Phone Workers End 4-Day Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone workers have announced an end to their nationwide strike with tentative agreement on a $4-billion three-year package carrying a 3 1/2-per-cent boost in wages and benefits.

Communications Workers of America president Joseph A. Beirne said the workers will begin returning after midnight tonight to the jobs they left a week ago.

Beirne was asked at a Monday news conference if the pact, which includes a 12.5-per-cent wage hike the first year, is inflationary.

"No, sir. Anything that goes into the consumer pipeline is helpful in stimulating the economy. Telephone workers spend their wages," Beirne said.

Some features of the settlement:

—A wage-hike range of $27-$44.50 a week in three years. Tops for senior operators and craftsmen had been $118 and $193, respectively.

—An "uncapped" cost-of-living clause which increases a worker's wage the same percentage as any government cost-of-living average. A 1/2-per-cent rise in the consumer price index, for example, would mean an automatic wage hike of $11.50 a week at top scales.

—A modified agency shop, requiring all new employees to join the union or pay union dues. Present employees not belonging to the union will not be required to join.

—A "big cities" allowance of $5 to $9 a week, meaning a total weekly boost of $39 for a senior worker in New York City.

Beirne said substantial improvements were made in pensions, retirement and health plans.

The walkout of 400,000 CWA members and 100,000 other unionists who observed CWA picket lines was worth it, Beirne said. He said the new pact, figured conservatively, was a 33.5-per-cent improvement compared with the final pre-strike company offer of 30 per cent.

The walkout forced supervisors to man switchboards, but other than some delays in operator assistance, the strike amounted to little more than a minor disruption.

Beirne said the tentative agreement will not be final until approval by secret ballot of the union rank and file. If they turn down the pact a fresh strike will begin Aug. 19, he said. Balloting will take about two weeks, Beirne said.

Planes Start Drive To Kill Mosquitoes

HOUSTON (AP) — Seventeen Force planes start a massive spraying campaign from Cameron Parish in Louisiana to Brownsville on the Mexican border today to kill mosquitoes which spread Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis.

At the same time, government officials said, veterinarians are extending vaccination programs over five states to stop the disease which has killed 875 horses and sickened 61 persons in Texas.

Pampan Drowns On Lake Outing

Funeral services for Dean Boyd, 29, of Pampa, who drowned at Possum Kingdom Lake Monday afternoon, will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Carmichael-Whalley Colonial Chapel with burial in Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Mr. Boyd was with his family at the Possum Kingdom Lake area and drowned while swimming in the lake.

He was born May 13, 1942, in Pampa and was employed as a tool-pusher for Gibbins-Slentz Drilling Co. He was married Nov. 25, 1959, to Elizabeth Ann Smallwood at Wichita Falls. He was a member of the Church of the Nazarene.

Survivors are his widow, Elizabeth; one daughter, Terri, one son, Gary Dean, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. W. A. Boyd of Pampa; three brothers, Doug, L.D., and Russell, all of Pampa; two sisters, Mrs. Leota Fletcher of Alma, Ark., and Mrs. Wilma Rodgers of Oklahoma City, Okla.

FBI To Step Up Efforts Combating Red Activities

FIRST OF ITS KIND—A Boy Scout Court of Honor conducted last night at First Presbyterian Church as accented with "firsts in Scouting" as Terry Neslage became the sixth son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neslage Sr. to obtain Eagle Rank in the same troop with the same sponsor, Jimmy McCune, institut ional representative, right, presented the award. ## 'FIRSTS IN SCOUTING'

Sixth Son Of Local Couple Wins Highest Boy Scouting Award

Local Boy Scout officials believe a "Scouting first" occurred last night when Terry Neslage was presented awards marking achievements required to declare him an Eagle Scout.

Terry is the sixth son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neslage, Sr., 2005 Charles, to obtain the honor.

The six sons have all achieved Scouting's highest award in the same unit, Troop 14, sponsored by First Presbyterian Church, and have been recognized by the same institutional representative, Jimmy McCune, Pampa.

Terry will be a sophomore at Pampa High School this fall.

Bill McElroy, Adobe Walls Council Scout official, and Scoutmaster Nick Anthony took part in the presentation.

Mr. and Mrs. Neslage, Sr., said a seventh son, Tim, will become an Eagle Scout upon completion of three more merit badges, adding to the list of "firsts" achieved by the Neslages.

Other Eagles in the Neslage family include Fred Jr., now a resident of El Paso; Bill, Pampa, and present for the ceremony; Bob, a captain in the U.S. Army; John, a law student at Texas University in Houston; and Tom, a college freshman in Denver. Tom was also present for last night's ceremony.

Other rank recognitions in the Court of Honor included those achieving Tenderfoot classification; Steve Anthony, Scott Bonner, Jody Rogers, Bob Thaxton, Steve Gruver, Bart Bonner and Calvin Farmer.

Second Class rank was reached by Calvin Farmer, Steve Anthony, Tom Darby, Alan Brazeale and Bill Miller.

First Class requirements had been completed by Craig Allen and John Thaxton. Frank Stowers was honored for achieving Star rank, and Greg Arledge received recognition as a Life Scout.

Veterinarians Here Vaccinating Over 1,000 Horses

Pampa veterinarians today began vaccinating over 1,000 Pampa area horses listed for VEE serum.

The USDA reported late yesterday 8,000 doses of serum were in the shipment which arrived in Amarillo Monday for area distribution.

Government lift of a strict quarantine instituted by federal officials is expected to speed up the mandatory inoculation process.

The quarantine was relaxed yesterday to allow horse owners to transport animals to veterinarians. The initial quarantine prevented transporting horses to any point.

Dr. Kenneth Royle, Pampa, said yesterday he expected local veterinarians to be through with area inoculations by the latter part of this week, noting that part of the approximately 900 horses registered with his office were probably listed with other veterinarians also as owners made an effort to obtain early inoculations for horses.

Strict regulations in obtaining the serum has posed some hardship on veterinarians who are only allowed 100 doses of vaccine at one time. The serum, dispensed to centers in a powder form, is being mixed with sterile water at the Amarillo pick-up station. The serum, once mixed, must be used within 12 hours.

Tom Christian, Claude, State Representative, asked the USDA in a letter Friday to establish more distribution centers in the state, allowing easier vaccine access to veterinarians.

B52s Attack Red Positions Along DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers dropped 600 tons of explosives on suspected North Vietnamese positions along the demilitarized zone today after enemy gunners broke a lull of more than three weeks with new attacks on South Vietnamese bases just below the DMZ.

All the B52 strikes were within a mile of the buffer zone, and it was the heaviest concentration of raids in nearly two weeks. The North Vietnamese gunners had slammed 52 mortars and rockets—including 240mm rockets—at three bases and one field position, but the South Vietnamese command said the shelling caused no casualties.

The suits could protect them in case of a pressure leak. They are worn on all critical phases of the mission such as separation and docking of the two vehicles and landing and liftoff from the moon.

Russian cosmonauts do not carry space pressure suits. Their spacecraft pressure system of nitrogen and oxygen under 14.7 pounds per square inch is such that depressurization is instant with no chance to don suits in case of failure that would be caused by a leak.

The Apollo system of pure oxygen under 5 pounds per square inch pressure would depressurize less rapidly and it has a surge tank that would create a fast flow of oxygen which would give the astronauts up to 29 minutes to don the protective suits.

NASA said the Apollo 15 as-

Peking Still Considers U.S. Its Chief Enemy

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover has told Congress the FBI expects to step up its efforts to combat Communist Chinese "intelligence-gathering and revolution-inspiring activities" in the United States.

The FBI director said Peking considers the United States "its chief enemy."

Hoover made the statement to a closed Senate hearing three weeks before President Nixon announced plans to go to the People's Republic of China as a step toward normalization of relations.

The director's statement was released Sunday as the Senate acted on a bill that includes FBI appropriations. A spokesman said Hoover would "have no comment."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee planned to hear testimony today on U.S. relations with China, a session certain to produce criticism of the journey Nixon plans.

Among the witnesses: Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., who already has said he is disturbed at the Nixon plan, and has called for an explanation of the President's motives.

The Senate panel has been holding periodic hearings on proposed resolutions advocating admission of Peking to the United Nations.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a Foreign Relations member, said Monday night the administration may have some tacit understanding with Peking "on the nettlesome issue of Chinese representation in the United Nations."

"If so, a major immediate

School Board Rejects Low Band Bids, 3-1

Pampa School Board voted three to one Monday night to reject low bids for 10 band instruments and voted three to two to accept all new personnel recommendations except one applicant for a junior high school position.

After opening bids on the 10 band instruments, the board voted three to one with one abstention to award six out of 10 band instrument bids to Tarpley Music Company, three bids to May and Duncan and one to the low bidder out of three submitted.

The bid totals ranged from $5,242.50 for Tarpley's, $3,204.70, Megert and $4,982. May and Duncan. The difference between the high bid and the lowest bid is $260.50.

Dr. R. M. Hampton, voting against the bid motion, said, "I think the low bidder ought to get the bid. It's bad business to change our policy of accepting low bids because you dry up the source of bids."

Supporting the idea of purchasing from local bidders because of their tax contribution to the city, John Gikas, Ben Sturgeon and Warren Haggas agreed that they found "difficult to treat local people like strangers because of a few dollars."

Dr. Hampton replied the "board has an obligation to its taxpayers to spend money wisely and to take the low bid. I don't need that Chamber of Commerce speech. If we plan to accept the low bids, let's do it or go back to the way we

Countdown Begins Today For 4th American Expedition To Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — On the second anniversary of man's first landing on the moon, the countdown begins today for a fourth American expedition to the lunar surface.

The Apollo 15 launch team starts the countdown clock at 6:30 a.m. EDT, aiming for a liftoff of its Saturn 5 rocket next Monday at 9:34 a.m.

Two years ago, on July 20, 1969, Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. took the historic first steps on the moon.

