U.S. Takes Solid Lead In Space With Rockets

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States, with amazing rocketry, has placed the moon within the grasp of man and shown the world that it has a longer reach than Russia. America vaulted ahead of the Soviet Union in the race to the moon Thursday with a spectacularly successful test of its Saturn 5 rocket and its Apollo spacecraft, and climaxed the day by soft-landing Surveyor 6 on the moon to photograph potential landing sites.

The Saturn 5 thundered aloft, went through two orbits as a record 140-ton satellite and then hurled the robot-controlled Apollo 11, 11,000 miles into space in a mission that virtually duplicated the beginning steps of a flight to the moon. The Apollo nosed over, fired its own engine and smashed into earth's atmospheric blanket at 25,000 miles an hour. It splashed down in the Pacific Ocean within a few miles of its target northwest of Hawaii.

To cap the success, the Surveyor 6 lunar robot made America's fourth soft landing on the moon Thursday night and sent back "sharp and clear photographs" of the one Apollo astronaut landing area that had yet to be declared safe for men. "I believe the results . . . clearly demonstrate this team of people truly has the competence to not only take on the lunar landing program but any other space objective this country feels it wants," said Dr. Robert Seamans, deputy administrator of the federal space agency.

WITHOUT ENCOURAGEMENT

LBJ Says Peace Could Be Sooner in Vietnam

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—President Johnson, launching his coast-to-coast Veterans Day tour, said today peace would come more swiftly if North Vietnam received no encouragement from American war critics.

The President, speaking in a stadium jammed with 15,000 soldiers, wives and widows, sharply rebuked those who "in the sharpness of our tongues" denounce American involvement in Vietnam.

Such a "split in our resolve," the President said, encourages North Vietnam to prolong the war.

Before delivering his speech, Johnson watched officer candidates screaming fiercely and lunging at each other with karate chops and mock bayonets on a roadside training ground. Others scrambled down 40-foot high ropes and through an obstacle course. Johnson, accompanied by defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, inspected a display of captured Viet Cong weapons and booby traps railed to a board on the training ground.

Upon arrival at Doughboy Stadium, he decorated 15 Vietnam war heroes with the Silver Star—third highest decoration for valor. He chatted with soldiers' wives and widows, walking among them on the football field and shaking hands with their children.

"We're proud of you," he told them. "Very proud of you." About 2,000 persons greeted him at Lawson Field, the fort's air base, and thousands more lined the three mile road to the stadium.

The President said "peace will come more quickly when the enemy of freedom turns no crack in our courage—and no split in our resolve—and no encouragement to prolong his war in the shortness of our patience or the sharpness of our tongues."

"The enemy probes our unity now," Johnson told his audience at Ft. Benning's Doughboy Stadium. "But it is he who will shatter against it. He will fail because he will hear the answer that America's citizens and citizen-soldiers have always given to aggression."

Johnson caustically compared war critics with the soldiers—to whom he spoke.

"It is here that so much of our hope for peace begins," he said, looking at the sea of uniforms. "It is here that so many dreams of freedom are refreshed. Here, in this vast arsenal of war, soldier and family devote life and honor to ending the war."

About 500 wives of soldiers now in Vietnam were among his audience.

Ft. Benning is the home of the 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division, which won a presidential citation for valor in Vietnam.

STRENGTH TO SMALL VOICE

Texas Republicans Have Election Hopes

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas Republicans are hoping to use Saturday's special elections to add strength to their small voice in the 60th Legislature for the 1968 special tax session.

While Texans are going to the polls to decide the fate of six proposed constitutional amendments, voters in six areas of the state will also choose legislators to fill unexpired terms, good through 1968.

The Republicans, who now have three House members and their first state senator since 1927 in the 181-member legislature, have fielded at least one candidate in every race.

Similar moves in 1963 netted the GOP its biggest ever rep-

Prominent Features Pointed Out in Proposed Bond Issues

By JEFF HOLLADAY Daily News Staff Writer

There will be no increase in the county tax rate. The proposed $850,000 Highland General Hospital and $250,000 airport bonds, if passed, will be paid for out of available funds. Principal and interest on either or both of the proposed bond issues would be paid off by 1979. Maturity interest on the bonds would also be paid off by the time the bonds come due in 1979.

These were a few of the salient features pointed out by County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. today on the proposed bond issues to be voted on by Gray County residents Nov. 11.

"One of the things we're most concerned about," the judge said, "is that people are going to read the propositions at the polls and vote against the isues because they'll react to the 'and the levying of a tax in payment thereof' part."

The propositions read: FOR or AGAINST "The issuance of ($850,000 hospital bonds) and ($250,000 airport bonds) and the levying of a tax in payment thereof."

"This does not mean that property valuation taxes will be increased," Judge Lenning emphasized. "It simply means that the tax will be paid out of the funds available."

The current Gray County tax per $100 assessed valuation of property is $1.28—and will be $1.25 for the 1968 budget. A breakdown for different funds in the 1968 budget is: 55 cents for general; 13 cents for permanent improvement; 30 cents for Farm-to-Market and lateral roads; 15 cents for the road and bridge special fund; 2 cents for the jury fund; and 10 cents for the road and bridge fund.

Current state law requires that money in four of the funds—jury, road and bridge, general and permanent improvements—be used only for the specific purposes of those funds. These funds will amount to 80 cents of the $1.25 valuation tax in the 1968 budget.

The tax to pay for one or both of the proposed bond issues would come out of the funds not specifically earmarked," the judge said.

If both bond issues are passed, payments would be finished by 1979. No more than 30 cents out of the funds available per $100 valuation would be used each year to pay for the bonds if both bond issues passed. Payments on the principal and interest for both bond issues would range from the high of 30 cents already cited down to a low of 16 cents.

Figures for interest on the principal were based on four per cent charges, Judge Lenning said, but "we're pretty sure that it will be a little less," he added.

Hussein was in Chicago where he repeated Arab demands Israel give up its captured territory before there can even be a thought of peace talks.

In a speech to a Northwestern University audience Thursday night he said Israel is "not unlike a man who robs a bank and then wants to open an account with the stolen money."

He said "our position is that the money must be returned first and then we'll discuss business."

6 Changes Proposed To State Constitution

An estimated 10,000 Gray County voters will be eligible to go to the polls in Saturday's election to decide two county issues and reject or adopt six proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

The local issues deal with an $850,000 bond issue for modernization of Highland General Hospital and a $250,000 bond issue for improvements to Perry Lefors Airfield.

Ninety-four persons have registered to vote absentee in the local elections and 96 have registered to vote on the constitutional amendments.

Good Turn-out Expected "We're running pretty good on absentee voting, and I believe we'll have a pretty good turnout Saturday," Charlie Thut, county clerk, said.

Polls will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. A list of voters is available at the clerk's office.

Something New Bond election voters will face something new. Texas law now requires tax bond voters to sign an affidavit showing that they own property which has been rendered for taxation.

Voters will receive the affidavits at the polls. They will be required to write down the property that has been rendered on the tax rolls.

"It's really very simple," the county clerk said. "For example, a farmer need only write 'Farm near Pampa,' or if the property was here in Pampa, the owner would only have to write 'House and lot in the town of Pampa.' There is no itemizing of property or anything lengthy to write out."

All voters were urged to take their voter registration receipts with them when they go to the polls.

