

Viet Air Loss All-Time High

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States for the second time in three days lost six jets bombing North Vietnam, military spokesmen said today. But for the first time in the war, an American pilot shot down two Communist MIGs in the same dogfight. The 12 planes lost Monday and Wednesday formed the greatest three-day American air loss of the war, spokesmen said.

U.S. spokesmen also reported that last week American war casualties passed the 90,000 mark. They said 108 U.S. servicemen were killed and 833 wounded last week, boosting the war total to 12,605 slain, 77,513 wounded and 703 missing in action, a total of 90,826 casualties.

Smoking-Related Cancer Near The 'Epidemic' Stage

ATLANTA (UPI)—The American Cancer Society said Wednesday that deaths from cigarette-related cancer have reached "epidemic proportions" in the United States.

Despite this alarming trend, society president Ashbel C. Williams said, American children are taking up the smoking habit at the rate of 4,000 to 5,000 an hour.

"At this rate, one million of the children now in school will eventually die from smoking," said Williams, a Jacksonville, Fla., physician.

He said 1967 has been termed "the year of the cigarette" by the society.

Cancer caused by smoking killed 75,000 persons last year, Williams said, and other smoking-related diseases claimed another 300,000 lives.

The society's public education chairman, Dr. A. H. Letton of Atlanta, said the tobacco industry spends $2 billion annually "trying to talk children into smoking."

The aim of the society, Letton said, is to try to persuade children not to smoke.

Train Derailment, Fire In Texarkana Now Under Control

TEXARKANA, Tex. (UPI)—More than 6,700 persons, who were evacuated Tuesday and spent the night in high school gymnasiums and on street corners, were back safely in their homes today.

A 15-square mile section of this city of 32,000 on the Texas-Arkansas border was evacuated late Tuesday night when 12 cars derailed on a Texas and Pacific train carrying liquid plastic, acid and poisonous chemicals.

A chemical fire and two explosions followed the derailment, injuring 10 persons. All the injured were reported in good condition today.

The fire raged throughout Wednesday morning before being extinguished.

The Texarkana residents in the area were routed from their homes when the flames threatened to spread to the car of poisonous chemicals.

Goldwater Claims Johnson Used Detroit Politically

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a slashing attack on President Johnson's action during the Detroit riots, Barry Goldwater has charged that the Chief Executive "played politics with the lives of white and black Americans alike."

American airmen, who lost six planes Monday, lost another half dozen Wednesday in battling their way through swarms of MIGs and Surface-to-Air Missiles (SAMs) and sheets of flak to hit North Vietnam's key military arsenal in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, spokesmen said.

They said the North Vietnamese took advantage of rain-forecasting cloudy weather last week to install vast new batteries of anti-aircraft that took their toll this week as American pilots flew four straight days down "MIG Alley."

The Monday-Wednesday losses raised to 659 the number of American planes lost in the North Vietnam air war. Spokesmen said only one of the 11 airmen aboard the six planes lost Wednesday was rescued.

Beside's Waldrop's unprecedented double kill, another MIG was listed as probably downed Wednesday.

Maj. Billy R. Ivens, 35, of Dunmore, Ky., got credit for the "probable."

But MIG21s, the sleek delta winged jets which are the best plane in the North Vietnamese air force, downed two U.S. Air Force F4C Phantoms, the swiftest American planes in the war.

A Navy Phantom was shot down by "unknown causes" and Communist ground fire downed two other Air Force Phantoms and a Thunderchief, spokesmen said.

Levelland Pair Still Missing, Search Widens

LEVELLAND, Tex. (UPI)—The search for Loren Blood, 36, and the 14-year-old girl he is accused of kidnapping moved into the Las Vegas, Nev., region today following reports he had been seen in the area.

Hockley County sheriff Wier Clem said in Levelland Wednesday the Las Vegas police had notified him that Blood had hooked a transistor record player and a small radio in Las Vegas Aug. 11.

Blood and the girl, Debbie Feemster, were last seen in Levelland Aug. 4.

Mrs. Dean Feemster of Levelland, mother of the missing girl, said she fears her daughter may be dead.

Mrs. Feemster has received postcards from the girl, including one that said she and Blood were married in Juarez, Mexico. Another of the cards was marked "Loren Blood, 36, M, postmarked G Allup, N. M., where the search had been centered for the past several days.

Goldwater Claims Johnson Unrestrained by Ignorance of the Facts

Partisans of Michigan Gov. George W. Romney contend that Johnson sought to extract from the governor, a possible 1968 Republican presidential candidate, an admission that he could not handle the problem and overly emphasized the inability of the state's National Guard to quell the disorders.

Goldwater agreed with this view, though he was careful to say that this agreement was not intended as a political endorsement of Romney.

The former Arizona senator said he had withheld criticism of Johnson's actions in the Detroit disorders in the hope the President "would recoil from what he had done" and apologize.

IN SOUTH VIETNAM

American Delegates To Watch Elections

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is sending a delegation of 20 prominent Americans to South Vietnam at the invitation of the Saigon government to observe the forthcoming presidential elections.

The White House announcement Wednesday came after Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in an across-the-board swipe at Johnson's Vietnam policy, termed the Vietnamese elections a "fraud."

"We don't need to go there," he told a news conference in New York. "We have competent newsmen and television men there who are already doing a good job of showing what is going on."

Neither Kennedy nor his fellow New York senator, Republican Jacob K. Javits, another critic of the elections, was on the preliminary list of those Johnson named to go.

The list of those named by President included representatives of state and local government, Congress, organized labor, business, the religious community and the press.

In addition, the White House said others had been invited and would be identified if they are able to go.

White House press secretary George Christian said the move was in response to a request by the military government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky for the United States and other friendly nations "to view for themselves the political campaign now under way" as well as the Election Sept. 3.

"There is a great deal of interest on the part of the government there to have a foreign civilian present during the campaign period," he said.

DeGaulle Offers To Help 'Free' French-Canadians

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today embarked on a program to help French-Canadians be more French. He did not bother to tell the Canadian Embassy.

A senior official of the embassy told newsmen the De Gaulle government announcement of the program came as "a complete surprise."

It marked the latest action in De Gaulle's controversial effort to encourage French-speaking citizens of Quebec toward what he has called "liberation."

His information minister, Georges Gorse, told newsmen after a cabinet meeting Wednesday, "The French government has decided to develop its cooperation for the benefit of Quebec. The government will considerably step up the cooperation given by France in the culture, economy and technical fields."

At Ottawa, Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told newsmen the announcement did not disburse him. But he said he was awaiting official reports.

In Quebec, Quebec Premier Daniel Johnson said he was not surprised. He said he has been planning with De Gaulle and his government for just such a program and said he already has dispatched experts to Paris to work on television program exchanges.

He also said it is "essential" that Frenchmen invest in Quebec. He said that unless Quebec develops along French lines, his province's 1.6 million French-speaking students will grow up to be second class citizens in English-speaking Canada.

ELECTIONEERING, SAIGON-STYLE, includes mobile posters. With less than two weeks to go before South Vietnam's crucial general election, a campaign worker spreads the word through downtown Saigon via pedicab.

AFTER MCLEAN HOLD-UP

Early Robbers Lose Their Loot

"Even before the chickens were up today," to quote a Gray County deputy sheriff, here, two New York men stopped at a McLean service station for gasoline. Before leaving they allegedly robbed the attendant of $107.75 and tied him up, but were caught an hour later in Amarillo.

According to Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan, the station attendant, Jerry Hilburn, freed himself shortly after the men left and then called Constable J. D. Fish of McLean.

Fish alerted Panhandle area law officers of the armed robbery and two men, Anthony Tromas Fiorello, 23, and James Lee Herring, 19, were arrested by Amarillo policemen Stanley E. Whisenant and Gary O. Vernon, Sheriff Jordan said.

Justice of the Peace G. L. Lunsford of Pampa issued a warrant for the arrest of Fiorello and Herring, both of Manhattan, N.Y. The two are charged with armed robbery of a service station owned by Walter Comstock of McLean according to the warrant record.

