

Tributes Pour in for Francis Cardinal Spellman

NEW YORK (UPI)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, America's leading Roman Catholic churchman whose flock of millions was scattered from the slums and skyscrapers of New York to the battlefields of Vietnam and the icy wastes of the Antarctic, died Saturday of a "massive cerebral accident."

The 78-year-old archbishop of New York, one of eight American cardinals, was stricken fatally at St. Vincent's Hospital less than two hours after he was rushed there by ambulance. He was the second U.S. cardinal to die this year.

The cardinal's secretary, Msgr. Thomas McGovern, said that although Spellman was hospitalized for a checkup only last month, he had been in good health almost to his death. He visited two banquets Friday night and talked of making his annual battlefield visit to Vietnam at Christmas.

In Vatican City, Pope Paul VI received the news with "shock and deepest sorrow" and went immediately to his chapel to pray for the noted American churchman.

The pontiff was to celebrate Mass for the late cardinal in his private chapel Sunday morning and was expected to mention Spellman's death in his traditional noon blessing from his study window overlooking St. Peter's Square.

Spellman, a short, portly man with a rosy, cherubic face and steelrimmed glasses, had been archbishop of New York since 1939 and became cardinal in 1946. He also served as vicar general of the U.S. armed forces, a post he took on in 1942 shortly after Pearl Harbor.

A friend of presidents—Democrats Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy and Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower alike—Spellman was a man of vast temporal as well as spiritual influence in America.

His archdiocese was the second largest of the 28 in the United States. With 1.8 million Catholics, it was second only to the 2.3 million member Archdiocese of Chicago.

Each Christmas he put his staunch patriotism into action with visits to U.S. servicemen throughout the world. During last year's tour, which took the 77-year-old cardinal from the Antarctic to Vietnam, he declared sadly that he might not be able to come again because of advancing age.

But he did not give up hope that he would, after all, make the trip again this year.

Spellman was one of eight U.S. members of the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church. Another U.S. cardinal, Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis died last June 10.

Born May 4, 1899 in the predominantly Protestant town of Whitman, Mass., young "Frank" Spellman was the oldest of five children of William and Ellen Conway Spellman.

He served as an altar boy but he attended public schools. At Fordham College in New York the young Spellman was top debater in the class of 1911 and it was there that he decided to enter the priesthood.

Spellman received a degree of doctor of sacred theology from the North American College in Rome in 1916, the year of his ordination. But it was not until 1925 that he began his rise toward the highest ranks of the church.

Spellman was an attache in the office of the secretary of state in the Vatican for seven years. He was made a Monsignor in 1926.

In Rome, Spellman formed an important friendship with Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli.

Later, as Pope Pius XII, it was this old friend who bestowed the red biretta of a prince of the church on Spellman.

In 1932, Spellman returned to the United States to work as parish priest in the parish of the Sacred Heart in Newton Centre outside Boston. In 1936, Pacelli became Pope and Spellman became archbishop of New York.

US To Support Nuclear Safeguards

LBJ Pledges Support Unless Security Threat

CHICAGO (UPI)—President Johnson, speaking on the 25th anniversary of the birth of the atomic age, promised Saturday that the United States would support international safeguards on all nuclear activity so long as they do not directly affect national security.

The President made the promise via closed circuit television to 28 of the 42 "Manhattan Project" scientists who, on Dec. 2, 1942, were present in a squash court under the west stands of the University of Chicago's Stagg Field when the first self-sustaining nuclear reaction took place.

"The scientists were part of an international gathering of 250 dignitaries who met at the university on this cold, wet day to commemorate the scientific achievement which led directly to the atomic bomb and to the unleashing of nuclear power."

Johnson's promise was hailed by Italian President Giuseppe Saragat, who also spoke from Rome to the scientists via communications satellite, and by officials who have been calling for a treaty to prohibit the spread of atomic weapons among the world's nations.

"I do not have any doubt that men of good will want to submit to a non-proliferation treaty," Saragat said. "I look with serene confidence to the future."

Johnson spoke from the White House and his face appeared on a massive screen erected in Mandel Hall across the street from Stagg Field.

He warned that with nuclear energy mankind can "remake life on earth or we can end it forever."

Secret diversion of even a small amount of plutonium could give any nation the power to destroy civilization if not life itself, Johnson said.

"We cannot permit this to happen," he said. "Nor can mankind be denied the unlimited benefits of the peaceful atom. We must find a way to remove the threat while preserving the promise."

Major Effort
The President pointed out that the Senate has voted unanimously to support an effective non-proliferation treaty for nuclear weapons. He said a major effort is being made to achieve such a treaty.

Johnson spoke of the late Enrico Fermi, the refugee Italian scientist who headed the team which achieved the first historic atomic reaction in the Stagg Field squash court and signaled the historic moment at precisely 3:36 p.m. CST 25 years ago when he slammed his three-inch slide rule shut and announced, "the reaction is self-sustaining."

Johnson proposed that a giant new atomic accelerator—the world's largest—which is being built outside Chicago be dedicated to Fermi. Fermi's white-haired widow was on the speaker's stand as Johnson spoke and she craned her head backwards to look at the President's image.

THE YOUNG AND OLD — Santa Claus had candy for the young and old Friday in the annual Pampa Christmas parade.

Youngsters and grown-ups alike lined Gayler street to get a look at the old boy and the marching bands, colorful floats, old cars and ribboned bicycles that participated in the parade. (See story, page 3)

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas attacked a team of government pacification workers in a village just five miles from the largest U.S. military base in Vietnam, killing at least eight of the 34 members of the security team, military spokesmen disclosed Saturday.

Four other members of the armed revolutionary development team were wounded and two were missing and feared kidnapped in the bold terror attack at Binh Hoa, just 15 miles from Saigon and near the

An autopsy was expected to be held Saturday night at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo for Cecil Lester Mason, 57, of 416 Magnolia, who died Saturday.

Mason was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of Peace Ed Anderson, when his pickup ran off the road on Warren St. and hit a culvert.

The autopsy was being performed to determine if Mason died as a result of the accident or by natural causes.

The body was taken to Duenkel Funeral Home where services are pending, and authorities said there were no visible marks from the accident.

According to investigating Pampa police officer Fred Brown, Mason had made a left turn off Jordan onto Warren when his pickup left the road and ran about 100 feet off the roadway into a culvert.

The accident occurred about 12:30 p.m.

Mason was born May 1, 1900, in Princeton, Ind. and moved to Pampa in 1937 where he worked for Davis Electric for 18 years. He worked the following 11 years for Greycro Co. and for the past year had worked

SA to Take Applications For Yule Help

The Pampa Salvation Army will start taking applications for Christmas help Monday and continue the interviews until Dec. 15, according to Capt. Jess Duncan, Salvation Army commander here.

Brigadier Mrs. Virginia Varney will interview applicants in the Salvation Army office, 613 E. Albert, from 9 a.m. until noon and 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday until Dec. 15.

The assistance available for needy families includes toys for the children, Christmas baskets of food staples, Christmas dinners, and a sunshine bag for the Pampa convalescer's home.

Money for the children's toys comes from the Salvation Army's letter appeal for funds and the Christmas kettle booths on the streets of downtown Pampa.

E. D. Greene Jr. is Christmas committee chairman. His committee members are Dr. John Danron, Gordon Lyons and J. Kirk Duncan, all members of the Pampa Salvation Army Advisory Board.

Purposes of taking applications are to discover the needs here for Christmas help and to prevent duplication with other organizations, Capt. Duncan said.

Rusk Says He Will Stay in Present Position

"NONSENSE" is the White House reaction to reports of a rift between President Johnson and Defense Secretary McNamara. The White House released this photo of a cordial meeting earlier this week when McNamara's nomination to the presidency of the World Bank was revealed.

Secretary Says President Would Have To Run Him off Before He'd Leave

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Although beset by many of the same problems and pressures which caused Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to resign, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has no intention of quitting before next November's elections.

If he leaves before that time, it will be because President Johnson finds him a political liability and asks him to do so—a possibility not foreseen at present in top administration circles.

Rusk has passed the word to State Department associates speculating about his future plans that his opponents should not "count on" him quitting and his supporters should not fear that he is about to do so.

Rusk's associates say there are several reasons why the Factors which moved McNamara — fatigue, criticism and doubts over some technical aspects of U.S. policy—are not troubling the secretary of state. They believe that the difference lies in Rusk's extreme dedication to the President, and to his job, which permits him to submerge all other factors in the determination to keep on the job as long as Johnson wants him.

Rusk's critics believe that this dedication may have become a liability. They contend that he has become so dug into his present position on certain issues that he is incapable of flexible response to diplomatic opportunities.

Rusk, like McNamara, has served almost seven years and has put in even longer hours.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
In New Delhi, Premier Mrs. Indira Gandhi of India found herself in the unfortunate position of being damned if she did and damned if she didn't. When, reluctantly, she did act last week—dismissing the coalition governments of Haryana and West Bengal—the result in West Bengal was calamitous.

A SPECIAL SKILL — An interesting technique practiced by Bill Hayes, left, Pampa, and Don Hill, Nowata, culinary arts students attending Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee, is ice carving. During the four trimester study, students also gain practical experience daily in all phases of meal preparation.

Today, with more than 3,000 rioters in jail and an unknown number dead from police fire, her critics are saying she erred and that the only gainers will be the Communists.

Both Haryana and West Bengal were ruled by United Front governments formed after Mrs. Gandhi's Congress party lost its majority in general elections early this year. Both governments had been paralyzed by bickering from within and numerous defections as members switched from one party to another.

But in the Communist-dominated West Bengal government in Calcutta the effect was a disaster. Perennially short of food, the state this year had gone through its worst food crisis since India's independence. Within the front, members quarreled over what to do about the food problem and rising unrest among labor.

With the defection of P. C. Ghosh, West Bengal state food minister, and his 17 followers, the front lost its majority. In New Delhi, knowledgeable sources said the central government was concerned less with the delay by the chief minister, Ajoy Mukherjee, in answering demands for a confidence vote than by alarming reports from the central government's intelligence department.

These reports said that the Chinese Communists had promised Communist extremists in West Bengal arms and ammunition for "Viet Cong" guerrilla operations. The arms, it was said, would be supplied through neighboring East-Pakistan or would be smuggled through Nepal.

It was upon these reports, the New Delhi sources said, that the government acted. Promised support was withdrawn. Mukherjee was ousted. The 78-year-old Ghosh, the former food minister, to form a government in which Communists would be excluded. It promised him the support of the 130 Congress party members in the 281-member assembly.

Opposition members of parliament in New Delhi accused Mrs. Gandhi of would-be dictatorship. And in Calcutta, with the Communists in the vanguard, the ousted front called a general strike and sent its followers pouring into the streets.

Constitutional experts questioned Mrs. Gandhi's right to dismiss state governments without reference to elected state assemblies.

Those opposing Mrs. Gandhi's action within the Congress party held that the government would have fallen in any event and that she now has removed the front from responsibility and at the same time given its members a martyr role.

The betting now is that either the central government must place the state under presidential rule from New Delhi or risk elections in which the leftwingers would be the victors.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stanley Heller & Co. says technicians will be trying to forecast the ability of the popular averages to overcome what is seen as substantial resistance in the 900 area. The analyst believes a testing of the november low is the more likely prospect preceding successful penetration of the overhead supply.

E.F. Hutton & Co. says there is no indication a substantial new market decline is about to begin, so it feels the market may be entering a more irregular phase. It suggests that a wise course for investors would be to increase buying reserves and take profits in issues which have scored large gains recently.

Solons Spending Too Much Time in Air on 'Business'

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—State planes were used 31 times in fiscal 1967 to fly legislators and other state officials at "passenger's request" with no indication that the trips involved state business, a check of flight logs showed today.

Almost 20 per cent of the flights made by three Cessna 310's owned by the Department of Public Safety (DPS) were "passenger requests" from legislators and other officials outside the DPS.

The most frequent passenger was state Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah. Healy, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, had the DPS fly him between Austin and Paducah nine times.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin's leased plane crashed this week, killing the pilot. The plane was going to West Texas to return Martin and two of his assistants from a deer hunt.

Last May a DPS plane was used to fly a private citizen, Ney Wade of Dallas, from Austin to Beeville at "passenger's request." The DPS says it was "an emergency flight made at the request of a senator." Ney Wade is a brother of Sen. Jim Wade of Dallas.

Texas A&M football coach Gene Stallings used A&M's plane 13 times on trips to recruit athletes.

The log filed by A&M does not include all flights. In a letter accompanying the report, A&M President Earl Rudder said the log omits "certain flights made in the interest of the university but paid for from exempt or nonappropriated funds."

Hazlett alleges that on July 19, 1967, at a point approximately 3.3 miles west of Pampa at the intersection of an unmarked county road and Texas Highway 152, Cunningham negligently made a left hand turn in front of his vehicle.

The plaintiff further alleges that Stribling was negligent in allowing his automobile to be driven by Cunningham.

