

Boycott Threatens Arab Summit Meet

By United Press International
Threats of a boycott by two of the most militant Arab leaders today cast shadows over the scheduled summit conference called to plan strategy to "eliminate the consequences of Israeli aggression" and punish alleged supporters of the Jewish state.

Both Algerian President Houari Boumediene and Syrian President Nourredin Al Atassi were said to be angered by what they felt was the growing influence of the moderates in the Arab bloc.

A government controlled weekly in Algiers said Sunday that the differences among the Arab leaders were so deep the summit meeting in Khartoum would amount to little more than "organized travels."

Hard-Line Position
Atassi also has taken a hard-line position. Damascus Radio announced last week that the ruling Ba'ath party had been called into special session to discuss the Middle East situation. As party secretary, Atassi would have to attend the congress which generally lasts from one week to 10 days.

The Arab chiefs of state meeting is scheduled to open Tuesday.

There has been no official or press reaction thus far in the Arab capitals to the repeated call over the weekend by Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba to his fellow leaders to adopt a more "realistic" policy toward Israel. His original appeal in 1965 brought immediate denunciations of "traitor," and led to a feud which was dropped only during the June 5-10 Middle East war.

In Jerusalem, Defense Minister Moshe Dayan reported to the Israeli cabinet on Saturday's cease-fire violations in which an Egyptian jet was shot down. The cabinet also announced it planned to stage next year's Israeli independence parade in Jerusalem instead of Tel Aviv.

Dayan said the Egyptian air action may have been intended to demonstrate Egypt's militancy to the Arab summit delegates.

Jordan's King Hussein was expected to be the first to arrive later today. Arab foreign ministers wound up their pre-summit skill session Sunday.

Biggest Communist Drive In Pre-Election Assault

Heated Finish Is Seen In All Viet Political Races

SAIGON (UPI) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky made his first political campaign appearance Monday and promptly tangled with hecklers over whether he said South Vietnam's militant Buddhist "struggle movement" was Communist.

Ky, running as vice presidential candidate to Chief of State Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, suggested the voters "apply our opinion in your right to vote" if they did not agree with him.

Ky wore a blue civilian suit and cream colored shoes instead of his traditional black flying uniform when he appeared with 10 other presidential and vice presidential candidates before the rally in Hue in northern South Vietnam.

Ky was heckled time and again by members of the audience of about 5,000 that left little doubt they opposed his reign as one of South Vietnam's military leaders.

One heckler asked Ky when he said the Buddhist movement was Communist. Ky denied he ever did.

"Yes, you have," came the reply from several of his listeners.

It was in Hue that Ky's paratroopers and combat police put down Buddhist-inspired rioting and disorders that verged on civil war in the spring of 1966.

Ky was greeted with a shout of "down with Nguyen Cao Ky" when he appeared. He seemed untroubled.

His running mate offered Sunday to meet and talk peace with Communist Viet Cong political leaders if they accepted certain conditions.

AUTO WORKERS DIFFICULT

Contract Offer May Be 'Unsatisfactory'

DETROIT (UPI) — The big three auto companies today put the finishing touches on initial contract offers they will present to the United Auto Workers Union Tuesday.

Two things were virtually certain: the offers would be almost identical from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler Corp. and the UAW was expected to label them "totally unsatisfactory."

A strike against whichever company is picked as a target appeared almost inevitable.

The union and the companies, after more than six weeks of unproductive bargaining, appeared as far apart as ever.

The union's demand for substantial wage increases for all workers, wage parity for Canadian workers, a guaranteed annual income, pension improvement, and other fringe benefits represented the biggest gains ever sought by the UAW.

In the last contract settlement three years ago, the union got an average package increase of about 19 cents an hour each year, totaling 57 cents for the three years. The workers also have received an additional 18 cents an hour in cost of living raises. The total package amounted to 76 cents an hour.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther has made it plain the union wants an even bigger increase this year, plus upward adjustment of the cost of living formula to reflect the erosion of the dollar caused by inflation.

The companies, however, were not expected to offer much more in the form of wage increase and have demanded downward adjustment of the cost of living formula.

UAW bargaining officials openly expressed anticipation the offers being made Tuesday would be far below their expectations.

However, the company proposals would become the paper-on-the-table which the two sides use to get down to crisis bargaining during the final week before the Sept. 6 contract deadline.

All Signs Point To School Days

Falling leaves and yellow school buses coming down the road are signs fall is on its way. Pampa teachers faculty meetings and preparations for registration are other indications school time nears.

For all Pampa students and teachers the first day of school is Wednesday. Buses will run their regular times and the cafeteria will be open, according to Dr. John Damron, school superintendent.

Pampa High School students register today and Tuesday. Junior high and elementary school students enroll Tuesday.

Faculty meetings slated Tuesday at high school, the two junior high schools and three elementary schools, Sam Houston, Baker, and Horace Mann.

Faculty meetings slated Tuesday are at Robert E. Lee Junior High School and Carver Elementary School.

Pampa Junior High School and Horace Mann Elementary School facilities meet Wednesday in their school cafeterias. Also Wednesday, Travis Elementary School teacher are planning a parent orientation for beginning parents.

Students and teachers will have their first fall holiday Monday, Sept. 4, for the Labor Day celebrations.

Cong Terror Squads Kill 600 Civilians

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist forces today followed up a weekend of nationwide terrorist attacks by blasting the largest U.S. Marine helicopter base with rockets and bombing a Marine outpost with their biggest Soviet-made guns.

At least nine Americans were killed and 105 wounded in the two attacks, bringing total casualties over the week to more than 600. Most of the dead and wounded were Vietnamese civilians.

American commanders in Saigon put their troops on an assassination alert as the Reds pushed their greatest terror campaign of the war in an attempt to disrupt South Vietnam's elections.

U.S. air and ground forces struck back at the Communists. U.S. B-52 bombers flew two missions early today inside the demilitarized zone and along its fringes where an estimated 35,000 Communist troops were reported posed for an invasion of the South. U.S. Marines also launched a ground offensive against Communists threatening northernmost Quang Tri province.

