Russians No Longer Man Missiles Along Suez Canal, Says Mansfield

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said Saturday Soviet troops have been withdrawn from Egyptian missile sites along the Suez Canal.

Mansfield said in his office, Mansfield said Egyptians were now manning the Surface-to-Air Missile (SAM) sites along the canal and only Russian "advisers" were present.

He called the action a significant step in the effort to stimulate negotiations between Egypt and Israel.

"It could indicate a Soviet drawback in a degree based on a recognition of the tinderbox situation which exists in the area," Mansfield said. He also cited news reports that Soviet pilots no longer were flying Egyptian planes.

The presence of 12,000 to 15,000 Russian troops in Egypt has been a major factor in the reluctance of Israel and the United States to make concessions to produce a peaceful settlement. Some U.S. officials have demanded action by the Soviet Union to reduce its involvement as a condition for Israeli withdrawal from territory seized from Egypt during the June, 1967 war.

Mansfield, who attended a briefing given by Secretary of State William P. Rogers to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday, said his information did not come from the meeting. He declined to give his source.

Mansfield said he was encouraged by Rogers' report, with one "cautionary note," he said he did not approve using U.S. troops to keep the peace in the Middle East. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Friday after Rogers' briefing that Soviet and U.S. officials had agreed to the use of their forces in the Middle East to maintain a peace settlement if requested.

Mansfield said he would prefer that the United Nations establish a peacekeeping force composed of small, neutral countries to oversee a settlement.

AT MONDAY BANQUET

Concert Association Opens Member Drive

By TEX DEWEESE
News Staff Writer

The annual open membership drive of the Pampa Community Concert Association for its 1971-72 season will be kicked off at a campaign dinner at 7 p.m. Monday in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room.

More than 100 membership workers will be guests at the dinner at which Mrs. Marguerite Maddox, New York City representative of Columbia Artists, Inc., will be the speaker.

The Concert Association has just concluded its renewal membership week and unsold memberships will now be opened to the public.

The association already has booked three outstanding concert attractions for the upcoming season and will book a fourth at the close of the campaign.

Scheduled so far are Ferrante and Teicher, internationally known piano team; Dorothy Wareskjold's Musical Theater, including opera, minstrel and musical comedy, and the Stockholm University Chorus with 40 female and 30 male voices.

"With the caliber of attractions booked so far, we are expecting one of the most outstanding concert seasons in the 27-year history of Pampa community concerts," Joe Cree, association president, said Saturday.

Membership fees which include admission to all four concerts are $10 for adults and $5 for students. Tickets are never sold for single performances and there is no box office sale, Cree said, adding that because of the heavier than usual membership renewals he advised those who are not already members to obtain their memberships early this week.

The campaign is scheduled to run from Monday through Friday but will be closed as soon as the seating capacity of Pampa Junior High School auditorium is sold out.

Campaign headquarters will be in the lobby of Coronado Inn in charge of Mrs. Kirk Duncan. Arrangements for tomorrow night's dinner are being made by Mrs. E.L. Henderson and Mrs. Bruce Riehart.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah and Dick Stowers are general co-chairman of the membership drive this year. Mrs. E.L. Green Jr. is membership secretary.

Mrs. Harrah said checkup days have been set for Wednesday and Friday of this week. The campaign headquarters will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The headquarters telephone number is 665-5512.

Turkish Situation Still In Turmoil

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—Military commanders who forced Premier Suleyman Demirel's government to resign kept up pressure on civilian politicians Saturday by stationing tanks on Ankara's outskirts and staging maneuvers close to the capital.

Witnesses said about 50 tanks moved into strategic positions along five major highways leading into Ankara. Jet fighters patrolled the skies above key military installations.

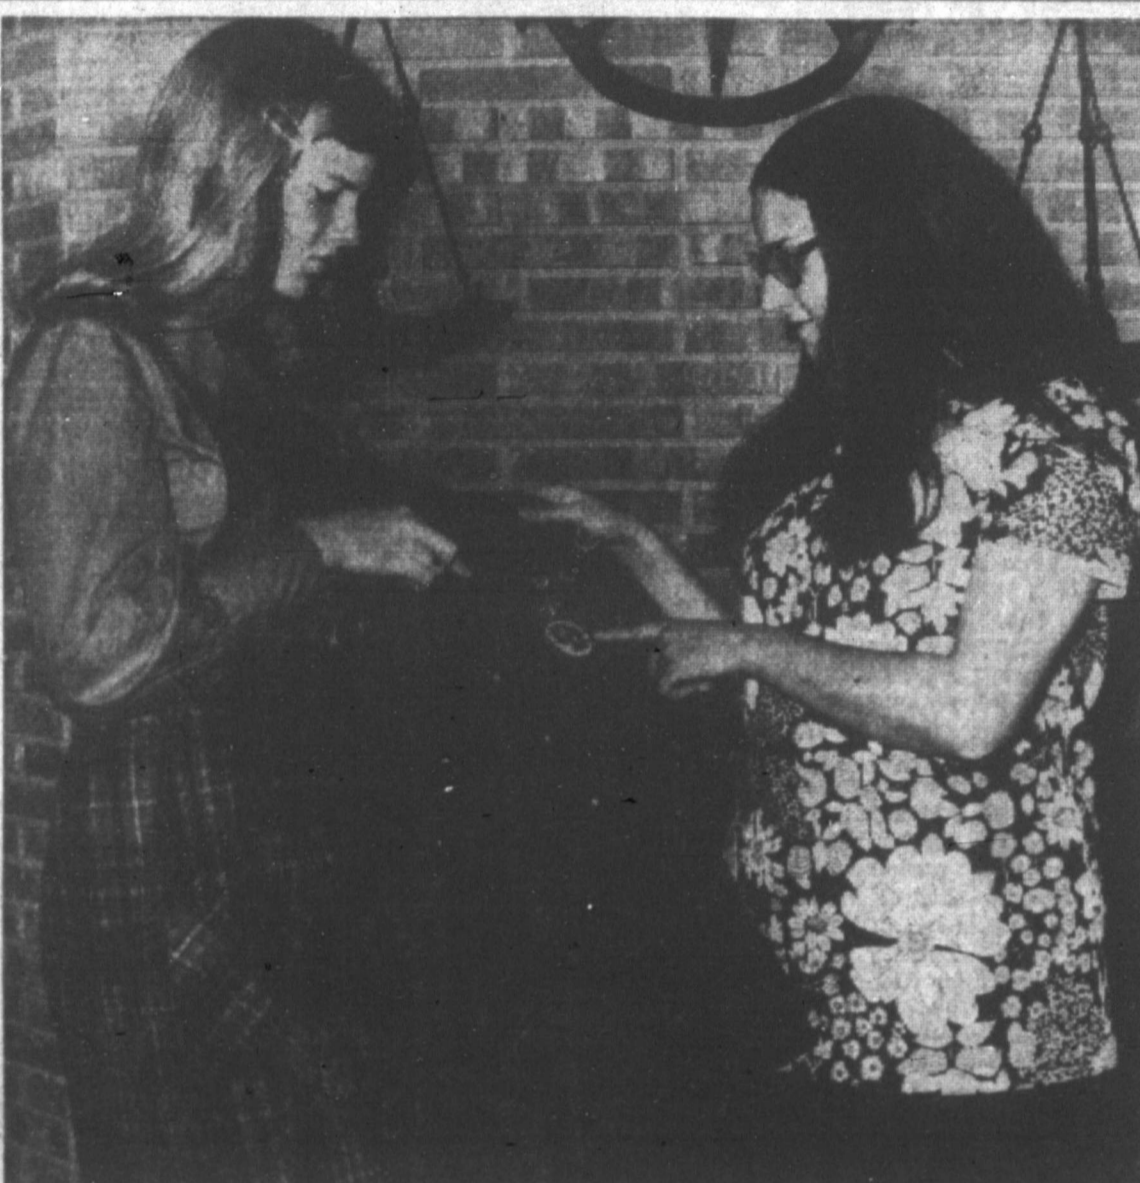

The army and air force also staged maneuvers about 15 miles from the capital, using American-supplied jets, armor and aircraft guns and other modern heavy weaponry.

Diplomatic sources said similar reminders of military muscle were staged elsewhere in the country as military and civilian leaders sought a new government to replace the one that quit Friday under threat of military takeover such as happened in 1960.

The military commanders said they wanted a government tough enough to cope with worsening social, economic and political crises which have wracked Turkey for six months.

The military moves appeared aimed at consolidating the commanders' control over the country until the civilian politicians came up with a government to the military's liking.

U.S. Jets Clear Zones In Laos For New Raids

Blast Places S. Viets Closer To Red Border

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. warplanes dropping 7.5-ton "jungle-buster" bombs were reported Saturday to have cleared new landing zones in Laos that would place South Vietnamese troops closer to the North Vietnamese border than at any time since they opened a Laos offensive five weeks ago.

The missions by big U.S. Air Force C130 Hercules transport planes carrying the parachute-dropped bombs, according to military sources, blasted at least three landing areas for helicopters out of the jungles north of Sepon, main target to date of the Laos campaign.

Exact location of the new landing zones was not disclosed but military sources said they were well beyond northernmost positions now held by the 24,000-man South Vietnamese task force which is trying to cut the Ho Chi Minh Trail—Hanoi's military lifeline.

South Vietnamese commanders have reported great success in cutting the trail and seizing Communist supply depots and caches. But a campaign farther north would strike closer to the heart of North Vietnam's logistical system in areas where the trail is more concentrated.

Weather is a major factor for the future of South Vietnam's Laos offensive but military sources said hundreds of U.S. helicopters operating from bases in South Vietnam's northwest corner could keep the South Vietnamese force moving for at least another six weeks and possibly as long as two months.

The rainy season normally does not begin in Laos until mid-May and one high-ranking source said Saturday: "I have no knowledge of any longrange forecasts saying it's going to be early this year."

Some military sources raised the possibility that the South Vietnamese offensive could wind up by the end of this month, depending on progress in the next two weeks. But official spokesmen declined to comment.

Disclosure of the possible opening of a new northern front in Laos was made against the backdrop of a warning by President Nguyen Van Thieu that South Vietnamese forces had every right to attack North Vietnamese troops on North Vietnamese soil to protect South Vietnam. Thieu said such a thrust could come if Hanoi did not stop the war in South Vietnam and withdraw its troops.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese troops pulling out from bases around Sepon, 27 miles inside Laos, were sweeping south and southeast of the town in search of North Vietnamese supply caches. U.S. helicopters flew the troops into five new footholds to converge on a major junction of the Ho Chi Minh Trail 12 miles southeast of Sepon.

1st Member Of FLQ Terrorist Cell Convicted And Sentenced To Life

MONTREAL (UPI)—Paul Rose, a former schoolteacher who allegedly led a cell of French Canadian separatist terrorists, was convicted Saturday of the murder of Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte and sentenced to life in prison.

"Vive Quebec Libre," Rose, 27, said quietly as he was led from the courtroom after the five-minute session. "Long live the people of Quebec. We will win."

The jurors, given the case Friday afternoon with instructions from the bench to find Rose guilty as charged or set him free—"there can be no middle ground"—deliberated in their hotel during the night and reported their verdict as soon as court reconvened at 10 a.m.

Judge Marcel Nichols immediately imposed the sentence of life imprisonment which was mandatory with the verdict of guilty on the noncapital murder charge. He also sentenced Rose to a month in prison on two contempt of court charges for his outbursts during his trial.

Rose, a self-proclaimed member of the banned Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ), was the first of four alleged cell members to be tried for the killing of Laporte. The FLQ is fighting to make Quebec a separate French-speaking nation.

Laporte was kidnaped from his front lawn at gunpoint Oct. 10, five days after the separatists seized British Trade Commissioner James R. Cross.

Laporte was strangled with the chain of his medal Oct. 17 in his abductors' suburban hideout but Cross was released unharmed in December when his captors, their hideout ringed by police and troops, traded his life for safe passage to Cuba.

The kidnappings plunged Canada into its gravest post war crisis. Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau invoked the War Measures Emergency Act, suspending many civil rights, setting off a wave of hundreds of arrests and bringing troops to the streets of Montreal and other major cities.

Still awaiting trial on murder charges are the other three alleged members of the FLQ cell—Rose's brother Jacques, 23, Francis Simard, 23, and Bernard Lortie, 19.

Lawyer Robert Lemieux, a fiery young separatist himself charged with membership in the FLQ, said the verdict and sentence would be appealed early next week.

Police Check High School Shop Break-in

Pampa Police were notified early Saturday that a break-in had occurred at the Pampa Senior High Machine Shop sometime between 4 p.m. Friday and 6:55 a.m. yesterday.

Claude Williams, school employe told police that nothing appeared to be missing, however, an empty coin box had been pried from a soft drink machine. Damage to the machine and broken door window was estimated at $35, police reports said.

Pampa School Dress Code Upheld In Fifth Circuit Court Decision

By WANDA MAE HUFF

The fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans has ruled in favor of the Pampa School Board's disputed dress code and against the plaintiffs, Dr. Wilbur Whitsell and his son, Jon Whitsell.

Two of the three circuit judges, Griffin B. Bell of Atlanta, Ga., and Warren L. Jones of Jacksonville, Fla., ruled for the school district. Judge Bryan Simpson of Jacksonville, Fla., reserved the right to file the plaintiff.

The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals received briefs on the case in January from the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas. Citing five cases upholding high school dress codes, and length and style of boys' hair, the appeal judges ruled the district court's decision for the school board should stand.

In its opinion, the appeals court stated the record demonstrates the necessity of a code with a hair regulation to maintain school discipline and prevent interference with the educational environment.

Dr. Whitsell and his attorney, Ross Buzzard, have not announced if an appeal will be made to a higher court but said not all three judges on the Court of Appeals agreed on the case.

"Buzzard pointed out one judge reserved the right to file a dissenting opinion," Dr. Whitsell said, "but we also know a recent ruling of the Supreme Court was not favorable to requests of this type. That might have been a factor in the decision by the Court of Appeals."

Jimmy Thompson, board president, said the court's decision does not require any action by the Pampa School Board, but that the only appeal open for the plaintiffs would be to carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States.

I assume we will have a modification of the dress code, but a discussion on the code is not on the board's agenda for the Monday meeting because the ruling was not released in time," Thompson said.

Trustees have stated previously they wanted to wait until the appeals court had decided the case to make any changes in the dress code, but Warren Hesse, incumbent candidate at the April 3 school trustee election, said, "now is not a good time to change with two new men coming on the board in the election."

"If we change it now, the new board might want to change again," Hesse said. "It should be up to the new board to make any changes, because they are the ones who will have to live with it."

Dr. R. M. Hampton stated he believed the board will review the dress code and could by unanimous consent review the code at Monday's meeting.

Board member John Gilkas commented, "we may see stricter enforcement of the current dress code as a result of the court's decision," but added that he didn't believe the board would vote to change the restrictions on hair length for boys.

Bob Carmichael, another board member, stated he favored lifting the restrictions on pants suits for girls as soon as possible but that he believed the court's decision meant the code's restrictions for length of boys' hair was fair and just.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The nation's 43rd Explorer satellite sped into a distant orbit Saturday on a $12.4 million mission to find out more about earth's space environment and the seething radiation, solar gases and magnetic forces out there.

"This is a fairly complete remote laboratory that I think is going to give a very good picture of what's going on," said Dr. Frank B. McDonald, chief scientist for the spacecraft known as IMP for Interplanetary Monitoring Platform.

The 635-pound craft was reported speeding away from earth on a path that appeared close to the planned orbit designed to take it 121,000 miles out every four days. It was expected to take tracking stations many hours to plot the precise trajectory.

"Preliminary data indicate all spacecraft systems are operating as planned," reported Jeremiah J. Madden, assistant project manager. "If all goes well, IMP should be fully operational in about 28 days."

Explorer 43 was launched on its difficult mission at 11:15 a.m. EST by a new type Delta rocket. Launch Director John J. Nelson said "all our information here indicates that we had a very smooth powered flight." It was the first space shot here since Apollo 14 went to the moon Jan. 31.

Haze ad low clouds blocked much of the view from tourists gathered on nearby beaches, although some "bird watchers" did get brief glimpses of the orange flame

Jury Finds Preacher Guilty Of Immorality

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Rev. William A. Schafer, the Methodist minister, stripped of his pastorhood for taking a mistress, said Saturday he is "an instrument of God in the fight against organized religion."

A 13-member jury of churchmen tried the Laredo minister in San Antonio Friday, found him guilty of "immorality, disobedience of church law and unministerial conduct" and removed him from his pulpit.

The churchmen, led by Bishop W. Kenneth Pope of Dallas, took action against Schafer because he admitted living with Judy Nash, a divorcee whom Schafer describes as a clairvoyant who "helped me intellectually to understand how God works and how the laws of God work in life."

He said he was introduced to Mrs. Nash by his wife, and that his wife approved of his relationship with the woman.

Schafer said Saturday he believes himself blameless before God, and that the church hierarchy is trying "to dictate its own version of the truth to others."

"A man is responsible only to God and to his conscience as informed by the Holy Scriptures. He is not responsible to the organized church," he said.

Schafer said he plans to preach Sunday in Schumeler Cemetery in San Antonio where his father is buried.

"That's what John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, did when he was not allowed to preach in any church in England," he said. He plans to come to Dallas on Tuesday to speak to an ethics class at Perkins School of Theology, where he graduated.

After he came under the influence of Mrs. Nash, Schafer said he reformed the services in his Laredo church to conform more closely with the practices of the early Christians and with John Wesley's teaching.

"I would start by expressing the fears and doubts I had during the week — anything that kept me from being open and honest with others. The second part of the service was purification," he said. "I had a prayer of purification which was basically a giving up of those things that keep us separated from one another and from God."

He called the final part of his worship service the "witness section," in which members of the congregation were free to "share anything that was important to them."

"It wasn't wild or radical, it was just the people were so intensely involved with each other," he said. "There was no doubt in your mind that God was there."

"People would witness to things like having been released by their psychiatrist and having been declared well. Others would just stand up and say 'I love all of you and I hope I can count on all of you as friends.'"

"One man who was always very shy stood up and said, 'I never made a speech before but I just want to say that I love you,'" Schafer said.

He compared his church service with group therapy, and said its purpose was to encourage the people to be truly honest with each other and with God.

Exploring To Admit Teenage Girls To Full Membership In Its Program

After two years of research and field experience, the Exploring Division of the Boy Scouts of America will now admit teenage girls to full membership in Exploring, its high school-age action program.

The announcement was made Saturday by Dave Harmony, Ad-be Walls Council Exploring chairman, after word was received that approval has been given by the National Executive Board of the BSA and will be effective April 1.

Harmony said the action taken nationally was in recognition of the chartered requirement to serve boys and young men, and it would enable Exploring to more effectively carry out its mandate to meet the needs and interests of today's youth.

PHS Student Honorary Member Of Toastmasters

JOHN McPHERSON

John McPherson, a PHS senior, has been elected an honorary member of the Pampa Toastmasters Club.

McPherson has participated in public speaking contests conducted by the Distributive Education program, and was named first place winner in local and area contests. He was awarded second place in the annual DECCA state contest last weekend in Fort Worth.

Toastmasters International permits local clubs to honor outstanding citizens who uphold the ideals and principles of Toastmasters with honorary memberships on a year-to-year basis.

The local club meets each Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Furr's Cafeteria. Anyone interested in improving in public speaking is invited to attend.

Former Pampan Honored As Texas' Most Outstanding Latin Teacher

MRS. LUDYE C. JOHNSON

Mrs. Ludye Cary Johnson of Lubbock, a retired Latin teacher and member of a pioneer Pampa family, was honored in Dallas Friday by the Texas Foreign Language Association as the most outstanding Latin teacher in Texas and was awarded honorary membership in the Association in presentation ceremonies conducted at the annual convention of the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA).

Introducing Mrs. Johnson at the awards luncheon in the Regency Room of the Adolphus Hotel was Mrs. Gene Kelly, coordinator of foreign languages for the Lubbock Public Schools.

Mrs. Johnson, a longtime teacher of Latin at Monterey High School in Lubbock, spent 28 of her 34 years teaching experience in Lubbock, retiring in 1963. She was a teaching fellow at Texas Tech some years ago.

She began her teaching career in Pampa, then taught in Groom before moving to Lubbock. She is a graduate of Pampa High School, of West Texas State University, and the University of Texas. She received a master of arts degree from Texas Tech. Further graduate study in Latin and methods of teaching Latin was at the College of William & Mary, Williamsburg, Va.

In receiving the honorary membership to the foreign language group, she was cited for an imaginative approach to teaching, dedication to her work and for inspiration to her students, who invariably placed high in statewide Latin competition, it was noted.

She has held membership for many years in various professional education organizations and has an honorary life membership in Alpha Sigma Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary teacher's society, and the English Honor Society, Sigma Tau Delta.

A native of Deport, Texas, she moved with her parents to Pampa in 1905 and was Miss Ludye Leon Cary before her marriage to the late R.P. Johnson, nephew of Perry Edward Johnson one of Gray County's first four county commissioners. She has one son, Robert Johnson, of Corpus Christi. Pampa relatives include a brother, Fred A. Cary, and a nephew, Tracy D. Cary.

