

New Ground Rules for Drivers Goes Into Effect Monday

Pampa and Gray County law enforcement officers, along with the State Highway Patrol, issued a reminder to motorists Saturday that a new set of ground rules for the state's 5 1/2 million licensed drivers will go into effect tomorrow when a major portion of the new Texas traffic safety laws become effective. After tomorrow, conviction of driving while a driver's license is suspended or revoked will carry with it a jail sentence of 72 hours to 6 months plus a fine of $25 to $500.

Motorists who do not bother to get a driver's license will be faced with fines up to $500 plus the possibility of jail sentences ranging from 72 hours to 6 months for habitual violators.

"These are the teeth in the driver license law that have been needed for a long time," Robert F. Miller, president of Texans for Traffic Safety, said in commenting on the new laws. He added: "A person who is unwilling to be licensed or drives while his license is suspended deserves severe treatment. The safety of all other users of the streets and highways demand it. Without effective licensing, how can we be sure that motorists are capable of operating a motor vehicle?"

New minimum driver licensing ages will become effective tomorrow. After Monday, 18 years will be the minimum age for a regular drivers license unless an approved course of driver education has been passed by the applicant. With driver education, operators licenses can be issued at 16.

There are two exceptions to this provision. A License may be issued at 16 if an approved course of driver education is not taught at the school regularly attended by the applicant. This exception was put into the law to give the schools an opportunity to offer driver education to all Texas teens and will remain in effect until June 1, 1969. A drivers license may be issued at 15 when certain, severe hardship conditions exist.

An instruction permit may be issued by the Department of Public Safety to persons 15 years of age who have satisfactorily completed the classroom phase of an approved driver education course and have passed all but the "behind the wheel" part of the driver license examination. This provision is in the law to permit the beginning driver to legally get "behind the wheel" driver training. When a driver with an instruction permit is driving, a licensed operator who is at least 21 years old must accompany and sit beside him.

The new law makes changes in other types of driver licenses. Minimum age for a commercial or chauffeur's license will be 18 unless the applicant has completed an approved driver education course and in that case it will be 17.

Provisional drivers licenses will be issued to all persons under 21 years of age. These licenses will be clearly designated as provisional permits to drive.

The new law permits the Department of Public Safety to have re-examined any person believed to be incapable of safely operating a motor vehicle. A drivers license may be denied to a person with a physical or mental disability, or disease, that prevents him from exercising reasonable or ordinary control over a motor vehicle. A license may not be issued to a person unable to understand highway wording or direction signs in the English language.

"These new laws will not be worth the paper they are written on if they are not vigorously enforced in every town and county in the State", Miller said. "Well trained policemen in sufficient numbers to patrol the streets and highways must be on the job. We must remember that 3,406 human beings were killed in Texas traffic accidents last year and another 208,310 injured. Traffic law officers can help prevent accidents. Municipal and state budgets must be large enough to provide for the protection Texas needs.

"When the time comes that there is enough manpower on the streets and highways to enforce these laws, there will be fewer accidents, fewer traffic killings and our State will be recognized as the one place where realistic values are placed on the worth of a human life," Miller stated in urging all-out enforcement of the new laws.

Pampa's United Fund Goal Set at $82,000

Pampa's United Fund budget for 1967 has been set at $82,000, it was announced Saturday by Ralph McKinney, chairman of the budget committee.

The figure is $4,000 above last year's $78,000 quota which was exceeded under the direction of drive chairman A. A. Stuneman.

David Tucker will head this year's drive. Tucker has called a luncheon meeting of the United Fund steering committee for Thursday, Sept. 7, in Coronado Inn. At that time, he stated, plans and dates for this year's campaign will be announced.

Minor Huffman, who has been campaign director for Pampa's last two fund drives, will again direct the 1967 drive. Huffman is scheduled to arrive in Pampa Sept. 5 and will remain here until the campaign is completed.

There will be 12 participating agencies among which fund collections will be distributed.

Chairman McKinney of the budget committee said the following agencies and amounts have been approved for the United Fund drive:

Boy Scouts, $22,000; Girl Scouts, $15,000; Salvation Army, $19,000; American Red Cross, $15,100; Milk Fund, $2,000; Welfare Index, $500; Amarillo Cerebral Palsy Center, $100; Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, $500; U.S.O., $600; United Community Funds and Councils of America, $200; Texas Mental Health, $200; and Medical Research Foundation, $150.

Drive chairman Tucker said chairmen who will direct activities of the various drive divisions will be announced within the next few days.

Judges Rule Out Grant-In-Aid To School Program

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Three federal judges Saturday threw out Louisiana's grant-in-aid program for financing segregated private schools.

They called it a link in a 100-year chain of state laws aimed at keeping whites and Negroes from attending the same schools.

The judges, ruling in a suit brought against the Louisiana Financial Assistance Commission, which administers the $4 million annual program, said that unless the grants system was destroyed it would shatter public schools for both races.

U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals Judges J. M. Wisdom, Robert A. Ainsworth Jr., and U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry handed out the unusual weekend ruling.

It included a criticism of Louisiana's State Legislators for setting up the program in 1962 under the administration of then Gov. Jimmie H. Davis.

The grant program provides students $2 a day based on a 180-day school year as tuition if they elect to attend private, non-sectarian schools rather than desegregated public schools.

The grant schools have been criticized in Louisiana for having sub-standard facilities and inferior programs of instruction.

The judges did not specifically mention laws passed by the legislature this year to replace the grant-in-aid program in the event it was thrown out by the court, as it was Saturday.

The suit, filed in 1964 by parents of three Negro children,

Egyptian Plane Downed In New Cease-Fire Break

By United Press International

Israeli gunners shot down an Egyptian warplane Saturday in a new cease-fire rupture just three days before the start of an Arab summit conference to map strategy in the wake of the June Mideast war.

In Jerusalem, an official government communique said that two Egyptian planes "flew low" over Israeli territory at Bir Gafgafa and that anti-aircraft gunners shot down one and "repulsed" the second one.

The communique said that the pilot of the downed plane was killed. He was flying a Russian-built Sukhoi-7 jet fighter designed for close ground support.

The second plane presumably was the same type.

The latest clash came as Arab foreign ministers opened a conference in Khartoum, Sudan, to draft the agenda for next Tuesday's summit meeting of Arab heads of state.

Tunisia Asks Arabs To Recognize Israel

SUMMIT IS SCHEDULED

By United Press International

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, in a bluntly worded statement released Saturday, told Arab nations they must recognize Israel and stop talking about wiping it off the map. He virtually accused U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser of provoking the Middle East war two months ago and blamed him for the Arab defeat.

Bourguiba's statement came as Arab foreign ministers gathered in Khartoum for their second meeting in a month to prepare for the long awaited Arab summit conference scheduled for next Tuesday.

There appeared to be no doubt that Bourguiba, who has previously been branded as a "traitor" by the Arab bloc, hoped to influence the summit meeting with his statement.

The bitterness toward the Tunisian president from the Arab bloc dates back to 1965 when he urged the Arab nations to adopt a realistic approach to the Israeli question.

His latest blast came in a statement made Thursday at Kef. 90 miles southwest of Tunis, but was not released until Saturday.

"The state of Israel has been recognized by both the United States and Soviet Russia," Bourguiba said. "It is a United Nations member and its existence is challenged only by Arab countries."

"In these circumstances, it is useless to continue ignoring this reality and claim to wipe Israel off the map. In so doing, one drives himself into near total isolation."

Observers believed that Bourguiba, who last week conferred in Tunis with Jordanian King Hussein, was anxious to influence the Khartoum summit conference into dropping any "unrealistic" posture that might harden the Middle East deadlock.

The Tunis Afrique Press (TAP) news agency said Saturday in an "authorized comment" that Bourguiba made no special recommendation regarding the recognition of Israel.

VC May Be Planning To Disrupt Elections

SAIGON (UPI) — American fighter bombers, giant B52 and 7th Fleet warships teamed up Saturday to smash Demilitarized Zone buildup of three North Vietnamese divisions massing for possible attacks to disrupt next week South Vietnamese presidential elections.

The all-out American assault came as Viet Cong assassins stepped up terror attacks. A Communist min destroyed a truck killing 22 civilians and wounding six on the outskirts of My Tho, a Mekong Delta town where civilian presidential candidates were holding a political rally.

Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chief of state running for president on the military ticket with Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky, for the first time in the campaign appeared with the civilian candidates at My Tho.

He hardened his position on a possible bombing pause over North Vietnam. He told the crowd that if elected, he would propose a bombing pause only if Hanoi indicated a "desire to talk peace."

In Saigon, a terrorist hurled a hand grenade into the office of a district chief. The chief and another man inside were wounded by the blast.

Vietnamese police stepped up their search for terror teams determined to spoil the Sept. 3 election.

Little ground action was reported in South Vietnam. Officials believed North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units might be waiting to launch attacks just prior to the election.

A U.S. army helicopter with nine persons aboard crashed into a swift mountain river in the Central Highlands. Three servicemen and a woman worker for the Red Cross were rescued, but the other five soldiers were missing and feared dead.

The massive strikes along the Demilitarized Zone and north of it in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam were part of a determined American effort to

American Nazi Leader May Be Given Military Burial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Nazi party said Saturday it would bury its assassinated leader George Lincoln Rockwell in a U.S. military cemetery at Culpeper, Va. His accused killer, meanwhile, was jailed under maximum security, charged with murder.

Matt Koehl, who assumed command shortly after Rockwell was slain with a bullet through the chest in a parking lot ambush Friday, said the former Naval aviator's funeral would be at 11 a.m. EDT Tuesday.

The National Cemetery at Culpeper, a city of 2,412 population about 40 miles south of Washington, D.C., is one of several military graveyards in Virginia. Koehl said that other details of the funeral were still pending.

Rockwell's stepmother said at her home in Southport, Maine, the Nazi party had told her he would be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, but Koehl said not.

Two shots were fired through his windshield at a range of 15 yards as he backed his car out of a parking space. An autopsy report Saturday showed that he died of massive damage to the major blood vessels of the heart. Earlier, police said he had also been shot in the head.

Just minutes later police arrested John C. Patter, 29, formerly the fourth-ranking officer in the party who was expelled last April for "Bolshevik leanings." He was held under heavy guard Saturday in the Arlington jail.

Late Saturday afternoon police announced that they had found what was believed to be the murder weapon.

Officials described it as a Mauser semi-automatic revolver, picked up in a park creek near the site where Rockwell was gunned down. Arlington police said it had been turned over to the laboratory for tests.

Koehl, meanwhile, announced the party would carry on without Rockwell. "Anyone who thinks you can kill an idea or a movement with a bomb or a bullet is crazy," he told.

Civil Engineers Will Mend Alaska Flood Damages

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—A 23-man civil engineering team will leave Tuesday from Randolph Air Force Base for Fairbanks, Alaska, to help with flood repair work.

The men on the team, the second to be furnished by the Air Training Command, will be from Chanute, Keesler, Lackland, and Randolph air bases.

The men will help speed maintenance and repair work before Fairbanks has its winter freeze, which could cause extreme damage to water-soaked areas. A first team, of 11 men, was sent from Chanute base in Illinois last Wednesday.

Nigerian Puppet Charges Soviets

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI)—The self-styled Republic of Biafra, Nigeria's breakaway eastern region, Saturday asked the United Nations to halt Soviet aid to the federal government here.

A government representative made the first official admission Friday that Soviet planes had been shipped to Nigeria for use against the secessionist troops.

Olu Adeniji, Nigerian representative in Accra, Ghana, said the aircraft "are not for defensive purposes."

The planes—Soviet MIG fighters—were reportedly flown in transports to the sealed-off airport at Kano in northern Nigeria.

Ghana Radio, as quoted reported that Russian technicians had arrived to assemble the fighters and that Russians would fly them.

The eastern region, whose Ibo tribesmen were massacred by the thousands in northern Nigeria last year, broke away from the Nigerian federation last May charging the Lagos government was dominated by northerners.

In a letter to U.N. Secretary General Thant, the eastern region accused the Soviet Union of aiding "the northern Nigerian puppet government" to fight "a brutal genocidal war."

The note urged the U.N. to take steps to end the Soviet intervention.

President 'Very Desirous' UN Council Get Viet Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is "very desirous" that the Vietnam issue be put to the United Nations Security Council for efforts toward peace, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Saturday.

Mansfield suggested in an interview that a move in that direction be made as soon as possible after the South Vietnam elections Sept. 3. And he said it should be made "regardless of how the elections turn out."

Under questioning, Mansfield declined to say directly that the President actually had decided to press further for Security Council action. But he said Johnson had indicated an interest in such an initiative efforts, however.

CABOT PICNIC — Cabot employes from throughout the Panhandle were on hand Saturday for the annual Cabot Corp. barbecue on the shores of Lake McClellan. An estimated 1,350 persons went through the serving lines.

Claris Sub Sailor Convicted For Passing Secret

HOLY LOCH, Scotland (UPI)—A U.S. sailor attached to the Navy submarine squadron at Holy Loch was convicted by a court martial today of passing a classified training manual on submarines to a Scottish bookmaker for relay to an East German spy.

Gary Lee Ledbetter, 25, of Holy Loch, was sentenced to 12 months at hard labor, $100 in grade, forfeiture of $86 per month and a bad conduct discharge.

Ledbetter was court-martialed after Scottish authorities arrested Scotsman William McArthur, a bookmaker in Holy Loch, under the Espionage Act and English authorities arrested Peter Dornel, an East German ship's cook, on similar charges.

Ledbetter, in a statement filed May 27 under questioning by a U.S. Naval intelligence officer, said MacArthur introduced him to Dornel.

Fatheree to Talk On Traffic Safety

Texas' new traffic safety laws will be explained Monday when Warren Fatheree of Fatheree Insurance Agency addresses a noon meeting of the Pampa Agents Association.

Titled "Texas On The Move," the talk describes revisions in the driver licensing law, plans for an expanded driver education program and improvements in the vehicle inspection requirements. Each one of the 5 1/2 million licensed drivers in the state will be affected by these changes.

The Fatheree Agency will use the latest information compiled by Texas for Traffic Safety, a state-wide coordinating organization dedicated to the prevention of traffic accidents.

Law Changes Hours For Liquor Stores Under a new state law that becomes effective Monday, Pampa retail liquor stores will observe a two-hour shorter business day.

Beginning tomorrow the liquor stores will open at 10 a.m. and close at 9 p.m. instead of the old schedule of 9 a.m. until 10 p.m.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary ARC

Several persons are in Amarillo today for a coffee at the Chapter House for Mr. and Mrs. Dick Strayer who will be leaving the Texas Panhandle to make their home in St. Joseph, Mo. All chapters are invited to attend this meeting and we are glad that our chapter could be represented. Dick has worked with all of our chapters to help make our work easier and better.

School will be getting under way soon and our Red Cross Volunteers who have worked through the summer in the Red Cross office and at the hospital

Saturday and Sunday afternoons serving juice to the patients will be reorganizing soon. Any high school girl or a junior high school girl who is 14 years old, may come by the Red Cross office and apply for this work. We have several vacancies and are anxious for this work to go forward.

The Red Cross furnishes the uniform and girls furnish white shoes and blouse. Each girl is asked to give two hours each time they work at Highland General Hospital.

This past week a man told us our community did not know what the Red Cross does in our community. Our major responsibility is to be a link between the home and the military. We send messages through our communication office when there is an emergency in the home. We are on call 24 hours a day, anyone may call our home day or night or our office during working hours.

The Red Cross helps in disasters. During the emergency period we are ready to help families with shelter, food, communications, burying the dead and assisting with medical problems.

After the emergency period is over, the Red Cross stays to assist families with the rehabilitation period. Houses damaged by hail and high winds are repaired and often rebuilt at no cost to the family. Repairs are a gift of the American people.

Another important thing our Red Cross does in our community is our swim program. Red Cross trains men and women who give their time to work with our boys and girls in our "Learn to Swim" program. This year more than 1,000 boys and girls, men and women have learned to swim or to swim better during the summer.

Who can put a monetary value on this program? Our children are our richest possession. As we train them to be safe in the water, we feel Red Cross with its swim program is doing a valuable work.

Teaching First Aid is another program of our organization. Our instructors are trained by the national organization, and teach first aid as volunteers. Last year more than 61,000,000 certificates were issued in the United States by persons completing the first aid and water safety classes.

Our Red Cross work in Pampa is carried on by a board of men and women who volunteer their time. We have only one paid full time worker and lately a part-time clerical worker. Since our chapter is a member of the Pampa United Fund, most of our funds come from this source. If you have been helped in any way by the American Red Cross, won't you reciprocate by making a contribution to the Pampa United Fund this fall?

PROTECT TOAD
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The state legislature has done its duty by the horned toad on the theory that it is a great bug-catcher and a fascination to children. After Monday, it will be illegal to kill or trap one of the ugly little creatures anywhere in Texas.

Week In Review

United Press International
An unprecedentedly - savage Red Chinese mob attack on the British embassy in Peking plunged relations between the two countries into crisis this week.

Smoke pouring from the chimney of Red China's London legation suggested that the Chinese were burning secret documents in anticipation of a possible break with Britain.

