NO DAMAGE REPORTED

Upper Texas Coast Hit By Storm Edith

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—Hurricane Edith brushed the Upper Texas Coast with pounding tides and fierce winds today, causing the evacuation of Sabine Pass, as it thrust ashore even more fiercely at Cameron, La. Coast Guardsmen reported after the winds started subsiding at Sabine Pass that they had found no damage.

Sabine Pass, a town of 2,000 people and only four feet above sea level at its highest point, is a dozen miles south of Port Arthur. It sits on an exposed promontory only 30 miles from Cameron, where mighty hurricane Audrey's giant tidal waves took 390 lives in 1957.

Civil defense authorities ordered Sabine Pass evacuated about 4 a.m. as Edith's poorly defined center stood 50 miles south of there in the Gulf of Mexico, moving toward the northeast at a quickened speed of 15 to 18 miles per hour with winds estimated up to 100 miles per hour.

Only two residents refused to leave the Texas town, civil defense workers said.

Nearly 30 members of the Coast Guard also rode out the storm at their station 2.5 miles south of Sabine Pass, which was built to stand nearly 10 feet above sea level.

Seaman Tom Chappelle estimated winds up to 40 m.p.h. pummeled the Coast Guard station.

"We've got men out in special vehicles checking for damage, but they haven't found any," Chappelle said.

The National Weather Service said winds were gradually diminishing on the Upper Texas Coast by that time and already had struck Cameron in hurricane force, although the hurricane's center was still offshore at the time.

Civil defense officials said one route for leaving Sabine Pass—Texas 87—was blocked toward nearby High Island to the southwest before the evacuation order was given. Tides then were running as much as 2½ feet above sea level and expected to reach possibly 5 to 6 feet.

Three hours later tides all along the Texas coast from Freeport to High Island were reported 2 to 4 feet above normal, and 2 to 3 feet in Galveston Bay.

National Weather Service issued this bulletin on hurricane Edith at 9 a.m. CDT:

Edith crosses Louisiana coast east of Cameron. Hurricane warnings are in effect from Cameron to Morgan City. Gale warnings are in effect elsewhere from Port Arthur to the mouth of the Mississippi River.

The center of hurricane Edith is crossing the west Louisiana coast about 30 miles east of Cameron. Tides are estimated 10 to 12 feet near and just east of the center. Tides of 5 to 10 feet are occurring elsewhere in the area of hurricane warning and 2 to 5 feet in the area of gale warnings. The storm surge will spread salt water well inland over the marshes of south central and southeast Louisiana.

A few tornadoes are possible in southeast and south central Louisiana and extreme southern Mississippi.

Heavy rains with 4 to 8 inches are expected near the path of Edith as it moves northeastward into central Mississippi tonight.

At 9 a.m. CDT, the center of hurricane Edith was near Latitude 29.8 north, longitude 92.9 west or about 30 miles east of Cameron, La. It was moving northeast at about 18 m.p.h. Maximum sustained winds are estimated 100 m.p.h. with higher gusts near the center and hurricane winds within 25 miles of the center. Gales extend outward 75 miles east and north and 50 miles south and west of the center. Central pressure was reported 978 28.88 inches.

ARRESTED HERE

Oklahoman To Face Charges On Holdup

Calvin Luke Copeland, 47, waived extradition to Oklahoma to face armed robbery charges following his arrest Wednesday morning by Pampa police officers.

Acting on advice from Oklahoma City authorities that Copeland, suspected of participation in a holdup there, was en route to Pampa to visit his mother, local officers checked her E. Browning street residence and found the fugitive's car with Oklahoma tag parked behind the house.

Copeland was taken into custody minutes later by city officers Ken Keith and Bob Franklin while he was walking up Browning near his mother's home.

He was taken before Peace Justice Ed Anderson who signed a fugitive warrant and fixed bond at $10,000. Copeland signed a waiver of extradition and, unable to make bond, was lodged in county jail. Oklahoma authorities were expected to come for him today.

Spiro's Low-Keyed Performance Draws Praise From GOP Liberals

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew may have enhanced his political standing among Republican governors with his low-keyed performance at the 63rd National Governors Conference.

Agnew had stirred controversy at two earlier conferences of the governors. But this time his profile was low, his tone drew liberal GOP praise, and he went away as the conference choice to take full charge of their liaison with Washington.

There was no talk of any movement to dump Agnew from the 1972 GOP ticket. Only one GOP governor said he thought Agnew should be replaced, and he declined to be quoted by name.

