Peking Invitation Called 'Political'

Christian Pilgrims, Jews Flood Holy Land For Easter, Passover

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Thousands of Jews prayed at the Wailing Wall Saturday for a modern day Jewish exodus from the Soviet Union while Christian pilgrims thronged the city for Easter. The eight-day Passover holiday celebrating the deliverance of the tribes of Israel from 210 years of Egyptian bondage in 1300 B.C. took on added significance this year with the arrival of hundreds of Soviet Jews and reports of thousands more waiting to come. Israelis and visitors crowded through the gates of the old walled city at sunup to make their way over the ancient cobblestones past Arab hawkers and hole-in-the-wall shops ablaze with rainbow-colored wares. They proceeded to the Wailing Wall, the western wall of the Temple of Solomon the Romans destroyed in 70 A.D. and Judaism's holiest shrine. The Israelis captured it from Jordan in the 1967 Middle East War and made it the symbol of Jewish determination to hold what to them has always been the promised land. An estimated 50,000 tourists, most of them Jewish, flooded the holy land as Passover and Easter coincided. Friday, an estimated 2,000 Christian pilgrims wearing the black of mourning snuffed in

U.S. Group Arrives In Red China

HONG KONG (UPI)—The U.S. table tennis team entered Communist China by train Saturday for a week-long series of matches, but the first American penetration of the Bamboo Curtain drew sharp criticism from the government of Nationalist China. In Taipei, the nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek called the Communist invitation to the Americans a "political plot" to further infiltrate into the free world. The American group was made up of 15 persons, seven of them players, their coach, five officials and two wives. It was the first American group to enter mainland China under such circumstances since party Chairman Mao Tse-tung established his Communist regime there in 1949 and forced Chiang's government to the island of Formosa. Four newsmen representing the National Broadcasting Co. (NBC), Life magazine and the Associated Press received entry visas to Communist China to cover the Americans' activities there. They will follow the team into China Sunday. The newsmen receiving entry visas were Jack Reynolds and John Rich of NBC, John Roderick of Associated Press, and John Saar of Life magazine. All but Saar, who is British, are American citizens. In Washington, a U.S. State Department official said he could foresee no difficulties in arranging for a visit by a Communist Chinese delegation to the United States if Peking agrees to the idea. The Red Chinese extended the invitation to the Americans last Wednesday, the final day of the world table tennis championships in Nagoya, Japan. The Communist Chinese team, competing for the first time since 1965, won the team championship and four of the seven division titles. The United States finished 24th in team standings. The American team delegation, which flew to this British colony Friday from Japan, was greeted by Communist Chinese officials Saturday at the Shumchun border station where they boarded a train for Canton, 50 miles northwest of here. The United States table tennis team arrived in the capital of the People's Republic of China by plane Saturday night for a weeklong series of matches with top players of this country's favorite sport. Graham B. Steenhoven of Detroit, Mich., president of the U.S. Table Tennis Association, led the delegation of 15 Americans off the plane when landed at 10 p.m. at the Peking Airport. The visit of the Americans to China was seen in this capital as the first step toward what could be the beginning of Sino-American rapport on a people-to-people basis. They are the first U.S. citizens to visit China with passports not banning travel to this country since three Americans arrived here with unrestricted passports in 1970. The American visit, the first by invitation of the Communist Chinese and approved by the United States government, drew sharp criticism earlier Saturday from Nationalist China.

Pampans Marking Resurrection With Traditional Observances

By ALETHA DAVIS
The Easter season marks the most holy of Christian observances around the world, marking the end of his Lenten season and announcing the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, three days after crucifixion on the cross at Calvary. Pampa area residents are marking the holy season with special observances and family reunions with college students and visiting relatives. With the weather predicted as "fair and windy" probably not many will venture out for the traditional "Easter Parade" which has always carried more importance to neighbors on the east coast than in the Panhandle. However, most families have planned a day of good following church services this morning. Youngsters are excited about the traditional visit of the "Easter Bunny," and excited at prospects of egg hunts this afternoon. Most area churches are conducting special services. Lamar Full Gospel Church was host for several Gospel singing groups last night before a special Easter service today at 11 a.m., titled, "The Resurrection, the Greatest Miracle of the Bible." Special Easter messages are scheduled for the First Baptist Church this morning, featuring the Sanctuary Choir. Two special Easter observances are scheduled at First United Methodist. One service is at 8:45 a.m. and another at 11 a.m. under direction of Rev. DeWitt Seago and featuring the Sanctuary Choir. Other special services will be conducted at First Christian, Zion Lutheran, First Church of the Nazarene, Church of God, Fellowship Baptist, First Presbyterian, Central Baptist and Bethel Assembly. Record attendances are expected in all churches, according to a pastor. Long holiday weekends are being conducted by most schools, permitting families to visit together through Easter. Classes in Pampa schools will be dismissed until Wednesday, and classes in Lefors will reconvene Tuesday. City and county offices will open tomorrow on a regular schedule as will banks and the post office. "Easter is one of the few holidays not changed by legislation," said one postal employe, "so Monday is another work day."

City Crisis Information Service Goes Into Operation Wednesday

Suicide Prevention-Crisis Information service, product of nearly a year of training and research in Pampa will go into operation here Wednesday at 7 p.m. The "hotline" number is 665-5051. The twenty-four-hour telephone service has been designed to address three areas of concern, according to the advisory board chairman, Don Losher. Number one is suicide prevention; an effort to provide conversations with trained volunteers in an anonymous relationship, to communicate concern and assistance to those experiencing emotional depression. Number two is drug abuse assistance and drug information; to provide anonymous assistance in emergencies related to drug abuse, and a source of accurate information concerning drug identification. Third is mental health services in the Panhandle information and referral services to various kinds of welfare institutions and agencies in Pampa and Amarillo. Special attention has been given to information concerning the services of the Amarillo Mental Health Association. Conversations with SP-CI volunteers are kept in strictest confidence. The volunteers view themselves not as lawyers, doctors or law enforcement agents, but people concerned about human problems, equipped and trained to refer problems to those who can help work out lasting and satisfying solutions. Each volunteer has completed 40 hours of instruction at Amarillo Psychiatric Pavilion, under the supervision of the Suicide Prevention - Crisis Information Service of Amarillo, and has been selected on the basis of emotional maturity and willingness to submit to the goals of discipline of this kind of program. SPCI is a non-profit privately-funded organization. Further information concerning the program goals and needs may be obtained by writing SP-CI, PO Box 2232, Pampa, Tex., 79065.

Honolulu Policemen Hunting For Six Escaped Prisoners

HONOLULU (UPI)—Two hundred policemen searched Oahu Saturday for six "extremely dangerous" men—five of them convicted or accused of seven murders in all—who escaped jail at gunpoint. Police Chief Francis Keala, directing the manhunt across the island, said the fugitives were armed with at least two .45 caliber automatics and a .38 caliber revolver smuggled to them in Halawa Jail. One of the escapers was William K. "Willie" Medeiros, 25, a suspect in Honolulu's "chain-reaction" murder witness slayings last year. The prisoners used bed sheets to bind six jail guards who were left in locked cells in a maximum security block. A police lieutenant was robbed of $26. The escape operation began when William C. Brown Jr., 21, who was appealing a 40-year sentence for armed robbery and first degree larceny, summoned a guard to his cell lieutenant to open the electricity with a gun.

500 Women Hold Anti-War Rally In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—About 500 women, including a uniformed Navy Wave lieutenant, chanted antiwar and Women's Liberation slogans in a two-hour demonstration on the steps of the Pentagon Saturday and then departed peacefully. They heard speakers denounce President Nixon and members of his Cabinet as warmongers, sexists and racists. Two Viet Cong flags tied to helium-filled balloons were floated over the side of the Pentagon where Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's office is situated. The only top official in the building during the demonstration was Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor, and he remained in his office out of sight. About 50 Pentagon policemen barred the doors of the main entrance during the rally. There were no arrests. The only disturbance occurred halfway through the rally when a man wearing a black beret and carrying an Easter basket tossed eggs with a hammer and sickle painted on them in red into the middle of the crowd. Women scattered, but then the man, who refused to identify himself, departed.

Pope Leads Catholics In Celebrating Easter

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI led the world's 600 million Roman Catholics Saturday night in celebrating the Resurrection of Jesus in one of the most moving and dramatic ceremonies of the liturgical year. Although Christians traditionally celebrate the Resurrection after midnight, the ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica is held Saturday night so the Pope can rest before his busy Easter Sunday schedule. For sheer splendor, there are few occasions in Rome as beautiful as the Resurrection ceremony. The Pope went to the main door of the basilica to bless a flame which an usher carried around the nave. The congregation lit candles from the taper, spreading a sea of flickering lights through the vast darkened church. The Pope, carrying a large candle into which he had inserted five grains of incense to commemorate Jesus' wounds, led a long procession of prelates down the main aisle to the altar. The procession stopped three times while Cardinal Pelele Felici proclaimed loudly: "Lumen Christi" (Light of Christ). "Thanks be to God," the congregation replied. Then, as the Pope reached the altar, lights of the basilica blazed up to symbolize Jesus' return to life. The Pope, dressed in white from mitre to slippers, conducted the ceremony from the main altar. At the culmination of the service, the Pope celebrated Mass for the first time since Thursday. Mass is not said during the period which represents the time between the Crucifixion and the Resurrection. Priests fanned throughout the basilica to carry bread consecrated by the Pope to communicants. As the crowd left the basilica, the bells of Rome's churches pealed a message of celebration.

Woman Kills Own Children, Wounds Self

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI)—A 34-year-old housewife who allegedly shot and killed three of her five children and then put a bullet in her own head was in critical condition Saturday in Rochester General Hospital. Mrs. Lois Townsend of rural Bennington, N.Y., was transferred to Rochester Saturday from Genesee Memorial Hospital in Batavia, N.Y., where her airline-mechanic husband, Roger, is being treated for shock. A spokesman at Rochester General said surgeons have not yet decided whether it is advisable to try to remove the .22-caliber bullet from Mrs. Townsend's head. State Police said they have been unable so far to determine the motive for the shooting Friday of Mrs. Townsend's children, Robin, 7, Julie, 3, and Craig, 2.

Four Major Items On Council Agenda

AT TUESDAY MEETING
Appointment of three persons to Pampa's Tax Equalization Board will be one of four major items on the agenda for Tuesday morning's meeting of the City Commission. City Manager Mack Wofford said Saturday. Members of last year's equalization board were George Scott, chairman; Quentin Williams and Calvin Whatley. One of the first problems the new board will bump into will be a letter from the Downtown Business Association recommending that downtown property values be reduced 50 per cent for tax purposes. The commission will be presented Tuesday with a plan for disaster warning sirens and a request that Gray County and the Pampa Independent School District participate in financing the system. Wofford said the commission will be given location maps and types of warning equipment available. Another item that will affect every householder in Pampa will be introduction of an ordinance requiring every home to have container racks for trash and garbage receptacles. Wofford said the city has been having so much trouble with a litter problem that it was decided the racks would prevent cans from blowing over and scattering trash through the alleys. The commission also is expected to take action on fire protection contracts with Gray and Roberts Counties and the City of Lefors. Last item on the Tuesday agenda will be the swearing-in of the mayor and commissioners elected at last Tuesday's municipal election. Three incumbents will be sworn in. They are Mayor Milo Carlson, Ward 1 commissioner George B. Cree Jr. and Ward 3 commissioner Leo Braswell. A new member on the commission will be R.D. Wilkerson, who will fill an unexpired one-year term as commissioner in Ward 2.

Mrs. Eisenhower, Nixons Observe Easter Together

THURMONT, Md. (UPI)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower joined President Nixon and his family for a rare family reunion Saturday, and the group made tentative plans to attend church together on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Eisenhower, wearing a lavender coat and veil, was driven to the presidential mountain retreat at Camp David from her farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., about 25 miles away, Saturday afternoon.

A few moments after her arrival, Nixon's elder daughter, Tricia, reached the camp with her fiancé, Edward Finch Cox, after a motor trip from Washington.

President and Mrs. Nixon and their younger daughter, Julie, and her husband, Navy Ensign David Eisenhower arrived by helicopter Friday from Virginia Beach, Va., where David is temporarily stationed. He is Mrs. Eisenhower's grandson.

8-Cent Postage Effective May 15

Compared to other costs the 8-cent stamp, which goes on sale May 11 for first class letters, will still be one of the best buys for the money anywhere in the world, Postmaster Carl V. English said today.

When effective May 15 the new rate will mean first class stamp prices have increased by 166 per cent since 1932. During the same 39 year period, wholesale prices have increased by 230 per cent and the average day of manufacturing workers has gone up by 670 per cent according to English.

"Back in 1932," the postmaster recalled, "nobody complained about the cost of mailing a first class letter, at 3 cents. Yet, if postal rates had risen at the same rate as retail prices since 1932, it would cost 30 cents today to send a first class letter."

The first class postage in the United States becomes substantially lower than that of virtually all foreign countries when the proposed stamp rate is related to average hourly earnings or the ability to pay, English said.

"Despite greater potential traveling distances of letters mailed in the United States (thus, greater transportation expense), our present letter rate is equal to or less than that of many smaller countries," he added.

The impact of the proposed 8-cent increase in first class postage on the family or individual in Pampa will be minimal, he pointed out.

To the individual who mails the letter a day, the increase will amount to $7.30 a year, but to the person who mails only one letter a week, it will mean only $1.04 a year in increased postage.

POT GRABBED

HOUSTON (UPI) — Narcotics agents confiscated 33 pounds of smuggled marijuana in brick form and arrested two teenagers and a 22-year-old man Friday. James Corey, 17, Maurice Josephson, 19, and Anthony King Jr., 22, were charged with possession of marijuana. Police said the weed was smuggled into the United States from Mexico through McAllen.

Students in the program will learn techniques in resuscitation, cardiac massage, splinting of fractures, and other medical emergencies. Aid to snake and spider bite victims, handling of emotionally disturbed patients, emergency childbirth and traffic control will also be covered.

Two other cars were in collision as a result of the mishap, according to police reports. Southbound vehicles at the intersection operated by Rosco C. Travis, 2132 N. Dwight, and Conley James Otis, 965 Varton Dr., were also in collision when Travis applied his brakes to prevent collision with the motorcycle car mishap. The car driven by Otis collided with the rear of the Travis car. No citations were issued in this collision, and no injuries resulted.

A house trailer fire killed Della Mae Gauble, 63, and Edwin Schroeder, 70, Friday. Authorities said Schroeder put out a fire in a stuffed chair before going to bed, but it apparently started up again and caused the fire.

Part of the ease of the heat and the throngs was furnished by the "Children of God," a religious group of 150 youths who provide "free food, free music and free love" for those interested in such things. Most were "I call it a miracle the way God provides," said David, a member of the group. He gestured to a tent filled with oranges, grapefruit and canned goods.

Outside, a bus which served as a distribution point for grapefruit, rice and honey and baked a long line waited for the free food.

A meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be conducted at 6 p.m. Thursday at Furr's.

The Red Cross prenatal class begins Tuesday, April 13 at 7 p.m. in the OB classroom at Highland General Hospital with Mrs. Aline Winegeart, RN, instructing. All expecting parents are invited to attend.

