

President Nixon Calls On Americans To Narrow Generation Gap

CHICAGO (AP) — President Nixon, calling for a new attitude toward old age in America, said today a generation gap between older citizens and all others "has often been ignored or slighted."

In an address prepared for a joint convention of the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons, Nixon said there is need for "a new alliance in this country between Americans who are under 65 and those who are older."

The President, who flew here Thursday night after making a sentimental journey to Indiana and the home soil of his late mother, said:

"If we allow our society to become fragmented—so that younger Americans are cut off from older Americans—then each member of our society will also become fragmented—with young people cut off from their past and older people from their future."

On one specific point, Nixon complained that altogether too many nursing homes are described as "little more than warehouses for the unwanted, dumping grounds for the dying."

Nixon said:

"I have heard of doctors who refuse to visit some nursing homes because they get too depressed. Too often it seems nursing homes serve mainly to keep older people out of sight and out of mind—so that no one will notice their degradation and despair."

The President said it was his goal to see federal, state and local governments working with the private sector "to transform the nursing homes—for those who need it—into an inspiring symbol of comfort and hope."

In the main, Nixon's remarks were the sort of thing his audience wanted to hear. He placed great emphasis on statistics, showing that the federal spending on aging has nearly doubled in five years, and that Social Security benefits already have been increased 25 per cent in two years, with still another hike in prospect.

The chief executive found a way, too, to appeal to older Americans to support his embattled revenue-sharing program—the centerpiece of his 1971 legislative program.

He declared that sharing federal revenues with the state and local governments "could help stem the ruinous rise in local property taxes," and thus help those over 65.

"When a person retires, his income goes down—and so do most of his tax bills. But his property taxes keep right on climbing—and he may even be forced out of the home he has paid for," he said.

"We must build in this country... an attitude which insists that there can be no retirement from living, no retirement from responsibility and no retirement from citizenship," the President said.

Speaking directly to his listeners, he said:

"We need you. We need your experience and we need your perspective. Above all, we need your sense of values. For we can be a strong nation militarily, a strong nation economically, and still be an empty shell, if we forget those moral and spiritual values to which your generation is thoroughly committed."

"Every politically controlled educational system will inculcate the doctrine of supremacy sooner or later, whether as the divine right of kings, or the 'will of the people' in 'democracy.'"

DEATH OF A MARTIN — Vernon Hall, 2234 Duncan, is shown here with one of the purple martins found dead in his yard Thursday morning. Ironically, the mosquito-killing fog machine, was believed to be the victim of chemicals from the city's man-made mosquito-killing fog machine. U.S. And Soviet Space Officials End Discussions

HOUSTON (AP) — American and Russian space officials end discussions today on a possible joint space mission to test a compatible rendezvous and docking system the countries are developing.

Officials said the formal discussions will end about noon today and the 19 Russians will then tour the Astro dome and the Astroworld.

The Russians arrived Sunday night and formal talks began Monday. U. S. officials said Wednesday the discussions included the possibility of flying joint space missions using existing spacecraft. One source indicated this could mean a joint mission as early as 1973.

Officials said Thursday no news conference would be held today and that no more details about a possible joint space flight would be disclosed.

The Russians leave Houston Saturday.

Price Supports Public Schools Prayer Petition

Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has signed a discharge petition to force the Judiciary Committee to report a proposed Constitutional Amendment which would allow prayer in public schools.

Price said he and other members have introduced legislation during each session of Congress, which would allow the State Legislatures to decide whether or not the Constitution should be amended to allow prayer in public schools. The House Judiciary Committee has refused to report the bill for floor debate, he said.

Price explained that as soon as 218 members sign the petition the committee will be forced to report the legislation to the full House within 30 days.

FOGGER IS SUSPECT

Mystery: Who Killed The Purple Martins?

By TEX DEWESE

Pampa's city-operated fogging machine today became a possible suspect in the mysterious Purple Martin death case.

Several purple martins, the swallows that spend their winters in Brazil and return to North America in the spring, have been found dead recently in vicinities where the mosquito-killing fog machine has passed the night before.

Two birds, described as beautiful specimens, were found dead Thursday in the yard of Vernon L. Hall, 2234 Duncan. The fogging machine, Hall said, had been through the alley Wednesday night.

Ironically, purple martins are probably the top-ranking mosquito eliminators among the bird family. Hall says one purple martin will consume approximately 2,000 mosquitoes in a day.

During the past several years, according to Hall, residents of Pampa and surrounding towns have been encouraging the insect-killing martins to come into the area by erecting especially-built bird houses for them. Pampa, he says, has perhaps 100 martin houses. There are two homes for martins in the Hall backyard.

Several reasons are put forth for encouraging martins to take up residence in the community. Hall says their aerial acrobatics are a delight to see, they are songbirds whose melodic chatter can be heard in the early morning and late evening. But most of all they are a friend of man because they eat their weight in mosquitoes in a 24-hour period.

Pampans, interested in ornithology, and who have erected houses for the martins, say their neighborhood yards are practically free of mosquitoes.

