Marine Leaguers Applaud Truman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—President Truman made an unheralded visit to the Marine Corps League's meeting today and expressed hope there will never be another misunderstanding between him and the Marines.

The action, coming at a special session of the commission, apparently cleared the way for the construction of a modern supermarket at the intersection, Safeway Stores is reportedly in the process of closing a trade for the property with tentative plans for erecting a new store which, with parking space, will cover the half block facing south on 8th street.

Such powers are embodied in the defense production bill now awaiting his signature. One thing the President did say positively was that there would be no military dictator and that all controls necessary will be under civilian administration.

CIO HINTS

President Could Ease GE Dispute

By HAROLD WARD
Associated Press Staff
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. — The CIO's electrical workers hinted today that President Truman could ease the dispute at General Electric Co.'s strike-jittery defense plants by naming a fact-finding board.

Such a board could look into the contract battle which already has idled 32,500 members of the CIO's International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and threatened to send another 23,000 out on strike if government peace efforts fail.

James B. Carey, administrative chairman of the IUE, said the union was hoping that meetings called today by Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching would bring about a settlement.

But if those sessions don't help, Carey said he would recommend appointment of a presidential fact-finding board to investigate the issues and recommend a solution.

Carey told a news conference the IUE would agree to be bound by the board's report if General Electric would make a similar advance commitment. He added, however, that the company once rejected an offer to arbitrate.

A decision whether the additional members will strike or not will be made by the conference board representing 42 units in General Electric plants, Carey told reporters.

That board, with about 50 members, will be at a mid-city hotel during and after the conciliation sessions to be attended by Carey and the IUE negotiating committee.

The union is asking for a "package" of contract concessions totaling 15 cents an hour. The company has offered the equivalent of a 10-cent hike, but has refused to assume the employees' share of hospital and pension payments.

Carey said there were many more issues, such as liberalized vacations; two additional paid holidays each year including election day; restoration of cost-of-living raise increases and a profit-sharing program, both of which were dropped when the company granted other wage demands a few years ago.

More than two-thirds of the auto industry now is committed to the plan of paying wage increases when the government's cost-of-living index rises—and cutting them when it falls.

Driller Is Injured

Leonard Mullenix, driller for the Charles E. Long Drilling company, was treated at Cowper hospital about 4 a. m. today for injuries received when pipe elevators fell on his right hand last night.

Part of the fingers on Mullenix' hand were crushed in the mishap, doctors said. The accident occurred as casing was being run in a well north of here.

ALLIES COUNTERATTACK IN THE NORTHEAST—Counter-attacking American and South Korean forces on the northern front (1) have driven Red guerrillas out of Yongchon and have battered back northward from Kyongju, southwest of Red-held Pohang. In Taegu area (2) where British troops are now in action, allied troops consolidated their positions and beat back two attacks down the "bowling alley" corridor north of the city. In the south (3) Yanks and Marines continued to advance against Yongsan bridgehead. In the Haman area Reds were balked in an attempt to infiltrate U. S. lines. Reds were reported massing in force at Uiryong (underlined) in the south sector. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Without Painful Backache
As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complaints of sagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headache and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

West Europe Faces Serious Inflation Unless Reconstruction Spending Cut

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Staff
PARIS, Sept. 7.—Directors of the International Monetary Fund warned Western Europe today that it faces dangerous inflation unless reconstruction spending is reduced.

The international money experts also asserted that continued wage increases will push export prices up to a point where vital American markets will be lost.

The statements were contained in a 150-page report made public at the current meeting of the board of governors. The governors, representing 49 member countries, rule both the fund and the International

Bank for reconstruction and development.

The directors voiced a viewpoint directly opposed to that of strong left wing parties—both Communist and non-Communist—in West Europe.

Those parties maintain wages must be raised to meet increased living costs, and tremendous reconstruction jobs still must be done. By contrast, the fund directors said the danger of inflation would persist "as long as government expenditure and private investment continue on the present scale."

government spending.

Last year's devaluation of European currencies, the fund experts said, had been an important aid toward helping Europe pay for its imports from America. Devaluation cut the price of European goods and made them more attractive to the American market.

But wage increases would make export prices creep up, the report declared, "and if this attitude is carried to the extreme where every rise in prices must be compensated by a corresponding rise in incomes, the effect of devaluation in reducing dollar export prices must be completely lost."

Three INS News Reporters Killed In Plane Explosion

TOKYO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Three International News Service war correspondents, four other passengers and four crewmen were killed today when a Korea-bound C-54 transport plane exploded over southern Japan.

The INS office here said the three correspondents were:

Frank Emery, 23, Beverly Hills, Calif., formerly INS bureau chief in Manila; Charles Rosecrans, Jr., 30, Honolulu, and Ken Inouye, 23, New York and Tokyo.

Military authorities withheld names of the dead. The Far East Air Forces said the plane exploded about eight minutes after leaving a southern Japan airbase. The bodies were recovered. The cause of the explosion was not determined.

Emery was wounded recently while accompanying a U. S. patrol in Red Korean territory. Randolph Churchill, British newsmen, and son of the former British prime minister, was hit at the same time.

Sixteen war correspondents now are listed as dead or missing in action.

America Has A Record Polio Hangover As Yet Under Care

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—This year America has an all-time record polio hangover.

The hangover is about 20,000 cases, still under medical care from last year and before that. There is always a polio carry-over because the crippling cases take so long either to get well, or to reach that stage which is the nearest they can every hope for. This year is the biggest because last year's greatest of all epidemics, 42,375, left a legacy of more than 10,000 carryover cases.

The estimate of 30,000 is from the records of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which carries the largest burden of polio expense, but by no means all of it. There are other sufferers who may swell the 30,000, but there is no means of estimating their numbers.

This polio legacy is not wholly black. For the backlog of suffering is serving to spur more and more permanent facilities for treatment. A few years ago there were almost no permanent polio treatment centers and only a few emergency doctor and nurse teams.

The average number of polio cases is steadily rising. Twenty thousand a year used to be considered a terrible epidemic. Today that number is hardly more than average. This year's peak, shows signs of running not more, or not much more than, 200,000.

There seems no prospect of reducing the aftermath. The average crippling in polio is 20 per cent. Iron lung cases are the most spectacular. Today there are 300 victims of previous years still in iron lungs. Add 200 new cases this year, making 500 iron lungs now in use in polio. The foundation's iron lung plant alone is close to a million dollars.

The average cost of an iron lung case is $17.50 per day. The top cost in the foundation's records is $40 a day. Last year 42 states received foundation respirators. So far this year 26 have asked for still more. August 22 the foundation was running low in iron lungs and bought an additional 10. That same day there were emergency calls for six. The other four remained in stock a few days.