The Apollo 12 and 14 crews since have left their footprints in the dusty lunar soil. An oxygen tank exploded on the Apollo 13 astronauts' spaceship and they were forced to return to earth without attempting a moon landing.

Astronauts David R. Scott and James B. Irwin hope to become the seventh and eighth humans to visit that barren but scientifically fertile land. While they are on the surface a record 67 hours, exploring with a wheeled moon buggy, Alfred M. Worden will conduct a series of scientific and photographic experiments in lunar orbit.

The three spacemen planned to spend most of today rehearsing in lunar and command module simulators here. They were in the trainers Monday, and Scott and Irwin later drove a model of their moon cart over a mock moonscape, practicing the second and third of the three excursions they plan on the surface.

Scott and Irwin are to land July 30 at the base of the Apennine Mountains, whose 15,000-foot peaks are the tallest on the moon.

They are to drive 22 miles, searching for original lunar crust at the mountain front, exploring a mile-wide canyon called Hadley Rille and inspecting craters that might provide the first evidence of volcanic activity on the moon.

The launch team Monday successfully checked a new inverter placed in the Apollo 15 command ship because of a brief power dropout during a countdown test last week.

NASA also announced that one change is being made on Apollo 15 as a result of the deaths of three Soviet cosmonauts as their Soyuz 11 craft entered earth's atmosphere June 30. The tragedy was blamed on sudden depressurization of the cabin.

All three Apollo 15 astronauts will wear pressure suits instead of flight coveralls when the lunar module is jettisoned in lunar orbit after the moon exploration. NASA said this was being done because of what it termed the remote possibility of a pressure failure when the lunar ship is kicked away by explosive devices.

The suits could protect them in case of a pressure leak. They are worn on all critical phases of the mission such as separation and docking of the two vehicles and landing and liftoff from the moon.

Russian cosmonauts do not carry space pressure suits. Their spacecraft pressure system of nitrogen and oxygen under 14.7 pounds per square inch is such that depressurization is instant with no chance to don suits in case of failure that would be caused by a leak.

The Apollo system of pure oxygen under 5 pounds per square inch pressure would depressurize less rapidly and it has a surge tank that would create a fast flow of oxygen which would give the astronauts up to 29 minutes to don the protective suits.

NASA said the Apollo 15 astronauts will not wear suits during re-entry to earth because they would have time to don them if there were a pressure failure.

It said there was greater risk of a structure failure on landing in the Pacific than there is during re-entry. The stress factor on re-entry is predictable, a statement said. But stress loads vary on hitting the water because of such factors as wind and wave velocity.

In such a landing emergency, the astronauts would be severely handicapped by their bulky space suits if they had to escape into water.

U.S. AGENCY SAYS

Homebuilding Makes Dramatic Comeback

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the economy is falling short of President Nixon's forecast, the pace of U.S. homebuilding is picking up and proving the brightest spot in the recovery from last year's recession.

The Commerce Department reported Monday privately owned housing starts in June climbed to an annual rate of 1.962 million units on a seasonally adjusted basis, up slightly from the May rate of 1.959 million units.

Homebuilding has made a dramatic comeback from last year's slowdown, when tight money policies and high interest rates hampered the industry. Housing starts have remained at a level of 1.9 million units over the last six months, a 48-per-cent increase over the same six-month period in 1970.

Although private residential construction is only a small part of the economy, Nixon administration officials see the rise as evidence of a broad upswing in the economy.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans said the administration's goal of reaching 2.6 million new housing units a year for the current decade "is now clearly achievable."

Stans did not mention a recent upward push of interest rates which has added to the cost of housing. But the increase in costs apparently has failed to dampen the pace of building new homes.

Nixon's own economic advisers already have abandoned part of that economic plan, a $65-billion economy this year. But they have said housing will be strong even though the economy will fall short of original expectations.

Last year, housing was in a depressed state. With the administration pursuing tight budgetary and monetary policies, interest rates climbed to historic highs and homebuilding tumbled off.

In June a year ago, housing starts were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.398 million.

But the real pickup in homebuilding came toward the end of last year, as the administration made the budget more expansive and the Federal Reserve Board eased up considerably on the monetary supply.

As a result, the ceiling on government-backed housing loans dropped from a record high of 8 1/2 per cent last year to 7 per cent at present.

Tickets On Sale For Tot Annual Beauty Pageant

Tickets for the Top O' Texas Beauty Pageant and Fashion Show Aug. 14 in Robert E. Lee Junior High auditorium are on sale, according to Doug Coon, pageant director.

They may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office, from participating firms and from any of the 24 beauty contestants.

Coon said today a rehearsal for the fashion show has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 12, and for the beauty pageant at 8 p.m. Friday, Aug. 14. Both rehearsals will be in the Robert E. Lee school auditorium.

The 24 beauty contestants have been requested to be present for a photograph session at poolside of the Coronado Inn from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, July 30.

One of the features of the Beauty Pageant will be the personal appearance of Brenda Box of Amarillo, Miss Texas Universe and first runner-up in the recent Miss Universe contest at Miami Beach.

Trustees voted three to two to approve all new personnel recommendations except one applicant for a junior high school position, pending further study.

The board accepted seven teacher resignations, 10 industrial transfers and employed 25 new teachers.

Trustees approved assigning J. C. Randall as assistant high school principal with additional duties at Carver Center.

Randall will assist PHS Principal Cameron Marsh with discipline, building and grounds maintenance, facility preparedness, cafeteria supervision, audiovisual aids, adult education, safety, parking lots and payroll.

The board tabled discussion on the athletic department bus, and the Xerox machine unit until the August meeting.

Supt. Dr. James F. Malone reported stadium seats at high school will be installed by Sept. 1, and that trustees can meet with the City Commission July 27 to review bids on new tennis courts for the city and school district.

The board accepted a low bid of $162 per gal., from Texaco Inc., for gasoline bids for 1971-72, out of six bids submitted.

Marsh reported 611 students were enrolled in PHS Summer School which ends this week. Total expenses were $25,272, with $38,916 received in tuition to make a balance of $13,644.

Out of the 611 enrolled, a breakdown includes English, 78; history, 132; math, 57; physical education, health and tennis, 89; typing, 25; homemaking, 80 and drivers education, 48.

On the way to Ellington Air Force Base in Houston they will spray the pesticide malathion on South Padre Island from Port Isabel to Corpus Christi.

At Ellington, the seven planes will be joined by 10 more "Providers" from England Air Force Base in Louisiana. An Air Force spokesman said more C123 will be added if needed.

Omohundro said the planes will spray Louisiana and Texas coastal areas "two or three times" in an effort to kill the mosquito bearers of the sleeping sickness.

"We will move the spray planes to other parts of the state or other states if we have bona fide suspicions of cases," he said. "We will then spray around those cases to keep mosquitoes from moving in."

Robert Barnett, director of the Harris County Mosquito Control District, told county commissioners in Houston that the

In Texas, the State Health Department said six hospital surveillance teams, headed by epidemic intelligence officers from the U. S. Public Health Service, were starting work today in San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Austin, Corpus Christi, Houston and the Beaumont-Port Arthur areas. They will investigate any suspected VEE cases in human beings.

While VEE is fatal in half the horses infected, it usually resembles a cast of the flu in people, doctors say.

Dr. Steve Bowen of the U.S. Public Health Service at Harlingen said 61 persons have been hospitalized in Cameron and Hidalgo counties in Texas, Lower Rio Grande Valley, with VEE symptoms.

Five cases have been confirmed, he said. The figure includes persons who have been hospitalized and are now released. Bowen said none of in hospitals was in critical condition.

Omohundro said 696,800 doses of the experimental VEE vaccine for horses had been delivered in the five-state area and about 200,000 horses vaccinated in Texas by Monday night.

Vaccinations in the other four states were starting today, he said.

"We hope the vaccination program will be complete in Texas somewhere between three and four weeks, and probably closer to four," he said. "We expect the vaccination to take between four and five weeks in the other four states."

A massive airlift of vaccine from Dallas by state and federal planes should distribute enough vaccine to protect the estimated 1.5 million horses in the five states by the end of this week, Omohundro said.

Fourteen days after a horse is vaccinated he can be moved across state lines, according to federal regulations.

Omohundro said he expects other states' embargoes on shipment of horses in the affected area to end "about the time when the federal quarantine is lifted, which will be 14 days after the last of the vaccinations."

The Agriculture Department is supplying the vaccine free of charge and is paying veterinarians $4 per inoculation for each horse under a $5 million emergency program, he said.

The Air Force was sending seven C123 "Provider" planes from the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where they have sprayed 82,000 acres in Cameron

City Proposal In Making For Ambulance Plan

Pampa city officials today were working on a proposal designed for what they believe to be the best alternative for a solution to the city-county ambulance service problem.

City Manager Mack Wofford, when asked about details of the plan, said it was not yet in shape to release details but probably would be ready by Wednesday or Thursday.

It was understood both Pampa ambulance firms would grant a 30-day extension to their original July 1 notice for termination of service on Aug. 15. This would assure service by the two private firms until Sept. 15.

Wofford said today the city still had received only verbal notice by telephone that the service would be extended for 30 days.

The proposal to be made by the city, it was learned, will be studied by the city attorney, mayor and city commission before it is submitted.

The city manager said the ambulance service problem is holding up work on the annual city budget for fiscal 1971-72. The new fiscal year begins on Oct. 1.

"We cannot complete the budget estimates until we know what the city is going to have to spend for ambulance service," Wofford said.

Cool Front Invades Texas, Bringing Welcome Showers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Heat-weary Texans welcomed a cool front which paced desperately needed showers deeper into the state today.

It was the first moisture in weeks for some areas, and the lower temperatures brought at least temporary relief from readings which have flirted with the 100s for days.

Shower activity during the right dotted a belt up to 300 miles wide along the frontal system, but tapered off this morning into widely scattered light rain in parts of the Texas Panhandle and near the Red River.

