Local Woman Critically Injured In Auto Wreck

A Pampa woman was critically injured and two other residents treated and released from Highland General Hospital yesterday following a two-car accident at the intersection of Gwendolen and Sumner shortly after noon.

Vicki Rodgers, 19, 215½ Sunset Dr. was transferred to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo following emergency treatment at Highland General. A hospital spokesman here said the young woman had suffered multiple fractures when she was thrown from the car she was driving and the vehicle rolled across her as she lay in the street.

A passenger in her car, William Emmett McKeen, 1117 E. Foster, was treated and released from Highland as was Mrs. Marilyn Giblin Wolfe, 20, 100 N. Faulkner, driver of the other car involved in the crash.

Investigating officers said the westbound vehicle operated by Miss Rodgers, apparently attempted to pass a slow moving car near the intersection, Mrs. Wolfe, eastbound, was waiting to negotiate a left turn, north onto Sumner. The Rodgers vehicle went into a broadside skid, struck the Wolfe vehicle and bounced into a utility pole.

Police are continuing investigation of the mishap.

Redistricting Ruled Unconstitutional

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Supreme Court ruled today that the 1971 house redistricting plan is unconstitutional.

It took the nine-judge court only 15 minutes after hearing oral arguments on the plan to issue its ruling.

"The court has concluded that the legislative act is unconstitutional," said Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert.

Calvert declared that no motion for rehearing would be accepted. He said an opinion specifying the court's reasons for knocking out the redistricting plan will be filed later.

Critics said the bill was written to gain revenge against Speaker Gus Mutscher's enemies.

Oral arguments lasted 70 minutes.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin's legal staff asked the court to reverse an Aug. 10 decision by Austin Dist. Judge Herman Jones that the measure was unconstitutional.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Pat Bailey told the court the "one man, one vote" rule left the legislature no choice but to divide several counties among two or more house districts.

Duncan Boeckman, lawyer for Republican Rep. Tom Cradick of Midland and the state GOP, said dividing the counties was a clear violation of the Texas Constitution. This was the basis for Jones' decision knocking out the redistricting plan.

Saigon Concerned About Aid Cutoff By U.S. Congress

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu is increasingly worried that the U.S. Congress might cut off or drastically reduce aid to South Vietnam if he runs unopposed in the Oct. 3 presidential election, informed sources said today.

Thieu is reported concerned despite assurances made by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the Nixon administration has no intention of abandoning the Thieu government.

Sources said that in a series of recent meetings with advisers, Thieu has mentioned the possibility of resigning to forestall a cutoff in U.S. economic and military aid by Congress.

Hurricane Fern Threatens Texas

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The National Weather Service issued this special advisory on hurricane Fern, which threatens Texas, at 9 a.m. CDT:

Gale warnings for Corpus Christi to Port Arthur.

Gale warnings and a hurricane watch are effective at 9 a.m. CDT from Corpus Christi to Port Arthur. Persons in that area should take necessary precautions and safeguards and be ready for quick action in case hurricane warnings are issued later today. It may be necessary to change to hurricane warnings for a portion of that area later today when a definite movement is indicated. All interests elsewhere along the Gulf Coast should listen for further information from the National Weather Service. Continue the hurricane watch south of Corpus Christi to Brownsville.

Gales and rough seas are occurring just off the Texas coast at this time and gales in squalls should begin on the coast this afternoon or early tonight.

The Air Force flight into hurricane Fern this morning relocated the center at 9 a.m. CDT near latitude 27.4 north, longitude 94.3 west or about 140 miles south, southeast of Galveston. It was about stationary.

API To Hear Safety And Health Talk

Dr. Robert B. Simmons, area director of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, will address the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at a meeting tonight in the Pampa Country Club.

Simmons' topic will deal with the Safety and Health Act of 1970 and its impact on the oil industry.

Tonight's meeting will start with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. and a buffet dinner at 7:15 p.m.

Nixon Offers Critics 'Piece Of The Action'

President Addresses National Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon hopes to quiet critics of his broadside economic program by offering them "a piece of the action" in advising on steps to follow the current wage-price freeze.

Nixon scheduled a rare appearance before a joint session of Congress today to appeal for support of his surprise economic initiative of Aug. 15. All major television and radio networks allotted time for live broadcasts at 12:30 p.m.

The President, it was learned, planned to outline his ideas on enlisting representatives of Congress, labor, industry and the public in consultations on future economic moves.

Some Congress members, notably including several of Nixon's potential Democratic rivals in the 1972 election, and a number of labor leaders headed by AFL-CIO President George Meany, have been sharply critical of domestic aspects of Nixon's Aug. 15 blueprint. They argued the President would place too much of the price-inflation burden on wage earners while offering disproportionate tax advantages to business.

Nixon will argue that his is balanced and equitable program and, sources said, will not back down from his month-old tax revision suggestions that have drawn the strongest critical fire domestically.

But, perhaps more important, he will spell out an intent to enlist all segments of the nation—his critics included—in future economic policy-making consultations.

The President's tax recommendation include repeal of the 7-per-cent excise on autos, the permanent 10-per-cent rapid tax-writeoff privilege on business investments, and acceleration of already scheduled individual tax relief.

This package went before the House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday, with Chairman Wilbur Mills arguing that Nixon would unwisely favor tax help for businessmen over reductions for individuals.

AT ORGANIZATIONAL MEET

Taxpayer League Lays Plan For Local Action

By TEX DEWESE
Organization of the Gray County Taxpayers League was launched last night at a meeting of approximately 75 persons in the county courtroom of Gray County Court House.

Following a 15-minute question and answer period presided over by Richard Swearingen, temporary chairman, a motion to organize was approved and a committee named to draft articles of incorporation and draw up a constitution and by-laws.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Marjorie Dugan, 2228 N. Wells; M.J. Porter, 1616 N. Hobart; Floyd Wetherbee, 2510 Mary Ellen; Ted Mastin, 1100 Charles, and C.C. Dodd 1418 N. Russell.

Swearingen said the committee will hold its first meeting at his home, 1114 Mary Ellen, next Monday night. Swearingen said more than 250 property owners in Pampa, McLean, Lefors, Alanreed and rural areas of the county already have become members of the League.

"Recruiting is still going on," he said, "and all that is necessary to become affiliated is to send name, address and telephone number to The Taxpayers League, P.O. Box 155, Pampa."

There is no membership fee, Swearingen said. Officers of the League will be elected by ballots to be mailed to members by the nominating committee within the next week or ten days.

All persons requesting membership will be placed on the League's mailing list. Swearingen explained at last night's meeting that the major purposes of the League are to educate, inform and enlighten taxpayers on taxation and public spending.

It is planned, he said, to have league representation at all meetings of the county commissioners court, city commission and school board.

The league, he said, has no intent to prevent justifiable spending of public funds or oppose needed improvements.

It was also pointed out at last night's meeting that there is no aim for the league to be a political organization backing the election of an individual, politician or group to carry out the league's program.

"We simply are trying to enlist the concern and aid of every city and county taxpayer interested in the tax and financial situation of our area," Swearingen added.

In the declaration of the League's purposes it was stated: "Rural, state, county, municipal and federal taxes are draining the life blood from our economy, and individualities."

Two Divisions Of United Fund Campaign Start To Work Today

Two divisions of Pampa's United Fund Campaign officially started to work today.

The Special Gifts Division and the Farm and Ranch Division have been making contacts in advance of today's kick-off in order to attain their goals of $44,000 and $1,200 respectively.

Floyd Watson, chairman of the Special Gifts Division, has a team of 13 business and industrial executives including John Fritsch, E.L. Green, H.P. Donohue, Jr., Gordon Lyons, and E.O. Wedgeworth.

Other members of the team include E.E. Shelhamer, Aubrey Steele, Artie Aftergut, Harold Barrett, Gene Imel, Ed Myatt, Fred Neslage and J.C. Roberts.

Paul R. Bowers is chairing a new division for this year's drive.

Verl Hagaman, drive chairman, said he felt greater emphasis should be placed in the area of farm and ranch. Rather than being included in another division, Farmers and ranchers should be contacted through a division of their own, Hagaman stated. The goal for this division has been set at $1,200 for the 71-72 drive.

All workers are asked to check-in with their division chairman, who, in turn, will report to the United Fund office in the basement of City Hall.

Check-ins will be held twice weekly in the Emerald Room of the Coronado Inn on Tuesdays and Fridays beginning Friday, Sept. 24.

Other fund divisions and chairmen which will be kicking off this year's drive are:

Professional, Cameron Marsh and Dr. Raymond Hampton, co-chairmen; Oil and Gas, Warren Fatherree; Government Employees, Mack Wofford; Commercial, Ira Lotjin; Industrial, Joe Rosenbaum; and General Solicitation, David Fatherree.

The annual United Fund appeal, with its $94,250 goal, is set up to meet the needs of the following agencies:

Salvation Army, $22,200; American Red Cross, $17,700; Adobe Walls Council-Boy Scouts of America, $26,250; Quivira Girl Scout Council, $17,200; Pampa Milk Fund, $1,500; Pampa Welfare Index, $550; Gonzales Rehabilitation Center, $500; Texas Medical Research Foundation, $150; U.S.O., $200.

The board decided to conduct this year's United Fund appeal without professional assistance. The only expenses in this year's budget will be for the year-round operation of the Pampa United Fund office.

As a result, a greater percentage of all funds collected will go directly to the nine agencies to assist them in serving the needs of the community, Hagaman said.

