TO PROTEST CALLEY VERDICT

Mass Marches Planned In Capital, Elsewhere

By United Press International
Three local draft boards resigned, at least three mass marches on Washington were being planned and the White House was swamped with telegrams and telephone calls as Americans expressed their feelings about the conviction of Lt. William L. Calley Jr.

Reaction continued to mount around the nation as Calley waited in the Ft. Benning stockade.
The White House, according to Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, has received more than 5,000 wires and 1,500 telephone calls concerning the conviction. They were running almost 100-1 in favor of clemency for Calley, he said.

Members of the Quitman, Ga., board wired Nixon they would not induct any more men.

Officer Charged With Covering Up Massacre

FT. MEAD, Md. (UPI) — Col. Ivan K. Henderson, the highest ranking officer still accused of My Lai-connected crimes, goes before an Army court martial Friday, just two days after one of the men in his command, Lt. William L. Calley Jr., was sentenced to live in prison.

Henderson, 50, commander of the American Division's 11th Brigade, faces court-martial on three charges of attempting to cover up the massacre.
The first charge says he "was derelict in the performance of his duties as investigating officer (and) willfully failed to conduct a proper and thorough investigation, as it was his duty to do."
The other two state that he repeated at an official Pentagon inquiry "with intent to deceive" a statement he knew was false and did "wrongfully and unlawfully make under lawful oath a false statement" which "he did not then believe to be true."
The charges will be read at the hearing Friday, the prosecution and defense counsels will enter motions and Henderson will be asked to enter a plea.
If Henderson pleads innocent, the actual trial probably will begin by the end of April in a tiny courtroom on this base located between Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

Russia Condemns Communist China For Antagonism

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Soviet Communist party leader, in a speech to the 24th party congress released today, condemned attempts by non-Marxist Communists to modify Marxist theory or set up "models" to Socialist states different from the Soviet Union.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., real estate man Walter J. Dilbeck said Wednesday he and 100 "coordinators" around the nation plan for a mass march on Washington July 4 on behalf of all GIs charged in the My Lai incident. "We intend to have one million people in Washington that day and we intend to stay there until these men are released," Dilbeck said.
E. Thomas Campanaro, commander of the Pennsylvania American Legion, called on President Nixon to heed those urging clemency.
"If President Nixon sees fit not to listen to the thousands of telegrams that already have been sent to him, we are prepared to march on Washington," Campanaro said.

AUSTIN (UPI) — A request from Gov. Preston Smith to declare 60 South Texas and Panhandle counties disaster areas because of the drought is on President Nixon's desk today. It asks for an initial $55 million.
"A major disaster has occurred in Texas which in my judgment has caused damage and hardship of such severity and magnitude as to warrant supplementary assistance by the federal government," the request, sent Wednesday, said.
Smith said other counties may be added to the disaster declaration later.
He said the 60 counties have received less than an inch and a half of rain during the past six months.
"Farmers have lost their seed, fertilizer and money spent for labor. Hay is not available in the area and this has caused cattle ranchers and dairymen to sell their herds to a point where the economy in the entire area will be adversely affected for three to five years," Smith said.

Pyotr M. Mashevov, first secretary of Byselovskaya party organization, mentioned only Communism, China by name. "Particularly repulsive is the anti-Soviet line of the Chinese leaders who, calling themselves Communists, have made their principal occupation the defamation of our Leninist party and the Soviet experience of building socialism."
Apparently referring to Yugoslavia and some non-ruling Communists, he made their in Italy, he said, the rightist revisionists have practically joined up with those who are openly anti-Communist and anti-Soviet.

Robert Cadle, a staff sergeant who says the verdict was "a lot of bull," said Wednesday he and a "Free Calley Committee" with branches in all states but Hawaii will lead 50,000 people in a march on Washington after a petition drive.
All the members of local Selective Service boards in Elizabethton, Tenn., and Athens and Blountville, Ga., resigned.

JUROR SAYS Calley Gets 'As Fair And Impartial A Trial As Any Man Ever Received'

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — A member of the jury that convicted Lt. William L. Calley Jr. of premeditated murder in the My Lai massacre says the young officer got "as fair and impartial a trial as any man ever received."

It's April 1 Field Day For Jokers

It's April 1—traditionally known as April Fool's Day.
There are those who like to play practical jokes and those who say they "should have stood in bed," refrain from walking under ladders and steering clear of black cats.
On this day there usually is at least one person who will call a mortuary and ask for "Mr. Cohen."
Or the joker who calls your house, says he's testing the telephone and asks you to "stand on the left and say 'hello,' stand on the right and say 'hello.' And then winds up with, "now stand on your head and say 'hello.'"
"Any fool thing can happen on April Fool's Day."

Red Terrorists Kill 100 Civilians

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong terrorists killed 100 civilians and wounded 96 in a raid on a South Vietnamese town near Da Nang Monday, military sources said today.

Commissioners, in a prepared statement to the people of Gray County, announced the first step toward relieving the financial strain of the county. In announcing a 15 per cent increase, across the board, in tax levies, Commissioners outlined the problem facing the financial status in county and pointed out issues leading to the tax increase move.
In other action, the Commissioners of Gray County voted to accept recommendation of the Drought Disaster Committee, represented by Foster Whaley, in endorsing a request to Gov. Preston Smith that Gray County be declared a drought disaster area. This would place Gray County farmers and ranchers on an eligibility list to receive aid in relieving crop and cattle conditions due to this, the driest year on available record, according to Whaley who addressed the court.

The court approved a statement to the people explaining and announcing:
"The Commissioners' Court today reviewed the tax increase of approximately 31 per cent passed by the Court last December, and voted unanimously to cut it to 15 per cent."
The Court today also voted unanimously to authorize the County Tax Assessor-Collector to begin immediately a tax re-evaluation and equalization program on a local basis and according to law, instead of employing an outside professional appraisal firm, such program being estimated to require a minimum time of 24 months.

increase of the 1970 assessed valuation of 15 percent across the board upon all taxable property in the county. Stating the percentages in terms of dollars, the 1970 assessed valuation of $56,583,160 was increased to $74,000,000 last year by the Court. Today's action by the Court reduces the assessed valuation to approximately $65,000,000 subject to adjustments as to additions, increases, and decreases to be set by the Commissioners' Court sitting as a Board of Equalization in July 1971. This is an $8,500,000 increase instead of the $17,500,000 increase, or $9,000,000 less than approved by the Court in 1967.

Maj. Harvey G. Brown added Wednesday night that if the guilty verdict "is tearing this country apart, it is good because maybe it will make them look within themselves to find out what's wrong. I don't think it will hurt the United States."
Brown, who was ordered by the judge to remain silent on how he voted, said he did not feel Calley should bear the entire blame for what happened at My Lai.
"I think that every man in that unit who contributed to the disgrace ought to be brought before a court of some kind—if not here whenever they reach their maker."
"To even consider that any American soldier would ever do such a thing," Brown said, "is beyond my own comprehension. I wanted to believe it didn't happen, that it was a hoax."
"When I went into that deliberating room I was still sitting on the fence. We tried to give every benefit of the doubt to the defendant."
Brown, 33, of Amarillo, Tex., made a plea to "let the people know that we're not ogres."
Col. Reid W. Kennedy, the judge, handed to the court members a batch of telegrams sent them following their verdict. Brown said he saw only one which was at all complimentary of the jury's action.
"That's what hurt the most to me."
"I feel that justice was done and the Justice was tempered with mercy."
"The compassion I have for that young man is something that can't ever be measured. I think everyone on that jury had compassion."
Brown said he nearly cried when Calley stood up in court Tuesday and refused to plead for his life.
"I admire him for taking that stand. I think everybody on the (See TRIAL, Page 2)

Celanese Spends $10.4 Million In Area During 1970

The Pampa plant of Celanese Chemical Co. spent more than $12.1 million on the purchase of supplies and services in Texas during 1970, it was announced today by John J. Fritsch, plant manager of this amount, more than $10.4 million, or 85 per cent was spent within a 50-mile radius of Pampa.

Fritsch said the local plant's 1970 payroll amounted to more than $4.8 million. The Pampa plant also paid out more than $459,000 in state and local taxes during 1970.
Celanese Chemical Co., which has four production plants and a technical center in Texas, spent more than $70.2 million for the purchase of supplies and services in the state during 1970. The company's consolidated payrolls at the five Texas locations exceeded $30 million. State and local taxes paid by the five Celanese installations amounted to more than $3.3 million.
In addition to the Pampa plant, Celanese has chemical plants at Bishop, Bay City and Clear Lake and a Technical Center at Corpus Christi.
Celanese Chemical Co. is an operating division of Celanese Corp., a world-wide producer of chemicals, fibers, plastics, paints and coatings.
The corporation and its subsidiaries have three other facilities in Texas: plastics plants at Bishop and Houston, and a paint and coatings plant at Houston.

Calley Could Be Given Deferment From Confinement

By H. D. QUIGG
FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—The Calley court-martial jury "relieved" the My Lai massacre in its deliberations and "could find no other" recourse than to convict Lt. William L. Calley Jr. of murder, one juror revealed Wednesday night.