A horde of "Red Guard" teenagers stormed the Peking embassy Tuesday with fire bombs, destroying the chancery and damaging the ambassador's residence. Charge d'Affaires Donald C. Hopson and at least three other members of the embassy staff were beaten.

There also was a flareup of trouble in Hong Kong, the British China-coast colony which has become a bone of contention between the two countries. Communist mobs attacked border outposts, and in Hong Kong itself an anti-Communist Chinese was doused with gasoline and set on fire by Red terrorists.

In Britain, the Home (police) Office announced that Red Chinese traveling in the British Isles must carry passports. At latest reports, there were some Helmeted British bobbies stood guard outside the Red Chinese legation.

Trouble continued elsewhere in the world:

War Toll Mounts
In Vietnam, the United States lost more than a dozen planes to Red groundfire as clearing skies opened the way for intensive bombing of North Vietnam's war machine. The Defense Department announced casualty figures for last week which showed that the U.S. casualty total had passed the 90,000 mark.

New Haven, Conn., which had been regarded as a model city in the field of race relations, became the focus of racial violence. Order had been restored at week's end after three nights of sporadic violence by roving bands of Negro youths.

In the American West, lightning started new forest fires in an area where nearly 100,000 acres of woodland already had been ravaged. The U.S. Forest Service closed nine forests in northern Idaho and western Montana to campers and lumbermen.

On the brighter side, U.S. and Russian representatives in Geneva presented to the 17-nation disarmament conference separate but identical texts of a treaty intended to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Owners Are Advised To PROTECT THEIR CATS

Cats are noted for their hunting habits. They can track birds, rodents and smaller animals as silently as any jungle killer. Among their prey are also raccoons and foxes. Some victims are found in cities; almost all of them in suburban places. These victims are subject to rabies and if your cat exposes himself by coming in contact with a bird or animal having rabies it can catch rabies and transmit it to his owner. Rabies in cats may be just as dangerous as from dogs. Be safe. Protect your cat against rabies just as you do your dog. See a veterinarian.

ASC Committee Election Ballots Being Prepared

The ASC (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service) community committee election is slated soon. Ballots are to be mailed to eligible voters about Sept. 8 and are to be returned by Sept. 20, according to Evelyn Mason, Gray County ASC office manager.

Community boundaries have not been changed from last year. Communities are Grandview, McLean, Laketon and Pampa.

Present community committee members for Pampa are Artie Sailor, Jr., chairman; Donald Walberg, vice-chairman; A. V. Green, member; Alvin Dauer, first alternate and N. P. Brown, second alternate.

Laketon committee members are Ralph McLaughlin, chairman; Buddy Cockrell, G. M. Walls, Kenneth Gray and S. T. Friend.

McLean lists Tony Smitherman, chairman; E. Jenkins

Shaw, George M. Hall, Everett Watson and Arley Bentley. Grandview members are Lewis K. Davis, chairman; Dean Burger, Eugene Weiheimer, Billy Fields and John Mackie.

The present community committee will select a slate of nominees for the September election. Other nominees could have been added by petition if they were eligible and willing to serve if elected, but no petitions were sent to the county office by the Friday deadline, an ASC official said.

U.S. Savings and Loan League OK's New Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Institutions specializing in loans for new home construction endorsed President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent tax increase today as a way to avoid higher interest rates.

The U.S. Savings and Loan League joined a procession of business, labor, civic, and financial leaders supporting higher taxes. The league represents nearly all major savings and loan institutions making loans for home building.

A spokesman testified before the House Ways and Means Committee.

A group of 113 businessmen, including former Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, called for a tax hike—without endorsing a specific figure—in a letter to the committee.

The Savings and Loan League said the tax surcharge would help "to avoid a new depression" in the home building industry.

France Rejects Nuclear Treaty

PARIS (UPI)—France today rejected the Soviet-American suggested treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons, government officials said.

They said President Charles de Gaulle considers the plan a U.S.-Soviet attempt to insure they have a super-power nuclear monopoly.

The United States and the Soviet Union jointly presented a draft antispread treaty Thursday to the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

The officials said France in rejecting the draft treaty was setting notice she will back "only a true nuclear disarmament" agreement.

The French action fitted in with De Gaulle's past actions.

U.S. and Russia Work on Policing Of Nuclear Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The next weeks of intensive negotiations will show whether the United States and Russia can work out a compromise on a system of policing their tentative agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

The two countries presented the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference with a joint draft treaty on nonproliferation Thursday. But they were obliged to leave blank Article III, the critical article on safeguards.

There were other difficulties, notably France's rejection of the measure and Red China's complete lack of interest. But the safeguards article made official sources wary of predicting when a completed treaty might be ready for signature by the nations of the world.

Want To Buy A House? City Has Four for Sale

The City of Pampa is going into the real estate business—temporarily and on a very small scale.

City manager Jim White said Saturday the city has four houses for sale on two lots. They are located front and rear at 232 N. Nelson and 233 N. Sumner.

The houses were acquired in right of way purchases for the widening of Alcock St.

The city manager said the city would be acting in the transactions for the State Highway Department and bids on the properties must be sent to the Highway Department at Austin.

Bid forms may be obtained at the city secretary's office in City Hall here. Detailed instructions for submitting bids are on the bid forms.

White stated the buyers will have to move the houses from the premises.

FIGHT ON CYPRUS
NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Greeks and Turkish cyprits clashed in inter-communal fighting with grenades and automatic weapons for two hours Friday. The United Nations command, which imposed a truce, said there were no casualties. According to Greek Cypriot sources, the battle erupted when Turkish Cypriots fired on a Greek Cypriot police patrol.

5 American Nazi Leader Had Premonition About Death

SOUTHPORT, Maine (UPI)—The old man said softly, "I'm not surprised at all. I've expected it for quite some time."

George Rockwell, 78, father of American Nazi leader George Lincoln Rockwell, said Friday his slain son also had almost a premonition about his fate.

"I think he would have liked to have gotten rid of the whole Nazi mess," the father said. "He was more afraid of his own men than people were of him."

The elder Rockwell murmured, "I figured as much" when advised that the suspected sniper who shot his son was an American Nazi party member.

"You get a tiger by the tail and you have internat friction—that's just what I figured," he said.

The father is an old-time vaudevillian who played on the late Fred Allen's old radio show Rockwell, who lives in this quiet seaside community, is known as "Doc," a nickname legged to him after he satirized the medical profession in his days on the stage.

Father and son were never close, especially in recent years.

Rockwell said the every time he visited his son "He'd always have those bloody Nazi troops around him and we could never talk... so the visits stopped."

The last time Rockwell saw his son was on Memorial Day, 1966, when the son was in Portland to toss a wreath into Portland harbor honoring white Christian fighting men who have given their lives for their country.

British Establish Soviet Hot Line

LONDON (UPI)—Britain and the Soviet Union today established a direct "hot line" between the Kremlin and No. 10 Downing Street.

The pact linking Prime Minister Harold Wilson's official residence and office with the Kremlin marked the third direct teletype communications hookup between the Kremlin and the West. The other two are with the White House in Washington and the Elysee Palace in Paris.

The agreement was signed at the British Foreign Office by Minister of State George Thomson and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Smirnovski.

Rockwell said his son was intelligent and "full of ideas" but "unfortunately, in any deal he would never follow through on the business end of it."

The tax bite on individual incomes will provide more than half the federal government's budget revenue for fiscal 1968, as outlined in the President's budget message. National defense accounts for the greatest share of expenditures in the budget dollar.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

CENTER MEMBERSHIPS — The Pampa Youth and Community Centers activities are run through a membership plan. Memberships are available the year round and each membership runs for a full six months or a year according to the purchase. By purchasing memberships you are entitled to swim free of charge, take swim lessons, use the large recreation hall which houses the pool tables, ping pong tables, jute box and other quiet games and use of the gym where trampolining, shuffleboard, tumbling, basketball goals, volleyball court and weights are housed.

There are two types of memberships, a family and an individual. The family membership includes all members of the family living at home or in college no matter how many. This membership sells for $20 per year or $12 for six months. The individual membership is for those 8 years of age or older and sells for $8 per year or $5 for six months. Children under 8 must be carried on a family plan.

SWIM LESSONS — The Center will start the school swim lesson program on September 11. Classes will be in the afternoons from 4 - 5 and 5 - 6 p.m. and will meet for 10 meeting dates on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. No classes on Tuesday, Saturdays, or Sundays.

All lessons will be taught by the Center Water Safety Instructor Jackie Marlar. Lessons will be free to Center members and $3 to non-members. Memberships are always available. Our beginners and polywog classes are limited to an enrollment of 25. You may start enrolling for the following classes:

Sept. 11 - 27 — 4:00 Polywogs
5:00 Beginners.

October 2 - 8 — 4:00 Beginners
5:00 Advanced Beginners.

October 23 to Nov. 8
4:00 Beginners — 5:00 Intermediates

Nov. 13 to Dec. 1 — 4:00 Beginners — 5:00 Swimmers

(Will not meet Nov. 23 to 24)

TEEN DANCES — In taking our poll of bands which were popular among the young people we found 6 bands prominent. They were the Tiaras, Souleekers, Jekyl and the Hydres, Casuals, Motiffs and the Cords. Special attraction bands who received votes were the Blue Things and The Tracers.

Using this poll as our guide we have invited several of these bands to play at the Youth Center during Sept., Oct., and Dec. When school begins the teen dances will be held on Friday and Saturday nights. The major will play on Friday nights with bands will play on Friday nights with the newer bands playing on Saturday nights.

We have invited the following bands to play as listed. This schedule is not official but will be confirmed as the bands accept the dates. Sept. 1 Souleekers, 8 Rockin Mods, 15 Tiaras, 22 Casuals, 29 Motiffs, Oct. 6 Souleekers, 13 Cords, 20 Motiffs, 27 Tiaras, Nov. 3 Souleekers, 10 Casuals, 17 Jekyl and the Hydres, 24 Tiaras, Dec. 1 Souleekers, 8 Casuals, 15 Motiffs, 19 Cords, 22 Tiaras and 29 Jekyl and the Hydres.

VOLLEYBALL LEAGUES —

The Pampa Youth and Community Center will again sponsor the Fall Volleyball Leagues.

Leagues and their playing nights will be: women's on Mondays; Mixed on Wednesdays and Men's on Thursdays.

An organizational meeting will be held Sept. 6 at 8 p.m. in the Meeting Room at the Center. Please have a representative at the meeting if you desire to enter. All entry fees must be paid on Sept. 6 or before. The entry fee will be $20 per team per league which includes your entry fee into the tournaments. The women's tournament will be Sept. 11; Mixed Sept. 13 and Men's Sept. 14. The Leagues will start the following week on the scheduled nights.

The volleyball net will go up for practice on Monday, Sept. 4. Teams may practice thereafter any night except Friday or when something else is scheduled in the gym. No reservations will be accepted on Saturday or Sunday afternoons. You may come on these two afternoons and take pot luck, but there will be basketball playing at all goals while you play volleyball. Teams may work out from 6-7; 7-8; 8-9 or 9-10 p.m. Two teams may practice for 1 hour, and if no one is scheduled for the next hour, may practice on. Center members may practice free of charge while non-members must pay 50 cents.

SQUARE DANCING — In addition to the teen activities there is one activity that is just for adults. This is the Calico Capers Square Dance Club which meets at the Center on Saturday nights from 8-11 p.m.

The Calico Capers are an adult square dance club and they give dance lessons twice a year and stage several jamborees during the year. The Capers have guest callers during each month and some national callers. Dewey Palmitier is the new President with Dale Ladd vice-president. They would invite you to come out and visit with them on Saturday nights and will tell you how can join.

Accidental Deaths Show Decrease During First Half

CHICAGO (UPI)—Accidental deaths in the United States were down slightly during the first six months of the year, according to the National Safety Council.

The accident rate dropped 1 per cent, from 47.8 to 56.6 per cent of the total death rate in the country—as compared with the first six months of 1966.

The biggest decrease was in home accidents, which killed 15,200 persons in the first half of 1966 and 14,500 persons in the first half of 1967.

JOIN MILITARY AIMS

ALGIERS (UPI)—Two African-nationalist movements published a communique Friday night announcing "a joint military" front against the minority white governments of South Africa and Rhodesia. The Zimbabwe African Peoples Union and the African National Congress said the joint creation was "decided following the successes on the field of battle"—referring to guerrilla actions in Rhodesia in which the Africans claim to have killed 66 whites.

Under the Social Security bill passed by the House, now being considered in the Senate, some 24 million Americans receiving pensions would receive an increase in benefits, in the amount shown in various payment levels in the tables at top. Even if the bill does not pass, benefits will continue to rise slightly, due to amendments to the Social Security Act two years ago. The bottom graph shows the year-by-year increase in Social Security tax withheld for a worker making $7,600 or more per year, with the employer matching the amount.

RAIL WRECK

UTRECHT, Holland (UPI)—A speeding passenger train plowed into freight train on a fog-bound stretch of single track Friday. The engineer and conductor of the passenger train were killed and four persons were injured.

AID NORTH VIETS

HIROSHIMA (UPI)—An American pacifist group Friday took the ketch Phoenix on its second trip to North Vietnam with a cargo of surgical equipment. The crew is headed by Bob Eaton, 23, of Philadelphia and includes Beryl Nelson, 23, of Kokomo, Ind. In Hong Kong, the Phoenix will pick up a team of doctors and nurses who have volunteered to work in North Vietnam. The ketch took $10,000 worth of medicine to the North Vietnamese last March.

CHANGE LICENSING

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Communications Commission is making sweeping changes in its licensing requirements in an effort to get amateur radio operators to upgrade their skills. An estimated 200,000 amateurs will be forced to increase their skills to pass FCC tests or lose their licenses. The tough new order is the result of increasing demands for frequencies.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the Pampa News as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked.

Q — Do you pay interest on refunds that are delayed in getting out?

A — Yes, the government pays interest on refunds that are not issued within 45 days of the due date filed whichever is later. The interest is at a 6 percent annual rate, the same rate taxpayers are charged on unpaid tax balances.

Q — How does the average taxpayer make out when he takes a dispute he has over an audit of his return to a district conference?

A — In about 65 percent of district conferences cases, the taxpayer is able to settle the dispute satisfactorily.

Q — Where should I send my quarterly estimated tax payment, to the district or service center?

A — Estimated tax payments should be sent to the Southeast Service Center at Austin, Texas. The next payment is due Sept. 15.

Q — Is there any tax advantage in having stock listed in both the husband's and the wife's name?

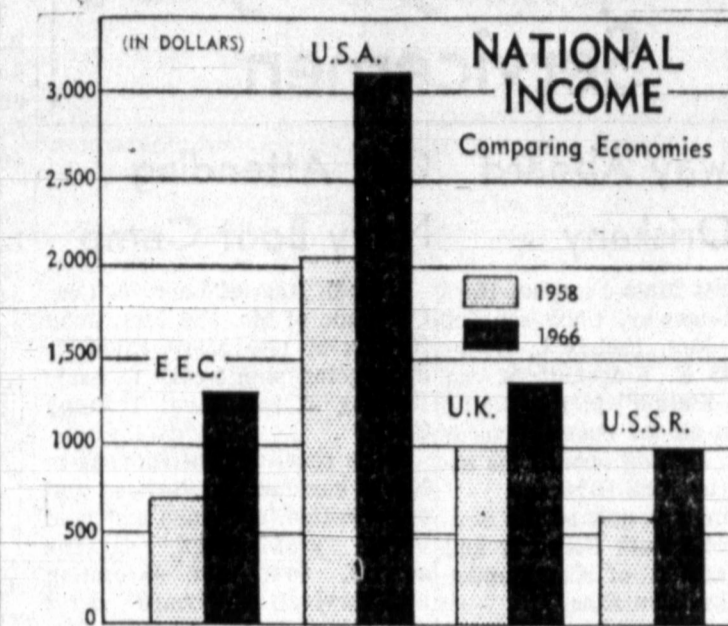

A — No. There is no tax advantage in having stock listed in both the husband's and wife's name in Texas. Dividends are considered community property, no matter who owns the stock. Due to the community property law each spouse can exclude up to $100 in dividends from income, regardless of whose name is on the stock.

Q — My income is under $5,000 but my return was audited this year. Why do you bother with such small taxpayers?

A — In the administration of the tax laws, the Revenue Service seeks to assure each taxpayer that he pays neither more nor less than is required of him. Regardless of the amount of income, some returns are selected for audit as a pattern to measure this standard of compliance. The fact that a possible adjustment to a return is small is never a reason in itself for not examining the return. No taxpayer should feel that his return is exempt from examination.

7 Motorists Warned On Reporting Accidents

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded Texans today of the change in the Motor Vehicle Laws which makes accidents occurring on parking lots reportable to the DPS.

Under the new section of the law, which becomes effective tomorrow, any accident involving a motor vehicle should be reported to the local police agency for immediate investigation and a written report filed with the DPS within 10 days. Forms for reporting are available from any police agency.

Accidents occurring on shopping center parking lots and those in areas where a particular store has provided free parking space are reportable, provided that any injury or death has occurred or there is a total of $50 or more in property damage. The only accidents which are exempted under the new law are those occurring on private residential driveways or on a privately owned parking lot where a fee is charged for parking.