Fourteen pairs of the birds currently have been occupying the martin houses in the Hall yard. Today the population there was two less.

Hall added that the birds found dead had no apparent bruises or broken bones.

For that reason their deaths were believed to have been caused by inhaling chemicals left in the air by the fogging machine that went through the area the night before.

Reportedly, persons interested in the preservation of martins, and establishing habitats for them, will seek to have city officials look into the possibility of using other than chemical pesticides to eradicate mosquitoes.

Mrs. Theima Bray, beautification chairman of the Pampa Garden Club, another interested in the deaths of the martins, pointed out that attracting and caring for martins is both an art and a hobby that may be pursued by anyone willing to devote some time and interest to the birds' advancement.

J. L. Wade in his book, "Purple Martin — America's Most Wanted Bird," writes:

"One of the great unexplained mysteries of the world is the exact method by which martins from throughout the North American continent fly thousands of miles to Brazil each year and then, a few months later, find their way back — most of them to the same neighborhoods in which they nested the previous year."

Senate Extends Draft, Boosts Soldier's Pay

NEAR LOS ANGELES

Tunnel Blast Kills At Least 17 Men

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A state mining official says there could be some connection between the devastating Feb. 9 earthquake and a fiery natural methane gas explosion that ripped through an underground tunnel apparently killing 17 workers.

Dr. Gordon B. Oakeshott, deputy chief of the California Division of Mines and Geology, said the quake possibly could have disturbed underground formations and caused seepage of the deadly gas that exploded Thursday.

Seven bodies have been recovered and rescue teams continued to search for 10 missing workers. City fire rescue crews said dense smoke and debris hampered efforts to find the missing men. Conditions inside the tunnel were described as "untenable to support life."

The tunnel, being excavated as part of a water project, traverses foothills near the quake epicenter outside suburban Sylmar. The area is studded with oil wells. Fire officials said oil seepage doubtless helped fuel a 14-hour fire that followed the blast and blocked rescue attempts for more than 12 hours.

The sole survivor of the blast — a man, red-eyed and weakened by injuries — told reporters from his hospital bed that he thought he felt two explosions in the tunnel, which is five miles long and about 200 feet beneath the earth.

"I thought I was going to pass out and I guess I did," said Ralph Brirette, 33. "I found myself laying in water, washing my face and drinking." He was found after stumbling more than four miles to the tunnel's portal.

Fire officials say the gas probably was touched off by a spark from drilling equipment.

The explosion in the tunnel was the second in two days. On Wednesday a smaller blast, also attributed to methane gas, injured four workmen. One had to be hospitalized.

After the earlier blast engineers tested the tunnel atmosphere and said they found no undue gas accumulations.

The tunnel a link in the $3 billion, 444-mile state water project to transport surplus Northern California water to heavily populated Southern California, is being built by Lockheed Shipbuilding and Construction Co., a division of the troubled aerospace giant. It is within 2,100 feet of completion.

Eighteen men were reported working at the near end of the shaft where drilling was in progress when the explosion occurred.

All work has been stopped pending an investigation.

Withdrawal From Viet Reaffirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to extend the draft two more years, sweeten soldiers' pay $2.7 billion and chart a Indochina withdrawal plan disowned in advance by the White House.

But after seven weeks of debate the Senate's 71 to 16 approval Thursday of the draft extension bill may well be too late for Congress to finish final action before the present Selective Service Act expires next Wednesday midnight.

Some senators threaten a filibuster if a House-Senate conference kills or weakens an end-of-war amendment added by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The Mansfield amendment calls for a phased withdrawal of U.S. troops over nine months if all U.S. prisoners of war are released. It is likely to receive a cool reception both in conference and on the House floor.

House antiwar forces never have mustered more than 153 congressmen to vote for any Vietnam withdrawal amendment.

The conference has more than a dozen differences to reconcile between the House and Senate versions of the bill. One of the most important is an amendment by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., which raised the military pay boost to the same level approved by the House, but spread most of it among lower ranks.

Some senators had hoped to kill the draft outright as a means of forcing the military to adopt the all-volunteer armed force concept now.

The Nixon administration hopes the increased pay can prepare for an all-volunteer force after June 30, 1973. It says the draft will be needed until it is proven better pay and conditions really can attract suitable volunteers.

The Senate bill does limit the number of men who can be drafted to 130,000 the first year and 140,000 the second. The Defense Department has indicated considerably less than those numbers will be required, unless there is a national emergency.

Among other major Senate added provisions:

- Cut 100,000 men off the overall 2.5 million force level approved by the House.
- Retain the two-year period of alternative civilian service that must be served by conscientious objectors. The House voted for three years service.
- Require the military to train experts to treat an increasingly large number of men who become addicted to drugs while in service.
- Exempt from the draft persons in families that have lost father, son or brother in combat.
- Grant new rights to persons appealing their draft status such as the right to have an attorney present.