After their arrest, the two were arraigned before Amarillo Justice of the Peace Cliff Roberts, and were to be brought to Pampa by Sheriff Jordan for arraignment before a justice of the peace here, Sheriff Jordan said.

According to Sheriff Jordan, the robbery occurred at 4:15 a.m. at Comstock's service station on Highway 66. The station was operated by Hilburn, Comstock's son-in-law.

"After taking the money and tying Hilburn up, the two subjects headed west on Highway 66, and were arrested at 5:20 a.m. by the two Amarillo police officers. Both Herring and Fiorello had .22 caliber pistols," Sheriff Jordan said.

SUSPECTS in an armed robbery at McLean early this morning are brought to the Gray County Courthouse by Sheriff Rufe Jordan and (right) deputy sheriff J. D. Fish of McLean. The two negroes were identified as Anthony Thomas Fiorello, left, and James Lee Herring, both of New York. At right in front is Jerry Hilburn, who was on duty at the station the two men allegedly held up.

Draft Goes Before Geneva Conference

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and Russia today jointly presented a draft treaty banning spread of nuclear armaments. William C. Foster of the United States and Alexei A. Roshchin of the Soviet Union presented the draft to the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference. Foster and Roshchin serve as co-chairmen of the meeting.

The tricky question of control and inspection of nuclear installations was left open in the treaty draft.

Presentation of the draft treaty, though still not a final document, was a major step in international relations and ended six months of suspense over whether the two superpowers would agree to a joint draft.

The question of control and inspection listed as Article Three by the disarmament conference, remained a potential stumbling block to any final agreement.

Western nations want Euratom, the European Atomic Energy Commission, to control and inspect plants in common market countries. The Soviet Bloc demands control by the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) in Vienna.

The draft treaty has been expected off and on since early this year. Both the United States and the Soviet Union agreed on details of the treaty early but several non-nuclear powers balked at the proposed measure.

West Germany and Italy especially had misgivings about the proposed treaty because they felt the inspection clause would give the Soviet Union an open license to spy on their nuclear installations.

It was not immediately clear whether the 17-nation disarmament conference would debate the proposal as soon as the United States and the Soviet Union present it. Moscow had wanted the conference to adjourn immediately upon presentation of the treaty and send it to the United Nations for approval.

The U.N. General Assembly, which meets in September, must approve the treaty for it to go into effect. But with both Soviet and American backing, U.N. approval appeared to be only a technicality.

Once approved, it would be up to individual nations to sign it.

Heavy Rains, Winds Damage County Area

Heavy rains up to five inches, with hail and high winds, were reported from the surrounding area yesterday, though Pampa received only a trace of moisture.

Lefors reported damage from high winds accompanied by 1.19 inches of rain that hit the town shortly after noon yesterday. Several television antennas were blown down and tree limbs broken from the wind.

Windows in the Lefors First Baptist Church were blown out and water damaged resulted to the sanctuary. A power line pole was broken off and sand and gravel being used for road repairs were washed away.

Five inches of rain was reported at Transwestern Pipe Line Co. near Lefors. Hail also fell in the area. Earl Tarbert reported the hail drifted in bar ditches and "looked like snow."

Moody Farms recorded 1.5 inches, and 2.5 inches were reported east of Pampa. Three inches fell at Adrian, along with marble-sized hail that knocked down tree limbs and signs. Happy reported 1.15 inches Tuesday and an additional .30 yesterday morning.

Mediation Panel Gets Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special White House mediation panel is planning to settle the nation's railroad dispute on the terms enunciated by President Johnson.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the five member panel, told six shopcraft unions and the nation's railroads Wednesday that the board would follow the settlement terms formulated by the White House last spring unless they could convince it otherwise.

Both sides will meet before the board next Tuesday to present their oral arguments on their respective positions.

Johnson's proposal incorporated the recommendations of the previous panel, headed by retired U.S. District Court Judge Charles Fahy, in his legislation approved by Congress last month to end the nation's biggest rail strike in 21 years.

Civilian Volunteer Police Plans Dropped By Amarillo

AMARILLO —Plans to form a special 200-man police force with civilian volunteers were dropped Tuesday by unanimous action of the Amarillo City Commission.

The commission reversed its action of a week ago, when all five members had voted to establish the police force. The members voted yesterday not to complete action on the ordinance.

A standing-room-only crowd of more than 200 persons greeted with applause a motion to remove another law giving the mayor power to appoint citizens to act in the capacity of special police.

The commission approved the motion of Commissioner L. O'Brien Thompson, directing the city attorney to draw up an ordinance to remove the law, which has been on the city's books for 53 years.

Action was taken after assurances were made that the National Guard, regular city police and Department of Public Safety officers would be adequate to handle any emergency.

Maj. Gen. Selde Simpson, commander of the 36th Infantry Division, Texas National Guard, said he could have 110 men in the field in one and a half hours. Thompson said the DPS had reported it could provide 300 to 350 men in three hours, and Chief of Police Wiley Alexander said he could gather 150 city police in an hour and a half.

Commissioner Glen Gibson offered support to a movement to establish a bi-racial council of human relations. Such a council had been requested of the commission last week by Amarillo Negro leaders.

Tailwater Recovery Systems Explained At Rotary Meeting

The importance of tailwater recovery systems in conserving the underground water supply was explained to Pampa Rotary Club members yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Felix Ryals, manager of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District, who provided the program, illustrated his talk with color slides.

"Tailwater recovery systems" he said, "pick up water from irrigated fields and recirculate the enriched water throughout an irrigation circuit. The water can be used up to four or five times, thereby helping to decrease irrigation costs."

Panhandle Man Is Named for Award

PANHANDLE—Alfred J. Weiser of Panhandle, has been selected to receive the John Campanius Holm Award for his outstanding record as a volunteer weather observer. Dr. Robert M. White, Administrator of the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA), Department of Commerce, announced today.

John Campanius Holm Awards, created in 1959 by ESSA's Weather Bureau, are made annually to honor volunteer observers for outstanding accomplishment in the field of meteorological observations. The award is named for a Lutheran minister who is the first person known to take systematic weather observations in the United States as far back as 1644.

Weiser has been the official observer at Panhandle since 1944. According to the Weather Bureau, his records have been remarkably complete and accurate down through the years.

CAP to Show Films At Meeting Tonight

Two films, "Immediate Acrobatics" and "Precision Spins and Slow Rolls," will be presented at tonight's meeting of Pampa Civil Air Patrol. The meeting will be held at 7:30 in Lovett Memorial Library Auditorium.

Driver Is Injured

A 26-year-old San Antonio man, Manuel Salas, was lured in fair condition by Highland General Hospital officials today.

According to the highway patrol Salas was injured about 1:20 a.m. today when the semi-trailer truck he was driving ran off the road on highway 70, one mile north of Pampa and nose-dived into a ditch.

'Magic of Fire' To Highlight Celanese Program Tonight

A program that was jointly developed by Celanese and the Bureau of Mines, and later redesigned by noted Celanese Safety Engineer Joseph D. Cantrell, will be the highlight of a program to be held tonight and Friday night at the Robert E. Lee Junior High School Auditorium.

The "Magic of Fire" is a program that demonstrates to men in the petrochemical industry, and to the lady of the house as well, the hazards involved in what have long been considered harmless products found around the home.

Cantrell is a native of Tulsa, and has spent all of his working life in Safety or Accident Prevention work. He has previously taken the demonstration to 38 of 50 states and has covered a large part of Mexico.

Celanese employes will attend with their wives and husbands. Children old enough to understand the seriousness of fires and explosions are also invited to attend with their parents.

A faculty meeting was held today. After an assembly, students are to register from 8:50 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Friday. Classes start at 8:50 a.m. Monday.

Holiday listed are Labor Day, Sept. 4; the fair, Sept. 19; Thanksgiving, Nov. 23 and 24; Christmas, Dec. 21 through Jan. 2; Texas State Teachers Association meeting, March 8, and Easter, April 12 through 15.

Storeroom Ransacked By Night Prowlers

Burglars, believed to be of the children variety, according to Pampa police, broke into a storeroom at 115 S. Cuyler, sometime after midnight Wednesday.

According to the report nothing was taken and boxes with tickets and old cash register receipts were strewn about the floor.