John Duggan, freshman music major at Texas Tech University was named to the Dean's honor list recently. He is a 1970 graduate of Pampa High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Duggan of 1601 Hamilton.

Emergency Care Course Scheduled For April 21-28

A practical course on emergency care and transportation of the sick and injured is scheduled April 21, 22 and 23 and April 26, 27 and 28 in the Cabot Auditorium of the Hughes Building, Kingsmill and Somerville, here in Pampa.

Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. April 21. Sessions will run from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Invited to attend the six-night course of lectures and demonstrations are ambulance attendants, policemen, firemen, safety engineers, rescue squads, nurses, public health officials, civil defense officials, and other officials and private citizens interested in emergency care.

The course is offered free of charge and is expected to attract attendance from a 75-mile area around Pampa. The State Department of Health and the Top O' Texas County Medical Society are co-sponsoring the program.

The death rate from accidental injuries can be reduced by improved training of emergency personnel, according to program sponsors.

A fast ride to the hospital is no substitute for appropriate attention to the victim at the scene of the emergency, according to Dr. Joe Donaldson, Pampa physician who is program chairman for the training school.

Emergency care personnel must be able to make a quick survey, determine medical priority, and take the necessary life-saving measures, Dr. Donaldson said. The urgency of this need is expressed all across the country, and physicians and other medical personnel from throughout Texas are giving their time to provide the necessary knowledge to erase the senseless statistics of dead and disabled which appear needlessly each year.

Students in the program will learn techniques in resuscitation, cardiac massage, splinting of fractures, and other medical emergencies. Aid to snake and spider bite victims, handling of emotionally disturbed patients, emergency childbirth and traffic control will also be covered.

Supporters of this bill feel that the State and Federal government should join forces in bringing about educational opportunities for all citizens.

"Education is one of my foremost concerns," said Cates. "It is through improved educational programs that our state and nation will continue to grow and become even greater than it already is."

Cates, "that each and every detail of this and other bills must be studied carefully so that all legislation passed will be in the best interest of the people I represent and of this and of this great state of Texas."

Short's proposal in H.B. 1044 is based on the idea that all property of the state of Texas is subject to equal and uniform taxation.

In the education committee, H.B. 1024 deals with language barriers in learning and proposes a bilingual program for Texas schools. Under a bilingual program, courses would be taught in both English and Spanish.

Resident Injured In Motorcycle-Car Wreck Released

Larry Dean Starbuck, 15, 1620 N. Banks was treated for back injuries and released from Highland General Hospital following a motorcycle-car accident which occurred near the intersection of Foster and Hobart Friday forenoon.

Young Starbuck was operating a motorcycle which was in collision with an automobile driven by Willie R. Tackett, 921 S. Wells. Tackett was cited by police for failing to yield right of way following the collision of the northbound vehicles.

Two other cars were in collision as a result of the mishap, according to police reports. Southbound vehicles at the intersection operated by Rosco C. Travis, 2132 N. Some 40,000 Youths Spend Easter Holidays On Beach

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Tex. (UPI) — The warning shout is "Nark, Nark, Nark."

Let a short-haired tourist or a conservatively dressed newsmen stroll through this city of tents and mini-buses and heads turn.

"K-9 in the campground," sends sun-baked surfers and bikini-clad youths scurrying to check the approaching strangers to decide if that final puff on a homerolled cigarette is worth the time.

Surfboards, beach towels and the "Children of God" indicated Saturday this narrow resort beach on the southern tip of Texas had become "the place" for 40,000 young persons to enjoy Easter.

The main attraction was the 8th Annual Surfing Contest sponsored by the Texas Gulf Coast Surfers Association. But when the waves subside everyone seemed just as happy to swig beer and wine and watch members of the opposite sex.

"This is the only place you could have so many people and so few frascos," said Mrs. Cathryn Williamson of BJ's Surf Co., of Houston.

House Expected To Debate Bill Against Drunk Driving

AUSTIN (UPI)—House Speaker Gus Mutscher plans to put the full weight of his office behind a bill up for debate this week to require a motorist suspected of drunk driving to submit to a drunk test.

The proposed law, by Rep. Don Cavness, D-Austin, is expected to be on the House calendar for floor debate when lawmakers return from the Easter recess Tuesday.

Cavness' bill, which toughens the present implied consent law, would declare a person legally drunk if a test shows as much as 0.10 per cent alcohol in his system.

The act would provide for tests by "chemical analysis of the blood, breath or urine or any other bodily substance."

OK!... you want to be Cool
Get your money's worth electric air conditioning
OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY
Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.
LOW OPERATING COST
Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low...no extra installation costs, either.
HIGH ALTITUDE—NO PROBLEM
Despite our high altitude, electric air conditioning keeps on doing its job because the electric cooling method is completely sealed against the effects of altitude changes.
CHOICE OF BRANDS
There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.
CHOICE OF SIZES
Electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.
COMPLETE SERVICE
The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

New Books At The Library

THE AMERICAN - Leslie Waller; tale of a prominent banking tycoon whose casual diplomatic jaunt turns into a nightmare of foreign espionage and international economic crises.

SO LONG AS YOU'RE HEALTHY - Harry Golden; wit, humor and salty observations of the American and world scene.

MAIGRET'S BOYHOOD - Georges Simeon; a suspense story of remarkable subtlety and psychological finesse.

CLEAR FOR ACTION - Neil B. Gerson; a biographical novel about David Farragut, America's greatest Naval hero since John Paul Jones.

WITH GUIDONS FLYING - Charles N. Heckelmann; twelve exciting tales of the U.S. Cavalry on the Western frontier, written by members of Western Writers.

THE TAURUS TRIP - Thomas B. Dewey; what had

A GUEST OF HONOR - Nadine Gordimer; the former colonial administrator of a central African nation, returns after the country has gained its independence, and is soon forced to take a stand against the growing greed and expiation of her new leaders.

HAROLD WAS MY KING - Hilda Lewis; the engaging story of a privileged squire living in England at the time of Norman Conquest - a young man confronting the vicissitudes of a revolutionary era.

EXECUTION STAY GIVEN - HOUSTON (UPI) - Condemned prisoner Eddie Lee Grant, who was scheduled to die in the electric chair Thursday for murder, has been given a stay until June 8. U. S. District Judge Allen Hanney stayed the execution pending a ruling by the U. S. Supreme Court on the constitutionality of capital punishment. Grant, convicted of shooting to death Charles Watson in a cafe, is one of 43 prisoners on death row at the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

Income Tax Q & A

EDITORS NOTE: - This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the News as a public service to taxpayers.

Q - Do I have to report interest from U.S. Savings Bonds on my tax return?

A - Yes. Interest earned on savings Bonds is taxable and must be reported. However, you have the option of reporting the interest each year as the redemption value increases or all at once when the bonds are redeemed, or mature, whichever is earlier. If you select the yearly method of reporting, you must continue it even for all future bond purchases.

Q - Because I am suffering from a deficiency disease, my doctor prescribed vitamins for me. Is the cost of the vitamins deductible on my tax return?

A - Yes. Items such as vitamins and iron supplements prescribed or recommended by your doctor are deductible as medicines and drugs. Then, to the extent that medicine and drug expenses exceed one percent of your adjusted gross income, they may be included with your other medical expenses.

Q - My son works during the day but is taking college courses at night. May I still claim him as a dependent regardless of how much income he had?

A - No, you may not claim him as a dependent if he had income of $625 or more and was 19 years of age or over at year-end. If your child was a full-time student during any part of each of five months of year, you may claim him as a dependent regardless of age or income provided you meet all the other dependency tests.

Q - I am married and filing a joint return. My wife had no income last year. Does she still have to sign the return?

A - Yes. A joint return must be signed by husband and wife even though only one had income.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS
PAMPA, TEXAS 53rd Year
Sunday, April 11, 1971

JEANE DIXON
Your Horoscope

SUNDAY, APRIL 11
YOUR BIRTHDAY SUNDAY: A moderately good year begins of normal growth. Several decisions have to be made during the first two months or so. In what may seem an unimportant sequence, you once again this balance-catching act. Your daily life should settle to a steady pattern. Sunday's ratings are seldom called upon to manage heavy responsibilities, but manage those very well.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Safety first, caution and sincere good manners save the Sunday peace for all.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You are likely to have considerable energy and perhaps tension Sunday. Get an early start.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Whatever direction you take may bring you into an exciting new world. The simplest approach is best.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Even where it isn't asked, you could be valuable. Just be brief and to the point.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 21): Bright and early with a big smile, do the diplomatic, tactful thing Sunday.

VIRGO (Aug. 22-Sept. 21): Let others take up the job of management. Go along for the ride if one is offered, and if not, refresh your mind with prayer and meditation. There is knowledge to be gained, and tomorrow to be used.

LIBRA (Sept. 22-Oct. 21): Take your accustomed share in the Sunday activities. Make the rounds among your friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22-Nov. 21): You can pursue elusive knowledge that has intrigued you for some time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Impulse guides your actions today more than plans or logic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): If you can distinguish intuition from wishful thinking, you know what to do and when to begin.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Enough questions and problems already exist without your bringing up others.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Escape is the thing to do, symbolically, you are physically. Visit places strange to you and see people you haven't met before.

MONDAY, APRIL 12
YOUR BIRTHDAY MONDAY: It is all up to you and what you want to do this year. You can achieve better results in activities that are done alone or with very little direct collaboration. Your general attitude toward life tends to become more philosophical.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Begin your week with a demand for something new; settle pending deals or write them off and get moving in a fresh direction.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): This is an excellent day for putting two and two together for later reference, but not for spreading the word.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Truth is far stronger than lies.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Events and conditions now show whether you are ready to move with the times. Progress and fulfillment are promised according to what you've been doing about your potential and skills.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 21): An impression of personal pride, arrogance is definitely too easily projected, particularly around the house. Get busy; there is no excuse for slack work.

VIRGO (Aug. 22-Sept. 21): Rest assured that you are not overlooking anything concerning money today. You lose nothing by staying out of a complicated transaction.

LIBRA (Sept. 22-Oct. 21): Personal relationships are an area of stress at present, perhaps, favorably, according to what you make of them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22-Nov. 21): Be sure you are allowing people enough freedom to be themselves, that you are not thinking mainly of what they can do for you shortly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Nearly every bargain has a flaw — if you can find it and decide how you can work it to your good. Get busy; there is no excuse for slack work.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Concentrate on prelude meetings and simple statements now, so that others are more likely to hear you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Stay in touch and discussion even where you find it rather irritating going. Your persistence and tact bring better results later in the day.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Step right up and ask for that raise you've earned, or for any special deal that is being handed.

MAINE OK'S AMENDMENT
WASHINGTON (UPI)
Maine has become the 17th state to ratify a proposed constitutional Amendment to lower the voting age to 18 in all elections.

The action by the Maine legislature Friday brought the drive for ratification to near the halfway point. The proposal must be approved by 38 states before it becomes the 26th Amendment to the Constitution.

LITERARY ROBIN HOOD
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A young man charged with stealing 450 books from public libraries insists he's a literary Robin Hood who "gave 'em away to friends or left them where people would find them."

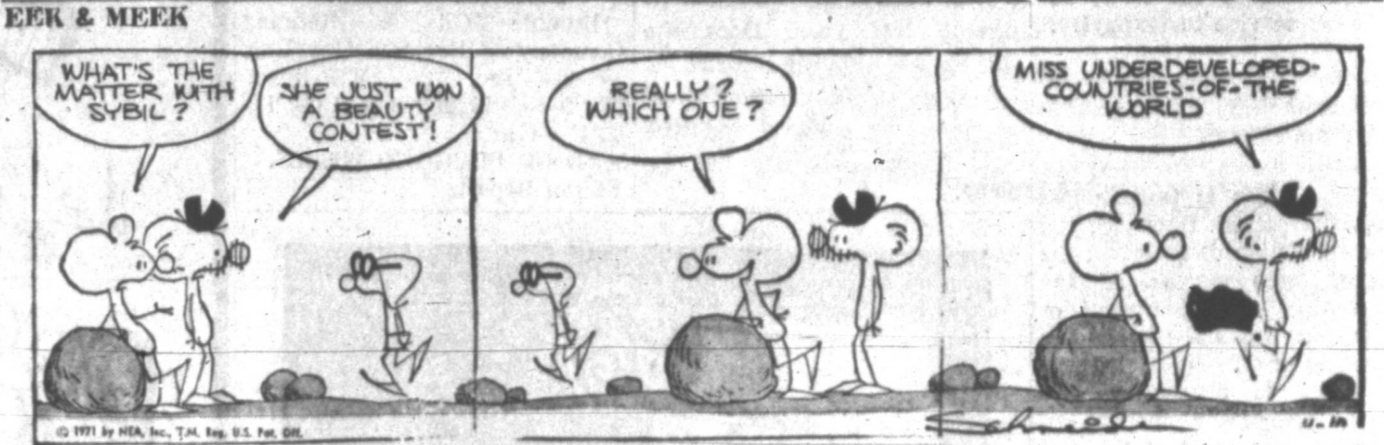

But police burglary inspectors said Friday that Kurt Koehke, 20, who checked the books out of the library under 13 different names, sold at least 20 of them.

BENEVOLENT KIDNAPERS
BANGKOK (UPI)—Sa-Ngob Vareevichanont, 55, owner of a fish sauce factory, rewarded each of five men he said kidnaped him with $5 Friday "for treating me so well" in captivity.

Sa-Ngob smiled as he identified the suspects at the police station after their capture. He said the kidnapers had provided him with good food and even gave him a massage before he was freed.

PHAN RANG, Vietnam—Sgt. Robert L. Jones, who collected $37,200 to help a brother and sister in Texas who are suffering from a rare kidney ailment.

"It spread like wildfire and wasn't just limited to American either. The Aussies from the Royal Australian Air Force Number Two Squadron and Vietnamese and American civilian workers joined in."

Youth Center Wrapup & Schedule

MEMBERSHIPS — Our method of operation financial wise is through a membership plan. The Center is not tax supported in any way and must sustain its own operation by means of a charge for membership and use of the facilities. The cost for memberships though are so economical that everyone can afford them.

The Center offers two types of membership for those interested, the limited and unlimited. The limited membership is for those who like to play in the gym, swim, or use the recreation hall, but does not want to use the health facilities. This membership is $5 for six months or $8 per year for an individual. For a family the cost is $12 for six months or $20 per year.

The unlimited membership gives you the same privileges as the limited, but in addition allows you full use of the new health facility. The health facility for an individual is $65 for six months or $118 per year. For a husband-wife combination the cost is only $90 for six months or $160 per year.

VOLLEYBALL LEAGUES — The second week of competition in the men's and the mixed volleyball leagues were held this week. Final league tabulation finds in the men's league First National Bank, First Baptist Church, Pampa News, Pampa Glass and Paint and Bell Pontiac. In the mixed league we have Motor Electric and Equip. Company, Carlson and Craddock Const. Co., First National Bank and Sharp's Motor Cycle Sales.