PRINCE DIES

CAIRO (UPI)—Prince Tamer, 24, son of former King Saud of Saudi Arabia, died Friday in his apartment in suburban Helipolis. Police said death was attributed to a heart attack.

FAMILY PLANNING

NEW DELHI (UPI)—More than two million men and women have been sterilized since the start of India's family planning program in 1961, the government said Friday.

A parliamentary report on the progress of the nation's sterilization and intra-uterine contraceptive device programs said 1.7 million intra-uterine "loop" devices had been used by women since the program began, an average of 3.39 women per 1,000.

Smith Taking AFROTC Training

Philip N. Smith, son of Rev. and Mrs. M. B. Smith of 1918 N. Nelson, is participating in a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) field training encampment at March AFB, Calif.

Smith is one of some 1,400 students in the two-year AFROTC program attending six-week encampments this summer at Air Force installations throughout the country.

Authorized by recent legislation, the two-year program enables highly qualified college students to become Air Force officers in only two years. After completion of the six weeks of field training, the students become AFROTC cadets upon return to college in the fall.

Smith attends Baylor University at Waco.

During field training the students are given 50 hours of classroom instruction and 45 hours of athletics and physical training. They participate in survival training, visits to other Air Force bases, and flights in Air Force aircraft. They also receive special briefings on operations and functions of base activities.

Each student receives the pay of an active duty Air Force airman while in field training and $50 per month during the two years of AFROTC training on campus.

Smith was graduated from Pampa High School in 1965 where he was a member of the National Honor Society and lettered in football and baseball.

PHILIP N. SMITH

Thrasher Receives Purple Heart

Marine Lance Corporal Harold L. Thrasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Thrasher of 716 Deane Dr., and husband of the former Suzanne Morris of 1103 Cheyenne, Canadian, was awarded the Purple Heart Medal while serving with the First Battalion, Fifth Marine Regiment, a unit of the First Marine Division in Vietnam.

He earned the award for wounds he received during combat against the enemy.

A graduate of Pampa Senior High School, Lance Corporal Thrasher entered the service in September 1966.

As a part of the Marine Corps air-ground team, the mission of his unit is to search out and destroy enemy forces operating in South Vietnam. They accomplish this task through daily patrols and ambushes as well as through large scale operations mounted against the enemy.

The unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools. Equipment and materials for the projects are made available through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund. Marines in Vietnam provide the know-how and guide the Vietnamese people in carrying out these projects.

Parson Finishes Aviation Course

Marine Reserve Second Lieutenant Gary A. Parson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parson of 1901 Zimmers, has completed courses in basic aerodynamics and aviation physiology at the Navy's Flight Preparation School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

In addition, he received courses in air operations, air navigation, power plants and accessories, as well as physical fitness and swimming. After completing his next phase of training under the Naval Training Program he will receive his "Wings of Gold."

King Completes Cooking School

Army Private Reggie W. King, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie W. King, 314 N. Cuyler, completed a cooking course at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., Aug. 4.

During the eight-week course, he was trained in cake and pastry baking, meat cutting and learned to prepare and serve food in Army mess halls and in the field.

His wife, Linda, lives at 612 Powell, Pampa.

Johnson Serving Aboard Ranger

Airman Gary R. Johnson, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Johnson of 800 N. Dwight, has returned to the Naval Air Station, Alameda, Calif., following three weeks of refresher training in waters near San Diego, as a crewmember aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger.

During training, the 75,000 ton carrier underwent intensive damage control, engineering, flight deck, navigational and departmental drills. General quarters, man-over-board, and nuclear, biological and chemical warfare drills were also included in the training.

To complete the training period, the Ranger conducted a complicated battle problem simulating war-time conditions.

Upon completion of the training exercises, the Ranger was officially labeled "battle ready" and will continue preparations for her next deployment to the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Brashshears Gets Cooking Training

Army Private Jim A. Brashshears, 21, son of Mrs. Mary R. Brewer, 1141 Terrace, completed a cooking course at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., Aug. 4.

During the eight-week course, he was trained in cake and pastry baking, meat cutting and learned to prepare and serve food in Army mess halls and in the field.

His wife, Linda, lives at 1120 Garland.

Ham Serving As Vietnam Medic

Army Private First Class Jerry W. Ham, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ham, was assigned to the 1st Infantry Division near Phuoc Vinh, Vietnam, Aug. 1.

PFC Ham, a medic in Co. D, 1st Battalion, of the division's 2nd Infantry, entered the Army in 1961 and was last stationed at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. He attended Howe High School.

Gasaway Aboard

USS Oriskany

Machinist Mate Fireman Harold W. Gasaway, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Gasaway, 1333 E. Kingsmill, is on "Yankee Station" in the Gulf of Tonkin off the coast of North Vietnam, serving aboard the attack carrier USS Oriskany.

His ship is a unit of the Seventh Fleet's Task Force 77 and is the flagship of Commander Carrier Division Nine.

The Oriskany, on her third combat cruise to Vietnam, launches aircraft on daily bombing raids against a wide variety of targets in North Vietnam.

The carrier recently played a major role in providing fire-fighting and medical assistance to the carrier USS Forrestal during the latter's disastrous fire in waters off North Vietnam.

The Oriskany provided airlift assistance with her helicopters transporting medical teams and supplies, firefighting equipment, and food to the stricken carrier.

Thompson Attends Signal School

Private James F. Thompson, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson, 1115 Christine, completed a radio teletype operation course at the Army South-eastern Signal School, Ft. Gordon, Ga., Aug. 11.

During his 11 weeks of training, he received instruction in the operation of radio transmitting and receiving sets by voice and Morse code.

Roth Completes Infantry Course

Army Private Garry D. Roth, 19, son of Harold R. Roth, 706 E. Foster, completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Aug. 4 at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes, and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications and firing the M-14 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Franks Cooking After Cook Course

Army Private Dennis W. Franks, whose wife, Sandra, lives at 2236 N. Zimmers, completed a cooking course at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., Aug. 4.

During the eight-week course, he was trained in cake and pastry baking, meat cutting and learned to prepare and serve food in Army mess halls and in the field.

Strickland Gets Infantry Badge

The Combat Infantryman's Badge, mark of distinction for the fighting soldier, was awarded to Private First Class Patrick D. Strickland in Vietnam, July 12.

Strickland 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry D. Strickland, 1012 E. Campbell, is assigned to the 34th Infantry Platoon of the 1st Air Cavalry Division's 3rd Brigade as a scout dog handler.

CIBs have been awarded since late in World War II for sustained contact against an enemy in ground action. The badge is a blue rectangle with a silver rifle mounted on it and a curved wreath at the top. Subsequent awards are represented by stars in the center of the wreath.

At least 30 days of contact with hostile forces in Vietnam are required to be eligible for the award.

Strickland entered the Army in August 1966 and was last stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

He is a 1965 graduate of Pampa High School.

His wife, Kaye, lives at 1012 E. Campbell.

Commander Carrier Div. Four, is scheduled to take part in several exercises with the armed forces of European allies while deployed to the Mediterranean. Since arriving in the "Med," the America has visited Greece, Malta and several other Mediterranean countries.

Panhandle Water Rains Break Southwestern Farmers' Drought Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

Water continues to play a major role in the Texas Panhandle's steadily progressing economy for the future. Beyond 1980 it is a must. To have water then we must start preparing now. WATER, in c., was formed in West Texas to set in motion necessary plans and designs to assure a continued water supply.

We all know water cannot be challenged as the essence of life, be it a tiny cup or an ocean stretching as far as the eye can see. Without water, nations, states, cities, and communities waste away and die.

Water moistens fields which feed the ever-increasing world population. Water also provides energy to power industrialization that bids to alleviate the fortune of the poor. Man, as never before in his time, is trying to harness water to serve an earth he now threatens to overrun by sheer numbers.

Necessary for Survival

Water is the one commodity without which modern civilization cannot survive, yet most of us do not give it a second thought. Water during the past decade has become one of our major national concerns. Too much or too little water are both problems of equal magnitude. Ask the Israelis what the lack of water means to their nation. Ask the people of Fairbanks, Alaska, or of the flooded areas of the Mississippi delta what too much water means.

We of the Texas Panhandle are taking measures to prevent both pollution and wasted water. We have to use water more efficiently in industry, agriculture, and in municipal use.

As our population increases, more demands are being made on our water resources. We have become painfully aware effective use and conservation of water on farms is a must. Conflict over ownership of water will grow and must one day be resolved.

Centuries-old Problem

Water in some populated areas has been a problem for centuries and has retarded progress of countries in these areas. Egypt built the first dam in recorded history. The dam was built more than 5,000 years ago. This dam was a rock-filled structure built to store water for human consumption and irrigation. The dam was about as long as a modern football field with the end zones included. At the crest it was about 40 feet above the river bed, but it was poorly designed and failed in a few years.

Water was hard to come by throughout the area we know as the Mid-East. Most water came from underground wells. Jacob's well was excavated through rock to 105 feet. This well, drilled many centuries ago, is reported to be still in use.

Water, or the lack of it, influences all levels of life in the Mid-East and also in India. There, even marriage is influenced by difficulties of obtaining water. Inhabitants of one rural community in Southeastern Asia must walk nine miles to the nearest source of drinking water. A local custom there which decrees wives must fetch water, has encouraged polygamy among the men. Since one wife can make only one trip a day with her bucket, several wives for each man seems to be profitable investment.

Average Water Needs

To meet the average modern community, the average person must be supplied with 150 gallons of water per day. Sixty gallons of this is used for drinking, cleaning, bathing, watering the lawn, shaving, and other minor items. Industry uses 50 gallons per day for every man, woman, and child in the USA.

Current estimates indicate United States' water use will double in the next 20 years. If the Panhandle area continues to grow at the same pace it is now experiencing, we can expect the increase here to probably triple in the next two decades.

Involvement is needed in anything worthwhile. We are all agreed water is our major unsolved problem. A study of the water situation reveals most Americans are unaware of the seriousness of our water problem.

Supports Life

Water is the substance of our rivers, ponds and lakes. Oceans are filled with it. Seventy-one per cent of the surface of the earth is covered by water. It is the medium which supports hordes of fish and other animal life.

The late Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, while serving as chairman of The Committee on National Water Resources, stated, "The most serious aspect of the national water problem is the lack of public awareness of its existence."

By United Press International Pastures are the greenest in years in parts of the Southwest and when water stands in fields and keeps farmers from planting wheat in Western Kansas, it's a good sign the drought has been broken.

The moisture situation, climatologists agree, is much better than in April, although problems of other kinds have cropped up.

For instance, New Mexico suffered under a drought in the spring. So much rain followed that flooding resulted.

Grasshoppers Now Now it is an outbreak of grasshoppers.

"They're getting pretty bad all over the state," said Bob Sigmund, program specialist for the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"So far they have hurt rangelands and could move to crops at any time," he said.

Damage from the 'hoppers in Sierra County (Truth or Consequences) alone has been estimated at $143,927.

It has been "a most unusual year" in much of Kansas, a state not noted for heavy rainfall.

It has been dry in the northwest tip of the state but most of the state is too wet.

Heavy rains soaked much of Western Kansas last week, following as much as 3 inches two weeks earlier.

"Some areas are still too wet for farming because of standing surface water," the U.S. Weather Bureau at Dodge City, Kan. said.

The story in Missouri is too much rain.

Heavy rains in May and again in July caused the Missouri River to overflow. State Climatologist James McQuigg says many farmers suffered loss of their wheat.

Wyoming pasturelands are looking good.

"There's no drought in Wyoming this year to my knowledge," said Glen Hertzler, state agriculture commissioner.

"Everything is green. It's unusual but it's so. Cattlemen expect to market cattle a few pounds heavier than in the past because of extremely good grazing. Our wheat crop is one of the best ever."

"It's a banner year," said Laramie County Agriculture Agent Larry Bourret.

"Grass is more abundant than it's been in years — one of the best years we've ever had."

Mid-summer rains pulled Colorado out of its severe drought, although a lingering water shortage plagues a few farmers. Pastures are the best in years.

The lack of rain earlier did cut the winter wheat production to 37 million bushels, compared to the normal output of 40 to 42 million bushels and a drought still is having an effect on milo and corn in southeastern Colorado.

Sixteen of the state's 55 agricultural counties earlier were declared federal drought emergency areas.

Peanuts Hurt

Oklahoma's peanut crop is showing signs of heat and drought damage and some peanut plants have been withering in the fields although wheat planting is expected to get started on schedule next month.

The average rainfall in Oklahoma has been 18.06 inches this year, compared with 18.56 a year ago. Normally, the state gets an average of 21.54.

"A rain now would just about assure a peanut crop and give farmers another good production year in peanut farming," said Bill Flanagan, executive secretary of the Oklahoma Peanut Commission.

Heavy rains that started Sunday broke the Texas Lower Rio Grande Valley's dry spell and the rain continued to the extent that some flooding resulted.

The rain means newly planted vegetables, including onions, sweet peppers and carrots may have to be replanted, said

Irrigation farmers have been busy preparing land for wheat seeding and fertilizing. Most of them are now in the process of giving their milo the last shot of water. The dryland man is looking hopefully to the sky, hoping one of the wandering showers will touch down over his farm.

We have given out a rather large number of soil testing cartons this year to both farmers and home gardeners. The longer a farmer has irrigated the more necessary it is for him to soil test. We are having an increasing number of soil tests to show the need for phosphorus.

A section of a guideline for the production of wheat in Gray County that pertains to fertilization that we think would be timely to reprint in this column. This section was reproduced in red ink for emphasis. We are told by John Box, state agronomist, College Station, it is the only one in the state like it. Similar guidelines were produced in every county on all major agricultural enterprises.

We have extra copies of the guideline and the special section on fertilizing of wheat. The special section follows:

A soil test is the best means of determining the type and amount of fertilizer needed. The rate required also depends on the previous crop, expected soil moisture and intended use either for grazing or grain.

In the absence of soil test information, from 100 - 120 pounds of nitrogen is considered optimum. In no case should phosphorus be added without a soil test. An exception to this might be in the McLean sandier area where a soil test is still recommended.

A three-year test at the Bushland Experiment Station showed conclusively it does not pay to fertilize dryland wheat on the hard soils of the Panhandle which predominate in the Gray County wheat land area.

Nitrogen requirements are increased where small grains follow grain sorghum and other high residue crops. Information on the previous crop should accompany a sample sent to a soil testing laboratory.

A four-year test at the Bushland Experiment Station indicates there was no difference in grain yields due to sources of nitrogen or time of application when applied properly. (Reference MP-688, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station publication dated November 1963).

Anhydrous ammonia and certain forms of liquid nitrogen fertilizer can be purchased for less than half that of some forms of dry, pelleted fertilizer. Savings of $6 per acre are not uncommon in this case. The important point is to purchase that source of nitrogen that can be bought and applied at the least cost per pound of nitrogen.

McBean Gets Vote as 'Tightest' Dresser

NEW YORK (UPI)—What's this, Eddie Stanky knocking sex?

No really. It only comes out that way. What Stanky is saying is that some ballplayers wear their pants so tight they can hardly move in them. The reason they wear them that way, according to the White Sox manager, is because tight pants are supposed to be a sex symbol.

I'm with Stanky all the way. Not so much about what tight pants symbolize, but how much they restrict a ballplayer.

Only the other night one of the game's top stars was knocked down by a pitch and had obvious trouble getting back up on his feet.

"His legs must be bothering him again," one of his teammates muttered to another on the bench.

"Legs, hell," corrected the other, "His pants are too tight."

Giants 'Tightest' Team

Purely in the interest of setting the record straight, an informal survey was conducted among players in both leagues as to which of them wears the tightest pants. Here is how the vote went:

- 1—Al McBean, Pirates
- 2—Jim Hart, Giants
- 3—Tito Fuentes, Giants
- 4—Pete Rose, Reds
- 5—Willie Mays, Giants
- 6—Joe Peppone, Yankees
- 7—Willie McConvoy, Giants
- 8—Mickey Mantle, Yankees

McBean won in a landslide but as can be seen from the voting, the Giants took team honors.

For what it's worth, Mays and Mantle were named by their colleagues as "the best dressed players in uniform."

Sandy Koufax, they said, was right up there, too, when he was still pitching.

Speaking about tapered pants in the Meas' clubhouse, pitcher Jack Fisher pointed out relatively few ballplayers wear baggy baseball pants anymore.

"I do, but there aren't too many of us left," said Fisher. Cardwell, "and Yogi Berra over there never had his pants tapered, either."

"That's because he ain't sexy," needled Ed Kranepool, who always has his pants tapered somewhat.

Tapered And Tight

"I don't know about anybody else," said Phil Linz,

"but tapered pants make me play better. When you start running in the wind and your pants start blowing and holding you back, it's just not comfortable. I don't like a baggy uniform."

"I do," said Fisher, sitting across the clubhouse table. "It just feels like I need the extra room. It gives me more freedom."

Linz wanted to make it clear there are tapered pants and there are tapered pants. "I wouldn't wanna wear mine as tight as Fuentes does for example," he said. "He wears his skin tight."

"Not as tight as McBean, though," Cardwell countered. "I was with him at Pittsburgh and he wears his uniform tighter than two pages in a book."

