Waste Discharge Poses Problem At Sewage Plant

By TEX DEWEESE
News Staff Writer

Discharge of industrial waste matter into Pampa's sanitary sewer system is being studied by the city health department and officials of Western Beef Packers local packing plant, City Manager Mack Wofford said today.

The city manager said the packing plant had been asked in mid-January to meet requirements of a city ordinance, adopted in November of last year at request of the Texas Water Quality Board.

In a letter to packing plant manager Harvey Lewis one week ago today the city stated that "analysis of waste discharge shows continued failure to meet requirements as established by the City of Pampa."

The letter requested that the city be furnished with a date on which plant waste discharged into the city's waste treatment system could be brought within the limits as set out in the city ordinance. The letter further suggested that "some type of pre-treatment would be necessary to comply with the ordinance."

In his reply to the city's letter, plant manager Lewis stated he was aware of the condition and said plant officials "presently are studying different types of pre-treatment of waste water so that we may decide which is the most acceptable in our particular situation."

Lewis said the study is expected to be completed by mid-April when the city will be notified of the type of pre-treatment to be used.

City Manager Wofford said Western Beef Packers officials were notified in an earlier letter that "it is noted large quantities of blood and animal fat are being discharged into the sanitary sewer system." He said the violation caused "a severe overload problem at the city waste disposal plant."

Wofford said trouble at the plant is caused by waste material high in biochemical oxygen demand that is difficult to break down, causing a reaction in the plant digester, clogging it to a point where the process is altered and sufficient treatment cannot be given. The (See WASTE, Page 2)

DURING WITHDRAWAL S. Viets Chased By Communists

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist tanks pursued South Vietnamese troops withdrawing from Laos today toward the Vietnam border where American forces waited to protect them.

U.S. fighter-bombers attacked a column of 10 to 20 North Vietnamese tanks on Route 6, six or seven miles inside Laos, destroying at least four of them, military sources said.

American tanks and armored vehicles massed at the border to cover the South Vietnamese withdrawal were receiving heavy rocket and mortar fire from the Communists across the border, the sources said.

The sources described action during the weekend as "continual enemy harassment" but said there was no major fighting.

Heavy Raids
U.S. bombers pounded missile sites, anti-aircraft positions and

"related support facilities" inside North Vietnam today for the second consecutive day, the U.S. Command said.

Military sources said the raids were the heaviest since last September when the abortive attempt was made to free American war prisoners from the Son Tay prisoner of war camps in North Vietnam.

In Vientiane, a Laotian government spokesman said six North Vietnamese battalions have launched heavy attacks on government positions near the royal capital of Luang Prabang and the security of the town was "directly threatened."

An American embassy spokesman in Vientiane said 610 dependents of American, French, Swiss and Filipino officials and workers were evacuated from Luang Prabang to Vientiane Sunday.

Rogers Expected To Visit Israel And Other Mideast Nations In April

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers may visit Israel and other Middle East countries in April or early May for a firsthand assessment of the situation, an Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said today in Tel Aviv.

The spokesman said final plans had not been made for Rogers' first visit to Israel as secretary of state, but that Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco was expected to accompany him.

Rogers and Sisco are expected to tour the Middle East capitals after attending a meeting of American ambassadors in Turkey, the spokesman said.

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said Rogers recommended in talks with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban in Washington last week that Israel submit a tentative map of its territorial demands as a method of breaking the deadlock in Middle East peace negotiations.

Rogers suggested the map show the future boundaries that Israel would find acceptable, the sources said.

Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat predicted today the Arabs would reach no peaceful settlement with Israel and that fighting would resume in the Middle East. He made the comment in an interview with the Beirut magazine Al Usbu Al Arabi.

Syrian President Hafez Assad told the French weekly magazine Nouvel Observateur that an Israeli withdrawal from occupied territories would not solve the Middle East crisis. He said the crisis would not be resolved until the rights of the Palestinian Arabs were fulfilled.

High Court Refuses To Drop Prosecution Of Rep. Dowdy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court refused today to order a federal judge in Baltimore to drop the prosecution of Rep. John Dowdy, R-Tex., on several charges, including one involving a $25,000 bribe.

A federal grand jury indicted the 18-term congressman on March 31, 1970. His trial was postponed because of illness.

His attorneys argued to the Supreme Court that the "speech and debate" clause in the constitution bars action against him. The clause provides that "...for any speech or debate in either house, they (senators and representatives) shall not be questioned in any other place."

This seldom used constitutional provision was the basis for a 1966 Supreme Court decision in favor of former Rep. Thomas F. Johnson, D-Md., who had been charged with conspiracy and fraud in connection with a savings and loan scandal. He was later re-tried and convicted again.

The court has already agreed to hear the government's appeal from a ruling dismissing bribery charges against former Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., on the same grounds. Brewster was charged under the bribery statute, while Johnson was charged with conspiracy and violation of conflict of interest laws.