Rep. Cates Will Be In Lefors March 19-20

State Representative Phil Cates of Lefors will be in his home district March 19 and 20 to attend the St. Patrick's Day celebration in Shamrock. Representative Cates and his wife, Nancy, will attend the banquet on Friday night and all activities on Saturday. Cates says he has planned this day in order to be with and talk to as many of the people from his district as possible.

Also on March 19, Cates will speak at a "Politics and Ethics" seminar sponsored by the Baptist Student Union at the Student Union Building at West Texas State University in Canyon.

A graduate of West Texas, Cates plans also to talk with some of the administration about its WTSU problems.

PHS Vocational Building Needs

Pampa school board will review the district's needs in vocational building and equipment and athletic facility needs during the regular board meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Other agenda items are an executive session to review personnel recommendations for teachers, and a discussion on the classroom teacher request to purchase and install evaporative air conditioners. Athletic facility needs for discussion are the possibilities of new tennis courts and stadium seats.

The board will also consider athletic bid analysis, approve textbook recommendations and approve the 1971-72 school calendar.

PHS Concert Choir Invited To England

The Pampa High School Concert Choir members have been invited to participate in the Cambridge Music Seminar of European Music of the 16th and early 17th Century in Cambridge, England Aug. 1-10.

Eight of the high school students will attend the 10-day clinic. Afterwards they will tour London, England; Paris, France; Frankfurt, Germany; Cologne, Germany; Heidelberg, Germany; Brussels, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Bill Davis, director described the invitation as "about the highest honor you can get."

23 Local VOE Students To Enter Area Contest

The area contest for Vocational Office Education students will be held March 12 and 13 on the campus of the Texas School of Technology in Lubbock with 48 schools entered.

Twenty-three of Pampa's VOE students were chosen by Melvin Cardwell, sponsor, to enter this year. The students are chosen according to skill they have in vocational education.

The students who rate in the top four places of each section will then go to state competition in San Angelo. The two top rated contestants in each section will go to Indianapolis, Ind. for national competition.

Local Board No. 52 To Furnish Two Men For April Induction

Local Selective Service Board No. 52 will furnish two men for induction into the military in April, it was announced Saturday by Frankie Stewart, executive secretary of the board.

The date set for induction, she said, is April 12. There also is a call for 21 men to take pre-induction physical examinations on the same date.

Local Board 52 serves Gray, Roberts, Wheeler and Donley Counties and is located in the Pampa Post Office Bldg.

The National April draft call by the Department of Defense is for 17,000 men, all for the Army, Col. Melvin N. Glantz, state director of Selective Service for Texas, announced.

API Membership Underway; Dance Set For Friday

The 1971 membership drive of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute is in full swing, according to Martin Ludeman, chapter secretary-treasurer.

Ludeman said persons wishing to obtain membership cards should contact him at the West Pampa Repressing Ass'n, Pete Bland of Kewanee Oil Co., or Charles Zlomke of Cities Service Oil Co.

Memberships are available in Borger from Stan Rudisell of Phillips Petroleum Co. and in Amarillo from James Burrege of Diamond Shamrock Corp.

API activities for the year will start next Friday, March 19, at a dance in the Pampa Country Club from 8:30 to 12:30 with music by the Miami Stompers.

The API golf tournament is scheduled for the May 15-16 weekend at the Huber golf course in Borger.

The Week In Review

By C. W. ORR
United Press International
Cassius Clay, who never had stopped claiming to be champion, lost this week as he tried to regain the heavyweight boxing crown from Joe Frazier.

Frazier whipped Clay in a unanimous 15-round decision after the former champ was knocked down in the last round for the third time in his career. Clay kept his record of never having been knocked out intact, but his record now reads 31 victories and one defeat.

Whitney Young Jr., the civil rights leader who was executive director of the National Urban League, died in Lagos, Nigeria, apparently of a heart attack. He was 49.

President Nixon told United Press International, he did not expect either the Arabs or Israelis to resume hostilities in the Mideast. The Soviet Union and United States both are exerting "a restraining effort," he said.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's New Congress party won a parliamentary majority in India's elections.

Gorton of Australia lost a vote of confidence. His Liberal party elected Foreign Minister William McMahon as the new party leader to replace Gordon.

The Senate, on a 94-0 vote, approved a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age in all elections to 18. House approval is expected in the coming week.

MAJOR HOOPLE

HAPPY PHONE CALL — Congressman Bob Price of Pampa likes to have his home district constituents call on him when they are in Washington. ## Ethics And Liquor Issues Headed For Showdown In State Senate

By ROLAND LINDSEY
AUSTIN, (UPI)—The emotional issues of ethics and liquor are headed for a showdown in the state Senate this week as Texas lawmakers near the halfway point of their 140-day regular session.

The House, meantime, is gearing for debate on a record appropriation bill that is due out of committee either this week or next week.

Sen. Ralph Hall, D-Rockwall, has indicated he will seek a Senate vote this week on his controversial new code of ethics for state officials that includes a provision requiring office holders to file annual statements of financial disclosure.

Hall's original "get tough" ethics bill was watered down slightly during its journey through a senate committee, but is still the most stringent of a series of ethics measures introduced this session.

Along with required financial disclosure, the bill would prohibit legislators or their business associates from representing clients for pay before state agencies and commissions.

The liquor bill, by Sen. Joe Christie, D-El Paso, would implement a local option mixed drink plan approved in principal by Texas voters last year when a 59-year-old ban on open saloons was knocked out of the state constitution.

Christie appears to have enough support to get the measure through both houses, but potential trouble is brewing over the bill in at least two areas.

First, Sen. Jim Bates, D-Edinburg, contends the $5,000 fee for a mixed drink permit is too high and will prevent South Texas bars from competing with the prices of drinks across the Mexican border.

Second, a heated battle is going on between liquor retailers and wholesalers over who should be permitted to sell liquor to the mixed drink permit holders.

Jennings Wins Trophy
NEW YORK (UPI)—Bill Jennings, 50-year old president of the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, was presented with the Lester Patrick Memorial Trophy for 1971 Tuesday night "for outstanding service to hockey in the United States."

Jennings is credited with being most responsible for the expansion of the NHL to seven additional U.S. cities in the last five years.

He didn't insure his car through an independent insurance agent. Then, with inadequate coverage, he had an accident—his fault. To satisfy the judgment, he had to sell everything he owned. Protect yourself. Call us today!

JOE FISCHER INSURANCE

Christie's bill would require the bars to buy from wholesalers, and that provision drew loud protests from package stores during committee hearings. Private clubs in the state are now required to buy from retailers, and the package store owners want that system to continue when mixed drink sales "go public."

The senate also has yet to begin consideration of a House-passed $492 million tax bill, or on legislative and congressional redistricting.

British officials fear the killing of three British soldiers in a Belfast suburb Wednesday night may upset the government of North Ireland Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark whose hold already is precarious. "Their mission was to take the town, stay four or five days, search the area for munitions and get out," Dong said.
Military sources in Saigon said the removal of at least one South Vietnamese regiment from the Seponne area was part of strategy planned by President Nguyen Van Thieu, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and top U.S. and South Vietnamese military leaders.
Spokesmen in Saigon, military sources and field commanders said today the South Vietnamese were making maximum use of American helicopters in a new stage of the operation emphasizing air mobility.
Military sources in Saigon said the entire Laotian operation could be finished by March 31. South Vietnamese spokesmen refused to comment on the prediction.

Col. Dong said his 2nd Regiment left a battery of 105mm artillery guns on artillery base Sopha when 1,000 troops were airlifted out Friday but blew them up first.
The sources emphasized the ARVN use of air mobility but pointed out that the move of the troops from Sopha and other bases near Seponne to areas 12 miles southeast of the town also put the South Vietnamese out of danger of a direct confrontation with elements of six North Vietnamese regiments totaling nearly 18,000 men. The North Vietnamese were reported in the area of Seponne.
The U.S. command reported meanwhile that a U.S. helicopter gunship accidentally fired rockets and machine guns into South Vietnamese Marines seven miles inside Laos Thursday, killing four South Vietnamese and wounding 33 others.

Manson, Followers Thrown Out of Court

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Charles Manson and his three female followers have been thrown out of court again for disrupting the penalty phase of the Tate-LaBianca murder trial.
Manson, who had been given a "final warning" during Friday's morning session, was ejected during the afternoon session when he commented that his attorney, Irving Kanarek, "don't know what questions to ask."
Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older then ordered Manson removed until he could pledge to conduct himself in a "proper manner."
The three women, Susan Atkins, Patricia Krenwinkel and Leslie Van Houten, were expelled shortly before the end of Friday's session when they began mumbling during cross examination.
"I find it hard to give the court the respect it doesn't give itself," Manson said.

9-Foot Eddie Carmel Is Real New York Giant

STILL A GROWING BOY at nine feet tall, Eddie Carmel hopes to reach the 10-foot mark.

By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK (NEA) —When wise-cracking Eddie Carmel was a kid in Tel Aviv he says his father used to take him on a leash to look at the Arabs. Joke. But it wouldn't have been a bad idea at that. For Eddie Carmel is the biggest, most awesome Jew since Eleazar. Now 30 years old and living in a Bronx apartment with a very high ceiling, he is reportedly nine feet and five-eighths inches in height and claims by almost a head to be the world's tallest man. His claim is not official. On an earth of 3.6 billion people, there may be someone somewhere with an inch or so on him. But when Eddie puts his 465 pounds to his boast, nobody but somebody who weighs 466 would argue the point.

"Not only am I the tallest man," he says — er, roars, "I'm also the most humorous. I have the lowest speaking voice, and I'm definitely the best looking."

Sure, sure, Eddie, anything you say. Fortunately, Eddie doesn't say he's the tallest man ever. That would be too much. Giants as great or greater than he have existed throughout recorded mythology and fact. Eleazar the Jew was said to be 10 feet 2 inches. The 16th century's Archduke Ferdinand had a bodyguard allegedly 11 feet tall. There was an Irish giant named Patrick Cotter who "had a thumb the size of a normal man's wrist." And Goliath, whom Eddie regards as an ancestor ("Damn that David") was supposed to have measured six cubits and a span, about 9 feet 9.

ut though Eddie Carmel is not unique, he'll do on the streets of New York City. He wears a size 36 shoe, keeps his pants on with a 60-inch belt, sleeps in a 10-foot bed that's "cramped," eats from 6 to 10 pounds of meat at a serving and surely must be one of the wonders of the modern world.

"The biggest problem I have," he says almost impishly (impishly!), "is the airplanes. They fly too low. I gotta carry a fly swatter around all the time."

He's kidding, naturally. Eddie is always kidding. He found out long ago that kidding is the only way to stay sane in a world of midgets: "I could walk the Mojave desert at 3 a.m. and somebody would still come up and ask what's new besides Ho-Ho-Ho."

If he responded to every inquiry seriously, he says, he would be a regular visitor to the world's longest psychiatric couch. So there's no doubt about it. Airplanes aren't really Eddie's biggest problem. People are. Despite his goodnatured philosophy that "to me, I'm normal and everybody else is odd," he is in society the square peg. He can't escape the title of freak. Usually, it's only bothersome in a minor way, such as having people stare, giggle, or give him a wide berth. But sometimes it can be agony: recently the kids in his neighborhood staged a cruel game of "get the giant," gathered in hooting bands every time he stepped outside his door, and tormented him to the extent that he was forced to call in police protection.

"The kids really got to me," he says. "I had hurt my leg and had to walk around on crutches. They'd run in front of me, call me names, block my way and that kind of thing. They succeeded in knocking me down a couple of times."

But if the gaping, sometimes thoughtless crowds are Eddie's chief source of misery, they are ironically his source of income, too. Like most true prodigies

(that's a kind word for freak,) he has capitalized on his unusualness by becoming a public performer. He has been a wrestler given only Nazi-like opposition. He has been good for a chuckle on most of the late night TV talk shows. He has been the attraction of several circuses and carnivals. He has even been in the films — "I was the monster in 'The Brain That Would Not Die.'"

And, outwardly anyway, he seems to accept the occupation of being a tourist attraction. That is to say he doesn't dwell much on the philosophies of his circumstances. "I think about life, sure," he says, "but I also think about Look, about Newsweek, about Sports Illustrated." In other words: "How can I resent people looking at me? That's my business. I'm doing the shopping centers now. They hire me to draw crowds. I may get a little tired of the same questions and autographs. But I know if it weren't for the crowds I'd be out of business."

Business is the one similarity between Eddie Carmel and the rest of mankind. A shekel is the great equalizer. And for the giant, business may be looking up — literally. "I'm still growing," he says. "my goal is to be 10 feet tall." If he makes it, he feels, he'll be walking around in size 36 patent leather — with which, he grins, he may be able to stamp out a few Arabs.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first intimation that the administration has a rating system for demonstrators, similar to the one that classifies golfers, came during President Nixon's recent one-day trip to the Midwest.

Asked about the pickets he encountered in and around Des Moines, Iowa, the President said he thought they were a little amateurish.

Never before had a U.S. chief executive characterized the activities of dissident citizens in such demeaning terms.

Deepening Wedge
Nixon did soften his criticism a bit by describing the protesters, some of whom threw snowballs at him, as well-intentioned. He also upgraded their performance, which included shouting obscenities, by saying it was "par for the course."

As of this writing, however, he had not withdrawn the charge of amateurism. That almost certainly will deepen the wedge between the administration and various alienated factions.

I called up a young man I know in the antiwar movement and asked what happened in Des Moines that impressed Nixon as amateurish. He was pretty bitter about the President's remark.

"I wasn't there myself," he said, "but the reports I get from our guys in the Midwest indicate they deserved at least a septi-pro rating."

He conceded the overall quality of the demonstrations was rather ragged, but blamed that on the construction workers and farmers who were protesting administration economic policies.

"The antiwar movement has always exhibited a high degree of professionalism in its demonstrations and we resent this gratuitous slur by the President," he said.

Twisters Hit Texas And Oklahoma Killing One, Injuring Eight Persons

By United Press International
At least six tornadoes raked Texas and Oklahoma Friday night, killing one person, injuring at least eight others and causing thousands of dollars worth of damage. Elsewhere, gale-force winds whipped northern California and heavy snow piled up in the Sierra Nevadas. Violent thunderstorms accompanied the twisters and high winds and hail lashed a wide area of central and eastern Texas. At Georgetown, winds clocked at 81 miles an hour knocked out electrical power. At least five tornadoes struck southeastern Oklahoma, destroying an elementary school, more than 30 homes and causing an estimated $300,000 in damages. National Guardsmen and State Troopers sealed off the Achilles, Okla., area where all electrical and gas services were out and municipal water was expected to be exhausted by this morning. At least 25 houses in the area were destroyed and more than 30 head of cattle were seriously injured or killed by the twister.

Other tornadoes struck near Madill and Atoka, destroying farm buildings. Several roads were closed in the Marshall-Bryan counties because of downed utility poles.

A tornado near New Boston, Tex., killed one man, injured eight others and destroyed several homes.

Other severe thunderstorms produced half-inch hail at Pine Bluff and Stamps, Ark., and Cleveland, Ohio. In addition to the hail at Stamps, winds of 60 miles an hour blew down power lines.

Scattered rainfall of two to four inches accompanied the severe weather in southern Arkansas Friday, producing flash flooding in low areas. Heavy rains were common this morning.

The people down the block with all the money probably own a Friedrich.

Get even.

Make any room a cool and quiet Friedrich room. With a Friedrich room air conditioner. Buy now and you'll save up to $15.95. You'll keep on saving, too. Because a Friedrich costs less to operate. You get more cooling power using less electric power. The reason is Friedrich's superior engineering. And a Friedrich has something no other air conditioner has. The exclusive "Even-Temp" thermostat. It thinks ahead —actually anticipates a rise in room temperature. So you get steady, even cooling before the heat goes up. When you step into a Friedrich room, you not only feel the difference, you hear the difference. A Friedrich is quiet. And in room air conditioners, quiet says quality. It's great to come home to a Friedrich Drop by a Friedrich dealer today and pick the model you want. Friedrich... the signposts of quiet quality.

Youth Center Wrapup

VOLLEYBALL — The Center is offering to the public invitations to participate in the Spring volleyball leagues. These leagues will consist of a women's, men's and a mixed division. A mixed team will consist of 3 women and 3 men. Each division must have four teams to enter before it will be scheduled.

An organizational meeting will be held on Wed. night March 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the Center. Teams wishing to enter any division should have a representative at this meeting or make prior arrangements with the Director, George Smith. Entry fee for each league is $20.00 per team.

In addition to the team entry fee each player must either be a member of the Center or pay a players fee at the door of 50 cents each per game. A six months individual membership costs only $5.00 and entitles you to full use of the swimming pool, gym and recreation hall. Playing dates will be decided upon during the organizational meeting so please be present.

NEW SWIM LESSONS — The final school year swim lesson schedule is printed below and they are open for enrollment. Classes are open for enrollment. Classes are limited in number so it would be wise to enroll early. Warm weather is approaching and the classes fill up very quickly.

All classes will meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday either from 4-5 or 5-6 p.m. The Center is closed on Tuesdays during the school year. All classes will be taught by Mrs. Ruth Carter, our resident W.S.I. Enrollment is free to Center members and $4 for non-members.

As a word of explanation, the polywog class is for youngsters 4-6 years of age not in school who measure at least 33 inches tall to the chin. We do not teach children any younger or smaller in height.

Pig Is Just As Intelligent, Clean As Any Animal In Barnyard, Says Expert

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — George Coalsion, one of the few pig scholars in the world, believes the animal is a victim of unfair history.

Coalsion, a history professor at Texas A&I University, has traced the swine's involvement in human events back to Homer's days in Ancient Greece.

"The pig has been discriminated against down through the years. His part in history has almost been completely ignored," Coalsion said. "While the cowboy has been glorified in western lore, the just as important pig drover has been forgotten."

Hot Dog Invented
He pointed out one of America's significant contributions to the world — the hot dog. The popular food — then called a "frankfurter" — was invented in 1883 by Anton Ludwig Feuchtwanger and served with white gloves from his St. Louis, Mo. stand.

A native of Uvalde, Tex., and a graduate of Texas A&I, the 45-year-old Coalsion said he became interested in the plight of the pig while working on a doctoral degree at the University of Oklahoma 17 years ago.

"First one professor, then others, asked me how the hog had affected this particular area of history. They liked my answers and I have felt a debt of gratitude toward the pig ever since," he said.

Pig History
More examples form pig history mentioned by Coalsion:

—A feud over a stray pig between a Captain Cain and a widow Mrs. Sherman led to the formation of a bicameral legislature in Massachusetts in the 1630's.

—During the days of the Texas Republic the killing of a hog owned by an Austin chief by a French nobleman resulted in the struggling nation's losing a needed loan from the French government.

—During the depression an emergency slaughter of little pigs to alleviate a hog surplus and to give pork to the poor brought "grunts of unhappiness" and "squeals of protest" from irate citizens. The New Deal program had to be halted because of the inhumane charges.

Pig historian Coalsion noted that while we admit the hog is good enough for our table at the same time we revile and malign him as dirty, dumb and lazy. "We should be more appreciative — the pig is just as intelligent and clean as any animal in the barnyard," Coalsion said.

Howsam's Contract Renewed
CINCINNATI (UPI) — Bob Howsam's contract as executive vice president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds was renewed Tuesday for another two years.

Francis L. Dale was re-elected president of the club and Warren Giles, retired National League president, was named an honorary member of the board of directors.

Television In Review

By RICK DUBROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Both NBC and CBS will have major, prime time news-documentary series next season despite program reduction caused by the government cutback on network broadcasting hours.

NBC previously announced it would bring back its monthly, two-hour "First Tuesday" program, switching it to Fridays with, of course, a new title.

And now it has been revealed officially that "CBS Reports" will also be presented as a monthly, two-hour entry starting this fall, airing on Thursdays.

No Conflict
Among other things, the two moves mean viewers will not be faced with a head-on conflict between the programs, as there has been between "First Tuesday" and CBS' "60 Minutes."

When the network prime time cutback to three hours nightly was first ordered by the Federal Communications Commission to encourage local and independent production, it was feared documentary series such as "First Tuesday" would be eliminated from key evening hours for economic reasons.

Less prime time obviously meant belt tightening at the networks, and public affairs programs usually don't draw the ratings or advertising money that entertainment series attract.

Corporate Honor
Therefore, the network decisions in favor of "First Tuesday" and "CBS Reports" can only be applauded by responsible members of the television industry, not to mention viewers faithful to reality programming.

A good deal of honor was at stake in these decisions at the networks—nothing less than corporate images at the highest levels, so far as close observers of the television scene were concerned.

CBS is said to be approaching the FCC to have network broadcasting start at 8 p.m. EST nightly instead of 7:30 p.m., as now planned. NBC and ABC have wanted the 8 p.m. start all along, and CBS held out for 7:30—forcing competition to go along so as not to fall behind each night. But now CBS affiliates are upset with the 7:30 opening, partly because it means prime time would end at 9:30 p.m. in the Midwest.

It's not the first time affiliates have forced a network to alter its thinking. Some years back, CBS canceled "Gunsmoke" but quickly put it back when affiliates objected—and the show is hotter than ever.