As the cooler air eased toward the southeast, there also were thunderstorms and threatening weather near the Upper Texas Coast late Monday. Several tornado funnels whirled over South Orange County but did not touch ground.

Moisture amounts included .68 inch at Dalhart in the cool Panhandle, .59 at Dallas and .58 at Houston.

Top temperatures Monday afternoon reached only to 70 degrees at Dalhart and 71 at Amarillo behind the cool front. It stayed hot in other sections with Lufkin registering 100 degrees, Waco 102, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells 103, and Dallas 104.

Readings near dawn today ranged from 60 at Dalhart and 61 at Amarillo up to 81 at Galveston and 82 at Palacios.

Clouds spreading with the slow advance of the cool front were expected to help keep North and West Texas a bit cooler at least until Wednesday. Little change was in prospect elsewhere.

Scattered showers were predicted in the northern and western sections of the state and parts of the coastal plains.

School Board...

Trustees voted three to two to approve all new personnel recommendations except one applicant for a junior high school position, pending further study.

The board accepted seven teacher resignations, 10 industrial transfers and employed 25 new teachers.

Trustees approved assigning J. C. Randall as assistant high school principal with additional duties at Carver Center.

Randall will assist PHS Principal Cameron Marsh with discipline, building and grounds maintenance, facility preparedness, cafeteria supervision, audiovisual aids, adult education, safety, parking lots and payroll.

The board tabled discussion on the athletic department bus, and the Xerox machine unit until the August meeting.

Supt. Dr. James F. Malone reported stadium seats at high school will be installed by Sept. 1, and that trustees can meet with the City Commission July 27 to review bids on new tennis courts for the city and school district.

The board accepted a low bid of $162 per gal., from Texaco Inc., for gasoline bids for 1971-72, out of six bids submitted.

Marsh reported 611 students were enrolled in PHS Summer School which ends this week. Total expenses were $25,272, with $38,916 received in tuition to make a balance of $13,644.

Out of the 611 enrolled, a breakdown includes English, 78; history, 132; math, 57; physical education, health and tennis, 89; typing, 25; homemaking, 80 and drivers education, 48.

Robert Elliott New Pythias Chancellor Robert Elliott, 1835 Grape, will be installed as chancellor commander of Pampa Lodge No. 480, Knights of Pythias, at the regular meeting at 8 p.m. today in Pythian Hall, 315 N. Nelson, Glen H. "Bud" Day, 2241 Mary Ellen, lodge deputy, will be the installing officer. Gary Clark is the outgoing chancellor commander.

Profile Of Apollo 15 Astronaut

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — It bothers Alfred M. Worden that while he's in a "cushy job" training to go to the moon, his friends and former classmates are getting shot at and killed in Vietnam.

Worden, a 29-year-old trained fighter pilot, who has never seen combat, says the contrast between his job and the Vietnam fighting "leaves you with a bad feeling."

"I don't like the idea of my roommate from college being sent over there to fight a war while I'm here in a cushy job," says the West Point graduate.

Worden, an Air Force major, says if he hadn't been selected for the space program "I would be volunteering for Vietnam."

Worden, a balding, fast-talking native of Jackson, Mich., was graduated from West Point in 1955. He got his commission in the Air Force and became a skillful fighter pilot. After four years, however, he found he was more interested in airplanes as instruments of science than as weapons of war.

He went back to school in 1961, earned a master of science degree and then spent more than two years learning to be a test pilot and training other pilots. He was good enough to be selected in 1966, for astronaut training.

Worden's first trip into space, as command module pilot on Apollo 15, is scheduled to begin with launch from Cape Kennedy on Monday. It will be flown in the long shadow cast by the deaths in Russia of three cosmonauts. The fatalities emphasize the danger of space flight.

"We're not fighting a war," says Worden of himself and his fellow spacemen, "but, damn if our risks aren't as great as the ones combat pilots take."

Astronauts, he said once, "feel that anything can happen, but space flight is worth the risk."

Worden, unmarried, enjoys an active social life. He has escorted television stars in New York and secretaries in Houston.

"He's more interested in showing you a good time than in snowing you about who he is," says one of his girl friends.

"He's not really handsome, but he's got a way about him that's rare."

Worden was married to the former Pamela Ellen Vander Beek, Bayside, N.Y. Their marriage ended quietly in what one friend said was "a very, very civilized divorce."

The astronaut's two daughters, Merrill, 13, and Alison, 11, live with their mother almost within sight of Worden's apartment.

Over 8,000 Historical Markers In State Listed In New Directory

AUSTIN—Texas history is available in red this season and one size fits all.

The 1971 edition of the Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers, a pocket book bound in a tomato-red cover, was released in July to tourist information centers all over the state. It may also be obtained free from the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, Texas 78711.

The announcement was made by Lester Prokop, president of the Survey Committee, state agency which compiled the marker guide. The booklet was published by the Texas Historical Foundation.

The 109-page guide lists over 8,000 historical markers and their locations in cities and towns throughout the state. The number of markers represents an increase of approximately 3,000 since the last edition of the guide, published in 1969.

Skimming the booklet, the historical-minded tourist can find markers at, for example, the community named "Nameless," in Travis County, or at the smallest state park in Texas, Acton State Historic Site, which consists of a 300-acre plot containing the graves of Davy Crockett's second wife and two of his children.

Or if he prefers, the traveler can visit the boyhood home of notorious outlaw John Wesley Hardin, near Moscow community, or the Dallas home of lovely confederate spy Belle Boyd.

Mysterious glassy rocks known as tektites, called "jewels of the moon" by Indians are mentioned in the marker for Bedias community. Locally called "bediasites," the rocks come from outer space, according to some authorities.

Galveston Civic Leaders To Find Ways To Keep Their Beaches Safe

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Civic leaders, shocked at the violence on Galveston's West Beach over the Fourth of July, will meet Tuesday in an effort to find ways to keep the beaches attractive and safe.

The violence, which most leaders say had racial overtones, left two persons shot and wounded; 11 beaten, one critical; and a girl, 14, repeatedly raped.

All but one of the gunshot victims were white. The exception was a man charged in the rape who was shot by officers as he tried to run from them.

Officers said all of the assaults were black.

The incidents occurred on a one-mile strip of West Beach which has been traditionally a gathering spot of Negroes. On the day of July 4, from 5,000 to 6,000 were in the one-mile strip which is dominated by 10 taverns built on the beach.

Chamber of Commerce President Les Daughtry has asked county officials to go everything in their power to life the licenses of the taverns.

The meeting Tuesday has been called by the chamber's tourist and hometown activities committee, headed by E. C. Porterfield.

He said the disturbances indicate that "once and for all we need to plan for effective control of vehicular traffic and security of the open beaches of our island."

Over the years, county officials say, the particular one-mile strip has been the scene of many disturbances, often caused, they said, by drunkenness.

Brad Messer, managing editor of the Galveston Daily News, says the problems on Galveston's beaches are not confined just to that one strip.

"Up until our or five years ago, it was relatively safe for a person to sleep in a car or pitch a tent on the beach," Messer said. "But there has been a steady increase in incidents of rape, robbery and so on. Today it's just not safe for an individual or his family to stay overnight on the beaches."

Frank Carmona, county commissioner of the area where the violence occurred, said it had an immediate effect on business.

"I talked to one of the leading hotel operators in town," Carmona said. "He said he got many calls from people cancelling the air reservations after incident. He said the other operators had similar experiences."

Porterfield said state, county and city leaders have been invited to Tuesday's meeting along with Houston and Galveston businessmen.

Among points to be discussed, Porterfield said, is stopping all auto traffic on the beaches. County commissioners have already voted to hold a public meeting July 29 to decide if the one-mile strip should be closed to vehicular traffic until the fall.

Another proposal, Porterfield said, is to establish parks along the entire length of the beach, then building parking lots behind them with parking charges going directly for maintenance of the parks.

The meeting will also investigate the possibility of the state taking over law enforcement patrolling of the beach. At present, the sheriff's department patrols the beaches outside the city, but Sheriff J. B. Kline says that with only 26 field deputies he is unable to put enough units on the beach.

Kline has asked county commissioners for 10 more officers in the next budget, but County Judge Ray Holbrook says the county just won't be able to afford to hire more than two new officers.

Other points to be discussed include developing statistics for the state legislature to support more state financing for the cleaning of beaches, trying for donations of land for parks and recreational areas and obtaining proper financing for new beach parks.

Texas Wants Capital Penalty To Be Continued

DALLAS (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said during the State Bar of Texas convention here that he will go to Washington in the fall to urge that capital punishment be continued.

"Texas will seek to uphold the death penalty and I will go to the hearings," Martin said. "I'm not sure if I will make the argument or if one of my assistants will, but I'll be there."

One of four appeal cases on the death penalty now before Supreme Court is from Texas. It claims that capital punishment violates the Constitution which forbids "cruel and unusual" punishment.

If the appeals are upheld, Martin says, it could mean the end of the death penalty.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS PAMPA, TEXAS 5th YEAR Tuesday, July 26, 1971

DEAR ABBY: What can a mother do when she has a 19-year-old daughter who comes in at 7:30 a.m. and expects to be greeted with open arms? If I raise my voice she tells me I'm crazy.

I can't throw her out as she has no job, no money and no husband. She has a 10-month-old baby I love very much. I take care of the baby while she sleeps all day.

My daughter is a beautiful girl with a nice figure and she doesn't hesitate to tell you so. I only wish her brain was the same.

Your column is the only thing she ever reads in the paper. Maybe if you printed this, it might wake her up.

MOM
DEAR MOM: She's up! Somebody should wake you up. As long as you continue to look after her child while she sleeps all day and stays out all night, nothing will change. Why should it? She's got it made. A child (of any age or marital status), while living in her parents' home, should be made to abide by the standard of that home — or vaguere!

DEAR ABBY: I am a very warm-blooded girl who craves affection, and I am married to a very cold touch-me-not type man. We have two children. Don't ask me how they got here. They were both accidents. But accidents like that don't happen to us very often.