Results this week found 1st Baptist over 1st Nat. 12-15, 15-11 and 7-0; Pampa News tipping Pampa Glass & Paint 15-12 and 15-8. In the mixed league Carlson and Craddock bumped 1st Nat. 15-6 and 15-10 while Sharp's Motorcycle Sales run over Electric Motor & Equip. 7-0 and 11-1.

CALICO CAPERS SQUARE DANCE — There is a dance schedule for adults, too, at the Center, but this is in the form of square dancing. The Calico Capers Square Dance Club uses the Center as their home and they meet each Sat. night except 5th Sat. nights. If you are interested in this activity, come out and visit and get acquainted.

SWIM LESSONS — The final swim lessons for April and May are listed below. These will be the only lessons given until the summer months when school is out. Parents should check this list and enroll as soon as possible. There are still vacancies in these classes, but they are filling up fast. Remember that we do limit the number that will be permitted in each class.

Classes will meet on Monday,

Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates with the classes lasting one hour. We are closed on Tuesday during the school year. All classes will be taught by Ruth Carter, our resident water safety instructor. Enrollment is free to Center members and $4 for non-members.

Mutscher Names Cates To Help In Artist Selection

AUSTIN — SP — Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher Saturday named State Representative Phil Cates of Lefors and Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth to the committee to select a Texas State Artist.

The committee, established by Senate Concurrent Resolution 18, consists of two House members selected by the Speaker, two Senators selected by the Lieutenant Governor and a fifth member designated by the Governor.

The Committee will appoint an artist to serve as Texas State Artist for a year beginning May 1, 1971. New artists will be selected for succeeding years.

The resolution states the artist will be chosen "for exceptional ability in portraying the beauty of the State of Texas or some facet of Texas history or culture."

"Representatives Shannon and Cates will play a major role in the selection of a Texan to be designated as our State Artist," Mutscher said. "Both of these men have extensive knowledge and awareness of our artistic heritage — particularly that which is unique to our state. These factors lend authority to establishment of another great Texas custom — naming a Texas State Artist."

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL, Executive Secretary ARC

The Veterans Affairs Commission will hold a Spring Service Officers Clinic at the American Legion Post No. 148 in Lubbock on the April 22nd and 23rd. We are invited to attend these meetings or to send someone from the Red Cross. So many people do not know that the Red Cross is set up to take care of Veteran work and they are Service Officers for the Red Cross the same as the county officer is for the Legion and Veteran of Foreign Wars. The Red Cross has a Field Director at the Veterans Administration office in Waco who assist us with all of our Veteran work.

Ralph Carpenter, Field Representative for Red Cross from Ft. Worth has been in our chapter. Mrs. Shotwell and Mr. Carpenter visited the Shamrock Chapter, The Wheeler Co. Chapter and the Roberts County Chapter during his visit. Plans are being made for a chapter counselling meeting during the summer months.

The Red Cross Board will meet Tuesday morning at the Coronado Inn with D.V. Bigger chapter chairman presiding. All board members are urged to be present. Time - 7 a.m. Reports from standing committees will be made.

Mrs. Gerald Marlar, Water Safety Instructor Trainer has completed her WSI class with the following presented WSI card and patches: Cathy Collingsworth, Mrs. S.P. Hall, Paula Homer, A-Gwyn Jones, Ronny Gene Joett, Danny R. Lemke, Holly Lewis, Jeannine Maness, Susie Stowers. Gallya

A Housewife's Letter To Ex-President LBJ

AUSTIN (UPI) — When a Virginia housewife wrote Lyndon B. Johnson of her defection from the Democratic party, she probably had little thought her one-page letter would occupy a portion of the former president's library.

But Mrs. Margie Cousins' letter—along with ones from Nikita Khrushchev, Ho Chi Minh and 31 million other documents—will be open to public inspection May 22.

"Dear Mr. President," the Richmond, Va., housewife wrote back in February, 1967.

"This is to inform you that as years, since birth, I too, have been a staunch member of that illustrious party. No longer.

"My baby-sitter didn't show of today I am no longer a Democrat. My father was a Democrat, my grandfather and his father before him for heaven knows how far back. For 23 up, my husband's roofing business has gone to pot, the baby is teething, and I can't save $25 to take a writing course with. The pipe under the bathtub is broken, the motor in the truck blew up, no one wants a light typist with no experience and three kids and we don't have enough money to file bankruptcy with.

"You think you've got problems with (Sen. William) Fulbright and a measly war? You should meet my mother-in-law. I know it's risky, counting on the Republicans to change my luck but I'm desperate enough to try anything. Sorry to ditch you at a time like this, but I'm sure you understand. Perhaps a few Republicans had lousy enough luck to change parties in hopes of breaking the jinx.

"Thanks for the shoulder. Maybe I could listen to your problems sometime."

Nixon's Intention To Review Case Of Lt. Calley Supported By Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The military judge at the court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. supports President Nixon's intention to review and make the final decision in the case of the convicted mass killer.

In an interview Thursday with Patrick J. Sloyan of Hearts Headline Service, Col. Reid W. Kennedy said that as commander-in-chief of the military Nixon is part of the review system.

"That's the President's right," Kennedy said.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and some other administration critics have contended that the White House announcement that Nixon would make the final determination in the Calley case was politically motivated.

According to Kennedy, there was nothing improper in Nixon's actions.

"First of all, I agreed with freeing Calley from the stockade during the appeal process," Kennedy said. "I would have recommended the move to the commanding general at Ft. Benning."

Nixon's first intercession in the case was freeing Calley from the stockade. This was followed a short time later by the White House announcement of a presidential review of the case and a final determination.

"I see nothing wrong with saying that," Kennedy said. "After all, he is the commander-in-chief of the military and he is part of the review system."

Kennedy also was critical of Capt. Aubrey Daniel III, the prosecutor at the lengthy court-martial that found Calley guilty of premeditated murder and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

"The trouble with Daniel," Kennedy told Sloyan, "is that he's a purist. He's a very intelligent young man. But he only sees good and evil. As you get a little older you realize that most people are in between the two extremes."

State Officials OK Grant For Legal Services Program

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas officials announced approval of a $278,795 federal grant for a legal services program in Dallas.

George P. Taylor, director of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity under Gov. Preston Smith, said the funds will finance the community action program through Feb. 28, 1972.

Attorneys in the program will represent poor people who cannot afford to hire lawyers.

Taylor also announced approval of grants of:

- $27,770 to the Community Council of Bee County in Beeville.
- $153,217 to Central Texas Opportunities, Inc. in Coleman for head start programs.
- $82,398 to Bowie County Economic Advancement Corporation in Texarkana for a summer head start program.
- $45,454 to Fredericksburg Child Development Agency for a head start program.
- $44,640 to Community Action Council of Floyd, Crosby, Dickens and Kent counties in Crosbyton for neighborhood service systems.
- $26,334 to Community Council of Guadalupe County Inc. in Seguin for a summer head start program.
- $36,641 to Cameron County Legal Aid Society, Inc. in Brownsville for a legal services program.
- $30,614 to North Texas Community Action corporation in Gainesville for a summer head start program.
- $14,339 to Belton public schools for a summer head start program.
- $7,214 to Economic Opportunities Development Corporation of Frio, LaSalle and McMullen counties in Cotulla for head start programs.

54,284 Americans Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department said 54,284 American deaths during the week ended Saturday pushed the Vietnam death toll past the 54,246 figure recorded in Korea in the 3 1/2 years ended in July, 1953. The totals include deaths from accidents and other noncombat causes.

A total of 498,332 Americans died on the Union and Confederate sides in the Civil War, the highest toll of any U.S. war. World War II ranks second, with 407,316 American deaths, and World War I is third, with a total of 116,708 dead.

Actual battle deaths in Vietnam totaled 44,876 at the end of last week, including fatally wounded Americans. The Korean toll of 39,629 combat fatalities does not include those who died later of wounds.

LADY GODIVA

TWYFORD, England (UPI)—Twylford police constables said Friday they are looking for a young blonde who has been haunting motorists with a Lady Godiva-like approach.

One motorist reported that the girl walked out of the bushes toward him as if there had been an accident and, when he stopped, whipped open her mid-length fur coat to show herself nude underneath.

When a similar incident was reported a few days later by another driver, police stepped up their campaign to look for the blonde.

Cowboys Have New Domed Home In Dallas

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — In Wall Street parlance, the bond market is slow but firm for Texas Stadium, new home of the Dallas Cowboys.

But the men backing the lavish new stadium figure the market trend will turn definitely bullish.

So far, few if any of the football fans being asked to finance the $25 million structure by purchase of $1,000 or $250 bonds have had even a remote glimpse of what they will get for their investment.

That hasn't kept 8,000 of them from committing themselves to underwriting $12.5 million of the fancy football palace's costs.

Clint Doesn't Fret

And, Cowboys owner Clint Murchison, who has guaranteed the entire bond issue, isn't fretting about the unsold balance.

The bond buyers, who eventually will get their money back with interest, get immediate and long-lasting dividends in the form of one seat option between the 30-yard lines for each $1,000 bond and one outside that area for each $250 bond.

The 8,000 current investors have staked their claims to a few more than 20,000 of the 65,000 theater-type seats in the semidomed structure which will be ready enough for occupancy by the time the Cowboys open their home preseason schedule Aug. 14 against the New Orleans Saints.

That represents around 20,000 season tickets in contrast to the approximately 32,000 season tickets the club has been selling for games in the 72,000-seat Cotton Bowl, which served as the club's home for its first 11 years.

Look for Peak

"Realistically, we look for this total to peak somewhere between 25,000 and 30,000 this season," says Bert Rose, general manager of the Murchison-owned Texas Stadium Corp., which will operate the stadium for the suburban city of Irving—the technical owner.

"But, once the fans who buy individual game tickets arrive and see the facility, we are confident they will want season tickets and be a part of it," Rose said.

"It (the stadium) is just awesome. They will discover that isn't a bad seat anywhere and this stadium is going to eliminate that old bugaboo about what yard line your seat is on."

"In fact, we've about run out of yard lines already," Rose added.

There are about 1,000 of the $1,000 "between-the-30s" bonds left and the blocked in "sold" signs elsewhere extend beyond the goal line.

Lose Convenience

The seats not committed to bond holders will be sold on a single game basis, but Rose foresees the number dwindling rapidly.

"Those without season tickets will lose all the conveniences of having the same seats all the time," Rose said, "and I think a season of that will cure him and he'll find a way to come up with the price of a bond—if that has been his drawback."

"Even if we wind up with a large block of unsold bonds, we do not envision any financial problem since the sale of single game tickets will be adequate to assure the payoff of the bonds by the 40-year maturity date."

"I would think that in three to five years, we'll have 50,000 or more bonds sold and possibly join New York, Washington and Philadelphia in practical sell-outs before the season ever starts."

Rose said the Texas Stadium bond buyer (season ticket holder) has a tremendous advantage over those in other National Football League cities.

"Season ticket holders in those stadiums have to turn the rights back to the club when they move or for some other reason do not renew their option," Rose said.

"Our bonds are transferrable, or negotiable, and the option rights can be sold, traded or given away. I can see the day when any available option will bring premium prices."

Sees An Ad

"Just the other day, for example, I saw a classified ad in which two $1,000 bonds were offered for sale for $2,500. I don't know if the man found a buyer at that price, but he didn't run very long."

The bonds were first offered to Cowboy season ticket holders within a few weeks after the stadium project was announced on Dec. 21, 1967. A time-payment plan was offered in which the buyers could pay 20 per cent down and $8 per month for 30 months on $250 bonds.

"Many of those early buyers have just about paid out," Rose said.

Rose noted that bond sales were lagging badly until the Cowboys turned their season around in mid-year and surged all the way to the Super Bowl.

"Things picked up briskly during that time, but the pace is back to a steady trickle now," Rose said.

Look Sheepish

"Every week one or two veteran season ticket-holders, who skeptically refused to buy bonds had the pick of the choicest seats, drop in to join up."

"Their faces wear a very sheepish look when they look at the charts and see what they could have had."

"Just wait until the other holdouts get their first look at stadium. Sales will soar."

Semidomed Stadium

The stadium, which for a few days at least loomed as a possible site of the 1972 Super Bowl Game, was designed to offer football fans a game in a world's.

The luxurious plant is rapidly nearing completion on a wide open expanse of property just outside the Dallas city limits and in the sprawling suburban town of Irving.

It is a semi-domed structure built to provide all the atmosphere of the outdoors for the players themselves while providing sheltered comfort for 65,000 fans.

The roof, supported by four 633-foot cross beams and two 850-foot lengthwise spans, will have a 90,000 square foot (216 feet by 420 feet) hole over the synthetic grass playing surface.

$50,000 Bases

But, all of the double-decked seating area will be under a corrugated 22-gauge steel canopy and shielded from rain, sun and wind.

All but 2,000 of the seats will be plastic theater-type chairs measuring 16 by 21 inches with ample leg and knee room and enough rise from row to row to assure unobstructed line of sight.

The 2,000-seat exception will be those enclosed in 162 air conditioned boxes suspended from the upper deck and carrying a premium of $50,000 each.

Only 61 of these plush boxes have been snapped up. Sale of the remaining 100 would wipe out $5 million of the present "deficit."

Entrances to the lower deck of seats will be at ground level with the playing field itself laid out 40 feet below the ground level by excavation of 250,000 cubic yards of dirt.

Escalators will whisk the fans to the upper concourse entrances to the seating area before the game and help move them back to ground level afterwards.

Designed strictly for football—it would be impossible to lay out a baseball field inside—the spectator section will be closer to the field than at any other modern stadium—40 feet from the 50-yard line to the first row of seats and 25 feet from the back of the end zone.

THREE OF BASEBALL'S most durable and talented veterans—Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants (left), Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs (center) and Luis Aparicio of the Boston Red Sox—start warming up for another season. Mays and Banks will both be in their 19th year in the majors. Aparicio will be in his 16th.

Longhorns Win SWC Quadrangular Meet

By MIKE WESTER

LUBBOCK (UPI) — The Texas Longhorns won eight of 16 events, including the all-important mile relay finale, to edge out the Baylor Bears and win the Texas Tech quadrangular track meet Saturday afternoon.

The Longhorns amassed 63 points, including five in the winning mile relay performance by Byrd Baggett, Bill Goldapp, Ed Wright and Dave Morton, to outdistance the Bears 63-57. Southern Methodist finished third with 38 points and Texas Tech collected 16.

The other four Southwest Conference teams met in Houston in a similar meet at Rice, where the Owls outpointed defending SWC champion Texas A&M 85-56. Texas Christian finished third with 25 points and Arkansas had 8.

However, 11 of the 16 events posted better marks in Lubbock including the long jump where Baylor's Danny Brabham had a 25-7 jump to better his own season's best jump in the nation. He set one of two stadium records, surpassing the old standard of 25-6 set by Texas Tech's Ken Ford in 1971. Longhorn

Two Hat Tricks Needed By Baltimore Bullets

NEW YORK (UPI)—Can the Baltimore Bullets rally from a 2-0 playoff deficit two years in a row?

Last year, the Bullets were able to extend the New York Knicks through seven games after losing the first two before they were eliminated from the National Basketball Association post-season games.