Wilson, 55, Flossmoore, Ill., and John Stefanac, 46, Chicago, and Port Lavaca, Tex., were on a cruise from Ocean City, Md., to Norfolk, Va., when their 37-foot diesel cruiser, Island Lady, apparently burned and sank Tuesday.

Wilson was vice president of Jaimar - Olman Co., a metal roofing and siding sales and installation firm in Elk Grove, Ill. Stefanac was a field representative for the firm.

traveled far more extensively and made many more speeches than the retiring defense chief.

He has, however, an amazing physical ability to bounce back from fatigue. He attributes this in part to the fact that he is one of those rare persons who goes to sleep within 30 seconds after his head hits the pillow at night—a trait once ascribed to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The secretary of state has the highest personal regard for McNamara and has frequently spoken of the "warm human nature" which lies behind the cold computer-like facade of the defense secretary.

Rusk recognizes, as do others who really know McNamara, that he is the sort of introspective person who cannot help but be nagged by private misgivings no matter how brilliantly he carries out public policy.

Rusk, who has a social conscience of his own, nevertheless submerges everything to his view that the United States stands at a crossroads in history, that its present course is correct, and that what happens to him in the process is relatively unimportant.

Suit Filed On Hoover Grain Inc.

Ben Lockhart and Son, a business partnership doing business in Gray County, has filed suit in 31st Judicial District Court against Hoover Grain, Inc. in Heaton, Gray County, for breach of contract.

Lockhart and Son allege that between the 10th and 15th of June, 1966, they delivered to elevators of the defendant in Heaton 6,484.33 bushels of wheat.

They further allege that on Oct. 29, 1966, the plaintiffs and the defendant reached an agreement for Hoover Grain, Inc. to buy the wheat at $1.58 per bushel.

The plaintiffs maintain that Hoover Grain, Inc. then broke the contract by instructing its banks not to honor drafts written in payment for the wheat.

Lockhart and son further allege that the defendant refused to return their wheat and converted it to the defendant's own use, and that the defendant never did honor its drafts.

The plaintiffs have asked the court to rescind the contract and award the plaintiff damages of $10,500 and interest charges.

Britain Facing New Rail Strike

LONDON (UPI)—An inter-state-run British railways plan union row sparked by efforts to remove brake vans (caboose-streamline Britain's rail freight) is threatening the national rail transport, during the crucial pre-Christmas business rush.

Last minute talks between Labor Minister Ray Gunter and leaders of the 36,500-member Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen (ASLEF) broke down late Saturday.

"We think this is the end," A. Griffiths, ASLEF general secretary said. He said his union's executives would not stand by during the weekend for possible emergency negotiations.

The government pressed ahead with plans to declare a state of emergency and bring in troops to move perishable foodstuffs should a "work to rule" slowdown turn into a strike by the engineers.

The trouble lunges on the Read The News Classified Ads

Removal would mean that brakemen would have to ride in the empty rear compartment of the locomotive. Here is where the union dispute comes. Most engineers belong to the ASLEF. Brakemen are members of the industry-wide National Union of Railwaymen (NUR). The ASLEF said its men would not take out locomotives in which brakemen rode. The smaller union fears it would be swallowed up by the 27,000 member NUR if brakemen were allowed on the diesel or electric locomotives. Trainmen are concerned about efforts to consolidate duties and reduce the size of train crews.

Viet Cong troops.

In the biggest border battle area around Dak To, 260 miles north of Saigon, North Vietnamese troops fired mortars and heavy 122mm rockets into a base of the 173rd Airborne Brigade Friday night, killing one American and wounding 10 others.

U. S. Air Force Skyraider fighter-bombers dived in with tons of explosives to blast the Communists into submission.

Elsewhere in the war the Vietnam ground fighting fell into a sudden lull Saturday, with only scattered shooting and light clashes reported. In the air war action also was slowed by increasingly bad weather.

U.S. jets Friday could get in only 65 attack missions against North Vietnam, U.S. military spokesmen said.

Intermittent ground fighting and raids by U.S. helicopter gunships Friday killed at least 64 Communists throughout South Vietnam.

Millionaires Have Trouble Making Ends Meet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It's getting so even a millionaire finds it impossible to make both ends meet comfortably in the job of United States senator.

And when he permits grateful homestate businessmen to help pay for his senatorial office expenses he is startled that any ethical eyebrow might be raised.

That's the situation Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., the former industrial "boy wonder" and 1968 GOP presidential prospect, now finds himself.

He termed the efforts of a Chicago group to raise $100,000 to help meet his excess office expenses a "very decent gesture."

Seek Meaningful Disclosure

So it is that's why so many honest members of Congress have been trying for years to legislate at least a meaningful financial disclosure requirement for lawmakers and other government officials.

If the guideline is to be "every man on his own and let the voters judge," they say, at least the public ought to know the financial facts.

Percy is not the first legislator to be at least temporarily spotlighted by the loose ground rules — on "who takes what without being compromised."

Richard M. Nixon almost lost his vice presidential place on the 1952 Republican ticket when it was revealed that wealthy Californians had contributed $18,235 to a fund to defray his unusual senatorial expenses.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., was censured by the Senate earlier this year for making personal use of money raised at testimonial dinners.

One-fourth Short
More than one-fourth of the Senate's 100 members said last year their $30,000 salary and government allowances failed to cover their normal, non-campaign office expenses.

By a two-to-one margin, those answering a UPI survey said they favored a financial disclosure law.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a wealthy lawyer representing a bigger constituency than Percy, said he dips into his own pocket by drawing on legal and lecture fees.

So it has gone. It's an old story and a lesson which Congress — with a baffling mixture of naivete and brass — frequently hears but ignores.

Percy's "Chicago group" fund might have attracted less attention had it been publicly announced the day he assented to its creation, not two months later.

Prompt disclosure, not just disclosure, is a pretty good political rule. Even that doesn't assure a single standard for public officials.

If it's all right for a senator to accept such contributions, how about the government employee who loses money every time he travels on government business? He's in trouble if he gets caught taking outside contributions.

THIS IS THE WAY IT WAS when, during World War II, people backed their patriotism with dollars. Here, in 1942, are some of the 6,000 Passaic, N.J., worsted mill employes collecting the $300,000 in defense bonds for which they subscribed.

DEFENDS STUDENTS

HOUSTON (UPI) — College students are not as disreputable as they are alleged to be, said C. Shaw Smith Friday. He is coordinator of student activities at Davidson College in North Carolina. Smith discussed student leadership at a meeting of region 12 of the Association of College Unions International. Smith told about 500 student leaders from Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma the prestige of fraternities on campuses is lessening, fewer students drink excessively and such antics as goldfish-swallowing are rare.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary ARC
Word has been received this week that the Field Director in San Francisco, Calif., has received our ditty bags and they assured us that our cartons have been shipped to Vietnam for our servicemen's Christmas this year. We do hope that all of the servicemen who received packages from Pampa will write and tell us about the Christmas in hot Vietnam. Our packages were reshipped Nov. 3 so we can be assured that the servicemen will have them by Christmas.

Mrs. J. J. Rance brought in 10 lap robes for the veterans in the Amarillo VA Hospital that were so very pretty and colorful. Each laprobe was handmade and we know that the veterans will enjoy them when they go to the Christmas parties in their wheelchairs. Thanks for not forgetting those who have done so much for our country. Mr. Horace Prince who works for the VA in Amarillo has so kindly consented to take our packages to the VA Hospital for us. Just another way our Pampa friends are always helping us cut expenses and time.

A letter has been received telling us that a package for some serviceman has been received in Vietnam. This package was sent by Mrs. Willie B. Guill, who works in the Courthouse for Ray Wilson, County Treasurer. Thanks for helping with this wonderful Christmas project.

The Pampa High School completed their enrollment drive. Rooms who had not been contacted until this week gave $10 which made their total $215.46. Polly Wagner is the president of Pampa High School. Red Cross and is doing a fine job this year. The Pampa High School Youth gave 2 Christmas baskets to needy families and when they delivered them, they said they received the blessing. Aren't our young people wonderful? Polly tells me that they plan to put the Christmas trees in the Worley Hospital and Highland General Hospital soon. The High School Volunteers had a nice car in the parade Dec. 1. Did you see our pretty girls? They serve juice to the patients in Highland General Hospital during the weekend.

The members of the board voted at the last meeting not to meet on the regular day during December. Call Mr. John Skelly Chapter Chairman, if you have any Red Cross business that need attending to and he will call an executive board meeting.

The Advanced First Aid Class was completed last night with the following receiving their certificates: Mrs. Hoyt Phillips, Mrs. Clifford Martindale, Mrs. Troy Bennett, Mrs. Alvie French, Mrs. Walter Davis, Mrs. Peter Gesting, Mrs. Robert E. Warren Jr., Robert E. Warren Jr., Bill Catts, Jack Hulsey, Mrs. Gene Barber, Mrs. E. F. Farley and Jerry Carter. Each of these persons are eligible to take the FA Instructor Course when it is given and may carry a Mobile Unit in their cars.

Word has been received that the State Hospital in Wichita Falls, Texas is greatly in need of Christmas gifts for their patients. If you are interested in sending a gift for a man or a woman, call our office MO 4-7121 and let us tell you what is needed and who to send it to. There are 2,000 persons in this State Hospital and many of them don't have loved ones to remember them at Christmas.

Local Museum
AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower took time out from his trip to California Friday to stop at Amarillo and visit the Chisholm Trail Museum.

The museum, filled with historical exhibits from the days of the frontier Chisholm Trail, travels throughout the Southwest on a railroad car. It was in Amarillo when Eisenhower's private train car pulled in.

The former president spent about 20 minutes visiting the museum. Mrs. Eisenhower stayed aboard their private car.

Eisenhower said he heard Thursday about his grandson David's engagement to Julia Nixon, the daughter of Eisenhower's vice president Richard Nixon.

"I knew they were going steady for quite awhile," Eisenhower said.

He was particularly interested in the museum with a picture of a bank in Abilene, Kan., where he grew up, taken in 1875.

Eisenhower was on route to Palm Desert, Calif.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director Pampa Youth and Community Center

TEEN DANCES: The Center is sponsoring the teen dances in Pampa on Friday nights now following the basketball games. The dances will start at 9 p.m. and last until around 11-15 p.m. All dances are chaperoned and there is an off-duty policeman here at all times. The Center would invite any of the parents of children here to come as our guests. I think you will understand the teens more by observing first hand what really goes on at a teen dance.

MEMBERSHIPS: Memberships are sold the year round here at the Center and each purchase receives full value. They run for 6 months or a year. There are two types of memberships - family and individual. An individual membership is for those 8 years or older and costs $5 for six months and $3 per year. A family membership includes all members of the immediate family and costs $12 for 6 months and $20 per year.

BASKETBALL SEASON: The 1967-68 basketball season begins Monday, Dec. 4 with two games on tap. There are three divisions this year and are as follows:

- Div. I: First National Bank, Mecca Construction, Gibson's Discount Center, Coca Cola
 - Div. II: Curtis Well Service, Celanese, First Baptist Church, Richard Drug
 - Div. III: Cock O' Walk
- The teams will play a round robin schedule and then enter into a play-off in the Dec. 1 and 2 teams. Cock O' Walk will represent the City League in the A.A.U. and Texas Federation Tournaments as a Div. III team. Games will be played mostly on Monday and Thursday nights.

POLICEMAN CHARGED: DALLAS (UPI) - A Dallas policeman who had a good work record and was considered a conscientious officer by fellow officers, was under a charge today of burglarizing an Oak Cliff shopping center. The burglary charge filed Thursday named Ray Baldes, 25, and his bond was set at $1,000. Authorities also arrested the ex-wife of a city detective, Dorothy K. Heltzel, 38, outside the Mary Ann Fashion Shop, which had been broken into. She also was charged.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Last October I quoted the department of Housing and Urban Development as saying that "action-oriented orchestration of innovative inputs, generated by escalation of meaningful indigenous decision-making dialogue, focusing on multilinked problem complexes, can maximize the vital thrust toward a non-alienated and viable infrastructure."

Well, sir, the department now denies it ever made that statement. At least not all in one breath.

HUD informs me that the statement actually is an assemblage of jinglistic gobbledegoop put together by C. L. Farris, president of the Urban programming corp. of St. Louis.

Farris, who apparently is the pucky type, has confessed that he constructed the statement out of bits and pieces of speeches by various HUD officials. Then he quoted it in one of his own speeches to get a laugh.

"Very well, Fair is fair. Having incorrectly attributed the statement to HUD, I want to do my part in getting the record straight."

The statement came to my attention in a press release issued by Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., who said it came from HUD. I believed him.

While I realize that politicians now and then play fast and loose with the truth, the issuance of phony press releases by members of congress is a more blatant offense than I am accustomed to.

HUD complains that nobody checked with the department to determine whether the statement was authentic. I can't speak for Poff, but that is true as far as I am concerned.

I didn't check because I had no reason to doubt its authenticity. The statement sounded perfectly plausible to me.

Man and boy, I have always felt down deep in my heart that "action-oriented orchestration of innovative inputs, etc." could indeed "maximize the vital thrust toward a non-alienated and viable infrastructure."

