

1,500 Moved As Robstown Hit By Flood

By The Associated Press
Floodwater ran three to four feet deep through Robstown in South Texas Saturday night. About 1,500 persons were evacuated.

At the height of the flood Saturday afternoon, a rain squall dumped at least another inch of rain on the unhappy town of 15,000 people 18 miles west of Corpus Christi.

No injuries were reported. But hundreds of refugees hunched uncomfortably in the National Guard Armory.

National guardsmen, some using high-wheeled Navy trucks from Corpus Christi, evacuated family after family.

The water covered about two-thirds of Robstown and much of its business district. Robstown is drained by a series of ditches. One of those ditches, its banks softened by 8 1/2 inches of rain in 35 hours, gave way early Saturday. Flood waters poured incessantly through the break.

All flood danger was past at Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Falfurrias and Bishop, the other cities caught earlier last week in the swollen runoff of torrential South Texas rains. "We're hot and dry now," reported Howard Behrent, editor of the Falfurrias Facts.

But deluges still were striking without warning in South Texas and along the coast. A downpour at Galveston Saturday was heavy enough to stop city bus service for five hours. A Houston storm knocked out 700 telephones and flooded underpasses and streets in suburbs.

The two main highways into Robstown, U. S. 77 and 4, were closed. The water was streaming from west to east through the city. The floodwater was only a few inches deep in most of the business district. But in many residential areas it was 4 to 4 1/2 feet deep.

A seven-inch deluge fell at San Benito between Harlingen and Brownsville Friday night and Saturday to bring total rainfall there since Aug. 16 to 20 inches. A few families were evacuated and several streets were flooded. But the high water ran off rapidly.

Police Chief Lester Newell of Robstown said between 400 and 500 families were moved out of the city. The National Guard at subdivisions. Robstown had 5.89 inches of rain before dawn. During the day, skies cleared intermittently.

Robstown newspaperman Carroll Keach told The Associated Press: "This whole town is virtually under water, except for two blocks in the business district."

But the heavy downpours spotted South Texas a seventh straight day and the U. S. Weather Bureau at Corpus Christi forecast more. The Weather Bureau warned of additional "considerable flooding of creeks with most over bankful today and tonight."

Robstown evacuees huddled in National Guard Armory, the Knights of Columbus hall, schools and churches. Others moved in with friends with homes on higher ground.

Water was reported 4 inches deep in many homes and 3 inches in some department stores.

Keach said, "All streets and sidewalks are covered with water, except for two blocks downtown. The dry area looks like an island. We don't have a damage estimate yet but it's going to be heavy."

Keach said "thousands of acres" between Robstown and Driscoll, to the south, were inundated. "It looks like a lake," he said. South Texas is low, flat country. The State Highway Department reported major highways in South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley open, although some farm roads were blocked.

About a fifth of Falfurrias was still under water, according to the new Falcon Dam formed a widening Pacific branch from Corpus Christi was washed out at Odem Friday night by a downpour ranging from 6 to 8 inches.

The Rio Grande remained bankfull, and the Weather Bureau said it would stay that way at least three more days. The river was expected to overflow into Cameron County floodways Sunday night but no damage was expected.

NOISY MAN WAS REALLY LOADED

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, Aug. 29 (AP)—A man picked up yesterday by police for making too much noise was really loaded.

Along with 26 cents, the man had these items in his pockets: A Roy Rogers deputy sheriff's badge, a Mickey Mouse balloon, 5 smashed tobacco cans, 5 wallets, 10 combs, 37 books of matches, 19 pencils, 3 ball point pens, 13 empty tobacco sacks, 3 pairs of glasses, 3 pipes.

A cigar holder, a pair of pliers, 2 screw drivers, an end wrench, 3 old watches — two without faces — a 6-foot steel tape, a 4-inch pipe with a 2-inch rubber hose attached, 10 empty cigarette packages, an expired driver's license belonging to another person.

A broken whistle, 21 keys, 2 car polishing rags, a finger nail file, a broken window bracket, a cigarette lighter, 2 pairs of ear pieces for eyeglasses, 20 pieces of assorted paper, a windshield scraper, a pair of gloves, a half box of wooden matches, several tax tokens, 9 cigarette butts — several with lipstick on them — and 3 note-books.

Mediators Act To Avert Rail Union Walkout

By The Associated Press
The National Mediation Board in Washington acted Saturday in an effort to avert a threatened strike of railroad conductors. Some 85,000 telephone and rubber workers continued their walkouts.

The NMB invited the Order of Railway Conductors, an independent union with 35,000 members, and rail representatives to confer with the board in Washington Tuesday.

The conductors, seeking a graduated rate of pay based on the power of locomotives, have threatened to strike at 6 a. m. (local standard time) Sept. 10. However, if either union or management asks for mediation, the strike will be delayed automatically for 60 days.

Tuesday's conference would not have that effect. It is merely an effort by the board to have both sides talk over the situation.

A strike would be aimed only at selected rail lines. The union said the board would be expanded later.

The communications workers are negotiating with Bell System firms in Maryland, West Virginia, Washington, D. C., and Midwest states. The union asks pay boosts of $2 to $3 a week and the companies reportedly have offered increase of $1.50 to $2.50. Some 130,000 workers are involved.

Cable cuttings and picket demonstrations were reported today in the 39th day of Indiana's telephone strike.

Three hundred telephones on the West Side of Indianapolis were cut off by the severing of two cables. Picketing was quiet generally there by a court order ruling out all pickets except members of the CIO Communications Workers.

But elsewhere, in Crawfordsville, New Castle, South Bend and Anderson, disturbances were reported.

CIO United Rubber Workers continued their nationwide walkout against Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. Some 25,500 workers are striking at eight plants in support of demands for an 11 cent hourly wage increase. Wages of production and maintenance employees now average $2.05 an hour.

Phone Cables Cut In Several Parts Of State

By The Associated Press
Long-distance cables southwest and west of Paris in North Texas were reported cut Saturday, the 10th day of a strike by 53,000 Southwestern Bell telephone workers in six states.

At St. Louis, where negotiations between the company and CIO Communications Workers were deadlocked, Southwestern Bell asked a special meeting with union officials, federal conciliators and Missouri's mediation chief.

Late Saturday, the St. Louis union and company negotiations recessed into individual meetings to discuss the situation. They were to meet again jointly with the conciliators later Saturday night.

Missouri Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said Friday he would order state mediators to offer its solution to the dispute if the strike is not ended by Sunday night. If a proffered solution by the state were rejected, the governor could invoke a law allowing him to seize and operate struck utilities. He made no mention of seizing Southwestern Bell, however.

Blocking settlement is a company-sponsored clause to prevent "quickie" work stoppages. The union has rejected this as a "no-strike" clause.

Lamar County Sheriff Dan Bills reported somebody apparently using tree pruning shears snapped Southwestern Bell's trunk long-distance cables running southwest and west of Paris. The southwest cable connects Paris with Dallas.

The company said 14 individual circuits in each cable were interrupted.

The first cable was cut 10 miles southwest of Paris Friday night. The west cable was cut Saturday 10 miles from Paris.

The company has offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to conviction of anyone destroying its property.

The Paris cable cutting incidents followed reports of violence in San Antonio, Lubbock, and New Deal, near Lubbock.

At San Antonio, three Bell workers who quit the union and went on working when the strike started said they were cursed and roughed up by four men.

Samuel David Garner, 23, Lubbock union member, was arrested and charged on a felony complaint of cutting a telephone cable. Police said a companion of Garner would be charged later.

It was reported at New Deal that a cable was shot in two, but no arrests had been made.

Twenty-three thousand of the striking workers are in Texas. Negotiations are snarled over a company proposed clause which Southwestern Bell said is to prevent "quickie strikes." The union called it a "no strike" proposal.

Legislature May Meet In Drought Aid Session

ROBERT T. PINER

DAN KRAUSSE
... Employee Solicitation

TWO CHAIRMEN NAMED

$74,144 Budget Is Approved By United Fund's Committee

A budget of $74,144 was approved for the United Fund this week as Campaign Director Jimmy Beale announced appointment of two major division chairmen.

The campaign goal, subjected to considerable study by both the UF's budget and executive committees, provides for a year's financing for nine welfare, charity and youth-guidance agencies. Provision also is made for campaign expense, contingency against pledge payments, and handling of UF collections through the year.

The following agencies share in the United Fund: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Salvation Army, Red Cross, American Cancer Society, Servicemen's Center, Milk & Ice Fund, West Side Youth Center.

Budget Chairman R. L. Tollett announced that discussions were held with officials of each of the agencies, and agreement was arrived at to hold requests to the practicable minimum.

No agency's budget runs more than that of the preceding year, and in all instances reductions were accepted, in view of economic effects of the drought.

Both Tollett and Beale said they felt the sum was one that provided adequate operating funds for the agencies, and still was well within the community's usual level of welfare giving.

"We want to make it clear," said Beale, "that this represents a one-time gift to nearly all the major welfare and charity organizations, and that citizens of Big Spring and Howard County will not be solicited for additional funds for an entire year."

Only the National Polio Foundation (March of Dimes) is not incorporated into the United Fund, because of national policy.

In the past two years, Howard County has contributed from $90,000 to $100,000 to its welfare-charity appeals.

Beale said that Robert T. Piner, president of the First National Bank and one of the city's veteran civic and business leaders, has accepted chairmanship of the Advance Gifts division of the drive.

And Dan Krausse, a younger business man who has devoted much work to civic projects, will head up the Employee Solicitation division. In his field will be a special campaign for payroll-deduction payments of UF pledges. Krausse was one of the executive assistants in last year's Community Chest drive, and Piner has had a key spot in similar campaigns for many years.

"We are tremendously gratified to have the splendid services of Mr. Piner and Mr. Krausse in these vital posts of our United Fund campaign," said Beale. "They are setting an example of civic contribution that we hope will be followed by every citizen. They are going to need help, and a lot of it, but we feel that as they select their co-workers, there will be prompt acceptance to handle a job that should be gotten over with quickly, for the whole year to come."

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Gov. Shivers said today he will be unable to accept the "Dear Democrat, $100-a-plate" invitation to attend the Democratic National Committee's Chicago rally Sept. 14-15.

"I notice they're arguing among themselves about who's going to preside at the meeting," Shivers said at a press conference.

"We have plenty of arguments in Texas without going to Chicago," Shivers said he appreciated the Chicago invitation but prior commitments made it impossible for him to attend.

Reds Pledge Return Of All In POW Camps

By STAN CARTER
PANMUNJON, Sunday, Aug. 30 (AP)—More prisoners came back from Communist captivity today in the big Korean armistice exchange. Some of the Americans whooped and yelled. Others were quiet but smiling.

Most of the repatriates on the 26th day of the exchange were non-commissioned officers. They were coming through now in large numbers as the exchange drew to a close. The non-commissioned officers had been segregated from enlisted men in POW camps because of their strong influence against Communist indoctrination.

There was a fresh Communist pledge that all who want to come home will be repatriated, including captives sentenced for prison camp offenses which the Reds have termed against Communist law.

The promise was made to Allied officers yesterday at a meeting of the Joint Prisoner of War Repatriation Commission.

Sgt. I. C. James D. Bacote of Philadelphia, Pa., was the first American to alight from the Russian-built trucks which ground to a halt today at the Panmunjon exchange point.

There were 25 Americans, 25 British and 50 South Koreans in the first group and 50 Americans and 50 South Koreans in the second contingent.

"Whoops!" one man yelled. "Go get 'em!" shouted another to his exuberant buddies.

In all, the Reds had promised to return 400 captives today, including 110 Americans, 25 British, 4 Turks, 5 Filipinos, 3 French, 3 South Africans and 250 South Koreans.

The number brought to 10,618 the Allied prisoners repatriated in the first 26 days of the exchange.

The Allies turned back another 2,400 North Koreans, for a total of 28,000 of the approximately 74,000 Reds the U. N. promised to repatriate.

A total of 2,159 Allied prisoners, including 636 Americans, are to be exchanged after today, based on the Reds' original figure of 12,777 to be repatriated. The list included 3,313 Americans.

Shivers Considers Teacher Pay, Too

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Texas drought may force a special session of the Legislature to help small cattle owners, Gov. Shivers said today.

His call for a special session probably would be limited to the drought problem, but the issues of teacher pay and state hospital and medical construction might be submitted, he said.

Shivers said he and school teacher spokesmen conferred today and "agreed to get together to discuss problems."

Final decision awaits further reports on the financial outlook and effect of recent and continuing rains, he said.

"The drought, despite these rains, is still acute," Shivers said. "I think the small herd owners are going to have a hard time this winter and fall than they've had this summer."

"They will need hay and roughage to maintain part of their herds." He suggested the Legislature might set up "some sort of revolving fund to secure the purchase of hay and roughage."

Most surprising aspect of the special session possibility was that the session might be called this year.

Shivers previously had said he would consider calling legislators when and if the U. S. Supreme Court upholds constitutionality of the state's natural gas gathering tax.

Such a decision would free revenue expected to total 45 million dollars by the end of the fiscal biennium beginning Sept. 1. Money from the tax now being paid under protest is frozen pending outcome of the suit.

The 53rd Legislature passed a bill calling for a $600 raise for teachers. This would have required an estimated additional 70 million dollars.

The money wasn't in sight, and efforts to pass a tax bill were unsuccessful.

Shivers said an uncompromising attitude on the part of Texas State Teachers Assn. officials prevented a solution that would have given the teachers some raise. The TSTA denied this, saying the administration had tied strings to its proposals which would have made the local burden of social financing too heavy.

Germans Arrest Red Agitators

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Aug. 29 (AP)—West German federal police announced tonight they have cracked a large scale Communist attempt to smuggle Red agitators into the Bonn Republic before the critical Sept. 6 elections. Police arrested 700 suspects at this border check point.

The arrests were made in the last 24 hours on five westbound international trains.

Police officials said it was possible that thousands of others slipped into West Germany before controls were tightened in view of the approaching election.

More than 250,000 East Germans have entered West Germany since the Soviet Zone regime eased international restrictions earlier this summer. Many of them have not yet returned.

Police said the first arrests were made last night after a check showed some East German travelers carried skillfully forged travel documents.

They said many were issued for Solingen where West German Communist boss Max Reimann is running for a parliamentary seat.

Police said more than a ton of Communist election propaganda material was confiscated in the raids, along with instructions for Communist campaign stores.

Italians, Tito Dispute Border

ROME, Aug. 29 (AP)—Troops of Italy were reported maneuvering along the Yugoslav border tonight in the midst of a newly heated dispute between the two countries over the Trieste free territory.

Earlier, Italy sounded an alarm to her Atlantic pact allies that Yugoslavia may be planning to seize the Slav zone of Trieste.

Other troops in northeast Italy were held on the alert in barracks, unofficial reports said.

U. S. diplomats in the Italian capital did not appear alarmed by the mounting Trieste controversy. However, an American spokesman said that U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, who is vacationing aboard a chartered yacht on Italian waters, had been informed of the situation and would be able to return to Rome quickly if necessary.

The reports spread after Premier Giuseppe Pella called in his defense chiefs for urgent talks and conferred with U. S., British and French envoys here. Pella sent a note to the Yugoslav government warning against an "ill-considered and irresponsible act" and said "the reaction of Italy would undoubtedly be that dictated by the feeling of the Italian people."

The 114th Infantry Rgt. and an armored battalion reportedly moved out of quarters in Gorizia on the Italy-Yugoslav border during the day and moved along the frontier.

Military authorities said, however, that they were merely undergoing routine exercises.

Earlier tonight Belgrade radio declared Trieste "remains a component and inalienable part of Yugoslavia."

The broadcast, quoting the newspaper Politika, said Italy is only waiting for a "favorable opportunity to seize this part of Yugoslav territory . . . then continue pursuit of its plans of conquest on the shores of Yugoslavia."

The junior high picked up 34 additional pupils, too, and Truett Johnson, principal, listed a new total of 810. This is 125 short of the enrollment at end of school last spring, but there are 173 who made out schedules then who have not been by the office to check

United States Decides To Vote For Mme. Pandit For U. N. Post

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The United States has decided to vote for India's Mme. Pandit as president of the next U. N. General Assembly, which convenes in New York next month. Officials hope this will help heal the scars left by this country's fight in the United Nations to block Indian membership in the projected political conference on Korea. State Department officials have been concerned that in winning a victory on this issue the United States might suffer losses in its relations with the Indian government and the Indian people that would play into the hands of Communist leaders seeking to extend their power in Asia. At the moment, Washington's fears about this seem to be greater than New Delhi's interest in the whole subject. News dispatches, which are understood to be in line with U. S. diplomatic reports, indicate that the Indian government and public opinion have not been very greatly upset by the fight in the U. N.

Diplomatic authorities in Washington, however, are keenly sensitive to the fact that India stands as the great non-Communist power in Asia, where the shadow of Red China falls ominously over a large area. Ties of friendship with India are valued greatly by these authorities despite the fact that the Indian government has many criticisms of the West and sometimes undertakes a kind of neutralism in the East-West struggle which Westerners find hard to understand. The decision to vote for Mme. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, sister of Prime Minister Nehru, was made according to authoritative informants, before the crisis arose over India's membership in the Korean conference. But it fits in with a widely held conviction now that the United States must do everything reasonable to overcome whatever ill effects may have resulted from the U. N. battle. At least two other possible lines of action fit into this concept, authorities here say. These are: 1. Efforts by the United States and other United Nation governments to make India's chairmanship of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission in Korea a full-fledged success. India, by heading the commission and supplying supervisory troops, is shouldering the major part of the burden of war prisoner repatriation in the later stages. The official feeling here is that she deserves full recognition and credit for undertaking this task. 2. Inclusion of India in any political conference that goes into larger Far Eastern issues outside the scope of the immediate Korean questions. Whether there will be such wide

Debt Limit Hike Seen As Unnecessary Now

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) and five of his colleagues said today a prospective two billion dollar spending cut has made it unnecessary for Congress to boost the national debt limit. One of the group, Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) suggested the savings may lead to tax reductions but Byrd discounted this, and Sen. Olin Johnston (E-SC) cautioned against economies which might "wreck the country's defense." Byrd, who led the fight that shelved President Eisenhower's request for an increase in the 275 billion dollar statutory debt limit, said he felt the announcement by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey of the two billion spending cut "vindicates Congress' action." "I think this action brought the administration to the realization that Congress is determined to have economy," the Virginia Senator said. "It brought in the results and there won't be any special session of Congress to raise the debt limit." Hunt said he saw in the proposed reduction of expenditures in the current fiscal year to 72 billion dollars some prospect of lowering excise and corporation taxes next year. "As I read Humphrey's statement, there will be no attempt to continue the excess profits tax after Jan. 1 nor to deny individuals the 10 per cent cut effective for them on that date," Hunt said. "It would be a fine thing if further economies were made—and I believe they can be made—which would remove the need for re-enacting some of the corporation and excise taxes which otherwise would expire next year." He noted that the government stands to lose more than eight billion in revenue if these latter taxes expire, and added that the international situation is likely to be the determining factor in any tax cuts. Byrd said, however, that Humphrey's estimate that the government will go about four billion dollars in the red in the fiscal year ending next June 30—instead of a larger amount previously expected—was based on continuation of the corporation and excise levies. The Virginian said also that the Treasury estimate of $68,300,000 in net revenues this year may be too high. He said it was based on booming business reports. Johnston said the Republican administration will have to take care of an additional billion dollars interest on the public debt, because of increases in the interest rate, before it can effect any further economies. "They can cut down on defense if they want to—that's about the only place any more savings can be made," he said. "But defense economies almost wrecked the country once before and I hope they don't make that mistake again."

Wild Potatoes May Aid In Developing Spuds For Table

DURHAM, N. C., Aug. 29 (AP)—Potatoes from the backwoods, real wild life, are pointed towards development of better spuds for the American dinner table. Dr. Donovan S. Correll, a botanist from Duke University, says that out-of-way sections in Central America and Mexico have developed disease and frost resistant strains which would help potatoes on U. S. farms. In his book, published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dr. Correll says that the potato had its origin in the Andes of Bolivia and Peru. Correll has gathered wild potato relatives in Mexico which are now being used in breeding investigations in the United States, Germany, Canada and Alaska.

Gamma Globulin Is Given To 50 Polio 'Contacts'

Diagnosis of Howard County's 11th case of polio for the year has resulted in inoculation of about 50 persons with gamma globulin. Youngsters who were in contact with the person suffering the disease in a local church nursery received the inoculations. The Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit's supply of gamma globulin was exhausted in treatment of the group. An attempt is being made to get the serum replaced from the state supply. Child suffering the polio infection is Rickie Lynn Ashley, 6. She has considerable paralysis in the right leg and some involvement of the left leg, her physician reported Saturday. Her condition was considered "satisfactory." Contact with the other children was made prior to the time she became ill. However, local doctors recommended that the available supply of gamma globulin be used in the inoculation of the "contacts." The supply which was on hand and immediately available was the unused portion of gamma globulin allocated for treatment of contacts of the county's first 10 polio victims. Sixty to 100 cubic centimeters of the substance had been allocated for each of the previous cases and a considerable portion of the total allocation had not been used prior to this week. Big Spring doctors and health authorities hope to get the supply replenished for use in connection with any future polio infections. The case of polio, the first reported here in two weeks, was listed among 88 other contagious infections. Others reported by the City-County Health Unit were diarrhea, 42; tonsillitis, 24; pneumonia, three; mumps, one; bronchitis, two; tuberculosis, one; gastroenteritis, six; strept throat, five; and influenza, four.

President John Simmons, Orange, said the directors also instructed the authority's engineers to find out what is needed to develop a master conservation plan for the area and be ready to report by October. Site of that meeting has not been set. The engineers and C. P. Smith, Orange, and Jim Cotton, Dallas. Simmons said a re-survey is needed because Sabine River floods last May were the worst in 93 years. He said officials of the group understand tentative plans for the Army Engineers to construct levees on the lower stretches of the river now are being considered in Washington. Simmons said the group voted to press for congressional approval of a pact between Texas and Louisiana to divide waters of the river. The treaty still must be ratified by Louisiana. Texas has approved it. Simmons and other officers were re-elected to their fifth terms.

The Dallas Times Herald Washington bureau quoted the spokesman as saying Tutt had "requested retirement and that approval of the request would be automatic." Tutt has worked for the government 33 years.

Area Of Suspicion Found Near Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 29 (AP)—The Miami Weather Bureau reported that an area of suspicion has developed off the northeast Florida coast today and a Navy hurricane hunter plane has been ordered to fly into it. The disturbed area is near but closer to shore than the spot where the second hurricane of the summer developed Aug. 12. The new area of suspicion formed in an easterly wave which extends from that vicinity across Florida and into the Gulf of Mexico. The wave has brought heavy rains to the Florida east coast.

World's Strangest Clock Is Ticking Away Again

NANTUCKET, Mass., Aug. 29 (AP)—It's the strangest clock in the world. Now, after more than a century of uncertainty and silence, it is solemnly ticking away again in the hush of the Friends' Meeting House here. "To make that clock work again you'll have to bring back Walter Folger," folks used to say. Folger died in 1849. As if he had built something of his strange self into his invention, the clock died soon afterward. A lot of people poked and prodded at it, but it was too complicated for them. The little-schooled son of a whale oil merchant, Folger obviously was a genius. He had a life-long passion to learn how things were put together and understand the forces that made them go. At the age of 20 he asked himself: "What is time?" Then, in answer to his own question, he built his wonderful clock, completing it that same year—1787. It is of massive grandfather clock dimensions. It tells the hours, of course. But this is what makes it unlike any other clock in the world: Each New Year's Day it records the number of the new year. It records the date of the month. Behind the large brass dial, visible through horseshoe-shaped openings, moves a golden disc—the sun—and a silvered sphere—the moon. Through all the changing seasons they reproduce the motions of those heavenly bodies. The model sun rises and sets each day at the same second as the true sun. Engraved scales show the hour of sunrise and sunset. The model moon rises and sets, waxing from crescent to full and then waning as does the true moon over Nantucket, this Atlantic island off the Massachusetts coast. The clock's complex moon mechanism repeats itself only once in each 18 and two-thirds years. Other scales show the angular distance from the celestial equator of both sun and moon—declination. It is called. Still another shows the 12 signs of the Zodiac in season. When death stilled the master hand of Walter Folger, no deft fingers could work the astronomical parts of his clock. Often those who sought to repair it only damaged it further. At last the Nantucket Historical Association began a search for a clock expert who also was an astronomer. For 10 years the

West German Voting Is Highly Important

BONN, Germany, Aug. 29 (AP)—Twenty-five million West Germans vote Sunday, Sept. 6, in elections deciding who will rule this critical area in the East-West struggle for the next four years.

During those four years such vital issues as German unification and rearmament and Germany's relations with the West and with the Soviet Union may well be resolved. There are those who call it the most important election in Europe since World War II.

Moscow's strategists, determined to wreck Western plans to the West Germany to the free world, are intervening in efforts to defeat pro-Western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov himself has publicly and repeatedly denounced Adenauer and called for his defeat. The Kremlin alternates with lures and threats to sway the voters.

The Western Powers are keeping hands off the election to name a new 484-member Parliament. But they are clearly anxious 77-year-old Dr. Adenauer, champion of German collaboration with the United States and Western Europe, will be returned to power.

The key man in the election is this poker-faced, stiff-backed old man, who has become a world statesman of the first rank in only four years. When the German federal government was formed in 1949, Adenauer, obscure former mayor of Cologne, became Chancellor (prime minister) by the margin of only one vote—his own.

But so great and so fast has been his rise and West Germany's in the councils of the free world that few people remember that his emergence came on so slender a thread.

Adenauer is the last of this great postwar Christian Democrat triumvirate who conceived and pushed the idea of European unity. Italy's Alcide de Gasperi and France's Robert Schuman have been tossed on the political scrap heap, at least temporarily.

It is Moscow's fondest wish that Adenauer go the same way.

The future status of Germany is the dominant issue in this second national election for the Bonn republic.

Adenauer espouses German alliance with the West as the best method of achieving the hoped-for unification of this divided country and rescuing Communist-held East Germany "in peace and freedom."

The No. 2 party, Adenauer's powerful Socialist opposition, opposes his program for alliance with the West. Although stoutly anti-Communist, the Socialists claim that Western alliance will split Germany forever. They want immediate 4-power talks to try once again to come to agreement with Russia on the unification issue.

This election, to name a new Bundestag (lower house of the federal Parliament), is considered primarily a contest between Adenauer's 3-party coalition and the Socialists.

But for the first time since Hitler lost the war, unregenerate Nazis are making a bid for a political comeback on a national scale. And their clamor is catching eye and ear of the world.

Session Set To Discuss Credit Problems Here

A meeting for discussion of general credit problems, planning organization of a "Credit Grantor's Club" and showing of a special credit film, has been set for September 10 at 8 p. m. in the Settles ballroom.

The program is sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association, and is open to all business and professional men and those directly interested in credit problems and procedures.

A 15-minute sound picture made by Dun & Bradstreet, titled "Credit—Man's Confidence in Man" will highlight the meeting.

Following this, there will be an open forum for complete airing of local credit problems, procedures and policies. Merchants are invited to present questions during this discussion. A panel of local business and professional men will handle the questions. This group is to include:

Harry Hurt, First National Bank; Robert Currie, State National Bank; County Judge R. H. Weaver; James E. Cape, Southwestern Investment Company; H. C. Morrison, Montgomery Ward; Lewis Price, Hemphill-Wellis; Bryce Wiginton, White's Store; Don Newsum, Newsum Food Stores; J. E. Fort, Big Spring Motor Co.; D. S. Riley, Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital Foundation; Alice Cravens, Little Shop; and A. Glenn, Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

Representatives of Webb Air Force Base also will be on the panel, including Major W. C. Whelan, adjutant; Chief W-O Lee Mitchell, assistant adjutant; Lt. Dennis McClelland, Information Officer; Major William Wright, provost marshal; and Warren A. Farrow, civilian personnel officer.

