BEFORE THE SHOW 'Wait Until Dark' was presented to Pampans Wednesday night. Pampa News staffer Jeff Holladay interviewed the star, Phyllis Kirk. Holladay reported the interview was more than pleasant.

Touring Actress Enjoys Thrilling Life on Stage

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Daily News Staff Writer

Traveling troupes are arduous and exhausting, but the smell of grease paint and the feel of the boards is manna for trouper like Phyllis Kirk, who starred in the dramatic suspense play "Wait Until Dark" last night in the Pampa High School auditorium.

Miss Kirk has worked in all the entertainment media—radio, TV, movies, and the stage—but like many actors and actresses, she still finds the "empathy" of a live stage a thrilling thing, she related in an interview yesterday at the Coronado Inn.

"The tour is exhausting. I only get about four and a half hours of sleep a night—" she said. "I'm very happy to have this role in 'Wait Until Dark.' It is one I think any actress would be proud to have."

This is not Miss Kirk's first tour, but she has never been on one like it before.

"When we were on tour in Mary, Mary" (in which she played the title role) we usually had runs of three or four weeks in one place. But since Kansas City, where the "Wait Until Dark" tour originated and where we had a three week run, we are constantly traveling. We were in Wichita Falls last night, in Dodge City the night before that, and we'll be in Tucson tomorrow."

In the midst of the interview, the charming actress received a telegram. "It's from my husband!" she joyfully announced. "We're still like a slender, petite actress said, 'but couple of kids.' Miss Kirk has been married—for the first time—to TV and motion picture director Warren Bush for nine months.

Did she find "Wait Until Dark" challenging?

"Yes. One of the first things I had to do was learn how to handle the more or less technical aspect of being blind. At the start of rehearsals I tried to do it by keeping my eyes closed, but after a few minutes I found the temptation irresistible to open them for a quick glance every now and then. So I tied a handkerchief over my eyes and learned to grope my way around furniture with assurance, but a little tentatively, taking bumps gently—as a blind person does in familiar surroundings."

Miss Kirk pointed out that while the play was not a tour de force of interpretative emotion as some plays by Shakespeare, for example, might be, the heroine Susy Hendrix did run the gamut from tenderness to toughness, from fear to humor.

"The important thing is that this is not a play about a blind girl. She happens to be blind. The main characteristic that Mr. Knott told me he wanted to bring out when he was writing the play is Susy's likability, her independence of her handicap. So my aim is to make audiences believe I am blind—and that I'm likable."

Although Miss Kirk has been the focus of most publicity for "Wait Until Dark", she lauded the efforts of James Tolson (See ACTRESS on page 3.)

Hanoi War Machine Could Have Ended

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. military chiefs claim they could have virtually paralyzed North Vietnam's war machine in 1965, if they had been given authority for massive air strikes against 94 key targets.

They told the Senate preparedness subcommittee civilian bosses vetoed their plan for a sudden air blitz. "This gave the Communists time to build up their antiaircraft defenses, the chiefs said in testimony disclosed Wednesday.

The testimony by Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, and Adm. T.H. Moore, chief of naval operations, added fuel to the congressional furor over the Vietnam war.

McConnell said the Joint Chiefs originally suggested that the United States put the squeeze on North Vietnam "with a very severe application of airpower."

In fact, our first target list was 94 targets which we intended to destroy in a total of 16 days," McConnell testified.

"It was the 2nd of March, 1965, and we recommended what we call a sharp sudden blow which would have, in our opinion, done much to paralyze the enemy's capability to move his equipment around and to supply people in the South."

But, McConnell said, "That was disapproved as a concept."

"If it had been accepted, North Vietnam would have had no defense and targets could have been hit with greater accuracy and without the antimissile and anti-MIG tactics now required," he added.

Barrett Elected Head of Chamber

Harold Barrett today was elected president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of directors late this forenoon. Barrett will succeed E. E. Sthamer.

Other officers elected were George B. Cree Jr., vice president, and Roy Sparkman, finance director.

Following his election, Barrett appointed Kay Fancher, Jim Hughes and W. C. Bass to one-year terms on the board of directors in accordance with by-laws of the organization.

The new directors and new officers will be installed at a dinner meeting of the board of directors on Oct. 17.

The chamber's annual membership banquet is scheduled for Oct. 24 in Coronado Inn.

Fresh Fighting Breaks Out in South Vietnam

Bloodbath Danger Remains in Enugu

Chamber Okays Hospital Bond Issue Proposal

Pampa Chamber of Commerce directors this forenoon endorsed the $850,000 bond issue proposal for modernization improvements to Highland General Hospital.

County Judge Sherman Lenning also announced that first petitions asking the county commissioners court to call the bond election were placed in circulation this morning.

Judge Lenning said approximately 1,100 signatures will be needed to initiate the election.

The law requires signatures of ten per cent of the county's qualified voters at the last election. They must be property owners, Lenning stated.

Petitions will be circulated by the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations, the Chamber announced.

Thunderstorms Hit Panhandle

Sporadic thunderstorms dropped rainfall ranging from a trace to an inch in the Pampa area last night.

Downtown Pampa received approximately half an inch, while three miles north only a trace was recorded. Ten miles south of town, an inch of rainfall fell. Twelve miles east of here, thunderstorms dumped an inch of moisture, while seven miles further south only .25 was recorded.

According to weathermen, the shower activity is being caused by the advance of a rather weak mass of Pacific air. So far only an area from the Oklahoma Panhandle to the Amarillo area has received rainfall, but the front is expected to set off more shower activity today as it moves south.

Most of the Top O' Texas area recorded high temperatures yesterday in the low 90s.

United Fund Drive Begins

The General Solicitations Division of the Pampa United Fund campaign got underway this morning with a breakfast in the Coronado Inn.

J. C. Roberts, general drive chairman for the division, introduced all captains and workers present and urged them to finish the job in "short order."

Roberts challenged the workers by offering choice beef steaks to the team that brings in the best percentage of their assigned goal.

The Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the keynote address and urged everyone to work to meet the goal.