The proposed constitutional amendments are: No. 1—Authorizes counties to put all county tax revenue into one general fund without regard to source or purpose.

No. 2—Permits municipalities, political subdivisions and state supported entities located within a hospital district to participate in the establishment and operation of mental health, mental retardation and public health services.

No. 3—Extends the veterans' land program by authorizing the sale of $200 million of state bonds to purchase land to be sold to veterans and expands the program to include veterans of Vietnam.

No. 4—Authorizes counties to pay medical, doctor, and hospital bills of county law enforcement officials for injuries received in line of duty and to continue to pay salaries of injured officials during period of incapacitation.

No. 5—Authorizes the Parks and Wildlife Department to issue and sell general obligation bonds to purchase land to be sold to veterans and expands the program to include veterans of Vietnam.

Hopes Dim For Mid-East Peace

United Press International

Syria bitterly denounced King Hussein of Jordan today and reaffirmed its tough stand that only a military victory over Israel can erase the memories of the June war and "liberate" Palestine.

The Syrian foreign ministry's statement, broadcast by Damascus Radio, once again dimmed hopes of an early solution to the Middle East crisis despite an apparent moderation in the Egyptian view.

Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad of the United Arab Republic told the U.N. Security Council Thursday night, "The peoples of our part of the world can in no way benefit from a state of war.

"What they need is a state of security and stability in which they can devote their resources to the challenges of progress and development."

One clue to a possible eventual settlement of the crisis came from David Hacohen, a member of Israel's majority Mafal party and chairman of the Knesset (parliament) Foreign Affairs and Security Committee.

He said demilitarization of the Sinai Peninsula for 20 years would be an acceptable solution. That would mean Israeli withdrawal from the banks of the Suez Canal—but would not permit Egypt to move back into the huge sandy waste.

Hacohen, addressing a meeting of tourist guides in Tel Aviv, warned that the Russians have no intention of leaving the Middle East.

Syria's attack on King Hussein came as the official Damascus daily newspaper Althawra for the third straight day attacked "Arab reactionary regimes" for allegedly compromising the Arab position in the Middle East. Both outbursts said King Hussein was not speaking for the entire Arab world.

Hussein was in Chicago where he repeated Arab demands Israel give up its captured territory before there can even be a thought of peace talks.

In a speech to a Northwestern University audience Thursday night he said Israel is "not unlike a man who robs a bank and then wants to open an account with the stolen money."

Gov. Connally Will Not Run For Fourth Term Re-election

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally, a Democrat who was secretary of Navy under John Kennedy and a key to Lyndon Johnson's campaign hopes in Texas, announced today he will not run for a fourth term.

Political observers felt his absence from the race would make Johnson's grassroots campaigning and precinct convention job harder next year.

He told a news conference that he "reluctantly" came to the decision when he realized "I no longer can be assured in my own mind that I could bring to the office for another two years the enthusiasm, the resilience, the patience that my conscience would demand, that the state would deserve."

His decision throws wide open the race to succeed him. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is the only antouché candidate, but Connally's longtime political foe, U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, could return to make a bid for the post, a move being pushed by liberals.

Connally said he has "no thought" of running for any other office in 1968, but he said "I don't want to foreclose any future participation in politics. My future activities will be guided by circumstances."

A reporter asked whether Connally's statement that "I do not intend to be a candidate" meant he definitely would not run.

"You should interpret it as the same thing as saying 'I won't run, but you ought to rely on what I said in the statement—I don't intend to run.'"

"I am not making any William Tecumseh Sherman statement," Connally said. "It was Sherman who said 'I will not run if nominated and I will not serve if elected.'"

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and people tell me I am very mature for my age. Abby—I know more about the facts of life and the course of nature than most kids, and I got it straight from my mother. She told me everything starting from the age of 8.

I don't know how I got the reputation, but girls from 10 to 16 come to me for information about the pill and that sort. Even boys come to me with questions. Should I answer their questions, or tell them to ask their mothers or what?

"LITTLE ABBY": I don't know how you got the reputation of knowing so much, but it's not because you've kept it a secret. If a girl (between 10 and 16) asks a 13-year-old for information about "the pill and that sort," perhaps her mother should know she is seeking such information, so the best thing for you to do is to tell her to ask her mother. Your own mother appears to have pretty good sense, so ask her how much she thinks you should be telling the other kids.

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of five, plus one. The new addition is a basset hound. We got him when he was 2 weeks old. He was real cute then and everybody loved him. Today he is 8 months old and a regular pain-in-the-neck.

When he eats, he slops all over. And when he drinks water, his ears get sopping wet. He drools and climbs up on the furniture and slobbers all over everybody and everything. And he's still not housebroken.

My husband can't stand him. He says he makes him sick. I put up with the dog because the children love him. My husband wants to get rid of him, but it would break the children's hearts.

DEAR ABBY: This is for Cindy, whose husband asks her out with only an hour's notice. God bless him for asking you and not one of the girls from the office. Let me tell you from experience, it's smart always to be ready. Have a long list of sitters you can call at the last minute. And some good "friends" in reserve in case you can't get a sitter. Do something with your hair during the daytime just in case that's the night your husband wants to take you out. And always have something ready to wear.

Me? I take no chances. All I need is 5 minutes notice and I can get ready for an audience with the pope.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: he or she, will be one of those fascinating youngsters who easily understands the over-all plan of some big job, and has the ability to follow through on the details, the physical work connected with same. Give as fine a combined course of education as you can plan. There is a fine mind.

Because Veterans' Day falls on Saturday all City Hall offices were closed today, but county state and federal offices were doing business as usual.

Saturday always is a day off for city employees, but when a holiday falls on Saturday or Sunday, city workers take off the day before or the day after the holiday.

The county, state and federal offices will be closed tomorrow as usual on Saturday. The same is true of the post office. There will be no regular mail deliveries and windows will be closed but the post office will be open for box patrons.

Banks will observe their usual Saturday hours tomorrow. Stores and service establishments will be open for business.

Choir Students Enter All-Region Choral Contests

Pampa High School will send 23 choir students to Canyon Saturday to compete in the all-region choral tryouts, sponsored by members of the Texas Music Educators Association.

From about 600 choir students, judges will select the top 16 in each of the eight choir sections. From these, the top four in each section will enter all-state choral elimination contests in Tulla in January.

At the Tulla contests, choir students from the North Zone of Region One, which includes Pampa and several other Panhandle and West Texas high schools, will compete with south zone choir students.

After the zone contests, the top four in each section will enter all-state choir competition in February in Austin.

Billy Davis, Pampa High School choir director, will accompany his group to Canyon to the West Texas State University campus for the first level of competition Saturday.

- For the airport: additional land to strengthen the north-south runway, which would enable jet aircraft to land here, a taxi-way for added safety, additional lighting and resurfacing of runways.

Closing of Carver School To Be Decided on Dec. 14

Pampans may learn by Dec. 14 if Carver Elementary School will be closed as predicted by the United States office of Health, Education and Welfare. School trustees said Thursday they expect to make a decision on the status of Carver School at their next regular board meeting Dec. 14.

In the trustee meeting Thursday, they reviewed the financial implications of closing Carver Elementary School, which pays annually $60,173 in salaries. The school has six classroom teachers, one principal, one public schools music teacher, one custodian, one half-time PESO (Panhandle Educational Service Organization) reading teacher and a part-time cafeteria worker.