Hospital Staff To Get Shorter Hours

Most staff personnel at the Big Spring State Hospital will be working fewer hours for slightly more pay this week.

Effective Tuesday, the hospital goes on a 44-hour work week. Slight increases in salaries are expected at the same time. Both pay increase and the 44-hour week were authorized by the last Legislature.

Dr. Roy Sloan, hospital superintendent, said the 44-hour week will mean a reduction in time on the job for most hospital workers including ward attendants and food service personnel who previously have worked 48-hour weeks.

HENRY VII BLAMED

Scholar Says Long Dead King Innocent Of Charges

FELPHAM, England, Aug. 29 (AP)—A Sussex scholar wants to wash from the sullied memory of Richard III the blood of the monarch's two nephews.

Dr. E. Horsfall-Ertz said today he is certain King Richard III is innocent of the charges made against him by history.

"The evidence was so slight that if he was tried at the Old Bailey, the jury would stop the case," Dr. Horsfall-Ertz asserted.

For those who may have forgotten, Richard III is accused by many—including William Shakespeare—of doing away with two little boys as he could have a clear path to the throne. One of the unhappy youngsters was the boy King Edward V. This all happened back in 1483 or thereabouts in the Tower of London.

The deformed Richard later fell in the battle of Bosworth on Aug. 22, 1485, and Henry VII, first of the Tudors, became monarch. One thing seems certain—the two boys were murdered. Therefore, Dr. Horsfall-Ertz thinks he has solved the mystery which he created by absolving Richard III.

He insists Henry VII was the perpetrator of the foul and bloody deed.

"There is strong evidence that it was Henry who bumped off the princes and successfully planted it on poor old Richard. Unfortunately the Tudor propaganda machine successfully laid the crime at Richard's feet and historians have followed like sheep, spreading that story down the ages," he said.

The Sussex scholar placed an "in memoriam" notice in a newspaper and will repeat it annually: "Plantagenet—At battle of Bosworth, Aug. 22, 1485, there fell fighting bravely King Richard III of England, king, statesman, soldier, gentleman deeply mourned."

W. B. MCDANIEL

McDaniel New Vice - President Of McMurry

ABILENE—W. B. McDaniel, Dean of McMurry College since 1941, has been elevated to the position of vice president of the college, it has been announced by Dr. Harold G. Cooke, McMurry president.

McDaniel's duties in the new position will begin as soon as another man can be secured to fill the office left vacant by his promotion, Dr. Cooke said. As vice president, McDaniel will be responsible for the coordination and direction of student life and campus activities and special assignments from the president.

Dr. Cooke's announcement of McDaniel's promotion came almost simultaneously with another honor for the McMurry dean. On Friday he received the honorary LL.D. degree from Texas Wesleyan College in Ft. Worth, at the summer commencement convocation of that college.

In announcing McDaniel's new position at McMurry College, Dr. Cooke called attention to a number of outstanding advancements that have been made in the college's academic program under the dean's 12-year tenure. These include accreditation of McMurry by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, approval of the college's complete academic program by the University Senate of the Methodist Church, permanent approval of McMurry's graduate degree program and undergraduate program in teacher education by the Texas State Board of Education, and over-all strengthening of the college's curriculum, library, and teaching staff.

COWBOY ASSURES ALL HE'S ALIVE

Like Mark Twain, Bull Rider Allen Sparks of Robert Lee can say, with authority:

"Reports of my death have been greatly exaggerated."

Stories concerning his death were circulated in some places earlier in the week but Sparks, injured during the first performance of the Big Spring Rodeo earlier this month, was released from the Medical Arts Hospital-Clinic by Dr. Russell Mays Friday.

He was much improved, after suffering a collapsed right lung, a contusion of the heart and other injuries.

Scott Gets Harris Attorney Position

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Appointment of William H. Scott as district attorney for the criminal district court of Harris County, effective Sept. 1, was announced by Gov. Allan Shivers today.

Scott has been serving an elected term as criminal district attorney for Harris County, but the name of his office was changed by the 53rd Legislature. This made the appointment necessary.

Shivers also announced three other appointments. He named Harold Clark, Odessa industrial engineer, to the Texas Aeronautics Commission for a six-year term, succeeding Virgil Musick of San Angelo.

Dr. Don W. Tobin of San Antonio and Dr. Louis A. Blumer of Amarillo were appointed to the state Board of Chiropraxy Examiners, both for six years. They succeed Dr. Kenneth L. Rice of El Paso and Dr. Owen C. Murphy of Tyler.

Johnson Says GOP's Test To Come In '54

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate, said today that next year's congressional session will be a "pay-off" test of the Republican leadership. Describing this year's session "as a shakedown cruise," Johnson summarized it as "a few achievements and a few retreats." "It is a session in which a new administration and a new congressional leadership tried its wings in a previously untested atmosphere," he said in a statement. "The 'pay-off' session—the session which will really give Americans an opportunity to judge this Congress—comes in 1954." The Senate minority leader also said that most controversial measures had been "avoided altogether" or put off until the new session that begins Jan. 4. Most of the things accomplished, he said, were extensions of legislation enacted under Democratic administrations. Johnson listed controversial issues for the new session in this order: A long-term foreign trade policy; expansion of the Social Security program; basic farm legislation; revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act; formulation of a "bold, new" foreign policy; new tax legislation; a balanced budget and statehood for Hawaii and Alaska. As for this year's session, he said: "The great majority of the President's program was put through only because of Democratic support. Most of the opposition which he encountered was a opposition from within the ranks of his own party. "Many of his programs could not even have been brought to the floor of either House without Democratic aid." Because of the thin Republican margins in the Senate and House, Johnson pointed out that "the Democrats had it within their power to obstruct the administration at every turn." "No one can say that they took any undue advantage of this ability which had been placed in their hands by the fortunes of politics," he said. "To the contrary, they acted upon the conviction that the future of the nation was far too important to be jeopardized for the sake of a narrow partisan gain." Johnson said Democrats "retained their identity as a principled political party" and "opposed the administration when they disagreed with its policies." As a result, he said Democrats "achieved almost unprecedented heights of unity" of a "lasting type which can carry into the future." While "Congress was not active," Johnson said "important events

McCarthy Says Reds, Gambling In GPO

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) declared today there is evidence the Government Printing Office harbors Communist agents and a gambling ring which "poses the most serious threat possible to the security of the nation." Public Printer Raymond C. Blattenberger, appointed by President Eisenhower to run the big government printing plant, agreed completely that such activities are a grave threat. But Blattenberger testified that security has improved in the four months he has been on the job. He disclosed that 15 employees accused of Communist connections have been shunted to jobs in the Library of Congress, where they won't handle any secret material, until it has been determined whether the charges against them are true or false. McCarthy seemed to be hinting at one point that GPO would have better security if it would get rid of Deputy Public Printer Philip Cole as its security officer. Cole and Blattenberger sat side by side on the witness stand while McCarthy pounded questions at them. It was another of a series of hearings McCarthy and the staff of his Senate investigations subcommittee is holding in an effort to find out whether Reds have been able to steal secret material sent to the GPO for printing. Cole, a 30-year career man, has contended there has been nothing lax about GPO's security setup, while McCarthy has called it "fantastic." Today they collided repeatedly to the extent of calling one another a liar in somewhat strained but unmistakable terms. McCarthy's charge that an organized gambling ring is operating at the printing office seemed to catch both Blattenberger and Cole by surprise. At least they said it did, and they looked on with evident amazement when McCarthy produced a surprise witness. This witness, Carl J. Lundmark, a GPO hand compositor, stood on his rights under the 5th Amendment to the Constitution and refused to say whether he runs a gambling "book" at the printing office and whether he made $25,000 from it last year. McCarthy took the position that printing office employees who run up gambling debts might be susceptible to blackmail and pressure to steal secret papers for their debtors. That, he said, would "constitute a grave threat to our national security." Invited to comment, Blattenberger said he certainly thought a gambling operation "has a lot to do with the security of our department."

Drought Is Still Problem Even In Areas With Rain

By The Associated Press The problems of flood and drought continue to perplex Texas. A man in the Kleberg County farm co-operative office Friday seemed to point up the complex situation when he reported, "It's raining so hard we can't unload the government drought relief feed." Reports Saturday from parts of the drought disaster area—exactly half of Texas 254 counties now—apparently boiled down to this: 1. The recent rains, South Texas cloudbursts and scattered rain in West Texas, have turned some sun-seared ranges greener, and 2. Brightened small grain prospects. But they haven't solved the basic problem of drought. The problem looks like this, with some variation for local conditions: 1. In most places the rains came too late in the season to provide a good winter grass stand or fall feed crops. 2. What little grass has greened up shouldn't be grazed—rangeland may need years to get a good stand of grass after the grass-destroying drought. 3. So cattlemen face this question: How can we feed our cattle this winter? Gov. Allan Shivers' statement he may call a special session of the Legislature to deal with the drought brought general approval in the Del Rio area. And stockmen around San Angelo seemed to agree with Shivers that the coming winter is going to pose hard problems. Congressman W. R. Poage, Waco, charged Saturday that the whole drought relief program—as administered—was a "waste of money." He said it was a program handled with "fear and hesitation." Where cloudburst rains have sent streams swirling into towns, chasing thousands from their homes for a short time, brighter fall planting prospects were reported. Jim Wells County Agent L. E. Brandes termed South Texas a "new country" after the heavy rains, up to 15 inches in some places the past week. He said prospects were bright for a fall small grain crop. This same brighter prospect for small grain was reported by Marlon Badger, San Angelo, for his Tom Green County area. But he said recent rains didn't help cattle grazing any and only temporarily helped sheep grazing. And he said there wasn't time for feed crops to mature before cold weather. In the hard hit Big Spring area, Franklin Reynolds, farm editor of the Big Spring Herald, said the grass was a little greener in some small areas, but overall prospects were still "very bad." He said there was no chance for feed crops this year in most of the area, and that stockmen claimed it would be disastrous to turn cattle in on grass that is now taking on a little color and growth. Cattle are in a bad way for hay and

U.S. Mostly Hot And Dry

By The Associated Press Millions of Americans endured another day of dry, desert-like heat Saturday. No general relief was in prospect for the weekend, and thousands of refugees headed for beaches and woodlands. But in South Texas, heavy rains had flooded several cities and towns. The noon temperature in New York City zoomed to 97.3 degrees, a record for the year and the hottest Aug. 29 on record. The heat was tempered by a low humidity which remained around 30 per cent. It was the fifth day in a row New Yorkers sweated in 90 or better readings. Saturday's high in Chicago reached 98 degrees and sent an estimated 380,000 persons to Lake Michigan beaches. It was the fourth consecutive day of heat that set new records for the dates, and it was the 32nd day this summer with readings of 90 or higher. Indianapolis sizzled in 85-degree readings, the hottest ever for Aug. 29, and Portland, Me., had a new high for the date, a 96. The thermometer registered 100 degrees at Newark, N. J. A blanket of torrid air covered most of the states between the Missouri Valley and the Atlantic Coast.

Police Believe Car Used In Burglary

Police found a car abandoned on the city streets Saturday night which they believe to have been used in the burglary of Arnold's Garage, 201 N. 2nd. The car was parked on Rannels Street by the telephone office, police said. Men who were driving the car were being sought.

(Continued From Page One) after the armistice was signed July 27. The U. N. Command had hoped that the exchange might be completed by Sept. 3. Despite the Communist avowals that "all" Allied prisoners who wished would be repatriated, the whereabouts of a group of Americans who disappeared from their prison camps at the time the armistice was signed was still in doubt. Forty-five Americans who were sentenced to terms of as much as life imprisonment by Communist prison courts were reported by returning prisoners to be at Kaesong, North Korea POW marshalling point, awaiting repatriation. Among the 145 Americans returned Saturday were 36 tough sergeants from a special "sergeants compound" set up at Camp 3. The sergeants were captured during the bitter first weeks of the Korean War. They reported they were the last prisoners out of Camp 3 and said that the Americans awaiting repatriation at Kaesong now are men from the special sergeants compound at Camp 4 and officers from Camp 2.

21 Texans On POW Ship Reaching U.S.

By The Associated Press Twenty-one more repatriated war prisoners from Texas were aboard a troopship which docked Saturday at San Francisco. Home was just one more hop by plane or one more ride by bus or train, after bitter months in Communist prison camps. Thirty-two Texans were aboard the first shipload of POWs which arrived in San Francisco last Sunday. Most of them are home now. The Communists freed 12 Texans in the prisoner exchange Friday night (Texas Time). This made 166 Texans released since the truce. A love that was nourished by correspondence and kept alive for three years by six letters from a Communist prison camp was given new life Saturday. Sgt. Robert E. Hall, 22, was among the prisoners of war released Friday night in Korea. Hall had left for Fort Lewis, Wash., and Army service in Korea only two weeks after his Houston wedding in March 1950. All but two days of those two weeks had been spent in a hospital after an automobile collision. "That's wonderful news," Hall's pretty wife, Norma Jean, said when advised her husband had been released. She explained that she had met Hall while he was here on a brief leave in 1949. He returned to Fort Lewis but wrote regularly. "He proposed by mail and I accepted," she said. "He came to Houston on a 2-week leave and we were married on March 17, 1950. The next day we were in an automobile accident. We were together only one day after he got out of the hospital."

Arizona Officials Indicted For Fraud

PHOENIX, Aug. 29 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted four present or former high officials in Arizona government on charges of conspiracy to defraud the U. S. government through disposition of World War II surplus property. It also accused a former chairman of the Maricopa County Democratic Central Committee of attempting to influence a federal grand jury witness during the present session. The panel returned 45 true bills in all. The top names involved were: Fred O. Wilson, former attorney general; M. L. Brooks, present state superintendent of public instruction; C. W. Caywood, former assistant superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction; Lon Walters Jr., warden of the Arizona State Prison; Z. Simpson Cox, Phoenix attorney and former chairman of the Maricopa County Democratic Central Committee; A. L. Bartlett, member of the Arizona House.

Hot, Dry Weather Good For Squirrels

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 29 (AP)—The current hot, dry weather is good for the squirrels in nearby Mason County state forest. Because the timber is "a veritable tinder box," Conservation Director Glen D. Palmer announced there'll be no hunting there when the Central Illinois squirrel season opens Sunday.

SECOND BOATLOAD

437 Prisoners Of War Land In Frisco Amid Gay Welcome

By G. K. HODENFIELD SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29 (AP)—The second shipload of American prisoners of war—437 of them—came home from Korea today to a cheering welcome by an estimated 1,000 friends and relatives. Three military bands, fireboats gushing streams of water, and a pretty red-coated and red-hatted soprano turned the cloudy, gray afternoon into a gushing welcome home for the shouting POWs. The Army arranged for expedited processing so all 437 could start for home before midnight if they desired. Returning troops aboard the transport Gen. W. F. Hase crowded both the main deck and the promenade so solidly the big transport listed toward the dock. Besides the freed prisoners, the ship carried 1,512 other military personnel. Fathers, mothers, wives, children and friends, unmindful of occasional sprinkles, waved signs to attract the attention of the men on deck, even before the docking. A solid wooden sign said simply "Ready" for Cpl. John D. Reedy of Tulare, Calif. A larger sign, "Welcome Home

Grizzled Old Man Symbol In Rebuilding

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 29 (AP)—A grizzled old man—his hands clasped, his head bowed—knelt by the side of a dirt road today and prayed to "God Almighty to bless this great work." Then he got up and looked around him. Homes were going up. The withering morning sun beat down on the backs of volunteer workers, hammering, sawing, painting, building homes that had been ripped by a June 8 tornado. They worked for nothing and stopped for nothing, but they looked like they were enjoying every moment. "Love thy neighbor as thyself," muttered the 87-year-old evangelist, John G. Rutledge of Flint, and moved off philosophically down the road. Rutledge's spirit was typical of the heart-warming feelings behind "Operation Tornado"—a two-day project designed to rebuild 193 homes flattened in Flint's Beecher district. Launched with the Lord's Prayer, the project was like a page out of the Bible. But there were more than one carpenter, and more than one Good Samaritan. All told, 4,000 volunteer workers—1,000 more than had been expected—swarmed into the area when the operation began early this morning. From the outset, a missionary mood hung over the buzzing area. The workers wore determined faces as each singled out his assigned project. As the day wore on, everyone—including the families of the wrecked homes—was smiling. "I've never seen anything like it in my life," mused Homer C. Fenner Sr., of Flint, as he watched 15 carpenters scurrying around the roof of his son's house. Homer Jr., whose house was totally flattened by the black twister, was pushing a wheelbarrow; his wife, Louise, said she was "keeping the ice-water on hand."

New Clues Sought In Dallas Death

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Police tonight sought new clues to the identity of the slayer of Miss Selma Adela Ullman, wealthy Dallas woman, after they released a Negro yard man. The yard man has been the chief suspect in the beating death of the woman after bloody clothing was found at his home. However, police said late today he had been able to account for his festivities. Body of the 40-year-old woman was found in the hallway of her fashionable home by neighbors whose attention was attracted by mewling of two hungry kittens. They found her head bashed in, apparently by a heavy brass teapitcher with a long ornamental spout. The pitcher lay nearby, its sharp pedestal base smeared with blood and whiffs of hair. Time of her death was fixed at sometime Wednesday afternoon. The body was not discovered until last night. Blood stains in the fashionable Ullman home indicated a struggle. A meticulous diary may help police in their investigation. The fact Miss Ullman had a rare blood type also may prove helpful, they said, in tracing bloodstains.

White Expects Pledge Repeal

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 29 (AP)—If the Democratic Party does not repeal the so-called loyalty pledge, bitterly contested by Southern delegates to the 1952 convention "you'll never have another Democratic president," Gov. Hugh White said today. White, who plans to attend a party rally in Chicago next month, told reporters at a news conference he expects to see the pledge scuttled there. "The rules of the convention can't be changed at the Chicago meeting but a resolution can be adopted to present to the 1956 convention calling for the repeal of the pledge," White said.

Death Takes Hand In Patty-Cake Game

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29 (AP)—Death took an unwelcome hand today in a game of "patty-cake" between a young mother and her 20-month-old daughter. Still in bed, before starting the day, Mrs. Alice Jinks, 24, was playing the game with her baby, Christine, when she slumped down. "Come on, honey, get up," called her husband, Floyd, 30, a Republic Steel worker. The other children, girls 3 and 6 and a boy 4, were calling for their breakfasts. But Mrs. Jinks didn't get up. She was dead when a doctor arrived—probably from a heart attack.

Both pilots effected safe landings after the bumping at 11,000 feet and no one was injured. The planes, both twin-engine Convairs, had left Chicago about a minute apart shortly before 8 p.m. A total of 87 persons were aboard the two planes. This plane returned to Chicago and the United Airlines plane landed at South Bend, Ind. (AP Wirephoto).

WEEK (Continued From Page One) that here now. A small claims court, made possible by the 33rd Legislature, operates concurrently with the justice court to handle claims of $20 or less (up to $100 for wage or labor claims.) Dawson County's exciting reef discovery, Seaboard No. 1 Pettaw, may take potential test this week. It proved up 298 feet of section before encountering water. This thickness may indicate more than a small area with production possibility. Already a half mile south and west outcrop has been struck. Howard County's new home demonstration agent, Sue Milligan, has literally hit the ground running. During the past week she has been making a round of appointments with clubs and leaders to make up for time lost after Mrs. Eugenia Toland resigned several months ago. Year's plans are shaping rapidly. The grand jury last week returned 15 indictments against seven persons. Nine of the bills were against two defendants. Seven people, up on various charges, were no-billed. Initial paving equipment—two truck loads of curb and gutter forms—arrived during the week. More is expected soon and city commissioners are likely to give the signal to start work before long. The Big Spring school district and city filed a total of 43 suits asking collection of $10,000 in delinquent personal property taxes. Several of those named were bringing in receipts, and attorneys said this may have resulted from haste in which cases had to be filed to get under the deadline. Under a new law, after four years personal property tax suits may not be filed. Bus service to the north side of town has been crimped and may be curtailed to the southeast. Commissioners agreed to a 6:30 p.m. curfew on northside service but asked a two-week trial on the Monticello run after school starts. City bus says these routes have been operated at a loss. Labor swung its support solidly behind the United Fund last week. This is one of the most encouraging developments so far in efforts to pool most of the welfare and character building agencies in one fund-raising effort. Stanton got a doctor last week with arrival of Dr. George W. Dawson. This made it possible to reopen the Martin County Memorial Hospital, inactive due to lack of a medical director.

Iran, Which Was Once Oil-Rich, Is Now Oil-Poor; Chaos Faced

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

Iran, broke, desperate and in danger, is tasting the bitter fruit of an anti-foreign policy which halted the flow of her oil riches to the outside world. Once oil-rich, the nation now is oil-poor.

Fallen Premier Mohammed Mossadegh bequeathed to the country a legacy of financial chaos, leaving her in danger of becoming a pawn for whatever diversionary power game her huge neighbor to the north—the Soviet Union—may decide to play.

To the Western world, the aged, weeping Nationalist Premier left the vast problem of how to offset this danger, amid a fantastic mass of political-economic complications in which Iran and her oil are now involved. The situation for Tehran is full of a tragic irony.

More than two years ago Premier Mossadegh, on a wave of Nationalist fervor, evicted the British from the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. properties in Iran. Since then the world's greatest refinery, at Abadan, has been idle and the flow of oil to world markets dried up.

Now the Western world, which once welcomed Iran's liquid gold, neither needs nor wants the oil any more. In the intervening time, internationally operating oil companies more than made up for the loss of Iran's oil. World markets are almost glutted. Now Iran's oil becomes a highly complicated problem, with ramifications involving the East-West cold war.

Without financial aid, Iran could become prey to the strong Tudeh (Communist) party, the only well organized group. It does not lack for funds.

Western statesmen do not find it difficult to imagine the Iron Curtain dropping around Iran if her economic situation is not eased. The Soviet Union, with an insatiable appetite for oil and a shortage of petroleum, could use the vast resources of Iran, provided Moscow found a way to overcome lack of transportation to get it to the U.S.S.R.

But Iran could be of much use to the Iron Curtain bloc regardless of whether it could use the oil at once. Iran could be used to upset the political and economic balance in the Middle East and provide a stepping stone to extend Soviet influence through the economic threat which could be posed. It is not for oil alone that the West wants to keep Iran out of Communist hands.

Russia needs all the oil it can get. Soviet production in 1952 was 47 million metric tons. (A metric ton is 2,204.6 pounds.) The Soviet fifth five-year plan goal is 70 million tons by 1955. United States production alone in 1951 was 307 1/2 million metric tons, more than half the combined production of the rest of the free world. American oil and that of the free world goes to many civilian uses, but that of the Soviet bloc is all military, even to the exclusion of its use for fuel by many important industries. Nor does the Soviet Union export any of its oil. Moscow constantly is stepping up production by all means possible, for lack of enough oil could prove an Achilles heel.

Even though the Communist bloc might not immediately be able to exploit Iranian oil, Iran still would be a rich prize. Meanwhile, the Communist goal is to stir up chaos in the country, and with the natural contradictions of today's situation, some of the work is being done for them.

Ways out of the dilemma are being sought by statesmen in Washington and London, but it can be safely predicted that if settlement seems near, the Iranian Communists, bossed from abroad by leaders in exile in the Soviet Union, will go into action, attempting by any means to upset the appeacrat.

One way out may be the resumption of British-Iranian negotiations to clear the way for extension of financial help to the stricken country by the United States and Great Britain. The British express the opinion that the new premier, Faroukh Zadeh, might be willing to take up the talks where Mossadegh broke them off nine months ago.

C-C Board To Discuss Roads

Highway program in and around Big Spring will be talked at a Chamber of Commerce directors meeting at noon Monday.

J. H. Greene, C-C manager, Saturday reminded all directors of the session which is being held in place of the regular meeting which had been scheduled for the first Monday in September. Meeting was moved forward to avoid conflict with Labor Day.

City and county commissioners have been invited to attend the meeting and Greene reported Saturday he has received acceptances from several of the officials.

The Chamber manager said discussions are expected to deal principally with preliminary work of city and county governments in connection with plans for making Fourth Street a part of Highway 80. The city and county must secure some additional right-of-way and the city and property owners are required to have curb and gutter funds in escrow before the Highway Department will start opening and paving the avenue through the city.

About a dozen property owners have signed right-of-way deeds and put up curb and gutter funds. The city set up an installment plan for convenience of property owners unable to pay cash for the curb and gutter. However, few have taken advantage of the arrangement.

Organized Search On For Lost City

PUEBLA, Mexico, Aug. 29 (AP)—A newly organized expedition is searching for a lost city buried deep in Mexico's green jungles fringing the states of Puebla and Vera Cruz.

The city, said to have been centuries old when Columbus discovered America, was believed to have been headquarters for the Anchoa tribe of Indians, who preceded the Aztecs.

Man Killed While Working In Plant

HOUSTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Galen G. Briery, 24, was killed last night while at work in the Champion Paper and Fiber plant at Pasadena.

A plant spokesman said Briery's body was hurled from one paper winding roller to another, striking his head against one of the rollers. His neck was broken.

Plenty Of Fuel Oil On Hand For Winter

By CHARLES HASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (U)—Homeowners who heat with oil need have no worries about fuel shortages this winter, assuming it's a normal winter. That's the work of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) and oil industry officials. Their prediction does not rule out the possibility of spot shortages due to transportation difficulties. But, barring such local situations, there should be plenty of heating oil to meet all normal demands, according to the estimates. Latest figures show that total stocks of fuel oils on hand are considerably above those of a year ago although refinery runs have been reduced somewhat. On Aug. 15, this year, stocks totaled 110,727,000 barrels compared with 85,280,000 on Aug. 16, 1952, and 88,000,000 the year before. "The supply seems to relate favorably to demand," one oil official said.

PAD reports an increasing need for storage facilities, chiefly for fuel oil and gasoline. Both industry and government have been working on the problem. PAD has been urging the Defense Department to increase underground storage for its petroleum supplies, and the Air Force now is experimenting with underground storage of jet fuels in the Kansas City area.

Eso Standard has options on 11 slate quarries near Bethlehem, Pa., PAD said, and expects to try roofing the pits and pumping oil on top of water.

Industry engineers are looking at salt domes in the Southwest and some promising areas in the east with a view to hollowing out cavities by water injected and using them for storage. In the East some engineers are studying the possibility of using abandoned coal mines for storage, PAD reported.

The high cost of building steel storage tanks above ground has spurred the underground experiments, one official said. "If less expensive storage can be found—and underground storage is less expensive—we may get what we need to store up products to take care of seasonal demands," he added, noting that more and more natural gas is going into underground storage to meet peak winter demands.

The Bureau of Mines reports that world production of crude oil in 1952 totaled 4 1/2 billion barrels, a 5 per cent gain over 1951. U. S. production increased 2 per cent and Venezuelan output 6.1 per cent. Despite the shutdown in Iran, Middle East production climbed 8 per cent.

Garden City's School Ready To Open Monday

There will only be a half day at school for the youngsters on Monday, said Supt. W. A. Wilson. Consequently, the lunchroom will not be operated until Tuesday. Buses will operate on the same schedules as last year, he said, but the return trip Monday will start at about 11:30 a. m. so that most of the children will be home for lunch.

Starting Tuesday the starting schedule for schools will be 8:45 a. m. and the closing time 3:45 p. m. Wilson said that the faculty was complete and that instructions had been given. There was a party Friday evening at the school for members of the faculty and their families.

Monday's activities will feature a general assembly at 9 a. m. Thereafter, children will go to their classrooms or homerooms for assignments and schedules. Regular class sessions will begin on Tuesday.