Stanky may be surprised to learn some managers agree with him on the subject of tight pants and some don't.

There's one manager who says, "Real ballplayers would never taper their pants." Where does that leave Mays and Mantle?

And then there's one manager who... shhh! ... wears tight pants himself.

Italian Loves Pampa's Matson

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—You can call Fausto Bastianini of Venice, Italy, an Aggie. The school has adopted him and vice versa—All because of Randy Matson the shotputter.

Bastianini, 24, a teleprinter operator for a Venice newspaper, became fascinated with the track exploits of the young giant, Matson, in the shot put and the discus throw. The Italian read about Matson in the newspapers and decided to gather some symbol of his regard for the Texas A&M star's work.

He wrote the university. Would Texas A&M be so kind as to send him some kind of cotton tee shirt? he asked. It would not matter if it were old or dirty—just so he could have a symbol of the school that could produce such a star as Matson.

The letter was sent to the Texas A&M student newspaper, the Battalion, which put the word out to its staff members—get some timentoes for this new fan from Italy.

They did. Before long, a package with a tee shirt, a sweat-shirt, a decal, a pennant and several brochures was on its way to Venice.

Bastianini was overjoyed. He wrote back, "I do not know how I can thank you for such great kindness and generosity. Your packet is a well without bottom, full of wonderful items. The shirts are very nice and right for me. I will put the pennant on the wall of my room with my most loved turning offensive starters, at things. Many, many thanks for again and my best regards for all students of A&M University."

Boston Vaults to First Place

Dallas, Packers Collide Monday

GREEN BAY (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys are going to see some new faces in the Green Bay starting lineup, but the record shows so far that the Packers still have the power which made them champions of professional football in the United States.

The Packers left today for Dallas and their exhibition game Monday night which is being billed as a rematch of the National Football League title game last New Year's Day against the Cowboys. The Packers held a light drill Saturday.

Leg injuries have cost the Packers the services of offensive end Bob Long and defensive end Lionel Aldridge. Defensive tackle Steve Wright is on military duty.

Shaking off a rib injury, quarterback Bart Starr is expected to start against the Cowboys with veteran Boyd Dowler in the flanker position. But, as far as Dallas is concerned, the Green Bay running backs will be new starters if they are young Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

And Jim Weatherwax, a second year player, has been working the past week on both offense and defense. Normally a defensive tackle, Weatherwax now has been gearing for offensive duty too.

The absence of Wright and the use of Bob Skoronski as a center have left the Packers in a bind in the offensive tackle department.

The loss of Long has meant more action this summer for veteran Max McGee, who scored the winning touchdown against the Cowboys in the title game and Dallas is certain to recognize him.

Green Bay has rolled to victories in its three previous exhibitions and the Packers will be shooting for their 11th consecutive win overall dating back to last season. The Cowboys have split in two exhibition games.

Red Sox Tumble Chisox

CHICAGO (UPI)—Reggie Smith and George Scott each banged out three hits and drove in one run apiece as the Boston Red Sox vaulted into first place Saturday for the first time this late in the season in 22 years, by downing the Chicago White Sox 6-2.

It was the first time since Oct. 1, 1945 the Red Sox have led the American League as late as August. The victory was their 12th in 15 games and moved Boston into a half-game lead over Minnesota.

Alvis hit his 17th homer of the season, a 440-foot smash over the leftfield fence, in the fourth inning to score Leon Wagner, who had singled. He also singled in a run during a three-run rally in the sixth.

Tribe 5, Twins 2
CLEVELAND (UPI)—Max Alvis drove in three runs with a homer and a single and Steve Hargan scattered nine hits to pace the Cleveland Indians to a 5-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins Saturday.

Tigers 5, A's 2
KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Earl Wilson pitched a six-hitter Saturday night to become the major league's first 18-game winner and gave Detroit a 5-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics, enabling the fourth place Tigers to creep within one game of first place.

Angels 5, Birds 4
BALTIMORE (UPI)—Don Mincher's three-run homer in a five-run sixth inning led the California Angels to a 5-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday night before the second game of the doubleheader was postponed because of rain after Gene Brabender had pitched hitless ball over the first four innings.

Sens 4, Yanks 3
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pinch-hitter Fred Valentin blasted a two-run homer in the ninth inning to give the Washington Senators a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees, Saturday.

Mets Rained Out
NEW YORK (UPI)—Saturday's doubleheader between the New York Mets and the Chicago Cubs was postponed because of rain after three and one-third scoreless innings of the first game.

'Skins 13, Boston 7
BOSTON (UPI)—Second-half field goals of 21 and 22 yards by Charlie Gogolak Saturday gave the Washington Redskins a 13-7 interleague exhibition victory over the Boston Patriots.

Gogolak, kicking soccer style, broke a 7-all tie early in the third period and booted the spare field goal with just two minutes remaining before 15,523 at Harvard Stadium.

A team of all National Football League officials handed out 23 penalties in the game, 15 against Boston's American Football League entry for 146 yards and eight against the Redskins for 74 yards.

Dickson, Cowan To Pace Amateurs

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—A Canadian who is the defending U.S. Amateur champion and an American who is the current British Amateur title holder tee off Wednesday in a field of 150 in the 67th annual National Amateur Golf Championship.

The Canadian is Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ontario, who became the first foreigner to win the U.S. Amateur crown since Canadian C. Ross Somerville in 1932 when Cowan won it last year.

Golf Classic Falls to Rain

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI)—The second round of the $250,000 Westchester Classic was washed out for the second straight day Saturday when heavy rains on the Westchester Country Club course forced postponement after nearly half the golfers had finished their rounds.

The rain, which began in the area Thursday night, and forced postponement of the second round Friday, deprived 33-year-old Mason Rudolph of the second day lead as the native of Clarksville, Tenn., had posted a three under par 69 for a 36-hole total of 138.

The field of 146 began teeing off at 8 a.m. EDT under cloudy skies but rain began to fall again at 10 a.m. and by 1:30 p.m., the sixth green was flooded. Tournament officials temporarily suspended play at that time, but the rain continued and the run was postponed at 2:30 p.m. EDT.

Sixty-nine golfers had finished the round and the entire field had teed off when the postponement came.

No second round scores were counted now and the entire field must play the second 18 again Sunday. The tournament, which was supposed to end Sunday, will not be carried over to Tuesday when the final 18 is set.

The American is Bob Dickson, a former Oklahoma State collegiate star from Muskogee, Okla., who won the British title earlier this year and is now serving in the Army.

Also included in the field that will test the Broadmoor Golf Club's new 6,946-yard West Course are former champions Bill Campbell and Bob Murphy.

Murphy won the amateur title in 1965 and Campbell in 1964. Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., who led the U.S. Open this year after the first and third rounds, is among sectional qualifiers for the tourney.

Missing the event will be Hale Irwin of Boulder, Colo., the current NCAA golf champion, who failed to qualify.

The Broadmoor West Course will play to a par of 70 for the 72-hole medal play tournament. The field will be cut to the low 60 shooters and ties for the final two rounds on Friday and Saturday. The final three holes will be televised nationally (on ABC).

Fleckman Hits Amateur Finals

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Marty Fleckman edged U.S. Walker Cup teammate Ron Cerrudo 1-up Saturday to advance to the finals of the 65th Western Amateur Golf tournament opposite medalist and former champion Bob Smith of Sacramento, Calif.

Smith, who ousted Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas, Tex., 2 and 1 in the other semi-final match, and Fleckman teed off for the title late Saturday.

Smith had beaten Fleckman in three previous match play tournaments, twice in the Trans-Mississippi and once previously in the Western, all by identical 1-up scores.

Ramsey Has 'em Going

Things are rolling along at a brisk pace up on the hill as Eural Ramsey, his assistants and the Harvesters and Shockers prepare for the opening of the 1967 football season.

Pampa, in case you've forgotten, opens on the road in the friendly city of Perryton, which, might not be so friendly this year and the Shocks open Sept. 9 in Amarillo when they meet Caprock.

The Rangers are loaded with big, experienced men - type football players who would like nothing better than to walk away with an opening night victory.

Pampa on the other hand is not loaded, in fact they don't even have a gun. Nary a starter will the Green and Gold be able to come up with since the departure of giant tackle Bobby Wilson, who almost a cinch for All-district honors.

There are some part-timers back in fold among them Dickie Henley who started with the defensive unit last season until he suffered a broken arm in the regretful Sandie game in Amarillo.

Henley is slowly but surely working his way back into the starting lineup by running five miles every day after practice.

Dickie will probably get a starting nod at halfback on both offense and defense and is one of the speedier Harvesters.

Things, on the surface, look bleak for Pampa this year.

There are no individuals, yet which was one problem the coaching staff had last year. Everybody's pulling together, they know they don't have all the tools and these kids are determined to make up for their shortcomings in guts.

To take up the slack for the missing depth Ramsey has given four sophomores the chance to get with the varsity.

Elledge should be some kind of a ball player with two years varsity experience behind him. The quarterbacking duties have been split between Dwight Rogers and Steve Summers.

Summers was on the hurt list last year and Rogers seems to improve every practice. He's great on the roll out pass and if the Pampa Line play is worth a dime he'll cause a lot of defenses some trouble.

The defense might be better than a lot of people think with Watson, Lofton, Henley, Elledge, Snapp, Gene Kincaid, Caswell and Mike Tyler heading the attack.

IN SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE

Injuries Key to Texas Tech Hopes

LUBBOCK (UPI)—If a few key players heal properly from spring operations, Texas Tech will be a heated contender for top honors in the Southwest Conference football race this fall, coach J. T. King said Tuesday.

If not, the Red Raiders "will be suffering. We'll be just an ordinary football team," King added.

The Tech mentor, starting his seventh year at the helm, sprinkled a number of "the best since I've been at Tech" observations while briefing a civic group luncheon on the outlook at Raiderland this fall.

"I'm not going to promise you we'll win any games," he said, "but frankly I think we are going to have a good football team. It might be the best we've had since I've been at Tech."

The 1965 Texas Tech squad that featured Donny Anderson and Tom Wilson was a colorful team that produced an 8-2 record and a bowl team, but it was not particularly outstanding, King said.

The Tech defense, a major weakness in that year and in other recent seasons, probably will be the strongest Tech has ever had, he said. On offense, the Raiders return 10 starters from the team that led the SWC in total offense last fall.

King rated seven Tech players as good enough to tie for all-league honors. He cited end Larry Gilbert, tackle Gene Darr, guards Phil Tucker and Don King, center Jerry Turner, quarterback John Scovell and halfback Mike Leinert.

Eight Other Injured
Scovell and Darr are among those whom coaches are watching recuperate from injuries last fall or spring. Eight other Raiders capable of nailing down starting roles have injuries.

"We will not have as much experience as we did last year on defense, but we'll have more height, weight and depth, and we'll have more speed and quickness. We have a lot of good fundamental players, and I'm encouraged," he said.

On offense, King said, the Raiders will have "experience, a modest amount of speed and the one thing I think you have to have to win early—an experienced quarterback. Overall, I believe we don't have size, we do have depth. Of the 10 returning offensive starters, at least five will find their jobs in jeopardy when workouts start next month."

Johnson Looks Good In Atlanta Victory

By United Press International
Unpredictable Randy Johnson has re-established his claim as the number one quarterback for the Atlanta Falcons with a superlative performance against the sluggish Cleveland Browns. Johnson, who has had his ups and downs in preseason exhibition competition, turned in his best effort Friday night by surprise 34-31 win over the Browns in a National Football League tuneup.

However Johnson wasn't the lone standout in pro football Friday night. At Buffalo, N.Y., speedy Joe Scarpati intercepted two passes for touchdowns in Philadelphia's 36-30 triumph over the hometown Bills.

Scarpati raced 60 yards with one stolen pass and ran 40 yards with another as the Eagles notched their second interleague triumph at the expense of American Football League rivals.

Five Games Scheduled
The preseason action gets heavier today and tonight with five games on the slate. Four games are scheduled tonight.

Baltimore faces Detroit in the Motor City. New Orleans plays San Francisco at Portland, Ore., and Pittsburgh meets St. Louis at Nashville, Tenn., in NFL competition.

In another night game Houston and New York of the AFL back Norm Snead pass 40 yards to flanker Chuck Hugh's for the touchdown that knotted the score at 30-30 with 45 seconds remaining.

Sunday's action sends Los Angeles to San Diego for a meeting with the Chargers. Sam Baker kicked the point after for a 31-30 Eagle lead and three plays later Scarpati intercepted a Jack Kemp pass and raced 40 yards to the goal for the final score.

Johnson passed for three Atlanta touchdowns in the first half. He completed 20 of 28 passes for 193 yards against Cleveland.

LITTLE LITTLE LEAGUER from Tampa, Fla., Joey Garcia, finds his size—or lack of it—an advantage as he squeezes through the legs of Mike Allen, Newtown, Pa., to score a run in the Little League World Series. The competition is being held at Williamsport, Pa.

Sonics Break Eight Game Loss in Twinbill Split

By United Press International
Amarillo's sliding Sonics managed to win their first game in eight outings Friday night but they lost the nightcap and their Texas League lead dwindled to 1½ games, the lowest since the first days of the season.

The Sonics whipped the Albuquerque Dodgers 7-3 in the first game but dropped the second, 12-1 in the face of a 16-hit attack by the Dodgers.

In other action, Dallas-Fort Worth's Spurs blanked Arkansas 3-0 and the El Paso Sun Kings edged the Austin Braves, 2-1.

Keith Lampard slugged a third inning homer, driving in a run, in the first game for the Dodgers. He slugged a bases-empty blast in the second game.

For Albuquerque, Mel Corbo, Willie Crawford and Bill Sudakis all homered in the second game. Corbo drove in a run with his first inning homer and Sudakis got his homer with two on in the seventh.

Crawford's homer was with the bases empty.

Tonight's slate has Amarillo at Austin, Dallas - Fort Worth at Albuquerque and Arkansas at El Paso.

Boston Signs A's Harrelson

By ART BENTLEY
HOUSTON (UPI)—Although Coach Wally Lemm of the Houston Oilers worries considerably about quarterback, he also realizes his football team won't be very successful without 11 hale and hearty individuals on the field at all times.

Lemm is becoming more and more apprehensive about injuries.

He has good reason. Defensive end Gary Cutsinger is probably out for the season with a back injury. Linebacker Pete Barnes likely won't return before midseason because of a knee injury. And the state of health of reserve fullback Charley Tolar is also an uncertainty.

So is quarterback, although the Oilers administration is optimistic that Don Trull can handle the job. Trull ran the club in exhibition games against the Kansas City Chiefs and the Oakland Raiders. The Oilers lost to the Chiefs, 24-9 and to the Raiders, 24-7.

Trying Too Hard
"The biggest thing with Trull is he hasn't relaxed," said Jim McLemore of the Oilers front office. "He's been too tight, been pressing too hard, been trying to do too good. He looked good in the last half against Oakland."

Should Trull and flanker Lawrence Elkins develop into the same formidable scoring combination they were in 1963 at Baylor, the Oilers may well finish higher than last place, as they did in 1966. Elkins is the No. 1 flanker on the squad.

Behind Elkins at flanker lurks Ode Burrell, a one-time halfback who has been transplanted. Burrell might return to his former environment if the experiment doesn't work.

"Whether he can make the transition, we don't know yet," Breen said. "But we know he can play halfback."

Although Barnes was an attractive rookie, the Oilers are still fairly well stocked with linebackers. They have Ronnie Caveness, Danny Brabham and George Webster, a rookie and their No. 1 draft choice, at those positions. Webster, for the time being, anyway, appears to have supplanted veteran Olean Underwood, who has dropped to No. 2 left linebacker.

Shifting Necessary
Cutsinger's loss will be troublesome, and Lemm has had to do some shifting to try to offset it. Pat Holmes has moved from tackle to end and George Rice, a reserve with one year of experience, has filled the vacant tackle slot.

Offensive halfback could stand a bit more speed than Sid Blanks or Woodie Campbell can offer. Houston has three healthy fullbacks—Hoyle Granger, Roy Hopkins and Eddie Edwards.

Injuries Have Oiler Coach In Worrying Mood

By ART BENTLEY
HOUSTON (UPI)—Although Coach Wally Lemm of the Houston Oilers worries considerably about quarterback, he also realizes his football team won't be very successful without 11 hale and hearty individuals on the field at all times.

Lemm is becoming more and more apprehensive about injuries.

He has good reason. Defensive end Gary Cutsinger is probably out for the season with a back injury. Linebacker Pete Barnes likely won't return before midseason because of a knee injury. And the state of health of reserve fullback Charley Tolar is also an uncertainty.

So is quarterback, although the Oilers administration is optimistic that Don Trull can handle the job. Trull ran the club in exhibition games against the Kansas City Chiefs and the Oakland Raiders. The Oilers lost to the Chiefs, 24-9 and to the Raiders, 24-7.

Trying Too Hard
"The biggest thing with Trull is he hasn't relaxed," said Jim McLemore of the Oilers front office. "He's been too tight, been pressing too hard, been trying to do too good. He looked good in the last half against Oakland."

Should Trull and flanker Lawrence Elkins develop into the same formidable scoring combination they were in 1963 at Baylor, the Oilers may well finish higher than last place, as they did in 1966. Elkins is the No. 1 flanker on the squad.

