

U.N. General Assembly Opens With War Warnings

Enduring Effort Is Required

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The 22nd annual session of the United Nations General Assembly opened today with a warning from Secretary General Thant that another Middle East war is all but unavoidable unless the world body finds a solution to the crisis.

In his annual report to the assembly, Thant said that except for scattered debates "there has been no enduring, persistent effort in any U.N. organ" to solve the Middle East crisis.

"A determined effort is needed now to find solutions to the issues which have thrived in the past led, and no doubt will again in the future lead to war between the Arabs and Israelis," the report said.

Thant's report was presented after the 122-nation world parliament convened at 3 p.m. with the customary minute's silence. Afterward, the assembly elected Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu its president.

Manescu, the first Communist to hold the assembly presidency in the 22-year history of the U.N., will guide debate on the Middle East crisis, the Vietnam war and other world problems up for discussion in this session, which is expected to last until Christmas.

An outspoken advocate of improved East-West relations, Manescu replaced Ambassador Abdul Rahman Pazhwak of Afghanistan, the outgoing president who chaired last year's assembly and the two extraordinary sessions.

Thant said in his annual report that he saw little chance that the Arabs and Israelis would be able to work out a solution to the Middle East crisis.

"It seems to me, therefore, to be certain that international effort, assistance and concerted action will be indispensable as any move towards solutions and away from a new recourse to war." (See U.N., Page 3)

Wichita Falls Plane Crash Kills Occupants

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — A light airplane crashed killing two persons and a downtown warehouse caught fire at about the same time early today in two unrelated incidents in the Wichita Falls area.

The plane, a Cessna 150, crashed into trees in a residential area and burst into flames. The two passengers, a man and a woman from Wichita Falls, were burned beyond recognition. Police were withholding the names pending notification of next of kin.

About six blocks away, a fire broke out in the Ben E. Keith warehouse, a two-story brick building which was empty at the time. Firemen fought to keep the fire from spreading.

The small red and white plane hit a row of trees in front of some homes and landed in the street behind the public library. A fire unit from Sheppard Air Force Base put out the burning trees. There were no buildings damaged. Power lines in the area were knocked down by the crash.

A witness staying in a room on the seventh floor of the Miller-Hotel said he saw the plane "spinning toward earth" from a height of about 2,000 feet.

Firemen said they did not know the cause of the downtown fire. The warehouse was empty and was in the process of being dismantled.

There were no injuries in the fire, but the building was destroyed.

Arabs Call for Business Strike In Israel-Occupied West Jordan

United Press International Arab leaflets called for a general business strike in the Israeli-occupied west bank area of Jordan today to coincide with the opening of the United Nations General Assembly in New York but there were no immediate indications the strike was effective.

In Amman, heads of the Christian and Moslem churches in Jordan cabled world religious leaders, U.N. Secretary General Thant and heads of state protesting the Israelis had violated holy places in Jerusalem and demanded they be "liberated" from "Zionist aggression."

The anti-Israel offensive coincided with Cairo reports Foreign Minister Adib El Amery of Jordan ended two days of talks with Egyptian officials in Cairo and flew to New York with what he said was a new Mideast peace plan. He disclosed no details but said it was aimed basically at forcing Israeli withdrawal from Arab territory.

In Cairo the authoritative newspaper Al Ahran said Egypt's intelligence network director Salah Nasr was placed under house arrest immediately following Israel's initial attack in the Middle East war on June 5. It also said 181 officers and civilians had been arrested since the war.

In Beirut Western oil sources said they believe Syria would not interfere with oil shipments to the West despite its announced opposition to lifting the oil ban established during the war.

The sources said the Mediterranean terminal at Banias, Syria, was operating at full capacity. Only Iraq and Syria have maintained the ban which other Arab leaders lifted at their summit conference last month.

The 181 arrested since the war included the three top men in the Egyptian Air Force. The Air Force brass were among 31 now retired officers being questioned "to determine the reasons for the military setback," said Al Ahran, the newspaper that often speaks for U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

"Interrogation may show that many of these had no practical use," said a source. (See ARABS, Page 3)

Jordan King May Visit President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are "unofficial" indications that King Hussein of Jordan may visit President Johnson later this month after he returns from a trip to Moscow.

The Jordanian monarch was recently reported to have been designated by the Arab summit conference to explain its position on Middle East problems to the United States and Russia. If Hussein does visit Washington, it would be his second trip here since the Arab-Israeli war in June.

The planned underground explosion, scheduled Nov. 14 at a site 55 miles east of Farmington, is designed to free natural gas from hard-to-reach rock formations.

The representatives, from foreign governments, industry and technical observers, will be briefed on the project that is the joint endeavor of the Atomic Energy Commission and the El Paso Natural Gas Co.

Erratic Beulah Aims At Brownsville Area

NO PROGRESS YET

Auto Strike Is Deadlock Bound

DETROIT (UPI) — Prospects of an end to the strike against Ford Motor Co. were dim today following failure to make progress in the first main table bargaining session since the strike began.

Negotiators for Ford and the United Auto Workers Union met in a 2½ hour session Monday and reported no progress on the procedure.

Ken Eanon, top day-to-day negotiator for the union, said both the UAW and Ford agreed that changes were needed in the mechanics of oral grievance procedure to keep most of them from becoming written grievances.

But, he said, the company is "just as hard-nosed on this as they are on all the other issues."

"If we can't agree on language to implement a principle on which we are both in agreement, then we are in more serious trouble than I thought," said Bannon.

Today, the negotiators scheduled day-long talks at the main bargaining table on the subject of promotions. The UAW has proposed that Ford establish training and retraining programs to prepare blue collar workers for white collar jobs or higher paying jobs in the plant.

Lack of progress bore out predictions by most observers that the strike would be a long one and that little would be done in reaching a settlement on anything until one side or the other begins to feel economic pressure of the strike.

Milwaukee Negro Showdown March Under Way Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Open housing, the issue that brought Negro marchers and white violence to Milwaukee streets, today moved to city hall for a showdown.

Negro militants demonstrated for the 22nd successive night Monday while white opponents prayed for their own cause.

Four times the Milwaukee Common Council has refused to pass an open-housing ordinance, the only thing that can end the Negro militants.

The city's only Negro alderman, Mrs. Vel Phillips, planned to resubmit her open housing proposal today. The common council's four previous rejections of it by 18-1 margins prompted the protests which began Aug. 28.

The Rev. James Groppi, the white Catholic priest who began the demonstrations, did not march Monday night because of lingering flu and exhaustion. But he repeated at a rally before the march his followers would "end discrimination in this city if it takes all year."

The open housing demonstrators, who invaded the hostile Polish-American south side twice during the weekend, marched Monday night to the new west side home of Alderman Robert Dwyer.

Governor Cancels Trip Because of Beulah's Threat

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. John Connally today cancelled a planned trip to Dallas so he could remain in his office to watch progress of hurricane Beulah and to prepare for the state's response to the storm.

The governor was scheduled to attend the 14th annual Dallas Times Herald Woman's Forum today, a luncheon with officials of the newspaper, and a reception tonight of the Dallas appreciation committee honoring state Sen. Jim Wade.

Public Bracing For Hurricane Onslaught

BROWNSVILLE (UPI) — Beulah, the killer hurricane, sending gale winds into Mexico's important port of Tampico, set aim again for the U.S.-Mexico border at Brownsville at an excruciating pace.

