Israel Retaliates For Elath Sinking

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Fighting has broken out between Israeli and Egyptian forces across the Suez Canal, an official army spokesman said today. He said it is continuing. Egyptian and Israeli forces battled across the Suez Canal today and Egypt warned of expected Israeli eye-for-an-eye retaliation against the missile sinking of the Israeli destroyer Elath on Sunday.

Ford Council Approves UAW Contract Offer

DETROIT (UPI)—United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther today took his hard-won and record setting settlement with Ford Motor Co. to his 160,000 Ford members, confident they would ratify it. They will exercise their good judgment and ratify the agreement because they will realize that we have made substantial progress for every Ford worker," said Reuther. But as he spoke following union's 300-man Ford Council meeting Monday night, about 250 skilled tradesmen chanted "no, no, no" in the background. This year, for the first time, the skilled tradesmen have the power to veto the national contract.

Steel Hauling Rigs Trickle Back to Jobs

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Steel-hauling trucks trickled back to the highways and a steel mill resumed production today, marking an end to a violent eight-state strike by 20,000 drivers. Most drivers will not return to the road until later in the week following inspections and repairs to the rigs that have been idle more than two months.

UN Celebrates 22nd Birthday

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—U. N. delegates took a break from their Vietnam and Middle East troubles today for a 22nd birthday program that omitted the traditional playing of Schiller's "Ode to Joy." The concert to mark the anniversary of the world body's founding was to be given this year by the Vienna Symphony Orchestra in the General Assembly Hall.

Chamber Banquet Set for Tonight

The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School cafeteria. Dr. Charles Allen, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Houston, will be the speaker. He is recognized as one of the top afternoon speakers in the nation.

Neighbors Await Answer to Fatal Shooting

EDITOR'S NOTE: The calm of the quiet town of Lock Haven, Pa., was shattered Monday when Leo Held walked into the plant where he had been employed for 19 years and opened fire on his coworkers. When the shooting stopped 90 minutes later, six friends were dead and six others badly wounded. The following report digs deeply into reasons why a devoted family man, skillful technician, regular churchgoer and outwardly "quiet, peaceful man" suddenly went on a rampage of death.

By LEE LEONARD
LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (UPI)—Leo Held, 39, devoted husband and father, school board member, churchgoer, level-headed, calm, easygoing, friendly, gun fancier, sharpshooter. "He knew how to handle his guns," said a friend and coworker. "He hunted whatever was in season. Today it was people."

LBJ's Stand on Vietnam Fails to Quiet Critics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's assertion that the United States "stay the course" in Vietnam failed today to quiet the critics of his conduct of the war.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., who has long differed with the President on the war issue, sharply challenged Secretary of State Dean Rusk's recent declarations on U.S. goals in the conflict.

Hospital Bond Election Petition Reaches Quota

Well over the required number of qualified voters have petitioned for a bond election calling for improvements at Highland General Hospital, and County Commissioners are expected to give formal approval for the election tomorrow at the 10 a.m. meeting.

Blighted Areas Will Be Cleanup Targets

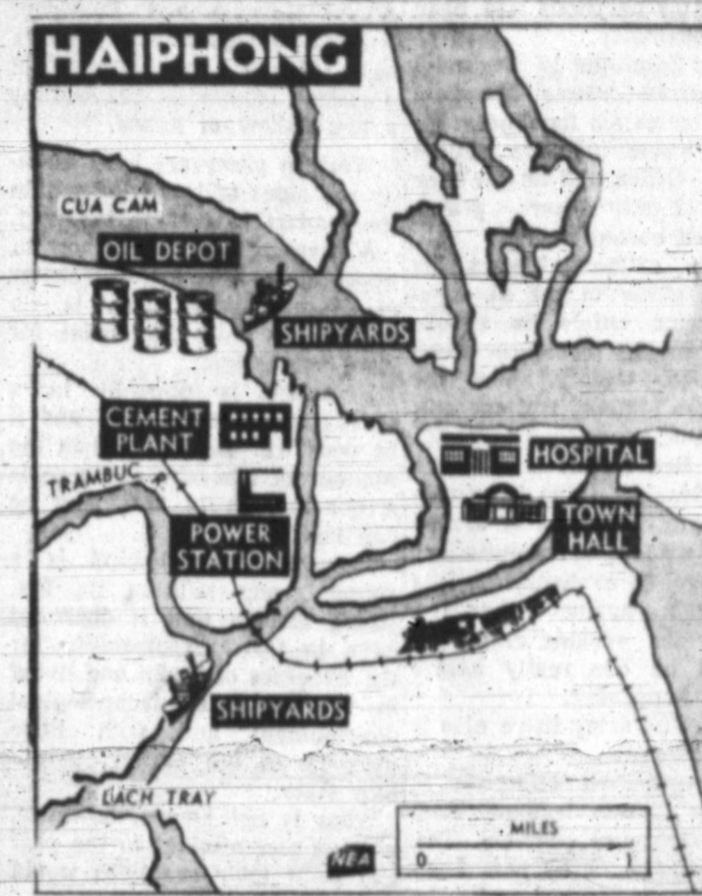

An overall cleanup of blighted areas in Pampa was promised by Mayor Jim Nation at today's meeting of the city commission. The mayor, acting on a recommendation by City Manager Jim White, said the city manager and his staff would take immediate steps to seek cooperation of property owners to put the city-wide cleanup of weeds and junk piles into effect.

QUIET, PEACEFUL CITIZEN

Held would lose his job as a laboratory technician in a shakeup rumored at the Hammermill Paper Co. Police won't be sure until they question Held, who lies in a hospital bed with four grave bullet wounds. At 8 a.m. Held, 6-foot and balding, strode through the front door of the Hammermill Paper Co. plant where he had worked for 19 years. He packed a .38 caliber revolver and a .45 caliber automatic. The first man he saw was Carmen Edwards, 37, of Mill Hall, a coworker Held shot him dead as coworkers watched. Workers who at first thought Held was joking realized he had run amok. They dived for safety

SECOND DAY IN ROW — U.S. Navy Jets today struck the heart of Haiphong, bombing a key bridge, a rail yard and missile and gun sites in North Vietnam's major port city.

OVERALL SWEEP PROMISED

The city manager said the city would move in and do the job, selling whatever can be salvaged to pay part of the expense. Samuel Motley, who circulated the petition discussed today, said property owners in the area would be satisfied in this instance if some daily progress could be seen and an effort shown to remove the junk and weeds from the area which the petition called a "health menace and fire hazard."

Urges Bombing Halt

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., speaking at a "Vietnam week" forum at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, called for an immediate end to the bombing of North Vietnam and a de-escalation of the U.S. military effort in the South.

CAIRO (UPI) — Israeli artillery along the Suez Canal opened fire on the Egyptian city of Suez today, Cairo Radio reported.

Local Residents Praised For Tuberculosis Funds

Pampa and Gray County received high praise yesterday for the $5,000 donation to the Texas Tuberculosis Association by the association's Gray County unit. Curt Lambert of Austin, consultant for the state association, told members of the county organization at a quarterly meeting in Jim's Steak House that "never before in the history of the Texas association has there been a gift as large as the $5,000 donated by the Gray County Tuberculosis Association in July of this year for research pertaining to tuberculosis and respiratory diseases."

Neighbors Await Answer to Fatal Shooting

Held continued to shoot. The spree in the plant lasted just a few minutes. Held walked back out the main entrance and climbed into a station wagon he apparently had left in the parking lot Friday. In the plant five persons "lay dead, four wounded. He drove about one mile to the Lock Haven Airport on the outskirts of this semi-industrial community of 12,000. Standing at the doorway of the Piper Aircraft Co. office, he fired four shots at Mrs. Geraldine Ramm, 37, of Held's home town of Loganton. Mrs. Ramm, a member of the car pool to which Held once belonged, had (See NEIGHBORS, Page 3)

Air Teams Eager for Key Raid

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. planes bombed North Vietnam's largest MIG airfield at Phuc Yen outside Hanoi for the first time of the war and shot down one MIG-21 which rose to defend it. A second MIG was "probably" shot down. Phuc Yen, 18 miles northwest of Hanoi, is considered the key to the defenses of the North Vietnamese capital and is ringed by anti-aircraft sites and surface-to-air missiles. It is considered the most heavily defended airbase in the North.

