President Urged To Release Money For Feeding Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty senators, declaring millions of children may go hungry this summer, have urged the Nixon administration to release immediately millions of dollars they say were promised for a nationwide child-feeding program.

In a joint letter to George Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget, the senators complained the Department of Agriculture encouraged localities to expand their programs, then said it couldn't support requests for new funds. The Agriculture Department announced earlier this week $18.1 million will be available for the program this summer, an amount the senators said is $15 million less than required, though they acknowledged it's three times as much as was allocated last year.

"We are concerned that millions of children in New York and Newark, in San Antonio and Los Angeles, in Minneapolis and Indianapolis, and in many other cities throughout the nation will not be fed this summer as promised," the senators said.

They said expansion of the summer feeding program this year "is a direct result of Department of Agriculture promotion . . ."

"Our cities were urged to expand their efforts and were assured the necessary money would be forthcoming," they said.

The 40 senators reminded the administration Congress specifically authorized the secretary of agriculture to spend up to $100 million on this year's summer programs, in addition to whatever funds might be included in the department's regular authorization bill.

The department acknowledged getting requests for $26.6 million as of June 15, the senators said, but "a more recent survey conducted by the League of Cities-U.S. Conference of Mayors revealed that summer requests actually total $33 million."

Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., said in a statement his state alone needs $1.5 million to feed 100,000 children this summer.

"Under the department's allocation we will receive only $320,000," Case said.

U.S. Watching Naval Build-Up Of Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. reconnaissance planes have been watching development of what may become a new Communist Chinese naval base in strategically located islands about 300 miles east of South Vietnam.

Pentagon reports tell of a large number of Chinese-escorted ship convoys carrying construction materials in recent months to the Paracel Islands in the South China Sea.

The Paracels are a group of coral islands whose ownership has been disputed. Claims to them have been made by China, Taiwan, South Vietnam and the Philippines.

Pentagon analysts say they are uncertain why the Communist Chinese are increasingly active in the Paracels. But they suggest Peking may be building a naval complex to support the growing Chinese fleet in the South China Sea.

A base in the Paracels would put the Chinese in position to project their expanding naval forces more effectively in a sea area touching South Vietnam, the Philippines and Indonesia.

Sources said the Chinese have demonstrated, by warnings broadcast over Peiking Radio, that they are sensitive about U.S. overflights in the Paracel area.

U.S. cameras have photographed construction of a ship berthing area, a jetty and more than 30 buildings, as well as dredging of a channel at Woody Island, one of the largest of the group.

AT PARIS TALKS

U.S., S. Viet To Probe New Red Peace Package

PARIS (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam will probe the new Viet Cong peace package at the weekly peace talks session Thursday in an attempt to learn if it offers an acceptable opening toward ending the Vietnam war, allied informants said.

No quick acceptance or rejection of the Communist proposal is expected, they added.

The seven-point plan was presented last Thursday by Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the Viet Cong delegation to the Paris peace talks. North Vietnam immediately endorsed it.

Allied diplomats were giving most of their attention to the first point in Mrs. Binh's proposal, calling for the simultaneous withdrawal of all American forces and release of all prisoners of war. The plan calls for total U.S. withdrawal before the end of the year. Previously, the Viet Cong had said if American forces were pulled out by June 30 or another "reasonable" date, the question of prisoner release would be "immediately discussed."

Another aspect of the peace proposal being put under diplomatic microscopes was the statement that "the totality of military men of all parties, and civilians captured in the war" would be released in a step-by-step operation coupled with the troop withdrawal.

The United States and South Vietnam will seek to determine just what prisoners the Communists have in mind—particularly whether this includes missing Americans not yet listed on the POW rolls announced by Hanoi, as well as the thousands of Vietnamese prisoners of the Saigon government who are classified by Saigon as terrorists and not military personnel.

AT AMARILLO MEETING

Area Telephone Workers Voice Support For Houston Strikers

Representatives of the Amarillo District Communications Workers of America, including eight Pampa Area Local 6128, met in Amarillo last night to discuss negotiations of new contracts for communication workers and subsidiary company grievances.

Red Ballard, a local steward said today some 150 representatives voted in sympathy with strikers in the Houston area. Grievances of the strikers in a port city include seniority priorities.

Western Electric, subsidiary of Southwestern Bell, has announced a possible July 14 walk-out. Pampa's union contract expires July 18.

The telephone company reportedly made its last offer May 23, an 11 per cent hike. The union's executive board rejected the proposal outright and declared a 25 per cent hike was the minimum they would settle for.

Top scale for Bell craft workers is now $151 to $191 per week. The top scale for operators runs from $118 to $96.50 according to figures presented by a union spokesman to the annual convention of CWA workers. CWA representatives and Southwestern Bell went to the bargaining table June 22 in St. Louis.

George Newberry, Pampa manager for Southwestern Bell, said today he felt it was too early to make any statement concerning the union differences with the company offer. "Our contract here runs until the latter part of July," he said. "And an agreement could be reached at the bargaining table before then."

In speculating the possibility of a walkout by telephone workers, Newberry stated that the local office employed 10 supervisors, 65 full-time operators and many part-time operators. "The supervisors would just have to take over," he stated. Service would be curtailed, but not eliminated, with this work plan, according to the manager.

Southwestern Bell is one of 24 associated companies of the Bell System. It operates in the states of Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri, and also serves a small section of Illinois adjacent to St. Louis. Southwestern Bell is headquartered in St. Louis and employs some 70,500 persons, and serves about 10,500,000 telephones.

District 6 of the Communications Workers of America, and AFL-CIO affiliate, represents 57,500 non-management employees of Southwestern Bell.

The present contract between Southwestern Bell and CWA became effective July 17, 1968, for a primary term of 36 months. This primary term ends July 17, 1971. The contract is "open-ended," defined as one which would remain in full force and effect until superseded, or terminated by a 30-day written notice by either the company or the union, according to Southwestern Bell officials.

Pampa Ordered To Hearing On Sewage Plant

Pampa received notice today from the Texas Quality Water Board that the city's sewage treatment plant is not meeting current state standards.

In a letter to Mayor Milo Carlson the state board charged that a study made in Pampa reveals "the city sewage treatment plant has continuously discharged an effluent that does not meet current standards."

As a result Pampa has been put on notice to send representatives to a hearing before the Water Quality Board in Austin at 9 a.m. Thursday, July 15.

The letter from Hugh C. Yantis, Jr., executive director of the board, further stated inasmuch as the files reflect that the Pampa plant is discharging unsatisfactory industrial wastes, local representatives are summoned to appear before the board with a plan for correcting the condition.

It further states Pampa's report to the board should include a definite time schedule for completing corrective action.

Without mentioning any names, City Manager Mack Wofford indicated today the problem has arisen from one industrial source in the Pampa area.

The city manager indicated definite plans had not yet been made for the Austin hearing, but said that probably he and Mayor Carlson would appear at the board hearing in Austin.

Steel Industry Dodge Comments On Nixon's Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor and management negotiators in the steel industry dodged public comment on President Nixon's call for a "constructive settlement" as they settled down to the first round of contract talks today.

Working against an Aug. 1 contract deadline, the negotiating teams gathered in a top-secret atmosphere amid wide speculation their talks will lead to a strike.

Neither I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers, nor the industry team headed by Heath Larray of U.S. Steel Corp. offered any comment after an hour-long meeting with Nixon Tuesday.

The President impressed on the negotiators the need to reach a noninflammatory settlement that will neither endanger the competitive position of the industry nor impede the nation's economic growth, a White House spokesman said.

But Nixon pulled back from setting a wage standard he would regard as acceptable or non-inflationary, said George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget and a former labor secretary.

The President said he hopes for hard bargaining that will avoid a strike while leading to a "constructive settlement" taking into account interests of the industry and the nation.

In Trade For 4 Cubans Held Prisoner In U.S.

MIAMI (AP) — Cuba's Fidel Castro's regime today announced the exchange of 18 American citizens in Cuba for four Cuban fishermen held prisoner by United States.

The Cuban announcement carried by Havana Radio followed by several hours the transfer of the four Cuban from an American federal prison to a Cuban fishing boat in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Havana broadcast monitored in Miami said the 18 Americans would receive "all aid in leaving the country once the services and costs that they incurred were paid."

One of the 18 was already in Miami. Fritz Sprandel, 26, a lone canoeist forced ashore in Cuba May 22, was returned to this country Tuesday.

The other Americans—four aboard the yacht White Cloud, five aboard a sloop called the Saturna, and eight crewmen of a Florida tugboat—were expected to begin leaving the Communist island later today.

Havana Radio said that "in this manner the problem is resolved . . ." The broadcast referred to the incident involving the imprisonment of the four Cubans in this country and the subsequent detention of the 18 Americans in Cuba.

Five of the Americans, the four aboard the yacht White Cloud and Sprandel, had been sentenced by "Cuban revolutionary tribunals" to pay fines of $20,000 each.

The Cuban broadcast said these fines were reduced to $2,000 each. A similar reduction was made by American authorities for each of the four Cubans serving six month prison sentences at Eglin Federal Prison in Florida.

Their prison sentences also were suspended. The Cuban fishermen were taken from Eglin prison Tuesday and transferred from a U.S. Coast Guard cutter to a Cuban fishing vessel near the Dry Tortugas islets in the Gulf, where they were arrested for fishing in U.S. territorial waters.

The first indication that an exchange was underway was the arrival in Miami Tuesday aboard a Cuban refugee flight of Sprandel, of Allentown, Pa.

Local Bank Deposits Show Healthy Climb
A bright economic picture of deposits in Pampa's two banks and Security Federal Savings and Loan Association was reflected in June 30 figures released today.

Pampa's two banks show an increase of $4,303,914 in deposits since June 30 of last year. Deposits at First National Bank totaled $25,175,853 on June 30 this year compared to $23,871,939 an increase of $1,303,914.

Citizens Bank & Trust Co. deposits as of June 30 this year were $18,200,000. On June 30 last year they were $15,200,000, showing an increase of $3,000,000.

June 30, 1971, deposits at Security Federal Savings & Loan Association were $76,784,617. On the same date last year they totaled $69,117,068. This shows an increase of $8,667,000 for the year.

The deposit figures for Security Federal combine both the Pampa home office and the Amarillo branch office.

Most banks over the High Plains area show comparable increases in deposits for the year ending June 30.

Among ten banks surveyed in the Texas Panhandle including Amarillo, Pampa, Canyon, Canadian, Clarendon, Perryton, Plainview, Wellington, Memphis, and Perryton, bank deposits for June 30, 1971, totaled $389,549,142 compared to $342,115,231 on the same date in 1970. The total figures reflect an increase of more than $47,000,000 for the year.

Nixon Believes U.S. Approaching Possible Decline Into Decadence
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon believes the United States is approaching a possible decline into decadence. But he says the news media "and perhaps even presidents and politicians" can help matters by occasionally emphasizing America's good points.

The President's words took attention, at least temporarily, from what appears to be a major purpose of his trip to the Western White House: a review of foreign policy in general and Vietnam policy in particular.

Nixon, who has dwelt increasingly in recent informal speeches on the state of the nation's spiritual and moral health, expanded on the theme today in talking—apparently without notes—to newspaper executives and broadcasters in Kansas City, Mo. He stopped there en route here for a two week stay.

