SST Future In Hands Of Senate

Veep Refutes Attacks On Pentagon By CBS

BOSTON (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Thursday accusations of distortion leveled at the Pentagon in a recent CBS-TV documentary could just as well apply to the network itself.

Agnew said the CBS news documentary "The Selling of the Pentagon," broadcast Feb. 23, failed to observe the adage about people living in glass houses throwing stones.

The vice president quoted the CBS script as saying, "Nothing is more important to a democracy than the free flow of information. Misinformation, distortion and propaganda all interrupt that flow."

"It is the CBS television," he said, "not the Department of Defense that leaves much to be desired in terms of the free flow of information."

In New York CBS President Frank Stanton called Agnew "mistaken."

Stanton said "The Selling of the Pentagon" has been praised by "distinguished Americans from all walks of life. It has been criticized, but we believe that it is an important and valuable job of journalistic investigative reporting."

A crowd of about 3,000 antiwar demonstrators massed in front of the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, where Agnew was speaking to the Middlesex Club, the nation's oldest Republican organization.

There was chanting and rock-throwing and about 350 helmeted police forced them away from the hotel. Some windows were broken and between 12 and 15 were arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to assaulting a policeman.

The vice president cited no specific instances of misinformation in the Pentagon documentary, but said CBS employees who worked on it had worked for two other programs, "Hunger in America" and "Project Nassau," which were cited by officials as inaccurate.

Agnew said the CBS employee who wrote the script to "Hunger in America" authored the Pentagon script.

"Project Nassau"—a show which never was televised—came "dangerously close to violating the U.S. Neutrality Act" in which the United States pledged to stay out of the internal affairs of other countries, Agnew said. He quoted a House subcommittee report which accused CBS of providing a group of armed guerrillas with a 76-foot boat to invade Haiti as well as staging events for the cameras.

The executive producer for Project Nassau also was executive producer for the Pentagon show, Agnew said.

Stanton defended "Hunger in America," saying President Nixon had praised it for arousing the public to the problem of hunger. Stanton said "Project Nassau" was abandoned.

House Against Using Money For Project

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The future of an American faster-than-sound airliner is in the hands of a skeptical Senate which is facing mounting pressure from the airline industry, the White House and organized labor to keep the project alive.

The House voted 215 to 204 Thursday not to spend any more government money to develop two prototypes of the supersonic transport plane after March 30, when current financing ends. But opponents of the project tempered their enthusiasm over the unexpected house action with cautions that the SST still is far from dead.

A White House aide said President Nixon was "naturally disappointed" at the House action killing a $134 million appropriation to continue the project until June 30. But the aide said, "The President is hopeful that the Senate will restore the funds for the prototypes."

Cost Of Living Rose 0.2% In February

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cost of living rose 0.2 per cent in February, the second straight month the increase was well below the inflation-plagued average of the last two years, the Labor Department said today.

But the February report of the consumer price index showed some of the largest items in the average family's budget—food, clothing and medical care—continue to increase substantially. Increases in these items were partially offset by declines in mortgage interest rates and the price of used cars.

The consumer price index advanced in February to 119.4 per cent of the 1967 average. That means it cost $11.94 last month to buy the same assortment of goods that could have been obtained for $11.92 in January, $11.39 a year ago and $10 a little more than three years ago.

The February index was 4.8 per cent higher than it was a year earlier, the smallest 12-month rise since February, 1969.

The February increase also was 0.2 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis. In January, prices rose 0.1 per cent without adjustment or .3 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Taken together, the January and February increases were well below the average of about 0.5 per cent recorded in most of 1969 and 1970.

The report, indicating a slowdown in inflation, was about the only good news the February economic statistics held for the Nixon administration's economic strategists.

Reports announced earlier showed industrial production declined last month and personal income recorded an increase about half as sharp as the average for last year. Wholesale prices increased 0.9 per cent in February, the sharpest rise in 17 years.

'Greatest' Movie Producer Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Leland Hayward, called "the greatest agent in the world" by Ernest Hemingway and the producer of such Broadway hits as "South Pacific" and "The Sound of Music," died Thursday following a long illness. He was 68.

Hayward entered New York Hospital Feb. 5 for removal of a clogged artery in his neck. He returned to his Yorktown Heights, N.Y., home Feb. 9 but returned to the hospital immediately when he suffered a stroke that night.

He left the hospital March 5 and died at his home.

During his career as a theatrical and literary agent, Hayward represented entertainers James Stewart, Judy Garland, Clark Gable, Henry Fonda, Fred Astaire, Katharine Hepburn and writers including Hemingway, Edna Ferber, Ben Hecht, Charles MacArthur and Dashiell Hammett.

Rogers Attempts To Ask Israel To Reconsider U.S. Peace Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers meets with Foreign Minister Abba Eban today and hopes to dispel some of Israel's fears that its security would be jeopardized if it gave up the Arab territory conquered in the 1967 war.

American officials said Rogers planned to let Eban do most of the talking in an effort to discover just what ideas Israel has for getting the deadlocked discussions with Egypt, under the auspices of the United Nations, underway again.

They said, however, that Rogers undoubtedly would attempt by "quiet persuasion" to get Israel to reconsider its blunt rejection of a U.S. plan unveiled Tuesday by Rogers which was designed to safeguard Israel's sovereignty under a peace agreement with Egypt.

Rogers' proposal called for Israel to withdraw to its 1967 boundaries and rely for security on the operation of an international police force, including the major powers, instead of insisting on holding Arab territory with the idea that this would provide geographical security.

Eban, who is in the United States on a private tour under the auspices of the United Jewish Appeal, was to meet with a number of senators prior to his 11 a.m. session with Rogers at the State Department. Among the senators he was expected to meet were most of the members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Administration officials said the Rogers-Eban talks were part of what they hoped would turn into a very quiet dialogue with the Israelis to try to sort out all of the elements of the situation and eliminate the differences between the United States and Israel.

Red China Tries To Provoke U.S.-Russ War, Say Experts

MOSCOW (UPI)—A group of Soviet specialists on Communist China has issued a booklet saying Peking hopes to provoke a war between the United States and the Soviet Union so that China can control the world.

The China watchers also said Peking made a bid to protect its nuclear installations from U.S. preventive strikes by promising not to intervene in Indochina.

Nine Soviet sinologists co-authored a well-documented booklet on Chinese foreign policy published recently under sponsorship of the Far Eastern Institute of the Soviet Academy of Sciences.

Soviet Union and the United States to inspire and support a permanent state of conflict, to provoke crises and direct clashes between the two countries," the booklet said.

"The anti-Soviet armed provocations 1969 (border clashes in Siberia in which hundreds of troops on both sides were killed or wounded) were intended to clear the way for Chinese diplomatic maneuvers with respect to the United States," the booklet said.

The booklet, titled "Foreign Policy of the Chinese Peoples Republic," said that since war between the two superpowers had not materialized, the Chinese are pursuing another objective—a virtual alliance with the United States.

Increase In Social Security Taxes Believed Unlikely

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The ranking Republican on the Senate Finance Committee sees little chance Congress will increase Social Security taxes this year—as President Nixon asked—to pay for the higher benefits which start June 3.

In signing legislation Wednesday providing a 10 per cent increase in benefits retroactive to Jan. 1, Nixon criticized Congress for abandoning "the cardinal principle" of providing increased revenue whenever it increases benefits.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said he agreed with Nixon. He said the higher benefits, without higher taxes, would merely add more heat to the nation's inflation.

But, said Bennett, "I can't see any real possibility that there will be a bill soon to change the tax rate this year."

The bill Nixon signed provided for higher taxes starting in 1972. It raised the wage base on which the payroll tax is levied from the first $7,800 of earnings to the first $9,000.

For people who earn $9,000 or more a year, this means Social Security will take $468 a year from their paychecks. It now takes a maximum of $405 a year.

Calley's Defense Getting Restless

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—The shirt-sleeved jury deliberating the fate of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. went into its third day of painstaking and time-consuming analysis today. The defense was getting restless.

Calley's attorney, George W. Latimer, said he thought the jurors were acting too much like investigators, with some unreasonable requests for pictures and rereading of evidence, and were taking too much time.