A breakdown of students includes the first grade with 23; second 17; third, 17; fourth, 21; fifth, 20 and sixth, 19, for a total of 117.

Mrs. Rena Anderson, school district attendance officer, has made a pin map of all 3,000 elementary school students, which was displayed in the board meeting for trustees to review where each elementary school student is placed.

Board members have interpreted the last letter received from the United States HE&W office, as stating it would be necessary to close Carver School for the district to comply with the Civil Rights Act. The district has a choice, according to school officials, of realigning the district with 50 per cent white students and 50 per cent Negro students in Carver, or closing the school.

In the next board meeting, trustees are expected to decide if it would be better to close the school and move the students and teachers to other schools in the district, or keep it open and integrate the student body as the faculty was earlier this year.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and people tell me I am very mature for my age. Abby I know more about the facts of life and the course of nature than most kids, and I got it straight from my mother. She told me everything starting from the age of 8.

I don't know how you got the reputation, but girls from 10 to 16 come to me for information about the pill and that sort. Even boys come to me with questions.

Should I answer their questions, or tell them to ask their mothers or what?

"LITTLE ABBY"

DEAR "LITTLE ABBY": I don't know how you got the reputation of knowing so much, but it's not because you've kept it a secret. If a girl (between 10 and 16) asks a 13-year-old for information about "the pill and that sort," perhaps her mother should know she is seeking such information, so the best thing for you to do is to tell her to ask her mother. Your own mother appears to have pretty good sense, so ask her how much she thinks you should be telling the other kids.

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of five, plus one. The new addition is a basset hound. We got him when he was 3 weeks old. He was real cute then and everybody loved him. Today he is 8 months old and a regular pain-in-the-neck. When he eats, he slops all over. And when he drinks water, his hair gets sopping wet. He drools and climbs up on the furniture and slobbers all over everybody and everything. And he's still not housebroken.

My husband can't stand him. He says he makes him sick. I put up with the dog because the children love him. My husband wants to get rid of him, but it would break the children's hearts.

DEAR ABBY: This is for Cindy, whose husband asked her out with only an hour's notice:

God bless him for asking you and not one of the girls from the office. Let me tell you from experience, it's smart always to be ready. Have a long list of sitters you can call at the last minute. And some good "friends" in reserve in case you can't get a sitter. Do something with your hair during the daytime just in case that's the night your husband wants to take you out. And always have something ready to wear.

Me? I take no chances! All I need is 5 minutes notice and I can get ready for an audience with the pope.

DOG TIRED

DEAR DOG TIRED: Its not the poor dog's fault that he wasn't properly trained to be a lovable, obedient, attractive pet. Dogs (not unlike children) can't be expected to know what they haven't been taught. It may be too late to train "Snoopy," but give it a try. Otherwise, I'm with dad.

Dear Abby
by Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and people tell me I am very mature for my age. Abby I know more about the facts of life and the course of nature than most kids, and I got it straight from my mother. She told me everything starting from the age of 8.

I don't know how you got the reputation, but girls from 10 to 16 come to me for information about the pill and that sort. Even boys come to me with questions.

Should I answer their questions, or tell them to ask their mothers or what?

"LITTLE ABBY"

DEAR "LITTLE ABBY": I don't know how you got the reputation of knowing so much, but it's not because you've kept it a secret. If a girl (between 10 and 16) asks a 13-year-old for information about "the pill and that sort," perhaps her mother should know she is seeking such information, so the best thing for you to do is to tell her to ask her mother. Your own mother appears to have pretty good sense, so ask her how much she thinks you should be telling the other kids.

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of five, plus one. The new addition is a basset hound. We got him when he was 3 weeks old. He was real cute then and everybody loved him. Today he is 8 months old and a regular pain-in-the-neck. When he eats, he slops all over. And when he drinks water, his hair gets sopping wet. He drools and climbs up on the furniture and slobbers all over everybody and everything. And he's still not housebroken.

My husband can't stand him. He says he makes him sick. I put up with the dog because the children love him. My husband wants to get rid of him, but it would break the children's hearts.

DEAR ABBY: This is for Cindy, whose husband asked her out with only an hour's notice:

God bless him for asking you and not one of the girls from the office. Let me tell you from experience, it's smart always to be ready. Have a long list of sitters you can call at the last minute. And some good "friends" in reserve in case you can't get a sitter. Do something with your hair during the daytime just in case that's the night your husband wants to take you out. And always have something ready to wear.

Me? I take no chances! All I need is 5 minutes notice and I can get ready for an audience with the pope.

Closing of Carver School To Be Decided on Dec. 14

Pampans may learn by Dec. 14 if Carver Elementary School will be closed as predicted by the United States office of Health, Education and Welfare. School trustees said Thursday they expect to make a decision on the status of Carver School at their next regular board meeting Dec. 14. In the trustee meeting Thursday, they reviewed the financial implications of closing Carver Elementary School, which pays annually $60,173 in salaries. The school has six classroom teachers, one principal, one public schools music teacher, one custodian, one half-time PESO (Panhandle Educational Service Organization) reading teacher and a part-time cafeteria worker. A breakdown of students included the first grade with 23, second 17, third, 17, fourth, 21, fifth, 20 and sixth, 19, for a total of 117. Mrs. Rena Anderson, school district attendance officer, has made a pin map of all 3,000 elementary school students, which was displayed in the board meeting for trustees to review where each elementary school student is placed. Board members have interpreted the last letter received from the United States HE&W office, as stating it would be necessary to close Carver School for the district to comply with the Civil Rights Act. The district has a choice, according to school officials, of realigning the district with 50 percent white students and 50 percent Negro students in Carver, or closing the school. In the next board meeting, trustees are expected to decide if it would be better to close the school and move the students and teachers to other schools in the district, or keep it open and integrate the student body as the faculty was earlier this year.

Alpaca may be the most worthwhile in Latin America from which the author had just returned from a visit to various countries high in enlightenment, but weak in constitutional law.

While Alpaca, never uttering a word against communism, is not applicable to our own country, its usefulness may prove greatest among the more than 20 States in the USA which are presently in the process of revising their State Constitutions.

If "Alpaca Revisited" will become instrumental in persuading people to reject tyranny in favor of its detailed provisions enabling freedom-loving people to govern themselves, its author will consider his time and effort well spent.

It's Up To You

Howard E. Kershner

Our Alienation From God
Throughout history men have toiled, starved and suffered the abuse of tyrants. They have been beaten, controlled, taxed, regulated, enslaved and murdered by whosoever was strong enough to assert his will upon them.

Little by little Divine revelation of high, ethical ideals came to their minds and won the allegiance of the hearts of many. The Christian Faith sets before us the ideal that we should speak the truth and refrain from misleading or deceiving our fellows.

Above all, it teaches us to be governed by the high ethical ideals which originate with God, and never to allow human passions and desires to control us.

When men live by these ideals, they learn to be considerate of others. They come to see that God is just as much interested in the welfare of all of us as in any one of us.

It is these latter characteristics which form the basis of free, self-government. Only if men accept them as rules for their conduct is there any possibility of attaining or retaining freedom.

The appearance of atheism among us, the decline of spiritual values, and the growth of materialism marks the decline of our culture and warns that we are reverting to the master and slave relationship which has always existed when men put their own selfish desires ahead of the will of God.