Despite cloudy weather which hampered operations, American fighterbombers flew 118 missions Sunday against targets in North Vietnam. No losses were reported.

Viet Cong guerrillas early today attacked the giant U.S. Marine helicopter base on Marble mountain near Da Nang.

Four Marines were killed and 80 wounded in the rocket attack on the helicopter base. Three helicopters were destroyed and nine damaged. The runway was ripped up and buildings damaged.

The Viet Cong who struck at four provincial capitals, a hospital and a refugee camp during the weekend, killed six civilians today on a road 75 miles north of Saigon.

A squad of Viet Cong stopped a truck and shot three men and a woman.

Youth Is Caught Near Panhandle In Stolen Car

By RON CROSS
PANHANDLE — Beckham County, Oklahoma, officers were expected to arrive here this afternoon and transport back to Sayre a Colgate, Oklahoma, youth wanted on car theft and burglary charges.

Beckham County undersheriff Richard Carmichael, of Sayre, said this morning he would be here today to take Earl Thomas Wilkins, 17, back to Sayre on charges involving prison sentences of five years or more.

Rockwell's criminal record involved only minor jail terms, usually on disturbing the peace charges.

There will be no religious service, it was said, Rockwell was a "theist," which was defined as one who believes in a supreme being, but belonged to no particular Christian church or sect.

If it comes from a hardware store — We have it, Lewis Hardware.

The youth was treated and released from a Panhandle hospital and then taken to Cass County jail.

LANDED BY ERROR

Fifteen Skydivers Lost In Lake Erie

HURON, Ohio (UPI) — Fifteen skydivers who jumped from a plane from 20,000 feet through a thick cloud layer and landed by error in Lake Erie, miles off target, were missing and feared dead today in the worst disaster in sports parachute jumping history.

The bodies of two other skydivers, including the only woman, were recovered from the lake's choppy waters.

Four of the 21 parachutists who leaped from the plane, a converted B25 World War II bomber, Sunday through thick clouds in wind gusts of more than 50 miles per hour survived.

Committee Asks Fair Adjustment On Price Parity

Rep. Bob Price of Pampa is one of six Republican members of the House Agriculture Committee's Subcommittee on Livestock and Grains who are urging Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to raise the price at which the government sells feed grains and soybeans to 100 per cent of parity. On wheat the release price should be set at full parity minus the value of domestic certificates paid for by wheat processors, the GOP group said.

Price pointed out that the present policy of the Commodity Credit Corp. is to sell its stocks of wheat and feed grains back into the market at 115 per cent of the loan level plus carrying charges. In the case of wheat, this is $1.44 per bushel, and in the case of corn it is $1.21 per bushel. In the case of grain sorghum it is $1.85 per cwt. Soybeans are released at 105 per cent of the loan level, or $2.62 per bushel.

Three Charged In Death of Woman

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Three youths were held without bond today on a charge of murdering a 19-year-old Silver City, N.M. woman whose husband told police she was slain by suspected automobile vandals.

Mrs. Ruth Brewer was shot in the head Saturday morning while with her husband, Ronald, and two friends, David and Glen Weir of Berino, N. M.

They were looking for the persons who vandalized their car. Police said Dan Tharp, 18; James Burr, 18; and Phillip Kienle, 17, all of El Paso, turned themselves in to police Sunday night and were charged with murder with malice.

Mrs. Brewer died at 9:40 p.m. Sunday.

Brewer told police a man stopped the four at a dead end dirt road in the upper valley of El Paso. He said the man blocked their way and threatened them.

During an argument, one of the unidentified men grabbed a .22-caliber pistol from one of the Weir brothers and fired it, Brewer said. The bullet struck Mrs. Brewer in the back of the head.

Weekend Traffic Death Toll Up

By United Press International
Two highway accidents that killed three persons each helped send Texas' weekend violent death toll spiraling upward.

A United Press International survey for the period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday showed at least 27 violent deaths, including 19 traffic fatalities.

The worst accidents occurred near Corsicana and near Fort Worth.

Joel Robinson, 53, of Saginaw, Tex.; Charles Zibbell, 44, of Fort Worth and Jan Marina of Fort Worth were killed in a two-car collision near Saginaw, north of Fort Worth, Friday night.

Another accident at Richland near Corsicana, took the lives of three members of a Humble, Tex., family Sunday. A 71-car freight train smashed into their car at a crossing.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Hubert and their 10-year-old daughter, Susan.

John Percival, the engineer, said he believed the family never saw the train.

In El Paso, Mrs. Ruth Brewer, 19, of Silver City, N. M., died Sunday night of a gunshot wound suffered in an altercation in El Paso's upper valley Saturday.

Donald Elden Woodruff, 25, of Pecos was killed when his car left U.S. 285 17 miles north of Pecos Sunday and overturned.

DEAR ABBY: I am 54 and have been a widow for two years now. Abby, I'm no home-wrecker, but a married man has been coming by my house to see me lately.

is obviously not the type to strain himself searching for anything. He just takes whatever is handy, I suspect that he and his "old pal" have more in common than he said they had.

Residents of Girlstown aren't like the "average American girl next door" when they come here, according to Cooper. They have been mistreated, neglected, and abused by their parents or their community and sometimes both, he said.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old boy who is a little mixed up about something that happened. A girl classmate of mine called me up one night last week at 11 o'clock. My mother answered the phone and asked her what she wanted to talk to me about.

Girlstown, located on prairie farmland nine miles south of Whiteface, and near Leveland, 200 miles from Pampa, offers an "apron string tie to the form of affection, and supervised discipline. The girls are treated as family members with privileges and responsibilities of a home atmosphere," he said.

The girl said she just wanted to talk to me, so my mother hung up without calling me to the phone. (I was home.) My mother told me it wasn't proper for a girl to call a boy, that she had never done it herself, and any girl who called boys was "boy crazy."