Baltimore dropped a 107-88 decision to New York Friday and again the Bullets are on the short end of a 2-0 record as the series moves to Maryland for game No. 3 this afternoon.

This time the Bullets' chances of recovery appear slimmer than ever. Gus Johnson, who helped Baltimore win the Central Division title, remains a doubtful starter. Johnson's left knee, which required constant doses of a pain-killer to activate him, forced him to sit out the first two games.

Understandably, the Baltimore forward is torn between wanting to play and taking a chance on risking permanent injury by playing.

Coach Gene Shue says it's Johnson's decision to make.

2 Players Forced Out

"Actually, you've got to be careful with a knee injury," Shue said. "It's not like Kevin's (Loughery) heel bruise or Earl's (Monroe) ankle sprain. Bruises and sprains heal readily, while many knee injuries require corrective surgery."

Monroe and Loughery were forced out of Friday's game early in the fourth quarter when pain overcame their intense desire to play.

Baltimore was only six points back at 81-75 when they departed. Then disaster struck as New York ran off a 16-2 string in a 4:58 stretch that put the Knicks in front, 97-77. Two minutes later the Knicks were ahead, 103-79 and Coach Red Holman finally felt confident enough to clear his bench.

"With Monroe and Loughery out, we were able to steal the ball more often," said Dick Barnett in explaining the New York surge. "Earlier, we weren't coming up with the rebounds or steals when you do both, then your defense becomes part of your offense."

Barnett scored a game high

Ken Stadel Of Rice Wins Discus And Shot

HOUSTON (UPI) — Ken Stadel of Rice swept the discus and the shot 'put Saturday to lead the Owls to an easy victory over Texas A&M, Texas Christian and Arkansas in a quadrangular track meet.

The Aggies, running without Curtis Mills and Rocky Woods, who were out with injuries, scored only 57 points to 85 for Rice. TCU, which had only one winner — Carl Mills at 23-4½ in the long jump — finished third with 25 points and Arkansas, which did not have a winner, scored only eight.

The other four Southwest Conference teams competed at Texas Tech and the results were relayed by telephone to determine the best SWC team for the day.

On a composite of the two meets, Rice scored 48 points to 43 for Texas, 32 for Baylor and 22½ for A&M. SMU received 19, TCU 5½, Texas Tech 5 and Arkansas 0.

In Houston Rice won 11 events to only four for A&M. Stadel won the discus with a toss of 171-3 and the shot put with a 51-11. Chip Grandjean was the outstanding Rice runner, winning the 440 in 48.2 and running a 47.0 to anchor Rice's winning mile relay team which had a 3:10.5.

Jack Nicklaus Is Determined To Win

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—A very determined Jack Nicklaus, bidding to become the first man to ever win pro golf's "grand slam," charged from behind with a 4-under-par 68 Saturday to tie Charles Coody for the lead at the end of the third round of the Masters.

Nicklaus, who already has won more major tournaments than any other professional, started the day three strokes behind but chalked up five birdies in a six-hole span late in the round to set the stage for Sunday's dramatic finale.

The 31-year-old reigning PGA and British Open champ lost his chance to move into the lead alone when he bogeyed the last hole and had to settle for a 54-hole total of 7-under-par 209, which — Coody, a 33-year-old Texan, matched by posting an erratic 2-under-par 70.

Only one other golfer ever won more "major" tournaments than Jack Nicklaus. That was amateur Bobby Jones, who had 13 such titles, two more than Nicklaus, when he retired 41 years ago.

"I feel I am playing under more pressure than I would be ordinarily," Nicklaus confessed.

Joe Peppitone Gets Booped For Peacenik Attire In Baseball

HOUSTON (UPI)—Joe Peppitone, the Chicago Cubs' resident peacenik, gets booped regularly by the fans in New York and Houston, but all it does is turn him on.

Peppitone, who has an American flag with a peace symbol instead of a field of stars and stripes, "Let It Be" emblazoned on the back of his undershirt, cracked a two-run double Friday night to silence the boos of Houston fans and lead the Cubs to a 6-0 victory over the Astros.

Milt Pappas, who like Peppitone is a retreat from the American League, stopped the Astros on three hits to record his 35th career shutout.

Peppitone, returning to Houston for the first time since he jumped the club last July during a battle with the Astros

Yankees Lytle Hospitalized

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Outfielder Jim Lytle of the New York Yankees was hospitalized with an attack of appendicitis Saturday.

Lytle complained of pains when he arrived at the ballpark for a game with the Washington Senators and was taken to Doctors Hospital where he was examined by George A. Resta, the Senators' team physician.

Resta confirmed the trouble as appendicitis and scheduled an operation.

Lytle is expected to remain in the hospital for three or four days, and will be out of action for three to four weeks.

The Yankees said they would place him on the disabled list.

Milwaukee Leads Off Series With 106 to 85 Laker Defeat

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Larry Costello and Joe Mullaney agreed on the obvious Friday night when they assessed the Milwaukee Bucks 106-85 win over the Los Angeles Lakers.

"We didn't have much spark in the first half," Bucks' Coach Costello said.

"I thought the first half they didn't look as tough as they had other times they played against us," Lakers' Coach Mullaney said.

For 24 minutes it was true that the Bucks looked anything like the team which piled up the best record in the National Basketball Association this season.

"I forced us into their slowdown style of play," Costello said on the first half during which the Lakers took a 44-43 lead. "They can lull you to sleep."

Mullaney agreed that the Lakers slowed the pace of the game down and he said that's what the Lakers had to do to win.

"We had to slow the pace of the game down," he said. "We prefer it that way. But the first half could have been a little better for us if we could have gotten a few more points."

The Bucks started out in typical fashion taking a 25-21 lead at the end of the first quarter. But they hit only six of 24 shots, for 25 per cent in the second quarter and the Lakers took the lead.

Plays Prince Charming

But Jon McGlocklin played Prince Charming to the Bucks' Sleeping Princess in the second half and provided the kiss that woke the Bucks up. With Milwaukee trailing 50-45, he hit four straight buckets to give the Bucks the lead 53-51 with 8:15 left in the third period.

"Jon's shooting was what picked us up in the second half," Costello said. "When a

N.Y. Mets Clendenon Knows Path To Go

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don Clendenon raced home from third base with two outs in the 11th inning when relief pitcher Wayne Granger uncorked a wild pitch Saturday to give the New York Mets a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Granger had an 0-2 count on Jerry Grote when the bases loaded when he let loose a curve ball that skipped by all-star catcher Johnny Bench and rolled to the screen behind home plate as Clendenon scored easily.

Later Bench admitted he had signaled for a fast ball, but Granger missed the sign and threw a curve.

ONE-SIDED TUG OF WAR

Clay-Liston Fight In Florida Illegal

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The 1964 World Championship Heavyweight Boxing Match between Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston in Miami violated Florida law, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled.

Therefore, the court said Friday, Inter-Continental Promotions has no legal claim on the estate of the late William B. MacDonald Jr., a Miami promoter who lost money on the fight and did not pay off on a contract with Inter-Continental.

The court said the fight violated a state law prohibiting boxing matches for profit, allowing only those promoted for the benefit of certain civic or charitable organizations.

The ruling said the purported sponsorship of the fight by a Miami post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was only a ruse aimed at sidestepping the Florida law.

MacDonald contracted to pay Inter-Continental $650,000 in return for all the live gate proceeds, and he was responsible for all arrangements and promotions. Inter-Continental retained broadcast rights.

When the gate proceeds totaled only $225,000, far short of MacDonald's expectations, he gave that to Inter-

Continental, which in turn sued him for the other $425,000.

The U.S. District Court for Southern Florida agreed with Inter-Continental, and ruled the estate of MacDonald, who died in the meantime, would have to pay.

The Circuit Court disagreed. "The evidence is quite clear that the VFW had nothing whatsoever to do with holding, staging or conducting the contest and that the parties to the contract were well aware of that fact," the appeals court said.

Clarendon Goes Rodeo April 15

CLARENDON — The Clarendon College Aggie Club will sponsor their Seventh Annual Rodeo on April 15, 16, and 17th with a matinee performance on Saturday April 17th.

Lloyd Darby of Beaver, Okla., will again furnish the stock for this Rodeo. All night performances will begin at 7:00 p.m. each evening with the matinee performance scheduled on the 17th at 2:00 p.m.

Rules set for the entrants are: Contestants must be at least fourteen years of age and not be over 21 years of age unless a College Student. Many beautiful Belt Buckles will be awarded to the winners.

The entry fee is $7.50 per head for all boys events with a minimum of two head per contestant. Girls events are $5,000 a run (one run). The entry books will close April 13th and entrants will be accepted on a first come, first serve basis.

The events this year will include: Bull Riding, Barback Bronc Riding, Tie Down Calf Roping, Ribbon Roping, Girl's Goat Tying, Girl's Barrell Racing, Girls Steer Daubing and the Queens Contest should prove to be a beautiful and interesting event.

Optimist Club Little League

The Pampa Optimist Club Little League try-outs will be conducted April 13-15 at the Optimist Park baseball diamonds. The annual summer youth program is conducted for boys ages 9-11 years of age.

Tuesday and Friday boys ages 9-12 will be trying out for league play at 5:30 p.m. On Wednesday and Thursday boys ages 10 and 11 will be working out at Optimist Park.

All boys who played in regular little league clubs last year do not need to attend registration. Any member of a farm team last year will need to attend the try-outs.

Each boy attending the sessions will have to be present at two practice sessions.

Dolphins Silent About George Mira

MIAMI (UPI)—The Miami Dolphins aren't saying how much they paid George Mira for a one-year contract to play in his old haunt the Orange Bowl, but any way you look at it the 29-year-old quarterback will be making $50,000 per year.

The veteran of the San Francisco 49ers, the Philadelphia Eagles, and last year the taxi squad of the Baltimore Colts, still draws $50,000 each year through 1973 from San Francisco. This means whatever the Dolphins pay Mira, if it's shy of fifty grand, San Francisco will have to pay the difference.

Mira has never been a starting quarterback in the pros on a regular basis. The key West native was a hero when he played at the University of Miami and he is hoping he can get a chance to start in Miami.

A Well-Turned Ankle Makes Home Stretch

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—When trainers scrutinize the legs of Jockey Robyn Smith in a miniskirt, it is doubtful that these anatomical experts are checking her thigh, gaskin, shank, hock, fetlock or pastern for strength and speed, as they might some other filly.

Yet her leg is long and strong, satisfying her vocational needs, and her ankle is properly well-turned, satisfying any trainer's esthetic standards.

"I'm as strong — in the legs, where it counts for a jockey — as any rider in the game," said Miss Smith. "Legs are the most important physical part of riding, as far as strength is concerned."

Miss Smith, 26, a Stanford University alumna, is the only female jockey to mount a sustained "invasion," as it has been called, of New York thoroughbred racing. Because some owners still blush at giving a lady a chance on a horse, Miss Smith has ridden fewer than 60 races in her two-year career. But she had registered 10 wins as of early April, for a winning percentage of nearly 20 per cent. Since she is an apprentice jockey, this performance outdistances that of most of her peers with a seven-pound weight allowance, and is neck-and-neck with the winning percentage of most full-fledged riders.

At 5 feet 7, she is the tallest jockey at Aqueduct this season. And unquestionably the most striking. She is handsome and, of course, well-groomed. Her face, under jockey head gear and upturned goggles, has the healthy, mink-wealthy tone of the horsey jet-set women from the other-side-of-the-track. Her small, straight nose is flavored with freckles and presents surprisingly SOPHISTICATED — not cute mien.

Her eyes are clear-blue, intelligent, no-nonsense. But, oh, those legs.

"I was born with good legs," she said, standing in riding togs after breezing a horse in a morning workout. "But you can have good-looking legs and not necessarily strong ones. My legs are strong, too, but not musclebound."

"I work hard to keep my legs fit. I run around the track two miles every day. I've done everything to make my legs stronger — deep-knee bends, different kinds of exercises. But the best exercises are running and riding a horse."

"Legs are so important in a race because you aren't sitting in the saddle, you're sort of leaning forward in a half-squat and all your weight is on the legs. They're straining in the irons to push the horse. I remember my first 15 or so races, all I could think about practically was how tired they were.

"It's never happened to me, but some jocks I've heard tell about have jumped off a horse after a race and collapsed. Their legs buckled."

She quickly says she is unconcerned whether her legs look good in a dress, as long as they hold her up well in a race. "I only care to keep them fit for riding," she said. And yet, "Well, I do like to show off my legs in a dress. I wear short skirts, eight to 10 inches above my knees."

"Actually, it's men who make you leg-conscious of yourself. And I found out that my legs are perfect. That sounds narcissistic, but it's a fact. I mean, a few years ago I saw a chart that had what perfect measurements should be for your thigh, calf, ankle and so forth. For your particular height, I measured up exactly to those standards."

Though Miss Smith says she never looks at another lady's legs, she does scrutinize those of a horse.

"I look at the over-all shape," she said. "I like a good tight look, a nice straight cannon bone, a long pastern. You can tell a lot about his stride from his pastern. And I like a large knee on a horse."

"But that's the one thing I don't like about my legs. I have big bony knees." But some femur and fibula, some talus and tibia has she.

Rico Carty Has Severe Trouble With His Knee

ATLANTA (UPI)—Rico Carty, dogged by injury and illness much of his career, had a new reversal to contemplate today in his battle back from a severe knee injury.

The muscular Atlanta Braves outfielder has contracted phlebitis, a blood clotting disorder, in the ailing knee, Dr. Harry Rogers, the team physician, said. He said Carty would be out at least two to three months, raising the possibility "Deeg Boy," as he is known, won't be back at all this season.

Carty, who hit .366 for the Braves last season to win the National League batting championship with a 31-game hitting streak early in the campaign, underwent an operation on his left knee after a collision in December with Matty Alou in a Dominican League game.

"The clot went from his leg to his lung," Rogers said, "so we had to take him off the weight program until we get it cleared up."

"I was lifting 35 pounds with the leg before then," Carty said. "Now I don't lift at all. It was a real setback. I guess when I begin again I'll start all over at 10 to 20 pounds."

Carty, who walks aided by a leg brace, said he was not depressed, but admitted, "I want to be out there so bad."

U.S. Oil Firms Urged To Stop Exploration In China Sea Area

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has requested all U.S. oil companies to halt exploration in disputed parts of the China Sea claimed by Communist China, the State Department said Friday.

Department spokesman Charles Bray acknowledged that the Gulf Oil Company has been advised to suspend oil explorations by a ship under contract to Nationalist China.

Bray told newsmen that "over the past years a number of companies have obtained contracts for oil exploration and exploitation from the Republic of China and the Republic of Korea in the Yellow and East China Seas based on the claims of those governments to the continental shelf."

Bray noted, however, that both Japan and Communist China also have asserted claims in the area.

He said Peking "has asserted a claim to a large and imprecisely defined use of the continental shelf under the Yellow and East China Seas."

The Red Chinese also have strongly warned other countries against exploring for oil in the area.

Bray said in view of Communist China's warnings the department has advised American oil companies that "we consider it inadvisable for them to undertake operations in these disputed areas."

