NATO Ministers Expected To Approve Defense Plan

Johnson Asks Americans to Shed Their Gloom

KILLEEN, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson today called on Americans to shun the gloom of those who believe his Great Society programs are too massive and expensive to succeed.

"I reject that notion, not because I am unaware of our problems, but because I know our power in America to hold to a good purpose and reach a high goal," said the President in remarks prepared for dedication ceremonies at Central Texas College here.

The President stopped to dedicate the new two-year community college en route from his ranch near Johnson City to Washington. Johnson had been resting at his LBJ Ranch since the Saturday White House wedding of his daughter, Lynda.

"I cannot share the gloom of those who believe that our problems are too big to solve and our pocketbooks too small to help," he said.

Aim For Excellence
Johnson added that "if we stay the course," many essential goals could be achieved. He mentioned the war on poverty, the drive for education excellence, better health, economic stability, social progress—and yes, peace in the world."

The Chief Executive conceded the country was "noisy with the sound of controversy."
"But that should not daunt us," he added, "any more than it daunted the settlers of world."

The President regarded the new college as symbolic of "the expansion of America... not outward, but upward."
This means progress today lies largely in the field of human betterment, not in acquisition of new lands, he said.

"When a new national effort is launched to teach men skills or cure their sickness," he said, "America is growing; something is happening which is as exciting as the winning of the West."

Reporting on the stewardship of his administration, Johnson said in three years nearly 18 million Americans had come under Medicare, 9 million children were helped last year to get a better start in school, and facilities built in three years for more than 1.5 million college students.

Strategy to Halt Use Of Nuclear Weapons

BRUSSELS (UPI)—The western defense ministers today considered a U.S.-proposed new strategy based on a flexible defense without automatic use of nuclear weapons against Communist attack.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) defense chiefs were expected to approve the policy.
The United States hoped also for approval of a plan to give smaller NATO members a greater voice in the alliance's nuclear planning.

The defense ministers today were opening three days of conferences.
The flexible response policy would replace the massive nuclear retaliation doctrine of the late U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. As President Eisenhower's secretary of state in the 1950s Dulles advocated massive nuclear retaliation as the NATO response to any Communist aggression anywhere on NATO's 2,500-mile border along the Iron Curtain.

The United States in recent years has come to believe the Dulles doctrine could touch off unnecessarily a nuclear holocaust following only minor local aggression at some isolated spot on the frontier.

In its place the United States has called for a policy of retaliating at first only with conventional weapons until it became clear that the Communists had launched all-out war. The French have strongly opposed the new U.S. strategy and consistently blocked its approval by NATO. But President Charles de Gaulle's military pullout from the

While the bill is for the most part an extension of education aid programs beyond next July 1, one provision deals with the present school year and educators across the nation would like to see it passed quickly.

The provision in question involves differing House and Senate formulas for apportioning $2.6 billion to school districts on the basis of how many children they have from poverty-affected homes.

There were also other important provisions in dispute between House and Senate, including the term of extension for aid programs to elementary and secondary schools and the total authorizations involved. The question was whether all those issues could be resolved quickly in a conference committee which has sometimes been stormy in the past.

Also at issue were the federal guidelines for determining compliance by local school districts with the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The House approved an amendment, sponsored by Rep. L.H. Fountain, D-N.C., designed to prevent arbitrary application of those guidelines.

MOST GOP LEADERS BELIEVE

Nixon Top Candidate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Most Republican leaders believe former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is far in front among possible candidates for the GOP presidential nomination. Nearly all of them attach reservations.

The most obvious reservations are that Nixon must avoid any political blunders—as he has studiously done during the past year—and must show himself a winner in the state presidential primaries. The key primaries start with New Hampshire in March and run through Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon.

The results of a survey by pollster Louis Harris, published in the Washington Post Monday, seemed to bear out the GOP leaders. Harris said that among Republicans he found Nixon running decisively ahead of Governors Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, George W. Romney of Michigan and Ronald Reagan of California as the choice for 1968.

But Harris also found that among voters of all parties Nixon trailed President Johnson by 47 per cent to 44 per cent, a shift from early last month when he led the Chief Executive, 48 per cent to 41 per cent.

Harris said it appeared the former vice president continues to be handicapped by a nagging doubt "among a majority of all voters that he has lost too many elections." Presumably, Nixon victories in key presidential primaries would go far toward changing that image.

Nixon now is rated ahead of Romney in the kickoff New Hampshire contest. But Romney backers talk of an upset in the granite state because of the Michigan governor's campaign style.

Curious New Hampshire voters like to go down to the firehouse or the school to see and hear a candidate before making up their minds whether they like him. Romney can be adept at this kind of handshaking, question-answering campaign.

A Romney victory in New Hampshire would restore the momentum he has lost in the past year.

Nixon victories in both New Hampshire and Wisconsin would virtually destroy Romney's hopes. The so-called moderate wing of the party would then

Liver Transplant Patient Dies
DENVER (UPI)—Paula Kay Hansen of Fort Worth, a pretty, blonde 2-year-old "in a tedious balance with life," died Monday at Colorado General Hospital, 133 days after undergoing a liver transplant operation.

The girl was one of five youngsters to undergo the difficult transplant operation here during the past several months. Another, 16-month-old Carol Lynne Mac Court of Salt Lake City, died Thursday of an infection after living almost two months with a donated liver.

Doctors said Paula Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hansen of Fort Worth, apparently died because of a malfunction in her small intestine. They said the precise relationship between the cause of her death and the liver transplant was not known.

Paula Kay, who underwent the liver transplant operation last Aug. 3, had been listed in serious condition most of the time since then. Doctors said they had tried to keep her confined to a bed because of the seriousness of her illness, but she "still tried to get up all the time."

Paula Kay had needed a new liver because of biliary atresia, a disease acquired before birth which stops the liver from performing its functions of filtering bacteria and synthesizing, or producing, protein. The donor of the liver was an infant girl who had died of another cause.

Percy Tells Of Narrow Escape

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., accompanied by his wife and a number of aides, is making a personal inspection tour of Vietnam. Today, he and his party came under Communist fire in a village they visited. In the following dispatch, the senator describes the incident.

By SEN. CHARLES PERCY
Distributed By UPI
DAK SON, Vietnam (UPI)—I wanted to see Dak Son, particularly because it is the worst atrocity that has been committed.

(Viet Cong terrorists killed 255 Montagnards at the refugee village 90 miles northwest of Saigon last week.)
You hear of accidental bombings, problems created by our own forces on occasion. I wanted to see what has happened in that particular area.

We circled five or six times and felt quite certain that there was no one in the village. There seemed to be no sign of life of any kind. No one came out while our helicopter circled.

And so we took the helicopter in, left Mrs. Percy in the helicopter, left the chopper blades going, and the five of us went out to see the burned-out areas, to see some of the bunkers where women and children were covered (killed) as a result of suffocation and so forth.