Herring Hotel Sold at Auction

AMARILLO (UPI)—The 13-story Herring Hotel, built during the Texas Panhandle oil boom of the 1920s, was sold for $150,250 Monday to a Beverly Hills, Calif. man to satisfy tax liens against it. Morris Seinhauer of Beverly Hills, president of Seinhauer Investment Co., was the successful bidder. His price was just $250 more than the minimum set by U.S. Dist. Judge Joe E. Estes. More than 300 persons attended. (See HOTEL, Page 3)

DESPITE SUCCESSES

Frustration in Kremlin

Journey Through Russia
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
MOSCOW (UPI) — Towering construction cranes piercing the Moscow skyline and the eerie blue light of welding torches working into the night attest to Soviet determination to put Communism's best foot forward on the Nov. 7 celebration of 50 years of Red rule.

But in the Kremlin there is both disappointment and frustration.

After the Nov. 7 celebration a Kremlin shakeup and abandonment of committee rule seems more than possible.

Speculation places party leader Leonid Brezhnev in the decision-making role, even though only temporarily.

Standing in the wings and awaiting a call is Alexander Shelepin, still in his 50s but a veteran of Kremlin jockeying.

Rich in Resources

The U.S.S.R. is so rich in resources that it doesn't even know the extent of its wealth. Boistered by the patience of its people, it has been able to afford mistakes.

But, particularly in their jubilee year, the Red leaders had hoped it would be a year of internal unity without international crisis. It did not turn out that way.

The Mideast war exposed the weakness of committee rule and left the Soviet Union floundering.

The war in Vietnam carries with it the constant threat of a nuclear confrontation with the United States which the Soviets do not want.

The closure of the Suez Canal has over-burdened the trans-Siberian railway for shipments of war aid to Communist North Vietnam and added enormously to the costs of the sea route which now must go around the African Cape of Good Hope via the Mediterranean.

Overriding all of this is Soviet concern over their steadily worsening relations with Communist China with whom they share the world's longest border. A relatively low-ranking charge d'affaires now heads the Russian embassy in Peking. All families have been removed.

And so a regime which had hoped to avoid major decisions and major risks in this year finds itself faced with ever greater decisions and ever greater risks.

And so the need for one man to make the decisions and bear the responsibility.

Leonid Zamiatin is a sandy-haired man whose pleasant manner belies his toughness. He is the voice of the Soviet Foreign Office and he neither speaks lightly nor grants interviews casually.

Over a coffee table in his spacious office in the skyscraper Foreign Office he speaks with surprising frankness about Red China, tersely about the war in the Mideast and the one in Vietnam.

Inside Red China:

"The Maoists (Mao Tse-tung) are relying on groups of armed youth without revolutionary experience. In consequence, it is a struggle against either the army or the working class."

"But no one really knows what is happening."

"Inside the army there also is a great struggle."

"Mao's over-all effort is to eliminate certain leaders, such as President Liu Shao-chi. The fact that he has not been successful is proof of the strength of his opposition."

"In our opinion this is not a cultural revolution at all."

"Actually it is a counterrevolution against the petty bourgeois who have always been strong in the Mao party and against the workers."

If Liu Shao-chi should win?

"We do not know what effect it would have on Sino-Russian relations."

Of the Mideast:

"We believe that without an Israeli retreat, even a permanent truce is impossible. The shooting incidents along the Suez Canal show there always will be conflict."

About Vietnam:

By tacit agreement we dropped the subject after his reference to U.S. "aggression" in Vietnam and this correspondent's suggestion that he was playing with definitions.

It was clear that agreement to drop the subject was the only possible agreement we could reach.

As problems have piled upon problems for the regime now headed by Brezhnev, Premier Alexei Kosygin and President Nikolai Podgorny, the leaders have found that important decisions cannot be reached by a mere show of hands.

Western observers here already see signs of jockeying within the leadership for the top post. A pressing question is how to accomplish a peaceful transfer of power since there is no provision within the Soviet for legal succession.

Brezhnev is now 61 in a swiftly aging leadership, and if he does win the top post in the manner of Khrushchev there is a question as to how long he can hold it.

Pressing from behind is a young group still in its 50s, young enough that it does not have to take responsibility for the excesses of Stalin and living in the midst of technological development and with little memory of the earlier, primitive state.

What is not known, however, is their commitment to the past and what their reactions would be in the midst of crisis.

Piano Teachers Workshop Held Here Yesterday

Delegates from eight Panhandle area towns attended the George Anson Piano Teachers Workshop here Monday at Tarpley's Music Studio.

Towns represented were Pampa, Amarillo, Canadian, Dumas, McLean, Borger, White Deer, Clayton, N. M., and Hooker, Okla.

Pampa Music Teachers Association and Tarpley Music Co. of Pampa sponsored the one-day workshop.

Anson received his Bachelor of Music degree at Illinois Wesleyan University, Master of Music in composition at the University of Arizona, and was honored recently by the Illinois Wesleyan University with the Doctor of Humanities degree for his contributions to the musical field.

He was one of the Texas Composers of the Year in 1961 and 1967 and was named teacher of the Year in 1967 at Texas Music Teachers Association convention.

PIANO TEACHERS' WORKSHOP — George Anson, left, chairman of the Piano Department of Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth, reviews points he suggested Monday during the piano teachers' workshop for Panhandle area piano teachers. Pampan listening to Anson's suggestions were Mrs. Charles Parr, Buzz Tarpley and Mrs. Carl Shafer, right.

High School Band To Play At West Texas State Event

Pampa High School Harvester Band will perform with four other bands for the Homecoming Day Saturday for West Texas State University in Canyon.

Band members will rehearse Saturday morning with the WTSU band, march in the homecoming parade Saturday afternoon and attend a barbecue dinner.

The band will perform with students from Hereford, Tulla, Canyon and Caprock bands during the WTSU halftime performance.

The combined bands will perform several field formations at WTSU stadium, including, spelling out "High School Band Night" and "Buffs", and forming a salute to the WTSU team.

During the crowning of the WTSU homecoming queen, the bands will form a crown. Half-time music selections include "Stars and Stripes Forever," the "1812 Overture," and the traditional WTSU fight song, "On, On, Buffaloes." Harrier Brinson, PHS band director, said.

Pampans to Attend Historical Meeting

Four Pampa area residents will attend the Texas State Historical Survey Committee's annual state-wide meeting in Galveston Thursday through Saturday.

Those representing Gray County are Tracy D. Cary, chairman of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee, and Mrs. Ered Thompson, both of Pampa; Mrs. Vera F. Black and Mrs. Alice Short Smith, both of McLean.

About 3,000 delegates are expected to attend the three-day meeting.

Fine Arts Group Hear Lecturer in First of Series

Dord Fitz, artist and lecturer, presented the first of three lectures sponsored by the Pampa Fine Arts Association Monday night at the Lovett Memorial Library.

Speaking on "Man and the Creative Art," the artist emphasized the importance of understanding art through painting. He presented a slide program of master works and changes in art construction down through the ages.

Fitz, whose works hang in the library during the lecture, stated he has not displayed any recent work for 13 years and uses many old paintings to see what reaction they have on the public.

A program for the public will be presented at the Dord Fitz Galleries in Amarillo, beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday. Contemporary artists will be present for a pane discussion.

Louise Nevelson, recognized as one of the greatest living sculptors, will talk on "The Multiple Image in Sculpture". Kass Zappus, world renowned painter will use the multiple image in painting; Merce Cunningham, winner of international choreography and dance honors in Paris during 1966, will present some of his dances. About 250 people are expected to attend.

About 50 members of the Pampa Fine Arts Association will attend, according to John McCausland, member.

