der auspices of the American Association of University Women. The play of "Toby Tyler" takes place in the sleepy little town of Gullford in New England as a circus comes to town. A freckle-faced, red headed boy, Toby, gets a job with the circus through Job Lord, peanut stand owner.

Mr. Stubbs has won friends from coast to coast with his performance which is letter perfect and which never fails to make the children applaud.

Other plays in the series include Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch and Poor Little Rich Girl to be given here in February and March. Tickets for all three plays are 25 cents including tax.

The table was centered with a Christmas tree and Santa candles were favors. Red Santas on green gumpdrops were placecards. Gifts were exchanged and Mrs. Cecil Westerman presented the club with a scrapbook. Calls Westerman read a poem of Christmas greetings.

Thompson Says Oil Industry's Outlook Bright

KILGORE, Dec. 10 (Sp)—Chairman Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas railroad commission believes the oil industry's outlook is the best in its history.

He told a group of East Texas oil men last night that daily consumption now is more than 400,000 barrels higher than the 1940 figure and predicted an increased demand during the emergency.

Thompson said he believed the current war will last at least three years and predicted refining facilities would have to be increased sharply, especially to provide for manufacture of large quantities of 100 octane gasoline.

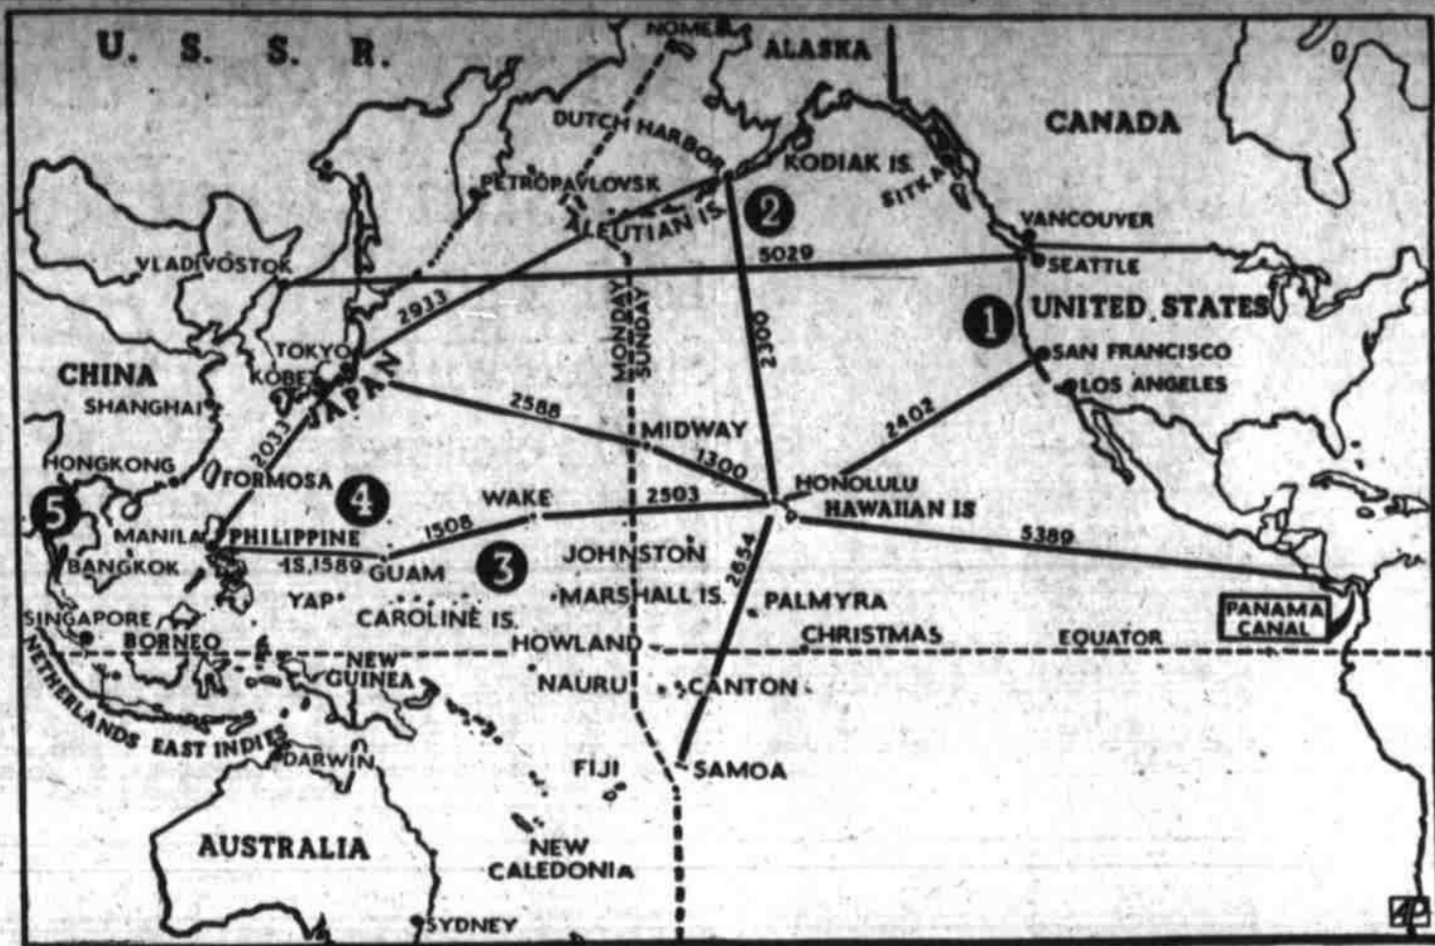

Most pressing need right now, he added, is an increase in the price of crude to encourage wildcatting and discovery of new fields.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (Wide World)—New York's first air raid alarm yesterday busted up Fordham's opening drill for the Sugar Bowl game. And the reports said it was Missouri that is weak on air defense. Wonder how serious Don Barnes is about moving the Browns to Los Angeles?

...It was a cinch he would be turned down this time. The transportation problem is hard to beat as long as club owners are hesitant about trusting their valuable ivory in airplanes and the ball players feel the same way about it.

Today's guest star—Jay Simon, Coffeyville (Kan.) Journal: "This is the time of the year when one of those little typographical dashes means more to a football coach than a 70-yarder did last month—that is, if it differentiates between his resigning or resigning."

