3 Murder Suspects Hijack Jet To Cuba

Trio Taken Into Custody After Arriving In Havana

CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS — The Christmas shopping season has opened with a rush in Tampa. Stores were crowded during the weekend with parents taking the kiddies on shopping tours through stores laden with yule merchandise and toys. At left a Tampa mother is shown with her small son in a toy department and on the right, Mom and Dad get some ideas for Santa Claus from their two young daughters. (Staff Photo)

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Three young blacks charged with murdering a New Mexico state trooper escaped an extensive manhunt Saturday by hijacking a Trans World Airlines jetliner to Havana.

Left behind during a fueling stop at Tampa International Airport were the 43 passengers aboard the 727 when it was commandeered at take off from Albuquerque, N.M.

A TWA spokesman said there were no sky marshals aboard the flight.

Cuban authorities reported to the Federal Aviation Administration that the three hijackers, armed with two guns and a knife, were taken into custody on landing at Jose Marti Airport. The three crewmen and three stewardesses aboard were said to be unharmed.

There was no immediate word when the plane would be allowed to take off, presumably for Miami.

The FBI identified the hijackers as Michael Finney, 20, Ralph Goodwin, 24, and Charlie Hill, 21. They are charged with gunning down patrolman Robert Rosenbloom when he stopped them for a routine check west of Albuquerque Nov. 8.

TWA Flight 106, originating in Phoenix, Ariz., with scheduled stops in Albuquerque, Chicago and Washington, was ready for take off from Albuquerque when the three hijackers drove up in a tow truck they had commandeered.

"They were ready to close the door when these three guys came running, one holding a gun on the last passenger," said Kent Swigard, a reporter with the Spokesman Review in Spokane, Wash., who was en route to New York with his wife, Marie. "They seemed very organized and incredibly calm throughout."

Swigard said a hijacker held a stewardess at gunpoint until the plane door was closed and it taxied down a runway.

Then one took up a position near the cockpit, one in the door between the first class and tourist sections, and the third at the rear.

As the plane winged out of Albuquerque, C. A. Hill of Phoenix said a stewardess walked down the aisle, telling the passengers the plane was being hijacked and, "Don't worry, I've been there a couple times myself," apparently meaning hijack trips to Havana.

The plane landed at Tampa and parked on a runway about a quarter of a mile from a terminal. The hijackers refused to allow it to approach closer to be fueled by the airport's modern underground system. They said they would allow only a fuel truck and a bus for the passengers to approach the plane.

A fuel truck and bus were obtained from MacDill Air Force Base five miles away. After the two vehicles arrived at the airport, the passengers filed off, including two elderly persons in wheel chairs.

During the unloading, Hill said, one of the hijackers held a cocked Army 45-caliber pistol on a stewardess.

It took 20 minutes to fuel the plane then it took off for Havana at 7:51 a.m. landing there at 8:49.

An FAA official said that when Cuban authorities reported on the landing in Havana, "They sounded like it was just a routine operation."

The New Mexico patrolman was shot to death by the side of Interstate 40 west of Albuquerque after he radioed that he was stopping a car for a routine check.

Fingerprints found the next morning in an abandoned car led to the issuance of murder warrants. Police said the car contained numerous pieces of literature, including pamphlets of the Republic of New Africa, a movement dedicated to establishing a separate black nation in the South. It was founded in Detroit in 1968 but now has two factions, one in Detroit and the other in New Orleans.

Finney, Goodwin and Hill have been the object of an intensive search since then.

The trio used a stuck car ruse to get an auto wrecker tow truck and then forced the driver to take them to the airport where they drove within 20 feet of the jetliner.

They bounded up a stairway into the aircraft and held a TWA fuel handler hostage until he told them the plane couldn't leave until his fuel truck was moved.

Crew members aboard were pilot S.B. McGhee, flight engineer J.B. MacFarland, first officer Richard M. Clark and hostesses Diane Barrois, Elizabeth Caubre and Shirley Ann Harrell.

First reports said movie actor Dustin Hoffman was aboard the plane but it turned out to be another passenger of the same name.

8 Texans Killed In Plane Crash

Eight Texans died in airplane crashes out of the state since the Thanksgiving holidays began.

The deaths occurred in two crashes, both in the Midwest. Four persons were killed Friday afternoon in a crash of a light plane about 20 miles northeast of Rolla, Mo.

'Worst' Holiday Auto Wreck Takes 8 Lives Near Del Rio

A head-on collision called by a safety spokesman "the worst holiday traffic crash in Texas in a long, long time," took eight lives Saturday and headed the list of tragic accidents during the first three days of the four and a half-day Thanksgiving holiday.

The collision—the angle of impact so direct that neither car left U.S. 90 a few miles from Del Rio—killed a former Brackettville high school athlete and seven residents of San Antonio all of whom were related.

At a late hour, violent deaths totaled 31 in Texas since the count began at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Traffic accidents accounted for 20 of those deaths.

The tabulations will continue until midnight Sunday.

The station wagon bearing the family in the 8-death collision was from San Antonio, Tex., en route to Del Rio. Reason for the trip was not known here.

Those killed in the San Antonio vehicle included Jose Medina Villanueva, 31, his wife, Victoria, 21, and their son, Frank, 3. The others were identified as Juan Cardenas, 19, and his three sisters—Sylvia, 20, Lupe, 19, and Cindy, 2.

The Villanuevas and Cardenas were cousins.

The lone occupant of the 1972 model passenger car was Joe Key York III, 18, en route from Del Rio to his home at Brackettville, Tex. He had been an outstanding athlete in high school and was attending Tarleton State College at Stephenville, Tex. A highway patrol spokesman said the collisions was on a curve with poor visibility. The crash occurred in the station wagon's lane. A third car barely missed becoming involved.

Other late-reported deaths included:

Jimmy Wayne May, 33, was killed instantly in a two-car collision in Dallas Saturday. Gasoline caught fire while rescuers were using a cutting torch to free May's body but the blaze was extinguished quickly.

Edward Ernst, 59, of Quinlan was killed late Friday in a two-car collision in Rockwall County at the intersection of Texas 276 and FM 528.

Robert Garza, 45, was killed by a truck late Friday in Corpus Christi. The driver was arrested several blocks away and charged with failure to stop, and with driving while intoxicated.

A car hit a horse two miles north of Luling near San Antonio Friday night, killing Judith Moore, 27, of San Antonio and injuring four others.

Leon Jose, 36, of Greenville was killed and his wife, Lula, wounded Friday night when shooting erupted during an argument at a cafe in the Northeast Texas city.

Mrs. Katherine W. Coleman of Houston died Friday when her car and a pickup truck collided at Farm 359 and U.S. 59 two miles east of Richmond.

near the remains, and after the medical examiner discovered the faulty hip bone," the sheriff said.

The girl was wearing such a ring when she disappeared and had walked with a limp.

Like the Gonzales girl, Miss Wilson's head was removed from her body but deputies said they believed both were the result of decomposition and not decapitation.

The finding of the Wilson girl brought to five the number of unsolved murders in the Houston-Galveston area of young girls since summer.

However, Sheriff's Capt. Charles Goodnight said he did not believe the two slayings were related to the other three.

In early June, the body of a 14-year-old girl, Brenda Jones, was found floating in Galveston Bay off Galveston Island. She had been strangled.

Last week, the bodies of two 15-year-old Galveston Ball High School pupils, Maria Johnson and Debbie Ackerman, were shot to death and their bodies dumped in a bayou at nearby Texas City.

Dr. Thomas Wilson, the father of Collette and an Alvin dentist, positively identified his daughter by dental work he had himself done.

"That's her," he said. "I'm positive that's Collette. I guess we (her family) knew that it would probably end this way.

Benigne Sainz, 21, of Littlefield was burned fatally Friday when a three-gallon tank of gasoline exploded in his home. Sainz and his wife, 19, were cleaning clothes when a hot water heater set off the blast. Mrs. Sainz was taken to Lubbock in an undetermined condition.

Conference On Aging Holds Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Conference on Aging, once described by critics as being a political forum for the Nixon administration, has scheduled an open talk session for 3,500 delegates assembling here today.

This appears to be an effort to prevent the conference from becoming a political liability to the White House.

New Party Selects Candidate

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Just 24 hours old, the People's Party last Saturday picked Dr. Benjamin Spock of New York as a stand-in presidential candidate with the understanding that he would step aside if a "bigger national figure" can be persuaded to take the party's reins.

Spock won 47-43 over Jack Hampton, 60, of Santa Monica, Calif., as only 90 of the 200 delegates voted. Texas and California, the largest delegations present, threw their votes to Spock on the second ballot.

The famed baby doctor received a standing ovation when he said there "are million of Americans disgusted with the present political parties and in despair over seeing the country sliding toward disaster."

He said, "Our only job is to make ourselves known to those millions out there."

After asking not only the moral but the active support of everybody, Spock concluded:

"Now I have to go home to face my wife. I'll let you know later if I still have a home or if somebody else will have to take me in."

Spock, 68, a famed peace campaigner, earlier told the convention that his wife was bitterly opposed to his accepting the presidential nomination.

Marshall Hall, 41, of Miami, Fla., received seven votes as Spock took the nomination.

Three Suspects Held In Robbery At Groom

PANHANDLE — A trio of suspects in the robbery of a Groom liquor store and most of the cash taken were in the hands of lawmen here less than 60 minutes after the holdup had taken place.

Hubert Cushman Jr., 36, Windsor, S.C. was arraigned, charged with armed robbery and denied bond by Carson County Justice of the Peace C.H. Bell in 10 p.m. proceedings Friday night.

Also held as suspects in the affair are two youths giving their ages as 15 and 18. The boys said they were hitchhiking when Cushman gave them a ride according to the official police account of the robbery. Carson County Sheriff John Nunn said there were doubts about the ages of the youths and he would await the decision of the district attorney before filing formal charges against them.

Joe Davis, a clerk in the High Plains Liquor Store, Groom, and Newt Murphy who operates the business for Jim Britton, Amarillo, were in the store when the trio entered and ordered a bottle. Murphy said when he turned to get it the man drew a gun, one of the boys pulled a hook-bladed knife and forced him and Davis to the wall. They then took the cash, between $800 and $1,000, leaving checks behind.

The robbers then ordered them to run around the building and they sped off in their car. Despite the phone being out of order at the victimized store, word was spread and roadblocks set up at White Deer, Panhandle and Amarillo. When the suspects pulled into a liquor store at Panhandle a city police unit and a highway patrol car were behind them.

They offered no resistance to arrest and officers took a .32 caliber pistol from them. Cushman was driving a rental agency car from New York, according to officers.

Back-To-Work Orders End U.S. Port Strike

Longshoremen in most East and Gulf coast ports were under court orders to return to work Saturday, but it is expected to be at least Monday before full crews are working the piers.

The government, on President Nixon's instructions, moved Friday for back-to-work court orders under the Taft-Hartley Act, which provides for cooling-off periods of up to 80 days in strikes jeopardizing the national welfare.

The 57-day strike by the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association has tied up more than 200 ships with about 1.5 million tons of cargo.

The government obtained temporary 10-day restraining orders, preliminary to 80-day Taft-Hartley injunctions, in New York; Philadelphia; Baltimore, Md.; Mobile, Ala.; Alexandria, Va.; and Savannah, Ga., Friday.

A similar order was obtained in Boston, Miami, Fla., and Houston, Tex., Saturday.

In Portland, Maine, and New Orleans, La., judges took similar government requests under advisement. U.S. officials said they will go to court in Providence, R.I. on Monday.

In New York, some longshoremen reported Saturday to piers where Caribbean cruise ships docked. Shippers turned them away saying Friday's court order came too late in the day for them to cancel such other arrangements for unloading passengers' luggage as using supervisors and office personnel.

A pier manager said the longshoremen who reported would be paid for the day anyway.

In Philadelphia, shippers asked for about 100 longshoremen to unload two sugar ships Sunday, and for about 400 men for general cargo ships on Monday.

West Coast ports, struck for three months by the independent International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, were reopened last month under a Taft-Hartley injunction which expires Dec. 24.

In a reversal of the usual positions, New York shippers opposed a Taft-Hartley injunction, while the IILA did not.

WTSU CRAFT SHOW — Exhibits of hooked rugs, wood work, wool paintings, relief paintings and carvings created and assembled by students in Dr. Emilio Caballero's art department at West Texas State University will be on display today and the rest of the

Juveniles-Caused Incidents Top 24-Hour Police Reports

More than half the incident reports on the Pampa Police Department "blotter" for the 24 hours ending at presstime definitely involved juveniles while the remainder bore earmarks of this type of perpetrator.

Mrs. Judy McCormick, 701 S. Ballard, told officers while she was in the process of moving some kids set fire to her house. Arriving at the scene, officers found youngsters there but not those who set the blaze. Investigation continues.

Acting on telephoned information a Pampa police officer found a 15-year-old boy sniffing glue in a drainage ditch by London Bridge, both surrounded by and in possession of the accoutrements, according to the officer's report. The boy's mother was called to the station where she told authorities he had been doing this "for some time and she could do nothing with him." The report stated that "because he was only 15 years old he was released."

A boy, member of a visiting football team from downstate — in town to play the Lefors team, was apprehended by Louise Jones of the S&J Mart, 600 Frederic after he left with some allegedly shoplifted magazines. She stated, according to the report, she did not want to press charges but did want the boy "talked to." The officer did this — and to his coach, too. The coach promised to curtail his charges during their stay in the city.

A resident in the 1400 block of Charles St. reported eggs thrown at his car and house by boys in a passing vehicle. Police reported questioning some suspects in the incident but were unable to establish positive identification in the egg-throwing incident.

The owner of the building reported someone had thrown bricks through the door of the Tri-State Data Processing and the office of Dr. R. R. Loerwald. Dr. Loerwald was ill and could not come to the scene but told officers he kept no drugs or other medicines at his office, according to their report. It is suspected the bricks came from the building site of the new civic auditorium.