Texas last year obtained 22 foundation respirators, and this year has added 63. California, in the same time table, stands 26 and 25. A similar build-up is under way in other equipment. A Texas hospital that was equipped two years ago with the expectation of needing polio equipment for only a year is now in its third season, with still more equipment added.

The foundation officers believe this freeing of equipment in widely scattered areas ultimately is going to insure all areas with quickly available standby aid for polio.

The biggest gain is in trained doctors and nurses. The foundation sends special teams to hard hit areas. So many teams have stayed so long in one place, that most of the area's medical personnel has learned the techniques. This medical skill is the best and only remedy for polio.

Last year the foundation spent about $26,000,000 on the epidemic and the carryover of previous years. This year so far an additional $10,000,000 has been spent. But the largest part of the medical expenses is still ahead. Even though the new cases may be falling in September, the medical costs will only have just begun. The long term cases cost the most. Only the healthy can pay such polio bills.

Workshop At HCJC Still Continuing

Dr. W. R. Woods, Washington, D. C., concluded two days of counseling with the Howard County Junior College staff Wednesday. The HCJC workshop continued in full force.

It will not be concluded until Friday, said E. C. Dodd, president. Dr. Woods, who is on the staff of the U. S. commissioner of education, went to Odessa for two days with faculty members of the junior college there.

Much of his time here was devoted to clarifying the idea and place of a community college, and in helping faculty members develop a concrete philosophy for HCJC's function.

The community college program, he said, was a logical extension of the American ideal that every person should have the opportunity to do as much toward an education as he was capable of doing. "If every citizen has not made use of the college, he ought to," Dr. Woods declared.

He drove hard at the philosophy that the community college should serve the individual to the end he might make the most of his talents. A companion objective until now neglected, he said, was that the individual should be made to realize and discharge his responsibility to his community.

In the continuing sessions of the workshop, a preparatory experience for faculty members prior to opening of the college for its autumn semester, attention will be paid to the facilities of the college, how it is supported, how it operates, and an extensive study of the economy and sociology of the community it serves.

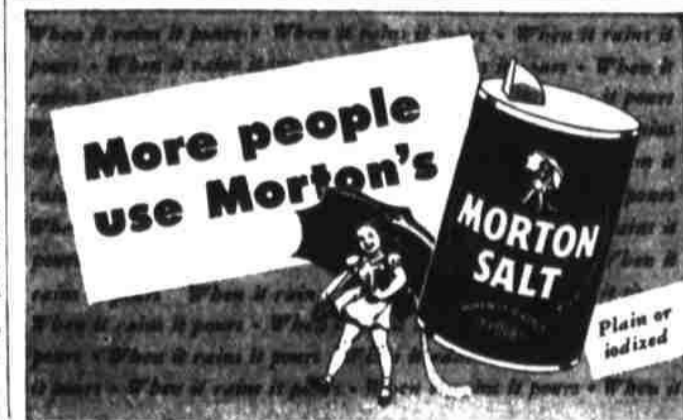

Oklahoma's football team threw yards lost rushing per game during 1949.

Pep And Saddler Await Struggle

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—It was the calm before the storm today for featherweight champion Willie Pep and Sandy Saddler.

Their long training grind for their 15-round title bout in Yankee Stadium Friday night was over. They had nothing to do now but mark time until the weigh-in ceremony tomorrow.

The 28-year-old champion arrived in New York last night after showing brilliantly in his last workout at Hartford yesterday.

Four New WTCC Committees Set To Study Reorganization Plans

ABILENE, September 7. Four important committees have just been named by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce President J. M. Willson, Sr. of Floydada, to act between September 1 and January 1951 with reference to the present and the future proposed reorganization and revitalization of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

For the annual fall convention of the organization, scheduled for Mineral Wells, October 19-22, the following have been placed in charge of the program for the two-day session: Clyde Westfall, Stamford; Chairman; Buell Orr, Graham; L. D. Aston, Cleburne; Anthony Fenoglio, Nocona; J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth.

A committee to study and plan the organization's program of work for 1951 consists of Jerry Debenport, Odessa, Chairman; R. W. Whippley, Big Spring; Clarence Whiteside, Lubbock; C. E. McCutchen, Wichita Falls; Clarence Leonard, Gainesville; Price Campbell, Abilene; J. R. Wright, Vernon; P. C. Stacy, Granbury; James N. Allison, Midland; Amon G. Carter, Jr., Fort Worth; Howard Gault, Hereford; Alton B. Bell, Crowell; Howard Vaughn, Levelland; Carl Harrison, Memphis; Aubrey L. Townsend, Brady.

If the present plans materialize, the 1950 convention program will be broken down into panels by subjects where members of the organization will attend the panel in which they are most interested. Members of the 1951 Program Committee will meet with each group to record the suggestions made for consideration to be included in the 1951 program of work.

A committee on nominations for 1951 includes: Roy Bourland, Pampa, Chairman; J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls; John Couch, Haskell; Lawrence A. Hagy, Amarillo; A. M. Muldow, Brownfield.

Florida Citrus Crop Escapes Storm Damage

LAKELAND, Fla., Sept. 7. (AP)—Almost complete reports show Florida's bumper citrus crop got by all right from the twisting hurricane which hammered so viciously at parts of the Gulf coast.

Robert C. Evans, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, said he expected little damage from the high winds.

He said he had heard of no serious harm although the full report of the big blow was not in from all areas.

He reiterated what others said—that the rains which were more valuable to growers than any harm the wind might have caused. The hurricane whistled about Florida as the state was preparing to begin marketing its estimated 100 million-box citrus crop.

Two Texans Held On Kidnapping Charge

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Two Texans were held in Gretna Jail near here on warrants charging kidnapping under state law.

Sgt. N. J. Khoury of Louisiana State Police said the men were booked as Aubrey Lee Berry, 38, of Dallas and Samuel M. Snow, 37, of Boyd, near Fort Worth.

Khoury said that Billy Sid Pickett, 28, of South Kender, La., who told officers he was forced to accompany the two men yesterday, was returned safely to his home today. Khoury said the trio had been principals in a financial transaction.

Panama Hits Reds

PANAMA, Panama, Sept. 7. (AP)—Panama's supreme court today upheld a cabinet resolution condemning Communism.

In a 3 to 2 decision, the court held that the resolution does not violate the constitution but added that it should be regarded as only a statement of policy.

Class A Clubs Face Busy Card

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

Texas Class A football teams rip into action in more than 100 games the next three days and it's no practice tilt for a few.

Wink meets Fort Stockton and Seminole tackles Crane in games that count toward the District Five championship.

The heavy schedule sends most of the pre-season favorites to the gridiron.

Defending champion Littlefield, a South Plains power takes on Lockney. The wing T formation of the Wildcats rolled to a 32-6 victory over Crosbyton last week.

