Organized Labor Assured Of Role In Freeze Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a peace-making meeting with AFL-CIO President George Meany, the Nixon administration has guaranteed organized labor a role in determining what will follow the 90-day wage-price freeze.

"Mr. Meany's response was to give us a good hearing and showing great concern about many aspects of the problems the freeze was causing, and that he hoped he would recognize those problems," Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson said after Thursday's session with Meany.

Asst. Labor Secretary W.J. Usery met briefly with federation secretary-treasurer Lane Kirkland, apparently laying the groundwork for the Hodgson-Meany talk.

What is to follow the freeze has become a dominant question for economic planners. And the Meany-Hodgson meeting was significant because of the labor chief's heavy criticism of President Nixon's new economic program.

Usery said nothing has been decided, but "I think it will fall somewhere between the extremes," which he described as doing nothing or imposing wage-price controls.

The administration's chief of planning for Stage 2 of the anti-inflation drive, Herbert Stein, said "We would most devoutly hope to avoid ... movement in the direction of wage and price control."

"We regard Stage 2 as a stage in the transition from the freeze to free markets, and so will be looking at various possibilities of trimming the coverage, of adopting the guidelines, of invoking the cooperation in one way or another," said Stein, vice chairman of the Council on Economic Advisers.

Stein virtually ruled out an extension of the freeze. He predicted mounting problems as it continues toward Nov. 12, saying people can be expected to stand pat only for a short time.

The problems faced by teachers whose salary status has been cloudy since President Nixon announced the freeze Aug. 15, were dealt with again Thursday by the Cost of Living Council.

The council declared that teachers working under a single, systemwide master contract in effect before the freeze would get the new pay rate if any teachers received it before the freeze.

A teacher holding an individual contract would be eligible for a raise if he accrued earnings at the new rate "which covered a period prior to Aug. 15, although he or she may not have actually performed any work during that period."

Professional athletes were told they are not exempt from the freeze. The council said athletes who didn't enter into new contracts prior to Aug. 15 could not negotiate for new contracts covering their services during the freeze period.

Russia's Military Spending Exceeds That Of America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon research chief says a Soviet push in military technology could bring "very serious military surprises" in two to three years—and superiority over U.S. technology by the end of the decade.

Dr. John S. Foster Jr., director of defense research, told congressmen June 1 that U.S. intelligence analysis of the Soviets' budget indicates they are now spending $3 billion more than the United States on military research.

This would be about 40 percent above the Pentagon's $7.8-billion research and development request for this year.

He said U.S. experts don't know what the Soviets are developing but listed "some indications" which were censored out of his closed-door testimony released today by the House defense appropriations subcommittee.

"This extra effort on their part will lead almost certainly to some very serious military surprises if this analysis is correct," Foster testified.

With $3 billion, he said, the Soviets could be developing "a half-dozen major weapons systems" comparable to the U.S. Safeguard antimissile system, advanced bomber, and undersea-launched missile system.

But he said there is no way of knowing whether the Soviets are developing major new weapons systems or simply backup and redundant systems for the weapons they already have.

Foster has cited a growing U.S.-Soviet technology gap before.

Casualties Heaviest In Months

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops assaulted two U.S. armored cavalry patrols south of Da Nang Thursday and killed five Americans in one of the heaviest U.S. losses in months.

Twelve other Americans were wounded, three armored vehicles were destroyed and a fourth was damaged. Enemy losses were not known.

One patrol from the Americal division was hit 16 miles south of Da Nang shortly after it camped for the night. The North Vietnamese attacked with rocket-grenades, machine guns and rifles.

It was in this attack that the five Americans were killed and seven were wounded. The steel-piercing grenades destroyed two armored personnel carriers and a Sheridan tank before rocket-firing U.S. helicopters and artillery broke up the attack.

The American toll five dead was half the number killed all last week, according to the U.S. Command casualty summary issued Thursday. Other such losses recently included five U.S. troops killed in an ambush Aug. 5, also south of Da Nang, and seven killed Aug. 12 when their helicopter was shot down near the demilitarized zone.

Fourteen miles to the south, North Vietnamese troops made a similar attack earlier in the day on another armored patrol. Five Americans were wounded and another personnel carrier was damaged.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their heavy raids along the demilitarized zone, dropping 450 tons of bombs on suspected North Vietnamese troop locations, bunkers, storage areas and rocket positions.

Tokyo To Let Japanese Yen Float On Foreign Exchange Markets

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government will let the yen float on the foreign exchange market beginning Saturday, the Foreign Ministry announced today.

The government's action, after two weeks of trying to hold the yen to a parity of 360 to the dollar, was a major victory for President Nixon's program to put the U.S. trade balance back into the black.

The yen, which was considerably undervalued, was the chief target of Nixon's announcement Aug. 15 suspending the gold standard and putting a 10 percent surcharge on imports into the United States.

Finance Minister Mikio Mizuta said floating the yen—allowing it to find its own rate according to the demand and supply—would be temporary.

Japanese commercial banks, anticipating the government's action, sold dollars heavily today on the Tokyo exchange, and the Bank of Japan bought a record $122 billion at the interbank rate of 357.37 yen, the usual intervention level.

Dealers attributed the heavy selling to fears that if the yen is revalued, it will most likely be done during a weekend. They said the commercial banks appeared to be unloading all their dollar balances as a precaution.

The commercial banks had bought more than $500 million Tuesday and Wednesday after the central bank warned them to adhere more closely to its guidelines on required holdings. The commercial banks complained that this subjected them to undue risks since the Japanese then relaxed enforcement of its requirement, and the banks liquidated their dollar holdings.

The Bank of Japan and the Finance Ministry had sent inspection teams around to leading banks and trading companies to check on speculation.

Officials said the teams found fewer unquestionable practices than anticipated, and this was believed to be a major factor in the central bank's decision to take a "flexible attitude."

The Bank of Japan's guidelines are designed to keep speculative short-term flows of foreign currency from flowing in or out of Japan. Informants said, as long as the commercial banks abide by this, the central bank will assist them in their dealings with non-speculative customers, even if it means absorbing large amounts of dollars.

Nixon's New Plan Seen Achieving Success Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's new economic program won a major victory in the foreign exchange market today as administration officials continued attempts to woo labor support for its domestic policies.

The Japanese action is announced it will let the yen float on the foreign exchange market beginning Saturday. The yen had been a major target of the import portion of Nixon's program.

The Japanese action is expected to improve the U.S. balance of trade and came a day after the Commerce Department announced a trade deficit in July for the fourth consecutive month.

After Nixon announced Aug. 15 the suspension of the gold standard and the imposition of the 10 percent import surcharge, the Japanese government attempted to hold the yen to a parity of 360 to the dollar.

It said today's action, allowing the yen to find its own rate according to the demand and supply, would be temporary.

Earlier, the administration in a peace-making meeting with AFL-CIO President George Meany, guaranteed organized labor a role in determining what will follow the domestic 90-day wage-price freeze.

NEA Says 80% Of School Teachers Eligible For Pay Raise This Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's 2.1 million school teachers will report for the first time this fall split into two distinct pay classes under President Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze.

Hundreds of thousands will receive scheduled salary increases and hundreds of thousands won't. Beyond that, no one in government is willing to venture an estimate.

It depends on what types of contracts exist within school systems and when individual contracts are effective. "It's impossible to tell," said one Cost of Living Council spokesman. "There are too many different types of contracts."

The National Education Association asserts that 80 percent of the teachers are eligible for salary increases despite the freeze. Privately, government officials doubt that figure but are not willing to challenge it publicly.

U.N. Ambassador To Get Israelis And Arabs Talking

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomatic sources predicted today that Gunnar V. Jarring will make a new effort next month to get the Israelis and Arabs talking.

They said Jarring, the Swedish ambassador to Moscow, will arrive in New York about mid-September to resume his role as special U.N. envoy for the Middle East. He will begin by talking with the Israeli and Arab foreign ministers who are coming to New York for the U.N. General Assembly.

Jarring has been trying since the end of 1967 to get the adversaries of the six-day war to open negotiations for a settlement. The closest he has come was indirect talks last winter between the Israeli, Egyptian and Jordanian delegates to the United Nations with Jarring acting as go-between. Neither the Jews nor the Arabs gave any ground, and Jarring went back to Moscow.

Some sources said that while on vacation in Sweden this summer, Jarring offered to return to New York to talk with the Arab and Israeli ambassadors again.

They said Secretary-General U Thant advised him instead to give the United States more time to try to work out an interim Egyptian-Israeli agreement to reopen the Suez Canal. But chances for such an agreement do not look good after Asst. Secretary of State Joseph Sisco's recent unproductive visit to Israel.

TPEA Files Exemption Petition For State Employees With Council

Austin, Texas — The Texas Public Employees Association has filed a petition for exemption and exception for state employee salaries with the Cost of Living Council. The petition was filed in behalf of the more than 30,000 TPEA members and employees of the State of Texas.

Representing the TPEA are Charles M. Babb, Association General Counsel with the firm of Stayton, Maloney, Black, Herne, and Babb, and Attorney J. Sam Winters of Clark, Thomas, Harris, Denius and Winters.

Previous word from the Cost of Living Council indicates the state salary increases are frozen by the president's executive order. The state appropriations bill was passed by the Texas Legislature and signed into law by Governor Preston Smith on June 30, 1971.

The state's fiscal year ends Aug. 31, 1971.

A request has been made to the Cost of Living Council for permission of the association attorneys to appear before the council and submit new facts and information relating to Texas State employees. Other legal areas are being explored which would allow the appropriations bill to be followed by the state comptroller. According to the emergency clause of the appropriations bill, its effective date was June 30, 1971, nearly two months prior to the president's freeze order. Thus, the bill was law even though the comptroller's disbursements were not authorized until Sept. 1.

Mrs. Nina Spoonmore, Pampa, is president of the Top O' Texas TPEA which includes 26 Panhandle counties.

Wilson Acknowledges Receipt Of Insecured Loans From Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson has acknowledged he received $230,000 in unsecured loans from the bank of Frank W. Sharp, central figure in a Texas stock-fraud case.

Wilson said Thursday the latest $30,000 loan from the Sharpstown Bank was in August 1970, 18 months after he joined the Justice Department, and after the Securities and Exchange Commission began a probe of Sharp's activities.

Wilson said he repaid the loan in March of this year, two months after Sharp and a number of Texas officials were named in what the SEC termed the "systematic looting" of banks and insurance companies through stock manipulations.

Wilson, head of the Justice Department's criminal division, released a nine-page statement

U.S. Takes Firm Stand On Airline-Route Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. diplomats have adopted a hard-nosed stance on international air-route deals, reflecting President Nixon's tough new economic policy but troubling some of America's longtime friends abroad.

Last week the United States, for the first time since World War II, told a foreign country—Ireland—that its airline will lose its lucrative New York stop unless U.S. carriers get a better break in Ireland.

Now U.S. negotiators are bargaining vigorously with Australians, seeking to boost American air traffic to that country.

Meanwhile, Washington has piggybacked a bid by Australia's air carrier, Qantas, to step up its service to the United States.

The Belgians are so unhappy about a U.S. refusal to allow their airline, Sabena, to fly to U.S. points beyond New York that they have talked about canceling their air agreement with the United States.

A Belgian negotiating team is due here next month—but U.S. officials say they won't give in.

