Cairo Urges Big Four To Create Mideast Peace-Keeping Forces

By United Press International
United Nations mediator Gunnar V. Jarring held a second round of talks with Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir in Jerusalem Saturday on how to fulfill his mission of bringing peace to the Middle East.

In Paris, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad called on the Big Four to establish peace-keeping forces in the Middle East before the Feb. 5 cease-fire deadline.

Riad would not say whether Egypt planned to resume the fight after that date, but he did say it would not seek Soviet troop support.

Uruguay Will Not Bow To Kidnappers' Demand

MONTEVIDEO (UPI)—The Uruguayan government will not negotiate with terrorists who kidnapped British Ambassador Geoffrey Jackson, a foreign ministry spokesman said Saturday.

A new Tupamaro kidnap early Saturday spurred the search for members of the urban guerrilla head. The terrorists abducted an employee of a gas station five miles from the center of the city.

Pablo Riccardoni, a ministry subsecretary, said, "Uruguay's position has not changed, we will not negotiate with the common delinquents, as we consider the terrorists."

FINAL PLANS

Auditorium Expected To Get Council Okay

Plans and specifications for the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium are expected to be given final approval when the Pampa City Commission meets in regular session at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday at City Hall.

The commission will act on recommendation of the architect committee which approved the plans at a meeting last week with Herbert Brasher, Lubbock architect.

HIS TRIAL, adjourned for Christmas and New Year holidays, will reconvene Jan. 11. Lt. William L. Calley Jr., charged with murder in the shooting deaths of 19 civilians at My Lai, South Vietnam, is shown outside courthouse at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Nation's Space Effort Rides On Apollo 14 Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—America's next lunar explorers, hoping to erase the "stigma" of Apollo 13's failure last April, said Saturday the immediate future of the nation's man in space effort rides on the success of their Apollo 14 moonflight.

Alan B. Shepard, the 47-year-old flight commander who 10 years ago became America's first man in space, and space newcomers Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell said they are ready for their Jan. 31 blastoff and see no problems standing in its way.

Their target is a hilly part of the moon's face called Fra Mauro, where Shepard and Mitchell will attempt the third U.S. lunar landing. It will be a virtual repeat of the flight planned for Apollo 13, which was aborted after an oxygen tank explosion on the way to the moon.

Apollo 14 is a safer moonship because of modifications brought on by the Apollo 13 emergency, and its crew's harrowing, but safe return to earth, Shepard said in a news conference.

He, Roosa, 37, and Mitchell, 40, were making their last public appearance before beginning Monday 21 days of preflight isolation designed to keep them healthy. It is the most rigid astronauts have ever undergone—so rigid, in fact, that they may associate with only 100 people. That group includes their wives, but not their children.

'Curves' Indicate California Due For More Quakes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A geologist has worked out a set of "recurrence curves" that suggests another great earthquake may occur along California's San Andreas fault in the next three or four decades.

He made it clear, however, that his figure for time intervals between quakes "should be considered only estimates or approximations."

Destroyed Store Under 24-Hour Guard As Fire Probe Continues

A 24-hour guard was placed on the White's Auto Store Saturday while local and state fire officials continued their investigation into the cause of the $195,000 New Year's Eve fire that destroyed the store and its $120,000 inventory.

Pampa Fire Chief Finace Dyer said he requested assistance of the state fire marshal's office in exploring the possibility of arson in the fire which destroyed merchandise in White's Auto building at 109 S. Cuyler and caused smoke damage to the Lindsey Furniture Store next door.

Owen C. Davis, a deputy state fire marshal from Austin, talked Friday and Saturday with about 30 persons in his investigation, but said Saturday he would have to confer with other sources of information before he could complete the investigation.

He also examined the store debris in an effort to determine the origin, cause, and direction of the fire, and if it was produced by flammables, Davis said.

The entire area damaged by fire was secured Saturday and the 24-hour guard was placed on it with fire and police department personnel, Davis said. The 24-hour guard will remain in effect until investigation of the entire area is completed.

Tragedy Occurs As Liner Strikes Caribbean Reef

All Rescued By British Queen Elizabeth 2

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (UPI)—Passengers and crewmen of the rescue ship Queen Elizabeth 2 told Saturday of a night of heroism when 635 persons escaped the cruise liner Antilles, "ablaze from stem to stern" and driven hard on an uncharted reef in the dark and choppy Caribbean.

All 635 lives were saved but the $15 million Antilles, a sleek 600-foot vessel of the French Lines, was destroyed in what a company official described as "a stunning catastrophe."

The Antilles passengers were watching a movie in the ship theater early Friday evening when the ship struck the reef just off the tiny island of Mustique in the Grenadines, a string of islands off the South American coast.

The crew of the QE2 was absolutely heroic," said QE2 passenger Gerald Healy of Gloucester City, N.J. He told how lifeboats lowered from the QE2 plowed through heavy seas to shore where the passengers, including many "distressed" women, were waiting for rescue.

President Nixon Celebrates 58th Birthday At Western White House

(UPI)—President Nixon, claiming to feel 20 years younger than his age, quietly celebrated his 58th birthday Saturday with his family at the Western White House.

Students at Concordia School, the elementary school a quarter-mile from the President's residence where he voted last November, sent him a birthday card and a poster signed by members of the Fourth grade.