Mexican army vehicles in the hundreds carried thousands of Tampico residents from low-lying areas to higher ground in the city and public buildings filled with the evacuees, estimated at 8,000 to 10,000 with dawn today.

At 7 a.m. CDT, the New Orleans Weather Bureau put Beulah's center at latitude 23.5 north longitude 95.4 west, moving almost exactly north-west and sending gale force winds outward 250 miles and hurricane force winds out 70 miles from the center. The storm's center at that time was some 200 miles southeast of Brownsville and its gale winds were brushing the coast near the U.S.-Mexico border.

Beulah's death toll rose Monday to 29—including 18 from her swipe through the Caribbean and 11 more from the Yucatan Peninsula and its islands.

Officers on the lower Texas Gulf Coast worked to complete the evacuation of Padre Island ahead of high tides and waves that washed across the beaches and sand roadway to the dunes beyond.

Boat owners lined up waiting for crane operators to beach their boats and lift them from the water to put them on ballees on high ground away from the surge of surf. Concession stands at Corpus Christi were pulled on skids back from the beach. A new million-dollar motel on Padre Island was boarded up.

For days, light water craft along the Texas coast had moved to safe harbor and the heavier boats were docked deck-to-deck facing the oncoming storm. Down the Mexico coast, the fishing fleet of Tampico sailed up the Panuco River to get away from the winds and five heavy freighters were battened down to ride out the hurricane.

An emergency hurricane warning was posted for the Texas coast from Brownsville on the southern tip of the state to Port Aransas about 150 miles away. Gale warnings were in effect from Port Aransas to Galveston.

The force of Beulah, which had already killed 29 persons, sent gale force winds against the northern Mexican coast Monday night.

Light showers hit parts of south Texas today, where tides were about two feet above normal.

About 10,000 persons were evacuated from low-lying areas in Tampico, Mexico Monday because of the threat of the hurricane.

The barometer was falling in Tampico and although skies cleared for a time at night, rains returned today and winds picked up to more than 40 miles per hour at dawn.

Army trucks, buses and street cars carried thousands of residents from their homes to higher ground.

The evacuees were being taken to high ground, many of them to the state soccer stadium and others to schools, hospitals, churches and public buildings.

Two large rivers flowing through the city were already bank full from a month of heavy rain.

Beulah had been moving on an almost due west course headed toward Tampico. But late Monday night it shifted to a northwesterly course and then early today headed almost due north.

Beulah slowed down slightly today and was still about 200 miles from Brownsville. (See BEULAH, Page 3)

San Antonio Prepares For Beulah Force

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Anticipating effects of Hurricane Beulah, either by winds or heavy rains, far inland in Texas, the Bexar County Civil Defense managers set the big structure aside today as a shelter for storm evacuees.

The coliseum will hold 15,000 persons.

The city's complex of Air Force Bases and stations also became haven for evacuees. Dependents airmen at Matagorda Air Force Base, on the Gulf Coast were sent to Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio.

Lackland AFB officials said much of the heavy equipment from Matagorda was moved away Monday.

Kelly AFB dispatched a hurricane-hunt airplane, under command of the 53rd Weather Squadron, to watch progress of the big blow off the coast. The plane has made dozens of trips into the storm area since Beulah became a big storm.

U.S. Navy Jets Hit Haiphong Second Day

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Navy pilots bombed targets in the North Vietnamese port city of Haiphong Monday for the second consecutive day, a military spokesman reported today. It was the third such raid since Haiphong was taken off the list of prohibited targets Sept. 11.

To the south, U.S. B-52 bombers struck three times today against three Communist divisions in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) where North Vietnamese artillery and mortar hits U.S. Marines at Con Thien with hundreds of rounds. Monsoon rains have turned the Con Thien area into a quagmire, flooding the World War I type trenches the Marines have dug against the constant artillery attacks. Flood waters drowned 10 Marines and four more died in the artillery bombardments. The Marines killed three North Vietnamese in the only significant ground action. Forty-five Marines were wounded.

In Saigon terrorists bombed the Nationalist Chinese embassy and shot two Chinese in a series of attacks which gave rise to reports of the start of a Red Guard movement in Vietnam. At least two persons were killed and 26 wounded in the embassy explosion.

Li Gen, William W. Momyer, commander of U.S. Air Forces in Vietnam, made a strong plea today for continued bombing of the North. He said it was impossible to halt Communist infiltration into the South but that the air raids did slow down the southward movement.

Momyer told newsmen North Vietnam had moved the bulk of its MIG fleet to Communist China and that the remaining MIGs were based at Phu Yen and Gia Lam, bases thus far immune to U.S. aerial attacks.

He said improved guidance systems made it safe for U.S. planes to bomb very near the Chinese border.

Following that Governors David Cargo of New Mexico, John Love of Colorado, Jack Williams of Arizona and Calvin Rampton of Utah moved on to a late afternoon and dinner session at the Farmington, N. M. ranch of former New Mexico Gov. Tom Bolack.

Governors Meet At 'Four Corners'

CORTEZ, Colo. (UPI) — Governors of the four states whose corners touch meet in that spot today to discuss ways to develop its unique location economically.

The governors of New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, and Utah meet here to officially organize the Four Corners Economic Development Commission and then will travel to the four corners national monument site for further talks.

Following that Governors David Cargo of New Mexico, John Love of Colorado, Jack Williams of Arizona and Calvin Rampton of Utah moved on to a late afternoon and dinner session at the Farmington, N. M. ranch of former New Mexico Gov. Tom Bolack.

The parley is believed to be only the third of its kind in the history of the four states. The governors of those states met in 1949 in a session sponsored by the chambers of commerce of Farmington, Aztec, and Durango, Colo., and in 1962 for the dedication of Navajo Dam.

Orren Beatty Jr., the federal co-chairman of the four corners commission, will also be on hand for today's sessions.

AND THERE IS A LOT MORE OF THE SAME—David Tucker, U.F. campaign chairman; E. E. Shelhamer, president of Pampa Chamber of Commerce; and Norman Henry, Commercial and Industrial Division chairman, look over the supplies to be used in the Commercial and Industrial Division of the 1968 Pampa United Fund. The Commercial and Industrial Division held the first of the divisional kick-off meetings. This year's United Fund goal is $82,000. All divisions are scheduled to have completed their work by Oct. 13.

Eight Panhandle towns were represented in the board managers meeting and workshop with a state P-TA representative, Mrs. Vern Spiva Jr. of Fredericksburg. District president presiding in the plan of work discussion was Mrs. Buran Pruitt of Borger.

Mrs. Spiva instructed the new board on its duties and taught a new leadership course to council presidents and board officers. Presidents and board officers took the course to teach it to other P-TA units in the area.

Another workshop speaker will be announced later. Mrs. Nicholls, Pampa City Council P-TA president, said.

New City Directory Being Compiled Here

Information for Pampa's new city directory is being gathered by a crew representing the Hudspeth Directory Co., Dallas.

Plans call for enumerations to be completed by the latter part of October, according to R. T. Burns, sales representative for the directory company. Orders also are being taken for advertising and directories.

The directory will be delivered sometime after the first of the year, Burns stated.