A similar meeting with Venezuela negotiators is scheduled for October.

France, West Germany and Canada also want to fly more throughout the United States but U.S. authorities say economic conditions at this time bar granting foreigners more routes to U.S. cities.

Officials say the U.S. attitude began stiffening about a year ago when it became apparent that U.S. international airlines were piling up large financial losses. Nixon's new economic policy announcement Aug. 15 poured hardening cement into the U.S. negotiating posture.

In a 1945 agreement, U.S. planes were allowed to refuel in Shannon, and the Irish won flights into New York, Boston and Chicago.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their heavy raids along the demilitarized zone, dropping 450 tons of bombs on suspected North Vietnamese troop locations, bunkers, storage areas and rocket positions.

Lib Groups Say Political Power Their Chief Goal

Associated Press

Trying to put more motion in their movement, women's liberation groups across the country have served notice that political power is their chief goal.

In marches and rallies, on banners and placards, in words conciliatory and fighting mad, women's liberationists marked the 51st anniversary of female suffrage Thursday with expressions of dissatisfaction at the pace of their progress toward equal rights.

While there was no shortage of vehemence, the day's major demonstration in New York drew an estimated 6,000 marchers. Last year, in the first big feminist street action in years, 20,000 paraded on Fifth Avenue.

Instead of massing large numbers of women this time, the liberation activists staged a series of small actions to spotlight their case.

A handful of women infiltrated the visitors' gallery of the American Stock Exchange with a banner reading, "Women Power."

Floor traders looked up in surprise, breaking out in a crescendo of boos and a few cheers.

Shouting "De-sexagrate Wall Street" and "We can't bear any more bull," the demonstrators were ejected.

TEXAS STOCK SCANDAL

Wilson Acknowledges Receipt Of Insecured Loans From Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson has acknowledged he received $230,000 in unsecured loans from the bank of Frank W. Sharp, central figure in a Texas stock-fraud case.

Wilson said Thursday the latest $30,000 loan from the Sharpstown Bank was in August 1970, 18 months after he joined the Justice Department, and after the Securities and Exchange Commission began a probe of Sharp's activities.

Wilson said he repaid the loan in March of this year, two months after Sharp and a number of Texas officials were named in what the SEC termed the "systematic looting" of banks and insurance companies through stock manipulations.

Wilson, head of the Justice Department's criminal division, released a nine-page statement describing the loans and how his net worth nearly tripled to $1.3 million between 1963 and 1968. Wilson was Sharp's attorney during 1967 to 1969, when Sharp built a financial empire through his bank-real estate-insurance conglomerate.

Wilson denied he advised Sharp how to get around state banking laws to raise funds to buy the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. The firm is one the SEC says Sharp and associates milked in a quick-profits scheme that involved top Texas officials, astronauts and Jesuit priests among others, Sharp alleged last week in an SEC affidavit. Wilson had given him such counsel.

Wilson said he prepared the statement to answer "insinuations that I am or have been involved in illegal activities as a result of this association. There is absolutely no truth to this." He said he nearly tripled his net worth through land dealings and his expanding law practice, not through any connection with Sharp.

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, the Texas Democrat who has been calling for Wilson's resignation for more than two months because of his ties to Sharp, said Wilson didn't explain enough.

"His lengthy statement, issued through a mimeograph machine, is not even a good dodge," Gonzalez said.

Gonzalez said that in nine pages Wilson neglected to mention he was general counsel for three of Sharp's firms, including National Bankers.

Wilson said Sharp was one of more than 100 clients of his Austin law firm.

Alabama Lawmaking Body To Act On Gov. Wallace's Busing Proposal

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Legislature is expected to act early next week on Gov. George C. Wallace's new school busing proposal aimed at fighting court-ordered desegregation policies.

The proposal, introduced Thursday, would prohibit long-distance busing of school children in Alabama if parents feel it may "risk the health or safety of the child or significantly impinge on the educational process."

Only hours after being introduced, a Senate committee approved the legislation and readied it for a vote next Tuesday. Although identical measures were introduced to both the House and Senate, only one needs to go through both chambers to become law.

Wallace told a jam-packed legislative assembly that his action was to "make President Nixon carry out his promise" not to have massive busing. He said he wanted the President to send the Justice Department and Department of Health, Education and Welfare "back into court and ask them to stop busing."

The 1968 third-party presidential candidate said he would "defer and get out" of the 1972 presidential picture "if the President will stop busing, go back to freedom of choice and restore neighborhood schools." Wallace has not committed himself to run next year, although his recent intervention on the school busing issue has increased speculation that he will.

At a news conference later, Wallace also said that the federal courts and the Nixon administration "have gone mad." Asked about possible contempt proceedings which have been filed against him, Wallace said he had "utter contempt" for the federal judicial system as it now exists.

A motion was filed Wednesday by Negro attorney Solomon Seas Jr. asking a federal court to order Wallace to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for his recent executive orders which defied court rulings on school desegregation.

Nixon Administration Expresses Misgivings About Area Busing Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration wants a U.S. District Court to study further the school desegregation plan with extensive busing it ordered for Corpus Christi, Tex.

The Justice Department filed a brief with the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans Thursday, asking that the plan be sent back to the lower court.

"The government has misgivings about the type of plan adopted by the district court," the brief said.

"The issue for this court is to determine whether the district court's findings of discrimination against Mexican-Americans and blacks infect the whole school system so as to justify the comprehensive relief ordered by the district court, or where more limited relief might be appropriate."

About 5 per cent of the Corpus Christi pupils are black. The others are about evenly divided between Anglos and Mexican-Americans.

The Justice Department earlier this month obtained a stay order in the case, questioning whether Mexican-American children in Corpus Christi are victims of segregation.

The department urged that the part of the plan affecting black children be put into effect this fall, no matter what decision is reached in regard to Mexican-American pupils.

General Testifies At Special Hearing On My Lai Case

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson charged with murdering six Vietnamese civilians and assaulting two others, is scheduled to testify today at a special hearing in connection with the trial of Col. Oran K. Henderson, accused of covering up the My Lai massacre.

Donaldson, a 47-year-old West Point graduate, is one of three senior Army officers called as initial witnesses for the hearing into the whereabouts of a missing report on the My Lai massacre. Defense lawyers say the report would exonerate Henderson.

The special hearing will run concurrently with Henderson's court-martial on charges he willfully failed to properly investigate reports of the massacre, failed to report actual or suspected war crimes and twice lied to a Pentagon inquiry into My Lai.

The hearing is being conducted without the presence of the jury of seven officers who began hearing trial testimony Monday.

Prosecution Rests Its Murder Case Against Watson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution has rested its murder case against a former member of Charles Manson's clan and the trial of another on a murder charge was disrupted for several hours.

The state finished its case Thursday against Charles "Tex" Watson, 25, on trial for the Sharon Tate murders. Manson and three women followers have been sentenced to death for the killings.

Watson has entered a double plea of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. His trial was recessed until Aug. 31 to give his court-appointed lawyers more time to prepare.

Steve Grogan, 20, a former Manson lieutenant, is on trial in the killing of movie stuntman Donald "Shorty" Shea. Shea's body has not been found.

His trial was halted when the judge learned Grogan's attorney had received a threatening telephone call. The attorney, Charles Weedman, said he had been called on the courthouse phone by a man who said "We know you're not doing a job for Grogan. You'd better start working for him or we'll get you."

The trial was resumed after Weedman conferred with Grogan about the threat.

Smith Creates New State Council On Early Childhood Development

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith created a new state council on early childhood development Thursday and told it many social ills could be stamped out by programs for the first six years of a child's life.

"Our remedial classrooms, child guidance clinics, juvenile courts, mental institutions, welfare rolls and penal institutions are bursting at the seams. You, better than anyone else, know the price that Texas is paying for this," Smith said.

"Do we continue to spend all our time and money repairing crumbling structures? I say we do not. Do we dedicate ourselves to building strong foundations? I say we do."

The council will work with the Office of Early Childhood Development already established by the governor.

Smith asked the council, in cooperation with that office, to assume the responsibility for "developing plans for reaching all children under age six for assessment of physical, emotional and intellectual development, as well as reaching parents and potential parents for training in the art of being a parent."

He also asked it to analyze present state and federally funded early childhood programs and determine if they can be operated more effectively.

Smith spoke to the council after signing the executive order creating it.

The council consists of representatives of the state Department of Health, Mental Health and Mental Retardation and Public Welfare; the Texas Education Agency; the Texas Department of Community Affairs and the Texas Office of Economic Development.

Barnes Makes Unannounced Visit To SEC Officials In Washington

HOUSTON (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes made an unannounced and unexplained visit to top federal Securities and Exchange Commission officials in Washington, D.C., Thursday, the Houston Post said in a copy-righted story Friday.

The Post said the visit may have been to complain about what Barnes has charged were unfair attempts by SEC investigators to link him with the Frank W. Sharp stock controversy.

Barnes said several weeks ago SEC lawyers taking depositions in the Sharp investigation frequently were going out of their way to drag his name into the probe. He also charged that SEC investigators were "leaking" information irrelevant to the probe in an attempt to harm him politically.

Barnes indicated at the time that he might complain to high SEC officials.

Barnes' aide, Robert Spellings, said at Austin he was "not aware of what was discussed" by Barnes and SEC officials but confirmed the meeting occurred.

The Post said its Washington Bureau learned that Barnes visited with SEC Chairman William J. Casey and Stanley Sporkin, chief of the agency's enforcement division.

An SEC spokesman said the meeting lasted only about 10 minutes.

Through the spokesman, Casey said, "He (Barnes) just came in to chat, 'giving no explanation of the meeting."

Fort Worth Police Hunting Armed Rapist

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — He wears a ski mask and works in the quiet hours before dawn. He carries a knife — lately, a gun — and his victims are both married and single women. He's a rapist.

"Everybody's pretty jittery," a police spokesman said today.

"We feel he's responsible for most of the at least 20 rapes we've had in the past 18 months."

The last attack occurred 10 days ago — a 17-year-old girl who was brutally beaten after she was raped.

The villain wore a ski mask and carried a gun.

A special 20-man task force is working overtime, joined by Texas Rangers, in their efforts to find the rapist.

"This series of rapes and murders is as alarming or more alarming to us as it is to the average citizen," said Police Chief James R. Newsom.

The attacks generally have come between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m. about once a month.

The attacker has cut screens, picked locks, jimmied doors to make his way into the homes of terrified women.

"We're trying to get results. We've questioned a lot of people," Newsom said.

The 20-man team, which includes police supervisors and administrative personnel, went into action last Friday, assisted by Rangers, sheriff's deputies and district attorney's investigators.

Newsom said that extra policemen have been patrolling in areas where the most rapes have occurred.

A police spokesman said two men have been arrested and interviewed in the case but were released when victims were unable to identify them.

"It's pretty hard to get any kind of conviction when no one can identify the attacker," he said.

Newsom said the investigation has shed new light on the attacks but he could not divulge the nature of the material.

At first, he was carrying a knife but here lately he's carried a gun," the spokesman said.

A 15-year-old girl was the last murder victim in Port Arthur but police said they don't feel her death was connected with the rape attacks.

Barnes Makes Unannounced Visit To SEC Officials In Washington

The Post said it also learned that while in Washington Barnes also met with National Democratic Committeeman Robert S. Strauss of Dallas.

