

Secrets To Solve Mankind's Problems Can Be Found In Space

DALLAS (UPI)—Apollo 14 flight director Pete Frank said Saturday that space research is vital to solve man's ills and maintain the U.S. positions as world leader.

Frank, who was named flight director on last January's moonlanding mission, said space exploration was invaluable to help man solve his current problems. Frank spoke at the annual meeting of the United Press International Broadcasters of Texas (UPIBAT).

"Modern technology is the only way we will be able to cure and prevent future ills," Frank said. "These cures and preventions will be based on facts that are not yet well established and in some cases not even known."

Search And Application "That requires a search for knowledge, science and the application of science on earth and in space."

Some 100 broadcasters around the state attended the session of science on earth and in space. Some 100 broadcasters around the state attended the session which ended Saturday.

Frank said many of the secrets in solving problems now facing mankind will be found in space. "We are just now on the verge of being able to exploit this source of information," Frank said.

He also said science and technology were necessary to solve man's environmental problems and find the answers to many dilemmas that now puzzle mankind.

700 Peruvians Dead Or Missing In Landslide

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—More than 700 persons were reported dead or missing Saturday in a landslide that buried a mining camp 150 miles northeast of Lima under tons of mud and rocks.

Cristobal Galjuf, director of the Chungar lead and copper mining camp, said 241 were confirmed dead and 500 were missing.

A survivor told newsmen the exact toll might never be known because many of the bodies were buried and others were carried away by the "monstrous" current of water that spilled from Lake Yanahuin Thursday morning.

Two children who were playing on a hill near the lake said they saw rocks falling into the water from the peak of the hill 900 feet above and that the water slid forward with a roar in a 60-foot-high wave when the dam broke.

Three building complexes including the homes of the workers, the general store and the metal-treating plant were engulfed.

About 100 injured survivors were taken to hospitals in Cerro de Pasco and two nearby mining camps.

Local police and miners dug out many of the survivors and additional police reserves were dispatched from Lima.

Concert Member Drive Winds Up With 'Sellout'

Board members of the Pampa Community Concert Association met at noon Saturday in the Coronado Inn and wound up what was termed one of the most successful membership campaigns in the association's 27-year existence.

The seating capacity at Pampa Junior High School auditorium was sold out by mid-afternoon Friday and drive workers had to be called to stop taking memberships.

Concert headquarters at the hotel still was turning down membership requests late Saturday forenoon.

With construction of Pampa's new civic auditorium now underway, Joe Cree, association president, pointed out that next year's campaign will be able to take additional memberships because of the increased seating capacity.

At Saturday's board meeting a fourth attraction for the upcoming 1971-72 season was contracted. It is the Ronnie Kole Trio, New Orleans jazz group and recording artists, acclaimed one of the finest concert attractions of its kind in the United States.

The other three attractions in the association's 1971-72 season which begins in October will be Ferrante and Teicher, internationally-known piano team; the Stockholm University Chorus of 40 female and 30 male voices; and Dorothy Wareskjold's Musical Theater, featuring opera and "From Minstrel to Musical."

The current season will be closed out next Friday night with the final concert, "Three on Broadway," starring Jan McArt and Ronald Rogers in a melange of hits from well-known Broadway musical shows.

Pampa Beauty Miss Irish Rose

Pampa's Colleen entry in the "Miss Irish Rose" contest, highlight of the Annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration in Shamrock, walked off with the title for the second consecutive year. Named winner for 1971 in Saturday's competition was Miss Sidney Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Mills. Last year's winner was a Pampa resident, Miss Jan Autry, presently a student of West Texas State University and recently named "Miss Canyon."

An estimated 30,000 visitors converged on the small city Saturday to take part in the celebration, which for 25 years has marked the Roman Irishman's special day.

A schedule including an old-fashioned contest, won by Herman Johnson of Shawnee, Okla., filled the day.

Four divisions of floats, riding clubs and bands entered the long parade which featured entrants of the "Miss Irish Rose" contest.

Southwestern Bell Telephone of Pampa entered a float which carried Pampa's Colleen. The employe-constructed entry placed third in the Commercial Float division.

Canadian Riding Club was named third place winner in its division.

The City of McLean entered the float winner of the Community Float Division.

Anadarko, Okla., and Claude High Schools were named winners in the marching band competition.

Junior Vinyard, McLean, won the judges' nod for first place in the band contest, and Wade Lewis of Hereford walked off with over-all money in the jack pot roping contest.

Visitors were greeted by the official hostess, Miss Shamrock of 1971, Debbie Parrish.

The fun and frolic wound up last night when adults and teenagers attended dances at the Armory and Junior High School.

555 Texans Killed In Traffic This Year

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texans are killing themselves on the state's streets and highways at an average rate of seven persons a day, Department of Public Safety statistics released Saturday indicate.

From Jan. 1 until noon Friday, the state had recorded 555 deaths in 474 traffic accidents. Almost 43 per cent of those deaths occurred within city limits.

The DPS report, however, said one statistic was encouraging—less than its final figures for traffic deaths than to the same day in 1970. On March 19 a year ago, the state had recorded 539 deaths in 493 accidents.

The DPS Saturday also released its final figures for traffic fatalities in 1970, showing 3,560 deaths on the streets and highways of Texas—nine more than in 1969.

Here's How Nixon Revenue Sharing Plan Would Affect City and County

Congressman Bob Price has analyzed the President's general revenue sharing proposal in terms of what it means in dollars and cents to the 18th Congressional District, including Pampa and Gray County.

Under the Nixon proposal, state shares are determined by a population and tax yield formula; local shares are based on a local tax contribution percentage.

If enacted, the President's general revenue sharing plan will mean that $5,000,053 in federal tax dollars will be returned to the 18th Congressional District.

A breakdown shows Gray County would receive $294,850, the highest amount for any of the 28 counties in the district. Hutchinson County would be second with $276,448 and Potter third with $259,745.

Under the President's general revenue sharing proposal, the City of Pampa would receive $172,126, based on city income tax of $2,083,000.

Amarillo would top the list of cities in the district with $1,670,156. Boyer would get $114,231, Dumas $148,204, and Perryton, $46,004.

Egyptians Preparing For War

By United Press International A committee of Egyptian leaders responsible for war preparations met in Cairo Saturday to plan the marshaling of all the nation's resources against Israel.

The semi-official Middle East News Agency (MENA) quoted a high-ranking official as saying the committee was organizing an economic policy "to mass all resources, including technical and military potential, for the battle of liberation."

President Anwar Sadat has already given Egyptian military commanders along the Suez Canal absolute authority to deal with any Israeli attack, the semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said.

Tension along the canal increased Friday when MENA reported that Egyptian anti-aircraft guns drove off two Israeli planes in the first shooting incident along that front since a cease-fire began Aug. 7.

An Israeli military spokesman in Tel Aviv said Israeli guns fired into Lebanon Saturday in response to bazooka rounds that were fired at the Israeli settlement of Metulla from Lebanese territory. There were no casualties at Metulla.

Cairo sources discounted a Beirut newspaper report that Sadat made a secret trip to Washington Monday through Wednesday to discuss the Middle East situation. They said he was seen in Cairo on those days.

Al-Ahram said Saturday an Egyptian missile launch sank an Israeli spy ship in the Mediterranean last May 15 but no announcement was made then because naval forces "were asked to keep this secret until an appropriate time."

The newspaper report said the vessel was carrying Israeli electronic experts on a mission to distort Egyptian radio and radar signals and monitor Egyptian military communications.

Police Chief In Hamlin Fired

HAMLIN, Tex. (UPI)—Winter left this small West Texas town Saturday along with the police chief. The city council fired Chief Bryan Wasson, saying he spent more money than his budget allowed.

The veteran officer, president of the Law Enforcement Officers Association of Texas, did not deny the city council contention at a meeting attended by 500 persons Friday night.

Wasson admitted he refused to obey certain council directives "because they weren't according to Hoyle" and said he did, in fact, exceed his budget.

"The people of Hamlin got their money's worth," Wasson told the city council before accepting their decision.

Budget Has Grown

The town's (population 3,161) police department budget has grown from $30,000 in 1960 to $50,000 since Wasson took over as police chief three and a half years ago.

Cates Plugging For Texas Youth And Education

Public education and youth blood donation loom large and forceful on the state legislative list of important, and Rep. Phil Cates of Lefors reports he is "working fast and furiously for the betterment of the education system and the youth of Texas."

House Bill No. 854 deals with such aspects of public education as consolidation and resulting incentive aid payments, maintaining high standards in the teaching profession so that both teachers and students will reap benefits, and the concept of a professional status contract.

As a member of the Public Education Committee, Cates said his chief concern is serving his district by considering everyone involved with education—students, future students, teachers and parents. "To insure the successful future of my district as well as that of the state and nation," says Cates, "we must strive for excellence in education...excellent teachers and superior programs and facilities...which will, in turn, yield excellent students and future leaders."

House Bill No. 663 concerns youth blood donation and proposes that persons age 18 or over shall be able to donate blood to the American Red Cross, a blood bank operating under the supervision of a licensed physician, or a hospital licensed under the provision of the Texas Hospital Licensing Law.

One of the greatest benefits of this bill, Cates said, would be its impact on civic blood drives.

Chichester-Clark Bows To Demands For Resignation

By DONAL O'HIGGINS BELFAST, (UPI)—Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark of Northern Ireland resigned Saturday night despite a last minute British effort to talk him out of quitting.

Chichester-Clark bowed to the demands of rightwing Protestant members of his ruling Unionist party who had clamored for his resignation, contending he was too soft on extremists and especially on measures to crush the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA).

The IRA seeks the forcible separation of Northern Ireland from Britain and its linkup with the Irish Republic to the South. Chichester-Clark, sought during his 22 months in office to institute voting and housing reforms for Northern Ireland's Catholic minority and to curb extremist Catholic violence that often exploded into street fighting with Protestant militants. Chichester-Clark quit despite a telephoned appeal Friday night from British Prime Minister Edward Heath to stay on and a flying visit Saturday by Heath's defense secretary, Lord Carrington.

DPS Praised For Services To Panhandle

A resolution commending the Texas Department of Public Safety on its "outstanding service to the people of the Texas Panhandle during the February blizzard" was introduced in the state senate by the 31st district Sen. Max Sherman and was unanimously adopted.

The resolution praised the DPS for its action in many emergency cases in which helicopter crews worked for five days and spent 72 hours in the air rescuing stranded persons, delivering food and supplies to isolated farms and airlifting hay to starving cattle.

Sincere gratitude and commendation to the DPS was expressed in the Senate resolution for its timely assistance during the disaster.

Social Security Manager Explains Benefit Changes

Howard L. Weatherly, manager of the Pampa Social Security Office, said that the first checks including the 10 per cent raise in Social Security benefits will be received on June 3.