State Senate Approves Liquor By The Drink Bill

AUSTIN (UPI)—The state Senate unhooked a liquor by the drink bill for the first time in 32 years, but the right of Texans to buy a mixed drink could be bottled up in the House's procedural limbo "for at least another couple of weeks."

"It will at least be another couple of weeks before we can ever bring it up to the Liquor Regulation Committee for a public hearing," said Rep. Dewitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi, House sponsor of the controversial measure.

"I can't project when we can bring it up for House debate and a vote," he said.

The Senate voted 27-7 Thursday to do away with the last vestige of prohibition and permit sales of liquor by the drink in Texas. Texans last had a chance to buy a mixed drink in an open saloon in 1919.

Sen. Joe Christie, D-El Paso, said the 22 vote majority would allow the bill to go into immediate effect if Hale and the other House sponsors of the measure could get a two-thirds majority from representatives.

"I'd like to see if (House approval) within the next month so that the local communities can start calling the local option elections in May, and—if they approve it—have mixed beverage sales by the start of the tourist season this summer," he said.

Christie's bill originally was approved by a 19-10 margin. But the El Paso senator and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes got three "drys" to switch votes on final passage to give the bill the two-thirds majority needed for immediate effect. Otherwise the bill could not go into effect until the end of August.

Texas voters approved a constitutional amendment last November to repeal the state's long standing ban on "open saloons" and to clear the way for lawmakers to pass a mixed drink statute.

Christie's bill would permit liquor by the drink in precincts, cities or counties that vote wet. Bars, lounges, restaurants and hotels could get a mixed drink permit for $5,000 from the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Some Evacuated Viets Say They Prefer Surrender To Fighting

By BERT W. OKULEY
SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. helicopters today airlifted to safety South Vietnamese troops who abandoned their westernmost combat base in Laos. Some evacuated South Vietnamese troops said "we would rather surrender than fight any more."

Field commanders said 1,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen were airlifted from Artillery Base "Brown" and taken to Artillery Base "Delta 1," nine miles inside Laos.

It was the 10th fixed base evacuated by South Vietnamese forces or overrun by North Vietnamese troops since the start of the Allied drive into Laos Feb. 8 in an effort to cut the Ho Chi Minh trail, the primary Communist supply line into South Vietnam and Cambodia.

Some 3,000 South Vietnamese marines and rangers were flown to the border as replacements for withdrawn government troops, many of them battered units.

men, who have run into intense antiaircraft fire throughout the Laotian campaign, accomplished the latest withdrawal from "Brown" with only light ground fire reported.

But the U.S. command said four more helicopters were shot down and destroyed Thursday over Laos—two shot down and two hit by gunfire on the loss of two AH1 Cobras, a UH1 Huey and a big cargo-carrying CH47 Chinook.

South Vietnamese spokesmen in Saigon said today 18,000 government troops were still in Laos, down from a peak of 24,000 on March 6 when the key Ho Chi Minh trail junction of Sepone was captured.

Military sources said, however, that fewer than 15,000 South Vietnamese were still inside Laos, many having been withdrawn unannounced earlier this week.

Some South Vietnamese troops withdrawn from the Laotian fighting said they refused to fight another day in Laos.

"We had been fighting for six weeks in Laos," one soldier told a reporter in Khe Sanh, South Vietnam. "We would rather surrender than fight any more."

compromised in a two or three-day period."

As an indication of the massive U.S. air support given the South Vietnamese operation in Laos, spokesmen reported that more than 1,750 helicopter sorties were flown across the border Thursday along with 350 air strikes by Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps and Vietnamese fighter-bombers. The Air Force also sent 10 B-52 bomber missions into the Laotian lower panhandle.

U.S. helicopters had lifted 1,500 South Vietnamese out of Laos Thursday in the face of heavy North Vietnamese pressure. Some troops remained in jungles near "Brown" after today's withdrawal from the base itself.

Governor Signs Bill To Establish 8 Colleges For UT, Texas Tech

By MICHAEL O. WESTER LUBBOCK (UPI)—Gov. Preston Smith called it a "momentous" and "historic" occasion. Then, with a little flourish of his pen, Smith signed a bill to allow the state of $185 million worth of bonds to build eight new academic and medical colleges for the University of Texas and Texas Tech systems.

the governor reminisced about his own college days. "When I was a student on this campus I looked forward to the day when students who followed me would have access to the best educational opportunities which the state could afford. Now we are approaching that day. "We must consider the overall picture. Our institutions must stand for all-around education. Our administration has set as one of its top goals educational opportunities such as this. With the signing of this bill we move one giant step toward our goals," the governor said. As he was leaving, students waved dollar bills at Smith to protest his involvement in the recent stock fraud scandal.

Solon Fights To Reduce Penalty For Drug Holder

AUSTIN (UPI)—Convicted murderers sometimes go free on probation, but a person convicted of marijuana possession for a second time faces a mandatory prison term of 10 years or more. Rep. Paul A. Longoria, D-Edinburg, thinks that is unjust, so he is sponsoring a bill making marijuana possession a misdemeanor and removing the mandatory penitentiary term for subsequent offenses. "If I can save just one kid I will feel it has been worth it," Longoria said before introducing the bill. "It may stir up a lot of controversy but I feel I've got to do it."

AIRMAN HELD ON CHARGE

Evidence Shows 10-Year-Old Girl Raped And Strangled To Death ABILENE (UPI)—Tonna Worthington, 10, died of strangulation and was sexually molested, according to a pathologist's report released Thursday. Air Force T. Sgt. James Creel, 32, the father of four sons, is being held without bond on a murder charge. Abilene police picked up the Creels' family dog as evidence Thursday. They did not say what they were doing with the dog, but it was reported a dog was seen with a man in a red car near where the girl disappeared. It is presumed authorities wanted samples of the dog's hair, possibly to try to match it with hair from the victim's clothing. Pathologist, Dr. B. B. Trotter said the girl died of strangulation and asphyxiation. He said there was "gross evidence of sexual activity" and the body bore evidence of an unnatural sex act. The report said there were pressure marks around the neck, but did not say what kind of instrument might have applied the pressure.

Events In State Legislature

AUSTIN (UPI)—Events in the Texas Legislature Thursday. Liquor — Liquor by the drink in Texas is only a House vote away from becoming reality after 52 years. The state Senate voted 22-7 Thursday to do away with the last vestige of prohibition and permit sales of liquor by the drink. Mutscher — Rep. Tom Bass, D-Houston, in an unprecedented maneuver, resigned his House committee chairmanship and pledges of support of Speaker Gus Mutscher because of Mutscher's continued refusal to permit legislative inquiries into his role in a multimillion dollar stock scandal. Mutscher accepted the resignation, named a new chairman for the juvenile crime and delinquency committee, but declined to comment on Bass' suggestions that he publicly explain his part in the stock dealings.

Welfare — Welfare payments to 87,618 families with dependent children will be slashed one third on May 1 and aid to another 4,500 families will be completely dropped. The state welfare department can't give out any more money because of the present constitutional ceiling. Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney announced. Tuition — The State Senate says it's time for out of state students to foot more of the bill

Lawmaker Withdraws All Pledges Of Support For Speaker Mutscher

AUSTIN (UPI)—In a symbolic act of protest, Rep. Tom Bass, D-Houston, resigned his House committee chairmanship Thursday and withdrew all pledges of support for Speaker Gus Mutscher.

He said he would not support Mutscher for speaker in 1973 because Mutscher has repeatedly refused to allow the legislature to investigate his part in a multimillion dollar stock fraud scandal. Mutscher, one of a number of top state officials to reap rich profits from a 1969 stock deal, said he regrets Bass' decision, but "if Mr. Bass feels that it is in the best interest of himself and his constituents to step down from this position of responsibility, then that is his judgement to make."