New Braunfels, a finalist in 1948 and in the playoff last year, opens against Peacock Military School of San Antonio. Weldon Bynum's Unicorns are figured one of the best teams in the sprawling Class A division of the interscholastic league program.

Undefeated teams were easy to find last year when the 32 district races were completed. Arlington, rated the best in 12-A this year, hopes it will be one of these this season. It opens against Birdville-Mexia, which lost to Littlefield in the championship game at Abilene last December, runs into tough New London in its opening game. Brownfield, which tried competition in Class AA for a few years, has an inter-sectional game with Lovington, N. M.

Several schools which long compete in Class AA are in Class A this season. Two of them—Sulphur Springs and Bonham—tangle Friday night. Electra, which was in Class AA last season, meets Abilene in its first game.

Schools with an enrollment of 250 students but less than 500 are classified Class A for athletic purposes. But you can find more than one school in this division with less than 250 students. These can be voted in by other schools in their particular district. One, Lefors, last year won its district championship. Most of the Class A teams meet on Pharr-San Juan-Alamo in the Rio Grande Valley.

There's been a decided West Texas flavor to this division since it began playing for a state championship. Monahan won the first title and Littlefield the second.

MORE EMPLOYED

Meat Prices Due To Go Up Shortly

By SAM DAWSON
Associated Press Staff
NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Because more people have jobs than ever before, and because the wages of many workers are going up, meat prices will probably go up in the fall and winter than you did last year.

This is a reversal of earlier promises, which had held out hopes of a big drop in meat prices this fall. There's lots of meat running around in the pastures or sticking up in the feedlots, and great quantities will move to market between now and Christmas.

But more Americans are going to have more dollars in their pockets. And the appetite for meat moves in close unison with the amount of money around. So that the big jump in the supply of meat which the government has been promising you in the coming months is going to run right into a big jump in demand.

And the price won't come down as much as you had been promised, and maybe very little at all—almost surely, it won't drop as low as last winter.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics lays the blame on the war in Korea. It gave an initial shove to civilian industrial production, still ahead are the defense programs which are expected to put even more people to work, increase purchasing power even more by spring.

And if the armed forces grow to three million, a lot of meat will leave the civilian markets, for fighting men eat more than factory workers.

Employment in August hit the highest mark in history, the Commerce Department reports. Standing at 62,367,000, it topped the previous high of July, 1948, by 750,000. People at work eat more, and are willing to spend more.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicts more cattle will be slaughtered this month and next than in the same period last year. But heavy demand will keep prices fairly high, and later in the year the outlook is for "steady or possibly slowly rising prices."

Pork eaters may have it better. More hogs are expected to go to market than last fall and a seasonal 18 to 20 per cent drop in prices by the end of the year is forecast. However, if defense spending keeps pork demand high, the bureau says, hog prices will stay above the 1949 level.

Higher lamb prices than last year are predicted this fall because fewer of them will go to market this year than last.

Anderson Fort Worth Talk Now Seems To Be Doubtful

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—speaking date. A spokesman said Gen. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, declines.

The spokesman said Anderson would be free to speak if he is restored to duty, but that he could not speak if Vandenberg removes him from the post.

If Anderson is removed, he could retire from the service and keep the speaking date.

Sugar And Molasses Cookies Made By Grandmother Are Hard To Beat

SUGAR COOKIES from the cookie jar make a tempting arrangement as well as a delicious treat.

Grandmother's cookie jar has come back to stay but now it is apt to be filled with many delectable dainties which would probably have amazed that estimable lady. The fancy teatime tidbits are nearly as exciting to make as they are to eat. Then there are the sugar and molasses cookies approved by Grandmother that are still hard to beat.

Cookie-baking day is a special one in most homes. The smell of spice, molasses, fruits, nuts and leavening arouse the appetite and the imagination. And the final result is worth every bit of the anticipation.

If you are planning a tea, nothing can be better as refreshments than an assortment of your favorite cookies—the crunchy and chewy along with the soft varieties.

The 17th Culinary Arts Institute cookbook includes 250 recipes for cookies including rolled cookies, filled cookies, molded cookies, refrigerator cookies, drop cookies, cookie bars, curled wafers, macaroons, meringues and klases and Christmas cookies.

The following recipes are included in the cookbook:
Butterscotch Fruit Bars
 1/2 cup butter
 2 cups brown sugar
 3 eggs, well beaten
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 4 cups cake flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon soda

Styles Of The Bloomer Girl Days Bloom Again

It's the men who sit up nights figuring out how to make high-waisted bloomers that will have a say in some of the women's fashions this fall. It is they who are responsible for the mass of television asexuals that clutter roof tops, and also the multitude of fashions that clutter the television screens under the roofs.

Daring television actresses have introduced and revived many of the styles that are to be worn this fall. This includes everything from the new Dior "guitar silhouette" to bloomers.

A century later, bloomers are quite the thing again. In the interest of modesty, TV actresses have their full skirts paired with matching bloomers which are not supposed to show except by an extra strong flip of the hemline. They are styled knee-length or just a trifle longer.

It was Amelia Jenks Bloomer, American dress-reformer and women's rights advocate who introduced them at the First Woman's Right Convention at Seneca Falls, New York on July 19, 1848. Her idea in reforming women's dress was the wearing of a short skirt with loose trousers gathered around the ankles. The name "bloomers" gradually became popularly attached to any divided skirt or knickerbocker dress for women.

Using a shade as well as a style from the past, one bloomer and skirt set accents lilac. The black jersey skirt is decorated with pale lilac embroidery that matches the pants, which are edged in black lace. And it's quite a hit in New York.

Fashion-conscious TV fans buy them, and costume history repeats itself.

Misses California And Connecticut Are Favored In Preliminary Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7. — Miss California and Miss Connecticut won preliminary contests in the Miss America Pageant last night, but any of their 52 rivals may still beat them in the finals.

In the first preliminaries, Joanne Durant of San Diego, Calif., beat 17 other girls in a bathing suit contest with a song, dance, and comedy monologue depicting a woman trying to sell cosmetics.

The judges who were assigned to talent rather than to bathing suits were not entirely cheated out of poe art. Miss Hawaii — Dell-Fin Poaha of Honolulu — presented them with a hula dance as her talent.

Judges rate the girls on the basis of the preliminary contests, and also on the basis of personality as noted by judges at the daily breakfast table. The 15 with the highest totals will appear in final talent, bathing suit, and evening gown competitions on Saturday, and from the 15 a new Miss America will be chosen.

Mrs. Durant stands five feet, five inches tall, has a 35-inch bust, 24-inch waist and 35-inch hips, all of which come to 112 pounds.

This year's winner will be Miss America 1951, and will succeed Jacqueline Mercer of Phoenix, Ariz. — Miss America 1949.

