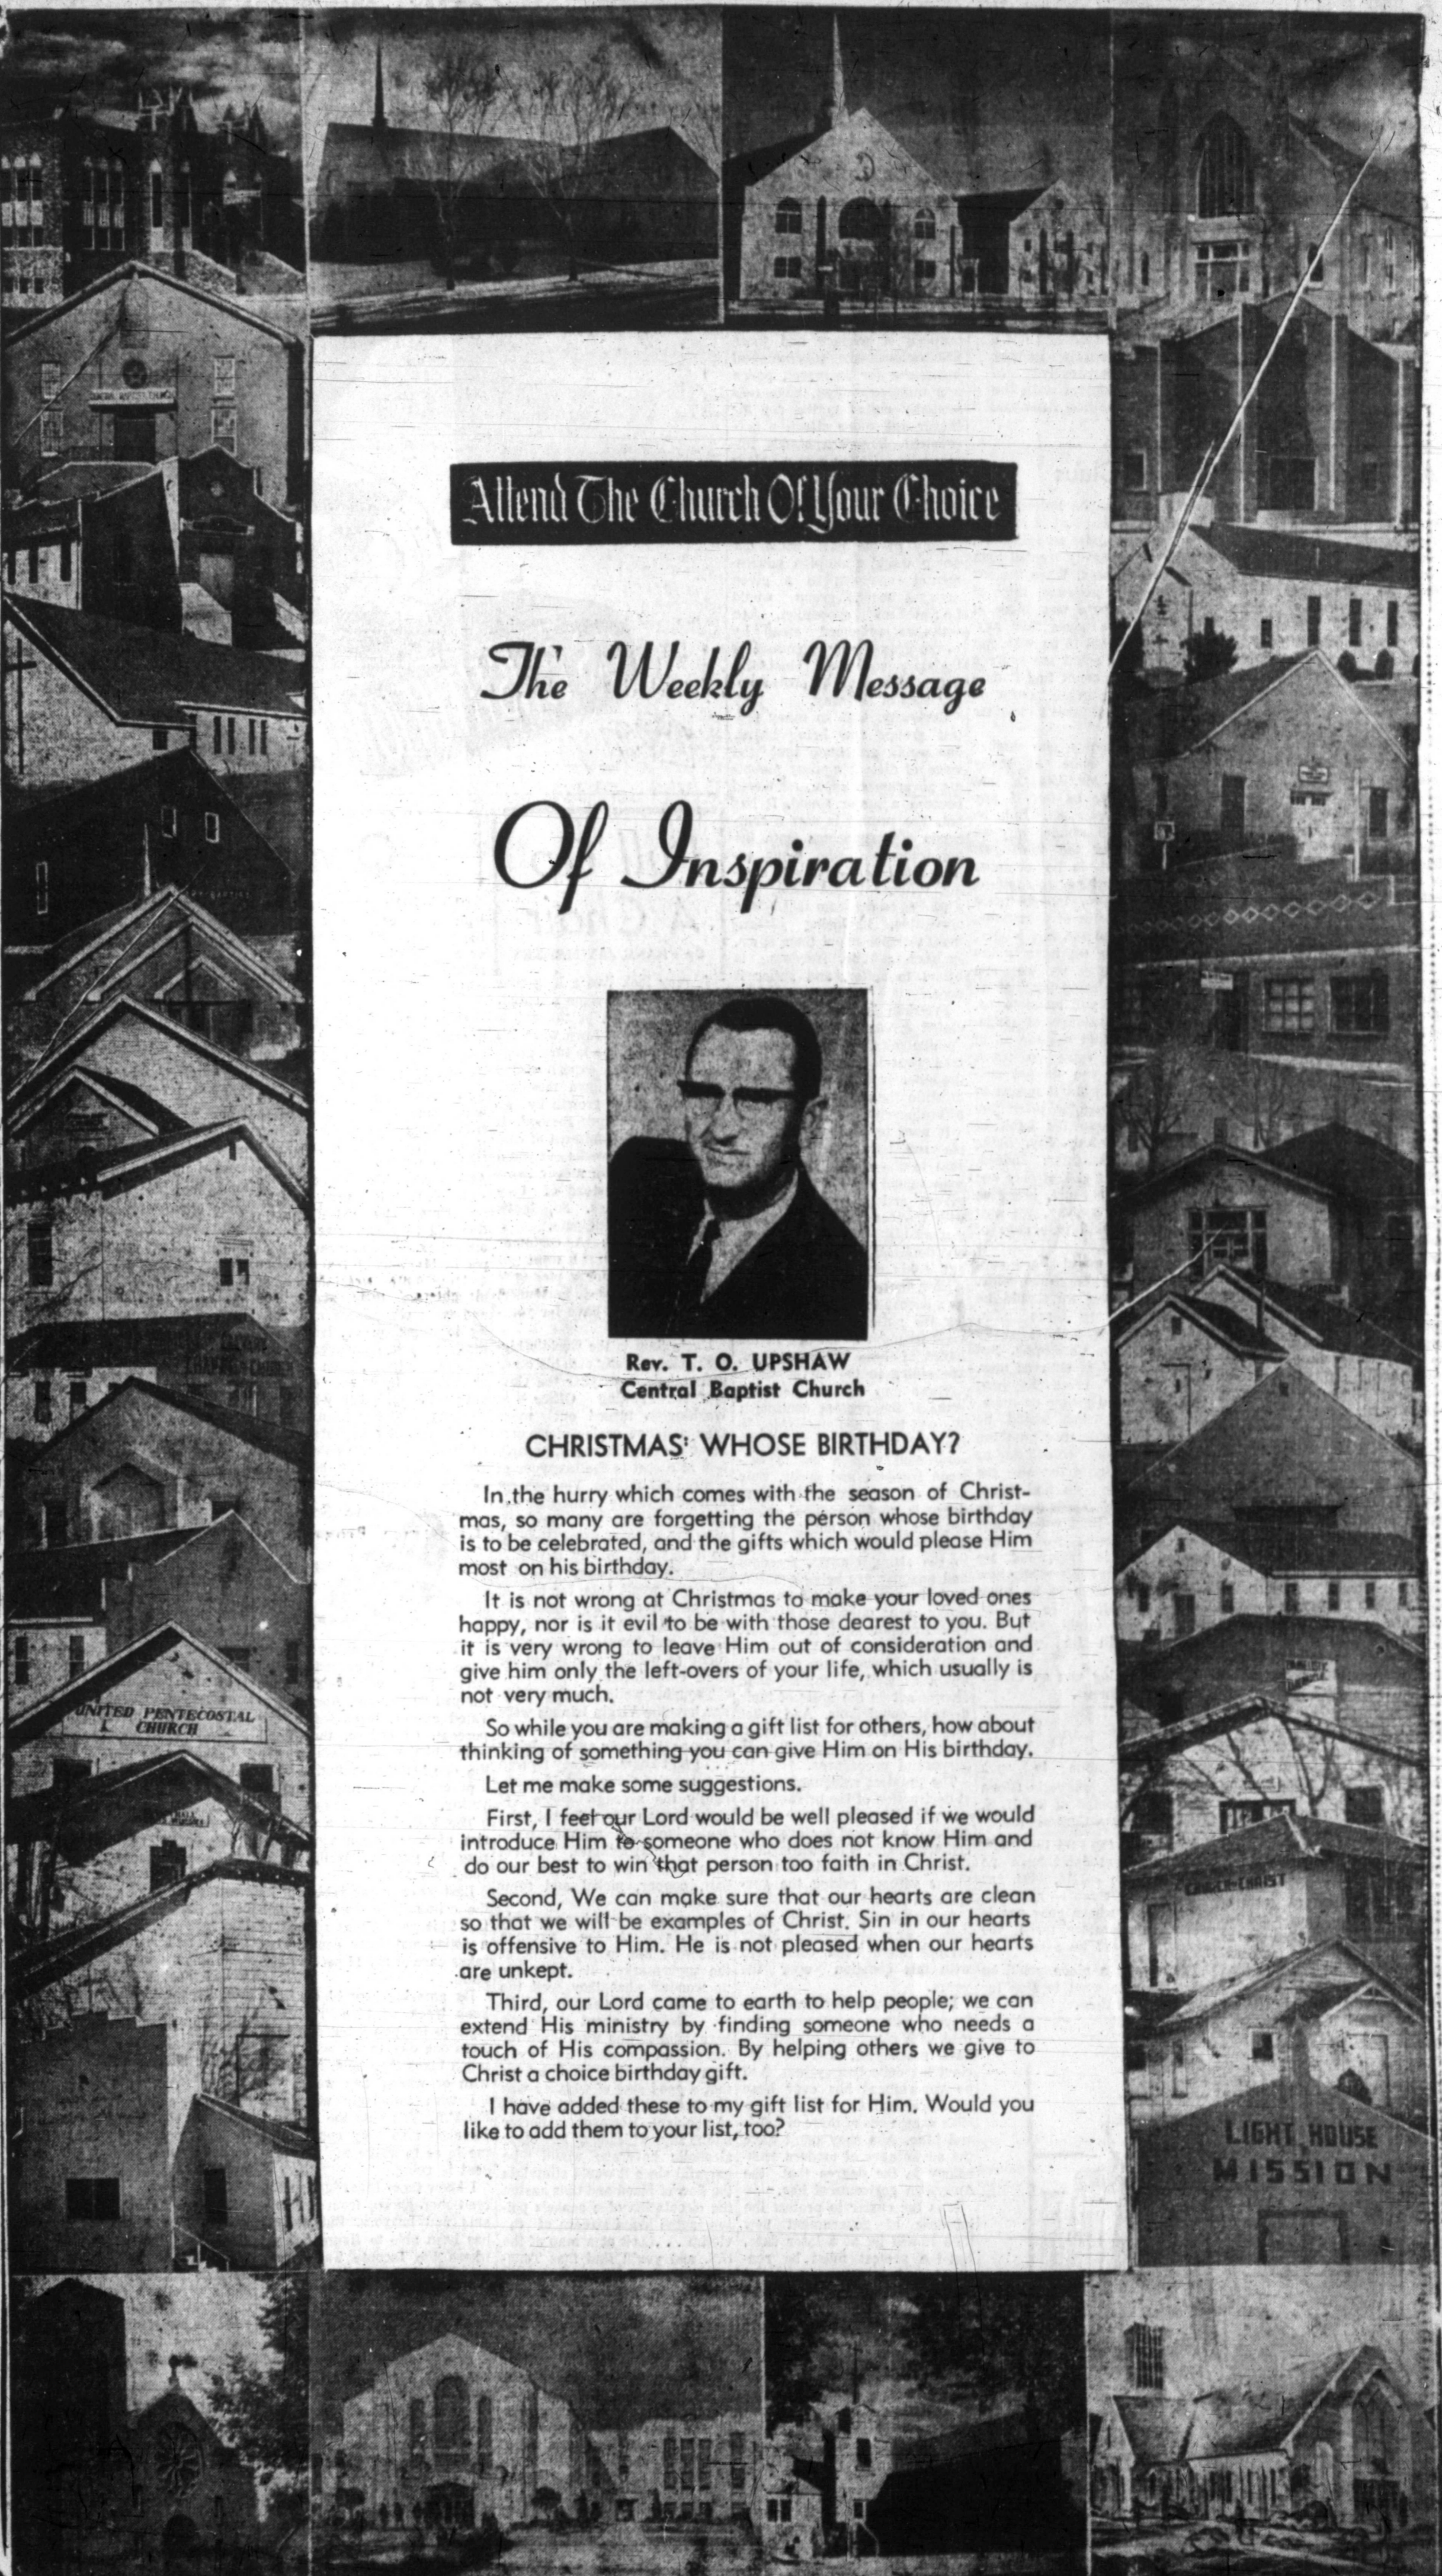

So while you are making a gift list for others, how about thinking of something you can give Him on His birthday. Let me make some suggestions.

First, I feel our Lord would be well pleased if we would introduce Him to someone who does not know Him and do our best to win that person too faith in Christ.

Second, We can make sure that our hearts are clean so that we will be examples of Christ. Sin in our hearts is offensive to Him. He is not pleased when our hearts are unkept.

Third, our Lord came to earth to help people; we can extend His ministry by finding someone who needs a touch of His compassion. By helping others we give to Christ a choice birthday gift.

I have added these to my gift list for Him. Would you like to add them to your list, too?

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

An Open Letter to Santa Claus

No doubt you have read some of the letters to Santa Claus, published in the last couple of weeks in the Pampa News. We would like to reproduce an open letter to Santa written by Ben Hur Lampman, a Boise, Idaho, newspaperman, who died a decade ago. We think it is so timely, it could have been written last night. Here is Mr. Lampman's letter as it appeared in the Boise Cascadian:

Dear Mr. Claus:
We are writing you these few words to wish that you are well, and to let you know what everybody would like for Christmas. Just in case you have not heard from these parts recently, old friend, we will say that there is a need for something different this year. You may bring a striped necktie to Uncle Ed if you choose to, and a box of those funny cigars to father, and the usual pine-cushion to mother, and such toys as you think best for the children. But this is to inform you that everybody wants something else besides. And because you are the spirit of Christmas, and the patron saint of human brotherhood, we venture to send you the list.