Your Horoscope

SUNDAY, MARCH 14, 1971

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: A phase of intense upward movement in your career. External conditions are changing swiftly, new technologies coming to regular use. You can go along with the times and do well through consistent effort. Social experience is livelier in the next year or two.
ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be willing to venture into the unfamiliar and untraveled. The goal is to gain experience. The goal is to gain experience. The goal is to gain experience.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Get an early start. Your morning routines squared away, all things are likely to happen to keep you on the jump.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Everybody you are interested in has somebody else bidding for attention too. Encourage younger people. Set both an example and a guide line.
CANCER (June 21-July 20): Turn to family and home building. Begin with an expression of your feelings, a letter of love and involvement. There is much to be gained from this.
LEO (July 21-Aug. 20): Today's electric quality tempts you to sudden competitive movement. Control this tendency, and you have it made for broadly satisfying social conquests.
VIRGO (Aug. 21-Sept. 20): Something you did long ago comes back very pleasantly, with increase. Survey your home and its furnishings.
LIBRA (Sept. 21-Oct. 20): Sudden impulse brings interesting ventures your way. You may change all the future. Have the courage to go with the intuition.
SCORPIO (Oct. 21-Nov. 20): Truth is blurted out in spontaneous criticism, more helpful than any compliment. Suspense judgement on pending issues. No short cut exists.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21-Dec. 20): Friends are in and out and gone again before you get much activity going. Rely on your own resources for anything of importance.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 21-Jan. 19): News and comment goes contrary to view of the world and how it ought to thrive. Get your response well thought out to a dispirited schedule.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Go along with your overworld in their social activities. At this point you shouldn't isolate yourself, no matter what.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Help keep the peace with impulsive temperamental people. Be alert, catch up on the news and how it ought to thrive. Get your response well thought out to a dispirited schedule.

MONDAY, MARCH 15, 1971

YOUR BIRTHDAY MONDAY: Your coming year is apt to go so smoothly that you neglect opportunities to clarify and improve your situation. Now is the time to get rid of bad habits, useless and unproductive things that clutter your life. Later on, you'll recall this year as "those were the days..." and cherish the memories, not just for what you got stirring and really work and play hard while you can. Monday's naivete is a good thing, but it's also a warning. Be alert, catch up on the news and how it ought to thrive. Get your response well thought out to a dispirited schedule.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): The climate for most activities last year was a d e m a n d s. Urgent scurrying for necessary information.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Speculation urges get the better of other elements—try to distinguish between wishful thinking and real information.
CANCER (June 21-July 20): Business dealings with much older people with conservative interests.
LEO (July 21-Aug. 20): Think big, act accordingly. Career moves favored.
VIRGO (Aug. 21-Sept. 20): Catch and correct errors before they are caught beyond your reach.
LIBRA (Sept. 21-Oct. 20): Give your favorite projects a shove forward. New ventures thrive better than old.
SCORPIO (Oct. 21-Nov. 20): Prospects unfold ahead of you for increase in both responsibility and returns for carrying it well.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21-Dec. 20): Cuttle the art of listening. Personal secrets open to your view, briefly, and the obligation for discretion along with love to further development.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 21-Jan. 19): Expect changes in working conditions. Temporary schedule, overtime if conditions justify.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): If you have a delicate issue of any sort, particularly legal, Monday is the time to develop a heavy hand on one side or the other.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): This will be a day to remember for all the lively people and events.

FIGHT MOVIES

NEW YORK (UPI)—Motion Pictures of the Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali title fight will be seen in theaters in the United States and Canada, beginning on March 12, it was announced Tuesday by Joseph M. Sugar, president of Cinema Releases.
A spokesman for the distributors said that a record 700 prints of the bout are being made and that 300 more may be ordered. He said the original order of prints is the biggest ever made for a sporting event.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

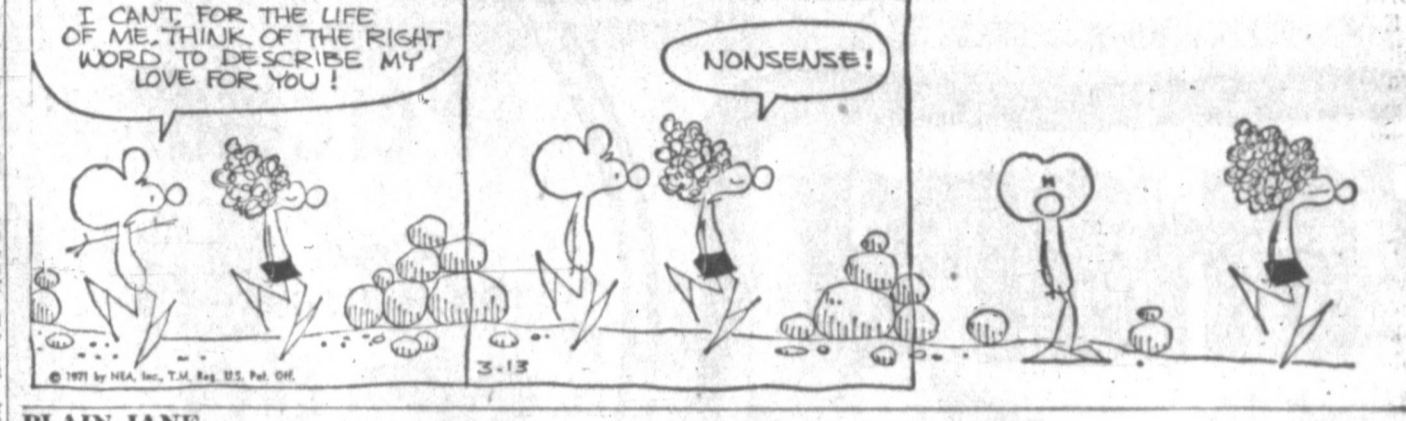

The ladybird or ladybug is a bright colored beetle which became the first outstanding example of a natural enemy controlling a pest. The World Almanac notes that in 1889, ladybirds were imported from Australia to California to combat the cottony cushion scale, accidentally imported from Australia, and are credited with saving California's citrus industry.

DEATH OF THE BEATLES

Their Friendship Ends In Bitterness And Recriminations

By TOM CULLEN
(First of Two Parts.)
LONDON (NEA) — For awhile it seemed as though the Beatles would go on forever, turning out new songs, each more wonderful than the last.

The appearance of a new Beatles album was an eagerly awaited event, and at times the Beatles hogged the charts, with three or four simultaneous hits.

Their clothes, their hair styles, their life styles were copied by teenagers in places as far apart as Tokyo and Berlin, Los Angeles and London. The quartet became multimillionaires and were decorated by the queen with the Order of the British Empire for their services in boosting British exports.

Even high-brow musicologists fell for them, finding in the group's music the influences of Stravinsky and Ravel, where others detected only rock, rhythm and blues, country and western.

But the bubble had to burst. The partnership ended in Room 16 of the Law Courts here, where Paul McCartney asked that a receiver be appointed to guard the group's assets. His application was

YESTERDAY, ALL THEIR troubles seemed so far away and John Lennon, Paul McCartney, Ringo Starr and George Harrison were making "A Hard Day's Night," their first movie strenuously opposed by the other three Beatles, who are content with their American manager, Allen Klein.

The courtroom drama has lifted the veil on a collaboration that, at the best of times, was an uneasy one. After the death of their manager, Brian Epstein, in August, 1967, the Beatles gradually fell apart, their friendship ending in bitterness and recriminations.

Originally, the feuding was confined to Paul McCartney, now 28, and George Harrison, 27. Paul was the only Beatle who got "As" at school and who had had any formal musical training. He never let the others forget it.

"Paul always showed a superior attitude toward me musically," says Harrison, who recalls the rupture between them during the film of "Let It Be" in 1969. "In front of the cameras as we were actually being filmed, Paul started to get at me about the way I was playing."

"I decided that I had had enough, and told the others I was leaving."

The quarrel was patched up, and Harrison rejoined the group to complete the film, but McCartney still found it hard to resist telling Harrison how he should play guitar. The major conflict, however, was between McCartney and John Lennon.

McCartney prefers "pop," while Lennon digs what is now known as "underground" music full of hidden meanings. "Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds," for example, is said to be all about an LSD trip.

The Beatles' strength lay in their diversity, in the opinion of many of their admirers, but the quarrels over choice of music led to Lennon refusing to perform any but his own songs, according to McCartney.

Early in 1969 Lennon and his wife, Yoko Ono, launched ventures separate from the Beatles. Lennon told the others that Klein was his new business manager and suggested that the group employ him. All agreed, except McCartney.

In September, 1969, McCartney wanted the Beatles to get together again and play before small audiences. Ringo Starr agreed. Harrison was noncommittal. Lennon's reaction was, "I think you're daft."

Referring to the divorce from his wife Cynthia, Lennon said that it had given him "a great sense of freedom," and that now he wanted a divorce from the Beatles.

However, last August when McCartney suggested that the group break up, Lennon replied with a photograph of himself and Yoko Ono with a balloon coming out of his mouth in which was written: "How and why?"

McCartney persisted, suggesting each of the Beatles sign a paper agreeing to the dissolution of the partnership. Lennon replied on a card which said: "Get well soon."

Ringo describes McCartney as a "spoiled child," claims that he was thrown out of McCartney's house on one occasion.

Bentsen Jr. Asks President To Tell U.S. Role In Laos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., D-Tex., backs President Nixon's Vietnam policies in general, but accused Nixon Friday of hiding the full story of the risks involved in the Laotian operation.

"He should level with the American people and tell them the full extent of the risks involved in this Laotian interdiction," Bentsen said during a news conference on his recent trip to Indochina.

He said Americans should be told also what the "high level of economic commitment in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia" will cost American taxpayers.

"The American public must understand the continuing probable economic commitment," the freshman senator said. "When they fully understand the costs and risks, they can make their own judgment."

Bentsen praised the Vietnamization program. He said replacing U. S. combat units with South Vietnamese units and sending Americans home is working better than he had imagined, and Nixon should speed up the withdrawal.

"I am convinced they can come home faster than they are being sent home," he said.

He would not say specifically what the return pace should be or suggest a deadline.

Get your money's worth electric air conditioning

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY

Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST

Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low ... no extra installation costs, either!

HIGH ALTITUDE — NO PROBLEM

Despite our high altitude, electric air conditioning keeps on doing its job because the electric cooling method is completely sealed against the effects of altitude changes.

CHOICE OF BRANDS

There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES

Electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

COMPLETE SERVICE

The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

Judge's Ruling Called 'Disastrous', Canham

DETROIT (UPI)—University of Michigan Athletic Director Donald B. Canham Saturday called a federal judge's ruling that would allow pro basketball to sign college players anytime they wish "disastrous."

"It's disastrous unless they overturn it," Canham said, "and I'm sure they'll try to."

Judge Warren J. Ferguson ruled in Los Angeles Friday that the National Basketball Association agreement not to draft college players until their senior class graduated was invalid under the Sherman Antitrust Act.

This, in effect, would give the professional leagues (The American Basketball Association and the National Basketball Association) the freedom to sign sophomores and junior stars of any college team they so desire.

"I'm not worried about the NBA; we've always had good relations with them. It's the naughty ABA I'd be worried about," Canham said.

"That's (the ruling) unrealistic, he said. 'I'm sure this was just a case of some judge who didn't know what to do and he had to do something.'

"Even if there wasn't such a rule, I'm sure the National Football League would never touch our players," the Wolverine athletic director said. "I'm sure the NBA people will appeal. He (the judge) just doesn't realize the implications of what he's done."

The ruling came as part of a judgment that affirmed former University of Detroit star Spencer Haywood's right to play basketball with the Seattle SuperSonics in the NBA.

Wheatley Defeated By Fairbanks In Finals

AUSTIN (UPI)—Cypress-Fairbanks, its deliberate attack working to perfection, pulled off one of the biggest upsets in Texas high school basketball history Saturday, downing Houston Wheatley 72-58 to end the Wildcats' three-year dynasty.

The Bobcats became the champion of Texas' big-city basketball in their first year of Class AAAA competition.

Cypress-Fairbanks slowed down the racehorse Wheatley attack with an agonizingly deliberate attack of its own—paced by veteran seniors Ronald Houston, Donald Dunlap, Jerry Mercer and Andrew Jones.

The Dunlap twins combined for 34 points to lead the Bobcats.

The victory proved an early season win by the Bobcats over Houston Wheatley was no fluke. The Bobcats had downed Wheatley earlier in the season in a Fort Worth tournament, ending a Wheatley winning streak of 72 games.

Wheatley easily bumped off San Antonio Sam Houston in Friday's Class AAAA semifinals 110-92 while Cypress-Fairbanks decked Plainview 58-55.

It was the 19th time Wheatley had gone over 100 points this season and ran the Houston school's record to 36-4. Six members of the Wheatley club scored in double figures, led by Eddie Owens' 20 points.

Ronald Williams scored 33 points for Sam Houston while Willie Hodge had 28.

Cypress-Fairbanks held on to win despite a late Plainview rush. Plainview lost its chance for victory when it missed six free throws in the closing minutes.

Cypress-Fairbanks held the lead from the opening minutes Saturday, and held off a late rally by the Wildcats.

Bobcats fans, part of the usual full house at Gregory Gymnasium, began chanting "we're No. 1" with more than a minute to play. The Bobcats were mobbed following the game by their fans.

The victory left Cypress-Fairbanks with a 36-6 season record and Wheatley ended its season with a 36-5 mark.

Wheatley has now lost only seven games in the past four years.

Donald Dunlap had 20 points to lead the Bobcats while Bobby Metcalf had 19 and Ronald Dunlap chipped in 14 points.

Wheatley's high scorer was Michael Long, with 20 points. Eddie Owens, Wheatley's playmaking guard who had averaged 16 points a game until Saturday was thrown out of the contest early in the third quarter when an official said he threw an elbow at another player.

Owens had scored 13 points to that point.

The deliberate style of attack employed by Cypress-Fairbanks cut down Wheatley's fast break attack, and, in the end, forced the Wildcats into unaccustomed nervous errors.

The 58-point production by the Wildcats was 52 short of the total they had run up in defeating San Antonio Sam Houston in the Class AAAA semifinals Friday.

Wheatley had won the state Class AAAA championship the past three years — ever since the school first began playing in the University Interscholastic League.

Until this year Cypress-Fairbanks had been in Class AAA, and made it to the Class AAA finals last year before losing.

Marquette Warriors Slap Miami, 62 To 47

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The Marquette Warriors, second ranked nationally, broke open a close game with a spurge of 11 straight points in the second half Saturday and went on to drub Miami of Ohio 62-47, in an NCAA tournament first-round game.

Jacksonville, No. 6 ranked, and Western Kentucky, No. 8, met in the second game of the nationally televised tournament program in Notre Dame's Convocation Center.

Marsuette was led by its gigantic 6-11 center Jim Chones, and its 6-1 guard Dear Meminger, but both had to put on a second half show to lead the Warriors to their 39th straight triumph and their 27th without a loss this year.

The unranked Red Skins, suffering their fifth loss against 20 wins, actually had their No. 2-rated rivals trailing until less than seven minutes remained in the first half. Then Al McGuire, son of the Marquette coach and Chones hit field goals to give the Warriors a three-point lead.

Miami came back to tie the score at 21-21 and trailed only 23-21 at the half.

In the second half, Miami had the score tied at 27-27 and was behind at 33-31, when the

Can Willis Reed Come Back Despite Injuries?

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—Last season, the New York Knicks won the NBA championship because, in good part, Willis Reed overcame physical pain with a cortisone shot and a mightily stiff upper lip. The same could be true this season.

The pain has shifted this season from his right leg to his left knee.

He also has a bruised right knee and a dislocated left little finger and torn ligaments in his left middle finger and his ankles are not all that strong. But they are incidental ailments.

Before a game he employs a few city blocks of tape. His furrowed brow and strong jaw suggest a black Buddha; his body resembles a mummified Egyptian pharaoh.

The Knicks' 6-10 center, massive, powerful, inspirational, is a monument to the tenacity — if not also the fool-hardiness — of a dedicated professional athlete.

It is the nature of professional basketball that any injury in which a wheelchair is only optional is not serious enough to keep a player off the court.

Warriors opened up for 11 straight points and a 13-point lead.

Miami never closed the gap below 11 points thereafter.

Jerry Sears was high point man for the losers with 16.

Marquette's victory sent it on to the Midwest regionals where it will meet Big Ten champion Ohio State next Thursday at Athens, Ga.

WILBURN TRADED
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers Friday traded receiver J.R. Wilburn to the San Diego Chargers in return for running back Brad Hubbard. Wilburn, a South Carolina graduate, was the Steelers' leading pass receiver in 1967 but has been hampered by injuries in recent years.

An old-timer is a fellow who still thinks that a pad is something you write on.

Pioneering '71 style: having to walk two blocks for the paper because your jalopy has a dead battery.

One way to get back on your feet is to have teenagers who drive.

So Reed plays with severe tendonitis in his left knee, which prevents him from twisting and pivoting and jumping and running and rebounding and assorted other activities which made him both the 1970 regular season Most Valuable Player and the 1970 championship playoffs' Most Valuable Player.

The Knicks this season have not been as awesome a machine as a season ago. Injuries to Bill Bradley, Cazzie Russell, Dave DeBusschere have contributed. So, too, it is said, has the "fat cat" syndrome. Most important, according to the players themselves, is the travail with which Willis Reed goes about his labors.

He has missed nine games going into March. And in many more he has been barely operative. Other centers have taken advantage of the situation, like good professionals, though they say it is a sorry thing to do. Like good humanitarianists. Elvin Hayes captures 35 rebounds off him. A rookie, Sam Lacey, scores 30 points. Wes Unseld takes the ball right out of Reed's hands when he makes a pivot.

Yet, other times Reed has spun off and slammed a devastating stuff shot on Lacey, boxed Hayes out on the boards and hit a jumper as of old over Unseld.

"The pain's not so bad," said Reed, "unless I sit too long or walk up stairs, or the going gets heavy in the final quarter."

Reed no longer practices with the team. He uses days off to rest the knee. "Whatever I lose in timing," he said, "I make up for by having the knee stronger. And the play-offs will be good in that you usually get one or two days off between games. During the season it's a night-after-night existence, practically, and that hurts."

The world may little care not long remember the seventh game of the championship play-off game against the Los Angeles Lakers last season, but those who were there will surely never forget.

The scene was set, actually, in the fifth game. Early on, Reed crumpled to the floor because he had strained muscles in his right leg. It seemed he was through for the play-offs. But in the deciding game, he returned. The 19,500 persons in Madison Square Garden stood and applauded as Reed limped onto the court. Emotion spilled over as Reed, dragging his leg as if an anchor was tied on, hit the first two shots of the game. The Knicks, spirits soaring, went on to win easily.

"The play-offs," said Reed, "make a whole new season. You throw everything out that went before. It's what your pride, your incentive are all about."

"We will probably play Atlanta in the first round. People are asking me how we'll do against Milwaukee or Baltimore. But those games will come later, we hope. So I don't think about that. You can't look at the end of the rainbow. You gotta look at the beginning."

The Knicks' chances, many believe, rest on Reed's knee. How will it hold up? The knee seemed to be getting stronger after mid-February, when he missed three games and the Knicks had a six-game losing streak. But will Reed be at his peak for the post-season grind?

"It's the play-offs," said Reed. "I have to be at my peak, don't I?"

LITTLE LEAGUE MEETING
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—The 11th International Little League Baseball Congress will be held in Portland, Ore., April 3-6, it was announced Friday. More than 5,000 administrators representing 8,000 leagues and 30 nations are expected to attend.

Aspromonte Gives N.Y. Good Insurance
By United Press International
It may only be spring, but the New York Mets are already congratulating themselves for acquiring Bob Aspromonte over the winter.

The veteran third baseman, who was obtained from the Atlanta Braves for pitcher Ron Herbel in the off-season, banded out three hits and drove in two runs Friday to lead the Mets to a 7-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

In other spring training games Friday, Kansas City outlasted the New York Yankees 8-6, Cleveland bested Milwaukee 10-9, San Francisco edged Oakland 4-3, the Chicago Cubs topped California 8-7, Philadelphia bombed Detroit 9-4 and Boston blanked the Chicago White Sox, 5-0. In night games Washington routed Baltimore, 9-3, Atlanta beat Montreal 5-3, and Los Angeles defeated the Tokyo Orions, 2-1.

The Aspromonte deal, which caused few ripples of excitement when announced, took on an added measure of importance a few weeks ago when it was learned that the Mets' regular third baseman, Wayne Garrett, was being called up for six months active military duty and would miss most of the coming season. That left only Aspromonte and rookie Tim Foli as candidates for the third base slot.

Foli came up with a muscle pull Friday and Aspromonte responded to the opportunity with his big day at bat. While Foli is only expected to miss two or three exhibition games, it appears the Mets made themselves a good "insurance deal" in landing Aspromonte.

Rookie Charlie Williams pitched three scoreless innings for the Mets and clubbed a homer while starter Jim McAndrew picked up the victory after yielding the only Cardinal run.

The Cards lost the services of catcher Bob Stinson for three to four weeks with a broken right thumb. Stinson was acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers along with infielder Ted Sizemore last winter for slugger Richie Allen.

Utility infielder John Kennedy lifted his spring average to .318 and clouted a three-run homer to highlight Boston's triumph over the White Sox. Gary Peters, Sparky Lyle and Jose Santiago pitched shutout ball for Boston in a game which was halted after eight innings due to rain.