Odds—and some ends—Dr. Charles C. Murray, Jr., of Lubbock, Tex., suggests enlisting the Texas U. football team to look after the war because "they seem to understand the Pacific situation perfectly." John L. Sullivan is an entry in the 118-pound division of the Washington Golden Gloves tournament. Skip Alexander, former Duke U. golfer, plans to turn pro in the Miami open. He has been promised a job with a club next summer. Athletes at Chicago's Morton high school who received watches for playing in the finals of the American Legion baseball tournament last summer will get "consideration" for reinstatement by the Illinois High School association if they return the watches.

DOROTHY MCGUIRE ... popular star of John Golden's hit play "Claudia," says Merry Christmas to her many friends with the cigarette that Satisfies.

Forsan Feels Impact of War

FORSAN, Dec. 10 (Sp)—This community has felt the impact of the war through bonds of family ties.

John Camp Adams was to have left California Saturday or possibly later for the Philippines, according to a telephone message from him to his parents last Saturday. John Camp, a bombardier, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Adams of the Magnolia lease.

Capt. and Mrs. H. A. Smith and son, Joseph, visited friends in Forsan last week. He was expecting to be ordered to the Philippines at the outset of hostilities.

Johnny and Charlene Bruton of Crane were the weekend guests of Vivian Fern Caldwell.

Mrs. Lewis Heuval went to Brenham this week to visit relatives and will be joined by Mr. Heuval on Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bardwell and family went to Abilene and Sweetwater Sunday.

Margaret Jackson and Aquilla West were Sunday dinner guests of Eleanor Martin and her parents at Garden City.

Gladys Cardwell, Abilene, spent the past weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell of the Continental camp.

Harry Miller has returned from a business trip to McCamey and Odessa.

Lloyd Peak is reported doing nicely following an eye operation in a Big Spring hospital.

Fred Lonstford reports for army duty Tuesday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lonstford of Corsicana.

Chauncey Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Long, also leaves Tuesday to serve in the army.

Ila Bartlett spent the weekend with her parents in Lamesa.

The name in the honor roll released last week should have been Virginia Griffith, freshman. This was listed incorrectly in original lists.

Construction Underway On Tenant Farms

COLORADO CITY, Dec. 10 (Sp) A construction program involving $33,767 is underway in Mitchell county on 16 tenant purchase farms bought through the Farm Security Administration this year. W. H. Tinney, FSA supervisor for the county, estimates that all the new buildings will be ready for use by February 1, 1942.