As we proceeded back to the helicopter, we took five mortar shells and about 15 rounds of ground fire. Fortunately, Dennis (Smith of Molton, Mass., a U.S. refugee official) did have a 38-caliber .38-nosed pistol which he passed to me. I don't know if we were in greater danger with me carrying a pistol, or whether it was the danger from the mortar shells. And he had an M2 (carbine) rifle with 28 rounds in it.

The helicopter took right off and went over to Song Be to alert them and my wife went with it. Within 15 or 20 minutes, they had four or five helicopters providing cover for us.

Our own helicopter came back in and picked us up and left. It was the closest action I must say, than I got in three years in World War II.

Some say I never got lower to the ground as we did then. We were crawling as we moved out of there.

Dennis was absolutely magnificent, the way he directed us out. He seemed to have intuitive sense in knowing where to go.

When the mortars came in, I started off toward the jungle and he managed to steer me back. We just stayed close to the ground and worked our way clear to the helicopter.

COUNCILMAN ASKS:
Will City's New Law Cause Any Hardship Cases?
A half-hour discussion on whether an ordinance giving the city power to order dismantling of buildings to a down, would cause hardships finally worked up with the legislation being approved today by a three-man city commission.

Only Mayor Jim Nation and commissioners Elmer Radeliff and Joe Taylor were present at today's regular meeting, just enough for a quorum.

Radeliff, commissioner in Ward 4, said he thought there should be a provision in the ordinance to take care of families displaced by any order declaring the place in which they lived a nuisance.

Mayor Nation and City Manager White stated it was not the intention of the ordinance to cause hardships by ordering families to move.

City Atty. Bob Gordon said if it ever did come to that, there are sufficient welfare programs available from the county and federal governments to take care of any hardship cases.

U.S., South Viet, Korean Troops Smash Cong Forces

VIET CONG ATTACK with flame throwers on the Montagnard village of Dak Son in South Vietnam's central highlands left a family including several children dead. They were among the 114 villagers killed in the terrorist assault.

641 Communists Reported Killed

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S., South Vietnamese and South Korean troops today reported killing at least 641 Communists in decisive battles on the coast and on the North Vietnam border.

American spokesmen reported 471 North Vietnamese were killed by U.S. and government troops in the six-day battle for Truong Lam village that ended in Allied victory Monday. The Americans, who suffered 33 men killed and 147 wounded, burned the fortress village's thatched huts under which the Communists had built bunkers.

They left only the Buddhist altar standing in the burned out coconut jungle village which the Communists used as a terror center.

Near Saigon, Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed government troops in the suburbs and killed 12 today. Near the Cambodian border, 90 miles to the northwest, Communist fire caught U.S. Sen. Charles Percy and his wife, Loraine, visiting a village where terrorists killed 255 civilians in a flamethrower attack eight days ago.

The Percys escaped, the Illinois Republican suffering cuts and bruises on one hand and both arms.

In major fighting, U.S. Marines reported killing 54 Communists trying to build positions on the southern edge of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam. The Leathernecks suffered 21 men injured in the six-hour fight Monday.

Yemeni Forces Drive off Foes

SANA (UPI)—Yemeni republican forces using Soviet tanks and artillery declared today they have driven off royalist troops that tried to capture the capital city's two airports.

Republican radio broadcasts also confirmed that royalists had surrounded "some parts" of the city and announced that almost every man in Sana had been armed with an automatic weapon.

Royalist accounts of the fighting differed sharply.

In Beirut, royalist spokesman Hashem Ben Hashem said both the airports had been taken but later Prince Abdel Rahman Ebn Yahya, vice premier of the royalist "government," disputed Hashem's claims.

At the time Hashem reported fighting within the city, Royalist forces were still half a mile away, he said.

Both sides reported bloody battles around the city.

The fight for the capital is likely to decide the outcome of a five-year civil war that began when Yemeni Imam (king) Badr was deposed by republican insurgents.

The republicans were backed by the United Arab Republic and the Imam won support from Saudi Arabia. A recent agreement between the two nations resulted in withdrawal of some 50,000 Egyptian troops that had protected the republicans.

Another Section Of Subversive Law Hit By Court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court struck down another section of the 1950 anti-subversive law designed to bar Communists from defense industries.

Chief Justice Earl Warren spoke for the court majority in a 6-2 ruling. Justice Thurgood Marshall did not participate while Justice Byron R. White and John M. Harlan dissented.

In previous decisions, the court has virtually eliminated all of the basic provisions of the law, which is administered by the Subversive Activities Control Board.

We had a nice day and good attendance Thursday at Senior Citizens party. The Christmas spirit was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Evans spent Tuesday in Amarillo visiting their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Gatz, and family and a friend, Mrs. Nima Stewart.

Bob Bailey of Brownfield spent several days this week visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. Elma Bailey.

Mrs. F. R. Struval of Levelland spent several days this week with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruby Struval, and granddaughters in Simons and Amarillo.

Everyone is making big plans for the holidays ahead. Mrs. Margaret Conley said she is going to spend Christmas with a niece, Mrs. A. C. Mersorey at Pantanda.

Mrs. G. E. Moore, who is visiting her daughter Mrs. John Barnes and family, was back with us, and is going on to Odessa, the day after Christmas to visit a daughter Mrs. Dale Singleton and family.

Mrs. Lydia Stockman is spending the holidays with a sister, Mrs. Clark Stitt.

Mrs. J. C. Matigan of El Paso, was back with us.

Mrs. James Kozak and daughter Lacey, of Bockert, spent Tuesday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. Maribel Kinyery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Meadows were called to Lubbock Thursday by the death of Mr. Meadows' sister Mrs. Clark.

We missed Mrs. Lena, Pearl Hubbs, one of the Altrosses who fell and broke a hip while shopping in Amarillo last week, and is in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. She is doing well, as reported, and hopes to be home in a week or two.

A caller at the Mollie Hutchins home Thursday was Mrs. Julia Bell and daughter, Mrs. Eva Johnson of Bockert.

Mrs. C. M. Tucker is making plans to go to Ardmore, Okla. to spend Christmas with a sister Mrs. Berta Cyert.

Good to have Mrs. Joe Williams back with us after her long illness and convalescence.

The Altross Club was hospitable to the monthly birthday celebration. Four were present with

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school freshman and belong to a church group which meets every Friday night. There is a boy in this group who is sort of physically deformed and a little mentally unbalanced. (I am not saying this to be mean. Abby, be really so.) Everyone makes fun of him but me.

My problem is, he keeps hanging around me asking me to do weird things, like telling him if he thinks his eyes. (He claims he can't blink his eyes.) Abby, I go to have a good time, and I can't with this kid bothering me all the time. I don't want to tell him to get lost or anything like that because I hate to hurt his feelings. But what can I do? He keeps following me around.

