Your dollar buys more this year. But you may have to chase it a bit farther before getting it in the first place.

These baseball hold-outs are pretty interesting, but personally we think Mr. Hitler is at least one-up on them.

Current music may be all right, but did you ever try to sing bass to some of this "swing music"?

Politics is the price we pay for being free to rule ourselves.

Skippy, the family dog, is a lot like some of the young folk we know—he thinks going places is enough excuse for going places.

Musing of the moment: Dr. Townsend very wisely denies endorsing Senator William E. Borah for president. Even granting Mr. Borah's "friendly" attitude toward the plan, it is impossible to imagine Mr. Borah as president leading his party to approval of it. Dr. Townsend's statements show that he is no keen analyst of American politics, although in building up a nation-wide organization quickly he has shown unusual ability.

Brevitorials
Inevitably, some local annoyance is involved in carrying out national policies. A good measure of modern government is the extent to which individuals are trampled "for the common good." In countries like Germany, Italy, and Russia, the individual has surprisingly little choice in his daily activities, his home, his opportunities.

OPEN SMALL but worthy of close attention in this country are the movements which tend to restrict the rights and opportunities of individuals and local communities. One instance has caused the educational committee of the Texas Planning board to launch an extensive study. It is the action of the federal government in acquiring large areas for national forests and national parks in Texas. This policy, desirable as it may seem to citizens generally, will diminish local taxation in the areas affected to a point where, probably, local government and schools cannot be adequately supported. For the federal government pays no taxes. Similarly, if the government establishes reserves for other purposes, such as soil re-building over a period of years, local towns must face virtual extermination. Any considerable encroachment of federal authority into ownership of taxable property is dangerous, and the beneficial results must be carefully compared with the detriments involved.

Surface thinking is seldom accurate, never adequate. Unemployment continues. Private business is asked to take over the burden as the government narrows its work program. Actually, private business has been and must continue to carry the burden, regardless of the program. Business directly and indirectly supports the government, for ours is that kind of a political and economic democracy.

BUSINESS IS being asked both to take over the burden of unemployment and to pay ever-increasing tax costs. The double load is to the average business man more than he can tackle at the moment. If government (tax) costs come down, he will have more to spend for employment. Government costs can come down when employment is greater. It is another case of which must come first—the hen or the egg? It is useless to demand that business give every man a job immediately. It is as useless as going to the first business institution in sight and demanding a job for all your friends. Any business man is happy to add an employe if that employe can earn his salary. Confidence in that ability is the greatest current need. Most business firms hold their reserves in combating the depression. Most of them owe money or are now making expansions which make debts necessary. No good business man can afford to ignore his debts to create employment he does not need. No emotional appeal to worried business men is of value.

Fortunately, such circumstances have been overcome before. Time is a great healer. The same forces which create unemployment tend to reverse themselves and make employment necessary. No man can wear the same coat always; none can drive the same car forever. Buying is the best cure for unemployment, but too much buying brings a lull, as everyone knows who has anticipated his wages for a year or two by buying on the deferred payment plan. Wisely, under the merchandise plans which we use, and which have raised our living

Many have been the suggestions to date.

Townsend Receipts Are Estimated At Nearly A Million
Clements Is Told to Bring Financial Statement

BY SCOTT HERSHEY, Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Total receipts of the Townsend old age pension organization since its inception in January, 1934, were estimated today at $951,964.09.

R. E. Clements, resigned national secretary, told a special house investigating committee the receipts from January 1, 1934, to January 1, 1935, were $771,964.09. He estimated receipts for the first three months of this year at $180,000. Clements made his estimate after telling James R. Sullivan, committee counsel, he could not give definite figures without checking bank accounts in state areas and regional headquarters.

There were only a score, or more, of speculators in the committee room when the hearing opened as contrasted with the large crowd at yesterday's informal session.

A chart submitted by Clements showed a cash total of $666,000 for the last three months of 1935. But he explained it was not all receipts and that some of the total represented credits, disbursements and other transactions which were not a "fair picture" of revenue for the period.

Rep. Hoffman (R., Mich.) committee member, suggested adjournment until Clements could provide the financial records requested.

You were told to bring these records," Sullivan told Clements.

"I beg your pardon," Clements replied. "I was not told to bring records of that nature."

"If you read your subpoena you would see all financial records were

870,000 NAZI WORKERS HEAR HITLER BOAST
CLAIMS HE PUT FIVE MILLION MEN TO WORK

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER, Associated Press Foreign Staff.
ESSEN, Germany, March 27 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, standing on a platform built on a locomotive chassis in the huge Krupp works, told an audience of 870,000 German voters today that in three years he had put 5,000,000 men back to work.

The reichsfuehrer emphasized to his listeners that the machinery in which he spoke is a smith of weapons of war but also a huge smith of weapons of peace.

A crowd estimated at 120,000 persons jammed the hall while an additional 750,000 packed the yards outside listening to der Fuehrer's voice through loud-speakers.

"We have succeeded by striking out in new ways to revivify the trade of shipbuilding among other industries," Hitler asserted amid the cheers of the campaign audience.

The chancellor said he had made up his mind from the beginning of the campaign to speak once to the workers. He said many of his critics now could describe how they would have done his job better than he and then reminded them of the asserted gain in German employment.

Sirens of steamboats and whistles of locomotives began to shriek at 4 p. m. as Hitler mounted the speaking platform. Rail and highway traffic throughout the reich was suspended for one minute as the entire nation paused in recognition of der Fuehrer.

Germany's two zeppelins—the Graf and the Von Hindenburg—had soared over former President Paul von Hindenburg's tomb at Tannenberg in East Prussia. They dipped six swastika banners in salute to the former army leader and head of the German republic.

BRUNO TELLS A NEW STORY, REPORT SAYS

GOVERNOR DECLARES CASE REEKS WITH UNFAIRNESS
BY JOHN FERRIS, Associated Press Staff Writer.

TRENTON, March 27 (AP)—Attorney General David T. Wilentz said today he would issue a statement at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning on his attitude toward another reprieve for Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

TRENTON, N. J., March 27 (AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman said today the whole Hauptmann case "reeks with unfairness, passion and prejudice."

The governor said also he is more "firmly convinced" than ever that Hauptmann was not given a trial in line with what we consider to be American standards of justice.

TRENTON, N. J., March 27 (AP)—A sensational unconfirmed report that Bruno Richard Hauptmann had changed his story of how he came into possession of the Lindbergh ransom money swept through Trenton today.

The Bronx carpenter, under sentence to die next Tuesday night for the murder of the Lindbergh baby four years ago, was reported to have signed a statement that he "bought" the ransom money, more than $14,000 of which was found in his possession when he was arrested in September, 1934.

Colonel Mark O. Kimberling, warden of the state prison, promptly denied the report, saying that such a statement, if made, would have passed through his hands.

"Hauptmann hasn't changed his story in any detail," Kimberling said.

TRENTON, N. J., March 27 (AP)—A statement by Hunterdon County Prosecutor Anthony M. Haack Jr. today that he would take "quick and necessary action" to block a second reprieve for Bruno Richard Hauptmann was followed quickly today by a wood expert's personal opinion that Governor Harold G. Hoffman would not grant one.

Anthony W. Loney, an engineer, who last night suggested to Attorney General David E. Wilentz he consent to a 30-day stay of execution to enable further study of the Lindbergh kidnap-ladder, expressed belief in Washington the governor "will have to let the wood take 'em Tuesday." The execution is set for 8 o'clock that night.

Loney, who yesterday made an examination of the flooring in Hauptmann's Bronx attic, reported to Governor Hoffman that in his opinion the wood "can't go Tuesday." The execution is set for 8 o'clock that night.

Loney, who yesterday made an examination of the flooring in Hauptmann's Bronx attic, reported to Governor Hoffman that in his opinion the wood "can't go Tuesday." The execution is set for 8 o'clock that night.

Meanwhile, rumors of a "confession" in the Lindbergh case by a man reported held by Ellis Parker, chief of the Burlington county detectives, seeped through Trenton today.

A local newspaper, started a few weeks ago, published the name of the man reported under arrest. The paper said he was a former Trenton attorney and drugist and had confessed kidnaping the child because of his hatred of society, but denied murdering it. The story was that the baby died and he buried it near Hopewell at the spot where the body was found.

Parker, taking things easy in his Mt. Holly office, laughed at the report and said he "ain't got no arrest."

"I haven't been doing anything in the case," he said.

Loney long was a lumberman. He is employed by PWA to test the strength of wood used in PWA construction.

He said he had a very friendly discussion yesterday with Arthur J.

Pampa's 1936, has two state officers, Charlie Masel being divisional chief of staff and Jake Garman being district junior vice-commander.

Presidents of Pampa's civic clubs and chambers of commerce will be on the stage with the visiting veterans. Commanders of many posts in this section will also occupy the stage.

The meeting will open with a concert by the high school band. Boy Scouts will act as ushers.

I Saw . . .

Woodrow (Woody) Woodridge, likely Harvester prospect, punting high and far in his first day of grid practice yesterday. Only a few more "holdouts" remain.

Some of the latest "fingergrams" which succeeded rick rack, 70-yd and dime-tenders as a national fad. The finger of one hand pointing upward with the "wriggling" of the other hand dropping a few inches above it, representing "a man under a shower." One hand palm down with one's chin resting on the outer part of the wrist is "Santa Claus in a breeze."

DOCTORS KNOW Mothers read this:

THREE STEPS TO BELIEVING CONSTITIATION

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist about this. Very popular, liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup

EARLY DAYS IN UNION BROUGHT WAR TO TEXAS

Death and Hardship Were Borne by New State

Texas had been a state only 15 years when Lincoln was inaugurated president of the United States, March, 1861. Houston, who was governor of Texas, did all in his power to persuade all Texans to be loyal to the Union.

In spite of his opposition a secession convention was called in Austin, January, 1861. A resolution was passed withdrawing Texas from the Union. Houston was forced to resign his position as governor. Edward Clark, lieutenant governor, took his place.

Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States, called on Texas for volunteers. There were about 50,000 Texans that fought bravely in the Confederate army. They were organized under Hood's brigade, Granbury's brigade, Ross's brigade, Terry's Rangers, and the Eleventh Texas cavalry. Each of these won glory for Texas and for themselves.

Fortunately for Texas there was less fighting here than in other southern states. There were a few attempts made by northern soldiers to invade Texas, but each proved a failure.

Since the north's efforts to invade Texas failed, her industries were not disturbed by the Confederate forces. Texas was able to furnish hats, shoes, blankets, tents, beef pork, corn and other foodstuffs to the Confederate army. In fact, Texas became the storehouse for the western part of the Confederacy.

Many new factories and industries were established in Texas during the war. Texas was also able to keep up her trade with Mexico during the war. This was a great advantage to all the southern states in furnishing supplies.

Even in Texas, with all her advantages over the other southern states, the war brought hard times and great suffering. Calves sold for 50 cents a yard; coffee could not be bought; corn and ashes were used instead of soda; for medicine people had to rely on the use of roots and herbs and the bark of certain trees. A greater sorrow which fell on many Texans was the vacant chairs which in many instances remained empty after the war. Thousands of Texas boys fell on the battlefields.

Finally in 1865 the terrible war ended. Surviving soldiers returned home to find their slaves free, their property ruined, poverty and disorder confronting them on every hand. Privation and hardship became the common lot of the Texans during a period of reconstruction that immediately followed the war.

Shown above, it should be known by housewives of Pampa and surrounding territory, is Mrs. Lillian Blythe. When she knocks on your door open it instead of peering out of a window and thinking she is a housewife, Mrs. Blythe will knock at your door to save you money, not to take it from you or to waste your time.

Mrs. Blythe is enumerator for the Pampa Independent school district. It is her duty to visit every home within the district and ascertain information about children of school age. For every child not registered the school district loses from $25 to $20. It is then necessary to raise that amount through taxation.

More difficulty has been encountered this year than ever before, Mrs. Blythe reports. In many instances she has had to go to school and get children to take her to their home before she would be allowed to enter.

Supt. R. B. Fisher says, "If you think Mrs. Blythe is an impostor, call my office, telephone 987, and give a description of the woman calling on you and if it is Mrs. Blythe, I will identify her."

The superintendent is considering originating a uniform for Mrs. Blythe to wear. He is open to suggestions regarding a means of identifying his enumerator or to get people to answer her knock.

Guymon Section Free of Dust

GUYMON, Okla., March 27. (AP)—Panhandle farmers took a breath of clean air today, hopeful that there would be an end to the recurrent dust scourge which has blighted their wheat.

Yesterday's dust storm, which swept clouds of dirt over the midwest, had quieted, leaving the air free of dirt.

Just how much damage the latest blow had done to the wheat had not been determined, but reports indicated that it was extensive.

Townsend Aid Got $21,000 Month

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—House investigators, seeking detailed information on where the "nickels and dimes" of Townsend club members go, moved today to determine the income of high-ups of the old age pension organization.

James R. Sullivan, committee counsel, planned to begin by demanding information on salaries and commissions of all state area and regional managers of the nationwide movement for government pensions of $200 a month to persons over 60.

Sullivan wound up the first session yesterday with an assertion that Edward J. Margrett of San Francisco, former furniture dealer who became Townsend plan manager of the northern California area, received monthly commissions of $1,800 to $2,100.

R. E. Clements, resigned national secretary of the organization, denied knowledge of the sums received by Margrett. He was recalled to testify today.

Yesterday Clements said that state area managers receive 40 per cent of all membership dues and 20 per cent of all club financial quotas which are set by national headquarters.

FOURTEEN DIE IN CRASH OF MEXICAN SHIP

MEMBERS OF EUROPEAN ROYALTY KILLED NEAR PEAKS

BY CLARK LEE

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, March 27.—Sixteen men and eight women, ranging in rank from members of European nobility to a Costa Rican steward boy, were brought back dead to this capital today, victims of an air disaster which halted a carefree trip to Central America.

Authorities said the bodies, too badly crushed and burned to permit certain identification, would be cremated after brief services.

The fourteen persons, ten European tourists and four members of the crew of a tri-motored (Ford) plane which chartered for a flight through Guatemala and Central America, died yesterday when the ship crashed near Acaemecca while attempting to pass between Mount Popocatepetl and Mount Iztaccihuatl, towering snow-covered volcanic peaks 30 miles from the capital.

Pan-American Airways officials ordered a technical investigation into this worst disaster in the history of Mexican aviation, but expressed doubt that the cause could be determined definitely because of the condition of the wreckage.

The wireless operator of another Pan-American plane, which was coming in from Guatemala at the time of the accident, disclosed that he had been "talking" with the operator of the doomed plane just before the crash.

"Limon (Adolfo Limon, wireless operator who died in the disaster) told me that the passengers seemed very happy and were remarking on the beautiful views of the volcanoes," the operator of the other plane said.

"He himself was happy over the trip to Central America and said he was looking forward to a good time."

"The last message he sent was 'Passing over Acaemecca.' Then suddenly he went off the air."

The victims of the crash were: Passengers: Prince Adolf Schaumburg-Lippe of Bueckenburg, Germany.

Princess Ellen-Elisabeth, Schaumburg-Lippe, his wife.

Baron Siegmund von Stieber, of Munich, Germany.

Baron Dr. Elmer von Rohonczy, of Budapest, Hungary.

Mrs. Dora Thein of Bremen, Germany.

Miss Victoria Thein of Bremen.

Miss Marie Margarethe Harder of Hamburg, Germany.

Miss Elisabeth Schroer of Dortmund, Germany.

Miss Liesbet Pust, of Zullehorn, Germany.

Adolf Franz Iglar, of Vienna, Austria.

Crew: Adrian Borchers, technical adviser for Pan-American Airways, who had been loaned to the Compania Mexicana de Aviacion, a subsidiary of Pan-American Airways, which owned the plane.

Borchers came from Philadelphia.

J. Presciado Acosta, pilot, of Mexico City.

Adolfo Limon, radio operator, of Mexico City.

Daniel Madrigal, steward, of San Jose, Costa Rica.

All except Iglar died instantly in the crash, or were trapped and burned to death.

The Austrian tourist, still conscious but burned badly and groaning with pain, was pulled from the wreckage by a shepherd, Leonardo Cordoba, who was the first to reach the scene.

Youth Appeal in New Hudson

Due to an unusually early demand, shipments of the new Hudson and Terraplane convertible models have been started already from the Hudson factory in Detroit, according to W. R. Tracy, vice-president-in-charge of sales.

"Particularly strong," said Mr. Tracy, "is the demand for the new Hudson Eight convertible coupe. The strong 'youth appeal' of this car with its 113 or 124 horsepower motor and flashing acceleration, and smart appearance, is making it one of the most popular cars in the entire Hudson line this spring."

Finished in an entirely new color—antique ivory—this car has attracted wide attention wherever it has been shown. Other spring colors announced by Hudson are: maroon, sage green and glacier blue.

LOWER MISSISSIPPI FOLK ARE CALM AS WATERS TRAVEL NEAR

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Mississippi delta farmers who for more than 200 years have suffered from flood tides descending from 31 states have been little alarmed by the wall of water rolling southward from the Ohio river.

Army engineers say the government's vast Mississippi flood control system has made very improbable a recurrence of the disastrous inundation which nine years ago took a toll of 200 lives, rendered 700,000 people temporarily homeless and caused a direct property damage of $200,000,000.

For years, the delta farmer has had to watch the weather in 31 states unless he wanted the flood-tides of their drainage to catch him napping. He has waded neck-deep in "April showers" from New York state; Pennsylvania's excess precipitation has drowned his mules; Wyoming's cloudbursts have swept away his farm buildings.

1,900 Miles of Levees Now, however, flood waters are restrained by some 1,900 miles of enlarged and strengthened dikes or levees. Floodways at strategic points in the vast alluvial valley of the lower Mississippi have been built to turn aside tremendous torrents. The 20,000,000 acres in the 600-

Senator Borah Is Expected to Extend Campaign

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—A move by Senator Borah of Idaho to extend his presidential drive into the northwest was believed to be imminent today. Friends expected him to announce that he would enter the Oregon primary May 15 in an effort to capture that state's 10 delegates to the republican national convention.

The senator decided yesterday not to enter California. He explained the intensity of his campaign to win the 109 convention delegates to be selected soon in Ohio and Illinois would not permit him to speak on the coast as friends had urged.

Another political development was an assertion by Senator Dickinson (R-Iowa), who has expressed presidential aspirations, that there was "no chance of any small coterie" picking the party's presidential candidate at the Cleveland convention.

"I have noted reports," he said at Chicago, "that hint a small group of party leaders is preparing to pursue at the coming convention the policy, which legend has it, was responsible for the nomination of the late President Harding here in 1920."

"Such a course next summer would be as the campaign is now shaping, as impossible as it is improbable."

Piece of Metal Found in Heart Of English Baby

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—A clue to the nature of the small piece of metal found in the heart of a newborn infant was advanced today.

The London correspondent who detailed the mystifying case in the Journal of the American Medical Association suggested it may have been a contraceptive device.

The writer related how two physicians conducted a post mortem on an English girl who "appeared normal in every way but died suddenly some hours after birth." Dissecting the heart, they found a piece of metal "resembling brass or gilded tin" and "looking something like the claw setting of a toy jewel ring."

He said the doctors rejected the possibility the object had been dropped by one of them, picked up from the mortuary slag or shed by one of their instruments.

Dull Markets Buy Prize Baby Beef at Sale

George Dull, manager of the Furr Food meat markets, recently bought the prize baby beef of Bill McGregor at the 4-H club sale in Amarillo. The baby beef was a black Angus.

"After dressing and proper refrigerating to bring out the best qualities of this fine beef," says Mr. Dull, "we are offering it for sale in our markets here."

