

Marine Vet 1st VA Hospital Patient Here

Former U. S. Marine James A. Waters, 25, today became the first patient to be received at the new six-million dollar Veterans Administration Hospital.

It was 8:15 a. m. when Waters, walking with aid of his cane, made his way down the north corridor to the registrar's reception room to be met by Dr. L. B. Andrew, hospital manager.

Second Draft Call May Come Next Month

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service chief, is reported to be looking for a second draft call next month.

He also was quoted today as anticipating a need for more sweeping draft regulations affecting veterans, husbands and fathers.

Most veterans and men with dependents were exempt from the first draft call for 20,000 men to build up the Army in the Korean crisis.

Hershey's views on possible future draft moves were given to a reporter by Lt. Col. Irving W. Hart, Selective Service information chief.

In response to queries, Hershey himself was reported unavailable.

Hart said Hershey has told aides several times that he sees no reason to believe that there will not be a second draft call next month.

The general also has said several times that a more sweeping draft law may be needed, Hart said.

The Army has said that it has "no present plan" for another draft call, but has emphasized that conditions are subject to quick change.

From other sources, it has been learned that second call for perhaps 20,000 men might come in October.

Draft boards throughout the country have been ordered to fill their quotas for the first call as soon as possible and no later than Sept. 30.

ARGENTINA READY TO AID IN KOREA

Electoral College Wins House Test

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The House today killed a proposal to abolish the electoral college and to revamp the machinery by which the nation has named its Presidents for 150 years.

It turned down a Senate-passed resolution that would have submitted to the states a constitutional amendment doing away with the electoral college system and substituting one based on proportionate division of the popular vote.

The electoral college system now gives each state's total electoral vote to the winning candidates for President and Vice President.

The proposed change, requiring ratification by 36 states, would have divided each state's electoral vote in direct proportion to the popular vote received by the opposing candidate.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts assailed the proposal as "a political Pandora's box."

Instead of simplifying the election system, Martin contended, the change would encourage splinter parties, give the deep South the balance of power in Presidential elections, and "could lead to the loss of our two-party system of government."

In advance of today's House action, leaders freely predicted it would fail to win the two-thirds amendment to the Constitution.

Political considerations played an important role in the attitude of the House.

Republicans and many northern Democrats lined up against the change because they feared it would break up traditional party strongholds among the states.

The GOP also resisted it on grounds that southern states, with a one-party hold on their elections, would develop a virtual veto over presidential nominations.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts declared defeat of the resolution was certain.

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) said "it hasn't a chance in the world."

Already passed by the Senate, the proposed amendment would abolish the electoral college method of giving each state's entire electoral vote to the candidate receiving the most popular votes.

The states would continue to have one electoral vote for each of its members in Congress, including its two senators. But the vote, instead of going en bloc to the winning candidate, would be split between the candidates in direct proportion to the popular vote.

In this manner, where a candidate got 51 per cent of a state's popular vote he would get only about half the electoral vote instead of all of it.

The amendment was sponsored by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) and Rep. Gossett (D-Texas).

Its advocates contend it would give every voter an opportunity to have his vote count in the national election, give minority groups a chance to be heard, and prevent the possibility of electing a President who received less than a majority of the popular vote.

PRELIMINARY FIGURES

Texas Population Hits 7,675,002

By The Associated Press. The 1950 population of Texas, according to preliminary Census Bureau figures, is 7,675,002.

This is an increase of 1,260,178 over 6,414,824 in 1940. The 1940 figure was an increase of 590,109 over 1930.

This clinches Texas as the nation's fifth most populous state, the spot previously held by Ohio. Ohio climbed from 6,907,612 in 1940 to 7,501,791.

At the same time Houston became the South's largest city with a population of 593,600, compared with 284,514 in 1940. New Orleans, the South's largest city in 1940, has been given a preliminary 1950 figure of 568,878.

The Texas figure—like those for all the state's counties and cities—is tentative. Many of the preliminary figures announced weeks ago have been revised as "missing persons" were counted.

The 7,675,002 figure for Texas is an Associated Press compilation. The Harris County figure, announced today, was added to totals already announced for the 253 other counties. Revisions through last Friday were included.

Area census Director James W. Stroud will give Gov. Allan Shivers a formal preliminary figure for Texas. Because it will include later revisions, it probably will vary slightly from 7,675,002.

It is expected the final official Texas figure to be announced later in Washington, D. C., will be a slight revision upward.

Harris County's population was announced as 801,169, a gain of 272,206 over 528,963 in 1940. It was the last county in Texas to be announced. Most of Harris County's growth, of course, has been in the Houston area.

Senate Group Boosts Fund For Point 4

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—With the Korean War in mind, the Senate Appropriations Committee reversed itself today and voted 13 to 3 for a $34,500,000 outlay in "Point Four" funds.

This is only $500,000 less than Congress had authorized for President Truman's program of technical aid to underdeveloped countries. It is $10 million less, however, than Mr. Truman originally proposed.