"I don't know there's any indication he isn't going to be the candidate, unless it is by his own choice," said Gov. Ronald Reagan of California. Reagan said President Nixon and Agnew would present the strongest ticket the GOP could field in 1972.

"I wouldn't have any trouble supporting Agnew on the basis of 1971," said Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon, who had been sharply critical of Agnew's campaign tone and style in 1970.

When Agnew defended his campaign in sharp terms at a conference of Republican governors in Sun Valley, Idaho, McCall termed it "a nasty, bigoted little speech."

But McCall said he found a new tone in Agnew's San Juan appearance. In his speech in San Juan Monday, Agnew called for a positive approach to the administration's new economic policy, and an end to "petty bickering... and partisan jockeying."

"It's a new Agnew," said Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington.

Texas Flood Victims Look To Washington For Relief

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—South Texas flood victims of hurricane Fern looked to Washington today for financial relief.

Jesse Ward, defense and disaster relief officer of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said Gov. Preston Smith had signed a letter asking President Nixon to declare eight counties in this section a disaster area.

The stricken area ranges from Refugio County north of here to Brooks County in deep South Texas. Also included are Bee, Nueces, San Patricio, Jim Wells, Aransas and Duval counties.

If Nixon grants the proposed order, a $2,500 "forgiveness" clause would take effect for low-interest loans from the Small Business Administration and agricultural agencies.

For example, an official said, a person receiving a $3,000 loan would have to repay only $500. The remaining $2,500 would be forgiven.

The SBA already has declared all Texas areas affected by Fern eligible for low-interest loans, but this did not include the forgiveness clause.

Peace Activists Get First Word On U.S. POWs

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, American peace activists visiting Hanoi have brought back something relating to U.S. prisoners of war held in South Vietnam, tapes purported to carry the voices of four POWs.

The tapes, released Wednesday by antiwar groups, assert the prisoners are forming a peace movement of their own, including publication of a pacifist magazine.

The tapes concern prisoners of the Viet Cong and were released by North Vietnamese in Hanoi, where visits in the past have been limited strictly to matters relating to prisoners in the North.

Chamber Elects New Directors

Chamber of Commerce ballots for the election of seven new directors to the board for three-year terms were counted in the Chamber office this morning.

The following were elected: Gene Barrett, John Fritsch, Dr. Royce Laycock, Rex McAnelly, Foster Whaley, R.D. Wilkerson, and C.D. Zlomke.

These directors will replace the following whose terms expire next month: H.P. Donohue, Milo Carlson, Arthur Aftergut, Kay Fancher, Jim Hughes, Don Lane, and James McCoy.

The Chamber's annual membership banquet will be held Nov. 2 in Robert E. Lee Junior High School Cafeteria. Reservations may be made at the Chamber office beginning Oct. 1.

Nixon May Reconsider Hanoi Peace Proposal

Move Seen To Speed Up Release Of POWs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon may decide to modify opposition to the Viet Cong-North Vietnamese demand for a 1971 American withdrawal deadline, administration sources say, in order to obtain release of U.S. prisoners of war.

They indicated the Paris peace talks are at a full stop on the prisoner issue with each side "waiting for a break" from the other. "My guess is that this break will be that between now and 'day X' Richard Nixon will modify or change his position on the Viet Cong's first point," one government official said.

He was referring to the seven-point Viet Cong peace plan proposed July 1 at the Paris talks. The first point said all U.S. prisoners held in Vietnam would be released "if the U.S. government sets a terminal date for the withdrawal from South Vietnam in 1971..."

Nixon has said repeatedly final withdrawal will depend on release of the POWs as well as the ability of the Saigon government to defend itself.

The United States has not rejected the Viet Cong proposal outright but has demanded clarification, through secret or restricted discussions, of what is involved. The other side has insisted on continuing open talks, a stand U.S. negotiators deplore as a publicity stunt.

The best estimate, according to U.S. officials, is that Nixon may announce in November a substantial increase in the current withdrawal rate, perhaps amounting to virtually a total cutback in troops by spring or even earlier.

"The question then will depend on how or if it is put in such a way" as to bring about a positive response from the Viet Cong and Hanoi, an administration official said.

Two Justices Hospitalized

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court approaches a new term with two of its nine justices in the same hospital, suffering from ailments.

Court and hospital officials are guarded on the conditions of the two elderly justices, Hugo L. Black and John M. Harlan. Black, 85, is said to have "an inflammatory condition of the blood vessels." Harlan, 72, is said to have "a backache."