While expressing confidence that everything will turn out right for the country, the chief executive likened the United States today to ancient Greece and Rome on the eve of their declines from greatness.

"I think of what happened to Greece and to Rome, and you see what is left—only the pillars. What has happened, of course, is that great civlizations of the past, as they have become wealthy, as they have lost their will to live, to improve, they then have become subject to the decadence that eventually destroys the civilization.

"The United States is now reaching that period."

Nixon went on to say he was convinced Americans have the vitality, courage and strength "out through this heartland and across this nation" to insure America with "moral and spiritual strength" as well as wealth and power.

"But I also know," he said, "that people need to be reassured. The people who can reassure them are opinion leaders, editors, television, radio commentators, teachers, even perhaps presidents and politicians.

"Don't let the problems of the moment obscure the great and good things that are going on in this country . . . I would suggest to the editors and other opinion makers here: that from time to time, maybe once a month, that message might come through."

Although the President spoke for 44 minutes, he lifted none of the shadows from current backstage diplomatic maneuvering on the difficult issues of peace in Vietnam and the Middle East.

Survey Shows Banks In Texas Have All-Time High Deposits

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

A survey of bank deposits in Texas shows there is a lot of money in the state—enough at many banks to record all-time high deposits.

The high bank deposits in Texas, despite economic setbacks, agriculture and some unemployment, come as no apparent surprise to businessmen who have been saying that Texas has strong economic footing.

There are banks here and there across Texas, however, at reported smaller deposits at three months ago, despite all-time high deposits.

Checking and savings accounts reached all-time highs Tuesday in Houston, in Grayson County (Sherman-Denison), Del Rio, Brownwood, Hunt County (El Paso) and Bryan-College Station.

Mid-year highs were reported in Dallas County banks and also Amarillo, Corsicana and Nolan County (Sweetwater).

Wichita Falls was less than a billion short of an all-time high. Mid-year all-time records are exceptional. When records are set, they usually come at the end of the year.

The bank reports were ordered Tuesday by the comptroller of the currency, the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., as is each quarter.

Most Texas economic observers credited the good deposits to sound, steady business conditions and favorable federal currency procedures.

There was a chance that next quarter's figures could go even higher through an increase in savings deposits. For only Tuesday, eastern banks again raised interest rates for time accounts, which could draw more money into savings systems.

On the other hand, there have been indications that people have more money in the bank because they are refusing to spend it because of unsettled business conditions in some segments of the economy and because they don't like the prime levels of retail goods such as cars, washers, television sets, clothes and the like.

One Dallas economist, asked why money in the bank has risen quarter after quarter, massively, said interest rates and regulations have changed so that banks now can compete more aggressively for time deposits.

There were some special cases, too.

Gainesville business experts noted a $5.2 million rise over a year ago and said one reason was that Cooke County had received reasonably good rains and the grain crops were good.

Brownwood which has been dry this growing season nevertheless was able to set an all-time record—and showed gains for the 14th straight quarter.

Del Rio, up $2 million from the previous record and $8 million from a year ago, credited some of the rise to an increase of visitors to Amistad Dam and Reservoir and to the opening of the new highway into Mexico.

Lubbock noted a steady year-to-year economic growth.

Weldon Jones, president of the San Angelo National Bank, said he believes the $26 million increase in a year—where the drought was about as bad as it could be at one time—“reflects a good economy here in West Texas and Tom Green County in particular. There is just a general improvement.”

Harris County (Houston) again led the state in deposits for any county and went over the $6 billion mark for the first time in history. The figures were $878 million above a year ago and a shade better than the last year-end figure of $5.93 billion.

San Antonio banks called their $217 million better figure than a year ago a “record increase.”

Below are the 1971 June 30 figures by county or city, listed first, with the mid-year 1970 figures following:

Harris County (Houston) $5,067,021,438 and $5,189,522,055, record.

Dallas County $5,885,715,446 and $5,443,393,744, mid-year record.

Grayson County (Denison and Sherman) $176,800,000 and $160,000,000 record.

Lubbock $459,146,103 and $401,075,460.

Port Arthur $150,653,321 and $133,641,469.

Del Rio $36,428,757 and $28,424,506 record.

San Angelo $179,068,169 and $152,753,860.

Orange County $71,134,323 and $62,852,154.

Brownwood $49,297,156 and $37,969,685, record.

Cooke County (Gainesville) $38,987,536 and $33,693,546, mid-year record.

Midland $277,544,546 and $248,496,170 mid-year record.

Harlingen $82,994,127 and $68,391,576.

San Antonio $1,604,538,792 and $1,333,266,668, a record increase.

Austin $813,913,417 and $668,646,000.

Nolan County (Sweetwater) $32,180,877 and $28,478,637.

Wichita Falls $292,258,954 and $259,490,770.

Corsicana $68,106,784 and $60,429,100, a mid-year record.

Waco $309,000,000 and $281,000,000.

Tyler $197,830,941 and $166,812,895.

Fort Worth $1,738,706,149 and $1,447,906,968.

Galveston County's 5 mainland banks $83,423,454 and $72,649,348.

Amarillo $389,549,142 and $342,115,231, a mid-year record.

Hunt County (Greenville) $84,987,946 and $78,015,611 a record.

Longview $156,834,626 and $138,247,593.

El Paso $67,335,568 and $460,478,684, a record.

Palo Pinto County (Mineral Wells) $44,952,000 and $39,955,355, a record.

Bryan - College Station $114,066,784 and $98,254,066, a record.

NOTICE ACKNOWLEDGED

County 18-Year-Olds Eligible To Vote In All Elections

Eighteen-year-olds are eligible to vote in any election, federal or local, as a result of ratification of the twenty-sixth amendment to the United States constitution, lowering the voting age.

Notice of the 18-year-old limited vote was officially acknowledged in Gray County by the office of the secretary of state, Martin Dies Jr., in a communication to the office of the tax assessor-collector, Jack Ack, yesterday.

Persons 18, 19, or 20 years of age who are presently registered to vote for federal elections only may now vote in all elections in county or political subdivisions, the official said.

Persons who turned 18 years of age after the Jan. 31, 1971, date of registration may still register for the current voting year.

The certificate is effective for any election held 30 days after registration. It is not necessary for the late registrations to be segregated from any other age classification on the list of registered voters, by the local office.

City Police Look For Youth Wanted For Questioning

Pampa police today continued to look for a youth wanted for questioning concerning the early Tuesday stabbing of another youth, A.J. Rex, 501 N. Swight.

The boy wanted for questioning is 14 or 15 years old according to a witness to the incident.

Rex underwent surgery yesterday at Highland General Hospital following the 2 a.m. incident which occurred at the home of the witness.

Rex's 16-year-old companion told officers the victim and the suspect had engaged in an argument after the scene, the witness said, he noticed Rex was bleeding, and alerted authorities.

Hospital authorities today said Rex was in satisfactory condition. He is being treated for stab wounds in the lower abdomen and leg.

SEC Begins 2nd Round Of Probe Of State Officials In Stock Fraud

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah, one of the most powerful men in Texas government, was scheduled for questioning by federal investigators today about his profits from National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock.

Also slated for quizzing by U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission probers was Rush McGinty, one of House Speaker Gus Mutscher's top aides.

The SEC's second round of deposition-taking from state officials in connection with its stock manipulation probe began Tuesday with F. C. “Sonny” Schulte, another speaker's aide.

Dr. Elmer Baum, state Democratic chairman, is to testify at the closed-door hearing Thursday, and Mutscher and Gov. Preston Smith are scheduled to give new depositions Friday.

Healy, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, told SEC probers last year he bought 8,813 NBL shares on Aug. 4, 1969, for $14.25 a share. He said he sold 7,813 shares on Sept. 30, 1969, at $19.75 a share, for a total profit of $49,971.

McGinty said he bought 4,115 shares of NBL stock at $11.12 a share on July 22, 1969, and sold 3,000 shares on Sept. 11 for $20 a share, or a total profit of $26,625.

Schulte testified for four hours Tuesday and told newsmen afterward that “I don't have any comment.”

In Tuesday's session, government investigators tried unsuccessfully to keep a lawyer for Smith and Baum from remaining in the room to hear Schulte's testimony.

But Donald S. Thomas, friend of ex-president Lyndon Johnson and former ambassador to Ed Clark, eventually was allowed to remain as an observer.

The SEC men contended U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah Hughes of Dallas, who has jurisdiction over the government's stock manipulation suit against NBL and other defendants, had barred all but those directly involved from attending the deposition sessions.

Thomas insisted on remaining in the room, saying that “from what I've read in the public press, the targets of this investigation are uniformly lumped into one group.”

A telephone call was made to Judge Hughes, Thomas said, and she permitted him to remain “just to listen.”

Reporters were forbidden to be even on the same floor as the narrow conference room where the questioning was done.

Schulte accompanied by his lawyer, Jim Kronzer of Houston.

In a deposition given last year, Schulte said he bought 2,000 shares of NBL stock for $11.12 on July 22, 1969, and sold them at $20 for a profit of $17,750 on Sept. 11, 1969.

Mutscher, Smith, Baum, McGinty, Healy and Schulte all said they made short-term profits from NBL stock, purchased with money borrowed from the now defunct Sharpstown State Bank of Houston, in 1969. Mutscher later bought additional NBL stock and said he lost money when its price fell.

Both NBL—now in state receivership—and the Sharpstown Bank were controlled by Houston financier Frank Sharp in 1969.

The SEC alleges that quick profits in NBL were arranged for various legislators and officials to help pass two banking bills that would have benefited the Sharpstown bank.

Smith opened the August 1969 special session of the legislature to the banking bills but vetoed them after they passed.

All the officials involved denied there was any connection between stock deals and the bills, and each said he was innocent of any wrongdoing. None is a defendant in the SEC case.

Sharp was convicted last month of minor violations of the federal securities act and was given a three-year probation sentence in return for his agreement to testify in various proceedings growing out of the SEC investigation.

Mansfield To Launch New Drive For Troop Reduction In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says the resistance capacity of the American 7th Army in Europe has become questionable with its soldiers beset by problems of “drugs, race and field comforts.”

The Montana Democrat served notice he will launch a new campaign, probably this year, for phased cutbacks that would reduce the U.S. force in Europe to one division.

Last May the Senate defeated a Mansfield proposal for halving American forces in Europe.

strengthening. But the dollar is less strong.

We simply cannot afford the commitment any longer. We are spending more abroad than we should in view of our own economic situation.

Q: But isn't it true Europeans are doing more for themselves—for instance pitching in with an extra billion dollars worth of defense effort over the next five years?

A: An extra $200 million a year is far too little. The Europeans are doing more for themselves. We know it. The direct dollar cost to the U.S. of supporting our forces in Europe in 1970 was $1.731 billion.

Q: What do you say to the argument that cutting back now would weaken the position of the North Atlantic Alliance, NATO, just when the Soviets are showing an interest in negotiating balanced force reductions?

A: Russia already is in a position of advantage with troops in East European countries like Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia.

Q: But how can you reconcile cutting U.S. forces when NATO member-states promised to make no unilateral withdrawals?