The Johnson decision specifically left undecided whether the "speech and debate" clause protects a lawmaker charged as Brewster was under "a narrowly drawn statute passed by Congress in the exercise of its legislative power."

Dowdy's lawyers told the court Brewster has been "properly spared the burden of defending himself" and the same treatment should be accorded Dowdy.

Balance Of Fine On Tokyo Rose To Be Collected

CHICAGO (UPI)—The federal government has reopened its efforts to collect the balance of the $10,000 fine imposed on Tokyo Rose after her 1949 treason conviction for broadcasting Japanese propaganda during World War II.

The case has been dormant since 1969, when U.S. District Court Judge William J. Lynch ruled the U.S. attorney's office could collect the cash value of two insurance policies held by Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Quino, Tokyo Rose's real name.

Those policies brought $4,745. A hearing was scheduled here today on the government's effect to obtain the remaining $5,255.

Police Investigating Report Of Drug Sale

Pampa Police today were investigating an alleged drug sale here after a report from Canadian law enforcement officers.

Canadian officials stated that a youth questioned about possession of amphetamines, stated that the purchase of the drug had been made in Pampa.

Thousands Of Fish Dying In City Lake

Officials of the Texas Water Quality Board regional office in Amarillo are making a study to determine what is causing the death of thousands of fish in the City Lake out at Pampa's Recreation Park.

Dead fish lined the shores of the lake all the way around this forenoon.

City Manager Mack Wofford said Jim Wilson of the Amarillo regional office of the Quality Water Board came to Pampa and took water samples from various locations in the lake. Samples also were taken from a stream feeding into the west side of the lake.

The samples are being studied to determine content of the water that possibly could cause wholesale death of the lake's finny inhabitants, according to Wofford.

What's happening at the lake has brought sadness to many Pampa youngsters, as well as adults, who have found the lake a favorite fishing spot for years.

Not all of the fish are dead when first washed ashore. Many still were flopping as this morning's choppy lake waves rolled them onto the shore line.

"Just what is killing the fish still is somewhat of a mystery," City Manager Wofford said. "We hope analyses by the Water Quality Control Board

Bandits Steal Silver Collections From Museum

MIAMI (UPI)—Three young bandits lured an elderly guard at the Vizcaya Art Museum from his office early today, overpowered him and stole a valuable antique silver collection.

The silver was on loan to the museum from Samuel Kirk and Son of Baltimore, America's oldest silversmiths, and was insured for $500,000. It contained dozens of pieces dating back to 1815, including items that had belonged to the family of Napoleon Bonaparte and such American families as the Astors of New York and the Lowells of Boston.

Police said a young man came to the basement office of the palatial estate facing Biscayne Bay about 2:45 a.m. and told guard Harry Richard Viorck that his boat had broken down in the bay and he wanted to borrow some pliers.

Viorck, 62, walked with the young man down toward the waterfront. Two other men then stepped out of the dark, put a gun to Viorck's neck and told him: "Take it easy, pop, and you won't get hurt."

Airfield And Installations Attack Targets

VIENTIANE (UPI)—An estimated six north Vietnamese battalions have launched heavy attacks on government positions near the royal capital of Luang Prabang and the security of the town is "directly threatened," a government spokesman said today.

Defense Ministry Spokesman Gen. Thongphan Knocksy told newsmen fighting still was in progress today.

He said the North Vietnamese launched about 150 mortar and rocket rounds against seven government positions Saturday night and early Sunday. Most were directed at the Luang Prabang airport and the headquarters of the first military region, which commands northwest Laos.

Thongphan said the heaviest fighting was taking place two to five miles northeast and east of the airport.

He gave no details on casualties.

Military sources said between 10 and 20 rocket and mortar rounds were launched early today against the airfield and nearby military installations. They said one ammunition depot near the airfield received a direct hit which caused a "thunderous explosion."

An American Embassy spokesman said today 610 dependents of American, French, Swiss and Filipino officials and workers were evacuated Sunday from Luang Prabang to Vientiane. They were flown out by Air America C-123 transports. The men remained behind, he said.

Prime Minister Prince Souvanna Phouma flew to Luang Prabang this morning for a first-hand view of the situation and damage caused by the weekend shelling. With him aboard the Air America plane was Finance Minister Sisouk Na Champassak, who also is deputy minister for defense.

Sources said Souvanna planned to have an audience with King Svang Vatthana, who has refused to leave his palace at the royal capital, and has canceled a trip to preside over state celebrations of Armed Forces Day Tuesday in Vientiane.

Civil aviation department officials said today Luang Prabang airfield had received only minor damage from the Communist shelling, and was open to transport planes but closed to commercial airliners.

Air America and Royal Lao Air Force C-46 and C-47 transport planes were flying into the airfield today with T28 protection, Air Force sources said.