It will be the regular check which is the payment for the month of May. Weatherly said the increase is retroactive to Jan. 1, but the higher amount due for January through April will be mailed by separate check in June.

Weatherly emphasized that Social Security beneficiaries do not need to get in touch with a social security office to get the raise. All payments will be increased automatically.

"It takes a little over one month," Weatherly said, "to refigure benefits for 26 million beneficiaries. Checks normally due on April 3, and May 3, will be issued on time but will not include the 10 per cent raise." "For the 3706 beneficiaries in Gray County, the increase will amount to approximately $32,600 a month," Weatherly said.

Carr Blasts Papers For Biased Stories

DALLAS (UPI) — A Dallas newspaper published a letter from former Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr today in which Carr criticized the paper for "unfair and biased stories" concerning the statewide stock scandal.

The Dallas Morning News ran the letter on the front page of an inside section, prefacing it with an apology to Carr.

Carr complained a recent column in the Dallas News left out the fact that he alone, among 28 defendants named in a Securities and Exchange Commission stock fraud suit, was not enjoined in federal court in a preliminary hearing.

The News said it regretted the omission.

Texas Suffers Little Loss Of Influence On Capitol Hill Despite Change Of Administration

By WILLIAM E. CLAYTON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—During the years Lyndon B. Johnson was president there was a saying: "In Washington there are two pay windows: One for Texans and one for everybody else."

The President was a Texan as were some of his close advisers, a cabinet member and an array of congressional committee chairmen.

As a result the state, with all this influence, received a good share of patronage and pork barrel public works projects.

When Republican Richard Nixon took over the White House from Johnson it was assumed Texas' share of the spoils system would decline rapidly.

It is true the state suffered with the rest of the country through the nation's economic difficulties and not many Texans remained in high government positions.

But the situation isn't as bad as might be expected.

Texans who head congressional committees are still there, for the most part. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough is gone and his Labor and Public Welfare Committee thus passed out of Texas hands. But in the House, Texans still head the Agriculture, Appropriations, Banking and Currency and Veterans' Affairs Committees.

In the cabinet, Ramsey Clark is gone at justice, but Texan Will Wilson is John Mitchell's man in command of the anti-crime effort. Former Texas Gov. John B. Connally is Nixon's treasury secretary and the newest glamor figure in the cabinet. Houston's George Bush is UN ambassador but there's no Jack Valenti at the White House because Nixon's confidants have a California flavor.

Financially, it is hard to assess the loss of Texas influence, because of nationwide economic problems.

Texas received $4.08 billion in prime military contracts in fiscal 1968 while Johnson was still in office, and that was 11 per cent of the nation's total. In fiscal 1970, Texas received $2.77 billion and this amounted to 9.3

per cent of the national total. As a result Texas slipped behind New York in percentage.

Decrease Noted

In the two year period June 30, 1968 through June 30, 1970, Defense Department workers, both military and civilian, in Texas decreased by 19,369, or 7.4 per cent. But this was less than the 11.5 per cent national decrease. At Texas' most glamorous federal installation—the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston—personnel totaled 4,384 when Johnson was writing the budget. It has steadily declined since — to 2,49 in fiscal 1970, and the budget request for fiscal 1972 will support only 3,935. The decline is reflected in the space budget drop from fiscal 1969 total of $3.99 billion to the current request of $3.27 billion.

Texas' Ling-Temco-Vought sought the contract for "Freedom Fighters" aircraft but it went to Northrop of California. The state bid for the high-speed ground transportation test track but lost out to Colorado.

Off to Alabama

And some of the space station program roles sought for the Manned Spacecraft Center have been moved to Huntsville, Ala. And so it is.

Rep. Bob Casey of Houston said Johnson "had a personal interest in the space program. There has been a lack of interest in this administration."

And Casey added, with LBJ "you have many Texans in practically every agency. That was a good entree for getting things done and for getting information."

"When you know somebody, it helps."

Sixty-Second State Legislature Running Well Ahead Of Schedule

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Legislature Monday passes the half way mark in its 140-day regular session, with the bulk of its major problems yet unsolved.

But Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Speaker Gus Mutscher agree that the 62nd Legislature is running well ahead of the timetable of previous sessions.

"I feel like from my 10 years experience in the legislature that we are a full 30 days ahead of the schedule of what other sessions have been," Barnes said.

"I'd say at the half way point that the 62nd Legislature not only gets a passing grade, but it gets good marks," he said.

Mutscher has repeatedly pointed out that the House has already acted on its stickiest problem—sending a $492 million tax bill to the Senate more than two weeks ago. Senate hearings on the plan are set to begin this week, which Barnes says is the "earliest ever" for hearings on a tax plan.

move delays at least temporarily the need for about $230 million in new revenue to finance welfare spending.

Welfare Budget Aided

During the opening weeks of the session, the lawmakers channeled $32 million into the welfare budget to allow the agency to continue operating until Sept. 1, when the new fiscal year begins.

A controversial ethics bill is expected to clear the Senate early next week, and a constitutional amendment setting up a special commission on legislative ethics and pay will be voted on in a special election May 18.

The only major piece of legislation which now appears in jeopardy is a proposed revision of the state penal code. Opposition to that wholesale rewriting of criminal laws appears to be mounting, making it doubtful that the revision will be approved before the end of this session.

The flow of legislation this session has been so heavy that at least one influential House member — Healy — believes steps should be taken to slow it down.

Urges Slow Down

"I am convinced that the time the legislature meets should be extended, and a rule adopted that no bill can be heard in committee until it has been filed for 30 days," Healy said. "We're passing too much legislation to have time to give the proper consideration to the effectiveness of it."

Barnes is following that same theory somewhat in senate handling of the tax bill.

House Hearing Soon

Of the four remaining major problems facing the legislature — taxes, appropriations, liquor and redistricting — two have already passed one House. The liquor by the drink bill zipped through the Senate last week and is due a House hearing soon.

Appropriation bills are due consideration in both houses the first week in April, and redistricting bills are scheduled for debate about mid-May — relatively early for that type of legislation.

Rep. W. S. Healy, D-Paducah, said the House appropriation bill is about 10 days later coming out of committee than it was last session. But Healy attributes that delay to the early House action on the tax bill, which is usually stalled until after the budget is approved in both houses.

Many To Governor

To date, the House has approved 64 bills this session, compared with 58 to the same two years ago. Twenty-two of those bills have gone to the governor after passing both houses, and 42 are still pending in the Senate.

The Senate, meanwhile, has already sent 76 Senate bills to the house. A record number of bills have already been filed in both the House and Senate.

Two crucial issues — welfare and a college bond program to finance new school constructions — were shuttled out of the way earlier in the session.

Gov. Preston Smith signed the $185 million college bond plan into law Friday, and legislative leaders have decided to fund only the first year of the biennium for welfare spending. That

Surgeons Urged To Take Caution In Operation

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Surgeons are newly advised to exercise "the utmost caution" before converting men into women. Once it is done there is no turning back and some of the converted have had regrets.

Cited examples included men who persuaded surgeons to operate while their minds were poisoned by amphetamine or "speed," a favorite mind drug of youthful drug cultists.

The advice results from an exhaustive search, at the behest of the American College of Surgeons, for everything science knows about men with an overwhelming desire to be women.

Their opportunities have become a vexing problem for surgeons now that it is generally known that surgery has the conversion capability. Before this news was spread "such people would have contained themselves, as hopeless people certainly can do."

So said the searchers, Drs. Norman L. Block and Arthur N. Tessler of the New York University Medical Center, in their report to the college's technical journal, "Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics."

The purpose was to provide a factual background to help individual surgeons decide whether to operate and on what applicants.

These physical normal men suffer from "transsexualism," a condition recognized "in ancient Rome, particularly at the time of the decline," and in even more ancient times.

Transsexuals are relatively few in number but Block and Tessler documented that they "are among the most miserable of people."

No medical treatment, including psychiatry, has succeeded in reconciling them to their biological sex. Since all efforts to "adjust the mind to the body" have failed, "a justification exists to try to adjust the body to the mind," Block and Tessler said.

Surgical sex changes have had both successes and failures. They cited "the best known example, Christine Jorgensen. Twelve years after her operation, she appeared to be in good physical and mental health, living the life of a normal and reasonably happy and successful woman."

On the other hand, "some patients have undergone psychologic deterioration post-operatively, and others have demanded reversal of the procedure and have threatened legal action when this was shown to be impossible."

Before operation, a surgeon should be completely certain his patient is a true transsexual whose desire to surgery "represents a permanent, deep conviction of a reasonably intelligent and mentally mature individual," Block and Tessler said.

Atchmo improves

NEW YORK (UPI)—Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong's condition improved slightly Friday, according to a spokesman at Beth Israel Hospital where the famous jazz trumpeter was being treated for a heart ailment.

"But he's still in intensive care, and that's not so good," the spokesman said.

Armstrong, 70, was reported in critical condition when he was admitted to the hospital Monday.

State Board Agrees To Reopen Hearing On Auto Insurance Hike

By ANN ARNOLD
AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas

three-man State Insurance Board Friday announced it has agreed to consider a petition from insurance companies to reopen rate hearings on auto insurance rates.

The insurance companies contend rates — which were hiked an average of 14 per cent across the state Jan. 1 — are still too low.

Price said the insurance companies want the rates readjusted upwards.

... Wanted 27.7 Per Cent
The insurance companies originally requested a 27.7 per cent hike in premiums.

Price said David B. Irons, attorney for the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office, filed a notice on Jan. 28 indicating the companies were "dissatisfied" with the 14 per cent hike approved by the board Dec. 30.

"They're alleging that the 2.6 per cent after tax underwriting profit (used by the board in computing the rates) will not produce a sufficient rate of return," Price said.

Board member Charles Matthews said company spokesmen "say the rates are not compensatory — they say they're confiscatory."

Price, a member of the Insurance Board for 11 years, said this is the first time he knows of that the companies have asked for a formal rehearing to protest the rates set by the board.

Washington Window

By RAYMOND LAHR
WASHINGTON (UPI) —

The Democrats are pasting enough potential disputes to their 1971 convention plans to keep it going for four weeks instead of the customary four days.

But by the time convention assemblies, the Party managers should be able to pound sweet reason into the heads of the 5,000 delegates and alternates to persuade them to keep close to a normal schedule.

The latest prospective controversy, still in the talk stage, would reorganize the Democratic National Committee to deny an equal vote to each state and to give the states votes roughly equal to their strength at the National Convention.

This proposal will get attention from the convention and Party rules commission headed by Rep. James G. O'Hara of Michigan.

The National Committee, the guardian of Party affairs between the quadrennial national conventions, now bears a relation to the convention like that of the United States Senate to the House of Representatives. Each state has two votes in the committee whereas its delegation to the convention is more in line with its population and Democratic voter turnout.