The speaker refused to comment on Bass' suggestion that Mutscher make a public explanation of his role in the 1969 stock deal. The Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit last January accusing 28 defendants of engaging in a conspiracy to violate securities laws. Mutscher was not named as a defendant, but the SEC revealed that he, along with Gov. Preston Smith and others, were out in on the deal at a time when two banking bills favored by defendants were quietly being passed by the legislature. Bass wrote Mutscher a letter explaining his reasons for resigning as chairman of the Juvenile Crime and Delinquency Committee, to which he was appointed by Mutscher. He also asked to be removed from the House Rules Committee.

"I personally am convinced that you are innocent of any wrongdoing in connection with the stock scandal," Bass told Mutscher.

Mutscher said he is appointing Rep. Wilson Foreman, D-Austin, to replace Bass as chairman of the Juvenile Crime and Delinquency Committee, and Rep. Jack Blanton, D-Dallas, to replace Bass on the rules committee. Rep. Ben Atwell, D-Dallas will take Blanton's place on the Counties Committee, which Blanton gave up for the Rules post.

"I appreciate Mr. Bass' statements as to his belief that I have done nothing wrong in connection with my investments," Mutscher said in a written statement. "I reiterate my position that I have been helpful and truthful with the authorities looking into this matter and will continue to do so."

UAW Closes 2-Day Meet In Dallas

DALLAS (UPI)—When the United Auto Workers Union closes its two-day Dallas conference today the union should be ready with a list of goals it intends to pursue in next fall's contract negotiations with the aerospace industry. "The goals we develop will be made public," UAW public relations man Sherwood Kerker said Thursday. "We will discuss what we are shooting for in broad terms. They should be ready when the conference is over."

Kerker said one of the main problems facing the union will be the same problem the major aerospace corporations face: how to shift from military to civilian work. He said the subject was discussed briefly last month in Washington during a UAW conference, and will be further talked over in Dallas today.

UAW president Leonard Woodcock delivered the keynote address to the 150 delegates representing 100,000 members in 30 locals in the United States and Canada. Woodcock made a symbolic appearance at a poor people's sit-in on the steps of the Dallas city hall Thursday evening.

"UAW is always involved where there are poor people," he said. "Our collective bargaining gains and progress we've made really are meaningless in the long term if they are not extended in some way to the poor people of the world."

Contracts with Douglas, North American Rockwell and Vertol are scheduled to expire in September.

Concert Member Drive Expected To End Tonight

The annual membership campaign of the Pampa Community Concert Assn., was nearing a successful conclusion today, according to Joe Cree, association president. Cree said final reports from workers at this afternoon's checkup meeting was expected to put the drive over the top. A meeting of the concert association board was to be called for tonight or tomorrow to select the fourth attraction for the 1971-72 concert season. Cree urged workers who had not yet made reports to get them in by tonight.

Prosecutor Condemns Murder Defendants

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"These defendants are not human beings, ladies and gentlemen, they are not human beings," said the prosecutor in the Tate murder trial. "Human beings have a heart and a soul. No one with a heart and a soul could have done what these defendants did to those seven victims. "These defendants are human monsters, human mutations." Vincent Bugliosi, in a thundering 10-minute final argument Thursday, demanded the gas chamber for Charles Manson, Leslie van Houten, Susan Atkins and Patricia Krenwinkel for the murders of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons in August, 1969. Manson's lawyer, Irving Kanarek, followed Bugliosi and started his closing arguments, expected to last two days. Although Manson has been convicted of seven counts of first-degree murder, the thrust of Kanarek's argument was that he was absolutely innocent.

Court Suit Charges Trio Victimize RIC Head With 'Fraudulent Scheme'

DALLAS (UPI)—A suit in U.S. district court charges that Frank W. Sharp, John Osorio and Joseph Novotny victimized Audy M. Byram with a "fraudulent scheme to manipulate the market price" of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock. Byram, president of RIC International Industries, Inc. until last June, filed the suit Thursday. He asked U.S. District Judge William M. Taylor Jr. to cancel a $99,750 note with Sharpstown State Bank and $100,000 in exemplary damages. Byram, Sharp, Osorio and Novotny are among 15 defendants in a civil stock fraud suit filed by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Quick Profits Made Gov. Preston Smith, Dr. Elmer C. Baum, the state Democratic chairman, House Speaker Gus Mutscher Jr., State Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah and State Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth all made quick profits in NBL stock deals though none is a party to the SEC suit.

Byram charged that Osorio, an Austin lawyer, induced him to buy 7,000 shares of NBL stock with a $99,750 loan from Sharpstown State Bank. He said Osorio told him he would make a quick profit because the stock would go up from $13.75 a share to $20 and probably to $35.

Reason for Advance According to the suit, Osorio said Sharp told him that "Catholic brotherhood" — The Jesuit Fathers of Houston — would invest $20 million in NBL stock and run the price up. Byram said he later learned that Sharp, Osorio and Novotny had conspired to manipulate the price of NBL stock by "inducing parties to purchase NBL stock" with loans they would give them. The stock never did reach the heights Byram was told it would.

Byram said his loan came due last Aug. 4 but he has refused to pay it. Sharp's Sharpstown State Bank has since folded and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. is paying off depositors. As an alternative $100,000

Doctor Charged With Attempted Rape Of Patients

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A 52-year-old doctor has been charged with the attempted rape of a drugged patient after police observed the alleged attack on a planted closed-circuit television system. The alleged assault took place Feb. 25 while Dr. John L. Avery was making a house call on a 20-year-old patient at her suburban Maryland apartment. Judge Calvin R. Sanders ordered Avery held for grand jury action Thursday and released him on a $10,000 property bond.

According to testimony by Montgomery County Medical Examiner Belden Reap, Avery gave the woman two injections in the arm. She lost consciousness in two or three minutes. Reap said Avery partially undressed the woman, "finally pushing her back onto the couch." Two police detectives signalled by Reap then entered the apartment to make the arrest.

The stake-out was set up in the woman's apartment as a result of an incident with the same doctor earlier this year. On that occasion she allegedly sought to determine from a local hospital what caused her to lose consciousness after he administered medication to her.

After 25 years of uneasy independence, Pakistan is faced with division by differences—geographical, economic and political—between its two unequal parts separated by a thousand miles of unfriendly India. Crowded East Pakistan, feeling like a poor relation, has pressed for autonomy or, increasingly, independence. When Prime Minister Golda Meir drew for an interviewer the map by which Israel says she can live at peace with her neighbors, she named the Golan Heights as one of the areas Israel will not yield.

"We paid for it," she said drily. "That's something people don't always remember."
The Golan Heights overlook the Hula Valley—where for years Israeli farmers ran their tractors under fire from Syrian guns.

History has a way of lashing back at those who must live with promises.

And when Secretary of State William P. Rogers urges Israel to seek security in a satisfactory political agreement with the United Arab Republic guaranteed by an international peace-keeping force, rather than in "acquisition of territory," Israel has reason to harken back to words and deeds of the past.

Dates and Quotes
Of Sharm el-Sheikh and the Gulf of Aqaba, these are dates and quotes from history:
Feb. 20, 1917 (after the 2nd Arab-Israeli war): President Eisenhower in a radio and television address—"We expressed the conviction that the Gulf of Aqaba constitutes international waters and that no nation has the right to prevent free and innocent passage of the gulf... we should not assume that Egypt will prevent Israeli shipping from using the Suez Canal or the Gulf of Aqaba."
March 1, 1957: Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir announces Israel's "plans for full and prompt withdrawal from the Sharm el-Sheikh area... in compliance with the (U.N.) resolution of Feb. 2, 1957."

March 27, 1957: France declares she will back Israel's right to answer with force Egyptian attacks either in the Gulf of Aqaba or launched from the Gaza Strip against Israel.
May 19, 1967: United Nations Secretary General Thant withdraws U.N. emergency force from Mideast truce line at request of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser (in violation of a Nasser pledge to former U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that he would seek General Assembly approval before making such a request).

PRESCHOOL CHILDREN — II

Last week we talked about how parents can pass along to their children a foundation for good health — namely, good eating habits. This week, I want to continue that theme with seven specific points that may be useful to mothers and fathers.