The service station operated by O. C. Trimble at 1600 Duncan was forcibly entered but there was nothing missing when the police report of the incident was filed. A window was broken, giving access to the T&C of an overhead door. An old tire was placed under the door to prevent it latching again. The police report noted this was similar to two previous entries at this place of business.

"Kids Night" was climaxed by a call from an Amarillo father who had reason to believe his 15-year-old daughter, a runaway, was in Pampa and asked the help of local officers in the search for her.

One stolen vehicle was reported — a 1962 White Chevrolet pickup bearing 1971 Texas license IM5215. The truck, belonging to Ruby M. Iverson, Memphis, was taken from 518 Naida St.

2 Injured Youths Improving

Two Pampa boys, Randy Greer, 8 and Keith Stone, 9, injured in a Thanksgiving Day gunpowder blast were reported much improved following facial surgery required by burns suffered. The medical report is still optimistic regarding no eye damage but the other factors are on a "wait-and-see" basis.

Officials at High Plains Baptist Hospital, Amarillo, where the surgery was performed, said Saturday the boys were progressing satisfactorily but would have to remain hospitalized for a few days.

The lads were injured when they poured powder from a powder horn found in the Stone's garage into a baby food jar, and touched it off. They had counted on a safe delay by using rolled paper as a fuse but the match used to light the paper fell into the jar igniting the powder immediately.

They were given emergency treatment at Highland General Hospital then transferred to the Amarillo facility where surgery was a tedious process due to the facial area of injury and the hope to avoid as much visible marks of the mishap as possible.

Art Students At WT Hold Showing Here

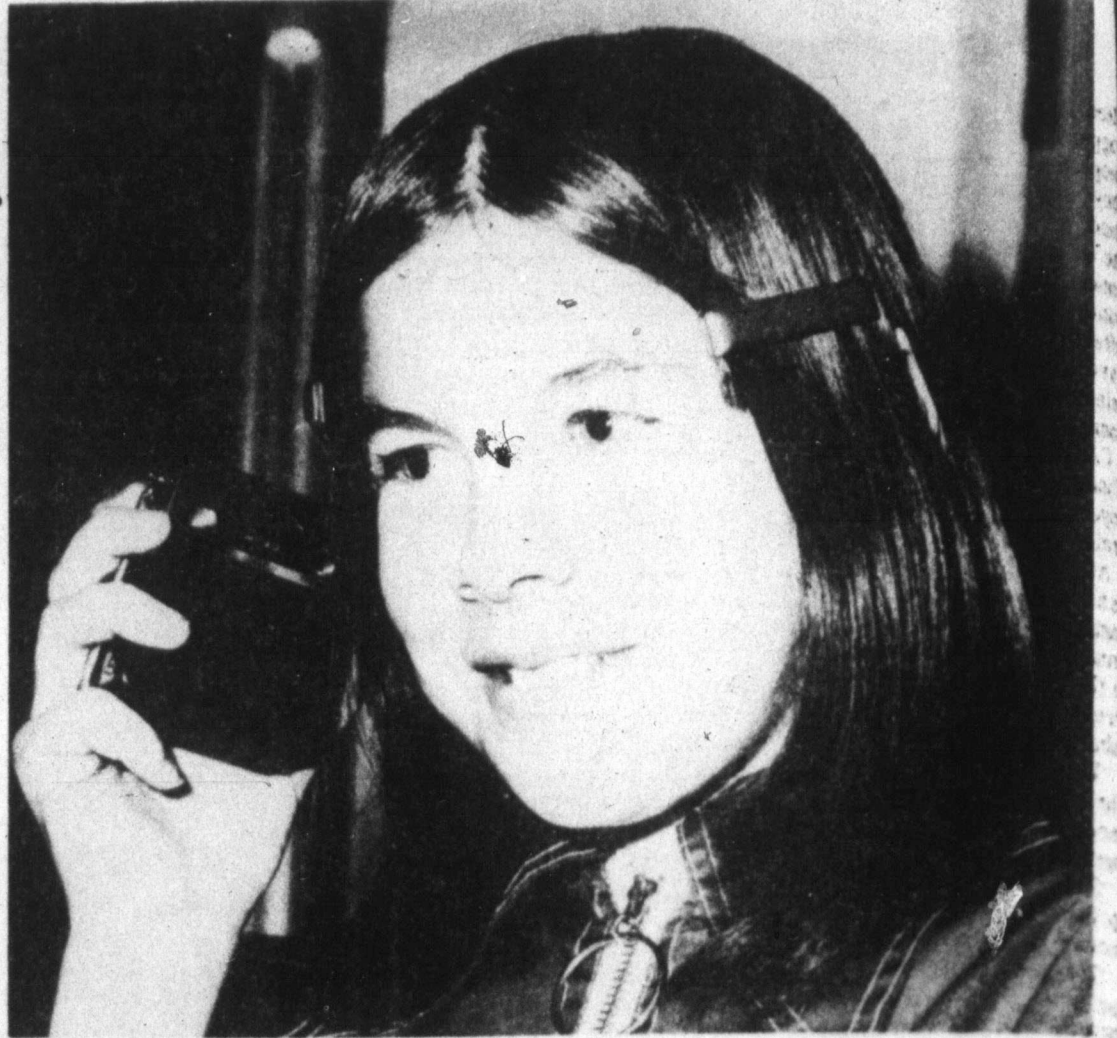

Approximately 50 students in the craft classes at West Texas State University's Art Department are exhibiting some 100 pieces in Pampa during the Fine Arts Festival being sponsored by the Pampa Fine Arts Association.

The exhibit went up Saturday and will be shown through Dec. 4. Included in the exhibit are the works of four Pampa students, who are D.D. Lofton, Joy Lewis, Starla Sanders and Melissa Locke. The Fine Arts Gallery on Kingsmill Street will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. today and from 2 to 4 p.m. on the remaining days.

Under the supervision of Dr. Emilio Caballero, chairman of the art department, and assisted by Mrs. Ann Palmer, graduate assistant, the cumulative craft pieces, were created and assembled for this special showing. All of the craft pieces are from the two Art 221 creative hobbies classes, taught by Dr. Caballero and Mrs. Palmer. The 50 students who make up the two classes are enrolled as art majors and non-art majors.

The crafts on exhibit consist of hooked rugs, wood work, wool paintings, relief paintings and carvings. The most numerous and outstanding are the hooked rugs and wool paintings, or wool mosaic designs.

Wool paintings consist of pieces of colored wool placed close together on felt and covered with glass. No adhesive is used since felt and wool have a natural affinity and the glass protects the wool pieces. This method was invented by Dr. Caballero and has been a craft offered in the class for 15 years.

The Worry Clinic

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.
 Heed Dr. Thompson's wise suggestion. For millions of people feel timid and so lonely they may wish they were dead. In fact, suicide is now the greatest cause of death among our 5 million college youth! So articulate your affection! Verbalize your love! Don't depend on telepathy, especially with young kiddies!

CASE S-530: Dr. William Thompson is both a clinical psychologist and superb pulpit orator. After several years in leading Presbyterian pastorates of the Philadelphia area, he recently transferred to the booming new Bethany Presbyterian Church in suburban Indianapolis.

"We need more evidence of Christian friendship," he recently told a Sunday morning congregation.

"So I want all of you to stand up and shake hands with a person in the pew behind you."

"Tell him that God loves him and that you do likewise."

PERSONALIZED RELIGION
 Clifton Hirschman told our recent Scientific Marriage Foundation luncheon crowd of this episode.

"I stood up," Clifton began, "and saw an elderly man behind me."

"He had a weather beaten face but looked like a stranger, so I took his hand and recited just what Dr. Thompson had urged us to say."

"But I also patted him on the shoulder as I told him, 'God loves you, and I love you, too.'"

"The man looked startled but happily so."

"Then he mumbled, with tears in his eyes, 'Nobody ever told me that before.'"

"Dr. Crane, perhaps thousands of lonely folks in the big cities thus are withering for lack of Christian friendship."

Yes, that is unfortunately true!

And some of the folks in your own church tomorrow, who seem so self-assured, may actually be putting up that appearance as a bold front to hide their breaking hearts.

For most of us try to conceal our inner hurt and lonely despair by acting indifferent on the surface.

Clergymen in the larger cities report uniformly this cry: "Nobody cares."

And I receive thousands of letters from disconsolate souls who write the same sad plea: "Nobody cares if I live or die."

Do you readers know that the greatest cause of death among our 5,000,000 college students is suicide?

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg. Mellet, Indiana 47954, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Red Giants Urged To Rebuild Unity

HONG KONG (AP) — North Vietnam's premier has urged the Soviet Union and China to "rebuild the unity" that once existed between them, Radio Hanoi said today.

In making his appeal, Premier Pham Van Dong called upon the Soviet Union to witness that North Vietnam was "expressing its sincere and deep gratitude for the great and valuable approval, support and assistance" of the government and people of Communist China, the broadcast added.

Reporting Dong's speech Wednesday in Peking, Radio Hanoi said the North Vietnamese premier specifically called upon the Soviet people to recognize the "prolonged struggle that continues" between the Communist and non-Communist worlds.

35 States Seeking Approach To Fight Drug Abuse In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials from 35 states have united to seek a coordinated federal-state campaign against drug abuse.

"Rather than having a lot of money here in Washington and seeking states to join in a competitive scramble for dollars, we believe the federal government must adopt a methodical approach to drug abuse that would involve the states," says Rayburn Hesse of Albany, N.Y.

Hesse, 36, is chairman of the National Association of State

Drug Abuse Program Coordinators.

The organization, formed a week ago, has 35 members representing top government agencies from as many states. The association eventually hopes to include officials from all states.

Hesse was in Washington this week to lobby for a bill that would create a national institute on drug abuse within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The bill also would authorize more than $1.5 billion in grants to public and private agencies to fight drug abuse during the next five years.

To Save Ship

HOUSTON (AP) — A local firm is attempting to save the Savannah, the world's first nuclear merchant ship, from mothballs by converting it to carry liquefied gas from Puerto Rico.

Hesse's new organization wants the proposed federal institute to coordinate all projects with existing state agencies that combat drug abuse.

Australia Is The Driest Of All The Continents

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles from and about Australia.)

By TOM TIEDE

MARYVALE CATTLE STATION, Australia (NEA) — When explorers first gave sketches of the Australian continent to European mapmakers, there was a reluctant acceptance. No land, it was felt, could be so dry. And so for many years they used their imaginations to draw lakes and rivers in the great and thirsty outback territory.

Time, of course, has proven the original sketches correct. So have the bones of many men.

To be sure, there are some lakes here, even on modern maps. Lake Eyre in South Australia is more than 100 miles long and at its fullest capacity in more than half a century. But the water, as desperate men and animals have fatally found out, is saltier than the Tasman Sea.

Australia is the driest of all the continents. The average rainfall for the mainland is only 16.5 inches, compared with the world overland average of 26. Moreover, 70 per cent of the nation has less than 20 inches of moisture a year and fully one-fifth has less than 10. In some portions of central Australia the annual evaporation rate is actually greater than the annual precipitation rate.

"It's so dry," the wags say, "that spit is a water resource."

It's not funny, of course. Not to the people who live in the nation's most critically arid regions. And not especially at present, when much of the country is gripped in a particularly wicked drought.

This is a land where men measure water by points, instead of inches. Sydney, for example, had seven points (.07 inches) rain in October, the driest recording in that month for 104 years. And much of the rest of the nation (it's as big as the United States) is suffering as well.

As usual, the drought suffering is greatest in the central furnace-box of the continent. The major rivers (none of which has year-round activity) are dry several feet into their beds. The usual summer sage bloom did not materialize this year (Australian summers begin in November). The golf course in Alice Springs, N.T. ("The largest town for a thousand miles"), is made of 100 per cent sand. The directors of some aboriginal reserves are considering evacuation plans if their bores (wells) peter out. Wild animals, such as the kangaroo and emu, have for the sake of survival abandoned great tracts of interior lands; and domestic animals, such as cattle and sheep, lie dead along many back roads, the victims of sterile grazing grounds.

But nowhere, perhaps, is the problem any greater than here at the Maryvale Cattle Station (in America it would be called a ranch). The 1,600 square-mile station ("Out here we never measure in acres") is partly semidesert land which borders on actual desert land, and it is going through one of the worst dry periods in recorded memory.

"I been in this country for 50 years and more," says the stationhand, "and I never recall it this bad. Powder, the ground's just like powder. If it gets much drier it might just up and explode."

The stationhand shakes his head.

He scuffs the ground. And a pound of soil moves off with the wind.

Margaret Clark, wife of the Maryvale station owner, says grimly that only 1.29 inches of moisture has been recorded all of this year. And this follows previously bad seasons in 1970 (3.54) and 1969 (5.98).

So the result has been ugly to witness. Most of the station's 3,600 cattle have been moved by rail to better feed, but some strays are still around, starving to death. "I picked up one just this morning," the stationhand says. "He was so weak he just fell over. I gave him a kick and a push, but I don't know how long he can go."

Besides the cattle there is the suffering land. Never gorgeous, it's exceptionally dismal now. Some few trees retain a bit of sickly green, but almost everything else is faded, blistered or dying. Wild flowers are practically nonexistent. The small plot of grass behind the Clark home is gone (although a man still dutifully mows the dust). The entire area has taken on a ghostly pallor, looking rather like an old black-white film.

Then there are the aboriginal natives, who cluster on this station in tin shacks, and do odd jobs for rent. Margaret Clark says the lack of rain at Maryvale is causing mounting health problems among them: "They are dirtier, so their sores don't heal and the dysentery is getting bad. We haven't had anything serious here yet, but I always worry. We're several hours from the doctor, you know."