The big blowup came last night when he took me to a drive-in movie. It was a romantic film so I snuggled up close to him and he kept moving away from me until he was practically on the fender. I asked him to kiss me, and he said, "No, not here." (We were all alone in a closed car, and it was pitch dark.) Well, it ruined my whole evening. I know I am not all that bad, Abby. He keeps telling me he "loves" me, so why doesn't he show me?

HUNGRY FOR LOVE
DEAR HUNGRY: Your man doesn't know how to give love because he has never been taught, and he probably hadn't received much love in his early life. Teach him. But not in a drive-in.

DEAR ABBY: Where did you ever get the idea that it's a wife's "duty" to get her husband up in the morning? If a man is old enough to get married he should be old enough to get himself up.

I can remember my mother "getting my father up" every morning, and there was a fight in our house that lasted 20 years because of it. It used to start my mother's day off wrong and my father used to go to work irritated and resentful.

Before I was married my mother told me to never be a man's alarm clock, and I took her advice.

My husband has to get himself up. And he's been late only once and then he had only himself to blame.

NO ALARM CLOCK
DEAR NO ALARM: There are two lessons to be learned here. (1) Never be a man's alarm clock. (2) It's much easier to tell someone else to do than to do it oneself.

DEAR ABBY: With Summer here will you please say a word to housewives who have clothes dryers, but insist upon hanging clothes outdoors every weekend?

When we have guests for a cookout and are sitting on our patio having cocktails it is not the most appetizing sight to see a pair of 46 bloomers flapping in the breeze. Thank you!

SIZE 10 AND DRIES INDOORS
DEAR "SIZE 10": Aw, kvetcher bragging. An eyesore is an eyesore. What has size to do with it?

We had 57 attending the weekly game and fellowship program at Pampa's Senior Citizens meeting at Lovett Memorial Library. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. W.R. Emmons and E.E. Jones.

Sponsoring Altirans present were Mmes. Louise Sewell, Ruth Sewell, Marian Jameson, Lillian Snow and Olive Hillis.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society served refreshments. Those serving were Mmes. Lillian Mullinax, Aleta Marlar and Faye Watson. Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Cullison of McLean, Regular attendants of Senior Citizens attended a World War I dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Karlin recently.

Mrs. Bertha Gates had as her house guest this past week her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wyona Epples of Alice.

While visiting friends and relatives in Pampa, Mrs. Roberta Tally of Kermit was a guest in the home of Mrs. C.W. Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogsett attended the funeral of her brother-in-law Earl Carpenter in Woodward, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Powell of Canyon spent a day recently in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogsett.

Friends of Mrs. A.L. Patrick report she is recovering from surgery in Oklahoma City, but is home at Route 2, Aline, Okla. 73716. Mr. Patrick is pastor of a church there.

Mrs. Gertie McCoy was in Amarillo recently on business.

According to the Southern Forest Products Association, wood patio decks are economical home additions since they require neither side walls nor roof.

They're also attractive architectural devices which provide comfortable vantage points for relaxing and enjoying attractive scenery on pleasant days.

Pre-shrunk, pressure treated Southern Pine is utilized extensively for patio decks because it is immune to insect attack and the elements as well as strong and resistive to wear.

FOOD AND ARTHRITIS

There is no special diet that will prevent or cure arthritis. Everyone should know this. But misinformation persists. So we will deal with this topic today. Arthritis is probably one of the most frustrating diseases we have facing us. Millions of people are involved. And it means their families, as well as the patients themselves, must do what they can to live with the ailment and minimize its effect as much as possible. There is no cure. But there is research that is promising and the fund raising of the Arthritis Foundation should be supported. More time is needed before the answers will be found.

Quackery Abounds

Meantime, the sufferers of arthritis are probably more the butt of quackery and false hopes than those afflicted with other health problems. And perhaps worst of all, all kinds of dietary approaches and fads are suggested.

Aunt Mary cured it with grapefruit juice. At one time, the theory was popular that too much protein in the diet might be responsible for arthritic changes. People also thought (and some still do, mistakenly) that changes in arthritic bones were due to an over-supply of calcium in the diet. So, people worried about milk. And, of course, today there is the copper bracelet fad that is back with us.

But all of this is nonsense. Specialists now know that the best approach to the management of arthritis in terms of diet is good nutrition, including adequate supplies of calcium, protein, minerals, vitamins — indeed all the good nutrients we expect from the four food groups.

Avoid Overweight
Overweight is to be avoided to minimize stress on the weight bearing joints. But good nutrition is to be maintained by a balanced diet chosen from the milk group of foods, the meat group, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals.

This concept recognizes that while the cause of arthritis is as yet undetermined, it has certainly not been demonstrated to be dietary. It recognizes the clinical experience that well-nourished arthritics who are not overweight do better than poorly nourished ones suffering from dietary insufficiencies on top of their arthritis.

Thus, good diet is extremely important. And so is getting more than usual rest. The pain of arthritis and difficulty of movement are, after all, tiring. Your physician can help by suggesting exercises, heat treatment of the joints, and, if he sees fit, prescribing medication.

City Manager Speaks To ABWA Members

Mack Wofford spoke at the regular July-meeting of the American Business Women's Association recently. Wofford has been in Pampa five years and has recently been named city manager. A graduate civil engineer, he spoke on the new civic auditorium now being built.

The auditorium is being financed by the M.K. Brown Foundation and the Pampa Foundation at a cost of $1,200,000. After completion, the auditorium will be operated by the city.

The auditorium will contain 3500 sq. ft. and will seat about 1,500 people. The dining-room will seat between 750-800. Tables and chairs will be removable.

NORTH LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A dentist has been fined $50 for slapping a patient.

Municipal Judge Ray Daines imposed the fine on Dr. Donald Holt, saying the dentist's action was beyond the scope of his professional jurisdiction.

Holt said he slapped a 22-year-old telephone operator, Barbara Watson. "She acted like a 3-year-old child," Holt said. "If she acts like one, I'll treat her like one."

Mrs. Watson said she got slapped because she said "ouch" when Holt stuck an instrument into her mouth and touched a bad tooth.

Holt appealed the ruling Friday to the state District Court.

to hold an automobile show, Wofford said.

"The building will have glazed brick on the outside which is something new and different in this part of the country. The nearest building like it is on the campus at Texas Tech," Wofford said.

The auditorium is about 20 percent completed now and is scheduled to be completed in April, 1972.

Vivian Locke who gave the vocational talk, has been employed as secretary by Cabot since 1968.

New officers elected at this meeting were President; Marilee Elledge; Vice-President; Bernice Nichols; Recording Secretary Cora McNair, Corresponding Secretary; Helen Graham, and Treasurer; Betty King.

There were 16 members and three guests present. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mack Wofford and Dorothy Blake. Members present were Mmes. Shirley Nichols, R.F. Utman, Jack Hollingsworth, C.A. Herd, George Shelton, Maude Voyles, George Richmond, James Culppeper, George Reed, Betty King, David McNair, Don Elledge, Danny Malone, Norman Dulandy, John Locke, and Ted Mastin.

POLLY'S POINTERS Garment Thread Causes Woman's Pet Peeve

DEAR POLLY—Mary L's "seat sag" in skirts could be avoided by wearing the proper foundation garment and having two inches of ease in it. Try a skirt on over the girdle. If you are able to pinch an inch or each side, there should be sufficient ease without it being too loose. A too-tight fit and no girdle are big contributors to "seat sag."

—MRS. K.D.

DEAR POLLY—I used the following to prevent "seat sag" over 30 years and it always worked. When Mary L. sits down, she should put the palms of her hands on her hips and pull the skirt up, only 1/2-inch will do a lot of good. If one hand is full, use the other hand and pull the skirt up just a little in the center back. This gives enough slack so there is no pull.

—HELEN

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—While moving a heavy old piano across the tile floor in our family room one roller left a long scar on the tile. Wax did not help. Does anyone have any other suggestion?

—LEESA

DEAR POLLY—Before my first baby was born my mother gave me some advice which she said her mother had given her. I found it so valuable that I would like to pass it on to other young mothers: Have at least three of every washable item of clothing and bedding for the baby. An old saying goes "One on the baby, one in the wash, and one in the drawer."

—OPAL

DEAR POLLY—The Pet Peeves are great. Thank you for letting us air our views. I cannot figure out who came up with the crazy opening on cocoa cans. Obviously, it was not a cook. The opening is too small to insert a measuring spoon, let alone a measuring cup. "Dishing" the cocoa out with a spoon takes too long to fill a cup and trying to pour it out makes a big mess because the powdered cocoa packs together between uses. The ridge around the top of the can, as well as around the opening, will not let you brush any excess back into the can. Some is always trapped on top, so it is wasted. I do hope your column gets some ideas across to manufacturers and our thanks for a wonderful informative column.

USDA Accused Of Providing False Information On Cotton

The Texas Farmers Union governing board has accused the Department of Agriculture of falsely representing that there is a shortage of cotton.

The eleven-member Executive Committee, meeting in Waco last week, adopted a resolution condemning USDA for "aiding and abetting the cotton trade" in releasing information that would disadvantage cotton producers in planning for the future.

The resolution stated that present conditions do not justify the expansion of cotton production. It pointed out that the parity price of cotton is in excess of fifty cents a pound, while the producer is currently receiving less than fifty per cent of parity.

The general farm organization, representing several thousand Texas cotton farmers, protested that textile mill margins indicate increased profits to cotton manufacturers, while cotton farmers are being called upon to sell for less than the cost of production to "preserve markets that are not worth preserving."

"There is no indication that higher cotton prices will put cotton in an unfavorable market position with manmade fibers, and cotton farmers have the responsibility of managing their production so as not to produce in excess of what can be sold at profitable prices," the Farmers Union statement said.

The resolution stated that a "prime function of USDA is to assist farmers in managing their production and to provide accurate information as to supply, demand and commodity pricing." It called upon the secretary of agriculture to direct its officials to "disengage" USDA from the propaganda program in partnership with "organizations that pose as spokesmen for cotton producers but are in fact front organizations for the textile manufacturing and processing industry."