Strauss said he and Barnes had meetings Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

Trial Set For Soledad Brothers After Blood-Spattered Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After a violent, blood-spattered court hearing, a Sept. 20 trial date has been set for two surviving Soledad Brothers accused of murdering a prison guard more than a year and a half ago.

The club-and fist-swinging melee erupted Thursday after Doris Maxwell, mother of defendant John Clutchette, shouted a vulgarly at the judge in a pretrial hearing and he ordered her ejected.

Two black men jumped up and struggled with police officers and several black women spectators pushed toward Mrs. Maxwell. All were separated from the judge and defendants by a bulletproof glass partition erected in anticipation of possible trouble.

A dozen police tactical squad officers rushed in, swinging riot sticks.

Two bailiffs, three policemen, and a spectator were injured in the violence and two men were arrested.

One of those arrested was Philip Jake Price, 25, of Oakland, Calif. Officers hustled him out of the room but he fought his way back moments later with blood streaming from wounds over his eyes.

While baton-wielding officers pushed and knocked several men and women spectators to the floor, Price was pushed down in a corner, handcuffed and led away.

Mrs. Maxwell fell to the floor in the courtroom aisle during the disorder. Police said "she got up and walked out after the thing was over." She was not hurt, police said.

Price's brother, Earl M. Price, 27, of Oakland, also was arrested and booked for investigation on the same charges.

Mrs. Maxwell's outburst came in a hearing for Clutchette, 28, and Fleeta Drumgo, 26, before Superior Court Judge Carl M. Allen.

Their codefendant, George Jackson, 29, was one of six men killed last Saturday in an abortive escape attempt at San Quentin Prison. Three white guards and two white convicts also were killed.

The three blacks from Los Angeles were indicted on charges of beating a white guard to death in January 1970 at Soledad Prison near Monterey a few days after a guard had shot three black prisoners to death during what authorities described as a racial brawl in the prison exercise yard.

Just before she was taken out, Mrs. Maxwell shouted: "Judge Allen... you ain't no honorable judge." She then started sobbing and shouting unintelligibly. Her outburst came after Allen ordered stricken from the record all claims by attorneys for Clutchette and Drumgo that the two convicts and other San Quentin prisoners had been beaten since the Saturday escape try.

Dallas Couple Treks Across Death Valley In Four Days

DALLAS (AP) — "It was 114 degrees at 2 a.m., and the wind was blowing about 30 miles an hour. It really was."

"It pushes you back. You're going forward and it pushes you back. Your mouth really gets dry."

Biki Pochciol, a slender, 19-year-old blonde, was describing her recent 147-mile hike up the length of Death Valley.

"Seven men have crossed it the way we went," she said. "I am the first woman to cross it, and that is more or less an official record."

Viki and her husband, Bill 28, a Dallas construction worker, left Shoshone, Calif., Aug. 17 and headed west towards the Valley. Once into the Valley they turned north towards Scotty's Castle, Calif., at the tip of the dry expanse.

They were accompanied by George Sevra, 24, a Dallas photographer. Sevra drove a jeep and trailer with supplies.

"He'd drive on about two or three miles ahead of us," said Viki, "and we'd stop at the jeep to get water and rest."

"We traveled at night and daytime, more or less in the evening," Viki recalls. "At first we'd go for 16 miles and sleep for four hours during the night."

"Towards the end we kept going all day. I wanted to get to the end. I just couldn't take the heat."

They covered the last 40 miles

Bus Driver Contract To End Dock Strike

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A dispute over the national wage-price freeze has stymied negotiations for a new bus driver contract here.

The talks halted when the city-owned transit system told union officials that hourly employees will not receive automatic longevity pay raises during the 90-day freeze.

Members of the Amalgamated Transit Union local have been working since Aug. 1 under an expired two-year contract. Bus drivers went on strike for 16 days here in 1969.

Felix Tapp, assistant general manager of the transit system, said he suggested at a meeting Wednesday that the negotiating teams wait until guidelines were established during the freeze, so "we will know where we are going."

GOOD NEWS QUARTET — The Good News Quartet will conduct services at the Highland Baptist Church at 2:30 p.m. The public has been invited to attend by the pastor, A. E. Burns. Local singers who will join the Amarillo group includes the Burns Family, Ann Winegeart and Alvin Adams.

Training Team Sets Local Meet

The Child Evangelism Fellowship Inc. will sponsor a teacher training team in Pampa during the week of Aug. 30-Sept. 3. The teachers will be Mrs. Stella Fisher and Miss Mabel DeNormandie.

Mrs. Fisher is a graduate of the Kansas City Bible College and Miss DeNormandie is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute. They are also graduates of the Child Evangelism Fellowship Leadership Training Institute.

The training school will be held at the Bible Church of Pampa, 307 W. Foster, and a nursery will be provided. You are personally invited to attend this special session which is geared to help you in the home. In the Sunday school, in the neighborhood.

Many Things In Las Vegas Are Changing

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — For two decades they have been a showplace for newcomers, the salvation of stars who never made superstar, and the refuge of old names hanging on.

For the two-drink minimum of about $5 they're now, as always, the best entertainment buy in town... but the lounges in the Las Vegas Strip hotel casinos are on the way out, victims of profit and loss statements in a new era.

"It's a matter of economics," says Sidney Gathrid, entertainment director for Caesars Palace, which closed its lounge last year. "Entertainment is very high priced and in a small room you just cannot make it pay."

A lounge is a room seating 150 to 500 people, hard by the casino. They serve drinks only—no food—and feature continuous entertainment with three or four acts headlined by a star making perhaps $25,000 a week. By contrast the main showrooms seat 600 to 1,200, serve dinner, and pay the entertainment world's elite $50,000 to $100,000 a week.

New trends in loungedom: putting in topless acts; converting them to parlors for Keno, a lottery game, with extremely good house odds.

It was only recently that making it pay became the object of running a lounge. They were long considered casino draws, an expense to be written off against getting players into the house and keeping the losers happy.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

What Does A 5-Year-Old Boy Say?

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Writer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Our 5-year-old son, Scott, casually dropped a startling observation during dinner the other night.

"I want to be a bus driver when I grow up. I used to want to be a policeman, but they die," he said innocently, unaware of a concern in many major U.S. cities.

Scott starts kindergarten this fall. Like most parents sending their oldest away to school for the first time, my wife, Judy, and I are feeling a little sentimental about it all.

"Schools are for children to learn, to write and color gooder," Scott says.

With the thought of school approaching during a 1,300-mile vacation return trip from New York and New Jersey by car, we decided to ask Scott about some of his ideas or impressions of various topics.

First, let me say his preschool education consists of Sunday school, perhaps too much television during those stretched out Minnesota winters and what he's picked up on his own during his first two years in Albuquerque, N.M., and visits to the grandparents in El Paso, Tex.

Scott's answers:

"Pollution is litter, trash, paper and bottles and cans."

"War is man fighting man; Indians fighting cowboys... and they die."

"Planets are little Jupiters up in the sky. We live on earth. Nobody knows very much about planets because nobody has been there. There are creatures on Jupiter."

"The sun is hot. When you make feather wings and fly up there, you get burned. The moon is very cold. When you fly up there, you get cold."

"God is a man that is magic. He can turn the sun into the moon. God's been up in heaven for 10 weeks now. Jesus is the same thing as God."

"Babies are little Mommies have to feed them. They come from mommies' tummies. Daddy puts the seed in her body and they go to the doctor. The doctor and nurse take the baby out."

"Lightning is thunder's paper."

"Vacation is going. Sometimes you take suitcases."

"People die when they get fright, fright, frightened to death. When they die, God takes care of them up in heaven."

"Beautiful is flowers. Mommie is beautiful. Live is a man kissing a girl and they're going to marry each other."

"Black people do the same thing as white people. They're just the same as white people... except they're black."

When our little boy goes away for his first day of school... he goes away to learn.

DPS Issues Regulations On Motorists

AUSTIN—A new State law effective August 30 will no longer permit Texas motorists to stop and then pass a school bus which is loading or unloading children.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said the new law, passed by the 62nd Legislature, applies in both cities and rural areas and requires motorists moving both directions on the same roadway with a school bus to stop and remain stopped as long as the flashing lights on the bus are in operation.

Under current law, which applies only in rural areas, drivers must stop for a stopped school bus, but may then proceed around it at a speed of not more than 10 miles per hour is safe to do so.

Marina Project
WACO, Tex. (AP) Baylor University students will be hoisting sails, paddling canoes and casting fishing rods for academic credit. It is part of Baylor's new Lake Brazos marina project.

The marina is the first step in a five-phase $1.7 million recreational area program which, when completed, will be the only one of its kind at a college or university in the United States.

Dr. J.T. Powers, chairman of Baylor's Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, said the new marina will include a loading ramp for boats, a small beach area, an observation deck and classrooms and a landscaped walkway.

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

OH, ALLOWABLE CUT— For the fifth month running, Texas Railroad Commission ordered a reduction in statewide oil allowable, fixing it at 65.1 per cent of potential for September. Figure is the lowest since August, 1970, when it dropped to 62.9 per cent.

September allowable, down slightly from 66.2 per cent for August, will permit a 3,350,493 barrel-per-day production maximum flow, 45,264 less than the present top.

Nominations for crude oil buyers for next month totalled 3,218,430 barrels daily, hat as 24,632 less than August figures.

Only one major producer, Shell, asked more oil in September. Ten asked the same allowable, and three wanted less.

AG OPINIONS Counties workmen's compensation for their employees must carry appropriate insurance or lose common law defense of contributory negligence and assumed risk. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In a flood of other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

A local option election legalizing the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages may be held in any city of Precinct 7, Jefferson County within a year after May 18, 1971.

Regional planning commissions may be created by two or more counties and or cities and membership extended to other subdivisions, with the governing bodies determined by agreement among members.

Bexar County commissioners have no authority to expend money for the purpose of making a grant to a non-profit corporation to promote industrial development in the county.

Brazoria County Court of Domestic Relations has authority to try eminent domain cases transferred to it by district courts.

Hidalgo County Housing Authority has no statutory authority to dispose of any property by transferring it without consideration to a non-profit organization.

Orange and Jefferson County district attorneys may commission a regional juvenile legal services officer as an assistant d.a.

Bill to abolish county school superintendent in Matagorda County is void, so the office continues to exist.

New law eliminates requirements for certification on invoices to state agencies by contractors or sellers of contracts and purchases.

State Comptroller cannot issue a new or duplicate warrant to pay on original unemployment compensation benefits warrant presented more than a year after issuance.

Bill allowing county commissioners in Denton and Comanche counties to set their travel expenses and depreciation at a different rate from that set for the county judge is unconstitutional.

"Net appropriations" of general revenue for University of Texas medical schools at Dallas and Galveston means grand total of appropriations less income from educational sources.

APPOINTMENTS—Bill Edd McLaughlin of Lubbock was appointed by Governor Smith to Finance Commission of Texas. Smith named Robert H. Green of Houston to Texas State Board of Landscape Architects.

Governor also announced these reappointments:

William D. Starcher of Lubbock and Dee Estes Wheeler of Fort Worth to Polygraph Examiners Board;

Joe A. Meers of Stockdale and L.B. Davis Jr. of Longview to State Board of Morticians;

Dr. B. Morgan of Austin is new assistant state commissioner for urban education.