REICH ENVOY PERTURBED BY EDEN SPEECH

ADDRESS IS CALLED GREATEST OF HIS CAREER

BY CHARLES F. NUTTER (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 27.—Joachim von Ribbentrop seeking Great Britain's latest word before returning to Berlin to report to Adolf Hitler on the Rhineland crisis negotiations, conferred with Foreign Secretary Eden today at the foreign office.

Informed sources said the reich emissary sought an explanation of parts of Eden's speech to the house of commons yesterday, in which the foreign secretary warned Germany a conciliatory gesture of some kind was necessary to solve the Rhineland impasse, but also advised France to try to deal with Der Fuehrer with an open mind.

Hitler's ambassador at large was understood to be perturbed by some sections of Eden's address—a reaffirmation of Britain's obligations under the Locarno pact which was acclaimed generally by the British as the greatest of his career.

The German delegation, it was understood, was disturbed by the emphasis Eden laid on the military understanding among the Locarno powers, in contrast to the comparatively fleeting reference to the proposals Hitler has extended for new treaties.

Der Fuehrer's special ambassador, sent to London to participate in the deliberations of the Locarno powers, and the League of Nations council, decided to go back to Berlin for Sunday's reichstag election, called by Hitler to approve his occupation of the Rhineland and denunciation of the Locarno pact.

All British parties praised Eden's foreign policy statement, declaring Britain stood by its Locarno pledge to be ready to fight for France and Belgium if they were attacked by Germany, but calling on the reich for some new conciliatory move.

The foreign secretary's address surprised political quarters by its demands that France have an open mind, as well by the call for Germany to "do something to allay the anxieties of Europe."

Eden's success was considered especially noteworthy by parliamentary lobbies in view of the fact that a large section of the commons approached yesterday's debate in a critical mood.

TWO MORE PITCHERS, HARDIN AND BRALY, BEGIN WORKING OUT WITH BIRDS

GORDON NELL TO PLAY WITH EASON OILERS

BIG STICK POWER MAY BE MISSING THIS SEASON

Road runner pitching ranks were strengthened yesterday afternoon when Bill Hardin, veteran bird hurler, and Braly, last season with Coltex, appeared in uniform. A few more rookies were on hand but Manager Sam Hale's veterans haven't yet reported.

Hardin had two great seasons his first couple of years with the Road Runners, but last year he was unable to get going until near the close of play. Bad tonsils and teeth kept the former House of David star on the bench most of the time. The trouble has been eliminated and Hardin may come back strong.

Braly was a winning pitcher for the Coltex Gassers last season. He has lots of experience behind him and may give some of the Road Runner moundmen trouble making their places on the firing line. Braly showed up in fine condition and immediately took his turn on the mound during batting practice.

Manager Hale is expected to have first base worries. Gordon Nell has failed to report and it is believed the big fellow is all set to do his work with the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla. There is also a vacancy at shortstop and one in the outfield, unless Don Bailey comes through as a gardener. Each can take his turn in the outfield, in the infield or on the mound and it is not known where he will be located.

A veteran in years with the team, although not in age, Ben McClary may fit into an infield position this season. He has played some great ball, especially in the pinches, and by the way he has been handling himself in practice might hold down a berth this year instead of being the handy man on the nine.

Manager Hale will be at third and Al Summers is the natural bet at second. Grover Setz is the only veteran outfielder on hand. Floyd Lisle is ready to go behind the plate.

Daney, Bulka, Stewart, and Hardin of the 1935 team are available along with Ledford and Braly of Coltex Gassers and Dilbeck, an elongated pitcher from Nevada, Mo., who looks like a good prospect.

A long practice, with several newcomers expected, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The public is urged to visit Road Runner park during the afternoon.

Jay Berwanger To Enter Texas Meet Saturday

AUSTIN, March 27 (AP)—The nation's track and field stars stretched their muscles today in preparation for tomorrow's Texas relays, first major Olympic year outdoor athletic carnival.

Approximately 1,000 university, college, and high school athletes were entered.

The University of Chicago squad, led by Jay Berwanger, and the all-American football player, versatile athlete, was first on the scene.

Berwanger will attempt to add to his athletic prowess by competing in six events. The "Flying Dutchman" was entered in the 100-yard dash, shot put, javelin, and discus throws, running broad jump and the half-mile run.

Entries were drawn from 46 colleges and universities, an increase of 16 over last year, and 61 high schools.

Sam Allen, ace hurdler from Oklahoma Baptist university, was matched with Johnny Morris, former Louisiana State star, in a special high hurdle race. Glen (Slats) Hardin, former L. S. U. speedster, will compete in a special 400-meter hurdle race, an event in which he holds the world record.

Tulsa Stenos And El Dorado In Cage Finals

WICHITA, Kas., March 27 (AP)—The Tulsa, Okla., Stenos hope to win their third straight women's national A. A. U. basketball championship here tonight against the El Dorado, Ark., Lions.

The Tulsa, seeded second for the 1936 tournament, moved into the finals last night with a 30-18 victory over the Wichita, Kas., Thursdays.

A last period drive enabled the tall, rangy Arkansas sextet to overcome the Des Moines, A. T. B. team, 26-18.

For the third consecutive year Miss Opal Hill, Shreveport, La., won the free throw championship. She sank 47 out of a possible 50.

SPORT SLANTS

Clarence Pinkston, former national platform diving champion and the winner of the event at the 1920 Olympic games at Antwerp, believes the United States swimming team will defeat Japan in the Olympic games at Berlin next summer.

"I can't see anything but a 'dog fight' between Japan and the United States swimmers," Pinkston said, adding that only in one or two events—possibly the 100-meter free-style and breast-stroke—will representatives of other countries have much chance.

He Converted Degener.

Pinkston now is swimming and diving coach for the Detroit Athletic club and has developed some of the best divers and swimmers ever to represent the midwest in national and international competition.

He changed Dick Degener from a fair swimmer into a great diver who is counted on as America's strongest diving hope in the 1936 games. Another of his protégés is Jimmy Gillhula, national A. A. U. 220-yard free-style titleholder.

Pinkston attributes the failure of the all-American team which invaded Japan last summer to the illness of Gillhula and the absence of Adolph Kiefer, sensational young Chicago back-stroke specialist, and Al Vandeweghe, another back-stroke star.

The United States splashes won the 100-meter back-stroke, 100-meter free-style, and the 400-meter free-style, while Japan took the 1,500-meter free-style, the 200-meter breast-stroke and the 800-meter relay.

Pinkston expects the United States Olympic team to win the three events it did in Japan and to take the 800-meter relay because of this group of stars: Gillhula, Jack Medina, John Macionis of Yale, Art Lindgren, Paul Wolf of Hollywood, and Tom Hays of University of Michigan.

Six swimmers will be taken for the relay, with four being picked in Germany for final competition.

"Degener should win both the three- and ten-meter diving titles," Pinkston said.

Here are Pinkston's choices of those who will fight for places on the U. S. team: 100-meter free-style—Peter Flick, New York; Art Lindgren, Hollywood; Paul Wolf, Hollywood; Matt Chrostowski, Columbia university; 400-meter free-style—Macionis, Columbia, Ralph Flanagan and Haynie, 1,500-meter free-style—Medica, Flanagan, Norris Hoyt of Yale, David Holmes, University of Michigan freshman; 200-meter breast-stroke—John Higgins, Olneyville Boys' club; Ray Kaye, Detroit Athletic club; Jack Kasley, University of Michigan; 100-meter back-stroke—Adolph Kiefer, Chicago; Al Vandeweghe; Taylor Drysdale, Detroit.

Jimmie Hitchcock Deserts Gridiron For "Yank" Farm

AUBURN, Ala., March 27 (AP)—Jimmie Hitchcock, remembered by football fans as a back who really could "check out" over a gridiron, again has discarded a football uniform for baseball togethery.

As an assistant coach at Alabama Polytechnic Institute here, Jimmie donned football regalia during spring practice and aspirant Tiger backs learned first-hand of the deceptive running, passing, blocking, and kicking that skyrocketed him to an all-American berth.

Now the versatile Hitchcock is cavorting over a baseball lot on the west coast, a member of the Oakland Seals and a New York Yankee hopeful.

After leaving Auburn, Hitchcock was signed by the Yankees and has been starting with their farm clubs ever since. He spent the 1933 and 1934 campaigns with Wheeling, W. Va. Last year he displayed unusual fielding ability and stick power with Birmingham, N. Y. club.

He hopes the Seals' engagement will be an avenue into the Yankee camp.

Seven Oklahoma Wrestlers Win in Houston Tryouts

HOUSTON, March 27 (AP)—Seven Oklahoma wrestlers successful in semi-final tryouts here, were eligible today to continue competition for places on the American Olympic team.

The Henson Athletic club of Tulsa, featuring mat stars of Oklahoma, A. M. college, won four of the seven classes to take team honors and the Weatherford Athletic club took second honors with wins in two classes.

The Houston Y. M. C. A. team finished third, the University of Texas fourth, and the Dallas Y. M. C. A. fifth.

White Sox' Whitehead Set to Whitewash

Every team has one or more knotty problems this year, but I can't help feeling that Boston and Detroit will be the two big contenders with the Tigers getting the edge. Boston obtained tremendous strength with the acquisition of Fox, Cramer and McNair, but the question there is harmony. If they all click and get along, the Red Sox will be doubly dangerous. There is no question as to the spirit and harmony at Detroit. They have had it for two years and have it again this year. And anyone who doesn't think Al Simmons will be a big help is going to be fooled. Even with another poor year, Al is a cinch to drive in more runs than Jo-Jo White or any of the other 1935 outfield reserves did.

The Yankees don't appear strong enough to me. Cleveland has a good chance, but the Indians have to develop into a good road club to win. No poor road club ever won the pennant in this league.