And so it is that the people here sit idle in the heat (85 degrees; 20 per cent humidity) and wait for relief. They are, of course, concerned, sometimes anxious, and little the worse for wear.

But everybody agrees things have to get better. "Well," says the stationhand, with the droll humor characteristic on the frontier, "if it don't rain we'll just wait 'til the dust piles up into mountains. Then we'll rent out skis to the American tourists."

Elderly Americans Live On $2,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — One out of four elderly Americans lives on $2,000 a year or less, the Senate Special Committee on Aging says.

In a report prepared for next week's White House Conference on Aging, the committee said 4.7 million people over 64 now are in the $2,000-or-less income group, and their number has grown 100,000 in three years.

The report recommended legislation providing Social Security benefit increases in favor of the elderly and federal income supplements to raise all elderly persons above the poverty line, now set at $1,852 a year for individuals 65 and over and $2,328 for couples.

Stans, Russian Leaders Hold Talks On Economic Relations

MOSCOW (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans has been talking trade with the Russians as a first step toward a possible Soviet-American economic agreement that would crown President Nixon's state visit to the Soviet Union next May.

This possibility became apparent Friday as more details of Stans' discussions with Soviet officials became available. Informed sources reported the talks were progressing to the satisfaction of both sides.

As the first secretary of commerce ever to visit Soviet Russia, Stans officially is charged with exploring the possibilities of developing trade and economic cooperation with the Russians.

And at the end of a week, one source could describe what he said was a strong feeling of "optimism and expectation on both sides."

Other sources said the two sides were talking in terms of a tenfold increase in their trade. That would mean a billion dollar annual bilateral trade turnover by the mid-1970s, pushing the United States to the head of the line as Russia's main capitalist trading partner.

It was also learned that Nixon administration officials were looking forward to even further expansion of trade so that bilateral commerce would reach a level of $5 billion by the end of the decade. The Soviet Union's entire trade with the capitalist world was $5.17 billion last year.

There were several signs that a Soviet-American economic agreement formalizing these developments was under consideration, and that the time for its unveiling would be the Nixon visit.

To start with, the Russians have shown a passion in their diplomatic dealings for putting things in writing. In the past year they have gotten the signatures of Egypt and India on treaties of friendship, and they unsuccessfully tried to obtain those of Yugoslavia and France.

Secondly, informants said the Stans mission had been accumulating the kind of data that could go into a trade agreement with the Russians.

The last Soviet-American trade agreement was concluded with an exchange of notes July 12, 1935. It went into force after more than 18 months of difficult negotiations. Under its terms the Russians agreed to increase substantially their imports of minimum tariffs on Soviet goods bought by the United States. The agreement was allowed to expire in 1951.

Church In Mexico Barred From Political Activities

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican government has reiterated it will not reform the Constitution to permit the churches to participate in the country's political life.

Mario Moya Palencia, minister of the interior, a post almost equivalent to that of vice president, told Congress that "As long as Echeverria is president of Mexico the reform will go forward."

The "reform"—a series of laws established by President Benito Juarez—was the basis for the 1917 Constitution which forbids any church to own properties or schools and forbids ministers of religion institutions to vote, teach, participate in politics or criticize public officials.

Moya Palencia's statement came Thursday in answer to a question from a Popular Socialist party congressman who asked whether it was legal to reform Article 130 of the Constitution, the article that limits the church's non-religious activities.

Congressman Alejandro Gascon told Moya Palencia that "there is a tendency to reform the Constitution to permit the cassocks once again to lead the political life of Mexico."

In recent months groups of priests have criticized the political system of Mexico and what they call the "abuse-tolerance" relationship between the church and the state in Mexico.

The church maintains schools and many priests are teachers at state universities thus violating specific articles of the Constitution.

But the government declines to clamp down on the church in a country where 90 per cent of the population is nominally Roman Catholic.

Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates led both leagues in home runs in 1971, hitting 48. Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves hit 47.

Overtime Gambling Czar Of East Coast Dies

ANCONA, Italy (AP)—Joe Adonis, the alleged overtime gambling czar of the U.S. East Coast, died Friday in the exile to which he had been banished by Italian authorities who accused him of Mafia activities. He was 69.

Adonis was hospitalized Tuesday night with heart and lung complications after suffering pneumonia.

His death came four months after Italian officials took him into custody in his plush Milan apartment and banished him to the tiny village of Serra Dei Conti, near this Adriatic coast city, on the ground that he refused to forsake his Mafia connections.

Neapolitan-born Adonis, whose real name was Giuseppe Doto.

Today In History

Today is Sunday, Nov. 28, the 332nd day of 1971. There are 33 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1520, the Portuguese navigator, Ferdinand Magellan, reached the Pacific Ocean after passing through the South American strait which now bears his name.

On this date: In 1895, the first auto race in the United States was held on the road between Chicago and Waukegan, Ill.—at an average speed of 7 1/2 miles an hour.

In 1916, in World War I, the Germans carried out their first air strike against London.

In 1919, the first woman to be seated in Britain's House of Commons, Lady Astor, was elected.

In 1942, nearly 500 persons died in a fire that destroyed the Coconut Grove night club in Boston.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a wartime meeting in Tehran, Iran.

In 1963, President Lyndon B. Johnson announced that Cape Canaveral, Fla. would be renamed Cape Kennedy in honor of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Ten years ago: The United States rejected a Soviet proposal for a ban on nuclear testing without controls.

Radio & Television News

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS injected a disturbing note on a Thanksgiving holiday largely devoted to feasting and relaxation.

At the end of the evening Thursday it broadcast a remarkable documentary that took direct, deadly aim at the old-fashioned American dream of success.

Books and articles have been written that are highly critical of the quality of life in the affluent suburbs, the executive dormitories surrounding the nation's big cities. CBS Report's treatment had members of one family talking about their day-by-day existence, their fears and their hopes. It was a devastating hour.

Sam Greenawalt, a bank executive in his early 40s, told of working 10-and 12-hour days under pressures that literally sweated his brow. His wife, Jane, caught up in a whirl of volunteer activities, earnestly analyzed her personal search for identity.

Despite a big, handsome house, the family felt a vital need for their remote weekend place where they found real relaxation and functioned as a family.

The program was concerned specifically with life in Birmingham, Mich., a rich, white community 16 miles from Detroit. It told the story of Birmingham in terms of the Greenawalts and their three children ages of 14, 12 and 10. Implicit in the frank talk was that, in spite of financial success, status and security, somehow happiness and contentment were eluding them.

Narrated by Charles Kuralt, the program made its point: That when the American dream of success, pursued intensely, has been achieved, it is not enough and a new, grander dream takes the old one's place—and the climb up continues.

The fault of the program was that it left the impression that every family who has made it to similarly situated suburbs finds the same emptiness and conformity.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run, if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Toys To Believe In

For all its ingenuity, America's toy-making industry still has a lot to learn about the average one-year-old. We were reminded of this a day or so ago while watching an astonishing mechanical doll known as "Busy Lizzie" on our TV screen.

Lizzie — no larger than your average toddler — is an industrious toy with the remarkable ability to sew, dust and vacuum floors. We watched in unbelieving awe Busy Lizzie, it is clear, was devised by no man with a one-year-old of his own.

At the age of one, most real live babies are just beginning to walk. The tiny hand that once shakily clutched your knee is now attached to a three-foot-long arm. The tool's clenched little fist normally contains a button, cigarette ash, a marble, pin or half-live insect. In baby's mouth is a piece of lint, a clod of dirt, a sippy wad of paper or a leaf. When he or she opens his mouth, the little pink tongue produces a blade of grass.

Comparing baby with the toy-makers' latest creation, the redoubtable Busy Lizzie, we are left the feeling the toy-makers have missed the boat.

To go further, we would suggest that for all Lizzie's skills, she probably does not do a very good job of dusting or vacuuming. And there is no way she can keep ahead of the destructive capabilities of your average one-year-old.

So — and we offer our ideas gratis to Mattel or anybody else — why not a Busy Lizzie with the sole function of "keeping up" with baby. For instance, when baby walks into your living room, Lizzie immediately raises her hand to the approximate level of baby's mouth and declares, "Open your mouth, baby." Baby's mouth opens and Lizzie plucks out a pebble. At the same moment, Lizzie quickly removes from baby's fist a small, black bug. In a fever of activity now, Lizzie re-rolls 35 feet of unwound toilet tissue, mislaid (and now broken) coffee cup, finds the set of keys baby has tirelessly stuffed under a davenport cushion, and removes from baby's foot a coating of tar.

In short, we say, "wake up, out there, toy-makers." Throw off your old ideas. Give us a busy Lizzie we can believe in.

Valued Payment

A reader of The News brought a letter into this office. It had been written by his daughter. The letter stated:

Dear Dad, Just recently it was Veteran's Day, a day to honor all men who served their country at a time of great need — a time when one gave up all personal rights of safety and security, family and homeland in order that there might be an assurance of these rights in the future for all mankind — Americans and allies.

"My thoughts were centered on you, Dad, on Veteran's Day this year, and I want to say I am so proud to be your daughter. Thank you, Dad, for your willingness to sacrifice personal rights and possibly even your life for the freedom of this great country and the whole world. Not only did you fight for liberty during World War II and the Korean War, but you gave 20 years of your life to the service of our country."

"And you are still giving of yourself — you are giving courage and truth when most are preoccupied with the easy way of compromise, rebellion, apathy and deception. You are not afraid to stand and defend the rights and reveal the wrong — as unpopular as that is today. I understand how discouraging it must be to see the steps of history repeated, and yet to know nothing is being done to save the faltering future to America.

"Thank you for not being an apathetic, free-loading American. Thank you for showing me how free enterprise is the way. Thank you for loving God, your family and your country. Thank you for being the American you are."

"Our visitor folded the pages frayed from much reading and put them back in his pocket."

"You know," he said, "a letter like that is payment in full."

Since the letter was personal, we withheld the names involved, but we printed the text because others may have similar sentiments, but just haven't got around to expressing them.

YOU MAY NOT BELIEVE THIS BUT...

How To Build A Robot

By DR. STUART R. CRANE

While back I was reading an article interviewing a man considered to be the world's leading robot maker. He did this as an avocation, not a vocation. He was asked in the article how long it would take for a man to create a robot that would be reasonably acceptable. The robot maker answered that to be an acceptable robot, the robot would have to be quite mobile, be able to climb over any type of terrain or obstacles, would have to be able to have receptors to perceive its environment, and would have to have a memory bank that would be able to compare that which was observed with all possibilities and to compute what it was that was being observed, would have to have literally millions of programmed reactions, should be rather compact, cheap to operate, long lasting, and, to be a true robot, would have to operate by itself without direct supervision or control. He said that any such mechanical robot could not be developed by the human being in a trillion years. Besides, we already have one.

The world is filled with robots who can operate on a handful of fuel a day, will run for 70 years, are self-repairing, will climb over all sorts of terrain, can be programmed to react in a predetermined manner without an operator, have a fantastic computer built in, which instantly analyzes by five different sensory mechanisms the environment, around it. Any single organ of this robot could not be duplicated mechanically in the building the size of the Pentagon. It is very, very cheap and extremely plentiful. It is the human being.

Since all the mechanisms for the robot are already in existence, the only thing necessary to make a human being an acceptable robot is programming his computer. All the physical requirements, other than the programming, are already present.

What is a computer? The electronic computers, that are the marvel of today's world, are extremely stupid machines. They cannot count beyond "one," they cannot multiply and divide, only add and subtract; they cannot move, they only know seven instructions — i.e. read, write, store, recall, add, subtract and stop. They cannot do a single step in any process unless a human being has given them the instruction of what to do with each digit, where to place it, where to write it, and where to get the information. Multiplication and division are accomplished by rapid subtraction and rapid addition. The only saving grace of a computer is its speed — a few hundred thousand digits a second. It is nothing but a metal box, some magnetic discs or tapes, a few transistors, and miles and miles of wire. It does not even contain an electric motor, a relay, or any mechanical devices. This is the reason for its speed.

Now a computer cannot do anything. Before it is capable of doing anything, a human being must feed it data, lots and lots and lots of data. Human beings must program it, i.e. must give it the most minute instructions for every single step of the process. Otherwise, the computer will stop. Any omission in the program will make the computer break down. In order for the computer to operate, it must have consistent data. That is, the data must not be in conflict, and it must have a complete program.

If a computer started coming up with conclusions that were in disagreement with the data supplied or if it got data on its own, which was not placed there by the programmer, or if it took the data and came up with independent conclusions, we would say that the computer was malfunctioning, it had broken down, and it was not reliable. It is essential that the programmer have total control of the data and the program in order for the computer to be his servant.

In order to build a computerized robot, we must send the robot to school to get programmed and to receive its data. The data must be consistent in order not to have any conflict.

In Communist China, they use a first-grade primer which opens with these statements: "Who provides your food? Is it God? No, it's Chairman Mao. Who provides your clothes? Is it God? No, it's Chairman Mao. Who provides your shelter? Is it God? No, it's Chairman Mao. Who provides all good things? Is it God? No, it's Chairman Mao. Who is God?"

In the United States, we have state schools, paid for by the state, which feed data into our children; and we have bigger schools called the public media, which are also state controlled, to feed data to adults and children. Who takes care of you when you are old? Is it God? No, it is social security. Who takes care of you when you are unemployed? Is it God? No, it's unemployment compensation. Who takes care of you when you are sick? Is it God? No, it's Medicare. Who takes care of you if you do not want to work? Is it God? No, it's welfare. All good things come from the government. Where must we place our faith and trust? Of course, in government.

Who is going to take care of the social problems of man? Is it trust in Jesus Christ? No, it is the government-legislated social program. Whom are we going to trust for our daily needs? Is it God? No, it's the government economic program and fiscal and monetary policy. Who is God? What is the state school (erroneously sometimes called the public school)? It is a program center. It is a church. It teaches the worship of the state (which was known in the old days as Fascism or Statism). When the people look to the state and not to God, when our trust is in the state and not in God, then the state is God, and we will live in Statism, i.e. slavery.