Previously the Senate group had voted, 11 to 8, to make only $17,500,000 available. Mr. Truman asked Senate leaders last week to restore the full $35 million that had been authorized.

Today's action lifted to $26,900,000 the cost which would be provided for direct "Point Four" technical assistance.

Previously, however, the committee had provided $5 million for the Institute of Inter-American Affairs and $2,600,000 for technical and cultural activities under the Smith-Mundt bill.

North Troops Inch Closer To Taejeon

Yanks Forced To Give Up Airfield

TOKYO, Tuesday, July 18—Three North Korean infantry divisions, heavily aided by artillery but shy on tanks, swarmed close on Taejeon today, forcing the slender American defense to abandon the airfield three miles north of that South Korean city.

General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters communique reported early this morning that the North Korean invaders are "continuing to pay a high price for ground gained," but acknowledged that they were gaining.

Late field dispatches said Taejeon, until last week the provisional capital of the Korean republic and site of American field headquarters, was still in American hands but virtually deserted. Its abandonment appeared near, however.

MacArthur's communique described a situation in which the Americans had to quit Konju, 20 miles northwest of Taejeon, and pull west and south, so that their former west flank had become a north flank.

The North Korean second division was struggling to turn this flank "in the Taejeon area," the communique reported. Exact distances from the city were not disclosed.

The airfield, three miles north, was admittedly under Red artillery fire and threatened by infiltrating enemy foot soldiers, however.

Although MacArthur said the enemy had succeeded in getting only two tanks across to the south bank of the Kum river and that both these had been destroyed, field dispatches intimated the Reds since had brought up more armor. This evidently came from the heavy Red concentrations which MacArthur reported were building up just north of the Kum.

Associated Press Correspondent William H. Moore, who visited Taejeon at 9 p. m. Monday (5 a. m. CST), said most of its 100,000 population had fled. He talked with American soldiers on the empty streets and with Southern Korean military police.

While the Americans were rolled back, the North Koreans were rolling forward.

LAMBERT, KALISCHER RETURN

Gen. Walker Expels Woman Writer From Korean Front

Tanyang. The jets knocked out two tanks, a bus and a truck. Peter Kalischer of United Press was likewise free to return. But he said he did not know when he would go back. He is in Tokyo.

MacArthur said he had complete confidence in both men. They had been accused by Army officials—named—of giving the enemy "aid and comfort." The Army objected to quotes from tired and bedraggled American soldiers and officers as they retreated in Korea. Neither reporter was accused of breaching security or of inaccurate reporting.

Both denied their stories had aided or comforted the enemy. They had returned to Tokyo for a brief rest when the Army Saturday slapped on its ban against their returning to the front. It was lifted Sunday after MacArthur met with Lambert and Kalischer and their Tokyo chiefs of bureau.

The 70-year-old MacArthur met the newsmen in an affable mood. In lifting the ban against the pair he said censorship was abhorrent to him.

Many correspondents have asked that their dispatches be censored. They said they do not know fully what the Army considers security information.

Lambert was among newsmen in Korea who sought codification of security regulations. He also helped draw up a code for the correspondents' own use. He said he had suggested several times while in Korea that army authorities assign officers to work with field correspondents to guide and advise them.

"Nothing came of these suggestions," Lambert noted. In the field, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Eighth Army commander, has full power to impose censorship when or if he deems it necessary. He has not done so.

Thus the primary responsibility still rests upon the correspondent himself. If he transmits news which the Army considers objectionable for security reasons, he has to answer for it.

TO CONGRESS, NATION

Truman Messages Due Wednesday

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—President Truman will send a message on the Korean war to Congress Wednesday and report to the nation on it that night by radio.

The White House said neither the message nor the report to the people has been completed yet.

But the message to the lawmakers will carry recommendations for legislative action to back up our efforts to throw the Red invaders out of Korea.

The message will be sent to the lawmakers at 10 o'clock (CST) Wednesday morning. The radio report over four major networks and television, will be at 8:30 o'clock (CST) Wednesday night.

As for the message to Congress, Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters: "It will be quite a comprehensive one, giving background of the situation, explaining all steps that have been taken by this government and containing legislative recommendations."

Earlier Democratic leaders had met with Mr. Truman and discussed the message.

None would say what Mr. Truman planned to say. But House Speaker Rayburn later today reported that "in my best judgment" a food rationing would not be made a part of contemplated government controls.

Government officials have predicted that the message will call for controls over steel, curbs on consumer credit, and possibly a tax increase.

Rayburn's only comment: "I assume he will make a report on the Korean War and whatever recommendations he wants for additional things."

24 Men To Go For Physical Exam Aug. 9

Selective Service Board No. 71 in Big Spring will send 24 men to Amarillo on Aug. 9 for pre-induction examinations, according to instructions received this morning at the board office.

It will be the first group to depart for pre-induction examinations since January, 1949.