Remember, we are talking about helping the preschool child, the little one around 3 years or more. Here are the suggestions:

1. Serve small portions of food; use small manageable glasses of milk and juices.
2. A medium temperature for food, rather than too hot or cold, is usually preferred by young children.
3. "Finger foods" which are easy to handle are usually popular. Examples are wedges of hardcooked egg or tomato, cubes of meat or cheese, strips of carrot, small sandwiches (bite-size).
4. Young children usually prefer moderately seasoned food. So, in meal preparation keep this in mind. The rest of your family can add seasoning to their own taste at the table.
5. "Food jags" is the name given by nutritionists to the times when children eat a certain type of food repeatedly for a short time. This spree should not cause parents undue concern. The child will usually return to a more varied diet if no issue is made of his temporary preference.

6. Serving a disliked food in a new way, or in very small portions, or with a well-liked food, will often help overcome the dislike.

7. And most of all: A good example set by older family members is one of the best ways to help young children develop good food habits.

In general, in feeding your family, remember that all the family, except infants and those, if any, on a medically-prescribed diet, can usually eat the same basic meals. Children, adults (including pregnant and nursing mothers) and senior family members need the same nutrients. The amounts recommended for each person or group may differ. Thus, one should eat according to physical size, activity, sex, and whether growth is occurring at the time.

The kinds of food needed are the wide variety found in the four food groups — the milk group, the meat-fish-poultry-egg group, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals. Fats and oils and sugars add flavor and help fill out energy needs.

TIPS & TRICKS for TEENS

It's a Corder of an idea to end the noise about noise in your house. If the hard rock or swinging sounds prove too much for the elders and others, cover the wall behind the phonograph or sound system with cork-by-the-sheet. It's inexpensive and can be painted any color. In addition to deadening sound, it makes a bulletin board that's something else again.

One Last Fling, whether it's hello to fall or goodbye to summer, is a great excuse for a party this time of year. Do it up right, with refreshments that are cooling enough for the still-hot weather; lively enough to lend some spirit to the thought of coming school days. Example: a jazzy cranberry-cola punch, easily made with equal parts of chilled cranberry juice cocktail and your favorite cola, enlivened with lemon juice to taste. Serve over ice cubes, natch, in tallest glasses.

All Choked Up over the new look in jewelry, the choker or dog-collar? No need to despair if you're caught with nothing but last year's chains. Simply reconvert! Wind those chains or long strings of pearls several times around your neck for a new-for-now look. Make some inexpensively out of Indian beads. For dress-up, tack an embroidered flower applique onto a wide ribbon. Or use the real thing: a wide leather dog collar, maybe studded with nailheads.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last year when my husband was going with another woman he gave her a Swiss watch for Christmas. They had a fight in February and he broke up with her and asked for the watch. She gave it to him. Now my husband says I can have the watch if I want it. It looks good as new. Should I wear it?

NOT PROUD

DEAR NOT: Why not—if it keeps time. (Look inside.

POLLY'S POINTERS Methods To Repair Worn Out Sweaters

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I would like to know how to get the hair oil and perspiration odors out of feather pillows

MRS. E.M.L.

DEAR POLLY — I hope I have help for Zee who has three good sweaters that are ripped at the elbows. She could take the tops from old nylon hose, cut them open and use for patches on the INSIDE of the sleeves at the elbows. Tack the patch on to be as inconspicuous as possible. While this does not eliminate the outside friction it does reduce the stress and strain at the elbow. I do this to new sweaters.

MRS. J.A.O.

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Zee who has three sweaters ripped at the elbows. My sons often wear out the elbows to otherwise good sweaters and I have had good luck repairing them with either a matching yarn separated into a thinner strand or embroidery floss which comes in a wide range of colors. I use an ordinary weaving, darning type stitch on the INSIDE so the sweater yarns are visible on the outside. This should be done early in the sweater's use to make the elbow stronger at the point of wear.

MRS. W. C. K.

DEAR POLLY — Sharp knives take up a lot of drawer space so I had my husband make a knife rack on the inside of one of the cupboard doors beneath the sink. (Polly's note—If there are children in the house I would change this to an upper cupboard door. He used a small block of wood approximately 3/8-inch thick about one inch from the edge of the door. In the middle of the door he screwed a narrow slot of wood on to this block to form a slot. This slot takes care of a lot of knives, large forks and even my pancake turner so I have additional drawer space. Then screwed small cup hooks into this slot so I can hang small brushes on them.

MARIE

tries to feel her up without anyone else knowing it. Alice tries to push his hand away, but she can't push very far. Alice says she doesn't want to embarrass herself and everyone else in the car by making a scene, so she asked a counselor what to do, and this counselor told her to whisper into Rick's ear that if he didn't stop she would yell and cause a scene. This counselor also told Alice to try dressing "defensively" — like a one-piece jumpsuit so Rick can't get to her.

What do you think of such advice?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Not much. No girl should have to dress "defensively" to keep a guy from "feeling her up."

I would have advised that girl to knock the octopus on the noggin with her algebra book the moment she felt him getting fresh. And at the same time to yell in a very loud voice that he should keep his creepy paws to himself!

DEAR ABBY: I just read that letter from the GI who is overseas. He said, "After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young, healthy man supposed to do for his physical needs? After all, I'm only human."

You turned it around and told him to do exactly what you would tell his wife to do since she had the same problem. "Keep busy, stay sober, avoid temptation, write every day and pray a lot."

That was good advice, Abby. It also applies to me because I am a wife who is without her man now. My husband isn't overseas. He's in prison. And he has another three years to go. I'm also only human but I will remain faithful because I love him with all my heart. I pray a lot, and I know that God hears my prayers and will keep me strong and help me fight this loneliness.

HIS WIFE

DEAR ABBY: The secretary who signed herself "No Guts," should have signed herself NO BRAINS. She beamed to you about having to write her boss's thank-you notes and send out his Christmas cards. A really good secretary does all of this, and is in effect a social secretary to her boss. "No Guts" should resign and move into the steno pool. That's her speed.

From the Paris ready-to-wear collections for Spring-Summer 1971 evening ensemble (left), in black organza, has transparent effect at top and is trimmed with bands of embroidery in three colors. It is a Philippe Venet design. Orange jersey skirt (right) is worn with beige cashmere sweater and deerskin belt with squared iron buckle.

Central Baptist Church

Great is the privilege and wonderful is the opportunity which awaits the members and friends of Central Baptist Church this Sunday morning when Rev. David Fite visits the church.

Rev. Fite is a former Cuban prisoner, imprisoned by the Communists for almost two years. He is a man with a story and tells it like it is. He was arrested, along with his father-in-law, Dr. Herbert Caudill, and was given a sentence of six years.

Fite is a graduate of Mercer

University, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in North Carolina, and Southwestern Baptist Seminary. He is now on study leave from the Home Mission Board and is working toward a doctor of theology degree in Fort Worth.

Fite's presence with the church plus the fine music program which is planned should push the church's attendance in Sunday School to their goal of 600. Their goal is to move "Forward For The Lord" by having over 600 present in Sunday School each Sunday for a period of six weeks.

The church choir will do an anthem arrangement of "Fill My Cup Lord." Mrs. Sheila Parr and Mrs. Shires Shipman will sing "Ten Thousand Angels" and a solo by S. L. Tate will also be done in the morning worship service.

Sunday night the members will hear the church choir do a new arrangement of "Blessed Be The Name."

The pastor and members of the church extend an invitation to the people of this area to hear Rev. David Fite Sunday.

Church Of Christ, Scientist

Spiritual receptivity is vital to progress. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" to be heard at Christian Science church services Sunday.

These words of the Apostle Paul to the Corinthians will be included in the Bible selection: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

A passage to be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Willingness to become as a little child and to leave the old for the new, renders thought receptive of the advanced idea. Gladness to leave the false landmarks and joy to see them disappear, — this disposition helps to precipitate the ultimate harmony. The purification of sense and self is a proof of progress."

First United Methodist Church

The First United Methodist Church will be host to the Third Annual Meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild and the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference this weekend and continuing through Wednesday, March 24.

Dr. H. Dewitt Seago, pastor, will preach at the 8:45 and 11 a.m. services on the topic, "God's Plan and Man's Freedom," based on scripture from Galatians 6:1-10.