Adult leaders of Girlstown try "as soon as possible to get these kids back into good homes, because with 68 girls to care for, we can't give each one all the individual attention she needs," Cooper explained.

The next day, I apologized to the girl. She explained that her parents were out, that she was babysitting and just wanted someone to talk to. What is your opinion of this?

FULL OF DOUBT DEAR FULL: Your neighbor

Mrs. Horan Feted At Lefors Coffee

LEFORS (Sp) - A coffee sponsored by the WSCS of Lefors First Methodist Church was held recently in the home of Mrs. D. C. Read for Mrs. John Horan.

DEAR MIXED: It is not proper for a girl to call a boy. Girls who do, aren't necessarily "boy crazy," but they lack judgment. And even though your mother disapproved of the girl's calling you, she should have called you to the telephone without questioning the caller.

Mrs. Horan was given the coffee as a farewell get together before she and husband and daughter move to Erick, Okla., where Mr. Horan will be head football coach in the Erick school system.

DEAR ABBY: You gave "HANGING ON" the wrong advice. How can a wife be content to hang on to her husband if after 30 years of marriage he asks for a divorce?

Mrs. Horan served as president of the WSCS for the past year and has taught a church school in the elementary department. She was active in the Art and Civic club.

"Hanging On" claims she is a refined, educated woman, who at 52 could take a job as a topless waitress if she wanted to. So why not let the unhappy husband go while she is still desirable?

Those who served the coffee and rolls from a table covered with white linen cloth and centered by red roses, were Mrs. Carole Watson, Mrs. John Hollenshead and Mrs. Read. The honoree was presented a gift from her friends in the community, which was a blanket, table cloth and towel set to be used in their new home. Mrs. Watson presented the gift. Sara Lou was given a pair of dolls.

DEAR READER: You failed to take into consideration one line in her letter: "I am ashamed to say this, but I still care for him." That changes all the betting. I say that as long as a woman "still cares" for her husband, she has everything to gain and nothing to lose by hanging on.

Those attending were Mmes. Dan Johnson, Cleve Johnson, W. C. Breining, M. F. Tibbets, Ed Brownfield, Jess Graves, Boyd Smith, Louis Nathan, Margaret Chastain, D. C. Read, Carole Watson, Alex Swenn and John Hollenshead and Misses Rhonda Shipman, Kay Hollenshead and Joy Hollenshead.

Other Arab leaders expected early Tuesday in Khartoum are Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Iraqi President Abdel Rahman Aref and Abdullah Salaf of Yemen. It was still not known if Algerian President Houari Boumedienne and Syrian President Nourreddin Atassi would attend.

Informed sources said the draft agenda to be considered by the Arab chiefs was topped by a discussion of political, military and economic plans to "eliminate the consequences of Israeli aggression."

Arab leaders have been divided over the best course to follow in rebuilding after their defeat at the hands of Israel.

Other items on the agenda included: Possible Arab reprisals against nations the Arabs accuse of supporting Israel in the war. Such recommendations have included an oil embargo on American and Western Europe and the withdrawal of Arab funds from some Western banks.

Jail Inmate Asks NAACP Help

A New York Negro, being held in Gray County jail along with a companion, has written the NAACP in Wilmington, S.C. for a lawyer.

James Lee Herring, charged in last week's robbery of a service station in McLean, wrote the letter Friday asking the NAACP's help in securing an attorney.

Herring and another Negro, tentatively identified as Willie Davis, also of New York, have been charged with robbery by firearms.

Davis was first identified as Anthony T. Fiorelli until the Gray County Sheriff's office discovered the two men were driving a car stolen from a man by the name of Fiorelli in Astoria, N.Y.

Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan said he has seat off fingerprints to positively identify the pair but has had no return as yet.

Cash and Stamps Taken from Home An undetermined number of books of trading stamps and $17 in cash was reported taken and vandalism was also reported at the James C. Wright residence, 1038 S. Sumner.

The burglary and vandalism occurred between 4 p.m. Aug. 19 and 6:30 p.m. Aug. 27 according to a Pampa police report.

The Wrights were out of town and upon returning found someone had entered their home through a front room window and slashed a divan and the clothes.

Assault (Continued From Page 1) three women. A belated government report said Viet Cong machinegunners killed 15 civilians and wounded 18 more in an attack Sunday on the Teo Juay refugee hamlet.

About six hours after the bombardment of Dong Hai, an American spotter plane saw North Vietnamese artillery positions about 15 miles to the north and called in air strikes. Jet fighter-bombers destroyed two artillery positions and touched off three secondary explosions.

It was only the second time U.S. officials have confirmed use of the 152-mm cannon by the Communists. In mid-July, they were used against another Marine outpost at Con Thien.

Vietnamese government officials predicted more trouble but chief of state Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu vowed Sunday publicly to protect his capital.

Government spokesmen said a platoon of home guards was shattered by the guerrilla terror attack on Teo Quay, 273 miles northeast of Saigon. It followed a pattern of mass violence that began Sunday.

Government spokesmen said the guerrillas killed or wounded more than 500 South Vietnamese in Sunday's wave of raids that included butchering men, women and children in their hospital beds. Including the Marble Mountain attack, seven Americans were killed and 103 wounded in the 24 hours of terror.

The Viet Cong, almost desperate to spoil the election and undercut the ballot box, used even children to mount the Sunday attacks.

Mirages for sale: Despite United States opposition to Western arms sales to Latin America, France is expected to push efforts to sell Mirage jetfighters to Peru, Brazil and other countries south of the Rio Grande. French sources said Latin American military experts were deeply impressed by the performance of Israeli air force French-built Mirages during the Middle East war last June.

Moscow meddles: Look for increasing concern Russia's military aid to Nigeria. The Kremlin's surprise move into the Nigerian civil war was seen in Moscow as an attempt to cut off Nigerian oil shipments to the West and establish a new base of influence in West Africa. The reason African nations are worried: They know the next decade will see more chaos in Africa and they are not anxious to see more big power intervention in African affairs.