Loss Climbs To $831 in Burglary

Losses in money and merchandise have been set at approximately $831.67 in a burglary at Singer Sewing Co. during the weekend.

Pampa police first thought only one portable television set and $25 in cash was taken but Claude Smith, Singer manager, said Monday night a complete inventory showed more was missing.

Smith said seven bolts of fabric, valued at $335.83, are missing along with two portable television sets, with a total value of $260; a new sewing machine valued at $49.95; and a typewriter, valued at $49.95 plus $28.99 in cash.

Pampa police chief Jim Conner said today police were pondering how the burglar got so much merchandise through such a small hole.

The burglar, described as small by police, knocked a hole in the ceiling of Master Cleaners, next door to Singer's, then knocked a small hole in the wall between the two business places.

Police say the burglar wore cotton gloves to avoid leaving fingerprints and left an array of tools in the cleaning establishment.

"He had to have a car or pickup to carry his load off," Conner said, adding, "we haven't done near the investigative work on this that we plan to."

Science Teachers To Attend Borger Workshop Meet

Teachers in the AAA Science Program at Woodrow Wilson School will attend an in-service training workshop at Borger Thursday and Friday.

Demonstrations of teaching and how to set the program up will be the primary focus of the workshop, according to Bob Parks, principal of Woodrow Wilson School.

Woodrow Wilson is currently the only school in the Pampa system using the advanced science program. It has been set up in the first four grades at the school, with two out of three classrooms at each grade level using the new approach. Eight teachers are taking part in the program.

"This is a new approach which uses a more concrete approach to the teaching of science," principal Bob Parks said, "and we believe that it will create more interest at every grade level where it is used."

Attending the meeting will be Principal Parks, Mrs. Majorie Gaut, curriculum coordinator for Pampa Schools, and the following teachers: Miss Oleta Marlyn, Mrs. Geraldine Davis, Mrs. Jeanne Thornburg, Mrs. Allene Coker, Mrs. Wanda Goff, Mrs. Sue Lindsay, Mrs. Reba Hanks, and Mrs. Mary Ann Best.

Police Investigate Complaint by Woman

Pampa police were investigating today a complaint of indecent exposure.

A Pampa woman reported to police Monday night that while she was driving on Decatur St., a block behind the High School, eight or 10 cars were parked near the school.

The woman said as she approached the cars a group of boys pushed another boy in front of her headlights and he was unclothed.

United Nations

Thant said there was "near unanimity" that Israel withdraw its troops from occupied territory in Egypt, Jordan and Syria "because everyone agrees that there would be no territorial gains by military conquest."

But he said "the issue of withdrawal loses sizable support" when the position of some Arab states is considered.

"The unwillingness of the Arab states to accept the existence of the state of Israel, the insistence of some on maintaining a continuing state of belligerency with Israel... and the question of innocent passage through the Strait of Tiran and the Suez canal are also fundamental problems."

John Quincy Adams not only suggested but also formulated the Monroe Doctrine.

Officials Go To Meet in Lubbock

County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. Mayor Jim Nation and City Manager Jim White left for Lubbock this morning to meet with city and county officials of that city.

The three will attend a conference designed to study how to better coordinate city and county affairs.

The board officials hope to determine if a similar program could be started here, Judge Lenning said.

The newspaper shed new light on the investigation of a plot to overthrow Nasser allegedly led by the late Egyptian Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer, who committed suicide last week.

It said Amer and others involved in the plot ordered 24 Army clerks to print leaflets in connection with the plan. Amer's brother brought 44 peasants to Cairo to guard the home of the dismissed Army commander in Giza, five miles south of Cairo.

The newspaper said Nasr had been detained under house arrest since the first day of the June 5-10 war. "His illness was the only reason which prevented his detention or interrogation into the reasons which led the intelligence organization to deviate from its original attack," it said.

In 1863, Union and Confederate soldiers met in the battle of Chickamauga. The rebels won the following day.

The Lighter Side

By DIC KWEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — We hear a lot these days about youthful rebellion: how children no longer respect their parents, and like that.

In this regard, President Johnson has been extremely fortunate. As far as I can tell, his two daughters have never given him a minute's trouble.

Luci already is happily married and now Lynda's romance with George Hamilton is about to have a happy ending. She is engaged to somebody else.

If everything proceeds as presently indicated, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb will marry Lynda in early December and go to Vietnam in early March.

It was the prospect of a combat assignment so soon after the wedding that started me to musing over what might happen if Lynda—God forbid!—were as rebellious as some of her contemporaries.

Brides March

Come fly with me on wings of time to April 1968. The spring picketing season has begun at the White House and the first group of marchers is the Arrangements are made for one of their leaders to present a petition to the President. As she is ushered into his office, the President is concentrating on an important paper.

"Good morning, I'll be with you in a moment. I'm very busy today so if you will... Lynda Bird! What are you doing here?"

"I brought in a petition from the group outside."

"But, Lynda, that's a protest group."

"I know, Daddy. I'm their vice president."

"How did a nice girl like you get mixed up with a group like that?"

"I'm collecting material for one of my magazine articles."

New Interest

"Good. I'm glad you've found something to occupy your time while Chuck is away. What is the name of the article?"

"It's called 'Bring the Boys Home from Vietnam—Now!'"

"Now, Lynda, you knew when you married Chuck that he was due for a Vietnam assignment. When did you develop this anti-miles east of Tampico.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau described the hurricane's course as "somewhat erratic."

The Weather Bureau said Beulah still threatened the Texas coast and that even the northern Gulf Coast should also watch its progress. The bureau said precautions should not be relaxed along the coast in either Texas or Mexico.

Winds at the storm's center picked up steam Monday night. They were estimated at 125 miles per hour, and gale force winds extended 250 miles to the north and 100 miles to the south. Hurricane force winds extended out about 70 miles from the center.

Weather officials said Beulah would become even more intense before finally striking land.

"I'm a stock broker. One reason listed stocks generally are so popular is their profit record."

"Less than 1% of U.S. corporations, they make 70% of the profits."

Just how many stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange?
"Something over 1,200 common stocks. That represents less than 1% of the corporations in the country."

And those few make about 70% of the profits?
"That's right. Generally, they're the big companies, the leaders. You use their products and services practically every hour of the day."

Is a company's profit the main consideration when the Exchange lists it?
"That's important, of course. At the time of its original listing, a company has to demonstrate that it has been able to earn at least $1,200,000 a year after taxes, normally for three years."

For just three years?
"That's just a guideline. Every company is considered on its own merits. The Exchange wants to be satisfied that the company has a good position in its industry and prospects for maintaining that position."

FREE INVESTMENT GUIDE ON LISTED STOCKS—SEND COUPON TODAY.

To an investor, isn't a company's profit the whole story?
"No. Another big factor is that there is usually more information available about listed stocks, because the Exchange expects prompt disclosure of important facts. Smart investors see another advantage in the fact that about 12,000,000 people own listed stocks. That means you can usually find a buyer or seller when you need one quickly and easily, and at a price close to the last sale on the floor."

When a company gets listed, does it automatically stay listed?
"There's nothing automatic about it. There are criteria for listing, and criteria for de-listing, too."