Group majors of the division are Ray Duncan, Harold Daugherty, Rev. Gene White, Ted Gikas, George McCarrell, John McCausland, and Jim Hughes.

Check-in meetings for the division are slated for Oct. 12, 17, and 19.

Lightning Sparks Fire In Area Home

LEFORS (Sp) — The home of Mrs. Jess Graves, Lefors, Justice of the Peace, was struck by lightning and damaged during an electrical thunderstorm last night.

Lefors received more than an inch of rain and areas near Pampa received an inch.

Lefors received one inch and .60 where Mrs. Graves house was struck in the city limits.

The lightning struck a vent pipe to the living room stove and started the fire in the living room, according to Fire Chief, J.C. Jernigan.

The living room walls, floor and ceiling were burned and other rooms sustained smoke and water damage, but firemen contained the blaze before it could go through the roof.

Mrs. Graves was in New Mexico visiting her brothers and a sister. Her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wagner, discovered the fire when they (See LIGHTNING on page 3.)

U.S. Casualty Total Soars Past 100,000

SAIGON (UPI)—American casualties in the Vietnam war have soared past 100,000, a U.S. spokesman said today. More than half have been killed, wounded or captured in the first nine months of this year.

The report came as fresh fighting broke out in South Vietnam, and as U.S. warplanes intensified the North Vietnam air war.

The planes hit targets in Hanoi and Haiphong and for the second consecutive day struck within seconds flying time of the Red China frontier.

The spokesman said one plane, a U.S. Air Force F4D Phantom, Wednesday became the 589th of the war to be shot down over North Vietnam. Both pilots are missing.

Hooded Gunmen Rob Millionaire Du Pont Family

MIAMI (UPI)—Five hooded gunmen barged into the bay-side mansion of Willis H. Du Pont early today, tied up the millionaire and his family, ate their pork roast and fled with their $1.5 million Grand Duke Mikhaiovitich coin collection.

Police said the robbers promised to get in touch with Du Pont's lawyer later today and give him a chance to buy back the coins—the finest collection of Russian coins outside the Soviet Union—$200,000.

The gunmen, apparently disgruntled because the 31-year-old millionaire wasn't "working to earn a living like everybody else," were careful to get his lawyer's name before leaving.

The bandit broke into the 42-room mansion at about 2 a.m. told Du Pont they would "blow your brains out" unless he opened two safes, and then bound and gagged the millionaire, his wife, their 4-year-old son and their maid and butler with neckties and curtain cords, but during the ransacking of the mansion, which took two hours, they kept the Du Ponts well informed about their 1-year-old child, who was sleeping.

"As robbers go, they were pretty courteous," observed Du Pont, the son of Mrs. Lamont Du Pont of Wilmington, Del.

Police Lt. V. E. Kennedy said the five bandits "wore white hoods and gloves, spoke with New York accents and used bad grammar." He said they also dropped a $10,000 bill to their haste to leave the estate on Biscayne Bay in Miami's Coconut Grove section.

South Vietnamese troops sweeping muddy Mekong Delta rice paddies 46 miles southwest of the city reported heavy fighting with an estimated 200 guerrillas. First reports said 31 Communists were killed.

In Saigon, the military spokesman said the fighting around the DMZ was responsible for a large part of the American casualties last week.

Wei Says Viet War Was In Red China's Plan to Conquer World

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The movement for peace in the free world is not calculated to bring about the desired result.

Lose Objective

On the contrary, Wei said, "it can only reinforce Peking's and Hanoi's conviction that they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by rejecting all proposals for a negotiated settlement."

The minister, whose country strongly backs U.S. policy in Vietnam, called the Communist offensive "a systematic and unabashed war of conquest."

"Indeed," he said, "it is not even a war between the two Vietnams. It is in reality the unfolding of a master plan formulated by Mao Tse-tung, Ho Chi Minh's partner in the master plan is the subjugation of the Republic of (South) Vietnam.

But Mao Tse-tung aims at something much bigger, much more ambitious than this: he seeks to conquer the whole of the Asian and Pacific region, with world domination as the final objective.

Wei also reviewed the progress of Red China's cultural revolution and the probability of collapse for the ambitious plans of Mao and "his close comrade in arms, (defense minister) Lin Biao."

Fight Destroys Party

Wei, whose pro Western government was driven to Taiwan by the Communists two decades ago, and Mao and Lin have done a good job of smashing up the party and the administrative machinery of the mainland.