Harry Burling, executive director of Texas Water Development Board, will head the committee to coordinate a two-year study of Colorado River Basin.

Jerome D. Chapman, assistant commissioner for State Welfare Department, will serve on a panel established by National Academy of Sciences to evaluate community child care programs.

WELFARE POLICY CHANGED—State Board of Public Welfare has changed its policy to permit Old Age Assistance recipients to earn up to $50 a month without loss of assistance payments, effective November 1.

Under current eligibility rules, only $7.50 of any income source is exempted in Governor said OAA recipients budgeted needs for an assistance check.

New Policy will exempt the first $20 of earned income and one-half remainder up to $80 a month.

Governor said OAA recipients will be permitted a better standard of living and not penalized for working. OAA average monthly grant is about $82.28.

SHORT SNORTS—Roy R. Evans of Austin is the new president of Texas AFL-CIO and Harry Hubbard is the new secretary-treasurer. They won elections at labor's convention August 14.

Governor has been urged to permit the Legislature in special session next year to consider a competitive rate system for auto insurance.

New "Texas Hunting Guide" for 1971-72 is available from Parks and Wildlife department showing seasons, bag limits and game law summaries.

More than $1 million has been allocated for restoration and development projects at San Jacinto Battleground and Mission Texas state parks.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, Texas Department of Public Safety director, was named lawman of the year by Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Attorney General Martin filed suit against City of Galveston for environmental law violation in refuse disposal and city dump burning.

Sen Ralph Hall of Rockwall said he will announce for lieutenant governor in September.

Tyler Man Accused Of Making Weapons For Guerilla Warfare

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—A government witness testified in federal court at Tyler Thursday that Fred L. Hayes developed and made weapons to be used in guerilla warfare.

The witness, Robert Sapris Jr., was on stand during the entire morning in the trial of Hayes, who is charged with bombing a vacant house belonging to Mrs. Magnolia Jackson, a Negro.

The government presented as exhibits a machine gun, mortar, and other weapons whose operation was explained by Sapris. He said the weapons had been developed and built by Hayes.

Sapris testified that he and Hayes both joined the Raiders, which he described as an anti-communist organization.

He said that he was quite concerned about the situation because he believed the communists were "trying to take over the United States."

He said that both he and Hayes later became disgusted with the organization.

Sparks was also a government witness when Hayes was convicted last year in the bombing of the Longview school bus fleet, some of the buses having been obtained by the school district to facilitate school integration.

In Wednesday's session witnesses told of buying dynamite, blasting caps and other materials which were later seen in Hayes' catering service office.

The house owned by Mrs. Jackson was bombed June 28, 1970. She told investigators that she had purchased the house, located in a white neighborhood, with the intent of moving it to another section of Tyler.

In the school bus case, Hayes and his employee, Kenneth Ray McMaster, were sentenced to 11 years in prison and fined $10,000 dollars each.

His appeals to the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals was rejected and they are not appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — George Schlatter, who revolutionized television variety shows four years ago with his "Laugh-In," hopes to start another trend with his latest concept, "Wacky World."

Schlatter, a roving, bearded giant affectionately called Crazy George by his "Laugh-In" associates, believes that the viewing public is now ready to savor comedy on a worldwide basis. His pilot program, filmed over Europe, South America and the United States during a five-month period, will be broadcast as an NBC special Monday, Sept. 13.

"People are accustomed to watching news bouncing in from all over," Schlatter said. "From London, Paris, Moscow. But so far humor has remained locked in studios in New York and Hollywood."

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian sources say Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's government is making approaches through personal channels to arrange a visit by President Nixon to Ottawa this fall.

Trudeau cut short a European trip after Nixon announced new economic moves Aug. 15 and reportedly wants to discuss with the President the one which affects Canada most, a 10 per cent surcharge on dutiable imports.

The Canadian prime minister told the nation by television that the surcharge, if rigidly applied to Canadian goods exported to the United States, could cost the country thousands of jobs.

Trudeau visited Washington two years ago.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Bernadette Devlin, the Irish militant, says she hasn't decided on a name for her prematurely born daughter.

The youngest member of the British Parliament, the 24-year-old Miss Devlin said of her 6-pound-2-ounce girl after her birth Monday: "I'm just like any other mother in the world—I think my baby's beautiful."

The baby was not due for another month.

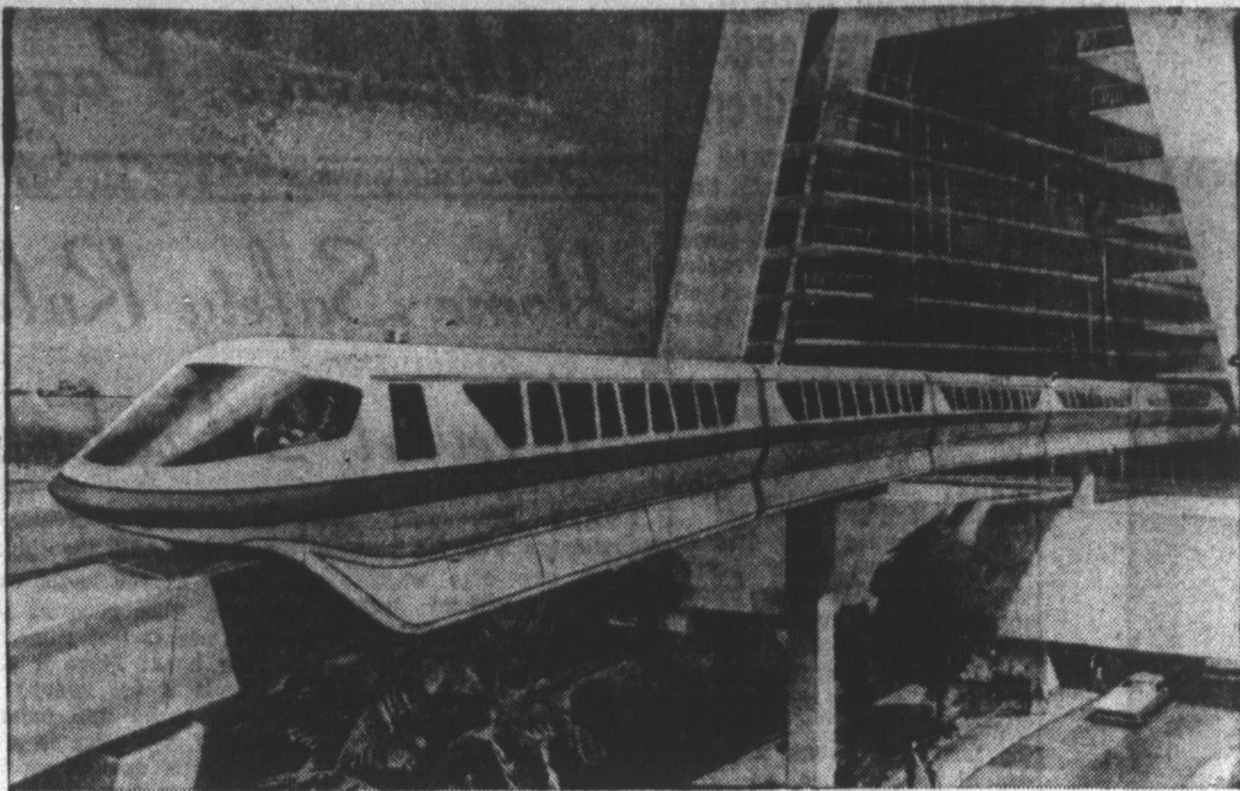

The unwed Miss Devlin announced five weeks ago that she was expecting a child, but she has refused to name the father.

DISNEY WORLD'S SLEEK MONORAIL will whisk visitors through the heart of the complex—including still-building 14-story resort hotel, shown in artist's sketch.

Walt Disney World: A Pre-Opening Success

By DICK KLEINER
 ORLANDO, Fla. — (NEA) — At the junction of Interstate 4 and State Road 535, about 15 miles southeast of here, there is a building called the Walt Disney World Preview Center.

Even though it is unadvertised, more than one million people have already found it, and viewed the model of the huge amusement park-and-resort complex which will open in October, and watched a brief movie explaining the park.

In the lobby, there is a souvenir stand which does a rushing business. It sells the usual run of T-shirts and playing cards and necklaces, plus Disney World bumper stickers (for 25 cents). The owner of nearby Cypress Gardens came by one day and went away depressed — he'd been giving bumper stickers away, but then nobody has the merchandising magic of the Disney organization.

A few miles down the road is the Disney World employment office. Personnel director James Passila — one of 200 executives transplanted from Disneyland in California — says that in its first month of operation it processed 20,000 applications. This is somewhat below the anticipated figure, but Passila says the quality of the average applicant has been better than expected, so they're happy.

In hiring — they have to have nearly 6,000 employees by opening day — they are giving preference to Florida residents. But, in some areas, they are having to go outside. Disney operations always stress that they "cast" their employees, and they're having trouble casting people to man the Polynesian-style hotel. There are very few South Pacific types in central Florida, so they're looking elsewhere for them.

GARDNER, Mass. (AP) — City officials broke ground Tuesday for a municipal garage for which plans were first approved 26 years ago.

In 1945, the garage for the city's Department of Public Works was called the city's second highest priority. But, as City Council President Rosaire J. St. Jean said Tuesday, "There was always something to hold it up."

The estimated cost of the garage in 1945 was $50,000. Now the figure is put at $190,000.

On down the road is the site itself, where two new cities — Lake Buena Vista and Bay Lake — have been created, and where the park itself is under construction. More than 7,000 men are working a 10-hour day to have it finished by Oct. 1.

In one huge building, the Disney World transportation system is coming to life. On the ground floor, workers are transforming three locomotives bought in Yucatan, Mexico, and dating from the 1920s into the "pushing" engines which will pull trains around the park.

Upstairs, the monorails — sleek and new — are being assembled. There is even a shipyard, where the various types of boats which will cruise the natural lake and man-made lagoons are being put together. Most of them were built in a St. Petersburg shipyard, then trucked here in pieces to be put together.

Other workmen are rushing a campground to completion. This will be able to handle 234 campers and trailers in a beautiful natural site. Nearby, men are carrying a nature trail into the swamp; you can walk along and view monster cypress trees, estimated at up to 2,000 years old.

In another area, workers are putting the finishing touches on two par-72, 18-hole golf courses, one planted with magnolias, the other with palms. On one, next December, the $150,000 PGA-sponsored Walt Disney World Open will be played. Arnold Palmer is one of several top pros who have already said he'd be there — and he'd be bringing his family.

The acceptance of this largest of recreation areas has been immediate. More than 300 conventions, into 1978, have been booked. Cruise ships from New York have altered their routes, so they'll stop at nearby Port Canaveral and let their passengers see the park.

A new STOL-port is planned and two small airlines — Pioneer and Executive — will begin scheduled service to various cities. Eastern Air Lines, which flies into Orlando from the big Eastern cities, has applied to the CAB for reduced family fare packages.

All of this is only the first phase of Disney's plans for the site. In the future there will be more — several more hotels, more golf courses, more attractions at the park itself, and Walt Disney's dream, EPCOT, the Experimental Prototype Community of Tomorrow.