Behind Elkins at flanker lurks Ode Burrell, a one-time halfback who has been transplanted. Burrell might return to his former environment if the experiment doesn't work.

"Whether he can make the transition, we don't know yet," Breen said. "But we know he can play halfback."

Japanese Team In Finals Of Little League Series

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—West Tokyo, the first Japanese team in the finals of the Little League World Series, tangles with Roseland of Chicago for the 11-and 12-year-old baseball championship of the universe.

After rain washed out consolation games Friday, sunny skies were forecast for this city where the first Little League championship was held 21 years ago.

West Tokyo gained the finals with a 4-1 victory over Newtown-Edgemont, Pa., Thursday, and Roseland triumphed over Linares, Mexico, 8-3, in the eighth inning of a regularly scheduled six-inning game.

Tournament officials switched two postponed consolation games to other fields. They were to meet this morning to decide on a site for the contest for third place between Newtown-Edgemont and Linares.

Northridge, Calif., faces West Tampa, Fla., for fifth place, and East Trail, British Columbia, meets the U.S. Naval Base team from Rota, Spain, for seventh place.

Rick Hoping To Kick Injury Bug

NORMAN — Facing his final year as an Oklahoma linebacker, Pampa's Rick Goodwin is hoping to erase his name from the injury list.

Goodwin opened the season last fall with a starting nod at left linebacker for the late Jim Mackenzie but was forced to sit out most of the season following an injury.

A stocky 5-9 by 194, Rick has the physical tools to handle almost anyone's linebacker spot.

Tabbed as a much better linebacker this fall, Goodwin has good quickness and spring, good vision and has shown intelligence at his position.

Most important, he has the qualities of a leader.

After missing last year's opener against Oregon, Goodwin was summoned into the Iowa State game to replace the injured Granville Liggins at middle guard.

He promptly stopped a Cyclone drive by nailing quarterback Tim VanGalder for a 7-yard loss and terminated another scoring bid by stopping Les Webster for no gain on a fourth- and -two situation.

Graduating from Pampa high school in 1964, Goodwin played three years of football under coach Odus Holladay and also lined up in the baseball racket for two years.

A finance major, Rick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodwin, 1936 N. Wells.

Singer Earns LA Split with Cards

United Press International
Ding dong the witch is dead. No, it's not another Judy Garland musical. This time it was the Los Angeles Dodgers who were doing the slaying. In characteristic fashion they stumbled upon a couple of runs Friday night and then left it up to their pitcher to do the rest, eking out a 2-1 triumph over the Cardinals' Larry Jaster, who had never lost to the Bums in six decisions and had shut them out a record five times last season.

Manager Walt Alston, a sometime Wizard of Oz, was his usual straightforward self after the victory. "We haven't been playing any differently against Jaster. Tonight we just scored runs at the right time, when they counted."

The main cog in helping the eighth-place Dodgers do what the National League champions couldn't do last year was Bill Singer, who scattered nine hits and started the sixth-inning assault on Jaster that led to two runs by pounding out a double.

Continues Winning Streak
Singer, who has not lost since the All-Star break, struck out eight and walked only two in hiking his record to 9-4.

Los Angeles dropped the nightcap of the two-night twin bill 4-1 to the league-leading Cards as Orlando Cepeda clouted his 23rd homer of the season and three St. Louis hurlers combined on a four-hitter.

The split hurt the Cards—but not much. Their National League lead was cut to a mere 11 games as Cincinnati edged Houston 2-1. Philadelphia took a pair from Pittsburgh 2-0 and 6-2 and Atlanta topped San Francisco 5-1 in other National League action. Chicago's game at New York was postponed by rain. Vada Pinson who has played more games in a Cincinnati uniform than anyone except 1920's outfielder Eddie Roush, socked a booming 375-foot-homer in his 1,400th game as a Red to lift his mates to victory and give Mel Queen his 12th victory in 18 decisions.

The Phillies moved back into the first division with strong pitching from Chris Short and Jim Bunning. Short won his first since July 4, hurling eight and 1-3 innings in the opener, and Bunning moved into ninth place on the all-time strikeout list by fanning six Pirates in the nightcap to give the righthander 2,336 strikeouts during his career and 14 victories in 24 decisions this season.

After the Giants' loss to the Braves, Juan Marichal said that his painful left leg will keep him out for the rest of the year. The man who last spring seemed the heir apparent to Sandy Koufax was rocked for 11 hits in the four and 2-3 innings he worked.

Phil Niekro hurled a six-hitter to gain his ninth victory in 18 decisions, shutting out the Giants until the seventh. Tito Francona drove in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly while Hank Aaron and Woody Woodward each contributed three hits to the 13-hit barrage. Angels 10-5.

Chance No-Hitter Stops Cleveland

By United Press International
The circumstances made it a night to remember but for Dean Chance it was just another achievement in his illustrious baseball career.

The Minnesota righthander, who only three weeks ago pitched a perfect five-inning ball game, hurled the third no-hitter of the major league season Friday as the Twins swept the Cleveland Indians 6-5 and 2-1 to move into first place in the American League.

"This is my first no-hitter, the other one only went five innings and I looked at it only as a win," said the 26-year-old Chance, who registered his 17th victory of the season in the nightcap of the doubleheader. "I was real proud to have my mother and dad see me pitch here tonight. My mother was always a big help to me. A guy needs a little encouragement in this game of baseball."

Early Trouble
It was Chance who took some advice from pitching coach Early Wynn in the first inning when he was with "Sometimes I have trouble with my rhythm and Early told me I was pitching too slow and to speed it up," said Chance who walked the first two batters he faced before allowing the only Indians run to score on a wild pitch.

Chance was interrupted from his meeting with the press by a long distance telephone call from an avid Twin fan—Vice President Hubert Humphrey. "He just wanted to congratulate me," said the cool Chance. "He's a great fan and has been to a couple of our games in Minnesota."

Elsewhere in the American League Chicago divided a doubleheader with Boston, losing the opener 7-1 and taking the second game 2-1. Detroit shutout Kansas City 3-0. New York swept Washington 7-5 and 2-1 and the double header between California and Baltimore was postponed because of rain.

Chance was rarely in trouble after the first inning with Cesar Tovar grabbing the only ball that might have gone for a hit in the fourth inning. Harmon Killebrew singled home the first Twin run in the second and Tovar scored the winner on a balk by Sonny Siebert in the sixth.

Minnesota scored twice in the 10th inning to win the first game. Killebrew tripled home Oliva and scored on Sandy Valdespino's sacrifice fly.

Ninth Inning Save
Ken Berry's ninth inning single salvaged a split and kept the White Sox in second place behind Minnesota. Berry accounted for the other Chicago run with his sixth homer of the season.

In the opener Jim Lonborg won his 17th game of the year as the Red Sox bombed Chicago's Gary Peters. Peters was touched for eight of the 16 Boston hits and gave up four runs in the 1-2-3 innings he worked. Boston dropped into third place, one percentage point behind the White Sox.

The Tigers held their ground in the tight American League race with the help of home runs from Dick McAuliffe. Bill Freehan and Eddie Mathews and the six-hit pitching of rookie John Hiller. Detroit is 1 1/2 games behind the league leaders.

Bob Tillman's three hits powered the Yankees to victory in the first game and Bill Robinson's scoring single in the nightcap enabled New York to sweep the Senators. Mel Stottlemyre won the opener, his 13th against 10 defeats while Joe Verbanic got credit for his fourth triumph in six decisions in the second game.

Cage Championship Dean's Big Thrill

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Dean Chance pitched his first major league no-hitter Friday, with his father, mother and home town friends looking on, then accepted a phone call of congratulations from the vice president of the United States.

His greatest thrill? "I'd still have to say it was winning the state high school basketball championship . . . and right here in Ohio," he said after the game which the Minnesota Twins took by a 2-1 score over Cleveland.

That's Chance. The tall 26-year-old right-hander, who has seen the bright lights of Hollywood, won the Cy Young Award, pitched a five inning perfect game and hobnobbed with Hubert Humphrey, acts as unaffectedly as if he's never left the farm in north-central Ohio where he was born.

Credits Mother
Not that he was calm about the feat. In the nasal twang of his hometown, Chance talked so fast no one had a chance to ask him a question.

"I'm really happy, that my parents were there. It sounds corny but my mother's always been an inspiration to me. A guy needs someone like that in baseball, to encourage him, through its ups and downs.

"A lot of folks came up from Wooster tonight," Chance said. "So was my old high school coach, Dan Baker."

Chance was the 16-year-old center on the Northwestern High School basketball team that finished the season 29-0 and was state champion in 1958. "I'll ever be more excited than that, probably because I was so young."

Into First Place
Chance's no hitter gave the Twins a 2-1 victory, a sweep of a double header against the Indians and put the team in first place, a half game ahead of both the Red Sox and the White Sox.

Chance took the mound late on a muggy night after the Twins 6-5, 10-inning first game victory. He was wild at the start. He walked the first two men, and gave up a run on an error ad a wild pitch.

Chance said Early Wynn, the Twins pitching coach, came to the mound and told him to slow up his pitching motion.

RECALL CATCHER
CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds Friday recalled catcher Johnny Bench, the International league's runs batted in leader, from their Buffalo farm. Bench, who had driven in 66 runs with Buffalo and was second in homers with 23, will report Monday.

The Reds also announced that Floyd Robinson, placed on the disabled list Aug. 23, will undergo knee surgery.

Six New Courses Are Added To High School Curriculum

Six new courses are being offered at Pampa High School this year. Mrs. Dona Cornutt, Pampa High School registrar, said. All the new courses will be given for academic credit.

Added to the curriculum are two advanced courses, two vocational courses, a journalism course and a math course.

Advanced American history is a course designed for students who wish to read and research significant topics and ideas in depth. The survey course is aimed to help the student grow in citizenship and appreciation of his country. Departmental approval is required for admission.

Biology II will be offered as an advanced course to seniors with an 85 average in Biology I and with one credit in chemistry. It is an intensive study of a limited number of topics with extensive laboratory work, emphasizing cellular and molecular biology.

Students should be prepared to spend extra time before and after school or on Saturdays for lab work. Departmental approval is required.

Modern introductory (elementary) analysis will be a full year course, with a half credit given for each semester. The second half will replace solid geometry.

The course will consist of sets, ordered fields, mathematical induction, sequences and series, vector algebra, vector analytics, functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, circular functions and vector trigonometry.

Journalism I (V-advertising) is designed to develop a basic understanding of advertising with special emphasis on practical applications by preparing layouts and selling advertisements for the school newspaper.

The course traces the development of advertising—oral, display and printed. It includes the selling process, purposes of advertising, appeals used to convert prospects into buyers, basic elements of a good advertising layout and planning advertising campaigns.

Vocational office education is a program that requires the student to attend school a half day and to work in an office a minimum of 15 hours per week. It is designed to train students for office employment after graduation from high school. Students must be of senior status and have completed a full year of typing.

English IV-vocational is open only to seniors who have had English I, II and III. It is designed primarily for students who do not intend to go to college and do not want to take English IV but who feel the need for a course in practical English to help them in business or in trades. Included will be word usage, punctuation, spelling and writing fundamentals.

Six New Courses Are Added To High School Curriculum

Six new courses are being offered at Pampa High School this year. Mrs. Dona Cornutt, Pampa High School registrar, said: "All the new courses will be given for academic credit."

Added to the curriculum are two advanced courses, two vocational courses, a journalism course and a math course.

Advanced American history is a course designed for students who wish to read and research significant topics and ideas in depth. The survey course is aimed to help the student grow in citizenship and appreciation of his country. Departmental approval is required for admission.

Biology II will be offered as an advanced course to seniors with an 85 average in Biology I and with one credit in chemistry. It is an intensive study of a limited number of topics with extensive laboratory work, emphasizing cellular and molecular biology.

Students should be prepared to spend extra time before and after school or on Saturdays for lab work. Departmental approval is required.

Modern introductory elements analysis will be a full year course, with a half credit given for each semester. The second half will replace solid geometry.

The course will consist of sets, ordered fields, mathematical induction, sequences and series, vector algebra, vector analysis, functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, circular functions and vector trigonometry.

Journalism I (V-advertising) is designed to develop a basic understanding of advertising with special emphasis on practical applications by preparing layouts and selling advertisements for the school newspaper.

The course traces the development of advertising—oral, display and printed. It includes the selling process, purposes of advertising, appeals used to convert prospects into buyers, basic elements of a good advertising layout and planning advertising campaigns.

Vocational office education is a program that requires the student to attend school a half day and to work in an office a minimum of 15 hours per week. It is designed to train students for office employment after graduation from high school. Students must be of senior status and have completed a full year of typing.

English IV-vocational is open only to seniors who have had English I, II and III. It is designed primarily for students who do not intend to go to college and do not want to take English IV but who feel the need for a course in practical English to help them in business or in trades. Included will be word usage, punctuation, spelling and writing fundamentals.

JOIN THE BAND

Love those youngsters of yours? Want to give them every advantage that strengthens their character? Ten by all means encourage them to play a musical instrument. Authentic, amazing case records prove beyond a doubt that:

- ✓ Music stimulates alertness and concentration—makes a child brighter in all school subjects.
- ✓ Playing in groups promotes teamwork, discipline, tolerance, poise and self-confidence.
- ✓ Children who make music are happy, wholesome, popular youngsters, so busy having fun they have no time or inclination for mischief.

Musical training is a break your child deserves!

Every child has an "ear" for music. Your band director can give you more information. Just be sure you give your son or daughter the instrument that will give him more fun out of music.

Candlelight Rites Unite Couple

Mrs. James Bruce Warren
nee Miss Avril Brickley Doucette

Before a setting of spiral candelabra flanking the main altar, Miss Avril Brickley Doucette and James Bruce Warren pledged their wedding vows at 7 p.m. last night in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church, with the Rev. Charles J. Welter, C. M., officiating the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Doucette, 2424 Mary Ellen. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hart Warren of 2323 Chestnut. Baskets of white gladioli and white mums accentuated the sanctuary, with salal foliage and white satin bows on the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eural Green of Gariand.

Votive candle trees interwoven with English ivy provided the background for the altar and lighted the kneeling rail. Urns of Fiji mums were placed in front of the pulpit on either side. The center aisle was lighted by candlelight.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Princess style gown of silk, candlelight peau de soie with the bodice and full length sleeves of re-embroidered Alencon lace. The gown was accented with a slight petal train made into the back skirt. The veil was of candlelight silk illusion attached to a bow of silk peau de soie with appliques of Alencon lace and fell to shoulder length. Her attire included the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with intertwined English ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Fredrick Coyle of Cambridge, Mass. Miss Mary Kathryn Budd, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Dee Marie Watson of Mathis. All wore full-length aqua blue gowns with empire lines and chiffon bell sleeves. The backs draped into full gathers to the floor with bows at the empire waists. They carried cascading bouquets of Fiji and pom-pom mums with English ivy.

Best man was Jim Tom Hodnutt of Vincent. Groomsmen were David Prower Budd and Ray Milliron attended as the bridegroom's best man and Andy Supina served as groomsman. Ushers were Sgt. Larry Killgo, Harry Keyes, Joel Masburn and Danny Micher.

Miss Theresa Killgo and Mark Keyes lit the tapers. First Methodist Church parlor was the scene of the reception following the wedding rites. The bride's table, covered with a white satin cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli. Miss Martha Pryor served the three-tiered wedding cake while Mrs. Karen Bird presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Mrs. Donald Martin of Ros-

Wayne Pitner, organist, presented a program of nuptial airs and accompanied Miss Marilyn Milliron as she sang "More" and "Walk Hand in Hand."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was dressed in a formal gown fashioned of crystalline and chantilly lace featuring a fitted bodice, petal point sleeves and softly pleated skirt which swept to a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil of English net edged with chantilly lace, fell from a seed pearl crown. She wore a string of cultured pearls belonging to her grandmother and carried a cascading bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Susan Killgo, sister of the bride, maid of honor, and Miss Marilyn Keyes, sister to the bridegroom, bridesmaids, were attired in avocado satin gowns pews leading the way to the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white formal gown with chapel train of satin embroidered silk organza over taffeta. The gown had long petal point sleeves and a Sabrina neckline, with a controlled A-line skirt with fitted empire bodice. Satin embroidery traced a pattern down the center front of the gown. Two organza bows at the shoulder line enhanced the wattleau train, which was embroidered in the same motif as the gown front. A forehead coil of pearls and crystal droplets enhanced with alencon lace was attached to a tier veil of bridal illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and wore a sapphire, brought by her mother from England, in her shoe for luck.

Miss Diana Edminster served as maid of honor; bridesmaids were Miss Michele Levine of Laredo and Miss Barbara Hopkins. They wore long empire gowns of blue chiffon over satin with lace jackets and carried cascading bouquets of white carnations.

Brett Biery and Brenda Biery of Tulsa, Okla., served as ring-bearer and flower girl respectively.

Thomas Warren of Houston served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Leon Clinard of Wichita, Kan., and Charles Hammons Jr. Ushers were John Doucette, brother of the bride; Robert Doucette, bride's cousin; and Larry Hollis. Dennis Hickey served as acolyte.