I mean, if "action-oriented orchestra, etc." cannot "maximize the vital thrust, etc." then what can?

Week In Review

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says what he is doing in an effort to shake up the administration on Vietnam is not political suicide. Perhaps, he said it is more like political "execution."

McCarthy, a Democratic congressman and senator from Minnesota for almost 20 years, is going to oppose President Johnson in four to six state presidential primaries next year.

There was no rush of leading Democrats to McCarthy's cause after he announced his candidacy at a news conference at which he appeared to be one of the most light-hearted present. He said he didn't plan to "draw off" in his challenge to the President. But he conceded he might just be clearing a path for the presidential candidacy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

McCarthy suggested that he would be quite pleased if this happened, but he denied this was the purpose of his campaign. Kennedy had no immediate comment on McCarthy's plan but had said earlier such a challenge would be "healthy" for the party.

Most other Democratic leaders thought just the opposite. Party leaders in Nebraska and California—two of the states in which McCarthy said he would definitely enter primaries—deplored the planned invasion by the senator. The other two states in which McCarthy said he would definitely be in primaries were Oregon and Wisconsin. He said he may enter the primaries in New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

The reason he has decided to challenge the most powerful member of his party, McCarthy said, is because "I am concerned that the administration seems to have set no limit to the price which it's willing to pay for military victory in Vietnam."

There was no comment from within the administration.

Around the world:

Washington: President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, in carefully coordinated statements expressing their high regard for each other, let the world know officially that McNamara had accepted an offer from Johnson to become president of the World Bank. McNamara is to take over the post early next year. The move had been rumored before the official announcement.

Nicosia: Cyrus R. Vance, President Johnson's mediator of the crisis between Greece and Turkey on Cyprus, produced a settlement after a week of shuttling between Akara and Athens. Greek leaders made the most concessions to protect the Turkish minority on the Mediterranean island.

Saigon: The Viet Cong mounted a sustained attack on the strategic airstrip at Bu Dop on the Cambodian border and U.S. forces fought them off as U.S. planes flew in supplies. New ground fighting was reported in several other areas of South Vietnam and U.S. fighter-bombers continued their raids on the North.

New York: Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a national television interview said the United States should consider temporary forays by its forces into North Vietnam and if necessary into Cambodia and Laos in pursuit of Viet Cong. He said he would not consider such operations an invasion.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I don't have a maid anymore but you're still sending me the Social Security tax form I used to fill out for her. How can I get this stopped?

A—If you do not expect to be paying any taxable wages to household help in the future, write "final return" on the bottom of the Form 942 you received in the mail and send it back. Your name will then be removed from the mailing list.

P—I've been renting a house to my parents at less than I usually would get. Can I deduct as a loss on my tax return the difference between what they pay me and what I would otherwise receive?

A—No. The difference is really a contribution to your parents support and is not deductible. In addition, depreciation and other expenses of property rented to a relative or friend at less than fair rental value may only be deducted to the extent of the rent received.

The contribution you are making to your parents in the form of reduced rental can be counted as a contribution to their support. If you provide over half their support for the year, and other tests are met, you may claim them as dependents for tax purposes.

Q—I'm a recent widow. Is there any change I should make in my withholding?

A—No. You need not make any change in your withholding in the year of your husband's death. However, if your husband was claiming withholding exemptions for you, your dependents (if any) and himself, you may file a new Form W-4, claiming such withholding exemptions yourself. Of course, you may not claim a withholding exemption for your husband after the year of his death. Furthermore, if withholding purposes if you qualify as a surviving spouse, for the two years after your husband's death the tax will be withheld at the same rates as for married persons.

Q—Is there any penalty for not paying your estimated tax?

A—Yes. There will be a charge of 6 percent per year on the unpaid amount of any installment.

Q—Our church is having a special offering this Thanksgiving and is asking for contributions in food as well as money. Will either be tax deductible?

A—Yes, contributions of food or money to a qualified organization such as a church will be deductible. Gifts to individuals are not deductible.

A—My return was audited and the agent wouldn't accept checks made out to cash as proof of some of my deductions. Why?

A—To substantiate a deductible expense your records must indicate, among other things, the purpose of the expense, and to whom paid, as well as the amount.

A check made out to cash or to yourself gives no indication by itself of the nature of the expense. This kind of check must be supported by other records, such as receipts, to be useful in proving any deductions you claim.

A check made out to a specific organization or person, a charity or a doctor for example, may well be sufficient to establish that a deductible expenditure has been made.

Q—I'm working part-time to earn some extra spending money this Christmas. Can I stop Social Security withholding on the second job since my regular employer already withholds the full amount?

A—No. Each employer is required to withhold Social Security taxes on the first $6,600 of income paid each employee during 1967.

If, as you say, more than $290.40 is withheld from your wages for Social Security in 1967, because you worked for two or more employers, then the excess should be taken as a tax credit on your 1967 income tax return.

Q—I was left some property by an uncle. Is there any federal income tax on this?

A—There is no Federal income tax on gifts, bequests, or inheritances. However, if property so received later produces income of a taxable nature, interest, dividends or rentals, for example, the income is taxable to you.

Pampa Wins 10th ToT in 79-36 Romp by Elks

Pampa went from completely cold to completely hot Saturday night as George Bailey, Bo Lang and Beau Bond fired the Harvesters to their 10th title in the 10th Top O' Texas Basketball Tournament, 79-36, over Elk City, Okla.

Bailey, the Harvesters' leading scorer, pumped in 23 points to run his tournament total to 81, an average of 27 per game. Thursday he broke the tournament record for the most points in one game with 37.

Bond and Lang had their best night of the season in leading the Harvesters to their fifth straight win and a 6-1 season record. Lang tied Bailey for high point honors with 23, the first time this year that's been done and Bond contributed 13 points. His previous high had been 12 points.

In running over Burk Burnett 78-49, and Canyon 93-43 and the Elks, the Harvesters set another record for the most points total scored in this tournament by a team. They finished with 250, an average of 83 per contest.

HOT HAND — Bo Lang turned in another good performance Saturday night in scoring 23 points and helping Pampa rip Elk City, 79-36. Lang makes this shot despite tight guarding by the Elk's Mike Ford. No 22 for Pampa is Jim Cornutt and 22 for Elk City is Ronnie O'Hara.

UP AND IN—George Bailey (32) goes up for his 22nd and 23rd points Saturday night as he and Bo Lang tied for high point honors for the Harvesters in their 79-36 romp past Elk City. Ted Jobe (15) can't guard Bailey and nobody else has been able to either.

Sooners Boom(er) OSU 38-14

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Twin tailbacks Steve Owens and Ron Shotts sliced big hunks in the Oklahoma State defense to power third-ranked and Orange Bowl-bound Oklahoma to a 38-14 Big Eight victory before a sell-out crowd of 61,826 in Owen Field Saturday.

The victory gave coach Chuck Fairbanks' Sooners a 7-0 conference record and their first unbeaten Big Eight season since 1962. It left the Big Red 9-1 for the season, their best since 1953, and set up the New Year's night classic against second-ranked Tennessee.

Owens plowed over on blasts of three yards and one yard to clinch the Big Eight scoring title with 72 points. Quarterback Bob Warmack tossed touchdown

Johnson scampered six yards in the second period and alternate Robert Cutburth threw seven yards to halfback Terry Brown in the fourth quarter for Oklahoma State's other touchdown. Owens gained 136 yards on 27 carries to give him the Big Eight rushing title with 808 net yards this season. Shotts claimed runner-up conference honors with 108 yards on 26 rushes for a yards total offense to set a modern record of 1,345 yards total offense for the season.

Buffs 'Bowl' Over Valley State 35-13

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Eugene "Mercury" Morris and Albie Owens, a pair of brilliant backs from Pennsylvania, accounted for five touchdowns Saturday to lead West Texas State to a 35-13 victory over San Fernando Valley State in the 22nd annual Junior Rose Bowl football game before a crowd of 23,802.

Morris, a junior halfback from Pittsburgh who picked up 1,274 yards running in leading the Buffaloes to a 7-3 regular season record, scored on runs of 40 and 6 yards for his 13th and 14th touchdowns of the year. Owens, a junior fullback from Pittsburgh, scored on runs of 40 and 6 yards.

The 5-foot-10, 190-pound speedster Morris picked up 170 yards in 18 carries while Owens had 114 yards on 20 runs. Morris ranks second to Southern California's O. J. Simpson in NCAA rushing statistics this season. West Texas State bottled up Valley State's main offensive most valuable back while defensive back Billy Lantow of the Texans, who picked off two Lemmerman aerials, was voted the top defensive player. The Buffaloes from Canyon Tex., broke loose for three touchdowns in the game's final 19 minutes for the easy victory after leading only 14-13 late in the third quarter.

Mustangs Blitz TCU 28-14

DALLAS (UPI) — Southern Methodist rode a strong north wind and Mike Livingston's threadneedle passing to a 21-point first quarter cushion and breezed on in to a 28-14 season-closing victory over Texas Christian Saturday.

The 25-40 mile per hour winds played havoc with both teams' punting when they had it blowing in their faces—but it provided a perfect carrier for Livingston's 34 and 48 yard first period scoring passes to Jim Hagle and Mike Richardson and a 37 yarder to Hagle on the first play of the final period.

The other SMU first quarter touchdown came on a three-yard flip from SMU's mighty midget quarterback, 5-foot 6-inch Ines Perez. Bobby Goodrich on a fake field goal, but it was Livingston's passes that set Ross Montgomery, but fumbles and interceptions spoiled all other TCU threats. Livingston had another great day with his air arm, completing 26 of 41 passes for 323 yards to boost his season total for six and one-half passes to 152 of 250 passes for 1,750 yards and 10 touchdowns. He missed three and one-half games because of a leg injury.

Cooper Romps By Rebs 37-0

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Abilene Cooper scored on its first offensive play Saturday and went on to romp past Amarillo Tascosa 37-0. The win moved Cooper into the Class AAAA semifinals against Richardson next weekend.

Randy Allen scored the first two Cooper touchdowns, the first one coming only 1:21 deep in the game, and Jack Mildren added the next two.

Underdog Middies Outlast Cadets in 19-14 Thriller

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Inspired Navy built up a 19-0 lead over favored Army and then held on for dear life against a blistering Cadet comeback in the fourth quarter to pull out a 19-14 thriller in the 68th renewal of their storied classic Saturday before 102,000 chilled fans.

with two quick touchdowns behind sub quarterback Jim O'Toole. O'Toole also hit Hank Andrzejczak for a two-point conversion and it was anybody's game at that point. Army scored its first touchdown on a two-yard run by Lynn Moore with 9:02 left. Two minutes later O'Toole hit end Gary Steele on a 52-yard pass play for a touchdown.

The field was in good shape however, and so were the Middies. Moving with ease against Army, Cartwright directed the Middies to a 10-0 lead in the first period and built that to 17-0 at the half. Army got nowhere during that half as Cartwright consistently hit ends Rob Taylor and Mike Clark and flanker Terry Murray for key chunks of yardage which set up Navy's early scoring.

Taylor for 13, Clark for nine and 11 and Murray for nine to set up the touchdown run. Navy's much-maligned defense was shored admirably by three starters—cornerbacks Jerry Mott and Jim Sheppard and safety Shelley Buttrill—but it was the Middies' top veteran, defensive end and team captain Bill Dow, who collected the final Navy points when he tackled Army kicker Nick Kurliko in the end zone in the fourth quarter.

Pampa Seventh Whips Phillips

Pampa led 14-4 after the first quarter, 26-12 at halftime and 44-18 after three quarters. Pampa plays Dumas in Dumas next Friday.

TENNESSEE ROMPS

Vols Roll by Vandy 41-14

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Orange Bowl-bound Tennessee wrapped up its first Southeastern Conference championship in 11 years Saturday with a rain-soaked 41-14 win over Vanderbilt.

The second-ranked Vols who meet Oklahoma in Miami New Year's night, finished the season 6-0 in the SEC and 9-1 over-all, with two touchdowns by tailback Walter Chadwick, one each by Charley Fulton, Bubba Wyche and Bob Patterson, and field goals of 38 and 31 yards by Karl Kremer.

Wingback John Valput scored Vanderbilt's first touchdown on a one-yard run in the third period and quarterback Roger May hit wingback Lee Noel on a 10-yard scoring pass early in the fourth period to wrap it up for the hapless Commodores, who ended the season 2-7-1. For the second year in a row, quarterback Dewey Warren, who missed two and a half games early in the season with a knee injury, had more than 1,000 yards total offense as he hit five of six passes for 132 yards Saturday. He sat out the second half after Tennessee piled up a 24-0 lead by intermission.

Vandy end Bob Goodridge added to his Southeastern Conference pass catching record, making 13 grabs for 105 yards. He finished the season with 79 catches and 1,114 yards. The Commodores' first touchdown was set up at the start of the second half by an on-sides kick captured by end John Ingram on the Tennessee 47.

MAHOVLICH RECOVERED. TORONTO (UPI)—Frank Mahovlich, sidelined because of tension and depression since Nov. 1, probably will play for the Toronto Maple Leafs in their National Hockey League game with the Montreal Canadiens. Coach Punch Imlach said he will make a final decision on Mahovlich after the Leafs' afternoon practice session.