Damage Suit Filed In Auto Accident

George King of Pampa has filed suit against J. S. Skelly of Pampa, doing business as J. S. Skelly Fuel Company, for negligence in 31st Judicial District Court.

King alleges that a vehicle owned by Skelly ran into him, causing "mental and physical pain and anguish" and a loss of earnings.

King claims that he has expended over $2,000 for medical treatment for injuries sustained in the collision. He has asked the court to award him damages of $50,000 for loss of income and physical and mental anguish.

The women of the Moose will have the regular meeting at 8 p.m. today at Moose Hall.

8 Pampans to Attend State Teachers Meet

Eight Pampans will attend the annual Texas State Teachers Association convention in Houston Thursday through Saturday.

Pampans planning to attend are Dr. John Damron, school superintendent; Mrs. J. A. Poole, Pampa Classroom Teachers Association president; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gruben.

About 10,000 persons are expected to attend to hear lectures by Texas educators and political representatives. Speakers include U. S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, Dr. John W. McFarland, dean of the School of Education, University of Texas at El Paso; Braulio Alonso, Pampa, Fla., National Education Association president; Mrs. L. L. Ledger, Copperas Cove, Texas, Congress of Parents and Teachers president; and Speaker of the House of Representatives, Ben Barnes.

TSTA president Sam M. Anderson, Big Spring, will preside during each general session. Subject matter affiliated TSTA associations representing every part of Texas education will have section meetings, luncheons and dinners.

Special section topics range from technical aspects of classroom instruction, the conquest of outer space and inside looks at such things as federal government public relations methods and school lunch programs.

Overall convention planning is being directed by TSTA Executive Secretary Charles H. Tenyson who has predicted the convention to be one of the biggest ever in the 90-year history of the association.

All convention sessions take place in Houston's Sam Houston Coliseum. The final business session of the convention will be a meeting of TSTA's policy-making House of Delegates.

Last year main items of business before the House of Delegates at the 1966 convention included development of major legislative goals. Virtually all of this legislative program was voted into law by the Texas Legislature earlier this year.

This year the central feature of the House of Delegates' business will concern internal TSTA changes and improvement. A major item on the agenda will be a discussion of a proposed dues increase from $10 per member annually to $18 per member annually.

The dues increase, along with a number of other suggested organizational changes, was recommended earlier this year by a 31-member TSTA Study Committee which reviewed future needs and responsibilities of the association. Miss Harriet Griffin, of Fort Worth, TSTA past-president, was chairman.

Meet a 1968 "youngmobile" from Oldsmobile.

Now that you've been introduced, why not get together?

Why not take the wheel of this Cutless 5—youngest of the "youngmobiles" from Olds. A new 330-CID Rocket V-8 delivers more power at lower operating cost. And does it more smoothly and quietly, as well. You say you prefer a Six? Olds has a 240-CID Action-Line 6, too. These are only a few of the many features that make Oldsmobile's Cutless 5 your fancy and finance. 4-speed stick to stereo to sporty pinstriping. Front disc brakes to dual exhausts to Rally Sport Suspension. (All the new GM safety features are standard.) What it adds up to is this: If you like cars with a lot of pizzazz in the way they look—cars with a lot of moxie in the way they drive—your Oldsmobile Dealer is the man to see. They're the only kind he carries.

Classes Observe Fire Prevention

The eighth grade science classes at Robert E. Lee Junior High School have observed National Fire Prevention Week with an extended study this week of the "Science of Fire."

Curriculum for this study was developed by the eighth grade science teachers, Mrs. Bill Cornman, Mrs. Paul D. Keim and Mrs. Joe M. Daniel, directed by Mrs. Otto Mangold.

The study, which ends this week, has included laboratory experiences with the chemistry of fire, special reports, filmstrips and films. Included in the study was a talk with demonstrations on fire safety practices by Jerry Lunsford.

Kay Fancher spoke to the students on fire prevention and the cost of fires in money, lives and jobs.

Fire-Chief J. E. Winborn of the Pampa Fire Department will meet the students at the fire hydrant near the school Wednesday to demonstrate the pumper hook-up, pulmotors, forceful entry, and concepts of water pressure.

Jurors Dismissed — Petit jurors for 31st Judicial District Court have been dismissed for the week, according to an announcement by Mrs. Helen Sprinkle, District Clerk. Postponement of a schedule trial was given as the cause for dismissal.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, having loved my husband very much after living many happy years with him. Now, after a reasonable time, I am keeping company with a fine man who has been a widower for a like period. He also loved his wife very much and had a happy life with her. Abby, I love this man, and would like to spend my remaining years with him. The trouble is, that although I am sure he loves me, too, he feels that by marrying again he would be disloyal to the memory of his first wife. Because of this we are losing precious time that we could be spending together.

I maintain that a person can "fall in love" more than once in a lifetime and that after losing one's beloved mate, in time, the heart "heals" and there is no disloyalty in finding happiness with another.

What is your viewpoint on widows and widowers caring for each other and making new lives together?

DEAR HOPING: It is said that one who has known true happiness in marriage and has lost his mate will marry for he respects the married state and wishes to know it again. I agree with you. But if your widower friend balks at marriage no matter what his reason, he probably doesn't want to get married. So, if you do, don't waste any more precious time on him.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, who is 15, is thinking of getting married to a boy of 16. I have tried to talk her into waiting until she finishes high school. (This is her first year.)

Recently she told her father and me that if we didn't give her permission to marry she will get herself in a fix like lots of girls do, and then we will have to let her get married or she will disgrace us.

Have you any advice to give her? She reads your articles every day. I hope you will print something to help us with this situation as she is about to drive her Pa and me nuts. Thank you, HER MOM

DEAR MOM: I could give your daughter plenty of advice, but she hasn't asked me for any. Tell her that even if she gets herself "in a fix," you may not consent to the marriage. And let her know that her threats to "disgrace" you do not frighten you. She can disgrace only herself.

DEAR ABBY: In the book of etiquette it says that all personal notes should be written in either dark blue or black ink. Well, how about a professional Irishman who uses nothing but GREEN ink?

This man is so proud of the fact that he is Irish that he never lets anybody forget it for a minute. He wears green all the time. His house is painted green. He drives a green car, and he has cute little shamrock designs on everything from his business stationery to his mailbox. Don't you think someone ought to tell that "Jolly Green Giant" that GREEN ink is not considered good etiquette?

KNOWS BETTER
DEAR KNOWS: I'm sure it wouldn't faze him. And he'd bet you his shillelagh that he's gained more by being a "professional Irishman" than he's lost.

Senior Center Corner

By Guest Reporter, Mrs. C. G. Miller

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor and her daughter Maurita had for weekend guests Mrs. Taylor's nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Blaine Cluster of St. Louis, Mo. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cluster's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Smith and their daughter, Leslie Dawn, of Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Cluster was reared by his aunt, Mrs. Taylor. This was their first meeting in 28 years. Mrs. Smith is a great-niece and Leslie Dawn a great-great-niece of Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Ruth Sewell is leaving soon for Corpus Christi and Rockport on a vacation. She will be fishing and visiting with relatives and friends. Frank Campbell was a guest at the Senior Citizens' meeting Thursday. We hope he will come again.

Mrs. J. B. Mendenhall and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mendenhall of Versailles, Ohio, have been visiting their sister and aunt, Mrs. Mary B. Puckett recently.

Mrs. Martha Sailor of Lompoc, Calif., is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ailie Barrett, south of Pampa, Mrs. Louise Sailor, and other relatives in Texas. Mrs. Sailor attended the Senior Citizens' meeting and told members how the Senior Citizens' organization is operated in Lompoc.

Mrs. Alsie Walker has returned from a three-weeks visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Walker and children in Sunnyvale, Calif.

Mrs. Lillian Wade of Snyder visited recently with her mother, Mrs. Pearl Erwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Evans went to Amarillo Friday to spend the day with their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Oats.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Norris have not been able to attend the Senior Citizens' party several months.

Larry Eckroat took his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Eckroat, to Halley, Colo., to stay with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hays.