Durham Didn't Embarrass Joe Frazier

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Yank Durham, heavyweight champion Joe Frazier's manager, said Saturday that Joe is fine and that the champion did not go to a New York TV taping Saturday with Muhammad Ali "because I didn't want him embarrassed."

Durham did not specify exactly who might "embarrass" Frazier, whether Ali or sportscaster Howard Cosell.

The two fighters were to comment on various stages of their title match, in which Frazier won a unanimous verdict.

A network spokesman earlier had said that Durham had told him that the champion would not come for the taping because Frazier had the flu.

Avery Brundage Up In Arms About Eligibility Rulings

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI)—Avery Brundage, who has ruled the International Olympic Committee (IOC) like a dictator since 1952, faces the biggest challenge to his authority this weekend when he challenges his executive board on certain fundamental issues.

The nine-man executive committee faces a 36-point agenda, but two issues stand out — whether 10 Alpine skiers Brundage has charged as professionals should be allowed to compete at next February's winter games in Sapporo and to do everything possible to insure the 1972 winter games are not wrecked because of the stubbornness of the president.

IOC sources, meanwhile, claim the committee wants a change in the eligibility rule, which was formulated in the 19th century and has no bearing on the modern world.

The Japanese, who are represented on the executive board by Prince Takeda, have sent a delegation from Sapporo to do everything possible to insure the 1972 winter games are not wrecked because of the stubbornness of the president.

Joe Theisman, First All American Picked

by MIKE WESTER
LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Joe Theisman, backup quarterback on the 1970 United Press International all-America college football team, Saturday became the first player selected for the 11th annual Coaches All-America Football Game.

The game is scheduled June 26 for Texas Tech's Jones Stadium. It will be telecast nationally in color beginning at 7:30 p.m. (CST).

Theisman led the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame to a 24-11 victory over the National Champion Texas Longhorns in the 1971 Cotton Bowl. He will play for the East under Louisiana State University Coach Charles McClendon.

A runner-up to Jim Plunkett of Stanford for the Heisman Trophy, the 6-0, 175-pound Theisman finished the regular season second in the nation in total offense with 2,813 yards. Plunkett was UPI's first team all-America quarterback.

Theisman hit on 155 passes of 286 for 2,429 yards and 18 touchdowns during the 1970 season. He was ranked fourth nationally with a completion percentage of 67.8.

The Notre Dame star had a career completion percentage of 57.3, ahead of a record of 56.7 set by Frank Tripucka in 1945-48. Against Southern California last year Theisman completed 33 of 58 passes in the rain and mud for four touchdowns and 526 yards—just 28 yards short of the NCAA record.

Theisman, of South River, N.J., was chosen as an Academic All-America first team selection. He has signed to play professional football with the Miami Dolphins.

Theisman became the 21st Notre Dame player to be selected for the game. Bob Devaney of Nebraska, the nation's winningest coach and a 17-2 victor over McClendon's LSU Tigers in the 1971 Orange Bowl, will pilot the West.

Tickets for this year's game go on sale to the general public April 15. The 1970 contest drew a record crowd of 42,150. Before moving to Lubbock the game was played five years in Buffalo, N.Y., and four years in Atlanta. The series is even at 5-5 between the East and the West.

Cleveland Indians May Or May Not Be Winning Club This Year

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—The Cleveland Indians won 76 games with a bunch of kids and Sam McDowell in 1970 and finished 32 games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

They could win at least 10 more games in 1971 and still finish back in the pack in the tough American League East.

"Ours is the toughest division in baseball," acknowledges Indian skipper Al Dark. "Baltimore is Baltimore and there isn't much I can say about that club. Boston, tough, did some good with winter trades. Detroit also improved by trades and the Yankees should be better than they were."

Working from top to bottom that leaves the Indians and Washington Senators in the A.L. East.

Dark, a realist, doesn't care to predict where his club will finish. He says the Indians could be as good, and conversely as bad, as they want to be.

More Experienced Now
"We were a very young and inexperienced club last year," says the Indian skipper, "so it's hard to say how good we will be this year. The added experience will take care of our improvement."

Pitching, as Dark sees things, is the key to his club's success. He has two strong-armed and talented starters in McDowell, who won 20 and lost 12 last year along with a fine 2.92 earned run average, and Steve Hargan, who came back from the minors in mid-season and won 11 of 14 decisions while posting a 2.90 ERA.

From there it will be guesswork for the Indians to fill out their staff.

"We have a flock of strong armed kids in our camp," says Dark, "and my biggest problem will be trying to figure out who stays and who goes. It's not an unhappy problem, so I'm not complaining."

Alan Foster and Ray Lamb, who came over from the Dodgers for catcher Duke Sims, apparently have the inside track for the other two starting berths. At least, that's how Dark views it at the moment.

Excited About Dunning
Foster was 10-13 and Lamb 1-6 with Los Angeles in 1970. Both are righthanders who throw hard and about the only thing that will keep them out of the rotation, at least at the start of the season, is conditioning.

Behind them as starting candidates are Rick Austin, who was 2-5 with the Indians last year; Rich Hand, who was 6-13; Phil Henigan, who was 6-3, and kids Steve Dunning and Mark Ballinger.

In night games Washington routed Baltimore, 9-3, Atlanta beat Montreal 5-3, and Los Angeles defeated the Tokyo Orions, 2-1.

The Aspromonte deal, which caused few ripples of excitement when announced, took on an added measure of importance a few weeks ago when it was learned that the Mets' regular third baseman, Wayne Garrett, was being called up for six months active military duty and would miss most of the coming season. That left only Aspromonte and rookie Tim Foli as candidates for the third base slot.

Foli came up with a muscle pull Friday and Aspromonte responded to the opportunity with his big day at bat. While Foli is only expected to miss two or three exhibition games, it appears the Mets made themselves a good "insurance deal" in landing Aspromonte.

Rookie Charlie Williams pitched three scoreless innings for the Mets and clubbed a homer while starter Jim McAndrew picked up the victory after yielding the only Cardinal run.

The Cards lost the services of catcher Bob Stinson for three to four weeks with a broken right thumb. Stinson was acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers along with infielder Ted Sizemore last winter for slugger Richie Allen.

Utility infielder John Kennedy lifted his spring average to .318 and clouted a three-run homer to highlight Boston's triumph over the White Sox. Gary Peters, Sparky Lyle and Jose Santiago pitched shutout ball for Boston in a game which was halted after eight innings due to rain.

High School Tennis Squad Meets Defeat

The Pampa High School Tennis Team competed in a meet at Midland Friday and Saturday only to return defeated in B-Boys competition. Daniel and Kelley of Pampa played Robins and Rice of Monterey losing 6-2 and 6-0. Jennings and Ellis composing the other Pampa B-Boys team lost to Friday and Manning of Odessa Permian 6-0; 6-0.

Frank Henderson lost to Bill Wombough of Midland High 6-0; 6-0 in A-Boys singles competition. Pampa will host Phillips here Tuesday at 4 p.m. and then travel to Perryton Saturday for another meet. There is no admission charge to the tennis tournaments and the public is invited to attend. According to Coach Pete Erwin, "We need experience. If you want to come home with a winning record don't go to Midland with first year players. They can't cope with a more experienced player and have not had time to adjust to a better team."

Season Ticket Sales Soar For Buffaloes

CANYON — The football season for Coach Gene Mayfield's West Texas State Buffaloes, does not open for six months but interest in season tickets is at a new high.

Drake. The Buffaloes will be competing for the Missouri Valley Conference championship for the first time.

Renewal cards to last year's season ticket holders were mailed last Friday. By Tuesday, the first day for return-mail, the athletic department received $1,065 from season ticket purchasers, said Mrs. Mary Greiner, ticket manager. "This is the largest amount we ever took in the first day during my 12 years here," Mrs. Greiner said.

"Buffalo Bowl" has 18,735 permanent seats and of this total about 14,000 are available for sale to the general public. "We have never sold 3,000 season tickets in any one year," Mrs. Greiner said. "Last year we sold 2,407, exclusive of faculty and students but we need to sell 5,000 this year."

"In addition to the renewal orders," she said, "we have received numerous telephone orders and orders from persons coming by the ticket office. In all we have orders for more than 150 season tickets."

"More than 100 season tickets have been purchased for the 1971-72 season and most of these were by people who did not buy a season ticket for the recently completed season," Mrs. Greiner said.

The Buffaloes open a six-game home season against Lamar Tech Sept. 18. The week before Mayfield inaugurates his coaching career at West Texas State against Memphis State in Memphis, Tenn.

Other home games will be with Tulsa, Texas-Arlington, Northern Illinois, Idaho and

Six Gridders Sign Letter Of Intent For West Texas

CANYON — Six more high school football stars have signed football scholarship agreements with West Texas State University.

Weaver, 6-0 and 170, was a two-year regular for Permian. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T.M. Weaver.

Three more Odessa Permian players are among the most recent signees announced by former Permian Coach Gene Mayfield, who is now head football coach and athletic director at WTSU.

Dindman, a speedster, was an offensive and defensive halfback for the Berger Bulldogs. The captain of the Berger chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Dindman.

White, 180-pound son of Mrs. Marguerite Herrin, earned all-district honors at center for the Permian state finalist team. He earned two varsity letters.

Hart earned all-city, all-district, and honorable mention All-South Plains for his play at Monterey this past season. The 6-3, 210-pounder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hart. He earned two letters.

Gene Mayfield To Speak At Phillips

CANYON, Tex. — Gene Mayfield, new head football coach and athletic director at West Texas State, will be the principal speaker at the Phillips High School athletic banquet March 23.

Mayfield, 43, whose teams never had a losing season in 17 years of coaching in high schools, was appointed to head the West Texas State athletic program last month.

His head coaching career included four years at Littlefield, seven at Berger and the last six at Odessa Permian. Mayfield's teams won one Class AAAA state championship and lost in the finals on three other occasions.

He received bachelor and master degrees from West Texas State, where he was quarterback on the 1948-49-50 teams. The 1950 team defeated Cincinnati in the Sun Bowl.

No Neutrals On Clay-Frazier As Fight KO's All Objectivity

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali fight wreaked havoc with journalistic objectivity. The eyes and ears and quill pens of the nation—indeed, the world—were painted with emotional colors.

It was not, as Ali had said, "the greatest single event in the history of the planet earth." And it certainly was not a symbolic contest, as he also contended, pitting the 500 million Moslems of the world against the 900 million Christians. But it was so awash with emotion that one cigar-smoking sportswriter at ringside, watching the two fighters dance in their corners before the opening bell, dug into his inside suit jacket pocket, stuck a fat pen in his mouth and lit it.

And he is the kind of sportswriter who is repelled when he sees someone rooting in a press box.

A prize fight, because it is the most primordial of sports events, exposes the guts, usually, instead of the brains of mankind. Sportswriters and fans alike often fall into that latter category.

This fight, more than all others in recent history, sharply divided opinion on racial, political, ideological and even, poetical lines. Most of it focused on Ali: "uppity nigger"? Leftist? Draft dodger? Or anti-establishment Cinderella Man?

The day before the fight, a 75-year-old sportswriter from the Midwest said to an Eastern writer half his age, "I have to pick the sentimental favorite."

"Ali?"

"No, Frazier. He's the sentimental favorite of us older guys."

Howard Cosell, the sportscaster who has worked most of Ali's fights, was not working this one because his television network was not involved. "It's just as well," said Cosell, beforehand. "For the first time in my life I'm too emotionally involved to be objective. Ali's a very close friend, but I think Frazier will win."

And in Manchester, N.H., publisher William Loeb of the Union Leader there banned all prefight advertising and all news accounts of the fight.

"Any able-bodied American who will not fight for his own country doesn't deserve to be allowed to fight in the prize ring and make millions of dollars just because someone else is fighting the battles he ought to be fighting on the battlefronts of the world," Loeb wrote in a front-page editorial.

(Ali, who says he refused the draft on personal and religious convictions, could have used a rebuttal from an old Irish sports buff named W. B. Yeats who once wrote, "Why should we honor those that die upon the field of battle, a man may show as reckless a courage in entering abyss of himself.")

After the fight, Pete Axthelm, sports editor of Newsweek, took a random sampling of sports writers and found that many had rated Ali the victor.

"I will bet," said one. "That the judge who gave it 11-4 for Frazier was wearing an American flag in his lapel. But maybe that's unfair. I mean, I caught myself too many times just watching Ali."

Eudini Brown, who spoke to the press at the postfight interview in place of Ali who had been taken to a hospital for repairs, said to a question, "No, he never complained during the fight. A good soldier never complains in a foxhole."

A sportswriter retorted loudly, "If you've ever been in a foxhole!"

An unlikely looking sportswriter named Gene Fuller (former middleweight champion who now writes some for a monthly boxing magazine) showed a prediction piece he had written. "Here," he said, "I picked Frazier on a knockout, but I thought Ali would quit. But he got more guts than I figured him for."

Jimmy Campbell New WT Assistant Coach

CANYON — Jimmy Campbell, 25, was named an assistant coach by head coach Gene Mayfield today.

presented the "President's Award" in 1968.

Campbell is the fourth assistant named by Mayfield since his arrival at West Texas State. Other coaches on the staff include Leldon N. Hensley, Connie Dean Rudd and Jerry L. Behrens, all of whom worked with Mayfield at Odessa Permian High School.

As a member of the 1967 Buffalo defense, he was praised by his coach, Lee Harrington. "Jimmy is everything you would want in a defensive tackle. . . . Jimmy signed with the San Diego Chargers where he played from 1967-69. He also was with the Washington Redskins during the 1970 season. Campbell intercepted the last pass in the old American Football League in a game against Buffalo in which San Diego won 35-7.

Campbell, an Industrial Education major, graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in 1968 from West Texas State. He played high school football for Ector High School in Odessa.

Campbell kept busy while in San Diego. He was the owner of "Designer's Products", a firm which manufactures office furniture.

A Texas native, Campbell was born in Coleman, Tex. While attending West Texas he was a member of the industrial arts Club and Phi Delta Theta fraternity. Campbell was hired by Coach Mayfield.

Two Guest Speakers Slated For Services At 1st Assembly

BILL GODFREY

REV. C. T. CRABTREE

Special guest speakers at Lamar Full Gospel Assembly of God Church this week will be Bill Godfrey, Ardmore, Okla., scheduled to give a special testimony service tomorrow at 7 p.m., and Rev. Charles T. Crabtree, Des Moines, Iowa.

Special dedication services will be conducted each night Monday through Friday with Rev. Crabtree in charge of services Tuesday through Friday. He was an evangelist for four years after serving as associate pastor in Paramount, Calif., for a time following his 1958 graduation from Central Bible College in 1958. He is presently serving as the President of the Iowa Sunday School Association and is a member of the Foreign Missions Board of the Assemblies of God. He is married to the former Ramona Hudgins of Pampa. They are the parents of three daughters, Renee, Rachel and Rhonda.

Godfrey, a geological consultant is a former alcoholic and is now an Episcopalian layman. He is active in Gideon work, and works with the Carter County Jail ministry in Oklahoma. He also participates in the Methodist Lay Witness Mission Program.

Special music for the services will be presented by the Junior Choir, Church of God in Christ, directed by Mrs. Robert Ellison III.

Liquor-By-The-Drink Proposal Ready For Senate Floor Debate

By KYLE THOMPSON
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — "There'll be no swinging doors in Texas if the high licensing fees stay in the present liquor by the drink bill," South Texas Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg says of the pending liquor legislation. The proposal, by Sen. Joe Christie, D-El Paso, is ready for senate floor debate and Christie says he may move this coming week to bring the bill up for passage to the House.

Under the Christie proposal, establishments seeking a mixed drink sales license would have to pay an initial $5,000 fee and $500 per year to stay in business. The state tax would be 10 cents per drink.

"There wouldn't be half a dozen licenses issued in my district of Cameron and Hidalgo Counties under these high fees," Bates said. The South Texas Democrat pointed out that two of the largest cities in Mexico, where there is no bar to sale of mixed drinks, are just across the Rio Grande from his district.

Bates contends the Christie bill "is not the kind of bill the majority of the people of Texas voted for in the constitutional amendment."

However, Christie does not agree with Bates on the high fee question.

"They will be lined up in El Paso to get permits when we pass this bill," Christie said. "The license fee is not going to make any difference in the price of a mixed drink. It will be $1 to $1.25 per drink whether you charge a fee of $5,000 or $25." Bates claims the high fees will force prices of drinks up to where "the average working guy can't afford them."

Christie replies that "the little guy is going to continue drinking beer or buy his liquor by the bottle because he will not be able to afford the cost of mixed drinks in bars."

Bates said he had done considerable research to back up his contentions. His research shows that a bar would have to sell 1,300 drinks daily every day of the year and make a net profit of 10 cents on every drink to afford the $5,000 license.

"I have checked one of the busiest private clubs in Austin and they tell me that on their biggest day when there is a convention or a football game or something like that in town they sell around 300 drinks per day," Bates said.

He said he is especially concerned because he feels the law would not let bars in South Texas compete with the lower prices in Mexico across the river.

"We have between 65,000 and 75,000 tourists coming to the valley annually and these prices will continue to run them across the river to get a drink," Bates said.

"The important thing they are ignoring is that if they want liquor by the drink to raise money, you must do it from the sale of drinks and not from license fees," Bates said.

Nancy Mathews Says Vows With Jimmy Wallace Fox

Miss Nancy Marie Mathews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Mathews of Skellytown, and Jimmy Wallace Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fox, Jr., of Skellytown, were married in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Murie Rogers of Skellytown first Baptist Church at 8:00 o'clock on the evening of Feb. 27.

Two large baskets of white gladioli flanked by cathedral tapers with greenery appointed the altar for the ceremony. At the close of the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom joined in lighting the memory candle.

The bride was given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal. The bride wore a chapel-length gown of white peau de soie and chantilly lace designed with a square scalloped neckline and tapered sleeves ending in desoie ended with a chapel-length train. Appliques of chosen lace outlined with rhinestones and seed pearls enhanced the front of the gown and train.

The bride's finger-tip veil of French illusion fell from a sparkling aurora borealis crystal and seed pearl tiara. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis and white roses bearing two long stem white rose buds atop a white bible. The roses were given to the bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother as a symbol of her love. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue and wore a sapphire in her shoe.

... nee Nancy Marie Mathews

ATTENDANTS

Miss Vicki Ramming of White Deer attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of royal blue satin designed with a round neckline and empire waistline accented with a satin ribbon. She wore matching head piece of royal blue satin steamers and rose buds and short white gloves.

Bridesmaids were Miss Denise Mathews, sister of the bride, Miss Becky Fox, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Vicki Tollison, all of Skellytown, and Miss Lana Pryor, Oklahoma City, Okla., cousin of the bride. Their dresses were of powder blue satin and made identically to the maid of honor. Each attendant carried a long stem white rose atop a small white Bible.

Best man was Bobby Rapp of Skellytown. Groomsmen were Danny Mooney of Pampa, Jerry Dan Grange and Lonnie Lane of Skellytown, and Mike Cannon of Borger. Ushers were Jimmie Horner of Amarillo, Bill Mooney of Duncan, Okla., Dana Moody of Okmulgee, Okla., and Garry Gortmaker of Skellytown.

Candlelighters were Miss Susan Fox, sister of the bridegroom, and Randy Ruth, cousin of the bridegroom. Junior candlelighters were Miss Paula Mathews of Oklahoma City, Okla., cousin of the bride and Miss Kelley Nichols of Skellytown. The candlelighters were dressed in Oriental Blue satin dresses made identically to the bridesmaids. Flower girls were Miss Kristi and Kari Hill of White Deer. Both girls wore Attendants were Mrs. Karen Horner of Amarillo, sister of the bride. She presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Joan Gortmaker of Skellytown, as she sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

RECEPTION

A reception followed immediately in the Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white net cloth over white satin and in the center was a floral arrangement corresponding with the bride's colors of three shades of blue. Presiding at the table was Miss Mary Beth Peters and Miss Jenny Hawpe of White Deer, Miss Peggy Cornelison, Skellytown and Miss Virginia Mooney of Borger. Guests were served from a four tiered wedding cake which was topped by a miniature bridal couple. Attending the guest register was Miss Margaret Fox, Skellytown.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Fox wore a navy blue and white dress with a white crocheted coat with navy blue accessories and lifted the white roses from her bridal bouquet for her corsage.

The bride is a graduate of White Deer High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of White Deer High School and is employed with Phillips Petroleum Company in Phillips. He is also Music Director at the Calvary Baptist Church in Pampa. The couple is making their home in Pampa.

Out-of-town guests were relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom represented from Oklahoma City, Okmulgee, and Duncan, Okla.; Amarillo, Borger, Sunray, Pampa, and White Deer.

Penny Allen Flaherty Exchanges Wedding Vows With Gary Hyatt

Miss Penny Allen Flaherty and Gary J. Hyatt were united in marriage Saturday evening in a double-ring ceremony performed in the First Baptist Church of Happy. The Rev. Irving Looney of Happy officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Flaherty of Happy and Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Hyatt of Pampa.

A.M. Baggary, organist, uncle of the bride, from Tulsa, accompanied Miss Jan Autry, Pampa, who sang "More," "Turn Around, Look at Me," and "One Hand, One Heart."

Vows were exchanged before a candelabra graced with white gladiola and palm leaves centered with a royal blue bow. Spiral candelabra bearing white cathedral tapers and entwined with palm and centered with white gladiola illumined the setting. Arrangements of white gladiola and carnations flanked the candelabra. Royal blue satin bows marked the pews.