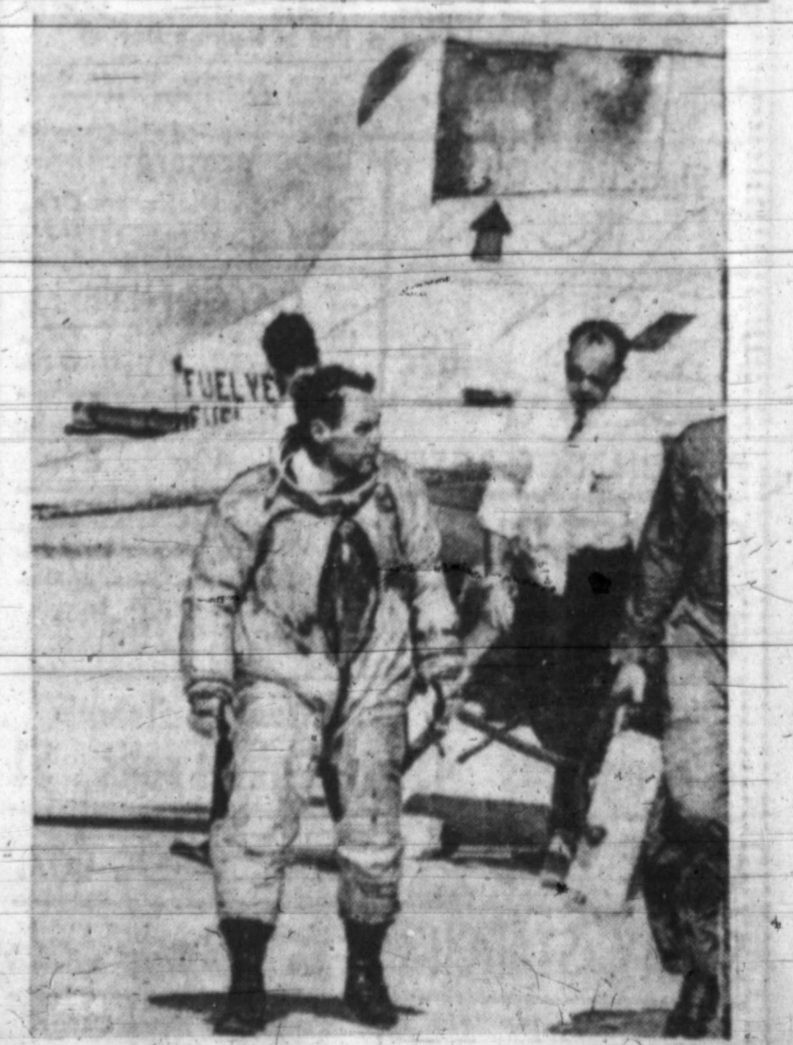

"Chaos has prevailed in all except five of the 26 provinces and two of the dozen or so municipalities," Wei said.

"The campaign to liquidate Liu Shao-chi, the regime's so-called chief of state, goes on with frenzied intensity.

"Yet Liu Shao-chi, though no longer capable of exercising his duties as president of the regime, continues to live in his official residence in the old imperial city. He is out but remains unliquidated. This is proof of the inherent weakness of Mao's position in the current struggle.

"The Peking regime continues to exist. But it seems to us that it is already moribund.

"Neither Mao Tse-tung nor Liu Shao-chi can survive the Both are bound to meet with utter defeat.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Moody's Investors Service said that while stock prices should move higher the market may face increased pressure and greater irregularity in the coming weeks. The analyst, however, says that on the near term internal divergences are likely to be more important than the general market trend.

E.F. Hutton & Co. says the bulk of trading interest remains on the buy side and that weak issues seem to be so more from a lack of buying than selling pressure. The company says that if the market's recent action is any indication, it is beginning to look as if the bears may be on the verge of forfeiting another opportunity.

The Dines Letter says the stock market is now "in a binge" quite comparable to early 1961 and late 1965, and says that a "severe shakeout" will follow. The adviser says the broad outlook for computer, electronic, optics and nuclear energy stocks is "astronomically higher" and suggests that investors regard the next shakeout as "another splendid opportunity to accumulate selected glamor shares."

Roger Wagner Chorale Here In Concert Tomorrow Night

The Roger Wagner Chorale will appear in the Pampa Junior High auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday night as the first concert in the Pampa Community Concert Association's 1967-68 season.

Admission will be by membership card only and there is no box office sale of tickets.

Roger Wagner, the conductor, has chosen for his program in Pampa fascinating series of highlights from the world's musical repertory for chorus. The chorale is accompanied by full orchestra.

Beginning with both sacred and secular music of the Renaissance, introduced by a Gregorian Ave Maria, Mr. Wagner has programmed music of the Baroque, Romantic and Contemporary styles in the concert's first half. He devotes the second half to folk music from Japan, France, Latin America, Spain, ending with Sea Chanties and Negro Spirituals.

Victoria, Sweelinck, Palestrina, Passereou, De Lassus and Jannequin are the composers chosen for the Renaissance. No less a composer than J. S. Bach represents the Baroque. Five Love Waltzes by Brahms and the Recitative and Scherzetta from Berlioz's "Roméo and Juliet" are drawn from the Romantic Period. The Lacrymosa from Benjamin Britten's celebrated War Requiem and Gloria from Finkham's Christmas Cantata are the contemporary pieces listed.

Probably America's most famous choral group, the Roger Wagner Chorale has toured widely at home and abroad. Its records for Capitol have long been among the industry's best-sellers. Many of the selections on the program in Pampa are available on that label.

Distributive Education Club Installs Officers

Lin Engle, 1966-67 president of Pampa Distributive Education Club, has installed Jerry Jones, a Pampa High School senior and second-year D. E. student, as president of the DECA Club of Pampa High School.

During Jones' first year in distributive education, he attended the district D. E. contest as a sales demonstration competitor, and is now employed through D. E. at the Pampa Daily News.

Other new officers installed were Kathy Nail, vice president; Anna Johnson, secretary; Diane Webb, treasurer; Rossa Hobbs, historian; Donny Nail, parliamentarian; Billy Davis, photographer; and Jeanie Hunter, reporter.

Miss Nail, a senior and a second year student, is employed by Video Theaters. She entered the student workbook contest in Pampa last year.

Miss Johnson, a first year student, is a senior employed in a Coronado. Center department store. Miss Webb, a senior, second year D. E. student, won first place here in the notebook contest and was allowed to enter it on the state level.

Miss Hobbs, a cashier and department manager at a downtown department store, is a first year D. E. student. Nail, another first year student, and a senior, works as warehouse and stock keeper at a Coronado Center department store. Davis is a department manager at a Pampa grocery store.

Miss Hunter, a first year student, and a junior, is a sales clerk at a Pampa fashion store.

After officers took their oath of office, and heard speeches from Engle and Jones and from C. W. Forbes, the D. E. coordinator, parents attending the program learned functions of D. E. and saw exhibits of materials D. E. students use in class and on their jobs.

Pipeline Welders Ceremony Planned

PLAINVIEW (SPL)—Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha will hold a brief ceremony near Plainview Friday marking the final weld in its new Kemir, Texas, to Beaver, Okla. Pipeline.

Construction of the 360-mile, 30-inch line began early last June. The line is expected to be "in service" November 1.

Northern vice president William B. Haas and R. H. Fulton of Lubbock, whose company was the prime contractor for the job, will be on hand for the ceremony.

The 47 million dollar project will enable Northern to transport natural gas from the Permian Basin of southwest Texas to the company's market areas in the Northern Plains states.

The final weld will be the

'Wait Until Dark' Performance Hailed

By JEFF HOLLADAY

"Wait Until Dark" was everything it was cracked up to be.

It was exciting, thrilling, chilling.