There never was a Miss America 1950. The pageant directors decided to begin dating the beauty queen a year ahead beginning this year.

Patterson Named Supervisor For Soil District

Farmers elected Morris Patterson supervisor of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District at a meeting at Elbow Wednesday. Patterson will represent the farmers and landowners in Zone 5 of the district, replacing Joe Carter. Carter served two years of his five year term before moving out of the district.

After the election, the farmers made a tour to observe soil conservation measures in the Elbow conservation group. Among measures they saw were blue panic grass planted on R. C. Reed farm, and range improvement on Larkin Longshore ranch.

At a stop on Patterson's farm, the group looked at summer peas planted in two-row strips with feed for a soil improving crop.

The feed stubble will be left on the land for protection against blowing and to add organic matter to the soil.

The crops were farmed on the contour with large size terraces on Patterson's field. All the measures observed by the farmers were part of the coordinated program of soil and water conservation applied by the district cooperators.

Frank Loveless and Edgar Phillips, district supervisors in Zone 2 and 3, attended the meeting.

Mrs. Cotter Hiatt Visits Health Unit

Mrs. Cotter Hiatt, Midland, senior secretary for the Midland-Ector-Howard Health Unit, was a visitor at the local city-county Health unit today.

Plans are being mapped for the well-child conference to be held here Sept. 15. Mrs. Eleanor Hawley, State Health department maternal and child health consultant and Margaret Cunningham, field consultant for the state agency, are to be on hand for the conference which will be held at the Health unit.

New Canadian Taxes To Be Set Tonight

OTTAWA, Sept. 7. (AP)—Finance Minister Douglas Abbott is expected to announce new taxes tonight in a speech on the new budget in Canada's house of commons.

Abbott on Tuesday presented an $850 million appropriations bill to cover defense expenditures and arms aid to Europe. Increases are expected in taxes on corporations and on luxuries, such as automobiles. Some observers believe personal income taxes will remain unchanged.

Nation's Weather Shows Little Change

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—The nation's weather pattern of the past few days showed little change today. The cool belt was from east of the Mississippi River to the Atlantic coast. It continued warm over the northern plains and most of the western states.

Temperatures again early today hit near the freezing mark in some parts of Michigan.

Most of the country had fair weather.

Belgian State Head Celebrates Birthday

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 7. (AP)—Flags fluttered from buildings and windows throughout Belgium today as the country honored the 20th birthday of its chief of state, Prince Royal Baudouin.

This was Baudouin's first birthday on Belgian soil since the age of 13. In the intervening years he was a prisoner of the Germans and later in exile with his father, King Leopold III, while Belgians wrangled over the royal question.

The royal question was settled Aug. 11 when King Leopold handed over part of his prerogatives to Baudouin.

Congressmen Pass Army Mental Test, Think It Too Hard

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 7. (AP)—Three New Jersey congressmen passed the Army's mental test, but they still claim it's too hard.

Reps. Rodino and Addonizio of Newark and Howell of Pennington took the tests after hearing that one out of every four New Jersey inductees were turned down for mental reasons. Rodino said the Army's high mental standards are forcing it to draft physically inferior men and married men.

Jury's Report Calls Attention Of City To A Serious Problem

One of the city's festering social sores has gained official recognition in a report from the 118th district court grand jury. Although not all of its report was written, it was plainly the sense of the investigative body that the situation in northwest Big Spring had gotten out of hand. This was based, said spokesmen, on incidents which had come to its attention even within this single session. Indications are that some previous grand juries had taken somewhat the same stand, although no official reports to the effect were filed. This being the situation now, reasoned the jury, the present season with its influx of migratory workers and possible importation of Mexican nationals promises worse conditions. Add to this the weekend infiltration of area good-time charlies drawn by things they don't have at home and an explosive package looms in the offing.

President's Marine Statement Is Ill-Advised And Unfortunate

Ill-advised, untimely and unfortunate was the statement of the President in assailing the U. S. Marine Corps for what he considered propaganda progress. Rep. Gordon McDonough (R-Calif.) had written the President suggesting that the Marines be given a place on the joint chief of staffs. There has been considerable agitation centered around the Marine corps during recent months, so much so that Pentagon sources at one time suggested dissolution of the corps as such. This of course, created such a reaction that the heat was turned on in every direction. The letter from the congressman probably caught the President smarting and irritated. His reply, in which he accused the corps of having a "propaganda force that is almost equal to Stalin's" may have been spontaneous. However, it must also have been calculated, for he directed it to a Republican congressman, the most assured means of seeing that the intemperate statement would be promptly and fully aired. If the President was upset by the suggestion from Rep. McDonough, his reply upset the nation. The Marines, fighting in Korea with other components of the armed services, were stunned. So was every person who sensed the need for unified effort and the maximum of harmonious action. The remark was the kind one might expect from a hot-headed disputant in a street corner debate. That it came from the President is a rebuke unto him. Last week Mr. Truman handled the MacArthur foreign policy statement hot-potato with utmost delicacy and diplomacy, reflecting some shrewd counsel. When he is again disposed to flare up, he would do well to seek that counsel again.

Individual Importance Is Not Answered From Atom Viewpoint

PROFESSOR CLARKE GOODMAN, Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist, advances the highly explosive thesis that Americans should be graded for admission to atom bomb shelters "on the basis of their importance to the United States." The professor explains that "we can't build shelters for everybody" and that selectivity is necessary because "some people are more important than others." Whether we look at this proposition from the standpoint of making a choice between communities or between individuals in a given community, we come up against the problem of "who" is to decide on the grading in this question of life or death.

need troops they have plenty of women save the men first." SO THE ORDER WAS EXECUTED in that fashion, but fortunately they managed to save both men and women. However, such good luck couldn't be expected in the atomic selectivity because, as the professor says, we can't build shelters for everybody. Somebody would be inflicted with the tough job of choosing sides. And what a job! Let us hope we never come up against any such decision. Still, Professor Goodman indirectly gives us what should be a useful reminder. That is to check and see whether we are contributing all we can to the general welfare in these difficult times. Certainly a lot of us would be expendable if it came to making a choice for atomic shelter. But there will be a mighty sight less chance that an atomic shelter will be needed if everybody turns to and finds useful civil service to which he can contribute.

I'M REMINDED OF AN INCIDENT IN World War I. During the height of the German submarine campaign a Japanese convoy was proceeding through the Mediterranean with Australian troop ships. They were carrying both soldiers and women nurses to the fighting in France. A German submarine registered a direct hit with a torpedo on one of the transports which quickly started to sink. The Japanese admiral in command gave the order: "Save the men first, and then the women." A young Japanese officer on the bridge with the commander diffidently said to his superior: "You mean, sir, save the women first and then the men?" "No," snapped the admiral. "The allies

A LITTLE INJURY WILL DISCLOSE many feasible contributions which can be made in conjunction with other civic minded folks. The least one can do is all possible to aid unity and high morale. Economic stability can be promoted in numerous ways, one of which is the purely negative contribution of refusing to hoard supplies. There are numerous welfare programs which need volunteer workers. And so it goes. And that still leaves unanswered the question of how important the individual is from the atomic viewpoint.