ATTENDANTS

Matron of Honor, Mrs. Orrell Vise of Canyon, sister of the bride, was attired in a formal gown featuring a long sleeved, empire waisted bodice of royal blue velvet and a softly gathered skirt of matching satin. Royal blue sequins encircled the empire waist.

Other bridal attendants were Miss Cathy Jo LaRoe, Mrs. Lloyd Rahlfs of Happy, and Mrs. J.T. Rogers of Pampa. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the matron of honor. Headpieces of matching satin bows and illusion completed their attire. They carried nosegays of pastel roses and carnations accented with royal illusion.

Miss Elaine D'Lynn Vise, niece of the bride from Canyon, was flower girl and carried a miniature nosegay identical to those carried by the bridal attendants. Miss Stephanie Leigh Vise, niece of the bride, was ring bearer.

She carried a white satin pillow edged in scalloped lace and trimmed with small lillies of the valley. The pillow was carried at her mother's wedding and made by an aunt, Mrs. Jack Reich of Dallas. They wore dresses of royal blue mist over taffeta and featured a high-rise waistline accented by small velvet bows, lantern sleeves, and gathered skirt.

Best man was Billy Scribner of Canyon. Groomsmen were Doug Weyler, Canyon, Bob Patterson of Amarillo and Al Gomez of Canyon, J.T. Rogers, Jr. of Goodwell, Okla., and Randall Orth of Pampa were ushers.

BRIDE

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian-styled gown of angel peau designed with tiers of Alencon lace cascading down the front of the dress, waterfall fashion. The bouffant skirt swept into a full chapel train edged with lace.

The bride's elbow length veil of illusion was attached to an organly bow centered with self-fabric rosebuds and lace leaves outlined in seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white sweetheart roses and encircled with feathered carnations and gladiola atop a Bible of olive wood from the Holy Land.

She followed the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed and blue. Upon entering the bride presented her mother with an American Beauty rose; upon leaving the ceremony, she presented the bridegroom's mother with a rose.

The mother of the bride selected a skipper blue knit dress, skipper accessories, white kid gloves and a white carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pale blue crepe dress accented with jeweled collar and cuffs. Her accessories were silver shoes and white gloves. She wore a white carnation corsage.

RECEPTION

A reception in Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mmes. George Rahlfs, Hobart McManigal, Merle McFarland, Forrest Vise, Babe Walberg, Ross Forsyth, Si Elliott, Foster Harman, Dick Railsback, Weidon Sims, John Frank Toles. Misses Vicki Kendrick of Borger and Deby Cox of Levelland presided at the bride's table which was covered with a floor-length white Swiss organly cloth. Centering the table was a silver candelabra bearing white tapers. Other appointments were silver and crystal. The five-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white bells and roses and topped with white carnations.

The bridegroom's table from which chocolate wedding ring cakes and coffee were served, was covered with an ecru linen cloth and featured a brass and copper coffee service. Misses Debbie Jackson of Borger and Sharon Groves of Perryton presided at the table. Misses Elaine, Stephanie and Andrea Vise distributed small rice bags.

Miss Alecia-Airhart registered guests. The bride is a graduate of Happy High School and is a student at West Texas State University in Canyon.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Pampa High School and is attending West Texas State University. He is also a member of Phi Delta Theta.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
Pre-nuptial courtesies included a bridal shower in the Forrest Vise home and a personal shower in the Babe Walberg home. The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was at Sutphen's Barbecue in Amarillo the evening preceding the wedding. Among out-of-town guests were: K.P. Hart, Ardmore, Okla.; Mrs. Jack Reich, Dallas, and Mrs. J.T. Rogers, Sr., Jody, and Carrie Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rainbolt, Tamara, Kelly and Heather; L.M. With the club president, Mrs. Ralph McKinney, presiding for the business meeting Antique Show Chairman Mrs. S. Gene Hall presided for show arrangements.

Work schedules were arranged and handbills were given out to be distributed over Pampa and the area.

The club's annual Antique Show and Sale scheduled March 26, 27 and 28 will be held in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn, with proceeds going to raise funds for Opportunity Plan Inc., a scholarship program for area youth.

Show times are 1:30 p.m.-9:00 p.m. March 26 and 27 and 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday, March 28. Window displays of items included in the show will be on exhibit in downtown stores and in the Coronado Shopping Center.

Mrs. Fraser introduced John Furbach, a gemologist from Amarillo, Furbach, one of eight gemologists in the state of Texas, said gemology comes from the Latin word meaning a small precious thing.

"A gem's value depends upon three things: rarity, durability, and beauty. Three thousand substances are cut for gems. A stone cannot be identified by looking at it. One must have laboratory equipment to test a stone," Furbach said.

Pampa Garden Club Hears Archeologist

Approximately 20 members of the Pampa Garden met recently in the Hospitality Room at the Southwestern Public Service Company. Mmes. Helen Knox and Katy Jordan served as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by club president Mrs. James Malone. Guest speaker was Mr. Roland Lee, archeologist at Sanford Recreation Area, who showed various slides on Alibats Quarry. He was associated with the National Park Service since 1966 and has been associated with the Petrified Forest work in Arizona and Quivera National Monument in New Mexico.

Mary Weaver read letters to the group of gardeners from interested Americans asking various organizations and individuals to write letters to Vietnam requesting names of Americans held prisoners in Vietnam. Mrs. James Hayes is organizing the drive here. The Pampa Garden Club will sponsor a tour April 22-23 to Tulsa and Muskogee, Okla., to visit public and private gardens. Any interested person is invited to join the tour. If interested, contact Mrs. Thelma Bray, 1305 Hamilton as soon as possible.

Pampa Garden Club members announced they have qualified for a Blue Ribbon Rating in the state for next year.

A district convention will be held in Amarillo March 24 and 25. Delegates to the convention from the Pampa Club will be Mrs. James Malone, district director, and Mrs. Richard Sommer. Alternate delegate will be Mrs. Joe Curtis.

The Rosebud Garden Club, a junior club sponsored by members of the Pampa Garden Club, will have a program on planting presented by Mrs. Lois Boynton at their next meeting. Gladys Osborne informed the group now is the time to use bordeaux mix on peonies as they are breaking through the ground.

Linda Sue Core Pledges Vows With Clarence Edward Cornutt

Linda Sue Core repeated wedding vows with Clarence Edward (Doc) Cornutt in a double-ring ceremony in the Mayfair Church of Christ at 4 p.m. Saturday, March 13. Dr. Tony Ash, of the Church of Christ in Abilene, performed the ceremony in a setting of white mums and greenery baskets flanked by candelabras.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Everett R. Core of Oklahoma City, Okla. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. T. Cornutt, 1330 Duncan.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her uncle, Riley F. Cavin of Oklahoma City, the bride wore a re-embroidered Alencon lace on English net that trimmed the empire gown of peau de soie.

Her chapel-length train and bishop style sleeves were accented with Alencon lace. She wore her great-grandmother's wedding band.

Her silk illusion chapel length veil fell from a matching headpiece of lace dotted with jewels. She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid and showered with satin streamers and tulle.

ATTENDANTS

Attendants were Mrs. Willis L. Starnes of Austin, sister of the bride, as matron of honor. Other bridal attendants were Molly Cornutt, the bridegroom's sister, of Ennis, and Mrs. Tom Faver of Wichita Falls. They were all dressed in yellow crepe empire dresses with green velvet ribbon belts, and carried yellow cascades of pom pom mums.

Best man was Jim Cornutt of Abilene with Charles Richmond of Abilene and Jack Thompson of Austin as groomsmen. Ushers were Willis Starnes, Austin, Rob Core, and Barry Owens, both of Abilene, and Jack Williamson of Houston.

Wedding music was provided by a chorus from Oklahoma Christian College, who sang "We've Only Just Begun," and "One Hand, One Heart."

RECEPTION

For the reception in the church parlor the table was decorated with an arrangement of yellow and white Spring flowers, with a multi-tiered cake decorated with yellow and white flowers. Miss Gail Cavin assisted at the punch service. Kayla Pursley and Becky Parker served cake as Mrs. Rob Core registered guests.

For the wedding trip to Lake Euatula, the bride wore a yellow knit suit with matching yellow shoes and purse and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Alamo Heights High School, San Antonio, and a 1970 graduate of Abilene Christian College with a B.S. degree. She is employed as certified public formerly a teacher employed in Midland Independent school District. The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High School in 1967, and is a 1971 graduate of Abilene Christian College with a B.S. degree. He is employed as certified public accountant in Dallas.

Methodist Women Slate Conference

The third annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference Women's Society of Christian Services will be held at First Church, Pampa, March 23-24.

Theme for this year's meeting is: "We Press On." Registration of delegates and visitors will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. March 23. The meeting will adjourn following the pledge service and Holy Communion which begins at 1:30 p.m. March 24.

Mrs. Cecil R. Mathews, conference president, will preside for the sessions and Mrs. C.B. Melton, vice-president will present the program.

Those assisting in the presentation of the program include several out-of-conference personnel: Miss Florence Little of Atlanta, Ga., first President of Methodist Church of the Women's of Pampa.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have two sons, married to girls I dearly love, and I hope the feeling is reciprocated.

One son is meticulous in his appearance and the care of his clothes. The other son, while a perfectionist in his work, is very negligent about his personal appearance. His clothes are often in need of pressing, cleaning, buttons, etc.

Don't you think that a wife should systematically go through her husband's wardrobe and keep his clothes in good condition? When my husband was alive, I devoted each Monday morning to this purpose and found him most grateful for my interest.

NON-INTERFERING MOTHER-IN-LAW
DEAR NON: What you are trying to ask is, "How can I get my daughter-in-law to take better care of my son's wardrobe without damaging our relationship?"

You may not be able to. But since your son is old enough to be married, he's old enough to ask his wife's assistance in keeping his clothes presentable if indeed he cares about his appearance. If neither he nor his wife care, no matter how many buttons you notice "missing," continue to keep your lip buttoned.

DEAR ABBY: In regard to abortion. Women must learn to say no to their husbands more often. In fact, everyone must say no to evil. We are now living in a warring, whoring, boring world because we have forgotten God's word. Jesus told us that if a family cannot afford more children they should quit having sex.

I have never married or had sex even though I have been asked. If a person can say no to evil once, it is a lot easier the next time.

Jesus also said, "Love the sinner, but hate the sin." People today have it turned around. They love sin and hate the sinner. If I sound holier than thou it is because Christ has made me holy.

"A SAVED WOMAN"
DEAR "SAVED": You insist upon equating sex with sin, and feel that the absence of sex has made you somewhat "holy." Theologians (and indeed Christ Himself) would disagree with you.

DEAR ABBY: They say "time heals all wounds," but this wound of mine has not healed, and it has been 10 years.

A neighbor boy (I'll call him Jim) is the living image of my husband, John. I have a son Jim's age, and they are constantly taken for "twins." John and I have discussed it, and he weakly denies that it is anything more than a coincidence. I know better. A year before Jim's birth there was a ugly talk about this neighbor lady and my husband.

The older Jim gets, the more he resembles my husband. There is talk, even now, and I can understand why. I try not to blame anyone, least of all the innocent boy, but it is so difficult for me to have to look at him and members of his family nearly every day.

How can I put this out of my mind? Moving is out of the question. The other family must hear the gossip, too. Don't you think they should move? We were here first.

John is a wonderful husband and father to our children. I can't go on this way. Is there a solution?

DEAR TRAPPED: My only suggestion would be for you and your family to move. You say, "It's out of the question." As I see it, it is out of the question for you to remain where you are. It would be well worth any sacrifice you'd have to make in order to relocate.

Lota Pounds Off Elects Officers

The Lota Pounds Off TOPS Club met Monday night in the Central Baptist Church with 14 members weighing in.

It was reported by the weight recorder, Mrs. Leon Brown, the club lost 9 lbs. Mrs. Ernest Leudecke received the fruit basket with 3 3/4 lbs. loss.

It was announced a salad supper scheduled for March 15, has been postponed until March 22.

New officers elected were Leader, Mrs. Gene Hinds, Co-leader-Mrs. Fred Hutchens; Treasurer-Mrs. Bob Fick; secretary, Mrs. Elmer Williams; weight recorder, Mrs. Leon Brown; corresponding secretary-Mrs. Tom Rodgers; reporter - Mrs. Ernest Leudecke.

They will take over duties of their new offices April 1st.

Those present were Mmes. Fred Hutchens, Leon Brown, Jenna Hinds, Ernest Leudecke, Bob Fick, Elmer Williams, Floyd George, Tom Rodgers, Ray Ramey, Butch White, Vangie White, Shirley White and Gene Hinds.

Two or three volunteers are needed for two weeks. No secretarial training is required, but volunteers need to contact Cecilia Fowler, executive secretary.

Mrs. Carlton Nance, director of volunteer activities for Highland General Hospital, notified The News she still needs more Pampa and area women to volunteer service hours at the hospital.

Sweater Girl—1971—slimming, long-line pullover in quick-to-knit stockinette. Special longer ribbing gives this classic a custom look that really dresses up pants and skirts.

Classic Sweater Is Knit Bargain

By JUDY LOVE

Hunting for a fashion bargain? It's open season on sweaters—and for all nitters, here's a beauty in classic design.

This handsome pullover is a real find for you. It's an easy, long-line silhouette that gently hugs the body. Unusual longer ribbing snug the neckline, the sleeves and the bottom of the sweater. An experienced knitter will race along in basic stockinette stitch, and turn it out in no time—while watching TV, probably. Less skilled knitters can work it easily, too. The basic stockinette stitch (K1 P1) is very easy to work, and the good looking long ribbing is a simple K2 P2.

Color is a pretty way to welcome Spring, and the brilliant range of Coats & Clark's Red Heart Wintuk sport yarn will do your winter-weary heart good. Knit this pullover in rich raspberry, for example; or select sunshine shades of gold, apple green, or think pink.

You'll need from 10 to 14 twopy (2 oz.) skeins of yarn, depending on the size you're knitting. Easy directions are available for sizes 10 to 16. Incidentally, you'll work the entire sweater on No. 6 needles.

This fashion-right beauty (and it's a bargain when you knit) is perfect with pants, whether you like them hot, as they say in fashion circles, or just worn with regular pants or slacks, as they say in my group.

So start your spring salute in good season. For instructions for this good-looking figure-flattering pullover sizes 10 to 16, just send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, C-0 Pampa Daily News, Radio City Station, Box 503, New York, N.Y. 10021. Ask for leaflet S312. Be sure to include your name, address and zip code.

Knit Knacks
Dear Judy: Sometimes my paper gets put out before I tear out your column offering directions for something I'd like to knit or crochet. Do you have a listing of instructions available for items you've talked about in your column? Thank you.
—Mrs. D.K. Royal Oak, Mich.

Dear Mrs. D.K.: Thanks for asking. Yours is the most recent request from hundreds of needle-workers who have asked for directions from earlier columns. Accordingly, I've gone over the various fashions and articles offered in the past, and am now compiling a listing of the most popular ones. This will be ready shortly, and will be available free, when you order any set of instructions.
Keep up your good work.
—JUDY LOVE.

WCS Studies South America

GROOM (SpI)—The Women's Society of Christian Service met in the Methodist Church parlor with the president, Mrs. Bill McKee, presiding.

The study on the "Reality of South America" was led by Mrs. Van Earl Steed, assisted by Mmes. Glynn D. Harrell, Phil Farley and Glyn Kirby.

Mrs. T. G. Fields showed films of the South American countries and explained living conditions and religious conditions. Hostesses were Mrs. Margie Emery and Mrs. Phil Farley. Those attending were Mrs. T. G. Fields, guest and members, Mmes. Frank Grantham, George Latta, Ernest Lamberson, Crim Goodlett, Cleo Schaffer, O. R. Major, Lynnward Harrison, Roy Ritter, Curtis Schaffer and Nath Helton.

Twentieth Century Forum Club Conducts Spring Guest Day Tea

The Spring Guest Tea was held in the home of Mrs. Homer Johnson, with 35 members and guests present to hear the program "The Maya Culture and Art," presented by Mrs. Larry Cross and Mrs. Homer Johnson.

A short business meeting was conducted by President Lora Barber. Mrs. McHenry Lane, chairman for the art show to be held at the federated convention on April 1st explained the regulations regarding exhibiting works of art. The federated Club Convention was discussed and plans were made for early registration.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Cross presented the early history of the Maya people.

"The Classic period of Maya civilization lasted for 300 to 900 I.A.D. It was during this time that the Maya erected their highest and handsomest temples and built their most ornate cities," Mrs. Cross said.

"The driving force behind their building, carving, and stargazing was religion. The center of this religion was maize (corn) the Maya staff of life. Survival depended upon the maze crop. The Maya concluded that there were Gods of Sun, Rain, Maze, Wind, and Earth which could influence the crop.

"They also believed the Earth had four corners, North, South, East, West. Therefore the Rain God was four-in-one. Prominent mountains, springs, and rivers all had gods. The Mayas worshipped a large number and variety of gods," she said.

"Honoring the gods with ceremonies of elaborate pomp however, frequently did not always produce a sufficient crop. The Maya people turned to the stars, and the cycles of time. This resulted in numbers becoming Gods. They developed a very accurate calendar due to this belief.

"Human sacrifice was used to give the gods power. This led to a need for slaves to be used for this purpose. Campaigns were waged to secure prisoners. Priests were the main rulers. They wore beautiful clothes of feathers and fine carved necklaces, anklets, and bracelets of jade. By 900 the priesthood lost its power and gradually the cities were abandoned and devoured by the jungle. The beautiful pyramid-temples and carvings of stone were to be lost to man until modern man was to overcome them and restore their beauty," she said.

Mrs. Homer Johnson showed movies of the cities and pyramids of the Mayas, the race of the master builders.

"In fully tropical lands rose the great stone sites of the Maya. This style is pre-industrial, related to a religion, symbolism, solemnity and grandeur. The cities shown in the film were Chichen - Itza and Tulum with a style of buildings almost abstract in their angles.

"Many distinguishing features influenced contemporary Mexican architecture. Among them were the step pyramids, monumental flights of stairs, passages with corbeled vaults, raised temples and porticoes, walls decorated with engraved balustrades, subtle balance and satisfying linear and - special relationship prefabricated ornaments. The painted murals, open spaced areas are now predominant in Mexican architecture," she said.

All of these features were apparent in the buildings shown in the film. The most important of these buildings were: The Pyramid of the Magician (five temples), Palace of the Governors, House of Tortoise, House of Dove, The Quadrilateral of Nunnery, Chichen-Itza-Mouth of Well of Itza, Pyramid El Castillo, Temple of Warriors, Tzimpantion Skieil.

Following Mrs. Johnson's film, Mrs. Cross gave a demonstration with bees-wax on the art of sculpture and explained in detail the technique.

No More Drippy Ice Cream Cones
By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — The bottoms of old-fashioned, funnel-shaped ice cream cones are quite often broken off in the box. This leaves a swell place for the ice cream to run out and kids are sloppy enough without any help. Right? I just pinch off a little piece from a slice of bread (Polly's note: If you have some "getting dry" cake on hand it might taste even better), deposit it in the cone and you are ready to pile it up. As the cream melts, the bread acts like an edible sponge.

SALLY H.
Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — How could one renovate white metal cupboards so they would look professional? Mine are getting soufled and yellow with age and I am afraid painting would leave brush marks.

MRS. E.C.
DEAR POLLY — Mrs. P.J. could put 10 or 15 grains of uncooked rice in the bottom of her thoroughly dry shakers and the rice should avoid any further moisture. I have done this for years with both salt and pepper shakers and with good results. Still leaving the pepper shakers in a steamy kitchen may have caused her trouble.

MRS. G.H.
DEAR POLLY — My pet peeve is with the packagers of products that will most often be used in recipes for other things, such as brown sugar, shelled nuts, tomato paste and so on. Weights are given on the containers but recipes call for so many cups or tablespoons. Why can't these measurements also be added? Often I have to buy two of something for fear the required amount to go in a recipe will not be in one can or package. This makes a dent in that week's food budget as double the required amount is very often bought.

Couple Exchanges Double-Ring Vows

Barbara Jean Vance was united in marriage with Robert James Dyer in a double-ring ceremony in the First Christian Church. The Rev. Ralph T. Palmer officiated for the afternoon ceremony Saturday, Feb. 13.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Given W. Vance, 310 E. Browning. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Dyer, Spotswood, N.J.

Miss Sandra Vance, sister of the bride, was organist for the ceremony. Mrs. Alton J. Fields, of Lockney was matron of honor. Billy J. Mayfield, stationed in Dallas at the Naval Air Station, was best man. Ushers were Allan Breazeale, James D. Laramore and Dennis Dehn. Miss Pamela J. Allen of Pampa was candlelighter.

For the reception in the First Christian Church parlor, the guests were served by Mrs. Earl Maddox, Mrs. Norman L. Allen and Miss Jean Neslage at the punch and coffee service. Mrs. Cecil R. Newman served cake as Gwen Brunson registered guests.

Pre-nuptial events included a miscellaneous shower in the First Christian Church parlor Feb. 4 with eight hostesses, Mmes. Earl Maddox, Mrs. Norman L. Allen, Mrs. James Washington, Mrs. Walton K. Bailey, Mrs. Will Breazeale, Mrs. Lloyd Laramore, Mrs. John Zuerker and Mrs. Chester Klein.