A second on-sides kick attempt failed and Tennessee scored its fourth touchdown of the afternoon in nine plays, with Wyche, who led key Tennessee wins over Georgia Tech and Alabama earlier in the season, keeping for the final two yards.

Boston College Upsets Holy Cross

By United Press International
Haitback Terry Erwin plunged for two touchdowns Saturday after Boston College repaired a ragged passing game for a 13-6 comeback victory over rival Holy Cross.

The Eagles, slight underdogs going into the 64th meeting between the two Jesuit schools, trailed until halfway through the third quarter before quarterback Joe DiVito found his passing eye.

Erwin dove one and two yards for the Eagle touchdowns, both scores coming after DiVito had hit substitute end Steve Kives on passes to set the scoring stage.

Holy Cross was limited to a 32-yard touchdown pass from southpaw quarterback Phil O'Neil to end John Vrionis on the first play of the second quarter.

The Crusaders, who were losing for the fifth time in 10 games, missed on the conversion and also on three first-half field goal attempts before the Eagles rallied for touchdowns in each of the last two periods.

With a crowd of 25,000 looking on in sub-freezing temperatures, DiVito could complete only three of 15 first-half passing attempts for nine net yards with three interceptions.

But midway through the third period, he fired a 27-yard strike to sophomore Kives for a first down at the Holy Cross four and Erwin scored the tying touchdown. Junior kicking specialist Bob Gallivan kicked the conversion for a 7-6 BC lead and the Eagles put the game away midway through the final quarter.

On the insurance touchdown drive, DiVito completed passes of 10 and 31 yards to Kives and 26 yards to fullback Brendan McCarthy. The 10-yarder to Kives moved the ball to the Crusader four and Erwin dove over two plays later.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—An electrifying 47-yard romp by quarterback Kenny Stabler in the fourth quarter gave seventh-ranked Alabama a 7-3 victory over arch rival Auburn in a mud battle at Legion Field Saturday.

The run by the all-conference signal caller broke open a game which had been dominated by Auburn until that moment. Stabler swept right end avoiding tacklers at the line of scrimmage and then outran everone, carrying an Auburn defender with him the last five yards to the end zone.

The traditional clash was staged in 20-mile-an-hour winds and a steady downpour of rain with lightning occasionally brightening the dark skies.

Auburn's three points came early in the third period on a 38-yard field goal by John Riley, who missed a 35-yard field goal attempt in the second period.

Although Stabler provided the winning run he lost his individual battle with Auburn quarterback Loren Carter for the Southeastern Conference total offense crown.

Carter hit on nine of 19 passes for 117 yards while Stabler could muster only 12 yards on three of five throws. Carter finished the season with 1,373 total yards to Stabler's 1,327 total yards. Carter outgained Stabler in the air 1,307 yards to 1,214.

Auburn dominated the first half as the Cotton-Bowl-bound Crimson Tide never penetrated

Tiger territory and made only one first down, that in the second period.

Auburn threatened to score three times, but drivers were stopped at the Alabama 2, 18 and 7-yard lines.

On the fourth play of the game Tommy Lunsford punted the ball 53 yards to the Alabama one-yard line where Tiger defenders downed the ball. Alabama played with its back to the wall the rest of the half.

Alabama got the ball at midfield after an Auburn punt with 12 minutes left in the ball game. Two line plays netted only three yards but then Stabler peeled off for his scoring sweep. Steve Davis converted for the Crimson Tide.

Alabama finished the season with an 8-1-1 record with the lone loss to Tennessee and the tie with Florida State. Auburn finished 6-4.

Rice Tumbles Baylor 27-25

HOUSTON (UPI)—Fullback Les Lehman, used mostly as a blocking back during his varsity career, scored four touchdowns in his final collegiate game Saturday to lead the Rice Owls to a 27-25 victory over Baylor.

Lehman, who had scored only three touchdowns the last two seasons, plunged over from the one yard line three times and scored from the three the other time. He gained 100 yards on 21 carries.

The victory allowed Rice to escape the Southwest Conference cellar, finishing seventh with a 2-5 record. Baylor was last with an 0-6-1 mark and ended the season with an overall record of 1-8-1, its worst since 1946.

Quarterback Ken Stockdale, starting only the second time this season, kept Baylor in the game with touchdown passes of 12 yards to Pinky Palmer and three yards to George Cheshire. He also threw a two-point conversion to Mack Lewis.

Defensive back Billy Hayes scored Baylor's other touchdown on a 39-yard reception return after picking off a pass of Rice quarterback Robert Halley. Terr Cozby kicked a 26-yard field goal in the first quarter for the other Baylor points.

Lehman set up Rice's winning touchdown in the last quarter with runs of 29 and 18 yards and then scored it with a one-yard plunge. He carried on five of the 10 plays in the drive and made 51 of the 78 yards.

He was especially gratified with the performance because he went to high school in Waco, Tex., site of the Baylor campus.

Palmer and Charles Wilson led Baylor's ground attack, Wilson gaining 102 yards and Palmer running for 71 yards.

Rentzel is a Team Man

Dallas (UPI)—Lance Rentzel and coach Norm Van Brocklin reportedly sometimes failed to see eye-to-eye when both were with the Minnesota Vikings. But Rentzel, now a solid team man at Dallas, says that's all ancient history.

"Now we have become close friends," Rentzel said. He said the difficulty was that Van Brocklin was trying "different ways to motivate me when actually I needed to motivate myself."

The Baltimore Colts Sunday will be watching Rentzel, who has blossomed into a real twin receiving threat alongside Bullet Bob Hayes to give the Cowboys a menacing aerial punch.

He has caught 18 of the 29 passes thrown his way in the past two games and has shot into third place among the National Football League's receivers with 49 catches for 808 yards and six touchdowns. He's only four behind league-leading Charlie Taylor of Washington and three back of Baltimore's Willie Richardson.

Rentzel caught 13 for 223 yards in a losing cause against Washington two weeks ago and last Thursday snagged five key tosses in the Cowboys' romp past the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rentzel was drafted as a running back and he wanted to be a flanker. He only got to play one game—against Green Bay—"and that made me look sick," he said.

He said he lost confidence during his rookie year. He regained it last year but was hurt most of the season.

One of Rentzel's big problems was in trying to copy other players. He said he tried to copy Paul Flatley, but Flatley was slower than he and made his success on his moves rather than his speed.

"I think I'm quicker than most receivers and I come out of the break faster than the defender can," he said.

Rentzel has passed Hayes, who has 42 catches but is 83 yards back of his more touted teammate in yardage gained and two behind in touchdowns.

Rentzel has high hopes of wiping out those two deficiencies, too.

By studying some game movies, he figures out that he wasn't gaining more yardage because he was thinking and running like he was a short-pattern specialist.

"I had the attitude that after I caught it (the ball), that was it," he said. "It was stupid of me." Now, "I'm working on getting every inch I possibly can...and the quarterback is getting confidence in throwing to me deep."

Still a bachelor at 24, with a penchant for pop music and the night spots, Rentzel drew a rather sizeable batch of $25 fines for tardiness in training camp with the Cowboys.

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—Quarterback Bruce Newell tossed a touchdown pass in the second quarter, Newell hit split Van Brown kicked a 38-yard field goal Saturday to give the Mississippi Rebels a 10-3 victory over Mississippi State.

Both teams were hampered by a rain-drenched field although the heaviest showers stopped just as the game was getting under way. A tornado alert was on much of the afternoon.

All of the scoring came in the first half, with the Rebels marching 47 yards the first time they got their hands on the ball to set up Brown's field goal. On the first play of the second quarter, Newell hit split end Mac Haik with a seven-yard touchdown pass and Brown kicked the extra point.

Moments earlier, Newell connected on a 29-yard toss to Haik to put the bowl-bound Rebels in scoring range.

The victory left Ole Miss with a 6-3-1 record for the regular season while State finished with a dismal 1-9 mark in new coach Charley Shira's first campaign. The Rebels will meet Texas El Paso in the Sun Bowl at El Paso on Dec. 30.

Steve Hindman, the Rebel's flashy junior tailback, set a new Southeastern Conference record with 215 carries for the season. The old record of 209 carries was set in 1941 by Georgia's Frank Sinkwich.

The muddy field plus a stubborn Bulldog defense, paced by all-SEC linebacker D.D. Lewis kept the Rebels' strong running attack bottled up much of the afternoon.

Ole Miss attempted two field goals in the second half with Brown missing on a 33-yard try and ailing Jimmy Keyes unsuccessful on a 30 yarder. Neil also attempted a 36-yard field goal in the third quarter, but to no avail.

PHS Slays Records, Eagles

By RON CROSS

Pampa, who is making a habit of setting records this season, set another one Friday night as they advanced to the finals of the 10th annual Top O' Texas basketball tournament with a lopsided victory over Canyon.

The Harvesters met Elk City, Okla.'s defending Class A state champions in the Saturday night finals. (See story page 11).

The Harvesters bounced Canyon, 93-43, and the 93-point barrage broke the old record of 88 scored by the Harvies in this tournament two years ago. The Elks, possessors now of a 20 record, kept their cool against a fierce Berger press Friday night to whip the Bulldogs, 59-54.

In loser bracket games Dumas throttled Childress 54-42 and Burkburnett ripped Woodward, Okla., 62-50. The Pampa Shockers, winners of Berger's C team Thursday in a tournament at Phillips, 87-42, edged Plainview's Junior Varsity, 66-64, Friday night to advance to the finals of that tournament. The Shockers are now 3-0.

In running their record to 5-1 and winning their fourth in a row, the Harvesters jumped to a 9-0 lead in the first three minutes of play.

Pampa hit their first six baskets and led 22-10 after one period. The count was 49-19 at halftime with Pampa gunning in 17 of 32 from the floor, a cool 57-per cent.

Four Harvesters scored in double figures, and two others came close with nine points each. Masterful George Bailey didn't hit his 29 point average but paced the scoring with 21, followed by Bo Lang with 16 and Beau Bond and Johnny Carlos with 11 each. Jim Cornutt and Jim Hollis contributed nine points each.

For the night Pampa hit 56 per cent of their field goal shots, 32 of 57 and 29 of 37 from the foul stripe. Canyon was never in the game and managed only 19 of 57 from the floor and five of 11 from the charity stripe as Pampa picked up only 10 fouls.

The Eagles were never in contention, that was evident at halftime and were even further back, 64-35 after three periods, despite the fact they outscored the Harvesters, 16-15 in that period.

But the Harvesters got hot again in the final quarter and hit 11 of 14 from the field and scored 29 points, most of the damage being done by some ballhawking reserves.

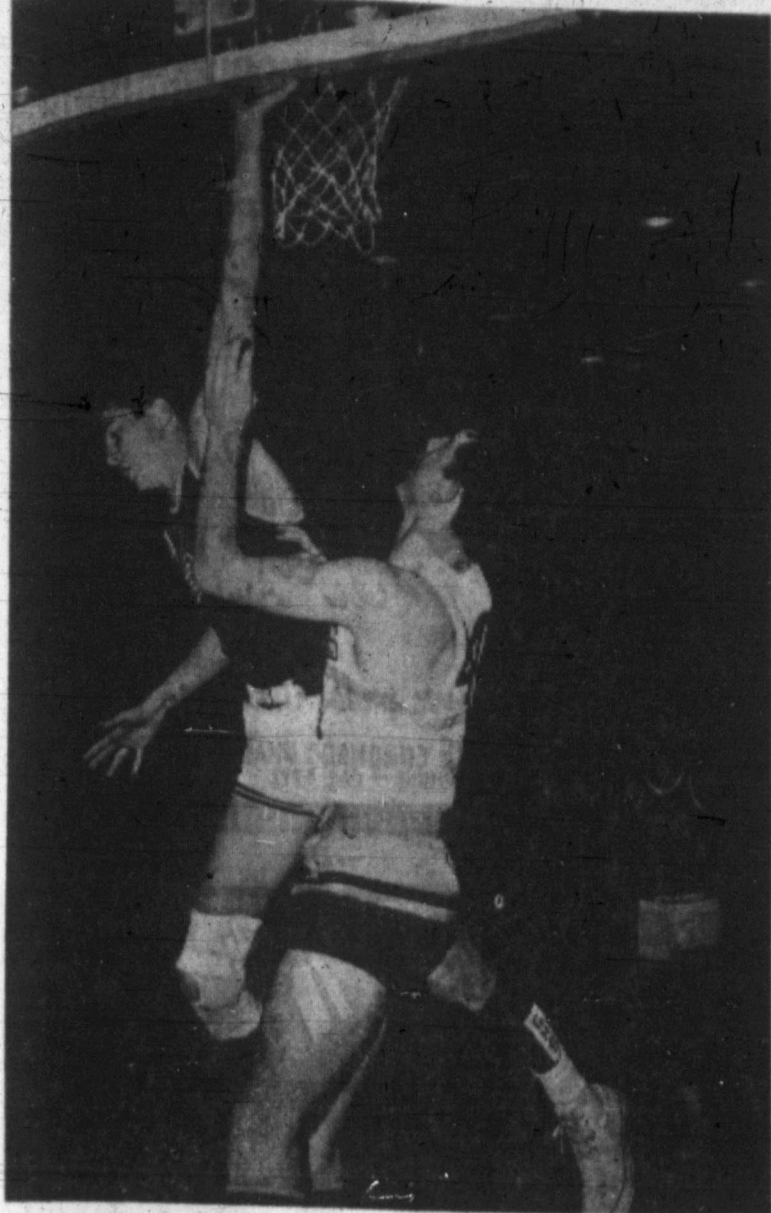

In games Saturday Dumas and Burkburnett met at 4:30 p.m. for third place while Berger and Canyon met at 7 p.m. for second place.