Appealed through military and federal courts, and it is subject to review by the secretary of the Army.
Kinard, a decorated Army airborne officer who served two tours in Vietnam, said "every hour of that operation (My Lai) has been relived in a jury deliberation room."
"I looked for anything that would prove Lt. Calley innocent," Kinard said. "I could find no other thing to come up with than that verdict we returned."
The jury, which deliberated almost 80 hours spread over 13 days to convict Calley, returned a life sentence after almost six hours. The sentence required five votes out of the six jurors.

A unanimous vote would have been required for the death penalty.
Calley spent his third day in the Ft. Benning stockade today and seemed bound for the Leavenworth disciplinary barracks by weekend.
There was a possibility he could be granted a "deferment from confinement" asked by the defense that would give him the same freedom of movement on this post that he has enjoyed for the last 18 months, living in his bachelor apartment and doing as he pleased.
The formal request was made by defense attorney George W. Latimer, but there was serious doubt that Maj. Gen. Orwin C. Talbot, commander of Ft. Benning, would grant it, even though Calley has been a model of decorum. Premeditated murder normally is a non-bailable crime in civil courts.
"I'll Do My Best, Sir"
The stubby former platoon leader was put in a stark two-room cell with another officer prisoner at the stockade here late Monday on his conviction of what the government charged was "summary execution in cold blood" of crying and pleading women, children, and old men.
The end of the longest military trial in American history came at 2:53 p.m. Wednesday when a steady-eyed but pale Calley came to a weak salute before the court president who had just read the sentence of life at hard labor, dismissal, and forfeiture of his $773.10 monthly pay plus allowances.
"I'll do my best, sir," Calley said as the court president, Col. Clifford H. Ford, returned his salute.
His best at Ft. Leavenworth might include applying himself at an opportunity to resume his college career—he was a junior college dropout—or taking up a trade inside the correctional walls.
"Hard labor" is an archaic legal term, according to Army law authorities, who say there is no such thing in the Army anymore as breaking rocks or the like. He could be eligible for parole in about 10 years.

Insurance Industry Criticized For Lobbying, Spending, Others

AUSTIN (UPI) — A Senate committee criticized the car insurance industry in Texas Wednesday for a number of things, including spending money on public relations and lobbying that could be used to lower premium rates.

The five-member interim committee also criticized the State Board of Insurance, saying it "has forgotten whom it was established to serve" and had become "merely another insurance trade association" in its attitude.

The committee made its charge in a 39-page report submitted to Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes by Chairman Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas.

Rather than embark on a program of voluntary reform, the insurance industry seems to have relied on a massive public relations campaign — a campaign designed to minimize public complaints to exaggerate valid industry problems and to shift the blame for abuses of the public away from the industry, the report said.

The report questioned the money the insurance industry spends on entertainment and lobbying. "It is not readily apparent why the insurers should be allowed to charge the policyholder a higher premium in order to finance clever lobbying against the policyholder's best interests," it said.

It called upon the car insurance firms to meet their obligations to society. "The industry must direct its efforts toward the problems of flimsy automobile construction, sharp practices by garage repairmen and the presence on the road of a small but highly dangerous minority of pathologically irresponsible drivers," it said.

The report said the state must "guarantee that any licensed driver in Texas can get and keep complete automobile insurance coverage at reasonable prices. The most important barriers to needed auto insurance are excessively high premiums and lack of availability."

The report said premiums could be lowered if the investment income of insurance companies was taken into "proper consideration" by the State Board of Insurance in its rate-making process.

The committee criticized the industry's bookkeeping system, calling it an "Alice-in-Wonderland system of distortion, confusion, and mystery."

The insurance industry's "arbitrary and selective risk classification practices" also came under fire.

Narrowing The Market While the Texas driving population is increasing and the need for insurance mounts, the industry works to narrow its market.

Car insurance firms are like public utilities, the committee said, and "every public utility is required to furnish reasonable adequate service and facilities must do likewise."

The report called for legislation permitting group insurance; setting up a statewide rating system rather than the 40 existing rating territories in Texas; and forbidding car insurance firms from denying insurance on grounds of age, sex, race, color, creed, national origin, residence or lawful occupation, including military service.

At that time, Mutscher House members: "The air must be cleared once and for all."

He repeated those sentiments late Wednesday after putting the finishing touches on his statement. "That's the only reason I'm doing it," he said, "I want to clear the air."

Mutscher's statement overshadowed for the day a strong Senate move to tack a corporate profits tax plan onto the $492 million House-passed tax bill before it leaves the committee stage in the upper house.

Senate tax writers hoped to begin presenting their own ideas for raising revenue for fiscal 1972-73 Wednesday afternoon. But testimony on Sen. A. R. Schwartz's D-Galveston, $600 million corporate profit tax plan was cancelled by a couple of dime telephone calls.

An anonymous bomb threat forced security police to evacuate the capitol for more than three hours shortly after noon Wednesday, and when the lawmakers returned Schwartz couldn't muster a quorum of the Senate State Affairs Committee to hear his tax plan.

Schwartz is confident his corporate profits tax, which has been much-discussed but little supported in the past, has the votes to pass this session.

"If 67 per cent of the people do support the corporate profits tax as the Beiden Poll indicates, I hardly see how we can pass a final tax bill without it," Schwartz said.

The Senate is expected to put the corporate profit tax provision in the tax package, but the issue will apparently be finally settled by a 10-man conference committee.

State House Unit Likely To Establish Income Tax By '73

AUSTIN (UPI) — A proposal is resting in a House subcommittee to establish a state income tax by 1973.

The proposal, by Rep. Honore Ligarde, D-Laredo, also establishes a corporate income tax.

Ligarde said his income tax plan is a "moderate and balanced approach" to new revenue.

His plan calls for a 1 per cent "piggy back" state income tax on the amount of federal income tax paid by Texas residents and corporations. It would not go into effect until 1973.

Tom Sealy of Midland, representing a group called the Texas Association of Taxpayers, opposed the Ligarde income tax bill when it was presented to the House Revenue and Taxation Committee Tuesday.

Bills and salaries were approved in regular business moves by the court which still had half of a 14-item agenda to consider late this forenoon.

A letter to the court from McLean city attorney, Don Lane, indicated that the city of McLean had approved a motion stating that the city would accept responsibility for an additional $2500 toward the project in assuming sponsorship of the project, in an effort to relieve the budget situation of Gray County. Also, McLean city personnel would supply workers for the project. The court approved the move which will provide new runway and beacon lights, plus other lighting facilities at the McLean Airport. Joe Clarke, commissioner of Precinct 1, approved the motion by Mrs. Mary Dwyer, commissioner, Precinct 4, that the resolution be adopted.

the financial difficulty faced by this Court stems from the constitutional limitation of 80 cents of the $1.25 maximum tax rate to support the general fund, salary fund, jury fund, courthouse and jail (permanent improvement) fund, and interest and sinking funds for hospitals and airports. County tax rates for 1967 and subsequent years have been at the maximum 80 cents.

Transfers, except those specifically authorized by law, cannot be made. No constitutional change is anticipated at this time, therefore, this Court must and will abide by the law.

The Commissioners' Court calls upon all departments of county government including the hospital board and airport board to stay strictly within the 1971 budget, reduce expenditures where possible, and submit no new requests for spending during 1971 not required by law or court order.

Speaker Makes Public Explanation Of Connection With Stock Fraud

AUSTIN (UPI) — Speaker Gus Mutscher offers the first public explanation today of his connection with the stock scandal that has jeopardized the political future of half a dozen top Democrats.

Mutscher first promised the statement last week after he and other House leaders allowed moves to launch a legislative investigation into the stock dealings to begin.

For nine weeks, Mutscher and his chief lieutenants turned back any attempts to start such an investigation then last week he opened the gates, and the House passed—with his support—two resolutions setting up investigating committees.

At that time, Mutscher House members: "The air must be cleared once and for all."

He repeated those sentiments late Wednesday after putting the finishing touches on his statement. "That's the only reason I'm doing it," he said, "I want to clear the air."

Calley ... (Continued From Page 1) rumbled as he arrived in the red, white, and blue decor courtroom where the trial began Nov. 12. In the audience sat his girl friend, red haired Ann Moore.

The day before, he had tearfully told the jury that he never wantonly killed a human being in his life and that the only crime he committed was "to value the lives of my troops."

When the silvery-haired Ford, 53, finished the reading of the sentence, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, the judge, said crisply: "This court is closed."

Calley walked slowly from the room with his attorney to the defense office, where Miss Moore talked with him.

He said goodbye to his attorneys and Miss Moore, who did not weep, and was taken by police to board a car for the stockade. On the sidewalk outside, he snapped a salute to a shouting crowd of 150.

"They crucified him," screamed one woman. "War is hell. Lt. Calley killed 100 Communists single-handed. He should have got a medal. He should be made a general."

Wounded Pampa Boy Leaves Hospital

A 15 year old Pampa boy was treated for stab wounds in the chest and released from Highland General Hospital last night following an alleged attack by another youth.

Police investigating the matter questioned a 14 year old boy about the incident after his parents brought him and the knife allegedly used in the stabbing to the police station. The boy was released to his parents, and the matter has been turned over to juvenile authorities for further investigation or action, police reports stated.

MODERN INCONVENIENCE NEWCASTLE-UNDER-LYME, England (UPI)—Every-time housewife Jeanne Watkins brewed a cup of tea her telephone rang.