Does all this mean listed stocks are right for any investor?
"Not necessarily. The best advice is to discuss your situation with a member firm broker—the amount you can invest after regular expenses and emergencies; and your goal of growth, dividends, or the safety of principal that bonds might offer. Ask the broker for facts and his own opinion, then exercise your judgment. Whatever you buy, securities or anything else, carries a certain risk. But I think every investor should remember the advantages that listed stocks can offer."

Gallop Poll Says Rockefeller Is Out In Front

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—The Gallup Poll said Saturday that a survey shows New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would defeat President Johnson by a 2 per cent margin if the presidential election were held now.

The American Institute of Public Opinion said in a copyrighted report that a "test heat" between the two produced these results: Rockefeller, 48 per cent; Johnson, 46 per cent; undecided, 6 per cent.

The poll followed on the heels of Michigan Gov. George Romney's troubles over his 1965 visit to Vietnam. The Detroit News advocated editorially that Romney withdraw from contention for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination and throw his support to Rockefeller.

The results of the Gallup survey showed that Johnson led Rockefeller in the east, 50 to 44 per cent, and in the south, 48 to 43 per cent, but the New York governor was ahead in the midwest, 54 to 40, and in the west, 52 to 44.

The survey reported that Rockefeller showed strength among independent voters and Democrats who are against Johnson. In addition, eight of 10 Republicans say they would vote for him over the President.

The pollsters asked supporters of Romney to indicate their choice if the Michigan governor was not in the race. The result listed 40 per cent of them switching to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon; 20 per cent to Rockefeller; 15 per cent to California Gov. Ronald Reagan; 12 per cent to Illinois Sen. Charles Percy; 4 per cent to New York Mayor John Lindsay and 2 per cent to Oregon Sen. Mark Hatfield.

Detroit Settles Teacher Strike; New York Fails

By United Press International
Detroit negotiators reached agreement Monday on a contract to end the city's 13-day teachers strike but in New York, all-night bargaining failed to break a deadlock in a week-old walkout of teachers.

The Detroit Federation of Teachers (DFT) called an immediate meeting of its 11,500 members. Mary Ellen Riordan, DFT president, said she would recommend approval and a return to the classroom.

Terms of the agreement reached in night-long bargaining were not disclosed.

A settlement also was reported in the Detroit suburb of Dearborn, leaving schools in nine other communities still closed by teacher strikes. In Detroit alone 300,000 children were kept out of school by the strike.

"There has been some narrowing of disagreements," New York Mayor John V. Lindsay said after the 7 a.m. conclusion of the negotiating session he convened at his official residence Sunday night.

Albert Shanker, president of the 50,000-member United Federation of Teachers (UFT), said wearily "We're bargaining" when asked about progress in the marathon talks. "I'm neither optimistic nor pessimistic . . . I'm bushed," he said.

Reception for New Teachers Being Planned

The annual new teachers' reception and watermelon party will be held Sept. 21 at 6:30 in Pampa's Central Park.

An estimated 400 teachers, businessmen, and parents are expected to attend the event.

Sponsored annually by the Pampa Teacher's Assn., the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, the City Council P-TA, and the Top O' Texas Club, the event honors teachers new to the Pampa Public School system. Superintendent John Damron will introduce the new teachers.

Seventy-five melons will be available, and door prizes will be given at the conclusion of the party.

In 1960, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev received a cold reception when he arrived in the United States to attend the U.N. General Assembly.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (U.P.I.)—"Maya," NBC-TV's new weekend adventure series, deals with an American teen-ager who searches for his supposedly dead father in India, and stars Jay North, formerly television's "Dennis the Menace." But the best thing the show has going for it is the location footage of India, where the series is being shot in its entirety.

True, the program, which arrived Saturday night as an hour entry, is basically a youngsters' action story—something like a "Hardy Boys" excursion or the way Walt Disney studios might do "I Spy"—but the visual effect of the overseas filming is not to be discounted as a major future factor in television. The premiere had a definite Hollywood flavor anyway, and the story was by all means secondary to the setting—and of course shows like "I Spy" have done location filming too—but as the movies learned, real settings are absolutely an enticement.

Story Rough
The colors of the location shooting made up in part for such story events as the teen-ager hero trying to fire a rifle after it has been doused thoroughly in the crossing of a river. The show, however, is after all a youngsters' outing, and I would think that on this basis it certainly qualifies as a pleasant time-killer for the boy or girl who might not be able to get a Saturday night date.

Young Mr. North, has grown up to be a lithe, manly-looking sky diver, fell victim to a about keeping his hair neatly combed. In the series, he flees American authorities who want to send him home after his father is reported killed by a tiger. The father was a hunter, the boys refuse to believe he is dead, and he joins up with an Indian teen-ager (Sajid Khan) and his elephant (Maya). This is the trio in which the series will focus as they roam India on the search.

Needless to say, of course, the elephant Maya will save the day repeatedly for the boys the way, in other series, Lassie does, and the bear "Gentle Ben" does, and the way the dolphin "Flipper" did. In the opener, he squashed a Tiger with a foot in a terrific fight.

Production Stars
Production also overwhelms for.

content in another new Saturday night one-hour series, CBS-TV's "Mannix," which concerns an old-fashioned private eye (Mike Connors) who works for a computerized firm of investigators but refuses to conform to new methods.

Producer Bruce Geller brings to this show the same high gloss and camera snazziness that marks his "Mission: Impossible" series. He has an eye for the lush, the sensual, the exotic taste in pictorial terms. Private eye television dialogue, however, hasn't changed much from that of the Lloyd Nolan era. And, fittingly, Nolan appeared on the premiere as an ex-racketeer whose wife and daughter try to swindle him out of half a million simoleons.

Friday night, NBC-TV aired a "Accidental Family," about a Las Vegas nightclub comic (Jerry Van Dyke), a widower, who finally gains custody of his eight-year-old son on condition he brings him up on a farm 300 miles away. This involved a commuting problem. The premiere surprisingly offered some byplay in which the father, who has been the target of criticism by the boy's former custodian—an aunt—tries to make contact with his son. This was played straight, and well. But since they are pals by the end of the episode, one wonders whether the series has played out its most attractive element too quickly.

PERILOUS RESCUE
HALFPENNY GREEN, England (UPI)—Michael Davies, 23, a novice making his second sky dive, fell victim to a "million to one chance" accident Sunday but lived to tell about it.

Davies' harness became entangled in a parachute release line attached to the plane from which he was diving. He dangled from the plane for five minutes while an instructor climbed down the line, wrapped himself around Davies, and both men were cut free, falling to safety with the instructor's parachute.

CLIMBERS KILLED
PINTRESINA, Switzerland (UPI)—A rescue helicopter Sunday found the bodies of two German climbers missing for several days in bad weather on Mt. Eernalva. A third member of the party still was unaccounted for.

All Milk Fund Workers Have Big Soft Hearts

Warm hearts and gentle people have taken the Pampa Milk Fund out of the realm of a business-like dispensing organization to one with the human touch.

"Those working with the Milk Fund have soft hearts and often find themselves scrounging funds from other sources, for rent, utility bills, medical bills and other needs," J. Kirk Duncan, board chairman for the Pampa Milk Fund has written in a letter to this newspaper.

The Milk Fund is an agency of the United Fund, and the Pampa United Fund has allocated the full amount of the Milk Fund request of $1,500 for the coming year's operations.

"The budget is comparatively small," Duncan continues, "but it has been able to fill the needs of deserving cases. One reason funds go so far is that we have no overhead, since so many provide free service."