Solons Expected To Revamp Auto Insurance Laws

AUSTIN (UPI)—Spurred by angry complaints from constituents at a 14 per cent hike in auto insurance rates, legislators are expected to revamp and reform Texas insurance laws during 1971.

A number of lawmakers already have announced plans to submit bills to revamp the present insurance rating system during the 62nd Legislative session which opens Tuesday.

The Legislative Council has drafted 33 major reform measures at legislators' requests and expects many more when the lawmakers get to town.

Proposals range from doing away with rate-setting altogether to regulating auto repair charges in addition to insurance premiums.

Many are suggesting crackdowns on drunk drivers and car designs believed to contribute to accidents. Stricter penalties for drunk drivers will be among the proposals Gov. Preston Smith will present to the legislature.

Uninsured motorists also will draw fire. A study committee headed by Rep. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, is pushing for assessment of a $60 annual fee on uninsured motorists. The fee would be used to help pay for damages caused by persons without liability insurance.

Parker's committee also is calling for a sharp crackdown on unlicensed drivers. The panel has proposed increasing the penalty for driving without a license or with a suspended license to a mandatory $200 fine for first offense. Penalty for a subsequent offense would be a mandatory fine plus confinement in jail.

"We're going to have to start taking some people off the highways if we're going to reduce the cost of insurance," Parker said. The study committee also suggested new laws to require all cars sold in Texas after 1970 to have bumpers that can withstand front and rear end collisions of 10 miles per hour without damage.

Rep. Joe Allen, D-Baytown, said he will introduce a bill to require all cars licensed or sold in Texas after Jan. 1, 1972, to have an energy absorption system to reduce damages in collisions.

Allen has also suggested the state might need to step in to regulate costs of auto parts and repair charges.

"Parts and repair costs are astronomical," Allen said. "It is conceivable that it may soon be necessary to regulate the automobile parts and repair industries to prevent excessive costs of damage repair which are passed on to the policyholder in the form of higher insurance rates."

Sen. Charles Wilson, D-Lufkin, has suggested insurance companies should have to assume part of the rising costs of auto repairs and accidents claims, Wilson reasons that the companies would then have more incentive to hold down excessive repair costs and to push for laws to require improvements in safety aspects of automobile design.

Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, has called for the 62nd Legislature to enact auto design safety legislation. He also has suggested steps to strengthen the state board of insurance "with additional personnel and resources so it can properly regulate this entire industry."

Dorothy Kirsten Coming To Pampa For Concert Jan. 18

Dorothy Kirsten, one of America's great operatic sopranos, is coming to Pampa Monday, Jan. 18, as the Pampa Community Concert Association's third attraction of the 1970-71 concert season.

Miss Kirsten, eminent star of the Metropolitan and San Francisco Operas, acclaimed as an American girl with a golden voice, was described by the Washington Post as "a prima donna who is a credit to her country."

Miss Kirsten's professional career began with the Chicago Civic Opera, where she started with the small role of Poussette in "Manon." In less than a year she was singing only leading roles. Within two seasons her name figured prominently on the roster of the New York City Opera, where she was quickly discovered by the Metropolitan. Her brilliant debut as Mimi in "La Boheme" in this world-famed opera house established her as a leading prima donna, a position she has held ever since.

The name of Dorothy Kirsten is synonymous with such beloved roles as "Manon," "Louise," "Madame Butterfly," "Tosca," "Traviata," "Girl of the Golden West" and many others. In addition to her vocal brilliance, this celebrated artist's peerless stage mastery in both opera and operetta has rightly bestowed upon her the title "greatest singing actress of our time."

Miss Kirsten is equally at home singing a Gershwin ballad as singing an aria by Puccini. Her blonde beauty, svelte figure and vocal artistry have graced many top television shows.

The Kirsten voice has been heard in opera houses and concert halls throughout the world. In the United States, she has sung in every state of the union, including Alaska, and Hawaii — where she recently opened the Theatre-Concert Hall in their new Cultural Center.

As usual, admission to the Kirsten concert scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Pampa Junior High Auditorium Monday, Jan. 18, will be by concert association membership card only. There will be no box office sale of tickets.

PAMPA DONNA — Dorothy Kirsten, one of the world's most richly endowed singing actresses, will be in Pampa Junior High auditorium one week from tomorrow night for a concert in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

County Near Bond Sale Goal

According to a report received from George B. Cree, Jr., chairman of the Gray County Savings Bonds Committee, sales of Series E and H U. S. Savings Bonds in the county during November totaled $28,371. Eleven-month sales were $49,760 for 98.1 per cent of the 1970 goal of $420,000.

Sales in Texas during the month amounted to $14,915,027 compared to $12,962,168 during November 1969. The January-November sales totaled $166,883,983 for 93 per cent of the 1970 goal of $179.9 million.

Clarification Of Governmental Policies Task For IPAA In 1971

WASHINGTON, — Clarification of governmental oil and gas policies will be one of the petroleum industry's most difficult and important tasks in 1971, the president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America has said.

Robert E. Mead, Dallas, said in a year-end statement that, "The domestic petroleum industry has the technical know-how to assure adequate domestic oil and gas supplies for the consuming public - and it has an outstanding record of relatively low prices."

"Unfortunately," he added, "government indecision as to basic petroleum policies in the past year has left the domestic oil and gas industry confronted with increasing uncertainties."