Events In State Legislature

AUSTIN (UPI) — Events in the Texas Legislature Wednesday:

Open — The Senate voted to amend the Texas Open Meetings Law to permit school boards to hold closed door meetings on student discipline matters. But parents or guardians of a child involved in a disciplinary matter could still demand an open meeting if they wished.

Confirmations — The Senate confirmed 61 of Gov. Preston Smith's appointees to various state boards and agencies.

Solon Demands Calley Be Given Full Pardon

AUSTIN (UPI) — A Rosenberg representative is asking the Texas Legislature go on record in opposition to the verdict given to Lt. William A. Calley and demand Calley be given a full pardon.

Rep. Joe Hubenak, D-Rosenberg, said Wednesday Calley should be pardoned "so that he can live with dignity and honor in the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Speaker Gus Mutscher said he has not decided whether he will permit an immediate vote on the measure or send it to a subcommittee for additional study.

Hubenak called Calley's life sentence "disgraceful. It only adds strength to my resolution."

Sen. Jim Bates, D-Edinburg, said he will sponsor the companion resolution in the upper house.

"Americans throughout this great land and those stationed with our armed forces in the defense of liberty across the seas were appalled at the conviction," Bates said.

"As Americans, we need to reevaluate our system and our way of thinking," the resolution says. "Of course the killing of men, women and children is repugnant to the American who always values the life of a fellow man, be he friend or enemy, but the war in Vietnam is a reality, and many, many, of our own American young men have lost their lives when these same men, women and children threw a grenade, planted a bomb, fired a blast from an automatic weapon, or pulled a knife on their unsuspecting defenders."

The resolution said Calley served his country with "dignity, while men who have refused to be inducted into the service have not been convicted and are allowed to stay in this country, stirring up trouble and defaming the flag."

DIAL MOTHER GOOSE LONDON (UPI) — Bedtime stories for children will be available each evening by telephone beginning Friday.

The post office, which runs Britain's telephones, said Wednesday the stories will be from a collection of 50 based on a British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) television series.

Earlier in the day the post office will introduce gardening hints which can be heard by dialing the same number.

Transfers, except those specifically authorized by law, cannot be made. No constitutional change is anticipated at this time, therefore, this Court must and will abide by the law.

The Commissioners' Court calls upon all departments of county government including the hospital board and airport board to stay strictly within the 1971 budget, reduce expenditures where possible, and submit no new requests for spending during 1971 not required by law or court order.

A letter to the court from McLean city attorney, Don Lane, indicated that the city of McLean had approved a motion stating that the city would accept responsibility for an additional $2500 toward the project in assuming sponsorship of the project, in an effort to relieve the budget situation of Gray County. Also, McLean city personnel would supply workers for the project. The court approved the move which will provide new runway and beacon lights, plus other lighting facilities at the McLean Airport. Joe Clarke, commissioner of Precinct 1, approved the motion by Mrs. Mary Dwyer, commissioner, Precinct 4, that the resolution be adopted.

Harvester Band Wins Division I In UIL Contest

Pampa High School Harvester Band won two first division ratings in concert and sight reading in the regional University Interscholastic League Band Contests in Amarillo Tuesday.

Because of winning a second division rating in UIL marching events last Fall, the band was not eligible for the sweepstakes award, which is given to bands who rate first division in all three events.

Court Sentences Resident To Jail

J. M. Griffith, 722 W. Kingsmill, appeared in open court before Gray County Judge Don Cain on a charge of child-nod support.

The defendant entered a plea of nolo contendere. After the court found him guilty of the charge, a sentence of 10 days in the county jail was levied.

Obituaries

DOUGLAS BURRESS Funeral services for Douglas LaFoy Burress, 27, of Deer Park, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Carmichael-Whitley Colonial Chapel with burial at 2 p.m. Saturday in Grandview Memorial Park Cemetery in Deer Park.

The Rev. James D. Futch, pastor of First United Methodist Church, of Silvertown and the Rev. Ed Rogers, pastor of First Baptist Church of Dumas, will officiate.

Mr. Burress died Wednesday at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, after being hospitalized two weeks.

He was born April 7, 1943, in Wheeler, was married to Martha D. Carter July 21, 1962, in Pampa, and was a member of the First Baptist Church of Lefors. He was employed with Celanese Corporation in Pampa two years before being transferred to the Bayport Plant at Houston. He had been employed with the Celanese Corporation 5 1/2 years, and was a 1961 graduate of Lefors High School.

The body will lie in state at Chappel-Shaw Martin Road Chapel in Amarillo until Friday morning.

Survivors are his widow of the home; one son, Timothy Douglas and two daughters, Sandra Dee and Pamela Christine, all of the home; one sister, Mrs. Becky Urton of Amarillo; three half sisters, Sheila Burress, Shert Burress and Marilyn Burress, all of Pine City, Minn.; his father, Durwood Burress of Pine City, Minn.; and his mother, Mrs. Odessa Mae Ridgeway of Amarillo.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS PAMPA, TEXAS 63rd YEAR Thursday, April 1, 1971 JEANE DIXON Your Horoscope

Your Birthday Friday: Greater responsibility and more authority come your way this year. You may be called upon rather abruptly for unusual service beyond your formal training. Friday's natives have acute intuition, dealing with matters which can be brought to completion within short periods or cycles. ARIES (March 21-April 19): You will have to budget your time Friday to avoid embarrassment. Take a complete change of pace this evening. TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Unusual requests come to you now, some of them urgent, some more serious than surface appearances indicate. GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Old problems, nuisances are subject to sudden solutions, where keys may be supplied by strangers unaware of what they suggest or inspire. CANCER (June 21-July 22): You can good use of all the help that comes your way, so extend the invitation generously. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Restless as you are, just going somewhere won't solve anything. Take a holiday if you can constructive it. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Watching others with special knowledge or favored positions reveals something worth knowing. Follow examples of strongly successful people. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your intuition is keen where material benefits are concerned, likely vague or insensitive on most other matters. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Now your timing improves. If you deserve a greater reward for what you do, ask for it. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Life presents a softer, kinder side. It's up to you to resist temptation and put in a full day's work. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Leave your plans flexible, to include more help or to reach out to help somebody without upsetting your basic program. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): What you hear is out of context or incomplete. Act only where you have very definite confirmation of facts and figures. Plans and budgets show rather hopeful developments. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Making changes casually is easy, but apt to generate more confusion later.

Taste Of Victory Travels With Harvesters To Relays

Three Pampa teams will be in Amarillo for the Amarillo Relays to be held Friday and Saturday. The Harvester track team in their best years' outing last week at Dumas won the North Plains Invitational Track Meet.

Several of the men on Pampa's track squad have shown a great deal of enthusiasm and should go far in the district meet to be held later this year.

Garvin McCarroll, a sprinter on the team and one of the anchor men on Pampa's relay foursome has the 440 Yard Dash as one of his specialties.

Freddy Wilbon, a sophomore, tied for first place in the high jump, only to lose on a fewer missed decision.

Lewis Davis, heads the Pampa entries in the Field Events not finishing lower than second in a meet this year. Davis has been competing in the shot put and discus.

The Pampa Tennis Team will be playing against some of the stiffest competition in the state. Several schools had entered prior to the Wednesday deadline and six more entries were received Wednesday afternoon.

The Pampa Golfers will be in competition at the Amarillo Country Club. They are presently in fifth place in district competition.

Several state records should fall in the track and field events as most of the favored runners and field men will be in contention both days.

A tight race is shaping up for the 440 yard relay with Palo Duro favored but both Pampa and Tascosa are close behind. The Harvesters should pull through the meet a little battered but still in the upper brackets.

The total number of teams entered in the meet is 179, two more than 1970's Relays and there will be 1,804 athletics going for the top honors.

TWO OF THE RICHEST young men in captivity, Artis Gilmore (left) and Johnny Neumann (with his wife, Carolyn) have become principals in the National Basketball Association-American Basketball Association cold war by signing with ABA teams, each for a reported $2 million. Gilmore signed with the Kentucky Colonels, Neumann, who was just a sophomore at the University of Mississippi, with the Memphis Pros.

UIL's Amateur Rulings May Be Changed In Texas Schools

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

The University Interscholastic League's amateur rule for the state of Texas, even more illiberal than Avery Brundage's since pure Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) standards, may soon suffer the first crack in its rock-ribbed armor.

The UIL, the governing body of the far-flung Texas high school athletic program involving more than 1,100 schools, has often been the target of vitriolic barb for the iron-fisted manner in which it has operated to forestall any taint of professionalism.

The above-reproach standards which it has maintained in the face of numerous assaults has earned it the respect, and envy, of most other school administrators—both academic and athletic—throughout the nation.

Stringent Regulations

Under UIL rules, for example, no youngster—boy or girl—could compete in any UIL-sponsored sport (football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis) if they had competed for money or prizes in such unrelated activities as rodeos or bowling, or for that matter if they umpired for pay in summer league baseball.

These stringent stipulations may be wiped off the books within the next two or three weeks.

Proposals to make such activities permissible will be on a constitution and by-laws referendum ballot being mailed this week to the Interscholastic League's 1,115 member schools.

There will be at least three other controversial changes to be voted on in the referendum authorized by the UIL's powerful executive committee.

Who Will Vote

Under the UIL's structure, the voting will not be done by coaches or athletic directors, but by school administrators—superintendents and principals. Usually, the administrators consult with their athletic departments but do not always follow their recommendations.