The Farmers Union asked Secretary of Agriculture Hardin to see to it that the officials of USDA carry out their commitments to cotton producers by assisting them in balancing supply with demand. It also asked that USDA's public affairs and educational agencies such as the Extension Service be directed to accurately portray the true facts relative to cotton prices, supply, textile mill profits, and net cotton producer income.

In further action, the Texas Farmers Union Executive Committee protested a regulation in the cotton program which reduces payment yield when a cotton farmer loses a crop because of a drought disaster. "The payment yield reduction provision, presently in the law, is 'punitive and discriminatory' when applied to areas which do not produce a crop because of a drought disaster," according to the resolution adopted.

Jute Port
DUNDEE, Scotland (AP)—Dundee, for many years headquarters of the jute industry in Britain, is likely to become the only port for the unloading of jute goods from India and Pakistan.

Hitherto, London, Liverpool and Avonmouth (near Bristol) have imported much jute, but sources said that irregularities of sailings from India and Pakistan made it advisable to concentrate on one receiving port, and Dundee would be the logical choice.

FOR FAMILY ROOMS
While its primary use is for exterior walls, rough sawn Southern Pine siding has interior applications—such as paneling for family rooms where a warm, rustic effect is desirable.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (AP)—Not the foreign affairs and even that didn't help," Stovall said.

"This would seem to indicate disbelief, or even worse, disinterest, on the part of the public."

Stovall and other analysts also thought the market's performance might signify that professional traders already were as committed as they intended to be at his point.

Monte Gordon, analyst for Bache & Co., said the market appeared to be in a temporary

JEANE DIXON Your Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, JULY 21
 Your birthday Wednesday: Plunges you into a series of personal changes for which you have no special preparation. Natural intuitive guidance serves far better than intellectual detail planning. If you have faith to let it. Wednesday's natives live a poignant interior life of strong feelings on matters carrying no emotional meaning for most people.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): An early start gives you momentum for a vigorous day. While attending the details required of you, put in a lick or two on the matters that interest you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Being realistic and cautious is required now. New business, home changes are indicated. Be sure what you're doing isn't just for the sake of change.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Nothing comes alone or from one direction. It has to be aware and considerate of others' complicated needs.

CANCER (June 21-July 20): Sketch in only the broad outlines on any scheme that has yet to come to actual use. Details will be different later, anyway. Meanwhile, accurately complete little deals already made.

LEO (July 21-Aug. 20): Short cuts often turn out to be short circuits, and Wednesday is quick on this sort of development. One main thing is that everybody concerned really knows enough to be able to agree.

VIRGO (Aug. 21-Sept. 20): Coordinating conflicting activity of others pushes your plans off-stage. Look after your own best interests and Wednesday it causes monetary inconvenience.

LIBRA (Sept. 21-Oct. 20): What you hear Wednesday can probably be used Thursday. It is too early to debate or take sides on shifting issues.

SCORPIO (Oct. 21-Nov. 20): Speak out firmly for what you want and believe in. Take the role of mediator, expressing agreement, but keep track of what the resistance or differences of opinion might be and why.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21-Dec. 20): It's easy enough to be noticed Wednesday, but not so easy to be recognized for a constructive reason. Do a sufficient amount to bring the entire perspective along with you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 21-Jan. 19): Your affairs seem in simple order, but those persons you serve or care about need serious thought. Make only a few changes to achieve temporary adjustment rather than a sweeping reorganization.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Get to the point; add theoretical considerations of how things came to be in their present condition.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Everything creeps a bit too slowly. With patience, you can work some things out; with impatience, other things can be brightened into comic relief or transferred into somebody else's hands.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The city plans to save money and fight smog by using subcompact cars that can run on low-lead or no-lead gasoline.

City Councilman Arthur K. Snyder said Friday that more of the smaller cars would be added after a successful nine-month experiment with 20 of the vehicles.

The cars cost about $1,950 each, $300 less than regular compacts that have been driven by city employees.

BEVERLY SHORES, Ind. (AP) — Firemen were fighting a blaze at the Beverly Shores fire station Friday when one of the fire trucks inside smashed down a door and rolled outside—under its own power.

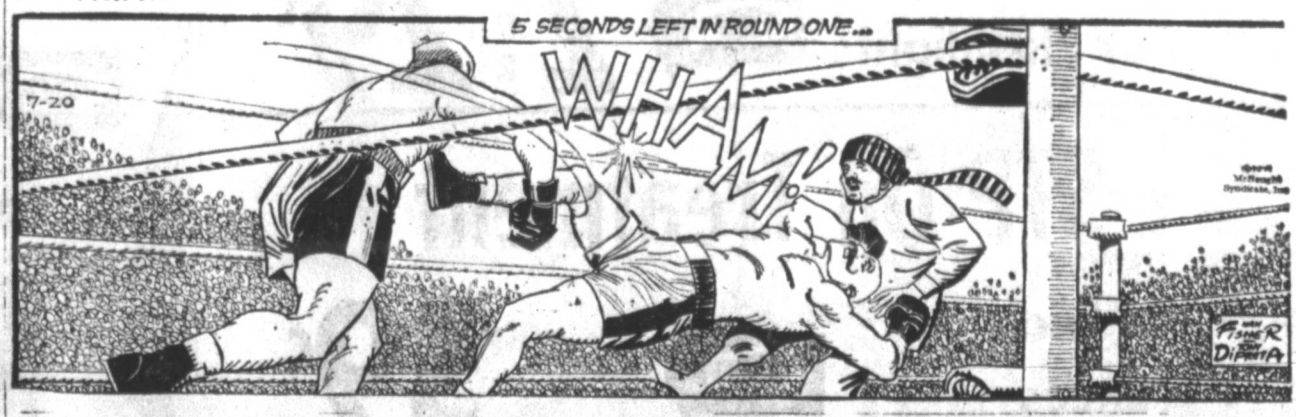

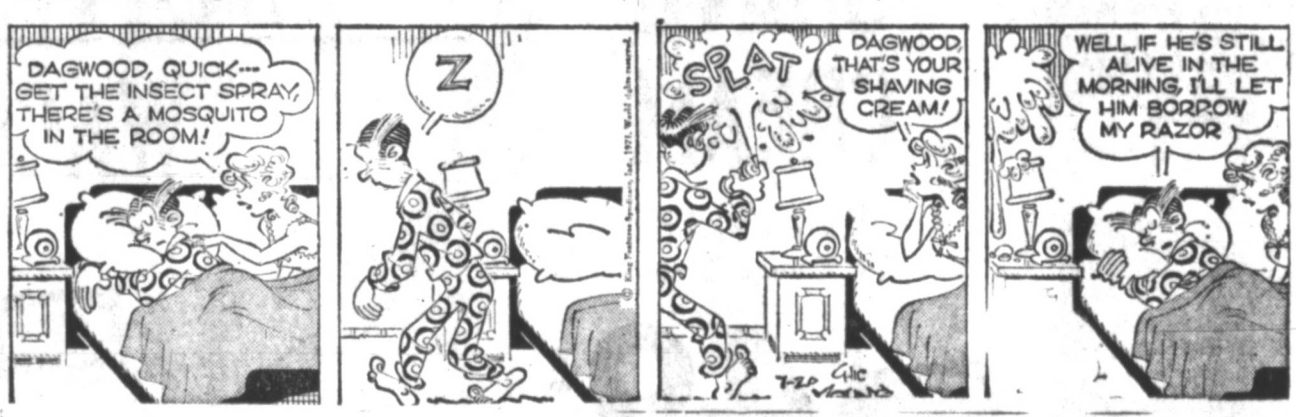

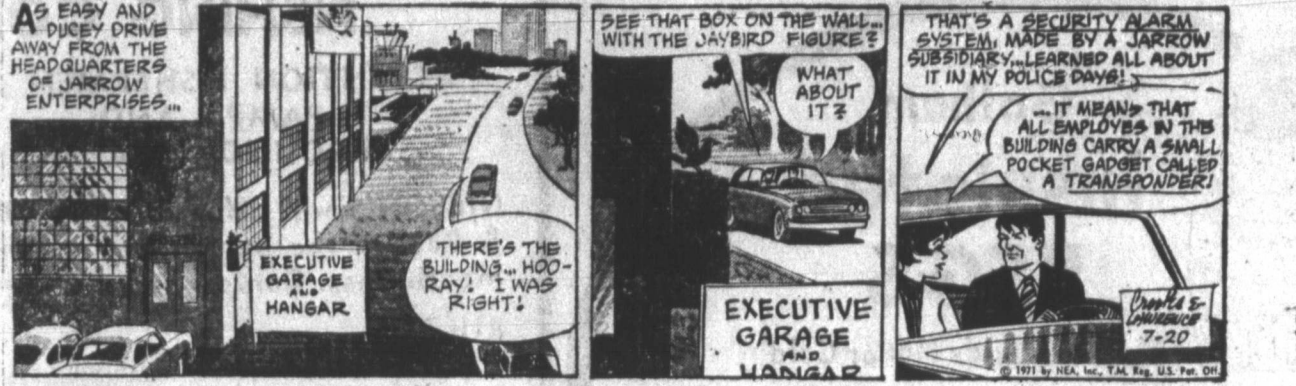

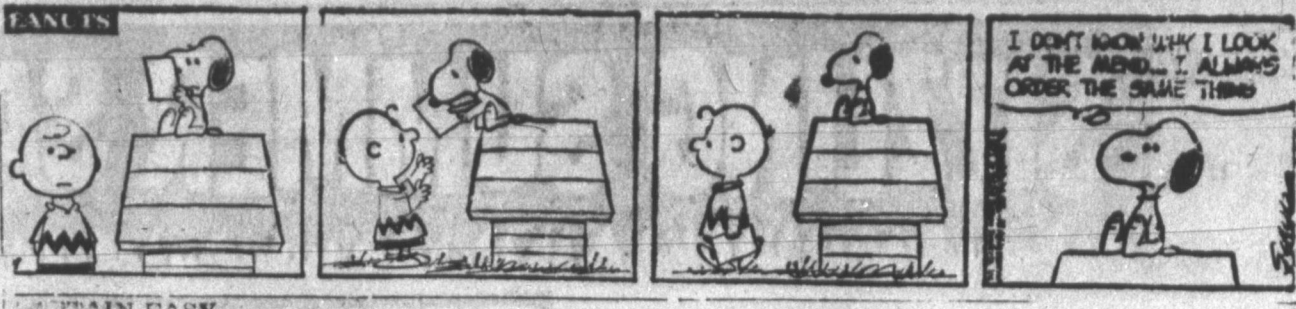

Tires flat and body ablaze, the truck crept about 10 feet before firemen stopped it by putting blocks in front of its wheels.