A free people must control the training of their children, and the information system must not be in the hands of the state if they do not want the state to become God. Many have the mistaken idea that we are to trust our elected officials. Thomas Jefferson made it quite clear in his letter in answer to a gentleman who had written to him that we should trust our leaders when he said that "trust our leaders is the foundation of despotism. We must bind down our governors and restrain them from mischief by the chains of a constitution." Our state schools are teaching our people that it is important that the government have discretion to be able to make whatever rules they see necessary without the restraint of a constitution. All state schools have always in history in all nations taught despotism. Wherever state schools exist, despotism is inevitable.

Over ninety years ago, a preacher by the name of A.A. Hodge, who opposed the concept of government schools when they were just coming into existence, warned of what they were doing; they were taking education away from parents while they were promising that they would keep the faith in the schools, which they would ultimately destroy. He wrote, "It is capable of exact demonstration that if every party in the state has a right of excluding from the public schools whatever he does not believe to be true, then he that believes most, must give way to him that believes least, and then he that believes least must give way to him that believes absolutely nothing, no matter in how small a minority the atheists or agnostics may be. It is self-evident that this scheme, if it is consistently and persistently carried out in all parts of the country, the United States system of national, popular education will be the most efficient and wide instrument for the propagation of atheism which the world has ever seen."

In addition, Mr. Hodge goes on to explain that since any belief can be objected to by someone, then you must end up with no belief at all. The absence of belief in politics is anarchy, and in religion, atheism. The greatest engine possible has to be government schools.

Don't Surrender Canal

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Current negotiations concerning the future of the Panama Canal could lead to another setback for the cause of freedom in this hemisphere.

Public attention has been focused on the Nixon administration's new Asian policy, which has resulted in expulsion of the free Chinese from the U.N. and American appeasement of Red China. But the U.S. is in danger of surrendering strategic advantage much closer to home. In Washington, many observers believe the Nixon administration is prepared to turn over much of the Panama Canal Zone to the Panamanians.

No need exists for such action. The United States purchased the Canal Zone and dug the canal. It has been generous, perhaps excessively so, with Panama. The U.S. has a right to the Canal Zone in perpetuity.

Control of the Canal Zone is one of the few strategic and political advantages the U.S. possesses in Latin America after a decade of retreat from a position of unquestioned power in this hemisphere. Indeed the Panama Canal is essential for interleaf mobility for major U.S. naval vessels. Effective operation of the canal wouldn't be feasible if an unstable, left-oriented Panamanian government controlled the Canal Zone. Panama, unfortunately, is a notoriously unstable country.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-SC) recently pinpointed the strategic importance of the Panama Canal, saying: "As an artery of marine transportation, the Panama Canal enterprise became, and still is, a part of the coastline belonging to the United States. As such its exclusive control by the United States is necessary for national defense just as the control of the Chesapeake Bay or New York Harbor is necessary for national defense."

The senator added: "It is discouraging to report that negotiations are once again underway with Panama, even though the present government is a revolutionary regime with little prospect of stability and with no procedures for ratifying a new treaty."

It is shocking that U.S. officials would contemplate giving away a U.S. strategic advantage and throw away the vast sums American taxpayers have invested in the Canal Zone. Transfer of the Zone to Panama would deprive the United States of significant military and economic protection. It is doubtful that the U.S. could use the canal in a time of international crisis if an antagonistic regime were in charge in the Canal Zone. Indeed whoever controls the Canal Zone is in a position to exert leverage on all countries using the canal, especially the South American countries whose goods must transit the canal to reach U.S. and European markets. Panama is not a suitable country to exercise this leverage. The world already has had bitter experience with another unstable country — Egypt — controlling a key waterway.

Today, the Panama Canal Zone is an island of freedom in a region ridden with demagogic or totalitarian regimes. Central America, in particular, has a long history of petty dictatorships and violence. In World War II the free world narrowly avoided Axis political domination in Panama.

An American resident of the Canal Zone recently protested in a letter to The New York Times any sell-out of the U.S. control of the Zone, noting "the rule of terror under which the people of Panama exist." The author of the letter asked: "Is this the kind of life we are expected to live in the Canal Zone? Are we Americans, who have fought for freedom since birth of our country, going to surrender now?"

Now is the time for the American people to let President Nixon know that they are opposed to any surrender of U.S. sovereignty in the Panama Canal Zone or any lessening of American control over the "Crossroads of the World." If the American people don't assert their convictions on this point, the U.S. security interest in the Panama Canal Zone may fare as the cause of the Free Chinese has fared at the hands of liberal advisers in the White House and State Department.

Unusual Pastimes Explained

"Unusual Pastimes," a hobby symposium, was the program presented at the meeting of El Progreso Club in the home of Mrs. Roy McMillen, 2217 Chestnut. The program was introduced by Mrs. Richard Bray.

Mrs. Verl Hagaman gave the history of knitting, explaining it is as old as history. She told the women stockings were the first articles to be knitted.

Decoupage, the art of decorating articles on the surface of wood, metal or glass, was explained by Mrs. R.A. Keagy.

Mrs. Glenn Radcliff gave the history of needlepoint which, she said, began in the 16 century. Today it is a favorite form of expression for the creative needlewoman, she pointed out.

Each woman showed examples of her craft.

Next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Dec. 14, in the home of Mrs. J.F. Malone, 1915 Holly Lane.

Members present were Mrs. Richard Bray, J.F. Curtis, Verl Hagaman, R.A. Keagy, J.F. Malone, Roy McMillen, J.G. Morrison, Ralph Palmer, Tom Perkins, A.D. Pickett and Glenn Radcliff.

Tell George the law's not all on his side!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: George and I have been married for 36 years. We have five children, all married and on their own with nice families. George was never much of a father. All the kids were scared to death of him. His idea of "teaching" them something was to give them a good belt in the chops. It's a miracle they turned out as good as they did.

I've always covered up for George, but I've known all along he ran around with other women. He's in his middle fifties now and you'd think he'd slow up in that department, but now he runs more—not less.

Last week he came home very late smelling like a brewery, with lipstick all over his neck. I got mad and hit him with the broom. He said: "If you don't like it, go live with one of the kids. Everything in this house is MINE because I paid for it."

Is that true? I never worked outside the home. Can he really kick me out? I don't know he law. CHARLOTTE

DEAR CHARLOTTE: Tell your husband that the law has provisions for Lechivars who get their second romantic wind in their mid-fifties, and if he doesn't behave himself, HE may have to go live with one of the kids. Even if the wife did not contribute a dime to the house, she is part-owner of everything in it. She contributed to the marriage by caring for the home and rearing the children. See a lawyer and find out what your rights are. It will come in handy, if George ever tries to bully you again.

DEAR ABBY: My husband was getting his hair cut the day the Orioles tied up the World Series, and his hair hasn't grown out yet. MARGIE IN PITTSBURGH

DEAR MARGIE: He's lucky he wasn't getting a shave!

DEAR ABBY: We live beside my husband's parents, whom I truly like. His mother has a hobby; his father doesn't. My husband isn't home during the evenings, so his father comes to see the children and me while his wife works at her hobby.

It would be fine if he came once or twice a week, but he comes over every single night and he stays four or five hours! I would like to be alone occasionally in the evenings, and this is beginning to bug me. There are lots of things I could be doing besides entertaining him.

He reads your column faithfully, so maybe he'll see himself and cut down on his visits. Thank you. HOPEFUL IN OHIO

DEAR HOPEFUL: And what if he doesn't see it? You're a big girl now, so tell him in a nice way that you have little chores to do and need a few evenings a week in which to do them.

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior citizen [65] who is keeping company with a gentleman who is 68. He is a widower, and I am a widow. We enjoy each other tremendously as we both like to bowl, golf, sail and play bridge. He takes me to lovely places to dine and dance. Before he pops the question [which I feel certain will be very soon] shall I tell him that I wear a wig? I have five, all the same shade and styled the same way. My own hair has become so thin these past few years that it cannot be styled, and when I wear a wig it's so natural looking no one could ever tell it's not my own hair. My gentleman friend has complimented me repeatedly on my "lovely hair." Should I tell him now? Later? Or not at all? UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Tell him now.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Dormitory Director Job Rated Ideal For Widow

WACO — The life of a middle-aged widow can be lonely and dull.

Probably the woman in this situation has children who are working and living away from home. She has been an excellent homemaker for years, but finds herself with no qualifications for the job that she wants or needs after her husband's death.

However, such a woman has the main qualifications looked for in directors of women's college dormitories.

The job is demanding. A dormitory director is responsible for all the women living in her dormitory. This responsibility might mean the safety and well being of several hundred college students.

Mrs. Auline Bailey, director of women's residence halls at Baylor University, believes a dormitory director's job is the ideal solution to many of the problems of a middle-aged widow.

Mrs. Bailey lives with her husband in Hillsboro, but often stays in her apartment in North Russell Hall, a women's dormitory on the Waco campus.

A dormitory director's position is a place of service for a widow woman. Many have no saleable skill," she said. "They have been good citizens and homemakers. They have learned group living from their families. A dormitory is like a large house with a staff. They have known warmth and kindness in their families, and they can find it in the dormitory."

Mrs. Bailey said she looks for several personal qualities in the women she considers as dormitory directors at Baylor. One of these is a genuine interest in young people and the ability to understand their problems and to counsel with them.

"Dormitory life affords, reliving your own optimum time of life, your own young experiences," Mrs. Bailey said. "You observe life being lived in its most abundant form."

Mrs. Margaret Nesbitt is the director of South Russell dormitory at Baylor. She still owns a house in Gatesville.

"I like the warmth of the living in situation. I still have my home. When I go home, it's just like I was never gone," Mrs. Nesbitt said. "I enjoy the 'cream of the crop.' I call them, young people."

Mrs. Lois Pickering, assistant director of women's residence halls at Baylor, also said she enjoys her association with young people.

"I had my faith in young people really restored when it came to this campus," Mrs. Pickering said. "With young people, you just forget about ever getting old."

The three women also said they have benefited from association with the other dorm directors.

"You are with women with the same problems as yours," Mrs. Pickering said. "It is easy to establish a rapport with the women who have problems and experiences similar to yours," Mrs. Bailey said.

The job of a dormitory director can also compensate for the resulting change in social patterns for a recent widow.

"When you become a widow, you feel like an odd person with people who were friends of both you and your husband," Mrs. Pickering said. "The other dorm directors are a new family and social outlet."

Mrs. Bailey said the life patterns and social activities of a widow are different from those of a married woman. All three women interviewed said the college environment provides excellent social activities for a widow, such as music, speakers, theater and other fine arts.

Dormitory directors usually spend holidays with their families, Mrs. Bailey said. Each director has time off during the week, and that most directors do not work on campus during the summer. She said many dorm directors work during the summer at camps or as chaperones on overseas student tours.

Mrs. Bailey said the salary of most dormitory directors amounts to "a little less than that of a beginning teacher." She said additional income is available if the director rents her own home while she is living on a college campus during the year.

Perhaps more important than the salary are the many other reasons for being a dormitory director.

"The job brings out the best in you," Mrs. Nesbitt said.

Mrs. Pickering said she thinks being a dormitory director "is the greatest fulfillment and avenue of service every hour of the Twentieth Century Club Ladies Give Show And Tell Program

SHOW AND TELL — The program of the Twentieth Century Club Tuesday included each member displaying and explaining a treasured object or something she had made. Above, club members are shown beside the display of items featured during the program. (Staff Photo)

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Dick Stowers, 2015 Charles. Mrs. W.R. Campbell, president, led the business meeting. It was decided to give a Christmas basket of food to a family in the community as well as a $50 gift to Genesis House.

Mrs. Joe Gordon was in charge of the program. She reminded the members that every person possesses a talent, whether it be with a brush, a hammer, or a broom. Not only do we possess talents but also the ability to appreciate beauty of others talents, she explained.

Each member present participated in a "Show and Tell" program, sharing with the other members an object that was a treasure to her or something she had made.

Mrs. R.H. Sanford brought a glass compote that had been in her family since her parents received it for a wedding present. It traditionally holds nuts every Christmas.

Mrs. H.R. Thompson told members of the crafts fair she had attended at Silver Dollar City and the many interesting ideas she had seen there.

Mrs. Bob Andis showed a needlepoint purse, a latch-hooked rug and a needlepoint pillow that were all handmade gifts.

Mrs. Dick Stowers showed two embroidered pillows that had been made by her children. Mrs. Paul Harbaugh brought a seventy-five year old hand-made quilt with brier stitching. Mrs. D.J. George brought a chess set that she had made from spools and door pulls. She also showed Christmas decorations made from the same type of wooden objects.

Mrs. Charles Fagan shared with the group a family tree started for her grandmother. The vocabulary and penmanship were of special interest. Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton showed the first oil painting she had ever done as well as an eighty-year-old calico dress that belonged to her grandmother.

Mrs. Fred Neslage brought a baby shawl that she had knitted for her grandchild-to-be. Mrs. V.J. Jamieson showed the group a Thanksgiving dress that she had made for her granddaughter. Mrs. Lorene Locke brought a sixty-six-year-old day book that was used by her father-in-law in his general store. The prices of various items were compared with today's prices.

Mrs. Rex Rose displayed a knitted dress with crocheted collar and cuffs that she had made. Mrs. Kent Hicks explained to the members how to make Christmas trees from wicker and artificial fruits.