A: Unilateral withdrawals already have taken place by the French, Portuguese, Canadians. The late President de Gaulle did so after warning us of his intentions for three years. Yet we went on building NATO pipelines and other installations in France and were caught short. The Portuguese for obvious reasons—meaning their troubles in Africa—make no contribution to NATO. Canada has cut as Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau said he would in his election campaign.

Q: Who among the Europeans do you think could do more?

A: For a start the Germans should do more. It is true some Europeans, on both sides, would not like a strong Germany to rise again. The Germany of today is not the same as the old Germany. There are many safeguards—in the East as well as West—against that sort of revival.

Q: Unless Europe raises more conventional forces a cutback of the U.S. garrison would lower the threshold of nuclear war. You are prepared for that?

Q: Precisely when and how do you expect to revive your move in the Senate for cutting the number of U.S. troops in Europe?

A: Probably this year. In May we used a sledgehammer to make a dent in the thinking not only of the administration but also of the Europeans who should realize things cannot go on much longer like this.

Q: What do you intend asking for next time?

A: The aim will be to press for a graduated reduction, over a period of time, in the size of U.S. forces in Europe. Perhaps down to two divisions within a given period, then working down to President Eisenhower's old idea of keeping a single division in Europe.

Q: In what timescale?

A: By around the middle of the decade—1976 or thereabouts. Times are changing. It's up to Americans, and Europeans, to face up to the realities of this decade.

Q: What in your view are these realities?

A: The U.S. is maintaining too many troops there and is shouldering a lopsided burden it cannot afford. The Europeans have restored their economies. The Deutschmark is strong. The guilder is strong. The pound sterling seems to be

Financial Collapse Of Firm Detailed

DALLAS (AP)—The financial collapse of RIC International, a company involved in the stock fraud suit against Houston financier Frank Sharp, was detailed Tuesday in one of three depositions filed in federal court.

John E. Beard, former chief executive of the South Atlantic Co. of Tampa, Fla., explained how South Atlantic purchased RIC then sold out to a Texas group.

His deposition, filed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, plaintiffs in the suit against Sharp and others, related a deal discussed in October 1968 with John Osorio and Sharp. Osorio was once the law partner of former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

In the deal discussed, he said, Sharp would have acquired controlling interest in South Atlantic shipping company.

City PHT Champ Sixth In Nation

Randy Britton, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Britton, 1229 Darby, placed sixth in national competition of the annual Phillips-66 Major League Baseball-sponsored Pitch, Hit and Throw contest.

Randy was named third place winner in the National League Division, giving up the title to a Gadsden, Ala., contender.

Randy had won the local competition, going on to area competition in Amarillo and finally to Houston where he competed for the regional championship.

The contests were conducted nationwide with American and National League divisions.

Boys 9-12 competed in individual age groups to determine the four top winners in each league.

Winners will compete in Detroit this weekend to determine national winners.

Obituaries

MRS. HANNAH LANHAM

Funeral services for Mrs. Hannah Marie Lanham, 90, of 861 E. Frederick, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Carmichael-Whitley Colonial Chapel with Harold Pinard, minister of Jehovah's Witnesses Church, officiating. Burial will be in Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Mrs. Lanham died Tuesday at Wesley Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Paul E. Chambers of Pampa and Mrs. T.H. Summers of Stratford; one sister, Miss Emmy Hubenthal of Bremen, Germany; three grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

EARL CARPENTER

Funeral services for Earl Carpenter, 67, of Woodward, Okla., brother-in-law of Mrs. Frank Hogsett, 712 S. Finley, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Bible Baptist Church of Woodward with burial in a Woodward cemetery.

Mr. Carpenter died of a heart attack at 4 a.m. today at his home in Woodward.

He was a retired railroad employe, and retired farmer, and was a member of the Bible Baptist Church.

Survivors are his widow, Thelma of the home; one son, Cloyd of Kansas City, Mo.; one daughter, Mrs. Franklin Douglas of Oklahoma City; eight grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Eula Cook of Perryton, Mrs. Herbert Bass of Woodward, and Mrs. Opal Alvin of Laverne, Okla.; three brothers, Ira, Robert, and Dot, all of the Woodward area.

Senate Expected To Okay Bill Creating Cancer Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to focus the fight against cancer headed for Senate passage today, creating a new, independent government agency.

The bill is a compromise of a measure introduced by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in January and a proposal by President Nixon in May.

The Conquest of Cancer Agency would take over personnel of the 34-year-old Cancer Institute of the National Institutes of Health in nearby Bethesda, Md.

It would have independent status, reporting directly to the President, a feature sponsors say will give great impetus to the search for causes and cures of all forms of cancer.

Some senators expressed misgivings about the bill, saying they feared it was the first step in dismantling NIH—a group of medical study centers under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It has been called the finest biomedical research structure in the world.

Despite their doubts the senators said they had no plans to fight the legislation.

4th GREATEST CAUSE OF DEATH

Suicide In U.S. Becoming National Concern

DALLAS (AP) — Though praised in the Japanese culture, suicide in the U.S. is becoming a national concern for it is the fourth greatest cause of death for persons between the years 15 through 44.

Its approach is characterized by a loss of appetite and sex drive and increased antisocial behavior.

Its victims often experience insomnia for a period before they finally commit that final act.

Professional people attending a recent suicide seminar at Southern Methodist University were told there is no such "entity as a suicidal person."

Dr. Calvin J. Frederick says people don't recognize suicidal tendencies in others. "Even professionals trained to notice certain pervading symptoms miss them. Half the people who commit suicide have seen their doctor or pastor during the month before taking their lives," he says.

Fashions Can Save Money

NEW YORK (NEA)—As other prices zoom out of sight this is the year to choose fashions with the most dash to the dollar. Substitute advance planning for money and you can buy a dual purpose wardrobe that costs less but takes you more places.

Careful selection is the key to well-thought clothes with a multiplicity of fashion functions. And if you put together your own special look you'll be ahead of the game in more ways than one.

Here are some quick clothes-multiplying, money-saving tricks:

Settle for nothing but separates. They've always been wardrobe winners, but this year especially when even one-piece dresses are often designed to look like skirt-and-shirt, — and more — buy the real thing. Limit yourself to three outfits but choose each one with at least three or more interchangeable parts. Look for combinations with vests, pants or shorts.

Insist on synthetics. Modern fibers, such as Quintess polyester or Phillips 66 nylon, are easy on the pocketbook from small saving standpoints. Money saved on dry cleaning bills over a single summer can easily pay for one item in your wardrobe. With synthetics that drip dry overnight a smaller number of clothes can be fully utilized to seem like many more.

Buy a basic. Multiple separates can be multiplied still more if you choose one group with simple lines and colors — then accessorize with scarves and jewelry. A solid color can be the perfect background for a variety of accessories.

Coordinate colors. It's easy in a rush of shopping enthusiasm to trap yourself with mix-match separates in colors too flashy to mix or color. Decide in the beginning on your color schemes and carefully buy accordingly.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently married a widow I'll call Emma, whom I always thought to be a very sensible lady. I was a widower with a 14-year-old son. Emma had no children.

Before our marriage, Emma agreed to move into my house with my son and me. I work nights. Right after the wedding, Emma moved in, but two days later she moved out, saying the boy had made improper advances toward her. Now she refuses to come back until I get a daytime job, so I can stay home nights to "protect" her from my son.

I find it hard to believe that the boy ever made any improper advances to my bride. I asked him, and he denied it, saying Emma was crazy. Emma says the boy is not only a sex maniac, but a liar. I don't know what to believe.

In the meantime, I am legally married but I have no wife. In fact, we have never actually lived together as man and wife yet. What kind of marriage do you call this?

NEVADA: Unconsummated! See a lawyer. Under the circumstances an annulment shouldn't be hard to obtain. And you had better find out for certain who is lying. If Emma is telling the truth, your son needs help. If your son has been unjustly accused, then Emma needs help.

DEAR ABBY: I am so burned up, I'll bet sparks are coming out of my ears!

Three years ago I gave my sister-in-law a baby bed and a high chair. My children had outgrown them, but both items were as good as new.

Yesterday I found out that she sold them! Now, I ask you, did she have the right to sell them after I gave them to her for nothing. When I told her I wish she had told me she didn't want them because I would have taken them back, she said, "I would have if you had told me you were only lending them to me, but you told me you were giving them to me." Who is right?

BURNED UP: DEAR BURNED: She is. When you give something away, it's no longer yours.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (I'll call him Jim) has a strange attachment to a girl he knew during high school. Jim corresponded with her all through college, where he met me, and we married shortly after graduation.

Now Jim calls her daily and keeps her picture in our bedroom and one on his desk at his office. Otherwise he is a perfect husband. He told me he proposed to her before he asked me and she turned him down.

Don't advise me to talk it over with Jim. I've done that and he tells me I should be pleased that she approves of

ABWA Announces 'Woman Of Year'

The Pampa Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association elected Mrs. James Culpepper as their Woman of the Year. She was

MRS. JAMES CULPEPPER

... woman of the year selected by members as the woman who has done the most for the organization this year. Mrs. Culpepper is employed by a Pampa variety store and has been employed by the store for 25 years. She began working for the company in 1931, worked until 1943 and returned in 1957. Mrs. Culpepper started as a part time sales woman in the handkerchief department and has worked in all departments. She has also been an assistant manager.

Mrs. Culpepper graduated from Kim High School in Kim, Colo. in 1928. She worked as a telegraph operator for Western Union before going to work for the variety store.

Since Mrs. Culpepper joined ABWA in the Spring of 1967 she has served as the chairman of the scrapbook committee, corresponding secretary, and this year as president.

Mrs. Culpepper lives with her husband James at 309 W. Decatur. She has two children a son Bill who lives in Fairbanks, Alaska, and her daughter Mrs. Gary Schultz who lives in Hurst. She also has three grandchildren.

She is a member of the Naomi Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church and is secretary-treasurer of the TWO

Milk Products Supply Calcium

COLLEGE STATION (SpI)—Do I have to drink milk? That's an often repeated question, says Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

Drinking milk isn't the only way to meet the daily milk requirement, Miss Reasonover points out. Children and pregnant women, who need three or more cups of milk a day, and teens and nursing mothers, who need four or more cups daily, probably must consume a large part of the milk as a beverage, but they don't have to drink all of it. Several milk products and other foods supply about as much calcium as one cup fresh whole milk or one cup milk made from nonfat dry milk. These include 1 cup custard; 1 cup pudding made from milk and cornstarch; 1 cup oyster stew; 1 one-third cups canned cream soup prepared with an equal volume of milk; one-third of a 14-inch pizza with cheese topping; 3/4 cup homemade macaroni and cheese; and 1 milk shake made with 3/4 cup milk and 1/2 cup ice cream. Or, you may add nonfat dry milk to other foods. For example, "eat" part of your daily milk need in meat loaf.

Sorority Members Attend Park Social

A Summer ice cream social was held in Central Park with members and husbands of Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority attending.

Volleyball and baseball were played for entertainment. It was the first of several socials planned for this Summer by the new social committee.

