Greece's Military Leaders Resign

King Still Refuses to Return

By United Press International

The three top leaders of Greece's ruling military regime resigned their army commissions in Athens today in a move apparently aimed at consolidating their hold on the nation.

They were Premier Col. George Papadopoulos, Deputy Premier Brig. Gen. Stylianos Pattakos and Col. Nicholas Makarezos, the minister of coordination.

The move would permit the three to run as civilians in the national elections they have promised to call. In resigning they became reserve officers with rank one grade above those they held on active duty.

The resignations came one week after they had crushed an attempted counter-coup by King Constantine. In that week the junta has ruled out Constantine's immediate return to the throne and has announced it "probably" will fix a date for parliamentary elections in a few days.

In the meantime the junta is seeking a compromise on the naming of a regent who would hold the throne in the name of the king until he is permitted to return.

The 27-year-old monarch was in Rome maintaining complete silence on the abortive counter-coup he led six days ago. Observers in Rome said the silence has cost him the initiative in his struggle to return to power.

Official statements by the military regime in Athens left no doubt the king would not be permitted back in the country immediately. The regime concentrated on finding a mutually acceptable regent to occupy the throne until "the proper time" for Constantine's return.

The regime capitalized on the king's silence in a series of news conferences Monday and Tuesday. They lessened the force of Constantine's demands by promising a new constitution and by announcing they "probably" would set a date soon for parliamentary elections.

In the king's counter-coup attempt he appealed for support on the basis of the junta's failure to return democratic government to Greece. The old constitution was suspended when the colonels seized power in April.

Informed government sources in Athens said the regime was in no hurry to have the king back and needs a regent acceptable to both themselves and Constantine.

The sources said the king wanted his sister, Princess Irene, named regent.

Ramsey Loses Grid Job; Takes Over as Golf Coach

By RON CROSS

Head Pampa football coach Eural Ramsey was fired Tuesday night by the Pampa School Board and hired Wednesday morning, subject to approval of the board, as Harvester golf coach for 1967-68.

The board voted unanimously not to renew Ramsey's contract for 1968 when it expires Jan. 1. His teaching contract runs through the end of the school term.

Chicago Cubs baseball coach Leo Durocher pined the words, "Nice Guys Finish Last."

In three years as Pampa grid coach Ramsey compiled a 6-24 record, five of those victories coming in 1966. His Harvesters finished last in 1965 and 1967 in the District 3-4A race. Pampa was 0-10 in 1967.

Ramsey is well thought of in coaching circles by Pampa students, his players and people who know him.

Ramsey is just one of a long list of coaches that haven't produced a winner in Pampa. He did finish 5-5 in 1966, the best record a Pampa team had had in 13 years, when they finished 6-4 in 1953.

Like the football team, the Pampa High School golf team hasn't won a district title.

The board conferred with Ramsey for about 30 minutes Tuesday night and ended their "Executive Session" at 8:30 p.m.

Board secretary John Gikas then said the board "had voted unanimously not to renew the contract of head football coach Eural Ramsey."

A reporter asked Ramsey for comment and the coach said, "I have nothing whatsoever to say, no comment."

The board also met with the sports committee which had worked vigorously the past six weeks compiling a report on the Pampa High School athletic program.

Members of the committee visited eight schools in Texas and Oklahoma that compare in enrollment with Pampa and several AAAA schools to gain information on their athletic program.

The report was submitted to the board who thanked members of the committee present: Bud Hogan, Buzz Tarpley, Ray Thompson, Ben Sturgeon and Buddy Cockrell.

The board told the committee the report was a fine one, well (See RAMSEY, Page 3)

BAKER SCHOOL SINGERS — Thirty-seven youngsters from Baker School sang Christmas songs Tuesday for employees at the Pampa News, Gray County Courthouse, the First National Bank and Citizens Bank and Trust Company. The young singers' teacher, Mrs. Claudie Gallman, has been bringing youngsters from the school for over 20 years. This year's singers were: Teddy Black, Donnie Durbe, Bill Baker, Andrew Salinas, Darrell Carey, Junior Amador, Ray Adamson, John Curtis, Ricky Ming, Johnnie Cook, David Dirickson, David Nap, Ocie Powell, Roy Villarreal, Thomas Smith, Rickey Lewis, Mike Shaw, Phil Mangham, Carolyn Woodruff, Helen Sanchez, Katie Mahaney, Barbara Murry, Betty Joe Andrews, Marie Villarreal, Cindy Carver, Debbie Cook, Darla Powers, O'Nita Vinson, Donna Bockman, Regina Watson, Wanda Zelle, LaGwenda Cochran, Glenda Watson, JoAnne Duree, Brenda Brorlow, Brenda Moyer and Star Winborne.

IN SCHOOL BOARD SESSION

Deficiencies to be Corrected

Pampa School board voted unanimously Tuesday night in an executive session not to renew head football Coach Eural Ramsey's contract for 1968 and in an open meeting reviewed the Texas Education Agency's accreditation survey of Pampa school district.

In a brief meeting before the executive session, board members reviewed and accepted the athletics survey of Pampa and area schools compiled by the board's special athletic committee, but took no immediate action on the report.

The report, according to Creel Grady, board president, is available in the school district office for the public to examine. Grady, with other board members concurring, said the "committee's report was thorough and could be used in deciding questions on athletics."

The board went into executive session at 7:35 p.m., met with Ramsey about 20 minutes and ended the executive session at 8:30 p.m. After the session, Ramsey's only answer on the outcome was "nothing whatsoever, no comment."

"After the board heard a de-

In his report, Lane stressed the school district is not in danger of losing its accreditation because it would "have no problems meeting the requirements stated in Phillips' report."

Although Phillips survey listed six deficiencies of Pampa schools, trustees stated plans are underway to correct all deficiencies before the official accreditation visit in September, 1969.

Lane explained a school would have from six to eight years to correct any deficiencies before it could lose its accreditation.

In other business trustees approved purchase of a $1,512.75 offset duplicator for the general school office; authorized James Truisty, assistant business manager, to determine if a video tape recorder can be leased for 30 days with an option to buy; and approved resignations, reassignment and employment of personnel.

They also voted to start driver education training in both the summer and fall terms. A tuition fee will be set before March, 1968.

The next regular board meeting was set for Jan. 11.

It was also announced Dr. John Damron, school superintendent, Lane, Truisty and Frank Anderson will attend the School Administrators Advisory Conference on Education sponsored in Austin by the Texas Education Agency Jan. 3, 4, and 5.

Personnel changes approved by the board were for resignations of John Henry Watson as custodian and Claudette Steele as maid; reassignment of Mazo Sanders as Pampa High School custodian and employment of Mario Garriga in maintenance and Truman Thompson as high school custodian.

Head Injury To Folk Singer Was Accident

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Folk singer Jimmie Rodgers apparently suffered a near fatal head injury when he fell to the ground while being questioned by an off-duty policeman, according to a police investigator.

Lt. Pierce R. Brooks, chief of detectives at Foothill division, Tuesday announced the results of an inquiry into the incident, which he said involved "no criminality."

Brooks gave the following account of the accidental fall on the early morning of Dec. 1: "The off-duty officer saw the singer make a U-turn on the San Diego freeway. He followed him on the freeway and stopped him on a side street in the Mission Hills area.

Rodgers fell, the officer said, while the two were talking in the street outside the car. The off-duty policeman told investigators Rodgers' may have struck either the asphalt surface of the road or a metal manhole cover.

"I am in the belief that Mr. Rodgers fell and no one was responsible," Brooks said. "There was nothing to indicate an altercation."

Brooks refused to comment on whether any attempt was made to find out if the singer was injured in the fall or if a sobriety test was administered. Brooks said he could not discuss such matters because they are the subject of a continuing investigation by the department's internal affairs division.

The 33-year-old singer was found unconscious in his parked car about an hour after the incident by a friend. Rodgers was suffering a four-inch skull fracture and was hospitalized 26 hours later at the urging of his physician.

State Health Department Eyes Flu Outbreak

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Health Department announced today it is preparing for the annual appearance of influenza, with special emphasis for incidence of the dreaded Asian flu.

Thus far, the state has not had a case of Asian flu confirmed, but local health officials have been urged to report all cases immediately since the disease is highly communicable.

There have been several cases of the Asian variety reported in Michigan and an outbreak in North Miami, Fla.

Actually, health officials don't expect too many cases of Asian flu in the state this year.

Occurs in Cycles

Dr. Van Tipton, director of the communicable disease division of the State Health Department, said the disease usually occurs in cycles of two or three years, and 1967 is an off-year.

"We had just a little sprinkling of cases last year," Tipton said. "Next year we probably will get an increase again."

The influenza season normally begins in December, but Tipton noted that the epidemic of 1957 broke out in the summer.

There are few good statistics on Asian flu because the only positive diagnosis involves analysis of a blood sample taken two weeks after onset of the (See FLU, Page 3)

CHRISTMAS 1967 GREETINGS 1967

'AND A CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM'

High School Problem Student Finally Finds Himself

HOLLAND, Mich. (UPI)—Because a little girl turned back on Santa Claus, a high school "problem student" has "found himself."

A 16-year-old, unidentified high school senior, described by his teacher as a "problem student," was assigned to guide a group of kindergarten children through an art show at Holland High School last week two Christmases past, Santa Claus was on hand, didn't come through with display.