First of all, Mr. Claus you might bring us again the same contentment we used to have, although we didn't know what it was at the time. It needn't be fancy. Something practical, and warm, without any trimmings, for everyday use. We would promise this time, saint of Christmas, to take good care of it—far better care than we gave it before, and we wouldn't forget to be thankful. You've no idea, we suppose, how extraordinarily difficult it is to get along without a supply of contentment, once you've become accustomed to having it around. And that would be one thing we want.

And, Mr. Claus if you can spare it out of your supply, which is said to be vast as mountains, bring us something of courage. Of late we have found ourselves becoming more and more afraid, and since the only remedy for fear is courage we are asking you please to make a note of this. If one of us takes cold, saint of Christmas, a spoonful of goose-grease is said to be good for that all-ment, and maybe liniment and flannel, but that sort of malady, as you will know on reflection, is far more easily treated than are some others. When we had little use for courage, saint of Christmas, there was more of it around the house than anybody knew what to do with, but now that we could use quite a quantity we cannot find it anywhere. Put courage down on your list, and that's another thing.

We have known one another such a long while, so many Christmases, Mr. Claus, that there ought to be few if any secrets between us. But no doubt you will wonder why we should ask for the third gift since it used to be common enough everywhere, so common that nobody ever thought twice of it. Well, saint of Christmas, it isn't so common any longer, or that which we have is the wrong kind, and so we are asking you to bring laughter as the third gift you bring to us. Bring an abundance of laughter. We can find use for all of it. You who have so much of your own you do not realize, perhaps, what it means to do without laughter after you have fallen into the habit of using some every day. Bring us plenty of laughter. Indeed, if you should feel that only one gift may be brought, bring us this one. In a way, we now believe, it would take care of the others.

We never would have supposed a few years ago, Mr. Claus, that ever we should be asking for these three gifts, when you are making ready your packs for Christmas. But that is how it is with us now. You couldn't bring anything else that would please us more, nor anything that would be more serviceable, nor anything else that would constitute as these would—gifts for all the family. When we had them, dear saint of Christmas, we held them in light esteem and we gave them, some hard knocks, that is true, but we really see things differently now—and we promise to be more careful hereafter. We are all well, as you might say, and hope this will find you the same.

Will be seeing you on Christmas. Don't forget.

Those Zero Years

There's a fascination about numbers with nice round numbers. Take the year 1000, for example, which most of Christendom was quite certain would bring the end of the world. Or 1776, to name a few—have you ever noticed where your car is when the odometer turns the thousand mark? he asks. It's usually a place you'd be least likely to want to stop for any length of time.

much significance to such round numbers, suggests Glenn Seaborg, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission. Aside from the fact that most great historical dates have no zeros in them—1215, 1492, or 1776, to name a few—have you ever noticed where your car is when the odometer turns the thousand mark? he asks. It's usually a place you'd be least likely to want to stop for any length of time.

WHO SPEAKS FOR FREEDOM?

The two political forces in the U.S., normally referred to as the "left" and "right," have inadvertently joined hands. Inevitably, those who favor more governmental incursions for the purpose of welfare and those who favor more governmental incursions for increased police and military action, have now virtually united in the cry for bigger and more effective government. Freedom stands imperiled as it has never before been imperiled in the land.

Freedom has always been a condition that is endangered by the intrusion of the state. But usually in the past, while one group would champion governmental expansion in a given area, a second group would form an opposition. And while we advanced steadily in the growth and magnitude of the state, we did so reluctantly with voices raised in protest every step of the way.

Curiously, with so many protest groups now being heard, one would anticipate that the voice of dissent against mounting government expansion would become a major sound. It has not. The protest is now a crescendo of verbalizations from the non-productive, who want enlarged handouts and will commit violence to get them; and a wail of terror from the former opposition, imploring government violence to put them down. In such a time, freedom is bound to suffer, and suffer it does.

Freedom is now being associated in vast sections of the "public mind" as the license to take what is unearned and, on the other hand, the use of force to stifle the dissenters and the ne'er-do-wells. It is used to be that most people viewed freedom in relationship to the rightful control of a man should have over his own person and property, together with the concept that he was responsible for his own actions and decisions and must pay the bill for his decisions, go wrong. Now, those who view freedom as a license to steal are corrupting the nation. And those who view freedom as an evil in the hands of those who misuse it, are aiding in the corruption.

There can only be one outcome if the present continues: We will have a dictatorship. In the past, when people have been confronted with a choice between freedom and order, they have chosen order. Freedom does, in fact, produce order; but this truth is not generally accepted today. Today, thanks to the rising clamor, freedom and anarchy are being equated. And those who don't want anarchy are quickly convinced that freedom is their greatest enemy. It is not so.

But, as things are going, it might as well be so; for men always act on the basis of their deepest convictions. And what they believe to be true stimulates their decisions and their purposeful procedures. The greatest safeguard against destruction of the private property, self-responsibility processes we enjoyed for over two centuries here, is the willingness of people to solve their own problems without asking the government for solutions. And what will we do for freedom under a dictatorship? Many persons have been confronted with this question over the years.

People have never been confronted with a government armed with electronic computers, data processing, and an efficient tax collection system. And no government has ever been so all-pervading, with the possible exceptions of those of Lenin and Mao. And they don't have the advantages of modern technology to the degree that the American government has. It is far easier to protest the increase of government now than it will be at a later date. But the protest must be reasoned and intelligent; not a wild cry for more handouts, or greater employment of force.

It may look like a long time until Spring but some scientists are giving a lot of thought to the care of your lawn when it's time for the grass to turn green again. They're experimenting with chemical "lawn mowers" to control grass growth by an easier and cheaper method. If their chemical treatment of conventional lawns works out you'll only use that lawn mower twice next summer instead of the average 30 times. So, that's something to anticipate.

Today's smile: A customer told a bartender: "I want a good stiff drink for a pick-up." "Okay," said the bartender, "and what'll you have for yourself?" Uncle Sam is the world's biggest spender, along with his other distinctions. Last year the Government Printing Office at Washington turned out more than a billion copies of government documents, books, pamphlets at a cost to the taxpayer of a mere $17 million. You can get almost anything printed by the GPO by writing your Congressman. If it costs more than $2 he'll tell you to buy it, but if you write him again and tell him you won't vote for him at the next election he'll send it to you pronto. All members of the House and Senate get an allotment of published material for their constituents.