Music for the morning services will be under the direction of Morris Kille, Minister of Music, with Tracy Cary at the organ. The Concord and Celestial choirs will sing "Alleluia, Sing To Jesus" by Graham at the 8:45 service. The Sanctuary choir will sing the anthem "My Heart Is Steadfast, O God" by Butler at 11 a.m.

An Offertory Duet will be offered by Misses Cynthia Carter and Kathy Bailey. They will sing "All the Way My Saviour Leads Me" by Bartlett. Miss Carter and Miss Bailey are students at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. Vespers will be at 6 p.m. with the Maranatha Youth Group presenting the play, "Christ in the Concrete City."

First Pentecostal Church

One of America's outstanding Sunday School leaders, the Rev. Karl W. Bunkley will be the guest speaker Monday night, March 22nd, in a Sunday School Rally at the Pentecostal Holiness Church, 1700 Alcock Street in Pampa.

Rev. Bunkley will be accompanied by his wife, Lois, who serves on the Curriculum and Camp Commissioners of the National Sunday School Association and as Editor of Primary Sunday School literature for Advocate Press.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Bunkley are workshop leaders of the National Sunday School Association Conventions which attract thousands of Sunday School leaders from the United States and Canada annually. They have also participated in teaching and training sessions and conducted conventions throughout the United States (including Alaska and Hawaii) and Canada; in England; and for National pastors, Sunday School leaders, teachers and missionaries in Africa, the Middle East, among the Athabaskan Indians and Eskimos, and most recently, in India and Hong Kong. This latest mission trip took them around the world. Rev. Bunkley presently serves as the General Sunday School President of the Pentecostal Holiness Church.

Rev. Albert Maggard, pastor of the local church, extends an invitation for you to attend this special Sunday School Rally.

First Presbyterian Church

Dr. Han Bing Kong, First Presbyterian Church Visiting Minister, will use "I Saw Satan Fall Like Lightning from Heaven" as the topic for his sermon at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. Worship Services, this Sunday. The text for the sermon will be taken from Luke 10:18.

Rev. Martin Hager will assist in the pulpit at both services.

The Chancel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Carol Mackey, will present "Give Ear unto My Prayer" for the anthem. The guest organist Sunday will be Mrs. J.S. Skelly.

Both Fellowships will meet this Sunday evening. Announcements about the meetings will be in the Church bulletin. The Senior High Fellowship will be conducting a Bake Sale on Sunday between Worship Services. The proceeds will go toward financing their trip to the annual synod Youth Workshop at Trinity University in San Antonio this summer. They will appreciate your help on this project.

There will be a Diaconate meeting at 7:00 p.m. next Wednesday evening in Calvin Hall.

Zion Lutheran Church

"Man's Little, God's Abundance" is the title of the sermon to be presented by the Rev. M.G. Herring during the 11 a.m. worship service at Zion Lutheran Church this Sunday. Holy Communion will also be celebrated in the Service. The organist will be Mrs. M.G.

Herring.

The Senior Lutheran Youth Fellowship meets at 7 p.m. Sunday. The Men's Club meets Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Herring will continue his series of Lenten sermons on the general theme of "A Sick World and the Healing Christ," as he delivers a sermon on "Addiction" Wednesday night at 7:30.

The Marriage Enrichment Program group will meet in the Reception Room at 7:30 p.m. Thursday for the third in the series of discussions on marriage and family life.

First Baptist Church

Dr. C. Gordon Bayless will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday in First Baptist Church-Pampa. He has chosen "The Man Who Couldn't Take It" for his eleven o'clock Morning Worship sermon topic.

David Campbell, minister of music, will direct the Sanctuary Choir as they sing the Call to Worship, "Redeemed" by Butler and the Choral Worship, "Shall We Gather at the River" Arr. Lyall. Mr. Campbell will sing "Surely Goodness and Mercy" Arr. Carmichael for the special music. Miss Eloise Lane Organist, will play "Melody in G" by Guilment for the offertory.

"The Christian's Hall" is the subject Dr. Bayless will preach from in the seven o'clock Evening Worship. The Ladies' Chorus will occupy the choir loft and sing "In the Garden" by Miles. Mrs. David Campbell will present the special music; she has chosen "The Unveiled Christ" Arr. Mickelson for her solo. The organ offertory selection is "Andantino" by Ellis.

Visitation begins at 9:30 Tuesday morning for the ladies and at 7 p.m. for the men. The Fellowship Supper begins at 5:30 Wednesday evening and is followed by Prayer Meeting. Dr. Bayless will be the speaker for the Prayer Meeting service.

The Weekly Message of Inspiration...

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

EVANGELIST
JIM D. STANDRIDGE

Mark 8: 34-35
The name of the Game is Life everlasting.
And the price is King size.
Jesus Christ is saying there must be a death, burial and resurrection in every life. You must deny the way of the flesh and then you must pick up the sword and fight for the glory of God's kingdom.

But whosoever is not willing to do this, will not have life everlasting and will be doomed to an everlasting Hell, and an eternal separation from God.

THE NAME OF THE GAME IS LIFE EVERLASTING AND THE PRICE IS KING SIZE.

But whosoever will lose his life for my sake and the Gospels will have paid the price and will have life everlasting and nothing can take it from you.

Verse 38:
Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy Angels.

And so the Lord is laying it on the line. He is saying to you and to me that if you are not willing to tell your friends and the whole world that you are a Christian then more than likely you are not.

But you say "what about once saved always saved?" What about it? I believe it, I have the assurance of it. I preach it. But the Question is not once saved always saved, the question is: Are you saved? Have you repented of your sins God-and-believed in the Lord Jesus with all your heart? Have you received the Holy Spirit? If you haven't you can do it now. Just simply slip down on your knees, repent and believe and you will receive Him the Holy Spirit.

In a joint resolution passed unanimously by both houses, the 92nd Congress has designated the week beginning March 21, 1971 as "National Week of Concern for Prisoners of War-Missing in Action." Sixty-five members of the Senate and 170 Congressmen cosponsored the legislation.

If Only It Tastes Good

Books of postage stamps that have been treated with a new adhesive are going on sale in 17 test cities across the nation. Because the adhesive is resistant to humidity, the need for putting separating tissue between the stamps has been eliminated.

The U.S. Postal Service estimates this will mean an overall savings of $75,000 in reduced assembly cost and cost of the treated paper. Not much, perhaps, compared with the total postal budget, but still nothing to stick your tongue out at.

CHILE'S RIGHT TURN TOO LATE

Now that is probably too late to reverse the complete communist take-over of Chile that nation's students are beginning to put up strong opposition to the regime of Marxist President Allende. The pro-communist Allende was elected with only 36 per cent of the vote under Chile's system with the strong approval and support of the leftist activist students who seem to dominate every nation's colleges and universities.

The short-sighted students of Chile made no objection when Allende moved to reopen the Chilean embassy in Castro's Cuba and to establish diplomatic and trade relations with Red, China, North Korea, North Vietnam and communist East Germany. There appeared no objection to seizure of Chilean and foreign-owned businesses, no protest about threats to nationalize newspapers which opposed the government and they also elected a Communist Party member, Alejandro Rojas, as president of the Chilean Students federation.

Now, the previously pro-communist student population has discovered that Marxist Allende is acting like communists always do while consolidating their power into full dictatorship. Now it is the students who supported Allende who find him suppressing their freedom of speech and political organization.

Too late, campaigns are being organized to arm student guerrillas on some campuses in order to attempt an anti-Allende uprising next fall, hoping for support from the vast majority of Chileans who did NOT support Allende. Students and patriots in the U.S. should note that in such uprisings, once communists have seized power, either by force or by minority vote, pro-Freedomists get liquidated and Freedom dies.

Over in Jolly Old London a committee has come up with the brainstrom of establishing a chain of hotels for alcoholics to keep them out of jail. The committee from the Home Office recommends that the booze hotels be set up across the land.

Drunks would be permitted to stay for up to three days so they can be looked at by medics and social workers. However, drunks who were still that way after the three days might stay even seven days. No more will drunks need worry about "drink it deep and sleep in the street" but can now "drink 'til you swell and stay at the booze hotel" . . .