Shivers Says FBI Didn't Notify State

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (U)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today the FBI has investigated at least 100 cases in state institutions of Texas in the past three years without notifying the proper state authorities. "And, as far as I know, nothing has resulted out of any of their investigations," Shivers said today in a renewal of his charge earlier this week that the FBI snoops into civil liberties cases without notifying local officials.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover has challenged the statement and asked Shivers for specific details. The governor said today a specific example was the FBI's entry last year into a case involving a 15-year-old girl who claimed she was whipped at the Gainesville State School for Girls.

Shivers said the FBI went to the school, showed credentials to the superintendent, and made an investigation. He said he felt the FBI should have given advance notice either to the board responsible for the school's administration, to the governor's office, or to the State Department of Public Safety.

The governor said he couldn't understand the FBI being so touchy about his remarks at Lufkin last Tuesday. He said the panel discussion of FBI invasion of states' rights at the governors conference in Seattle earlier this month was a lot rougher on the federal agency than what he said.

Cities Service Oil Company has plugged and abandoned No. 1-A University, wildcat in Central-South Upton County, at total depth of 1,910 feet in Grayburg dolomite showing salt water.

Location was 330 feet from north and 2,370 feet from west lines of section 6, block 14, University survey and 13 miles north of Iran. That made it one and one-half miles east of the shallow Crockett pool.

Northwest Outpost Scheduled In Terry

Three-quarters-mile northwest outpost to the Alex (Clear Fork) field of Northwest Terry County has been staked by Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company.

The project will be drilled as No. 2 N. M. Williams, 1,980 feet from south and 540 feet from west lines of section 13, block K, psi survey. Operations are to start at once on 7,000-foot contract.

Southwest Midland Location Is Set

Magnolia Petroleum Company has staked location for its No. 14-A John Windham three-eighths of the southwest of production on the northwest side of the Pegasus (Ellenburger) field of Southwest Midland County.

Drill site is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 19, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey and 16 miles southwest of Midland. Rotary tools will be used to drill to 13,200 feet. Operations will begin at once.

Borden Wildcat Has Its Second Test

A second drillstem test in the Mississippian is now underway at Double "U" Oil Company's No. 1-A C. E. Spindler, northeast Borden County wildcat.

The test follows one which had recovery of 30 feet of drilling mud only—with no shows of oil, gas or water. The first test was between 8,200 and 8,240 feet, with the tool open 1 1/2 hours.

Operator has deepened hole 31 feet to 8,271 and is now taking a test in the new section. So far the prospector has not had any possibilities of making a producer.

Top of the Mississippian is reported at 8,206 feet on a datum of minus 5.524 feet. Location is 660 feet from north and 1,550 feet from east lines, 464-97-H&TC survey.

Payton Offset Is Slated In Ward

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company spotted location for a northeast offset to a recently completed Devonian gas-distillate discovery in the shallow Payton field of Southeast Ward County.

The new test will be drilled as No. 1 Blair, 1,050 feet from north-west and 660 feet from southwest lines of the north 240 acres of the south 480 acres of section 5, block 32, H&TC survey.

The Devonian discovery was Luse & Ice, Dallas, No. 1-A J. O. Erickson. Stanolind No. 1 Blair will be drilled to 7,300 feet one and one-half miles south of Grandfalls.

To Be Or Not To Be?

That's the question that will be answered this week when a completion attempt is made on Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company's No. 1-A Tom Spencer, wildcat venture near Luther. This prospector was plugged back to 9,975 feet in the Siluro-Devonian this weekend, and operator is preparing to perforate casing for a test now. The total depth of drilling operations was 10,092 feet in Ellenburger, where recovery was salty sulphur water only. Zone to be tested is between 9,850 and 9,981 where 2,490 feet of clean oil was found on a three-hour test when operator drilled through.

SPENCER WELL PLUGS BACK FOR NEW TEST

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company No. 1-A Tom Spencer, central-north Howard County wildcat, has been plugged back to 9,975 feet in the Siluro-Devonian for further tests.

Operator this weekend set and cemented seven-inch casing at 9,975 feet, and zone between 9,850 and 9,981 feet will be tested through perforations. This zone yielded 2,490 feet of clean oil, 1,000 feet of water blanket cut with oil and gas, and 180 feet of drilling mud on a three-hour drillstem test while venture was being drilled.

Total depth was 10,092 feet in the Ellenburger. The Ellenburger section made only salty sulphur water, however, with no shows of oil or gas. Top of the Ellenburger is 9,980 feet, and well elevation is 2,707 feet. The prospector is 14 miles north of Big Spring near Luther. Drill site is 494.5 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 14, block 32, tsp. 2-north, T&P survey.

Lea Well Has Show In Devonian Area

Western Natural Gas Company No. 1 Willard Eldson, Central Lea County, New Mexico wildcat found porosity and oil stain in a core at 12,520-560 feet in the Devonian and is running a section drillstem test on that section.

This project had flowed 66 barrels of 61-gravity oil in three hours through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke from the Devonian zone at 12,489-520 feet. There was no water in that section. After the tool was closed operator reversed out an additional 55 barrels of oil. Gas volume was at the rate of 280,000 cubic feet per day.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 35-164-355. Location was 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 31, block 36, T-5-S, T&P survey and 16 miles north of Stiles. Projected depth is 7,800 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Wildcat In Andrews Plans To Plug Back

The Texas Company was running logs in the Ellenburger at No. 1 Mabee Minerals, wildcat in Southeast Andrews County, preparatory to plugging back to the Fusesman, which made water on drillstem test.

The water test was taken in the section from 13,282 to 13,410 feet. Tool was open three hours. Recovery was four feet of clean oil, 1,000-foot water blanket and 2,160 feet of salt water.

This project showed for possible production when drillstem tests were taken in the Fusesman as that formation was being drilled. No top has been called on the Ellenburger.

Location is 1,991 feet from north and 1,993 feet from east lines of section 32, block 39, G&M&B&A survey, 18 miles southeast of the town of Andrews.

Pumping Equipment Is Being Installed

Synland Oil Corporation of Fort Worth and associates, No. 1 M. M. Bruster, Northeast Lynn County wildcat, was bottomed at 3,786 feet in Permian dolomite with pumping equipment being installed.

This prospector indicated as a possible small discovery from the section at 3,763-3,770 feet. The interval had been swabbed at the rate of two barrels of fluid per hour, 50 per cent oil and 50 per cent salt and acid water. Five and one-half-inch casing is cemented at 3,775 feet.

Location is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 1274, block 8, E.L&H.R. survey (J. R. Bowles Survey), and two miles southwest of Southland.

Dawson Wildcat Preparing To Test, Complete

Preparations were being made Saturday to test and complete Seaboard No. 1 Pettaway, wildcat venture in Southeast Dawson County, from perforations between 8,000 and 8,098 feet.

Total depth of the venture is 8,203 feet in reef lime, where 5 1/2-inch casing has been set and cemented. Tests on the venture yielded oil from top of reef—7,885—almost to the total depth.

The 38-foot zone is slated for completion naturally. Meanwhile, an outpost to the discovery well was to have started drilling today. It is Seaboard and Associates No. 2 J. J. Peterson, 2,009.9 from north and 1,500 from west lines, section 40, block 34, tsp. 5-north, T&P survey.

The No. 1 J. J. Peterson is 1,346.9 feet north of the No. 1 Pettaway. Both are about nine miles east and slightly south of Lamesa.

Operator of the No. 2 Peterson was reportedly moving in rotary Saturday after the location had been cleared and roads built.

Another outpost to the discovery has also been staked. It is Furman Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Connally Esmond. This venture is a half mile south and a half mile west of the Seaboard No. 1 Pettaway.

Location of the No. 1 Esmond is 550 from north and west lines, northwest quarter, 45-34-5n, T&P survey. It is slated for depth of 9,200 feet or a test of the Pennsylvanian Reef at a lesser depth. Drill site for the discovery well is 1,980 from south and 1,500 from west lines, section 40, block 34, tsp. 5-north, T&P survey.

Petroleum Now Furnishes Man With 1,000 Products

TULSA (U)—For some years after the first oil well was drilled at Titusville, Pa., nearly a century ago, petroleum had only four desirable products.

They were kerosene, wax, grease and lubricants. Gasoline then was something to be dumped into creeks at night. Gas produced with the oil was blown into the air.

The nation uses today more than 1,000 crude oil and natural gas products. Most are made from what once was waste.

They're the result of the oil industry's research, on which it spends more than 130 million dollars a year in its own laboratories, more millions in support of college fellowship programs and other educational work.

Pennsylvania's Drake Well produced oil from only 68 1/2 feet. Increased demand has sent oil men drilling many, many times that depth.

A few years ago a 3,000-foot well was considered deep. Now holes have been drilled below 20,500, and good crude oil and natural gas production has been found under 10,000 feet.

As the oil search was stepped up, it called for newer materials, equipment and know-how. These demanded research into the problems of exploration, drilling and improvement of existing wells' production.

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. a major contributor in these studies, recently finished here one of the world's most modern and complete production research laboratories.

Stanolind started such work in 1938 with a single chemist whose work was limited largely to core and oil and gas analysis. By 1943, when it formed a research department, the company's laboratory work had expanded until 157 persons were employed in it, although until then they were in exploration and production departments.

In the new laboratory, some 450 employes work on new ways of finding and producing oil and developing new equipment. With costly machines, including X-ray and electronic devices, they strive also to learn how greater percentages of oil can be taken.

In oil's early days, only about 15 per cent of a pool's oil was recovered. This has been upped vastly, but 100 per cent is the engineer's goal.

One research discovery can be worth hundreds of millions of dollars. One of Stanolind's achievements was finding a way to force production from tight formations. It developed what it calls hydrate, a process of injecting under high pressure a thick petroleum liquid containing sand into oil or gas-bearing sands. It fractures the formation and releases the oil flow to the well.

Announced in 1948, the process was made available to the industry on a licensing and royalty basis. In the first 3 1/2 years after its development, increased oil production by the hydrate treatment was more than 300,000 barrels daily. This represented the average production to be obtained by drilling more than 9,000 wells.

During 24 hours of testing, the project made gas at the rate of 150,000 cubic feet daily and 90 barrels of distillate and acid water. After 10,000-gallon acid treatment through the above perforations the project showed gas at the rate of 60,000 cubic feet daily. No distillate flowed out with the gas.

Retainer will be set at 15,000 feet and the Wolfcamp tested above that point. Location is 720 feet from north and 680 feet from west lines of section 44, block 101, TC survey and 25 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

Signal Oil & Gas Company and W. C. Murphy Drilling Company, both of Midland are to start operations at once on their No. 1 A. J. Akers, a slated 5,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Terry County.

The prospector will be 12 miles southeast of Brownfield, 660 feet from west and 700 feet from south lines of section 10, block M, TT survey, (D. H. McNairy).

The projected destination of 5,500 feet is calculated to take the project into the San Andres-Permian lime.

Scurry Final Is Announced

Coronet Oil Company has announced the completion of a discovery well in northwest Scurry County for a 24-hour flowing potential of 28.1 barrels of oil.

It is the firm's No. 1 Browning, located 660 from south and west lease lines, section 574, block 97, H&TC survey—17 miles northwest of Snyder.

The shallow wildcat was bottomed at plugged back total depth of 2,200 feet, and top of pay is reported at 2,139 feet. Elevation is 2,558.

Flow was through a 1/2-inch choke, and the tubing pressure was 40 pounds. Well was acidized with 9,000 gallons before flow. Some 35 per cent of recovery was water. Gas-oil ratio is measured at 6,386-1, and the gravity is 32.8 degrees.

Location is 1,655 from south and 1,032 from east lines of a 77.6 acre lease in section 4, Horace Brown Subdivision abstract 1,065, about four miles northwest of Post and 1 1/2 miles northwest of nearest production in the Garza field.

Wolfcamp Due To Be Tested In Pecos Well

Phillips Petroleum Company was this weekend preparing to set retainer and test the Wolfcamp section in No. 1-B-A Puckett, project one and one-half miles west of the discovery well of the Puckett (Ellenburger Gas) field of Southeast Pecos County.

Last production tests in this project, which failed in the Ellenburger, were in the Devonian section from 13,010-13,030 feet and 13,040-13,060 feet.

During 24 hours of testing, the project made gas at the rate of 150,000 cubic feet daily and 90 barrels of distillate and acid water. Youths Admit Burglary Here

Two San Angelo youths Saturday signed statements admitting their parts in burglary of Tommy's Drive Inn here the morning of Aug. 21.

They implicated four other boys, also from San Angelo and in custody of San Angelo authorities. Capt. C. C. Aaron of the Big Spring police department said charges of burglary probably will be filed against two of the six who are 17 years of age.

The other four are juveniles and probably will be dealt with in San Angelo where the entire group is accused of breaking into at least three business places. One is on probation from the reform school at Gatesville, Aaron reported.

The pair interrogated here were to be transferred to San Angelo for further questioning. They were brought to Big Spring Thursday from Andrews where they had been arrested.

The boys also admitted stealing a pistol and a lunch from a drilling rig near Andrews.

The two statements signed Saturday told of burglary at Tommy's Drive Inn about 2 a. m. on the morning of Aug. 21. The boys said they and the four companions took a cash register from the cafe, carried it in their car to a county road west of the airport, broke it open and found the machine empty.

The sextet then went to Odessa, later to Andrews, Lovington and Hobbs, N. M. They were arrested just after leaving Hobbs on the way back to San Angelo.

New State Control Board Is Appointed By Governor Shivers

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—A new state Board of Control was appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers today under terms of a reorganization law passed by the 53rd Legislature this year.

Shivers retained only one member of the old three-man board, R. C. (Doc) Lanning.

Other appointees are C. F. McAuliff, vice president of the Texas Tire and Rubber Co. and former purchasing agent for the Texas Electric Railway Co., Dallas, and H. M. Lingle of Buchanan Dam, retired purchasing agent of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston.

The board of control is the state's purchasing agent.

members will serve on a part-time basis, employing a full-time executive director.

James A. Lands and T. B. Warden, the old members whom Shivers replaced, had voted 2-1 against Lanning this week on award of the state's tire and tube contract for the next year. There had been strong controversy over what company had made the best bid. Lands and Warden favored General Tire and Rubber Co. while Lanning preferred the Pennsylvania Tire Co.'s offer.

Shivers named McAuliff temporary chairman.

Decisions On New Weapons Can Renew Interservice Jealousies

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Development of fantastic guided missiles and atomic weapons is forcing the military high command today toward decisions touching the sensitive nerves of old interservice jealousies.

The decisions potentially are explosive—but they must be made.

This is one of the greatest problems confronting the new Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) in their near-future appraisal of U. S. defenses and the division of responsibilities between the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, JCS chairman, told a news conference last Wednesday that Russia's hydrogen explosion requires that the United States review its defense against such weapons.

The admiral did not say how far such a review will go. But the services already are developing their arguments at the Pentagon in anticipation of this review.

During the past week Gen. Omar N. Bradley, former JCS chairman, said in a Saturday Evening Post article that "the effects of new weapons are so important that they are beginning to shake the present divisions of functions between the Army, Navy and Air Force."

But Radford took a milder view. He said progress in the development of guided missiles has not yet reached the point to alter seriously the current roles of the military services.

The old Joint Chiefs reached an agreement in 1949 at Key West as to primary responsibilities for each service. Some military men, including Bradley, think the time has come when the agreement should be overhauled and clarified.

One Pentagon source said a decision must be made to clarify the Key West agreement as to primary responsibility for planning, research, procurement and operational control of U. S. defenses against air attack.

"The Key West agreement basically is sound," one airman said, "but there still must be some clarification in the field of responsibilities."

Some military men, including Bradley, have raised these questions which they say must be solved by the JCS sooner or later:

1. Who will allot the strategic targets between the Navy and Air Force?

2. Who will coordinate atom bomb missions of the Air Force and Navy in event of war?

3. Who will have primary responsibility in research, development, procurement and operational control of guided missiles used in U. S. defenses against air attack?

4. Who will have operational control—the Air Force or Army—of planes used in close support of ground troops?

5. Who will coordinate the air and antiaircraft defense of the United States—one now controlled by the Air Force and the other by the Army?

Bradley has said that competition and jealousy among the services have "become a drag on the application of the (guided) missiles to our strategy." He added, "Full cooperation between the services is urgently required."

Man Pays Fine, But Judgment Delayed

Paul E. Logue, arrested by police Friday night on charges of driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty in Howard County Court Saturday and was fined $50 and court costs.

Logue, who is stationed at Webb Air Force Base, paid his fine and was released. However, judgment has not been entered in court docket.

Sheriff's officials said Logue is slated for discharge in a few days and that the judgment would be entered after he is released from the service. Such a move would keep the offense off his military record, they said.

Logue's drivers license was suspended for six months in accordance with law. But he did not serve the 3-day jail sentence which is now required by law. The County Judge has authority to probate the sentence for a period no less than six months.

Juveniles Quizzed About Burglaries

Two Big Spring boys, both 16, were being questioned by police and Juvenile Officer A. E. Long Saturday in connection with burglary of Arnold's Garage, 201 NW 2nd Street.

They and another youth were arrested shortly after the burglary was reported about 11 p.m. Friday. The third boy was released from custody Saturday afternoon.

A small quantity of automobile accessories was stolen from the garage, according to Capt. C. C. Aaron of the police department.

12 Enlist Here In Army, Air Force During Past Month

Twelve men have enlisted in the Army and Air Force through the local recruiting station during the past month.

Mr. A. M. Burt, local recruiter, stated that five joined the Army, three went into the Air Force and four are Air Cadets. The number of recruits placed Burt in a tie for top position as a recruiter this month.

Army enlistees were Billy Joe Deasey and Jimmie Juan Nolen of Colorado City, Billy Lunn Richmond and James D. Williams of Big Spring and Tyra Gale Gentry of Lamesa.

Those joining the Air Force were William H. Wood and Eddie L. Jones of Midland, Travis L. Ross of Monahans. Burt did not have the names of the cadets.

Sheriff's Office Number Is Wrong

The phone number listed for the sheriff's office under the emergency calls section of the telephone book is wrong, it was announced Saturday by Sheriff Joe Slaughter.

The number listed under emergency is 4-5311, and Slaughter says that number has never been connected with his office.

This listing has caused some embarrassment for the sheriff's officials, Slaughter said. People think that no one is on duty when they cannot get an answer.

Slaughter said his office can be reached by dialing either 4-4054 or 4-5601. The number is listed under "Howard County" in the book, he said.

Occasionally all the deputies are out on call at night time, Slaughter said. If this is the case they can be reached through the police department. Slaughter asks that people call the police office, and the police can relay messages to the sheriff's cars by radio.

Deep South Wakes Up And New Prosperity Comes With Plants

By RHELMAN MORIN
CLEVELAND, Ga., Aug. 29 (AP)—Tobacco Road is changed and vanishing.

Tobacco Road was a synonym for poverty and despair in the South, the counterpart of skid row and the slums in the North. It belonged to another day, not long past. Today, they are paving it and grading it, and lining it with street lights. Its leading citizen, ragged Jester Lester, probably has a factory job now.

For about 10 years, powerful forces have been at work in the South. An amazing amount of industry has gone there, and waded a magic wand over buying power and living standards. The Southern farmer broke his chains. More important, a new spirit, new ideas, a totally new outlook, came with these changes.

It has reached down the byways, deep into backwater communities. Here is Cleveland, Ga., a mountain town, population 589 at the last census, slightly larger now. Ten years ago, the town was dying. At one time or another, it had four hotels, but three of them burned. The only bank was gone. So was the railroad. Worst of all, the young people were leaving as soon as they could.

There was no water system, no sidewalks, no curbs, very few electric lights. The farms were poor. The town was poorer.

"Cleveland was just a wide place in the road," says Temp Davis. "Nobody ever stopped on purpose."

Temp Davis is a Georgia Power Co. officer. His occupation—more a personal crusade—is to polish up Georgia and sell it to the world. For some years, the power company has been pushing a "better home town" contest. It urges the little towns to clean and paint, build public works, add wings to hospitals and schools, dig swimming pools, spruce up generally. Prizes go to the towns that show the greatest progress for the year.

Nothing like this had happened in Cleveland.

But during World War II, Jim Davidson, editor of the weekly Courier, began thinking. He is a veteran of the first war. He wondered about the new veterans. "I got to thinking that this town wasn't much of a place for them to come back to," he says.

With some others, he asked Georgia Power for ideas. A representative told them, bluntly: "The place is filthy. Clean it up, first."

They set aside special days for scouring the streets, modernizing the square, painting and polishing. Nobody was excused but the town physician, Dr. L. G. Neal. Later, when a bank opened, its president, C. E. Head, got out with a rake or paint brush.

A city election was coming up. The candidates had to pledge themselves to other improvements in a public meeting. They put in a water system, paved the streets, installed a new telephone system, set up a digest of tax listings, ringed the square with street lights, and—remembering the hotels—bought a fire engine by public subscription.

Chief of Police Jim Bryan got a new uniform, cost $157.50. It was expensive because the chief needs a lot of uniform. He stands 7 feet 4, weighs in at 338.

Cleveland won a "better home town" contest. What that meant in dividends of home town pride and confidence is incalculable.

The next thing was the arrival of an industry.

Last year, the Talon Fastener Corp., of Mearville, Pa., opened a factory here.

The story, before and after, is typical of what is happening all over the South. A consumer's market has developed. Industries are putting up branch plants, to supply this vast market at close range, saving freight. This is a major reason for the flood of industry into the Southern states.

As most other communities have done, Cleveland acquired the land and built the plant on a leasing basis. It is operating now.

Next year, another plant is coming to Cleveland. Ground has been broken on a lovely knoll overlooking the valley. It will house a branch of Ames Textiles, of Lowell, Mass.

The workers in the Talon plant came both from the town and the countryside nearby. Few of the 100-odd had ever seen the inside of a factory before.

State's Industrial Employment Drops

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Texas industrial employment dropped for the second straight month in July, totaling 2,668,400, and labor disputes increased.

The number, not including farm labor, was 2,800 under the June level, the Texas Employment Commission said today.

Thirteen new labor-management disputes were reported, 51 existing at some time during the month, counting those unsettled from previous months. A total of 6,487 employees were involved.

Nine arguments were settled, affecting 836 workers.

Turnpike Authority Named By Governor

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today appointed the following members of the newly created six-man Texas Turnpike Authority.

A. H. Rowan, Fort Worth oil producer; P. R. (Pat) Rutherford, Houston independent oil operator; Bert Fields, Dallas drilling contractor; Armistead Rust, president of the West Texas Broadcasting Co., San Angelo; R. L. Taylor, vice president of Sears Roebuck and Co., Dallas; and W. R. Boyd Jr., of Teague, a member of the firm of Boyd, Harvey and Wheelock.

New Equipment Added

The latest new equipment added to the Sig Rogers Sign Shop, 306 East 2nd Street is a new 45 foot crane. Rogers uses this equipment to install neon signs and other commercial jobs. A complete neon sign installation and repair service is offered by the Rogers Sign Shop.

Above, Mr. Rogers finds time to make installation of a television antenna for Capt. R. O. Franz of 1500 Stadium between sign jobs. Removing and installing air conditioners is made much easier with this type of equipment.

THELMA LOU TUCKER
... Faces Busy September

Miss Tucker Named Farm Bureau Queen

September will be one of those never-to-be-forgotten months in the life of Thelma Lou Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Tucker, 1420 Tucson, Big Spring, and a sophomore at McMurry College.

Next month, with her clarinet, she is scheduled to make a trip to Mexico with the McMurry Band, and on Sept. 4, she will be the candidate of the Howard County Farm Bureau in the contest for a district Farm Bureau queen which will be held at the Settles Hotel here.

Miss Tucker won the Howard County Queen title in a contest against four other candidates at the Amphitheatre in the City Park

Resolution Ideas Sought By Farm Bureau Official

Calling attention to the fact that the annual membership convention of the Howard County Farm Bureau will be held Sept. 30, Cecil Leatherwood, president, says, "The directors are very anxious to have members bring in suggestions that they think should be included in the resolutions to be offered in the meeting at the end of September."

Leatherwood says it is very important that these resolutions, or ideas for resolutions, be brought to the Bureau office at 117½ Runnels as soon as possible so they can be put in the proper form to be offered at the county convention.

Resolutions adopted here, and in each of the other counties, Leatherwood points out, will go to the state convention at Mineral Wells to be acted on there.

"The Farm Bureau is democracy at work," the Howard County president explains. "It is an organization run by the members, and the members run it through the resolutions they adopt at the county conventions. Every member has a voice and if he wants that voice to be heard all he has to do is to bring in the resolutions he wants offered or ideas on which the resolutions committee can write the resolutions."

He adds that this should be done just as soon as possible so there will not be any rush at the end of the month.

Leatherwood said he does not yet know where the county convention will be held but that he believes it will be at the Fair Association buildings. He said the county directors will meet a little later to decide on the place.

He said that he hopes those who have not done so will renew their memberships early enough before the convention to make them eligible to vote there on the resolutions and in the election of officers.

Hearing Is Slated Tuesday Evening On Zoning Change

Public hearing is slated for 7 p.m. Tuesday on proposal for changing the zoning of seven blocks of residential property south of the city's present downtown business district.

City commissioners called the hearing several weeks ago after being petitioned for the zoning change by a group of property owners led by Jim Allen. If approved, the change would be from residential to general business classification.

Affected would be all of the property along both sides of Runnels and Johnson Streets southward from Seventh to 11th Place.

Petition of the property owners amounted to an appeal of a zoning and planning board recommendation against changing the zoning of the area.

All owners of property within 200 feet of the area were notified and given opportunity to speak for or against the change. The hearing will follow the city commission's regular Tuesday meeting at the city hall.

Lemon Handcuffs Yankees, 6 to 0

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29 (AP)—Bob Lemon threw a 3-hit, 6-0 shutout at the Cleveland Indians today as the Cleveland Indians swept a three-game series from the world champions for the third time this season. Al Rosen, Tribe third baseman, hit his 35th home run in the 9th hit Cleveland attack on four Yankee southpaws. Not a Yankee got past first base until the ninth when pinch hitter Hank Bauer singled and advanced on a walk to Gil McDougal. Lemon's victory, his 18th against 13 losses, followed a slump in which he had won only one of five starts. It evened his record against New York at 3-3. The Indians, thumped in their first seven encounters with the Yanks this year, now hold a 10-9 edge in games with the last three coming up in New York Sept. 13-14-15.

Chicubs Beat Phillies' Ace

Schoolboy Gridders Start Lengthy March On Tuesday

Few Contests Slated Friday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
Texas' 890 schoolboy football squads start the long march Tuesday. At least 10 schools will play games with only three days of practice. They'll be trading touchdowns even before school opens. Championship favorites stick out like sore thumbs all along the line with Lubbock, twice Class AAAA titlist and with 26 consecutive victories behind it, again rated kingpin of its division. There are 20 returning lettermen in the ranks of the Westerners, including Jim Welch, the all-state fullback. Austin is expected to be the team in the El Paso district, North Side in the Fort Worth district, North Dallas in the Dallas district, Waco in Dist. 5, Ray of Corpus Christi in Dist. 8, Lamar in the Houston district and Port Arthur or Baytown in Dist. 8.

Veteran Ray is labeled a state championship contender from the Southern bracket, meaning Lubbock and Ray are favorites for the finals. Class AAA again has Breckenridge, the defending champion, as the No. 1 outfit. There are 11 lettermen back in Buckarooville with Ken Ford, the great quarterback, and runner Billy Denny offering offensive terror. Ford is a mighty passer. Breckenridge also has won the state title twice in a row but didn't have unbeaten seasons. Temple, finalist twice, should be a great contender again.