Police protection and correctional institutions in the United States during 1949 cost $3.8 billion.

Washington Report

From Congress
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1000 UNIVERSITY DRIVE, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20540

The Social Security bill passed by the House last week with only three dissenting votes was a greatly improved version of the original Administration proposal.

The amendments to the Social Security Act are the result of long weeks of hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee which includes Texas'

George Bush. Under the "closed rule" under which the bill was sent to the House for debate and consideration, no amendments could be offered by other members but most agreed that the Committee bill was a sound bill and probably the best that could be hoped for under the circumstances.

Essentially, the amendments provide for an across-the-board increase of 12 1/2 percent in retirement benefits, increases the amount an individual may earn and still get full benefits, and revises the program of aid to families with dependent children by requiring individuals receiving aid to participate in community work and training programs.

During the last session of Congress and again in January of this year, the Republican Leadership called for an immediate increase in Social Security benefits so badly needed by the many millions whose income had been whittled away by inflation. Last year alone, living costs rose 3.3 percent and are still increasing at that rate and cash benefits had fallen 7 percent behind the consumer price index.

I and a number of other freshman Republican Congressmen recently introduced legislation to not only increase benefits but to also make the increase retroactive.

The present earnings ceiling is certainly inadequate, and I was glad to see in this bill some reflection of financial realities of the present inflationary period. This bill raises the earnings ceiling from $1,500 to $1,600 and the amount to which the $1 for $2 reduction would apply, would range from $1,600 to $2,800 a year. Also, the amount a person may earn in one month would be increased from $125 to $140.

Experience proved also that major changes in the health insurance program were needed and this bill made some meaningful improvements. The number of days of hospitalization was increased from 90 to 120 days and a patient will be permitted to submit his itemized bill directly to the insurance carrier for payment. A physician's certificate will no longer be required for hospital admission nor for out-patient services.

Changes were also made in the controversial Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program. In the last ten years, this program has grown from 646,000 families that included 2.4 million recipients to 1.2 million families and almost 5 million recipients costing $1.46 billion a year which would increase to $1.84 billion over the next 5 years.

The bill will require states which make the grants to establish programs to train each adult or older child not attending school for work and place them on a job or cut them from the welfare rolls. There is also an earnings exemption to offer incentives for work to welfare recipients.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, Chairman of the Committee, answered criticism that the work requirement for welfare recipients in plain language: "Is it in the public interest for welfare to become a way of life? asked Mills. "We found we are taking care of the third consecutive generation on welfare."

"What is wrong in requiring these people receiving public funds to learn a job? Isn't that what we should do?"

"Are you satisfied with the fact that illegitimacy in this country is rising and rising and rising? I am not."

About three-fifths of the cost of the recommended cash benefit changes will be met by the present favorable balance of that part of the program. The remainder of the cost of the changes will be met through an increase in the contribution rates as well as the maximum amount of annual earnings subject to the tax which will be raised from $6,000 to $7,000 on January 1, 1968.

Employer-employer rate schedules for old-age, survivors and disability insurance would remain the same for 1968, be reduced by 0.2 percent for 1969-70, then increased by 0.9 percent for 1971-72. After 1972, the rate would be 5 percent instead of 4.85 as presently scheduled.

The self-employed rate schedule for 1969-70 would be decreased by 0.3 percent to 6.3, increased for 1971-72 to 6.9 percent, then go to 7 percent as presently scheduled after 1972.

While I consider these increases necessary for those dependent on the program, I believe a better solution to the problem of such periodic increases would be a Federal fiscal policy to eliminate wasteful government spending, especially when the costs of the war in Vietnam are going up and up, and stop the borrowing and unnecessary spending that cause the constant rise in prices.

Gray County Historical News

By TRACY D. CARY
Gray County Historical Committee

In response to many calls, letters and inquiries about Gray County, its pioneer families, early settlements, historical sites, buildings, and activities that have come to us in recent months, we are initiating this column to keep the public better posted as to progress of this work in our home territory. Perhaps you have questions to ask or have an interesting story or anecdote about Gray County that you would pass along to us — if so, write us in care of the Pampa News and we will try to answer or include it in a future column.

One of the most inspirational projects ever launched in Texas is the RAMPS program of historical preservation being directed by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee throughout Texas' 254 counties, and taking its name from Recording, Appreciation, Marking, Preserving, and Surveying of Texas heritage. The County Judge in each county, together with the Commissioner's Court, names the executive committee and chairman which are selected so that each area of the county is represented by citizens who have exhibited an interest in the history and traditions of the State of Texas. The task of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee is assigned us by the State of Texas and the local Committee is an affiliate of county government just as are the Extension Service and the Libraries with the unique difference that the Historical Committee works without remuneration.

Pride in the history of Texas has been felt by every generation of Texans since 1836. But, although sometimes a blessing, one of the defects of human nature is the shortness of its memory. "As Texas grows older" advises Walter B. Moore, Editor, The Texas Almanac, "with millions who did not inherit the traditions of the Southwest, there is a greater need for maintaining reminders of the brave men and women who built this state." It is also a proven fact that industry is attracted and relocated in areas where citizens radiate pride in their historical locations and surroundings.

The realization that a historic site in the area can be restored and maintained as a tangible link with the past is becoming more prevalent over the state. Restorations of houses, sites and landmarks are dotting the vistas of Texas... especially since the Historical Preservation Laws permit counties and cities to purchase historical markers, historical buildings and sites, and to maintain them. We have a fine and dedicated group of men and women serving on the Gray County Historical committee... Mrs. Katie Vincent, Mrs. George Ingram, Mrs. Vera F. Back, Mrs. A. D. Hills, Mrs. Alice Short Smith, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. J. C. Pattillo, Mrs. Rose Hall, John B. Hesse, Joe W. Shelton, Clyde C. Organ, Truitt Johnson, Joe W. Clarke, James O. McCracken, and Judge Sherman R. Lenning, Jr.

At present research is underway securing data to be placed on some 31 historical markers to be erected throughout the county. Not all of these will be placed in one year, but we are most fortunate to live in a county where so many significant historical events took place (though many of our people know little or nothing about these circumstances because so little has been published about Gray County). All research must be verified for each marker inscription through photographs, books, maps, etc. by the State and approved first by the State Committee before medallion tablets are awarded. This involves long and tedious hours of research and correspondence since the Committee adheres to a high standard of authenticity and accuracy at all times.

In a joint survey conducted by the Texas Highway Department and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee of Tourist Information Markers over the state, it was determined that each marker earns an average of $17.55 per day, $526 per month, and $6,405 per year in increased tourist revenue to the state. Each marker averaged 45 car stops per day and each party stopped and stayed for 26.2 minutes.

Also when these markers are publicized, the traveling public will spend many hours exploring, looking, eating, buying gasoline, and spending the night in places that have been "charged off" by the experts. Official Texas Historical Markers receive statewide, regional and local recognition — with news releases at the time the marker is approved for erection when dedication ceremonies are held — whenever state wide tourist publications are distributed, such as the "Guide to G-

With the HemisFair opening in San Antonio in April of 1968, there will be millions of tourists pouring into Texas from every direction (thousands of these through Gray County) all wanting to visit the historic spots and buildings on their route to San Antonio. In another story we will tell you what we hope to have ready for them to see and visit when they arrive in Gray County.

Lime Souffle Pie Rare Taste Treat

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Fresh limes are plentiful now.
Their astringent and refreshing taste brightens tall cold drinks.
Thin slices of them are perfect on fish, too, and in this unusually delicate souffle pie, they add a new and exciting flavor.

LIME SOUFFLE PIE
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon water
4 egg yolks
1-3 cup fresh lime juice
1-3 teaspoons grated fresh lime peel
4 egg whites
1 (9-inch) baked pie shell Mix 1/2-cup of the sugar with cornstarch, water, egg yolks and lime juice in top of double boiler. Stir and cook over hot water 10 to 15 minutes or until custard is very thick. Add lime peel, being careful to grate only green portion of the peel.
Add salt to egg whites and beat them until they stand in soft peaks; gradually beat in the remaining 1/2-cup sugar. Fold into custard. Turn into baked pie shell. Bake in preheated, slow oven (325 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve cold. One 9-inch pie.