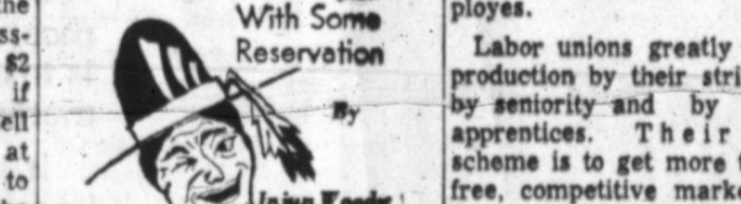

Thoughts while shaving: Wonder how the Virgin Islands were named after male saints—St. Thomas, St. Croix and St. John? ... Don't know how they figured it out, but a dietitian told us recently the average piece of steak contains 20 different minerals including sodium, phosphorus, magnesium, zinc, silver, lead, silicon, iron, cobalt, copper, nickel and some others. The only one missing was gold which is what the average housewife has to pay for it at the supermarket. It also made us wonder what they feed the cattle in those western states. ... Reading about a Florida herpetologist who was bitten for the 100th time by a venomous snake reminded us that a good shot of whiskey was the best antidote for that kind of accident. However, a doctor friend says whiskey or any other alcoholic beverage would be harmful since it would stimulate the flow of blood and thus hasten the circulation of a snake's poison in the blood stream of the victim. ... Look at a map of the U.S. and you'll find that Tennessee and Missouri are each bounded by eight other states. Look again and you'll discover that the southwest corner of Colorado is the only place in the country where four states join: The fastest game in the world is not Hockey as many believe. It's Jai Alai, which is very popular in South America and Florida. The ball used has been clocked at speeds of 150 mph. In our opinion the roughest of all games isn't boxing or pro football, but Lacrosse. ... The Goose Step is always associated with the German Army

Question Box

QUESTION: Should a man with a large family receive more wages than a single man or a married man without any children? If so, why? If not, why?

ANSWER: Both of the last questions are answered in one; you can't answer one without answering the other.

In the first place, we must understand where wages come from. They come from production. Everything man has must first be produced by someone. At any given time there is only so much that has been produced by all men. The total of production will vary at different times according to the number of people in the world, the amount and quality of tools they have to increase their production, and their willingness and ability to work productively. If many men are engaged in destructive activity, such as wars or rioting, they not only are not producing, but they are destroying what has been produced. If a great many are engaged in non-productive activity, such as bureaucratic, scholastic

I see where bank robberies have jumped 60 percent and nerve-pill deliveries have jumped 90 percent. Also aggravated assault increased by 9 percent. Of course, that don't sound like much unless you're the one being assaulted—then 9 percent can be mighty aggravating. The F.B. Yi says a citizen's risk of becoming a victim has rose 14 percent. Well, I can vouch for that. Last year I was robbed by the criminal element of a dollar. This year I was robbed of a dollar and forty cents. That takes care of my 14 percent statistic.

It's amazing how they can keep track of the robberies right to the penny but can't tell from one day to the next how much taxes they have made off with or where they went. I wish somebody would sic the F.B. Yi's onto the Internal Revenue so they could clue me in as to where my 20 percent is going. I know them Investigation Bureau men spring from accountants and lawyers. But nobody has been able to figure out yet where the Income Tax men spring from. ... and Hitler, but it had its beginnings in England where it was introduced in the 18th century. It proved unpopular there and was later adopted for the Germans by Frederick the Great. The Minneapolis (Minn.) TRIBUNE reported in a story: "She was expecting her third child in four months." What kind of pill was she taking? "You're really getting along 1 years if the phone rings when you're home at night and you hope it's not for you."

Schools and newspapers are the main sources of information for most people, and when they do not treat a subject fully, the people are mis-informed and easily misled. So a man should not be paid wages more than what he produces for any reason. To protect a man by paying him more than he produces, at the expense of others denies both of the right of life, which is the right to make decisions and to learn from their mistakes and prosper from their wise decisions. HUNT FOR TRUTH

By H. L. HUNT

WORTH DYING FOR Many events in recent years have shown that life under communism is very nearly intolerable and that people who are forced to live under this tyrannical system seek to escape it whenever possible.

Americans have come almost to take the Berlin Wall for granted, but they should not forget that it was first erected because countless numbers of Germans were leaving East Germany for the freedom of the West. Since the wall was built, many courageous East Germans have risked everything they had, including their lives, to escape to West Germany.

In 1964, over one million Vietnamese rejected communism for freedom. That was the number of people from North Vietnam who chose to come to South Vietnam, although it meant that they had to leave behind everything they owned and came only with what they could carry. Almost no one chose to leave the South for the North, to leave freedom for communism.

Every day Cubans are leaving Castro's communist-controlled land to come to the United States. United States "freedom flights" bring about 3,800 Cubans to the U. S. every month. More than 75,000 Cuban refugees have been flown into Miami in the past twenty-one months, and the Cuban Refugee Center in Miami estimates that about 13 million more Cubans want to leave.

Members of far-left groups in this country praise life under communism and attack life in the United States and other nations of the West. But those who have actually lived under communism know the truth. Their actions show that freedom is well worth dying for.

Cannel At Bay By Ward Cannel

Joyeux Noel (Second Notice) The other week, as regular readers may recall, we reported on the decline of the Spirit of Christmas Giving, which has become largely a relentless and automated search for the unusual, unlikely and unnecessary present.

At that time, we asked investors in this Xmarket to please cross us off their lists. Our plan for the modern giving and receiving season was to hibernate. As we pointed out, the gift without the giver is bear.

The Almanac

Today is Friday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of 1967 with nine to follow. The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1869, American poet Edwin Arlington Robinson was born. In 1894, Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, an officer of the French general staff, was found guilty of treason. He was vindicated and released in 1906. In 1965, the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments ordered a 30-hour truce on the Christmas holidays in the war with the Communists. The Viet Cong also declared a truce period.

A thought for the day—St. Matthew wrote in the new testament, "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of ed."

Garbage Men. (Second Notice.) "That's a pretty old joke," we said affably. "Yeah," the garbage man said, replacing the empty pail on the sidewalk carefully and quietly.

"It was on the Johnny Carson show last year," he said. "Yeah," he said, replacing the garbage pail cover with an unnecessary display of strength and noise.