Mrs. Eckroat recently came home with her son Virgil Eckroat and granddaughter, Miss Cindy Eckroat.

Mrs. Maude Williams of Houston, was a guest at the Senior Citizens' party Thursday. She has been visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adair and a niece, Janie Huskey of Borger.

Mrs. Tom Sullivan of Clarendon, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. L. Adams, was a guest Thursday at the Senior Citizens' party at the Lovett Memorial Library.

Mrs. O. A. Wagner returned last Thursday night from a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Grace Epperson and children at Welch, Okla. While in Kansas, she attended the 75th anniversary of the Christian Church at Elm City, Kans., where she was a former member.

Mrs. Maggie Deal and J. E. Adair received door prizes.

Mrs. Frank Arthur sent several potted geraniums to be given to guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Tucker and daughter, Lee Ann, of Borger were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Fard and Mrs. Della Tucker.

Red Cross Volunteers serving with transportation were Mmes. A. D. Hillis, George Benham, and Mr. F. W. Shorwell.

Hostesses were the Business and Professional Women's Club. Serving during the refreshment hour were Mmes. Jessie Rance, Mae Etta Powers, Virginia McDonald, Flossie Anderson, Pearl Castka, Louise Sewell, Heneel Knox, Lucille Turner, Ruth Sewell and Ola McAfee.

Gavel Club Has Matrons' Meeting

The Order of Eastern Star Past Matrons' Gavel Club met recently in the Reddi Room at the Southwestern Public Service Co.

A guest, Mrs. Hesta Hestand, Worthy Matron of Pampa Chapter No. 65, and 22 members attended the covered dish supper.

Hostesses were Marie Bolander, Vi Cobb and Ina Reading. Loleta Byars, president, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Ruth Sewell, secretary, read minutes of the last regular meeting in September. A note of thanks was read from Mrs. Maude Voyles for flowers sent to the funeral of her mother.

Members present other than those mentioned were Mmes. Rachel Jones, Ethel Stilwell, Hazel Parker, Alpha McCusick, Mildred Cunningham, Reva Tomlin, Ada Warner, Katie Vincent, Ruth Sewell, Viola Pennington, Rosalie Wedge, Ruth Casey, Lydia Burba, Amelia Schowpe, Stella Wagner, Lorena Railsback, Blanche Morrison, Cassie Lena Fuqua, Katie Vincent gave the invocation.

The next monthly meeting will be Nov. 9.

Canadian Rebekahs Have Special Social

CANADIAN — A number of Canadian Rebekah Lodge members attended the Friendship night meeting of the Perryton Lodge and a Halloween party recently.

Those attending were Mmes. Horace Rivers, Jack Nix, Clark Reagan, Martha Newton, Lillie Reeves, Agnes Adams, Charlie Alford, F. A. Blue and Iva Lee Morgan.

Members of Rebekah lodge also met recently at the hall for a Halloween party. Hostesses, Mrs. Chester Wootton, Mrs. F. A. Blue and Mrs. Agnes Adams served refreshments from tables decorated in the Halloween motif.

Plans were made to entertain state president Mrs. Nettie Morris here Oct. 19. Guests are expected from Perryton and Spearman.

Those present were Mrs. Marie Smith, a former member of the local lodge from Cheverone, Wyo.; Mmes. Horace Rivers, Troy Moon, Rachel Kelly, Iva Lee Morgan, Lois Bryant, Ben Jordan, F. A. Blue, Agnes Adams, Charlie Alford, Albert Price, Chester Wootton, Martha Newton, Ora Wilson, Lillie Reeves and Pat Howe.

PAMPA WOMEN'S GOLF ASSOCIATION OFFICERS—New officers installed Sunday in the Pampa Women's Golf Association semi-formal installation dinner at the Pampa Country Club were left to right, Mrs. Jimmy Hayes, secretary; Mrs. John Fritch Jr., tournament chairman; Mrs. Don Stafford, treasurer; Mrs. J. C. Ward, president and Mrs. Bob Conster, vice president. The dinner ended the association's fall season, but a coffee in March will start the new season of women's golf play days. Mrs. George Dooley, outgoing president, installed new officers and chairmen with Mrs. Scott Hall assisting.

Scouting Scoops

Mrs. G. J. Boyd

Troop 25 completed its cooking school course last week at Southwestern Public Service Co. Troop members entertained their mothers for tea Monday. Troop leaders are Mrs. C. C. Hoover and Mrs. P. B. Rapstine. Members are Beverly Bradford, Joyce Elliot, Becky Ellis, Zindi Epperson, Teddy Fallon, Donna Gilpatrick, Kimberly Hooyer, Melody Manley and Melanie Miller, Lisa Morrel, Jeanie Rapstine, Stephanie Secrest, Brenda Wallace and Viki Youngblood.

An arts and crafts session was held last week in the home of Mrs. Edward Orsak for troop leaders of Travis Elementary School. Attending were Mmes. Richard Seawright, Donnie Ray, Jeff Anderson; Mack Courtney, Max Lovell, Edward Orsak and Mrs. G. J. Boyd, craft consultant. The exchange of troop activities and craft ideas help new leaders to schedule their meetings.

For the first time, leaders of Junior, Cadette and Senior troops will receive a special Leader Edition of American Girl, with a bound-in "for leaders only" section. This "workbook" is the key for leaders to use the editorial content to guide their troop to better program activities.

The annual Girl Scout calendar sale begins Nov. 6 and ends Dec. 1. Troop leaders are reminded to check council policy revisions before the sale.

Mrs. J. R. Newman, Cadette troop leader, has a few openings for girls wishing to join a Cadette troop. This is an active troop participating in troop projects, camping, sewing and various service projects.

'68 CHEVY II NOVA COUPE

The day of the plain Jane economy car has come and gone. Chevrolet has something far finer to offer.

LONG HOOD, SHORT DECK

You get your economy now under Nova's new swept-back roof. You get your engine dependability under Nova's new long hood. You get your rust prevention beneath Nova's new rounded fenders and larger body.

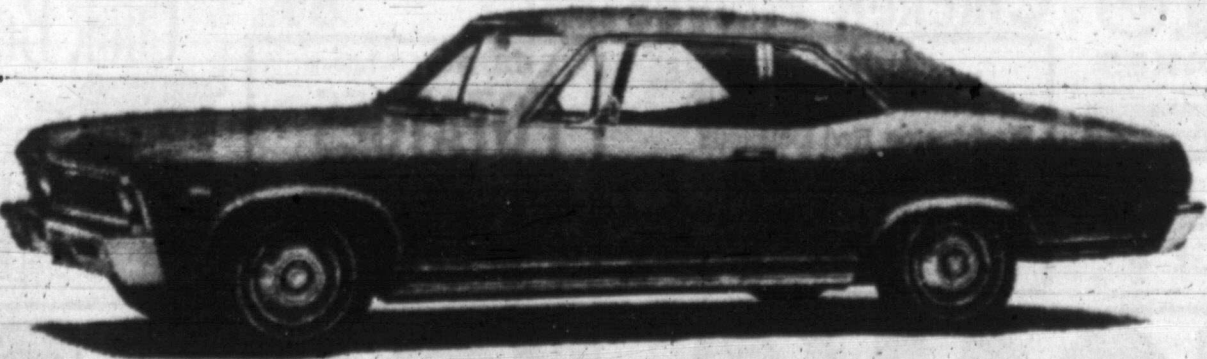

SUPERLATIVE RIDE

You get the smoothest in handling, too. The wheel stands is wider, the rear suspension has been redesigned, and there is a new cushion-mounted front end. Nova feels like it's a thousand pounds heavier. It rides with amazing silence and smoothness.

NEW ALL OVER

The grille is new. The interior is new. (There's even a special custom interior you can order.) The likes of which no economy car has ever offered before. The standard V8 is bigger, more powerful. So is the standard Six with its new Monojet carburetor that contributes to greater efficiency, economy and performance. There are many new safety features, including energy-absorbing front seat backs to go along with the proved GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column. And when you equip a Nova with the SS package, you look out over a special hood and black accented grille, housing a 300-cubic-inch Turbo-Fire V8.