Despite efforts by about a dozen companies from nearby towns, the volunteer firehouse and three of the four fire trucks in this Lake Michigan suburban community were total losses.

LONDON (AP) — The massive Oxford English Dictionary is to be cut from 13 to two volumes, without slipping a syllable.

The Oxford University Press announced Friday it will market a special edition of the dictionary next October. A micrographic process will reduce four pages of the original to just one, in minuscule print.

The current 16,400-page dictionary costs $216. The special edition will cost $67—and that includes a magnifying glass.

Pinch Hitting Not For Orlando Cepeda

ATLANTA (AP) — Orlando Cepeda says he wants no part of a pinch-hitting role and prefers to undergo immediate surgery if it will enable him to play regularly.

"I don't want to be a pinch hit," said Cepeda, who has not been a regular in the Atlanta Braves' lineup since June 27 because of an injured left knee. "If I can't play every day, I don't want to play. I want to earn my money."

"I will do everything I can to get my knee well... I will do anything they say," he added Monday.

Braves Vice President Paul Richards said Sunday he would rather that Cepeda not undergo surgery now. "I'd rather have him around as a pinch hitter than to lose him altogether for the rest of the year," Richards said.

Cepeda said he isn't attempting to challenge Richards; he just doesn't want to be a pinch hitter.

Ellis Says He's Ready For Clay And Will Taper Off On Training

HOUSTON (AP) — Jimmy Ellis says he's in such shape for his scheduled 12-round bout here Monday with Muhammad Ali he's going to start tapering off training.

He put in a brisk 45-minute rounds with different sparring partners and went two rounds on the speed bag.

"I'm in shape," Ellis said afterward. "I'm just here to go through the routine. I'm training to go for 12 rounds."

He said he would start cutting down today on his workout schedule and "might not box but two rounds... or I might not box at all."

Alli confined his training Monday to one round of shadow boxing, two rounds on the heavy bag and five more on the speed bag.

He also crawled out of bed at 4 a.m. before the Houston heat built up and put in 40 minutes of running.

Alli planned a morning trip to a crippled children's hospital today before working out in the afternoon at the Astrodome where the fight will be staged.

Former NBA President Dies After Cancer Operation

BOSTON (AP) — John J. "Jack" Waldron, 59, former president of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association, died Monday at University Hospital 10 days after undergoing a cancer operation.

Waldron, born in New Bedford, was a former president of the Ruppert Knickerbocker Brewery and later was president of P. Ballantine and Sons.

In 1965, Waldron negotiated purchase of the Celtics by upstart from the widow of the team's founder, Walter Brown, and Lou Pini. Waldron became the Celtics president, and when National Equities of New York

Mike Coulter Pitches Shut Out To Give Pampa 18 To 0 Victory

A no-hit shutout by Pampa's Mike Coulter highlighted the first round of action in the District I Babe Ruth tournament at Optimist Park last night.

The 14-year-old right hander shackled the Panhandle Okie League Stars 18 to 0 after Canyon's Randall County Stars romped to a 16 to 0 win over the Top O' Texas League.

Coulter allowed only two men to reach base, one on his own error in the third inning and the other on a walk in the fifth, and only one man to get the ball out of the infield (a fly ball to left fielder Chuck Reeves). The young hurler fanned 14 Okies and threw out 3 more as his teammates played near-flawless ball behind him.

Pampa's bats were also booming as the locals rapped three Okie pitchers for 17 hits.

Phillip Schaub and Ed Townsley led the way with 4 safeties each, Schaub stroking 4 singles and Townsley 3 singles and a double.

The local stars struck early, converting a hit batter, a single, a walk, a misplayed ground ball, and a second single into a quick 4 to 0 lead in the top of the first inning.

In the third singles by Gary Davis, Townsley, Schaub, and Coulter combined with Gary Harper's double to the left field wall to plate four more runs.

In the fourth Townsley scampers across with run number 9 as the Okies misplayed Schaub's third straight single.

Pampa exploded again in the fifth as a bases-loaded single by Townsley drove in Jody Johnson and Toddy Black. Gary Harper drew a walk to fill the bases again, and Coulter drove in Townsley behind Bobby Hendricks to run the total to 13 to 0.

Johnson opened the sixth by reaching third on a misplayed grounder and scoring on Toddy Black's infield out. Terry Moore reached second when his fly ball to center dropped in and scored on Townsley's double behind first base. Schaub followed with his fourth single to score Townsley. Harper singled Schaub to third, but the inning ended with no further scoring.

In the seventh Johnson thrilled the crowd by reaching second when the Okie center fielder misjudged his fly ball and then sprinting home as the relay throw got away from the Okie infield, capping the play with a headfirst slide at the plate. Bobby Hendrick's single and yet another error resulted in the final run.

In the opening game of the tourney, Canyon slashed 8 hits, 3 by shortstop Ed Lair, behind Scott Keeling's 2-hit shutout pitching to down the Top O' Texas League All Stars.

The action should be just as furious tonight as the local All Stars meet the North Plains team at 6:30, and the Top O' Texans clash with the Okies at 9:00.

MONTREAL (AP) — Rookie Jim Chasey led the Montreal Alouettes to lead a 20-9 victory over the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a Canadian Football League pre-season game. Chasey, an import from Dartmouth College, threw two touchdown passes.

3 Lefors Youths In AAU Regionals

LEFORS (Sp1)—Three Lefors youths will advance to the Regional AU Junior Olympics, July 31st in Pasadena, Texas, after winning their competition in the District Meet held in Borger.

Floyd Cotham, in the 9 years and under class, ran the 220 yard relay winning first, the 50 yard dash with a first and first in the broad jump.

In the 14-15 year old division Mike Crane won first in the Mile Run and Vickie Cotham won first in the broad jump and second in the 440 yard relay.

OTTAWA (AP) — The British Columbia Lions posted their first Canadian Football League victory of the season Monday night, a 22-20 exhibition triumph over the Ottawa Rough Riders.

Sensing The News

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN

On 'Greening' America

The commentator on public affairs has to read a certain number of popular or talked-about books because they are part of the contemporary scene. He has to read absurd books as well as the books of quality simply because the former are in the news. That's why I have felt compelled to read "The Greening of America" by Charles A. Reich, professor of law at Yale University.

In my judgment, "The Greening of America" is intellectual rubbish — an insult to the intelligence of readers. Nevertheless, it is must reading.

Prof. Reich's book has received glowing reviews in quarters where downgrading of America is standard procedure. Dr. Reich is presented as an outstanding analyst and spokesman for the young, though he was born 1928.

"The Greening of America" refers to the alteration of our national life as the result of an alleged change in the consciousness of our young people. He deserves a footnote in future histories of the 1970's in that he has sold the idea of "Consciousness III." This is his specific contribution to commentary on our times. He describes Consciousness I as the outlook of our people at the settling of America, the idea that this was land of opportunity for people who worked hard. He describes Consciousness II as the outlook of people in the recent past, what he refers to as the era of the organization man.

What we have today, he says — and what he praises as revolutionary — is Consciousness III. His description of this outlook can't be easily summarized, for his description covers a grab bag of contemporary phenomena and interests — everything from costume-type retiree to marijuana and commune living. The key, in my opinion, is his statement that in Consciousness II "the individual self is the only true reality."

Prof. Reich seems to think this is a new idea. Actually, it is a notion as well known in pagan times as in the modern world. Prof. Reich also should know that the attitude is that of all modern existentialists, such as the anti-hero in Albert Camus' novel "The Stranger" published shortly after World War I.

The author of "The Greening of America" sees the Consciousness III generation adopting a lifestyle that "can be lived without the guideposts of the past."

I hold that the Consciousness III talk is intellectual rubbish because the individual and group "liberation" he hails is license made possible by the responsibility, work and sacrifice of others who adopt definite goals and who undertake precise duties.

The hippie commune dweller can go to sleep in his pad because there is a policeman on his beat or in a patrol car nearby. The Consciousness III flower child from Berkeley can avoid regular work because public agencies will feed him if he is hungry. The Consciousness III drug user will be treated by a skilled, disciplined physician — at public expense — if he is brought into a hospital emergency room.

In Chapter IX, Prof. Reich says that today, "a life of surfing is possible, not as an escape from work, a recreation or a phase, but as a life — if one chooses." Well, man can't live by surfing alone, despite what Dr. Reich says. The California beach bum needs money for food, clothing and shelter. In short, the full-time surfer needs someone to support him.

Beyond that, Prof. Reich ignores the obligation of the individual to help support the general society of which is a part and which gives him security at all times during his life. Prof. Reich pays no heed to the central truth that life in society means giving as well as taking.

While Prof. Reich's book isn't a constructive work, it is instructing regarding some current moods and views. He pinpoints many of the worst features of the hippie-New Left anti-civilization, and anti thought.

Antiwar Agitation Now Under Red Management

WASHINGTON, — The Communist Party USA (CPUSA) is in the process of engulfing the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ) — which conducted the violent disorders in the capital during the so-called "spring antiwar offensive."