The advantage given to the small states was demonstrated in a Feb. 19 vote of the National Committee. The committee rejected a formula from the O'Hara commission to give equal weight to population and the Democratic vote in the last three presidential elections. Substantial gains in delegate votes would have gone to the heavily populated states at the expense of the sparsely populated states.

Compared with the 1968 convention apportionment, the formula adopted still would enlarge the delegations from the densely populated states at the expense of the small states, but with less drastic shifts than the O'Hara commission recommendation.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although the market has passed the 900 level on the Dow Jones industrial average, Abraham & Co. says the gain over the past few weeks "was relatively small." The company says it saw indications of "flagging strength in the overall stock price movement" and says the "inevitable declaration in the bull market's rate of gain" seems to have begun.

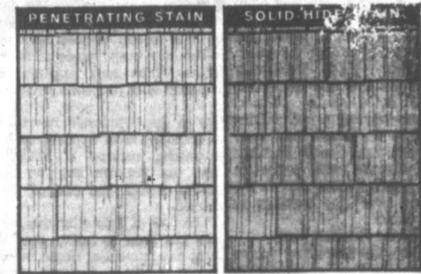

The long-term corporate bond market "recovered somewhat from the weakness induced earlier by the large volume of new offerings" Halsey, Stuart Co. says. The company adds that it believes the "recovery can proceed further," although the company agrees with "those who maintain that a major portion of rate declines are behind us." It warns that "the absolute bottom may still lie ahead."

During the last 15 years sustained high rate of share volume turnover has unfailingly developed within less than one year after the end of each major bear market," according to Wright Investors' Service. The company adds that high volume "almost unfailingly preceded by a year or more the high water mark of the bull market advance." With the current advance still "10 per cent below the old high and with volume turnover rate close to the 20-year record, Wright believes "there is no indication of a substantial near-term decline in either market volume or price."

"We are still in the phase where bad business now is good for the stock market," Hoppin, Watson & Co. observes. The company says the bad news "forces the Fed to continue pumping money and brings the administration to a position where it must consider repealing some of the deliberately destructive acts it so ill-advisedly signed into law in the infamous, opposition-sponsored tax reform bill of 1969."

Chickens Help Scientists Learn About Cancer Causes

By DAVID HENDIN
NEA Science Editor
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (NEA)—Scientists in a private laboratory here are doing research on chickens and other small animals in order to gain a greater understanding of the causes — and possible cures of human cancer.

Current cancer treatments center around removing or killing cancerous tumors with surgery, drugs or radiation. But, working on the theory that some or all human cancers may be caused by viruses, Dr. Vincent Groupe and his staff at Life Sciences Incorporated (LSI) are conducting experiments designed to overcome the cancer virus rather than merely eliminating its results — cancerous tumors.

Viruses are known to cause cancer in animals but there is still no proof that these—the tiniest of living particles, cause the disease in humans. It is thought that, perhaps irritation by drugs or radiation, for example, may trigger dormant viruses and thus set off a reaction that ultimately results in cancerous growth.

Dr. Richard Donovick, LSI researcher, explains that since

CHICKENS RAISED in ultra-clean cubicles are used as research tools in man's fight against some forms of cancer.

It is obviously impractical to do basic cancer experimentation in man, "you take the nearest biological model to man for a

"There are some differences, of course, but they are relatively minor," he says. "The object is to find an animal that has a disease that will mimic, as nearly as possible, a similar disease in man.

"This has to be tempered with several factors, such as the time required for the disease to develop. And the animal has to be practical to keep in the laboratory."

One model that Dr. Donovick is using in his work is a disease in chickens called Rous sarcoma. Rous sarcoma, a type of cancer, has been found to be caused by a virus and, he says, "is a dead ringer for Hodgkins disease in man."

The scientists are screening a large number of chemicals in the hope of finding a few that show promise toward killing or inhibiting the growth of the Rous Sarcoma virus. They are hampered by the fact that they are mainly a biological laboratory and as such do not have access to the myriad of available substances that are constantly being discovered by chemists.

It is possible that an obscure dye or other chemical substance will prove to be the virus-killing drug they seek. Thus the scientists here are anxious to collaborate with companies that have large numbers of varied chemicals available.

The Rous sarcoma virus causes a solid tumor but LSI researchers are also working on the leukoses — blood cancers, such as human leukemia. One model for the study of these blood cancers is Marek's disease in chickens. A major economic problem for the poultry industry, Marek's disease resembles a form of human leukemia called Burkett's Lymphoma.

The virus thought to be associated with the disease has been seen but not yet isolated. LSI is working under a National Cancer Institute grant to "isolate and characterize the virus that causes Marek's disease," Dr. Groupe says.

In recent weeks the United States Department of Agriculture has announced the licensing of a vaccine that protects chickens against the development of tumors associated with Marek's disease. Scientists here continue study of the disease and viruses associated with it in the hope of applying knowledge gained in this area to human cancer research.

By CARL A. VINES
OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UPI)—The Russians got the jump on the United States several years ago in the field of nuclear fusion for generating power.

"The Russians decided to keep their device as simple as possible," says Dr. Herman Postma, a slender young researcher from Wilmington, N.C., who has been at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory for about 11 years.

"The United States took a different route, looking for a more sophisticated device. The Russian approach showed promise. Ours didn't," Postma said.

So the United States decided to borrow the Russian idea.

The result is Ormak, a machine patterned after the Russian Tokamak, using a doughnut-shaped chamber as the central fuel cell. In this gold-plated, stainless steel chamber is a gas made up of isotopes of hydrogen, tritium and deuterium.

Ormak will not produce fusion to any significant degree if at all. But it will give scientists a look at the plasma characteristics of ionized hydrogen isotopes.

When the real thing comes along the gas will be heated to 50 to 100 million degrees so that the fusion reaction can take place fast enough to do some good, Postma says.

Nuclear power generation, whether it be fission or fusion, seems so exotic to the lay mind that it is well to stop a moment and recall that there is no difference in the basic generating principle between a nuclear device and a coal-fired steam generating plant.

Those of this group who were of the required age entered the Water Safety Instructor Course taught by Mrs. Gerald Marlar.

MARYSVILLE, Calif. — Sgt. Lynne M. Cannon has become the Air Force's first approved mother-to-be.

Mrs. Cannon, the wife of S. Sgt. Gary Cannon, has won an appeal to remain in the service after the birth of a child due about April 7. She agreed she would be available to worldwide assignment with the Air Force, with child care her own responsibility.

Public Information director for Ft. Worth, Chapter.

Mrs. Lois Stephens RN came by the Red Cross office last week for supplies for a class in Modified Mother & Baby Care that she is teaching to hospital workers at Canadian Hospital. Mrs. Stephens has a class each month for nurses at the hospitals on many other items than their regular hospital routine. Mrs. Stephens is a Red Cross nurse and her training in Red Cross helps her with this outside work.

Ten layettes were completed and brought to the chapter this week by the Pythian Sisters with Mrs. O.G. Smith, president of the group. This is the third year that the Lodge has helped Red Cross with this project. The layettes were sent to the U.S. Darnell Hospital at Ft. Hood. The layettes are given to servicemen's families when there is a need for such items. A layette is composed of one dozen diapers, diaper pins, 1 double blanket, 2 single blankets, 2 baby shirts, one diaper shirt and 2 gowns. The Red Cross is very grateful for the work done by this organization each year.

The Red Cross is a man of woman stopping his car to give first aid to a person who had been hit by another car. Because the person was not breathing, he immediately began to give artificial respiration and other first aid procedures. The attending physician later stated that the rescuer's correct first aid procedures had made it possible for the young woman to arrive at the hospital alive. Over a hundred people in Pampa have taken Standard First Aid this year. Would you know what to do if you should come upon a wreck with people needing first aid? Call the Red Cross office and register for our next class.

Youth Center Wrapup & Schedule

DOLPHIN SWIM CLUB — The Center has recently organized the Dolphin swim club for the purpose of entering into competitive swimming. The Dolphins meet each open day at 6:00 p.m. to work out and the club would invite any boy or girl 8 years of age or older to participate.

The Dolphins will be entering several swim meets during the remaining months. During the school year the meets are scheduled on Saturday and Sundays. During the summer months there will be several outdoor meets on the weekends. The club has already entered several meets and have placed in all of them.

MEMBERSHIPS — Our method of operating financial wise is through a membership plan. The Center is not tax supported in any way and must sustain its own operation by means of a charge for membership and use of the facilities. The cost for memberships though are so economical that everyone can afford them.

The Center offers two types of memberships for those interested, the limited and unlimited. The limited membership is for those who like to play in the gym, swim, or use the recreation hall, but does not want to use the health facilities. This membership is $5 for six months or $8 per year for an individual. For a family the cost is $12 for six months or $20 per year.

The unlimited membership gives you the same privileges as the limited, but in addition allows you full use of the new facility. The health facility has all the exercise equipment, 2 handball courts and a sauna room. The cost for an individual is $65 for six months or $118 per year. For a husband-wife combination the cost is only $90 for six months or $160.00 per year.

SWIM LESSONS — The final swim lesson schedule for the school year is listed below. This includes the seasonal polywogs class for children that are 4-6 years of age and who measure 33 inches tall to the chin. Parents should carefully check the list and come by and sign their children up. Only a limited number of children will be allowed to enroll in each specific class.

Classes will meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates with the classes lasting one hour. We are closed on Tuesdays during the school year. All classes will be taught by Ruth Carter, our resident water safety instructor. Pampa Teams Busy Over Weekend

Two Tennis Medalists At Perryton Invitational

The Pampa Tennis Teams sophomores carried the major bulk of the lead in the Perryton Invitational Tennis Match held Saturday.

Carol Hom and Pernie Fallon in Girls B Doubles placed second after defeating Ogle and Kuper of Dalhart 6-1, 0-6 and 7-5. In the finals Borger, the winner of the meet, the team of Rawlings and Trout downed the two sophomores 6-1 and 6-3 to capture first place.

This was the first time Hom and Fallon had teamed up for tournament play and the combination seems to be a winner.

In other action Debbie Fletcher advanced to the semi-finals after defeating Blocker of Dalhart 6-1, 6-1 in Girls B Singles. Fletcher lost to Borger's Demond 4-6, 1-6 in the semi-final round.

All of the boys teams lost their matches with Jennings and Walls dropping to Roberts and Timmons of Perryton 6-0, 4-6, and 3-6. Pampa couldn't seem to take hold after gaining a 4-1 advantage in the second set. Neither Walls nor Jennings could take advantage of the wind and were weak on net play.

Susie Stowers gave Walsh of Borger a good match winning the first set 6-1 before dropping the next two 5-7 and 1-6. Each set seemed to be a marathon as almost all of their games were won after deuce play.

Pampa returned with 2 tournament points and two medals. Their next meet will be in White Deer the 23rd.

Pampa Track Second In Field Of Six Schools

Through dust and sleet and snow and hail the Harvesters participate in track. Unlike football or baseball or other sports the Harvester track squad has been in all of their meets this season with determination and cold feet.