Actually, she comes from a home of five children where both of the parents work, explained Lincoln grade school Principal L. A. Compagner. But there appears to be a certain amount of neglect and lack of attention to the child.

The "problem student" was struck by the little girl's display.

The student told his father of the incident in passionate words and said he would buy her a special doll she wanted. The son will pay for it out of earnings and allowances. The father told whether a school authorities the child can have whatever she wants for about the man in the red suit.

Christmas. Mrs. Jean Visscher, who described the benefactor as a "problem student," remarked Tuesday. "He apparently has found himself, this year and has improved considerably."

Perhaps next week will tell whether the kindergarten reaches a similar conclusion about the man in the red suit.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS, MR. SNOWMAN"— Travis Elementary School children wished their own "Mr. Snowman" a merry Christmas in the annual school play which was presented to the students today, directed by Mrs. Bill Watt. Cast members were Monte Kempf, Mr. Santa Claus; Cassandra Sweet, Mrs. Santa Claus; Bryce Williams, sandman; Lisa Johnson, girl snowman builder; Terry Bowden, Mr. Snowman and Terry Garner, boy snowman builder. Snow fairies seated left to right were Sabrina Houck, Lana Backham and Stacey Beddy. This year's play, "Merry Christmas, Mr. Snowman," was one of several Pampa students presented to parents and school children.

Letters to Santa Claus

Dear Santa:
Please bring me a Baby First Step. An Easy Rider (I've had a buffer). Remind me to get the other boys and girls. Love, Alicia Lancaster, 2118 Monroe.

Dear Santa:
I am six years old. I would like a little picture book and a story book. My little brother is three years old and he would like a pedal car and a train. I thank you very much. Love, Jane Sharp, 1108 N. 2nd St.

P.S.: There will be cake and milk on the table for you.

Dear Santa:
My name is Kimberly Rich, and I am seven years old. I would like to have a talking Baby First Step, a new Easy Rider, a new Easy Rider, and a new Easy Rider. Merry Christmas to you Santa and Happy New Year. I love you. Kimberly Rich, 437 Pitts.

Dear Santa:
I want a sign stick. I want a volleyball. I would like a radio. I would like to bring Donna and Phyllis something. Love, Ruth G. Banks, 1108 N. 2nd St.

I will be at my Grandmother and Grandfather's house in Bristow on Christmas Eve and at Grandmother and Grandfather's house here in Pampa on Christmas Day. Please remember all the other little boys and girls especially my cousins. Stephanie, 228 Miral St.

Dear Santa:
I have been a good girl this year. Will you bring me a microscope and an incredible Eddie and a watch? If you give me a microscope Eddie please give me some. Goodbye Santa. I hope you do not have too much love to give. How is Mrs. Claus? How is Merry Christmas. Linda beautiful, 1108 Monroe.

Dear Santa:
I remember all the other boys and girls. I have been a very good boy and I hope you will bring me the things I want. How is Mrs. Santa Claus? I hope she is feeling well. I want a BB gun, drum set, camera and a Magic 8 Ball. Love, Michael Lancaster, 1118 Monroe.

Dear Santa:
This year I would like to have an Easy Rider. Love, 1118 Monroe.

Travel Handbook Ready for Public

An expanded edition of the popular Texas Travel Handbook has been released by the Texas Highway Department.

First issued last year as an aid to pleasure travel in Texas, the enlarged second edition now lists nearly 400 cities and towns, and includes more than 2,500 individual items of interest. The 208-page handbook also contains 312 photographs which provide travelers with previews of such attractions as the aerial tramway in El Paso and Presidio La Bahia near Goliad. It contains stories about Pampa, Dalhart, Wheeler, Miami, Perryton, Clarendon, Lipscomb and Canadian in the Panhandle.

Handbook subjects are as varied as the state itself, ranging from the melancholy Empty Saddle Monument in Dalhart to the humdrum Popeye statue in Crystal City.

With the Texas Travel Handbook as a guide, travelers may discover dinosaur tracks, Indian pictographs and buried cities. They will learn the locations of little-known ghost towns, and follow specific directions to the most popular attractions of modern Texas cities.

Special sections are devoted to recreational facilities in Texas national and state forests, and in more than 55 state parks. Summaries of Texas hunting and fishing regulations are provided, as well as information on visiting Mexico.

Like all Highway Department travel literature, the handbook is free by individual request from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P.O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78703.

They Wouldn't Live There

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Although you might have trouble finding any member of Congress who would want to live there, many apparently think South Vietnam is a nice place to visit.

Particularly during an election year.

So what happens now that Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., has escalated the publicity value of Vietnam trips by getting caught in a mortar attack in a deserted village? Well, I feel certain it is going to cause widespread discontent with the conventional VIP tour of the area.

"Sen. Lungbuster, this completes our agenda. You have been photographed shaking hands with Gen. Westmoreland, conferring with embassy officials, dining with Vietnamese leaders, and fraternizing with enlisted men. Is there anything else you would like to do before you return home?"

Special Request
"Why yes, Colonel, there is. I was wondering if I could take a helicopter flight to a deserted village."

"I'm sorry, senator. All of our deserted villages are occupied right now."

"You mean the natives have returned?"

"No. They are occupied by visiting congressmen, senators and presidential candidates."

"In that case, I'll extend my visit an extra day. Put me down for a deserted village trip tomorrow."

"I'm afraid that won't be possible, Senator. It's pretty difficult to get into a deserted village without a reservation. Most of them are booked up at least a month in advance."

"Now look here, Colonel, when you were assigned as my escort officer, I was told I could call on you for anything I needed. I insist you get me into a deserted village."

No Vacancies
"I'm doing the best I can, sir, but we simply had not anticipated such a heavy demand. Unless someone checks out early, there won't be a deserted village vacancy before next week."

"I can't wait that long. I've got to get back and start campaigning. Couldn't I share a deserted village with another senator?"

"We've got them stacked three in a village already, sir. That is the maximum the fire law will permit."

"What do you mean 'fire law'?"

"It means that if the deserted villages are overcrowded and the Viet Cong fire a mortar shell, somebody may actually get hit."

"Shucks! I guess I'll just have to settle for a brainwashing."

Johnny B. Wells Graveside services for Johnny B. Wells, 23, of Gravenot were held in Fairview Cemetery Tuesday. Rev. J. W. DeRoe, pastor of First Christian Church, officiated.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Zelma Wells, Antralia; one sister, Mrs. Norris Hutton, Garrison; one brother, Tommy Earl Wells, Lufkin; and two aunts, Mrs. C. C. Legg and Mrs. C. C. Butler, both of Pampa.

Mrs. Barbara Horswill Funeral services for Mrs. Barbara Horswill of Higgins, were held yesterday in Higgins Methodist Church, with Rev. Kiell Quesenberry, officiating. Burial was in Higgins Cemetery directed by Duenkel Funeral Home.

Mrs. Horswill died Saturday at her home in Higgins.

Pallbearers were Warren Jenkins, Kenneth McAdee, Russell Landers, Ross Zenor, Dale Page and Roland Wheat.

Survivors include two daughters: Mrs. Carol Arrington, Amarillo; Mrs. Bessie Koch, Lipscomb; one son, E.L. Horswill, Willamina, Ore.; one sister, Mrs. Bernia Brown, Flora, Ill.; half brother, Scott Beare, Tampa, Fla.; and eight grandchildren.

"HI-MOM" FROM GERMANY — Mrs. Roy Free, 203 E. Tuke, one of two Pampa women who won a "Hi-Mom" call to their sons overseas, placed her call Tuesday to her son, Sp. 4 Claudio E. Free, stationed in Germany since Jan. 30. Mrs. Ruth Russell, 217 E. Kingsmill, the other Pampa woman selected, will call her son after New Year's. Communications Workers of America, Local 6128 sponsored 10 calls to Pamphandle servicemen overseas. From 25 letters sent to CWA, 10 were selected for "Hi Mom" calls. Mrs. Mary Cook, 1332 Gartland, Pampa chairman, said.

New Hearing Denied Vessels

CANYON (Sp.)—District Judge Gene Jordan of the 47th Judicial District denied Tuesday a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus for Thomas Ray Vessels, 25, of Pampa, convicted earlier this year of assaulting an Amarillo housewife.

Vessels, who is appealing a death penalty conviction given him last year for the rape of a Pampa housewife, was assessed a five-year prison sentence earlier this year for attacking the Amarillo woman. Vessels had charged in his motion for the writ of habeas corpus that he had incompetent counsel in the trial and that newspaper coverage was inflammatory and prejudicial. Judge Jordan denied the motion for a hearing on the grounds that Vessels was presently jailed under a death penalty conviction and there was not sufficient cause for a hearing since he could not be released from custody.

Vessels was not present. He was represented by Canyon Attorney Dale Williams.

OKAY NEW CONTRACT FORT WORTH (UPI)—A revised contract for the purchase of raw water was approved by Fort Worth City Council after two hours of debate Monday. The revision reduces the price the city must pay for water it buys from Tarrant County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 and resells outside boundaries of the district.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI)—All the returns aren't in yet, but early reports indicate this is going to be the biggest Christmas shopping season of all times. In the past couple of weeks I have seen a number of newspaper and magazine articles on the shopping boom. In some stores, apparently, the shoppers outnumber the shoppers.