I have even considered dropping out of the group, but I don't want to because it could be a lot of fun if it weren't for this kid. How can I get rid of him nicely?

DEAR PESTERED: That you would write with such a problem shows you to be an extremely sensitive warmhearted person. Surely this group has an adult counselor, and a few leaders among its peers. Why not try to organize a meeting to discuss this problem with them? It would be an act of genuine kindness (not only to the handicapped lad, but to all the young people) to point out the need for patience and understanding in such a situation.

DEAR ABBY: I am trying to plan my daughter's wedding, and my problem is that her fiancé has too many parents. His mother was married six times and his father was married four times. They have remained friendly with all their

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I know you've had several letters on this subject, but will you please answer it again, and this time a little more specifically?

What can I do about people who come right out and ask me how old I am? I know there must be several ways to avoid answering this rude question, but I am so stumped when someone asks me, I always blurt out the truth.

It's not that I am ashamed of my age, Abby, I just resent the nerve of these people who ask me and get away with it. Please come up with a reasonable answer. I'm sure lots of women like me will bless you for it.

DEAR GOING: Leave over, and in a very confidential manner ask: "Can you keep a secret?" The inevitable reply will be, "Yes." Then you say, "Well, so can I."

BUCKY'S CHRISTMAS CAPER

By Wally Wood

Television In Review

By RON YOUNGBLOOD
CHICAGO (UPI)—Attempts by television, primarily an entertainment media, to edify can be grim. Happily, the "Winged World," a look Monday night at some of the world's birds, was anything but.

The special, produced by the National Geographic Society which has been attractively packaging education between magazine covers for years, was a good example of soft sell edification.

Pre-empting CBS' "Gunsmoke" on most stations, the "Winged World" was as graceful as a swallow on the wing. Obvious pitfalls were avoided and the photography, much of it apparently sound-on-film, was stupendous in a nonobtrusive way.

Choice of Direction
Producers of such an attempt are, at the outset, faced with a choice of direction—cram a lot of facts into 60 minutes less the usually too many commercials, or entertain with information.

Entertainment was the hall mark of the "Winged World." Facts were there, but delivered off-hand by the ultra low-key narrator who, contrary to many television precedents, was nowhere to be heard on several minutes-long segments.

The tone of the hour was set immediately. The show opened with a camera moving from a bird to bird, song to song, down picture book waterways and through leafy trees. In "hooker" fashion, it was several minutes before the viewer heard the narrator or saw a title and then he was plunged into the usual "this show is being brought to you by...and by..."

Commercials Low-Key
A word about the commercials. In keeping with the show, they were low-key and easily digested, with one exception. One of the sponsors, an encyclopedia, was represented at one point by a stage-shy (on purpose) youth who stumbled through a grammar school style recitation that surely was uncomfortable for everyone but his parents.

Interesting facts gleaned from the "Winged World": The bird population has remained relatively constant for hundreds of years, about 100 billion. There are birds who use tools to dig out food. Birds apparently evolved from reptiles about 200 million years ago.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—C.B. Richard, Ellis & Co. says the high flyers appear tired and their buoyancy could begin to diminish. The analyst says that for the market to overcome the hurdle ahead, many secondary issues should come into prominence while primary glamor issues have mild reactions. The company says it wouldn't be surprised to see some blue chip issues start to play a more aggressive role.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute says the direction of the market next year depends largely on government action to maintain the dollar's integrity. The company says that the current bond market jitter reflects the strong possibility of another hike in the rediscount rate by the federal reserve board, with the result that both bond and stock markets will remain on tenterhooks in the immediate future.

New Features Listed In 1968-69 Texas Almanac

New information on recreational and historical attractions, election returns by counties, U.S. Census data on agriculture, population estimates and many other features are found in the 1968-69 edition of the Texas Almanac, just published by The Dallas Morning News.

Published since 1857 and called "The Encyclopedia of Texas," the Texas Almanac is widely used in schools, libraries, business and professional offices and home libraries. News papers, county farm agents, chambers of commerce, trade associations and many other Texas individuals and organizations contributed information for the new edition.

New and expanded features listed by Walter B. Moore, editor, in this edition include: A history of the Texas Highway Department which is observing its 50th anniversary. Descriptions of the principal birds of Texas, prepared by the Audubon Society of Dallas.

Expanded descriptions of Texas State Parks and major museums. Economic pages devoted to the 23 Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, the larger cities in which 80 per cent of all Texans live.

Enlarged information on Texas agriculture, including a history of the state's cotton industry. Election returns, by counties, for two Democratic primaries and the general election of 1966 for the principal contested races.

Text of the Texas Constitution, including 20 amendments approved in 1965 and 1966. Twenty amendments on which Texans are voting in 1967 and 1968 are summarized.

New districts for Texas Senators and Representatives are listed and shown on maps. Lists include state, municipal and county officials, state boards and commissions, statewide civic and business organizations and many others.

Moore said that the descriptions and economic information on all 254 counties are among the most popular features of the publication and expressed appreciation to the thousands of Texans who participated in compiling of the information.

Chrysler, Union Reach Agreement

DETROIT (UPI)—Bargainers working beyond a midnight strike deadline reached agreement today on a local contract for Chrysler Corp.'s Hamtramck, Mich. assembly plant.

The agreement, subject to ratification by the 4,500 members of United Auto Workers Local 3, left only five Chrysler bargaining units without local agreements. One of them—the Indianapolis, Ind., electrical facility—has been shut down by a strike since Dec. 4.

The remaining units without local contracts include assembly plants at St. Louis, Mo., and Newark, Del., employing 7,600 hourly rated workers. Also without local agreements are two small parts depots at Kansas City and Boston.

The union and company worked out a national contract Nov. 8, giving Chrysler workers the same basic economic package of a $1.01 an hour raise over a three-year period that the union won at Ford Motor Co. after a seven-week strike.

Negotiations continued today at General Motors Corp., the last member of the "big three" without a national contract. UAW President Walter P. Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton have been leading their bargaining teams in talks shrouded by a "news blackout."

TANK EXPLODES
TOKYO (UPI)—A tank in a factory exploded Monday, spewing deadly chlorine gas, killing one worker and injuring seven others.

Court to Examine Freedom of Choice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to examine a Negro challenge of "freedom of choice" as a method of eliminating segregated public schools.

The court will hear arguments later this term on an eastern Virginia case appealed by the legal defense fund of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People. A written opinion will follow.

The defense fund did not condemn all freedom of choice plans. But its petition argued that they are unconstitutional where evidence shows they are unlikely to bring about desegregation and where other methods, such as re-zoning, will accomplish the job faster.

For instance, the appeal argued, in areas where there is no residential segregation, freedom of choice actually retards desegregation.

About 90 per cent of southern schools now use free choice plans. Besides being impractical, according to the appeal, free choice puts an unfair burden on Negro parents to take action when the initiative should be taken by school boards.