Japan May Take Retaliation Against Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of retaliation if President Nixon retains the 10-per-cent import surcharge too long clouded the opening day of a two-day economic meeting between the United States and Japan.

The possibility was raised by Japan's Foreign Minister, Takeo Fukuda, leader of a Japanese delegation of seven cabinet ministers and a strong candidate to succeed Prime Minister Eisaku Sato.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers arranged to open the ministerial conference with a statement calling for reevaluation of the Japanese yen and cooperative measures between the two governments to restore health to the world monetary system.

At a news conference on the eve of the economics meeting, Fukuda said Nixon's economic actions, particularly the surcharge, have had a big impact on world trade.

Demos Urged To Back Nixon's Economic Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Republican senators have urged the Democrats who control Congress—particularly those preparing to run for the White House—to shelve politics and rally behind President Nixon's new economic program.

GOP sources said the series of speeches and statements was orchestrated at the White House.

Nixon himself planned to urge a joint session of House and Senate today to approve the tax reductions that are part of his economic package.

The Senate speeches and the Nixon appearance dominated the congressional stage, and there was no immediate Democratic reply. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., has proposed a caucus of Senate Democrats to work out a party position on measures to follow Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, the acting Republican leader, keyed the GOP speeches Wednesday by urging support for "our president now, because he is right. "I venture the suggestion that attempts to play politics with these proposals will prove to be bad politics."

JFK Center Formally Opened Today

By DONALD SANDERS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts was formally opened Wednesday night with the late president's family joining in a standing ovation for the featured work, "Mass" by Leonard Bernstein.

There was general critical acclaim for the Bernstein work, subtitled "a theater of players, singers and dancers, although some came away wondering whether they had fully understood it.

It was the third public performance of the "Mass", but the first at which officials of the cultural center authorized critical reviews.

The second of the center's three major halls will have its premier tonight, with the National Symphony Orchestra under its music director, Antal Dorati, playing a concert before an audience which will include President and Mrs. Nixon.

The audience at Wednesday night's premiere was comprised of 2,200 invited guests drawn from officials of the Kennedy and Nixon administrations, the president's Council in the Arts, performing artists and benefactors of the $66.4-million marble structure on the Bank of the Potomac River near the Lincoln Memorial.

USDA Sees Brighter Prospects For Net Farm Income This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department sees brighter prospects for net farm income this year because of President Nixon's new economic policies.

The wage-price freeze order, particularly, is good news for farmers, top USDA policy makers are saying. By pegging costs of many farm production items, the reasoning goes, producers can expect some gain in net incomes.

Undersecretary J. Phil Campbell is among the latest to voice optimism.

"Farmers have been hit particularly hard by inflation," Campbell said in a speech prepared for delivery today in Tallahassee, Fla. "In fact, rising costs have more than wiped out the benefits of increased agricultural efficiency and productivity over the past year and a half."

Last year, Campbell said, gross farm income rose $1.1 billion to a record high of $56.6 billion, but farm expenses rose nearly $2.2 billion for a net income decrease of more than $1 billion.

Agriculture Department economists have predicted that 1971 gross farm income may be $58.5 billion or more, about $2 billion more than last year.

"But, prior to the wage-price freeze," Campbell said, "it was estimated that the entire gain would be wiped out by rising costs of operation."

"Now, however, with most of the things farmers buy coming under the freeze, and with raw farm products and seasonally priced items like fruits and vegetables not under price control, the cost-price squeeze on farmers will hopefully be somewhat eased."

Campbell did not predict what net farm income might total this year. Economists until now have said only that 1971 net farm income may about match last year's $15.7 billion.

A spokesman for the Economic Research Service said it may be November at the earliest before officials are able to tell the effects, if any, the wage-price freeze will have on 1971 net farm income.

Ex-Atty. Gen. Takes Stand In Dallas Stock Fraud Case

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Vincent Waggoner Carr, from 1963 to 1967 attorney general of Texas, explains today his part in stock dealings which the government alleges violated the anti-fraud provisions of federal securities laws.

He spent an hour giving preliminary testimony before the court recessed Wednesday night and is expected to spend all of today on the stand. He is the sixth of 15 individual defendants to testify and, like the others, has been routinely warned of possible self-incrimination.

When the case was last before U.S. District Court Judge Sarah T. Hughes for a preliminary trial hearing in February, Carr was the only one of the defendants not placed under a temporary injunction to prohibit stock dealing.

He has always protested his innocence of any wrongdoing and vows he will fight to the end to protect his reputation.

The Securities and Exchange Commission alleges that 28 defendants, some of them individuals and some corporations, manipulated stock so as to give quick profits to politicians in Austin and possibly influence banking legislation before the Texas Legislature.

The trial, originally expected to last at least six weeks, may now be cut by nearly half as result of a determined campaign by Judge Hughes to keep things moving by cutting out some of the 69 witnesses that were to have been called.

Frank W. Sharp, the Houston developer who was dubbed mastermind of the stock dealing scheme, may now be called to testify early next week instead of right at the end of the trial.

The suit is a civil one and no conviction can result from it. Defendants can only be served with a permanent injunction if the case against them is found proved. But other proceedings, possibly criminal, could follow against some at a later date.

The case ended Wednesday night with Carr on the stand, confronted with a minute book of the Nashwood Corp., which seemed to show that he joined the company as a shareholder and director a full year before the date he had just given in the date he had just given in testimony.

His first suggestion was that his appointment as director was subject to his acceptance and he had not been contacted about it at the time it was noted in the company minute book as Aug. 1, 1967. His recollection was that he did not join the company until October 1968.

Your Horoscope

FRIDAY, SEPT. 10

Your birthday today: Diversity characterizes your life in the year ahead. For everything you have there appears to be a contrast or a match. For all that happens some counterpoint or reversal is at hand. Today's natives have a special knack for influencing the general public.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Secrets pop out when you're only trying to be humorous. And if you're unduly quiet somebody figures out your reasons. Discretion means avoiding extremes of all sorts.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Let fresh air and light into long neglected areas. Let go of your ambitious schemes and just be sociable and friendly for a while.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your capacity for keeping up with others is stated and proven likewise your determination to preserve your long-range healthiest self-interest.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Do the best you can when it comes to dealing with money and its uses. Half-promised romantic estimates create problems later. Be clear and definite on budget limits.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Lively imagination ripples along through enjoyable results. You do not attract attention and probably approval.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Fresh ventures need the guidance of earlier experience. Check to see how the last enterprise worked out before plunging in.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Much of what attracts your impulsive buying will never be needed, seldom used. Time, money and space can all be saved by a little self-discipline.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Nothing is quite what it's labeled. Even what

Hair Conditioning

Conditioners are extremely important for long hair. These hair care products help prevent dryness way down at the ends where natural oils can't reach. Conditioners also make hair easier to comb since they virtually eliminate tangles, thereby preventing split ends.

Urbanization

Blue denim overalls, so popular with the younger crowd, can be dressed up to fit the most sophisticated tastes. Adding lace, embroidery and needlepoint, a brightly colored hat, boots and pocketbook will urbanize the farmer loo.

Blushing Beauty

Cream blusher blends into the skin so it doesn't look like added color but part of your own natural blush.

You're clear on what is wanted and necessary, others may need guidance. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 22): Use all the tact and diplomacy you can command to avoid involvement in activities which upset people.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Now the minor flaws in your planning show up and hopefully can be remedied. Any problems arise an element of intrigue.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Make room for other people in whatever is happening, particularly those who have been badly helping you. It not only pays, but is fun.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Taking advantage of offers made comes fairly easily — within reason. Avoid expensive promises, be discreet.

Knits this fall will be niftier than usual. The long and short fashion lesson (left) shows that a dramatic cape makes an ideal knitmate with cool shorts, autumn's answer to HotPants, and a classic ribbed wool shirt. Checked knickers (right) topped by a jazzy suede vest is put together with a ribbed wool knit shirt. These designs are from James Kenrob by Miriam Klein.

Knit Picking For Coming Season Is Rated "More Fun Than Ever"

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK —NEA— Knit picking this fall and winter will be more fun than ever before.

The knit outfit, long relegated to the classic look, has been expanded to wider horizons. And Miriam Klein, young designer for James Kenrob, has added a lot of zest to the whole knitwear scene.

The Kenrob collection is zippy and ranges from the long, sweeping capes so important this season to the latest in cool shorts—the autumnal answer to Hot-Pants.

"Knits are such fun to wear," said Miss Klein. "They're so carefree and comfortable that I feel they should have a 'fun look' as well."

To go along with this philosophy, knickers are a big item in her fall collection.

When teamed with vests, turtle-necks, boots and all the proper accessories, they tell a new, exciting story for this new era in knits.

The collection also includes skirts, jackets, pants and other to achieve many different looks.

The new kinky look in knits is just one more plus for a fashion category whose popularity has increased by leaps and bounds with each new season.

Knits have become a way of life for most American women, especially for those who travel. These clothes are packable, wrinkle-resistant and now they come in "go anywhere any time" styles.

will, but he did take pride in helping me. This also worked with goldfish as I let him feed them each day and then he stopped bothering them which he had been doing before mainly to get my attention when I was busy and could not devote myself to him.

—BEVERLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I wish some reader would tell me how to make pot holders shaped like ears of corn as I cannot find the directions in any instruction books. Are they crocheted or knitted?

—D.V.S.