WIGAN, England (UPI)—Harry Winward, 46, a weaver, says he has been told he must pay his electricity board the penny he owes them or they will cut off his supply. "It must be a mistake," a board spokesman said Sunday.

Suspect In Unsolved Murders, Rapes And Robberies Kills Self

CISCO, Tex. (UPI)—Nathan Curry, 25, considered a suspect in a number of Dallas-area unsolved murders and rapes, shot and killed himself as police went to question him in his wife's home.

Curry shot himself Saturday as Cisco police went to question him about an attempted robbery Thursday.

A Dallas detective said Sunday authorities wanted to question Curry in connection with at least six unsolved murders including the killings of Linda Phillips last year in Kaufman and Mrs. Earl Crossland of Richardson.

Tarrant County Sheriff Lon Evans said his department is trying to connect Curry with the killing of Barbara Jane Moorhead, 22, of Irving, who was found strangled and stabbed in a ditch in Grapevine.

Other Angles Checked

The Texas Rangers are also trying to connect Curry with the disappearance of several women from Odessa, Tex.

Cisco police said Dallas police asked them Friday morning to arrest Curry for an attempted robbery at Richardson last Thursday. Cisco authorities said Curry was not at home when they checked Friday.

Cisco Police Chief Clyde

Brymer said Curry's wife called authorities Saturday night asking him what the police wanted with her husband. She said a person she worked with told her Curry was wanted by the police.

Brymer said he told Mrs. Curry her husband should surrender.

Threatened His Life
Two policemen were sent to the Curry home. Mrs. Curry met the police and said her husband threatened to kill himself because Dallas authorities "accused him of a bunch of stuff."

"She told us to go in and check on him and try to stop him," Cisco policeman Vernon Gosnell said.

Mrs. Curry told police she begged her husband not to kill himself.

When the police came into her home, she took their two young daughters and went to the home of a neighbor. The neighbor, Wendell Ingram, said he was standing in his yard when he heard a shot that "sounded like a .22."

Uses Shotgun
Curry ran into the back yard of his home, put a shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

Curry was acquitted on a murder case 10 years ago. He was wanted in connection with an attempted robbery in Dallas last Thursday.

Mrs. Ralph Arrell, 27, of Richardson, told police she was putting her 2-year-old son in the back seat of her car on a church parking lot about 9:30 a.m. last Thursday when a man in his 20s opened the right door, leaned across the car, grabbed the child and told the woman he would kill the boy if she did not give him some money.

State Senators Return To Capitol To Attempt To Define Own Morals

By ANN ARNOLD
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Senators returned to the capitol today to attempt to define their own morals.

Sen. Ralph Hall, D-Rockwall, already upset at some deletions from his proposed definition, has pledged to make a second try with his ethics code. Hall threatened to abandon the whole project last week after the Senate voted 17-11 for an amendment he said "cut the heart out" of his ethics proposal.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes intervened however, and talked Hall into resuming the project with pledges of support for key provisions of the bill to regulate conduct of public officials.

Hall's bill requires public officials to disclose their sources of income, list assets, report stock transactions and other investment holdings, and reveal all loans they receive from government regulated institutions such as banks. The bill also requires officeholders to submit confidential copies of their income tax returns for examination in the event of formal misconduct allegations. The proposed law requires public officials to report all gifts, favors and services they receive that are worth more than $100.

The amendment Hall objects to delete some proposed restrictions on lawyer-legislators. The senator has suggested lawmakers and their law partners be barred from representing clients before state agencies.

Sen. H. J. Blanchard, D-Lubbock, got 17 votes for his amendment to delete legislator law partners from the restriction.

"The bill is weakened in my opinion, but it's probably better than nothing," Hall said. "It would allow the law firms of legislators to continue to exert undue influence on state agencies. But at least it would stop legislators from appearing before state boards."

GOP Wrestling Political Control From Democrats Through Court

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Republican party is trying to wrestle political control from Texas Democrats through court actions such as the stock fraud suit and the indictment against a San Antonio bank, according to Gov. Preston Smith.

"After the (1970) election of course they were dejected and depressed, as I think any major party would be after having been soundly trounced at the polls," the Democratic governor said of his political opponents.

"They suddenly realized 'Here we have a Presidential race coming up next year and a U. S. Senate race. Maybe it's not possible to beat these people unless we can cause the people to lose confidence in the leadership of the Democratic party,'" Smith said.

The governor made his remarks Sunday on the television program "Capitol Eye."

Smith said the Republicans cannot win elections with votes in Texas so they have resorted to filing suits such as the one by the Securities and Exchange Commission which implicates leading Texas Democrats in stock improprieties. He also mentioned a federal grand jury's indictment two weeks ago of the First National Bank in San Antonio for making a $7,500 loan to a Smith campaign committee during the governor's re-election campaign last year.