Front to back, Chevy II Nova's now a driving enthusiast's kind of car but, fortunately for you, it still comes at a saving enthusiast's kind of price. Very low.

For so little: $2261.00

Manufacturer's suggested retail price for standard Six-Chevy II Nova Coupe shown above includes Federal Sales Tax, suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Model shown shown equipped as indicated and with Custom Interior. MSRP. White. With 351-24, Wheel Covers 321-16, Transportation charges, accessories, optional equipment, taxes and local fees additional.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer.

Foreign News
Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst.
President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic appears to be trying to patch up his quarrel with the United States.

The latest indication as a round-about admission in the authoritative Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram that it was Israeli aircraft alone, without the aid of U.S. and British warplanes as Nasser first charged, who were able to destroy most of the Egyptian airforce on the ground on the first day of the Arab-Israeli war.

It was with the excuse of U.S. and British intervention that on June 8 Nasser closed the Suez Canal and broke relations with the United States. He already had broken relations with Britain on the issue of Rhodesia.

The Al-Ahram account, written by Nasser's friend, editor Mohammed Hassanein Heykal, was one of a series explaining why the Arabs lost the six-day war.

U.S. Not Mentioned
Without mentioning either the United States or Britain, Heykal explained that the Israelis, in low-flying French Mysteres capable of evading U.A.R. radar came in by "the only route we should have expected."

Once before, Heykal cautiously had suggested that it might be to Egypt's advantage to renew relations with the United States.

As Nasser has had to face up to his desperate straits there have been other concessions—concessions which have led to harsh criticism from Arab extremists in both Algeria and Syria.

Most widely heralded was the agreement to resume the flow of oil to Western nations.

Less widely heralded was the reopening of the American University in Cairo and American schools for children of diplomats.

Another was to tone down Cairo Radio's strident voice of the Arabs.

Harsh realities would favor such action by Nasser.

Shortly after the war ended, last June, Red China announced a gift of 150,000 tons of wheat to the U.A.R., enough to meet normal needs for three weeks. The Russians agreed to supply another 250,000 tons but on commercial terms.

Astrological Forecast
By CARROLL RIGHTER
FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 25
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening to put across most anything that is in your mind and that can bring you peace and happiness in your personal life as well as more prosperity in relation to your goods and possessions. Get a better understanding of what others have in their mental files also for best results.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Study the tasks ahead of you from a different angle and you get a different picture. Then improve relations at home. Go to the right business houses for the material you want and are just right for your needs.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Out to some interesting trip with an ally, or sit down and discuss the future more wisely. You get letters from near and far and these could bring in fine benefits. Get busy and answer them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Financial affairs should now be talked over with kin and you can then figure out what is best to buy for added comfort and beauty. Listen to what an advisor has to suggest. Follow through and be more successful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Slip out and be with persons you admire and you get ahead much faster and have a wonderful time as well. Do more social you are, the better the results. Have a real ball.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Anything of a personal nature that is nonetheless practical is fine, so get busy early and make big headway. One you like romantically has fine ideas. You can get excellent results by approving yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Now you understand just what to do to get support from higher ups, get the contracts, etc. that mean much to you. Make the right arrangements with regard to some new project on hand. Be thorough.

Southern Cal., UCLA, Pace Top 10 Listing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The city of Los Angeles—the third largest in the nation—is not usually what you have in mind when you think of a rustic "college town."

But the sprawling metropolis is currently the home of the nation's top two rated college football teams—Southern California and UCLA. It's the first time the No. 1 & 2 teams have been from the same city, and the schools are scheduled to meet Nov. 18 in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

USC, led by O.J. Simpson's 236-yards rushing and two touchdowns, Saturday, sparked the Trojans to a 23-6 victory over Washington to retain the top spot in the weekly ratings by the 35-member United Press International Board of Coaches.

Meanwhile, second-ranked Purdue was beaten, enabling UCLA to move into the No. 2 spot with a 21-16 victory over Stanford. Colorado continued the Western flavor of the ratings by moving into the No. 3 post with a victory over Nebraska by an identical 21-16 score.

its grip on the top spot as the fifth straight league crown chain, while lifting their own record to 5-0. The Golden Buffaloes received the only other first place vote and amassed 265 points.

The Bruins (6-0) got two first place votes and collected 313 points—32 less than the Trojans. Colorado, marching toward the Big Eight title, virtually eliminated the Cornhusker's hopes of Colorado, but started a setback, kept a solid hold on the middle of the top 10 as North Carolina State and Georgia moved into the fifth and sixth spots behind Tennessee. North Carolina State (5-0), moved up to the fourth one place by downing Wake Forest 24-7 and Georgia scored three notches from last week, 36-8 over VMI, to move up from eighth and make its record 4-1. Purdue was able to stay near the top by drawing 119 points,

RICE, TEXAS HURT

'Horns Lose Pair

By United Press International Coach Darrell Royal is bemoaning the loss of Joel Brame and Ken Gidney for the game against Rice, Saturday. But the Owls are in much the same pickle, having lost their leading rusher and starting defensive end.

Rice, riding atop the South West Conference, have lost L.V. Benningfield and defensive end George Alexander from injuries in the Southern Methodist game.

Royal said Forrest Wiegand or Bobby Wuensch would go in at center against Rice, presuming Gidney can't make it.

"We might have to start a center who hasn't played a down," Royal said.

Royal said he felt quarterback Bill Bradley "played his best game, outside his passing" in Texas' 21-12 win over Arkansas.

Coach Bit Unhappy

And, speaking of Arkansas, Coach Frank Broyles of the Razorbacks was not cheerful Monday.

He ran his hogs through an hour and a half workout in full pads and said the practices were going to get even tougher.

The Razorbacks have a 1-3-1 record.

They meet Kansas State Saturday night in Little Rock. Broyles said the Wildcats would be tough and that they can beat anyone even when they are hemmed in.

Offensive tackle Ernest Ruple was a doubtful starter, Broyles said.

Ruple was injured in Arkansas' 21-12 loss to Texas last week.

SMU Co-captains Out

Southern Methodist has lost Co-Capt. Mike Janszen, starting tackle, for the Mustangs' game against Texas Tech.

He got hurt against Rice. John Kimbrough who missed the Rice game with an injured knee, is out perhaps for the season.

Coach Hayden Fry rated sophomore linebacker Tommy Fraser as the best performer in the SMU's game with the Owls. He got in 15 tackles.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs worked briskly Monday in preparation for Nebraska Saturday and Coach Fred Taylor promoted sophomore Dan Carter to No. 1 quarterback.

It will be Carter's first starting assignment. He has played all season since P. D. Shabay has been injured.

Taylor said he would make more changes but would not announce them until later in the week.

BUT KENNEDY NAMED

Finley Wanted Joe

By MILTON RICHMAN NEW YORK (UPI)—Charlie Finley wanted one man to manage his ball club—Joe DiMaggio.

This was no sudden brainstorm with Finley. He had given the idea a great deal of thought. Joe DiMaggio managing Oakland? It sounded like a natural. Why not? DiMaggio always has been enormously popular around San Francisco's bay area where he grew up and still spends much of his time, and if he were to manage the new Oakland franchise, Finley reasoned, many people would come out to the ball park simply to see him.

When Finley gets an idea, he likes to tell others about it. So about a month ago, he went to Frank Lane, who was once his general manager at Kansas City, and now is a trouble shooter for Baltimore, and asked his opinion.

"What would you think if I hired DiMaggio to manage for me in Oakland?" Finley asked Lane approximately a month ago, providing some idea what he thought his chances were at the time of getting permission to shift his franchise.

"You'd certainly be getting a class guy," answered Lane, "but I question whether you can get him to manage your club."

Frank Lane confirmed that conversation Monday in Clearwater, Fla., where he, Harry Dalton and other members of the Orioles family were in the middle of an organizational meeting with Hank Bauer and his coaches.