Country Look

The country look, which has gone over so well in the fashion world, should be accentuated with a more natural, country look in makeup. Use softer colors in makeup with the down home outfits and bolder colors with the sophisticated styles.

POLLY'S POINTERS

To Turn On Gas And TV

DEAR POLLY—Marilyn's small son who turns on the burners to her gas range certainly has a dangerous pet mischief. Everytime he is playing with these knobs or those on the television set do run over and turn it off and slap his hand just hard enough for it to sting and say "No, No, No." If this does not work, try placing an aerosol can top over such controls and use tape to hold them on. They can be taken off when an appliance needs to be used and then fastened back on again. This worked for me.

—VIRGINIA

DEAR POLLY—I had the same trouble as Marilyn has with her 1½-year-old wanting to turn the stove and TV on. The way I overcame this was to let him turn various appliances on (under my supervision and not at random). This was his job and when I turned anything on I always called him to do it. Soon this became a chore and he was no longer fascinated with just turning things on at

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem doesn't really concern your generation, Abby, but the younger generation will understand.

I am a 17-year-old guy who has a souped up car. My car is nice looking and is pretty noisy, but I'm sure it is legal. The police are constantly following me for no reason at all. I have been driving for nearly two years and have never had an accident or a ticket.

Why do the police bug me all the time? I don't break any laws and I don't intend to, it is because my car looks fast and I'm a younger guy?

FED UP

DEAR FED: I think you've answered your own question. But don't be so sure you're not breaking any law by driving a "souped up" car that's "pretty noisy." There IS a law against disturbing the peace, and a souped up car has disturbed the peace of many a sick and sleeping citizen.

DEAR ABBY: You contradicted yourself. A husband complained because his wife had a trunk full of old love letters, pictures and souvenirs from her dating days, and she dragged this trunk around the country whenever they moved. You said, "It's HER junk and if she wants to drag it around the world for the next 50 years, it's all right."

Next comes a letter from a wife complaining because her husband still carries a picture of his old girl friend in his wallet, and you say, "Nix! HER picture doesn't belong in your husband's wallet."

To me the principle is the same. Defend yourself.

HOWARD IN SALT LAKE
DEAR HOWARD: Aw, come on! Letters, pictures and souvenirs from dating days represent scads of old beans. But one picture in a man's wallet is special, and no wallet is big enough for a man's wife and his old girl friend.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to "HUNGRY FOR LOVE" made me wince.

For 11 years I was married to a charming, kind, bright and sweet man who had little or no need for sex. But my desire made him uncomfortable, then angry, finally hostile.

"Surely, there is something wrong with me," I thought, "I must be oversexed. What is normal? Once a day? Once a week? Once a year?" I didn't know.

My physician suggested a psychiatrist for each of us. We each spent several years on the couch, after which my husband died of a tumor of the pituitary gland — undiagnosed.

After 15 years of marriage to my present husband I learned much about life and sex. To put it succinctly, "If one has an itch, he will find a way to scratch it."

A disinterested husband who has no "itch," may be physically sick. Look for a medical cause, not a psychological one.

BEEN THERE IN TRENTON
DEAR BEEN THERE: A psychiatrist is first of all a medical doctor, and one who is competent will look for both medical and psychological reasons.

TRIED AND TRUE — Blue cotton denim with its rugged good looks shapes a mid-coat over matching pants. Junior Sophisticates teams a red and white shirt with the outfit for true Americana flavor.

With Knickers

Knickers look great with a turtle-neck top and stockings to match the top. Or you can wear boots with the knickers. But make sure the bottom of the knickers and the top of the boots meet so there's no space in between.

DEAR ABBY: We just came home from a trip thru Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado and it was especially nice for us because we had our dog with us and there were "pet areas" plainly marked all the way. And we saw very little litter in any of these states.

But I would like to pay a special tribute to Colorado. They not only had pet areas, but they had rest rooms with one stall for invalids. (Rails on the wall with high-seated toilets.) What a state, and I am not an invalid.

LOVES TO TRAVEL
DEAR LOVES: Orchids to Iowa and Nebraska. And carnations to compassionate Colorado!

All-in-one rijsttafel (rice table) seasoned for U.S. taste.

Homemakers Can Change Horizons, Leap Borders With Indonesian Meal

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Travel and reading about traveling to other countries changed the horizons of many Americans. Food, especially, leaped international borders. Those who enjoy rice dishes and Chinese food will want to try the cookery of Indonesia. Start with an all-in-one version of the classic rice table or rijsttafel. This specialty was brought to Europe by Dutch families who had lived in the Dutch East Indies, now called Indonesia. A true rijsttafel has a central dish of rice accompanied by side dishes of meat, chicken, fish and vegetables, usually highly seasoned. A "cool" blend includes ground beef, vegetables, nuts and fruits, gently seasoned with curry.

- 1 tablespoon curry powder *
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 cup sliced onion
- 1/2 cup sliced green pepper
- 1 cup light or dark seedless raisins
- Two-thirds cup cashew nuts
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 can (1 pound) peas
- 1 can (4 ounces) pimiento, cut in large pieces
- 1 orange, sliced
- 1 package (6 ounces) herb or yellow rice, cooked according to package directions

Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Sprinkle Ac'cent, salt and curry powder over surface of meat. Toss gently to

Tips On Marketing Given To Shoppers

COLLEGE STATION — Are you the family food shopper? If you are, you have a lot of responsibility—your family's health depends largely on what you feed them, explains Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

To make your job easier, Mrs. Clyatt offers some marketing tips for this week.

Beef prices are practically unchanged for the past few weeks. Most markets, she says, featuring various cuts of mature beef at special prices. In general, look for best values on short ribs, ground beef, chuck roasts and steaks, round roasts and steaks, and arm and blade pot roasts and steaks.

Retail pork prices are also at about the same price level as during past weeks, with best values on end cut loin roasts and chops, picnics, hams, and shoulder roasts and steaks.

Fryers remain a bargain in most meat departments, the specialist continues. Market quality of broilers is excellent, so Mrs. Clyatt advises that you take advantage of their versatility and serve them in many ways.

Peanut Butter, Basic Nutritious Staple, Holds Price Line Well, Shopper Says

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A wise shopper we know has been delving into the cost of peanut butter. Here's what she tells us:

"In a period of rocketing food prices, it's good to see that a basic nutritious staple like peanut butter is holding the price line favorably. Large-size jars are now available: 18 ounces, 28 ounces, 3 pounds and some stores even carry a 5-pound size. A smart shopper has the best advantage when she chooses the largest size she can use for her family, because the price per pound is significantly reduced as the size increases. If a shopper with a large family can use a 3- or 5-pound size, she will be paying less per pound than 10 years ago, when large-size jars were not generally available."

No matter what size jar you buy you may want to make some peanut-butter cookies—so popular with both youngsters and grownups. So here's the best peanut-butter cookie recipe we've tried recently. Semi-sweet chocolate pieces and salted Spanish peanuts are added and help to make this cookie a delight.

BEST PEANUT-BUTTER COOKIES

3/4 cup unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring

- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 cup (1/4-pound stick) butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup creamy or chunky peanut butter
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup salted Spanish peanuts, red skins on
- 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1 large egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour and baking soda.

In a medium mixing bowl cream butter and peanut butter; beat in, one ingredient at a time, the brown sugar, granulated sugar, egg and vanilla. Add flour mixture; with a spoon mix well. Stir in peanuts and chocolate pieces.

Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls, about 2 inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets. Press down with floured fork making criss-cross pattern.