Why All The Controversy?

By JESSE HELMS
A friend visiting Paris mentioned in a letter that came one day recently that he was surprised to see an item in a French newspaper describing a controversy in Rocky Mount, North Carolina. Actually there was no occasion for his being surprised. It is necessary only to understand how the news media operate these days.

We noted recently, for example, that liberal politicians and educators in New Jersey have prevailed upon that state's board of higher education to close down a four-year college at Cape May, New Jersey, because the "liberals" don't think the college offers "adequate" education. Students at the institution—Shelton College—happen to like their school. Their parents like it. But the "liberal" educators and politicians don't. The College stresses fundamental Bible instruction. So it must go. It must close down. The liberals demand it.

The item concerned objections raised by a group of Rocky Mount and Nash County ministers. The story in the Paris paper scornfully described the ministers as "fundamentalist" which was intended to have sneering implications. We are all supposed to keep them out of jail. The item automatically to reject his opinions as unworthy, don't you see?

It should be mentioned, by the way, that the federal government is applying much the same sort of pressure upon Bob Jones University in South Carolina. One is prompted to ask, what happened to the "liberal" warcy of "academic freedom"? Where is the Civil Liberties Union? At neither Shelton College in New Jersey nor Bob Jones University in South Carolina has there been the slightest hint of campus violence, anarchy, drugs or unrestrained permissiveness. Yet both institutions are under attack for their "fundamentalism."

No, frankly, we do not see. A "fundamentalist" has a lot going for him that his sarcastic critics lack. Webster's definition will suffice for the moment. A fundamentalist is one who still believes in things that used to count for something before the materialistic crowd took over the country and a lot of the churches—the virgin birth, the resurrection. Also, fundamentalists happen to have strong objections to indecency of language and conduct. They believe that a lot of the so-called "art" and "literature" of today is trash.

So they exercised their right to object and, for a little while at least, have managed to have removed from the public schools of Rocky Mount a number of textbooks and parallel reading material which, they sincerely felt, could not be considered a proper part of any constructive educational process.

Granted, men may differ on such questions. But before any citizen allows himself to be persuaded that the "fundamentalist" ministers are wrong, it is important that the books to which the ministers objected should be examined. Otherwise, a reasonable and relevant judgment is impossible.

But, no. The public is exhorted by the liberal press, and by the American Civil Liberties Union, to participate in an automatic assumption that the ministers are nothing more than sanctimonious meddlers and censors. We're supposed to believe—don't you see?—that the liberals have put those ministers in their place. Who's going to take sides with a fellow who believes in The Bible and the virgin birth, and all that?

In fairness, should not this matter turn on the question of whether the specific books at issue are worthy of a child's study—not on sarcastic, ridiculing newspaper indictments of a group of ministers, "fundamentalist" though they may be? There is a nagging, persistent question: Why, all of a sudden, is there such a full-scale attack upon people having faith in the fundamental precepts of Christianity?

When school officials ask for money and set special elections at times other than regular elections, then use school facilities and personnel to promote the tax measures, they bring resentment even from some of their own teachers and their friends. Whether they ever learn a lesson from recent defeats at the polls is a question.

Your Health

Temperature Rise May Be Normal

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have a boy, 14½ years old. He is very husky and appears healthy. About three years ago he ran a temperature at night, beginning at about 5:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and we put him in the hospital for tests of all kinds. They came up with streptococcal throat and gave him shots and antibiotics. Now he runs a temperature of 99 to 99.6 or 99.8. Despite treatments, he continues to have the temperature. What I want to know is, is it dangerous and what could cause my son to be sick with this temperature?

Dear Reader—There is a good possibility that there isn't anything wrong with your son. The figure of 99.6 F. for body temperature is strictly an average one. Body temperature in a person varies throughout the day and the difference may be 2.0 or even 3.0 degrees. The lowest temperature is in the late afternoon or early evening just as you have noted in your son.

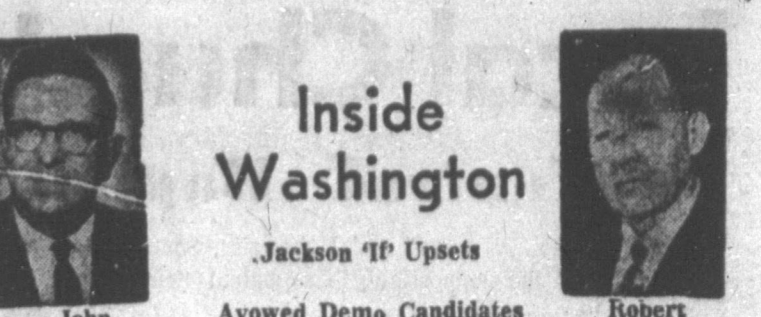

If there is no other indication of illness in your "husky boy," it seems to me the best idea would be to throw the thermometer away and let him lead a normal life. Dear Dr. Lamb—I have just taken your do-it-yourself physical and failed miserably. I am a 24-year old female and have two children. I am about 25 pounds overweight and smoke almost constantly. Without an examination, can you tell me if my chances of developing arteriosclerosis or heart disease will reverse if I mend my ways?

Dear Reader—No, it's not too late; in fact, much older people with known heart disease, even previous heart attacks, can often benefit by making a marked change in their living habits. You have one thing in your favor and that is being female. Women are less apt to have heart attacks until later in life. The incidence in women, however, is significantly increased in those who smoke. A lot of the things that cause a woman to age prematurely are related to her living habits. This includes lack of physical exercise, developing obesity and the excessive use of tobacco.

This is one place where the old proverb, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, is really true. Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

John Goldsmith Avowed Demo Candidates Robert Allen

WASHINGTON—The non-candidacy of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., has become a very serious matter for the contenders who are openly seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

There were smiles and even laughter when we reported last November that presidential speculation was focusing on Jackson in the wake of his overwhelming reelection victory. There are few smiles now—and none of them by the avowed candidates.

The very idea of a Jackson candidacy changes a lot of odds which had been confidently established. If he should enter—or be entered in—some of the presidential primaries, all bets as previously wagered would be off.

Roger Crowley, a retired Navy captain who was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor last fall, is one of Jackson's boosters in New Hampshire. Crowley also likes Muskie, but he thinks Jackson is more middle-of-the-road and would appeal to New Hampshire voters.

Raymond Abbot, vice chairman of the Carroll County Democratic Committee in New Hampshire's ski country, is an enthusiastic Jackson partisan. Abbot says he will press a draft movement for Jackson if the senator does not enter the primary.

With other potential candidates, Jackson has been invited by the state Democratic committee to make a New Hampshire tour.

"THANKS BUT . . . — If it has not already been declined by the time this is printed, the state committee's invitation will be courteously regretted. Jackson will make it clear that he can accept no invitations as a presidential candidate.

Implicit in the polite regrets will be Jackson's willingness to appear in New Hampshire under non-campaign ground rules. That is the sort of appearance that Jackson has been making across the nation in recent weeks. He seems to enjoy it.

Those early odds have been computed, however, on the basis of an elimination among variously dovish Democrats. What happens if a hard-liner is entered in some of the primaries, which will number 23 this time?

It has been assumed, in the very early speculation, that neighbor Edmund G. Muskie, D-Me., should win big in the initial primary in New Hampshire a year hence. Sen. George McGovern, R-S.D. is given a good chance in Wisconsin, and so forth.

Those early odds have been computed, however, on the basis of an elimination among variously dovish Democrats. What happens if a hard-liner is entered in some of the primaries, which will number 23 this time?

McGovern should have to contend with such other anti-war hopefuls as Sens. Birch Byrd, D-Ind., and Howard Hughes, D-Ia., as well as Muskie?

"COULD WIN"—The importance of such questions was apparent to a group of newsmen who accompanied Muskie on a pre-campaign foray into New Hampshire earlier this month. They found Jackson sentiment and heard optimistic talk about Jackson's chances.

Eventually, when the time comes that he must take action to remove himself from certain of the primaries, Jackson will have to make some decisions.