"It is my feeling that the federal government should dismiss the suit against the Frost Bank and extend to them an official apology for the embarrassment and harassment they have caused because no doubt this action—a federal indictment—does cast a shadow of integrity over any business," the governor said.

"They either ought to dismiss these suits and apologize or the law should be put into effect and every bank that has made a loan to a candidate or to his committee should be indicted, not only in Texas but in the United States," Smith said.

The governor said his office is compiling a list of candidates who have received campaign loans from banks and the number is "in the hundreds," Smith said he does not feel he has to go out of his way to restore the public's confidence in state government.

"I've never subscribed to the theory that the people have lost any confidence," he said. "I just simply do not. I think this is the figment of the imagination of generally those who report the news."

The governor also said he was not sure a law was needed requiring public officials to make available their financial records.

He stated that architects for the projects would be Ritzenberry and Associates of Amarillo. Educational consultant in the preparation of the issue was Dr. Floyd Golden, Amarillo, former president of Eastern New Mexico University. Fiscal agent is George Buescher of Abilene.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced woman in my early 40s. Where can I find a man in my age bracket who would like an attractive companion for dinner and the movies without expecting sex afterwards? I can't afford to travel far.

It seems that all the eligible men in the northern part of New Jersey expect sex after an evening's entertainment.

DEAR "J": Try Southern New Jersey. The men there are much more civilized and domesticated, I'm told.

DEAR ABBY: If I don't get some advice I will have to leave the country.

After four years of misery I was divorced five months ago.

While I was playing the field, I had an affair with the teenage daughter of a friend of mine. It was just a casual thing. Just a good time. Then I met a great gal. The kind I wanted to settle down with for the rest of my life. My problem is this.

I have two pregnant females on my back.

Is there some law in Ohio that says if a man gets two girls pregnant, the first conceived pregnancy has first legal claim on him?

I sure don't want to get stuck with that teen-aged kid, and if the girl really care for finds out about the kid, I will lose her.

Both are bugging me to get married. Can you help me? Don't tell me to see a lawyer. I can't afford one.

CLEVELAND JAM DEAR CLEVELAND: For the jam you're in, you can't afford not to have legal advice. Try your Legal Aid Society.

DEAR ABBY: You once wrote, "No woman should be forced to have a child she does not want." No truer words were ever written. I know, because I wasn't wanted. My father lost the abortion money in a crap game so I was born. In those days if a girl got in trouble either she got rid of it or her father came after the guy with a shotgun. That's what happened in my mother's case. She was 17. My father was 22.

I knew I wasn't wanted from the time I was old enough to understand English. My father used to beat the daylight out of my mother. She took to drinking and left him many times, but she always went back because of me. My father hated me. I could never do anything right. I was always in some kind of trouble. I ran away from home several times. At 15 I ran away for good, and had to steal and push drugs to live. I got hooked on heroin and ended up in Lexington, Ky., a physical and mental wreck at age 19.

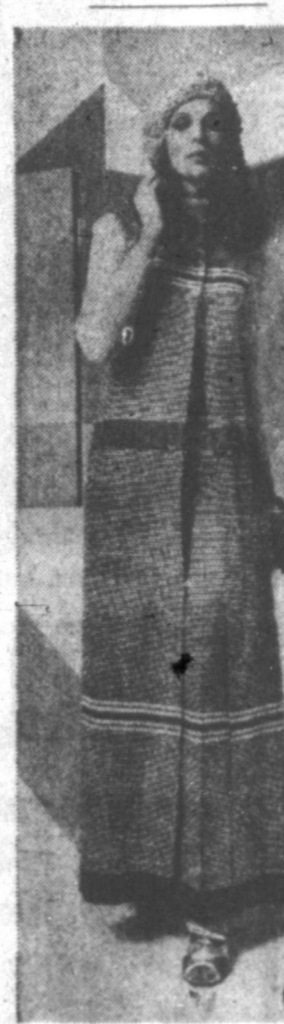

I am not blaming anyone else for the mess I have made of my life, but I read your column and know you reach a lot of people and I wish you would keep telling them that most of the crime and trouble in this world is caused by kids who weren't wanted.

ONE OF THEM CONFIDENTIAL TO "GAINSVILLE, FLA. READER" If everyone swept his own front doorstep, the whole world would be clean. Try it, Lady. would be clean. Try it, Lady. I know you have a broom. How else would you get around?

Mrs. Rivers Gives Sorority Program

In an informal talk about sororities and fraternities on the campuses today, Mrs. Loretta Rivers presented an encouraging report at the recently held dinner meeting at the Crown and Shield Room of the Coronado Inn of Pi Beta Phi Sorority. Mrs. Rivers is Pi North Alumnae Province President from Monroe, Louisiana. These groups are more interested in building a college than in burning it down she stated. She complimented Pampa on having such a large number of girls as active Pi Beta Phi in college.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Pet Peeve: Not Enough Pump Umph

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — My pet peeve is that after buying products like spray starch, window cleaner, bug spray, hair spray and deodorant and using about one-half or one-third of the can the spray pump fails. I think manufacturers should supply pumps sufficient for the housewife to get satisfactory results or else they should refund her money. Maybe this would be corrected if such manufacturers heard from more of us. I am sure there are many others who feel as I do.