Heavy Fighting Flares Up Around Fire Base Fuller

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting raged today around abandoned Fire Base Fuller and U.S. B52 bombers struck twice in support of South Vietnamese infantrymen hunting enemy mortar crews in the hills below the demilitarized zone.

A military spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, reported "large sporadic contacts" around Fuller but said he had no details.

"We have sent reinforcements to the area," he said. "The important thing now is to find and destroy the enemy mortar positions around Fuller. Then a decision will be made whether to reoccupy the base."

Informants in the field reported that the North Vietnamese who overrun the base four miles south of the DMZ Wednesday night withdrew from Fuller and took along the American electronic equipment that had been left there.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel flew over the hilltop base in a helicopter today and confirmed that it was deserted.

The U.S. command maintained that it did not know how many American advisers and electronic technicians had been at Fuller when it was overrun. But field reports indicated about eight Americans managed to escape to a rear headquarters Thursday.

The Command reported another B-52 strike was flown south of Fire Base Sarge, which is six miles southwest of Fuller. Heavy fighting has also been reported there. Putzel said the South Vietnamese were still holding the base although U.S. Chinook helicopters pulled its artillery pieces out Thursday after Fuller fell, apparently as a precaution.

High Court Considering Appeals By Government And Newspaper

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Supreme Court considered today appeals by the government and The New York Times that it step into the conflict over a series of articles on the secret Pentagon history of the Vietnam war.

Immediately ahead loomed a 6 p.m. deadline. Unless the justices act before then The Washington Post will be able to publish what it wants. But The Times will be free to resume publication in Saturday editions only of material the Justice Department considers safe for public consumption.

Unlike The Post, The Times will be barred from using any of the items in the 47-volume war study the Justice Department feels should be kept secret in the interest of national security.

The Times told the court in a petition Thursday that the restraint, imposed by the U.S. Circuit Court in New York City, "imposes an insupportable burden on a free press."

The Justice Department, meanwhile, labored to block The Post from resuming its series of reports on the study. Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold argued in an application for a stay that publication would damage national security and the conduct of foreign relations beyond repair.

The Post would be free to publish what it wishes by virtue of a ruling by the U.S. circuit court for the District of Columbia.

Griswold said The Post should be prevented at least temporarily from using the items listed in a "special appendix" filed by government attorneys last Monday in the New York court, as well as additional items the Justice Department might add today.

Until the two newspaper cases reached their chambers, the justices were planning to recess on Monday until October. They were putting the finishing touches on a half-dozen pending decisions and considering scores of piled-up appeals.

Newsday Reveals Viet War Story In LBJ's Memoirs

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson's still unpublished White House memoirs acknowledge that his administration was privately preparing in early 1964 for large scale American military involvement in Vietnam, long before the depth of the U.S. commitment was known to the public, according to a story published today by Newsday, the Long Island newspaper.

The memoirs, to be published in November, support many of the findings of the classified Pentagon study of the war's origins which the government has been fighting to keep secret, Newsday said.

The former president's book, now largely in galley form at the New York publishing firm of Holt, Rinehart and Winston, is entitled, "The Vantage Point: Perspectives of the Presidency."

Newsday said it obtained information about the material from a publishing industry source.

Most Sweeping Crackdown Against Drug Use By GIs In Viet Underway

CAN THO, South Vietnam (AP) — The most sweeping crackdown to date against illegal drug use by GIs in South Vietnam is under way in the Mekong Delta.

The 18,000 soldiers stationed there are confined to their military compounds except for official business, and soldiers, civilians, vehicles and planes are being thoroughly searched for drugs.

In a message to his men explaining the drive, Lt. Gen. John H. Cushman, the U.S. commander in the Delta, said: "The drug problem is serious. We owe it to ourselves and to the American people, now and in future generations, to solve this problem."

The drive began without prior notice on Tuesday. In the first three days, a quantity of heroin and marijuana was seized and more than 100 American servicemen were arrested for illegal possession of drugs or for being absent without leave.

Vietnamese and American authorities are cooperating in the crackdown.

Originally planned for three days, the drive has been extended through next Tuesday and probably will be extended again, sources said.

Officials ordered a thorough search of all persons and all vehicles entering or leaving U.S. military compounds.

Every aircraft arriving at a military airfield or landing pad in the delta is subjected to immediate search, as are its crew, passengers and luggage.

Yarborough...

Yarborough isn't a candidate. Yarborough has maintained an active speaking schedule, including talks the past couple of weeks to conventions of Veterans of Foreign Wars, County and District Clerks, Justices of Peace and Constables, and County Judges and Commissioners.

"These are grass-roots people. They are close to the people... So I am getting a reading from them (on his political potential)," Yarborough said. "I can't take polls. This is my way of getting information on which to reach a decision."

He added that he is "getting the best reception that I've had in 15 years, since I was running for the governorship in 1956," when he speaks.

Yarborough says he hasn't evaluated Barnes, the candidate considered the man to beat for governor.

But he said Barnes, "A lot of money can create a lot of image... (However) I think people will be looking closer (at Barnes) than they have the last five years."