Philippine politics: The Philippines off-year elections are almost three months away but the political pot already is boiling hot. Political pundits say the performance of the ruling Nacionalista party in the November elections would well be a barometer for the 1968 presidential race. They note President Ferdinand E. Marcos is in the thick of the campaign to gauge whether his political stock is still high enough to win him a second term.

Bamboo curtain: Communist Chia might be trying to shut herself off from the world because of the continuing tumultuous power struggle. Sources in London suggest recent attacks on the British embassy and other missions may have been deliberately planned by Peking to force foreign diplomats to get out. The few remaining foreign

Cowboys, Packers in Dallas

By United Press International
The exhibition football season is becoming as friendly as a make-believe war.

The Los Angeles Rams struck the latest blow in the war between the leagues when they shattered the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League 50-7 Sunday.

This was a measure of atonement for the older National Football League, which just four days earlier had been humiliated when Kansas City of the AFL ripped the Chicago Bears 66-24.

It doesn't even take an inter-league scrimmage to bring on the blood, as will be evidenced tonight when the Dallas Cowboys host the Green Bay Packers in their annual exhibition. Green Bay beat the Cowboys 34-27 for the NFL championship last year and chief scout Wally Cruise warned the Packers this week to expect an "all-out war."

In other games played Sunday, Fran Tarkenton turned on his former teammates to carry the New York Giants to a 21-3 victory over the Minnesota Vikings and the Denver Broncos tripped the Oakland Raiders 21-17.

On Saturday, the New Orleans Saints won their third in a row with a 24-10 decision over San Francisco. Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 24-13, the Baltimore Colts beat Detroit 14-5 and the Washington Redskins of the NFL turned back the Boston Patriots 13-7 in another inter-league affair.

Strong Defense

The Rams took advantage of all opportunities as they converted four interceptions and a fumble into scores. They also delivered the message on defense, holding the Chargers to a net of 23 yards in the first half. After being held to a field

The Chicago White Sox, after running into trouble at the outset, rallied to win a walk-off victory over the Boston Red Sox 4-3 when Ken Berry slid directly into catcher Elston Howard's shin guards and became the final out of the game, came back to salvage the nightcap 1-0 on four 11th inning walks.

Rocky Colavito, a pinch-hitter who carried a 1-for-17 batting slump to the plate, drew a pass with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th from reliever Darrell Brandon, forcing across pinch runner Joel Horlen from third with the run that dropped Boston into second place, one percentage point behind Minnesota.

Pitcher, Catcher Collide
Brandon, who relieved Jose Santiago in the 10th after the Red Sox starter had collided with catcher Mike Ryan chasing a pop bunt, walked Duane Josephson leading off the 11th and issued an intentional pass to Smiky Burgess following a sacrifice. Josephson and Horlen, running for Burgess, both advanced on Brandon's wild pitch but Josephson was

No Clear Favorite In Wednesday's Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—A dozen 3-year-old trotters go postward in Wednesday's Hambletonian without a "lead-pipe cinch" among them, and "it should be a hell of a race to watch."

Veteran driver Ralph Baldwin who won't watch—he has to drive in it—had those observations today.
Most of the top-rated entries in the 42nd edition of the classic have taken turns beating each other this racing season.
A strapping strawberry roan, Dazzling Speed, is rated the 4-5 favorite to take the $60,000 winner's share of a total $122,650 purse, but around the two rows of stables at the Du Quoin State Fair several think someone else will be moving into the winner's circle.

Don Buford worked Brandon for a walk before Calavito took a low fast ball with a 3-1 count presented Gary Peters with his 15th victory against seven losses and lifted the Sox to within one game of the top.

The Twins took over first place with a 6-3 triumph over Cleveland. Kansas City edged Detroit 2-1 New York hammered Washington 8-2 and a scheduled doubleheader between Baltimore and California was postponed by rain.

Santiago, who allowed only three hits over 9-2-3 innings, was scheduled for X-rays on his shoulder which was injured in the collision. George Thomas, Boston utility outfielder who collected two of the Sox' four hits, also was to undergo an examination of his hand which he jammed sliding into third in the 10th.

Yastrzemski Homers Twice

Carl Yastrzemski, Boston's remarkable slugger who is playing with torn muscles in his stomach, hit a pair of solo homers to provide the winning margin in the first game.

the Twins bounced back into first at the expense of the Indians. Ted Uhlaender also singled across two runs as Merritt notched his 10th victory in 14 decisions. Jose Azcue hit a two-run homer for Cleveland in the ninth.

The Tigers fell 1½ games off the pace when Ramon Webster hit a two-run homer in the fourth, erasing a 1-0 Detroit lead achieved on Jim Northrup's 420-foot solo blast. Robert Rodriguez, making his first major league start, and Paul Lindblad combined to limit the Tigers to five hits as the A's salvaged the final game of a three-game series and tagged Joe Sparrma with his seventh loss in 20 decisions.

Tom Tresh drove in four runs with a bases loaded double and a sacrifice fly and Ruben Amaro socked a three-run homer—his first in three years—as the Yanks blasted the Senators, Phil Ortega, rushing to make the game official when rain began falling in the fifth inning, retired the first two batters but yielded two singles and a walk before Tresh broke the game open with his double. The Austin Braves beat the faltering Amarillo Sonics again Sunday, leaving the Sonics atop the Texas League by only a single game over the second place Albuquerque Dodgers.

The Dodgers ran away from the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs 17-5, unleashing a 24-hit attack that made it look as though they were shooting for the league pennant.
Luis Alcaraz slugged a three-run homer in the second inning and Byron Browne hit two homers in the first and a two-run effort in the ninth.

In other action, Arkansas' Travelers whipped El Paso's third place Sun Kings 3-1.
Tonight's slate has Dallas-Fort Worth at Albuquerque, Arkansas at El Paso and Amarillo at Austin.
Albuquerque scored almost at will, pushing across five runs in the first inning, four more in the second, one in the fifth, three in the sixth and four in the seventh. Dallas-Fort Worth contributed two errors to its demise.