Naturally we have a handsome plan for countering all of these hearty Christmas greetings. And the best part is where we Christmas wrap the garbage before putting it in the pail.

Suffice it to say that we will probably not put that plan into operation this year. Maybe next. Or the year after.

It all depends on whether we have enough energy left after campaigning against communism, imperialism and territorial expansionism.

Priest Knows Power of St. Cabrini

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Each time the Rev. Peter Smith of the Roman Catholic Diocese in Edinburg, Tex., opens his eyes to a new day, he knows the power of St. Frances Xavier Cabrini.

It is because of her that Father Smith will be in Seattle's St. James Cathedral Friday as a concelebrant in a solemn pontifical mass on the 50th anniversary of the little nun's death. Born in Italy, Mother Cabrini's religious and social work took her to Seattle in 1904. She died in Chicago in 1917. In 1946 she became the first American to be canonized a saint, largely because of two incidents of miraculous healing.

One of the incidents was the restoration of Father Smith's eyesight a few days after his birth at Columbus Hospital in New York City.

Tells of Incident

The doctor who delivered the infant Smith gave an account of the incident to E. J. Mitchell, church editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, when the two were in Rome for the July 7, 1946, ceremony in which Mother Cabrini was elevated to sainthood.

"I was not the family doctor," said Dr. Paul W. Casson, "but I was called in because there was an emergency and I was a resident physician. I delivered the child. A nurse accidentally placed a 50 per cent solution of silver nitrate in the child's eyes, destroying the sight. Two eye specialists examined the infant and said only a miracle could restore his sight."

"Mother Charles, financial secretary of Columbus Hospital, applied a relic of Mother Cabrini on the boy's eyes, and sisters prayed in the chapel all night for spiritual intercession by Mother Cabrini."

Develops Other Ailments

"The child developed lobar pneumonia with a fever of 109," Dr. Casson said. "Twelve hours later the Smith's family doctor, the eye specialist and I were amazed to find the corners of the child's eyes restored to normal, the pneumonia gone and the child's temperature normal. The child was completely normal from then on."

The other miracle accredited to Mother Cabrini was the healing of Mother Delfina Grazioli, who was cured of stomach cancer in 1925 when she was on the staff of Seattle's Columbus Hospital, founded by Mother Cabrini and recently renamed in her honor.

Mother Delfina lay near death when, according to one account, Mother Cabrini appeared in a vision.

"I want you to go to work," the saint said.

"How can I, mother," the stricken nun replied.

Mother Delfina then began to eat, regained her health and resumed her work. She died here Nov. 23 this year at the age of 77.

High School Teen News

By DAVID WEBSTER

With the Christmas holidays here at last, Pampa teens are beginning to catch up on a much-needed period of rest after wrestling with those term papers.

Mike Sublett, senior, has the right idea about the holidays. When asked what he was doing this Yule season he replied, "I'm certainly not going to open a book."

The sophomore play, "Cinderella of Lowerland," climaxed last week after two months of rehearsals. Directed by Jan Pitts and Vicki Martin, seniors, the play was cast from members of the Sophomore Class. The play is the sophomores' main money-making project each year.

Jennifer Cunningham, head cheerleader and local sweetheart of the Future Farmers of America, was chosen Top O' Texas District Sweetheart of the FFA last Monday in Perryton. Jennifer is a member of Student Council and is All School Favorite and Pin-up. She will compete for area FFA Sweetheart in Lubbock next May.

Plans are being made for the annual Career Clinic next February. This year's principal speaker will be Mrs. M. G. Ware, Mrs. Ware is from Ft. Worth, where she has a family and is a noted speaker. Her philosophy of life is, "Happiness as a way of traveling—not a destination."

Mrs. D. E. Harstrom, history teacher, has announced the organization of a Pampa High School Historical Society. To become a member a student must be either a junior or a senior with an 85 grade average. The club will be strictly educational. Most of its work will be in archeology.

Key Club is making plans for its annual Leadership Banquet. Each year the club holds the banquet in honor of its Adult Leader of the Year. Kevin Francis, senior, is in charge of the banquet and will serve as emcee.

"On to State in '68" is the motto around PHS. The Harvesters are well on their way in that direction, standing 4-0 in conference play. School spirit is at an all time high. The student body has been turning out in full capacity to boost the round ballers on to state. As Beau Bond, post man for the Cagers stated, "It's nice to know you're loved."

HONOR SYSTEM FAILS

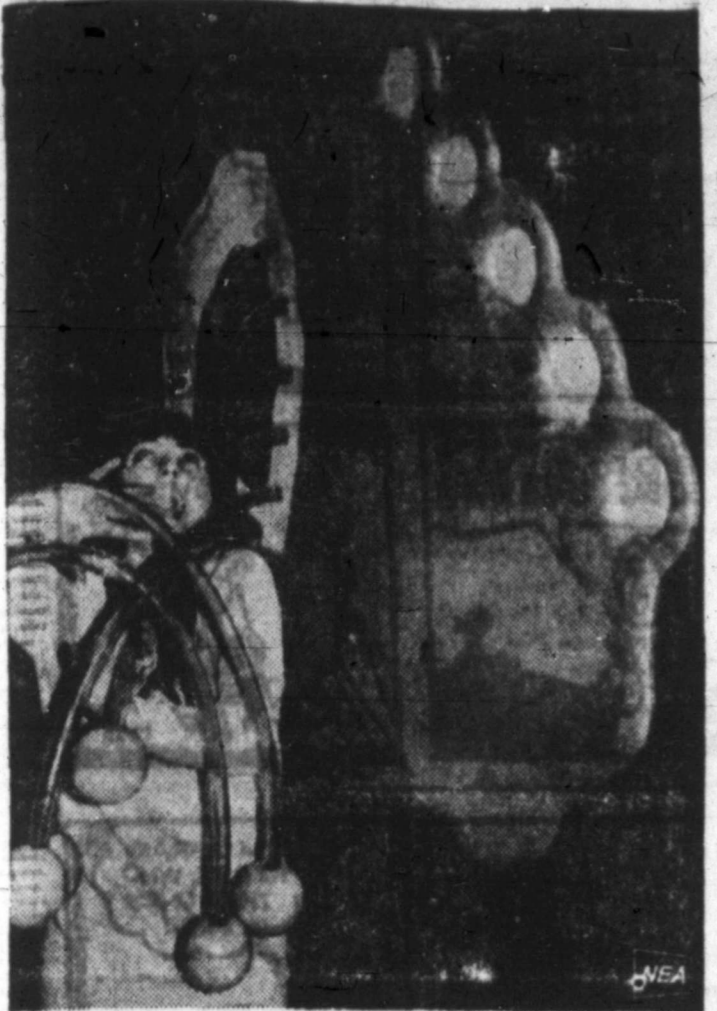

TOKYO (UPI)—The Tax Department announced today it would institute a withholding system for B-girls, junking the honor system used in the past. The government said only 10,600 of 16,000 hostesses filed forms this year and of these tax was collected from only 3,000 because the rest declared incomes below the taxable level.