The ballots must be signed by the superintendents and returned to the UIL's Austin office bearing a postmark no later than April 15. The results of the voting will be announced at a What breakfast in Austin May 8 during the state track and field meet.

The first major break from the 50-year-old UIL's amateur rule would come if a majority of the ballots approve an amendment which would eliminate from the amateur rule all reference to events not sponsored by the league itself, such as rodeos, bowling, wrestling, gymnastics, etc.

It Means

Passage would mean, for example, that a high school student could win hundreds of thousands of dollars in a rodeo arena and still be eligible for UIL-sponsored scholastic sports.

Another question to be voted on would delete the word "officiating" from the amateur rule which prohibits a boy from "officiating, teaching or playing" for considerations.

Still another proposal on the ballot would change the scholarship rule to permit students enrolled in special education classes to take part in athletic events—under certain safeguard conditions. The students, usually gifted academically or those needing specific study, are not now eligible.

Generally, the feeling of the athletic departments ranges from mixed to favorable for most of those proposed changes.

Coaches' Opposition Seen

But, there is still another controversial change on the ballot which seems sure to draw a lot of opposition from the coaches. In fact, the 27-member executive committee of the Texas High School Coaches Association, voted overwhelmingly against it.

This proposal would move the starting, and ending, dates for the football schedule forward one week.

The rule, if approved, would specify first football games on the first Thursday in September with a 16-game schedule to be completed over an 11-week span. This would end the regular season in early November, actually as early as Nov. 7 in a year in which the first Thursday in September fell on Sept. 1.

Practice In August

But, it also would push the start of fall grid practice forward to include much of August, which is often the hottest month in the year in Texas with a bevy of 100-degree days.

Under UIL rules, practice may start three weeks prior to the first game for Class AAAA schools (which are allowed spring drills) and four weeks ahead for the other divisions (which do not have spring workouts).

Most of the opposition to the change is based on the heat factor, but there have been grumblings that the early practices would also overlap with summer American Legion or other off-season baseball programs in which many high school football players also compete.

Starging Dates Advanced

There have been occasions in the past when some teams played their first games before the school semester actually started, but one of the reasons cited for the proposed change was that more and more schools are moving their starting dates into late August.

Under present rules (first games on the second Thursday in September), this could throw opening games as late as Sept. 14-16.

An administrator pointed out that since athletics are a "cohesive factor" in schools, "such a late start would make it very difficult to keep things going for three weeks or more prior to the first game."

The stage is set for some far-reaching decisions affecting the venerable UIL. But, the league, which operates like an old pro, will be sure there is no stuffing of the ballot box.

replacing it with the new one for a salary believed as high as any in college coaching.

Both McGuire and assistant Henry Raymonds were given five-year pacts, spiking rumors they would leave the school for better jobs.

There had been rumors McGuire would enter pro coaching and Raymonds admitted he had been offered some head coaching jobs.

Al McGuire Accepts Contract As Head Coach Of Marquette

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Al McGuire, UPI's college coach of the year, said Wednesday, "I like it in Milwaukee," and accepted a new contract as head coach of the Marquette University Warriors basketball team.

Marquette rewarded the colorful coach for the Warriors' finest basketball season ever by tearing up an old contract and

Muhammad Ali Promises Rematch With Frazier

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—That didn't tarnish his image as far as his fans were concerned. He came on like a matinee idol to young and old alike.

"If I was 16," said a black, middle-aged university staff member, "I would just faint all over the floor."

"He looks better than he does on TV," said another coed. "He's pretty. He's beautiful."

Ali delighted a crowd of 1,500 in an evening appearance at the student union and, between poems and cheers, promised he would fight Frazier again, probably about the first of next year.

Player Is Ominous Shadow On Golfers

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—The spectre of Gary Player cast an ominous shadow over the Greater Greensboro Open today as the rancher from Johannesburg went after an almost unheard-of feat of stringing together three victories in a row.

Arnold Palmer, who passed up this one to practice for next week's Masters, is the last pro to win three consecutively—back in 1962 when winning was not so lucrative as it is today.

Byron Nelson won about a dozen straight during the war years—and was paid off in war bonds.

Player, one of four men to capture all of the world's major golf championships, is the defending champion at Greensboro. The way things have been going, who can say he's not the man to beat?

A pair of the tour's "quiet men," Billy Casper and Miller Barber, and its most talkative competitor, Lee Trevino, might dispute any concession at this point.

In an earlier day, so might 58-year-old Sam Snead, who has won this tournament eight times. This time around, however, another Snead is the threat. He is Carlyle Snead, Sam's nephew, who finally hit the big time on his own by winning two tournaments this year.

Two Are Released By Minnesota Twins

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Dave Boswell and Luis Tiant, two of the Minnesota Twins, ke ypitchers at the start of the 1970 season, were released Wednesday and given the opportunity to cast about as free agents.

Club President Calvin Griffith, who placed the two veteran pitchers on waivers last week, said he was unable to make a deal for either. The cuts helped the Twins reduce their roster to 25 players.

Boswell, 35, posted a 20-1 record for the Twins in 1969 but fell to 3-7 last season when he had a sore arm. He was involved in a barroom incident with Billy Martin, then manager of the Twins, during the 1969 campaign and wound up with a 7-3 mark.

The Twins also announced that they have brought up pitcher Sal Campisi from their minor league camp. Campisi had a 2-2 record and a 2.94 earned run average with the St. Louis Cardinals last season.

ger of the Twins, during the 1969 campaign and wound up being kayoed by the manager, Tiant, a native of Havana, Cuba, was one of the best pitchers in the American League in 1968 when he had a 21-9 record and led the league with a 1.60 earned run average for the Cleveland Indians. He had a 9-20 record for the Indians in 1969 and was traded to the Twins. He was sidelined much of the 1970 campaign and wound up with a 7-3 mark.

NBA Coach Fined Again For Outrageous Conduct

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dick Motta has made his second monthly contribution to the National Basketball Association coffers.

The fiery Chicago Bulls coach was hit with a $1,500 fine Wednesday by NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy for "outrageous conduct" in his club's 106-98 playoff victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Sunday afternoon.

The fine was the second in two months for Motta, who was hit for $1,000 on Feb. 2 after being ejected from a game.

Kennedy, in a telegram to Motta, said, "In spite of my tolerant and reasonable treatment of your sometimes outrageous conduct during the past several years and in spite of my constant admonitions, you have continued to conduct yourself during some NBA games in a disgraceful manner, culminating with your performance in the Los Angeles at Chicago game on March 28.

Motta received a technical foul after walking onto the court during the first quarter of the game and refusing to leave. He was ejected after failing to leave the court when directed by Rudolph.

The Bulls, tied 2-2 in their series with the Lakers, are in Los Angeles tonight for their Western Division playoff game.

Bill Fitch Feels Like A Rescued Man After Making It Through NBA Season

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bill Fitch awoke feeling so good one morning last week he couldn't believe it.

You've had the feeling. So has anybody who ever was rescued from a burning building or a caved-in mine.

"I made it," Fitch said happily, excitedly. "I lived through it."

Bill Fitch made those two statements on March 24, the morning following the end of the regular NBA season. Fitch coaches the Cleveland Cavaliers. That should explain everything.

If it doesn't then maybe you were so busy with your own troubles that you didn't notice the Cavaliers had a few of their own in their first season in the NBA.

They didn't win many games. They won only 15 of 82 as a matter of fact and oh, yes, they did win one other thing—first choice in last Monday's draft.

The Carr Decision

There were 168 college seniors drafted by the 17 NBA clubs and the Cavaliers, with their choice of anyone in the nation, went for Austin Carr of Notre Dame, only 6 foot 3, but rated the best guard in the country.

Ever since they did, some second-guessers are saying Cleveland may have missed the boat by not going for Sidney Wicks, UCLA's 6-foot-8 center, generally considered the No. 1 forward in the country.

"It's like my wife needing a new house or a new car," Fitch says regarding the Wicks-Carr debate. "I look at her needs and my bankbook and I see she can't have both. We're very happy with Austin Carr and we feel he suits our needs better than Wicks would."

Why?

"Simply this," Fitch says. "Wait Wesley came on pretty good for us at the center position. My forward positions improved more than any other area. We were weakest at guard. One other thing, Nobody has to throw the ball to Carr. He'll bring it down to the basket himself and everytime he does that's 20 points coming down the floor."

'Another Jack Armstrong'

The Cavaliers burned plenty of midnight oil before they decided to go for Carr instead of Wicks or anybody else.

"When you draft No. 1 you check what he had for breakfast," Fitch says. "We couldn't possibly ask for a better performer or more of an all-around high type individual than Austin Carr. If they ever bring back the Jack Armstrong program again, he'll be Jack Armstrong. Austin is the kind of person never satisfied with what he did today; he's always concerned with what he's going to do tomorrow."

Red Auerbach, the man who runs the Boston Celtics, has pretty much the same thing to say about Carr: "I'm going to be happy to see them all next season," Fitch says. "I look back on this season and really, I think it may be the best thing that ever happened to me. Anything I did wrong I'll never do again. I may have learned the hard way but I learned the quest way possible—in one season. I've always said the Good Lord takes care of dumb Irishmen."