After a somewhat faltering start in the first scene, the cast performed like the seasoned troupers they are and went on to give performances ranging from more-than-adequate to stellar.

Particularly outstanding were Phyllis Kirk, James Tolkan, and Joseph Mascolo. Miss Kirk played heroine Susy Hendrix convincingly, making her a warm, likable person and a courageous and formidable opponent for the three thugs. Her blindness never failed to be convincing, but she went far beyond the mere technicality of playing a blind person to give Susy Hendrix courage, warmth, humor, and likability. James Tolkan, who played the original role of the master thug on Broadway, had a challenging role and did it more than justice. He was menacing, but a sometimes over done accent took some of the sting out of his role. Perhaps the most "believable" bad guy was Joseph Mascolo. He played his role perfectly. Gemma Dennis sometimes over played the role of Gloria, the neighbor's daughter who is also heroine

Susy Hendrix's friend and helper, but she gave an over-all good performance.

Frederick Knott's drama was a gem, and the pace and action and suspense came to a final and chilling crescendo that really did elicit those screams that is was supposed to.

Proper Storage Helps Cut Fruit Costs

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

To get 100 per cent use of every dollar you spend for fruit, select items in good seasonal supply and store them so that none is wasted.

These practical tips for keeping fruit will save you money.

If apples are firm-ripe, keep at room temperature until they've softened to your taste. Then refrigerate.

Soft-ripe fruits such as apples, pears, and plums, should go into the refrigerator, but need not be covered.

When bananas have reached the stage of ripeness which you prefer, place them in the refrigerator for two or three days.

Keep melons and peaches at room temperature until they've softened, then chill. Pears are always firm-ripe when picked, generally firm when purchased. Let them soften at room temperature in the bag in which they came from the market.

Dampen a sheet of paper towel and tuck into the bag. This releases just enough moisture to help the tenderizing process. Do not, however, wait for a green winter pear like Anjou to turn yellow or red, because they never will!

Peel pears and cut into eighths. Combine sugar, water, lemon juice and salt in saucepan. Bring to boiling point. Add pears to hot syrup. Cover and cook 15 to 30 minutes or until tender, but not until they lose their shape. Add vanilla extract. Cool. Add fresh orange sections. Chill. Serve in sherbet glasses. Five to six servings.

4 fresh pears
1 cup sugar
2 cups water
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 cup fresh orange sections or cartwheels. . . .

POACHED FRESH PEARS and oranges is a tasty and money-saving dessert.

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK — Fiery food is only a small part of Mexico's diversified and often subtly seasoned cuisine, says Elisabeth Lambert Ortiz.

Mrs. Ortiz, whose Mexican-born husband, Cesar Ortiz-Tinoco, is a United Nations press and publications official, was introduced to the milder side of Mexican cookery at a dinner party in Mexico where pollo al-mendrado verde — chicken in green-tomato sauce — was served.

"It was an absolute eye opener — very mild and delicate with a whole new set of flavors," she said in an interview.

The London-born Mrs. Ortiz said that her interest in the history and traditions of Mexican cookery grew as she and her husband traveled deep into the provinces. But she got no where when she began seeking recipes.

"In Mexico, the lady of the house doesn't cook," she said. "The servants cook but not from written recipes."

So she began figuring out recipes from meals they'd eaten — and from her husband's memories of his grandmother's cooking in the northern state of Durango.

She also read Spanish language Mexican cookbooks and the notebooks of an early 16th century Spanish friar priest who described banquets and market place food in such detail that she was able to reconstruct recipes.

Extensive trips in Spain and Portugal helped her distinguish between Spanish and Portuguese recipes and Mexican derivatives — one of which she traced, not to the Iberian peninsula but to the Normandy region of France. She theorized that lomo de puerco con manzanas, pork chops with apples, was introduced during the reign of Emperor Maximilian in imitation of a Norman dish that uses apple brandy.

From all this research came a new cookbook "The Complete Book of Mexican Cooking" (Evans), which contains recipes for both mild and peppery dishes.

Mrs. Ortiz said that today's Mexican cookery uses pre-Columbian cooking methods from the Aztec and Inca empires with many ingredients of Spanish and Arabic origin introduced during the conquest. Among those ingredients are nuts used instead of flour to thicken sauces; spices such as clove, and cinnamon; beef, lamb, pork, milk, and other dairy products, raisins, olive oil, sugar and rice.

Food Buying Guide October Is Season For Shrimp Dish

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Weekend shoppers can make their selections from attractive arrays of meat and poultry and fruits and vegetables.

At fresh produce counters there will be plentiful supplies of cabbage, onions, and potatoes. In some areas, lettuce and tomatoes are also expected to be plentiful.

Apples will be in good supply in most areas and grapes in some areas.

Broiler-fryer chickens are in excellent supply in most areas and so are beef roasts and steaks. Pork loin roasts again include bacon and roasts. Frozen fish fillets and steaks are in good supply in most areas.

TILE BRIGHT
Perk up a gloomy entryway or a dark, dull hallway with modern, colorful ceramic tile. This multiple-unit, sustaining lets you create distinctive patterns and designs on walls and floors.

Q — When will shrimp be more moderate in price? We love shrimp cocktail.

A — Fresh and frozen shrimp particularly small and medium-sized ones, are expected to be plentiful during October. That indicates prices will be more moderate.

Other important foods on the plentiful foods lists include broiler-fryers, potatoes and oranges. It's wise to plan your menu around them. They should be attractively priced.

Prison Rodeo Stars 'Bank' Their Prizes

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—The broncos buck no less frenetically and the bulls are just as ferocious, but the men who hang grimly to their mounts don't spend their prize money the same way as their counterparts in countless rodeos all over the country.

In fact, they don't even collect currency. Their winnings go into an account and they use their hard-bought earnings to pay for generally simple things in the commissary of the Texas State Penitentiary.

The riders are convicts, mostly lifers or long-timers, and they challenge the bulls and the broncos for many reasons during the four annual performances of the Texas prison rodeo.

