AT COMMISSIONERS' MEET

No Action Taken On Redistricting

By ALETHA DAVIS
Redistricting, an issue which has been brought before the Gray County Commissioners Court periodically for the past two years, was subject for discussion when the court convened yesterday.
An opening statement by County Judge Don Cain preceded an open discussion of the court and taxpayers attending the meeting.
A strong desire to leave the county commissioner selection and the geographical division as it is was prevalent as commissioners and citizens expressed their views.
E.C. Sidwell, Pampa, expressed the desire that the court abandon the subject of redistricting and go onto things that he felt needed more immediate attention. Sidwell said, "Redistricting seems to me to be a secondary issue." Sidwell added that he felt at-large voting for commissioners was not good adding that he saw no need to vote, as a Pampa resident, on a commissioner for the McLean district. He also pointed out that he felt Gray County was "crossing bridges before getting to them" in outlining that no deadline had been declared for redistricting. He suggested the issue be tabled and something more important be introduced.

Commissioner Don Hinton then pointed out that the McLean district should concern Pampans since it was county money involved.
Curtis Schaffer, south of Pampa, aired his feeling on the issue by stating that he felt Sidwell was wrong in his statement of Pampa residents, or any other resident, disregarding county business in another portion of the area. "It's county money we're spending and I feel that the at-large method of election is fair," the farmer-rancher concluded.
Walter Elliott, Lefors added to the discussion by stating, "I feel it is something that is going to be done, but due to geographical area, let's leave the commissioners in each area and vote at-large to insure a united county government."

Those speaking at the meeting expressed a strong dislike for a gerrymandering method of equalizing the 26,949 county residents into voting districts of about 6700 people each.
Jimmy McCracken, commissioner for Precinct 3 which takes in the southwestern portion of Gray County, told the court and taxpayers, "I have studied this problem of redistricting for several years, considering several angles. After two years of listening to arguments and propositions, and watching the State not being able to come up with a satisfactory plan, I fail to see what we'd gain. I have tried to figure one benefit to the people and I have failed. Anything we do, I feel is one step closer to metro-government and regional government. I think we should wait and see what happens on the rulings pending, and outcome of state redistricting." He concluded his (See COMMISSIONERS, Page 2)

NATO Working On Plan To Get Soviets To Discuss Troop Cut

LISBON (UPI) — The United States and its North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) allies, began work today on a new no-strings proposal to get the Soviets to discuss mutual troop and weapons cuts in Europe.
Foreign ministers of the 15 NATO member countries gathered for their annual spring council session, with preparatory talks today and the main meeting Thursday and Friday.
Their primary job was to draft a reply to a recent surprise offer by Soviet Communist Party Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev to discuss troops cuts—something the West had been seeking without success for three years.
But they wanted to avoid surrendering any bargaining cards in the current slow-moving East-West talks on Berlin or becoming bogged down in a vast all-European security parley which the Soviets have been demanding.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers arrived Tuesday to head the U.S. delegation. Officials said Rogers was spending most of today in pre-conference talks with other NATO ministers.
NATO first began calling for mutual and balanced East-West troop cuts in Europe in the spring of 1968, shortly before the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.
The Soviets ignored the Western bid until May 14, when Brezhnev surprised the West by offering to start exploratory talks on this issue.

Allied officials said the NATO ministers hoped to agree on a positive reply to the Soviets that would not commit the West to a vast European Security Conference but that also would not mean backtracking on the West's own three-year-old call for talks on troops cuts.
Rogers refused comment when he arrived Tuesday night. But in a speech at Hamilton, N.Y., Sunday he said the NATO Council aimed at a new initiative that would accelerate movement towards mutual and balanced reduction of forces in Europe "now that the Soviets have finally responded affirmatively to NATO's long-standing proposals."

Audie Murphy To Be Buried In Arlington

ATLANTA (UPI) — Audie Murphy, tough little actor in forgettable cowboy films, will get a Hollywood funeral Friday.
And Capt. Audie Murphy, late of the Texas National Guard and Company B, 3rd Infantry Division, Sicily, Normandy and the Colmar pocket, brave soldier and uneasy hero, will be buried Monday in Arlington National Cemetery with military honors.
Murphy, the most decorated soldier of the American forces in World War II, was killed in the crash of a private plane into a mountainside near Roanoke, Va., while he was on a business trip. Five others died with him.

Although there was no advance word, a handful of spectators and a military honor guard from Ft. McPherson, Ga., turned out to pay tribute when the coffin containing Murphy's body arrived in Atlanta Tuesday, on the way home to California. His body left Atlanta on a Delta jumbo jet at 7:25 a.m. EDT.

Nixon Announces National Attack On Use Of Drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon announced a national attack on drug use Tuesday and said he opposes legalization of marijuana because it would encourage young people "to start down that long, dismal road... to self-destruction."
In a nationally televised news conference, Nixon called the use of heroin and other "hard" drugs by GIs in Vietnam "a special problem." One point in his drug attack will be to treat military addicts before their release from the Armed Forces.
But, Nixon said, "It is not simply a problem of Vietnam veterans. It's a national problem that primarily focuses on young people."
"Consequently what we need is a national offensive on this problem, and one which of course will particularly take into account the immediate problem in Vietnam," he said.

Administration May Compromise With Congress On Revenue Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration indicated today it is willing to compromise with Congress to get a revenue-sharing bill moving. That may be easier said than done.
Administration spokesmen indicated a compromise was needed to get revenue sharing past the House Ways and Means Committee, which opened hearings today. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally was called as the leadoff witness before the hostile panel.
Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and ranking Republican John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., who have enough votes between them to block the measure, are against Nixon's plan to give $5 billion to states and cities for spending as they wish.

Assistant Treasury Secretary Murray L. Weidenbaum and House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford indicated they would be willing to compromise to get the bill past the Mills-Byrnes blockade.
Connally told the committee that revenue-sharing was the best alternative to a system of narrow purpose federal grants which "has not worked, is not working now and never will work." He also soft-peddled the idea of a compromise.