Korean Christian Migration One Of Greatest Of Our Time

WITH THE U. S. SECOND DIVISION, Korea. Thousands of South Korean refugees were prodded down a dusty road today to get them off the main supply route to the fighting front. South Koreans and U. S. military police were doing the prodding. There must have been 3,000 to 7,000 of the homeless—stretched out in single file over 10 miles of road. They were the innocent bystanders of a war in whose making they had no part. And it didn't help their understanding to be boosted along—at times by force. Unable to make one aged and bewildered Korean understand that he and his ox must move to the side to make room for a truck, an MP just pushed him over then flailed the ox to one side with the butt of his carbine. TO THEIR CREDIT, THOUGH, I SAW other MP's passing out cigarettes and occasionally cans of ration. One dust-caked GI handed an aged woman a candy ration from his pocket. She said her thanks and moved on. These people were refugees from the fighting around Yonggan. Driven from their homes, they walked down the nearest road away from danger. The Army decided they should walk back. They were being herded back to Yonggan and then north to shelter where presumably they would be in nobody's way. The column was made up mainly of old men, women and children. One of the few young men in the column trudged by, head down, with an old woman strapped to his back. She had been shot through both feet. One by one they struggled by, heads bent against the swirling dust from passing trucks. Even the very small children, boys and girls alike, were carrying loads big enough to stagger an average man. ALL WERE IN RAGS. THEIR FACES were greenish under the dirt. They talked very little. On occasion, some raised their faces for a moment, deadpan. Under a broiling sun they wailed "mizu, mizu," Japanese for water. Some dropped out of the column to fill hats, buckets, anything, with water from the rice paddies. I saw several of the very aged, bent beneath tremendous loads, drop by the wayside to rest. When uninformed Koreans decided they had rested enough, they ordered them to move. From the military standpoint, the move was essential. Under the circumstances it would not do to have refugees cluttering the supply route, slowing the movements of materials for the front.

Capital Report—Doris Fleeson

Acclaim Of The Nation Will Greet Bradley's Five-Star Generalship

WASHINGTON — Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be made a five-star general within the near future and there will be dancing in the streets of the Capital. Chairman Vinson of the House Armed Service Committee, a man not given to overstatement, says: "The committee's for it. The Pentagon's for it. everybody's for it." Why wasn't it done before? "We were just being careful not to make the distinction common." To be sure that it isn't, Vinson warns that the Bradley action will not be a precedent insuring that all chairmen of the joint chiefs will be full generals. The basis of General Bradley's five stars, Vinson said, will be his magnificent war record. It takes a special act of Congress to award the five-star rank from which a man is never retired but enjoys full pay and perquisites all the rest of his life. Had the G.I.'s been doing the voting in 1945 the doubtless would have honored the quiet Missourian made famous as their general by Ernie Pyle and others. But Bradley was out-ranked and to some extent out-glamorized.

Congress began at the top and, as representative Vinson explained, kept it exclusive. Five stars went to General Marshall, Eisenhower and MacArthur of the Army, the late Hap Arnold of the Air Force and Admirals King and Nimitz of the Navy. Of this group only General MacArthur remains on active duty. When wearing one of his three hats, head of the Far East Command, General MacArthur is subordinate to General Bradley's four stars. General Bradley's first post-war job was taking charge of the vastly expanded Veterans Administration. Almost instantly a brawl with the American Legion introduced the professional soldier to the facts of civilian life and politics. But, as usual, he won. One long-time Bradley watcher says he has grown enormously since he jugged through the Normandy hedgerows, a growth largely attributed to the Veterans Administration schooling in human nature. Because of his modesty, his sweet nature and very large tolerance, General Bradley is rarely criticized. An exception occurred last Fall when he let go at the angry Admirals in the unification investigation as "fancy Dans." Because of his position as chairman of the chiefs of the three services, perhaps too because they were accustomed to thinking of Bradley as above personal controversy, this caused considerable commotion at the Pentagon. The General still took a dim view of the investigation with its anonymous letters, etc., but he was enormously upset to find that he had hurt people's feelings. Besides enjoying the honor that will come to him, if not this session, very early in the next, General Bradley's friends will welcome his new rank as he has no private means to help him should he have to retire. Because all are called Generals, whether Brigadier, Major or Lieutenant, Americans think perhaps that they have many generals. Actually they do, counting all kinds, since World War II vastly expanded the list. But before that they had but three simon-pure generals ranking all others: Washington, Grant, Pershing.

McCabe And Snyder Clash Involves Top Rank Policy, Not Personalities

WASHINGTON. — On Friday, September 1, in the richly appointed meeting room of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder was a polite, attentive onlooker as Edward Lee Norton, of Birmingham, Ala., and Oliver S. Powell, of Minneapolis, Minn., were sworn in as governors. Snyder was full of handshakes and smiles. You'd never guess from his demeanor that the treasury and the reserve board were miles apart on government financial policy. The clash started months before Pearl Harbor when the country was re-arming. The reserve board felt that banks had an oversupply of "excess reserves," which might lead to free and easy lending. So on Sept. 23, 1941, the board voted an increase in reserve requirements. That would put the lid on the treasury didn't like the idea at all. In his book, "The National Debt in War and Transition," Henry C. Murphy, who was assistant director of treasury research and statistics during the war, writes: "The increase in reserve requirements was opposed by most of the treasury staff and was assented to by Secretary Morgenthau very reluctantly. It was the treasury's position at this time and during most of the period of war finance that a considerable volume of excess reserves was necessary to assure the success of government financing." The treasury argued that "general credit controls operating through interest rates . . . did not seem appropriate at a time when the government was the principal borrower and the amount of its borrowings was determined by exigencies scarcely amenable to interest-rate control." The treasury, according to Murphy, considered high taxation and direct credit controls, such as Regulation W restricting consumer credit, sufficient. After Pearl Harbor, the reserve board capitulated. The reserve board wanted to raise short-term interest rates—even as now. The thought was that if banks earned a reasonable rate on short-term treasury obligations they'd be less inclined to sell them every time they had a chance to make a loan. Also, if short-term rates were too low, commercial banks would buy 2 and 2½ per cent bonds, thus bidding them away from insurance companies, savings banks, and individual holders. At a meeting on March 20, 1942, according to Murphy, Eccles and Allan Sproul, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, urged on Morgenthau a rise in the short-term rate. "When Morgan-thau objected, Chairman Eccles and Sproul each said that they held their views very strongly but that they would accept a directive from the secretary as the person primarily responsible for financing the war provided that he took the responsibility for the decision." Secretary Morgenthau agreed, and ultimately the pattern for war financing was established: ½ per cent for three-month bills, 1½ per cent for 12-month certificates, 2½ per cent for 10-year bonds, and 2½ per cent for long-term bonds. The disagreement, though repressed, simmered all through the war and beyond Morgenthau's reign. Secretary Fred Vinson, who succeeded Morgenthau, held firm to the Treasury's position. When Vinson resigned to quiet the discord in the Supreme Court, Snyder clung to the position of his predecessors. Thus, what we have today is not a clash of personalities; it's not Eccles versus Morgenthau or Vinson, or McCabe versus Snyder. It's the treasury versus the reserve board, a battle of institutions and institutionalized thinking. The treasury is concerned with debt—low interest rates, the reserve board with credit control. And in times of inflation, the Reserve wants high interest rates which conflict with treasury leanings.