"As was the case in 1969," Mead said, "Government policies in 1970 failed generally to recognize the importance of encouraging the maintenance of a growing and healthy petroleum producing industry in the United States."

Mead said preliminary figures show that the domestic oil and gas industry drilled fewer wells in 1970 than in any year since 1946 when the industry still was plagued with wartime restrictions and steel shortages. Because of declining exploration and drilling, he said domestic oil production is exceeding additions to reserves.

The IPAA President said that while a number of Government officials have expressed real concern about potential oil and gas shortages, "their remedies have been the 'stopgap' variety that deal with short-range considerations and tend to undermine the longer-range objective of developing adequate fuels supplies."

"It is not possible to deal effectively with the nation's long-term fuel supply problems just 'one winter at a time,'" Mead said. "The time is overdue for Government to decide whether it wants a vigorous, healthy domestic oil and gas producing industry, and to shape its policies accordingly."

Mead said the only immediate threat confronting oil consumers was a possible shortfall in supplies of imported residual fuel oil. He pointed out that the U.S. East Coast industrial area "is 95 percent dependent on vulnerable foreign supplies of this fuel because of shortsighted policies that virtually exempted that product from import controls in 1966."

"Those who exerted the pressures to obtain this full access to foreign supplies of residual fuel," Mead added, "are now the most vocal critics of the oil import program which was designed to prevent over-dependence on foreign oil."

Mead declared that events of the past year, with tenuous dependence on imported oil "causing the only threat to consumer supplies of a basic petroleum fuel (residual oil)," make it "all too clear that further dependence on foreign areas for other basic petroleum fuels, such as gasoline and home heating fuel, should be avoided."

Because of extraordinary efforts of the domestic industry to substantially expand crude oil production, Mead said, "The motorist and the home owner will suffer no fuel shortages even though imports of crude oil were reduced substantially oil production of federal leases to keep depressed oil prices depressed."

Mead said average crude oil prices in 1970 were only 12 percent above 1966, and declared "few other commodities reflect a comparable price record, and no other basic industry has contributed less to inflationary pressures of the past decade than the domestic petroleum industry."

Compared with this small increase in crude oil prices in 14 years, Mead pointed out that in the same period oilfield machinery and casing (pipe) prices increased 40 percent, and wages paid by the domestic industry almost 63 percent.

"If the domestic petroleum industry is to find and develop adequate supplies of oil and natural gas to meet our program and control of offshore requirements in the 1970's," he concluded, "then economic conditions in the industry must improve to offset constantly rising costs including the $700 million increases in taxes imposed on the industry in 1970."

"If Government policies are clarified, with the stated objective of encouraging the full development of domestic petroleum resources, a healthy expanding U.S. industry will provide assurance of adequate oil and gas supplies for 1971 and the foreseeable future."

ALL FOR 50 CENTS
WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI)—Arthur W. Pyburn, 23, will work off $145 in fines because he was 50 cents short of a turnpike toll of $1.25.

Pyburn was sentenced to the Worcester County Jail Friday to work off the fines at the rate of $3 a day.

Pyburn was convicted in District Court of toll evasion, operating without a license, operating an unregistered car and operating an uninsured motor vehicle.

State police said the charges were brought after Pyburn stopped Thursday at the toll booth at the Surbridge Interchange and had only 75 cents. He lacked sufficient identification to convince the turnpike authorities that he could make the payment by mail.

TIRE BURGLAR
BRIGHTON, England (UPI) — Charwoman Gladys Regan fumed when she found the muddy footprints a burglar made in a local clinic before he dozed off in an armchair.

She telephoned police. While they stood by she put the burglar to work with a bucket and rag, cleaning the floor on his hands and knees.

BUTLER CHARGED
TURIN, Italy (UPI) — Police charged butler Luigi Anghinoni Friday with stealing paintings and statues worth more than $160,000 from his employer's home and replacing them with copies.

They said Anghinoni stole the art work over a period of time and painted replicas in his room at night. His employer, Alberto Ferrino, 85, never noticed the difference until his son took a closer look.

Phillips Upsets Pampa Harvesters 64 to 57

RICHARD BUNTON, No. 54 in white jersey, watching fellow Harvester tip away shot by 6'8" Randy Jarnigan of Phillips. The Hawks downed the Harvesters 64 to 57.