Petty thievery is said to have reached such a grand scale during the Yuletide that security police are unable to cope with it. There is, however, one bright side to the picture. Shoplifters Collect According to a pamphlet published this month by the Small Business Administration, shoplifters have become so brazen "they have been known to step behind counters, pose as sales clerks, and collect money from customers."

Yes, and I might add that in some stores that is about the only way a customer can get waited on. It has been my experience that many of the legitimate clerks do little more than pose. The clerk-customer ratio in certain stores I visited this year was almost as bad as the teacher-pupil ratio in public schools.

I'm not endorsing dishonesty, you understand, but the fact is that it has become easier to steal stuff than to buy it. It is, of course, too late to correct the situation this year. Next year, however, I hope the stores will consider putting shoplifters on their payrolls during the Christmas rush.

Those willing to pose as clerks would receive a salary and commission. Then, twice a day, in lieu of coffee breaks, they could be given 15-minute stealing breaks.

Aid To Shoppers Getting shoplifters out of the aisles and behind the counters would make things a lot easier for us-lawful shoppers. Or, if that plan isn't feasible, perhaps the stores could promote a "Do your Christmas shopping early" campaign.

Early shopping would be encouraged by promising reduced jail sentences to those who get caught before Dec. 1. Some stores reserve at least one evening during the Christmas season for male shoppers. It might be helpful if they also set aside a special evening for shoplifters.

As bait, the stores could have a shopping sale. Only instead of cutting prices, they would reduce their security patrols.

ON RECRUITING TOUR WASHINGTON (UPI) — To draw more Mexican-Americans to its work, the Housing and Urban Development Department (HUD) will send representatives to the University of Texas at Austin and St. Mary's University in San Antonio as recruiters. HUD said Tuesday it hopes to recruit workers to help increase employment of workers who speak Spanish. They would be used in communities as liaison with Mexican-Americans to show them what HUD is doing, the department said.

Schools to Dismiss for Yule Holidays

Pampa Public Schools dismissed their students today for the Christmas holiday and will not resume classes until Jan. 2 at their regular time.

Students at St. Matthews Day School dismissed today at noon and will resume classes Jan. 2 also. St. Vincent's Catholic School dismissed its classes today and will resume classes Jan. 3.

Pre-Christmas festivities have figured heavily in the past few days for the schools and most capped dismissals today with a Christmas program.

The Pampa High School choir sang for the Rotary Club luncheon today. Voices have been hitting Christmas carols all week, mostly in the elementary and junior high grades. Today all elementary grades celebrated dismissals with Christmas parties in their rooms.

The department keeps no detailed records on the lighter strains of flu, although various "bugs" have been reported in some areas. A spokesman said the 24 to 72 hour varieties many times go unreported, and sometimes are recorded as an infectious virus or other wide ranging tag.

Spreads Quickly. "It is a highly communicable disease," a spokesman warned of flu generally. "In no time it can reach epidemic proportions since it is transmitted by a cough or sneeze."

Flu symptoms include an abrupt onset of fever, chills, headaches and sometimes prostration. Sore throats are common generally in the latter stages of the illness and a cough is almost universal.

Health officials report the best way to avoid it is to stay away from crowds, and the best way to keep from passing it is by practicing basic personal hygiene — covering a sneeze or cough in a handkerchief.

Some Hints on Medicare

There is a first time for nearly everything in life, and many people are sometimes a little uncomfortable as they go into those things that are new.

GOLDWATER COMMENTS
 SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—Barry Goldwater, the former Republican presidential candidate, presently touring Africa, said Monday he thought Rhodesia could survive international sanctions imposed by the United Nations because of Rhodesian racial policies.

PURCHASE PLANNED
 (UPI)—Pieter W. Botha, the South African defense minister, said Monday arrangements have been made for purchasing arms "elsewhere" in view of Britain's renewed decision to ban weapons sales to the White supremacist government.

Botha did not say where the purchases would be made.

paid bills to Medicare. For most people, the address is P.O. Box 22147, Dallas, Texas 75222.

Briggs says that's as easy as A, B, C or 1, 2, 3. If help or an explanation is needed before following these instructions Briggs stated, a call at the Pampa social security office in the Hughes Bldg. will get the answers.

For most people age 65 and over who enrolled for Medicare, there comes a first time to claim Medicare benefits to help pay doctor bills. Briggs says the following is all a person has to do:

The form to be used was included in the green booklet, "Your Medicare Handbook", which was given or mailed to each person when he enrolled in Medicare. On the back are simple instructions for completing the form. And most important, only three yes or no answers are needed, plus a brief statement by you describing your illness or injury. Sign the form, enter the Medicare claim number from the red, white, and blue Medicare card; then all that remains is to attach itemized receipts, bills, and mail the one form to the

Oil Allowables Hiked

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Railroad Commission sharply increased the state's oil allowable for January by 275,609 barrels daily, pegging the allowable at a maximum of 3,593,405 barrels daily. It was the highest allowable since August of this year when the commission hiked the permissive production figure to a record 54 per cent of potential production due to an expected sharp decline in world oil supplies because of the middle east war.

The expected demand for Texas crude, however, never quite reached the anticipated level and in September the commission began shaving back the allowable, setting it at 46.7 per cent. It was cut in October to 42.8 per cent and again November to its present level of 40.2 per cent.

Commission chairman Jim Langdon said the increase for January was necessary because of a continued strong demand for Texas crude oil, increased nominations by major purchasers and dwindling stocks of reserves.

The three-man commission set the January allowable at 45.7 per cent of potential production, compared with a percentage of 40.8 this month.

Langdon said the January allowable is within 700 barrels of nominations. The sharp hike in permissive production took most of the oil company representatives by surprise, yet eight of 14 major firms making nominations asked for a higher allowable.

Only two major purchasers asked for a decrease in allowable and four made the same nominations as this month.

TAKES HOUSE SEAT
 AUSTIN (UPI)—Rep. Maurice Angly of Austin, the seventh GOP member of the Texas House, was sworn in Monday in a ceremony well attended by Travis County Democratic legislators. Angly, the first Republican elected from the district, said he was confident he would get along fine with his Democratic colleagues.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Japanese want the United States to return to them Okinawa and the Ryukyu Islands along with their one million Japanese-speaking residents. The United States says it wants to give Okinawa and the Ryukyus back to the Japanese.

The only catch is that before the United States does so it wants the Japanese to demonstrate their willingness to shoulder more of the burden of their own defense and that of other nations of free Asia.

This is the gist of the message Premier Eisaku Sato took home with him from his November meeting with President Johnson and the one he has been giving the Japanese people ever since.

If the Japanese people would show such a willingness, he says, then Okinawa could be returned in less than three years.

On its face it does not seem an unreasonable request. Japan soon will become the third largest industrial power on earth.

Yet, whereas Nationalist China spends some 80 per cent of its budget for defense, Japan spends only 7.7 per cent. And whereas, 180 out of every 10,000 South Koreans are fighting men, Japan's defense ground forces total only 172,000 men and its whole defensive establishment only about 250,000.

Certainly it could not defend itself against any determined thrust from a nuclear-armed Red China across the East China Sea or any other real military power.

A desire for an adequate defensive force or a deterrent force of a strength commensurate with Japan's industrial power would not seem unreasonable.

But it counts without two important factors.

One is the depth of Japanese pacifism left by the defeat of World War II and the other is the no-war constitution forced upon them by the United States after the war.

It is an oddity of Japanese politics that those who are most militant in their demands for the islands' return also are the most vigorous in their opposition to a buildup of the armed forces.

All During Yule Season

By MERRIMAN SMITH
 UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Back stairs at the White House: Every holiday season, countless Americans send out long family newsletters in lieu of Christmas cards. These missives, reporting on everything from car wrecks, to root canal jobs are directed primarily to those who have not heard a word from the senders in at least a year—sometimes five or 10 years.

Some of these things run to two and three mimeographed pages, single-spaced. Proud couples with large families and large pocketbooks sent out folding photographic records from which vast numbers of poker-faced children stare out in living color.

Well, it occurred to an imaginative soul around the White House that if the President and Mrs. Johnson sent out a family Christmas letter of this sort, it might read something like this:

"We've all been too busy to write often but this may help you to catch up. We're still living in the same house and we won't even think about renewing the lease until some time next year.

"The old place down home still looks pretty much the same, although we do add to it from time to time. Folks call it the Pedernales Hilton which is so silly. We'll be there for New Year's Eve—just the family and maybe a few close friends from the Cabinet, the court, congressional leaders and Walter Cronkite.

"For those of you who couldn't come to Lynda's wedding, it was a dream, simply a dream... so attractive, on all networks as those of you with color set already know. Lynda was pretty as a picture, as the saying goes... and Chuck was thrilling in his dress uniform (he's a Marine, you know). Several people cried when they marched through the arch of swords.

"And thrill of thrills—Patrick Lyndon Nugent, who at this Christmas season will have reached the ripe old age of six months... Luci and Pat are so fortunate... we're all so fortunate... except that awful George Gallup who used to be so friendly... (He's not coming for New Year's Eve.)

"Baby Patrick Lyndon is a marvel. People say (ha ha) that he's been clocked doing 38 miles an hour in his stroller with a friend as we once did, but can of Simlac on the floor beside him. Hard to tell who busy these days.

worships whom the most-granddaddy or grandbaby.