Murder Charges Filed Against Army Brass

RODEO TIME'S COMING — These attractive young ladies are displaying a bumper sticker reminder that the rodeo will return to Pampa this summer. They are Seena Snider, 1941 N. Nelson, left and Sandra Franks, 1105 Christine. The annual RCA rodeo was not held last year because of tornado damages to the grandstand. It's scheduled this year Aug. 4-7. The bumper stickers may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Hughes Bldg. (Staff Photo)

For Alleged Deaths Of Eight Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has filed murder charges against a brigadier general in the deaths of eight South Vietnamese civilians, it was disclosed today.
The charges were brought against Bri. Gen. John W. Donaldson, former commander of the 11th Infantry Brigade of the American Division in which Lt. William L. Calley Jr. served.

The deaths charged to Donaldson were said to have occurred in Quant Ngai province in the northern part of South Vietnam during the last two months of 1968 or the first month of 1969.
The charges—both murder

Nine GIs Killed In 3 Helicopters Downed Over Viet

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist forces stepped up a week-long offensive and attacked allied troops in four widely-scattered sections of Indochina Tuesday, military communiques reported today.
The U.S. command also said nine Americans had been killed and one injured in three helicopter crashes.
In the heaviest fighting, Communist troops fired rocket and mortar barrages on Cambodian troops guarding the approaches to Phnom Penh only 15 miles east of the capital and engage them in hand-to-hand combat.

and assault—against Donaldson were filed by an Army investigator, Col. Roger L. Rank, on May 20.
The charges were formally filed with the headquarters of the First Army, since Donaldson now is assigned to that command.
The next step in the army process is for Donaldson's immediate superiors to decide whether the charges warrant a so-called Article 32 investigation—the military equivalent to a grand jury inquiry in civilian courts.
Rank brought the charges under the uniform code of military justice, which provides that any person subject to the code may bring charges of violating it against any other person subject to it.
Koster and some others who were investigated by the Army in connection with allegations growing out of the questionable deaths in Vietnam have been assigned to Ft. Meade.
One of those is Col. Oran K. Henderson, also an American Division officer who is accused of My Lai coverup charges. Court martial proceedings against Henderson are in recess for a few days.
Disclosure of charges against Donaldson came as Pentagon sources said the Army also was investigating a report that at least 24 civilians were killed by U.S. troops in another incident during a 1969 amphibious landing in South Vietnam.
Donaldson, now stationed at Ft. Meade, Md., as special assistant to the chief of staff of the First Army, was accused of murder of the South Vietnamese between November, 1968, and January 1969.
Donaldson is the highest ranking officer facing charges growing out of alleged crimes in Vietnam. The deaths with which Donaldson is charged occurred several months after the My Lai massacre.
Calley, a platoon commander at the time units of the American Division made a sweep through My Lai, is under murder conviction for mass slayings of South Vietnamese civilians there March 16, 1968.
The commander of the American Division at the time Maj. Gen. Samuel Koster, was originally accused of covering up the My Lai slayings, but the accusations were subsequently dropped. However, he was stripped of one of his two stars and relieved of a Vietnam-won medal.

Fire Arts Group Continues Exhibit In City Gallery

The opening exhibit at the Pampa Fine Arts Association Gallery is entering the final four days with Sunday as the last day for the exhibit by four Southwestern scene artists.
Artists exhibiting in the show are Peter Hurd, William Whiteside, Peggy Mory, and Emily Gutherie Smith. The exhibit includes landscapes, still life, and miniatures. With the exception of Peter Hurd, the artists are from the Fort Worth area, and all are represented at the Carlin Galleries of Fort Worth.
The gallery will be open each afternoon until Sunday from 1 until 5 p.m. and is located at 512 W. Kingsmill St.
The Pampa Fine Arts Association will sponsor several exhibits throughout the year at the new gallery. These exhibits will include not only national and regional artists, but local artists may be requested to display their work.

Russia Warned Not To Let Pact With Egypt Cause Army Race

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon warned the Soviet Union Tuesday not to let its new friendship treaty with Egypt touch off a fresh Mideast arms race that could greatly imperil peace.
"I is too early to appraise the treaty in terms of what it could mean, in terms of introducing arms into the area," Nixon said at a White House news conference.
But if Moscow does step up its weapon supplies to Cairo, he said, "it can only mean a new arms race that could greatly jeopardize the chances for peace. We trust that this is not the case."
Nixon added that he is still hoping to work out some kind of Mideast peace settlement "and we are not going to allow this treaty to discourage us insofar as seeking that agreement is concerned."
Nixon fielded 21 questions during the 30-minute nationally televised session. In other highlights he:

—Said he was analyzing the U.S. position on admitting Mainland China to the United Nations, and will decide in about six weeks whether to revise long standing opposition to seating Peking.
—Labeled some of those who took part in the May day demonstrations in Washington "vandals and hoodlums and lawbreakers" who deserved to be arrested, terming it an exaggeration to say their constitutional rights were abridged by mass arrests.
—Accused Hanoi of refusing to do anything more than "discuss"—not release—American prisoners of war if this country would set a termination date for the war.
—Pledged highest priority attention to the problem of heroin addiction in the United States, including that among returning Vietnam veterans, and reaffirmed his opposition to legalizing marijuana for any reason.
—And said he would be willing to travel anywhere in the world if it would help to achieve troop reductions in Europe or arms limitation agreements with Moscow, although he has no present plans for any specific trip to Europe.

Nixon's China comments reflected to a degree the conclusions of a White House Advisory Committee headed by Henry Cabot Lodge which recently recommended to him that China be admitted to the United Nations. In addition there has been speculation that China will have enough support to win a seat this year without a change in the U.S. position.
Nixon took note of this "significant" change in attitude among other U.N. members and said the United States would be ready with its position before the U.N. session this fall. In the meantime discussions are going on with the Nationalist Chinese as the policy review continues.