FRESH LIMEADE
1 cup sugar
1 cup fresh lime juice
5 cups water
Lime peels from squeezed limes)
1 cup fresh strawberries Fresh mint leaves for garnish Combine sugar, lime juice and two cups of water. Mix well and bring to boiling point; boil five minutes. Remove from heat and add lime peels. Let stand five minutes. Discard lime peel. Put strawberries through fine sieve and add to syrup. Stir in remaining water. Serve chilled over ice cubes. Garnish with fresh mint leaves. Approximately 1 1/4 quarts.

Food Buying Guide
BS FOOD BUYING GUIDE
The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An end-of-summer harvest is yielding ample variety in plentiful foods for this weekend's food shoppers.

In the nation's vegetable bins are cabbage, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes, all in good supply.
Also, in some areas, look for green peppers in abundance.

The array of fruits in best supply includes cantaloups, grapes, and in some areas, oranges, and watermelons.

In the meat department, beef roasts and steaks are in good supply along with bacon, beef-ryers and in some areas, ground beef. Other protein plentiful are large eggs, fish fillets and portions and canned tuna.

er pie in criss-cross fashion.
Trim, turn under and flute edge.
Bake in pre-heated hot oven (325 degrees) 40 minutes or until golden brown. Six servings.

PEACH ICE
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 cups water
5 (1 1/4 lb.) peaches
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 egg white...

Combine sugar and water in saucepan. Bring to boil and boil 5 minutes. Cool. Wash and peel peaches. Slice and crush them to a pulp. There should be 2 cups. Add lemon and orange juices. Mix well. Stir in syrup and vanilla extract. Turn into 2 ice-cube trays. Freeze until almost firm. Remove from freezer and turn into large bowl of the electric mixer. Add egg white and beat at slow speed, until ice is broken up. Increase speed to highest and beat until fluffy. Return to ice-cube trays.
Freeze until firm and ready to serve. About 15 minutes before serving, remove ice from freezer and let stand at room temperature to soften slightly. 8 to 10 servings.

Average American Eats Three Ounces Of Pepper Annually

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q — I'm worried about the way I see people in restaurants just pile pepper on their food.
They must eat pounds of it every year. My guess is at least a pound of pepper per person.
Am I right?

A — Wrong. We use only about 3 ounces of pepper per person annually. But we import about $14 million worth every year, mainly from India and Indonesia. Both black and white pepper are the dried fruit of the same climbing vine (piper nigum). The berries, or peppercorns, are sun-dried and as the hulls shrivel they blacken.
Then, for white pepper, the outer hull is soaked and removed and only the seed is used whole or ground. The whole berry is used for black pepper, so the ground form has both black and white particles.

Red pepper is not even related. The trade calls it capsicum, the chilli-type pepper from whose seeds it comes.

Q — My doctor says I should get more iron in my teen-age daughter's diet. What foods contain iron?

A — The best sources are meat, eggs, green vegetables, beans, nuts, wholegrain and enriched cereals.

A Meal-in-One for Campers

A meal-in-one, maple bacon skillet, and hot corn bread is the perfect supper menu for the outdoor camper. The wonderful maple aroma of the bacon as it cooks seems especially appropriate for outdoor meals. Best of all, the meal is a quicky which cuts dishwashing because it is served from the skillet directly onto the camper's plate.

Maple sugar cured bacon is the basis for this full-meal dish. Add to it cooked corn and tomatoes for a completely satisfying, delicious combination. Both the maple aroma and flavor of the bacon make this a dish campers or the family will ask for time and time again.

The leftover bacon drippings will come in handy on a camping trip. The drippings can be used to fry eggs or pancakes for breakfast or for frying potatoes or freshly caught fish. Just think how the maple flavor will enhance each dish! It means there is no need to carry extra fat for frying.

Campers should remember that bacon though cured and smoked must be kept refrigerated. For maximum quality it should be kept at 36 to 40 degrees for not more than 7 days.

MAPLE BACON-CORN
SKILLET

(Yield: 4-6 servings)

1/2 pound sliced maple flavored bacon
2 cups cooked whole kernel corn
Sliced tomatoes
Salt and pepper...

corn in center of skillet. Add tomato slices. Cook over low heat for 5 minutes.

Canned shrimp that have been pre-chilled lend to hold shape, and texture better when added to hot mixtures. Pre-chil-ing in the can firms the meat, helps shrimp stay curled, plump, pink, and unbroken in the can until ready for use. If you rinse the shrimp before using, always use cool rinse water.

Join Fashion Parade, Knit Your Own

HANDKNIT SWEATERS are front and center on the fall fashion stage. Knit this pair of fashion stars in sizes 10 to 18; in your choice of two textured yarns.

By JUDY LOVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
You're lucky if you knit because you'll always know what to do with spare time. But have you ever wondered what celebrities do with their leisure? You may know that Gen. Eisenhower is a Sunday painter as well as an expert golfer. Television star Johnny Carson is a camera buff, Barbara Streisand is enthusiastic about interior decorating and Gloria Swanson has turned a flair for fashion design into a second career. A number of celebrities, however, fill spare hours just as you do. They like a custom look in the fashions they wear and in furnishings for their homes, and they know how to get it with a flick, or click, of the needles.

Well-known knitters include Mary Martin, Hermione Gingold, Shelley Winters and the Duke of Windsor. The Duke has been known to knit both socks and sweaters as a relaxing hobby.
A slipper pattern has been named for expert needle worker Joan Fontaine and Rise Stevens even has given her name to an afghan design.

You may never see your name on a needlework pattern, but you can put your custom signature on the fashions you knit. The two sweaters I'm showing today are sure to be stars in your fall wardrobe and make you a celebrity in your own fashion circle. Start knitting them soon so you'll be right on cue for the new season.
Both the hooded cardigan and V neck pullover are perfect together for skirts, slacks or shorts. You can knit them in your choice of two Bernat yarns—new Cott'n Silk that knits into a definite but delicate texture or Opal Tweed which has a lustrous finish to its built-in tweed-like look.
You can knit both sweaters in any size from 10 to 18. Each top has the classic styling that suits this full range of sizes and is especially flattering to full figures.
Directions for knitting both sweaters in your choice of two yarns are available for 50 cents from "Stitchin' Time, in care of your local paper, P. O. Box 530, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to ask for leaflet To-S-122 and include your name, address and zip code.

KNIT KNACKS
Whether you knit or crochet, the right tools are essential to your craft. Always be sure to use the size of knitting needles or crochet hooks which are listed in the pattern directions. By using the correct needles, you should be able to work to the gauge called for in the instructions.

Astrological Forecast

By CAROL R. RIGHTER

FOR FRIDAY, AUG. 23
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now find yourself in a practical frame of mind and are able to make success of whatever idealistic ideas you decided to make a part of your life yesterday, or the day before. Make a point to look into every single item of expense as well as do something like giving a present to the one most important to you.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Be very practical and do a better job of budgeting and you please others more who have power over you. Impress some business person with your understanding of their ideas. Plan to cooperate with them.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Ideal day for handling any important personal matters you may have in connection with others. Put those same low ork that can make you more popular in a social way. Show that you are an enthusiastic, dynamic person.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Do your utmost to get expert in your field of endeavor tomorrow along with you where certain plans are concerned. Get the data you need. Converse quietly with those persons who are very well known and get excellent results.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 23)—Look to a fine friend for the information you require just at this time. Increase prestige. Some group meetings will do a great deal to better your social standing. Give your life a greater impetus.
LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)—You need some solid backing now and you would do well to get in touch with persons who can extend it to you. Be sure you handle some public matter efficiently.
VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)—Taking time to study into new outlets can pay off handsomely in the days ahead. However, do not jump into anything as yet. Find a better method to contact one who is usually hard to get in to see.
LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)—It would be a wise idea to get your most important bills paid today add make arrangements for part payments on others. Doing small favors for the one you love is wise. Have better rapport in the future.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)—Be sure to show others you will cooperate in any of their ideas and get support for yours as well. You can have far better relations that will lead to long-time friendships. Be more successful.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23)—Just get an early start on the tasks you have promised to discharge and you will amaze yourself at the speed and accuracy you achieve. Confide in partners regarding that new plan you have in mind. Then they give right backing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20)—If you get together with congenials, you find you can have a wonderful time today or tonight. Take the time to assist a young person who is in some kind of trouble. Show that you are a humanitarian.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—You have very practical ideas now on just how to organize your life so that it becomes easier and more profitable. Start placing your building blocks properly that lead to real success. Be efficient.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Be sure you know what higher-ups expect of you and then full speed ahead. Be willing to give underlings data that will improve their work also. Then be off to whatever is pleasant. It's a fine day's work.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
he or she, will be one of those most conscientious young people who in early life will insist on carrying through with any job in a most precise and clever way, so that the education along modern lines that will bring the greatest success to your progeny. Both the material and the aesthetic will appeal to your son, daughter.
Ice Cream Social Enjoyed By Group
Members of guests of Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi gathered recently in the Jack Stafford's backyard for an ice cream social.