He said that Japan, Nationalist China and South Korea have been officially informed of the U.S. position.

Asked if Communist China also had been informed, he replied that his announcement today was regarded as informing Peking.

The development came to light when a Gulf Oil Company ship, the Gulf Rex, halted research activities in the East China Sea and headed for a Japanese port. Company officials in Japan told UPI the State Department advised them to halt operations fearing that the ship's presence and use of electronic equipment off the mainland of China might prompt the Chinese Communists to seize the ship.

Candlelighted, Double-Ring Marriage Vows Unites Debra Lynn Huff And Danny Stokes

Debra Lynn Huff was united in marriage with Danny Mack Stokes in a candlelighted, double-ring wedding service in the First Baptist Church, on April 3 at 7 p.m. The Rev. Don Cameron officiated for the service. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Huff Jr. of 1910 Christine. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O.L. Stokes of 209 Nelson.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length Chantilly lace gown with long cuffed sleeves and a scooped, scalloped neckline. The old South skirt swept to a series of cut-in ruffles that formed the Chapel train. Pearls and iridescent, sequin embroidery accented the lace pattern of the gown. She wore a finger tip length, three tiered imported French illusion veil which was secured to a lace comb embedded with seeded pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white purple throated orchid and stephanotis seed pearls entwined in Pecot ribbon.

For something old she had a 1950 penny (her birth date) in her shoe, something new was her wedding gown, something borrowed, her pearls and a blue garter.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's attendants were Karen Kay Huff as maid of

Rosebuds Learn Gardening Tips

The Pampa Rosebuds met Tuesday, April 6, at the Flame Room as Carol Sparkman served refreshments.

Mrs. H.H. Boynton demonstrated the method of planting seeds and a lesson on organic gardening.

Those present were Dana Kindle, Lynn Esson, Kim Chittenden, Peggy Wilson, Carol Sparkman, Brenda Johnson, Katherine White, Pam Mills, Terry Richardson, Mrs. Milo Carlson, Mrs. James Malone, and Mrs. H.H. Boynton. The next meeting will be a tea for the mothers on Tuesday, May 4.

honor, Peggy Joe Reeder, matron of honor and Mary Moffitt, bridesmaid. Brandi Diane Huff served as flower girl. They wore orchid imported Chantilly lace, formal gowns with four inch self-ruffles. The gowns were fashioned with empire waistlines, accented with long orchid slipper satin sashes. Their headpieces were orchid French tulle attached to a cornet of orchid flowers. They carried nosegays of violets accented with white lace and purple satin ribbon.

Ronnie Stokes was best man with Rick Stokes and Benny Stokes as groomsmen. Seating the wedding guests were Tony Stokes, Jimmy Reeder, Steve Green and Joe Fritz. Shane Stokes served as ringbearer and Monty Meers lighted the candles.

Wedding music selections of the theme from "Love Story" and "Romeo and Juliet" and "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Twelfth of Never" were played by the organist, Donnie Jones who accompanied vocalist Randy Cantrell.

The couple exchanged vows and wedding rings in a setting decorated with four candelabras with orchid candles and lemon leaves. Orchid mums in white pedestals set on each side of the altar. Orchid bows marked honor pews.

The brides mother wore a pink crepe dress with long sleeves of crepe lace and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a two-piece long sleeved turquoise dress of double knit with white accessories. Their flowers were Cymbidium orchid corsages.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the church parlor, Sherry Jones registered the wedding guests and Sue George served the three-tiered wedding cake. Linda Stokes and Sherry Jones assisted at the punch service.

Patsy Neslagn served at the groomstable which was decorated with a center piece of two candelabras holding violet candles and nosegay of violets appointed with silver-service and chocolate cake.

For the wedding trip to New Orleans the bride traveled in a white double-knit dress with long sleeves, trimmed with multi-colored embroidery and white accessories. She wore the white purple orchid lifted from her bride's bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School, attended West Texas State University and Draughts Business college. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Pampa High School, attended Commercial College at Lubbock and is employed in Pampa.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

Hostesses for a pre-nuptial bridal shower at the First Baptist Church Parlor were Mmes. H.L. Meers, Roy Jones Jr., B.L. Stephens, Cecil Shirley, Raymond Field, Earl O. Neal, G.L. Wilson, Floyd Barrett, Gene Barber and Audie Dick.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Leola Lanier, Tressa Lanier, Richard Zercher and Mrs. Leo Houck all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Meers, Ronnie Meers and Deborah Lee O'Neal of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. R.E. West and family of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stokes, Mrs. Ben Stokes of Vernon and Jan Wells of Hobbs, N.M.

Miss Sandra Kay Greenwood Repeats Vows With James Carol Reeves In Ceremony

Sandra Kay Greenwood was united in marriage with James Carol Reeves in a single-ring wedding ceremony in the First Methodist Church. Officiating for the service was Dr. H. DeWitt Seago. The ceremony was held at 7 p.m. on April 3. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sidney Greenwood Sr. of 1935 Grape. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Reeves of Henderson, Texas.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal empire gown and train of white lace over Peau de Soie and long lace sleeves with self ruffles. She followed the tradition of something-old, new-borrowed and blue and a penny in her shoe. Her elbow-length bouffant veil of soft net, attached to a pearl and lace petal shaped headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids. White Seed pearls were accented throughout the bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Patricia Greenwood, served her sister as maid of honor. Teresa McMennamy of Canyon and Juanda Ridgeway of Dallas were bridesmaids. They were dressed in floor-length blue bonded crepe with white lace trimming inserted with blue chiffon accenting the front and headpieces of white carnations, stock blossoms and baby breath. Each carried nosegay's of white roses, carnations, stock blossoms and baby breath. Blue love birds were nestled in the center.

Kenneth Logan Francis of Fayetteville, Ark., was best man with Thomas Sidney Greenwood Jr., brother of the bride, and Donald Greer of Amarillo as groomsmen. Donald Keith Brown of Canyon, Kent Stringfellow and Gerald Sartin both of Amarillo seated wedding guests.

Candlelighters were Joe Myron Greenwood, brother of the bride, and Eryan Cheevers, cousin of the bride of Dumas.

Kendra Burnett, Cotton Center, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of light blue satin with lace yoke and a headpiece of carnations, stock and baby breath. She carried a white basket of roses, stock and carnations.

Organist Tracy Cary assisted vocalist, Patricia Greenwood, sister of the bride, in "Because" and "Twelfth of Never."

Vows were exchanged in a background setting filled with large arch candelabras entwined with greenery. A bouquet of mixed white flowers decorated the altar. Tall Grecian urns flanked the wedding guests and pews of honor were noted with white bird cages and white love birds.

RECEPTION

For the wedding reception in the parlor of the church, Christy Whaley played wedding music as guests were registered by Hollie Jean Cheevers of Dumas. Mrs. Bernie Joe Greenwood, aunt of the bride, served the three-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with blue and white roses, heart shaped floral nest and white doves inserted between tiers.

Rheta Houston, Abilene, served punch from a table decorated with a white satin cloth and a centerpiece of white stock, carnations and roses in tall cherib candelabra.

The bride wore a blue crepe dress with white accessories for her wedding trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Mrs. John Tower Scheduled Thursday For Noon Luncheon

Mrs. John Tower, wife of Texas' Senior Senator, will be in Pampa on Thursday, April 15 for a "dutch-treat" luncheon in the dining room of the Coronado Inn. Anyone who would like an opportunity to talk with Mrs. Tower is encouraged to come to the luncheon at noon.

Arrangements for Mrs. Tower's visit are being made by Mrs. James T. Brown and Mrs. Ben Sturgeon.

Mrs. Tower, the former Lou Bullington, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Pullington of Wichita Falls. Senator and Mrs. Tower met in Wichita Falls when the Senator's father, the late Dr. Joe Z. Tower, was the pastor of the First Methodist Church and Miss Bullington served as substitute church organist. The couple's friendship developed when he joined the history and government faculty at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls in 1951, where she was a teacher of organ.

The Tower family, including three daughters, maintain their home in Wichita Falls. While in Washington they live in the Northwest section of the city. All three girls currently attend Hockaday School in Dallas.

HELP!

Editor's Note: As a public service feature, The Pampa Daily News has started a weekly column titled HELP! to notify Pampa area persons of other individuals or non-profit organizations needing volunteer aid with public service projects. The column will appear in the women's section of Sunday editions of The News. Anyone needing items published in the HELP! column may contact Wanda Nieburger, the Women's Editor, at 669-2525.

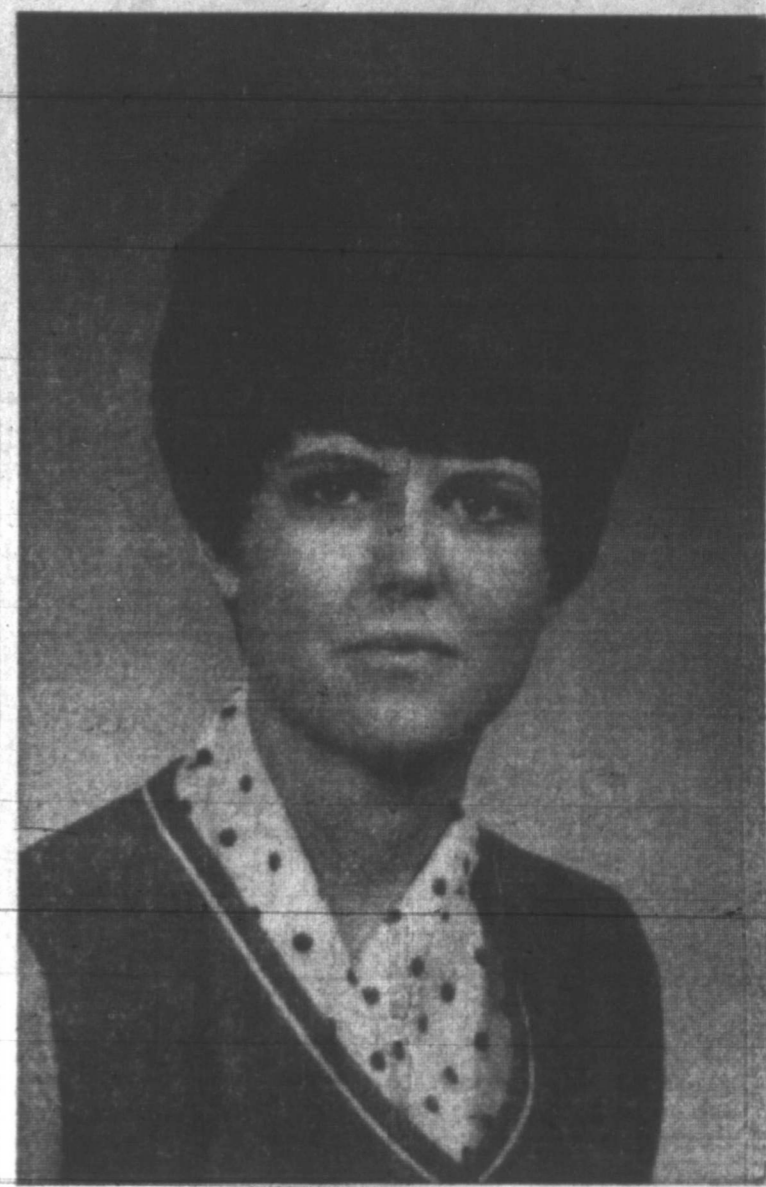

Anyone who has half gallon or gallon milk cartons to throw away may call Mrs. Alvis Smith, 669-3686, or deliver them to her home, 1008 Huff Road. Anyone contributing the cartons will be aiding Boys Ranch project tomato plants for its canner.

Boys ranch residents, with the aid of Mrs. Smith's son-in-law, Alan Hammontree, will be transplanting 12,000 tomato plant from the greenhouse by May 10, and needs just that many milk cartons, 12,000, to protect the tender plants from the hot sun and wind.

Because of transportation and storage problems, Mrs. Smith requests contributors of cartons cut out the tops and bottoms so the cartons can be flattened for mailing to Boys Ranch.

She added, "if you don't have time to cut them out, I need them anyway, and will be glad to get them."

GS Cookie Sales Are Successful

"We Did It" are the excited words being spoken by the 1700 Girl Scouts of the Quivira Council as the annual cookie sale drew to a close April 3. The goal of selling 30,000 boxes of Girl Scout cookies was realized, and the Scouts are enthusiastically looking forward to a summer of swimming in the pool at Camp Cibola.

Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors all worked in a united effort "to sell every last box of cookies," Mrs. C. C. Hoover, Cookie Chairman said. "We are very proud of the girls and adult volunteers who worked so tirelessly with them."

"Reaching this goal means that the project to filter the swimming pool at Camp Cibola can be completed," Don Thompson, Council President from Borger announced. "The response of the public to the cookie sale was most gratifying and played a vital part in the realization of this goal."

Brownies selling their quota of six boxes each will receive a Brownie "I Did It" pennant; older scouts and adults selling 24 boxes of cookies will receive an "I Did It" patch from the council. Both pennants and patches will be good for a "charter swim" in the newly-filtered pool. "Swim sessions are planned for the first three weeks in June and will be scheduled by district and neighborhood," according to Miss Celia Fowler, Executive Director.

Mrs. Raymond Laycock of Pampa was Council Cookie Coordinator for the cookie sale. Pampa Neighborhood Cookie Chairmen were Mrs. N. G. Anthony, Mrs. "Dub" Adkins, and Mrs. David Brommer.

Wedding Pledges Said By Couple

Pamela Gay Johnson and Joe Mack Milligan were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. March 26 in the First United Methodist Church in Borger. The Rev. Carlton Thomson, pastor, officiated for the service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leon Johnson of Borger. Mr. and Mrs. Billie Mae Milligan are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street-length crocheted lace dress with a Peter Pan collar, three quarter-length sleeves and the waist accented with a white satin cummerbund. She wore a white tiara headpiece with shoulder-length veil and flowers of white carnations with white roses and gardenia.

Pam Walton, Borger, was maid of honor. She wore a blue knit dress with a matching headpiece and veil and carried blue carnations and a white baby breath nosegay.

Best man was Tom Lay of Amarillo. Terry Rainey and Ken Ferguson, both of Amarillo, served as ushers.

Wedding music, "Wedding Prayer" and the traditional wedding march were played by the organist, Gay Clough.

A reception followed the ceremony in the garden room of the church. Larsha Milligan of Pampa served the wedding cake and Pat Johnson, Borger, assisted at the punch bowl from a table decorated with linen cloth, crystal pedestal stand with the bride's bouquet and maid of honor's nosegay. The four-tiered wedding cake with divided columns topped with satin bells centered the table.

POLLY'S POINTERS Remove Couch Fuzz With Sticky Tape

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Anita can cover a clean paint roller with wide strips of masking tape, sticky side out, and roll over her couch to remove those fuzzy balls. This little trick also works well on clothes, such as boys' pants and knitted sport shirts.

LUCY

DEAR POLLY — I have the same problem as Anita with fuzzy balls appearing on the upholstery fabric on my sofa and I have discovered quite a few remedies. The most efficient, I think, is to use the "gleaner" on my vacuum cleaner and go over the couch surface several times.