He clearly sympathizes with Gov. Preston Smith because of the bad publicity Smith got from his $62,500 profit in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock, purchased with money borrowed from Sharpstown State Bank.

Smith was the only governor who accorded Yarborough any recognition while he was senator, and Yarborough calls him "the first courteous governor we've had in office since I entered the Senat."

"I listened very carefully to Smith's June 20 television address and I came away from that with the conclusion... that he was, in effect, bowing out," Yarborough said.

He said he "very deeply regretted" the stock incident and was "shocked about the intimations they are going to indict the governor of Texas."

MISSIONARIES TO NICARAGUA — Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Smith, Tularosa, N.M., will lead special before beginning training in Costa Rica which will prepare them for service in Central America.

Missionary To Nicaragua Will Address Full Gospel

The Rev. Kenneth M. Smith, a newly approved Assemblies of God missionary to Nicaragua, will be guest speaker Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Lamar Full Gospel Assembly, Eond and Sumner, the Rev. Gene Allen, pastor, has announced.

During their first term of missionary service Rev. Smith and his wife Terry will be active in general missionary work involving evangelism, establishing churches, and Bible school promotion and instruction. Prior to Nicaragua they will attend language school in Costa Rica.

Nicaragua, the largest of the Central American republics, has a population of two million, 96 per cent of which are Roman Catholic. Spanish is the official language of the country. The climate is warm and humid and the annual rainfall, regularly 60 to 65 inches, reaches 300 inches along the eastern coast.

The Smiths will join a team of nine Assemblies of God missionaries and 100 national workers in Nicaragua. The Assemblies of God churches total 37 with 147 outstations and have approximately 4,200 members and adherents.

Rev. Smith attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie, Texas, and New Mexico State University. Prior to his appointment Mr. Smith pastored churches in Bloomfield, Newcomb, and Truth or Consequences, New Mexico. For three years he also served under appointment of the Home Missions Department of the Assemblies of God, during which time he ministered among the American Indians of New Mexico.

Pastor Gene Allen invites the public to hear Rev. Smith speak in the forthcoming service.

Seminars On Eating Habits And Nutrition Open At Texas Tech

LUBBOCK — Eating habits ranging from teenage food fads to diet preferences of the aging were explored in a series of seminars on nutrition beginning June 21 at Texas Tech University.

One hour of graduate credit will be offered in each of the three courses taught by Mrs. Clara McPherson, associate professor of food and nutrition in Tech's College of Home Economics.

In the first seminar, "Nutrition and the Adolescent," emphasis was to be on nutritional needs and physiology of the adolescent, obesity problems, dietary habits and the effect of stress on the utilization of nutrients. The course will be open to teachers, dietitians, nurses, nutritionists and extension service workers.

"Teenagers have the poorest eating habits of any members of the family," said Mrs. McPherson, who feels that "better distribution of nutrition information and greater attempts to motivate youngsters to improve their eating habits are urgently needed."

"Nutrition and Gerontology" will be the subject of the second seminar, June 28-July 2, dealing with the physiology of the aging, dietary management in the home and in geriatric institutions. Daily discussions are to be from 9 a.m. to noon in the Home Economics Building.

A lecture by a noted gerontologist will be a special feature.

Here to speak on "Nutritional Aspects of Gerontology" will be Dr. Jack Weinberg, clinical director of the Illinois State Psychiatric Institute, whose address from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. July 1 in Lecture Room 33 of the Tech Chemistry Building will be open to the general public at no charge. The lecture is expected to be of special interest to physicians, hospital and nursing home administrators, nurses and dietitians as well as teachers and students of psychology, sociology and anthropology.

Dr. Weinberg is a professor of psychiatry at the University of Illinois College of Medicine and in 1970 received the Edward B. Allen Award in Geriatric Psychiatry from the American Geriatrics Society. He is a member of both the Technical Advisory Committee of the Administration on Aging and of the National Advisory Committee on Housing for Senior Citizens.

The third seminar, "World Nutrition," will meet from 1 to 4 p.m. daily July 5 through 9. It will be concerned with the study of food supplies for population groups with emphasis on the effect of culture, customs, health and nutritional needs.

All meetings, except Dr. Weinberg's lecture, require regular university registration on the first day of each workshop. Mrs. McPherson said. Further information may be obtained by calling 742-4166.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) —

George Bush, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, says demonstrations by militant groups that support Jews in the Soviet Union may hamper diplomatic efforts on their behalf.

"The courageous, illegal acts of these attempting to do something about the problem are harming it," he said Thursday at the annual dinner of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce.

He singled out the militant Jewish Defense League, which has carried on demonstrations and programs of harassment against members of the Soviet missions to the United Nations. Bush said the JDL actions make it "far more difficult to find support for Soviet Jewry at the United Nations."