Kennedy Named

Finley named Bob Kennedy his new manager Friday but only a few hours before the announcement Kennedy said, "I was just one of several people he told me he was interested in."

DiMaggio was Finley's No. 1 interest. There's little doubt Finley spoke to DiMaggio about managing next season before he named him executive vice president and there's equally little doubt Joe said no thanks to that first proposition.

The memory of that December day in 1961 when DiMaggio retired as an active player with the Yankees still remains vivid. They asked him whether he had ever given any thought to managing.

"I have enough trouble trying to manage myself without trying to manage 25 others," he said.

From what he says, he still feels the same way.

As Finley's chief executive now, DiMaggio inherits the job recently relinquished by Ed Lopat and once held by Frank Lane.

Finley signed Lane to an eight-year contract in 1961 and after Lane served only eight months, he went to court and won a release from his contract as well as a $113,000 settlement.

"Finley pays more attention to me now than when I worked for him," quips the always colorful Lane.

"I think he's making a helluva good move in getting Joe DiMaggio to work for him. It's a fine piece of window dressing for the Oakland club and Joe will help a lotta boys in spring training. Instead of going to camp with the Yankees, he'll be with the A's, that's all."

Finley probably is paying DiMaggio somewhere between $40,000 and $50,000 as vice president. The original announcement said Joe would take over most of the A's administrative duties, but don't hold your breath waiting.

No Trouble Expected

Mr. Finley will continue to be the general manager, no matter what title he gives anyone else," says Lane. "But I don't think DiMaggio will have any trouble with him. Finley is a hero worshipper and he couldn't find a better hero to worship than Joe DiMaggio, of whom I'm very fond."

Besides, if a crisis arises, Finley will defer to DiMaggio, and Joe won't let Finley get in his hair because he probably won't be around that much."

When the news got around that DiMaggio had tied up with Finley, many of DiMaggio's friends shook their heads. One of them may have summed up the situation best of all. He said rather sadly:

"Say it ain't so, Joe!"

The Irish received 30 points by raising their record to 3-2 and it was just enough to give them 10th ranking.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former catcher Darrell Johnson is in line for a coaching job with the American League pennant-winning Boston Red Sox.

Johnson, a former teammate of Boston's manager, Dick Williams, was reported to be the leading candidate for the berth created by the dismissal of veteran pitching coach Sal Maglie.

U.S. Playing 'Catch Up'

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—"Catch up" was the name of the game today for the United States in the Pre-Olympics, and hardly anyone in town was willing to bet even a single peso on the Americans' chances of overhauling the Russians.

The Yanks saw several more opportunities go by the boards Monday while the Russians were busy grabbing a gold medal and a bronze to run their total to 46. The Japanese, in second place, have 23, while the U.S. is tied with East Germany for third, each with 21.

Today, gold medals will be awarded in skeet shooting, women's team foil fencing, and men's and women's high board diving. Other events on the schedule include rapid fire pistol shooting, volleyball, tandem cycling, cycling 4,000-meter team pursuit semifinals, water polo and the cleanup of boxing eliminations.

Yanks figure in only three sports — skeet shooting, both men's and women's diving and boxing.

Ed Brown of Columbus, Ga., and Dan Voorhees III of Quincy, Ill., went into the second and final round of skeet shooting tied for eighth place. The leader after the first round was Korad Wirthner, who had a score of 99, while Russia's Eugeny Petrov, the favorite to take the gold medal, was a close second at 97. The two Yanks had scores of 96.

In the diving competition, the U.S. will be represented by Jim Henry of San Antonio, Texas, Sue Gossick of Tarzana, Calif., and Ann Peterson of Scottsdale, Ariz.

The U.S. bogged down badly in the three-meter diving Sunday, when the best any Yank could do was a second place finish by Keith Russell of Mesa, Ariz. Three American girls finished back in the pack in an event they were favored to win.

These warmup games for next year's Olympics end on Oct. 29. Between now and then, 29 gold medals will be awarded in swimming alone.

Odds-makers in Mexico City don't believe the Yanks can overtake the Russians before Sunday's windup, even with an expected avalanche of medals in swimming.

AWARD WINNERS for outstanding play against the Amarillo Sandies are guard Donnie Snapp, top, and Larry Ellege. Snapp was in on or made 10 tackles while Elledge was a defensive stand-out and continued to lead District 3-4A in punting.

Patterson Eyes Quarry Fight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Floyd Patterson has been written off by many boxing experts. But he doesn't talk like a 32-year-old fighter whose career is near an end.

"I feel very good," Patterson said following a workout in preparation for his 12-round bout with youthful Jerry Quarry at the Olympic Auditorium here Saturday.

"I think I will win," he added in a hushed tone. "I'm confident."

Saturday's fight will be the last of the first round bouts of the eight-man World Boxing Association tournament to select a successor to deposed champion, Cassius Clay.

"I try not to think about retiring," Patterson said. "I know the day will come eventually when I have to retire but when that day comes I'll face it then."

The quiet-spoken veteran is seeking the heavyweight title for the third time. He is the only man ever to regain the crown.

"I think it will be an interesting and exciting fight," the former champion continued, "because of the difference in our styles and the fact that we have fought once before."

"I know Jerry thinks he will win. But so do I."

The pair battled to a 10-round draw at Los Angeles last June 9, an encounter which saw Floyd knocked down twice in the canvas in the seventh.

Three other men remain in contention for the top spot, Oscar Bonavena, Jimmy Ellis and Thad Spencer. Bonavena upset Karl Mildenberg, Ellis defeated Leotis Martin and Spencer decisioned Ernie Terrell in first round fights.

Although nothing apparently is official, the winner of the Patterson-Quarry fight probably will meet Spencer with Bonavena pitted against Ellis in the other semifinal bout.

Hawkins Hasn't Lost His Tough

By United Press International Connie Hawkins and Art Heyman came back to big-time pro basketball Monday night in typical style.

Hawkins, who wasn't touched by the National Basketball Association because he failed to report a bribe attempt in his freshman year at Iowa and was expelled, was the leading scorer in the ill-fated American Basketball League, which failed to last a second season.

He has been given a new chance by the American Basketball Association and proved he hasn't lost his touch by scoring 34 points in his first game for Pittsburgh, leading the Pipers to a 110-107 victory over the New Jersey Americans. In the other ABA game, Dallas beat Houston 100-83.

Heyman, the quick-tempered former Duke star who flopped in NBA trials, was true to form as he got involved in a hassle in the New Jersey game. With Pittsburgh leading 108-106 with 44 seconds left Dan Anderson of New Jersey was deliberately fouled.

Referee Howie Brooks held up two fingers, signifying a two-shot foul even though ABA rules call for one shot and possession of the ball on a deliberate foul. When the referee corrected himself, a ruckus started and Heyman was charged with a technical.

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Tampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

House Forgets 'Economy'

It looks as if "economy" was blown out the window by the members of the House of Representatives in the vote Wednesday to increase mail rates and to increase the pay of federal employees.

Just about everything was included in the bill which passed the House, which up till now had been making pretenses of demanding cuts in federal spending from President Johnson in return for granting him a tax increase.

Except for employees of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the so-called antipoverty agency, all federal employees are proposed for higher salaries. Most of the white collar workers would get 4.5 per cent more pay, and postal employees would get 6 per cent increases retroactive to Oct. 1.

But the House members also took care of themselves and their buddies. Sneaked into the catchall legislation is a provision to virtually assure congressmen, federal judges and the President higher pay every four years.

The President, acting on advice of a citizens commission, would recommend salary levels for himself, for Congress and the judicial branch, and the proposals would go into effect automatically unless disapproved by either House of Congress within 30 days. That would just about assure the higher pay.

The bill had started as a proposal to increase postal rates as a means to eliminate some of the perennial deficits of the Post Office Department. The increases approved are 1 cent for first-class letters and postal cards, 2 cents for airmail and greeting cards; 23 per cent over three years for second-class newspapers and magazines, and 32 per cent for third-class mail, so-called junk mail.