MYRTLE DEAR POLLY — The tops will not come off some of my plastic bottles of oil paints. I have soaked them in hot water, with no luck. I hope someone knows of a way to do this without any damage.

DONNA DEAR POLLY — Vicki and other bottle collectors will probably like to know that toilet bowl cleaner will remove water scum and other dried-on substances from glass bottles, vases and other things they want to look sparkling clean.

MRS. H.H. DEAR POLLY — Please tell Vicki she should shake a little nail polish remover around in her brownish perfume bottle. Rinse well and the bottle should look like new.

DEAR POLLY — After I remove cleansing cream from my face I use the same tissue to wipe the sink faucets. It is amazing how this cream-filled tissue literally wipes away those water spots and keeps the sink faucets shiny between weekly cleanings.

GERALDINE DEAR POLLY — Empty egg cartons are perfect for holding bottles of nail polish. Cut the lid off and paint the lower part of the carton. This keeps them all together in a handy easy-to-move case.

CHRISTINE DEAR POLLY — So many new roads are being built that road maps soon become obsolete. Do not discard these maps. They make excellent covers for the children's schoolbooks. My daughter used a Pennsylvania map for a cover on her notebook report of the state and used a marker pen to draw a large keystone emblem on the cover. This looked most attractive.

MRS. P.B. DEAR POLLY — Please tell Vicki she should shake a little nail polish remover around in her brownish perfume bottle. Rinse well and the bottle should look like new.

THUG ROUTED
CINCINNATI (UPI)—Harold J. Graves, 64, found himself not at all helpless Sunday when a youthful gunman demanded his money on a city street here.
Graves swung at the bandit and missed, and the youth retaliated by hitting Graves on the head with the gun. Then Graves kicked the gun out of his hand and kicked the youth in the stomach.
The astonished gunman picked up his weapon and fled. "It's just like driving a car," Graves explained, "You hit an emergency and you act on impulse."

In 1886, the Statue of Liberty was dedicated as a symbol of freedom, commemorating Franco-American friendship. The World Almanac notes that the 225-ton statue was created by French sculptor Frederic Bartholdi, who visualized a colossal statue at the entrance to New York harbor, welcoming the peoples of the world with the torch of liberty.

Gil Hodges Joins Club Of Sporting Champions

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Gil Hodges has been initiated into the club.

This club has been operating a long time and some of the members would knock your eye out. Guys like Jack Dempsey, Fred Merkle, Roy Riegels and Wrong Way Corriam. Only the other day Muhammad Ali finally made it himself.

Nobody in the club pays any dues. All he does is stand around all day answering questions. One in particular. "What happened?"

Fans Query Hodges
Gil Hodges has heard that question at least a hundred times this spring. He even has an idea what makes people keep asking it. They have their own theory why a ball club like the New York Mets slipped to third place last season after being world champs the year before. Frequently when people ask Hodges what happened last year they're really checking his theory against theirs.

One fellow tried a different approach with Hodges the other day. The question he asked was essentially the same but the way he couched it was slightly different. He didn't start out by asking Hodges "what happened?" What he did was turn the question around a little.

Team Inconsistent
"In one sentence," he said to Hodges, "can you tell me what was wrong with the Mets last year?"

"I can give it to you in one word," the Mets' manager said.

The guy who asked the question waited expectantly.

"Consistency," Hodges said.

He immediately was hit with another question.

"Why?" Hodges said. "Because we're all human beings and we're all subject to different experiences and emotions. I happen to feel we didn't play that badly last year. Not as bad as some people seem to think anyway."

Gil Hodges never took any kind of comprehensive course in psychology at St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind., but he seems to know pretty well how the human mind works. He also seems to know ballplayers. He knows the same guy who'll run up there and hit four home runs for you in one game also can look like a schoolboy by going up there 21 straight times in a World Series without getting so much as a scratch hit. He knows that because he has done both.

Hodges knows some other things too even though he doesn't always reveal them. Things concerning last year.

What purpose would it serve for him to come out and say he never expected lefthander Jerry Koosman to develop arm trouble; Cleon Jones to nose-dive more than 60 points at bat, and Joe Foy to turn out something less an all-round third baseman than, say Pie Traynor.

Handles Players Well

Hodges comes from the old school. He doesn't believe in criticizing his ballplayers to the press. Now when it's him and his ballplayer all alone, that's different. Much different. Other managers can take lessons from that nice, mild former Brooklyn first baseman when it comes to reading out a ballplayer. Hodges does it a lot like James Mason. He keeps his voice well modulated but he gets his point across.