Traditional processional and recessional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Jack Edwards, organist. Mrs. John Garcia, vocalist, of White Deer sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Allan Caron's "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church hall after the ceremony. The table was covered with white satin floor length cloth and draped with white satin rope swags caught up in silver bows twined with sprays of lily-of-the-valley. The five-tiered wedding cake, decorated with white roses and sugar bells scalloped around the edges with tiny blue rosettes, was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. W. E. Biery of Tulsa, Okla., assisted at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Chester Mauldin served cake. Mrs. R. F. Biery of Tulsa, Okla., registered guests.

For a honeymoon trip to points of interest in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride wore a two-piece creme paisley suit with orange accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses lifted from her bridal bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Warren will continue their education at the University of Texas at Austin.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Biery and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Biery of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Warren of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clinard Jr. of Wichita; and Lefors Doucette of Amarillo.

Pre-nuptial events included a luncheon July 27 with Mrs. Margaret McIntyre and Mrs. W. E. Campaign as hostesses; a lingerie shower at U. of T. in Austin hosted by Misses Michele Levine, Carol Webb and Cathy Carnal; a miscellaneous shower Aug. 7 with Mmes. J. W. Edminster, J. F. Hopkins and Chester Mauldin as hostesses; a bridesmaids luncheon Aug. 26 hosted by Mrs. A. H. Doucette, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. W. E. Biery of Tulsa, aunt of the bride; and a rehearsal dinner hosted by the bridegroom's parents, the night preceding the wedding at the Pampa-Country-Club.

A 1965 honors graduate of Pampa-High School, the bride will be a junior at U. of T. at Austin, where she will major in microbiology. The bridegroom, a 1965 honors graduate of Pampa High School, will be a junior at U. of T. at Austin, where he will major in physics. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma honorary fraternity.

Mrs. William H. Rich
...nee Miss Patricia Stewart

Rev. Oland Butler, pastor of White Deer First Methodist Church, officiated double-ring rites recently, uniting Miss Patricia Stewart and William H. Rich.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Boyd Stewart of 505 Powell and the late Mr. Stewart. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rich of El Reno, Okla. The ceremony was performed at 8 p.m., Aug. 12, in First Methodist Church Chapel before an altar appointed with arrangements of majestic daisies. Wayne Pitner, organist, presented traditional nuptial selections. Parker Stewart gave his sister in marriage. The bride was attired in a street-length gown of white lace with A-line styling and bell sleeves. A white lace chapel cape and cascading bouquet of white carnations centered with a white gardenia tied with white satin ribbon completed her attire. Mrs. Vernon Cook of Miami, dered organza and carrying a cascading bouquet of white majestic daisies, attended as matron of honor.

Serving as best man was Wayne Ivester of Tulsa, Okla. Ushers were J. David Roberts of Lefors and Wesley Willhoite.

The bride's colors of white and pale green were carried out in the table decorations at the reception held in First Methodist Church Parlor following the wedding rites. An arrangement of white majestic daisies centered the bride's table which was covered with a white and green cloth. Serving the two-tiered white and pale green wedding cake, which was topped with white wedding bells, was Mrs. Robert Neslage while Mrs. Kenneth Lightfoot presided at the punch bowl. Miss Kay Rich of Enid, Okla., sister of the bridegroom, was guest registrar.

The newlyweds are now at home at 1336 N. Coffee, Apt. 4, following a wedding trip. The bride chose for her traveling costume a lime green silk suit accented by the gardenia corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Rich, a graduate of Pampa High School, attended West Texas State University. She is now employed by Cabot Corp. Mr. Rich, a graduate of El Reno, Okla., High School, received a B.S. Degree in Electrical Engineering from Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Okla. He is now associated with Cabot Corp. in the engineering division.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Rich of El Reno, Okla., Miss Kay Rich of Enid, Okla., Paul A. Scott of Thule, Greenland, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coffey, Phil and Cheryl of Pratt, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robinson, Kevin and Kela of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ivester of Tulsa, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cook of Miami.

well, N. M.

The newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Red River, N.M., following the reception. For traveling the bride chose a double-knit suit of gold accented by white and bronze accessories and the orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home in the College Apartments, Weatherford, Okla., where Mr. Keyes will continue his education at Southwestern State College and Mrs. Keyes will be employed at Snyder Furniture.

The bride attended West Texas State University and was employed by B & R Appliance Co. prior to her marriage. The bridegroom attended A & M University before transferring to Southwestern State College.

Former Pampan Weds in Local Church

Nuptial

Paul Catholic Church. Mrs. Jack Edwards, organist, presented the traditional professional and recessional. She also accompanied Mrs. John Garcia of White Deer, vocalist, who sang "Ave Maria," "The Lord's Prayer," "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Pans Angelicus."

The ceremony was performed before an altar appointed with urns of white gladioli and calla lilies, flanked by spiral candelabra entwined with greenery. Pews were marked with candles and salal foliage.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown of ivory delustered silk peau de soie. The scalloped sabrina neckline enhanced the Alencon re-embroidered lace bodice. The pown flowed easily from a modified empire silhouette and the flowing train accented the applied lace motifs and the bowed detail at the back. The bride's heirloom chapel train fell from a lace tiara and was outlined with scalloped medallions of re-embroidered alencon lace. She wore elbow-length ivory gloves and carried a cascading bouquet of white rosebuds and lemon leaves atop a white prayer book which was a gift of the bridegroom. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue and wore an English sixpence in her shoe, gift of Mrs. Jack Edwards. She also carried a blue rosary, a gift of her godmother, Mrs. Albert

Doucette.

Bridal attendants were Miss Lynne Pryor, sister of the bride, maid of honor; Mrs. Frank Pryor of Albuquerque, N. M., bride's sister-in-law, matron of honor; Miss Nell Conner of Seymour, sister of the bridegroom; maid of honor; Miss Jo Dale Followell, junior bridesmaid, and Miss Tammy Wilkerson of Midland, flower girl. Dressed identically in deep pink formal gowns of satin peau de soie, their gowns featured a fitted bodice, oval neckline and peg top sheath skirt accented with a bolero type jacket of deep pink chantilly lace. They wore matching pink organza petal coils with illusion veils and pale pink gloves. Each carried a cascading bouquet of candlelight and light pink gladioli.

Attending his brother as best man was John Conner of Seymour. Groomsmen were George Conner of Seymour, bridegroom's brother, Frank Pryor of Albuquerque, N. M., brother of the bride, and Roger Hunter of Fort Worth.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a floor-length white satin cloth draped with white satin rope swags caught up in silver bows, was centered with a five-branched silver candelabra arranged with white carnations and rosebuds. The five-tiered cake with swan pillars supporting each tier which was decorated with white roses and sugar bells, and topped by a miniature bridal couple was served by Mrs. Alvin Scott of Spur, Mrs. Victor Keyes of Pampa presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. L. B. Wilkerson of Midland registered guests.

Miss Gracie Moeck of Seymour served the bridegroom's cake from a table covered with a white satin cloth and outlined with garlands of greenery. Other members of the houseparty included Mmes. Bill Self, Chester Mauldin, C. J. Killgo, Othel Burnett, Vernon Langley and L. B. Wilkerson.

For traveling on a wedding trip to points of interest in Colorado, Mrs. Conner chose a black and white two-piece suit with black accessories and lifted the rosebud corsage from her wedding bouquet. Following their return they will reside at the College View Apartments in College Station where Mr. Conner will continue his education.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Pampa High School where she was a member of Las Ceras Club. She attended Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville and has been employed by First National Bank. The bridegroom was an honor graduate of Seymour High School where he received the Forney Foundation Scholarship. He graduated from Texas A&M University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture in 1965 where he was named "Outstanding Agriculture Education Senior of the Spring Semester" in 1965. He received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Veterinary Science in 1967 and is working toward a Doctor's Degree of Veterinary Medicine.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wilkerson of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Shewbert and family of Dalhart, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hunter and family of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lassiter and family of Canyon

Mrs. John Raymond Oldham

nee Miss Mikey Louise Thomas

Central Baptist Church was the setting for the afternoon wedding ceremony uniting Miss Mikey Louise Thomas, of Pre-mont, former resident of Pampa, and John Raymond Oldham of Shawnee, Okla.

Rev. T. O. Upshaw officiated the single-ring vows at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Parr, organist, presented a program of nuptial selections and accompanied Bill Barsch as he sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley W. Thomas of Pre-mont, former Pampans. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Oldham of Shawnee, Okla.

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I avowal," the bride wore a floor-length gown fashioned of swiss with A-line styling. A large satin bow accented the empire waistline. The bell-shaped sleeves and hem of the gown were trimmed with white lace. A chapel train, which was also trimmed with the chosen lace fell from the back waist. The bride's elbow-length veil of illusion fell from a satin coil trimmed with lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascading arrangement of mums and daisies.

Attending as maid of honor was Miss Suzie Thomas. Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Tusing and Mrs. Pat Kimbrew. Attired in waltz-length gowns of light blue dotted swiss with empire styling and matching petal headpieces, each carried a cascade bouquet of mums and daisies.

David Breedlove served as best man to the bridegroom while Jim Bowers and Larry Ray were groomsmen. Ushers were Trenton Burns and Larry Ray.

Miss Lisa Post attended as flower girl. Candelights were Ronnie Graves and D'Ann Graves.

Vows were pledged before an altar appointed with baskets of white greenery flanking an archway entwined with greenery and white mums. A prie dieu centered the wedding scene.

Guests were greeted in Fellowship Hall of the church at the reception held following the ceremony. Miss Joretta Baird served the wedding cake and Mrs.

Terry Burns and Mrs. Bill Barsch presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Mrs. Ronnie Wheeler.

Prior to departing on a wedding trip to Amarillo Mrs. Oldham changed into a light blue cotton sharkskin suit with matching accessories. She lifted the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will make their home in Shawnee, Okla.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Oklahoma Baptist University where she was associated with OBU News Bureau. The bridegroom is a senior business major at Oklahoma Baptist University where he is a member of Phi Beta Lambda.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
Included in the pre-nuptial courtesies extended the bride was a wedding shower given on Aug. 4 in Central Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. Hostesses for the event were Mmes. Margie Brown, W. C. Bass, James Baird, Bill Fulcher, Nolan Cole, J. D. White, Wilene Conner, Charles Terrell, Lou Ann Lowe, Fern Prock, Sam Bateas and Joretta Baird.

Boughan-Brewer Vows Exchanged

First Baptist Church in White Deer was the setting for the recent wedding of Miss O'Neta Gay Boughan and Thomas Joe Brewer. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Boughan of White Deer. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brewer of Pampa.

Officiant of the ceremony was the Rev. Merle Rogers, pastor of the Skellytown First Baptist Church.

Traditional nuptial music was provided by Miss Ida Mae Powers, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white satin and chantilly lace, accented with seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of quilted satin. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and pink roses.

Matron of honor and best man were Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Robinson of Pampa. Ushers were Mike Riddle and Jim Brumley of Pampa.

The couple are at home at 708 Stone Street in White Deer.

Miss Thompson Bride Of Jerry Claud Trollinger

Mrs. Jerry Claud Trollinger
...nee Miss Sandra Sue Thompson

On the evening of Aug. 19, Miss Sandra Sue Thompson became the bride of Jerry Claud Trollinger in vows pledged in Central Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, 1008 S. Wells. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Trollinger of 521 N. Nelson are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. T. O. Upshaw officiated the double-ring ceremony at 8 o'clock amid a setting appointed with a flower covered arch flanked by basket arrangements of gladioli and candelabra.

A program of appropriate nuptial selections was presented by Mrs. Charles Gidney, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Jean Gray as she sang "Twelfth of Never," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown fashioned of peau de soie and lace designed with empire styling. The fitted bodice and long petal point sleeves were of the chosen lace. A peau de soie chapel train fell from the back of the A-line peau de soie skirt. Her waist-length veil of illusion was attached to a seed pearl tiara. She carried a circular cascading bouquet of stock flowers.

Miss Patsy Mullins, maid of honor, and Miss Judy Thompson, bridesmaid, were attired in floor-length sleeveless gowns of green brocade designed with A-lines. Each carried a crescent bouquet.

Gayle Trollinger attended his brother as best man and David Maher served as groomsman. Ushers were Bobby Trollinger and Tim Crump.

Serving as flower girls were Misses Cindy and Rhonda Thompson. Greg Trollinger was ringbearer.

A reception was held immediately following the pledging of vows in the church Fellowship Hall. The bride's table, covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with net, was centered with silver candelabra. Mrs. Shirley Thompson served the three-tiered wedding cake while Mrs. Phylis Gardner presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Miss Judy Mays.

Prior to departing on a wedding trip to Dallas and other points of interest, Mrs. Trollinger donned a three-piece brown and white suit. The newlyweds will make their home at 4102

Couple To Mark Anniversary Date In White Deer

Mr. and Mrs. William Byron Carey of White Deer will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Sept. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey were wedded Sept. 1, 1917, in the parlor of the J. M. McCoy home in White Deer, with the Rev. McCoy performing the ceremony. Miss Kate Moss, now Mrs. Neal Edwards, served as maid of honor, and Doc Christopher served as best man. Mr. Carey borrowed a car for their wedding trip to Pampa to see a "moving picture show."

Mr. and Mrs. Carey have lived in White Deer for all 50 years, with the exception of a few months.

Mr. Carey was employed by the Santa Fe Railway for 42 years and served as station agent most of that time until his retirement in 1958. In addition Mr. Carey was engaged in farming their land south of White Deer.

Mrs. Carey was a homemaker and was active in the First Baptist Church. She served as Woman's Missionary president and teacher of many Sunday school classes through the years. She is presently serving as teacher of the TEL class.

Since May of this year Mr. Carey has been seriously ill and has been confined to the Santa Fe Hospital at Albuquerque, N. M. Mrs. Carey is now in the same hospital. Both are improving and are expected to be at home in White Deer very soon.

Because of their parents' illness, the children—Marion B. Carey of Pampa, Mrs. C. L. Anderson of Amarillo, Mrs. J. B. Milligan of Dallas and William E. Carey of Omaha, Neb.—will honor the couple later in the year with an open house.

Vows Said in Rice University Chapel

Mrs. Michael E. Maguire
...nee Miss Mary Ann Henderson

Vows uniting Miss Mary Ann Henderson and Michael E. Maguire in matrimony were pledged at 7 p.m. last night in Rice University Memorial Chapel, Houston, with the Rev. J. Frank Schulman officiating the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Henderson, Amarillo. Mr. Trollinger, a junior at West Texas State, is employed by Amarillo Globe News.

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended the bride included a shower on July 27 in the Church of the Nazarene and a shower on Aug. 7 given in Central Baptist Church.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gardner and Tonia of Aurora, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Larry Trollinger of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Mays and family of Perroyton, Mrs. LaDon Spradlin and Steve, Scott and Stacy of Tulsa, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Garland Lamd and family of Lubbock, Doug Thompson and Gay Lynn of Guyton, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Thompson of Guyton, Okla., Mrs. Florence Perkins and Mrs. Claude Mitchusson and Mike and Patsy of Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Scott of Altenda, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thompson and family and Mrs. Nettie Roger and Bill of Shamrock and Mr. and Mrs. Tim Crump and David Maher of Amarillo.

son of Minot, N. D. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Maguire, Jr. 1900 N. Russell.

The alcove behind the altar of the chapel was banked with white gladioli and asters.

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a designer's gown of delicate ivory silk organza with re-embroidered alencon lace over the taffeta fitted bodice. Featuring an oval neckline, the gown had short tight fitting sleeves edged in lace. The floor length A-line skirt extended into a full circular bouffant train embellished with a motif of re-embroidered alencon lace. The delicate ivory shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a small crown encrusted with pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls worn by her mother. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue, and wore a six-pence in her shoe.

Miss Candace Borland of Houston, college roommate of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length unfitted gown of chartreuse chiffon and organza overlay. Her headdress was fashioned of yellow carnations. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and carnations.

Mr. Maguire served his son as best man. Ushers were Julian C. Williams of Houston and Joe Berly Henderson, brother of the bride.

Mrs. R. V. Talmage of Houston, organist, provided traditional wedding music, including "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell. (See VOWS, Page 20)

Mid-Afternoon Ceremony Solemnized

Mrs. Douglas Michael Rapstine
... nee Miss Jennifer Francine Rodrigue

Miss Jennifer Francine Rodrigue became the bride of Douglas Michael Rapstine in a mid-afternoon ceremony at St. Alphonsus Catholic Church, McComb, Miss., on Aug. 12. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo H. Rodrigue of McComb and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rapstine of White Deer.

Rev. Charles Seater performed the double-ring ceremony. The bridal party was flanked by standing baskets of yellow gladioli and white majestic daisies. Candelabra entwined in ivy and an arrangement of majestic daisies decorated the main altar.