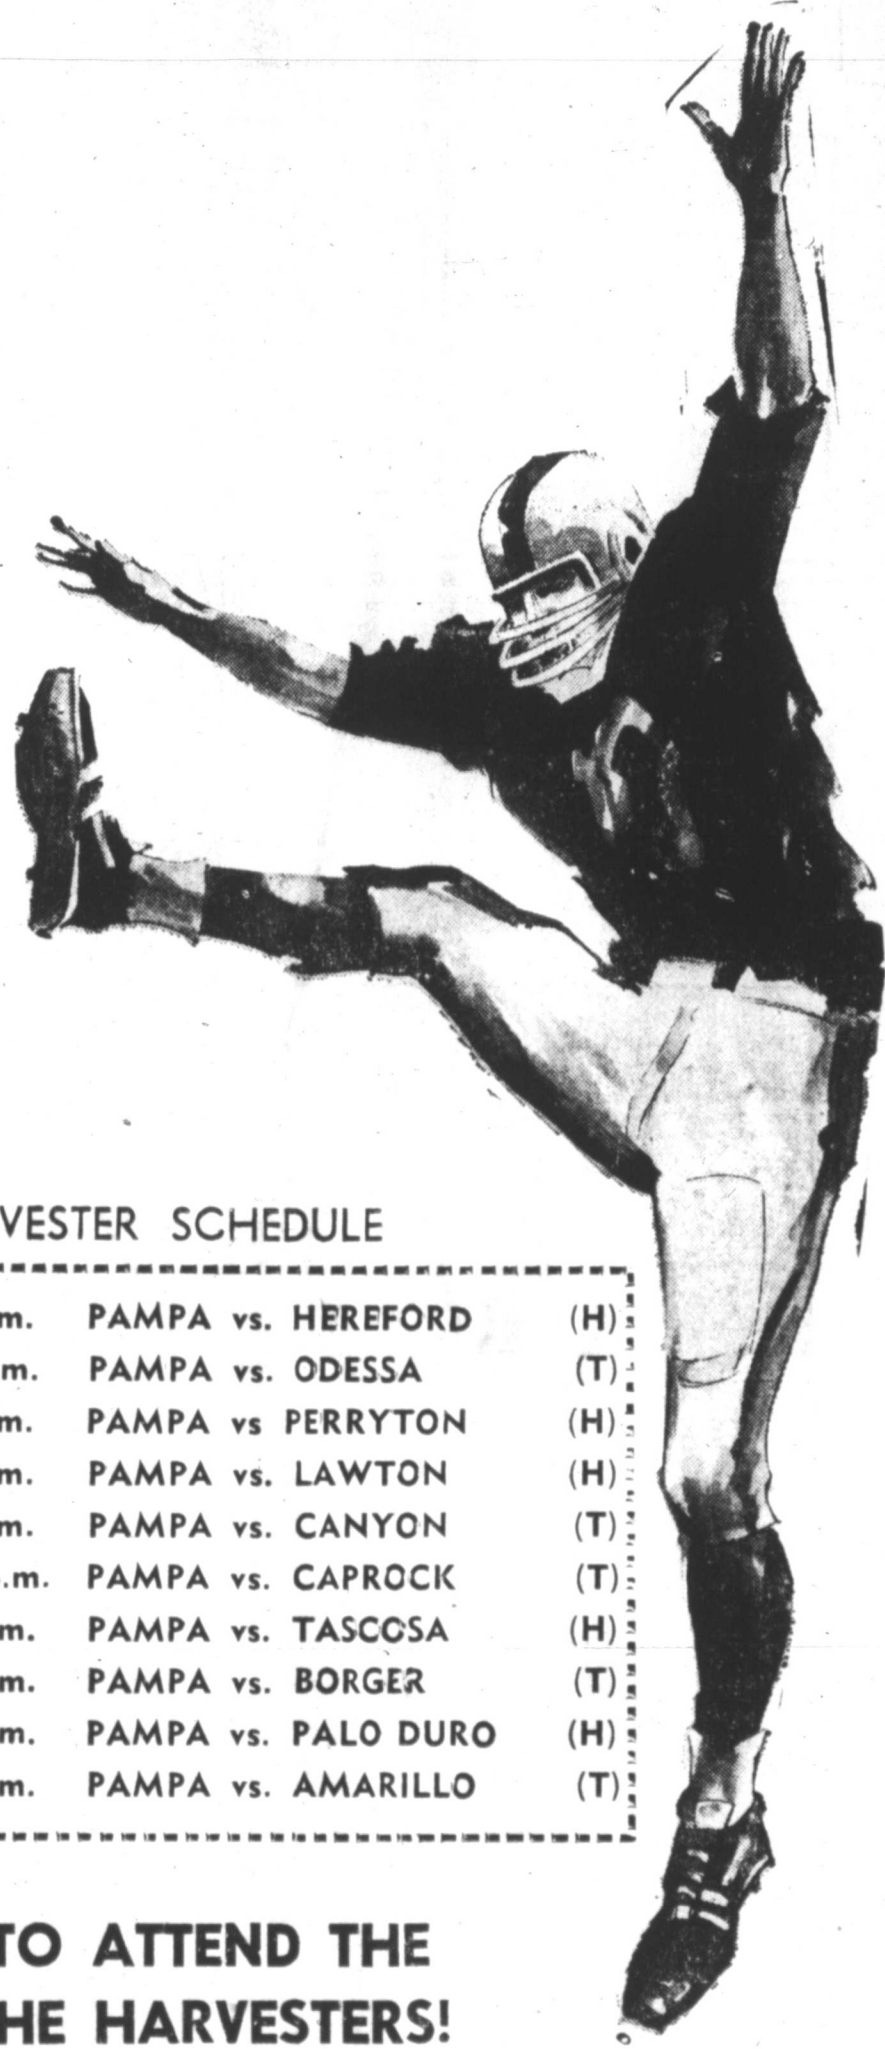

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned—10 minutes. Let cookies stand on pan about 1 minute, then with a wide metal spatula remove to wire racks to cool. Store in a tightly covered tin box.

Makes 4 dozen 2-inch cookies.

Harvesters Host Hereford Friday

Friday night the Pampa Harvesters will try their hand against the Hereford Whitefaces here in Harvester Stadium at 8.

This should prove to be a close game, because in the previous three games the point spread was a 3 margin: 13-12, 12-9, 24-22, Pampa winning two and Hereford one.

"We've only seen Hereford once this year, said headcoach Swede Lee, and it seems they like to throw the ball. They have a good passer and receivers."

"In their first scrimmage game Hereford didn't play their starting backs, commented coach Lee, so I'll have to go on what I learned about them last year. They have on their starting line up a 192 pound Junior tail back who started as a sophomore and I think is a good runner. Also Hereford has a 198 pound halfback who runs ahundred under 10 and is a good pass receiver as well as a runner."

Defensively Hereford has pretty good size with the front line averaging 204 pounds and two linebackers weighing in at about 187 and 185 pounds.

"Monday's workout looked good" said Lee, "though we cut it short because of the intense heat, Tuesday's practice was done under the lights after dark and it turned out to be the best one we've had this year. "All in all, practice has looked good this week."

"The first game of the season is like a bucking horse," stated Lee, "Open the shoot, and he is going to buck. We are going to play."

The starting line up for the Harvesters will be: Dale Ammons at quarterback, John Roth at fullback, Garvin McCarroll and Bobby Owens playing halfbacks, Jeff Hogan at center, Tibby Rogers and Terry Braddock at the guard positions, Ed Townsend and Jim McDowell starting tackles, Larry Knutson tight end and Mike Reddell at split end.

"Other players who will probably see as much action as the first teamers," added Lee, "are Richard McCampbell, Rick Musgrave, Billy Lemons, Harmon Staus and Al Ferguson."

Game captains are Russell Lemons, Mike Reddell, and Bobby Owens.

The Perryton Rangers 1971

Perryton Rangers Look Fair

By STEVE BOHLANDER
Sports Editor

Size and strength seem to be the big factors in football and Perryton is looking for one of their best seasons in 1971. According to head coach, Don Smith, "We have looked real good in our workouts this season and are expecting to surprise a lot of our rival schools.

"We could quite possibly have one of the best teams Perryton's seen in the past 15 years. Last year we were plagued with injuries but so far this season have been real lucky."

The Rangers have nine lettermen back this year: Tom Slaughter at quarterback, a 160 lb. senior who packs good speed along with experience.

David Flowers, one of Perryton's heavies at 220 pounds pulls his weight well on his 5'11" frame. This senior will make a lot of bruises and headaches for opposing teams: Edward Helker, at guard, weighs in at 220 pounds but is hindered by lack of height at 5'9". He should see a lot of playing time as he has a lot of grit and determination. John Bozeman, another big player for the Rangers, although only 5'8" tall he packs a punch with 178 pounds of raw energy. Bozeman will be playing at tackle.

John Smith will be playing center this year along with Jack Outhier a 6'1", 190 lb senior. Both know their job and can do it well.

Rex Thompson, a guard, has good speed and dexterity as he moves his 5'10", 185 lb frame down the field. Thompson will be a starting guard for Perryton.

Bill Miller, another big boy in man's shoes will be making some decisive moves for the Rangers in their quest for the 1-AAA crown. Miller weighs 212 pounds and stands 5'7".

Keith Parker, at end, has good speed, size and excellent hands for the job needed. Standing 6' he is a little light at 160 pounds but should put playing time as he has a lot of season is over. Parker is a senior. Steve Gobin, on the other end position, stands 6' and has the needed poundage weighing in at 180 to get the work done. Gobin, a senior, has lettered twice and is planning on a third. This boy can bear watching as he could be all district material.

Overall the squad of Rangers could arrest the drive of Dumas and other opponents if they can put their talent to good use. The Rangers have enough experience and overall size to capture the 1-AAA crown.

MAJOR HOOPLE PREDICTS

Fearless Forecaster

Egad, friends, the 1971 collegiate football season will get off to a rousing start this Saturday. Would you believe Northwestern over Michigan in an opening day Big Ten showdown? Or the Oregon Ducks to shuck the Nebraska Cornhuskers?

astounding, you say? It can't be? Well, dear readers, those are but two of the startling surprises the Hoople System has for you on this week's card-har-rumph!

In the Oregon-Nebraska encounter look for the Ducks' brilliant quarterback Don Fouts to lead his club to a come-from-behind 30-28 triumph over the defending national champion Nebraska forces.

At Evanston, Illinois, the Northwestern Wildcats will turn back the favored Michigan Wolverines by the margin of a field goal, 17-14. This should be one of the best shows of the day, matching the passing arm of Maurie Daigneau against the Wolves' great runners Glenn Doughty and Billy Taylor.

A third surprise is in store for the viewers of the Pittsburg-UCLA contest at Los Angeles, as the visiting Panthers squeeze by the Uclans, 24-20.

In other top-rated engagements LSU will conquer Colorado, 18-7. Kentucky will edge Clemson by a 17-14 count, and Duke will fall before the aerial wizardry of Florida's John Reeves, 22-10.

Esewhere it will be Arkansas 27, California 20, the host Ohio State Buckeyes by a 35-7 tally over Iowa, Georgia Tech in a stiff encounter with South Carolina will prevail by a narrow onepoint margin, 21-20, and Toledo will stretch its undefeated string to 24 as quarterback Chuck Ealey launches a strong bid for All-America honors as the Rockets smash East Carolina, 41-12.