Mrs. W.R. Campbell brought an antique cake plate of Havblime China. She also showed the members a hand-made quilt that was one hundred years old, with several different types of stitching. Mrs. David McGahey demonstrated how to decorate a window shade you'll never get rich digging a ditch, you're in the Army now. Those words, by Irving Berlin don't hold much weight anymore. Not only is the Army developing an automatic fox hole digger, but pay has been increased to the point that a new private makes as much money, if not more, than a young man or woman starting his first civilian job. Under the new pay bill passed by Congress, which went into effect Nov. 5, privates in the Army start off at $268.50 a month. And, according to Sergeant Kenneth W. Baker, local Army recruiter, through rapid promotions, it's possible for a soldier to be promoted to E4 and make as much as $323.40 a month within 12 months of entering service. In addition to the pay, all enlisted men get free room and board. "That's worth quite a bit of money, too," Sergeant Baker explained. The increase in Army pay is part of the government's program to make the Army a more attractive place at which to work. "Basically, we look upon the Army as our place of work," he said. "Each man has a job to do, and when it's quitting time, he leaves his job and his time is his own."

Today's Army Isn't What It Used To Be

Sergeant Baker explained that most of the Army is now on a five day work week, and that reveille formations have been cut out. "Now, all a man must do is be at his job on time, just as in the civilian business world."

Living conditions have also improved. At many posts, soldiers have semi-private rooms, as opposed to the old barracks of World War II vintage. Dining facilities have changed, too. Soldiers eat at small tables, off dishes instead of trays, and usually have a choice of entree, dessert, and appetizer. For those who do not want full meals, there are dining rooms that offer hamburgers, sloppy Joes, and pizza at many posts.

Sports and recreation facilities are being expanded, too. Most Army posts have swimming pools, golf courses, tennis courts, full gymnasiums, flying and sky diving clubs, arts and crafts centers, and many other recreational facilities. And, of course the post exchanges and commissaries enable servicemen and their families to get even more for their dollar.

Pampa Girl Semifinalist At Contest

Pam Martin of Pampa is among 17 Texas Tech University coeds who have been named semi-finalists in the Miss Texas Tech Pageant. Miss Martin, a sophomore elementary education major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Martin of 2417 Duncan. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi organization, serves as social chairman in Pi Phi, and has been on the dean's honor list two semesters.

She lists her interests as studying, reading and traveling. Hobbies include snow and water skiing and sailing.

Selection of the semi-finalists was based on interviews, swim-suit competition, street clothes competition, and overall impression.

LONDON (AP) — "Mary, Queen of Scots" has been selected as the motion picture for the Royal Film Performance. The Hal Wallis production for Universal will be presented in the presence of Her Majesty The Queen Mother, next March 27. The event will benefit the Cinema Television Benevolent Fund.

Tech To Stage Adam-Eve Play

LUBBOCK — Was Eve a nagging wife? Did Adam have a wandering eye? And how did parents handle the generation gap in the Stone Age?

These are among the provocative questions slated for exploration in "The First Family," a rollicking comedy by Jules Supervielle and one of two plays to be presented by students of French at Texas Tech University in a series of performances beginning at 8 p.m. Dec. 2 in the Quaila Room of the Foreign Languages—Mathematics Building.

The other choice offering will be Jean Tardieu's "Conversations in Sinfonietta."

The Weekly Message of Inspiration

Assembly Of God Church Skellytown
Rev. Robert Bailey

"For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee." Isaiah 60:2

As we consider the horizons, storm clouds seem to threaten from every direction. Wars are spreading devastation, blood shed, and misery, with threats of new outbreaks in many areas of the world.

Moral restraint seems to be considered by many to be "old fashioned", "out-dated", something to be flung away and forgotten. Our moral fabric is rotting because the majority are listening to man and not to God.

God's command to "Love thy neighbor as thyself" that should make this world a wonderful place to live in has been heeded by so very few. Instead we see greed, hatred, envy, strife, jealousy, malice and many other selfish characteristics portrayed in people's lives. This traits are considered natural, but we need to consider again the words of Isaiah 5:20. "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!"

In an hour when it seems the established church is losing much of its influence, and more than three hundred denomination in America alone, as well as many more cults are saying "ours is the way", all of this could confuse one's thinking, and cause many questions, doubts, and even fears to grip the mind.

With ease then, one can see that darkness is swiftly covering the people. Many would say "then why bother to seek the light and to try to live above the mire of the world?" They seem to think "What is the use? We are predestined to live in a world of darkness and to be a people covered with gross darkness, so why bother?" A dismal picture indeed is darkness, gross darkness. But look! The same scripture that prophesies this darkness also has something wonderful to say: "but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and His glory shall be seen upon thee." Those who have faith in the Lord can have God's love abiding in their hearts; and His glory and blessing will be theirs.

Even as there was a word from the Lord unto Abraham, David, Paul and many others in the Bible, there is a word for us today. The Christian of this hour has many wonderful promises. Those who would draw near unto God, He has promised to draw nigh unto them. The one who finds himself in trouble, has the promise that God is a very present help in time of trouble. To those who feel alone, God has said "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." The empty heart has the word of Joel that God in this last hour will pour out of His Spirit upon all flesh.

Let us be swallowed up in darkness and filled with despair, let us hear again the words of Jesus, "I am the Light of the world." Also Jesus said, "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid." Matthew 5:14, and "For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are light in the Lord: walk as children of light." Ephesians 5:8

Let us hold high our torches to spread light on the pathway of those groping in darkness! If by chance you do not know Jesus, turn to the true light now.

Lake Boat Ramp Closed

Sanford-Yake boat ramp at Lake Meredith was closed Friday for the construction project of extension of the boat ramps, according to James M. Thomson, superintendent, Sanford Recreation Area.

However, access to the facilities at the Fortress Cove Marina will still be possible, he said. Visitors coming to the marina are asked to exercise caution in reaching the parking areas because of the construction activities.

Cedar Canyon and Fritch Fortness ramps have been completed and will be available for boaters launching on the south side of Lake Meredith. Blue West boat ramp remains closed but Plum Creek ramp is available to northside boaters. The recent rise in the lake has made it possible to launch the larger boats at Plum Creek, Thomson said.

Lefors High School Still Accredited

Lefors High School has been continued as an accredited school by the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The action was taken at the annual meeting of the Association held November 28 and December 1, 1971 in Miami Beach, Fla. according to Principal Weldon Bates and Jerrel Julian, superintendent of the school.

Membership in the Association is official recognition that a school is committed to school improvement through the accreditation process. Each member school periodically conducts a thorough self-study and is visited by teams of competent educators who help to determine the school's strengths and indicate areas needing improvement.

The Southern Association is one of six regional accrediting associations in the nation. It serves eleven states including Texas.

Roberto Clemente led the Pittsburgh Pirates in hitting last season with a .341 mark.

Texas Tech Crops Team Wins National Honors At Contest

LUBBOCK—Texas Tech University's Crops Team claimed another national championship Nov. 23 at the National Collegiate Crops Contest held in Kansas City. The win upped the string of national and international championships won by Tech teams in the last 39 contests to 33. The team, coached by Agronomy Prof. Cecil I. Ayers, also captured the national championship in Kansas City last year. Ayers, who will step down as the Crops Team coach after the International Collegiate Crops Contest in Chicago Nov. 27, has been at the helm for 24 years, compiling a record in win-loss percentage that would lead an athletic coach to ask for—and probably get—the moon. "The team didn't have a real good day," Ayers said after the contest in Kansas City this year. "We've got a lot of work to do between here and Chicago." Despite that evaluation, however, Tech's team compiled an impressive 5,563.2 points out of a possible 5,400 to win the overall team championship in the three-phase contest which includes identification of various crop plant and weed seed types and diseases, grain grading and seed analysis. In addition, all three members of the Tech team finished in top 10 among high-point individuals.

Highlights And Sidelights From State Capital

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. Preston Smith's decision to run for a third term drew sharp new attention to an increasingly crowded and complex 1972 political scene.

Smith said he would seek vindication in stock-loan scandals. He plans to tell "over and over" that he killed (by veto) the bank deposit legislation urged by Houston banker Frank Sharp which the Legislature passed in 1969.

Meanwhile, former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough said odds are now 10-to-one he will be a candidate — either governor or the senate — next year. But he declined to indicate which race is most likely to attract him.

State Sen. Wayne Connally, youngest brother of U.S. Secretary of Treasury (and former Governor) John B. Connally, jumped into the lieutenant governor's race. Connally is a conservative Democrat.

Harold (Barefoot) Sanders of Dallas reportedly is getting set to run for the U.S. Senate as a Democrat.

Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso indicated he will reveal at a dinner in his home town December 7 whether he will enter the lieutenant governor's race or stand for re-election.

Republicans, calling for a "top to bottom cleanup" in state government, began recruiting preliminaries, concentrating on the governor's race. (They already have a U.S. Senate candidate, incumbent John Tower.)

The Republicans, in an informal statewide poll of gubernatorial preferences, came up with S. Ross Perot, wealthy Dallas businessman, who is a political independent, as their favorite.

L. Gov. Ben Barnes and Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde

rancher - banker, continued full-fledged campaigns for governor. Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby Jr. have been in the lieutenant governor's race for months.

COURTS SPEAK—Texas Court of criminal Appeals upheld a new law which allows those accused of crimes to waive rights to a grand jury indictment before trial in cases where the death penalty is not applicable. In other recent cases the Court of Criminal Appeals held: That photographs of a bloody death scene are not automatically prohibited from consideration in murder trials. That a court is not to look beyond a bill as passed by the legislature to consider if the act creating a new trial court was duly submitted to a special legislative session by the governor.

COURT COST "SURTAX" PROFITABLE — Some 716 cities and the 254 counties collected $335,348.70 during September from a new "surtax" on court costs earmarked for improving criminal justice. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported on first collections under the law. Money will meet state and local matching fund needs for federal grants under the Omnibus Crime Control Act. The new law provides an additional court cost assessment of $2.50 for a misdemeanor case conviction in a court where jurisdiction is limited to a $200 maximum fine and specifically includes traffic violations. It also directs a $5 additional charge on other misdemeanor convictions and $10 for felony convictions, to be collected as other fines or costs in cases.

AUTO LICENSES OBJECTION WITHDRAWN—A new Texas

Motor Vehicle Commission member withdrew his protest to licensing of a competitive auto dealer in Corpus Christi. Jack McKenzie pulled down his objection to TMVC's granting a regular license to Barton-Grubbs Volkswagen, which began operations in Corpus Christi three months ago. McKenzie, who operates a VW dealership, said he remains convinced he proved that a competitor in the city was not needed for several years. But he conceded, "reasonable men may differ on the facts presented." December 1 the deadline set by the new Motor Vehicle Commission act for new car dealers, distributors, manufacturers and factory representatives to get required state licenses. McKenzie said the hearing before the Commission November 4 was vital and served a purpose in "forcing the factory to justify its actions."

HOSPITAL PLAN AVAILABLE—Draft of the 1972 Texas state plan for construction and modernization of hospitals and related medical facilities is available for public review at the State Health Department here. The plan is the basic document on which the State Board of Health will make recommendations for federal Hill-Burton grants and subsidized loans. Fifty applicants are requesting $44.5 million in Hill-Burton grant funds and $58.5 million in mortgage insurance. The requests are aimed at providing financing for construction in excess of $215 million. Hill-Burton provides both grant and loan programs to build and modernize general hospitals and long-term-care facilities, outpatient centers, tuberculosis hospitals and public health centers. The Texas plan also contains a complete inventory of most health facilities in the state, a delineation of 134 service areas, determination of area needs and priorities and methods of administration.

BOOLWORM WARNING ISSUED—Unless the pink bollworm is controlled within the next few weeks, heavy losses, if not complete ruin, can be expected for the cotton crop in North and North Central Texas, the state agriculture department warns.

Commissioner John C. White said farmers must take immediate steps to destroy cotton stalks and plow under debris as quickly as rains will permit. End of November was the plowup date for more than 40 counties in the North-North Central area.

VETS/PROTEST NEW SCHOOL—Creation of a new veterinary medical school at Texas Tech in Lubbock will contribute to an oversupply of veterinarians in the state. Texas Veterinary Medical Association stated. TVMA said the money could be spent better in aiding medical professions which have a shortage of doctors. Vets educated in Texas are already having to go out of state to get jobs, the association argued.

SHORT SNORTS—A Democratic fund-raising reception here December 6 will cost $1,000 per-to-hob-nob with Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Congressman Wilbur Mills. A $25-a-plate dinner follows.

State Republican leaders demanded removal of Secretary of State Bob Bullock. Bullock said he intends to stay.

Mineral Wells offered locations.

Texas Water Quality Board and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency announced agreement on a program to settle differences over water quality management in Clear Lake.

A new attorney general's opinion says court clerks must record defendant's birth dates, drivers license numbers where "reasonably available" in abstracts of judgment and so note where data is not available.

A typical Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings costs an average family of six just a little more than $9, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture.

December 5-11 is Texas Consumer Week. The bicentennial era in Texas was launched Thanksgiving Day with half-time ceremonies at the Dallas-Los Angeles football game. The Department of Public Safety has coded for computer storage 168,979 individual criminal records. Records will be retained by Project SEARCH (System for Electronic Analysis and Retrieval of Criminal Histories).

Four seminars

were scheduled this week in Lubbock, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio to review laws governing the new state vending commission and the industry it regulates. The commission staff, attorney general's office and consumer credit commissioner provided personnel to get the discussions going.

Farmers Union Drafts '72 Policy Statement

A seventeen-member Program Committee has completed its work on a draft of the 1972 Policy Statement for Texas Farmers Union. The Committee, meeting in Waco last week, wrote into the program some of the key issues which will be debated at the state convention in San Antonio December 6-8.

Some of the principal resolutions which are expected to spark debate on the floor of the convention include the farm organization's position on state taxation, Farmers Union's support for commodity checkoff programs to support research and promotion, limitations on federal farm payments, state regulation of utilities, and the administration of the 1971 Farm Act. The farmers will also take a look at anti-pollution legislation and programs to bring out-of-state water into Texas.