Today's case focused on the school system in New Kent County, near Richmond, where there are two combined elementary-high schools, one Negro and one white.

Employment to Rise in State

By DAVID ANDERSON
AUSTIN (UPI)—Almost 2.5 million Texans will be employed in the fast-growing service industries by 1990; the University of Texas Business Research Bureau predicted today.

In a new report on the Texas economy, the bureau said more new jobs will be created in the service industries than in any other field.

At present the service industries provide a little more than one million jobs in Texas, but by 1990 they will provide as much employment as trade and manufacturing combined, the bureau said.

The service industries are "lines of work that do not put out tangible products"—everything from banks to funeral parlors.

Major services include repair to autos, appliances and business equipment; finance, insurance and real estate; hotel management, medical care, legal counsel and other professional services, entertainment, transportation, communications, education and government.

Pulitzer Winner Quits His Job

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A Pulitzer Prize-winning newspaperman said he is resigning as advisor to Tulane University's student newspaper, calling the publication's staff "dishonest little jerks."

Hodding Carter, whose permanent residence is Greenwood, Miss., said he is quitting his post because the newspaper's staff did not consult him before printing a front page article.

The article was an excerpt from another student paper published by what Carter called "an extreme left wing organization, Students for Democratic Action."

Carter said he would continue at the university as a writer in residence and a communications instructor.

GRENADE KILLS THREE

SEOUL (UPI)—A hand grenade from the Korean war of the early 1950s exploded near Namwon, 150 miles south of Seoul Sunday, killing three children. Their mother was injured.

NO RECONSIDERATION

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Prime Minister Indira Gandhi reaffirmed Monday that her country will limit use of nuclear energy to peaceful purposes. Asked in parliament whether the government planned to reconsider its peaceful policy because of communist China's nuclear advances, Mrs. Gandhi said she saw no reason to start making bombs.

No-Bake Ice Cream Pie Offers Switch for Christmas Dessert

This Cereal Ice Cream Pie offers a refreshing conclusion to a full-course holiday dinner. A sprinkling of mixed candied fruits on top gives it a Christmas appearance. For adults, there is warm butter rum sauce to spoon on each slice.

Breakfast cereals are an excellent way to introduce change in crumb crusts. Their streamlined ease of preparation makes them ideal convenience foods. Here, the confection-like blend of marshmallows with presweetened cereal flakes is a perfect complement in texture and flavor to smooth ice cream.

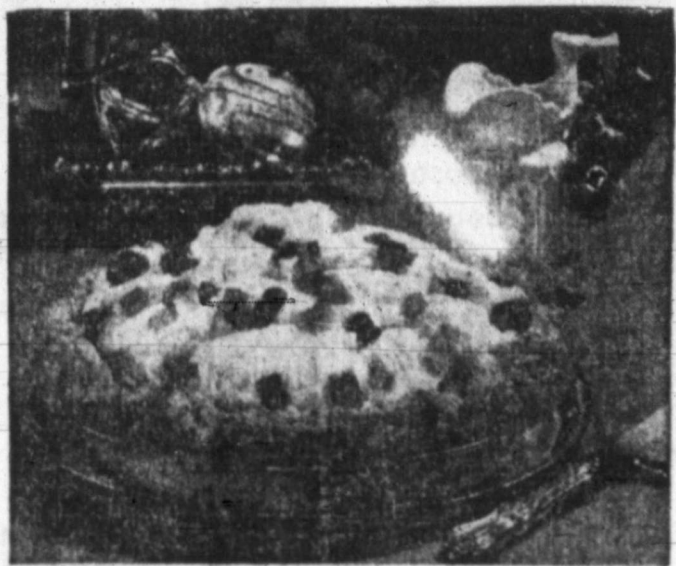

You may add the ice cream to the chilled shell, and hold it in the freezer up to three weeks. Be sure to add freshly cut candied fruit and make

CEREAL ICE CREAM PIE

- Pie
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 2 cups miniature marshmallows
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 2 cups presweetened oven-toasted rice cereal or 3 cups presweetened corn flakes
  - 3 pista vanilla, egg nog, or butter pecan ice cream
  - 1/2 cup finely chopped mixed candied fruits
- Butter Rum Sauce
- 1-3 tablespoons cornstarch
  - 1-3 cup brown sugar, packed
  - 1-3 cup granulated sugar
  - 2-3 cup water
  - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1 teaspoon rum or 1 teaspoon rum extract
- Prepare pie. Combine butter, marshmallows, and salt in large saucepan. Place over low heat and allow marshmallows to melt, stirring constantly. Pour over cereal; mix carefully until cereal is evenly coated. Press mixture evenly over bottom and up sides of a buttered 9-inch pie shell, shaping a high standing rim around edge. Set crust in freezer to chill thoroughly. Spoon ice cream into pie shell and return to freezer until serving time. Just before serving, sprinkle fruit over pie; cut in serving portions.

Prepare sauce. Combine cornstarch and sugars in saucepan. Stir in water. Cook slowly over moderate heat until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add butter and vanilla; stir until smooth. Cool, stirring frequently. Stir rum into sauce and serve on pie. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Cereal marshmallow shell is base for ice cream.

Cookies Instead Of Holiday Cards

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Editor

A can of tomato soup in cookies? Yes, a can of soup! Very good cookies, too.

We suggest you make a batch and send to friends in place of Christmas cards. Quite a rosy prospect!

Your friends will be pleased with black walnut cookies, too.

- ROSY RAISIN PECAN COOKIES
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1 teaspoon baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
  - 2 teaspoons allspice
  - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
  - 1 cup shortening
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed tomato soup
  - 2 cups raisins
  - 1 cup chopped pecans
- Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Sift dry ingredients together into large bowl. Add shortening, eggs and soup. Beat at medium speed for 2 minutes (300 strokes with a spoon) scraping sides and bottom of bowl constantly. Fold in raisins and nuts. Drop rounded teaspoonfuls on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake about 15 minutes or until lightly browned.

- BLACK-WALNUT COOKIES
- 2 1/3 cups sifted flour
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup margarine
  - 2 3/4 cup granulated sugar or firmly-packed brown sugar
  - 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1 cup black walnuts, coarsely chopped
- Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream margarine and sugar. Blend in corn syrup. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mixture may appear curdled. Stir in vanilla and walnuts, then mix in sifted dry ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake in 375-degree (moderate) oven until lightly browned. Makes about 5 dozen.

Santa Stocking Fillers

For little ones—Fill small bags of plastic film with presweetened, cocoa flavor, and fruit flavor cereal puffs. Twist tops closed and tie with ribbon.

Another stocking stuffer which can double as a snack, is an oatmeal cookie cut before baking with a doughnut cutter, then baked and ringed on a twig from the Christmas tree.

TRY SPRAY PAINT...