Fired Up Blackhawks Surprise Pampa High

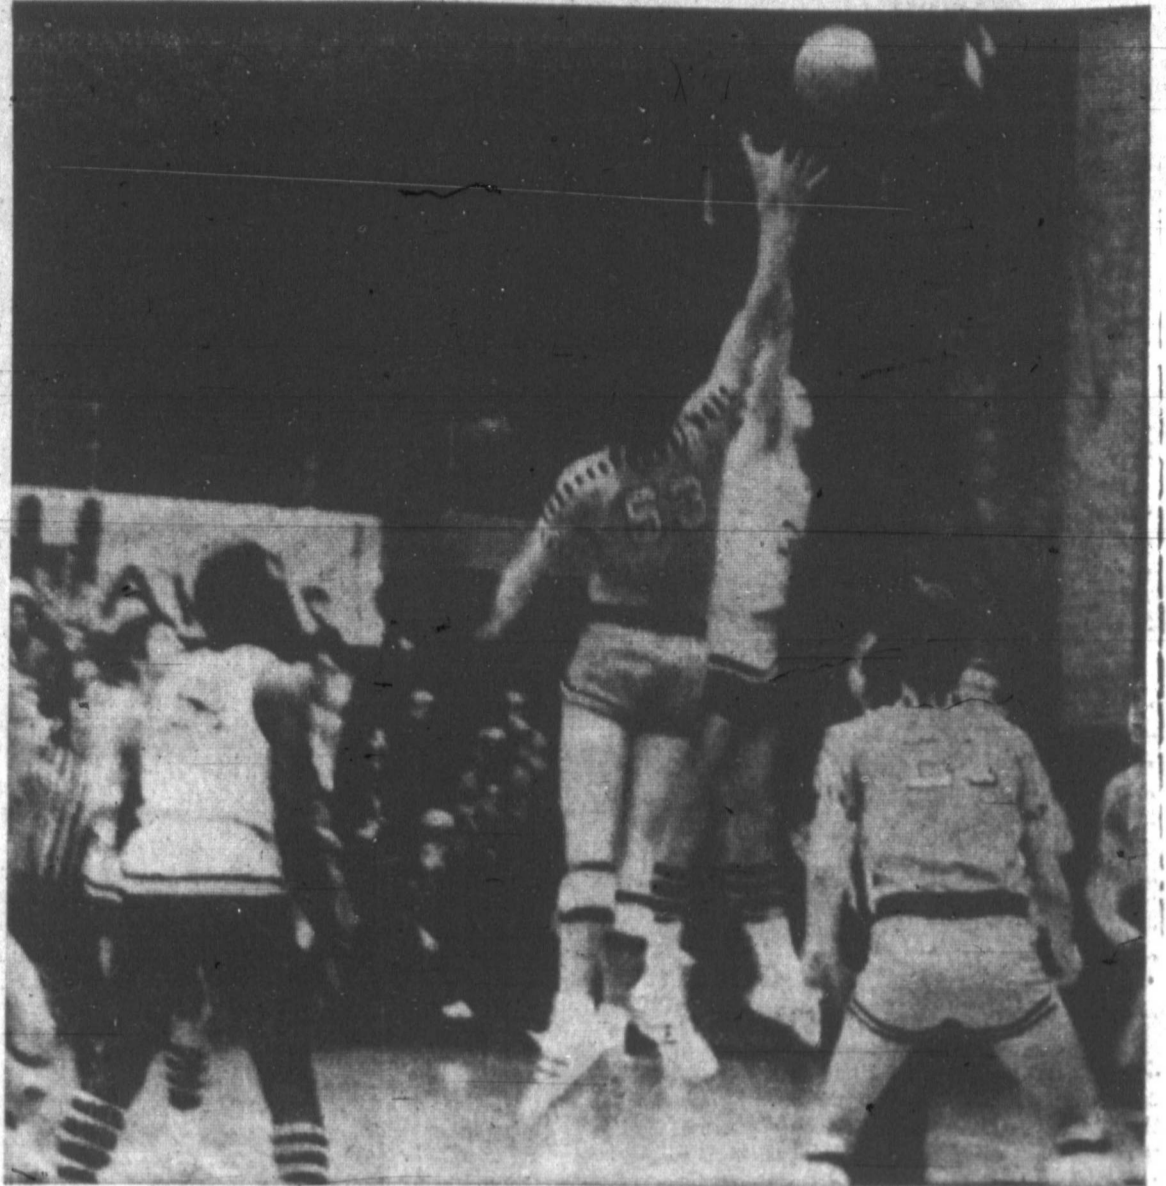

A fired up Blackhawk team from Phillips downed the hustling Harvesters 64 to 57 in a Friday night game played in Harvester Fieldhouse. A 25-footer from the left side of the pit, skimmed the hoop and grazed the net for two points. Gamblin's tally for the evening was a short four points; down from his ten plus average.

Pampa started the game with a five point lead after the first quarter of play. They maintained their lead until half-time but the Hawks had shortened it to a mere three point margin. In the third quarter the Hawks put on a burst of speed out-shooting the home team and tying the ball game at 42-42. The ice age struck the Pampa Harvesters in the fourth period. It seemed almost as if the basket had a lid on it preventing the points from going up. The Harvesters held on until the final minutes when the Hawks started in spreading the margin.

At the final whistle the Hawks had upset the Harvesters by seven points.

North Defeats South In Hula Bowl By 10 Points

HONOLULU (UPI)—The North, behind three of the nation's outstanding quarterbacks, built a 35-7 halftime lead and withstood a second half rally led by Archie Manning to post a 42-32 win Saturday over the South in the 25th Hula Bowl.

Stanford's Jim Plunkett, Notre Dame's Joe Theismann and Ohio State's Rex Kern each guided their unit on at least one touchdown drive in the first half as the North completely dominated the game.

Plunkett the Hiesman Trophy winner, was chosen outstanding back of the game. He hit on 11 of 12 passes for 132 yards and scored two twice on runs of five and one yards.

Put with a special rule in effect for the game which allows the team trailing on the scoreboard to have the option to kick or receive, the South came roaring back for four touchdowns in the final two quarters in the delight of the sellout crowd of 23,000.