Arkansas got all its runs in the eighth inning of its contest with El Paso. The Sun Kings could manage only one hit, off a parade of four Arkansas pitchers. El Paso's Tom Murphy gave up seven hits in his losing effort.

Change of Tires Wins for Brabham

MOSPORT, Ont. (UPI)—A change of tires resulted in a $10,575 windfall for Australian Jack Brabham.
The two-time world driving championship, sensing treacherous conditions ahead, wisely changed the tires on his Repco-Brabham moments before Sunday's start of the Grand Prix of Canada. Two hours, 40 minutes and 40 seconds later, at an average speed of 82.63 miles per hour, Brabham drove home the winner in Canada's first race for formula one cars.
Denis Hulme of New Zealand, driving the other Brabham, had his tires changed at the same time as his teammate and he finished second, one minute and one second behind. Hulme led the race for 54 of the 90 laps around Mosport's 2.5 mile circuit.
Californian Dan Gurney, in his own Eagle, finished third, a lap behind the two leaders. He had a time of 2:42:36.5.
Hulme maintained his lead in the world championship standings as his second place finish gave him six points for a total of 43. Brabham's nine points for winning put him in second place with 34 points.
Nightmarish conditions prevailed during the first 45 minutes and the final hour of the race as the drivers slithered around the corners and roared down the straights followed by great rooster tails of spray.

Aussies Again Win Net Title

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI)—The men's national doubles tennis championship will need a passport again this year. It's headed overseas once more.
Australians Bill Bowrey and lefty Owen Davidson, the second seeded foreign team, advanced to Tuesday's finals in the 87th National Doubles Championships Sunday at Longwood Cricket Club when they ousted the last U.S. entry, top seeded Clark Graebner and Marty Riessen, 4-6, 6-3, 9-11, 6-3, 8-6.
The other men's finalist was to be decided today with top-ranked foreign entries Tony Roche and John Newcombe, two more Aussies, going against the Cinderella boys, unseeded South African Davis Cup mates Cliff Drysdale and Ray Moore. American teams have won the men's title only three times since 1954.
In another match today, third seeded Mary Ann Eisel and Mrs. Donna Floyd Fales of New York met English Wightman Cuppers Winnie Shaw and Mrs. Joyce Williams, the No. 9 entry,

Sonics See Lead Melt

By United Press International
The Austin Braves beat the faltering Amarillo Sonics again Sunday, leaving the Sonics atop the Texas League by only a single game over the second place Albuquerque Dodgers.

The Dodgers ran away from the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs 17-5, unleashing a 24-hit attack that made it look as though they were shooting for the league pennant.
Luis Alcaraz slugged a three-run homer in the second inning and Byron Browne hit two homers in the first and a two-run effort in the ninth.

In other action, Arkansas' Travelers whipped El Paso's third place Sun Kings 3-1.

West Tokyo Wins LL Title

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—West Tokyo returns to Japan today with the 21st Little League World Series title, only the second foreign team ever to win this competition.
The Japanese squad became the first foreign team to win the series since Monterrey, Mexico, in 1958, by downing Roseland of Chicago 4-1 Saturday.

Japanese Manager Kazuo Hayashi said before the final game of the competition for 11 and 12 year old boys that his well-drilled team kept its confidence to win.
All eight teams in the tournament appeared for the first time in the six-inning contests played at the Howard J. Lamade Memorial Stadium, built in 1961 exclusively for the Little League World Series.

The final standings of the series, won last year by Houston, Tex., had Newtown-Edgemont, Pa., third and Linares, Mexico, fourth.

McCormick Spins 5th Shutout

By United Press International
Life at 23 for Mike McCormick, once the unwanted sormarked southpaw of the San Francisco Giants, is again a bed of roses. Mike has made it back to the most wanted list again. The day the Giants traded him to the Baltimore Orioles, who in turn sent him to Rochester of the International League and finally dealt him to the Washington Senators, are bunched into a bundle of bad memories. McCormick's second go-around with the Giants is sure to earn him the comeback player of the year award, with 18 victories in 24 decisions, he is a leading candidate for the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the 11th complete game and fifth shutout of the season.

Hank Aaron's single in the fifth inning provided Atlanta with the tie-breaking run in the nightcap.

Haynie's 67 Wins in Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Sandra Haynie broke up a five-way logjam with an ax-sharp-utter Sunday for a four-under-par 67 that won her the $12,500 Amarillo Women's Open Golf Tournament. Miss Haynie was tied with four other golfers going into Sunday's final round. But she rolled in two birdie putts on the front nine and never was pressed. Her 67 was good enough for a 54-hole total of 212, two strokes better than runner-up Kathy Whitworth, the defending champion. Miss Whitworth, one of five golfers bunched at the top going into Sunday's round, had a two-under 69.

Elements Again Rub Out Good Round by Rudolph

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI)—Confidence is something you can't put a price tag on but it may be worth $50,000 to Mason Rudolph.

Rudolph, the easy-going, drawing native of Clarksville, Tenn., was the chief victim Sunday when the world's richest golf tournament—the $250,000 Westchester Classic—was rained out for the third straight day.

Rudolph was back in his hotel room with a second round of 67 and the halfway lead at 133-11-under-par—when the rains came and washed out his second straight subpar round. Fifty seven golfers were still on the course when play was stopped. Rudolph also lost a 69 to the rain Saturday.

The second round at the par 72, 6,648-yard Westchester Country Club course was rescheduled for today—with the weather bureau predicting a 30 per cent chance of rain—and the third round is set for Tuesday with the final 18 holes being pushed back until Wednesday. The next Touring on the PGA tour, the Carling Open, starts Friday in Toronto.

All the scores now revert back to Thursday's first round and Rudolph again is tied at six-under-par 66 with Gary Player and unknown Kansan Jim Colbert. If the Saturday and Sunday rounds hadn't been rained out, Rudolph would be 14-under par at 66-69-67 with a great shot at the $50,000 first prize.