Liquor-By-Drink Comes To Texas

DALLAS (UPI) — It was like celebrating a 21st birthday all over again. Thinking back on it, things went wrong that day too.
Everybody has their own plans for their 21st birthday. But mine were special. For two years I had been carrying a doctored driver's license, the kind with the numbers transposed, to show I really was 21.
Of course, the bartender or the beer salesman would always give me that frightening stare, lean across the counter, look me straight in the eye and say:
"Are you really 21?"
"Of course," I would reply, stammering, searching the room and hoping not to see any familiar faces or liquor control agents.
On my 21st birthday I planned to hit every beer joint in town until one of those clowns asked me for my ID. I would then reach in my back pocket, pull out the wallet with the flourish of a bullfighter waving his cape, slip my fingers into one of the compartments and extract an undoctored driver's license.

Unfortunately, in a tale too grim to retell at this time, I not only was forced to remain on the job all day on my 21st birthday but all that night too.
The next day it just didn't seem that important anymore.
Liquor by the drink came to Texas Tuesday. The state issued its first licenses to various restaurants and taverns to sell booze. Before this, anyone who wanted to drink liquor either had to belong to a private club, bring his own bottle or stay home.

But not now. The state issued 15 licenses to Dallas establishments but most of them were restaurants like Kirby's Charcoal Steaks, El Fenix Downtown, The Rib, Lucas B&B Cafe and others. But the last name on the list was the It'll Do Club. You'll never know what visions raced through my head when I heard that name. The It'll Do Club, I said it over and over again.
So three of us dashed over to the It'll Do Club, nestled between Zoe's Go Go Lounge and another place which just said go girls on the sign out in front.

City Lake Fish Kill Remains Unsolved Case

The mystery of what killed 10,000 fish in City Lake last March still remains unsolved.
When it was discovered the fish had washed up on the lake banks, James Wilson, Texas Quality Water Board representative, came to Pampa March 16 to investigate.
City Manager Mack Wolford received a letter today from Dick Whittington, director of field operations for the Texas Quality Board, stating Wilson's report had been received and due to the time lag he was "unable to determine cause of the fish kill."
Whittington asked for prompt notification if the fish kill should occur again.

HOUSTON (UPI) — Gardiner Symonds, who took control of a small pipeline company and turned it into a multi-billion dollar industry, died Tuesday of a heart ailment at Methodist Hospital. He was 67.

Symonds was named in 1943 as the first president of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. which was founded that year to build the first natural gas pipeline from the Texas Gulf Coast to the Northeast United States. Under Symonds' leadership, the firm evolved into Tenneco Inc., a multi-industry complex with $4.3 billion in assets.

British Feminist Defends Lib Idea

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Germaine Greer may well become Britain's best known export since Twiggy.

Right there, however, the sisterhood ends. Germaine Greer is an outspoken feminist, a new brand of intellectual who says that women will get all their rights only through revolution, not violence.

"It is about time people realized Women's Lib is not a religion, a cult," said this tall, angular girl with a doctorate from Cambridge University. "It's more like the labor movement has been. We women are an important majority."

It might be, she mused, that "a terrible depression" would implement the liberation movement because "typically, in history women in poverty come forward."

Miss Greer, who's 32, is author of a best-selling book on women's role then, now, and tomorrow, a book generally praised by the critics (The New York Times called it "the best feminist book so far"). Titled "The Female Eunuch" (McGraw-Hill), the work is a convincing plea for the rescue of sex and in essence a new freedom for both sexes.

Miss Greer explained that the title came from her thesis that as wives, employes, mothers and lovers, women not only still are in bondage to men, but are deformed by them—thus, the eunuch label.

She sees women as "debased," but a lot of it of their own doing—"men only created this civilization because women have allowed it to happen," she said in an interview during a New York visit.

"Revolution ought to entail the correction of some of the assumptions about womanhood, sex, love and society have combined to create," she writes. "Sex must be rescued from the traffic between powerful and powerless, masterful and mastered, sexual and neutral, to become a form of communications . . . between potent, gentle, tender people, which cannot be accomplished by denial of heterosexual contact."

As for men, she likes them and sees them changing, beginning to seek "a more satisfying role."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I get along fine, but I have a problem can't talk to anyone about because this is a small town and if this ever gets out it might hurt him in a business way.

I've heard about some people having far-out hang-ups on sex, but listen to this: My husband gets excited if he can pretend that some part of his body is missing. One time he wants me to pretend that one of his legs is missing. Lately he asks me to pretend that one of his eyes is gone! He feels no guilt or shame when he asks me to go along with this pretending game.

I don't know why he should get turned on by pretending that a part of his body is missing, but he does. I find this weird and sometimes frightening. I never have refused to play his game for fear his mind will snap and he will harm me. Do you think he's dangerous? Ask one of your doctor friends and let me know.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Fetishes (and this is one) are usually harmless if both parties derive a mutual enjoyment from them. But if your husband's "something missing" game is causing you fear and anxiety, discuss it with a doctor and take his advice.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister is being married soon in another state. My husband and I plan to attend her wedding, but here is the problem. We have two sons. One is 2 years old, and the other is nearly a year old. They are very active, and to say they are a handful is a mild understatement. I want to leave them home so that I can have a little vacation and relax away from home, children and responsibilities!

My mother has offered to stay with the boys for the one weekend we will be gone. My husband thinks we should take it as it will be "unfair" to his relatives if I leave them home. What do you think?

NEEDS A REST

DEAR NEEDS: I think it will be unfair to you if he insists on taking them. And he owes you more than he owes his relatives. Besides, his relatives will look at the kids for two minutes, and you'll have to look after them the rest of the time.

DEAR ABBY: A teen-age girl wrote: "Dear Abby, why are adults so quick to judge a person by his outward appearance? If a boy has long hair he is taken for a hippie, radical, pot smoker or a freak. Why? Adults don't bother to look beyond a person's hair or on the inside."