The South's Chuck Dicus of Arkansas opened the scoring in the first period by snagging a seven-yard pass from Manning. But the North came back with five touchdowns—Ohio State's John Brockington bulging over from the two, Theismann on a 26-yard option run, Northwestern's Mike Adamle on a five-yard plunge, Michigan State's Gordon Bowdell on an eight-yard pass from Kern and Plunkett on a five-yard run.

In the second half it was all Arkansas on four scoring drives. Steve Worster of Texas drove over from the two to make it 35-14 and Bill Burnett scored on the next drive from the one, cutting the North lead to 35-20.

With 30 seconds gone in the final period, Mike Montgomery of Kansas State bulged over from the two. After Manning's pass attempt for two points failed, it was 35-26.

Then Plunkett sneaked over from the one with six and a half minutes remaining to ice the game.

Manning scored the final touchdown with 25 seconds left on a yard sneak. He completed 20 of 33 for 294 yards.

Greenwood Wins With 5-Under-Par

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Eobby Greenwood, a 32-year old Tennessee pro who has never finished better than 10th in a pro tournament, fired a five-under-par 66 Saturday to grab a three-stroke lead after three rounds of the $110,000 Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open.

Greenwood, a 1964 graduate of North Texas State who played amateur golf up until two years ago, had a 54-hole total of 204, nine under par. He had a pair of 69s in the first two rounds.

Last year he won only $10,000 on the tour and his best finish was 10th at Tallahassee.

Three strokes back at 207 were a flock of more prominent pros including Doug Sanders, Lee Trevino, defending champion Billy Casper and Art Wall, Bob Lunn, Ray Floyd, plus two in the relatively unknown months later, after extensive testing, the planes were allowed to fly again.

Rule Change Proposed By The AACBC

HOUSTON (UPI)—The American Association of College Baseball Coaches (AACBC) proposed Saturday to allow high school baseball players one expense paid visit to a professional baseball team and still remain eligible for NCAA competition.

Under current rules, players would not be eligible if they accepted a visit to a pro team. Lee Ellbracht of the University of Illinois, secretary of the AACBC, said the NAIA and the Junior College Association, NJCAA, allow their players one visit to a pro team and he thinks this will help recruiting if NCAA schools conform. The NCAA permits an expenses paid visit to the college campus.

Nixon Shows Interest In Washington's New Coach

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon telephoned George Allen Friday to personally congratulate him on his appointment as the Redskins coach and predicted 1971 will be "a very good year" for the Washington pro football team.

The Western White House said that Nixon, a football fan, called Allen in Los Angeles and invited him here to discuss places to live in Washington.

Cowboy Coach Feels Age May Slow Down Unitas

By ED FITE UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry feels that age may have taken its toll with Baltimore passing great Johnny Unitas, but that isn't lulling him into any false illusions about counting on that facet where the two teams meet in the Super Bowl in Miami.

"I expect the challenge will be equal to that we faced against (John) Brodie last Sunday," Landry said in reference to the anxiety the Forty Niner quarterback caused on the Dallas bench while the Cowboys were nursing their eventual 17-10 National Conference victory margin.

"I wouldn't think that Unitas would throw as well now as he did five years ago," Landry said while getting his team prepared for a 2 p.m. CST Sunday flight to Florida to wind up training for the Jan. 17 showdown against the American Conference champion Colts.

"But their young receivers will make up for some of that falloff in proficiency, Roy Jefferson and Eddie Hinton have looked very impressive in the films I have seen. They must be exceptional.

Eastern Colleges Will Fight NCAA's 1.6 Grade Requirement

By DARRELL MACK UPI Sports Writer

HOUSTON (UPI)—A group of Eastern colleges and universities who have been fighting the NCAA's basic scholastic requirements since their inception will try again this week to have the rule abolished.

Thirty-two East Coast schools are sponsoring an amendment to the NCAA bylaws at the college governing body's 65th annual convention in the shadow of the Astro dome Monday through Wednesday.

The group, including such learned institutions as Dartmouth, Cornell and Georgetown, probably will get off the biggest fireworks of the convention when they move to abolish the 1.6 rule.

This regulation prevents a school from awarding an athletic scholarship to any student who cannot predict making 1.6 out of a possible 4-point grade average his freshman year and prevents an athlete from playing if he does not have a 1.6 average after he enrolls.

Players Named For NBA All-Star Game Jan. 12

NEW YORK (UPI)—Veteran Johnny Green and rookie Geoff Petrie were among 12 players named today by Commissioner Walter Kennedy to complete the squads for the National Basketball Association's 21st annual All-Star game at San Diego on Jan. 12.

Green, who at the age of 37 will be the oldest player ever to compete in an NBA All-Star game, and Cincinnati Royals

'Trees' Harrison Held For Court In Shooting

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Jimmy "Trees" Harrison, 35, Philadelphia, was held for court Friday in the shooting of Nate Ramsey, co-captain and safety for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Harrison appeared before a Municipal Court judge on charges of assault with intent to kill and two counts of aggravated assault and battery and firearms violations in the Dec. 14 shooting on a West Philadelphia street. An 11-year-old girl who was a bystander was also wounded slightly under the arm.

Ramsey, 29, was hospitalized in serious condition but he was discharged after surgery to remove the slug from his chest. Harrison remained free on $5,000 bail after the hearing. He had surrendered the day after the shooting.

Red Holzman of New York will coach the East for the second straight year while Larry Costello of Milwaukee will lead the West.