Those on Rho Eta's social committee for the year 1971-72 are: Miss Jana Cole, Mmes. Dick Handley, and Johnny Mack. Chairman of this committee is Mrs. Jack Eddins.

Those attending the social were Messrs. and Mmes. Gary B. Clark, Ron Cline, Randall Cross, Jim Cunningham, Jack Eddins, Dick Handley, Terry

Joe Haralson, Tommy Hill, Johnny Mack, Jay Manning, Carlos Nunez, Randall Phillips, Mmes. Robert Benyshek, Gerald Sikes, and Miss Jana Cole and her escort Herman Vinson. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Foster.

The Ways and Means Committee met June 23, to discuss the firecracker sale. The new chairman of Ways and Means for the year 1971-72 is Mrs. Randall Phillips.

The scrapbook committee, headed by Mrs. Dwayne Luke for the year 1971-72, met June 24, to organize.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Foster recent transfers from Franklin, La. are new members.

Forty Years Of Top Service Speaks For John T. King & Sons

John T. King and Sons, located at 718 S. Barnes, has been serving the oil industry since 1930. The company was then known as Stapp King Electric and Machine Co. where the first Pyle National Generators run by steam and the old Robert Bosch Magnets were repaired. The oil timers will remember the type EK, R, and OC Wico magnets rebuilt at this time. Six years later the company became known as King Chemical Company with patent rights on the first paraffin solvents and paraffine scrapers that were popular in our present oil field for many years to follow. Since the end of World War II, John T. King and Sons have been serving the Panhandle field in various capacities and have met challenging changes with advent of future automation in the field of oil production and products. John T. King and Sons handles a complete selection of industrial magnets, pumps, skids, and industrial electronic automation equipment. One of the newer types of magnets stocked by King and Sons is the Altronic, a magneto used for larger industrial purposes. The firm also has Frank Murphy safety switches and electronic control units for field installation. Safety devices include United Engineer PKM and Keystone and Associated Well Sounders, Rockwell water meters, Worthington pumps, Fisher Controls, and Natural Gas Regulators are also found at John T. King and Sons.

King is represented as an authorized Central distributor for the latest type of ignition units that eliminates breaker points, and impulse couplings, spark plug life is extended, higher voltages available at low cranking rpm, shielded and low fire hazards, that are featured in the newest Altronic Ignition system.

John T. King and Sons, more so than keeping up with changes that are sweeping our period of time, are finding newer ways and better ways of pleasing their old and new customers.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held steady yesterday, despite the spread of higher prime lending rates among major banks.

Many banks around the country boosted the interest charged their biggest and most credit-worthy borrowers to 6 per cent from 5½ per cent. Wall Street analysts had been saying that higher interest rates were likely to have a depressing effect on the market.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials showed a dip of 0.37 to 889.82.

Advances exceeded declines by a little more than 100 among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Hidden Part Of Men's Shirts Has Much To Do With Their Behavior

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — A hidden part of men's shirts, the interlining, has much to do with their behavior during wear and laundering.

The performance of shirt interlinings is being measured in a study at the Texas Woman's University Textile Research Laboratories, sponsored by the Cotton Research Committee of Texas.

Researchers note that the interlining gives stability to the collar, the collar band and the shoulders. Shrinkage or stretchage of interlinings causes rippling and an unevenness of the outer fabric, damaging the shirt's appearance.

Six types of interlinings are being studied, including all-cotton fabrics of different weaves and blends and polyester fibers.

treated with different finishes. One of the interlining fabrics is a twill made of a South African cotton.

The same fabric is used for all of the test shirts so that the interlinings constitute the only variable.

Men employed at Texas Women's University serve as volunteers, wearing the shirts for eight hours daily until each shirt in the study has been worn and laundered 25 times.

The shirts are laundered in home washing machine at 140 degrees and are tumble dried at 160 degrees. They are given a light ironing.

Project leader of the study is Dr. Pauline Berry Mack, director of the Research Institute, with Miss Mary Sue Farrar the test leader.

Harris County Banks Top $6 Billion In Deposits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Deposits of money in Texas banks are the largest in history, it appeared today as first reports of the mid-year bank conditions began to appear.

Houston and Dallas, the big leaders in banking circles, reported all-time record deposits.

So did Grayson County—Sherman and Denison.

The Harris County (Houston) deposits in 110 banks reached the $6 billion mark for the first time. The total is $6,067,021,438, compared with $5,189,522,055 a year ago. The old Harris County record was $5.93 billion, set last December.

The Dallas total is $5,885,715,446, compared with $5,443,303,744 a year ago. The Dec. 31 figure was $5.97 billion.

Records usually are set at the end of the year, but all-time records have been set here and there at various mid-year reports for several quarters in Texas.

The reports were made in response to demands for statements of condition issued by the U.S. comptroller of the currency, the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The business editor of the Dallas Times Herald, Richard

Curry, said a major reason for the increases was the easier federal money policies.

There have been recurring reports, too, that citizens are keeping their money in the banks rather than spending it, fearing some upset in the economy and also hoping prices will decline.

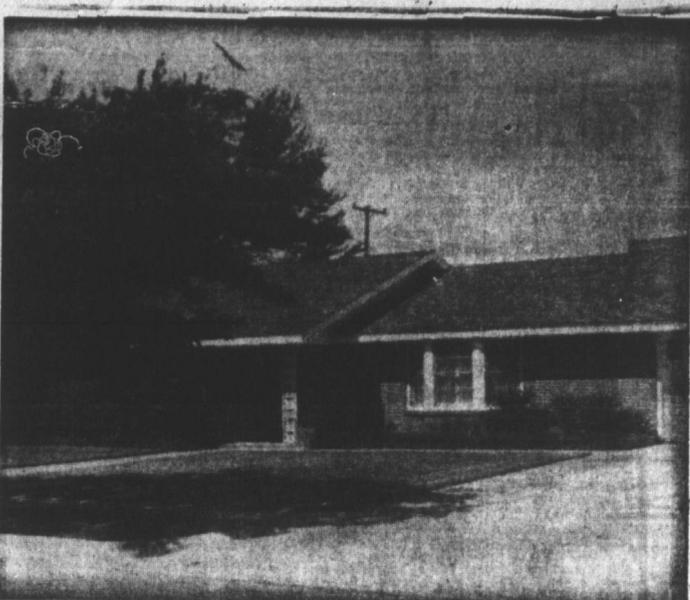

Grayson County, with 12 banks covering the Sherman-Denison area, reported deposits of $176,800,000 as compared with $160,000,000 at the same date a year ago.

Grayson County bankers ascribed the $16.8 million increase to general expansion and growth in the area despite the recent closing of Perrin Air Force Base which wiped out a payroll for 1,200 military and 700 civilians.

Lubbock's $450,146,103 was an increase over the $401,075,460 recorded a year ago, but fell below the all-time record of $477 million plus chalked up Dec. 31 last.

Midland set an all-time record for the midyear report, with a total of $277,544,546, a major increase over the year-ago figure of $248,486,170.

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

Editor's Note — Bill Boykin replaces Vern Sanford as columnist of this weekly Texas Press Association feature. Sanford retired July 1 after serving TPA for almost 24 years. This column solicits questions about state government news and information. Address your questions to The Pampa Daily News, and they will be forwarded to the Austin office.

AUSTIN — July 1 turned out to be a costly date for Texans. Not only did the nearly $1 million-a-day ($604 million biennially) tax bill take effect, but property owners got notice of up to 25 per cent in their insurance rates. And just the day before (see below) the State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent increase in private auto insurance coverage effective September 1.

Tax bill raises the general sales tax from 3.25 per cent to four per cent statewide (five per cent in many cities which also levy a local sales tax); adds three cents a pack to cigarette taxes; increases liquor tax about seven cents a fifth; raises beer tax a fraction of a cent a bottle; jumps sales tax on new cars to four per cent (bringing in car rentals) and jacks up corporate franchise levy $1.25 per $1,000 of capital.

A 10 per cent tax on mixed drink sales went into effect last month.

A new kind of "surtax" takes effect September 1. It will cost moving traffic law violators $2.50; other misdemeanor violators tried in county court, $5, and those convicted of felony, $10.

Raise in homeowners' and other kinds of property insurance came without formal announcement other than notices to local agents.

Homeowners' rates rose 25 per cent along the seacoast (hit by Hurricane Celia last August) and in tornado-struck northwestern territory of the state. Central area homeowners' rate jumped 22.1 per cent, too.

Extended coverage of all classes went up 25 per cent on the coast, 24.5 per cent in north-northwest and 19.7 per cent in the central area. Extended coverage for dwellings is up 25 per cent on the coast and north-northwest, 19.3 per cent in central part of the state.

Fire insurance coverage increases 5.2 per cent — or 7.1 per cent for dwellings.

AUTO INSURANCE UP AGAIN? State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent statewide passenger car insurance rate hike effective September 1.

Board heard recommendations at a public hearing here June 30 and indicated a decision will be made about mid-August.

Industry, which won a 14 per cent boost in rates January 1 after asking 27.7 per cent, is asking 9.8 per cent increase (average statewide) on passenger car coverage.

Seven state legislators and the state AFL-CIO president argued that a decline in accidents justifies lowering rates rather than raising rates. Since rates are fixed by territories, some areas under Board staff recommendations would receive reductions in certain lines of coverage.

MORE WELFARE WOES LOOM — A top court decision declaring needy non-citizens eligible for assistance, threat of increasing finance burdens from federal legislation and rising medical costs put the State Board of Public Welfare on red alert again last week.

Board was told the federal bill would "save" the state $67.1 million in existing payments — but might double the number of Texans eligible for medical care benefits (which will cost $135.7 million next year).

Supreme Court decision on aliens would add 20,000 to state welfare rolls overnight at a cost of more than $10 million a year, Deputy Welfare Commissioner Herbert Wilson estimated.

New Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said negotiations are under way to place limits on runaway medical care costs, while maintaining adequate services.

18-YEAR-OLDS CAN VOTE — Texas' 18-19 and 20-year-olds who are registered to vote can participate in any election starting this month, Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. points out.

Ratification by the 36th state of the teenage voter constitutional amendment placed it into effect immediately, Dies said.

Any election which is now in progress "must allow those 18, 19 and 20 year olds to vote if they are presently registered," Dies, chief election officer for Texas, advised.

Young voters not now registered must wait until registration period reopens October 1.

COURTS SPEAK — First case in which the Nixon administration sought to force busing in the desegregation of public schools, a federal judge at Austin gave Austin schools and U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare until July 16 to come up with a compromise plan "minimizing busing." Court found no official segregation against Austin Mexican-American pupils.

Third Court of Civil Appeals here ordered a new trial of the case involving authority of former Sharpstown State Bank president to check out bonds offered as security on a $470,000 loan. Now-defunct bank brought suit to recover its $470,000.

Both State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals did not meet last Wednesday, due State Bar convention in Dallas.

AG OPINIONS — Texas Water Quality Board may contract with the federal government for increased percentage limitations on federal grants for waste treatment facilities with approval of the governor, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

"The real question is not 'Should man be controlled?' but 'How should he be controlled?' By the erratic forces of nature or by man himself?"

Andrews says the book has received a mixed reaction. "Scientists are reluctant to talk about it and the professors don't like to talk about it at all," he said.