A thought for the day - Poet Thomas Moore once said: "Ask a woman's advice, and what she advises, do the very reverse and you're sure to be wise."

95-Year-Old Woman Recalls Pampa On Arrival in 1907

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Daily News Staff Writer

When Mrs. E. P. Young, now 95, first came to Pampa in 1907, it was still one of the few frontiers left in the United States.

There was no oil, gas or industry. There was no irrigated agriculture. It was a land of vast and largely unfenced plains used primarily for cattle grazing. The first wheat crop planted in 1891 had been a failure and it was not until about two decades later that attempts to farm were again made.

Unless the settler had a large spread and plenty of cattle, buying a plot of land in the Panhandle in the early 1900s seemed largely an article of faith.

But that temptation for cheap land and lots of elbow room and an unstinting faith in the future, which had impelled settlers across the vast reaches of America was not a dead article even in 1907, and thus it was that the then 35-year-old Mrs. Young came to the Panhandle with her husband.

Settlers had first become interested in the Panhandle around 1905 when eastern speculators had purchased large amounts of land in this area and sent trainloads of farmers to look at them. All expenses for the prospective buyers were paid and the land sold for $25 an acre. Around Pampa at the time (through which the trains had to pass) land was selling for $10 or $15 an acre.

Mrs. Young and her husband and their five children did not come from the East, nor did they come by train, but like others they came because of cheap land and new opportunity.

They settled on a small 150-acre farm south of the city and lived in a sod hut while Mr. Young broke the virgin sod with a team of horses. The family's main source of income was from wheat, the first crop of which Mr. Young harvested in 1909. The family had in the meantime lived off their small collection of poultry and livestock.

British Commonwealth loses its economic meaning and the British seek entry into the European Common Market, they still feel responsibility for the disposition of empire.

The moral responsibility remains even though the economic sanctions in which the United States and most other among the United Nations have joined, admittedly are a failure.

Oil has continued to flow into Rhodesia through the Republic of South Africa and Portuguese Mozambique, the two other nations most interested in white supremacy.

Rhodesian asbestos, chrome and copper move through South African and Mozambique ports, and familiar brand names on former imports are being replaced by development of present Lovett Library, supplied Pampa and about half of Gray County with water. Mrs. Homer Taylor, Mrs. Young's daughter, said that their family, like many others in the area, had to get their water in barrels from windmill.

Unlike many other area where the encroachment of farmers into previously all-range land often resulted in bitter wars between farmers and ranchers, "we never had that problem," Mrs. Young said.

Pampa, at the time she came here, had only about 75 houses and business establishments, Mrs. Young said.

Ill health forced Mr. Young to retire from farming in 1917, and he and his wife moved to a house on East Browning St. He died in 1941, Mrs. Young continued to live in the house until recently, when she moved to the Casa Del Nursing Home.

Perhaps the last of Pampa's Pioneers, her still alert mind marvels at the changes time has wrought, none more surprising to her than the wealth produced by that desolate-looking plains she first saw 60 years ago.

some 200 new industries ranging from safety pins to plastics. The new industries have helped to take up unemployment arising from the hard hit tobacco and sugar export industries.

But even as the Rhodesians themselves have gained in confidence, pressures continue to build.

South Africa has established closer links with Malawi, Lesotho (formerly Basutoland), Botswana (formerly Bechuanaland) and seeks new accords with Kenya and Uganda.

But so long as the Rhodesian question remains, these efforts cannot be wholly successful.

They are pressing the Rhodesians to reach a settlement.

The Rhodesians themselves do not wish to cut all ties with Britain and still pledge loyalty to the queen.

A new basis for talks is being sought.

If a settlement is to be reached, it must be one where between white Rhodesian determination to maintain the status quo and the British conscience,

Religion in America

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
God may be "dead" for some modern theologians, but for a noted British scientist he is a plausible inference from the facts of human experience.

The scientist who affirms belief in God purely on the basis of "served data" is Sir Alister Hardy, an authority on evolution who recently retired as head of the zoology department at Oxford University.

Sir Alister has written a book called "The Living Stream" (Harper & Row) in which he traces the theory of evolution from its beginnings with Charles Darwin to the most recent developments.

The last chapter will come as a surprise to any reader imbued with the notion that scientific discoveries—particularly in the field of evolution—have made religious faith intellectually untenable.

On the contrary, says Sir Alister, "The spirit of scientific inquiry can help in the re-establishment of a declining faith."

Notes Prayer Phenomenon
It is a first principle of scientific inquiry to take cognizance of all the relevant data. And part of the data of human experience is "the phenomenon of prayerful communion," in which people feel that they are in contact with some reality beyond themselves which "actually exerts an influence, raises their center of personal being, and produces regenerative effects unattainable in other ways."

Sir Alister is aware that some psychologists look upon "the phenomenon of prayerful communion" as a purely subjective experience having no reality outside the mind and emotions of the person concerned. But he points out that other psychologists, from the time of the great William James to the present, have taken the phenomenon seriously. He quotes Sir Frederick Bartlett, professor of psychology at Cambridge University:

"I cannot see how anybody who looks fairly at a reasonable sample of actions claiming a religious sanction can honestly refuse to admit that many of them could not occur, or at least that it is highly improbable that they would occur in the forms in which they do, if they were simply the terminal points of a psychological sequence, every item in which belonged to our own human, day-to-day world."

Actions Proof
"It seems to me that these (truly) religious people have done, effectively and consistently, many things which all ordinary sources of evidence seem to set outside the range of unassisted humanity. When they say 'It is God working through me,' I cannot see that I have either the right or the knowledge to reject their testimony."

Sir Alister says anthropology also provides evidence which points toward "the reality of some power, apparently coming from outside the consciousness of individuals."

"This feeling of contact with a greater power beyond self seems to be a fundamental feature in the natural history of man," he said. It has been found in all cultures, from the sophisticated, and among all sorts and conditions of men. It may be as old as consciousness in the history of human evolution.

He deplores the fact that "so many people seem to think that science has banished all the non-material side of life—all that we might call the psychic and the spiritual—to a limbo with superstitious fantasy; that a materialistic view must be the truly scientific, and hence only valid one."

Extra-Sensory World
Actually, he says, one of the creative edges of modern research is the study of extra-sensory perception, which points toward "the reality of part of the universe outside the world of the physical senses."

"It is in this apparently non-material part of the world that the power we call God must lie: some source of influence to which man can have access in an extra-sensory way by the communicative act we call prayer."

Sir Alister says he is "far from being an orthodox Christian" and cannot accept "revelation" as a basis for religious beliefs.

But as a scientist he is strongly attracted to "an experimental faith—a faith in the receiving grace in answer to prayer."

"Let us experiment and see," he concludes. "I don't mean selfish prayer for one's own safety or betterment or prayers to alter physical events, like praying for rain, but prayers to have help in our actions. Somehow, in some extraordinary way, I do believe that there is a vast store of wisdom and spiritual strength that we can tap in this way—something which is of the utmost importance to mankind."

Minister Says New Outlook On Race Is Needed

Everybody — ghetto dwellers as well as people living in good neighborhoods — has got to have a change of heart if major city problems are to be solved.

"Let rioter and policeman, Negro and whites, ghetto dweller and suburbanite say, 'We are both at fault, I admit my share and want to change,'" a southern minister advises.