Temperature and wind seem to hinder a lot of sports, but not the track team. Battling 50 to 65 mile an hour winds the Perryton Invitational Track Meet went like clockwork.

The Harvesters finished second with a total of 115 points. Caprock won the meet with a total of 122 points and Borger came in third with 105.

Harvester Lewis Davis losing for the first time this season in the shot put had a throw of 53'8" but a toss of 57" by a Liberal youth took first honors.

Garvin McCarroll suffering from a pulled muscle managed to anchor the 440 Relay team to a second place finish along with Dennis Stowers, Ronnie Roland and Richard McCampbell.

In the 220 Yard Dash three Pampa runners qualified including McCarroll. Rick McGuire finished fifth and Richard McCampbell ran sixth.

The Mile Relay, the big event in most meets was won by Pampa with a time of 3:37. Pampa's team consists of Rick McGuire, Dennis Stowers, Terry Riddle and Bobby Owen.

Lewis Davis placed first in the Discus to gain Pampa's second first ribbon with a throw of 145'6". In the High Jump Freddy Wilbon was sixth, and the Broad Jump found Harvester Tommy Downs in fourth place.

Harry Miller Signs With Wichita State

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Harry Miller, who came to North Texas State University a year ago as head basketball coach, Saturday signed a four-year contract to head the sagging basketball fortunes of Wichita State University.

"My decision was based primarily on professional advancement, a sizeable increase in salary and the basketball facilities already available in Wichita," Miller said.

Miller's decision caught officials of North Texas State by surprise. NTSU had hired Miller only a year ago from Eastern New Mexico—where his team won an NAIA championship in 1969.

"The move took me somewhat by surprise," said NTSU athletic director Rod Rust. "Coach Miller seemed to be particularly attuned to our type of program. We are extremely sorry to lose a coach of Miller's capabilities. He is the type of coach we like having here. We will take steps immediately to fill the vacancy."

Miller had only a one-year contract at North Texas.

He said he would move to Wichita "as soon as I clear my desk." He said he would take over his new job no later than April 1.

Wichita Athletic Director Cecil Coleman said Miller had signed a four-year contract with the Wheatshockers, who finished last in the Missouri Valley Conference last season. Miller will replace Gary Thompson, who Coleman fired after the season.

In joining Coleman, Miller will be working with the man who was his athletic director while he was basketball coach at Fresno State.

While at Fresno Miller's teams compiled 96-40 record. At Eastern New Mexico his clubs were 104-37 over five years. His North Texas team this past season had a 30-15 record.

"I appreciate the opportunity North Texas provided me," said Miller. "My only regret was that we were not more successful last season. It has been a great privilege for me to be associated with the athletes at North Texas. They are a fine group of young men."

Top Ranked UCLA Almost Loses Before Defeating Long Beach St.

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Top-ranked UCLA overcame an 11-point deficit in the second half behind the shooting of Henry Bibby and Steve Patterson to emerge with a 57-55 win over valiant Long Beach State Saturday in the finals of the NCAA Far West regionals.

All American Sidney Wicks sank four consecutive free throws in the final 25 seconds to clinch the regional championship for the Bruins and earn a trip to the NCAA finals next week at Houston, Tex.

The Bruins, winning their 26th straight NCAA tournament game, will go against Kansas Thursday night in the NCAA semifinals at the Astrodome. Villanova and Western Kentucky will meet in the other semifinal.

The 6-foot-8 Wicks dropped in two free throws with 25 seconds remaining to break a 53-53 deadlock and give the Bruins a 55-53 lead. The forward then dropped in two more with 12 seconds left to clinch the victory.

The defeat was a heart-breaker for the 49ers who led most of the way and were seeking to avenge an humiliating 88-65 loss to UCLA last year in the same regionals.

UCLA, hitting only 23 per cent of their shots in the first half, put together a rally midway in the second half and finally caught Long Beach State at 50-50 on a 30-foot jump shot by Bibby with 6:06 remaining.

Long Beach had opened a 44-43 lead early in the second half on the shooting of George Trapp and Ed Ratleff. Then the Bruins pulled to within four, 46-42, with nine straight points including five by Bibby and two layins by Patterson.

Ratleff, a 6-6 sophomore sensation, fouled out with 5:23 remaining and 18 points to his credit.

He was high for the 14th ranked 49ers followed by Trapp with 15 and Chuck Terry with 11

Wicks led UCLA with 18. Curtis Rowe had 12 and Bibby had 11, including 10 in the second half.

The 49ers grabbed their first lead midway through the first half on Bernard Williams' jump shot which made it 15-14.

From there, Long Beach moved to a 23-20 lead and left the floor at the half with a 31-27 margin.

A driving layup by Terry followed by a pair of quick field goals and a free throw by Ratleff had moved Long Beach to a 25-20 lead. UCLA closed to within two points of the 49ers in the closing seconds of the half on a corner jumper by Wicks and a pair of free throws and layup by Rick Betchley. In the Far West consolation game, Paul Scheidegger hit four free throws in the final two minutes to preserve University of Pacific's 84-81 victory over Brigham Young for third place.

Drake was on the verge of winning its second regional title in three years when the Bulldogs uncorked a 12-point blitz midway in the first half, erecting a 31-19 lead from a 19-19 tie.

The Big Eight champion Jayhawks finally tied the game at 55-55 when Robisch sank a free throw 8 1-2 minutes from the end.

Drake, led by Leon Huff's 20 points, fell behind by as many as five points with 3:45 to go, but had a chance to tie it when Kivisto missed a free throw with 1:22 to go. But Jeff Halliburton's 20-foot shot went awry and the two free throws at the end assured the Jayhawks of their first trip to the NCAA finals since 1957. Whit Chamberlain's sophomore year.

Brown had 15 for Kansas, 13 in the second half, while Stallworth added 13. Halliburton finished with 17 and Tom Bush 16 for Drake.

Houston, led by Poo Welch's 38 points, set a regional tournament scoring record with a 119-106 victory over Notre Dame in the consolation game.

Kansas' victory was sealed when Bob Kivisto sank a free throw with 17 seconds to play and Roger Brown added another one a second later, but it was Robisch who brought the Jayhawks from behind.

Robisch scored 27 points, but 19 came in the second half. He was Kansas' lone scoring threat after Bud Stallworth fogged out with 14:45 to go and Pierre Russell followed at the 5:55

Woods Helps A & M With A Meet Record

DALLAS (UPI)—Rockie Woods won two individual events and ran on the winning 440-yard relay team to lead Texas A&M to an easy victory in a quadrangular track meet Saturday.

Woods set a meet record in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 14.0, tied a meet mark in the 100-yard dash at 9.4 and anchored the relay team to a meet record 40.7 in the 440.

The Aggies garnered 73 points for the afternoon to 45 for SMU. TCU had 31 and Texas Tech scored 25.

The Mustangs' Jimmy and Doug Whaley raced across the tape in a dead-heat in the mile run in 4:13.2 and Joe Pouncy picked up first place points in the 220-yard dash with a 21.6 dash.

Other meet records were set by A&M's Harold McMahan in the pole vault with a leap of 15-6. Don Keller (A&M) in the 440-yard hurdles in 32.7, Bill Thomas (SMU) in the discus throw with a 164-6 1/2 effort and David Quisenberry (TCU) in the high jump, clearing 6-8.

Western Kentucky Defeats Ohio 80 to 78 In Overtime

By DAVID MOFFITT
UPI Sports Writer

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—The Western Kentucky Hilltoppers, trailing by 14 points late in the first half, beat Ohio State, 81-78, in overtime Saturday to win the NCAA Midwest Regional championship and a berth in next week's finals at Houston, Tex.

The Hilltoppers put the game into overtime by tying it at 69-69 all with 11 seconds to go on a short jumper by junior guard Tex Bailey and took the lead for good 53 seconds before the overtime period ended when senior Clarence Glover followed up a missed shot by high scorer Jim McDaniels and dropped it in for a 77-76 lead.

The Hilltoppers widened their lead to three points 19 seconds later on a jumper by senior Jim Rose and then clinched the victory with two last second free throws by Glover.

The seventh-ranked Hilltoppers, winners of the Ohio Valley Conference, had to overcome an 18-point first half deficit to defeat Jacksonville University the previous Saturday, 74-72, in advancing to the Midwest Regional. They swept past the University of Kentucky, 10-83, in Thursday night's semifinals.

Ohio State, 10th-ranked and the Big Ten champion, had advanced to Saturday's finals with a 60-59 upset over second-ranked Marquette, ending the Warriors' 39-game winning streak.

Marquette beat Kentucky, 91-74, Saturday in the Midwest Regionals consolation game.

McDaniels, a 7-foot senior and second team All-America center, scored 31 points Saturday to give him a total of 66 in the two regional games.

All of the other four Western Kentucky starters were in double figures with Bailey scoring 14 points, Rose 13, Jerry Dunn 12 and Glover 11.

Sophomore guard Allan Hornyak was high scorer for Ohio State with 26 points while another Buckeye sophomore, 7-foot Luke Witte, had 23.

Virginia Squires Capture ABA Eastern Division Title

By United Press International

The Virginia Squires have captured the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division title but the Western race looks as if it'll be a dogfight to the very end.

Virginia clinched the Eastern title Friday night as Charlie Scott scored 32 points to lead the Squires past the Carolina Cougars 132-120. But both Utah and Indiana, only percentage points apart in the past, failed to give ground as the clubs headed into the last 10 days of the regular season.

Utah stayed five percentage points in front with a 115-104 victory over the New York Nets while Indiana kept pace by downing the Kentucky Colonels 120-109.

Zelmo Beaty scored 31 points to boost the Stars past New York. Red Robbins had six consecutive points in the last period to push the game out of reach. Rick Barry led the Nets with 36 points.

Bob Netolicky scored 16 of his 28 points in the second period to spark the Pacers past Kentucky. Netolicky moved to center when Mel Daniels got into foul trouble and helped Indiana erupt for a 40-point burst in the quarter.

Utah is now 53-23 with eight games remaining and the Stars have the worst of the schedule, playing seven of those games in an eight-night span. The Pacers have a 54-24 mark with six games left. They face each other only once, on Monday night at Indiana.

In the only other ABA game, rookie Joe Hamilton scored 21 of his 32 points in the last period to lift the Texas Chaps to a 128-116 victory over the Memphis Pros. The victory left Texas tied for fourth place in the West with Denver, with each team having seven games left.

Golden Glove Stars Move To Semifinals

PORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Defending middleweight champion Larry Ward of Milwaukee and defending light heavyweight champion Felton Woods won decisions Saturday to advance to the semifinals of the 1971 National Golden Gloves.

Quarterfinal bouts were held Saturday in five weight classes with additional quarterfinal and semifinal bouts scheduled for Saturday night.