But Rudolph thinks he can overcome the handicap of losing two subpar rounds to the rain. "That's just beautiful," Rudolph said wryly when he received the bad news that the tourney had been postponed again.

But he quickly added, "That's just the way it goes. They can wash out the scores but they can't wash out my confidence. It's so easy to get feeling sorry for yourself in this game."

When play was halted, Jerry Pittman and Lee Trevino were two strokes behind Rudolph at 135 while British Open champion Roberto de Vicenzo was three back at 136. Jack Nicklaus was still on the course, 10-under-par after 14 holes and just a stroke back.

DELUCA OUT
NEW YORK (UPI)—Guard Sam Deluca, the offensive captain of the New York Jets, will be sidelined for the entire season following surgery for a torn ligament on his right knee Sunday.

Deluca and reserve quarterback Mike Taliaferro were injured during the Jets' game against Houston at Charlotte, N.C., last Saturday night. Taliaferro, who suffered a shoulder separation, will be lost for at least 10 weeks.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The tournament committee of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic hasn't given up yet, but the television company has.

Fifth Season Shutout

McCormick struck out seven and walked three Sunday for his 11th complete game and fifth shutout of the season.

Hank Aaron's single in the fifth inning provided Atlanta with the tie-breaking run in the nightcap.

Nelson Briles, who needed ninth inning relief help from Joe Hoerner, racked up his ninth victory in 14 decisions for the Cards. St. Louis put together five runs in the fifth inning, Briles' single touching off the scoring outburst.

Vada Pinson collected three hits and Pete Rose and Tony Harper drove in three runs each to spark Cincinnati's 14-hit attack. Rose hit his 10th homer with a man aboard in the fifth inning.

Tony Taylor's fourth inning triple batted in two runs and insured the Phillies' seventh straight victory before the rains halted the game.

Pitcher Tom Seaver's seventh inning throwing error opened the door for the two unearned runs and permitted the Cubs and Rich Nye to best the Mets. Randy Hundley hit his 12th homer in the second inning to tie the game for Chicago.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrink-

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

But Few Ask Questions

There are few persons in government who, faced with proposed new expenditures, appear willing to ask one simple question: "Can we afford it?"

On nearly every side, there are demands for more federal government spending, while the nation faces the threat of truly run-away inflation, even if Congress knuckles under and grants President Johnson's request for a tax increase.

All indications are that there will be a budget deficit of from $13.5 billion to $29 billion in the coming fiscal year. Estimates by the administration have varied as much as six and one-half billions of dollars, and the administration is noted for underestimating its deficits and its expenditures.

It generally is conceded that the economy of the country is in bad shape. And continued deficit spending which has been the principal cause of inflation, and higher taxes will only make the economy worse.

What is the answer then? We think it is the same as with any individual.

If an individual found himself in the position of not having sufficient money to buy all of the things he wanted, and he was way over his head in debt, he would have to retrench. He would have to stop and take stock. Before he made any more purchases, he would have to ask the question, "Do I really need this, and can I afford it?"

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

No Place for Drones

The peril of a drone society subsidized by productive, tax-paying citizens, is a peril the Congress and the people always should bear in mind.

Happily, U. S. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark) chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is both aware of the peril and outspoken in warning the public about it.

Opening the debate in the House August 17 on a proposed increase in social security benefits, Congressman Mills strongly defended his committee's plan to tighten regulations on federal financial assistance to programs for aiding parents with dependent children.

"The American people," he declared, "want us to be certain that money is spent under this legislation to promote the public well-being. Is it in the public interest for welfare to become a way of life?"

Many Americans may not realize that welfare is a way of life to one element in our population. Rep. Mills pointed out that "we are caring for the third consecutive generation" of relievers. Obviously, this kind of dependence has to be stopped.

In an effort to curb such welfare careerism, Congressman Mills' committee wants the states to meet certain requirements by creating work and training programs so that unemployed parents must submit to a test of their ability to hold down a job.

If the Congress does not start requiring welfare recipients to take available jobs, public resentment is bound to mushroom. As Rep. Mills expressed it, "Some day there is going to be a revolution or a riot if the taxpayers can ever get organized. If ever I heard a good argument against a tax increase it is that giveaway programs be pared to the bone."

Congressman Mills' comments are refreshing and timely, especially in view of the outpouring of liberal demands for additional welfare programs for residents of urban "ghettos."

The liberal rhetoric is interesting and revealing. It is full of insistence on government's obligation to create jobs for riotous slum-dwellers, but there is no mention of the so-called "disadvantaged" citizen's duty to take a job when it is offered.

Backstage Washington

Job Corps Facing Drastic Revision or Replacement By Industry Youth Corps Despite Loaded Probe

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The highly expensive and scandal-ridden Job Corps program is virtually certain to be drastically revised or eliminated entirely by the House Education and Labor Committee.

PAUL SCOTT

In addition to this tidal wave of favorable testimony, OEO conducted a massive nationwide publicity drive to pressure Congress for more funds.

Throughout the three months, only a handful of critics were heard, and they were chiefly local authorities complaining about anti-poverty workers inciting and participating in riots and other lawless activities.

Leading Democratic as well as Republican Committee members are strongly opposed to continuing this widely controversial Great Society project which has cost some $685 million in its three years' existence and produced at the most not more than 15,000 so-called "graduates."

This plan would replace the turbulence-racked Job Corps with an "Industry Youth Corps" under which "private employers would be given a realistic incentive to hire untrained young people between 16 and 22, with one-third of their wages paid while they undergo on-the-job training in meaningful permanent employment."

The GOP claims its program would train 43,250 youths as against 38,000 in the Job Corps centers — if the latter operated at capacity, which they never have. Also, the Republican plan would cost $230 million as against $295 million earmarked for the Job Corps.