Each of the 16 farms is to have a new house, ranging in size from four to six rooms. All tenant purchase farms will be equipped either with pit toilets or complete plumbing and bathroom fixtures in the dwellings. All buildings are to have concrete foundations, and all houses are to be equipped with kitchen sinks, built-in cabinets, and a ventilated food storage pantry.

Eleven barns are being constructed. All are to be built on a standard plan designed for feed storage and livestock shelter.

Nine of the farms will have garage combinations, designed to house one car and all farm implements. Each will have either a storage room or two rooms designed for wash house and storage room.

Other buildings provided for under the contracts are 12 poultry houses, a cowshed, two smokehouses, an implement shed, and electrical wiring.

Contractor for all the locations but four is R. G. Thomas of Center. Tom Taylor of Westbrook, A. B. Carlisle of Westbrook, and B. Wilkerson of Lorraine are contractors on the other four, Wilkerson being contractor for two.

Aggies, Texas Place Four Each On All-S'west

By HAROLD V. BATTLE
Associated Press Sports Editor
 The Associated Press 1941 All-Southwest conference football team follows form.

The schools landed players in about the same order as they finished in the final standing.

The champion Texas Aggies and Texas, which tied for second and finished in a rush that knocked the Aggies from the nation's unbeaten list and crushed highly-regarded Oregon of the Pacific Coast conference, each placed four on the team as selected by coaches, scouts and sports writers.

Texas Christian, which wound up in a tie for second; Rice, which finished third, and Southern Methodist, which closed out in fourth place, landed the three other positions.

At only two places were the selections close—at one guard and one end post.

In the guard race Art Goforth of Rice and Ted Ramsey of Southern Methodist split the coaches' and scouts' vote and waged a battle to the wire. Goforth won by a single ballot and paired with Chal Daniel of Texas on the first team.

Malcolm Kutner of Texas was selected at one end position but Bruce Alford, the brilliant Texas Christian wingman, gave Jim Sterling of Texas A. and M. a battle. Sterling led all the way but the final vote showed the Aggie only three ahead.

There never was any doubt about the tackles with the giant Martin Ruby of Texas A. and M. and Derrell Palmer of Texas Christian far out in front.

At center Bill Sibley of Texas A. and M. became the all-conference substitute without anyone coming close to pressing him. Sibley is the boy who couldn't letter on the Aggie team last season but developed into one of the finest centers in conference history this year.

Pete Layden of Texas, Derace Moser of Texas A. and M., Preston Johnston of Southern Methodist and Jack Grain of Texas all got places in the first team backfield without being pressed.

There were some hefty battles for positions on the second team. Alford was an easy choice but Bill Henderson of Texas A. and M. and Jack Russell of Baylor fought neck-and-neck for the other end job. Henderson finally won out.

At tackle there was little doubt with Julian Garrett of Texas and Jeff Coats of Arkansas taking the spots but Firman Bynum of Arkansas and Bubo Barnett of Baylor finished high.

At guard Ramsey was an easy pick for one position with Harold Jungnickel of Texas and Lewis Self of Baylor fighting it out for the other. Jungnickel nosed out the Baylor star in the stretch.

Daryl Calo of Arkansas won the center job on the second team but was pressed by Henry Harkins of Texas.

There are five backs on the second team. Jack Wilson of Baylor, Bob Brumley of Rice and Vernon Martin of Texas were the top three but Kyle Gillespie of Texas Christian and Milton Craze of Baylor tied for the other spot.

Others receiving first or second team votes from the coaches, sports writers and scouts who handed in ballots were:

Ends—Phil Roach, Texas Christian; Bob Tresh, Rice; Kelly Simpson, Southern Methodist; R. C. Pitts, Arkansas; Gus Tunnell, Southern Methodist; O'Neal Adams, Arkansas.

Tackles—Lynn Bostick, Southern Methodist; Bo Cohenour, Texas; Clarence Booth, Southern Methodist; Ted Brannon, Rice; Joe Pasqua, Southern Methodist; Billy Heard, Rice; Rex Gandy, Baylor; Woodrow Adams, Texas Christian.

Guards—Bill Crawford, Texas Christian; Orville Johnson, Southern Methodist; Weldon Humble, Rice; Roy Bucek, Texas A. and M.