First call for actual induction of men is expected to come in September, which will be the first such call in nearly two years. Last inductions through the local board office were made in December, 1948.

Board No. 71, which serves Howard, Martin and Mitchell counties, already has 16 men on its rolls who had pre-induction examinations in January of 1949 or before.

Meanwhile, the board office, located in the basement of the post-office building, is on its new schedule of 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. A telephone was being installed in the office today, and the number tentatively assigned was 2187. Telephone service at the draft board office had been discontinued several months ago, and prior to last week, the office had closed at 3 p. m. each day.

Comfort Sprayer Ready For Action In Insect Fight

Farmers troubled with insect control problems can find the solution at the Big Spring Tractor Co., located on the Lamesa highway.

The local establishment is distributing the Comfort field sprayer, which operates at high pressure but requires few gallons of spray. It may be used successfully for spraying for insects as well as distributing weed killing agents.

The apparatus, which mounts directly on any make of tractor, comes in six-row sizes, but extensions to eight or 10 rows are available. All controls are located beside the tractor driver, and the sprayer pump operates from the PTO take-off.

The booms swing back automatically when they encounter an obstruction, which prevents damage to the equipment. The booms also may be raised when the sprayer is being transported.

The Comfort sprayer already had gained popularity in this area. It may be used in controlling weeds in pastures and has proved successful in killing weeds in feed crops with proper spraying mixtures. It also may be used for livestock spraying.

The Big Spring Tractor Co. keeps an adequate supply of the 40-20 spraying mixture for cotton insects. Mixtures for other uses are usually available also.

Farmers in the area have a standing invitation to visit the Big Spring Tractor Co. and inspect the Comfort field sprayer.

SECOND WIFE IS MAD AT HIM

DALLAS, July 17 (AP)—Solomon might have known the answer to this question, but the district attorney's office didn't.

"You see," said the man who wanted legal advice, "I married my second wife without getting divorced from my first. And my second wife found out about it and got mad and quit me."

Then I got a divorce from my first wife, but my second wife is still mad and won't come back. How can I make her come back?"

Mr. And Mrs. W. E. Mann Observe Silver Wedding Anniversary Sunday

In observance of their silver anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mann held open house at their home, 704 E. 14th, Sunday afternoon. Calling hours were from 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. W. F. Taylor and Mrs. J. Askew Coffey. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Mann, Mrs. J. H. Allen of Ira, mother of the honoree and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Mann of Vincent.

Mrs. Willard Hendrick presided at the guest book which was bound in white leather and inscribed with silver lettering. The book was topped with a colonial nosegay of sweets surrounded by maline and tied with long white satin streamers. On the register table were white tapers in double crystal candleholders.

Laid with a Mexican drawn cloth, the serving table was centered with an arrangement of 25 asters, symbolic of the 25 years of Mr. and Mrs. Mann's married life. The pink asters were arranged with white stock scattered with tiny wedding bells tied with silver ribbon. Tall lighted white tapers in silver candelabra flanked the floral arrangement and silver and crystal appointments completed the table setting.

From the mantle of the fireplace, wedding bells cascaded from a background of silver leaves. Centering the mantle was a basket arrangement of white gladioli.

Various arrangements of asters, dahlias and binnias were placed at vantage points throughout the receiving rooms. Flowers were gifts to the honorees and other gifts were displayed by members of the houseparty.

Mrs. Mann was attired in a pink birdseye pique and wore an orchid corsage, gift of her husband.

Members of the houseparty were in formal dress and wore matching corsages.

Guests calling during the afternoon numbered 120.

Chicago Citizen Can Really Paddle Canoe

AVALON, Calif., July 17 (AP) — An 82-year-old man really can paddle his own canoe.

He proved it beyond all doubt when he stroked his 15-foot craft across the Santa Catalina Channel in a rough 15-hour junket Saturday.

Smith, a Chicago attorney who has been canoeing as a hobby for 44 years, was missing for some 11 hours of the trip. A worried coast guard finally spotted him and his 28-year-old son, the Nautilus, some three miles away from Avalon Harbor and offered to tow him in.

The hardy paddler, who had ignored warnings not to make the trip—spurred the offer. It took him three hours to make the last three miles. But make it he did to become the first in recent years, anyway, to negotiate the choppy 25-mile stretch in a canoe.

More than 2000 cheering persons were at the harbor when he finally arrived long after dark. They hoisted Smith to their shoulders and draped him with flower leis. The bone-tired mariner still had a quip in him.

"Though I told everybody," he said, "to please omit flowers."

West Texas Has Some Fine Men Offering In The State Races

There are only four serious contenders for state office in next Saturday's Democratic primary who hail from West Texas. West Texas has always been a sort of stepchild to the rest of the state when it comes to electing men to state office, and this fact is reflected in the paucity of West Texas candidates running this year.

All things else being equal, we are inclined to give a West Texas man a break. In this connection we'd like to mention the names of the four serious contenders in next Saturday's election who call West Texas home.