A lot of people take advantage of October's normally bright blue weather to pack the 28,000 seat arena at the prison each Sunday during the month. The cheers and applause are abundant and may be the convicts' primary motives for participating, according to Richard Jones, who is in charge of the rodeo.

"They think they are helping the 12,000 convicts have a better go by earning some money," said Jones. "I think the applause they get is the chief thing they do it for."

Jones said the rodeo earns about $180,000 a year for the prison and the convict-riders help zealously to bring it in. The money goes for such things as athletic equipment, an education program, medical attention and other benefits for the inmates.

The high winner usually earns from $400 to $600 and spends the credit rather than saves it, Jones said.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—There are, as I have oft' remarked, events of such surpassing consequence they cannot be adequately chronicled by the pen of modern man. Particularly sports writers.

At such times, I invariably turn to the words of William Shakespeare.

Last year I selected lines from his works to bring out the full flavor of the decline and fall of the New York Yankees. It was the greatest tragedy since "Hamlet."

This year the American League has presented us with another incredible happening—the rise and triumph of the Boston Red Sox.

Feeling again that only Shakespeare can do it justice, I have invited the immortal bard to be my guest on "Dugout Chatter," the pre-game interview show:

Q: Will, how do you Red Sox fans feel about Boston winning the pennant?

A: "As merry as the day is long. We are such stuff as dreams are made of. How sweet a thing it is to wear a crown. It adds a precious seeing to the eye."

Q: "You sound rather hoarse? Do you have laryngitis?"

A: "Fory my voice, I have lost it with halloing and singing of anthems."

Q: It's been suggested that Boston didn't so much win the pennant as the other contenders lost it. Would you comment on that?

A: "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon 'em. The weakest goe to the wall."

Q: It's been 21 years since Boston last won the pennant and last year the Red Sox finished ninth. What brought on the change of fortune?

A: "The smallest worm will turn, being trodden on. The night is long that never finds the day. What's gone and what's past help should be past grief. The bitter past, more welcome is the sweet."

Q: Please give us your opinion of Carl Yastrzemski, Boston's batting champion.

A: "A man of my kidney. He hath indeed bettered expectation. Why, man, he doth bestride the narrow world like a colossus."

Q: How about Dick Williams, the manager?

Wanda Mae Huff, Women's Editor

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been married 13 years and have three children. My husband has asked me for a divorce, and he has gone to room at his girl friend's house. He wants to take the children there for weekends. Do you think I should let them go? He came to get them for the day and he had this girl in the car with him. What do you think of flaunting that girl in front of me and the children? He has asked me for a "peaceful" divorce. He doesn't want to mention her in the divorce and he's asked me to go easy on him when I ask for alimony and support money. He also expects me to help with the bills, but he still wants to claim the children as exemptions on his taxes. I've worked all the years we were married. He worked only off and on. He's unemployed right now. What advice can you give? Two heads are better than one.

INQUIRING DEAR INQUIRING: I vote for you. All mouth-to-mouth kissing is somewhat hazardous from a hygienic point of view but a kiss between lovers somehow justifies that risk. DEAR ABBY: I am desperate and actually sick for worrying about something you will probably think is a trivial matter. My son will have his ninth birthday soon, and I have decided against giving him a birthday party this year for the simple reason I do not know how to keep the mothers away. Last year I had more uninvited guests at my son's birthday party than invited ones. This is what I mean. A mother "brings" her child to the birthday party, and she'll also bring along one or two of her younger children saying she couldn't leave them at home. Then just stays. (Most of these children live within a mile of us.) Abby, this means extra ice cream and cake, plus plates, cups, and napkins, which I really don't mind so much, but it is impossible to put on a birthday party for children and try to entertain adults at the same time. What can I do? If I say the party is for children only, some of the mothers might get mad and refuse to let their children come. If you, or other mothers have any ideas on how to work this out, I would be very grateful. DEAR BAFFLED: If you have friends who drive, perhaps as a favor to you they would collect children whose mother would have been made in Fort Worth for 30 people from Pampa.

NEEDS HELP DEAR NEEDS: Two heads ARE better than one, provided they aren't on the same person. Don't allow your children to week-end with their father and his girl friend. Tell the boob there ain't no Santa Claus and let your lawyer work out the best financial arrangements possible.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion on mouth-to-mouth kissing. My husband and his mother kiss each other on the mouth and sometimes it is so mushy, you would think they were sweethearts, not mother and son. Not only that, but my husband kisses our children on the mouth—even our 14-year-old son!

I wouldn't think of kissing our children on the mouth Abby. I kiss them on the cheek and teach them to return my kisses the same way. I think this communicates enough affection between parent and child. Who is right, my husband or me? We have had some hot

Rookie, Boston Ace Pitch Today

Brock Leads Card's Assault

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox came back with their ace, 22-game winner Jim Lonborg, against the St. Louis Cardinals today in hopes of tying up the World Series—that is, if they can stop Lou Brock from "stealing" the show.

Lonborg, who pitched the pennant-clinching game for the "miracle" Sox last Sunday, was slated to oppose the Cardinals' Dick Hughes, a fast-baller who won 16 games as a rookie at the advanced age of 29.

With Lonborg on the hill, the Red Sox were rated even-money in today's second game. But the Cardinals, on the strength of their 21-1 triumph in Wednesday's opening game, now are 3-1 favorites to win the series for the second time in four years.

Crucial Game
If the lanky Lonborg can't turn off the Cardinals' attack that accounted for 10 hits in the opener, the story of the "Boston miracle of 1967" could be nearing a sad end. If the Sox go to St. Louis tonight trailing 2-0 in games, they will have to win St. Louis

Two out of three games in the Cards' home ball park to stay "alive" and bring the series back to Fenway next week. Lonborg will come to grips with his problem right away, when he faces the Cards' leadoff batter. That's Brock, the little centerfielder who practically stole the opening game as he scored both St. Louis runs, tied a series record—with four straight hits, walked once, and stole two bases.

That's why the Red Sox will be trying to play a game called "stop, thief" today.

King Pleased With Way Raiders Look in Practice

By United Press International
Coach J. T. King said his Texas Tech Red Raiders, pepped up by their 19-13 victory over Texas last week, are "getting their feet on the ground" and are ready for Mississippi State.