Cleburne, Gainesville, Texarkana, Palestine, Freeport, Edison (San Antonio) and Edinburg are other top contenders and some think Edinburg may be the finalist. Harlandale might uproot Edison in the San Antonio district. Phillips, Stamford, Olton, Childress, Spur, Monahan, Brownfield, Ballinger, Weatherford, Diamond Hill (Fort Worth), Graham, Hillcrest, Terrell, Mt. Pleasant, Daingerfield, Jacksonville, Jasper, Ennis, Cleveland, West, Killeen, Cameron, Brenham, Bay City, Albany, Edinburg, Falfurrias and Raymondville are top-ranked teams in Class AA. Terrell, the defending champion, isn't rated as strong as last year but there are 15 lettermen and Coach Leon Vineyard admits that his team will be good. He fears Van in his own district.

Wink, which won the Class A championship, has 17 lettermen back and again is to be considered a leader in the title fight. The team lost much of its blinding speed of last season, however, and may find the going rougher this time. Canadian, Springlake, Halo Center, Denver City, Iran, Sonora, Ranger, Merkel, Crowell, Grapevine, Clifton, Richardson, Whitesboro, New Boston, Edgewood, Gilmer, Cason, Newton, Groveton, Cedar Bayou, Franklin, Hearne, Llano, Luling, A&M Consolidated, Sweeny, Palacios, Crystal City, Devine, Benavides and Lyford are other teams rated of district championship caliber.

New Ball League To Be Discussed

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP)—A meeting will be held tomorrow to discuss formation of a Class C baseball league in Northeast Texas.

Double-Barrel Attack
Bobby Joe Walker, left, junior letterman, and Marvin Lasater, up from junior high, will probably split the San Angelo Bobcat quarterback duties this fall. Walker, a fine passer and good field general, was a regular as a sophomore in 1952. Lasater, destined to be possibly one of the finest all-around athletes to ever come out of Bobcat land, is a hard runner and learning fast. He may beat Walker out of the starting role.

DESPITE STRING OF LOSSES

Bob Harrell Optimistic Over Cat Grid Picture

By BOB MILBURN
SAN ANGELO, Aug. 30 (Sp)—Following 18 consecutive defeats over the span of two years, there is only one way the San Angelo Bobcats can go this season—up. Despite the dismal background, the new regime of coaching with Bob Harrell, formerly of Corpus Christi Miller High School at the helm has taken an optimistic view of the future. Harrell, following rugged spring drills, professed that the Bobcats, while not destined to be world beaters, would slip up and surprise some of the unsuspecting clubs on this fall's schedule. Most of the 26 returning lettermen have never tasted victory. The thirst is there. There is not one member of the San Angelo coaching staff nor of the team that doesn't admit that the opener here against Big Spring Sept. 19 may be the most important game on the 1953 schedule. Though it is not a district conflict, the game nevertheless could provide the local 11 with the needed stepping stone to victory. Harrell feels that if the Bobcats can take that first one against the rugged Steers, they will gain the needed confidence to cause trouble for the members of District 1-A-AAA. Only nine men were lost by graduation and all of the returning letter winners saw extensive action in last season's winless action. Harrell feels that the 20 seniors on the squad may come of age and live up to the promise they showed as sophomores. Augmented by a talented group of juniors and graduates from the junior high squads, the head coach feels he has the nucleus of a good squad. Last year's backfield of Lon Slaughter and Stuart Vaughan at halfbacks, Bobby Joe Walker at quarter and Albert Lavater at fullback returns intact. But Walker may find himself playing second string to a talented sophomore youngster, Marvin Lasater, brother of Albert. Marvin, a 160-pounder, was the shining light of the spring drills and while not possessing the passing skill and experience of Walker, only a junior, he is learning rapidly and is a much harder runner and better ball handler than his older competitor. The presence of Marvin in the lineup seems to have made Albert a much better player. Wrighback the opposing line to shreds in spring scrimmages. Vaughan and Slaughter should provide the breakthrough speed so necessary in Harrell's formation. The Bobcats will start the season with a letterman at every line position but some of the junior high graduates, if they continue to show improvement, may nudge the older candidates into the background. The main work of this fall will be with the ends, a perennial sore spot with Bobcat teams of the past. Howard Hardegreve and Joel Mayes, a converted tackle, showed up well in the spring and will probably get the starting call. Hardegree broke a wrist during the (final) week but reports he is ready for all-out play this fall. Bobby Smith, 183, and Mike Henson, 210, both lettermen, give the club left and experience at the tackle while Gary McElroy, 200-pound guard and linebacker, may be the Bobcat's best bet for all-district honors. The other guard post will be a battle among several candidates. Harold Wills, counted on for center duty, left the squad in the spring and left the position wide open with Glenn Larimore, a letterman, and Martin Mitchell, a rugged 185-pounder in the fore of the pack. While Harrell's basic formation will be the T, he worked the boys on split-T, single and double wing and spread during the spring. The quarterback will not be restricted to any one formation, the play depending on the situation. Center, the ends and confidence provide the biggest problems. The latter can be licked with a Big Spring victory. The success or failure of the Bobcat season may depend on the other two.

Angelo Netter Is Victim In National

FOREST HILLS, Aug. 29 (AP)—The National Tennis championships labored through a sun-scorched opening round today without any of the featured performers losing his head, and there was only one real flurry of excitement to reward those who risked a heat stroke to watch the world's leading amateurs perform. A bulky youngster from down South named Allen Morris gave Mervyn Rose of Australia, the third-seeded foreign player, a hard time for five sets. Morris, 20-year-old Presbyterian college student at Clinton, S. C., playing the grass court circuit for the first time, won the first two sets with an eyebrow-raising service and finally bowed to the left-handed Aussie Davis Cupper only because he ran right out of steam. The scores were 8-10, 7-9, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2. The match which had promised to highlight the day's program went to pieces. Ken Rosewall, the littlest of the Aussies and No. 1 foreign seed, gave Bernard Bartzzen, the left-hander from San Antonio, Tex., a severe beating, 6-0, 6-2. There had been some dismay that Bartzzen had not been seeded, and the expectation was that he would scare the tournament big wigs half to death if not actually defeat Rosewall. As it turned out, he didn't have a chance against the 18-year-old. Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, the Wimbledon champion and No. 1 American seed, opened with an easy 6-2, 6-2, 6-1 win over a fellow townsman, Morton Stern. Lewis Lewis Hoad, the second seeded Aussie who will meet Seixas in the semifinal if all goes according to script, was scheduled to start tomorrow against Fred Hagist, Berkeley, Calif. Tony Trabert, Cincinnati, the left-hander from San Antonio, Tex., a severe beating, 6-0, 6-2. Cherry Wins Canadian Title

KANAWAKI GOLF CLUB, Montreal, Aug. 29 (AP)—Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., won the Canadian amateur golf championship today with a 1-up victory over Don Doe of Granby, Que. Cherry, holding 29-year-old crooner from Wichita Falls, struck from behind with a birdie on the 35th hole and a par on the 36th after squaring the match with his birdie two on the 165-yard 35th hole. The Texan, member of the Walker Cup team, was three down to the 32-year-old Canadian at the end of the first 18 holes. He whittled away at the lead and finally squared the match at the 29th. But Doe regained the lead on the 545-yard 34th with a par five when Cherry, still five feet from the cup in five, conceded. The American sliced his drive into light rough on the 430-yard par four 36th. Doe's tee shot was straight down the middle. Cherry played a beautiful iron shot to the green, 20 feet short of the pin. Doe's second caught a bunker and was nearly buried in the sand. His explosion to the high green still left him with a 20-foot putt and he missed his par as Cherry went down in two.

Persons who held tickets to 1952 Big Spring High School home football games can get the same location in the stands this year by applying at the School Tax Office any time this week. Deadline for purchase of such ducts is noon Saturday. The tickets, good for five games, sell for $5. Those not picked up by next weekend will be made available on a 'first-come, first-serve' basis.

Brooklyn Bombards Cincinnati, 10 To 3

BROOKLYN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Brooklyn smashed the Cincinnati Reds today 10-3. The lopsided triumph increased the Dodgers' lead over the second place Milwaukee Braves to 10 1/2 games with four weeks left to go. The Dodgers' victory, insured when the league leaders scored five times on six straight hits after two were out in the seventh, eliminated New York from the National League pennant race although the Giants, 1951's miracle team, downed Milwaukee. It was still a baseball game until the seventh. Gus Bell, Cincinnati outfielder, smacked his 28th home run in the top half of the third with the bases empty and the Reds got their second in the fourth when George Lercben walked, was sent to third on Bobby Adams' double and scored as Peeewe Reese tossed out Roy McMillan. The Dodgers, who now have beaten the Reds 14 times in 20 attempts, had gotten five runs in the lower half of the third on a 4-hit barrage that included doubles by Junior Gilliam and Reese and Carl Furillo's 21st home run. SW Teams Open Drills Tuesday

By The Associated Press

The thirty-ninth Southwest Conference football campaign, with Rice, Texas and Baylor in the hot seats, open Tuesday with smaller squads and less veteran material but expected to be as riotous as usual.

The seven camps will draw 428 candidates among which will be 143 lettermen. The athletes go through two-a-day practice sessions the first two weeks then taper off for one of the earliest starts in history. Five of the teams have games Sept. 19.

As the uniforms are laid out, physical checkups made and the trainers get in their huge supplies of tape, liniment, et cetera, the finger points to Rice and Texas as favorites for the title, with Baylor a shade behind. Defending champion Texas, with few veteran backs but bulging with experience in the line and with a bright sophomore crop, isn't being picked for the title as much as Rice, which comes up with a senior team that was a whirlwind in the last month of the 1952 race.

Baylor, with one of the finest backfields in the country and strong in the line but not too deep, is given the nod as the top contender if Texas or Rice falter. Southern Methodist, with 21 lettermen including a flock of seniors, is another strongly rated outfit. Texas Christian is expected to be troublesome but Texas A&M is still rebuilding and Arkansas is virtually unknown, with a new coach and a new system.

The largest turnout will be at Texas A&M where 75 candidates will greet Coach Ray George who has lost 23 pounds this summer worrying, so he says, about Aggie prospects. He will have 21 lettermen.

Southern Methodist will have 69 out to talk things over with Chalmers Woodard, who came from Kansas to replace Rusty Russell as coach. Texas will have 66 while Baylor anticipates 37, Rice and Arkansas 35 each and Texas Christian a paltry 51.

First games Sept. 19 find only two teams playing at home. Rice meets ambitious Florida at Houston and Texas Christian plays Kansas at Fort Worth. Three other teams will be on the road—Baylor engaging California at Berkeley, Texas playing Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and Texas A&M tackling Kentucky at Lexington.

Arkansas swings into action the following week, playing Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock Sept. 26. Southern Methodist doesn't open the season until Oct. 3, traveling to Atlanta to play Georgia Tech.

BOB (HUCK) DOE

Doe Will Play In All-Army Tournament

Bob (Huck) Doe, a regular catcher for the Brooks Medical Center baseball team, arrived here Friday for a weekend visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doe of 301 Crighton Street.

Brooks recently won the 4th Army baseball crown and will compete in the All-Army championships, which will be held in Fort Sam Houston, Texas, Sept. 7-12.

The Comets' chief competition is due to come from Fort Belvoir, Va., which has Tom Pohulski and Dick Groat, major league stars, among its ranks.

Doe, who attended high school here, caught every game in the Fourth Army series for Brooks. Don Newcombe, the great Negro mound star for the Brooklyn Dodgers, twice hurled the Comets to victory over Fort Hill in what proved to be the pivotal games of the tournament.

Doe, whose contract is now owned by the Cincinnati Redlegs' chain, was the Comets' second leading hitter during the regular season with a .325 average. George Susce Jr., son of an ex-major leaguer, was the top hitter with a .338 mark.

Rick Marrs, a Chicago Cub farmhand who Doe says is a fine prospect, was the third leading hitter for the Comets with a .306 average.

In all, the Medics won 99 games, lost 29 during the 1953 season. The Comets lost to the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns in early season exhibition. The Medics won no less than six games from the San Angelo Colts.

Doe saw his last professional service for Mexico in the KCM League last year. He expects to be discharged Aug. 4, 1954, but is due terminal leave six weeks to two months before that time, during which time he will return to pro ball.

Huck was one of 18 Brooks players who earned a Bonus watch for helping win the Fourth Army title.

Ike Jackson Paces League Batters With .390 Mark

Carlsbad's Ike Jackson is in sole possession of first place in the individual batting race in the Longhorn League.

Through games of last Monday, Jackson was hitting at a .390 clip. Six points in arrears was Elias Ocorio, a teammate, who was tied with Jackson the previous week.

Joe Bauman, Artesia, remains a threat for the lead, though a distant one. He was hitting .373.

Fourth was Barney Batson, Odessa, at .364; fifth, Buddy Grimes, Roswell, at .358; sixth, Rick Gonzales, at .350; seventh, a tie between Glen Burns, San Angelo, and Art Bowland, Midland, at .348; ninth, John Malgrin, San Angelo, at .340; and tenth, Les Mulcahy, Artesia, .340.

Bauman continues to lead in home runs with 43 and was second to Mulcahy in runs-batted-in. Mulcahy had 125, Bauman 122.

Roman Loyko, Odessa, led in triples with 16 and Mulcahy in two-bases with 43.

Bauman had worked opposing pitchers for a total of 121 bases on balls.

In the pitching department, Audie Malons of Carlsbad had won the most games, 18, one more than Bobby Gregg of San Angelo and Len Ruyie of Artesia, each of who had copped 17 games.

In team hitting, Carlsbad was out front with a .297 mark, the only team over the .300 mark.

San Angelo led in team fielding with .690.

Wilson is expecting a lot of business in the next two days, since season tickets to Tech's home football games will be taken off sale Tuesday. After Tuesday, season ticket books will be broken down and sold as individual game tickets.

Season tickets to Tech's six home games—West Texas State, Texas A&M, College of the Pacific, New Mexico A&M, Arizona, and Hardin-Simmons—cost $18.60. They are being sold at the Tech Athletic Office in the southeast corner of Jones Stadium.

Seeks New Successes At Raton

LOOKING 'EM OVER

The second annual Howard College Invitational Basketball Tournament, a resounding success last year, will be played in the High School Gym next season. Scores of people were turned away at a couple of the series last year, due to a lack of seating space—the HC Gym will take care of only 600 people, where the Steer Fieldhouse seats more than 1,750.

Wharton JC, which gave the resident Hawks a whale of a battle before losing in last year's finals, 74-70, will be back and Del Mar will probably return, although the Vikings have a new coach. Tyler, always a National power, and Lon Morris, the defending Texas Junior College Conference champion, are scheduled to be in the field, too. Dates for the tournament are Dec. 31-Jan. 1-2. Calvert Shortes, Charley Howle, Don Stevens and Jerald Farmer are the players from last year's team who will be back with the Hawks next season. Lonnie Muse will probably attend Arlington State, where he can take ROTC training. Coach Harold Davis has four all-state performers lined up to attend here.

Last year's Jayhawk regulars will be scattered to the four winds. Ricketts Gilmore and Dallas Williams are to attend East Texas State, Bobby Maines, Texas Western; Chuck Warren, the University of Texas; while Casey Jones is in the Marines. He could have gone to Texas Western. Cecil Hoggard will take a baseball scholarship either at the University of Texas or Rice Institute, probably the former. Rodney Cramer will enroll at Sul Ross, where he hopes to play both football and basketball. Weldon McElreath, HC trackster will head for Howard Payne next month. Marvin Baker, who coached the HCJC track team last spring, will attend the University of Texas the next two years, working on his Doctor's degree. JC majors in math. Incidentally, Bob Carter, the Amarillo JC coach, expects to get his PhD at Columbia University this summer. Maybe you missed it. The East beat the West, 22-13, in Mose Sims' All-America high school football game in Memphis recently. Texas boys, especially Jack Throckmorton of Lamarque, did very well for themselves. Jerry Tubb, Breckenridge, blocked a punt that set up a touchdown for the West.

Brigand Will Run At Ruidoso Today

RUIDOSO, N. M., Aug. 29 — Today's track card at Ruidoso Downs will feature two races, the last two events on the program.

In the 11th race, down for 6 1/2 furlongs, The Mede, winner of both his starts, is sure to draw the favorite's role. He is top-weighted, at 123 pounds.

His chief competition is due to come from Eagle Rock, winner of seven races in nine starts in the current meeting. Eagle Rock hasn't shown a liking for the distance, however.

Brown Bangs, Bandana, Jerry Kellee, Wild Rice and John Vaught are other entries in the race.

In the 12th race, which will be over 660 yards, Brigand, the thoroughbred son of King Ranch's Depth Charge, will match his fast break against such horses as Moon Deck, Tidy Step, Florida Ariel, Brazos Bob, Lady Bob H and Flying McCue, all quarterhorses, and Crew, a leading thoroughbred.

Detroit Lions Win As 37,000 Look On

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP)— Dallas football fans should be convinced today that if Detroit's Lions don't repeat as national professional champions the league is the toughest in history.

The exhibition of offense and defense put on by the Lions here Friday night in a crushing 38-7 victory over the New York Giants was absolutely awesome. The Giants never had a chance.

Texan Buddy Parker, who coaches the Lions, said before the game that his team was better than last year when it swept to the title. He was obviously being conservative.

The Lions whipped the Giants to a frazzle although Bobby Layne, ace quarterback and passer, didn't play a down, and Don Doll and Yale Lary, the ex-Texas Aggie, intercepted passes to set up two more Lion touchdowns and Ollie Cline got the fifth on a six-yard run around end. Walker's only bright spot in the game was a 22-yard field goal.

The Giants' touchdown came in the fourth period when Cal Roberts recovered a Walker fumble on the Detroit nine. Don Gottlieb, the former Southwest Texas State pass-bug phenom who was the best chunker of the night for New York, passed to Dick Christiansen for the score. Gottlieb completed eight of 24 throws for 75 yards but had three intercepted.

The game drew 37,000 to the Cotton Bowl. Part of the proceeds went to the Dallas Salesmanship Club's boys camp.

TIGERS, LAMESA NINE MEET IN TWIN BILL

Ynez Yanes and his Big Spring Tigers hit the road again today, moving to Lamesa for a twin bill with the Lamesa Rockets.

First of two seven-inning exhibitions gets under way at 2 p. m.

Bobby Beal is set to toe the slab for the Bengals in the first game while either Jack Rogers or Bartolo Moncada will hurl the afterpiece.

The Rockets are managed by Bill Nix. The team is made up of college boys and high school athletes.

The Big Spring team has now won 30 games in 34 starts and boasts one of the top won-lost records among sandlot clubs in Texas.

Cats In Position To Lose 19th In Row

Should the Big Spring Steers inflict a football defeat on San Angelo the night of Sept. 19, it will be the 19th loss in a row for the Bobcats. The last game the Felines won (in 1951) was against Big Spring. Pecos High School, which had one of the state's smallest starting teams and certainly the T-1's smallest district champion when Carl Coleman was coaching there, will field one of the biggest clubs in high school circles this fall. Ben Peeler of the Odessa paper says Byron Townsend, the great Odessa back of half a dozen years ago, has drawn his release from the Los Angeles Rams and is trying to catch on with one of the teams in Canada. The University of Houston, which plays three Southwest Conference slivens along with other such powers as Tennessee and Tulsa, is boosting two of its boys, Fullback-Linebacker Paul Carr and Tackle Buddy Gillioz for All-America honors this fall. Carr is a Californian, Gillioz hails from Arcadia. Little League and Pony League backers here are confident sponsors can be found for as many as 20 teams here in 1954, a dozen Little League clubs and eight Pony League outfits. The small-fry enthusiasts have plans to build a grandstand at the Little League park, too. Why not have two Little League parks, one of them at the City Park? If 300 boys get to play baseball here next year, one field isn't going to suffice. The state of Oklahoma, which has produced some great athletes, has nominated Jim Thorpe, Louise Brough and Paul Waner as its three greatest stars. The poll was conducted by the Helms Athletic Foundation.

Only Five Regulars Still On Team

Little wonder it's hard for local high school football coaches to develop a football winner: Of the 11 starters on that great 1951 Junior High club, considered to be the best in West Texas at the time, only five will be out for practice this fall. And James Rollins, the finest ball carrier the B team had last fall, is supposed to be moving out of the state. He was a second secker here but has since moved to third. The fieldhouse at Steer Stadium is now equipped with a whirlpool, which will be used to treat sore muscles, injuries, etc. The school board ordered it at a cost of something like $200. Most football schedules are carrying the Sweetwater-Big Spring game as a Nov. 27 attraction. It is booked for a day earlier, or Thanksgiving Day.

In Odessa. Bob Jones, a big Steer tackle, will be issued the same size practice pants (44) as Tiny Ellison when football equipment is issued Tuesday morning at the Steer fieldhouse. Ken Fields, who played high school baseball here in 1951, will get a tryout with the Carlsbad Potashers next spring. He was a second secker here but has since moved to third. The fieldhouse at Steer Stadium is now equipped with a whirlpool, which will be used to treat sore muscles, injuries, etc. The school board ordered it at a cost of something like $200. Most football schedules are carrying the Sweetwater-Big Spring game as a Nov. 27 attraction. It is booked for a day earlier, or Thanksgiving Day.

22nd Annual Big Spring Tourney To Open Friday

Local and area linksters can start qualifying today at the Country Club for the 22nd annual Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament, which starts next Friday and extends through Labor Day.

Bobby Maxwell is the defending champion and one of the favorites to repeat. He beat Elton Dezer, Big Spring, in last year's finale, 3 and 2.

It will be one of Bob's farewell appearances, since he leaves for military duty the latter part of the month.

The course isn't in its best shape, due to the drought. However, the greens are in excellent condition. They have been watered regularly throughout the year.

C. A. DeWess, County Club pro, will be starting his first tournament since arriving here several months ago to begin his duties. Shirley Robbins, now of Midland, served as tournament starter for more than a dozen years.

Only those who qualify Friday become eligible for the medal.

Model Prepares For Bullfighting Career

By JACK RUTLEDGE
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 29 (AP)—Beautiful New York models get bitten by many bugs—the stage career bug, the television bug, the marriage bug with a home and kids in the country bug.

But the strangest bug ever to bite a shapely brunette from the Madison Avenue circuit is what is known down here as "mal de montera." Its victim is stricken by an overwhelming desire to become a bullfighter.

It's the bug which bit 23-year-old Bette Ford, who stands 5 feet 3 and weighs 115 pounds. She comes from McKeesport, Pa.

For four years Bette modeled for a noted bathing suit manufacturer. She appeared in radio shows like "Pepper Young's Family" and "Modern Romances," on such TV programs as the "Jimmy Durante Show," "Texaco Star Theater," "Star Theater" and "Ford Theater."

But she couldn't forget a modeling assignment to Bogota, Colombia, where somebody coaxed her into seeing a bullfight. That was where the bug bit her.

She read all she could about the sport—"art," she calls it. She collected gaudy Spanish bullfight posters and plastered them on the walls of her apartment.

Not long ago she made the big break. She turned down a movie contract and came to Mexico City to study the profession of bullfighting.

A pretty American matador is a ready-made drawing card for the plazas of Mexico. But Bette is refusing all offers until she is certain she's ready.

"I want to be really good before I start fighting," she says.

Her teacher is Alfredo Aguilar, one of the most respected men in the profession. Several others of importance are convinced of her ability and sincerity.

She trains hard, studies hard, visits ranches where she practices with calves and larger animals. Almost daily she and Aguilar work out in an empty ring.

Her teachers think she'll be ready for her first fight in about eight months.

Other American girls have turned to bullfighting recently, though none abandoned a promising theatrical career as Bette did.

Pat McCormick of Big Spring, Tex., has been appearing for some time in border rings. She was gored recently, but plans to return to the arena. Mexican matadors are impressed by her courage. Tuscon-born Georgiana Knowles made her debut here earlier this month and won cheers. Sloane Simpson O'Dwyer, who got the idea here, has been practicing lately in Spain.

Mrs. True Bowen, an American from Cleveland who has become one of Mexico's most authoritative critics of bullfighting, says of Bette Ford:

"She has the rhythm, the gracefulness, the artistry and the personality of a great matador-in-the-making."

Sooner Phone Lines Are Cut

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 29 (AP)—Long distance service of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was disrupted temporarily at several cities today and the company offered a $5,000 reward for conviction of anyone destroying the firm's property.

Company officials said a cable was cut at Sapulpa disrupting service in the Tulsa area. Service between Tulsa and Oklahoma City and Tulsa and Henryetta was partially cut off but was restored later by splicing wires.

At Lawton telephone wire was woven into long distance cables, temporarily cutting that city off from all outside calls, a company official said.

Southwestern Bell employees have been on strike for 10 days while negotiations have gone on in St. Louis, company headquarters, between the firm and the Communications Workers of America (CWA) union. There have been no previous incidents in Oklahoma.

Referring to the Lawton incident, Harvey E. Rhodes, public relations director for Bell in Oklahoma, said:

"It was done by someone who knew just what they wanted."

Texsa Rural Power Cooperative Meet Set

MINERAL WELLS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Rep. Sam Rayburn and Douglas Wright of Tulsa, head of the Southwestern Power Administration, will speak at the 13th annual membership meeting of the Texas Power Reserve Electric Cooperative Inc. here Sept. 3-4.

The cooperative is an association of 77 rural electric cooperatives. The meeting will attract some 400 persons, mostly managers and directors of the co-ops.

R. A. LIPSCOMB

Lions' District Governor Will Visit Club Here

R. A. Lipscomb, Wink, will begin his official visits to Lions Clubs in district 3-T-2 here Wednesday with an appearance before the club which fostered one of its own members as a candidate for the governorship.

In the forefront of those welcoming him will be Jack Y. Smith, whom Lipscomb nosed out in halloing at the district convention. Both Lipscomb and Smith have long records of service in the district and are old friends.

Although Lipscomb took office officially after the international convention in Chicago more than a month ago, he is this week beginning his official visits with the clubs in the district which extends from Snyder to El Paso, from Alpine to Lamesa.

In addition to being superintendent of schools at Wink, Lipscomb also is president of that city's bank. He has held practically all the offices in the Wink Club, has served as cabinet secretary of the district as well as zone chairman and district deputy. In his capacity as governor, he is council chairman of the Lions governors for Texas.

He holds the senior master key (for new members) and has a perfect attendance record for 11 years. Lipscomb is a Scottish Rite Mason and is a member of the Baptist church. He and Mrs. Lipscomb have one son, aged 17.

Roxie E. Dobbins, president of the Big Spring Lions Club, said efforts were being exerted to have as near perfect attendance as possible for the governor.

License Examiners Make Double Trade

Felton Wilson, who has been drivers license examiner here for the past two years, completed his last day on duty Saturday. He has been transferred to the San Angelo office.

Taking Wilson's place here is Sandy Hightower, who has been stationed San Angelo. The two are not only trading jobs, but are also swapping apartments.

Laughlin Case Swings To His Defense Next

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Testimony in removal proceedings against Dist. Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice swings to his defense next week.

The shift follows nine full days of prosecution testimony alleging that numerous official actions of the South Texas jurist have been tied in one way or another to political "strong-arm" forces and violate ethical and lawful standards. All through the hearing defense counsel C. C. Small Sr., has raised repeated objections to testimony of happenings beyond Laughlin's sight and hearing.

Laughlin cannot be responsible, Small has contended, for actions he knew nothing of.

Some of the objections have been sustained, some overruled. Testimony last week dug deep into affairs of South Texas' political factions. Witnesses told that Laughlin had support of Starr County's Old Party openly and New Party secretly in addition to political boss George Parr's backing in last year's elections.

Party struggles for power, vote trades, pressures and reprisals were narrated in minute detail.

One witness, Jim Wells County Commissioner W. R. (Buster) Perkins of Alice testified Laughlin "conspired" with Duval County political forces in the use of hired gunmen in the 1950 elections.

An cross-examination, he said he did not link Laughlin "personally" with the gunmen, however.