"Walt said," says Joseph Fowler, the head of construction, "that he needed 28,000 acres here to keep his creative people busy for the next 50 years."

"The old man is up there, looking over our shoulders."

Personal Income In Texas Rose Slightly In July

AUSTIN (AP) — The overriding factor in Texas business is the effect of President Nixon's wage-price freeze, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

"The paradox of continuing inflation with continuing simultaneous unemployment at a high level has dominated the business news for months," said Dr. John Stockton, University of Texas professor. "Now the most important factor to consider in the analysis of Texas business is the economy's reaction to the President's program."

Stockton noted that economic indications on the national level have been less favorable than in Texas.

Personal income in Texas rose slightly in July and is 7 per cent above that of a year ago.

"Other barometers of the state's economy were generally optimistic in July," Stockton said. Electric power use, adjusted for seasonal variation, rose 8 per cent; industrial electric power was up one per cent; bank deposits up 4; residential building permits up 3, following a 7 per cent rise in June; and oil production was up slightly.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Small Traders Often Lose Money

By JOHN CUNIFF
 AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A favorite Wall Street cliché is that the small investor is always wrong, a self-serving preaching that is no more correct than the assumption that the big investor is always right.

"Wall Street is all mixed up in its terminology," said Tom O'Hara chairman of the National Association of Investment Clubs. "They're talking about small traders, not investors."

Certainly small traders often lose their money, he said. But there is considerable proof, he adds, that big traders also lose, a belief reinforced by the short term records of some go-go mutual funds.

Investors, meanwhile, continue to roll up profits over the long term. He produced a survey to show that members of the NAIC have doubled their assets every five years, on average.

During the dark days of the market last year, when the Dow Jones Industrial average was down to 631 points from its high of 986 the year before, the gloom couldn't have been thicker among many professionals.

At that time O'Hara visited many investment clubs throughout the Midwest and found their members acting in what some observers would feel was a dangerous way.

"They were taking out mortgages on their homes and borrowing on their insurance policies in order to invest," said O'Hara. It was the very bottom of the market. "All those folks must have sizable profits now," he said.

Investors, believing in fundamentals, felt they can take such risks. And maybe some small traders also acted shrewdly, because there was a sharp spurt in odd-lot purchases at the same time the market hit bottom.

As measured by the performance of investment clubs, which generally are made up of 15 members with a portfolio that may range from a few thousand to, in one case, $1 million, the small investor has decidedly good judgment.

The survey referred to earlier, which included the records of 990 of 13,000 member clubs, showed that over the lifetime of the individual clubs, earnings have averaged 14.7 per cent compounded annually.

Says O'Hara: "We stress fundamental, long-term investment philosophies. Our program calls for investing regularly over a long period of time regardless of what the market does."

By Abigail van Curran

DEAR ABBY: There is a widow in our neighborhood who always makes a big fuss over the men, but she doesn't bother to speak to her wives. She sits on the men's shoulders and gets them to do her gardening and household repairs for her. The man across the street keeps her yard looking better than his own.

My husband is one of those she's been crying on lately and it's just eating me up. Last Sunday I looked for my man for two hours and I finally found him in her house laying her linoleum!

I told my husband this woman was hurting my feelings, but he says he is just being neighborly.

Have you any advice for the other wives and me in this neighborhood who are in the same boat? This home wrecker is no spring chicken (she's 55 if she's a day), but she has red hair and never wears a girdle. Thank you.

JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: The problem is not your neighbor's husbands. If they are being more than neighborly, let them know you are jealous and refuse to put up with any nonsense.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister (a twice-married, twice-divorced grandmother of two) has been living with a man for several years, and plans to marry him as soon as his divorce comes thru.

Recently this prospective bride asked my husband if he would give her away when she gets married again. And to top it off, she would like him to finance the nuptials. Abby, at first I thought she was kidding, but my husband assures me she is dead serious, and he asked me to write to you and find out if this is something he is obligated to do since her father is dead.

For years, this nutty sister has used my husband to get her out of the crazy messes she got herself into, and now this ridiculous request.

Does he have to give her away Abby? I hope you say he doesn't.

SIS

DEAR SIS: he doesn't.

DEAR ABBY: A gracious hostess must serve refreshments, right? But why must a chairman of a committee meeting serve each guest a rich dessert, loaded with calories?

You have no choice but to accept it, and ooh and aah, and eat it. And then regret having come to the meeting. To make up an excuse about doctor's orders is phony.

Why can't a hostess serve assorted cookies? Then her dieting guests can take one without being conspicuous. I just hate to go to meetings because its ruining my diet. Any comment?

CALORIE COUNTER

DEAR COUNTER: The truly gracious hostess considers all her guests. And since so many people are calorie conscious these days, a low cal alternate should be offered, too. If you have no choice, either decline the dessert, or take a token taste of whatever is served and leave the rest. And don't apologize.

Flair For School Days

Buyers shopping for school wear find the Dallas Apparel Mart the right place to go. The make-believe jumper (left) by Joni J is a proven favorite with stores. Ruffles at neck and wrist bespeak the revival of frills for little girls. The dress is of blue Fortrel polyester/cotton plaid with yoke and sleeves in a lighter blue broadcloth. This vested pant suit (right) from Kingston of San Antonio, Tex., has a lot going for it for back-to-school. Laced front vest and trim on the blue ribbed knit pants are of light brown, leather-grained vinyl. The ivory turtle-neck knit shirt makes a pleasing color contrast for the outfit.

SCRAP SKIRT

Make a whole collection of patchwork skirts for the fall, ranging from casual daytime wear to evening attire. Take out the old scrap bag, choose the materials that blend well together and have the brightest colors. Then use any gathered skirt pattern.

Nutritious Lunches, Snacks Are Needed By School Children

COLLEGE STATION. — August is sandwich month, time to plan nutritious back-to-school packed lunches and after-school snacks, reminds Frances Reasonover, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

The number one rule in planning sandwich lunches and snacks, she says, is to follow the four basic food groups — meat, bread-cereal, fruit-vegetable and milk.

Peanut butter and banana sandwiches are handy lunch-time treats. Peanut butter represents the meat group; bread, the bread-cereal group; and bananas, the fruit-vegetable group. To supply the valuable vitamins A and C, round out the lunch by adding a small can of tomato juice, an easy source of both these vitamins.

For growing children, add a cheese and tomato sandwich, made with a quick and nutritious spread of canned tomatoes and cheese, or just add a thermos of milk. Either cheese or milk will represent the milk group.

Lettuces and celery are also important sandwich fillers. They add crunchy variety to meals, plus important vitamins and minerals.

Be creative when preparing sandwiches and other sack lunch foods, Miss Reasonover suggests, but always keep in mind the four food groups.

Set off a clingy knit dress for fall with a chic doorknocker pendant, framed by a sleek rope. Add a hinged bracelet and door-knocker earrings.

Home Safety Rules Prevent Accidents

Years ago, your only acquaintance with the portable circular saw was when you watched a workman using it to cut framing lumber on the site of a building project.

Today, it is used by the do-it-yourselfer for cutting wood and other materials which cannot be brought to a table or radial arm saw. It is not as precise as the stationary saws. And it will not cut curves like a saber or jig saw, and easy-to-handle tool. But it is a rugged machine that is gaining increasing acceptance by the home owner who wants a cutting instrument that will save him time and effort.

The portable circular saw is loosely designated by the diameter of the blade that can be used in it. A 7-inch saw, for instance, calls for a blade with a diameter of 7 inches. That size, by the way, is the most popular among home owners, but you can get a smaller or larger model depending on the type of work you are likely to be doing most of the time.

In selecting a circular saw, try to determine the "feel" of it, much as you might do, for example, when choosing a golf club. Does it feel comfortable in your hand? Move it around a bit. Is it too heavy? Does it seem to be well balanced? Generally, the price is a good indication of quality, especially if the saw is made by a known manufacturer of power tools.

Some of the newer models come with double insulation, protecting against shock if there should be a short circuit. Most now have antikickback features, so that the saws won't jump back if they meet obstructions in the material. There are crosscut, rip and combination blades, as well as various speciality blades that cut metals, plastic laminates and such things as asbestos boards and concrete blocks.

As with all power tools, it is important that safety be your first concern. Every portable circular saw comes with literature that lists the rules of safety that should be observed.

Physician Operates Hospital Of Hope

NEW YORK (UPI)—"We are involved here with every aspect of life and death and that's what medicine is all about." The words are those of Dr.

Denis R. Miller, a 37-year-old physician whose whole professional life is geared to chronically ill children, many of whom are facing death.

To talk with the doctor in his office at the New York Hospital complex is to find cheer and hope, not a dour and doomed outlook for a child who has one of the hundreds of diseases of the blood. It could be the fatal leukemia, the lifetime afflictions of disfiguring thalassemia (Cooley's anemia), sickle cell anemia or hemophilia.

Dr. Miller's one big watchword is hope; his whole staff operates on it. For instance, of leukemia, which 20 or 25 years ago was the quick killer, he says, "We don't laugh anymore when a physician tells us he had a patient who lived 15 years."

Causes of leukemia still elude researchers but there's been much advance in treatment, especially in the development of drugs that do what Dr. Miller calls a "holding action," adding years in many cases to a child's life.

SATURDAY, AUG. 28

Your birthday Saturday: Begins a year of getting to the spiritual center of life and its questions. Whether you plan it or not, your own welfare leads you to seek broad group effort that must be done for your community. There is opportunity to expand your personal expression by leaving behind outworn routines, bad habits Saturday's natives tend to become involved in helping others in trouble, and are generally very efficient at almost anything they try.

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 19): Your eyes and appetite are far larger than your needs and holdout look but don't let it. Selling off excess belongings can be a lark.

TARUS (April 20-May 20): Your own moves should be considered well in advance and kept to a minimum. You should know by now the characteristics of those you love.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Even trivial routines, superficial habits and mannerisms turn out to have special impact on your prosperity and opportunity.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Friendship blossoms and may go on into something more serious than average. Pursue sentimental projects.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Temptation is toward dramatic expression, generous entertaining. Most such activity not only would defeat intentions but you'll need to use the money for better purposes later.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): No matter how unimpaired the situation seems to you, go along with a laugh. Somebody's view of proceedings as being absurd may just happen to be valid.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Credit where it's due opens doors for you. Palmsage doesn't yield positive results; mutual self-respect does.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Almost any situation is worthy of exploration but be a bit shy of formal affiliations for the time being.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): "Forward and onward" becomes the slogan for Saturday. Playing it straight emerges ahead of petty self-centered approaches.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Pretensions are brought down in shambles — your own as well as those of others. Minding your own affairs becomes a positive virtue.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Have a care for the feelings and rights of others as you reach for improvements. Those who normally work smoothly with you are sensitive.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Career ambitions point one way; homelife and its promised serene happiness may not be on the same road for you now.

Local Church News

Highland Baptist Church

Sunday is Round-Up Day at Highland. We urge all members to be present and visitors are invited to be with us on this special day.

The Good News Quartet of Amarillo will be singing in the morning service, and followed by an afternoon concert at 2:30 featuring the Good News Quartet, Ann Winegart, Alvin Adams and the Burns Family.

The pastor will bring the messages at the morning and afternoon services.

A church picnic will be at Central Park at 5 p.m. No evening services are scheduled.