The Mets' manager isn't planning a whole lot of changes this year. He certainly isn't going to alter his managing methods.

Plans No Changes
"I don't plan doing anything different this year from last," he says. "I think we have a pretty good ball club and I feel the Mets will be right there at the end."

And where exactly is "right there?"

Gil Hodges has answered that one already.

Didn't he say all ballplayers are human beings?

Harvesters Play Dumas This Afternoon At 4

The Pampa Harvesters will travel to Dumas this afternoon for a 4 p.m. clash against the Demons. This will be the third attempt to play the Dumas team after two earlier games were canceled due to weather conditions.

Pampa won one out of three games against the Altus Bulldogs over the week-end with Rick Harris the only winning Pampa pitcher extending his record to a three win no loss tally.

Altus won the first encounter on Friday 2 to nothing and Pampa bounced back in the first game of a double header Saturday for a 10 to 7 victory. In the second game Saturday Altus took the Harvesters with a 6 to 2 decision.

Protests Fly About Sebring Win By Silver Porsche-Audi

SEBRING, Fla. (UPI)—A silver Porsche-Audi streaked to a record win Saturday night in the 12 hours of Sebring Endurance Race but the talk today centers on a controversy involving the Gulf-Porsche team of John Wyr and Roger Penske, owner of the Mark Donohue-piloted Sunoco-Ferrari.

Vic Elford of Heston, England, and Gerard Larrousse, of Vaucresson, France, took advantage of mishaps to other entries and methodically ran the rest of the field down for the victory.

Elford and Larrousse averaged 112.5 miles per hour over the grueling course, turning 260 laps of 1,352 miles. Both the time and distance broke last year's record set by Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa.

In the end, the strongest challenge for the 5-liter Porsche-Audi came from a pair of smooth running, 3-liter Alfa Romeo Spider 3s, which came in second and third.

The highly favored Porsches driven by Jo Siffert of Switzerland and Pedro Rodriguez finished fourth and fifth, while Donohue's Ferrari was sixth.

Donohue's Ferrari was rammaged from the rear by Rodriguez' Porsche and it was was in the pits for 19 laps midway through the race. When the checkered flag fell for Larrousse, the Donohue-David Hobbs Ferrari was only 17 laps back, five behind Rodriguez and one behind Siffert.

It was the second race in a row in which Penske's car has been put out of contention by a collision with one of the Wyr Porsches, the last time at the 24 hours of Daytona.

Penske protested the early return of Rodriguez to the course Saturday but it was disallowed, as were two protests he filed against Siffert.

He argued Siffert should have been disqualified for accepting a ride on a motorcycle after he ran out of gas and said such action had been taken here against Sterling Moss in 1969. He also said Siffert failed to shut down his engine during a split-second pit stop.

Race stewards did penalize Siffert four laps for taking the ride, but his Porsche still edged out Donohue.

"I passed him on the inside and then he hit me from the rear," the angry Donohue said of Rodriguez. "Not once, not twice, but three times."

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—Western Kentucky's trip to Houston this week is the culmination of a three-year dream.

The Hilltoppers, Mideast champ, play Villanova in the Astrodome Thursday night for the NCAA eastern title and if victorious meet either defending champion UCLA or Kansas on Saturday for the NCAA national crown.

"Our goal in each of the past three years has been the NCAA tournament," said Western Kentucky Coach John Oldham. "We didn't make it the other two, but now..."

The Hilltoppers thought they were on their way a year ago when they swept unbeaten through the Ohio Valley Conference and took a 22-2 mark into a pre-regional playoff with eventual NCAA runnerup Jacksonville.

But Jacksonville won that game, 109-96, and Western Kentucky's dream was shelved for a year.

This season, the Hilltoppers (23-5) beat Jacksonville, 97-84, in December and then came from 18 points behind to beat the Dolphins again, 74-72, in a post-season playoff to earn a berth in the Mideast regionals.

Last Thursday, Western Kentucky was paired in the regional semifinals against the University of Kentucky, which had never been willing to meet its downstate-neighbor in a regular season basketball game.

"The whole NCAA is a dream I've had ever since I started playing basketball," said Western Kentucky's seven-foot star Jim McDaniels.

"But the idea of playing against one of Coach Adolph Rupp's teams (Kentucky) is something else again," McDaniels continued. "We're almost neighbors with them and never play them. When about all you ever hear is Kentucky's rich tradition and all, you just want to see for yourself how true it is. You want to find out for yourself if you're good enough to maybe beat them."

The score in the regional semifinals was Western Kentucky 107 Kentucky 83 with McDaniels scoring 35 points and like Oldham said: "You don't have to get the boys up for a game like that."

Then came Big Ten Champion Ohio State which had ended second-ranked Marquette's 39-game winning streak in the semifinals with a 60-59 upset.