Well Abby I am a 30-year-old high school teacher, and I would like to turn her letter around and write:

"Dear Abby why are kids so quick to judge a person by his outward appearance? If a man has short hair he is taken for a square or a freak. Why? Kids don't bother to look beyond a person's hair or dress. They don't care what's on the inside."

To prove my point, I finally got tired of the snide remarks about my very short hair, so I let it grow longer.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Sixty-second Legislature wound up its regular session with a bang and a roar—and a few whimpers. In a photo-finish, the House-Senate conferees turned out a record $6.9 billion biennial budget for near-deadline consideration.

Lawmakers earlier agreed on a $617 million tax bill which will go into effect July 1 then followed up with $35 million worth of new taxes on liquor-by-the-drink and by-the-gallon.

Taxpayers will be paying four percent sales (five, in most cities) and auto sales-rental tax, 18.5 cents a pack on cigarettes; $4.50 per $1,000 on corporation franchises; and $5 per barrel on beer. A 10 per cent gross receipts tax will be levied on mixed-drink sales and $1.95 a gallon on liquor sales generally. A gasoline tax increase, approved earlier, was repealed in a subsequent bill.

Among other achievements for which the 62nd Legislature will be remembered are:

Ratification of a federal constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18.

Approval of a liquor-by-the-drink sales act and submission of a mixed-drink referendum to the first group of wet counties on May 18.

Congressional and legislative redistricting.

Submitted a constitutional amendment to authorize the convening legislature in 1974 to sit as a convention to rewrite Texas' constitution.

Passed far reaching bank law reform legislation.

Creation of a tuition-backed revenue-bond fund to build new state colleges.

Establishment (by constitutional amendment) of a $100 million bond fund to aid cities that build sewer facilities.

Lawmakers gave up on budgeting for welfare services for this biennium, and will return next year (if not sooner) to appropriate funds for 1973 assistance to the needy, meanwhile hoping for expanded federal aid.

AG OPINIONS—An appointee who served one day as "executive" of a printing company was ineligible for the "employer" member position on the Texas Industrial Accident Board, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

Governor does not have power to veto proposed constitutional amendments.

A bill providing that a dry area annexed to a wet area shall occupy the same wet status as the annexing area is unconstitutional, as it violates the local option mandate.

Applicants signing petitions for incorporation of a new town must be qualified electors who have resided in the area at least six months. Area must contain more than 200 inhabitants (who do not have to be qualified electors).

Out-of-state witnesses in criminal cases receive compensation solely from the state, not the counties.

Environmental Protection Act of 1971 is constitutional in authorizing private individuals to maintain legal anti-pollution actions on behalf of the public or to sue the state, but vagueness and caption of the bill offer constitutional problems.

Bill authorizing commissioners courts in "counties of one million to 1.5 million" to prohibit keeping of hogs within 500 feet of a residence not in an incorporated city is unconstitutional.

A hospital district in which an indigent prisoner was held by the sheriff is liable for his medical bills when it did not have adequate facilities and treatment had to be administered by another hospital.

Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators has no authority to fix licensing fee of $50 per annum for "administrators in training."

A State Department of Public Welfare employe called out on an emergency mission for protective service to an abandoned or abused child is entitled to reimbursement for official travel mileage expense.

COURTS SPEAK — U.S. Supreme Court decision striking down Georgia's financial responsibility law poses a threat to Texas' law. Court said the law must provide for determination of fault before drivers license is suspended.

Third Court of Civil Appeals here reversed the local court in a suit involving control of an Abilene bank.

State recovered $6,000 penalty from Texas Rockwool of Belton in an air pollution suit filed by the attorney general on behalf of the State Air Control Board.

State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers got a permanent injunction against a Del Rio man from practicing engineering or representing self to the public as a licensed professional engineer.

APPOINTMENTS — Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth was designated by House Speaker Gus Mutscher of Brenham as speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives.

George W. Horan Jr. of Fort Worth and George Dilman of Dallas were designated chairman and vice-chairman of the Texas Tourist Development Board.

Gov. Preston Smith named J. H. Bain Jr. of Stockdale to a new term on the Finance Commission of Texas.

Smith appointed John T. Duncan of Bryan to the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, to replace Mrs. Marcela Perry of Houston who resigned.

PARK PROJECTS APPROVED — U. S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation approved $1 million in federal matching grants for 14 Texas park projects.

Projects are Houston hike and bike trails, 185,500; general park development of Fort Belknap Park $11,315; LaPorte, acquisition of 11 lots, $3,350; Carver Park, Texas City swimming pool and other improvements, $208,450; Seawolf Park, Galveston, pavilion, pier service building and other improvements $358,500; Monterey Park, San Antonio.

football-baseball lighted field and other facilities, $46,550; Brownfield Mini Park, concrete cycle paths, skating and other playground facilities $13,300; Bledsoe-Miller Park, Waco, in Model Cities area, $22,500; Southland Park, Polk County general development, $46,500; Bishop City Park dam and spillway $16,250; Valley Mills Jaycee Park general development, $10,600; Martin Lake Park, Amarillo, reshaping existing lake and playground for park, $19,000.

Another $731,300 B.O.R. grant was approved for McKinney Falls State Park near Austin. Grant matches the 632 acres of land donated.

BARNES TELLS ASSETS — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, in keeping with his pledge, filed a voluntary statement of financial assets and liabilities with the Secretary of State.

Lieutenant Governor listed financial assets of $267,721 and liabilities of $184,100 for a net worth of $83,621. Principal asset was a business association with Brownwood businessman Herman Bennett. Barnes said he has interests in construction, motel franchises, real estate, farming, radio stations and shopping centers as well as $74,600 worth of stocks — but owes $150,792 in bank loans.

Barnes was among the first major officials to file a voluntary statement. He pushed for a new state law requiring such disclosure by public officials.