The beautiful, luxurious look of Italian marble can now be reproduced on walls or furniture with spray paint. Imagine all the decorating vistas opened up by this ingenious product. It's washable, too, with a sudsy sponge.

Coffee ring highlights holiday breakfast.

Coffee Ring for Holidays

Young moderns will like the convenience of this gala coffee ring for a late holiday breakfast. It begins with a package of hot roll mix. While the dough is rising, a delicious filling of crunchy corn flakes, candied fruits, and almonds is prepared. A simple bit of elegance is added to the baked coffee ring with a drizzling of icing and a few candied fruits. It is lovely looking and so good to eat.

To carry out the holiday breakfast theme, serve cranberry juice, corn flakes with milk, and coffee, and you'll have a speedy breakfast that provides quick and lasting energy.

FRUITED ALMOND CEREAL BREAD

1 package (13 3/4 ounce) hot roll mix
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups corn flakes, crushed to make 2-3 cup crumbs
1 cup finely chopped, mixed candied fruits
1-3 cup finely chopped almonds
Confectioners' sugar icing
Candied fruit and nuts for decorating.

Prepare roll mix as directed on package label; let rise. Combine butter, sugar, egg, and almond extract in beater bowl; cream well. Stir in cereal crumbs, candied fruits, and almonds. Roll dough out on lightly floured board into a rectangle 12 inches wide and 15 inches long. Cut into 3 strips 4 inches wide, lengthwise. Spoon one-third of the cereal mixture down center of each strip of dough. Fold edges over filling and press together. Braid the 3 rolls of dough. Place braid in a ring in a greased 10-inch tube pan, pressing ends together. Cover; let rise in warm area until double in size. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) until done, about 30 minutes. Cool bread slightly, remove center of pan and drizzle braid with confectioners' sugar icing, decorate with candied fruits and nuts. Yield: One 10-inch ring.

Cereal Muffins, A Sweet Treat

Bring your favorite hot muffins to the table in a new dress—as Cereal Muffin Surprises. They are light and tender, and carry the nutrition bonus of ready-to-eat high protein cereal as all cereals are basic foods because they furnish an abundance of protein and carbohydrate at very low cost.

The surprise ingredient in these muffins is a teaspoon of thick strawberry preserves baked in the center of each. Make a holiday batch, first half for a holiday tea muffin, second half for the next day's quick cereal and milk breakfast. The delicate muffins can be re-heated easily in a brown paper bag sprinkled with water, or merely in the top of a double boiler.

CEREAL MUFFIN SURPRISES

- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
  - 1/4 cup sugar
  - 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 egg, beaten
  - 3/4 cup milk
  - 1/4 cup melted shortening or cooking oil
  - 1 cup ready-to-eat high protein cereal
  - 1/4 cup thick strawberry preserves
- Combine flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Combine egg, milk, and shortening or oil; add to dry ingredients and stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in cereal flakes. Fill greased muffin pans (2 1/2 x 1 1/4 inch) one-third full with batter and top with a teaspoonful of preserves; cover with remaining batter, filling pans about two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until done and lightly browned, 18

Dogs, Pampa to Battle

By RON CROSS

PLAINVIEW—Pampa starts the second leg on a long, hard journey to the District 3-4A conference championship here tonight.

The Harvesters' (8-1) picked the best team in the conference by a pre-season poll of coaches, and Plainview Bulldogs (8-4), picked as their closest competitors in the same poll, go at it at 8 p.m. on the Dogs' home court.

Both clubs won their league openers, Plainview downing Borger, 65-62 and Pampa thrashing Palo Duro, 76-54.

The Harvesters won't be able to rest after tonight's game, they host Monterey, who appears the team to beat right now, Friday in Pampa.

Bob Cindaniel's Bulldogs always give Pampa trouble and were able to upset the Harvesters at Plainview last year.

Cindaniel's forces are tall, fast and shoot good from anywhere on the floor. They are experienced also.

The Bulldogs returned two starters who averaged in double figures last year while compiling a 12-20 season record. Three others also returned plus some added help with the closing of Plainview's colored school.

Back and holding pace the Bulldogs this year is 6'0 guard Kenny Redin who averaged 11.5 points per game last year and averaged grabbing off five rebounds per contest plus senior Tim Lane who average an even 13 points per contest. The 6'2 forward took an average of eight rebounds off the boards a year ago.

Also back is Tommy Baker, a 5'7 senior guard who averages an even three points per contest and the same number of rebounds. 5'8 Terry Williams, 2.1 points a; 2.0 rebounds and Harold Patterson, 6'0 senior, 2.2 on points and 2.1 on rebounds.

The Plainview coach has gotten, as expected, ample help from Booker T. Washington transfers, Charles Thomas, a 6'4 senior, who carried a 21.0 point average and 11 rebound mark and Lawrence McCutcheon, a 6'2, 190-pounder from Booker who averaged 23 points per contest and 10 rebounds per game.

They should provide plenty of competition for the Harvesters who haven't really been pressed but once, that at San Angelo, when Pampa just went flat.

But with George Bailey, Beau Bond and Carl Lang averaging its double figures and Johnny Carlos, in Cornutt and Jim Holly not too far off. Pampa is tougher to beat than anybody you've ever seen.

The Pampa defense has been better this season than in a long time. Only San Angelo and Palo Duro has been able to crack the century mark against the Harvesters.

UCLA Keeps No. 1 Rating

NEW YORK (UPI)—Underneath they clubbed Wichita State led UCLA, winning with ease 120-86 and came back 24 hours both balloting and basketball, later to rip Iowa State 121-80 for an overwhelming vote the Uclians' 30th straight victory confidence from the nation's at home. The Bruins have notches today who gave the lost at Pauley Pavilion since the wins all 35 first place votes as building was constructed three country's top college team years ago.

Louisville, which last week received the only first place vote that hasn't gone to UCLA this season, dropped from second to fourth after being upset by unranked Northwestern 88-83 Saturday night, lowering the Cardinals' season mark to 2-1.

Houston, with its awesome streak ago—in this week's scoring and rebounding power, leading by United Press moved up a notch into the national's Board of runner-up spot by garnering 295 votes, based on games points—21 more than a week ago—to trail UCLA by 55 points.

The Cougars increased their record to 4-0 after stopping Illinois 54-46 Saturday night in their first real test of the season in the nation, Friday campaign.

WC Favorite Raiders Are Off to Bad Start

LUBBOCK (UPI)—To be expected to win the Southwestern conference basketball championship, Texas Tech isn't gotten off to a very impressive start.

The Red Raiders dropped their first four conflicts and in only one—the 70-68 squeaker at New Mexico Saturday—were they close enough in final moments to win.

Faced with this, coach Gene Gibson says he is "disappointed but not discouraged."

"Every game we show signs of improving. We made only 32 per cent of our field goal efforts on our swing through the West (against Colorado, Utah and Brigham Young) but almost 47 per cent against New Mexico.