Only in this way, the Rev. Gordon A. Christensen writes in the November issue of "Together," is there any hope for big cities.

A major factor in dealing with one of the worst urban woes, he says, is the "ghetto mind." This mentality he traces to isolation — "unrelated to the rest of our society."

"It has no social conscience," the Rev. Christensen of Tampa writes. "It has no respect for civil authority."

"We all are responsible for the ghetto mind," he charges. Upright, law-abiding citizens have created this mentality, the Rev. Christensen states, "by refusing to enforce housing codes and sanitation laws, by overlooking crime, by moving out major community institutions, by allowing homes to be made into tiny, inadequate apartments, by closing church doors, and by selling shoddy merchandise for fat profits."

Another problem facing cities is the "white backlash" which he brands "a symptom of fear and insecurity" in the article, "Is There Hope for Our Cities?"

This is unfounded, he believes, for he is confident that "160 million white Americans can let 20 million black Americans enjoy equal housing, jobs and education without feeling that the 20 million are trying to take over."

White backlash he labels "mass neurosis." Current urban troubles really are not racial, but "economic and social," the Rev. Christensen states in the Methodist magazine.

There is too wide a gap between the haves and have-nots, he thinks.

"If Israel were here today," he believes, "he would say that God is using the young, militant, violent rioters to punish affluent America for its lack of social justice."

In conclusion, the Rev. Christensen forecasts: "If white and Negro do not follow the way of the Old Testament prophets and Jesus, then truly our cities will be cursed!"

And pointing out that the ghetto is the church's hardest and perhaps most important mission field, he urges that the struggle for justice start in the churches.

All sessions will follow the convention theme "Walking Orderly by Spirit." Highlight of the opening night's session will be student talks at a model ministry school.

Climax of the meeting will be at 3 p.m. Sunday when a special representative of the Watchtower Society, sponsors of the three-day convention, will speak on the subject "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?"

World of Religion

By DAVID POLING
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of my theories is that leaders in national life are allowed only one or two areas of authority and respect. They might extend their interest to other fields, in rare exceptions but a "renaissance man" and capture several more. But usually you are allowed one or two major lines and that's it. Let me explain.

When Wilt Chamberlain admitted that he was considering the world of professional boxing nobody wrote for tickets. Why? He is Mr. Basketball. His court play, team effort and personal excellence are unsurpassed. Honor and fame and cash have flooded in. But boxing? He was about as welcome as a giraffe at a dog show. He had found and claimed his place in the sports world and in the heart of the fans on the basketball court. He got the message.

Do you recall the news item that appeared before the national political conventions of 1964 stating that, in spite of the rumors, Billy Graham would not consider an invitation to be on a party ticket? It was almost funny. The public has long shown its interest and support of Graham as evangelist and preacher in countless religious meetings and services. But no one beyond Graham's staff had ever allowed that he might run for political office.

The result would be embarrassing to the public and disastrous to the evangelist. For just that reason Pope Paul would never stand for election to the Italian Parliament. One field yes—two, no.

This is true on delicate social issues and the role of a local minister. A congregation or community will respond to their pastor if he takes a strong stand, say, on fair housing. It won't be pleasant and the strain soon separates the bigots from the believers. But, generally, the congregation will take it if he doesn't suddenly turn up the volume on the church's paying taxes or getting rid of the choir director or calling for the burning of draft cards. These other issues may be just as important to him but he wisely learns to pace himself, like the dentist, who drills and then cools.

This is what is happening to Bishop Pike. His interest, concern and involvement in so many social-religious-ethical debates has brought him to the credibility gap with his friends and the public.

Being a person of such unusual charm and such a towering intellect, the public seems to have given Pike at least three or four issues to employ. So he has had some pretty thrilling times as the front runner on things like reform of abortion laws, the New Moral-ity, birth control, the experimental use of drugs and better understanding for homosexuals. When time permitted, he also reworked the creeds of his church, discussed the death of God and outlined new moves for peace in Vietnam. But then my Wilt Chamberlain theory came into practice. To be a professional in one area does not mean expertise in another—say spiritualism.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A few days ago I proposed that the automobile industry's practice of calling back cars for correction of defects be extended to other types of goods and services.

Thus far there has been no discernible movement towards bringing this about.

So I thought it might get the ball rolling if I set an example by calling back one of the columns I wrote last spring.

It was a piece about a man who mixes martini cocktails in a better churn. Probably you don't remember it.

I didn't remember it either until it was called to my attention by Terry McHale of the Flint (Mich.) Journal, who says he has discovered what may be a serious defect.

Bar Experiment
It happened while McHale was on a vacation trip in Wisconsin. One evening he dropped into a tavern and overheard a conversation between the barmaid and a couple of other patrons.

"Seems the evening before had been a good one, with a group imbibing martinis with great abandon," McHale reports.

"After two or thirteen rounds, one member of the party recalled something he had read in a newspaper about making martinis with butter and wanted to try one."

"The barmaid was dubious but being eager to please she gave it a try, following the directions of the experimental customer. She started in the usual way, pouring gin and vermouth in the proper amounts over ice. Then she dropped in a pat of butter and stirred vigorously."

"As could be expected, the pat of butter just laid there, an island of yellow in a chilly sea of alcohol. Those present agreed there must be more to it than that, or else their friend's memory was at fault."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Robert A. Wood, Branch President
The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints

IN Or OF The Church

Many claim to hold membership in one church or another, but admit that they do little about it. One might say, "I am a Catholic but I am not a practicing Catholic," or another might say, "I am a Mormon, but not a practicing Mormon," or likewise one might claim to be a Presbyterian but not practice the teachings of that church.

It never seems to occur to them that if they are not "practicing" Christians in the genuine sense, they are hardly Christians at all. The Savior taught that those who are not for Him are against Him. If we do not practice His teachings, can we say we are "for" Him?

WHAT THEN is a Christian? Is he not one who practices the Lord's precepts in his daily life? Is he not one who earnestly strives to become Christ-like in his habits and attitudes and in his relationships with all mankind?

We often speak of apostasy from the gospel. It appears in various forms and is not found alone in those who leave one church to join another, or even among those who leave Christianity to adopt some non-Christian faith.

EVER ACT of disobedience and rebellion against the Lord's precepts is an evidence of apostasy to that degree. To resist the Savior to any extent is apostasy to that point.

When we are baptized we take upon ourselves the name of Christ and covenant to serve Him and keep His Commandments.

THE TRUE Christian will learn the truth about the Lord and His Church, and will willingly take His yoke upon Him. No one can be a true Christian without learning His truth. We must have an intelligent faith for no one can be saved in ignorance. God cannot be considered incomprehensible, otherwise how could we worship Him? Therefore we must learn the facts about Christ, and then adopt them. No substitute will do.

Church membership alone will not save. If one is IN the Church he must also make himself OF the Church by his active participation in its program.

17 Seniors Close Out Careers

Borger Hosts Harvesters

DWIGHT ROGERS

Lefors Gun Club To Host 'Shoot'

LEFORS — The Lefors gun club is sponsoring a turkey shoot Sunday from 1:00 until 5:00. Frozen turkeys and other merchandise will be given away as prizes for the shooters.