Now We'll Get Better News Or Get Out Bad In Smaller Doses

Well, it begins to look like old times. Censorship has been applied down in Korea by the military.

GI's die, they reported that too. To be sure they lacked the ability to coordinate activities along all the fronts of fighting. Perhaps their reports lacked balance and perspective. But it had a realism, a realism that wasn't the kind that we like to hear. Besides it carried a flavor a lot of GIs remembered too well.

ling that Russia over a long period has been doing a very thorough job of organizing and training its satellite fighting forces.

However, don't overlook that many a ring champ takes a terrible beating in defending his title. That's about what has happened to GI Joe in South Korea as he has battled against heavy odds.

WITH A DECISIVE BATTLE BOILING up in the Kum River area of South Korea, Washington is said to have been quietly informing other United Nations members that their ground forces would be welcomed in Korea.

SOVIET-LED ASIATIC COMMUNISM has at its call many millions of trained and equipped soldiers, a lot of whom are seasoned veterans. First in mind, of course, come Manchuria and China with almost limitless man-power.

The news from Korea is bad, and will continue to be bad for some time to come. Each blow that falls upon the GIs is a blow at the United Nations.

Johnson Preparing Expanded Military Program Due To War

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson is preparing to put before President Truman a greatly expanded military program to meet the changed circumstances resulting from North Korean aggression.

more spending of their own on the urgent problems of their defense.

It calls roughly for 10 to 12 regular and six national guard divisions, all to be put in fighting trim, for the Army. It directs the Air Force to strengthen its tactical air arm. The Navy's orders are to build up the fleet by speedily recommissioning more vessels, including carriers, that are now in "mothballs."

A question yet unanswered is how the secretary feels about rearming Western Germany and Japan. There is military sentiment for this; the diplomats and occupation authorities have held it back.

17 Percent Of Drinkers Take A Nip Each Day, National Survey Reveals

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion. PRINCETON, N. J., July 15.—Six out of every ten U. S. adults drink beer or other intoxicating beverages, though many of these are only occasional drinkers, and liquor has been a cause of trouble in the homes of one out of every seven drinkers.

Those who say they use alcoholic beverages were then asked: "About how often do you like to take a drink?" Here are the replies: Almost every day... 17 pct. Few times a week... 23. Occasionally—once or twice a month... 42.

been, something of a problem in their homes. All persons in the survey who say they drink either regularly or occasionally—constituting approximately six out of every ten—were asked: "Has liquor ever been a cause of trouble in your home?"

Principal Bottleneck In Military Effort Is In Industrial Manpower

A very substantial enlargement of the American military effort—perhaps by something like 35 per cent in terms of money appropriated—is very plainly indicated. There is no doubt at all that the American economy, which has been growing rapidly in productivity, is capable of producing the extra military goods.

The practical issue, which is posed by the shortage of military man power, has to do with the enforcement of the Truman Doctrine in Asia—whether, that is to say, we are to develop the forces to fight campaigns, as in Korea, in other areas that are threatened not by Russia herself but by satellites and by revolutionary forces.

Let us then keep clearly in mind that the military man power of the Soviet Union, which can be put into battle, is greater than our own. Let us never forget that the Soviet forces are still entirely uncommitted, but that the main part of the French army in being, most of the British forces in being, and now a large part of the American forces in being are already committed.

Florida Officials Moving To Clamp Down On Its Gambling

MIAMI, Fla., July 17. (AP)—Florida officials, armed with evidence uncovered by a Senate crime investigating committee, moved today to clamp down on lush gambling operations.

In Tallahassee, Gov. Fuller Warren ordered Broward County (Fort Lauderdale) Sheriff Walter R. Clark to appear Friday to determine whether the sheriff is guilty of "classing in office."

Clark admitted he was a partner in $754,335 Bolita numbers lottery, operating in his county in 1945, 1946 and 1947, and acknowledged that a gambling casino operator "worked" for his re-election in 1948.

The governor also ordered a "full and complete" investigation of a gambling syndicate figuring in the committee's three days of hearings which ended here Saturday night.

Warren directed Dade County (Miami) State Attorney Glenn C. Mincer "to make a full and complete investigation of the operations of the S&G Syndicate and other gambling activities in Dade County, Florida, and submit your findings to the Dade County grand jury."

The Senate committee estimated the syndicate's 1948 income was $25,520,045.

The governor told Dade County Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan to assign "two of your experienced criminal deputies" to assist Mincer in the investigation.

Sullivan admitted before the Kefauver group that his assets skyrocketed from $2,500 when he became sheriff in 1944 to more than $75,000 in 1950. He also said the U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau was checking his income tax returns.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and his committee left to open a hearing in St. Louis tomorrow. He indicated a later Florida hearing would be held, probably in Miami or Tampa. He notified all witnesses to remain under subpoena.

Kefauver said the hearings uncovered ample evidence that organized crime in sprawling rampant across state lines and that efforts have been made by racketeers to influence public officials.