Bill Fitch is Irish but he's dumb.

He's a fine coach, he's watching the NBA play closely now and don't be surprised to see both his ball club in them some day not that far in the future.

"When you analyze today's college players," Auerbach says, "There are guards and then there's Austin Carr."

But Carr isn't the only draft choice the Cavaliers made and Fitch speaks glowingly of some of the others like Steve Patterson and Willie Long, both 6-9, and Gerald "Helicopter" Lockett, 6-7.

"We still tried to take care of our rebounding by getting fellows like them," says the Cleveland coach.

Learning The Hard Way

The Cavaliers closed the season with Portland, another expansion club, losing by two points at the gun, and after Fitch was alone with his players in the dressing room he thanked them for giving him 100 per cent.

He meant it, too, going around and making sure to shake the hand of every player on the team.

"I'm going to be happy to see them all next season," Fitch says. "I look back on this season and really, I think it may be the best thing that ever happened to me. Anything I did wrong I'll never do again. I may have learned the hard way but I learned the quest way possible—in one season. I've always said the Good Lord takes care of dumb Irishmen."

California Angels' B squad, Don Mincher, Sal Bando and Rick Monday homered for the Athletics.

On other fronts: Frank Howard drove in four runs with two homers to lead the Senators to a 6-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Dick Bosman, the Senators' opening-day pitcher, shut out the Orioles for six innings before giving up two runs in the seventh. Ray Culp pitched a four-hitter, going all the way, as the Boston Red Sox beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2. Willie Stargell homered for the Pirates.

Bill Stoneman, another opening day pitcher, hurled seven scoreless innings in the Montreal Expos' 2-0 triumph over their Winnipeg Whips farm club. Steve Carlton, a big disappointment with a 10-19 record in 1970, pitched five-hit ball for seven innings as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the New York Mets, 12-2. The Mets made six errors in the game.

Doug Rader had a two-run double and Cesar Cedeno drove in, two runs with two doubles and a triple, leading the Houston Astros to a 9-3 romp over the New York Yankees. George Stone, on loan from the parent club, pitched six shutout innings as Richmond beat the Atlanta Braves, 7-0.

Oakland Athletics Have New Blue Pitching Star

By United Press International

Should President Nixon find time to watch next Monday's American League opener in Washington, D.C., he may do a double take when the Oakland Athletics starting pitcher walks to the mound.

The name is Vida Blue—and he's Joe DiMaggio's "boy."

Blue, 21, was pitching for Iowa in the American Association at the start of the 1970 season after being hammered all over the field in a few appearances for the Athletics near the end of the 1969 season. DiMaggio, then a special assistant with the Athletics, recommended another year in the minors for the boy and added,

"He's got one of the greatest arms ever seen."

Blue was brought up by the Athletics last Sept. 3 and pitched a one-hitter and a no-hitter while striking out 35 batters in 38 innings. He went to training of his spring merely hoping to survive the squad cut but was told Wednesday by Manager Dick Williams that he had drawn the opening day assignment against the Washington Senators.

Blue responded to Williams' announcement by striking out nine batters and allowing one earned run and five hits in the Athletics' 6-3 victory over the

Ron Swoboda Traded To Montreal By New York

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Ron Swoboda, one of the key players in the New York Mets' "miracle World Series victory" in 1969 but an outspoken critic of Manager Gil Hodges in 1970, was traded to the Montreal Expos Wednesday for outfielder Don Hahn.

Swoboda, 26, was hailed as a possible future Mickey Mantle by Manager Casey Stengel when he joined the Mets in 1965. He had brief flashes of brilliance and batted .281 in 134 games in 1967.

Swoboda made important contributions to the Mets' stretch run which resulted in their winning the National League pennant in 1969 and then starred in the World Series. He batted .400 against the Baltimore Orioles in the Series, made one of the greatest catches in Series history in the fourth game and drove in the tie-breaking run with a double in the fifth and last game of the classic.

Swoboda failed to win a regular job in the outfield in the spring of 1970 and criticized Hodges throughout the campaign for continuing to employ the platoon system which contributed to the 1969 victory.

U.S. Textile Industry Seriously Affected By Cheap Asian Imports

FORMER PAMPA STUDENT HONORED—Teddy Trice, right, former student in Pampa schools and son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Trice, now residing in Canyon, was named Mr. CHS during an all-school social recently. Active in Kay Club, sports and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Teddy shared honors with Miss CHS, Janna Johnson. Both students are seniors.

ATLANTA (UPI)—Across the South, the lights behind the blue windows of the textile mills are going out, darkened by a slumping economy and a deluge of cheap Asian imports.

Since January of 1969, when the economic effects of foreign shipments, principally from Japan and Hong Kong, first were felt, 50 textile mills in the South have closed their doors. Others, while managing to stay open, drastically trimmed their payrolls.

The textile industry in this country, heavily concentrated in the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama, is the South's leading employer, with more than 550,000 workers, not counting those in apparel production.

Plant closings also are occurring in the New England textile belt, which has about 30 per cent of the industry.

In North Carolina, the nation's leading textile producer, 30 plants have gone out of business. Thirteen plants closed in South Carolina, and seven in Georgia and Alabama.

Jobs Lost

In 1970 alone, this meant the loss of 10,700 jobs in North Carolina, 6,100 in South Carolina, 6,300 in Georgia and 1,200 in Alabama. Several thousand more were laid off in 1969 and the first few months of this year.

While textile leaders describe foreign imports as the major reason for the downturn, they also cite a generally sluggish U.S. economy.

Imports, however, were the major culprit. Last year they hit a new record level of more than four billion square yards, according to the American Textile Manufacturers Institute (ATMI). Dollar value of the imports totaled $2.4 billion—an increase of more than 11 per cent over 1969, which had been the record year for imports.

In contrast, American-made textile exports in 1970 totaled only $768 million. This left a textile trade deficit of $1.6 billion.

Hourly earnings of textile workers last year averaged $2.47 and employees took home a pay check averaging $99.54 weekly. With the loss of 27,200 jobs in the Southeastern textile industry, this has meant a $140,460,000 blow to the economy of the region, offset somewhat by unemployment compensation and the fact that some of the furloughed workers moved into other jobs.

Closings Critical

In small communities the plant closings have been critical blows.

"They just closed up, the shades pulled and the lights out," said Mayor J. P. Phillips after the Handley mill closed at Roanoke, Ala., last November, putting 844 people out of work in a city of 5,060 population.

"We just don't close the operation of a $90,000 weekly payroll without it hurting the community. The plant had been in continuous operation for more than 50 years."

The textile industry insists it must have import quotas written into law. It has the support of the Nixon administration.

Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee, who fears a trade war would result from legislated quotas, favors instead a voluntary agreement he personally worked out with Japan to limit the growth of its exports to the United States.

Little Hope of Law

The U.S. industry insists the voluntary agreement would help little if any. Without Mills' support in Congress, however, the industry has little hope of seeing any kind of quota written into law.

The industry's best bet for the future, many feel, is technological.

Donald F. McCullough, the Collins and Aikman chairman who recently stepped down as president of ATMI, said "considerable progress is being made with new products, better technology and modernization." There particularly have been encouraging developments, he said, in machinery and new products in the area of knits, textured yarn, weaving and fabric dyeing and finishing.

He predicted gradual improvement in the textile market in 1971. And looking beyond to the whole decade of the '70s, he predicted a market growth by more than 40 per cent by 1980 with sales reaching $30 billion.

The market will be there, said McCullough. "The question is, who is going to get it? Americans or foreigners?"

Most Modern Industry

"We have always been the most modern industry in the world, but even with our technological superiority, we find it extremely difficult to compete with 10 cent-an-hour wages."

Frederick B. Dent, head of Mayfair Mills at Arcadia, S.C., and chairman of the International Trade Committee of ATMI, contends the American textile market "is the only free market in the world."

"While refusing to reach an agreement with the United States, the Japanese government has entered into bilateral textile agreements with 11 other nations," he said.

The new president of the ATMI, John Reeves, predicted the situation "will get worse without import restrictions."

"Without clear and decisive action by our government, we can only look for conditions to get worse."

'I DO'—WITH VIDEO

BOSTON (UPI)—John G. Dulmage is producing, directing and starring in a closed-circuit television special Saturday—his own wedding.

Dulmage, 26, is the coordinator of the audiovisual department at Boston College. His costar Saturday will be Margaret Vaughan of Wollaston, Mass.

He has assembled a 10-man production crew to provide live coverage of the liturgy at St. Clement's Newman Center, which will include a folk singing presentation.

Dulmage said the event will be recorded on videotape.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Profit-taking ... accelerated as the South Viets beat a hasty retreat from Laos," Walston & Co. observes. But the company believes there is a "lot of buying power under the market." The demand is "selective" and Walston cautions many stocks "have advanced to the point where a great deal of long-term profit-cashing can be expected."

The Dow Jones industrial average could slip to the 850 level "and stay there a while," the Alexander Hamilton Institute believes. The institute also warns "a sharper reaction could result" if the economy doesn't show more signs of life. Despite this, the institute says it continues "to believe that the basic trend is up and that the 1000 level on the Dow will be reached before year-end."

Despite the market's continued good performance, Standard & Poor's Corp. doubts "it is ready to sprint ahead." The company also is doubtful that the consolidation phase is finished. "Nevertheless, the underlying advance has further to go, and we would continue to flesh out portfolios with carefully chosen stocks," S&P advises.