Significantly indicative of the powerful bipartisan disapproval of the Job Corps program, due to the numerous scandals, excessive costs, mismanagement, waste, bungling and meager results that have characterized it, is the outspoken criticism of Representative Edith Green, Ore. The ranking Democrat on the committee, she sponsored the legislation that established the women's Job Corps centers, but now views the entire program with blunt misgivings.

Meanwhile, in numerous communities across the country, the anti-poverty program was appearing in a very different light. In stark contrast to the flattering account given the House committee, locally published reports detailed a markedly opposite story.

A GRASS-ROOTS VIEW — As one committee member graphically described this striking variance, "It's a case of propaganda versus reality: what the officials and payrollers are saying as against what's really happening at the grass-roots level."

Illustrative of what this legislator was talking about are the following instances of local disturbances in which the anti-poverty program was involved:

Jersey City, N. J.: The Office of Economic Opportunity began an investigation of the activities of four Jersey City anti-poverty workers who were arrested last week after a store was looted. . . . The inquiry is expected to include a controversial Negro militant who is the local program director.

Buffalo, N. Y.: City councilman Raymond Lewandowski stated that two VISTA volunteers appeared in his office and attempted to intimidate him. He declared they "threatened" him that there would be a race riot in Buffalo unless more Negro youths were given jobs. (Riots subsequently occurred in Buffalo's east side.)

Washington, D.C.: Anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver admitted he was unable to dismiss a controversial Negro from a federally-subsidized New York City project which pays him $50 a day. Shriver said he tried to get (Jesse Gray) removed from the OEO assignment, but local officials who administer the program and have the authority to hire and dismiss, refused.

New York City: The director of a Brooklyn anti-poverty agency was arrested on charges of taking kickbacks from an employee who was on the payroll but did not work. The arrest sparked the district attorney's hiring of militant Negro leader Benny Wall in connection with an anti-poverty program. William Clark, executive director of the Greater Erie Anti-Poverty Action Committee, said he had hired Wall at $3 an hour to supervise Neighborhood Youth Corps workers. "I did it and I'll stand on it," said Clark.

Question Box

QUESTION: Could you please expound a little on your views with regards to Majority Rule? When is it justifiable and when is it wrong?

ANSWER: The Founding Fathers were afraid of majority rule government, with one man, one vote. As George Washington said, "Government is not reason; it is force, and like fire, a dangerous servant and a fearful master." And majority ruled countries don't last long.

In "The Federalist" papers Madison wrote, "A common passion or interest will, in almost every case, be felt by a majority of the whole; a communication and concert result from the form of government itself; and there is nothing to check the inducements to sacrifice the weaker party or an obnoxious individual. Hence it is that such democracies have ever been found incompatible with personal security or the rights of property; and have in general been as short in their lives as they have been violent in their deaths."

Emerson, in his "Conduct of Life" wrote, "Shall we judge a country by the majority or by the minority? By the minority, surely."

Edmund Burke, on majorities and minorities, wrote: "When bad men combine, good men must associate; else they will fall one by one in unprincipled sacrifice in a contemptible struggle."

Democracies, rule of the majority, inevitably produce demagogues. H. L. Mencken said a demagogue is "One who preaches doctrines he knows to be untrue to men he knows to be idiots."

Emerson called democracy "a government of bullies tempered by editors," and George Bernard Shaw defined democracy as the form of "Government that substitutes election by the incompetent many for appointment by the corrupt few."

The majority is all right when it is under a voluntary contract. For example, when individuals voluntarily form a corporation, the majority determines how it should be operated; but the owners of a corporation can sell their stock if they don't think it is being operated properly. That doesn't apply to political majorities.

The democracy of the market is safe because when one man buys a can of beans, or anything else, he doesn't force anybody else to buy the same thing. But when the government majority decides a thing, a man is forced to pay for something he doesn't want. It eliminates his choice as to how he wants to spend what is his. For that reason the political majority or democracy is harmful, while the democracy of the market, where no one can cause anyone else to buy what he buys, is safe and produces more for everyone.

If you want a complete answer as we have ever read, read "Free Markets or Famine" by Dr. V. Orval Watts.

Your Dental Health

By DR. WM. LAWRENCE
Modern Pain Killers Ease 'Dental Phobia'

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I have a phobia about dentists. I know I need lots of dental work but I can't get myself to make an appointment. It's really hard to understand because I've endured much pain in my life, including three ear operations, broken arm and three difficult childbirths. I'm not even sure it's my pain I'm worried about, but I do know I'm afraid the dentist will say I must have all the rest of my teeth out and I don't think I could stand that. What can I do?

ANSWER: Mrs. S. J., you'll have to find a dentist who will gently hold your hand (not literally, of course) and tell you the story of modern dentistry. Dentistry can be painless. At worst it's only a nuisance and a bore.

New pain killers are safer and yet more potent. High-speed drills have basically changed technique of drilling; no more wedging, pushing, grinding, overheating teeth and shaking up the whole brain case; no more vibration.

New drills cut rapidly and with great precision. They are used in a way best described as "wiping the drill across the tooth." It's called the "paintbrush technique."

Most important of all, modern dentistry is more interested in saving teeth. Prevention of dental disease is of ever-increasing importance. Loose teeth, abscessed teeth, diseased gums can be treated so that many teeth that were formerly condemned can now be saved.

But, alas, your kind of phobia still exists. I was told that one day recently four tycoons met for lunch at the Forty Wall Street Club to discuss merger of two big corporations. One of the conferences had six martinis in rather quick succession and was obviously nervous.

One man whispered to another, "... does Jack always drink so much?" "No," it was explained, "he has a dental appointment this afternoon."

Wit and Whimsy

Two 2nd graders were standing in their playground when two supersonic F-3 Crusader jets flew over.

One 2nd grader — Boy, think of the thermonuclear problems they must have when they go through the sound barrier!

Other 2nd Grader — Well, those problems have been licked now. They coat the skins of the planes with ceramics. That way they dissipate a lot of heat.

Just then the bell for the end of recess rang.

One 2nd Grader (shrugged) — Well, I guess it's time to string some more of those darn bells.