DEAR ABBY: I am a fairly attractive (so I'm told 23-year-old girl who has just received my B.A. degree. My problem is a fellow who is about my age (I think) who works in the filling station where I trade regularly.
We exchanged conversation and I found out he goes to an engineering college near here. We are also the same religion. For the last three months he has been saying to me, "When are you going to take me out?"
Then I say to him, "YOU are supposed to take ME out."
Then he says, "I don't take girls out. They take ME out," and he kind of laughs and drops the subject right there.
Abby, I am interested in him. He's very nice looking and does not strike me as the irresponsible type, but how long should a 23-year-old girl play this game?
DEAR STUMPED: Games are for children. The young man could be married, engaged, going with someone, or just a great kisser. In any case, if he were sufficiently interested and available he should be able to engineer his own date. And until he does, don't take him seriously.
DEAR ABBY: Is there any defense, except rudeness, against avalanches of wedding invitations and announcements that come from the most casual of acquaintances who never indicate otherwise that they know

Colleges Turning Whole World Into Campuses in Newest Educational Kick

By GAY PAULEY ... UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Foreign study is education's newest kick. Rapidly, colleges are turning the whole world into their campus.

No one will deny that such education widens the horizons. But one pioneer in programs of study abroad warns of the pitfalls too.
"Ten students sent overseas does not a foreign program make," in the words of Dr. Jackson Bailey, director of the study program which Earlham College of Richmond, Ind., runs in Japan.
"Foreign study is the 'in' thing now," Bailey said. "It provides a gimmick. What worries me is that it will be just that, while colleges go right on with the same old teaching methods."

Earlham has pioneered a non-Western studies program, organization of which began in 1959, in which it sends not only its own students to Japan but also others from the Great Lakes Colleges Association (GLCA) of which it is a member.
Why Japan, we asked Dr. Bailey during a recent visit to New York. Why not India, say, or the Philippines? "Matter of Practicality," he said.
Actually, one of the reasons is Dr. Bailey's own interest in the country. He spent 10 months there with the U.S. Army of occupation and was on the staff of former ambassador Edwin Reichshauer. And partly, it is Bailey's conviction that young Eastern cultures is vital now, and will be more so in the years ahead.

"Anyone interested at all in anything to do with China must know Japanese," he said. "The country is the most important spot for assessing the Orient. The Japanese have already done much research."
"One of the most shocking things to me is how colleges and universities have neglected the non-Western cultures. Walk into a bookstore, ask for a history of art and you get a history of Western art. Nothing east of Suez."
"We've paid attention to the non-Western countries only when they became inconvenient for us. Well, World War II changed all that."
The Earlham program works this way. Students study Japanese on campus at least one year. In June, they arrive in Japan and spend the summer at a language study center Earlham operates in the mountains northwest of Tokyo.
In the fall, they enroll in the international division of Waseda University in Tokyo. The classes are primarily the arts, history, philosophy, religion and more languages, working to the time they will be able to follow college level work in Japanese.
As Bailey puts it, "buying a camera and taking notes on a philosophy lecture involves two different levels of Japanese."

Charge-It Mood Forces Couples Into Bankruptcy

By AILEEN SNOODY (Consumer Affairs Specialist)
Easy credit opens the door to insurmountable debt for the unwary.

That this is a growing problem among many families comes through in recent reports on the increase in non-business or individual bankruptcy. Ninety-nine per cent of all bankruptcy petitions, for example, were begun in 1966 by individuals and not businesses. This includes self-employed persons, like doctors and commission salesmen and even those on pensions.
Those handling bankruptcy cases point out some of the causes. It generally boils down to the need for better budgeting by couples to avoid such a plight.
Often a bankruptcy petition comes about with the threat of or actual garnishment of wages. Behind this is misuse of credit which forces creditors to collect delinquent debts this way.
Poor budgeting that allows for no savings leads many into excessive debt. This especially is true when unexpected medical and hospital bills come up. Young married couples who can not cope with credit payments but insist on buying more furniture, appliances, television set or a car may be headed for bankruptcy.
An increasing number of divorces among unstable young people leaves each reluctant to pay bills of an unhappy marriage. Seasonal unemployment and personal business failure are other reasons for the rise in individual bankruptcies.
The whole problem, though, is that statistics may reveal the pattern of bankruptcy but a computer does not explain why some people in the same income bracket cope with their finances while others don't.
If you fit the general profile of those filing bankruptcy, it is time to seek help. Your chances of miring down financially are high if you are:
—Male; about 30.
—Married with several children.
—A semi- or unskilled laborer.
—Earnings of around $4,800 a year.
—Debts of about $4,000.
—Debts owed to approximately 15 creditors.

Couple United In Home Ceremony

CANADIAN (Spl)—Mrs. Sharon Snyder became the bride of Carrel Pitcock on August 5, in a ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Trimble.
Rites were read by Rev. Troy Nolan, pastor of First Baptist Church.
The bride was attended by Miss Norene Carr of Canadian. Ronald Pitcock of Panhandle served his brother as best man.
The bride chose for her wedding a beige suit and carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of yellow flowers. Miss Carr wore a street length dress of yellow.
The wedding cake, iced in white, was decorated with yellow rose buds.
Wedding guests were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Wright of Glazier, a sister, Sandra, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pitcock and daughters, of Panhandle, the bride's daughters, Norene and Carol Ann; Mary Ann Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Trimble and family.

Television In Review

By ROBERT MUSEL
NEW YORK (UPI) — Painter Paul Gauguin went to the South Seas in the belief it was a paradise where fruit dropped from the trees and flying fish practically navigated themselves into the skillet. Instead the closest he came to the "food of the Gods" was the American canned goods on the shelves of a Chinese grocery store where his account was frequently overdue.

Disillusioned with a garden of Eden whose key was a can opener, fired by the man who hired him to teach his daughters drawing, Gauguin retreated to his easel and painted the studies of Tahiti and its people that won him immortality and helped give birth to the modern art movement.

Producer Martin Carr has completed a documentary study of Gauguin for CEST-TV which strips away a lot of the myths woven around the French artist by a master storyteller, Somerset Maugham. But as Carr sees it the finished product is fascinating enough without the legends invented by Maugham who was more interested in best sellers than biography.

In the process Carr lost a few illusions of his own — and by accident made an important discovery relating to Gauguin's career. You can see all of this Nov. 21 when "Gauguin in Tahiti: The Search for Paradise" has its first network showing.

"Tahiti is one of the most disappointing places in the world," Carr said. "It's a little island, hideous with the noise of 16,000 scooters. There are few benches; just wooden piers out into the water. Some days there's no swimming because the garbage from the town comes floating by. In addition there are thousands of French soldiers and sailors around. It's part of their atomic research area."

Sir Michael Redgrave is narrator of the hour-long show, mainly speaking words from Gauguin's own letters. Carr photographed many Gauguin paintings including his private collections and in museums ranging from the Hermitage in Leningrad to the Metropolitan in New York.