"Granddaddy, as he adores being called, has had a busy, busy year... new molecules from California to worry about... oodles of company.

"We don't see as much of some of our congressional friends as we once did, but then, we suppose, everybody is busy these days.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In defense of the interior decorator whose "advances" the lady said she had to fight off: I have been a painter for many years, and have been around all kinds of women. I have them categorized:

There is the "clutcher." She is always wearing a housecoat that's open. She keeps clutching it and releasing it, but she never closes it. Then there's the body beautiful type who is always dressed for swimming or sunbathing. The sun hasn't been out for a week and the pool is empty, but she's got her suit on. There's the stepladder mama. If I'm up, she's down with a very low-neck blouse. If I'm down, she's up with the offer end exposed.

Then there's the confidential type. She tells you all her problems, one of which is a husband who is too cold, too old or too busy. Then there's the woman with the jokes. Always dirty. And lastly there's the outright propositioner.

I have seen them all. Years ago a very wise painter who knew all the tricks of the trade, gave me some very good advice. He said, "Sammy, always get your money first, and if they still want to play games, it will be for fun." Sincerely, SAMMY

DEAR ABBY: Why didn't you advise that girl who was jealous because her boy friend had SHARON tattooed on his chest to have "I LOVE MILLIE MORE THAN SHARON" tattooed over it. That's what I did.

DEAR WIFE: I figured the guy had already had enough needling.

DEAR ABBY: Just yesterday I found out that the "diamond" engagement ring I received from my gentleman friend is not a real diamond. The gentleman who gave it to me is a wonderful person and I would not have thought less of him were I given none at all. But to have been given one that is "only a fake" as the jeweler put it, hurts me so. I don't know what to do. This gentleman has been so good and kind to me, I almost can't believe he would do such a thing. This was going to be the second marriage for both of us.

I don't want to lose him by making him feel that having a real diamond is all that important to me. It isn't, yet I hate to be fooled. Everything depends on how I react. I can't just pretend I don't know. Yet if I make too much of it, it may be fatal. Can you please help me?

DEAR WAITING: Assuming the ring is "only a fake" either your gentleman friend was also taken in, or he is trying to fool you. In either case, you must tell him that you were told the stone is not a genuine diamond, stressing that the value of the stone is of less importance to you than the value of his word.

For Canine Present Ideas, Make Christmas Jackets

By JOANNE SCHREIBER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Need a present for a poodle? A token for a terrier? A gift for a terrier? A gift for a greyhound? If there's a dog—or even a dog-owning family—on your Christmas list, your gift problem is solved.

Just make a fashion-right coat, smoking jacket, bathrobe or raincoat for the lucky dog, using imaginative fabrics and trimmings to create outfits which complement the personality of the pooch.

Most any fabric may be used for a dog jacket. According to experts, the vinyls and bonded fabrics are especially successful, as are fake and real furs, upholstery fabrics, felt, flannel, corduroy, and even suedes and leathers.

Whimsical detailing is the secret of success for a canine couturier. Consider, for a German shepherd, a toggle-buttoned coat of loden cloth with a patch pocket for a bone; or, for a dainty white poodle, a negligee of pale blue velvet with pocket for a lace handkerchief.

Don't overlook the master when outfitting the dog. Make a blazer in the master's school colors, adding, if possible, the appropriate buttons and crest from his alma mater; or, if the master is a yachtsman, give the dog a blue flannel jacket with his name spelled out in navy code flags.

Dogs—and consequently, dog coats—are big business, and getting bigger every year. A recent survey indicates that 40 per cent of U. S. families own dogs, and that one-fifth of these own two or more dogs. In a single year, the American Kennel Club registered 1,042,725 dogs, and the figure is increasing at a yearly rate of nearly 10 per cent.

Of the 115 breeds recognized by the American Kennel Club, the top favorites are poodles, German shepherds, beagles, Dachshunds, Chihuahuas, Eskies, and collies in that order. Although the sizes and shapes of these dogs vary considerably, it's possible to design and stitch dog clothes, making your own pattern from a basic shape, and using your imagination for decorative trimmings.

Skelly Club Has Business Meeting

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — The Skelly Club met recently in Mrs. Charles Dowlearn's home at the Skelly Schaefer camp with Mrs. Gary Gortmaker as co-hostess.

Club president, Mrs. Richard Mills, conducted the business meeting.

Members presented a gift certificate to Mrs. Mills, for her new baby daughter, Laura Mills.

The group received numbered gifts presented from a lighted tree and received gifts from their secret pals.

Each member brought canned goods to be presented to the girls at Girlstown for Christmas.

The serving table was covered with a red cloth and centered with a Christmas bouquet fashioned of a large red taper standing in greenery.

The next club meeting will be Jan. 9 in the home of Mrs. Elmer Nichols at the Schaefer Camp. Mrs. Leroy Allen will serve as co-hostess.

Attending were Mmes. Richard Mills, and daughter Laura, Elmer Nichols, Bob Heaton, Bob Lawrence, Bill Truitt, John Pierce, Leroy Allen, Charley Cross, Gary Gortmaker and Charles Dowlearn.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROL L. RIGHTER

FOR THURSDAY, DEC. 21
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a real feeling of generosity and magnanimity now and you would be wise to give your affection for and devotion to those you like, as well as make some really big and comprehensive plans for the future which can be much easier to set across because others are willing to back you more staunchly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Ideal day to entertain good friends in whom you should pay social obligations, show that you are grateful for past favors. You take time to buy rarer gifts for family, friends, also, and do not be extravagant.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Good day to contact that influential friend who can be of great assistance in some business matter of importance to you. Be charming with those you know have control over your affairs. Be fair to yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — An excellent time to communicate with those at a distance and discuss unusual ideas that are nonetheless practical. Some new contact has fine suggestions for your advancement. Listen carefully to this person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Although you know hardly where to begin where work is concerned, if you delve right in, it is soon cleared up to satisfaction of all. Partners appreciate your efficiency. Ideas. Gain their good will.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Do not procrastinate in discharging that responsibility you have toward an associate since much of benefit can come as a result. Come to a real agreement with loved ones, also, in 2-3. Make the future happier.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You are feeling charming today and can do much to improve the conditions around you with everyone, workers, etc. Later, do what will make you stronger, person physically. Fight the battle of life successfully.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be a very dynamic young person who can accomplish a very great deal, especially in different countries and fields than his, or her, own, or in government dealing with foreign customs, currency, people.

Area TOPS Club Installs Officers

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — The Skellytown Slimmer TOPS club met recently in the IOOF Hall for installation of officers for 1968 and the annual Christmas party.

Mrs. Ernestine Campbell was crowned weekly queen. The club reported a loss of 10 1/2 lbs. and a gain of 5 1/2 lbs. for the week.

Mrs. Mary McCloud, leader, installed new officers with a candlelight service. As new officers names were called, they were handed a lighted pink taper which they placed in a crystal holder on the table.

Officers installed were Mrs. Evelyn Brobst, leader; Mrs. Dorothy Horner, co-leader; Mrs. Ernestine Campbell, weight recorder; Mrs. Odell Hassler, secretary; Mrs. Gladys Simmons, treasurer; Mrs. Opal Gray, program chairman and Mrs. Fannie Coleman, reporter.

The out-going leader, Mrs. Mary McCloud, presented each officer with a gift.

Mrs. Dorothy Horner was a queen for the month of November. Members voted to give the yearly queen a personal shower. Club members met Dec. 18 at 7:30 p.m. instead of Tuesday like they normally do, due to the Christmas program at the grade school.

After the business meeting the group participated in a Christmas party. The serving table was covered with a white cloth. An arrangement of poinsettias served as the centerpiece flanked by tall white tapers. Numbered gifts were passed out from a lighted Christmas tree by Mrs. Fredda Brown and Mrs. Fannie Coleman.

Those attending were Mmes. Mary McCloud, Ernestine Campbell, Fannie Coleman, Fredda Brown, Zelma Wood, Opal Gray, Donna Moreland, Gladys Simmons, Evelyn Brobst, Odell Hassler, Sadie Lane, Dorothy Horner and two guests Mrs. Velma Allerd of Berger and Miss Colleen McCloud, Skellytown.

Canasta Club Meets

CANADIAN (Spl) — Members of the H&H Canasta Club held a Christmas party and gift exchange recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Morse. Members' husbands were guests.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Riley, Mrs. Coy Holman, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. Carey May, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Chalk Fuson and Mr. and Mrs. Morse and daughters.

Church Class Has Christmas Party

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — The Naomi Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church of Skellytown attended their annual Christmas party recently in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Group captain, Mrs. Howard Moore, and her group members were hostesses.

The class teacher, Mrs. Bill Houghton gave the ir-ocation. Members discussed their most unusual Christmas. Each member brought goodies and clothing to be presented to the Girlstown for Christmas.

Numbered gifts placed under a lighted Christmas tree were presented to members by Mrs. W. H. Evans and Mrs. Bill Houghton. Members presented their teacher, Mrs. Bill Houghton, with a picture.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white cloth and centered with a bouquet of poinsettias in a white milk glass bowl flanked with tall red tapers in milk glass holders. Favors were small snow men fashioned of marshmallows and pipe cleaners and chocolate candies fashioned into Christmas bells wrapped in green and red foil.