Warren himself may be subpoenaed at the next Florida hearing. Col. Jack Younger, president of the crime commission of greater Miami, asked Kefauver said the recommendation will be considered.

STALIN TELLS NEHRU

Red China Admission To UN Is Key To Ending Korea War

NEW DELHI, India, July 17. (AP)—Generalissimo Stalin has told India's Prime Minister Nehru he considers Red China's admission to the United Nations Security Council an essential step toward ending the Korean war, it was reliably reported today.

A reliable source said the Russian prime minister, in a note to Nehru, agreed the Korean crisis must be settled peacefully through the Security Council. But the Council Stalin reportedly insisted, must include the Chinese Communists among its "Big Five" permanent members.

Stalin's note, delivered here yesterday in reply to a previous communication from Nehru, suggested that the views of the Korean people be heard, the source said.

The Russian message was transmitted to Nehru at Allahabad, where he has been visiting, and was cabled to the U. S. and British governments. A foreign ministry official said publication of the note would depend on the reaction of Washington and London.

India, an informed source said, does not expect the United States to take the initiative in securing admission to Communist China to the United Nations. India hopes only that the U. S. will not use its Security Council veto to prevent the Communists replacing Nationalist China's representative.

Authoritative sources in Washington already have reported that the United States, while not ready to vote to admit the Chinese Reds to the U. N., would not veto the Peiping government's application if the Reds received the seven council votes necessary to gain admission.

Press reports here said Stalin agreed to the necessity of a peaceful settlement of the Korean conflict "through the Security Council with the inevitable participation of the Big Five, including representatives of the people's Communist government of China."

Stalin also reportedly said that for a quick solution, representatives of the Korean people would have to be heard. Whether he restricted this to North Koreans was not reported.

Nehru's note to Stalin, according to some reports, proposed that the United States facilitate the entry of Communist China into the United Nations as a step toward solving the Korean crisis. There has been no official confirmation of this, however.

Since last January Russia has boycotted all U. N. groups, including the Security Council, on which Nationalist China has been represented. She has formed all council actions on Korea illegal because her representatives and those of the Peiping government did not participate in the council meetings.

Traffic Accidents Account For 10 State Deaths Over Week-End

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents accounted for seven of the 10 violent deaths reported in Texas during the week-end.

Three persons drowned. Latest deaths reported were: Sgt. Chester G. Hall, of Sheldon, Mo., a soldier at Fort Hood, was killed Saturday and three other soldiers injured when the light truck in which they were riding crashed over an 80-foot cliff just north of the fort.

Landrum W. Pavey, 22, of Midland was decapitated Saturday night when his truck collided head-on with a passenger car 33 miles north of San Angelo. Three occupants of the car were seriously injured.

Ten-year-old Dale Bagley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Bagley of Sweetwater, was killed Saturday when an automobile hit his bicycle.

George M. Dickerson, 60, of Dallas drowned Sunday when his boat capsized in the choppy waters of White Rock Lake, near Dallas. Three others in the boat held on to the overturned craft until they were rescued.

Gordon B. Leard, 34, of Dallas was killed Sunday in an automobile collision in Dallas.

Arthur Thornberg, 36, of Dallas died Sunday of injuries received Friday night when struck by a car as he walked across a road.

Jesus Delgado, 18, of Benavides, was killed in an auto accident five miles southwest of San Diego Sunday morning. One other youth was injured.

Two Houston cousins drowned yesterday in the Brazos River at Rosenberg, Fort Bend County. They were E. J. Zlevert, 14, and Leon Zlevert, 15. They had been swimming.

Arthur Oberhoff, Rosenberg, was killed near there yesterday when his car overturned on a highway.

Two Mars Planes Hit By Engine Trouble In Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. (AP)—Two of the Navy's huge Mars flying boats—one loaded with troops westbound out of Honolulu—experienced engine trouble in midflight the past week-end.

Ninety troops were aboard the Hawaii Mars when an engine conked out Friday and she was forced to return to Hawaii.

More spectacular was the Caroline Mars loss of two engines on her flight, with 16 aboard, from Honolulu to San Francisco Saturday.

About 800 miles off the mainland both engines on one side conked out. Normally operated at 7,000 feet the Caroline Mars dropped to 1,200 feet before she safely set down on San Francisco Bay.

Passengers' baggage, 19,000 pounds of cargo, thousands of pounds of gasoline and all loose gear were dumped overboard to keep the ship up.

Both passengers and crew praised the skill of the pilot, Lt. Cmdr. A. C. Snider of Alameda, Calif., in bringing the four-engine craft to a safe landing. All aboard were Navy personnel except one Marine enlisted man. All were from the bay area.

The Navy said an investigation would be made this week of the Caroline Mars engine failures.

Two Houston cousins drowned yesterday in the Brazos River at Rosenberg, Fort Bend County. They were E. J. Zlevert, 14, and Leon Zlevert, 15. They had been swimming.