It was the first time Tech has beaten Texas in an SWC game.

"The Raiders realize Mississippi State has a good team," King said, "even though the Maroons have lost two games—but to two undefeated teams."

And at Fayetteville, Ark., Coach Frank Broyles said his Razorbacks were in high spirits despite two pre-conference losses to Oklahoma State and Tulsa.

"We cut our practice session down because we seem to know what to do," Broyles said. The Hogs take on Texas Christian Saturday at home.

Broyles said end Hartford Hamilton is still working on a dummy to protect his nose, injured against Tulsa.

TCU coach Fred Taylor was not quite as pleased with his team's workout Wednesday.

"We didn't do anything right," Taylor said.

The Horned Frogs are looking for their first win since 1956 over the Arkansas Razorbacks in the conference opener for teams.

Wheeler Eyes 'Cats

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Sports Writer
Canadian will get the opportunity Friday to see if he should really be considered as contenders for the District 1-A crown and three other area teams will be trying to inch into the victory circle for the first time in five outings.

The Wildcats of coach Dwayne Currie will play coach J. T. Hill's Wheeler Mustangs in Wheeler and both will enter the contest with 3-1 records.

Wheeler might have a slight edge over the Mustangs because they have only done extra point kicking since. That's probably all he will do Friday night.

Elsewhere in area action Lefors, Groom and Miami will try for the fifth time this year to win a football game.

The Pirates play Perryton B District 2-A's McLean Tigers (1-3) and Miami plays a conference game for the second straight week, going to Esteline. Perryton plays at Caprock Saturday and White Deer, back on the winning track will let Bovina try to crack its rock-like defense.

Canadian has posted three straight victories, all of them by shutouts. The Wildcats have not been scored on since their opening game, when they lost to Booker, of District 5-B, 28-0.

They have beaten Follett, 32-0; Lefors 17-0 and Vega 14-0. Follett and Lefors are both of District 5-B and Vega is always a Class C school.

The virus and injuries, two regulars are still out, had hurt the Wildcats in their first two games. They are about at full-strength now.

Canadian has the two top scorers in the Top O' Texas area in Johnny Curtis and Gary Purser. Curtis leads with 26 points and Purser has 25.

Wheeler is still without the services of fullback Fred Goad who led the area in scoring last year as a junior.

Goad scored 16 points in the Mustangs opening game but

Casper Choice In Alcan Meet

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Chunky Billy Casper, professional golfer, leading money winner last year, remained the solid favorite as play got underway today in the $129,000 Alcan Golf Tournament.

The steady-shooting Californian, who had two practice rounds of two-over-par 74, was installed as 7-2 favorite in the event being played over the old St. Andrews Course.

Gay Brewer and fellow-Californian George Archer, along with left hander Bob Charles of New Zealand, were considered top challengers in the 72 hole event, which continues through Sunday.

Brewer, Archer and Bobby Nichols of Louisville, Ky., all had practice rounds of par 72 Wednesday to stamp themselves as contenders.

Eleven Americans, six Britons, one Irishman and Charles made up the exclusive field in which the winner will pocket $55,000. Other Americans competing included Doug Sanders, Gardner Dickinson, Miller Barber, Mason Rudolph, Dave Stockton, Homero Blancas and Bert Weaver.

STRATTON SIGNS... PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Center Art Stratton, a high-scoring veteran of minor league play, has signed a one-year contract with the Pittsburgh Penguins of the National Hockey League.

Stratton, who won three most valuable player awards in the minors, scored more points than any other professional hockey player over the last five years.

Winning Football Games and How to Lose

By BUD WILKINSON
Before the season the experts generally were agreed that Notre Dame, Alabama and Miami were the best or at least among the best—college football teams in the nation. Now, after six games, their combined record is two victories, three defeats and one tie.

Texas and Michigan State have combined for an 0-4 record. If this isn't genuinely shocking, it at least is something that few, if any, of football's wise men would have predicted of these two quality teams.

Bob Zupke, the famed Illinois coach, once defined an upset as merely a victory achieved when the experts termed it impossible. This has been, so far, a season of, achieving the so-called impossible. And since upsets will continue to occur, we should examine their nature.

First, there is more college football talent in the country now than ever before, and it is more evenly distributed. There are excellent football teams in what may seem to you to be unlikely places.

This partially explains why teams like Arizona, Arizona State, Tulsa and Houston have defeated Ohio State, Wisconsin, Arkansas and Michigan State. In this era, any major school may be the equal of any other.

The day is past when a team, a conference or an attempt can dominate the game for any length of time. There simply are too many good football players and too many good coaches. There always will be a Purdue waiting to ambush a Notre Dame.

To fully understand the true upset it is necessary to understand football and human nature. Football is a physical game, but it also is a game of emotion.

All teams must be able to run, throw, catch, block, tackle and kick effectively, but the physical margins usually are small.

Thus, the element of emotion of desire to win, can tip the scales. The physically inferior team, with superior desire, can defeat a potentially better team.

Put another way, football is a fight, and no one ever won a fight who didn't want to fight.

The overconfident team will try to win on its "form" gain an opponent who is making a desperate effort.

By the same token, the team lacking confidence is in an equity bad situation. If it is frightened, or awed, it is actually beaten before it takes the field.

The perfect football mental attitude is a combination of the two. The team emotionally ready to play has high hopes of winning, but has great respect for its opponent—even to a genuine fear that the game will be lost with anything less than total effort.

With the physical margins so narrow as they are, mental preparation can be the decisive factor. If both teams are equally ready—emotionally, superior physical ability will win, but human nature being as it is, this balance seldom occurs. The team which is prepared to make an all-out effort on every play, and which is confident it can win if it gives its very best, is the team most likely to win.

If also is the team most likely to register an upset.

Lee seventh (1-1) hosts Borger Austin and Pampa seventh (1-1) plays at Dumas.

THE LEADER for the Pampa Harvesters in rushing and scoring is Chris Kenny, senior halfback. He'll play a big role in Pampa's game with Palo Duro Friday night in Amarillo.