"An insurance agency keeps records and places orders. An accountant balances the books and writes checks to the milk companies. The Salvation Army Red Cross, and County Welfare Office investigate cases and determine the need—all of this without charge."

"A family in need of milk is usually in need of other things as well. The objective of those who help out in other ways is

Prominent Group Asks President To Press for Israeli-Arab Peace

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eighty distinguished Americans, including 16 Nobel Prize laureates, called on President Johnson Monday to press for direct peace negotiations between Israel and the Arab states.

"Without peace settlements entered into by Israel and each of the warring states, we are only storing up fuel for new outbreaks, with no assurance that a new encounter can be contained or restricted either to conventional weapons or to regional states," the group warned in a statement.

The signers urged that the President's policy of a peaceful settlement "be fortified and pursued inside the United Nations and outside it with all the authority of our strength as a nation."

Stating that direct negotiations were "common practice" among nations, the signers said that this "hard reality may prove more effective counsel and impetus for a settlement than the public debates of the past 20 years."

The group said it supported the President's stand that "there can be no return to the status quo" of before the June Arab-Israeli war and that Israel had the right to negotiate a settlement with each of the warring Arab states.

In 1965, Pakistani troops moved into the Indian-controlled part of Kashmir and a border war began. The United Nations, after several weeks, finally obtained a cease-fire and sent in an observer team.

Twins, Bosox, Tigers Regain First

By United Press International
Carl Yastrzemski has the toughest act to follow in the American League, yet Dalton Jones managed to top it.
The two young veterans, one the brightest star on the baseball horizon and the other a seasoned bit player, went in for heavy drama Monday night and their exceptional performances enabled the Boston Red Sox to defeat the Detroit Tigers 6-5 in 10 innings.
The end result was a further scrambling of the slightly incredible AL standings which now give three teams—Boston, Detroit and the Minnesota Twins—equal billing with the Chicago White Sox a scant half-game below.

Yastrzemski, everybody's choice as the league's Most Valuable Player, took a giant step toward the Triple Crown as he assumed the lead in batting and home runs. He collected three hits, including his 40th homer which sailed into the right field seats with one out in the ninth inning and the Red Sox trailing 5-4.

Socks Fourth
Not to be outdone, Jones promptly stepped to bat in the 10th and whacked his fourth hit of the game in the same vicinity and the Red Sox, on the verge of dropping their fourth straight game, salvaged a much-needed victory.
Jones, whose run-scoring single capped a three-run Boston rally in the first, ignited by Yastrzemski's double, was inserted into the Red Sox lineup specifically to add some left-handed punch to the slumping Sox attack.

Minnesota took advantage of the Tiger lapse to win the two teams at the top by virtue of a 2-0 victory over Kansas City in 10 innings while Chicago blew a chance to take over undisputed possession of first by losing 3-2 to California. Baltimore blanked New York 2-0 in the only other AL game.
Late Rally
The second of Norm Cash's two homers had tied the game 4-4 in the sixth and Jim Northrup's run-scoring double in the eighth off John Wyatt had given the Tigers a 5-4 lead and an apparent lock on first place. But Yastrzemski zeroed in on Fred Lasher and Jones, facing Mike Marshall for the first time, followed suit.

Jim Kaat outdueled Jim "Catfish" Hunter and won his 14th game when Ted Uhlaender lined a two-out single in the 10th inning, snapping the Twins' three-game losing streak and ending Minnesota's famine after 22 scoreless innings.

Kaat yielded six hits and struck out 12 in besting Hunter, who retired 19 in a row before Bob Allison singled with two out in the 10th.
Rick Reichardt's two-out single in the ninth scored Roger Repoz from second with the winning run as the Angels dropped the White Sox to fourth. Repoz, who ran for Don Mincher after the latter singled with one away, advanced to second on Jimmie Hall's fly to center before scoring on Reichardt's hit.

Cardinals Win NL Pennant

By United Press International
The St. Louis Cardinals won their National League pennant-clincher in the same manner they played all season—like they had it all the way.
"That's been the story of our season," commented Manager Red Schoendienst after the Cardinals clinched the 11th pennant in their history with a 5-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Monday night. "No hits for five innings. Then four hits—and four runs."

The Cardinals were held hitless by Dick Ellsworth for five innings but erupted for four sixth-inning runs that enabled Bob Gibson to breeze to his 13th victory with a three-hitter.
Maxvill Leads Rally
Dal Maxvill touched off the rally with a single, went to second on Gibson's sacrifice and scored the tie-breaking run on

Lou Brock's double. Julian Javier's single made it 2-0 and an intentional walk to Orlando Cepeda and Mike Shannon's double completed the inning. Shannon's double drove in Javier and Cepeda scored when Cookie Rojas threw the relay from the outfield past third base.
The Phillies scored in the eighth on Tony Gonzalez' single. Bill White's double and Gene Oliver's infield out but the Cardinals restored their margin to four runs in the eighth on Lou Brock's single and theft of second and right-fielder Johnny Callison's miff of Curt Flood's routine fly.

Gibson, who won both the pennant clincher and the seventh game of the World Series for the Cardinals in 1964, struck out four. It was his first complete game since he suffered a broken leg when hit by Roberto Clemente's line drive on July 15.

The pennant was the 11th in the Cardinals' history and the first under the leadership of General Manager Stan Musial and Schoendienst. The Cardinals are the National League's most successful World Series team with seven victories in their previous 10 tries.

Champagne Celebration
The pennant-clinching, one of the earliest in league history, mathematically eliminated the idle second-place San Francisco Giants and touched off a celebration during which beer baron Gussie Busch was stripped to his underwear and almost drowned in champagne. The lord of Anheuser-Busch escaped to safety when an unidentified spoil-sport turned off the dressing room lights and plunged the party in darkness for about five minutes.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Atlanta Braves 4-0, the Houston Astros romped over the Pittsburgh Pirates 14-4 and the New York Mets defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-2 in other NL Monday night games.

St. Louis Whoops It Up

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The new St. Louis Cardinals whooped it up and the old Cardinals enjoyed every whoop.
The new Cardinals were the 1967 champions of the National League after their clinching 5-1 victory Monday night over the Philadelphia Phillies.
The old Cardinals were a couple of old pros who had tapped the same elixir more than two decades ago.

One was Red Schoendienst, manager of the new champions, the other Stan Musial, his one-time roomie and new general manager of the champions.
It was No. 5 for each. Schoendienst twice as a Milwaukee Brave, once as a Cardinal player, once as a Cardinal coach and now as Cardinal manager. Musial had it four times as a player, once in his new role.

Champagne Bath
The oldsters, if one dares call Red and Stan such, stood by as quietly as possible to watch the new breed make it a night to remember. There wasn't a Cardinal of the current era without a champagne bottle and there hasn't been as much drinking champagne wasted since the first grape was crushed.

They poured it on each other, sloshed it, sprayed it and paused only occasionally for a nip. They picked up pint-sized clubhouse boy Butch Yaktem and bathed him as a mother does an infant.
The champagne had been on ice for five innings. So were the Cardinals, held hitless by Dick Ellsworth until the sixth when they rallied for four runs.