Dallas Woman Attacked While In Hospital Bed

By The Associated Press

DALLAS, July 17.—Mrs. Stanford L. Clem, 31, was beaten by an unknown assailant last night as she slept beside her young son, a patient in Bradford Memorial Hospital.

She suffered a fractured skull, deep forehead gashes, and a fractured elbow.

Night Nurse Gayle Price said she heard screams coming from the Clem room, and when she entered found Mrs. Clem leaning beside the bed with blood streaming from her forehead. She said Mrs. Clem told her a large man entered the room while she slept and started beating her.

The Clem infant had been hospitalized for a week awaiting an operation. Mrs. Clem had been sleeping with the infant at night in a ground-level room at the rear of the hospital.

City Police Detective J. N. Souter said the assailant entered through a door opening onto a corridor of the hospital. Another door leading to the outside was locked, and the two casement windows were undisturbed.

The victim's husband, a route man for a Dallas dairy, said a strange man who identified himself as a doctor had entered the room at Bradford hospital twice last week to play with the baby, 14-months-old Edgar. Jack Clem said the man was in the room and on the second visit Clem also was present.

SMOKE HAMPERS RESCUE OF MINE TRAPPED MEN

LARK, Utah, July 17. (AP)—Five men were still trapped in a smoke-filled mine early today, more than 24 hours since they went below the surface.

Billowing smoke hampered the all-night rescue operations at this tiny mining community perched on the foothills of the Quilrth mountain range.

Rescue workers were faced with the difficult task of combing some 100 miles of tunnels. The men are somewhere in this maze of underground passages.

The men have been missing since early Sunday when fire broke out in the Lark mine of the U. S. Smelting, Refining and Mining company.

They are identified as Horace Martin Seal 59, a hoist operator; Leland Neilson, 38, pump operator; Robert Gordon Meyerhoffer, 36, electrician foreman; Byron G. Thomas, 46, surface foreman and mine superintendent.

The men were engaged in maintenance operations at the mine, which has been shut down since July 1 by a strike of United Steelworkers.

Arthritic Child To Try New ACTH Drug

DALLAS, July 17. (AP)—Three-year-old Nina Davis, crippled by arthritis, was to start taking another wonder hormone today—ACTH.

The child has been on a four-week course of cortisone, which worked temporary miracles on most rheumatoid arthritis patients.

The drug gave Nina relief from pain, but failed to melt the stiffness from her bent knees so her doctor could put her legs in straight casts and let her walk for the first time in her life.

Nina apparently felt better during the cortisone treatment than at any time since she contracted arthritis, at the age of seven or eight months.

ACTH is produced from the pituitary glands of hogs. It stimulates the body's adrenal glands indirectly by acting on the human pituitary at the base of the brain.

In limited trials of both drugs over the nation, improvement has usually been spectacular but temporary, with arthritis returning when the shots are stopped. In Nina's case the doctor has a specific goal: to get the legs straightened out during the remission of the disease.

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP)—The stock market slowly gave way under moderate selling pressure today.

Auto issues were particularly hard hit but declines of fractions to more than $1 a share were liberally distributed elsewhere.

A mere handful of stocks improved, notably American Woolen with a gain of more than $1 a share at five times.

Uneasiness over the Korean war continued to dominate trading psychology.

HOW MILD CAN A CIGARETTE BE?

As disclosed in a Nationwide Survey:

MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS

than any other cigarette!

An actual fact, not a guess... a thorough national poll, not just a spot check! 113,597 doctors were asked: "What cigarette do you smoke, Doctor?" The brand named most—CAMEL!

Cross Section, U.S.A.

"THE 30-DAY TEST certainly made sense to me! Pack after pack, day after day, Camels proved they agree with my throat!" Aqua skier, Margie Fletcher.

RADIO ANNOUNCER, George Anabro: "Throat irritation doesn't go in my job. I smoke Camels. Cool, mild Camels are right for my throat!"

COLE PORTER, famed song writer: "Camels scored a hit with me years ago. A great-tasting smoke! And Camels are mild—good and mild!"

OWEN, Mital Lucas Riley: "I made my own 30-Day Test and Camels have been my steady smoke ever since. Nothing tastes quite so good as a Camel!"

Yes, family physicians—surgeons—throat specialists—doctors in all branches of medicine had the same direct question put to them. Just like yourself, doctors smoke for pleasure, too! They were asked to name their personal choice in cigarettes. And, among all these doctors, the brand named most was Camel!

If you're already a Camel smoker, it's easy to understand this preference among doctors. If you're not—we ask you to test Camels for your own smoking enjoyment. But make it a sensible test! Not a "quick-trick" test where you're asked to take one puff of this brand—then one puff of that. Not just an exhale of "A" cigarette and an inhale of "B".

We ask you to test Camels as your steady smoke—for 30 days. Judge Camels' choice to be on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. Use your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) as your proving ground. Compare Camels for mildness—for flavor. Then decide! When you make the 30-Day Test, you'll know why...