Candlelight Wedding Vows Unite Patricia Burke, John Paul Bowers

MRS. JOHN PAUL BOWERS
... nee Patricia Kay Burke

Patricia Kay Burke became the bride of John Paul Bowers in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at Cole Chapel, First United Methodist Church of Denton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Riley P. Burke of Texarkana and Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bowers of Pampa.

The Rev. James W. Morgan officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar setting of polished greenery and groupings of multi-branch candelabra holding burning votive candles. Votive candles in a curved candelabrum framed the central arrangement of Christmas greenery and burning altar tapers. The bridal aisle was covered in white with satin bows and greenery marking the family pews.

Dale Peters, organist, played the pre-nuptial music of "A Minor Concerto After Vivaldi," by Bach and "Ave Maria," by Founed.

BRIDE

Entering to the strains of "Trumpet Voluntary," the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported silk peau de soie. The empire bodice featured lace roses accented with tiny seed pearls and a cow collar with scalloped lace edge.

The removable chapel train was attached to a flat bow at the center back. The full bishop sleeves were fashioned of imported Chantilly lace in a delicate rose design. Her bouffant tiered veil of imported English silk illusion was attached to a demi-crown of hand-rolled peau desoie and Chantilly lace petals accented with aurora crystals and pearl trim. Her only jewelry was an heirloom lavalier. She carried a colonial nosegay of gannet roses, white-feathered carnations and baby's breath accented with lace.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Donna Fleming Powell of Commerce was matron of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Betty Brown Hearne of Dallas and Charlotte Nelson Gildon of Arlington. They wore identical empire floor-length gowns of burgandy velvet with bouffant sleeves accented by cameo chokers of burgandy velvet worn at the neck. They carried nosegays of baby garnet roses, pink feathered carnations and baby's breath.

Charles Bowers was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Richard Bowers, brother of the bridegroom, and John Price of Grapevine. Seating the guests were Stephen Burke, the bride's brother, Dean Evans of Austin and Ralph Reavis of Azle.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Burke wore a sky blue silk shantung dress accented with sheer bishop sleeves and a sleeveless coat. Mrs. Bowers wore a mint green crepe dress with pleated chiffon sleeves and accented by a jeweled neckline and cuffs. Both wore white cymbidium orchids.

Both are students at West Texas State University where Miss Flaherty is a freshman education major. Her fiancé is a senior computer programming major and a member of Phi Delta Theta Social Fraternity. The wedding will be solemnized March 6 in the First Baptist Church of Happy.

Cindy Cummings Pledges Vows With M.L. Giesler

For the double-ring wedding ceremony of Cindy Zee Cummings and Michael Lewis Giesler, the First Christian Church of Pampa was decorated with baskets of red gladiolas, and two candelabras holding red tapers and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton E. Cummings, 332 Baer. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Giesler, 105 N. Nelson.

The Rev. M. B. Smith, Baptist minister at Alanreed, officiated for the evening ceremony Dec. 30. Organist, Beverly Hackley accompanied John McPherson, vocalist, for the wedding selections of "Whither Thou Goest," and "Twelfth of Never."

The bride was escorted between honor pews marked with white bows and was given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal.

BRIDE

She wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin designed with a rounded neckline and puffed sleeves. Daisies with pearl centers outlined the bodice and cuffs. The bride carried out the something old tradition by wearing her great-grandmother's 92-year-old wedding ring, and a blue garter borrowed from her sister-in-law.

She wore a floor-length illusion Cathedral type veil edged in lace and carried a bouquet of stephanotis, carnations and red roses.

ATTENDANTS

Maid of honor, Donna Dougherty of Pampa, wore a floor-length red brocade princess style dress with a red velvet and net headpiece and carried a long stemmed red rose with streamers.

The bridegroom's brother, Randy Giesler of Pampa, assisted him as best man. DeWey Cummings of Canyon, the bride's brother, and Curtis Heard of Pampa, seated wedding guests.

Jeffrey Cummings of Amarillo, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer. A niece of the bridegroom, Susan Giesler, the flower girl, was dressed similarly to the maid of honor, wore a wristlet corsage and carried a basket of rose petals. Candlelighters were Sandra Cummings and Kenny Cummings, of Oklahoma City, cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a blue double knit two piece dress with black accessories and a red carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a brown dress with beige accessories.

For the wedding reception in the church parlor, red satin roses, red tapers and the bride's bouquet accented the serving table. The three-tiered cake was topped by the traditional miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Gail Giesler assisted at the punch service, as Mrs. Pat Cummings of Amarillo and Mrs. Jeannie Cummings of El Paso served cake. Kay Hagar of Pampa registered guests.

For the wedding trip to Amarillo, the bride traveled in a brushed velvet orchid suit and coat and wore the corsage from her bouquet.

The bride is a mid-term graduate of Pampa High School. The bridegroom, a 1969 graduate of PHS, is employed by Cabot Corp.

Feminists Prefer Fashionable Time

NEW YORK (NEA)—How does a banker get to be a watchmaker? Henry Federman, president of the Sheffield Corp., doesn't tell how, but he does say why.

Federman, a banker in his native Germany, came to the United States in 1940.

"I was looking around for a field to enter," he said, "and I saw there was a need for popular-priced watches. So I started my own company."

That's the banker's acumen. And it paid off.