CHILD GENIUS

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI)—Svante Johanson, 12, regarded as the most brilliant high school student in Sweden, was given permission to enter the University of Goteborg, the university said today. Most students graduate at 19 but Svante already has a mathematics degree and he has not graduated from high school.

PLANES COLLIDE

AMORI, Japan (UPI)—A U.S. Air Force F4C jet piloted by Col. Vernon J. Henderson on an instrument approach to a base collided with a Japanese L19 Friday. The American plane landed with minor damage at Misawa Air Base but the Japanese plane crashed, killing its pilot, Sachio Masuda, 24, U. S. spokesmen said.

Christmas we each want a gun set, a red truck and a farm tractor. We've been good little boys and help Mommie clean house. We love you, Terry and Larry Blevins, 723 S. Ballard.

Dear Santa, My name is Willetta Morris. I live at 723 S. Ballard. For Christmas I want a baby doll, some dishes, and a pair of go-go boots. I've been a good girl. I will leave you some goodies under the tree. I love you, Willetta Morris, 723 S. Ballard.

Dear Santa, My name is Melody Morris. I live at 723 S. Ballard. For Christmas I want a Baby Doll, a push and pull toy and a pair of go-go boots. I have been a pretty good little girl, except when I drink all of Mommie's coffee. I am 21 months old. I love you, Melody Morris, 723 S. Ballard.

Dear Santa, My name is Shaplin Ray Groves. I am 3 years old. I live at 218 Eham St. For Christmas I want a double barrel shot gun, a gun set, and a truck set. Santa Claus could you tell my Papa Jonka have been a pretty good boy so he will get me that quarter horse I want? Okay? I will leave you some goodies under the Christmas tree. I love you, Shaplin Ray Groves, 218 Eham St.

Dear Santa, My name is Donna Sue Bockman. I live at 723 S. Ballard. I am 5 1/2 years old. For Christmas I want a toyewriter, some good clothes and a pump organ. Merry Christmas, Santa.

Dear Santa, I love you, Donna Sue Bockman, 723 S. Ballard.

Pampa Sheds Hornets Sting 88-68

By RON CROSS
 Pampa managed to run with Tulia hit on 18 of 33 and 12 of 19 in the first period.
 George Bailey paced the Pampa scoring with 32 connecting on 10 of 10 from the charity line. Beau Bond had 16 and Jim Cornutt and Bo Lang added 15 each. Lang had his worse night of the season from the floor, hitting only seven of 21 shots.
 Mike Henthorn paced Tulia with 17 points and Steve McCullough and Terry Amburn had 16 each.
 Pampa jumped to a quick 2-0 lead, stretched it to 9-4 before the Hornets found they couldn't miss.
 With the 6'5 Henthorn and McCullough finding the range Tulia tied the count at 9-9 with 4:50 to go, the Harvesters took a quick 10-9 lead.

Pampa outscored Tulia 13-4 in the next 2:55.
 Bo Lang's jumper tied it 35-35 with 3:25 left in the half and Lang hit another one to put Pampa in front to stay at 37-35 eight seconds later.
 George Bailey then put in two free shots to put the Harvesters on a scoring binge that saw them shoot to a 46-38 lead with 1:14 left in the half.
 The half closed with Pampa on top 50-42.
 It got worse after that with the Harvesters dropping in seven straight points in the third quarter before Tulia could score and it was 56-42 with 5:20 left in quarter and it was a long time before the Harvesters saw daylight again.
 The quarter ended with Tulia on top 25-20.
 The Hornets led by seven at 31-24 with six minutes left in the half before the Harvesters finally got tired of being behind.
 The victory raised Pampa's record to 12-1 and was the Harvesters 11th win in a row.
 Coach Bill Brown's Shockers shook off their Tuesday night defeat at the hands of Amarillo and blasted the Hornets B squad 101-49 to run their record to 9-3.
 Bradshaw paced the Shockers with 18 points while Gailman had 13 and Ivey 10.

athletic programs in the area. FINANCIAL JUSTIFICATION: This was the second topic of the Pampa sports committee report and dealt with if it costs more to have a winning athletic program or not.
 After reading the committee's survey it clearly shows that it does not cost a cent more.
 The committee found that the equipment cost, travel allowance and other related costs should be approximately the same regardless of outcome of the athletic contest or season.
 Any additional cost attributable to a winning season will be far offset by the increased gate receipts.
 In addition game attendance will carry over one to two years following a successful season. The statistics clearly indicate that the total expenses of our athletic program have stabilized between $60,000 and $70,000 per year. On the other hand, the football gate receipts are generally on the decline and have been for the past several losing seasons.

 In their report the committee said: "A successful athletic program is expected to offset a major part of the cost of the essential improvements recommended above."
 In addition one of the charts made up by the committee reflected the bonded indebtedness of the Pampa school system on a comparative basis. Our level of indebtedness is one of the lowest of the schools surveyed. It could be increased reasonably in order to finance the improvements initial cost.
 In their chart the Committee found from their survey from the other schools that:
 Pampa's annual tax budget is 1.8 million; Borger's is 2.5 million; Dumas, 2.2 million; Hereford, 1.3 million; Perryton, 1.6 million and Plainview, 3.3 million.