"If we can do that well the remainder of the season, we will win lots of games," he said.

Sooners at Tech
The Raiders' next chance to break the losing streak comes early. The University of Oklahoma plays Tech tonight in Lubbock.

One reason Gibson feels the team is improving is because of a comparison in one particular category—turnovers—from the first game to the fourth.

"Against Colorado in our opener, it was just a comedy of errors. You couldn't call it anything else. We could have sold tickets to it and billed it as a comedy.

"We threw the ball away some 30 times," he said.

Costly Mistakes
"When you do that, you are not supposed to win. We only lost the ball on mistakes nine times in the New Mexico game. And to us, that was very encouraging."

Toys for Tots Game Scheduled

Employees of the Pampa News will play employees of the Borger News Herald, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in a touch football game for Toys for Tots.

Admission to the game will be one toy and the gifts will then be given to underprivileged children.

The first game of the scheduled two, will be played at Borger on Bulldog Field. On Thursday, Dec. 21 the same two teams will meet on Harvesters Field for a rematch.

Toys given in Pampa will go to Pampa children to help brighten up their Christmas.

The touch game will be "flag" with the play stopped when a flag is pulled out of the runners pocket.

In the game at Pampa, Andy Anderson, Eddie Poinac, Deck Woldt and Weldon Trice will work as game officials.

Niekro Leads in ERA Stat

NEW YORK (UPI)—Phil Niekro of the Atlanta Braves, who mixed a knuckleball with a slider, sinker and fast ball into pitcher's brew for rival hitters, was officially crowned Tuesday as the National League's earned run leader for 1967.

The 26-year-old right-hander who started the season as a relief specialist and didn't make his first start until June 13, compiled a 1.87 earned run average that is the league's third lowest in the last 25 years. His only lower era's in the NL since 1943 were 1.74 and 1.73 by Andy Koufax in 1964 and 1966, respectively.

Niekro's performance was the best of a "pitchers' season" during which 35 pitchers who appeared in 10 or more games had era's under 3.000. Five pitchers struck out more than 60 batters and there were 83 games in which a pitcher allowed three hits or less.

Bunning Second

Niekro had an 11-9 won-and-lost record but pitched complete games in 10 of his 29 starts and allowed only 43 earned runs in 67 innings. Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phillies ranked second in era with 2.29. Chris Short of the Phillies was third with 2.40. Gary Nolan of the Cincinnati Reds was fourth with 2.58 and Gaylord Perry of the San Francisco Giants was fifth with 2.61.

Leave a Blank Space

How long has it been since you saw a silver dollar? Or even a fifty-cent piece? Well, there is a reason you haven't seen a silver dollar for so long. As of July 21 of this year, the metal content of a silver dollar was worth about 1.61.

Of course the Treasury Department has a ban on melting of U. S. coins. The maximum fine is $10,000 and a prison term of five years. But at those prices it would be a naive native who believes that a lot of silver dollars haven't overheat and become syrupy by accident or otherwise.

So, there is to be a new and less messy method of turning a profit on silver dollars. They are going to be traded on the New York Mercantile Exchange.

Starting soon you can contract to deliver 1,000 coins in a single canvas money bag. They may be the so-called Morgan dollars, minted from 1878 to 1904, or the Peace dollars, issued from 1921 to 1936. No silver dollars have been minted since 1936.

You won't really have to appear lugging a canvas money bag filled with a thousand cartwheels. Change of ownership will be shown by transfer of depository receipts issued by banks in which the coins are deposited.

The silver shortage which government spokesmen were assuring us would never come

Centralizing Confusion

More and more often one hears statements of despair regarding the complexity of modern life. Is it that existence has become so impossibly complex? Or is it rather that individuals have become hopelessly confused by policies and procedures that no longer are guided by common sense?

An answer to these questions may be found in a statement by Thomas Jefferson, in which he explained how this Republic was designed to function:

Were not this country already divided into States, that distribution must be made that each might do for itself what concerns itself directly, and what it can so much better do than a distant authority.

"Every State is again divided into counties, each to take care of what lies within its local bounds; each county again into townships or wards, to manage minor details, and every ward into farms to be governed by its individual proprietor."

"It is by this partition of cares, descending in gradation

The Name Of The Game

(Wall Street Journal)

As one Congressman declared last week, "The name of the game now is defending the dollar." Exasperatingly enough, however, most of official Washington still seems intent on a different game.

The name of that pastime is, of course, politics. By its rules you go on telling the people that their great and good Government can do practically anything and everything for them all at once, even while it's fighting a rather nasty war out in Asia.

Spelling out the particulars, the Government promises to eradicate poverty, put men on the moon, whoosh people through the air at three times the speed of sound, wipe out crime in the streets, spend billions on schools and more billions on roads—among many, all too many, other things.

The Government, moreover, can do all of this, the argument runs, without incurring any evil consequences. So what if the Federal budget deficit continues to get ever deeper? So what if the U.S. international accounts appear to be almost permanently out of whack? Why worry about those esoteric things when Washington is delivering down-to-earth goodies every day?

Well, the decline of Britain's pound finally gives some people pause, as well it should. Britain after all, had been playing pretty much the same sort of political game through most of the postwar years, even though its currency had been getting weaker in international markets.

When the U.K. at last recognized that its governmental excesses could not go on forever, the awakening came less than two years ago—it learned another lesson: Troubles allowed to grow for a long time are not always susceptible to quick and easy solution.

Ironically enough, it was a socialist government that realized something would have to be done to try to undo the after-effects of both its own and the Conservative Party's socialist schemes. Its efforts proved to be too little and much too late.

What are the dollar's chances of escaping the pound's fate? Thanks to the strength of the private economy, its chances are considerably better. Still, given Washington's present official actions and attitudes, the prospects scarcely seem entirely secure.

Federal officials naturally are proclaiming that the dollar will be sustained, no matter what. Yet some people who listen to those reassuring words are recalling that Prime Minister Harold Wilson was saying the same of the pound only a short time ago.

A lot more than words is needed. It may help, for a time, to have the international gold pool, composed of the U.S., Britain and five other European countries committed to support of the dollar. But this arrangement is similar to the setup that failed to head off devaluation of the pound.

The talk is that France has been trying to sabotage both the pound and the dollar, as General de Gaulle plays his own game of trying to enhance his and his nation's international prestige. And it's true that France withdrew from the world gold pool last June. It's just possible, though, that France perceives the futility of propping any nation's currency with a permanent international rescue mission.

What's required instead is simply a dose of old-fashioned fiscal and monetary restraint. The longer restraint is postponed, in fact, the larger the dose is likely to have to be—and the greater the risk that the domestic economy will suffer from it.