Members of the Program Committee who have developed the program from county resolutions and will present the recommendations to the San Antonio convention are: Rudy Tate, Memphis, Chairman; Mrs. Jackie Mercer, Silverton; Wayne Richardson, Wolfforth; Joe Rankin, Ralls; Rodney Germer, Maxwell; Milton Fulp, Crawford; Willard Mullins, Haskell; Gilbert Kretschmar, Bartlett; Garner Schoenhals, Canadian; Gene Terry, Roby; Dan Wall, Dalhart; Mrs. Naomi Chandler, Midland; Adron Tekell, Bynum; J.O. Jackson, Jr., Gorman; Pat George, Happy; H.H. Schriber, Haslet; and Wayne Rutland, Stockdale.

The Texas Farmers Union state convention, the organization's 68th, will headquarter at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio. The three-day meeting will feature speeches from state and national political aspirants and farm leaders. Those speakers who have accepted invitations to address the convention include: Congressman Henry Gonzalez, Congressman Graham Purcell, Ben Radcliffe, President, South Dakota Farmers Union, United States Senator Hubert Humphrey, and Congressman Jake Pickle.

Other activities announced for the three-day convention include the presentation of the annual Farm Press Awards to radio-TV and newspaper farm editors. Membership achievement awards will be presented to individuals and counties that have accomplished membership requirements.

The ladies will be treated to a special ladies luncheon and style show at Joske's downtown department store on Tuesday, December 7. They will have the opportunity to tour Joske's Christmas Fantasy Land.

National Farmers Union president Tony Dechant will address the annual convention banquet on Wednesday evening, the final session of the convention.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
WEATHER

The extended wet spell has become a serious problem to most farmers. I talked with one individual that had given up hope of harvesting any dryland milo. He said the milo was flat and the heads were sprouting laying on the ground. There are many irrigation farmers that still have sizeable acreages in the field. It would have taken three weeks of unusually dry weather to get the ground in condition for harvesting. The last week of weather leaves us just like we were a week earlier.

The ground is soft and wet. A bit of luck might save the unharvested crop. A good freeze that would put enough crust on the ground to support a combine might be the answer. I can remember when farmers harvested a crop in the fifties on frozen ground. Many operators would start at 4:00 a.m. and by 11:00 a.m. the ground would thaw and they would have to wait until the ground froze again.

This might be a good idea for many of you. So get the combine tuned up and ready if the ground freezes.

CATTLE PRICE

Did you think cattle would ever get this high?

This just about took everyone by surprise. Cattle you complained about being too high thirty days ago look real cheap today. There are a lot of reasons why they are going up. Actually a shortage of fat cattle and yearling cattle, wheat pasture knee high over a wide area, abundant feed crop in cornbelt, good moisture conditions over a wide area, income tax angles.

Now what should each individual do to avoid a shipwreck if all these favorable factors turn around? First, watch cattle on feed reports. Heere is my best guess. Look for a big increase of cattle on feed in Iowa and Nebraska when the December report is released December 14. Many of these will be cattle off Kansas grass where they summered well and came off weighing 200 pounds more than last summer. Then, watch the January report that is released about the middle of January.

While you are watching these reports watch the weather in the cornbelt. The weather was the key in 1968-69. It could well be the key again. Big feed grain crops usually mean cheaper cattle. Per capita consumption of beef is about 114 pounds per person while 15 years ago it was a little over sixty-five pounds. With the tremendous increase in human population and a fairly static population in cattle, these changes are economic.

What was a good rule two decades ago might not be a good one today.

I've heard some of the ole' timers that have stuck with cows and calves all their lives cite how the steer man went broke in 1918 but the cow man survived. They have forgotten that a grass lease cost little or nothing and labor was cheap and a host of other factors.

When you change all these factors you have to reappraise things again. Calf prices the last year or two have soared to such a point that I wonder if some figuring shouldn't be done on the cow-calf business. We have a lot of stalks and rough forage that might work well with a cow-calf operation. Every individual has a different set of economic factors that would determine their situation.

Many times people get carried away when comparing one class of cattle with another in how much profit per head one will make in relation to another. Profit per head is not nearly as important as the amount of money you can make per dollar invested.

Another test is what class, weight, and sex of cattle will make the most money for the size unit I have to run them on. These are the economic answers we must have in front of us at all times to survive the economic plight facing American farmers' and ranchers.

Machinery Buyers May Get Saving

COLLEGE STATION — Texas farmers who are considering the purchase of machinery in the near future need to keep an eye on what Congress does about investment credit, says James I. Mallett, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

President Nixon has recommended an investment credit of 10 per cent for machinery and equipment manufactured in the United States, retroactive to Aug. 16, 1971 with a drop to 5 percent in 1972. However, Congress is considering a 7 per cent rate for both years, he adds.

What this means in dollars and cents is that a farmer who is considering buying a $30,000 combine, for example, could save as much as $2,100 if Congress approves the 7 per cent rate. Mallett says it is doubtful that any action would come before November of this year.

The proposed investment credit change has an excellent chance in Congress although the final bill could differ in form from the current proposal.

The proposed restoration of the investment credit would not limit the application of the new accelerated depreciation rates. The credit is in addition to the liberalized depreciation rules.

Watching to see what Congress does along these lines may be a moneysaving move if a farmer has to replace or add machinery or equipment in his operation, concludes Mallett.

Nitrate Leaching Research Complete

LUBBOCK — The problem of nitrate leaching and water conservation came under the scrutiny of Texas A&M University researchers at Lubbock this past summer when they installed an automated sub-irrigation system.

The system was part of a study financed by the Environmental Protection Agency to see if sub-irrigation could be used to prevent leaching of nitrates and other soluble materials into underground water supplies. It was a prototype of a larger system that will be installed in Knox County on the Rolling Plains later this year.

The work at Lubbock was conducted by Dr. O.C. Wilke, an engineer, Dr. A. B. Onken, a soil chemist and Dr. C.W. Wendt, a soil physicist at the A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

The system was installed in April and operated manually until it was automated in early July. There were two different plots in the test, which were planted to sweet corn on May 5.

When the system was first installed, water could be applied to the plots at the rate of 10 gallons per minute. This was later changed to two and one-half gallons per minute, or 1.03 inches of water to each plot each day.

Under the automated system, tensiometers were used to allow the soil to draw water when the moisture dropped to a certain point. On one plot, the system was geared to have low water tension. In other words, the soil moisture was high. The other plot had a high tension factor, the soil moisture was low.

The plot with the low water tension drew almost seven times the water used in the high tension plot that had very little soil moisture.

The corn was harvested on July 29, and the difference in

Texans Attend National 4-H Meet

COLLEGE STATION — Thirty-six of Texas' top 4-H Club members will be among the 1,600 4-H'ers from all 50 states, Puerto Rico and Canada who will gather in Chicago, November 28-December 2, for the 50th National 4-H Congress.

The theme emphasizes the many gaps youth face in today's complex society as related to personal and societal concerns as they look to the future.

The 4-H'ers attending the Golden Anniversary of 4-H Congress have earned the trip through outstanding accomplishments in various award programs on both a state and national level.

Texas delegates will convene in Dallas, November 26, for final orientation before boarding an airline flight to Chicago the next day. The group will return to Dallas on December 3.

Winter Shrub Survival Matter of Work Now

COLLEGE STATION — Fall care of shrubs is very important if you want them to survive the winter in healthy condition and be ready to grow next spring. Thus, several jobs must be performed to have a beautiful landscape planting, points out Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

Shrubs should be well watered ahead of a predicted cold, windy winter. This is very critical for evergreens and for new plantings which may not be well established. If the weather is dry during the fall and winter, apply water to shrubs about once every week to ten days.

Why do shrubs need water during the winter when they are dormant? Actually, they do not stay inactive all winter, explains Janne. This is especially true with evergreens. Whenever the temperature gets above 40 degrees F., growth may start. They lose water constantly through transpiration especially if they are in a windy location.

Sunburn and windburn are primarily caused by loss of water. Thus, a good supply of soil moisture is as important in winter as in summer, advises the horticulturist.

Janne recommends that the mulch around shrubs be renewed each fall to help conserve soil moisture. Provide at least a two-inch layer. This also helps control weed growth next summer, and will gradually increase the organic matter content of the soil.

Several types of mulch may be used including sawdust, wood chips, peat moss, ground bark, pine needles, chopped sugar cane or sterilized peanut hulls. Straw is undesirable because it contains weed seeds which may cause a control problem next year. Ground corn cobs may be used but should not contain grain which would attract mice, that might chew the bark from the shrubs.

The horticulturist advises against pruning shrubs in the fall just before cold weather. Early pruning removes reserve food materials and weakens the plant. If a sharp drop in temperature occurs, the shrub may be damaged or killed by winter injury.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

The year 1969 saw irrigated agriculture and agri-business become the number one economic endeavor of the Texas Panhandle.

The fed-cattle industry that had grown up in Iowa, Nebraska, Illinois, and California found itself facing ecological problems that defied solution. With the coming of irrigated agriculture to the High Plains of West Texas, it was only natural for the fed-cattle industry to come and look over the possibilities. The cattle feeders liked what they saw, and within a period of eight years, Texas is now number one in the number of cattle on feedlots.

The farmer has contributed much to the economy of the nation, yet agriculture has not been given a fair return on this contribution. Each of the succession of Secretaries of Agriculture has promised to do something about the problem. We are once again waiting for the naming of a new Secretary of Agriculture. Will the next one be as futile as the last one?

Farm prices have gone up 7.8 per cent over the past 20 years, while prices farmers pay have gone up 52 per cent. Farmers have been the major victims of rapidly rising prices.

Today's American housewife spends a smaller per cent of her budget on food than ever before. For this she can thank the American farmer for his efficiency in producing quantities of quality food products. In this country, it takes about 16 1/2 cents of every dollar of income after taxes to pay for essential food. In Russia, it takes about 50 per cent of the family income for food; and in Western Europe and in Japan, about one-third of the family income is spent on food.

But what is going to become of the "small farmer"? Can he continue to operate with such a low margin of profit? Will the little farm soon become part of a large corporation? Who has a greater capital investment in his business than the farmer? Think about the price he pays for land, for equipment to efficiently farm the land, for labor. Shouldn't his margin of profit be equal to that of other businesses?

Farm prices must go up in accordance with other prices. happen to our great country if the farmer refused to sell his products? In order to get their income raised, farmers could through unionization decide to hold their products off the market until they could get a fair price for them. If this should happen, the American housewife might have to spend a little more of the family income for food and clothing.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White in addressing the annual meeting of the Texas National Farmers Organization last September in Amarillo stated that farm parity is at depression levels, even though costs of production have doubled and tripled. White further stated that the success or failure of farmers to get together and market their products is going to determine the future of the family farm system.

Unless farm prices show an upward trend soon, our cities may become victims of a mass move from farms to cities. Already the farm youth is migrating to the city. And in the city, there is a shortage of jobs, suitable housing, a crime wave, and other equally harmful results of over-crowding.

Sampling Falls

A recent heavy frost and freezing overnight temperatures killed cotton in the Memphis Classing Office area.

The Memphis office had classed 1,950 samples as of November 19 compared to 11,250 by the same date last year.

Strict low middling light spot was the predominant grade and accounted for 52 per cent of cotton classed for the week.

Conference Set Dec. 6-7

COLLEGE STATION — Texas A&M University's 26th annual Turfgrass Conference, featuring a wide variety of topics and speakers, is set for December 6-7.

Out-of-state speakers will represent California, Minnesota, Indiana, Wisconsin, Georgia and Florida.

Activities begin at 8 a.m. the first day with registration in the Memorial Student Center. Talks will cover improvement in personnel and communications, records and budgets, ornaments on golf courses, and turfgrass drainage.

A session is scheduled for 8 o'clock that evening which will be open to anyone for discussions on problems, news and achievements.

Second-day topics are ways to build golf greens, turf equipment maintenance, sand trap maintenance, thatch control, ryegrasses for over-seeding, soil conditions and turf growth, top-dressing and weed-free turf.

A banquet is set for 6:30 p.m. at which Dr. Gene C. Nutter, editor and publisher of "Turf-Grass Times," is the main speaker.

An extra attraction for the annual event will be a pre-conference golf tournament December 5 on the A&M course.

Harvesters Continue Win Streak

By RICKY WRIGHT
Staff Writer

Harvesters tasted victory in their first home game played as they slipped past the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets of Ft. Worth by a margin of 71-63 last night.

The high point man of the game was Pampa's own Mike Edgar, senior with 22 points. Mike was followed by Arlington Heights' Michael Drain who had a close 21 points.

Other Harvesters that showed with high scoring were: senior Richard Bunton with five points, senior Marsh Gamblin with 14, senior Donny Cain with 12, Senior Gary Haynes five and junior Freddie Wilbon with three.

In the first quarter Pampa had a slim lead 13-12 as they experienced some difficulty in hitting the hoop and stopping Yellow Jacket Michael Drain and his long shots, as he scored nine of the Arlington 12 points.

The second quarter was the same story, only Arlington's David Krieger joined Drain with both having six points. The Harvesters managed to stay ahead in this period of play as Pampa has 20 points and Arlington, 18.

Donny Cain was the leading scorer for the second quarter as he too had six points. Don's team mates followed close behind as Marsh Gamblin, Mike Edgar and Freddie Wilbon had four points each. Richard Bunton squeezed out two additional points in free throws.

The third period of play had the Yellow jackets with more period points, but still at the tail. Total quarter points were 16 Yellow Jackets and 14 for the Harvesters. Gary Haynes scored two Harvesters points, Mike Edgar eight, Don Cain two and Richard Bunton two.

For Arlington Heights David Krieger had two, Michael Drain seven, Robert Woods two, Craig Cameron three and Darnell Johnson having two points scored.