Pampa Garden Club Wins Eight Awards

During the annual district convention of the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., which met in Amarillo, the Pampa Garden Club rated eight club and individual awards.

Delegates from the Pampa Garden Club included Mmes. James Malone, Joe Curtis, and Richard Sommer.

Pampa Garden Club President, Mrs. James Malone, was honored as incoming District Director for a two year period. Mrs. Joe Curtis, also an active Pampa club member, was installed as District Treasurer.

Pampa Garden Club won eight awards at the convention including, Special Achievement Award to club member Theima Bray, for her service to the community through Garden Club work. Mrs. Bray led in developing and planning of Pampa's Red Deer Trail.

Other awards included; second place award for the club scrapbook; first place, delegates report submitted by Mrs. Malone; first place, yearbook; first place, flower show schedule; Honorable Mention, Sears Award for work on Red Deer Trail; third place, work on Capsule Garden at Pampa High School; and, first place, President's Report, submitted by Mrs. Malone.

The Amarillo Garden Clubs hosted this year's district convention. Festivities began with a judge's meeting and program on hanging baskets. Delegates were presented with a style show, tea, and dinner.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- Q. Are there special nutritional needs for teen-age boys?
- A. Yes, there are. Teen-age boys need more calcium, iron and greater amounts of many other nutrients than at any other time during their lives, because they are experiencing their most rapid growth rate. Between-meal snacks are usually needed and should be chosen frequently from the four food groups.
- Q. What about teen-age girls?
- A. Teen-age girls often have the poorest eating habits of any age group. Many dietary studies indicate this. Skipping or skimping on nourishing food probably is due to girls' being figure-conscious. They may well be copying their mothers in this respect. But it's a mistake.
- Q. What about breakfast?
- A. Breakfast should not be neglected. Eating breakfast helps in weight control because it eases out calorie consumption. Otherwise, the dieter starves herself, then consumes everything at one sitting - probably under conditions of being "too hungry." By contrast, breakfast "promotes a feeling of well-being in the morning hours when it may be most needed for energy and efficiency.
- Q. Are "crash" diets harmful?
- A. We think so. "Crash" diets may injure health. Teen-age

- bodies are in an important period of development. Girls at this age need more essential nutrients than at any other time in their lives except the later months of pregnancy and during nursing.
- Q. Are the increasing number of teen-age marriages a factor to be considered in nutrition?
- A. Definitely. The fact that more girls are marrying younger makes nutrition doubly important. Pregnancy puts extra stress on a teen-age girl because she must provide sufficient nutrition for her own continuing physical development as well as for her baby.
- Q. What about adult nutrition?
- A. In general, men are likely to have better eating habits than women. This is because men usually eat enough to cover their essential nutrient needs. If anything, men are eating too much if they are overweight. Women, on the other hand, may be prone to neglect their own meals, either because of preoccupation with the food needs of their families or because they too, have become figure-conscious without understanding the proper approach to weight control.
- Q. What about older adults?
- A. They need the same nutrients as everyone else, but smaller portions because they are less physically active.

POLLY'S POINTERS

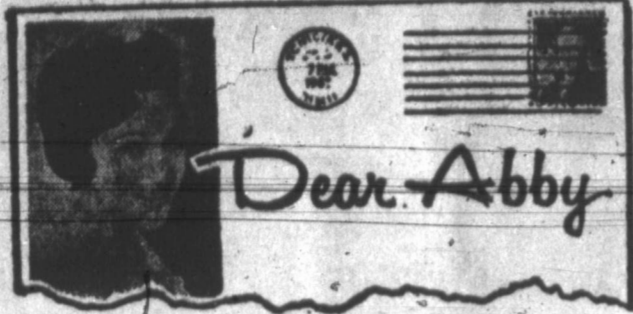

Mildewed Walls Require Scrubbing

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Jean, the newcomer to Texas, wanted to know what she could do about mildewed walls. My husband and I were advised to wash our walls with a solution of one gallon of liquid bleach to one gallon of water and allow this to dry on the walls after the mildew is washed off. We had good results.

—PEARL

DEAR POLLY—I can sympathize with Jean. We lived in southern Spain for 18 months and mildew was commonplace there. It took me a few months of trial and error to find a solution and a cure. Scrub down the infected areas with a solution of bleach and water. Start with a weak solution and increase if necessary to kill the mildew. Mildew often leaves a stain even after the bleach scrub-down and the bleach solution may discolor painted or even nonpainted surfaces. It is important that the scrubbed areas dry quickly. The bleach kills the mildew but a damp or wet wall is an invitation for new mildew to grow. A sun or heat lamp might be used to speed along the drying. A touch-up paint job will cover any discolored areas. Of course,

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read your column faithfully and think you hand out some good advice, however, I disagree with you on one very important issue: You don't think a boy or man should have to marry a girl if he is the cause of her pregnancy.

It takes two to tango, and it takes two to cause a pregnancy. If my unmarried daughter became pregnant, there would be either a willing bridegroom or a shotgun wedding.

The most important thing would be to make sure the child had a name. Then afterwards, if the parents decided they didn't want to stay married, let them get a divorce. It is not as much a blot on the child as being labeled "illegitimate."

I will be watching the paper to see if you print this.

—PITY THE ABES

DEAR PITY: No one can force a man to marry against his will, but the law can insist that a man support his illegitimate child. Besides, an unwilling bridegroom makes a poor husband and a miserable father.

DEAR ABBY: I recently met a seemingly charming woman and on parting I casually invited her to come and see me "sometime." I meant for her to come and visit with me for an hour or so.

She telephoned me the very next day and stated that she and her husband would like to come to my home for lunch on Saturday! This shocked me as I certainly did not intend for her to bring her husband. Also, I have been brought up to never invite myself anywhere. I told her that Saturday was not convenient for me, so she has been calling me daily to set up a date.

If she is this nifty at the beginning of a friendship what can I expect if we become better friends? Knowing how presumptuous this woman is, I would rather not get involved with her at all. How can this be headed tactfully?

—SPOKE TOO SOON

DEAR SPOKE: Continue to find each suggested date "inconvenient" and don't feel guilty. She is obviously not a "charming" as you thought she was.

DEAR ABBY: A letter signed "PRO AND CON" was in your column. It was from a man who said he and his wife were having a mild disagreement over whether they should continue to bathe their adopted daughter, 11, with their own son, 9. He said the kids have separate bedrooms, but they undress in front of each other and have always bathed together and from the standpoint of sex, they seem to ignore the difference.

You said: "As long as the children are not self-conscious about their bodies, don't make an issue of it; if you suggest they 'hid,' they may be unduly curious, or get the idea that nudity is 'wrong,' or 'dirty.' As your daughter acquires maturity, she will acquire modesty without being told."

Well, I am an 11-year-old girl and know the facts of life. And if an 11-year-old girl isn't conscious of her body yet, someone should explain a few things to her.

I have a nine-year-old brother, and I sure would not care to bathe with him. Have you ever seen how dirty a nine-year-old boy can get?

Women Organize Annual Banquet For PHS Seniors

The annual Banquet for the Senior Class of Pampa High School, will be sponsored by the W.M.U. of the First Baptist Church at 8 p.m. in the church's Fellowship Hall.

John L. LaNoue, Sr., the speaker, was born in Beaumont, and has lived in Louisiana and California. He is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin State College with a Bachelor of Arts in English; minor in Spanish and History. He took his Seminary Education from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Throughout his college days he was voted class favorite, played varsity football, was Baptist Student Union president, and listed in Who's Who in America.

He is a Youth Worker and associated with Dr. R. H. Dilday as an associate in the Church Services Division of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He is a commercial pilot, and builds mobile clinics (medical-dental) for use in mission areas.

The public is invited to view the decorations in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church from 4 until 6 p.m. Friday before the banquet begins.

The theme for this year's banquet is "Spring Fantasy. Mrs. Jams Malone is the general chairman for the banquet preparations. Mrs. Louis Tarpley and Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer are in charge of the decorations; Mrs. John Gikas is the chairman in charge of invitations; Mrs. Carroll Ray is the program-work chairman; and Mrs. Dan Cameron is chairman of the food committee.

Featured entertainment for the evening will be a musical group, "The Sundowners" from the Paramount Baptist Church of Amarillo.

Vegetables Add Color For Easter

Color is as important as taste for that special Easter meal. A dish that fills both requirements is Baked Carrots and Parsnips. This concoction goes with the traditional ham, pork or beef and also with a special ham quiche.

BAKED CARROTS AND PARSNIPS

2 cubes chicken bouillon
2 tbs. boiling water
2 tbs. margarine
1/4 c. finely chopped onion
1/4 c. finely chopped onion
1/4 c. dark corn syrup
2 tsp. grated orange rind
1 lb. carrots, pared and cut into 3x1/4-inch strips
1 lb. parsnips, pared and cut into 1/4-inch slices

Dissolve bouillon cubes in water. Melt margarine in small saucepan or skillet. Add onion and saute, stirring frequently until tender. Add bouillon. Stir in corn syrup and orange rind. Arrange one-half of the carrots and parsnips in 1 1/2-quart casserole dish and pour about one-half of the corn syrup mixture over vegetables. Repeat with remaining vegetables and corn syrup mixture. Cover and bake in 375-degree oven 1 hour or until tender. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

(Note: Two pounds carrots or parsnips may be used in place of the combination.)