Centers—Buddy Gatewood, Baylor; Buck Ross, Rice.

Backs—Frank Erling, Texas Christian; Bob Fort, Arkansas; Nolan Sparks, Texas Christian; Marshall Spivey, Texas A. and M.; Dean Bagley, Texas Christian; Leo Daniels, Texas A. and M.; Horace Young, Southern Methodist; Dick Dwelle, Rice; Spec Sanders, Texas; Nobis Doss, Texas; Stoop Dickson, Rice.

Feller Signs Up As Naval CPO

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Bobby Feller's high fast one may be served up to the boys in the Japanese league next summer instead of to opponents of the Cleveland Indians, for whom the 28-year-old Iowa farm boy has pitched the last six years.

Bob, who faced early induction into the nation's armed forces under the selective service act, decided yesterday to enter the navy.

"Nobody knows what's going to happen. Maybe I'll see you fellows again and maybe I won't," he told sports writers at the major league convention.

Feller spent the day with Lieut. Commander Gene Tunney of the navy and appeared at the baseball gathering to tell his friends he would become a chief petty officer in the navy by tonight. He passed his physical examination at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Phillips Cagers Hold Real Jobs With Company

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Dec. 10 (AP)—The lads who man the Phillips "66" top-flight basketball club are no fugitives from figurative athletic freight trains — in short, no athletic bums—say their plans.

Members of this team — second in the nation's semi-pro ranks last year, losing to Hollywood's 30th Century Fox in the national finals — must work like the other hands around the big Phillips Petroleum company.

Furthermore, personnel officials say, players get no extra pay for basketballing. Their monthly stipends are the same as those of employees in similar positions.

When they apply for jobs, personnel department scrutineers put them through the same questioning as others. The player is placed where his talents seem to fit.

The story is the limit, says the company, when players seek advancement. There is a stellar example — K. S. Adams, the president, himself a cager of parts for the company in 1921 when a warehouse clerk.

Few players leave the company after their usefulness on the courts is over.

Phillips officials say they are not considering a rule such as one reported being studied by Firestone to limit player participation to three years, the same as in universities.

In the past five years the average of players has been only about two years.

This season's edition has the usual galaxy of stars, with here and there a super nova. Angelo (Hank) Lusetti, late of Stanford, may be classed in the latter category.

Other players, with home schools: John L. Adams and John Freiburger, University of Arkansas; Clarence Anderson, St. Mary's, Morga, Calif.; Howard Engelman, University of Kansas; Grady Lewis, Southwestern (Okla.); Tech; Paul Lindeman, Washington State, and Bill Martin and Jimmy McFatt, University of Oklahoma.

Stockton To Leave Soon For Army

Herschel "Mule" Stockton, assistant football coach of the Big Spring Steers, leaves Monday for the induction station at Lubbock in preparation for military service. Stockton came to Big Spring in the fall of 1939, after coaching a short while at Roscoe. He finished up his grid career at McMurry College in 1936 and then played on the Philadelphia pro club during 1937-38.

SMU Clouts North Texas, 40-34

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Southern Methodist, featuring an airtight defense that held their opponents to one field goal before the intermission, defeated North Texas State last night 40 to 34 in a basketball game. Tommy Tomlinson led the victors in scoring with 13 points. High point man for North Texas was Lloyd with eight.

Browns' First Baseman Inducted Into Army

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 10 (AP)—George Archie, first baseman for the St. Louis Browns, left his home here last night for induction into the army at Camp Forrest, Tenn. He is 27 years old.

Archie formerly played with Beaumont in the Texas league.

SW Clubs May Accept Schoolboy Insurance

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Southwest Conference soon may join Texas high schools in providing insurance for its athletes.

This is expected to be one of the topics of the annual winter meeting.

Caring for an athlete with only a knee injury can run into thousands of dollars. This comes out of the athletic fund because Southwest Conference schools do not have a blanket insurance.

In many Texas high schools, boys are insured at the rate of $100 for a fractured skull down to $3.00 for broken teeth.

The intercollegiate league sponsors an insurance policy for its members. Schools not participating in the policy have their own plans.

The Texas High School Coaches association has set aside a fund to care for permanently injured football players whose schools are members of the association.