It's Clear: Inefficiency By Labor Must Be Curbed

By RAY CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA)—When we talk about a wage increase being inflationary, what are we talking about?

Some make-work practices must be made illegal. Management must reward with higher wages, shorter hours or other benefits those unions which agree to the elimination of feather-bedding, work stoppages and work rules which prevent the efficient use of equipment.

In the next three months, productivity barely moved up—at a rate of one half per cent a year. It is this writer's opinion that this almost-zero increase in productivity (far more than the wage boosts in the period) was what accounted for the 6 per cent a year rise in labor costs.

For wage increases of even 6 per cent a year would be only mildly inflationary if productivity increased 4 per cent. These figures clearly show that it is not the rate of increase in wages which causes inflation. It's whether wages rise faster than productivity.

What's needed is an attack on inefficiency, whether management created (lethargy in adopting new equipment and improved methods) or labor created (featherbedding, resistance to the maximum use of modern tools and other make-work practices.)

Here is where President Nixon, Congress, every state governor and legislature and every company president and union should crack down.

The trend toward efficiency could be aided by government and private research, aimed at the most inefficient industries and services, to develop production. The lesson is clear.

Aid Payments To Poor Families Will Be Cut By One-Third May 1

AUSTIN (UPI) — State Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney announced Thursday that state aid payments to families with dependent children will have to be cut by about one-third on May 1.

Hackney has asked for a special meeting of the State Welfare Board Monday to act on the proposed slash, which is the result of the $90 million annual ceiling on welfare spending.

"There is no way to avoid it," Hackney said. "We have looked into every possibility to find some way of at least delaying these reductions, even by a month, but the answer remains the same."

No Money Available

"The hard fact is that no more state money is available under the present constitutional ceiling on welfare spending. The legislature has appropriated all it can appropriate."

Hackney had predicted the cuts several months ago. Payments to the aged, blind and disabled will not be affected by the reductions.

"Assuming that the board authorizes this reduction — and it really has no choice — all families receiving AFDC will be notified of the affect on their assistance grants," Hackney said. Notices will be mailed on April 1 along with assistance checks for April to tell each family on the welfare rolls what it can expect May 1.

Some families will be cut off AFDC payments entirely.

Pays 75 Per Cent

At present, the Welfare Department pays 75 per cent of the amount it considers is needed for a family's basic needs — for food, clothing, shelter and other necessities. At that 75 per cent level, the average AFDC grant last month was $118.

Because of the money squeeze Hackney said the department May 1 will lower its assistance level to 50 per cent of basic needs. That means the average AFDC family grant will drop to about $80 a month.

A total of 4,500 families will be knocked off the welfare rolls by the cut.

The legislature earlier this year pumped an additional $3 million into the AFDC payment fund, stalling the cuts that would have been necessary March 1 without the money.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Standard & Poor's Corp. advises investors not to be "too concerned with day-to-day movements (because) the market is entitled to a pause after its sustained showing of exuberance." The company believes the market has entered a "less buoyant" phase. But the basic trend is upward S&P believes, and the company advises investors to keep "a constructive attitude."

A prime concern is whether the market has gone too far too fast in discounting the business upturn, Spear & Staff Inc. says. "Statistics are showing the beginnings of an economic upturn, but they fail to confirm the dramatic upturn envisioned by some," Spear believes. However, the company says the picture is clouded by the fact that much of the market's recovery has been from "unreasonably low levels (and) this may tend to make predictions of a serious reaction just on the basis of the percentage extent hollow."

"It will be revealing to see if the move above 900 (on the Dow industrial average) causes a shift in odd lot sentiment," E. F. Hutton & Co. says. The company feels that if the odd lotters shift from their present sentiment, "which is overwhelmingly on the sell side," it could be "the precursor of a decline more severe than anything we have seen up to now." However, Hutton says this will take time to ascertain "and in the meantime, the market looks higher."

The list is presently "superficially overbought," according to TPO Inc. However, TPO says that internally many "equities appear capable of driving upward" because traders are rotating from one group to another. "With the outlook ahead pointing to more of the same, purchases of selectively strong performers are recommended," TPO adds.

Mint To Accept Orders For Ike Dollar Coins

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Mary Brooks, director of the U.S. Mint, announced today that order blanks for proof and uncirculated silver Eisenhower dollar coins will be made available on June 18.

In order to insure wide distribution of ordering information, Mrs. Brooks added, the Mint has made arrangements to supply the order forms and order procedures to commercial banks in the nation as well as to Post Offices and Congressional offices where they will be readily obtainable by the public.

Mrs. Brooks said the Mint will begin accepting orders for the special Eisenhower dollar coins on July 1. Orders will be limited to five proof and five uncirculated coins. Separate orders must be submitted for each type.

As previously announced, the Mint plans to produce 150 million of the silver content Eisenhower coins. The price of the proof coin has been established at $10 per coin. The uncirculated coin has been priced at $3 per coin. The cupro-nickel dollars for general circulation through commercial banks will not be available until late fall.

"Because the Mint has been deluged with inquiries concerning the Eisenhower dollar coin," Mrs. Brooks explained, "I felt it imperative to announce the date when order forms for the coins will be available, and when the Mint will begin accepting orders."

'A LITTLE PRESENT'
DETROIT (UPI)—When an anonymous caller telephoned Frank Zdzowski Wednesday to tell him there was "a little present" in a can behind his suburban Madison Heights gas station, he was a little leery.
Fearing the "present" was a bomb, Zdzowski telephoned police, who gingerly probed around in the can and found a $2,000 diamond ring wrapped in a paper bag.
The ring had disappeared when Zdzowski's family moved recently. Police had questioned the moving men and threatened them with lie detector tests before the ring turned up.

Weather Balks At HS Baseball

The Pampa Harvesters have had a hard time meeting Dumas. First an unexpected blizzard snowed out chances of the season opener and yesterday an unexpected front moved into the Texas Panhandle with cold temperatures and 50 to 65 mph an hour winds, Dumas called to cancel the game and now it will be attempted again Monday at 4 p.m. in Optimist Park.

Today the Harvesters with a 3 win, 2 loss record, will be playing host to Altus, Oklahoma at 4 p.m. Tomorrow the diamond nine will be playing Altus a double header with starting times of 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

After Monday's game against Dumas, barring weather problems, the Harvesters will be host to Liberal, Kans. Friday and Saturday they will be on the road to Anadarko, Okla., for a three game series.

The Harvesters are presently second in district, trailing Borger. Plan to attend the games as there is no admission charge for the home clashes.

The 5-11, 165-pounder completed 101 of 216 passes for 1,561 yards and eight touchdowns. He had 15 interceptions. The old

Rod Laver Shoots For The Moon And $160,000 In Madison Garden

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rod Laver was an astronaut, he might be talking in terms of small steps and giant leaps.

The little Aussie leftminder has just one small step—tonight's $60,000 showdown with Dutchman Tom Okker at Madison Square Garden—to complete the giant leap that nobody thought was possible in the $219,000 Tennis Champions Classic.

Laver will be shooting for the moon—a clean sweep of the coast-to-coast classic series which would increase his earnings in the tournament to $160,000.

Laver and Okker each won $15,000 for their semifinal triumphs Thursday night. Rock-

Steve Melnyk Rates Himself With Trevino

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Brash young amateur Steve Melnyk, who considers himself a player just like the pros, hit the shot of his life to earn a tie with jovial Lee Trevino entering today's second round of the Greater Jacksonville Open.

Melnyk, a 228-pounder, exploded from a trap 70 yards away to within five feet on the final hole and canned the birdie putt to equal Trevino at six-under-par 66 Thursday.

"That was the best shot I've ever hit in competition," said Melnyk, 24, a long hitter playing on his home course—

The Aces rolled into a 47-33 halftime lead over Southwestern Louisiana, which had sidelined favored Assumption in the quarterfinals. The Bulldogs

UT Gunning For Tech In SWC Baseball Race

By United Press International Texas, which stumbled into the Southwest Conference baseball race losing two of its first three, will get a chance today to prove to Texas Tech that those early losses to Baylor were only flukes.