Reason for this backstage take-over of control is what happened in the May Day demonstrations.

PCPJ has been dominated by radical activist Rennie Davis and his violence-addicted Mayday Tribe. PCPJ is the rival of the other leading antiwar agitation organization — the National Peace Action Coalition (NPAC), organized and controlled by the Trotskyite Socialist Workers Party (SWP).

In contrast to the turbulent and uproarious PCPJ disturbances, the tightly disciplined NPAC demonstrations were orderly and tranquil. They also far outdrew the unruly PCPJ demonstrations.

While several thousand scruffy and rambunctious youths participated in the latter, which resulted in mass arrests, reams of bad publicity and widespread condemnation, an estimated 300,000 of all ages and walks of life took part in the well-conducted and peaceful NPAC events.

The lesson was not lost on CPUSA rulers. They quickly set machinery in motion to take control of PCPJ and run it according to their (Moscow-oriented) doctrinaire ideas and procedures.

Foremost among them is waging vehement ideological war against the Trotskyite Socialist Workers Party (SWP) and its agitational antiwar offspring, the National Peace Action Coalition (NPAC).

The CPUSA power grab took place at a so-called PCPJ "national conference" in Milwaukee a few weeks ago. Aggressively cracking the whip and rigorously pulling off the seizure was a crew of veteran CPUSA functionaries and wheelhorses, led by Arnold Johnson, Gil Green and Jarvis Tyner.

When they got through maneuvering and manipulating, CPUSA was well on the way to decisive control of the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice.

That means just one thing: Henceforth, both leading antiwar agitational organizations — NPAC and PCPJ — are communist-controlled and directed. NPAC is Trotskyite; PCPJ is under Moscow's thumb. But both are communist, and communist fronts.

There is no ifs, ands or buts about that. The evidence is indisputable.

Organized antiwar agitation is now a virtual communist monopoly that is planned, directed and operated by communists and for communism — whether of the Trotskyite version or the Moscow type.

PINPOINTING HIM— The House Internal Security Committee has sworn testimony that Charles Garry, white Sam Franciscoan and chief Black Panther attorney, is a member of the Communist Party.

The records show that last year Garry was a sponsor of a so-called "National Emergency Conference to Defend the Rights of the Panthers" held at the Malcolm X University, Chicago. This affair was communist organized and dominated. Leading communist attorneys attended and ran the meeting.

Garry, avowed radical, has defended Huey Newton, Panther supreme commander, and other Panther officials on charges of murder and other felonies. At the Panthers' "Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention" in Philadelphia last September, Garry excoriated the legal system as rotten and decadent, and urged his listeners to "stop talking and start demonstrating."

At this same affair, Newton proclaimed that "abuses would no longer be tolerated and that whatever means are effective will be used to combat them, even if we have to level the face of the earth."

Free Press For Whom?

Perhaps the most serious threat to freedom of the press today is one that receives insufficient attention in news media circles.

Historically, the threat to freedom of the press comes from government. The foe is the public official who has grown arrogant in the exercise of power, or one who claims that what he does is really nobody else's business, or one whose conduct in office causes him to fear the light of full disclosure.

Inquiry or criticism by the press is clearly not in the interests of such officials, and more often than not they would muzzle the press if they could. Against such threats to its freedom, the press is constantly doing battle.

Less recognized, but potentially more dangerous, is the threat from within. The external foe, after all, can accomplish little without the unwitting cooperation of persons inside the media.

The danger is that newspapermen who debase the standards of their profession will provide excuses and opportunities for outside intervention.

The unwitting ally may be a reporter who is careless or worse in the pursuit of truth. Concerning the assertion of Charles Garry, attorney for the Black Panthers, that "28 Black Panthers had been murdered by the police," a reporter for one eastern paper dropped the source of the information and reported the statement as fact.

Not until this "fact" had been repeated by other papers and various public figures was it discovered to be untrue.

Presidential Forest

With the Democratic National Convention still 12 months away, the party has so much standing presidential timber that the individual trees blend into the forest. At least 10 potential candidates are involved in one of the earliest scrambles for the presidential nomination in history.

This stampede has been spurred by increasing optimism among Democrats that inflation, unemployment, and war weariness have made President Nixon's reelection less than a certainty.

Hope and ambition are all that sustain some of the aspirants who are not "presidential" enough to support. Among these are such liberals as South Dakota Sen. George McGovern, Iowa Sen. Harold Hughes, and Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh. Bringing up the rear are Rep. Wilbur Mills, Democrat of Arkansas, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and two of the nation's best-known mayors, Los Angeles' Sam Yorty, a conservative Democrat, and New York's John Lindsay, a liberal Republican.

Among the leading possibilities, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy may be emerging as a front runner. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, bearing both the assets and liabilities of the titular chief, has shown strength while his former running mate, Sen. Edmund Muskie, sees his early lead melting away. Sen. Henry Jackson, a Democrat, who would appeal to some conservatives, commands widespread public respect but is hemmed in by his strong conservative stand on the Vietnam War.

While Democrats attack the President's programs, the variety and diversity of their presidential aspirants reveal that they themselves are far from a clear consensus on a single candidate, to say nothing of an election issue.

Controlling Pollution

Loud are the cries that government do something about controlling pollution. And one of the results has been a plethora of what one spokesman for U.S. industry, Matthew Gould of Georgia-Pacific Corp., referred to as "inter-agency war."

The all-out effort to control pollution, according to Gould, is becoming bogged down in politics and paperwork. "We can't solve the problems with conflicting regulations nor with continued headline hunting replete with half-truths."

However, in his talk before the National Environmental Health Association's convention, he did not go as far as to say that individuals, voluntary groups or business associations should go ahead and do the job. Instead, he asked for a streamlining of the multiplicity of agencies and a formation of one agency "to establish clear federal guidelines that are enforceable and unambiguous."

Unambiguous federal guidelines? He wants the state pollution agencies to be the "primary standard-making and enforcement authority" under the federal guidelines with biennial review by the new federal Environmental Protection Agency instead of hearings on a random basis.

Regarding the political realities of the 1972 elections, Gould commented, "Some people use the laws to further their own designs rather than the needs of the situation. Particularly in an election year, all motives are suspect! The problems will not be solved by bombast but by technology and ultimately by people sitting around a table, working out details and schedules, recognizing limitations of equipment availability and the inordinate time it takes these days to get permits and clearances."

"It is high time we simplified and overhauled the creaking pollution control structure now bogged down in trivialities and reset our priorities so all of us really can get to work cleaning up America."

The route to simplification lies not in forming a new federal agency but in resetting individual priorities of good health "so all of us really can get to work cleaning up America."

So Disappointing

Editors call them "column-closers." But sometimes those little tidbits of stories used to fill out the ends of newspaper columns open up whole realms of speculation about the human animal.

For example, a recent two-finger reported that one Madeira Rosa Cavacente of Brazil had predicted that the world would end on Friday and occasionally, she would as that, ascend to heaven in a flaming chariot while all this was going on. A crowd gathered outside her home in the town of Vila Rosali to await the events.

"Police had to rescue her from angry neighbors when neither came true," said the dispatch.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Jimmy's grandfather was guilty of severe cruelty to children, but he didn't even realize what he was doing to inflict such scars on the emotional life of Jimmy. So discuss this case at PTA or PTO. And be sure you add zest to the lives of folks in Nursing Homes via exciting anticipation!

CASE R-514: Jimmy B., aged 8, suffered a tragedy. "Dr. Crane," his mother began, "Jimmy is very fond of his grandfather. 'But the latter is a busy executive who often makes promises that he soon forgets. 'Whenever he is here at our home, he spends a lot of time with Jimmy, for they are great pals."

"But last month his grandfather promised Jimmy he'd come back to see us the next Sunday and take Jimmy to the zoo."

"Jimmy was all agog till Sunday arrived.

"Then he got dressed and ready, even to the extent of having bought a bag of peanuts to feed to the elephant.

"When mid-afternoon arrived, Jimmy kept his nose pressed against the front window, eagerly looking for his grandfather."

"But nobody came! 'Jimmy was crestfallen the rest of the day.

"But his grandfather had simply forgotten.

"Last week the same thing happened again, though his grandfather had vowed to take Jimmy swimming.

"But grandpa never showed up!

"So please warn grandparents never to make promises to kiddies unless they really plan to fulfill them.

"I've tried to excuse his grandfather but these disappointments will probably leave emotional scars on Jimmy all his life."

Sometimes parents, as well as other relatives or friends, will likewise make exciting future engagements with kiddies and then fail to fulfill them.

Don't be so cruel to children! Nor to your elderly folks in Nursing Homes, either, for the latter build up their hopes as excitedly as youngsters.

Unless an auto wreck or some other legitimate excuse prevents your date, be sure you make good on such promise.

And if some totally unexpected event does prevent your fulfilling your pledge, at least telephone and move your gala outing ahead to another time.

Our splendid Anti-Cruelty Societies try to stop physical brutality to animals, as well as to human youngsters. But mental cruelty can hurt a child even worse than physical pain!

It is quite desirable to promise an exciting adventure to youngsters at a future date. For that lets them anticipate this dramatic outing many days proper to the fulfillment of the gala event.

And it is this daily excitement in considering a promised future picnic or party that adds zest to everybody.

That is doubly important to children and older folks, like those in Nursing Homes, hospitals or the lonely grandparents who still may totter around in their little cottage.

Such future expectancy of fun keeps everybody young!

"Youth," said Emerson, "depends on where you live in your thoughts!

"If you are eagerly looking forward into the tomorrows, you are young, regardless of your calendar age!"

THE SMUT PEDDLERS

One of the major forces eroding the dignity and basic morality of young people today is the use of the U.S. mails to purvey obscenity and perversion within the privacy of the home. There are those in our society in Republic USA who would go to unscrupulous lengths to make a profit, even as far as sending smut mail to our youth using innocent sources such as high school graduation lists.