Generally speaking, the Texas athlete is well taken care of, both in college and high school, although only the latter has a co-operative insurance plan. The smaller colleges, however, do not pay out to the extent of Southwest conference schools which see a boy through even if he is injured while a freshman. Most of the smaller colleges give him medical treatment only for a limited time.

In high school athletics a close study has been conducted for several years toward prevention of injuries. The coaches association has a committee working continuously preparing information and compiling accurate figures on injuries and their causes.

There has been a marked decrease in injuries during the past two years as a result.

The intercollegiate league made a study of various plans for athletic benefits, then called in representative coaches and high school principals for consultation. The schedule worked out was submitted to all companies interested in writing this type of insurance. The most attractive policy with the lowest rate was chosen.

Schools that do not buy insurance policies usually work out some plan with local hospitals and physicians for taking care of injured boys.

The cost per boy for all sports is $2.00 a year. For football, it is $2.00 and for all sports except football it is $1.00. Other sports, such as basketball, track and tennis, are insured from 50 to 60 cents a year.

This year more than 125 schools insured their boys under the plan.

Bootiers Stay At Head Of Bowling Class

Balch's Bootiers remained at the head of the class in young men's bowling league competition last night, marking two wins and one loss. Texas Electric came through with a best two out of three victory while Tate and Bristow and J. & L. Drugs stayed in the cellar.

High game for the evening was set up by Bruce Robertson with a 175. High series honors went to R. E. Russ with a 465, and Texas Electric racked up 7-4 for high team series.

L. D. Cunningham's 170 was second high game. Top scores were bowled by Sam Burns—168, Howard Smith—165, and Wilfred Lay—164.

Overnight the Phillies announced sale of outfielder John Rizzo to Brooklyn and infielder Emmett Mueller to Montreal, a Dodgers farm; and the New York Giants bought third baseman Bill Weber from Cincinnati and sold outfielder Joe Moore and Morris Arno to Indianapolis.

This business followed such deals of the meetings' first day as the Chicago White Sox trading outfielder Mike Kreevich and pitcher Jack Hallet to the Philadelphia Athletics for outfielder Wally Moses and the Boston Braves buying outfielder Tommy Holmes from Newark for cash.

Major Circuit Trading Tempo Shows Increase

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP)—The trading tempo of the major league meetings quickened today with half a dozen deals closed and several others, including the possible sale of Dolph Camilli to the Yankees, in the negotiating stage.

Pacific Schools Plan To Set Up New Bowl Deal

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—The Pacific Coast conference has delayed until spring, at least, action toward securing Rose Bowl opponents before the country's outstanding football teams are grabbed off by other bowl promoters.

Managers and faculty groups discussed a change in Rose Bowl procedure before adjourning their annual winter conference last night, but delayed action until they meet in Portland in the spring.

Yellowjackets Make Tasty Bait For Fish

ATLANTA, Dec. 10 (AP)—Fisherman M. E. Harkins prefers live yellow jacket grubs as bait.

A crumpled jacket's nest with live grub, he claims, draws fish like flies.

The yellow jackets build their nests underground. In digging out the grubs, Harkins escapes stings by poking chloroform-saturated cotton into the nest first.

Roosevelt Tells Of Long, Hard Days Ahead

Dawson County Plans Defense

LAMESA, Dec. 10—Civilian defense plans will be aired here Friday evening when citizens of Dawson county stage a mass meeting in the high school auditorium.

Purpose of the parley is to coordinate and organize the county's defense efforts. Members of the Allen-Houston American Legion post will be in charge of the meeting.

At a Monday evening session by the post, it was voted to go ahead with plans to organize a home defense guard unit and to throw the five listening posts in Dawson county's air raid warning service into operation.

Under the command of Capt. C. T. Edwards, the Brownfield home unit with 40 members, staged a drill on the courthouse square. Edwards offered his services in helping Lamesa secure a guard unit. Comm. G. M. Roberts of the local post appointed a committee of three to arrange for the Friday mass gathering and urged that all residents of the county make arrangements to attend.

But Tokyo Boasts Get Full Denial

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt claimed continued supremacy for the United States navy in the Pacific today, despite the serious losses the fleet suffered in the surprise outbreak of the war.

He dismissed as "fantastic" Japanese claims that they had gained the ascendancy and all kindred rumors circulated by enemy sources for propaganda purposes.