I have also carefully shaved the surface with a nonelectric shaver, being extra-careful not to cut the material. A pair of small scissors will also do the job but this takes more time. I have never tried it but have heard of people using a comb.

MRS. F.F.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I dropped a favorite pierced earring that was stepped on, so while trying to bend the "post" back, I pulled it out of its hole. I swim a lot so am afraid to use my favorite milky white glue on it for fear it would come apart again and end up in the drain. I hope someone can tell me how to fix this so it will really stay.

LYNDA

DEAR POLLY — To tighten ironing board covers I use four rubber bands of the heavy long type and eight safety pins. Loop a band on an open end of a pin and fasten to one side of the cover on the underneath, loop the other end of the band on another pin and stretch under the opposite side of the cover and fasten. These are easy to remove before laundering the cover. More or less bands may be used as needed. I never have a wrinkled cover when I do this.

Twentieth Century Allegro Has Diamonds Program

"The History of Diamonds" was the program topic for Mrs. Phillip McCarley at the recently held meeting of Twentieth Century Allegro Club. Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Robert Mack, 1711 Charles.

Mrs. McCarley also illustrated her talk by letting members view different cuts of diamonds under a scope.

Mrs. McCarley stated that "a diamond is ordinary carbon, like the graphite in lead pencils of the deposit that collects in the engine of your car. Hundreds of millions of years ago nature crystallized this carbon, deep within the earth, by tremendous heat and pressure. Some of the diamond deposits have remained deep within the earth, as in the pipes of South Africa. Others have been thrown up to the surface by the upheavals of geologic time. They weather and wash and come to rest in the beds of rivers and the sea."

Mrs. McCarley related several stories proving that diamonds have played a romantic role in the history of almost every country in Europe and Asia and today is still the most desired luxury item in the world.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Sidney graduated from high school at the top of his class last June. He was offered a scholarship to a very fine Eastern University, but he turned it down to go to a local college. Everybody thought he was crazy. He admitted to me he didn't want to go away to college because he gets "homesick."

We sent Sidney to summer camp when he was 12, and he came back after one week so thin and pale, he didn't look like the same boy. He said he got so homesick he couldn't even sleep or eat.

Sidney is not an only child. But he is my youngest and has always stayed very close to me. He doesn't have many friends and has never asked a girl for a date on his own, but he has dated girls when someone fixes him up. He reads a lot and doesn't mind being by himself all the time.

I want Sidney to go away to college next fall, but every time I bring it up he begs me not to talk about it. I think it would be good for him to go away, but how can a mother push her son out of the house when he begs to stay?

SIDNEY'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: It's not uncommon for a 12-year-old to become so homesick he can't eat or sleep, but when he reaches college age he should have matured sufficiently to overcome it. If Sidney has not been evaluated by an expert, he ought to be. To push him out of the house would be traumatic, but do insist he have a frank talk with a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: Suddenly after 32 years of marriage in which my husband never went grocery shopping with me, he insists on going with me every time.

He picks up every item I put in the cart and will frequently tell me I don't "need it." (Abby, I do the cooking, and I know what I need.)

When we get to the checker he yells at her about how expensive everything is nowadays, and he even tells her we can buy the same item cheaper at a different store. The poor checker! All she can say is "Well, why don't you go shop at the other store?"

My husband has held up a whole line of people, demanding to see the store manager so he can give him a piece of his mind about the outrageous prices. It is embarrassing! Don't tell me to shop without him. He won't stay home. I have also quit going out to dinner with him lately because he bawls out the waitresses on account of the prices on the menus being so high. I can't take much more of this. Help me!

MRS. H
DEAR MRS. H: Don't dismiss his sudden change of personality as "meanness" without first having him checked thoroughly by a physician. Many men, like women, undergo a "change of life" in later years.

DEAR ABBY: This is an open letter to those parents lucky enough to be able to have children, but who don't have love enough in their hearts to give them.

Abby, my husband and I have been on the waiting list to adopt a baby for a year and a half, and they are hard to get.

Many people keep babies they don't really want because of outside pressure from friends and relatives. These children grow up without knowing love and a good family life. Isn't it much better to give the child to some adoptive parents who desperately want a child than to raise it in an atmosphere where it is neither wanted nor loved?

Maybe this letter will show people that everyone isn't cut out to be a parent, even if they are able to bear children. And it's much more humane to give a child away than to keep it and raise it unloved.

WAITING IN ANCHORAGE
DEAR WAITING: There are plenty of babies who desperately need love and a good home. They are not all pink and white, but they are no less deserving, and they are available. Think about it.

DEAR ABBY: "DUBIOUS" asked you if a man who had been swinging for 20 years can ever settle down? Brother, can they ever! I married a 47-year-old "wild man." He chased and drank and danced and played. He's now given up all his bad habits. He evidently had his fill, and now all he wants to do is stay home and watch TV.

City Council PTA Accepts Officers For New Year

Mrs. Ocie Stewart presented the spiritual thought on Easter at a recent meeting of the City Council PTA. The meeting was conducted in Carver Center.

Mrs. Paul Howard made the motion to accept the following officers by acclamation: Mrs. C. L. Farmer, president; Mrs. Jeff Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. Floyd Baxter, secretary; Mrs. Richard Bichsel, treasurer; and Mrs. Carl Williams, historian. The subcommittee will consist of Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. Ed Langford and Dan Johnson.

A tour of Baker Elementary School kindergarten facilities for educationally deprived children followed the meeting. Floyd Sackett conducted the tour. Kindergarten teachers are Mrs. Gene Saltzman and Mrs. Leroy Thornburg. There are 44 children in the classes.

Lamar Delegates To Attend District Meeting In Borger

Delegates chosen at the recent executive meeting of Lamar PTA to attend the District meeting in Borger on April 20 were Mrs. Tom Dunn, James Davis, Frank Holman, Tom Collins, Robert Craig and Robert Walker.

An auditing committee was selected and consist of Mrs. Larry Ray, Mrs. Lacy Lee and Mrs. Robert Walker.

The sixth grade cake party was discussed. Floyd Hood, physical education instructor, and students of Lamar presented the program. Students demonstrated several exercises and a few games they play.

Mrs. Hinkle's first grade won room count while Mrs. Allen Faught received a home-made cake for winning the door prize.

HOG PRICES

We noted the top price on hogs was down to fourteen dollars and fifty cents a hundred weight last week in Amarillo. This was a two-year low.

It has been estimated that it cost between eighteen and twenty dollars a hundred weight to break even in the hog business. This means that each producer is presently suffering an eight-to-twelve-dollar per head loss on each hog marketed.

Farming and ranching is a tough economic game. There is no easy answer to the plight that all farmers find themselves in today. As I see it there is an economic battle going on among farmers and ranchers today. Each one is trying to produce a product cheaper than his neighbor. If he can produce the product cheaper than his neighbor, then his neighbor will be forced out of business. This process has made American Agriculture the most efficient in the world. While at the same time this process has reduced the number of farmers by one-half every ten years. The battle is still going. This will continue for some time.

The average production of corn per acre is close to 90 bushels today. Thirty years ago it was less than half of this. A 1,500 pound crop of milo was a better than average crop twenty years ago. Now irrigation yields of over eight thousand pounds are not uncommon.

Farmers as a whole are actually producing half of themselves into bankruptcy every seven to ten years.

This is a battle for the survival of the fittest. The ones left farming today are the best half of those farming ten years ago. The ones that will be farming ten years from now will be the best half of what is farming today.

You hear a lot of talk about farmers influencing the market price through group action, but so far the Dairy Association is the only one that has had any marked and sustained success.

It might pay some of the other Farm Associations to take a close look at the methods used by the Dairy Association if their goal is to effect price at the market place. Supply is controlled by the Dairy Association. In my opinion supply must be controlled if you are to influence price. We still have a lot of rugged individualists that will not trade some freedom for an increase in price.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
The cost of water on the Plains of West Texas is high. This is nothing new. From the days of the old White Deer Land Company, water has been a precious commodity in the Panhandle.

Until 1956 this writer had lived within sight of the Mississippi River. Water was plentiful and cheap at a depth of 50 feet. The monthly water bill never exceeded two dollars and fifty cents.

The question often arises as to why people moved to the Texas Panhandle from 1900 on and still keep coming. One reason stands out from all the others. The year around climate is the best in the nation. With moisture available we have the best soil available.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has provided some information on the cost of irrigation and we are passing this on to the irrigation farmers of the area.

"Irrigation pumping and distribution costs, on High Plains farms equipped with center pivot sprinkler irrigation systems, averaged $5.57 per acre per irrigation or $25.70 per irrigated acre in 1969. Water distribution costs alone averaged $2.08 per acre per irrigation or $10.43 per irrigated acre.

The investment in center pivot sprinkler irrigation systems, including supply lines, averaged $22,163 per system or $81 per acre irrigated. The average system was used to irrigate two 132-acre circles (one in summer and one in winter) in a 162-hour or 7-day schedule. Labor for pivot-to-

Two more weeks of dry weather and you can mark off the 1971 dryland wheat crop. The wheat has already begun to leave the ground without the benefit of moisture. Nothing more than a marginal crop could be made if it would rain in the next thirty minutes.

EMERGENCY LOANS
Bob Keowne, Farm Home Administrator supervisor, is in Pampa each second and fourth Thursday's. He offices in the new Agricultural Building in the Conference Room. The FHA makes emergency loans for operating expense during periods of extreme drought.

In the past a farmer was ineligible for an FHA loan if he could obtain credit at a reasonable rate of interest. This restriction has been waived during this emergency period.

ATTENTION SWINE PRODUCERS — The Texas Animal Health Commission has ordered a 60-day restriction on the movement of swine in Texas, effective March 29, as an aid to the control of hog cholera. Hogs can be moved to market without a permit but all other movement is by permit only, advises W.W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meat specialist. Too, the USDA has announced that producers may no longer remove apparently healthy hogs from their herds infected by or exposed to hog cholera. All exposed or infested herds must be destroyed. Here owners are paid state and federal indemnities to help pay for losses. For more information contact our office.

For those that believe in Mother Nature ruling... "Ecology Is Severe On Man," says Dr. Earl Butz of Purdue. Speaking at a recent dinner of the Foundation for American Agriculture, Dr. Butz observed: "The plain truth is that the ecology of nature is pretty severe on man, and man is constantly trying to modify it. Let's be honest: God put the worm in the apple; man took it out. God put the cockroach in the cracker barrel; man took it out. God put the potato bug on the potato; man took it off. God put the termite in the timber; man took it out. God put the malarian-laden mosquito in the backyard; man took it out. God put the mildew on the rose; man took it off. God put the parasite in the park; man took it out.

How far back to Nature do our ecologists want to go? Or, if they are honest with themselves, do they really want to go at all? Let's be honest about it."

Osborne said letters to Secretary Voipe should include the farmer's personal appraisal of how his farm or ranch operation would be affected if the regulations are adopted. The local farm leader urged each farmer in the county to request that present exemptions for farm truck drivers be retained.

Also, he said, Congressman Bob Price and the two Texas Senators should be contacted and requested to intervene with Secretary Voipe in the matter of retaining present exemptions, or at least in modifying proposed regulations so that they will not be so damaging to agriculture.

Farm Bureau is requesting that present exemptions be retained, he said. In the event that this is impossible, the Farm Bureau is asking that the following recommendations be included in any regulations which are issued:

(1) An exemption for small farm trucks under 10,000 lbs. gross weight. This would include pickups.

Farm Bureau Endorses Move To Change Legislative Rule

Farmers and ranchers are being urged by Jack Osborne of Pampa, president of the Gray County Farm Bureau, to let the federal government know how regulations would affect their operations. Letters should be addressed to John A. Volpe, Secretary, U.S. Dept. of Transportation, Washington, D.C., 20515, Osborne said.

Proposed U.S. Dept. of Transportation regulations pertaining to farm truck driver qualifications will become effective on July 1 unless farmers and ranchers can convince the government that they should not be put into effect. The regulations were scheduled for last Jan. 1, but were postponed to permit Farm Bureau and other organizations to study the regulations and file statements.

The regulations would affect drivers of all farm trucks — including pickup trucks, Osborne said. Although the new regulations would be applicable to interstate commerce, recent court decisions indicate that the interstate commerce clause applies to anything and everything which might at some time enter interstate commerce.

Proposed regulations would include the following requirements for drivers of farm trucks:

- (1) Be at least 21 years of age.
- (2) Carry a certificate, executed by a physician during the preceding 24 months, evidencing fitness to drive a truck.
- (3) Pass a road test in truck operation.
- (4) Take and pass an examination on the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Regulations.
- (5) If driver is employe of farmer, he must supply the farmer with evidence of compliance with the four preceding requirements, plus an application for employment which shall disclose traffic violations and disposition thereof, plus an annual supplementary statement relating to traffic violations.
- (6) A farmer who employs a driver would be required to "verify" the driver's driving record — and to maintain for each driver a file containing items 1 to 5 above, plus a record of the employer's verification of the employee's driving record.

Osborne said letters to Secretary Voipe should include the farmer's personal appraisal of how his farm or ranch operation would be affected if the regulations are adopted. The local farm leader urged each farmer in the county to request that present exemptions for farm truck drivers be retained.

Also, he said, Congressman Bob Price and the two Texas Senators should be contacted and requested to intervene with Secretary Voipe in the matter of retaining present exemptions, or at least in modifying proposed regulations so that they will not be so damaging to agriculture.

- (2) An exemption for local farm hauling.
- (3) Postponement of effective date for six months more.
- (4) A comprehensive educational campaign in news media to let farmers and ranchers know what is about to happen to them.
- (5) General distribution of a summary of the regulations.
- (6) A procedure for development of permanent regulations based on common sense, actual need and good judgement.

The local farm leader said that farm truck drivers have an excellent safety record. In Texas, for example, the amount of bodily injury claims paid per farm truck policy is only one-tenth of the amount of bodily injury claims paid per policy for all non-fleet commercial trucks, he said.

Reported Rise In Nursery Industry

AUSTIN — Amid the great increases in beef production and other major agri-business concerns, one lesser known industry has quietly been on the rise. The floral and nursery industry has expanded considerably in the last years, reports Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. White says his Plant Quarantine Division of the Texas Department of Agriculture counted 834 certified nursery and floral plants during the last fiscal year.

An inspector from the TDA checks thousands of flowers annually, including the ones sold on the street corners throughout Texas by gaily attired flower children.

Plant Quarantine director Charlie Chapman noted his inspectors check plants and flowers to make sure they are not diseased. Certificates are issued to the dealers if they meet these requirements.

Chapman added that there has been an increase in the number of establishments in the last five years of 300 to 400, though the figures fluctuate year to year. Mrs. Rose Daniel, coordinator of the Nursery and

Floral Program for the Plant Quarantine Division, said inspectors compile all statistics through their visits to nursery and floral concerns. These statistics show that nearly 10,000 acres are used in production of nursery stock. Matagorda County leads the pack with 1049 acres. (Acreage figures are not kept on flowers.)

Harris County (Houston) tops the state in the number of nursery and floral outlets, having 702 of the former and 466 of the latter.