Start with an Audit

Advertising is a serious investment... art, engraving, typography and copy are costly. All are planned carefully to attract readers who are prospects for the merchandise or service. No business can afford to waste any part of this investment in any medium that cannot guarantee definite circulation and readership. "Waste basket circulation" in post offices, and so called throw-aways that usually travel to the incinerator are of little or no value to the advertiser.

BUYING ON THIS BASIS IS SOUND!

Careful studies made regularly by an independent organization—the Audit Bureau of Circulations—shows advertisers exactly what they get in circulation and readership for their advertising investment.

For most subscribers the PAMPA NEWS is the family shopping guide, for it carries the advertising of practically all progressive Pampa stores, markets and services.

DEAR ABBY: When I see a woman in pants I wonder what's wrong with her legs. I cannot for the life of me understand why a woman with good-looking legs would wear pants. And another thing, men love long hair on their women. I don't know one man who likes to see a woman in a mannish haircut. Give us men long hair and short skirts!

LOVES THE LADIES
DEAR ABBY: Some women wear pants for convenience, but if a woman wants to please a man, she will indeed let her locks grow and her legs show.

DEAR ABBY: I own a really good horse and I am going to enter him in the horse show soon. My girl friend asked me if she could ride him in the horse show, and I told her she could. Here is the problem. If my horse wins a ribbon, who should get it, she or I? I will leave it up to you.

GIRL HORSE OWNER: KENLY, NC.

DEAR HORSE OWNER: If your horse should win a ribbon, the ribbon goes to you. (I got this straight from the horse's mouth.)

DEAR ABBY: My 13-year-old daughter Sandra (made up name) has a big problem I am very anxious to help her with. Sandra is a quiet, shy girl who has always stayed in the background. She has a girl friend I'll call Janice. Janice is pushy and loud and has a big mouth. Whenever my Sandra makes friends with another girl, this loud-mouthed Janice takes this friend away from her. If Sandra were aggressive and pushy like Janice she would fight to keep her friends, but she just can't do it. She is too nice. How can I help Sandra so Janice won't take any more friends away from her?

SANDRA'S MOTHER
DEAR ABBY: Sandra will have to cultivate and maintain her own friendships. No one can "take" a friend away as if she were a sack of flour. Mothers who try to run interference for their children in such matters tend to weaken, not strengthen them.

DEAR ABBY: My sister's husband died eight years ago, leaving her with sons, ages 4 and 5. She seemed so alone and helpless, so Ralph and I encouraged her to come over often. Ralph and I had a good marriage and a nine-year-old daughter.

It all happened so gradually I never knew it was taking place, but you guessed it. She was so much like me, only six years younger, and she soon replaced me.
Ralph is now Sis' husband. He's adopted her two sons, and I am now the extra woman.
How I wish I had told my sister not to come so often. It may have been effective to say Ralph didn't like it.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS PAMPA, TEXAS 68th YEAR Friday, June 25, 1971

On the fashion comeback trail is the sport knit dress. The two-tone dress and jacket costume (left) has a classic chic about it. It is perfect for summer travel or summer stay at home. Short-sleeved, two-tone knit plaid (right) is the answer to almost every summer wardrobe problem. It is casual and, above all, it is cool. Designer Howard Lawrence for Dalton of America has created these easy-to-care-for Trevira summer items.

American Field Service Student Ends Year With Pampa Family

After a year's experience of living with a Pampa family as an American Field Service Student, Regina Stucchi of Capinas, San Paulo, is returning home to Brazil.

Miss Stucchi will go with her Pampa family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stowers and their children, to Oklahoma City Saturday. She will meet other AFS students for the bus trip to Washington, D.C., and the end-of-the-year conference July 12.

After a two-day conference in Washington, the AFS group will go to New York to start their trips home. Miss Stucchi expects to arrive in Brazil and be home in Capinas by July 15.

"When I get home it will be Winter, because the seasons are reversed," Miss Stucchi said. "I'll be going to a preparatory school for college entrance exams, will take the exams in January, and if I pass, I'll enroll in college in March 1972."

Miss Stucchi's goal is to study chemical technology in college and to work in a chemical lab while attending college.

She is one of 3,000 AFS students who lived in North America this past year, and one of 157 Brazilians who participated in the AFS program. Six of the Brazilian students attended schools and lived with Texas families.

While living in Pampa this past year, Miss Stucchi participated in almost all school events of Pampa High School and was in the PHS choir. As a Girl Scout, she attended day camp this Summer with Susie Stowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stowers. Miss Stowers and Miss Stucchi helped teach swimming this Summer at the city pool as volunteers.

Other events were participating with the PHS band with the Catholic Church youth on their trips to Chicago, Corpus Christi, Austin, and Denton, attending and working with the Catholic Church youth group.

"One thing I've discovered is how similar we are instead of how different. You learn to get and accept people as they are. The school spirit of Pampa High School impressed me the most about their activities, because in Brazil, we don't have as much interest in the school games and other events."

Miss Stucchi's family in Brazil includes two sisters and a younger brother, her mother, who is a high school teacher and her father, a lawyer.