The second of three articles on this struggle between the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board appears tomorrow. IT'S COMPLETE ANNIHILATION TOKYO, Sept. 7. (AP)—It happened on the southern front in Korea when the U. S. 25th Division cut off a Red force. Here's the full story as told by the 25th to Gen. MacArthur's headquarters: "Enemy estimated 1,000; enemy casualties 1,000"

We Progress In Many Fields, But Not In Attaining Peace

Almost a year ago, while a student at the University of Missouri School of Journalism, I wrote an editorial for the daily newspaper published by journalism students. Though a lot of water has fallen over the dam, I would like to repeat that editorial. It might yet be a way to pre-serve peace. The editorial was headlined, "Peace On Earth—Nice Words," and follows: "Peace on earth, good will towards men. Nice words. But they hardly mean anything today. Why? Because men still don't trust one another. They are afraid of each other and consequently arm to the teeth in their fear. Peace on earth. It can be accomplished. But before it is a reality, all men must stop to think over their fear. What are they afraid of? Surely it can't be fear of their fellowmen. After a war such as the world recently concluded, nations are much too battered and bruised to prepare to fight again. This fact is obvious. Europe is still war-torn. The Far East is struggling in the throes of civil strife. India's mixed religions can't see eye to eye yet. That leaves the United States and Russia as the two most powerful factors. But what about them? The Soviets talk big. That's all. The big front they put up and the big stick they shove in our faces is just a big farce when mullied over. They simply can't stand the thought of having neighbors who are free. They fear these "free" neighbors might make the Russians part of them, subjugating them under their own wing. But let's face it, Russia can't stand another war. They, too, felt the brunt of the Axis juggernaut during the early days of World War II, and the subsequent Nazi retreat saw a scorched earth policy applied to Soviet territory.

That leaves the United States. Now any sensible person knows we are not an imperialistic country. We are not casting designs on any nation nor do we intend to. All we aim for in our foreign policy is to attain peace, security and economic recovery for all peoples in all parts of the world. We want a world united in friendship and understanding. We have shown this through the Economic Recovery Program and by attempts with reciprocal trade treaties between various nations. So it adds up to the simple realization that fear, and fear alone, is the determining factor in the antagonism between nations. They fear each other. They are afraid so-called neighbors will suddenly drop a bomb on their homes, shoot their fellow countrymen, and destroy their land. Nobody has taken the time to examine this fear, but it reaches its conclusion in the fact that no nation can afford war today for at least ten or more years. Trouble is, then, we don't carry on our relations with this point in mind. Perhaps if we stop waving swords and guns, start trusting and forget our fears of our fellowmen, maybe we can start getting along. Let's begin conducting our foreign relations on an international scale as we would with our next door neighbors. It would be nice to attain man's long sought goal. Peace on earth!

And this was written just one year ago. Time has hardly changed the need for such relations and trust. But even more than that, it just goes to show that we make progress in fields of science, medicine and methods of warfare, but we can't make progress in living with one another. The words I wrote one year ago still apply, I think, today. I, for one, would like to try such lessening of fear. How about you, Joe Stalin? FRED GREENE

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Preventive War Would Mean American Attack On Russia

WASHINGTON, (AP) — PREVENTIVE Secretary of the Navy Matthews, speaking publicly, suggested this country should be willing to begin a war to insure peace. For this he got his knuckles rapped by President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson. And the President himself in his broadcast last Friday night said this country is against a "preventive war." But what Matthews said publicly was only what some other top men in the government have spoken of privately. And since Matthews broke the idea into the open, members of Congress have talked of "preventive war." WHAT IS A PREVENTIVE WAR? NO one has defined it but it could be summed up this way: That when this country feels it is ready, it should attack Russia to block it once and for all from taking over the world, including us. Critics of the "preventive war" thinking have called it "immoral" and contrary to the American tradition of peacefulness. They can argue this way: For this country to resort to an attack on Russia to settle the differences between the two would be a resort to force and violence. It would mean this country was plunging the world into blood and death probably for millions. It would be a rejection of civilized and intelligent efforts—at least on our part—to iron out problems by trying every last peaceful method. enlightened nation, not to use violence except to defend ourselves against attack. And although so far we have proclaimed our willingness—and shown it in Korea—to stop the use of force on any nation, we would be guilty of using force in a so-called preventive war. On what grounds would this country be justified in making a preventive war on Russia, since it would mean firing the first shot?

Those in favor of it could argue this way: We're actually at war with Russia now and have been for a long time. The aim of communism is to take over the world, including us. We didn't start the present war with Russia. Russia started it and is waging war on us daily, attacking us daily, although not with guns yet. THE TROUBLE WITH THE THINKING of those who shudder at the phrase, "preventive war," is this: They're still thinking in the old, hackneyed, out-of-date idea of war. They think that war is something waged, as it was in the old days, only with men and guns. But, these supporters of the preventive war idea can argue, this is the real situation: This war is being fought by Russia with men in civilian clothes. They are in every country, an organized, disciplined group of Communists in every country, working for Russia, waiting a chance to take over, ceaselessly trying to bring about collapse for others and victory for themselves. Bit by bit communism is gobbling up the world: By treachery, pressure, threats, and even force, when necessary, as in Korea. If let alone, it will continue to gobble it up. WHERE THEY'RE OUT NUMBERED, the Communists act like guerrillas behind the lines. They infiltrate parliaments or strategic labor unions. They do what they can to disrupt and dismay, all aimed at final victory. And this will never stop, so long as the Russian leadership is Communist. Therefore—if that reasoning is sound—the supporters of the preventive war idea can take the next step in their argument: It is only sensible to recognize the reality we face: War is actually being made on us in a new kind of way: infiltration, subversion, propaganda, pressure, force if necessary, everywhere, every day. So, in recognizing that we are under attack, any attack we made in turn on Russia would not be the act of an aggressor but only the act of a people trying to defend themselves and the rest of the world,