White Deer Players Get Weekly Honors

WHITE DEER — How can a football player be a Lineman-of-the-Week when he plays in the backfield?
It's easy. Just be Mike Hawpe from White Deer.
The Bucks take all the honors this week with both the Pampa News Back and Lineman of the Week coming from coach Sherrill Bottoms stable of footballers.

Hawpe, an All-District tackle in 1966, who is now the White Deer fullback gains his honors by some outstanding defensive play Friday against Clarendon. The 190-pound senior, who has been asked to fill some big shoes, was credited with 29 tackles Friday night and didn't miss a block on offense.
Hawpe replaced Vern Marlar as the Bucks fullback and as everyone knows Marlar was just about the best fullback in the

Mathis Looking for Bigger Fight Game

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unbeaten Buster Mathis began looking for bigger game today after knocking out Ron Marsh in the fourth round Monday night at Madison Square Garden.
Mathis made it plain that he hoped to coax highly-regarded heavyweight Joe Frazier into the ring next, but Frazier isn't about to risk his ranking for that meeting.

When Frazier was introduced before the fight, Mathis warned, "You better watch out 'cause I'm a-comin'." Frazier, who lost to Mathis twice in the amateur ranks, merely laughed and pointed at Buster's protruding belly.

Mathis caught Marsh in a corner at the start of the fourth round and smashed in a left to the jaw and right to the side of the head. The referee didn't even bother counting as Marsh lay unmoving beneath the ropes.

Shockers, Junior Highs Set Games

The Pampa Shockers shoot for their first win in three outings and Lee and Pampa Junior High grade teams go to the football wars Thursday.
Lee will be making their first outing of the season while Pampa Junior High ninth tries for victory No. 1 after losing 8-0 in last week's opener.

Golf 'Partnership' Ends

A steak fry Monday evening, sprinkled with tears, ended a 12-year "partnership" that would make anybody feel proud.
The fry was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. "Art" Dobbin, who are moving from Pampa to Sarnia, Ontario.

The Raiders do have Tommy Clanton, 162-pound quarterback, who scored three times last week and gained 210 yards rushing and Roger Deerinwater, who's brother was an all-stater.

Defense? In Mill for Harvesters

By RON CROSS
Defense, what it is and how you play it is the major topic at Pampa Harvester practice sessions this week.
"We will have some changes on defense but just who or what I'm not sure yet," Pampa coach Egar Ramsey announced Monday.
"After viewing the game films of Pampa's 69-6 loss to Dumas we actually looked worse than I thought on defense," the coach said.
The Harvesters will have another ticklish situation Friday when they face the Raiders of Wichita Falls. The Raiders opened their sea-

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Panama News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

'Free Markets Or Famine'

We have just finished a timely, much needed book, "Free Markets Or Famine." It is by Dr. V. Orval Watts, director of economic education and chairman of the division of social studies at Northwood Institute, Midland, Mich. Dr. Watts was the first full-time economist for any chamber of commerce in the United States when he filled that post in Los Angeles.

We believe this work should be read by everyone interested in a better life for all, particularly all business men and those in management positions. The book is available for $9.50 from the Pendell Co. or the Ford Press, Midland, Mich. The book so impressed us that we ordered 50 copies of it. By buying that many copies we got them for a reduced price of $5.70 each. The author said he had prepared the book with the idea of its being a textbook for his classes at Northwood Institute.

It is a very helpful and useful book — a book not too hard to understand, which pretty well covers the truth, expressed by its title, that if we don't have free markets we'll have famine.

He goes back for evidence in the archeology of Egypt, Greece and Rome and into the history of France, Germany and England, and of course, the United States, bringing it right down to date, and shows how we have been discarding the free market and substituting a planned economy by the politicians.

He connects up the fact that a politically planned economy and lack of free markets has led to famine down through the ages and that in the present time it will lead to famine in the United States if we do not awaken.

Dr. Watts' book does as much to enlighten people on the importance of respecting private property as any book we've run across. Besides Dr. Watts' own writings, he has included the masterpieces of some 40 other students of man's relations to man. Among the selections he has made are articles by William Henry Chamberlin, F.A. Harper, Rose Wilder Lane,

Sylvester Petro, Leonard E. Read, Murray Rothbard, Dean Russell, George S. Schuyler, Hans F. Sennholz, Ludwig von Mises, George Winder, and Thomas Church Dillon, president of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc.

William Chamberlin's article "How State Help Destroys Self-Help" is certainly an enlightening chapter.

F. A. Harper, the head of the Institute of Humane Studies at Stanford, Calif., has written a splendid article on "Morals and the Welfare State." This has also been published in pamphlet form and is distributed by the Research and Educational Service of the Institute, Box 737, Menlo Park, Calif.

The chapter by Rose Wilder Lane is "Owning Property, a Distinctive Human Function." As in all her books, she has done a splendid job of explaining that without private property there can be no morality. And, of course private property includes a man's life, his mind, his soul, and all he produces or gets on a peaceful basis.

To the degree this book is read will it change the present trend toward socialism and will head us once more toward the principle set forth in the Declaration of Independence: that governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed.

And as the late Everett Dean Martin said, "that means exactly what it says," because nobody can give an individual's consent but that individual himself, and if we had a government with the consent of the governed, we'd have to have a limited government to get the consent of those people who understand the blessings that come from respecting the property of others. If these blessings were better understood the trend would be toward more nearly a free enterprise economy which has never been fully tried in any time or any country in all history. But to the degree that it has been tried, there have been peace, prosperity, goodwill and spiritual, intellectual and material blessings.

We cannot recommend the book too highly.

Polio Still Rampant

How quickly we forget. Infantile paralysis, which as recently as 1955 was striking an average of 38,000 children and adults a year, now seems as ancient a scourge as smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever.

But polio is far from a vanquished and vanished disease in other parts of the world.

Nicaragua and Ecuador are experiencing epidemics "equaling or surpassing in the intensity some of the worst outbreaks in the U.S.A. before the introduction of polio vaccine," reports the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

The foundation recently shipped three iron lungs to Ecuador from its Augusta, Ga., stockpile of antipolio equipment, which has been maintained for just this sort of calamity. The lungs join six others sent to Latin America this summer, along with vaccines from the Red Cross and Pan American Health Organization.

"Through these lifesaving devices, the millions of Americans who have given to the March of Dimes will once again be aiding the helpless victims of infantile paralysis," says foundation president Basil O'Connor.

Remember iron lungs? Remember the long lines of people at school's all over the nation waiting for polio vaccine?

Perhaps people all over the world will be able to forget someday, too.

Gas To Burn

Tiny Holland now has the distinction of possessing the largest proved natural gas fields in the world. At 58.2 trillion cubic feet, they exceed the reserves of Texas and the Sahara.

This is estimated as sufficient to meet the requirements of The Netherlands over the next 30 to 40 years and still allow for the export of about 880 billion cubic feet a year to the rest of Europe.

At present, about 70 per cent of the household burners in The Netherlands have been converted to gas. Mass conversion in industry is not taking place

YET — because the price difference between gas and oil is too small to warrant replacement of well-functioning oilpowered systems.

But all that gas in the ground is one reason why Holland, at least, is not unduly concerned by all the gas the Arabs have been spouting about an oil boycott.

It all just goes to show that what might appear to be a lucrative "monopoly" today might tomorrow, be hard to give away.