What makes Sheffield different from other moderate-priced watches is that the company created the first "fashion watch." Done in colored enamel on non-tarnishable aluminum bases, these designs were the first to take watches out of the utilitarian category and make them fashion accessories.

"The price was right," Federman said, "so women bought them the way they bought costume jewelry—whenever they saw one they liked."

Getty Oil Pumps Stop Automatic Sprinklers

By FELIX W. RYALS
On Wednesday of this coming week, Jan. 13, the Texas Supreme Court will begin hearing oral arguments on the Jones versus Getty Oil Company case involving the use of air space above land.

When the case was originally heard, in District Court, Gaines County, the question was whether the mineral leasee found it reasonably necessary to install pumping units to a height that would interfere with Jones' automatic sprinkler system. The Gaines County jury found that it was not reasonably necessary for the oil company to place pumping units over their wells which would interfere with the use of the already in place, self propelled sprinkler system. However, the judge entered a "non obstante veredicto" (notwithstanding the verdict) decision. In other words, the jury found in favor of Jones, however, the judge overruled the jury's verdict and found for Getty Oil Company. Judgments not withstanding the verdict are generally entered where the judge does not feel that either the law or the facts will uphold the verdict at which the jury arrived.

Jones' attorneys (Clayton, Gresham and Fuibrigh, Lamesa) appealed the Judge's decision; and subsequently, the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals overruled the Judge's finding, stating that, "It is a fundamental rule that in considering whether a judgment non obstante veredicto was properly granted we must consider the evidence in the light most favorable to the jury finding, giving credit to all evidence supporting such finding and indulging every reasonable presumption in support of the verdict while disregarding all evidence and inferences to the contrary." In other words, the appeals court stated that there seems to be sufficient evidence for the jury to have arrived at its decision consequently, the trial Judge's decision notwithstanding the verdict was erroneously granted in that the evidence supporting the jury's verdict was competent.

There was no question that the standard oil and gas leases provide for the use of Jones' land as was "reasonably necessary" in order to produce oil and/or gas. The question which was decided was whether or not it was reasonably necessary for Getty to install pumps in a manner as to prevent Jones from using his Valley system. Another oil company's wells on the Jones land were placed in concrete cellars (pits), which had been constructed so that the top of the pumping unit extended less than seven feet above the ground, thus permitting Jones to continue to use his Valley system. Still another oil company equipped their wells on Jones' farm with hydraulic pumping units whose height does not interfere with the rotating irrigation system.

One judge of the Appeals Court dissented from the judgment entered by that court. He stated, "I have found no case where the leasees use of the vertical space over the well site has been limited or restricted, or any case where a leasee has been liable for damages for excessive use of such air space." He stated that Getty's operations were legitimate operations due to the fact that Getty held the dominant estate in the land.

After the decision by the Court of Civil Appeals, Getty applied for a writ of error to the Texas Supreme Court, for a hearing by that court. The Texas Supreme Court has granted the writ and has set January 13, 1971, as the date that it will hear oral arguments in this case.

By FOSTER WHALEY
"For many, many years the Department of Agriculture has used the years 1910-1914 as base years at 100 for purposes of statistical data. They publish two figures extremely important to farmers. One is what they call the index of prices received by farmers based on the years 1910-1914 as 100 per cent and, the parity index which is the prices paid by farmers for commodities and services including interest, taxes, and farm wage rates.

Recently I received a publication that has some very current data concerning these two figures published by the Department of Agriculture. The index prices received by farmers dropped from 284 points on December 15, 1969 to 265 December 15, 1970. The parity index, or again the prices paid by farmers, rose from 378 points on Dec. 15, 1969 to 396 on Dec. 15, 1970 or some 18 points. Thus, while the price of commodities farmers were selling declined 19 points, the price of the item he was buying rose 18 points or almost the same as the drop in prices. In this report this pretty well describes the dilemma in which the farming population is working in today. Many observers see no let up in this situation. In the same report I observed the prices of several products based on an average during the years 1947 through 1949.

It was amazing to see that a large number of basic commodities produced by farmers are bringing substantially less today than they were in the years 1947-1949 and I'll give you some examples: Wheat sold for $2.11 per bushel in the 1947-1949 period. On Dec. 15, 1970, this figure had dropped to $1.43. Corn brought a $1.71 per bushel during the 1947-1949 period and on Dec. 15, 1970, it had dropped to $1.43. Oats dropped from 94 cents per bushel to 79 cents per bushel during the same period. Barley dropped from $1.30 per bushel to $1.02. Grain sorghum dropped from $2.49 CWT to $2.02 CWT. Hogs dropped from $18 CWT in the 1947 and 1949 period to an average of $14.80 on December 15, 1970. Broilers dropped from 34 cents CWT in 1947-1949 to twelve cents — no this is not a misprint, broilers are only bringing 12 cents to the producer on Dec. 15, 1970.

About the only item in which a price rise was recorded from 1947-1949 is beef cattle. They rose from an average price of $18.20 per CWT to $25.10 per CWT. On Dec. 15, 1970. Can you name one other segment of the economy in the U.S. that has continued to operate under this set of conditions? I think it would be hard to do. I'm sure this is one of the reasons that I get an increasing stream of farm sale bills addressed to my office. Almost weekly we receive from two to a half a dozen sale bills of farm machinery sales as well as farm land over the entire Panhandle and South Plains. If the situation doesn't change, we see no let up in this situation. This may sound rather pessimistic but the facts speak for themselves."