"When Gauguin died France had no appreciation of his work," Carr said, "and let most of the paintings go. A lot of them are in the United States. But in Tahiti everybody's still looking for another Gauguin. Artists set up their easels all over the place and the local people buy their work in the hope they'll strike it lucky. For a while Gauguin's illegitimate son had a vogue as a painter of primitives. Now he says he's a sculptor."

Carr said Gauguin did not die of leprosy as Maugham wrote but of an unfortunate malady contracted on a night out in Marseilles before he left for Tahiti. The doctors and disappointments finally drove him to attempt suicide but he kept his record of failure unblemished by botching the job with the wrong dose of arsenic.

McCormick Hurls Blanks for 17th Win

By United Press International Not one of four umpires uttered a word, so Hank Aaron's bat did the talking. When Houston reliever Larry Sherry began conscientiously performing what he called "a habit of going to my face," Aaron turned to plate umpire Ed Vargo, and explained that, all habits aside, Sherry should at least be sanitary about it and wipe the saliva off his pitching hand. Vargo threw out two balls that Sherry had used to pitch to Aaron, but uttered nary a word. Since manager Billy Hitchcock had gotten himself thrown out of the game in the sixth inning when he and coach Bob Kennedy had argued with third base umpire Ken Burkhardt about Sherry's moist deliveries, Aaron realized it was time to take action. He turned away from Vargo, quickly stepped into the batter's box and ripped the first of a pair of two-run doubles off Sherry's next pitch. "It was another spitball," said Aaron. The seventh inning double put the Atlanta Braves ahead 4-3 and got the Braves untracked Wednesday night as they roared off to a 9-3 victory over the Houston Astros to snap a five-game losing streak. The Philadelphia Phillies knocked off New York 3-2. San Francisco blanked St. Louis 6-0, Pittsburgh edged Chicago 2-1, and Los Angeles stopped Cincinnati 8-0 in other National League games. The Phillies, sparked by Johnny Briggs' two-run homer, handed Dick Ellsworth his fifth victory of the season and Gene Mauch his 600th triumph as manager of the Phils. Ellsworth, who was on base when the homer came in the fifth, allowed nine hits, but walked only one in the six and 2-3 homer after Willie McCovey had smashed a run-scoring triple. The Pirates, still looking for first 17-game winner in the National League by stopping the Cards on five safeties, three of them by hot-hitting Orlando Cepeda. Willie Mays led the Giant attack with a two-run homer after Willie McCovey had smashed a run-scoring triple. White Sox 'Widen' Gap to 1

By United Press International "Throw strikes," Stanky told Locker Wednesday night when the 29-year-old right hander from Hull, Iowa, came out of the bullpen in the eighth inning to preserve the White Sox's 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees. "Hold First Place" Locker got out of the eighth inning by throwing a double play ball to Jake Gibbs and struck out two of the three batters he faced in the ninth as the White Sox regained a one-game hold on first place in the American League. Locker's no-hit relief performance preserved rookie Fred Klages' second victory of the year and the White Sox' fifth win in their last six games. Ken Berry ad Ron Hansen had two hits each and drove in one run each to pace the White Sox' seven-hit attack. The Detroit Tigers swamped the Minnesota Twins 10-0 but lost the second game of the doubleheader 4-3, the Washington Senators nipped the Boston Red Sox 3-2, the California Angels routed the Cleveland Indians 16-5 and the Baltimore Orioles shaded the Kansas City Athletics 1-0 in other AL games. Pitcher Jim Perry's two-run scoring singles and Harmon Killebrew's 33rd homer of the season paced the Twins to their victory after Joe Sparna spun a four-hitter for the Tigers in the first game. The Twins have won three of the four games in a five-game series concluding Thursday. Perry singled home the Twins' first run in the third inning and also delivered a run scoring single in a three run homer, started by Killebrew's homer. Dick Tracewski backed Sparna's pitching with three singles and a triple, driving in three runs in the first game. Hank Allen's pinch double, an infield out and Paul Casanova's sacrifice fly in the ninth produced the winning run for the Senators, who ended the Red Sox' seven-game winning streak. Carl Yastrzemski hit his 32nd homer of the year for the Red Sox.

Chiefs Scalp Bears

Undated Pro Football Exhibition Roundup By United Press International How sweet it is. That was the reaction of 33,041 football fans and the team they call their own, the Kansas City Chiefs, Wednesday night after the American Football League champions erased the memory of Super Sunday with a 66-24 destruction of the Chicago Bears, one of the National League's proud old teams. The Chiefs, battered 35-10 by the Green Bay Packers in the first meeting between the two leagues in the Super Bowl last January, mauled the Bears, running up the most points ever scored against Chicago, which last week held the Packers to 18 points in an 18-0 defeat. Quarterback Len Dawson completed 10 of 15 passes, including four touchdown tosses, for 212 yards in pacing the rout before a capacity crowd at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium. The 66 points were the most scored by a Kansas City team. The Chiefs trailed 3-0 until the final play of the first quarter when Dawson connected with flanker Otis Taylor for a 70-yard TD pass. Minutes later, Dawson and split end Chris Burford teamed up for an 11-yard scoring strike following an interception and the Chiefs went on to pile up 32 points in the second period en route to a 39-10 halftime lead. Pete Beathard, who replaced Dawson in the fourth quarter, threw one touchdown pass of 80 yards and ran for another while rookie specialist Noland Smith, a 154-pound swifty, ran back a kickoff 99 yards in the final period. The Bears, who took a 3-0 lead on Bruce Alford's 35-yard field goal, added touchdowns in the second, third and fourth quarters. Dick Gordon scored Chicago's first TD on a 103-yard kickoff return, Ralph Kurek rumbled 32 yards for a third-period tally and Brian Piccolo plunged one yard for the Bears' final score. Kansas City, which meets the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL next week, now is 4-0 in pre-season play while the Bears are 0-3. The Chiefs victory was the third by an AFL team in eight pre-season meetings between the leagues. Another inter-league clash between the AFL Buffalo Bills and the NFL Philadelphia Eagles highlights Friday night's schedule, which also finds Cleveland at Atlanta in an NFL contest.

Golf's Richest Meet Underway

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI)—The money is what everyone is talking about at the Westchester Classic but the green stuff concerning Jack Nicklaus is grass. Nicklaus, who won the U.S. open two months ago, found the site of the world's richest golf tournament — the Westchester Country Club—still to his liking Wednesday. Nicklaus won the last pro tournament held on this course—the 1965 Thunderbird Open—and he found the lush 6,573 yard, par 72 layout still easy for him to conquer. "They haven't changed it a bit," Nicklaus grinned after his practice round of 67 that tied him for the second low total in the pro-am Wednesday. Nicklaus, who keeps copious notes on the details of the golf course he plays, was happy to find the course wasn't rigged by tourney officials to make it more difficult. Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, who reported no problems with his ailing shoulder, are the co-favorites for the $250,000 Westchester Classic—a new event on the tour this season with $50,000 first prize. The four-day tourney, which ends Sunday, started today. With such a fantastic sum at stake, the tournament has attracted a virtual "who's who" of golf with every first place winner on the tour this season among the 156 pros entered. Nicklaus' past success on this course and the easy way he toured it Wednesday made him a good bet to walk away with the $50,000. Of course, considering the tax

Halas Applauds Chiefs Victory

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—George Halas is a gracious man. He doesn't make excuses. The dean of NFL coaches had just been humiliated by a team which Green Bay Packer coach Vince Lombardi said didn't compare with the better football teams in the National Football League. As Halas' Chicago Bears changed into street clothes he reminded reporters: "I know what Vince said. But I think those guys proved to-night they can play football with anybody." The "those guys" Halas applauded were the Kansas City Chiefs, who played an exhibition game as if it were another Super Bowl, rolling up a record shattering 66-24 win over Papa Bear's Chicagoans. Len Dawson rifled 10 or 15 pass completions for 212 yards and four touchdowns as the Chiefs rode a 33-point second quarter to their fourth straight exhibition win. Scoring more points than any team in history against the Bears' Kansas City look sweet revenge for a 38-10 trouncing by Green Bay in the Super Bowl last year. "They were fired up all right and wanted every play 100 per cent," Halas said. "If they had any weakness, we apparently didn't locate it." Kansas City Coach Hank Stramm said his team played their best game both offensively and defensively. "I've said it before and I'll say it again," Stramm declared. "We can play with anybody in either league."