MORE PEOPLE SMOKE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

TV COMEDY STAR, PETER LIND HAYES, GIVES HIS VIEWS

"I've watched lots of folks on television try different cigarette tests. The only one that makes sense to me is the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test. I tried it! Camels proved they suit me—puff for puff, pack for pack!"

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

Make your own 30-Day Camel MILDNESS TEST in your "T-Zone"
That's T for Throat, T for Taste. See how mild a cigarette can be.

Odessa Manages 8 To 5 Victory

By The Associated Press Odessa's Oilers, who have a habit of losing to the lightly regarded clubs, can tighten up plenty when the chips are on the line.

Last night they whipped second place Roswell 8-5 and now have a four and one-half game lead in the Longhorn League race. Curt Prediger scattered 11 hits effectively and also helped out at bat. He drove in two runs in a second-inning three-tally spurge that put Odessa in front to stay.

back in one sector at least six miles from the Kum. General MacArthur said the northern Communists suffered their worst setbacks of the Korean war on the East Coast.

In the West the Americans, outnumbered 10 to one by the North Koreans, were pushed back six miles. The entire 24th American Infantry division fell back slowly from the Kum River southwest of Kongju and northwest of Taejon.

He said the American 34th and 19th Infantry Regiments—elements of the 24th Division—had taken up defensive positions along the north and west approaches to Taejon.

Once they crossed the Kum, MacArthur said, the Reds resumed their flanking and infiltration tactics. This forced the Americans back. But they inflicted losses out of proportion to the ground gained.

The Communists apparently had a twin-pronged drive going south of the river. Both field dispatches and Eighth Army headquarters in Korea said Taejon still was in American hands.

American and Australian fighters and U. S. light bombers ranged along the flaming front or just behind it in more than 200 combat sorties in close support of American and South Korean ground forces.

Yongdok is 85 miles above the port of Pusan which is the American supply depot on the peninsula. MacArthur said the Reds had been here for limited success in a combined sea and land operation against the South Koreans Sunday.

The other North Korean setback around Yechon, 55 miles northeast of Taejon, came Sunday night. The South Korean 21st Regiment came up with a unit of U. S. artillery not previously reported in that sector.

PUSAN IS ONLY PORT Lack Of Ports Hurts Efforts To Build Up US Korea Forces

WASHINGTON, July 17. (AP)—An enormously complex—and potentially dangerous—transportation program is hampering efforts to build up material behind the U. S. forces in Korea.

A mass shipment of equipment, weapons, ammunition and other material must go into a single South Korean port daily just to keep forces now there supplied for the bitter fight.

That port is Pusan, a tiny place on world seaports go, with limited facilities and a single railroad and inadequate highway routes linking it to the battle zone.

where the Reds crossed the Han River in force several days ago. Then we headed southeast. Between Punggi and Yongju we found them.

There were at least four Red tanks on the road, heading north. They were wrapped in shrubbery for camouflage. There were some trucks and artillery pieces.

But we were not the only ones to find them. They whizzed down to identify them, artillery shells began dropping in the area—curse—and sending up great puffs of smoke.

Wayne and Radcliff almost laughed. "Tanks!" they yelled, diving.

Lambert Describes Jet Forge Against North Korean Tanks, Men And Material

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom Lambert, Associated Press reporter banned from Korea Saturday but reinstated by General MacArthur, went back to the fighting front in a jet plane today. He tells of his experience in the following article.

By TOM LAMBERT ABOARD A JET FIGHTER TRAINER OVER TAEJON, July 17. (AP)—We were five minutes away from the target area five minutes at jet speed when our flight of four F-80s and one T-33 contacted the air controller.

"Take the area between Sintang and Kongju on the Kum River," the brittle, impersonal voice called over the radio. "Work everything on the north bank and everything three miles south of the river."

Thus began the hunt which had started a handful of minutes earlier. We had left an American air base in Japan to give aerial support to American forces fighting North Korean Communists.

The jets were four jet fighters piloted by Lieutenant Fletcher Meadows of Jacksonville, Fla., William Dougherty of Carmel, Calif., Owen Radcliff of Tampa, Fla., and Robert Wayne of Garden City, N. Y., and an unarmed "rumble seat" F-80 called T-33 piloted by Lt. James E. Tidwell, 25, of Salt Lake City in which I was a passenger.

"We broke through the clouds over Taejon and headed the few miles north to the Kum River where the Americans dug in only a few days ago. At a long highway bridge with one dynamited span we turned west toward Kongju, where the Reds already had made some crossings of the river.

Magnolia Reveals Wildcat Location Magnolia has announced location of its No. 1-W E. D. Murphy, a wildcat venture approximately 18 miles southwest of Gal, from the north and west lines of Sec. 69-25, H&C survey.

Vickers No. 1 Canning, also in Burdon county, took a drillstem test from 5,908 to 5,920 feet. The tool was open 30 minutes, and gas came to the top in six minutes and oil in 17 minutes. It flowed for 13 minutes at an estimated rate of 30 to 40 barrels per hour from unidentified formation, possibly the Cisco.