PILOT PROJECT PICKED — State Capital Area Planning region was selected by the Governor's office and the University of Houston Institute for Urban Studies as the pilot site for an experimental housing market aggregation project. Funded by U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the project is one of two in the nation. Purpose is to promote housing construction activity. Area will be "tested" for housing constructed on mass production basis.

ENDING 52-YEAR BAN

State Agency Issues 29 Permits To Sell Mixed Drinks

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission Tuesday issued 29 permits to sell mixed drinks publicly in the state to end a 52 year drought for Texans who like to belly up to the bar for a cocktail.

Although the state agency did not acknowledge any order in which the 29 permits were issued, State Sen. Joe Christie, D-El Paso, author of the mixed drink legislation that legalized cocktails, said it went to the Branding-Iron Steak House in El Paso.

Christi said the bar owner in El Paso served himself the first legal cocktail sold in Texas—a double bourbon on the rocks.

Goes Back to 1919
The 29 permits ended a constitutional ban on open saloons that had existed in Texas since 1919 when voters approved an amendment to dry up the state.

Texas remained totally dry during prohibition days until 1935 when the constitution was amended to permit the sale of beer. The next year liquor was legalized, but only by the bottle in areas where local option elections approved its sale.

Gov. John Connally was the first governor to publicly endorse legalization of the sale of mixed drinks in his message to the legislature in 1965. He called the system of mixed drink sales in private clubs "a subterfuge" to get around the law.

However, it took a straw vote and four years to get a proposed constitutional amendment submitted to the voters and this amendment repealing the ban on open saloons was approved in the 1970 general elections.

Dallas Gets 15
Of the 29 permits issued in the first batch by the ABC, 15 of them went to Dallas, six to

San Antonio, three to El Paso, two to Victoria, and one each to Arlington, Kerrville and Galveston.

A spokesman at the ABC said numerous other applications were on file and these would be processed as soon as the necessary paperwork could be done.

Purchasers of cocktails in Texas will get a tax break during the first few days or weeks of legalized cocktails.

The legislature became deadlocked over redistricting bills during the final day of the regular session and it ended without final approval of these or a liquor tax bill that included a 10 per cent gross receipts tax on the sale of cocktails.

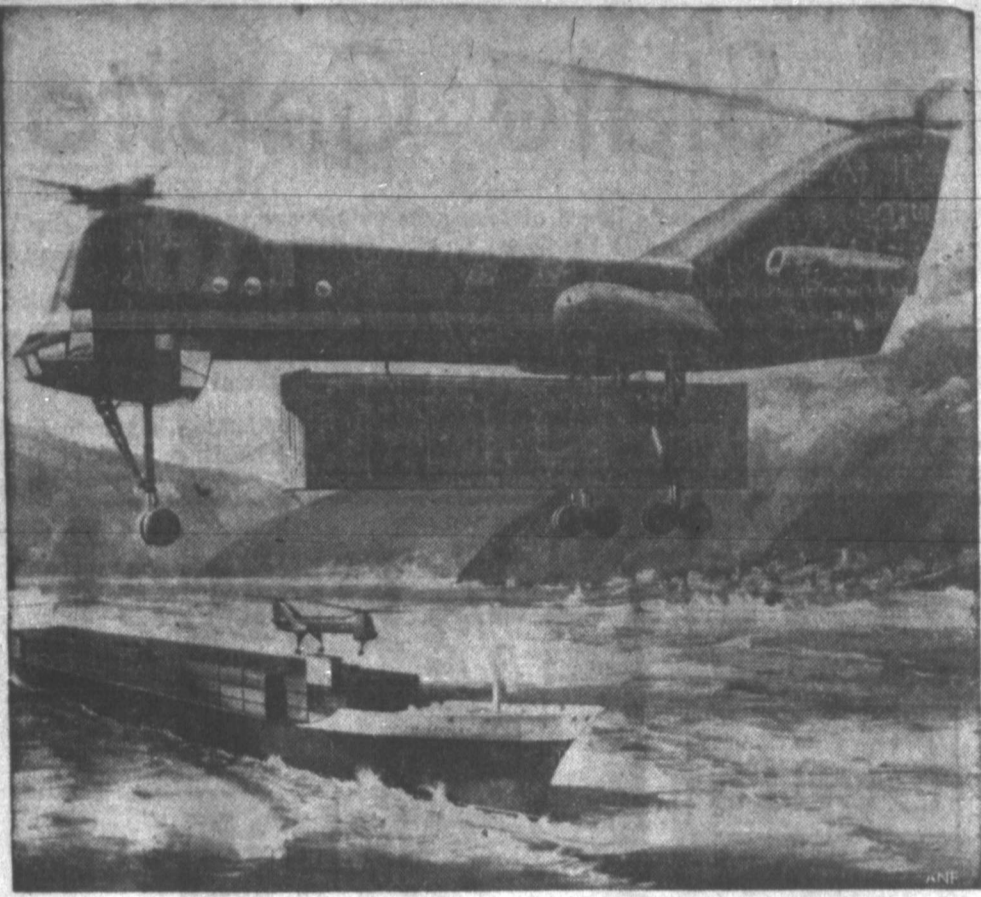

Special Session Called
Gov. Preston Smith convened the legislature in special session at noon Tuesday to redistrict the congressional seats. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes planned to get the governor to also open the session up to finish the liquor tax law. Smit hidid expand the call later Tuesday to include the liquor tax.

The list of the first 29 mixed drink permits included: Branding Iron Steak House, Golden Peso Rest. and Hervey House, all of El Paso; Tower of Americas Restaurant, John Charles Restaurant, The Landing, La Fonda Oak Hills, La Fonda No. 2, and Big John's Steak and Oyster Bar, all of San Antonio.

Mickey Finn's Gay Ninety's, Arlington; Candy's Place, Galveston; Frank's, Kerrville; Captain's Table, and Acey Ducey Club, both of Victoria.