Both men, who are distant cousins, have been at the hospital for weeks. Harlan entered Aug. 16 for what was thought initially to be a "sacroiliac strain."

Black was hospitalized Aug. 28. He barred officials there and at the court from disclosing the nature of his illness. On Wednesday, his office briefly said he was at Bethesda "for maintenance of a proper blood sugar balance during steroid treatment" of the inflammatory condition.

The court resumes public sessions Oct. 4. In the past it has operated with only seven justices—the most recent being the spring of 1970 when Abe Fortas had resigned and Thurgood Marshall was put out of action by pneumonia.

Black, in his long judicial career, has been an ardent exponent of the Bill of Rights. He was a vital cog in the Warren Court and the philosophic leader of the now-accomplished legal theory that the 14th Amendment binds the states to provide these guarantees.

President Nixon is expected to make the next announcement concerning troop withdrawals about Nov. 15. At present about 215,000 U.S. troops are in Vietnam with the figure set to drop to 184,000 by Dec. 1 under a schedule the President announced last April. At the current withdrawal rate of 15,000 men a month a zero figure would be reached in early 1973.

Price To Spend Four Days At District Events

Congressman Bob Price of Pampa will spend a busy four days in his 18th District tomorrow through Monday.

He will start off at 8:30 a.m. Friday at a pep rally in Palo Duro High School, Amarillo, and then speak at the high school, followed by an address at the state convention of the National Farmers organization in Amarillo.

The congressman is scheduled for two other appearances in Amarillo tomorrow.

Saturday he will go to Memphis for the Old Settlers Day observance and return to Amarillo for an afternoon news conference with U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Saturday night he is to be honored at a Salute to Bob Price dinner in the Amarillo Civic Auditorium where Senator Goldwater is scheduled for a major address.

On Monday the congressman and his wife will lead the Tri-State Fair parade in Amarillo. They will return to Washington Saturday afternoon.

Shootout Kills Kidnap, Hurting Two FBI Agents

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP)—One man was killed and two FBI agents were wounded today as the agents moved in to rescue a bank president, his wife and two teen-age daughters who had been held hostage at a motel for two days.

Police identified the dead man as Marvin Grissom, McDougal, Ark.

The FBI said T.R. Smith, president of the Concord Banking Co., Concord, Ga., his wife and two daughters were abducted Tuesday and had been held since this time. Concord is about 60 miles south of Atlanta.

Police are looking for a second man, who apparently fled during the shooting.

Officers said the men apparently were holding the Smith family until a time lock at the bank was opened. It normally is closed on Wednesdays.

FBI agent Leo E. Conroy said the Smith family was taken from their home Tuesday night by a gunman who had two revolvers.

President Urges Senators To OK Draft Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon was reported ready to lend his personal support today in the crucial hours before a Senate vote on tabling the draft-extension bill, a move he is said to believe would signal a weakness in national defense preparedness.

At a news briefing Wednesday, a White House aide said Nixon, worried over the bill's fate, was considering personally telephoning some senators before the vote on the tabling motion by Sen. Gordon Allot, R-Colo.

Allot is leading the fight to have $300 million added to the $2.4-billion military pay increase provided in the bill.

Sen. John Stennis, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, admits the bill's chances are dim if the tabling motion carries.

City Now Has New Ambulance Service

Metropolitan Ambulance Service of Amarillo began operating in Pampa at 12:01 a.m. today.

Pampa's two funeral homes which furnished the service for many years discontinued ambulance operations last midnight.

The new ambulance station is located temporarily at 329 N. Hobart.

Two ambulances are in service and one on standby.

Mike Meredith, manager of Metropolitan's local branch, said eight attendants have been employed, six from Pampa and two from Lefors.

Under a contract with the City of Pampa and Gray County, Metropolitan will receive $1,400 a month from each plus payment for 75 per cent of calls taken to Highland General Hospital.

Ambulance calls will be $30 between 6 a.m. and 10 p.m. and $35 between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

The ambulance charge will be part of the patient's hospital bill and all billing will be done by Highland General.

Money collected in excess of 75 per cent will go back into the city-county ambulance fund. In event of failure to collect 75 per cent, the city and county will share the deficit.

SWC Members Urged To Express Their Views To State Legislators

By RAY BAXTER
"The lines of communication are open. It is up to you to keep them open by using them to tell us how we can serve you in the legislature."