Strawberry-lemon cake proves delicious way to celebrate Easter.

Tangy Cake Salutes Arrival Of Spring

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

What better way to celebrate Easter and the coming of Spring than with a Strawberry-Lemon Cake?

Basis here is a sponge cake, layered with fresh strawberries and strawberry garnish. This is one cake the cook will have to hide or nothing will be left when it is time to serve dessert.

Since a pancake mix is the basis, this is a good dessert for a young girl to whip up to surprise her current date and friends at a graduation party. Teens will enjoy the play of flavors in the sweetened strawberries and lemon frosting tang.

STRAWBERRY-LEMON CAKE

Sponge Cake:
4 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups pancake mix
3/4 cup milk

Filling and Topping:
One-third cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups sliced fresh strawberries

Lemon Frosting:
2 tablespoons butter, or margarine
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Sliced fresh strawberries for garnish

For sponge cake, heat oven to 325 degrees. Grease bottoms of two 8-inch round cake pans; line with waxed paper; grease again and flour. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar, beating well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Add pancake mix alternately with milk, beginning and ending with pancake mix. Divide batter evenly between prepared pans. Bake in preheated 325-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes. Remove from pans; peel off waxed paper and cool.

For filling and topping, combine sugar and cornstarch in small saucepan. Add 1 cup strawberries. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat; cool 15 minutes. Reserve 2 tablespoons of mixture for garnish.

For sponge cake, heat oven to 325 degrees. Grease bottom of 8-inch round cake pan. For lemon frosting, beat together butter and lemon peel until light. Beat in sugar and milk. Blend in lemon juice.

To assemble, place one cake layer on serving plate; arrange remaining strawberries on it. Top with cooked strawberry mixture, then second cake layer. Frost top with lemon frosting. Garnish with sliced strawberries and reserved filling. Makes one 8-inch layer cake.

Ham quiche is a filling variation of rich quiche Lorraine.

Ham Quiche Helps Add Altar Interest

Many a young man has been lured down the aisle after being impressed by a gal's quiche Lorraine (among other things).

For a different Easter week dish, serve a special Ham quiche. The quiche originally was an open-faced flan or tart and, dates from ancient times. It then was made of bread dough but the French created the rich pastry now considered essential for a tasty quiche. Fillings vary from fruit to fish, potatoes, onions, spinach and ham.

HAM QUICHE

1 unbaked pastry shell
1/2 c. real mayonnaise
1/2 c. milk
2 eggs
1 tbs. cornstarch
1 1/2 c. cubed (1/4-inch or less) cooked ham
1 1/2 c. chopped Swiss cheese
one-third c. sliced green onion
Dash pepper

Prepare pastry and fit into a 9-inch metal or ceramic quiche pan or in a 9-inch pie pan. Mix together mayonnaise, milk, eggs and cornstarch until smooth. Stir in ham, cheese, onion and pepper. Turn into

Of God And Man

By LOUIS CASSELS
In His last conversation with His disciples, Jesus Christ urged them not to treat their faith as a private treasure but to share it with men of all nations.

Some Christians still take very seriously this final instruction of their Lord. They attach high importance to the task of disseminating the good news of the gospel as far and wide as possible.

Others, however, seem to feel it is no longer necessary and perhaps not even good manners, to tell non-Christians about Christ. They ask: "Why should we try to cram our religion down the throats of people who already have a religion of their own?"

If the question were valid in that form, it would be unanswerable. But it is loaded with three serious misapprehensions.

The first is the assumption that all or most non-Christians "already have a religion of their own." In point of fact, there are hundreds of millions of human beings on earth today who are not firmly rooted in any religious faith, and are seeking, with varying degrees of desperation, to find some worldview that will make sense of their lives.

The second misapprehension is reflected in the phrase, "our religion." Christianity is not a tribal possession of Western white men. It originated among Semites of the Middle East but was intended from the start to be a universal faith.

The third and worst error concerns the nature of the task which Jesus laid upon his disciples. They were not asked to bully, browbeat or brainwash anyone. They were simply to make known to others the profound change that had taken place in their own lives—and in their attitude toward life—as a result of their encounter with Christ.

Dr. David H. C. Read, minister of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York, points out, "The true evangelist forewears all attempts at pressure, physical or psychological. He is not concerned with enlarging the membership or influence of his own church. He simply knows what Christ has meant to him and wants to share this happy discovery with others."

But a sensitive concern for the religious freedom of others is not the only reason why some Christians have ceased to practice or support evangelism. A more basic hangup in many cases is lack of conviction that Christ really is "the way, the truth and the life" which all men are seeking.

Texas Road Show Goes To New York With Miss America

DENTON—The City of Denton is preparing to make its most ambitious step forward in the realm of economical and industrial development with a luncheon presentation scheduled for New York City April 6.

After having completed successful "road shows" in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago and Detroit, the Denton delegation will treat New York's leading business and industrial executives to the finest display ever of local municipal pride.

Past luncheon engagements have featured a live musical stage show and a color movie which consists of 120 scenes of Denton crammed into 12 minutes of film. The light-hearted, "home-townish" presentation has been applauded by business executives as being the most original and enjoyable industrial pitch ever done.

Since New York has the highest concentration of good industrial and other economic prospects for the City of Denton, it is only fitting that the road show effort is bolstered this year by the addition of a bona fide celebrity from Denton, Phyllis George, the 1971 Miss America.

She will make an appearance at the luncheon as Miss America and will speak in behalf of her hometown. Miss George has been speaking and singing the praises of Denton for the past three years, however, as she was one of the original cast members of the Dynamic Denton color movie and the musical stage show.

She has been replaced in the stage show because of her capacity of Miss America, Connie Coit, a singer and theatrical performer in the Dallas area, has been selected to take her place in the stage show.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Soviet Party leader Leonid Brezhnev told the 24th Communist Party Congress that, due to Soviet initiative, there had been some improvement in Moscow's relations with Red China.

It was coincidence that as Brezhnev delivered his key address to the congress, Britain's prestigious Institute for Strategic Studies was reporting that the Soviet Union had concentrated some 32 divisions along its borders with Red China and moved 1,000 combat planes into neighboring Mongolia.

Despite the fact that one would seem to believe the other, there was in fact no conflict between the two.

Attacks China Party relations, more significantly, showed no improvement at all as Brezhnev's subsequent words demonstrated. Said Brezhnev: "We cannot, of course, fall to see that the anti-Soviet line in China's propaganda and policy is being continued... we resolutely reject the slanderous relations. The improvement lay in state inventions concerning the policy of our party and our state which are being spread from Peking... The Brezhnev speech provided a perfect example of the two levels of thought permitted by the Soviet policy of co-existence, whether it be with the United States or Red China. On the state level, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin may meet with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, as they did in 1969. Talks may be undertaken to settle the border dispute between the two nations, as they were a month after the Chou En-lai-Kosygin meeting, and ambassadors exchange as they were in 1970 after a hiatus of several years.

More Soviet-Red Trade? Also on the state level may be an increase in trade between the two. Soviet-Red Chinese trade hit a low of $46.5 million in 1970, after hitting a peak of about $2 billion during the 1950s.

Negotiations completed late in 1970 looked toward an increase this year to about $150 million, still a very small part of the Soviet Union's overall trade of more than $24 billion.

U.S.-Soviet trade comes to about $180 million annually. Boycott Soviet Congress. These are all state operations, possible even as party relations deteriorate in the all-out struggle for leadership in the Communist world and influence among developing nations, and as both build up their military strength along their common borders.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) —One of the airlines has been running double-page ads in some newspapers to impress people with the size of the stand-up bars and cocktail lounges in its 747 jets.

"You won't believe you're on an airplane," says the caption over a photograph of the spacious drinking compartment. At last, it appears, airlines have discovered the secret of success. Which is to shield passengers from the fact that they are flying.

If ways can be found to make passengers believe they are someplace else, the airline business, which has been in a bit of a slump lately, should increase beyond all dreams.

Efforts Fall Short
Previous efforts in that direction, such as making passengers believe they were in a movie theater, have fallen short. Most passengers continued to feel they were watching a movie aboard an airplane.

I'm not sure that disguising the plane as a barroom "bigger than most living rooms" will work either. Over the years, airplanes and alcohol have become closely identified in the public mind.

Indeed, many passengers never drink except when they're flying. So it is doubtful that the cocktail lounge motif will cause them to disassociate themselves from airplanes.

Disguising the plane as a pool hall or as a putting green might be more effective since neither billiards nor golf has ever been regarded an airborne activity. But both have limited appeal.

Percentage Is Meager
The percentage of passengers who are golfers or pool-shooters is pretty meager compared to the percentage of drinkers. Therefore, neither facility would create a widespread feeling of elsewhere.

If I were an airline and if I had some extra space in the rear of a 747, I'll tell you what I would do—I would open a shopping center.

A small but elegant boutique and maybe a first class delicatessen where the passengers could browse around, trying on hot pants and sniffing the liverwurst to make sure it's fresh, would in my judgment do more to suspend belief than a dozen stand-up bars.