At any rate, the work should inspire some people to start thinking about what author G. R. Taylor said in "The Biological Time Bomb." "The day may be approaching when the public turns against science."

Regulations adopted by Texas Department of Public Safety Director consistent with safety standards of U. S. Department of Transportation for movement of hazardous materials can be enforced by criminal penalty provisions. Legislature validly delegated to DPA authority to prescribe duties and ascertain conditions under which law on hazardous substances may operate to impose criminal penalty.

County may deposit all tax money collected in one general fund without regard to purpose or source of each tax, but bonds proceeds may not be deposited in general fund.

State Comptroller is not authorized to issue a duplicate warrant for payment of unemployment compensation benefits to initial payee more than year after the original date of issuance.

Comptroller may issue warrant to contractor or seller of supplies to the State which are purchased through State Board of Control without seller's certification of correctness on invoice.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP — Texas unemployment increased 15,500 from mid-April to mid-May to a total of 196,500 Texas Employment Commission reported.

During last year, unemployment increased 28 per cent, and number of claimants for jobless benefits jumped 42 per cent.

Seventeen of the major areas reported unemployment growth during the past month. Four had a decrease, and one remained unchanged. Unemployment rate (as percentage of work force) was 4.1 per cent compared with 3.3 per cent in May 1970 and 3.8 per cent in April.

LAND SALE SET — Leases on 97,726 acres of state-owned land in West Texas will be offered at public auction September 22 here by Board for Lease of University Lands.

Total of 316 tracts will be sold to the highest bidder in Andrews, Cooke, Crane, Crockett, El Paso, Gaines, Pecos, Reagan, Terrell, Upton, Ward and Winkler counties. Oil and gas leases are being offered for the first time in El Paso County (block of 12,000 acres). More than 44,000 acres in Deep Gas Trend in the Delaware and Val Verde Basins also will be up for bids.

SHORT SNORTS — State general revenue deficit dropped from a peak of $173.5 million April 29 to $11.9 million June 24 and will go into the black by August 31, State Treasurer Jesse James reports.

Bids on the second phase of construction of the $3 million water exchange pass across Mustang Island will be opened July 12 by Parks and Wildlife Department.

Parks and Wildlife Department won three major awards in international competition for best conservation information programs.

Ardell M. Young of Fort Worth was named by Gov. Preston Smith to succeed retired 153rd District Judge Harold Craik.

New state bank charters are sought in Sattler (Comal County) and Katy (Fort Bend County).

R. H. (Dick) Cory, former Victoria legislator, succeeds Homer Leonard as general counsel and executive vice-president of Texas Brewers' Institute.

SCIENCE REFINES BRAIN MANIPULATION

Thought Control? It May Be Possible In 1984

By LEF MUELLER
NEW YORK (NEA)—Henry Huxley once wrote that "if some great power would agree to make me always think what is true and do what is right," he would consent to "being turned into a sort of clock and being wound up every morning before I got out of bed."

Mr. Huxley left us too soon. There are men now who would gladly accommodate him. Suddenly, 1984 is just 4,500 days or so away and George Orwell's timing, it appears, was not that far off.

"Within 15 or 20 years," says Dr. Marvin Karlins, "human behavior control techniques will be advanced to the point where we can control anyone."

The year is 1971 and behavior control is no longer just fodder for science fiction writers. It is real.

In a new book, "Requiem for Democracy? An Inquiry in the Limits of Behavior Control," Karlins and his co-author, Lewis Andrews, tell us it's already happening.

Transmitting signals to electrodes implanted in a charging bull's head, Yale physiologist Jose Delgado caused the bull to halt in mid-charge and walk away, presumably in search of a cow. It also was Delgado who caused mother monkeys under the influence of electrical brain stimulation to savagely attack their young.

At Tulane University, a man's memory was brought to acute awareness through electrical brain stimulation. And, in California, several rats' basic drives for hunger and thirst have been regulated with hormone injections.

"It's also possible to take one person's memories and transfer them to another person," explained Andrews, a Ph.D. candidate at Stanford University.

"It has been done with worms. Scientists taught one worm to crawl through a maze. Then they chopped it up and fed it to another worm, which crawled through the maze," Andrews said that memory is a chemical state, and scientists are now trying to discover how to transfer memory in higher forms of life. "Most think it will be in the form of a pill," he said.

While the idea of gulping down great quantities of information in one swallow appeals to many Americans, other aspects of behavior control do not. "Anyway," said a New York lawyer, "the whole concept sounds pretty far-fetched."

Not to Andrews and Karlins.

"One thing is that science accelerates much faster than anyone realizes," said Andrews. "If it's being done with worms now, it will be done with people."

For most people, behavior control — whether in the form of electrical stimulation of the brain, monitoring devices, genetic engineering or drugs — is a chilling threat to their freedom. Even futurist Herman Kahn referred to the technology of behavior control as "Faustian power."

The authors, however, contend that as technology advances we may be faced with a choice: a state they call "psycocracy," in which all things, including people, are subject to careful and precise technical manipulation to ensure a smooth function of the prevailing socio-economic system; or our participatory democracy, in which the goal is individual fulfillment.

"We take the position that behavior control can be used for good or bad purposes," Andrews said. "There are two ways to control people."

"The first way would be very rigid and, in effect, turn people into robots. Theoretically, this is possible, but it probably would be very inefficient because of the amount of time involved.

"In the second way, a person could be conditioned to do certain kinds of things; he would, in effect, be sent along a path and know where he was going."

"The problem posed by behavior control is not external tyranny. On the contrary, the real problem is the threat of freedom... if we recognize that a perfected behavior control technology is within our grasp, then for the first time in history we are truly responsible for our destiny."

"The real question is not 'Should man be controlled?' but 'How should he be controlled?' By the erratic forces of nature or by man himself?"

Andrews says the book has received a mixed reaction. "Scientists are reluctant to talk about it and the professors don't like to talk about it at all," he said.

At any rate, the work should inspire some people to start thinking about what author G. R. Taylor said in "The Biological Time Bomb." "The day may be approaching when the public turns against science."

JACKIE KENNEDY LOST 20 POUNDS IN 10 DAYS!

Jackie Kennedy Onassis, the world's richest and most beautiful woman, decided to lose 20 pounds in 10 days. She did! Jackie is an expert horsewoman, bicycles, takes long walks and reportedly pays $40 an hour at the Nicholas Kouravosky Gym. BUT, she still was not losing weight. So, this fantastically rich woman went on a special diet and lost — not 10 pounds, but 20 pounds in 10 days! Imagine! Jackie lost 20 pounds in 10 days! Now you can have the same diet used by this famous, beautiful woman!

We have a copy of the exact diet she used! It works! But — it takes the same kind of strong desire to be slim and "svelte" that Jackie has. DO NOT order this diet unless you are determined to lose up to 20 pounds in 10 days — unless you want to have Jackie's slim, trim figure! If she can do it, you can! (Note: Jackie's diet has never been advertised before!)

For an exact copy of Jackie's amazingly successful diet, send $1.50 ($2.00 for Air Rush) to: JKO DIET, P.O. Box 5447, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93106. (Calif. res add 5% tax) Jackie didn't wait to lose 20 pounds. Why should you? Order today. (c)

Today In History Houston Newspaper Executive To Run For Lieutenant Governor

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby formally announced today as a democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

Economy in government, constitutional revision, welfare reform and environmental improvement will play important roles in his campaign, Hobby told a Capitol news conference.

With Hobby, president and executive editor of the Houston Post, for the announcement were Mrs. Hobby and their four children.

"Because I believe in the great part the government of our State of Texas can play in making a better life for its people, and because of the key role the office of lieutenant governor plays in the operation of our government, I today announce my candidacy for the democratic nomination for that office," Hobby said.

Hobby said he already submitted his resignation as a member of the Texas Air Control Board to Gov. Preston Smith.

Hobby said he had the good wishes of Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who is a candidate for governor, but that there would be no attempt of the two to run as a political team in the 1972 campaign.

Hobby said he had never considered anything but a Democratic race. "I have never been anything but a Democrat," he said. "I have never voted in any but a democratic primary."

William P. Hobby Sr., his late father, was lieutenant governor and then governor. He took over the Post in 1939. The elder Hobby died in 1964.

The candidate's mother was the first commander of the Women's Army Corps and the first secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. She is chairman and editor of the Post.

Hobby is 39.

Highpoints of Hobby's statement included:

- Strong support of the amendment to be presented voters in November, 1972, which if passed, would let the legislature call a constitutional convention in 1974 to modernize the state's century-old Constitution. "Our state government functions, or fails to function, under an obsolete, inflexible system which makes governmental response to contemporary problems difficult or impossible," he said.
- Strict budget control through the Legislative Budget Board of which the lieutenant governor is chairman. "No other state official has a staff which enables him to maintain an effective surveillance over an annual budget of over $3 billion. Only the lieutenant governor and the budget board can do an effective job of establishing priorities in the state budgeting process."
- "Reckless disposal of the waste products of energy conversion into the environment that we must control and eventually stop . . . We all know that the pollution problem is not going to be licked overnight, . . . but certainly it isn't too much to ask that the processors and manufacturers of these good things in life be required to apply at all times the best technology available to reclaim and recycle unwanted substances where possible, and where it is impossible to capture and convert toxic substances into bland substances before releasing them back into the environment. These processes cost money, but this added cost, like taxes, is a cost that does not destroy but enhances value."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday July 7, the 188th day of 1971. There are 177 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1898, the United States annexed the Hawaiian Islands.

On this date:

In 1801, the black general Toussaint L'Ouverture proclaimed Haiti's independence from France.

In 1846, the American flag was raised at Monterey, Calif., after the Mexican garrison had surrendered and the United States' annexation of California was proclaimed.

In 1865, four persons were hanged after being named as accomplices of John Wilkes Booth in the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln.

In 1937, the Sino-Japanese War began with a clash between Japanese and Chinese soldiers near Peking.

In 1958, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the Alaska statehood bill.

Ten years ago: The Soviet Union vetoed a U.N. Security Council bill to guarantee Kuwait's independence against threats from Iraq.

Five years ago: India's Prime Minister Indira Gandhi appealed for an end to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

One year ago: Romania and the Soviet Union signed a 20-year friendship treaty.

NEW YORK (AP) — What will be new and—hopefully—fascinating in television next season? Nothing really radically different and no novel concepts are apparent.

If one looks at titles, it appears there will be more movies than even come September—nine programs on the three networks with the word "movie" included in their titles. But if the word means filmed entertainment made for theater presentation, there will really be only six around weekly, as it has been this past season.

Perhaps the most interesting trend is the emergence of the mature—and not especially romantic—male hero. It may be a reaction to this past season's "relevant" dramatic series in which energetic young acting newcomers played lawyers and interns with strong social consciences. The aims were lofty but, by and large, the ratings of the shows were low.

It is possible that the durability of some ageless performers—Fred MacMurray and his "My Three Sons" or "Ironside" with Raymond Burr—were recognized. Perhaps Robert Young's "Marcus Welby, M.D." which was a bit hit, impressed the programmers.