Thus did Sen. Max Sherman, Amarillo, assure members of the Panhandle Soil and Water Conservation Association they would be heard in Austin.

The occasion was the fall meeting of the association hosted by the Gray County SWC district, one of 25 in the association. It was a luncheon affair at the Gray County Courthouse Annex Wednesday.

Sherman explained legislation both passed and proposed as it pertained to members of the conservation group.

He was followed by Rep. Phil Cates, Pampa, who reported on the house side of the state legislative halls.

Curtis Schaffer, chairman of both the county district and the Panhandle association, presided. He introduced Don Cain, Gray County judge, who extended the welcome to the visitors.

Woman Guard Ready For Any Eventuality

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mac's ready.

Yep, Mac, a 110-pound girl guard at the new Dallas Federal Building is ready for any eventuality, including big, mean men. So far, she's had little trouble, but if a big man came at her, she would aim a kick for a vital area and "disable him for awhile," she said Wednesday. "I feel confident," she said. "I can handle most anything that could come up."

Mac, 32, is Mrs. Elaine McKerracher, a mother of an 11-year-old daughter who thinks her mother is "just wonderful." Kim may turn out to be a girl guard herself.

L. W. J. Glesner said of her: "Size is no criteria. Mac is one of the best pistol shots around here and very good at karate. I'd hate to tangle with her."

What would she do if a 200-pounder grabbed her? "I'd probably get his instep and an elbow in his eye," the freckled-faced gal from Oklahoma by way of Oregon said.

"You have to work fast—at that stuff," she said with disdain crinkling her nose. "I want to be a woman first, and this is a good job for a woman. Before I took my training, I might have fainted if a man grabbed me."

What does a woman guard do for recreation? "I practice pistol shooting and karate some. I sure like shooting." You get the idea Mac's staying ready.

Mac has two distaff buddies, too, Jan Jolly, 22, and Ann Davison the latter a grandmother. All can run a mile with any man, Glasser says, and all are trained in karate and marksmanship.

The trio was among the second batch of graduates from the Federal Protective Officers' Academy in Fort Worth in May. They are part of a force of 79 officers and guards at the new Federal Building here. They get a lot of kidding—up to a point, but their male colleagues respect them and regard them as necessary.

Only nine of the original 28 defendants in the suit, which flourishing passage of banking legislation.

Judge Hughes' ruling was expected shortly after 9 a.m. None of the politicians named, among whom were Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Gus Mutscher Jr., are defendant in the government action. All have denied wrongdoing.

Absent from the court were two principal figures in what the government alleges was a conspiracy—Houston promoter Frank W. Sharp, 65, described as its mastermind, and his aide, Joseph P. Novotny, president of the now defunct Sharpstown State Bank.

Sharp testified in return for being granted immunity from further prosecution and being convicted on two lesser charges in a Houston federal court. The deal has been hotly criticized by attorneys representing the other defendants. Novotny refused to testify, invoking his privilege under the Fifth Amendment.

Sam E. Stock, former president of NBL, and Donald S. Akins, NBL's former vice president, appeared as defendants in the first week of the trial, but were allowed to sign consent agreements and withdraw after testifying.

The signing of a consent agreement does not remove a defendant from the case entirely. He agrees to abide by the court's decision and accept a permanent injunction, while not contesting the suit to the end. Stock and Akins said through their lawyer that they could not afford the legal fees involved by a lengthy trial.

Seattle's 607-Foot Space Needle Has Attracted Millions Of Visitors

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — look out from the top it's more like an apartment building." The needle trembled a little during a 1965 earthquake that registered 6.5 on the Richter scale, and the elevators were shut down during a 1962 storm when hurricane force winds swept through the Seattle area, but the only thing that has stopped the needle very long has been the cold—the pipes froze.

"We love it," he says. "It's a sign of success." Since its construction for the Seattle World's Fair nine years ago, the Space Needle has drawn millions of visitors, including the Shah of Iran and Prince Philip of Britain.

It has been a favorite spot for publicity seekers, and Johnson says he remembers only too well the time a group of Chinese hung a 200-foot long string of firecrackers down the side of the needle to celebrate the Chinese New Year.

"We were cleaning up for two weeks afterward," Johnson recalled Tuesday.

At least six weddings and "hundreds" of engagements have taken place in the restaurant-lounge atop the needle.

"We've delivered rings in marlinis, on cake and in the meat sauce," said Johnson.

The restaurant-lounge, which seats 200, revolves once an hour on a ball-bearing track driven by a one-horsepower motor, smaller than the motor in most home vacuum cleaners.