At the end of the afternoon action Fort Worth, Tex., and Charlotte, N.C., were tied for the lead for the team championship with 15 points each. Fort Worth had five fighters left in contention while Charlotte was reduced to four.

Woods moved into the semifinals with a decision over Arnold Barbosa of Los Angeles while Ward kept his hopes alive for another national title in the middleweight class with a decision over Joe Blakely of Las Vegas.

Larry Carlisle of Charlotte, who was the 1969 AAU welterweight champion, moved into the semifinals in that class with a decision over Tommy Van Hatten of Fort Worth.

In the heavyweight division favorite Nick Wells of Fort Worth advanced to the semifinals with his third straight technical knockout.

Wells scored Saturday's quarterfinal victory over David McKay of Jackson, Tenn., scoring a TKO in 1:29 of the second round.

Longhorns' Spring Scrimmage Led By Eddie Phillips

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas quarterback Eddie Phillips ran for 89 yards in nine carries Saturday and led the first team to two touchdowns in seven attempts in the Longhorns first spring scrimmage.

Phillips threw seven passes and completed only one during the scrimmage and two of his passes were intercepted.

Freshman quarterback Rob Riviere took over the first team briefly, and led the squad to one touchdown in two possessions.

The afternoon's three touchdowns were scored by Don Burris on a three-yard run, by Bobby Callison from one yard out and by Donnie Wiggington on a 34-yard run.

Burris gained 78 yards in 13 carries while Callison gained 70 yards in 14 carries and Jim Bertelsen got 70 yards in 13 tries.

"It was ragged," said Coach Darrell Royal, "just like you would expect the first spring scrimmage to be. But I knew I would be upset some of the time and pleased other times."

He said he was pleased with the defensive play of Donald Ealey, a junior college transfer from Austin, at linebacker.

ina's bases loaded single and the third on an error.

Texas tied it in the sixth but Tech scored two in the seventh on a single, a misjudged flyball, an error and a wild pitch.

Robert Geurin picked up his second win without a loss and John Langerhans evened his record at 1-1. Texas is now 3-3 in conference play and Tech is 1-2.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rod Laver stood astride the tennis world today with an achievement that topped his two grand slams and would have broken the bank at Las Vegas, Nev., if the odds-makers had laid a line against him.

Laver completed perhaps the most spectacular "slam" in tennis history when he defeated Tom Okker of Holland, 7-5, 6-2, 6-1, at Madison Square Garden Friday night to give him 13 victories in 13 matches in the tennis champions classic.

Competing against the greatest tennis players in the world, Laver won 11 straight $10,000-winner-take-all matches, won a 12th match for $15,000 and beat Okker in the 13th match for a prize of $35,000. That gave him total earnings of $160,000 from sweeping through 13 matches unbeaten.

Laver, who twice won the classic "grand slam" of tennis—the United States, French, Wimbledon and Australian championships—was never in serious trouble although Okker took the first set to sudden death. Laver simply had too much power and all-around court skills for Okker to cope with.

Rod Laver Is Tennis King After Grand Slam Victory

It was so unlikely that Las Vegas odds-makers refused to issue a line on it when officials of tennis champions classic asked for one last January. The odds-makers said the odds against a sweep were "astronomical."

"I played some of the best tennis I ever played," said Laver, commenting on the victory over Okker. "I noticed that Tom's backhand was extremely sharp so I moved to his forehand and it paid off. I don't believe I have ever had better concentration in a match."

"He made me work so hard it took me 10 minutes to win my own service," said Okker, who earned $15,000 for his night's work. "The way I play him, I just can't seem to beat him."

A crowd of 8,322 saw Laver wrap up his night's work in an hour and 15 minutes.

Unearned Runs Give Texas Tech Victory

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Tech scored three unearned runs and Texas stranded 14 runners Saturday as the Red Raiders beat the Longhorns 6-4.

Tech got two runs in the first on a home run by Doug Ault and two more in the second on a walk, a pair of errors and two passed balls by catcher Pat Thompson. Texas scored three in the third on Amador Tjjer-

Michaud Plans Journey Of Man Over The World

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA) —Why anyone would want to climb a defenseless mountain has been a point of debate since the first Pithecanthropus stood Erectus. The notion that, well, it is simply there does not suffice for Mitch Michaud. He climbs mountains for mankind.

Last year, he succeeded in scaling the highest point in each of the 50 states. He wanted to show his fellow man that the rat race down below was egregious folly, at best. He wanted to demonstrate that man was hatched to breathe air instead of carbon monoxide, to gaze at sunsets instead of traffic lights, to tramp over rocks instead of pedestrians' feet.

His dream did not altogether fit the reality. Loaded with a Himalayan backpack, he went first to Florida. What passes for the highest point there was this overblown mole hill on a county highway. As he stood there, triumphantly stroking his fine full beard, a big bus bore down. Michaud leaped out of the way and saved his life and, he hopes, the future of ecology in America.

From there he made higher and higher points, including 43 days on Mt. McKinley, 11 in a snow cave while a 35-knot-an-hour wind and an 18-below-zero temperature made visions of a suburban fireside hearth not all that unpalatable.

Undaunted, Michaud is embarking on a new project. It is called "The Journey of Man," a three-year trek from Alaska to the tip of South America. He plans to travel with groups ranging from a handful to several hundred, on foot, in kayak, dogsled, raft and, the lone concession to Yankee mechanical ingenuity, the bicycle. Oh, yes, he will also travel with a shotgun through part of Alaska. It seems some grizzly bears are as friendly to environmentalists as your local litterbug.

Michaud will make studies of wildlife, take photographs of the environment and produce 12 television specials. Most important, however, he will be communing with nature.

"Some people ask what I'm running away from," Michaud said. "That's not it at all. I'm running to something. A better life."

In a way, however, Michaud has turned off one road and taken another. He said he was tired of "chasing the false idols of money, big house, big car." He wants to make life an art. "So many big men, big businessmen have told me how much they wish they could drop everything and come with us," said Michaud. "They tell me they envy me, that I have a system to beat the system. But they now have too much of their lives invested in their pursuits. They can't do it. But I've found people aren't buying things like a trip to the moon. It's not a part of our lives, really. People are getting into the environmental thing and relating to it."

One of the most touching experiences on his last expedition, he said, occurred at the highest point in Kansas. It is honorifically called Mt. Sunflower, but is actually just a little rise in a farmer's field. The day he stood at that Kansas summit, local schools had been let out for the day and 500 curiosity seekers and a brass band turned out.

A joyous community effort, recalls Michaud. He would like to expand such ecstasy worldwide. He says that he never remembers the mountains or the babbling brooks or the sunsets, but he does remember the people that he climbed with.

No, wait, he does recall one particular sunset. He and his 19-year-old stepson, Peter Ericson, had spent four days packing out after their climb of King's Peak in Utah. They were two miles from their vehicle. Peter said he wanted to rest. Michaud said he'd continue and come back to pick up Peter.

When Michaud returned he noticed that Peter was nestled up in a tree and watching a beautiful orange sunset. This kind of return to nature is what Michaud's "Journey of Man" trip is all about.

One other thing about that poetic vignette, Michaud also noticed a very mean moose standing under that tree.

Super Bowl Site To Be Selected Monday

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—National Football League club owners gather here Monday to settle on a site for next year's Super Bowl, consider several proposed rule changes and try to make a coin flip "as remote as possible" as a way of breaking a tie for a playoff berth.

The annual owners meetings are scheduled to last at least through Thursday at the plush Oceanside Breakers Hotel. In attendance will be League Commissioner Pete Rozelle and other executives as well as owners and presidents of the 26 league teams.

A decision is expected late Tuesday or Wednesday on the site of the Super Bowl game between the champions of the American and National Conferences.

Tuesday, the owners will hear presentations from seven groups representing six cities seeking the game. Two of the groups are from Houston, one wanting to stage the game in the Astrodome and the other plugging Rice Stadium.

The other cities bidding for the game are Dallas, Los Angeles—where the first Super Bowl was played—New Orleans, where the 1970 game was played, Jacksonville, Fla., and Miami, which had the game this year and in 1968 and 1969.

The bids will be based largely on available facilities and the size of the television audience which would have to be blacked out locally. Gov. Reubin Askew of Florida and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes of Texas are scheduled to appear before the owners to plug for their states.

The rules changes proposed include adopting the two-point conversion option after a touchdown, by running or passing instead of kicking. The old American league used this for all of its 10 years but the option was dropped when the league merged.

The owners will also consider a rule providing for return of the ball to the previous line of scrimmage following a touch-back on a field goal attempt from outside the 20-yard line. The current rule places the ball at the 20 in this situation and the defensive team takes possession.

The owners will also be presented with recommendations from a four-man committee which has been studying the problem of how to best decide ties in choosing teams for the post-season playoffs. In 1970,

Fishing Tips For Windy Texas Days Help All Anglers

Early season fishing is often exceptional during periods of a rising barometer. Yet this same condition sometimes brings high winds that blow all but the most experienced anglers off the water.

There's nothing more frustrating than to have your boat drift off a good fishing spot because the anchor won't hold. And many a trip has been spoiled because the angler tired of fighting a never-ceasing wind and headed for the dock.

Fishing success on windy days comes to those who know how to anchor their boat. And fishing experts are passing along some anchoring methods which will work for almost all types of situations. The proper techniques are easy to learn.

First, have the right equipment. Concrete block, rocks, lead sash weights, and similar pseudo-anchors just won't hold in a strong wind. A heavy, hook-type anchor, weighing at least 15 pounds, is preferred. To this attach at least 50 feet of 3/4-inch non-twist nylon rope. Smaller diameter rope is difficult to work with, especially under windy conditions. Next, clamp a large self-locking pulley at one side of the transom.

In a light wind drop the anchor ahead of where you want to fish. It's best to slow the motor, let the anchor reach bottom, then pay out most of the rope. The long rope will absorb most of the boat's pull caused by the wind, letting the anchor rest without sliding, even on a sandy bottom.

The technique for an extremely strong wind calls for two anchors and two pulleys. Imagine a triangle, with the anchors serving as opposite points of the base, and your boat as the apex. To place the anchors, first motor to the exact spot you want the boat when you fish. Then, carefully back to the one point of the base line. Drop an anchor. Then motor slowly to the second point on the base and drop the second anchor. These should be eight to 10 feet apart. Now move to your fishing spot and clamp down on both anchor lines. If winds cause the boat to drift, pay out more rope to release strain on the anchors.

Pampa Dolphin's Compete In Oklahoma And New Mex.

Several Pampa Dolphin Swim Club members have been traveling outside of the West Texas area to compete in area meets. Krista Marlar (8-under) took 3rd place in the 50-yard Backstroke and 5th place in the 50-yard Free Style in the Sooner Swim Club midwinter meet in Norman, Okla., last weekend.