The raises still leave the newspapers and magazines heavily subsidized and the junk mail partially subsidized. It would appear that fear of offending the publishing lobby still keeps the congressmen from insisting that they pay the full cost of handling the publications.

FAILURES IN AMERICA'S DEFENSE POLICIES

American citizens are becoming increasingly concerned about the formulation and conduct of this country's defense policies. Many of them may feel, however, that they lack the expert knowledge needed to intelligently criticize these policies. Many of our military men are also concerned, and their judgment coincides with the doubts of many Americans.

These men began to have serious doubts about the policies of the Defense Department in 1961 when the Bay of Pigs invasion failed. Many incidents since then have shown that the Defense Department often chooses to ignore the advice of the men who know best how to defend this country.

For example, the Joint Chiefs of Staff voted unanimously to continue the Skybolt missile program, but Secretary McNamara ignored their judgment. McNamara also refused to heed the advice of Admiral George W. Anderson, chief of Naval Operations, concerning the controversial TFX bomber plane.

Military men are deeply concerned about the famous McNamara cost cutting "projects." They say that these so-called economy moves have seriously jeopardized our defense capabilities. Senior officers of the Sixth Fleet attest to dangerous shortages in personnel, arms, equipment, aircraft, and parts. They are concerned about the support that this fleet, based in the Mediterranean, could give to the U. S. Seventh Army in Germany. Admiral C. D. Griffin, American commander of Allied Forces in Southern Europe, reports that his warnings of a Soviet Mediterranean naval build-up have received little response from the Defense Department.

If this country is to maintain its defense capabilities, much more sincere attention must be paid to these men who have made defense of this country a lifetime project.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Creation of "The World's Goods" Speaking of "acquiring and owning things," William N. Loucks in "Comparative Economic Systems" says of individuals living under capitalism, that "they contrive to exclude other persons from the use of as large a portion of the world's goods as they can."

It is a misconception to speak of "the world's goods" as if there were a certain quantity of goods existing independently of the efforts of individuals, and which should be available for distribution among all the people. Actually "the world's goods" is the sum total of all the things that men and women create from such raw materials as air, water, minerals, land and timber that they find on or near the surface of the earth; but with the exception of a few things such as air, water, wild fruits and nuts, natural resources have to be converted into "goods." Fish in the sea have to be caught. Game in the forest must be hunted and captured. Trees have to be converted into lumber; minerals taken from the ground must be refined and fabricated into useful objects.

All able-bodied men are free to use their skills and ingenuity to create as much of "the world's goods" as they wish. The fact that some are more skillful and competent, resulting in the accumulation of large quantities of goods, does not mean that they have excluded others from these goods, but rather that they themselves have created them. Apart from their efforts, the goods would not have existed. It is wrong, therefore, for those who share this concept to speak of anyone being excluded "from the use of as large a portion of the world's goods as they can." The thing that would really exclude us ordinary people from the use of a "large portion" of the world's goods would be to hamstring the exceptional men who are able to accumulate large sums of capital, to gather raw materials from all over the world, to fabricate useful goods, and to organize camaigns for selling and distributing them to the people. Clip the wings of these men, and then the rest of us really will be excluded from the use of very much of the world's goods. Loucks and others seem to imply that there is wealth in the world apart from human effort to create it. They do not realize that if they penalize the man who can do it successfully, they are penalizing even more severely all the rest of us. Most of us enjoy a comfortable living because of the abilities of a few men. They are our benefactors—not our oppressors who exclude us from the use of things. If men would learn this lesson and encourage our gifted people to do their best, all of us would enjoy much more.

New Broom

Dr. Murray N. Rothbard

One of the most heartening developments on the current American scene is the new national organization, Business Executives Move for a Vietnam Peace. These dedicated businessmen came from all over the country to meet at the Stetson Hilton in Washington on Sept. 27, to form their organization and expressed their determined and cogent opposition to the war in Vietnam. There were none of the very big businessmen represented here—none of the Rockefellers, Watsons, or Weinbergs—in short, none of the big businessmen tied in with the federal government and its machine for war spending and war contracts. These were the middle-rank executives throughout the country, presidents of their own firms, genuinely tied in with the free private market economy.

It is one of the widespread socialist canards that wars are brought about by the capitalist economy; that wars are inherent in the private enterprise system. The truth is really the reverse: since the rise of business enterprise, this system has been one of the requisites and mainstays of free trade, free markets, and international peace. All of these go hand in hand. Put, as one cynic once shrewdly said, "The only thing wrong with capitalism is the capitalists," and particular capitalists have often turned to the state to promote wars for their own benefit. In doing so, they have given the capitalist system as a whole an undeserved bad name. Now these businessmen have come forward to redeem that name.

The most publicized speech at this gathering was made by Senator Thurston Morton (R., Ky.), who has so far embraced the cause of peace, in contrast to his usual bold and mild position on public affairs, that he accused President Johnson of the war, and he particularly pinpointed the sinister influence of that "military-industrial complex" that President Eisenhower warned us of in his clearest and most penetrating public address. Morton's speech reflects a growing and pervasive shift toward peace by Congressional Republicans, sparked by the much-abused Republican staff White Paper on Vietnam, a few months ago.

Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace can be contacted through Harold Willets, President, Factory Equipment Supply Co., Los Angeles; of Henry E. Niles, Chairman, Baltimore Life Insurance Co.

Spain Fears Growing Russian Mediterranean Power, And Plans to Take Over Mers-el-Kebir Base As French Leave

PAUL SCOTT

MADRID, Spain—The foreboding news from across the Mediterranean is Russia's move to take over Algeria's big modern Mers-el-Kebir naval base at the western gate to this strategic waterway.

Called the "French Gibraltar," the base is located near Oran, west of Algiers, and is one of the best equipped in the world.

Spanish military authorities say the naval complex consists of vast arsenals, workshops, barracks, command center, and roads—all underground and protected from atomic attacks.

As an important NATO base, Mers-el-Kebir rated so high that the U.S. poured in more than $100 million to help France modernize it after President de Gaulle had obtained a 15-year lease in 1962 as part of the Algerian independence settlement.

What now deeply concerns Spanish authorities is De Gaulle's policy of encouraging the Russians to set up camp in the Mediterranean.

Within the past two years, they point out, De Gaulle has pushed NATO out of all French bases and is now moving France out of Mers-el-Kebir—so the Russians can move in.

One French regiment has already gone. Remaining 6,000 French military personnel and Doubtless these Republicans remember that Eisenhower was elected in 1952 largely on his "I will go to Korea" pledge, which led to the ending of the Korean holocaust.

Even harder-hitting was the address to the businessmen's group by Mariner S. Eccles, San Francisco and Utah businessman and former head of the Federal Reserve Board. Eccles stressed that the Vietnam war was causing a huge federal deficit, an increase in income taxes, and higher costs of living. "They are fighting for national liberation and unity of South Vietnam; the causes for which others, including Americans, have fought," he added. "To withdraw is sanity. (Applause) The consequences of withdrawing cannot possibly be as disastrous for this nation as pursuing our present course. (Applause) The greatest service we could render the Vietnamese is to withdraw from their country, leaving them to negotiate a conclusion to the war, which is their right. (Applause)" And Admiral Arnold True (Ret.) warned the businessmen that unless American foreign policy was completely changed and stopped supporting dictatorships everywhere, we would be faced with many "Vietnams" in Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

4,000 civilians are slated to depart within six months. According to Spanish authorities, U.S. and Britain urged De Gaulle to obtain a commitment from Algeria that no foreign military power could use the base until the French lease expires in 1977.

But instead of agreeing to this, De Gaulle made it clear to both Washington and London that he favored Russian seapower in the Mediterranean to balance growing U.S. influence in the region.

COMING CRISIS—Spanish officials, after learning of this exchange, frantically warned the U.S. that, if Russia is allowed to control the naval base, Algeria will become another Cuba in a matter of months.

Their fears have been greatly heightened by the arrival in Algeria of several "wide hatch" logging vessels from Russia's Black Sea ports. Similar long hull vessels were used by the Soviets to sneak intermediate range ballistic missiles into Cuba during the 1962 missile crisis.