An Old Party leader, Joe C. Guerra, mayor of Roma, testified Laughlin told him of being under a "terrible obligation" to New Party leader Manuel Raymond of Laredo for tipping him off to get out of the state last December to avoid arrest and an attempt to keep him out of office.

Much of the week's testimony revolved around a Jim Wells County grand jury and its investigation into the "mistake" slaying of Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd Jr., son of an active political foe of George Parr.

Jury foreman Daen Allen of Alice told of trying to get Laughlin to call the jury back after the judge discharged it as his first act in office. Efforts were taken to the Supreme Court after Laughlin refused, he said.

Dist. Atty. Bill Allcorn of Brownwood, who worked with the grand jury in its investigation of the killing after the jury's recall, said Laughlin was "hostile" toward the jury on three occasions and delayed its work.

794 To Start In First Grade

Records in the office of County Superintendent of Schools Walker Bailey reveal that some 794 first graders will enter public schools in Howard County this year.

The total number of first year students in Big Spring public schools total 680, according to the records. Of these, 303 are boys, 299 are girls and 29 are Negroes.

Coshoma will have 45 first graders, Knott 18 and Forsan 13. Breakdown as to common school districts shows Gay Hill with 11, Center Point with 15, Midway with 13, Elbow with 7, Lomax with 4, and Vealmoor with 8.

These records are based on the census reports taken this year.

PHONE CALL FROM MASTER CURES CANINE

Earl Read, who operates the Read Hotel here, credits the telephone with saving the life of his dog, Peggy.

Read recently took a vacation trip to Cleveland, Ohio, and New York City, and while he was gone Peggy got sick. He received a wire to the effect that Peggy was going to die.

So convinced was he that Peggy was about to die, that Read made arrangements for a statue to be made of his pet. And he decided to make a telephone call to "tell her goodbye."

The receiver was put to Peggy's ear and Read talked to her. "I said some of the nicest things I ever said to anybody over that 'hone," he said.

Several days later Read got a telegram in New York informing him that Peggy was getting well and had been improving "rapidly" since the phone call. The 13-year-old English fox-terrier is now in perfect health, he said.

Wasted Effort

PERTH, Australia, Aug. 29 (AP)—For 20 years W. A. Jones carried water for washing and drinking 20 miles to his wheat farm near Latham. Recently his son bored for water beside the house—and found an ample supply 80 feet down.

W. M. Lankfords Are An Outdoor Family

The blaze of a camp fire and the fresh air that goes with camping out always mean a good time for the W. M. Lankford family because, as Mrs. Lankford puts it, "We're really an outdoor family." Fine hunting, fishing and camping grounds in Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona have attracted the Lankfords for many a vacation and they've especially enjoyed sightseeing in the national parks. Joyce, 14, and Wayne, 17, don't wait till summer vacations to enjoy the out-of-doors, however, as they're sports enthusiasts all year long. Wayne played football on the high school football team in Electra, where the family lived before they moved to Big Spring four weeks ago. Joyce's favorite sport is volleyball.

Joyce also belonged to the Future Homemakers of America. She will be a sophomore and Wayne a senior at Big Spring High School. Lankford is a Mason and had just been elected master of the Blue Lodge in Electra. He is transport truck supervisor for Magnolia Petroleum Co.

Distinctive tables and a floor lamp, all made with standards of cactus wood, are Mrs. Lankford's artistic touch to the family home at 807 Gregg. She has also done some work with painting ceramic figurines.

Degree Awarded To Huey Dyson Rogers

Huey Dyson Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rogers, received a B. S. degree in agricultural engineering from Texas Tech at the conclusion of the summer session. He was also commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the Air Force and will be a student officer at Hondo AFB after processing at Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

Friendship Night Set

The Order of Eastern Star will have Friendship Night Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. All members are urged to attend.

Having Any Luck?

No, not very much, Joyce Lankford admits as she fiddles with the dial of the family television set, which they brought with them when they moved here from Electra. But the only help she gets from her family are some sympathetic grins. Looking on, from left to right, are her father, W. M. Lankford; Wayne and Mrs. Lankford.

Servicemen's Center Has Watermelon Feed

A watermelon feed for the colored personnel of Webb AFB, their wives and dates, was sponsored by the Servicemen's Center Thursday night. About 100 people enjoyed the party held on scenic Mountain. Watermelons were contributed by Piggy Wigly, Furr Food Store and H. P. Wooten Produce. An Airman's dance was held Friday night at the Settles, with the Skyliners furnishing music. Members of the Girls Service Organization were present. The ballroom on this occasion, as it has been for other Servicemen's dances, was provided through courtesy of the Settles management.

There will be a dance next Thursday evening at the Crystal Ballroom, 504 NW 4th Street, with the Skyliners playing. The party will be informal, and airmen, their wives and dates are invited to attend.

Thanks to the generosity of several citizens, the Servicemen's Center now has an electric refrigerator, a 48-cup coffee urn and a large punch bowl with cups. The refrigerator was loaned by Hilburn's Appliance, and the coffee urn and punch set were contributed by the Altrusa Club. The items are greatly appreciated by hostesses and airmen alike.

Hostesses for the coming week are: Monday, the Garden Club; Tuesday, Ada Bell Dement Club; Wednesday, 1948 Hyperion Club; Thursday, Ever-Ready Civic & Art Club; Friday, Music Study Club; Saturday afternoon, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority; Saturday night, BPO Does; Sunday, Ladies of the Lutheran Church.

Clubs and hostesses serving during the past week were: Monday, 1930 Hyperion Club with Mrs. B. L. LeFever as hostess; Tuesday, Ever-Ready Civic & Art Club with Mrs. Clemmie Johnson as hostess; Wednesday, Modern Woman's Forum, with Mrs. J. P. Dodge and Mrs. W. F. Taylor as hostesses; Saturday night, members of the Altrusa Club. The Center was closed Thursday and Friday nights because of parties elsewhere.

Last Sunday, ladies of the Episcopal Church served refreshments from 3 to 7 p.m. Hostesses were Mrs. Mort Denton, Mrs. John Hodges, Mrs. Ray Clark and Mrs. Tom Ashley.

Dirndl Over Sheath Stretches Wardrobe

Here's an easy way to brighten and stretch your wardrobe. Make a colorful print dirndl to be worn over your favorite solid color sheath. Make this unusual "over skirt" yourself from a cool, lightweight printed fabric. Choose a print of silk or rayon whose predominant color accents the shade of your straight-cut sheath.

Get two yards (or less, depending on the fullness preferred). Put a half-inch hem on each selvage. Figure at least an inch-wide waistband, with the same width band extending into a 24-inch long tie-sash. Double the waistband fabric, then tuck and stitch the print into a softly full skirt. Hem the bottom according to your regular dress length. Tie the colorful print dirndl around you, as you would an apron. The hemmed selvage edges should barely meet down the back.

Girls Learn Craft

Teen-age girls at Girls' Town Orphanage in Taylor County, Kentucky, have learned a new craft which they hope to make a source of income. The girls are making braided wool rugs which are bright accents for wood floors, and which they plan to sell.

Slenderizer

Tailored and soft touches teamed in a slimming, shoulder-pleated dress which comes in a wide range of "hard to find" larger sizes. (Sleeve and neckline choice, included in the pattern.) No. 2462 is cut in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 18 takes 3 1/2 yds. 39-in. fabric. Send 30 cents for PATTERN with Name, Address, Style Number and Size. Address: PATTERN BUREAU, Big Spring Herald, Box 42, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y.

Patterns ready to fill orders immediately. For special handling of order via first class mail include an extra 5 cents per pattern.

Bath Can Be Fun For Small Fry

Why make your child's bath a miserable chore? The daily sudsing can be a lot of fun if Mom uses her noggin. But the mother who makes the bath a big bug-a-boo with such advance comments as "Now you've got to take your bath right away" or "you can't go out until you take a bath" makes the simple ritual a nuisance for her youngster. Some mothers even punctuate these remarks with a slap for the child who hesitates to do Mom's bidding.

If the bath is played up as a relaxing looked-forward-to experience, Mom may even get her youngster in the mood so that an extra bath is taken now and then. Some mothers employ an adult rather than wheedling technique to encourage the bath habit. Such remarks as "I bet you can't wait to get into the tub" or "my, don't you look pretty after your bath" are more likely to keep a small child on the good-grooming beam than coaxing or threatening persuasions.

Little girls may be flattered into the tub with a small assortment of feminine foibles. A special hair bow worn only at bath time to hold the hair back, scented soaps, bubble bath, and afterbath powder are sure-fire inducements. Bath dispensers, for little girls, containing bubble bath powder and soap are toiletries sure to be loved by a fastidious little girl. One such dispenser contains 20 packages of bubble bath powder. Other items that your little lady should have for her very own include a colorful wash cloth, bath brush and cologne. Any of these things help make keeping clean a pleasure for small fry.

Charles Marchbanks Returns To His Home

Charles Marchbanks, seriously injured in a traffic mishap in Arkansas several weeks ago, was brought here in an ambulance Friday.

He was accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Marchbanks, and will remain at the family home at 1004 East 15th for about a month before he returns to Baylor Hospital in Dallas for a check-up.

Spare Glasses

One good investment for summer vacationers is that extra pair of glasses. If you lose your glasses en route to a distant point it can make you miserable. So get your spare glasses tucked safely in your suitcase before you start on your jaunt.

Brush, Steam Iron Freshen Old Hats

Last year's felt or velvet hat can be freshened up for another season by a little work with a brush and a steam iron. When the iron is steaming well, set it down on the ironing board with the tip of the iron extending beyond the board, so that you have both hands free to manipulate the hat.

With one hand, hold the hat about half-an-inch from the tip of the iron, so that the steam has a chance to seep through thoroughly; with the other hand, brush the felt and velvet as you turn the hat. This will bring up the nap and restore the "new" look.

Sap Bucket Rocker

Cut by hand from a genuine sap bucket, a little rocker will be the pride of any child. It is made of strong native pine and the seat is upholstered in gay chintz.

Save Dish Washing

Use paper plates and containers for many kitchen chores, such as sifting dry ingredients for cake, storing foods in the refrigerator, catching the drip from spoons used in cooking. It saves dishwashing.

Screen Patch

A quick patch for a hole in a screen can be made by covering the holes with mosquito netting and applying two or more coats of fresh shellac over it. When dry the patch should keep mosquitoes out.

Area Youth Revival To Open Monday Night

Monday will be the opening night for the first area-wide Youth Revival, now being planned by young people of 24 Baptist churches in the area.

C. A. Roberts, young evangelist from Fort Worth, will preach at the open air services every night at 8 p. m. through Sept. 6 in the City Park Amphitheater.

A spring graduate of Baylor University, Roberts sang with the Baylor Religious Hour choir and served on the Student Council. In high school, he was active in debates, choral groups, basketball and track.

Now only 21 years old, he has already conducted approximately 80 revivals.

Frank Boggs, 25-year-old Baptist Hour singer, will direct the music. He is also a graduate of Baylor, has a graduate degree from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth and has studied at Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J.

Boggs also plays the piano, composes music and writes lyrics for his compositions. He is a recording artist for Word Records.

In high school he was National Honor Society president. His honors at Baylor included being elected "most representative boy," listing in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and serving as Golden Wave Baylor Band drum major.

Loeen Bushman, convention organizer for the Texas Baptist Student Department, will be pianist for the revival services. She is currently organist for the Polytechnic Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

C. A. ROBERTS

He will conduct a citywide choir of young people under 30 years of age for the revival. Outstanding musical numbers will highlight the services, according to Gaylon Cothran, chairman for the event.

Although sponsored and directed by the young people, the revival is open to all ages.

The planning committees will arrange final details Monday. The amphitheater will be equipped with lighting and loud speakers. Weldon McElreath is in charge of preparations.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Dear John Theme

Dear Beverly:
I have been going steady with a very nice boy for some time. He is almost everything a girl could want—an athlete, good looking, and very attentive.

I realize now I am not the type of girl who likes to single her attentions on one boy. How can I end this without hurting him and still keep his friendship?

WORRIED
The "Dear John" speech is never a pleasant one either to say or hear, but there comes a time when deception is even more difficult. You are to be commended for your honesty and the fact that you are not in a hurry to get out of the situation is not in keeping with your character.

Tell your steady just what you have told me. Tell him of his fine qualities and that you appreciate them. Make sure he understands that it is nothing he has done that causes you to want to be free to play the field again.

Say that you are hoping that this won't cause him to dislike you because you still want to be friends and date him, but long for a little variety in your life. —That you are perhaps not yet old enough to be satisfied with one boy's attentions although probably someday you will be.

Tell him as gently as possible and do your very best to let him know you are sincere in what you are saying. Explain to him that you know he would rather know how you feel than for you to hand him a line you can't mean.

He may be hurt at first, but if you do it carefully and praise him highly for his good points and emphasize that you definitely would like to date him from time to time, your phone may not stop ringing.

(WANT TO ENTER A CONTEST AND MAYBE WIN A PRIZE? Just write an essay of 250 words or less on your opinion of one of the following: blue jeans, smoking, shorts, or girls wearing their hair rolled up in public. Enter as often as you like, but only one subject per letter, please. Mail them to Beverly Brandow in care of The Herald.)

Rheumatic Fever Patient Needs Variety Of Hobbies

By DR. MARTHA M. ELIOT
Chief, Children's Bureau

"But I'm all better now, Mother. And there's no reason why I can't get up."

There was more than a hint of rebellion in Susan's voice, and her face was knotted by an intensive frown.

Susan's mother sighed. "I know you feel better, Susan," she said, very calmly, "but the doctor thinks you'd better stay in bed for a while longer."

For Susan was recovering from a bout of rheumatic fever; and while her progress had been very satisfactory, the doctor wanted her to stay in bed until she was sure she could resume most of her normal activities.

The problem which Susan's mother had, therefore, was to carry out the doctor's orders even though she knew her daughter was becoming increasingly impatient with the enforced bed rest.

Some children who get rheumatic fever are cared for under plans worked out by state crippled children's agencies. Under these plans, a child gets medical and nursing care—in a hospital when he is very sick. He also gets medical and nursing care all the way through convalescence.

In most cases, a child, once he is over the acute stage of an attack of rheumatic fever, can carry on his schooling at home, if the local school system is able to supply a visiting teacher. He will be visited regularly by a public health nurse, who checks on his progress and who becomes another contact for him with the outside world.

In Richmond, Va., as in some other large cities, children with rheumatic fever also are visited by an occupational therapist, who helps discover what such children would be most interested in doing while they recover from the effects of their illness. Children in whom the illness is no longer active may continue occupational therapy in a workshop which is made available for youngsters who are up and about. Here, much to their satisfaction, children realize that the handicrafts they learned either at home or in the hospital were not just a "prescription" but may also be carried on as a hobby.

As with other illnesses involving slow convalescence, a rheumatic fever bed-bound child needs a variety of hobbies or projects, such as water colors, modeling clay, puzzles, simple games he can play by himself or with others, scrap books that he can fill with cutouts from magazines, or books to read that are suited to his age and special needs.

Small pets, such as a canary, goldfish or little turtles can give a great deal of pleasure, as will rapidly growing plants.

A telephone extension, a radio or television set can vary the bedside routine, although only the doctor can decide when a child is well enough for such diversions.

Above all, a child who is getting over rheumatic fever needs to understand why it is necessary that he stay in bed. When he does understand why, he is much more apt to cooperate than if he is told to do so without an explanation. This understanding will not come with one telling. And while it is coming, the hobbies and the books and the games will help tide over the first difficult days and weeks.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Everyone Has Beauty Features To Emphasize

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Margaret Whiting has a new house with a beautiful view, a new TV contract for a show with her sister called "The Whiting Girls," and many new smash phonograph records.

"Few girls are as successful as you are," I said the other afternoon as we sipped a fruit punch in her patio which overlooks both the city and the ocean. "What's the secret?"

"This just proves you don't have to be beautiful," Margaret said with refreshing frankness. "You didn't know me when I was an ugly duckling. I was the original 'Miss Five by Five.' I weighed nearly 150 pounds, had stringy hair and I spoke badly. But my life was changed by a chance remark I heard a man discussing me with my father. He said, 'What will you ever do with that daughter of yours? She's really ugly.'"

"I remember running into my room and looking at myself in the mirror. I knew if I were to be attractive the first step was to lose weight. I went immediately to see a doctor who told me there was nothing wrong with my glands 'You just eat too much,' he said.

"He planned a diet for me so I would lose two pounds a week. That is not much but it is better to have a mild diet that you will stay on than a severe one you will break. In six months I had lost forty pounds and I have never regained them," Margaret explained.

"There is a psychological cause for over-eating with almost everybody, if you tear her apart, but she creates charm with the

"I found the thrill of receiving compliments—and I had plenty of them—meant more than satisfying my sweet tooth.

"After I had a nice figure I had to learn how to dress it. I knew nothing about what clothes looked best on me. I think anything you want to learn had enough you can," Margaret insisted. "I read magazines, analyzed the actresses I saw on the screen, went in the stores and looked at the models. I decided when in doubt, wear black—it is always smart and men like it."

Margaret sipped her drink

EAT AND LOSE

Now, for the first time, Margaret Whiting's famous diet, that helped her to lose 40 pounds, is available to all readers. This "Slow But Sure Reducing Diet" lets you eat lots of food—you'll not be craving when you follow this easy, plentiful routine. Get your copy of Margaret's diet by sending 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Herald. Ask for leaflet M-10.

thoughtfully and continued: "very few girls are born beautiful so there is no reason to get discouraged if you are not a beauty. No matter how plain you are there is always something good to emphasize. One of the most attractive women I've ever met is far from beautiful, if you tear her apart, but she creates charm with the impact of her personality, taste and voice.

"Voices are so important," Margaret exclaimed, "but most women don't work as hard to sound pretty as they do to look pretty. I think this is a mistake because an unpleasant voice can be exceedingly disagreeable.

"It is the exceptional person who doesn't need to do some work on her voice," Margaret continued. "I read aloud every day. It helps to improve diction. Most people talk fast and indistinct. They say 'be-cause' instead of 'because,' 'jest' instead of 'can't' and 'wuz' for 'was.'"

"Being a singer, I am naturally more interested in diction, but I think everyone should hear himself and the cost is very little to make a record and then you can hear all your faults flung into your ears."

"In addition to changing your figure and your voice, did you have any other beauty problems?" I wanted to know.

"Yes, I had to work very hard with my hair. It was a drab color and I experimented with various shades but as soon as I made it a soft blond everyone liked it. So for the past eight years I have gone every ten days to have it bleached. But I am very careful about staying out of the sun because it dries out the hair and makes it brassy.

"I find it helps to steam oils into my hair with every shampoo. I have a little cap that fits over my head and I heat it by standing in the shower and letting the hot water play on it. I find this easier than wrapping my head in hot towels," she added.

"I complimented Margaret's attractive tan.

"I never go in the sun without wearing a cap and without first using oil on my skin. And I always smooth lotion on my body after I've had a shower. I've seen too many people sit in the sun and dry all the life out of their skin and hair.

"I'll tell you something else a lot of people ignore—that's their elbows. I never looked at mine until one day someone told me they

Husband's Travels Can Be A Vacation

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Note to lonely wives: If your husband is a traveling man, pack your bag and go along.

It's a wonderful way to have a second honeymoon, or even a third or fourth, says Mary Andrews, strawberry blonde partner in one of Hollywood's most successful marriages.

Mary's husband is Dana Andrews, handsome, tough star of numerous movie thrillers, now on his way to South Africa for the filming of "Duel in the Jungle." Dana will be away until Christmas, but Mary will be with him until time to start work on the film. They plan a leisurely motor tour of England, France and Italy before Mary goes back to Hollywood in September to start the children off to school. Says she:

"When Dana has to go away on location for a movie, we often try to start a week or so early, and I go along. After he starts working I go home, because he's too busy then to spend much time with me."

"I think that's a good plan for most wives. If your husband has to go to a business convention, don't go along for that. When it starts you'll never see him anyway. But go ahead of time and have a vacation with him first."

Dana and Mary have been married 14 years, which is in the high brackets for Hollywood. They met at the Pasadena Playhouse, where both were working hard to become actors. But when they got married, Mary put aside ambitions for a stage or screen career. She says:

"Two careers in the same family just won't work—or at least not often. When a husband and wife are both in pictures, a normal, happy marriage is almost impossible, I believe. The woman who is working in a movie has to get up about 5 a. m. and go to the studio hours before the man, to get her hairdo and makeup."

"It's a long, hard day during the filming of any picture, and when she comes home she's too tired to do anything except collapse. Also, if she happens to get ahead faster than her husband, there's bound to be jealousy and life generally is difficult.

"My husband and children are more important to me than any other career. That's the way it is, and that's the way we like it."

There are four Andrews children: David, 19, Dana's son by his first marriage; Kathy, 11; Stephen, 8, and Susan, 5. When Mary and Dana are away on one of their jaunts, a relative of Mary's takes over the household for a few weeks.

When Mom and Pop Andrews are at home, which is a great deal of the time, they go in for family sailing parties aboard their 55-foot yawl. Says Mary:

"I don't believe in children being raised by a nurse. We both feel that children need their parents' personal care and attention. That's another reason I gave up the stage."

Pioneer Names Managers For Three Stations

The appointment of managers for Pioneer Air Lines' stations in Mineral Wells, Breckenridge and Snyder was announced by Tom E. Nance, superintendent of stations for the company.

Pioneer will inaugurate service to all three cities on Sept. 27. The three new managers are James L. Tuttle, present manager at Plainview; George A. Allen of Fort Worth and James H. Babcock, current assistant manager for Pioneer in San Angelo.

Tuttle will be the new manager at Breckenridge; Allen at Mineral Wells and Babcock at Snyder.

Tuttle, a native of Dallas, has been with Pioneer since September, 1947, and has held managerial positions in El Paso, Mineral Wells and Plainview. Allen joined Pioneer in August, 1947, at the company's San Angelo station and has been an assistant manager in Dallas and manager in Fort Worth.

The new Snyder manager, Babcock, joined Pioneer in San Angelo in May, 1947, and became assistant manager of that station in November, 1948.

All three new managers will move to the new cities prior to the inauguration of service on Sept. 27, Nance concluded.

Darrell Flynt will begin his duties as minister of the Ellis Homes Church of Christ today. He was formerly minister of the Church of Christ in Tuscola, where he was also high school principal.

Flynt will teach mathematics in the Big Spring Junior High School. A graduate of Big Spring High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Flynt. He served in the Air Force for four years and has received a B. A. degree from Abilene Christian College and a master's degree from Hardin-Simmons University.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have four children and live at 1203 S. Monticello.

Softer Water Is Due When Lake Cuts In

Considerably softer water will be available to Big Spring users next summer if rains are sufficient to raise the Lake J. B. Thomas level to the intake point.

Analysis of water samples from Lake Thomas shows total solids approximately 3 1/2 times less than well sources. As for total hardness, it is about five times less. Comparative analysis of lake and well samples shows:

	Lake	Wells
Silica	10.00	57.00
Calcium	22.00	72.00
Magnesium	5.30	56.00
Iron	.18	.04
Sodium	70.00	141.00
Bicarbonate	147.00	250.00
Sulphate	61.00	245.00
Chloride	29.00	178.00
Fluoride	.60	2.00
Nitrate	4.00	7.00

Total solids for the lake water is 282, for well water 912. Total hardness in the lake water is 77, in well water 410.

Approximately 10 feet increase in the level of the lake will be required to put it to the Big Spring-Odessa intake and with sufficient head for operation. The impounding of 4,500 acre feet without any appreciable rainfall on the watershed has made E. V. Spence, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, optimistic over prospects of impounding ample water.

Fire Guts Three Pueblo Buildings

PUEBLO, Colo.—Fire erupted in pre-dawn darkness here today in the heart of this southern Colorado steel city, gutting three buildings and killing one elderly man.

The blaze started in a small, second-story hotel and hit a paint store below.

"The paint blazed up like a blowtorch," a reporter said.

The flames spread into the old five-story Central Office block next door and around the corner to the next building with the T. G. McCarthy Mortuary on the ground level and the Grand Hotel in the three floors above it.

The fire department listed O. G. Pope as dead. His body was believed trapped in the mound of smoldering debris. Pope was a retired Pueblo attorney who maintained a small apartment in the office building.

Firemen estimated damage to the buildings at $700,000.

Stock Market Logs Second Biggest Loss

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—An unrelieved series of daily losses this week sent the stock market down in the second heaviest weekly fall of the year.

The decline never was urgent. The daily average volume of trading built up to the highest level since mid-June, but it still was below the average for the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $3.00 on the week with five straight falls. It closed at $104.60, only 40 cents above the low of the year reached on June 9.

The weekly decline was second only to that of the first week of April when the market was jolted down by the Communist proposal for an exchange of Korean prisoners of war.

There was no such dramatic cause for this week's fall. Most in Wall Street believed the market was adjusting itself to the outlook for a lowered business pace expected the remainder of this year and next.

The fall in Monday's market was triggered by weakened rails. Volume was high and losses were widespread. The fall continued the next day with vigor but less severity, aided by a late afternoon rally.

The retreat moderated in the final three days of the week. Several times rallies were attempted, but they all failed.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Benguet Consolidated Mining up 1/4 at 1 1/4 with 157,200 shares traded, New York Central off 1/4 at 22, Avco Mfg. off 1/4 at 5 1/4, U. S. Steel off 1/4 at 36 1/4, and Baltimore & Ohio off 1/4 at 23 1/4.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Webb & Knapp off 1-16 at 13-16, Jerr O'Mahony off 1/4 at 2 1/4, Pacific Petroleum Ltd. off 1/4 at 8, Drilling & Exploration up 1/4 at 8 1/4, and National Phoenix unchanged at 2 1/4.

Suit Is Filed For Liquor Disposal

A suit was filed in 118th District Court this weekend styled The State of Texas vs. 368 Containers of Beer and 321 Containers of Liquor.

It was filed by District Attorney Elton Gilliland and County Attorney Hartman Hooser as a suit for forfeiture of alcoholic beverages confiscated recently by liquor control board officials.

The containers were seized on August 16 here at the Handy Andy Liquor Store. Persons who have been cited in connection with the suit include Harold John Letcher, Carlton T. Davis and William H. Fitzgerald.

In 1952 the United States used almost nine trillion cubic feet of natural gas.

A Bible Thought For Today —

The way is quite plainly marked. Before you enter any public door read what the sign says. "Straight is the gate and narrow the way which leadeth unto life."—Matt. 7:14.

Effective Schools Are Product Of Teamwork Through Community

Within two days, our schools will be in operation, not only in Big Spring and Howard County, but in most of the West Texas area.

Every adult should be interested in his school, regardless of whether he or she is a direct patron. Certainly there is good financial reason, for in this county alone schools cost around a million and three-quarter dollars per year. It requires, on a rough approximation, more than $200 per pupil to carry on our educational system. Naturally, it is good business to see that value is received for this investment.

More important, however, is the consideration that nearly a fourth of our population is represented in scholastics—youngsters between the ages of six and 18 years. True, but nevertheless true, is the fact that these are largely the ones who all too soon will have the responsibility of carrying on the affairs of the community. Moreover, it is to them and thousands upon thousands like them that state and nation will turn for support and leadership. Certainly, for their sakes and for those of our beloved country, the job should be well done.

This will call for dedication, energy and imagination on the part of teachers. It will call for inspiration and solid training in the home. It will demand inculcation and reinforcement of moral and spiritual values by the churches.

In so many words, effective schooling is the product of teamwork. Although it transcends the individual, the individual must be kept uppermost.

We Need To Pump More Life Into Drive To Be Rid Of Dead Trees

Not so long ago there was a civic effort directed to ridding the city of its mass of dead trees.

Response was encouraging, but it was far from unanimous. All too many people did not take the pleas seriously; the follow up petered out.

Consequently, the spectacle of dead trees and shrubs jutting their gaunt arms skyward, is all too common. It also is unnecessary.