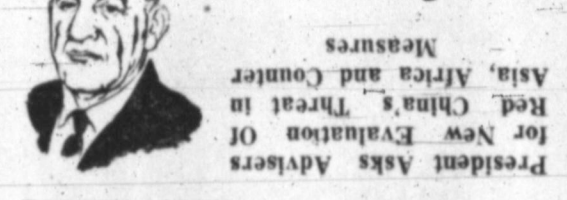

The Administration's sudden discovery that maybe, just maybe, it might find ways to spare a few billion from its budget conceivably could be the start of something useful. Helpful, too, would be a Federal Reserve decision to stop pouring out lendable funds as though there were no tomorrow. Last week's tightening of money was actually explained away as accidental.

While the American economy is both much larger and stronger than Britain's, even it won't stand abuse forever. And another name for the Government's game up to now is Playing With Financial Fire.

Every Time We Think It's Defused

Backstage Washington

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is increasingly concerned by the alarming views of Communist China's plans and purposes.

In recent Vietnam strategy and budget sessions, the President asked his foreign policy and intelligence advisers to prepare answers by early January to these five questions:

First, does China intend over the next five years, to extend her political domination over a great part of Asia and Africa?

Second, if so, will the vital interests of the U.S. and her allies be affected?

Third, if this expansion effort is a threat to the West, what measures should be taken?

Fourth, what effect will the development of a Chinese nuclear-missile capability in the '70s have on the balance of power in the Far East and the world?

Fifth, what is the reason behind Mao Tse-tung's decision to turn the running of China over to the military?

In pointing out how fundamental these questions are to future administration policy, the President stressed that the answers would in the coming months influence decisions on the Vietnam war, defense spending, and U.S. commitments overseas.

The President cautioned his advisers the U.S. cannot gamble that Peking's threats to ignite other "wars of liberation" are only rhetoric resulting from the recent turmoil in Communist China.

"If you believe China will enter the Vietnam conflict," the President stated, "I want that thoroughly gone into in your replies, including the circumstances under which you believe intervention might, take place."

CONFLICTING VIEWS—The President's five questions on China were triggered by two unreported developments within the administration.

One was a private warning from outgoing Defense Secretary McNamara, and the other involved the Central Intelligence Agency's circulation of conflicting estimates on recent events on the China mainland.

McNamara, in opposing further escalation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, cautioned the President it would eventually force China to enter the war.

In support of this argument, McNamara went to great lengths to present his fears of China, stating:

With Some Reservation

I don't think that McNamara walked off the job—he was pushed. But it wouldn't look good to say otherwise. Can't you just see the headlines—"Mac the Knife Gets the Ax."

That's why he just happened to filter over to the World Bank—he was strained.

Elbee Jay said that it would be of benefit to the Pentagon to have a "fresh person" as secretary of defense. But Mac was a "fresh person." He is of the new breed who can somehow be fresh and stale at the same time.

Offhand the only other living thing I can think of like that is limburger cheese.

But there are lots of others in Washington who look strained. You take that fellow Rusk. Why, his face looks like it has already wore out three bodies.

In the Labor department Wirtz is No. 1. And he's as nervous as a grasshopper in a trout hatchery. He gave a speech saying "the nation's sense of humor seems to be on vacation."

Why, if Americans didn't have a sense of humor in these times they would have to put bars on all the windows in the city and hide all the ropes on the farm.

Which brings us to the secretary of Agriculture. If anybody ever needed a "fresh person" more than the Pentagon is the farmers. And there's more of them. They're more important too—by a bomb sight.

Secretary of State Rusk, who has established a close personal and official relationship with Secretary McNamara, is reportedly drafting a paper supporting McNamara's position.

It will emphasize that a U.S.-Chinese confrontation could develop from trying to win a military victory over North Vietnam, though others in the administration definitely disagree.

Before passing on their answers to the White House, the Joint Chiefs of Staff have ordered their own study of Peking's latest military capabilities including the distribution of the Army's combat-ready divisions in southern provinces of Yunnan, Kwangsi, and Kwangtung.

Most intriguing report being circulated by the Defense Intelligence Agency at the Pentagon is one revealing that signs in Chinese have begun appearing on bridges and key roads in North Vietnam.

One group of DIA experts holds that the signs are there to guide the 75,000 Chinese transportation troops and military technicians now working in the country.

Another group argues the signs are being installed on routes that would be used if China decides to send large convoys of troops into North Vietnam. They point out that several crack Chinese divisions have recently moved into China's Kwangsi province, near the border from other areas of the country.

CHINESE PUZZLE—McNamara's views and the alarming CIA estimate, were so contrary to past intelligence reports, and those of the majority of his advisers that the President decided a new China policy review was needed.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

A mother writes: that her daughter, 3, has been crying out in her sleep almost every night. Night terrors in children are most often seen between the ages of 3 and 8. These children are often nervous and high-strung or sickly. The most important steps a parent can take are to make the child's waking environment as calm as possible and, with the help of a pediatrician, get her in good physical condition. When she cries out at night the mother should go to her, get her to tell what was frightening her, then reassure her that it was all a bad dream and that everything is all right. With this treatment the child should outgrow these spells in time.

A—When the right and left halves of the vertebral column fail to fuse at some point a child is born with spina bifida or a divided spine. The severity of the condition varies widely depending on several factors. The defect is fairly common but the chances that a second child would have this condition are remote.

Q—My 18-month-old son gets bloodshot eyes from time to time. What causes this?

A—The most common cause is infection. If the inflammation accompanies a head cold it will clear up as the cold goes away. If he has no cold, allergy is possible. Soap in his eyes, another. You should consult your pediatrician to determine the exact cause so that the proper treatment can be prescribed.

Q—Two of my six children like to eat dirt. Is this harmful? If they lack some vitamin or element of nutrition?

A—Maybe they have heard the old wives' tale that even child must eat a peck of dirt. This is not a good idea, however, because who can be sure what germs or poison may be present in a random sample of dirt? A lack of iron is a most likely cause than a lack of vitamin. Iron dextran complex (Imferon) or iron sorbitol citrate (Jectofer) have cured many children who have a bizarre taste for dirt due to an iron deficiency. Both drugs require doctor's prescription.

Pull Up A Chair

Just in case you were concerned about the future, the Urban League Institute predicts that within the next 30 years 60 per cent of the U.S. residents will live in California, Florida and the northeast mid-Atlantic regions where the population is expected to reach 180 million. If that's true likely cause than a lack of vitamin. Iron dextran complex (Imferon) or iron sorbitol citrate (Jectofer) have cured many children who have a bizarre taste for dirt due to an iron deficiency. Both drugs require doctor's prescription.

Today's smile: A fellow showed up at his office one Monday morning somewhat the worse for wear and tear. One of his co-workers said: "You look terrible. What did you do this weekend?" The other replied: "I was fishing." The co-worker asked: "Fishing for what?" The woebegone one answered: "Fishin' for olives. They put them in martinis."