Johnny Whitehead, Chicago White Sox, flashed across the baseball sky like a comet last year when he ran up a phenomenal winning streak early in the season. Over-ting, however, caused him to bog down, and he finished with 13 victories and 13 losses. This season Manager Jimmy Dykes is making the big boy diet, and Johnny is missing 'em through with all the skill he demonstrated last year.

BASEBALL HAS BIG COMEBACK IN SOUTHWEST

ALL COLLEGES EXCEPT ARKANSAS HAVE CLUBS

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball, thanks to its prosperous brother, football, came back to the Southwest conference in a big way for the first time in four years.

Ditched in 1932 when the clatter of the tumstiles came at much too lengthy intervals, and then mostly in single turns, the national pastime came back this year with working capital supplied by grid fans.

Baseball fans like the conference's gesture in restoring the race to its old status and there's a possibility that "baseball" will pay its own freight. This, despite the fact that the championship chase looks like a center for the University of Texas.

Only the University of Arkansas with heavy traveling expenses to and from Fayetteville Ark., deemed it inadvisable to enter the baseball scrap.

Next Monday finds the United Davis cup squad competing in the annual Houston invitation tennis tournament at the River Oaks Country club clay courts.

Wilmer Allison, No. 1 star, Donald Budge, Gene Mako and Bryan Grant, the defending champion, are definite entries. Five days after the tourney's end, they start Davis cup play on the same courts against the Mexican netters. John Van Ryn will compete in the doubles but his entry for the Houston tourney is uncertain.

This they tell on Bohn Hilliard, former University of Texas football star and now with the state liquor board as an investigator.

He stepped into a Houston grill leaned against the bar.

"Pass the cream," he told the bartender.

The cream was passed and Hilliard investigated.

He found four pints of liquor in the cream pitchers, he wrote into his report.

SAM SCALING PLAYING WITH DAVIDS TEAM

GETS ONE OF 5 HITS MADE BY HAIRY ATHLETES

Sam Scaling, who savored around the hot corner at Road Runner park last season, is doing his ball chasing in left field for the House of David, bearded ball club, this season. Scaling joined the team in Longview last week.

The former Road Runner was in the starting lineup against the Dallas Steers Wednesday when the Beards lost a 1 to 0 decision to the Mavericks. Scaling poked out one of the five hits made by the House of Davids. It came with a man on first and one out but the next batter popped up and ended a threatened rally.

"Pewee" Bass, smallest pitcher in the game, had the Steers eating out of his hand for five innings. He allowed only one hit, a double, before being pulled by Brady who gave only three outs. Bass formerly played with Phillips of Borger.

Scaling replaced "Joe Brown" Deck in the House of David outfield. So few balls were hit in Wednesday's game that neither Scaling nor Hudson, in right field, had a putout. Cliff, in center, bagged four flies.

The House of David team, which has played in Pampa several times, fielded two new catchers in Hendrickson and Turk Brady is also a newcomer to the ranks. Other members of the team were veterans. John Tucker, elongated first baseman, is back with the team after receiving a broken leg last year.

So The Managers Say

BY ROGERS HORNSBY, St. Louis Browns.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Looking at the American league lineups in full bloom and most of the hospital wards are empty of stars, I pick Detroit and St. Louis to head the two divisions—the Tigers to repeat and the Browns to win fifth place.

We finished seventh last season, but were coming straight at the finish with approximately the same team we will have ready for a flying start this year. There doesn't appear to be a chance for any of the second division clubs of 1935 to jump into the top row, but if any of the so-called "Big Four" break up, I think you will find the Browns sneaking in there.

Infield Improvement.

After their experience last year our infield of Irving Burns, Tom Carey, Lyn Lary, and Harlan Ott—and don't forget we now have Jim Bottomley—should be a greatly improved one, lending the steady influence to our pitchers that was sorely missing last season until it was too late for us to get anywhere. You've got to have a steady infield to get the best out of pitchers.

Generally, we will rely on the same pitching staff except that we look for help from young Eton Walkup, who needs only control to be one of the best winning hurlers in the game. Our outfield is set with Julius Solters, Sam West, and Ed Coleman as regulars, and Ray Pepper and either Mel Mazera or Hal Warnock as the reserves. Personally, I hope to play more than I have in two years as I feel stronger and able to get on more. Our catching should be improved. We have Rollie Hemsley and Angelo Giuliani.

Between Tigers and Boston.

Every team has one or more knotty problems this year, but I can't help feeling that Boston and Detroit will be the two big contenders with the Tigers getting the edge. Boston obtained tremendous strength with the acquisition of Fox, Cramer and McNair, but the question there is harmony. If they all click and get along, the Red Sox will be doubly dangerous. There is no question as to the spirit and harmony at Detroit. They have had it for two years and have it again this year. And anyone who doesn't think Al Simmons will be a big help is going to be fooled. Even with another poor year, Al is a cinch to drive in more runs than Jo-Jo White or any of the other 1935 outfield reserves did.

The Yankees don't appear strong enough to me. Cleveland has a good chance, but the Indians have to develop into a good road club to win. No poor road club ever won the pennant in this league.

Cubs And Cards Shape To Be Foremost Contenders Again

MIAMI, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Spring signs point to the Chicago Cubs or St. Louis Cardinals in the 1936 National league pennant race.

The two clubs, such dominant factors in the circuit over the last decade that they have won eight out of the ten pennants between them, shape in every way this spring as the two foremost contenders again, with the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates bringing up the first division race.

There are big lettered "ifs" on every club roster, but the Cubs have the fewest, and the Cardinals have the reputation for digging up the right answers. As for the other four clubs—Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Boston—they don't seem to have more than an outside chance of crashing first division berth. Their only hopes of a first division berth are centered in the possibility of a crack-up among the "Cardinals" and "Cubs." Should there be one, Brooklyn or Cincinnati appear the logical choices for the choice vacant spot.

As the clubs get ready to start northward on their final exhibition series before the big show opens, here's how they stack up in order of the 1935 finish:

Chicago: It's a safe bet the champions won't reel off another 21-game winning streak, and that Charlie Root's 37-year old arm won't win 15 games again, yet the team, spirited and young, stacks up as a pitcher's mound to Jimmy Lawrence, erstwhile fullback who snagged most of his football passes. "Jackrabbit" Smith, Southern Methodist, will start on the hill for the Methodist with Leamon Phillips, grid tackle, in the harness. "Eck" Taylor's recent victories over the University of Oklahoma at Waco make them slight favorites over the Aggies.

Arkansas, financially unable, is the only conference school not joining in the revival of the diamond sport, dropped four years ago.

question. With more new faces than any club, Casey has only two infielders of proven worth, Linus Frey, who has been ill, and Jersey Hoop, one of the year's most additional holdouts.

Cincinnati: Manager Charlie Duceen has approximately the same club as that which finished sixth last season. His big job is to develop power on attack. Pitching and defense appear good.

Philadelphia: The Phillies may fool 'em, but they may get a long haul to get out of that cellar.

SEIZED FARMS ARE YIELDED BY SPANISH COMMUNISTS; 2 KILLED

BY ALEXANDER H. UHL, MADRID, March 27 (AP)—Two persons were killed and eight wounded in fresh outbreaks of political violence, reports from the provinces said today, after workers who seized lands in southwestern Badajoz province abandoned their hold on the farms.

One person died and eight were wounded in a clash between fascists and communists at Lallagon, in the province of Ciudad Real, provincial reports said, and another person was killed at Coruna, where a communist was shot in a dispute with rightists.

The isolated incidents carried on the wave of violence which has spread since the leftist victory in the February parliamentary elections and leftist assumption of power under Premier Manuel Azana.

Governor Miguel Granados of Badajoz province reported, however, that all farms seized in a concerted movement yesterday by 60,000 farm laborers, most of them socialists and communists, were yielded without disorder last night, in accordance with a government request.

Police and civil guards told the squatters the government would permit forcible confiscation of lands, and assured the workers that laws concerning division of large estates would be carried out formally.

Many of the laborers who descended on the farms returned today to their villages to await developments.

Frank Harris was to be taken to his home from Pampa-Jarratt hospital this afternoon.

Homer L. Wallace of the post-office staff is confined to his home by illness.

Houston, Jones Talk at Ground Breaking Rites

HOUSTON, March 27 (AP)—A century-old wooden plow drawn by a yoke of oxen scratched the sacred soil of the San Jacinto battlefield today to begin a $800,000 memorial to the 783 soldiers who won Texas its independence there on April 21, 1836.

Andrew Jackson Houston, 81, sole surviving child of General Sam Houston, who commanded the Texas army, and Jess H. Jones, of Houston, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, were the principal speakers.

A large crowd attended the brief ground-breaking ceremonies.

The shaft will rise 564 feet, more than eight feet higher than the Washington monument. The large building at its base will contain a hall of honor, an art gallery, a museum and an amphitheater.

Houston modestly avoided, as he termed it, "basking in the rays of reflected fame" and spoke impersonally.

"Texans should be pardoned for a particular pride in the history of their state," he said. "That history has been often romantic, sometimes heroic but always interesting to the civilized world."

The federal and state governments arranged to cooperate in financing the San Jacinto monument, which will be 564 feet high.

Koehler, federal wood expert, who was one of the state's chief witnesses at Hauptmann's trial but that I do feel there are facts that he overlooked.

"He is a forester and may know all about trees, but I spent years in wood products manufacturing," Loney asserted.

Saying he had examined the kidnap ladder before Hauptmann's arrest, he added he had been called into the case recently by Governor Hoffman.

Loney told the Associated Press he had telephoned Attorney General Wientz last night from the governor's hotel room.

"If moved, stated I could not make an intelligent investigation of the matter in a short length of time," he said. "I told him that under the circumstances it might be well to agree with the governor on a few days' stay—30 days mentioned, I believe."

"But I believe the governor will let him (Hauptmann) go Tuesday."

He said the case was "a damned unwelcome mess to me," and that he didn't "know how my boss" will feel about his further participation.

He planned to give the governor a written memorandum "on my deductions" soon.