The national TV audience will get a real treat as powerful Grambling and Morgan State tangle in New York. Grambling's fabled leader Eddie Robinson, starting his 31st year as head man, has built his attack around 6-6, 225-pound quarterback Matt Reed. Morgan State will counter with a brilliant running game featuring John Sykes who reminds this veteran observer — kaff-kaff—of a youthful Leroy Kelly! I predict a Grambling victory, 35-21 — um-kumph!

Continued Oil, Gas Development Urged

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana Gov. John J. McKeithen said today that further oil and gas development of the offshore areas of the Gulf of Mexico would not appreciably hurt the environment.

McKeithen, urging that more offshore lands be leased for petroleum prospecting, said it would help the nation as a whole face a critical natural gas shortage.

McKeithen was among the first witnesses at a scheduled two-day Interior Department hearing on the federal government's proposal to lease 86 submerged Gulf tracts believed to hold oil and gas reserves worth more than $4 billion.

The hearing was called to head arguments over whether to go ahead with the leasing which would be the second lease sale since the controversial Santa Barbara oil spill of 1969.

An Interior Department study, which served as a springboard for the hearing, acknowledged the proposed sale in December would result in some damage to the environment. However, the study adds that possible adverse effects can be cut to a minimum by strict enforcement of existing regulations—the most stringent ever developed.

Orne Lewis Jr., deputy assistant Interior Secretary, opened the hearing by saying incidents of offshore oil spills have been curtailed significantly.

"Commercial fishing this season has sustained a great catch," Lewis said. "This indicates everyone is working together for multiple use of the outer continental shelf."

McKeithen said a rather substantial portion of the state's economic troubles can be traced directly to the curtailment of oil and gas offshore operations after the 1969 oil spill in California.

He said last December's western Louisiana lease sale, the first leasing since the Santa Barbara spill, gave dramatic proof that such operations had substantial economic benefits for the southwestern and south-central coastal areas of the state.

"Exactly the same boost will be given to the New Orleans and southeastern Louisiana area if the new sale planned in December is held," he said.

McKeithen said that shrimp and oyster production has continued to increase as offshore oil production has grown.

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., who is House majority leader, said there is no basic conflict between the offshore operations and the protection of the environment.

"No one has been able to demonstrate conclusively offshore operations have had any severe long-range effect on fishing or shipping," he said. "At the same time there is a commanding demand for additional operations to meet the desperate energy requirements of this nation."

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and Rep. F. Edward Hebert were scheduled as witnesses, but they filed written statements and did not appear in person.

Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock said he strongly opposes any curtailment of domestic oil and gas operations in favor of stronger reliance on foreign oil.

"The Interior Department has an orderly plan for leasing and developing the offshore area," he said. "I can assure you the people of Louisiana overwhelmingly desire that this sale be held."

Texas High Court To Hold Hearing On Redistricting

AUSTIN (AP) — The "one man, one vote" rule did not wipe out a Texas constitutional requirement that house districts may not cut county lines, Republicans said Wednesday in a brief filed with the Supreme Court.

The court will hold a hearing Thursday on the constitutionality of the 1971 House redistricting bill, which critics said was used to eliminate many of Speaker Gus Mutscher's political enemies.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones of Austin ruled in favor of the GOP and held the measure unconstitutional Aug. 10.

Jones ruled the bill unnecessarily divided several counties among two or more House districts in violation of the Texas Constitution. The Constitution says that when a county has enough people to justify a representative, the legislature must give it that House member. Excess population must go to a single district, the Constitution says.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in a brief filed Sept. 1 that the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" rule invalidated that part of the state Constitution.

Buncan Boeckman of Dallas, lawyer for the GOP and Republican state Rep. Tom Craddock of Midland, said in the brief that Martin had failed to produce any evidence to justify dividing 23 counties.

Martin defended the bill as a good faith effort by the legislature, which he said had done a "remarkable job" of trying to follow both the state Constitution and the "one man, one vote" rule of the U. S. Supreme Court.

"Wasn't it incumbent upon the appellants (the state) to have at least introduced some evidence before making these bald assertions?" the GOP asked.

The bill has a population variance of 9 per cent between the most and least populous districts.

"If we are going to forget about political subdivisions, why didn't House Bill 783 come within 1 per cent?" the GOP brief asked.

Boeckman said the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" rule did not invalidate Texas constitutional requirements that county lines must be preserved.

In fact, he said, the high court's "one man, one vote" opinion expressly leaves room for maintaining such lines and respecting state Constitutional provisions.

He quoted the court as saying "state constitutional provisions should be deemed violative of the federal constitution only when validly asserted constitutional rights could not otherwise be protected and effectuated... indiscriminate districting without any regard for political subdivisions or natural or historical boundary lines may be little more than an open invitation partisan gerrymandering."

Disposal Personal Income For Nation Record High

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — How can the rate of personal savings to disposable income be at a 25-year high when so many people claim they are spending to the limit of their ability—and beyond?

At no time since the close of World War II has the rate been higher for any period of several months duration. It's now 8.4 per cent. During the war the rate topped 25 per cent but that was because people had little to spend their money on.

Most people could understand that wartime rate. But now there seems to be a bit of mystery. The savings figures are high, and so is the distress of millions of people who feel they cannot save.

First the facts. Disposable personal income for the nation is well over $740 billion, a record high. Of this amount, $62 billion is being put into savings.

At the current rate of savings, you might assume that every man, woman and child in the country was saving more than $300 a year. That's the average, and since you might consider yourself average, you are dismayed at your inability to keep pace.

The error is in applying these figures to your own situation. They are extremely useful in interpreting economic trends and in devising economic policy, but almost useless as a personal guide.

Studies indicate that a small percentage of Americans do a great deal of the saving. A Federal Reserve study several years ago revealed that families with incomes of more than $10,000 accounted for more than 50 per cent of savings even though they represented only 12.5 per cent of consumer units.

GIs In Viet Still Engaged In Offensive Operations

SAIGON (AP) — Despite President Nixon's declaration a month ago that U.S. forces in Vietnam are in defensive positions, they are actively engaged in two offensive operations in the northern quarter of the country.

The U.S. Command does not acknowledge the term offensive in its military announcements these days.

"Active defense is what we're conducting," says Col. Phillip H. Stevens, a spokesman for Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam. "A passive defense is sitting and waiting for something to happen."

While U.S. offensive operations have been cut drastically in number and size, there have been instances where American forces have been sent in to bail out faltering South Vietnamese troops.

Such moves contradict the Nixon administration's and the U.S. Command's contention that American forces are patrolling only to the degree of maintaining close-in security for U.S. bases.

One little publicized current operation is roughly 30 miles south of Da Nang in the Que Son and Hiep Duc valleys region, dominated for years by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

South Vietnamese forces were unable to secure the region, and a fresh North Vietnamese regiment was reported to have moved in. Some 700 U.S. troops from the 196th Brigade in the Da Nang area were dispatched south to recapture two firebases that had been turned over to the South Vietnamese last April.

An armored cavalry unit from the U.S. Americal Division also was sent into the region and in the span of a few days lost eight men killed, a score wounded and several vehicles destroyed.

Several hundred troops from the 101st Airborne Division farther north have recaptured at least two firebases, to free South Vietnamese troops for a drive around the old Khe Sanh combat base in the northwestern corner of the country, near the Laotian border.

"We're not engaged in any long-range offensive operations," Stevens said. "Before, the 101st conducted operations way back in the mountains close to the border actively looking for the enemy outside of its own base area, looking for him and trying to engage him."

"It's true that the 101st moved into two South Vietnamese bases but they were in its own area of operations. The 101st is still responsible for maintaining its own security. Obviously, if the South Vietnamese pulled out and left two voids, we had to take them over to maintain our own security."

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—University of Virginia Hospital spokesmen say Lynda Johnson Robb will be hospitalized through this week for cracked neck vertebrae.

The daughter of former President Lyndon B. Johnson suffered the injury in a fall in the yard of her home last weekend and was brought to the hospital Sunday by her husband Charles.

Robb is a second-year law student at the university.

A hospital spokesman said the injury was not serious and that the 27-year-old Mrs. Robb was "up and around."

The 75-year-old Conservative's office in Ottawa said he entered the hospital Thursday and described his condition as comfortable.

Diefenbaker came to Wales Aug. 25 to visit friends.

TV And Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Those summer soldiers of network television are making their farewells this week. There was something definitely autumnal and final about the last "New Comers" on CBS Monday night and "Make Your Own Kind of Music" on NBC Tuesday.

It has been a pretty quiet, uneventful summer—a few little stones thrown into the networks' big lake with little splash. CBS's "Sonny and Cher Show" emerged as the one big hit of the hot weather season, but once the viewer savored Cher's clothes, hairdos and dead-pan putdowns and had watched Sonny's amateurish and wistful comedy, one program seemed pretty much like the next one.

The British imports—NBC's "Des O'Connor Show" and ABC's "Val Doonican Show"—were hour-long variety efforts that looked, from starts to sets, as if they had been fashioned by the same master hand. They were pleasant, good-humored and went as they came, unobtrusively.

NBC tucked in its final "First Tuesday," a rather tedious hour that started with a cautious report on the ancient Chinese medical art of acupuncture—its most interesting segment—and then wandered through a long piece of the Sudan, a man-on-the-street report on unemployment in Bristol, Conn., something about the hard life of the Zuni Indian, and a feature on water pollution.