NEW FARM PROGRAM
A requirement on set-aside or diverted acres might cause great concern to you if the regulation is not amended by sign-up time and I will quote this regulation that pertains to set-aside acres. "Set-aside or diverted acres must be cropland which has produced a crop for harvest other than wild hay in three preceding years." I interpret this to mean that any acres you might have used the past three years that were old, expired soil bank or CAP acres

J. C. Holbert Elected To Head American Angus Association

J.C. Holbert, a nationally known livestock educator, farmer and Angus cattle breeder from Bettendorf, Iowa, was elected president of the American Angus Association for 1971 at the group's recent annual meeting of delegates at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago. Kenneth Moore, of Roxbury, Kansas, an Angus breeder for more than 20 years was elected vice president.

One new director was elected to the board of directors for a three year term. He is Richard Bell of Osceola, Iowa. Two directors who had been filling unexpired terms were elected to a three-year term of office. They are Joe Meng, Bowling Green, Kentucky, who was filling the term of the late Robert Hicks, and Jesse M. Bontecou, who was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation last year of Carlo Paterno. Two other directors were elected to their second term. They are William Clark, Houston, Texas, and Walter H. Yarbrough, Grand View, Idaho.

There are many farming areas where sprinkler irrigation is the most efficient and effective method of irrigating crops. The efficiency of automatic sprinkler irrigation makes it an extremely important water conservation practice. Every means of conserving groundwater, by affording its most efficient use, should be the goal of every prudent farmer. Where conservation methods such as a sprinkler irrigation can be used to prevent waste of groundwater, these practices should be applauded, and should certainly not be hindered. Therefore, in the interest of water conservation, the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District no. 1 is preparing an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief in support of Jones to be submitted to the Texas Supreme Court.

By RICHARD GUGGISBERG January, 28; District Adult and JANA COLE, Asst. Agents Leaders-January 30.

Gray County 4-H Council met Saturday with President Joe Richardson presiding. A delegate from each club gave a report of their club's activities. Reports were also given on the 4-H Food Show and countywide Christmas party. A committee was set up for the Gray County Elimination contest. The stock show and possible new projects were discussed. The agents presented a program on the conformation of 4-H Council and the delegates responsibility to their club and to the council.

Events which will be coming up later this month are: Amarillo Fat Stock Show-January 22-27; Adult Leaders-January 26; Teen Leaders-

The regular meeting of the 4-H Horse and Pony Club came to order at 7:00 p.m. Saturday night, Dec. 19th at the Bailey Veterinary Clinic. The pledge and motto were given by Paula Holland and Jane Boyd gave the prayer. Steve Wilson brought the inspiration. Janet Smith gave a report on the County 4-H Christmas Party.

Dr. Bailey, D.V.M. presented a program on the conformation and care of the horse. He gave each family present a booklet "Managing your Horses Health." President Joe Richardson adjourned the meeting and everyone went to the Bailey's home for refreshments.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary, ARC...
The Red Cross Board will meet Jan. 12 at 7 a.m. in Coronado Inn according to our chairman, D.V. Biggers. All Board members are urged to be present at this first meeting of the new year.
New authorization cards were sent out to FA and Water Safety instructors this week. The first renewal cards were Harold A. Andres, James L. Dalrymple Jr., Aubrey L. Helms, Aubrey E. Pennington, Jimmie L. Miser, Laura Converse, J.D. Ray, Ray W. Fisher, and Jo Ann Welch. The Water Safety Instructors who received their renewal cards were: Mrs. Doris Adams, Betty Bailey, Lois Dittmeyer, Lillian Esson, Shirley Stafford, Mary Nell Phillips, Mary Ann Kelly, Jerry Davis, Helen June Reed, Martha Hilton, Miss Deborah McKinzie, Judy Fugate, Dietta Hills and Mrs. Wayne Jones.
Miss Mona Williams came to our office Tuesday afternoon to take her orientation on the Volunteer work of Red Cross Volunteers. These girls work in Highland General Hospital each Saturday morning and afternoon and Sunday afternoon. Mona will work with Belinda Miller on the second and fourth Saturday mornings from 9 to 11:30 a.m. we are happy to have Mona with us on this very important work.
We have compiled the work of our Hospital Volunteers, Mrs.

Lelia Clifford chairman, who work each week day Monday through Friday at Highland General Hospital and we find that they have given 1426 hours this past year. Should they be paid the minimum wage of $1.65 the community would have paid these women the amount of $2,352.90. Maybe you do not realize how valuable your services are to our community!

Please remember our storeroom for the Welfare Index will be located during the year of 1971 at 505 S. Henry with Mrs. Marie Boyd in charge of the storeroom. Should you have good used clothing that you would like to give the Index, please take it to the above address. Our used furniture should be taken to the Salvation Army where Captain Sullivan will use the furniture for families who have lost their belongings from house fires.

Mrs. Lynn Farley will begin a Standard First Aid Class in her school room in Miami Monday morning. Mrs. Farley is a First Aid Instructor for Red Cross.

Jerry D. Ray, FAI, began a Standard First Aid class in Canadian, Tuesday evening. Ten persons were present at the first meeting but others promised to attend the second meeting, Jan. 12. The classes are sponsored by the Red Cross of Canadian.