Pampa went into the Friday contest with a 36.1 point per game offensive average and 49.0 defensive mark.

The Harvesters have downed Winters, 92-28, lost to San Angelo, 61-57, then ripped Childress, 94-46, Quanah, 110-61 and Burkburnett, 78-49.

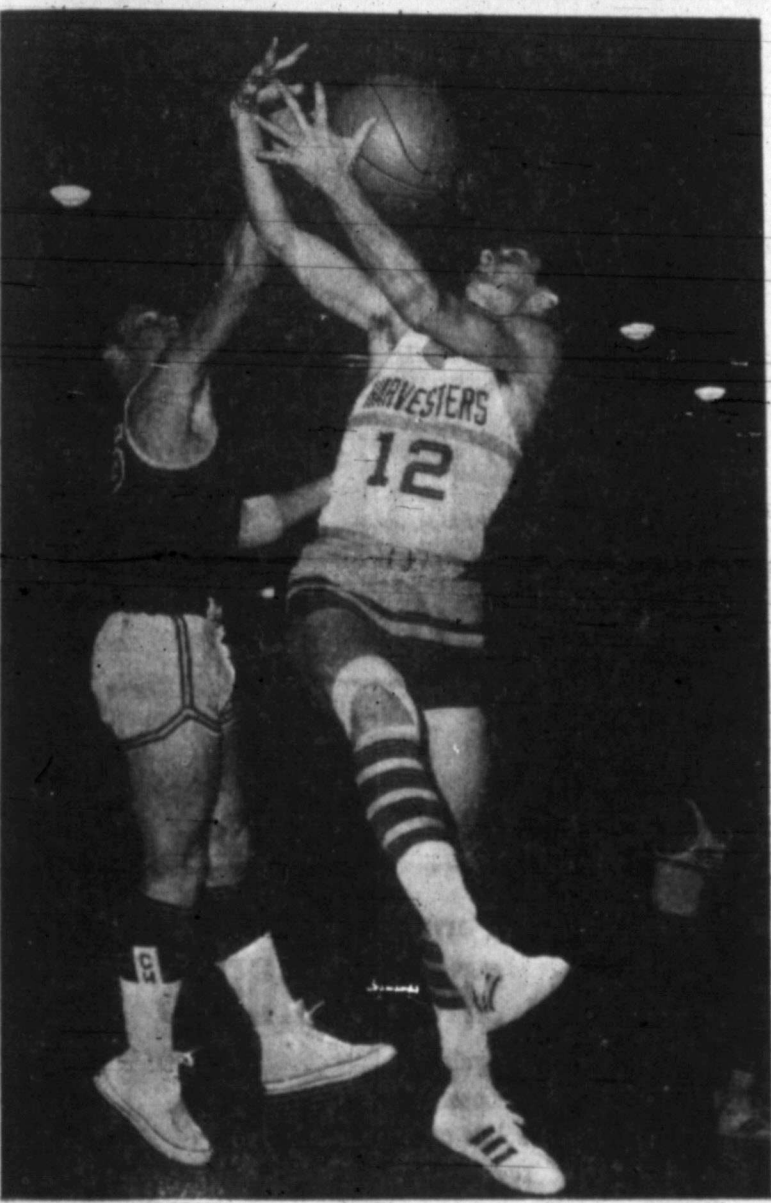

Bailey is the point pac essetter, averaging 28.2 per game with 142 up to Friday's contest. Bo Lang carried a 9.2 average and Beau Bond also topped his Friday for he was at 9.3.

Robert Olsen paced the Canyon scoring with 14 and Jack Thrasher hit 11, eight in the final half. The Eagles now 3-2, scored only eight points in a badly played fourth quarter against the Harvester reserves.

WHERE'D IT GO?—The Harvesters' Johnny Carlos (44) and Canyon's Jack Thrasher appear to be looking for the ball Friday during Pampa's 93-43 victory over the Eagles. Carlos scored 11 points.

Baltimore To Test Cowboys

By United Press International

If there is one team that is most symbolic of pro football's incredible success story of the last decade, it has to be the Baltimore Colts.

And now the Colts are on the threshold of matching a feat that hasn't been accomplished for 15 years.

And after four losing seasons, the emergence of a sloop-shouldered guy named Johnny Unitas as the best quarterback the game has known transformed the habitual losers into winners. The team hasn't had a losing season since 1956 and has won three Western Division crowns and two NFL titles along the way.

Bit now the Colts can reach even another pinnacle. They need victories in their final three games to become the first National Football League team to go through the regular season unbeaten since owner-coach George Halas' of the Chicago Bears turned the trick in 1942 when he was a "young man" of 47.

The Colts meet Dallas Cowboys Sunday and then New Orleans and Los Angeles in their final two games. The club is now 9-0. 2nd could wind up at 12-0-2.

Unique Position
Baltimore is in the unique position of almost having to win every game to clinch the Coastal Division title since they are only one game ahead of the Los Angeles Rams, who are 8-1-2 and have a breather against Atlanta this week.

Dallas (8-3) is a touchdown underdog in this game against the Colts which might well be a preview of the NFL title game on Dec. 31.

The Cowboys could also back in if both Washington (4-5-2) and Philadelphia (5-6) lose or tie one of their remaining games. The Eagles and Redskins meet Sunday in Washington.

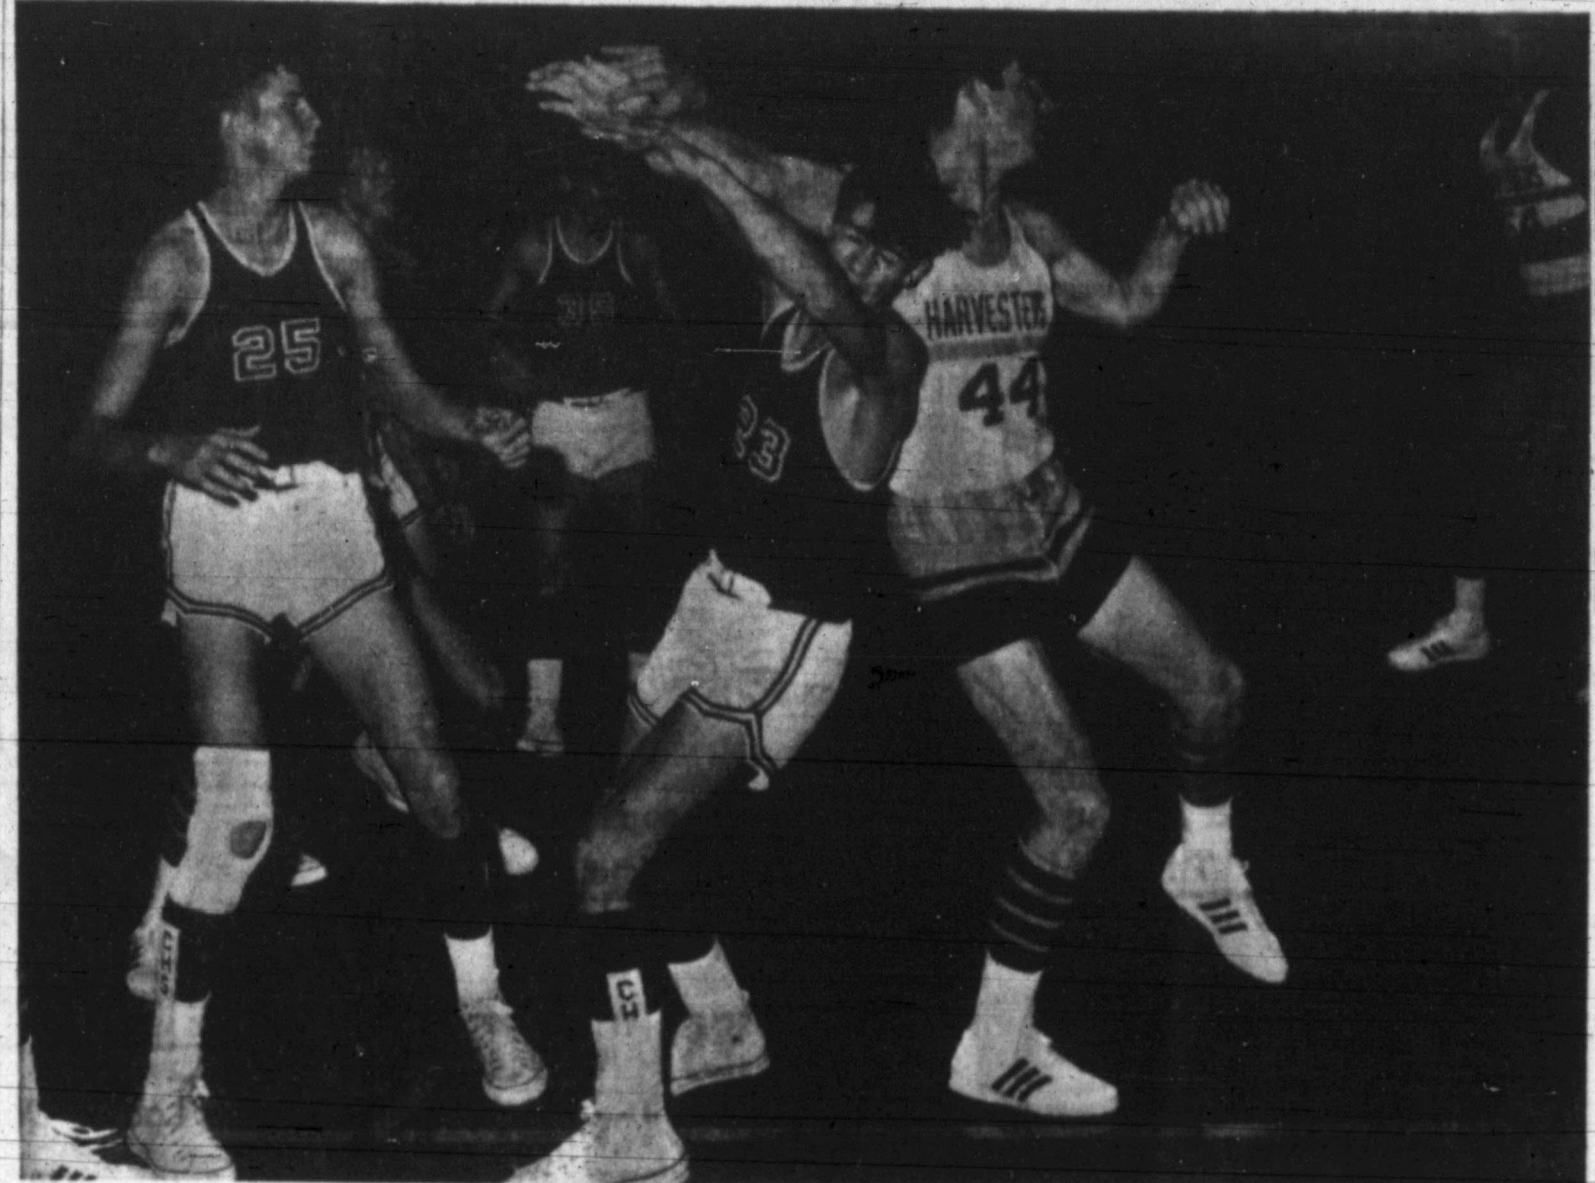

Los Angeles will be hoping for a Dallas upset of Baltimore because if the Colts beat the Cowboys, the Rams must beat Green Bay and Baltimore on consecutive weeks in its final two games to beat the Colts out of the crown.

Most Difficult
"It's a most difficult assignment but not an impossible one," claims Ram coach George Allen. But the odds of any team beating Green Bay and Baltimore on successive weeks aren't too good.

Dallas has a good shot at an upset, though. After struggling most of the season, the team finally put it all together and looked like last year's Eastern Conference title team by blasting St. Louis on Thanksgiving night.