Fraudulent 'Peace Treaty'

There is currently circulating among the American and (ostensibly) the Vietnamese peoples a "joint treaty of peace." This petition is getting most of the leftists' energies these days, there being a feeling in their circles that there is little else to do save getting involved in "the system." And a self-respecting neo-revolutionist cannot do the latter.

So he must sign and pass along to his friends this latest grievance form, this promise that by circumventing the "American war machine" the bloodshed in Southeast Asia will be terminated. Concerning this kind of activism, a few thoughts:

The News is all for circumventing politics for the betterment of human affairs, and we have consistently opposed war — any war — for it does no one any good except the politicians.

We are all for the people of the several countries interacting, outside politics, and freely trading; we hold the view that, as Fredric Bastiat wrote more than a century ago, where goods do not cross borders soldiers will.

These are laudable aims, which should be accomplished more intelligently than is being done by the promoters of this "treaty."

Peace-loving people are perplexed concerning the ways in which to extricate Americans from Vietnam; the situation there, as we have pointed out, seems an impossible one.

Will this petition help? Not when it proposes, among other things, to have the Americans "pledge to end the imposition of Thieu-Ky-Khém on the people of South Vietnam in order to insure their right to self-determination..." and to have the "Vietnamese" South? North? "pledge to form a provisional coalition government to organize democratic elections."

In other words, get rid of one set of rulers — leftists are not happy with the South Vietnamese government's ideological stripe — and replace them with another — in "democratic elections," of course, the results of which "all parties" — who? — are to "respect." Of course the American government is supporting the South Vietnamese government; but this is not wrong in the petitioner's estimation because it is supporting a government but because it is supporting the wrong one.

The promoters of this "treaty" will have to emerge from their murky thinking if they mean to achieve a lasting peace.

If Americans are guilty of intervening in Vietnamese affairs (in favor of the South), why should we intervene in order to insure that a different band of rulers takes power? The "treaty" calls for "free elections" one more time. Haven't we been through that before? Thieu was elected president in elections that American leftists were permitted to "watch" in order to "insure honesty."

The prospects for peace really suffer when so many politicians, in and out of government, American and Vietnamese, offer such frauds as are being perpetrated on people, American and Vietnamese, by the promoters of the "Joint Treaty of Peace Between the U.S. and Vietnamese People."

Is Onus On Parents?

Two more experts have joined the chorus blaming parents for the escalating use of drugs by youth.

"America is a drug-oriented society and adults have set the standard by their own behavior," write Allen Geller and Maxwell Boas in a new book, "The Drug Beat."

Teen-agers have grown up in a world in which mood-changing substances are a fact of life, say the authors. Sleeping pills, stimulants, tranquilizers and depressants are a national habit.

Thus reared on a diet of mood-altering drugs along with their cereals and sundries, it was only to be expected that the youngsters would emulate their parents' habits and eventually sniff glue and raid their parents' medicine cabinets to obtain those chemical kicks that their parents seem to be experiencing."

Undoubtedly, parental example is a factor in the drug problem of some kids, just as undoubtedly there is a host of other factors involved. It may also be guessed — and even the experts are doing a lot of guessing on this subject — that some kids who are messing around with mindblowing substances have parents who have never taken anything stronger than aspirin.

It would be enlightening if someone would do a really scientific study of the relationship between the contents of a family's medicine cabinet and their child's experimentation with chemical kicks to prove once and for all, or to lay to rest once and for all, this easy allegation.

'Gals' Are Catching Up

Take it from 2,355 driver education instructors in 600 high schools across the nation: Girls are catching up to boys in being better drivers.

As part of his review of driver education, Chrysler Corporation asked instructors to rate their young male and female pupils. Despite boys having head starts because of earlier interest in cars and things mechanical, girls achieve driver-safety equality by the end of the courses taken by high school students.

The boys still hold a slight lead in the eyes of instructors

— 52 per cent to 48 per cent — but instructors report girls accept instruction more seriously and are more eager to learn.

Nationwide, according to highway safety authorities and others involved in driver safety, youngsters who take driver education courses have fewer violations and fewer accidents, both sexes included.

With 20 per cent of America's drivers in the teen-age bracket, it's good to know the girls are pushing the boys in the right direction — toward safety.

News (Good) On Airjackings

Along with the metal in female undergarments and other oddities that have been providing chuckle-provoking kickers for the news summaries, new airport security devices and procedures have been turning up suspicious persons and weapons.

The apprehended aren't confessing evil intent, but odds are heavy that some at least had unscheduled flight delirium in mind.

"We don't know how many airjackings we've been able to avert," says retired Gen. Benjamin Davis, who is running the air security program, "but we do know we've made a number of flights safer."

Which is certainly good news, and also says something about why, as some complain, there isn't enough reporting of good news.

Often it is what didn't happen, and can't be known.

H. L. Hunt Writes

NEW DEFENSE POLICY

In its annual report to Congress the Department of Defense has outlined a new "National Security Strategy of Realistic Deterrence."

Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird described the new strategy as "positive and active" in contrast to past policies which were "responsive and reactive." Secretary Laird continued: "Past policy focused on containment and accommodation. The new strategy emphasizes measured, meaningful involvement and vigorous negotiations from a position of strength."

Although the report contained the usual vague words characteristic of government documents, it demonstrated a dangerous new trend. "Past policy" did indeed focus on "containment," containment of our communist enemy in its drive to dominate the world and enslave millions of people. Largely because of our position of strategic superiority, this policy in general has succeeded.

The new policy, however, emphasizes "negotiations." But any expert in communism could tell the Defense Department the negotiations are simply another weapon in the communist arsenal, a means of getting what they want without actual combat.

The report also stated that we would operate "from a position of strength." Yet our strength relative to the Soviet Union has so declined in recent years that the Kremlin will very soon, unless trends are reversed, achieve military superiority over the United States. The report, in fact, admitted that the Soviet Union may soon deploy a new intercontinental ballistic missile system, a new and larger version of the SS-9 which is capable of destroying any city in the United States.

Congress should repudiate the strategy of "realistic deterrence" and instead set about rebuilding the defenses of the United States.

With Some Reservation

Europe's farmers ain't done with their protests yet. In addition to the 80,000 angry farmers that stormed through Brussels, millions of others are also fed up with costs of things they have to buy and the increased wages of factory hands.

There were 30,000 North German farmers who blocked bridges and ferry slips and 7,000 Austrian tractors which stalled traffic along Vienna boulevards. All the six-nation Common Market countries have seen irate farmers exploding.

The Agricultural Ministers finally agreed to raise support prices on key farm products between three and six percent. It is quite a bit more than they originally planned for the season starting in April, but far short of the 15 percent farmers are demanding.

And, also, farmers who formerly favored a common market now view the whole idea as a force out to destroy the small land operator, with the attendant fear of being reduced in numbers to the point of having little to say about political control.

"For us it is a battle of survival," they are now saying.

Why don't the European politicians raise the support prices more to help the farmers? Because it would make it harder for the British to join the Common Market, that's all.

The European farmers are wise in one respect. In this country the farmer has already been relegated to such numbers that the cure-all-orats don't care about them anymore. They would rather keep produce prices down so they can dole out more free food stamps to the gimmie-orats.

EVERY ONCE in awhile we get a question from someone about the conduct of business at City Hall and we can't come up right away with the answer.

In cases like that we tell the questioner we'll go to the bottom of the matter and try to dig it out.

Just the other day a Pampa woman called to ask why she has been charged 10 cents extra on the sewer portion of her monthly water bill.

She says it jumped a long time ago from $1.50 to $1.60. City Hall's answer to that one is that if your home has more than five plumbing connections you are charged a dime extra for each one above five.

There are apparently six plumbing connections in the house in question, but—and the lady has a point here—she does not use the one that's hooked up in case you have a washer. So that would leave her with five in use and she says she's been charged for six.

City Manager Mack Wofford says he can see the lady's point, but he is in a quandary as to how the city can determine what homes are using more than five and what homes are not.

We just discovered the City Hall Cat has found out about this problem and will call a meeting to discuss it with the Court House Cat and some of their Alley Cat-advisors.

IF YOU have been out on N. Sumner St. in the Coronado Drive area lately you probably have noticed a lot of activity going on just southwest of Coronado Inn.

The contractor is in the initial stages of getting foundation ready for Pampa's $12 million M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium. Work is progressing rapidly.

The Brown Auditorium Committee has been meeting with city officials to select seats, exterior brick and interior color schemes.

When it came to colors, they decided to employ an interior decorator to make that decision.

City officials say the brick selected for the auditorium's exterior will make it one of the most outstanding and attractive structures in the Texas Panhandle. By this time next year the auditorium should be ready for dedication and full operation.

THERE ARE more than 100 jobs for women going begging in Pampa. The Marie Foundations plant, where working conditions are excellent and the pay is good, wants to stabilize its work force at 600 employees. Right now it has less than 500.

So, gals, if you can operate a sewing machine and really want a job — there's your opportunity.

The Pampa Industrial Foundation has joined in the move to help the local bra factory that has grown to be one of Pampa's most important economic factors.

Plant officials are pleading for additional workers so they can meet their production potential and supply demands of wholesale and retail outlets for their product.

Your Health

Sound May Be Circulating Blood

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am 43 years old and have noises (it sounds like Rrrrrr) which go through my head just before I go to sleep. My blood pressure is normal at 120-90. The noise never occurs unless I am resting. I do not have this every night — just from time to time. I will be very much obliged if you could explain this to me.

Dear Reader — Without more information, one can't be certain, but I think you are describing the common sound created by the circulation of the blood through the arteries. You can produce this effect in a garden hose by squeezing it while water is running through it; you will feel the vibrations in your hand.

Vibrations create sound and when your head is turned just right, so that there is a turbulence of blood through one of the main arteries, you can hear the sounds created by vibrations. This is particularly true if you are lying on your side against your ear. The next time you have the sound change your position and see if it disappears. This kind of vibration, associated with the normal turbulence of blood as it is circulated, has no significance as far as health is concerned.

Dear Dr. — Lamb — Can a person in his 70s get a stroke even though the heart is good and the blood pressure is not high? What causes a stroke?

Dear Reader — A stroke is caused by an interruption of the blood flow to part of the brain. If the part affected controls the speech, the person loses his ability to talk; if it is the part that controls the arm or leg these may be paralyzed.

The most common cause for an interruption of the blood flow to a region in the brain is deposits in the arteries or atherosclerosis. Whether the rupture of fatty material into the opening of the artery (which often causes a clot in this region) or whether the obstruction occurs more gradually, the end result is the same.

The process in the arteries of the brain is exactly the same kind of process that occurs in the arteries of the heart which causes a heart attack. Fatty deposits can affect any artery in the body, whether it is the heart, the brain, the kidneys, or the arteries to the legs.

Just as you can have a heart attack without any previous warning or any evidence of heart disease or high blood pressure, you can also have a stroke without any previous warning. The likelihood of having these difficulties increases with advancing years. The best treatment remains prevention and that means beginning early in life to eat the right kind of foods, restricting fats and cholesterol and avoiding the use of cigarettes.

Inside Washington

D. C. Congressman Challenged on Crime

John Goldsmith

Robert Allen

WASHINGTON — With great ado Washington recently elected its first representative to Congress in 96 years — after a campaign in which all the aspirants carefully and sedulously avoided the gut issues.

The five black and one white candidates talked often and volubly about home rule, a bigger federal contribution to the capital's budget, more federal funds for low-cost housing, welfare, food stamps, etc., etc. More, more, more from the federal government was the universal and insistent campaign theme.

But on the grisly and widespread problem of crime in the streets not one had a word to say.

All steadfastly maintained complete silence on the stark fact that the streets of Washington are a savage jungle of muggers, rapists, thieves, gunmen, drug addicts and other vicious criminals. About this most agonizing and pressing of problems — facing the capital — none of the electioneers opened his mouth.

Foremost in keeping silent was Rev. Walter Fauntroy, 37-year-old aide of the late Martin Luther King, who won the non-voting delegate job.

Consistently supporting him in that silence were Washington's three daily newspapers. Although no day passed during the campaign without their pages reporting numerous crimes in the streets, not one of the papers raised the issue of what the candidates proposed to do about this consuming malignancy that is blighting the capital.

Light the politicians, the papers adamantly kept tight-lipped silence.

But finally a local weekly had the temerity and integrity to speak out.

The InTowner, in a front-page "open letter" to "Congressman" Fauntroy, lays it on the line bluntly and unsparingly on the crime issue. It squarely demands to know what he is going to do about it, and with equal pointedness warns that unless he does bestir himself effectively, his congressional career will be very brief.

The InTowner's plain-talking pronouncement is the first clarification voice raised on the ravaging crime issue in the capital. How much good it will do remains to be seen.

TELLING 'EM — But at least someone finally sounded off — and perhaps something will come of it. It deserves the utmost attention, as the following highlights show:

"Congratulations, Congressman, on your election. Now that you are going to collect $42,500 with all the fringe benefits that go with it, let's get down to the real issues. The big issue in this inner city is not home rule. They have home rule in New York, Chicago, Gary, and elsewhere, and they are no better off than we are.

"The big issue here as it is in those cities is crime in the streets. How to keep the brothers from mugging, robbing, murdering and otherwise cold cocking each other and everyone around them.

"The populace, white and black, is tired of having to go out and try to do a day's work and then worry whether some young punk is going to rob them, rape them, or hustle them for their hard-earned money. They want to walk the streets in peace with themselves and their neighbors.

"We think we know the temper of the people. They are liberal, fair-minded and decent. But don't try to fool them. If you don't make a substantial dent in crime in the District, you'll end up as the shortest term in the history of the office."

MORE PLAIN TALK — Also in this resounding issue of the InTowner is a reprint of an article in the New Washington Sun that deals with a very moot problem.

Titled "A Prayer for Black Families," and carrying the byline of Sethard Beverly, the article castigates the practice of black husbands beating up their wives. Following are significant highlights:

"The black family is in serious trouble. Whether we choose to admit it or not, the black community has an unfinished agenda in the business of family living. One need not note the divorce and desertion rate among us to discover this need. There are many other indications.

"Simply observing the high incidence of violence within the young black family is enough to prove the point — and sicken the stomach.

"Young women continually enter the courts of our city with broken jaws, swollen eyes and lips, cuts and bruises, seeking protection from the white judge in keeping her black man from beating her to death.

"This is an age of so-called 'black awareness.'"

"Some brothers excuse this sort of thing by arguing that whitey puts so much pressure on the black male that he subconsciously takes it out on his old woman.

Maybe Nixon Doesn't Know

By PAUL HARVEY

The newest Gallup Poll shows 7 out of 10 Americans believe President Nixon "is not telling the public everything about Vietnam."

What if he doesn't know?

Between the Vietnamese battlefields and the President's desk in Washington there's a long, long trail a-winding.

When your platoon finishes a fire fight, you are too busy to file a formal, written report. You report the results to your company C.O. — orally.

The company commander relays your evaluation of what happened to the battalion commander — again, usually, orally.

The results of your action are first reduced to writing at brigade headquarters.