Whatever the cause, the result is that come September we will find William Conrad, the original radio Matt Dillon of "Gunsmoke," playing a tough, rotund and frankly middle aged investigator in "Cannon." James Stewart will make his series debut playing, of all things, a grandfather.

George Kennedy, no youngster, will have the title role in "Sarge," playing a cop turned priest. Anthony Quinn, after years as a film actor, will be playing the harried mayor in "The Man and the City." Glenn Ford, old enough to be seen on late, late movie broadcasts, turns up in a contemporary western, "Cade's County."

'Big Minh' Denies Report That U.S. Helped Him Overthrow Diem

SAIGON (AP) — Retired Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh, leader of the group that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963, was quoted today as denying the United States supported and encouraged the coup.

An article published in the Saigon Post said Minh had called inaccurate the accounts of U.S. involvement in the top secret Pentagon papers.

In another statement Minh declared: "If the United States just adopts a passive attitude and lets Mr. Thieu rig the election, then it would be useless to hold the election."

President Nguyen Van Thieu is expected to oppose him in the elections to be held Oct. 3.

The Post quoted Minh as saying he and his comrades made no contacts with Americans before the coup and that if any claimed to have "contacted and encouraged me in carrying out the Nov. 1, 1963 revolution, let them show up."

Sources close to Minh said the remarks attributed to him in the article were correct.

Your Horoscope

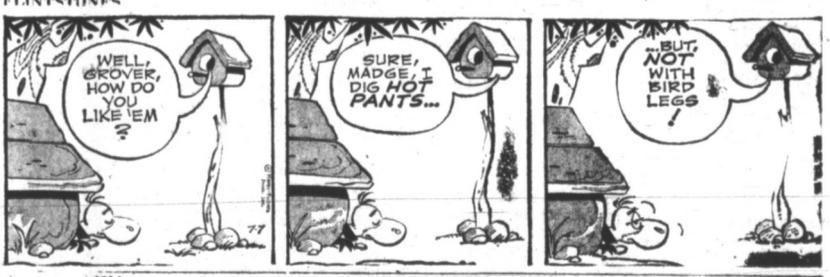

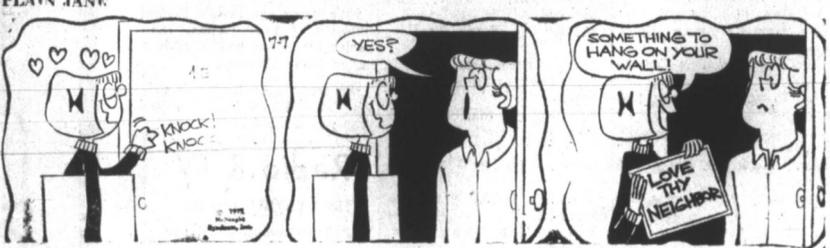

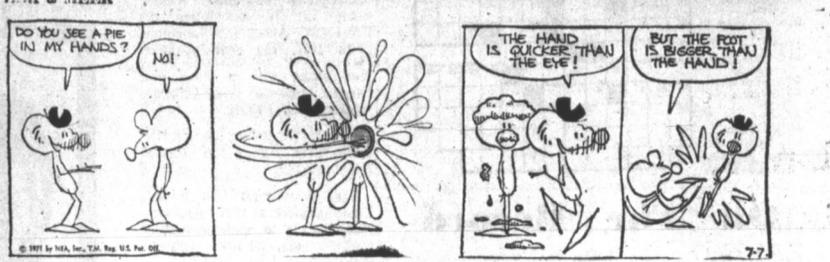

THURSDAY, JULY 8
YOUR BIRTHDAY THURSDAY: Fruitfulness and fulfillment are the goals of this year... to make the most of what is at hand. Improving environment wherever any chance exists. Your fellows call on you for help, advice, collaboration, according to how well you've shown your talents. Thursday's natives are versatile, good at figures and economy; not always well disciplined in their impulses to spend.
ARIES (March 21-April 19): Personal preferences intrude... be sure to deal fairly with everybody as events unfold.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Uncover your light and shine! The offer or invitation you receive during present occasions is a bridge to future expansions.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Curiosity may provoke humorous situations. Take your laughs and jokes in stride and keep asking.
CANCER (June 21-July 21): Younger people; children; take attention from planned ventures. Your patience and understanding eventually relieve everybody.
LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Expansion of personal interests; is normal for Thursday's aspect. See that nobody is put to an inconvenience.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Find out what's in it for you on any proposal. Collect past due loans and other outstanding obligations wherever feasible.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Skipping through news and taking lightly the doings of associates could put you in an undesirable position. Early and steady work efforts pay well.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Don't go to extremes; take nothing either too seriously or too flippantly. Matters deserve your diligence, and may test your forbearance as well.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): There's a gimmick in every transaction offered, including your own schemes.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Urging others to act can include impatient words which are better left out. Friends and loved ones are especially sensitive.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The future casts shadows. Think thoroughly about longrange plans.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You have sympathy in abundance to offer but there's little or none coming your way.

NEW YORK (AP) — A trial has been ordered in the $1.3 million damage suit brought against Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis by professional photographer Ronald E. Galella.
Judge Edward G. McLean, of U.S. District Court, also ordered Friday a trial in Mrs. Onassis' $1.5 million countersuit against Galella. McLean denied Mrs. Onassis' petition to dismiss the photographer's suit.
Galella charges that Mrs. Onassis and three Secret Service agents interfered with his livelihood during attempts to take pictures of Mrs. Onassis and her children in Central Park in 1969.
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The seven-year marriage of actor Elliot Gould and entertainer Barbra Streisand will come to a legal end by Monday or Tuesday, Gould's lawyer says.
The Dominican attorney general issued an opinion Friday recommending a divorce be granted, clearing the way, attorney Carlos Cornielle said.
Cornielle said the divorce proceedings were begun by mutual consent on the grounds of "temperamental differences."
The attorney said Gould intends to marry Jenny Bogart after the divorce is granted.

Three Officials Pledge Support To Sportsmen

Rep. Phil Cates, Sen. Max Baucus and Rep. Dean Cobble have given their support to the Canadian River Sportsmen's Association in their battle to have state-owned riverbeds and railroad right-of-ways reopened to the public for hunting.

All three public officials pledged to attend a hearing July 10 by the Parks and Wildlife Commission will review their decision to close the state-owned lands to the public for hunting purposes.

The Canadian River Sportsmen's Association came into existence after the Parks and Wildlife Commission passed a regulation closing all riverbeds and railroad-right-of-ways to hunting except for migratory birds. In the two weeks memberships have been offered by the Association 367 dues paying members have joined and branch clubs have been formed in Pampa, Amarillo and Dumas.

A total of 10 members plus officers and executive board of directors from the Association will travel to Austin at their own expense to voice the sportsmen's opinion on the closing of the Canadian.

According to Charlie Sam, Treasurer of the club, "We are interested in having the PW Department reverse their decision, not so much for the hunters benefit but for all of the public."

"James Cross, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, has notified us that the meeting will be held July 9 at 10 a.m. in the old supreme court room in the Capital building."

"We have asked Governor Preston Smith or his official representative to attend as well as Bob Armstrong of the Land Commission."

"Last night 175 members met in Borger in which 10 were selected to accompany the officers and board members in the trip to Austin.

"All of these people will be paying their own expenses and are interested in getting the public lands reopened to the public. We have had support pledged by Sen. Max Sherman, Rep. Phil Cates and Rep. Dean Cobb."

The Canadian River Sportsmen's Association is open to anyone interested in hunting including men, women, young adults and children. Further information about the Association may be obtained from Robert M. Carp, Windy Acres, Stinnett, Texas, 79083.

International Tennis Federation Expected To Bar Top Professionals

STRESA, Italy (AP) — The annual assembly of the International Lawn Tennis Federation is expected to ratify Wednesday a split with the world's top professional stars that would bar players such as Australians John Newcombe and Rod Laver from the major 1972 tournaments, including Wimbledon.

World Championship Tennis, the organization led by American millionaire Lamar Hunt that has 32 professionals under contract, is demanding more money to take part in the ILTF open tournaments and has threatened to promote its own tournaments in 1972 in competition with the ILTF.

"There must be an agreement," an Italian federation source said. "Wimbledon is probably the only tournament that could survive a couple of years without the professionals. But what about the others?"

"The only defense for the ILTF would be that all national federations bar the professionals from their courts, but this is highly unlikely."

Open tournaments to include the professionals were authorized in 1968 by the ILTF and now include the national championships of the United States, Australia, France and Italy, besides Wimbledon and a number of other tournaments.

Frazier To Fight Football Player In Exhibition Bouts

HOUSTON (AP) — World heavyweight champion Joe Frazier will take on a former contender and a football player July 14 in a pair of two-round exhibition matches, promoter Harlan Haas said Tuesday.

The exhibitions, in the Astor hall, will see Frazier facing Cleveland "Big Cat" Williams and James Helwig.

Williams, who was defeated for the world heavyweight title here in 1968 by Muhammad Ali, formerly lived in Houston but now fights out of Miami, Fla. Helwig, a 5-foot-11, 200-pounder from Dallas, was a starter as a sophomore on the TCU football team last year and recently turned pro. He competed three years in the state Golden Glove tournaments and was runnerup twice.

Three Dolphin Swimmers Qualify For Region Nine Junior Olympics

Eight Pampa Dolphins scored heavily in "A" and "B" swimming competition at the Holiday Swim Meet at West Texas State University's Activity Center's new 50 meter pool last weekend.

Competing against teams from as far away as California, the Dolphins made their best showing of the summer with 84½ points in "A" competition and 110 points in "B" competition.

Ted Brown led the Dolphin boys as he scored 7½ points in the "A" bracket to win the most high point trophy in the 11-12 age group with a tie by Branch Archer of the Amarillo Aquatic Club. Richard Steger, 8 and under, was the other Dolphin to swim "A" competition for the boys, Gary Gruver, 9-10 age group captured 19 points.

In "B" competition, the girls were the big point producers: 9-10 age group: Krista Marlar — 25; Tamara Glascock — 24; 11-12 age group: Brenda Hoskins — 22; and Laurel Gruver — 8; 13 and 14 age group: Teresa Glascock — 12. In "B" competition for the boys, Gary Gruver; 9-10 age group captured 19 points.

This meet also served as the West Texas AAU District Junior Olympics for West Texas swimmers. All Dolphins who took a first, second or third in Junior Olympics events are eligible to compete in Region Nine Junior Olympics competition in Houston on July 24-25. Dolphin qualifiers include Ted Brown (1st, 2nd, or 3rd in all events), Brenda Hoskins (3rd-50 Free), and Teresa Glascock (2nd-200 Breast).

Both Krista Marlar (3rd-50 Fly) and Tamara Glascock (3rd-50 Free) also captured Junior Olympic medals in their 9-10 bracket, however, they will not be competing in Houston, since there is no National competition in Junior Olympics in their age group.