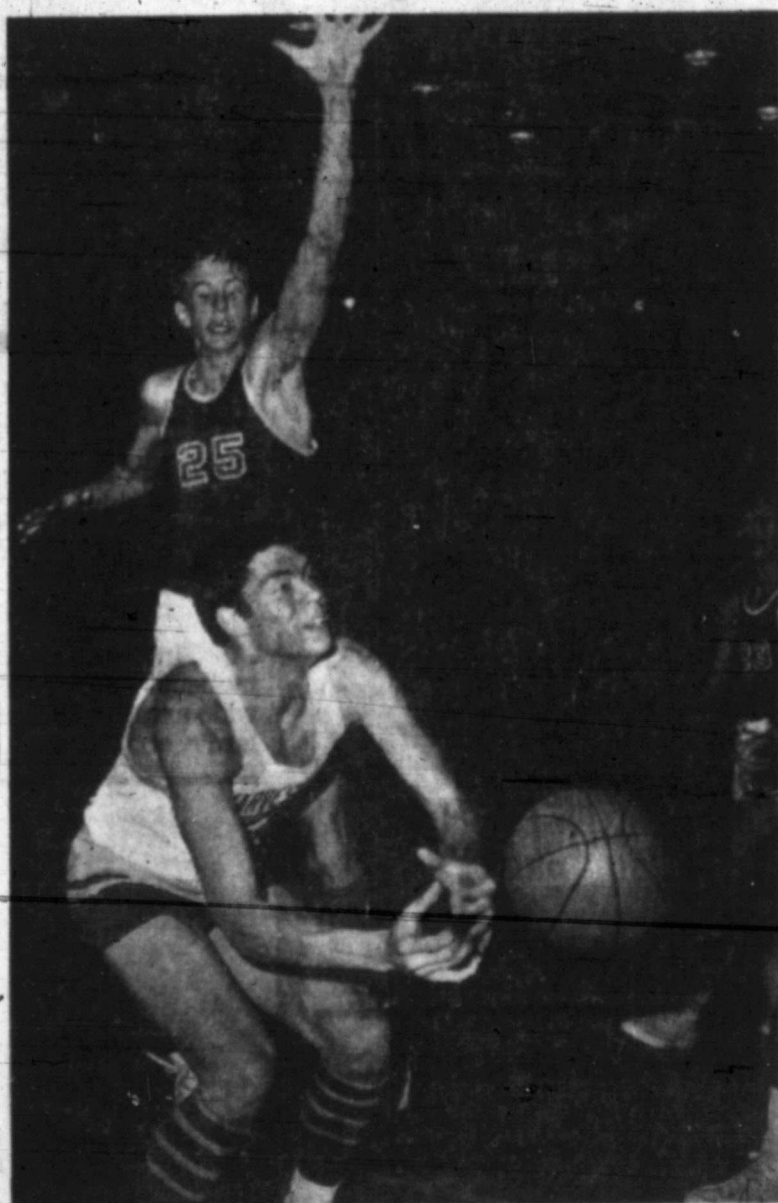

In the other five games Sunday, Cleveland (7-4) is favored by seven over New York, (6-5) St. Louis (5-5-1) is figured by 14 over New Orleans (2-9), Green Bay (3-2-1) is a sevenpoint pick over Minnesota (3-6-2) is favored by 6, over Pittsburgh (2-8-1).

The key game is the Cleveland-New York match for the Century Division lead which brings back memories of past Cleveland-New York title games. But this time it won't be as dramatic since Dallas will be favored to beat the Century Division titlist in the Eastern Conference title game. St. Louis is also still in the Century race. New York won the first game 33-34 after Cleveland blew a 10-0 lead—but this time the Browns will be at home and should get revenge.

NOT JUDO—Canyon's Galen Davis (23) isn't using judo on Johnny Carlos (44) of the Harvesters. Carlos had just backed into Davis in pursuit of the basketball. No. 25 for Canyon is Steve Butler and 35 is Andy Moreland. Pampa won 93-43.

(Daily News Staff Photo)

GUARDED CLOSELY—Beau Bond loses the ball Friday as he is guarded closely by Canyon's Steve Butler. Bond wasn't guarded that close long enough, however, as he scored 11 points to help pace Pampa to a 93-43 victory.

Mud-Slinging Campaign Coming Up?

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Merriman Smith, veteran UPI White House reporter, today said that the far left is likely to turn the 1968 campaign into a mud-slinging one.

The Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter told the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders that where right wing extremists such as the late Rep. Martin Dies and Sen. Joseph McCarthy had provided "vocal bigotry" in past decades, now it is coming from the other end of the political spectrum.

"Dissent in the minds of some of us has become an open season hunting license to vilify, excoriate and destroy," he said. "Our established civil authorities are so afraid of resurrecting Joe McCarthy that they will suffer without public complaint almost unbelievable abuse."

Smith said he doubted whether U.S. history had ever produced "examples to match the current filth and anarchistic tear-down tactics of the far left against the national administration."

He compared its tactics to those of the early followers of Hitler and Mussolini.

He warned that the far left could damage America not only by making orderly discussion difficult, but also by producing a counter-movement of witch hunts, super-nationalism and isolationism.

Smith said that Americans could express their opinions on Vietnam policy at the polls and not through "nihilism and violence in the streets."

"From my knowledge of President Johnson and the first-hand experience of having watched the four preceding Presidents cope with crisis, I doubt very much that American strategy or tactics in Vietnam are changed, or for that matter, protests and demonstrations at home," Smith said.

He predicted North Vietnam will reject all peace overtures until after the next election, even though he doubted a Republican president would represent any major shift in Vietnam policy.

If President Johnson runs again, Smith predicted he and his family will be reviled even more.

"We are in for a dirty, violent political campaign next year — not because the major candidates for president will behave in this manner, but because peripheral violence, demonstrations and emotional excesses can be expected to take the play away from basic issues."

Smith found the situation regarding racial tensions in the cities similar to the Turf over Vietnam.

He said both parties are now committed toward helping Negroes toward the goal of quality. "Progress there will be — unless, of course, the fools and anarchistic firebugs take over."

Smith said that both in the urban ghettos and among Vietnam critics, "there seems to be extremists who would tear down institutions, their government, and their country to satisfy their own hatred of the status quo."

He pointed out that both peace advocate Dr. Benjamin Spock and a "black power" spokesman before a congressional committee labeled President Johnson "the real enemy of the American people."

Citizens must remember," Smith said, that the loudest voices represent only a tiny fraction of the voters.

The most demonstrative critics of the current American system have the least to lose by its destruction, he said. "For they are not the dullards with mortgages, tuition bills, payroll tax returns and car payments to worry about."

Chinese Charge U.S. Riddle Red Freighter

TOKYO (UPI) — Peking charged Saturday that American planes riddled a Chinese Communist freighter in the North Vietnamese port of Hong Gai and wounded eight of its crewmen in a dive-bombing attack on Nov. 25.

The broadcast by the official New China News Agency did not explain why the alleged attack on the freighter Hongqi (Red Flag) No. 154 had not been reported earlier.

The NCNA dispatch monitored in Tokyo said the freighter was hit in 20 places during the raid on the port, about 20 miles north of Haiphong. It said eight crew members "fought back firmly against the savage attack." It did not elaborate.

NCNA said the Chinese Communist Foreign Ministry denounced the alleged attack as a "wild provocation by U.S. imperialism" and the incurring of "another debt of blood to the Chinese people."

The agency said U.S. planes attacked the freighter last Saturday shortly after it arrived at Hong Gai presumably to unload cargo.

It said bombs exploded above the water barely six feet off the starboard side of the vessel as it lay anchored in the harbor. It did not say how many U.S. planes were allegedly involved.

The Peking protest charged it was not the first time American planes had attacked Red Chinese ships and concluded:

"You will certainly be punished for the crimes you have committed. The Chinese people are entitled to take all necessary measures to safeguard the security of Chinese freighters, and U.S. imperialism must be held responsible for all consequences arising therefrom."

BLAST KILLS THREE

ATLANTA, Tex. (UPI)—Three men were injured Thursday and one killed when a water heating tank at the Atlanta Lumber Co. exploded. Atlanta Fire Chief Dan Davison said it appeared the thermostat malfunctioned, and the water in the tank got too hot, causing steam to rupture the tank. Gas lines to the tank were torn loose, but gas flow was stopped before a fire could start.

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice before I go out of my mind. My husband and I have been married for two years, and I just found out for sure that I am pregnant with our first child.

When I told my husband, I thought he would explode. I have never seen him so angry. He has restricted me to the house. I can leave only to go to work, and then I have to come straight home. I can't visit my friends or relatives. I can't go downtown to do anything. Not even grocery shopping in the neighborhood.

He doesn't want me any place where any of his friends can see me and know that I'm pregnant. He keeps threatening to get out legally, or illegally, as he wants no part of being tied down at 21. I love him and don't want to lose him. How can I get him to change his attitude? — I am also 21.

DEAR NEEDING: Something is fishy here. Why is your husband so violently opposed to letting his friends know that you are pregnant? You are married, and there is nothing to be ashamed of. He "tied himself down" at 19 when he married, so his "reason" for exploding doesn't make much sense. And what's this "restricting business"? If you submit to his unreasonable demands in order to "hold" a husband who has threatened to "get out legally or illegally," you are asking for the abusive treatment your poor excuse for a husband is dishing out.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and I babysit for a few people in the neighborhood and I really love it.

Tonight, one of the neighbors telephoned me and asked if I was available to sit for her on New Year's Eve. I was, so I told her yes.

Right after I hung up the telephone, my mother asked me who called and what for, so I told her.

Then my mother said, "I might need you to sit for ME on New Year's Eve."

I told my mother that I had already promised this other lady and I couldn't break my promise.

My father, who is very quick tempered yelled, "You'll sit for your mother if she needs you!" Abby, you always tell us kids to do what our parents say, but this time I think I am right and they are wrong. What do you think?

SITTER

DEAR SITTER: The best of parents can be wrong now and then, and unless you agreed to check with your mother before accepting other sitting dates, they were wrong this time.

DEAR ABBY: We have two

Take It Easy on Skin

Overhanding is a term that cosmeticians use when they describe a skin damaged by improper creaming, cleansing and make-up routines. A woman who scrubs vigorously with hot water and soap, then rinses with icy cold water is overhanding her skin. So is a woman who pummels and pulls at her skin in the mistaken notion that she is massaging it. Broken blood vessels, poor blood circulation, cracking and stiffness, all can be the results of overhanding. Always use care in cleaning, toning and conditioning the skin.

Crouch, right, during the annual Guest Day Tea held recently in Lovett Memorial Library. For the program, Mrs. Ellis reviewed the book "My Thirty Years Backstairs at the White House," by Lillian Rogers Parks. Mrs. Crouch was a tea guest. Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Campbell are study club members.

Varietas Study Club Hears Book Review

Mrs. N. B. Ellis reviewed "My Thirty Years Backstairs at the White House" by Lillian Rogers Parks for the annual Guest Day Tea of Varietas Study Club at the Lovett Memorial Library auditorium recently.

The refreshment table was decorated in a fall motif, covered with a net cloth of brown and gold with felt appliques for flowers and pumpkins, centered with an epergne of gold and brown mums in assorted shapes and sizes. Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, club president, served punch.

Mrs. Abernathy welcomed the guests, after which each club member presented her guest. Mrs. F. A. Cary introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Ellis centered her story on the first section of the White House saga, explaining Lillian Parks was the top seamstress for presidents' wives for 30 years and wrote her book just before the inauguration of President Kennedy.

"She wrote of the Hoovers, the Franklin Roosevelts, the Trumans, and the Eisenhowers. She lived backstairs in the residence as a child, since her mother worked there. She was a victim of polio and was known as the "Little Ghost" of the White House," Mrs. Ellis said.

"Do not envy the First Ladies," Mrs. Ellis quoted. "Their lives are never placid, never what they seem to be to outsiders."

She told anecdotes of each of the four Presidents' wives, showing the demands, peculiarities, joys, and sorrows of each administration from a woman's viewpoint.

Chapters she emphasized were "Eternal Clothes" and "Guns, Gifts, and Ghosts".

She interpreted each First Lady's take-over of the White House, stressing women like Lillian Parks, working behind the public scenes, are the ones who truly love and "own" the White House, since they stay there through many First Ladies' advents.

Her conclusion was a quote: "The help at the White House will always love, and work hard for, any First Lady who will praise them just a little."

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mmes. J. E. Kirchman, N. B. Ellis, L. B. Penick, and Sherman White. Mrs. White was in charge of the guest book.

The tea guest list included Mmes. Joe Shelton, Albert Wood, V. N. Osborne, Travis Lively, Walter Daugherty, George Hrdlicka, Paul Crouch, John Tatum, Leo Garrett, J. E. Maquire Jr., Eben Warner Jr., John Hessey, C. S. Boston, George Taylor, Clyde Ellis, Bert Robinson, James McCune, G. E. Tinnan, Paul Bowers, Coyle Ford, C. B. Lutes, Frank Richardson, D. L. Hinkle and Price Smith, Mrs. Jack Stafford was the chef.

Table games were played and door prizes won by Mmes. James Owensby, Ronald, Fox and Weldon Carter.

Those attending the supper were Messrs. and Mmes. Carter, Freeman, Glen Gold, Bill Kindie, Owensby, Stafford, B. I. Stephens, Kenneth Heflin, George Wood and Fox.

It is estimated that about 29 million patients were discharged from short-stay hospitals, excluding military and Veterans' Administration hospitals, during 1965. These patients received over 228 million days of care. The average length of stay was 7.8 days.