Boxing is in the doldrums these days, but it has an exciting history and will have a revival someday. Meanwhile, reading about gladiators of the past is interesting. One of the least known and most colorful of the heavyweight champs was Jim Mace, who ruled the roost back in the 1870's—the bare-knuckle era. Although he fought as a heavyweight, this 160-pounder was a concert violinist between his brawls with contenders for his crown. And although the sport of manly mayhem is strictly for young men these days, Jim Mace was a prizefighter for 36 years and had his last bout when he was 71 years of age. Must have been a rugged guy.

Thoughts while shaving: The U.S. Food and Drug Administration says there are 5 million people in this country either wholly or partially incapacitated by alcohol. The agency also attributes half of our fatal automobile accidents, which claimed 52,000 lives last year, to imbibing and adds more than 11,000 deaths annually are traceable to alcohol. That's enough to make any man stop drinking... It's okay with us for the airlines to build 800-passenger supersonic jets, but we wonder how those huge flying machines are going to land and take-off from existing runways on today's airports. We also wonder if their supersonic speeds won't cause havoc for householders and everyone else when they boom as they break the sound barrier. It certainly sounds like a noisy tomorrow in the airlines industry, doesn't it?

Nothing of the kind has happened. On the contrary, the Russian aid to Hanoi has been stepped up and the Soviet propaganda line against the United States has hardened still further. Lately great emphasis has been placed on the massive increase in military aid for North Vietnam scheduled in the coming year. Russian commentators always speaking with the approval of the communist government, point to the danger of an invasion of North Vietnam and predict that it would end in disaster for the invaders.

Any understanding or "hot trade" between Russia and the U.S. never fails to leave us the short end of the deal. There has been no softening of the Soviet attitude toward the free world, nor can any such development be expected. So-called cooperation between Russia and the U.S. does not exist. An effort toward that end inevitably turns out to be a one-way proposition.

Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower are our only former living Presidents. Back in 1861 when Lincoln became chief executive there were five of them, including: Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce and James Buchanan. And we'll bet from the safety of their retirement sanctuaries they had a great time second-guessing the Illinois rail splitter's administration in the White House...

The Petersburg (Va.) PROGRESS INDEX headlined a story: "Clock Is Old Timer." That may be, but it's right up to the minute.

Country Editor speaking: "We don't understand why President Johnson has so much difficulty in fighting war in Vietnam and running the government here at home because everyone we meet tells us how London should solve those problems."

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ready or not, the time has come when we must give some thought to naming the 1967 "man of the year."

I'm not trying to influence anyone, but perhaps it will help you make up your mind if I list a few of my favorite nominees and briefly review their qualifications.

Turning first to the field of finance, we find two outstanding candidates. One, of course, is Jerry Wolman: the Philadelphia builder sportsman.

A fellow who goes through life running up a little bill here and a little bill there, and periodically consolidating them all with a loan from the Friendly Finance Company, can only stand in awe of Wolman.

Oak Trees Being Axed By Usually Fatal Disease

By PRESTON MCGRAW
COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Usually fatal disease are attacking two of the stateliest varieties of oak trees in Texas and the only remedy tree specialists can recommend so far is cutting stricken trees down and burning them.

W. A. Smith, Texas Agricultural Extension Service forester, says the diseases are oak wilt, which attacks red oaks, and oak decline, which attacks live oaks.

The diseases affect trees similarly. They cut off nourishment to the limbs of the trees. Limbs begin to die from the crowns of trees inward and in time the entire trees perish.

Widespread in Midwest
 So far, oak wilt in Texas has been confined to the Dallas area. The nearest other infected spot is Arkansas, although the ailment is widespread in the Midwest. Smith believes the disease was brought into the Dallas area on a seedling.

Oak decline is spread through the live oak growing area of the state, from Dallas south to Corpus Christi and west to San Antonio.

Of the two diseases, wilt appears to be the worse. It kills out whole groves of red oaks, while decline strikes a tree here and a tree there.

A Texas A&M University researcher has isolated the virus that causes oak decline.

"The next job," Smith says, "is to find something to kill the virus."

Fatal Disease
 Wilt is believed to be spread from the roots of an infected tree to the roots of a healthy tree. When a tree catches wilt, there is nothing to do except cut it, grub up the stump and burn them both in the hope of preventing spread of the disease.

The wind probably spreads the oak decline virus. There is some indication that the health rivers are dammed up to form of live oak trees has something to do with it.

"In the late 1950s and early 1960s—the years after the big drought—we received many complaints about oak decline," Smith said. "We have received fewer since then."

Smith and his colleagues receive reports from the Oklahoma border almost to the Gulf of Mexico about suspected cases of oak wilt. Because of the severity of the disease, they investigate every complaint. So far, the only valid complaints have come from the Dallas area.

Smith says Texas cannot afford to lose any of its hardwood trees, because there is a shortage of hardwood. The state raises twice as much pine as it uses.

Heavy useage of hard wood, plus the hardwood lost when reservoirs, has cut deeply into the state's hardwood supply.

Police Have Good Lead In Florida Slaying Case

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI)—Police said they had a "good lead" in the slaying of two vacationing secretaries whose swimsuit-clad bodies were dumped in lonely Whiskey Creek.

Lt. Fred Rohloff said investigators had learned that both the two vacationing secretaries were on a firm outside Florida, but he would not name the firm or identify them.

"They had apparently been at Miami Beach for a week, staying at a motel," he said.

One of the victims was identified by her estranged husband as Mrs. Terry Rae Kent Frank. Billy Frank identified the body Sunday and the girl's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Kent of Cincinnati were en route here.

The second girl, whom police refused to identify pending confirmation, appeared to be 18 to 20 years old, with shoulder-length auburn hair.

Rohloff said "we have several ideas of what the motive for these murders was. There was no indication these were gangland-style killings. We are working on a good lead."

He said officers were still trying to find the boat from which the girls were dumped into the canal called Whiskey Creek.

The prolonged period of business emergency since World War II has been responsible for the favorable reduction in unemployment, although military manpower requirements and—since the late 1940's—the low birth rate of the 1930's restrained growth of the civilian labor force. ## HOW'S BUSINESS? Unemployment Trend Sounding a Warning

By The Babson Staff
 In the years since World War II, unemployment has been an infrequent problem for the American economy. Indeed, except during business recessions, the jobless segment of the available civilian labor force has been very low in comparison with historical standards. At times it has even seemed that unemployment was at an irreducible minimum. Only two years in this era, namely 1958 and 1961, have experienced unemployment exceeding the 5-million mark.

Crooks Need To Go To School

WHITEFACE, Tex. (UPI)—There's hardly any other explanation that Supt. James Cunningham can see. Whoever burglarized his school was just too dumb to read.

Safecrackers "peeled" a vault and escaped with two cameras and a pair of binoculars. They were valued at $350.

The burglars ignored a sign on the face of the vault that said: "This door is not locked. Lift handle to open."

Damage to the vault was estimated at $961.