Know your eggs! WASHINGTON (UPI)—Whether you realize it or not, you buy eggs by weight, not volume. The grade and the size determine prices. The U.S. Department of Agriculture sets standards for sizing: a dozen large eggs must weigh at least 24 ounces; mediums, at least 21 ounces, and smalls, at least 18 ounces.

If the price spread per dozen eggs is less than seven cents between one size and the next smaller size of the same grade, your best value is the larger size. For instance — Grade A large eggs 60 cents a dozen give you more egg for the money than Grade A mediums at 54 cents.

royalty introduced the wearing of jewels by women," he said.

Last year in the United States 6 1/2 million carats of diamonds were used. Diamond mining became an industry in India between 800 and 600 B.C. and for 2000 years India yielded all of the known diamonds. In 1869 the famous Kimberly Pipe was discovered in Kimberly, Africa, he said.

The diamond is the hardest natural substance known to man. Diamond cutting is a long and careful operation. Some stones are cleaved, which is splitting, but most stones are sawed across the grain by a thin blade coated with diamond dust. Then diamonds are rounded. Cutting of a one carat diamond may take two weeks.

"Factors that determine a diamond's value are carat weight, color, clarity, and cut. Pink diamonds are perhaps the most expensive. The shaping of a diamond is critically important to its value. Rubies are the most valuable of the stones; then come emeralds, and then diamonds. But regardless of your point of view, diamonds are still a girl's best friend," Furbach said.

Following the program, refreshments were served to the 12 members and the guest.

CANARY's comments

By Betty Canary

Even the most liberal children are conservative when it comes to their parents. They may protest that father is old-fashioned and constantly complain about mother being "out of it," but try a few innovations and see what happens.

One woman I know decided to toss out the furniture she had hated for years. The kids had gone Mod in their rooms with inflatable chairs, black-light posters and incense burners.

Their mother decided she'd surprise them by, in their words, "getting with it." So, she went shopping on the sly, bought metal and plastic tables and a colorful sofa resembling a collapsed balloon.

She was convinced her teenagers would go into a frenzy of delight when they saw she had decorated the living room according to their tastes.

Instead, they reacted as if she had just plundered their castle. The last I heard, she was scurrying about, trying to trace things through Good-Will and Salvation Army stores.

A daughter will war ecstatic over her English teacher's "fantastic" beard, but let her father decide to grow one and she'll wail, "You can't mean that!"

She will sing the praises of the "terrific" clothes her friends' mother wears until her own mother buys a pair of knickers. The listen to her change her tune.

Announce that you're tired of driving a station wagon and you've decided to get a sportscar.

The kids won't say "Crazy!" They'll merely imply that you're getting senile.

Baptist W.M.U. Attends Luncheon

The W.M.U. of First Baptist Church met recently for a covered dish luncheon and book review, with Mrs. Carroll Ray leading the opening prayer.

Mrs. Bill Greer announced the special churchwide mission activity for March will be boxes for missionaries to emphasize the annual Annie Armstrong Home Mission Offering.

There are six different boxes to choose from which will be sent to home missionaries in New Mexico, Oklahoma, and to the Woody Northcutts who are Pioneer Missionaries sponsored by the Pampa church in Shelby, Mont. These boxes will be collected March 28.

Mrs. George Smith who led the study of the book, "The Diakonic Task" by Walter Delamarier, said, "This book deals with the many problems in America and the different ways individuals can help. It emphasizes the importance of ministering to the whole man."

Mrs. Win Cates, Mrs. Dan Cameron, and Mrs. Sam Condo illustrated this with a skit.

Mrs. Smith stated that the church has three basic tasks, preaching and teaching the good news (kerygma), fellowship and participation together, (koinonia) in the encounter of Jesus Christ with the world. The church is charged with the expression of Christian faith in love and service to all men (diakonia).

Mrs. Carroll Ray who presented a part on love, said "everyone who loves knows God. The Christian who is an effective helper in Christian social ministries is an evangelist in an important sense of the word as he communicates Christ through his being — through what he is, does and says — demonstrating that Christ is a living reality in his life."

Mrs. James Malone, Mrs. Win Cates, Mrs. Roberta Wood, Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer and Mrs. George Henderson showed with a skit what young people are trying to say — the conflict between what is preached and what is done.

Approximately 30 attended.

BETROTHED

Linda Small

Linda Louise Small and Gary Dale Johnson plan a June 21 wedding in the Chapel of Park Street Methodist Church of Amarillo. The bride-elect is the daughter of George P. Small of Amarillo and the late Betty Small. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson, 2505 Charles, and a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School. He was a member of the PHS National Honor Society, and is a pre-law student at Amarillo College. Miss Small is a graduate of Amarillo High School and attends Amarillo College.

El Progresso Club Has Guest Day Tea

A Friendship Guest Day Tea was held recently by the El Progresso Study Club members for their guests in the band room of the music department of Pampa High School.

The hostesses were Mmes. Glen Dawkins, Veri Hagaman, Jess Clay and Tom Perkins.

The president, Mrs. Ted Curtis, welcomed the guests. Mrs. J.F. Malone introduced Miss Elena Donald, choral director of Robert E. Lee Junior High, who presented the vocal program. Miss Donald, a native West Texan, was born in Pampa and holds degrees from Hardin-Simmons and the University of Colorado.

Miss Donald set the theme of "Americanism" in her presentation of numbers. She told the group, "One should look for the beauty of America in nature." She sang "America" and also selections from "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Oklahoma."

For her introduction to "Climb Every Mountain," she said, "one of the beautiful things about this country is that every man is free to pursue his dream." She concluded her program with "This Is My Country" and "God Bless America."

Miss Donald's accompanist, Donny Jones, a senior of Pampa High School and a student of Robert Hoffman of Amarillo, performed a piano solo and played background music during the tea.

The guests were served from a tea table set in a patriotic theme of red, white and blue.

At the conclusion of the tea, tours of the newly redecorated auditorium, the new library and science units were led by Dr. J.F. Malone and Cameron Marsh.

Exchange Student Addresses ABWA

Regina Stucci, foreign exchange student from Brazil, was the guest speaker at the recent American Business Women's Association meeting.

"Brazil is the fifth largest country in the world," she said. "There are 93 million people in Brazil with three-fourths of the people living on the coast and the remaining one fourth in the inland. My home town of Campinas has a population of 400,000. We have an international airport, two universities, one state and one Catholic, and an agriculture center in Campinas."

Regina plans to be an engineer and will do work in food technology. She has one brother age 15 and two sisters ages 10 and 12. Her mother is a teacher and her father is a lawyer.

"It is hard to get into college. Only about half pass the entrance exams and only 10 percent finish," she said.

Carnival is the most important holiday in Brazil. It is held the four days before Lent. The celebration lasts from 11 p.m. till sunrise. The children dress in paper costumes and when the judges pick the best costume, the children jump into the swimming pool. The children's parties are held on Sunday and Tuesday afternoon.

Cora McNair, who gave the vocational talk, is employed by the USDA, ASC office in Miami. She is a program clerk and is also active in several local civic organizations.

The Spring Hand of Friendship Tea will be held on Sunday, March 21, from 3 till 4:30 a.m. at the Citizen's Bank.

The Boss Night banquet has been rescheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 16. It will be at the Red Key Steak House with Rev. Ralph Palmer as speaker.

There were 15 members and two visitors, Regina Stucci and Peggy Daniel present. Members present were Mrs. James Quary, David McNair, Arville Hayes, Maude Voyles, Jack Hollingsworth, Eunice Maddux, Betty Bowen, George Richmond, C.A. Herd, Ted Mastin, John King, Don Elledge, George Reed, James Culpepper, Danny Malone, and Shirley Nichols.

Foot-Binding Gets Boot In New China

HONG KONG (UPI)—The Chinese are a sophisticated people. But sophistication sometimes is accompanied by cruelty, such as in the case of the Golden Lotus.

In old China, judgment for femininity was based on the weakness of the female sex. Toward this end, ladies of the upper classes had their feet bound, willingly or unwillingly.

The smaller the feet, the more beautiful the women. Poets called the best bound feet "Three-Inch Golden Lotus." But a woman had to go through enormous pain to obtain Golden Lotus. Only a few women achieved three-inch feet. Most settled for three-and-a-half, four and up.

It all began with a beauty loving emperor, His Imperial Majesty Li Hou-chu of the Tang dynasty, 618-907 A.D. The emperor's beautiful maid-of-honor, Lady Yiu, was skilled in dancing.

His Imperial Majesty ordered the molding of a 6-foot high golden lotus and adorned it with jewels and diamonds and silk ribbons. Lady Yiu was asked to bind her feet with white silk ribbons in the shape of a new moon and dance on the golden lotus. The emperor was delighted with the way she danced.

The emperor's wish became the people's command. Girls from rich or high class families had their feet bound when only three or four years old.

Poor families could not afford to bind the feet of their daughters, because they had to work. Since intermarriage between different social classes was scarce, these girls remained "uncourteous and unsightly" throughout their lives.

Foot-binding became widespread in the Sung dynasty, 960-1280 A.D., and remained a must for "educated ladies" until the 19th century, when western culture began to invade China.

After the establishment of the Republic of China in 1911, the number of women with bound feet steadily decreased. Even those deeply entrenched in past traditions began to realize that it was a cruel practice.

The Golden Lotus are dying out, and most likely will vanish before the end of this century.

The other day I met two of the last pairs of Golden Lotus at the Little Sisters for the Poor Home for the Aged.

"Foot-binding is bad," said Mrs. Wong Lin-tung, 78. "I have suffered considerable inconveniences because my feet are bound. My feet ache when I walk.

Mrs. Lai Yung, 84, was equally angry when she recalled the practice which forced her to bind her feet when she was still a child.

"It's bad to have one's feet bound," she said. "You can only walk like an ant and there are lots of inconveniences."

Mrs. Wong said she had her feet bound because her father-in-law refused to permit his son to marry her until she obtained the feet of a lady.

"So my mother had to bind my feet when I was 13," she said.

Mrs. Wong married at the age of 17. The Chinese in the past engaged their sons and daughters at a very young age. She said she unbound her feet at the age of 21 "because I had to work." Her husband died a few years later.

Mrs. Lai said she was ordered to bind her feet by her father when she was 5.

"My mother did the binding for me," she said. "I did not feel much pain — I cannot remember the pain now — because I was small. My father asked my mother to bind my feet because it was considered a fashion for girls at that time."

She said in foot-binding, the girl's toes would be bent back onto the footsole and then bandaged tightly with a piece of long cloth.

"I was married at 19 and I unbound my feet when I was 35. I could not move properly because of my bound feet. But since my family was rather well-off, we had servants and maids and I need not do any work."

Austin PTÁ Has Musical Program By Children

The Stephen F. Austin Elementary School P.T.A. met in the auditorium of the school on Friday of Public School Week. Mrs. Carl Williams, president, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Clyde Rodecape was recognized with a gift because she was chosen earlier in the year as one of the 12 outstanding teachers in the State of Texas by the Texas Educational Rewards Board. ## Disasters Change Behavior Patterns

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Living through an earthquake, hurricane or tornado is a terrifying experience for everyone, not least the children.

In the aftermath of Southern California's devastating earthquake Feb. 9, many youngsters expressed their fears by behavioral regression—they resumed sucking their thumbs, wetting the bed and didn't want to leave their mothers' sides.

Dr. Stephen J. Howard, director of clinical services at San Fernando Valley Child Guidance Clinic, which has treated more than 400 parents and children since the quake, said youngsters were most upset because they realized their parents were afraid.

"This happened in the dark," Howard said. "Lights were out, people were stumbling about looking for flashlights, screaming 'Stay where you are' or 'Get under the doorway!'"

Howard said many parents made the mistake, after the quake ended, of rushing around the house surveying the damage, leaving the children alone in their darkened bedrooms.

"My advice, in an emergency, is stay together," he said. "Children are not so much afraid of being injured or even being killed as they are of being left alone and being separated from their parents."

A clinic spokesman said most of the youngsters brought in for treatment had not expressed their fears aloud to their parents. In therapy they said they were afraid to go to bed now "because the bed might go wiggle-wiggle."

The experts said it was better to admit to the children that everyone is afraid during an earthquake or other natural phenomenon.

"Tell them, nothing is going to happen to us, rather than nothing is going to happen to

Council Of Clubs Presents Program On POW Letters

The Council of Clubs met Thursday March 4, in the City Club Room for their monthly meeting, with Mrs. Billy Tidwell, president, presiding.

Mrs. L.E. Penick presented a sample copy of a P.O.W. letter and asked all members to write a letter for the possible release or at least some information about America's sick, wounded and imprisoned servicemen in Vietnam. Mrs. Libby Shotwell also distributed Bumper Stickers concerning this.

Mrs. Ruth Sewell presented new Constitution and By-Laws, which were approved by Council members.

Two new representatives were present, Mrs. Betty King of American Business Women's Association, and Mrs. Marie Boyd of the Welfare Index.

Approximately 13 members were in attendance.

Homemaker Explains Metric Adjustments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Home makers will be able to keep their favorite family recipes and kitchen utensils if the United States adopts the metric system of weights and measures. A member of Ohio State University's home economics department says, the homemaker should have little trouble adjusting to the new system. Dr. Fern Hunt, an associate professor at the school, did some of her own weighing and measuring on the proposal before deciding the consumer would have the easiest part of all—if a change were made. The metric study bill in 1968 authorized the secretary of commerce to conduct a study on the feasibility of using it in the United States. Dr. Hunt presented some of her information to the study conference on this matter. She discovered learning the new system would be simplified for school children. "They will only have to deal with one simple system based on tens rather than our present complicated one of pounds-ounces and feet-inches," she said. "Figuring of quantities and costs in the marketplace for consumers should be simplified on a system of tens in comparison to the mental exercise currently necessary to convert pounds to ounces and figure costs per unit." Difficulties arose, she said, in the standardization of tools and gauges, interchangeability of machine parts, simplification of international exchange and clerks learning new sizes. "But actually, the consumer may have it the easiest," she decided. During her research, Dr. Hunt discovered a standard measuring cup has a capacity of 236.6 milliliters, equivalent to one-fourth of a quart. The "liter" under the metric system would be 250 milliliters. "This would mean an increase in size by just under one tablespoon and the new capacity would be one-fourth of a liter instead of one-fourth of a cup," she said.

Wrap-Around Trip To Fashion World

This spring it's fling a cape, lace up a boot, flip on a wide-brim hat, button or belt a coat, slip on a pantsuit and swirl on a shawl. These are the fashions making headlines. The key word is movement and up-to-date looks give swathe and swagger, keeping you knee-deep or longer in the most exciting clothes to be seen in a long time. Making the biggest news this season are the wrap-arounds—capes and shawls. Watch for them to slink around shoulders, swirl over coifs and spark up all kinds of fashions. Choose put-on that fits your mood, be it gypsy, romantic or swash-buckler. The interest in shawls and capes was ignited last year. That's when the gypsy look, old-fashioned-girl style and romanticism began to attract both designers and women across the country. And what's better than a fringing-fringing shawl or a flowing cape to cuddle your shoulders, to accent an evening gown, linen dress or sweater and pants? Another important feature of this season's fashions is their versatility. Today's woman is demanding clothes that are all-purpose and able to meet any weather condition. An aerosol stain and water repellent (Scotchgard) sprayed on a cape or shawl can protect your put-ons from stains and create all-weather apparel. You can treat fabric boots, capes, shawls and hats yourself and stay dry and in fashion—shape no matter what the elements have to offer.

What better way to protect your coif in a sudden shower than with a gypsy shawl? This triangular wrap-around (left) swings with long fringe and allures with startling birds and flowers on a white background. The swaggering cape (right) is in denim. Accent it with a wide brim hat and tapestry-laced boots. There's a bonus in this spring's fashion bag, too. All these items have been sprayed with Scotchgard to repel sudden spring showers.

Handle with care NEW YORK (UPI)—Longer wear for the popular panty hose comes with careful handling. Do wash pantyhose before wearing. Washing strengthens fibers. Always wash after wearing, no matter how tired you are, because perspiration deteriorates nylons. Burlington, one of the leading makers, offers this suggestion also—wear gloves when washing hose if you can't get sharp rings off or have rough nails. And don't hang them on a faucet or any other surface which isn't smooth.

Allegro Members Study Animal Life

Twelve members of Twentieth Century Allegro attended a program recently at the home of Mrs. John McCausland, 2701 Aspen, as members studied "Mysteries of Animal World," presented by Mrs. Raymond Reid. "All mammals with the exception of the platypus and the echidna, give birth to and nurse their offspring. It is in raising of their young that mammals reveal their greatest attribute, their tremendous capacity for warm affection," she said.

"Mammals—the highest form of animal life began their evolution 200 million years ago during the great age of reptiles. There are perhaps 3,200 species ranging in size from the shrew, weighing two-fifths of an ounce to the blue whale, who plunges his 130 tons through the ocean," Mrs. Reid said. "The clown of the antarctic," Mrs. Reid said "is the penguin. While we humans think they look and act like people they are sobering evidence they think of us as just big penguins. They are very curious and observe people and everything going on around them."

"The bat's sonar system is studied closely by the armed forces and is figured to be a billion times more sensitive and efficient than any radar or sonar device made by man, she said. "If man knew the answer to how the bat avoids jamming and how they distinguish between echos bouncing off insects and those bouncing off objects they wish to avoid, man's electronic guidance and detection devices could be revolutionized," Mrs. Reid said.

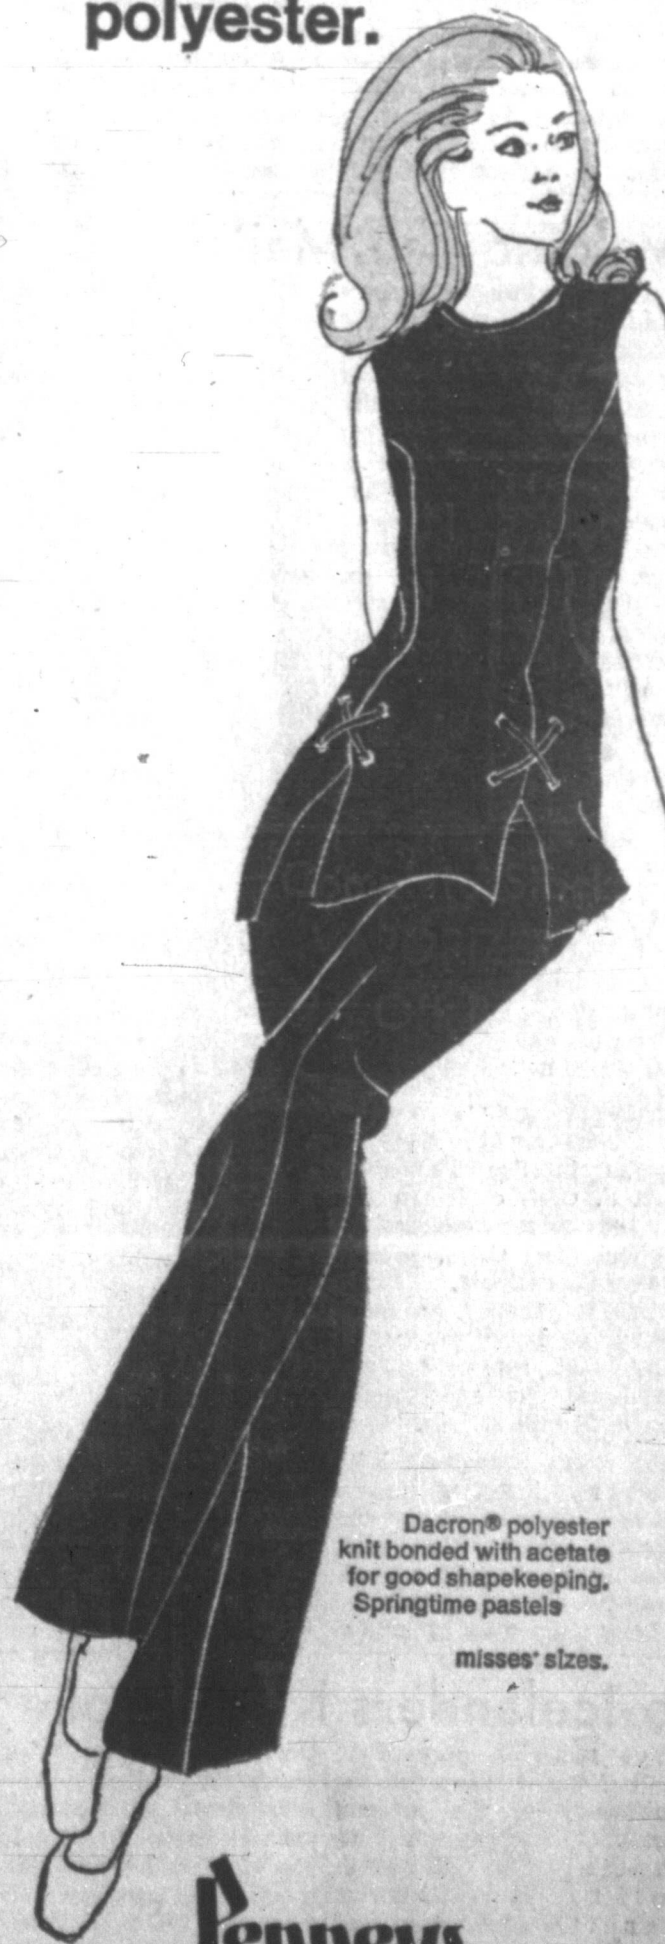

She gave examples of the highly developed community life of the Prairie Dog and his gregariously in craftily engineered colonies of burrows and mounds.