As during the Cuban unloading of this type of Soviet vessel, tight security was imposed from the time the ships docked in Algeria until departure, making it impossible for Western intelligence to identify the cargo. However, Algerian refugees reported to Spanish military officials seeing 90-foot missiles unloaded and transported to an Algerian military installation.

The Russians are known to have at least 10,000 Soviet technicians in Algeria or about half the number the Soviets had in Cuba three months before that crisis broke into a U.S.-Soviet confrontation.

A Russian naval squadron put into Algeria for the second time in a month last week. There were two destroyers, two submarines, a minesweeper, a tug, and a tanker. A number of Soviet officers, with French permission, were given an inspection tour of the Mers-el-Kebir base.

This Soviet fleet, along with an estimated 14 other Russian warships, represents what U.S. naval intelligence describes as a tripling of Russian naval power in the Mediterranean in the past year. There are two Soviet cruisers, armed with missiles, and two nuclear-powered submarines in this growing fleet.

U.S. military intelligence sources here believe Russia has picked the Mediterranean to expand its influence while the U.S. is bogged down in the Vietnam war.

A Dangerous Man

(London Daily Sketch)
His name is Stokely Carmichael. He is 25. Highly intelligent and highly dangerous.

He is probably the most effective preacher of racial violence at large today.

He is the archbishop of "black power" in America. He is the prophet of hate between black and white man.

Now Stokely Carmichael has wicked gospel here in Britain: "I have spoken to your 'black leaders,'" he says. "And we are going to internationalize the black power struggle. We have discussed actions to take in this country."

We ask: Why was this man let into Britain?

Only last month, Mr. Roy Jenkins, the home secretary, gave his reasons for refusing to allow Mr. James Smeed, an American citizen, to enter Britain:

"I considered that it would not be in the national interest because he is giving active encouragement and support to the illegal regime in Rhodesia."

What contorted view of the "national interest" bans Mr. Smeed, yet welcomes Mr. Carmichael?

But forget for a moment the strangely selective tolerance of our home secretary and chew on this one: Why hasn't Stokely Carmichael been prosecuted for the sort of things he has said during his black crusade in Britain?

We quote from the race relations act 1965 (section 6): "A person shall be guilty of an offense if... he uses in any public meetings works which are threatening, abusive, or insulting."

reasons behind the decision of Morocco's King Hassan II to reorganize his military forces and seek more U.S. arms aid. The 38-year-old monarch is believed to feel that the massive shipment of Soviet military equipment to Algeria is a direct threat to his country's security.

As a countermeasure, the King has named Brig. General Driss Ben Amar as his top military man, making him virtually his deputy, to handle the crisis that appears to be developing with Algeria.

King Hassan II has reasons to be worried. Although the armies of the two nations are about equal in manpower (120,000), the modern hardware ratio is now 12 to 1 in Algeria's favor and is increasing.

U.S. intelligence sources here report that five airfields have been constructed by the Algerians along the parched frontier with Morocco, one of them near the Tinfouchy Valley where much of the 1963 fighting between these two nations took place.

Algeria and Morocco have almost equal populations of about 13 million each. Their common frontier cuts largely across barren mountains and deserts for about 1,000 miles.

A flare-up of frontier fighting could create a dangerous situation in North Africa where again U.S. and Soviet interests appear to be on a collision course.

Spanish officials are forecasting a new Algerian-Morocco war within six months, but there is growing concern here that a guerrilla-type war could break out by the end of the year.

ulting... being words likely to stir up hatred... on grounds of color, race, or ethnic or national origins."

We quote from the reported remarks of Mr. Stokely Carmichael in Britain last week: "If the British did not adopt our principles, I would burn down their homes and factories."

And yesterday: "It is time to let the whites know we are going to take over. If they don't like it we will stamp them out—using violence and any other means necessary."

Well, Mr. Jenkins, are these not sufficient grounds for prosecution—or deportation?

Is there one law in Britain for those who incite hatred against black people and another for those who incite hatred against the whites?

The Doctor Says:
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
New Methods Reduce Risk In Prostate Operation

Q—Is there any way a 70-year-old man with prostate trouble can get permanent relief except by an operation? Would an operation be dangerous at that age?

Q—If by prostate trouble you mean an enlarged gland, a common accompaniment of advanced age, some form of operation is the only cure. Modern methods of operating on the prostate have reduced the risk almost to the vanishing point.

Q—I am 58 and have an enlarged prostate. Is there any medication for this condition? How successful is prostate massage? Does enlargement always lead to cancer?

A—There is no drug that will shrink your prostate. Massage is of some value in treating a chronically infected prostate but will not shrink an enlarged gland. Benign prostatic enlargement is not related to cancer of the prostate.

Q—My husband had a prostate operation in 1966 but he still has to get up several times a night to urinate. Could this be cancer? What treatment would you suggest?

A—There are many causes of frequent urination at night. Cancer of the prostate is only one and can easily be confirmed or ruled out by your husband's doctor. The commonest cause is hardening of the arteries, and for that there is no remedy.

Q—If a man has a prostate enlargement that does not cause any symptoms, is an operation necessary?

A—A benign enlargement that causes no symptoms needs no treatment but, since the condition is slowly progressive, an operation may become necessary later.

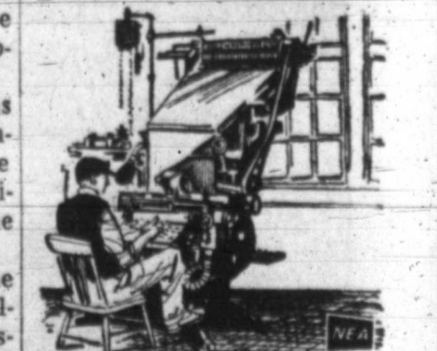

Q—What medicine would you recommend for an infected prostate?

A—If the infection is chronic, oxyphenbutazone, obtainable only on a doctor's prescription, combined with prostatic massage should clear up the infection.

Q—I have had a backache for years. When it gets real bad I take two or three boxes of kidney pills but they do not give me any relief. Can I take too many of them? What could cause my backache?

A—There are many causes of backache but the idea that kidney trouble is one of them is false. Common causes include, the misnamed slipped disk, arthritis, gout, a sudden strain of some of the back muscles (this may even occur during sleep), and weakness due to insufficient exercise. Why not have your doctor discover and treat the real cause?

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Network television's new look reaches something of a climax tonight. NBC-TV will turn all of its three-and-a-half hours of prime-time movies. In short, it is a double feature.

The first film is an excellent "A Hard Day's Night," starring The Beatles. This will be followed by Jerry Lewis' comedy entitled "Cinderfella."

In addition tonight, highlight another major part of network television's new look — there will be a 90-minute adaptation on ABC-TV of the Broadway musical "Kismet." The stars are Jose Ferrer, Anna Maria Alberghetti, George Chakiris, Barbara Eden, Hans Conruid and Cecil Kellaway.

An unfortunate ratings victim of these hot properties will probably be an hour CBS-TV documentary, "Where We Stand in Vietnam," which is up against "Kismet" and "Cinderfella."

At any rate, tonight will be a sort of pinnacle point of the dual powers of video's new look: movies and specials.

And the fact that it is not short supply. Last season, NBC-TV came up with a group of original two-hour films made specifically for television, dropped them into the movie slots, very so often and came up with top ratings. More of these films are scheduled for this season.

One of the most surprising aspects of the new look for the networks is their discovery of successful substitutes for movies, which are in increasingly

And if spot overnight ratings are any indication, ABC-TV may also have come up with a movie substitute formula of its own: two-hour adaptations of low-famous plays, the first of which, "Johnny Belinda," was broadcast Sunday night in the network's usual motion picture slot.

ABC-TV says the New York almost in a dead heat with the combined average of its last five movies: "The Greatest Show on Earth," "Mutiny on the Bounty," "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?," "The Yum Yum Tree" and "Har-