Music was presented by Mrs. John Conn, organist, who accompanied Miss Edina Rodrigue and James Bickham, vocalists. Selections before the ceremony were "O Perfect Love," sung by Miss Rodrigue, and "The Wedding Prayer," sung by Mr. Bickham, who also sang a portion of Schubert's "Ave Maria" at the end of the ceremony as the bride placed a single yellow rose on the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie covered by a cage of English net appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace. A small peau de soie bow accented the empire waist. The cap sleeves and square neckline of the gown were also trimmed in re-embroidered lace. A floor-length veil of candlelight silk illusion covered the wattleau train of peau de soie. The bride's fingertip veil fell from a bandeau of pearl encrusted flowers of matching re-embroidered lace.

As the traditional "something old" the bride wore a gold cross that had formerly belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother. The bride wore a string of pearls, gift from the bridegroom as something new. She also wore a blue garter made by a friend.

The bride's bouquet was formed of yellow roses surrounded by stephanotis which cascaded to a point.

Preceding the bride to the altar as her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Angela Rodrigue. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Rapstine of White Deer, Miss Martha Reeves of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Malcolm Nunnery of New Orleans, La., and McComb. They wore floor-length gowns of yellow dotted swiss trimmed in daisy lace and knotted lace. The bridesmaids carried nosegays of white daisies and the maid of honor's nosegay was of yellow roses and white daisies. In their hair all wore yellow looped ribbon bows trimmed with live daisies.

Miss Kristie Rapstine, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. The bridegroom's nephew, Michael Rapstine, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Philip Rapstine, as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Gregory Rapstine of Claude, John Hill Jr. of Houston and Rags Watkins of McComb, Miss.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Andrew Jackson Room of the Holiday Inn. The bride's table held a three-tiered wedding cake crested with a live miniature of the bride's bouquet and decorated with yellow roses and white daisies. Silver candelabra flanked the cake and garlands of greenery decorated the table. The walls were strung with daisy chains and greenery. Serving the cake were Miss Ada Cecile Rodrigue, Miss Patsy Rooney, and Miss Teresa Rodrigue. Mrs. P. H. Rodrigue Jr. poured the bride's punch, and Bette Rogers poured the bridegroom's punch.

Music for the reception was provided by Miss Glynda Alford who was assisted by Miss Nell Simmons. Presiding at the guest register was Mrs. Floyd Alford.

Tea girls were Mrs. W. M. Hawkins and Misses Mary Anne Rodrigue, Janie Juve, Linda Townes, Eileen Conn and Robyn Womack. Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. W. S. Blue, Miss Edina Rodrigue and Mr. P. H. Rodrigue Jr.

For a wedding trip to New Orleans and the Gulf Coast, the bride chose a suit of otter rayon and silk accented in dark green and wore matching green accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

On the eve of the wedding, a rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at the Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Berly in Houston. The bride's table was covered with an embroidered white linen cloth and was centered with an arrangement of white roses and silver candelabra. The two-tiered white cake was decorated with pale pink rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Miss Robin Henderson, sister of the bride, served punch, and Miss Susan Maguire, sister of the bridegroom, served cake. Registering guests was Miss Frances Henderson, bride's sister, with Mrs. Doris Moore of Houston assisting.

For a honeymoon trip to points in New Mexico, the bride wore a blue and white double-breasted paisley linen suit with white accessories. She wore a white rose corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet. The couple will enter graduate school at the University of Indiana.

Out-of-town guests attending the ceremony were Mrs. Persis Henderson of Austin, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. J. B. Maguire of Shreveport, bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Frances Gilfoil, Mary and Mason of Lafayette, La.; Miss Myrtle Drake of Dallas; Dr. and Mrs. John H. Childers and Joan of Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turk, Les, Russell and Bruce of Pasadena.

The bride, a 1963 graduate of Katy High School, received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Rice University. She was an active member of the Rice Players and a member of the university band. The bridegroom, a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School, graduated from Rice University. He also was active in the Rice Players and served as a Rice Fellow during his senior year.

A Journey We Must All Take!

WHAT WILL BE YOUR GUIDE?

M. F. (Mid) McKnight, dynamic evangelist, teacher and world traveler, will be teaching a television film series of Bible study lessons, August 28th through September 1st from 9:00 PM to 10:00 PM nightly over KGNC-TV. The magnificently illustrated series covers the Bible and is profound yet made simple by the teacher, McKnight.

The five lessons are titled:

1. "IN THE BEGINNING" — Gen. 1:1 In the beginning God created...Is there contradiction between the Bible and modern science? Creation is made exciting as the teacher explores this question and the earliest history of man.
2. "THE LAW OF MOSES" — Why was the law of Moses given? What is our responsibility to the Ten Commandments?
3. "THE LIFE OF JESUS" — Is Jesus Christ the only hope of the world? What is God's great love?
4. "THE BEGINNING OF CHRISTIANITY" — Where did Christianity have its beginning? What is the relationship of the church to human salvation? Explore the answers to these questions with Mid McKnight.
5. "CONVERSIONS TO CHRISTIANITY" — What did the people of the New Testament age do to become Christians? Has there been any change? Is it possible to reproduce 1st Century Christianity today?

Astrological Forecast

By CAROL RIGNER

FOR SUNDAY, AUG. 27: GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very strange and odd Sunday and one in which you can tune in on what is best for you in the days ahead if you avoid the confusing and deceptive conditions which are otherwise about you. Make a point to be with those who are lily-minded in their concepts and who enjoy art, music, color and culture. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — In k.m. you hit on some timely ideas that can give you added income, but be sure you are practical about them or tonight you wonder what it was all about. Study into right sources. Get needed data. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Think over in the morning what you truly desire to accomplish and then get wheels in motion quickly toward such ends. Be somewhat selfish for a change. Monetary matters are best handled later in the day. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Be sure to show gentility to all today and help them to feel better, as well as keep out of trouble yourself. Even if you do have something to clear up with another person, await a better time. Be sure of your facts. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Try not to feel so imposed upon if you want to weep. It's only a mood, anyway. Be more objective in your thinking. Assert a little will-power and you can run your life as you really want it to be. LOVE (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be careful not to do anything that would ruin the friendships you now enjoy. Show that you appreciate them instead. Be the one to help them in their particular interests on the day free from regular work. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — You had better sit down and go over your bills and one which you should pay first tomorrow. It is better to stay pretty much at home on this day, for several reasons. Get busy with some favor you have promised another. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Spend some time analyzing your finest talents and think how to best commercialize on them in the days ahead. You can hit on a plan that is most adaptable to your needs. Talk it over with close ties. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — It is better to follow your intuition preferably over the suggestions of others, and in tune with your own good judgment. Don't show weakness, where it is concerned. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Doing something on this day to gain more approval of associates is wise and you will over-estimate your own worth. Any contentious attitude with others brings ill will. Use diplomacy. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — It behooves you to be of real service to high-

Accesso-Touches Provide Total Look

The gayest, zippiest accesso-touches to put college wardrobes in the A-plus category are those that provide a total look. So a noted accessory creator has come up with a bevy of varsity fashions, each one individually winning its letter for adding up to collegiate chic.

Since pants suits are the look that the young set is demanding these days, the answer to turning trousers into a smart unit via a collection of pants topping to coordinate with both solids and patterns is offered. Jackets take the lead in their many varied interpretations from the bush jacket to the immaculately tailored blazers and cut-aways, but however they are shaped, they are always styled to "suit." Looking as if it might have stepped straight out of the Scotch heather is the neat little wool jacket that comes in an assortment of authentic clan plaids and is brightly buttoned with a trio of brass buttons marching smartly down the front. Snappy partnering for skinny pants as well as a mini skirt or culottes, the jacket is guaranteed to pipe its way into prominence on many a campus country wide. As an extra added attraction, a vest in the same plaid to wear beneath the jacket, refuting the charge that there is a crowd, for in this case, three — jacket and vest plus trousers of her choice — add up to a smart fashion. Other jackets in similar borrowed-from-the-Loys silhouettes come in all of the fall-oriented colors, taking on added piquancy with their novel trim treatment. The bush jacket too puts in an appearance for varsity doings for Autumn '67. Always in crisp poplin, these handsome toppers owe their inspiration to the military, are sure to please the fashion-minded coed whether they accompany a pair of pants or a short - short skirt. Later variations of "top" fashion for college are capes such as the long "London Bobby", authentically clasped close to the throat with a button and gilt chain and done in Melton cloth for chilly days or water-repellant poplin for the rain. Sweaters and shells, like their

Mrs. Gray Named Queen of TOPS

SKELLYTOWN (SPL)— Skellytown Slimmers TOPS Club met Tuesday evening in the IOOF Hall with their leader, Mrs. Mary McCloud, presiding. Members were weighed in by the weight-recorder and roll call was answered by weight lost or gained.

Mrs. Opal Gray was crowned queen of the week and Mrs. Odell Hassler received the pig. A total of 6½ pounds was lost and 11½ pounds were gained. Mrs. Mary McKissick was reported ill. She's in Highland General Hospital. During the social hour following the business meeting — the group enjoyed games. There were 12 members present. Next meeting a new contest will start for the members.

MILDEST SHAMPOO

The process of straightening causes hair to become delicate, even more so than bleaching. For that reason it should be treated to the mildest shampoo possible. Be sure to rinse hair thoroughly and always use warm (never hot) water and set hair while it is still wet, using the largest rollers possible.

poorly by unexpected turn of events. Be very broadminded and get out of that rut. Take all in your stride. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Pats maybe quite disappointing, but you have more devotion from the one you love to effect this. Get out to social fun and associate any actors you might have made in the past along such lines. Be more polite above diacrum. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — You might inadvertently break some law that pertains to you today, but an associate quickly comes to your aid. Be certain to keep any promises you might have made. Do not permit temptation to get the best of you. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — If another tries to force you into some plan ahead of time, be firm and carry through with whatever is vital to you right now. Some new friend could prove troublesome also. Handle with kid gloves. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Showing a happy exterior to others will dispel any rumors that you are not doing as well as they think you are. Be more practical. A little gift for one you love can smooth the way for you in p.m. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Do not permit your partners to disturb your plans and then be sure kin goes along with them very enthusiastically. Be sure that you prove you are practical, persistent. Then you succeed where you have failed before.

broons and rich greens, while the mini - foulards are handsome enough to inspire many a man on campus to wear his girl's scarf tucked into his own pocket. And because the college lass loves the muffled look, mufflers that run the gamut from vividly striped long and narrow vests to "mad" wools, imported from France, their colors a deliberate mix of off-beat shades, their patterns bold checks and broad stripes are provided. To top it all off hats for the fashion-minded are offered regardless of hair length. Newest look is the "Ruffian", a rakish cap of British inspiration, its long visor pulled to the side. In clan plaids as well as solid colors, it can be mixed or matched as the wearer will. Other headgear is knitted, such as berets, plaided, striped or pom-pomed dead-center on top, and for truly cold weather or ski buffs, there are snug hoods and caps that completely wrap up the head, however they are shaped.

Hugh Downs, Sun Rise Together

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEU YORK (NEA) — It was the time of day referred to by Sky Masteron in "Guys and Dolls" as "a couple of deals before dawn." New York's Central Park was serene in the half-light and the Manhattan traffic was still dozing.
In a large, comfortable apartment, overlooking the park, Hugh Downs was dressed in his well-tailored, go-to-work clothes. He had risen at 4:15 a.m. and was having a second cup of coffee before heading for the NBC studios for a two-hour stint before the cameras for the daily Today show.

"You know, during the days with Jack Paar I would have said I was a night person," Hugh told a visitor who was going to follow him for the day. "Then, abruptly I took on this schedule. It took me three weeks to adjust, but I did it by brute force. I'm up at 4:14 every day and I go to bed by 9 p.m. On weekends I find I am able to sleep to some jolly hour like 5:45 a.m."

HUGH DOWNS who covers the morning television scene with the Today show and Concentration, likes to get away from it all by soaring into the wild blue yonder.

'Ice Station Zebra' Has A Left-Handed Set

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — The power of imagination, I thought, was inspecting the set MGM has built for "Ice Station Zebra," a reasonably precise copy of a nuclear sub. Prowling through the passages of the USS Tigerfish, I began to feel a sensation of movement, of roll of a ship.
At the next gap, I looked out — and it wasn't imagination. The entire set was tilting. The technicians had built it on a huge platform, and up and down it went.
"Reasonably precise" is a fair statement of the accuracy of the set. Retired naval submariner Capt. John M. Connolly, serving as technical adviser for the film, pointed out a few discrepancies from reality. There was the question of a wall of instruments which was out of place, for one thing.

"This is a left-handed sub," Connolly said, but he added that only a submariner would be able to spot the deviations. "This one is a composite of the Skate, the Nautilus and the Permit. But it will look great to the public."

On one stage is the main set — the control room, crew's quarters, wardrooms. On another stage are the engine room and torpedo rooms, the latter built in a tank because they become flooded at a dramatic point in the script.

On a third stage — which once housed Esther Williams' swimming pool — they are building a replica of the north pole, or somewhere close by. This is where the Tigerfish sticks its sail — the tall, central part of the vessel — through the ice. The ice will be applied over a wooden skeleton on rollers, so when the sail comes up, the ice (made of plastic) will roll back.

The sail itself will be counterweighted to allow it to rise — five tons of concrete and five 1,200-pound "headache balls" (round iron weights) will do the trick.

There will also be outdoor scenes shot on a back lot, and tons of marble dust will double as snow. This worries Ernest Borgnine, one of the stars, because he doesn't think marble dust will do the lungs any good. But the special effects department says he needn't worry — the marble dust will be wet down so it won't become airborne, and only a plastic dust will sail through the air in storm sequences.

With Borgnine in this are Rock Hudson, Patrick McGeehan and Jim Brown. "Ice Station Zebra" was originally set to be filmed a year ago — with Gregory Peck, David Niven and Karl Malden — but script troubles delayed it and a whole new cast had to be found. This one isn't as appealing as the first but the best they could get.

For McGeehan — television's Secret Agent — this is his first gainful employment in the United States. He's adjusting quite nicely to California living, with his wife and children sharing the burdens. So far, the only major problem is that Mrs. McGeehan forgot where she was when she was out driving, and nearly turned into the wrong lane, as though she were still in London.

"It was a near thing," McGeehan says.

Vicki Lawrence, an 18-year-old singing comedienne, will be a regular on Carol Burnett's Monday hour for CBS. Some of the material she will play her sister in a series of sketches.

If you again watch that movie classic, "The Wizard of Oz," this season you'll find it on your NBC network station instead of on CBS. The latter presented it nine times from 1956 through 1967. NBC picked up the property at a hefty increase in price when MGM's contract with CBS ran out. NBC will have it on the air after the first of the year.

The next old Broadway musical hit to get the video treatment is "Kismet," which will be a 90-minute special on ABC Oct. 24. Jose Ferrer and Anna Maria Albertini have the top roles, first interpreted in the original Broadway production in 1953 by Alfred Drake and Doretta Morrow.

Singing actress Leslie Uggams, star of Broadway's "Hallelujah, Baby," will go back to her original medium, television, sometime during the 1967-68 season via an exclusive contract with the ABC network for which she will do a special.

Nervous Don Knotts will star in his own comedy special for CBS on Oct. 26. His guests on the one-hour program will be Andy Griffith and Juliet Prowse.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself.

Monday Is Red Letter Day

Tomorrow is a red letter day on the calendar for Texas motorists.

Changes are that a huge batch of widely varied legislation which goes into effect tomorrow is going to affect you.

A large number of traffic safety, driver licensing and motor vehicle safety inspection laws enacted at the last session of the legislature go into effect Monday.

The remainder of the new legislation goes into effect Jan. 1. Certainly if the average citizen isn't aware of the impact the new laws are going to have, Texas teenagers are.

Hoping to squeeze under the wire before the effective date of the law raising age limits for driver licenses, teenagers throughout the state have swamped examining stations to take tests.

The legislation, which has been called the biggest batch affecting traffic safety ever passed in Texas-Driver's license revisions are the first basic changes made in the state's driver licensing law since 1941.

Details of the new law were carried in a special story in Friday's Pampa News.

A Wall for Vietnam?

Unbelievable as it may sound, the great national debate now raging between the bomb-less and bomb-more partisans may be entirely academic to the people who will be most directly affected by its outcome.

According to some observers of the Vietnam war, the North Vietnamese long ago wrote off Hanoi, Haiphong and every other modern and industrial transportation target the nation possesses.

Whether or not the port of Haiphong is eventually sealed, whether or not the North Vietnamese air force is completely knocked out of action and its bases destroyed, whether or not all bombing restrictions are lifted, the air war will have little effect on the course of the real war on the ground, according to this assessment of North Vietnamese strategy.

For this is not a war pitting the industrial might of two nations against one another. It is a war being fought by small units of soldiers using small arms in small-scale actions in which a small nation has, so far, shown itself capable of slugging it out with the largest.

No amount of bombing can hope to stop the movement of men and material needed to keep this kind of war going. Only invasion of North Vietnam—something no one has seriously proposed as yet — and actual seizure of the infiltration routes into South Vietnam could do that.

But even then the upshot would likely be to convert what is now a guerrilla war in only half the country into an even more bitterly contested guerrilla war involving both Vietnam— with the added nightmare of military infiltration from Red China.

There may be another alternative, however — to build a wall of steel and flesh, guns and mines and detection devices around the border of South Vietnam to plug these infiltration holes.

Up until now, the idea has been rejected as too difficult, too impractical, too costly, requiring too many men.