"Tuesday was Texas Day for Varietas Study Club, which opened at the home of Mrs. R.W. Lane, with the club president, Mrs. Eunice Pierson Bohot presiding. A business meeting was held and refreshments were served by the hostess.

The afternoon's theme was "Discover the Panhandle" and the study consisted of a trip through the White Deer Land Museum. Present were Mmes. W.H. Burden, H. Price Dosier Sr., S.C. Evans, J.E. ## 'Women's Lib' In Russia

On March 8, Communists and their affluent allies of Women's Liberation celebrated "International Women's Day," which has replaced Mother's Day in Marxist-Leninist society.

The Soviet press in marking the annual event, printed articles about the "full equality of sexes in Russia."

Pravda editorials bewailed the inferior status of enslaved and exploited women in the United States and the capitalist West and stress the "glorious role of the emancipated Soviet woman."

But the official paean to Russia womanhood is another typical example of the gap between doctrine and reality in the Communist world.

The Kremlin's propaganda, no matter how shrill, can no longer disguise the underprivileged position of Russia's working women some 53 years after the Bolshevik revolution.

Even some Soviet sociologists now admit that many women labor under unhealthy and exacting conditions, particularly in heavy industry, and are inadequately protected from exploitation by men.

In their view, the woman's burden of coping with a job and a family leads to unwelcome social consequences, such as an increase in broken marriages, juvenile delinquency and a falling birth rate.

According to official Soviet statistics there are at present (excluding the collective farms) some 40 million women wage-earners or approximately 50 per cent of Russia's labor force.

More than 90 per cent of working women are employed as hired labor. They are even in the majority in some branches of industry where conditions are detrimental to health. This is particularly true of the chemical and building materials industries where women comprise 76 per cent.

According to Komsomolskaya Pravda, "in agriculture nearly 90 per cent of the unskilled labor force is made up of female collective farm workers."

What particularly disturbs the more daring sociologists is the fact that even in branches of industry employing a majority of women the supervisory posts involving no physical work — tallies, time-keepers, foremen and works managers — are held by men.

"Why does a woman dig a ditch while fat-faced Ivan stands there and marks in a little book how many cubic meters of earth she piles up?" the Literary Gazette asked.

"Why is Mary working in the field while Peter, in the prime of his life, sits there toting up her work day? Why has Lenochka got a hammer while Michael runs around with a tape measure?"

Such vexed questions on the status of female labor, rare in Russia, are not encouraged by the Kremlin.

Soviet women, especially the unqualified, are hardly aware of their underprivileged status. Only a minority, usually the young and the better-educated see the true lack of equality of the sexes. Even their dissatisfaction is seldom expressed in social protests but rather in personal tensions and a strained family atmosphere.

Thus, on March 8 many of Russia's working women, as is the custom, got flowers but not a day off to celebrate their "emancipation and equality."

The Kremlin's single-minded rulers choose to ignore the reforms urged by the sociologists.

"International Women's Day" provided them with a convenient opportunity to glorify the role of the Soviet woman in production, to urge her to work harder and better and to distract attention from her onerous lot as a "builder of the shining edifice of communism."

If a pregnant student in New York City goes into labor or gives birth while in a classroom, she doesn't have to worry about a thing. The printed instructions to all New Department of Health has sent New York City schools telling how to bring the baby. Perhaps the school which produces the most babies this year should be renamed Midwife High. In 1969 there were 2,487 reported pregnancies among unmarried, New York girls in the grades from seven to twelve. That's double what it was when the last survey was made eight years ago. "The Pill" was barely in existence, if at all, eight years before, when unmarried pregnancies were half what they are now.

Isn't it strange that Nasser's two leading successors had a "heart attack" the day of his funeral? It has been suggested by some cloak-and-dagger cynics that maybe all three were poisoned. Three top leaders stricken in one week. Sounds like Russia. Why shouldn't it? Russia is now in the saddle in Egypt.

There are still 12 men in the State Department who were on Joe McCarthy's list of subversives.

I'm told that secret revolutionary conferences are now being held throughout our country planning a paralyzing march on Washington this spring. You can rest assured that any Communist criminal leader would be welcomed to come here for that march.

Criminal Casto can come here but Rhodessa's Christian President, Ian Smith cannot.

According to a news item — some of which you can believe — a Russian has been sentenced to death for stealing from the State. We couldn't afford to do that. Who'd then run our government?

Lyndon Johnson predicts that the Presidency of the United States lies ahead for Ben Barnes, 32-year-old Lt. Governor of Texas. Barnes does indeed appear to be a genius and miracle worker. In the ten years he has been in office, he reportedly has never earned more than $4,800 a year and yet he is thought to be a millionaire. His running mate for the Presidency should be Bobby Baker — or Lyndon.

Your government — or, rather, what used to be your government — is now, without your knowledge or consent, pouring billions of your dollars into bankrupt companies. Penn Central railroad for instance.

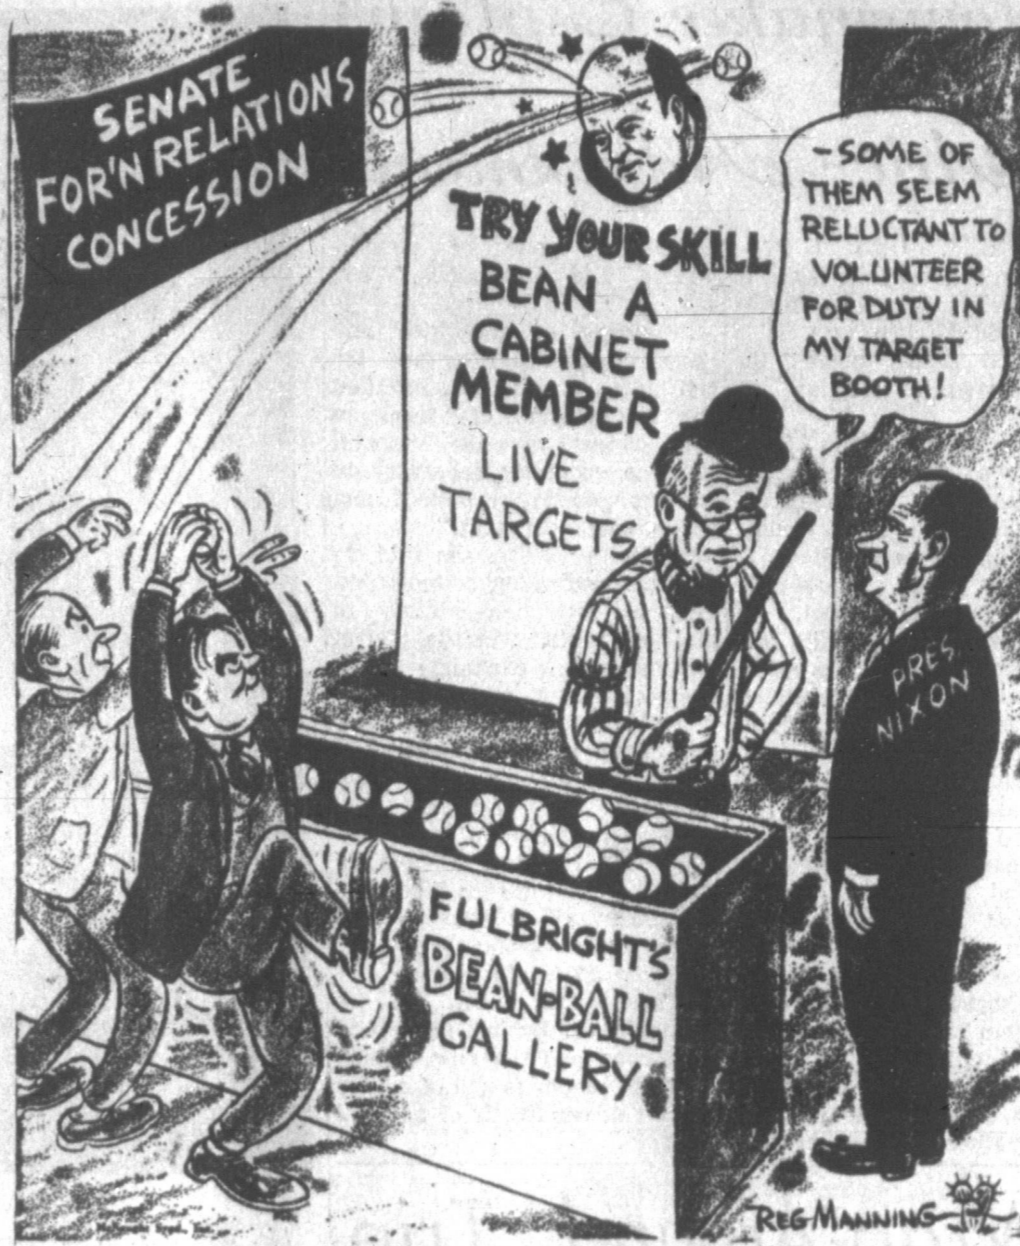

Scuttlebutt has it that the Federal Reserve Bank has guaranteed loans to Penn Central, Chrysler and Lockheed. Where does the Federal Reserve get all that money? They create it! After all, our money is now only paper!

Businesses which can't make it, should be allowed to go broke. Otherwise our government will.

The so-called stingy Scotsmen have rivals for the title. The population of Gabrovo, a Bulgarian town with 21,258 inhabitants, has a reputation for being even more tight-fisted than the residents of Aberdeen. Having recently learned that the Scotsmen have a similar reputation, the Gabrovians now want the Bulgarian Embassy in London to send them a collection of jokes about their counterparts who also love the jokes about their stinginess and who do everything to keep their reputation alive. There is one story which says the Gabrovians cut off the tails of their cats so that the animals can pass more quickly through the door, thereby conserving heat. There is another Gabrovian thrift tale about a man who slipped while mending the roof. As he fell to the ground, he called to his wife to "Prepare dinner for only one today," comments The Review of the News.

Agriculture Sec'y Next—Vigorous Replacement Sought

WASHINGTON — Stark political and economic realities are forebodingly closing in on scholarly Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin.

His cabinet tenure is definitely on the wane.

The departure of the former University of Nebraska chancellor will not be as harsh and abrupt as that of former Interior Secretary Walter Hickel — who was curly fired.

There is a big difference in the backstage White House standing of the two men. Hardin is personally well liked. Hickel wasn't.

What is most likely in store for Hardin is that he will either be "kicked upstairs" to some impressive sounding but innocuous appointment, or be allowed to exit in his own way.

But one way or another, he is definitely slated for replacement. Politically and economically it's in the cards.

As Agriculture Secretary Hardin's position is increasingly untenable.

Economically, agriculture is in the dumps. Last year farmers were particularly hard hit. While consumer food prices soared, prices to growers sagged — in some instances to demonstration-provoking lows.

Politically Hardin is under mounting fire from influential Republicans in Congress and key rural areas — notably the Midwest. They are openly critical of his "attitude" and policies, and make no bones of putting much of the blame on him for setbacks in their sections in last year's elections.

This strongly held GOP sentiment was expressed very frankly to President Nixon during his Des Moines sortie last Monday.

Regional Republican officials and state legislators, in private talks with him, bluntly urged he "get rid of Hardin." It was made very clear that he is widely viewed as the "symbol" of farmer grievances and it is essential to replace him.

BILL OF COMPLAINT— A graphic illustration of this potent opposition is the outspoken comment of Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa — grain and livestock farmer, and member of the weighty Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee. Zeroing in squarely on one of the chief complaints against Hardin — that he is too "temperate" and "ineffectual" in pressing agriculture's interests — Scherle said:

"More than ever before, American farmers need a strong advocate for their cause. That responsibility belongs primarily to Secretary Hardin, and he should begin to exercise his vocal chords and influence without undue prodding from Congress. While Farmers represent only six per cent of the nation, the population of areas which depend heavily on agri-business income raises the national percentage to 35."

"For too long rural interests have been represented in the Cabinet by one who speaks softly while holding the 'small end of the stick.'"

A prominent Republican senator, a ranking member of the Agriculture Committee, was equally disapproving. Said he:

"And the only way to stop it is legislative action limiting the number of employees in the Agriculture Department. That is what I am going to do."

POSSIBLE SUCCESSORS — Hand in hand with the widespread backstage conjecture about when and how Secretary Hardin will depart is surmise over his likely successor.

The inside word is that a list of likely prospects already is in existence, and that the President has discussed various names on it with farm leaders. These sources indicate that foremost among those under consideration are:

Rep. William Scherle, vigorous advocate of a forceful policy to produce high farm prices and promote rural development. For the latter purpose, he is sponsoring a far-reaching bill providing for tax incentives and other measures.

Robert Spitzer, Burlington, Wis., agri-businessman, who was considered for Agriculture Secretary but wasn't named when Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., was selected for Secretary of Defense. At that time, it was felt that two Wisconsinites in the Cabinet would be too much.

Now, apparently, that is not deemed a handicap.

I agree with Mr. Pafford (editor's column 3-8-71) that it was very heartwarming to see so many Pampa fans at the bi-district basketball game in Amarillo.

I also became ashamed as some fans threw cups on the ball court. They also hit a referee with a cup. This was not at all high school students. I personally saw adults throw cups on the floor and the worst sports were not our teenagers, but supposedly mature adults. Parents just do not set the right example for these students at all times as they should. I am not sticking up for the poor sports who are students but I do not appreciate adults who act like children.

The Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESE
Editor

AT THIS point one begins to wonder if the nation's fight fans would be gullible enough to stand for another fight between Cassius Clay and Joe Frazier. We call em "fight" fans rather than "sport" fans because we have never considered fighting to be a sport.

They have been talking about a rematch, no doubt with the hope in mind it would bring another multi-million dollar closed circuit television gate.

Just why anybody would want to go through another round of the Barnum and Bailey balldrop like that which preceded last Monday night's fight is more than we can fathom.

Frazier's manager has told him he should retire while he's on top. Clay's wife wants him to get out and fight no more.

Personally, we think the advice in both cases is good.

Another thing we can't understand is why so-called fight fans will pay $100 or more per ticket to see a couple of men beat each other into a bloody pulp. That was the price paid in many instances by ringsiders last Monday night. The closed circuit television viewers paid anywhere from $10 to $25 per copy.

STILL A third thing we don't understand is why the public fell for all the pre-fight television spectacles designed to build up interest. It was inflated and blown up as a typical oldtime Kentucky hills fued in which Clay always had to be restrained from committing mayhem on Frazier and vice versa.

Judging from the millions of dollars poured in at the Madison Square Garden gate and television gates all across the nation, the public DID fall for it and fell hard.

In our book it was all hog wash — real muddy hogwash. But we all took it, hook line and snip. The newspapers, radio stations and magazines all succumbed to the would-be stoneage viciousness of the two warriors who played-acted they would stage Murder One in the ring on fight night.

The Pampa News was no exception. We joined with the others in promoting the pre-battle antics staged in the tradition of circus atmosphere with which Mr. Barnum pulled in all the customers he could entice into the big tent. He always said, "there's one born every minute." In the case of the Frazier-Clay fight that probably could be widened to "two or three every minute."

The news media put out all the free publicity when at the same time, in order to protect the closed television circuit, the promoters wouldn't even let radio or newspapers tell what was happening in the ring at the time it was happening. They had to wait until it was all over before they could file a blow-by-blow report.

Like we said, the art of boxing was side-tracked and derailed long ago and we do not consider prize fighting to be a sport. It is nothing more nor less than a racket to make a lot of money for promoters who are smart enough to hire a couple of muscle men who — for a couple of million dollars apiece — are willing to step into the ring and beat out each other's brains.

The sad fact remains that millions were willing to pay the price to watch last Monday night's spectacle of violent bodily injury staged under the name of a world's heavyweight title "fight."

WITH THAT off our chest, let's get into some potpourri. In the mail comes a note from Lula Egan Quinlan, garden editor of The Tulsa, Okla., Daily World, who was nice enough to report that Russell Studebaker, former Pampa and now horticulturist for the Tulsa Park and Recreation Dept., has just been elected president of the Oklahoma Horticulturist Society.

When in Pampa, according to Mrs. Thelma Bray, Studebaker worked with the Pampa Garden Club and was responsible for the adoption of Pampas Grass as the official city flower. Currently he is working with Mrs. Bray in the planning of an April 22-23 chartered bus tour of Pampas and other area residents to Tulsa and Muskogee, Okla., where they will visit public and private gardens.

DROPPED by the other day to visit Roy Bourland, of the Bourland-Leverich Supply Co., who is recovering at his home from a coronary bout which kept him in the hospital for a little over two weeks. He was feeling fine and chomping at the bit to get back on the job.

Among other things, he told us that for the first time he realized the importance of The Pampa Daily News in his life. During his confinement Bourland said, the one thing he found most difficult to wait for was the daily arrival of The News at his hospital room.

"It was the first time," he said "I came to the realization of how important the local newspaper really is in the daily life of our community."

SPEAKING OF news, Looking for some good news? Try these headlines:

7,250,000 college students did not riot last week.
Most nations were at peace this week.
Americans have money left after taxes.

The Bible is still best seller.
Hippies are only .0067 per cent of the population.
Millions love, obey parents.
Spring always follows winter.

Ground-breaking for Pampa's new civic auditorium is scheduled this week.

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb

Think Young, Don't Dwell on Ailments
Dear Dr. Lamb — Would thinking about getting old and wrinkled and varicose veins cause these things to happen?

Dear Reader — If you think about them long enough.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have a pain in the heart and wondered if any one ever gets over this or is it something I will have to learn to live with? I am nervous and in my 40s and female. Would you say something about angina of the heart in your column?

Dear Reader — The most common cause of anginal chest pain is atherosclerosis, fatty deposits in the arteries. It is fairly uncommon in women of your age and quite common in older women. Men can have it, too, particularly after a heart attack.

Emotional tension or excitement can cause the pain. That is why the doctor tries to eliminate excitement or stress for a heart patient.

Often an overweight person can help himself by losing a lot of weight. This decreases the amount of work the heart needs to do. I can't emphasize too strongly that even if a person has a minimal amount of extra fat, the loss of fat can greatly increase the amount of work a person can do without having heart pain.

Of course, coffee, particularly in nervous people, should be stopped and cigarettes eliminated. After weight reduction some people benefit from a walking program. But before you start you should check with your doctor to be certain an exercise program won't be too much for you.

Incidentally, life's situations—like getting excited watching television — often cause the heart to work harder than a good normal walk. A person has to have rather severe heart disease before he can't walk in good weather.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Is chicken fat high in cholesterol?
Dear Reader — No. However the American Heart Association believes that a diet high in fat leads to elevation of the blood cholesterol in the body even if the food is low in cholesterol. This is particularly true of saturated fat, (usually animal fat). Fryer chicken and young turkeys are the best poultry source of meat with limited amounts of fat.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Avoiding The Mails

Since United States regulations prevent the possibility of competition with the U.S. mail service, a great deal of energy and ingenuity has been expended to get around the monopoly channel.

The Indianapolis Star has reported on Purdue University's efforts to speed up delivery service. Their version of the Pony Express earns an extra $15,000 to $20,000 a year.

Because of the "unreliability" with the U.S. mail, Purdue officials set up a faster way to get their monthly appropriations from the state auditor's office into the bank so it could start earning interest.

It works like this. A man from Purdue's 38th St. campus, in Indianapolis, picks up the checks and deposits them immediately in a local bank. That bank then calls the one in Lafayette, where the main campus is, and confirms that the money is on deposit. Purdue then instructs that a part, usually about $2 million, of the total deposit be placed in short-term treasury securities.

By avoiding the usual four days of mailing back and forth between Lafayette and Indianapolis, interest earning time is gained, yielding the extra $15,000 to $20,000 which goes into the university's general fund.

It Was A Poor Guess

The lot of an economic prognosticator, like that of a "libert and Sullivan" person, is not an easy one.

Speaking recently before the Commonwealth Club of California in San Francisco, Stewart S. Cort, chairman and chief executive officer of Bethlehem Steel Corp., pointed to one prime example.

In 1963, he recalled, an under secretary of labor sounded a warning that automation and technological change would eliminate 24 million jobs.

What really happened? With industry investing record amounts in new plant and equipment—which, Cort said, means automation and new technology — non-agricultural jobs have risen from 57 million in that doomsday's year of 1963 to 71 million in 1970.

What the experts missed, according to the steel executive, "was the fundamental point that 'advanced technology creates jobs, and it makes them less arduous, safer, and more remunerative.'" Had some of the prophets suggested less than a decade ago—such as an abbreviated work week—been carried out, Cort said, they could only have driven costs up and aggravated our present economic problems.

His advice to present-day Casandras is: "Panic and despair are not constructive states of mind. Prophets who oppose new ideas should recognize an obligation to be highly responsible when making public forecasts."

So Icelanders May Smoke

We've made it a point to remind News readers of the inconsistency of the national government, which is attempting to discourage smoking, even outlawing cigarette advertising over government-licensed TV and radio stations, while subsidizing tobacco growing and promoting sales overseas of the "filthy weed."