In the face of tenacious drought which claimed such a heavy toll of trees, it is difficult at best to maintain some semblance of beautification. Why compound the difficulty by leaving these wooden carcasses as a testimonial to rains that didn't come?

Is it not possible to devise some workable means by which we could rid the community of most of these? City and chamber of commerce might team in an autumn clean-up with major emphasis upon the dead tree riddance.

And if we need something to lend a little drama or excitement to the program, why not locate some convenient spot from which people could watch while a bonfire of tremendous proportions is touched off? Maybe that could be a project for high school youngsters on the eve of crucial games.

Confident Living—Norman Vincent Peale

Racial, Religious Intolerance Constitute A Serious Disease

An editor whose very great newspaper publishes this column has suggested that I discuss the subject of tolerance. He points out that some people claim that no amount of logic can ever overcome prejudice, because prejudice is never logical. Then he goes on to say that it often seems to be based on half-forgotten incidents from childhood and fragmentary ideas whose source has been forgotten but whose bias has not.

In my opinion, racial and religious intolerance and bigotry constitute a disease which seriously threatens the health of our national being. Patriotic Americans are awake to this danger and are taking definite measures to combat it. Interfaith committees have been formed, meetings have been held, books and articles are being published—but none of this is enough.

What we need is a spiritual change within each of us—if we are to become a tolerant people. And it is not too difficult to learn to be a person who lives above such prejudices and dislikes.

First of all, we must unlearn many misconceptions about people who go to a different church or have skins of a different color, or belong to a different race or live in a different country.

For example, the Japanese are supposed to be smaller than the Swedes, but it is a fact that many Japanese are tall and many Swedes are short. And when a Swedish scientist got around to checking on the popular notion that Swedes are tall, blond and have long heads, he found that only eleven per cent of his countrymen filled those specifications.

To correct another common error, I understand that no biochemist can tell the color of a man's skin from a sample of his blood. And wherever American troops are shedding their blood for their country, there is available Red Cross fresh blood or plasma taken from the veins of Americans at home, of every faith and color.

A few months ago a very unhappy woman visited the religio-psychiatric counseling clinic at my church. Questioning revealed that most of her unhappiness was rooted in prejudice. Living in the great city of New York, in the everyday business of living she rubbed elbows with Jews, Catholics, Negroes, foreigners—all objects of her prejudice. Every such contact made her furious and more unhappy.

As a Christian clergyman, I advised her to definitely adopt the practice of prayer to help her get rid of her hates. I suggested that she use the technique of thinking compassionately about people she disliked. That is a wonderful method for bringing about a friendly feeling within yourself. I also advised her to pray for these people each by name, if possible, and to do this every day.

She followed my suggestions, although it was not easy to do so; and her life has been changed. She has not only shed her prejudices but has made friends in many of the minority groups she hated. She is "surprised at how nice they are," and she has become an apostle of good will instead of a carrier of the disease of hate.

An interesting thing that resulted is that some people who hated the Protestant group to which she belongs just as much as she hated them have been forced to revise their own prejudices. Always remember that both prejudice and tolerance are two-way streets. This evil spirit is in all groups of Americans.

This woman has become a tolerant person. Even more important, she has become a loving individual. As a result, she is far better adjusted to life. She even looks ten years younger.

The prescription she used can transform all of us into people of good will and, therefore, happy people. Individuals must change before customs and habits can be revised. And surely the brotherhood of man is worth a little daily effort by men and women of all faiths.

Talk About Night Adventure

As perhaps you have known me to say before, there is too little space in my column to hold all the interesting letters which come to me. I do my best to print paragraphs on Sundays, and to handle questions, but time slips by and some excellent letters fail to find their way into print. One from Mrs. W. Pollock is among those which I have carried during thousands of miles of traveling. She wrote:

"One warm summer night my husband and our child (we had only one child then) had gone soundly to sleep, but I was awake. I stepped to the doorway to enjoy the moonlight which bathed our lovely little valley.

"Suddenly I heard a loud, pattering noise coming from the area of the chicken coops, behind our woodshed. I was frozen to the spot with fear, and was afraid even to go the bedside of my husband, across the room.

"I stood there until the noise was repeated, again and again. Then I tiptoed to my husband's side, and whispered to him to wake up. We went together to the doorway, and the noise came even more clearly.

"My husband grasped his rifle, and walked to the chicken coops while I waited in terror. Soon he called to me to come and join him, so he could show me something. From the tone of his voice, I could tell that he was amused. When I reached him, he said:

"Look at these skunk tracks! The skunk patting down the soil over there. When skunks are a little afraid, after hearing a small noise, they pat the ground hard with their front paws, instead of throwing out their scent."

"We found some black hairs, also some white ones, which the animal had left. At this point I felt ashamed of having been so fearful."

Thank you, Mrs. Pollock, for that story from your own life. I think that many other women who live on farms would know how you felt when you heard that strange noise, time and again. I am glad that the skunk left only the hairs and the patted soil as souvenirs of his visit.

France Must Develop Plan To Override Special Interest Groups To Cure Ills

"France is sick."

This phrase, or something very like it, crops up again and again in all conversations with French officials or political leaders. For a long time it has been obvious that France has been suffering from some sort of sickness—that something has been wrong somewhere. But never in this reporter's experience has there been in France so general an atmosphere of paralysis and bitter stagnation.

At least two distinct diagnoses of the French illness have been made since the war in the United States. It was first assumed that the French illness was essentially economic. Put France back on her feet economically, it was reasoned, and French national unity and national power would be restored.

Economic aid has had great negative benefits—without it, for example, France would almost certainly be Communist. But there have been precious few positive benefits—no one could claim for France today the political health which was supposed to follow on economic recovery.

The plain fact is that France has not really recovered economically—it has merely been kept ticking over. France is a rich country, the richest in Europe in many respects. Yet French industrial production has increased at a rate far lower than that of any other European country, including even poverty-stricken Italy. Inflation continues, the French franc is shakier than ever (there is talk now of another devaluation), and French government is faced with a colossal deficit.

The second American diagnosis of the French illness was essentially military. A soundly defended France it was argued would be a politically sound France. Again, military aid has had great benefits. The Russians at least face a serious deterrent force in Western Europe. The Red army is not likely to march to Paris the day after tomorrow, and without warning. But again, these benefits have been negative, and palliative. There is still, after three years of Western rearmament, no solid defense of Western Europe.

Many thoughtful observers here, both French and American, have come to the conclusion that the heart of the trouble lies in the built-in veto power which permeates the whole French political and economic system. This veto power has consistently operated to prevent any positive action on any front, at home or abroad.

The veto power has just been used again, to torpedo Premier Joseph Laniel's plan for stringent government economy. The French government workers, who used the veto power in the form of a crippling nation-wide strike, are miserably underpaid, as Laniel himself agrees. But the workers are underpaid largely because food and other basic necessities are over-priced. And under the French political system, the French farmers and shopkeepers are powerful enough to bring down any government which seriously attempted to reduce the artificially high food prices.

Similarly, the obvious place to start any serious effort to bring order out of France's economic chaos is with the archaic tax system, which makes cheating the government a national pastime. Everyone agrees that this is so. But everyone also agrees that any government which tries to make a serious reform would instantly be destroyed by the industrialists, farmers, and others with a vested interest in the present system.

This universal veto power has produced a sort of stagnant equilibrium in this rich country. The built-in veto produces the same stagnation abroad.

For at least five years, most responsible French leaders have agreed that the Indochinese war can never be won without genuine independence for Indochina. Yet all this time French colonial and economic interests have vetoed real Indochinese independence—and it is very possibly now too late. Again, it was the French themselves who originally proposed the European army project three years ago—and they have been vetoing it ever since.

The French seem quite likely, indeed, to veto any German military contribution, whether in a European army or in any other form, for the defense of Western Europe. All responsible French leaders agree that the defense of Western Europe is impossible without some sort of German military contribution. Since Western Europe includes France, the French thus seem in a fair way to veto the defense of France.

Here there is one hopeful thing to be said. Many French leaders are now convinced that a system which puts a maximum premium on paralysis cannot be permitted to endure. Two recent investiture speeches, by Pierre Mendès-France and Paul Reynaud, had a remarkable impact here. Both speeches called for a basic and radical reform in the flabby French political and economic system.

Until France gets a system which gives the government the power to override the veto of the special interest groups, the French sickness will endure. In the meantime, we might as well face the fact that the malady is more deep-rooted than we had supposed, and that it will be a long time in the curing.

Professor Whinsky Shows Up With Social Report Of His Own

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Today for the first time in any publication, or in any language for that matter, this column releases the Whinsky Report on the Social Behavior of Nearly Everybody, Including Women and Their Husbands.

This is not to be confused as being supplemental to another treatise known as the Kinsey Report. It is an entirely independent undertaking, based upon a completely different basis of research.

The Whinsky Report deals with the different approach to certain social and, shall we say, domestic relations, that are taken by the male and the female. The Report simply sets out findings, and leaves the various interpretations to the reader.

Professor Whinsky delved into various situations, such as:

READING IN BED. Seventy-four and six-tenths per cent of the women interviewed will read in bed after the noon exhausted spouse has turned over and attempted to get a night's rest. Of these, 43.2 per cent will find items of interest in the magazine or paper they have in hand and feel impelled to read aloud to the spouse. The items 88.5 per cent of the time will have to do with new room decorations or with new clothes design. In 100 per cent of the time the reading aloud of these items will evoke an "Umphf" or a yawning "Y h" from the spouse, until he eventually makes one big jumping turn in the bed, pounds his pillow and mutters "Fergosakes sh-lupan lemmegetsomesleep."

ON TOURIST DRIVING. Eighty-one and seven-tenths per cent of the women interviewed are charged with map-holding and sign-looking when the family tours in strange areas. Of these 24.3 per cent will discover after 45 miles that they are looking at the wrong map. Another 17.4 per cent will jab a finger at a certain point on the map, thrust it up in the driver's (husband's) face and, while he clutches frantically to regain some line of sight down the highway, will say "Is this the turn-off place you were looking for?" Still another 14.9 per cent will say, as the car rips along at 65, "That sign, back there—" and be interrupted by the spouse asking for a cigar from the glove compartment. Two hours and a hundred or so miles later, when it dawns on this group of husbands that they are lost, this group of wives will finish the interrupted sentence and say "—says turn left here."

COMMENTING ON PARTIES. Ninety-seven and eight-tenths per cent of the women interviewed admitted that they enjoyed going to the friend's Coke parties, morning coffees, afternoon teas and evening open houses, but—Of these, 72.6 per cent were ready to finish the phrase, to the effect that it is time the friend was getting some new china and crystal; or when in the world is she going to get tired of using that same old tablecloth; or her draperies must have cost a pretty sum, but the Lord help me if I couldn't have done better than that; or another guest there seemed to think she was a success, the way she was over-dressed; or I don't see how those other two could bear to be in the same room together, the way they talk about each other behind their backs. Of these women, 99.9 per cent admitted they would be woefully heartbroken if they didn't get asked back again.

NEW CLOTHES. Ninety-two and five-tenths of the women interviewed said they preferred to parade the garments in front of their husbands when the purchase was brought home. Of these, 8.7 per cent had to thrust a fist through the newspaper in front of his face to get him to look. Of these 44 per cent got a reaction: "Um-m-m, looks nice. How much did it cost?" And the remainder just got the reaction, "How much did the damn thing cost?" And 32.4 per cent reported that when an evening frock was shown to the spouse, he would say "Why don't you get something a little spiffier, like that affair Miltz had on at the club the other night?" And then they will march to the closet and haul forth the same number they had bought six months before Miltz did and had already worn seven times. The difference being, said 92.3 per cent, that Miltz is a gay and frothy widow, given to wearing, in addition to the spiffy dress, certain come-hither charms.

As can be seen, other volumes of the Whinsky report will have to be published at later dates, in order to complete the Report on the Social Behavior of Nearly Everybody, Including Women and Their Husbands.

Internal Revenue Head Plans To Step On Some More Toes

WASHINGTON.—The average taxpayer is hardly concerned with how much of the cost of the operation of his yacht he can write off as a business expense on his income tax return. But for a small and select group at the top of the business pyramid, the remarks made by Commissioner of Internal Revenue T. Coleman Andrews at the American Bar Association convention in Boston had an ominous meaning.

Andrews told the lawyers he was instructing his tax agents to review the returns of all large taxpayers who deducted generous amounts for "entertainment." The entertainment allowance in the income tax law accounts for some of the free-handed spending of the post-war boom. The mink coats passed out in return for favors and deducted as business expense were peanuts in comparison to the high, wide and handsome deductions listed in some tax returns. In many instances, Andrews learned after he took over in the Bureau of Internal Revenue, the whole cost of operating yachts and smaller pleasure craft were deducted as business expense. Similarly, the cost of maintaining expensive beach houses in Florida and fishing camps in Maine were written off as entertainment.

The deductions are made for the most part on corporation income tax returns. Thereby the tax paid the government is reduced, and the yacht or the pleasure dome by the sea is available for any uses the management decides to put it to.

This is just the point that Andrews has ordered his agents to explore. Where large deductions are made, they have been instructed to ask who was entertained and why. Proof will be required that customers capable of bringing the company business commensurate with such lavish spending were actually guests on the yacht or at the luxury house.

If the owner or the management got most of the benefit, then the company will be called on to pay taxes on the amount deducted. The use of private airplanes by companies and individuals and deducted as a business expense will also be looked into. Andrews has been informed that at many of the more plush winter and summer resorts private airfields are lined each weekend with company planes.

What puts this new drive in a somewhat ironic light is the fact that the Truman Administration, supposedly concerned with the lot of the common man, apparently did not challenge these generous deductions. Andrews, if he really follows through on the policy he has announced, will step on some sensitive Republican toes, including those of generous donors to the party. He has said bluntly that this makes not the slightest difference. If he cannot administer the law impartially then he will get out.

How much actual increase in revenue can come from a sterner scrutiny of expense deductions, the Bureau cannot say. The law says "ordinary and necessary" costs can be taken off when figuring net income. To this the courts have added the term "reasonable."

Andrews intends to examine another area equally touchy. That is the reported practice of the kickback, often by way of an expense allowance. Excessive amounts for expenses are granted to salesmen and purchasing agents with the understanding that part of this is personal income which they do not report on their tax returns. A course of instruction for revenue agents has been worked out to help them dig this up. The amount realized by the Treasury could be substantial.

Consideration is being given in the Bureau of Internal Revenue to recommending that Congress amend the law covering deductions. In connection with entertainment written off the taxpayer would be required to list the persons entertained. More important, the amendment under consideration would forbid unexplained lump sum deductions paid out to unnamed individuals. Congressional investigations have shown that such sums have gone to fixers and wire pullers.

Commissioner Andrews had antagonized one set of lawyers before he made his Bar Association remarks. He has put through a de-centralization of the Bureau to make it possible for a citizen in Salt Lake City or Seattle to settle his tax controversy with the Government in one of the Bureau's seven regional offices without the matter being carried all the way to Washington.

But protests have come to Andrews from the capital's host of tax lawyers who fear they will be deprived of part of their practice. That was apparently behind the statement of Representative Dewitt Hyde, newly-elected Republican from nearby Maryland, who complained wistfully that economy was all well and good but Commissioner Andrews had gone much too far in lopping off 1,000 employees of the Bureau in Washington.

Certainly the Bureau was an ideal place for a clean start. For a decade it had been riddled with politics and favoritism.

Migration Problem

MELBOURNE (U)—An Australian Labor leader says Japan will submit claims for migration to New Guinea at the International Labor Organization Asian regional conference in Tokyo in September.

Albert E. Monk, president of the Australian Council of Trade Unions, made the statement in an address to the United Nations Association. He recently returned from an I. L. O. conference in Geneva. Monk said Asian countries, except Japan, had changed their postwar clamor for migration because they realized that the limited number of migrants Australia could absorb would not solve their population problems.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Born in Mississippi on this day in 1820 was Hardin Richard Runnels, whose stormy gubernatorial campaigns against Sam Houston in 1857 and 1859 were almost without parallel in Texas political history. Oddly enough, both principals were involved in romantic mysteries which have not been explained to this day. Houston, of course, left biographers baffled with the strange story of his divorce from his first wife and his resignation as governor of Tennessee.

Runnels was engaged to marry a Miss Mary Eliza Smith of Clarksville. Preparations for the wedding had reached the extent that he had built and furnished a two-story mansion for his intended bride. Then, without any explanation at all, plans for the wedding were cancelled.

Runnels was a descendant of Lord C. S. Reynolds of England. He moved to Texas in 1842 and entered public life. In 1857 he campaigned for the governorship against Houston, who retired as U.S. Senator. Runnels was elected after a bitter campaign. Two years later the campaign was restaged with Houston turning the tables and winning the office from which he was ousted when Texas seceded from the Union.

Runnels retired from private life after his defeat. He died on Christmas Day, 1873.

Bible Words to Live by

PHILIPPIANS 4:19 — "And my God shall supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus." (R.S.V.)

The source of supply is God who cares for all our needs. He supplies our needs, not necessarily our wants. Out of the abundance of his riches in glory our spiritual necessities are met. From Christ Jesus by faith we receive salvation from sin! In Christ Jesus we have solace in sorrow, in Christ Jesus we have succor in our stumblings, and in Him we have strength for service.

We can choke the supply lines of God by our disobedience or we can keep the channels of grace open by our surrender.

This scripture applies to material needs as well as spiritual blessings. If we meet the conditions of being recipients of his mercies we must put the Kingdom of God first, remembering the words of Jesus "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness (right standing with Him) and all these things (referring to food, clothing and shelter) shall be added to you."

Fred Astaire Stars In 'The Band Wagon'

'The Band Wagon,' a Technicolor musical studded with big names, will play at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. Stars in the production are Fred Astaire, Cyd Charisse, Oscar Levant, Nanette Fabray, and Jack Buchanan. Behind the screen is the academy award winning producer-director team, Arthur Freed and Vincente Minnelli. Astaire and Miss Charisse dance opposite one another for the first time in the movie, and each does specialty numbers. Plot of the movie has Astaire enacting a slipping Hollywood star who resorts to the stage for a comeback. Pianist-comedian Oscar Levant and stage star Nanette Fabray have the roles of writers who prepare Astaire's script. Buchanan is seen as the arty producer-director of the stage play, and Miss Charisse is a temperamental ballet star. The two almost turn the stage venture into a catastrophe. However Astaire emerges as a 'rediscovery' and goes back to Hollywood as a star. He also ends up top in the romance department with Miss Charisse. Fourteen musical numbers are heard in 'The Band Wagon.' They include 'Dancing in the Dark,' 'I Love Louisa,' 'You and the Night and the Music,' and 'By Myself.' Astaire's specialty numbers are 'A Shine on Your Shoes' and 'Girl Hunt.'

'CITY BENEATH THE SEA' NOW ON STATE SCREEN

Glenn Ford Stars In New Adventure

"Plunder Of The Sun," a new adventure film dealing with the mystery of the ancient Aztec wealth, is scheduled at the Ritz Theatre Thursday through Saturday. Glenn Ford, Diana Lynn, Patricia Medina and Sean McClory have the top roles. The movie was filmed at the Zapotec ruins near Oaxaco, Mexico—the jungle covered site with which the story of the picture deals. Ford plays the role of an American who is stranded in Mexico without any money. He is hired to deliver a package to Oaxaco, and immediately meets Miss Lynn and McClory. He learns that the package contains the secret of the wealth of the ancient Aztecs. And on arrival at Oaxaco, he strikes out with Miss Lynn to solve the 2,000-year-old mystery of the Zapotec treasure. At the ruins the couple again meet Miss Lynn and McClory and adventure and romance follow. Miss Lynn departs from her customary "sweet" role to play a provocative, tough-talking blonde who tries to entice Ford into giving her the treasure document.

Police Motorcycle Drama Set At State

The fast action of a big-city police motorcycle division is pictured in "Code Two," movie set Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre. Principals in the story are Ralph Meeker, Elaine Stewart, Sally Forrest, Keenan Wynn, Robert Horton, James Craig, and Jeff Richards. Meeker, Horton and Richards have the part of police officers who wind up as motorcycle officers. Meeker is the "wise guy" of the trip, Horton is the steady one married to Miss Forrest, and Richards is the youngster who wants to get ahead.

Western Chase

The above men are shown in a scene from 'The Last Posse' as they chase some outlaws who have fled across the desert. The movie shows at the Jet Theatre tonight and Monday night. At lower right is Broderick Crawford, who plays a rum-soaked sheriff, and John Derek.

Family Adventure

Greer Garson consoles tearful little Donna Corcoran while a helpless Walter Pidgeon looks on in the above scene from "Scandal At Scourie." The movie plays at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Garson and Pidgeon play a childless couple who adopt an orphan girl. And as a result a scandal with social and political repercussions sweeps through the town. The movie has a quiet humor which mixes well with the heated drama.

Greer Garson And Walter Pidgeon Co-Stars Again

A humorous and heart-warming story of a small town couple besieged by ugly rumors is told in "Scandal at Scourie," movie set at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The opponent accuses Pidgeon of adopting the little girl in order to win over the Catholic vote. (The adoption had followed the burning of a Catholic orphanage). However, Miss Garson and Pidgeon are determined to raise the girl as their own. About the time things are ready to smooth out, the school house is set afire, and the little orphan girl is accused of arson. Then Miss Garson enters the verbal fight and almost goes so far as to use physical violence to vindicate her family's reputation. The story opens with Pidgeon as a contented store owner, chief of the Fire Department, a respected member of the Protestant church and a candidate for the Legislature. His wife, Miss Garson, suddenly adopts a little orphan girl, and a scandal sweeps through the town which has both social and political repercussions. Of course, the rumors begin with Pidgeon's political opponent.

'The Desert Rats' Tells How Tobruk Defended In 1941

A movie dealing with the Australian troops who turned Rommel's army to retreat will show at the State today through Tuesday. It is "The Desert Rats," starring Richard Burton and Robert Newton, with James Mason in a guest role as Rommel. Emphasis in the production is on the bloody desert battles which are highlighted with rumbustious tanks, explosions, wild infantry charges and commando knife raids. Story deals with the defense of Tobruk in 1941, which was the turning point of the North African war. Burton is cast as an English batch of Aussie troops. And Newton is seen as a former schoolmaster of Burton's whose desire for drink has reduced him to the rank of private. "The Desert Rats" is a sequel to the movie, "Desert Fox," which told of Rommel's defeat in North Africa.

And Janet Leigh plays the girl that Stewart finds with Ryan. Ralph Meeker as a discredited soldier and Millard Mitchell as a gold prospector help Stewart when they find there is a reward. After the capture of Ryan, the five people start a trek back East to collect the reward. Emotional and physical conflicts rage amongst them as each hopes to collect the complete reward. Gun play, fights, Indian raids, and romance are found on the trip.

We missed Kelvin Dorward by just a few minutes at Gall the other day.

Kelvin is one of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Dorward of Gall. His father is Gall's pioneer druggist, who for years has had the only telephone in the county that is connected with the outside world, through the Snyder exchange. Mrs. Dorward was a pioneer school and Sunday School teacher in Borden County.

This son is the chief of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology in Washington. He got to spend two hours with his parents and friends Thursday, from just before dinner until just after dinner, on a fast automobile tour between Denver and San Antonio. He had come down to Denver on an inspection tour that started in Utah.

Kelvin took his bachelor's degree at Texas A&M and his master's degree at the University of Tennessee, majoring in the science of bugs all the way through. With the exception of four World War II years spent in the Army, he has been with the USDA for about 23 years.

This was the first time he had been in Borden County since back in the spring. Having been raised in that country, and having known it well back there in those days when it did rain occasionally, he found the ravages of the drought much more distressing than he had expected, he said.

It's a good thing for West Texas to have a native son in a key position with the USDA in Washington.

The Borden County Court House is beginning to look natural again with Sheriff Sid Reeder back on the job. Looking fit as a fiddle string, Sid has recovered from the illness that had him out of the running for some weeks.

He is one man who says he knows what is going on in law enforcement in his bailiwick. You see he's the only law enforcement officer in Borden County. He's been sheriff for almost a score of years and up until this recent illness had never had a deputy. Because of his absence from the office Miss Sadie Smith, who runs the office, was named deputy so she could keep things going—officially.

Sadie wasn't in the office when we called this week. She was off rodeoing somewhere. She's one of West Texas' top women riders and lives up O'Donnell way.

And the Borden County PMA staff is mighty glad to have Sid on hand during this telephone strike, because of which, they report, it's impossible to get a call out on the town's one telephone. Drought disaster emergency feed for Borden County stockmen is shipped to Lamesa, or to Snyder, or to O'Donnell, or to Big Spring.

The mail service in Borden County isn't as fast as in Amarillo, and so Sid has stepped into the gap with his two-way radio to facilitate getting word to the stockmen where and when to go and pick up their feed quotas before demurrage, instead of cattle and sheep, eats it up.

When Borden County has a problem those Borden countians find a way to solve it.

And speaking of Court Houses, congratulations to whomever is deserving for having that proper name show up in two distinct words "Court House" on the new Howard County capitol in Big Spring, which is as it should be, and not as some "Court-house" as some New York newspapermen who have never seen one, say it should be spelled.

In West Texas a Court House is a two-letter Court House.

C. H. Williams, who used to have the blacksmith shop at Key and who is now a merchant there, says his neighbors were all planning on planting three-minute oats, but now they've concluded it's even too late for that.

Williams says he has never seen such distressful drought conditions in all the years he has been in that country. He recently returned from a trip out in the New Mexico mountains and people from miles around are bringing their children to his store to have Williams tell them about green grass, something most of them have never seen, and about the hills out there in the Land of Enchantment where it actually rains every day or night.

They say that after Williams had spent an hour describing pastures of green grass to a bunch of kids the other day, one of them, a boy of nine or ten, was heard to remark as he went out the door: "Huh! He can't fool me. There ain't no such thing I found out about Santa Claus a long time ago."

When he saw the Grub Limeride in from the Gall direction,

First Bale Ginned In Scurry County

SNYDER (SC) — Pickers went over 16 acres of cotton on the farm of J. O. Hudnall at Camp Springs to produce the first Scurry County bale which weighed 464 pounds.

Williams asked if we'd seen Sam Keen.

We had. Sam, who moved to Borden County some 63 years ago, was sitting on a store porch in Gall when we rode out of town.

"When Sam goes to Lamesa he usually stops to see me on the way back," Williams said. "He'll be sitting here in the store and he'll see the sand start blowing. Sam will get up and go to the door and watch it. Sam's made up his mind he's never going to let a sand storm catch him up above the Cap. Just when it begins to get bad enough he'll take off for home."

Williams says it is going to take at least two straight bumper-crop years to put the farmers in his community back even with the place where they were when this drought set in.

The man who travels nothing but the main highways can't have any conception of how much crop-land farmers have been obliged to abandon this year just simply because the continuous blowing and lack of moisture wouldn't let them do anything with it.

Last Obstacle Is Cleared For Bull Creek Channel

The last major obstacle to completion of the diversion channel between Bull Creek and Lake J. B. Thomas has been cleared.

E. V. Spence, general manager for the Colorado Municipal Water District, was given the green light Friday by the Scurry County Commissioners Court to cut through a lateral road.

The court, armed with a letter of agreement from the district, had appeared before the State Highway Commission earlier in the week with a request for a bridge across the projected channel. In substance, the district agreed to the increase in cost over a structure which would have been built across Bull Creek. That bridge was made unnecessary because of the diversion dam across the creek just above the former site.

Where the channel will cross the lateral road is near the maximum cut of 70 feet, hence a large bridge will be required.

Last week crews were knocking out a plug in the channel left for elevation of an oil line. Machinery had been shifted to construction of the diversion dam, which now is heading down the homestretch except for the final plug. Soon equipment will be shifted back to cutting through the road before the gap in the diversion dam is filled. Then, for practical purposes, the project will be ready to feed drainage from 380 square miles of Bull Creek.