On clear days, the restaurant offers a spectacular view of Puget Sound, the Cascade and Olympic mountains and the entire city.

"Looking up from the ground it doesn't look very safe," admits Johnson. "But when you look out from the top it's more like an apartment building."

The needle trembled a little during a 1965 earthquake that registered 6.5 on the Richter scale, and the elevators were shut down during a 1962 storm when hurricane force winds swept through the Seattle area, but the only thing that has stopped the needle very long has been the cold—the pipes froze.

The 1,000-ton tower is anchored 30 feet below the ground surface in 5,600 tons of concrete.

Three special glass front elevators carry 30-35 passengers up the center of the needle at 800 feet per minute.

So far, said Johnson, anything needed for the restaurant has been small enough to fit into the elevators. But if something big like an air conditioner had to be replaced, there might be trouble.

"I suppose we'd ferry it in by helicopter, but I don't know where it would land," he said.

Too Many Teachers

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — The decrease of the birth rate in the United States along with an oversupply of teachers, will lead to a great deal of competition for teaching positions in 1980, says a new book.

Harvesters' Strength Comes On Second Squad

By RICKEY WRIGHT
Staff Writer

The most overlooked and under recognized people on the Harvesters are on the scout team. These boys are the most important people on a football team, because they do the most important but disheartening job on the practice field. They show the first teamers what the opponents will run against them.

Scout teamers seldom play, but they have the heart, and believe in their team.

"Mel Cockrell is a fine example," said Head coach Robert E. Lee. "The only time they play in a game is when the other team is kicking extra points. We found in workouts that he could block our extra point attempts when other boys can't in games.

One day this week after two hours of work out, where he was playing on the scout team both on offense and defense, Mel came in, on his own, and asked to see a scouting film showing how Odessa blocks for their extra points," added Lee.

"Norman Wisler is a senior who has played on the scout team for two years and has never played a snap in a game," continued the Swede. "Last week during practice, while scouting against the first team offense, Norman kept busting through the line and feeling up plays. He showed us through his effort, a weakness in our blocking scheme. Norman gives real fine effort and has all his life."

"Carson Watt, 6 foot tall at 125 pounds, plays defensive back on the defensive scout squad," said Lee. "He copies exactly what the back of the opposing team does so the offense can see what to expect. You tell him what to do once on Monday and you never have to tell him again during the week."

Shane White has probably the toughest job done by a scout teamer. He is the scout quarterback.

"Shane runs against the first team defense with a batch of third string linemen blocking for him, and he DOES take a beating," said Lee. "At the end of the week he is a walking bruise. He has been hurt, but he continues to play. You never hear a complaint and he has never missed a practice. He gets slabincked nearly every play."

"Scout team running backs take a licking too. It is obvious why," commented the Swede. "These gutty people are Rick Scrimshire and also Estephen Mathis, though Mathis sees a lot of offensive play."

"The most monotonous job on the practice field would have to be Randy Spect's. All he does for 30 minutes a day is snap the ball to the quarterback and sprint 10 yards," said Lee. "Though this may seem useless, it is a very important job. We couldn't polish offensive plays without a center."

"Somebody who deserves a lot of credit is Russell Lemmons," continued Lee. "He has as much character as anyone on the squad. He has never played anything higher than third string, until one day we moved him up to second string defensive end. It was obvious to coach Sanders and myself that he just didn't have the tools to play this position. The next day a coach observed as he looked over the position roster and discovered his name third once again. He sighed and said 'Well back on the scout team.' That day he went out on the field and played like HELL."

"Marvin Elam never played much football in his life, but in the last game Ed Townsend hurt his knee," said Lee, "and Marvin had to play when they were within the ten yard line with the score at 13-7, and we were fighting for our life. Marvin did a pretty good job and Monday he was moved to the second position behind Tibby Rogers."

"It is a short trip between last string and first or second string, twoplays can do it," said Lee.

Lee went on to say, "The first squad has an obvious motivation, they get to play. The others' is not so easy to see. They just get out there and work with little glory for one purpose, to help their team."

"I can't talk about all of them, but there is about 20 boys who put their heart into a very important job, and they do it well," added Lee.

"A Scout team is the difference between winning and losing. We have a good one," said Lee as he went on to add. "Everybody likes a philanthropist. These boys are philanthropists too, they give sweat and blood to the team instead of money, and receive very little recognition in return."

"Most people want their kids to grow up to be a star, but I would be a proud man if my kids would grow up to be like one of these boys," stated Lee."