The Dolphin swim team has been working out daily at the Youth Center with training schedules developed by Bill Norman, Okla., last weekend. Several weeks ago another Dolphin, Ted Brown, (11-12 age group) took 1st place in the 100-yard Fly, 3rd place in the 100-yard Free Style, and placed within the top 6 places in five other events in the 3rd Annual Y.M.C.A. Meet in Roswell, New Mexico.

This weekend Krista Marlar and Lynn Hoyer will be traveling to Norman, Okla., again to compete in the Kerr-McGee winter swim meet. The Dolphin swim team has been working out daily at the Youth Center with training schedules developed by Bill Sargent and Don Klepper, both of whom have had coaching and/or competitive swimming experience. The whole team is preparing for the West Texas Age Group Championship in Amarillo on the 27th and 28th of March, and the Junior Olympics to be held in Lubbock on the 1st and 2nd of May.

Two Pampa Cagers Selected For All-South Plains Team

By WALT McALEXANDER
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
The Class AAAA All-South Plains cage unit was evenly divided with five juniors and five seniors making the squad.

Ten different teams — from Pampa and Borger in the Panhandle to Midland and Odessa in the South — are represented on the team, the first AAAA unit ever picked by the Avalanche-Journal.

Coach of the Year honors remained in Lubbock, with Lubbock High's Doyle Edmiston and Monterey's Joe Michalka sharing the honor.

Edmiston and Michalka's teams tied for second place in the 4-AAAA race with 5-3 ledgers.

But Lubbock High had its first winning record in five years and that 22-9 Westerner record surpassed by five the combined total of LHS triumphs the previous four seasons. And the Westerners had only one full-time and two part-time starters back from 1969-70. The three loop setbacks were by a combined four points.

up a 24-7 mark, including 15 straight triumphs.

Other coaches considered for the award were Pampa's Robert McPherson, a former Coronado assistant, whose Harvesters won 19 of 32 games and won the 3-AAAA title in his first season and Midland's James Cagle, whose Bulldogs captured their first loop title since 1961. Cagle's teams have improved from 11-21 to 19-16 to this year's 27-6 mark.

Three On Team
District 3-AAAA had three representatives on the team — 5-10 Don Lewis of Palo Duro 6-3 Richard Buntun of Pampa and 6-3 John Ward of Borger — with 4-AAAA also landing three — Lubbock High's 6-8 Mark Davis, Monterey's 6-5 Grady Newton and Plainview's 6-5 Charles Bassett. District 5-AAAA had four picks, Midland's 6-4 Gary Brewster, Permian's 6-2 Larry Thornhill and Cooper's 6-0 Sammy Walker.

Newton, Brewster, Swedberg, Buntun and Lewis are juniors. Davis led the team in scoring and rebounding with 572 points and 432 ricochets. Lewis had the fewest points and rebounds with 190 and 50, respectively, but played in only 10 games.

The Palo Duro guard became eligible after the first semester.

With his guidance PD finished second in league play with a 7-3 mark and Lewis was second in scoring with a 19.0 mark — losing out to Pampa's Mike Edgar on the final game by a scant point.

253 Rebounds
Bassett hit on 204 of 447 field goals and 96 of 130 free shots, and grabbed 253 rebounds on the 31-2 Bulldogs. Newton hit on 137 of 242 shots, 142 of 187 free throws, had 247 rebounds, 36 steals, 115 assists and 81 blocks.

Davis hit on 224 of 420 field goals, had 32 assists, 74 steals and 85 blocked shots. Brewster managed 193 field goals on 282 attempts, 78 of 117 free shots, had 324 rebounds and 50 assists for the 27-6 Bulldogs.

Walker hit on 199 of 448 field goals, 138 of 203 free shots, and 192 assists and amazing 341 rebounds, considering his position — guard — and height — 6-0. Swedberg hit on 174 of 344 field goals, 79 of 112 free shots, 360 rebounds and blocked 104 shots for a 23-7 team. He also made three All-Tournament teams.

Thornhill had an 18.2 district average and 16.7 season norm, hitting on 208 field goals and 117 free shots and grabbing 352 rebounds for a 9-22 team. John Ward hit on 55 per cent of his shots and averaged 15.3 points on the year for an 11-19 team. He also had 270 rebounds and a 78 per cent reading from the floor.

Buntun had 433 points and 334 rebounds. Plus, he managed 160 steals and 85 assists for the 19-13 Harvesters.

Season Ticket Sales Soar For West Texas Buffaloe's

CANYON, Tex. — Season football requests for West Texas State University's 1971 home schedule continue to flow in at a record pace. Mrs. Mary Greiner, athletic ticket manager, said Friday.

Through Thursday, replies reserving 1,037 seats have been received. Renewal order cards were mailed only two weeks ago to last season's 2,407 football season ticket holders.

"Not in the 12 years I have been employed in this office has there been this much early interest," said Mrs. Greiner. Of the tickets reserved, payment has been received for 150, totaling $4,500.

West Texas State's Buffaloes meet six home opponents in 1971. The Buffs, under new head coach Gene Mayfield, open the season on the road against Missouri Valley Conference favorite Memphis State Sept. 11 in Memphis, Tenn.

The first home game is Sept. 18 against Lamar Tech. Other home games are Oct. 2 against Tulsa, Oct. 9 against University of Texas at Arlington, Oct. 16 against Northern Illinois, Oct. 23 against Idaho and Nov. 20 against Drake.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

Water, Inc. has, for several years, made in depth studies on finding regions of excess water that might be willing to share with water hungry West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. The Mississippi River is our most likely source. We are currently waiting for a report by the Corps of Engineers on a possible surplus of water from the Mississippi.

Last week we carried a portion of the address by Brigadier General H. R. Parfitt, Commander of the Southwestern Division Corps of Engineers dealing with the import plan. This week we are carrying a further portion of the address made on February 19, 1971 at the Annual Meeting Water Inc.

The Bureau of Reclamation and the Southwestern Division, through our Fort Worth District, and the Southwestern Division, through our Fort Worth District, are investigating necessary storage facilities, conveyance canals, pumping plants, terminal storage reservoirs to get the water out to the High Plains, and evaluating all of the other economic, environmental, and institutional aspects that go into a planning study of this type.

About a year and a half ago, the Mississippi River Commission stated that they would provide Southwestern Division Corps of Engineers and the Bureau with the first preliminary data on water surplus in the Mississippi River by January, 1971. Mississippi River Commission has met that schedule, but in submitting the information it was emphasized that the key word is "preliminary."

The Mississippi River Commission's preliminary figures on water availability are now being reviewed by the lower Mississippi Valley states, the Corps of Engineers, the Bureau of Reclamation and members of the staff of the Mississippi River Commission. Public release of information on the results of the water availability studies has been limited to some remarks that Major General A.P. Rollins, President of the Commission, made at the annual meeting of the lower Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association in New Orleans in December, and a talk presented by Mr. Fred Bayley, Asst. Chief, Planning Division, Mississippi River Commission, to the West Texas Water Institute in Lubbock on Feb. 5, 1971.

General Rollins stated then that, even though his staff had not completed its preliminary studies, two points had become fairly evident. First, he said that minimum flows in the Mississippi River are not sufficient to meet all the needs in the Valley States at this time, and this situation is not expected to improve within the foreseeable future; and second, even during the high water seasons surplus flows may not be available in all years.

Mr. Bayley in his remarks stated that "some preliminary figures have been developed which indicated that a surplus above the 50 year demands will occur in some high-flow months, and that in many months the flows will not be sufficient to meet the demands of the Mississippi River."

This is admittedly rather sparse information and can't be used to make any informed judgments. However, before you jump to the conclusion that a year has gone by with very little in the way of progress having been made, let me elaborate briefly on the scope, magnitude and complexity of the efforts of the Mississippi River Commission staff.

The starting point of the study was the flow records of the Mississippi River, which date back to 1928. These historical flows had to be adjusted for (1) changes that have already taken place that affect the hydrologic characteristics of the river and (2) additional changes or increased withdrawals from contributing streams that are likely to occur by 2020.

Then the demands or needs of the entire lower Mississippi Region had to be estimated. Included in these are cooling water for power; municipal and industrial water supply; fish and wildlife including the Bays and Estuaries; water quality, prevention of salt water intrusion; navigation, irrigation and marsh restoration. These needs also had to be projected to 2020. Involved in the process were estimating the population of the area, the standard of living and the industrial growth to be experienced in the period. Further complicating the analysis was the need to incorporate recognition of the seasonality of certain demands, such as agriculture which needs water primarily in July and August.

Fortunately Mississippi River Commission was able to call upon and receive assistance from a great number of experts in specialty fields. To name a few: The Federal Power Commission, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of Agriculture, The National Marine Fisheries Service, Gulf South Research Institute, Coastal Studies Institute at Louisiana State University, and Agencies of all of the states in the lower Mississippi Valley.

Finally, historically adjusted flows were compared to projected demands to determine whether a surplus or deficit condition existed and the probability of experiencing surplus flows in the future. These are the preliminary findings that are now being reviewed.

I hope that what I have said explains why the current information developed is considered as working figures subject to refinement and revision and consequently not yet ready for release.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

We have just completed our 1970 Result Demonstration Handbooks. We have printed what we think is twelve of the best result demonstrations that we have printed in some time. Much of the data this year has to do with irrigation. We have three demonstrations showing the cost of pumping water at three different rates. All of the power plants were using 834 Roline engines. The pumping level was practically the same. Some very interesting observations were made in this field. We hope in 1971 to run some further checks on other wells in Gray County. We hope to run a test on some dual Chrysler setups that have about the same static water level as the ones we have printed in our 1970 Result Demonstration Handbooks. Abe Lewis has a new well with a dual Chrysler setup and we hope to run a test on this well, since this setup is becoming quite popular. We have a water meter that we installed into the regular eight-inch aluminum pipe system. We can read the water meter and calibrate it to the usage of natural gas. After these facts have been determined, a farmer can pretty well determine the amount of water he is pumping by the amount of gas he has used. This makes for not only interesting data but very educational data to the farmer. By using this method he can determine how many acre inches of water he is applying on a particular crop at a given time. Two other very interesting and educational demonstrations. One is an economic study of a tailwater system that has worked well for the owner, showing the economics or feasibility of this setup. We might point out the figures are most impressive in favor of such a tailwater system. There is much talk now of installing tailwater system for more reasons than just to save lost water. One reason pointed out in the demonstration was the fact that it is rather dangerous to change water at 2 a.m. in the morning... you could step on a rattlesnake because they like to get next to the cool pipe after a hot day. And, it helps a fellow's disposition the following day if he doesn't have to get up to make a water change at midnight or 3 a.m. in the morning. Probably one of the best advantages of a tailwater system is the fact that on the light soil which we farm in this area, we must have runoff to get proper penetration. And, by recirculating at a very low cost, if you have electricity, you can get the proper penetration desired at a very economical fee. The last demonstration in this handbook we would recommend for every irrigation farmer or any farmer interested in putting in irrigation. It shows the actual cost of producing an acre of milo. There is no guess work in these figures. They are as nearly accurate as we think they can be made. And it will surprise you to know how much it does cost. I asked two or three different irrigation farmers what they considered it cost them to produce an acre of milo and I had guesses from thirty-five to fifty dollars an acre. I am sure they were not considering the interest on investment on land nor the irrigation equipment, overhead, taxes, and what have you. In this demonstration we have, it shows all of the cost... the actual cost. Would you believe that it would cost twenty-eight dollars and eleven cents to produce one acre of milo. Well that is what this study shows! It does not omit any cost; it has all of them in there. This means you must make approximately five thousand pounds to break even on growing milo. We thought you might be interested in some of the major expenditures per acre in growing milo. In this particular demonstration the cost of natural gas was eight dollars and four cents per acre; Depreciation on equipment was thirteen dollars and sixty-two cents an acre; Interest on equipment investment was twelve dollars and twenty-six cents an acre; interest on land fourteen dollars and seventy-six cents an acre; custom work, twelve dollars and twenty-nine cents per acre; harvesting expense, nine dollars per acre; fertilizer, eight dollars and twenty cents; labor seven dollars and thirty-one cents. Several other miscellaneous expenditures that we will not mention are included in this demonstration. If you are interested and would like to have a Result Demonstration Handbook call or drop by our office, we would be very happy to pass one along to you.