There are, of course, always a few passengers who actually like airplanes. Let them catch a bus.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Almost three-quarters of adults want some kind of restriction or control of televised political advertising, according to a survey taken immediately after last November's elections.

This is the finding of the Foote, Cone & Belding Agency in a survey summarized in a report on the public's reaction to political ads.

Of those polled, 65 per cent favored controlling the ads themselves, and nine per cent felt the length of the campaign should be restricted.

"The most frequently specified concern," said the report, "is that all candidates should have equal time and money. That is the opinion of 24 per cent of all adults polled."

The report added: This was a more prevalent feeling among men, people 25-34, college educated, in professional occupations, middle income and from large cities—a profile essentially similar to those believing that advertising had the greatest effect.

Non-whites, the survey said, tended not to ascribe great influence to television advertising for political purposes.

"Compared to the other groups," the survey went on, "they were more likely to have no opinion of its effect other than to say it was not influential. A similar pattern is found among service and unskilled laborers — among whom non-whites are highly over-represented."

According to the report, "the overwhelming majority of adults" believe video political ads had some influence in affecting voting.

"Belief in the influence of political advertising varies only slightly by party affiliation," the survey added, "with Republicans and Independents somewhat more likely than Democrats to feel (the ads) highly influential."

The report observed that "people from the East expressed somewhat greater concern about control over political advertising expenditures."

On the other hand, it noted, "the Western region appears to represent a different situation. People here are much more likely to feel that advertising was extremely influential and to believe that the content of (the ads) should be restricted."

The pattern that seems to emerge, said the survey, is that persons who think televised political advertising is extremely influential "want restrictions on those areas yielding unfair influence—extra money, or untrue or dishonorable content."

NBC-TV Tuesday night presented a concise, colorful hour about Scotland Yard, focusing a good deal of the time on its tradition of dealing with the public with compassion, courtesy and a lack of firearms.

The program noted at the end, however, that such rapport with the public has sometimes been difficult to maintain on the same level in recent years because of the new viciousness of some troublemakers, as well as new forms of unrest.

David Niven was the host and narrator of this hour, which was produced by Lucy Jarvis, and although it was difficult to do justice to Scotland Yard in such a short period, the program nevertheless managed to combine a nice mixture of history, personalities and point-

Masonic Group Volunteers To Help Crippled Children

Aubrey L. Jones, coordinator for the Masonic Crippled Children's Services, issued a reminder today of services available to parents of crippled children under 15 who are financially unable to provide surgery and corrective measures.

Right now, Jones said, the Masonic group is hoping to learn if there are any crippled children of pre-school age who might be helped.

In order to qualify for these services, Jones said a child must be under 15, and parents unable to finance hospitalization or treatment.

A parent who has a child who qualifies for the services should call 689-9003 or 689-3334 or contact any Shriner or Scottish Rite Mason.

"In order to be able to accept a case," Jones said, "we must have written consent or recommendation of the attending physician or family doctor."

Children are accepted, he added, regardless of race or creed, who have an orthopedic deformity, are suffering from burns or when an operation or treatment will prevent blindness.

Shriners and Scottish Rite Masons in the Top O' Texas area raise funds to carry on their work with children by operating a Bar-B-Q Catering Service.

"Whoever anyone buys a ticket to one of our barbecue affairs," Jones said, "he is directly contributing to the treatment of a child who might otherwise go through life crippled in body, socially ill and unable to take his rightful place in society."

SPIN CASTING REEL
THE EC88B
$14.88

Our field test fishermen who have tested our new 888 have really put this one through the paces. Their reports say, "The 888 is rugged, it's lightweight, it's beautiful, it's the way to do it out fishing... the tough kind of fishing in brack and deep water. It's handworking, versatile and tough." Some of our field test men have suggested that we call it "the workhorse." But it's no play, it's just a handworking, versatile and tough spin casting reel. AND it's rugged. Real rugged!

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

The Root Of The Problem

"I think the whole educational experience, should be connected with living. One reason you have so many alienated students is that they see how unrelated what they are learning is to normal living outside the university."

The words are from Anthony Tankersley, a former student revolutionist serving a prison term for bombing an electrical utility tower in the Berkeley Calif., area in 1968.

He has zeroed in on two points that will have to be considered by those managing our "educational" affairs: 1. That too many students are isolated from the market place and have therefore a false impression of what society is like. 2. That what is being taught in many college classrooms is so divorced from reality and so devoid of moral conditions that student violence is to be expected.

Regarding the first point, we wish to quote Prof. Stephen J. Tonsor, writing in the current Modern Age: "It has not been sufficiently noted by either neoconservatism or the New Left that higher education, and in indeed the whole structure of middle class family life, provides the perfect paradigm (example) of the welfare state, and it is precisely in these areas that the limitations of welfareism are most clearly evident.

The adolescent child and the adult student are asked to postpone a meaningful role in the societies in which they participate. Their roles and identities are undefined, their responsibilities non-existent. They are excluded from the present work of society and they are asked to prepare for a future not of their own choosing.

To the second point, we would repeat our conviction that most of our colleges and universities — if not state institutions directly they are at least partially state-subsidized — are immoral. The state has robbed some citizens in order to provide gratis or nearly gratis schooling for others.

Rationalism is to get to the root of a problem. Thank you Mr. Tankersley.

New Day For Southpaws

In a day when every minority is clamoring for a piece of the action, it is fitting that what is probably the world's oldest and most disadvantaged minority should begin to get its long-denied recognition.

Left-handers — not to be confused with leftists are becoming increasingly accepted and able to find their right (or left) place in the world.

This is the happy report of Dr. Dean Tremblay, a member of the California State Polytechnic College counseling staff.

Tremblay notes that manufacturers are making more and more things for left-handed people — scissors, fishing rods, golf clubs, baseball gloves, bowling balls, rifles and shotguns, potato peelers and apple corers and can openers, irons and ironing boards, pencil sharpeners, dental instruments, artist palettes, lettering pens and drafting machines.

He even reports that a bank is furnishing left-handed check-books with the stub at the right. Tremblay has some tips for parents and teachers of left-handed kids to make things a little less difficult for them. In classrooms, for instance, they should be seated on the left side so that there are fewer distractions from the left to interfere with concentration.

Also recommended is use of ballpoint pens, soft pencils and hard paper to make handwriting easier, increased use of the typewriter, and choice of musical instruments designed for left-hand fingering.

We still have a long way to go before the last vestiges of discrimination against left-handedness are uprooted, however. Consider the language itself. Most people may be unaware that the word "sinister" derives from the Latin word for left, but we still talk about left-handed compliments, say that an awkward person as two left feet, proclaim that right is might and never offer to give our left arm for something desirable.

And States have gone through many hours in courts in order to lift restrictions of all types of pornography. The truth is, all this hassle isn't worth the bother or the money involved, but if it's sinful then we must do all we can to help the purveyors of trash — legally.

And for some time now, since the ridiculous Supreme Court decision, states have gone to great lengths to prosecute anyone who allows a child to bow his head in prayer in a school room. Another symbol that sin is O.K. but reverence is not.

And it is sin to support a group of people who, throughout their lifetime, have been afflicted with the disease of "gimmieism." They eat well, and sleep well, but have no desire to work. Of course, it was always considered sinful. That's why the concept of doing it is so popular today.

But the worst sin of all is the theft of the money earned by those who do work in order to support those who won't. No matter how you slice it, "legal" stealing is sinful. That's why there is so much of it going on.

Meanwhile, male chauvinists will reflect that a good cigar is still a smoke.

O.K., So 'Woman' It Is

A woman is only a woman but what if she's "Man of the Year?"

The Association for Children with Retarded Mental Development was faced with this problem when, for the first time in its 20-year history, a woman instead of a man was selected for its highest annual recognition for outstanding work for the association. Should she be "Man of the Year," like the 19 previous recipients, or "Woman of the Year?"

To help solve the dilemma, the association conducted a poll among members of Congress, the nation's governors and press — radio and television five.

Five per cent said she should be named "Man of the Year."

Another five per cent suggested titles like "Person of the Year" or "Human Being of the Year." But 90 per cent voted for "Woman of the Year."

The association thinks the results of the poll might well settle once and for all whether a woman in the House of Representatives is a "congresswoman" or a "congresswoman," a female member of a state legislature is an "assemblywoman" or "assemblywoman" or a woman heading a committee is "chairman" or "chairlady."

Meanwhile, male chauvinists will reflect that a good cigar is still a smoke.

Private Reforestation

Not all of the tree planting and reforestation is done at the behest of "ecologists." More than 9 million new trees were planted during the past year in the Southern and Appalachian States and four Western states on tree farms by Georgia-Pacific, a building products firm.

The planting, which does not include acreages already reforested by quick natural regeneration, meant an average of more than 24,000 new trees a day. These trees will grow and will be ready to help fill man's needs for plywood, lumber and paper, commencing about the year 2020, and our forests will not need to be depleted by artificial thinning. Species planted this year by the firm included Douglas fir, loblolly and other pines, cottonwood, sycamore and cherry bark oak. The company reported 8,961,900 additional seedlings in nurseries for next season's hand planting, plus 13,500 pounds of seed in cold storage.

Such action, which comes out of long-term regional research programs, would give the lie to those who complain that suppliers of consumers' needs are going about the country laying waste to the land with no thought to the environment about the year 2020, and our