Merry-Go-Round Will Stop For Landry Soon

DALLAS (AP) — Tom Landry isn't going to be on the merry-go-round in 1972.

"I won't do it again next year," Landry said of his two-quarterback system utilizing Craig Morton and Roger Staubach.

"I think it is important we establish a quarterback for the Cowboy future... a quarterback we can go with in the years come," Landry said Tuesday.

"I will be second-guessed every decision I make. But I'm willing to do that to establish a quarterback."

Landry said he envied Dr. Billy Graham who spoke to a breakfast group with the Cowboy coach in attendance and saw "I don't have any problem deciding on my No. 1 quarterback."

Landry had to disappoint third year man Staubach Tuesday by telling him he wasn't the starting quarterback for the opener against Buffalo after all. Staubach had been named the starting quarterback but a broken blood vessel in the groin causes problems when he tries to set up. Morton drew the nod.

"Roger never says anything about the injury," Landry said. "If we take a chance on playing him Sunday, he could be out three to six weeks. It's just too big a gamble."

Staubach had built up a slight edge over Morton in the preseason but Landry added "Roger does not have a clear cut superiority at this time. Morton has not lost his starting status."

Landry said he realized there was little precedent for the two quarterback system.

"Even the quarterbacks don't understand it," Landry said. "I believe it is the best thing for the Cowboys at this time."

Landry said he was in an unique position.

"A coach may never have had two quarterbacks with such balance," Landry said. "I feel I can win with both."

But Landry said the criticism is sure to come as soon as the Cowboys lose a game.

"We know somewhere we'll lose," Landry said. "Not even Vida Blue throws his fast ball or curve the same way every Sunday."

Asked if he will be the sole judge and bear all responsibility Landry queries "Somebody gonna help me?"

Then he laughed.

Egad, friends, the schedule makers have prepared some special treats for you this weekend, with the Texas Longhorns and Notre Dame's Irish making their season debuts and several outstanding intersectional clashes on tap.

Two of the big intersectional meetings pair Michigan State and Georgia Tech at Atlanta and UCLA and Texas at Los Angeles.

Port Arthur Jefferson Leads Texas High School Football

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

No. 1 was the wrong place to be in The Associated Press schoolboy football poll last weekend.

Three of the four teams carrying No. 1 rankings into the first weekend of the season, have been unseated in this week's poll and the only hold-over leader was rained out last week.

Port Arthur Jefferson in Class AAAA, McKinney in AAA and Sonora in Class A, are the new leaders in the balloting by 17 sports writers across the state. Refugio retained its top rating in Class AA although it was rained out by Tropical Storm Fern last week.

Defending state Class AAAA

champion Austin Reagan stumbled in its opening game in a 7-7 tie with Spring Woods and slipped to fifth place.

Jefferson got the lead by a close margin over No. 2 ranked Odessa Permian. Jeff got nine first place votes to seven for Permian. Third-rated Dallas South Oak Cliff got the only other first place selection. Galveston ball got the No. 4 billing.

There were two casualties in Class AAAA. Pasadena lost to Texas City 39-0 and dropped to a tie for 10th with San Angelo. Houston Kashmere was beat by Beaumont Chariton-Pollard and disappeared from the top 10.

The Brownwood Lions, going for their third straight Class AAAA title, were beaten by Abilene Cooper, ranked seventh in Class AAAA, and lost their No. 1 ranking to McKinney.

The Lions of coach Gordon Wood edged McKinney 7-5 in first place votes but McKinney was ahead on points 155-136.

Brownwood fell to the runner-up position. Ennis was third with two first place votes and Silsbee was fourth.

Refugio polled 12 first place votes to dominate Class AA for the second week without playing a game. Eastland retained second place, but Denver City, last week's third place team, dropped to fifth after a loss to Seminole.

Tomball is third and Kaufman is fourth. Tomball gets a good test this week, going against seventh ranked Klein.

Holiday fell from first to third in Class A after beating Nocona 12-6 last week while Sonora moved into the lead and Poth took second place. Each of the first three teams received four first place votes.

Tidehaven was the only loser in Class A and dropped from the rankings.

WTSU Buffaloes Face Test Against Lamar Tech Team

CANYON, Tex. — West Texas State University's Buffaloes went back to the drawing board Monday afternoon and started to work preparing for their second football game of the 1971 season.