But within a few hours the Mikado's forces scored another smashing double blow against the Anglo-American naval strength in the Pacific by sinking one of Britain's newest 35,000-ton battleships, Prince of Wales, and the 32,000-ton British battle cruiser, Repulse.

These new reverses served to underline the words the president used last night when he told the American people in his first war report that the United States faces a long, hard struggle before it can win the war and the peace that follows.

And, as commander-in-chief, he warned the country in the frankest words that its coast was in the front line of the war that exploded without warning Sunday morning.

"The attack at Pearl Harbor," he said bluntly, "can be repeated at any one of many points—points in both oceans and along both our coast lines and against all the rest of the hemisphere."

The radio carried the president's words from a dimmed-out, heavily-guarded White House.

"We are now in this war. We are all in it—all the way. Every single man, woman and child is a partner in the most tremendous undertaking of our American history. We must share together the bad news and the good news, the defeats and the victories—the changing fortunes of war."

He made no attempt to minimize the character of the initial news—it all had been bad, and he could not say officially how much Hawaii had suffered until further surveys had been completed.

But all his words bespoke calm confidence of the final outcome.

"We are going to win the war and we are going to win the peace that follows."

To speed that day, the president announced that the government had decided on a seven-day week for all war industries, including the production of essential raw materials.

He also disclosed that there would be a tremendous rush expansion of the nation's munitions production industries, by the construction of new plants, the enlargements of old ones, and the mobilization of small plants in the production drive.

Mr. Roosevelt combined his blueprint for the victory effort with a scathing condemnation of "treacherously . . . criminal" Japan. She had been egged into war, by Germany's promise that a triumphant "new order" would parcel out as Japan's share of the world loot "the complete and perpetual control of the whole Pacific—and that means not only the Far East, not only all of the islands in the Pacific, but also a stranglehold on the west coast of North, Central and South America."

Japan, he continued, was working in complete accord with the axis grand strategy, and he added these words: "Remember always that Germany and Italy, regardless of any formal declaration of war, consider themselves at war with the United States at this moment just as much as they consider themselves at war with Britain or Russia."

And he made it plain that there could be no complete victory while the Hitler and Mussolini regimes remained untoppled.

With this in mind, he announced that the lend-lease program would continue—that the job of American assembly lines as to pour out the vast quantities of munitions needed to supply both the armed forces of the United States and the other armies and navies of the world which were fighting the axis.

In talking of the mighty production effort necessary for a long war, Mr. Roosevelt, in effect, told the people he expected to feel the pinch. He was confident, he said, that each would make his contribution cheerfully and he refused to speak of those contributions as sacrifices.

There was no need to worry about the food situation. He reported that supplies were ample for domestic and lend-lease use and he did not believe "we shall have to curtail the normal use of articles of food" for the present.

However, he continued, there was a definite shortage of metals for consumer purposes. More than half of the metals now used for civilian goods, he said, would have to be diverted to arms production. Therefore, many articles would have to be given up entirely for the duration.

That other materials would be affected was taken for granted. Rubber was high on this list. The office of production management was getting ready to order a two-week suspension of the manufacture of passenger automobile tires and some 30,000 non-essential products requiring rubber. The suspension will be effective until a comprehensive plan for the industry can be worked out in the light of a threatened cessation of rubber supplies from the South Pacific.

Texas Strike Law Upheld

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Texas court of criminal appeals today upheld constitutionality of a state law making it a felony to use force or violence or threat of force or violence in preventing a person from working at a lawful occupation.

The law was passed at the last regular session of the legislature as an antidote for violence in labor disputes.

The court acted in the cases of Jack Frye and Ted Sanford, both from Harris county.

Neither had been tried but sought freedom on writs of habeas corpus, contending the law was invalid.

The court in an opinion by Judge C. G. Krueger overruled all exceptions of the relators who were ordered placed in custody of the Harris county sheriff.

Stanolind Oil Deal Complete

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Dallas Morning News says contracts have been signed and title work is the only hitch in final consummation of the previously reported Stanolind Oil & Gas-Landreth Production company deal involving West Texas and New Mexico properties of the latter firm.

Consideration was said to be slightly in excess of $4,000,000 in cash.

Stanolind was said to be purchasing a half interest in 170 wells and a full interest in 22 wells together with an acreage on which 20 locations were regarded as proven.