WINNER

B. Son's Delanige and Jesse Metcalf's Kiltot fell the first time around the course.

Davy Jones, an outsider, showed the way until just before the final jump. He then swerved and left the course, leaving Reynoldstown, which had moved fast, all alone to win as he pleased. Davy Jones, Emancipator and Reynoldstown raced all together after taking the canal turn jump the second time.

Emancipator fell the third jump from home leaving the race to Davy Jones and Reynoldstown. The latter was timed in 9:37 as compared to 9:20 1-5 in winning the race last year.

BUYING INCREASES

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—While flood conditions interfered with the normal flow of trade in various regions, retail volume for the country as a whole during the last week ran 18 to 20 per cent ahead of the corresponding period last year. Dun & Bradstreet reported today in their weekly business summary.

Easter buying gained momentum, and wholesale markets turned more active as merchants in flood areas were forced to make heavy replacements of ruined stocks. It was stated.

"Dominated by women's apparel, dress accessories and toiletries, spring buying reached new high ground for the year in spite of unfavorable shopping weather on some days."

"With stores reopening slowly, as high waters receded, all of the cities reported an increase in retail sales over the previous week's, the gain in some instances running up to 20 to 30 per cent."

"The restoration of transportation facilities in the New England states was too slow to help sales, which were up only 7 to 10 per cent from last year. The recovery in the east was quicker, the increase over 1935 comparative ranging from 8 to 15 per cent."

Two Men Held

A man arrested here this week by Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey, who suspected him of car theft, is wanted in Galveston. He was turned over to federal officers and the car he was driving was determined to have been stolen in Tulsa. Yesterday Gray county officers joined Wheeler, Roberts county and Canadian officers in a chase for a man who drove into a filling station near Higgins, bought gasoline, and drove off while the attendant went for the quart of oil. The filling station men gave chase, overhauled the fugitive and collected for the gasoline, then reported the incident to officers at Canadian. The Canadian officers, believing the offender was a much-wanted criminal, spread the alarm. The man was arrested by Roberts county officers near Miami just before Pampa officers arrived. The man was brought to the local jail and, today, was being held for San Angelo officers who reportedly want him. He was not the person mentioned in the alarm.

Farmers Are Listing

Although funds have not yet been received, many Gray county farmers who have applied for the aid are listing their land to prevent wind erosion. The payments will be 20 cents an acre for solid listing. Much of the listing, however, is of the "every other row" type, on which payments will be 10 cents. The Gray county allotment is 11,000 acres. About 6,000 acres is involved in applications to date.

The driver was unaware that he had run behind the car. His condition was favorable this morning, attending physicians reported.

TOWNSEND

requested," Sullivan said.

Clements then went into an explanation of Townsend financial practices which the committee indicated was not entirely clear.

At one point, Clements estimated receipts of the Townsend organization during the last three months of 1935 at $350,000 after "blanket eliminations" from a chart showing a cash total of $666,000 for the period.

James R. Sullivan, committee counsel, estimated that Clements' total income from the Townsend organization in 1935 was $12,585. The witness, who helped Dr. F. E. Townsend found the movement. Said the total was correct.

Clements' 1935 income included these items:

- Salary of $5,200, "covering all compensation from all departments."
- Salary of $350 from the Townsend Weekly.
- Dividends from the weekly of $6,650.
- Other income from the Prosperity Publishing company, which publishes the weekly of $385.
- Expense money by Clements during the year was not included.

Sullivan submitted a financial statement from the Townsend Weekly which showed total receipts for the first nine months of 1935 of $636,893.

After the morning session the investigation adjourned until next Wednesday to enable Clements to produce financial records demanded by the committee.

Before adjournment, Clements said his $12,585 income was recorded in his income tax returns. The witness denied he received funds from other sources, and in reply to a question said he had no funds in any safety deposit box.

FLUGGERS WIN MONEY

LYNN, Mass., March 27 (AP)—Two Lynn telephone operators received the news they were jointly $150,000 richer as the result of the Grand National steeplechase today and after catching their breath announced they were not interested in matrimony or real estate. The Misses Rose Langelier and Reva Shonell curled up on a divan, borrowed cigarettes from a reporter and said they would go back to work Monday.

Max Leder is in Houston visiting relatives and friends this week.

Vera Stretz Says She Shot Lover

By DEVON FRANCIS Associated Press Staff Writer NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Vera Stretz admitted on the witness stand today that she fatally shot Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, her wealthy lover and one time employer.

The 32-year-old secretary, first witness in her own defense, told of her education and of the purchase of a revolver some years ago.

Then her attorney, Samuel Leibowitz, suddenly asked: "You shot Gebhardt, didn't you?"

"Yes," she replied. She appeared to be breaking, but recovered her poise.

The question was only the second which mentioned Gebhardt. First Leibowitz had asked: "Did you take a cruise on a ship to the West Indies in 1934?"

"Yes, the Vulcania."

"Did you talk with a Dr. Kessler before the trip about a Fritz Gebhardt?"

"No."

She admitted the shooting in a dull voice, without expression.

Leibowitz then asked a series of questions about her meeting Gebhardt on the cruise.

"He spoke very little English?"

"What was the course of your friendship?"

"It was very deep without sex being involved. He said he was looking for a great love. He said a great love made a man creative and gives a woman children."

"He kissed you?"

"Yes."

"Did he kiss anyone else?"

"Yes, another girl in the party."

The attorney turned the questioning to her finances, apparently seeking to show she was independent of Gebhardt and did not need the secretaryship he tendered her.

"What did your mother leave you?"

"About $35,000," said Miss Stretz, who testified she had been abroad several times and had studied at the University of Munich.

"Your first date with Gebhardt after returning to New York was—?"

"Just an ordinary dinner party."

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NATURAL "BULK"

Needed to Correct Constipation*

Most people recognize the seriousness of constipation. But too often they dose themselves with strong cathartics that often actually lead to chronic constipation.

The natural way to check common constipation is to correct the condition which causes it—usually, insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How can you get "bulk"? Fruits and vegetables have some. Bran has more. The most popular product of this kind is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

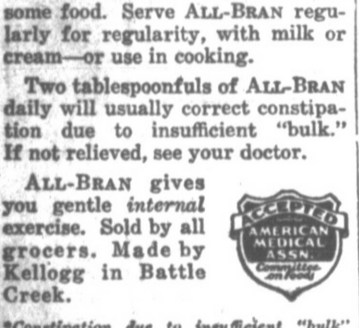

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

This delicious cereal is a wholesome food. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk." If not relieved, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN gives you gentle internal exercise. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

'JERSEY LILY' SALOON MAY BE STATE PARK

OLD BUILDING MAY BE RESCUED BY STATE

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.
AUSTIN, March 27 (AP)—The famous "Jersey Lily" saloon building in which the noted Roy Bean, "The Law West of the Pecos," administered his type of justice several decades ago, may be preserved in a small park being planned by the highway department.

The building was deemed to be the state park board a few years ago but W. D. Dockery, highway department division engineer, said it was deemed to the department the latter would consider construction of a road to the old saloon, restore it and maintain it as part of the highway parks system.

In the saloon at Langtry, near the border line west of Del Rio, Judge Bean made original decisions including acquittal of a man for killing a Chinese on the ground Chinese were not human beings and assessing a fine for carrying a pistol upon a dead man in whose pocket a $10 bill was found.

Citizens of Langtry have complained the old saloon was being destroyed by souvenir hunters.

The highway department is taking advantage of the offers of assistance made by the NYA, WJA and other federal agencies in sponsoring a system of small highway parks that should make Texas a haven for tourists.

Sites are selected for natural beauty, and invariably are heavily shaded. Equipment consists of a few stone tables with rock benches and small open fireplaces. They are kept tidy by highway maintenance forces.

The parks offer tourists opportunity to break long rides, especially in the western part of the state, with a refreshing rest in a cool, shaded spot where they can leisurely prepare meals.

That Texas has become Centennial conscious is shown by questions asked in an examination for highway patrolmen seeking promotion.

Many of the questions dealt with history of the republic. Applicants were required to give names and dates famous in Texas history, such as who was Sam Houston, how many persons survived the Battle of the Alamo, where was the first capital located, how many flags have flown over Texas, and who was Sam Bass.

Most of the applicants could not name the republic's first capital. The first official was at Columbia, although many cities served as headquarters for the provisional government as it was forced to keep on the move because of activities of the Mexican army.

SEASON'S LAST LAUGH
MARSHALL, Minn.—The hard winter here ended in a flash of storm and deposited a chocolate-whimsy. First came two inches of conventional, or white snow. Then the wind shifted into the south mixed in some particles from a dust storm and deposited a chocolate-hued upper surface of three inches with a layer cake effect.

HUNGER AWAITS NO FISH
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Harold Coffman's dream of becoming a hermit on the Lake of the Ozarks, living on fish, was shattered by fisherman's luck, all bad. After three days he hitch-hiked home and told his parents he had lived in a cave but caught not a fish—not even a crowfoot.

JUST TOO, TOO MUCH
CHICAGO (AP)—Not only did her husband elope with "Jane Doe," their next door neighbor, alleged Mrs. Edwin G. Olson in her divorce bill, but he telephoned each night thereafter by long distance to inquire anxiously how his dairy business was doing. So Mrs. Olson asked the court for an injunction restraining him from coming back to the business and agreed to waive alimony if his share of the firm's proceeds were given to her.

RAIL EVIDENCE WAS 'FRAMED' SAYS EXPERT

FEDERAL AGENT ASKS 30-DAY STAY OF EXECUTION

By JOHN FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer
TRENTON, N. J., March 27. (AP)—A federal wood expert's opinion that evidence concerning the 19 of the Lindbergh kidnap ladder was "framed" formed today the basis of a new and harder fight to save Bruno Richard Hauptmann from the electric chair.

He is doomed to die Tuesday night for the kidnap-murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.
The wood expert, Arch W. Loney, of the department of the interior Washington, D. C. called Attorney General David T. Wilentz, an authoritative source disclosed, and asked him to agree to a 30-day judicial stay of execution.