Attending were Mmes. Bill Houghton, W. H. Evans, Ed Pannell, Don Carter, Robert Germany, Howard Moore, Clifford Coleman, Ralph Gilpin, Harry Carter, Adolph Novotny, K. S. McCabe and E. W. Meadows.

Mom's Mime Likes Hand-Knits, Too

By JUDY LOVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.
Like mother, like daughter.
The littlest of ladies is as likely to mime her mom as she is likely to be surprised if your young one asks for a lesson in knit one, purl two, joining a new generation of go-go knitters.

From the time your daughter slips her feet into your good shoes and plays "grown-up" in a dress that drags far behind her, she's on her way to following your footsteps.

The world is full of famous examples. Caroline Kennedy already is closely watched as a style setter for sub-teen fashions, just as her mother sets a smart fashion pace. A teenaged Mia Farrow made a show business name that's known as widely as that of her mother, actress Maureen O'Sullivan.
And the legend that is Judy Garland's glamor may one day be transferred to her singing daughter, Liza Minnelli.

Talents and interests have a way of passing from mother to daughter. When it comes to a knack for knitting—the new generation is swiftly filling in the gap. Today, there are about six million teen-aged knitters in this country. A survey shows that most got their start in stitches from their Mothers.

How about you and your daughter?

One way to introduce your daughter to the custom-fashion look of hand-knits—long before she's old enough to handle a pair of needles—is to knit for her. The cardigan shown today is a smart way to start—or add to her custom wardrobe.

This sweater design is a classic. It has that special look that's as good for mom as it is for her offspring. Knit a set and you'll both enjoy the same fine fashion look.

The little girl sweater is simple to make for sizes 4 to 14
(in Bernat's easy-care Barella yarn) and Sesame yarn is used for the grown-up version. Directions are available for sizes 10 to 20.

For your copy of an instruction leaflet giving knitting directions for both toppers, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, in care of Pampa News, Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N. Y. 10019. Be sure to ask for leaflet No. S131, and include your name, address and zip code.

Both sweaters call for a row of buttons, so be sure you set them straight.

Before sewing the buttons on the sweater, pin the front of the garment together with proper overlap. Then, mark the position of the buttons through the outer end of the finished buttonhole. This will show where the center of the button should be.

If you're using a sew-through button, insert your needle on the right side of the sweater, so that the knot will be hidden by the button. It's a good idea to place a pin over the button, sewing over the pin, which is later removed. This keeps the button from being sewn too close to the garment and allows enough "give" to form a thread stem. The stem is made by winding thread around the threads under the button. You'll find that this method prevents puckering and adds a professional finishing touch.

For the annual Future Teachers of America activity, four candidates were selected daily.
The candidates were Randy Stalls, Mary Johnson, Becky
McBayer, David Smith, La-
Donna Russell, John Cornwell, Carolyn Chaney, Wayne Burgin, Stephen Warminski, Sandra Looper, Ricky Thurman, Debrah Evans, Larry Christenson, Erenda Willson, Mary Beth Peters, Mike Hawpe, Lila
Grayson, Pete Forrester, David Guinn and Nancy Evans.

Mrs. Marguerite Hudgins, FTA
sponsor, was mistress of ceremonies at the assembly, after which she presented Mary Johnson, FTA president. Miss Johnson presided during a mock academy awards presentation to each of the 22 high school teachers. When the judges' votes were counted, the kings and queens were announced and escorted to the stage by Anna Kupiensterna, Cheryl La-vake, Doug Hinton and Larry Linder.

I cheerfully sorted the mail and what to my wondering eyes should appear but an envelope marked Internal Revenue Service. Ah, I thought, even though more than six months have passed since they received my return, they are sending me a thank you note. My country is grateful, I thought. Gratitude, I thought, is the most noble of all virtues.

It was a bill — a bill curtly informing me that during the black month of April I made a mistake in arithmetic and still owed the government $95.01, the exact price (including tax) of that tweed suit I looked at Thursday. Added to bill was an interest charge of $2.59.

I thought of asking why the IRS computers were so slow in finding the mistake that I must pay interest and I thought of checking to see if the government has a deadline for billing comparable to my deadline for filing. What I did was write the check.

In the same batch of mail was an anthology of pieces from early editions of Encyclopaedia Britannica, so I thumbed through it, trying to relax after writing the check. Right there on page 47 was an article from the seventh edition (1830) by Professor J. R. McCulloch. He headed his essay, "Taxation of Income Impracticable," which just shows what kind of prophet
HE was.

He begins by stating firmly:
"It is not, indeed, very likely that any people, not altogether enslaved, would tolerate, in ordinary circumstances, such inquisitorial proceedings."

"Now, now," I said. "That is putting it much too strongly professor. I am not enslaved. I willingly, nay, gladly pay my taxes."

I was interrupted here by an unearthly groan.
"Why, so far this year I have paid income taxes to both my federal and state governments, and then I paid Social Security, personal property tax, utility tax, phone tax, entertainment tax, luxury goods tax, sales tax and I will freely pay the proposed surtax."

Try Fishing Tackle As Family Present

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Sp) —
Among thoughtful wives, fishing tackle has always rated high on the list of Christmas gift ideas for hubby. But fishing has become a family affair and many men can now be found at the sporting goods counter having a rod or reel gift wrapped for the little woman.

The Department of the Interior reports that 27 per cent of the nation's 30 million anglers are women. The hand that rocks the cradle now also baits
the hook.

The reason for the rapidly accelerating rate of female participation is the development of lightweight, easy-to-use — and — maintain equipment, according to one of the nation's largest fishing tackle concerns.

"Through the development of fiber glass rods and line of nylon, dacron, and other synthetics, muscle has given way to technique as the basic ingredient of most successful angling," a corporation executive said.

Some veteran anglers have become irate over the female invasion of "their domain." But for most men and their former "fishing widows," family outings have meant a new closeness, never before realized.

Shopping for the angler — man or woman — can be as expensive, or inexpensive as you wish. No fisherman ever feels overstocked with tackle and appreciates anything from a new lure to a custom-made rod. The item selected at Christmas not only has practical value but will undoubtedly spark an angling dream or two to help the winter pass more quickly.

For the army of devoted rod wielders who look to Christmas task. Start with balanced tackle — that is rod, reel, line, and lure that are all compatible with one another — make each of the tackle components easy to use. Explain the function of the reel. Let him, or her, get the feel of the rod action and the weight of the lures. And go fishing.

Really Polishes Shoes
You need never blind or steep again to get a shine on your shoes. At the flip of a low switch, a new type shoe polisher's two-year brushes will polish a shoe in seconds instead of merely buffing off dust. Good for thousands of shoes. The hi-pile buffer is washable in sudsy water.

Harvesters Win Hot One

The Pampa Daily News

By RON CROSS

AMARILLO — Pampa and Amarillo heated up a cold Amarillo gym Tuesday night as the Sandstorm could not keep up with the fantastic Harvesters in the District 3-4A basketball game.

Pampa ran to its 10th straight victory, fourth in conference.

play without a defeat, a bruising 90-81 decision before a packed house.

The Harvesters and Sandies had five players each score in double figures with Pampa hitting 34 per cent of their field shots and Amarillo only 40 per cent.

The Harvesters trailed by as much as eight points in the second quarter and led by as much as 14 in the third before running their season mark to 11-1. The big mistake the Sandies made was trying to shoot it out with Pampa, something that is almost impossible to do.

George Bailey paced the scoring with 30 points, 14 of them coming from the free shot line. Bo Lang hit 19, despite missing several easy shots. Johnny Carlos got back in the groove with 17 and Jim Cornutt and Beau Bond contributed 11 each.

Jerry Johnson led the Sandies with 17, Ken Manuel hit 15, Phil Matthews added 14, David Hill 12 and John Krill had 10. The Sandies got in foul trouble quickly, having nine in the first quarter, two of coach Gary Lawley.

The Harvesters didn't care as they hit 30 of 45 charity tosses for the night and Amarillo 17 of 26.

Free shots are the only thing that kept the Harvesters in the running in the first quarter with Bailey hitting five of seven and Pampa as a team cannoting only eight of 17.

The Pampa Shockers dropped After Pampa tied the game with two baskets before Matthews and Manuel got hot to bring Amarillo back to within one at 43-42 with 24 seconds left.

The Harvesters led at halftime 45-42.

Baskets came fast and furious in the third quarter with Harvesters leading by six to nine points most of the way until Manuel brought the Sandies within striking distance at 51-50 with 4:11 to go.

At the end of the half the Harvesters had forged in front 36-33.

Two quick baskets made it 36-32 but Carlos went on a binge with two baskets before Matthews and Manuel got hot to bring Amarillo back to within one at 43-42 with 24 seconds left.

The Harvesters led at halftime 45-42.

Baskets came fast and furious in the third quarter with Harvesters leading by six to nine points most of the way until Manuel brought the Sandies within striking distance at 51-50 with 4:11 to go.

But Lang began finding the range and Pampa went in front by six at 57-51 with 3:17 to go. Just before the quarter closed the Sandies trailed by only two, 65-63 with 1:13 left but Pampa kept up the steady pace and led 69-57 when the quarter closed.

In the final period the closest Amarillo could get was 76-72, with 3:04 left and 04:78 with 2:34 to go. But the Sandies had to foul to get the ball and Bailey pumped in five of six and Carlos three of four to discourage an Amarillo victory.