First Baptist Church

Rev. Dan B. Cameron, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. In the eleven o'clock morning worship he will continue preaching the series of sermons from the Book of Leviticus with a sermon entitled, "The Priesthood." He has taken his text from the sixth chapter of Leviticus.

David Campbell, minister of music, will direct the Sanctuary choir in singing the Call to Worship, "One World, One Lord, One Witness" by Reynolds, and the Choral Worship, "Am I A Soldier of the Cross" by Hine. Special music will be sung by a ladies sextette. Their selection is "God Gave Us Hands" by Jackson. Mrs. Eloise Lane, organist, has chosen Prelude on "Eucharistic Hymn" by Mead for the offertory. This service is broadcast over radio station KPND and televised from Channel 12, Cable TV.

The pastor will announce his message for the seven o'clock evening worship. The Sanctuary Choir will occupy the choir loft and sing "Why Should I Care," Arr. by Youngton. A mixed quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mayo and Mr. and Mrs. David Campbell, will sing "Singing I Go," Arr. by Mickelson. The organ offertory selection is "I Must Tell Jesus" by Thompson. This service is televised from Channel 12, Cable TV.

The regular program of activities will be followed this week with visitation beginning Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. for the ladies and at 7 p.m. for the men. The Fellowship supper begins at 5:30 Wednesday evening and is followed by prayer meeting at 6:15 when the Pastor will continue his character study messages on men in the New Testament. The First Baptist Men will meet Thursday at 6:30 a.m. for the monthly breakfast meeting and program in the dining hall of the church.

Christian Science

What underlies today's interest in divine healing? This is a question to be explored at Christian Science Church services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus."

The restoration of sight to the man born blind is one of the healings of Christ Jesus included in the Bible readings. It contains this insight: "If this man were not of God, he could do nothing."

Commentary from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy relates such healing to today's demands. One citation states: "It is possible, - yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman, - to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life of health and holiness."

Central Baptist Church

Members and guests of the Central Baptist Church will hear their pastor, Bryan Halliburton in both the morning and the evening services. Sunday morning he will speak on the parable of the Wedding Feast. This is another in a series of sermons based on the Parables of Jesus which are found only in the book of Matthew.

The music this Sunday morning will be under the direction of Marlin Hawkins. Sunday evening Mr. S.L. Tate the regular music director of the church, will be in charge. He is away this week in revival but will return in time for the Sunday evening service.

The church's remodeling and building program is continuing and most of the work will be completed in about 60 days. The remodeling project includes new rest rooms, offices, library, kitchen, parlor, outside entrances, and reception area.

This Sunday the church is observing "Back to Sunday School Day." High attendance goals have been set by each Sunday School department and the church is expecting an exceptional attendance in both Sunday School and church.

Zion Lutheran Church

Sunday will be observed as Rally Day and Promotion Sunday at Zion Lutheran Church. Eligible students will be moved up to a new class for the new "school year" which begins on Sept. 5. The teaching staff will be installed during the 11 a.m. worship service. In the service the Rev. M.G. Herring will present the message on "Christian Education in the Home." Mrs. M.G. Herring will be the organist. The annual Sunday School Picnic will be held Sunday at 5:30 p.m. at Central Park for all students and their families.

The Stewardship Board meets Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to begin plans for the Fall Stewardship Program.

Barrett Baptist Church

Evangelist Joe Murray will be in the pulpit for the morning worship service at 11 a.m. Sunday school will be conducted at 9:45 a.m. Each class will fill out records, then adjourn to the auditorium. Tim Brown, has been playing the organ for the Canvas Cathedral, will conduct the rest of the services. Music will be under the direction of Jack Davis.

The 7:30 p.m. worship service at the Optimist ball park will be the last service with Joe Murray, Evangelist from Market Square in Houston, preaching for the Canvas Cathedral. The public is cordially invited to attend these revival services.

Activities during the week will be WMS Wednesday at 10 a.m. Prayer meeting and a continued study on Revelations with visual aids, as well as Girls Auxiliary, Royal Ambassadors and Sunbeams are all conducted at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Visitation will be Thursday at 7 p.m.

Barrett is a Southern Baptist Church.

There is always ample parking space and a nursery provided for all services.

Presbyterian Church

Rev. Martin Hager, First Presbyterian Church pastor, will use "My people" as the topic for his sermon at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services, this Sunday. Scripture readings will be Isaiah 25:6-9 and Philippians 2:8-11. Rev. B.K. Han will assist in the pulpit at both services.

The Choir will meet this Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. for their first rehearsal this fall. The Session will meet at 7 p.m. in the West Room for their regularly scheduled meeting.

UNUSUAL CALM characterizes two views of embattled Northern Ireland. Street scene from Londonderry, left, catches a British soldier breaking for tea and fraternizing with an Irish lad too young to know what is happening to his homeland. The Weekly Message of Inspiration...

HIGHLAND BAPTIST CHURCH

A. E. BURNS

Vacations are over and school is back in full swing. We are working to get things back to normal.

During the summer, with vacations and week-end trips, it is so easy to let down in being faithful to our churches. Remember that "Christ loved the church and gave Himself for it."

The key to the success of any nation, state, city, town, home or people is their relationship to God. Regular church support is perhaps the best way of declaring ourselves to God and His rules for living together.

We are certain of this - the Bible urges us "not to forsake the assembling of our selves together." The worship of God tunes our spiritual life sharper for daily living. The people who worship and serve God together have a better chance of understanding and loving each other, as is surely needed.

Let me urge you to go back to the church of your choice. Take the whole family and have a worshipful experience with God. It will make Pampa a better city in which to live, your home a place of joy, and yourself a better person.

Your pastor will be so happy to see you on Sunday.

Red Faces Changing As Red Sox Down KC

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

After 12 straight defeats and the possibility of an embarrassing season sweep by the Kansas City Royals, the Boston Red Sox were on the verge of becoming the Red Faces.

The complexion suddenly changed, though.

Boston averted a series shut-out with a 7-0 triumph over Kansas City Thursday night, whipping the Royals for the first time in a year. The Red Sox lost the last game of 1970 and the first 11 this year.

"The odds just caught up with them, the law of averages," said Boston Red Sox Manager Eddie Kasko.

The odds may have had something to do about it, but the Red Sox also had something else going for them—Ray Culp. He pitched a six-hitter.

"They had just beaten up on us," said the burly right hander. "They've got a good, young club. It took one of my better nights to get them out."

All the action Thursday night was in the American League as the Cleveland Indians trimmed the Milwaukee Brewers 10-6, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Chicago White Sox 8-7 in a rain-shortened, eight-inning game and Washington drubbed California 8-3.

Before running into Culp, the Royals were close to doing something that only one team in the history of baseball has done—sweep a season series. The Baltimore Orioles shut out the Royals last year and, in fact, had won 23 straight over two seasons before Kansas City won a game this season.

The Red Sox made certain there wouldn't be another sweep this year as they scored four runs in the fifth off Ken Wright, including Reggie Smith's three-run homer.

"My home run was about due," said Smith, "I don't recall ever coming here without hitting one."

Ed Farmer pitched strong relief as Cleveland rallied from a 4-0 deficit with four runs in the fourth and five in the seventh to beat Milwaukee.

GEORGE TUBB (Standing) of Canadian and his son, David, are shown after firing with the winning U.S. team in the international Palma Trophy Match at Camp Perry, Ohio, Saturday. Canadian Family Moves To Top In Rifle World

CAMP PERRY, OHIO (Sp) — The shooting Tubb Family of Canadian has acquired another set of laurels to add to their stack.

Father George, 47, and older son David, 16 helped the United States recapture the hallowed old Palma Trophy—a trophy in name only — from Great Britain during the National High-Power Rifle Championships here Saturday.

The Palma, the trophy for which disappeared in the 1930s but is still shot for by long-range rifle teams from the English-speaking world, was won by the U.S. with 4404 points out of a possible 4500. Great Britain was points away with 4392; Canada was third (4344), Australia fourth (4249).

Britain had won the 1970 trophy match at Bisley Range, near London. The U.S. has now won the Palma three of the last four years.

George Tubb, a rancher-farmer who taught his wife Pauline and sons David and Gary, 15, to shoot highpower rifles, fired a respectable 218 of a possible 225 but David beat his father in the Palma with a 223, ninetytwo points off the perfect 224 turned in by Richard Ilao of Montclair, Calif., the sign individual. During regular national-championship competition earlier, Mrs. Tubb — Pauline — won her fourth straight women's championship, and David repeated from 1970 as junior champion.

George, who started it all, has been as close as runnerup for the open national championship — in 1966. He says he will keep on trying to gain the national title, which this year went to Ohioan Ron Troyer, "until I'm 75 or so."

The Tubbs have one problem whenever pitted against high-power riflemen from other areas: There aren't enough high power matches their home area north Texas, Oklahoma — to keep them quite as sharp and busy with match rifles as they'd like.

"By comparison, the California people shoot high-power every weekend," George Tubb put it. "We have to drive 400 to 500 miles to compete; they have a match within 50 or 100 miles."

The Tubbs shoot in a club based at Pampa and have a 1,000-yard range in a pasture as well.

George Tubb came home from infantry service in Europe during World War II well-trained with the rifle; he took up competitive shooting in 1947. In 1960, Mrs. Tubb learned to shoot ("She saw everybody else up here at Camp Perry having a good time and decided there must be something in it," her husband says). David and Gary, who just set a new national junior record, came along in due course.

Dickey, Dallas Victim As Houston Loses 28-20

HOUSTON (AP) — With Lynn Dickey, the brilliant rookie from Kansas State, as te victim, the Dallas Cowboys used the safety blitz Thursday night to break up a rough and tough exhibition game and reclaim the "Texas Championship" with a 2-20 victory over the Houston Oilers.

With 3:42 remaining in the final period and the Cowboys clinging to a 14-13 lead, the Dallas blitz enabled Cornell Green to intercept a Dickey pass and clinch the victory with a 40-yard touchdown return.

Just 70 seconds later, after covering a kickoff fumble, the Cowboys put the game out of reach as Dan Reeves, on a field goal fake, passed eight yards to D. D. Lewis for the fourth touchdown.

"We went to the safety blitz because we thought the Oilers wouldn't be prepared for it this early in the season," said Tom Landry, the Cowboy coach now undefeated in four exhibition games.

Dickey, making his first start as a pro quarterback, completed 14 of 31 passes for 295 yards and two touchdowns but blamed himself for the interception that broke up the close game witnessed by an overflowed Astro-Jome crowd of 49,078.

"It was my own fault that I didn't read the blitz," Dickey said. "They found out and kept coming with it."

"Dickey had the Cowboys on the ropes in the second half except for the one mistake on the interception," Landry said.

Ed Hughes, the new Oiler coach said "Lynn Dickey showed me a lot of cool."

"He was tough under pressure," Hughes said. "He had trouble with the safety blitz, but that was due to inexperience."

Hughes stuck with Dickey all the way, leaving veteran Charley Johnson and rookie Dan Pastorini on the sideline.

"We played extremely rough — it was a real physical type of game and we met them punch for punch physically," Hughes said.

Landry was not too happy even though the Cowboy recaptured the Texas Governor's Cup the Oilers had claimed a year ago with a 37-21 upset.

"Our overall pay was spotty and not too good," Landry said. "We were just not alert."