Many parents today are pleading for a way to keep their filth out of their mail boxes and out of the hands of their teenagers. This type of "literature" has no redeeming social value. It's smut for the sake of smut.

Some progress in relieving this problem was made when Congress established a procedure under which a citizen could complain about such material being sent to his home and could lodge a formal complaint with the Postmaster. The sender of the material then is notified, and any repetition makes him subject to fines and imprisonment. This is a step in the right direction.

More legislation needs to be passed which will completely prohibit the distribution of obscene material to minors under the age of 18 or the transportation of such material across state lines. For our Republic to survive, the smut peddlers must be stopped. Such filth chips away at the moral foundation of this nation.

You can help the Post Office Department and the Department of Justice by returning smut mail to your Postmaster with the words: "Request for Prohibitory Order." Perhaps we can stop, once and for all, the smut peddlers.

Heart Attacks Rare In Young Woman

Dear Dr. Lamb—I'm a married woman of 30. Last week, during sexual intercourse, I had a tension feeling in my chest. It scared me. Since that day I feel like there is a tension pressure in my chest and abdomen. I have indigestion and food particles come up and I belch a lot.

I should say I was still am nervous and tense. Can tension cause a heart attack? I'm trying to just get it out of my system because I know it can cause ulcers and all kinds of trouble, but it's not easy. Then I think maybe you won't tell me the truth since you don't want me to get worked up since I am nervous. Can you advise me? Please answer soon!

Dear Reader—Young women of childbearing age seldom have heart attacks. If they do it is usually because they have some other contributing medical problem, like kidney disease, high blood pressure or diabetes. I could be reasonably certain your problem is not a heart attack even without an examination.

Individuals with indigestion can have tightness in the chest and abdomen. The esophagus can go into spasm and cause pain in the chest. Gas trapped in the colon can cause referred pain even into the shoulder.

I can't cure your nervousness but to the extent it is caused by worry over a heart attack you can forget about that. You should, however, consider what is causing you to have indigestion. Nervousness contributes to that too. It is helpful if nervous people do not drink coffee, coals, tea or stimulants and also helpful, after initial shock, if they don't smoke. Exercise helps relieve tension, so does developing a good healthy concern for someone else's problems.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I wonder if you could enlighten me as to the reason I get cankers in my mouth about every two or three months? Is it a test? I have asked my doctor about them and he seemed to think nothing of it. But they are very painful and sometimes I will have two or three in a row. Usually around the inner part of the lips and corner of the mouth.

Dear Reader—The reason your doctor doesn't think much about your canker sores is that we don't really know what causes them. One idea is that they are caused by activating a virus that permanently lives in the lining of the mouth. We do know that they are not harmful even though they are painful.

Indigestion and common colds seem to precipitate their recurrence. Mouthwash and medicines applied locally to relieve the pain, is about all there is to offer other than time.

Supply Line Plug Ineffective

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite the blockade of the Cambodian coast, the persistent, hefty bombing of the Ho Chi Minh trails and the major supply-line-cutting expedition into the Laos panhandle of a few months back — the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong now have no lack of war material and food in South Vietnam.

This information comes from U.S. government officials whose job it is to assess the enemy supply situation.

To make matters worse, Peking has recently signed with Hanoi a new and more extensive supply agreement than the one made during the visit of China's Premier Chou En-lai.

With U.S. troops moving out of South Vietnam at the rate of 14,300 a month, this means that the South Vietnamese army and self-defense corps could have a rough road ahead.

There are the number of reasons for these difficulties. The way in which the Laos panhandle operation was conducted.

It has been customary to blame the South Vietnamese generals for the poor intelligence on which the movement into Laos was based, which resulted in such heavy casualties.

It has also been popular to blame the South Vietnamese generals for moving into Laos in a conventional, roadbound operation which left them vulnerable to sneak attacks. A seasoned officer does not move a long column tied to roads into unknown mountainous and wooded guerrilla territory.

White House sources now say that the intelligence mistakes and the decision to make it a major road-bound incursion were U.S. responsibilities, not South Vietnamese.

The South Vietnamese generals wanted a different type of operation — a series of short, quick, materiel-destroying thrusts into the panhandle. These moves would have given the North Vietnamese little chance to inflict heavy casualties on the South Vietnamese forces, and would have made possible the destruction of a great deal more of the Communist supplies.

As for intelligence, the intensive pre-invasion air reconnaissance was not carried on long enough or thoroughly enough to discover the large number of tanks which North Vietnam had emplaced, hidden under fake "thatched huts."

Nor, apparently, was the reconnaissance sufficient during the campaign itself to keep adequate track of the movement of major elements of four first-line divisions which Hanoi threw into the battles.

It was these surprises which forced the South Vietnamese into those unexplained halts early in the invasion which destroyed their momentum.

It also was these surprises which convinced South Vietnam's President Thieu not to commit more men to the operation but to move rapidly back into South Vietnam. As a result the South Vietnamese did not destroy as much materiel as planned.

It must be emphasized that this analysis did not come from Vietnamese sources, but rather from American officials making an after-action critique of the operation.

Wit And Whimsy

Why do women who complain about being on their feet all day insist on standing in doorways for 45 minutes when leaving a party?

The difference between in-laws and outlaws is sometimes barely perceptible.

At today's prices, the most effective diet drink is bonded hooch.

These days, it's hard to imagine a fate worse than debt.

It doesn't cost anything to laugh—unless you do so at an officer considering whether to write you a ticket.

PAMPA Business News...

Gibson Discount Pharmacy Highest Quality; Low Price

Gibson's Discount Pharmacy now has a full staff of registered pharmacists to serve the Pampa trade area. Dean Copeland, head pharmacist, has been with the store since 1965, and has been registered since 1957. Mike Johnson went to work at Gibson's 2½ years ago, and has been filling prescriptions at the pharmacy since that time. David Burns, the newest member of the staff, started work at Gibson's in May of this year.

Gibson's Pharmacy has at least one pharmacist on duty from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. six days a week. These pharmacists can fill your prescription with the finest in medicines without the high overhead prices that are common with smaller pharmacies.

Gibson's Discount Pharmacy carries approximately 15,000 medicines that more than meet the needs of the public. Service is fast at Gibson's. Four clerks are on hand to take orders and eliminate the time necessary for a pharmacist to do a lot of paper work. For people with over-sensitive skin, a full line of Allercream Cosmetics is stocked by Gibson's.

Go by and look at the fine selection of medicines for every day use available at Gibson's. Shop Gibson's Pharmacy for the best in medicine at the lowest price.

Here are some things that worry observers: —If redemptions continue high, will it force portfolio managers to sell their investments in corporations in order to raise cash? Will it cause them to dump stocks at losses in order to meet those redemption demands?

There appears to be enough cash in their reserves to pay redemptions without seriously disrupting portfolios immediately. Cash reserves in May were $2.6 billion.

While that figure seems like a lot, it may not be if redemptions continue. It was only 4.9 per cent of total assets. Cash positions last year averaged 7.7 per cent and the year before they averaged 8.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A wary stock market is awaiting this week a new set of statistics that suddenly has assumed great importance to small investors, speculators and institutions.

The new factor in the market is the monthly report from the Investment Company Institute on sales and redemptions of mutual fund shares. The report itself is nothing new; the news it brings has been decidedly so of late.

In May, the ICI figures showed that for the first time in mutual fund history redemptions exceeded sales, and by the sizable sum of $121.5 million. Purchases totaled $306.7 million, cash-ins $482.2 million.

Nobody seems to be able to figure out exactly what the news means.

When the May figures were released, the market dropped 17 points, as measured by the Dow Jones Industrial average, falling below 900 points for the first time in three months.

It bounced after that. But now the question is: What will it do if the June figures show that the trend continued.

A widespread feeling exists that should the news be bad for the mutual funds for a second month in a row it will be a sharp psychological blow to the entire market.

Why is such importance being placed on mutual fund figures? Mainly because the experience of the funds could suggest the existence of a basic change in attitude on the part of many investors.

The funds have known almost nothing but growth. Their assets jumped from less than $10 billion in 1958 to $53.6 billion in 1971. The shareholder count has risen from 3.6 million in 1958 to more than 11 million now. And the number of funds has grown from 151 to more than 360 in the same period.

Growth has been the name of the mutual fund game. It is coming to an end, at least temporarily.

Seat Covers And Stereos: Both Specialties At Hall

TOP QUALITY SEAT COVERS — Leymond Hall, 700 W. Foster, features the finest ready-made seat covers available. Cars, pickups, boats and small trucks can be equipped with a new set of seat covers by Hall who also guarantees expert installation. (Staff Photo)

Leymond Hall, owner of Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, will be more than happy to fit those old worn seats into a new set of covers that will not only make the car look better but will raise its resale value. At Hall Tire Company both ready-made and custom seat covers are featured for every type car on the road. Hall Tire carries the largest selection of seat covers in the area, and if they don't have your style in stock, it will be ordered and in your car before others could even install them.

If the carpet is damaged in your auto, Hall can replace it with the finest material available. When the cover of the automobile is still serviceable, Hall will repair the damaged area without attempting to sell you a new cover.

Boat seats, rotted with age and wear can be re-covered and made look like new again with a set of custom made covers from Hall.

With vacation time here many people will be thinking about the car that will be used for transportation on their trip. Hall Tire Company has the right solution, a new set of Security tires, a complete overhaul of automotive air-conditioning units a set of Delco shocks, and a large selection of tapes to go into your tape player. If you don't have a tape player, Hall has a fine selection of Lear-Jet stereos available, and the know-how to fix any mechanical problems that might arise in the set.

For all automobile interior work, air conditioner repair, and stereo tapes. Visit Hall Company, and drive away happy.

Jobs Are Scarce
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A high school instructor is looking for out-of-state jobs for his technical-vocational pupils. Letters to 100 local contractors failed to turn up any jobs. Bill Hamilton of Anderson High, a predominantly Negro school, says he found jobs for his pupils in Minnesota, Florida and California.