 Pampa's tax rate is 1.75 while Borger's is $1.68; Dumas, $1.44; Hereford, $2.20; Monterey, $1.56; Perryton, $1.60 and Plainview, $1.86.
 For Pampa the percent of assessment is 40 per cent; Borger, 62 per cent; Dumas, 35 per cent; Hereford, 40 per cent; Plainview, 40 per cent.
 Thus, the total valuation for Pampa is 103 million; Borger, 89.6 million; Dumas, 125 million; Perryton, 70 million and Plainview, 85.6 million.
 Population of school district and these are approximate figures: Pampa, 26,000; Borger, 20,000; Dumas, 14,000; Hereford, 17,000; Perryton, 8,700; Plainview, 25,000.
 Bonded Indebtedness: Pampa, 2.2 million; Dumas, 1.7 million; Hereford, 4 million; Perryton, 3.1 million and Plainview 4.8 million.
 Number of Years to Pay off: Pampa, nine years, tax and four years revenue; Dumas, 10 years; Hereford, 14 years; Perryton, 15 years; Plainview 20 years.
 Percent Incurred for Athletic Facilities: Pampa, 1.44 per cent; Dumas, five per cent; Hereford, 10 per cent; Perryton, two per cent approximate; Plainview, four per cent.
 Number of High Schools: All had one except Lubbock, who had five.
 Number of Junior Highs: All had two except Dumas and Perryton who had one each.
 Number of Elementary Schools: Pampa, 8; Borger, 8; Dumas, 4; Hereford, 5; Perryton, 2; Plainview, 8.
 (Next: Administration)

Pampa tried up outscoring the Hornets, 15-4 in the period. It was all over for the Hornets for they couldn't get within 11 points in the fourth period.
 The victory raised Pampa's record to 12-1 and was the Harvesters 11th win in a row.
 Coach Bill Brown's Shockers shook off their Tuesday night defeat at the hands of Amarillo and blasted the Hornets B squad 101-49 to run their record to 9-3.
 Bradshaw paced the Shockers with 18 points while Gailman had 13 and Ivey 10.

Allen UPI's Coach of Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Allen, who led the Rams from slaughter to spectacular success in the space of two seasons, has been voted the United Press International's coach-of-the-year in the National Football League for 1967.

Allen, the bright 45-year-old Los Angeles mentor, drew 23 of 48 votes from UPI's panel of football writers, including three from each league city, to outdistance Don Shula of the Baltimore Colts for the honor.
 The Rams defeated the Colts 34-10 in the final game of the regular season last Sunday, thereby earning the Coastal Division title with an 11-1-2 record, the best in Rams' history. Baltimore also finished 11-1-2 but finished second on the basis of points scored in the two games between the teams.

Shula, who was coach-of-the-year in 1964, received 17 votes while Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers drew four, George Halas of the Chicago Bears two and Al Sherman of the New York Giants and Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns one each.

Allen completely transformed the Rams after taking over the club in January 1966 following a As defensive genius of the controversial split with Halas. Bears for eight years, Allen had been considered Halas' right-hand man and his eventual successor.

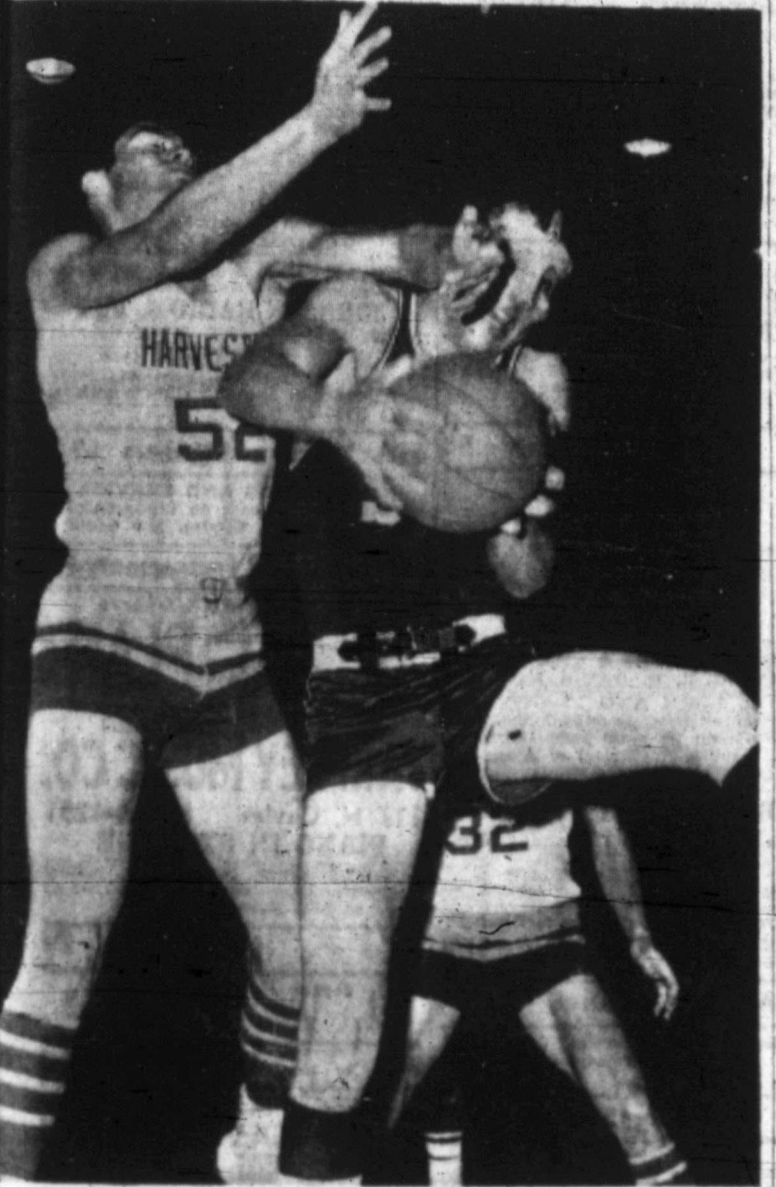

Prior to Allen's arrival, the Rams had managed to stagger through seven losing seasons and had plunged to last place in the Western Conference in 1965 with a 4-10 record.

Builds Defense
 The first thing Allen did was build a tough defense and the points yielded dropped from a porous 328 in 1965 to 212 in 1966 as the record rose to 8-6. Los Angeles allowed only 196 points, the lowest in the NFL, this past season.

He shrewdly acquired line-backer Maxie Baughan, an NFL-All Star today, and cornerback Irv Cross from Philadelphia in 1966 and this year snapped up flanker Bernie Casey and defensive tackle Roger Brown, who more than filled the gap created by an injury to Rosey Grier.

Despite his widely recognized ability as a defensive coach, however, Allen did wonders for the Los Angeles offense in developing Roman Gabriel into a championship quarterback.

AMERICAN WINNERS
EAST LONDON, South Africa (UPI) — Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., scored third round singles victories Thursday in the East London Lawn Tennis Tournament.
 Graebner defeated D. Schroder of South Africa, 6-2, 6-4, and Riessen ousted P. Hutchins of Britain, 6-2, 6-2.