Stanolind would acquire full interest in 22 wells and a half interest in nine in the North Cowden field, Bexar county. In the Goldsmith field, same county, Stanolind would acquire half in-

Your Lighted Home Says "Merry Christmas"

In city and hamlet, twinkling, sparkling Christmas lights are spreading their messages of good cheer and happiness all over the Nation. Windows smile with lighted wreaths, lighted doorways extend a cheery greeting to all who enter and say "Merry Christmas" to passersby—friend and stranger alike—as we again approach the Yule season.

In this day of strife and dissension—when people the world over are faced with the grim realities of war—it is a great tribute to our American way of living, that we maintain the tradition of our Christmas season by saying with light "Merry Christmas" and "Peace on earth, good will toward men." And we are extremely proud of the part we are playing in making America so strong that it can remain forever free and that we can still observe Christmas in the good old fashioned way.

Hoarding Is Foolish, Unprofitable To All

The hoarding phobia apparently is spreading among the great American people, some of whom still consider their own skins more precious than the nation.

Source, usually considered authoritative, estimate that already there is the astounding total of more than $6,000,000,000 hidden around this country in private purses. Now that war has come, this business of hoarding might be expected to continue.

Nothing is basically more foolish than hiding money in the false belief that the practice will protect against inflation.

Paul F. Cadman, economist of the American Bankers Association is authority for the futility of the effort.

Dorothy Thompson Says— Now We're In War Against All Axis Powers

By DOROTHY THOMPSON First let us get absolutely clear in our minds, the facts about the war. I am one of the people who has maintained consistently that Japan would go to war. It was impossible to judge whether the negotiations in Washington were for purposes of dragging out and postponing the decision, or were a blind. It is now clear that they were the latter.

pan has all the advantages of a surprise start, hundreds of our boys have been killed without even a chance to fight back, the war on our territory instead of the territory we pick, and advances six hundred miles from our shores in the first hours. Now let us have learned the lesson.

The axis is fighting one war. One war, on all the seas, over all the skies, over all the land.

It will be a walkover. We are in a world war and it will be the toughest war in American history. The last World War will be a picnic compared to this one. It will be worse or better wholly dependent upon our mighty solidarity and our most strenuous and total effort.

We must fight one war. If Britain, Russia, China, Holland, and the United States fight four separate wars we have the best chance in the world either to be disastrously defeated or to have a war dragged out through endless time.

Man About Manhattan—

Book Titles Have Strange Meanings

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Times, as a rule, mean little. Somerset Maugham once wrote a book of reflections on medieval Spain and called it "Don Fernando" because he knew an inn keeper by that name.

I was thinking of this while talking with Louis Bromfield the other day, and I asked him how he came to name his newest novel "Wild Is The River."

There wasn't a line about Ah King in the book.

"That goes back a space," he said. "I wanted to write something on the occupation of New Orleans during the Civil War because it's one of the dirtiest chapters in American history. I was going to write a straight book about it but changed to a novel because more people will read a novel than a history."

Louis Bromfield was in the city only 28 hours. "I saw more of New York when I lived in Europe than I do now, for some reason," he said.

the money that went into it came from "The Rains Came"—a novel of India . . . He still thinks the Malabar coast is the world's most enchanting spot.

When he left New York, he hurried to Boston to give an address on "The Social and Economic Consequences of the Peace."

Wasson that an unusual subject for a novelist with the Civil War still in his hair?

"It was, sure enough. 'But I may as well talk about that as anybody else.'"

A writer came up with a tray of refreshments. Bromfield caught up an aperitif. "What's that?" he said, looking at my glass.

She's always been jealous of his interest in Ann, which is purely professional, and she's always been jealous of Ann's success. She doesn't understand why Ann should get on and get ahead."

Rio Rita Comes Out In A New Garb

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD -- You'll scarcely recognize your old friend "Rio Rita" in her new 1942 garb.

A dozen years ago Bebe Daniels and John Boles sang through the tale of cops and robbers south of the border. Today it's Kathryn Grayson and John Carroll handling the ditties, and the tale is no longer cops and robbers but Texas Rangers versus Nazi agents—just north of the border.

For a long time he had wanted to direct theatricals and was looking for opportunities while he studied. When the chance came, he terminated his formal education in favor of the haphazard course in experience.

George Tucker, our Man about Manhattan, arose recently to inquire if Rita Hayworth didn't have a super-press agent or a whole corps of same. George was struck by the number of times he'd been seeing Rita's charms in newspaper and magazine.