Wilentz declined to comment when asked what he would do, but he is known to oppose any further moves to halt the execution.
Nevertheless, it is expected that Governor Harold G. Hoffman will take Loney's opinion before the court of pardons in an effort to save Hauptmann.

The court of pardons, if it decides to hear Hauptmann's second plea for mercy, may meet tomorrow or Monday.

But any attempt of the governor to sign a second reprieve will be strongly criticized by Prosecutor Anthony M. Hawk, Jr., of Hunterdon county.

"If it is his intention to grant another reprieve, I will take quick and necessary court action to block it," Hawk said. "I feel he has made a laughing stock of the courts who have passed upon the legal questions involved in the case."

Loney accompanied the governor to the Bronx yesterday when the governor inspected the attic of the house where Hauptmann lived until his arrest.

As long ago as Hauptmann's Flemington trial fourteen months ago, Loney was willing to swear he did not believe Hauptmann built the ladder. He telegraphed Edward J. Reilly, then chief defense counsel, he would testify if he had more time to study the ladder.

Hawk, in sharp disagreement with the governor and Loney over the results of the Bronx examination, said everything done yesterday supported the state's claim that the disputed rail had been cut from an attic floorboard, part of which still remained in the Hauptmann house.

Loney submitted his report to the governor after the Bronx visit. In support of his contention rail 16 did not come from the attic he said:

"That examination of the floor with calipers showed a variation between wood of rail 16 and the wood used in the floor, the test showing the latter piece to be about one-sixteenth of an inch thicker than the floor boards.

That examination also showed that in the other attic floor boards there were only seven perpendicular nails driven, while in the disputed board from which wood for the ladder rail allegedly was taken there were twenty-five perpendicular nails.

Bowling Tourney City Will Be Selected Today

INDIANAPOLIS, March 27. (AP)—Bowling enthusiasts shifted their attention today from the alleys to the annual meeting of American Bowling Congress delegates.

A spirited contest was expected in the selection of the 1937 tournament city. Six cities are bidding, but Detroit and New York are out in front. Buffalo, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Atlantic City also want the next meet.

Charles Cushing of Peoria, Ill., is slated to become the new president, succeeding A. E. Jankowski of Detroit. Rimer Baumgarten of Milwaukee and Frank Pasdeloup of Chicago are expected to be re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

New leaders in three divisions appeared on the eve of the annual meeting. The Fabst Blue Ribbon five of New York staged a striking spree to nab first place in the five-man event with 3,065, eleven pins ahead of Oak Leaf Motors of Chicago.

Another Fabst team, from Milwaukee, moved into third place in the team event with 2,971.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for March 19, 1936.

General Topic: Jesus Explains the Kingdom.

Scripture Lesson: Luke 13:17-30.

17. Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and wherunto shall I resemble it?

18. It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.

19. And again he said, Wherunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

20. And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.

21. Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them,

22. Strive to enter in, at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

23. When once the master of the house has risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are:

24. Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

25. But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.

26. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.

27. And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.—Luke 15:29.

The Kingdom Conception in Scripture.

The Bible and Christianity had their origin in times when government was ordinarily conceived of in terms of kingship. Hence our religion is inseparably interwoven with figures and phraseology of royalty.

So the title "King" applied to Christ will never cease to be expressive and appropriate, no matter how thoroughly monarchy shall be discarded by the nations. The Old Testament, as might be expected, is full of references to God's kingdom, in the sense of his spiritual reign among men. In later Jewish literature the term kingdom of God applied to the anticipated Messianic Kingdom. "Kingdom of God is a term applied to the ideal future which the Old Testament prophets expected soon to become a reality. During that age the will and purpose of God would be supreme. Every Jew would understand the phrase, 'the kingdom,' or 'reign of God.' It might be paraphrased as 'the world as God meant it to be.'"

Jesus took this older conception of the kingdom of God and embodied in it the whole plan, purpose, program and destiny of his mission of redemption. Matthew ordinarily employs "kingdom of heaven" where Mark and Luke give "kingdom of God." Jesus undoubtedly used both expressions interchangeably. Strictly avoided the use of the divine name; and Matthew was, supposedly writing for Jewish and Jewish-Christian readers. John the Baptist had declared the approaching inauguration of the Kingdom: "Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." (Matt. 3:2); and when Jesus entered upon his active ministry it was with the announcement that the "Kingdom of heaven" was at hand (Matt. 4:17), "is near," "is close at hand." The importance of this term kingdom of God in a study of the Kingdom of God and religion may be realized from the fact that such study involves the whole field of the gospel, in all its aspects.

The Parable of the Mustard Seed. Vs. 18-19.

(Matt. 13:31-32, Mark 4:30-32.)

"The mustard-seed here is the Kingdom, not the gospel. Did men, perchance, ridicule Jesus when he claimed that his ministry that was, after all, a comparatively insignificant affair, was the beginning of a kingdom of God? Jesus admits: Yes, it is significant. The multitude comes out to witness my wonder-working and listen to my new doctrine; but only a few accept it. Nevertheless it is God's truth, germinal with his Spirit, and so its inevitable destiny is to grow into a divine empire, world-embracing, glorious, eternal, ultimately merging into the fulfilled and absolute reign of God."

Mustard-seed is a common symbol in the Orient for minuteness. "In the proper season, the traveler (in the construction schedule for its June 6 opening when President Roosevelt is to be honored guest at impressive ceremonies.

Palentine) may ride by mustard bushes as high as his horse, and alive with flocks of merry bullfinches or of rock-pigeons feeding upon the seeds" (Thompson).

The Parable of the Leaven. Vs. 20-21 (Matt. 13:33).

"It has been said that this parable should gain for our Lord the title, the Divine Optimist. 'Three measures of meal' would be fully a bushel; a large amount, therefore contrasted with the tiny bit of yeast employed. The gospel was 'hid' at first in the mighty Roman Empire; after a time the world awoke to the fact that that empire had become Christianized. Leaven is a silent agency. So is the kingdom of God—Leaven, salt, light, are silent forces as are all God's mightiest powers." (Butterick). "Who would have dreamed, seeing Jesus and his disciples on the highways of Palestine, that from that small band of men would issue the Christian church with all its world-wide activities. The great differences between cause and consequence suggests also that there are other forces at work besides those we observe—forces which take our small human efforts and through them attain results for which those efforts alone are unable to account."—J. Newton Davies.

Difficulty of Entering the Kingdom. Vs. 22-27.

As the first part of the lesson dealt with the general characteristics of the kingdom, the second dealt with the problem of getting into it. Christ's statements were given in answer to a question asked him.

after it opens hearings on the revenue proposals Monday.

"The program looks mighty good to me as it is," he said.

Referring to the plan for new corporation taxes, based on amounts of corporate earnings withheld in reserves, and linked with income taxes on earnings distributed in dividends, Fatman asserted:

"It will tend to curb monopolistic powers, blast concentrated wealth and distribute purchasing power."

President Roosevelt had suggested that this tax system produce $620,000,000 of federal income to finance the $600,000,000 annual expenses of the new farm program and help meet the soldiers' bonus cost.

Fatman said the corporate tax proposal would tend to accomplish one aim of currency expansion—to force new money into circulation.

CALL OF THE ROAD
SPOKANE, Wash.—George Rogers an Indian who said he was from Minnesota, was sentenced to 30 days for trying to take a locomotive for a joyride. Knocked from the cab by a fireman, he climbed into another and had it going when an officer overpowered him.

"Weeping and Gnashing of the Teeth."—Vs. 28-30.

In the last three verses of the printed lesson Christ told these Jews, "There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out" (V. 28). And especially did he intimate that they would be mad when they saw the Gentiles from the east, west, north, and south in the kingdom. For above all things the Jews hated the Gentiles. There are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last" (V. 30). In other words, the privileged ones who occupy high places and have the first chance (such as the Jews did) may find the common, neglected persons (such as publicans and harlots) getting into the kingdom ahead of them. In kingdom citizenship only merit counts. So, without saying it in so many words, Christ intimates that not blood, or wealth, or culture, or position will get one into the kingdom, but rather the right attitude of heart. The essentials for kingdom entrance, then, are a consciousness of one's sinful life, a sorrow on account of it, a desire to be rid of it, and a willingness to do anything God requires to get right.

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—House inflationists indicated today they may discard an attempt to inject the currency expansion issue into hearings on the new tax program.

Rep. Fatman (D-Tex.), leader of a bloc that has been insisting upon amendment of the proposed currency bill, said he might not go through with plans to appear before the house ways and means committee

Lord, are there few that be saved? (V. 23). He did not answer the man directly, but set forth the severity of entrance which, in a way, was positive answer to the question. According to Moffatt's translation he said: "Strive to get in through the narrow door, for I tell you many will try to get in and not be able, once the master of the house has got up and closed the door" (Vs. 23-26). Then he added that though they might knock and ask admittance and claim contacts in eating and drinking, yet the Lord will say, "I know not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity" (V. 27). The entrance to the kingdom is a narrow door. It meant something with Jesus for one to be a Christian. We have gone to the other extreme in our desire to sweep everybody in, and have made a wide door until the line of demarcation between the church and the world is practically an invisible one. It is difficult today to tell from one's life whether he is a professing Christian or not. Christ's requirements for kingdom citizenship were a willingness to give up the world. There are likely to be many disappointed persons when they seek to enter the peacel gates.

HE SAYS HE FELL ASLEEP

Long hours of driving with little sleep preceded an accident which cost the life of a Texas woman within the week. The driver of an oil truck stated that he was weary and must have gone to sleep.

With the meagre details available one cannot arrive at a fair conclusion as to responsibility in this accident. Drivers of truck and colliding car may have been jointly responsible. Either may be. No effort is here made to pass judgment on that phase of the accident. Rather The Herald would invite attention to the statement of the truck driver that he had driven for long hours; that he had had little rest and sleep; that he apparently had fallen to sleep while driving.