OFFENSES WEAK

PD, PHS Have 50 Points

By RON CROSS
Palo Duro and Pampa will have one thing in common when they meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Dick Bivins Stadium.

Neither team has done much scoring. The Dons have scored 22 points in posting a 1-2-1 record while the Harvesters have 18 total points and a 0-4 record. Both have played two common foes, Dumas and Wichita Falls. Palo Duro tied Dumas 0-0 and lost to Rider 20-0 but was inside the Raider 20-yard stripe three different times.

Pampa lost to Dumas 69-6 and Rider 55-6 and never threatened besides their touchdowns. Palo Duro was in much more of a scoring drought when they came to Pampa last year. They had not scored in four games and, needless to say, had a 0-4 record.

Pampa was 3-1 but when the Dons left town they took the 22-0 victory with them, having gone 215 minutes and 20 seconds before they scored. But when they did the drought ended quickly. Pampa has had nothing but trouble with the Dons since the series began in 1956. Of the 11 games played Palo Duro has won 10 times with Pampa only winning in 1955.

The Pampa defense, which should be given a helping hand this week with the return of seniors Dickie Henley and Steve Summers, is nearing a record. One they don't want to break.

Through four games Pampa has given up 173 points, just 111 shy of the all-time school record.

In 1961 Pampa gave up 284 points in 10 games and finished 2-8. The Harvesters have given up an average of 43 points per game. Should they keep this up they will, at seasons end, have given up 431 points.

If they can keep averaging one touchdown a game, then they won't have to worry about being the lowest scoring team in Pampa's history. A touchdown a game would give them 60 points, one more than the 1960 team scored enroute to a 0-10 season.

Palo Duro has been almost as tight giving up points as they have scoring them. The Dons have given up 53 an average of 13 per game.

Palo Duro has been helped by the closing of Caryer High School and most of their early problems has been one of players learning new positions.

They do return six starters, the least of whom is not half-back-quarterback Bobby Wilson. It was Wilson who spelled death to Pampa last year. He passed 40-yards to Buster Hamilton then ran for two touchdowns himself.

USC, UCLA Try To Enhance Grid Ratings

By United Press International
Southern California and UCLA, crosstown rivals in Los Angeles, meet rivals from opposite ends of the country Saturday as they strive to keep their high college football ratings.

USC is top-ranked, but only by the narrow margin of one point over No. 2 UCLA. The Trojans gained their prominence by knocking off Texas and Michigan State two weeks running. They now meet scrambling Stanford, anxious to get its share of the California headlines.

UCLA faces tough Penn State, one of the powerhouses in the East. The Kittany Lions stunned Miami of Florida 17-8 last Friday night after dropping a 23-22 opener to Navy.

Hebert Leads Cougars
A crowd of 48,000 is expected to watch third-ranked Houston's No. 1 scorer in the nation, Ken Hebert, work over North Carolina State in the Astro-dome. The Cougars come off a 50-6 triumph over Wake Forest while N.C. State also boasts a 3-0 mark to earn the ranking as the 20th best major college team in the country.

Purdue, going the No. 4 rating after its upset of Notre Dame, could be in for a rough tussle this time against Northwestern, a team that surprised Miami of Florida earlier this season. But with sophomore Mike Phipps pitching and halfback Leroy Keyes doing almost everything else, the Boilermakers should escape the fate of the Hurricanes.

Notre Dame, the defending national champion slid to seventh after its loss to Purdue and now goes after another Big Ten opponent, Iowa, to recoup Irish prestige. Quarterback Terry Hanratty smashed all sorts of N.D. passing records last Saturday and should penetrate the Hawkeyes just as easily.

Among the other ranked teams, No. 5 Georgia faces South Carolina, sixth-ranked Nebraska collides with Kansas State, No. 8 Missouri tackles Arizona, No. 9 Colorado, after last week's layoff, hooks up with Iowa State and No. 10 Alabama, its record marred by a tie with Florida State, plays Mississippi.

Elsewhere around the nation, it's Army vs. Duke in the East; also Colgate vs. Cornell, Colmbia vs. Princeton, Dartmouth vs. Holy Cross, Harvard vs. Boston U. and Pennsylvania vs. Brown.

SOUTH—Auburn vs. Kentucky, Florida vs. Louisiana State, Georgia Tech vs. Clemson, Maryland vs. Syracuse, North Carolina vs. Vanderbilt and Wake Forest vs. Virginia.

Midwest—Illinois vs. Indiana, Kansas vs. Ohio U., Michigan State vs. Wisconsin, Michigan vs. Navy, Minnesota vs. SMU, and Idaho vs. Montana State.

Southwest—Eaylor vs. Washington, State, New Mexico vs. Utah, Texas AM vs. Florida State vs. Wisconsin, Michigan State, Texas Tech vs. Mississippi State and Tulsa vs. Idaho State.

West—Wyoming vs. Brigham Young, Washington vs. Oregon State, Oregon vs. Ohio State, and Utah State vs. Memphis.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Union Pushing Tax Spending

Congress must provide jobs, housing and schooling to eliminate rioting and civil disturbances in the nation, according to a petition being circulated by the AFL-CIO Communication Workers of America.

Individuals who last weekend marched in a "Support Our Servicemen" parade in Los Angeles were handed beautifully printed copies of the Communications Workers' petition which asserted:

"Only the Congress of the United States has both the responsibility and authority to pass the laws and appropriate the funds for jobs, housing and education needed now by the millions of impoverished Americans."

Cussers and Doubters

President Johnson's speech writer did a dilly a few days back when he had the chief pitchman for the Great Society hoping for the day when "the cussers and the doubters will be relegated to the rear."

Those two classifications take in a lot of territory and man power these days. If the White House press corps is to be believed, President Johnson himself is a candidate for membership.

It is a prerogative of presidents that they can't be quoted verbatim unless an official transcript is put together with a figurative ribbon and seal on it; otherwise, so we hear, a lot of family newspapers would be using dots, dashes, and asterisks to record the Texan's more pithy comments on certain of his enemies and erstwhile friends.