Memphis State's powerful Tigers spoiled the season opener Saturday night in several ways with a 30-0 victory. That win by Memphis State was the sixth consecutive victory by a Tiger team over a Buffalo eleven and West Texas has yet to beat a team from Memphis.

The loss also spoiled the Missouri Valley Conference opener for the Buffaloes and ruined the collegiate coaching debut of coach Gene Mayfield.

West Texas was hampered by its own mistakes as much as it was the good play of Memphis, which is a MVC co-favorite along with defending champion Louisville.

Mayfield hopes to correct many of those mistakes prior to Saturday night's home opener in Buffalo Bowl against the Lamar University Cardinals. That game is set for an 8 p.m. starting time.

It was Lamar which spoiled the Buffaloes' 1970 season opener with a 33-28 victory in Beaumont. Cardinal quarterback Tommy Tomlin, who is returning this fall, hit on 12 of 14 passes in that game for 202 yards and crushed the Buffalo defenses.

Sam Houston State spoiled the Lamar opener Saturday in Beaumont with a 13-12 victory.

In Lamar, the Buffaloes will be facing an offense which they didn't have to face against the Tigers. The Cardinals of coach Vernon Glass are more pass-minded than were the Tigers.

"We expect our secondary to be tested with the pass offense Saturday night," said Mayfield. "We have much work to do this week. We must correct errors in all phases of our game, especially on offense. The encouraging factor about Saturday's game was that most of our errors appear to be the kind which can be corrected."

With the thought in mind of working on correcting errors, the Buffaloes hit the practice field Monday afternoon for a drill without a great deal of contact, but will probably work hard with some contact work later in the week.

Billy Pritchett, the big sophomore from Van Vleck, drew praise for his running from coach Mayfield. The 6-3, 230-pounder rushed 27 times for 86 yards.

Easy, Foolproof Barbecue Sauce Uses Fresh Tomatoes To Give Great Flavor

Serve it with the outdoor grilled steak! Use it to baste the barbecued chicken! It's an easy, foolproof barbecue sauce with the greatest flavor you've ever tasted because it is made with fresh tomatoes. A touch of fresh lemon, a cupful of crisp onions, and the savor of garlic add to the flavor excitement of this sauce.

Fresh vegetables have an inimitable taste and texture all their own that says you cared to take the small amount of time to make something superb instead of just so-so.

Our complete barbecuing directions should bring you success if you haven't been pleased with your outdoor cooking efforts. The state of the fire when grilling begins is crucial. Most people don't start their fire far enough ahead of serving time to get coals at the perfect stage for meat cookery. The meat should be near room temperature rather than taken directly from refrigerator to fire.

Your guests will say bravo to this fresh barbecue sauce.

AGA, Government Working Jointly To Convert Coal Into Pipeline-Quality Gas By 1980

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is literally running out of gas—natural gas, that is—but help may come from four promising processes for converting coal into "pipeline-quality gas," two researchers report.

M.P. Cochran of the Interior Department's Office of Coal Research and Frank C. Schora Jr. of the Institute of Gas Technology (IGT), Chicago, announced their findings Tuesday at a news conference.

They said that at the present rate of consumption of natural gas—and with a scarcity of anticipated new discoveries—the nation would run out of gas entirely by 1985.

But they told newsmen at the American Chemical Society that commercial plants based on at least one of the four coal-conversion processes should be in operation by 1980 at the latest.

Three of the four experimental processes are jointly funded by the American Gas Association and the Department of interior, they said. And the anticipated public need for gas is so urgent, they said, that plans are afoot by AGA and the Department of Interior to accelerate these programs and try to triple the funding for fiscal year 1973.

Present funding is $120 million over a four-year period including $40 million from industry and 180 million from the government.

Shora said the "IGT Hygas" process developed by his institute has reached the pilot stage "with the completion of a 1.5 million cubic feet per day facility now undergoing start-up operation."

And he said another among backed projects—this one in the three AGA—government backed projects—this one involving bituminous coal—is expected to reach the pilot plant stage sometime next year. Pilot plants each involve $10 million outlays, he said.

The Bureau of Mines is totaling funding a fourth project, centered at the Bureau's Bruceton Laboratories, Pittsburgh.

Shora said the natural gas supply situation "will become increasingly" worse because: —About 21 trillion cubic feet of natural gas—most of it pipelined from Louisiana and Texas—is being used yearly by

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for putting that letter in your column saying doctors can treat kids for V.D. without telling the kids' parents. I never knew that. I am a 16-year-old boy who has been worried about having V.D. for the past 4 months but I was afraid to do anything about it.