There are people who pride themselves on driving long hours and eating up distance. Many who operate trucks on occasional trips drive great distances to make prompt delivery of their loads. They cannot conveniently change drivers, so the weary driver continues.

The spirit to work long and hard if necessary may be commendable, but how about the danger to which others on the highways are subjected?

At the insistence of rail employees, who are interested in public safety and in their own employment as well, and because public policy dictates that proper safety measures be taken for the public's protection, hours and conditions of rail employment are restricted.

Doesn't this incident confirm the belief that there should be a bit more regulation on hours and conditions under which motor vehicle operators work?—Plainview Herald.

American Telephone & Telegraph, the vast holding company now being investigated by the Federal Communications Commission, is unique.

It is a monopoly, and admits it. Of every 100 telephones in the country, more than 80 are directly controlled by A. T. & T. President Walter S. Gifford gets $206,000 a year salary, pays $103,000 of it in income tax. He cheerfully admits the monopoly part.

But he argues that a national telephone system must be a monopoly, that a lot of small, competing lines would be a nuisance. He denies that A. T. & T. has ever taken advantage of its monopoly position, but has used it to develop the best telephone service for the benefit of the most people.

The FCC is spending $750,000 to see whether this is true or whether the company has used its position to keep rates up, exacted unjust profits from its affiliates, and competed unfairly with rivals in other fields than the telephone business.

The A. T. & T. is the largest company in the world owned by private individuals. It has total assets of more than $5,000,000,000. But no one holder owns as much as 1 per cent of its stock.

The company controls the regional operating companies which actually run the 14,000,000 telephones that make up the Bell System. But this Bell System also connects with the phones of 6,600 smaller telephone companies and 25,000 rural lines, so that practically any of the 17,350,000 telephones in the country can be connected with any other one.

For every share of its stock, A. T. & T. pays out each year $9 in profits. For the last four years it has not made that much profit, but it hesitated to pay less to stockholders, so it made up the difference out of surplus funds saved from past profits.

That means that the 700,000 part owners of the A. T. & T. receive $43,000,000 every three months. More than half of them are women. Sun Life Insurance Co. of Canada and Harvard College are among the largest owners.

A. T. & T. is a holding company. It owns almost 90 per cent of the stock of 24 companies which actually operate the telephones in various parts of the country, such as the New York Telephone Co. or the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co.

It also owns the Western Electric Company, of which Edgar S. Bloom is president. In giant plants in Chicago and Kearney, N. J., this company makes telephone equipment, such as phones and switchboards. It sells 90 per cent of its product to the A. T. & T. or other companies of the Bell System. It also buys material for them all, and holds priceless patents.

The A. T. & T. itself built and owns long-distance lines connecting the various regional systems, ship-to-shore and trans-Atlantic telephone service, teletype systems, 1000 leased wires for special purposes, chain radio program hook-ups, talkie apparatus, and picture transmission by wire.

The A. T. & T. provides patent rights, special knowledge, standardized equipment, capital and expert help to the regional operating companies it owns. Those relationships are very complex, and are one point the commission wishes to understand better.

For instance, the large Graybar Electric Co., a "competing" maker of electrical equipment, was sold by A. T. & T. in 1928, but long and involved testimony leaves still some doubt whether it is really competing.

MEXICAN CATHOLICS ONCE MORE GIVEN RIGHT TO PRACTICE RELIGION

MEXICO CITY, March 26 (AP)—Catholics once more are being given opportunity to practice the religious creed professed by more than sixteen of Mexico's eighteen million inhabitants.

The government of President Lazaro Cardenas has decided to permit reopening of many hundred churches closed early in 1935 at the height of an anti-Catholic campaign sponsored by the then Secretary of Agriculture, Tomas Garrido Canabal.

In the opinion of the secretary of interior there was no legal justification for the action of state governors and local officials in closing the churches. Many of the governors took drastic steps against the church and individual Catholics because they believed Garrido had the full support of Cardenas in his campaign, and sought thus to strengthen their political standing with the president.

It appears, however, if General Cardenas ever supported the anti-Catholic movement he has changed his mind. The president has stated his administration will be "friendly" to any troubles with Catholics and promised that the federal regulations regarding religion will not be exceeded.

In line with this promise churches closed by government or other officials without a presidential order are being reopened and turned over to management by "committees of neighbors," although they remain the property of the nation. The order does not apply to churches which have been taken over for use as schools, libraries, government offices or similar purposes.

By its action the government appears to have brought about a considerable lessening of tension in the century old church-state conflict but there still are many points of friction and laws strictly limiting religious liberty are in effect in many states.

These laws limit the number of priests allowed to officiate in the number of churches in which religious services can be performed. Federal statutes also prevent the church from owning property or operating schools, and provide for confiscation of property (except churches) where religious services are held or religious instruction given.

It is known that one of the government's motives in deciding to permit the reopening of churches was the hope the action would remove the opposition by Catholics to the official socialistic education program and that Catholics would willingly send their children to government schools.

For this reason several Catholic spokesmen have declared the government's order "nothing but a political maneuver."

"It is far worse from a Catholic standpoint to have to educate our children in the official schools than to have the churches closed," a spokesman for this group said privately.

Other church officials, however expressed satisfaction at the government's announcement and hope it "forecasts at least partial restoration of religious liberty."

In the large cities Catholics appear to have accepted socialistic education as irrevocably in force despite opposition by the church, but in rural districts the dislike of the official education program continues to manifest in violent outbreaks. School teachers have been armed and local authorities instructed to give them all guarantees, but frequent killings of rural "masters" still occur.

News that the government would permit churches to reopen on petition was received with rejoicing, especially in Veracruz and Tabasco. In the former state churches have been closed more than five years and in Tabasco, formerly the stronghold of Garrido Canabal, for more than ten.

Only a few churches of the hundreds constructed during colonial times remain standing in Tabasco the others having been destroyed at the orders of Garrido during his 13-year dictatorship.

Garrido was forced to flee from Mexico last July but only after his campaign against the churches had resulted in at least 30 deaths, in the closing of churches and ousting of priests from many states.

New Crest Bears Down on Cities On Ohio River

(By The Associated Press)

Heavy rains swelled midwestern streams today but receding waters facilitated reconstruction in the flood swept sectors of the upper Ohio valley.

The Ohio spilled over its shores again in the Wheeling, W. Va., area without causing appreciable damage as the new crest bore down on Marietta, O., with a 40-foot stage anticipated.

Ganger apparently had passed along the river from Steubenville to Portsmouth, O.

Metropoligists predicted a crest of 35 feet at Louisville, two above earlier estimates. Sixty families had already been routed. More prepared to evacuate low lands.

Tributaries of the Ohio in southern Illinois were brimming after heavy showers that presaged a higher stage than had been expected in the river.

Carlo, Ill., at the confluence of the Ohio and the Mississippi, measured a rise of a foot to the 41-foot level, six short of the predicted crest.

Uncle Sam to Play Host to Cuba's First Family

Evidence of his aim to cement the friendship between his country and the United States, as he promised Cubans before his election in January, President-Elect Miguel Mariano Gomez, his comely wife, Senora Arias, and their charming daughters, shown above in a recent photo, will spend a vacation of a few weeks in America. Sailing to Los Angeles from Panama, Gomez plans a 15-day stay on the west coast, then hopes to see President Roosevelt in Washington. Son of Cuba's second president, and twice mayor of Havana, Gomez denies that an American loan is one of the objects of his visit. He will be inaugurated May 20.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

By Deck Morgan

Chapter XXIV

Still no report came down from the bridge, though the crew was standing tensely by at stations. But the passengers had no doubts about the intensity of the hurricane which held the ship in its turbulent grip. Water was breaking over the bow, drenching the boat-deck, flowing off over the rail like a torrential flood.

The whole world seemed to pitch underfoot. Passengers were flung headlong on the floor. The ship shuddered violently as her propellers were lifted out of the water. The nervous strain had reached the breaking point, with all the passengers huddled in white-faced groups, when a sudden grinding noise that was different from all the other noises of the fury, assailed them. It was a sharp, grating sound as of steel on rock.

Then there was a shock, which flung half the passengers on their faces, while the boat quivered from bow to stern.

A white-faced ship's officer came running through the lounge, and spoke to one steward after another, until a walter of hushed voices went up to the ceiling. "On a reef!" The ship had been driven off the course, and was now held fast on a coral reef, and water was coming into the hold.

hid under Tino's coat. Dirk's eyes narrowed.

"Jane said, 'Tino, there's a little girl four over there who hasn't a preserver. Her mother is frantic—'"

"Several men had observed the life belt now, and made threatening gestures. Tino quailed with fear. Then there was an angry murmur of masculine voices which rose above the sound of pounding waves out there on the reef.

"No, I can't give it up!" he said, in a thin, agonized wail. "The ship's going to break up. A man hasn't got a chance in that sea!" He hugged his coat closer about him, and began to look around him furtively.

She was right. Tino was a coward. And this was the romantic, glamorous person upon whom she had fastened her dreams! But suddenly Jane's thoughts raced inward, and Dirk saw her eyes become as still, china eyes.

Before Jane could speak a man hit Tino on the mouth, felling him. An angry crowd surged in on him. Tino scrambled to his feet, blood on his mouth, and whipped out a pistol from an overcoat pocket.

"Stand back!" he commanded, in his shaking voice. "Stand back, or I'll shoot." Then his voice mounted to a scream. "I won't give up my life belt! I won't!" Holding the men at bay with the gun, he backed slowly to the doors, flung them open with the weight of his body, and disappeared along the boat deck.

Jane cried out on impulse, and Dirk was the man who obeyed. He lunged through the door onto the deck.

It was a weird mantling the passengers of the stricken S. S. Oceanic witnessed on the boat-deck. The waves still broke over the bow and flowed along the polished boards, rendering footing difficult. It was almost impossible for a human being to make any headway against the wind.