The series will be returning as "Chronolog" on Friday nights, starting in late October.

Charles Kuralt of CBS' "On The Road" series, patched together an hour special using some old and some new bits and pieces about his journey to the all-way of America. It was all very low pressure and full of one-key nostalgia for the good old days.

Probably the high point of the evening's activity was NBC's early evening broadcast of a new chapter in television adventures of Babar, king of the elephants. Babar since his transfer from Jean de Brunhoff's book to film, has become Americanized.

Using The Old Head

Any nation that can land men on the moon ought to be able to make a little thing like a metal screw.

It may surprise many people to learn that, until recently, one of the biggest headaches faced by fastener manufacturers was the apparently simple operation of putting a slot in the head of a screw.

The trouble was that the machines often didn't get the slot centered properly. Even when they did, they left a burr—a little curl of metal. Burrs could be removed, but it required an additional operation.

The verbs are in the past tense because someone has now built a better mousetrap in the form of the first screwslotting machine which puts the slot in the screw precisely as well as totally eliminating the need for deburring. The "Warren slotter," named for its inventor, Warren Jackson, president of a machine company in Rockford, Ill., is reportedly causing a sensation in the fastener business.

The Warren slotter will not likely go down in history along with the McCormick reaper and the Edison light bulb. But it does show that no matter how far knowledge progresses into the unknown, there will always be neglected or overlooked backwaters waiting for some enterprising inventor to tidy them up.

In other words, thinking small can have big results.

Lucky, Lucky Floridians

Beginning next year, senior citizens in Florida will have an additional $5,000 homestead exemption from ad valorem taxes levied by school boards.

The additional tax break, making a total of $10,000, is specified in a newly-enacted amendment to the homestead exemption law.

The additional exemption applies to persons who are 65 or older, who have resided in the state as permanent resident for five or more consecutive years prior to claiming the exemption, and who are otherwise entitled to exemption.

Under the new setup, a homesteader won't be paying any part of a 10-mill school tax on the first $10,000 of assessed valuation—which in many cases will mean no school tax at all.

The new tax break will benefit many thousands of senior citizens in Florida who presently must pay school taxes, although they have no children in schools nor derive any direct benefit from the schools.

When Joke Is No Joke

Critics of "big government" have traditionally aimed their sights at Washington and the growing federal bureaucracy. Now the Tax Foundation, Inc., has come up with some statistics showing that our state and local governments have not exactly been dying on the vine.

Since 1961, the number of people employed by state and local governments has more than doubled. The size of their payrolls has risen by a spectacular 496 per cent. The Foundation figures that one out of three Americans is now working for the government—federal, state or local—or is deriving at least part of his income from a government source.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Side whiskers, now called sideburns, originally were called burnisides, according to The World Almanac. They got their name from Union General Burnside, who wore them during the Civil War. In popular usage, the two syllables became transposed.

Sensing The News

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN

THE MISTAKEN 'FREEZE'

President Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze was only a little more than a week old when Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans said that some form of mandatory controls would be necessary after the initial period. That's the way it is with government economic controls: a little bit of control leads to a lot. The public may well ask when the freeze will be lifted.

Furthermore, it is clear that complicated—and costly—machinery for enforcing the freeze is being developed. When Mr. Nixon announced his "New Economic Policy," the controls were supposed to work on a voluntary basis. But it soon became apparent that a controlled economy requires tough federal controls. The administration should have known this when it junked its fiscal conservatism and accepted the prescription of the liberal economists.

The tragedy is that Mr. Nixon didn't stick with conservative economists and reject the counsels of the John Kenneth Galbraiths and Walter Hellers, the specialists in the "dismal science," who fed mistaken notions to the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

It is unfortunate that President Nixon didn't heed the advice of Henry Hazlitt, distinguished free enterprise economist and commentator for Newsweek.

Writing in the summer issue of Modern Age, Mr. Hazlitt spelled out the threats to a sound economy. He said that inflation "leads to malinvestment, miscalculation, gambling, waste, cynicism, and corruption, and is as debilitating to a nation as the drug habit is to an individual."

Then he added: "What is even worse than inflation is price controls which attempt to mask or suppress the consequences of inflation. Price controls, wage controls, rent controls, and interest-rate controls always misdirect, reduce, unbalance and disrupt production. They are nearly always more harmful than the inflation they try to conceal."

Obviously, that's a message the Nixon administration and the liberal bloc in Congress don't understand.

Wage and price controls are merely cosmetic in character. They don't deal with the root causes of inflation. One of those causes is the soaring costs of government at every level. This year, for example, expenditures for the Department of Defense, which is concerned with assuring national survival, indeed the liberals in Congress want to step-up federal spending while retaining the wage and price controls ordered by Mr. Nixon.

But it isn't simply the federal government that has the spending fever. State and local governments have gone wild in recent years, adding new departments, agencies and "services."

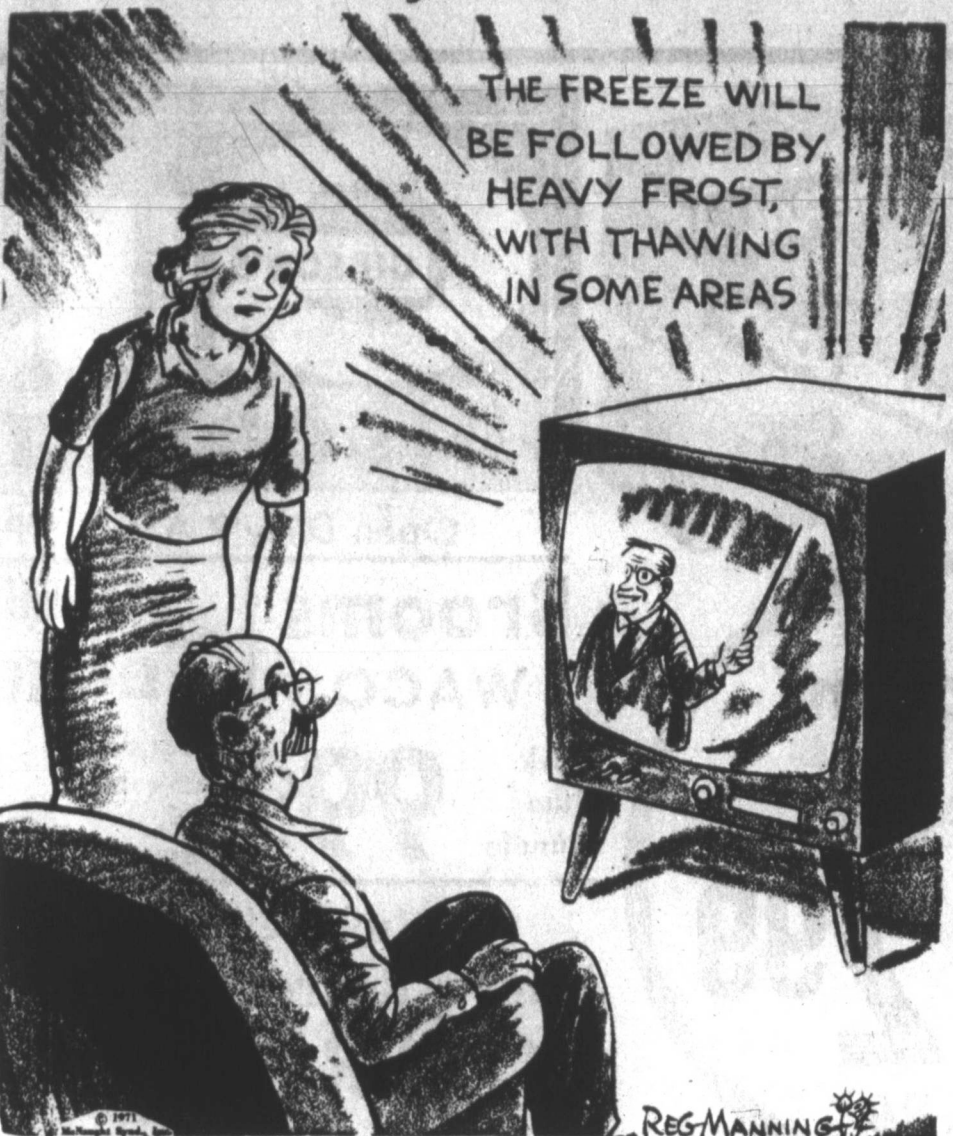

Big Government is a state and local phenomenon these days. As a result, state, county and city taxes have risen sharply. The burden of the tax increases falls on property-owners. Thus thrifty citizens, who have saved and bought their homes, are compelled to pay higher and higher taxes for increased welfare and indigent medical care. Truly, the property-owners in our society are the chief victims of the politicians who are hungry for the votes of the non-productive citizens who don't know the meaning of self-reliance. If the raids directed at property-owners aren't stopped, property-owning will cease to be desirable. Our property-based free society will be crippled.

The alternative, of course, is the all-powerful state in which the individual is stripped of his liberty as well as his property.

The immediate need is for an administration withdrawal from mistaken economic policies and for presidential demands for truly massive cuts in public spending, as well as anti-trust laws applicable against labor unions.

Anti-trust action would do as much as anything to return true economy and get it moving again. All this, of course, requires that President Nixon display a true profile of courage and that Congress cease-kowtowing to the union bosses.

Is That A Meteorologist Or Economist?