New Varieties Make Exotic Gardening

By SHEILA and ALLAN SWENSON

There are new taste treats as close as your own backyard. Fresh vegetables are delightful, but try something new this year. Enjoy exciting adventures in eating from your garden.

Carrots are carrots, but not after you try Short'n Sweet. Bright orange from top to root tip, it requires practically no trimming. S-S grows even in heavy or shallow soils and has a rich, sweet flavor. Only four inches long but two inches wide at the top, this carrot is truly flavorful.

Try a "cuके" stick from the Burpless Hybrid cucumber. It matures in about 60 days; is crisp, juicy and delicious in salads or pickled.

Garnish salads and sandwiches with Curlycress. It has a pungent flavor and can be eaten 10 days after planting. You can grow it year round, indoors or on windowsills in pots or trays.

Butterhead lettuce develops well-folded heads and blanches to a buttery yellow. It is a fast-growing taste treat. Even tangle is Paris White Romaine lettuce. The tightly folded, elongated heads are crisp with sweet, piquant flavor.

Sweetpod Sugar peas are delightful. You cook them, pods and all, for a succulent dish. The secret is to pick them when pods are young and peas just visible.

Some like it hot, so try a few peppers. Hungarian wax and long Red Cheyenne are really hot stuff.

Like Spaghetti? Plant the San Marzano tomato. It yields exceptional tomato paste from the Italian pear-shaped fruits. Basket Pak tomato is perfect for bitesize eating, rich red, juicy and almost ever-bearing. And to top off your exotic garden, plant some Celuuce. Young leaves have four times the vitamin C of head lettuce, but can be used as lettuce or boiled as "greens." The heart can be eaten fresh or prepared in place of celery.

Plastic jewelry is inexpensive, so you can match it with anything in your wardrobe. Rings, belts, earrings and necklaces in vivid colors enhance the summer look.

Don't take the car to work tomorrow. Instead, get hold of one of those new collapsible bicycles. It's great exercise and no parking problem because you can fold it up and carry it with you.

POLLY'S POINTERS
Sewing Instructions Are Easier To Obtain

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. L.M. wanted to know where she could obtain free sewing instructions. Several companies offer free booklets of instructions and there usually are leaflets with helpful sewing hints at the pattern counters of stores. Write your congressman and he will send you a list of booklets on most any subject, including sewing. These can be ordered for a few cents each. Also write to sewing machine companies and keep on trying. Sewing is fun and saves about one-half, and sometimes more, on the family clothing budget.

DEAR POLLY and MRS. L.M.—If you can read, you can learn to sew. I have made formal suits and even upholstery with nary a lesson. When I bought a new machine, the instruction book that came with it gave details for using the machine. First, choose a fabric that has enough body to be easy to work with and then start with patterns that plainly state they are for easy sewing. Follow their layout for the pattern pieces on the fabric and then their detailed sewing and assembly instructions, step by step. Make a blouse or house dress first. Remember, the smaller the article, the harder it is to make. The hardest part is that first cut and after that it seems easier. Happy sewing!

—MRS. C.M.

DEAR GIRLS—If you hesitate to bother your busy congressman, booklets can be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. The Department of Agriculture compiles such books and the prices may vary from one to another. I paid 25 cents for one called "Simplified Clothing Construction."

Check the trunk for grandma's old swim gear because Gay '90s, bathing suits are getting more and more popular. They're coming on the beach scene in bold stripes or ruffles galore atop knicker-length pants.

First United Methodist Church

Sunday morning worship services at First United Methodist Church will be held at 8:45 and 11 o'clock. The service at 8:45 a.m. is broadcast over radio station KPND, D.F. Lloyd V. Hamilton, minister, will preach on the topic, "From Frustration To Faith," using Hebrews 11:1-16 as background scripture.

The Junior High Choral Group will sing "Thank You" arranged by Paul Abels. The Sanctuary Choir will sing "Turn Back O Man" arranged by Earl Copes. Morris Kille is the director of the Ministry of Music. Tracy D. Cary is organist.

At the 6 p.m. vesper hour, Dr. Hamilton will preach on the topic, "Coming to Ourselves. His scriptural reference is Luke 15:11-24. The United Methodist Youth groups will meet at 7 p.m.

First Baptist

Dan B. Cameron, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pampa, will be in the pulpit for both worship services Sunday. In the eleven o'clock Morning Worship he will preach from the subject, "The Man Who Looked Four Ways." This service is broadcast over radio station KPND and televised on Channel 12, cable T.V.

Roy Gibson will be guest music director for both services of worship in the absence of David Campbell, who will be away in revival. The Choral Worship selection will be "Wonderful Grace of Jesus" by Wilson. Joe N. Hicks will be the guest soloist for the morning hour. From Anaheim, Calif. he is the brother of Mrs. Lonnie Richardson. The organ offertory selection "Arisio" by Bach.

The pastor will announce his sermon topic for the seven o'clock Evening Worship. The Men's Chorus will occupy the choir loft and sing special music. Soloist for the evening will be Mr. Richard Hill. "Andante" by Southbridge will be the organ offertory.