The gun club grounds are located one mile north of Lefors at Pampa highway 273 intersection. Novice shooters will be allowed practice shooting between the competitive matches.

A number of Pampa area men and women have shown interest in the Lefors trap shooting this season.

This is the first merchandise shoot of the season. The gun club is operated by Lefors Lions.

Joins Seniors

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former All Star second baseman Nellie Fox has joined the Washington Senators as a first base coach.

Fox, 39, served as a coach with the Houston Astros the last two seasons.

By RON CROSS
Pampa will close out a disastrous football season, beginning at 7:30 p.m. tonight when the Harvesters and Borger Bulldogs engage in a North zone District 3-4A battle on Bulldog Field.

Seventeen seniors will end their careers as Harvesters and would like nothing better than to stop Pampa's 10-game losing streak, nine of which have come this year.

The Bulldogs will be far from easy but Pampa has improved somewhat over the past two weeks defensively and could close out 1967 on a winning note.

The Harvesters battled potent Lubbock Coronado to a scoreless deadlock for two quarters before falling 27-0 and week before last battled Caprock to a 14-0 loss.

But Borger showed some of their strength of old last week, by upsetting tough Monterey, 7-0 with a defense that held last year's champs almost helpless.

The Bulldogs have been tough defensively all season and have been touched for only 57 points in three league games.

Borger is 2-7 for the year and stand 1-2 in league play. Pampa is 0-9 and 0-3.

The Harvesters hope to show some kind of offense Friday, something they haven't been able to do the past five games, or really the past nine games.

Pampa hasn't scored in the last 21 quarters, and have been shutout five straight games and six of the nine this season.

The Harvesters have scored only 18 points all year, the last touchdown coming in the third quarter of their game with Plainview.

Of the 17 seniors who will close out their careers tonight, 10 will be offensive starters and eight will be on the defensive side.

2-A, 5-B Titles On Line Tonight

The 1967 football season will end for most Top O' Texas area football teams tonight but Groom, Lefors, Wheeler and McLean still have a chance to advance to regional playoff berths.

Wheeler (5-4) hosts Carendon (5-3-1) in a District 2-A battle that will either find the Mustangs, McLean Tigers and Clarendon all tied for the conference title or the Broncos winning it out right.

Clarendon leads the loop with a 3-0 record while McLean stands 3-1 and Wheeler 2-1. A Wheeler win would put the conference in a three-way tie and a coin flip would be necessary, same as last year when McLean won the coin toss.

The Tigers journey to Gruver to meet the District 1-A champs and could possibly be playing them again. McLean is 5-4 for the year and Gruver 6-3.

In District 5-B whoever wins the Lefors-Groom contest will automatically tie the Booker-Follett winner for the title. Groom is 2-7 for the season and Lefors 1-6-2. All four District 5-B teams have 1-1 league records.

White Deer (7-1-1) ends their season at home against league foe Stratford and Canadian (5-4) does the same at home against Sunray in a District 1-A clash.

BARNETT ELECTED

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (UPI)—E. G. (Hop) Barnett, a defendant in the trial of 19 white men in the 1964 slayings of three young civil rights workers, was elected sheriff of Neshoba County Tuesday.

A federal jury at Meridian last month could not agree on a verdict for Barnett and a mistrial was declared for him. Seven defendants were convicted and eight were acquitted.

That's not a breakfast order, merely the menu for Sunday's appetizing National Football League encounter between the Chicago Bears and New York Giants in Wrigley Field.

The entrees are the Giants' Fran Tarkenton and the Bears' Jack Concannon, the two most dashing quarterbacks in pro ball who have scrambled the lives of opposing linemen ever since they left the college ranks.

Both have changed the complexion of their respective teams' offenses since being acquired in off-season trades. Tarkenton's contribution has been the more prominent because New York has jumped from the Eastern Conference cellar last year to a contending role in the Century Division with a 4-4 mark.

The Cards are 11-point picks over Pittsburgh (2-6), Baltimore (6-0-2) is favored by 14 over Atlanta (1-6-1), Dallas (6-2) has a 13-point edge over New Orleans (1-7), Los Angeles (5-1-2), rates 14 stronger than Philadelphia (4-4), Washington (2-4-2) is a 1½ point choice over San Francisco (5-3) and Detroit (3-4-1) is favored by four over Minnesota (2-5-1).

Arnie Has Shot At Golf Crown

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Arnold Palmer's hopes for his first international trophy were higher than the one and one-half mile altitude here as he teed off today in the second round of the World Cup golf matches tied for the lead with Argentina's Florentino Molira at 68.

Jack Nicklaus' even-par 72 Thursday gave the United States a one-stroke lead at 140 over Argentina in an American quest of its seventh team title in the last eight years.

Palmer wasn't perturbed by the rarified atmosphere while playing the 7,250-yard course at the Mexico Golf Club.

At guards Ramsey will go with 179 pound junior Eddie Hopkins and 163-pound senior Mike Tyler.

At center will be old hand Gene Kincaid, a 146-pound senior who has been one of the consistently good players on

Oaks Roll By Houston

By United Press International
The former Providence stand-out scored 24 points to lead the Oakland Oaks to a 99-98 victory over the Houston Chapparrals, snapping a five-game losing streak.

Hadnot had help from Lavern Tart, who scored 20 and Andy Anderson, who added 18.

The Oaks led 96-84 with 5:15 left but Houston rallied and still had a chance until Dewitt Menyard missed what could have been the winning shot with four second left. Art Becker scored 20 for the losers.

In the only other ABA game, the Pittsburgh Pipers whipped the Minnesota Muskies 97-96.

Connie Hawkins and Chico Vaughn, with five three-point baskets, paced the winners with 27 and 22 points. Don Freeman had 23 for Minnesota, which scored just eight points in the entire last period.

Leading ground gainer Chris Kenny, 173-pound senior, will go at right half or quarterback turned-halfback, Steve Summers, 166-pound senior, will see action there.

Ramsy indicated Thursday that Summers may be placed at a halfback slot to use his speed more effectively and his pass catching ability.

On defense Tyler and senior and leading district punter Larry Elledge will be used at ends; Knight and senior Donnie Snapp will be at tackles and sophomore Mark Watkins and senior Davy Stewart will be defensive guards with King or Schaub at left linebacker and Hopkins on the right side. Junior Gary Parrish will be at right halfback and either Kenny or Rogers on the left side with Summers at safety.

Borger will probably start eight seniors, two juniors and a sophomore on offense with speedster James Robinson the man to watch in the Borger attack.

Robinson is the Bulldogs leading ground gainer and leading scorer.

Borger has beaten Pampa nine straight years including a come from behind 19-14 win last time against the fielding Saints for the Lions, who must face a year that 17 seniors will be thinking about.

Coronado, PHS in Win Circle?

By RON CROSS

This will be the last week of this stuff and nonsense for our column. Last week we had a respectable (for us) 8-4-1 record to bring the season mark to 33-35-3.

Ties in the Top O' Texas area ranks have been few and far between with only three so far out of 70 games played and one team has been involved in two of them.

We won't forecast any ties this week but we will forecast some good games on tap tonight.

GROOM 12, LEFORS 6—The Pirates haven't been able to muster an offense the past couple of weeks and Groom only allowed Follett a touchdown same as Lefors. The winner will tie for the district title.