The 15 Dallas permits included Kirby's Charcoal Steaks, Bovarian Steak House, El Fenix downtown Dallas, El Fenix restaurant, Jays Marine Grill, the Desert Inn, TV Bar, the Rib, Egyptian Restaurant, Dunston's Steak House, Lucas B&B Cafe, the Villa Fontana, El Fenix Restaurant, El Fenix Restaurant (separate addresses), and IT'll Go Club.

HEAVY LIFT HELO—An artist's concept of the proposed Heavy Lift Helicopter (HLH) unloading cargo from a container transporter. The Boeing Company was recently selected to conduct the first phase of development for the HLH. The proposed design uses tandem rotors and transmissions slightly larger than those on some current military helicopters. It is expected to have a payload lift capacity of 22 1/2 tons.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—"About the most optimistic projection at the moment is that investment planning should allow for interest rates approximating present levels for the remainder of the year," W. E. Hutton & Co. says. The company says the money market is much more "volatile and emotional" than in the past and is affecting the stock market. "Thus, for the present... be less aggressive as related to making investment decisions in the stock market until the dust settles," Hutton advises.

that many individual issues strength.

The recent upward trend in interest rates, Neuwirth Management & Research Corp. says, has caused "considerable investor apprehension since an excessive price for money could readily abort the economic recovery while also resulting in lower price earnings ratios overall."

EXPENSIVE CAT

CAMPAGNE, France (UPI)—Each evening Jean Barret's cat would stretch in front of the open fire to go to sleep.

Recently, however, the cat dashed madly from the house when sparks set his fur alight. He rushed through an adjoining barn full of straw, trailing flames.

The cat is recovering. The barn and straw were destroyed.

A GOOD QUESTION

SUPER CHICK

DELAWARE, Ohio (UPI)—A chicken with four legs has been hatched on a nearby farm. Farmer James Ray named it "Double Clutch."

"The rebound in the bond yields is a major factor affecting the stock market at this time," the Argus Research Corp. believes. The company says the earnings yield on the Standard & Poor's Industrials is at an all-time low relative to the high-quality new corporate bonds. "Even after allowance is made for a significant rise in corporate profits, the ratio is far lower than previously experienced," Argus says.

"The market is not acting badly," according to E. F. Hutton & Co. The firm says with selling dried up and the urge to buy falling off, the fact that "considerable price erosion" has not occurred "may be constructive." Hutton also notes

Judges Given Wide Latitude To Stop Rail, Airline Strikes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court armed federal judges with wide latitude Tuesday to stop strikes by railway and airline employees where they find no "reasonable efforts" have been made to negotiate labor agreements.

The court split 5 to 4, with dissenters warning that the ruling would destroy the careful bargaining machinery of the National Railway Act and inflict a "mortal wound" on the role of economic pressure in such labor negotiations.

Its effect, according to dissenting Justice William J. Brennan Jr., will be to require a federal court to enjoin strikes where it determines that a party had not exerted sufficient effort to reach settlement.

The majority opinion itself acknowledged that the ruling "creates a not insignificant danger" that parties in such labor disputes will conduct their negotiating positions and tactics "with an eye on the courts, rather than restricting their attention to the business at hand."

"These weighty considerations indeed counsel restraint in the issuance of strike injunctions based on violations" of the Railway Act, Justice John M. Harlan said for the majority.

"Nevertheless, the result reached today is unavoidable if we are to give effect to all our labor laws," he declared.

The opinion came in a case involving the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. and the United Transportation Union. Harlan was joined by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, and Justices Potter Stewart, Thurgood Marshall and Harry A. Blackmun.

Dissenting with Brennan were Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Byron R. White.

In essence, the court held that a federal judge may issue an injunction to block a strike if he determines that one side or the other had not made a reasonable effort to reach a settlement of a dispute even though the regular process had not been exhausted.

The 1926 Railway Labor Act covers both railway and airline employees. The Chicago and Northwestern dispute arose from a controversy over how many brakemen each train should carry.

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Rex E. Barley, director of the Los Angeles Times Syndicate and the Times-Washington Post News Service, died Tuesday. He was 57.

Barley was admitted to Huntington Memorial Hospital during the weekend complaining of respiratory trouble. He died of a heart attack.

NASA Asks For More Money For Space Shuttle Rocket Plane

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The space agency expects to more than triple its current $100 million budget request for the proposed space shuttle rocket plane next year.

The agency estimated that between $350 million and $500 million will be needed in fiscal 1973 to move ahead with development of the revolutionary orbital transport and get it flying before the end of the decade.

The space shuttle, as now planned, will take off vertically like a rocket and return to airport landings like a jetliner. Whereas current rockets are discarded after one launch, the shuttle will be reusable and is expected to greatly reduce the cost of carrying men and satellites into orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) hopes to begin horizontal flight tests of the two-stage vehicle in 1976. Its first vertical launch is tentatively scheduled for 1978 with operational missions starting in 1979.

To meet that schedule, the McDonnell-Douglas Corp., predicted in a recent report prepared for NASA that financing requirements would increase to about $1 billion in fiscal 1974, go to $1.5 billion in fiscal 1975 and reach a peak of an estimated $2 billion in 1976.

Funding then would drop off, according to the study, to about $500 million by 1980.

NASA is seeking $3.2 billion for all its operations for the fiscal year starting July 1, and agency officials have said a total annual budget of more than $5 billion would be needed in the mid-1970s to finance the shuttle project. NASA appropriations reached a high of $5.2 billion in 1965.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., reported last week that the Rand Corp., concluded in a report to the Air Force last October that the cost of developing the shuttle would be "well over $12 billion."

Mondale said the project is economically unjustified at the present time. NASA disagrees and has said that the shuttle is needed to reduce the cost of doing business in space.