A's, Finley Call Meeting

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics have gone about as far as they can go in their feud with owner Charles O. Finley and now the next step is up to baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert. The A's dropped a hot potato right into the lap of Eckert Wednesday night when they requested a formal hearing with the commissioner over grievances between the players and Finley. Eckert was not immediately available for comment. Jack Aker, the team's player representative, announced the players' decision prior to Wednesday night's game against the Orioles in Baltimore. The move caught everybody by surprise because Finley had reinstated pitcher Lew Krausse only the day before and matters appeared to have cooled down. "We've never had a hearing of this type," said Eckert's assistant, Joe Reichler, "so of course I don't know what the commissioner's reaction will be." The suspension of Krausse last week after an incident on a recent plane trip taken by the A's triggered the feud, which was intensified last Sunday when Finley fired Manager Alvin Dark for losing control of his players. He also fined Aker $250 for missing curfew Saturday night and then gave Ken Harrelson the team's leading hitter, his unconditional release when the A's slugger criticized him for firing Dark.

Something To Crow About

While over the years prices in general—most foods, clothing, housing, automobiles, services, and, of course, taxes—have gone up, up, up, the price of the American chicken, that festive bird that once could only be afforded by most families on Sunday, if then, has come down, down, down!

For example, broilers, averaged 78 cents a pound in 1946. Today, 20 years later, they average 37 cents. Amazing! And, not only are chickens cheaper by approximately 50 per cent, selling at prices which put them in close competition with hamburger for a place on the family table, they are tastier, tenderer and more nourishing than ever before.

How could this happen? How can this be? In an era of almost uninterrupted inflation when the costs and prices of almost everything else have experienced a steady rise, how could the market price of chickens for the American house wife have steadily declined?

There are three basic reasons, it appears:

1. The Industrial Revolution has finally caught up with the chicken.

2. The poultry business, comparatively speaking, has been free from government interference, red tape, and controls.

3. Unions have not been able to organize and inhibit the poultry industry to the extent they have other segments of the market economy.

As a classic example of the comparative efficiency and productivity of a relatively free market as opposed to government owned or controlled endeavors the story of the falling price of chickens is one that should be told over and over again. And the August issue of large quantities of a nerve gas, either provided by Russia or made by the Egyptians themselves, that is so lethal one drop on the skin can be fatal.

According to Col. Ray Cromley, military affairs analyst for Newspaper Enterprise Association, "There is no longer any doubt that the Soviet Union in using the civil war in Yemen as a proving ground for some of its advanced 'poison gas' warfare chemicals."

We don't expect the United Nations to do anything about either Egypt or Russia. But we would expect some of its member nations to have courage enough to speak out against this resort to a barbarism that has been universally condemned since World War I.

We also wonder about our own nation's silence. Is it possible we do not wish to go on record as opposing chemical, biological warfare, just in case...

A lot of questions need answering in this matter.

Pull Up A Chair

Many of the playing cards in a deck have special significance and romance. The nine of diamonds has been known as the "Curse of Scotland" since 1746 because the Duke of Cumberland wrote an order on this card commanding his soldiers to have no mercy on Scottish troops captured at the Battle of Culloden. Similarly, the six of hearts is a symbol of loyalty and honesty at the risk of death. In 1688, Col. Richard Grace, although knowing King James II was to be defeated, penned his refusal to surrender to William of Orange on that card. The king of hearts is believed to be a likeness of Charlemagne and the jack of spades one of his aides.

Today's smile: A perplexed mother asked her young son: "Where are you going?" The youngster replied: "Out to play." His mother asked: "With those holes in your shoes?" The youngster replied: "Out to the kids across the street."

Many Chinese restaurants offer "bird's-nest soup" on their menus, but we doubt if it is the real thing. Bird's nest soup is made from the nest of a particular species of swift called the selangane, found mostly in Sumatra and Borneo. The next consists of a mucilaginous substance secreted by glands in the mouth of the bird. It's an expensive delicacy and we can't believe the bonifaces of the average American chop suey palades import birds' nest from Borneo or Sumatra to please their customers.

Thoughts while shaving: One of the chief wonders within the next 20 years will be Telemobility, the worldwide electronic system of the future. It will replace TV and radio. Scientists now working to perfect it say that is will transmit realistic scenes from one port of the world to another and brace yourself, it will be able to "broadcast" a man to another locale three dimensionally by laser beam. How about that? We can hardly wait. Despite all the platitudes about bringing democracy to the Congo, the real reason for the U. S. and Soviet rivalry in trying to gain favor there is to get control of the world's largest and richest uranium deposit. Speaking of the Russians reminds us that they claim to have invented almost everything. Well, the poles dispute their claim to having invented vodka, although both admit it is a drink of Slavic origin. The name vodka is a Russian word meaning "little water." The Russians and Poles made it from potatoes, but today's American vodka is distilled from grain. It's only since the development of rocketry following World War II that men have been able to plan space exploration. But the idea has intrigued mankind from the earliest times. Writings from ancient Babylon, China, and India reveal some knowledge of astronomy, making it the oldest of the sciences. The Boston (Mass.) RECORD-AMERICAN headlined a story "Italy Imports Spaghetti!" The millennium has been reached.

I am working on a Code of Ethics for Snakes. There is a growing number of snakes in this country who go around putting the bite on people.

One is the Sidewinder, a big snake with beady eyes. He likes to give testimonial dinners and use the wampum to build fancy nests in Connecticut.

The Mealy Mouthed Copperhead is a snake that is wishfully on the go most of the time. He misuses every bit of filthy lucre he gets his coils on.

The Hog-nosed Viper is a different breed altogether. He don't travel much. He stays close to home and collects huge sums of 'legal fees' for referring union bosses to another lawyer.

There is the Diamond Book Rattler. He gets himself on a committee, crawls into a large corporation office, and picks up any loose bills that might be laying around in a sealed envelope.

Then there is the Moonlighting Whip Snake. He is only in Congress for Farcial Equal-

A GROSS BLUNDER
Industrial Bulletin
(Southern States)

One of the frustrating handicaps suffered by our soldiers in Vietnam is the difficulty in distinguishing between friend and foe amid the jungles and ricefields. Here at home we civilians are faced with a similar problem—and a long range error can be just as fatal.

Once again U Thant, the not-so-distinguished Secretary General of the United Nations, ungraciously insulted the American people and our fitting men. The occasion was a lecture at Greensboro, N. C. There he unblinded a condemnation of our foreign policy as it relates to Vietnam. U Thant — drafted with our insistence to serve another term in office — vigorously denied that Ho Chi Minh and the Viet Cong are carrying out a Communist offensive against South Vietnam. He described them as ardent nationalists, motivated only by a desire to liberate the southern portion of that tragic country from evil outside interlopers — meaning us, of course.

In view of other pronouncements and actions by the latest U Thant, we think his latest outburst should be put in perspective and with it the U. N.

First, as head of the so-called world peace keeping fiasco known as the United Nations, Thant violated the most fundamental principal of diplomacy and good manners. Sole reason of commitment in blood and dollars to Vietnam is our honoring of an agreement to resist Communist aggression and to confer the right of free political determination upon a people.

If U Thant denies that Communist aggression is the real reason for our being in Vietnam he is either accusing our own leaders of outright lying, or saying in effect that they're too stupid to know what the facts are. So this titular head of the greatest free-loading conglomeration of energetic nations ever supported by the American taxpayer has the shocking bad taste to say that which must delight every Red propagandist from Hanoi to Moscow.

U Thant, as U. N. Secretary General, can't divorce himself from his official position in public utterance. Just how much more aid and comfort to this enemy are we supposed to underwrite?

At a fantastic cost in lives, dollars and material, this country is trying to destroy the North Vietnam will to fight and bring her leaders to a conference table. One factor in the strong determination of Ho Chi Minh, et al, to continue hostilities is the belief that "world opinion" will bring pressure upon us to desist from further war effort. Certainly, with quotable quotes from U Thant to use in their behalf, it can be expected that our enemy will get maximum mileage out of them. Our criticism of Mr. U Thant's lack of fact and judgment is not a denial of anybody's right of freedom to speak. We do, however, deny U Thant the right to encourage those who are destroying American lives, the right to disparage our honor, integrity or intelligence, and the right to prolong a costly, bloody war. If these be Thant's honest convictions, then let him turn in his suit as Secretary General. We've had enough.