The visitation program begins at 9:30 Tuesday morning for the ladies and 7 p.m. for the men. On Wednesday evening the Fellowship Supper begins at 5:30 and is followed by Prayer Meeting at 6:15 under the direction of the Pastor.

Central Baptist Church

Promotion Day in Sunday School will be carried out this Sunday at Central Baptist. All children and youth will be promoted to new classes. This is done in an effort to keep the Sunday School grading system more like the public school system. The church is expecting a large attendance for this special event in Sunday School.

During the 7 p.m. evening worship service, a Billy Graham film "His Land" will be shown. The one hour color motion picture is a musical journey into the soul of the nation Israel. It stars Cliff Richard and Cliff Barrows. The music is composed and conducted by Ralph Carmichael. One person commented after seeing this film, "This is perhaps the greatest picture I have ever seen on the land of Israel. The scripture references are so timely; the photography is some of the finest." The public is cordially invited to see this film.

Sunday evening at Central is Recreation Night. There will be fun, fellowship and recreation for all after the evening services. There will be volleyball for adults, Sr. High and college students, miniature golf for Jr.

High roller skating for grades 1 through 6 and nursery for all pre-school children.

The music Sunday will be under the direction of S.L. Tate. The pastor, Bryan Halliburton, will preach the second in a series of sermons on the parables. This second message is on the parable of The Hidden Treasure.

Sunday, July 4, Central Baptist will go to Central Park for morning worship at 11 a.m. The services will be followed by a picnic lunch and an afternoon of recreation and fellowship.

Barrett Baptist Church

Rev. Waylon Bruton former pastor of First Baptist Church in New Home, will be in the pulpit for the first time Sunday as pastor of the Barrett Baptist Church. Rev. Bruton and his family arrived Wednesday.

Waylon Bruton attended North Texas State University and South West Seminary. He is in his sixth year of the ministry.

service will be at 11 a.m. Sunday school will be conducted at 9:45 a.m., preceding the morning worship hour. Music will be under the direction of Butch Rogers who will also present special music.

Choir practice will be conducted at 5 p.m. followed by Training Union which begins at 6 p.m., preceding the 7 p.m.

worship service. Activities during the week include Wednesday Prayer meeting as well as Girls Auxiliary, Royal Ambassadors and Sunbeams all conducted at 7 p.m.

Church visitation this week will be Thursday at 7 p.m. Ample parking space is available and a nursery is provided for all services.

Christian Science

The healing power of the Christ will be explored Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" include these words of Christ Jesus: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do: because I go unto my Father."

This passage will be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth's immortal idea is sweeping down the centuries, gathering beneath its wings the sick and sinning. My weary hope tries to realize that happy day, when man shall recognize the Science of Christ and love his neighbor as himself. — when he shall realize God's omnipotence and the healing power of the Divine Love in what it has done and is doing for mankind."

St. Mark's Host For Annual Meet

St. Mark Christian Methodist Episcopal Church will host the 20th session of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference June 29-July 2 at the church, 408 Elm St.

Pastors and conference workers from two districts will open the session at 9 a.m. Tuesday with Rt. Rev. Norris S. Curry of Dallas, presiding bishop of the eighth Episcopal District, as host bishop.

The 200 conference delegates and visitors expected will hear reports from churches, and conference officers and will elect new officers. The conference ends Friday with the reading of appointments, according to the Rev. Monroe Woods Jr., host pastor.

Presiding elders will be the Rev. E. J. Lott, Abilene district and the Rev. W. E. Patterson, of Childress and presiding elder of the Amarillo-Wichita district. Department leaders will be Henry McDow, of Quanah, conference lay leader; Mrs. Margaret McDow, missionary president; Rev. Woods, conference director of Christian education and chairman of the board of finance, and Mrs. Rosa L. Patterson, of Wichita Falls, conference director of youth work.

The conference begins at 9 a.m. Tuesday with a memorial service. Departmental sessions are planned from 1:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. on the commission on ministry, pastors and presiding elders report, board of finance meeting, and reports from conference treasurer and statistician.

Modern Story Of Israel Theme For Movie Sunday

Across a barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect, the spectres of ancient Israel appear, hover, and fade away. Suddenly there is movement of a different sort, and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place. Thus begins "His Land," the thrilling story of Israel from ancient to modern times. "His Land," a one-hour color feature motion picture, takes you on a journey through space, time and current events. You see graphically, the fact that Israel today is a living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world. Barrows and Cliff Richard, England's popular star, who sings a number of new Ralph Carmichael songs, some of which were actually written on location, you travel the vibrant streets and lonely solitary paths of this nation whose destiny is daily discussed in the counsels or governments all over the world. . . the same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

The Weekly Message of Inspiration...

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Rev. John W. Frazier
DIVIDED LOYALTIES
Matthew 6: 24.
You cannot serve God and mammon.