The fourth quarter had fast action and plenty of scoring. Pampa totaled 21 points and Arlington Heights had 16. Bunton this time the leading Pampa scorer with six points and David Krieger was the leading scorer for Arlington.

The Harvesters victory put Pampa in the 3-0 bracket and Arlington Heights in the 0-3.

As it stands at the present none of the football players have joined the Basketball Squad, but it doesn't seem to hurt them much.

Last year Pampa went to district and are expected to do the same this year.

Tomorrow night the Harvesters will trek to Dumas to face the Demons instead of waiting until Tuesday when it was regularly scheduled. Make plans to attend and see the hope filled Harvesters in action.

PATTA CAKE, PATTA CAKE—Miami's David Faulkner seems to be playing a child's game with Goree's defense as the Warriors trounced the Wildcats 34 to 22 in a Bi-District tilt held in Childress. This is the best season in 11 years for the Warriors. (STAFF PHOTO)

The Miami Warriors continue on a path of victory paved by a 34 to 22 defeat of the Goree Wildcats in Childress Friday night. The Warriors sporting their best year since 1961 started sluggish against the Cats from downstate, only to turn the tables for a romp-stomp win against the class B opponent.

The Warriors are fielding an 8 man football team in a dominant 11 man game and have the guidance of coach Harold McCreary, in his first year since leaving Phillips to guide them to the elusive state crown.

Goree opened the game with a scoring effort by Glenn Huffman who plunged over from a yard out. An attempt to place 8 points on the board for the Cats failed when a pass for the two point conversion fell incomplete.

The Warriors were quick to retaliate with a long scoring drive a yard by quarterback David Faulkner on a five yard run. Miami failed to mark the two extra points and an early 6 to 6 tie resulted. The remainder of the first period was a defensive battle with neither team dominating the field.

The second period of play found Joe Bill Souhs, halfback, coming around the end for a seven yard scoring effort and a Miami lead. This time the Warrior attempt for extra-points was good. The LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — San Jose State and UCLA swept past two opponents each Friday to set up their match Saturday night for the NCAA Water Polo Championship.

Undeclared San Jose State whipped Stanford 10-4, then squeezed by Fullerton State 10-9.

Pacific's champion UCLA downed Washington 37-2 and Long Beach State 10-1.

Panhandle team led the cats 14 to 6 at the half.

Coming in from the half, Miami fired up for six more as Souhs placed his second TD on the scoreboard. The four yard run was followed by an unsuccessful two point conversion attempt. Miami led 20 to 6.

Goree, not to be counted out of the action, countered with a long drive and a 4 yard run for the magic tally by Steve Skeleton. Skeleton, the Goree quarterback, played one of his better games of the season against the powerful Warriors.

Faulkner, noted for his aerial attacks, powered a ten yard bull to Craig Bailey to keep the edge sharp for a Miami victory.

From that point on Goree couldn't seem to keep a clear head as Miami used Souhs to break loose for a 25 yard scoring effort and his third TD of the night. Faulkner completed a 10 yard pass for the two point conversion and Miami led 34 to 14.

Goree picked up the pieces long enough to score a final TD on a two yard run by David Spoon and a pass from Skeleton to Johnny Urbanczyk for the conversion.

Stat wise the Warriors trailed the Wildcats in first downs 13 to 15 and rushed for 166 yards as compared to the Cats' 216.

Goree also dominated the Miami team on total yards 262 to 230. The Warrior quarterback, Faulkner, hit 3 of six passes for 64 yards and Goree's Skeleton had 3 of 11 for 46 yards in the air.

The big break of the game came on interceptions. Miami snagged four of Skeleton's passes to set up key plays while all of Faulkner's aeriels were on target or grounded incomplete.

A long hard road to state was smoothed somewhat after the White Deer Bucks came back in the second half after trailing 13 to nothing to defeat the New Deal Lions 34 to 13.

The Buck victory, in Dick Bivins Stadium Saturday night, came behind the outstanding play of Rick Hoskins and Terry Sargent. Hoskins, ailing from a sore thumb, connected with Jerry Urbanczyk for a 63 yard touchdown pass play to put the Bucks on the board after New Deal had jumped to an early lead in the first half.

New Deal drew first blood on a 16 yard play action pass from Bill Bigham to Ed Jackson. The extra point failed after the Bucks covered the bad snap.

The Lions were to go ahead by 13 after Glenn Johnson connected with Randy Dunn on an 11 yard pass play. This time the extra point attempt was good.

Hoskins sparked the sagging Bucks into action with an attempted 63 yard to Pat Hudgins only to have it tipped at the last minute. Running the same play Hoskins, this time connected with Urbanczyk to put the Bucks on the board.

The second half was White Deer all the way.

The Bucks dominated the game where they had once faltered. In the second half they held the Lions to a mere 68 yards rushing.

White Deer moved into the lead in the third period of play never to fall behind again as Terry Sergeant plowed over from one yard out followed by the 14th point off Hoskins boot.

Kim Slagle was the next to score with an 11 yard sweep around the right side to open the fourth quarter and expand the lead to seven points.

The next Buck score came on a 34 yard return of a pass interception by Hudgins with Hoskins making the point after good.

White Deer's final score of the night came on a 5 yard sweep by Hoskins to give the Bucks a sure victory. The final tally was set up by an interception by Mike Trantham.

The Bucks suffered several annoying injuries in the game ranging from a mild groin strain to Thurman to the reinjuring of Hoskins thigh. One injury that may hurt the Bucks is a torn up ankle on Randy Blumer.

The quarterfinal game-site will be decided today at Quannah. The Bucks will be meeting Albany in the Quarterfinal round. Albany defeated Iran 20 to 14 to advance to the playoffs.

Southern Thrashes Buffaloes

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) Two seniors considered by some too small to play college football led Southern Mississippi to a 35-0 thrashing of West Texas State here Saturday in a season-ending game for both teams.

Wes Willie Heidelberg, a 5-foot-6, 145-pound running back, scored two touchdowns and slender 164-pound quarterback Rick Donegan completed 12 of 24 passes for 141 yards.

Pro Roundup

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco 49ers have a chance today to regain first place in the National Conference West, while the Washington Redskins must regain their momentum in the East to have a shot at the playoffs.

The 49ers, who visit the New York Jets—and may run into Joe Namath—moved into a tie with Los Angeles for the divisional lead Thursday, when the Rams fell to the Dallas Cowboys 28-21.

And with their victory, the Cowboys opened a one-game lead over the faltering Redskins, who face Philadelphia and have won only one of five games since capturing their first five outings of the season.

Other National Football League games have Baltimore at Oakland, Atlanta at Minnesota, New Orleans against Green Bay at Milwaukee, Denver at Pittsburgh, Cleveland at Houston, New England at Buffalo, St. Louis at the New York Giants, San Diego at Cincinnati and, in Monday night's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) game, Chicago at Miami.

The Raiders' margin over Kansas City in the American Conference West widened to a full game as the Chiefs bowed 32-21 to Detroit in the other Thanksgiving Day clash.

The Colts, trailing front-running Miami by 1½ games in the East, have beaten Oakland in four of five meetings, including 27-17 in the 1970 AFC championship. They'll be sending their No. 1 conference defense against the Raiders' offense, which is rated No. 3.

The Vikings' hold on first in the NFC Central Division was trimmed to a game by Detroit. The Falcons, one-half game back of Los Angeles and San Francisco, can keep the three-way race alive, but they'll have to do it against the stingiest club in the league.

Drivers To Demand Fire Safety Rules

LONDON (AP) — The world's top racing drivers will meet in London next week to demand stepped-up fire precautions after allegations that Swiss ace Jo Siffert need not have died.

Siffert, 35, died in the blazing wreckage of his car five weeks ago at Britain's Brand Hatch circuit.

A pathologist told an inquest Friday that his only injury from the crash was a broken leg.

"One can certainly say that, if there had been no fire, he would not have died," he said. "As it was, no one could get near him for five minutes. Track marshals testified at the inquest that two fire extinguishers failed to work and a third was ineffective."

One of them said that, except for these failures, he was certain Siffert could have been pulled clear within 20 seconds.

The seven-man inquest jury yieldless than 100. It's the first visit to Minnesota for former Vikings coach Norm Van Brocklin, who now coaches Atlanta.

The Saints, all but eliminated from the NFC West race, can lift their record within a game of the 500 mark—but to do so they'll have to stop Packer rookie John Brockington, the conference's No. 1 ground gainer with 806 yards.

The Steelers, with Ron Shanklin sharing the AFC pass reception lead, haven't lost at home this year. The Broncos hope to give new head coach Jerry Smith his first victory. They lost 28-10 to the Chiefs in his debut.

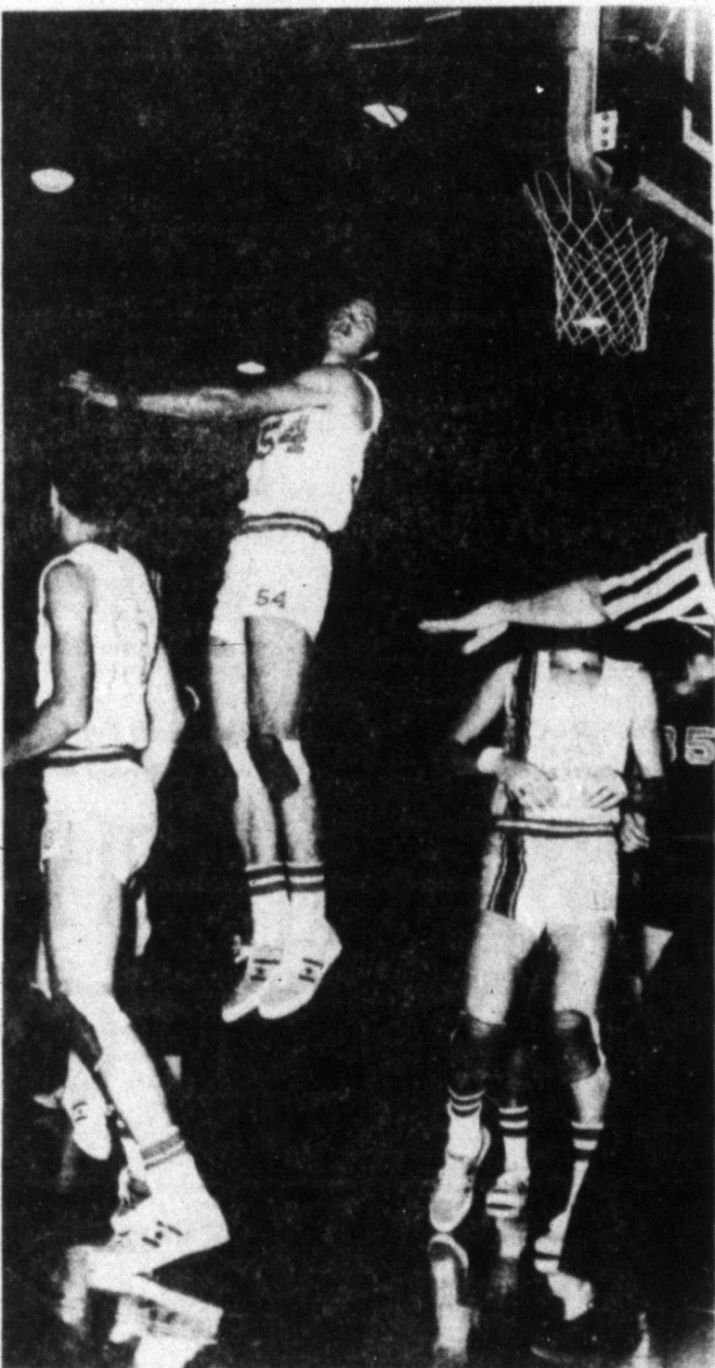

The Browns, who share the AFC Central lead with Pittsburgh, broke a four-game losing streak last weekend. Now they hope to duplicate their season opener, when they stunned the Oilers 31-0.

Time is running out for the winless Bills, out to reverse their 38-33 loss to the Patriots two weeks ago. Neither the Cardinals nor Giants are going anywhere this season, but St. Louis has the added incentive of trying to climb out of the NFC East cellar.

Despite a dismal 3-7 record, the Bengals still have a shot at catching the Steelers and Browns, whom they trail by only two games. It figures to be an aerial show, with Cincinnati's Virgil Carter and the Chargers' John Hadl unlimbering their arms.

The Dolphins, with AFC passing leader Bob Griese and No. 1 runner Larry Csonka, can open a two-game lead over Baltimore and deal the Bears a virtual death blow with a victory. Chicago trails first-place Minnesota by two games with four to go.

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — The New England Patriots of the National Football League placed wide receiver Ron Gardin on their "move" list Friday to make room on the 40-player roster for Hubie Bryant.

LEAP AND SHOOT—And that is just what Arlington Heights' David Krieger did, but to no avail as the hustling Pampa Harvesters shot down the hopes of victory for the Yellow Jackets by a score of 71-63 to give the Harvesters a 3-0 standing.

Basketball Season Opens For SWC

The Southwest Conference basketball season opens Wednesday night with the league trying to make up for some lost prestige on the inter-sectional front.

Not known as a powerful basketball league, the SWC has made great strides in the last several years and should have its best balance in decades.

Eighteen games are on tap Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday night. Conference play begins Jan. 15 with the final round of games March 4.

Defending champion Texas Christian, with four returning starters in the lineup, faces a tough task in trying to repeat against the likes of Texas, Texas Tech, SMU and Arkansas all bolstered by key sophomores and junior-college transfers.

Houston, newest SWC member, doesn't compete for the SWC title until 1975-76. The Cougars play a strong inter-sectional schedule again this season.