Tech, meanwhile, hot after winning six straight nonconference contests, will try to enhance its SWC title hopes by defeating the Longhorns, who have won or shared the last six league crowns.

Other series, each featuring a doubleheader today and a single game Saturday, take SMU to Texas A&M and TCU to Rice. Baylor entertains Hardin-Simmons in a nonconference game.

Texas was stuned by supposedly weak Baylor last weekend, defeating the Bears only one out of three games. Baylor took the worst nonconference record in the league race.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Heavyweight champ Joe Frazier will remain in St. Luke's Hospital "another four or five days," a hospital spokesman said today.

Frazier entered the hospital Tuesday after complaining of being fatigued. His condition was listed as satisfactory.

Giuffre said Frazier was responding to treatment and his blood pressure was down to 150-82 from 190-90. Normal pressure for Frazier, the doctor said, should be around 120-80-plus.

Boxing Teams Are Neck And Neck In Tourney Of Champs

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Boxing teams from Charlotte, N.C., Columbus, Ohio, and Salt Lake City, Utah, were neck and neck for the lead in the Golden Gloves National Tournament of Champions after Thursday night's action.

A crowd of more than 10,000 watched the three teams pick up seven points each in the fast-moving first night action in the Tarrant County Convention Center.

The night's most spectacular fighter was Houston Chronicle advertising service man Johnny Boudreaux of the Fort Worth team.

Boudreaux won his first match of the night with an easy decision over Steve Magestro of Milwaukee and then came back even stronger in his second fight of the night, scoring a first-round TKO over Wayne Peterfield of Knoxville.

Perreault's Record Rookie Performance

By ALLAN R. BRUCE UPI Sports Writer

Gil Perreault said "it was just another goal," but that smirk on his face told you right off how much it meant.

Perreault broke a 45-year-old National Hockey League rookie record with his 35th goal of the season Thursday night and, fittingly, it proved to be the game-winner as the Buffalo Sabres skated to a 5-3 win over the St. Louis Blues.

Now he's aiming for 40: "I just got five goals to get and I got eight goals left."

The record-breaker erased the old first-year mark of 34 set by Neils Stewart of Montreal during the 1925-26 season and equalled two years ago by Danny Grant of Minnesota and Norm Ferguson of Oakland.

In other NHL games, Boston whipped Detroit 7-3, Philadelphia edged New York 2-1, Montreal beat Toronto 4-1 and Los Angeles nipped Chicago 3-2.

Boston used three goals by John McKenzie and two by scoring leader Phil Esposito to beat Detroit and move within one victory of clinching the eastern division title. The

The winners will advance to Houston for the national semifinals next Thursday and the NCAA title game, Saturday, March 27.

The Bruins, with a perfectly balanced attack, got 15 points from Henry Bibby, 14 from Sidney "Icks" and 13 each from Curtis Rowe and Steve Patterson.

Jerry Tarkanian, the Long Beach coach, is anxious for a rematch. "Everybody wants to play the No. 1 team and there's no doubt about it, UCLA is No. 1," said Tarkanian after watching his club stumble early in the game and then rebound with a devastating pressing defense.

Fouls Hurt Marquette Fred Taylor, the Ohio State coach, felt his club was "intimidated" on the boards by Marquette, but was happy with the result. Marquette suffered a crushing blow when Dean Meminger, the Warriors' star guard, fouled out with more than five minutes left and Marquette five points ahead.

"They were well prepared," said Marquette coach Al McGuire. "They did their thing. We won 39 in a row and we won some we shouldn't have won. We had a nice run at it this year and we hope to be back."

Western Kentucky absolutely humiliated Kentucky in the first meeting ever between the two clubs despite their proximity. Jim McDaniels poured in 35 points and Jim Rose had 25 as the Hilltoppers moved out to a 13-point halftime lead and stretched that to 24 midway through the second half.

Penn Stays Unbeaten Another McGuire, South Carolina coach Frank, also was unhappy as he saw his team fall before a well-honed Penn attack. "Penn played a great ball game," said McGuire. "They outplayed us and they deserved to win. In a game like this, whoever gets three or four points ahead in the second half will usually win and they did. They're the best team we've faced all year."

South Carolina, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, has beaten Houston, Western Kentucky and Notre Dame this year.

Penn, led by Bob Morse's 28-point effort, hit 31 of 35 foul shots to win.

Howard Porter scored 25 points to lead Villanova past undersize Fordham to set up the all-Philadelphia final. Penn beat Villanova 78-70 in regular season play.

Drake Wins In Overtime Drake used Jones and Al Sakys, a pair of 6-1 guards, to beat Notre Dame. Jones held Carr to 26 points, 12 below his average, and Sakys tied the game with five seconds left and triggered an overtime burst that carried the Bulldogs past the fighting Irish.

Dave Robisch hit 17 points in the first half and junior Bud Stallworth hit seven points in an 11-point burst that pulled Kansas ahead of Houston.

"Kansas just had too many guns for us," said Cougar Coach Guy Lewis.

Congress Urged To Change Conscientious Objection Clause Wording

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

Three major church organizations have appealed to Congress to remedy what they call a flagrant piece of religious discrimination in the draft law.

As now written, the law permits a man to be classified a conscientious objector only if he is "opposed to participation in war in any form."

In an 8 to 1 ruling this month, the Supreme Court held that "persons who object solely to participation in a particular war" cannot claim Co status unless or until Congress revises the law.

The U.S. Catholic Conference, the Lutheran Council in the U.S.A., and the National Council of Churches are urging the House Armed Services Committee, which has charge of new draft legislation, to change the wording of the conscientious objection clause, so that it will cover those who are selective rather than all-encompassing in their moral rejection of war.

The present statute, they contend, favors absolute pacifists, such as Quakers and Mennonites, while discriminating against those of the Catholic, Lutheran and Reformed Protestant traditions who adhere to the "just war" doctrine.

This doctrine was developed by St. Augustine in the 4th century A.D. and has been normative for most of the Christian Church ever since. It holds that a Christian has a moral duty to fight for his country when it is engaged in a just war, and an equally weighty moral duty not to participate in an unjust war.

The test of a just war is that it be undertaken for righteous motives—to resist aggression, relieve oppression or remedy some grievous wrong. There must be a good reason to believe the war will achieve good ends that outweigh the conflict.

Many young Christians in America today believe that these conditions are not met by the military operations which this country is currently conducting in Indochina. They therefore regard this as an unjust war, in which they are morally bound not to participate.

Their scruples, even when unquestionably sincere, cannot be recognized by draft boards under the existing language of the conscientious objector clause. These young men are confronted by their government with only two options: Fight in a war they cannot in good conscience support; or go to jail for draft evasion. Thousands have chosen the latter course.

The church organizations seeking amendment of the law say this is harsh and discriminatory treatment, unworthy of a great nation founded on the ideal of human liberty.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Now that "The Sensuous Man" by "M" has joined "The Sensuous Woman" by "J" on the best-seller lists, a publishing pattern has begun to emerge.

The game plan obviously is to publish an entire alphabet of sex manuals under pseudonymous initials. So before all of the letters are taken, I would like to reserve a place for "The W."

The books by "J" and "M" adopt the premise that you don't have to have classic features, a well proportioned body, and bedroom eyes to attract the opposite sex. All you need are a few sensuous lessons.

As one of the blurbs for "The Sensuous Man" puts it: "Too old? ... Too fat? ... Too tired? Even if you are short, bow-legged and stutter—you can still become a superb and sought-after lover."

Don't Need Talent

The book by "W" is being cast in the same mold. Its message is that you don't have to have any literary talent to write sensuous book blurbs.

Even if you habitually split infinitives, leave participles dangling, and can't spell very well—you can become a tingly and titillating blurbist.

The know-how is provided in such chapters as "seductive dots (...)" "passionate dashes (---)" and "erotic question marks (???)". The chapter on dots alone should be worth the price of the book ($6 everywhere). It begins:

"Pick a time when you have at least an hour to yourself and are unlikely to be interrupted. Lower the blinds, dim the lights or otherwise darken the room to about 12,5664 lumens. Put Leonard Bernstein's recording of Ravel's 'Bolero' on the hi-fi.