Several people dropped by our office last week to get soil testing cartons. This is an excellent time to take care of this chore and get an unbiased opinion of your fertilizer needs from our Lubbock Soil Testing Laboratory. The cost is a very nominal two dollars per sam-

Sherman Attends Meet On Pollution

State Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo attended the Gulf States Legislative Conference on Air Pollution in Tampa, Fla., Thursday through Saturday. Accompanying Sherman were State Senators Barbara Jordan of Houston, A. R. "Babe" Schwartz of Galveston, and Murray Watson of Mart.

The four senators, selected by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes to attend the conference, are members of the new Senate Environmental Matters Committee, in existence for the first time this session.

The purpose of the conference was to provide an opportunity for key legislators from the Gulf Region and adjoining states to learn the extent of the air pollution problem, means of combating the problem, and new state responsibilities defined in the amended Clean Air Act of 1970.

Legislators from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida were in attendance.

Speakers at the conference included Dr. John T. Middleton of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Mr. Lane Kirkpatrick of the Colorado Air Control Commission, and Dr. Arthur Atkinson, Director of the Institute of Urban Health, University of Texas.

Accompanying the Texas delegation were Mrs. Charles Borden of the Texas Air Control Board, Executive Director Hugh Yantis of the Water Quality Board, and Mr. Jack Bowen of the Water Development Board.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Window on the World:

Communist Claims:
Communist Vietnamese diplomats claim the South Vietnamese thrust into Laos is turning into a military debacle and that President Nixon will have to make concessions at the Paris negotiating table in spite of his pledge to make none.

Both Hanoi and Vietcong diplomats say that so far as they are concerned they will keep on insisting on compliance with their negotiating offers the two main points of which are: the setting of a firm deadline for the withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Indochina and the establishment of a provisional coalition cabinet which would hold new elections in South Vietnam.

New Source Sought:
Israel is expected to intensify its efforts toward finding others besides the United States from whom to obtain military equipment and electronics devices. This is a hedge against the possibility the United States will cut back on the shipment of arms and money to Israel as a means of pressuring Tel Aviv to soften its policy on settlement of the Middle East conflict.

Question of Emphasis:
American diplomats in Europe are concerned at the emphasis West German and British governments particularly put on their statements that progress in West-East negotiations over Berlin is essential to convening any European Security Conference as proposed by Moscow. It isn't that the Americans downgrade the importance of Berlin. It is that other talks are going on, too, including the SALT talks in Vienna, and that each is important. The Americans say that if the Western powers continue to over-emphasize Berlin as a condition for a security conference, they could place themselves someday in a position wherein they would appear to be reneging on their own promise.

Happiness Is A New Scout Camp

GIRL SCOUT camping is largely financed by sale of cookies. Cookies are now being sold by the Quivira Council area to help pay for a filter in the pool necessary to open new Scout-

ADULTS AND GIRLS are bubbling with enthusiasm at the prospect of making a dream come true. Sales funds are essential in promoting camping success for this and many years to come. Adult leaders left to right, Mrs. Louis Anthony and Mrs. Charles Walsh, tackled the job of storing and distributing the thousands of boxes of cookies that went on sale Friday. (Staff Photo)

COOKIES SOLD will purchase a filter system for the swimming pool. Preparing for the summer camping season by completing Water Safety Instructor courses are prospective lifeguards at the camp are Senior Girl Scouts.

BECOME A PART of this young world by aiding Girl Scouts in a giant effort to gain benefit from the "growing years". Twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Tate, 1221 W. 18th, get

COOKIE SALES DO much for the young lady selling them. ESA Sorority Organizes Events To Aid MD Research

FIFTEEN VOLUNTEERS FOR MD — Three Pampa firemen, Carl Mann, left, Charlie Davis and Harry Patton, display canisters distributed annually to Pampa businesses to aid in collection of funds for Muscular Dystrophy research. The canisters are collected and distributed by MDAA Greater Plains Chapter as part of the MDAA drive. Firemen services. (Staff Photo)

FISHING PARTNERS — Rand Southard, Pampa High School senior, talks over fishing tips on how to "catch those big ones," with Buddy Hartly, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Rains, 724 S. Barnes. Buddy, a muscular dystrophy patient, plans to attend summer camp sponsored by MDAA Aug. 8-14. Southard, a camp counselor last year, will help direct events at the camp which is located at Ludders. About 60 campers are expected to attend this year. (Staff Photo)

Kappa Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority helps sponsor three special events during the year to finance research and patient services for Muscular Dystrophy patients. The third annual event, the MD Benefit Dance, will start at 9 p.m. Saturday, March 27 at the Pampa Country Club.

This is the third year the chapter has sponsored a dance with all proceeds being used for MD. Last year's dance profits contributed $496 to the MD Fund, according to Mrs. Irvin Hungerford, chapter member.

Mike Russell will provide dance music according to Mrs. Joel Plunk, dance chairman. Tickets are being sold in advance by ESA members, Mrs. Ira Ewley, James Frazier, Horace Henley, Irvin Hungerford, Milton Jones, Glenn McConnell, Joe Miller, Bob Rose, Tommy Sells, Bob Yost, Jerry Thompson, Hunter Chisum, Ray Woodriddle, Jim Ayres, Jerry Dennis, Fern Berry, Norman Sublett, and Joel Plunk.

In last year's canister distribution by Pampa firemen who assisted MDAA and ESA members by placing canisters in all Pampa businesses, $350 was collected.

Members collected $1,600 on the MDAA Drive, $3,346 on the MDAA telethon for the Pampa area and with ESA funds and assistance, purchased three wheel chairs at $350 each, a breathing apparatus for $300, and repaired wheel chairs for MD patients in the Pampa area.

Pampa is a member of the Greater Plains Chapter of MDAA which has 26 counties. Patients in the Greater Plains chapter live in Pampa, Spearman, Gruver, Stinnett, Memphis, Darrouzett, Hooker, Okla., Guyton, Okla., and two in Clarendon.

"All MD patients are offered the flu shots given annually by their physicians and are provided with braces, wheel chairs, lifts and other aids prescribed by physicians of MD patients," Mrs. Hungerford said.

Of the money collected for MD, 75 per cent is sent to New York City to the national headquarters for research, and 25 per cent is allocated for the Greater Plains Chapter.

SUMMER CAMP
"An important part of the patient program is Summer camping. In the Summer of 1970, this $100,000 program was the largest in MDAA history, with a total of 15 special MDAA camps offering Summer events for about 15,000 patients, some of them severely handicapped," Mrs. Hungerford said.

Additionally, hundreds of other patients attended community day camps, at MDAA's expense, as part of the recreation program. We just recently concluded, as a trial project, Winter camping experiment which involved 27 adult patients.

This year the MD Summer Camp will be at "Luders Baptist Incampment," for 60 campers. Camp week is Aug. 8 through 14. Activities will include swimming, fishing,

MD CLINICS
Many of MD Chapters support a clinical facility. There are currently 85 clinics throughout the United States. The one we sponsor and support is in Lubbock. The clinic has the MD patients come in every six months for a check on the progress of the disease. Our MD chapter pays their way and the cost of the visit to the clinic.

In addition, the association currently has on its staff 34 patient service coordinators. They have a background in nursing, welfare or recreation. It's their job to assist chapter patient service committees in extending authorized program assistance to patients, Mrs. Hungerford said.

Muscular dystrophy is an hereditary disease. As such, it is not unlikely that changes, hereditarily determined, and of etiological importance, may be present in tissues other than muscle and in which the chemical systems influenced by the genetic mutations may be present, she said.

The major pathologic and clinical involvements in muscular dystrophy are in the striated musculature, but in other tissues changes more subtle and difficult to demonstrate may possibly exist. For example, increased permeability of the membrane of the dystrophic muscle fiber has been recognized for a long time. Recently, permeability changes in membranes of a number of structures with the muscle fiber and even of blood cells appear to have been demonstrated, according to research by MDAA chapter members in Pampa.

This newer information suggests the formulation that muscular dystrophy is a process that is more generalized than a limited muscular disease, and that changes in the nervous system may play a significant role. The abnormalities occurring in the different sites could result from a common causative factor or metabolic factor.

It is likely that demonstration of alterations in sites more accessible than muscle, for example membrane alterations in other structures, could facilitate early recognition and study of the dystrophic process. During the past year, the nature of the substance that occurs in vegetable oils and which has pronounced effects in reversing the process in chickens with hereditary muscular dystrophy has been actively investigated. Notable progress was made, but satisfactory chemical characterization became possible only after acquisition of special analytical equipment.

Depending on the type of chemical substance used, the regenerated muscle fiber may be of red or white type. Tissue culture techniques have been developed to shorten considerably the time needed for biological testing of compounds on the dystrophic process. Of considerable interest, is the information now being made available from experiments on muscle transplants in normal and dystrophic animals.

Research on muscle disease is making significant contributions to other areas of medical research, and receives many benefits from newer knowledge in these other areas.

Two developments which might have important impact on research in muscular dystrophy some time in the future are: 1) the isolation of a single gene, and 2) the discovery of an RNA dependent polymerase of DNA in cancer, finding that represents a reversal of previous dogma.

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1970, the Board of Directors, acting on recommendations of the Scientific Advisory Committee, authorized funds totalling $1,052,885 for 87 grants and 26 fellowships. These were for the support of 32 scientists in 28 institutions in 11 different countries. For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1971, $1,711,469 was budgeted for IMD. It is gratifying no significant reduction in any grant was made because of limitation of available funds. During the 20 years ended March 13, 1970, MDAA expended a total of $30,870,401 for research.