This week's schedule: Wednesday—Georgia Southern at Arkansas; Houston at Stanford; Mississippi at Texas, TCU at Oklahoma City; and Western Kentucky at Texas Tech; Thursday—Western Kentucky at Baylor; Houston at California; Rice at North Carolina; Vanderbilt at SMU; Texas Wesleyan at Texas A&M; Saturday—Arkansas at Missouri; Baylor at Oklahoma

NEWCASTLE CHAMPS—Gazing at the Bi-District Trophy are quarterback Jack McWhorter (17), head coach Lawrence Baggett, Tommy Haisel (70) tackle and (75) tackle Randall Beckham. Tie Binds Lefors Chances At State

Six penetrations of the Lefors defense brought defeat to the Pirates as the Newcastle Bobcats captured their class B Bi-District crown with a 13-13 tie Friday night before a capacity crowd in Pirate Stadium.

The Pirates faced an early 6-0 deficit before coming back to lead 13 to 6 in their ill-fated match. Scoring was opened by Neil Phillips of Newcastle with a three yard pass from quarterback Jack McWhorter. The kick failed and the Bobcats led six to nothing.

The Pirates, playing hard catchup football paced down the Cat's back to send David White over the goal for the tie. Mike Robbins came in and booted the Pirates ahead with the extra point.

Going in at the half the Pirates led 7 to 6. The first quarter of play was a hard defensive battle with Newcastle threatening to score. The underclassified Pirates gave weight to the heavier Bobcats and the beef made the difference.

In the second half, the Bobcat line crumbled to allow White slip through for his second and last score of the game as the extra point attempt failed. Coach Scott Dunnam of Lefors, called for the two point conversion attempt but Mike Robbins slipped and was stopped short of the goal.

Newcastle capitalized on Lefors errors by recovering three fumbles and quarterback McWhorter intercepted two Lefors passes to stop key drives by the Pirates.

Edward Pitts with less than three minutes remaining connected with a McWhorter pass for a 25 yard touchdown and a tie ball game. Derryl Anderson had the kick up and good for the extra point.

The saddened Pirate fans saw their team take possession with 8 seconds showing, a 13 to 13 tie on the score board and trailing by four penetrations.

In statistics the Pirates outplayed the Bobcats. The Lefors team had 19 first downs and the cats 16.

In rushing the game was close with Lefors running for 231 yards and passing for 63. McWhorter put the ball in the air 22 times for 14 completions

Heritage Lead Held By Irwin

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Hale Irwin scrambled back into the third round lead in the $100,000 Heritage Golf Classic Saturday, taking a 68, but Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer were lurking close behind.

Irwin, still seeking his first victory in four years on the pro tour, had a 54 hole total of 209, four under par on the demanding 6,655 yard Harbour Town Golf Links.

The 26-year-old former football star at Colorado held a one stroke lead over big Bob Lunn and second round leader Mac McLendon, tied at 210. Lunn had a 71 and McLendon was one over par at 72.

But the biggest threats could come from two of the game's giants, Nicklaus and Palmer. Nicklaus had to work hard for a 71 and 211 while Palmer had a 69 for 212, just three strokes off the pace.

They were the only five players under par after 54 holes.

Frank Beard was next at 214, one over par. Lee Trevino the leading money winner and already named the PGA player of the year, took a 72 and appeared to be out of it at 221, eight over par on the tight, testing, tree-lined layout.

"Chipping was my long suit today," said Irwin, who missed the green seven times but saved par on each occasion with his longest putt from four feet.

Irwin, a 6-foot, 170-pounder, hit a wedge over a tree to within two feet for a birdie on the second hole, laced an iron to four feet on the next and ran in a 25 foot putt on the 12th for his three birdies.

Austin Reagan, which has won Class AAAA state titles three out of the last four years, met Alice today in Austin.

The only other Saturday game in AAAA is the Wichita Falls-Arlington tussle at Wichita Falls, a matchup involving the No. 1 and No. 4 teams, respectively in the final Associated Press poll taken last week.

In Friday night's AAAA games, Hereford beat El Paso Coronado 29-12, Dallas Carter tripped Fort Worth Eastern Hills 21-13, Killeen blanked Richardson Lake Highlands 34-0, Houston Lee edged Houston Sam Houston 13-7 and Houston Smiley slipped by favored Port Arthur Lincoln 16-12. San Antonio Lee bounced Seguin 32-14 in day action Friday.

Class A teams had the least action Friday as Albany defeated Iraan 20-14, Barbers Hill tripped Hubbard 21-6 and Schulenberg 15-12 in addition to Sonora's triumph.

Another Class A game had White Deer passing New Deal 34-13 at Amarillo.

Bruins Still Top In Basketball Poll

By KEN RAPPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA lost four starters but the Bruins still managed to gain the No. 1 rating in the Associated Press' preseason college basketball poll.

The Bruins drew 11 first-place votes and 650 points from a panel of 36 sports writers and broadcasters.

The sophomore-studded Bruins, defending national champions and winners of seven NCAA crowns in the past eight years, outdistanced a field of the nation's best

North Carolina, which won the NIT last year, pulled in seven first place votes and a total of 521 points to place as the No. 2 team.

Southern California which figures to give UCLA plenty of headaches this year, was voted No. 3 by virtue of six first place ballots and 494 points.

Marquette, a Midwest independent with power to spare, placed fourth with three No. 1 votes and 487 points and defending Big Ten champion Ohio State gathered six first place votes and 413 points for No. 5.

Maryland, with a sophomore-laden team headed by star center Tom McMillen, was the only other club to get a first place vote. The terrapins grabbed three for No. 1, helping to push their point total to 297 for sixth place.

Houston wound up No. 7, followed by Long Beach, Cal., State, Louisville and Kentucky in the Nos. 8, 9 and 10 spots.

The rest of the Top Twenty teams included: No. 11 Jacksonville, No. 12 South Carolina, No. 13 Michigan, No. 14 Kansas, No. 15 Penn., No. 16 New Mexico State, No. 17 St. John's N.Y., No. 18 Villanova, No. 19 Brigham Young and No. 20 Oklahoma.

Perryton Clobbers Guymon

Bounding to an early twelve to seven lead the Perryton Rangers controlled the boards for a 54 to 39 victory in high school basketball action Friday night to send Guymon down in defeat.

The Rangers were led in their assault on the tough Oklahoma team by Bob Newton who scorched the nets for 15 points. Newton also cinched the high scoring honors for the night by out shooting Guymon's best by two.

Jeff Clayton led Guymon in their futile efforts with 13 points. The Rangers led by one point at the half.

The fired up Perryton team came out for the third quarter with hot hands as they dumped in 13 points to Guymon's seven.

The fourth period was Perryton all the way as they finished the game leading by 15 points.

Army Sinks Navy Hopes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sophomore Kingsley Fink passed three yards for a fourth period touchdown that gave Army a 24-23 victory over Navy Saturday after the Cadets had blown a 16-point first period lead in the rainswept 72nd service football classic.

Even after the winning TD pass to Ed Francis, who caught the ball with his feet inches inside the back line of the end zone, Army had to twice stop the aroused Middies inside the Cadets' 10-yard line.

Army's final score resulted from an exchange of punts early in the fourth period. The Cadets' Ron Danhoff angled a 33 yard kick that rolled dead on the Navy 7. Unable to gain, the Middies punted and Mike Gaines returned the short kick 11 yards to the Navy 30.

The Cadets then drove for the touchdown in six plays. Fink passed 15 yards to tight end Dave Sanders for a first down at the Navy 15, and Bob Hines and Greg McGuckin hammered out a first down on two running plays to the 5.

Army moved to the 3 from where Fink passed to Francis for the touchdown, sending Army ahead 22-21.

Army went for two points on the conversion with Fink hitting John Simar to make it 24-21 with 4:49 gone in the final quarter.

The final 10 minutes was all Navy offensively as the middies took the kickoff to their 30 and in 13 plays advanced to the Army 7. Army's defense held and with a fourth down and 16 situation, the Middies went for a touchdown instead of a tying field goal. Quarterback Fred Stuvek's pass, however, was intercepted by Randy Stein.

Army held, took the ball on downs and then deliberately took a safety that made the final score 24-23.

Contract Termination Confirmed By Trustees

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Baylor Athletic Director Jack Patterson announced Saturday that head football coach Bill Beall's contract has been terminated by mutual agreement with the Baylor board of trustees.

Beall, whose teams had won only three games in three seasons was in the third year of a five-year contract.

"We in the athletic department feel a debt of gratitude for the work of Coach Bill Tennessee Dumps

Vanderbilt 19-7

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee bunched all its scoring in the fourth quarter and defeated upset-minded Vanderbilt, 19-7, Saturday in a Southeastern Conference football game.

Vanderbilt shocked the partisan crowd of 56,244 by taking the lead on a 9-yard touchdown run by quarterback Steve Burger in the second period, capping a 53-yard drive. Taylor Stokes converted and the Commodores nursed a 7-0 margin until midway in the fourth quarter.

Beall and his staff," Patterson said. "We know that he is disappointed that he could not achieve the goals laid out for the football team."

"He is a very dedicated football coach who knows no limits to personal work and sacrifice. We are proud to have been associated with him and his fine young staff and wish for all of them the very best for the future."

Patterson, who heads a ourman committee to seek Beall's replacement, said he had not talked with any coaches.

"But we've got information on six or seven that we might be interested in," Patterson said, "and coach (Johnny) Majors is definitely one of them."

The victory over the Aggies was Baylor's only conference win under Beall.

Baylor lost 12 straight conference games after that Aggie victory.

Baylor has not had a winning season since 1963 when the Bears finished 8-3, including a 14-7 victory over LSU in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Beall replaced John Bridgers as Baylor coach in the spring of 1968.

Beall started coaching at Aransas State at Jonesboro in 1955. He left there the same year to join Jess Neely's staff at Rice, where he remained until taking the assistant's job at LSU in 1962.

Mullins Carries Houston To Win

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Gary Mullins ran for two second half touchdowns and Robert Newhouse became the fourth collegian in history to rush over 1,700 yards in a season to lift Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl-bound Houston to a 42-16 victory over Utah Saturday night.

The Utes, winners of only three games this season, used field goals of 32 and 40 yards and a 30-yard blocked punt return for a touchdown by defensive back John Frech to take a 16-14 lead at halftime over the 15th-ranked Cougars.

Newhouse, who rushed 204 yards on 34 carries, ran one yard for a touchdown in the first quarter and Mullins hit the third time in four years that the Rice-Baylor game ended a coaching regime. Bridgers stepped down after the 1968 game and in 1970 Rice's head coach Bo Hagan already had resigned.

split end Pat Orchin on a 64-yard touchdown bomb in the second quarter for the 16-14 halftime deficit.

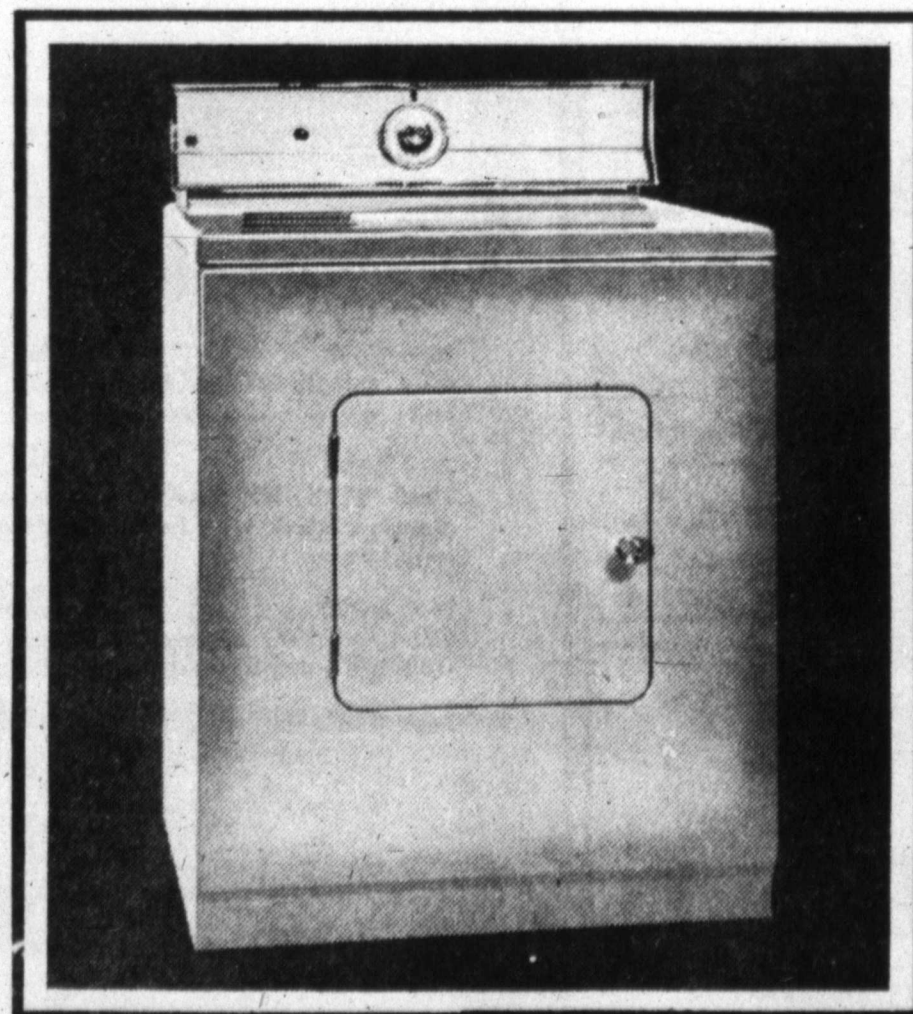

But the Cougars cracked the Utes in the second half with Mullins running seven yards for a touchdown in the third quarter and eight yards in the fourth period.

Newhouse, who finished the season with 1,757 yards, put the Cougars in control with 10:10 left in the game with a tremendous 40-yard touchdown run.

The Cougars intercepted five Utah passes and recovered one fumble. Burl Fuller led the interception derby with two pickoffs for Houston.