NASA's latest estimate for total development cost of the program is $12.7 billion. That also includes development of a "space tug" to propel payloads from the low orbit attained by the shuttle to higher orbits. NASA's figure includes a fleet of shuttles and tugs to carry out 700 flights in 13 years, but does not cover operational costs such as fuel and refurbishment.

The agency calculates that the cost of operating the space shuttle will average out to $2 million per flight.

Petzoldt To Scale Mt. McKinley In Alaska Without Using Oxygen

LANDER, Wyo. (UPI)—Paul Petzoldt is a man who must have a challenge. This summer, it will be taking on Alaska's Mt. McKinley without the use of oxygen.

The 63-year-old mountaineer who founded the National Outdoor Leadership School will take 35 of his graduates up the 20,320-foot slope to a height some say causes brain damage without the use of artificial oxygen. He won't even take any with him for emergencies.

"This expedition isn't going to be grim," Petzoldt said. "It's going to be fun."

And if Petzoldt had received a reply, he might have had a party of Red Chinese climbers scaling McKinley with his group. He wrote to the Chinese Embassy in Canada inviting the climbers along, but all he received in reply was the receipt indicating the letter had been delivered. Petzoldt said he wanted to invite the Chinese before ping-pong diplomacy was the thing to do.

"The idea came somewhat before then, because there have always been stories about the Chinese climbers and we have never been able to authenticate some of them and rumors about them," Petzoldt said.

"And so we thought it would be extremely interesting to see if they did any climbing; to see if they had any mountaineers; and to see what their techniques were and how far they had progressed with them," he said.

Petzoldt will lead his group, including two women, up the side of McKinley on the five-week expedition beginning June 15.

"We have many graduates who want to use some of the technical knowledge they have gotten from our school and are interested in going on expeditions."

JEANE DIXON Your Horoscope

THURSDAY, JUNE 3
 Your birthday Thursday: Your available mental outreach and insight develops abruptly this year, and with every application you have more freedom to simplify matters, lessen your cares, let go of old habits and minor work arrangements.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Fire comes the work itself! Do what you have taken on; brag about it later if you want to brag about your future plans has unexpected benefits.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your calm approach to have group projects, cooperative ventures as nearly everybody has a big idea or a grievance to air.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Float through the day without getting distracted into fantasies or some extreme within the areas you want to cultivate.

CANCER (June 21-July 23): Smooth talk and sympathy can lead you into over-riding promises you cannot keep.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23): Opportunity comes in short bursts; wide open for brief moments. Highly stud in between times. Pay close attention to your audience, be discreet about plans.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23): Nostalgia rises with people and places that bring back memories, perhaps repercussions of past experiments. You may have to decide whether to repeat an old ineffective move or try a completely unfamiliar direction.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): More is beneath the surface than above it. Wait and listen carefully. Let your own story evolve slowly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Adjustments and changes are in order—make them gracefully and go on with consistent effort. You find new ideas, more people to take into account. Jobs by being willing to relate to your fellows.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Whatever unrealistic streak there may be in your ventures appear now. Sentimental reasons are not sufficient to sustain material projects beyond their pragmatic limits.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Think about what you are doing rather than rely on habit and lines of previous plans, relatively small but important activity must be reorganized.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): An open question, productive curiosity or doubt of your resources, biases or prejudices you'd say according to what well you happen to have chosen lately.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Personal life should be expanding. Ask directly for what you think you want and make the commitments and go with such requests.

COLLISION KILLS 5
AMSTERDAM (UPI)—Two Americans were among five persons killed in Sunday's collision of two passenger trains outside Amsterdam, police said today.

At least 35 others were injured in the crash about seven miles southeast of Amsterdam.

The Americans were identified as Maureen Louise Pruddy, 17, of Cumberland, Md., and Anthony Power, 18, of Minnesota. Power's hometown was not immediately known, a police spokesman said.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The termite or white ant is an insect which feeds upon cellulose in wood. The cellulose is converted into sugar by protozoans living within the termite's digestive tract. The World Almanac says. Termites usually infest wood that is in contact with the ground.

Cadillac Nothing Special Just Pitcher Vida Blue

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—Charlie Finley wanted to do something for his meat ticket, Vida Blue. Not just anything, but something special.
So the impulsive owner of the Oakland A's simply gave his fantastic 21-year-old Blue blazer a brand new Cadillac during Tuesday night's game with the New York Yankees.
Not just any Cadillac you understand, but a baby blue convertible, and Finley has arranged with the California Department of Motor Vehicles so that the license plates on the car will bear only four letters—BLUE.
Finley got his brainstorm while the remarkable pitcher and mature Vida Blue was mowing down the Yankees, 5-2, for his 11th victory in 13 decisions. It was also Blue's 11th complete game.

Leaning over his field box near the A's dugout in the seventh inning, Finley thrust his scorecard in front of Dick Williams, the Oakland manager. On the scorecard Finley had written a message asking Williams what he thought about his idea of giving Blue a new car as a gift.
Williams, who knew he wasn't paying for it, read the message then looked up at Finley and said:
"Terrific!"
Out on the mound, Vida Blue didn't know from nothing. He just kept pitching, settling down after a rocky start to retire 17 men in a row from the second inning to the eighth.
Ordinarily, the Yankees would have had about 12,000 on

Curtis Rowe Will Be A Tough NBA Player To Beat

DETROIT (UPI)—Curtis Rowe, according to his best friend and publicity man, Sidney Wicks, will be a "tough" National Basketball Association player.
"Curtis is tough," said Wicks, who accompanied his UCLA teammate to Detroit Tuesday when Rowe signed a five-year contract with the Pistons for something less than $500,000. "You'll really like him."
"He's not a spectacular player but he'll get you 15 points—or more. And he'll do it every game. Every game," said Wicks, who talks more like a coach than the recently signed No. 1 pick of the Portland Trail Blazers.
"He'll do better in the pros," Wicks said, "because at UCLA you played the way they wanted you to play. They'd say, 'Now, you do this—and don't do this,' but with all the running back and forth Curtis will do better."
"I'm looking forward to playing in the NBA," said Rowe, who is as affable as his teammate and equally as humorous. "You just look forward to playing."
"If I play my game as I know it, then everything definitely will be all right," Rowe said. "I'll set certain goals for myself at the beginning of the season but overall my goal will be to help the team."