The bombing is hurting North Vietnam, we are constantly told and yet the level of reinforcement in the south constantly rises, as does the need for more and more U.S. troops to counter it.

It is at least possible that if some of the terrific effort and expense that are being devoted to blustering the North Vietnamese countryside were put into fashioning an effective barrier between north and south, the question of bombing would become academic in Washington as well as Hanoi.

The Trashalachian Range

The man who invents a better garbage disposer will find the world beating a well-littered path to his door.

One engineer, Elmer R. Kasser of New York University, suggests that communities pile up man-made hills of garbage and trash, cover them over with soil, plant trees and perhaps construct a restaurant and scenic lookout on the top. He says one such hill is already being built near Frankfurt, Germany.

As for the garbage on the restaurant, it will no doubt go into the making of another hill nearby; . . . and another. . . and another.

Sssh-h-h-h!

An insurance company in Lansing, Mich., has instituted a "quit hour" among its employees.

From the time work starts at 8 a.m., until 9 a.m., everyone ignores everyone else, no one walks around, no interdepartment contacts are made and no outgoing phone calls are allowed.

The quiet hour is said to have greatly increased efficiency by eliminating umpteen man hours of work postponing small talk. Other companies are reported to be interested in the plan.

If the idea spreads, it will be tough on those who like to gab, even in the early morning. But for the surly ones among us who can't stand ourselves, much less our fellow human beings, until sometime in mid-morning, it sounds great.

BERRY'S WORLD

Free Radio Is Potent Foe of Communism

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) —One reason for Communist strength in Vietnam today is that for 10 crucial years the Reds had overwhelming superiority in propaganda — including radio propaganda.

Vietnamese heard the Communist line day in and day out. There was little to counter it.

The same situation was held in northeastern Thailand, where Communists are building strength. Though there is a Thai government station in the area, this effort is outgunned by the Communists.

This Communist propaganda superiority exists in many parts of the world.

At this time, therefore, it is tragic that Free Cuba Radio has gone off the air — for lack of funds. The operation beamed 13 hours a day of information to Latin America through stations in Miami, New Orleans, Santo Domingo and Key West.

Over the past seven years, its programs have helped keep hope — and sabotage — alive in Cuba.

Listeners in such Latin Communist target countries as Venezuela, Bolivia, Columbia, Argentina and Mexico have voluntarily organized groups, gone out into the countryside to counter Red propaganda among the farmers.

The programs have received letters from 45 countries, it blanketed Latin America's 20 countries and the islands in the Caribbean.

Students, labor unions, women's groups and government officials have written in giving the programs credit for getting out the vote in elections in countries from Chile to the Dominican Republic.

What Free Cuba Radio did in the main was to attempt to get people on their own, without outside help, to solve their own problems in a democratic way by local action. The stations encouraged local groups to work for democratic elections and democratic institutions in their own way. The stations did not enter into local politics — though they gave the facts on communism.

Yet this program over all cost probably less than $300,000 a year.

Probably the major achievement of Free Cuba Radio has been to help keep up the morale of hundreds of thousands of Cubans — who might have otherwise lost hope completely.

The programs have carried bread and butter advice to Cubans under Castro — techniques mothers could use to unbrainwash their children when they'd come home from hours of Communist drilling in Castro's schools, details on how to sabotage when cutting sugar cane, when riding in buses, at work in a factory and suggestions on how to hold up under Red pressures.

Official U.S. government propaganda stations will continue to operate programs beamed to Latin America. But there are many things a privately operated group of stations can do that the U.S. government can't. Private stations can be a great deal franker for one thing. They give non-official point of view. They don't have to be lukewarm for fear of diplomatic repercussions.

It is unfortunate that it is cheaper and more effective to spend more energy and funds in encouraging the people in other countries to build the institutions that will fight communism. Radio by itself, will not prevent Vietnam. But some radio programs can help.

New Campaign Fund Being Raised To Aid Senate 'Doves' Facing Tough Re-election Battles

WASHINGTON — A large private campaign fund is being raised nationwide to aid Senate "doves" opposing President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

Known as the "1968 Campaign Fund," the new political money-raising committee is headed by poet-dramatist Archibald MacLeish, the controversial former librarian of Congress, who has been closely associated with peace groups for many years.

As a starter, the MacLeish group set a pre-election year goal of $50,000 for each of these senators and is now in the process of sending out 100,000 letters as its initial fund-raising effort.

Another mass mailing will be made later to seek money on the same basis for Senators William Fulbright, D-Ark., Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, Joseph Clark, D-Pa., Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and George Aiken, R-Vt. Other groups, like the ultra-liberal Committee for an Effective Congress, also have agreed to concentrate on collecting funds for the "peace bloc" senators.

THE ANTI-WAR CAMPAIGN — Significantly, the MacLeish group is stressing three political important points in their fund-raising letter, as follows:

- 1. Contributions will be needed from the whole country to finance the Campaigns of these Senate "doves" because of strong opposition developing in their home states. 2. These senators have taken the lead in trying to force a public confrontation on Vietnam with the administration. 3. Defeat of these senators in 1968 would be a disaster to the growing peace movement in the U.S. In appealing for funds for Senators Church and McGovern, the MacLeish group linked its request directly to their peace-bloc activities in the Senate, stating: "The most urgent need, at the moment, is for a searching, courageous, public confrontation of the Vietnam issue. The failure of the present administration to impose a national consensus by pronouncement without debate and press release after action proves that much; never in my memory has American opinion been so divided and confused. "Senate debate on Vietnam has been slow to begin — doubtless because the third greatest of American wars was never declared — and has already been spasmodic, engaging the outspoken concern of a small minority only — senators like Church, McGovern, Fulbright, Aiken, Clark, Gruening, and Nelson."

THE CAMPAIGN BLUES — Pointing out the danger of defeat facing most Senate "doves," the letter warns: "Now, as the election of 1968 approaches, it appears highly possible that this minority may be further and perhaps drastically reduced — by the coincidence that brings almost every leading Senate 'dove' up for reelection.

"They may be particularly vulnerable to candidates who promise to back the President on the war. This is true of the two youngest, who are also, for that reason, the two most promising — Senators Frank Church (43), of Idaho, and George McGovern (45), of South Dakota. "To hold their own against well-financed opposition, Senator Church and Senator McGovern will need contributions from the country as a whole. I hope you will make as large a contribution as you can, payable to the 1968 Campaign Fund."

A close friend of MacLeish, Harvard economist John Kenneth Galbraith, has been touring the country urging student and peace groups to support the re-election of all anti-war senators, and to help send "doves" to the Democratic National Convention.

THE PRESIDENTIAL BALL — President Johnson is making his own plans to raise a huge campaign fund this year for the 1968 election.

The President's Club has gotten the green light to hold a lavish ball in Washington October 7 to honor the President and Mrs. Johnson.

Tickets for this gala affair, which will include dinner, will cost $1,000. More than 5,000 invitations are being sent to past and present members of the President's Club.

Decision to hold the elaborate fund-raising ball was made by President Johnson. He acted after his political advisers split sharply on whether the timing was right for such a lavish affair because of the growing Vietnam war controversy and the administration's request for a tax boost.

Encouraged by the success of President's Club affairs in California, Texas, and New York, which got the Democrats out of debt for the first time since 1964, the President decided the October ball was the most attractive way to launch the party's fund-raising activities for the 1968 campaign.

A thought for the day — Crockett once said: "I leave this rule for others when I am dead. Be always sure you're right, then go ahead."

Pull Up A Chair

The little red schoolhouse is as outdated as flintlock muskets. Today in most cities the authorities erect a school building wherever they can find the land. And in New York where sites are scarce, they just build them skyward. One of New York's newer schools was built over the Hutchinson River Parkway, one of the Big Town's busiest highways, and the sound of commuter traffic underneath the classrooms is not as distracting to the youngsters as the warbling of birds in the apple trees outside yesteryear's little red schoolhouse. Another planned school in Manhattan will be the first three floors of a 30-story apartment building. All the pupils will have to do is take the elevator downstairs to reach their classrooms.

Today's smile: One fellow asked another: "How long did it take your wife to learn to drive?" The other replied: "It will be 10 years about the middle of September."

Some scientists are so certain that future astronauts will actually "live" in outer space they are already planning houses for them. NASA has patented a design for a huge three-winged "house" that would erect itself in space after an unmanned launch. Briefly, the wings would fold to form a smooth cylinder at launching and fold out later in space. If that proves practicable, it's entirely possible that some of our future space explorers will literally be living on "Cloud 9." What an address!

Surgery During Pregnancy

Q — I am 47 years old and in good health I am expecting my first baby. Is there any danger in pregnancy at my age? Where can I get a good book about pregnancy?

A — In women who are expecting their first child after they are 35, labor is likely to be prolonged and difficult. For this reason most obstetricians advise that they have a Cesarean operation.

Several books have been written to answer the many questions a woman may want to ask her doctor. One of the best is "Expectant Motherhood," by N. J. Eastman (Little, Brown and Co.), now in its fourth edition. A valuable feature of this book is that it explains away many groundless fears and superstitions connected with childbirth.

Q — Is it possible to become pregnant while breast feeding a baby? Is it possible for a pregnant woman to have a operation without hurting the child?

A — It is possible but very rare for a woman who has not menstruated since her last baby was born, to become pregnant. This is especially true if she has not had to give the baby supplemental bottle feedings.

Although it is preferable to postpone an operation until after delivery if possible, there is no special risk in performing a necessary operation at any stage of pregnancy, thanks to modern preoperative care, wide choice of anesthetics and improved surgical techniques.

Q — I have heard that some couples have incompatible blood types that make it impossible for them to have a child. My blood type is O and my husband's is AB. Could this be the reason we have not had any children?

A — No. Incompatible blood types are no bar of pregnancy but incompatibility of Rh types may cause blood destruction in the newborn unless certain precautions are taken.

Q — When my husband had mumps it affected one of his testicles. Will this prevent our having a child?

A — No. Nature's factor of safety — two testicles instead of one — would leave your husband with normal sperm production unless there is some other cause of sperm deficiency.

Q — Can my being exposed to mumps in the early stages of pregnancy harm my baby?

A — If you were already immune to mumps or failed to catch this disease in spite of your exposure, there would be no danger.

The people who dig up statistics are always coming up with disturbing alleged facts. For example one man now contends amateur musicians are being developed at the rate of about two and one-half million per year.

This includes stompers, swingers, tooters, groaners, shriekers, beaters, howlers, and all noisemakers that pass for musical entertainers.

You can't take these kids lightly. It may be that you will walk into your bank some morning for a loan. It may also be that the person who has controlling interest in that bank will be the kid you chased off your sidewalk for tooting a gas pipe only three months previous.

Many of us old retdreads were reared under modern day Supreme Court guidelines. In that area, anyway. The rule in that day was One Boy, One pair of shoes. That was from cotton-picking time to cotton-picking time.

We tooted a horn, or plunked a French harp out in the barn. But our musical talent was not marketable.

The real concern about present day development of modern musicians, is in the fact that while the world is trying to sit on the lid with birth control, the slack or gap between ordinary citizens is getting shorter. It would be bad if it ended up with everybody doing some kind of musical for pay.

There is one thing that we old timers can do to lengthen the gap between birth control and developing musicians. Let every old-timer get behind the birth explosion, and root for more births. This can be done in the following ways by us old heads—

- Number one—Give full lip service to more births. Number two—Well, as to number two—, there is a great deal to be said in favor of Number one.

YOUTH MEETS A NEED Republic USA must gain some greater force than it has yet marshaled in order to save our own liberty and the free world. Warmth of oratory combined with the exuberance of youth can meet this critical need. If this great Youth Freedom Speakers mission to find, develop and encourage outstanding patriotic speakers does not alone save liberty, it will not have been in vain; it will be found to have helped greatly when safety for freedom is attained.

It is becoming apparent to the most complacent that "it can happen here." Freedomists cannot afford to spend valuable time telling each other how great is the menace. They already know enough to understand that helpful activities must be pursued if our liberty is to be rescued.

Our Republic can be saved. When it is preserved for the next five years, it is safe for the foreseeable future. Stake's could never be higher, and anyone of high ability can well afford to devote time and effort to decide the life or death of our Republic.

There may now be 300 Youth Freedom Speakers, some of whom have been on national television. Soon there may be 1,000 and then 10,000. When there are 100,000 the church will be saved from its foes and communism will collapse.

The young speakers and the adults serving on YFS Counselor Boards are participating in a movement that can halt the erosion of our liberties and bring new hope to the world. A Youth Freedom Speakers Chapter is needed in every sizable city in the United States.

60TH YEAR

World Oil Use And Output Up in 1967

HOUSTON (SpI) — World demand for petroleum will average about 36.7 million barrels daily in 1967, an increase of 2.6 million barrels or 7.6 percent over 1966, World Oil magazine forecasts.

This gain in oil consumption is expected in spite of some disruption and slowing down of oil movements following the Israeli-Arab war.

The total will reflect increases of 5 percent in the United States to 12,423,000 barrels daily and 9 percent in other countries to 24,283,000 barrels per day.

These estimates have been made by the magazine in its latest annual International Outlook issue, currently being distributed.

It has been necessary for the petroleum industry to make a world-wide readjustment in the pattern of oil movements because of the war-caused troubles in the Middle East and North Africa. Conditions still are unsettled, and they may remain so at least for several months. But the industry has managed to keep oils moving to consumers, and for this year a whole no material interruption in the perennial growth of oil consumption is indicated.

In 1966 total demand for petroleum in the world averaged 34.1 million barrels per day, an increase of 2.4 million barrels or 7.6 percent over 1965. Demand in the U.S. was up 4.7 percent to 11,831,000 barrels dai-

September Oil Allowable Stays At August Level

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Noting an increase in crude oil supplies nationally, the Texas Railroad Commission today voted to hold the state's oil allowable for September at the same level as August.

The commission set a market demand factor of 54 per cent and an allowable of 4,075,231 barrels daily. The commission estimated daily production at 3,314,000 but some oil men disputed that figure.

Commission chairman Jim Langdon noted that the U. S. Bureau of Mines' estimate of demand and purchase nominations for September are both up but said crude stocks also have been increasing.

Most of the major purchasing companies asked for the same amount of oil they requested this month, and urged the Commission to hold the allowable steady or decrease it slightly.

Several oil men testified that the Middle East emergency has begun to strain the Texas-oil industry. They also said that an explosion and fire in a Cities Service refinery at Lake Charles, La., has caused further dislocation in the Texas industry, particularly in the refining of sour crude from West Texas.

Elmer Patman of Superior Oil Co. again criticized the commission for carrying "a 2.5 million barrel paper allowable."

He said the 54 per cent market demand factor misleads the public into believing the state is producing at only 54 per cent of capacity.

"Actually we have no reserve production capacity," Patman said.

27.1 percent, Russia 15.6 percent, Venezuela 9.9 percent, Africa 8.1 percent, and Canada 2.9 percent.

Wildcatters Show Increase In Oil, Gas Discoveries

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas wildcatters reported 11 gas discoveries and nine oil finds last week, the Texas Railroad Commission reported.

The activity gave them 325 oil and 388 gas wells so far this year compared with 269 oil and 281 gas finds in the same period a year ago.

A total of 104 oil and 20 gas completions were reported. Oil for the year compared with 4,944 a year earlier and gas wells total 1,713 so far this year compared with 1,436 to the same date in 1966.

Oil discoveries were three in the Lubbock district, two in the Corpus Christi district, and one each in the San Antonio, Kilgore, San Angelo and Wichita Falls districts.

The gas finds included seven in Corpus Christi and two each in the San Antonio and Houston districts.

Kerr-McGee, Cabot, Felmont, Essex In Offshore Drilling

OKLAHOMA CITY (SPL) — Kerr-McGee Corp. today announced that it has completed one well and drilled two others that double the length of the producing band on Block 214, Ship Shoal, offshore Louisiana.

The company said the wells are a major extension of the Block 208 Field, tested at 384 barrels of 35.90 gravity oil per day through a 10-64" choke from a sand at 10,000 feet. The No. 3 and No. 4 wells, which were drilled earlier, but not completed, contain the oil sand tested in the No. 5 well. Located along the south line of Block 214 and offsetting Block 233, the No. 3 and No. 4 wells will extend the producing band on Block 214 another two miles to an overall length of four miles. Two 12-well, self-contained drilling platforms will be constructed to develop the oil sands found in the three new wells.

Partners with Kerr-McGee in the Block 214 wells are Felmont Oil Corp., Essex Royalty Corp. and Cabot Corp.

Block 233, south offset to Block 214, was leased by Kerr-McGee, Cabot, Felmont and Sunray at the offshore sale in June.

Corrosion Detection Report Available

The Natural Gas Processors Assn. announces publication of a comprehensive report covering detection, location, and measurement of common corrosion in gas processing plants and related equipment. This report, four years in preparation, represents the cooperative work of many industry experts. It is intended as a guide for field operating and maintenance personnel whose responsibilities include the safe and economical operation of such facilities.

In addition to the detailed description of specific failures, the report is widely illustrated with photographs of various types of corrosion. Most of these are unpublished photographs released by member companies. This report represents a cross section of the experiences of the industry in applying practical inspection devices and corrosion detection methods.