Upsilon Chapter Members Sponsor Beta Sigma Phi Pledge Ceremony

Members of Upsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, sponsored a pledge ritual ceremony and also a chili supper for guests recently.

The pledge ritual ceremony was held in the Citizen's Bank and Trust Co. Hospitality Room with Mrs. Weldon Carter reading the ceremony ritual. Mrs. Bill Kindie and Mrs. Robert Brogdin assisted Mrs. Carter.

Mrs. Kenneth Freeman, vice president, presented pledge pins to Mmes. Ronald Rex, Jack Eubanks, Edward Orsak, George Wood and E. C. Jenkins.

After the ritual, chapter members attended the regular meeting, with Mrs. Freeman presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Charles Potter.

Mrs. Jack Byrd, City Council representative, reported the Beta Sigma Phi annual Red Stocking Review will be held April 26 and 27, 1968.

Mrs. Brogdin presented a display program on verse making. Hostesses were Mrs. Kenneth Heflin and Mrs. Freeman. Refreshments were served from a table featuring a Thanksgiving theme. Placed in front of a Thanksgiving scene were cornucopia spilling vegetables and nuts onto the table.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

A new book you might want to obtain is the 1967 Yearbook of Agriculture. It is entitled "Outdoors—U.S.A."

Jack Hayes, editor, had this to say about the 1967 Yearbook. "This yearbook of agriculture is a handbook of resource conservation, a guide to the American outdoors with its great recreation potential, and a primer of natural beauty. It tells its story largely in terms of people. It covers all the U.S. Department of Agriculture's activities serving farmers and the general public in developing our natural resources so that they can be enhanced while being used productively."

"As a conservation document, 'Outdoors—U.S.A.' naturally falls into four divisions: The Big Woods (forest and mountains), Water, Beautification, and the Countryside."

The book is filled with an array of colored pictures of the outdoors. It has a very colorful binding. It is easily read. If you are an outdoors enthusiast, I would recommend it. There are lots of fine articles for your entertainment. There are many educational articles on how to enjoy the outdoors. There are special articles on safety. Lots of tips to farmers and ranchers on how to capitalize on the new outdoors craze. If you would like a copy, you may obtain one through the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C., 20402. The price is $2.75.

For many years the U.S.D.A. has printed a yearbook on agriculture based on various timely topics. Ralph Thomas, former county agricultural agent, did an excellent job of preserving each yearbook of agriculture over the years that he was County Agricultural Agent in Gray County which spanned from 1930 to August, 1960. In addition, he obtained a number of yearbooks of agriculture in prior years. We have in our office copies dating back to the year 1911. The 1911 yearbook of agriculture was confined to a general report to the Congress on the farm situation and the activities of the Department of Agriculture.

In reviewing a report that James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, 1911, made in a 153-page report to Congress, we found some very interesting figures. A chart showed that the farm price of wheat was bringing $1.23 per bushel in March of 1910 in the South Atlantic States.

Today's farmers are not too encouraged that the price has risen to $1.37 based on last Friday's market.

One rather barbed statement that Wilson made in his report to Congress in 1911 had to do with the farmer's share of the food dollar. I quote Wilson: "The consumer pays a dollar for food; the farmer gets less than fifty cents for it. Who gets the rest?"

I couldn't give the exact figure today, but I believe the farmer's share is pretty close to 35 cents of the consumer's dollar.

The way farming is moving today, I believe we could expect the farmer's share to continue to decline.

Those farmers that stay in the farming business will make less net profit per unit produced and they will offset this by producing more units. The big farms will get bigger and the little farms will disappear from the scene unless it is a part-time farming enterprise.

More and more corporate-type farming enterprises are specialized but many of them diversified.

A revolution like you have never seen before is just now taking shape and will completely change the agricultural situation within the next 10 years.

The efficient, well-managed farming and ranching enterprise will survive; the inefficient will cease to operate. In times past, a son that inherited a section of land debt-free from his father could operate with a high degree of efficiency and still maintain a fairly high standard of living. The time is now on us when a section of land can be lived-up in short order if operated with a high degree of inefficiency.

CO-OPS

Farmer co-ops are investing $42 million for 12 new facilities outside of metropolitan areas, reports USDA's Farmer Cooperative Service. By locating these plants in non-metropolitan areas, farmer cooperatives are helping to stem the migration of rural people to over-crowded cities. Too, the co-ops are showing their confidence in the quality of rural labor and services.

Panhandle Water District News

By FELIX W. RYALS

Approximately six years ago officials of the three underground water conservation districts on the high plains of West Texas were in possession of facts and figures indicating that underground waters were dropping. They had also been told that the underground water reservoirs of the area were not being re-filled.

Studies were begun in earnest both locally and on the state level to come up with a workable plan by 1960 to 1965. The Texas Water Plan has been the result. The sources of water in the plan and the areas of greatest need were laid out against the cost of getting it to these areas. In the final analysis the East Texas water, earmarked for West Texas, was too little and the cost too great.

Water Problem
West Texas is not the only area of Texas with a water problem. The Texas Board of Water Development has just released a bulletin with some interesting items. The bulletin states that water levels are declining and land is subsiding (sinking) in most areas near Houston. In 1960, the daily pumping of ground water was 311 million gallons per day in Harris and Galveston Counties and parts of Chambers, Liberty, Montgomery, Waller, Fort Bend, and Brazoria Counties.

Local Pumping
We can do a little calculating to get a comparison. The Rex McAnelly irrigation well, two miles east of the Moody Farms in Gray County, was test pumped at 1600 gallons per minute which adds up to 96,000 gallons in one hour and 2,304,000 gallons in one day. The McAnelly irrigation well would have to pump only 135 days to produce the amount of ground water pumped in the Houston area in 1960. By 1965 the amount pumped daily in the area had increased to 421 million gallons daily. Water levels in the heavily pumped Pasadena area declined (dropped) 9.5 feet in 1965. The loss of underground water was not the only problem. The land subsidence in the Pasadena area was 5 feet during the 10 year period of 1954-1964. Land continues to sink in most parts of the area as water is pumped out from the underground.

Galveston-Houston Area
Good quality water is still available in the Galveston-Houston area. Checks made in Galveston's old well field at Alta Loma during the past year shows that the chloride content is increasing steadily in the field. This indicates salt water from the Gulf of Mexico, is very slowly moving in as fresh water is withdrawn.

The same situation has arisen in the Orange County area of California. To remedy the situation a fresh water barrier is being established to hold back the salt water from the Pacific Ocean.

On Nov. 14 Arthur Barbeck, chief engineer with the Texas Railroad Commission announced that the commission would have 81 field personnel on the job in various parts of the state by Dec. 1, 1967, whose primary job would be to enforce pollution control regulations. He also stated that 240 permits have been issued under the 1967 Salt Water Haulers Act.

Marvin Nichols of Fort Worth, the recognized dean of water engineers in Texas, recently discovered that the county and State Historical Survey Commissions set in motion under Governor John Connally was not placing historical site plaques on dams, canals and pumping stations. Nichols has always been known as a man of action and wasted no time in setting in motion the necessary machinery to get a marker on each. Water Rights Commission records in Austin indicate that the Tom Miller Dam near Austin, built in 1893, is the oldest dam in the state with more than 5,000 acre-feet capacity. If anyone in the Panhandle area knows of one built before that date, please get in touch with the Panhandle Water Conservation District Office.

Those who use water from streams in Texas must obtain a permit from the Texas Water Rights Commission. On Nov. 16, the Water Rights Commission granted permits to the following persons in the High Plains area: F. E. Blakemore was granted a permit to use 30 acre feet from a 190 acre foot reservoir on a tributary of the North Fork of the Red River in Wheeler County. He will irrigate 45 acres. The Zetzsches interests of Hereford was granted a permit to use 1,131 acre feet from an existing 50 acre foot reservoir on Tierra Blanca Creek to irrigate 377 acres in Deaf Smith County.

Irrigation Clinics Are Scheduled For Panhandle Area

Farmers and others in Gray County who are interested in irrigation are urged to make plans to attend one of a series of three irrigation clinics scheduled for the Panhandle area, Dec. 12-14, reports County Agricultural Agent Foster Whaley.

All clinics will be from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and are scheduled as follows: Dec. 12, County Exhibit Building, Stratford; Dec. 13, Home Demonstration Building, Spearman; and Dec. 14, County Agricultural Building, Pampa.

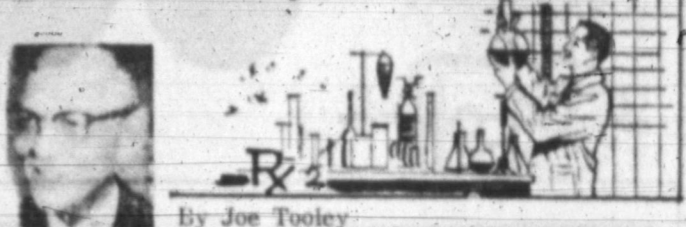

A slate of talented resource people will present the program, points out Whaley. A discussion on the present water situation will kick off each of the meetings. This portion of the program at Stratford and Spearman will be given by a representative of the North Plains Water District, Felix Ryals with the Panhandle Underground Water District will discuss this topic at the Pampa meeting.

Other topics will include "Developing an Irrigation Water Supply and Equipping an Irrigation Well" by Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer—irrigation, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and "Irrigation Methods and Systems" by John Jackson, area water engineer.

the Drama of DRUGS

By Joe Tooley

We've heard a great deal recently about Soviet Russia's claims of the effectiveness of their socialized medical system, especially from the Russians themselves who are their own best press agents. As wonderful as their system seems to be, however, some Russians don't seem to go for the idea of assembly-line medical treatment. In fact, some doctors have been practicing medicine privately.

Calling upon doctors to see patients after their normal working hours, the radio appealed: Let there be more practice in our lives. The remnant of the past must end.

Being ill can't be made pleasant, but the patient can be made comfortable. Come to Richard Drug for all your sick room supplies, and for all Prescriptions.

And however you rate the teenager at your house, scholastically, in athletics, in activities, these are two champions that your teenager can look up to with admiration and envy. For these are the champion teenage automobile drivers in the United States, survivors of competition with thousands of contestants in every State in the Union and the District of Columbia.

UN Can't Define Aggression

The United Nations is still unable to define "aggression." Article 39 of the UN Charter states very clearly that "The Security Council shall determine the existence of any act of aggression and shall make recommendations, or decide what measures shall be taken in accordance with Articles 41 and 42, to maintain or restore international peace and security."

Article 41 provides for involving the use of armed force, such as sanctions.

Article 42 says: "Should the Security Council consider that measures provided for in Article 41 would be inadequate, it may take such action by air, sea or land forces as may be necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security."

Articles 43 and 44 specify how the UN may arrange for troops to be supplied by member nations. Furthermore, Article 45 states: "In order to enable the United Nations to take urgent military measures, members shall hold immediately available national air-force contingents for combined interna-

A Winning Platform

With the growing list of Presidential candidates who are "not running," it may be appropriate to set down a platform for them. A winning platform: The mere fact that a winning platform is in being may move some of the "undecided," and prompt them to detail for us how they would propose to implement the planks in the platform.

Plank 1: Immediate and drastic reduction of governmental expenditures by abolishing unnecessary agencies and consolidating departments and bureaus.

Plank 2: A Federal budget balanced annually, based on accurate estimates.

Plank 3: A sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.

Plank 4: Remove Government from all private enterprise except public works.

Plank 5: An Army-Navy and Air Force adequate for national defense which will not burden people with expenditures of many billions of dollars.

Plank 6: A firm foreign policy based on no interference with other nations; the sanctity of treaties and the maintenance of good faith and good will in financial obligations.

Plank 7: Condemn the disastrous action which made the Government a speculator of

The 1967 elections present many heartening features. The main trend shining through is the confirmation of all recent public opinion polls: the disastrous plummeting of support for the Johnson Administration. Never in recent history has a president been so mistrusted, deplored, and reviled by all segments of the population; his popularity has reached an all-time low in the polls.

Confirmation of this trend by the elections is clear—in New Jersey, for example, where Governor Richard Hughes has been closely identified with the Johnson Administration a 2-1 Democratic majority in the legislature has been turned around to a phenomenal 3-1 Republican margin. In Kentucky, Louis Nunn has become the first Republican governor in decades, giving the Republican party a majority of the nation's governors. Nunn's main campaign thrust was opposition to the Administration's war in Vietnam, and it is clear that the Vietnam war has played a large, if not dominant, role in the growing repudiation of the President. Contrary to most of the interpretation in the press, the 33 per cent vote in the San Francisco referendum for immediate withdrawal from the anti-war forces for this is a position too advanced for a large part of the Vietnam critics, much less the general population.

On the other great issue of our epoch—the race question—the elections, again contrary to the press, were a repudiation of the Administration. For while it is true that the Negroes Carl Stokes and Richard Hatcher won the mayoralty races in Cleveland and in Gary, Indiana, with the blessings of the Administration, the important point is that they squeaked through in overwhelmingly Democratic cities. All this points up the Democratic collapse and the continuing Republican resurgence.