BATTLE OF THE GIANTS—Beau Bond (52) of the Harvesters and Mike Henthorn (55) of Tulia grapple for a rebound Thursday night. Bond is 6'7 and Henthorn is 6'5. Pampa won the game, 88-68.

HIDDEN BALL — You can't see the ball but Bo Lang (34) and Mike Gleason (25), Terry Amburn (13) of Tulia are battling for a loose ball. The Harvesters started slow but picked up steam to down the Hornets, 88-68.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The holiday season is no time to be negative, so let us concentrate today only on some worthwhile...

Potential Stars Two more worthwhile persons are Paula Prentiss and Dick Benjamin, who are married in real life and also in the new CBS-TV series, "He & She," which has a rather wobbly status as option time rolls around.

Play Does Well You may also recall that the Paar show, which aired Dec. 6, was unfortunately scheduled against the "CBS Playhouse" drama "Dear Friends." Yet the ratings also indicate that this original play did well statistically too, coming in a strong 21st.

TIGHTENS HOLD ALGIERS (UPI)—Algerian president Houari Boumediene was reported taking steps today to tighten his control of the armed forces to prevent another rebellion such as the one that collapsed Saturday.

SEEKS ASYLUM NEW DELHI (UPI)—The leader of a three-man Soviet youth delegation was under the protection of the U.S. embassy today after dodging Soviet embassy officials and seeking political asylum. He was identified as Aziz Ulugazade, 28.

Fancy Wrappings On Gifts Declines In Popularity

HOUSTON (UPI) — People are apparently becoming less inclined to grapple with fancy paper and pretty ribbons and more willing to graze in their wallets for money to pay others to wrap their Christmas packages, a survey showed today.

Officials of four large department stores agreed that their employees were wrapping more each year. They said the rate of gift wrapping probably exceeded that of sales.

"Today we're willing to pay premiums for things that are always done neatly for us," said Lawrence Marcus, general manager of Neiman-Marcus. "We're paying people to save us time."

Marcus said sales at his store during the holiday season were 6 to 15 per cent higher this year than last, but 20 per cent more gifts were being wrapped this year than last year.

Generally, Neiman-Marcus charges $1 for wrapping and the charge can reach $5. However, Marcus said a store never makes money by wrapping gifts, and officials of Foley's, Joske's and Sakowitz agreed.

Washington Report

From Congress
BOB PRICE WITH DISTRICT, TEXAS

I have joined in an attempt to counteract the effect of the recent Supreme Court decision on the employment of Communists in defense facilities. I introduced a Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States relating to employment of subversives in defense facilities.

The Amendment would authorize Congress to "establish conditions of employment in any facility which Congress determines is essential to the national defense."

In view of the recent decision by the Supreme Court in the case involving an admitted member of the Communist Party, I believe it is urgent that Congress adopt new legislation to take the place of that which the Court struck down. And while it may be possible later to draw up legislation which would stand up under court tests, I am afraid that any watered-down version of the present law could be thrown out by the Supreme Court.

And while I realize that amending the Constitution is a long and complicated process, I feel that this is the only sure way to prevent a recurrence of the decision which struck down the portion of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950 dealing with employment of members of Communist action groups in defense facilities.

We now have more than 500,000 men of our armed services engaged in a shooting war with North Vietnam. Communists supported openly by the Soviet Union and Red China. We read and hear daily of Communist boasts to drive all U. S. troops from Asia. We read that Communist China now has nuclear missile capability for long range submarines.

Off of our Florida coast we have Castro who openly declares his intention to export revolution to all of Latin America.

We have the recently returned Mr. Carmichael running at large after visiting Cuba, North Vietnam and other Communist countries, and urging U.S. defeat in Vietnam.

We have others who have visited Communist countries and are bitter critics of U.S. resistance to the Communist aggressors who now plan massive crusades for more disobedience to law and order. They plan to disrupt our cities and impede the conduct of our government as well as the pursuits of law-abiding citizens.

We have enough problems at home without the added threat of sabotage in our defense plants. We have the Vietnik extremists who stormed the Pentagon and exercise their arrogance in burning book stores, kidnapping Navy recruiters and storming draft centers with bottles of blood. They perform these and other criminal acts in the name of constitutional rights.

What will keep these Communist-inspired peaceniks from disrupting our defense plants from the inside as they, in fact, have already attempted to do from the outside?

Panhandle citizens have wired and written that they are outraged at this Supreme Court decision, as I am. The following is from the Wes Izzard column in the Amarillo Daily News:

"Outrage seems to be the dominant response here to the Supreme Court ruling that Communists may not be denied the right to work in U. S. defense plants."

"Why bother to put a guard around the factories, or even lock them?" demanded W. C. Roberts, the Amarillo lumberman. "The Saboteurs can get in just by asking for jobs."

Law Student Files Protest

By United Press International
At Austin, Tex., this month federal officials joined the spirit of the season by decorating the Federal Building with lights in the shape of a cross.

The scene didn't please everyone. Roy M. Mersky, a law professor at the University of Texas, filed a protest. He said he was raised in the Jewish faith and the display of a cross says he is now going to display it upside down.

"That's a distress signal," he explained. "And if ever this country was in distress, it is now."

AND THERE WAS MORE. As Wes Izzard says, they all want to do something and so do I.

The resolution I have introduced is at least the first step and will, I hope, be acted upon promptly by the Congress.

THIS WILL BE MY LAST WEEKLY NEWSLETTER until the next Congress convenes. Let me thank the newspapers and all others who have made use of these weekly reports — and, extend to everyone my very best wishes for a very MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR!

on a government building violated his constitutional rights.

Officials doused the lights, rearranged them in the shape of a Christmas tree and turned them back on. This inspired a counterprotest by indignant Christians. A short time later the lighted cross appeared again on the building.

The controversy was but one of a bumper crop this year in the United States over the Constitution and Christmas. Throughout the country persons who believe the use of Christmas themes in public schools or the decorating of public buildings with Christmas symbols violate the First Amendment have taken the road to protest.

The counterprotests have been vigorous. At Middletown, N.Y., the Orange-Sullivan counties branch of the New York State Civil Liberties Union succeeded in having the U.S. Post Office ban a "Christmas is Christ's Birthday" sign from its Middletown property.

Chapter Chairman John J. Looi said his part in the campaign had inspired objections by letters and phone calls, many of them anonymous. He said he believed the protesters were mistaken if they interpret ed the chapter position as an attack on Christianity. The NYCLU action is an exclusion of government from attempt to see that the First Amendment of the Constitution view," he said.