Most of our churches don't need to be very concerned with their leaders going to the yearly convention and voting to abandon the Bible and its teachings. Our main concern is that each one be an individual Christian and that will take care of most of the problems in our communities, homes, and churches.

Jesus cautioned the people that they could not serve God and mammon. The Aramaic word for mammon is wealth or money. Jesus was very much aware of the needs of life, but he also knew that if we are not careful we can become so involved with our occupations that we will not serve God properly.

The economic situation of easy credit and credit cards has so become a way of life with many that in order to pay for all of these things we must have both the husband and the wife working at one job and sometimes two. Quite often there will be a chain of events that take place. The first thing that happens is these individuals become so involved with their jobs that they are so exhausted that they take the church out of their life.

The second problem is that of the domestic nature. The pressure of this schedule will quite often lead to problems within the home.

The biggest problem will be that there is a failure on the part of the husband and wife to communicate as they should. If the couple fails to communicate there will be the same kind of break down with the children and parents.

The part of this problem that seems to be of greater proportion than anything is that God is left out of these kind of plans.

When God is left out of the church suffers, the home has more confusion than before, and the innocent one of the home (children) suffer from this type of divided loyalty.

Most of the children of this day would be better off without some of today's luxuries if there could be proper understanding in the home.

Primitive American Folk Art To Go On Display In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major collection of primitive American folk art, rescued more than six years ago from the Washington slum warehouse where a government laborer toiled on it for 14 years, goes on public display for the first time Sunday.

Its title: "Throne of the Third Heaven of the Nations' Millennium General Assembly."

A 30-by-16-foot gallery at the National Collection of Fine Arts is crammed almost to overflowing with the work: the crowning life effort of James Hampton, a black laborer, to construct a church's entire ecclesiastical appointments.

Glittery is the word for what Harry Lowe, curator of exhibition and design at the National Collection, calls "clearly a fine example of American folk art."

Throne-like chairs, altars, tables—all are covered with intricate layers of foil in gilt and silver. Constructed of wood and cardboard, the work is dotted with hundreds of burned-out lightbulbs, again covered with foil. Angel wings abound, built up of intricate layers of cardboard, covered in foil.

Dominating the display of 30 major works is a throne, more than seven feet tall, crowned with the words "Fear Not" in letters covered with aluminum foil.

Little is known about the artist except that he worked for the General Services Administration; and that for 14 years he paid out $50 a month rent on a cold brick warehouse in a slum area alley within sight of the Capitol to work on his creation.

Hampton died in November 1964 at the age of 53, leaving no clue to the vision which led him to put in untold hours on the "Throne of the third Heaven ..."

A coincidence led to saving his work from the trash heap. A month after Hampton's death, The Washington Post printed a story about "the strange legacy of a lonely man." A London paper picked up a similar story and a friend sent a clipping to Lowe, who had just come from the Tennessee Fine Arts Center at Nashville, along with a facious note which, as Lowe recalls, said something like "I suppose that in your new job you will be acquiring works like this."

Thus learning of the creation, Lowe went to see it, decided it was indeed worth acquiring, and raised the money to buy it—largely a matter of paying back rent on the warehouse.

The work has been in storage since it was salvaged in January 1965.

He said bids to display the work have come from the Walker Art Center in Milwaukee, the Whitney Museum and the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York City, but no decision has been made as to whether it will travel.

Some wall plaques included in the display are in English, but others are printed in a sort of cabalistic script which no one has been able to decipher. Notebooks and loose papers found in the warehouse contain hundreds of pages of the same script.

Inscriptions on the plaques which are in English, with Hampton's spelling intact, read:

"This is true that Adam the first man God created appeared in person on January 20, 1949 this was on the day of President Truman's inauguration.

"It is true that on October 2, 1946 the Great Virgin Mary and the Star of Bethlehem appeared over the nations capital.

CBS Head Declines Order He Turn Over Documentary To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Columbia Broadcasting System, saying he realized he may be found in contempt of Congress, declined today a direct order that he turn over to House investigators subpoenaed material involved in "The Selling of the Pentagon" documentary.

"Yes, I do," responded CBS President Frank Stanton when he was asked whether he realized "you may be found in contempt."

"Yes, I do," he replied again when asked that knowing this he persisted in his refusal.

"I respectfully decline," he said when ordered to give the material.

"In my opinion, you are now in contempt," said the chairman of the House panel, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va.

If the Staggers subcommittee recommends to the full Commerce Committee that a contempt citation be sought, action would be subject to a decision by the House—which would be a recommendation to the Justice Department that would then decide whether to prosecute.

Stanton declined to produce the subpoenaed production material, and to answer questions "relating to the preparation of 'the Selling of the Pentagon' or any other particular CBS news or documentary broadcast."

"All I ever wanted to do from the beginning was to go up into the hills and grow vegetables. But you can't do that, you know, when your brother and sister were getting killed in Vietnam. Working against that war is just my way of trying to stay alive." Leslie Bacon, 19, released from prison after questioning by a Seattle grand jury about the March 1 capitol bombing in Washington, D.C.