After I read your article in the paper I called our family doctor and asked him if he would see me without telling my folks. He said to come right away and it would be confidential. I went. I did have V.D. and that wonderful doctor treated me for it. He didn't charge me anything, but I am saving my money and he is going to get a very fine present from me. Thank you, too, Abby.

NOT WORRIED ANYMORE
DEAR NOT: And if there are other young readers out there who are reluctant to see a doctor about the possibility of V.D., telephone your public health department (the number is in your telephone directory), level with them and they will help you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a minor and I have been treated for V.D. (two types). I learned about the seriousness of V.D. while being treated for it.

Sex sure messed me up and now I know I will never go in for it again outside of marriage. The girls who appear least likely to infect you are just the ones who can.

When you realize one in five teen-agers will have V.D. before they graduate from high school, it is scary. V.D. is curable, so as a service to your readers could you please print the symptoms so kids can catch it before it has a chance to go to work on them? God bless you.

SEVENTEEN
DEAR ABBY: Three cheers for your answer to "PARENTS OF A MINOR" who were angry with the doctor who had treated their 15-year-old son for V.D. without telling them. I agree, they ought to kiss that doctor—not reapproach him.

I am not a bad girl. I'm just human, and last summer I thought I was infected with V.D. Believe me, it was hard enough to confess my fears to a doctor, and had it been necessary to tell my parents I wouldn't have gone to a doctor at all. It would have killed them, and I wouldn't want to hurt my parents as I'm sure many kids would hate to do.

I thank God every day for having found I was clean, and I add a special thanks to my doctor.

ANOTHER MINOR
DEAR ABBY: I was pleased to see the letter in your column concerning minors and V.D. because I work in a clinic where V.D. is treated and I know how serious the problem has become.

Amendments To Constitution Explained By Howard Graham To DAR Members

Mrs. W. S. Dixon, regent, presided for the luncheon meeting of Las Pampas Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Saturday in Furr's Cafeteria. The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag and the American Creed. Mrs. Twila Daugherty, chaplain, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Byron White, vice-regent, presented Mrs. James Hopkins, chairman of the Constitution week activities. Mrs. Hopkins introduced Howard Graham, head of the history department of Pampa High School, who gave the history of the amendments to the Constitution.

He mentioned that when the Constitution was drawn up it was assumed that every man had his God-given rights, but soon questions arose and it was apparent that something more was needed to assure those rights. James Mason proposed the first "Bill of Rights" which was voted down. However, after much debate and revision, the final "Bill of Rights" was adopted in 1791. These were the first ten amendments to the Constitution.

He pointed out that although about six thousand amendments have been proposed, only sixteen more have been added since then. Some of the more memorable and far reaching ones were the thirteenth amendment, abolishing slavery

FRIDAY, SEPT. 17
Your birthday today: Collection gathering in the harvest seems the motif of the year ahead. What you've worked to assemble now comes together well enough to reward you and provide the means for more. Today's natives see the beauty in all things and strive to transmit what they see.
ARIES (March 21-April 19): Rapid progress is encouraged; cooperation on all sides is either natural or forced by circumstances. Leave personalities reconciled to all together.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Setbacks are to be considered temporary at worst and about to be corrected or compensated today.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Long-standing minor annoyances can be dispensed now. Change anything that bothers you, even irritations for psychological uplift.
CANCER (June 21-July 21): Seek congenial company. In your mind draw an image of healing light around you and your own people.
LEO (July 22-Aug. 21): From paucity to plenty — you must choose among several constructive ventures, early. Go ahead with vigor.
VIRGO (Aug. 22-Sept. 21): Proceed boldly, disregard recent discouraging comment, and get something done.
LIBRA (Sept. 22-Oct. 21): Eventually you must take a chance if you are to make the leap from one level to another. This is a good time to try a calculated risk.
SCORPIO (Oct. 22-Nov. 21): Reach back for old friends, well tested formulas, traditional resources to sustain a forward-looking (perhaps experimental) effort to obtain a better life.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Returning loans and favors, particularly is essential to a good rating. People look to see where you stand. Entertainment, CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Give yourself full benefit in every promotion or project. Double check for details where it seems you are getting a great deal for relatively little effort.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Interesting information turns out incorrect or wrong. Even discussing it creates the impression you started or approved it. Wait and listen without question of comment.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Special projects require revision to work around newly forming limitations or restrictions. The changes have to be fundamental. Lying surfaces is not enough.