"We've never been better than we were against Kentucky and I fear a letdown," Oldham said before the regional finals and, with Ohio State holding a 14-point, 39-24, lead with only 3:15 left in the first half, it appeared his fear was well-founded.

But, as in the game a week earlier with Jacksonville, the Hilltoppers came back.

Led by McDaniels, who had points, 40-34, at halftime; caught up at 53-all with 8:57 left to play and forced the game into overtime when Flex Bailey's baseline jumper made it 69-all with 11 seconds to play.

Seven-foot sophomore Luke Witte gave Ohio State its last lead, 76-75, with 1:27 left in the five-minute overtime period but the Hilltoppers then pulled away for a 81-78 victory and the "dream" trip to Houston.

"We had it in the deep freeze and lost it," said Ohio State Coach Fred Taylor.

Lefors Pirates Lose Invitational Meet

The Lefors Pirates finished last in their invitational track meet scoring only 46 points in the two days of competition.

The Meet was won by Claude with 106 points, White Deer-Skellytown was second with 96 Wheeler third with 56 and Lefors last with 46.

Claude dominated the relays winning the 440 Yard Relay in a time of 40:6.3 and the Mile Relay in a time of 3:44.5 Ashworth won the 100 yard dash for the Mustangs in a time of 10.3.

White Deer-Skellytown's Vernon won the 100 Yard High Hurdles and a back to back victory followed in the 300 intermediate hurdles.

Tucker of Wheeler won honors in the 880 Yard Dash with Chick of Wheeler placing first in the 440 Yard Dash. Another White Deer first came on Langston's 23.7 time in the 220 Yard Dash.

Oklahoma's Omar Jones Dies Sunday

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gomer Jones, in his seventh year as Athletic Director at the University of Oklahoma, collapsed and died Sunday night in a New York subway station.

The 57-year-old Jones, who had served as Oklahoma's head football coach in 1964 and 65, was standing with his wife Jeannette, basketball coach MarLeod, and the school's basketball trainer, Ken Rawlinson, when he collapsed. An ambulance from the French Hospital four blocks away was summoned with an emergency services unit, but Jones was pronounced dead at the scene.

Jones played on the line at Ohio State and came to Oklahoma after serving as line coach at the University of Nebraska. He was line coach under Bud Wilkinson from 1947-64 before taking over as head football coach for two years in 1964-65. He also was assistant athletic director at Oklahoma for 13 years from 1951-64 before becoming athletic director.

The Oklahoma basketball team said it will play its first round in the National Invitation Tournament against Hawaii Monday night because "that would be Gomer's wish."

Tributes for Jones came from Oklahoma Governor David Hall as well as his rivals and associates in athletics.

It is our sincerest judgment that it would be in accordance with Mr. Jones' desire that the game go forward," said Dr. Pete Kyle McCarter, president of Oklahoma who also was in New York. "We have therefore made the decision the game will be played."

McCarter said, "Coach MacLeod, the Oklahoma team and our entire official party are stunned. The world of intercollegiate athletics has lost one of its finest leaders but we at the university are also overcome with a great sense of personal loss."

North Carolina Team Is The One To Beat

NEW YORK (UPI)—North Carolina is the team to beat in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

That is the educated opinion of Dave Gavitt, coach of Providence, whose team meets the Tar Heels tonight in a quarterfinal game. Gavitt hasn't seen Hawaii or Oklahoma, who meet in the first game of tonight's tripleheader to conclude first round action, but he did see parts of seven opening round games this weekend and has reached a verdict.

"North Carolina is the most impressive team in the tourney," said Gavitt, who watched the first half Saturday as the Tar Heels annihilated Massachusetts, 90-94. "They are frighteningly powerful. We will have a defensive problem against them because of their size and quickness, but my kids won't be awed by them. We've played a tough schedule this season."

Gavitt's club, which upset Louisville, 64-58, in first round action Saturday, takes on the Tar Heels in the second game tonight's tripleheader. Hawaii meets Oklahoma in the first game and Tennessee faces Duke in another quarter-final game in the nightcap.

Oklahoma decided to play its game despite the death Sunday of Sooner Athletic Director Gomer Jones. "It is our sincerest judgment that it would be in accordance with Mr. Jones' desire that the game go forward," said Oklahoma President Pete Kyle McCarter.

Duke reached the quarters by beating Dayton, 68-60, Saturday afternoon and Tennessee advanced by edging St. John's, 84-83, in overtime Saturday night.

The other quarterfinal pairings are set for Wednesday night with Georgia Tech meeting Michigan and St. Bonaventure opposing the winner of the Hawaii-Oklahoma game. Georgia Tech upset LaSalle, 70-67, Saturday night.

while Michigan topped Syracuse, 82-76, and St. Bonaventure defeated Purdue, 94-79, Sunday.