Schulberg Is Smoking Cigars Again, Doing Movies For T-V

HOLLYWOOD. — B. P. Schulberg is again smoking a cigar behind a big desk in an office just off Melrose Ave. But his office is not at Paramount Studios, where he once earned a half-million dollars a year and developed such stars as Clara Bow, William Powell, Gary Cooper and Cary Grant. This time he is across the street in a rental studio where he is making films for television. And he's doing very nicely, thank you. Schulberg is the man who jolted Hollywood last October by running an ad in the trade papers. He pleaded for a job in "the only business I know." Citing a third of a century of service to the movie industry, he observed that "loyalty is a two-way street." "My phone didn't stop ringing for 24 hours," Schulberg recalled. "I heard from a lot of old friends like Cary Grant and George Raft and others. "But the only offer of a job came from Darryl Zanuck. He said if I had a script he liked he would take me into 20th-Fox to do it. I showed him four different stories, but he didn't like them. That's his privilege." The film pioneer went to another industry to assure his future. With his son

Budd, author of "What Makes Sammy Run," he formed a company to make television films. They plan to make a series called "Tales of Hollywood," based on Budd's stories. AND NOTHING CAN BE DONE ABOUT IT

LISTEN TO THIS, MARGO-- AND WHY DID YOU ASSAULT THIS MAN? ASKED THE JUDGE ON THE BENCH, FIXING HIS EYES STERNLY UPON THE PRISONER AT THE BAR-- "BECAUSE HE CALLED ME A LIAR," SAID THE DEFENDANT.

"IS THAT TRUE?" INQUIRED THE JUDGE, TURNING TO THE BATTERED VICTIM. "SURE IT'S TRUE," SAID THE ACCUSER. "I CALLED HIM A LIAR BECAUSE HE IS ONE AND I OWN PROVE IT."

WHAT HAVE YOU GOT TO SAY TO THAT? ASKED THE JUDGE OF THE CULPRIT. "AIN'T GOT NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CASE, YOUR HONOR. EVEN IF I AM A LIAR I GUESS I'VE GOT A RIGHT TO BE SENSITIVE ABOUT IT, AN' IT?"

HOW MUCH DID THE JUDGE FINE THE MAN? DOESN'T THE STORY SAY?

Freshie

GOODNESS-- I'D BETTER GIVE THAT POOR GUY SOME MRS. BAIRD'S BREAD-- TO MAKE HIM HAPPY!

EXCUSE ME, SIR-- BUT AREN'T YOU GETTING IN THE WAY OF THIS GENTLEMAN'S SOUP?

Czechs Execute Two Accused Of Spying

PRAGUE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Two convicted spies were put to death yesterday after their appeals had been turned down by the Czechoslovak supreme court, the official news agency reported today.
The men, both Czechs, were Jaroslav Vetejska and Frantisek Havlicek. The ministry of information said both were convicted of spying for the United States, France and the Vatican.

AREA OIL

High Point In Reef Decline Is Met In The Reinecke Pool

A high point on the northside decline of the reef in the Reinecke pool has been encountered in the Rutherford and Heep Oil No. 3-A Griffin.

Two northwest Howard wildcats distillate tested in the Spraberry but without recovering oil.

Three tests in north-central and northeast Howard are being plugged.

Rutherford, et al No. 3-A Griffin topped the reef at 6,814, which is a datum minus 4,460 or 72 feet high to the operators' No. 2-Griffin, a west offset, and 71 feet high to the Livermore No. 1-Holley, a direct south offset on the north side of the pool. The 5 1/2-inch string was to be cemented at bottom of 6,894, and operators will complete at that depth. It has not taken a drillstem test. The total depth is said to be 120 feet above the Reinecke water level.

Location was staked for the Rutherford & Heep No. 4-B Griffin, 1,670 from the south and west lines of section 33-25 H&TC.

Standard No. 1-2 Griffin, which was to be bottomed at 6,967 in the reef, was still swabbing to clear out.

Coden No. 2-B Holley 660 from the north and east lines of the north-west quarter of section 52-25, H&TC prepared to drill in today. The reef was topped at 6,830; seven-inch string was set at 6,824, and the hole bottomed at 6,825. Coden No. 1-Holbein, C NE NW section 44-25 H&TC, on the southeast side of the pool, progressed to 4,460.

Pan American No. 1 Boyd (McNeill) is to complete on basis of 430 barrels of 44 gravity oil through half-inch choke in seven hours. This would give a 1,473.6 barrel potential for 24 hours. Tubing pressure was 675, casing pressure 950, and gas-oil ratio 1.175-1. Top of pay was 6,908, which is about 90 feet higher than in the Sweet No. 1 McNeill, to the east and which was a failure. Total depth is 6,970 and the 5 1/2-inch string was set at 6,918.

Brinkerhoff No. 1 Jones et al in the center of Knott community in northwest Big Spring. Ran a drillstem test in 1,118-7,203 feet. Tool was open for 66 minutes and recovery was 190 feet of mud with no shows. Operators drilled ahead. Some saturation had been found in Spraberry formations. Location is 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 18-34-2n, T&P.

Stanford No. 1 Burton, in the C NE SE 27-33-2n, T&T, 14 miles northwest of Big Spring, the tool was open for two hours on a test with 6,670-6,734. Recovery was 410 feet of mud, slightly oil-cut in the bottom. Operators thought the 50-foot section will be drilled and a test run from 6,670 to total depth.

Amcan and Southland No. 1 B Bronco, C NW SE section 18-27, H&TC, North offset to the Bronco southeast extension to the East Vealmore area, topped the reef at 7,306 feet, a datum minus of 4,790. This is 31 feet low to the Bronco No. 1 Bronco. The tool was open 40 minutes on a drillstem test from 7,315-81. Gas surfaced in 2 1/2 minutes, mud in six, oil in 7. The test started with a one-inch opening and flowed a solid stream of oil across

102 More Persons Take Chest X-Ray

Chest x-rays were given to 102 persons this morning, pushing the total for the anti-tuberculosis survey which started Friday to 1,416.

The mass chest survey is to be continued through Saturday, and an urgent appeal has been made by Jack Y. Smith, general chairman, for all Howard countians to report for the free examination. No inconvenience is involved in getting the x-rays which are offered for the purpose of locating any unknown cases of tuberculosis.

Everyone, whether they think they have the disease or not, should get the x-ray to be sure they are not infected with tuberculosis. Smith stated. The examination will reveal the absence of infection as well as indicate the presence of tuberculosis.