And in New York the voters of the state delivered a smashing 3 to 1 repudiation of the proposed state Constitution. The vote was an unofficial alliance of left and right against the center, headed by the Democratic Party of New York State; the Constitution would have prevented voters from passing on state bond issues, and would have given state aid to private and parochial schools.

Finally, to complete the picture of Democratic disarray and disintegration, the conscientious Senator Eugene McCarthy (D., Minn.) is reportedly getting ready to challenge President Johnson in the 1968 primaries—a remarkable step, growing out of the increasing despair of thoughtful Democrats at the escalating road to ruin in Vietnam.

Not very "aggressive" would you say?

farm products and the unsound policy of restricting farm products.

Conclusion: To accomplish these purposes and to recover economic liberty, pledge the nominees of the convention the best efforts of a great party pledged to the doctrine which guides us now in the hour of our country's need: Equal rights for all; special privileges for none.

How do we know this is a winning platform?

It contains the principal provisions of the platform on which Franklin D. Roosevelt ran and won election in his first campaign 35 years ago.

And the planks in the platform remain unused to this day.

Any candidate, irrespective of party, who could persuade the voters that he would put those planks into use after all these years, would win by the biggest landslide ever recorded in a national election.

A thought for the day—English satirist Jonathan Swift said: "Satire is a sort of glass, where in beholders generally discover everybody's face but their own."

A thought for the day—British statesman Sir Winston Churchill said: "There is no finer investment for any community than putting milk into babies."

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Britain's purchase of 50 American F-111s, the most advanced version of the controversial TFX military aircraft, could become one of the major casualties of the devaluation of the pound.

Because of the added costs of British purchases in the U. S. caused by the devaluation, Prime Minister Wilson has warned President Johnson that his government may be forced either to cancel or renegotiate the reciprocal defense spending agreement based on the multi-billion-dollar purchase of the F-111s.

Under this accord, the U. S. agreed to purchase $325 million of British-made defense equipment to partially offset Britain's proposed buying of the F-111s and other arms, worth $2.5 billion.

If the terms of the present U. S.-British agreement aren't changed, Wilson claims, the devaluation will add more than $300 million to the cost of the aircraft and other purchases that Britain plans to make in the U. S.

In addition to these higher costs, he points out, the devaluation of the pound from $2.80 to $2.40 permits the U. S. to gain nearly $50 million on its purchases of military equipment in Britain.

Suggesting how the TFX deal might be saved, Wilson has sent two proposals to Washington for President Johnson's urgent consideration, according to administration sources.

The first would have the U. S. increase purchases of defense items in Britain to match the added cost of the F-111s and to cover the devaluation advantage on the Pentagon's planned military purchases.

The second suggests that the U. S. write off most of the added costs of the F-111s as part of the over-all reciprocal defense spending agreement.

SEEKING A WAY OUT — Since the cost of both London proposals is far too high a price for the U. S. to pay, Johnson Administration officials believe they were made to give Prime Minister Wilson a legitimate reason for withdrawing from the controversial TFX deal.

This, they point out, would spare the British government the necessity of spending such a great sum on aircraft for which Wilson contends there is no longer a pressing need.

When the decision to replace aircraft carriers was made shortly after the Labor government gained power, the American planes were regarded by the British government as essential to fill the military gap east of Suez.

But more recently Wilson's government has radically modified its east-of-Suez commitment because of Britain's growing financial difficulties and the closing of the Suez Canal.

Also, the British government's support for the F-111 has declined considerably in recent months because of the difficulties being encountered in its development, including the Navy's version of the aircraft.

ANOTHER ROADBLOCK — The Anglo-American defense spending agreement also faces another serious threat.

This is the Senate proposal which would ban credit from the U. S. Export-Import Bank to countries sending goods or supplies to North Vietnam.

Legislation with this rider is now pending before the House Rules Committee.

The British government would come under such a ban on grounds it could be held responsible for the growing amount of trade with North Vietnam in British-registered shipping.

Purchase of the F-111s, which can be used as all-weather fighter-bombers, was to have been partly financed under credit arrangements with the Export-Import Bank.

While there has been no official announcement, the Export-Import Bank was planning to put up more than $1 billion in credit for the British purchase of the U. S. aircraft.

THE TFX PROBE — Senator John McClellan, D-Ark., whose Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee conducted lengthy hearings into the award of the TFX contract to General Dynamics in 1963, says he plans to resume the inquiry into the aircraft's cost and performance.

The subcommittee's new investigation will cover the impact that a cancellation or renegotiation of the British purchase of the F-111s would have on the cost of the entire TFX program.

McClellan, who doubts that the TFX will ever be an acceptable carrier aircraft, plans to offer an amendment to the administration's latest supplemental appropriation bill barring further spending for the Navy version, the F-11B.

In support of his rider, McClellan said that a Pentagon official recently admitted when asked about the cost estimates of the Navy's version of the TFX, "We don't know, in fact, what the airplane will look like, let alone what it will cost."

McClellan's amendment will be designed to eliminate approximately $100 million which Defense Secretary McNamara is seeking for further development of the F-11B.

Although its investigation of the cost of the TFX program is still far from complete, the subcommittee's latest estimate is that the program will run to more than $10 billion.

DEVALUATION FALLOUT — Australia's purchase of the F-111s from the U. S. was one of the factors in that government's decision not to devalue its dollar. Had the Australian government followed the lead of Britain and New Zealand, devaluation would have forced cancellation of the purchase.

WASHINGTON:

Data Points Way to Stop VC Forces

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — If it is true, as the data seems to indicate, that the Ho Chi Minh apparatus in the south is being reorganized for a conventional, long-range and end-range insurgency, it opens an opportunity for U. S. and South Vietnamese government forces.

In the months immediately ahead, Americans and South Vietnamese have their best opportunity to date to make real gains in knocking out Viet Cong North Vietnamese political-economic-psychological warfare underground organization which is the real base of Communist strength in South Vietnam. This organization provides the intelligence, recruiting and logistics base on which the VC and North Vietnamese armies operate.

The underground organization, depleted in the past two years when the Communists thought a quick victory was in the offing, bumbled widely in its dealings with farmers and the city poor.

The new VC cadre, out to build a base for a long-term underground war, will have to mend fences in areas where second-rate VC cadre, replacements of the past two years antagonized many people with crude terrorism, exorbitant tax collection and pompous arrogance.

The VC underground structure today is weak in many spots. These loopholes are being mended in the reorganization. But this will take time. Replacement of second raters with able men is not quickly done.

Thus the U. S.—South Vietnam opportunity is to act before Hanoi has time to rebuild the topflight organization it once had.

In this new situation, any "peace talks" in which Ho participated would be a maneuver to buy time to enable the new party underground to fix itself securely in place.

On our side, the VC-North Vietnamese underground rebuilding must be fought principally with U. S.—South Vietnamese civilian effort which must overtake in quality the military build-up of the past few years.

This doesn't require huge numbers of new U. S. personnel. Rather, it means small numbers of highly skilled, highly motivated, carefully picked men who have the ability to get along with other men.

For the job at hand is to work with and inspire, not dominate—Vietnam's willagers.

As a corollary, new types of Vietnamese leaders will have to be trained for work in the countryside, where the war will be won or lost. The traditional upper-class, white-shirted Vietnamese is not effective in farming communities. He must be replaced in the hamlets by local, young leaders chosen from among typical village families.

These leaders—who understand how the other half lives because they're from that group themselves—must be trained and sent back into the hamlets to match wits with the VC-North Vietnamese underground.

This new brand of men on our side will also create the basis for widened leadership in the hamlets when the war is won.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

In preparation for what may be a long, hard winter, let us consider frostbite and its prevention. Like burns, it may be classified as first, second or third degree. A first-degree frostbite causes redness of the skin and mild itching. This is sometimes called chilblain. A second-degree cold injury causes blisters and in third-degree frostbite there is gangrene of the skin and damage to some of the tissues beneath the skin.

The important thing to remember when you go out on a cold day is that still air at below freezing temperatures is nowhere near as damaging as an icy wind. For example, an outdoor temperature of -60 degrees with no wind will not cause as much damage as a temperature of -10 degrees accompanied by a wind of only 10 m.p.h. That is why the Eskimo parka offers such complete protection. The fur on the inside, next to the body, forms a blanket of warmed air. The oiled outer surface acts as a wind-breaker, and fitting the parka snugly around the head and neck keeps the warm air from escaping.

Another point to remember is that the colder and drier the air you breathe, the harder it is for your lungs to warm and moisten it. Too great a chilling of your lungs will damage them. This can be prevented by wrapping a woollen muffler around your mouth and nose or by using one of the breath warmers now available in stores offering equipment for winter sports.

Q—I am 83 and have had cataracts removed. When I got the lenses of my spectacles changed they used plastic instead of glass. Do you think they are as good?

A—Plastic lenses are equally as good as glass. They have the advantage that they are of much lighter weight and cause less pressure on the nose. This is especially helpful to persons who, like yourself, must wear thick lenses. The only disadvantage is that they become scratched more easily. They cannot be cleaned with silicon lens paper for this reason. Even using a dry handkerchief to clean them may scratch them unless they are washed gently with soap and water first to remove any grit that may be sticking to them.

Q—In a recent column you recommended vanillic diethylamide for advanced emphysema. I have tried to purchase this drug but the local pharmacist has never heard of it.

A—This drug, ethamilvan (Emivan), can be purchased only with a prescription.

Q—Employee—Sir, can you let me off tomorrow afternoon to go Christmas shopping with my wife?

Employer—Certainly not! We are too busy!

Employee (much relieved)—Thank you, sir, you are very kind!

Stenographer—Your little girl wants to kiss you over the phone.

Busy Manager—Take the message, I'll get it from you later.

In 1964, a record 67 million American voters went to the polls and Lyndon B. Johnson was elected by the largest majority in history.

WTSU Choral To Perform Here

CANYON — The 49-voice University Choral of West Texas State University will present a concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Lee Junior High auditorium here. The concert is sponsored by Pampa High School and a Cappella Choir.

Jean Holman Gray, soprano, originally of Pampa, and accompanied by Lorna Schultz, Amarillo, will be the Choral's guest artist at the Pampa concert.

Conducted by Dr. Houston Bright, professor of music and composer-in-residence at WTSU, the group will close its pre-Christmas season when it returns to the campus Dec. 10. A concert at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building auditorium will be open to the public.

The Choral will also perform Dec. 5 in Amarillo at Tascosa High School, and at Hereford High School, Dec. 6 at Montezuma and Lubbock High Schools in Lubbock, Dec. 7 at Midland and Midland Lee in Midland, and Dec. 8 at Odessa College.

Membership in the Choral is selected by rigid audition and includes the outstanding voices at WTSU. Its members also perform with the University Chorale in a Brass and Percussion Co. of nine to 12 players. Instrumentation includes three trumpets, two horns, two trombones, tuba, string bass and timpani and sometimes additional percussion.

In the Choral's repertoire are five of Dr. Bright's compositions of the last three years. The concerts planned include two selections which can be called "Christmas music," and a number of double choruses and specialties.

RON GABRIEL

Pampa Actor Visiting Here

Ron Gabriel, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Gabriel of 1839 N. Sumner, is visiting his parents during a short break between engagements on the professional stage.

Less than two years ago, Ron Gabriel became a professional actor and member of Actor's Equity after being cast in three musicals at Valley Music Hall in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Since then, he has progressed to high acclaim as an actor and is being recognized by major stars, producers and directors as a coming star.

Gabriel gives university training and opportunity high marks for his accomplishments.

"I was stepped on enough to give me the courage to get up and fight back," he said. "I am afraid if a person has it too easy, he thinks he is too good to improve."

After performing in his first three professional musicals, he had offers to perform in many states. His first three musicals were "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" with Jane Powell, "Eye, Bye Birdie" with Roger Smith, and "Oliver" with Harvey Lembeck.

Montana's popular Musical Comedy Theatre called him to perform the role of Sir Harry in "Once Upon A Mattress," where he exploded with such vitality in developing a new characterization of the part that audiences interrupted his performance with overwhelming laughter and applause. The director called him "a rare, sparkling jewel" in the role.

Schooling interrupted Gabriel's schedule of acting for the last time in June when he received his Bachelor of Fine Arts to visit his parents here before returning to Salt Lake City.

"Now I feel that acting is a career rather than a part-time role for Canada, California, Washington and Oregon."

During his short 16 months as a "money-making" actor, he has worked with such well-known stars as Jane Powell, Roger Smith, Harvey Lembeck, Bernice Massee, Marge Cameron, Ruta Lee, Oliver Cliff, Jose Ferrer, William Shatner, Ann Blyth, David Daniels, Jonathan Lucas, Jack Bailey, Ann B. (Schultz) Davis and Dennis Day.

He has appeared in more than 25 musical productions, including those previously mentioned and "Oliver," "Pefer Pan," "Carroll," "Oklahoma," "Kismet" and "My Fair Lady."

Rehearsals for a new musical review ended last week, enabling the rising young performer.