Any swimmer taking a first place in Region Nine competition will be eligible for National Junior Olympics, which will be held in August at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

Dolphin Age Group Place Winners
Girls 8-10: Tamara Glascock — 25
11-12: Krista Marlar — 24
13-14: Laurel Gruver — 12
15-17: Brenda Hoskins — 22
Boys 9-10: Gary Gruver — 19
11-12: Ted Brown — 17
13-14: Richard Steger — 8
15-17: Branch Archer — 12

Unhappy Ryon: Second Thoughts About His Tour

STOCKHOLM (AP) — An unhappy, depressed and ailing Jim Ryon, world record holder in the mile, was uncertain today whether he would continue his European tour following a last-place finish and a 4:17.3 time in a meet here Tuesday night.

"Not even after the defeat in the 1968 Olympics did I feel as disappointed as tonight," said the former Kansas star.

"The first lap I thought I was running well, but after one and a half laps I just could not breathe," explained the hay fever-ridden Ryon.

"We will see Wednesday. If I decide to continue, my next race will be in Oslo July 14."

Ryon, owner of the world record of 3:51.1 and with a best mark of 3:54.98 this year, finished 10th, nearly 23 seconds behind 1968 Olympic 1,500-meter champion Kipchoge Keino of Kenya, who was timed in 3:54.4 — fastest in the world this year.

Keino, meeting Ryon for the first time since upsetting him in the Olympic Games four years ago at Mexico City, said he was surprised not to see the lean Kansas runner when he glanced back on the third lap.

Sweden's ULF Hoeborg finished second in 3:57.6 — a Swedish record. He was followed by John Mason of the United States in 3:59.1 and Sweden's Anders Gaererud in 3:59.8.

Aaron-Mays Picked For NL All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Atlanta's Hank Aaron and San Francisco's Willie Mays, two of baseball's all-time greats, and Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell, the major league leader in home runs and runs batted in, were named today as the starting outfield for the 1971 National League All-Star team.

Aaron, starting for the 12th time and appearing in his 20th All-Star game, was the top vote getter in both major leagues with 1,119,306 votes out of 2,396,895 ballots cast.

Mays, also named as a starter for the 12th time and playing in his 22nd All-Star game, was second in the NL with 1,064,887 votes.

Stargell collected 851,161 votes, far ahead of fourth-place finisher Lou Brock of St. Louis, who had 432,575.

San Francisco will be the only team with two starters for they oppose the American League in the classic at Detroit in a night game July 13. In addition to Mays, the Giants' Willie McCovey will be at first base.

Completing the starting NL infield will be second baseman Glenn Beckert of Chicago, shortstop Bud Harrelson of New York and third baseman Joe Torre of St. Louis. The catcher will be Johnny Bench of Cincinnati.

Bench was the only other National League player to granger more than a million votes. He re-

Fosse Suffering From Hand Injury

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians said today that Ray Fosse, chosen as the All-Star catcher for the American League, has suffered a torn ligament in his left hand.

The Indians said it was not known how long Fosse would be sidelined. He suffered the injury Monday, batting in the first inning against Washington.

Fosse said, "My hand swelled overnight and right now I can't even make a fist, let alone grip a bat or ball. I hope I won't have to back out of the All-Star game, but I don't know."

Sam McDowell, left-handed pitcher for Cleveland, also is sidelined for an indefinite time period with an inflamed tendon in his left shoulder.

TENNIS ACES

Australians John Newcombe and Rod Laver and American Arthur Ashe are the leading performers on the World Championship of Tennis Tour. Newcombe, with three tournament wins, held a 39-37 slight edge on Ashe going into July Laver had 33 points.

Lee Trevino In Pursuit Of British Golf Title

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Lee Trevino, the man riding one of the hottest streaks in golf with the U.S. and Canadian Opens already in his pocket, set off in pursuit of the British title today with a putting worry on his mind.

"The players who start early will have a very, very big advantage over the boys starting later," Trevino said.

"The greens here at Royal Birkdale have been well watered. They've been soaked by the weather as well as the green keeper."

"By mid-afternoon the footprints of the earlier players will have crusted up and certainly will make putting more difficult."

Trevino was scheduled to start smack in the middle of the field. He's going out with British Walker Cup Captain Mike Bonallack.

Trevino is one of 150 players chasing this crown, first competed for in 1860.

All of the competitors agreed that there could be putting troubles for the late starters.

Norman Von Nida, 57-year-old maestro of Australian golf, commented: "These greens have been watered too much. The heavy traffic over the greens will leave footprints that could harden in the sun."

The betting odds fluctuated almost by the minute. Trevino was listed as 4-1 co-favorite with defending champion Jack Nicklaus Tuesday night.

By this morning Nicklaus was the clear favorite again at 1-1 with Trevino slipping back to 5-1.

The field is packed with stars. Charles Coody, the U.S. Masters champion, Gary Player, the South African who has collected every major title in golf, Billy Casper, former U.S. Open champion, left-hander Bob Charles from New Zealand, a former winner, and the home-grown Tony Jacklin who held both the U.S. and British Open titles two years ago, all are here to compete over Royal Birkdale's 7,080-yard, par 35 — After 36 holes the field will be cut to the 80 low scorers. Any who tie at that figure go forward to the third round.

The field again is cut after 54 holes and only the 60 lowest scorers go through to the last round Saturday.

Babe Ruth All-Star Game Slated Thursday

The Babe Ruth All-Stars will be meeting the Spoilers tomorrow night in Optimist Parks at 8 p.m. The All-Star coaches are Jim Tucker and Leon Peel have high hopes of winning the match. According to Bob Johnson, Manager of the All-Star team, "We have the ability to advance to the World Series if the boy's desire to win is strong enough."

Manager Leon Holmes and Coach Don Knutson will be the forces behind the Spoilers in tomorrow's game.

At 7:30 p.m. tomorrow prior to the game the Babe Ruth queen will be crowned and introduced to the seven other teams in the league. A color t.v., motorcycle and sabre saw set will be given to lucky ticket holders after the crowning ceremonies.

Trophies will be awarded to the top team in city competition to the number one team, Grant, and their sponsor, Grant Supply Co. Grant finished 13-1 for the season.

Bikes Don't Pay Taxes

We read a deceptive little piece the other day in which the author proposed a tax on bicycles.

Bicycles, the scribe "reasoned," make use of sidewalks, streets, and roadways and, since the licensing tax is not being collected, riders of these two-wheeled modes of transportation are enjoying a tax-free status at someone else's expense.

That was the come-on, designed, obviously, to generate friction between bicycle riders and the rest of the population and, hopefully, one would imagine, a popular demand that the licensing and taxing bicycle ordinance be enforced.

Well, for the benefit of readers who may have blurred-out at that point, bicycles are ALREADY taxed to the point where, if the full truth of hidden taxes were known, it is safe to say that at least half of the purchase price of a bicycle is rendered to satisfy the appetite of the taxing authorities.

From the very moment that the raw materials used in the manufacture of a bicycle are mined from the earth, up through each successive state of its production, wholesale distribution and retail sale, until the final moment when it is delivered into the happy hands of the youthful recipient, a tax is added at each and every stage.

But that is just the beginning of the bicycle tax story. Add to that the fact that, even the tools of production, themselves, used in the manufacture of a bicycle are taxed over and over again, plus the fact that the incomes of those engaged in production and merchandising plus the incomes of those purchasing the finished product, are likewise taxed repeatedly, and one begins to gain a fair idea of just how much of the price of a bicycle is represented by taxation. Capital gains taxes, property taxes, export and import taxes, excise taxes, inventory taxes, excise taxes, (state and city), income taxes (federal and state), plus licensing taxes applied at every stage and the unseen, but real, tax of monetary inflation, they all apply; until a bicycle is taxed right down to its very sprocket and every spoke in its wheels.

So, let's not have any more journalistic foolishness about bicycles not being taxed. They are — in a hundred different ways.

On reflection, however, there WAS an element of truth in the piece previously referred to; although not in the way the writer intended.

Bicycles do not pay taxes. People do.

In the final analysis, ALL taxes are taxes on the income of individual people and ALL taxes, regardless of how or where applied, result in the transfer of property from the control of those to whom it rightfully belongs to the control of those to whom it doesn't belong.

Therefore, any demand for enforcement of a bicycle ordinance is seen for what it actually is: a demand that the city governments use the power to transfer further property from the hands of its rightful owners to the hands of the local bureaucracies.

In short, the writer of the piece was demanding a tax increase.

But, the writer really isn't too much different from the rest of us. We tolerate taxes on cars and a multitude of other items on the supposition that taxation is an essential method for raising government revenue.

The Politics Of Shortage

A 23-year-old experiment in "social engineering" (the political management of human beings and their property) is about to come to an end.

According to an item in "The National Observer," New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller signed a measure which signalled the end of rent-control in New York City.

Brushing aside the protests of Mayor John Lindsay, Gotham's City Council, and the city's legislative delegation, the New York governor pointed out that rent-control, a wartime measure dating back to 1943, was a "program that had outlived its usefulness."

Whether rent-control was ever "useful" or not, except as a means of building bureaucratic empires, is a point open to question; since, as noted in the Observer article, in the period between 1966 and 1970 alone, "some 100,000 apartments" in New York City "had become abandoned," forcing tenants to find shelter elsewhere, which critics attributed to rent-control.

The article went on to explain that, "More housing was being lost than was being built. Maintenance of other apartments was deteriorating noticeably as report after report showed the costs of operating most buildings had outpaced rental income. Tough code enforcement could not do the trick without more rental money."

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAWMAKERS

You may want to write your senators and representatives in Washington and Austin. Here are their addresses:

- STATE Rep. Phil Carter, House Office Bldg., Austin, Texas. Sen. Max Sherman, Senate Office Bldg., Austin, Texas. FEDERAL Rep. Bob Price, 377 Cannon House Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20515. Sen. John Tower, Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20505. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20505.

In New York City about 3,500,000 persons inhabit some 1,300,000 apartments whose rents are totally controlled by the city administration. An additional 1,000,000 people live in 375,000 newer apartments whose rents are partly politically controlled.

The measure signed by Rockefeller provides for the striking off of controls as present apartment tenants move out. After that rents will be decided by agreement between owners and renters under the principle of voluntary exchange. It is expected, the Observer article said, that rent-control will be almost gone in New York City in five years.

In signing the de-control bill, Rockefeller said he was convinced that it will encourage builders to begin building again and, thus, help to alleviate the housing shortage plaguing New York City. "It is time," he said, "to face the truth that the present rent-control system, designed initially to assure people of decent, reasonably priced housing where housing shortages exist, has turned into a device that actually aggravates the shortage and deprives people of housing."

Rent is nothing more than a price paid to occupy a property. Rent control is only selective price control. The general principle from the New York City situation is that price (rent) control creates a shortage.

That lesson has a double value. If you ever obtain political office, you can remove any desirable commodity from the market place by enacting a law to "make the commodity available to more people at a lower price." On the other hand, if you are not in political office, when price control is proposed, remember that it is the politician who is trying to do to you.

Question Box

QUESTION: Oren D. Pritchard, president of the National Association of Life Underwriters said in 1966 that charitable organizations spend seven cents to collect $1 in donations, that a county will spend 37 cents to collect a $1 in taxes, that the comparable expense is $1 to the state, and $3 to the federal government. If so, why do some people assert that $1 in wages yields 10 tax dollars by the time it reaches the U.S. Treasury?

ANSWER: The only way that a dollar can produce anything is to invest it in production. That is, you either buy tools with it, or you hire someone to operate a tool you already have. The dollar so converted becomes crealine.