In cases of extreme urgency or a pertinent innovation in frontline strategy, this sequence might be abbreviated through an ORLL report outside channels, but 999 times out of 1,000 there are three people telling people what happened before a written administrative report is filed at brigade headquarters.

Now, if what happened is of sufficient significance, a written report will go to division headquarters, then to corps headquarters, then to Gen. Abrams at MACV (Military Assistance Command Vietnam).

Gen. Abrams reports on any "named operation" through CINCPAC, through the Joint Chiefs, simultaneously to the Pentagon and to White House Operations. The final rewrite by Henry Kissinger is what the President sees.

If President Nixon goes on the air and tells you that "Vietnamization is working..." Or if he says that only 4 of 22 ARVN divisions stubbed their toes in Laos...

He may have received that "information" directly from Gen. Abrams or it may have come to him down the long, long trail.

Conceivably, at any one of seven levels, White House value-judgments could be purposely distorted, a President politically subverted.

Most likely, the facts would be embellished innocently.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of Senate Foreign Relations says the President's assessment of what happened in Laos is either "a massive deception of the American people or a massive misjudgment on the part of our political or military leaders."

Political scientist James MacGregor Burns, after several weeks conferring with White House advisers, says he detected among them "a bafflement and discouragement over the continuing Indochina crises which reminded (him) of the state of mind of President Johnson's top advisers during the last days of that Administration."

There is a too-frequent discrepancy between what our expert reporters report from up front and what we hear through channels back here. The questionable credibility is not all ours.

Americans are conditioned to assume that our nation's leaders know more about what's going on than we do. I am raising for consideration the frightening fact that they don't always know.

The Week In Review

By H. J. HELLER
United Press International
An American soldier this week lectured a superior on military procedure and it made news not only in the United States but in the rest of the world.

The reason: The soldier was Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel, the successful prosecutor of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. The superior officer was the Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces—President Nixon.

Capt. Daniel was indignant because Nixon had intervened in the case and ordered Calley released from the stockade at Ft. Benning, Ga., and confined to quarters pending a presidential review of the case.

In an angry letter to the President, Daniel said Nixon had weakened respect for the judicial process.

"You have subjected a judicial system of this country to the criticism that it is subject to political influence when it is a fundamental precept of our judicial system that the legal processes of this country must be kept free from any outside influences," Daniel wrote.

But President Nixon, in his dual role as head of the civil population and of the armed forces, was subject to an unusual array of pressures.

He and his staff were deluged by thousands of letters and telegrams, most of them protesting the conviction of Calley for his role in the My Lai massacre.

The situation was further complicated by the fact that both "hawks" and "doves" were among those objecting to the military panel's verdict.

Opinions on Calley's conviction ranged from the belief the officer was in reality a hero, following the orders of superiors, to the conviction that he was a merciless killer.

Thus a tragic event that occurred two years ago half-way around the world continued to plague the conscience of Americans.

Washington—President Nixon on nationwide television defended the invasion of Laos and promised the withdrawal of 100,000 more American troops from South Vietnam by next Dec. 1.

New York—Famed Russian-born composer Igor Stravinsky died following several years of ill health. He was 88.

Moscow—As expected the 24th Soviet Party Congress re-elected party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai Podgorny for another five years.

Nagoya, Japan—An American table tennis team was invited by Peking to visit Communist China, the first such type of invitation issued to Americans in almost 20 years. The United States called the development "encouraging."

Chicago—Mayor Richard J. Daley won his fifth term in a lopsided victory over Republican opponent Richard E. Friedman.

SENTENCING SCHEDULED

DALLAS (UPI)—John Columbus Dalton will be sentenced April 29 on conviction of filing false claims to bilk the government out of $12,000. Dalton was convicted Thursday on four counts of defrauding the Veterans Administration in false claims asking reimbursement for the cost of training student pilots at Greenville, Tex. The government said the training was never given.

The Woman At The Tomb

Christ

By DAVID POLING, D.D.

On the first day of the week, at dawn, the women came to the tomb bringing the spices they had prepared. They found the stone rolled back from the tomb; but when they entered the tomb, they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus. While they were still at a loss over what to think of this, two men in dazzling garments stood beside them. Terrified, the women bowed to the ground. The men said to them: "Why do you search for the Living One among the dead? He is not here; he has been raised up. Remember what he said to you while he was still in Galilee—that the Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified and on the third day rise again." With this reminder, His words came back to them.

On their return from the tomb, they told all these things to the Eleven and the others. The women were Mary of Magdala, Joanna and Mary, the mother of James. The other women with them also told the apostles, but the story seemed like nonsense and they refused to believe them. Peter, however, got up and ran to the tomb. He stooped down but could see nothing but the wrappings. So he went away full of amazement at what had occurred.

Mexican Catholic Church Assails Presentation Of Passion Play

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The passion of Christ was reenacted for the 96th time today in a pageant denounced by Mexico's Catholic Church as drunken, pagan and sadistic.

More than a hundred thousand Mexicans packed the dusty streets of the bleak Ixtapalapa section to see a young laborer portraying Christ carry a 30-pound cross up a hill that was sacred to the ancient Aztecs.

The laborer wore a crown of thorns that bloodied his scalp. He was whipped and beaten by his neighbors, playing Roman soldiers. Pulque and beer were sold in enormous quantities along the four-mile route.

Msgr. Rafael Vazquez Corona, spokesman for the Mexican Episcopate, complained the Ixtapalapa passion "has become a popular festival, where there is an excess of alcoholic beverages and demonstrations of paganism and sadism. If all of this could not be avoided, it would be better to suppress this celebration, which has gotten itself so completely away from the spirit of Easter."

Ixtapalapa residents were unconcerned by the criticism. Passion director Santiago Guera, a 66-year-old grocer who also plays Pontius Pilate in the drama, explained: "These festivities have a great religious meaning for us. The people, most of the time, come to see the spectacle out of curiosity. But in Ixtapalapa, the majority of those who take part feel it and we await the arrival of the holy feasts with pleasure."

Residents of the area, among the poorest in the capital, chipped in the equivalent of $1,200 to pay for a band and costumes for the 110 members of the cast.

The passion was first reenacted in Ixtapalapa in 1875. Its cast was selected by a local committee. Rehearsals began in January.

The passion began Thursday night with a reenactment of the Last Supper outside the San Lucas Church.

The Weekly Message of Inspiration...

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

By REV. MARTIN HAGER

It's been said before, but it's worth repeating. . . that among all the social problems of race and en-face quickly. . . the problems of race and environment and the poor. . . problems that will not wait for another generation. . . surely one of the most obvious is starvation for the personal. You can waste your life, but for heaven's sake, don't waste your time. Flick on the tube, for another evening of canned culture, and electronic friendship. And you go about your work with nagging fears that today that horrible thing might happen. . . you know, you might have to talk to somebody. . . I mean, really talk. As startling as some of their protests have been, as bizarre as their methods sometimes seem, it seems as though some sections of the young people of this nation, are saying a needed and decisively important thing: "We will take the time to be human to one another. . . and if a society consistently robs us of that privilege. . . then it really isn't worth it." Because there is a biblical lesson to learn here, the precise lesson that Jacob had to learn. . . that things mean nothing, in fact, things have a way of biting their owner. . . unless things have a foundation of human concern, unless the owner has some kind of a notion that he is human. . . and he lives in a human world.

I've never been more resistant than lately, to use the word love, because there seems to be a great deal of confusion over that four letter word. If we use it to mean that thing that happens when we have accepted ourselves as we are. . . and have opened ourselves to another. . . as they are. . . then we are using it as the biblical writer has. . . when he says:

"There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear.

For fear has to do with punishment, and he who fears is not perfected in love. We love, because He first loved us.

If anyone says, "I Love God" and hates his brother, he is a liar."

And perhaps the reason why "starvation for the personal" has suddenly taken on dimensions of a social problem, is that there is an element of fear in our love for one another. . . fear of self exposure, fear of losing face and pride. Well, if that is so, and if it is becoming as I suspect it has, a problem that we must all address. . . there is no government agency that can fund the war against it. . . there is no politician that can successfully campaign with the promise to solve it. . . and there is really no preacher, including me, that can rally a church around a final solution. The biblical image is so true. . . it's like wrestling with God's angel, waking up sore and lame, whipped by God, human again. . . and prepared finally to face honestly the people around us.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—"The market continues to behave in a perplexing manner, confusing professionals and novices alike," according to Harris, Upham & Co. However, the company says "exceptional" strength is being demonstrated in some secondary issues and if it continues it might "stimulate" another general upswing. But the company concludes "at the present time the investor should remain cautious and leave the field to the nimble trader."

Wright Investors' Services believes that the likelihood of an intermediate setback on the stock market is now "growing." But the company believes that any decline will be moderated. The firm also believes it will be "followed by an advance to new recovery highs this summer."

A correction looms in the period ahead, the Indicator Digest believes. However "the first three months of 1971 have run pretty much according to 1967's scheduled and if 1967's pattern continues to repeat itself, we could see an exciting rally...before a significant intermediate-term top is reached," the Digest says.

Celinese Outlines New Program For Minority Group Employment

Officials of the Celinese Corp. Pampa plant have outlined a new affirmative action compliance plan to give equal employment opportunity to minority groups.

According to the April issue of Celigran, the plant's employee newspaper, representatives from the Atomic Energy Commission's Albuquerque office conducted their first equal employment compliance review at Celinese in November 1970. As a result of recommendations made, and in keeping with the Corporation's continued commitment to equal employment opportunity, the Pampa plant's new Affirmative Action Compliance Program includes several important goals:

To have minority representation in each of its occupational categories that approximates the 6 per cent minorities in the area workforce. Presently less than 2 per cent of the workforce is minority. To correct this situation, the Pampa plant has a goal that at least 12 per cent of all new hires will be minorities.

As the distribution of minorities in various job categories is contingent upon promotional opportunities, officials say they are committed to provide training and personal development opportunities that will eventually result in minorities being employed as supervisors and in other management level positions.

In order to facilitate the accomplishment of these basic goals, the Celigran article says, some specific practices have been, or will be, changed. The minimum hiring age for office and clerical workers at the Pampa plant has been lowered to 18 years of age, and the company is committed to studying the feasibility of reducing the minimum hiring age on all positions to 18 years of age. This will increase opportunities for the 18 to 21 year olds who often must leave the local area to find employment.

Exceptions to the requirement that applicants have a high school education or equivalent may also be made where it can be determined, or assumed by virtue of the applicant's experience or performance or pre-employment tests, that he can function satisfactorily and safely in the position for which he is being considered. Pre-employment testing practices will be thoroughly reviewed and altered, if necessary, to be certain they are valid screening devices.

The minimum required typing speed has been set at 40 wpm for clerical and secretarial applicants at Celinese. No shorthand will be required for entering level clerical positions. Where advancement to higher level clerical and secretarial positions require greater skills, including shorthand proficiency, appropriate inhouse and/or outside training programs will continue to be provided, according to the Celigran article.

Communist Congress Confirms Brezhnev's Primacy In Power

MOSCOW (UPI)—The 24th Communist Party Congress which ended Friday has confirmed the primacy of General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev in the power structure with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin second in command, veteran diplomatic observers said.

Judging by the fact he delivered the more important of the two keynote reports to the congress, the ovations he received and the nature of his job as party leader, Brezhnev is by definition the first among 15 equals in the newly elected Politburo.

But the expected witicism was banded about that Brezhnev is more equal than the others.

If there was a delicate balance in the outgoing 11-man Politburo, with some of the members sometimes taking exception to Brezhnev's stance, his position was strongly reinforced with the addition of four men to the current Politburo.

All of them — Vladimir Shcherbitsky of the Ukraine, Dzhimnuhammed Kurayev of Kazakhstan, Viktor Grishin and Fedor Kulakov of Moscow — have been intimately associated with Brezhnev in the past and owe their promotion partly to his sponsorship.

If it is true, as reported, that sometimes the vote for Brezhnev in the Politburo was six to five, he is now assured of much heavier support.

Next to Brezhnev, the congress was dominated by Kosygin. The important report on the next five-year plan he delivered, the approval expressed by the delegates and the popular applause came just short of that accorded to Brezhnev.

Again, the very nature of his post—prime minister of the USSR—with special responsibility for the economy and foreign policy makes him the second most powerful man in the country.

Some observers, looking for more than meets the eye in Soviet demology, concluded Kosygin has slipped to the number three spot just below President Nikolai V. Podgorny, the other member of the troika. This conclusion was drawn from nothing more than the fact that in announcing the new Politburo Brezhnev mentioned Podgorny's name ahead of Kosygin's.

The inference was immediately derided by qualified observers who pointed out that whenever the names of the troika appear in joint statements the order usually varies. So does the order of listing of other members of the Politburo, when they are not given alphabetically.

Podgorny's position as chief of state, a largely ceremonial office, does not begin to compare with Kosygin's in importance and power.

It is precisely because he is the chief of state, although he has no more influence than the president of France used to have before Gen. Charles de Gaulle, that Podgorny's name sometimes comes ahead of Kosygin's.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Jerash and Ajloun are small Jordanian towns lying in the midst of vineyards, olive groves and small fields of wheat and millet close to the border with Syria. In normal times Jerash also is an attraction for tourists, drawn there by the Roman ruins.

But the "tourists" today are the Palestinian commandos who have sworn to topple Jordan's King Hussein and have turned the small towns north of the capital of Amman into strongholds.

Friends neither of Hussein nor the moderate regime in Lebanon, they have declared that the "road to Tel Aviv lies through Amman and Beirut." For Hussein it almost could be a replay of 1951, when as a boy of 16 he stood beside his grandfather, King Abdullah Ibn Saud, at the door to the Mosque of Omar and was splattered with blood as an assassin's bullet cut the elder man down.

The assassin was a follower of the Mufti of Jerusalem, a Palestinian and bitter enemy of Abdullah whose Arab legion had seized and held old Jerusalem over the opposition of other Arab states during the first war with Israel.

In Hussein's 50,000-man army today are some of the same desert warriors who supported his grandfather and upon whom he must depend to save his throne against the Palestinian commandos. UPI correspondent John Benar acquired dramatic, if inadvertent, evidence of it on the road leading out of Jerash this week.

Blocking the road in front of him stood an aged man with an equally aged Enfield rifle. Abdullah, we have been fighting for King Abdullah ever since he came here in 1921."

And there it was, Abdullah's desert Bedouins still aligned on the side of the Hashemite kingdom, whether it be in a new war with Israel or against all the other Arab states, including the Palestinians.

Some of the other Arab states, among them Egypt, Syria, Libya and Algeria, and the commandos have accused Hussein of waging a war of extinction against the Palestinian forces.

Hussein himself has told the guerrillas to get their weapons out of Amman "or the result will be cruel."

The guerrillas have declared Jordan essential as a base of their operations against Israel and the more extreme already have declared all-out war on Hussein regardless of arbitration attempts.

CRASH KILLS THREE
HAMPSHIRE, Tex. (UPI)—Three persons were killed in a three-car crash on Interstate Highway 10 two miles east of Hamshire in Jefferson County Thursday. Killed were Susan Guste, 22, of New Orleans and Sally Clinton Bachman, 19, and William George Todd, 57, both of Houston.