That's why I'm working on a code of ethics for Snakes. I don't think it will do any good. You can't change a snake's ethics by legislation. What we need to do is beat the bushes for some new kind of Snakes.

The Doctor Says:

Sensible Routine Beneficial
In Glaucoma Management

Q—I have glaucoma and am using eye drops. Can blindness be prevented?

A—The management of glaucoma consists of eye drops, a avoidance of coffee, tea and alcohol, keeping your circulation active and following your eye doctor's recommendations regarding watching movies and television. The tension in your eyeballs should be checked at least twice a year. Permanent relief is often possible through surgical removal of a small portion of your iris.

Q—Which is better in the treatment of glaucoma — Phospholine or pilocarpine? Would either cause blurring of vision? What is the normal range of pressure inside the eyeball?

A—Echthiophate (Phos pholine) has a much longer duration of action (one to four weeks) than pilocarpine. It is, however, more irritating and can be taken by some persons only in very dilute solution. Pilocarpine must be given often but when it is effective it is the drug of choice. Neither drug would cause blurred vision.

The normal range of intraocular pressure is 15 to 25.

Q—I have glaucoma. In November my doctor advised me to take Diamox in addition to eye drops. This drug causes tingling in my fingers, a strange taste in my mouth, an unquenchable thirst and, worst of all, bloating with gas. I can stand these side effects if the drug will save my sight but is there any way to get relief?

A—Bloating is not a usual side effect of acetazolamide (Diamox). Ask your doctor whether one of the defoaming agents would interfere in any way with the treatment of your glaucoma and it should relieve the bloating.

Q—Two eye specialists tell me that I have glaucoma and two say that I don't. Will it hurt my eyes if I use the eye drops for this disease even if I don't have it?

A—No, but if yours is a doubtful or borderline case a more sensible procedure would be to have certain provocative tests for glaucoma. In one such test the intraocular tension is taken before and after you drink a quart of water. Or you might have your tension checked every

Consultation on Problems
Benefits You and Dentist

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: My dentist says I need lots of dental work. Practically my whole mouth needs rebuilding — 6 crowns, some extractions and a lower partial denture.

I've been going to my dentist for many years, and I trust him and want him to do the work but it's such a big investment in time, money and worry. I'd like to get another opinion. How can I do this without embarrassing or even antagonizing him?

A—If your dentist is trying to do what's best for you, and if he's an honest fellow, knowledgeable in his work and experienced with all the problems involved, he'll welcome the opportunity of sharing responsibility with a consultant. He won't be embarrassed and certainly will not get mad.

Many dentists take the initiative and insist on consultations before complicated dental reconstruction work is undertaken. The periodontist, orthodontist oral surgeon and endodontist are frequently asked for advice.

But if you seek advice, do it properly. Be honest and direct about it. Tell your dentist what you've told me. Assuming he has performed all necessary diagnostic procedures, such as study models, full mouth X-rays, complete history and examination, ask him to send them to the consultant you choose. In this way you will avoid duplication of these procedures, saving time, money and necessary exposure to X-ray.

The benefit of consultation is that it provokes a dialogue between dentists, ideally resulting in better diagnosis and treatment planning. This should be followed by complete patient understanding of what will be done, how long it will take, how much money it will cost and what prognosis can be expected.

LIFE IN ELEPHANT VALLEY

Where do old CIA agents go when they have outlived their usefulness? Do they just fade away? No. It seems that they go to a place called "the elephant valley." At least, they do in a new novel called "The Elephant Valley." CIA agents who are no longer of value to "The Company" (as all good agents refer to their employer) are sent to a special department—where they are put to work on fictitious projects. They do not know they've been put out to pasture. Finis Farr's new book is subtitled "A spy novel in which the Americans are NOT the villains." It should appeal both to lovers of good adventure fiction and Americans who are concerned about the recent lack of interest in patriotism. But this very entertaining novel also includes valuable insights into the nature of any bureaucracy. There is George Rollins, the head of the elephant valley department. He piles his desk high with paperwork—as an insurance against the need to make clear-cut decisions. It is as hard to get a straight answer from him (on any question!) as it is to get an honest answer from Jack Benny concerning his age.

A SEVENTY PERCENT CHANCE OF CONFUSION

NEW YORK (NEA) — As we understand the basic formation of modern science, there are no real Laws of Nature but only a series of probabilities.

To our way of thinking, this is a great improvement over previous basic foundations of modern science, and makes it a lot easier to understand the world.

For one thing, the U.S. Weather Bureau is no longer handicapped by having to make fearless predictions but now fearlessly quotes only the statistical odds on chance.

The other night, for example, the television weatherman said there was a 50 per cent chance that a cold front would move in to the area before dawn. And consequently we prepared for bed by turning on both the air conditioner and the electric blanket.

"Well," the wife said, thrashing around in the closet, "you've finally blown the fuse. I told you this would happen."

"Yes," we said in the dark. "But you didn't say when. Now you know. The probability is four to one."

"Oh, for heaven's sake," she said, crashing into a chair in the hall.

"What are you doing out there," we inquired.

"I'm probably trying to get downstairs and change fuse," she snapped, banging into a table. "What are the odds on that?"

What made her so testy we still do not understand.

It seems to us that doing away with old fashioned Natural Law and taking up with modern Probability is a tremendous aid in explaining what otherwise would appear to be the impossible.

It explains how it is that, with Bobby Kennedy can be in New York; how Harold Stassen can be in Philadelphia; how Philadelphia can be in Kansas City; and how Kansas City can be in, say, Seattle next season.

It explains how it is that, with imperialism dead in the western world, Quebec is struggling to turn itself into a French colony.

It explains why peace demonstrators carry around posterized photos of that well known dove, Mao Tse-tung.

Whether your interest is ideological or just plain pleasure reading, "The Elephant Valley" is worth the reading time. (The book is published by Arlington House, New Rochelle, New York.)

H. L. Hunt Writes

GOVERNMENT TV

A Bill already has passed the U.S. Senate and will come before the House of Representatives in the near future to establish a fourth television network, to be operated by a federal corporation with the cooperation of the three existing national commercial networks. This proposed network is being called "public TV." If it is formed the public will not operate the network, however, but will only view its programs and pay for them. It will be "government TV," although the government's part of it supposedly will be educational.

The establishment of a new TV network under these circumstances no doubt would kill off the possibility of some private company or group establishing a fourth network which could become a part-time voice for freedom. That is what is needed rather than a network that would inevitably fall under the suspicion of being a federal propaganda agency.

Advocates of the personal enterprise system, upon which our Republic was founded and employed to become the greatest free nation in all history, have long deplored entrance of the federal government into private industry. The basic objection to this government TV scheme is constitutional. Nowhere in its enumeration of powers given the federal government does the Constitution permit such activity; and, indeed, the Bill of Rights prohibits it.

The First Amendment specifically forbids "abridging freedom of speech or of the press." The government cannot constitutionally control a major segment of the press, which now includes radio and TV. This is a dangerous bill, and the people should become aware of its threat.

It explains why a friend of ours, whose only income is his unemployment check, has been sent an Everything Credit Card by his bank.

It explains how you can whistle at a girl on the street and find out when she turns around that it's her brother.

It explains why peace demonstrators carry around posterized photos of that well known dove, Mao Tse-tung.

It explains why 500 years of struggle to separate church and state still leave some citizens undecided on the issue.

It is all probability — simple, odds on, probability. And it explains how scientists can say the sun will shine for "another five billion years when they cannot even predict what the weather will be tomorrow."

"Are the lights on?" the wife's voice called up through the darkness.

"No," we shouted back. "There was a long pause while she probably replaced another fuse."

"Are they on now?" she called.

"No," we called back.

"Are you sure?" she shouted.

"No," we replied, happy to find that she was beginning to see things our way.