Barring unforeseen difficulties, that should be barely more than a month hence, according to the contractor, Dean Skinner, Austin.

Union Closes High School

LAMESA (SC) — One Dawson County school has been permanently closed by the drought.

The Union Rural District has closed the doors of its high school and gone out of business. The drought forced the families of all but 17 students to abandon their farms and go elsewhere to make a living.

The remaining students, who live in the cotton farming section about 14 miles north of here, will ride a school bus to and from the Lamesa High School, according to P. K. Humes, county school superintendent, who said it is doubtful if the Union High School will ever be opened again. There were 34 students in the high school.

The Union District will continue the operation of its elementary school for about 60 students, however.

High Heels, Tapered Pants Stay At Home

Stay-at-homes used to be considered the dull members of the community. Not today! Fashion designers have created the most exotic clothes and accessories for fall and winter informal dining and television parties. Not everyone can or will buy them.

But so tempting and pretty are they that they are bound to create a feeling that perhaps the home is the place to play the siren and indulge in dress-ups that never were meant for public dining and dancing.

Take the new trouser fashions—and let us hope only the lithe and slim will take them! Some are full, harem fashion. Newer are the sharply tapered ones inspired by a Spanish bull fighter. Others are calf length, embroidered and braided down the sides.

Not for these—the moccasins or the casual slip-on—but at-home shoes in dramatic mood.

High heels used to be considered the height of bad taste with slacks or trousers. Now they are the height of chic with such fancy-dress costumes as these.

Opera Pump

The opera pump of suede or polished calf continues a favorite for daytime wear with suits such as this juniorite three piece costume of Milliken's yarn dyed flannel with striped jersey revers and tunic blouse.

Typical of the new feeling in autumn at-home shoes, a white kid mule on an exaggeratedly slim high heel—the whole body of the shoe consisting of a wide instep band, scalloped on the edges and lavishly embroidered with crystals and pearls.

To wear with black velvet or black satin trousers, there's great style in a new clog of black patent consisting of a platform of the patent, a scooped out heel, and a wide shaped instep of the patent decorated with glittering nail heads.

There's news in a cork wedge sole, held in place by a broad elasticized strap patterned in yellow on green interwoven with glittering gold threads. Or you can have a white kid slip-on sling held in place by two ribbon straps embroidered in multi-colored flowers.

Dressy indeed is a wide open high heeled sandal of black suede, the curved medallions that form a vamp richly embroidered in jewels and pearls. And there's news in a high-heeled open toed at-home mule, laced on the instep and made in pale green kidskin to accompany tapered gold satin trousers for a costume that's certainly going to get attention.

These are not for everybody of course. But women who like them love them. You'll be seeing them at all prices, in all colors and types. And what wonderful Christmas presents for the girl who has everything, or the woman who loves a flick of the new and exciting in her Christmas package.

Undulant fever in man may be caused by the same germs that cause Bang's disease in cattle.

Evening Special

Highlight of evening costumes this fall will be the new highly polished leathers. Here you see gunmetal patent in a stripping ankle-strap sandal set off by a tear drop diamond.

The Graceful Strap Shoe

This has a newly elegant "dressmaker" look. With vamp detail, tiny button, a slender heel, it achieves feminine charm and is flattering too, spotlighting the pretty ankle.

Patents Win Favor

Patent leather has boomed to a high level of popularity that has taken the fashion scene by storm. The sleek polished look of patent has won wide favor among the style conscious, smart American women. Patent has adapted itself ideally to the smooth luxurious look in the new fall fashions.

Let Old Shoes Step In Where Need Is Great

About 70 per cent of the world's population doesn't wear good leather shoes simply because it can't afford them. A pair of ordinary shoes which we take for granted—even a partly worn pair which you've just about discarded—is a luxury to tens of millions of persons.

A pair of leather shoes to a poor native of Bolivia or Greece or India might cost nearly a year's pay. Many of these natives wear homemade shoes fashioned out of old rubber tires.

You could do a wonderful turn with those old shoes you have in your closet—your own, your husband's, those that the kids have outgrown—by shipping them to one of the many foreign relief agencies set up for just such collections.

Korea, with its millions of homeless and destitute, is an ideal recipient of those shoes. Inquire into other foreign relief agencies and you'll find numerous such places in need of these shoes.

If possible, make what minor repairs are necessary before shipping: a new pair of heels, a new pair of laces, etc. These little items, which we take for granted, are often not available in many communities overseas.

Squared Off Tips Now Popular Style

A very popular version of the new pointed shoe is squared off at the tip, the horizontal line accentuated by horizontal bow or ornament. This type is shown in some wonderful suit shoes, often combining two materials or colors.

Thus a high heeled, square toed spectator pump may be made of red calf with vamp of black, or black suede with vamp in polished leather. These are naturals with the new lighter weight, more feminine tweeds and town-and-country fashions.

Frequent Changes Prove Healthiest

Change your shoes during the day, if possible, and never wear the same pair two days in succession. This will rest your feet and make your shoes wear longer. Buy your shoes for comfort as well as style. Select them carefully for the purpose intended and be sure they fit your particular feet.

Shoe soles should be flexible where your foot bends. Shoe lengths should be long enough to allow your toes to lie straight.

Styled For At Home Luxury

Flats Are Back With New Flair For Fall Wear

Yes, women will be wearing flats this fall. And many of the new designs are pretty enough for all-day wear with town and country suits. The fine detailing of more formal shoes has been adapted to flats with interesting use of materials and color combinations. A newcomer in the shoe field is tweed patterned corduroy. Corduroy is famous for its sturdy wearing qualities, as witness the corduroy trousers for small boys. It's also light and easy on the foot. For daylong country wear almost any woman would like a brown tweed corduroy with soft toe and counter, trimmed with matching brown leather piping, lacing and vamp medallion.

Maple suede, a soft neutral that goes with everything is used for another flat with the new pancake heel and trimming of white braiding, cut-outs and button on the vamp. This combination of neutral with white continues into fall as a high fashion for casual wear.

Or you may have a completely soft black suede flat with elasticated broad instep strap. Black patent gives a bit of glint in an offside bow on the strap.

A more rugged type for your country tweeds and flannels is a two eyelet oxford of glove soft polished leather with hand-stitching on the moccasin vamp. And grey tweed flecked with yellow, red, green and blue is combined with black polished leather in one of the new one strap patterns that's pretty indeed.

For a woman with a busy life, there's nothing like a pair of such well-styled flats to see her through a day of duty!

British Hatters Face Bad Times

LONDON (AP)—Hatters in Great Britain are so desperate they have been manufacturing green bowlers. Colors are one answer to the trend away from the use of hats by men. The hat men claim they are selling lots of the highly colored hats. Colors also are found in caps for wear at the beach and on the golf course.

But even these sales have not checked the trend away from the use of hats, they admit sadly. A spokesman for the British hat manufacturers' federation said that 1932 was a year "of catastrophe in the history of the hatting industry."

Hatters admit they are fighting an uphill battle. Even bad weather does not put hats on many of their customers, they say.

V-Strap

Pale glowing leathers will be prominent in foot wear fashion this season. These blond kid V-Strap open back sandals have the new Spanish toes; highlighted at the throat with a topaz jewel.

Letter Saves Life Of Man From Florida

MOUNT DORA, Fla. (AP)—Paul H. Johnson figures a letter he had mailed may have saved his life, like this:

"I was driving to the post office when a windstorm felled a tree on his car. He grabbed the door handle but received a severe shock from live wires the tree had pulled on to the automobile.

He used the letter as an insulator, opened the door and stepped out just as the car roof caved in from the tree's weight. He escaped with a sprained back and minor cuts.

America's Shoe Industry Is A Modern Enterprise

America's shoe industry is a vast, modern enterprise of mass-production that turns out about two billion dollars worth of footwear each year. While in one sense it's a mass-production industry with an output of a half billion pairs of shoes yearly, it is, at the same time, composed of a large group of "specialists" highly expert at their work.

Each of America's 1,100 shoe manufacturers specializes in making just certain types of footwear rather than making some of all kinds. A manufacturer will specialize in men's or women's shoes; or boys' or girls' or infants' shoes.

But this specialization is refined even more. For example, we have manufacturers making women's highgrade dress shoes, and others making women's casual or sport shoes, and still others making low-price novelty shoes, and those producing women's conservative type footwear.

All this applies equally to men's and children's shoes. Thus, there is a specialization by type of shoe, and again by style, and still again by price. Some are super-specialists who make nothing but moccasins, or even hand-made shoes.

We may take much of this for granted, but it may surprise the average person to learn that America's shoe industry is perhaps the only such specialized operation of any shoe industry in the world. Elsewhere throughout the world the average shoe manufacturer usually makes shoes of all types and prices in the same factory.

That's one reason why American-made shoes are considered the finest and most inexpensive in the world—specialization. By specializing, the manufacturer is able to become expert in every minute detail of a particular type of shoe. He knows how to make it better, faster and cheaper than anyone else.

Illinois Children Find New Pastime

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Children have discovered a new pastime. It's finding buried pipes with homemade "divining rods" made from coat hangers. They hold two coat hanger rods in front of them and walk slowly around their home. When they come to a buried pipe the two wires slowly are pulled together and cross over the spot where the pipe is buried.

It has something to do with electro-magnetic action. But the children don't care about any high-frown scientific principles, it's just plain fun.

It Takes Time

It takes 1.75 man-hours to produce a pair of high-medium priced men's dress shoes. The average man-hours required to produce all types of men's shoes is 38 as against .75 man-hours for all types of all shoes.

Tricycle Speed Law On Connecticut Books

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Careful how you ride that tricycle in Connecticut! You can be fined $20 for going faster than 10 miles an hour. And the law says that the tricycle must have a suitable bell or horn. The state motor vehicles department says it doesn't know of a single tot who has been arrested.

Slim Suedes Big Leaders In Autumn Shoe Fashions

Fashion authorities agree that the suede shoe is going to hold its own in the fall fashion picture for town wear. Why? Because elegance is the keynote this season, and there's nothing so elegant, so feminine and flattering as the slim pump of suede.

Black is the big favorite—black with delicate dressmaker touches and fine bootmaker details which make the new pumps and sandals real things of beauty. There is renewed interest in dark brown suede shoes, another fashion of great distinction not so apparent in the last few seasons.

Fabrics have set the pace for this renewed interest in suede. Lustre and sheen in wonderful new luxury materials for formal town coats and costume suits really demand the dull mat surface of suede as the perfect accessory fashion.

Typical of the new feeling in fashion is the revival of broadcloth, a fabric that has been out of the picture more or less for the last dozen years. This fabric now comes in tissue weight for dresses and also in coat and suit materials. Top designers are working with it, with black of course the most popular. But there are also some lovely costumes in winter navy or brown.

Broadcloth used to be considered a matron's choice, but not this year. Some beautiful fashions for women have been created in this material. But it also lends itself to very smart coats and suits for the younger set.

But broadcloth is only one indication of a trend which makes this fall's clothes very different from the lumps and bumps and poodle cloths of last year.

New coat materials are sleek as a seal and shine like a mirror. They're of fine wool, mixed with mohair or alpaca, and brushed to give that high gloss. These are being shown not only in the usual town colors of black, brown and navy, but in greys, beiges, even mauves and other winter pastels, since the pale coat is becoming a big fall favorite.

In place of rabbit's hair, some of these luxury coatings are woven with mink, seal or other precious furs.

Even such classic tailored fabrics as covert and gabardine add a silken surface or a satiny facing to appear in important costumes.

Half Million Shoes

Each year the American shoe industry turns out a half billion pairs of shoes or about 40 per cent of the total output of the world. New England makes one-third of the shoes produced in the United States.

In the new mood for fall. Naturally, these are not for the one-costume wardrobe. They definitely won't "do for everything." They are the costume for the occasion. But all fashion is showing a marked tendency to create clothes for the right place, at the right time, worn in the right manner and with the correct accessories.

The new suede shoes capture the same feeling as the costumes. They are tapered as to toe, slim and graceful as to heel, often with a restrained touch of piping, braid or stitching which gives a dressmaker look without interfering with the beautiful lines of the shoe. They too are not every day, go-to-market fashions. They are the aristocrats of shoes.

The pump is the big favorite—mostly closed, but also shown in sling types. Where sandals are desired, the preference goes to very smart and flattering versions of the T strap, as against the horizontally banded sandal which has been such a hit for the last several seasons.

Matching suede bags are in the same formal mood. Simple in line, beautifully tailored of rich velvety suede, they carry just a touch of handsome ornamentation in clasp, buckle or monogram. And suede slip-on gloves, in matching or paler tones carry out the theme of dull-with-shine for fall formality.

Open Shoes Play A Double Role In Women's Fashions

Many women prefer the comfort as well as the flattery of an open shoe to wear through early fall. Perhaps they hesitate to buy such a shoe feeling that a little later they will want closed shoes for all winter.

However, many of the first fall open shoe designs are so pretty and feminine that they can easily double as cocktail and dinner shoes all during the party times of mid-winter.

Typical of this feeling is a high-heeled wide open sandal of inter-laced striping of black satin and suede. Satin is coming up every day in fashion importance, and will be used alone or in combinations with crepes or other fabrics. In many of the most attractive cocktail and dinner costumes for later season wear.

Another charming shoe, to wear later with a black velvet, crepe or chiffon dress is also made of black suede. It's an open shoe, a high-heeled sling, with narrow strips of the suede forming the vamp, with jet head trim to provide a jewel touch, as perfect with the dark silk suits or coats that will continue to be worn on the street during first fall days as well as with mid-winter dresses.

Jet appears on many of the early fall formal town pumps and sandals. An open sandal sling pump has a triangular cut-out on the vamp, with small flat bow jet-sparkled. And a perforated banded sandal in black suede is another popular fashion for early fall wear.

Since almost every woman wants dress in her wardrobe, she will find plenty of use for such a shoe as this during the entire season.

In World War II there were about 30,000 battle deaths of Americans in the Pacific area.

Suede Stylish For Both The Young And Old

If you go way back, before the war, you'll recall that the suede shoe season was very short. It was chiefly a fall shoe, in fashion a few short months. And strictly a woman's shoe.

But look what's happened! Today suede or brushed leather shoes are not only a year-round fashion, but these shoes are worn by men and children as well as by women.

Suede has been riding the crest of popularity for a good number of years now, and there's no sign of decline. For women, it's way up front in the footwear fashion materials. It's adaptable to so many types of shoes—and shoes for so many occasions. Versatile is certainly the name for suede.

In the men's footwear field, suede or brushed leathers have become a staple item. Navy blue and brown are the top two colors, with grey next. More and more men's fashions in shoes are utilizing touches of suede in combination with smooth leathers. And the all-over suede shoe has become a major style factor in the male shoe wardrobe.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of all has been the reception of suede in the children's shoe field—particularly with girls from five years and up. Today a truly handsome array of suede shoe fashions—sandals, pumps, dressy oxfords, etc.—are available for this group. The designers have outdone themselves in giving these shoes the little grown-up touches the kids love.

One big impetus in this suede shoe boom has been the simplicity with which they can be kept looking fresh and clean. A quick once-over with a little brush that can be kept in purse or pocket. And today we also have excellent suede cleaners in spray or liquid form. Quick application, rapid drying, and shoes like new again.

Nine Bullets Stuck In Revolver Barrel

CHULA VISTA, Calif. (AP)—Police said it was fantastic, but there it was.

Nine bullets were stuck in the barrel of the .38 calibre revolver that Leon Morrison, 37, brought them to examine.

Morrison said he noticed no bullet was hitting the target but didn't realize they were jamming until the pearl handle of the revolver broke off in his hand.

Discard Old Shoes

Discard shoes with soles worn so thin that you can feel the surface you are walking on. And don't let the heels of your shoes become run-over. Straight heels will help prevent leg and backaches and enlarged ankles.

Many Leathers Give A Flair To Sport Shoes

Nothing stodgy about sports clothes this autumn.

Things intended for the great outdoors are just as colorful as the scenery, and shoes are going right along with the mood in campus and country fashions.

Typical of the new carefree feeling—a short wrap-around skirt of natural camel's hair worn over black jersey sweater and knee length jersey pants. With this, high rib knit stockings and tasseled moccasins of natural and chamols leather.

Pigskin is a new favorite—in glove weight or heavier service shoes. You can have it in natural color, or dyed in deeper shades. It wears exceedingly well, is soft on the foot and looks very smart with Hannels and tweeds.

Comfortable, supple as a glove and long-wearing... the unlined calfskin step-in with wedge heel and rubber insole for protection from dampness underfoot. Very smart with its wide shaped instep band of polished leather and contrasting stitching on the vamp. Cork soles and wedges are features of some of the newest of these sturdy all-weather shoe fashions.

The "little boy" brogue, restyled for his mother and sisters, promises to be a hit for the tweed-and-sweater groups and there's a revival of interest in the sabot strap, one of the most practical of walking shoe fashions.

Quite handsome enough for the trip to town is such a polished leather shoe with built-up leather heel extension sole and wide stitched and buckled sabot strap shoes declare them the maximum in comfort—and this season they're in fashion as well.

Malaya Bothered By Rustlers Of Cattle

KOTA BAHRU, Malaya (AP)—Gangs of rustlers are founding up cattle in lonely villages in North Malaya and taking them across the border into Thailand for sale to dealers.

Despite close cooperation between Malayan and Thai police, it has been difficult to detect stolen cattle being driven across the shallow Celok River dividing the two countries, according to reports.

Blacks Are Black

Black is "The New In Shoes" for men. In a season of color, black stages a comeback in smooth toe treatments, also in straight, U and wingtips in polished leather for town.

Still The Leader

Wing tip models continue to lead in shoe fashions for men. They include smooth leathers and Scotch grains, and may be had in newly popular black or browns. This smooth leather brogue features meditation cap and stormwelt sole for fall.

Black Is No Longer An 'Old Gentleman'

No longer is black an "old gentleman" all purpose shoe in the fall and winter wardrobe of the man who knows what's what. This fall there's a definite trend toward the use of black leathers in men's shoes for both casual and business wear.

Black appears in such varied types as U-wing and conventional wing tips for business to plain tip bluchers and moccasins for wear with the new dark slacks combined with lighter sports jackets.

Far from being stodgy, these polished blacks have a decided look of smart sophistication with the more conservative cut and color of men's fashions for the coming season.

More news in men's shoe fashions—the return of fine grain leathers, the increasing popularity of aniline leathers and cordovans, the interest in combinations of brushed leathers with calf or reptile. Alligator and suede, or alligator and grain calf combinations are meeting with success for town as well as country wear.

In U-wing tips, calf and cordovan are the leathers most in demand, followed by the brushed leather and calf combinations. The wood tones and reddish brown leathers have a new richness from the aniline finish which improves with each polishing, tends to give the leather depth of color. Heavier leather and heavier soles are a feature of the fall and winter shoe fashions combining comfort with good looks.

Blue shoes are going to be around this fall, and not just for country wear. They are particularly favored by younger men, who like them in suede and calf combinations. One such uses a long smooth vamp of suede combined with calf.

They Walk Far

The average school girl walks 7 to 11 1/2 miles a day, the average school boy 15 miles, according to the National Shoe Institute.

Stocking Length

Diesel locomotives haul more than 65 per cent of the nation's rail freight.

Moccasins

Moccasins such as these hand laced with kitties tongue, fringed collar and foam rubber soles, were never more stylish. They're made of one piece elk leather.

Makers Assure Pointed Toes Have Comfort

Do your toes end in a sharp point? Probably not. Nevertheless, shoe designers assure us that the new fall pumps and sandals with triangle vamps can be worn with comfort by most women.

Whether they can or cannot, we suspect that women who like "The New In Shoes" and other fashion accessories are going to give them a try. The pointed toe has been trying to become a shoe fashion for the last three or four years. Imperceptible vamps have been getting slimmer and slimmer — and incidentally prettier and more flattering.

This season however, top designers decided to go the whole hog with the triangle toe which is as clean cut and sharply defined as though it were laid out with a ruler.

This new shoe silhouette is certainly in the mood of autumn fashion. It seems expressly designed to go with the clean-cut pipstern sheath silhouette which is a feature of fall and winter dresses and suits. It's the exclamation point which sparks the new feeling in costumes.

The most extreme design is the true Spanish toe, always on a very slender high tapered heel, with wide square throatline which emphasizes the needle point, and is the ultimate in shoe coquetry.

However, if the Spanish toe scares you there are plenty of other smart shoe designs which follow the trend toward more slender lines by clever vamp treatments which give the effect of greater pointedness and allow a little more toe room.

And if you don't like to walk on spike heels, there are new medium heels so skillfully curved and shaped that they produce an illusion of height and slimmness while being a bit easier to walk on. Clever people, these shoe designers who can take the most extreme fashion, give it a twist and make it wearable by all.

Turned Out Cleaner All That Was Needed

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Three cars tangled on a highway and the driver of one of them looked into one of the other cars and called an ambulance.

There was blood all around, he thought.

It turned out that no one was seriously hurt and Mrs. Darwin Champion was even able to smile through tears as she wiped red paint from a spilled can from her hair.

Minnesota Town Is Reunited In Election

BAUDETTE, Minn. (AP)—Forty-six years ago the village of Baudette voted to split into two parts. The part on the east side of the Baudette River became Spooner and the portion on the west side kept the old name.

Now, in the interests of better municipal operation, they have voted to consolidate again and the name Spooner will be dropped.

Expensive Shoes

A Russian teacher has to work 110 hours to buy a pair of shoes as compared with only four hours for an American teacher.

Popularity Mounting

The slip-on in patent becomes the new in shoes for fall and winter formal wear, inspired the mounting popularity of the laceless shoes for wear with town and country clothes and available in many ties.

With Tweeds

Grain leathers are more popular this fall. They are back in lighter versions in the whole brogue family. Grains alone or in combination go well with fall tweeds.

Suedes Gain

All over suedes with crepe soles in both conventional and the newer two eyelet styles are gaining strength in acceptance for wear with both casual and street clothes.

Hand-Me-Downs Bad For Children

Regardless of how old a child is, he should never wear his big brother's outgrown shoes. It's misguided economy that saves a few dollars now, only to cause pain and discomfort in years to come.

'Fashion Strikes It Rich,' Will Glitter With Gold

We're back on the gold standard this fall—gold used in new and unexpected ways in both clothes and accessories.

Take good grey flannel for instance. It certainly looks different with a skirt of plain material and a jacket flecked with little crow's feet of gold stitching.

Or for pure opulence, a fall and winter toposat of midnight brown boucle, luxurious hairy surface and thin threads of gold glinting through the deep pile of the material. Smart too, the cocktail suit of worsted in black, taupe or deep navy with a fine gold stripe for the jacket, and plain material for the skirt.

Gold is "The New In Shoes" for formal wear, too. For cocktail and informal evening wear, you'll see the sandal or pump of black satin or crepe with piping, vamp or heel of gleaming gold kidskin. Gold polka dots on black satin make gay and sparkling low cut, high heeled pumps, to give lift to the all-black party dress.

For real evening wear the gold kidskin skeleton sandal has the happy faculty of going with lots of different dance dresses. This year the straps are apt to be jeweled with rhinestones or multi-colored fake jewels, and often have a solid jewel heel for added excitement.

Rarely beautiful are the new brocades for the really grand evening dress. These may be solid gold brocade, or one of the exquisite new small floral patterns combining colors such as violet, mint green and gold, on black, or flag red, blue and gold on white.

If you have your own ideas about a color scheme, choose the nude sandal or pump of white and gold brocade which may be dyed to match or supply a vivid note of contrast to your new pale evening dress.

Eight Million Hides

In normal times, nearly 8 million hides are tanned for sole leather; a great portion of which is utilized in men's shoes. These hides would carpet 15 thousand square miles of landscape.

Red Shoes Take On Newer Tone For Fall Wear

If you've ever worn a red shoe—and who hasn't these days—you are certainly going to want a pair in the wonderful new ruby and vintage tones in polished calf and aniline leathers which are coming out for fall.

Quite different from the high keyed reds of summer, the rich autumn reds have a slight blue cast, take a wonderful polish and go with practically everything in your wardrobe.

You will have a black shoe this fall, a tan or brown one, and possibly a blue, but you will be amazed at how often you slip on the red shoe as a single color note or perhaps with matching bag.

This new red is divine with the whole beige to brown range which is present leader in fall fashions. From the very pale through the camel toes, the coppery browns, and the taupe shades, the red shoe is a happy choice in warm rich contrast. It goes with navy and all the clearer light blues which are important.

a red shoe is handsome indeed with them, sparking the entire costume. And if your black coat or The new greens are mossy and suit has a town and country air, try red for a casual note.

Puffy Toe Is Best For Fitting Baby

Each pair of feet develops differently and one person's shoes will not fit another's feet.

In selecting a shoe for a baby, buy one with a puffy toe. In fact, the only part of a baby's shoe that should fit snugly is the heel, which should grip the foot firmly, as the heel controls and balances the foot.

The instep should be loose. If it's too tight, it stops blood circulation and presses the arch bones out of shape.

The Modern Home Freezer Reduces Food Costs in Family Budget

Time was when women had to be financial wizards in order to balance the food budget. High costs of meats and vegetables, plus the everlasting problem of food spoilage was a major concern to the homemaker. Now, the Home Freezer has pointed the new way to real economy in the kitchen, producing almost immediate results in food savings.

By buying large quantities of foods, particularly in seasons when prices are lowest, the family is able to stretch their food budget. At the same time they enjoy a variety of nutritious, well-balanced menus all year 'round.

Large cuts of meats often mean wholesale prices, and since meat is one of the most important food items, special prices can guarantee tremendous savings. Although their storage time varies, practically all types of meat may be kept in the Home Freezer, sometimes for a full year. Real savings will be in the bulk buying of the many meats which can be stored for long periods.

New Home Freezers Glorify Leftovers

One of the greatest appetite-destroyers in the world is the too-quick "repeat performance" of a tasty dish. Yes, roast beef is wonderful on Sunday, but when it's followed with roast beef sandwiches on Monday, and roast beef hash on Tuesday, it loses its appeal for even the healthiest appetite. Until the advent of the Home Freezer, this problem of leftovers was typical in most homes.

Leftovers, as Webster defines it, is: "Left behind, undone, or unremoved; remaining as surplus". Naturally, in her attempt to salvage the food budget the homemaker had no alternative but to serve, and serve again.

The clever homemaker knows that her family wants variety in their menus, and with proper planning and preparation, variety is exactly what they get. Roast

Fresh Sea Food Flavors Are New To Many People

No longer is it necessary to live close to the source of supply to enjoy the full flavor of fresh seafood. Practically every type of seafood, including shrimps, crabs and oysters are now frozen at their very peak of freshness, and shipped to markets throughout the country in handy meal-size containers.

Because it is probably the most highly perishable of all foods, freshly-caught seafood would naturally tend to lose its flavor through ordinary shipping methods. However, the new freezing method has eliminated this problem forever, so that now many of our land-locked midwestern neighbors are enjoying the fine, ocean-fresh flavor of seafood for the first time.

Freezers Bring New Way To Better Living In The Home

The modern Home Freezer is just like having your own food store in your home. You can keep a tremendous variety of flavor-fresh foods on hand at all times... enjoy delicious menus right from your own freezer.

Better Menus, Easier Food Preparation Start Boom in Home Freezers

Years ago it was believed that a woman's work was never done. In addition to her usual household chores of cleaning, scrubbing and laundering, the average homemaker of yesteryear made daily shopping trips to the neighborhood market, and spent endless hours of cooking and baking in preparing the family meals. Small wonder that women hailed with delight the advent of the Home Freezer to escape from old-fashioned kitchen drudgery.