Pay TV, Minus Bureaucrats

Broadcasting magazine has some interesting comments on a new home entertainment gimmick which is coming on the market. Says Broadcasting:

"CBS Labs may have invented the perfect pay-television device. Its new film-cartridge playback machine, if installed in a significant number of home receivers, could create a whole new system of television distribution by mail or retail store."

DON'T BE FRIGHTENED OF THE FUTURE

I was just reading what Dr. C. Merle Crawford, of the Graduate School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan, had to say about the future of man and marketing circa 2,000 A.D.

As Dr. Crawford sees it, man will be physically perfect and obviously the product of test tube growth. He'll only have to work about five or six percent of his whole life.

Dr. Crawford does see one small fly in the Utopian ointment. He hasn't yet figured out what the man of the future will do with his spare time.

In his spare time the man of tomorrow will seek greater and greater amusement and entertainment, each appetite jaded by repetition and violence.

Of course, if the scientists get around to mass production of human personalities, it is conceivable that they will turn us all into termites and we'll have the perfect anti-hill society.

But, to be realistic, the professor's dream is far more apt to go up in a puff of atomic fallout than it is to come true.

As for the doubters, the rear is generously peopled with those already. Most of the citizenry is hanging back in its enthusiasm for some of the Great Society measures that we can think of.

Indeed, the polls indicate an increasing number of doubters about President Johnson himself. He made a reputation as a whip in Congress where he was whipping and dealing with his own element.

Perhaps it all goes to prove something we heard in a nifty way some years ago, to the effect that no horse trader ever made a success of running a livery stable.

Those of us who saw hopes for private enterprise entertainment in the cable-conducted pay TV, which flourished in the political maneuvering in California, hope Broadcasting is right that there appears no way the FCC can seize control over this new equipment.

Whose Brains Are We Washing Today, Colonel?

Hit and Run Guerrillas Hard on Reds

By RAY CROMLY
WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There is a more effective way to prevent North Vietnamese infiltration south than Defense Secretary McNamara's very expensive "wall" near the 17th parallel in Vietnam.

On the border of Laos and Thailand, this reporter spent some time talking to a young Thai army captain who had operated four years as a guerrilla in Laos fighting the North Vietnamese.

In the record books, of course, the captain wasn't a Thai officer during this period—but a Laotian. His job wasn't to stand and fight; it was to harass the Red forces and cause them injuries.

When invaders infiltrate through an area, both their troops and supply columns, whether men or truck, must have rest and resupply points along the route where the men get food and the trucks are gassed and repaired.

Harassment doesn't stop the flow of supplies and men. But it does make Red infiltration considerably more costly.

For one, these teams can be effectively replenished by air. A variety of tiny, inexpensive sensors can keep these counter-guerrillas aware of where the enemy is and what he's doing. Some of the more advanced sensors, sown by airplane, can pick up conversations.

President Defends Polish Tariff Concessions Despite N. Vietnam Trade; Gives Priority to $2-Bridges to Poland

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is stubbornly persisting in his efforts to expand trade with the Soviet bloc despite the step-up of military aid to North Vietnam by these Communist nations.

A graphic illustration of this policy occurred last week when the President succeeded in getting Senate-House foreign aid conferees to kill an amendment that would have forced withdrawal of Poland's "most favored nation" status under U.S. tariff laws because of her shipment of arms to Hanoi.

This legislative action, behind closed doors, came at a time when three Polish vessels—Kopnicka, Benowski, and F. Ceynowa—were in Haiphong harbor unloading military equipment for the North Vietnamese.

The amendment barring the highly-prized tariff concessions to Poland was overwhelmingly approved by the House last month after being offered by Representative Paul Findley, R-Ill., a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The President's advisers, after succeeding in keeping the ban out of the Senate version, took his fight against the Findley amendment to the House-Senate conferees meeting to iron out their differences in the foreign aid legislation passed by the two bodies.

On the request of Secretary of State Rusk, Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Senator Frank Church, D-Ida., vigorously attacked the amendment in the conference.

Question Box

Q—How serious is peptic ulcer? Will it cause stomach cancer?

A—Peptic ulcer is not to be taken lightly, because of two complications that may occur in persons whose ulcers are causing little or no distress.

Q—Is age a factor in the cause of bleeding peptic ulcers? Can they be cured?

A—Factors that lead to bleeding include chronic alcoholism, severe emotional stress, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and excessive use of aspirin, cortisone, phenylbutazone and similar drugs.

Q—What diet should I take for a duodenal ulcer? What other treatment is necessary?

A—During the acute phase a bland diet of milk or gelatin meals, two hours between meals, during the day, plus antacids, will get the healing off to a good start.

Q—About two hours after my evening meal I get a gnawing distress in my stomach and an urge to eat again. Could this be caused by an ulcer?

A—This type of history is typical of a peptic ulcer but a test of the acidity of your gastric juice and x-ray studies should be done to confirm the diagnosis.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROWN...
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Gunsmoke and Carol Burnett, two veteran television favorites whose popularity was doubted at CBS before the season began are turning out to be keystones of the network's ratings success.

The early statistics indicate Miss Burnett's weekly hour is a sleeper and that her audience is devoted. She has done quite well in the numbers game. "Gunsmoke," meanwhile—like the old "Perry Mason" show—seems to hold its audience no matter where it is shifted on the network's schedule. It's on Monday now.

In fact, Monday is the night when both Miss Burnett and "Gunsmoke" appear. And if both shows can maintain their appeal, it is very likely that the Monday lineup—as in CBS-TV's halcyon rating days—will be the chief factor in that network's lead.

Comedies Provide Power
Some years ago, three situation comedies—the Lucille Ball, Danny Thomas and Andy Griffith shows—were the back to back Monday night powers that propelled CBS-TV to runaway ratings triumphs.

Miss Ball and Griffith are still in the middle of the CBS-TV Monday lineup, and they have been joined by "Family Affair," a hit of last season as the network rebuilt its situation comedy triumvirate.

But "Gunsmoke," an hour which opens the Monday schedule, and Miss Burnett, who closes it with a hour of her own, are the real keys to the night.