DUMAS 22, PERRYTON 8—This is the game the Rangers have been waiting for all year but they just don't have the people nor play the schedule the Demons do. Dumas is still a power but Perryton is 'st catching up. But not tonight.

CANADIAN 35, SUNRAY 0—The Wildcats close out with a winning season, their first in a long time and one richly deserved. Coach Dwayne Currie has finally built a winner and the Canadian fans should be congratulated for giving a nice guy a chance.

WHITE DEER 42, STRATFORD 0—Stratford is in for a rough time with the Bucks taking the bitter taste of Gruver out of their mouths. Stan Bush should wrap up the scoring title with a really good show tonight. Let's go Bucks.

GRUVER 16, MCLEAN 8—The Tigers may play the Greyhounds in the first round of regional playoffs and won't want to show too much. McLean still has one of the best defenses around.

WHEELER 12, CLARENDON 0—The Mustang defense will arise to the occasion and throw District 2-A into a three-way football jam. Fred Goad will be at his all time best tonight and the defense will be just about perfect.

PAMPA 7, BORGER 0—The Harvesters must play four full quarters tonight. If they do then the Bulldogs are in for a rough night. This would be the best place to end that losing streak.

AMARILLO 16, PALO DURO 0—The Sandies take things easy while the Dons are still hurt and have several key players still out of the line-up. Amarillo may just be the next state champs.

MONTEREY 16, CAPROCK 14—This could go either way. The Plainsmen may still be down after their shocking defeat at Borger last week. The Lions could finish North zone play in grand style, in second place.

CORONADO 22, CAPROCK 20—This is another one that could go either way. We like Coronado because they are playing in Lubbock. The Mustangs were down last week when they played Pampa but should have no trouble getting up for this one.

LUBBOCK 22, PLAINVIEW 10—The Westerners can wind up on a happy note after a disappointing season. They have had several key players injured but most will see action tonight.

NORTH CAROLINA ST. 22, PENN STATE 8—Penn State is favored over unbeaten North Carolina State in this one. But if they can beat Houston then how can they lose tomorrow?

RICE 28, ARKANSAS 20—Rice is well again with everybody back in the fold. But don't be surprised if Arkansas comes roaring back. Frank Broyles is a man who doesn't take losing too kindly.

MICHIGAN ST. 18, INDIANA 8—The Spartans are six point underdogs in this one. Why we don't know. They were disappointing last week but look for Duffy Daugherty to have 'em up high.

LSU 7, ALABAMA 0—The Tiger defense is getting better every week.

OKLAHOMA STATE 8, NEBRASKA 0—This is our upset special of the week. The Cowboys are strong on defense but short on offense and Nebraska hasn't been going great guns either.

Winning Streaks On Line Saturday

By United Press International
"George Gipp" will be at Covallis, Ore. Saturday—and O.J. Simpson hopes to put on quite a show for the "Gipper." Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, who played the legendary halfback George Gipp in the movie version of Knute Rockne's life, is traveling to Covallis to watch the top-ranked University of Southern California Trojans meet dangerous Oregon State Saturday.

Oregon State, which has a 4-2-1 record and is an 11-point underdog, is given a good chance of giving the Trojans a struggle since the Beavers upset Purdue three weeks ago and tied UCLA last week.

The Beavers' chances for success rest mainly on their ability to contain Simpson and the other USC speedsters, who've rolled up an 8-0 record this season and are one of the four unbeaten major college teams in the nation.

Simpson was injured two weeks ago and sat out last week's game with California. Oregon State expects him to be back this week—but the Beavers hope to give him a rude welcome. Simpson remained the nation's leading rusher even though he missed last week's game and he's bound to be dangerous even if he's bothered by the layoff.

White USC attempts to keep its perfect record intact, UCLA will be trying to bounce back from last week's tie with Oregon State to knock off Washington. UCLA is an 11-point favorite over Washington but the Huskies handed the Bruins their only loss last season and could pull another upset.

UCLA, which plays USC next week, must win this game to remain a serious contender for the Rose Bowl.

The Big Ten's battle for the Rose Bowl berth will also be in the limelight as fifth-ranked Purdue meets 10th-ranked Minnesota and sixth-ranked Indiana faces unranked Michigan State.

Hope For Upset
Since Purdue can't return, a loss to the Bollermakers wouldn't necessarily knock Minnesota out of the Pasadena picture. But an upset victory would give their hopes quite a lift.

Indiana, which is 7-0 overall and one of those four unbeaten teams in the country, is a seven-point underdog at Michigan State.

The suspicion remains that Michigan State, which has been sputtering all season, is finally due to explode—and Indiana could be the victim.

Besides USC and Indiana, the other two unbeaten teams are North Carolina State and Wyoming.

North Carolina State is playing at Penn State—and the Wolfpack is a slight underdog. Apparently, the oddsmakers figure that Penn State's Pennsylvanians are better than North Carolina State's Pennsylvanians. The North Carolina State team has 13 players from Pennsylvania on its squad so it's a kind of homecoming.

Wyoming is the one unbeaten team which would have no trouble remaining that way. The Cowboys meet New Mexico, which has a 1-7 record.

Second-ranked Tennessee is another club which should have little trouble and is a 20-point favorite over Tulane.

Tech, Baylor Frosh Win

By United Press International
Texas Tech used a timely defense and Baylor used a sudden burst of power Thursday to pick up Southwest Conference freshman football victories.

Tech stopped Texas A&M quarterback Rocky Sels inches short on a two-point conversion to defeat the Fish 21-20. The Baylor Cubs scored two touchdowns and a safety in the first seven minutes of the second half to beat the Rice Owlets 16-6.

Tech quarterback Jerry Watson scored all three Picador touchdowns on runs of five, 17 and 14 yards to put Tech ahead 21-6. But the Fish came back to score and Shel went over for a two-point conversion.

A&M recovered an onside kick and scored again, but this time the Tech line kept Shel out of the end zone on the conversion attempt.

Laney Cook hit Derek Davis on a 40-yard pass play and John Henderson recovered a fumbled lateral in the end zone for Baylor's two touchdowns. Tommy Bambrick tackled Jerry Thomas in the end zone for the safety.

Charles Blackburn scored Rice's only touchdown on a one-yard plunge.

Bills May Look Dead But Wow

By United Press International
The Buffalo Bills may not be as dead as they look, but the New York Jets are preparing the last rites for them anyway.

The injury-riddled Bills drag their battered bodies into New York's Shea Stadium Sunday with their American Football League Eastern Division title hopes only faintly flickering, and the Jets are getting ready to bury them once and for all.

The Bills (3-5) have been beset with misfortune since winning their opening game of the season, but they appeared to finally put everything together last Sunday when they whipped Miami 35-13.

Guard Billy Shaw, quarterback Jack Kemp and halfback Keith Lincoln all suffered minor injuries against Miami last weekend, but the game marked the first time in several weeks that the Bills escaped without losing a player for an extended period.

The Jets, on the other hand, suffered a serious setback in a 42-18 loss to Kansas City by losing halfback Emerson Boozer for the remainder of the season with torn ligaments in his knee. Boozer's loss may be offset somewhat this weekend, however, if fullback Matt Snell returns to the lineup as expected.

One more loss finishes Buffalo's chances of winning the Houston, have been installed as a six-point choice.

In other games Houston is at Denver, Miami at San Diego and Kansas City at Boston.