The freezer has become the homemaker's greatest ally in reducing food costs and saving hours of shopping time and food preparation. The weary repetition of daily food planning is a thing of the past, and the secret of advanced meal preparation is so simple that homemakers wonder how they ever managed without it. Now, women can cook extra quantities of meat and vegetables to be stored in the freezer, actually enough food to last for many meals.

Today's homemaker shops once or twice a month, and takes advantage of important savings by buying quantities of foods when prices are lowest. Corn on the cob, strawberries, watermelon and other favorites purchased during the summer, can be kept at their peak of freshness for months and lend a touch of glamour to mid-winter meals.

Last minute entertaining doesn't throw the freezer-owner into a quandary. In her leisure

Soups, Stews and Sauces Freeze Well

Tempting homemade soups, sauces and stews can be ready at a moment's notice to pamper hungry appetites. Soups should be placed in suitable containers, leaving at least one-half inch of air space at the top. When ready to use, frozen soup is merely turned into a saucepan and heated to desired temperature.

Cooked stews also retain full zest and flavor after months in the freezer. Potatoes should be cooked and added to the stew when ready to serve.

Ice Cream Retains Flavor in Freezer

Ice cream will keep its flavor for many, many months in the home freezer. Freezer owners keep several flavors on hand, for special parties or mealtime desserts. For added convenience, most homemakers buy ice cream in bulk quantities and repack it in handy size containers for the freezer.

Children love ice cream sticks and cones for between-meal snacks, and since these are so easy to make, many homemakers wrap several of them in special moisture-vapor-proof paper, and keep them in the freezer, always ready for quick serving.

Frozen Vegetables Retain Full Flavor and Vitamins

One of the greatest benefits of the Home Freezer is to prolong the taste delights of all vegetables, whether it's for weeks, or a full year.

Natural color, flavor and texture are successfully retained if vegetables are young and tender when they are frozen. However, the wise homemaker will insist on only the highest quality vegetables, because the freezer cannot improve taste and color. The frozen foods will be only as good as when they were put into the freezer.

Remembering that vegetables should be processed quickly after picking, the homemaker loses very little time in transferring them from the garden or super-market, to her freezer. Proper preparation and storage is easy, and assures perfect preservation of color and taste.

Vegetables should be first washed in very cold running water. After discarding blemished and tough portions, scald about one pound of vegetables at a time in a large kettle of boiling water. Immediately after scalding place vegetables in cold water for at least as long as scalding time, to stop cooking and thoroughly cool the vegetable. Drain well, package and freeze immediately.

Divide vegetables into separate meal-size containers, marking the Summer Harvest Yields Winter Meals

There are no special food seasons for the family with a freezer. Their mid-winter table is laden with tender, sweet, garden-fresh foods that were once possible only during the few short summer months.

The goodness and flavor of foods, at their very moment of harvest perfection, is retained for months in the Home Freezer. The homemaker knows that young beans, asparagus, corn and many other vegetables are priced very low during the season. She takes advantage of special prices at that time, and keeps a good supply of summer favorites in the freezer, ready to provide delicious, out-of-season treats for her family between harvests.

This new method of preserving taste and quality has opened new avenues to adventures in good eating for the Home Freezer's owner.

Home Offers Many Locations for Your New Home Freezer

Probably one of the first questions the new freezer owner asks herself is, "Where to put it?" Fortunately, the home offers many ideal locations.

If space permits, the freezer may very well be placed in the kitchen or utility room. The homemaker will probably enjoy added convenience with the freezer in one of these two rooms, because it's just like having a food store at her fingertips. And the freezer top is usually a flat surface, which provides a handy work counter. It is well for the freezer owner to check floor supports, however, to make sure they can bear the weight of the freezer when it is filled to capacity.

Some people prefer to keep their freezer in the basement, since it usually offers more in the way of space than the kitchen or utility room. And often it has the lowest temperature in the house.

The freezer owner should remember that, from an operating standpoint, it is best to choose a cool, dry, well ventilated spot for the freezer.

"New Freezers Like Your Own Food Store In The Kitchen" Says Noted Home Economist!

Adelaide Fellows,
Home Economist for Philco Corporation
Hails Home Freezer
Conveniences

Homemakers are naturally quick to recognize a good electrical servant when they see one. In my years of working with electrical appliances, I have found that women measure a good appliance by the convenience, efficiency and economy it offers them.

The modern Home Freezer fills every requirement to make it a truly great home appliance. It brings a streamlined supermarket right into the home, with a variety of meats, vegetables, baked goods and fruits right at the fingertips of every homemaker.

Full course menus can be stored in the Freezer for weeks before serving. Breakfast treats of waffles, sausages, fruit juices; sandwiches and snacks for a "select-your-own" luncheon; pies, cakes and ice cream for delicious desserts, are right at hand, ready to "heat and serve" in minutes after they're taken from the Freezer.

Special diets for the new baby or someone who is ailing? It isn't necessary to juggle two completely different diets to keep the rest of the family happy. The Freezer owner simply prepares her special foods in quantity, divides them into serving portions, and stores them in her Freezer.

Mrs. Adelaide Fellows, Director of the Philco Home Economics Laboratory.

Holidays and special occasions call for special taste treats, such as cookies, plum puddings, and fruit cakes. The homemaker can do her baking well in advance of her busiest day, wrap them in aluminum foil or moisture-vapor-proof cellophane and store them in the Home Freezer.

The Home Freezer eliminates the daily preparation of lunch box menus, too. When the homemaker has prepared a variety of sandwiches in advance, and packed them with several cookies, or a slice of pie, she has only to visit her kitchen "supermarket" each morning for an appetizing choice of luncheon menus.

No matter where the homemaker lives, or what her activities may be, a Home Freezer will serve faithfully and well by conserving time, money and energy. All this, and maximum convenience, too!

Freezer Improves Flavor of Wild Fowl, Game and Fish

Many sportsmen have found that the Home Freezer serves to tenderize and improve the flavor of freshly bagged game, fowl and fish. If the game is prepared just as it be for cooking, and properly wrapped, it will remain fresh for many months in the Home Freezer.

Most fresh-water fish retain their goodness for almost a year. Venison can be stored as long as ten months in the Freezer, and will be a delicious treat when thawed, cooked and served.

Glorifying Leftovers

beef, turkey, or whatever the main course may be, needn't be repeated for days, weeks or even months later.

Take the Thanksgiving turkey. After the ravenous appetites of her family have been satisfied, the Freezer owner simply wraps the remainder of the bird and stores it in the Freezer for another occasion. The same procedure can be applied for meats. Meanwhile, the homemaker has an appetizing supply of main dishes all ready to heat and serve, much to the delight and enjoyment of everyone.

Any woman who manages a budget knows that there is an endless variety of meats and vegetables on the market. With the aid of a Home Freezer she can stock enough food to provide dozens of delicious menus.

This much is certain; the modern kitchen with a Freezer has eliminated the problem of leftovers. With a satisfied grin at her food budget, the modern homemaker has learned the secret of turning old-fashioned leftovers into a tempting main dish, whetting even the smallest appetite.

Fresh Fruit Pies May Be Frozen

Dessert can become the highlight of a perfect meal. Probably because it spells the end of a delicious dinner, a satisfying dessert often lingers as a pleasant reminder of every course on the menu.

Almost any homemaker is certain of unrestrained enthusiasm when she serves tender, flaky, homemade pie. Apple is a well-known favorite, but other pies such as pumpkin, squash, mince meat, and lemon are popular enough to be called back for second helpings.

The Freezer owner is able to keep a good supply of fresh pies on hand for any occasion. She can prepare as many as she chooses, using either plain crust, or spicy graham cracker crust. Pies may be baked or unbaked when they're placed in the freezer. They can be removed as needed, weeks or even months later.

Freezers Reduce Family Budget

Asparagus, corn, carrots, and many other vegetables are quite inexpensive during the summer season, and they freeze exceptionally well for long periods. This "in season" buying develops considerable savings. The Freezer owner never worries about buying more than her family can use, because surplus food is kept at its peak of freshness until needed. Even leftovers can be stored in the freezer and served again as a main dish, weeks or even months later.

More and more families, seeking relief from high food costs are enjoying unbelievable savings with a Home Freezer. Many homemakers feel that they didn't pay for their Home Freezer, the Freezer paid for itself.

A Modern Home Freezer Answers Fisherman's Prayer

The fisherman with a Freezer in the home is able to enjoy his favorite fish throughout the entire year. Instead of getting rid of most of his catch before it loses its flavor, he places his surplus fish in the Home Freezer, where it is certain to retain its salt-water freshness.

The Freezer owner should remember that as soon as possible after it is caught, fish should be frozen. If delay is necessary, it should be placed in the refrigerator or kept on ice until it is ready for the Freezer. The first essential in handling fish to be frozen is to keep it cold.

Fish should be prepared for freezing exactly as it is prepared for cooking. It may be packaged and frozen, or frozen quickly on a sheet of freezer foil, and then packaged. After freezing, fish may be glazed by dipping it in ice water. This prevents loss of flavor and moisture.

Quick frozen fish can be cooked in the same manner as fresh fish and keeps that freshly caught flavor. The fishing season can last all year with a new freezer. There will be on hand a wide selection of every type of tasty, healthful seafood.

Lobsters, clams, crabs and other shell fish freeze well. They can be kept indefinitely and will retain that inimitable tang of the sea to be served when that craving for salt water delicacies needs to be satisfied.

Periodic Inventory of Freezer Contents Saves Time and Money

Experienced homemakers find that they get the best use of their Freezer by following a simple plan of freezing, according to their family's needs.

By determining in advance what foods she will freeze, how much, and when, the homemaker avoids loading her Freezer with the first produce of the season. She keeps a portion of space available for other foods that will ripen later on.

It is best to start with a neatly organized Freezer, grouping the same kinds of foods together, assigning certain sections for vegetables, meats, etc. New packages should be placed on the bottom of their group so that the longest stored foods will be used first.

Now, with a pencil or crayon, the homemaker can make an easy-to-follow inventory chart. It may be as rough or as fancy as she desires, but it should clearly list the full contents of her freezer, the approximate quantity of food in each package, and the date it was placed in the freezer. By following this inventory, the homemaker can tell at a glance when her storage time is running out.

Fruits and vegetables will usually keep in good condition for a full year. Meat, fowl, and fish vary in length of storage time depending upon their kind and quality.

The following chart summarizes the approximate time which

An occasional check of her frozen food stock eases meal planning and aids as a shopping guide for the homemaker.

Hors d'Oeuvres Defrost Quickly at Room Temperature

Every hostess knows that attractive platters of hors d'oeuvres and tea sandwiches can turn a small, informal party, or an afternoon tea into a special occasion.

At one time the average homemaker dreaded the thought of preparing hors d'oeuvres, because it meant hours of preparation on the day of entertaining, and sometimes resulted in shattered nerves for the hostess.

With a Freezer in the home, there's no reason for the homemaker to weary herself with long hours of food preparation before her guests arrive. In her leisure time she can make up whole platters of appetizing hors d'oeuvres, and have them on hand for quick serving on any occasion.

By planning and preparing these time-consuming snacks in advance, the modern hostess finds a new pleasure in entertaining. Just a few minutes after they're removed from the Freezer, hors d'oeuvres are completely defrosted, and just as fresh as the day she made them.

Sandwiches..... 1/2 to 3 mo.
Cooked meats..... 3 to 6 mo.

The above table is merely a guide for the maximum time of storage before foods begin to lose quality. The homemaker should start to use her frozen foods soon after they are stored.

The Modern Homemaker Is Cook For a Day and Queen For a Week

With a freezer in the kitchen, the average homemaker has outlined a working plan for herself that includes new leisure and freedom fit for a queen. She has simply taken the multitude of duties that had to be repeated day after day, and combined them into an efficient, all-in-one operation.

When the Freezer owner gets underway with her once-a-week meal planning, she often surprises herself with the variety of delicious menus she can prepare in just a few hours. For instance, it's just as easy to fry chicken to a rich, golden brown on top of the range, while a tender roast of beef is baking in the oven. Vegetables and soups can be cooked in double quantities and placed in meal-size containers for safe freezer storage.

While the oven is still hot, it's a good idea to pop in several batches of cookies, or two or three pies, enough to provide tasty dessert for several meals. Fresh fruits, too, can be placed in containers, ready for quick serving as an appetizer or between-meal snack.

The modern homemaker doesn't overlook the fact that she will probably entertain friends sometime during the week. She takes advantage of her day in the kitchen to experiment with special snacks and hors d'oeuvres, making them as decorative as her heart desires.

Her day in the kitchen finished, the homemaker finds that she has planned a complete schedule of menus for the entire week ahead. A full course dinner can be served from the Freezer in less than one-half hour, and when unexpected company drops in, there's always plenty of delightful food on hand. What's more, there's a perfectly charming hostess, who is always relaxed and ready to join the party.

The modern homemaker plans and cooks a whole week's menus in a day.

A carefully planned dinner will be on the table in a very few minutes.

5 Easy Freezing Steps Versus 16 for Home Canning

The homemaker who once relied on Home Canning methods to preserve fruits and vegetables can truly appreciate the modern Home Freezer.

Freezing actually eliminates eleven steps that were once necessary in preparing vegetables for Home Canning. Listed below are the essential steps for Freezing vegetables:

1. Assemble labels and set up packaging materials
 2. Select, sort, wash, prepare vegetables
 3. Place vegetables in boiling water
 4. Cool vegetables in cold running water and place in carton
 5. Seal packages. Place in freezer immediately
- To prepare the same vegetables for Home Canning, the following steps are necessary:
1. Test pressure-cooker canner

2. Assort materials
3. Wash jars and closures in warm soapy water. Rinse in hot water
4. Invert jars on clean towel
5. Select, sort, wash and prepare vegetables
6. Scald vegetables in boiling water
7. Pack hot vegetables in hot jars, and salt
8. Adjust hot lids
9. Release air bubbles
10. Add water to pressure canner and heat to boiling
11. Place jars on rack and lower into canners
12. Fasten cover securely on canner. Heat until steam pours out of petcock
13. Close petcock and watch pressure gauge closely
14. Remove canner from heat. Let pressure drop to zero
15. Remove jars from canner and tighten lid
16. Allow jars to cool. Test for leakage, label and store.

To prepare fruit for freezer storage, it is necessary only to wash, sort, add dry sugar and place in packages. Home canning, however, makes it necessary for

CAREFUL WRAPPING AND PACKING ASSURES SAFE, LONG TIME STORAGE

The smart homemaker won't risk the disappointments of careless wrapping and packing. She knows that unless foods are properly prepared for any long-time storage they will dry out, lose flavor and color. By following just a few simple rules, anyone can achieve perfect Freezer storage.

Neat, air-tight food packages begin with a good supply of freezing materials. Most drug and department stores carry special "moisture-vapor-proof" materials, especially for packaging foods to be frozen. Also available are waxed paper cartons and containers in various sizes, cellophane paper and paper bags, aluminum foil, glass jars, and other time-saving materials.

Meats, poultry and fish should be wrapped in cellophane wrapping paper, of the moisture-vapor-proof type, and then over-wrapped with special freezer paper, or placed in a carton. Cellophane sheets are used in cartons to separate layers of steak, chops and ground meat patties. Aluminum foil, the heavy "freezer foil" and many laminated wrappings are excellent for wrapping.

Flat, waxed cartons, used with cellophane liner are suitable for vegetables. However, small, meal-sized quantities of vegetables can be stored in plastic bags.

Fruits and berries, or other foods containing liquids may be kept in glass jars. These freezer jars require no sealing. When the food is ready to be used, the jar is merely placed in cool water to quickly remove the contents from the jar.

Freezer foil and other wrapping materials are especially designed for the Freezer.

The homemaker should make certain that her wrapping materials are in good condition. If cellophane bags become brittle, they should be wrapped in a damp towel and allowed to stand for several hours at room temperature when they will again become pliable and leak-proof.

After packages are wrapped and sealed, it is a good idea to label them clearly before putting them in the freezer. With a pencil or wax crayon all useful information, such as the type of food, the date it was placed in the Freezer, etc., can be noted on the outside of the carton or wrapping. The purpose of labelling packages is so that the homemaker can see at a glance how long the foods have been in her Freezer, and, of course, use first the food which has been in storage longest.

Vegetables Retain

contents and the date on each carton. Now the calendar has ceased to influence the quality or flavor of her favorite vegetables. The homemaker has a variety of tender, garden fresh foods right at her fingertips, ready for quick serving all year 'round.

Better Menus

moments she prepares special snacks and salads, so that when unexpected guests drop in, she's ready to relax and enjoy the party.

Probably one of the biggest advantages of the Home Freezer is that it cuts food waste to a minimum. Leftovers remain fresh as the day they were cooked, and can be served as a main dish days or even weeks later.

Besides saving time and money, Home Freezers definitely contribute to the health and well being of the family, because balanced diets are easily maintained all year round. Highest quality foods are possible to the slimmest budget when bought in bulk, and quick freezing is the only method of retaining high vitamin content in fresh fruits and produce.

The modern homemaker, whether she dwells in an apartment or a suburban home, enjoys a new independence with the home freezer. She makes more efficient use of her time in the kitchen, enjoys considerable savings on food purchases, and obtains greater health for her family. These are some of the reasons why the Home Freezer has become the greatest of all home appliances.

Frozen Fruits Bring Out-of-Season Treat

Few people can resist the mouth-watering goodness of fresh fruits. They're always welcome as an appetizer, dessert, or refreshing midday snack.

Strawberries, sliced pineapple or peaches, and almost every other kind of fruit are delicious when served individually, or combined in an all-in-one fruit salad.

Freezing is by far the best method of retaining the high vitamin content in fresh fruit and berries. No other means of home canning or preserving captures the true or garden-fresh flavor so well.

The modern homemaker stores her favorite fruits in freezer containers and keeps them in her Home Freezer. For variety, different fruits in season may be packed and frozen together to provide an out-of-season treat months and months later.

Pack and Freeze School Lunches For Weeks Ahead

The once-a-week lunch maker stores delicious sandwiches and lunch menus in her freezer, always ready for the school lunch-box.

Freezer owners find that they can very well do without that early morning confusion of planning and packing lunch boxes. At the most it should take but a few minutes to prepare a variety of tasty, nutritious lunches for an entire week or more.

With just a few different types of bread, rolls and sandwich spreads, any homemaker can let her imagination work wonders in turning out many mouth-watering box lunches.

Meat, poultry, cheese spreads and nut pastes make excellent sandwich fillings. Fillings not suitable for freezing are those with raw vegetables, hard-cooked egg whites and fruit jellies. However, raw carrots, tomatoes, hard-boiled eggs, or a small container of jelly are welcome additions to the lunch box.

Both sides of bread or rolls should be well buttered so that the filling does not soak through and cause the bread to become soggy. Each sandwich should be wrapped in special moisture-vapor-proof wrapping material, and placed in a carton to prevent crushing during freezer storage.

Desserts, too, such as fresh fruits, and cakes or cookies, can be kept in the freezer, ready at a moment's notice to add a final taste treat to the lunch box.

Can a Home Freezer Pay For Itself Today?

The family without a Home Freezer may wonder if their freezer owner neighbors are exaggerating the savings they enjoy with the modern Home Freezer. We say they're not exaggerating one bit.

The Home Freezer does offer big food savings.

It does stretch the family food budget.

The thrifty homemaker knows that food is the most important item in the family budget, because it assures the health and well-being of the entire family.

How to serve nutritious, well-balanced meals, and still maintain a sensible food budget was quite a problem until the advent of the Home Freezer.

Now the homemaker-with-a-freezer can work wonders with even a very moderate food budget. She buys her meats and vegetables during the low-price seasons, when values are at their peak. She can actually indulge in "food buying sprees" at tremendous savings to the budget.

There's also a new adventure in wholesale food shopping for the freezer owner. Premium cuts of meat can be had at prices lower than retail markets can offer. Homemakers can purchase larger cuts of their favorite meats, and have them divided into meal-size portions for freezer storage. Wholesale buying means ample supplies of food on hand for any emergency.

And now we come to leftovers. They used to be quite a drain on the budget, before the freezer turned them into an advantage for the homemaker. Instead of sighing at the thought of food spoilage, she simply removes surplus food from the table, wraps it in the new moisture-vapor-proof paper and stores it in her freezer. Leftovers can be served months later as freshly-cooked main dishes.

By buying when foods are in season, by buying at wholesale prices, and by preserving leftovers, the homemaker can actually stretch her food budget to almost twice its size. She serves her family the best of nourishing meals, at substantial savings.

Freezers can not only pay for themselves in savings but in better eating through a wider range of menus and more balanced diets. And freezing can preserve vitamins in some fresh vegetables. Yes, a freezer is a good buy for any homemaker. A buy that will give many years of service and give daily dividends in money saved, better diets and more leisure hours in this helter-skelter life of modern America.

Bulk Meat Buying Means Big Food Budget Savings

Homemakers agree that meat is by far the most important item in the food budget. Usually it is the most expensive.

Freezer owners find that they can enjoy real economy when they buy meats in bulk quantities, at less-than-retail prices. Large cuts of meat can be divided into convenient, meal-size portions, so that the homemaker prepares only as much as her family will use at one time. She knows that thawing, and then refreezing sometimes causes loss of quality in the meat. It is better to use meat that has become defrosted as soon as possible.

All types of meat are well adapted to freezing. Most meats may be kept satisfactorily for a full year in the Home Freezer.

70% Less Work

the homemaker to sterilize jars and closures, make hot syrup, place filled jars in boiling water to seal lids, cool jars, and then label and store.

Without a doubt, the homemaker who has spent hours in preparing food for Home Canning is thrilled with the convenience, the extra hours she saves with the new and easy way of Home Freezing.

"Bake and Freeze" Eliminates Old Fashioned Drudgery

The most delicious and delicate baked goods will last for months and retain their oven-fresh flavor in the Home Freezer.

Every type of pastries and delicious baked goods can be stored, ready to serve at just a few minutes notice.

Is there anyone who doesn't love the flavor of fresh bread and pastry? We don't think so, and that's probably why so many homemakers are enthusiastic about the new, easy way of enjoying freshly baked pastries and bread every day in the week.

Freezer owners say that it's just as easy to make two or three cakes and pies at one time, as it is to make one. The same is true for a batch of cookies, or several loaves of bread. The thrifty homemaker doesn't worry about preparing more baked goods than her family will need, because all types of bread and pastries can be stored, cooked or uncooked, for months in the Freezer.

There are no special or secret recipes to follow for freezing baked goods. The homemaker merely bakes according to her regular recipes, remembering that cakes prepared with a vegetable shortening will keep longer than those with an animal shortening. Angel food, sunshine, sponge, butter cakes and spice cakes can be frozen and stored very successfully.

Cakes may be stored either frosted or unfrosted. Homemade cookies make a welcome addition to the lunch box, or a late evening snack. They can be packed in special Freezer bags, or placed in regular wax cartons for long time storage. Thawing time takes about 15 to 20 minutes at room temperature.

The wonders of the "Bake and Freeze" method never cease. If the homemaker is interrupted in her baking, or if she decides that she's done enough for the day, she merely packs her unbaked dough in a regular wax carton, and stores it in the Freezer for another time. If rolled and cut, cellophane sheets should be placed between layers of cookies or doughnuts to prevent their freezing together. Even weeks later, they will bake exactly the same as freshly made dough.

Daily Shopping Eliminated With Modern Home Freezer

Those daily shopping trips to the supermarket were a nuisance that today's homemaker is glad to forget. When the weather forecast says, "rain today", or "continued cold with snow this afternoon", the Freezer owner doesn't worry about rushing to the neighborhood market for food supplies. Bad weather doesn't inconvenience her one bit, because she has a variety of menus right at her fingertips.

Advance meal planning is a boon to the homemaker. It enables her to shop whenever it is convenient for her to do so, once or twice a month if she chooses. At that time she can buy large quantities of fresh meats and vegetables to provide many full course meals for her family. There's no worry of food spoilage for the thrifty Freezer owner, because all types of food can be successfully frozen for months and months.

Now, with several weeks shopping completed in just a few hours, our "ice-age" homemaker can turn her attention to actual meal preparation. Here again the Freezer saves her time, and eliminates the daily routine of preparing three meals a day. By cooking extra quantities of food at one time, the homemaker can keep just enough aside for one menu, and store the surplus in her Freezer for a future meal.

Entertaining also is made easier with a Home Freezer. The homemaker's shopping list always includes tasty sandwich fillings, and special ingredients that go to make appetizing snacks that can be served quickly when unexpected guests drop in.

It's welcome news, too, that considerable food savings can result from this new way of shopping. The Freezer owner is in a position to take advantage of all the special food seasons, when prices are lowest. And, of course, the whole family is happy when their favorite out-of-season foods are served months later.

ONLY A SMALL CUT, BUT FOR A MOMENT KING RORY IS BLINDED BY HIS OWN BLOOD, AND IN THAT MOMENT VAL LASHES OUT AT HIS ENEMY'S HAND.

THEN A STRANGE THING HAPPENS! KING RORY McCOLM, KING OF ALL THE KINGS OF IRELAND, STEPS BACK, HIS FACE ASHEN, ALL FEROCITY GONE! AND A GREAT ROAR COMES FROM THE ONLOOKERS, HALF SORROW, HALF GLEE, AS THEY SEE THAT THE RIGHT HAND IS MISSING ITS LITTLE FINGER!

NEXT WEEK—The Rule of the Irish Kings.

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

THE MONGOL WARRIORS WAITED BREATH-LESSLY AS THE TWO MEN PREPARED FOR THE CONTEST—A DUEL ON HORSEBACK, TO THE DEATH!

TENSION TRANSPANED THE AUDIENCE AS THE BARRER RIDERS MOUNTED AND LEAPED INTO ACTION.

FAILING, THE MONGOL DESPERATELY PLUNGED HIS SWORD INTO THE HORSE'S CHEST!

RUSTY RILEY

WELL, SENOR MILES, I AM MOST HAPPY THAT EVERYTHING HAS TURNED OUT WELL... I CERTAINLY NEVER SUSPECTED THAT KANE WOULD STOOP TO SUCH A THING AS TO KIDNAP YOUR HORSE.

IT'S A DOUBLY HAPPY DAY FOR ME, CLOSING THE DEAL WITH YOU, AND GETTING RUSTY BACK, TOO!

WOW! IT'S ALL REBUILT! WHAT'S THAT SIGN, 'COUNTY PLAYHOUSE'?

IT'S A SUMMER THEATRE! THEY HAVE REGULAR STAGE PLAYS.

THERE MUST BE A LOT OF ACTORS AND ACTRESSES! WHERE DO THEY ALL LIVE?

THERE ARE JUST A FEW REGULARS... THEY GET AMATEURS FROM AROUND HERE FOR THE SMALL PARTS... SAY! I THINK THAT MAN IS WAVING TO US!

YOU KIDS ARE FROM THAT BIG HORSE FARM, AREN'T YOU? WE NEED A HORSE FOR NEXT WEEK'S SHOW... THINK WE COULD HIRE ONE THAT AIN'T SKITTISH?

I THINK YOU COULD, BUT YOU BETTER SEE TEX PURDY... HE'S MY DADDY'S MANAGER.

MEANWHILE, IN THE HOME OF THE BEAUTIFUL MRS. J. FINSTON CASTLE.

HI, TOOTS! I HAD SUCH A DREADFUL TIME WITH MY HAIR-- I THOUGHT I'D NEVER GET IT RIGHT-- HOPE I'M NOT LATE--

THINK NOTHING OF IT, DEAR! CASPER IS GOING TO TAKE US OUT TO A NICE PLACE TO EAT!

NOW DO YOU LIKE THAT? THIS'LL COST ME A PRETTY PENNY! WHAT A NERVE THAT DAME MABEL HAS! I'D LIKE TO GIVE HER A PIECE OF MY MIND! IT'S TIME SOMEBODY TOLD HER OFF!