Several injured Dallas players, including all star receiver Lance Alworth, did not play and Landry gave his running star Calvin Hill a rest in the second half. Landry had Roger Staubach at quarterback except for a brief period just before halftime. Craig Morton directed a 24-yard drive Walt Garrison climaxed by plunging over from the one to put Dallas ahead to stay at 14-10. A 42-yard interception return by Dave Edwards had set up the drive.

Staubach and Dickey had opened the game by exchanging 75-yard scoring drives. A 43-yard Staubach pass to Bob Hayes set the Oiler five permitted Garrison to score from the two.

Dickey struck back on Houston's first play with a 75-yard touchdown pass to Willie Frazier.

Pro Athletes Not Exempt From Wage Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pro athletes have been told they are not exempt from President Nixon's 90-day freeze on wages and prices. Still, there is much confusion.

The Cost of Living Council, in its seventh list of questions and answers issued to clarify the freeze, ruled that professional athletes who had not entered into new contracts prior to the Aug. 15 freeze cannot negotiate contracts during the 90-day period calling for salary increases to cover their services during the freeze.

The council, Nixon's policy-making board, apparently gave the answer to many questions, but failed to reply to others, such as the rulings' application to bonuses and incentives and to long-term contracts.

Arnold Palmer Has Made Up His Mind About Golf

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Arnold Palmer's made up his mind:

"I've come to the conclusion that it's a good tournament," he said after scoring a 68-71 victory over Mike Hill and leading the advance into today's third round of the $200,000 United States Professional Match Play Golf Championship.

"It's going to take time to develop, of course. Any tournament does."

"But it's interesting. I think the spectators like it. Almost anything can happen out there."

"An illustration of what could happen, almost did happen today."

He was referring to the eagle-birdie finish by Hill that turned what appeared to be a routine Palmer victory into a minor drama.

Hill, 32-year-old younger brother of Dave Hill, was five strokes down with two holes to play in the head-to-head competition in which scoring is based on total strokes over 18 holes.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

The New Aristocracy

More than one publication is calling attention to political pay scales as compared with remuneration for similar jobs in productive enterprise.

One of the latest comes from the Aug. 2 issue of Industry Week. Here is the comment of the magazine's editor-in-chief Walter J. Campbell:

"The young man came to our office seeking employment. Two years out of college, he was working for a federal agency, writing news releases. He said he wanted to get his feet out of the public trough and get a job in private industry.

"The lad was bright and fairly personable. We thought he was a pretty fair candidate for an editorial trainee.

"When the subject of money came up, we were astounded to learn that he was drawing about 80 percent more than the going rate for men of his experience and ability in private industry. Sadly, we advised him to stay where he was.

"That evening, we related the experience to a friend. He, in turn, told about his sister, divorced after 16 years as a housewife, she had a job with a federal welfare agency at $22,500. How many women in private industry draw as much? "Federal salaries at the middle management and quasi-professional level have doubled in the last ten years. Jobs that paid substantially less than their private enterprise equivalents in 1960 now generally pay much better.

"A few years ago, people were lured to Washington to work for the government by job security, generous and early pensions, lots of vacation, sick leave and holidays, and a chance to serve their country. Generally, they received somewhat less money than they could have commanded in private industry.

"Today, they get all those and more money, too.

"A survey conducted by the Engineers Joint Council shows that in 1960 an engineer with five years of experience would have been paid $8,200 in industry, but only $7,250 by the federal government. Today, the comparable engineer gets $12,803 in industry. The government pays him $14,500, plus the federal benefits.

"Big Brother really takes care of his own."

But what a way to fight inflation!

Discipline Time Is Upon Us

The days of the great outpourings of self-deprecation and self-deception are drawing to a close. The beginnings of a popular movement to down grade and prohibit the sale of speed drugs, hallucinatory pills, and narcotics are slowly emerging. The latest and largest move to deceive the people about their government and the Vietnam war has resulted in a defeat for the perpetrators.

With the greatest danger to the United States and to freedom for all mankind loomed, the time for individual and national discipline is upon us. If through one more mistake on our part, the Russians should gain a clear and unbridgeable advantage over us in atomic weaponry and their delivery to targets, the day may not be far off when we would have to answer the inevitable call for our surrender with submission.

Instead of filling our heads with drugs that induce escape from the stark reality that is ahead of us, we must clear our minds in order to be able to offer the best possible advice to our political leaders. The idea of trusting the Russians with the destiny of our country and our lives in another dubious treaty is abhorrent. At least all disarmament treaties with them should be self-enforcing, that is, requiring inspection of foolproof rigidity.

Thomas Paine was so light when he said: "These are the times that try a man's souls." Let us be worthy of the men and women who gave us this nation.

WASHINGTON

Soviet, China Face-Off In South Asia

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Moscow - Peking showdown when it comes, may be in South Asia, not on the Russo-Chinese border.

For here the Soviet Union and Communist China confront each other in much the same way as do Russia and the United States in the Middle East, which President Nixon has called our "most dangerous" problem.

The South Asia confrontation is of the most dangerous type, for the real adversaries face each other through client states - Russia backing India and China backing Pakistan. And neither Moscow nor Peking has firm control over its client, so that it may be most difficult to pull back from a crisis.

The positions of India and Pakistan are seemingly irreconcilable. Antagonisms run too deep and have lasted too long.

As in the Middle East there are smoldering religious differences.

It is no accident, therefore, that the Kissinger trip to Peking was followed closely by a Russo-India defense treaty obviously aimed at Pakistan and the People's Republic of China.

But India and Pakistan are not the only Asian battlegrounds.

Take Ceylon, where Russia has been angling for a naval base, where China has heavily infiltrated.

Then there is Indonesia, where the Soviet Union is now attempting to replace the discredited Chinese influence. So worried are the Indonesians that there are reports of some sentiment for approaches to Communist China as an offset to the Russians. The mainland Chinese, meanwhile, have been covertly busily rebuilding their party structure in the Indonesian islands.

The Russians have stuck with the new government in Cambodia. The Chinese have chosen to back Sihanouk and the Red Khmer guerrillas.

The same picture is visible in Thailand, where the Chinese are providing guidance, training and arms for the northern anti-Thai guerrilla operations and building a military road from China through northern Laos aimed quite clearly for the northeastern Thai border. The Chinese control the local Thai Communist party.

The Soviet Union, on the other hand, is the only Communist country with full diplomatic relations with Thailand.

It is known there is a strong belief within China that the Soviet Union is attempting an encirclement aimed at containment or strangulation.

It is known also that influential voices in the Soviet Union maintain that only a strong position in the south can offset the influence of China's growing nuclear arsenal.

There is no way at present of foretelling what the output of this confrontation will be.

Quick Quiz

- Q-Who accepted the British surrender terms at the Battle of Yorktown? A-Brig. Gen. Charles O'Hara, acting for Lord Cornwallis, gave his sword to Maj. Benjamin Lincoln, acting for George Washington.
- Q-What does the term "largo" mean in music? A-Extremely slow.
- Q-Who were the first five American cowboys to be enshrined in the National Cowboy Hall of Fame? A-Theodore Roosevelt, Will Rogers, Charles Russell, Jake McClure and Charles Goodnight.
- Q-What is the leading cotton-growing country? A-The United States produces far more cotton than any other nation.
- Q-Who was the first U.S. president to appear on television? A-Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1939.
- Q-Who has jurisdiction over the Garden of Gethsemane? A-Friars of the Franciscan order have controlled the Grotto since 1392 and the Garden since 1681.
- Q-Is St. Peter's Church in Vatican City a cathedral? A-Contrary to popular belief, it is a basilica, not a cathedral.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Nita has changed her sexual outlook, so consider her frank comments. God apparently made women to have a greater attraction to her kiddies than to mere sexuality with an adult male. Note the disaster a he male. Note the disaster to the jungle maiden if this had not been the case. But modern man must realize these sex differences.

CASE R-547: Nita J., aged 27, has a sex problem. "Dr. Crane," she began, "we have been married 5 years. At first I thought you were wrong in saying women are not as erotic as men. But I have learned what you mean and now agree with you. For I find that my 3 kiddies preoccupy most of my time. And though I love my husband and want to cuddle my head on his shoulder as a prelude to going to sleep at night I still am not very much interested in anything else. If he kisses me good night, that is usually enough for me. But it seems merely to be the appetizer for him regarding physical affection. In talking with other women, I find that my viewpoint is about the standard attitude of normal wives, at least if they have any children. So why did God make women to have such a reduced hunger for actual erotic union?"

Apparently, God did it to insure the continuity of the human species on this earth. Suppose, for example, that women were just as erotic as men. If a primitive girl had just borne a baby and was later carrying it in her arms along a jungle path, what would then have happened if she had spotted a good looking male through the trees? Well, if she were as easily excited by the male figure as men are by bathing beauties or mini-skirted girls, she would have laid her baby down at the foot of a tree so she could chase after the man and have a quick affair.

But when she returned for her infant, if very likely would have been devoured by a lion or tiger or swallowed by a huge snake. So God must have decided that one of the two adult parents of a baby should be innately constructed to have a greater interest in protecting the child than in sexuality. Thus, woman was made with enough erotic interest to become pregnant but not with such prurient passion that she'd desert her newborn child in favor of an affair.

God created females to be primarily maternal creatures who would feed and fend for their young. This also holds true in animals below man, such as the cat or dog, horse or cow, pig or sheep, etc. In the harem ays when a man could have several wives, if one of them was indifferent, then he could shop around for one of his other mates who was in the mood for romancing.

But modern monogamy has vetoed the harem idea, both morally, legally and even economically, for most men can hardly support one woman. Psychologically, too, it is much better to have Mamma and Papa together under one roof with their children, than to have many households where Papa alternates his visits to the various families of his harem. But modern husbands have not been taught this essential sex difference so they often grow unduly jealous, thinking their wife's indifference in the boudoir means she is carrying the torch for a former suitor. Or even having clandestine dates outside the home.

Dr. Kinsey data also have abetted this false notion about feminine passion, for his interviewers erroneously used a wife's opinion as a fact! So send for my booklet "Sex Differences Between Men and Women" enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, 25cents.

CAPITOL EYE '72 Candidacy Signals

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The timing of President Nixon's sweeping moves to bolster the American economy gives the whole undertaking heavy political overtones. For some months, analysts have been saying that August was about the last moment the President could take major steps which might ease unemployment and inflation in time to benefit him in a 1972 bid for re-election.

The argument runs that measures like tax cuts, investment credits, a wage-price freeze and slashes in federal spending make their impact slowly. It is estimated that if they are instituted now or very soon, important beneficial effects will not be felt until March of next year.

Any sizable gains after that time, it is contended, would come too late to help Nixon at the polls. Whether the President accepts this reasoning is not known, but it is a fact he has acted just within what are seen as his danger limits.

That he has done so, and that he has acted so drastically, should put at rest all doubts that he is interested in running again in 1972.

The moves are his recognition that the economy long since has become the big issue of the campaign — made more prominent by the winding down of the Vietnam war. In 1968, Nixon won four of the eight big northern states — California, Illinois, Ohio and New Jersey — all by margins two or three per cent. He knows, and gets constant reminders from political advisers, that he could be hard-pressed to hold those states next year if unemployment and inflation were not moving downward substantially by then.