Suppose for example, you hire a man to make bricks. The man works one-dollar's worth for you and makes bricks that you then sell for a total of $10. That is a difference of $9 above the labor.

This $, is then divided into six parts: A part for sales expense (the bricks have to be distributed before they can do the producer any good), a part to buy supplies, a part for upkeep of the tools by which the bricks were made, a part to pay taxes, and a part to provide incentive to the owner so that he will continue to organize the productive process, and bear the burden thereof.

The portion that goes to the owner is thereafter divided into two parts. One part he consumes and another part he reinvests additional tools or additional labor. What about savings? What about charitable gifts?

Charity means that instead of consuming the product or the trade derivatives thereof, the owner gave that much to someone else to consume.

As to savings, there is no such thing. Money cannot be saved. It can only be more efficiently used or less efficiently used. Gold buried in the ground is simply a less efficient use of a commodity that could be more productive if employed in trade. It may be that under a given set of circumstances, to bury gold in the ground is the most efficient use possible at that moment, but would be a less efficient use under other circumstances.

Now let us get back to that portion of the $ that was diverted to taxes. This portion can produce additional value only if the governmental activity contributes to the productive process by which the bricks were made.

This contribution might come in the form of the roads over which the gold was hauled while it was being refined or while it was being traded. On the other hand, the tax portion may be spent in negative manners that do NOT help brick production at all.

Usually tax dollars are spent on paper work, meetings, travel, activities that either do not help production and often frustrate production. A few tax dollars may result in marketable goods or services, but by and large what the government does is not sufficiently attractive to cause a person to expend energy in order to obtain value to trade for it.

The tax dollar, therefore, is not a creative dollar. It is only a dollar consumed by someone other than the original earner. One dollar in tax is usually just a dollar that is less efficiently employed. It buys energy and time that yield output of small attraction to the voluntary buyer.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Why are the U.S. Capitol and the White House situated a mile apart?
A—George Washington felt that the two buildings should be geographically separated as a means of separating the executive from the legislative branches of the government.

Q—How many islands comprise the Thousand Islands group?
A—No complete count has ever been taken, but at least 1,700 islands are in the group.

Q—Does the night-blooming cereus ever bloom in the daytime?
A—No. The flower of this cactus starts opening around 10 p.m., is fully opened about midnight and gradually withers about dawn.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

When a boss grows angry, he may get up from his desk and pace the floor. Or deliver a tirade of bitter words. Under similar tension, notice how baseball players and other athletes try to vent their inner tension via action of the muscles that are fastened to bones. This is God's insurance for our hearts!

CASE Q503: Alan K., aged 16, had a scientific outlook.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I want to be a professional baseball player when I leave school. So I have studied such athletes very closely. And I notice that the pitchers go through a strange ritual of motions before they throw the ball.

"For example, they touch the bill of their cap and even cross themselves. Meanwhile, they often chew gum or tobacco. And after a put-out at first base, they toss the ball all around the infield, why?"

Energy Outlets

The pitcher and the entire infield, are up tight before each ball is hurled toward the plate. The pitcher then relieves some of his pent-up tension by various little "tics" or muscular habits that help him release inner mental and physical pressure.

The fielders do much the same thing by repeatedly pounding their free hand into their mitt. Muscular action drains off inner nervous tensions!

As soon as the batter drives the ball toward the shortstop, if the latter fields it fast enough to get him out at first base, then the first baseman starts the ball around the infield.

That lets all of them relax momentarily and obtain a brief respite from their intense concentration. It's a psychological safety valve!

Members of a college track team will likewise keep jogging long before their event is called. Part of this action is to limber up their muscles and even prevent a Charley horse. This "warming up" period is desirable in all athletic contests.

But a second reason for such preliminary activity is to drain off the inner tension or "stage fright" by skeletal muscles. The latter are those which are hooked to bones, for they alone are under control of your will. You can thus move any finger or arm or leg, as you see fit.

But you can't control the muscles of your heart wall or intestines!

If, during intense stage fright, you fold your arms to keep your hands from shaking and even cross your knees so their tremor is not apparent, you can shut off this outlet of tension by those skeletal muscles.

But then notice what happens! That energy shunts across into your autonomic nervous system, which controls your automatic acts, like breathing, blood pressure, pulse rate, digestion, sweating, etc.

So your heart will race till you almost faint. Your throat also gets dry and you may

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb

break out in the cold sweat of fear.

Be grateful henceforth when your hands shake as you face an audience or the crowd in a sports arena. For God Almighty designed our bodies so we'd dissipate tension via our skeletal muscles and thus protect our heart and digestive system!

An angry person (or boss) may thus get up from his desk and pace the floor! Or he may use his vocal muscles in rapid, irate speech!

Got something you would like to "get off your chest"? That's what the "Clearing House" is for. It has been suggested there should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind. So, in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

Editor:

Several people have requested that we send in a letter to the Pampa Daily News, urging that all citizens possible write the State Board of Insurance asking that the ruinous rate of insurance be altered.

In the first place your local agent cannot help you, neither can your Congressman. The only one who can assist you is yourself. It would be necessary to write to the chairman of the board of insurance in Austin, Texas. The address is 1110 San Jacinto (code 78101).

An example is that where an individual was paying $492 on a $10,000 home-owner coverage, they will now pay $615, approximately.

Many local people contend that not enough time has elapsed since more recent events, to know if such raises are justified. It is our opinion the State Board is going to kill the insurance companies with kindness.

Already, taxes and insurance are ready to put many of us into small apartments. It takes a fairly well rich man or woman to withstand such present day expenses. It is urged that every one affected in this area, write to the chairman of the Insurance Board. This is one job we must do for ourselves. Old George just can't do it this time.

Inside Washington

BRIEFINGS

WASHINGTON — Belatedly and under irate congressional prodding, Frank Shakespeare, director of the United States Information Agency, is tightening the controls over who talks under the auspices of his agency—and what is said.

Reason for the tardy reform is off-the-record remarks made to newsmen by Parker Hart, assistant secretary of state in the Johnson Administration, in which he evinced pronounced pro-Arab bias. Among other things, Hart charged Israel with stalling on withdrawing from conquered territory in the hope the Democrats will win the 1972 election.

Hart, now head of the Middle East Institute, a privately financed strongly pro-Arab organization, voiced these dynamite-loaded views at a meeting in the Foreign Press Center in Washington. USIA operates such centers in the capital and New York for the background information of foreign newsmen. Hart spoke anonymously, but later was identified in press reports.

Since then, embarrassed USIA and State Department officials, under sharp fire for the incident, have been disclaiming responsibility and giving assurances it won't happen again.

Shakespeare disclosed the new tight regulations at a session of the House Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of the USIA budget, after being caustically taken over the coals for the Hart blooper.

That the affair was a distressing mistake was readily admitted by Shakespeare.

But he maintained forceful steps have been taken to "preclude this happening again."

"We have seen to it," said Shakespeare, "that the scheduling of all speakers at the Foreign Press Centers in Washington and New York will be carefully screened by USIA authorities so that the best judgment will be exercised on who does speak. Secondly, I have issued explicit instructions that in all cases, no matter who appears, if he is a private citizen he must talk on the record and for attribution."

Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y., committee chairman, questioned Shakespeare sharply on whether these new rules are verbal or in written form. Caustically, Rooney reminded the USIA head of another snafu that had caused considerable embarrassment.

KICKED UPSTAIRS—Shakespeare revealed, under questioning, that the USIA official credited with having invited Hart to talk "is in the process of being reassigned to an overseas post."

"Is that the way you kick them upstairs for making a booboo like this?" asked Rooney. Shakespeare sidestepped a direct answer.

Rooney noted that Hart, in addition to heading the State Department "desk" on the Near East also had been ambassador to several Arab countries in the Johnson Administration. Asked Rooney, "Isn't it rather dangerous to invite someone who is very likely to take a position hostile to Israel to a meeting of this kind?"

Shakespeare readily admitted that.

"There is no question this was a serious mistake," he said. "If Mr. Hart, or any private citizen, appears at a press background discussion under the auspices of USIA, it must be wholly on the record. It should never be off the record. Otherwise, people could assume we were putting up a signal flag or flying a balloon for the administration. Certainly that was not the case in this instance."

"Also we exercised bad judgment in having him talk at this time. Above all, if he did talk, he should have been identified. There may be no doubt as to Mr. Hart's expertise, but as to his viewpoint, obviously he tends to represent a certain attitude."

"Which is distinctly anti-Israel," snapped Rooney.

"Let's say, a viewpoint which is attributed by many people to be anti-Israel," asserted Shakespeare. "Personally, I don't know whether Hart is anti-Israel or not. But I do know he is presumed by many people to be anti-Israel, which in effect is the same thing."

NOT ME!—Secretary of State Rogers and Assistant Secretary Joseph Sisco, now in charge of Middle East affairs, fervently assured the Appropriations subcommittee they had nothing to do with the Hart incident.

Rooney vigorously questioned both officials about the matter. Both were vehemently emphatic in their disclaimers.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

If We Stop Having Babies

By PAUL HARVEY

You object to contraception. You object to abortion. So does Pakistan. And the sewers of Karachi are stuffed with unwanted babies.

On the other hand if we stop having babies, what happens? Former Interior Secretary Udall says, "All our problems would be more manageable if we had a lower population growth." Is that so?

The American Agency for International Development, researching the results of population growth, found a "horrible example" in Pakistan.

The country has suffered a destructive civil war and devastating natural disasters — one cyclone killed 300,000 — thousands die daily from starvation. Yet the birthrate is such that the population continues to increase 3 per cent a year, nearly twice as fast as ours.

In most backward countries, comparatively few people live long. So nearly half the population of Pakistan is less than 15 years old, waiting to reproduce itself.

These researchers came home convinced that there's little anybody can do about it. Presently Pakistan's families average four or five children each. Even if that could be reduced to two children per family starting tomorrow, that country's population would double within 60 days.

And you won't like this, but these researchers say our efforts over there to eliminate plague, cholera, smallpox and malaria — have upset nature's balance and resulted in increased starvation.

And while much has been done to lower mortality rates, little has been done to reduce the birthrate, so:

In East Pakistan, where each arable acre now barely supports three persons, it will have to support seven by the end of this century — and there is no known way.

Overpopulation is a comparatively new problem. While our own continent was being developed, large families were encouraged.

Now we face the difficult prospect of a very abrupt psychological about-face.

Where you and I grew up with a generation which applauded the parents of many children, now voluminous procreation is considered selfish. Ecologists say our soil, air and water will not support more than two babies each family.

This about-face involves economic readjustment, also. Heretofore American businesses predicted their expansion plans on an increasing population eating more food, buying more diapers, more houses, more insurance, more everything.

Now, if we stop having all those babies what happens to business?

Reproducing at our present rate, the population of the United States will be half again what it is within 30 years. By the year 2020, our population will double.

But if, instead of producing 3.3 children per family we should elect now to produce only 2.2, our population would be a more comfortable 266 million by the year 2,000. Kinda looks like a Hobson's Choice between economic stagnation and individual starvation except that a noose around your belt is probably preferable to one around your neck.