College Class ... 1984!

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

If it's not one thing it's another. The latest threat to survival of the human race comes from world-wide contamination of the environment by lead from motor gasoline. That's the word from a California geochemist. He says the level of poisonous metal in the blood of the average American has risen to the point where symptoms of lead poisoning begin to appear. Now we'll have to worry about that along with such sleep chasers as atom bombs, hay fever, overweight and cigarette smoking. What next?

Today's smile: Two stenographers on a coffee break were exchanging confidences about their summer vacations. One said: "At Cape Cod I met a fellow who bragged about the size of his yacht. He was a jerk. When we went out in it he made me row."

George Stimpson, one of Washington's best-known correspondents in the New Deal era, set some kind of record for reading. He told us once that he had read the Bible from beginning to end at least 10 times and had read Shakespeare's works at least 30 times. Most folks never get around to reading either even once in their lifetime. . . . And speaking of Shakespeare reminds us that he could not have been a dog lover. He rarely mentions them in his plays and when he does he shows his dislike for them.

Thoughts while shaving: Maybe they won't like this in New Haven but Yale was founded by Harvard men. Seems that 10 Connecticut ministers got together one day in 1700 and planned a college for that area. Nine of the 10 were Harvard grads. And Elihu Yale, whose name adorns the university, never saw the college or New Haven. He was a London merchant whose generosity in founding and supporting the institution was recognized by the college officials and they reciprocated by naming the college after him. . . .

Pipe smokers will be interested to learn that pipes were probably invented by the American Indians. When the first white men visited North America they found the native Indians smoked wooden tubes stuffed with tobacco. The tubes were like a pipe without a bowl. One day, some bright Indian added the bowl to hold more tobacco and the idea caught on with the other braves and soon spread to other tribes. The European visitors copied the idea when they returned home. . . . Joan of Arc is revered in French history. Many believe her surname derived from Arc, a French village near Domremy. Actually, it results from the surname of her father, who was Jacques Darc. Her real name was Jeanne or Jeannette Darc. . . . Incidentally, the bronze equestrian statue honoring her on New York's Riverside Drive stands on an 18-ton pedestal of stone from the Rouen dungeon in which she was imprisoned. . . . The Newark (N. J.) STAR-LEDGER reported in a story: "David was fascinated by a globe of the world near the President's desk and he took Johnson over for a look at that." A befitting thing to do if Lyndon had not seen it before.

Country Editor speaking: "The one thing that gets kids to go to the movies these days is to include the ads." For adults only.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

A news report says that Miami Beach may be de-beached in another 10 years! The sand is being rapidly washed away.

Now folks, you wouldn't want to see those fabulous hotels go broke, would you? Billions will be lost if the sand is. Hundreds of thousands of people who went there to do nothing might have to move, or go to work. What is proposed to meet this crisis? You are, dear reader. You are going to put the sand back yourself. No, you won't be able to go to Miami Beach yourself. You'll just pay for the beach, so the rich and idle can continue to enjoy it.

It is proposed that all private beaches be made public, so the city can apply for a $17.5 million dollar Federal grant, (that's you) to have the beaches rebuilt. The Army Corps of Engineers (there's you again) already has about $30 million dollars to use for routine beach purposes.

Of course, friends, if you pay for the beach it means that it's yours. And that means, I suppose, that you can bring a tent and squat on the Fontainebleau beach any time you can find the space. That's the way Federal Aid works. Ah, collectivism! Ain't it grand? We (that's you again) must protect our natural resources, and sand is a natural resource, ain't it?

The first of America's natural resources to be completely exhausted will, of course, be the taxpayer. (Unless you're very rich or very poor — that's you again.)

New Frontiersman Theodore Sorensen, recently returned from visiting his friends in the Soviet Union, says the Soviets want Bobby Kennedy for President. So do I. He'd make a great President — for the Soviet Union.

Sorensen says, "L.B.J. is not held in high regard in Moscow." That makes it unanimous. But that's the nicest thing that's been said about L.B.J. in a long time.

The Ohio American Civil Liberties Union has now come out for the right of the individual to take "acid" — LSD, etc.

One of the best things that could happen to Ohio and the country would be for the ACLU everywhere to take a massive overdose of some drug — like strychnine.

"Citizens for Kennedy-Fulbright in 1968 have launched their campaign of surrender to Communism. A one-time fan of Fidel Castro is Oregon co-chairman.

That figures. Many folks alibi the anarchy in the big cities by blaming joblessness. Jobs are at an all time high, and so is prosperity — and crime. Jobs are going begging all over this country for one main reason: they involve work. The jobless want jobs like LBJ's former secretary's husband got: $26,000 a year and no duties.

Unblocking Suez in Return for Israeli Withdrawal From Sinai to Be Arab Strategy at U.N. Opening

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Arab leaders have developed a new diplomatic strategy for the opening of the United Nation's General Assembly this week.

Under plans coordinated with the Soviet Union, their diplomats will use the Suez as coinage in an effort to have the West take the lead in pressuring Israel to withdraw from former Arab territory.

The change in strategy was decided on at the recent summit conference in Khartoum, Sudan, but not announced at the time. Most of the Arab leaders agreed to the new approach after Egypt's President Nasser reported Moscow favored the switch, since it had no means of bringing diplomatic influence to bear on Israel.

According to U.S. diplomats, Lebanon, Kuwait and Saudi Arabia are to spark the new Arab diplomatic drive, since they have close ties with the U.S., Britain, France, and Italy.

The Arab strategy is to seek support of these four nations for a plan whereby Cairo would reopen the Suez Canal, closed since the Israeli-Arab fighting erupted, if Israel will withdraw from the Sinai Peninsula. This disputed area captured by Israel borders on the canal.

Israel-bound cargoes on non-Israeli ships, banned in the past, would also be permitted under the new Arab proposal.

While Israel has showed no interest in a "canal opening deal" without direct Arab-Israeli peace talks, the Arab diplomats believe they can win the West's backing for their plan because of the effects the closing of the canal is having on the European economy.

If the Suez Canal is not opened by the end of the year, the British and French governments have estimated that the cost in higher oil and fuel prices for Europe could total more than $900 million. Already, there are warnings in Britain that the price of gasoline could rise by 14 cents a gallon due to the higher shipping costs for bringing oil from the Middle East.

IMPORTANT LEVER — For the Arab nations, the canal is the strongest card it can play to get the Israelis out of Sinai.

Former British Minister of State Anthony Nutting, following talks with Egyptian leaders, reported to U.S. officials recently that the Arab leaders count less on a United Nations resolution than on Western pressures — because of the blocked canal — to secure an Israeli withdrawal.

United Arab Republic Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad told Nutting that the canal would remain closed as long as the Israelis are on the eastern bank and that the Russians have agreed to make up the difference in canal tolls with other economic aid.

This proposal would seem to be a repetition of the tactics used in 1957 to secure an Israeli withdrawal, not from the east bank, but from the Gaza Strip. They refused then to allow salvage work to begin on ships sunk astride the canal until given the required assurances on Gaza. On that occasion the waterway was blocked for five months.

U.S., British, French, and Italian officials are expected to give the new Arab proposal very serious consideration because of the explosive situation building up around the Suez Canal.

General Odd Bull, commander of the United Nations truce observers, has reported that clashes on the Suez Canal pose a dangerous problem.