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. ORANE

Mrs. Crane's moans should be a warning to all of you readers! And heed Dr. Philip Crane's advice, for many of us well trained scientists overlook that vital point about "dating." The newspaper is the greatest educational agent in America, so use it to full advantage!

CASE R — 558: Mrs. Crane was bedfast for a week with a sprained knee. To entertain herself, she started sorting several boxes of newspaper clippings and letters that had belonged to her mother.

"Isn't it too bad," she asked, "that Mother failed to put the dates on her newspaper clippings? For she has an entire scrapbook of very interesting news stories, many of which deal with her parents and grandparents of more than 100 years ago. But they lack much of their value because I can't find out when these incidents occurred."

Newspaper Scholars
The newspaper is really the family textbook for literate Americans. In my case, I read 5 newspapers every day.

"Dad," my oldest son Philip, former American History Professor, exclaimed, "I wish everybody would date each personal letter. And also add the date to every newspaper clipping! For when I did the history research for my Doctor of Philosophy degree at Indiana University, I selected former Governor Wright. He was a prominent pre-Civil War governor; then later U.S. Senator and our ambassador to Germany in the 1860s.

"So I visited the Library of Congress and other leading libraries to obtain letters and information. Alas, many of the old letters from Governor Wright were without a date. He'd merely head the page with such words as 'Sunday night' or 'Tuesday Noon.'

But it was often very difficult for me even to decide which year the letter was written. So I tell our newspaper readers ALWAYS to date their letters to their relatives and friends. And even scribble the date on photographs, too. For you never know when you will need the specific date of those old letters or pictures."

Well, as a scientist with both the Ph.D. degree in Psychology as well as the M.D. degree, you might think I wouldn't need this warning by Philip. But until he stressed vividly the trouble and many weeks he had spent vainly trying to date the letters of Governor Wright and his many friends back in the 1840s, I also failed to date all the clippings I cut out of newspapers.

Now, however, I tear out everything that is of interest and faithfully scribble the name of the newspaper, plus the date. You parents might urge your kiddies to start this wise habit, too. And encourage them to scribble these actual "Worry Clinic" cases, using such headings as Children, Love and Marriage, Business Psychology, etc.

Also, urge them to clip out other interesting stories, either to enrich their letters to grandparents or sweethearts, or to keep on file as source material for English themes and science reports.

Remember, the daily newspaper is the most quoted and most influential of all educational agents nowadays. As a dinner table game, ask questions about various items in today's newspaper, covering all its many departments.

That's the way to insure children a college education! For high school dropouts never will reach the college campus! So send for my booklet "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pampa Daily News, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

H. L. Hunt Writes

COST OF COMMUNISM

In his book, OUT OF RED CHINA, Liu Shaw-tong wrote: "If the rains of communism flood the world, humanity will drown. Would you understand me, dear friend, if I told you I saw an old woman weep because the sun had died in China?"

Millions of Chinese have died as a result of communism in China. The immensity of the crimes committed against the Chinese people by Mao Tse-tung, Chou En-lai and their henchmen is thoroughly documented in a study entitled "The Human Cost of Communism in China," prepared by Professor Richard Walker, Director of the Institute of International Studies at the University of South Carolina, and just released by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Since coming to power in 1949 the Chinese Communist policy has been to divide, liquidate and rule. Total, all-pervasive terror was and is the single governing principle. Students, businessmen, landowners, peasants, each in their turn have been branded "counter-revolutionary" and massacred in appalling numbers.

Professor Walker's study points out that approximately 90 per cent of the victims of communism in China died after the Communists seized power, not before. That is the nature of Communist "peace."

Professor Walker points out that the most conservative estimate of the human cost of communism in China is 34 million dead. Other estimates range as high as 63 million. At least 15 million died in "political liquidation campaigns" from 1949 to 1953 and another 15 million in forced labor camps. Crimes of this magnitude outdo even Hitler and Stalin. Their perpetrators have no rightful place in the civilized world.

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb

He Must Learn to Cook for Himself

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am 93 years old and in very good health, weigh 160, same as I weighed 70 years ago. Eight months ago my housekeeper had a stroke and I was left by myself to do my cooking, not being able to find a housekeeper.

I am no cook and began having burning and itching on my side below my armpit and was told it was caused by poor diet. Can you give me a diet for a man who has to cook for himself? I am a truck gardener on a farm and still work my own garden. What I want to know is how a bachelor can cook and stay well.

Dear Reader — Don't worry, it isn't hard to cook. You might consider, though, boarding out one meal a day.

Take some type of multiple vitamin tablet every day. True, with a balanced diet you wouldn't need them, but then again you may not be getting all the vitamins you need at first. It's good insurance. I recommend this to all older people who no longer eat as they should.

A good variety of commercial soups are available and you can follow the directions on the container without any trouble. The only one that gives me pause is cream of mushroom soup, which is higher in fat than most others.

You can surely grill a steak under the broiler in your oven. That's pretty simple. I also recommend boiling beef. Get a good lean roast and remove most of the fat. Put it in a covered roasting pan and cover the meat with water. Cut up some potatoes, carrots and, if you like an onion or two and put them in the roaster. Put the whole thing in the oven (covered) and cook at an oven temperature around 350 degrees until the meat is tender. Now you will have meat, potatoes and carrots. The broth from the water, meat and vegetables is also good. Season to your own taste.

You should have plenty of fresh vegetables from your truck patch and raw vegetables — tomatoes, peppers, lettuce and radishes. Most other vegetables are easily prepared by boiling. You can buy your bread and low-fat milk, fresh fruit and you may in time branch out to roast poultry. All you need is a little confidence and you can cook a good meal for yourself in no time.

The advantage of boiled meat is that you can reheat the whole dish for another meal. Or you can divide the dish into small packages for the freezer and heat the packages one at a time for subsequent meals.

BATTIN' AROUND

Just Organize Something And Americans Will Join

By C.R. BATTEN

Americans are the joiningest people on earth. Having built one of the highest standards of living in the world, we have more leisure time to devote to voluntary special interest pursuits. We have an insatiable curiosity about what is going on around us, and an insatiable desire to get our fingers into it.

The Council on Environmental Quality, in its second annual report, estimates that there are more than 3100 environmental organizations in the United States. A survey that brought 2500 local groups to light does not include civic, church or school groups or local chapters of national organizations. There are more than 250 national organizations and 400 state environmental groups.

Some have broad, general interests, and are ready to attack any environmental problem that looms into their view. Others have special interests, such as the defeat of the Super Sonic Transport. When one problem is overcome, the group may be disbanded only to rise again under another name when the next crisis comes along.

We must give them credit — they have undying enthusiasm for their causes. They have focused our attention on an area that most of us will admit was too long neglected. They have stimulated some of the worst polluters to take steps to control their effluents — and some of the worst polluters have been city, state and federal agencies themselves.

The environmentalists have accomplished more than they realize in prodding major industries into voluntary pollution efforts — and some of them need prodding.

If the environmentalists have failed in some areas, it is because of their tendency to go off half-cocked, often with misleading information.

Some of the doomsayers have created a climate of hysteria which has caused us to act too hastily at times, so our cures have been worse than the illnesses. In response to public pressures, for example, some companies spent large sums of money to develop substitutes for phosphate in detergents — only to find that the substitutes are more hazardous to man in his environment. Only recently a 15-month old girl died from swallowing a handful of non-phosphate detergent — the first case known to the Hartford, Conn. poison control center of a fatality from ingestion of laundry detergent.

We have often accused companies and industries unfairly, only to learn later that the accusations were false.

One of the greatest failures of the environmental movement is to recognize the great accomplishments that are being made. In many urban areas, the amount of carbon monoxide, sulphur dioxide and suspended particulates in the air is being reduced.

Industries are investing substantial amounts in air and water pollution control. We should also remember that many new processes and procedures being developed by industry do not go down on the books as expenditures for pollution control — they simply improve plant efficiency through recycling or other methods with pollution control as an important side benefit.

This is not to mean that I support the political processes in which the environmentalists indulge with such great glee. Long ago, I became disillusioned by the political process as a method of getting things done. Too much of it is a waste of effort, is misdirected, and is aimed toward the promotion of political careers, rather than to the solution of the problem. Too many resources are taken from their sources for programs of dubious value.

If the environmentalists would forget their efforts at political coercion, they would see even greater results than they are seeing now. If each of us would keep his own little corner in order, we would not need to worry about the other fellow's corner.

Clearing House

Get something you would like to "get off your chest"? That's what the "Clearing House" is for: it has been suggested there should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind. So, in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

EDITOR:
I am writing to ask your readers' help in passing the Conquest of Cancer Bill. This vital bill, S. 1828, passed the U.S. Senate by a vote of 79 to 1. It is supported by the President, and endorsed by the American Cancer Society, the National Panel of Consultants on the Conquest of Cancer and most cancer scientists. But it is in danger of being crippled by a subcommittee of the House of Representatives. If the bill came to a vote in the House of Representatives, it would pass by a margin of over 90 percent, and cancer research could forge ahead.

But how can we get it to the floor for a vote promptly and without change?
Please write to your own Congressman, Mr. Robert Price. He will, no doubt, be in favor of the bill, since most congressmen are. Ask him to contact the members of the Health Subcommittee of Congressman Paul Rogers and have them approve the bill as it was sent over to them. The bill in its present form is the surest way to mount a successful attack on cancer.

Please write or telegraph your Congressman today, and ask your friends to do so also. The lives you save may include those you love the most.