In other 3-4A action Caprock whipped Borger 84-61; Tascosa trimmed Coronado, 64-52; Pao Duro edged Lubbock 51-49; Plainview outdistanced Monterey, 84-62.

The Harvesters host Tulia Thursday night then won't play again until Tuesday when they open action in the Hobbs, N. M. tournament.

Kings Back In Business In NHL

The Los Angeles Kings are back in business in the Western Division race of the National Hockey League thanks to the friendly Oakland Seals.

The Kings, who looked like the class of the Western Division in their early games, had lost three straight games and dropped four points behind the Philadelphia Flyers until they met the Seals Tuesday night.

Then they scored their third victory in five meetings, including a tie with the Seals, when Brian Smith's two goals and one Bob Wall produced a 3-1 triumph. The victory moved the Kings back to within two points of the Flyers.

Wall's goal with 6:21 remaining in the third period snapped a 1-1 tie and B. Smith added an insurance goal at 19:24. Bill Hicks scored his 12th goal of the season at 11:13 of the second period for the Seals.

Bonnies Find Answer in Stith

By United Press International

St. Bonaventure has been looking for someone to fill the shoes of Tom Stith ever since the former All-America basketball star was graduated in 1961.

It appears the Bonnies have found him this season in Bob Lanier—but they may need a shoehorn. Lanier, a 6-foot-11, 240-pound sophomore wears a size 17 speaker, considerably larger than Stith's.

Lanier and Bill Butler each scored 25 points Tuesday night as the unbeaten Bonnies (7-0) won the Tampa, Fla., Invitational by beating Seattle 83-77. Lanier's better than 20-point average and strong rebounding has been a key factor in the Bonnies' success.

Another outstanding sophomore, Pete Maravich, son of Louisiana State coach Press Maravich, came through with a 46-point performance in pacing the Tigers to an 81-66 victory over Mississippi at Baton Rouge, La.

In games involving the top 10, sixth-ranked Indiana handed Notre Dame its first loss 96-91 at Fort Wayne, Ind., ninth-rated Louisville downed host St. Louis 76-64 behind 20 points apiece by Wes Unseld and Butch Beard, Davidson edged Temple 63-60 to win the Charlotte, N.C. Invitational.

Dallas Slight Favorite Over Cleveland Browns

DALLAS (UPI)—When the Dallas Cowboys meet the Cleveland Browns Sunday for the National Football League's Eastern Conference title it could be the best of a whistle as much as the bounce of the ball that could make the key difference in the outcome.

That fact emerged Wednesday from a careful combing of the year's final NFL statistical charts which show that on paper, at least, the Cowboys have the best total offense and the best total defense of the two divisional champions.

But, hidden down amongst the hundreds of figures are some seldom-considered numerals that might be a factor.

Such as the fact that the Cowboys have made only 11 first downs by penalty over the full 14-game season.

Or, that the Cowboys have given up 22 first downs by penalty.

Both figures are the "worst" of any club in the league and indicate that while the Cowboys proved penalty prone, their opponents have been on the very best behavior against coach Tom Landry's outfit.

Actually, the difference isn't as bad as that. The Cowboys had 81 penalties called against them for a total of 785 yards while their opponents were flagged 64 times for 707 yards.

The Cowboys were not the league's worst offenders; by any means, at drawing penalties. The Minnesota Vikings, for example, led the loop with 1,075 yards on 100 penalties. The Chicago Bears were called down for 953 yards, the San Francisco Fortyniners for 931 yards, the Atlanta Falcons for 866 yards and the rampaging Los Angeles Rams for 854 yards.

The heart of this mass of figures seems to be that the Cowboys must have drawn many of their five-yard penalties on crucial third and fourth down with short yardage situations. In other words, when it hurt the most.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

A Thirty-Six-Cent Quarter

If you hand the coin dealer a silver quarter, he will pay you 36 cents: a sandwich quarter, a sandwich dime and a penny. If you deliver forty silver quarters, $10, he will pay you $14.50, fourteen $1 bills, and two sandwich quarters.

Those are going prices in New York City these days. What does it mean? It means that the real silver coinage of our country is treasured by people who are willing to pay $145 in debauched currency for $100 in face value of silver coins.

At the end of 1960, the United States Treasury owned 1,748,890,335 ounces of silver. (That did not include its hoard of silver dollars.) The Assistant Secretary of the Treasury announced a few days ago that the Treasury's stock is now 380 million ounces — less than a quarter of what it held in 1960. But he assured one and all that the Government would continue to release silver to industrial firms in the country at a rate of 2 million ounces weekly.

What the Assistant Secretary, Robert A. Wallace, did not say was this: the law requires that 296 of the remaining 380 million ounces must be held to redeem silver certificates in circulation.

Communist Christmas Tree Ornaments

It is ironic that one of the leading exports of the anti-religious government of Communist Poland is Christmas tree ornaments. These gaily painted bulbs are called "bombki," which is the Polish word for ornament. And Poland exports something like 50 million of these Christmas tree bombs each year, about three-fourths of that total to the United States. Stores across the country have been flooded with the pretty bulbs of blown glass.

It will be even more ironic if some of these decorative bombs come to hang on the branches of a tree decorated by some child whose Daddy fell victim to a Polish-supplied weapon in Vietnam — a weapon subsidized by the purchase of the pretty pieces of glass.

Of course the Communist made ornaments can compete with those made in the United States or West Germany, for example, because of the price. The Polish worker who makes them earns a miserable $87 a month, on the average. It seems probable that most Americans who buy the Polish-made ornaments make more than that in a week.

Meantime, Polish hams are being advertised widely, at least in the Eastern part of the United States, and it will come to pass in many homes that the family will bow for Grace before a Christmas dinner of ham from Communist Poland. Some will do so unknowingly, simply having failed to inspect the label on the can.

Our legislators insist on protecting us by warning statements on packages of cigarettes and labels on the bottles we buy. But who will speak out to stop this flow of slave-made goods into our homes, and the return flow of capital to the suppliers of our enemies on the battlefield?

Where is the protection for our servicemen who confront that enemy, supplied by the Communist nations we trade with?

It's a safe bet that no refugee from Poland who has found haven in our country is going to spend a penny for Polish ornaments or Polish ham. No refugee would wish to enrich the jailers of his homeland by so doing.

We hope readers of this newspaper who celebrate Christmas as the sacred holiday that it is will similarly shun the Communist imports.

Odds Against Passenger Trains

What have the railroads got against the traveling public? Not a thing, any more than the village smithy disliked horses. The gradual disappearance of passenger trains, like that of horsedrawn carriages, is a simple consequence of changing times, tastes and technologies.

Take the automobile — as almost everyone does these days. Just as it put the blacksmith out of business and sent interurban trolley lines into bankruptcy, so the automobile has all but killed short- and medium-range passenger train service.

According to the Interstate Commerce Commission, 89.15 per cent of all intercity traffic in the United States in 1966 was by means of the private automobile. That percentage can only go higher as the 41,000-mile Interstate Highway network nears completion.

As for the remainder of intercity travel, railroads were low man on the pole with 1.87 per cent. Buses accounted for 2.40 per cent, and airlines 6.18 per cent.

It is the airplane and economics that bid fair to finish off the passenger train completely — with an assist from the Post Office Department in its decision to stop sending mail by rail.

Consider this comparison presented by William J. Quinn, president of Burlington Lines: The Burlington's California Zephyr, operating between Chicago and Denver, averages more than twice as many passengers as does a 727 jet — 166 to 72 — and could carry more if they were available.

But while the railroad has two fast trains between Chicago and Denver, the airlines operate some 22 flights daily, and so carry more passengers overall.

Six crewmen, including stewards, operate the jet; 47 operate the train. Wage costs for the one are $391; for the other, $2,288.

The train's diesels burn $500 worth of oil; the jet consumes $300 worth of kerosene.

Total revenue for the Zephyr is slightly over $5,000 per trip. For the jet, it is slightly over $3,400. But expenses for the Zephyr add up to $5,400; for the jet, $2,500.

Thus for every trip the train makes, it loses about $100; for every trip the plane makes, it earns about $900.

Then there is the jet's speed, which is as pleasing to the ac-

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Moonlighters who hold two jobs are generally younger married men with children who feel a financial squeeze, according to a U. S. Department of Labor survey. They are generally teachers, police officers, firemen, government workers, postal employees and farmers. One out of every 10 postal employees holds a second job, the survey revealed. The highest monthly job-rate-for-any occupational group. It also showed that about 5 per cent of all employed persons hold a second job. The reason for it all is that they are slaves to wages, and as Groucho Marx once observed, the one thing that makes slaves to wages are wages.

Today's smile: A college freshman entered the campus barber shop and asked one of the tonsorial artists: "How long will I have to wait for a shave?" The barber took a good look at him and said: "Maybe in the next year or two."

Although it is hard to believe at this time of year, Christmas cards only account for 24 per cent of the greeting-card business, a department store executive says. The birthday and birth of a baby congratulations account for 50 per cent of the business. Valentine's Day racks up about 10 per cent and others follow: Easter, 8 per cent; Mother's Day, 5 per cent; and so on to graduation's lowly 1 per cent.