Vacationers Abroad Often Subject to Foreign Jokes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The money inside the United States American who takes a vacation to help our balance of abroad is a favorite target of payments. cartoonists and jokesmiths. This is the composite picture they draw of him:

Fat and partly bald. Wears loud sports shirt, baggy slacks, and sandals. Has a camera slung around his neck. Walks a couple of steps behind his wife, whose broad beam suggests she is allergic to Metreol. Stares stupidly at the art masterpieces in the Louvre while his mind is busy trying to figure out how to get a third row, center seat, at the Follies Bergere, complains because menus are written in a foreign language. Very unhappy fellow who wishes he were back home.

Valid Reason Like all humor, it is exaggerated. But there is valid reason for the American going abroad for the first time to be puzzled. Hotels accept his money with smiles and grace, but outside the window of his room somebody has posted a sign reading "Yankee, go home."

Despite these drawbacks, Americans are taking their vacations abroad in increasing numbers. Last year the State Department issued 1.5 million passports, only a small number of which were for business travel. This rush of Americans to take vacations abroad distresses President Johnson who wants them to spend their

The President is swimming against the tide and he probably knows it by now. Last year, for instance, American tourists spent $299 million in Italy alone, and one estimate is that the world wide total would be something like $3.5 billion. The three most popular foreign cities are Rome, London and Paris.

Capsule Report Here, from United Press International bureaus, is a capsule report: ROME—Last year 580,000 Americans visited here. The average hotel stay was three days. Most popular sights were the Colosseum, St. Peter's, the Forum, the Trevi Fountain and the Via Veneto (a street lined with outdoor cafes).

Americans visit Britain each year and 90 per cent of them come to London. Estimated that they spent $129.4 million in this city in 1965 which is the most recent year for which figures are available. Favorite sights for Americans: Buckingham Palace, Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, Houses of Parliament and Carnaby Street where the young hippies patrol the sidewalks. Most Americans get helpful, courteous treatment from Londoners, but the ones who are "doing Europe on five dollars a day" are merely tolerated.

BUILT TO GO is the mainstay of Bultaco Motorcycles, sold and serviced by Meers Oil Co., 1300 Alcock, on the Borger-Highway. Drive by and look over their complete display of the latest models and take one for a test ride.

Bultaco Motor Bikes Capture The Hearts of Motorcyclists

The Motorcycle craze is here, and you can be a part of it on easy going street machines, rugged country machines or on the high powered competition machines offered by Bultaco and Meers Oil Company at 1300 Alcock here in Pampa.

For the past few years, Bultaco sales have zoomed. Why? Because people have discovered the thrill of handling a smooth operating machine that will give them the experience of their lives. They have fallen in love with the durability, the ruggedness that matches the wild outdoors. Not just men alone, but women find the Bultaco and their wildest expectations.

Take the Pursang model for a test ride. The production racer built to win on the dirt, the Pursang will help you get to the checkered flag first. Turn on the throttle and the bike shoves out horsepower with insane fury. Fly low through ruts and pot holes and the machine sticks to the line you picked out. Dive off into a high speed corner and you get a stable controllable slide. The Bultaco Pursang 250 works with you every inch of the way around the track and that's the mark of a production racer — the mark of a champion.

For the competition minded individual, there's the Matador. It wins where the going is toughest, in enduros and trails. It also happens to be the perfect machine for the rider who takes to the street during the week and heads for the country on weekends. It is light, rugged and maneuverable.

Handling and performance — that's what Bultaco is all about. It is what you need if you want a brand-new kind of riding experience.

Meers Oil, 1300 Alcock, will be happy to show you their complete line of Bultaco Motorcycles and help you choose the one that best suits your special desires. Make this summer one that your family will always remember. Make it a Bultaco summer: the motorcycle built to go.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Robert B. Johnson of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis says "speculative fever" now is providing the principal momentum for the market. He advises market investors to consider thoughtfully potential risks against possible rewards, not to be "booby-trapped" into speculative issues and follow a constructive but conservative investment policy.

Purcell, Graham & Co. says the market seems ready for its first broad-based setback since last October. Its advice is to refrain from committing new funds rather than sell holdings which are fundamentally and technically strong if the hope of buying them back later at lower prices.

Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says that by the current "see through" market forecasting concept, near-term earnings prospects for industry are poor but there is justification in looking for higher stock prices. According to this approach, prolongation of the "mini-recession" for another few months assures a "longer and healthier boom" once it is over, thus the stock market should ignore near-term bad news to discount the improvement that "must inevitably" follow.

Stanley Heller & Co. says it sees no change imminent in the "inflation hedge" psychology of the stock market in view of a rapidly expanding money supply. It offers the opinion that the existing trend toward speculative excess will continue to even higher levels before a long term correction starts.

Hornblower & Weeks Hemphill, Noyes says a normal retracement of one-third of the advance in the Dow Jones industrial average since July would trim the indicator to around the 900-905 level. Noting that the market has displayed a good defense since reaching its recovery high three weeks ago, the analyst says logic seems to dictate a substantial support would develop now on any further moderate attack.

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Comedian Danny Kaye, arriving Sunday night to help the Danish capital celebrate its 800th anniversary, asked a crowd of about 100 newsmen and spectators to join him in singing a song from one of his movies. But the crowd knew only a few words of "Wonderful Copenhagen."

"Boy, you better know it by tomorrow" when the celebration starts, Kaye said.

Short Cut to Social Security

To save money, aging bachelor Fred moved into a motel owned by his sister. In return for a free room, he did maintenance work around the premises.

One day his sister had an inspiration: why not start paying him wages, so that — as an "employee" — he could qualify for federal old age benefits when he reached the age of 65? Accordingly, she put Fred on her payroll.

But a few years later, when he applied for benefits, he was turned down. In a court test, the judge ruled that Fred had not really been an employee at all, because the work he was paid for was the same work he had done before for nothing.

To create rights under the federal social security law, there must be a genuine employment relationship. And the government may be skeptical if the so-