American Legion Will Meet Groom

The American Legion game originally scheduled for tonight in Optimist Park will not be played due to a cancellation of the Caprock team.
In a practice scrimmage the Pampa American Legion will be meeting Groom at 8 p.m. in the ball park. Groom is in the north zone of the 4th Division along with Pampa, Dumas, Spearman, Perryton and Borger.
Starting pitcher tonight will probably be Jeff Hogan with Larry Knuteson and Marsh Gambin sharing the assignment before the game is ended. This will allow coach Bud Hogan to evaluate his teams capabilities.
The Legion will play against Canyon at 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Texans Chalk Up Impressive Wins In British Meet

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (UPI)—Two of the three Texas survivors waded through the second round of the British Amateur Golf Tournament Tuesday and the margins of their victories were impressive.
Tom Kite, the University of Texas star from Austin, rolled up his second straight overwhelming margin in as many days as he put out Peter Gardner, England, 5 and 4. He was three-up at the turn and it was only a matter of when the match would end.
John Farquhar of Amarillo, Tex., who had received a first round bye, was four-up after the first six holes and easily eliminated Englishman Bob Beaumont, 6 and 4.
But, Frank Redman of El Paso, Tex., wasn't so fortunate, as he was put out by a fellow American—Mike Sogger of Mt. Kisco, N.Y., 4 and 2.
Kite and Farquhar are members of the U.S. Walker Cup team which lost to the British last week when Kite won two and halved one of the four matches in which he participated.

SHAVING STROKES

By Frank Beard

By FRANK BEARD
Is The Key to Putting
Whatever else you say about putting, the cardinal concept is still that you should take the putter away from the ball on your backstroke low and slow. It may not be quite grammatical, but it sure works.
Think of the blade of the putter as moving in the same plane a pool cue moves in. The cue is parallel to the table. You want to keep the putter blade low and parallel to the ground. Don't jerk it up.
I guess there is such a thing as keeping a putter too low—dragging it through the grass and upsetting your stroke. You're actually moving it along about a quarter of an inch off the ground. But you still want to keep it low and avoid hurrying the stroke.
My allusion to pool is no accident. I like to play pool, and I find that it helps my putting stroke and touch. Billy Casper is as good a putter as I've ever seen, and he has an old restored pool table in the basement of his home that he plays on whenever he has the chance. He says it has improved his putting. That's good enough for me.

(End Series.)
You can have Frank Beard's golf tips as a permanent reference in his book, "Shaving Strokes." To get your copy, send your name and address plus $1 to Shaving Strokes, c/o Pampa Daily News, P. O. Box 489, Dept. 790, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Carl Miller Accepts Vernon Coaching Post

Carl Miller, assistant basketball coach for the Harvesters for the past two years, has resigned his position with the Pampa schools to accept the Head Basketball Coaching position at Vernon High School, Vernon, Texas. Vernon is a member of district 3-AAA. Carl will also serve as Golf Coach while in Vernon.
While in Pampa, Miller's teams have posted an outstanding record of 66 wins and 31 losses over the past five years. During the past two years as Shocker coach and varsity assistant, the Pampa junior varsity teams have compiled an overall record of 36 wins against 15 losses.
Carl came to Pampa in August, 1966 as eighth grade

Country Club Partnership Approaching

The eighth annual Pampa Country Club Golf Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday with the number of entries expected to reach 65 teams.
Special activities Friday evening in the Club House will kickoff the tournament.
Fifty teams have already registered with several players still looking for partners. Hart Warren, club professional, said late this morning "If a member of the club wishes to play and does not have a partner, contact the pro shop."
The tournament committee requests that all contestants contact the pro shop for starting times because the number of carts is limited and some players will have to play early.
Two 14 handicappers paired last year to win the event. Earl Crouch and Paul Cronis are the defending champions.

All contestants in the Pampa Jaycee Track Meet June 20 must fill out this entry blank and present it to Jaycee officials at the meet.

Cedena Coups To Braves' Cheers As Slump Ends, Rookie Recovers

By JACK WILKINSON
ATLANTA (UPI)—Cesar Cedeno, so promising as a 19-year-old Houston rookie last season but off to a miserable start this year, believes he has at last shaken his slump. And the Atlanta Braves would be the first to agree.
Cedeno, a 6-2 youngster from the Dominican Republic, rattled the already snakebit Braves staff for four hits, including a two-run homer, drove in three runs and scored three as he led the Astros to a 7-6 victory over Atlanta in a 27-hit, 10-pitcher marathon, Tuesday night. It was the 11th loss in 13 games for the skidding Braves who made it close on Orlando Cepeda's two-run blast with two out in the ninth.
Cedeno, who has moved Jim Wynn out of centerfield, went into the Braves game with a weak-kneed .196 batting average, but he knew things were about to change. After all, the night before against Cincinnati, he went three for four with a double and home run and three runs batted in.
"I think I'm out of that slump already," he grinned after helping Jesus Alou, who also had four hits and drove in three, wreck the Braves. He gives credit to a change in his batting stroke.
"Before I was swinging at everything," he said. "Now I take some pitches. I started making a lot of contact. I guess I was swinging too hard."
He believes in his ability, and sees the so-called "sophomore jinx" as a myth.
"I don't believe in that second year thing," said Cedeno who batted .310 last season. "I think I'm gonna have a better year."
Cedeno said all of his hits against Atlanta came on two strikes and he hit a hanging curve offered by loser Tom Kelley for his home run. The only Braves pitcher to get him out was Cecil Upshaw, the sixth Atlanta hurler, who fanned him in the ninth. Upshaw, said Cedeno, "is something else."