Thoughts while shaving: Within a decade electronics will be as dated as high button shoes. We'll be dealing with excitons in our daily lives. What are they? Well, they're similar to electrons, the tiny things that carry electricity which makes TV, high-speed computers and other wonders practical, but they don't conduct electricity. Instead, they transport light energy. Their possibilities are limitless, but at the moment they are only scientific curiosities. You're going to be hearing more about them any minute now.

Ever hear of the Goldfish Club? Well, it's an organization of World War II fliers who ditched their planes over the ocean and took to rubber life rafts to save their lives. Each member is presented an official cloth insignia. . . . And the mention of gold reminds us that California is called the Golden State because the first gold discovered on this continent was found there in 1849. Most folks think it's because of California's sunshine. . . . There are variations of every proverb. The predecessor of the old chestnut about not crying over spilled milk is "The mill cannot grind with water that is past." That one dates back to 1639 when it was included in Herbert's "Collection of Wise Sayings." . . . The Boston (Mass.) RECORD AMERICAN headlined a story, "Finding Nice Girl Just Takes Time." Meanwhile how funny while you're looking.

Country Editor speaking: "If you don't think youngsters brighten up a home just try to remember when you saw one turn out an electric light."

countant as it is to the traveler.

The jet makes the trip in two hours; the train in 18 1/2 hours. In terms of revenue per hour, the jet earns nearly $500. The train loses some $20 an hour.

For every passenger it carries, the plane earns $13.12 for the airline. For every passenger the train carries, the railroad loses $2.07.

And so, on and on. Despite these dismal statistics, Quinn sees some sort of future for the passenger train — if the nation wants to spend the money for it. A high-speed, de luxe train operating along a crossing-free corridor between Boston, New York and Washington, and riding on cushions of air instead of wheels, is one possibility under study.

An entirely new form of technology like this is needed, says Quinn, if the passenger train is to offset the high-cost burden which is presently sending it toward the same fate as the passenger pigeon.

Earliest Date for Proposed Surtax To Be April 1, As Congressional Tax Writers Oppose Retroactivity.

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Taxpayers are going to receive a belated Christmas gift from Congress in 1968.

Despite President Johnson's urgent appeal for immediate action next year on his 10 per cent surtax proposal, no income tax increase will go into effect before April 1, and maybe not even then.

Several compelling reasons are behind this certainty. One is that Representative Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., powerful chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, and a majority of the committee are adamantly against any tax increase being made effective January 1, as the administration now wants.

Another is that Senator Russell Long, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, is also against making any tax boost retroactive in an election year.

Both Mills and Long have privately agreed to delay further hearings on the President's revised tax boost-spending cut plan until after the administration's fiscal 1969 budget is sent to Congress — and that won't be until mid-February.

This timetable could delay final congressional action on the President's tax proposal until late in March — or too late to make it effective before April 1 unless the tax boost is made retroactive.

In talks with congressional and administration leaders, Representative Mills has bluntly warned them not to expect earlier action.

"I want assurance," Mills said, "that government expenditures in 1969 will not rise by the same dollar amount that expenditures have risen during the past two years. Other members of the committee want several weeks to study that budget."

NO COMMITMENT — Representative Mills, who is determined there will be no tax rise without an equal spending cut, also made clear his opposition to a retroactive raise.

"There is no enthusiasm in the committee for making the 10 per cent surtax retroactive. I am opposed to the January 1 date. The best the Administration can hope for, if there is a tax increase, is that it will become effective when signed by the President. Otherwise, you may have a taxpayers' revolt at the polls."

A similar position is being taken by Senate Democratic Whip Long, who has notified the White House he won't hold hearings on the President's tax proposal until he sees what Mills' committee does.

"Increasing taxes isn't going to make the Democratic party very popular in an election year," Senator Long stressed at a recent White House meeting of Democratic legislative leaders. "When it comes, the tax hike must be as painless as possible, and that rules out making it retroactive."

When the other lawmakers indicated agreement, the President replied: "You gentlemen write the tax laws, I just propose them."

ANOTHER TAX BILL? — The prospect that another tax increase might be sought in 1969 was raised recently during the House Ways and Means Committee hearings on the President's spending cut-tax package.

Largely unnoted by the press, the suggestion was made by Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. while being quizzed by Chairman Mills, as follows:

Mills: "How long do you think it would be before the tax increase would take effect on our adverse balance of payments?"

Martin: "In terms of psychology and confidence, I think the passage of the tax bill and the President's program would have immediate effect. But this would not cure the patient. You might have to have another move later."

Mills: "In other words we would have to have another tax bill a little later?"

After the hearing Mills asked Martin if he thought a second tax increase might be requested by the administration in 1968.

"No," replied Martin. "Probably in 1969."

Martin also privately admitted that even if Congress passed the proposed 10 per cent surtax next year, prices could be expected to rise at about the same rate as in 1967.

NEW DEMOCRATIC STAR — Betty Furness, special assistant to the President for consumer affairs, is becoming the Johnson Administration's number one political campaigner.

Since being sworn in last May for her $26,000-a-year White House job, Miss Furness has delivered more speeches than any other administration official. Some weeks she has delivered as many as five.

From President Johnson's viewpoint, the 51-year-old former TV personality has been such a smash hit on the road that he plans to keep her on the campaign trail throughout most of 1968.

In a phone call to Democratic National Chairman John Bailey, the President instructed him to give Miss Furness a prominent role in the 1968 campaign and to reserve a choice spot for the former TV star in the party's convention program.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSIAID

Syphilis Can Imitate Almost Any Illness

Q—The report from my STS was "doubtful." Will more treatments result in a negative report? When the blood is doubtful, can I transmit syphilis to others? If the disease is cured, can the STS become positive again in later years?

A—When an STS (serologic test for syphilis), made for an initial diagnosis, is inconclusive it should be repeated and other tests should be made. If the STS is made on a person who has been adequately treated, the blood is usually negative but in some persons it is doubtful or persistently positive. This being the case, the test is not a clear indication of the effectiveness of the treatment. If your disease is cured and the STS is negative, it will become positive again only if you contract a fresh case of syphilis.

Q—I have heard that syphilis is a great masquerader—that it can imitate almost any illness. What are some of the diseases it could imitate?

A—The first stage (chancre) may be mistaken for a wart, especially if it occurs on the lip or finger. The second stage rash may be mistaken for measles. The third stage, occurring in many cases after the victim has forgotten that he ever had syphilis, is the real fooler. Since it can involve any part of the body, the possibilities are too numerous to mention.

Q—What is a culdoscopy? For what would it be done?

A—A culdoscope is similar to a cystoscope which is used to view the interior of the bladder, but the former is used to view the pelvic organs. It is introduced into the pelvic cavity through a small incision in the back of the vagina and is used chiefly to diagnose ectopic pregnancy and to determine whether there is an obstruction in the uterine tubes. Although a culdoscopy may be performed in ket only if they put their trust in the President and the Democratic party. Everyone knows, she says, Republicans are against protection of the consumer.

In supporting the President's controversial tax proposal, Miss Furness calls on housewives to support the measure as the better of two evils.

"Otherwise there may be a five per cent rise in prices," she warns. "The surcharge would not affect people with incomes of less than $5,000. And when it is no longer needed a surtax can be repealed; but inflation cannot. That's the Democratic approach to a difficult situation."

President Johnson, in reading from this and other Furness speeches, recently lectured members of his Cabinet, stating:

"This is the type of hard-hitting campaigning that brings in the votes. Everyone should study her speeches and style. She's a glamorous Truman. We are going to keep her out front in the campaign."

Branch Head Bill Says:

by BILL KENNEDY

The President's Tax on Manhood

I don't rightly know what a Sir Tax is, but I expect that all the Sirs in this country are about to find out. Ar-I some of the mams, too! I don't think it means that that don't git called "sir" is going to be exempt from it.

Of course the congressmen are hanging in there tough. They say that they don't aim to give ole Lyndon no Sir Tax until he cuts back on his wasting in the government spending. Now that is the kind of thinking that congressmen are all the time doing, but it is also the kind that I always don't understand. I don't understand this one already.

If the President is going to cut back on his money wasting, why is it that the congressmen are willing to give him more money to do it with?

I ast Cousin Jed if he could help me to figure that one out and as usual he had his answer all figured out ahead of time. He said he reckoned it was because they would have to hire a whole passel of people to handle the cutting-out-of-waste problem. "They might be forced to set up a whole new department to handle a big problem like that," Jed said. "Likely they'll call it the Department of Public Waste."

I ast him if Waste Disposal was not supposed to be more or less the job of the local government, and he had the answer to that, too. He said this may be a sneaky way for the federal government to move into the government business—since they have done already took over all the other local jobs—and that we ort to be on the alert about it for that reason.

I'm with Jed. I think we should draw the line somewhere and the disposal of waste is as good a place as any—especially since that is about the only place left where we can draw the line at. We should stand up on our hind legs and demand the right to dispose of our own waste.

When you start in to thinking about it, this sneaky move has been in the making and building up for a long time. Remember how Lyndon didn't hardly have time to git the White House lights turned off before Lady Bird started in talking about "Beautification" being her number one interest? It wouldn't shake me none to see a "feeler" come out of Washington into the news any day now suggesting that Lady Bird be made Mistress of Waste a doctor's office, it is usually done in a hospital.

Q—My husband has been taking Darvon Compound. Does it have any bad side effects?