Houston is still having trouble with its offense but should not have much trouble containing the Broncos, who have now lost eight straight. Houston won the first meeting between the two clubs this season 10-6 and is a seven-point favorite to repeat.

Miami is another team which hasn't won in quite a spell, and the poor Dolphins don't figure to snap their six-game losing streak against San Diego. The

Pampa 9th Halts Lee Sweep

Pampa and Lee ninth grade football players engaged in one of the wildest and best football games ever played in Pampa Thursday and Pampa ninth halter a Lee sweep for the city title.

The Reapers jumped to a 22-0 first period lead then held off the Rebels for a whopping, 30-32 victory.

Lee seventh and Lee eighth had previously won their meetings with the inter city rivals.

But Pampa ninth blocked Lee's first punt attempt of the day and lineman Keith Coyle had a dream come true as he scooped up the ball and dashed 35 yards to score the first Pampa marker. Lawrence Richards, who had a big, big day, scored the conversion.

The second Pampa marker came when Bill Shouse plunged from four-yards out to make it 14-0.

Richards ended the first period scoring when he galloped 57-yards to paydirt. Monroe Woods ran the conversion to make it 22-0 going into the second period.

Then Lee came back with John Garren racing 35-yards. The conversion try was no good. The Rebels cut the count to 22-12 when Garren raced 40 yards the next time Lee got the ball.

But Mike Jordan scored on a one-yard plunge for the Reapers to make it 28-12.

The half wasn't over however, as Jerry Turner went in from 10-yards out on a pass from Doug Thompson. Ricky Harris ran the conversion to make it a 28-20 halftime game.

Each team scored once in the third period with Reaper Johnny Clark going in from the seven yard line and Richards ran the conversion.

Harris then galloped 35-yards for Lee and the quarter ended at 36-26, Pampa ninth.

In the final period things did not cool down as Jordan rammed over from the one for the Reapers and Shouse ran the conversion to make it 44-26.

But Mike Poole blocked a punt for Lee and rambled 15 yards to score to make it 44-32.

Richards epded the scoring as he went in from 38 yards the year, combined with Terry Dischinger and Dave Debuschister to spark a fourth quarter Pampa rally and hand the Sonics their third consecutive loss. It was Detroit's fourth win in a row.

Sam Jones' 23 points and Bill Russell's 21 paced Boston's victory. The Celtics trailed for almost three periods before coming on with a last period spurt which dealt the Bulls their 11th setback in 12 games. Bob Boozer and Jerry Sloan each hit 24 points for Chicago.

Bell Finally Rings for Knicks

By United Press International
Big Bell finally is starting to ring true for the New York Knickerbockers while the Detroit Pistons' Dave Bing continues to go bong.

Walt Bellamy, the Knicks' 6-11 center now relegated to reserve status, came off the bench Thursday night to score 30 points and lead New York to a 123-106 triumph over the Cincinnati Royals.

In the other half of the Madison Square Garden doubleheader, Bing's 39 points paced the Pistons to a 119-118 triumph over the Seattle SuperSonics. The Boston Celtics won their eighth game in nine starts by downing the Chicago Bulls 107-93 in the only NBA game Thursday night.

Coach Dick McGuire's strategy in moving Willis Reed from forward to center and having Bellamy come off the bench to spell him has paid off with five Knick victories in their last six games.

Bellamy and Dick Barnett, who added 22 points, led the New Yorkers, who wrapped up the game in the fourth period after leading by only three points after three quarters.

Jerry Lucas carried the Cincinnati attack, scoring 41 points, his career high, and pulling down 27 rebounds. Oscar Robertson returned to action, scoring 14 points, but sat out from midway through the third period because of a muscle pull.

Tomorrow Is An Important Day For The Future of Gray County

All eligible Voters with rendered taxable property in Gray County, will be asked tomorrow to decide on the issue of $850,000.00 in Hospital Improvement Bonds for Highland General Hospital and $250,000 in Airport Improvement Bonds for Perry Lefors Field.

Your Vote FOR the Issue of These Bonds will be a vote FOR Progress and a Vote FOR the future of Gray County at NO INCREASE in the Tax Rate based on present valuations, revenues and expenses. WHY?

HOSPITAL

1. Highland General Hospital has served Gray County well, but who wants a 1955 hospital for 1967 needs and 1967 know-how.
2. State Hospital Licensing Division of State Health Dept. has found various deficiencies relating to fire and smoke safety devices.
3. Your bond money will provide:
 - a. Smoke and fire barriers
 - b. Additional fire escapes and enclosure of existing fire escapes.
 - c. Fire proofing of ceilings in original hospital section.
 - d. Air conditioning of original hospital section.
 - e. Laboratory and x-ray department improvements.
 - f. Physical therapy departments. (These patients must now go elsewhere)
 - g. New and improved emergency entrance and emergency rooms.
 - h. Administrative offices, waiting rooms, and patient admitting areas.
 - i. Correct layout of kitchen area to meet Health Department standards.
 - j. Fire sprinkler system in basement.
 - k. Improved recovery and intensive care areas on surgery floor.
 - l. Additional parking.

Let us take advantage of the wonderful advantages made in medical science in the last twenty years. Let's modernize Highland General Hospital.

You deserve the best - Vote FOR the hospital bonds tomorrow Saturday, November 11.

AIRPORT

1. The future growth of Gray County will depend a great deal on attracting new industry, and today's industries look to modern airport facilities.
2. Several local industries now divert their executive aircraft to Borger and Amarillo. Will they divert future industrial expansion elsewhere?
3. In a survey of twenty-four firms who use Perry Lefors Field, eighteen replied. Of these, nine now use jets, seven will go to jets in 1968 and two do not plan to use jets. Perry Lefors Field will not handle small, executive jets.
4. These firms who use Perry Lefors Field pay over $40,000.00 per year in county taxes. The proposed improvements will not be a gift to these companies.
5. In a U.S. Chamber of Commerce survey, out of 500 corporations, 85% indicated a modern airport would be essential in locating a plant site. Let them look to Gray County.
6. Airplanes solely operated for business purposes outnumber all domestic scheduled airlines more than 20 to 1, and fly more hours than all airlines combined; so an airport is a business asset—not strictly a pleasure facility.
YOUR bond money will provide:
 - a. Extension of the north-south runway of Perry Lefors Field to handle small business jets.
 - b. Reconstruct and reinforce the existing north-south runway.
 - c. Install lights on north-south runway.
 - d. Construct a north-south taxiway.
 - e. Pave and improve taxi and parking aprons
 - f. Additional land and easement for runway extension.

Industry has gone to the air. Let Gray County join the jet - age and provide a place for industry to land. Vote FOR airport bonds tomorrow, Saturday November 11th.

You Have Invested Much In Gray County But an Investment Only Grows As One's Faith In The Future Grows.

Invest in the Future Growth and Well - Being of Gray County. Vote FOR the Issue of Hospital and Airport Bonds on Nov. 11th at NO INCREASE in the Tax Rate Based on Present Valuations, Revenues and Expenses.

Remember To Vote Tomorrow, Saturday, November 11th

Polls open From 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

LET'S NOT BURY THE INVESTMENT WE HAVE MADE, BUT CONTINUE TO INVEST IN THE FUTURE OF OUR GREAT COUNTY!

Vote For The Airport and Hospital Bonds!