A mobile x-ray unit, operated by State Health department personnel, is set up at the Taylor Appliances, store, 212 E. 3rd. The survey is sponsored by the Howard County Tuberculosis association.

SOIL CONSERVATION
Rain Helps Winter, Fall Cover Crops

The rains over the Labor Day week end made conditions just right for planting fall and winter cover crops, farmer-cooperators with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District said this week. The cover crops of winter peas and abuzzi rye and hairy vetch will be planted for a protective cover against blowing, and for soil improvement. Among those who are ready to start planting are R. W. McNew, Alex Walker, W. D. Miller, J. T. Balch, and O. R. Bollinger.

J. E. Buchanan is going to plant 8 acres of Dixie Wonder peas on his farm 7 miles north of Coahoma as a fall and winter cover and soil improving crop. He will inoculate the seed to insure a better growth and to add nitrogen to the soil. The Dixie Wonder pea that Buchanan is planting is a variety that is planted in the fall and grows during the winter, making an excellent cover and soil improving crop. It should be turned under in the early spring. Buchanan states that years ago he used to farm up and down hill, but now that he has his farm terraced and on the contour as a part of his coordinated soil and water conservation program in cooperation with the district, he produces a lot more crops.

Terrace ends were blocked this summer on the Alfred Cates farm at Vincent to protect the terrace outlets and to hold water where it falls. Cates left the ends open when the terraces were constructed and the open ends were doing lots of damage. Several rains have fallen since the blocks were put in and no damage has been done. Whip-poor-will peas will be harvested on the D. W. Christian farm 6 miles east Fairview. Christian will use the peas, harvested from part of his 65-acre field of the summer peas which are up to a good stand, to plant on his farm next year. He inoculated the peas to add nitrogen to the soil and to insure better growth of the plant.

Leroy Echols also has 55 acres of summer peas for a summer cover and soil improving crop on his place near Coahoma.

E. O. Brown of Vincent has deferred 500 acres of pasture on his ranch at Vincent since the middle of May. Brown rested his pasture to improve the cover and kinds of grass. Sideoats grama seeded out and is spreading, Brown said. He plans to keep his livestock off the pasture till October.

Mexico Rail Workers Take Wage Boosts

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (U. S. Southern Pacific of Mexico workers last night accepted 10 per cent wage increases, and called off a railway strike set for today.

The wage hike is retroactive to Feb. 19, when the previous labor contract expired. The agreement was reached here after an all day session of workers' and employers' representatives with federal labor officials.

The total cost to the company is estimated at 7 million pesos ($800,000) a year.

MEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 7. (U. S. "How's this for balance?" shouted Richard Hoffman, 16, as he stood atop the railing of a bridge over Mystic River.

Friends thought it was good—until Richard lost his balance and plunged 20 feet head first into the stream last night.

His head hit the bottom of the 12-foot deep river. He suffered a skull injury.

Lions Club Gets Verbal Preview Of VA Hospital

Lions got a verbal preview of the Veterans Administration hospital Wednesday.

Noting that the dedication of the six million dollar plant is coming up Sunday, Charles A. Tosch, Jr., assistant manager, explained that the hospital is of the general medical and surgical type. Other VA hospital types are tuberculosis and neuro-psychiatric.

Currently there are 135 beds open now at the hospital, which has a 250-bed capacity. By Christmas, he said, it is hoped to have 225 beds open. Tosch recited various statistics about the hospital, showing immensity of physical properties.

Carlton Carr, special service officer, outlined some of the steps taken in contributing toward the comfort and entertainment of patients. He stressed especially the part the community could play in giving service and helping morale.

In case of individual patients, he suggested that it would be wiser to contact special services first of all to ascertain patient needs rather than to go at it single-handedly and blindly.

Dr. W. R. Woods, Washington, D. C. office of U. S. Commissioner of education, spoke briefly. Harold Steck was in charge of the program.

Cottonseed Price Support Loans Are Set At $51 A Ton

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (U. S. The Agriculture Department announced Wednesday a national average price support of $2.06 a bushel for 1950 crop soybeans and price support loans of $51 a ton on cottonseed.

This compares with $211 a bushel on last year's crop soybeans, and with support loans of $49.50 a ton on 1949 cottonseed.

Where a purchase program may be necessary, the department said, cottonseed purchases will be made at $47 a ton compared with $46 a ton last year.

SPECIALIST SAYS Crop Prospects In County "Good"

General crop prospects in Howard county were described as "good" Wednesday by F. C. Elliott, cotton specialist for Texas A&M college extension service.

Barring any unforeseen destruction by insects and weather conditions, Elliott said he believed cotton yields would be higher here than in 1949 when area farmers harvested a bumper crop.

"I have been in 27 fields, and most of them look better than cotton crops I saw here at about this time last year," Elliott declared.

"It has been a tremendous expense, but farmers in this county have done a good job of controlling bollworms and leaf worms," Elliott continued. "I believe they will find that the controls pay in the long run."

Most other sections of the state were hit by more intensive infestations of cotton damaging insects, Elliott disclosed.

In north and east parts of the state, for example, farmers were confronted with both bollworms and boll weevils.

"We saw some large bollworms in crops here in Howard county, but no young insects or eggs were found. Maybe the bollworms are about ready to quit," Elliott suggested.

Recent rains could increase the yield, provided an early frost doesn't hit the area, Elliott declared. With a late frost, fruit that is now beginning on cotton stalks could mature, the cotton specialist explained.

Rains have caused crops in this area to begin fruiting at the tops of the stalks.

While here, Elliott scored cotton demonstration projects of county 4-H club members, who have entered the annual cotton contest.

Admits Robbery Try With Fake Grenade

HOUSTON, Sept. 7. (U. S. A 36-year-old unemployed tile setter Wednesday entered a plea of guilty to a charge of attempting to rob the National Bank of Commerce, one of Houston's largest banks with a fake hand grenade.

Paul V. Patton, his wife and two small children sitting nearby, entered the plea before Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay.

Hannay deferred sentencing until Sept. 13.

Squint's Drumming For Fair Play!

Squint Miller's mighty proud of the lot he owns that fronts on River Road—one of the prettiest spots around here.

He's been in a stew about it lately, though. Seems that trash-dumpers take one look at his property, stop their car or truck, and out goes a load of rubbish, spilling all over his place and the roadside, too. Wouldn't that make you mad?

Last night Squint dropped by the house. Over a friendly glass of beer, he tells me what he's done. "I put a couple of empty oil drums out there," he says, "with a big sign reading: 'If you must dump trash—use these—I like to keep my property clean!'"

From where I sit, Squint's sign should make any would-be roadside trash-dumpers pretty darned ashamed of themselves. Now and then some folks just have to be reminded that they ought to have as much regard for their neighbors' rights as they do for their own.