A—This pain reliever, obtainable only on a doctor's prescription, contains propoxyphene, aspirin, phenacetin and caffeine. Side effects are rare when it is taken as prescribed, but full relief of pain cannot be guaranteed.

Now that the country has gone "Safety" happy they are coming up with every solution there is but one — driving slow. They are putting a lot of stress on the feller in the car and doing all they can to get rid of the guy on the street.

The new cars have got three spears stuck out in front so they can impale a pedestrian. The Romans used the same idea on their chariots.

One design 'drags got four roll bars so the driver can roll right over a pedestrian without slowing down. Another has a driver's periscope that gives him a wide-angle rear view. That way he can see whether he got a walker the first time or if he should go around the block.

A good car for stalking game 'birds has a bumper that extends forward 1 foot once the car is in motion. This guarantees that you will bag your limit every time.

One car I can't quite figure out is the one that has a bumper filled with water. Maybe its in case you run over somebody in the desert and can't get going again. Then you can just drain your bumper and bury your dead without dying of thirst.

There's no limit to the lengths they will go to keep a pedestrian from getting away free and clear.

Disposal. (That's the way they operate.) She might make a good one at that. She seems to be done a right fair job in the past of disposing of her own "waist."

You know what I do think? I don't think that them congressmen are dumb anuff to believe Lyndon Johnson is going to stop wastin our money—even if they could make him if they wanted to. If they did, they would make the deal sound a little different.

They would say: "Cut down on spending by five billion dollars and pay that much on the National Debt; because if you don't we are going to cut down on the Sir Taxes—and the Mam Taxes, too—that we already have."

That way, some of them might be fit to be reelected. The way it is they are fixing it so they can come home and talk with a forked tongue when they campaign for election next year. To them that is tired of higher taxes, they will say, "Didn we make Lyndon start a Waste Disposal Program before we give him the extra money to waste?" And to them that is on government gravy payments (Lyndon's got more of them than anybody else ever had) — and to them "liberals" that wants to see the Federal government do everthing for and to the people — the congressmen campaigning for reelection will say, "Didn we give Lyndon more money to waste buying people and taking over state jobs when we passed that new Sir Tax?"

That way, how can they lose?

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: Are there many legal crimes which are not crimes under God's or nature's laws? If so, name some that are crimes according to political laws but which are not crimes at all as determined by nature or God's laws.

ANSWER: A few years ago it was a crime according to political law to own alcoholic beverages, but not a crime to own gold. Now it is a crime to own gold, but not a crime to own alcoholic beverages.

While it is a crime, according to political law, for the American people to own gold, it isn't a crime for citizens of many other nations to own gold. And if it is not a crime for some people, it shouldn't be a crime for others.

It is regarded as a crime to rent or sell to those to whom you prefer to rent or sell. And certainly that is not a crime according to God's or nature's law, but it is considered a crime according to man-made artificial laws under which politicians want to control the lives of people.

It is a crime not to send your children to schools endorsed by the politicians. Certainly that is not a natural crime or a crime against God's laws.

There are many more laws that make it a political crime to do things which are not crimes according to nature's laws. And that's the reason we're in the trouble we're in today. We've gotten away from morality, and we think morality can be separated from economics and man's relation to man.

Wit and Whimsy

An old codger was crossing a busy corner when a huge police dog dashed into him and bowled him over. The next instant, one of the small modern sports cars skidded around the corner and bumped him, inflicting more severe bruises.

Bystanders assisted him to his feet, and someone asked if the dog had hurt him.

"Not exactly," he replied. "It was the tin can tied to his tail that did the most damage."

A man was telling about the harrowing experience he had out West during his vacation trip.

Hal — It was terrible! Indians to the left of me, Indians to the right, Indians to the rear, Indians in the front, Indians everywhere closing in on me.

Cal — Whew, what did you do?

Hal — What could I do, I bought a blanket.

Highlights and Sidelights From Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN, Tex. — A massive new realignment of the Texas National Guard will increase its strength by 500 and add a new parachute unit serving the southeast and central parts of the state.

Reorganization will insure better operational capability and improved riot control potential, according to Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, the adjutant general.

Texas' two Guard divisions—the 36th Infantry and the 49th Armored—will be replaced by the 72nd Mechanized Infantry Brigade and the 71st Airborne Infantry Brigade, plus miscellaneous units.

Headquarters of the 72nd, covering North Texas and the Panhandle, will be in Dallas. Headquarters of the 71st Airborne will be in Houston. Present 36th Infantry Brigade will maintain its headquarters in San Antonio and cover all of South Texas.

Guardsmen from Fort Worth, Dallas and Odessa-Midland areas will form two new types of command units, called "emergency operations headquarters."

Canyon, Clarksville, Belton, Dumas, New Boston and Rusk will lose their guard units in the reorganization. An artillery battalion with headquarters in El Paso and batteries in Odessa, Midland, Pecos, Lamesa and Big Spring will be separate from the three brigades. So will an engineer battalion in Abilene, a tank battalion in the Brownwood-San Angelo area and an armor group in Fort Worth.

Bishop says other specialized units will be placed throughout the state within areas of the brigades, but not as a part of them.

Total authorized strength will be increased to 17,375. Although the number of company-sized units will be reduced from 189 to 122, units will be larger and sometimes divided between two and three cities.

While general recruiting is banned for new Guardsmen without prior experience, enlistments are wide open for the new airborne brigade with units in Houston, Columbus, Brenham, Orange, Austin, Port Arthur, Beaumont, Port Neches, Waco, Whitney, Stephenville, Clifton, Hillsboro, Cleburne and Corsicana.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court, in reversing a Johnson County district court finding, ruled that a man cannot be held in jail indefinitely if he proves he is unable to pay delinquent child support payments.

In other recent decisions, the high court:

Set February 21 to review a Jim Wells County malpractice suit against an Alice hospital and two doctors. Mrs. C. K. Gravis claims an operation was performed on her without consent and that she suffered ill effects.

Agreed to hear oral arguments February 21 in the appeal of Otis Elevator Company from a $50,000 award to a Waco department store employee injured in an escalator accident.

Upheld lower court decisions denying recovery by a Corpus Christi woman in a suit against the city after her car was struck at an intersection regulated by a faulty traffic signal.

Sustained lower courts in denying injunction to Bishop R. E. Ranger to prevent his removal as bishop of Texas southwest division of Church of Christ in God.

A divided Court of Criminal Appeals again upheld the death sentence of Alton Charles for the 1966 shotgun slaying of a retired Caddo Lake game warden.

U. S. Supreme Court has given Texas and New Mexico permission to sue Colorado to collect a 939,000-acre-foot water debt under a 1940 Rio Grande inter-state compact. El Paso and Hudspeth County have a big stake in the dispute.

APPOINTMENTS — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith named Senators William N. Patman of Ganado, Charles Herring of Austin and

J. P. Word of Meridian to the Senate's "little Hoover" commission to promote economy and efficiency in state government.

Smith placed Clint C. Small Jr. of Austin and Reverend J. Carroll Chadwick of Center and Sens. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, and Charles Herring of Austin on the legislative committee looking into exemption of charitable organizations from liability for acts of employees and agents.

AIRPORT AID SOUGHT — Texas Aeronautics Commission will seek $500,000 in federal aid for airport construction in 1968, an increase of $50,000 over this year.

Sixty-seven Texas communities are on the waiting list for airports and 73 more are ready to start construction.

At its meeting here, Commission heard an application by Miller Aircraft Company for a route from McGregor to Dallas and set an additional hearing to find out if Hood Airlines intends to use its permit for the same schedule.

Hearing originally set for Dec. 18 on Air Southwest Co.'s application to operate an economy service between Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio was postponed until Jan. 15.

NEW TEXAS TRAVEL HANDBOOK — Texas Highway Department has released an expanded version of its 208-page travel handbook.

Publication now lists 400 cities and towns, more than 2,500 individual items and contains 112 photographs, including such attractions as El Paso's aerial tramway and restored Presidio La Bahia near Goliad.

Special sections are devoted to recreational facilities in Texas as forests and parks and hunting and fishing regulations are summarized.

SHORT SNORTS — Gov. John Connally announced a $21,000 regional planning grant to the Houston-Galveston Area Council of governments covering Brazoria, Chambers, Fort Bend and Galveston, Harris, Liberty, Montgomery and Waller Counties.

A total of 116 Texas cities have approved the one-cent city sales tax as of Dec. 13. 18 cities rejected the tax and more elections will occur in Dec. and January.

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, was honored at a testimonial luncheon at Waco, attended by Gov. Connally and representatives of the nation's leading law-enforcement agencies.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held that the state and counties cannot be charged clerical fees in counties of more than 20,000 population and where county officers are on salary.

Jobs Open For Hemifair 1968

The Pampa office of the Texas Employment Commission today began accepting applications for persons desiring work with Hemifair 1968 in San Antonio.

Charles G. Vance, placement interviewer with the Pampa office said a statewide recruiting campaign was launched yesterday by the commission to hire at least 1,500 persons.

The date of employment would extend from March 15 to Oct. 6, Vance stated.

Employment is open for accountants, ticket sellers, ticket takers, guards, maintenance personnel, hostesses, parking lot attendants, writers, guides, ushers, secretaries and general clerical help.

Vance said applicants must be at least 18 years of age with a high school education. They must be bondable, be neat, have a pleasant personality, be of good character and physically fit.