In a report to the United Nations, he warned Israel is planning to block arrival of oil and other cargoes at Egypt's Red Sea port of Suez if Egypt fires again on Israeli positions in the canal zone.

HARDENING POSITIONS — The Secretary-General's report to the United Nations on Jerusalem will show that Arab-Israeli peace is still a distant mirage.

This report, prepared by Swiss diplomat Ernesto A. Thalmann and scheduled to be submitted this week, states that Israel intends to hang firmly onto captured old Jerusalem, regardless what the U.N. does.

The only ray of hope it offers is that other territorial questions are still considered negotiable by Israeli officials.

PREVENTING INFILTRATION — Although the nominating convention is still 11 months away, President Johnson is countering aplan to infiltrate the 1968 Democratic National Convention with supporters of Senator Robert Kennedy.

He is using the Democratic National Committee to expose the secret strategy of the Citizens for Kennedy-Fulbright, a New York-based national organization.

Their plan was outlined in a confidential letter from a member of the group's executive committee — a presumptive supporter in the Southwest who was regarded as a likely Democratic Party delegate to the 1968 convention.

The letter, a copy of which was obtained by the White House, urged the Democrat to try to get party officials to put him on the state's delegation. "But do not seem to be a

Nothing But the Truth

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Who Says They Can't Get a Job?

Either the frantic wowers of the black revolution are drowning in self-sympathy or the intelligent white majority have suddenly lost the courage to slap such fakers across the chops and throw them into the patrol wagon. The screams about frustration, about the terrible lack of "facilities" for recreation and the spiritual denial of individuals who want to sit on the laps of people who want nothing to do with them are inconsistent with good sense on the side of the white man. It is a long time since I had to gang up with other American kids in summer and lay out our own little ball-yard with flattened cans for the bases. But I remember those necessities quite well and I know we took care of our own needs.

The only ball-team in my neighborhood of Chicago was subsidized by a real estate dealer named Plummer, who was well acquainted with the cops of two precincts and most of the business men. Somehow, he maintained relations with a fellow who had played a little college ball and this youth took charge of the few balls that we had and the bats and the phone calls to arrange dates. He also planted our scores on the sport page of the Sunday Tribune and we were in business. The dirty rats always misspelled my name, though.

If we had had a few Negro players they would have had plenty to do, but I have no memory of such kids although we did have some colored families in our neighborhood which was called Lake View. It was largely a white neighborhood and most of those whites were native Americans intermixed, however, with Irish, Germans, Scandinavians and Poles.

We rocked along all right, however, and the best high school players were Negroes named Pollard. They were absolutely the best within miles with the exception of one tough Irish kid with the inconsistent name of Irving Barnett. His father was a police sergeant at Sheffield Station. Irving was the best fighter around and in one football game on the Lake Front he laid for one of the Pollards, a kid named Fritz, and belted him cold. Pollard had stepped out of line on one or two plays before that and Irving thought he needed some discipline. Later, Pollard was tagged for Brown University and became famous.

Barnett studied medicine at the college of Physicians and Surgeons and the next I saw of him he was back in Chicago doing duty as the surgeon of the old County Jail. He had been through the war with the British in France and I think he had the Victoria Cross, their equivalent of our Medal of Honor.

I do not know how he happened to go British. He had no British background but he admired them vastly and he was a brave man.

I read the rubbish which the Swede, Socialist Gunnar Myrdahl published about the time of Little Rock, thus enticing President Eisenhower into his crazy venture with the First Airborne in violation of the rights and sovereignty of the state of Arkansas. Later, in Sweden, I learned that Myrdahl was just a typical parasite of bureaucracy. I still have his Kennedy man", the writer warned "or they won't put you on the delegation. Instead, you can pretend to support Johnson and then vote for Kennedy once you get to the convention."

After studying the letter and conferring with his political advisers, the President decided the best way to counter the pro-Kennedy maneuver was to let loyal state and local party leaders, who have a voice in picking delegates, know about it.

On his instructions, the Democratic National Committee staff prepared and mailed out several hundred circulars quoting the letter and blasting the undercover activities of the Kennedy-Fulbright organization.

As a follow-up to the mass mailing, aides of the President and Vice President Humphrey called Johnson-Humphrey leaders in key states to discuss the undercover bid for Kennedy and their reaction to it.

Humphrey added a personal note in his calls by pointing out that the same persons behind the "hidden delegate" strategy were also actively urging labor union officials to pressure the President to dump him, Humphrey.

This movement is getting no encouragement from President Johnson.

books, which are no good if you ask me. There were no Negroes in Sweden but he presumed to impute awful woes to American Negroes because white people were aloof.

Now I read further that these Negro malcontents, who squawk to the housetops, can't get jobs. The hell they can't. They mean they can't get soft jobs at high salaries in public offices. But all this time, these years since 1955, I have not been able to get any job at all in my own country. After winning the Pulitzer prize in journalism for excellence in English composition, I suddenly found myself under a boycott all over my native land. I am still taboo, absolutely extinct; but if you think you will ever find Pegler on his knees to the rotten Democratic Party or the NAACP, the Anti-Defamation League, infinitum you don't know the principles of American manhood. And I am not frustrated. And I have my own "facilities" right here in front of me.

One beat-up old Smith-Corona, some sheets of paper and the guts of an American who will see them all in hell.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Diagnosis Is Called for When Chest Pains Occur

Q — I am 75. Sometimes when I take a deep breath or when I go out of the house I get severe chest pains. What sort of tests would I have to take to find the cause of this?

A — The chief causes of pain in the chest are pleurisy, tuberculosis, heart disease and arthritic involvement of the ribs. Diagnostic procedures would include a careful history and physical examination, chest X ray, electrocardiogram and tests for pulmonary function.

Q — My husband has interstitial pulmonary fibrosis. What is it and what can be done for it?

A — When an excess of tough fibrous tissue forms in the lungs it is known as interstitial pulmonary fibrosis. Since this decreases the elasticity of the lung tissues it makes breathing difficult. It may be due to a variety of causes and the cause should be determined if possible. In many victims relief has been obtained with hydrocortisone.

Q — My grandson has a fungus infection in his lungs. Is it serious? What is the cause and what is the treatment?

A — There are several fungus diseases that may affect the lungs — cryptococcosis, histoplasmosis, coccidioides and candidiasis, to name a few. The severity of these diseases is variable. Amphotericin B and other antibiotics are used in their treatment.

Q — Does a fungus infection in the lungs mean cancer? Are calcium deposits in the lungs an indication of beginning of cancer? What is the treatment for lung cancer?

A — There is no connection between fungus diseases and cancer in any part of the body. Opaque areas in an X-ray film of the lungs may be caused by tuberculosis, fungus infections or cancer. Other tests, such as microscopic examination of the sputum, must be done to confirm the diagnosis. In early stages of lung cancer surgical removal of the diseased portion is the best treatment. Mechlorethamine (a derivative of nitrogen mustard) and colloidal gold have benefited some victims of this disease. Deep X-ray treatment is also used.

Q — Does lupus erythematosus affect the joints or the kidneys? What is the cause of death in persons with this disease?

A — L. E. is a systemic disease that may affect any part of the body. It may cause death when irreversible damage to any of the vital organs (lungs, kidneys, brain or heart) occurs.