Two other Big Spring firemen, H. A. Moore and Sam Smith, who were students in the 21st annual school, returned Saturday. The school was among the 675 students and instructors enrolled from eight states and the district of Columbia.

Big Spring and other cities whose fire fighting departments were represented at the Industrial Extension course at A&M will be given credit by the State Fire Insurance commission in the form of reduced fire insurance rates.

Firemen were given training and practice during the five-day school in putting out all types of fires with all types of methods. H. R. Braston, director, said a total of 15,000 gallons of oil and 6,000 gallons of gasoline and kerosene were burned to give a practical aspect to the training.

Student fire fighters used three tons of dry powder and other chemical extinguishing agents in putting out the simulated blazes.

JET PLANES STRIKE American Pilots Rip Red Transport

JAPAN, July 17. (AP)—American pilots blasted North Korean transport today from Seoul to the break-through area south of the Kum River. They flew "round-the-clock" missions, attacking with rockets and machineguns.

Some pilots roared in so low they feared they would scrape trees and hillsides. They ripped trucks crawling southward along highways and big Red tanks sheltered by earth banks.

The fighters reported destruction of three tanks, 17 trucks and two locomotives. They damaged 30 trucks and shot up several Communist shelters.

Some jet pilots said they had been told to blast an area two miles south of Kongju on the Kum River, indicating the Reds had penetrated at least that deep on the western front of American positions.

MacArthur's communique said the Reds had penetrated six miles south of the Kum, but he did not specify where.

It Gerald Major, a jet pilot of South Bend, Ind., said he and another pilot in his flight had left burning one Red tank and an unperfected number of trucks at points several miles south of Konju.

Capt. John Salvyards of Panama, Calif., said he had rocket hits from F-80 jets on "real big tanks" hiding up against a dirt bank in the Kongju area. Salvyards also strafed some trucks in a building area from which American aircraft were "drawing small arms fire."

Li Richard D. Moore of Jacksonville, Fla., and Robert Reube of Miami, Fla., caught one group of two tanks and two trucks on the north bank of the Kum northeast of Kongju and "covered

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Lower Stock Market Is Walk-Street Sign Of War Economy

By J. A. LIVINGSTON
This is where an awful lot of people came in. It's discomfiting, the word President Roosevelt coined in May, 1940, when he told reporters that he hoped the defense program would not upset the normal habits of the country too much.

The Korean discomfiting is already evident in Wall Street. The stock market is down 13 per cent from its June high. General Motors, which sold at $99 after the company announced plans for a two-for-one stock split, dropped to below $80. Television stocks likewise were badly mauled. Admiral Stimpert from $36 a share before Korea to $29. Philco from $49 to $33. RCA from $22 to $15. Zenith from $63 to $40.

WHISTLING WHILE THEY WORK
Workers are better adjusted to jobs and quit less. Layoffs lower than '49.
That would be a step toward partial industrial mobilization. For this much emerges from the Korean conflict. The United States will be on a war footing for a long time to come. Defense expenditures may easily double. That's why Secretary of the Treasury Snyder suggested to Congress to defer action on a tax bill. Personal and corporation taxes may have to go up. Result: The business man can now regard Uncle Sam as a regular customer, not a buyer who vanishes with the peace.

A-Bomb Out Of Character In Korean War

WASHINGTON, July 17. (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the Senate House Atomic Committee, said Sunday he believes the Korean war is of such a character as to rule out use of the atomic bomb.
Speaking in a television interview, McMahon said the A-bomb's primary function is to hit either "sources of power" or massed troops.

Brewster Surveyor Settles Down After Traveling Nation

By FRED H. GASTON
ALPINE, July 17. (AP)—Harry Gard, Brewster County's surveyor who is running unopposed for reelection, discovered the hard way that the scenery, people and the climate of the Big Bend country are far more congenial and enjoyable than any other location in the United States.

He tried to shoot them away but they stood their ground. Then he threw a rock at them. Immediately, they charged him from all directions, gnashing their tusks with ominous sounds. It was not until he killed seven of them with pistol shots that they abandoned the attack.

"My Men Have Put Up A Good Fight," Said The Wounded, Red-eyed Colonel

By WILLIAM R. MOORE
A U. S. COMMAND POST IN KOREA, July 17. (AP)—It was the colonel speaking.
"My men have put up a good fight. I tell you a good fight."
The colonel lay on a stretcher in a clearing, still today well back from the scene of battle.

"The men were pinned down too, but when we started shooting back at the Communists they quit firing.
Then I got hit. Something sure tore hell through my leg. I put a good man in charge and I know my men kept on fighting.
I think what happened was that the Reds came in at us from both flanks. They crossed the river on our right and left and they had their artillery supporting them too. I don't know how many of them came at us and I don't know how many of them we killed. But it was a lot."