PAMPA, TEXAS 63rd YEAR Sunday, March 21, 1971 PAMPA DAILY NEWS 13

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have seven kids and a husband I cannot trust around the corner. When he goes out at night I never know how late he will be coming home. If at all.

I have found lipstick on his handkerchiefs, and even on his underwear. If I yell at him and say I am going to leave him, he asks where I think I am going to find a man who will want a woman with seven kids. Then he tells me that he is going to leave me and find a quieter, more understanding woman.

I am a good woman. Neat and clean and folks say I am a good looker. What can I tell him?

ONE, PLUS SEVEN
DEAR ONE: You can tell him that it might be a lot easier for you to find a man who will want you and your seven kids than it will be for him to find a more "quiet and understanding woman" who would want him after he gets through shelling out child support for seven kids.

DEAR ABBY: Ouch. I saw myself in one of your letters, and it hurt. A girl wrote that her father came across an article in a magazine which he thought was very interesting so he read the whole long boring thing about his daughter and her boy friend who was there at the time. The young fellow obviously bored, got up in the middle of it and found himself a newspaper to read.

One of my faults is interrupting my wife while she's busy watching television in order to read something to her. It usually turns out that she wasn't as interested in the article as I thought she'd be. Come to think of it, Abby, maybe it was my wife who wrote that letter to you, and she used that "father-boy friend" bit just to throw me off the track.

I'm guilty, so I'll take 10 lashes with an old sermon outline.

KENTUCKY PREACHER
DEAR PREACHER: If the shoe fits, wear it. But I can't allow you to suspect your wife. The letter came from New York.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, age 16, is pregnant and the boy is 18. They want the baby and want to get married right away. That is all right with us and with his folks, too, but here is the problem.

We have heard that if they get married in Minnesota the judge could force them to give up the baby. If this is true, we will see to it that they get married in another state, like Iowa or Wisconsin. Or do they have the same laws as Minnesota?

Please understand, the parents of both the boy and girl are backing up these kids 100 per cent and are willing to help out.

DESPERATE IN MINNESOTA
DEAR DESPERATE: There is no such law in Minnesota, or in any other state.

DEAR ABBY: I cried when I read the letter from that mother who asked you how much room and board she should charge her son when he comes home from Viet Nam.

If I knew that soldier's name and address I would invite him to come and live with my husband and me. For free. We have a nice home and with an empty bedroom. Our only son was sent to Viet Nam a year ago. Three months later he was killed in action. He was only 18.

SEE IT NEW

All Together Now—the men's accessory revolution goes head-long into those brawny, husky leather belts, with matching bracelets, rings, head-and-arm bands—all very masculine.

Blow Up a whole room, with inflatable furniture. Budget priced chairs, sofas, hassocks, even tables inflate in a jiffy; add a tongue-in-cheek "now" look to any room.

Well-Disposed to party plans are the elegant disposables—new collections of dinnerware and "glass" ware in the prettiest patterns, including strawberries, daisies, apples, and the 'way out geometric. They come in dishes, glasses, trays, napkins sturdy enough to wash and re-use, inexpensive enough to throw away.

Poncho Grande—the hottest new look of the '70 season gives a fashion-fresh interpretation in fleece-knit sweat-shirt fabric of Creolan acrylic fiber, trimmed with leather-like fringe that's as washable as the fabric.

At Long Last—remember all those recipes that call for a tablespoon or two of tomato paste? Tomato paste comes in resealable glass jars. Use as much or as little as you need; seal and refrigerate the rest in its own nest glass jar.

Watch for... Handbags covered with bulletin-board-type cork, to pin on a shopping list, phone number, what-have-you... The first fresh, tangy, incomparable cranberries of the new crop, just now reaching grocers' produce departments... Wrist computers instead of wristwatches. Push a button; receive the time in a digital clock... Textured and patterned dress shirts for men; a welcome relief from all those solids and stripes... Smocking at the waist, below the bustline, at the hips; the newest detail to carry out the '30's longuette look... Completely made, ready-to-heat-and-serve omelets in a variety of tantalizing flavors.

Ring In The New—but don't ring out the old! More and more women are finding that contemporary patterns in sterling, which accent pure form and the beauty of the metal, are perfect go-togethers for traditional china. Good news for the woman who's considering buying solid silver—but can't bear to part with her pretty flower-sprigged china.

Compromise appears on the Paris '71 couture scene with shorts or hot pants with overskirts shading the gap between mini and midi lengths. St. Laurent offers his version of new design—a sweater-bermuda short set reminiscent of the '30s tonk suit or gym suit. Model wears wedgies.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dealing with the federal government can be, as most citizens have discovered for themselves, an exasperating experience.

At hand, for example, is a news release from the General Services Administration. It mentions some of the interesting questions that have been phoned into federal information centers operated by the GSA.

Information Gap
One could, I suppose, lodge a query with the GSA and eventually learn all of the details. But that would never compensate for the time one has spent dangling in the information gap and trying to visualize the situation in one's own mind.

The first mental picture one gets is a man covering under the pool table in his basement rec room, an extension telephone in hand.

Trying to reach him with their paws as he dials the federal information center are two cats the size of elephants.

Mental Picture No. 2: The same man is dialing the phone on the bar in his basement rec room. The liquor cabinet has been broken open and a number of bottles overturned and emptied.

Disporting themselves about the room in riotous fashion, some swinging on the chandelier, other wearing lamp shades on their heads, are about a dozen drunk cats.

Federal Reaction
Mental Picture No. 3: The man is standing in the basement rec room with cats up to his waist and is frantically dialing the telephone.

"Good morning. Federal information center. May I help you?"

"Yes. This is Adlebert Waples of 501 South Main and I would like to know what's the government going to do about the cats in my basement."

About the whaaaaa in your basement?"

"Cats, C-A-T-S. My basement is filling up with cats."

"How long have you had this problem, Mr. Waples?"

"It started about an hour ago. I heard a purring noise in the basement and when I went down to investigate, the floor was covered with cats. They were only about a foot deep at the time but just since I've been talking to you they have risen..."

"Mr. Waples? ... Mr. Waples? ... That's funny. He must have hung up."

SINGLE GAME DECIDES

NEW YORK (UPI)—A single game will be played to decide the winner in the Central, Midwest or Pacific divisions of the National Basketball Association, in the event of a tie, it was announced Wednesday by Kennedy.

The winner of the season series between the deadlocked teams will be the home team. A flip of the coin will decide the home team if the teams have split their season series.

THE PAMPA Community Concert Association has wound up another successful membership drive for its 1971-72 concert season. The association has been bringing high caliber concert attractions to the city for 27 years and next season is going to be one of the most outstanding as far as concert numbers are concerned. There will be four great concerts on the season's program. Just how the association can serve up that kind of nationally and internationally-known entertainment for Pampans for only $2.50 a performance is one of life's little mysteries.

AND HERE'S a reminder about the annual Antique Show of the Twentieth Century Cotillion Club scheduled for next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Coronado Inn. The club is doing a marvelous work for Euff Morris' student loan fund at West Texas State University in Canyon. Money realized from admissions and sales at the three-day show goes into the fund to help students who otherwise might not be able to finance their college education. The Pampa club has contributed more than $8,000 to the fund, all of it raised through the annual Antique Show. In addition to seeing some of the rarest antiques, those who attend the show also have an opportunity to help a most worthy cause.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE
Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

The Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESSE
Editor

HERE'S GOOD news that arrived about a quarter of a century too late for some of us.

We read it in the current issue of Coronet Magazine and it says man will soon have the ability to stop growing old at age 40. This long-held dream of mankind — putting a halt to old age — was explored at a little-reputed conference of 16 specialists in gerontology conducted by what is called the Center of Democratic Institutions.

Dr. Harvey Wheeler of the center announced that even the conservatives among the biologists agree that within ten to 25 years it will be possible to alter the biological clock built into man to make them run longer or even to set them back.

According to the magazine article, Dr. Wheeler believes this could be done by diet and medication simple enough to be universally available.

By stopping the clock at 40 and setting its alarm for 30 years later, for example, most of the deteriorative changes in an individual could be postponed.

TALKING WITH a Pampa friend about this a couple of days ago, he said he'd like to join up right now. There are two or three deteriorating things he would like to postpone, he said, and especially one. He didn't explain about that one, apparently figuring we should know without asking.

At any rate, Coronet reports another noted gerontologist, Dr. Alex Comfort, goes a step further in his analysis, stating: "I believe that direct experiments on postponing aging will be conducted by 1975, and one sure way of extending vigorous life by at least 20 percent will be found by the year 1990. Definitely, the article says, the breakthrough seems imminent.

So, if you're 15 or 20 years old or younger—boy, (or girl) are you lucky!

Then, again — when you start thinking about everybody remaining young from here on out, a lot of complex difficulties begin popping up in your imagination. Think about it for a minute.

BEFORE We forget it — the wind that blew and blew and the dust that flew and flew last Wednesday and Thursday was reminiscent of the dirty thirties.

Personally it was a reminder of the day back in 1936 when we first arrived in Pampa along with one of those black dusts they had in those days.

We had just come in from California to take over as editor of The News, just purchased from the Nuns. Bumping into to board the next train out and forget about Pampa.

However, we stuck it out. The dust storms became less severe and we liked Pampa so well it reached the point where we didn't mind an occasional surge of top soil from Oklahoma and Kansas.

In those early days Pampans wore dust masks to keep from choking. We suspect there are some old-timers who remember them. Yep, those were the days.

STILL MORE on the high winds. There was the woman who pulled into a downtown bank drive-in to make a deposit. She had a handful of checks and paper money. The drive-window drawer came out. She dropped the deposit in the drawer which right at that moment was transformed into a miniature wind tunnel. Whoosh-oosh came the wind. The checks and the bills went right along with it up into the air and onto rooftops nearby, and blowing all over the place. How's that for a predicament?

And it was so windy and cold last Thursday forenoon at the informal groundbreaking ceremony for Pampa's new civic auditorium the actual site of the groundbreaking had to be switched to a wind-breaker spot behind the Coronado Inn south wall.

The five men doing the shovel work decided they would have to move from the original site because it was out in the wide open spaces and they were afraid the shovels might be blown out of their hands and injure some of the spectators. That's how hard the wind was blowing out there on the lone prairie.

WE HOPE parents will read the story on Page One today about The Pampa News second annual Easter Coloring Contest for the kiddies. Then, we hope they will call it to the attention of youngsters between the ages of 5 and 10 and get them to enter the contest and vie for the prizes offered in the three age categories. The first cartoon to be colored will appear in Tuesday's Pampa News. There will be one each day for four days, the last one appearing next Friday.

When all four have been colored they should be mailed (See MIRROR, Page 17)