'Town Where The Dead Supports The Living'

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — This is a town where the dead support the living.

The bloodiest battle in American history put Gettysburg on the world tourist map, and the town has been living off it ever since.

The 53,000 casualties who fell on those three horrible days on July 1863, in what proved to be the Civil War's turning point, unwittingly created an economic bonanza that today attracts 4.5 million visitors annually who spend more than $28 million.

Without that chance meeting between Gen. Robert E. Lee's invading Confederates and the defending Union forces, followed a few months later by President Abraham Lincoln's address, Gettysburg would be just another quiet community in rural America.

Gettysburg also has the farm home of the late president, Dwight D. Eisenhower. His widow, Mamie, still dwells there. The town takes advantage of that, too.

"This community can survive now only with tourists," says a Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce spokesman.

That lucrative trade has caught the town up in what some tag the Second Battle of Gettysburg, a legal fight to halt or at least slow down the commercialism around the shrine.

The legal battle centers around a 307-foot basket-weave tower on spindly steel legs. The tower is designed to give the tourist, for $1, a better chance than ever to see the ridges, hills woods and wheat fields where cannons boomed and the cold steel of bayonets and hot lead of rifle bullets ripped into sweaty bodies.

Opponents say the tower will be an environmental obscenity and an intrusion that will break the spell of history.

Thomas R. Ottenstein, millionaire Washington promoter, denies his tower is strictly for the money. He calls it educational, describes it as "a classroom in the sky" and insists it will provide "a feeling of liberation, which is basically what the Civil War was all about."

Gov. Milton J. Shapp, condemning the deal, went to court. Claiming the tower will violate the constitutional rights of Pennsylvania to enjoy "the natural, scenic, historic and aesthetic values of the environment," he won a temporary injunction. On Sept. 22 a judge will hear argument on whether to make the ban permanent.

Is Gettysburg honky tonk, selling slightly phony history and fun to visitors who buy made-in-Japan souvenirs by the barrelful? Or does it really try to show and tell it like it was?

There is some of both. It's the government's job to chronicle in the park what went

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Interstate Highway System was designed to be the nation's key highway network, serving both civilian and defense needs. The World Almanac says that 29,906 miles of the 42,500 miles of the system were open to traffic as of Mar. 31, 1970, according to the Federal Highway Administration's Bureau of Public Roads.

on 108 years ago on the 16,000 acres that today boasts 2,393 monuments dedicated by states and regiments, 415 cannons and 70 miles of wood and stone fences.

"We're trying to recreate a historyscape, not a battle scene with the gore," says Jerry Schober, park superintendent. "What we do is retain the appearance of the land, including crops planted and harvested by locals like it was when the soldiers came here to fight."

Keeping the tourists entertained and spending is the successful goal of the 16 private attractions, 13 of them self-styled museums.

You can tour the battle sites by bus, hire a National Park Service guide, fly over in a helicopter, ride through your own car assisted by a rented, taped synopsis of the sights, or walk the hallowed ground where the battle raged, reliving the final fury, while carrying a rented recorder that describes the events with a background of music and cannon fire.

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois has signed an equal opportunity act for the handicapped.

The legislation says that disabilities cannot be the sole disqualifying factor when a person seeks employment or housing.

"The day of ignorance is past," Ogilvie said Monday. "We are ready to guarantee you the handicapped the same opportunity for a decent life given to every other citizen of this state."

AUSTIN (AP) — What happened to the University of Texas freshman class of 1969?

A survey of 3,038 students admitted to UT-Austin from high schools in September 1966 shows that by the close of the 1970 summer session, approximately 55 per cent of the class will have received degrees, according to Dr. Margaret Berry, director of the Office of Research and Developmental Programs in the Division of Student Affairs.

Washington To Ask Japan For Major Yen Revaluation

TOKYO (AP) — The United States will ask Japan for a major revaluation of the yen and the elimination of certain import quotas and import licensing agreements, Japanese newspapers reported today.

The newspaper said members of the Japanese delegation to the conference, preparing Foreign Minister Takeo Fukuda's reply to Rogers, said that Fukuda will call for "a virtual devaluation of the dollar" arguing that the United States should share the responsibility for the rehabilitation of its currency.

Asahi said the Japanese foreign minister also will call for the abolition of the 10 per cent U.S. import surcharge.

In Japan, prime minister Eisaku Sato was quoted as telling opposition members of the Japanese parliament, the Diet, during a question session that he was agreeable to a devaluation of the dollar combined with a revaluation of the yen.

He also was quoted as saying that Japan would buy modern weapons from the United States to replace obsolete arms now in use by the Japanese Self Defense Force.

CHARLES R. FRANKS

Army Private Charles R. Franks, 19, son of Mrs. M. C. Cole, Sanford, recently arrived at Ft. Lewis, Wash., to begin eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army infantry training center.

He will receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions.

Pvt. Franks is scheduled to complete basic October 1.

The Private's Wife, Mikolyn, lives in Erick, Okla. His father, James P. Franks, lives at 1109 Neel Rd., Pampa.

CECIL JOHNSTON

Army specialist four Cecil Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coyt Johnston, 1304 Jefferson, Altus, Okla., recently received the combat infantryman badge in Vietnam.

The badge is a unique and cherished award that is highly coveted by its recipients. The award was originated during World War II to recognize the role of the infantryman. The CIB can be awarded only to a member of an infantry unit of Brigade, regimental or smaller size unit who satisfactorily performed in active ground combat against a hostile force for a period of time.

In honor of its singular meaning, the badge is worn above all other awards and decorations, over the left breast. It is a blue rectangle with a silver rifle mounted on it, superimposed over a curved wreath. Subsequent awards are represented by stars at the top center of the wreath.

Spec. Johnston received the award while assigned as a Rifleman with company A, 2nd Battalion, 502nd Infantry of the 101st Airborne Division (Air-Mobile). He holds the air medal and the purple heart. His wife, Ola, lives in Shamrock.

LE LAVANDOU, France (AP) — Fisherman Louis Vitello pulled in his nets and found a 7-pound wild boar which apparently had gone to sea to escape forest fires on the southern coast of France. Instead, the animal ended up on Vitello's dining table.

Sato Can Expect More Trouble When Parliament Meets In October

By ROBERT LIO
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato can expect more trouble next month when parliament starts a session coinciding with the U.N. debate on China.

Tokyo, like Washington, recognizes Nationalist China. For months Sato's Liberal Democratic party has been deeply divided in heated arguments over this policy.

The Diet is being called to ratify an agreement on U.S. return of Okinawa, but influential pro-Peking members of Sato's party and his political opponents have served notice they will turn the session into a major debate on Japan's China policy. They want Peking recognized. They could win added ammunition if mainland China—as expected—wins admissions into the United Nations.

Sato says Peking's attitude toward his government makes it difficult for him to achieve any rapprochement. There is talk, however, that the beleaguered prime minister may resign when the session ends in December, to allow Japan to adopt a more flexible policy toward China.

Sato, his aides say, is reluctant to resign earlier because he would like to confirm ratification of the Okinawa agreement, which he considers the capstone of his political career.

The prime minister feels, however, that Japan should avoid severing its diplomatic ties with Taiwan because of treaty obligations and respect for Chiang Kai-shek. The Nationalist president forfeited all reparations claims against Japan for atrocities committed against the Nationalists on the China mainland in World War II. Japan also had made extensive economic inroads on Taiwan.

Sato, 70, has been in office since November 1964, a postwar record. His current two-year term expires in fall 1972, but in the past year he has had one of his most troubled periods, haunted by a deterioration of U.S.-Japanese relations and by Japan's lack of diplomatic ties with Peking.

The prime minister built his political reputation on his close ties with the United States. The Japanese were stunned when President Nixon, allowing only minutes for advance notice, decided in July to visit Peking; then announced, a month later, drastic economic measures which restricted Japanese imports and increased pressures to revalue the yen currency upward.

The United States pleaded the necessity for maintaining secrecy, but the Japanese still felt they should have been consulted beforehand on matters of such importance.

Sato, normally a reserved individual, reacted bitterly at having been kept in the dark on the preliminary negotiations for Nixon's trip. He angrily told the Diet: "We can keep a secret. There should have been prior consultations."

Many Japanese feel that Washington has influenced Japan's policy toward China, and there are demands for less dependence on the United States. Any changes, however, are not expected to be radical or hastily taken.

Since World War II, Japan has oriented itself toward the United States. It has drawn heavily on American goods will to rebuild itself to rank now as Asia's richest nation.

The United States is Japan's best trading partner, annually importing roughly one-third of Japan's total exports, which reached $19.3 billion in 1970. The United States also guarantees Japan a defense shield, under the U.S.-Japan security treaty. Otherwise this nation would have to spend heavily on military needs.

To a degree, the U.S.-China confrontation has helped project Japan's importance in Asia, and nervous Japanese are wondering whether their nation some day may find itself a dispensable U.S. ally if the United States and mainland China succeed in establishing normal relations.

With its prosperity, Japan has experienced a resurgence of nationalism and patriotic fervor, spurring ambitions to become first in almost everything. These factors, in an insular nation of energetic people, are being blamed for strains which have developed in U.S.-Japanese relations, and have encouraged Chinese charges of a revival of Japanese militarism.

Critics say the Japanese happily parade their economic achievements but, in their drive to become first, continue to insist they are still underdeveloped and impose restrictions when confronted with projects which might cut into their markets.