Not the least unsettling thing for the Democratic contenders was the speed and magnitude of Nixon's economic action. As with his announcement of the visit to China, the dramatic thrust on the economy demonstrated forcefully the power of the sitting president to affect the course of events in massive and surprising ways.

Gas Industry Hope Black

By DON OAKLEY

"Gasification" sounds like something they do in Washington (or wherever politicians gather), and true enough, the government is involved in it. The full name, however, is "coal gasification" — two of the most exciting words in energy circles these days. They mean the conversion of coal into pipeline-quality natural gas.

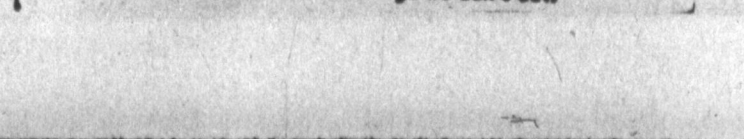

Inspired by previous research that proved it was possible to produce methane, or natural gas, from coal by adding hydrogen to the carbon and hydrogen already present, the federal government and the gas industry have embarked on a broader program to demonstrate the economic feasibility of converting coal into gas on a mass scale.

What it could mean for an increasingly energy-hungry nation is this: Coal reserves in the United States are many times greater than oil and natural gas reserves. Presently known minable coal reserves are estimated to be equivalent to 11,000 trillion cubic feet of gas. This figure is too large to mean anything, but present annual consumption of natural gas is about 22 to 24 trillion cubic feet. Thus at the current rate, there is enough coal to fill our gas energy needs for more than 400 years.

There are other benefits. Since it is the cleanest-burning fossil fuel, the wider use of gas would not bring the pollution problems associated with coal or oil, or the radiation hazard of nuclear energy. Coal gasification plants could be multiproduct plants, manufacturing synthetic crude oil, pipeline gas, char for electric generation and sulfur all at once and all from coal.

Experts say that large coal gasification plants could provide as many as 1,300 jobs directly connected with the plant, and up to 1,600 others in surrounding communities. Each trillion feet of gas produced a year could mean as many as 40,000 new employment opportunities. Color the energy future black — coal black. And that's bright.

At today's costs, the ideal marriage arrangement for a daughter is a ladder long enough to reach her window and the price of the license. Keep on your toes at all times and you'll have mighty sore ankles. Count your change carefully. That's about all you can do with it. There's nothing that feels better and looks worse than an old pair of shoes. The safest side to be on in a neighborhood argument is the outside.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, including "CLA" and other small notices.

IN A PEACEFUL SETTING, it might be hanging out the wash, but in the war-tense Mideast stringing barbed wire is the occupation of Arab Bedouins at work on the security fence separating Israel and the occupied Gaza Strip.

Texas Poultry Inspection Plan Meet Federal Requirements

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department certified Thursday the Texas and Hawaii poultry inspection programs as being equal to the federal program.

As a result, these states now have full responsibility for the review and inspection of poultry slaughter and processing plants doing business wholly within the state. The certifications will affect 26 intrastate plants in Texas and 10 in Hawaii.

To earn equal-to status, states have to develop a law and regulations financing and staffing, as well as enforcement, matching the federal program conducted by the Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Half the costs of state poultry inspection are met with federal funds supplied by the Consumer and Marketing Service.

The Wholesome Poultry Products Act gave each state until Aug. 18, 1970, to develop a program at least equal to the federal one. The act provided for an extension of one year—until Aug. 18, 1971—for states making satisfactory progress.

Agriculture Department officials said surveys were begun in 25 states and Puerto Rico immediately after the deadline to determine whether their programs meet requirements of the Act.

To date, 10 state poultry programs have achieved equal-to status; plants in 13 states now operate under federal inspection; plants in three states are scheduled for federal inspection. Besides Texas and Hawaii, the eight other equal-to states are Arizona, California, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina, Vermont and Washington.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Aug. 27, the 239th day of 1971. There are 126 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, American troops began landing in Japan at the end of World War II. It was the first foreign occupation of Japan in modern history.

On this date: In 55 B.C. forces under Julius Caesar invaded Britain. In 1776, the British were victors in the Battle of Long Island in the Revolutionary War. In 1859, the first oil well in the United States was drilled near Titusville, Pa. In 1923, the Kellogg-Briand Pact to outlaw war was signed in Paris. In 1916, Italy declared war on Germany. In 1939, Germany demanded Danzig and the Polish Corridor. Ten years ago: 50 persons were killed when a bus plunged into a river near Trichur, India. Five years ago: The Soviet Union demanded that Communist China protect the Soviet Embassy in Peking from anti-Soviet demonstrators.

Mexican-American Students Protest Against Pairing

HOUSTON (AP) — Some Mexican-American pupils failed to report at 25 paired elementary schools Thursday but a threatened mass boycott failed to materialize on the opening day for the nation's sixth largest school district.

The Mexican-American Education Council earlier had said it would seek to keep 6,000 children out of Houston School District classes as a protest against pairing of the predominantly black and brown schools.

Officials said from two-thirds to practically all the Mexican-American pupils reported for classes, however.

A three-week boycott last September led to about 3,500 Mexican-Americans attending huelga (strike) schools opened at churches and other buildings.

The remainder of the district operates under an equidistant plan that includes provisions for pupils to transfer with provided transportation from a school where they are in the majority race to a school where they are in the minority.

The equidistant plan was ordered by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally. The U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the Connally ruling except to order the pairing of the 25 elementary schools.

Policy Change Enables Young Men To Enlist In Elite Special Forces

A recent change in policy now permits young men with or without prior military service to enlist for assignment to the Army's elite Special Forces. It was announced today by SFC Kenneth W. Baker, local army recruiter. Previously, only Airborne qualified men with prior service or who were in service were accepted.

As the name implies, Special Forces is for special men. Men who have a special kind of courage, dedication, stamina and ideas. Men who want action and are capable of rugged training and duty.

Applicants without prior service who apply for this rugged training must be 19 years of age and be able to pass the medical fitness standards required for training and duty with the Airborne Rangers and Special Forces. Special mental examinations are given. In addition, enlistees must be able to swim 50 meters unassisted and qualify for a secret security clearance prior to acceptance.

After initial basic training, enlistees will become Airborne qualified at Jump School. Then months of Special Forces training, both general and specialized. This training will be in subjects such as medical aid, communications, intelligence and operations, demolitions and weaponry. It is important work and with plenty of room for promotions.

Those who complete this rugged training will earn the right to wear the coveted green beret that identifies a Special Forces soldier. They will be serving with the best because they have proven their physical and mental capability.

Young men with or without prior service may obtain further information on this outstanding enlistment option from SFC Baker, U.S. Army Recruiter at 115 N. Cuyler St. or call 665-2022.

Good Weather Spurs Harvest Of Crops

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Crop, range, and hay prospects improved in Texas during the week and good weather spurred the harvest.

Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that although a few areas still need more moisture, warm, sunny weather is also needed for cotton in western sectors and to allow full swing harvesting in other areas.

Harvest operations are slightly behind the pace of last year. The cotton harvest is about 8 per cent complete, grain sorghum 38 and rice 75 per cent.

Hutchison noted that with generally good prospects for the fall, producers are busy preparing land for oats, wheat, and other grains and some vegetables.

Reports from district agents show:

PANHANDLE: Harvesting of Carrots and potatoes has resumed in the Hereford area. Sugar beets are making excellent progress. Some wheat is being planted. Moisture is still short in some parts but ranges have improved and are offering some grazing. Livestock are in good condition.

SOUTH PLAINS (Lubbock): Warm, sunny weather is critically needed for cotton. Sorghum, soybeans and castors progressed well. Some sorghum head discoloration was reported, ranges improved and some stocker cattle are being shipped in.

ROLLING PLAINS (Vernon): Rains fell in some sector with totals up to 6 inches. About half of the 22 counties lack adequate moisture. Cotton is fruiting well where moisture is sufficient. Insect damage ranges from light to heavy. Some sorghum is being harvested. Ranges improved.

NORTH CENTRAL: Spotted showers left only two counties with a shortage of moisture. Sorghum is 50 to 80 per cent harvested. The corn crop is poor. Early cotton is making good progress. Late cotton is being harvested. Ranges are excellent with some bailing in progress. Pastures are above average and stock water is adequate. Some land is being prepared for grain.

NORTHEAST: Producers are preparing land for oats, wheat and vegetables. Hay making is in full swing with some second and third cuttings. Soybeans and pecans look good. Some areas are too wet for sorghum and cotton. Harvesting is being delayed. Pastures are excellent. Livestock and livestock markets look good.

FAR WEST: Moisture is generally adequate for ranges and dryland crops. Hot, sunny weather is needed for normal cotton development. Some grain planting is underway. Livestock are improving rapidly. Ranchers are repairing water gages damaged in recent heavy rains.

WEST CENTRAL: The drought has definitely been broken. All counties have adequate surplus moisture. Sorghum is being harvested where land has dried. Cotton is loading up and some spraying for insects is in progress. Leaf spot has infected some peanuts and the crop is suffering from the excess rain. Ranges and livestock are in good shape. Farmers and ranchers are repairing some gages damaged by recent floods.

CENTRAL: The first bale of cotton was harvested near Waco Aug. 19. Early cotton is opening in other Blackland counties. Some defoliation will begin soon. Moderate to heavy infestations of boll weevils and boll worms are damaging late cotton. Corn and sorghum harvesting is underway. Harvesting is about complete in the Blacklands. Peanut prospects have improved greatly. The pecan crop is generally light. Livestock improved and stocker prices are strong.

EAST: Moisture is still short in parts of the district. Some land is being prepared for planting grains and vegetables. The vegetable harvest is about complete except for peas, tomatoes, and watermelons. With hot, dry weather, the hay harvest is active. Pastures are improving but more rain is needed. Stock water also remains low in certain sections. Livestock are in fair to good condition.

SOUTHEAST: Cotton is about 20 per cent open and 5 per cent harvested. Bollworms are heavy in some fields. The corn crop is 25 per cent harvested and yields are off some. From 50 to 100 per cent of the sorghum crop is in with yields fair to good. Good yields and prices are reported on the first rice crop which is about 75 per cent harvested. Mustard and squash are being harvested and Irish potatoes are being planted. Some hay is being baled.

SOUTH CENTRAL: Harvesting of cotton, corn, sorghum, rice, and peanuts is in progress. The hay supply is short but the crop is making a comeback with recent moisture. Ranges are still below average so more rain is needed. Grasses are making good growth. Livestock are improving but generally are in fair to poor condition. Marketing is normal.

SOUTH: The cotton harvest is 85 per cent complete in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Rains near Corpus Christi have lowered cotton yields and quality. Some peanuts have also been lost to wet weather. Citrus is sizing fruitwell. Pastures are excellent. Livestock improved.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A Criminal Court judge used sign language Tuesday to question Phillip Dignon, a deaf mute charged with a traffic violation, before passing sentence.

"I was embarrassed," said Judge Everett Richardson. "I hadn't used sign language in years and years." He said he learned the technique while living with a first cousin who was a deaf mute.

Judge Richardson stopped attorneys who began laboriously communicating with the defendant in handwritten notes and used hand talk to communicate with Dignon. In a few minutes, the charge of reckless driving was explained by the judge. Dignon pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for one year.