Tino had a start, and was clinging to the rail, pulling himself hand over hand against the wind. His progress was incredibly slow as the rivers of water sucked about his legs, but Dirk's progress was not much faster.

Dirk was in a crouching position, head down, making his way into the wind, trying to keep in the lee. He struggled up the cabin wall, occasionally holding on to a demolished deck-chair in his lashings.

It was like a pursuit in slow motion. Tino's face was white and drenched with spray, and agonized. Dirk's was drenched but grim.

A false hand-held, one step, would lose for either in the race. Tino lost his footing first, and a wave coming down the deck left him floundering like a mad in the middle of the floor. Somehow he scrambled to his feet, and got hold of a deck-chair before he was swept away.

Dirk was close behind him, moving cautiously now, for he saw that Tino, drifting rapidly in this strenuous work, was clutching his gun menacingly.

The lights were dim on deck. Tino plunged into a band of blackness, and Jane saw the yellow flash and then heard the bark of the gun.

One expected every minute to hear that the ship was breaking up on the reef, but to Jane this chase and death-grip was agony. She realized now what Dirk really meant to her. She loved him! She had been mad to let him go out there after Tino. Tino had a gun, and he was so racked with fear that he was desperate.

But with her face glued to the panes, she saw that Dirk was on the floor, rising on his hands and knees, unhurt.

In this moment of relief Jane's thoughts raced along an impossible channel. Her mind was ducibly alert; she correlated past events, time, and place, like a drowning person. All in a flash. After a moment she turned to the detective and said, "Now I know, I know. Tino isn't just a coward, afraid to give up his life belt to a little girl. He's the murderer. He's the one! Tino killed Marnie Jackson and Dutch Lenz."

An angry murmur ensued from the people around Jane, but Snow-shoes simply stared at her. "How do you know? If you had any clue that connected Tino with the crime, why didn't you reveal them? You were with him, on deck, at the time Marnie Jackson got his." He shook a finger at her, admonishing: "You can't accuse the opera star, just because you've turned against him, a shocking, cowardly, three-centing the life of the one you really care for!"

POLITICS at random

By BYRON PRICE

The issue of federal relief at last is assuming that special prominence which far-seeing politicians long have forecast for it.

The current struggle in congress is deep-seated and severe; but it is only a circumstance to what many on both sides expect once the campaign swings into full stride.

Mr. Roosevelt's message, asking for another $1,500,000,000 for the works progress administration, scarcely could have been better timed to produce controversy, if it found the critics of WPA already going into action on many fronts, and WPA itself vehemently denying charges of gross inefficiency, impractical methods and political manipulation.

One definite distinction should be drawn. Few of those who object to the president's policies think further relief expenditures can be avoided or regard the sum requested as necessarily excessive. The opposition does object vigorously to the way the money is being handled.

Thus the finger of controversy is pointed rather directly at Harry L. Hopkins into whose hands this vast spending operation was put by Mr. Roosevelt. Aside from the political candidates themselves, Mr. Hopkins promises to be exhibit No 1 of the campaign.

A National Issue

This has come about by a process of natural evolution. Sooner or later, in the judgment of the political seers, relief was bound to come to the front because, in a field of complicated issues, this was one issue everyone knew about.

The constitution, the monetary policy, even the farm problem, seem remote to many voters. The new tax program is designed to touch only a small percentage.

But everybody in every community knows about relief. He either has direct contact with it, or he has seen its operation, or heard it discussed objectively in even the smallest gathering of his friends.

Its emergence as an overshadowing issue, which might logically have been expected much earlier in 1935, was delayed by force of circumstances. The president's decision to postpone his relief recommendation was followed by a season of engrossment in such issues as the bonus, farm aid, taxation. The delay has only accentuated the final impact.

Similarly, in previous phases of the Roosevelt administration, various predecessors to Mr. Hopkins have played temporarily the role of exhibit No. 1. First it was Professor Moley around whom the controversy centered. Then it was General Johnson, then Dr. Trugwell Hopkins, unquestionably, it is Mr. Hopkins.

Watch Hopkins

In view of this, everything Mr. Hopkins does henceforth will come under the closest political scrutiny. A great deal of the evidence on both sides still is undisclosed. No one denies that the vast relief undertaking involved many inevitable difficulties. Until all the facts are known, it will remain an open dispute whether these difficulties are sufficient to excuse some of the things which have happened.

It would be a gratifying thing to the country if so important a subject could be talked out calmly and judiciously, without partisan or temperamental outbursts on the part of Mr. Hopkins or any of his critics. But that probably is too much to expect in a campaign year.

Orders came in short barks now. The S. O. S. was flashing out from the radio control-room, telling the whole world that the de luxe cruise ship Oceanic was fast on a reef, and at the mercy of the hurricane.

When the passengers knew it had happened, their plight was different. Nothing mattered now but the saving of lives. Word came down that the ship was not sinking, but all passengers were to be prepared to take to the boats. They knew that life boats would crumple up like paper on the surf-beaten reef. Members of the crew were marshaling them into order, where they lay mangled, miserably huddled together, clutching their life preservers.

After the shock the orchestra kept on playing. Ken Martin sang, and his songs were for Linda Bayes, who sat calmly, merely looking up at him, their love triumphant over the awful scene.

A steward found a few life belts, and there was a mad moment of fear lest the men should stampede for them. Grateful feminine hands received them. But one little girl of four or five, separated from her mother, was found shivering in a corner, terrified. She hadn't a life preserver, and there were no more to be had.

Jane hugged the child close to her, and Dirk looked around to no avail. He came back to Jane with this desperate message in his eyes, just as the child's mother, face racked with fear, came to snatch up the child. The mother gave way to hysterics, and the child sobbed bitterly in her arms.

They tried to calm the parent. In this time of crucial danger Jane sensed Dirk's amazing strength more than ever before. His vitality seemed to flow out and radiate on those who were around him, and needed it. Every person in the

CLASHES ON MONGOLIAN BORDER ARE CAREFUL STEPS

By JOHN LLOYD
MOSCOW, March 28 (AP)—A Soviet-Japanese war is held by many to be inevitable, but there is disagreement as to when it may be expected to break out.

The two nations have appeared to be on the verge of war several times since the Japanese occupation of Manchuria in 1931, but conflicts stopped short of large scale hostilities.

Border clashes have continued at more or less frequent intervals and talk of non-aggression pacts and frontier demilitarization has achieved no concrete results.

Repeated encounters on the border of Outer Mongolia, sovietized buffer state, have further complicated the situation. Moscow has given notice that it will not tolerate a Japanese invasion of Mongolia.

Japanese contentions that the incidents on both the Siberian and Mongolian borders are due to undefined boundaries, fall on deaf ears here. The Kremlin insists that the frontiers are clearly marked.

German Alliance Suspected

It has been made clear that the Russians would reject any suggestion for revision of the borders. They have proclaimed a willingness however to sign a non-aggression pact or participate in mixed-commission investigations of frontier incidents.

Soviet spokesmen have not minded words in accusing the Japanese of preparing war. Their principal concern, judging from published statements, is that Japan and Germany might make war on the Soviet Union simultaneously.

Reports of a Japanese-German entente have been received here without skepticism and furnished one of the announced reasons why the Russians deemed it necessary to build up their army to 1,300,000 men.

Great secrecy is maintained as to the disposition of these forces, but the number posted in the Far East is generally believed to exceed 250,000 and may total 400,000 men. There is also a strong air force in the East, with perhaps 1,000 planes.

The naval building program has been marked by feverish construction of submarines, many of which are said to be stationed in the Sea of Japan.

Soviet Influence Dominant

Defense of outer Mongolia is of extreme importance to the Russians in that Japanese occupation would threaten the trans-Siberian railway.

If that line were severed, the Far Eastern army would be cut off from headquarters in Moscow. The railway runs within 100 miles of the outer Mongolian border.

Outer Mongolia is dependent on the Soviet Union financially, economically and politically. Its army is Soviet-trained and little doubt is held that its military supplies come exclusively from Russia.

Formerly a "theocratic" monarchy, in which the head of the Buddhist church held sovereign power, Mongolia turned to parliamentary government after the death of the "Living Buddha" in 1924. The government was soon sovietized.

Most of the clashes on the Siberian border have been in the Grodskovo region, 100 miles north-west of Vladivostok and not far from Lake Khanka. There on January 30 sharp hand-to-hand fighting occurred after a mutinous company of Manchoukuoan soldiers killed their Japanese officers and found refuge on Soviet territory.

Accounts of Fights Differ

According to Soviet accounts, Japanese and loyal Manchoukuoan troops crossed the border the next day in pursuit. Ten Japanese, two Manchoukuoans and three Russians were killed in the fighting. Tokyo blamed the clash on a Soviet invasion of Manchoukuo.

The Soviet government protested to Tokyo and two weeks later closed its consulate general at Mukden.

Most serious of the recent clashes on the Mongolian frontier was that in the region of Lake Bor on February 12. Japanese accounts said 1,000 Mongolian troops invaded Manchoukuoan territory, but the Mongolians claimed that the clash resulted from an attack by 500 Japanese and Manchoukuoans on the Mongolian border post of Mulin Dersu.

Claim Allies Quit Parley

Negotiations for settlement of the Mongolian-Manchoukuoan border dispute broke down November 27 of last year. The Mongolians said the Japanese and their allies bolted the conference after Mongolia had rejected a Japanese-Manchoukuoan proposal to send permanent observers into Mongolia.

At the time, the Mongolian reports said, the Japanese and Manchoukuoans threatened to resort to force and occupy Urga.

Maybe We Will All Be Indians In Distant Future

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—John Collier, commissioner of Indian affairs, said today the Indian population was increasing more rapidly than that of the rest of the country.

"In 1935," he told a group of visiting Yale students, "the excess of birth over death amounted to 9.2 per thousand, a higher percentage than that for either the white or negro population."

The reason, Collier said, was that the Indian death rate declined. The birth rate also continued to decrease.

—The United States would have as many Indians as were alive at the time of Columbus."

—If the death rate did not increase