North Carolina, which put together a well-balanced offense and a pressure defense to defeat Massachusetts, will not be at full strength against Providence. The Tar Heels' leading scorer, Dennis Wuyck, suffered a sprained ligament in his right knee against Massachusetts and will be lost for tonight's game and perhaps the rest of the tournament.

"Still, the Tar Heels have a lot of depth and figure to give the Friars a rough time. Gavitt feels the Tar Heels present more problems than South Carolina, a team which edged North Carolina for the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament Title and defeated Providence in the Holiday Festival last December.

"North Carolina does an outstanding job in their pressure defense. South Carolina was more physical. They were bigger but slower. North Carolina presents you with many more defensive problems, and North Carolina is a better defensive team. We must not get destroyed by their pressure. But I think our guards are more capable than Massachusetts' guards," said Gavitt.

OILERS SET DATE

HOUSTON (UPI)—Houston Oilers officials said Sunday the team will open its training camp July 10 at Kerrville. It will be the fifth straight year the Oilers have begun training on the campus of Shriner Institute.

HANOI CALLS FOR PROTESTS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In recent months, the nation's capitol has been free of massive demonstrations by radicals who want the United States to accept a humiliating surrender in Southeast Asia.

On April 24, something called the National Peace Action Coalition will sponsor a "march on Washington," with parallel action in San Francisco.

It is fascinating to read the list of sponsors of the planned marches on Washington and San Francisco. The list is a cross section of contemporary radicalism.

in Vietnam are growing noticeably impatient. Consequently, the family organization, National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, is changing its objectives a bit.

From the beginning of the highly successful campaign to focus attention on the POWs, there has been a wide divergence of views expressed in the family organization.

North Vietnamese spokesmen, at the Paris talks and elsewhere, have been speaking of freeing the prisoners when the United States withdraws its forces from Vietnam.

The stand against an advance withdrawal is also rooted in a realization that the North Vietnamese, in their public statements, are now using the prisoners as a bargaining point of considerable value.

America: Land Of Violence

By PAUL HARVEY Hillbilly Philosopher Jim Owens once said, "If you'll look across the breakfast table and out the window you'll see the bird after the worm, the cat after the bird, the dog after the cat — and that will give a little better understanding of the morning news."

During Earlier visits you and I have discussed this business of trying to outlaw guns. It seems to me that such a law would merely take guns away from people who obey laws.

As is, there are more crimes committed just in New York City than in all of England plus all of Wales and Scotland.

This commission's recommendations are how on the hill and will be offered to Congress shortly.

Strangely, some of the commission's recommendations for relating the crime rate seem to suggest more leniency with criminals. The commission says reduce the punishment for marijuana offenses, abolish the death penalty for any crime — even for the assassination of the President — and so forth.

More effective law enforcement and more streamlined court proceedings and more constructive punishment will not come about overnight, but Congress right now has in its hands a worthy prescription for some first steps.

Business Today

By GUY A. GOODINE

TULSA (UPI)—Paper mills in the Mississippi and Arkansas valleys now can ship directly by water to Europe and compete right under the noses of the Finns, who dominate the European paper industry.

This has been made possible by expansion of the U.S. Inland Waterway system. A new spoke has just been added in Arkansas and Oklahoma that saves users of steel in the region $12 a ton and farmers $2 a ton on fertilizer.

The new spoke is the 440-mile Arkansas-Verdigris river canal from the Arkansas's confluence with the Mississippi to Tulsa. This canal could make Tulsa one of the biggest inland ports in the world. It already serves the largest territory of any inland port.

Its creation not only has brought freight savings by waterway but has forced down the rates of competitive carriers. For example, the railroads have slashed their rate on steel from Pittsburgh to Tulsa by $9 a ton.

John A. Creedy, president of Water Transport Association, estimated during a recent visit to Tulsa that rate competition created in anticipation of the new canal had saved southwestern farmers $50 million over the past three years.

For the past year and a half, Oklahoma farmers have been able to ship wheat at 6 to 8 cents a bushel less than formerly in spite of an inflationary economy.

Now that the new port at Tulsa is finished, Creedy said some experts believe its annual tonnage will be greater in a few years than that of 90 per cent of the country's ocean ports.

Exports from the river ports already are growing astonishingly, says the Army Corps of Engineers, which has primary responsibility for maintaining the inland waterways.

The Corps reports that Arkansas exported 13,000 tons of coal to the Far East in the last four months. In the first year after completion of the barge port facilities at Little Rock, total cargo tonnage on the Arkansas River spurred to 3.4 million tons from 2.6 million the previous year.

Opening the system northward to Fort Smith in 1970 brought a 25 per cent rise in haulage of bauxite and a 240 per cent spurt in steel transport. Grain haulage was up 193 per cent; chemicals 500 per cent.

The Corps of Engineers said overall tonnage on the system last year was three or four years ahead of original expectations.

The Engineers also said various industries have announced projected capital outlays of almost $900 million to build or enlarge plants along the system.