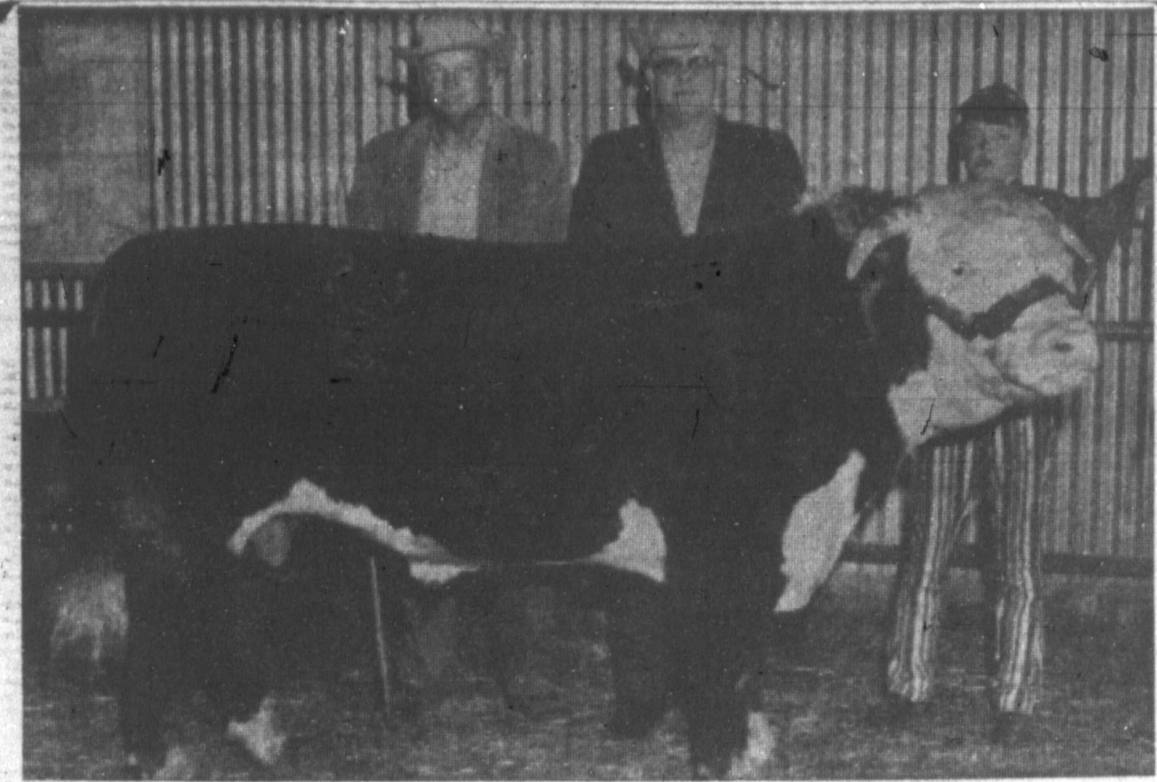

Now we read in the Wall Street Journal that the Department of Agriculture "is busily drumming up cigarette sales abroad. It apparently has gone so far as to grant Iceland $1,374,000 in low-cost loans so that Iceland can buy American cigarettes for its citizens. That amounts to about $7 for every man, woman and child in Iceland."

No wonder the Agriculture Department budget continues to rise, as farms continue to decline in the United States.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst Window on the World: Peking's military ambitions in the Formosa Strait.

Soviet Crackdown: Westerners in Moscow expect a new crackdown by Soviet authorities on Jews. They say recent protest petitions, mass demonstrations at government offices and threatened hunger strikes have harmed the Soviet image abroad. Granting of visas to several hundred petitioners, including vigorous activists in the past few months, appears to have encouraged others. Therefore it is possible the number of exit visas may be reduced, and at the time efforts intensified to isolate Western correspondents both from pro-Israel Jews and general dissenters.

Tough Going in Vienna: Defense experts and diplomats expect tough going at the resumed strategic arms limitation talks in Vienna next week between the United States and Russia. Contributing to their problems is the news that Red China now has an intercontinental missile. Any agreed Russo-American rocket freeze would not cover China, an aspect that may gain considerable weight by 1975.

Red Chinese Shifts: The Chinese Communists gradually have been shifting their military might away from the coast opposite Nationalist China's island of Quemoy, site of the 1958 Formosa Strait war, military sources say. They say nearly half of the 1,200 artillery pieces the Chinese reds once deployed on the Chekiang coast half encircling Quemoy have been moved to other parts of China, as have been some of the half million troops in Chekiang province. The sources said the process began as long as five years ago at a pace so slow as to be hardly noticeable. They said Nationalists' military quarters do not consider the Red withdrawal as abandonment of

4-H Corner

By RICHARD GUGGISBERG and JANA COLE Asst. Agents The 4-H subcommittee met Thursday night to discuss plans for the 1971-72 4-H Club program. Many exciting ideas were given. It is hoped that this can be the best year ever for 4-H'ers in Gray County. Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Alvin Reeves, Mrs. Pat Burk, Mrs. Luther Welborn, Mrs. Ted Atwood, Mr. Don Morrison and Miss Cindy Youngblood.

Another Top O' Texas Livestock Show is over. Dennis Brooks of McLean exhibited the Grand Champion steer which was a Hereford. Eddie Davis of Pampa showed the Grand Champion swine which was a Duroc. The steer sold for $1 a pound and the swine sold for $2 a pound.

Janet Smith, Gray County 4-H, had the Reserve Breed Champion Hereford, while Thad Green exhibited the first place lightweight Hereford with Cricket Lowery right behind in second.

Hank Jordan showed the second place Lightweight Hampshire Barrow. Others in the top fifteen in the Barrow Division were Mike Craig, Mark Craig, Chris Skaggs, Don Smith, Jim Morrison, Dusty Morrison, Clint Couts, Joe Couts, Linda Couts.

Others showing pigs were Johnny Winegeart, Mike Harkins, Dana Smith, Roger Medina, Peggy Baggerman, Rodney Frazier.

Others showing steers were Beth Smitherman, Hank Jordan, Tracy Rice, Marshal Hopkins, Jim, Dusty, and Frank Morrison; Sue Smith, Diane and Delynn Miller; Kit Long, Joe, Clint, Marlyn, and Linda Couts; Donna McFall, and Joe Richardson.

OUR SOIL FOUNDATION OF THE NATION

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

Last week we tried to bring our readers up to date on the current status of the Texas Water Plan. We also tried to explain why there is a Texas Water Plan.

In 1968 an amendment was placed on the ballot permitting the issuance of four and one-half billion dollars in bonds to support a plan that would take care of the water problems for Texas through the year 2020. The bond issue failed by less than 6,000 votes. Lethargy on the part of West Texas voters contributed to the failure of the bond amendment issue.

For a comparison let us look at the eligible voter list in just seven Panhandle Counties. In Gray County 1,480 voted out of 9,915 eligible. In Carson 670 out of 3,036 voted. In Potter 4,452 out of 30,066 voted. In Deaf Smith 1,290 out of 4,526 voted. In Hutchinson 1,639 out of 10,729. In Moore only 790 out of 5,177 and in Ochiltree only 489 out of 3,467 cast their votes. The percentages in the other Panhandle counties were similar.

Most of the people in the Texas Panhandle, both urban and rural, are aware that we face a water crisis. Our economy is now a water-based one. Few areas of the nation have seen the economic progress witnessed during the past 15 years in our area.

Water, Inc., considering the obstacles it has had to overcome, has done a fine job. It must now do a better one. The officers and directors of Water, Inc. along with those who contribute to its operation must take a new hard look at the structure of Water, Inc., and seriously ask itself if the men who now control Water, Inc., are men who can and will get out the vote when we again have an opportunity to vote on a bond issue to implement the Texas Water Plan.

Speakers appearing on the program of Water, Inc., at its annual meeting on February 19 were more than just ordinary people. Most of them were top authorities in the field of water. One of them was Brigadier General H. R. Parfitt, Commander of the Southwest Division, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He is going to play a vital role on any movement of water from the Mississippi River should it ever come about. What he said is of great importance to the future of West Texas and the Texas Panhandle. We are carrying a portion of his address in our column today:

"As you probably know, in Texas we call the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico Water Import Study 'the Import Study' for short. Water Resources people in the Mississippi Valley call it 'the Export Study.' This is sometimes confusing to me, since I am a member of the Mississippi River Commission in addition to my duties as Division Engineer. So, I guess that what I call the study depends upon which hat I am wearing at the time. Incidentally, when I speak today about the Mississippi River Commission's preliminary information on the import study, I am speaking of staff information, so you will hear me speaking in terms of 'they.' We, as a Commission, have taken no official action on the study as yet. As you know, the study is a joint effort between the Mississippi River Commission, the Corps, and the Bureau of Reclamation.

The MRC's job is to determine if there is surplus water in the lower Mississippi River available for export to Texas and New Mexico, and also to plan the facilities necessary to convey the water to the vicinity of the Texas-Louisiana State Line in the event there is a surplus. We will continue General Parfitt's address next week.

Shamrock To Show 'The Restless Ones'

SHAMROCK — The Billy Graham film, "The Restless Ones," will be shown by the Shamrock Ministerial Alliance during the St. Patrick's Celebration on Saturday, March 20th. It is the first time the film has been shown in this area.

There is no charge or ticket sales but a free-will offering will be received at each.

The film will be shown at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, March 20, in the Shamrock High School Auditorium, followed by a presentation of the patriotic musical, "Sing Out, America, For God and Country," at 8:30 p.m. The film will be presented a second time at 10 p.m.

Of God And Man

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

Formal religious education of children before the age of adolescence is worse than useless. It may do permanent harm to their spiritual development.

That startling assertion is made by two Catholic educators, Dr. Robert O'Neil and Fr. Michael Donovan. O'Neil is assistant professor of psychology at the University of Detroit. Donovan is chaplain to Catholic students at the University of Michigan.

They are authors of a small paperback book which ought to be read and pondered by parents and pastors of all denominations. The title is "Children, Church & God." It can be ordered from the Corpus Books division of World Publishing Co., (2231 West 110 St.) Cleveland, Ohio.

Wrong Concentration
What O'Neil and Donovan are saying, in dead earnest, is that virtually every church in America is going about religious education in the wrong way.

Gray County Had 15 Car Accidents In Feb.; 10 Injured

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 15 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during February, according to Sergeant J.L. Dalrymple, Highway Patrol Supervisor in the Pampa area.

The crashes resulted in no fatalities and 10 persons injured. The rural traffic accident summary for Gray County during the first two months of 1971 shows a total of 31 accidents resulting in 19 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for February, 1971, shows a total of 473 accidents resulting in 24 persons killed and 254 persons injured as compared to February, 1970 with 404 accidents resulting in 22 persons killed and 181 persons injured. The 24 traffic deaths for the month of February, 1971 occurred in the following counties: Dickens, 5; Ochiltree, 5; Potter and Roberts, 2 each; Carson, Hardeman, Parmer, Wheeler, Jack, Knox, Lamb, Lubbock, Palo Pinto, and Throckmorton with one each.

and Protestant churches concentrate most of their religious education effort on young children between the ages of 5 and 13. Relatively few resources are invested in educational programs for high school and college students, and still less is done about adult education.

This means, say O'Neil and Donovan, that "a disproportionate amount of religious education is aimed at those who can least benefit from it."

They cite contemporary studies of learning psychology which show that pre-adolescent children simply are not able to handle the kind of abstract or analogical thought that is necessary to attain any real concepts.

Roadblocks To Maturity

They can learn the right words and definitions, and parrot them back to their pleased teachers and parents. But the only way they can cope with the ideas behind the words is to reduce them to concrete, oversimplified terms. And this often leads to bizarre concepts of God which are "worse than no understanding at all" because they become roadblocks to mature religious thought at an appropriate age.

O'Neil and Donovan contend this is the real reason why so many young people abandon religion entirely soon after they reach adolescence. Their growing minds recognize the superficiality and untenability of their childhood concepts of God, and they have been encouraged to regard those concepts as the teaching of the church.

So "they reject a Christianity which they never learned to know at all."

O'Neil and Donovan are not suggesting children should be kept away from church until they're 13. They are speaking solely of formal religious education—the kind that attempts to impart conceptual knowledge. This, they say, should begin only at adolescence.

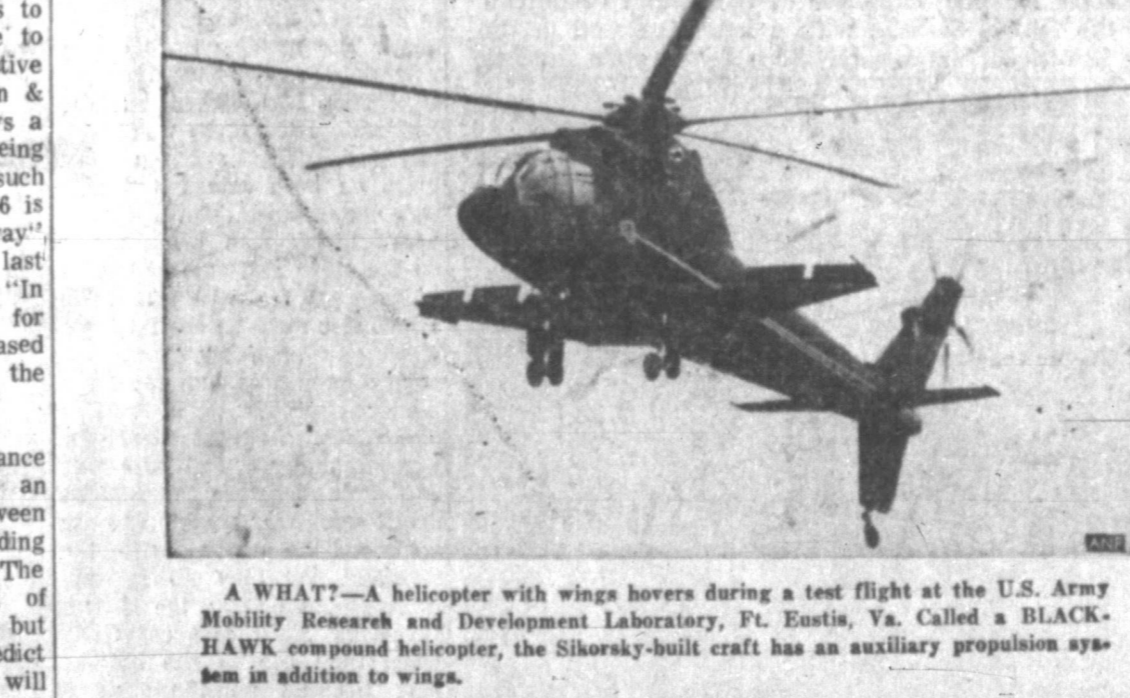

A NEW TWIST — An experimental off-road combat vehicle called TWISTER climbs out of a lake in California after a swimming test. Propelled by water-jets when in water, the two-body, eight-wheel vehicle can swim six miles per hour. Each TWISTER body has its own engine. During this exit from the water, the rear body is pushing with water-jets while the front wheels grab the ground for traction. Lockheed Missiles & Space Co. developed the vehicle and the Army Tank-Automotive Command at Warren, Mich., is testing the TWISTER for possible military use.

SECURITY IS SOUGHT in barbed wire on the outskirts of Cambodia's beleaguered capital, Phnom Penh. Soldiers wall preconstructed barricade sections into place near a bridge across the Mekong River as a safeguard against infiltration and sabotage by Communist forces nearly surrounding the city.

STUDENT UNREST offhand would appear to be getting out of hand at England's once superstit Cambridge. The artillery, as it turns out, wasn't serious although the student's point of protest was—the government's expulsion order against German radical student leader "Red" Rudi Dutschke, temporarily a guest at Cambridge.

A WHAT?—A helicopter with wings hovers during a test flight at the U.S. Army Mobility Research and Development Laboratory, Ft. Eustis, Va. Called a BLACK-HAWK compound helicopter, the Sikorsky-built craft has an auxiliary propulsion system in addition to wings.

Regional Conference On Aging Will Be Held In Amarillo March 27

Elderly persons and specialists in the field of aging will meet Saturday, March 27, to draft policy proposals in preparation for the National White House Conference on Aging.

President Nixon issued a formal call for the second White House Conference on Aging to meet in Washington D.C. the week of November 28. The Conference will build on the results of the first White House Conference on Aging held in 1961.

As a result of recommendations made by the first Conference, an Administrative consideration and amendments before they are then transmitted to Washington D.C. for the National Conference.

Community forums which provided older persons the opportunity to discuss their needs and desires were held throughout the nation in September. The data obtained from questionnaires and written reports will be used as resource material for proposals.

More than 27,000 persons participated in 650 community forums in Texas, according to Mrs. Carter Clifton, Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging.

"The results of the 12 regional conferences and the State White House Conference on Aging will make a significant contribution towards establishing a sound state and national policy on aging," Mrs. Clifton said.

Easter Seal Offers Services To Crippled Children, Adults

Persons with physical handicaps who need treatment and services in Gray County may find the services they need through Paul Keim, Gray County Representative of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

The Easter Seal Society offers rehabilitation services to children and adults with physical disabilities including speech and hearing problems, according to Mr. Keim.

The Society also operates an information and referral service that will direct residents of Gray County to other appropriate sources of health and welfare aid in the area, he said.

He urged parents, doctors, nurses, clergymen and other individuals and organizations to refer handicapped persons who need assistance to the Easter Seal Society by contacting him at the First National Bank, Pampa.

The Texas Easter Seal Society offers 20 treatment centers where services are provided to crippled children and adults regardless of their ability to pay. Physical, occupational and speech therapy are offered to help the handicapped to overcome their disabilities.

The Easter Seal program is financed by contributions made during the Easter Seal Campaign which is now underway and will continue until April 11, Easter Sunday.

During 1970, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services to over 21,000 children and adults with a variety of physical handicaps.

Keim urged that contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal be made as soon as possible.

Mathematics Teachers To Meet In Canyon

The Great Plains Council of Teachers of Mathematics will meet Saturday, March 20, on the campus of West Texas State University in Canyon.

School Of Nursing Will Celebrate Its Career Day

Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing will have its annual Career Day and "Miss Future Nurse, 1971" contest on March 19, at the Psychiatric Pavilion, Medical Complex, 7201 Evans Street in Amarillo. High school students from the Tri-State area are invited to attend.

The theme for the day will be "Nursing — Everyone's Concern." Entertainment will be furnished by second and third year nursing students of Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing.

Twenty-nine contestants from four states will compete for the title of "Miss Future Nurse, 1971" as well as for a trophy and a scholarship to Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing.

Dean Kelley, sportscaster, will serve as master of ceremonies for the contest which starts at 12:45 p.m.

KIM INAUGURAL

ABILENE (UPI) — Inaugural events are underway for Dr. Thomas Kim, the eighth president of McMurry College. Kim was honored at a reception Friday and was to be sworn in later today at ceremonies attended by Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., and several other dignitaries.

TEXAS WAR DEATH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon Friday announced Army Spec. Daniel W. Allen Jr. of Fort Worth was killed in action and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Melinda Allen.

POLLUTED FLOOD

BEAUMONT (UPI) — A group of 28 Southeast Texas landowners filed a $6.5 million lawsuit Friday against the Lower Neches Valley Authority and the Eastex Paper Mill at nearby Evadale. The suit charges the two defendants are responsible for damage caused by polluted floodwaters that rolled over their property twice during the past three years.

1 Card of Thanks

I would like to sincerely thank everyone for the many kind thoughts, cards, phone calls and prayers which I was in the hospital in Houston. May these deeds be richly rewarded. Betty Helm

DEDICATION

Dedicated to Dorothy M. Smith by her family, her many friends, and former patients whom she gave devoted care during her many years as a nurse in Highland General Hospital and local convalescent homes.

What would we give to see
To your smile
To sit and talk with you
To hear you talk
To see you and think of you
The things you used to say
And do
We miss you now, our hearts
Are sore
As time goes on we miss you
More
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your vacant place
The blow was sudden, the shock so severe
To part with you whom we love so dear
Wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say goodbye
Many a lonely hearache, Often a silent tear, but always a thought
A beautiful memory of one we love so dear.

SARAH MILLER
We wish to thank our neighbors, friends and to anyone who in any way acted in love and sympathy during the recent loss of our beloved
Mother to us was a wonderful person. We know none who had to go away. But if we do an the old us and keep God's Commandment, we will meet her again in heaven some day
Ruth Miller, Family and Brothers and Sisters

We Proudly Present Our New Associate

NORMA E. SHACKELFORD

MANY OF YOU ALREADY KNOW NORMA - was associated with one of our former active quality Home Builders in Pampa for several years. She is thoroughly familiar with all aspects of new residential property, from site selection - design - materials & appliances - construction details, and selling.

NORMA will devote most of her efforts to residential properties. This Kansas farm girl was schooled in high moral values and strict ethical practices - and she can and will help with farm, ranch lands, and commercial properties, too, about which she has more than a speaking acquaintance. You can trust her judgment.

Call Norma in for counseling on any real estate problem - selling, buying, exchanging, financing - or whatever. I am pleased that she will be a part of this organization, holding membership in the Pampa Board of Realtors and Multiple Listing Service, consisting of the finest group of cooperating industry people in this great town "where the livin' is good"
